

James H. Hobbs, Early Mill Iron Cowboy, Dies

James H. Hobbs of Texola, believed to be one of the original Mill Iron cowboys, died here Tuesday, March 16 at 6 a.m. at the age of 91.

Mr. Hobbs had been a patient in Thomas Nursing Home since May 30, 1962. He suffered a heart attack the day before his death.

He was born Oct. 31, 1873 in Nacogdoches, and moved to this area in the 1890s. As a young man, he worked for the Mill Iron, when it spread across thousands of acres in Collingsworth, extending to the north edge of the county. A photograph of this group hangs in the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum.

Later, he farmed in the Aberdeen community many years, and his children were reared there. A number of years ago he moved to land in the northeast part of the community, in the Ella community, and from that time until he retired, his interests were centered around Texola.

In both these communities, Mr. Hobbs was active. As his family grew up, he was especially interested in the improvement of schools, both for the benefit of his own children and all others in the community. He retained this community interest as long as he was active.

Mr. Hobbs was married to Miss Bertha Flemmings in Amarillo Oct. 23, 1911.

He was a member of First Methodist Church at Texola.

Funeral services were conducted at 2:30 p.m. Thursday at the First Baptist Church in Texola. Officiating were the Rev. J. L. Herndon, Hillsight Baptist Church, Electra, and a former pastor at Samnorwood and Texola, and the Rev. J. B. North, pastor of Samnorwood Baptist Church. Burial was in the Shamrock Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Leroy Nealey, Dick Sweat, Everett Fain, Gene Byars, Cecil Mitchell, and Rodney Jaggers.

Surviving are his wife, of the home; two daughters and two sons: Miss Gladys Hobbs of Shamrock and Mrs. Austin Decker of Lutie; Raymond E. Hobbs of Texola, and James H. Hobbs Jr. of Shamrock.

There are also four grandchildren; two sisters and a brother: Mrs. H. M. Warren of Spur; Mrs. Emma Jones of Wellington, and Jess Hobbs of McAllen.

ASCS Reminds

March 26 Deadline to Sign in Domestic Cotton Program

Cotton farm operators today were reminded of the fast-approaching deadline for signing up to take part in the 1965 domestic allotment program for upland cotton. The last day for filing a program application is Friday, March 26.

W. C. Harwell, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee points out that the sign-up is being conducted only for the operators of farms whose domestic allotments are less than their effective allotments; in general, these are farms with an effective cotton allotment of more than 15 acres.

Growers on farms with cotton allotments of 15 acres or less are eligible for program benefits without signing up provided their cotton acreage is within the farm's domestic allotment. (For these small-allotment farms, the domestic allotment is the same as the effective allotment.)

Program benefits include a price-support payment of 4.35 cents a pound on the normal yield per acre determined for the farm times the acreage planted for harvest. In addition participating growers will be eligible for price-support loans at 29 cents a pound for Middle-linch at average location on all cotton produced on the farm.

A cotton grower qualifies as a participant in the domestic allotment program by (1) signing up, if the sign-up applies to the particular farm operator; and (2) planting within his farm's domestic acreage allotment, which for most farms with allotments over 15 acres, is about 65 percent of the farm's effective allotment.

Another program provision for such participating growers is staying within the farm's feed grain base.

Growers who do not participate in the domestic allotment program for 1965-crop upland cotton will be eligible for cotton loans if they keep their cotton acreage within the farm's effective allotment; the additional price support in the form of payments, however, will be available only to participants in the domestic allotment program.

According to Harwell, a total of 182 farm operators in Collingsworth County had signed up as of March 22, 1965, to take about 5,426 acres out of cotton production this year under the domestic allotment program. If they wish, growers

Band Groups Qualify to Play in State Contest

Honors came twice to the Wellington high school band during the week reaching the climax on Saturday, March 20 at the Texas Interscholastic League solo and ensemble contests in Canyon, when four groups qualified for the state finals. These will be held in Austin June 7 and 8.

Wednesday, St. Patrick's Day, the band won first place in marching, and honors in concert work and sight reading at the Shamrock Band Festival and parade.

The band received a superior, or first division rating in sight reading, and the judges divided with a superior and an excellent rating in concert work. Fifty-five young musicians took part, competing with 15 bands. Judging was according to the TIL standards.

The band reached its heights at the Canyon competition. The four solo and ensemble groups who will compete on the state level were playing Class I, or the most difficult class of music, James Larson, band director, reported. Each won a first division rating to qualify.

David Groves won with a cornet solo and Dan Warrick with a trombone solo. Both were accompanied by Regina Ferguson, pianist. Brenda Bobo won in the clarinet solo division, and Cherry Lewis was her accompanist.

Dan Warrick then teamed with Cleland Stallings and Jamie Larson to win the trombone trio competition. Their pianist was Becky Brewer.

Approximately 20 other band students participated and none received less than division III or "Good" rating. This in itself is regarded as exceptional.

These students were playing Class 3, or less difficult music. Ratings are first division, superior; second division, excellent; third division, good.

The group included:

Clarinet solo: Jan Bowen, first division; Cheryl Needham and Cindy Saied, second divisions; Carey Lewis and Gary Jennings, third divisions.

Cornet solo: Kathy Tyler, first division; Bryant Harris, second division.

Trombone solo: Jamie Larson, second division.

Baritone solo: Jackie Barton, third division.

Flute solo: Linda Williams, third division.

Alto saxophone solo: Nancy Thomas, second division.

Flute trio: Carey Lewis, Betty Trapp and Kathy Singley, third division.

Catholics Plan Mexican Dinner

On Sunday, April 4, the Catholics of Wellington will sponsor another one of their popular Mexican dinners at the community building, beginning at 12 noon.

This will be followed at 1:30 by Stations of the Cross in Our Mother of Mercy Catholic Church.

Then the entire gathering will return to the community building for a series of talks on the Cursillo Movement, by several speakers from other parts of the state.

"Tickets are now on sale (call 447-5510) and all Catholics of the area and their friends and all who enjoy well-cooked Mexican food, are warmly invited to attend," said Father Patrick Burke.

Dee Coleman Heads CB Radio Club

Organization of the Citizens Band Radio club was completed and permanent officers were elected in a meeting Friday, March 19.

The president is Dee Coleman of Wellington, who takes over from Police Chief Donald Nunneley, acting president.

Buster Hughes of Wellington was elected vice president; N. E. Childers of Marella community, secretary; Boyd Derryberry of Wellington, treasurer; and Nunneley, breaker.

Meetings will be the first Thursday of each month.

Rules and regulations of the club were adopted and these conform to those set up by the Federal Communications Commission. Dues were set at $2.00 per year.

"Anyone interested can join as a charter member before the next meeting. You do not have to own citizens band radio equipment," Nunneley said.

Twenty-eight area residents have paid dues, and a membership of at least 50 is expected. These CB radio owners come from most communities of the area, Nunneley reported, from Vinson to Quail, and Buck Creek to Dodson to Dozier, and north of that area.

The next meeting will be on Thursday, April 2 at 7:30 p.m., in the Farm Bureau building. A name for the club will be selected.

Both men and women are eligible to join, as wives of Citizens Band radio owners usually handle the base units for their husbands, it was pointed out.

Interest in use of this means of communication is increasing, and several units were bought during the last week.

Water Line Near Finish

Completion of a new 6-inch water line from 7th to 16th Streets is due to be completed within a few days, Mayor Hiram Cudd said this week.

The line replaces a smaller line and will give increased pressure to the entire southwest part of town during periods of heavy water use, the mayor said.

It was laid along the alley between Childress and Dalhart Streets, and ties in with all 4-inch lines crossing it at two-block intervals.

Work was under the direction of Doc Barjenbruch, city manager, and Hubert Leach, of the water department.

$300,000 Needed for Screwworm Work in Texas

DALLAS.—Texas farmers and ranchers have been asked to raise $300,000 to keep screwworm eradication work in operation through June.

The Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation set the two-week period beginning on March 29 for committees in all Texas counties to ask livestock producers for contributions to keep the popular insect eradication project alive until the Federal government can assume full financial responsibility. Livestock industry leaders are hopeful that with Congress considering a U.S. Department of Agriculture request for $5 million, this will come about July 1.

Dolph Briscoe, Jr., SWAHRF president of Uvalde, stated his organization had investigated all alternatives before deciding to ask for additional contributions from producers and assured the livestock industry that its funds are vital to the continuation of the eradication project. He said a reduced level of operation during the winter and economies in production of sterile screwworm flies have extended available funds by several months, else a fund drive would have been necessary much earlier.

Eradication experts have estimated that during April, May and June, which in the past has been a time of heavy screwworm activity, 100 million sterile screwworm flies will be needed each week to keep fertile insects from Mexico from reinfesting the Southwest where the livestock pest has been eradicated through use of the sterile male fly technique. Cost of operating at this level will be $12,000 a day or approximately $1.1 million for the three-month period.

The $300,000 to be raised by livestockmen, along with $250,000 already appropriated by the Texas Legislature, will match an equal amount of Federal funds to supply the total required.

Animal health committees have been organized in all counties. Livestockmen will be asked to contribute 10 cents for each head of beef or dairy cattle or horse and two cents for each head of sheep, goats or swine. A similar campaign conducted by the Foundation earlier resulted in more than $3 million being raised for the eradication program.

Bob Izzard, Television News Editor, to Emcee Spring Fashion Show

Tickets are now available for the tenth annual spring fashion show-dinner of the 1924 Study Club to be held April 8 at the community building.

This "Jubilee in Fashions" is the first public emphasis in 1965 of Collingsworth County's 75th anniversary. Planning committees are doing their utmost to give this all-county event the special effect the observance merits.

Bob Izzard, the distinguished news editor of KGNC-TV, Amarillo, is slated as fashion commentator.

An antique display is planned that will show the agricultural and cultural advancement of our county. Anyone wishing to add to this interesting display may contact Mrs. Don Nunnelley, Mrs. Mack Bush or Mrs. Don Van Pelt of Samnorwood as soon as possible.

Following the dinner, the fashion show will begin with "Fashion Fanfare," a presentation of Collingsworth county's history in fashions with musical background of the era by the Dodson High School Girls' Ensemble.

Coiffures will be by Bernie's of Dodson, Pauline's Beauty Shop, Allene's Beauty Salon and the House of Beauty.

An unusual interlude of chapeaux is scheduled by the designer of Helen's Creations.

A handsome parade of ready-to-wear fashions and garments sewn from yardage materials are keyed to please the most discriminating audience.

Parker's General Store of Dodson will have modeled the latest in lovely fabrics from the most current clothing patterns.

The Fair Store of Wellington will feature an array of its varied nationally-known lines from lingerie and sportswear to spring and summer ensembles for street and church wear to striking after-five creations. Also featured will be lovely half-sizes for the more mature women.

On the agenda is a "Finale in Formals," spotlighting teenage personalities of Collingsworth county.

Interspersed in this hour of county fashions will be music and door prizes. Names of models, favor and door prize donors may appear at a later date.

All of Collingsworth county is to be represented in this annual community benefit in one and/or all categories of this jubilee extravaganza of fashions, food, and fundamentals forming our own Collingsworth county.

FTA Delegates Attend Meeting at Houston

Wellington Future Teachers chapter was represented at the state convention in Houston by three members, Lewis Watkins, Jimmy Campbell and Henry Wells. They were accompanied by their sponsor, Mrs. Bernice Welch.

The convention was held Friday and Saturday, March 12 and 13 at the Rice Hotel.

The speaker for the Friday night session was Dr. John McFarland, superintendent of the Houston schools, whom a number of Wellington people came to know when he headed the Amarillo system.

He traced improvements in the teaching profession. Now drawing a salary of $27,000 per year, Dr. McFarland began his career at $700 per year.

He added that he hoped to see the teaching profession reach the pay scale where the families of means will want to see, their children go into the profession.

Two hootenanny-type political pow-wows followed, with entertainment and speeches by candidates for state offices.

Saturday morning the three boys attended workshops on "So You Plan to Go to College," and on FTA projects. Mrs. Welch attended the workshop "Coaching Is Teaching, Too," conducted by Coach Theo Rigby of Richland Hills, president of the Texas Coaches Association.

He urged young men planning to become coaches to study as much English as possible during their college years. During the Saturday afternoon tour of Houston, the FTA members visited the campuses of Rice Institute and the University of Houston, the Astradome, where all sports will be played indoors, and Port Houston, where a number of ships were being loaded and unloaded.

Then they drove to San Jacinto battleground and monument and visited the Battle-ship Texas. On their own Friday, the Wellington group visited the observation deck of the Humble Building, tallest in Houston, where a view of the entire city and surrounding area can be seen.

The closing session, Saturday night, was the awards program, when honors were presented winning chapters of the state and entertainment was by students in the speech classes of the Houston schools.

Delegates to the convention were chosen on the point system, determined by their activities, both assigned and those the members themselves worked out.

Citizen Band Radio Will Provide a Vital Service to Collingsworth

Organization of the Citizen Band Radio Club appears to fill a long-felt communications need in the county, tying remote communities of our area to town and the essential services it offers.

What might appear to be a hobby is in reality an addition to the business operations of most of the members. Wellington is a town of ranchers and farmers, and heretofore most have had to drive to their properties to have communication with them. Citizens band radio, operating from both ends, gives this communication tie, and will save endless trips to and from town. No ranch or field is too removed to be out of direct contact with either the operator's home base or someone in between.

We can probe far out in space but if we want to communicate with other side of Collingsworth often it must be done in person. We know of one citizen band radio a number of miles from a telephone, and around it live four elderly couples all of whom have had extensive illnesses in the last year. CB radio can be an emergency service.

Several club members have mentioned that in the past they needed contact with law enforcement officers. Now every CB radio is such an officer.

Members hope that something can be worked out for a central receiving station in Wellington, from which members' messages could be relayed by telephone to the proper person.

Of course, CB radio is for recreation, too. These mobil little sets will go fishing and on picnics and coyote hunts—they do already.

As plans are now being worked out, this is a vital communications link within our county.

"THE ROUNDERS"

Glen Ford, attempting to tame a rambunctious bronco, bites the dust in one of the action-filled moments of MGM's hilarious modern-day western, "The Rounders." Henry Fonda plays his fellow cowpoke, with Sue Ane Langdon and Hope Holiday seen as two Las Vegas striptease artists who add to the unpredictable complications. The laugh hit was filmed in Panavision and Metrocolor on location in Arizona. It will be on the Ritz screen Sunday through Tuesday.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

Reporters are making considerable of a to-do about a Mr. Marland, who was once governor of West Virginia and now drives a taxicab and his wife teaches school.

Tone of these news stories is a sort of gloating over a slipped VIP, by writers who likely never have been up anywhere they could fall from.

But my statusless neighbor says good for Mr. Marland, who has now moved up into the self- and politician-supporting class, which is getting more exclusive all the time.

Many progressive educator types and many people who can write are blaming parents for all this juvenile delinquency.

The educationists deny they are to blame, because parents still are in charge of the kids for six years, and by the time the schools get hold of them, most are past redemption.

My oh-no neighbor says he reckons our only hope for a properly processed posterity is for the Federals to snatch the child to their bureaucratic bosoms as soon as he is born, and automation may some day even relieve parents of this chore.

I see where some demonstrators sat-in at the White House and in less than a week Congress got orders to produce a Voting Rights Law.

My career drone neighbor says this is the fastest job of Rights procurement he's ever heard of, and he's thinking about going after some of his own withheld Rights by parking his rump on the White House floor.

Says the way he reads it, he's got a Constitutional Right to happiness, and he don't aim to be happy until he is living as high as anybody else, or a little bit higher.

News leaking down here is that World General Manager U Thant says President Johnson is not telling us Americans the "true facts" about Viet Nam.

My Stone Age wordsmith neighbor says before society got so complicated, a fact was true or it was no fact; whereas now it seems there must be two kinds of facts—true and false.

But he figures that under Full Government to come, we will have to believe whatever we're told, and won't need to do any worrying about things like whether Mr. Johnson is

CJC Aggies Plan Rodeo

The Clarendon College Aggie Club has scheduled a junior rodeo for April 23rd and 24th at Clarendon Rodeo Arena. There will be three rodeo performances, a queen contest, and a western dance following each night's performance.

Contestants throughout the area are invited to enter. The maximum age is twenty-one and the minimum age is fourteen. Six events are scheduled, including bareback bronc riding, bull riding, calf roping, ribbon roping, and girls' barrel racing and pole bending. Thirty-eight trophies will be awarded as prizes.

A Rodeo Queen will be selected following the Saturday afternoon performance. The winner will be judged for her beauty and her riding ability. All single girls of the area will be eligible if they are within the age range of the contestants for the other events. The queen contestant need not be a contestant in any of the major events.

Night performances began at 8:00 p. m. and the Saturday afternoon performance starts at 2:00 p. m. The two night

Committees Report Industry Studies in Meeting Series

Small industries existing in Wellington face need for assistance in four areas if they are to grow and develop, and these areas were the focus of discussion when business leaders met recently with Gerald Albright, chief of community services for the Department of Commerce on his return visit here.

During the series of meetings, committee reports were made on nine small industries here, N. M. Higdon, chamber of commerce manager, said.

Pinpointed were the need for: 1. Sales representative of manufacturers representative to sell products of these small manufacturers.

2. A source of capital for stockpiling inventory materials, both unfinished and finished products.

3. A need for technical assistance in some industries.

4. Possible need for management assistance in some industries.

Committees were appointed earlier to check with each of the industries.

Some of these, it was pointed out, do not need financial backing other than through local channels. Several are asking for more financing.

One of the nine industries is already solidly established on a nation-wide basis, R. H. Tyler Company, manufacturer of weather scanning equipment for use by community antenna systems.

The scope of operation of this business is not generally recognized at home, but Tyler has presented his equipment from coast to coast and it is already in use in many states. To expand operations, he has begun construction of a new building on 15th Street.

R. L. Templeton, county attorney and farmer, produces on a small scale fish food, for use in farm ponds, an organic plant food for potted plants.

Neeley Manufacturing Company, owned by Raymond Neeley, builds Tilt-to-Load farm machinery trailers and other agriculture related products. An advertising program has been started by Neeley and he is looking into the possibility of securing larger quarters, according to Higdon.

Herman Childress Mattress Co., with Herman Childress as owner, is the oldest established of the local industries, having been founded by the father of the present owner. Childress produces cotton and innerspring mattresses in his own plant on 15th Street, which would be adequate for an expansion program.

From experience, Childress is acquainted with his competitive field and knows the market potential in the local area, it was brought out.

Spray King, a self-propelled insecticide sprayer, has been manufactured here by Randolph Hunt several years. They are in use not only here, but also in areas of the South Plains.

East Side Welding, owned by Ronald Kersten and Jess Wilson, builds cotton trailers during time not taken up with regular welding operations. The committee reported this firm also is interested in expansion. It was pointed out that the demand for cotton trailers in the past has been good in this area and on the South Plains.

Bradley & Hill, with Bill Bradley and Russell Hill as partners, in addition to its refrigeration and sheet metal work, rebuilds hermetically sealed refrigeration compressors, and this is the part on which expansion is sought.

Chartier's rug and upholstery cleaner has been manufactured by Perry Chartier for a number of years and has regional distribution. Here again expansion is sought.

Cue King, owned by Scott Neill, manufactures billiard and pool tables and equipment. Neill has carried this on several years in Wellington, in addition to his regular business of setting up pool halls, putting them in operation, then leasing them out.

Cue King tables are used widely. Both Neill and the committee members point to the expanding market, nation-wide, for billiard tables, and the growing interest in the game. Sales promotion is aimed at home sales.

Albright explained to the group a visit to Hydro-Torq Pump Company, operated by A. B. Fly in Amarillo, who has indicated strong interest in locating a plant in Wellington.

Albright pointed out that work is progressing on schedule, but since this is a new product, change and time delays in perfecting it may be expected.

At the end of committee meetings, a finance committee meeting was called where the need for a sales representative or manufacturers representative, to sell the products, was stressed. It was the opinion of the majority present that a sales representative would be in a position to handle these related products successfully.

The group then entered into a discussion as to financing such a representative. This is still under consideration.

Joining Wellington men and Albright at this meeting were representatives of General Telephone Company of the Southwest, Wayne Goodrum, district manager, Memphis; Jim Correll, development representative, of San Angelo; and Carl Yancey, division sales manager, Memphis.

Albright told the group he was pleased to find some progress has been made in the appearance of Wellington.

The purpose of his visits, he reminded, is to help Wellington help itself, and through both meetings with leaders here, he has emphasized: If you are to get industry or build up local industry, you must do it yourselves.

Albright said he can supply perhaps technical assistance through his office, or give reference to another source of help.

Both of Albright's visits here were through the joint work of the Chamber of Commerce and the Builders Club, with members of the Collingsworth County Development Company board of directors joining in the finance discussions.

Min. Forehand in Mercedes

Grandol Forehand, minister of Bowie Street Church of Christ, is conducting a gospel meeting at the Church of Christ in Mercedes. It began Monday, March 22 and will continue through Sunday, March 28.

This is the second time he has held a gospel meeting in Mercedes, as he was there a year and a half ago.

Wellington Track Records

These records begin with the 1962-63 school year. Prior to that, track records were not kept at the Wellington high school, and although it is thought there may have been better time in some of these events in past years, it is not known who the holder was or his time or distance. Permanent records are now kept, according to Coach Don Beck.

8th Grade Has Medical Self Held Course

By Mrs. Jack Davis

The eighth grades have completed a medical self-help training course, materials for which were provided by the office of Civil Defense and a department of the U.S. Public Health Service.

This material included texts, tests, instructors' guides and manuals, film strips, projector and other aids.

Medical assistance was given by Dr. Carter Holcomb, the local Civil Defense medical advisor.

Two students, Mary Karen Bearden and Vickie Sherman, laid the groundwork for the course by several weeks of study and planning, then serving as chief assistants when the instruction was given.

Two students served as instructor and demonstration chairman each day and the remaining students actively participated in the demonstrations one or more times.

The course covered radioactive fallout and shelter, healthful living in emergencies, artificial respiration, bleeding and bandaging, fractures and splinting, transportation of the injured, burns, shock, and nursing care of the sick and injured.

The class made a 26-point average improvement on the final test over a pre-course test, which is considered good since this was not a select group but the entire eighth grade.

Larry Kane, Elaine Karnes, Mickey Ann Kendrick, Patti Lacy, Jamie Larson, Debbie Lewis, Mike Little, Teddy Martin, Jessie Morrison, Rick Alan Mosenbocker.

Volley Ball Tourney Reset

An independent volleyball tournament originally set for April 1 and 2 has been moved up to Thursday and Friday, April 3 and 4.

This change was due to a conflict with another area volleyball tournament.

This is a benefit event, sponsored by the Wellington Classroom Teachers Association and proceeds will go toward a scholarship to be awarded at the end of school to a graduate planning to enter the teaching profession.

Texas 65 Health Insurance Open in Late April

Texas citizens 65 years of age and over will have an opportunity to again purchase Texas 65 Health Insurance during the last two weeks of April, according to an announcement by H. Lewis Rietz, president of the Texas 65 Health Insurance Association.

Texas 65 was organized by 64 of the leading insurance companies in the state, in 1963, to offer low cost health coverage to senior citizens of Texas who had previously been unable to purchase health insurance because of age or physical condition.

The program is open only during open enrollment periods to any Texas resident 65 years of age or over, regardless of physical condition, and without the necessity of completing a lengthy medical questionnaire.

Husbands and wives of those past 65 who purchase the insurance may also qualify for Texas 65 though they have not attained the age of 65. Coverage may also be purchased by sons and daughters in behalf of parents or relatives without the necessity of the insured's signature.

"That Texas 65 is filling the need we hoped it would be evidenced by the fact that over $4 million dollars has been paid in claims by the Texas 65 Health Insurance Association since the program was started on Nov. 1, 1963," Rietz said.

Rietz explained that the unique health insurance program offers three plans of coverage for the senior citizen. The basic plan pays a maximum of $12 per day for a hospital room up to 31 days, part of the costs of doctors' hospital visits, surgical fees up to $200 and miscellaneous charges up to $125. Monthly premiums for this plan are $9. The major medical plan cost is $10 per month, and covers

Revival Set for Methodists

A revival will open at First Methodist Church Sunday evening, April 18, the Rev. Ellis Todd, pastor, has announced.

The Rev. David Hamblin of First Methodist Church, O'Donnell, will be the preacher. Additional plans for the meeting will be announced within a short time.

First Baptist Plans Revival

Rev. A. B. Earnest, Jr., pastor of First Baptist Church, has announced a revival will open April 18, Easter Sunday.

Rev. Gene Jorgenson, pastor of First Baptist Church, Memphis, will be the evangelist. Rev. Carroll Ray of Pampa, will be the morning preacher, and Rev. Earnest will lead the singing.

There will be three services each day.

Complete plans will be announced.

hospital expenses up to $5,000 during any calendar year, or about 80 per cent of all hospital, surgical and nursing home expenses after the first $75. This plan is designed for those who have some basic coverage, such as the basic Texas 65 plan, or who are financially able to meet the cost of basic coverage.

The third Texas 65 plan is a combination of both the basic and major medical plans and costs $19 per month.

The basic or major medical plan may be purchased separately or in combination under plan three.

Texas was the fourth state in the union to offer a 65 health insurance program for its senior citizens. There are now seven such plans in operation in the United States.

Texas 65 will be available April 15 to May 1 from any insurance agent licensed to sell health insurance in Texas.

High Plains Weevil Control Program Success

LUBBOCK—High praise for amazing results was the order of the day March 17 and 18 in Lubbock when officials of the High Plains Boll Weevil Control Program met to review the 1964 spray program and lay plans for spraying in 1965.

Both field evaluation during the program and winter trash surveys in January of this year revealed a reduction in the overwintering weevil populations of about 90 per cent, a record said by Dr. Perry L. Adkisson of the Texas A & M Department of Entomology to be "almost unbelievable." D. H. Russell, Lubbock Supervisor of the USDA's Plant Pest Control Division described the results as "phenomenal," especially considering that no program of this scope and nature had even been attempted before and that sprayings were beset from the start with adverse weather.

Field evaluation was made during the actual spraying by comparing weevil counts in treated fields with counts in untreated fields, and winter trash examination was compared with a similar study made at the same time of year in 1963.

Reporting on the physical attributes of the program, Russell said that almost 300,000 acres of cotton belonging to 3,800 farmers across 9 counties were sprayed from four to six times for an aggregate total of 1,136,664 acres; 123,618 gallons of malathion in technical form (a new material used extensively for boll weevil control for the first time in the High Plains program) was applied; 20 spray aircraft and five observation aircraft operating from 21 airstrips were used, and over 200 men were employed full time during the mid-September to mid-November spray period. Preliminary accounting figures set cost of 1964 sprayings at $1,163,778.28.

Dr. J. C. Gaines, head of Texas A&M's Entomology Department, told the group that weevil research efforts will continue through the Spring, Summer and Fall, and should furnish answers to some of the questions about the High Plains weevil's biological processes. These answers, he said, could prove highly beneficial to the High Plains control program.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Collingsworth County could be under the jurisdiction of a federal registrar when the next general election rolls around if the voting rights bill is passed in its present form. Less than 50% of our people over 21 years of age voted in November of 1964. That makes us eligible for federal supervision, along with Mississippi, Alabama and other Southern states.

Contrary to some suspicions that have been voiced it will not eliminate our poll tax which we voted to keep in passing upon a state constitutional amendment not too long ago. We do not have a literacy test. There will be one peculiar anomaly if we do become subject to the kindly ministrations of a federal voting registrar. Our state law says that you must pay your poll tax before Feb. 1 to be eligible to vote that same year. But the "friendly, understanding federal registrar" would have the right to collect the poll tax at any time before the election and could certify the voter. Of course he would be supposed to turn the poll tax money over to Rita Owens. Folks, I am not talking about something that could happen in Washington, New York or Cleveland. I am talking about something they are planning for Wellington.

Bonnie Willis brought over some of her late copies of the New York Times. That celebrated "voice of the Institution" is still treating the news in the same manner that they did last June to which I objected in writing from New York. They had the rigged march from Selma to Montgomery displayed prominently on the front page; but there was no mention of the violence in Cleveland and the continued lawlessness, rapes, murders, and assaults in Washington and New York.

The New York World's Fair lost $17 million last year. Wonder how much of that could be attributed to what had been and still is happening on the subway? Forget about New York. Save your money for San Antonio, That will be the dynamic show of the decade.

In the olden days when they had entrancing passenger trains in the United States, it was my custom to consult Mickey Kendrick, the Oldsmobile dealer, about train schedules and accommodations. He was a wizard compared to the average passenger agent in Amarillo, Dallas or Austin. It was one of his hobbies. If you wanted information of trains that traveled in Texas, he had the information in his memory and it made no difference as to whether it was the Santa Fe, Rock Island, Katy, FW&D, Denver or Cotton Belt. He could tell you these train schedules without looking. Give him a few minutes to consult his time tables and he could set forth the quickest and most pleasant way to get to New York, Chicago, Seattle, San Francisco or Mexico City.

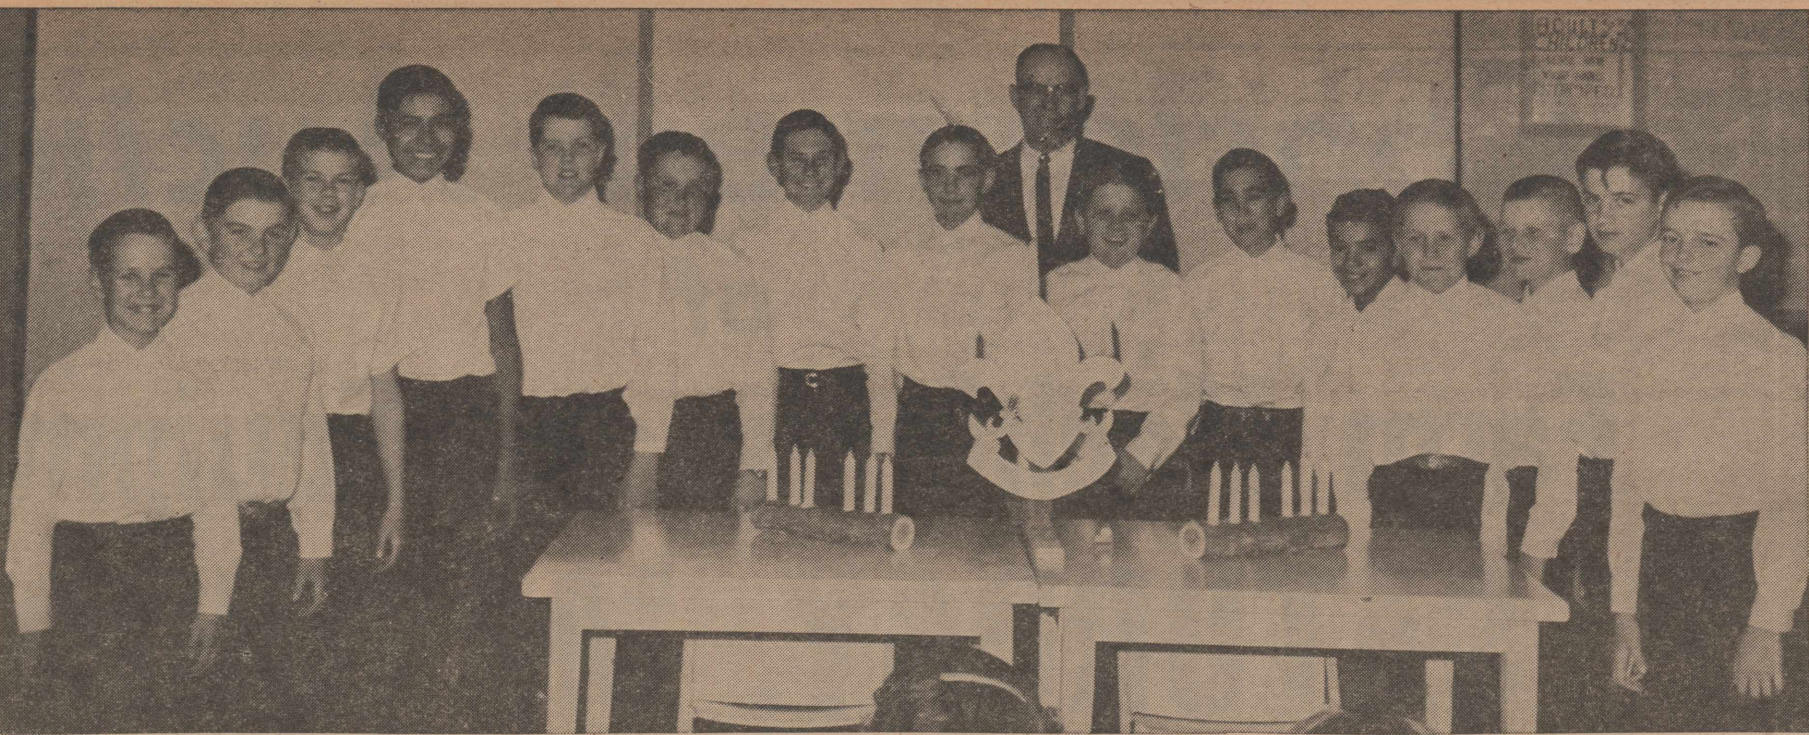

It is different today. Mr. Kendrick still knows about trains—the only trouble is that so many of them do not run any more. Monday I asked him about a night train that formerly ran to Houston. He informed me that the only way to get from Childress to Houston is by day train. There was a pensive look on his face when he said: "Pretty soon there won't be any first class trains across the nation."

Of course he is correct if the Government keeps on abetting airlines, shipping interests with subsidies and petting the unions in exorbitant demands. On the other hand, Japan has a train that travels 120 miles an hour, which may have been built partly by our departing gold and silver. Why can't we have trains like that?

Did you know that as a nation we have frugged around until we not only have a drastic and direful shortage of gold; but that we also have a shortage of silver? Shades of William Jennings Bryan! We do not have enough silver to make the needed coins, jewelry and photographic supplies.

If someone had told you thirty years ago that you could sit in your living room and watch two men travel around the earth three times in four hours, what would you have said?

No comment on the moon pictures.

Masonic Lodges Plan Workshop at Clarendon

A workshop has been scheduled for officers and members of Masonic Lodges in this area at 7:30 p.m., March 29. This meeting will be held at Clarendon Masonic Hall. Officers of Hedley, Wellington, Dodson, Quail and Clarendon Lodges are especially invited.

The workshop is part of a state-wide, semi-annual program authorized by the Grand Master of Masons in Texas, J. Carroll Hinsley of Austin. The program is conducted for nearly 1,000 Texas Masonic Lodges with a membership of 250,000 men. The Masonic Order is the state's largest fraternal organization.

The purpose of the workshop is to enable Masons to study common problems of Masonic Lodges and their operations.

The workshop will be conducted by Jimmy M. Willson, Jr., a Floydada building materials distributor and chairman of a Masonic Workshop area which includes ten counties.

Grand Master Hinsley stressed the importance of attendance by all Lodge officers and emphasized that other Masons are welcome.

Bishop DeFalco Visits in Area

Among the distinguished guests at the recent St. Patrick's Day festivities in Shamrock was His Excellency Bishop Lawrence DeFalco of the Diocese of Amarillo. He was accompanied to the banquet on the evening of the 16th by Father Patrick Burke, parish priest of Wellington and Shamrock, and by Father Richard Neyer from Childress and Father Edward Kieran from Perryton.

On St. Patrick's Day, Bishop DeFalco and Father Burke joined the Attorney General of Texas and other dignitaries to watch the hour-long parade along Main Street. One of the floats taking part in the parade was sponsored by Father Burke, and depicted the theme of Christian Unity, with a Catholic Priest, a Protestant Minister, and a Greek Orthodox priest joining together in raising a large cross on a hilltop, a religious parallel to the raising of the United States flag by the Marines on Iwo Jima in World War II.

Two Fires Level Houses

Fire of undetermined origin blazed twice in a house in the 1200 block of Belton Street Tuesday night, March 16, and the second time, only part of the walls were left standing. Donald Nunnelley, fire marshal and police chief, reported.

Nunnelley and Fire Chief Buster Hughs said the house belonged to Johnny Parker of Quail. The three-bedroom frame structure was being repaired and it was unoccupied, they said. Some furniture was stored there, however.

The first fire broke out in the southwest part of the house about 11:30 p.m. Tuesday night and firemen extinguished this blaze without trouble.

The second fire was discovered about 3 a.m. Wednesday in the east part of the house and was out of control by the time the firemen arrived, the police chief said.

Camp Fire Leaders Hear Finance Report

Activities of Wellington's Camp Fire girls were reviewed at a recent leaders' association meeting by Mrs. J. B. King, president, and Mrs. Paul Guthrie, treasurer.

In two years, $243.49 has been spent improving the Camp Fire meeting rooms, in the 600 block of West Avenue, and providing program activities for the girls.

"This included sponsoring summer day camps, the annual candy sales, buying stoves, linoleums, signs, work tables and book shelves and supplies, as well as the girls' beads, council dues, office help and miscellaneous expense," Mrs. King said.

Immediate future plans include buying new folding chairs, observing Camp Fire Girls birthday in March, and offering summer camp for the girls. The annual Valentine box supper was held Feb. 13.

"Three years ago a public finance drive was conducted, but each year the profits of near $120 from annual candy sales are the only financial help for this organization, which serves nearly 70 girls. Each group is self-supporting through monthly dues for their own supplies," Mrs. King continued.

There are two Blue Bird groups for younger girls, and three Camp Fire groups.

Blue Bird leaders are Mrs. James Sullivan, with Mrs. Carthel Lewis as helper, and Mrs. Scott Neill. Guardians of the Camp Fire groups are Mrs. Cecil Masten, Mrs. Leroy Hofarth with Mrs. J. B. King as helper, and Mrs. Marshall Peters with Mrs. G. T. Shumate as helper.
