

Air Raids Over Jap Islands Unopposed

Enemy Believed Hoarding Planes For Invasion

GUAM, July 13 (AP) — Virtually unopposed air blows by around 700 B-29s, heavy and medium bombers, fighters and long range search planes across a 770-mile arc of Japan, extending north and south of Tokyo, were announced today. Promptly as U. S. air general on Okinawa declared "the Japs, in my opinion, don't intend to engage us in the air."

As enemy homeland factories and railroads were wrecked and even the smallest shipping sunk offshore, Brig. Gen. David F. Hutchison of the Far East air force said that Japan obviously was hoarding planes to use in suicide tactics when Yank infantrymen storm Nippon's invasion beaches.

Rear Adm. D. C. Ramsey, new chief of the Fifth fleet, estimated Japan might have 9,000 planes available and probably could throw about 4,000 into the battle over Japan.

Only weak fighter opposition was encountered over Tokyo Bay and a city to the north as Superforts dumped 3,000 tons of fire and demolition bombs on five homeland centers before dawn today, returning pilots reported.

No enemy fighters could be found aloft yesterday as more than 120 Liberator and Mitchell bombers and escorting fighters from Okinawa ripped into factories and railroads, the port of Aburatsubo and the naval air station of Kanoya on Kyushu.

The enemy air force relinquished homeland skies so completely that fleet search planes flew nearly 200 miles north of Tokyo to hit small shipping off Sendai, then returned to two-a-round trip flight of nearly 2,000 miles.

Superfort bombardiers, building up the number of Japanese cities they have hit to 38, had to bomb by instrument through cloud banks.

Tokyo radio said the raids lasted three hours and admitted fires were started, but claimed they were controlled by dawn. It listed seven Honshu cities as bombed, rather than four and an oil refinery reported by American sources. Tokyo also reported that B-29s mined the waters of Wawaya Bay on the west side of Honshu.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz disclosed today that hunting for enemy shipping off southern Japan became so poor that his fleet search planes joined yesterday in tearing up railroads on Kyushu, hitting trains, destroying a factory and damaging another.

Rev. Edwin Spears of Houston was called to be pastor of the church on resignation of Rev. Preston Benton.

More Civilian Travel Restrictions Coming

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP) — ODT Director J. Monroe Johnson says further civilian travel restrictions are forthcoming "in all categories." Other Office of Defense Transportation officials hope that actual travel rationing can be avoided, said other steps, possibly a shifting of additional day coaches to the military pool, may satisfy the mounting troop deployment demand on accommodations.

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP) — The OPA has granted ceiling price increases for sweet crude oil production in the APCO-Warner (Orosovician) field and the Todd Deep pool in Texas. Each was granted an increase of 13 cents a barrel OPA announced yesterday. The new ceiling for each field will range from 93 cents to $1.25 a barrel, depending on the gravity of the oil produced.

British Attack In Sumatra Area

CALCUTTA, July 13 (AP)—British fleet units have bombarded the strategic Nicobar Islands while carrier planes attacked airfields in northwest Sumatra, Southeast Asia Command headquarters announced tonight in a special communique.

British minesweepers swept the approaches to Malacca Strait, which lies between Sumatra and the great naval base of Singapore, from July 5 to 10 without sighting a Japanese vessel.

While fleet units attacked the Nicobars, planes also laid their explosives on the islands. The Nicobars lie 280 miles northwest of Sumatra, rich Dutch oil producing island, and about 800 miles off Singapore. They are 400 miles west of the Kra peninsula of Malaya, linking Singapore to the mainland of Asia.

Rear Adm. W. R. Patterson commanded the attacking warships—the Fifth cruiser squadron—which included the cruiser Nigeria, the carriers Ameer and Emperor, the

Draft Boards Relax "Job-Jumping" Rules

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—Men 26 or over who do not meet the army's regular physical standards are free today to change jobs without draft board permission.

At the request of the army, selective service last night relaxed its regulations to exclude these men from the possibility of induction as job-jumpers.

Heretofore these registrants who switched employment without approval of their board could be drafted for limited army service.

The job-jumper penalties remain in effect for all physically fit men, as well as for registrants under 26 who fall shy of regular requirements.

Men in the latter group who fail to clear job changes will continue to be inducted under relaxed physical standards.

Joe, Tommy, Ivanovich Flirt With Frauleins

By DANIEL DE LUCE
BERLIN, July 13 (AP) — To the great relief of G. I. Joe and Tommy Atkins, when you're in Berlin you do as the Russians do.

In other words, American and British troops in the German capital — most of whom are fed up with the non-fraternization policy in force in western Germany — are copying the internationally friendly ways of the Red army in peacetime.

The generals may say that nothing has been changed in the rule book since they moved American and British soldiers into Berlin. But things nevertheless seem to be different.

Ivanovich — the Red army equivalent of G. I. Joe — operates on the understanding that he's not supposed to take dyed in the wool Nazis to his bosom. He believes that Nazis properly belong behind bars, and that Germans who are not Nazis are entitled to be treated without race hatred.

Therefore, when Ivan saunters out in the early evening he feels perfectly free to drop into a convenient cafe, strike up an acquaintance with any German girl and

Gen. Kenney To Command 7th In Aerial War

Promises To Bomb Japs From 10 To 10,000 Feet 24 Hours Daily

By SPENCER DAVIS
MANILA, July 13 (AP)—Gen. George C. Kenney was handed the army air forces' top tactical command against Japan today and promptly promised that his Far Eastern air forces with advanced headquarters now on Okinawa would bomb the enemy homeland 24 hours a day at all altitudes from 10 to 10,000 feet.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who has had Kenney as his right-hand for sometime, announced that the Army Seventh Air Force, veteran of the Central Pacific, had been transferred to Kenney's command. All army air operations from Okinawa now are under MacArthur's over-all command as chief of army forces in the Pacific.

MacArthur said this force was "in the process of deployment to forward bases to participate in the saturation of Japan." This force includes Liberator heavy bombers and Mitchell mediums.

Kenney's far eastern air forces already included the Fifth and 13th air forces. Elements of the Fifth have been operating against Japan recently from New Okinawa bases, but others of both the Fifth and 13th are still active in the Southwest Pacific area.

The man whose then-small air force made history in March, 1943, by sinking every one of a 22-ship Japanese troop convoy in the Bismark sea, remarked on the American tactical air innovations, such as the parachute-borne "parafrog" bomb, which he helped develop, and declared "we have got still more tricks up our sleeve."

Leaders Of Different Political Views Urge Charter Ratification

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—Four leaders of different political views declared today that the senate ought to ratify the United Nations charter speedily to establish American responsibility in international peace-keeping.

President William Green of the American federation of labor; John Foster Dulles, foreign affairs advisor to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in the 1944 presidential campaign; Norman Thomas, former socialist candidate for president, and Philip Murray, president of the CIO, all endorsed the charter.

They appeared as witnesses in the senate foreign relations committee's final day of hearings on the 50-nation agreement signed at San Francisco.

Aussies Advance In Steaming Forests

MANILA, July 13 (AP)—Aussie Seventh division troops, paced by flame throwers and tanks, have knifed deep into Japanese defenses of Smashed Stone ridge north of captured Balikpapan on southeast Borneo in heavy fighting.

At the same time, headquarters reported today, Dutch units joined the Australians in a left flank march up Kariang peninsula to execute a brilliant encircling maneuver against the entrenched Japanese who are pocketed some six miles north of Balikpapan town.

The Borneo campaign is being fought in steaming, rain-drenched forests and deceptive bogs overgrown with mangrove under a blazing tropical sun.

In British northwest Borneo, the Aussie Ninth division made a surprise landing near Andus, 26 miles northwest of Beaufort, while another column made a 100-mile advance along Beaufort to the Jesselton narrow-gauge railway without opposition to occupy Kimanis village, five miles south of Andus.

Chinese Press On To Former Airbase

CHUNGKING, July 13 (AP)—The Chinese high command said today that Chinese troops pressing toward the former American air base city of Kanchien in Kiangsi province, had captured the highway town of Tangkiang, 11 miles west of their goal, and Fengkang, only seven and a half miles away.

Kanchien, if retaken, would be the sixth former U. S. base regained in the current Chinese drive.

Japanese troops, however, were reported driving along the highway leading to Suichwan, one of five air bases recovered.

Typhoon Inflicts Damages On Fleet

Raging Winds Cause More Ship Casualties Than Japs

By LEIF ERICKSON
GUAM, July 13 (AP)—A raging typhoon lasted Adm. William F. (Bull) Halsey's Third Fleet with 138 mile an hour winds last June 5, tore the bow off the Cruiser Pittsburgh and damaged at least 20 other warships, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today after virtually every damaged ship was back in action.

At least four of the damaged ships—the battleships Massachusetts and Indiana, the carrier San Jacinto, and the destroyer John Rodgers—participated in last Tuesday's 1,000 plane carrier strike at Tokyo.

What To Do With German Officers Still Undecided

FRANKFURT, July 13 (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower and Field Marshal Montgomery are expected to decide soon on what to do with the German general staff.

British and American officers field informal discussions on the matter during Eisenhower's absence.

in Delays Farm Planting In County

Rains returned to Howard county Friday after a day's respite, further delaying planting in some sectors.

The US Experiment Farm showed 51 in its gauge while the US Weather Bureau at the airport had 25 of an inch.

The buffeted belt immediately north of Big Spring and running from western to eastern Howard county, seemingly came in for most of the downpour, estimated up to an inch and a half in the Hartwells area. Approximately an inch fell at Coahoma in rains during the night and at 8 a. m. Friday.

Elbow had light showers in southwestern Howard county and along the northern county line light showers, possibly a quarter of an inch, were reported. Violet electrical displays accompanied the thunderstorms.

In most areas the showers further freshened young crops, but it did keep farmers out of fields when they are pressed for planting time.

Victor Of Bloodless Sea Battle Sails Into Port

ABOARD THE USS PITTSBURGH, April Harbor, Guam, June 10 (Delayed) — This heroine of a bloodless sea triumph moved slowly and proudly into port today for repairs — her entire bow was ripped off by a thunderous sea in a typhoon southeast of the Ryukyus June 5.

The heavy cruiser came through the ordeal by storm without the loss or injury of any of her more than 1,000 men.

The Pittsburgh only this year was added to the fleet forces pounding the Japanese in their home waters.

She was smashed by a 120-knot wind and made the 900-mile journey to Guam at a speed of less than 9 knots, but under her own power.

A unit of Adm. William Halsey's rampaging Third fleet, the Pittsburgh was lashed and tossed by mammoth waves as the storm enveloped her early on the morning of June 5. The swells, whipped into mountainous fury by wind,

D. X. Bible Predicts Interesting Season In Conference Play

AUSTIN, July 13. (AP) — D. X. Bible, preparing for his ninth season as coach of the University of Texas, came up today with the prediction that football will be better and more interesting this fall.

For two campaigns the South-west conference has been far below its normal stride but Bible found reasons for 1945 to carry plenty of experience. Practically every team is loaded with veteran material.

Bible also could see no handicap in the new transportation rule that prohibits use of pullmans for trips under 450 miles. The only jaunt Texas makes that can't be covered by day coach is to Little Rock to play Arkansas and that is a distance of 460 miles. He says other conference schools have similar schedules.

Texas has received a half-dozen experienced men from other colleges in Texas in the naval training program including two from conference champion Texas Christian — Ransom Jackson and Monroe Harselson, both backs. However, Bible anticipates losing a number of his naval trainees on Nov. 1.

Texas won the championship in 1942 and 1943 but missed last year when Layne was injured in the heat of the campaign. The Longhorns will rule top favorites to return to their title ways in 1945.

Try and Stop Me

DAILY STORY FROM THE BEST-SELLING BOOK
By BENNETT CERF

THE village idiot bought a book describing inexpensive prefabricated houses and became so fascinated with the subject that he drew his last penny out of the bank and ordered a house by mail.

Some weeks later he wrote a bitter note of protest to the manufacturer: his house was a complete failure. An inspector came to investigate, and roared, "You looney, you've put up the whole thing upside down!"

"Oh, that's the trouble, is it?" pondered the befuddled customer. "No wonder I kept falling off the porch!"

Speaking of complaints, there is a humorist in charge of the Complaint Department of a big New York store. Tacked to his door is a sign that reads "Come in and grouse." A lady took him at his word a few weeks ago. It appears that some months before she had buried her beloved spouse and bought several packets of carnation seeds to decorate the grave. Then she went to Mexico to pull herself together. A riot broke out when she returned to find her husband's grave completely covered with thurbur. "I don't know what she was screaming about," said the Complaint Manager. "We were perfectly willing to refund the price of the seeds."

Umbrella Man Faces Coincidence Putt On 36th Hole In PGA Match

By FRITZ HOWELL
DAYTON, O., July 13. (AP) — Three years ago, at Atlantic City, Toledo's Byron Nelson stood on the 36th green, needing a 20-inch putt to defeat Jim Turnesa of Mamroneck, N. Y. He missed it, and Jim whipped him on the 37th. Yesterday, at Moraine country Club, Nelson stood on the 36th green, needing a 20-inch putt to defeat Jim's brother, Mike. He made it — although the ball went in the back door — and, having a whipped a case of coincidence-caused jitters, Nelson was a more-than-ever favorite today to snatch the 27th PGA championship.

Up to the 36th hole, where he got his par to close out the match, Nelson had made what Prexy Ed Dudley said was the greatest three-hole finish in the last 20 years of PGA firing. With four holes to go, Nelson was two down. Facing elimination, he called on that extra something that makes champions and whizzed in with a birdie, birdie and then a rousing eagle to go into the last hole one up.

That sentiment was echoed by Gene Sarazen, Nelson's veteran first round victor. "You can have your Hagens, Joneses and Vardons," Sarazen said, "and I'll take Nelson. He's the greatest golfer who ever lived." Facing the Toledo Umbrella Man today is Denny Shute of Akron, O., 1938 and 1937 winner, who yesterday lunged a 5 and 4 defeat on Bob Kepler of Columbus, Coach of Ohio State's intercollegiate champs. Should Nelson get past Shute, as the experts predict, there's a chance he'll run into the tournament's freshman, Claude Harmon of Grosse Point, Mich., in Saturday's warfare. Harmon reached the quarter-finals with a rousing 8 and 7 win over Jim Turnesa. The tournament ends Sunday.

Big Entry List For Post Track And Field Meet

An almost evenly matched cadet field but an overbalanced enlisted turnout seemed likely as entries closed today for the Big Spring Bombardier school track meet Saturday at 2 p. m. at the base.

More than 75 cadets have entered, representing all classes, while less than 40 enlisted men have filed entries, and nearly 30 of them are from Squadron F, which will probably sweep almost all events in the enlisted division. Cadets events include the 100 and 220 yard dashes, 440 and 880-yard runs, a half-mile relay, a sprint medley, broad jump, high jump and shot put. Events in the enlisted men's division are the 75 and 150-yard dashes, 10-man relay, 1/4 mile, broad jump, shot put, football throw, tug-of-war and a gas mask race.

Series "To Be Or Not To Be" Next Issue For Happy

WASHINGTON, July 13. (AP) — Now that A. B. "Happy" Chandler is boss beyond all question, the next major question confronting baseball is whether the world series will be played.

Major league clubowners did not discuss the 1945 series yesterday as they approved unanimously Chandler's seven-year, $50,000-a-year contract and almost everything else he requested.

But unofficially there was strong sentiment at the joint meeting in favor of holding the October classic if at all possible under transportation conditions at that time.

Chandler came out of his first session with the 16 men who hired him in a much stronger position than when he walked into the meeting room one hour and 45 minutes earlier.

Baseball men later readily expressed admiration of the manner in which the new commissioner took hold of the situation and won his points without a single dissenting voice.

Five Discharges Filed With Board

Five more discharges have been filed with selective service for men with overseas service. They include:

Jack Y. Starkey, 701 Johnson, stal-sergeant, who enlisted June 17, 1941, and had two years and four months foreign service with the 713th engineers regiment. He was in the Tunisian, Naples - Foggia, Rome-Afno, Southern France, Rhineland and Central Europe campaigns. His EAME ribbon has six bronze stars.

Sunny G. Peach, sergeant, enlisted April 10, 1941, at Ft. D. A. Russell (Marfa) and had two years and three months foreign service, being in the Sicilian, Naples-Foggia, and Rome - Arno campaigns. The chief of an ammunition section, Peach had three stars on his EAME bar.

Travis D. Flatt, S-1c, enlisted through Lubbock June 20, 1944, as a radio operator in the US navy. He served at Wahiawa and Aiea, T. H. At one time, he was radio announcer for station KBST.

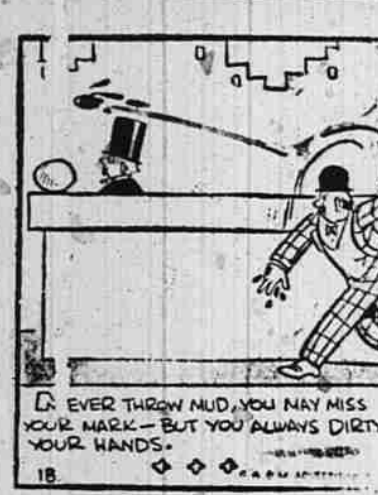

Joe T. Myrick, private, first class, enlisted Feb. 26, 1941, and had two years and five months service overseas with the 88th quartermaster railroad company. His EAME bar has three bronze stars and one bronze Indian arrowhead. He was in the Normandy, Northern France and Rhineland campaigns.

Herman L. Madewell, private first class, Knott route, enlisted Jan. 5, 1942, and was assigned to the 78th fighter squadron. He was in the French-Morocco campaign before he was seriously wounded. His foreign service totals two years and 11 months.

"Streakitis" Cured In Baseball Upsets

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Bobo Newsum still wears the pitchers' dunce cap and Tommy Holmes is teaching pet in the hitting class but the epidemic of "streakitis" that threatened to overthrow the major league pennant-races is over.

It took Newsum from April 21 to July 12 to pick up a mound decision but he finally broke his 12-game losing dirge yesterday with a brilliant four-hit shutout of last year's champions St. Louis Browns, 4-0.

Holmes had hit safely in 37 consecutive games, breaking Rogers Hornsby's modern national league record, until his old Wrigley Field jinx stopped him in the first game of a Braves - Cubs doubleheader that attracted a banner weekday turnout of 29,513 paid.

Hank Wyse, one of the two Bruin hurlers who had horse-colored Holmes back on June 3, his last hitless day, snapped the season's most sensational spurt by sending the Boston outfielders to the dugout without a single in four trips to the plate.

Chicago triumphed behind Wyse, 6-1, stretching its victory string to 11, but that streak also was doomed as Boston swung back to even the series, 3-1, on Carden Gillenwater's two-run homer in ninth.

The Braves got ample revenge for that 24-2 pasting in Boston in the second tilt because Claude Passeau's nine-game win streak also fell by the wayside.

Brooklyn broke out of a slump that cost them 5 of their last 7 games by swamping Cincinnati, 11-5, in the late half of a twilight doubleheader after blowing the first one, 4-3, to the veteran Joe Bowman. The split left the Brooks only a game back of the first-place Cubs.

Danny Gardella doubled home two runs in the 10th inning for New York's 9-7 margin over the Cardinals.

Mel Ott's pinch homer with two hired hands on base, his first since June 10, kept the Giants in the ball game in which seven hurlers saw action. Ace Adams was the eventual victor and Rookie George Dockins the loser.

Pittsburgh opened a long home stand which Frankie Frisch hopes will get the Pirates back into the race by shutting the door in the Phillies' face, 4-0.

Washington moved to within 3 1/2 lengths of front-running Detroit on a night 4-2 edge over Chicago. It was Dutch Leonard's 10th decision but the knuckleball expert was not around at the finish as he injured his right hand fielding a hard hit ball in the eighth inning.

Jim Wilson outpitched Hal Newhouser, the Tigers' ace, to give Boston a slim 2-1.

With Newsum's revival acting as a spur, the Athletics went into a complete form reversal and shut out the Browns twice, 4-0 and 11-0.

The home run that built the Yankee stadium backfired on the New York Yanks as Cleveland poked three into the stands in grabbing a 7-4 decision.

The Church Has What You Need:

It is as natural for man to feel and respond to a need of help from some power outside of and greater than himself as it is for him to breathe, and the man who neglects or refuses to respond to this innate impulse invites frustration and discontentment in his life. Those who recognize and encourage this impulse and make the Eternal God the object of their trust and worship develop a calm serenity and an inward confidence which keeps them unperturbed and contented regardless of outside circumstances and conditions. The person who says with David, "What time I am afraid I will trust in Thee," has brought something into his life that makes him bigger than anything external that can happen to him.

The church offers you this "pearl of great price," and offers you the blessings which come only through true worship of the only true and living God.

THE CHURCH HAS WHAT YOU NEED!

"Unknown Soldiers Of Borneo," Yanks Who Put Aussies Ashore

By JAMES HUTCHESON
WITH ALLIED FORCES IN BORNEO, (AP)—Some American boys are beginning to call themselves "the unknown soldiers of Borneo."

Communiques tell how Australian troops swept ashore; how the cruiser bruisers of the Seventh Air Force swept ashore; how the RAAF and 13th air force bombed hell out of enemy installations.

But you seldom hear of the Americans who put them ashore; the boys who man the amphibious tractors (Buffaloes or Alligators) in the first assault waves; the lads who follow close behind at the controls of landing barges in the fourth or fifth or seventh waves. After close to half a dozen landings in 10 days in the Brunel Bay sector of Borneo, they are beginning to think they're the "men of the permanent waves."

Two outfits which have done a heap of beach work for the Australian troops in Borneo are the boat battalion of the 593rd engineers boat and shore battalion and the 727th amphibian tractor battalion. The 593rd had more than 1,000 officers and men on the beach or on the bay for the Brunel Bay operations, under command of Lt. Col. Charles V. McCaffery of Scituate, Mass.

The boat battalion is a big enough unit to haul its own American provisions with it, but the amphibian crews have to take "pot-luck" with the Australians.

They think the Aussies are tops as infantrymen, but they don't think so much of their army diet. They'd like to get back to American troops and American mess lines: to pork and beans, coffee, hot cocoa—yes, even to powdered eggs, pressed pork and "K" rations.

It sounds like dangerous business, this piloting the waddling am-tracks into an enemy beach, but the boys say they have had only two or three of their men wounded in getting troops ashore.

Alfred E. Smith attended school only seven years but he had honorary degrees from six universities.

IN ACTION—Coast Guardsman John M. Hill, ship's cook third class, is shown manning his battle station as a gunner on an anti-aircraft weapon aboard a coastguard cutter manned army freight supply ship operating in the Pacific theater. Hill, a 1940 graduate of Big Spring high school, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hill. He was employed as a clerk by the T&P before his enlistment in Dec. 1941.

SWAN DIVERS—The three Fairbrother girls—Patty, Jimmy and Skippy—execute graceful swan dives in the style that made them champions at a Miami Beach, Fla., pool.

Even A Lady Welder Knows Her Place

SEATTLE, Wash., July 13 (AP)—Just because the lady of the house has turned welder, don't think she's lost all her femininity.

There is the case of the Boeing B-29 factory at Renton: Women welders here brought their kitchens with them when they went to work recently—and from electric mixers down to paring knives, the household gadgets are doing a job for the fighting front.

Flatirons and clothes pins are used in the photo laboratory; muffin tins hold assorted rivets; glass baking dishes hold hot parts, and double-boilers are used in the making of silk screens.

HOME ON FURLOUGH—Pfc. John L. Knox arrived in Big Spring this week for a 30-day furlough. He is visiting his mother, Mrs. Dan Knox. Pfc. Knox has served overseas for two years with the 372nd engineer regiment. He graduated from Big Spring high school in 1941.

Or You Could Buy Them In A Store For $1.35 A Pair

AUSTIN, July 13 — Add historical notes: NYLON, a synthetic thread formerly used to make women's hose, girdles, etc.

For those who "back in the good old days" were mystified as to how stockings could be made from "coal, water and air," a University of Texas industrial analyst has described the chemical process for making nylon.

Elmer H. Johnson of the University's Bureau of Business Research said:

"Nylon is a typical polyamide. The starting material is benzene. Benzene is converted to phenol, which is hydrogenated to cyclohexanol. Cyclohexanol is dehydrogenated to cyclohexanone which is converted to adipic acid. Part of one, which is converted by oxidation to the desired diamine, by addition of ammonia. The diamine by condensation polymerization with adipic acid yields nylon. See?

In other words, you just take a can of benzene, the colorless liquid, you clean clothes with — if comes from coal, by distillation; alternately toss in and yank out a few oxygen atoms and a few hydrogen atoms, until you have a fatty acid known as adipic acid; to part of this conglomeration you add ammonia, then whip up the whole thing together, and presto — you have nylon! Simple, isn't it? (Wonder what a pair of nylon hose really looked like?)

The followers of Anubis, Egyptian god of the entombed, and first Egyptian embalmer, discovered the protective qualities of asphalt, and used it for preserving the mummies of their rulers.

RECEIVES COMMISSION—Edwin B. Dempsey was commissioned a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army July 3 upon successful completion of the officer candidate course at the Infantry school at Fort Benning, Ga. Lt. Dempsey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Dempsey. He was inducted into the army Sept. 15, 1944, and served with the 84th Infantry tank battalion at Camp Roberts, Calif. He is a graduate of Big Spring high school and attended Texas A. and M.

Today On The Home Front—

Booklet Asks And Answers Those Perplexing Government Questions

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—You can get—for 10 cents—a good education on how our government operates.

It is contained in a booklet—"Our American Government. What is it? How does it function?"—published by the U. S. government printing office.

The booklet asks and answers 279 questions, many of which you may have wondered about but could not answer.

Here are some examples taken from the booklet:

Q. What are the duties of the whips of the House?

A. The whips of the majority and minority parties keep track of all important political legislation and endeavor to have all members of their parties present when important measures are to be voted upon. When the vote is likely to be close they check up, find out who is out of the city, and advise absentees by wire of the important measures coming up. The office of whip is unofficial and carries no salary.

Q. What is a "gentleman's agreement" in Congress?

A. At many points procedure in the two houses is governed not by printed rules but by oral agreements between individual members or the membership as a whole. Thus, when a member wishes to object to a particular bill knows he cannot be present when the measure comes up, he may get another member to object on his behalf. Or the party leaders may agree not to take up controversial measures or business of any consequence before a certain date. Announcement of such agreement is made on the floor.

Q. How does a senator introduce a bill?

A. When a senator rises to introduce a bill, he says "Mr. President," and waits for the vice president to recognize him. The vice president recognizes a senator by looking at him and saying "the senator from x x x," naming the state from which the senator comes.

Then the senator states that he desires to introduce a bill. A senator may introduce a bill at any time by securing unanimous consent for the purpose.

NEWTON AWARDED MEDAL

Sgt. Osborne E. Newton, aerial engineer, has been awarded an Air Medal at an air transport command base in India. The award was made on completion of 150 hours of operational flight during the period from Feb. 11, 1945 to March 28, 1945.

BROTHERS IN SERVICE

Lee Doyle Whetsel and Riley Douglass Whetsel, sons of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Whetsel, are both in the service. Lee Doyle is a staff sergeant in the army and has been transferred to the Philippines after serving 25 months overseas in the Southwest Pacific. Riley Douglass is stationed at Sheepshead Bay, Brooklyn, N. Y., with the U. S. Maritime Service Training Station.

Fewer Fatalities, More Accidents In First Five Months

While fatalities are down slightly, the number of injuries and accidents involving motor vehicles in Texas is up, statistics for the month of May show.

As reported by the department of public safety, 83 persons died as the result of May mishaps on highways and 386 were injured. The decline was two per cent over the same month last year and left this year with three per cent less deaths. However injuries are up four per cent and were 23 per cent higher in May. Accidents gained 16 per cent for the first five months.

Of Rent Controls Return To Tenants

Rent control activity in the Lubbock OPA district during June has resulted in $6,164 being refunded to tenants and $8,556 being paid to the treasurer of the United States, the district office announced today.

District Rent Executive Charlie N. Sullivan reported that the local area rent offices had handled 174 cases and had settled them without referral to the enforcement division. These actions accounted for the amount refunded to tenants and about half the amount to the treasurer. The balance was represented in judgements in court in which OPA sought treble damages.

Texas Disapproves Foreign Corporation

AUSTIN, July 13 (AP)—The attorney general's department has advised the secretary of state not to approve a charter for a proposed domestic corporation whose qualifying stock is wholly subscribed by a foreign corporation.

The inquiry concerned Franklin Stores, a Delaware corporation, with a permit to do business in Texas. The corporation operates retail stores in many Texas cities.

Navy To Convert To Training Veterans

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—The navy reported yesterday an agreement with the Veterans Administration covering the training of World War II veterans in naval shore establishments throughout the country.

The agreement is in line with a recent act of congress providing federal aid for readjustment of returning veterans to civilian life.

Approximately 35 naval shore establishments, including shipyards, air stations, supply depots and ammunition depots, have been certified as meeting requirements for training veterans. Other stations

Pilot Killed In Parachute Jump

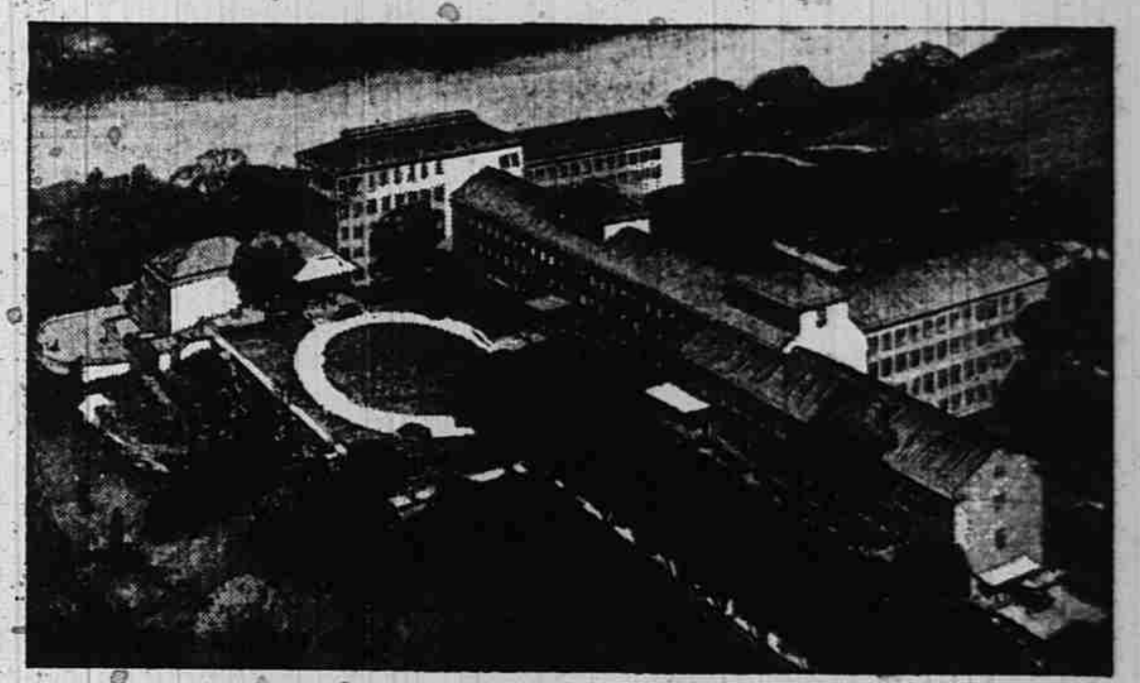

ALAMOGORDO, N. M., July 13 (AP)—Col. William O. Eareckson, commandant of Alamogordo Army Air Field, announced last night that one flier was killed out of six who parachuted from a B-29 which encountered engine trouble in the vicinity of Canadian, Tex. The colonel said the pilot gave the signal to bail out but regained control of the plane before all of the crew jumped. Eareckson identified the dead flier as Lt. Stuart Komaroff of Brooklyn. None of the others who parachuted was injured.

A New "House of Magic" for Postwar America

"...one of the strongest guarantees of progress and world peace is continuous scientific preparedness through industrial research."

"General Electric has approved plans for a new $8,000,000 Research Laboratory. This expenditure has tremendous significance. Scientific research has contributed much to our progress as a nation. "Many things have been discovered during this war, and we can and must develop them into better things for peacetime. "Today we have 550 research people on our staff. These new facilities will not only give increased outlet for their abilities, but will provide opportunities for new research minds with new talents. "From this new laboratory we think new achievements will come. In the past, G-E research has contributed much to better living in America—not only through new developments in x-ray, electricity, metallurgy, electronics and chemistry, but also through reduced cost and increased efficiency, as in the modern incandescent lamp. "Even more than in the past the laboratory will emphasize research in pure science—continuing and expanding the work begun by Dr. Whitney and the late Dr. Steinmetz forty-five years ago. "To find new facts of the physical world, to extend the limits of knowledge, is a forward step in creating More Goods for More People at Less Cost."

President
GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY

New $8-million-dollar G-E Research Laboratory will be built five miles east of Schenectady, New York, on the Mohawk River. The geographic location offers special advantages for television, high-voltage x-ray, and radar research. Buildings with 300,000 square feet of floor space will accommodate an expanded post-war research staff of about 800. Research rooms will be a scientist's paradise of equipment for experiments in chemistry, physics, mathematics, electronics. It is hoped that construction can start in six months.

STAY WITH HIM!

So you think that licking the Jap will be a push-over? . . .

The Jap is glad to hear it. In 3 years of war with us he's lost less territory than he seized in the first 3 months of war. And he'd like to hang on to it.

So you're thinking of quitting your war job soon? . . .

70 million Japs hope you do. Nearly 35 million of them are working 12-16 hours a day 7 days a week to beat you. They can't quit. They won't want to quit. They plan to win. And in addition, some 400 million enslaved peoples are forced to work for them. And they can't quit either.

Think over these cold facts:

- The Jap has never lost a war—yet.
- The Jap now controls the second largest empire in the world, all of it in his own Pacific backyard.
- The Jap says he's willing to spend 50 years, 10 million Jap lives, to hold on to what he's got. And the Jap means just that!
- The Jap doesn't quit. In the war against us he has lost hundreds of thousands dead, only a few thousand

As the Jap is pushed back—slowly, bitterly, taking as yet uncountable American lives with him—his supply lines shorten, like the coiling of a fist. Our lines lengthen—and he gets relatively stronger.

Remember—the Jap holds aces. His warfare is defensive, entrenched. His fighters are determined to kill as many of our men as possible before dying "gloriously" for their emperor. Despite eight years of war, the Jap army has not yet been mustered to its full strength.

To crush the Jap, our Army, our Navy, our Coast Guard and Marines—every branch of the service, must fight him with men, ships, planes and supplies over an area of thousands of miles.

How long will it take to win?

That's squarely up to you . . .

. . . and whether you give your best to your war job. And keep buying bonds. And keep replacing the blood of fallen Americans with your own.

How you can help

- 1 Keep that war job!
- 2 Keep buying Bonds!
- 3 Keep doing all your country asks!

IT'S A TOUGH ROAD TO TOKYO

Modern Swimming Champs Or Today's Bathing Beauties Make Good In Movies

By BETTY CLARKE AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

Grandma may have been called a bathing beauty but it's daughter who deserves the title — because she learned how to swim and like it.

There were times when Grandma wet her toes (which were buried under her cotton stockings) but she couldn't for modesty's sake manage a bit of sunshine through her long steeved bathing suit.

Mostly she spent her time on the beach under a big parasol preparing a picnic lunch for grandpa.

It was Mom who found that she could have more fun if she learned to propel herself in the water. Her only mistake was that she became an endurance swimmer, which increased her appetite and consequently her weight, because though she could stay afloat for hours and possibly days, she used no strenuous arm or leg motion.

True, Mom discarded some of the surplus material in her bathing suit, take a cue from Australia's Annette Kellerman, who startled the world with her one-piece suit. But it remained for daughter to discover how swimming could help her cut a figure in a bathing suit.

Practically the first thing she did was toss out motionless swimming. Later, she graduated from one-piece to strapless and midriff suits, which gave her more freedom and sunshine.

When the Australian crawl was first introduced there had followed noticeable change in the appearance of girl swimmers. Chest expansion was increased by rapid deep inhalation through the mouth. Muscles of chest, stomach, hips, thighs and calves were being put to work.

Though at first the crawl had four leg movements to each complete revolution of the arms, it was gradually perfected to the eight-beat crawl, giving eight movements of the legs to each complete revolution of the arms.

Speedy leg motion burns up excessive flesh around waist and thighs. Firm busts are developed by the strong rhythmic motion of the arms, and the head movement for proper breathing keeps the neck muscles in tone.

That's why the average girl of today uses her arms and legs when she swims. In addition to a beautiful body, a radiant complexion results from scientific swimming, and the exposure to sun helps store away some reserve energy for those long winter months.

As swimming has grown more strenuous women have used more of their muscles and the champions have become each year more beautiful of face and figure.

Many of the recent champions, such as Eleanor Holm and Esther Williams went to Hollywood and became real bathing beauties for the first time in the history of a movieland which had promoted studio bathing beauties for generations.

TODAY: Esther Williams, holder of many swimming titles, is now a top movie star, with no extra pounds.

Word has been received here of the death, on July 10, of E. D. Ed Merrill, veteran Texas & Pacific locomotive engineer. Burial was Wednesday afternoon at Marshall.

Retired for the past two years due to ill health, Mr. Merrill had been in the hospital here and at the company hospital in Marshall in recent months.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Ed Merrill, his daughter, Evelyn Merrill, Big Spring.

Known all over the Rio Grande division of the T. & P. for his famous "whip-or-will" whistle which some other engineers tried to emulate unsuccessfully, Mr. Merrill was almost a life-long employe of the T. & P. He was reared in Marshall and came here as a fireman in 1906. He was transferred to Baird at one time but had lived here most of the time. Since 1917 he had been an engineer.

He was active in the B. of L. E. and in civic affairs. In early days he organized bands and orchestras and for years was a member of the old Big Spring municipal band. Mr. Merrill also was active in supporting the city firemen, for years tendering an annual barbecue for them.

Laney Knows His State

If you are one of the many of us who have spun many a mossback story on Arkansas and pictured it as a backward territory of the south, you ought to read a recent address by Gov. Ben Laney of Arkansas. You'll be wanting to at least look over our great neighbor.

Perhaps the reason, in years long past, that many a legend grew about Arkansas was because some of the people lacked vision or just plain didn't care. That's no longer so, and Gov. Laney is doing a good job in telling "The Arkansas Story."

A business man only abstractly concerned with the affairs of his state government, Ben Laney grew intensely interested, so much so that finally he decided somebody had to do something about it. So he ran for governor on the two-plank platform of improving the efficiency and lowering the cost of government. No political observers took him seriously, but the people did.

Gov. Laney did a lot of good. He succeeded in consolidating a host of state commissions which were duplicating efforts; he weeded out some that were useless, and went through a pretty program of state reorganization. In all, it effected economies, increased efficiency and halted the trend of rising taxes.

Gov. Laney, however, has done even greater service in selling Arkansas outside the borders of his native state. When he begins hurling factual data at you, you forget notions that it is solely an agricultural province. You realize its tremendous water and timber reserves, its heavy aluminum ore deposits, the only novaculite in the nation, mercury, manganese, titanium, zinc, lead, and a cast host of industrial minerals. You get the picture of a lovely recreational state; one with picturesque and scenic attractions. You see a state with vast coal and gas reserves and with people trained in war factories for industrial occupations.

The main reason Gov. Laney has been doing such a striking job in advertising Arkansas is that he knows what he is talking about. And if we here in Texas want to get a little further without industrialization talk, we ought to know more about Texas. And to bring it right home, if we want to bring a lot of development to Big Spring, Howard county and this area, we ought to have a lot of facts and figures to quote.

Pecos, Alpine Blacklisted For Treatment Of Latin-Americans

By PAUL BOLTON

The inadvertent publication of a confidential communication has disclosed that the Texas Good Neighbor Commission considers Pecos and Alpine, respectively, the "No. 1 and No. 2" on the commission's "blacklist" of cities from which have come complaints of discrimination against Latin-Americans.

The communication was published in a Laredo newspaper. It was a report by Executive Secretary Pauline R. Kibbe to members of the commission after a visit to those two cities.

Mrs. Kibbe went to Alpine for lectures at Sul Ross College. She reported that while there she talked with a number of residents and their conversation upheld the preconceived idea that there is no public place of business in Alpine, operated by an Anglo-American, in which a Latin-American is welcome.

One incident was reported to her in which two Latin-American boys were excluded from a party for the graduates of the high school. "The most influential citizens are owners of big ranches who in addition to their ranching interests, own all the important real estate in town and therefore control everything," she added that "the same conditions exist in all Alpine that exist in many other small towns in West Texas."

From Alpine she went on to Pecos because "we have received more complaints from Pecos than any other town in Texas." She said she was not concerned with the incident, reported internation-

The War Today

by Dewitt Mackenzie AP Foreign News Analyst

One of the critical and delicate cases likely to be considered at the coming clinic of Doctors Truman, Stalin and Churchill—physicians extraordinary to the world—is that of Spain, the problem being what measures are necessary to purge this proud and important country of the Axis plague.

The way things stand now, it looks very much as though the cure of Spain's ills lies in a change of government. Support for that idea is seen in the action of a commission at the San Francisco security conference—the commission having voted that the Franco regime, because it had Axis support in coming to power, should never be admitted to membership. That's a broad hint, to say the least.

Now of course it would be easy for the Big Three to treat Spain's malady roughly. A lot of folk are asking why the United Nations should be considerate in the case of Spain when we have just fought the bloodiest war of history to exterminate nazism and fascism. Why not use the big stick?

I'm afraid the answer isn't quite so easy as that. After all, sovereignty is the mightiest item among the many nations, great and small, which came so close to slavery at the hands of the Axis. The Big Three undoubtedly would prefer that Spain cure herself. That attitude has been pursued, even in the case of Italy.

Here it should be emphasized that there's a difference between "Spain" and the Franco falange party which is in power. The generalissimo consorted with Hitler and Mussolini throughout the war—something which none of the United Nations can forgive. Apart from that Moscow won't soon forget that the Franco regime has been violently anti-communistic from the start and was pitted against the communists in the civil war that brought him to power.

Britain, while roundly condemning Madrid's dealings with Hitler and Mussolini, has more than once shown a desire to give Spain a chance to rehabilitate herself.

We have a profound admiration for the men who serve on ration boards, draft boards, etc. They give a lot of time and have to take a lot just to help out.

With The AEF: GI's Find ATS Girls Hep To The Boogie

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN (Substituting For Hal Boyle) HERFORD, Germany, (AP) — At this spot in the heart of the British occupation zone the ATS girls outnumber the soldiers, and the American GI's have the situation well in hand.

The Doughboys are carrying the pretty ATS (Auxiliary Territorial Service) girls away by the truck loads to attend "Boogie Woogie" parties. At 7 p. m. they drive up at a sentry post at the bottom of a road which leads to the British area.

The GI's walk off with the British girls, arm in arm, and load them into trucks while the British Tommies look on with that "Well, the Doughs have done it again" expression. If looks could kill, there would be fewer GI's around.

Several units of GI's, originally with the U. S. Ninth army, still are here disposing of German ammunition dumps and trucking out stocks of American rations from what used to be the main food depot. The American and British soldiers have an even start at making friends with the ATS here in Germany. The Tommies say the GI's made a hit in England because they had more money to spend. But there are no bottle clubs over here.

Maybe it is that old Boogie Woogie that gets them. It is played by a six piece GI band with torrid trumpets and plenty of rumtum on the drums. The GI's are famous for their parties. There hasn't been so much noise around these parts since the air raids days. One of the most popular GI units is one in which Sgt. Ed Tichenor, Dallas, Texas, belongs. They have a Boogie Woogie band plus the sergeant's monkey, named Jack. He got the best in a Netherlands zoo and has kept it with him ever since.

Tichenor said, "The gals say he is 'Jack is quite an attraction,' a 'lovely creature.' Now ain't that a helluva thing to say about a monkey?"

Bearing generally upon this same subject is a statement from Superintendent L. A. Woods of the state department of education.

He says that when only the white schools of Texas are considered, Texas ranks among the leaders nationally. But when the schools for Latin-Americans are added to the schools for Anglo-Americans, the rank of Texas schools drops to 17th among the states.

And when the negro schools are added to the list, Texas' rank among the states drops to 32nd.

James F. Byrnes, An A-1 No. 2 Man

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — In time there is sure to be a deluge of books and articles on the theme: "The Remarkable Career of James F. Byrnes."

By appointing Byrnes secretary of state, President Truman has done what he wanted and fully intended to do when he supported Byrnes for Vice President in 1944: nominate him for No. 2 place in the Democratic administration.

It is true that the new presidential succession bill as passed by the House of Representatives, making Speaker of the House third in line of succession in case of death or incapacity of both President and Vice President, would alter all this. But observers are certain the succession bill will strike snags in the Senate.

Some doubt that President Truman ever intended his recommendation of such a bill as any more than a gesture to Congress — an assurance that in naming a new secretary of state he was not trying to be dictatorial in naming his successor.

As it is, the Senate in confirming Byrnes, or any one else who might be nominated secretary of state when the Vice President has succeeded to the Presidency, is, in effect, naming him the nation's No. 2 man. It's unlikely the upper chamber would look kindly on any new succession measure which would hand this honor, privilege, and prestige over to the House.

At any rate, unless the law is changed Byrnes is the No. 2 man in the administration as well as the administrator of our foreign policies—at a time when those foreign policies are prob-

Unemployment Works Best, He says

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — "Only 30 per cent of 1,272 Screen Writers' Guild Members Are Employed," said a trade paper headline. Very sad, thought I.

The story continued: "The total number working is 371, with Metro having 113 on its payroll, RKO 44, Warners 40, 20th-Fox 37, Columbia 36, Universal 35, Paramount 34 and Republic 32." Pity the poor screen writer, I mused.

At MGM I encountered Morton Thompson, the man who composed the screwball collection, "Joe the Wounded Tennis Player." At present he is adapting for the screen a chapter of his opus entitled, "My Brother who Talked with Horses."

"What about the plight of the screen writer?" I inquired. "The so-called plight of a screen writer is indeed a happy one," he answered. The answer was startling because movie writers usually consider themselves the most mistreated individuals outside a Japanese prison camp.

"But only 30 per cent of them are employed," I protested. "They are the unlucky ones," he said. "The best idea is to fix it so you do not have to be under contract. If you are signed to a studio, the bosses figure they should get their money's worth from you. So they have you rewrite a scene, compose a short subject or do any of the other dirty work."

"But doesn't a writer lack security without a contract?" "If his last picture was a success, he doesn't have to worry. He will be in demand and can write his own ticket."

"But supposing his last picture was a flop?" "Then his agent is on the plan. He has to hustle up a job. But the writer doesn't have to worry."

"Still it didn't seem right that so many writers were unemployed."

"Well, I'll tell you," said Thompson. "You take the cashier in the studio commissary. If she got her name in the paper, she ably more vital to the future of the nation and the world than at any other time in our history."

In June of last year, the then Sen. Harry S. Truman went to the Democratic national convention with a speech nominating Byrnes for the Vice Presidency in his pocket. It certainly was through no political, chicanery or any double cross on his own part that he didn't deliver it.

Immediately after he had taken the oath of office as President, he dispatched a Navy plane to Spartanburg, S. C. to rush Byrnes to Washington. The latter's appearance here on the eve of the San Francisco conference gave rise to so much speculation that he would be appointed secretary of state that the President, Secretary Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., and Byrnes all were embarrassed and our effectiveness in the conference threatened. President Truman hastily sent Byrnes back to Spartanburg, where Byrnes' silence further stimulated the rumor.

It was too apparent that being Truman's selection in '44, that having been at the Yalta conference where he took down every word in the court reporter shorthand, he learned as a youth, that having in respect of the Senate of which he was once a popular member, and having the long experience he has had in all branches of government, he was THE man, almost the only man, for secretary of state.

All that is left now is for Byrnes to brightly paint this one more time in his cap.

would be called a movie worker. "It's the same with anyone who ever wrote anything with the intention of selling it to the movies. If he cracks up his car, shoots somebody or has his house robbed, the papers call him a screen writer. And anyone can become an associate member of the Screen Writers' Guild at a nominal fee. That's why the figures are confusing."

"Then the writer's lot is not so dismal?" Thompson shifted his expensive cigar in his mouth, rubbed his bay window and said, "No."

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Truman Rift Widens With Labor

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — There is more than meets the eye behind the appointment of Carl Moran, ex-congressman from Maine, as new assistant secretary of labor. It probably means a gradual movement away from left-wing labor groups and no more "clearing it with Sidney."

Moran is one of the early New Dealers, a forthright, hard-hitting liberal; one of the few democrats ever elected to congress from the rock-ribbed republican state of Maine. He joined with GOP Senator Owen Brewster, when the latter was governor, to fight the Insular power interests, and he himself, came within a close margin of being elected a democratic governor of Maine.

After two terms in congress, Moran was appointed to the maritime commission, got fed up with the dictatorial methods of Admiral Land, and went back to Maine to run his father's insurance company.

Moran is pro-labor, will fight for labor when it is right, but will also fight against labor when it is wrong. No one could have had a more pro-Roosevelt record when in congress; but on the other hand, Moran is one of the closest friends of labor-enemy Ed Burke, counsel for the coal operators.

The two got to know each other when Burke was in the house and later in the senate from Nebraska. And John L. Lewis would have had fits the other night if he had looked in on a private party where the new Secretary of Labor, Lew Schwelb, and his new Assistant Secretary, Carl Moran, were entertaining Ed Burke, representative of the bituminous coal operators and bitter enemy of the United Mine Workers.

What is bound to rile the CIO regarding the Moran appointment is that the first Assistant Secretary of Labor is an AFL man, Dan Tracy, and the job of Second Assistant Secretary was to have been given to a CIO man, John Gibson of Detroit. Gibson was named just before Roosevelt died, but his name never got to the senate. Now Moran gets his place.

Moran will be a fair and impartial supporter of labor. But his appointment undoubtedly means an increasing rift in the already widening gap between Hannegan and Hillman. Note—later Moran will be made Under Secretary of Labor, superior to Tracy, the AFL assistant secretary. At that time, a CIO assistant secretary will probably be appointed.

Eisenhower's Mother Sam Golywiz is going about the filming of the life of General Eisenhower almost as if it were a religious rite. It is going to be the Saga of a small town boy, the boy from Abilene, who makes good. In a way, too, it is going to be the story of the backbone of America — how the boys from Abilene, Kansas, and Independence, Missouri, and the immigrant boys from Poland have made this nation what it is.

One of the most important characters in the picture will be Eisenhower's mother — a lady whose ancestors came here from Germany via Switzerland, just as Sam Golywiz's mother came from Poland. Mrs. Eisenhower hated war, raised her boys to love peace, and didn't like to see Dwight go off to West Point.

She bore seven boys and five girls still living. Milton is president of Kansas State College; Arthur is vice-president of the Commerce Trust Company in Kansas City, and Earl is a prominent attorney.

And during the homecoming of her most famous son, someone back home remarked to Mrs. Eisenhower, "You must be awfully proud of your son." To which she replied: "Which one?"

Note—Eisenhower, carrying out his mother's ideas on peace, will devote the profits from the film to a foundation to further the United Nations, while Sam Golywiz will devote his profits to a foundation to combat intolerance — which leads to war.

Wrangling Over Berlin Insiders who have watched the current American — Russian wrangling over areas in Berlin say there is one important lesson to be gained—In the future we must decide these questions while our Allies' tears are hot. That was the advice which Wendell Willkie once gave the late president. Referring to the way Russia and Britain were calling on us for aid in the early part of the war, Willkie advised Roosevelt:

"As lawyers, you and I know that it pays to collect your fee while your client's tears are hot. Once their case is won, they forget. So now is the time to get commitments from our Allies regarding what we want after the war."

Inside fact is that it was because of bickering between U. S. agencies that arrangements for governing Berlin were not worked out exactly one year ago. The Russians, during the summer of 1944, were ready to arrange the details regarding post-war Germany. The matter had come before the European advisory committee, on which Ambassador Winant sits as U. S. representative, and at that time — "while the tears were hot" — we could have written much of our own terms.

However, the war department wanted sole authority to handle post-war Germany. They didn't want Ambassador Winant in the picture, nor other U. S. civilian agencies. Things drifted all during the summer, until finally Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau brought the situation to a climax by pointing out to the president that almost nothing had been done.

The army called for a showdown and stuck to its demand that it have sole authority to handle Germany after the armistice. Roosevelt concurred. But even then nothing was done to iron things out with the Russians — and things dragged on until Yalta, nearly six months later.

While there's no use crying over spilt milk, there is one lesson to be gained from this, namely — settle plans for post-war Japan now, while Truman is in Berlin, instead of waiting until the Pacific war is over.

Note — Leon Henderson was one man who foresaw what was going to happen in Germany. When FDR sent him over with a view to becoming economic czar over Germany, he came back to report that it would be impossible to govern German if it was divided into three different areas, coal and iron in one, agriculture in another, shipping in the third. "Feather - Bedding Soldiers". It now seems almost dim history since Jimmy Byrnes urged congress to pass the work-order bill, but there's been an interesting aftermath in army camps. During debates on the work-order bill, several army camps, loaded with an excess of men, quickly cleaned house. The army didn't want congressional committees finding any feather-bedding of troops, so shipped a lot of them off to training centers.

Camp Lee, Va., was one which got loaded up from other camps, and proceeded to put these surplus men through truck schools, laundry, refrigeration, administration and other service schools. Now they have completed their training, but these trained men are still kept hanging around doing kitchen police, picking up cigarette butts, and various other odd jobs, waiting for reassignment.

Requests have come in from other camps for some of them, but Camp Lee replies that they are general service men, not limited service, therefore can't be regularly assigned to duty in the U. S. A. So they continue to wait, morale ankle-high, hoping to get some duty besides K. P.

They're Hoping Ruffin Gets KO'd

NEW YORK, July 13 (AP) — Willie Joyce and Bobby Ruffin clash in a 12-round bout at Madison Square Garden tonight and some of the boys along Jacobs Beach are hoping Ruffin gets knocked out.

Ruffin, who hails from the Long Island city sector of New York, is pretty handy with his dukes, but he likes to be known as the "bad boy" of boxing. Lately his antics have annoyed a part of the fight "mob." They're pulling for Joyce to administer a sound thrashing to Howdy Robert.

Greece Given Allied Territory Guarantee

ATHENS, July 13 (AP) — Greece was declared by the newspaper Adily Embros today to have received a categorical guarantee of her territorial integrity and premier Adm. Petros Oulgaris said "express Allied assurances justify optimism." The newspaper quoted what it said was the highest authority in its declaration that protection of Greek soil was guaranteed. (Nevertheless there were continued reports of tension between Greece and her Balkan neighbors.)

Tucker Resigns As Executive Secretary

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN, July 13 (AP) — Will J. Tucker today moved out of the office he has occupied for 18 years as executive secretary of the game, fish and oyster commission, taking a subordinate position in a surprise shake-up of the department's personnel. Tucker was succeeded by Howard Dodgen, chief clerk under him for 13 years. Dodgen, with the approval of the game commission, named Tucker as head of a new division, lakes management and improvement, in his first official act as new executive secretary. Reorganization of the department also included these changes: Resignation of Clyde Rudasill as assistant executive secretary and appointment in his place of H. E. Faubion, who has been director of law enforcement. Appointment of Rudasill as director of law enforcement. Appointment of Rudasill as director of the division of predatory animal control.

"pressure" that forced him out as foreign secretary. That leaves the field, for the present at least, virtually alone to Miguel Altman, resigned secretary of the interior, who has the nod of leaders of the dominant party of the Mexican Revolution (PRM).

Mitchell County Ruined By Rain

COLORADO CITY, July 13 — Hard early morning rains here Friday brought the town's total rainfall for this month to 11.98 inches and a declaration from County Agent T. H. Roensch that "we prayed for rain to start; now we're praying for it to stop."

Definite hardships for farmers follow the unusual July wet season. Rain has fallen somewhere in the county each day of this month. "Crops are getting weedy, the labor shortage is bad, and some feeds will have to be replanted," said Roensch. "That means a material decrease in the farmer's earning power for 1946. Cotton acreage, normally around 75,000 acres, has been cut to an all-time low of 40,000 to 50,000 acres due to drought, then flood and now labor."

Cotton insurance claims from Mitchell farmers are pouring in, Roensch declared. Of the 182 claims filed to date, loss estimates range from 10 to 50 and 100 per cent. Most of the total was due to drought. Now claims are based on floods. Approximately 700 farms were covered by the insurance taken out by 549 Mitchell farmers. "Until the rains became 'too much for even West Texas,'" Roensch had insisted that the daily showers were so valuable as to offset any damage. Now more than 12 inches of rain have fallen in some parts of county, damaging terraces, checks, poultry houses, and dams.

Austin street bridge in Colorado City was destroyed by the ram-paging Lone Wolf creek. City water mains were damaged and the city was totally without water for several hours while mains were repaired.

Came To Win A War— Recommended For Legion Of Merit Winslow Doesn't Worry About It

S-Sgt. Robert Winslow has been recommended for the Legion of Merit, but if he doesn't get any award it will be perfectly all right with him.

"I didn't come over here to win medals," he wrote from Moosinning, Germany, recently to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Winslow, Stanton. "I came over here to win a war."

The action on which the recommendation was based occurred last Nov. 28 at Barr, France. When Sgt. Winslow's tank was hit, he covered his crew with machine gun fire while they got out of the tank under enemy machine gun fire. As a result of his counter action, no members of his crew were killed or wounded.

He was commanding his platoon in that action since his lieutenant had been killed two days before. For two weeks he acted in the place of the lieutenant and on two other occasions took over as first sergeant when the topkick had been wounded.

His latest assignment has been on patrol. Sgt. Winslow had the task of making a 100-mile loop around his area each day and found it a pretty tiring chore, so much so that when his captain asked if he wanted to go to Berchtesgaden, Hitler's hideout, he turned down the opportunity because the trip would have been too difficult.

Sgt. Winslow had a D rating on his physical, but somehow he got overseas, much to the amazement of his medical officer. He doesn't think he is ticketed for Pacific duty, but it would be all right for "this is a swell bunch of fellows." He enlisted from Stanton, in 1942 after graduating from Big Spring. He originally was assigned to the Bombardier school here.

Sore Tender Aching Feet

In Just Five Minutes Those Sore, Tender, Aching Feet Get Almost Amazing Relief

In just one minute after an application of Eucalaid Oil you'll get the surprise of your life. Your tired, tender, aching, burning feet will literally jump for joy. No fuss, no trouble, you just apply a few drops of the oil over the surface of the foot night and morning, or when occasion requires. Just a little and rub it in. It's simply wonderful the way it acts on all foot misery, while for feet that swell and give off an offensive odor there's nothing better in the world. It's a wonderful formula—the combination of essential oil and camphor and other antiseptics are so marvelous that thousands of letters are sent annually to help soften up corns and callouses.

Texas Today— Unloquacious 'Lady' Silent As A Dummy

By JACK RATLEDGE
Associated Press Staff

Women are notorious for loquaciousness but City Detective Sam Haynes of San Angelo found one who just wouldn't talk.

It was early one morning. He walked into the dimly lighted corporation court. He saw a woman leaning against a wall, hand on hip and cigar in mouth, casting a hostile stare at him.

"Good Morning," he said tentatively. She just stared. He walked closer, eyed her suspiciously. The "woman" was a dummy that patrolmen had found and brought into court.

Because the mayor of Corsicana had a rip in his pants, the city's milk fund is $6 richer.

Someone noticed the rip, and as a joke took up a collection to buy Mayor John C. Calhoun a new pair of trousers. Buddies chipped in $6.

Mayor Calhoun accepted the money — and put it in the milk fund.

The Waco Times Herald says the title of this little story should be "Grabbed, Nabbed; or Look, No Hoop!"

A man was found catching fish with his bare hands, was arrested and turned over to a deputy sheriff. It is illegal to fish that way.

Top cartoonist of this war is Bill Mauldin. Few know that his wife is a Texan.

Mrs. Mauldin is the former Norma Jean Humphries of Sherman. She met Mauldin while attending Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene, married him within two months. He was from New Mexico. As Mauldin admits, they had tough-going at first but fame has brought a "From rags to riches" ending to it all.
