Definite Progress Made In Unemployment Drive Deadly Gas Prevents Rescue Of Entombed Miners

Slight Chance Given Victims Of Mine Blast

Twenty-nine men are thought dead in lower levels of Oklahoma coal mine; one killed, two known hurt

Working in Shifts

Rescue crews driven back by gas time after time; Work handicapped by debris and possibility of cave-in

By The Associated Press
MALESTER, Okla., Oct. 28.—Fighting deadly after-damp which drove them back time after time and handicapped by debris mine rescue crews tonight continued efforts to reach lower levels of the Wheatly No. 4 mine where a blast last night entombed 28 men and killed William Donley, working at the mine mouth.

The number of injured had reached two tonight. Lesse Rosco, working with Donley, was thrown against the tipple, John Moore, a rescue worker, was taken to a McAlester hospital in an unconscious condition after he was gassed.

Working in short shifts, 61 rescue men, most of them from neighboring mines, battled gas and debris during the afternoon. Several workers were overcome by the gas. Because of the debris filled passage way, it took six men several hours to bring Moore to the surface.

Workers who ventured too far into the mine were driven back, choked by the gas. They were rescued at times they conquered the gas sufficiently to go ahead, only to have a fresh wave of after-damp force them to retreat.

A report that reached the engine house that bodies of four men were sighted on the sixteenth level, later was discounted.

A chance that some may have escaped the blast, heard for two miles, and the after-damp that followed, led workers to redouble their efforts tonight to break through rock falls, remove ventilation and reach the tomb where the men were buried.

A group of seven who went into the shaft this afternoon, returned to the surface after three hours work to report they believed they were about 400 feet from the trapped miners. Walter Tate, one of the rescuers, said the gas at that point still was too dense to permit him to go further.

Shaw and Einstein Swap Compliments At London Dinner

LONDON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Two of the most famous men in the world, George Bernard Shaw and Professor Albert Einstein, spoke and exchanged compliments tonight at a dinner in honor of the German scientist.

The soft Irish brogue of Mr. Shaw and the sharp staccato German of Professor Einstein were broadcast to millions of listeners in England and the United States.

In reporting the health of Professor Einstein, Mr. Shaw was in his lightest vein.

"Here in London we are still a great center. I don't suppose we shall be a great center long. All that will be transferred to the United States. But for the moment, I am speaking in a capital where the reception of great men is a very common event."

Mr. Shaw proposed a toast to the scientist as "the greatest of our contemporaries." The glowing "I am among 'the men who are great among great men," such, he said, were Aristotle, Copernicus, Galileo and Newton, also.

Vargas Chosen To Presidency By Brazilians

Revolutionary Representatives and Military-Naval Junta Select Rebel Leader Next Provisional President

By The Associated Press
RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 28.—Getulio Vargas, leading figure in the Brazilian revolution which began October 3, was chosen today for the provisional presidency of Brazil.

He will succeed Washington Luis, ousted by a movement of military and naval leaders last Friday.

Choice was made this afternoon at a meeting of southern revolutionary representatives with the military-naval junta.

Vargas' now is the only important rebel leader not in the capital, for Captain Juarez Tavora arrived by airplane late today from the north and was given a wild welcome.

The captain, who organized and conducted the revolution in nine northern states, was reported a few days ago to be suspicious of the Rio Junta, but said he was willing to cooperate when he learned Vargas would take the presidency.

Vargas has ordered a special train made ready by the central railroad and soon will come north. It is understood, leading a triumphal entry of southern revolutionary soldiers into the capital.

Rio was quiet today, following the military police mutiny of yesterday in which more than 100 casualties were reported, and the polling of the banking district was taken over by sailors. A decree of the Junta today permitted all banks to do business except the discounting of foreign bills, which is left to the Banco do Brasil.

W. K. Henderson of Shreveport will address the meeting, having advised those in charge of the meeting he favored a movement to force reduction of the acreage of cotton in this country, president of the Oklahoma State Bankers' association arrived today.

Leona Rusk Ihrig to Bring School to End Tomorrow

By BLANCHE E. BEAN
Woman's Editor
TODAY will be party day at the Avalanche - Journal cooking school.

Mrs. Leona Rusk Ihrig, home economist who is conducting the school, will begin her lecture promptly at 2:30 o'clock again this afternoon and will give recipes and hints and demonstrate the preparation of foods to serve on special occasions. Colored breads will be used in this demonstration, cakes and other delicacies will be made.

Tomorrow will be dinner day and will conclude the school.

Five Hundred Attend
Approximately five hundred women were in the house yesterday afternoon to hear Mrs. Ihrig in her lecture on the luncheon and many were in the house before 2 o'clock seeking the front seats in the auditorium.

In addition to the regular school, several colored women of the city attended yesterday afternoon and others are expected to come through out the season of the school. The Avalanche and Journal sponsor this school annually as a courtesy to women of the section and any one who wishes may attend.

Following the opening of the doors at 2 o'clock daily, there is a half-hour of music before Mrs. Ihrig starts her lecture. As a climax to this period, there is a special each day. Miss Sophie Spruill, dancing teacher who has her studio in Hotel Lubbock, is to give a tap dance this afternoon.

Readings Given
Yesterday afternoon, Miss Elizabeth Spencer gave two short readings, preceding Mrs. Ihrig's program. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Spencer and a pupil of Miss Lulu Mae Craven.

In keeping with her slogan of "Better food with less work for less money," Mrs. Ihrig stresses economy in her lectures.

In introducing her topic yesterday, she gave a short talk on nutrition and balanced meals and during the course of her lectures she talked on a reducing diet in response to a question from one of the women in the school.

She advised a balanced diet for reducing and said that it should be followed after consulting the family physician. One should eat at least two green vegetables, two salads.

Texas-Pacific Lowers Fares

Rate Between Fort Worth and Big Spring Reduced from 3.8 Cents Per Mile to Two, Starting November 1

By The Associated Press
AUSTIN, Oct. 28.—Under authority of the state railroad commission issued today, the Texas and Pacific railroad will launch an experiment November 1 to determine whether low passenger fares will increase the number of persons who ride on trains between Fort Worth and Big Spring.

The railroad commission's authority was for a cut from 3.8 cents per mile to two cents per mile on three trains of the Fort Worth-Big Spring branch. The bus fare is a fraction of a cent higher than that, and the estimated cost of operating a private vehicle over the same distance would be even greater.

The experiment will be continued, under the order, until February 15, at which time the railroad plans to determine whether other lines should have the reduced fare.

Resignation of Baldwin Asked As Party Head

Demands of Conservative Members of Parliament Causes Major Political Sensation of Year in England

By The Associated Press
LONDON, Oct. 28.—Demands by conservative members of parliament for the resignation of former Premier Stanley Baldwin, their leader, including those of Sir Orleton, Sir Basil Peto, Sir Martin Conway, Sir Vaneport Bowater, Viscount Lymington, P. A. MacQuisen and E. Marjoribanks.

The conservatives have been divided by disagreement over the tariff question, some sections of the party advocating thoroughgoing imperial preference and preferential food taxes.

The rejection of a party leader by so large a proportion of his followers at the very opening of a new parliamentary session is believed to be unprecedented in British political history.

Magnolia Slashes Crude Oil Prices

DALLAS, Oct. 28. (AP)—The Magnolia Petroleum company today slashed its posted prices for crude oil in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas, where the company is buying oil on a gravity basis.

In the Panhandle of Texas, the new prices range from 10 cents to 14 cents lower than the prices announced there October 17, which themselves were reductions from the prices that prevailed in that area since April 10, 1930.

The new prices for Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas are very much in line with the revised schedule announced only a few days ago, except that in this latest schedule the prices do not go above $1.07 a barrel for oil above 49 gravity. In the schedule announced Oct. 17, the price range went as high as $1.19 for 44 gravity, and above.

Robbery Nets $150,000 Gems For Two Yeggs

Negro Porter Forced to Get Combination of Safe from Owner of Jewelry Firm in New York Tuesday

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—After keeping the staff of a Broadway jewelry shop cowering under their guns for more than an hour today, two robbers forced the negro porter to get the combination of the safe by telephoning the owner of the safe.

One of them was dressed as a messenger boy. He presented an envelope to Charles Lewis, porter, a trusted employe, then forced his way into the store which is next to the Capitol theater at Fifth Street and Broadway, at the point of a pistol. The "messenger" admitted a well-dressed confederate and the two trussed up the porter with wire in a chair near the door.

As employes arrived for work, the porter admitted them with one free arm, and the robbers tied them up. They waited, apparently at ease, until the manager, Julius Fox, arrived. They asked him for the combination to the safe, but he declared, "You've scared me so I'll give clean from my mind."

Still undisturbed they forced Lewis to the telephone and made him call the owner, Joseph Rosenthal, to get the figures that would open the safe. The well-dressed robber listened as Rosenthal talked, and in a minute the safe was opened and the robbers were scooping out the jewelry.

The jewels were insured for $150,000 and Rosenthal said the loot probably would not amount to much more than that.

Woman Admits Husband Held By Abductors

Wife of Wealthy Banker Will Not Reveal Details of Kidnaping; Seeks Release of Her Spouse Single-Handedly

By The Associated Press
GALVA, Ill., Oct. 28. (AP)—One little corner of the veil of mystery that has shrouded the disappearance of Earl Yocum, wealthy banker, was lifted today revealing the fact that he was kidnaped and being held for ransom.

Mrs. Yocum, who was elected to try single-handedly to bring about her husband's return, confirmed the common belief he was held by abductors Saturday night and was held as hostage. The details she kept to herself.

Wearry From Strain
Wearry from the strain of three days' working and hoping for her husband's safe return, Mrs. Yocum held steadfastly to her determination to keep the whole matter to herself, presumably fearing harm to the banker if she did not follow the instructions of kidnapers.

"The amount of ransom is known only to myself. I have not and will not take any other person into my confidence," she told reporters. "I am handling the situation myself the best I know how."

"I do not know when he will be released, and I have nothing to say regarding any arrangements for his release."

"I have not said I would pay the ransom, and I will not say now."

And there the whole case rested County authorities, who suspended their search for the bank head yesterday, said it was useless to try to do anything unless Mrs. Yocum told them of the contents of the two letters she has received since his disappearance, supposedly written by her husband at the command of extortionists.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—The campaign to rid the jobless horde of want in the lean winter months advanced with definite strides today as the federal government made plans to create more opportunities for work and outside agencies began functioning to relieve local distress.

Announcements of the government's action coupled with reports from different sections of the country of the steps taken by voluntary organizations greeted Colonel Arthur Woods, chairman of the president's emergency committee for employment, upon his return late today from New York.

To Meet Today
The members of his staff he recruited in New York are to meet with him tomorrow. Dr. Lillian M. Gilbreth, consulting engineer, Mount Airy, N. C., is to be in charge of women's activities. John S. Plans of the post office department to place 288,490 additional persons on its payroll during the Christmas holiday season beginning December 13 were outlined today by Postmaster General Brown. In this manner about $6,720,000 will be distributed to needy breadwinners. President Hoover previously having signed executive order waiving civil service qualifications of workmen in order to make the widest distribution to the most destitute.

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHETTE BEAN
Advanced Woman's Editor

MY plea for some help in gaining weight hasn't fallen on deaf ears. I've been receiving some advice and now I'm in a quandary: that is, which to do first.

Mrs. J. A. Medlock, who lives out near Wolfarth, suggests that I pick out the best reducing diet I can find and adhere to it strictly. "I've always found that this is a sure method of gaining weight," Mrs. Medlock says.

That might not be so hard to do. There are plenty of current formulas for combating corpulence. The other advice I have received is harder to follow. Here it is as it came to me:

"My Dear Miss Bean: Noticing your plea for some help in gaining weight, I thought I would send in a method that I tried several years ago when I was as skinny as you are. It started me gaining then and now I weigh 140 pounds.

"You must go on a complete fast cure. Go to bed for six weeks. Eat three meals a day and then every two hours take additional food—milk at one hour and fruit juices at the next. If you will do this, you will be sure to gain. A Well Wisher."

But what about my job? Anyway, if I go to bed I won't have any income to buy the three squares and the milk and fruit; if I stay up to earn my board, I can't be in bed for six weeks. I'm sorry, Well Wisher, but you forgot that I never had been able to persuade a man to marry me and pay my bills. I need something that I can use on foot or something that will fit into my two weeks' vacation next summer.

I'm much obliged to you just the same. And, also, to Mr. Mason, Mrs. B. D. Moxley's father, who came by today to tell me that he couldn't help me any because he needs to earn practically as much as I do. He did say that he changed climates one time—came to Texas from Massachusetts, probably—and that he gained then. I didn't intend for this to get commercial, but this morning when I took the other half of my wardrobe down to the tailor who did my dress, he said that he had noticed in the paper that I was going to gain some weight and he would like to have the job of altering my clothes.

FROCK FOR DEBUTANTE
"SPEED" is a fancy frock that makes a big appeal to French girls of debutante age. It is ivory colored faille with a full skirt finished with a wide pleated ruche. A wide bow of emerald colored velvet has long ends tied in front.

THE COOKING SCHOOL
ANOTHER cooking school is in progress, giving to the women of the city an opportunity to try out new recipes on their families. One thing that interested me the opening day was to watch the brides come in and the young women with their first babies. We had more of them than I had thought would come and I noticed that they were watching how things were done by Mrs. Ibrg.

Another thing that interested me was the number of women who are back this year who have been attending the cooking schools year after year. That means a lot to the Avalanche Journal. If the school is appealing enough that women—and some of them are good—know—I know—will return year after year to hear the lectures and demonstrations, then it certainly must be worth while.

THE REAL BEAUTY
DURING the last two weeks I have seen two articles concerning Marie Dressler, the homely woman comedian, and they have been worth reading. If for no other reason, just to give one a little better philosophy of life.

Good fortune and had have come and gone during her forty years on the stage but she has kept her head up through it all. According to her own story, she is just a working girl who bumps "into scenery" to amuse the customers. But how she works at that job!

I suppose that most of us feel occasionally that we aren't appreciated for our real worth and that we really deserve to be paid princely salaries just for sitting around in an office and letting the customers look us over. But the catch in this story usually is that while we are sitting around indulging in a lot of self pity, we are neglecting to bump into the scenery hard enough.

I don't suppose that Marie Dressler's friends think she is beautiful. But I'm pretty sure that if they like her they never even notice whether or not she has that surface beauty.

One of the great disillusionments of my young life came when some one pointed out to me and explained it so clearly that I could have no doubts on the question—that my beloved first grade teacher wasn't pretty at all.

That teacher is Mrs. F. R. Haynes. She's in Lubbock now and probably will read this. She will know that I discovered that she wasn't pretty but that it didn't make any difference at all when I later learned what real beauty is.

About 107,000 miles of wire will go into the cables spanning 3,300 feet of space holding up the new Hudson River bridge at New York.

Illinois Race For Senate Is Getting Warm

Battle of Personalities Is Engrossing Country; "Big Bill" Thompson to Give Support to Lewis

BY L. A. BROPHY
CHICAGO, Oct. 28. (AP)—The Illinois senatorial race, a battle of personalities that has engrossed the country, nears the November 4 balloting attuned to a new pitch of interest over eleventh hour developments in the struggle for Cook county votes.

William Hale Thompson, Republican mayor of Chicago, with the political showmanship for which he is noted, set new forces in motion by engaging in a duel with Congressman Ruth Hanna McCormick, Republican candidate for the senate.
Supports Lewis
He has announced his support of James Hamilton Lewis, Democratic senatorial nominee; the Cook county Republican organization did not follow his lead and the repercussions of those moves have spurred public interest anew in a campaign that has set many political precedents.
The dramatic and unexpected entrance of "Big Bill" came after Lewis and Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill, independent, had charged Mrs. McCormick with his support. "The Tammany of Illinois" is the way Mrs. O'Neill characterized the Thompson and Cook county Republican organization, Lewis inveighed against the "city hall crowd".

"Now that Thompson has publicly said he would march with Lewis electionward, the question for warm speculation is what way his belated stand will weigh the scales."
Proof Is Cited
Mrs. McCormick took the opportunity to assert she never had been supported by the Chicago mayor and cited his latest move as proof of her statements.
Illinois will elect its full congressional delegation, vote upon three measures aimed at prohibition repeal, and consider two constitutional amendments, one to change the revenue article so that the legislature will have a virtually free hand in enacting taxation, and the other to permit women to serve on juries. But it is the senatorial fight that has stirred interest unparalleled in a bye-election year. It is unique. It started with one woman pitted against a man in the major party brackets—Mrs. McCormick

FALLS FROM BED

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 28. (AP)—Ellis Thompson, 39, injured fatally here yesterday while tussling with his dog over the bed cover. Thompson fell from the bed, striking his head against a bedpost. He died later from a fractured skull.
Competing with Lewis, a former senator who was defeated for reelection by her husband, the late Ed. McCormick. Then Mrs. O'Neill, one time a Republican member of the Illinois legislature, made her entrance.
Anyway it goes, the senatorial election will write a historic chapter in the national political annals.
If the voters select either of the two women candidates, it will be the first time in history; if Lewis, a senator of the days of the Wilson administrations, is chosen it will mark the return of the senate of one of its most publicized figures.

Cold weather is motor-punishing weather... Now, more than ever, you need the extra protection of this DE-WAXED, EASY-STARTING OIL

In cold weather motors usually are hard to start, but Conoco Germ-Processed oil actually makes starting easier!

There are two good reasons for this. First: Germ-Processed oil is thoroughly dewaxed and does not congeal at low temperatures. Second: Germ-Processed oil does not drain away during periods of motor idleness. The initial "turning over" process is made easier by the protective lubricating film which is on duty before you touch the starter. The usual 40% to 60% of motor wear occurring during the starting period is greatly reduced. Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil gives you safe starting—and quick starting, even at zero temperatures.

Change now to this new oil. Use it all winter for motor safety and economy. You always will find Germ-Processed Motor Oil at stations bearing the Conoco Red Triangle.

Denton Urges Highway Aid

Request made for Cooperation of Persons Owning Property on State Highway No. 7 by County Commissioner

A request for the co-operation of persons owning property on state highway No. 7 between Lubbock and Shallowater in granting easements for right-of-way was made Tuesday by L. C. Denton, county commissioner, in announcing that the board of view will meet Wednesday, November 5, to hear property owners.

The state highway commission will let the contract for grading and drainage of No. 7 at the November letting, if the right-of-way is obtained within a few days, it is the belief of Guy R. Johnson, resident construction engineer of the state highway department, Mr. Denton indicated.

Easement Needed
Easement still is needed on eight or 10 parcels of land and granting of easements by the respective property owners would enable the board of view to complete its work immediately, Mr. Denton said.

Mr. Denton added that so far the board had had fair success in its work with property owners and that nearly all of the right of way from Lubbock northwest to the Hockley county line, had been secured.

"Lubbock county has the money to go ahead with the grading and drainage work," the commissioner added. "If the contract is let this next month we can no doubt get the work started early."

State highway officials have completed their plans and specifications, it was said. The department is only awaiting completion of the right of way before taking its necessary steps.

Twenty feet on the south side of the road is needed to bring the highway up to state standard specifications of 100 feet in width.

Royal Newlyweds Conquer Storms

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 28. (AP)—The Bulgarian royal yacht Czar Ferdinand, with the royal newlyweds, Czar Boris and his queen, Cipriana, aboard, appeared at noon today to have won a battle with a violent gale which made their crossing of the Adriatic from Brindisi most difficult and dangerous.

After hours during which, because of atmospheric interference, the yacht was out of touch with the world, she radiated that she was off Patras at the entrance to the gulf of Corinth, and expected to pass through the Corinth canal shortly after 3 p. m. Some anxiety had been felt for the ship, both because of absence of reports from her and as a consequence of violence of the storm, which drove many small boats to shelter.

It was regarded as certain here that Boris and Cipriana, who were married Saturday at Ancon, Italy, and left Brindisi Sunday for Varna, Bulgarian Black sea port, have a had a very rough voyage thus far.

"TALKED TOO MUCH"
MILLSBURN, N. J., Oct. 28. (AP)—Joe Hamley, who police said, "talked too much" about the shooting of Jack (Legs) Diamond in New York three weeks ago, was found dead in a ditch in South Orange Avenue today with a bullet in his head.

ENGINEER KILLED
LAKE CHARLES, La., Oct. 28. (AP)—Thomas Franklin, 36-year-old engineer in a lumber mill at Merryville, was killed late yesterday when a pulley belt broke, causing an engine wheel to fly off and strike him in the head.

NO SPECIAL TO CANYON

There will be no special train to the football game at Canyon between the Tech Matadors and West Texas Teachers Buffaloes according to Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of the college.

It has been the opinion of many of the students that a special would be run as has been the custom when Tech plays Canyon. The game Saturday will be the home-coming game for the West Texas Teachers.

TO BRING TEAM

John Burroughs, a graduate of the 1928 class of Tech from the school of agriculture, was here recently from Clovis, N. M., where he is teaching vocational agriculture. While here Burroughs made tentative plans for bringing his class here for practice judging of the Tech livestock.

The team which Burroughs is coaching won forth in the New Mexico state contest last year.

T CLUB OFFICERS

James Harley Dallas, was selected president of the T club, organization of the college composed of athletic lettermen, at a recent meeting. George Langford was elected vice-president, foreign letters. Hopper was chosen secretary and treasurer.

Two new members, Raymond Pfunger and 'Hop' Hopper were initiated into the organization.

The T club is starting a campaign against the wearing of sweaters bearing foreign letters. This movement is being supported by the athletic committee as well as the student council and a number of the students.

MEET TONIGHT

There will be a meeting of the members of the Tech-Amarillo club in room 214 of the administration building at 7 o'clock tonight. All members of the organization are especially urged to attend.

Miss Flora McGee is sponsor of the organization.

Election of GOP Congress Urged

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Election of a Republican congress to cooperate with President Hoover was urged by Secretary Wilbur in a radio campaign address last night on the plea that this is the time for "team play."

"We want to start our forward march again with the least loss and in the shortest time," he said. "Just now we are electing members of a board of directors so to speak, to join with the president in doing what the government can do for us. The pressing question before us is whether we will choose men and women who will back the captain who inevitable must navigate our ship of state for the next two years through the troubled waters before us. Is it wise to risk a crew who may mutiny?"

"Two years from now," added, "we can shift captain and crew if it seems wise, but now we must not commit the folly of defeating ourselves by paralyzing our leaders. The interior secretary said President Hoover was the 'outstanding living expert in handling human difficulties in the mass.'"

Mustangs And Steers Hold Southwest Conference Spot Lubbock Teams Prepare For Important Games With Panhandle Teams

Teams in Good Condition for Game Saturday

Steers in Dandrous Frame of Mind After Trouncing by Owls; Steers' Last Win Over Ponies in 1920

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, Oct. 28. (AP)—Both Texas and Southern Methodist came through their battles of the past week without incurring serious injuries and will be at full strength for their headliner Saturday at Austin. It will be a fair fight in that respect.

Louis Long, star Mustang end, received a knee injury against Indiana that kept him out of practice today, but physicians announced there was nothing serious and that he would in all probability be going strong before Saturday. Weldon Mason and Malcolm Powell, hurt in the Notre Dame bout, will be back in the Pony lineup after watching both the Baylor and Indiana melees from the sideline. They are vital cogs in the Mustang machine.

Longhorns Slightly Battered

The Longhorns, according to reports, received nothing worse than a battering from the horde of reserves thrown against them by Rice. They are in tip-top shape and in a dangerous frame of mind; served because they permitted themselves to be beaten after they had outplayed the Owls for three quarters. Ernest Koy, who carried the brunt of the Steers' running attack of Houston, came out of the fray bruised but otherwise in the pink.

Thrilling Tilt Last Year

The Longhorns and Methodists supplied a thrilling battle here last year, despite the fact neither was able to score. Saturday's fray should be equally entertaining.

Nonna Rees, Steer quarterback, put the biggest kick into the 1929 tussle when he took the opening kick-off near his own goal line and raced within 20 yards of the Mustang line before he was brought down by Mason. It was on that play that Mason received a head injury which hampered him the remainder of the season and left doubt he would be able to play this year.

Lester in that same game. Vic Sauley, Pony end, stood on Texas' goal line and dropped a pass squarely in his arms. Had he held the Mustangs would have won the game and, as it turned out, the conference title. It doubtless was the year's most costly muff.

Methodists Are Favorites

Texas has had a rare time trying to win from the Morristown in recent years. Their last victory was in 1920. The best they have gotten since then were scoreless ties in '25 and '29. Several times they have been on the verge of taking the Ponies, but in each instance something has cropped up to deny them.

Argument in 1923

A red-hot argument arose after the '23 tilt at Austin, won by the Mustangs, 6-2. Longhorn adherents claimed—and still do, for that matter—that Rufus King plunged across for a touchdown that should have made the count Texas 8, S. M. U. 6. They even produced movies to prove their point; but the referee's decision that King was stopped

Return of Men In Line Gives Team Strength

Three Regulars Injured but May Be Back in Time for Homecoming Day Contest at Canyon Saturday

The chilling breeze from the north put the required paprika into the life and limbs of the Texas Tech Matadors yesterday afternoon as they scampered through their second workout since the stand against the championship Frogs of Texas Christian University. A more or less tough scrimmage, depending on the classification of Coach Pettor's thron's scrimmage orders. What is considered a trying scrimmage in lots of colleges would only be a light workout for the Matadors, who are working this week toward perfecting a machine to function against the West Texas Teachers Buffaloes at Canyon next Saturday.

It will be the sixth meeting of the teams in a gridiron way, and a Canyon victory will even the count between the clubs. Right now the tally stands 3 to 2 in favor of Tech, though the Buffaloes won the last game, taking a 20 to 0 decision over the Matadors of 1929 on the latter's home field. The teams have met each year that Tech has been represented on the grid.

Homecoming at Canyon

Realizing the importance of the occasion and undoubtably the desire of the Teachers, the Matadors and their mentors are taking the business of preparing for the Buffs with due seriousness and respect, and while they are not confident of winning, they feel that they will go in at top speed and will be hard to hold. Three of the regulars are out with injuries but may be back in uniform in a day or two. Lawrence Franz, regular back, has been out with injuries about the mouth from which complications of a more serious nature could have easily developed. C. A. Doster, starting fullback, has been on the injured list with minor bruises and cuts, and Cliff Yeager, reserve fullback is out with a bad knee.

Langford and Vinnant Back

The return of George Langford, the main man in the line, to his tackle post after a forced absence of nearly a month was marked by no little show of joy and appreciation on the part of his mates and his coaches. Declared ineligible early in the season by a special faculty ruling, Langford was made eligible Saturday morning in Fort Worth in time to take part in the game against the Frogs. The charge which resulted in his becoming ineligible was of a technical nature and had nothing to do with conference football rules. Rip Vinnant, regular end, is back in harness after nearly two weeks on the sidelines with a bad shoulder and broken collar bone sustained in a game. His presence adds greatly to strength of the line, and with him and Langford back to play, the Matadors forward wall assumes the aspect of an impassable combination.

The Matadors and Buffaloes will Meet Saturday Afternoon on the Canyon Teachers Gridiron as the Feature Attraction of the Teachers' Annual Homecoming Day Program.

Numbered out of town guests, alumni and ex-students running in short of the last line still stands. May Use Strongest Team. It will be interesting to see whether Coach Morrison will have the nerve to use his "A" and "B" teams against the big Orange eleven as he did against Indiana last week. Two separate and distinct units were sent against the Hoosiers, with the veterans predominating on the "A" squad. If the truth must be told, the "B" team, which included little Charlie Heaton, looked like the better of the two. The only real regulars in the "B" lineup were Kattman, Koontz and Sprague.

A good bet is that the Mustang mentor will forget all about that and place his strongest possible combination on the field Saturday, with Heaton possibly replacing Gilbert at quarterback. It might have been safe to experiment on Indiana, but the Longhorns are different.

Through the Sandie Line They'll Try to Pass

The "Garrison Finish" Exemplified In Death of Veteran Hero of American Turf; Edward Garrison Dies in Brooklyn After Half Century of Racing

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The American turf lost a picturesque figure today in the death of Edward H. "Snapper" Garrison, king of the jockeys when he was at the height of his career in the 90's.

He died this morning in Brooklyn after a heart attack. He was 62 years old, and his connection with racing, which dates back to the early 80's as an apprentice rider, was maintained up to the time of his death.

Highest Salaried Jockey

The man who made the "Garrison finish" a byword on the turf everywhere was the highest-salaried jockey in the business in his prime, receiving as much as $23,500 for a season's contract work in 1924. He became famous again in great competition, rival riders of his day including McLoughlin, Fitzpatrick, Isaac Murphy, Andy Hamilton and Isaac Lewis.

He rode the winners of nearly all the big steeplechase, east and west, in the $60,000 American Derby in 1924. He became famous again in great competition, rival riders of his day including McLoughlin, Fitzpatrick, Isaac Murphy, Andy Hamilton and Isaac Lewis.

The "Garrison finish" became a slogan in 1886 when Garrison came from nowhere with an outsider, Dutch Bolter, owned by James H. Keene, to win the great eastern handicap at the old Sheepshead Bay track in Brooklyn. It stuck with him along with his nickname "Snapper."

After Garrison quit the saddle on the flat he took up steeplechasing and tried his hand at that end of the game for a while but after a few bad falls decided to retire from the saddle for good. In recent years Garrison had been connected with racing as an official at Keeney park, Florida.

Betty Robinson, who at 16 was a star sprinter in the 1926 Olympic games, is studying physical education at the Northwestern university.

Jake May, left-hander bought by the Chicago Cubs from the Cincinnati Reds, is 32 years old. He won only three games last past season.

Westerners in Late Practice For Sandstorm

The Westerners worked late last night, and retired early. Thus it will be each day until Saturday when they meet the champions of District 1 in a crucial contest on the Texas Tech field. The game will start at 2:30, as announced by local high school officials.

Excitement Grows Daily

Hearts are beginning to beat a little faster, and steps are taken a little quicker over all of West Texas high school football fandom as the time for the "big" game approaches. The realization that the game may be the deciding factor in the championship race of this district has caused the eyes of the district to turn temporarily towards Lubbock, and two of the strongest teams in the state are earnestly seeking means on their respective practice fields to overcome the obstacles that stand between them and their goal. Each team is the other's obstacle, though with Lubbock, if her Westerners should win, there will be the matter of defeating another contender unless upsets are hardly hoped for result in interschool games.

Probable Starting Lineup

Although he has not announced his starting lineup, nor does he know as yet just who will constitute the machine of eleven men who shall make a desperate bid for the District 1 title, Coach Frnka has been paying special attention to about a dozen or fourteen men who will likely fight it out in practice this week for the starting positions.

Milton McCreche, out of practice for more than a week because of a bad injury sprained ankle sustained in the Childress game, and Melvin Grigs will probably be on either side of Bob Crawford in the center of the forward wall. Tackles are likely to be Carroll McCasland and Archie Brailey, though Stella Payne and Dwight Sprague likely will get in the game. Starting ends are thought to be Bill Ed Watson and Malcolm Martin. The backfield may consist of the two co-captains, Dab Lawson at quarter and Mina Watkins at full, and Moody Smith and Ovie Teal at halves. Mack Scroggins is sure to get in the game at half, and may possibly start.

The total weight of Lubbock's backfield, provided the above mentioned quartet start, will be 613 pounds, and the line will weigh 1,140 pounds. The total weight of the starting lineup, provided it is in accordance with the above suggestions, will be 1,152.

Class B Teams of District Divided into Four Parts; to Play for Sub-District Honors Before Nov. 11

LAMESA, Oct. 28. (Special).—The Lamesa High school Golden Tornadoes are in hard training this week, looking forward to the game with Brownfield Friday, at Brownfield. The Tornadoes, district champions last season, have a perfect record on conference games so far this season, but the game Friday with Brownfield is expected to be the hardest fought contest on their schedule for this year. Brownfield is touted to have championship material, having recently held the powerful Slaton Tigers to a tie game, and Coach McCollum of the Tornadoes is pointing his team for the Friday's contest, as the outcome of this game will reflect the Tornadoes' chances of another championship this season.

District is Rivalled

District 2, Conference B, was divided into four sub-districts, at a meeting of school officials last spring in Lubbock. This division was authorized and recommended by the State Committee of Interscholastic League. The district is sub-divided as follows: Sub-division No. 1, Amherst, Levelland, Littlefield, Olton and Spring Lake. Sub-district No. 2, Floydada, Lockney, and Paducah. Sub-district No. 3, Crosbyton, Post, Baile, and Sparg. Sub-district No. 4, Brownfield, Lamesa, O'Donnell, Slaton and Tahoka.

Decide For Champs

The champion of each sub-district is to be determined by the expiration of the week containing Armistice Day. The sub-district champions will then meet for elimination during the following week. The winning teams going into the finals on Thanksgiving Day. For example, winner of District 1, and 2 will meet, and winners of 3 and 4 will meet, and then the winners of these two halves will meet. Thereby, determining district champion.

Inter-subdistrict games have no bearing on the subdistrict race, that is, if Slaton should win over the teams in her subdistrict and Spur should survive in district 3, these teams would meet again. To this date, there are three undefeated teams in subdistrict No. 4, namely, Brownfield, Lamesa and Slaton. Interest in this subdistrict is centered in two games this week, between four strong contenders Brownfield, and Lamesa; at Brownfield, Slaton and Tahoka.

May Be Four Way Tie

It is possible that there may be a four cornered tie. If Brownfield should lose to Lamesa and Slaton to Tahoka, and then Slaton wins on Armistice Day, such a tie would result in this district. If Lamesa loses to Brownfield, then Brownfield would be sitting in a favored position, depending on how Slaton comes through the Tahoka and Lamesa contest. Should Slaton win, another tie would result.

In order to have a clear field, Lamesa must win her games this week, and on Armistice Day.

For those who like to play tennis at dawn or dusk, a ball that is visible at those times is being introduced in England. The ball is given a coat of phosphorescence by treating it with sulphur in a special process.

To Pilot Pirates

Jewel Ens, beset with injuries among his players during his first full year as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, fifth place finisher in the National standings of 1929, will pilot the team again in 1931.

Uncertainty which had existed among the club's followers as to whether Ens would be tendered another contract was dispelled yesterday when the management announced he had signed for another year. Terms of the new contract were not given.

Ens, whose playing days were given largely to the minor leagues, has been with the Pirates since 1921 as player, coach and manager. He was secured from Syracuse of the International League and served as a utility player until he was made a coach. He succeeded Donie Bush as manager late in the 1929 season.

Kelley Charge Is Answered by U. S. Officials

President Hoover Says Claims of Irregularities in Oil Shale Land Disposition Are without Merit

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—President Hoover and the two officials who as secretary of the interior had supervision of the government's oil shale lands spoke their minds today in unanimous denunciation of charges by Ralph S. Kelley that there had been irregularities in disposing of the lands.

The president described the charges as "fabrications" without "merit or substance" in discussing the matter at his regular press conference.

Letters Made Public

A little later the department of justice, which has investigated allegations of the former Denver land office official, made public letters by Secretary Wilbur and former secretary of the interior Work. Both asserted they had no knowledge of irregularities, and Wilbur described the affair as "nonsense."

President Hoover interpolated his remarks with forceful accents. He asserted the charges were made in the midst of a political campaign in "an attempt to charge odious oil scandals to this administration" and said Kelley could have determined their falsity by

They Survived Britain's R-101 Disaster

Here is the first actual photo to reach America of survivors of the disaster that destroyed the British dirigible R-101 near Beauvais, France. Carried across the Atlantic on the liner Leviathan and brought to New York in a seaplane sent out to meet the ship for NEA Service and this newspaper, the picture shows, left to right: H. F. Slaymaker, British vice consul at Beauvais; T. H. Leach, a survivor; a store clerk; and survivors A. B. Bell and T. H. Birks.

referring to his own office records.

At the same time the president said the newspaper which published Kelley's charges apparently had made no effort to test their truthfulness. The president did not mention the paper by name.

"I hope that the American people realize," he said, "that when reckless, baseless and infamous charges in the face of responsible denial with no attempt at verification, are supported by political agencies and are broadcast, reflecting upon the probity of public men such as Secretary Wilbur, the ultimate result can only be damage to public service as a whole."

Kelley, after making his charges submitted his resignation from the land office, but it was refused and he was suspended pending investigation. The department of justice after a study has declared them unfounded.

President Hoover said out of 8,000,000 acres of government holdings of such lands, the administration had approved old title claims for some 43,000 acres arising under the mineral law prior to 1920.

"Under my orders no leases or title have been passed under the new law," the president said.

He added that of these oil claims, Kelley had approved about 20,000 acres, the courts ordered about 15,000 acres and about 7,000 acres came up on appeal to heads of the department in decision, only part of which Kelley had opposed on technical grounds. Further, the president said, these lands instead of being worth billions can be bought from private owners for a few dollars per acre.

Painstaking investigation by Attorney General Mitchell and Seth Richardson, an assistant attorney general, of the "records upon every statement and innuendo made by Kelley," was said by the president to have proved them "baseless, without merit or substance."

Pointing out Kelley had been called from Denver to Washington during the summer for about six weeks, Mr. Hoover said he had given no hint then of his charges but at that time was negotiating for their publication.

Every woman appreciates the importance of mixing the ingredients of a recipe in exact proportions. Failures in baking or roasting are seldom caused by mistakes in preparing the recipe. Equally important, however, is time and temperature allowance for each recipe. In the old type oven, temperature control is largely guesswork.

With a Modern Gas Range, you need never hesitate to try out an unusual recipe. The Oven Heat Control measures heat as accurately as you measure the ingredients of the recipe. And the oven is insulated to utilize all the heat you pay for in baking or roasting. There's a smokeless broiler that's really smokeless. # Reds Thought In Control of Kanchow City

Failure to Answer Wireless Communications Leads to Belief that Communists in Charge of Large City

HONGKONG, Oct. 28. (AP)—Failure to communicate by wireless with Kanchow, a city of 200,000 population in Kiangsi province, caused fear here today that communists who have occupied the city of Kian since October 5, also had taken Kanchow.

The local government station's calls to Kanchow went unanswered, leading to belief reds had interfered with the Kanchow station, within the city walls.

Planned Invasion

Kanchow is in southern Kiangsi, four days' march from Kian. The former city has only 1,000 troops in its garrison. The communists, red leaders, intimidated to Bishop Mag-nani and father De Jenis, Catholic missionaries, they planned to invade southern Kiangsi. The missionaries, captives of the reds, later were released to obtain ransom money for fourteen other missionaries held as hostages. The released missionaries, arriving at Kiu-kiang, told of communists' plans.

At Kanchow there are thirteen foreign missionaries. Six are American Catholics, five British and two German Protestants. The Americans are all priests of the Vincentian order. Bishop O'Shea, Germantown, Pa., heads the Catholic group.

A report from Shichow, northern Kiangtung province, today said the American priest, John McLaughlin of Brooklyn and Edward Young of Jamestown, N. Y., stationed at Nanafu, Kiangsi, left there October 9, enroute to Canton.

Center of Movement

Kiangsi province, in central south-eastern China, rapidly has been becoming the center of China's communistic movement.

Virtually all government in the province is in communistic hands and the province is over-run by radical peasants, some of whom are little more than bandits.

The principal red stronghold was reported to be on a plateau fifty miles square northeast of Kanchow, well guarded and approachable only by a narrow pass.

Ready for Pay-load Flight to Paris

"Strictly commercial" is the New York-to-Paris flight which Lieut. W. S. MacLagen, pilot, upper right, and Beryl Hart, co-pilot, upper left, are planning to start on October 9. Their new amphibian plane, "Trade Wind," in which they expect to carry a pay-load across the Atlantic for the first time, is shown below at North Beach, Long Island, where it is being test flown for speed, fuel consumption and checking of instruments. They are to fly by way of Bermuda and the Azores and expect to make a return trip across the ocean if weather conditions are favorable.

CARRYING COTTON NOW

South Plains busses are now carrying many samples of cotton from surrounding towns into Lubbock or Plainview. Nearly every day a number of sacks of samples of cotton taken by receivers of the cooperative association over the territory are brought to Lubbock. Plainview also is receiving a few sacks from stations at Hale Center, Abernathy, Kress and other towns. Lubbock so far receives the largest number of samples.

SOME SHOOTER

Evidence of the marksmanship of some one in Gaines county, was seen on telephone poles west of Seminole where a couple of young coyotes are suspended. As the story goes two young ranchers were out riding in their car a few nights ago and one of them had his trusty Winchester along. They met two coyotes standing in the road, the animals looking fearfully at the oncoming motor car lights. Stopping the machine one of the men got out and carefully aimed his gun, getting both animals. In a couple of days the coyotes were strung up.

BILL WANTS PAIR

Bill Bailey, erstwhile Texas printer and newspaperman, who is returning in Hobbs, is still looking for the pair that bit his leg. He had gone to his tent home in the outskirts of Hobbs and had just started to undress when two men knocked at the tent flap. He opened to see who they were and lost his roll. "A couple of fellows were picked up by the officers and held, but released when officers said they were not the men," Bill said.

DUCKS SHOWING UP

Ducks are beginning to show up on the lakes over the South Plains, cold weather of the past week has sent the feathered tribe south-bound. Thursday evening about 4:30 o'clock a flock of several hundred were seen flying southward over the country north of Hale Center. Several of the small lakes made by recent rains have had a few ducks on them but the number up to the past week has been small.

Youth Admits 13 Forgeries

Ralph Nobles, 18, Tells of Checking Activity at Spur, Brownfield and Lubbock; Is Held on Charges Here

Confessed forger of 13 checks, cashed at stores in Brownfield, Spur and Lubbock, 18-year-old Ralph Nobles, who lived near Girard, was charged with forgery Tuesday morning in the court of G. R. Scott, justice of the peace.

Additional charges will follow County Attorney Vaughn, Wilson said. Nobles confessed to forging nine checks in Lubbock county, attaches of the sheriff's department said.

In the statement before the county attorney and O. B. Conley, chief deputy sheriff, Nobles said that "The Sunday before the South Plains fair" he had entered the Swift & Co. cream station at Brownfield and had taken 37 company checks, all blank and unsigned.

Made Out 13 "I made out 13 of them" he said in the confession. The average amount was under $12 he stated. These he cashed at various stores in Brownfield, Spur and Lubbock.

There were five checks drawn on the Brownfield branch of the company and one each on Spur, Levelland and Idalou.

Signer "S. O. Murry" Several of the instruments were signed by "S. O. Murry," whom Nobles said he knew and who, he explained, was an employee of the Lubbock Poultry and Egg company.

Another check was signed by W. E. White and another by J. P. Case, while a fourth was by C. W. Watson. In none of the cases where Nobles said he knew a person by that name, was he authorized to sign checks.

County Attorney Wilson indicated that Nobles might waive preliminary hearing. Nobles was arrested by Deputy Conley at his home near Girard in Kent county.

Ouster Proceedings Also Are Pending Against A. W. Morris of Conroe; Released Under Bonds of $500

CONROE, Oct. 28. (AP)—In addition to ouster proceedings, A. W. Morris, suspended county judge, today faced three felony charges, filed by state rangers in connection with an investigation into records of the First State bank of Conroe.

The charges accused Morris with giving false testimony to a state bank examiner with reference to the security of a note executed by H. A. Budde, the security on several notes aggregating $5,500 executed by Wells Kennedy company and with concealing an $8,000 liability due W. A. Trice.

Freed On Bond
Having waived examining trial, the 38-year-old jurist, whose ouster suit was continued yesterday until Monday, was released under bond in each case. He refused to discuss the charges other than to say his talking would be "done during my campaign for county judge on an independent ticket."

J. M. Griffin, cashier of the failed farmers' and Merchants' State bank, whose records were discovered recently to have been burned, also faced a felony charge, which asserted he had raised a $330.91 item in the bank's books to read $2,221.91. Previously he had been charged with theft of the bank's records and with embezzlement. He was at liberty on bond.

Bishop Cannon Is in Hospital

Methodist Churchman Suffers Acute Attack of Neuritis; Condition Is Complicated by Nervous Disorder

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr. of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, is undergoing treatment at a hospital for an acute attack of neuritis and inflammatory arthritis.

The churchman's condition is complicated also by other nervous disorders brought on in considerable measure, physicians believe, by the pressure of difficulties which have surrounded him in recent months. One or two months of rest and hospital treatment will be required to restore him to health.

Recurrence of Allment
The attack of arthritis is a recurrence of an ailment from which he has suffered in the past. It was to ease the pain this caused him that the bishop carried a crutch during the stormy sessions of the senate lobby committee last winter. On it he stumped from the committee room one day when he refused to answer the senators' questions.

Bishop Cannon has been under special strain since his recent return from Brazil. He hurried back to meet charges filed against him within the church by four ministers. He will defend himself against these if they are made the basis of church trial.

Within the last few weeks legal steps have been taken against one of his sons, B. M. Cannon of California, in connection with financial difficulties. This, the bishop charged, was one of a series of attempts to persecute him and his family.

Interventions Of Plainview, Olton Allowed

Date of Hearing on Proposed Texas and Pacific Line in West Texas Not Yet Set by I. C. C., Dispatches Claim

Intervention of several groups, including the Olton Chamber of Commerce and the Plainview Board of City Development, in the proposed interstate commerce commission hearing on the application of the Texas and Pacific Northern railway to build 322 miles of railroad in West Texas, has been approved by the commission.

The interstate commerce commission has not fixed the date of the hearing, according to Associated Press dispatches Tuesday from Washington, D. C. United Press reports from Dallas said Monday that hearings would be held in both Lubbock and Plainview.

John F. Davis, an examiner for the finance docket, has been named as examiner for the hearing, it is reported.

The new list of intervenors will include the chambers of commerce at Alexandria, La., Olton and Sherman, Tex., Plainview Board of City Development, the Chapman Milling company, the Interstate Cotton Oil Refining company, the United States Gypsum company, the Diamond Mill and Elevator company and the G. B. R. Smith Milling company.

Interested towns along the proposed line will join under the direction of Major G. N. Oliver, a Washington, D. C. attorney and rate expert, in preparing data. Most of this information has already been prepared and filed with the commission by Major Oliver, according to word from Garland Woodward, Big Spring, chairman of the committee.

Between 30 and 40 groups and organizations will intervene in the case. Opposition to the granting of the permit of convenience and necessity will be headed by the Santa Fe, with the Rock Island and Burlington systems assisting.

Lubbock's application to have the hearing held here has been received by the I. C. C. No action on it has been taken as far as is known here.

Meeting to Be Held in Amarillo Friday

Chamber of commerce committees officials are working on plans to send a large delegation to Amarillo Friday to attend a mass meeting of the towns along the proposed Texas and Pacific Northwest, between Big Spring, Lubbock and Vega.

Notice of the meeting was received Monday by the local organization, with a request from the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce that a large crowd be sent from Lubbock, Tahaoka, Littlefield, Olton,

R-100 Tragedy Causes Talked

Britain's Formal Inquiry of Catastrophe Resulting in Loss of Forty-eight Lives Is Opened in London

LONDON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Causes of the disaster which overtook the British dirigible R-101, resulting in the loss of 48 lives were discussed at the opening of Britain's formal inquiry into the catastrophe today. The first session of the court of inquiry furnished several surprises. One of these came when Sir William Jowitt revealed that a cable controlling an elevator in the airship had been found broken in the wreckage.

Another was his disclosure that experimental oil engines in the ship weighed eight tons more than originally planned—17 tons as against nine.

Sir William also said a possible cause of the tragic end of the world's largest flying craft might have been some error in the working of its altimeter.

Sir John Simon, presiding at the inquiry, added to Sir William's conjecture the statement that "some failure from the ground to send information" might have influenced the fate of the R-101 which exploded and burned at Beauvais, France, Oct. 5.

The government investigator said it was impossible to determine at present whether the elevator cable he referred to had broken before or after the crash. He explained that while the engines of the Graf Zeppelin weighed seven tons, those of the R-101 weighed nine as originally planned.

A discussion of why the flight to India was attempted three weeks ago, followed. Sir William said "there probably is no doubt that Lord Thomson (air minister killed in the disaster) thought it would be a striking, dramatic feat to accomplish a flight to India and come home in safety while the imperial conference was sitting."

Accident Victim Improves Tuesday

Improvement was reported Tuesday in the condition of 9-year-old C. W. White who suffered a slight skull fracture when struck by an automobile late Monday afternoon at Avenue H and Third street. ### Railways Join Hands to Seek Readjustment

Western Railroads Petition Interstate Commerce Commission for Revision of Trunk Line Rates

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Western railroads today joined in petitioning the interstate commerce commission for a revision of a decision readjusting western trunk line rates.

Though the commission's projected schedules are intended to increase western rail earnings by $12,000,000 per annum, the petition today questioned possibility of such a sum being earned by the revised rates and urged it would be inadequate in any event.

The eastern carriers contended on the average during the last nine years they have earned annually $125,000,000 less than the amounts which would represent a fair return of the value of their property. During the first seven months of 1930, it added, traffic volume has altered and decreased to the extent the commission's new rates would not earn any extra money for the carriers.

The decision at which the petition was aimed was intended to become effective in November, but in view of the petition and of the difficulty of preparing schedules, it probably will not become effective for an indefinite period.

In a supplement to the legal petition, 10 presidents of western railroads filed with the commission declaring the situation of the western railroads has become sufficiently serious to menace the maintenance of adequate transportation for the future.

Studies of their business, the document said, showed the decline in passenger, a reduction in freight traffic, and the increase of competition by highway and waterway transportation lines, by the Panama canal-interoceanic service and by the sweep of new installations of natural gas and petroleum pipelines.

Signing the documents were Presidents Baldwin, Missouri Pacific; Donnelly, Northern Pacific;

COOKING SCHOOL NOTE by Mrs. Leona Rusk Ihrig

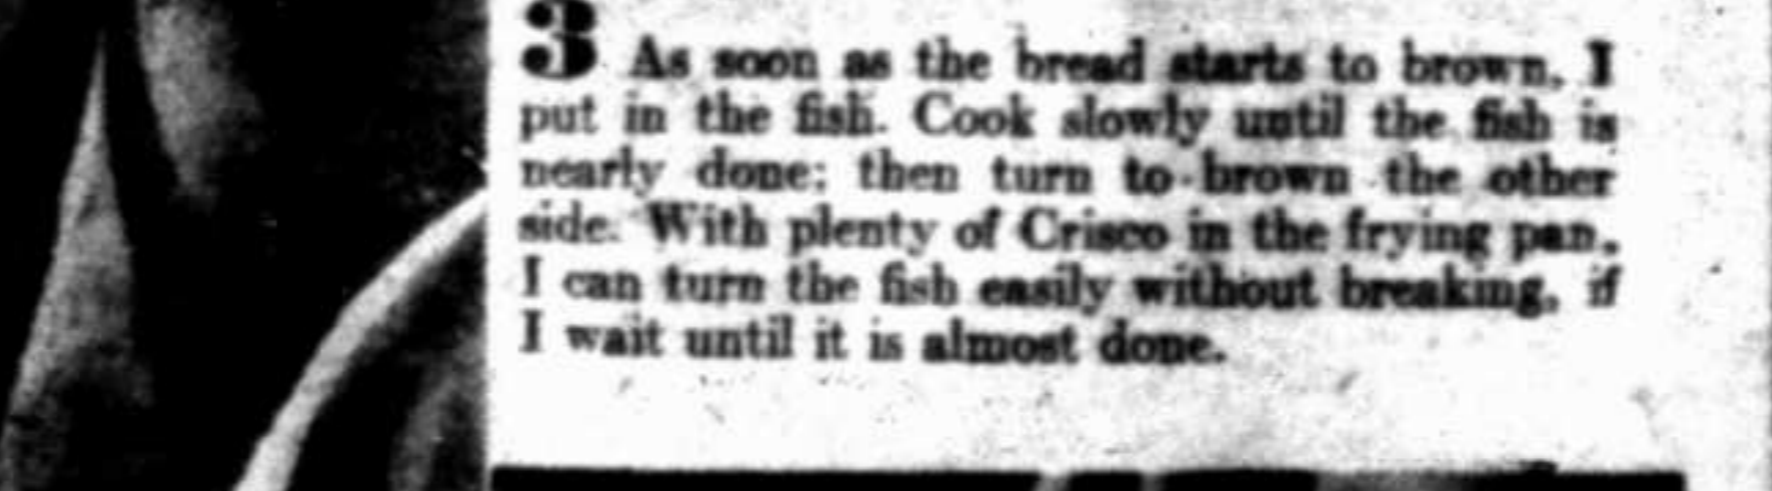

In the cooking school I conduct under the auspices of the Avalanche-Journal I stress modern methods of cooking. Naturally, then, I use and recommend CRISCO—for it's a modern shortening. Mrs. Leona Rusk Ihrig.

How I fry fish . . . without smoke

(and with an improvement in the flavor)

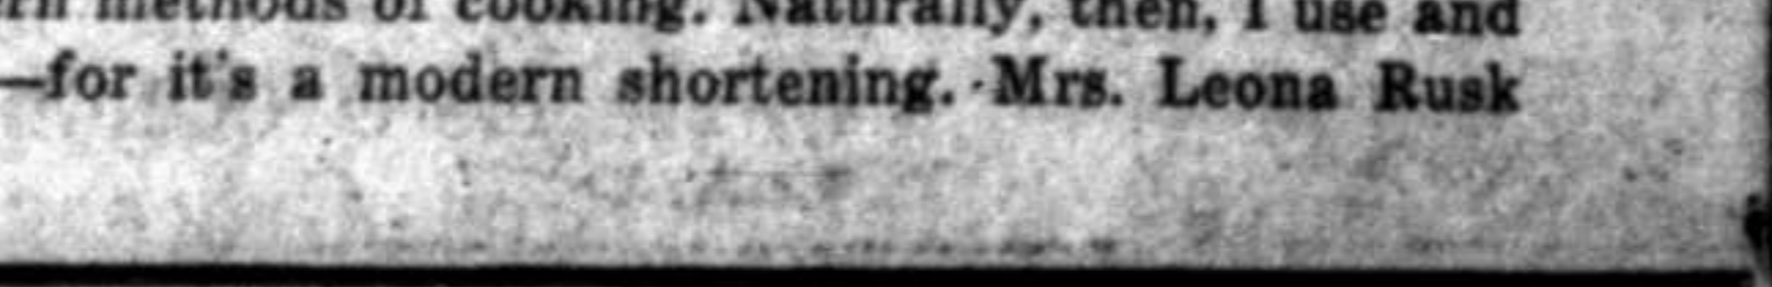

1 I prepare the fish. Then I put Crisco into a cold frying pan. To cook the fish without smoke or scorching I fry slowly. I use enough Crisco to partly cover it. It does not require the constant attention frying would if I were to use only a little fat.

2 I put the frying pan over low heat. As soon as Crisco is melted, I put in a small piece of bread.

3 As soon as the bread starts to brown, I put in the fish. Cook slowly until the fish is nearly done; then turn to brown the other side. With plenty of Crisco in the frying pan, I can turn the fish easily without breaking, if I wait until it is almost done.

them. "There must be something more to this," she told Celia slowly. "I wonder."

"But why would anyone hide the pearls in my bag?" Evelyn Parsons had been thinking quickly. "Listen, Celia," she said. "I think perhaps I know what happened. I can't tell you about it now, but I'm going to be watchful. You must promise me not to say one word about this to anyone. I have my reasons."

Celia agreed. "I won't mention it to a soul," she said, "only it makes me feel dreadful!"

"Never mind. Run along and forget about it."

Celia went out to join the crowd on the porch. Mrs. Parsons turned to mount the stairs. She hesitated on the first step, her face thoughtful. She was about to continue when she heard footsteps. John Mitchell appeared.

"Evelyn—have you found them?" she had forgotten that she was holding the pearls.

"Why—why, yes."

"Oh, I'm so glad. You don't know how upset I've been. It was such a terrible thing—"

"There, there, John! You see it's all right. Yes, I found the pearls. I went upstairs again and made another search. And anyway, you know I didn't believe for a single minute that your daughter had anything to do with their disappearance."

Mitchell smiled. Evelyn Parsons, standing above him, looked everything that was womanly and sweet. The man's eyes raised to hers.

"You wouldn't," he said fervently. "Evelyn, I hope she'll be as fine a woman as you are."

She excused herself and went on up stairs to put away the necklace. The plan had not worked. Never mind, there would be other ways.

When Celia reached the porch she found that the group there had diminished. List with Jimmie Webster and Walter Carr was displaying card tricks. The others were not in sight.

The moonlight was as glamorous as it had been the night before. Celia walked over to the porch railing, leaned herself and leaned her head back. The garden in the distance was a pattern of jetty shadows and pools of silver light. Fire flies flashed past. The night breeze, faintly stirring, caressed her cheek.

Celia closed her eyes and thought she could hear Tod Jordan's voice.

She was living again those moments when she and Jordan danced. Celia's eyes opened. Someone was coming along the garden path. A man and a woman. From the shadows of the porch Celia could see them clearly, but they could not see her.

They walked very slowly close together, the man's arm above the woman's.

Celia shrank back, but in that instant she had recognized them. Jordan and Eve Brooks!

Eve Brooks was a married woman. She had no right to be flirting with an old man in sight. But Jordan—Celia winced. He had tried to make Celia believe he cared for her. He had said it in words and in a thousand other ways.

Celia kept to her hidden recess. She could not bear to let the others know she had seen Jordan and she came up on the porch. They were laughing and talking now.

Music from a distant radio stage began to pour forth from the room. Two couples began dancing. Celia arose and started to enter, but Walter Carr detained her.

"Dance this one with me, won't you?" he said.

They danced and Celia carried her head very proudly. She laughed more at Carr's jokes than she had before. Then Courtney Brooks came from somewhere and asked her to dance with him. Brooks was an expert at the laugh. He showed her some of the steps and Celia, though she was slow at learning, was laughing and her cheeks were flushed when at last she gave up the attempt.

Tod Jordan stepped beside her. "I've been waiting for you," he said.

For a moment Celia was about to frame an excuse. Then she thought better of it, raised her arms and let him lead her into a fox trot. She was glad it was a fox trot instead of a waltz. In particular Celia did not want to hear again that melody about "stars and steel guitars." That was the song she and Jordan had danced to the night before.

They danced without talking. Jordan watched the girl curiously. She seemed disinterested.

"Tired?" he asked.

"Not at all. Do I look tired?"

"Oh, I just thought you might be."

It was not very exciting conversation. Presently he tried again.

"Celia, what have I done?"

"What do you mean?"

"You know what I mean. Something's wrong. You're different tonight."

"I didn't know it."

"But you are! Listen, if I've said or done anything that offended you, I'm sorry. I didn't mean to do anything like that. Honestly, I'm terribly sorry!"

It was almost too much to feel his dark eyes exploring her. But Celia bent her head. She had seen him with Eve Brooks with her own eyes.

"I haven't any idea what you're talking about," she told him glibly. "If you've done something you're sorry for it's too bad, but I don't see what I can do about it. Sorry, but I must run now and see when father wants to drive home."

It was a somewhat disconcerted young Mr. Jordan who watched Celia's blue chiffon disappear through the French window.

Celia met John Mitchell in the living room.

"I was just coming for you, Celia," he said. "Mrs. Parsons has persuaded me a few more days here in the country will be good for you. I'm driving back into town immediately but you're to stay and she'll bring you on Wednesday or Thursday. Give you a chance to swim and drive and fool around the garden to your heart's content. Like the idea?"

"Why—I think it's wonderful!"

Like the idea?" "Why—I think it's wonderful!" "I thought you would. Wouldn't stay in town myself if there was any way to avoid it. I'm glad Evelyn made the suggestion." Celia was relieved. It was so much pleasanter at Mrs. Parsons' home than in the dreary Grammerly Park house. She went to tell her hostess how pleased she was. One by one the week-end guests departed. There was not another opportunity for Jordan to talk to Celia. Along, she avoided him purposely. There was only his formal "good night" as they shook hands. Kate Dunham and Mrs. Parson were nearby. Celia went upstairs as soon as she could excuse herself. She undressed and got to bed immediately. She was awakened by a tap on the door.

Parliament Is Opened by King

Two Features of Speech Made by King George Are Held Highly Controversial; Both Houses Meet Again.

LONDON, Oct. 28. (AP)—King George, recovered from his long illness, convened parliament for its winter sessions today in a ceremonious setting made doubly significant by his return to functions of state after months spent abroad and in recuperation.

The house of commons and the lords met in combined session at noon to listen to his speech from the throne, which he read in a firm, resonant voice. The reading occupied only five minutes, both lords and commons adjourning immediately thereafter while King George and Queen Mary returned with all the pageantry of their arrival at Westminster to Buckingham Palace.

Speech Controversial. The lords adjourned until 4:15 p. m. but the commons met again at 3 p. m. when debate on an address in reply to the king's speech began. Two features of the speech from the throne were accepted as highly controversial, projected electoral reform, and indications of an attempt to nullify the law which made the general strike of 1926 illegal and would tend to prevent other strikes of the nature.

The projected electoral reform represents a definite bid of the MacDonald ministry, to remain in office as long as possible, since it is a measure long sought by the liberal party, on whose votes Mr. MacDonald depends for the life of his government. While the king's speech, which is written and composed for him by Mr. MacDonald and his ministers, merely mentions that an electoral reform measure will be submitted to parliament, it was understood the measure will include the liberal proportional representation scheme. Such a scheme would give them representation in the commons far in excess of their present membership, which is limited by reason of three cornered constituency races, in which, although the liberals always poll a large vote, they usually are behind either conservatives or laborites, or both.

Pioneer Sheriff Is Shot to Death

VIRGINIA CITY, Mont., Oct. 28. (AP)—Sheriff Frank Metzel, pioneer peace officer of Madison county, was shot and killed last night by one of two men who attempted to rob a bank at Harrison, a little town north of here. The robbers were trapped in the bank and one was wounded in attempting to escape. The other reached their car, picked up his wounded companion and started off with the sheriff in pursuit. They exchanged shots and Metzel was hit in the heart.

The total number of drunkards convicted in England last year was 51,998.

Long Struggle Nearing An End

"Few Bottles of Argotane Have Done Me More Good Than All Else Combined," Says Amarillo, Mother

"I've had a long, hard struggle with ill health, but by the help of Argotane I have found relief at last," said Mrs. L. M. Hassell, residing at 1610 Buchanan Street, Amarillo, Texas.

"I had gall bladder trouble and indigestion so bad for two years that my life was miserable, but I'm a whole lot better since I began taking Argotane, and medicine that is doing so much for suffering people can't be praised too much. I've spent lots of money trying to get some ease but it's the truth, two bottles of Argotane has done me more real good than everything else I ever took combined.

"When I first began it I couldn't eat anything without it hurting me. Any of the heavy or nourishing foods sour on my stomach and I would be very bilious. I was fearfully nervous and when I fell asleep at night the least noise would wake me. My head would get so dizzy at times that I would reel.

"What caused me to take Argotane was reading so many statements about others in the papers and now I'm talking Argotane every chance I get. I can eat just anything I want and enjoy it and never feel the slightest bad effects from it. I sleep every night, and as to my gall bladder it never bothers me.

Genuine Argotane may be purchased in Lubbock at the Bowen's Drug Store. Adv.
