Right-Hand Turns Will Be Eliminated

All right angle turns are to be eliminated from state highway No. 9 in the vicinity of the Woodrow school house, and the distance between Lubbock and Tahoka will be shortened slightly. It was announced at highway division offices here Tuesday following a conference of Major Pettus Hemphill, division engineer and citizens of the Woodrow community.

A sweeping curve is to be made at the turn west at the school house instead of the double right angle turn, and for the needed right-of-way to be given by J. B. Marly and the school board, each a small strip off the corner. Another right angle turn a little further south also is to be eliminated with a rounding curve, as is the double right angle turn about 12 miles south of Lubbock.

This is being done in preparation for the intensive grading campaign that is to be started in the division about May 15, when every available tractor is to be concentrated on the highway.

Dogs, motor cars, tobacco, and whisky are among the objects of taxation in Japan. Now it is proposed to put a tax on parties which are becoming very popular.

Between 1922 and 1925 one airplane pilot was killed for every 753,110 miles flown by the air service. Six times as many were killed during the preceding three years.

Ensembles For June Honeymoons

BY HENRI BENDEL, NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, May 10—Once the wedding gown is chosen—every bride should concentrate on her going-away attire.

Going-away ensembles: lavender-blue, for the seashore (left); hunter's green, for motoring (center); and a semi-sports model for an ocean trip.

This costume comes second only to the bridal gown itself and in its way has an importance that even that shimmering, exquisite bridal frock lacks. For the bridegroom sees his bride in her wedding gown through the haze of flowers, music, confusion of guests and stage fright of saying "I will." The type of wedding trip should in some measure determine the choice of the going-away costume. A month's camping trip in the woods calls for a different outfit than Atlantic City demands. A European voyage asks for a going-away costume that would not be appropriate for an auto tour.

Given ensemble created for a brilliant occasion either a trip to the Grand Canyon or an auto-tour of California. Its color defies dust—its crepe roma material defies wrinkles. The dress has short sleeves and a becoming rounded neck which has leading finish instead of a collar. The entire skirt is corded perpendicularly and attached at the hip-line to the padded waist. It has no superfluous bows or trimmings but its suave smartness comes from perfect tailoring.

costume to strut the deck in or plain quilts! The ensemble calls for light colors so in the third costume I chose this, a lavender-blue. The crepe roma frock embodies all the latest style points—finely pleated bolero topping a finely pleated skirt with a smart yoke—short sleeves that flare in a new way like the bolero—and a bow that ties the collarless neckline becomingly. It is a highly suitable frock for the boardwalk.

HILLBILLIES BEAT MATADORS

VISITORS FLASH AIRTIGHT TYPE OF DEFENSE

The Matadors dropped the first of the three game series with the Daniel Baker Hill Billies here yesterday afternoon with a score of 12 to 1. White, the Billies' choice for mound duty, allowed the Matadors ten hits but kept them scattered throughout the nine frames. Hits collected by the visitors of the Scarlet and Black yesterday proved useless as they were of no assistance in scoring. Fielding when it came to pinches put over the victory for the visitors. In the initial frame the Billies demonstrated their coolness in handling the situation with men on bases when the cut off two men off the Matadors line-up on their way to count.

Coach Irving Y. Freshland trotted Buster Kaufman, scintillating out-belder of the Matador forces to the mound yesterday and the little wrong-hander was wild. He allowed thirteen bingles, four walks and hit a couple of hitters. The visitors got to Kaufman in the first session for four runs and a batter hit doubled down third base line and was scored on a series of errors made by the visitors.

J. B. "Red" Hamilton, receiver of the Matador ranks led the home-ings in hitting against the offerings of White with four safe blows in five trips to the plate. One was for two bases. Witherspoon, out-belder and pitcher of the visitors, led the hitting attack on Kaufman with three chouts out of four attempts.

Winning Of Davis Cup By Americans This Year Hinges On Tilden's Knee!

BILL TILDEN, WITH CIRCLE AROUND KNEE SUFFERING FROM A BALKY CARTILAGE.

Baseball Results

NEW YORK, May 10.—A balky knee cartilage in the left knee of Bill Tilden holds the future of American tennis this year.

On the recovery of this ailing member depends the ownership of the Davis Cup and the national singles championship. If Tilden keeps good blood late this summer, as it did last year, it is quite likely the French Tri-color will decorate the famed Davis silverware, the first time the international trophy has been outside an Anglo-Saxon nation.

Tilden and Johnston recovered the Davis Cup from Australia in 1920 and it has remained here ever since, mainly through the valiant efforts of the two Bills.

Johnston, however, despite his fighting heart, has been worn by racking competition and Vincent Richards was just about ripe to fill his shoes. This summer, sadly enough, finds Richards outside the pale and without him the cup selection committee faces a serious problem.

There are close to 4,000,000 people playing tennis in this country. New stars are developing but no slark has flashed across the horizon of sufficient brilliance to warrant selection on the defending team.

Hence, the responsibility on Tilden is greater than ever before. It is a situation that appeals to the lanky Philadelphian. The former champion would glory in setting on the stage just such a dramatic scene that now looms before him. Imagine a situation with the country's tennis fate at stake and with Tilden as the hero, plucking victory out of almost certain defeat.

Tilden's love of the gold-standard is well known. I have seen him time and again made impossibly easy matches appear difficult, just to score one of his brilliant recoveries and stage off defeat while hundreds of handclaps saluted his thrilling efforts.

But despite all this, Bill has a highly developed degree of aloofness. He is one of the most misunderstood performers in American sports history. He has weathered all professional offers, some day he may turn professional—but not before he has given his best efforts in defense of the international trophy.

This country's tennis future lies in danger. Tilden does not intend to desert a sinking ship.

All that he asks, he says, is that his knee hold up.

DAILY MARKETS. COTTON STEADY. NEW YORK, May 10 (AP)—The cotton market was somewhat irregular today, but made a general recovery showing after selling off to 15.57 July advance to 15.75 of 10 points net higher, closing at 15.68. Then general market closed steady at net advances of 2 to 3 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 4 points to a decline of 3 points. Buying on the Liverpool cables and Texas in the western and central belts, was readily supplied around the initial figures, however, and the market eased on the outlook for clearing conditions in the western belt.

May sold off to 15.36 and October to 5 points on active positions, but there was some trade buying apparently and the market closed up during the afternoon on the detailed weather reports showing heavy rains in the Little Rock district, and more or less general rains in the Memphis district. There were also reports that floods were still threatening some of the levees in northeast Louisiana, which may possibly have contributed to the afternoon advance. Offerings were comparatively light after the rather heavy realizing yesterday, and prices advanced to 15.50 for May and 16.04 for October, or about 6 to 13 points above yesterday's closing quotations. Last prices showed reactions of several points from the start under realizing. The volume of business was smaller than recently, and at times it looked as if the market was waiting for further weather or crop developments.

There appeared to be considerable cotton for sale around or slightly above the 15 cent level for October, but buying picked up somewhat on the declines. Reports that sales of cotton cloths during April exceeded production for the month may have contributed to the steady undertone of the market. Liverpool reported London and American buying on the rain news from the south and said that had been more sales of cotton cloths to India and China.

Exports today 27,770; making 9, 942,141 so far this season. Port receipts 19,571. U. S. port stocks 1,877,378.

COTTON GOODS QUIET. NEW YORK, May 10 (AP)—Gray cotton goods markets were quiet, but goods continued in active demand. Tickings were firmer. Burdette were easy, the shipment figures to North America showing 92, 000,000 yards sent out from Calcutta and 14,000,000 yards for South America. Silk continued easy. Silk fabric and hosiery in many of the power lines recently shown. A moderate amount of duplicate business is coming forward on men's wear.

COTTON ADVANCES. NEW ORLEANS, May 10 (AP)—Cotton was fairly active today and prices tended upward although at times they were rather nervous. Better cables than the influenced the market upward at the opening and first trades showed gains of 2 to 3 points. Renewed liquidation in the first hour, however, caused prices to drop to levels 2 to 11 points below the opening highs. Towards mid session the market rallied on the outlook for unsettled weather.

Local Legion To Foster Poppy Sale

The Lubbock Post of the American Legion this year will foster another poppy sale in connection with observance of Memorial Day, May 30, but the sale will be conducted the preceding Saturday, May 28. F. D. Hupp, commander of the post said Tuesday.

The sale is to be carried on through the Ladies Auxiliary of the post, and the Camp Fire girls of Lubbock, and the entire proceeds will be devoted to the Legion movement for a national movement to offer better care and treatment for disabled veterans of the war, and children orphaned by the war. The poppies are to be bought from the Veterans Bureau, where they are made by disabled veterans, and in this way the sale will have a double purpose.

BIG SPRING COMPANY BUILDS HOUSES THERE

BIG SPRING, May 10.—The Darrell Lumber company has just completed four modern English type cottages in the new Parkside Heights which is in a popular residential section of Big Spring. This company contemplates the erection of a number of homes offering them for sale at a profit or construction and on terms similar to paying rent.

Fifty-seven years ago an American tourist, climbing Mount Raine threw away his pistol during a blizzard. The pistol has been found in a shallow stream at the foot of the glacier.

HONORS HEAPED ON COBB BY ADMIRERS IN DETROIT FANDOM
DETROIT, Mich., May 10.—Tyrus Raymond Cobb, who for 22 years wore the uniform of the Detroit Tigers, came back to the scene of his early baseball triumphs today to receive a rousing welcome. The fact that Tyrus came as an "enemy"—playing against his former team as a member of the Philadelphia Athletics—made no difference. Today was "Cobb day" and Cobb for the day at least belonged to Detroit's fandom.

The lifting just a few hours before game time by President Ben Johnson at Chicago of a suspension under which Cobb and his team were to be barred from the city for a week after a disagreement with the Empire Grange at Philadelphia enabled the Georgia Peach to appear in the day's game. The action came as a welcome step to thousands of Detroiters who had bought seats for the game several days ago in the hopes of seeing Cobb in his first Navin field appearance aligned with a team other than the Tigers.

The welcoming celebration for the former Detroit manager began shortly after he stepped off a boat from Cleveland with the remainder of the Philadelphia team, and was climaxed shortly before game time with the presentation at the ball park of an automobile and other gifts. A testimonial luncheon at the Masonic Temple preceded the parade to Navin field, headed by a police motorcycle escort and a military band and participated in by members of the University of Michigan club of Detroit, the intercollegiate alumni association and members of a Masonic lodge of which Cobb is a member.

MISSING AVIATORS

led with the nationwide worry in deep bitterness and anger against the press which fanned the country's flame of pride in rejoicing with the false news that the two fliers had succeeded in their great adventure.

The nerves of the nation were subjected to all the various emotions in the past 24 hours—suspense, expectation, general delirious joy, then doubt, stupor, disappointment, disillusionment and subsequently anger and bitterness.

Accusations, denials, explanations and recriminations fill the columns of today's newspapers and no small part of the bitterness is directed against the United States from which the press leaders' resentment against America later was toned down a little in the press but not in the conversations heard in almost every restaurant and at every street corner. It seemed to be founded on two things: First, dispatches from America led the French to believe the white bird had reached the new world; and second that the American weather bureau did not play fair with the French before the start of the flight. This one hour's everywhere, and several newspapers hint it broadly.

There were repeated assertions among Parisians that Americans had intentionally lead the French to believe that the weather was good on their side of the Atlantic whereas it was in fact a matter of fact, however, several hours before the start of the flight the Havas news agency printed a dispatch from New York saying there were storms in Mid-Atlantic and fog off Newfoundland, and most of the Sunday morning papers printed it. Today few seemed to remember it.

From the outset the French regarded the flight as a race between France and the United States. Last night when Paris and the provinces were in joyous celebration and patriotic process was in progress, from all quarters was heard the cry, "France has done it. They have beaten the Yankees." Disillusionment came about midnight but for only a few heard as most of France was then asleep. For the majority, sadness set in only today.

Hope Continues
NEW YORK, May 10 (AP)—Hope for the rescue of the French aviators, Captains Nungesser and Galt, appears to hang by the thinnest thread if they may have been picked up at sea by Newfoundland fishermen or by some small coasting vessel off Ireland.

Crested a full day here on their airplane flight from Paris, the fate of the French was again the subject of a mystery of the sea. Wireless stations from New York to Labrador sputtered messages today in all directions asking for help in their courses to hunt for the aviators. But none reported sighting the "white bird" which hopped off so bravely from Le Bourget field with the "skull and cross bones" and "death's head" marked on the white fuselage as if to defy the elements.

Officers Continue War On Swindling
Continuing war upon bad check writers, two fines were paid and a second man released under bond here this week in county court, officers stated.

L. W. Wiley, and Alvie Cote paid fines of one dollar and costs and were sentenced to serve a term of five days in jail on charges of swindling, the court docket shows.

O. L. Christian, charged with having passed a bad check for $7.50 given in payment for a suit, in a local clothing store, was released under bond here Tuesday afternoon.

Tom Kilsa, charged with carrying a pistol, was fined $100 and costs.

Bonds of Roy Carpenter and Luke Green, of Dalhart, each in the sum of $300 were forfeited in county court here today when the two failed to appear for trial on charges of carrying a pistol.

Aubrey Cannon and Landrum South, of Farmersville, arrested by Lubbock police officers and held before authorities Monday on their charges growing out of alleged burglary by the two of a Lubbock home where it is charged they took a phonograph and a suburban store where they are charged with having taken various articles including game, tennis rackets, and an overcoat, were released under $300 bond each to await trial.

Debris of Poplar Bluff's business section yielded more bodies, the death toll of yesterday's tornado tonight stood at 80, while many injured fought vainly for life.

Nearly fifteen bodies were revealed today as tireless workers combed the bricks and timbers for missing persons known to have been in the razed buildings.

The Red Cross estimated 350 were injured, more than 100 seriously. Dr. J. M. Hendrickson of the medical staff at the Williamson-Kennedy school, where most of the seriously injured were concentrated, said he believed a dozen patients there would die. Others in private homes were reported in a critical condition.

68 Arkansas Dead
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 10 (AP)—With partial restoration of communication during the day, Arkansas had a clearer view tonight of the path of death and destruction swept the east central and southern portions of the state by a series of tornadoes last Monday.

The known dead list tonight had reached 68, while the wires hourly added new names to the casualty lists of more than a dozen communities. The number of injured was near 300 while the property loss was estimated at $1,000,000.

Relief forces were mustered during the day and most of the towns and villages were secured.

Produce Profits Made At Lamesa

LAMESA, May 10.—That the dairy industry of Dawson county is in a large measure sustaining its farm element during the harvesting days subsequent to the cotton debacle of last season is disclosed in the large shipments of cream from this city.

Last week a check indicates about 200 cans were shipped from Lamesa, estimated to have had a value of $2,000. And last week was not counted an exceptional week in reality it was a typical week in comparison of cream to distant points.

Estimating that $2,000 per week is being received by farmers of the territory adjacent to Lamesa from sale of butter fat, one can easily figure that this is around $8,000 a month, amounting in the course of a year to $100,000.

And from reports the industry is showing a huge increase.

Commenting on these figures a number of dairymen and business men declare that this is prospectively that should be enjoyed in an even larger measure. Many farmers of this section are being sustained through the present depressive period by reason of their cream.

On top of this the poultry industry is promising to become one of major importance. Practically every farmer in the county has entered this industry with more than usual confidence. However the "wimmin folks" seem to be the power behind the throne in the advancement of this industry, but the men, some of them for the first time in years, are now forced to the "old woman" to lend them the price of their "chewing tobacco," "smokes" and the like. The total annual income from the produce is estimated at $175,000.

At 104!

Chopping wood every day is just like eating three square meals for Chayim Gershon Zelnikoff, who is 104 years old. Zelnikoff, who is a resident of the Jewish Old Folks' home in Winnipeg, Canada, says his motto always has been "No hurry, no worry" and that he doesn't smoke but drinks a little.

Slaton's Produce Showing Increase

SLATON, May 10.—The volume of poultry, eggs and cream now reaching Slaton markets is far in advance of that of any former time. It is shown by figures given by Slaton produce houses. A check-up for the month of April reveals that a new high record was established in that period.

A total of 38,520 pounds of poultry valued at $8,082.40, 16,898 dozen eggs worth $2,504.80 at current prices, and cream valued at $2,616.40 went on the market here in the twenty-six purchasing days of April, making a total cash return in these three items of farm produce reaching $13,203.60, a daily average of $507.45 excluding Sundays.

Buyers estimate from ten to twenty-five per cent of all produce sold here never reaches the produce houses, going direct or through grocers to consumers. Accepting the ten per cent figure as reliable, the total would be raised to $14,523.96, a daily average of $558.23.

Close calculations for 1926 showed that during the year a total of $100,000.00 worth of poultry, eggs and cream was sold on Slaton markets from this immediate territory. If the April record of this year proves a standard average for the remainder of 1927, this year's figures will almost double those of last year.

Farmers are reaping much benefit from their produce sales. A large number of them pay all current expenses with these funds, not finding it necessary to go to the banks for loans. It is not uncommon to see a farmer purchase some article in a store and pull from his pocket

Lamesa Fails To Get Its Burglars

LAMESA, May 10.—Two men detained at McCaney last week as suspects in the safe-cracking incident at the Corner Filling Station about two weeks ago, indicted by the Dawson county grand jury, were not returned to Lamesa, but transferred to officers from San Antonio who, it is understood, wanted them in connection with the alleged theft of a large Hudson car, stolen from Waco a short time before the men are alleged to have started their burglarious operations in Lamesa.

The grand jury here returned indictments of burglary against them. Their indictments follow alleged breaking of the Corner Filling Station safe, the burglary of the Outlaw Store and the Salvage Company. The two men were seen it is alleged, slinking about these

WE ran across a woman

One of those whom you enjoy seeing about twice a year—eleven months and twenty-nine days apart. A lovely woman... but very positive. She gave us the impression that she "was born with a silver spoon in her mouth"... but, then, silver isn't so expensive, so aristocratic.

Anyhow, amongst other things... many other things... she talked about... she mentioned... or declared, rather... (in her own words)... "You know, really I've never been in the Hawkins Dry Goods Store, though of course I know there is such a place."

Naturally we asked her why not... and we coughed to keep from smiling, when she replied, "Well, it never occurred to me that I could find what I wanted there"... So we asked her what she wanted... and she named over various items of merchandise that this store is admittedly the leader in, in Lubbock. So, finally, we got her to admit that it didn't seem "her kind of store."

Well, maybe it isn't her kind of store... any more than she is the kind of regular, honest-to-goodness folks who've made this store THEIR store... and we are sorry for her... and sorrier for her husband who pays her bills... for she spends a lot more money than is necessary... in many cases—for the privilege of false pride... of saying "it's not her kind of store."

Many Farm Women Take C. I. A. Study

DENTON, May 9.—More than 750 farm women attended the first short course in the history of the college of industrial arts held last week-end on the campus. Twenty-three counties in North Texas sent delegations for the event.

There was a talk by Mrs. Gato Hills, noted Fort Worth club woman, at the morning assembly. This was followed by a picnic on the campus immediately north of the administration building.

A lecture and demonstration on "Get in the Home" was given in the afternoon by Mrs. R. K. Atwell, director of the department of fine arts. This number was followed by a demonstration of "Music in the Home" under the direction of William E. Jones. Young women students stimulated a week-end at the college during the course of which they presented various favorite songs in which the audience joined, and the C. I. A. choir was heard in a mock radio recital.

The short course is expected to be repeated each year. It was offered under the auspices of the industrial arts department in cooperation with the Extension Service of the A. and M. College of Texas.

WEDDERS MIDAS

THIS HAS HAPPENED

Three girls are selected by T. Q. CURTIS from his department store to come into his home as his wards for one year, because he believes they have worthy ambitions. BILLY WELLS, who wants to become a concert violinist, is the only one of the three that is serious. The other two girls, NYDA LOMAX and WINNIE SHELTON, have accepted old T. Q.'s generosity under false pretenses.

MRS. MEADOWS, a poor aristocrat, is hostess for the girls. Her nephew, DAL ROMANINE, a fascinating, Oriental looking man, is cleverly "playing up" to all three of the wards, much to the despair of Billy, who is infatuated with her.

Billy makes short flying trips to her mother's cottage, and shamefacedly admits to herself that she finds her mother's and CLAY CURTIS' manners almost vulgar.

Clay, son of T. Q. Curtis, has disinherited himself and is living with the Wells family in the poor section of the town, working in an automobile factory in the daytime and writing music at night.

Billy accidentally overhears a mysterious telephone conversation between Nyda Lomax and Eddie Banning, her beau of department store days. After suspicions are aroused, Billy practices on her violin, Billy falls asleep in a big chair in the music room. Awakened by the voices of Curtis and his lawyer Billy learns that Curtis intends to adopt one of the three girls when the year is up. They pass out of the room before Billy can make her presence known.

Viola, the maid who had been assigned by Mrs. Meadows to look after the girls' clothes and to help them with their dressing when needed, told her that Nyda and Winnie had not yet returned. Dinner was to be at seven. It was now a few minutes after six.

"Violet or rose bath salts, Miss Billy?" the colored maid's coaxing voice called from the bathroom. She liked the girls, particularly Winnie and Billy, because they did not "ritz" her, as did Nyda.

"Bath salts, Miss Billy. I heard Miss Nyda bangin' the door to her room." Nyda dragged past the bed on an slow, reluctant, and angry face. "Ever tried Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for the stomach and bowels? 60 Pellets, 30 cts.

"Tell her and Miss Shelton I want to see them both here in my room before they go down for dinner, Viola. Tell them it's extremely important."

"She was relaxing in the seductive warmth of her rose-scented bath when Viola knocked softly upon the door.

"Miss Nyda won't let me in," the colored girl called in a frightened voice. "She says there's something terribly important I must tell you—immediately."

There was the sound of feet thudding from bed to floor, and in a moment a stormy-eyed, steely-eyed Nyda opened the door stinging, holding a trembling hand.

"Two girls to come in, Nyda. I'm awfully sorry if you don't want me. Are you in trouble? Can't I help you honey?"

"Oh, well," Nyda allowed the little figure to slip in under her arm. "I suppose I've got to dress for dinner. There's nothing the matter for just blue."

knew he'd call off the whole proposition—this year he's given us and everything. I didn't have the heart to do that. But if you girls think it's the square thing to do—to let him know that we all three know his plan—I'll be the spokesman. What you say?"

"I say you're crazy to think of it. Winnie flicked the suggestion aside scornfully.

"What do you say, Nyda?" Billy sat down on the edge of Nyda's bed and searched the black eyes.

"I say, what he doesn't know won't hurt him, and what we know may do us—or one of us—a lot of good. She flung back her fine, sleek head. "I guess you two know it's war between us, now on, war to the knife."

"I suppose I get no mercy for having told you, when I might have kept silent?" Billy was coolly scornful. "It might make both of you feel better to know that all I want is the year that was promised me. You two can fight over the big prize I won't lift a finger to win it."

"Very sweet, but I bet we'd find it turning bitter if we tried to swallow it. Winnie's delicious lit face was suddenly cold and hard, almost ugly. "Trying to throw us off our guard, Nyda. It won't work. You're not a fool. Neither are we. We start even, unless you've already been tickling T. Q. under the chin."

"I haven't seen him since I heard his plans!" Billy sprang from the bed and glared at them. "And if you're both going to get like this, I'll go in to win. Just to keep T. Q. from being saddled with a daughter like either of you. I'm going to dress. If you don't want to make papa dear sore, you'd both better know he'd call off the whole proposition—this year he's given us and everything. I didn't have the heart to do that. But if you girls think it's the square thing to do—to let him know that we all three know his plan—I'll be the spokesman. What you say?"

They met in the drawing room just before dinner. Annette Truman and her brother Ralph had arrived, as had Dal Romaine, infinitely slim and elegant in his close-fitting tuxedo. Winnie entered, he was leaning over Annette Truman, a plain, big girl, awkward and ungainly in the careless, ill-made kind-of evening dress that only the rich and socially prominent dare wear. The girl's bulging, pale gray eyes were fixed in fascinated attention, almost prayerful concentration on Dal Romaine's grave, secretive face.

"You must laid his paralyzing hand down on the edge of Nyda's bed, as if he were a man, and he would crawl at his feet if he snapped his fingers in command. But why should he turn from an Annette Truman, with all that she could bring him, in an upstairs room like Billy's? But if she should win this fantastic new contest, should become T. Q. Curtis' adopted daughter—

"Oh, Mr. Curtis, would you mind awfully if I brought my books down to the library to study after dinner? I'll be as quiet as a little mouse. I won't bother you at all, if you'll let me sit with you for company." Winnie's light, high-voiced broke in on Billy's sudden realization that she loathed herself for desiring one man when she loved another. But did she really love Clay Curtis?

Three girls begin a hidden, desperate struggle to win a fortune. Will Billy Wells find it worth while?

Big Spring Well Opens New Field

BIG SPRING, May 10.—The new well on the J. B. Hardin ranch five miles south of Big Spring, on section 19, is proving up a new field. This well is about eight miles northwest of the Settles well and about 12 miles northwest of the Clark and Clay fields.

This well is being drilled by the Marland company and they are watching it with considerable interest.

The hole is down 2254 feet, and before it was swabbed yesterday it stood 2000 feet in oil. One hundred fifty barrels were swabbed and within six hours the hole stood 1000 feet in oil. Eight inch casing has been set three thousand feet in the hole.

I. B. Cault this week sold royalty to the amount of $19,200 from two sections of land that adjoins the J. B. Hardin land where the Texon-Marland well is showing up the new field.

Land is being blocked in the Center Point community five miles east of Big Spring and a test well will be put down by an independent company who has offered a $10,000 forfeit for a deep test. The Marland company is erecting a derrick eight miles south of Big Spring on section 1, block 23, township 2 S. This location is on a line between the Settles well and the J. B. Hardin well on section 19.

During the Maori war of 1860 native chiefs, heard the British were short of food. Under a flag of truce, they sent a boat laden with provisions, with a communication saying there was no glory in fighting hungry men.
