School Cooling Gets Approval

Bids are now being sought for the air conditioning of the Kelley and Hutchinson Elementary cafeterias after the Colorado Independent School Board approved specifications for the projects during a special meeting Monday night.

It is estimated that the two projects will cost about $145,000 although it is hoped that bids will be for much less than that.

The budget for the current school year provided only $25,000 for the project. However, funds are available because of money not spent on other projects and also due to additional taxes because of increased assessments and interest earned.

The school district has a total of $414,077.65 in additional funds available although some $80,000 is needed for other items not budgeted; plus, some is needed as carry over into the next fiscal year.

Last week, the school board heard from Larry Donham of the engineering and architectural firm of Huckabee & Donham of Andrews.

Donham told the board that the estimated cost for heating and air conditioning the two cafeterias would be about $157,988.57. The board asked Donham to see about cutting the costs because of limited funds.

Members of the board also noted that existing heating at the two cafeterias is sufficient and did not see that this additional expense was necessary.

When Donham came to the special board meeting, he offered several options and the board chose to save about $11,500 by deleting the heating. The board also asked for optional bids on cooling the music room at Kelley as it already has a window cooling unit.

The board Monday night delayed any action on proposed plans for four new tennis courts at Colorado High and asked Donham to get plans to School Superintendent Charlie Uselton so that he can present them to the state. See SCHOOL Page 2

Country Club Hosts "President's Roast"

What better way to end one's reign than to be "roasted" by one's peers?

Country Club President Joe Weaver was obviously asking himself that question during Saturday evening's President's Ball, as club members surprised him with a "roast," the first and perhaps the last of its kind ever to be seen at the club.

Bob Reilly acted as master of ceremonies for the gala affair. In his own inimitable style, Reilly, presented a parade of witty board members who derived great delight from skewering and then "roasting" their president.

Board Member Joe Maddox was the first to take a few friendly swipes at Weaver.

He commented what a pleasure it had been to serve on the board with such a professional. He noted, among giggles, whistles and laughter from the audience, that the board meetings were handled with such authority and in such a business like manner that there was never any discord among board members.

His comments were again met with roars of laughter when he stated the club had really moved forward under Weaver's leadership.

As an example he mentioned the construction of new tennis courts and how there had been no disagreement over where they were to be built—also how, because of Weaver's choice of the present location, the courts never flooded. (They are located at the bottom of a hill adjacent to the creek and during the spring rains, construction on the courts had to stop to allow the water to subside.)

CLUB, From Page 1 Weaver was remodeling the kitchen.

"He designed the new kitchen facilities with such expertise that the new Jenn-Air grills are really handy to persons washing dishes. They can put dishes on either grill to drain, since they're located immediately on either side of the sink," Maddox snickered.

Several other swipes were taken at the president, including one about his diet to which he reportedly replied, "When I get down to my fighting weight, I will be laying for you."

The new club president, Pete McKinney, was introduced and noted Weaver's was an impossible act to follow.

CIVIL, From Page 1 zation through a series of proper actions.

"This has been one of the better meetings of this type I have ever attended, because of the involvement of each individual in this group," Buckland said.

Preparedness and early warning were the two major factors which Buckland stressed for saving lives in the event of a disaster.

In Colorado City an early warning system includes one short and one long blast lasting for a period of three minutes on the fire siren.

Mikle reported the siren is not blown during tornado season in the event of a fire if the sky is cloudy or after 10 p.m. in the evening.

Firemen are contacted by radio or telephone at those times.

"The time immediately after the tornado or disaster strikes is the greatest problem time," Buckland said.

It is hoped by the school board that the state parks and recreation department will provide matching funds for the construction of the tennis courts. Before this is done, however, approval of the plans must be obtained from the state.

In other action Monday, the board approved the use of the Wallace Center garden plot by County Entomologist Bill Jany for a demonstration garden with prisoners from the county jail being used to provide labor.

McGuire appeared before the board and assured them that there would not be any security problems.

About 80 percent of the population of the Mitchell County jail is local residents and 80 percent of those are there on alcohol related offenses and are not dangerous type criminals.

Jany is planning to run a series of tests on garden plants at the garden and vegetables raised there will be provided to the senior citizens nutritional program at Wallace as well as given to prisoners at the jail.

Discussion On Astrology, The 28th

Howard Higgins, who teaches Physics for the Science Department at Howard College, will give a discussion titled "Astrology—Its Basis and Its Meaning" at the next Library Lecture which is scheduled for March 28.

Though Astrology is not considered a "pure science," the subject has a wide following, and many persons will be interested in hearing Mr. Higgins' discussion. He has done wide research into Astrology and takes a scientific approach to the subject.

The program will be in the Tumbleweed Room of the Student Union Building on the Howard College Campus at 7:30 p.m. on Friday night, March 28.

Refreshments will be served following the discussion and question-and-answer period.

All residents of the Howard College area are invited to attend this program, which is open to the public, free of charge. All junior and senior students of Big Spring and surrounding towns are urged to take advantage of the program. It is hoped, also, that many Howard College students will be able to schedule the lecture.

Let the stars guide you to Howard College Campus on March 28. It will be a good investment of your time, and will provide the fun of taking a closer look at horoscopes in general.

RE-ELECT BILL MCGUIRE SHERIFF Of Mitchell County In The Democratic Primary Election Saturday, May 3

The last couple of weeks I have spoken to you about my qualifications to continue to be your Sheriff.

I have spoken about my law enforcement experience and my educational achievements in the field of law enforcement.

Now, I would like to express my feelings about the other side of being Sheriff of Mitchell County, and that is to be a part of Mitchell County and its growth and success.

Now I'm speaking about the desire to help people. I speak of helping a farmer or rancher pen an old spoiled cow, putting a horse back in the lot that's gotten out, hauling off a stray dog for some lady at the lake or here in town. That probably doesn't sound like the job description of a professional law enforcement officer, but those jobs are a very important part of being a good sheriff in a small community such as ours. I know Mitchell County, the towns, the farms, and the ranches, and both of our lakes.

I know the people of Mitchell County; I was born here, raised here, and enjoy living here. On May 3, I sincerely ask for your vote and support to remain your Sheriff of Mitchell County.

Thank you very much

Soil Conservationists Study Material Center Programs

USDA's Soil Conservation Service (SCS) is currently making a study of alternative ways in which a National Plant Materials Centers Program can be conducted that responds to resource conservation needs. Van Mills, SCS district conservationist, says his agency is asking the public for their views on alternatives under consideration and for other proposals.

Mills says SCS, in cooperation with other Federal and State agencies and through other arrangements, presently operates and maintains 22 plant materials centers (PMC's) in the United States. Each center develops new plants for conservation purposes in the geographic area it serves that are released jointly with the State's agricultural experiment station and other State and Federal agencies to commercial growers for production.

The Plant Materials center serving Texas and Oklahoma is located at Knox City. Plants that have been released from the Center in past are Mason sandhill lovegrass, Selection -75 kleingrass, Alamo switchgrass, Aztec maximilian sunflower and others.

Several hundred acres of kleingrass have been planted locally in pure stands and in mixtures. Trial plantings of Alamo switchgrass, maximilian sunflower and Mason sandhill lovegrass have been made locally.

"The range of alternatives being studied for conducting a National Plant Materials Centers Program vary from continuation of the program as is to transferring complete operations and management of the centers over to nonfederal entities," Mills said.

"First, we need to know what the public needs and wants—and possible alternative ways national conservation plant materials needs might be met."

Additional information concerning the plant materials program may be obtained at the SCS office in Colorado City at the G-Kell Building. Mills said that SCS would welcome concerned citizens inquiries and expressions of views.

Interested persons wishing to comment about the direction they think the future plant materials program should take are being encouraged to write letters by April 1 to George C. Marks, State Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, P.O. Box 648, Temple, Texas 76501.

Mac McKinnon Is Guest Speaker At Colorado City Business And Professional Women's Club Meeting

The Colorado City Business and Professional Women's Club met for their regular dinner and business meeting March 11, at 7 p.m. in the Civic Center.

The public relations committee was the host committee; Lona Pritchett, chairman, Margaret Oyler, Ethel Hardegree, Thelma Tidwell, Roxie Witten and Terri Keel assisted.

Invocation was given by Ethel Hardegree and the pledge of allegiance was led by Roxie Witten.

Margaret Ann Conway, president, introduced the guest.

Mac McKinnon, editor and publisher of the Colorado City Record, was the guest speaker. He was introduced by Mrs. Oyler with a little background. She noted that he had lived here 9 years and he was the state editor of the Fort Worth Star Telegram prior to moving to Colorado City. She also added that he is the past president of the Chamber of Commerce; past president of the Playhouse, Inc.; he is presently secretary of the Industrial Team and is the incoming president of the Noon Lions. She added that he holds many more honors.

In his presentation "Public Relations", he compared the operations of a small town newspaper with the newspapers of the large cities. He listed the various sections of the paper that readers turn to most frequently—stating that a newspaper should be read like news. He stated that stories should be direct and to the point. He also stated that a news story should begin with most important information first, each following paragraph should contain information of lesser importance.

The discussion was closed with a question and answer period.

The business session was presided over by

Mrs. Conway, president. The minutes of the previous meeting were read along with a treasurer report. The standing committee and club correspondence committees reports were given.

The club voted to sponsor the A.J.R.P. queen contest this year. Evelyn Rose, a new member, was welcomed.

Nell Shackelford presented a vocal presentation of "The Golden Key" and she was accompanied by Ann Gregory on the piano.

Table decorations carried out the St. Patrick's Day theme. The tables were covered with white cloths with green streamers in the center and green cups of green and white mints at each place setting.

At the speakers podium, there were Leprechauns, clay pipes and an Irish colleen figurine.

Music during dinner of Irish melodies and ballads was given by Ann Gregory at the piano.

Members present were: Minna Berman, Mildred Boyd, Molly Bruce, Margaret Ann Conway, Joy Culwell, Shirley Delaney, Annie Dixon, Mildred Free and Nelda Garrett.

Also present were Ann Gregory, Ethel Hardegree, Mary Hickman, Jean Holbert, Terri Keel, Ida Kirschbaum, Ida Miles, Mary Lee Moore, Adele Morgan, Erdine Morgan, Velma Moseley and Margaret Oyler.

Also Sallie Rogers, Evelyn Rose, Juanita Schafer, Nell Shackelford, Rochelle Smith, Faye Spivey, Pearl Watson, Judy Winkle, Roxie Witten, Mary Womack and Sue Womack and Wilma Womack.

Guests included Mac McKinnon, Donna McKinnon and Juanita Cor-

The Colorado City landmark is listed in the National Register of Historic Places.

A detailed project proposal identifying the scope and method of work to be performed is to be submitted to the Texas Historical Commission (THC) by June 18.

If the proposal is in accordance with the Secretary of Interior's Standards for Historic Preservation, a formal application will be prepared on behalf of the house by the THC for submission to the Heritage Conservation and Recreation Service (HCERS) of the Department of the Interior, for final approval.

The Scott-Majors House is one of 54 state projects chosen by the THC for potential funding from the approximately $1.1 million appropriated to Texas for 1980 by the HCERS.

These funds are divided into two separate allotments: a component of $572,590 for surveys and planning to identify properties for potential listing on the National Register of Historic Places, and a sum of $601,951 for the acquisition and development of outstanding historic Texas sites already listed on the National Register.

Texas' $1.1 million share is part of the $55 million 1980 National Historic Preservation Fund approved by Congress late last year.

In Texas, State Historic Preservation Officer is Truett Latimer, executive director of the Texas Historical Commission. The Lone Star State's total requests for preservation grant assistance for 1980 approached $15 million, reflecting the state's active heritage conservation program.

Self Culture Club Meets

Mrs. J.E. Stockton presented the program during the Self Culture Club meeting Friday in the home of Mrs. E.L. Tiller.

Mrs. W.L. Watson, president, called the meeting to order and the club collect and the pledge of allegiance was recited in unison.

Reports were given by the secretary and treasurer. It was moved to send $5 to apply on a gift for Mrs. Lena McGee, retiring president of the Mesquite district.

The roll call was answered with "Women Who Changed America."

The program, presented by Mrs. Stockton, was "Water Crisis—Will Texas Be Left High and Dry?" She stated, "There may have to be less irrigation farming and more old time dry land farming."

Another part of discussion was "Cotton goes to the Moon—King Cotton Rules Big Country," given by Mrs. Paul Beeman. She stated that NASA wants cotton flight suits—cotton the moon?

She concluded that the production and processing of the natural fiber generated more than $2 billion in the states business activity each year, thus cotton means a great deal to the Texas economy in many ways.

Refreshments were served to Mmes. Katy Jackson, Dona Reed, Stockton, Beeman, Della Fox, C.P. Gary, Ethel Small, Elliott, Earl Brown, Tiller, Watson, Paul Logsdon and John Brown.

"Texas Heritage" Is Topic For Athenaeum Club Meeting

Mrs. Lily Bennett was hostess for the Athenaeum Study Club of Loraine.

Mrs. W. A. Taylor, presided for a short business meeting preceding the program. Minutes were read and approved and a treasurer's report was given.

Mrs. Doyle Hester, program leader, led the roll call, "Did You Know?"

Mrs. Floyd Coffee presented the topic "Texas Heritage." She began with "What does Texas mean to most people?" adding that Texas is a region, not a state in Southwestern U. S. A. She also asked "Why was this place settled?" She stated that some came for available land, some for wealth, some for adventure, some escaping the law, some all the way from Europe, many came from Southern U. S. A. and the ravages of the Civil War. Adding that despite the hardships of pioneer life, these people found a satisfying mode of life in these parts.

She stated that Texas was first known as a "region" when cattle were driven north from marketing and the demand for these cattle increased in the late 1800's which made Texas known as "cattle country."

She concluded with some of the first well known Texas ranches: Chas Goodnight Ranching, George Webb Slaughter, Reynolds of Shackelford County, Tom Waggoner of Burkburnett and the King Ranch of South Texas.

During the social hour refreshments were served to Mmes.: W. A. Taylor, Clifton Henderson, Raymond Wheeler, Harold Martin, R. H. Bennett, Woodrow Pratt, Doyle Hester, B. H. Johnson, Floyd Coffee and the hostess.

Here's what 'fuel' means on your electric bill.

The cost to provide your electric service is divided into two parts: base rate and fuel. The base rate covers the cost of bringing electricity to you—things like the miles of lines, substations, power plants and the Texas Electric employees to make it all work are included in the base rate.

But the other part of your bill, fuel, is what some people don't understand. The "fuel" amount on your bill is what we must pay to buy the natural gas, oil or lignite coal that we must burn to make your electricity. How much we use each month to make your electricity is shown by the "fuel" amount on your bill.

As you know, natural gas and oil are becoming hard to get at reasonable prices. In fact, two of our contracts for cheap gas expire in 1980 and 1981.

At Texas Electric, we want you to understand what you're paying for.

Directors Attend Meeting

Mitchell Soil and Water Conservation District Directors, Travis Turner, D.M. Smith and Jimmy Harrison attended the public hearing on the Resource Conservation Act held in Lubbock on March 4.

The purpose of the meeting was to review information gathered in the RCA process and get public opinion and comments. Approximately 250 people attended the meeting.

Documents on the RCA process can be reviewed at the SCS office in the G-Kell Building. Interested citizens are urged to study the documents and make written comments. The comments can be mailed to the RCA Response Analysis Center, P.O. Box 888, Athens, Georgia 30603.

All signed comments will be considered in the final formulation of program.

McMillian Hosts E.H. Club Meeting

"Through Children's Eyes" was the topic studied by the Fairview E. H. Club in their meeting March 13 in the home of Mrs. R. E. McMillan.

Mrs. Charles Smith, program leader, noted that children should be encouraged to develop independence and to become more responsible for their actions; also they need to feel good about themselves.

She further stated that a sense of security comes when a child knows he is loved and wanted; he develops self respect when others respect his ideas and feelings.

She added that as the child develops new abilities and accomplishments, adults must be supportive and quick to show approval.

She concluded with a mini drama "Are You Listening?", acting out illustrations of a father's reaction to his little girl's spilling juice on his fishing tackle.

The roll call was answered by "A Childhood Memory" with related stories and events.

The 1980 budget was read and approved. An approval was voted for the Council to help the

Col-Tex Refinery Ex-Employees Hold Second Annual Reunion

The Second Annual Col-Tex Refinery Reunion drew more than 115 past - employees and their families for Saturday evening's celebration.

People came from all across the state to share a meal and reminisce about the camaraderie of living and sharing good times and bad during an era of war, turmoil and progress.

The past-employee with the most seniority attending the meeting was A. C. Benson.

Benson began work at the refinery just after it opened in 1925. He stayed with the business until it was forced to relocate in Big Spring in 1969.

Stories were told during the reunion about the original purchase of the property from Watt Collier in 1924. It was recalled the fields were planted in grain and cotton at that time.

Construction of the industry was a revelation for the community but there was one drawback to the plant.

It was reconstructed from an old Kansas plant, its equipment was already wearing out and obsolete when the plant was built. East Howard, Iatan and Snyder Oil fields furnished most of the crude oil for the refinery and as these fields played out, oil production moved west.

During this era, the Col-Tex payroll was one of the main sources of income for the community.

Several stories were recalled of events which occurred during the war years. Refinery workers were required to wear identification badges. They were each given a number, which they proudly wore for security purposes.

One very strange event which occurred in later years was recounted.

It was the practice of the wives, who came to pickup the workers, to line the highway beside the fence each afternoon just about quitting time.

A whistle would blow, signifying the end of the work shift and according to one wife who waited patiently each day, the men would flock out of the gate like a herd of sheep.

In the years just before the refinery was forced to shut down, a child of one of the employees was taken ill and died.

Most of the workers were given time off to attend funeral services, leaving only a skeleton crew to run the plant.

As the funeral services were getting underway workers heard a loud explosion and then the whistle blew at the refinery, signaling the end of the work shift.

Men were called from the services to return to the plant, where they were needed because one of the holding tanks by the fence along the highway had exploded.

If the tank had exploded on a regular work day, the death toll among workers and their families would have been staggering. As it was, everyone was in church attending the boy's funeral and there were no casualties.

In 1969, the refinery was sold to Fina and because of the cost of reconstruction the plant was moved to Big Spring.

Many of the employees were transferred to the Big Spring plant. Some of the employees were relocated in other towns and given different positions with the company. Others retired.

This was the second Col-Tex reunion and a third is planned according to Mildred Free, president of the group.

Glover Is Speaker At Club Meeting

The Agape Circle met March 10 in the Parlor of First United Methodist Church with Rochelle Smith and Juanita Coker as hostesses.

Mrs. Smith presided at the meeting and Lucetia Small read the minutes. Nelda Garrett gave the treasurer's report and Della Fox reported on the recent meeting in Big Spring.

Phyllis Glover presented the program on "God Can Use You" emphasizing that we are all involved in missions.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cake, coffee and tea were served to Mmes. Glover, Jo Bassinger, Fox, Bea Richards, Elliott, Hardegree, Small, Garrett and Wilma Reynolds.

Local Student Honored
