Alaska Releases New Death, Damage Tolls

By MURLIN SPENCER

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—As Alaskans toiled to dig out from the rubble of Friday's great earthquake, Civil Defense officials listed new casualty figures today of 21 known dead and 83 missing and presumed dead.

Fifty-five were reported to have been injured.

This means if those presumed dead—most were washed to sea by tidal waves following the quake—are indeed dead the toll will be more than 100.

Before this morning's report, an estimated 70 had been listed as dead or presumed so.

Gov. William A. Egan made a new damage estimate Sunday night of $350 million for this far north state, where industry in several south-central coastal towns was virtually obliterated.

Civil Defense officials gave this breakdown on casualties:

Anchorage, with a metropolitan population of 100,000 and the state's largest city, 8 dead and 2 presumed dead, 50 injured.

Kodiak, 7 dead, 14 presumed dead, 2 injured.

Valdez, 1 dead, 30 presumed dead, 2 injured.

Seward, 2 dead, 20 presumed dead, 2 injured.

Whittier, 1 dead, 12 presumed dead, 1 injured.

Cordova, 1 dead, 5 presumed dead, injured unknown.

Port Ashton, 1 dead, 5 presumed dead, injured unknown.

A stunned population began to realize the economic ruin carried by the quake. In some communities, industry was as much as 95 per cent wiped out.

"It might take a year and a half to two years to rebuild," said Mayor Bruce Woodford of smashed Valdez, "but we'll make it."

Egan said his estimate of property damage was conservative. Other unofficial estimates were higher.

Egan had increased the figure after visiting Valdez, his home town.

Information from many of the heavy-hit areas was sketchy at best. In Kodiak, where a tidal wave washed out the waterfront, one report said martial law had been proclaimed. Police refused to confirm or deny the report.

Edward A. McDermott, President Johnson's personal representative on the scene, was flying back to Washington today to recommend special relief legislation.

The President already has declared the 49th state a major disaster area. McDermott said it was obvious the full disaster relief program permitted under present law would not be enough.

At best, he said, it would take two to four months to get Alaskan economy into any workable shape.

Alaska Senators Ernest Gruening and E. L. (Bob) Bartlett, also Washington-bound, indicated they would press for an immediate aid grant in Congress.

Typically, Seward, 60 miles south of Anchorage, had only two known dead, but its business was 95 per cent destroyed and few of its men still had jobs.

The Alaskan Railroad, vital route from Seward to the interior, was a jumble of wrecked cars and twisted rails. A mile-long waterfront area collapsed into the sea.

All along the ring of the Gulf of Alaska where the great quake struck in fury at 5:36 p.m. Friday it was a similar story of low casualties but mighty ruin.

Anchorage, the metropolis of the state with an area population of 100,000, counted 12 dead. Its business district and its best residential sections were tottering heaps of awesome wreckage.

Kodiak Island enumerated 12 dead. Its fishing fleet and canning plants were wrecked.

One hundred and five miles southeast of Anchorage, reports from the small town of Valdez — pronounced "Valdeez"— said many of the 32 dead were on a dock that collapsed when hit by a huge sea wave.

Court Hears Discussion On Coliseum

The Scurry County commissioners court met for their regular Monday meeting this morning.

Visitors with the court were Claude McCormick and Ivan Gatlin, who said they met with the court to "clarify our position regarding the options on land for the coliseum."

McCormick said that he and Gatlin had done nothing for which they should apologize. Rather, he said, he felt that what they had done in making property available was in the public interest. Further they said that the land on which they had obtained the options was, in their opinion, the most suitable location for the coliseum.

Property involved in a section of about nine acres west of Avenue S and north of Twenty-third Street. McCormick said he was out no money on the land other than the $5 fees for taking the options.

In other business the court received a recommendation from the Airport Board in which they said they had considered the latest request from Webb Air Force Base regarding use of Winston Field here, and that they recommended a 10-year lease of 300 feet of office space, 4,500 feet of ramp space, and 2,500 feet of storage space at a rental of $5,300 per year.

The board also recommended that a separate contract be entered into with Webb AFB by which the Air Force would maintain all the Winston Field facilities and also provide additional safety factors.

A new hanger, the report suggested, could be constructed to provide the needed storage space for both the Air Force and for local aircraft storage needs, and could be financed from the income from the Air Force with no additional cost to the county.

The commissioners court took the report under advisement.

Also meeting with the court were three representatives of architectural firms who made presentations regarding the new coliseum.

Glenn Quits Senate Race

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Former astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., withdrew today from the Ohio U.S. Senate campaign because of injuries from a bathroom fall last month.

"No man has a right to ask for a seat in either branch of the Congress merely because of a specific event such as orbiting the earth in a space craft," Glenn told newsmen after one of his physicians said participation in the campaign would be detrimental to his health and recovery.

His statement was made at the Air Force hospital where he was brought March 6 to recover from inner ear damage.

Glenn's announcement ended weeks of speculation on how the injury would affect the future of the spaceman turned politician.

The ear injury impaired Glenn's sense of balance and curtailed his plans to retire from the Marine Corps March 1 to enter the Ohio Senate race.

Glenn said he sent a telegram to Ohio Secretary of State Ted Brown requesting that his name be taken off the Democratic ballot.

The Marine Corps lieutenant colonel said he might return to his home near the National Aeronautics Space Administration center at Houston within a week or so.

As to his future plans, Glenn said: "Perhaps there will be other opportunities for service to our country or be a later time when I can conduct the type of campaign I think every candidate should conduct."

Glenn said tests of his condition by specialists "have led to the conclusion that the conditions causing my difficulties will probably not be resolved for at least a number of months.

"Doctors have advised that carrying on in a work status only aggravates the condition and can delay recovery, with the possibility that agitation would develop into a chronic situation from which recovery might be much more difficult," he said.

"To make full recovery most probable, they strongly recommend that I discontinue any plans for activities for at least the next several months."

Glenn had been prevented from actively campaigning until he had retired from the Marine Corps. His release from the corps had been postponed pending his recovery from the bathroom fall.

Horse Drags Ranch Hand

Pete Sanchez, 18-year - old ranch employe, is in serious condition at Cogdell Hospital after apparently being thrown from his horse and dragged.

Sanchez left the main house on the Ralph Miller Ranch 15 miles northwest of Fluvanna at about 6 p.m. Sunday. When he failed to arrive at his destination about a quarter of a mile away, a search was started at about 6:30 p.m.

He was found unconscious at about 3 a.m. The horse was not found at that time.

Sanchez is reported to be suffering from severe head injuries, and also from considerable damage done by cactus thorns. He was brought to Cogdell Hospital by Bell Ambulance Service.

At 8:25 a.m., the White House issued the following statement:

"Tours of the White House, however, will be permitted from 10:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m."

MacArthur Physicians Concerned

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur, fighting for his life, developed a kidney condition of "grave concern" during the night but was reported rallying today. Army Surgeon Gen. Leonard D. Heaton said he showed a slight improvement.

The surgeon general, one of the chief surgeons in all three of MacArthur's major operations — the latest Sunday — said that some improvement had been made even since a medical bulletin was issued by the hospital at approximately 9:45 a.m. today.

But Heaton indicated that MacArthur's condition still was considered critical.

Heaton told a newsman that bleeding from the esophagus, which recurred during the night, was being "a little more effectively controlled" by 10:30 a.m.

He added that there had also been "a very modest return of urine output" during at least the last hour or so.

The official bulletin at 9:45 a.m. had reported a decrease in kidney action and said steps were being taken to control it.

IN BRAZIL

No Amnesty For Rebels

By EDGAR MILLER

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Rear Adm. Paulo Mario da Cunha Rodrigues, a leftist who was appointed navy minister after a sitdown rebellion in the ranks last week, did an about face today and rescinded an amnesty for the rebels.

The Navy Ministry press officer said investigations had been ordered into the action of men and officers involved in incidents that cuased a crisis in the Brazilian navy and government.

A number of men were wounded in clashed and there may have been some killed, press reports said.

The ministry's action came after sharp criticism of the amnesty by the press and by naval officers, including more than 30 admirals. They protested government failure to punish enlisted sailors involved in a 40-hour rebellion, which was mostly passive.

Rodrigues acted after conferring with President Joao Goulart, who flew here from Brasilia, the capital, where Congress was convening to consider the crisis.

Brazil's Communist-dominated labor leadership charged that conservative military men were planning to overthrow left-leaning President Goulart.

Leaders of the General Confederation of Workers vowed to oppose any attempted coup with a general strike and "any methods of fighting which the moment demands."

In a public statement they urged Brazil's unions and workers to be prepared for a general strike.

The labor leaders issued the warning and a growing crisis over Goulart's attempts to institute sweeping social reforms and strengthen his power to circumvent a recalcitrant Congress. The trouble came to a head last week with a sit-in strike by 1,400 sailors against alleged political discrimination and poor conditions in the navy.

The sailors surrendered after 40 hours Friday when the General Confederation won a promise from the government that they would not be punished. The rebellion took place in the headquarters of a union affiliated with the labor command.

The navy's officers, including 30 admirals, charged the sailors' revolt had been directed by a group with "clearly Communist characteristics" and called upon the nation to oppose the "communization" of Brazil.

The president of the influential military club, Marshal Augusto Magessi, said Sunday night the army joined with the navy leadership in repudiating Goulart for failing to discipline the strikers.

Court Rules On Agents Registration

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled unanimously today that attorneys representing a foreign government in legal matters must register under the Foreign Agents Registration Act of 1938.

The tribunal, in an opinion by Justice Arthur J. Goldberg, ruled against Victor Rabinowitz and Leonard B. Boudin, New York attorneys, who were retained by the Republic of Cuba in 1960.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy called in 1961 for their registration under the act which requires detailed information about a registrant's work.

Rabinowitz and Boudin sued in U.S. Court of Appeals here, asking a declaration that they were not subject to registration. The lower court dismissed their complaint, holding it amounted to a suit against the United States to which the government had not given its consent. The attorneys then appealed to the Supreme Court.

Today's decision upheld the lower court's dismissal of the complaint, and further stated that the Foreign Agents Registration Act "plainly and unquestionably requires petitioners (the attorneys) to register."

Snow, Cold Wind Hit Eastern US

By The Associated Press

Unseasonably cold weather and snow spread from the Midwest across broad areas in the eastern half of the nation today.

The icy air, fanned by strong winds, dipped deep into the South. Freezing weather extended into parts of Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi.

A storm which dropped nine inches of snow in the Chicago area Easter Sunday spread eastward into the Ohio Valley and headed into sections of the Northeast.

The mercury dropped to 24 above in Atlanta, a record low for March 30, and more freezing weather was indicated tonight.

In Chicago, with its heavy snow cover, temperatures dropped to 15 above, a record low for March 30. The previous low mark for the date was 77 years ago.

Readings were a few degrees below zero and near zero in parts of Minnesota, the Dakotas Iowa, Wisconsin and Illinois.

As the storm moved out of Chicago after the heaviest snowfall on record for an Easter Sunday, fairly heavy snow was reported in parts of northern Indiana and southwestern lower Michigan.

Fairly pleasant spring weather prevailed in most of the Western states. Temperatures climbed to the 90s Sunday in sections of the Southwest desert.

Easter Sunday's pleasant weather may stick around in Texas the rest of this week.

Skies were partly cloudy in most sections today and forecasts called for little change through Saturday. Weather Bureau observers foresaw no appreciable moisture and minor fluctuations in temperature.

Top temperatures Sunday ranged from 61 degrees at Dalhart up to 87 at Presidio.

Senate Renews Rights Bill Battle

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey leads off with a challenge today as Senate backers of the civil rights bill launch an all-out campaign aimed at winning passage of the controversial measure.

The Senate battle is expected to last for weeks. Although today is the first day the bill is before the Senate, opponents have been talking against it for almost a month.

The subject of the civil rights bill was brought up by newsmen late Saturday at a news conference President Johnson held at his Texas ranch home.

In reply to a request for his views on school boycotts, the President said "We believe in the right of petition, as given under the Constitution," but he said he believed the civil rights bill would be a long step toward solving problems that result in petitions.

Asked if he thought it would be possible to get a cloture vote to cut off the expected Senate filibuster against the bill, Johnson said: "I haven't gone into that. I think that will have to be determined after the debate. I don't know whether it will be necessary or not."

In his prepared Senate speech today, Humphrey said bipartisan backers of the civil rights bill are anxious for "full and fair debate."

The Minnesotan, assistant Democratic leader and floor manager for the bill, said "We are also willing to come to a decision on each title of the bill and on the bill itself.

"We are willing to let a majority of the Senate say 'yea' or 'nay' on voting rights, public accommodations, school desegregation, equal employment opportunity and the other provisions of this legislation," he said.

Then in a direct challenge to the bill's opponents, led by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., Humphry expressed hope that they "will be equally willing to permit the Senate to work its will, after an opportunity for a searching examination and analysis of each and every provision."

Object In Space Stirs Excitement

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Two astronomers say they've discovered an incredibly powerful source of light and radio waves in space. It's an object moving so fast and at such a great distance that current concepts of the universe's size and age have been upset.

Dr. Maarten Schmidt of the Mount Wilson and Palomar observatories said the object, believed to be an exploding galaxy or cluster of galaxies, is the most distant yet seen by man.

"We have had to throw our yardsticks out the window," he said.

Dr. Schmidt discovered the new object with the aid of radio astronomer Thomas A. Matthews. They said it is moving faster than anything ever observed in the heavens — approximately half the speed of light.

Until announcement of the new discovery, astronomers measured the speed and distance of objects by a technique called the "red shift." They said that the faster an object goes, the more its light shifts into the red part of the spectrum.

All distant objects, they said, appear to be going away from our part of the universe. They all seem to go faster — and get redder — the farther they recede.

Astronomers, using this method to measure speed and distance, figured the percentage of shift across the spectrum — toward red — equalled the percentage of the speed of light at which the object was traveling.

Thus, if the shift toward red was 1-10th of the way, they figured the object was going about 1-10th the speed of light.

The problem, however, is that they keep finding new objects farther and farther away. The new object, dubbed 3C-147, is believed to be 10 or 20 per cent farther away than the most distant previously known object, called 3C-295.

Johnson Extends Easter Holiday

DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson is extending the Easter holiday he says is no vacation into another day or two around the LBJ Ranch.

Again today no appointments were announced for the chief executive. That's been the pattern for his stay here, now in its fifth day.

But Johnson has been getting in some work—a president always does. And he sort of grumbled, "haven't had one," when asked Sunday how he was enjoying his Easter vacation.

Over the weekend, the President speedily proclaimed earthquake ravaged Alaska a disaster area and mustered federal help for the state as reports flowed in from the scene and from Washington.

Among other things, Johnson got in some paper work, announced some appointments and drafted aid to Congress to set up a committee to find out why farmers are getting less for food and housewives are paying more.

In the aftermath of the shooting down of two straying American planes over East Germany in recent weeks, Johnson said that "I have given very strong instructions for American airmen to observe the boundaries of corridors assigned to allied aviation.

Some of these items were the product of another Saturday news conference over which Johnson presided in a beige Western ensemble in the combination library and office in the ranch house.

The President skirted political questions, said he intends to take a look in person at areas of poverty and unemployment at a time not yet determined, announced appointments of four women to high level government posts, and said he respects the opinions of the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee but disagrees with his views on Cuba and Panama.

The chairman is Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., who took some swings at administration policy toward those Latin trouble spots in a Senate speech last week.

In interludes between the presidential work, Johnson has been off by car or helicopter to visit neighbors. He has been out often looking over his 400 acres along the Pedernales River and other property he owns.

He and Mrs. Johnson conduct tours of the home place at the drop of a 10-gallon hat.

Melancholy Quiet Holds Quake-Scarred Anchorage

By JULES LOH

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—The melancholy quiet of disaster's aftermath has settled over this pitifully scarred city.

Soldiers guard deserted streets. Weary people line up with bottles, buckets, jars, coffee tins, at big water-tank trucks. Others line up at a school building for typhoid shots, others at the city park for soup in steaming vats.

Eyes are dull from shock and fatigue, but voices are low, spirits seem amazingly high. The crucible of common misfortune has brought out the best in nearly everyone, and selflessness has become contagious, though the struggle simply to keep one's own family warm and fed is exhausting.

At the home of construction worker Victor Paal seven children, five of them neighbors, huddle before the fireplace. For them Good Friday's wicked earthquake has brought only grand adventure.

They melt snow in a big yellow plastic trash basket on the hearth, eat lunch from olive drab tins, spend the night together in sleeping bags. A neighbor, Frank Reed, has an electric stove, so Mrs. Paal is able to cook one hot meal a day.

As neighbors swapped experiences, it became more clear what it was like during the awful minutes that began at 5:36 p.m. Friday.

"Are you sure it was only minutes?" said Clarence Colbert, an engineer. "I'd swear that damn thing lasted at least a half hour. We were all at home. At first I thought it was just another small quake—we get 'em all the time here.

"Then I heard a sound, like rolling drums, and I knew it was big. I hollered 'Let's get out of here!'—and we did."

Strangely, few others recall hearing any sound at all other than glass breaking and furniture tumbling. Jean Miller, for instance, was at the doctor's office with two of her seven children and didn't even feel the earth shake at first.

"I started to lean against the wall to talk with Dr. Mills," Mrs. Miller said, "and the wall moved away from me. The doctor pushed me and the children to the floor and fell down on top of us. When it first happened, I thought it was just a truck going by."

Out at the fashionable Turnagain section Esther McCreedy knew it was no truck.

"I was in the rear corner of the room fixing dinner—a ham with pineapple rings and brown sugar," Mrs. McCreedy said. "I was just thinking how good it was going to taste.

"The first shock came. It was a series of quick jumps, like the ground was stuttering. I had felt worse and wasn't alarmed. Then all of a sudden I was being knocked from one wall to another.

"I flicked off the stove burners and got in a corner. It was all I could do to stay on my feet. Cabinet doors flung open, the dishes came tumbling out, everything began bouncing around, and the walls were almost rippling.

"I sat right down on the floor. Then I could hear the house creaking and groaning. I started for the front door, and I remember saying out loud 'If only Bob would hurry up and get here,' then I began screaming.

"Just as I stepped on the front steps, the whole house collapsed behind me. I turned around, and it was almost out of sight."

"We're just grateful," said Bob McCreedy, 37, "that we're both alive and young enough to start again."

Victims Of Italian Crash Are Awaiting Identification

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — The bodies of 45 persons killed in an Easter Eve airliner crash on Mt. Vesuvius lay in a Naples morgue today as three investigations sought the cause of the tragedy.

Officials said it would take some days before identification could be completed. Most of the bodies were too burned and mangled to be identified except with the help of dental charts.

The 40 passengers included 8 Americans, 20 French, 7 Italians, 4 Swiss and an Englishwoman. All five crew members were Italian.

The plane, an Alitalia Viscount, crashed and burned 90 minutes before midnight Saturday. It was coming in for a landing at Naples after a flight south from Turin, Milan and Rome. Flying through fog and rain, the plane hit a high lava hump jutting out halfway up the side of the 3,700-foot volcano.

The Americans aboard included a family of four, Army Maj. Lawrence H. Mancini, 38, from the Defense Medical Supply Center in Brooklyn, his wife and their two children, Jill, 10, and Steven, 9; Navy Lt. Robert I. Adkinson, Pensacola, Fla.; J. H. McFadden, Navy Receiving Station, Brooklyn, N.Y.; Thomas Vendur, Norfolk, Va., and a Mr. Hamilton, who carried a U.S. passport and boarded the plane in Milan.

Kennedy Young-Fry Stay Behind

STOWE, Vt. (AP)—The adult Kennedys went home but left a group of the young fry at this ski resort today, ready for more fun on the snowy slopes.

The family plane, Caroline, took off Sunday night from Burlington Airport with Mrs. John F. Kennedy, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and his wife, Ethel; Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and his wife, Joan, and Eunice Shriver, wife of the Peace Corps director, Sargent Shriver.

They had spent a long Easter weekend skiing on Mt. Mansfield.

It was the former First Lady's first try at the winter sport, although she is an adept water skier.

It was the first time on skis, too, for her children, Caroline, 6, and John F. Kennedy Jr. They remained with a number of young Kennedys and Shrivers in the care of some family employes.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My father-in-law celebrates his birthday on February 22nd. He was born in the old country and either they didn't figure time the way we do or else his birth records were lost but, anyway, I am sure he chose that date himself because it was Washington's birthday and he wanted to share in the honor. We always have a cake and sing "Happy Birthday" and make a big occasion of it. All of a sudden an elderly aunt of his from Elmira, N. Y., turned up and when she saw this birthday celebration for Papa Joe she loudly announced that he was born in the summer! He was so embarrassed, it spoiled the party. I think she owes Papa Joe an apology (he's been very quiet since then). Should I suggest it?

BEA IN BROOKLYM

DEAR BEA: You could suggest it, but anyone as insensitive to the feelings of others as Auntie from Elmira appears to be, would either refuse, or do it without conviction. The damage is done. But tell Papa Joe I know lots of wonderful people in his boat. I have an uncle who picked Christmas!

DEAR ABBY: I am sorry but I have to disagree with you about men in uniform. You said they were okay. Well, a few years back I would have said they were okay, too, but I learned my lesson.

My father never approved of any of his daughters going out with men in uniform. (There were six of us girls.) We thought it was kind of peculiar because Papa had been in the Navy himself for three years. Anyway, I met this hot shot Air Force guy and I went for him in a big way. He acted the perfect gentleman. I sneaked off to date him. And, sure enough, the minute he got out of uniform he was no gentleman.

FLO FROM RICHMOND

DEAR FLO: He should have kept his uniform on.

DEAR ABBY: My husband was ill for over a year, and in all that time not one of our neighbors came to see him, or even inquired about him. When he died, they all came running over with baked goods and sympathy. I refused to accept anything, telling them that the time for them to have done something for him was when he was alive and could have appreciated it. Now I am being severely critized for my actions. Was I wrong?

BITTER WIDOW

DEAR BITTER: That your neighbors had hurt you by their thoughtlessness does not justify your rebuff. There is a chance that they didn't know of his illness or of the seriousness of it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO DISAPPOINTED IN NEWPORT: Take comfort in the words of Mark Twain: "If you pick up a starving dog and make him prosperous, he will not bite you. This is the principle difference between a dog and a man."

Search For Source Of Faint SOS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"There's somebody out there in a liferaft, we're sure of that," a Coast Guard spokesman declared today as search widened for a transport plane with nine men aboard that vanished off the California coast Saturday.

"Faint radio signals picked up late Saturday on two international distress channels came from the Gibson Girl type of emergency transmitter carried in a ditching operation," the Coast Guardsman added. "And they came from the area where the DC-4 was last reported.

Long-range search planes, Coast Guard cutters and Navy vessels criss-crossed a vast ocean area of some 13,000 square miles Sunday, however, without sighting aircraft wreckage or raft. The search area was widened some 8,400 additional square miles today.

The search centered today in the area approximately 800 miles due west of Monterey.

It was from there that the transport's pilot, Capt. Harry Baker, 59, of Fallon, Nev., radioed his last message.

The plane, owned by Facilities Management Corp. of Los Angeles, was inbound from Wake Island after a refueling stop at Honolulu. It was headed for Los Angeles.

Small World, Isn't It Santa?

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—H. F. Sharp of Richmond was window-shopping downtown Sunday morning when a stranger approached.

"I'm the Easter bunny," the stranger said to Sharp.

"I'm Santa Claus," Sharp replied.

The stranger stuck a $1 bill in Sharp's pocket and meandered away.

Swing Saw The Events, Knew People

'GOOD EVENING!' A PROFESSIONAL MEMOIR. By Raymond Swing.

When veteran newspaperman-newscaster - commentator Raymond Swing tells of the past, his book moves swiftly and interestingly. When he speculates on what might have happened or what may happen, it tends to drag.

The net effect, however, is one of pleasure for any reader who is interested in how the major events of this century have appeared to a man who probably has seen as many of them as any man living.

And people in the communications fields — newspapermen, radio broadcasters, photographers, television newsmen — should find most of it particularly interesting.

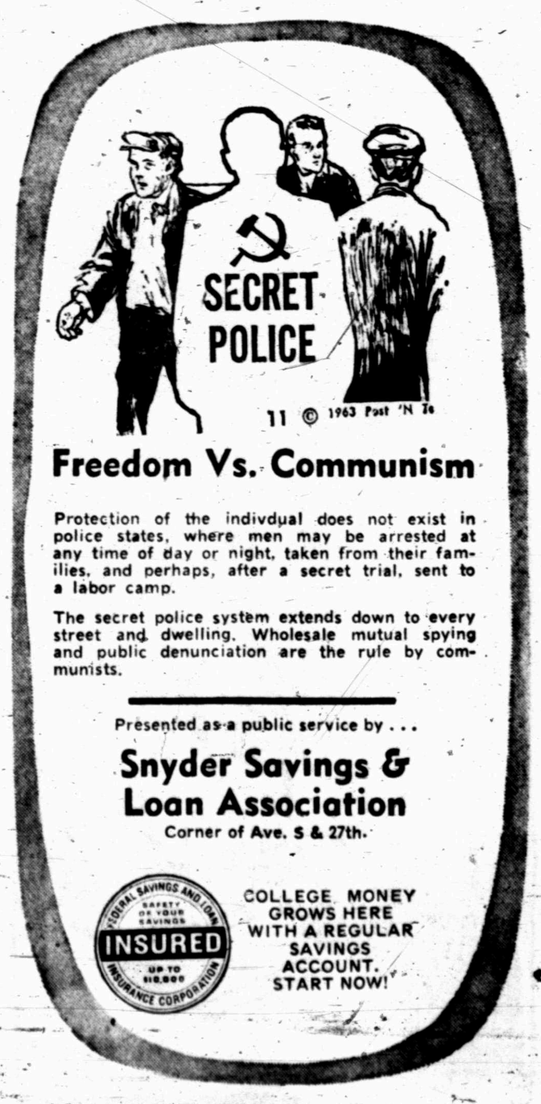

For Swing has had one of the fabulous careers of written and broadcast journalism. He was a managing editor at 23, a war correspondent in his mid-20s, a pioneer broadcaster and above all, an associate of many of the great figures of the world.

In fact, so many famous names are here — the Roosevelts, Colonel House, the Sultan of Turkey, Albert Einstein, H. V. Kaltenborn, Elmer Davis, Richard Harding Davis, Cordell Hull, Nehru, to cite only a few — that a less charming writer than Swing would appear to be the world's biggest name - dropper.

The same might be said of his view of world affairs: a lesser man would look pompous and ridiculous if he suggested that he might have changed the course of World War I single-handedly, as Swing indeed believes he might have when he carried messages between German Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg and British Foreign Secretary Sir Edward Grey.

TO WED—Rev. and Mrs. T. H. Taylor of Hermleigh, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Ethel Louise, to Navyman Samuel E. Tanksley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam R. Tanksley of Ponca City, Okla. Miss Taylor is a graduate of Chillicothe High School and is presently employed at Varsity Book Store, Lubbock. Navyman Tanksley is a graduate of Ponca City High School and is presently stationed at Oak Harbor, Washington. A summer wedding is planned.

Freedom Vs. Communism

Protection of the indivdual does not exist in police states, where men may be arrested at any time of day or night, taken from their families, and perhaps, after a secret trial, sent to a labor camp.

The secret police system extends down to every street and dwelling. Wholesale mutual spying and public denunciation are the rule by communists.

Foreign Policy Revisions Apt To Be Slow In Coming

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Re-examination takes time, changes come slowly, old attitudes don't get unstuck easily, and in a country as full of prejudices as this one politicians step gingerly.

Over a year ago the Kennedy people began saying winds of change were sweeping the world after Soviet Premier Khrushchev packed up his missiles in the 1962 Cuban missile crisis and took them home.

In the last few months of his life President John F. Kennedy spoke repeatedly on the idea of finding new ways to peace. At American University he said, "Let us re-examine our attitude toward peace itself."

At the University of Maine he said, "While it is too late to say nothing has changed in Soviet-American relations, it is too early to assume that the change is permanent."

These were cautious statements to get people thinking, but pitched in a low key, no doubt to prevent any sudden surge of false hopes about the immediate future.

What changes did take place since the Cuban crisis and up through Kennedy's death to the present time?

The biggest, perhaps, has been the intensified split between the Soviet Union and Red China, dividing communism into two huge and antagonistic blocs which, if continued, almost certainly will force them to seek new friends.

Then there was the limited American-Russian agreement to ban nuclear tests, an achievement long discussed but never attained before. Meanwhile, American allies stepped up trade with communism.

French President Charles de Gaulle, while safe under the American defense umbrella from Russian attack, took it on himself to be a disruptive force in the West, and in his usual crude and overbearing way.

Nevertheless, in the past week President Johnson, Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, and Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., all in separate speeches talked of a changing world.

Fulbright, like Kennedy, asked for a re-examination of attitudes but he went further than any of them by suggesting that changes in the world required changes in American foreign policy on a number of fronts.

This was like throwing a nest of bees into a crowded bus where the passengers had been sitting comfortably on their old attitudes for years.

Although praised for stirring things up, he was savagely denounced by some politicians of both parties in Congress to the point of implying this conservative Southerner was outlining surrender to communism.

Both Johnson, who had talked of change, and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who earlier this year pictured 1964 as a year when long deadlocked cold war issues may start moving out of deadlock, said Fulbright was "thought-provoking."

But then Rusk disagreed with Fulbright on how to handle Cuba and Johnson disagreed on Cuba and Panama.

Johnson is the man upon whom rests the task of invoking changes, if there are to be any by this country.

But Johnson is new to foreign affairs, this is an election year when he hopes to be chosen president on his own, and he is very sensitive to popular attitudes. So far he hasn't tried to disturb them.

So any changes in foreign policy would seem more likely next year than this, unless they are an obviously incontrovertable improvement.

Junior Editors Quiz on HISTORY

QUESTION: Some of the Louisiana Territory once extended into Canada. What happened to this land?

ANSWER: The United States bought the Louisiana Territory in 1803 from France for $27 million. In the years following the purchase, disputes arose about the northern border of the area between the United States and Britain, which then controlled Canada. Finally, in 1818 the two countries agreed to the 49th parallel as a border line. The part of the Louisiana Territory extending into Canada then became Canadian land (shaded area to the left).

The Louisiana Territory had belonged to several countries before it finally became part of the United States. Originally, the part of the Territory west of the Mississippi belonged to France. But France was losing power and in 1762 ceded the land to Spain. When Napoleon Bonaparte came to power in France and the country once again gained strength, he convinced the Spanish to give back the Louisiana area. This caused great concern to President Thomas Jefferson because U. S. settlers (white arrow) were expanding west and shipped their goods down the Mississippi to New Orleans where they were sent many places. If France, in control of New Orleans, were to close the port, it would be disastrous for America.

Jefferson sent envoys to France and after many diplomatic talks, the treaty of the Louisiana Purchase was drawn up.

FOR YOU TO DO: The shaded area to the right shows Canadian land given to the U. S. while straightening the boundary. Take an atlas the trace the Louisiana Purchase on it. Think of what this enormously valuable area has meant to us as a nation! 3-30

Boyle Learns Names For April Fool's

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Ice is more slippery when wet.

April Fool's day is called Cuckoo Day in Scotland, Fish Day in France, Doll Day in Japan, and Boob Day in Spain.

Man has never been able to make a pearl that comes up to an oyster's standard of workmanship. American women prefer creamy pink pearls, European women those with a bluish tint.

About four per cent of the nation's television sets now show living color so that the ketchup on a wounded outlaw looks real.

Folklore: If children go out to play on Sunday, bears will eat them up. If you hold your breath, you can handle wasps and bees without being stung.

Quickies: Thirst helps destroy your appetite. Not one out of five persons takes a bath every day the year round. Husbands spend more money on clothing than wives do. The earth quakes at least 50,000 times a year.

Age-Old Event Takes Many Eggs

ELIZABETHTON, Tenn. (AP) —It took over six hours and more than 6,000 eggs, but Freeman Taylor emerged the winner Sunday in the annual Easter egg fight held in the Peters Hollow community near here.

The event, thought to be over 100 years old, is a contest to see whose brightly colored hard-boiled eggshells are the hardest.

One contestant approaches another, holds out his egg and says, "See if you can crack this one," and the battle is on—a contestant must crack the other's egg with his own.

Taylor came armed with 32 dozen eggs.

Besselink Leads By 2

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—It's been almost seven years years since Al Besselink won a regular PGA circuit golf tournament. Not since the 1957 Kansas City Open has the big blond from Merchantville, N.J., won on the tour.

But he was 18 holes away from victory today as the final round of the $20,000 Azalea Open started. Besselink's par 72 Sunday after earlier rounds of 70-65 gave him a 207 total, nine under par, and a two-shot edge over Joe Campbell, the first round leader.

Asked how he planned to play the final 18 holes over the 6,744-yard Cape Fear Country Club course, Besselink replied:

"Well, I won't do any unnecessary gambling, but I certainly won't be playing safe. I've never been known to be a safe player. I won't do anything to jeopardize my lead, but I'll be firing at the hole."

"If I don't win, maybe next week it will be better or if not then, maybe the next week. I'm playing so well now that something has to bust."

Besselink picked up $400 in bonus money for leading after 54 holes to go along with $1,000 he pocketed Saturday for leading the second round and also shooting its low score.

He made only one birdie Sunday, but an eagle on the 565-yard third hole gave him his big push. He used his driver twice and then needed only a five-foot putt for the eagle.

Two traps and a hooked shot into the woods cost him three bogies.

Campbell, first day leader with 67, had slumped to 73 in the next round, but charged back with 69 for second place.

The 69 was the day's low score, tied by Dutch Harrison, celebrating his 54th birthday, and Rod Funseth. The three divided $600 in bonus money.

Sharing third place at 210 were Tommy Jacobs, Lionel Hebert and Larry Mowry.

Bob Gajda, who held second place in each of the first two rounds with a pair of 68s, slumped to 75 for a four-way sixth place tie at 211. A triple bogey seven on the 17th, where he hit a ball out of bounds, cost him second place.

Harrison, Jack McGowan and Jerry Pittman were tied with Gajda.

Mike Souchak and Pete Brown followed at 212, one stroke ahead of Gene Littler, Funseth, Bruce Crampton, Doug Ford and Billy Casper.

2 Kansans Bring Joy To West Cagers

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Folks from the plains of Kansas should be mighty proud of Dave Stallworth of Wichita and Willie Murrell of Kansas State.

Stallworth, a 6-foot-7 All-America, and Murrell, a 6-6 Kansas State star, teamed up to lead the West to a 79-78 victory over the East in the East-West College All-Star basketball game.

Murrell was named the game's Most Valuable Player, but it was Stallworth's clutch efforts in the last 1:45 of play that led the West to victory Saturday. The vote for MVP honors was taken at halftime, thus Stallworth's brilliant effort was not taken into consideration.

With 1:54 to play, the East tied the game 75-75 on a 10-foot jumper by Jeff Mullins of Duke. The West missed its next shot and the East had a chance to move out in front, but Stallworth stole the ball, drove in toward the basket, was fouled and hit two free throws to make it 77-75.

With 1:35 to go, Ron Bonham of Cincinnati hit a free throw to cut the margin to one. The West again missed its shot and the East had another chance to go ahead with about a minute to go.

The East worked the ball carefully for the good shot. Wally Jones of Villanova thought he had it and attempted to shoot, but Stallworth just took the ball out of his outstretched hands and raced down the court for a goal to make it 79-76 with just 43 seconds to go.

The only scoring the East could do in the remainder of the contest was two free throws by John Thompson of Providence to cut the lead to 79-78 with 28 seconds to go. The West went into a stall for the remainder of the game.

SWC Into Loop Play

By The Associated Press

The Southwest Conference plunges pell-mell into the business of deciding a baseball champion this week after winding up its intersectional schedule definitely on the winning side of the ledger.

The league won seven of nine games with the outsiders last week and ran its intersectional record to 9-3 for the season.

Texas, leading the conference race with a 2-1 record, puts it on the line against Texas Christian at ustin Wednesday.

tian at Austin Wednesday.

Texas A&M and Baylor clash at Waco and Rice and Southern Methodist tangle at Dallas in other Wednesday conference games.

If that doesn't get the jam straightened out—there are four teams tied for second with 1-1 record — perhaps Saturday's schedule will do it. Then Texas meets Southern Methodist at Dallas, Baylor and Texas Christian play at Waco and Texas A&M battles Rice at Houston.

Texas and Texas A&M each beat Minnesota in two games while Baylor took two from Missouri last week. Texas Christian split with Missouri and the only other intersectional loss was Rice's 8-1 defeat by Western Illinois.

Probers Check On Liston's Pals

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators ask more questions today about reports underworld figures hung around while Sonny Liston trained for his heavyweight championship fight with Cassius Clay.

They also want to know why Liston gave away stock, which brought $100,000 in profits from the Clay fight, to a man identified as a former associate of mobster Frank (Blinky) Palermo.

These questions came up as the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee sought to wind up its hearings into circumstances surrounding the Feb. 25 fight won by Clay when Liston failed to come out for the seventh round.

In the new development, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., asked the Senate investigators to find out whether associates of Frankie Carbo had been in Clay's and Liston's Florida training camps. Carbo, now in prison, is former underworld czar of boxing.

The subcommittee met three days last week and only heard three of seven scheduled witnesses. Still remaining to be heard are:

Bob Nilon, brother of Liston's financial adviser, Jack, who was executive vice president of Inter-Contential Promotions Inc. a firm organized to promote Liston's championship fights.

Sam Margolis, Philadelphia vending machine operator identified by the subcommittee as once owning an apartment house with Palermo.

Witnesses last week testified that Liston signed over, apparently getting nothing in return, 275 of his 500 share, 50 per cent stock control in Inter-Continental to Margolis.

Margolis has said he got the stock for helping Liston set up the deal to get a share of the fight's promotional profits, something fighters normally don't get.

Salvatore Avena, Philadelphia attorney who figured in organizing Inter-Continental and who later got 50 of the 275 shares of stock transferred to Margolis.

LADY'S OKAY, BUT WHAT ABOUT THE PHOTOGRAPHER?—"Colonel Larson" takes dead aim and splinters a piece of chalk in his wife's mouth scattering white powder and flying chips at an outdoor and sporting equipment show in Nashville, Tenn. The Photographer? He was J. T. Phillips of the Nashville Tennessean, used a 120mm. camera, normal lens at 1/500 second at f-22, using four strobe lights. More important, he stood behind a two foot square shield used to catch the bullets. Larson took ten shots and missed the chalk the first five. "I wasn't worried," said Phillips. "He would have to miss the shield to hit me and I didn't think he would do that. He's too good." (AP Wirephoto).

Records Menaced In Texas Relays

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — At least five of the Texas college teams that competed in the San Angelo Relays have strong potentials for the Texas Relays coming up at Austin next weekend.

Abilene Christian, which won the meet with crack relay teams, appeared a likely record-setter in the Texas Relays sprint medley. The Wildcats ran a 3:20.9, which is only 1.1 seconds over the Texas Relays standard.

A good half-miler is needed for this event and Abilene Christian sure had him—Charles Christmas, who ripped off a 1:50.5.

Abilene Christian's mile relay team, which turned in 3:13.6, also might win at the Texas Relays. ACC has a 3:13.0 for low the season.

The most certain record-smasher to come from the San Angelo Relays is Randy Matson, Texas A&M freshman, who threw the shot 62 feet 9¾ inches. The Texas Relays college freshman-junior college division has 54 feet 11½ inches as its record.

Frank Mazza of Baylor and Danny Roberts of Texas A&M will be top contenders in the shot and discus. They had better than 58 feet in the shot and Roberts did 166 feet 11 inches in the discus.

Southern Methodist poses a threat to the 440-yard relay record of 40.2 with its mighty sprinters Billy Foster and John Roderick. Foster, who ran the 100 in 9.4 here, should be a top man in the Texas Relays 100, which has a 9.3 record.

Host Texas has quite a few winning potentials, including its miler Richard Romo, who has done 4:10.3 this season and had a record 4:11.0 here Saturday.

Texas also will be double-tough in the two-mile relay with its numerous crack 880-yard men.

Abilene Christian was something of a surprise in winning the San Angelo Relays over favored Texas. It was ACC's first triumph of the season although the Wildcats were defending champions at every meet.

Winning the mile relay in 3:13.6, Abilene Christian nosed out Texas 43 points to 40 for Texas. The Longhorns finished second in 3:14.2.

Pari-mutuel play at horse and dog tracks in Florida this winter will be augumented by jai alai in Orlando, Miami, Dania, Tampa, West Palm Beach and Daytona Beach and hy harness racing at Casselberry and Pompano Beach.

Tigers Face San Angelo

San Angelo's Bobcats, who already appear on both sides of the ledger in the Snyder Tigers' 4-6 baseball record, are scheduled to pull into town Tuesday for their fourth game of the season with the Bengals.

The Tigers spent a weekend in San Angelo a week ago and came home with one victory and two defeats. The Bobcats won a single game, 10-4, on March 20, and then the two teams divided a doubleheader the next day with the Tigers winning the opener, 4-0, and San Angelo the nightcap, 6-1.

So, a victory tomorrow afternoon would even the series for the Tigers. It also would bring them just a step under an even break for the season following a twin killing Friday at Lubbock Monterey.

Activity is scheduled to begin at 4 p.m. Tuesday on the Towle Memorial Park diamond.

Lincoln Is Winner At Plainview

PLAINVIEW — Lincoln High School of Snyder rolled up 178 points to win a track and field meet here Saturday. Host Plainview was second with 154 points, Levelland had 152, Memphis 112 and Olton 48.

Points in both the boys and girls divisions were combined to determine the meet champion.

For Lincoln girls, the 200 yard relay team composed of Johnnie Goosby, Catherine Williams, Mary Goosby and Pearlie Scott took first with a time of 24 seconds. The girls 440 yard relay team of Johnnie Goosby, Brenda Knight, Pearlie Scott and Mary Goosby was first with a time of 57.2. Johnnie Goosby took first in the girls baseball throw with a toss of 207 feet, and Mary Goosby was third in the same event. Mary Goosby tossed the discus 64 feet for another first place, and Pearlie Scott was second with 57-7. Johnnie Goosby also placed third in the girls 50 yard dash.

In the boys division, Joseph Crayton was first in the pole vault at 10-6, a new school record for Lincoln. Vernon Clay was second at 10 feet. Vernon Clay was third in the 100 yard dash, Joseph Crayton was third in the 120 yard high hurdles, and Curtis Clay was second in the 440 yard dash with a time of 55.6.

Linwood Durst ran third in the 180 yard low hurdles at 21.7, and Vernon Clay was second in the discus throw at 113-9. Robert Riley was fifth in the discus and third in the shot put at 37-7.

The 440 yard relay team of Joseph Crayton, Vernon Clay, Linwood Durst and Sam Davis was fourth at 47.2, and the mile relay team of Durst, Davis, Crayton and Curtis Clay was third. Joseph Crayton tied for fourth in the high jump, and Vernon Clay was third in the broad jump with a leap of 18-5. Joseph Crayton was fourth in the broad jump at 17-9.

Mantle May Make Grade If 2 Kinds Of Tape Hold Out

By MIKE RATHET

Report No. 2 is in on Mickey Mantle, whose fate apparently hinges on tape.

Last Thursday, Mantle's case history had an expenditure for tape—to bandage his legs. Sunday, Mantle's case history had an expenditure for tape — to measure his homers.

Mantle, the New York Yankees' $100,000-a-year slugger with the dime store legs, raised his batting average to .318 Sunday by lifting two long drives over the fences at Tampa, Fla., in a 6-4 exhibition baseball victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

The homers were the first of the spring training grind for Mantle, who had been forced into a four-day layoff by his ailing legs. He had complained about his left knee-operated on during the winter for torn cartilage.

"I was running real good when I came down here, but I haven't been running good the last couple of days," Mantle said when he issued Report No. 1 Thursday.

He concentrated on trotting against the Reds. Both homers were hit with Mantle batting right-handed against southpaw Joe Nuxhall, the first with a man on in the first inning traveling 350 feet and the second in the fifth with the bases empty rocketing 430 feet.

Report No. 2, however, still left doubts about the condition of Mantle's taped legs. In the field, he ran without any indication of lameness, but he let one hit fall in front of him instead of charging it in the Mantle manner.

While the American League champion Yankees were getting a boost from their No. 1 product, Sandy Koufax of the world champion Los Anelges Dodgers turned in his sharpest pitching performance in a 3-1 loss to Minnesota.

Koufax became the first pitcher to go all the way this spring as he limited the Twins to five hits. Jimmie Hall ruined Koufax' effort with a two-run homer in the fourth and the Twins added an unearned run in the fifth.

Joining Hall as the day's hitting stars were Detroit rookie Willie Horton. Julio Gotay of Pittsburgh, Tim Harkness of the New York Mets and Tony Conigliaro, a rookie with the Boston Red Sox who may be compiling one of the oddest hitting records ever produced.

Horton connected for a pinch-hit homer in the ninth inning of the Tigers' 2-1 triumph over the Chicago White Sox in the opener of a doubleheader, then homered in the third inning of Detroit's 3-0 nightcap victory. Horton now has five homers.

Gotay collected two homers and two singles for five runs batted in as the Pirates walloped Philadelphia 13-4 while Harkness broke a hitless string that had extended to 16 at-bats by slamming a homer, double and single in the Mets' 8-3 belting of Washington.

Conigliaro led the Red Sox to a 6-4, 13-inning victory over the Los Angeles Angels with a homer, two triples and a double. The 19-year-old outfielder now has collected 15 hits—13 for extra bases. His batting average is .288; his slugging average .750.

In other games, St. Louis edged Milwauke 6-5 in 11 innings, Kansas City defeated Houston 2-1, the Chicago Cubs outslugged San Francisco 11-7, Baltimore nipped the Colts B team 2-1 and Cleveland downed the Anbels' B squad 7-6.

Two Racers Are Injured

READING, Pa. (AP)—Roger McCluskey, of Tucson, Ariz., and Don Branson, of Champaign, Ill., appear questionable starters in the Indianapolis 500 on Memorial Day after being hurt in a sprint car race here.

A. J. Foyt, of Houston, Tex., won the 30-lap Reading Inaugural U.S. Auto Club Race Sunday in which nine laps were run under the caution flag. Two other drivers were injured and one escaped injury. Foyt's time was 13:24.69, and he won by a half-lap over Jim Maguire, of Dunellen, N.J.

McCluskey was injured when his car flipped over just as he had finished his second qualifying round. The accident occurred at the same spot where his car had spun out of control on the first qualifying round.

Tigers Score Five Points

Snyder High School's track and field forces picked up five points in the San Angelo Relays, a meet which was dominated by some of the state's top Class 4A teams.

Phillip Floyd turned in his best performance in an actual meet by clearing 6 feet in the high jump. It was good enough to take second place in the Angelo meet.

Snyder's other points came in the 120-yard high hurdles when Harley Bynum took third place with a time of 15.7 seconds.

The meet favorite, Abliene Cooper, won the San Angelo Division I High School meet.

IT IS SAID that a packing plant uses everything about a hog except the smell and the grunt. Just so it is with Bill's Auto Salvage. When everything else has been stripped from the cars to be salvaged there, the bodies themselves are compressed by a mobile hydraulic press. In the next picture the main heavy press is on its way down, crushing the car. After the sides have also pressed the car body, it is dumped out (third picture) looking much like a bale of hay. Over 60 cars a day can be "baled" in this way.

BUSINESS and INDUSTRIAL NEWS

Thousands Of Auto Parts Available

There are litterally thousands of parts in each and every car that moves around on the streets and highways.

Each part, naturally, is a used part — it's being used. No parts department — no warehouse, can stock all of these thousands of parts. So what does one do when he needs a replacement part, especially if his car is an older model, or one for which there is no dealer in the nearby area?

The chances are that that person will head for Bill's Auto Salvage at the Y on the Roby Highway.

Parts are available from two sources at Bill's. First are the hundreds of late model wrecked and burned cars which are on hand at the salvage yard here.

The second source draws parts from literally thousands of cars. Parts from these cars are available through the use of the two teletype networks at Bill's Auto Salvage.

Fifty-one major cities in the five-state area of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Kansas are covered by these networks.

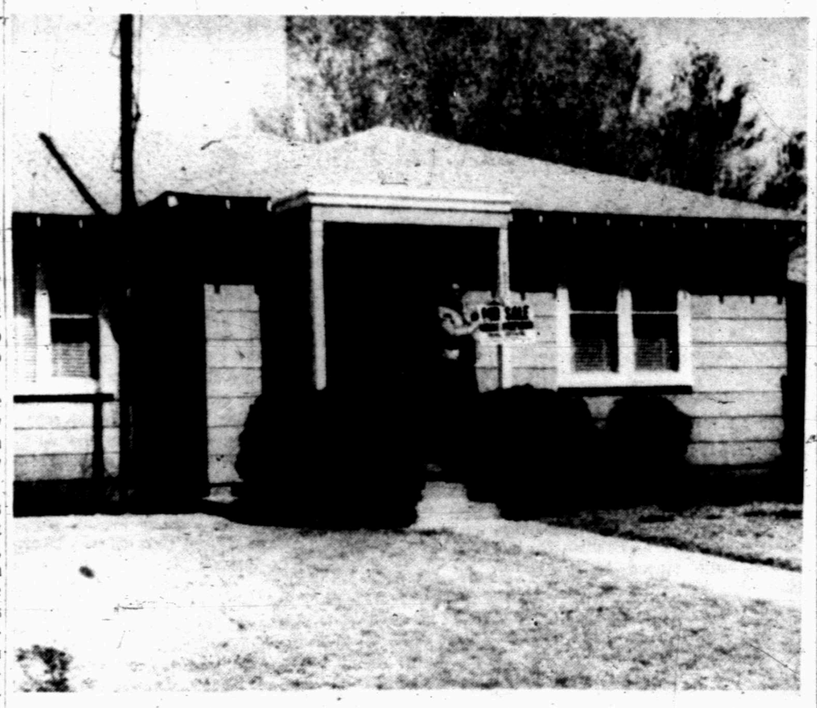

If a person in Snyder needs a certain part, and it doesn't happen to be available here, his need can be made known within seconds to each of these salvage yards. Those yards which can furnish the part answer almost immediately. Then from those who send an affirmative answer, Bill's Auto Salvage selects the one which has the best bus or truck schedule into Snyder as of that moment, and the part is on its way.

Each wrecking yard on the network is anxious to maintain a reputation for fast service and high availability of parts. For this reason, each cooperates fully with the others, for each knows that tomorrow it may be his turn to help to satisfy a customer.

The first network to which Bill Baldwin, owner of Bill's Auto Salvage, subscribed worked out so well, that when another network, covering a different group of cities, became available the firm here was quick to join that one as well.

The quality of the parts furnished by the other members of the network, Baldwin said, are such that he is proud to pass them along to his customers. First class salvage yards deal only in parts which, although slightly used, are completely serviceable. And it has become obvious that the yards which subscribe to teletype networks are of this first class type.

Customers save at least 50 per cent on the cost of their auto parts when they buy them at Bill's. But what is even more important is the fact that they are available, either within minutes, if they are on the lot at Bill's, or within hours if they come from a yard in a nearby city. Those who ned to keep their cars and trucks on the go, appreciate the complete selection of parts which are made available at Bill's Auto Salvage at the traffic circle on the Roby Highway.

TYPICAL OF THE ATTRACTIVE HOMES offered by Adelle Josephson Realty is this home which would be "just right" for some family. Mrs. Josephson prides herself on being able to match the right home with the right person so that everyone ends up happy.

Right Person In Right Home Is Aim Of Josephson Realty

Nearly every home is perfect for somebody. But sometimes the right person isn't in the right home.

And that's where a dependable realtor comes in.

Adelle Josephson takes her chosen vocation of real estate broker seriously, and constantly is turning over in her mind the various possibilities of fitting her clients to her listings.

There are those who have small acreages in the country, and want to expand. Adelle Josephson Real Estate has listings that will help them do just that.

There are those who have farms, and want to move to town. Adelle Josephson Real estate can help them.

There are those who have farms, and would rather have a ranch. Adelle Josephson Real Estate can help these folks too.

Or what about the family that isn't just completely satisfied with their present home? Maybe it's just a little small for their needs. But they put off moving into a home which would make their lives much more comfortable and pleasant because they think the cost would be too high.

The chances are that there's a home available that would fill their needs, and it would probably be just a few dollars a month more than they're paying for a less-than-perfect home.

Adelle Josephson welcomes each new listing as more than just another piece of property which needs to be sold. It's another opportunity to match the right person with the right piece of property. New listings are just as welcome as new clients of the firm, for both are equally necessary in providing the kind of service which is required to make each customer a happy customer.

Each listing receives the constant, personal attention which is necessary for the right "matching" of property and purchaser when it is listed with Adelle Josephon Real Estate.

Appraisals of real estate is another area in which Adelle Josephson Real Estate can be of great help to the homeowner. Anyone who wishes an appraisal can get the information and help neded from Adelle Josephson Real Estate.

As a matter of fact, whatever the real estate problem, the firm is ready to be of whatever help they can. If it's a real estate problem, a call to HI 3-9253, HI 3-3601, or HI 3-6944 is the first step in solving that problem.

Doctors Testify On Kennedy's Wound

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two of the seven doctors who treated John Kennedy after he was shot were witnesses today for the commission investigating the president's assassination.

They are Dr. Charles Carrico, 28, the first physician to see Kennedy after the shooting; and Dr. Malcolm Perry, 34.

The doctors were residents at Parkland Hospital in Dallas, where the president died after a sniper's bullets felled him during a motorcade Nov. 22.

The doctors already have written statements for the Texas State Journal of Medicine.

They said Kennedy had a faint heart beat but no pulse or blood pressure when he was brought to the hospital. They agreed that his massive brain and head injuries were too great for survival.

Past Fort Dodge, wagons on the Santa Fe Trail could take one of two routes. The longer and more difficult climbed into Colorado's mountains. The shorter and far more dangerous path — the Journey of the Dead — struck boldly across the desert.

Ft. Worth Zoo Accepts Elephant

MADRAS, India (AP)—Director Lawrence Curtis of the Fort Worth (Tex.) zoo, accepted the gift of an 11-month-old elephant given as a token of appreciation for what America had done for India.

American families in Madras attended the ceremony at the residence of U.S. Consul General Albert Franklin.

Curtis will leave Madras Wednesday night by air with the elephant, named Shanti.

Curtis was also presented with a pair of tusks from Shanti's mother and a framed picture of Shanti with Venugopal Varma Raja of Kollengode, the town whose children decided upon making a gift of Shanti.

In return a crystal elephant was presented to Venugopal Varma by Curtis.

West Loses Milk Market

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opportunities are gradually disappearing for Midwest dairymen to supply fluid milk for bottle sale to consumers in big population areas.

Midwestern dairy leaders long have sought to gain entry into the fluid milk markets where milk prices are the highest. Much of the Midwest milk goes into manufactured dairy products and brings the producer less than prices paid for fluid milk.

An Agriculture Department report said today that long distance shipment of milk is declining.

It said a major factor in the decline has been an increase in milk production in areas adjacent to the big consumption centers. This increase has been particularly important in recent years in heretofore milk shortage areas of the South Atlantic and South Central states. The Midwest is a surplus milk area.

"An additional factor contributing to decreased shipments from the Wisconsin-Minnesota region has been the development of other surplus production areas closer to the deficit markets, which are able to supply relatively large quantities of market milk," the report said.

Government Lid On Wages, Prices Soon May Be Put To Acid Test

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Government-set guidelines for wages and prices are moving toward an acid test. Keeping labor and management within limits the government thinks best for the public interest looks more chancy with each stop toward auto contract negotiations and with business assaying the probability of, and the strength of, a predicted boom.

Most labor leaders and business executives have never really cottoned to the idea of government guidelines. The aim, as first set forth by President John F. Kennedy, was to prevent inflation by keeping wage rises and price boosts within the rate of the increase in productivity, so that all would come out about the same in the end. Productivity measures unit cost in terms of man-hours of labor.

When labor and management first were urged to keep wages and prices in line with the rise in productivity, the economy was lazing along. There was little chance of winning big wage increases because business profits were sluggish and unemployment was high and rising. Making sizable price boosts stick was almost impossible because of keen competition and excess productive capacity.

But this year labor sees a good chance of winning higher wages. Profits have been rising and the unions figure that management can afford to slip a bigger share to the workers.

Profits have been rising because production and sales have gone up with a revival of the once-sluggish business cycle's upward swing. Earnings also have been helped by cost-cutting devices and by the completion of new and more efficient plants or the modernization of old ones.

Labor and management feel that this trend will continue. The unions are calling for a larger share of the gains.

Management is looking on price policies differently, too. Much of the excess capacity has been put to work. New orders offer many factories the prospect of good business for some time to come. The federal income tax cut is supposed to provide great stimulus to consumer buying. If the economy booms, the old brakes on price increases will be released.

Management also wants to expand its plants and activities and this costs a great deal more now than 10 or 15 years back. The money, officials say, will have to come from higher prices because the present profit-margin—the relations of earnings to sales or assets—is too low to make new investments attractive.

The government's guidelines are that wages shouldn't rise more than 3.2 per cent because that is supposed to be the current annual rate for the rise in productivity. The administration wants price increases to be held down, too. It has even suggested that rising profit totals might justify some price cutting.

Many labor leaders, smelling a coming boom, want wage boosts now. And more business executives are saying that if costs go up, prices must, too. They hold this won't hurt the public because the whole economy will be climbing, with people having more money to pay higher prices.

Getting labor and management to accept guidelines for themselves will be tough this summer. The argument will be that government guidelines are not in the spirit of private enterprise. Only an unexpected downturn in the economy could put off the approaching test.

Boy Saved From Niagara

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (AP) —A 5-year-old boy, who fell part way down the sheer side of the Niagara River gorge and clung to a tree for an hour, today has only a chipped tooth, scratches and bruises to show for it.

Wayne Stadnyk climbed a retaining wall Sunday and plunged 150 feet down the gorge three miles downriver from Niagara Falls. He grabbed a tree growing out of the cliff and saved himself from falling another 100 feet to the bottom.

A police officer summoned by residents who had seen Wayne go over the wall heard his cries.

A volunteer rescue worker olimbed up to the tree, clasped Wayne and fashioned a rope seat. Other rescue workers, including the boy's father hauled them to the top.

Famed German-Born Artist Dies Sunday

HOUSTON (AP) — German-born artist Albert Obert, 75, who was said to have lost three fortunes in stored paintings destroyed by World War II bombing raids, died Sunday after a long illness.

Obert moved here seven years ago with his wife Agatha. They made their home with Mrs. Percy Foreman, wife of the noted Houston defense lawyer.

Many of Germany's great churches contained fresco paintings by Obert. He was a native of Strasbourg in Alsace-Lorraine.

Brazil Is Modern Day Gulliver

By FRANK BRUTTO

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Like Gulliver, Brazil is caught in a tangled skein of troubles.

But unlike the Lilliputian cord that held the fabled giant, Brazil's troubles are economic and political and harder to cut.

Whirlwind inflation is shooting prices of food, clothing and housing ever higher. Wage increases, often at a 100 per cent clip, are vainly trying to keep pace.

President Joao Goulart, who carries his fight for social reforms to public squares and streets in a bid for popular support, has told Congress that the nation's budget for this year will probably show a deficit of 1.6 trillion cruzeiros (about a billion dollars at the cruzeiro's current and very volatile free market rate).

The average man is getting hurt in this nation of more than 70 million people. As he stands patiently in line for a kilo of sugar and other basic needs, he may well wonder where he is headed.

Many Brazilians believe that the nation, summoning its historic abilities, will somehow get through to presidential elections in October, 1965. But the possibility of violent, sharp change that could lead to a more concentrated if not dictatorial rule cannot be discounted.

As the constitution now stands, Goulart cannot be re-elected and he has said: "If there is anyone in this country who would never agree to be dictator, it is I."

His political foes, recalling he is the political scion of Getulio Vargas, who ruled Brazil as its president and dictator from 1930 until 1945, are not convinced.

One of the most bitter is Gov. Carlos Lacerda of Guanabara State (Rio de Janeiro). Since the March 13 leftist-led rally in Rio de Janeiro, he says, "Nobody can any longer doubt that Goulart does not want elections." That rally—studded with Communist signs—revealed his "complete intentions and ambitions to stay in power" and to establish a fascist government, Lacerda told the weekly Manchete.

At the rally, Goulart told 200,000 listeners of his decrees expropriating land and nationalizing the nation's seven last privately owned oil companies. The other top speaker was his brother-in-law, Leonel Brizola, an ultranationalist, leftist, and anti-Yankee deputy in Parliament. Brizola, in the evening's most fiery speech, called for dissolution of Congress and formation of a new Congress that would include soldiers, farm workers and other laborers.

THE "Write" WAY

By RUTH FOWLER BROWN

DEAR RUTH:

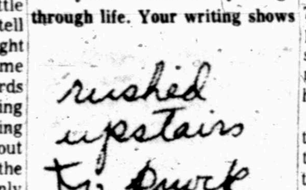

This is the end, absolutely the END. I'm ready to pack up and leave home because my little brother is a demon. Let me tell you what happened. Last night my favorite boyfriend came over with some new records and we spent a real swinging evening listening and dancing to these records. Then about midnight we were sitting in the dark on the sofa when suddenly with no warning whatsoever, there was a loud clattering ringing of an old-fashioned alarm clock. That little brother of mine had planted it there like a bomb!

It shattered, positively shattered me and my boyfriend. He left in such a hurry I may never see him again. I was furious and rushed upstairs to knock the little monster's teeth out, but he had locked his door. I woke up my mother and she had the nerve to laugh. She thought it was funny, and said "Calm down, dear, boys will be boys." But I think this is no boy. This is a fiend. He's only ten now, in another two years he'll be a juvenile delinquent. Do you think it's right for my mother to let my brother act like a lunatic without even punishing him? Here is her handwriting.

SHATTERED

DEAR SHATTERED:

Funniest thing I've ever heard! Mainly because it reminds me of some of the tricks my own brother used to pull on me, 'way back when. But I agree with you — I don't think your mother should let little brother go scot free on his pranks, without at least a few words of reprimand. She's the adaptability — learn to cope with him, and understand this "bratty" stage he's in, and you'll have taken one gaint step forward.

DEAR RUTH:

My girl friend is an airline hostess and has opportunities to date all sorts of interesting men. She says she never does, but sometimes I wonder when she's in another city overnight, and I can't get anything but "no answer" on my long distance calls. Is she telling me the truth? I love this girl and want to marry her. Can you tell from her handwriting if she's as honest as she claims to be?

BOY FRIEND

DEAR BOY:

Are you being honest with yourself? If you really love her and want to marry her, you should have faith in her now — or you'll be even more jealous and doubtful once you're married. A happy marriage is built on faith as well as love. Her handwriting shows she is a straightforward person, deserving of your trust.

Dallasites Buy Bus With Trading Stamps

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Parents and pupils have licked the transportation problem of Dallas Christian grade school by collecting 1,305,000 trading stamps.

It took two years for a committee headed by Mrs. John A. Witmer to collect assorted stamps and trade for a single variety.

Mrs. Witmer and principal David C. Higgins arranged to swap the stamp collection today for a new bus, the third in the private school's fleet.

EASTER WEEKEND

Traffic Toll Held Down

By The Associated Press

Twenty-six persons died violently in Texas during the Easter weekend, including 14 killed in automobile accidents.

The toll was tabulated by The Associated Press between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

Despite the increased volume of motorists making holiday trips, the number of traffic fatalities was no greater than for some ordinary weekends.

Among the latest victims were:

A head-on collision Sunday night on State 79 near Petrolia, 18 miles east of Wichita Falls, killed Mrs. Linda Hendon, 25, an expectant mother from Chickasha, Okla., and her three children—Gregory, 4, Jan, 2, and Bruce, 9½ months. Both drivers suffered serious injuries. They are James Hendon, 30, husband of the dead woman, and Mrs. Madge Heinold, 50, of Oklahoma City.

Marcello Herrera, 49, and a son-in-law, Gilbert Silvas, 20, both of Corpus Christi, drowned Sunday while picnicking beside the Nueces River near Calallen. Companions said Arnold Gonzalez, 15, fell into 10 feet of water and cried for help. Herrera sank after going to the youth's aid. Silva dived in to help the other man and both went down while young Gonzalez struggled to shore.

An explosion and fire of undetermined origin killed Mrs. Jesse Day, 74, a telephone operator Sunday in her home at Stamford, in West Central Texas. Pieces of the house were hurled 50 feet. The cause of the blast had not been determined.

Elmo Fowler, 56, of San Angelo died Sunday night of gunshot wounds suffered at his home. Police said a neighbor found him wounded in a bedroom with a shotgun lying nearby.

Terry Crost, 24, Lubbock beauty supplies salesman, was killed Sunday when his car hit a bridge abutment 2.5 miles north of Roscoe, west of Sweetwater. He was en route to a family gathering at Winters.

Robert Smith, 32, of Idalou died late Saturday night in the flaming wreckage of a diesel transport truck 5 miles west of Knox City. Officers reported the truck jackknifed descending a hill and halted upside down in a ditch. Smith was trapped in the burning cab.

Ernest Jackson, 35, was shot and killed early Sunday at the home of a girl friend, Miss Henrietta Davis, north of Alvin in Brazoria County. Officers charged her with murder.

A collision of two cars Sunday killed Cecil White of Cross Plains near his home town. Sue Lippe, one of three Brownwood girls in the other car, suffered serious injuries.

Two youths fled after the fatal shooting of Juan Hernandez, 46, at San Antonio in a Sunday night robbery netting the pair two 50-cent pieces. A companion, Ramon Cantu, 44, said the holdup occurred after the car he and Hernandez were driving ran out of gas.

Antonio Alejos, 21, of San Antonio was fatally stabbed Sunday at an Easter picnic in South Bexar County. Police said Alejos' father and brother also were knifed.

Luis Harrison, 30, of Mansfield, south of Fort Worth, died early Sunday when his pickup truck ran off an overpass at Mansfield and plunged 30 feet to the ground.

Donald Gammon, 24, of Fort Worth was killed early Sunday when thrown from a motorcycle against a telephone pole in Fort Worth.

Jimmy Crayton, 29, was found shot in one eye early Sunday in an Austin night club which he managed. He died at a hospital. Police arrested a 21-year-old Negro man and a 20-year-old woman.

Johnny Stevenson, 35, died Sunday morning in a Dallas shooting. Police said a 23-year-old Negro admitted firing the shots.

Survey Shows Insecticide Costly

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Agriculture Department survey shows that cotton farmers spent nearly 6 cents a pound on the cotton they produce for insecticides, fertilizer, herbicides and boll defoliants. This cost is nearly 20 per cent of the price they get for the crop.

The survey, made in 1962, covered widely scattered areas in the cotton producing area. Fertilizer topped the list of costs, averaging about $14 an acre, or about 3.4 cents a pound on the cotton grown.

Inquiries Swamp US Red Cross

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Red Cross says about 20,000 inquiries about the health and welfare of persons in the Alaskan earthquake zone had been received at national headquarters and at various Red Cross chapters.

The Red Cross said Sunday the inquiries have ben sent to the Seattle office for handling, but that replies might be slow because of communications problems.

Graham's Easter Message Is Called Huge Success

By JIM PURKS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham's Easter appearance before an integrated audience of more than 35,000 was hailed as a tremendous inspirational success by Negroes and white persons.

The gathering at Legion Field, a football stadium in Birmingham, was the largest integrated audience in Alabama's history. It also was the largest religious gathering in the state.

Rigid security precautions were in force, but there were no incidents. The city has been the scene of racial violence in the past.

"Billy Graham has brought out the best in us," said Mayor Albert Boutwell.

A white minister, Dr. John Turner, said, "After waiting some 15 years for such a visitation as Billy Graham and his team, I am moved almost beyond expression to the outpouring of confidence in our fellow man as seen today."

A Negro minister, the Rev. J. L. Ware, said, "It is my candid opinion that this great Christian service will prove to be the turning point in changing the outlook and image of Birmingham into a city of peace and tranquility and prosperity for all people."

Negroes and white persons appeared evenly divided.

Walter Smyth, an associate of Graham, said Police Chief Jamie Moore estimated the crowd at between 35,000 and 40,000.

About 4,000, both white and Negro, responded at the close of Graham's sermon when he called for the penitent to come forward.

Kilduff Is No. 2 Man

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—Malcolm Kilduff is the No. 2 man in the White House press office now by unannounced promotion.

A former State Department information officer, Kilduff was the only survivor of the three-man secretariat of the Kennedy administration when Pierre Salinger resigned the top spot and Andrew Hatcher quit as the second man.

George Reedy, a veteran in the service of President Johnson, received the post of press secretary. For the time being, he is figuring on getting along with only himself and Kilduff in the press office.

But if and when a third man comes in—and there is no indication that this might be soon—there is no intention of lowering Kilduff back into third place on the three-man team.

Unisphere Sign Of World Peace

By RALEIGH ALLSBROOK

NEW YORK (AP) — The World's Fair opening next month will be symbolized by the Unisphere, which stands for peace through understanding.

For years visitors will remember the huge stainless steel globe, showing all the continents and with three orbital rings.

There have been more than 30 world expositions since the first was held in London in 1851 and each has tried to be a little more lavish, dazzling and fantastic than the preceding.

The first fair was staged in an immense and remarkable building of iron and glass, dubbed the Crystal Palace and erected in London's Hyde Park.

It was made of 300,000 panes of glass and was so large—as long as six football fields—that full size trees grew under its roof.

It was unlike any building that ever had been constructed before and provided a note of the fantastic that became essential in all subsequent fairs.

Opened by Queen Victoria, the show was an immense success from the beginning, attracting six million spectators during its 144-day run.

There were 100,000 exhibits and a multitude of fountains, one spraying eau de cologne to freshen the atmosphere. A new musical invention, called the saxaphone, intrigued many visitors.

The Crystal Palace later was moved to the outskirts of London, where it remained until destroyed by fire in 1936.

The French International Exposition in Paris in 1855 offered immense exhibition space in two big halls, many fine art displays and a fountain that ejected artificial flowers.

President Ulysses S. Grant opened the Philadelphia Centennial Exposition in 1876. It was the first of the really mammoth fairs and its five large structures and more than 100 smaller ones occupied 60 acres.

The Gallery of Art still survives and was the home of the Philadelphia Museum until it moved to its present site.

The nearly 10 million visitors got a look at another new invention, Thomas Edison's phonograph.

At Paris' Exposition Universele in 1878, the noted actress, Sarah Bernhardt, became so enthralled by a balloon exhibit that she persuaded the balloonist to take her aloft for an aerial dinner and a broader look at the big show.

Paris put on another Exposition Universelle in 1889 and the 984-foot Eiffel Tower went up as the center attraction and the world's tallest structure.

Visitors to Chicago's Columbian Exposition in 1893 saw the electric light powered by a new generator created by George Westinghouse and got a chance to try the Ferris wheel, the dizziest of all rides up to that time.

The Pan American Exposition in Buffalo in 1901 featured an electric tower emphasizing the importance of electric power from nearby Niagara Falls.

A tragedy marred the show. President McKinley was shot by an assassin at the Temple of Music on Sept. 6 and died eight days later.

Train Jumps Track

AUSTIN (AP) — Forty-three cars of an 89-car Missouri Pacific freight train jumped the track 8 miles south of here Sunday. No one was injured.

Sunspots have been observed and described since the ancient Chinese thought they saw "flying birds" in the sun.

Chevrolet

'64 Jet-smooth Chevrolet Impala Sport Coupe (119-in. wheelbase)

will go to any length to make you happy

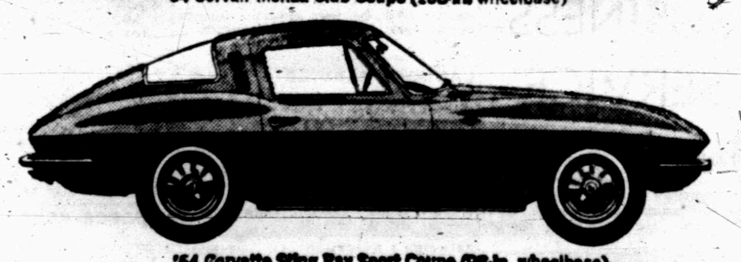

New Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe (115-in. wheelbase)

'64 Chevy II Nova Sport Coupe (110-in. wheelbase)

'64 Corvair Monza Club Coupe (108-in. wheelbase)

'64 Corvette Sting Ray Sport Coupe (98-in. wheelbase)

Things have changed a lot since a Chevy was only a Chevy. Especially your ideas of what you want a Chevy to be.

So now you have the Jet-smooth Chevrolet—17½ feet of pure luxury, bumper to bumper. The size alone might make it a luxury car, even if nothing else did. And everything else does, but the price.

Or you can choose the thrifty Chevy II, a 15¼-foot family car with all kinds of passenger and luggage space—and three kinds of engines (4, 6 or extra-cost V8) to choose from, besides.

This year, your choice might be the new 16-foot-plus Chevelle, sized to fit nicely between Chevrolet and Chevy II (and between parking meters, with five whole feet left over), but with its own special looks and room.

Then, too, there's the sporty 15-foot Corvair, so right for so many people (you girls, in particular) that we've never touched an inch of it—except for things like bigger rear engines for '64. And finally, Corvette—still 14½ feet and still too much for any true sports-car lover to say no to.

The long and short of it is, you don't have to go to any length to find exactly the size and price and kind of car you want. Just see the five different lines of cars at your Chevrolet dealer's.
