Q. Can you tell me why the summer passes for the pool took such a big jump this summer, from $5 last year to $15 this year? That $15 adds up fast if you happen to have more than one child.

A. City Manager Brenda Hammond said last year a family pass was offered last year for $20, but this proved to be a money losing offer and it was discontinued this year. Individual passes were increased to $15 help cover some of the expense, but still a good deal, she said for the whole summer. Daily admission is $1.00 per person.

Big Spring woman drowns at lake

A 27-year-old Big Spring woman is an apparent drowning victim following an early Thursday morning incident on Lake Colorado City.

Mitchell County Sheriff Wendell Bryant said Tammy Lynn Gray was pronounced dead about 4:30 a.m. Thursday by Dr. Dee Roach at Mitchell County Hospital after the woman's husband took her to the hospital.

Justice of the Peace Joann Merket ordered an autopsy to be performed at the Institute of Forensic Sciences in Dallas.

Bryant said the woman and her husband, Travis Gray, apparently were swimming in an area about a half mile south of Cooper's Cope Marina about 3 a.m. when the incident occurred. Bryant said his office received a call at 3:39 a.m. and Deputy O.D. Majors was dispatched to the scene. However, by the time Majors arrived, the man had managed to take his wife to the hospital.

Bryant said Friday morning that the husband had to be hospitalized because of shock and Bryant has been unable to question him about the incident. Mrs. Gray was employed as a teller at First National Bank in Big Spring.

Mrs. Gray is the fourth drowning victim at the lake in as many weeks.

The other victims, who all drowned in a restricted area, were Benjamin Ray Barrera, 20, of Snyder, May 11; Jaime A. Baldwin Jr., 20, Big Spring, May 20; and Michael Dell Smith, 24, Midland, May 24.

FROM THE SCRIPTURES— "Those who use such language show plainly that they are looking for a country of their own. If their hearts had been in the country they had left, they could have found opportunity to return." Hebrews 11:14.

L. B. Elliott has supplied me with a wealth of information about Pledge of Allegiance, the Flag, and the National Anthem, gleaned from the Mason's The New Age magazine. With one of our most patriotic observances before us—Independence Day, Fourth of July—it is an appropriate time to pass on to you some of this interesting information.

The Pledge of Allegiance, written by Francis Bellamy, was born in our public schools. The initial instructions in 1892 were: "At a signal from the Principal, the pupils, in ordered ranks, hands to the side, face the flag. Another signal is given; every pupil gives the flag the military salute. Standing thus, all repeat together, slowly: 'I pledge allegiance to my flag and the Republic for which it stands: one Nation indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all.' At the words, 'to my flag', the right hand is extended gracefully, palm upward, towards the flag, and remains in this gesture till the end of the affirmation; whereupon all hands immediately drop to the side. Then, still standing, as the instruments strike a chord, all will sing America—'My Country, 'tis of Thee.'"

THE LONE WOLF SAYS, "It's not the liberty we have, but the liberty we take that causes most of the trouble."

This was the first appearance of what was to become, by a 1945 Act of Congress, our national Pledge of Allegiance. There were four modifications to this first use. For rhythm the word "to" was immediately added before "the Republic." The words "the flag of the United States" were substituted for "my flag" at the First National Flag Conference in 1923. The next year that same body added "of America" to the Pledge. In 1954, by act of Congress the words "under God" were added. There are three pauses when reciting the Pledge: (1) after "America," (2) after "stands," and (3) after "indivisible."

DID YOU KNOW? The Pledge was written for one occasion only—the Columbus Day celebration of 1892.

Announcing the First Rate C.D.

Just when you thought your savings would never see an increase in interest rates, First National Bank has designed a new savings plan to help you get a headstart on your earnings.

It's FIRST RATE. And for the first 90 days of your investment, you can earn up to a three percent bonus rate depending on which FIRST RATE plan you choose. It's simple. If you choose a one-year certificate with a minimum deposit of $1,000, your investment will earn a bonus of one percent more than the current competitive rate for the first 90 days. After that time, your earnings rate will revert to the current competitive rate established for one-year investments. With a two-year certificate, you earn two points more than the current competitive rate for the first 90 days. And a three-year certificate will bring back for the first 90 days the double-digit earnings rates you've missed so much.

COMPARE EARNINGS OF THE FIRST RATE C.D.

	Term	Annual Percentage Rate
		Days 1-90	Days 91-Maturity
FIRST RATE C.D. Regular C.D.	1 year	8.25	7.25
	1 year	7.25	7.25
FIRST RATE C.D. Regular C.D.	2 year	9.50	7.50
	2 year	7.50	7.50
FIRST RATE C.D. Regular C.D.	3 year	10.75	7.75
	3 year	7.75	7.75

So, act now and earn the FIRST RATE bonus for the next 90 days.

Bonus rate applies only to certificates held to maturity. Rates subject to change without notice. Federal law requires a significant interest penalty for withdrawal prior to certificate maturity. Conaway honored at ceremony

Jeffrey Conaway, son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Conaway Jr. of Westbrook, participated in Duke University's Eighth Annual Search for mathematically and verbally brilliant students.

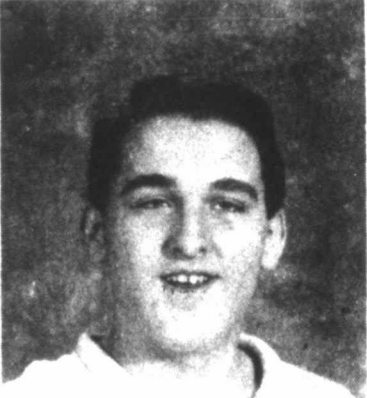

Seventh graders from Texas were honored at ceremonies held at Trinity University and Baylor University on June 17 and 18. All students invited to attend the ceremony had earned scores on at least one section of Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or the American College Testing Assessment (ACT) equal to or greater than the scores obtained by 50 percent of college-bound high school seniors. These seventh graders took these college entrance tests as participants in Duke University's Talent Identification Program (TIP).

"TIP was established in 1980 to identify bright young students, to help develop their special abilities and to direct them toward special academic programs for the gifted and talented. The 1988 TIP Talent Search involved nearly 46,000 students and covered 16 southern, southwestern and midwestern states. It is one of four university-based talent searches which together cover the entire United States," said Dr. Robert Sawyer, executive director of the program.

The 1966 students invited to the Texas ceremonies had attained at least one of the following criteria: an SAT-Math score equal to or greater than 500 (for boys) or 450 (for girls); an SAT-Verbal score equal to or greater than 430; a TSWE (Test of Standard Written English) score equal to or greater than 52; an ACT-Math score equal to or greater than 21 (for boys) or 17 (for girls); an ACT-English score equal to or greater than 24; an ACT-Social Studies score equal to or greater than 20; or an ACT-Natural Science score equal to or greater than 25. All participants received Certificates of Distinction in recognition of their achievement; the highest scorers also received scholarships and books.

Conaway is a student at Westbrook.

It's that time of year again when thoughts of vacations and getting away from it all are on our minds.

Of course, many have already had their vacations and are home again, relaxed and refreshed after a few weeks away from the job.

At our house, we're still undecided about what to do or when to go. Of course, there are only a couple of weeks in August that our schedules will allow the three of us to take a vacation together. So the time slot is pretty well figured out if we want to go to the same place at the same time. Now, if we can just decide where to go.

"I don't think you want to go anywhere," my wife tells me every time the subject of vacation comes up.

"I really don't know what I want to do," I tell her.

"But surely, you must have some idea," she says.

Yes, but my idea and our budget aren't on the same wave length.

"I want to go to Hawaii and stroll up and down the beach and see some hula girls."

"Really, now what do you want to do on vacation?"

"I want to go to Hawaii, stroll up and down beach and watch the hula girls."

"But we can't afford to go to Hawaii."

"You asked me what I wanted to do, not what we could afford."

"What do you want to do that we can afford?"

"I don't know."

If looks could kill...

I do know that I:

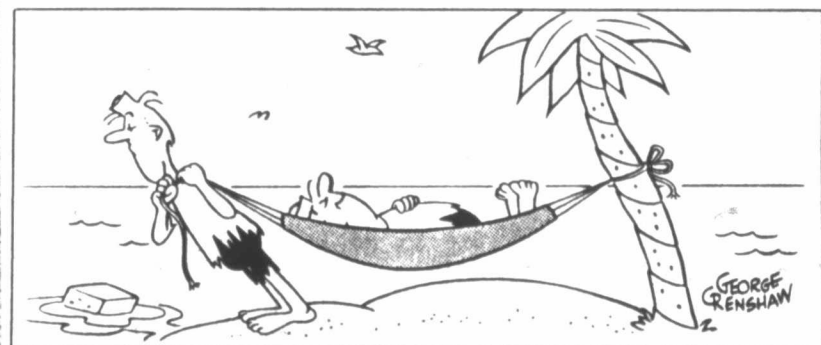

- don't want to drive anywhere that involves a crossing a desert;
- don't want to go anywhere where the humidity is so high that you feel like you need a shower every time you step out of the air conditioned hotel room;
- don't want to go camping anywhere, anytime, and;
- don't want to go to any foreign country that's in danger of a takeover by hostile forces.

In a way, I guess that pretty well narrows down the choice of vacation spots. But, it does leave some pretty exciting choices, such as:

- a mountain-top retreat, far away from a telephone and a television;
- a trip to the Texas coast where even though it is humid, everybody else is hot and has sand stuck to their sweat-drenched bodies, too, or;
- sitting under the shade tree in the backyard sipping lemonade and listening to the webworms crunch on the tree leaves.

But with my luck, we'll probably drive through the Mojave desert because we took a wrong turn in El Paso on our way to a humid South American country which is taken over by rioting tourists because there is no air-conditioning and a water shortage prevents showering or bathing on a daily basis.

Stand up comedians are already making fun of this year's certain presidential nominees, George Bush and Michael Dukakis.

As you know, television requires a candidate to have a good working relationship with its cameras. If the camera should decide to be un-kind toward a politician - that is, if it makes him look like a grave robber - his days are numbered.

Examples: The camera can make a candidate look too slick (Albert Gore), or too stupid (Pat Robertson), too wimpy (George Bush), too conceited (Alexander Haig) or too sneaky (Dukakis) to serve in the nation's highest office. Of course, somebody had to emerge at the ballot boxes, so Bush and Dukakis won by cosmetic default.

Neither comes close to meeting television specifications.

Television wants somebody who looks as if he could wreck a saloon in five minutes flat. Somebody who can walk beside Mikhail Gorbachev and envelope him with one arm - as if he's an insignificant teddy bear.

So how is it, we wind up with a couple of bantam weights? If you look closely between the eyebrows of Dukakis, you see Richard Nixon when he was a boy. Look closely at George Bush, you see PeeWee Herman.

When Dukakis speaks, he reminds you of your eighth grade math teacher. Seconds after he begins you're thinking about summer vacation. Listening to Dukakis on the highway should be as illegal as driving without seat belts.

When George (I am positive and they're negative) Bush delivers his Gee Whiz, Ain't Life Great speech, he sounds like, well, PeeWee Herman. You want to slap him and tell him to stop whining. He protests that he's building up America, which maybe he is, but he still sounds like he's whining while he's doing it, and that's negative.

And so it goes in the age of television.

Thank goodness, television technology didn't arrive at the beginning of this nation. If it had, there wouldn't even be a United States today.

True, Washington would have come across quite well, dressed in his red and white uniform. His wig might have drawn a few derogatory remarks from smart aleck commentators, but he'd have gained points when he rode up to press conferences - tall in the saddle on his white horse.

But what about Thomas Jefferson? He had a speech impediment. He was shy in public. Television microphones, if not the cameras themselves, would never have forgiven him. He'd have finished behind Gore as a Democrat, and behind Haig as a Republican.

Don't think for one minute that Abraham Lincoln could have been elected in 1988, either. Think back to all the snide remarks commentators and talk show hosts made about the birth mark on Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev's scalp. That's nothing compared to what they'd have done with Lincoln's warts.

They made a square out of Paul Simon because of his bow tie. Think what they'd have done with Abe's stove-pipe hats.

The plain truth is, we've had fat presidents, skinny presidents, presidents with ruddy complexions, presidents with speech impediments and presidents whose noses looked like shark fins. Some were pretty darn good at what they did, too. Lincoln isn't sitting in the marble chair in D.C. because he let the union get away from him, you'll recall.

This year's candidates won't win any beauty contests, either. Nor will they win any oratorical contests. What we're going to have is a boring presidential race. Television says so, and television is never wrong about anything insignificant.

What we could wind up with instead of a good race is a good president. Few will notice, though, since he'll either be too short or too wimpy, but Lord knows, it's time we had a good one, just the same.

Parking problem

TO THE EDITOR: Visiting in the Loraine Nursing Home is an uplifting experience. I have been made welcome by clients and staff both—but there is a problem there with the parking. The temporarily able-bodied sometime park their cars on the front sidewalk, which blocks its use by wheelchair people. We can go around these cars by going out into the street, but for a wheelchair-bound person...this can be dangerous.

So, please don't park your cars on the front sidewalk at the Loraine Nursing Home, whether visiting or working there.

Thank you,

By LIBBI GARNETT, CEA-HE
The 1988 Mitchell County 4-H Fashion Show will be held July 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the Colorado City Playhouse. These youth have been involved in pattern and fabric selection and in modeling instruction.
One of the most popular fashion fabrics in Texas is denim. This is especially important to cotton farmers in Mitchell County.
How Do You Like Your Denim?
The popularity of denim clothing is a wonderful example of the old saying that "you can't please all of the people all of the time." For every person who likes faded denim, there seems to be another who is unhappy about creases, streaking or color loss.

Denims Always Lose Dye
Changes in most denim fabrics are inevitable because they're indigo piece dyed fabrics. The dye is applied in a heavily concentrated form so the residuals are mostly on the surface of the fabric. Friction with the body, rubbing or mechanical action during laundering will dislodge the dye particles from clothing.
The loss of color will be most apparent on creases, double seam thicknesses and edges, since they receive greater abrasion. Heavy denim lacks draping capabilities and retain the same position of creases in the washer and dryer. This also contributes to color loss and streaking.

Reducing Color Loss. Creases and Streaks
So what if you don't like the creases and streaks? They can't be eliminated, but you can reduce them. Turn the garment inside out for washing if it's not heavily soiled. Underload the washer, increase the water level and shake out the garment before putting in the dryer.
Another alternative is to buy jeans made from a polyester-cotton blend. The dyes used on blends are different from the dyes used on 100% cotton, and are less likely to fade.

Fading Your Denim and Jeans
Do you like the faded, streaked look for your jeans and other denim clothes? If you do, you can save some money by purchasing regular denim cloth or clothes and fading them yourself.
At least two companies are making products for fading denim at clothing. Fast Fade For Jeans is made by the Rit Company. It's a concentrated pre-wash product designed to fade and soften jeans and denim. The product claims that it fades and softens jeans right in the washer without damage to the fabric.
Old Blue is a denim pre-wash that softens and fades in one washing. It's manufactured by Malco Products, Inc.

Cautions On Bleaching And Fading
Bleaching jeans will weaken the fibers, so they will not be as strong and durable as they were before the bleaching process. Commercial pre-wash products may also have a similar effect.
Rubbing wet denim with a pumice stone or rubbing an emery board on seam edges, pockets and other areas to produce a stone-washed or worn look also weakens the fabric in those places.
However, people who like the faded look will gladly trade durability for fashion.

POUND PUPPY - Sweetie, a year-and-a-half-old female part Border Collie, is available for adoption from the city pound located at Mitchell County Veterinary Hospital, Highway 208 South. For more information about her or other pets available for adoption, call 728-8055.

Films to be shown at library

Films to be shown at the Mitchell County Public Library on Wednesday, June 29, at 2 p.m. are:
Big Bad Wolf 9 min. The Three Little Pigs try to warn Little Red Riding Hood about the Big Bad Wolf. When Red Riding Hood meets the disguised wolf at grandmother's house, she is rescued in the nick of time by Practical Pig.
Ghost with the Halloween Hiccups 7 min. Mr. Penny has a sudden attack of hiccups that threaten to keep him out of the Halloween play. Everyone he meets has a "sure-fire" hiccups remedy, but none work until a surprise encounter with a hairy bat and a dragon solve the problem.
Flight of the White Wolf 11 min. Story of the friendship between a boy and his pet wolf as each learns the meaning of trust.

Wolves searching for hoops coach

Wolf Basketball expects to announce this week a new head coach for the boys program at Colorado High School, accordingly to CHS athletic director Tom Ramsey.

The hiring stems from the recent resignations of varsity coach Mike Hart and junior varsity coach Raymond Zamarippa.

"We're still in the search," said head Wolves coach Ramsey from the Wolf Stadium field house Thursday. "We hope to have one the first part of next week. We've interviewed quite a few people. Maybe Tuesday we'll have something."

Hart began his tenure with the Wolf Pack in 1970 with duties at Colorado Junior High School (now known as Colorado Middle School). Hart coached at the junior high level until moving up to CHS in 1975.

Hart held the head boys basketball coach position for 13 seasons and recently resigned the position.

"For personal reasons is about all I can say," said Hart from his home Monday.

Wife Jennifer Hart also submitted her resignation to CISD. Coach Hart said they plan to attend school. "We're going to college in Gunnison, Colorado," said Hart. "We start July 6. We're going to take some English and Education courses. It's something we've wanted to do."

"We're going to look around for a job up there," said Hart. "If we can't find anything we'll come back to Texas."

After the loss of Hart, CISD offered the basketball position to only one current employee—that being Zamarippa.

Zamarippa, however, spurned the offer to take a job at Class 5A Weatherford of district 5-A.A.A.A.A.

"I'll be a freshman football coach and the head soccer coach," said Zamarippa from his home Thursday. "The soccer part is not definite, I could be an assistant basketball coach. I'll also be teaching freshman English."

"None," said Zamarippa when asked about his soccer coaching experience. Like Hart, Zamarippa said his decision not to stay in Colorado City was mostly a personal one.

"It's just that this job came open," said Zamarippa. "It was a chance to get into a bigger classification, a chance to move up. Rather than stay here I'd rather move into a bigger classification."

Longest Day of Golf

What's better than a hole in one? The West Texas Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society's LONGEST DAY OF GOLF.

From June 27-30 area golfers will have the perfect opportunity to play as many holes of golf as humanly possible, for a most worthy cause, the fight against Multiple Sclerosis. Participants raise money on a pledge-per-hole basis to support research projects and provide a wider range of services for our local patients with Multiple Sclerosis.

Top fund raisers will qualify for awards including a "Duffers Delight Vacation" for two courtesy of the Hyatt Regency Hilton Head Palmetto Dunes, Hilton Head Island, South Carolina, with round trip airfare courtesy of American Airlines, a drawing for weekend vacation with gallery tickets to the PGA Championship, as well as, many other fantastic individual prizes.

Multiple Sclerosis is a chronic, progressive disease of the central nervous system with, as yet, no known cause, effective treatment of cure. Multiple Sclerosis affects some 250,000 young adults in the United States, 600 of which are in our local area. Symptoms can range from blurring of vision to poor coordination to complete paralysis.

County Oil and Gas Report

First production figures have been posted for a newly completed well in Mitchell County's portion of the East Howard-Iatan Field.

Located about five miles southwest of Westbrook, the well is designated as the No. 1 Schttel. Consolidated Producing of Abilene is the operator.

On an open choke, the well pumped at the rate of 10 barrels of 25-gravity oil per day, plus eight barrels of waste water.

Consolidated took the hole to total depth of 2,850 feet and perforated the Glorieta Formation for production at 2,616 to 2,767 feet into the wellbore.

Cass Oil of Midland has hung the dry hole sign on an unsuccessful developmental venture in the Westbrook Field, Mitchell County, seven miles northwest of Westbrook.

Designated as the No. 1 Brenand, the well was spudded in January of this year and probed to total depth of 8,208 feet with no commercial shows. It will be plugged and abandoned.

A total of four shallow developmental wells are scheduled to be drilled in the Sharon Ridge Field, Mitchell County, with Grand Banks Energy Inc. of Midland as the operator.

All four carry permit for 1,750 feet of hole making. They are designated as the Nos. 5, 6 and 9 J. L. Strain "B" and No. 10 Empire-Mills.

The Strain wells are in 80-acre units in the G. Y. McWilliams Survey Section 1, while the Empire-Mills wells is in a 94-acre lease in the George J. Reiger Survey Section 1 Lot 12.

36 expected to die over July Fourth

AUSTIN - The Texas Department of Public Safety has estimated that 36 persons will die as the result of traffic mishaps in the state during the 78-hour Fourth of July weekend.

"There is a greater potential for accidents during the summer months because of the increase in the number of vehicles and miles driven on Texas roadways," DPS Director Leo Gossett said. "We appreciate the recognition of this potential by the careful Texas drivers who observe the laws. Our troopers and local officers hopefully will be getting the attention of careless motorists through enforcement of these statutes."

The DPS counting program for traffic fatalities begins at 6 p.m. on Friday, July 1, and ends at midnight on Monday, July 4.

During the 1987 July 4th period, also 78 hours in length, 37 traffic deaths occurred. Three additional fatalities were reported later from critical injuries suffered during the holiday program. A total of .58 percent of the fatalities occurred in accidents where speed or driving while intoxicated was listed as a contributing factor.

"Our agency is cooperating with the Texas Coalition for Safety Belts program, supporting the goal of a 'deathless day' during the 101 Driving Days of Summer," Col. Gossett said. "The last deathless day on Texas roadways occurred on Jan. 5, 1977."

Along with the usual duties, the DPS will be working in Operation CARE (Combined Accident Reduction Effort) with the Louisiana State Police, Arkansas State Police, Oklahoma Highway Patrol and the New Mexico State Police to reduce drunken driving and speeding along interstate highways during the July 4th period.

"Available troopers in Texas and these four states will be increasing their cooperation to reduce fatal accidents as part of Operation CARE program," according to DPS Lt. Charles Dorbandt of DPS Austin Headquarters.
