Little League Baseball Meet Called Friday

An effort to organize an official Little League summer baseball program for Wellington youngsters will be made this year, according to Charles Darter, chairman.

A meeting for this purpose will be held in his office Friday, March 1, at 7:00 p. m.

The first purpose is to set up the official Little League program, and then there will be further discussion of the summer baseball program in general.

All interested persons are urged to attend, Mr. Darter said.

Wellington has a summer baseball program for boys each year, and although these are often referred to as Little League, the town has never had an official Little League program, which is part of the national program and would include play-offs with an opportunity of going into state or national competition.

Last year it was announced that this step would be taken for the 1974 program.

A girls softball program was included last year for the first time, also.

Open House Thursday to Mark Public School Week

The observance of Texas Public Schools Week, will be marked this year with an open house at Wellington Elementary School, Mrs. Edith Lacy, president of the school's Parent Teacher Organization has announced.

It will be held Thursday, March 7, from 7:00 to 8:00 p.m. in the Elementary building.

Texas Public Schools Week itself is Monday through Friday, March 4 to 8.

Each room will have displays which parents and friends will visit, and refreshments will be served in the cafeteria, Mrs. Lacy said.

In her announcement today she stressed the importance of community participation in Texas Public Schools Week which will mark the 120 anniversary of the public school system in Texas. Parents and other interested citizens are encouraged to visit schools in their neighborhoods and areas. During the week, all grades — elementary through high school will be open for public visitation.

"More and more, we are coming to realize that the key to America's future lies in our schools," Mrs. Lacy said. "We need useful, educated citizens to meet the challenge of the future. We want to stress the importance of citizen participation in Texas Public School Week, March 4-8. This is one meaningful way we can all become a part of our education system. It's our responsibility to see to it that this system maintains the highest educational level and that quality education for all students is maintained."

Donor Recruitment Begins for Bloodmobile Visit March 19

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Wellington Tuesday, March 19, for its regular collection of blood for the Red River Regional Blood Program.

This visit will be carried out along the same lines as all others from the Wichita Falls center.

The bloodmobile will be at Bura Handley Community Center from 1:00 to 6:00 p.m.

A minimum of 110 blood units (pints) is needed, and to secure these, at least 138 Collingsworth people must be scheduled.

This year for the first time, 17-year-old donors will be accepted with parental permission. In preparation for this, Mrs. Sherry Walker, field representative for the Red River Regional Blood Bank, will be in Wellington Tuesday, March 5 for a luncheon meeting with some of the teen age leaders.

Joining her at Cherokee Inn will be the officers of the three senior classes, Wellington, Samnorwood and Quail. With them will be their high school principals and class sponsors.

Mrs. Walker will explain the program to them and ask their help in getting other eligible teen-agers to become blood donors.

In the afternoon, Mrs. Walker will meet with adult blood bank leaders for a briefing and workshop.

Scheduling donors has begun, and as many as 7 or 8 every 15 minutes can be accepted. At this point, any one willing to give blood should contact Collingsworth General Hospital to be scheduled. It is pointed out that those calling early will be more likely to get time slots they wish.

Collingsworth General must depend on the Red River Regional Blood Program at Wichita Falls for all its blood and blood components. Under the agreement, however, the county must furnish the program with 110 units of blood twice each year, or a total of 220 units.

The figure is based on the county's population and the same uniform ruling is used nation-wide.

Effort will be concentrated during the next two and one half weeks before the Bloodmobile visit to filling all donor slots during the 5-hour stay. Collingsworth has been one of the most generous givers of blood of any county in the regional program, and all efforts will be made to keep this record intact.

Ruffin Meeting Held Here February 26

Ray Ruffin, Democratic candidate for Congress from the 13th District, spoke before an interested group in Wellington Tuesday night, February 26, answering candidly questions put to him.

Replying to the thoughts of the group, he declared "We are not in an oil shortage now," but he predicted that drivers, used to 29.9 cent gas and now paying 49.9 cents, will see still another 11 cent rise before long.

Mr. Ruffin, approved by labor in Amarillo and Wichita Falls, assurred the group that:

"They don't bind me. They can't come up and tell me how to vote. Labor is not going to dictate to me."

"I think you'll see a 40 per cent turnover in Congress this time and you'll see a lot of guys go in with no strings attached. You'll see some bad laws killed. The country gets the breaks when there is a new congress," he said a few minutes later.

Mr. Ruffin asked for the opinions of the group on federal action which would give young farmers credit, so that they may stay in their home counties and go into farming, as they would like to do. He favors a strong legislation on this point, just as

Official Texas medallion commemorating the United States Bicentennial

Bicentennial Texas Medallion Unveiled

Arlington—Mrs. Bill Hobby, president of the Bicentennial Association of Texas, Friday unveiled the official Texas medallion and logo for the United States Bicentennial observance at a news conference at the University of Texas at Arlington.

The obverse side of the medallion features the official emblem of Texas' Bicentennial observance. The converging arrows represent the ethnic groups that have come together for 200 years and longer to form the Lone Star State.

The reverse side of the medallion is a montage, dominated by a two-headed figure of man.

One face looks to the past and the heritage of a bountiful land. A shaft of wheat, a boll of cotton, a Longhorn steer and a derrick represent Texas' richest products . . . her natural resources.

Pride in the present is reflected in a gear for booming industry and commerce, a book for education and unlimited opportunity.

Man's forward face looks through an astronaut's helmet, with the land's bright future represented by an airliner and spacecraft.

Proceeds from the sale of the Texas medallion will go toward the production of "Texana," a major stage production authorized by a concurrent resolution passed during the 63rd session of the Texas Legislature. "Texana," our state government's contribution to the Bicentennial, will symbolize the 26 ethnic and national cultures represented in Texas.

Of the planned stage production, Governor Dolph Briscoe has said: "This will be a major production depicting the history, the accomplishments and the dreams of Texas and its people. It will be produced through the cooperative efforts of the outstanding talents we have available in our academic and professional communities."

Dr. Joe B. Frantz, a member of the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission (ARBC) of Texas, will be in charge of preparations for "Texana."

The Bicentennial Association of Texas, a non-profit private corporation, is an adjunct to the ARBC of Texas. The Association will be responsible for funding of "Texana."

A limited edition of the Texas medallion, in both fine silver and bronze, will be available this spring. Marketing will be by Century II, Ltd. of Austin under authority of the Bicentennial Association of Texas.

The medallion was designed by Jerry Tokola, Bob Stewart and Steve Parrino.

Mrs. Templeton At Institute

Louise Templeton Accredited Record Technician, Collingsworth General Hospital, participated in a Specialized Institute on Medical Care Evaluation conducted by the American Medical Record Association in cooperation with the American Hospital Association and sponsored by the Texas Medical Record Association, recently at the Statler-Hilton Hotel, Dallas, Texas.

The three-day Institute was attended by 225 medical record administrators, hospital administrators and physicians from 22 states. While hospitals have been conducting formal medical audits of patient care and utilization review for many years, it has become more important since the passage of PL-92-603 which requires a Professional Standards Review Organization review all Medicare and Medicaid cases to approve payment.

This Institute furthered the AMRA philosophy in continuing education: "Systematic learning experiences designed to enlarge the knowledge and skills of Registered Record Administrators and Accredited Record Technicians."

Last year 20,570 handicapped people received help from the Texas Easter Seal Society. With the costs of providing expert professional care rising, more money than ever will be needed.

Funds help support 18 centers in Texas, where services are provided to those crippled children and adults who cannot provide for themselves and who do not qualify for help from any other source.

"The people of Texas have always responded generously to helping the handicapped and I feel certain they will make it possible to increase Easter Seal services to crippled Texans throughout the coming year," Neeley said.

Planning for Retirement Can Save Taxes

COLLEGE STATION -- "This may be the year when many Texas farmers, ranchers and other agribusinessmen want to start on a tax sheltered retirement plan," says Dr. Wayne Hayenga, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Farmers and other self-employed individuals can take advantage of a 1962 Congressional law which extended the advantage of the same tax sheltered pensions and profit-sharing plans long enjoyed by corporate employees. They do this by enrolling in a self-employed retirement plan, commonly called a Keogh plan, that is available through many major banks, insurance companies and mutual funds."

Under the law, a self-employed person can set aside a certain portion of his income in a retirement fund, explains the Texas A&M University System specialist. Earnings on the accumulated money are not taxable until the individual retires. Then the money may be taxed as a capital gain or ordinary income, depending on the method of withdrawal.

"The plan is completely voluntary and any self-employed person is eligible. Under the law, up to 10 per cent of earned income or $2,500, whichever is less, can be invested each year in an approved retirement plan," notes Hayenga.

For example, a farmer with a gross income of $50,000 and $20,000 expenses could defer about $900 in taxes by putting $2,500 into an approved retirement plan.

There are several retirement options a self-employed farmer can select depending on his situation. The contribution to a retirement plan may be based on a fixed number of dollars per year or may be expressed as a certain percentage of net or gross farm income which would avoid a fixed dollar commitment each year.

"Before starting into a retirement plan, a person needs to file a proposal with the Internal Revenue Service. The proposal names the individual to be covered under the plan, the investment schedule to be used and the proportion of earned income to be contributed to the fund," Hayenga adds.

The decision to participate in a retirement plan depends on your age, financial goals, present income, expected future income, number of employees and investment policy. Before making any decision to participate in a retirement plan, check with a banker, attorney or investment counselor.

DON'T THINK CONSERVATION DO IT!

Sometimes we tend to feel that "the other guy" should be more careful about wasting energy. But if we're going to make energy conservation work, all of us...large and small energy consumers alike... will have to keep working at it.

We usually stress all the ways that folks living in homes and apartments can save energy. But what about office buildings and industrial plants? Can't they help too?

Sure. And we'd like to suggest some simple steps for reducing energy consumption for businesses and industrial complexes. These suggestions are based on Lone Star's own efforts to reduce energy use by 11% in our own company.

Inside Buildings

1. Alter air temperatures to 68 when heating, and 77 when cooling.
2. Reduce elevator services between the non-peak hours of 9-11:30 a.m. and 2-4 p.m.
3. Reduce light levels in all areas below present levels.
4. Turn off floor lighting completely at 7 p.m., except for cleaning times.
5. When leaving, employees should close blinds and drapes and turn off lights.

Operation of Vehicles

1. Encourage employees to observe the state's maximum speed limit of 55 mph on both personal and company vehicles.
2. Establish employee car pools.
3. Print guidelines to distribute to employees who operate company-owned vehicles or machinery for proper use and care.

Industrial Complexes

Examine warehouses, plants and maintenance shops to find wasteful energy problems. This includes keeping doors closed when there is no traffic, and avoid overheating large plant areas from heating units located near large exits.

We can all contribute! With your help we can make an even larger contribution to America's energy conservation program in the next four months!

Lone Star Gas
Clean, efficient energy for years to come.

He was associated with the firm for many years until last summer, when he and Mrs. Owens moved to Harrison, Arkansas. They have been living in Mineral Wells recently.

They have moved back to Wellington and again will live in the apartment at Kelso Funeral Home.

"We are indeed happy to have Mr. Owens associated with the funeral home again, just as we know all of his and Juanita's friends are pleased to have them back," said Mr. Kelso.

DPS Taking Applications for State Trooper

Major C.W. Bell, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced today the DPS is accepting applications for the post of State Trooper.

Applicants selected as cadets will enter 18 weeks of training at the DPS Law Enforcement Academy in Austin in a class tentatively scheduled to begin June 11, 1974.

Bell said general qualifications for DPS Troopers are: Applicants must be 20 through 35 years of age (inclusive); good moral character; excellent physical condition; height not less than 68 inches nor more than 76 inches; weight not less than two pounds nor more than three and one-half pounds per inch of height; visual acuity no worse than 20/40 correctable to 20/20; and a citizen of the United States. Educational qualifications, which are now a minimum of 45 semester hours of college, will increase to 60 semester hours on September 1, 1974.

He pointed out that qualified female applicants are now being accepted for the uniformed services of the DPS, and that the Department has been increasingly successful in recruiting persons from minority groups.

During the training period, cadets participate in some 850 hours of law enforcement classes on a wide variety of subjects such as criminal and traffic law; human and community relations, and investigative techniques. The schooling includes rigorous physical training, marksmanship, and skills related to pursuit driving.

After graduation, cadets will be commissioned as Probationary Trooper I at a salary of $743 monthly and assigned to the Highway Patrol, License & Weight Service, Motor Vehicle Inspection Service or Driver License Service according to the needs of DPS and consideration of personal preference.

The salary automatically increases to $768 per month after six months. Upon completion of 12 months commissioned service, Probationary Troopers are promoted to Trooper I at a salary of $820 monthly. Officers electing to remain in a non-supervisory uniformed position are eligible to compete for promotion to Trooper II after 60 months commissioned service.

All DPS officers receive fringe benefits including hospitalization and life insurance, paid vacations and sick leave, and holidays as for all State Employees. Unifroms, vehicles and equipment are furnished and Troopers receive a uniform cleaning allowance. Expenses are paid when away from home station.

In addition, personnel are members of both the State Employees Retirement System and social security.

Norwood Teams End Successful Season Feb. 21

Samnorwood Eagles lost to a strong Hedley team 74-44, in district 4-B tournament play in Clarendon Thursday, February 21.

This closed out the Eagles season with a 13-18 won-lost record, according to Coach Dale Morris.

The Eaglettes, who posted a 17-16 won-lost record under coach Kenneth Martindale, also lost to Hedley in the girls 4-B tournament held in Wellington early this month.

High point man for the Eagles Thursday was Doug Coleman with 19 while Steve Trostle added 13 points. Leon Freeman led game scoring with 23 for Hedley.

The Eagles will lose only three starters by graduation this year, Johnny Morgan, Larry Stages and Steve Trostle. Coach Morris said.

The 8 returning lettermen include two starters, Doug Coleman and Leonardo Segura. Others returning are Clinton Oldham, Clifford Oldham, Tim Allen, Darrell Bast, Robert Cruz and Gary Skinner.

The Eaglettes loss to Hedley put them out of the tournament in the first round. Hedley girls then went on to win District 4-B title, only to drop the bi-district game to Groom 59-55.

Only one player will be lost from this team by graduation, Connie Dwyer, post guard.

The 11 letter players returning are: juniors: Teresa Ray, Judy Bell and Ethel Bryant; sophomores: Cindy Coleman, Alethea Ray, Debbie Roberts, Jayne Ann Morgan, Becky Graves, Vonnie Knoll, Ida Beth Stice and Mable Bryant.

Coach Martindale said he was well pleased with the Eaglettes record and added that three games were lost in the last 10 seconds of play.

WHEN A HOUSE IS NOT A HOME

New housing construction usually leads the economy and it also signals a turn in the business cycle. Housing starts peaked out in the first quarter of 1973 at an annual rate of 2.4 million. While the economy continued to grow through the fourth quarter of 1973, housing starts had plummeted one-third by the end of the fourth quarter.

In the past interest rates have been the key. Rising short-term interest rates attracts savers who withdraw funds from savings and loan accounts and invest those funds in the short-term money markets. This is called "disintermediation," a massive shifting of funds from one major type of savings institution to another part of the money market. Since the savings and loan associations are limited by regulation as to the maximum interest rate they can pay, they are unable to compete effectively with other forms of short-term investment. The result is a loss of savings funds from the savings and loan associations who then have to cut back on their lending activities to new house buyers. This slows down new house construction because the builder can't afford to tie up his resources in a batch of unsold houses.

It is now obvious that interest rates are on the way down and in a hurry. The prime rate which was 10% a month ago, could hit 6% by late summer. This will have a direct effect on the interest rates savings and loans associations and insurance companies charge on their home mortgage loans and real estate loans. So, by being patient, the prospective new house buyer will get the lowest on his mortgage in about eight months from now.

What has kept a lot of houses from becoming homes is not only high interest rates but higher prices for houses and the higher cost of owning a house. Prices, as every potential house-buyer knows, not only have gone up -- they've gone through the roof. The average price of a new house fell 11.5% in 1969 and 1970. But from 1971 to the end of 1973 the average price of a new house rose 48. 7% or about 33% more than the Consumer Price Index.

The cost of owning a house has also risen drastically. A major factor in the increased cost of home-owning has been rising property taxes. Although the tax increases have moderated in recent years, other costs have kept going up. The biggest worries now are the cost of gas and electricity and the gasoline used for commuting. These costs will keep rising over the next several years until some kind of balance between the supply of fuel and the cost of fuel can be reached. Meanwhile, more of the construction cost of a house will go to improved insulation and energy saving devices. And that will give you a hint of what type of stocks to buy now if you want to benefit from the next big push in new house construction.

The stock market anticipates housing recoveries well in advance. If the forecast of a turnaround in housing by mid-1974 is correct, expenditures for residential construction will begin to pick up in 1975. This means that building company stocks and building materials company stocks will begin to make their moves between now and the end of 1974.

MR. EMPLOYER:

DO YOU KNOW

Workmen's Compensation law has now been amended to apply to businesses and professional organizations which have ONE or TWO employees.

The 1973 Texas Legislature enaced S.B. 283 which made many substantial changes in our Workmen's Compensation law. We'd like to call one of these to your attention.

For practical purposes, ALL employees in this state except "domestic servants or casual employees engaged in employment incidental to a personal residence, farm laborers, (or) ranch laborers . . . " should now me protected by Workmen's Compensation insurance, or the employer loses his common law defenses if the injured worker sues him.

Formerly you had to have at least three persons on your payroll to be affected. But beginning on January 1, 1974, employers with one or two employees will be brought under the terms of the Workmen's Compensation Act.

The question that probably occurs to you at this point is: What if I as a small employer fail to carry Workmen's Compensation insurance? Well, if you don't and one of your employees is injured, he has the right to sue you and will almost certainly be awarded damages. (Your liability insurance doesn't cover either the legal costs in such a case or the court judgment.

By being uninsured the three so-called common law defenses against a suit by an injured employee can't be asserted in court.

Keep in mind that if you have at least one employee, you yourself are then eligible to be covered, and if your spouse works with you as a co-owner he or she may also qualify for this valuable protection—even if no salary is paid. Also, the owners of an unincorporated firm regardless of size may now be included under the Workmen's Compensation insurance they presently carry.

Since it sometimes takes awhile to obtain Workmen's Compensation insurance for a small employer, please contact us immediately.

Why Not Plant a Minigarden? Use New Varieties, Synthetic Soils

"Growing vegetables in a minigarden can be educational and fun for both youngsters and adults," says County Agent Don Reeves.

The basic materials needed are containers, soil and seed.

Plastic or clay pots, metal or plastic pails, wire baskets or a wooden box will be adequate containers for the beginners. Six-inch pots will suffice for vegetables such as chives and 10-inch pots are best for onions, radishes and minature varieties of tomatoes.

Reeves suggests that if solid plastic containers are used, be sure to allow for drainage. Drill four or more ¼-inch holes, spaced evenly along the sides, near the bottom. Put about ½-inch of coarse gravel in the bottom of each container to aid drainage.

Gardeners can either buy a synthetic soil or prepare their own. Synthetic soil is free of plant disease organisms and weed seed, holds moisture and plant nutrients well, and is lightweight and portable.

A soil substitute can be prepared from horticultural grade vermiculite, peat moss, limestone, and superphosphate and 5-10-5 fertilizer.

Don't use last year's seed, cautions county agent. Old seed often germinates poorly and does not grow vigorously. Seeds of many varieties of each plant are available at garden center. Miniature vegetable varieties are best for minigardens. When possible, select disease and insect resistant varieties.

Plant vegetable and fruit plants where they will get the most sun and leafy and root vegetables in more shady areas.

"You can give some plants a jump on the growing season by starting them indoors on windowsills that have plenty of sunlight," says Reeves. "Then after the weather gets warmer, and the danger of frost is past, transplant them into larger containers and move them outdoors. Use ready-made peat pellets or peat pots. Peat pellets contain synthetic soil that swells up several times its original size when water is added."

Happy Homemaking

The best way to clean dirty, greasy metal venetian blinds is to soak them in a bathtub in a mild soap, light bleach and water solution. Be sure to line the tub with an old sheet or towel to avoid scratching the enamel.

If you are worried about your clip-on ties coming loose, attach a piece of elastic which goes under the collar and does not show. It holds the tie fast.

If your child is allergic to bleach or fabric softener in his laundry, add vinegar to the final rinse water for baby's clothes and diapers. It will work as a softener without the ill effects.

A great way of getting the most out of your soap is to save old soap slivers, cut a slit in an old powder puff, insert the loose soap, sew up the puff and use as a washcloth until the soap is used up.

Public School Week Is a Time to Evaluate Our Own

Texas Public Schools Week will be observed in Collingsworth Schools March 4-8, and that is a good time to take a look and decide if they meet our standards of quality education.

Each of the three schools is inviting the public to come and visit during Texas Public Schools Week.

It is our opportunity to question whether the education our county's children receive will help them face the future with human dignity, rational thinking, economic competence and self reliance.

It is a time to look at classroom procedure, get acquainted with teachers we may not know, and discuss any questions we may have with teachers and administrators. We can assure them the schools have our interest and our support.

Evaluate our facilities. Do we need to upgrade some of them. Do we need more emphasis on a technical and vocational curriculum? Think about these and remember it is our tax dollars that are helping our county's schools to operate.

Many outstanding people have gone out of this county and their early training came from our schools. It is essential that this stream of talent continues.

AGRICULTURE AFFECTS US ALL

The incipient drought, like the evening shadows, lengthens; and as it lengthens it casts a pall over an otherwise bright agricultural outlook. With skimpy rains over the past three months the land grows dry and the spring wheat fights to survive. A new dust bowl threatens, according to the Department of Agriculture.

It points out also the gambling nature of the vocation of farming. The 1973 crops were bumper and brought all-time high prices. If the drought continues and worsens the 1974 crop conceivably could fail.

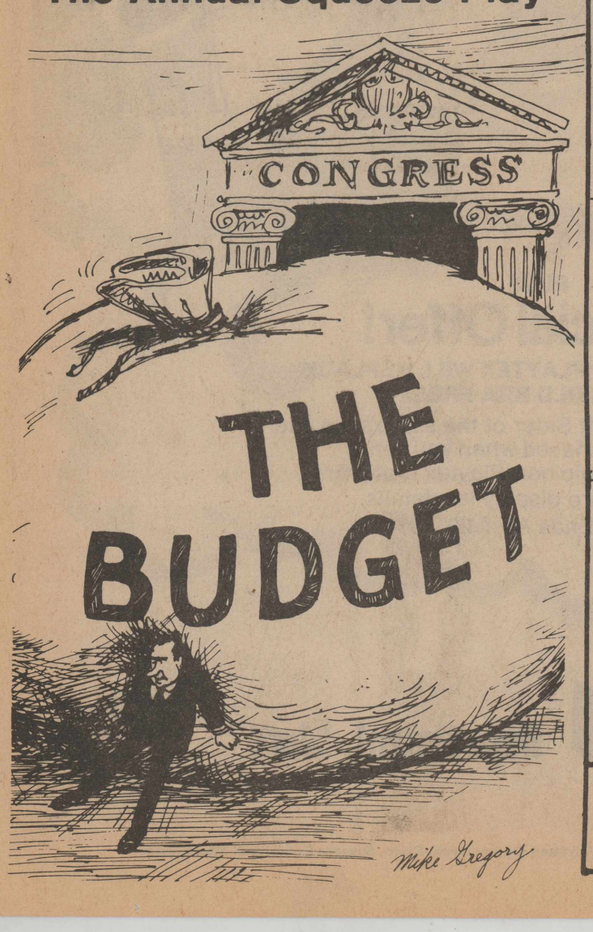

Non-farmers should consider this fact when during a single year of bumper crops they complain about high food prices and high profits for farmers and ranchers. To be fair they should consider an average income over a period of years in comparison with the products that farmers must buy to stay in business. In other words, they should look to assets and liabilities of a farmer's ledger.

The new drought could be broken at any time and the outlook for agriculture in 1974 could take a brighter turn. But as of now it is beginning to look bleak. With food prices what they are, and if crops promise to fail, the urbanite might well pray for rain.

Farmers, with the uncertain nature of their business, learned to pray decades ago.

AUSTIN, Tex. — Home insurance rates are going up for most Texans.

New rates to be effective June 1 or July 1 will take into consideration expected rising costs of replacing and repairing damaged buildings.

The rates were adjusted a year ago (Jan. 1, 1973), with reductions in most lines.

Indications are fire coverage for homes will go up this year, but commercial building protection will cost less.

Multi-purpose homeowners policies will increase in price for Seacoast and North-Northwest territories. Although the loss record of the last decade indicates a 5.5 per cent reduction for the Central Inland area, G. L. Jones, State Insurance Board chief property actuary, said inflation may negate the saving.

All three territories are due for an increase on extended coverage, including windstorm and vandalism coverage.

State Board statistics hold promise of a saving on commercial building coverage for the Central Inland territory.

Following past board practices of figuring inflation on price increases over the last six years, an industry representative said the statewide boost for all lines of building insurance would be more than 20 per cent.

However, Texas Insurance Advisory Association suggested a revised inflation factor projected to save $43.7 million for Texas property owners this year below the board estimates.

CONVENTION PROGRESSES — Debate grew increasingly tedious as the first round of Constitutional Convention floor debate opened — on the education article of the proposed new state constitution.

Convention President Price Daniel Jr. maintained delegates were sticking with their 90-day completion schedule, however, as they neared completion of action on the article in three half-day working periods.

The education article as approved by the delegates tentatively insures "equal educational opportunities" for all, but permits special local district program enrichment. It also retains for The University of Texas and Texas A&M income from the $680 million Permanent University Fund.

Permanent and Available school funds are left intact, and the legislature is charged with providing for "first class" higher education.

LAW "DISCOVERED" — The Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles only last November discovered a law requiring it to recommend to the governor whether prisoners should have full citizenship rights restored on completion of sentence.

"Until our present board membership was made aware of this provision very recently, it has been ignored," said Charles G. Shandera, a member of the Board, in a letter to Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston. Schwartz is chairman of the Constitutional Convention Rights and Suffrage Committee.

Shandera said he does not think the oversight has worked any great hardship on ex-convicts deprived of civil rights, because they can make requests for full pardon.

Rights include voting, running for public office, jury service, entry into licensed professions and eligibility for bonding.

ALLOWABLE AT 100 PER CENT AGAIN — The Railroad Commission set the statewide oil allowable at 100 percent for March — the 24th straight month of such production.

Commissioner Ben Ramsey said crude oil stocks, estimated at 85.8 million barrels, are 3.4 million less than the 1973 level. He said crude stocks for the nation are 24 million barrels below preferred levels and gasoline 50 million barrels below.

Exceptions to the 100 per cent allowable are Kelly-Snyder and East Texas Fields (86 per cent) and a dozen others set at 80 per cent.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where the power sots in the Food and Drug Autocration recently bowed to a court order to let cattle feeders use DES which they had ruled was making beef hazardous to our health.

The FDA commandment against DES cut beef production by millions of pounds and helped to zoom meat prices before the court rules there is no real proof that the growth hormone is dangerous.

Which adds to the evidence that giving some power-prone people a big government job is demonstrably hazardous to our health and welfare.

Higher Education Fund Would End Ad Valorem Tax

AUSTIN -- Senator-delegate Jack Hightower (D-Vernon) said Thursday that the Education Committee's "Higher Education Assistance Fund" section would end the need for all state ad valorem taxation.

Hightower is a member of the Constitutional Convention's Education Committee.

"Under our committee's proposed method of funding, all state ad valorem taxation would be phased out completely. Taxation of real property for educational purposes has proved to be painfully inadequate for institutions such as Texas Tech University, Midwestern University and West Texas State University," he said.

Hightower added that the fund would "insure necessary funds and a higher quality education for colleges and universities not funded by the University of Texas Permanent Fund."

The present Constitution provides for taxation of 10 cents per $100 on real property to fund schools not covered by the Permanent University Fund. Under the proposed section, an amount equal to the Available University Fund would go to the 22 state colleges and universities under strict provision for its use.

"The only increases occuring would be an increase in the academic standing of these institutions that have been underfinanced for too long," Hightower said.

Hightower explained that while the fund would be appropriated from general revenue, he sees no consequential tax increases.

Bill Parsley, Vice President of Public Affairs, Texas Technological University, stated that this proposal is supported by all higher education institutions in Texas.

In committee Tuesday, members were assigned sections of the Education Article which they will explain and defend Friday in debate before the Convention. Hightower was asked to present the Higher Education Assistance Fund section.

Parsley cited Hightower as one who "through the years and in this Convention has consistently supported the best possible higher education in West Texas. His work for this section (Higher Education Fund) will place all educational institutions of Texas in the best possible position to insure quality education."

Dr. Travis White, President of Midwestern University, said that "if the people of Texas approve the Higher Education Assistance Fund, we will take a great step forward in assuring the future of higher education in Texas."

White added that Hightower has provided "an inestimable worth in helping assure the passage of the fund through the Education Committee."

CHARCOAL BRIQUETS -- A READY SUPPLY OF ENERGY FOUND RIGHT ON THE SUPERMARKET SHELF

Charcoal briquets . . . an energy source? Yes! One pound of briquets contains from 11 to 13,000 BTU's of energy. So to help save on supplies of gas and electricity used for cooking this winter, try grilling a few meals over charcoal. You'll be helping out with the energy crisis and your family will enjoy the good flavor of foods cooked over charcoal all year long.

And by using briquets for grilling food this winter, you'll be making wise use of our nation's resources. Formerly unwanted natural by-products from our lands and forests are carbonized at high temperatures, pressed into briquets, dried and bagged. Briquets are available year around although during winter months in some areas you might have to request that they be brought in from a storage area. A number of retail outlets carry briquets including supermarkets, discount stores, convenience stores, drug stores and hardware stores and gas stations.

For wintertime grilling, remember . . . you'll need more briquets to compensate for the lower outside temperatures. But the basics of barbecuing remain the same. Always start the charcoal fire by stacking the briquets in a pyramid and let them burn a good 20 to 40 minutes or until they turn ashy gray during the day or bright red at night. Then spread the coals in a single layer, extending about an inch beyond the food you're grilling.

If you're one of the more than 20.4 million families lucky enough to have an inside fireplace, you can charcoal grill in the fireplace. But, A FEW WORDS OF CAUTION. To burn the briquets safely, you must make sure you provide adequate ventilation. As charcoal briquets burn, they give off an odorless gas, carbon monoxide, and the gas must be vented outside. Place the grill with the lighted briquets well inside the fireplace and make sure your fireplace flue or damper is open with smoke and fumes going up the chimney.

Different brands of charcoal give off varying degrees of heat. To test the temperature of a charcoal briquet fire, it is recommended that you cautiously hold your hand, palm side down, just above the grill. Judge temperature by number of seconds hand can be kept in position.

The following listing of temperatures and seconds can be used as a guide:

2 seconds . . . high or hot
3 seconds . . . medium high or hot
4 seconds . . . medium
5 seconds . . . low

To lower temperature of charcoal fire, raise grill or separate coals. To raise temperature, tap the outer gray layer from coals and push coals closer together. If more coals are needed, add them to outer edge of hot coals.

Clinic Planned for That Skyrocket Band

Dr. Gary Garner of West Texas State University will conduct a clinic for That Skyrocket Band, Tuesday, March 5, as the young musicians prepare for the annual University Interscholastic League concert competion.

Clinic plans were announced this week by Keith Woods, band director.

Dr. Garner will start the clinic at 4:30 p. m., and it will continue until 9:30, with a one-hour break for supper.

"All members of the band will be expected to attend, unless they are ill, or there is illness in their immediate families," said Mr. Woods.

The band has received Division I ratings in marching and sight reading contests held earlier in the year, and if it achieves another first division in concert playing, That Skyrocket Band will be classified as a Sweepstakes Band, said Mr. Woods.

Dr. Garner is director of the WTSU Symphonic Band. During the clinic here, he will direct the band, work with it as a whole, and give individual help if it is needed, said Mr. Wood.

Band members are working hard toward the goal of a Sweepstakes Band for the second consecutive year, their director praised. Practice sessions are held each Tuesday.

That Skyrocket Bank will compete in the Borger Band Festival Friday, March 15. This is held annually as a forerunner of the UIL Concert competition, which will be on Wednesday, March 20.

The annual UIL Solo and Ensemble Contest will be held on campus at WTSU Saturday, March 9. That Skyrocket Band will have 11 entries.

Muffett Wagoner On Dean's List

Muffett Wagoner has been listed on the Dean's List at Texas Tech Univeristy for the fall semester, according to an announcement by the school.

She is a sophomore student in the School of Education.

Mrs. Wagoner and her daughter, Alisa, were here over the week end to visit her grandmother, Mrs. Otto Russell.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Russell, of Dallas, she worked in the business office of Collingsworth General Hospital before enrolling in Tech.

Attend Medicare Cost Workshop

Anne Langford, accountant, and Garner Altom, administrator, Collingsworth General Hospital, attended a Medicare Cost Reporting Workshop, at Texas Hospital Association Headquarters Building, in Austin, Friday, February 22. Mr. Dan Langford and Dana and Mrs. Altom accompanied them.

There were over 100, mostly hospital controllers and accountants, in attendance. The purpose was to directly assist hospitals, on an individual basis, with their Medicare Cost Report, with discussion, questions and answers regarding reimbursement under Federal programs.

There were reports on Status of Phase IV Regulations, Status of Implementation of Reimbursement Provisions of PL92-603, and discussion of current cost reporting forms and types of errors frequently made in preparing reports ... and then a cost report work session.

"Heretofore our certified public accountant in addition to our annual audit has also prepared our Medicare cost report, an accepted practice in most hospitals. This is quite an entricate and detailed instrument dealing with our Federal Medicare reimbursement settlement. In the future, with knowledge gained from the workshop and with further assistance from the intermediary charged with auditing our cost reports, we will be able to do our own at a considerable savings in CPA's fees," Mr. Altom said.

"Weatherwise the trip to Austin was quite interesting... We left Thursday in a high wind and dust storm, arrived in Austin a beautiful sun shiny afternoon with very nice weather both Friday and Saturday," he added.

Cosmetology Group at Show

Clarendon Cosmetology students attended the All-Texas Beauty Show in Dallas February 2-4.

Students attending from Wellington were Sandra Sullivan, Doris Simpson, Catherine Mote and Jackie Isaacs, all members of National Hairdressers Association, Affiliate No. 13.

In November, Mrs. Isaacs and her model, Mrs. Mote, won second place in a hairstyling contest in Amarillo. In January, the group also attended Trend Release for Spring and Summer 1974.

At Dallas exhibits were attended with many national and internationally known artists. Classes, seminars, and workshops were conducted by Official Hair Fashions Committee and Lone Star Styles Committee.

These were on hair shaping, quick service, make-up, and cosmetics, commerical coiffure, and mens' styling. All new products and methods were demonstrated.

Questions People Ask About the Catholic Church

Q. Can a person resign from the Catholic Church?

A. No way! When a person is baptised into the Church, the Sacrament puts a seal on that soul which can never be effaced either in this world or in Eternity. So, a person may stop practicing his Faith and join a hundred other churches or or denominations, but he will live and die and be rewarded or punished in the next life as a good or bad or mediocre Catholic. He can never make the slightest change in the mark on his immortal soul.

Q. When did the Catholic Church become exempt from paying taxes on its property?

A. The exemption of Church-owned property was ruled constitutional by the US Supreme Court May 4, 1970, in the case of Walz versus the Tax Commission of New York. The decision was 7-1 in favour of the Church.

Life With the Rimples

Deck's DIDACTICS

—by Deskins Wells

SCIENTISTS at the University of New Mexico say that energy sources such as geothermal and solar as well as early development of helium and wind could provide a tremendous source of power for the nation.

* * *

THE New Mexico scientists go into considerable detail in explaining the energy trapped under the ground in the form of hot water and steam. They also discuss at length the amount of sunshine in New Mexico and the feasability of converting it into solar energy. All of these sources will be explored in the future.

* * * *

LITTLE was said about converting the wind into energy on a grand scale. It is the source that fascinates me most. Wind energy is only one step removed from unharnessed solar power. It is the sun heating the atmosphere unevenly that causes the wind currents that are forever on the move.

* * *

IT REQUIRED millions of years to create the coal and oil and the natural waterways that provide so much of our energy today. It also required millions of years to provide the underground terrain that allows water to move underground toward the heated metals that have pushed upward from the center of the earth. But winds of immeasurable force are created in a matter of hours by the suns action on the atmosphere.

* * *

STRETCHING from Canada into Mexico across all of the vast plains of the middle United States is the greatest battleground of moving winds in the world. These winds are being created every day, every month and every year and there is no end in sight of their incalculable force. The wind is energy in one of its purest forms. It can be harnessed and in time it will be done in a manner that will make it economically profitable.

* * *

IT IS good to see young men like Clyde Ingram returning to Wellington to make their home. Clyde will be remembered by older football fans as the slim back who caught the long passes in the football games of another day. Once I asked Coach Maxie McKnight if Clyde was that much faster than the defensive backs. "No," he said, "he is not that much faster than many of them. They simply do not believe that Charley Johnson can throw the ball that far. They cover Clyde for what they think is the normal throw, slow down to see if it has turned into a running play and Clyde takes the ball five or so yards in the clear." It was a neat play to watch and accounted for several greatly needed touchdowns.

* * *

SOME OF the good men of Wellington such as Frank Anderson or Sandy Parsons need to travel down Mockingbird Lane immediately and try to find out what is happening on the campus of SMU. It is reported that students of this great religious university have been caught "streaking."

* * *

STREAKING, in modern campus language, is the practice of taking off all your clothes and running across the university grounds au naturel. It is reported to have started at the Air Force Academy near Colorado Springs where it is a tradition to streak if the temperature gets as low as 20 degrees below zero. That makes some sense at the Academy where it might toughen the cadets for survival on a mountain top after a crash. In the mild climate of Dallas it borders on decadence. If it had happened at The University of Texas at Austin or at Sing Sing on the Brazos, it would be pure scandal.

* * *

MY YOUNG FRIENDS, Lewis and Sharon Watkins send word from Anchorage, Alaska. Sharon continues to work for the National Education Association and Lewis is teaching in the Community College and at the same time is studying toward his Masters Degree in Counseling Psychology. They plan to spend a leisurely summer relaxing, camping and fishing so they say. They have bought a St. Bernard and in all probability will need to continue working in order to buy enough food to keep the dog alive.

* * *

TWO cows and their calves could be fed in Texas for what it costs to buy food for a St. Bernard in Alaska.

Breathing Therapy Unit Given Hospital

Mrs. Sam Gholson and Donald Curry have given a Bennett Pressure Breathing Therapy Unit - Model AP-4 to Collingsworth General Hospital in memory of their sister Loraine Curry.

This Unit commonly referred to as IPPB machine administers intermittent positive pressure breathing. The unit compresses, regulates, and delivers room air to the patient. It provides optional means of delivering medication, and for enriching the air with oxygen.

"IPPB is used in both preoperative and post-operative cases. It is vital for relief and treatment of emphysema and other lung conditions or respiratory ailments. It is probably used most often in our area in the treatment of emphysema, asthma, pneumonia and related respiratory conditions," said Garner Altom, administrator.

"This unit represents a very substantial contribution and the Medical Staff and Governing Body of Collingsworth General Hospital gratefully accepts and appreciates this gift. This makes three IPPB machines available at your hospital" Mr. Altom said.

First Christian Begins Church Growth Program

First Christian Church will begin a Bible School Promotion and Church Growth Program Sunday, March 3 and continue through Sunday, April 7, according to Bible School superintendent John Carson. "The Theme of the six power-packed weeks in God's House will be "Turn On The Power," he said.

"Turn On The Power" is an attendance-building, interest-creating campaign designed for church members to: Attend all services regularly; study the word of God faithfully; commit themselves to Christ fully; witness to others willingly; pray expectantly; and grow in grace and knowledge daily," said Charles Waugh, minister.

Mr. Waugh, minister, will be preaching on the theme of power throughout the six weeks campaign. His sermon titles will be: Turn On The Power; Wonderworking Power; The Power Of The Word; The Power Of Personal Commitment; Prayer -- The Christian's Secret Power; You Shall Receive Power; and on Easter Sunday, April 14, he will preach on The Power Of The Resurection.

Everyone is welcome to come and join in any or all of these special services, he said.

City Grocery Winners Named

Winners of the drawing held Saturday, February 23 by City Grocery were announced by Mr. and Mrs. James McDaniel.

This was a part of the grand opening held Thursday through Saturday, marking the couple's acquiring full ownership of the store.

The hindquarter of beef, given jointly by Mr. McDanel and J.C. Hartman, his former partner, was won by Gary Tarver.

Winners of the three hams were Mrs. Bobby Lewis, Mrs. Lynn Wright and C.B. Nunnelley.

C.E. Caldwell was winner of the electric clock.

Large crowds visited the store all three days of the opening, Mr. and Mrs. McDanel said.

Schaub Treated For Injuries

Paul Schaub, Lutie farmer and teacher in the Samnorwood School, is in High Plains Hospital for skin grafting on his right foot, the result of injuries three weeks ago.

Mr. Schaub caught his foot between the auger and roller of the cotton stripper he was operating, and it was only after much effort that he was able to reach the power lift with one finger to release it, according to his mother-in-law, Mrs. Jack Lowry.

His toes and bottom of his foot were severely injured.

He was hospitalized here before going to Amarillo for the first skin graft. He returned Wednesday, February 27, for surgery which will include grafting skin from his left leg onto the bottom of his foot, it was explained. For this, his legs will be in a cast and he is due to be in bed about three weeks.

It is not known at present if he will get to come home during part of that time.

Mrs. Keith Wood of Wellington is teaching in Mr. Schaub's place during his absence from school.

Lubbock Woman Hurt in Fall

Mrs. Don Rummel of Lubbock received a compound fracture of her left ankle, in a fall at her home Saturday, February 16, her mother, Mrs. Lefty Thomas of Samnorwood reported.

Mrs. Rummel, the former Ada Carole Thomas, was washing second floor windows above the front door of their home, when the ladder on which she was standing slipped. She was able to break her fall by catching onto the gutter, but could not hold on and dropped onto the concrete steps below.

She was released from a Lubbock hospital Tuesday, February 19, but her ankle will be in a cast .

Mrs. Thomas is in Lubbock now with Dr. and Mrs. Rummel and their daughters, and other members of the family have been there, including Mr. Thomas, and Mr. and Mrs. Gilroy Rummel.

Lee Grocery, Station Observes 1st Anniversary

Jerry Lee Grocery and Station is observing its first anniversary under the sole ownership of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Lee. The store is located at the intersection of Highways 82 and State 203.

The celebration gets under way Thursday and will continue through Saturday, but many grocery specials offered by the store will continue through next week.

On Saturday at 5:00 p. m. three drawings will be held for groceries valued at $100. The first will be for $50 worth of groceries, the second, $30, and the third, $20.

Since purchasing the interest of their partner, Pete Scott, a year ago, Mr. and Mrs. Lee have made a number of improvements in the store, with the convenience of the customer in mind.

The store is one of the few in the area open 7 days per week, and the current energy crisis has not changed that, the owner pointed out. New store hours, however, are 7:00 a. m. to 10:00 p. m.

Assisting Jerry and Dieanna Lee in the store are Mrs. Mary Belew, Steve Hernandez, Danny Fowler and Mrs. Dorothy Parker.

In addition to the complete line of groceries, and a full market, Mr. Lee handles Exxon products aiming at both the long-time customers of the business, as well as travelers along US 83, one of the nation's longest north-south highways.

"We invite all our friends to come by and help celebrate our anniversary," the owners said.

Three File for Places on Quail School Ballot

Three trustees will be elected to the Quail School Board in the election Saturday, April 6, Wilford Arthur, superintendent, said this week. It will be held at the high school.

The three incumbents whose terms expire have filed for reelection, Delbert White, Lonnie Needham and Dan Guthrie.

There have been no other filings, and those wishing to run have until Wednesday, March 6 to file for a place on the ballot, Mr. Arthur said.

Absentee voting will be from Monday, March 18, to Tuesday, April 2.

Judge for the school trustee election will be O.L. Hartman, with Carey Don Neeley as clerk. Mr. Arthur will serve as absentee clerk.

Collingsworth General Hospital Board election will be held in conjuction with the school election, but with a different Judge and clerk.

Joint Commission Commends Hospital

Collingsworth General Hospital has notice of its Interim Self-Survey Progress Report by the Joint Commission of Accreditation of Hospitals, according to Garner Altom, administrator.

This insures accredtiation to January 1975, Mr. Altom said. The two-year accreditation approved a year ago included provisions that certain improvements must be made. Work on these is continuing.

The letter from Dr. Donald L. Kessler read:

"The Hospital Accreditation Program of the Joint Commission has received and reviewed the information contained in your Interim Self-Survey Progress Report. It demonstrates that your hospital is implementing the recommendations made as a result of your last accreditation survey. Your hospital is to be commended for its concerted effort, and for the progress you have made toward the optimal achievable standards of the Joint Commission.

"These recommendations are made for the purpose of assisting your hospital and its staff to improve the quality of health services rendered to your patients. We consider the accreditation process as an ongoing educational effort directed toward achieving excellence in health care.

"We look forward to your continued cooperative efforts and extend our congratulations for your excellent performance."

Joint Commission member organizations are the American College of Physicians, American College of Surgeons, American Hospital Association and American Medical Association.
