Solon Dies In Fall From Hotel Room

Body Is Discovered
By Hotel Employee
After the Accident

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (AP).—Edward A. Kenney, New Jersey representative, plunged or fell to his death from the sixth floor of a fashionable hotel here during the night. He was 52.

His body, clad only in underwear, was discovered by a hotel waiter. No one, police said, saw Kenney fall to his death. He had been a guest last night at the annual congressional dinner of the New Jersey chamber of commerce.

Mrs. Kenney was at home in Cliff Side Park, New Jersey.

Kenney was prominently known for his advocacy of a national lottery. He was serving his third term.

Kenney's secretary, John Stewart, said the congressman had suffered several dizzy spells recently.

Vacuum Area Test Showing Bailer Of Oil Per Hour

BY FRANK GARDNER.

Closing of the gap between the north and south ends of the Vacuum pool in Lea county was in prospect this morning when it was reported that Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 3 State-Bridges was making one bailer of oil hourly while drilling ahead below 4,472 feet, in time. It had encountered a slight show of oil from 4,461-65 and bailed one barrel after drilling from 4,468-72 in three and one-half hours. Steel line measurement had corrected depth at 4,470 to equal 4,465. No. 3 State-Bridges is located in the center of the southwest of the southeast of section 23-17S-34E, on the west side of the pool, one mile due south of the same owners' No. 2 State-Bridges, one of the three original wells in the area.

Texas Company is completing 2-inch pipe line from its No. 1-L and 1-M State, farthest south producers in the Vacuum pool, to the 80,000 barrel storage tank owned by Magnolia, two and a half miles to the north. As yet, the pool is without a pipe line outlet, but it is rumored that a major company plans to lay one in the near future.

Other Vacuum area wells reported from today include the Phillips No. 1 M. E. Hale, west side, which is drilling in at 4,450 feet; Magnolia No. 1-H State, which is drilling at 2,511 in salt and anhydrite; Magnolia No. 1-L State, which has reached 795 feet in red rock; and Ohio No. 1 State-Warn, which is drilling below 2,560 in salt and anhydrite. McKee to Circulate Oil.

Magnolia No. 1-A J. H. McKee, Ordovician discovery in northern Texas, is providing to circulate oil through drillpipe to clean out sand which has retarded oil and gas flow. Four-inch drillpipe has been run to within 180 feet of bottom, and fish-tail bit will be used to drill out sand bridge. No. 1-A McKee is bottomed at 5,294 feet in Simpson shale, and made a 45-minute oil and gas head before bridging in tubing. Pay has been found in Simpson sand, middle Ordovician, age, between 5,271 and 5,280 feet. The well is located in section 24, block 9, H. & G. N. survey.

Moore Brothers Corporation No. 1 Perner, deep try in Crockett county, is shut down for repairs, bottomed at 8,965 feet in lime and chert.

Gulf No. 3 McKnight, western Grane Ordovician test, is coring at 6,378 feet. Three feet of core were recovered from 6,258-78, showing nothing. The well is now more than 100 feet in the Ellenburger, lower Ordovician. It swabbed only sulphur water while bottomed at 6,258 feet.

Humble No. 1 Lewis & Wardlaw, Tom Green deep test, is drilling black shale at 4,415 feet.

Bennett Test Staked.

J. L. Crump, Midland operator, and Black Brothers will start operations immediately upon their No. 1-A Ruth E. Bennett, north offset to the T. O. No. 1 Bennett, in the See (Oil News) Page 3.

Ex-Kaiser Happy— Former Emperor Is 79 Years Old Today

DORAN, The Netherlands, Jan. 27 (AP).—Ex-Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany observed his 79th birthday today in the belief there now is complete reconciliation between the royal houses of Windsor and Hohenzollern for the first time since the world war.

A telegram from King George VI, Queen Mother Mary and Queen Elizabeth which was signed "Bertie, May and Elizabeth" supplied the grounds for his belief.

"Bertie and May" are family names for King George and his mother.

It has taken years to efface the estrangement between the two houses, but the ex-kaiser believed the British king, his mother and his wife had accomplished reconciliation by their message.

The telegram conveyed their felicitations upon the announcement Dec. 28 of the engagement of Wilhelm's favorite grandson, Prince Louis Ferdinand, and Princess Klara

Japanese Win Martial Bridge Game

Unable to cope with the superior military forces of Japan, Chinese troops have adopted the "scorched earth" policy of destruction to make conquered territory of as little value to the invader as possible. Above the Japanese forces move across the Yellow River on a pontoon bridge put up by their engineers alongside the wreckage of a steel railroad span, dynamited by retreating Chinese.

Rotarians and Former Members Mingle In Tenth Anniversary Program Today

Thirteen of the original twenty-four members of the Midland Rotary club mingled with the present membership and a number of past members today, commemorating the tenth anniversary of the organization. Approximately 75 were present, including visitors.

W. I. Pratt, first president of the club which was formally organized January 26, 1928, at the office of Kenneth E. Ambrose, district manager then of the Southern Ice & Utilities company, was the principal speaker today. Ambrose, who now lives at Ranger, and who was vice president of the club at its organization, was here for the occasion, leading the singing and making a brief talk. Elliott H. Barron, first secretary of the club, also spoke briefly, paying tribute to Pratt for his work in establishing the organization and for his ten years of faithful service.

Charter members who attended were Pratt, Dr. W. E. Ryan, J. E. Hill, John P. Howe, E. H. Barron, Percy J. Mims, W. A. Yeager, Fred Wemple and T. Paul Barron, all of whom still are in the club, and C. A. McClintic, Ambrose, Geo. D. McCormick, and R. M. Barron.

All past presidents were present except two, one being Malcolm M. McKee, who now lives in Abilene, and the other A. O. Thomas of Amarillo whose unexpired term Fred J. Middleton is now serving. Other past presidents are Pratt, T. Paul Barron, Dr. Ryan, Mims, Howe, Wemple, E. H. Barron and W. R. Upham. All four secretaries who have served the club were present, including E. H. Barron, Dr. L. B. Pemberton, C. Y. Barron and Pratt.

Former members present today, included C. Y. Barron, L. L. Butler, J. Homer Epley, Dr. Pemberton, J. Harvey Fryar, Bonner Lacey, Jerry Phillips, Frank Lanham, Percy Bridgewater, John Crump, Drue Dunn, A. C. Caswell and Edward P. Lamar.

Flowers were sent today to Mrs. B. Frank Haag of Midland and Mrs. Ralph T. Bucy of Lubbock whose husbands died while members of the Rotary club. Other former members who have passed away since were given silent tribute, including Paul L. Young, Hal Grady, B. A. Jackson, Sam Weaver, John Mitchell and W. G. Riddle.

A birthday cake, bearing ten lighted candles, adorned the head table around which the charter members were seated.

Pratt's speech, partially historical, traced the early days of Midland's growth from a peaceful city of culture and wealth, telling how the four-story Llano hotel made possible the establishment here of oil citizens as West Texas experienced its first play. He told of the new citizens who came here, desiring to establish things they had enjoyed elsewhere and said that was the demand for a service club in Midland.

Eight or ten men gathered at the Minute Inn cafe and voted to seek establishment of a Rotary club, some three of the number having previously been members in other places. Two weeks later, at Ambrose's office, with Rufus Wright of Sweetwater representing District Governor Ellis Boyd, formal steps were taken to organize. Pratt was elected president, Ambrose vice president and E. H. Barron secretary, a committee was appointed to select the charter membership list, and the charter was applied for.

The 24 members were secured, representing as many classifications, and the charter was issued March 9, 1928, and delivered April 10. Meanwhile the membership held weekly meetings at the Llano coffee shop, amid the noise and bustle of Midland's first oil boom.

At the charter night, April 10, with 100 per cent of the members present, also their wives and a number of guests.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (AP).—The senate today killed a proposal for drastic limitation of debate on the anti-lynching bill, against which southern senators have been filibustering since the session started. The vote was 52-37.

Moisture Needed in The Wheat Belt Now

CHICAGO, Jan. 27 (AP).—Subnormal precipitation and a dearth of moisture in the soil—conditions comparable to the winters preceding the 1934-36 drought—confronted farmers today in major portions of a dozen midwestern states.

There is urgent need for moisture in virtually all agricultural areas west of the Mississippi river and some parts of Illinois, a survey today disclosed.

Already, because of a deficiency of rainfall, farmers in western Oklahoma, Kansas and eastern New Mexico are beginning to despair of producing a wheat crop. Dust storms, which have become an annual plague in that area, damaged thousands of acres of wheat within the last week.

Harry Hines Will Make Radio Talk

Radio Station WFAA Dallas, has invited Hon. Harry Hines, member of the State Highway Commission to address its listeners Friday January 28th at 9:45 p. m. on the subject "What Is Happening to the American People."

Mr. Hines is a recognized authority on safety, having made a careful study of this subject over a period of years and is said to have traveled more miles by highways of Texas and the Nation the past ten years than possibly any driver of motor driven vehicles.

Mr. Hines is a member of the Executive Board of the Governor's Safety Committee. Through his efforts many safety improvements have been made throughout the State in the field of highway changes, danger signals and signs.

Largely through his efforts, the Highway Department is creating a new division of Safety activity, at this time to analyze cause and effect and to recommend remedies in so far as removing traffic hazards are concerned.

Those who have heard Mr. Hines discuss Traffic Safety are enthusiastic in their acclaim. His approach to this subject is by no means drab, but to the contrary carries human interest.

McDonald Defends Actions

Says Leases Given
By Him to Return
Heavy Payments

AUSTIN, Jan. 27 (AP).—Land Commissioner William McDonald today told the senate committee investigating his oil leasing policies they ultimately would net the school fund $100,000,000.

The commissioner replied hotly to charges he had cost the state $1,000,000 through taking high royalty over high cash bids in a number of instances.

He admitted, however, there was as yet no production on any lease he had made and that he had actual knowledge of only one well being started.

"In my opinion," McDonald insisted, "the best bid was accepted in each case. When high royalty, instead of high cash, bids were accepted, it was because the seismograph pictures strongly indicated oil would be found."

"Didn't you consider," inquired T. J. Holbrook of Galveston, chairman of the committee, "that those presenting the high royalty bids might give an untrue report on conditions so they would get the award?"

"Their seismograph pictures were corroborated by representatives of the major companies," McDonald replied.

Pressed as to what major companies had corroborated the pictures, the commissioner named the Pure and the Superior.

Holbrook inquired specifically about a lease in Laguna Madre near Corpus Christi for which the Humble company's bid of approximately $103,000 was turned down and one of $485 and much higher royalties was accepted.

"There's not a doubt in my mind," McDonald answered, "that the higher royalties will exceed $108,000. There's already a good producing well only 1,028 feet away."

'Honeymoon Bridge' At Niagara Is Saved From Huge Ice Jam

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Jan. 27 (AP).—Engineers detected a new "twist" in the steel work of Niagara's famous "honeymoon bridge" today after the arch had held its position for nearly 24 hours against a record ice jam.

Meanwhile, the cold wave which has gripped the midwest and east moved southward. Sub-normal temperatures prevailed as far south as central Florida.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Jan. 27 (AP).—A shift in wind last night appeared to have saved Niagara's towering "honeymoon bridge" from immediate danger of destruction, owners of the bridge announced.

"A shift in wind apparently has relieved the ice pressure on the bridge and the ice jam has receded a little," Walter McCausland, spokesman for the International Railway company who owns the bridge, reported.

Relentless pounding on the already ice-packed gorge from huge floes tumbling over the falls has slackened because a shift in wind has stopped blowing ice from Lake Erie into Niagara river, he said.

The 1,200-foot steel span from which thousands of honeymooners have viewed the falls still groaned under the terrific ice pressure but appeared in no immediate danger of falling.

Below the bridge the famous twin steamboats, the "Maid of the Mist," known to tourists the world over lay in the grip of the ice, tossed from their winter havens by the moving ice mountains.

Several light steel frames in the bridge foundation on the American shore buckled this afternoon, but none fell and engineers said the bridge definitely was not "breaking up," although its position was precarious.

Niagara Falls man who made the difficult descent into the gorge reported that supporting steelwork at the American end of the bridge appeared to have moved seven inches.

Engineers went out on the ice sheet last night with heavy timbers, hoping to build a grim and direct some of the ice away from the American pier.

Pressure against the bridge developed suddenly yesterday morning with an upward ice surge which engineers said may have reached a height of 100 feet, or approximately half the height of the span.

Georgia Power Co. Stages Programs Against Paralysis

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. — The Georgia Power Company through Preston Arkwright, President, today announced that it would promote Infantile Paralysis campaign celebrations of its own in eight-eighth cities in Georgia.

These celebrations, Keith Morgan, National Campaign Chairman, was informed will be in addition to other parties already planned by various communities.

The Georgia Power Company made its announcement over the radio network in Georgia, declaring that it desired to aid the new National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in every way possible.

In former years, the funds raised in Georgia was divided so that 70 per cent went to the local community and 30 per cent to the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation. In other words, all of the money raised either remained in Georgia or was allocated to the Warm Springs Foundation in Georgia.

This year all of the money goes to the new Foundation and the people of Georgia are wholeheartedly supporting the program. They realize, Chairman Morgan said, that through the foundation their institutions will receive proper aid in treating Infantile Paralysis cases. They also realize that the Foundation will have a reservoir of funds ready for any emergency such as an epidemic.

Furthermore, they know that funds will be available for research work and for an educational campaign of value to physicians and parents in diagnosing and treating this disease.

Wool Growers Shelve Threat of Union to Tie Up Shipments

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 27 (AP).—The nation's oldest national agricultural organization last night apparently shelved discussion of a threatened controversy with the Committee for Industrial Organization.

F. R. Marshall, secretary of the National Wool Growers' association, opening its 73rd annual convention here, said a letter from Harry Bridges, West Coast C. I. O. leader, declaring that unless sheep were sheared by union shears longshoremen would refuse to handle wool cargoes, had been sent to the general resolutions committee and probably would not be brought up for floor discussion.

"We're going to await developments," Marshall said. "We've never had a fight with labor and we'd like to avoid one now."

Six hundred delegates to the three-day convention heard their president, Roscoe C. Rich, Burley, Idaho, outline the association's stand on national problems affecting the wool industry.

Rich vigorously attacked a proposed reciprocal trade treaty with Great Britain, declaring "we must see to it that no stone is left unturned in the effort to keep American markets fully protected for the American farmer."

Samuel O. Bennion, Utah sheepman, in welcoming delegates said the government's trade treaties "threaten to bring a panic more acute than that of 1933."

Rich also criticized the pending government re-organization bill, objecting to provisions which would transfer the forest service from the agriculture department to the department of interior. He said this contemplated move was not "in the interest of livestock owners generally."

High Waters Receding In Many Rivers

Jefferson Is Given
Relief as Cypress
River Starts Drop

MARSHALL, Jan. 27 (AP).—Flood waters of Big Cypress river which inundated portions of Jefferson were receding today.

The river fell four inches from the 27-foot stage reached at midnight, a mark which came within an inch of the record high established eight years ago.

Water in some sections of Jefferson was two feet deep. It poured over sandbagged sections of the Marshall-Jefferson highway, and three houses were swept away.

In the Texarkana area, highway department workers labored in freezing weather to stem washouts along Sulphur river.

Over the nation, the cold spread through the east and moved across the southern plains. Only New England, the far west, Florida and a few scattered districts in the deep south escaped freezing weather. Nine deaths were attributed to the penetrating chill and floods. Forecasters predicted temperatures would remain sub-normal with the cold extending as far south as the gulf states accompanied by a heavy frost in northern Florida.

The storm abated in upper Michigan but train and bus schedules were suspended. Business was at a virtual standstill in the copper country. Schools were closed. Three crews of miners were stranded in Gogebic county. Fifty of them were unfed since Monday but provisions were taken to 25 others.

Six riders carried food to 31 high school boys imprisoned in a school house near Ironwood. They passed the hours by playing basketball. One round robin, due at Calumet at 8 a. m. Tuesday, was locked in a drift near Estoria.

Temperatures dropped below zero at many points in the midwest although the end of the snowfall permitted resumption of travel.

Is Your House Numbered Right?

An appeal to residents of the city to see that their houses are numbered correctly has been voiced by the merchants recently.

Many of them pointed out that persons called to have articles delivered, and that in many cases delivery boys could not find the addresses reported. At the present time, many Midland homes are not numbered and some are incorrectly numbered.

Officials at the city hall will inform anyone as to the correct number of their house if appealed to.

How Would the People Cure the Depression?

The United States is a democracy, and the people are supposed to run it, through their chosen representatives. But just how directly the influence of the people is felt in Washington and the various state capitals is open to debate.

When crises arise, the President holds long and anxious consultations with his official advisers; Congress engages in wordy debates; industrialists, statisticians, college professors, and other experts harangue congressional committees with their ideas for remedies.

In such times, one wonders what the people think. What would the man on the street do if he suddenly were placed in power? What does he think the President ought to do, for instance, to cure the "recession"?

Questions like these make doubly interesting a recent experiment in which a Philadelphia newspaper undertook to find out what Mr. Average Man would do if he were President.

Reporters interviewed scores of persons, of every profession and every economic level. Their replies were interesting and illuminating—even more so, perhaps, because some of the suggestions appeared impracticable.

One man, a minor C. I. O. official, said he thought state lines ought to be wiped out to prevent destructive competition between various areas.

A woman, a drug store clerk, said she would see to it that automobile financing charges were reduced.

A paperhanger thought the cure for the slump would be to get John L. Lewis and William Green together and force them to make peace between the rival labor factions.

One student said he would raise most of the import duties if he were chief executive.

Another said he believed the President "doesn't know a thing" about the real economic problems, and should talk things over more with business men.

A taxi driver said that if he were President he would make every employer guarantee a living for a certain number of years for every worker displaced by labor-saving machinery.

A candy man said he would not allow any employer to fire an employee unless his books showed without question that he was losing money.

Whether any of these schemes would aid return to prosperity is not the question. What the survey shows is that nearly every citizen has ideas, and very definite ones, about what should be done.

Whether our democracy functions properly depends on how closely elected officials listen to those ideas, how carefully they weed the good ones from the bad, and how conscientiously they strive to translate the good ideas into workable legislation.

Don't feel too good about this talk of income tax revision. Regardless of what Congress does, it won't make any difference to Mr. Average Man on March 15.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

Editor's Note: The opinions expressed in this article are those of Mr. Dutcher, NEA-Reporter-Telegram Washington correspondent, and are not to be construed as expressing the editorial policy of The Reporter-Telegram.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. — Many observers profess to detect a similarity between the series of Roosevelt conference with business men—and labor leaders—and the Hoover "stabilization conferences" in the 1929-30 fall and winter.

One of the several differences is found in the fact that by the end of 1930 nearly everyone thought that the depression had been stalled and was about to be replaced by a new business boom in which government, business and labor would pull together.

This time it isn't quite so obvious.

With Great Flourish. IN view of what happened in 1930, 1931 and 1932 it may be a good sign that the ballyhoo of huge new construction programs by private industry is much softer and more cautious this year than it was eight years ago.

At that time it was announced with great flourish that the public utility executives had come to the White House and outlined a $2,000,000,000 program for 1930. The American Telephone & Telegraph Company was going to spend $700,000,000, U. S. Steel would spend $250,000,000 and some 28 states were reported to be planning an aggregate construction program of $4,700,000,000. No end of corporations were announcing "programs" involving expenditure of 10 to 50 millions.

Everyone was talking about "fundamental bases of prosperity," "strength of the business fabric," "soundness of the economic structure," and "numerous constructive elements brought into play by the crash."

By early December, 1929, President Hoover believed that confidence in business had been re-established—and so told Congress. The volume of Christmas buying convinced him that business had been restored to normal.

Julius Klein, Julius Barnes, Charles M. Schwab, the Rockefellers, Alfred P. Sloan, Martin Insull, E. T. Hays, the American Bankers' Association spokesman and many other ers issued statements of lofty reassurance.

The more you recall all that sort of thing and how little anyone knew what he was talking about, the more comforting the outlook seems today.

Copies may be consulted at the chamber of commerce at Midland, Odessa, and Big Spring; at the Midland county library, Midland; and at the high school libraries of Odessa, Andrews, Stanton, Garden City, Rankin, and Crane.

This Midland county release contains 42 pages, giving records of 247 wells, drillers' logs of 22 wells, logs of 54 test wells, and partial chemical analyses of 187 water samples. The locations of all wells and test holes are shown on a map in the back of the release.

Funds for this project were allocated by the San Angelo office of the Works Progress Administration. The field work in Midland county was started May 31, 1937, and completed August 6, 1937. Dan A. Davis, a geologist, was project superintendent.

The chemical work was directed by Dr. E. P. Schoch of the Bureau of Industrial Chemistry of the University of Texas. Samuel P. Turner of the United States Geological Survey was Technical Director and W. O. George of the Board of Water Engineers was Assistant Director.

This project is part of a statewide inventory of water wells started in 1935 being conducted to obtain information concerning existing wells, to ascertain the quantity and quality of water they yield, to put down test holes in areas where no wells or few wells exist, and to compile and publish the information thus obtained.

The inventory is only a preliminary survey, and all of the information obtained can be used later in connection with a more thorough ground-water investigation by the State Board of Water Engineers assisted by the United States Geological Survey.

After Killer Attacked G-Men

Sullen, head bowed, chained between two federal men, Peter Anders, confessed kidnaper-killer of Charles Ross, 72, and his own accomplice in the crime, was returned to FBI offices in St. Paul as shown above, after he had attacked G-men at the scene of his killings. Under direction of J. Edgar Hoover, G-men spent 48 hours in northern Minnesota and Wisconsin locating $30,000 of the Ross ransom money and the bodies of Ross and Gray. The entire party of G-men was required to quiet Anders in a sudden attack at the dug-out near Spooner, Wis., where Ross and Gray were murdered.

ers' court and the Midland chamber of commerce both cooperated by furnishing transportation for the workers during the project.

"Blonde Trouble" At the Ritz Today

Terry Walker, prominently cast in Paramount's "Blonde Trouble," which opens today at the Ritz Theatre, with Eleanor Whitney, Johnny Downs, Lynne Overman and William Demarest, has the unique distinction of having been "chased" all over the country by movie executives anxious to sign her for film roles.

Miss Walker, who started her career as an artist's model, was posing for magazine covers and advertising illustrations in New York when screen talent scouts noticed a painting of her which Norman Rockwell had done.

Immediately they contacted Rockwell, to find out the model's name and address. Rockwell supplied the name but Miss Walker had moved away from the last address which he had.

Finally the talent scouts caught up to her—singing in a night club in Miami, Florida. The next morning, with a signed contract in her hand, the bewildered Terry Walker was on a train bound for New York and a screen test.

Her first role was as the mountain beauty in the Bob Burns-Martha Raye farce, "Mountain Music." And so successful a performance did she turn in that immediately, she was cast for one of the leading roles in support of Eleanor Whitney and Johnny Downs in "Blonde Trouble."

Crumbs are Welcome Atop of Food

Onion, raw beets and buttered bread crumbs, in layers of seasoned liver, go into the oven to bake together. They emerge as a delicious new way to give the familiar beet a regal aspect.

By Mrs. Gayner Maddox, NEA Service Staff Writer.

CRUMBS give richer flavor to simple dishes. Even the humble beet is better for a few bread crumbs now and then.

Escalloped Beets. (Serves 4 to 6).

One and one-half cups bread crumbs, 4 tablespoons melted butter, 3 cups raw beets, cut in 1/2-inch cubes, 1 onion chopped coarsely, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper to taste, 1 1/2 cups milk.

Combine butter and bread crumbs. Mix well. Grease baking dish. Place layers of beets, chopped onion and bread crumbs in dish, having layer of bread crumbs on top. Sprinkle each layer with salt and pepper. Pour in milk. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for about 1 hour.

Here's another use for bread crumbs. It is a hearty dish, therefore when you include it in your menu, cut down on the meat a little. It makes a perfect one-dish luncheon, too.

Tomato Custard. (Serves 4 to 6).

Two and one-fourth cups tomatoes, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 2 teaspoons butter, 3/4 cup dry bread crumbs, 3 eggs.

Heat tomatoes with salt, pepper and butter. Remove from fire. Add bread crumbs and mix well. Beat eggs slightly, then slowly add tomato mixture to eggs. Stir well, then pour into greased casserole. Set in pan of water and bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 40 minutes.

Cherry Bread Pudding. (8 servings).

One No. 2 can pitted sour cherries, 4 cups soft bread cubes, 3 eggs, 3 cups liquid (cherry juice and milk), 1 cup sugar, dash cinnamon, 2 tablespoons butter.

Butter casserole. Drain cherries and combine them with the soft bread cubes. Arrange cubes and cherries in alternate layers in the casserole. Beat eggs slightly. Add sugar, cinnamon and cherry juice plus enough milk to make a full 3 cups of liquid. Pour this combination over the casserole. Dot top with pieces of butter. Bake in slow oven (300 degrees F.) for 1 1/4 hours. Serve hot with either hard sauce or slightly whipped cream.

Peaceful Smoke Ends In Shattering Blast

REGINA, Sask. (UP). — George Lowry, town constable of Woodrow, Sask., filled his briar pipe and settled back in his chair for a peaceful smoke.

Suddenly a loud blast shattered his pipe, scattering ashes, tobacco and bits of pipe around the room.

Constable Lowry had somehow misplaced a bullet and stuffed it in his pipe with the tobacco.

IS DISMISSED.

Mrs. Ken Ellis of Goldsmith was dismissed from the hospital today after medical attention.

PARENTS OF DAUGHTER.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Griswold are the parents of a daughter, Lockie Sue, born this morning in a Midland hospital. The baby weighed seven and three-fourths pounds.

GROUP TO COLORADO.

Five Methodist women are attending the Sweetwater district training school for missionary society officers which is being held at Colorado today. They are Misses J. M. Prothro, T. A. Pollard, S. H. Hudkins, W. C. Hinds, H. C. Barnes. Each woman attending carries a covered-dish for the luncheon at noon.

STORIES IN STAMPS

POLAND'S NEW PORT

DETERMINED to possess an all-Polish seaport, the Polish government in 1924 turned to the splendid natural site at the small fishing village of Gdynia. Until then most of the country's sea trade passed through Danzig. So basins were excavated and wharves constructed at Gdynia. In a short time the population leaped and trade leaped with it. Today the city is one of the greatest, busiest ports on the Baltic. Its population is 100,000. It was 500. Vessels of 40 lines make Gdynia a port of regular call today, linking it with at least 120 American and European ports. Out of the port Poland poured upwards of 7,000,000 tons of exports in the last year, chiefly coal, timber, beet sugar, grains and eggs. And the port is a seaside resort as well, attracting 15,000 vacationists last summer. Almost entirely of new construction, Gdynia has become Poland's modern metropolis. And shortly big guns to be erected on the white sand dunes of Hel Peninsula will make the port the site of strategic fortifications. Pride of Poland, the m r r time terminal at Gdynia is shown on a 1937 stamp. (Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)

County Federation. Members present were: Mmes. Elliott H. Barron, T. Paul Barron, Bobo, Chas. Brown, Harvey Conger, Alden Donnelly, Ellison, Fuhrman, J. Howard Hodge, Lem Peters, Sloan, R. C. Tucker, W. H. Gilmore, Geo. Kidd, Ed Dorr, and the hostess. Groom Absent But Married. JEROME, Ida (UP) — Austin Bond Clayton's first intimation that he was married was when he received at Lima, Peru, a telegram consisting of a single word: "Married." He was wed by proxy to Miss Elva Anderson of this city through a "power of attorney" granted to the Rev. W. P. Willis to stand up for the missing groom. Every Day Wash Day. Start a fine habit this year by washing your stockings and underwear every night. Silks, rayons and woolsens last much longer if the dirt and perspiration are removed right away. Swish these filmy pieces in a bowl of luke-warm, sudsy water, rinse thoroughly, then hang on a towel rack to dry. Beware Coughs from common colds That Hang On No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Ad.)

Gowns for the Waltzing Mood

SUAVELY sophisticated is the white satin gown, in background, with white silk fringe from hips to hemline. More demure—in fact, quite in keeping with the trend toward more feminine gowns, often called waltz dresses—is the billowing model on the little exhibitionist, below. The bodice, with modest décolletage and puff sleeves is of dusty pink lace, and the full skirt of chiffon in the same flattering shade. (From Stein and Blaine, New York)

NEA Service Staff Correspondent NEW YORK — Gowns for February parties and early spring dances, with figure-bugging bodices, slim waistlines and voluminous skirts, are in waltz-time mood—in fact, sometimes are called "waltz dresses." Lace is important—as it always is when clothes reach the height of femininity. One American designer outlines the design in pale pink lace with tiny, bright rhinestones. Another house uses lace bodices and chiffon skirts in matching colors. And lace redingotes over satin slips are popular. Redingotes buttoned from neckline to waistline and worn open from waistline to hem make large figures appear more slender. Furthermore, because it doesn't wrinkle easily, lace is the seasoned traveler's delight. Pastels and Dark Hues Lead. Chiffon gowns in muted pastels flutter and billow about ankles. Some are accordin-pleated from top to bottom, others are gored. All white and all black retain their popularity, with dusty rose, smoky blues and greens and grayish yellows well ahead in the color race too. Baby pink, soft blue, beige navy, white and black are headlined in laces. Matching jackets and youthful boleros that transform evening gowns into dinner dresses come with the majority of the newest models for evening. For sophisticated tastes, the fringed gown is new. Among the latest to be shown is a white satin one with complete fringed skirt from hips to hemline and shoulder straps of matching fringe. 2:30 o'clock until 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The public is invited. White Kid Accessories. New accessories for southern wear are being featured in white kid with contrasting colored leather accents. Seen in a smart Fifth Avenue shop is a sports hat of white kid with pointed crown ornamented with bits of fringed cool green leather and stitched visor-like brim. The same trimming idea is carried out precisely in the matching white kid handbag with zipper closing. White kid gloves with colored cross-stitched seams and white kid or buck oxford with colored leather laces complete this accessory ensemble.

Bouffant Is Style Contrast. In startling contrast to sleek, fringed and softly billowing gowns are the bouffant types in heavy silk faille and taffeta. Very debuta-ant, these also come in all pastels, clear as well as grayed, and often are finished with contrasting gros-grain bows and sashes. The foundation dress still is the best buy for the budget-minded. For spring and summer, let it be all white or all black chiffon with a very full or medium full skirt, according to your own taste, and an ever-so-simple bodice. You can wear the gown as is, of course. Then, by getting a variety of accessories, such as a shirred chiffon jacket that molds your figure in sweater fashion, extra belts, floating scarfs and so on, build a complete evening wardrobe around the single dress.

CATHARTICS A BAD HABIT

If you have common constipation, due to lack of bulk in the diet, the great objection to pills and purgatives is that they only perpetuate the trouble. Why not encourage elimination with a natural, laxative food—with Kellogg's All-Bran. It absorbs moisture and softens like a sponge. This water-softened mass aids elimination. At the same time it improves intestinal tone because Kellogg's All-Bran contains the intestinal tonic vitamin B. Eat All-Bran as a cereal or baked in muffins. And drink plenty of water. Made by Kellogg at Battle Creek.

LARGE CROWD SEES SEMI-FINALS OF GOLDEN GLOVES TOURNAMENT HELD IN BIG SPRING; MIDLAND BOY IN FINALS

BIG SPRING, Jan. 27. (Special.)—An estimated 1,000 persons stomped, cheered and shouted themselves hoarse as the semi-final round matches of the Golden-Gloves boxing tournament were held here last night.

The crowd was about twice as large as last week, and from all indications will be even heavier next Wednesday night when the final matches are fought. There was no doubt about the paying customers being satisfied last night as the boys went after each other hammer and tongs to place six knockouts on the books. Three of the knockouts were technical ones, coming after some of the boys gave up, but the other three were the real McCoy.

Just as was the case last week, the first fight ended in a knockout.

Two entrants from Midland brought home a 500 average, winning one and losing one. Little Brooks Roberts met a foe that had him outclassed in weight, height and experience and finally went down for the count in the third round. Roberts was floored once in the first and three times in the second and twice in the third before giving up. After each knockdown he came up fighting, trying his best to get inside the long arms of his opponent, Ellis Reed of Big Spring, but he was not strong enough in the final round to fully protect himself and finally went down for the full count. He wasn't out as far as his mental equipment, went but his leg muscles just didn't have enough strength left to get him back up in a standing position.

E. P. Lawson furnished a nice surprise for the large number of Midland fans present when he came through with a three round decision over Marvin Daugherty of Big Spring. Lawson pummeled his heavier opponent all over the ring in every round but was never able to bring him down. Daugherty used his weight to good advantage, hanging on to Lawson's arms a large part of the time and tiring the Midland boy out, but when opportunity arrived to trade punches Lawson beat Daugherty to them time after time. Lawson went down from a wild haymaker in the third round but bounced to his feet at the count of nine and battered his foe all over the ring for the remainder of the fight.

In the first fight of the evening, James Skalsky (127) of Big Spring came through with a knockout in the second round over a school-mate, Robert Winslow. Winslow was down once in the first round and twice in the second before taking a full ten count.

R. L. Crew of Big Spring won over another home town boy, J. C. Lynne in a bitter battle that was only decided by the vote of the referee. One judge favored Crew and the other favored Lynne for the decision.

Robert James of Ackerley, 120-pounder who used a weaving, crouching position that Elmer Dorsett of Big Spring could never fathom, came through with a well earned decision after having Dorsett on the floor five times during the three rounds. Dorsett proved he could take it by bouncing up off the floor each time and carrying the fight to James.

Another 2-1 decision was needed to pick the winner of the next fight, between Ray McKinnon of Forsan and Gerald Davidson of Wickett. McKinnon, after flooring Davidson twice in the first round, found himself forced to fight for his life as the old field youngster came back fighting like a wild man to take the last two rounds and the decision.

After the Roberts-Reed go, two Big Spring high school boys, Owen Brummett and B. R. Gartmann went on the stage to put on the best bout of the evening. Brummett had Gartmann on the floor in both the first and third rounds but never could get across a sleep producer. The battle was bitterly fought all the way but Brummett earned the decision.

In the other bouts of the evening, Lawson beat Daugherty; Ernell Robinson of Big Spring was given a technical ko over Andrew Cruz, home town boy, when the Mexican got "seasick" at the end of the first round. Kenneth Baggett of Ackerley won a decision over Frank Barnes of Lamesa; Red Cunningham of Big Spring was given a technical ko in his match with

Windsor Gallery Censored by Bishop

Evelyn Stovell, clerk employed by a Bermuda newspaper, holds the fragments into which pictures of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor were torn by Bishop Arthur H. Browne, and she gazes at the portraits she hung to replace those the cleric removed. Apologizing profusely later, he said he felt it improper that such things should be publicly displayed.

Destroyed Photos of the Windsors

The impulsive action taken by Bishop Arthur H. Browne, above, bishop of Bermuda, in destroying pictures of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor belonging to a girl employee of an island newspaper, had its sequel in his abject apology.

Men Risk Lives to Save Cat on Forty-foot Cliff

LONDON. (UP)—On his way home one night Fred Burrage, of North Devon, heard a cat meowing from the 400-foot Watermouth Cliffs. It was dark and he could see nothing, so he went home to bed.

He lay awake, however, thinking of the animal's plight, and in the early hours he roused two neighbors and took them to the cliffs with him.

The lowered him down the cliffs in the darkness and, after a search, he found the cat stranded on a ledge, 200 feet down and brought it to safety.

Nova Scotia Triplets Nearing 71st Birthday

HALIFAX, N. S. (UP)—Nova Scotia's oldest triplets are looking forward to celebrating their 71st birthdays this spring. They were christened Mary, Alice and Amelia Ememo of Dayspring, now Summerside, N. S.

Amelia was widowed 15 years ago by the death of her husband, Richard Naugler, and has since resided in the United States. The other two sisters married and still live in Nova Scotia.

Nova Scotia's youngest triplets will also celebrate their fourth anniversary in the spring. The children of Mr. and Mrs. William Chisholm of Glasgow, N. S., were born on the same day as the Dionne quintuplets.

Rotarians--

ber of Rotarians from Sweetwater, sponsoring club, Ellis Boyd, district governor, presented the official document. Meetings were held at the Crystal ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer, present luncheon place of the club, beginning April 26, right after the hotel was completed. With the exception of three years during the depression when meetings were held at the court house, the ballroom has been home of the Rotary club meetings.

Pratt departed from the historical angle to pay tribute to the members for the cooperation given in the first term, the year ending with over 40 members.

Malcolm Meek, second president, was given credit for building up a great spirit of acquaintance and fellowship. Dr. Ryan was credited in his administration for establishment of the student loan fund which since has grown to about $1,700 and has enabled many students to attend college. Mims and Howe were praised for the terms as presidents during the trying years of the depression.

Although not dealing specifically with detailed accomplishments of the club during its ten years, Pratt declared it had a record worthy of pride for the development of acquaintance and for the application of the ideal of service in the personal business and community affairs of Midland business men.

He pointed out that ten years of history are passed and that what lies ahead should be the concern of every member, to make Rotary a vital part of Midland's life.

Letters were shown from several former members who could not attend. The speaker commended the ten years perfect attendance record of T. Paul Barron and the members who have joined since and have attended without a break. He commended Fred Wemple who served as district governor last year and who was conference chairman when the district held its annual meeting at Midland.

Amrose, when called on, humorously told of the visits to his "nine room house" at Ranger of several Midland Rotarians who make it a convenient stop between here and Fort Worth, and declared that "the latch string is always outside."

Clint Lackey made a brief expression of appreciation to the charter members and presented each with a walking cane.

Visiting Rotarians from other clubs today included R. Randerson of Abilene and Bill Forbes of El Paso. Other visitors were Dr. Devereaux, R. J. Graham and Bill Collins of Midland, Mr. Graham having recently come here from South Carolina and Dr. Devereaux from Kansas.

Wife Awarded Support And Diamond Ring

PHILADELPHIA. (UP)—Judge John E. Walsh of domestic relations court awarded Mrs. Ida May Kloss, 27, $15 weekly support from her husband, Bernard, 28, and a diamond ring the husband had given to a girl friend.

"When I heard he'd given an engagement ring to a girl, I just went up and took it off her finger," Mrs. Kloss testified.

Kloss, said however, the ring was merely a gift and had not been paid for.

In awarding support and the ring, the court warned Kloss that "the support order comes before any installment payments."

Bolt Pistol Invented To Slaughter Animals

VANCOUVER, B. C. (UP)—A "captive-bolt pistol" which may revolutionize present methods of killing animals in slaughter houses will be demonstrated here by Inspector George Hood of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals before a group of city officials.

The pistol fires a bolt, which penetrates the brain of the animal, causing instant death, and then recoils into the barrel. The weapon, which is in the hands of the S. P. C. A., was manufactured in England.

Four Skeletons Found Sealed Within Tree

LONDON. (UP)—A mystery of the jungle is disclosed in the Colonial Office's report on the State of Brunel, Boreon, for 1936.

The bones of about four persons were found completely enclosed in an artificial cavity in the living trunk of a tree. The tree, which was about four feet in diameter, had fallen in the ordinary course of nature when the discovery was made by a sawyer.

The age of the bones was estimated at about 50 years, and an examination of the tree suggested that not less than 50 nor more than 100 years ago a panel six feet in length had been removed from side of the tree and the heart hollowed out to contain the bones, the panel being then replaced and re-grafted on to the tree again.

Dog Goes to Court To Prove Identity

ASTORIA, Ore. (UP)—Spike, a 6-year-old dog, appeared before the county court to prove he was the Spike who inherited $1,000 and paid $11.36 of it in taxes.

When the dog's master, Louis Wigen, died in 1932 he included provision in his will of $1,000 for the care of Spike. The inheritance tax was sent to state officials along with a photograph of the dog.

Then the state capitol burned and official identification was lost. So Spike was brought to court to be re-identified. His allowance is $10 a month.

Heraldry College Errs On Kangaroo's Tail

MELBOURNE. (UP)—An English steamship line operating here, as a centenary gesture, had its coat of arms revamped by the College of Heraldry, and as a further gesture to Australia had a kangaroo included in the new bearings.

Now Australians complain that the College of Heraldry evidently never saw a kangaroo as they got the beast's tail entirely wrong.

New Fire Engine Named For Golden-Haired Girl

YOUNGSTOWN, O. (UP)—Mary Ann weighs 46 pounds. Mary Ann weighs 20,000 pounds.

The former is Mary Ann Foust, six-year-old grand-daughter of Mayor Lionel J. Evans. The latter Mary Ann is Youngstown's new giant pumper fire engine, carrying two tons of equipment.

It can deliver 2,356 gallons of water a minute in seven hose lines. It was named after little Mary Ann, who has golden curls and is not much bigger than the steering wheel of her namesake.

Litigation May Doom House Built in 1650

WETMOUTH, Mass. (UP)—The oldest house in Wetmouth, built in 1650 by a son of the town's first settler, soon may be razed.

A 15-room building, the house was modernized 40 years ago, but still retains hand-hewn beams, wooden pegs in place of nails and hand-wrought hardware.

The house was ordered sold by the court because of litigation over settlement of an estate.

Rare Volumes Found In Vault of Church
PHILADELPHIA (UP).—A 1599 edition of the Bible, hidden for decades among other rare books and documents has been found by the Rev. Joan Craig Roark in an air-tight vault in Old Swedes church here.

The old Elizabethan Bible, published by Queen Elizabeth's own printer, is in nearly as good condition as it was in the days when Shakespeare was writing "Hamlet." It is three-and-a-half inches thick and weighs several pounds.

Among the other documents found was a volume of the Code of Justinian, printed in London early in 1679, not long after the art of bookmaking was learned there.

Discovery of the rare volumes, according to the minister, "is the finest luck any man can have."

FRESNO, Cal. (UP).—The production of the New York stage success, "Tobacco Road," was barred here on the grounds that it was "mostly rough-house and not educational." The commissioners who made the ruling said they had not read the book or seen the drama, but based their ruling on the drama's "reputation."

NO. 2
FORMS FOR MAKING RETURNS
 Forms for filing returns of income for 1937 have been sent to persons who filed returns last year. Failure to receive a form, however, does not relieve a taxpayer of his obligation to file his return and pay the tax on time, on or before March 15 if the return is made on the calendar-year basis, as is the case with most individuals.

Forms may be obtained upon request, written or personal, from the offices of collectors of internal revenue and deputy collectors. Persons whose net income for 1937 was derived chiefly from salary or wages and was not in excess of $5,000 should make their returns on Form 1040A. Persons whose net income was in excess of $5,000 or, regardless of amount, was derived from a business, profession, rents, or sale of property, are required to use Form 1040. Failure to use the proper form presents difficulties to both the taxpayer and the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Therefore, it is emphasized that a taxpayer engaged in a business or profession from which he derived a net income of less than $5,000 is required to use Form 1040.

The return must be filed with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer has his legal residence or principal place of business on or before midnight of March 15, 1938. The tax may be paid in full at the time of filing the return or in four equal installments, due on or before March 15, June 15, September 15, and December 15.

One 10-Pound Baby Born to Mother Only 13 Makes Linton, Ind., Center of Nation's Interest As Well as Center of Population at Present

LINTON, Ind. — This town—center of population of the United States, has suddenly become center of news interest as well—all because of one 10-pound baby.

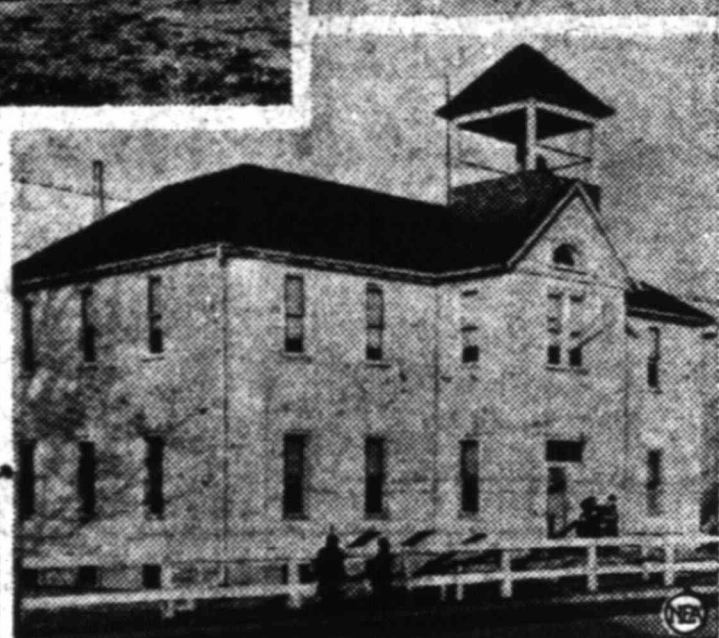

Tongues wag in the streets of the small mining community today, but they do not condemn Betty Jane Lacer, 13, and Tommy Chapman, 14, who presented the community with a baby, a problem, and sudden prominence. Gossip is kindly and sympathetic, without indignation or rancor.

The blue-eyed baby who is the child of these children, sleeps and cries in his crib, "coming along all right, just like any other baby," according to Dr. M. N. Thayer, who attended its birth.

The window shades are all drawn at the white frame house where the baby was born. Half of the baby's scant wardrobe hangs on the clothes line behind the house. Small children, play-mates of the young parents, who are too young to marry yet not too young to have produced the problem-baby, loiter about the house, fascinated by sudden prominence.

Don't Blame Children.
 "Are you going over to take pictures of Betty Jane? Do you want to see Betty Jane's teacher?" they ask of any stranger who appears.

Linton is not much surprised at the unusual "child of children." Most people here knew for months what was going to happen. But the national attention the case has aroused does surprise Linton very much. Now that Linton realizes that national attention is making this baby a problem with a capital P instead of just a baby born under unusual circumstances, it discusses the case freely. But there is no condemnation.

When the baby, shown at upper right just after birth, was born to 13-year-old Betty Jane Lacer, upper left, the town of Linton, Ind., became center of news interest as well as the nation's center of population, as indicated by the marker, center. At the lower left is the Ben Lacer home where the child was born, and at lower right is the College Hill school, which both young parents attended.

nation. People gossip, but they are kindly in their appraisals of the children because of their tender ages.

They don't blame either the boy-father or the girl-mother. "It's just a mistake," most of them say, though differing on how they think the problem should be solved.

Father Has Not Seen Baby.
 Ben Lacer, father of Betty Jane Lacer, the young mother, goes each day to his WPA job in the east end of town. Ben didn't think there was anything so very unusual about the birth at the time, and calmly appeared at the local newspaper office to insert the customary birth notice. But as interest grew in the case Ben grew reticent and a little irritable about it.

Tommy and his father are staying at the home of an uncle, Fee McFadden, within a stone's throw of the house where the child lies. Tommy wasn't allowed to see the baby for some time. He is not being allowed to say anything about it.

But his Uncle Fee feels sorry for the boy. "You see," he says, "if Newest picture of probably the country's youngest mother is this of Betty Jane Lacer, 13, Linton, Ind., schoolgirl, who holds her young son in her arms.

Tommy was a grown man, he'd have three ways out. He could marry the girl, pay the damages of $500 fixed by law, or serve a year and a day in jail. But the law won't let him marry, so he's either got to go to jail or pay."

When the court ruled he must pay the $500 in installments of $50 for the next 10 years, Tommy threw back his shoulders and said he would leave for Detroit to get a job. He is under $500 bond pending completion of his payments.

Child Is Chief Concern.
 Betty's mother has closed their home to all visitors unless accompanied by Mrs. Kathryn Whitwell, the family's relief case-workers. Only 37 years old herself, Mrs. Lacer is centering all her attention on her daughter and the tiny grandson within. Through a partly-opened door she would only say "Publicity and money won't save us what we have to save in there. That girl of ours and our baby are our worries and our chief interest right now."

All those with close knowledge of the case became more reticent as discussion grew. Circuit Judge J. Raymond Powell, who must decide the case eventually, said that all Tommy said when brought before him was "I'm guilty."

"I don't really know whose duty it is to get the families together," was the judge's last word, "but I'm not going to decide until a reasonable time has passed."

Both Parents Good Students.
 The school teachers at the little white school where the girl-mother and the boy-father were pupils had a little informal meeting and decided not to discuss the case further. "There's just nothing we teachers can say about it," says Miss Esther Dunne, principal. "They were good children in school, and got good marks, too."

As Betty Jane at 13 has become one of the youngest mothers on record, her older brother, Billy, is one of the youngest business men. His father bought him enough

Linton's Fame Fleeting.
 Linton, which got its first prominence when chance made it the center of population of the United States as calculated from the census of 1930, has seen better days. Its coal mines once brought wealth and fame to the town, and the fathers of both the young parents were miners in those prosperous times. Their homes then were not in a drab, "rundown" section, but on the outskirts, in a clean, suburban atmosphere.

But Linton has been losing population since 1920, for it does not now take as many men to "strip" the coal from the shallow sub-surface mines as it did once. Heavily-laden coal trucks still crowd the highways in the neighborhood.

But Linton's brief rule as "center of population" will end with the census of 1940. Perhaps in the end it will have attained greater fame through Betty Jane and Tommy than it ever did through the census figures.

Even Pig's Figure Changes With Time

ALBANY, N. Y. (UP) — A pig's figure affects the value of the pig, John P. William, professor of the New York State College of Agriculture, told farm workers and state institution supervisors, at a conference here.

Scientific farmers have found that "well proportioned" pigs are more valuable than "rangy" pigs, he said.

To be well proportioned, a pig should have adequate depth of body, an arched back and not too long a neck. In fact, Prof. William said, the animal should have almost no neck.

Styles in hocks also have reversed themselves in the past few years, he added, because at one time farmers rated away-backed pigs higher than those with arched backs.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 16 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste. Frequent or costly passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

As traces of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 16 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.
