FOX TESTIMONY 'PROPER'

Panel Charts Course

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators of the Sherman Adams case examined their consciences today and unanimously agreed they acted properly in hearing Adams' principal accuser, Boston financier John Fox, in public session.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) gave this report after a closed session.

Most of the meeting, Harris told reporters, was devoted to future plans starting with the questioning Wednesday of Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine.

Fox, a business enemy of Goldfine, has pictured Goldfine as getting special treatment from federal agencies through his friendship with Adams, President Eisenhower's top aide.

Fox wound up his testimony Monday with threats he would file libel suits against Adams and a lot of other people who called him a liar. Then he went to Pittsburgh where he loosed a new shot today at Goldfine.

This was a prediction in a statement that Goldfine will refuse Wednesday to produce books and records subpoenaed by the Harris committee.

Before Fox testified, Goldfine's attorneys urged that the committee hear him in a closed session. They said they expected Fox would defame not only Goldfine but others.

And Adams has called it incredible that a congressional committee would permit a witness to give the sort of testimony that Fox delivered.

There has been other criticism of the committee for not invoking a rule calling for secret sessions when public testimony is expected to defame anyone.

It was in the light of this that the committee talked things over today.

The committee was again in unanimous agreement that it could have done nothing less than what it did in holding a public session," Harris said.

Harris said there was no specific discussion of a contention by Rep. Thomas B. Curtis (R-Mo)

Dulles Says 'Blackmail' Is Asked For Captives

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles asserted today the United States refuses to pay political blackmail for the release of Americans held captive in East Germany and Cuban rebel territory.

The government hopes to obtain release by other means, he told a news conference.

Dulles also said that only as a last resort would the intervention of U.S. military forces in Lebanon be desirable or justified.

It is much better for the Lebanese themselves, working through the U.N. to find a solution, Dulles said.

He added that he doubts whether it is practical—as the pro-Western Lebanese government has suggested—for U.N. teams in Lebanon to try to seal off the border with Syria.

More than 40 American citizens have been kidnaped by Cuban rebels. Dulles said the rebels' purpose is to produce U.S. intervention but this country will not intervene.

Dulles denied that the United States is using its Guantanamo Base to help Cuban government forces.

Nine Americans have been held in East Germany since June 7, when their helicopter went down.

Dulles said East Germany is trying to force United States recognition of the Communist government.

Just before Dulles discussed that affair with newsmen, the Soviet charge d'affaires, Sergei Striganov, turned down a new U.S. demand that Moscow intervene to obtain the men's release. He repeated the Kremlin contention that it is a matter for negotiation with East Germany.

Four Americans are still held in Red China and Dulles reported that the United States is planning to propose that negotiations be switched from Geneva to Warsaw. He said the proposal had been delayed by the Red Chinese ultimatum Monday that this government must resume diplomatic talks by July 15.

The four held are the last of more than 40 Americans once held in Chinese Communist prisons.

Dulles denounced as grostesque a Soviet charge that a U. S. air transport plane which went down in Soviet Armenia last week had deliberately violated the Soviet border. He noted that the plane was unarmed and driven by propellers rather than being a high-speed jet aircraft.

Dulles also told his news conference:

1. President Eisenhower may open a drive to restore 800 million dollars to the House-slashed foreign aid appropriation.

2. Dulles, who will leave late Thursday for Paris talks with Charles de Gaulle, expects to discuss France's ambition to become a nuclear weapons power.

3. United Nations observers in Lebanon have halted, or at least slowed, the flow of weapons and men from Syria to rebel forces. However, the cut-off does not mean they have no reserve.

4. Dulles expects some useful results from the meeting July 8-10 between President Eisenhower and Canada's Prime Minister Diefenbaker. Dulles said the meeting will cover defense cooperation and economic problems such as Canadian objections to U.S. surplus wheat disposal.

5. The Soviet Union may try to turn the nuclear test detection talks at Geneva into political negotiations since the Soviets have some high-ranking political advisers on their delegation.

6. The United States has agreed with insistent allies in a conference at Paris that some items now barred from sale to the Soviet Union can be taken off the prohibited list. Dulles said these are items which can no longer be considered likely to contribute to the Soviet war potential.

Alaska Nearing Statehood After Fight For 42 Years

By FRANK W. VAILLE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alaska stood on the edge of statehood today—its 42-year fight near an end.

The Senate, in an overwhelming 64-20 vote accompanied by gallery applause, completed congressional action last night on a bill to admit Alaska as the nation's 49th state.

Only presidential approval, expected tomorrow or Thursday, and formal acceptance by Alaskans are now required.

Sponsors predicted completion of these preliminaries late this fall, in time for the new state's two senators and one representative to be on hand for the opening of a new Congress next January.

The action portended the first change in boundaries of the United States since 1912 when statehood was extended to Arizona and New Mexico.

For Alaskans, statehood will mean that for the first time since the territory's acquisition in 1867 its residents will have voting representation in the House and Senate, can elect their own governor and state officials, and can vote for the President and vice president.

Statehood also would give Alaska the right to select 103,350,000 acres of its area, including mineral lands, as a potential tax base for development purposes. This still would leave more than two thirds of the new state in federal ownership.

For the United States, it will extend the limits of the Union within 55 miles of the Soviet mainland. Only three miles separate Soviet-held Big Diomede Island in the Bering Straight from Little Diomede Island, which would be a part of the new state.

It will also, advocates say, provide the northern area with the stability and impetus needed to spur development of its economy and attract increased population.

Completion of Senate action, after six days of debate, signaled the start of big celebrations in Alaska's larger cities, and an unofficial holiday was in store for many of its residents today.

In passing the bill unchanged from that approved by the House May 28, Senate statehood advocates beat back six efforts to sidetrack or amend the bill.

In the final day's drive for passage, the Senate turned down 62-22 a point of order raised by Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss), that a provision of Alaska's constitution calling for election of a "short-term" senator violated a constitutional requirement that senators be elected for six years.

It also rejected 55-31 a move by Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss) to send the bill to the Senate Armed Services Committee for study of its defense implications; defeated 67-16 a move by Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-SC) to eliminate the northern and western sections of Alaska from the new state, and rejected by voice vote a second Thurmond proposal to require congressional concurrence before the President could make defense withdrawals permitted under the bill.

On the final vote, 31 Democrats and 33 Republicans lined up to support Alaska's bid for admission. Thirteen Democrats and seven Republicans opposed the bill.

Still ahead are votes by Alaskans on accepting immediate statehood, approving state boundaries as set out in the bill and on provisions permitting the President to make national defense withdrawals in the northwest section of the state. Defeat of any one of these propositions would reject statehood.

Monumental Task Still Lies Ahead

By WILLIAM J. TOBIN

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Alaskans caught their breath today after tossing the wildest celebration since gold rush days, and looked ahead to a problem-packed future as the nation's biggest state.

They poured it on last night, with whistles, sirens, horns, bells and fireworks as they cheered news of the Senate's passage of the statehood bill. Street dances followed parades. In Sitka, one-time capital of Russian Alaska, drinks were on the house.

There seemed to be no possibility that either President Eisenhower or Alaskans would reject statehood now that Congress has approved it. But before Alaska's star is added to the flag, a monumental task faces the territory in preparing for actual admission to the Union.

Celebrants who have fought and dreamed of statehood for the vast territory set aside thoughts of the difficult period ahead and toasted victory.

At Fairbanks, the Chena River turned gold. Wildly happy residents poured dye into the stream near where one of Alaska's big gold strikes lured pioneers and sourdoughs at the turn of the century.

At Skagway, the gateway to the big klondike gold strike of 1898, housewives paraded in the streets wearing embroidered badges that proclaimed:

"Bigger than Texas, better than California, Alaska — God's country."

At Anchorage, a huge bonfire blazed long through the overnight twilight in the Land of the Midnight Sun.

In every city of the territory, and in its scattered villages and towns, the celebration went on.

Not everywhere, however, was the merry making as loud or spontaneous as it was at Anchorage and Fairbanks, centers for years of the statehood movement.

At Juneau, the capital and seat of conservative opposition to statehood, hundreds celebrated and cheered as a replica of the Liberty Bell was struck 49 times and as scores danced in the street under bursting fireworks and aerial displays. But a few residents grumbled and some protested that hardships and higher taxes were in store.

Texas State Song Ruined By Action

FORT WORTH (AP)—William Marsh, the Fort Worth composer who expresses fervent Texas patriotism in a Liverpool accent unblemished by 54 years' residence in this city, has had, as he puts it, the wind taken out of his sails.

Alaskan statehood is about to make all Texans liars through the medium of the official state song, "Texas, Our Texas," which Marsh composed in 1924.

For the third line of the song says:

"Largest and grandest, withstanding ev're test..."

And that first word just won't be true anymore. Alaska is 2½ times our size.

Well, what are we going to do about the line...go on singing it the same way, with a wink at the statistics and a sigh for the proud old days?

"Oh, yes. For a while anyway," said Marsh, observing that it will be a while before the 49th state is a fact.

But after statehood is official? We'll have to do something, Marsh agreed:

"People would say, 'But you're not the biggest anymore.'"

The chorus and last two verses of the song will stand as written by Marsh and the late Gladys Yoakum Wright, he observed. They recall the state's glorious history—the Alamo and San Jacinto—and bespeak a glowing future.

And the first two lines:

Texas, our Texas All hail the mighty state!

"Texas, our Texas! So wonderful, so great!"

"Those will stand," the composer declared firmly.

He said he had had quite a few people call him and inquire excitedly what was to become of the "largest" in the song.

He had arrived at a tentative change.

"I think you can say the composer feels the word 'brightest' should be substituted," Marsh said.

"You have to open your mouth when you sing that."

Borger Man Dies As Car Hurdles Ditch

CANADIAN, Tex. (AP) — Edward Salyer, 65, of Borger was killed early today when his car failed to make a curve on U.S. 60 about 5 miles north of this Panhandle town.

The car hurdled a ditch and landed in a shallow creek bed. The body of Salyer, who was driving alone, was found about two hours after the accident.

His Borger address was 509 Delaware St.

Contract Let On Road Job

The Texas Highway Department has let a contract to Page Bros. of San Antonio for the widening of the Big Spring highway in Snyder.

Page Bros. was low bidder early last month on the project with a bid of $146,659.

The project will include widening of grading to four lanes, structures and surfacing from the Deep Creek bridge south for 1.8 miles to the curve in the highway near Cogdell Memorial Hospital. The intersection of the highway with the road leading to the hospital will be reworked.

Homer Ray, resident highway engineer here, said the company will have 100 working days to complete the project but that he has not yet been informed as to the date from which time will be computed.

It will be several days, Ray said, before the firm moves its equipment here to start work.

Big Boom Predicted By Mueller

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Frederick H. Mueller, assistant secretary of commerce, said today the United States is heading toward a boom so big that the postwar economic peaks will appear as mole hills.

In an address prepared for the Milwaukee Rotary Club, Mueller said the Commerce Department projections, involving no guesswork and making full allowance for error, clearly show the ultimate direction of the economy.

"Under these conditions," he said, "I feel absolutely free in saying to you that this nation is headed towards the greatest period of economic activity the world has ever seen."

"Forthcoming is a period where demand for our goods, services, and supplies will be so great that the peaks of business and industrial expansion we have seen in 1955, 1956 and 1957 will appear as mole hills," he said.

He didn't venture a prediction on when this boom might develop. But he spoke in optimistic terms of present economic conditions and assailed "retailers of nonsense" who, he said, "did their level best to talk us into an economic tailspin."

More Planes Needed To Spray Hoppers

AUSTIN (AP) — More planes are needed to spray grasshoppers in the Panhandle, Agriculture Commissioner John White said today.

White said aerial and ground spraying will continue for two more weeks if weather conditions remain favorable and more equipment can be obtained.

He said an esimated 263,000 acres of highway and railroad right of way has been approved recently for spraying in Armstrong, Carson, Deaf Smith, Donley, Lipscomb, Oldham and Potter counties.

Negro Group To Support Sen. Gonzalez

HOUSTON (AP)—The political action committee of a statewide Negro group has voted endorsement of state Sen. Henry Gonzalez for governor but has decided to give only "token support" to U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

The Texas State Assn. of Beauty Culturists and Texas Assn. of Tonsorial Artists Committee did not endorse Yarborough or his opponent, William Blakley of Dallas.

The committee meeting here was attended by Negroes from Houston, Brownsville, Amarillo, and Texarkana.

Other endorsements included George Nokes, Waco, lieutenant governor; John White, commissioner of agriculture; Edwin Smith, Houston, associate justice of the State Supreme Court; and Judge Sarah Hughes, Dallas, associate justice of the State Supreme Court.

11 Pacts Signed With Structural Workers

AMARILLO (AP)—Eleven new contracts had been signed by late yesterday since structural steel workers struck for more pay in all of West Texas and parts of Oklahoma, New Mexico and Kansas.

Two of the new contracts were signed at Borger yesterday. No details were announced.

Technical Talks On Nuclear Tests Begin Today In Geneva

By JOHN BAUSMAN

GENEVA (AP) — East-West technical talks on how to guard against violations of a ban on atomic weapon tests open today with the week-old threat of a Soviet boycott apparently cleared away.

Preparations for the conference had been overshadowed by feaf that the Soviets would back out because the United States refused to agree in advance that a ban on tests was the goal of the meeting.

The United States contended that the conference must be devoted only to the technical, scientific questions of insuring compliance with a test ban. The Americans said any agreement to ban tests must be worked out in political talks later.

The Soviet delegation finally stated yesterday it fully intended to take part in the talks. The outlook for the conference became even brighter after a meeting between U. S. chief delegate James B. Fisk and Yevgeni K. Fedorov, head of the Soviet group.

Both delegation leaders predicted success for the talks, which they said would stay on the technical level. This indicated that the conference might avoid the stumbling block of political problems.

"I believe we will be able to provide our governments with the technical basis they will need for reaching a future agreement," Fisk said.

The East-West technical talks were suggested by President Eisenhower in a note to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev last May. The Western delegation also includes scientists from Canada, France and Great Britain. The Soviets brought along experts from Romania, Czechoslovakia and Poland.

McKinzie Is Denied A New Trial Here

A motion for a new trial in the swindle and theft by false pretext case of J. E. McKinzie of Lubbock was turned down here last night by Judge Sterling Williams in 132nd District Court.

Pat Beene, McKinzie's attorney, is expected to appeal the case to the Court of Criminal Appeals, and Judge Williams set McKinzie's appeal bond at $5,000.

McKinzie is already under bonds of $10,000 each in two other indictments for swindle and theft by false pretext.

The Lubbock man last week was convicted by a jury here, which set his sentence at four years in the penitentiary.

Cuban Rebels Take 4 More Americans

By GEORGE KAUFMAN

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—A rebel raiding party kidnaped four more Americans in eastern Cuba today. Two U.S. diplomats sought the release of 41 other Americans and 3 Canadians seized since Thursday.

The four were abducted by rebels from a United Fruit Co. sugar planatation at Guaro, near Preston, on the northeast coast of Oriente province. Company officials said the rebels entered sleeping quarters of the combination sugar mill and agricultural experiment station about midnight.

The four men apparently were selected at random from a number of Americans on the plantation.

They were Alfred F. Smith of Laconia, N. H., the agricultural superintendent; James P. Stephens Jr., of Edmond, Okla., assistant agriculture superintendent; Harley F. Sparks, of Frankfurt, Ind., a district superintendent, and Jesse J. Ford, of Lakeview, S. C., aslo a district superintendent.

No violence was reported during the raid by a party of undetermined size. Guaro is about 40 miles west of Moa, where 12 engineers were seized Thursday night in the first kidnaping.

There was no word on the diplomats' progress in dealing with Fidel Castro's forces.

The rebel high command reportedly was considering whether to give up the servicemen and civilians seized in a series of raids in eastern Cuba beginning last Thursday night.

The decision was awaited by two U.S. consuls trying to deal with separate groups of rebels. U.S. Embassy sources in Havana indicated there might be some report today.

Park Wollam, consul at Santiago, in rebel-ridden Oriente province, was in contact with forces of Castro's brother Raul northeast of Santiago. Wollam was seeking release of 10 American and two Canadian engineers kidnaped Thursday from a mining development at Moa. The rebels have been quoted as saying these 12 were being well cared for and would be released soon.

The vice consul at Santiago, Robert Wiecha, was in the hills around Guantanamo Bay trying to gain freedom for 28 Navy men and Marines from the U.S. Navy base there. Although there was no word that Wiecha was in contact with the rebels, a Navy spokesman at the base said he did not expect the servicemen to be held long.

Lebanon Jet Fighters Renew Attack On Rebel Stronghold

By WILTON WYNN

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Government jet fighters took to the air at dawn today to renew their attack on rebels clinging to hill positions overlooking Beirut's International Airport.

The air attack coincided with new ground thrusts by security forces loyal to President Camille Chamoun's government, and pro-government irregulars.

It was the second consecutive day of fighting in the area 10 miles southeast of Beirut. Irregular reinforcements moved up to the hills in overloaded taxicabs and trucks, singing political songs and waving their weapons.

The rebel attack Monday was made by Druze tribesmen of Socialist Kamal Jumblatt who reached hill positions within five miles of the airport. The government forces dislodged them from a series of strategic spots, but the rebels hung on to some of the villages they occupied in the initial push. Shooting continued through the night.

It was the closest Jumblatt's mountain rebels had come to Beirut, but it was not considered a push on the capital. For one thing, Jumblatt's forces were using small arms and did not have sufficient equipment to challenge the government forces.

Also, the former premier, Saeb Salam, is the rebel leader in Beirut, where his forces dominate the Basta Moslem quarter.

Some observers thought Jumblatt might be getting ready to form the rebel government he has been urging and wanted to extend his territory as much as possible before doing so.

The rebels of former Premier Rashid Karami around the north Lebanese part of Tripoli showed definite signs of weakning after government forces cut one of their main supply lines.

Jumblatt launched his attack from the mountain area he bars to U.N. observation teams after a warning that enabled the British Middle East Center for Arab Studies to move 24 teachers and students out of harm's way.

Using only small arms and pack weapons, the rebels took two ranges of hills within sight of Beirut and the airport.

The thrust posed a serious threat because the airport is the only base from which Lebanese jet fighters can operate. Strafing by jets apparently has been the government's trump card in several mountain battles so far.

This was the case again. Machine-gun and rocket fire from two jets routed the rebels from the first range of hills. The security forces and progovernment irregulars with mortar fire support moved up.

By late afternoon the rebels held only one village in the area around Kayfoun. Security forces said they suffered no casualties but killed many rebels in the attacking force, whose size was not given.

Security forces in Tripoli, where the rebellion started May 10, said the rebels had been badly hurt in the series of skirmishes from Thursday through Sunday. Only one sharp engagement occurred in the port yesterday as the action shifted to rebel hit-and-run attacks northeast of town.

Government troops were able to reach the American Presbyterian Hospital, whose 40 doctors, two nurses and 25 patients — none Americans—had been cut off.

De Gaulle May Be Heading For Showdown In Algeria

By DAVID MASON

ALGIERS (AP) — Premier de Gaulle returned to Algeria today for his second visit in less than a month, facing the possibility of a showdown with French settlers who are angered because he has not pushed the policies they want.

A meeting with the leading critics of his government was postponed, however, as De Gaulle saved Algiers for the last stop on his tour. He landed at Telergma, 30 miles west of Constantine in eastern Algeria.

He is to fly to Oran, in west Algeria, and then visit the French Foreign Legion headquarters before coming on to Algiers.

At almost the same time his airliner was landing at Telergma, a nationalist terrorist threw a grenade in downtown Algiers. A dozen persons were wounded.

Once more in his wartime uniform, De Gaulle was met at the airport by a host of military officers. At their head was Gen. Raoul Salan, the military commander in chief in Algeria who also has been running the government since the colonists' May 13 ouster of the Paris-appointed civilian regime.

De Gaulle came last, on June 4, as a conquering herd cheered wildly by the settlers and soldiers whose defiance of the Paris government had recalled him to power.

Then disenchantment set in.

The military-civilian Public Safety Committees formed after the May 13 insurrection complained de Gaulle had failed to wipe out the influence of the center and left-wing parties who have ruled postwar France.

Although the general proclaimed that "Algeria is French," he showed no sign of being caught up in the settlers' movement to integrate Algeria as a province of metropolitan France. That would submerge the nine million Algerian Moslems among the 43 million Frenchmen on both sides of the Mediterranean.

De Gaulle, who claims he had no part in the conspiracy that resulted in the May 13 rebellion, has acted as though he owes Algeria's right-wing settlers no political debts. None of them has been rewarded with a key post in his Cabinet. He has told the Public Safety committees they have no governmental role in Algeria.

As the date of the Premier's second trip approached, the committees suppressed their grumbling. But the war veteran groups who took major roles in the May defiance of Paris sounded their discontent loud and clear.

They asserted their "revolution must be fully achieved — it must grow from a regional to a national movement or else it will remain dangerously incomplete."

The implication was that another May 13 could be organized, this time against De Gaulle, if the Premier does not clean house in Paris and tie Algeria closer to metropolitan France.

There was no indication, however, that the general had any intention of knuckling under to the Algerian French. Instead, he was bringing with him to Algiers former Premier Guy Mollet, now a deputy premier in his Cabinet and a Socialist politician particularly hated by the Algerian right-wingers.

The last time Mollet visited Algeria two years ago he got a barrage of tomatoes and manure from French veterans who feared he was going to give Algeria to the Moslem rebels.

De Gaulle's tour this time was described officially as a military inspection, taking him deep into areas where the Moslem rebels have been particularly active. He returns to Paris Thursday.

that the committee had violated House rules.

Curtis made that contention in a House speech Monday.

Curtis demanded creation of a special three-man committee to decide whether the rule had been violated, but he was ruled out of order.

It was learned thaa records subpoenaed from a Washington hotel confirm that both Goldfine and John Fox, principal accuser of Adams and Goldfine, were registered there on the 1955 day of a conversation about which Fox testified. Fox quoted Goldfine as saying Adams was going to help Goldfine out with the Federal Trade Commission.

But the records do not prove whether the statement was made. Both Adams and Goldfine have denied it outside the hearing room.

The subcommittee finally dismissed Fox amid an uproar after three days of testimony. Fox named Adams, Goldfine and publisher Robert B. Choate of the Boston Herald and Traveler as linked in forces destroying Fox's former newspaper, the Boston Post. Denials flew heatedly from those named.

A lawyer for Choate, William J. Dempsey, jumped up from a spectator's seat at hearing's end and got into a shouting argument with Harris. Harris banged his gavel and called for a cop.

Fox, meanwhile, announced plans to file million-dollar libel suits against Adams, Choate, the Herald-Traveler Corp., Goldfine lawyers Roger Robb and Samuel Sears separately and another one against the two lawyers jointly.

Firemen On Three Calls

The Snyder fire department yesterday afternoon answered calls for two grass fires and one trailer fire here.

The trailer fire occurred on the East Highway here. A rental trailer loaded with household goods was being pulled by a car driven by R. H. Bush of Lovington, N.M.

A city policeman spotted the fire in the trailer and stopped Bush, who did not know about the fire until that time. The fire occurred at about 3:15 p.m. Contents of the trailer were destroyed.

One of the grass fires was at 4:10 p.m. yesterday at 2506 Avenue B. The other was at about 5 p.m. in the pasture north of Cogdell Memorial Hospital. The fire department got both those fires out before any damage was done to buildings.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Elton Belyeu, 1907 Avenue N, are parents of a nine-pound, eight-ounce son, born at 2:34 yesterday at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Warm Month Is Forecast

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Weather Bureau said Monday its 30-day outlook for July calls for temperatures to average above seasonal normals in the southern half of the country from the Rockies to the Atlantic.

The bureau added:

"Below normal temperatures are anticipated in the plateau region and also in states along the northern border from the Great Lakes to the Pacific. In areas not specified, temperatures should average not far from normal.

"Rainfall is expected to exceed normal in the Upper Mississippi Valley, Northern Plains, and Pacific Northwest. Near normal amounts are predicted over New England, the Great Lakes region, the Central Plains, and the Gulf and South Atlantic coasts. In the remainder of the nation subnormal rainfall is in prospect."

Older Women Are Getting Younger, Labor Rolls Show

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Older women are getting younger all the time, says Dr. Winfred G. Helmes, who works on the womanpower program for the U. S. Department of Labor.

"When I speak of older women, I mean those who want to go back to work after their children are big enough to look out for themselves," she says.

"Now that girls are getting married so much younger, many, after raising their families, may be ready to go back to work at the age of 35. When you look at some of our most glamorous movie stars, you will agree that 35 is not old, or even middle aged. But a woman who has been out of the business world for 15 years face the same problems in returning, at any age.

"The greatest demand for women workers," continued Dr Helmes is in "nursing, teaching and secretarial work. Any woman who is trained in any of these fields can practically write her own ticket. She can have full or part-time work. She can fit the job into her personel schedule."

Dr. Helmes is deeply interested in the program of getting mature women back into paying jobs.

"There's still another field that offers both the greatest need and the greatest opportunity for the woman of mature years, whose children are grown and whose life has been spent at homemaking and raising children. Such a woman could start a whole new life as housekeeper for a family—and there are many desperately in need of just such a "substitute mother.'

"Professional women with families always are trying to find someone intelligent and responsible to take over their households and take care of their children. Widowers with children are in the same situation. And there are many families in which the wife likes to accompany her husband on business trips, but needs someone to keep things in order on the home front.

"The chief difficulty here is to find a new name for the job of housekeeper—one that does not suggest the status of servant."

Liquid Look Showing In Fall Styles

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Indications are that fashions will at least be different for fall.

Designers apparently have heeded the cries of the anguished U.S. male and are making a definite effort to turn out clothes which will make women look like women again, and not like sacks of potatoes.

A new concept called the "liquid look" was introduced at a recent showing of advance fall fashions from an assorted group of designers. Most of these manage to reveal the basic outlines of the feminine form, in one way or another.

There is, for instance, a tightly fitted gold sequin sheath, almost covered by a flowing stole of transparent brown silk organza — this designed by Frieda Saioff. And that astute magician among designers, Ceil Chapman, has done a figure-molding sheath in satin, veiled with filmy chiffon in the new barrel silhouette, caught in just above the knees with a wide velvet band tied in front as the slit in the narrow hemline.

Others employ various devices to achieve a new-looking silhouette, while revealing feminine curves.

Husbands please note.

Summer Is Time To Burn Up Those Excess Calories

AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

WHY NOT have a calorie burning party, now that summer is here?

The easisest way to do it is to exercise, easier at this season than any other. You can exercise to your heart's conten, usually without ta[illegible].

Take your choice of sports. Swimming, that all-around muscle tightener also develops muscles, particularly in the arms and thighs. It helps broaden shoulders and gives a feeling of well-being and accomplishment as you become more proficient with your crawl or overhand.

Golf is a wonderful waistline cincher, but if a gold course isn't within your grasp, there are other sports. How many fat tennis players do you know? A strenous game it will surely shake off ounces. Have you tried your hand at rowing? There is the ladylike game of badminton, too, as well as hiking and roller skating, all good for burning off excess poundage.

Bicycling is a form of exercise that may appeal to young or old, fat and skinny. It helps slim the calves of legs which may have become flabby from too much relaxation. Thighs get their share of exercise, too, as you stretch when you cycle, placing the weight of your body on the feet as you push the pedals down. It helps flatten the abdomen and slim arms and wrists.

Time was when Americans walked miles to school, in the fields and to the factory during the daily routine. The Sunday stroll was an outing. Too many of us have become sitters, relaxing in comfortable arm chairs, in automobiles, trains and planes.

Many of the country's health experts have been urging a return to some form of daily exercise to raise the general level of physical condition. Develop an interest in a sport that you may be able to do the year round as well as one you may enjoy during the summer months.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY — You may achieve both by exercise. Summer is the time to burn up excess calories. Bicycling is a good way to shake off pounds.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

THE MAJOR LEAGUES dipped into the Texas Tech ranks the other day to sign a Raider pitcher and fromer Snyderite, Rob Hill.

Hill probably will be remembered by a lot of you longtime residents here as he was born in Snyder and spent his early childhood here.

Hill's family moved to Lubbock some 8-10 years ago where Rob finished his schooling.

Rob graduated from Monterey in the spring of 1956 where he got his real start in baseball.

Hill then went to Texas Tech on a baseball scholarship where he lettered the past season as a pitcher.

Hill, now 20 years of age, pitched against the Tigers his senior year, losing a 3-2 decision in eight innings. Ronnie Baker, who gained a baseball scholarship at University of Texas, was the Tiger winner that day.

Rob gave up only four hits to the Tigers, two over the regular seven-inning route, but wildness proved his undoing. Hill gave up 11 free passes while Baker did not walk a man.

Temper Controlled

Some of you fans who may have seen that game probably recall that Hill had a lot of stuff, good speed and curve ball, but he was hindered by a case of bad temper. He had words all afternoon with plate umpire Rogers over ball-and-strike decisions.

But we understand Hill since has learned to control his temper and that he has a bright future in the diamond sport.

The Kansas City Athletics thought enough of Hill's future, at any rate, to sign him to a contract.

Hill will begin his pro career in the Nebraska State League, which is a "Rookie League," as a member of the Grand Island team.

Hill, by the way, is a nephew of Bunker Hill, local barber.

This department wishes Rob all the luck in his pro baseball aspirations.

Sportsmanship "Backfires"

Good sportsmanship doesn't always pay off, materially speaking.

The one case we have in mind at present is the golf match between Snyder's Donald Ray Scott and Midland's James Pritchett in the Colorado City tournament a couple of weeks ago.

Scott and Pritchett were all even through 16. Then on 17, Pritchett lost his ball and we have been told that the Midland player held the match up for 35 minutes looking for the ball.

The rule for such a situation states that unless a ball is found within five minutes, a new ball must be dropped along with a penalty and the match is to continue.

But Scott, an easy going fellow and one of the finest sports in the golf, allowed Pritchett the extra time to look for the lost ball and in the end it probably cost Scott the match. Pritchett's ball was finally found and it enabled him to halve No. 17 with Scott.

Then on 18 Pritchett won the hole and the match, 1-up.

Scott took the defeat in stride, though. After hearing of the lost-ball deal, we asked Scott about the match and the thing he brought up was how he "flubbed up" on No. 18, not even mentioning the ordeal he must have gone through on No. 17 looking for Pritchett's ball a half-hour or so.

After inquiring about the 17th hole "marathon," Scott did say they looked for the ball "quite a while" but he never mentioned the exact number of minutes spent on the search.

It wouldn't have been out of order for Scott to have demanded the match to go on after the five-minutes limit looking for the lost ball.

We suggest that Pritchett study up on his golf etiquette, (also, the rules).

Yankees Edge By Braves In GPL, 6-4

The Furr Food Yankees scored twice in the sixth inning to break a 4-4 deadlock to defeat the Snyder Saving and Loan Braves, 6-4, in a Graduate Pony League game Monday.

The Braves had staged a 4-run rally in the fifth inning to knot the count before the Yanks won it in the sixth.

Larry Patterson went the distance for the Yankees, stopping the Braves on three hits, striking out five and walking four.

Starter Franklin Moore was driven out in the third inning during a three-run Yankee rally. Foree finished up and was charged with the loss. Moore struckout four and walked six while Foree fanned two and issued one free ticket.

Morris Noah started the winning Yank rally in the sixth with an infield hit with one away. Noah was forced at second by Harry Bradley but successive singles by Mickey Winter and Patterson scored Bradley with the untying run.

After John Weaver walked to load the bases, catcher George Vandiver drove in Winter with an insurance run with a single. Vandiver pounded a triple and single for the Yanks. Patterson aided his own cause with two singles with Noah also collecting a pair of one-basers.

The Braves' three hits were split among three players. Kenneth Steele struck the big blow for the Braves when he doubled in the fifth to drive in Moore with the fourth run of the rally that tied the score at 4-4.

Phils' Ware Hurls No-Hitter In Pony

Weldon Ware pitched the first no-hit no-run game of the season in the Pony League last night when he turned back the Scurry Butane Dodgers without nary a bingle at Towle Park, 4-0.

It was actually the second no-hitter of the season in the Pony Loop but two runs scored against the first no-hit performer. Bob Pena, also of the Phils, stopped the Courthouse Tigers without a hit May 26 that saw the Phils win 5-2.

Ware, in hurling his no-hitter last night, struckout 10 and walked four.

The Phil southpaw also toted the big stick for the winners. Ware collected three of the five hits the Phils garnered off Freddie Miller of the Dodgers. Ware's hits included a double and triple.

The Phils scored enough to win the game in the first inning when Ware doubled and scored on another double by Pena.

The score remained 1-0 until the fifth when Ware tripled and scored on a single by Jerry Franks. For good measure, the Phillies added two runs in the seventh.

In the other portion of last night's doubleheader, the Von Roeder Red Sox got maximum mileage out of five hits to defeat the Courthouse Tigers, 9-4.

Charles Gladson and Abe Conzales combined to hold the Tigers to three hits.

Buddy Haigwood and Spencer Dyer led the Red Sox attack with two hits apiece.

Both Cubs, Chisox In Home Tilts Today

CHICAGO (AP) — Baseball fans in Chicago, the only city with two major league clubs, get a chance to see both of them in action today and tonight.

It never happened before.

The Cubs meet the San Francisco Giants in a National League game in Wrigley Field this afternoon. Tonight the White Sox meet the Cleveland Indians in an American League game in Comiskey Park.

In the 30s, conflicts in the leagues' schedules forced both the White Sox and Cubs to play at home the same afternoon on occasion. But this is the first time day and night games were on the schedule for the same date.

Musial, Spahn Shake Slumps As Cardinals, Braves Win

By ED WILKS
AP Sports Writer

Warren Spahn and Stan Musial, Mr. Pitcher and Mr. Hitter in the National League, have shown the kids how to do just about everything else, so now they're giving lessons in how to shake slumps.

Spahn, like Musial a light-hearted 37, suddenly got to throwing gopher balls after winning eight of his first nine decisions and just as suddenly lost three in a row.

Stan the Man, a near unanimous All-Star Game selection, double, as the second-place St. was flirting with a .500-plus average until three weeks ago, then sagged into a 4-for-38 slump that averages out to .105.

Now they're back in business.

Spahn became the first pitcher to win 10 in the NL this season, winning his second in a row for the league-leading Milwaukee Braves with a six-hitter that flattened his favorite victims, the Cincinnati Redlegs, 9-2, last night. Musial was 2-for-3, driving in two runs with his 13th homer and a

Louis Cardinals stayed within 2½ games of Milwaukee with a 4-2 victory over Los Angeles in the only other game scheduled in the NL.

In the American League, Detroit defeated Kansas City 7-6, and Cleveland beat the Chicago White Sox 5-3.

Spahn, who had given up 12 home runs in his last four games, kept the Redlegs inside the park at Milwaukee, walking one and allowing only one earned run while the Braves bunched 10 of their dozen hits in a four-run fourth and a five-run fifth. Del Crandall drove in three runs with a single and a double.

Right-hander Bob Purkey (8-5) suffered his fourth consecutive defeat.

Musial, batting .382 in his last nine games and now .363 for the year behind the .369 posted by Willie Mays of San Francisco, hit his 394th homer in a two-run Cardinal first that chased rookie Bob Giallombardo in his first major league decision. A walk, stolen base and an error gave the Cards the payoff run in the third and Musial then socked in the cushion run in the fifth. Winner Lindy McDaniel (5-7) gave only seven hits.

Chisox Ace Of '57 Suffers 9th Loss

By ED WILKS
AP Sports Writer

Luck of the Irish? Don't try peddling that line to Dick Donovan, who a year ago was the right-handed ace of the Chicago White Sox and now is the last to get started on their late-starting staff.

The big guy, who lost only six all last season while winning 16 (no one topped his .727 winning percentage among American League regulars), now is 3-9—one loss shy of his worst season, as far as defeats are concerned. He was 12-10 in '56.

He took it on the chin again last night, losing 5-3 to the Cleveland Indians.

The Detroit Tigers, with the help of three unearned runs, two in the ninth, defeated Kansas City in the only other AL game scheduled.

In the National League, Milwaukee defeated Cincinnati 9-2, but second-place St. Louis stayed 2½ games behind the Braves by beating Los Angeles 4-2.

Donovan, 30, gave up all the Injuns' seven hits and runs in his 6 1-3 innings and lost his second in a row since blanking Baltimore 4-0 June 15.

Minnie Minoso, late of the Sox, belted his 12th home run to open a two-run second after Jim Landis' ninth home run had given Chicago a 1-0 edge. Mickey Vernon drove in two Cleveland runs with a single and double.

Cal McLish (4-5) checked the Sox on five hits, giving way to reliever Hoyt Wilhelm when doubles by pinch hitter Earl Torgeson and Billy Goodman counted the other Sox runs in the eighth.

The Tigers, who blew two leads, scored three runs in the ninth, after Bob Cerv's solo 20th homer gave the A's a 6-4 edge. Harvey Kuenn, hitless in five at-bats, caused all the fuss with the bases loaded and one out.

Kuenn rapped what looked like a double-play ball to third baseman Preston Ward, but two runs scored when he pegged it into right field, and the winning run came home when Roger Maris got off a bum throw after retrieving the ball. Reliever Tom Gorman (7-6) was the loser, while Billy Hoeft (7-8) picked up the decision in relief.

Macko Homers Twice As Cats Hike Lead

By The Associated Press

Joe Macko homered twice in leading Fort Worth to a double triumph over Dallas, 4-1 and 2-1 Monday.

It boosted the Cats to a 5½-game lead over the Texas League field.

Macko blasted a homer in the sixth to put Fort Worth ahead to stay in the first game. His ninth-inning clout in the second game forced the contest into an extra inning after Dick Getter's homer in the fourth had given Dallas a 1-run lead.

A walk and singles by Bob Will and Chick King furnished the victory margin.

Austin, in second place, won over Tulsa 3-1.

San Antonio lost to Victoria, 3-2.

Billy Bowman hurled a 5-hitter to win the first game for Houston over Corpus Christi 6-3. Lloyd Merritt pitched six innings of the second game to get credit for the 6-2 victory.

Don Fleeman Beats Turman

DALLAS (AP) — Donnie Fleeman of Midlothian did a little more building on the boxing reputation Buddy Turman said he needed last night as he decisioned Turman in 10 rounds.

Fleeman, giving way six pounds and an edge in experience to the big fellow from Tyler, jabbed his way to victory before one of Dallas' largest boxing crowds—5,037 who paid $10,283.25.

Both expressed a willingness to fight another time after their bristling battle that saw Fleeman win with a great finish.

Fleeman, the Texas light heavyweight champion, scaled 173 pounds to 184 for Turman. The latter rocked Fleeman a couple times with hard rights but ap[illegible] to tire after the fifth round the Midlothian mauler was strong all the way.

Fleeman took command of the fight after the seventh round—a round marked by Turman's hardest punch. It had Donnie in trouble but the bell sounded ending the rough before Turman could do more.

White Sox, Giants Wee Loop Victors

The Quarterback Giants spotted the Kiwanis Braves an 8-1 lead last night before battling back for a 13-9 decision in a National Little League Park.

The Giants erased the big deficit with a smashing 11-run rally in the fourth inning.

The Trinity Methodist White Sox got back in the groove in the American League tilt with a 10-0 triumph over the Von Roeder Indians.

The Braves opened the National League game with two runs in the first, both coming on a homer by Benny Minor. Then the Kiwanians broke loose in the second for five runs to take a 7-1 lead and added another in the third to make it 8-1.

But then the Giants came to life to send 15 batsmen to the plate in the fourth with 11 of 'em scoring and the Giants pulled ahead for good.

Z. B. Rinehart, Doc Rinehart and Ronnie Jack Keller each collected two hits to lead the Giants at the plate.

The big hitter of the game, however, was the Braves' Minor who hit a homer, double and single in three trips. Jay Williamson and J. N. Wall got two hits for the Braves.

Jimmy Wilson pitched and batted the White Sox to victory. Wilson tossed a one-hitter at the Indians and chipped in with a two-run homer in the fourth that stopped the game on the 10-run lead rule.

Pete Greene, Sox catcher, was the batting star for the winners with two-for-three, a single and homer, and driving in four runs. Stanley Baize also got two hits for three, pounding a homer and double and driving in two runs.

Ritchie Smedley got the lone hit off Wilson, a single in the fourth.

Stay-At-Home Celebrates Fourth With Tasty Menu

There are two schools of thought when it comes to celebrating the famous Fourth.

For every family who considers it a patriotic duty to pack a picnic lunch and head for the hills, beach or islands, there is another who stays at home.

They may invite the neighbors in or have a family get-together, but for them, too, the day means eating al fresco.

A patio or backyard celebration of the holiday makes it easier on the family chef, who can serve a wider variety of foods. Keeping them hot or cold is no problem either.

For the Fourth, a hostess might try a new version of hotdogs, to be cooked over the outdoor grill, or chicken stuffed rings, or perhaps a pizza spiced with sardines.

CHICKEN 'LIBERTY BELL' RINGS

1 long, thin French loaf
2 5-ounce jars of boned chicken chopped
2 tablespoons minced pimiento
¼ cup mayonnaise
½ teaspoon curry powder
Dash Tabasco
Salt and pepper to taste
½ cup fresh bread crumbs (from loaf)
½ cup mushroom pieces, finely chopped

Prepare loaf by cutting it in half (across not lengthwise), then scooping out the soft center from both halves using a sharp-tined fork.

Leave a crusty bread edge about ½ inch thick or less, depending on the thickness of the loaf. Combine remaining ingredients, using bread scooped from loaf.

Mix thoroughly. Add additional seasoning, chili powder or oregano, if desired. Use chicken mixture to fill scooped out loaf halves, pressing well so cavity is filled solidly.

Use a very sharp knife and a sawing motion to cut into half-inch or three-fourth inch slices. One long loaf (approximately 16 inches) will make 20 to 30 bread ring sandwiches, depending on thickness of slices. The loaves can be prepared in advance, wrapped in wax paper or foil and chilled in the refrigerator until ready to serve.

DEVILED PEPPER RINGS

5 small well-shaped green peppers
1 8-ounce package cream cheese
1 small jar deviled ham spread
½ cup finely chopped salted peanuts
1 tablespoon Worchestershire sauce
Other seasoning to taste

Cut a slice from the top of each pepper and remove membrane and seeds. Rinse and wipe dry. Combine and thoroughly mix remaining ingredients. Taste and add additional seasonings if desired.

Use mixture to fill pepper cases, press in well so cavity is very solidly packed. Cut with a sharp knife. As with the bread rings, the pepper rings may be made in advance, wrapped and placed in the refrigerator. Any remaining filling makes an excellent sandwich spread.

HOT DOGS IN BLANKETS

8 skinless frankfurters
2½ cups biscuit mix
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon caraway seed

Impale franks on skewers. Mix biscuit mix, milk and caraway seeds with fork. Dough should be a little stiffer than for biscuits, otherwise it will slide off franks. With metal spatula, cover each frank with dough about ¼ inch thick.

If the dough is too thick it will fall off. Place skewers on grill and turn frequently so that the "blankets" are browned on all sides.

SARDINE PARTY PIZZA

1 package hot roll mix
1 tablespoon olive or salad oil
1 can (8 ounce) tomato sauce
1 can (6 ounce) tomato paste
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon sugar
¼ teaspoon oregano
1 package (½ pound) Mozzarello cheese, sliced
1 can (3 or 4 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained
¼ can sliced olives, if desired
2 cans (3½ to 4 ounces each) sardines, draned
2 tablespoons chopped parsley

Prepare roll mix according to package directions; cover and let rise in warm place (about 80 to 85 F.) until light about 30 to 60 minutes.

Meanwhile combine oil, tomato sauce, tomato paste, salt, sugar and oregano in small saucepan; simmer 10 minutes to blend flavors.

When dough is light, divide in half. Roll out to large circles; place on baking sheets. Brush dough lightly with olive oil or salad oil. Arrange half the Mozzarella cheese on dough; cover with tomato mixture, mushrooms and olives. Top with rest of Mozzarella cheese.

Bake in a very hot oven (450 degrees F.) 12 minutes. Top each round with a can of sardines; sprinkle with parsley. Bake 5 minutes longer. Serve hot, cut into wedges. Pass Parmesan cheese, if desired. Makes 8 servings.

FLAG BUNBURGERS

2-3 cup (small can) undiluted evaporated milk
1 egg
1½ pounds ground beef
½ cup fine cracker crumbs
¼ cup chopped celery
¼ cup chopped green pepper
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
6 frankfurter buns
American cheese strips
Grated American cheese.

Combine milk, egg, beef, crumbs celery, onion, green pepper, salt and pepper. Blend together until well mixed. Form meat mixture into 6 oblong patties.

Seaway Job Climaxed By Heavy Blast

MASSENA, N.Y. (AP)—A thunderous blast today loosed 200 billion gallons of water and climaxed construction of the massive St. Lawrence Seaway and power projects.

While thousands of dignitaries, tourists and residents watched from either side of the river, 30 tons of dynamite were detonated to shatter the walls of a cofferdam and create a huge lake as part of the billion-dollar development.

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, and Premier Leslie Forst of Ontario province were among those on hand.

The seaway and power development soon will provide ocean ships an inland route as far into America's middle as Duluth, Minn.; and provide industry-building power to Ontario, New York and Vermont.

A 500-foot-long wall of dirt and debris was hurled about 500 feet into the air by the blast.

Water behind the cofferdam was 40 feet deep but it trickled, rather than rushed, through the break in the cofferdam. It will take three days to complete the flooding.

The destruction of the cofferdam, which held back the river while workmen scraped its bottom, marks the end of the U.S. section of the Canadian-American venture. The project began in November 1954.

By the end of the week, there will be a new 35-mile lake on the map of North America, turbines in the Barnhart Island powerhouse will be spinning in test runs, and shallow-draft ships will be plying the new locks on the American side.

When work is completed next year, the 360-mile seaway will be the third great man-made waterway, the others being the Suez and Panama canals. It necessitated the greatest mass movement of people in Canada's history — 6,500.

Auto Union Talks Due To Continue

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — Auto union contract negotiations now appear positive of going beyond the mid-July mark at least.

Ford and the United Auto Workers have agreed to break off their negotiations until July 14 for an extended Fourth of July interim period.

A similar program possibly may be arranged also by Chrysler and General Motors.

The UAW and Ford agreed Monday to the extended adjournment in deference to out-of-town union negotiators. The latter have been at the bargaining table and away from home with little interuption since late March.

This is the fifth week of the auto industry's no-contract period. The UAW and Big Three have been without agreements since expiration of old pacts on the Memorial Day weekend.

Chrysler and UAW Local 212 disputed Monday the cause of a work stoppage idling 2,700 men at Chrysler's Plymouth car body and assembly plants.

Important Political Dates Approaching On Calendar

Two important reminders to voters and one to candidates were issued today by the offices of the county clerk and county tax assessor-collector.

These announcements concerned absentee voting, which opens next Monday, changes of voting precincts on the poll tax receipt, and deadline for candidates to file statements of campaign expenses.

Absentee voting can open Monday and will last until July 22. Those planning to vote absentee must fill out an application, which is available at the county clerk's office, stating either than they expect to be out of the country on the date of the first primary, July 26, or that they are prevented from going to the polls because of physical illness or sickness. In the event of the last reason, they must have a physician's signature on the application.

Anyone may pick up an application for an absentee voter, but no one may get a ballot at the county clerk's office for another person. Ballots will be mailed out. A person can vote in person at the county clerk's office.

When making application for absentee voting, a voter must attach to it his poll tax or exemption receipt, or sign an affidavit if he has lost his receipt. Dan Cotton, county clerk, said his office would hold the receipt for 30 days after the election.

July 22 will be the deadline for absentees to vote by appearance and for the county clerk's office mailing out absentee ballots. Ballots still out can be mailed in to reach the county clerk by 7 p. m. July 26.

Cotton urged those who will be absentee voters to vote as soon as possible.

If a person paid his poll tax while living in one part of the county and has since moved to another part of the county, his voting box may have changed. If it has, he must take his receipt to the office of the county tax assessor-collector, and have it changed.

Geral Greene, county tax assessor-collector, said this must be done at least five days before the election. If the change is not made, a person may have a hard time qualifying to vote.

Greene reminded those who may have paid their poll taxes in other counties that a person must be a resident here six months before he is eligible to vote here. He asked those moving here to come in his office and establish residence in the county.

Those who have just become 21 and those who have moved into the state at least a year ago and have been in the county six months or more can qualify to vote now, but not in the July 26 primary. A person must quality at least 30 days before any election in which he can vote. Those qualifying now can vote in the second primary.

Greene said there are 5,847 poll tax and exemption certificates which were issued for this year. In addition to those, there are a number of persons living outside the city who are exempt and were not required to get exemption certificates.

From July 16 to 18, all candidates for county and district offices must file with the county clerk's office statements of campaign expenses up to that time. Candidates for state offices must file statements with the secretary of state.

The candidates will be required to file supplementary statements following the first primary.

Nude Posters Banned From Rail Stations

LONDON (AP) — Nudes were banned from Britain's state-owned railroads today.

All advertisements which depict or refer to nude, strip tease or similar shows will be barred from station and trackside billboards, the British Transport Commission announced.

The ban came in the face of a flood of posters calculated to bring blushes to the cheeks of modest travelers.

FBI Chief Lashes 'Gestapo' Charge

By JACK ADAMS

WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI director J. Edgar Hoover said today American law enforcement has a magnificent record of accomplishment which refutes charges that it functions as a Gestapo.

In a signed editorial in the July issue of FBI's Law Enforcement Bulletin, Hoover expressed resentment that "an unscrupulous few, through studied insults and calculated distortions, would besmirch and disgrace this world-renowned record of democratic achievement."

Hoover mentioned no names. However, his editorial followed a recent TV interview in which Cleveland industrialist Cyprus S. Eaton said that Adolf Hitler at the height of his power "never had such spy organizations as we have in this country today."

Eaton described the FBI as one of a number of agencies engaged in "snooping, in informing, in creeping up on people." After the broadcast, Hoover said Eaton's statements about the FBI were "vicious and completely untrue."

The FBI director wrote in the bulletin that law enforcement has constantly improved in efficiency, "yet, all the time, it has remained undeviatingly loyal to the principles of freedom and justice."

"Recently," he said, "loud and slanderous charges have come from some quarters that law enforcement is gravely impairing the historic liberties of the people. Violent and hateful words, such as 'Gestapo,' have been hurled as descriptions of our efforts.

"The testimony of American law enforcement emphatically refutes these baseless charges. Our record is open for all to see. Unlike totalitarian, law enforcement, we have no dark corners to hide. . . . Our day-to-day activities are under the review of the free press and the citizens of the community. As American patriots as well as law enforcement officers, we would have it no other way.

"These reckless charges can only undermine public confidence in law enforcement, weaken its record of democratic achievement and give grist to the propaganda mills of our Communist enemies."

Texans Set For Voyage

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Roy Sutter and James Pirtle, Texas admirals from Fort Worth, planned to leave here by truck today for Montreal with the outboard motorboat in which they hope to cross the Atlantic. They expect to set forth this weekend.

Sutter, 43, said arrangements are being made for a freighter to accompany them on the 14-day voyage in the 18-foot fibreglass craft. The freighter will carry enough fuel to refill the boat's 300-gallon tanks four times.

The pair originally planned to make the voyage last weekend from here but abandoned these plans because of icebergs in the North Atlantic.

Daniel Pledges Fight For Local Control Of Schools

By WHITEY SAWYER
The Associated Press

Gov. Daniel formally opened his campaign for reelection Monday at Austin with pledges to fight for local school control and against forced integration.

Texas candidates faced their first deadline Tuesday for reporting expenses and donations.

The candidates must report to the secretary of state, but there is no penalty for failure.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, running for reelection, was the first major candidate to report. He showed $30,555 in expenses, $31,759 in donations and unpaid bills totaling $9,194 for printing and advertising.

Daniel told a crowd unofficially estimated at 1,000 he was against federal aid to education and promised federal troops would never patrol Texas schools.

He also blasted the Democrats of Texas, an organization of labor-liberals challenging his control of the Democratic Party. He said the DOT and elements that opposed his governmental reform program were now his chief adversaries.

The DOT, Daniel said, did not oppose his program but mainly wanted to seize control of politics and government.

He reviewed the accomplishments of his administration and said, "Please do not be frightened by the scare tactics of those who alleged that our financial picture is bad in this state. Texas has no general sales or income taxes and is not going to have them." He did say however, Texas' growth was going to require more revenue.

Yarborough returned to Washington after making a Monday speech in Dallas opening his county headquarters. He charged Dallas banks have cancelled loans because their customers were planning to vote for him.

"But the banks of Dallas County, and especially the big three banks, are not going to succeed in buying this election with their loan cancelling," he said.

"You are watching the most brazen effort to buy a political office ever attempted in Texas," Yarborough said. "We are accustomed to seeing seats bought on the New York Stock Exchange, but this is the first time we have seen an effort to buy a seat in the U.S. Senate."

The senator said his opposition was already spending $80,000 a day on its campaign and "That's just the beginning. You can expect it to go up to $100,000 daily."

Yarborough's wife and son planned to visit Grand Prairie, Arlington, Weatherford, Mineral Wells and Ranger Tuesday.

William Blakley, Yarborough's opponent, said in San Antonio Monday it seemed odd to him Texas labor union leaders felt they must go through out-of-state clearing houses to donate to Yarborough in 1957.

He also labeled as absurd charges by State AFL-CIO President Jerry Holleman that he had personally profited from federal subsidies to Braniff Airways. Blakley is a director and owns 15 per cent of Braniff.

W. Lee O'Daniel, another candidate for governor, spoke over several radio stations charging the tidelands issue is before the courts again because Daniel "made the monumental blunder of failing to definitely specify in the deed the boundaries of the submerged land that was being deeded to Texas."

He also said that if Daniel continues to deny that the state "is on a deficit spending spree, why has he appointed two or three committees to figure what kind of new taxes should be enacted?"

Youthful Supporter Like His Candidate

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A youthful supporter of gubernatorial candidate Jim Rinehart had the right answer when charged with putting campaign signs on utility poles.

Asked if he had a police record, the youth declared:

"No sir. I'm just like Jim Rinehart. I haven't a blemish on my record."

Case dismissed.

Jobless Claims Go Up Slightly

AUSTIN (AP)—A slight rise in unemployment compensation claimants last week was a "weekly fluctuation," the Texas Employment Commission said yesterday.

It was the first increase in seven weeks and does not indicate an upward trend, the commission said. Initial claims fell from 6,080 to 5,902.

Total individuals filing during the week ending June 26 were 75,738 compared to 75,247 the previous week. Claims actions totaled 77,394 compared to 76,889 the previous week.

Benefits paid to jobless workers also were up. Payments totaled $1,524,463, compared to $1,442,304 the week ending June 19.

Better Get Nose Ready

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — They sometimes called Alaska's attorney general "Doubter Williams" because he was so pessimistic about the territory's chances for statehood.

In fact, J. Gerald Williams was so positive Congress wouldn't clear Alaska statehood this session he offered to push a peanut 120 miles with his nose if it did—from Alaska's Tok Junction to Big Delta.

The Senate sent the statehood bill to the President yesterday, as Williams visited friends in Boise. His reaction? Unfettered joy, of course. But he added:

"Maybe I'd better get my nose in shape."

Rock 'N Roll Is 'Nervous' Music

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rock 'n' roll is a nervous sort of music—for a nervous time.

So says John M. Ray, president of the Music Teachers Assn. of California.

"It's barbaric, and musically a disgrace, but the times are nervous, and rock 'n' roll is one way for young people to work off their tensions and exuberances," Ray told the association's convention here.

Director Asks More Money On Picture

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Director William Wyler is asking more money for his work on "The Best Years of Our Lives" — a movie now 11 years old.

Wyler filed suit yesterday seeking $408,356 from producer Sam Goldwyn and asking for an accounting of the profits of the picture, of which he is supposed to get 20 per cent.

Goldwyn, apprised of the action, said Wyler already had received $1,400,000.

Trujillo Eyeing Brigitte Bardot

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The roving eye of Gen. Raphael Trujillo Jr. has lighted on Brigitte Bardot.

This reporter recently chatted with the French actress on a movie set. A photographer, upon whose lap she was sitting at the time, disclosed that Trujillo had just phoned from America asking him to take all the pictures he could of her.

Today a spokesman for the Dominican general confirmed that Trujillo had made such an order.

"But at the moment," he said, "the general is only interested in Miss Bardot arusticaily. What other interests can one have from 5,000 miles away?"

The spokesman declined comment on whether the handsome son of the Dominican Republic strongman may shift interest from actress Kim Novak to Brigitte.

Trujillo, on a local television show, publicly expressed his love for Miss Novak. But that was some months ago. She, in New York, is a long way off, too.

Much closer at home is Zsa Zsa Gabor. It's beginning to look a if Trujillo thinks she's too close. Zsa Zsa invited a host of Hollywood celebrities to a fancy party in honor of the general July 8.

Before the ink on the invitations was barely dry, she sent telegrams canceling the party.

Friends quoted her as saying that the general wasn't content with being just guest of honor—he wanted to run the whole shebang. That isn't the way Zsa Zsa does things.

Neither Kim nor Zsa Zsa yet knows of the Bardot interest. Miss Bardot said this of the 29-year-old father of six—"He looks very pretty."

And would she accept a gift of, say, a big diamond?

"Mais oui," she answered. "If it is a true one."

Armless Judge Asks Post In Congress

DADE CITY, Fla. (AP)—A. J. Hayward Jr., 37-year-old armless judge of Pasco County, has announced as a Democratic candidate for Congress. He seeks the seat now held by Rep. William C. Cramer, Republican from St. Petersburg.

The judge, born without arms, was cited in 1952 by the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults for achieving success despite a handicap.

Hearing For Papers Denied

WASHINGTON (AP)—A hearing on the appeal by the Harte-Hanks newspaper group of Texas to prevent the government using the newspaper records in an anti-trust investigation was denied by the Supreme Court yesterday.

In refusing to consider the appeal, the court opened the way for the government to continue its investigation of alleged anti-trust violations.

The probe was started after the Greenville Banner, a Harte-Hanks newspaper, bought the rival Greenville Herald.

The newspaper group had contended it had opened its records and files to FBI agents only on condition they would not be used in any prosecution.

The contention was upheld by a federal district judge, who ruled the records could not be made available to the grand jury. The newspaper group was seeking to upset a ruling of the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals which reversed the district judge's decision.

Farm Machinery Prices Are Higher

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm machinery prices are averaging 7 per cent higher than a year ago, the Agricultural Marketing Service reports.

Both tillage and harvesting equipment were said to have increased.

But prices paid by farmers for motor supplies, particularly petroleum products, were running about 1 per cent lower than a year ago.

Thief Takes Statue

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—A thief entered the Douglas & Sing Funeral Home Sunday night and made off with a 30-inch black-bronze statue of a man in a suit of armor holding a lamp in his left hand. Police said they thought they would recognize the stolen object if they found it.

Prohibition Issue In Oklahoma Vote

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Oklahoma voted for party nominees for governor and other state and congressional offices today in a general primary election sparked by the first real fight over prohibition in years.

Partly cloudy skies and temperatures in the 90s were predicted. Of the state's estimated 1,250,000 registered voters, upward of 500,099 Democrats and 50,000 Republicans were expected to vote.

Five of the 11 Democratic candidates are considered strong enough to make it into the July 22 runoff election which will be held in those races where no candidate gets more than half the votes tomorrow. Only the top two in each race meet in the runoff.

Two of the four Republican candidates — Phil Ferguson, a rancher and an advocate of repeal of prohibition, and C. E. Barnes, an attorney who has urged a moderate approach to the issue— are considered the leading GOP hopefuls.

Two Democrats—Methodist lay leader and former Democratic National Committeeman Bill Doenges and contractor W. A. Atkinson are considered drys.

State Sen. George Miskovsky of Oklahoma City has made a strong showing on a platform of repeal of prohibition, which has been in the state constitution since statehood in 1907.

Tulsa, Co. Atty. Howard Edmondson promises strict enforcement of prohibition and a special election on repeal in 90 days.

William Coe, Oklahoma City attorney, has remained quiet on prohibition in his fourth bid for the nomination.

All six congressmen seek renomination but only one has a hard fight. Rep. Toby Morris (D-Okla) is being challenged by former Rep. Victor Wickersham, whom he defeated two years ago.

Republican Page Belcher and Democrat Ed Edmondson have no primary opponents while Democrats Carl Albert, Tom Steed and John Jarman are expected to have little trouble gaining renomination.

Sure Road To Fame

If you happen to be running a nation these days and need some attention from the rest of the world, there's a sure fire way to get it—although it may cost you a gentle rap on the nuckles.

The formula: Capture some Americans, preferably some in military uniform, but civilians will do in a pinch.

At this writing, some 59 Americans were being held (if we didn't lose count somewhere down the line) and the U. S. Government had "asked" for their release, in somewhat guarded tones, of course.

The score, as we computed it, included nine airmen from a helicopter held in Communist East Germany, nine U. S. Air Force men whose transport plane was forced down in Soviet Armenia, and 41 held by Rebel Leader Fidel Castro in Cuba.

Those held by Castro presumably were in no danger whatever, because it was apparent that the rebel leader made the move to regain lost ground on the front pages of newspapers. In fact, there was indication that President Batista's forces were easing their pressure on the rebels to make certain that the captive Americans did not stop stray bullets.

Nobody knows the fate that awaits the Americans held by the Communists. Chances are they will not be harmed and they probably will be released eventually after the Russians pump the propaganda well dry.

Nevertheless, such incidents are becoming more embarrassing by the hour to the country. If they continue, our diplomats may be instructed to speak sharply one of these days.

Goldfine's Move Is Unpredictable

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press eNws Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Waiting for Bernard Goldfine to testify is like waiting for the launching of a satellite. The results of both are unpredictable.

This fast-talking, gift-giving millionaire friend of presidential assistant Sherman Adams is due to testify Wednesday before a House subcommittee looking into his relations with Adams and with government regulatory agencies.

Washington, long used to having spectacular individuals appear before committees, has a special air of expectancy about Boston businessman Goldfine.

He talks rapidly and volubly, and seems to throw around expensive gifts and favors to men in political office or positions of political power.

Time magazine last month quoted him as saying that when someone like him has problems: "Who do you go to? Why, you go to your congressman or your senator or to your governor, not a sme schme."

The Washington Post in a special story from Boston Sunday—outlining the efforts of Goldfine's lawyers to drill him for his appearance here—gave a pretty clear impression he's hard man to handle, even by his own lawyers.

One of them was quoted as saying: "He will make a terrible witness. He's hard of hearing and he doesn't answer questions well. He's not good with words.

"It is constitutionally impossible for him to give a simple answer. You can't tell what will happen when he gets on the stand."

Even Goldfine's actions appear unpredictable. He had a date with his lawyers at noon, the Post said, and showed up at 6 p. m. The next night he didn't show up at all.

Adams has said he let Goldfine pay hotel bills for him, amounting to more than $2,000, and before the same subcommittee said he had received vicuna cloth for a coat and the loan of an expensive Oriental rug from Goldfine.

Adams described all this as part of a personal and friendly relationship extending back for years. Goldfine, who came to this country a poor immigrant, seems from other testimony before the subcommittee to have spread a lot of money and a lot of favors in a lot of places.

For example: Gov. Lane Dwinell, a former political associate of Adams, says Goldfine gave a suit of clothes to every governor in the nation at the 1955 Governor's Conference.

And John Fox, former publisher of the now defunct Boston Post, said he borrowed $400,000 from Goldfine. Goldfine even sent a bolt of cloth to President Eisenhower whose press secretary, James Hagerty, said Eisenhower gave it away.

The subcommittee subpoenaed Goldfine's companies' records, going back to 1925, and any records of money he spent on state or federal employes going back to 1950. What isn't known yet is whether—or how—the subcommittee will try to dig into Goldfine's income tax returns to see:

1. Whether the money he spent on gifts for political figures like Adams were considered by him to be just friendly gifts, as Adams says he considered them, or—

2. Whether Goldfine actually considered them business expenses and so deducted them from his income tax returns.

Gold Shipments Pinch City Banks

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The flow of gold from the United States to other lands—mostly to Great Britain, Japan and the Netherlands—can put big city banks in a bind. And of late that's adding to the Federal Reserve Board's task of keeping money easy instead of tight.

Some 1½ billion dollars from the U. S. gold hoard have gone overseas since the start of the year. Much of that outgo has meant at least a temporary drop in deposits for these banks, and hence a loss of reserves available for making loans. That is one reason the Federal Reserve has just made its largest purchase of U.S. Treasury 91-day bills in two years to relieve the strain on the big banks.

The board's official position is that it's glad friendly nations can build up their depleted gold reserves. But practically, it has had to counteract the flow so that the banks have plenty of money to lend during the recession. Otherwise the slump might start snowballing.

This is the way the flow of gold affects the U. S. banking system:

The largest share of non-Communist-held gold is in the United States. Central banks of other nations have the right to buy it at $35 an ounce, although American citizens do not.

When other nations get their hands on dollars through international trade they frequently deposit them with either U. S. commercial banks or with the Federal Reserve banks, or they buy up U. S. Treasury securities.

When yields on these securities dropped, foreign holders sold them, deposited the dollars in the banks and then used these deposits to buy gold from the U. S. Treasury through the Federal Reserve system.

The net result is to lower the total of bank deposits. This cuts bank reserves with the Federal Reserve system, and thus makes their money for lending purposes tight.

New York banks complain that most of this blow has fallen on them, since the foreign banks tend to keep their dollar deposits here. The Federal Reserve has come to the banks' aid by buying government securities on the open market from sellers who deposit this cash in the banks, thus restoring their reserves and lending power.

The U. S. gold stock now is around 21¼ billion dollars, down some 3¼ billion from the postwar high of September 1949. About 21 billion of the gold backs gold certificates held by the Federal Reserve banks as their reserves. But they need only some 11½ billion of these gold certificates to satisfy the legal requirements of backing their current deposit and note liabilities.

This leaves them better than nine billion dollars of leeway before the outflow of gold could raise a legal reserve problem for the nation's currency.

Money managers scoff at the worries of those who think the outflow of gold is a run on the U. S. dollar.

They say, rather, that those nations who have been doing better in world trade are now able to rebuild dangerously low gold reserves. The trade situation is better for them because U. S. exports have been falling faster than U. S. imports.

Counting in the direct U.S. government grants and spending overseas, the balance is now running against the United States and the dollar gap more than closed for some nations. Those profiting by this have been putting most of their gains into gold.

It's kept New York banks and the Federal Reserve hopping—but the dollar is far from imperiled yet.

Braceros Protest Low Wages At Home

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Some 2,000 braceros were said to have demonstrated Sunday in Monterrey against government plans to get them to work in Mexico.

It was reported here that the Braceros said farm wages in Mexico were far too low, and that to live they were forced to seek jobs in the United States.

Vacation Is Good Season To Reform

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments of a pavement Plato:

Are you puzzled over what to do on your vacation?

Many men are. They know that if they go to the mountains they will have to help the children pick wild flowers to paste in their memory books. They know that if they go to the seashore, they will have to help the children collect seashells.

And they know if they stay home their wife will keep them busy 16 hours a day doing odd jobs around the house, such as repairing the vacuum cleaner, hanging wallpaper or picking green worms off the tomato plants — chores any strong, able-bodied woman can do to attend to herself.

If you're in this plight, here's an idea. Why not use your vacation to reform and improve yourself?

Most men start their self-reform campaigns on New Year's Day. This is a bad time. A man's resistance is so low in winter that he barely has the strength to continue his vices—let alone summon up the extra strength required to abandon them.

There is another factor. Vacation is the only time when a man can reform while lying down. Any other period of the year he will be standing up or moving about. Reform under this added stress and strain is almost impossible.

Still another advantage to giving up bad habits while on vacation is that there is no sudden wrench about it. You are in no hurry and can improve yourself slowly and surely.

But perhaps it might be better to give a constructive example.

Let us suppose you have gone to the seashore and want to cut down on your smoking and drinking. Here's what you do.

You stretch out on the sand and put a pack of cigarettes and a pitcher of martinis before you. You say, "I'm not going to take a smoke or a drink for one full minute." Each day you add another minute of waiting before you indulge yourself. At the end of a two-week vacation you will be able to go a full 14 minutes.

This may not seem like a major achievement, but look at it this way: if you continue this reform program on every vacation for 40 years you will wind up being able to go 9 hours and 20 minutes without giving way to thrist of the desire for a pep-up puff. It's the little triumphs that add up in life.

Actually, if a fellow just doesn't rush it, there's no vice he can't give up or art he can't learn on a vacation—and return a better man for it.

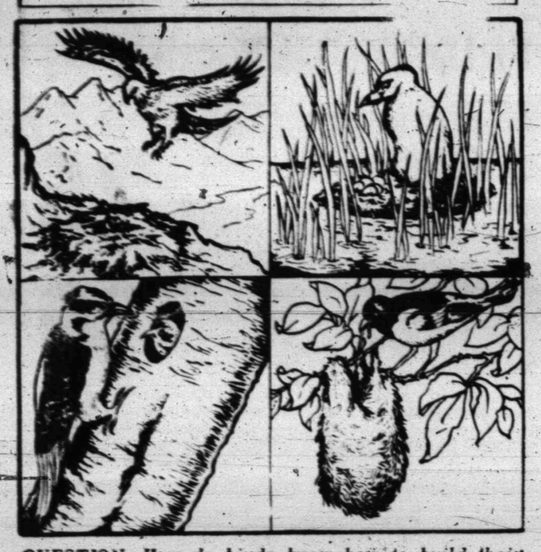
Junior Editors Quiz on BIRDS



QUESTION: How do birds know how to build their nests?

ANSWER: Boys and girls learn to do things by watching their parents. A young man who wishes to be a carpenter learns how to build a house by working with an experienced carpenter. But birds can't do this. Their nest is built before the young birds hatch from the eggs — in fact, even before the eggs are laid. And yet when it comes time for the young to lay eggs, they know how to build their own nest. Instinct, or inherited habit, seems to guide them.

Different types of birds build nexts suited to different needs. Here are four different types of nests. The eagle builds a big untidy dwelling on a mountain ledge. The grebe places its eggs in a nest hidden among grasses. The woodpecker's nest is a neat hole inside a tree. The oriole makes a hanging basket of grass and string.

FOR YOU TO DO: In a book on birds at the library study the different kinds of birds' nests. And see if you can locate the nest of some living birds — but don't disturb it.

(The $10 award for today's question goes to Hilary Kilcullen of Alexandria, Va. Mail your question on a postcard to Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures, in care of this newspaper. Tomorrow: How did Indians make arrowheads?) 7-1

Racial Issues Not New To 8th Court

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Sensitive racial segregation issues are not new to the 8th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, which once again has the Little Rock case before it.

The U. S. Supreme Court reminded attorneys for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People of that yesterday. It refused to bypass the Circuit Court and act directly on an order delaying integration at Little Rock Central High School for 2½ years.

The appellate court has dealt with the case three times before and the Supreme Court said it was sure it was aware speed was needed to permit arrangements for the fall term.

What is the makeup of this court which will decide for the present, at least, whether seven Negro students can return to the Little Rock high school after a year of troop-enforced integration?

The chief justice, who will name three of the seven members to hear the appeal, is Archibald K. Gardner, who at 90 is the nation's oldest active federal judge.

Gardner, quiet by nature, has declined to say whom he will name or when or where they will sit to hear the plea to stay the order of U. S. Dist. Judge Harry J. Lemley of Hope, Ark., suspending integration at Little Rock.

He can name Joseph W. Woodrough, 84, Omaha; Charles J. Vogel, 60, Fargo, N. D.; Martin D. Van Oosterhaut, 58, Sioux City, Iowa; Harvey M. Johnsen, 63, Hastings, Neb.; John B. Sanborn, 74, St. Paul, Minn.; or Martin C. Matthes, 52, St. Louis.

It was Justice Gardner who decided it would be better for Dist. Judge Ronald Davies of Fargo, N. D., to quit the Little Rock case. On a temporary assignment in eastern Arkansas, Davies ordered integration. Justice Gardner simply said perhaps it would be preferable to let an Arkansas judge hear the school board's plea for postponement of integration.

Justice Gardner came to the circuit bench in 1929 in one of President Coolidge's last acts.

Two months ago, the Circuit Court dealt Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas a blow by upholding an injunction which had barred his use of National Guardsmen to stop the integration, started by the enrollment of nine Negroes at the school.

Man Joins Friend As Hospital Patient

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP) — Austin Gailey of Scarsdale, N. Y., went to City Hall to see City Engineer E. F. Hovermale.

Aides said Hovermale, ill for several weeks, was in Washington County Hospital. Gailey, an employe of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. here, returned to work and soon afterward fell down some stairs and broke his hip.

Gailey was taken to the hospital. His roommate was Hovermale.

Papers Put Out Extras

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — "We're In," proclaimed the Anchorage Times banner headline yesterday when Alaska was admitted to statehood. It was set in type seven inches high—the largest ever used by the newspaper.

A full-color picture of the American flag adorned the front page of the Fairbanks News Miner special edition, which was flown by special plane to Washington. Every congressman will receive a copy from publisher C. W. Snedden.

The news broke after many Alaskan papers had already put out their regular edition and they swiftly published extras.

Radio stations periodically interrupted their regular broadcasts to bring Alaskans the long-waited news.

Suzy Parker Files Against Railroad

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Suzy Parker is suing the Florida East Coast Railway for $350,000 as a result of a June 7 crossing accident.

She said her injuries, which included fractures of both arms, make it impossible for her to continue her career.

Her father, George Lofton Parker, was killed in the accident.

Girls Refuse To Give Up Brother

SUN VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—"We are taking Baby Mike away. We won't let you give him away."

Two teen-age girls left this note with their parents Sunday and disappeared, taking with them the 20-month-old brother they thought their parents no longer wanted.

Yesterday a patrolman found Sandra Hill, 16, and her sister Genevieve, 13, asleep under a tree in a Burbank park, about five miles from their home. In their arms was Mike.

The officer recognized them from their mother's missing persons report. At Burbank police policewoman: "We had to leave and take Baby Mike with us. Mama and Daddy were going to adopt him out."

Police went to the Hills' home in Sun Valley and found out why the parents had talked of putting the baby up for adoption.

"I can't see any other answer," said Lyle Hill, 44, a carpenter. "I can't get a job.

"Counting Mikey, we have eight kids—and we live in a house that was made for no more than two people."

Rent on the one-bedroom home is due again Thursday. The current week's rent was paid by the Bureau of Public Assistance. But the bureau says it can't give the Hills relief payments because Mrs. Hill and the children only recently arrived in the area from Toledo, Ohio.

"I had to split the family up back there and farm out the kids," Mrs. Hill said. "We didn't want to do that again, and we thought we'd let just the baby go."

The three grimy, weary children went home in a police car. The girls said they had spent the night in an all-night movie and trudged through the hills, taking turns carrying their brother.

"I don't care now," Mrs. Hill declared. "We'll keep him." She told a juvenile officer: "We could make out all right if my husband and I had jobs. We're willing to work."

But Hill has other strikes against him. He is on parole from San Quentin Prison, where he served time for the theft of an outboard motor. And he has been in ill health lately.

He shook his head sadly. "It can't be done," he said. "The boy has got to go."

Army Puts Sky Weapons On Display

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — The Army today resumed its attempts to lay a claim, with the Air Force and Navy, for a place in the sky.

Attending the Army's Operation Ammo show of Army weapons are the nation's top military leaders, NATO representatives and heads of this country's main missile building companies.

None of the rockets are new. But today's show included the first public showing of the Nike Hercules—the stepped-up antiaircraft missile.

The Nike Hercules, soon to supplement the Nike Ajax installations around major cities, can wipe out a fleet of enemy bombers or missiles with its hydrogen warhead. The Nike Ajax can get only one.

Lt. Gen. C. E. Hart, commanding general of the Army Air Defense Command and one of 75 general officers on hand, disclosed the imminent placing of the beefed-up weapon in an interview, he declined to fix a specific date. He said that use of the new weapon in Europe would be "strictly up to the NATO nations involved."

The Hercules will be added to every Nike battery to give the Army a Sunday punch for use in any saturation attacks.

New Export Plan Starts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department started today a new export program for barley, grain sorghums, oats and rye which it hopes will help strengthen grower prices for those crops.

The program will encourge exporters to buy in the open market.

Export supplies formerly were furnished by the department from its surplus stocks.

Domestic market prices are running above competitive world market prices. In the past, the department has sold these grains to exporters at prices that would enable them to meet the lower world prices.

Under the new program, exporters will get subsidies from the department to offset this price difference. The subsidy will be paid in the form of government grain.

Medical Research Plan Is Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lister Hill (D-Ala) today proposed that the United States initiate a dynamic program of international medical research and make it an instrument of foreign policy.

He said such a program would support the World Health Organization.

Hill's address was prepared for a luncheon honoring Dr. Leroy E. Burney, surgeon general of the U.S. Public Health Service, on his election to the presidency of the World Health Assembly. The assembly is the policy making body of the health organization, which operates as a subordinate of the United Nations.

"Here in America," Hill said, "we believe that within a few short years the world will see a momentous breakthrough of medical knowledge that will enable us to overcome many of the dread diseases that have plagued and baffled man through the ages. There is reason for confidence that this breakthrough will yield many answers in the battle against heart disease, cancer, mental illness, and other crippling and degenerative diseases.

"I propose that the United States give added impetus to this imminent breakthrough by initiating a dynamic program of international medical research."

He said his program would include:

1. Cooperative international support of medical research directed against major diseases.

2. Exchange of research workers and clinicians.

3. Distribution of drugs, medical equipment and rehabilitation devices to all parts of the world.

4. Organization of an international clearing house on the latest developments in medical research.

Alaska Flag Is Hoisted

SARATOGA, Calif. (AP) — A strange flag—eight gold stars arrayed on a blue field to depict the Big Dipper and the North Star—fluttered proudly from the pole in front of 18650 Sobey Rd. here yesterday.

Breathlessly, Mrs. Michael Stepovich, wife of Alaska's 39-year-old governor, ran up the Alaska territorial flag when she heard the news of Alaska's impending statehood.

She is here with their eight children visiting her mother-in-law Mrs. Vuka Stepovich.

"When Mike took office a little over a year ago he said at his inauguration he hoped he would be the last appointed governor of Alaska," she said.

"He's been too busy working for statehood to decide whether he'll run for the governorship."

Furr Lamesa Opening Set

Replacement of the Furr's Super Market of Lamesa, which burned to the ground last Dec. 6, will open Wednesday. It's luxious, completely new 18,637 foot Super Market at a new location: North Fourth Street and Austin. Announcement was made today by Roy Furr, President of Furr's, Inc., Lubbock.

The beautiful new store will open its doors at 8 a.m. on Wednesday for a big two-day opening. Furr's will then be closed on Friday, July 4th and open again as usual on Saturday. A new Furr's 1450 sq. ft. Farm Store located on the same lot as the Super Market, will not open at the same time as the Super Market, but will hold a separate grand opening at a later date, Furr said.

Mayor J. D. Dyer, Mayor of Lamesa, will perform ribbon cutting ceremonies at the store. The Rev. Milo Arbuckle, Pastor of the First Baptist Church will give the invocation. On hand will be Furr's officials from Lubbock.
