Tax Choices By Connally Next Week?

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally has made his tax decisions and probably will present them to the legislature next week, sources close to the governor said today.

Connally laid out most of his legislative work program in a message Wednesday. He said he later would recommend ways of raising the $125 million needed to balance his budget.

A highly placed source said Connally knows now what taxes he would recommend, and another aide said "we hope to do it next week."

OIL TARGET

As described by a key legislator in the fiscal process, these are Connally's choices:

1. Boost in the oil production tax from 4.6 per cent of value to 5 per cent—$11 million a year.

2. Increase the natural gas production tax from 7 to 8 per cent—$9 million.

3. Raise the franchise tax on corporations—$12.5 million.

4. Increase the liquor tax from $1.68 to $2.07 per gallon—$4 million.

5. Boost the beer tax—$2.8 million, or place beer and liquor under the 2 per cent sales tax—$11 million.

6. Raise the state gasoline tax from 5 to 6 cents a gallon—$12.5 million.

BEER TAX

If the beer tax is left the same and beer and liquor are brought under the sales tax, total revenue would be $60 million a year or $120 million for the coming two-year fiscal period.

If the beer tax is left the same and beer and liquor remain immune to the sales tax, total revenue would be $51.8 million a year or $103.6 million for the 1968-69 biennium.

Legislators turned their attention to specific proposals today.

MONEY BILL

The House spent its session hearing the introduction of new bills including a $6.83 million emergency appropriation bill. The measure is set for public hearing Monday.

Sen. A. M. Alkin, Paris, also announced that the Senate Finance Committee will begin public hearings next week on spending requests. At an organizational meeting today the committee agreed that all its meetings would be open to the public.

IRON FIST

Today's session in the Senate was brief but set off a blast by Sen. A. R. Schwartz who accused Lt. Gov. Preston Smith of trimming the size of Senate committee to retain what the Galveston lawmaker called Smith's "iron fist" control over the upper house.

Smith, who announced his appointments today, declined to comment on Schwartz' criticism but Sen. Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi defended the lieutenant governor.

Rep. Bill Healy of Paducah introduced a bill Wednesday to provide the $6.38 million emergency appropriations asked by the governor. A public hearing has been set for Monday afternoon.

Healy's bill was one of 85 bills filed with the House clerk Wednesday afternoon. More bills are expected to be filed today.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith said he expected to name some of the 25 standing committees of the Senate today. Speaker Ben Barnes named the House committees last week.

SPENDING PLANS

Connally's formal speech to a joint session Wednesday was the final ceremonial act in the two-week long program of convening the 60th legislature and the inauguration of Connally and Smith.

Connally told the senators and representatives he had spending plans for $971.5 million from general revenue in 1968-69. However, he said he would delay for at least several days unfolding his tax plans to cover the $125 million deficit between his expenditures and expected income.

The governor's plans compared to general revenue spending of $621.5 million in 1966-67, which was financed by a $79 million tax bill, mostly from an additional three cents per pack tax on cigarettes.

MIXED EMOTIONS

Reaction to Connally's speech varied from hot to cold.

"The Democrats are attacking the taxpayer's pocketbook," said state Republican Chairman Peter O'Donnell. He suggested electing more Republicans to join the present three in the House and one in the Senate.

Gunfire Injures Eight Prisoners

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — Guards firing rifles, shotguns and tear-gas canisters prevented a racial clash between 2,800 white and Negro convicts in the San Quentin Prison yard Wednesday night as the two groups came to within 50 feet of each other.

Eight convicts suffered gunshot wounds during the tense hours following a glaring face-down of the two groups. Five others suffered head wounds from beatings by other convicts. Two men incurred heart attacks.

The confrontation included one group of more than 1,000 whites and Mexican-Americans and another group of about 1,800 Negroes.

Officials said the turmoil grew out of the fatal beating and stabbing of a white prisoner last Monday.

Trouble started after lunch Wednesday, said Associate Warden James W. L. Park, when inmates entered the football field-sized yard. Whites and Mexican-Americans gathered on one side, Negroes on the other. They drew closer, hurling curses across the no-man's-land. Elsewhere on the grounds of the 40-acre prison, another 1,200 inmates tended to their duties.

'KNOCK IT OFF'

With the angry convicts separated by only 50 feet, Warden Lawrence E. Wilson mounted the gunwall surrounding the yard and ordered, "Knock it off and go back to your cells."

There was silence, and no one moved.

Park said many of the men had armed themselves with pipes from plumbing ripped from prison facilities, and clubs from benches torn apart in the yard. A temporary classroom building made of wood was set ablaze.

'WALL OF FIRE'

Guards were ready to throw up a "wall of fire" with bullets if the factions got any closer, but it wasn't necessary, Park said.

The two groups surged. Mess-hall windows shattered. Guards fired warning shots into the air. By this time 500 prison guards and personnel took up posts, aided by a contingent of 65 men from the Marin County sheriff's office and the California Highway Patrol. Gov. Ronald Reagan made more than 200 other highway patrolmen available.

For nearly three hours the two groups refused to obey orders.

GAS TOSSED

"No one seemed to want to make the first move," Wilson said.

Finally, tear-gas canisters were thrown and the Negroes, prodded by warning shots whining through the air, let themselves be herded back to their cells.

The remaining group of whites and Mexican-Americans stayed in the lower yard for about seven hours. Smoke billowed out of the yard as they burned benches to keep warm in a chilling fog that moved in.

They wore only dungarees and light shirts. In the late afternoon, one man was hit in the mouth by a ricocheting bullet, Park said.

Bobby Baker Ready To Start Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — The prosecution rested today in the trial of Bobby Baker, accused of income tax evasion, converting senatorial campaign contributions to his own use, conspiracy and other offenses.

Lawyers for Baker, former secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, were ready to start their defense.

The chief defense attorney, Edward Bennett Williams, spent much of the morning cross-examining a tax expert with the Internal Revenue Service.

TAX TESTIMONY

The tax expert, Glen D. Harrison, testified Wednesday in U.S. District Court that according to his computations Baker underpaid his 1961 income tax by $1,058.41, and his 1962 tax by $21,082.42.

Harrison, from the Fort Worth, Tex., office of the Internal Revenue Service, has been at the trial making notes and examining government exhibits.

An FBI handwriting expert, Fred M. Miller, testified that Baker's former secretary, Nancy Carole Tyler, endorsed the name of Wayne L. Bromley on six checks, three from the United States Freight Co. of New York and three from the Harvey Aluminum Co. of Torrance, Calif.

WITNESS KILLED

The government alleges that thousands of dollars were channeled to Baker through Bromley, a former Baker associate who is testifying as a government witness.

Bromley has testified that he never saw some checks made out in his name and cashed other checks made out to him, turning the money over to Baker.

Miss Tyler died in a 1965 plane crash.

Ford Claims Congress Can Avoid Tax Boost

Pentagon Plans To Merge Bases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon aims to save more than $37 million yearly by merging or phasing out 33 military bases and activities in the United States and six overseas facilities, it was learned today. More than 1,400 civilian jobs would be eliminated.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara tells a news conference today about the new consolidation move, his sixth since 1961.

Informed sources said the new cutbacks also will involve the transfer of 3,000 other civilian employees and 1,700 military workers. The informants added, however, that all career civilian employees whose jobs will be eliminated by the new actions will be immediately offered different positions by the Defense Department.

33 CUTBACKS

The 33 cutbacks in the United States are spread unevenly across the nation, with Alabama, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Texas and Washington each losing three facilities. California, Massachusetts, New York and Ohio each will lose two facilities.

The largest savings — about $20.8 million annually — will be gained by phasing out all of the Navy's antisubmarine P5 seaplanes by 1968 and their support facilities at 12 bases around the world. Informants emphasized that the phaseout of the seaplanes will not shut down overall activities of the air bases.

CHEAPER

They added that McNamara's decision to cut out the seaplane operations was based on evidence indicating it is cheaper and easier to support similar antisubmarine operations with land-based planes.

The following major economy steps also will be taken, sources said:

The Naval Supply Center at Bayonne, N.J., will be shut down by the end of the year with much of its functions transferred to Norfolk, Va. Annual savings will total $3.5 million.

Historic Fort Hancock, N.J., in Lower New York Bay near Coney Island, will be closed by December 1968 at a savings of $1 million a year.

$495,000 SAVINGS

All 14 Army Reserve Corp headquarters will be deactivated by December 1968 at an annual savings of about $8.5 million. The headquarters now serve as a link between the headquarters of the continental armies and sector commanders in supervising reserve functions. By 1969 these functions will be completely absorbed by the continental Army headquarters.

The 1st Naval District at Boston will be merged with the 3rd at New York to cover New England, New York and northern New Jersey. This action, to be completed by the end of this year, will save $495,000 annually. Headquarters will be at New York.

The 4th Naval District at Philadelphia and the 5th at Norfolk will merge by Jan. 1, 1969, with an annual savings of $528,000. Headquarters will be at Norfolk.

The 12th Naval District at San Francisco and the 13th at Seattle, Wash., will merge by Jan. 1, 1970 with annual savings of $483,000. Headquarters will be at San Francisco.

HIT TEXARKANA

Some secret activities at the Red River Army Depot in Texarkana, Tex., will be discontinued by this September, with the elimination of 87 civilian jobs and annual savings of $700,000.

The Army Metrology and Calibrations Center and the Standards Laboratory at Frankford Arsenal in Philadelphia will be shifted to Redstone Arsenal at Huntsville, Ala., and later combined with some activities to be shifted from the Joliet, Ill., arsenal. Much of the details are secret but the moves are to be completed by July 1968 at an annual savings of $319,000.

Activities at Wright Air Force Base at Fairborn, Ohio, gradually will be phased out and shifted to nearby Patterson Air Force Base, with an annual savings of $118,000 to begin in 1971.

Sources emphasized that none of the actions is to take place at a military base employing more than 250 military and civilian personnel. The Defense Department will make every effort to relocate displaced civilian workers, they added.

Aggie Suspended For Growing Weed

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—A 20-year-old Texas A&M science major from San Antonio was suspended from school today for growing marijuana and peyote in his dormitory room.

In announcing suspension indefinitely, university officials stressed there was no indication he was using or sniffing the drug.

"From all indications the student was merely experimenting with these plants," said A&M security chief Ed Powell, who headed the investigation.

Proposal Called 'Tragic Mistake'

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said today "Congress can cut the President's budget sufficiently to avoid a tax increase." But until Congress gets the budget, he added, "it is impossible to be specific about budget cuts."

In reply to questions submitted by The Associated Press, Ford said his opposition to the President's proposal for a six per cent surcharge on corporate and most individual income taxes "is based on the economic indicators as they presently exist."

MORE IMPORTANT

"Balancing the economy is more important than balancing the budget," he said.

Ford's views were given in advance of tonight's Republican response to President Johnson's State of the Union message. The Michigan Republican will outline the GOP domestic program and Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen will discuss foreign affairs.

Dirksen told a reporter it was fair to say that he would give Johnson's Vietnam course a general endorsement but reserve the right to criticize particulars. He added he will have a great deal to say about other international actions.

SOLID EVIDENCE

Ford said that if Johnson had "set a ceiling of $130 billion or less on his budget," rather than putting it at $135 billion, "he then might not have been compelled to request a tax increase."

In the Republican Congressional Committee "Newsletter" last week, Ford called the tax proposal a "tragic mistake" and said "the President has yet to present solid evidence that it is necessary."

Johnson said the surtax would bring in $4.5 billion in the fiscal year starting July 1, holding the estimated deficit in that year to $8.1 billion.

But Ford said "it seems clear that the proposed income tax increase is advanced as the vehicle for $4.5 billion in increased domestic spending."

FACTS NEEDED

And he said his opposition to what Johnson says is a tax intended to reduce the deficit does not mean he is "advocating a large deficit."

The senior Republican member of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee took a more flexible position on the tax proposal.

"I just don't have enough facts to make a judgment," Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin said in an interview.

HARD TO TAKE

"It would be hard to tolerate a 12-15-18-20-billion dollar deficit," Byrnes added. "On the other hand, it might be better if the economy is shaky to tolerate a deficit of $6-7 billion than have a tax increase because of the effect it might have on the economy."

Like Byrnes, Rep. Frank T. Bow of Ohio, the senior Republican on the House Appropriations Committee, declined to give specific estimates on possible budget cuts until he has a chance to examine the President's budget.

He did list as possible areas for "careful examination" the antipollution, space and model cities programs.

Morning Glory Seeds Provide Pupils 'Kicks'

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Amarillo police said Wednesday that some college students in the Panhandle area were producing LSD effects on themselves with stolen morning glory seeds.

Police asked chemistry teachers if students had brought morning glory seeds to school laboratories after a nursery near the Amarillo College campus had been burglarized several times.

Principal loot has been morning glory seeds, the officers said, but money was taken in addition to the seeds when the nursery was burglarized a third time.

Officers said some varieties of morning glory seeds can produce hallucinations similar to those induced by LSD, peyote and jimson weed.

And asked by a reporter, an Amarillo College student said he knew of instances in which students held parties using morning glory seeds "for kicks."

'You Can Tell It's Getting Cold When The Trees Snap'

By The Associated Press

Subzero cold along the nation's northern border states produced New England's coldest morning of the winter today, then continued a retreat as new storms drove eastward through the Appalachians.

WARNINGS

Hazardous driving warnings were in effect all through that territory.

The storm in the West poured close to 1 1/2 inches of rain on Quilayute, Wash., during early that the continuing snow may become as deep as three to six inches all through and to the east of the Appalachians.

STREETS GLAZED

The eastern storm began during the night as freezing rain that glazed the streets and highways in northern and central Louisiana, southeastern Arkansas and central Mississippi. It deposited five inches of snow at London, Ky. and in the eastern Tennessee mountains, and four inches at Wyttheville, Va.; Crossville, Tenn.; and in North Carolina's Great Smoky Mountains National Park.

There were lighter accumulations in Maryland, parts of Tennessee, Delaware, West Virginia and the Carolinas, but the Weather Bureau warned morning hours and as much as four inches of snow in Idaho's mountains. Motorists were being advised to use chains to travel the mountain passes. Spokane, Wash., got one inch of snow.

Snow from this storm system moved with a warming trend along across the Rockies onto the northern Plains.

Edmund Tom Dies Today

STANTON (SC) — Edmund Tom, 63, widely known resident of Martin County, died at 9:15 a.m. today in St. Paul's Hospital in Dallas. He had suffered a brain hemorrhage about 10 days ago. After being hospitalized here for several days, he was removed to St. Paul's where he underwent surgery early this week.

Mr. Tom, who owned land in Martin and Glasscock counties and was a director in the First National Bank, was on his ranch when he suffered the brain hemorrhage.

He was born in Stanton, Oct. 22, 1903 and was baptized into the St. Joseph's Catholic Church on Oct. 30, 1903.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete. Gilbreath Funeral Home will be in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Tom was married to Miss Louise Deavenport Aug. 25, 1931.

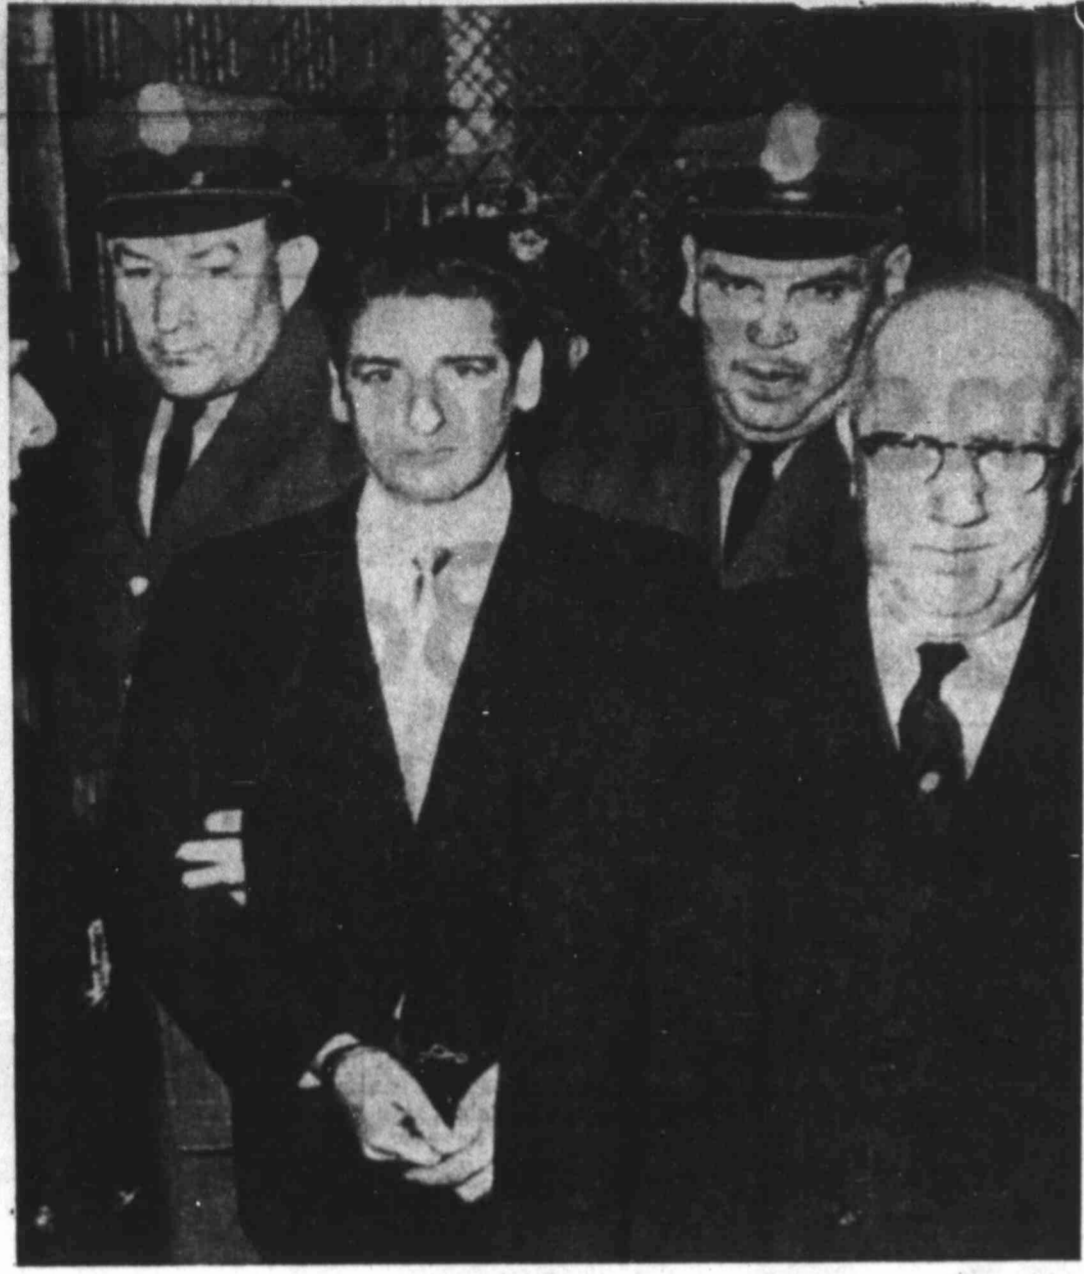

Survivors, in addition to Mrs. Tom, include one son, Rufus Tom, Stanton; one daughter, Mrs. Fate Kiesling, Lubbock; one brother, Jim Tom, Stanton; and five grandchildren.

Snow And Cold

This was a typical scene in Ironwood, Mich., today after the city was battered by the worst snow storm of the season that dropped an additional 18 inches in its wake. Note the 14 degree temperature on the sign. The area has had a total snowfall of 182.6 inches for the season. Last year's fall on this date was 88.8 inches. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Convicted

Albert H. DeSalvo, a 35-year-old handyman, as he leaves Middlesex Superior Court in Cambridge, Mass., Wednesday night in custody of guards following his conviction of assaulting four women in their suburban Boston homes in 1964. DeSalvo, who claims to be the Boston strangler, was convicted by an all male jury on 10 indictments including assault and battery, breaking and entering and sex offenses. None of these cases is connected with the series of stranglings between June 1962 and January 1964. (AP WIRE-

DeSALVO LAWYER SAYS:

'Massachusetts Just Burns Another Witch'

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Attorney F. Lee Bailey, charging that "Massachusetts just burned another witch," says he'll challenge the state's criminal insanity law in appealing the assault conviction of Albert DeSalvo, the man who claims to be the Boston strangler.

DeSalvo, 35, was sentenced Wednesday night to 10-years-plus-life after an all-male jury convicted the mental patient on charges of robbery and attacking four women in their suburban Boston homes in 1964.

None of the charges was connected with the series of killings attributed to the strangler.

"It is the fault of no one but the law," Bailey told newsmen as he left Middlesex County Superior Court.

'HAVEN'T LOST IT'

The attorney, who successfully defended Dr. Samuel Shepard of Cleveland, Ohio, in his second murder trial, and Dr. Carl Coppolino in his New Jersey murder trial, said he did not regard the verdict in the DeSalvo case as a defeat.

"I haven't lost it yet," he said, citing his plans for an appeal to the Massachusetts Supreme Court.

Bailey had asked for verdicts of not guilty by reason of insanity and had not contested the charges against DeSalvo.

Bailey challenged the definition of insanity in the Massachusetts penal code several times during the seven-day trial.

Welfare Employees Returning To Jobs

NEW YORK (AP) — Striking Welfare Department employees return to work today after voting to accept a mediator's proposal for fact-finding on the critical issue of wages.

End of the three-day work stoppage was signaled Wednesday night at a noisy meeting of the Social Service Employees Union where leaders urged acceptance of mediator Benjamin Wolf's proposal.

Herbert L. Haber, city labor relations director, had earlier agreed to fact-finding but on the condition that the strikers return to their jobs.

FACT-FINDING

Judith Mage, president of the 7,500-member independent union, said after the meeting that the vote was about 2 1/2 to 1 in favor of fact-finding and a return to work.

Haber said the remaining issues in the dispute would be the subject of intensive negotiations for a week. If they were not resolved in that time, he said, they would also go to fact-finding.

Prominent Odessa Woman Found Dead

ODESSA—Mrs. Betty Nedow, prominent civic leader and wife of the late Ben Nedow, former owner of KECK radio station and builder of the Phillips office building here, died at 5:15 p.m. Wednesday in her home.

Peace justice T. B. Wedgworth is withholding a verdict pending completion of an investigation.

Mrs. Nedow sold the station shortly after the death of her husband in 1962. They also had operated a furniture store and dealt in real estate here. Funeral is pending at Paul A. Rix Funeral Home.

WAGE ISSUE

The caseworkers, home economists, homemakers and children's counselors represented by the union struck Monday. However, the department continued to operate its 32 welfare centers, children's shelters and other facilities to provide emergency services.

The outstanding issues to be resolved are reported to include differences on working conditions and a number of so-called professional demands which the city holds are not bargainable because they involve departmental policy.

On the wage issue the union originally asked a $1,050 increase in the $5,750 starting pay for caseworkers. The city offered an increase of $675 the first year of a two-year contract and another $675 the second year.

What Became Of Hottentot And Congress Ave. Creek?

Tyler's Capt. James R. Enochs knows his Texas — from nearly 80 summers and from kin, both with Stephen Austin and with Fannin's Georgians at Goliad. But he asks help about more recent times when a creek ran down Austin's Congress Avenue, and a ghost town lay in the hills just west.

"It was a little place called 'Hottentot' — a store, blacksmith shop and mill. . . . I think it was on the Colorado about where Mansfield Dam (Lake Travis) is now. My mother and father moved from there in the '80s, about when I was born. She used to tell me about it — a pretty nice little settlement in those days.

"Also I'd like to ask about the creek that ran down Congress Avenue and when it was filled up. Used to work for a man who remembered fishing it with his father — caught some nice perch — when he was a boy.

"I went to Austin in '93, but street cars were running down Congress about then; so it must have been well before that they filled that creek. As for 'Hottentot', I figure it the west side of the dam, which is anchored, I believe, on Father Enochs' old land."

If Capt. Enochs remembers rightly, there's a creek and a town to puzzle most of us who think we know Austin country.

BALD BALL KNOB

From Hobbs, N. M., came a recent query about a choppy little hillock north of Decatur which the writer figured was mis-named 'Bald Knob', though that's the way Wise County maps show it. And maybe she had a point; her family, way back, was named Ball.

From Decatur's Ball descendant, Mrs. Ernest Watson, and Mrs. Rosalie Gregg, chairman of Wise County Historical Surveyors: "We find the land atop this hill was given by the Ball family for a cemetery, and the spring she describes was used by them. They came to Wise County in the early 1850's, probably the first settlers; lived in a dugout. (ruins of which) we now believe was located just south of the spring. . . .

"Many members of the Ball family are buried in 'Bald Knob' Cemetery; and we suppose the spot is now legally that — the cemetery incorporated as 'Bald Knob'."

Inflation Clips Personal Income

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal income during 1966 took its biggest jump in 15 years. But the Commerce Department says inflation ate away a good part of the gain.

Income received by individuals from all sources rose $45.3 billion to $580.4 billion, up 8.5 per cent from 1965, the department said Wednesday.

Personal income after taxes rose $156 per capita from 1965 to 1966, reaching a record $2,567 for every man, woman and child in the nation. But the jump was only $80 in terms of real dollar buying power, said the department.

Organization Aims To Curb Alcoholism

BEAUMONT (AP) — Jefferson County commissioners have been asked to endorse formation of an organization which aims to curb alcoholism.

Business leaders interested in forming the organization say the ultimate aim is to provide hospital beds in the county for treatment of alcoholics.

Gordon Martin, businessman, told commissioners, "Industry is paying many thousands of dollars in lost man-hours each year due to alcoholism. Part of this money could be used to start a rehabilitation program for alcoholic workers."

Liberals Picked For Rules Posts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Democrats with liberal voting records have been named to the vacancies on the House Rules Committee, apparently assuring Democratic leaders of committee control.

The new committee members are Reps. Spark M. Matsunaga of Hawaii and William R. Anderson of Tennessee.

Democrats control the committee 10 to 5, but new Chairman William M. Colmer, D-Miss., is expected to frequently vote with the Republicans.

FORT WORTH—Stockholders of the First National Bank at their annual meeting named Dan M. Krause, president of Champlin Petroleum Co., and Galbraith McF. Weaver, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Southland Royalty Co., to the bank's board of directors, Murray Kyger, board chairman, reported.

U.S. Judge Dooley Dies

AMARILLO (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge Joseph B. Dooley, appointed to the federal bench by President Harry S. Truman in 1947, died today at his Amarillo home. He was 77.

Dooley suffered a stroke Friday, and doctors said he never regained consciousness.

He had retired officially Oct. 1 but still heard occasional cases.

The veteran jurist handled many important cases, including one from the South Plains three years ago involving whether the depletion of underground irrigation water should be considered the same way for tax purposes as oil reserves. Dooley ruled that they should.

Some lawyers referred to Dooley as "one of the best trial judges in the nation."

He was born in San Angelo, Dec. 13, 1889, received his law degree from the University of Texas in 1911, and began his law practice in Amarillo.

During his 36 years as an attorney he served in many key positions in the bar at local and state levels, including presidency of the State Bar of Texas in the 1940s.

When he was recommended for a federal judgeship by Sen. Tom Connally, he was member of the Amarillo law firm of Underwood, Johnson, Dooley and Wilson. He was city attorney here in 1914 and a member of the board of trustees of the school district.

Survivors are a widow, a daughter, Mrs. Roy C. Snodgrass of Amarillo and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were pending in Amarillo.

First Federal Directors And Officers Relected

A review of operations and re-election of directors were on the program Wednesday for the 32nd annual stockholders meeting of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association.

Re-elected to the board were Elmo Wasson and Robert Stripling, to serve with M. L. Patterson, R. V. Middleton and K. H. McGibbon.

At a subsequent meeting of the board, all officers were re-elected: Elmo Wasson, president; Charles E. Bell, executive vice president; Malcolm Patterson, secretary and treasurer; and Helen Mahoney, assistant secretary.

Bell's report to stockholders cited the 1966 trend in the savings and loan industry, which has had some setbacks due to shortage of capital money. The "tight money" situation also has resulted in some slow-down of mortgage loans, said Bell; but he and other directors expressed the opinion that the next few months would see some improvement in the mortgage-money situation.

The financial statement showed the Association's total assets as of the past December 30, to be $17,391,113, as against $18,300,912 for the preceding year.

Tabulation of assets (with last year's comparative figure in parentheses):

First mortgage loans $14,483,906 ($15,533,401); investments and securities $435,147 ($187,200); cash on hand and in banks

$1,155,852 ($1,380,544); office building, less depreciation $415,107 ($422,825); office equipment, less depreciation $43,473 ($50,439); loans on savings accounts $64,205 ($128,893); real estate owned $520,089 ($300,989); other investments $154,500 ($141,040); other assets, $10 ($10); home improvement loans $118,730 ($155,568).

Liability items for this year and a year ago:

Member share accounts $14,788,659 ($15,587,735); advances from F.H.L. bank $1,250,000 ($1,250,000); other borrowed money, none ($200,000); loans in process $250 ($3,853); tax and insurance reserves $190,495 ($205,376); deferred credits $23,009 ($36,356); specific reserves $61,414 ($2,982); general reserves $1,077,284 ($1,014,608).

First Federal at the end of the year had 1,533 borrowers and 4,682 investors.

Canada's Liberals Lose House Battle

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada's minority Liberal government lost its first House of Commons vote in more than two years as a Conservative amendment to the national transportation bill was approved Wednesday 59-58.

The defeat did not count as a no-confidence vote requiring Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson to resign.

The amendment removes from the bill a proposed study of grain freight rates.

Tuberculosis Tests Due To Start In Bauer, Lakeview

Mrs. John Currie was named county nurse for the Howard County Tuberculosis Association at the Wednesday noon luncheon at the Holiday Inn.

Mrs. Currie, a registered nurse, was selected from a list of five to work four months, February through May, in giving tuberculosis tests to school children.

Dr. Frankie Williams was named chairman of the nominating committee, and she will be assisted by Mrs. Dean Forrest. Mrs. Billy Jones was named by the board to serve the two years remaining on the tenure of Dr. Ed Williams, who resigned when he moved from this city.

Mrs. James Butler reported $5,222.61 had been received from the sale of Christmas seals and said that donations would still be welcomed from those who had not as yet sent in their gifts.

Dr. W. P. Cashion will serve as chairman of arrangements for the annual meeting scheduled for mid-March. He will be assisted by Mrs. M. M. Edwards and Mrs. Fred Luring.

Mrs. Ray Puckett, county health nurse, displayed forms and pamphlets that will be used in the TB testing. These are printed in English and Spanish. The tests will begin around the first of February and will be given to all students in the Bauer and Lakeview schools. The state furnishes testing materials for the first and seventh grades; the other grades, second through sixth, as the Bauer and Lakeview schools, are furnished materials by the local association, which also pays the salary of the testing nurse.

Fourteen members of the board were present for the meeting over which the association president, Harold Bentley, presided.

Avery Foster, who is indicted for the death of Jessie Palmer after a fight last summer, will be the only defendant to be tried for murder at next week's special criminal docket in 118th District Court.

Three murder-with malice cases had been set down for trial. Wayne Burns, district attorney, had said he hoped to go to trial with the murder charge against Narciso Santiago as the first case. Santiago is accused of shooting M. T. Gore to death.

However, George Thomas, attorney for Santiago, Wednesday was granted a continuance in the Santiago matter, and also in a second murder case against Roy Young Jr. This left only the Foster case on the list.

Foster was arraigned Wednesday afternoon and entered a plea of not guilty. His attorney is Roger Brown.

Thomas' motions for continuance were based on his statement that he had to be in U.S. District Court on Monday, Jan. 23. The Abilene assignment was prior to the local court date, he said. Since he is the only attorney of either Santiago or Young, he contended that they would be deprived of their rights if he could not be on hand to represent them.

Judge Ralph Caton granted the continuances.

A special venire of 175 has been notified to report to court on Monday to serve in the Foster trial.

Blast Kills 19 Miners

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — An explosion in the government's Strongman coal mine near Greymouth killed 19 men today, Deputy Mines Minister S. A. O'Neill announced.

Rescue squads, fighting heavy gas and threatened with more explosions, had recovered eight bodies some 12 hours after the blast at 10 a.m.

The men were killed about three quarters of a mile from the mine mouth and 400 feet underground. The section in which they were trapped was not usually worked and they had been sent there only for today.

"There is no one alive to give us any clue to what happened," said O'Neill.

The mine, one of New Zealand's largest, employs 350 men and resumed work three days ago after the annual Christmas holidays. About 200 men were at work when the explosion occurred.

Fans To Get More Game For Money

By STEVE BASSETT
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — More kicking, less electronic gadgetry and a little more actual playing time — that's what college football rules makers hope will develop from changes they've adopted.

The Rules Committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association decided Wednesday to put the foot back in football and to outlaw electronic scouting devices, especially instant video-tape replays.

The fans will be getting more football for their money under a new rule which stops the clock when the ball changes hands until it is put into play by the defensive team.

"This should add about two minutes of actual playing time to the game," said Dave Nelson, head coach at the University of Delaware.

Committee Chairman Fritz Crisler, University of Michigan athletic director, said it was decided "there have been too many fair catches on kicks from scrimmage and it's the unanimous feeling that this should change."

Interior linemen on the kicking team will now have to hold their positions until the ball is kicked, thus allowing the player receiving the punt about two additional seconds.

All electronic scouting gear will be prohibited during games, and specific mention was made of video-tape replays which could be flashed back to the coaches.

The committee agreed that many teams, both on college and junior college levels, won't be able to afford the electronic devices, but the temptation will be great to do so.

Most of the 15 rules changes agreed to during the three-day meeting involved clarifications of existing regulations.

Rather than ban the tackle-eligible play as proposed by a coaches subcommittee, the rule was modified to prohibit the offensive team from flanking any player, back or lineman, outside the eligible tackle.

A new rule allows coaches to confer with one player during any charged timeout.

A team which takes possession of the ball either by punt, fumble or intercepted pass won't have to give up the ball should it have a penalty called against on the same play. The team will also retain possession if there are offsetting penalties on the same play.

It was agreed to appoint a committee of college coaches to work with a similar group of high school coaches to draw up a common code of ethics which apply to both levels of competition.

The committee, in another resolution, also put it up to the coaches themselves to insure that helmets are used as safety devices and not weapons to be used for so-called spearing of opponents.

Cards Carry Out Orders

By The Associated Press
"Quit standing around and get more aggressive," Peck Hickman, coach of the second-ranked Louisville Cardinals, told his players at halftime.

The leaders of the Missouri Valley Conference carried out Hickman's orders with a second half blitz that bowled over Dayton 66-50 in the top college basketball game Wednesday night.

Sophomore Butch Beard, who hit for 41 points against Bradley last Saturday, led the second half charge for the Cardinals that erased Dayton's 28-23 intermission lead on the Flyers' home court.

Beard threw in six second half baskets and finished with 18 points altogether as the Cardinals chalked up their 15th victory in 16 starts. It was the second time this season the Cardinals have beaten Dayton, one of the country's top independents with a 12-3 record.

Don May and Dan Sadler each scored 16 points for the Flyers who fell behind after a jump shot by Beard tied the score at 31-31.

Virginia Tech, another top independent at 9-2, walloped East Carolina 91-62 at Blacksburg, Va., on a comparatively quiet night in the dribble sport with all The Associated Press Top Ten teams idle with the exception of Louisville.

Ted Ware led the Gobblers with 27 points in snapping East Carolina's four-game winning streak.

Johnny Jones, a Villanova soph, hit for 27 points and grabbed 12 rebounds in leading the Wildcats over Xavier of Ohio 75-59 in the feature of a doubleheader at Philadelphia. Scranton edged Drexel 70-68 in the opener on Everett Jenkins' basket with 55 seconds left.

Jack Nicklaus Tames Spyglass Hill Course

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — "Addition of the Spyglass Hill golf course will make Bing Crosby's tournament easier for a long ball hitter to win," declared powerful Jack Nicklaus as the firing started today.

"It will also make scores average four strokes higher than in the past," he added before the 336 golfers swung into action.

Merrill Green Departing Cooper Post For Midland

ABILENE — Merrill Green is tendering his resignation as head football coach at Abilene Cooper High School in order to become director of athletics of the Midland public schools.

He will succeed Audrey Gill at Midland. Gill is being reassigned within the Midland system.

Green, a graduate of the University of Oklahoma, left a position as backfield coach at Texas Tech to take the Cooper position.

In his initial season there, the Cougars won two, lost six and tied two. Last fall, Cooper won nine of 10 starts and shared the District 2-AA championship with San Angelo.

Before joining the Texas Tech staff, Green coached at Wichita University in 1956, at Missouri under Frank Broyles in 1957 and at Arkansas, again under Broyles, in 1958-60.

Green was born in Woodward, Okla., and reared in Chickasha. He played on the University of Oklahoma's national championship team as a halfback under Bud Wilkinson.

He quarterbacked the Fort Sill, Oklahoma, Army team for two years after leaving college there.

Green will be saddled with the responsibility of rebuilding the football fortunes of the two high schools at Midland and, no doubt, will be given more au-

MERRILL GREEN

Fort Sill won the national service championship his first year there than was Gill. Gill's hands were tied because of a policy adopted by the school board.

Close observers said the junior high school and high school programs were not properly coordinated at Midland. It was reported that Green first rejected the Midland offer, then took it only with the understanding that he would be given free rein in dealing with the problem.

Bisons Outscore Foes By 16-Point Average

STANTON — In Stanton's practice basketball play, which ended recently, Doyle Edmiston's Buffaloes hit 59 per cent of their shots from the field and 62 per cent from the foul line.

The Buffaloes won 21 of their 23 exhibition games, scoring a total of 1,330 points to 1,152 for the opposition.

The Buffs were consistent, outscoring the foe in each of the four quarters over the season.

Stanton outscored the common opponent an average of 16.5 points a game, hitting a 66.5 norm to 50 for the foe.

Buddy Shanks led the club in field goals made with 156, in field goal percentages with 47, free tosses attempted with 105, free tosses made with 70 and total points with 382.

Allen Springer was tops in rebounding with 334 and in field goals attempted with 335. Jerry Cox led in consistency at the free throw line, getting 20 of 29 for 69 per cent.

Springer was the second leading scorer on the club through 23 games with 315 points while four other members of the squad had hit more than 100 points each.

The Buffs have since won two conference games and meet Frenship in a big one on the road Friday.

It's Still Anybody's Guess Who Will Be BS Head Coach

The Big Spring school board, although it has been concentrating on the matter, isn't much closer to the decision of picking a head coach and athletic director than it was the day Herman Smith's letter of resignation was accepted.

Any number of persons have been interviewed by the trustees and the board was led to believe that one well known mentor would be inclined to take the position, if offered a contract.

However, that coach called back this week to say that he had been given a pay raise and an extension of his contract by his present employers and he had decided to stay where he is.

Lamentably, a few of the mentors have used the local job to firm up their own positions, a spokesman close to the school said.

A new round of interviews will probably start this weekend, at which time coaches from as far away as the Houston and San Antonio areas will probably be called in for interviews.

The board has indicated that it may be in a position to offer the top salary in District 2-AA to the new man, if his record merits it. Coach Don Robbins was making $11,500 when he departed here for Texas Western College and indications are strong the Big Spring offer would exceed that, provided the applicant's credentials rate high.

The school's policy, and one generally followed around the state, is not to pay the head coach more than the high school principal.

Jimmy Felts, a member of the board's screening committee, said the trustees were making every effort to fill the position as soon as possible and hoped to have the new man in town no later than Feb. 15.

One man now on the Big Spring staff has made a formal application for the position. At one time, the trustees indicated they would go outside the system for Smith's replacement but have not recently taken a stand on such an issue.

Copter Whirlygig Feat Performed

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Sam Mason was hanging by his seat belt for a while Wednesday.

For him, that's not too unusual. Although white-haired at 49 and a grandfather, Mason is a test pilot.

What was unusual, even for Mason, was that he was in a helicopter at the time flying upside down, and helicopters are not supposed to fly that way.

Mason's feat was performed before several hundred veteran helicopter pilots here for the annual convention of the Helicopter Association of America.

NO HINGES
Among the 20-odd rotor craft on exhibit at the Palm Springs airport, Mason's was unique. Its four blades had no hinges. Most helicopter blades are hinged so they can be swung up or down while whirling to point the rudderless craft in a certain direction without tilting the cabin, suspended beneath them like a pendulum.

The blades of Mason's helicopter were fixed rigidly to the central rotating shaft. This meant that when he tilted the blades he tilted his cabin too. But it also meant that he could roll, loop and fly upside down.

UPSIDE DOWN
If a conventional helicopter were flown upside down there would be danger of damaging the engine. The blades might fold and the wingless craft would fall like a rock. But Mason's blades couldn't fold — they had no hinges.

A spokesman for Lockheed California Co., for which Mason works and which built the rigid-rotor helicopter, said the hingeless concept means the craft could outmaneuver a fighter plane in a dogfight.

Mason set out to prove it. For 15 minutes he performed loops, rolls, rotor-overs (these would be wing-overs in an airplane — a maneuver which stops just short of a full roll), and sundry aerobatics which would leave a fighter pilot dizzy. And all at a height of 500 to 1,500 feet.

Farmers Play Grain Markets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many farmers are using federal mechanisms to speculate on the grain markets.

They are storing more than $750 million worth of wheat, corn, rice, other grains and soybeans under Agriculture Department price support loans as a means of holding title to these commodities while at the same time obtaining money to finance their farm operations.

They're expecting to redeem the crops when prices rise even higher than current levels.

It has been normal for farmers to put extra crops under such loans, particularly when the loans were in line with market prices or above those prices.

But 1966 market prices have been running considerably above loan rates. This reflects the fact that price-depressing surpluses of the past no longer exist and possibilities that supplies may become tight before new crops are harvested.

By placing grains under loans, the farmer is able to take advantage of later advances in prices. There is a general feeling in agriculture that prices of most grains and of soybeans will rise considerably above present levels during the spring and early summer. If and when prices advance, the farmer can pay off his loan and cash in on the advance.

Boston Mayor Seeking Raise

BOSTON (AP) — The mayor of Boston has been getting $20,000 a year salary since 1925 and the present mayor thinks it's about time they got a raise.

Mayor John F. Collins said a number of city officials now receive up to 50 per cent more than the mayor. He suggested the mayor's salary be increased to $40,000, effective in 1968.

Paralyzed Lawyer Builds Elevator

ASOTIN, Wash. (AP) — Asotin County's new prosecuting attorney, E. J. Stanfill, is having an elevator constructed on the outside of the courthouse to carry him to and from court chambers.

The elevator will cost him $1,200.

Stanfill needs the elevator. He's almost completely paralyzed.

Chrysler Recalls 18,124

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. recalled 18,124 of its 1967 model cars Wednesday in a search for possible brake and electrical malfunctions.

And the firm sent 120,215 other new-car owners letters saying some windshield-wiper motors might freeze up during cold weather.

In all, more than 138,000 autos are involved in the warnings.

The firm said only 4,720 of the 18,124 cars may have brake or electrical system defects but "we are recalling all of them because we are not sure which cars may be involved."

The nation's third largest auto maker advised owners of Plymouth Fury and Dodge Polara and Monaco models to test their windshield wipers in cold weather. If the wiper motors fail to work, a spokesman said, the firm is urging the car owners to bring vehicles into dealers for replacement.

The possible brake and electrical system defects were discovered during quality-control engineering tests and there were no known reports of malfunctions from customers, Chrysler said.

Of the 18,124 cars, the recalls include:

Plymouth Barracuda, Dodge Dart, Valiant, Chrysler and Imperial models, of which 3,500 may have a master cylinder push rod bolt that fails to meet Chrysler specifications. If the bolt broke, the firm said, it could result in loss of braking power.

Dodge Coronet and Charger models and Plymouth Belvedere and Satellite models equipped with the 426 cubic inch Hemi engine. About 570 of these models may have interference between the starter cable and the steering shaft lower bearing collar set screw. The interference could cause failure of the electrical system.

Chrysler and Imperial models equipped with auto pilot. In about 650 of these models, routing of the instrument panel electrical wiring harness could allow chafing against the auto pilot brake switch operating lever, resulting in electrical system failure.

Cadillac Improves Garbage Collection

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — A storm and continuing cold weather slowed garbage collections recently in St. Joseph. But one customer felt that despite the complaints, the quality of the local garbage pickup service is improving.

He said that a few hours after phoning the local firm about collection difficulties, his garbage was picked up — not by a truck — but by a worker driving a Cadillac.

Cold Winds Slack Off

By The Associated Press

Bitter winds slacked off and most of Texas seemed a little warmer today although overnight temperatures were nearly as low as the day before.

Skies were clear over the western half of the state and the lack of cloud cover again let the mercury drop sharply.

Readings stayed above freezing only in areas near the coast and the Lower Rio Grande Valley, where there was occasional fog or drizzle in early morning. Clouds overhung all of East Texas.

Low temperatures recorded by 6 a.m. included Perryton 12, Lubbock 13, Childress and Dalhart 15, Amarillo and Midland 16, Abilene, San Angelo, Texarkana and Wichita Falls 17, Fort Worth 22, El Paso and Tyler 24, Dallas and Longview 26, San Antonio 28, Lufkin 31, Beaumont 33, Galveston 37 and Brownsville 47.

Warmer afternoons were forecast throughout the state. Intermittent rain was expected along the middle and upper Texas coast into tonight.

Opening lead: Three of ♣
When South opened with one no trump, North had the ingredients for a raise to game, however, holding two four-card majors, he quite properly employed the two-club convention to probe for a suit contract first. When South denied a major by bidding two diamonds, North proceeded to three no trump without further ado.

West opened the three of clubs and East put up the king which fell to declarer's ace, South observed that, if he could split out the spades, he would have eight tricks with a prospect for a ninth either in the long heart or the king of diamonds.

As a preliminary measure, he cashed the king and ace of spades and all hands followed. Next a small heart was led from dummy on which East played the nine. Declarer covered with the ten of hearts, losing to West's queen.

The jack of clubs came back to drive out South's remaining stopper. Another spade was led to dummy and when the jack appeared, declarer cashed North's long spade, and both opponents discarded diamonds. Next a heart was led on which East played the jack, South winning with the ace. From East's play of first the nine and then the jack of hearts, it appeared that he was now out of the suit, in which case West would have left the eight, six in front of dummy's king, seven. Declarer therefore led a heart from his hand and when West played the six, it was covered by dummy's seven.

Darkness quickly descended on the scene for, after East produced the carefully-concealed eight of hearts, he shifted to a diamond and West cashed two tricks each in diamonds and clubs to send South down to defeat.

Note that East had nothing to lose by dropping the jack of hearts on the second lead of that suit for, after the 9-10-Q go on the first trick, his jack and eight are equals.

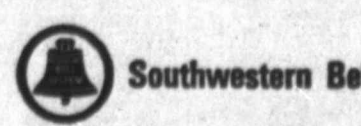

It's what's inside that counts

Southwestern Bell installer trucks carry more than 150 different items—from half-inch nails to telephones to coils of wire. Also on board is a careful driver trained to understand the why's and wherefore's of modern communications.

Throughout the nationwide Bell System, each type of telephone truck is equipped with its own standardized parts and equipment. The same equipment that works in Southwestern Bell also works in any other Bell territory. If trouble strikes—flood, tornado, hurricane—telephone men from one company can be rushed to another company to aid in fast, efficient service restoration. There's no delay because of equipment that won't work or men who don't know what to do.

In time of emergency or during a regular work day, Southwestern Bell's goal is to provide the best telephone service possible. Our expert craftsmen and a fleet of 8,000 well-stocked trucks help us do just that.

A LOVELIER YOU

Catch These Straws From Fashion Wind

By MARY SUE MILLER
This is the time to begin watching spring fashion trends. Trend - watching helps you to spot what's best in incoming fashion and what of the best is best for you.

Based on previews of spring daytime collections, this check list makes a reliable starting point for serious shoppers:
Over-all Silhouettes - Look for the return of the waistline, via fit-and-flare shaping and belts or sashes that circle the waist without nipping it; the modified A-line eased from a very narrow top; the T-tube; the Little Girl, shaped with fullness from yokes; the rippling Float.

Hemline - Short. How short depends on the status of your legs and birth certificate.
Costumes - The by-word is put-together.
Pantsuits - New versions have short pants, in both leggy and shirty types.

Jackets - Bellhop and knuckle lengths.
Fabrics - A panic of prints and color; crisp, grainy, crinkled, lacy, nubby and fluid textures.

Top Note - Soft, sized-down hats with vizor and flip brims; sweeping, cleanly shaped berets, sou'westers, rollers and coolies; felts like butter, starched straws, art nouveau prints.

Foot Note - Shoes with blunt toes, forthright heels, straps and laces; opaque stockings.

Home Symbolizes Gracious Living, Offers Welcome To Young Guests

By RHODA LEMONS

From the wide driveway to the curving walk going up to the handsome front door, the house tells its story of gracious living and a warm welcome to all who enter there. This is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester W. Morton, 701 Capri.

Decorated in cool shades of blue and green with dark brown walnut furniture, the home is both restful and cheerful and provides a proper setting for the vivacious and charming hostess, Mrs. Morton believes a home should be a place of "refuge and comfort for each member of the family."

However, with two active teenagers, Ann, 13, and Bill, 18, a freshman student at the Howard County Junior College, the house takes on the aspects of a "swinging" place at times.

Just recently, Mr. and Mrs. Morton decided to add an additional playroom. They took in the garage area and made it into a billiard room. This way, when the children have friends over, they can have a room in which to entertain away from the den. The re-modeling was so skillfully done, that it looks as if the original house was planned this way.

ENTERTAINING
Mrs. Morton says that she and her husband, Lester, like to entertain small groups informally. They usually have a buffet supper and occasionally play "42."

Morton is president of the First National Bank and a good deal of their entertaining is done away from the home for business purposes.

"Essentially, we are a meat and potatoes family," says Mrs. Morton. New recipes are not too warmly received at first, but if tried, later may become a family favorite.

The Mortons have breakfast together, and some of the other meals are eaten in shifts. The family does have dinner together at least once a week, however.

Ann, a seventh grader at Good Junior High School, assists her mother in the kitchen. On Tuesday nights, she often plans and prepares the entire dinner for the family. Her mother feels that this is wonderful preparation for her in her later life and encourages her daughter in all types of homemaking. Often, Ann will make sandwich and dessert suppers for herself and Bill, while their parents go out for the evening.

Mrs. Morton does not shop on a budget. She buys what the family enjoys and needs and does not shop on Wednesdays. She loves a bargain, but hates standing in line to get one.

In cooking, she uses mixes frequently and thinks they are one of the wonders of our age, as they can be made so quickly and are very good.

Although, she has domestic help twice a week and has her ironing done, Mrs. Morton has very little time to pursue her favorite hobby of reading. She does embroidery and needle point and has just finished embroidering several linen hostess aprons.

ACTIVITIES
Mrs. Morton directs the children's choir, ages six and seven, at the First Baptist Church and, until recently, was an active member of the adult church choir. She is a member of the 1930 Hyperion Study Club, the Child Study Club and the Green Thumb Garden Club. She accompanies her husband on the piano as he does special musical presentations at the church.

The Mortons have membership in the Midland - Odessa Symphony Association and in the Big Spring Concert Association, where he is a board member.

'NOTHING TO IT' ORANGE CAKE

MAKE SOMETHING NEW

Fruit Juice And Rind Add Zest

"Nothin' to It Orange Cake" is the zesty outcome of a modern new consumer packaging concept just unveiled by a milling company in Texas.

Color is the keynote, and flavor is the result... while professional designers created colorful new package designs, a staff of culinary experts developed a new series of "Nothin' to It" recipes.

Now, with gay pastel-colored packages and a delightful collection of new recipes, the makers have added an imaginative touch to flour packages which they feel will add sparkle and zest to meal planning.

If you have room for one more New Year's resolution, resolve to serve this new dessert often.

'NOTHIN' TO IT ORANGE CAKE'

2 cups sugar
1 cup butter or shortening
4 eggs
1 tsp. grated orange rind
1 cup buttermilk
1 tsp. soda
3 cups sifted flour
Cream shortening and sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, beating after each addition. Add grated orange rind; add soda to milk, and blend. Add alternately with flour to creamed mixture. Bake in greased loaf or tube pan at 350 degrees until well done (about 45-55 minutes).

'YOU CAN DO IT ORANGE ICING'

1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 tbsps. white corn syrup
1 1/2 lb. box powdered sugar, sifted
1 tsp. grated orange rind
3 tbsps. orange juice
Blend ingredients until smooth. Add additional orange juice if necessary, to maintain desired consistency.

Pantry Scramble Becomes Popular

Fresh vegetables plus stewed tomatoes from the pantry shelf make a dish that is usually popular.

CORN AND TOMATO SCRAMBLE

3 tbsps. butter or margarine
1 medium onion (cut into thin strips)
2 cups diced celery
1/2 cup diced green pepper
1 1/2 cups corn kernels (cut from 3 large fresh cobs)
1 can (1 lb.) stewed tomatoes
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1/4 tsp. tomato seasoning
In a large skillet melt the butter; add onion, celery and green pepper and cook gently until wilted; stir in corn. Add tomatoes, salt, pepper and tomato seasoning; simmer 10 to 20 minutes. Serve in sauce dishes if you like. Makes 6 to 8 servings.
Note: After kernels are cut from corn, use back of knife to extract corn "milk." If tomato seasoning is not on hand you can season with a mixture of savory, all-spice and paprika.

Serve Sausage, Spanish Rice

Savory, appetizing pork sausage links offer a tempting combination with Spanish rice. To make this a quickie, use the canned or instant variety of rice.

Pork sausage links should be cooked, also, before being placed in the casserole. Place one pound of pork sausage links in a frying pan with two tablespoons of water. Cover tightly and cook five minutes. Remove cover, pour off drippings and lightly brown the links.

Large-Size Snack

A quick man-sized sandwich uses cubed beef steaks dipped in French or Italian dressing, then panfried in lard or drippings and seasoned with salt and pepper. Serve these in large, toasted onion rolls.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

To make a quick mustard sauce for baked ham, use heavy cream and season with prepared yellow mustard, sugar and salt.

Tossed green salad for a company buffet takes to a last-minute addition of toasted walnuts.

Your small fry will love a black-eyed susan salad. To make it, arrange mandarin oranges for the petals of the flower; add a dot of mayonnaise to the center and cover with sliced ripe olive. Make the stem and leaves from salad greenery.

If you like, you may substitute brewed coffee for the water called for in a boiled frosting recipe. This coffee combination tastes good on spice cake.

A good way to keep sandwiches for a party is to place them in a shallow pan, cover them with a damp cloth and refrigerate.

Ever add chopped toasted almonds and chopped drained chutney to minced chicken and mayonnaise for sandwiches? This is an especially delicious combination. Make up this filling just before it is to be used so the almonds will not get soggy.

For a Western sandwich, saute minced onion and green pepper in butter; add the vegetables to slightly beaten eggs along with finely diced ham and salt and pepper. Scramble the mixture (as you would for firm scrambled eggs) and use as the sandwich filling. Serve with

Cut crisp rolls in half lengthwise and butter the cut sides; add a layer of cole slaw and one of fried oysters as the filling for an unusual sandwich.

Like almond flavoring in a frosting for cake? For a frosting made with two cups of confectioners sugar and about two tablespoons of hot milk, you may want to add as much as a teaspoon of the almond flavoring.

Ever drain and slice dill pickles and add to the syrup left from sweet pickles?

Turn creamed fish into a pie plate; cover with strips of pastry arranged in lattice fashion. Bake in a hot oven. Delicious for lunch or supper with a crisp salad.

Give small cooked shrimp a spicy marinade; use the flavorful seafood with avocado for a luncheon salad.

Souffles usually have most staying power when they are baked (with or without a water-bath) in a slow oven.

You can combine thinly sliced pared apples and pears for a one-crust pie with a streusel-type topping. Combining the two fruits gives interesting flavor.

Add minced chives, sweet gherkins, pimiento and parsley to oil- and vinegar dressing; serve over halves of hard-cooked eggs and lettuce for a luncheon salad.

So? What else is new?

Thailand Officials Trying To Dampen Commie Fires

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — With strong American support and encouragement, Thailand is mounting a two-pronged offensive against the growing Communist insurgency problem in its northeast provinces.

The Thai approach to the threat is aimed at strengthening security in the vulnerable areas and at bringing the northeast into the mainstream of the nation's economic, political and social life.

"We're trying to do two things at once—throw water on a burning house and bring about long-range development," an American aid expert said.

In the security field, the Thais are centering their counterinsurgency measures in the national police, with the 85,000-man Thai army backing them up.

POLICE BEEFED UP
The national police have been beefed up to 55,000 men and the plan is to increase the force to 62,000 by midyear.

The target date for a general improvement in police and security operations is next June, and some of the programs are only now off the ground.

The main objectives are to promote what is called "remote area security" by stationing policemen in villages where they were only occasionally—and often unwelcome—visitors in the past; by creating a citizens' police militia, by organizing helicopter-borne "quick reaction strike forces," and by installing a wide-coverage police radio net.

POLISH IMAGE
The Thais also are trying to polish up the police image.

The police used to live off the peasants, demanding food and lodging. Now, officials say the police pay for these things. The government had been three years behind in paying police living expenses. This has been overcome.

The police-oriented security program is being pushed with the aid of nearly $14 million in U.S. funds and 43 American advisers drawn from civilian U.S. police departments, FBI-trained lawmen, customs service veterans and the ranks of retired Army Special Forces officers.

WEAPONS NEEDED
Air Chief Marshal Dawee Chuvalasapya, Thailand's chief of staff, contends that "we can fight against the Communists by ourselves."

But he adds that his country needs more and better weapons and other equipment, and he does not rule out the possibility that Thailand may have to ask the United States for more direct aid.

"If the Communists get the upper hand in Vietnam," he says, "no doubt they will come in force against Thailand."

There are about 35,000 U.S. servicemen in Thailand, twice the commitment of a year ago. Of these, 25,000 are involved in air operations against North

Tower Urged To Seek GOP Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP)—Increasing mail to Sen. John Tower of Texas from persons in widely scattered parts of the nation is urging him to seek the Republican presidential nomination.

This, along with the fact that he has emerged as one of the foremost GOP leaders in the South, makes it virtually certain Texas will play a key role in the 1968 GOP national convention. Such a role might lead to Tower getting at least the No. 2 spot on the ticket.

Aware that many a presidential drive has been nipped in the bud by bad timing, the 41-year old one-time political science professor is saying little at this point.

TOO EARLY
"It's too early for the party to be picking sides," he observes. "We have a number of people who would make good nominees. For myself, I'm not seeking any other office, but of course it's flattering to be mentioned."

A sample of the letters is one received from Anthony F. Andrade Jr., chairman of Sacramento County unit of the Young Republicans of California.

"Speaking on behalf of the Sacramento County Young Republicans," he wrote, "I respectfully request that you consider the possibility of placing yourself in the position of becoming a candidate for the office of the presidency in 1968."

A group of students at Chaminade in Hawaii wrote of plans to start a "Tower for President" club.

NO ILLUSIONS
Letters from leaders of GOP groups in Missouri, Indiana and Florida have also been received by Tower.

With persons like Govs. George Romney of Michigan and Ronald Reagan of California and former vice president Richard M. Nixon being mentioned as likely choices for the Republican presidential nomination, Tower is said by friends to be holding no illusions he would have much of a chance.

But, wise to the ways of politics and the adage "You don't run for the vice presidency," he may let a "Tower for President" boom build up so that he can go to the convention with a sizable bloc of delegate votes. He thus would be in a good trading position that could lead to the vice presidential nomination.

Teachers Okay Salary Scale

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland teachers voted today to accept a new salary scale offered by the Board of Education, averting a strike in the city's public school system.

Members of the Cleveland Teachers Union approved the terms by a margin of more than 2-1, union President James E. O'Meara reported.

A union official said the union membership varies, but usually is around 3,000, about half the total teaching staff.

Teachers had scheduled a strike last midnight.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An extra martini a day means 10 pounds of fat in a year but exercise rather than dieting may be the best way to overcome calories.

Dr. Jean Mayer, a professor of nutrition at Harvard University's school of public health, said Wednesday that there is virtually no difference in the diet of the slender person and the fat man.

But the fat man may take an extra martini or an extra half sandwich, Mayer said. "Small differences, but daily."

Mayer was reporting to the Dair Council of California on a study he and his colleagues have been conducting at Harvard. It isn't really the food that makes persons overweight, said Mayer. It's that fatties eat more than they burn off each day.

That half a sandwich or that extra martini could be burned up, for example, with a brisk 20-minute walk each day, he said. The fat man's biggest single villain is lack of exercise.

"The American woman doesn't walk 10 miles a day in her home," Mayer said. "It's more like 250 yards. But that's 250 yards more than her husband."

"Moderate exercise for Americans is planning to play golf next weekend; strenuous exercise is the golf game you played last weekend."

The best regimen for fat people, Mayer said, is eating only what's needed for good nutrition; regular, adequate exercise and persistence.

DEAR ABBY

Don't Delay That Diet!

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and I am ready to run away from home. My problem is my mother. To begin with I am overweight, which I know I am, but my mother doesn't let me forget it for a minute. I've been on several diets but none of them has been any good for me. Well my mother watches every bite I put into my mouth. I am not on a diet now because the doctor told my mother not to throw out any more money on pills and office calls for me because I wasn't "mature" enough to stay on a diet.

Well, when I get good and ready to go on a diet, I will, but right now I am resting, so will you please print this so my mother may see it and maybe she'll let me enjoy a meal once in a while. Thank you.

DEAR RESTING: All right, I printed your letter for your mother to see. Now, a word to you: Don't "rest" too long because the more weight you pile on while you're "resting," the more difficult it will be to lose. Your mother is trying to spare you misery later on, so shape up.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is very generous about money matters, but he thinks everything I buy for the house, large or small, should have his approval. He wants to be consulted about paint color, drapery fabric, every little inexpensive light fixture, ash tray, etc. He says he lives here, too, and should have his say about the furnishings.

He never consults me about the thousands of dollars worth of sports equipment he buys. Or his office furnishings, or even his car. He says these things concern only him. It is not a matter of taste, because he admits that mine is better. His father was a tyrant who had his mother completely cowed and took the spirit out of her. This situation is getting on my nerves. How would you handle it?

DEAR CALIFORNIAN: Dutifully consult your husband about each item you wish to buy for your home. Then buy what you want.

DEAR ABBY: I hope you will not think I'm some kind of a nut, but I want to share this with someone and you are elected: I work for a real estate company, and whenever business is bad, I wear an old green skirt that has been cut off at the bottom with a pinking shears, and business picks up immediately!

I try not to overdo it, and I never wear my "good luck" skirt unless business is really in a slump. I suppose it is only a coincidence, but that old green skirt has never failed me.

I wonder if there are other people who have a good luck charm that works for them like mine does for me?"

"ODD BALL!"

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069.

For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Dr. Sam Seeks Medic License

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard says he has applied for a license to practice neurosurgery in California.

Sheppard, recently acquitted in Cleveland, Ohio, in the murder of his first wife, Marilyn, after serving nearly 10 years in prison, greeted his son, Samuel Jr., 19, a student at Boston University, who arrived by air Wednesday to spend a vacation with his father.

Sheppard said he has been living in nearby Glendale.

Mrs. Harris Dies In Sweetwater

She was born Rosie Lee Sellers, Dec. 30, 1918 in San Angelo, moved to Sweetwater in 1938 and married O. B. Harris Sept. 14, 1946, in Big Spring. Funeral was to be at 4 p.m. Thursday with burial here.

Government, Business Relationship Changing

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — With a forecast of events that was incisive, witty and debatable, John Kenneth Galbraith must have provoked defiant snorts in businessmen's clubs throughout the nation.

Speaking in London, the Harvard economist, former ambassador to India and adviser to President John F. Kennedy, declared recently that many large corporations some day may blend into a larger administrative complex with the state.

"In time the line between the two will disappear," he said. "Men will look back in amusement at the pretense that once caused people to refer to General Electric or Du Pont or Vickers as private business."

ANCIENT FRICTION
He spoke about that ancient source of friction — the changing relationship between government and business. This is an age of development in that relationship.

The fact is that business and government increasingly find themselves in this disputed territory and, judged by some standards, often crossing the border into each other's lands.

The size of the job each must handle is growing. When an activist government is deeply involved in regulation of railroads, automobiles, drugs and other products friction is inevitable.

GUIDEPOSTS
The government also is committed to marketplace activities of raising or lowering prices and wages to, in its view, stabilize the economy. This is now a nebulous area defined more by guideposts than by laws.

Political considerations aside, big government is as much a fact of the 20th Century as is big business. At least 20 per cent of the Gross National Product is in federal, state and local government activities.

involved with government jobs, directly as in the military or indirectly through government contracts and other activities. The federal government is the biggest property owner. It is the major customer, too.

OBVIOUS CHANGES
Some of the nation's largest companies have 50 to 75 per cent or even more of their business with the federal government. Mutually involved in products, government agencies and some business find themselves also mutually dependent.

Evidence of this changing relationship is obvious.

Fortune Magazine estimates 300 companies maintain permanent, full-time liaison offices in Washington. Washington lawyers are employed for their expertise not just in corporate affairs but in the art of political persuasion and in knowledge of bureaucratic anatomy. Retired military men find corporate jobs easily.

State Hospital Bids Are Delayed

AUSTIN — The State Building Commission has delayed until Jan. 26 a bid opening on the construction of an addition to the warehouse building at Big Spring State Hospital to double the hospital's warehouse facilities.

A spokesman for the commission said that a last-minute minor addendum had to be made, and the staff felt that the bidders should have additional time to file their bids. The addition will include 6,000 square feet and cost is expected to approximate $49,600. The building will have a reinforced concrete frame and masonry walls.

Driller Dies Here

ODESSA — Billy Branson, 48, an oilwell cased, died Wednesday morning at the veterans hospital in Big Spring after a three-week illness. Services will be held at 10 a.m. Friday in Hubbard-Kelly Funeral Home Chapel with burial in Sunset Memorial Gardens.

Texaco's Strike Ends

PORT ARTHUR (AP)—A ten day strike at Texaco's Port Arthur refinery ended Wednesday when three unions signed two-year contracts.

The contracts call for the pattern wage hike of 14 cents an hour effective at once and four per cent effective Jan. 1, 1968. Present scales average about $3.57 an hour.

The strike by the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers had idled 4,000 workers. The Office and Professional Employees Union, which was not on strike but honored the picket lines, was included in the contracts.

Plant Mgr. F. D. Dorr said the plant was being returned to full operation, a process that will require about three days. At nearby Fort Neches, the Machinists and Aerospace Workers Union and the Pipefitters Union has been on strike since Jan. 4 against Jefferson Chemical's plant, idling 400 people.

8 Satellites Circle Globe

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Eight new communications satellites spun around the globe today, undergoing tests to qualify them as carriers of secret messages between far-flung U.S. military bases.

The eight were launched from Cape Kennedy Wednesday by an Air Force Titan 3 rocket that sprayed them like buckshot into separate orbits 21,000 miles up. They joined seven other identical payloads sent last June.

The first seven already are speeding messages among eight ground stations. Emphasis is on traffic between Washington and Vietnam.

Col. W. T. Olsson of the Defense Communications Agency said the new batch would be tested several weeks, and fully would be operational this summer. They were ejected from the rocket at slightly different speeds so they gradually will drift apart to form a necklace around the earth above the equator.

Col. Marion Gibson, satellite program director for the Air Force, said the satellites were working fine. "They're good, healthy satellites," he said.

COULD BE GOOD DEAL WORSE Moscow News Coverage Problems Are Manifold

MOSCOW (AP) — The job of informing the world of what goes on in the Soviet Union remains a difficult one. Yet, in many respects, it is easier than it was a half-dozen years ago and a far cry from the days of Joseph Stalin.

Resident foreign correspondents are subject to restrictions, invisible pressures, lack of sources of information, red-tape regulations and rigidly managed news. Things that are simple and easy in almost any Western country can be infuriatingly difficult here.

On the plus side, direct censorship has been lifted since 1916. Correspondents can file news dispatches — though not photos — to home offices directly, without prior scrutiny by censors or interference. They can receive news in their own offices from the outside. All this sharply contrasts with the Stalin era. So does the relative freedom to interpret the news, to say what is wrong, to provide background balance on official reports and claims.

IRRITATIONS
Some of the irritations which plague foreign correspondents in Moscow exist in many other countries but the Soviet Union adds complications of its own.

For one thing, the correspondent in Moscow has a feeling of isolation which makes life difficult. Russians can be warmly friendly on a casual basis but they are continually warned by the Soviet press to beware of foreigners, portrayed as potential spies and saboteurs.

Few Russians have permission to mix freely with foreigners living here. They include a handful of journalists, people from the Foreign and Foreign Trade ministries, the theater, Russians without permission are barred from foreigners' residences by police who guard the entrances.

DIFFERENT SOURCES
Sources of news are a good deal different from those which would be found in non-Communist lands. There are journalist colleagues representing Communist newspapers in the West or papers of Communist nations. There is the official Soviet news agency Tass — the initials stand for Telegraph Agency of the Soviet Union. There is the rigidly controlled Soviet press. There is the "State Committee for Cultural Relations with Foreign Countries." And there is always — for a price — Novosti.

Novosti press agency is a curious organization. It says it is not official, but that is a technicality. Everything in this country is official, and no "public" organizations exist except as fronts for the government or the Communist party.

Novosti — though it likely would not relish the analogy — is the counterpart of the U.S. Information Service. It provides material for propaganda publications of Soviet embassies abroad. In its guise as a news agency, it can supply material directly to foreign newspapers.

DOORS CLOSED
A Novosti department can produce on order a story about almost any subject which does not reflect unfavorably on the U.S.S.R. It can go to sources denied to foreign correspondents. So it sells both the entrée and its work.

An American journalist who came on a visit last year found other doors closed to him so he tried Novosti.

Novosti obliged — at a charge of $50 a day for help. This consisted of arranging interviews and sending along a translator. Hired independently, tourist translators cost $11.67 a day.

Another source is the State Committee for Cultural Relations. It serves up prearranged news conferences, most of them dull, dealing with industrial exhibits, tourism plans and similar subjects. The low-level officials who hold these conference sidestep sharp questions or sometimes insult the questioner.

TOURISM CIRCUIT
The committee arranges trips for foreign correspondents. This is the tourism circuit — model farms and similar attractions.

The Cultural Committee and the Foreign Ministry's press department are the only official points of contact for non-Communist correspondents. Requests for interviews or certain types of information must be addressed to the committee. Many requests wither and die of age. Others are referred to Novosti, which seldom is used by resident correspondents for stories.

Most official, confirmed news comes from Tass, which is directly subordinate to Premier Alexei N. Kosygin's Cabinet. Though Tass calls itself a news agency, it is often a system for distributing announcements which in other countries would come from government information staffs or public relations men.

PAPERS CONTROLLED
Tass covers functions which foreign correspondents could cover for themselves if they were not barred. It also covers events which the foreigners lack the manpower to handle.

Official and semi-official news is available in Moscow's 10 daily and 15 weekly or semi-weekly newspapers, which are an important source for the foreign correspondent.

Although all papers are tightly controlled by a censorship system designed to keep secrets out of print and guard the party line, some criticisms are permitted.

WARNING
Both diplomats and journalists must interpret what information they get, and this involves judgment. Occasionally a tendency arises among correspondents to make diplomatic speculation look in print as if it is hard fact. This sometimes turns a report from a source of doubtful authority into an article which sounds authoritative.

The truth is that virtually every item that is attributed to sources — no matter what other adjectives are chosen — carries an implied warning that the news is unconfirmed. It probably is unconfirmed but if a Westerner waited for confirmed news he would report little about many important subjects.

Photos and television film are subject to censorship. Because of this, news organizations cannot themselves transmit photos abroad by wire.

A Devotional For The Day

While the people pressed upon him to hear the word of God, he was standing by the lake of Gennesaret. (Luke 5:1, RSV)

PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee for the many men and women who have toiled and sacrificed to give us the Bible in our own native tongue. Help us to study it with the same earnest enthusiasm. May the truth we discover there guide us through this day. In Jesus' name. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

An Uphill Fight

President Johnson will have to make a better and far more detailed case for the merger—a more economical, efficient and modern instrument to serve a growing nation—than he did in one succinct paragraph in his State of the Union Message.

Actually, the proposal is not new; it would be a return to the organizational status of those functions between 1903 and 1913. A Bureau of Labor was created in 1884 in the Department of the Interior; later that bureau was made an independent department without Cabinet rank. Labor affairs reverted to bureau status in 1903, when Congress created the Department of Commerce and Labor. In 1913 at the beginning of the Wilson administration, during which much labor legislation was passed, Congress established the separate Cabinet-rank departments for commerce (or business) and labor.

During the ensuing half century, during which the American labor movement achieved its full maturity of political and economic power, organized labor came to view the Department of Labor as its special-interests representative in the federal administration. And labor secretaries have customarily been viewed as labor spokesmen. Business and industrial managements similarly view the Department of Commerce and its secretaries—just as farmers do the Department of Agriculture and its Cabinet member.

It is probably true that the federal functions relating to commerce or business and labor are sufficiently interrelated that they could be more efficiently and economically administered if integrated. And possibly that merger could ease—as the President may have in mind—the “adversary stance” of labor and management in national economic affairs.

The question is, however, whether either organized labor or the business community can be persuaded that giving up their separate “voices in the Cabinet” will not run counter to their own interests. This is the issue which Congress must resolve, and Congress is unlikely to approve the President's proposal unless it can muster the apparently joint support of labor and business leaders—which now seems doubtful.

The Death Penalty

Among the many problems that the new governor of California, Ronald Reagan, must face is that of capital punishment. Just before he left office, Gov. Edmund G. Brown commuted the sentences of four murderers in the death row of San Quentin Prison to life imprisonment.

But there are still 62 other prisoners on San Quentin's death row. Gov. Reagan will have to make a decision. The possibility of almost mass executions in order to get rid of the prisoners on death row is likely to haunt him.

James D. French, a convicted murder, is believed to have been the only person executed by any state in 1966. He went to his death on Aug. 10, 1966, at the Oklahoma State Prison at McAlester. The trend is clear: The death penalty is dying, even though 37 states still authorize capital punishment.

Aside from moral and religious objections, many observers have now reached the conclusion that the death penalty is not a deterrent to capital crimes. Society should not impose it for revenge. On the other hand, some substitute for permanent removal needs to be found.

David Lawrence

The Pacifist Professors

WASHINGTON—President Johnson has received a letter from 462 members of the teaching staff at Yale University urging him to “declare an unconditional halt to the bombing of North Vietnam.” If, after the name of each of the signers, the simple notation “college professor” or “instructor” had been made, there could be no criticism, as this would be the proper exercise of the right of free speech. The letter, however, formally referred to the signers as “members of the Yale faculty.”

ARE THESE same college professors, it may be asked, justified in using the name of Yale University to lend prestige to their communication? Is it true that a spokesman for the signers declared that they “by no means purport to represent the position of the University.” But every news article correctly stated that “462 members of the Yale University faculty” signed the letter.

If Yale University were to discipline these professors for using the name of Yale in a communication on a political issue, a hullabaloo would immediately be raised that the right of free speech was being impaired. But a university also has rights, and it can insist that the members of its faculty refrain from using the name of the institution in any public controversy, political or otherwise.

THE LETTER sent to President Johnson by the 462 Yale professors is an example of a pacifist philosophy. The signers, in calling for an “unconditional halt,” apparently are willing to take such action without any word from the enemy as to what it will do. To ask the President to see to it that American troops are deprived of protection against enemy attacks is to interfere in the operations of the war itself and to jeopardize many lives. Past experiences with an announced interruption of the fighting in Vietnam have shown that civilians as well as soldiers have been assaulted by the Communists during so-called “truce” periods.

THE 462 PROFESSORS who sent the letter to President Johnson represent less than 25 per cent of the Yale faculty, which numbers about 2,000. All the members of the faculty had an opportunity to endorse the letter if they wished to do so. A number expressed open dissent, and the vast majority either were opposed or just did not want to have anything to do with it.

SIGNERS OF THE letter included the heads of 15 departments, and the deans of the Schools of Medicine, Law and Divinity. Certainly the impression could be created in the minds of parents of the students at Yale University that there are members of the faculty who, in the middle of a war, believe the United States should suddenly stop military operations and, in effect, surrender to the enemy.

IT IS THE identification with Yale University that made the headlines. The institution itself has a right to insist that its name shall be respected and that, while members of the faculty may say anything they like as individual citizens, they should not, in their public utterances on political issues, identify themselves with the university.

One Squad Deaf

AMHERST, N. S. (AP)—The stentorian roar of a parade-ground sergeant-major would be useless with No. 154 Squadron of the Royal Canadian Air Cadets here.

Its 24 members are deaf. Its flight commander, J. H. Wells, uses hand signals at drills.

But instead of standing directly in front of his squad, he places himself exactly 3 1/2 steps to the left so all personnel can see his signals.

Wells, staff member of this town's Interprovincial School for the Education of the Deaf, began the auxiliary flight this year as an experiment and now feels it will be permanent.

Odds Against Liberals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The liberal impulse in this new 90th Congress already looks puffed-out. Not that it won't keep trying to prevail. But the odds are against it.

The mood of liberalism had its most shining hour, perhaps for years to come, in the 89th Congress. There the Democrats completely dominated, thanks to the 1964 elections which swept in a wave of liberals.

But in this 90th Congress, this time thanks to the 1966 elections, the mood and the people are more conservative.

Three recent events show it.

THE VOTE to keep the playboy-preacher politician Democrat from Harlem, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, from taking his House seat until he can be investigated; the vote making it tougher to get action from the House Rules Committee; and the obvious defeat of an attempt to make it easier to kill a Senate filibuster.

Emerging now is a revived coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats who had been the tycoons of Congress for generations until the 89th moved in.

That Congress, extending over 1965 and 1966, gave President Johnson a honeymoon, the kind he may never see again even if he serves two terms. It set a record for passing major legislation.

IN THE 1966 elections the Republicans gained 47 House seats and three in the Senate where Democrats outnumber them 64 to 36.

Although they still look vastly outnumbered there, the Republicans' leader there, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, is a powerful voice and influence, both of them highly conservative.

Wednesday Dirksen was in the forefront — although in this case Mansfield was by his side — in all but polishing off a liberal attempt to make it simpler to throttle a filibuster.

AS THE YEAR goes on Dirksen will be the dominant conservative force in the Senate where a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats could stymie a lot of Johnson programs.

But in the House that coalition has already been in operation. After viewing what the House did on its opening day, Jan. 10, a New York liberal Democrat, Rep. Emanuel Celler, said “what happened today is a forerunner of what you can expect in this Congress. The Republicans and Democrats are going to kill all liberal legislation. They will be entirely reactionary.”

With an obvious reference to some recent American big-selling, many-paged novels, Peter Wolfe said that if the makeup of the ultimate in best-selling books are: Sex, money, violence, drugs, drink, perversion, espionage, religion, sado-masochism, racial prejudice, politics, royalty, mystery, excess, animals, obscurity, exotic locations, topical references, sheer bulk, then he has the book.

HE ADDED that with all the above it could not fail to sell in the millions.

In a red-and-white-colored printed announcement of this book that he is not going to publish, he lifted eight paragraphs which he said contains all of the above ingredients.

The eight paragraphs were: “The Rev. Hereward Pingweed opened his eyes slowly and painfully. The room was unfamiliar. The bed was a strange one. He could feel a soft bulk of femininity beside him. A voice cut through the purple mists.

“HEREWARD, beloved, are you unwell?” “It was his wife Lavinia.

“Ah, Lavinia, my love. My head is positively thumping. For a moment I could not think where I was.”

“I shall get you an aspirin, beloved. You really should not have had that glass of port on an empty stomach last night. It was so strange for you — you normally drink sherry. I hope it doesn't spoil the first day of our week in Bognor Regis, especially after we have saved so hard for a holiday.”

“It was temperate of me, my pet. But I did need to calm my nerves after what I overheard that awful Irishman say about the late King William.”

“YES, BELOVED. Perhaps the Conservative Club would have been a wiser choice than O'Rafferty's Bar. But do not torture yourself. On the first night in a strange town we had to spy out the land a little. Would you like the morning papers? The weather forecast says that today will be showery with bright intervals.”

“Thank you, my dear,” replied the Rev. Pingweed, whipling round.

Furnishing a key of 36 references to the above paragraph, Wolfe said it contained every ingredient now supposed to make up the best selling novel.

“Just check them over,” said Wolfe. “Everything's there.”

Wolfe is regarded as London's most off-beat publisher — but a highly successful one.

To Your Good Health

There Are Ways To Tease Your Appetite

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. — is that you have an appetite, but not for the things you think you are allowed to eat.

You need protein, which means meat, fish, eggs, cheese. True, you must avoid adding salt to your food, but at the grocery you can get salt substitutes which are made with potassium and not with sodium. These substitutes add a good deal of flavor.

Lemon juice and vinegar both can add a tartness to certain dishes and compensate for the lack of salt.

You can broil meat instead of frying it and thus avoid the added fat required for frying.

I concede that eggs without salt aren't as tasty, but the use of salt substitutes and pepper can make up to some degree.

Another possibility is to use one of the liquid diets, which are readily available. They are mainly used by people who want to reduce, because the liquid is high in protein, vitamins and minerals which are needed for health, yet the total number of calories is kept within fixed limits. These diets, as I've mentioned before, were not originated as “reducing diets,” but intended for people with finicky appetites who needed an easy way to eat some of the things they need.

There are ways to get the food you need without damaging your heart or raising your blood pressure. What I suspect is that you have told your doctor that you “have no appetite,” when what you really mean, and should have said, is that you need his help in explaining just what you can eat safely. For when you are hungry, you have an appetite.

Bed-wetting is a distressing problem. If your child has the habit, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of his helpful booklet, “Enuresis — Ten Ways to Stop Bed-Wetting.” Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim

Super, Super, Super

“Hello, sports fans, this is your happy friend, Bill Flapdoodle, sitting in the Super Booth, in the Super Bowl, in the Super City, ready to bring you the Super Game on Super Sunday. With me is Buck Stringer, who will help with the super coverage this super network is offering this year.”

“It's the Sunday we've all been waiting for, Bill.”

“WELL SAID and aptly put, Buck. I'm sure the viewers have already seen the Preview Show, the Super Preview Show, the Forecast Show, and the Super Forecast Show, so they should be up on who is playing here today. There is one announcement we wanted to make about commercials: there will be no banners hanging from the blimp over the field this year.”

“It's the Sunday we've all been waiting for, Bill.”

“I'M GLAD you added that part, Buck, because millions of viewers all over the nation are sitting in their living rooms waiting for that super kick-off and the start of the super play that will determine the super team. In all my years at the mike, this has got to be the tops, as I'm sure it is for you too.”

“It's the Sunday we've all been waiting for, Bill.”

“YOU SAID it all that time, Buck. For those who tuned in late, I want to add that after a long season of games, playoffs, all-star games, and bowl games, we have finally reached the peak—the super game between the super teams here on Super Sunday. Anything to add, Buck?”

“It's the Sunday we've all been waiting for, Bill.”

“YOU PUT the cap on it that time, Buck. Incidentally, we have a super half-time show coming up for this all-time great event that is certain to please all the family and advertisers watching us here on Super Sunday, so don't flip to another channel for a breather during the intermission, as they have the same thing. That right Buck?”

(Stepping in for Buck, we thought the ball game was relatively a good one, but the rest of it was just a bit too “super” for our tastes.)

The New-Fangled Poll Tax

WASHINGTON — In 1968, the American people not only get their choice of the presidential pick, but also the nearly unprecedented opportunity to nullify a foolish act of Congress.

Under the laborious title of Presidential Election Campaign Fund Act (Title III, Public Law 89-809), federal income taxpayers are allowed to earmark $1 of the pay-out to underwrite the total campaign expenses of the two major parties. A check-off to allow this $1 to be so spent is equivalent to an endorsement of P. L. 89-809. It was introduced by Senator Long of Louisiana and is known in Washington as the “Christmas tree bill” because of the number of gimcracks that were attached. President Johnson had no choice but to approve or veto the bill in its entirety.

BY DECLINING to make the check-off, the citizen can show his disapproval—the first step toward eventual nullification. People who take time to examine this involved form of poll tax will hardly hesitate. They will use their tax forms as a blackball of an utterly absurd and brazen imposture.

The counts against this Act are numerous. First, it is an unjustifiable way for the federal government to spend an estimated $60 million of taxpayers' money. It subsidizes yet another American enterprise—national campaigning—which clearly ought to be paid for by the participants and their backers.

THEN, THERE'S the gang-up aspect of the gimmick. Members of both parties greedily voted that there should be a two-party kitty, out of which Democratic and Republican expenses would be paid. Why the campaign committees should get a thin dime for trying to capture the yearended-for-prize of the White House is also beyond any logical explanation.

But this is not the worst of it. The taxpayer who is glibly offered to earmark his $1 is paying, in effect, a tribute to political neutralism—for he is contributing to both parties, one of which he hopes to see defeated.

THIS MEANS a pocketbook-surrender of some degree of partisanship, and partisanship is only the political term for one's free opinion. In a strong analogy, it is like giving a pint of blood, out of which a gill or more is to be donated to the Viet Cong. No American voter with any political convictions at all should be called upon to vitalize the opposition.

IT IS ALSO a perpetuation of the least valuable activities in national politics. Campaigning is grossly expensive because of two items—travel and television time. Neither is worth what it costs. A lot could be said for the old-fashioned front porch campaigns when a candidate staved put and allowed delegations to call upon him and discuss the issues. TV has put a premium on glamour so that the shape and size of a man's nose becomes as important to history as was Cleopatra's. To subsidize travel and TV is to stress the wrong qualities in men who are up for the presidency.

ARGUMENTS WERE made on House and Senate floor that this political subsidy would help maintain the two-party system, but anything maintained by subsidy is suspect of inherent weakness. The two parties are already too much alike. This Act will preserve that status quo.

Luckily, the people in '68 will get a crack at repealing a preposterous and injurious hunk of legislation. For if enough taxpayers abstain, the next Congress will get the message of repeal.

Peace-Feeling Made Easy

Many attempts have been made to persuade the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong to come to the negotiating table. None of these attempts has been successful because the Communists claim that when we say one thing we mean just the opposite.

The question then arises of how to persuade the North Vietnamese that we're sincere about wanting negotiations and a cease fire. The answer is we can't. No matter how many times we say we want a peaceful settlement, the Communists reject our overtures as nothing more than a smoke screen to escalate the war.

SO I BELIEVE it's time we tried something new. We must use the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong distrust of American intentions to our advantage.

We could do something like this: First, we would plant the following story in the newspapers:

“Roving Ambassador Averell Harriman returned from a trip to nine neutral countries where he informed leaders that the United States had no intention of negotiating with the Communists over Vietnam. Harriman said the United States was very satisfied to continue the war and would refuse to meet in Geneva or anywhere else to discuss peace conditions.”

AS SOON AS this story appears, radio Hanoi would be forced to reply to it, probably in this fashion:

“Hanoi is not fooled by America's inflexibility on peace negotiations. We are aware that this is just a smoke screen to de-escalate the war, and we are serving notice on the forces of aggression that we will not be tricked into fighting a long war. We will get the United States to the peace table one way or another.”

AT THIS POINT Ambassador Arthur Goldberg would get up in the United Nations and say, “I would be less than candid if I did not say that we have no intention of going to the peace table. It is no secret that our only reason for being in Vietnam in the first place is to make it a colony of the United States. Without Vietnamese rice the United States could not exist.”

The North Vietnamese premier would then tell Harrison Salisbury of the New York Times:

“Goldberg is lying. We know the real intention of the United States is to pull out all American troops and leave the country in a mess. The United States will have to face the consequences if it leaves Saigon in the lurch.”

IT WOULD THEN be Dean Rusk's turn to appear on Meet the Press. Rusk would say, “I'm sick and tired of denying over and over again that the United States has any intention of negotiating in Vietnam. There is nothing to negotiate about, and it is foolish for people to think we could sit down and settle our differences over a conference table.

“I would appreciate it if U Thant and everyone else would stop using their good offices to find a way out of this stalemate. Besides, I'm much too busy to think about Vietnam at the moment with the Montreal world's fair coming up in the spring.”

ANGERED AND frustrated, Ho Chi Minh would make a personal appeal to the Pope. In a telegram he would say, “World opinion demands that the United States be forced to go to Geneva immediately to meet with us and begin discussions on a peace settlement. We can wait neither for preconditions nor a favorable climate. It is now or never.”

Pope Paul would make a special Easter plea to the United States to meet in Geneva.

The U.S. State Department spokesman would reply:

RELUCTANTLY, and only because we feel it will not produce any results, the United States is agreeing to meet with North Vietnam concerning a peace settlement in Vietnam.”

Thus, Hanoi would believe they had scored a victory, and we would get the ball rolling on peace negotiations without their knowing it was our idea in the first place.

In the words of that great statesman, Talleyrand, “If you're going to be in a credibility gap, you might as well be in it up to your ears.”

JUST LIKE ALICE

Texas Rabbits Might Have Own Wonderland

By The Associated Press
If you could follow a rabbit down a hole in West or Central Texas, you might find yourself in a wonderland.

It wouldn't be Alice's wonderland, but possibly a limestone cavern, of which there are hundreds. Some are large but most are small.

Texas caves vary from the large Devil's Sinkhole in Edwards County to the intricate maze of Indian Creek Cave in Uvalde County and the rock shelters of 25 to 30 feet in the Langtry area.

The majority of these caves are formed in carbonate rocks such as limestone and dolomite.

GREAT CAVES

Except for isolated spots in other sections of Texas, the great cave area of the state is found on the vast limestone plateau of West and Central Texas.

Caves are one feature of a type of land form known as karst topography.

The development of a karst landscape begins with an extensive sheet of thick, massive limestone. Usually the limestone is jointed and it may be broken by several fault zones.

The joints and breaks give water ready access to the rock underground. Because limestone is relatively soluble in surface and sub-surface water, it may be eaten away.

DEEP POOLS

Or the water may stand on the surface in shallow pools, which gradually become deeper due to the composition of the rock.

Thus in the second stage of karst development, surface drainage tends to follow line of weakness in the carbonate rocks. Channels and large caverns are formed in areas of limestone.

Characteristically, major stream channels in a limestone plateau tend to lie in valleys of moderate depth which are several times wider than the channel stream.

This feature on the Edwards Plateau is especially evident in Sutton County on the drive along U.S. 290 to Sonora Caverns. A rise gives a view across several succeeding hills and valleys.

Despite fairly well-developed surface drainage in the Edwards Plateau, vast quantities of water pour through millions of cracks, sinkholes and caves into a giant natural system of underground streams.

As water continues to trickle or flow through the limestone, it eats out great caverns.

BEAUTIFUL COLUMNS

After a cavern is formed over millions of years, or even while it is building, the dripping water may leave deposits of minerals resulting in beautiful columns hanging from the roof or rising from the floor.

These are made from calcite, dolomite, gypsum and occasionally less common minerals such as limonite, celestite or selenite.

Much of the underground water eventually comes to the surface in the form of springs.

Few of the caverns or caves are connected although they may be near each other, and explorations are not expected to reveal ties between them.

SPELUNKERS BARED

Caves and caverns in the Glen Rose, Edwards, Georgetown and Buda limestones are of the Cretaceous age, or about 80 to 120 million years old.

Those around San Saba, Burnet and Llano counties are in the much older Ellenburger group of Ordovician age, or more than 400 million years old.

Most caves have good air circulation, but circulation is poor in others and carbon dioxide tends to accumulate.

Several caverns, however, have been commercially developed with guided tours.

The longest known cave is a maze known as Powell's Cave in Menard County.

Texan Hits Red Bridge

SAIGON (AP) — Pieces of the bridge drop in the water over 300 feet from its original position," said Cmdr. Jack Ashmore of Paris, Tex., after bomber pilots from the carrier Coral Sea hit a bridge 10 miles south of Nam Dinh in North Vietnam, the Navy reported today.

With Ashmore on the strike Tuesday were Lt. (j.g.) Bob Wade of Seattle, Wash., Lt. (j.g.) Dave Webber of Ottumwa, Iowa, and Lt. (j.g.) Thomas Saucier of Laurel, Miss.

Gls Capture TV Spotlight

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Hope's annual report to the folks at home on his Christmas visit to our fighting men abroad is the only television program in which the audience is more important than the entertainers.

Wednesday night on NBC, the 90-minute special, a pleasant belated Christmas present, consisted as usual of filmed hits and pieces from shows Hope and his troupe gave for American soldiers, sailors and Marines in Vietnam, Thailand and other outposts.

Hope was in the center of things, swinging a golf club, wearing an assortment of funny hats and making local jokes about the mud, the brass and the enemy. Joey Heatherton drew whistles with her dancing. Vic Damone sang, Phyllis Diller made jokes. This year, Dolores Hope, the star's wife, sang one song and his daughter, Nora, danced a few steps.

ACRES OF G'S

The highlights were the camera shots of acres and acres of American soldiers around outdoor stages or clustered like bees on the deck of a carrier.

Occasionally the cameras moved in for a closeup and it was these shots, showing men laughing and clapping that gave the program its special appeal.

One of the toughest assignments in television is to follow Hope's Christmas show. Dom de Luise, a comedian last seen regularly on "The Entertainers" drew that difficult chore Wednesday night. He starred in a half-hour variety special with the difficult title of "The Bump Bump Show."

PILOT PROGRAM

Word was leaked around that the program was a pilot for a De Luise series. Just a year ago, Roger Miller filled the same post-Hope half hour, and critical reception was so good that he was rewarded with his own series last September.

It is doubtful that De Luise will have the same kind of luck. He is a round-faced young man who works awfully hard at being funny.

Goldwater Ends Tour

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Barry Goldwater ended a four-day visit to Vietnam today and said: "The bombing restrictions on Hanoi are going to have to be altered if we are to be successful in stepping up and winning the war."

The 1964 Republican presidential candidate, who is a major general in the Air Force Reserve, did not go into details but said he would make "recommendations to this end" upon his return to the United States.

Official U.S. policy is not to bomb within the city limits of Hanoi and to bomb only military targets around the capital. U.S. military officials have acknowledged that some bombs may have fallen accidentally in civilian areas adjoining military targets. Although outside Hanoi's city limits, some targets of U.S. raids are located in thickly populated suburbs.

Novelist Dies

POMONA, Calif. (AP) — De los W. Lovelace, 72, novelist and former newsman and syndicated columnist, died Tuesday of a heart attack. Lovelace had worked for newspapers in Minneapolis and New York City and from 1943-47 he wrote a syndicated column, "Who's News Today." He was born in Brainard, Minn.

Wire Service Reporter Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Milton Lewin, 62, an Associated Press reporter who started his career 49 years ago as a copyboy on a New York City newspaper, died Wednesday, apparently of a heart attack. Lewin joined The Associated Press in 1944 and since has covered a wide variety of news assignments.

RFK Gets $2 For Haircut

WASHINGTON (AP)—A New Yorker — concerned about the image of the Empire State — has sent Sen. Robert F. Kennedy $2 for a haircut.

Emanuel F. Manheimer, 25, Ossining, N.Y., said Kennedy's bushy head had bothered him for some time. But seeing the senator on television last week on the night of President Johnson's State of the Union message really was the last straw, he said.

"It is irrelevant whether I am a registered Democrat or Republican," Manheimer wrote the New York Democrat Wednesday. "The only point is that I am and have been all my life a resident of the state of New York."

"I am enclosing a check in the amount of $2," he said, "to maintain an image that the country might have of the Empire State." He said that when he once worked as a state park employe his boss "wouldn't allow us to report to work like that."

Kennedy apparently was unconcerned.

"I got a haircut Monday. Tell Mr. Manheimer to watch me at my next public appearance," he said through an office spokesman.

The clip was anything but close.

Manheimer, president of EBM Associates—an investment and real estate firm, is not the first to suggest scissors. Kennedy's office readily admits he gets a "fair amount of mail on the subject, particularly after a public or television appearance." Mail is both pro and con. Money that some other letter-writers have sent for haircuts has been turned over to charities, a Kennedy aide said. He said Manheimer's letter had not arrived.

Kennedy's bushy hair also draws some barbs from fellow senators.

When Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen arrived one day with his locks tousled more than usual, a colleague in the Senate chamber said, "You're looking more like Bobby every day!"

Quipped Dirksen: "Well, I thought we might as well have Beatles on each side of the aisle."

DUSSELDORF, Germany (AP) — The last of the quintuplets born two months prematurely to Mrs. Wolfgang Januschek died Wednesday night about 20 hours after their birth.

Telephone Network Goes Underground

FINKSBURG, Md. (AP) — Construction has begun on an underground, two-story communications center which will be part of an emergency national communications network in event of a disaster.

American Telephone & Telegraph Co. is building the system which will link 15 cities on the East Coast. The $14-million Finksburg installation is one of 11 planned — to assure continuity of communications in case of a natural or man-made disaster.

Juvenile Jury System Is Outlined To Lions Club

Lynn Green believes that a juvenile jury system in the traffic court would help reduce driving violations and promote safety.

In a talk to the Downtown Lions Club at the Settles Wednesday noon, Lynn said this plan had worked successfully in other places. Young offenders, hailed into traffic court, may elect to face a jury of their peers or to take the consequences of a regular corporate court action.

The general practice, she told the Lions, is first to determine guilt or innocence. If the verdict is guilty, then punishments would be meted out of work on public service projects, accompanying patrolmen on their rounds, or taking a course in safe driving, etc. Those who did not live up to the agreement to abide by the juvenile jury assessment would find themselves back in corporate court.

Ablene, she said, has a successful program of this sort, and in Houston reports indicated no repeaters among youths appearing before the juvenile courts. Some places even reported a decline of about 20 per cent in the rate of teenage crimes, she added.

Some advantages she outlined included increasing respect for law and learning first hand about the legal system because young people themselves become court officers and attorneys. What is needed to institute the plan is a city ordinance, she said.

The Downtown Club voted unanimously for the Lions League of Texas Crippled Children's camp to be operated on an integrated basis.

Blake Covets Game Points

MONTREAL (AP) — Toe Blake, whose Montreal Canadiens turned in the first shutout in the 20-year history of the National Hockey League's All-Star game with a 3-0 victory Wednesday night, sounded like the coach of any fourth-place team after the game.

"Tell them I'll take the two points," he said, motioning toward the other side of the ice where the All-Stars were dressing.

He referred to the two points a team picks up for a regular season victory.

Blake's defending Stanley Cup champions can use every point they can get these days and the coach felt this victory over the game's top names might help his club get started. Plagued by injuries, last season's regular season titleholders hold down the No. 4 position in the six-team circuit.

"This is a good team," Blake said. "They played tonight the way they did last spring when they won the Stanley Cup. A victory like this can't help but boost their confidence."

It should do wonders for the confidence of left-winger John Ferguson, who scored two of the three Montreal goals. Ferguson had managed only five all season.

Henri Richard scored the other goal while Charlie Hodge, who worked two periods, and Gary Bauman, who played the middle 20 minutes, turned away 35 shots by the poorly coordinated All-Stars.

"All through that second period," said Bauman, who has played only one regular season game. "I was waiting for Bobby Hull to wind up and let a real hard shot go. But he didn't, thank goodness."

Hull was just as disappointed at not firing that famous high, hard one as Bauman was thankful for not seeing it.

"Most of the boys haven't played since last Sunday," Hull said. "And we didn't practice. Maybe we were a bit stale. You can't stay off the ice three days and then be sharp."

Gordie Howe, Detroit's great right wing, who started on a line with Chicago's Stan Mikita and Hull, agreed.

Crime Goes Unreported

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three times more U.S. crime goes officially unreported than surfaces in police statistics, a national crime commission is preparing to report.

For property crimes such as thefts, the ratio is even higher, the commission's figures reportedly will show.

The commission report is due to go to President Johnson Monday but probably will not be released until mid-February.

The report is expected to say that a principal reason for unreported crime is the feeling among many persons that it is futile to tell the police of minor property thefts.
