Lamb County Representatives Air Problems

Representatives from six South Plains counties, including Lamb County, will meet with Congressman George Mahon and USDA officials to discuss problems confronting farmers and agri-business. They will meet Wednesday while Congressman Mahon and Dr. Clarence D. Palmby, assistant secretary of agriculture, are attending the Plains Coop Oil Mill's annual meeting in Lubbock. The other five counties involved are Bailey, Hockley, Cochran, Yoakum, and Terry. Representatives from various phases of the local agriculture (cotton, grain, finance, agri-business and labor) were chosen to outline for Congressman Mahon and the USDA representatives the problems of this area and the requirements to maintain local economy. Floyd Prentice of Olton will represent Lamb County on the agri-business committee; J. D. Smith of Littlefield will serve on the cotton committee; Joe Montgomery of Littlefield will serve on the finance committee; Skipper Smith of Littlefield will be on the farm labor committee; and Gene Templeton of Earth will serve as chairman of the grain committee.

Representatives have made note of the problems of the six-county area and will stress to the Washington officials the importance of legislation and certain other changes to the six-county area. All members will attend and the chairman of each committee will review with Mr. Mahon and Dr. Palmby, the situation as outlined by the committee.

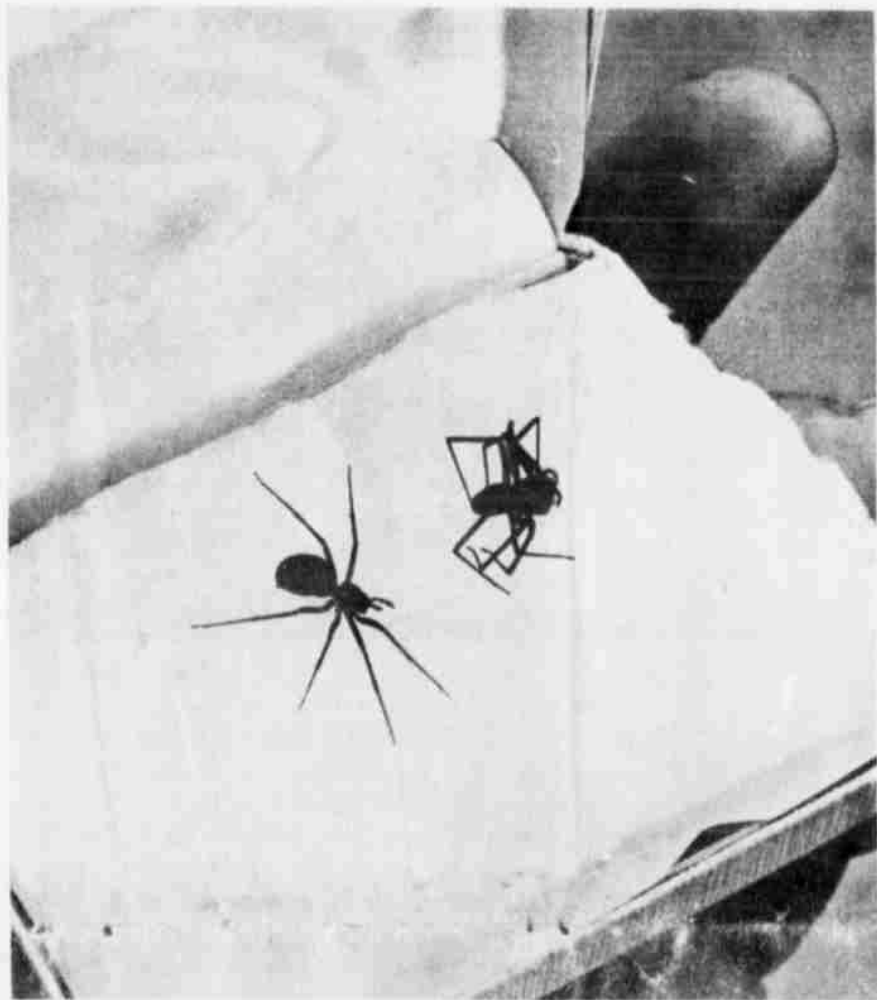

ITS BITE OFTEN FATAL
Brown Recluse Spider Found

The Brown Recluse or "violin" spider is in this area. Eddie Bishop of United Pest Control found several of these deadly poisonous spiders at the Delvin Walden home near Springlake. Mrs. Walden found some spiders that varied a little from the average "granddaddy long-legs" spider that invades almost every home in this area. From reading about the Recluse spider, she said she was afraid some of the spiders in her house were the "violin" type. She called Bishop Pest Control in Littlefield. Bishop went to the Springlake home, captured a couple of the species and took them to Lubbock where an entomologist confirmed Bishop's suspicion that the species was the Recluse. Originally the Recluse came over on boats from Cuba and South America. Prior to finding this dangerous species of spider near Springlake, the violin spider was found in the Brownfield area. This means that the Recluse has probably, some way, traveled through Littlefield in reaching the Springlake community. The Brown Recluse has three pairs of eyes arranged in a semi-circle on the forehead of the head and a guitar or violin-shaped marking immediately behind the semi-circle of eyes with a distinct short median groove forming the neck of the "guitar or violin." Members of this species are found in or near human habitations, and can be seen in bathrooms, bedrooms and closets, on the underside of tables and chairs, behind baseboards and door facings or in corners and crevices. These spiders are also found in cellars and garages which aren't cleaned often and the contents are not disturbed for relatively long periods. A non-aggressive species, the Brown Recluse bites when persons inadvertently trap these spiders in folds of clothing when picking them up, or when they put on a coat or other clothing that is allowed to hang undisturbed for long periods of time. Persons have been bitten by rolling on the spider in bed while asleep. The victim may not be aware of the bite for two or three hours, or a painful reaction may occur immediately, depending on the amount of venom injected and the individual's sensitivity. A stinging sensation usually is followed by intense pain. Within the next 24 to 36 hours, restlessness and fever may occur. A small blister usually arises surrounded by a large congested and swollen area. The tissue affected by the venom usually is killed and gradually sloughs away, exposing the underlying tissues. The wound edges thicken and are raised while the central area is filled by dense scar tissue. Healing may require six or eight weeks, leaving scars of various dimensions. In several instances the bite has been fatal. In case of bite, the victim should consult a physician immediately and, if possible, bring along the spider which caused the bite for positive identification. As yet, specific antivenin is not available for treatment, but there is some evidence indicating that immediate and adequate treatment with corticosteroids may curtail the cancer-like bite and effects on the system. Various types of sprays and dust applied outside the house and in special places inside the house, including the attic, will kill this variety of spider.

Granny 'Really In The Swim'

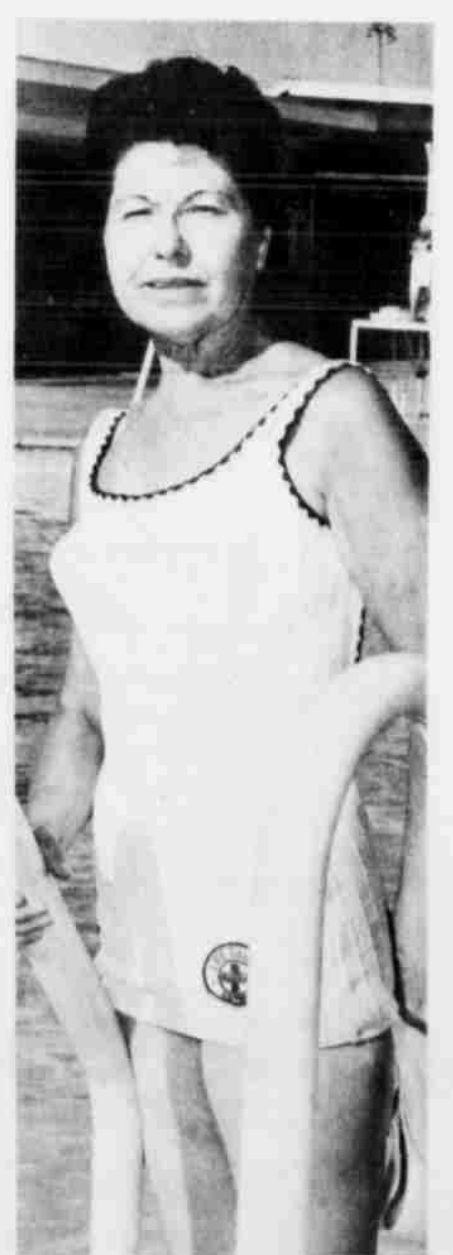

Mrs. Haire does the "hair carry." She can do the head carry, too, and just loves the life-saving stroke. Granny to six grandchildren, Mrs. J. B. (Myrtle) Haire couldn't do anything but "dog paddle a little" four and one-half years ago. Now she is a Red Cross Life Saver, and has 45 miles on her 50 mile Red Cross swimming card. Mrs. Haire won't tell her age, but it is a little unusual for a grandmother to begin swimming lessons. "You're as young as you feel," Mrs. Haire said. "I think I can do most anything in the world I take a notion to do." Daryl LeBoeuf, manager of the Crescent Swimming Pool, said he's never seen anyone work as hard at life saving and the 50 m. card as Mrs. Haire. The only swimming Mrs. Haire had done until she started her lessons was "a little dog paddling in the creek when I was a kid, and my instructor said that didn't help one bit in the world," she said. She started swimming lessons after reading that the Lubbock YWCA offered instruction. "That was the first I had heard about lessons for adult women," Mrs. Haire said. Now she never misses an opportunity to swim, "going without the beds being made or whatever". Mrs. Haire tries to swim one mile, plus diving, on Monday family nights and on ladies' morning each Thursday. "I don't know why more Littlefield women don't take advantage of these special sessions," Mrs. Haire said. "Oh, we just have more fun!" She usually isn't alone on her swimming excursions. She and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Kenneth (LaNell) Haire finished their Red Cross life saving courses together. Quinn Tucker, Tiny Elder, Mrs. Vine Vick, Johnnie Tindal and Emma Lee Jones are others in the Bainer Switch group who swim when they can. Swimming isn't limited to summer months only. They swim at the boys' club pool in Lubbock from Sept. 22 until school is out. (The Y doesn't have a pool for girls.) Mrs. Haire is hoping she can finish her 50 miles before the Littlefield pool closes. "If I can get in two more family nights and another morning or two, I think I can get it," she said. Mrs. Haire's grandchildren think it's fun to have a grandmother who swims. Kenneth and LaNell's children, Tonya and Brad, go swimming with their mother and grandmother almost every time they go. Mrs. Haire's 15-year-old granddaughter, Babs, from Muleshoe, spends a week with her grandmother every summer. "We swim all week," Mrs. Haire said, "and just have a ball."

Lamb County Judge G. T. Sides has called a meeting for representatives from incorporated cities and independent school districts, along with other interested citizens to consider the establishment of Community Action work in this county. The meeting has been set for Thursday, Aug. 21, at 8 p.m. in the county courtroom in Littlefield. The meeting is open to the public and any interested citizen wishing to help the disadvantaged is invited to attend, Judge Sides stated. Howard Maddera, representing the Lubbock-South Plains Area Regional Planning Committee, will be present to respond to inquiries concerning Community Action purposes and programs.

WORSHIP IN CHURCH

and get a spiritual lift for the whole week

John, the last prophet of the Bible, dreamed of a place where there would be no night. There is such a place. We live in an X-ray world. While we may not be conscious of it, a light is forever falling upon us. God's light falls upon this man. Brother, your could not make it alone! We must have Him. How foolish of anyone to try to walk in darkness...to walk alone. Why, you can't do it. Even the way to church is lighted with His presence when you head that way. God watches over His children, and doesn't that make you glad? Look at the friendly, ever watchful eye of God pictured on our one dollar bill. He is watching over the destinies of our America. He will guide the steps of His children, if they allow Him...will you?

TODAY'S DEVOTIONAL

Justice

REV. LAWRENCE C. BOBSIEN
Sacred Heart Church

THE VIRTUE of Justice is taking some very hard knocks these days. Banks close because of embezzlement.

Industry loses about three billion dollars a year because some employees have "sticky fingers". Disc jockeys take payola; building inspectors demand kickbacks; Dad doctors income tax returns; Mom has a traffic ticket "fixed"; brother pads his expense account; sister is a pro at "how to waste company time".

IN THE PRESENCE of these and many other injustices of modern society, the sincere Christian must take a long look at the very important virtue of Justice.

Justice is important because it is a pillar of any society.

It is a demanding virtue; one that tests our Christian convictions almost every day.

WHAT DOES Jesus Christ, speaking in the Scriptures, say to us about Justice? Christian teaching has always upheld the right of private property.

In a Christian view of life, every man should have at least enough of the goods of this earth to satisfy his needs and the needs of his family.

It goes without saying, of course, that a Christian must obtain his property honestly. If he does get it dishonestly, it is not really his.

IT IS ALSO VERY important to realize that, although we truly possess the right to own property, the things we own still belong to God. Man is the steward, the administrator of the goods of the earth.

Therefore we must use these things only in accord with the will of God. We have no right to abuse the property we own, to waste it or to use it for evil purposes.

Above all, as Christians, we should be as generous as we can to our neighbors in need, to the poor, the sick and the weak.

In addition, we must always be on our guard against greed, avarice and miserliness. It is better to be poor on earth and reach heaven than to be rich on earth and lose heaven.

In the Scriptures we read, "What does it profit a man if he gain the whole world, but loses his own soul?"

THIS FUNDAMENTAL right to own private property is the foundation of the virtue of Justice.

The seventh commandment states: "You shall not steal." This commandment is one that we must respect our property.

In other words we must practice the virtue of Justice. St. Paul reminds us: "Neither the covetous nor the greedy will inherit the kingdom of God." (1 Cor. 6:10.)

THE VIRTUE of Justice urges us to give each person his rights. Most Christians are much aware that the secret taking of goods against his reasonable wisdom is wrong. This is theft.

Most people have grown up with the realization that out and out theft is wrong. Yet it frequently happens, especially in modern times, that many persons appear not to recognize the close relatives of theft.

They seem to have the idea that many Americans engage in various types of theft, these practices are all right.

BECAUSE OF OUR own weakness and the atmosphere in which we live, we constantly check up on our practices in daily living. For the purpose of self-determination, let us ask a few questions. Ask yourself these questions:

- (1) Have I fallen into a habit of things, even though of small value?
- (2) Have I the habit of borrowing without returning them?
- (3) Have I willfully damaged the property of another without repairing the damage?
- (4) After finding something of value kept it without making any effort to return it to the true owner?
- (5) Have I lied about the quality of goods I have sold?
- (6) Have I cheated my employer by neglecting the work I was hired to do?
- (7) Have I failed to pay a debt to those working for me?
- (8) Have I lied my way out of my obligations?

AS FOLLOWERS of Jesus Christ, we have our feet firmly fixed in the virtue of Justice. We should take to heart the words of St. Paul: "Owe no man anything, but owe one another."

Men's Day Service At Parkview Today

Parkview Baptist Church will conduct a special "Men's Day Service" today.

"Christianity has always been a movement of the laymen. It is through the witness and testimony of the layman that brings the impact of Christianity upon society. With this view in mind, we are having some special services in the Parkview Baptist Church this Lord's Day," said Rev. R. N. Tucker, pastor.

Speakers for the 11 a.m. service will be Gene Beck and E. B. Dick. Each will speak to the congregation during the regular worship hour. In addition, John Clayton, music director, will have an all-male choir to sing during the services.

The men will also give witness to Christianity during the evening services at 7:00 p.m. at the church. Those speaking during the evening service will be James Reast and P. H. Howell. "Again in the evening service, the all male choir will bring the music for the hour," the pastor said.

Pastor Tucker invites the public to attend all of these special services today. "The nursery is always open for the convenience of the people during all church services," he concluded.

What The Leader-News Thinks

Purchasing Power

NOTED FINANCIER once about money, "It's called cold because we don't keep it long to get it warm."

statement is even more true today with higher taxes, increased Social Security contributions, and inflationary trends which bigger bites out of our money.

monthly newsletter on consumer behavior shows just how money comes and goes.

NEWSLETTER points out that a man who earned $10,000 in 1949 would have to earn about 60 per cent more today, to maintain the same purchasing power.

A MARRIED COUPLE with two children and a $5,000 income in 1949, paid $344 for Federal income and social security taxes, leaving $4,656 in net income.

To have the same purchasing power in 1969, this couple would need $8,100 before taxes.

Prices have increased 50 per cent and $2,306 has been lost through inflation.

SOCIAL SECURITY deductions have increased from $30 to $374.40, and combined with the Federal income tax, the total of these two types of taxes at current rates would be $1,138 this year.

To equal the purchasing power of a $10,000 income in 1949, the married couple with two children would need $15,920 in 1969.

THE FARMER'S WIFE

New Trends

By LIBBY MUDGETT

RE'S AN ARTICLE in this Life magazine that shakes a good deal. It's about trends in marriage (and marriage) in Scandinavia.

it's gotten to where nothing Scandinavians, in particular the do surprises me anymore. Taking up comes from the of these different things I see over here in my own there's the "group" explanation. In the one to illustrate, there's nine men, four men and five women (think). They all consider themselves spiritually married to each other.

SURELY I'm imagining Tell me I am, please.

two of the couples had traditionally married, but she quickly took care of that obstacle. Now they're all married, but emphasize sexual relationships are kept separate.

THERE'S BEEN a few shifts partners, but it's all common!

hasten to add that their "marriage" thing is much intimate than the communes going up in America.

then there's the unwed men. There's whole new developments and trends for them, complete kindergartens and schools to their fatherless children for 12 while they work or take ment sponsored training to

Y ARE UNDER no pressure to gain either financial or respectability on of they already have both. child care centers are thing. The $50-a-month is underwritten by the state managed by trained psychologists (it doesn't which psychologists claim that who develop in care emerge better balanced than who grow up in the home gain it doesn't say what kind

CHILD NAPS at the same in identical cribs, blankets, etc. All toilet train at the time on identical potties, etc. like the Army, you know.

There's also beginning to emerge a strange phenomena—the house husband.

In case the wife is bored with housework and kids and likes to work at a job and the husband is bored with a job but likes housework and kids, presto! They change places.

IT'S ALL PART of something called "women's rights".

One woman, divorced and pregnant by the man with whom she now lives, believes that marriage ceased to be meaningful when society industrialized and the source of production moved out of the family.

She's not just an ordinary run-of-the-mill person, I guess. She's a Swedish legislator.

THEN THERE'S this female spokesman for women's rights in the Danish parliament that says a housewife's role is pointless. "Cleaning and cooking—it's all so easy nowadays. It's hard just getting through a day. It's wrong for women to think of marriage as a job."

Another female, a Swedish writer, says "keeping the woman in the house is inhuman and economically insane."

NOW ALONG COMES a gallant male, a Swedish politician, who helps run his own house when parliament is not in session. Says he: "The life of a housewife is frustrating. A family should not be based on having the wife at home all day."

Well, there you are. That should be enough! And I'm still waiting for someone to tell me I'm wrong when I say I'm afraid I see the seeds of similarity to that situation in my own beloved country.

I THINK I'LL close by quoting St. Paul, who always had some pretty hard things to say about women. But he did all the time, anyhow. This is from Titus 2:4, 5, (modern translation, which helps a little.)

"These older women must train the younger women to live quietly, to love their husbands and their children, and to be sensible and clean minded, spending their time in their own homes, being kind and obedient to their husbands...."

Paul wasn't exactly a spokesman for "women's rights".

"Mine must be a girl... keeping me waiting this long!"

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

The Hell Of Hate

By BOB WEAR

WE MUST LEARN how to live together in an atmosphere of peace and good will.

We should rejoice in the fact that the framework of our national life is strong enough, and flexible enough to contain all of us and our differing views.

There is one exception. Revolutionaries and radicals who have sworn to destroy America have no right to spread their hate and destructiveness.

THERE ARE MANY possibilities for the development of hate.

These possibilities exist in our heterogeneous society, because of differing cultural backgrounds, ancestral backgrounds, religious views, and political concepts.

It is important to our well-being that we maintain an awareness of such possibilities, and the dangers they pose.

THE PRESERVATION of our republic depends upon how well we interact with one another as individuals, and as groups.

This means that all of us must learn how to hold to our own personal convictions while we generously grant others the same privilege.

This can be accomplished if we maintain a deep and lasting mutual respect for basic human rights.

THE HELL OF HATE is a constant threat to all of us. It is, therefore, imperative that we find working ways to get along.

From the standpoint of our needs and general well-being, we must be controlled by the spirit of "Live-and-let-live".

THERE IS NO REASON to let hate destroy us. There will be times and situations when our differences are in sharp conflict, but we must not give way to hate.

Many conflicts can be reconciled by honorable means of open and free discussions.

THE PHILOSOPHER

Dull Jobs

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm reflects on various dull jobs this week, mostly from a theoretical viewpoint.)

Dear editor:

I was reading a three-weeks-old copy of The Avalanche Journal yesterday, when a man is confronted with the job of fixing a fence in the middle of August, he'll read anything he can get his hands on, and ran into an article that said that "picking grapes in the blazing sun is one of the dullest jobs a man can have."

I have never picked grapes, unless you count pulling off one or two from a bunch in the grocery store just to sample, and don't intend to, just as I don't intend to do a lot of things around this Johnson grass farm, on the theory that a public-spirited man, recognizing that everybody is entitled to a job, will leave some work for the next generation.

But I got to thinking. What is the dullest job a person can have in or out of the blazing sun?

Even if it is out of the weather, I've never been able to imagine a monotonously duller job than acting two afternoons and six nights a week in the same Broadway play for three years on end.

I know people who'd choose grape-picking every time over proof-reading, and proof-reading over playing golf, and playing golf over selling insurance.

As much as I manage to avoid it, I'd take going up one row and down another on a tractor to following a candidate for three

When this is impossible, we can surely admit our differences and freely grant to each other the right to be different. All of this can and must be done without hate.

EVERYBODY LOSES when we permit our differences and our preferences to lead to hate.

There is a better way, a way of profit for all. "So whatever you wish that men would do to you, do so to them."

WHEREVER THE FEELING of hate dominates, the history of human affairs is bloody and gloomy.

Hate motivates people to the wrong kind of behavior.

It has no respect for person, character, property, human rights, or for personal worth or dignity.

HATE IS ALWAYS the winner, and people involved are the losers. This hate may be person for person, group for group, race for race, or nation for nation.

None of us can afford the hell of hate, and the ideals and principles which form our "way of life" cannot survive in a climate of hate.

THE PEDDLERS OF HATE are always dangerous, and a threat to everything that is right, and decent, and good.

We must not permit our minds to be captivated by the propaganda and devious influences of these people and organizations.

We must be especially careful and watchful, because general conditions today are conducive to the spread of hate.

Harry Emerson Fosdick said, "Hating people is like burning down your own house to get rid of a rat."

OUR DIFFERENCES do not necessarily weaken our nation, but our hate for each other does weaken it and has the potential to destroy it.

months and listening to the same speech three times a day.

Crawling under a low-slung house to fix a leaky pipe is so dull I've let one go for months without doing anything about it.

I've heard people say grape-picking would be delightful compared with the monotony of Army life. Some bachelors say the same about married life, and some married people say the same about bachelorhood.

But I believe I'd nominate for first place the job the space scientists are planning for some astronaut. They say that by mid-August of 1981 they'll have a man leaving for Mars, arriving there after 12 months of sailing through nothing, spending three months on the planet, swinging past Venus in 1982 and returning to Earth in 1983.

I'm afraid spending two years in a capsule millions of miles out in space is going to make grape-picking sound exciting.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

DEAR EDITOR

What Our Readers Think

Hospital Criticized

August 12, 1969

Editor
County Wide News
Littlefield, Texas

Dear Sir,

On Sunday, July 6, 1969, at about 8:00 in the evening it was necessary to bring two of my four children to the emergency room of the Littlefield Hospital while our family was on vacation in your fair city. I am sorry to say we received neither a doctor's care nor even courteous, congenial treatment.

Littlefield Hospital is the place of my birth and Lamb County was my home until 1961. I have always been, what I felt was, justly proud of it. So the inhuman treatment we received that evening was not only an upsetting inconvenience, it also crushed long-cherished images and impressions of the place I call my hometown. It is a frightening sensation to be thousands of miles from home, with sick children and be refused medical care, even that you are prepared to pay for.

The children's fever continued to rise and at 2:00 a.m. it was necessary to take all four children, who were sick by then, to Lubbock where they received competent, courteous, emergency care at the Methodist Hospital and were seen by a pediatrician.

It is a sad thing to realize that others may receive the same lack of consideration and get such a bad impression of the place of my heritage. It is indeed a shame, after such a commendable effort by the townspeople to improve its facilities and build goodwill just to have visitors so mistreated that they are forced to take their trade and money to Lubbock.

Regrettably,

PAUL HARVEY

Monkey Useless

THE POOR, the Bible says, "we will always have with us."

The poor shall never cease out of the land, Moses said.

This acknowledges that some will always need to be cared for by others.

BUT OUR FEDERAL government, trying to help the poor, is encouraging poorness. Welfare rolls are increasing twice as fast as our population is increasing.

Our federal government now operates 1,091 federal assistance programs ranging from scholarships to low-cost housing. There are 8.7 million Americans on "welfare" and their upkeep is costing you $25 billion every year.

IN MANY CITIES, potential workers, recognizing that they can collect more after-tax dollars for not working, are not working.

Perhaps I am about to change the subject; that is for you to decide.

Soviet scientist Pavlov pioneered research in conditioned response. He used laboratory dogs, teaching them to respond to sights, sounds and smells.

WHEN A DOG accidentally stepped on a button, ringing a bell, a pellet of food would be released.

Very soon the dog learned purposely to step on the button, thus to get food.

This, and considerably more sophisticated responses, was the basis for the recent space research involving Bonny, the astromonkey.

THIS 14-POUND MONKEY, orbiting overhead on what was intended to be a 30-day mission, hopefully would supply us with valuable information on the effects of prolonged weightlessness.

In advance, Bonny was conditioned to respond to certain light and radio signals, he was taught memory-perception and eye-hand co-ordination, so that in space he might perform useful chores—each performance rewarded by some edible goodie.

AFTER ABOUT 100 orbits, however, Bonny began goofing off. Ground controllers in Houston would let him go without the food reward only for a little while. After all, you can't let a space monkey go hungry. So earthmen would send the radio signal which would release the food pellets and water.

By the end of the eighth day Bonnie had discovered that he would get fed whether he pushed the buttons or not. From then on he began to neglect his assigned tasks.

FROM EARTH, by way of sensors attached to his body, we knew that Bonny was alive, alert and well but, as a NASA spokesman complained, "He's just not trying."

There was no way to recondition him; he might starve.

The 30-day mission, after eight and a half days, was aborted. Bonny, useless, was brought back to earth.

THE PRIMARY OBJECTIVE of this experiment was intended to be physiological: the effects of prolonged weightlessness. It did not last long enough for that.

It did, however, become a significant experiment in psychology.

From the eighth day on, Bonny was on "welfare." Once he had learned the newer "conditioned response"—that he would get food and water whether he performed his chores or not—Bonny quite naturally deduced that there was no reason to work any more.

The moral, I hope, is too obvious to require elaboration.

Lamb County Is Given High Market Rating

Lamb County has been given a high rating as a retail market, based upon its level of business activity in the past year.

The figures point to market gains in the trading area as local families, with higher earnings, spent a record amount for goods and services.

The local market standing, relative to that of other communities, is indicated in a new "Survey of Buying Power," released and copyrighted by Sales Management.

In Lamb County, the large outpouring of consumer dollars produced a sales volume in its retail stores of more than $41,704,000, as against the previous year's $40,342,000.

On the basis of population alone, it was a much larger amount than should have been expected. With .0114 percent of the national population residing in the local area, that proportion of the nation's business would have been its natural quota.

It went above that level, however, accounting for .0124 percent of the national total.

The upsurge in spending was as marked, generally, in the second half of the year as in the first half, despite the surtax that went into effect in July. Consumers merely reduced their rate of saving to offset the effect of the surtax.

The fact that the nation's consumers have maintained their rate of spending despite higher taxes, despite the credit squeeze and despite higher prices, has confounded the economists in Washington, who had hoped that these factors would result in a slowdown and a curb on inflation.

Instead, the affluent public opened wide its purse strings, buying more furniture, more household appliances, more cars and more fancy foods.

The survey shows that net income locally, after payment of taxes, reached $65,415,000, a gain over the prior year's total of $60,920,000.

Arithmetically, dividing the income by the number of households in the area, it amounted to $9,345 per household.

The relative standing of one community to another, in terms of business vitality and purchasing power, is shown through an "index of sales activity."

Lamb County is given an index rating of 109, or 9 percent better than the average nationally.

MRS. DENNIS BOYD CAWTHON

Ward-Cawthon
Vows Pledged

Miss Pamela Sue Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos R. Ward, and Dennis Boyd Cawthon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley L. Cawthon, pledged double ring wedding vows Friday in the First Baptist Church Chapel in Littlefield with Rev. Ray Harrison, pastor of Rocky Ford Baptist Church, officiating.

Vows were repeated before an altar centered with a large pedestal arrangement of pink gladiolas and emerald green foliage flanked by two candleabras and emerald foliage.

Al Jordan, soloist, and Mrs. Al Jordan, organist, presented traditional wedding music, including "Whither Thou Goest," and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ward wore a blue tulle dress with a yoke and sleeves of matching lace and white accessories.

Mrs. Cawthon chose a two-piece pale pink nylon suit with matching accessories.

Mrs. Clayton Patton of Littlefield was Matron of Honor.

Bridesmaid was Cynthia Cawthon of Littlefield, sister of the groom.

Flower girl was Angela Patton of Littlefield, niece of the bride.

Candles were lighted by Amy Patton, niece of the bride and Teresa Moore, cousin of the groom.

Bridal attendants were attired in pale pink tulle, formal-length, A-line yoked gowns with cathedral-length trains caught at the shoulder by pink velvet bows. Their headpieces were pink velvet bands. They carried tapered bouquets of white and pink flowerlets.

The candlelighters wore dresses identical to the bride's attendants with pink velvet bows in back of their hair. They wore wrist corsages.

The flower girl was dressed in the shorter street-length version of the style of dress the bridal attendants wore. She carried a hand basket of flower petals.

Jim Cawthon, brother of the groom, was best man.

Groomsmen were Roy Don Bolton and Tommy Henson of Littlefield.

Gary Don Moore and Doug Moore, of Plainview, cousins of the groom, were ushers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in formal-length gown of chantilly lace and organza with a scalloped lace outlined Sabrina neckline, long lace petal point sleeves, and a band of lace extending down the front of the A-line skirt.

The chapel-length train with lace inserts cascaded from mid-shoulder held by two small bows.

Her shoulder-length veil of bridal illusion was held by a large shaped flower of net and satin.

She carried a tapered bouquet of gladioli flowerlets centered with a cymbidium orchid atop her Rainbow Bible.

For tradition, she wore her grandmother's wedding band, her new wedding gown, her headpiece borrowed from her cousin, a blue garter borrowed from her older sister, and two pennies minted in the year of her birth and the year of her marriage in her shoe.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the parlor of the First Baptist Church.

The table was laid with net over a pink satin cloth centered with the bouquets of the bride and her attendants.

Betty Cline and Georgeanne DeBusk served mint green punch and wedding cake.

Shannon Palmer registered the guests.

For their wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride chose an A-line dress of pink tulle with matching elbow-length cape and the corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will be at home in Littlefield where they will both be seniors at Littlefield High School in the fall.

This is the revolutionary new grapefruit diet that everyone is suddenly talking about. Literally thousands upon thousands of copies have been passed from hand to hand in factories, plants, and offices throughout the U. S. and Canada. Word of its success has spread like wildfire, because this is the one diet that really seems to work for most overweight people. A well known Toronto columnist recently praised it to the skies. He reported losing 20 pounds quickly and easily, long after he despaired of ever getting down to his war-time weight of 165 pounds. All this without cutting out the occasional beer. If it is followed exactly, the average overweight person should lose 10 pounds in 10 days. There will be no weight loss the first four days. But you will suddenly drop 5 pounds on the 5th day. Thereafter you will lose one pound a day until the 10th day. Then you will lose 1 1/2 pounds every two days until you get down to your proper weight. Best of all there should be no hunger pangs. Now revised and enlarged this new diet lets you stuff yourself with foods that were formerly "forbidden." Such as big steaks trimmed with fat, fried chicken, rich gravies, mayonnaise, lobster swimming in butter, bacon, fats, sausages, and scrambled eggs. You can eat until you are full, until you cannot possibly eat any more. And still you should lose 10 pounds in the first 10 days, plus 1 1/2 pounds every two days thereafter until your weight is down to normal. The secret behind this new "Quick" weight loss is not generally known. Fat, it has been theorized does not form fat. Perhaps fat fights fat. And the grapefruit juice in this new diet might act as a catalyst (the trigger) to start the fat burning process. You stuff yourself on the permitted food listed in the diet plan, and still lose unsightly fat and excess body fluids. When the fat and bloat are gone you will cease to lose weight and your weight will remain controlled. A copy of this new startling successful diet plan can be obtained by sending $3.00 to: Gulf Co. P. O. Box 524 Lincoln, Nebraska 68501

Unconditional money back guarantee. If after trying the diet plan you have not lost 7 pounds in the first 7 days, another 6 pounds in the next 7 days, and 1 1/2 pounds every two days thereafter, simply return the diet plan and your $3.00 will be refunded promptly and without argument. Tear out this message as a reminder. Decide now to regain the trim attractive figure of your youth, while still enjoying hearty breakfasts, lunches and dinners. Order now before others snap up the limited supply.
