Whew! Lubbock Westerners 7, Odessa 6

BROWN ON THE LOOSE—Bobby Brown (No. 87), Lubbock quarterback, is shown above as he turned an intended pass play into a right end run in the third quarter of Friday's Lubbock-Odessa game and racked up a short gain before he was hauled down by a horde of Bronchos. Odessa players in the photo are James Eubanks (No. 53), Mel Etheredge (No. 40) and Roy Heard (No. 25). An unidentified Westerner behind Brown is delivering a timely block on T. W. Harvey, Broncho halfback. Behind Heard is Lubbock's Doug Ross. Lubbock came from behind in the hectic third to win the game, 7-6. (Staff Photo by Jerry Hall.)

Hobbs Youth Dies In Crash At Brownfield

(Special To The Avalanche)

BROWNFIELD, Nov. 11 — One person was killed and two others critically injured in a car-train crash about 6:15 p.m. today at the intersection of Levelland highway with the Panhandle and Santa Fe railroad track on the north edge of Brownfield.

It was the second car-train accident on the South Plains within the past three days. Two persons were killed and three others injured Wednesday afternoon when a Santa Fe freight train and a loaded cotton truck crashed at a grade crossing on the outskirts of Anton.

Hobbs Youth Killed

Killed in today's crash was Sammie James, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman James of Hobbs, N.M.

Injured and in critical condition tonight in Treadway-Daniell hospital here are the father, Norman James, about 45, and a brother, Dwayne, about 12.

The oldest of the two sons apparently died instantly. The three were rushed by Brownfield Funeral home ambulance to the local hospital, and the oldest boy was pronounced dead upon arrival.

Hospital attendants said tonight that the father is suffering two broken legs, one of which is a compound fracture and is crushed in several places, a crushed hip, and possible internal injuries.

Severe Injuries Suffered

The youngest son, Dwayne, has a compound fracture of the left leg and lacerations of the right leg. The left side of his face is crushed, attendants said, and most of his teeth were knocked out. In addition he suffers possible chest injuries.

The three were the only occupants of the automobile, a 1940 Buick coupe, which was almost demolished.

No one in Brownfield knew positively in which direction the car was traveling. However it was thought the car was headed toward Brownfield at the time of the crash.

The accident occurred on the northern edge of Brownfield at what is commonly known as the Levelland "Y".

Engineer Stops Train

L. O. Kenney, engineer on the freight train, and other crew members said they did not see the car before the crash, but stopped the train after feeling the impact of the collision with the James vehicle.

BRONCHO STADIUM, Odessa, Nov. 11 — Lubbock's Westerners all but clinched the District 3-AA title here today by edging a fiercely fighting band of Odessa Bronchos, 7 to 6, before 22,600 fans at windswept Broncho field.

The game was a thriller from start to finish, and the final gun left the record crowd of nail-chewing fans in near hysteria as the Bronchos raced to the Lubbock three-yard line on a 54-yard drive in the last 15 seconds of the contest, using two pass plays to eat up the distance.

The "golden toe" of Billy Presley, Lubbock's conversion specialist, gave the Westerners the necessary point to remain untied and undefeated in the 1949 campaign as he sent his 26th extra point in 31 attempts through the uprights following a 70-yard sprint by Halfback Charlie Williams late in the third quarter.

Lubbock Squad Is Shaken By Close Call In Contest

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche Sports Writer

BRONCHO STADIUM, ODESSA, Nov. 11. — When I entered the Lubbock Westerners' dressing room a few moments after the team's 7-6 triumph over Odessa today, I felt as though I were meeting a man who had just been run over by a train without having been hit by its wheels.

That was the impression the Westerners gave me after their 48 nightmarish minutes with the pawin', rip-snortin' Red Hosses.

The Lubbock boys seemed elated at having won, a trifle chagrined at having been so closely pressed—and definitely happy that the ordeal was over.

Team Plenty Tired

When the tired Westerner regulars trudged off the playing field amidst a swarm of well-wishers who flooded the gridiron immediately after the final whistle, they were too stunned for any outward signs of emotion. Most of them wended their way slowly toward the dressing room at the south end of the field, acknowledging congratulations of friends along the way.

Once they hit the dressing room, a few managed to let out loud whoops of delight —

See LUBBOCK Page 7

Lubbock Led Penetrations

The long dash erased Odessa's six-point lead. However, as it turned out, even had the score remained 6 to 6, Lubbock would have won the game on penetrations, 3 to 2.

The Westerners were behind for the first time all season following a 53-yard scoring drive by Odessa with four minutes gone in the second quarter, and a stout Broncho line threatened to hold the Westerners scoreless until Williams' lightning-like thrust in the second half.

The Westerner team was never able to solve the defensive style of the fired-up Bronchos, who repeatedly stacked up Lubbock plays on the line of scrimmage and successfully turned back attempted end runs by the Lubbock team.

Lubbock Passing Slowed

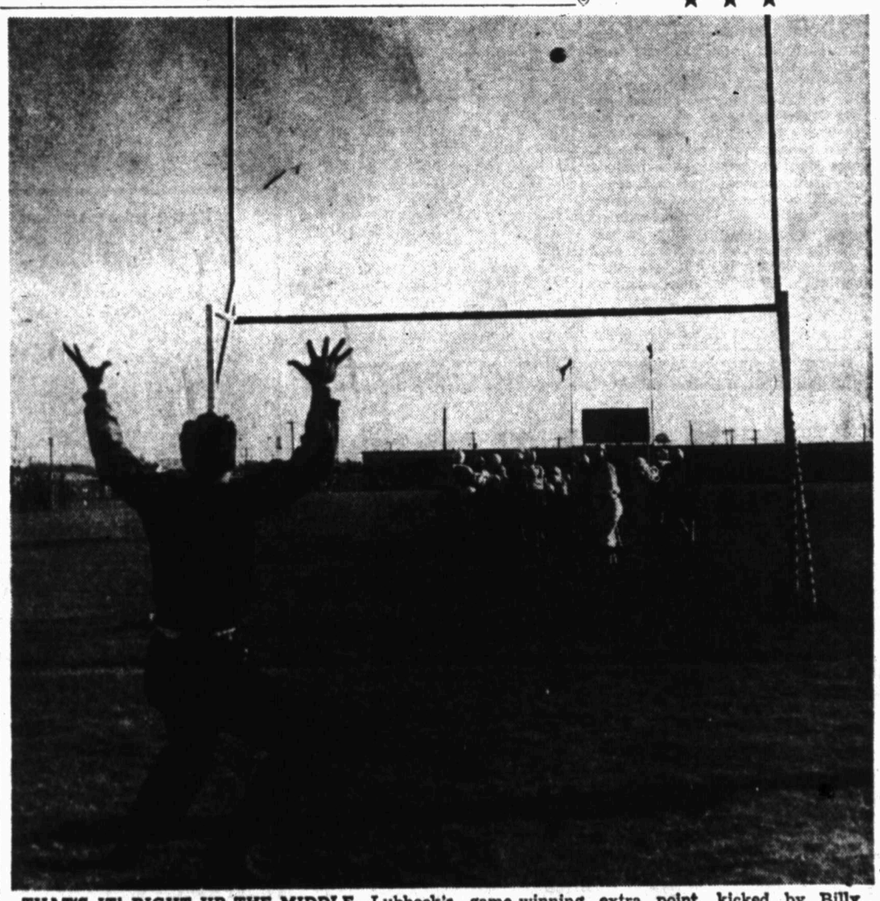

A 35 m.p.h. wind made passing hazardous, and the aerial attack of the Westerners was held to 26 yards on four completions in 10 attempts. Lubbock relied on its ground game entirely in the second half, not passing once in the final two quarters. Odessa completed three of five passes.

Lubbock blockers could not open up holes in the Broncho forward wall to allow the backs to drive through, and Westerner Fullback Malcolm Young was playing far below his usual strength as the result of an intestinal disorder which struck him Thursday night. Although playing most of the game, Young was not hitting the line as hard and lacked the power to break away from Odessa tacklers.

Lubbock tackling was below its normal form, and many times

Fire Hits Gin Yard At Kress

(Special To The Avalanche)

KRESS, Nov. 11. — A fire fanned by high winds swept through the yard of the Kress Electric gin one-half mile south of here tonight, destroying two trucks, 10 or 12 trailers and about 45 bales of cotton, with the total damage estimated in the neighborhood of $15,000.

The blaze, discovered by gin employes around 5 p.m., raged for two hours before more than 100 volunteer firefighters and gin workers aided by the Tulia fire department halted the spread of flames.

Fire Under Control

At 11 o'clock tonight, fire was still smouldering in several of the cotton trailers which had been hauled away from the gin yard, but it was under control. The gin itself was out of danger, although the firefighters twice had to battle out blazes that leaped up in the gin.

Some of the burning trailers were hooked to trucks and tractors and hauled to points two and three miles south of the gin.

The fire, believed to have started when high winds blew sparks from a burr pit, was first noticed in ginned bales on the gin platform. Minutes later, another fire broke out in the gin yard and quickly spread to trucks and trailers.

Large Trucks Destroyed

Two ton-and-a-half trucks were described as a total loss by L. W. Bollinger, gin employe. He said 10 or 12 trailers, about 40 bales of unginned cotton and six bales of ginned cotton were lost to the flames. The entire loss war covered by insurance, it was reported.

The gin at Kress, 60 miles north of Lubbock on the edge of the busy South Plains cotton belt, is owned by D. D., V. N., and J. M.

Fire Chief Twitty Injured In Wreck

Fire Chief William E. Twitty, 62, was injured, not critically, at 12:28 a. m. today when the chief's car he was driving crashed into the center abutment of the East Broadway underpass while enroute to a fire at the Lubbock Gin, 1301 Ave. A.

Twitty was taken by McDonald ambulance to West Texas hospital where he was treated for numerous lacerations and contusions and was being held under observation for possible internal injuries. X-rays were to be taken, attendants said.

Twitty said he was blinded by car lights, set his brakes and tried to hold the car straight. He estimated he was traveling about 35 miles an hour. The fire in a pile of surplus burrs was quickly brought under control by firemen in spite of a high wind fanning the flames.

U. S. Steel Strike Ends

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 11.—United States Steel corporation and CIO United Steelworkers made peace this Armistice Day, ending America's most costly steel strike.

Big Steel, the nation's No. 1 producer employing 150,000, agreed to the Bethlehem company insurance-pension formula which cracked the economy crippling strike.

Union President Philip Murray said the strike settlement is effective at midnight. U. S. Steel announced its mills will be making steel again by Tuesday or Wednesday.

Other Firms Settle

Four smaller firms with a payroll of 21,000 settled on the same terms during the day. They are Colorado Fuel and Iron, 15,000; Worth Steel, Wilmington, Del., 1,100; Follansbee, (W. Va.) Steel, 1,200; Pickens-Mather, Duluth, Minn., 3,700.

Inland Steel, 14,000, and Allegheny Ludlum, 12,500, also are near agreements.

U. S. Steel and the others making Armistice Day settlements brought to 375,000 the number of workers covered by contracts signed since the start of the 42-day strike.

Many Still Idle

Nearly 138,000 are still idle but are employed in small concerns which are expected to come into the fold quickly now.

Settlement by all the top steelmakers—U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, Jones and Laughlin—puts production back to near normal.

The Big Steel agreement was signed about 7 p. m. (CST) in a 17th floor conference room of Hotel William Penn by Murray and John A. Stephens, vice president of the corporation.

The 35-man union negotiating committee which ratified the agreement witnessed the ceremony.

Event Is Cheered

Frequent cheering and good natured joking punctuated the event and sometimes made it hard for newsmen to hear Murray's statement on the settlement.

Announcing end of the strike, Murray said:

"The agreement embodies in substance all the benefits set forth in the contracts effectuated with the other companies."

Other pacts signed by major steel producers give $100 minimum monthly pensions to workers aged 65 with 25 years of service. The employer pays the entire cost.

An insurance program, costing five cents an hour, is also provided. That cost is divided equally by company and workers.

Murray complimented the cor-

Lewis Declares Willingness To Join In Strike Settlement Talks

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 11—John L. Lewis declared today that he is willing to attend any conference called for the purpose of achieving "a constructive solution" of the lengthy soft-coal dispute.

He said the United Mine Workers would agree to meet with Cyrus S. Ching, federal mediation chief, "or anyone else."

He stressed, however, that he was not asking for a conference.

"We're merely saying that 'Barkis is willing'," was the way the mine union president put it.

Lewis made these statements at a news conference in New York called to clarify his position of yesterday when he failed to appear at a conference called by Ching in Washington. Lewis instead told Ching he would be there Monday, but Ching rejected that suggestion.

The quotation "Barkis is willing" is from Charles Dickens' novel "David Copperfield." Barkis, a British teamster, sent such a message with David for the latter's nurse to express his desire for marriage.

Lewis added:

"Now on the Ching fiasco in Washington, Mr. Ching arbitrarily fixed the date of Thursday for a meeting without consultation as to the mine workers convenience. On Thursday, under instructions of the policy committee, the task of having coal production resumed became the first consideration of the representatives of the mine workers.

"Obviously they could not attend the meeting Thursday. They offered to do so on Monday. We thought the reasons for a Monday meeting rather than Thursday meeting were obvious and self-evident. Apparently they were not obvious or self-evident to Mr. Ching.

"The mine workers will attend,

Lubbock Crime Takes Holiday

An increase in police activity expected to accompany the Armistice day holiday failed to materialize Friday as the lull which settled earlier in the week continued in law enforcement circles here.

Minor thefts headed the list of complaints lodged with police on the first day of the long weekend.

A suitcase containing woman's clothing and valued, with contents, at $40, was reported stolen from a car parked in the 1200 block Texas Ave. Owner of the car is Kenneth Flowers, of San Angelo.

J. C. Moore, of 3006 Second, reported theft of a bicycle valued at $10 from in front of the Lyric theater in 1100 block Texas Ave.

Lubbock And South Plains Observe Armistice With Special Programs, Talks, Parades And Grid Games

LUBBOCK and the South Plains closed out a wind-blown Armistice Day last night, but all events went off as scheduled in spite of the weather handicap.

One exception — the Lubbock Westerner's football game at Odessa didn't quite turn out as scheduled, and it was the Bronchos rather than the weather that provided the handicap.

Adding to the fullness of the Armistice holiday was the fact that no serious accidents to football fans were reported on the highways between Lubbock and Odessa up to a late hour—making it a perfect day from that standpoint.

Nearly 7,000 Lubbock residents went by car, bus and plane to the Odessa game. Texas Highway patrol cars along the route, together with safe and sane driving by Lubbock motorists, apparently had kept accidents as scarce as Lubbock touchdowns on a windy afternoon in Odessa.

With football games highlighting the celebration on the South Plains, a score of other events were added to the day's festivities.

Plainview and Lamesa staged parades and programs, while planes from Reese Air Force base and other installations flew over towns in the area.

Lamesa, although severely whipped by high winds and sand, ran through its Armistice Day program on schedule.

Congressman George Mahon, of Colorado City, principal speaker for the Lamesa program, told a crowd of about 1,000 that the American people still live in hopes that "peace is not smothered."

He said the United States is now putting forth the greatest effort in the history of mankind to maintain world peace. This effort, he said, included three-fourths

Cold Weather Covers Area

THE holiday is over, the Weatherman said last night as a cold front blew onto the South Plains with gusto and a promise of near-freezing temperatures this morning and below freezing tonight and Sunday morning.

Clear and mild weather of the past week can be forgotten—at least for a couple of days—the forecaster indicated, and scattered light showers were predicted for the early morning hours today.

Winds and dust—remember Friday—are scheduled to remain in the weather picture for Lubbock and vicinity today, but diminishing somewhat after dark tonight.

Strong Winds Expected

The blustery Friday winds averaged around 30 miles an hour, the weather station reported, with gusts estimated up to 50 miles an hour. Winds today are expected to be in the "strong" class, which is 25 to 30 miles an hour, and from the northwest.

Low temperature this morning was expected near 33 or 34 degrees, with the high afternoon temperature today in the middle to high 50's.

Somtime tonight or Sunday morning, the mercury may reach near 30 degrees, the forecaster said.

A weak cold front moved into Lubbock shortly after noon, but the real stuff marched in at 6:30 p.m. after forming west of the South Plains in New Mexico. Just before 6:30, the mercury at the Weather bureau was 61. The first blast of the front dropped that reading to 50 by 7:30 p.m.

Clouds Check Drop

Clouds quickly formed over Lubbock to check the mercury drop at 45 for three hours, but the clouds began to break up shortly before midnight to allow the mercury to drop further.

Shortly before 11 p.m., a light sprinkle fell at the Weather bureau at Lubbock Municipal airport.

Friday afternoon showers were reported at Hale Center north of Lubbock and at Whiteface, south and west of here.

Amarillo had an afternoon thunderstorm with light rain, and showers also fell at Clarendon and Clovis, N. M.

Heavy rain showers washed Dallas Friday night and there was rain at Fort Worth, the Associated Press reported.

Woman On Budget Is Discovered By Big-Name Paris Designers

By NADEANE WALKER
AP Newsfeature

PARIS, Nov. 11—Paris big-name dressmakers have finally discovered that the woman with less than a fortune to spend on her clothes may be a worthwhile customer after all.

At least half-a-dozen of the best known fashion houses this season have created special collections for clients who can afford only half the price of an average "haute couture" model..

Known in most cases as "boutique" (or "shop") collections, and described by one house as "little sister of haute couture," these models range from casual sports dresses through morning and afternoon frocks, cocktail and evening gowns, suits, coats and even furs.

As a bow in the direction of moderate budgets, they are definitely exciting news for fashion-conscious Frenchwomen who have seen haute couture prices climb out of reach, for Americans who are used to good ready-mades at reasonable prices, and purse-shrunken Englishwomen who still respect a Paris label.

Dior, Heim, Lavin, Balmain, Piquet and Schiaparelli already have joined what looks like a permanent trend to supply a less wealthy market. Their boutique collections vary greatly, as do their attitudes towards them and their explanations for showing them.

In general, the boutique model costs from 20,000 to 40,000 francs (or about $57 to $114) as compared with 50,000 to 80,000 francs ($142 to $228) as bottom price for dresses in the much bigger haute couture collections.

In most cases they are created by the same top designers and executed by the same skilled workmen as the high fashion models of the same houses, although one or two have special workrooms and staffs for their boutique departments.

The difference in price is achieved by using non-exclusive fabrics, making fewer fittings, and by employing less trimming, thus approximately halving work hours spent on each dress. However, all are hand-finished and up to the highest standard of Paris workmanship. Some are signed with "boutique" or another distinguishing title after the name of the house, but others bear the same label as haute couture models.

Not Entirely New Idea

Boutique is not an entirely new idea. The collections are an outgrowth of the accessory shops, which have long been a money-making sideline of leading houses, offering big-name labels to those who stand in awe of them, in such small and relatively inexpensive items as scarfs and gloves. Some of the houses mentioned are showing boutique collections for the first time ever; others have merely enlarged and emphasized their collections.

Whether, with boutique models, high fashion houses are entering into self-competition or not—and it is difficult to imagine how they can entirely avoid this aspect—it seems unlikely that Paris' army of "little dressmakers" will lose much business to them, while they still offer made-to-order dresses for as little at 6,000 francs ($17.20).

Houston Advised To Abandon Air Port, Construct New One

HOUSTON, Nov. 11. (AP)—Abandon your present airport and build a new one somewhere else.

That's what Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker advised Houston city officials. He said he doesn't want to see an accident here similar to the two that have happened to Eastern airline planes elsewhere in the nation in the last 15 months.

Rickenbacker was talking about the two accidents to his transport planes in which they were in collision with military aircraft.

Rickenbacker conferred with Mayor Oscar Holcombe and other officials yesterday on details of a $1 million projected administration building at the present airport.

Catholic Judges Asked To Quit If They Cannot Okay U. S. Laws

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11. (U.P.)—Glenn L. Archer, leader of a Protestant organization, has called on Catholic judges to resign if they cannot decide cases according to U.S. laws.

Archer, executive director of Protestants and other Americans united for separation of church and state, said Pope Pius XII's recent pronouncement on the obligation of Catholic jurist. "raises a grave question" whether non-Catholics can obtain an impartial trial from Catholic judges.

The Pope said earlier this week that Catholic judges should not pass sentences based on laws that the Roman Catholic church considers unjust. He singled out divorce laws for particular criticism.

Vatican sources later said, however, that the Pope told jurists they would not be considered guilty of any wrongdoing, if, unable to have a particular case heard by another judge, they granted a divorce in accordance with the laws of the country in which they live.

In a statement distributed here, Archer questioned whether Catholic judges could remain true to their oath of office and "at the same time heed a voice from Rome." He referred to the judge's oath in which jurists swear to administer justice equally to all citizens in conformity with the constitution and laws of the United States.

Archer said all Catholic judges, who cannot consider themselves citizens of the United States first in administering justice, "should forthwith resign their positions."

State Income Declines As Expenses Continue Climb

AUSTIN, Nov. 11. (U.P.)—State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, in a report covering state finances through October, said today that state expenses were up almost $17,500,000 while revenue was down more than $2,250,000.

Most of the decrease in revenue was accounted for by a drop in gross production crude oil taxes.

Expenses for the month exceeded by more than $9 million the total revenue for the same period, leaving the state a cash balance for the rest of the fiscal year of $67,273,621.

Lubbock Schools Reflect National Trend Toward Boosted Enrollment

"The Next Decade in Education," theme for today, the final day of the 29th observance of American Education week, is attracting attention from educators and citizen groups all over the nation because of the importance to all local school systems throughout the nation.

Figures of increased enrollment in the Lubbock Public schools follow the general pattern of increased enrollment all over the nation, as outlined by the Nationall Education association, the Educational Policies commission, and the American Association of School administrators.

Number Pupils Growing

The attention of all localities in the United States is being called to the fact that more children are now enrolled in the elementary schools than ever before in history, and that next year the number will be even larger. In fact, it appears probable tha. enrollments in elementary schools will continue to increase annually for another decade, and that enrollments in the nation's secondary schools will begin to grow in about two years and may be expected to continue to increase at least until 1960. Ten years from now the total enrollment of elementary and secondary schools in the United States will be 25 to 30 per cent larger than at present, the NEA points out.

The oncoming flood of school children can be gauged from the record of births for the past 12 years as compiled by the National Office of Vital statistics, the Educational Policies commission points out. For example the record of registered live births in 1938 was 2,286,962, while the record of live births in 1947 was 3,699,940, an increase of 1,412,978.

Maximum Predicted

From figures such as these it has been predicted that school enrollments for grades one through 12 will continue to grow until they reach annual totals in excess of 34 million in 1958-60. These estimates, made more than a year ago by the U. S. Bureau of the Census, assumed that birth rates would decline sharply after the 1946-47 peak. However, preliminary figures for registered live births for 1948 reached 3,559,000, while estimates made for 1949 by projecting preliminary totals for the first seven months of this year on the basis of comparison with the corresponding months of 1948 are 3,592,800, showing that the sharp decline expected did not occur. Therefore, the basic change in the nation's birth rate may not continue for some time to come, and total school enrollments may not level off during 1958-60, but may continue to increase into the 1960's.

Recommendations Made

In the light of this analysis, the Educational Policies commission is making the following recommendations: (1) that the education needs arising from the increased birth rate call for both immediate public action and long-range planning; (2) that State and local education authorities should make careful surveys of their respective jurisdictions in order to determine their present shortages in school buildings and personnel and to forecast future needs; (3) that high school and college faculties and parents should advise and assist more able young people to enter the teaching profession; (4) that both standards and salaries for teaching should be raised; (5) that the public at large should join with the teaching profession in efforts to eliminate makeshift expedients, such as over-crowding school buildings, increasing the number of pupils assigned to each teacher, curtailing the school day by operating double shifts, and employing unqualified teachers; (6) that more funds for public school building construction should be provided immediately by local, state, and federal governments; and (7), that the state and federal governments should provide increased funds to help meet the rising costs of education.

Lubbock school authorities have pointed out this week that most of the recommendations of the Educational Policies commission are being complied with in the local school system, in that Lubbock has been increasing the number of buildings, decreasing the number of students assigned to each teacher, and that the public in Lubbock has joined with school and community in planning for the future.

Pedigreed Canines At Tech Trained By Top Reserve Officer

Dogs have personalities and if you don't believe it, just drop by the Reserve Officers Training corps building at Texas Technological college almost any day.

Mike, a black Schaeffer Hund or German Shepherd, is likely to act tickled to death to see you, looking alert and responsive to what you have to say.

Tex, a boxer, probably will look you over with a sour expression or turn his head indifferently.

Acquired In Germany

Col. Willard White, head of the Army Reserve Officers Training corps at the college, takes the dogs to school with him, chaining them to a tree in front of the ROTC building. Many students have stopped to see the dogs and visitors frequently stop and get out of their cars to look at the pedigreed dogs.

Colonel White is convinced that dogs have personalities and, further, that a good dog is loyal, well-mannered, well - disciplined, friendly and posseses other qualities considered outstanding in a human.

Colonel White obtained the dogs when they were two-months-old pups more than two years ago in Frankfurt, Germany. He named them, choosing an abbreviation of Texas for the Boxer.

Trained To Obey

He has trained them to obey several commands. When he says "Sit," they sit down, seldom moving until he tells them to get up. Mike, the large black dog and friendlier of the two dogs, will shake hands on request. Mike's father was a war dog.

Both dogs have long pedigrees. Mike is registered in the Schaeffer stud book in Augsburg and Tex is registered with the Boxer club in Munich.

When Colonel White returned to the United States during the summer after having served most of the time for five years in Germany, he chose passage on the freighter, Carroll Victor, which was bringing a cargo of dogs, in preference to the passenger liner, Henry Gibbons.

The officer was post engineer at Nurnberg military post immediately before returning to this country and previously had been commander of troops at Hanau and Frankfurt.

The scientific name for the small Tibetan fox is Vulpes ferrilatus.

New Model Cars To Appear For Public Inspection Shortly

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

DETROIT, Nov. 11 — A dozen new model autos will appear in the next few weeks.

None will have drastic new features, but they will have some very desirable engineering and styling advances. There will be quieter operation, better braking and easier driving control all around.

All the auto makers are using considerably more insulation to rid their cars of body noises. Engines also have been silenced to a noteworthy extent.

Fords To Lead

First of the new models to reach the dealers will be the 1950 line of Fords. They have been in production for nearly two weeks and will be shown to the public very shortly.

Dealers and industry reporters already have seen and driven the new Fords. Next to be shown will be Pontiac's new 1950 cars. They, too, may be ready for public announcement before the end of November. Following these will come Chevrolet, reportedly with its new torque converter transmission ready at the same time. The other General motors cars, Ford's new Lincoln and Mercury models and Chrysler's new units will about complete the new model procession of the next months.

Hudson and Nash have supplemental lower priced models to introduce but have not indicated when they will go on sale.

Farther in the future are Kaiser-Frazer's new models including a low priced car designed to compete with Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth.

Moscow Boasts Of Using Atomic Energy Is Branded Propaganda

NEW YORK, Nov. 11. (AP).—Moscow's peace proprogandа offensive has taken a bold step into a new field. But the venture does not stand up well under critical examination, unless Russian scientists know far more than those in the United States know, or have told.

For months the Russian propaganda drive has centered about the theme that the Soviet union alone among the big powers, is the champion of world peace.

Now, with general acceptance of the report that the Soviet union has an atom bomb, the pattern has developed further. It pictures Russia, alone among the big powers, as using atomic energy strictly for peace time projects.

Seen As Propaganda

Unless the Russians have a much vaster knowledge of atomic energy and its uses than any scientists in the west, the latest Russion pronouncements on the atom — from Lake Success, East Germany and Moscow — must be looked upon as a propaganda maneuver.

As propaganda, the communist pronouncements fall into the familiar, logical pattern.

The keynote first was sounded last week in the Communist-controlled press of eastern Germany. The story was that Russia was blasting away mountains and diverting rivers and creating a great channel where once there was nothing but wasteland.

This was picked up before the United Nations by Soviet Foreign Minister A. Y. Vishinsky. Russia, he said, uses the power of the atom to move mountains, to irrigate deserts, to cut through jungles and arctic wastes, to spread happiness and prosperity.

Claimed Used For Mankind

Even while he spoke, Pravda, the Soviet Communist party paper, expressed the same theme: Russia is using atomic power to advance mankind, while the West is using it for international power politics.

Atomic explosive is among the most expensive commodities in the world. To use it for blasting would be like using gold powder — not that cost is any object with the Russians in the field of atom competition.

If atomic explosive were used in special circumstances for such purposes, the ground would become radioactive and this condition would persist for years, with annoying hazards always present.

A river diverted through an atomic cut would carry large quantities of radioactive materials, dispersing them widely at the risk of much harm. Nobody knows today just what these risks would entail.

One atom bomb, so far as the published facts in the United States indicate, could not do more than make a small dent in a mountain. How many would be needed to topple a mountain or blast a channel is not known. The bomb which exploded in New Mexico in 1945, 100 feet above ground, made a shallow saucer in the earth 12 feet deep at the center. If the bomb were buried in rock it would blow a greater crater, but not particularly greater than that which would be made by burying 20,000 tons of TNT. That much TNT is the equivalent of an atom bomb explosion.

If Russians have solved these problems, they have made discoveries unknown or secret, in the United States. If they have made cheap atomic explosions possible, they have made discoveries in production methods unknown in the United States.

SOVIETS ALSO COULD LEVEL CITIES, OFFICIAL WARNS

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 11. (INS).— The United States warned today that if Russia "can level mountains" with atomic blasts the Soviets also "can level cities."

The warning was made by U. S. Assistant Secretary of State John D. Hickerson in reply to a statement yesterday by Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky at the United Nations.

Vishinsky Sounds Warning

Vishinsky claimed that Russia can produce as many atom bombs as she needs but instead is using atomic power to raze mountains, deserts and cut down jungles, Hickerson said:

"Whether this is nonsense I will not say.

"I can say, however, that when the Soviet representative said this he was implying a recognition of one of the basic facts that must be taken into account in any solution of the atomic energy question. That is, the same atomic energy developed for peaceful uses is automatically and inescapably available for military purposes.

"If nations have devices in their possession which can level mountains, they also have in their possession devices which can level cities.

"If nations are permitted to own and control such power, no system of control of inspection can be more effective than the good faith, intentions and motives of the nations possessing such power."

Burial Services Conducted Today For Kansas Senator

PARSONS, Kans., Nov. 11. (INS)—Sen. Clyde M. Reed, (R-Kans.) was buried today in Parsons.

A 45-minute funeral service for the 78-year-old lawmaker was held in the First Presbyterian church. It was conducted by the Rev. Edwin Armstrong, pastor of the church.

Fred W. Brinkerhoff, editor of the Pittsburg, Kans., Headlight and Sun and a longtime friend of the senior senator from Kansas, delivered the eulogy.

Reed died suddenly Tuesday night of an apparent heart attack. His widow, Mrs. Minnie Hart Reed, discovered his body at the bottom of the stairs of their Parsons home.

HAYRIDES DISAPPROVED

DETROIT. (U.P.)— Traffic Judge George T. Murphy declared hayrides dangerous both for the people on the wagon and for the motorists. Murphy found a woman guilty of crashing into a hay wagon. But he suspended sentence. The judge said hayrides are never properly lighted and their slowness holds up traffic.

Texas Authors Are Presented Awards

DALLAS, Nov. 11. (AP)—The Texas Institute of Letters gave its $1,000 prize for the best Texas book of the year tonight to Tom Lea of El Paso.

Lea got the award, given by Carr P. Collins of Dallas, for his "The Brave Bulls," a poetically intense novel about bullfighting which is also a parable of man's struggle with fate. The $500 Dallas News prize for "runner-up" book went to Carl Coke Rister of Norman, Okla., author of "Oil! Titan of the Southwest."

Fred Gipson's "Hound Dog Man," a national best seller about a smal boy and coonhunting, took the McMurray Book Shop prize of $250 for the best first novel.

Both Lea and Gipson have a western look. Both are given to wearing boots. Lea is a stocky, intense man of enormous vitality who pounded out his prizewinner in a series of 16-hour days. Gipson is a drawling sandyhaired man with the glint of humor constantly in his face.

The institute gave J. Frank Dobie of Austin, its dinner speaker, a special award of merit for outstanding work in Texas literature over a period of years. Dobie's "Apache Gold and Yaqui Silver" won the first of the institute awards back in 1936.

Man Advertising Football Ducats Winds Up In Jail

HOUSTON, Nov. 11. (AP).—It was hard to believe, but that's what the sign said.

This morning a man kept walking around Houston's big downtown street intersection of Texas and Main carrying this sign:

"Texas A&M-Texas U. November 24. Football tickets. Make me an offer."

Two tickets were pinned to the sign.

Police Patroleman Johnny Weiner, jr., and H. C. Limerick put the man in jail. He is being held for investigation.

Missing Plane, Two Men To Be Sought On Game Reserve

TEXARKANA, Nov. 11. (AP)—The Rochelle Flats game preserve is to be searched for a plane missing since Oct. 21 on a flight from Tulsa to Houston.

Aboard the missing craft were George Harrington, Houston geologist, and his pilot, Orville Sweitzer.

Sheriff Zeke Henslee said yesterday Pete Barrett of Dekalb, near the reserve, reported seeing a plane circling at tree-top level during a storm about 8 p.m. Oct. 21.

Barrett didn't connect the incident with the missing plane until he discussed it recently with members of a fishing party, who also saw a plane circling low several times and then head northeast over the game preserve.

Crommelin Maintains Stand On U. S. Defense Policy In Alabama Speech

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 11. (AP)—Navy Capt. John G. Crommelin soft-pedaled his previous criticism of national defense policies today, but didn't back down.

He told an Armistice Day crowd it is the people's "patriotic duty to keep informed and interested in the organization and administration" of the armed forces, and added:

"There is no place in this democracy of ours for a "yes-man."

Naval Hero Reprimanded

It was the Montgomery-born naval air hero's first public appearance since he was restored to duty Tuesday and given an official reprimand for slipping "confidential" Navy documents to newspapermen.

The letters showed that several top-ranking admirals agreed with Crommelin in the belief that Pentagon high command policies were stifling the Navy. The inter-service wrangle brought on a House Armed Services committee investigation.

Crommelin in his speech today didn't mention specifically any of the earlier charges against high command officers. He didn't even refer to the controversy directly.

But he told the audience of some 500 persons at City auditorium:

"In my opinion we in America live and work under a highly intelligent democratic code which does not confuse lip service with discipline, as do all totalitarian states. There is no place in this democracy o fours for a 'yes-man.'"

The 47-year-old naval officer who popped the lid off the Pentagon dispute offered this yardstick in making decisions: "The good of the country."

"If it is good for the country, it is good for you," he said, thus restating the position he has taken throughout the national defense controversy.

Removal Of Capital Planned In Case Of Wahington Attack

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11. (AP)—Precautionary plans are being drawn to move the capital from Washington if it ever becomes an attack target in war, Secretary of Defense Johnson disclosed today.

Johnson said these plans include transfer of the Army, Navy and Air Force and designation of sucessors to military commanders.

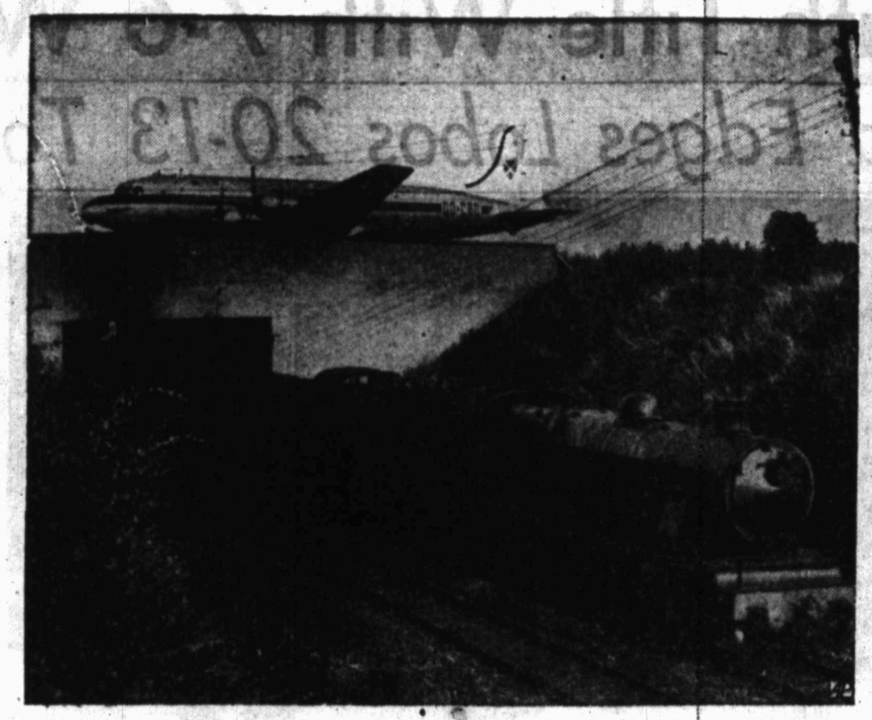

Writing Sen. Wiley (R-Wis), Johnson said "certain definite steps" have been taken to guard against the contingency of a destructive attack on Washington. He did not go into detail.

Wiley had asked what plans were being made to decentralize if it becomes necessary.

Damage Considered Possible

Johnson replied that in recognition of "the fact that it is not beyond the bounds of possibility" for Washington to be the target of a damaging attack, and that the government might have to move as a result, "it follows that plans should be prepared. (They) are in the course of preparation."

The secretary added it is important that some dispersal of military activities "take place prior to and in anticipation of" possible attack on Washington and this is part of the planning.

Four Die In Wreck; Texas Boy Escapes

ST. CLARISVILLE, O., Nov. 11. (AP)—A two-year-old Texas boy was the sole survivor of an auto crash last night which killed four people—his father, mother, uncle and aunt.

Killed in the crash on U. S. Route 40 were:

Herbert Kingham, 26, Borger, Tex.; his wife, Ann, 26; Kenneth Betts, 26, Borger, and his sister, Mrs. Wanda Ellis, 18, Shawnee, Okla.

The survivor, little Michael Kingham, wore a cowboy suit as he was found crying in the middle of the highway, the bodies of the four scattered around him.

Highway Patrol Cpl. G. D. Miller said the tot was thrown clear of the car. A bruised knee was his only injury.

He said the car, which belonged to the Kinghams, crashed into the rear of another car, whirled across the highway, upset, and crashed into another car approaching from the opposite direction.

Little Michael played today in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Stevens of Hendrysburg awaiting arrival of Texas relatives.

Kansas Man, Father Thought Dead, Reunited In Dalhart

DALHART, Nov. 11 (AP) — Leslie (Dub) Anderson, 37, of Liberal, Kan., is visiting the father he had always believed dead.

The father, Henry Anderson of Shreveport, La., has been quite ill.

Mrs. Leslie Anderson told the story today:

She said Leslie's parents separated when he was a baby. Soon afterward, his mother died. Her brother, Walter Scroggins of Bellvue, Tex., reared Leslie. The elder Anderson disappeared and was believed dead. As it turned out, the elder Anderson thought Leslie dead.

Recently Mrs. J. E. Stigall of Shreveport, who knew the elder Anderson, thought Leslie might still be alive and in Texas. She wrote to a friend, Mrs. Joe Pitman of Childress.

Mrs. Pitman got the letter printed in the Childress Index where it was seen by Mrs. B. H. Bohannon, of Childress. She immediately got in touch with her niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Anderson.

March Protests Action Of Texas Radio Station In Letter To FCC

DALLAS, Nov. 11 (AP) — Caso March, candidate for governor, said today he had mailed a letter to the Federal Communications commission, protesting that a Texas radio station will not now sell him radio time to discuss his candidacy.

He named the station as WOAI. He said he objected to the station's policy of not selling political time to candidates for governor until after the final filing time for the office—June 7, 1950.

At San Antonio, Hugh Halff, president of WOAI, issued this statement:

"WOAI policy is not to sell time for a political race until such time as all candidates have had an opportunity of filing, as only in this manner can we adhere to our policy and the requirement of the Federal Communications commission to afford equal facility to all candidates."

He explained that if his station sold radio time for candidates at this time, time allotments could not be equalized because there is no way of determining how many candidates will file until after the final filing date.

Slaton Takes 4-A South Title With 7-6 Win Over Post

2,000 Homecoming Fans See Favored Antelopes Upset

BY JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

POST, Nov. 11. — The sure toe of Bobby Taylor, 150-pound junior back, brought Slaton's Tigers a bitterly fought 7 to 6 victory over a favored Post Antelope eleven here this afternoon before 2,000 Homecoming fans. The victory gave Slaton, undefeated in District 4-A, (South) the conference championship and sends the Tigers into the bi-district play against Littlefield, winners in District 4-A (North).

Post Fights Back

That was the ball game, even though Post fought back to score a touchdown and to carry the fight to the Tigers the rest of the way. The Antelopes drove 43 yards on three passes and a 15-yard penalty for their tally, Quarterback Jack Kirkpatrick passing to Halfback Norman Cash for the touchdown.

While the partial home crowd held its breath, Kirkpatrick dropped back to try the crucial extra point. But the pass from center was bad and the Antelope signal-caller was stopped by Slaton tacklers before he could run the ball over.

Had the Antelopes converted successfully, the score would have been tied and they would have won on both first downs and penetrations.

Both Lines Play Well

It was a game of thrills for the crowd, with both lines playing magnificent ball. Most scrimmage gains were for short yardage at the most, with tackling sharp and hard. Minor injuries from the ferocity of play kept both Coach Clarence Tillery of Slaton and Coach Bing Bingham of Post substituting freely throughout the game.

The first half was scoreless, with play generally in midfield. Post launched one offensive that reached the Slaton 32 before it bogged down in the first quarter and the Antelopes drove to the Slaton six late in the second quarter, where the Tigers successfully fended off two running plays and two passes.

The third quarter was played almost entirely in Post territory, with the Antelopes trying to hold off the Slaton atack. Twice the Antelopes held, once on their own 35 and minutes later on their 17. That was Slaton's deepest penetration of the game, aside from its touchdown.

Penalty Aids Slaton

Post twice launched drives in the fourth quarter that failed, once because of a timely interception of a Kirkpatrick pass by Quarterback Cecil Bybee, and the other time when the game's end halted forward progress at the Tiger 20.

The third quarter opened with Post taking the ball from its own 15, beginning with a 21-yard run-back of the kickoff by Kirkpatrick, and marching to the Tiger 47. A booming spiral off the toe of Kirkpatrick went out on the Tiger six, but a clipping penalty took Slaton out of that hole and set up the touchdown.

Fullback Ed Willis was stopped on a slant at the line and a short pass was broken up to make it third and 10. On the next play, Lewis took a handoff from Bybee, slipped around Post's left end, picked up his blockers and opened the throttle. His flying feet took him pounding down the field.

A couple of timely blocks around the 30-yard line sent him into the clear and he outdistanced three Post pursuers. Just at the goal line, Kirkpatrick made a flying tackle to bring Lewis down, but the Tiger ace fell over the double stripe.

A blocked punt on fourth down, after Post had taken the kickoff and failed to gain on three pass attempts, gave the Tigers another chance. But Post dug in and held, forcing a Tiger punt that traveled only two yards. After another Post pass went awry, Halfback Ronald Joe Babb fumbled and End Ezra Corley recovered on the Post 26.

Two running plays and a fourth down pass carried only to the Post 17 and the Antelopes averted the last serious threat of their goal.

Bybee Fumbles Snapback

Post punted and after Slaton had driven to its 49, a back was tossed to the Tiger 43. On fourth down, Bybee fumbled a snapback and an unidentified Antelope recovered on the 43. Kirkpatrick hit End Jerry Odom twice with passes, sandwiched around a 15-yard penalty to move the Antelopes to the five.

On the first down, Kirkpatrick faded, cocked his arm and hit Cash in the right flat just as the back hit paydirt.

Late in the fourth quarter, Post began a long drive that covered 51 yards before being halted by the gun ending the game.

It was a bruising clash between two fine teams. After the game, Coach Bingham said: "If I have to lose, I'd rather lose to Clarence (Tillery) than anyone I know. It was a good game between two good teams."

The statistics were about even. Slaton outgained Post on the ground, 181 yards to 119, but the Antelopes completed 10 of 28 passes for 95 yards, compared to two completions in seven attempts for 11 yards by Slaton. Post had a wide edge in first downs, 15-7, returned all kicks farther and was more alert in recovering fumbles.

Each team had its share of stars. Fullback Roy Wade, Cash, Kirkpatrick, Babb and Jones sparked the Post backfield. Bybee, Willis, Lewis and Bobby Lambert stood out in the Tiger backfield.

Guard Carl Storie, Tackle Maurice Stelzer and Center Billy Smith turned in fine line games for the losers, while Tackle Carl Williams and Leon Moore, Center Jerry Huckaby, End Charley Norwood and Fullback Bobby Thompson stood out on defense for Slaton.

Littlefield Edges Lobos 20-13 To Win 4-A North

DRIVING OVER FOR POST'S ONLY TOUCHDOWN — Halfback Norman Cash eludes the grasping arms of Halfback Curly Lewis to go over the Slaton goal line standing up for the Antelope's only touchdown in yesterday's thriller at Post. Slaton won, 7-6, but Post rooters had room to cheer on this touchdown that threatened to tie up the game. Cash took a perfect pass from Quarterback Jack Kirkpatrick directly on the final stripe and raced over. A bad pass from center nullified an attempted extra point try and Kirkpatrick was hauled down when he picked up the ball and tried to run it across. With the victory, the Slaton Tigers wrapped up the District 4-A (South) conference championship, beating the defending champions in a close game. (Staff Photo by Lonnie Hudkins.)

Renfro Sets Pace By Taking Kickoff 95 Yards To Score

By EMMETT SHOCKLEY
Avalanche Sports Writer

LITTLEFIELD, Nov. 11.—The Littlefield Wildcats took the District 4-A North crown here tonight by defeating the Levelland Lobos, 20-13, before 4,000 chilled fans.

It was a wind-swept field from start to finish, with dust and moisture in the air alternately during the game.

Fullback Gene Renfro started things off for the Wildcats in a big way when he gathered in the opening kickoff on the five yard line, took advantage of a huge opening made by his downfield blockers, and went all the way for a touchdown.

But Levelland struck back after a poor Littlefield punt carried back partially by the strong wind, gave the Lobos possession of the ball on the Wildcat 19. A pass from Quarterback Dee Windsor to Halfback Glen Clarkson was good for a touchdown to tie the score.

The Levelland team dominated play for the remainder of the first half. Another pass gave Levelland the ball on the Littlefield 25. Windsor scored shortly after End Neal Atchison caught a pass to move the ball down to the nine. The kick for the point was good.

Littlefield wingback Stephen Brock took a pass in the clear early in the second quarter, but stumbled and fell on the Levelland 25. Clarkson ended the threat on the next play when he intercepted a Littlefield pass.

The Wildcats came out strong in the third period and marched down the field almost at will. The Lobos stopped the first Littlefield drive on the 24, but a few minutes later, Tailback Frank Gage intercepted a Levelland pass on the Wildcat 39. After driving to the Levelland 38, Tailback Charles Askew broke loose from the 38 to score. Gage made the point tying the game on an end run.

The touchdown that gave Littlefield the game came in the fourth quarter after they had been stopped once on the Levelland 13. When they got possession of the ball again, it was Tommy Bailes who went 19 yards for the six-pointer. Askew converted.

The Littlefield powerhouse rang up 12 first downs in the second half while holding the Lobos to only one. At the half, Levelland had a 7-4 edge in first downs and a 3-2 edge in penetrations.

Seminole Downs Denver City, 14-0

DENVER CITY, Nov. 11 (Special) — The Seminole Indians defeated the Denver City Mustangs 14-0 in a District 5-A conference tilt here this afternoon before an estimated 700 fans.

The victory gives Seminole four wins this season. With this game, Denver City completed its 1949 playing schedule with no wins.

In the first quarter, Richard Lindley, Indians halfback, took the ball over for a touchdown. The extra point was made by Bert Afleck, Seminole star kicker.

In the third quarter, after a sustained march of about 50 yards, Lindley went eight yards for Seminole's second touchdown, and Afleck again kicked the extra point.

The two teams were about evenly matched for weight. Coach Gordon Woods' Indians ran up a total of 14 first downs, and Mentor Wilson Head's Mustangs made seven first downs.

Outstanding Indian players included Derrell Jordon, guard, Jerry Ambell, Lindley, and Guinn Hood.

On the Mustang eleven outstanding players were Melvin Reed, center; Jack Rawdon, tackle; Frank Howard, quarterback; and Lee Ivey.

Tech Tennis Stars Advance To Semi-Finals In Tucson Tourney

TUCSON, Nov. 11. (Spl.).— Two Texas Tech tennis stars today advanced to the semi-finals of the Southwestern Open tennis tournament.

A. J. (Jake) Broyles, after scoring two Thursday triumphs, trounced Mac Sanders, 6-1, 6-4. In Saturday's semi-final found Broyles will meet top-seeded Barney Judson.

Nell Quattlebaum, representing Tech in the women's division, scored her third tourney victory by besting Marorie Niman, Los Angeles, 3-6, 6-3, 8-6.

Broyles and his doubles partner, Joe Wheatley, dropped their first-round match to Jim Settles and Marshall Miller, Pepperdine college, by 6-3, 6-1.

ADAMS STATE LOSES

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Nov. 11 (INS)—Colorado college's football team whipped Adams State, 25 to 0, today with a quick aerial and ground attack in Colorado Springs. The triumph was the Tigers' fifth of the season and gave them their best record since 1943.

Whiteface Trims Cooper, 25 To 13

WHITEFACE, Nov. 11 (Special) — A 19-point second quarter was all the Whiteface Antelopes needed here tonight to take a District 4-B conference game from Cooper's Pirates, 25-13. A sparse crowd of 200 chilled fans watched the game.

The victory kept the Antelopes in a second place tie with New Deal, which also won.

Cooper drew first blood in the game, getting off to a fast start when they pushed over a first quarter score and held Whiteface in check.

But the Antelopes roared back in the second stanza to take over the game and continue control the remainder of the way. They added a fourth touchdown in the third quarter and coasted in from there.

Coach L. S. Salser's Antelopes were headed by Quarterback Wendell Walker, who went 10 yards to score; Halfbacks Dean Reynolds and Johnny Plunkett, who went 20 and 35 yards respectively; and Fullback Oscar Power, who went 30 yards to scoring distance.

Center Hubert Sullivan of Cooper was the outstanding visiting player, while the entire Whiteface team played well. The Antelope blocking particularly was good.

Meadow Takes 46-7 Win Over Frenship

MEADOW, Nov. 11 (Special)—Meadow's unbeaten Broncos romped to an easy 46-7 victory over Frenship's Tigers here tonight before a windswept crowd of 200 fans, who saw long runs mingled with power drives down the field for the winners in a District 4-B game.

The game never was in doubt after Meadow pushed over three quick touchdowns in the opening quarter. The Broncs went on to add a single counter in the second, another lone tally in the third and two more in the fourth.

Jess Upton, Lawrence Joplin and Robert White each scored twice for the winners, while Gene Joplin scored once. Upton, Lawrence Joplin, Ellis Duncan and Gene Joplin added extra points.

Frenship's predominantly freshman eleven (nine of the first eleven men are freshmen) pushed over its lone score in the third quarter when Quarterback Glenn Allen climaxed a march with a three-yard plunge.

Upton, White and Joplin all scored at least once on runs of 30 yards or more, with White going over 40 yards for his.

Guard Freddy Howard, Tackle Tom Ashburn and End Norman Lockett stood out in the line for the victors, while Upton, White and the Joplin brothers starred in the backfield.

Guard Larry Cox was the outstanding player for Frenship.

H-SU Frosh Beat Picadors

Buttons Rack Up 21-13 Victory

ABILENE, Nov. 11 (Special)—Hardin-Simmons' freshman football team observed Armistice Day with a display of pyrotechnics that was too much for a Texas Tech first year team to cope with, pounding out a 21-13 victory to extend its mastery over the Picadors to yet another year.

A flat pass from Quarterback Charley McGuire, former Post High school star, to End Sherry Nall early in the third quarter gave the Buttons their winning touchdown. Guard Weldon Boggus added the third of his extra point attempts and the game was as good as early.

Buttons Hold Edge

The Buttons held the upper-hand in the statistical department, as well as the score. They had 13 first downs to 12 for Tech, rolled up 223 yards rushing to 172, added another 84 passing to only 34 for the Picadors and generally commanded play.

The Picadors opened up with a rush that threatened to turn the game into a rout. On the second play from scrimmage, Guard Neil Rogers of Abilene intercepted a screen pass and romped 20 yards to score.

But the Buttons took the second kickoff and marched steadily downfield until they reached the Picador 49-yard line. On the next play, Jack Prichard, former Denver City ace, broke into the clear and raced 49 yards to score.

Tech Pass Intercepted

Midway through the second quarter, Maurice Waguestack intercepted a Picador pass on the Tech 38 to set up the next score. Prichard and Malouf took turns lugging the ball, with Malouf plunging over. Boggus again converted.

The Picadors fought back to leave the field trailing only 14-13 at the intermission. End Hollice Davis intercepted a pass to start the drive. Quarterback Carl Madison sparked the Picadors into scoring territory with an 18-yard romp to the 10-yard marker and then passed to End James Clark, former Sundown star, for the tally.

The final score came after a spectacular Button pass play that covered 41-yards, McGuire passing to End Malcolm Robbins to set up the touchdown. Malouf, unwanted by Texas Tech, helped the drive with a 14-yard ramble and McGuire capped it with his flat pass to Nall for the score.

The Picadors were unable to make any sustained drives or scoring threats in the final two periods, checked by a Button forward wall that included many former South Plains stars.

Texas Christian Freshmen Down Texas Yearlings, 12-7

AUSTIN, Nov. 11 (INS)—Texas Christian's freshmen footballers won their fourth straight game of the season today at Austin, dumping the Texas Shorthorns, 12 to 7.

The two yearling teams fought on even terms until the fourth quarter when the Polliwogs pushed across the winning touchdown.

Marv Fowler's passing and running highlighted the TCU victory.

Sierra Leone, Africa, plans to have 25 mills extracting palm oil within five years.

O'Donnell Tames Tahoka, 18 To 8

O'DONNELL, Nov. 11. (Special) O'Donnell's Eagles pleased a homecoming crowd of 1,200 here this afternoon by defeating the Tahoka Bulldogs, 18 to 8, in a District 4-A South tussle at Johnson field.

Tahoka picked up a safety in the second quarter and a touchdown in the third, but the Eagles rammed over two touchdowns in the third quarter and another in the final period. Both went scoreless in the first quarter.

The Bulldogs, in spite of the score, picked up 9 first downs while the Eagles got only 5 in this department. The Tahoka eleven, coached by Jim Foust, gained 160 net yards, while the O'Donnell team, coached by W. D. Jeter, counted for 200 yards net.

The O'Donnell High school band, under the direction of Bill King, made its first appearance in new uniforms today.

Tulia's Hornets Annex 13-7 Win Over Abernathy Antelopes

ABERNATHY, Nov. 11. (Special)—Tulia's Hornets eked out a 13-7 victory over the Abernathy Antelopes here tonight before a thoroughly chilled crowd that watched a see-saw District 3-A game that had no bearing on the conference race.

Tulia drew first blood in the second quarter and converted to lead 7-0 at the half. Abernathy tied things up with a touchdown and bonus point in the third quarter and it wasn't until late in the game that Tulia managed the winning tally.

The winning score came on a freak play with less than four minutes remaining. A Tulia back started around end, fumbled the ball high in the air and a teammate came out of nowhere to pluck the ball, tuck it under his arm and continue the trip untouched.

Abernathy led in first downs, 14-9, but was trailing in penetrations at the time of the final touchdown.

San Angelo Eleven Beats Dunbar, 26-6

San Angelo's Leopards surged to a 26-6 defeat over the Dunbar Panthers in a second half scoring spree that gained the West Texas district championship for the undefeated untied Leopards at Chapman field Friday afternoon.

About 1,200 homecoming fans watched as Coach Damon Hill's Panthers held the visitors to a 7-6 lead at halftime and as the heavier Leopards built up their lead in the final periods, while holding the Dunbar boys scoreless.

Arthur Jones scored in the first period for Dunbar by recovering a fumble by Otis Walker inside the double stripe.

Horace Willis, San Angelo end, scored the first T. D. for the Leopards with Ben Kelley converting. In the third period Lee Roy Crawford scored twice followed by one conversion by Kelley.

In the final period Leopard end Haywood intercepted a Dunbar pass and went over to paydirt to clinch the score at 26-6.

Outstanding players in the Dunbar line, outweighed about 15 pounds per man, were center Odell Gary, end Arthur Jones, guard Charles Payne and Eddy Bullock.

A larger group of colored people attended the Friday game than any other this season.

Westerners Win Thriller From Odessa

Broncs Threaten In Last Seconds

Odessa backs spun away from would-be Lubbock tacklers to pick up additional yardage. Quick-opening plays by the Broncs were working with great success since the defense was drawn in tight, and Broncho Halfbacks Bobby Jackson and John Ed Giles were pulled in by Lubbock's Brown and Center Douglas Wienke after almost getting into the open four times on these plays.

Early Westerner Drive Bogs

After kicking-off to Odessa, the Bronchos were forced to punt on fourth down, and the Westerners instituted a drive from their own 33 which seemed certain to go all the way, but a 15-yard penalty for illegal use of the hands on offense cooled off the attack after it had gone to Odessa's 28.

Minutes later Odessa's Giles fumbled, and End Billy Wright recovered for the Westerners on the Red Horse 41. After an incomplete pass from Brown to End Garnet Reeves, who had his hands on the aerial near the 20-yard marker, Halfback Wayne Stroud skirted left end and rambled all the way down to the Odessa 13 before being stopped after shaking off several tacklers.

Young carried to the nine and then to the five, and on third down Stroud was stopped at the line of scrimmage, fumbling the ball which was recovered by Young. Young tried right tackle but found no hole and the ball went over on downs.

Lubbock Fumble Costly

Bronc Fullback Howard Dye kicked 42 yards to Brown on the Lubbock 47, and Brown fumbled the ball. Standout End Paul Erwin tackled Brown as Brown tried to recover the bobble and then recovered to set Odessa off on the road to paydirt as the first quarter ended.

From the Lubbock 47, Odessa marched the distance to the goal in 10 plays, with runnnig plays by Fullback Joe Childress and Halfbacks Bobby Jackson and T. W. Harvey picking up valuable yardage and a short pass from Quarterback Charles Clover to Erwin adding momentum to the drive. Dye plunged over from the one-yard line to put Odessa in the lead, 6-0. The snap-back on the all important try for extra point was low and fumbled by Clover, and Dye was snared before he was able to kick or run with the ball.

Neither team was able to threaten before the half.

Another Lubbock Drive Fails

Lubbock took the third-quarter kickoff and drove to the Odessa 14 on nine plays, with Stroud, Williams and Young carrying the load, but two tries from that point lost back to the 16, where the Broncs took over.

After advancing to their own 27, Odessa kicked out of bounds on the Lubbock 27. Stroud picked up three yards to the 30, and then Williams broke loose on his touchdown run.

The Lubbock speedster cut through left tackle on a cross buck, found a hole, and emerged into the clear. A key block on the defending right halfback by Wright, who played superb ball, cleared the last obstacle from Williams' path, and Williams outdistanced the Odessa pursuers in a race down the left sideline. Presley converted, and that was the ball game except for Odessa's dying spasm with only seconds remaining

Odessa Also Fumbles

Play during the remainder of the third quarter was in Odessa territory, and a fumble halted Odessa's offensive near midfield shortly before the end of the period.

An exchange of kicks gave Lubbock the ball on its own 20 with five minutes left in the game, and the Westerners held on to the ball for more than four and one-half minutes.

Wright, who took over punting duties when Young left the game, got off a kick out of bounds which went only seven yards downfield to the Odessa 43.

With 15 seconds left in the game, Clover passed to Erwin on the right side. As he was tackled near Lubbock's 45, Erwin pitched the ball back to Childress, who was run down and knocked out of bounds by Brown on the 20 to stop the clock with five seconds remaining.

A screen pass to Childress on the left from Clover set the young sophomore in motion down the left sideline, and he twisted and squirmed his way to the three-yard line before being brought to earth, again by Brown with a diving tackle, with time already gone in the contest.

Standouts for Lubbock were many, but above all there was the work of Tackle Douglas Ross, who speared many Odessa plays from his middle linebacker position. Williams played a splendid game on defense and carried for the tying marker. Center Wienke held up the right side of Lubbock's defensive line and made many yard-saving tackles, being equalled by Brown whose speed on defense saved the day for Lubbock in the dying seconds of the contest. In relief of Young, Mack Taylor pitched in several nice runs, as did Stroud.

Only games with Midland and Brownfield remain between Lubbock and the district title. Both clubs have been losing more than they have won, with Brownfield going winless and Midland losing four games so far this year.

Lubbock Shaken By Close Call

but these had a hollow ring which conveyed the idea that the shouters weren't exactly satisfied with the triumph. Those Odessa boys had, it was easy to see, just made things too dog-gone close for comfort.

Most of the Westerners contented themselves with exchanging congratulations on the victory, which, after all, was a big step forward for Lubbock in the state schoolboy race.

Players Are Commended

Then Coach Pat Pattison, who had been occupied with the customary exchange of niceties with Odessa Coach Joe Coleman immediately after the game, entered the dressing room. Without fuss or bother, he made a quick round of the players' benches, pausing to commend each boy individually on the afternoon's work.

When he had finished, Pattison heaved a big sigh of relief and commented, "Man, that Odessa has one of the best teams in the state. They outscrapped us in that first half, and we had to come back to win. Our kids played a fine game. As I saw it, it was Odessa's game in the first half, and ours in the second."

Then someone asked the affable Lubbock mentor how he had felt when Odessa's Joe Childress had been tackled on Lubbock's three-yard line on the last play of the hectic struggle.

It Was A Close One

"Three-yard line!" Pattison exclaimed. "Man, was he that close? From where I was, I couldn't tell just how far he got — I just saw that we got him, and knew that the ball game was ours."

Garnet Reeves, a co-captain for this game, expressed a bit of general dressing room sentiment when he said, "What a game! We'll all be goin' to church tonight after that one, I think." He also praised the sportsmanship and clean play of the Odessa club.

Billy Wright, the other co-captain, chimed in with, "Odessa was hustling every play. We didn't play a top ball game, but we played an average ball game."

He Took Off

Charley Williams, whose 70-yard touchdown dash overhauled an early Broncho lead, was quite modest about the scoring sprint, stating, "I had some mighty nice blocking out there. I was just tryin' to get through the line when all of a sudden I found myself out in the clear—so I just ran like heck."

Likewise, Billy Presley didn't want individual credit for the extra point that preserved Lubbock's unblemished 1949 record. "Anybody can kick a point with blocking like that. Our boys really held 'em out—there wasn't anybody crowding me on it."

Bobby Brown, slipping off his sweat-stained No. 87 jersey, shook his head from side to side and mumbled, "That's the kind that makes your hair turn gray. We didn't look so good today. We were just out there—and we were lucky to come out on top."

Questioned about the two game-saving tackles he made on the final two plays, Brown answered, "There never was any doubt in my mind but that I could get to the ball carrier. I had the angle on him both times, so I tried to play it as safe as possible."

But there had been plenty of doubt in the mind of big Joe Brock, Westerner tackle who watched the game from upfield. Brock said, "I couldn't see very well what was happening down there in the corner, and I thought that Odessa boy was gone. I'll have nightmares about that play the rest of my life!"

To a man, Lubbock coaches and players lauded the Odessa team.

"Odessa has a better ball club than people give 'em credit for," said Assistant Coach Fred Taylor.

Center Doug Wienke commented, "Odessa had by far the best team we've played this year," to which Brown readily nodded agreement.

Two boys who didn't have much to say were Guard Freddie Gray and Fullback Malcolm Young, both on the ailing list. Gray was the day's only casualty, suffering a wrenched right knee which forced him from the game in the opening quarter. Young, weakened visibly by a series of intestinal disorders early Friday morning, had only a wan smile to offer when asked for comment. A person seeing the stocky fullback in the dressing room would have marveled that he had played at all this afternoon, so weak was his condition. It was Young's sickness, incidentally, that resulted in Wright's handling of punting chores for Lubbock in the late stages of the game.

All in all, the Westerners were a glad—and sad—bunch of boys. And they hoped that they never have to go through another game like this.

GAME GOSSIP — Contrary to popular belief, not much Lubbock money was left in Odessa because of the Westerners' narrow one-point squeak over the Bronchos. At the Elliott hotel, big pre-game meeting headquarters, most Odessans were demanding 15 points—and Lubbockites staunchly refused to go that high, although some did give 13 and 14 points for comparatively "small-scale" bets. A good bit of the wagering was done on an "even" basis, with Lubbock backers taking the Westerners to win and giving 3-1 and 4-1...Consensus of most fans who saw the game was that "Lubbock was lucky to win (as any team that gains a one-point verdict), but the Westerners did not 'luck out.' They slightly outplayed Odessa—as is shown in most statistical departments—and actually made more serious scoring threats...Would-be ticket scalpers definitely were thrown for a big loss. Whereas ducats had been in great demand here Thursday, there was a surplus today—and by game-time reserved seat tickets were being given away (free) at Broncho stadium gate entrances...Oddly, many fans left the stands with five minutes of play remaining and the two teams hooked up in a red hot duel. Don't ask us the cause of the spectators' departure. Apparently they just wanted to get out ahead of the post-game rush...Coaches Pat Pattison and Joe Coleman wasted no time in meeting each other at midfield immediately after the game's closing, thrilling tackle. Each poured forth his hearty congratulations to the other, with Coleman wishing Pattison the best of luck in future competition this year.

EARLY SPLURGE IS ENOUGH

Olton Captures 3-B Title With 19-8 Victory Over Hale Center

HALE CENTER, Nov. 11 (Special)—Olton's undefeated Mustangs rolled on their merry way in District 3-B, winning the conference title outright with a 19 to 8 victory over Hale Center's defending champion Owls before a crowd cut in size by high winds, cold and light rain sprinkles.

Olton's next opponent will be the Meadow Broncos of District 4-B in the Bi-District championship game. Game site is to be determined later.

A 13-point splurge by the Mustangs in the first quarter was all they needed for victory, although they added an insurance tally in the second canto.

Hale Center fought back, scoring a safety in the second quarter and their lone touchdown in the third stanza, but their rally fell short.

Halfback Gerald Allcorn, a dashing, wil-o-the-wisp back, turned in all three touchdowns for the Mustangs, and all on long gallops.

Allcorn sprinted 35 yards through right tackle for the first touchdown, with Jimmie Milsap adding the extra point, only one of the night.

Allcorn wasted no time in getting his second one, going 69 yards around right end to pay dirt. And his third tally came on a 32-yard jaunt into scoring territory.

On the kickoff following the second touchdown, Milsap was tackled in the end zone for an automatic safety. And the Owls added their final six points of the night in the third quarter when Quarterback Jerry Johnson passed to End Bobby Johnson, the play covering 35 yards.

Allcorn almost chalked up a fourth touchdown tonight, going 84 yards on the final play of the game, only to be bumped out of bounds just short of payoff area.

It was a clean game, one of the best of the year, with Hale Center drawing one infraction charge for five yards and Olton, two for 20. First downs also were about even, with Olton getting eight, Hale Center 11.

This is the first district championship for Olton since 1939 and tonight's game was the ninth consecutive conference win without defeat. Coach T. M. Cox's squad supplants Coach Ralph Huntington's as conference champions.

Pampa Blanks Plainview, 31-0; Lamesa Defeats Brownfield

Harvesters In District Lead

By KENNETH MAY
Avalanche Staff Writer

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 11. — The Pampa Harvesters took life easy here this afternoon as they sauntered to a 31-0 win over the hapless Plainview Bulldogs to tighten their grip on the District 1-AA lead.

Never breaking loose in what could be termed spectacular play, the Harvesters slowly and methodically ate up yardage every time they got the ball, while refusing to give the hosts sufficient yardage for more than three first downs.

The win gave Pampa a virtual cinch on at least half of the district crown since all the other three teams—Amarillo, Plainview and Borger—have lost at least one in conference play. The Harvesters' final game is with Borger Nov. 24.

Winds Hold Down Crowd

An Armistice day crowd of approximately 4,000 thinned by high winds and sand gathered in Bulldog Stadium for the afternoon fray, following a huge parade by the Plainview band, National guard unit, and the Mystic Shrine, held earlier in the day.

Thousands watched as Lt. Col. Lowell Sitton, commanding officer of the Plainview 36th division National Guard unit presented the Purple Heart to Houston T. Taylor of Plainview for injuries received in action on Oct. 27, 1918, during World War I.

Waiting until the first play of the second quarter before pushing across a score, the Harvesters' initial tally came as left Half Pete Cooper scurried over from the Bulldog one-yard line. The score climaxed a 67-yard drive from the Pampa 33 with Right Half Jimmy Hayes and Elmer Wilson dividing honors to rack up four first downs and place the ball in scoring position.

Harvesters Pick Time

The Harvesters picked their time for scoring throughout the remainder of the game, driving 47 more yards during the second quarter for another touchdown and a 13-0 lead at halftime. Other tallies came early in the third period and late in each the third and fourth quarters.

Hayes was the man to plunge the final four yards late in the second period for the marker which ended first half scoring. DeWey Cudney converted the extra point, missing on all his other tries.

A strong crosswind blowing from out of the southwest severely hampered any pass attacks which may have been planned by either Coach Tom Tipps of Pampa or W.C.O. Harris of Plainview. Strong gusts of wind and sand made punting and extra point kicking extremely unpredictable.

A Bulldog punt late in the final period from behind their own goal went 25 yards upfield, but was carried backwards by the wind to the Plainview 10, from where Pampa's John Young carried over for the final score of the game.

Smother Bulldog Hopes

Earlier in the game, however, the Harvesters took the kickoff following halftime and swept downfield 62 yards to smother any Bulldog hopes of a comeback. Hayes and Wilson again spearheaded the drive, with Carl Kennedy going over from one foot out after Wilson had ran 45 yards on a brilliant run off tackle and then failed in three successive attempts to make the remaining three yards to paydirt.

The resulting kickoff to Plainview found the Bulldogs unable to do anything with the ball, forcing them to punt and then watch helplessly as the visitors moved 84 yards downfield in the longest drive of the game to score again and lead 25-0 at the end of the third quarter. Pampa reserves finished out the game, scoring the final marker deep in the fourth period.

No Passes Completed

The Bulldogs were never even able to cross the midfield stripe into Harvester territory with the ball in their possession. Highly outclassed but fighters to the end, they found it impossible to make a showing even as Pampa coaches sent every member of its squad into the battle.

Plainview passed three times despite the high winds, completing none and having one intercepted by Harvester Center Leon Taylor just before the half ended. Pampa passed four times for three completions and 46 yards.

Only once were the visitors stymied on a touchdown drive, that when they had the ball on the Bulldog 19, were penalized 15 yards and could push only as far as the one yard stripe before the ball went over on downs midway of the second quarter. The Harvesters garnered 24 first downs during the game.

Lamesa Tops Cubs, 25 To 0

By JIMMIE HENLEY
Avalanche Staff Writer

LAMESA, Nov. 11 — Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes put together four pass interceptions for touchdowns here Friday afternoon as they took their first District 3-A win from the Brownfield Cubs by a 25-0 score before 1,200 Homecoming fans.

The Lamesans outplayed the Cubs throughout the game, racking up 13 first downs to the Cubs' 4 and gaining a net of 254 yards on the ground to the visitors' 80.

But the Tornadoes couldn't keep their offense rolling for their numerous fumbles, the worst of which set up for the Cubs deepest penetration. In the late third period John Franks recovered for Brownfield on the Tornado 18, but Ronald Chapman intercepted a pass for the Tornadoes two plays later to keep the Cubs out of the scoring.

The Tornadoes began their initial scoring drive as Delbert Dickenson intercepted Franks' pass and brought it back to the Cub 34. Larry Lattimore added 22 yards to the drive in three successive gains, followed by gains by Dick Echols and Chapman that put the Tornadoes on the nine yard line. From there Chapman darted around left end behind perfect blocking to paydirt. Hawkins added the only conversion point of the afternoon.

Early in the second period coach Bob Harrell's charges again took advantage of a pass interception, as Lattimore latched onto McNeill's pass on the 40 and paced back to the five yard line. After Lattimore and Chapman pushed the ball up to the one, Echols scooted around right end for a second T.D.

Later the same period Hawkins took Cary's pass on the Cub 44, where the Lamesa backfield took turns at carrying the ball to less than a yard of paydirt. There Hawkins plunged through for the count. Lattimore's attempted conversion failed as the strong northwest wind blew the ball beyond the uprights, as it did on two other occasions during the afternoon.

The Cubs slowed the Tornadoes down in the third period, as Billings and Chambliss went in to replace starting backs and to open the first threatening offensive play for the Cubs.

After a scoreless third quarter, the Tornadoes came back in the mid-fourth period as Dickenson intercepted Billy Patterson's pass on his own 33 yard line and raced down the sideline 67 yards for the final touchdown.

The Cubs squelched a Tornado drive late in the fourth period as John Thompson intercepted Jerry Millsap's pass on the Cub 30 yard line. Substitute fullback Don Hackney intercepted again for Lamesa, but the substitute team couldn't make gain.

Tornadoes Get Eight Thefts

Altogether the Tornadoes racked up eight pass interceptions to one for the Cubs. Lamesa punted four times for 99 yards and the Cubs gained 217 yards from six punts. The Lamesans were penalized five times for 55 yards and Brownfield received four penalties for 30 yards. Each team completed two passes.

Billy Patterson and John Franks led the Cub secondary, with able contribution from Billings and Chambliss. Howard Swan and Jimmy Milner paced the Brownfield line.

While taking part in but few of the important plays of the game, Echols led the Tornado backfield as he dashed around ends or through the center of the line to account for a large portion of Lamesa's yardage.

Lockney Longhorns Score Late To Drop Paducah Team, 19-7

PADUCAH, Nov. 11. (Special) — Lockney's Longhorns pushed over two fourth quarter touchdowns to down the Paducah Dragons, 19 to 7, here this afternoon in a District 3-A game played before an Armistice Day crowd of 2,500.

Lockney scored in the first quarter, but the Dragons scored and converted in the second frame for a 7 to 6 lead at the half. Both teams went scoreless in the third period, and the Longhorns won it on the last quarter touchdowns.

The Longhorns, coached by Curtis Kelley, rang up 15 first downs compared to 12 for the Dragons, coached by O. M. Isbell.

Ray Ferguson went 70 yards for the Lockney touchdown in the first quarter, but the conversion attempt by kicking was not good.

In the second quarter, the Dragons pushed Lockney back to the Longhorn one-yard line, and Lockney punted out. Pat Green took the kick for Paducah on the Longhorn 44 and ran it over from there.

Then H. A. Lee drop-kicked the extra point for the Dragons, quite a feat considering the high wind that swept the playing field.

In the fourth period, a drive of 70 yards ended with DeJuan Strickland going over from the one. The extra-point try was good.

Strickland counted again in the closing minutes of the game, climaxing a sustained drive by plunging over from two yards out. The conversion attempt failed.

Outstanding Longhorn players were Ferguson, Strickland, Tipp Jeffcoat and Robert Huckaby. For Paducah, the standouts were Hershel Stone, Lee, Green and Keith Slover.

Prior to the opening kickoff, Ruth Ann Fox was crowned football queen by the Paducah Dragons. At halftime, the Veterans of Foreign Wars staged an Armistice Day memorial program.

Halfbacks V. Thiel and W. Worley and Guards C. Shipp and F. Dunn scored all of the New Deal touchdowns.

Both teams played good ball, with New Deal rolling to 10 first downs to seven for the home club.

VICTORS TAKE OVER LOOP LEAD

Spur Bulldogs Outclass Ralls 29-0 In District 3-A Battle

SPUR, Nov. 11. (Spl.).— The Spur Bulldogs outchased the Ralls Jackrabbits 29-0 here this afternoon in a District 3-A conference game.

Today's victory gives Spur six wins this season and puts the Bulldogs in the lead in the district. The Bulldogs play Floydada next Friday at Floydada.

Coach Sam Hawks' Bulldogs received the kickoff and drove to the Ralls 37 yard line. They drew a 15-yard penalty and were forced to punt out on the 10 yard line.

Ralls then drew a five-yard penalty for being offside. Two plays later the Jackrabbits drew another penalty, this time for illegal use of hands.

Soon afterwards Dean Watson, Spur player, shot through and caught the Ralls carrier behind the line for two points.

Spur drove the ball down to the 11 yard line and Clyde Blair, right halfback, drove the ball over for a touchdown. Melvin Lindsey kicked the extra point.

Still in the first quarter, Blair went 10 yards for Spur's second touchdown. The extra point was again kicked by Lindsey.

In the second canto, Joe King, Spur left end, went 25 yards on an end-around for the Bulldogs' third score. In the third quarter, Lindsey went over for Spur's fourth touchdown. He also kicked the extra point.

Spur draw five penalties for a total of 55 yards. Ralls drew eight for 70 yards.

The Bulldogs made nine passes and completed four; there were no interceptions. The Jackrabbits passed three, completing one. Spur intercepted one pass.

Spur fumbled three times but recovered all three. The Ralls team made four fumbles and recovered three. The Bulldogs made 13 first downs while the Jackrabbits made three.

Coach Doc Brantley's Jackrabbits were outweighed by the Spur eleven by about 10 pounds. Although the Ralls team did not score, they scrapped gamely and kept up their defense measures to the end of the game.

Crosbyton's Chiefs Stage 14 To 6 Upset Over Floydada Squad

FLOYDADA, Nov. 11 (Special) — The Crosbyton Chiefs upset Floydada's Whirlwinds, 14-6, here this afternoon in a district 3-A clash in Wester field before approximately 1,200 fans.

The defeat knocked Floydada out of its erstwhile first-place tie with Spur. As matters now stand in District 3-A, Spur is on the top rung of the standings with only one defeat, while Floydada, Lockney and Crosbyton have suffered two setbacks each in conference competition.

Wind Cuts Passing

Forced to fight it out on the ground because of high winds, the two teams held their passing to a minimum. In the first quarter, the Whirlwinds fumbled on their own 44 and the Chiefs recovered. They began a downfield push that ended on the Floydada three-yard line when the ball was lost on downs.

As the quarter closed, Crosbyton was again in possession of the ball, this time on the Whirlwind 16.

Five plays into the second quarter, Chief Fullback Arnold Ratheal smashed over the line to score from the three. Quarterback Russell Hargis converted.

In the third quarter the lone Whirlwind tally was earned when Floydada punted down to the Chief eight and Crosbyton fumbled the following play. The ball was recovered by Whirlwind End Junior Perry on the one-foot-line. The next play Wayne Robertson, Floydada fullback, squeezed across for a TD. The conversion, attempted by Audrey Guthrie, was blocked.

In the final stanza, Ratheal intercepted a Whirlwind pass on the run and trotted 23 yards to score untouched. Hargin again converted.

Coach L. F. Gresham's Whirlwinds made four first downs for a total of 77 yards. They tried five passes, completing one for 23 yards.

Coach Fred Cunningham's Chiefs saw 12 first downs for a total of 186 yards gained and tried three passes, completing none.

Spade Eleven Bows To Dimmitt, 27 To 0

DIMMIT, Nov. 11 (Special)—The Spade Longhorns bowed to the Dimmit Bobcats today in a District 3-B conference game to the tune of 27-0. Playing on the Dimmit field before a crowd of about 500 fans, the Longhorns got off to a bad start in the first quarter and continued in that position until the final gun.

Coach J. W. Blaine's Bobcats tallied a lead of 13 points in the first quarter with Right Halfback Everett Wilkinson carrying the ball on line plunges for two touchdowns. Billy Hodges, Dimmit fullback, rounded out the quarter with an extra point via a line plunge.

The score remained static during the following two quarters with both teams trading the ball and jointly fighting heavy winds. A light rain further added to field difficulties.

Dimmit copped first down honors with a total of 14 against the visitor's 6.

In the final stanza, Wilkinson, Dimmit's top scorer of the day, plunged through the line for the third touchdown of the game. Again plunging through the line, Wilkinson added an extra point to Dimmit's already healthy score. The final score of the game came when Dimmit's Dale Maxwell carried the ball on an end around play. Billy Hodges made the extra point with a line plunge.

Seagraves Trounces Miles School, 33-0

SEAGRAVES, Nov. 11 (Special) —The Seagraves Eagles dropped Miles, 33-0, here tonight before 500 frozen fans in a non-conference game.

In the next quarter, Back Smith Bennett carried the ball 45 yards before he was down on the Miles one-yard-line. Bob Bales, fullback, pushed it over the goalstripe the next play. Bales ran the ball for the extra point.

Coach Frank Sonntag's Eagles pushed to the Miles 18 early in the third quarter and Smith went around end the next play to score. Later in the quarter Smith again tore over left tackle for an Eagle tally. Back Kenneth Hart ran the extra point.

In the final frame, Bennie Wright went around left end for eight yards and paydirt. Nelson Smith ran the extra point.

Seagraves linesmen handing in very creditable performances were Tommy Becknell, Billy Willis and Kenneth Davis.

Scalping Starts In Third Quarter

Morton's Indians Gain 31-0 4-A North Win Over Muleshoe

MULESHOE, Nov. 11. (Special) — Muleshoe's Wildcats were mauled, 31-0, by the Morton Indians here this afternoon in a District 4-A North tilt before about 250 fans.

The first two quarters saw little action from either team. They seesawed up and down the field with regularity. The fireworks began midway in the third frame when an Indian drive was climaxed by a two-yard plunge to paydirt by Morton Fullback Jimmy Coats. Coats ran the extra point.

The Indians really went on the warpath in the last quarter. Back Don Baldwin finished another Morton drive when he plowed eight yards to score. The attempt to convert failed.

Back Clifford Wall took a 55-yard screen pass from Quarterback Lanar Burns near the goal and went over to score. The conversion failed.

End Waydelle Hill took another of Burn's passes, this time from the 18-yard line, and scored. The try for the extra point failed.

A final Burns pass to Roy Smith rang up the final tally in the clash. The extra point try was unsuccessful.

HST Again Calls For Adoption Of Civil Rights Legislation

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11—President Truman spoke out anew today for his controversial civil rights program and asserted he does not see "how we can do otherwise" than adopt it.

"Americans all over the country are growing more and more aware of the importance of this problem," he said.

The President used an Armistice day address before the National Conference of Christians and Jews to re-emphasize his determination to demand passage of civil rights legislation when Congress returns next January.

"We must acknowledge that in the United States there are instances of discrimination and injustice because of difference in color, religion or national origin," he said.

"But we are working diligently to overcome these violations of the fundamental faith which holds us together. I have asked that our federal government take an active part in this effort to achieve greater justice. I have called for legislation to protect the rights of all citizens, to assure their equal participation in national life and to reduce discrimination based upon prejudice . . . "

During the last congressional session, the lawmakers were split far apart on the long-fought civil rights issue.

Southern Democratic senators effectively blocked the administration's early session drive to clear the way for enactment of anti-lynch, anti-poll tax and anti-job discrimination legislation. Congress adjourned without enacting a single phase of the program. Thus the big battle was postponed until 1950.

Senate majority leader Lucas (D-Ill) has served notice that two employment practices bills will probably be the first major issues tackled by Congress Jan. 3. The measure is intended to prevent racial or religious discrimination in hiring workmen.

Southern senators have made it clear they intend to filibuster against any such move.

Party Was Split

The President's civil rights program, as written into the Democratic party's 1948 platform, split the party. This resulted in the creation of a states' rights faction which nominated its own candidates in the presidential election last year.

Mr. Truman indirectly attacked religious and other forms of persecution in Russia and her satellite countries.

Without mentioning the Soviet bloc by name, he declared:

"In various parts of the world today, human rights and freedom are being deliberately violated and suppressed. Men and women are being systematically persecuted for their religious beliefs. Campaigns are being waged to turn religion into a tool of the state.

"These things are not only morally wrong—they threaten to undo the slow and hard-won achievements of civilization," he continued.

They represent a new barbarism, more terrible than that of ancient times. These are the acts of men who conceive of other men as slaves, not as brothers."

Countess' Poverty Helps Add Book To Library Collection

AUSTIN, Nov. 3 (INS)—Because a countess in Rome was poverty-stricken at the end of World War II, the University of Texas acquired an addition to its Byron collection, already one of the best in the world.

The Byron notebook was purchased for the university's Rare Book collection from a descendant of the Countess Guiccioli, a close friend of the poet's. Penciled in Italian, the memoranda written 130 years ago in the small green leather notebook are the subject of an article by Dr. Willis W. Pratt of the English department.

In the curren issue of "Studies in English," published by the University of Texas, Dr. Pratt analyzes the poet's notebook to illuminate certain traits of Byron's many-sided and still baffling personality.

Memos of household expenditures provide glimpses of Byron's daily life in Venice and Ravenna. Entries of the Countess Guiccioli are more dramatic, written at important moments in her relationship with the poet in the 1820's.

"Interest in the notebook lies in the curious vividness with which bits of Byron's living personality emerge from these intimate fragments," Dr. Pratt wrote.

Booker To Booker To Booker Leads Pumpers Astray

ATLANTA, Nov. 11 (AP)—The fire wagons went Booker to Booker to Booker, but the hooker got to Booker too late and so did the pumps.

The telephoned alarm last night was for Booker street, but which one, northwest or southwest? They tried both. No fire.

Assistant Chief H. G. Pierce, meanwhile, found the fire at Booker avenue, southwest. By the time the hook and ladder truck and the pumpers arrived, two houses had been destroyed.

New Cabinet Official Named

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—President Truman today selected Oscar L. Chapman for secretary of the interior as he accepted the resignation of Julius A. Krug in a warm note which overlooked reported differences on policy.

Chapman, 53, will climax 16 1/2 years of service with the department when he takes over December 1. He has been undersecretary since 1946 after three years as assistant secretary.

The hefty 6-foot-4 Krug resigned in an exchange of friendly letters with Mr. Truman. Krug's stated reason: "We have done a pretty good job of accomplishing objectives."

Regret Expressed

Agreeing, Mr. Truman recalled that Krug had often said he wanted to quit and this left no alternative but to accept his resignation "reluctantly and with sincere regret." The letter began "Dear Cap," which is Krug's nickname.

There was little, if any, hint of reported cooling relations between Mr. Truman and the man he named in March, 1946, to take the place vacated by Harold L. Ickes.

Mr. Truman in recent weeks had frowned on some ideas of the department's reclamation bureau, and he had vetoed a Navajo rehabilitation bill because it had an amendment making the Indians subject to state law. Krug was said to have okayed this amendment.

In his letter of resignation, Krug told the President:

Need Emphasized

"The people of the West appreciate your personal understanding of the urgent need for developing our natural resources. There is no other way of providing decent job opportunities for our people. I am sure you will not accept the 'status quo' way of thinking, which in my opinion, exaggerates the concern of some who are worried about their future livelihood in their own communities."

The President assured Krug he was not accepting the status quo. He said "hostility to change is too often inspired by narrow timidity and selfish fear."

No Changes Planned

Chapman, who will be given a recess appointment subject to Senate confirmation next January, told reporters that he has no changes in mind in policy or personnel.

Chapman said at a news conference that for many years he has favored the Columbia Valley authority, a vast development proposal backed by the administration and which is a subject of controversy in Congress.

He expressed interest in developing natural resources, particularly in the West.

Chapman said he strongly favors statehood for Alaska and Hawaii.

Chapman's appointment will put two Denver, Colo., men in the cabinet. The other is Secretary of Agriculture Brannan.

Two Fliers Are Killed In Crash

(By International News Service)

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 11 — Two airmen were killed today when their parachutes failed to open as they bailed out of their blazing B-29 superfort near Indianapolis.

Identity of the victims was withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Five members of the 12-man crew were injured in their leap from the four-engined bombe. before it plunged to earth after the ship caught fire in the air and fell apart.

Sounds Emergency

Lt. Robert Carstrom of Minneapolis, pilot of the plane who was unhurt, said he was forced to sound emergency alarm when the intercom system failed as he tried to order the crew to "hit the silk."

Included among the crew, in addition to Carstrom, were:

Capt. Henry F. Rearies, 1st. Lt. Gilliland, 1st Lt. Ernest Nation, 1st Lt. Stephen Ofarczuk, Lt. Norman Eisch, T-Sgt. Allan Pattison, T-Sgt. Earl I. Sanders, Sgt. Blake, Ralph Esch.

The bomber, attached to the 830th Bombardment squadron of the 509th bomb group at Roswell Air Force base, N. M., was on a non-stop flight to Indianapolis and was scheduled to continue on to Norfolk, Va.

None Believed Serious

Two of the men were given blood transfusions but none was considered seriously hurt.

Witnesses said they saw nearly a dozen men jump from the blazing four-engined ship before it hit the ground and apparently exploded some 10 miles northwest of the Indiana capital.

Wreckage of the plane was scattered over an area of several miles.

Some of the injured men were taken to the Veterans Administration hospital in Indianapolis and others were sent to Billings General hospital at Harrison Air Force base 10 miles east of the city.

On Routine Flight

The huge craft was on a routine training flight.

One of the injured crew members said there were GI passengers aboard the bomber "just for the ride."

A civilian pilot and his passenger in a light plane crashed nearby when they attempted an emergency landing to aid the stricken airmen after seeing the bomber fall.

The passenger, Floyd Davis, said that pilot Robert W. Randall was coming down for a quick landing when the single-engined Piper Cub struck the ground.

Shaw.

Bollinger said the fire broke out "about two minutes after the wind suddenly shifted from the west to the north." He said ginning operations probably will be slowed until insurance surveys can be made, although the gin itself was not damaged.

He said that a large crowd of spectators and automobiles hampered effort to fight the fire, blocking the movement of vehicles trying to move burning trailers away from the gin.

Several of the volunteer firefighters received burns to their hands, and others had their eyebrows singed.

NO DAMAGE CAUSED BY BLAZE AT BROWNFIELD

BROWNFIELD, Nov. 11. (Spl.). High winds fanned a surplus burr pile into flames at the Travis gin in the north part of town about 1 p. m. today, but the blaze was brought under control without any damage.

Sheriff Ocie Murry said the volunteer fire department and other firefighters brought the fire into check. Because of the high winds, the blaze was considered a threat to the gin.

Lewis Okays Talks

under authorization of the committee, any conference that may be convened within policy of the organization which has to do with a constructive solution."

Ching, when informed in Washington of Lewis' statement, told newsmen he had no present plans for any new meeting in the coal dispute and would do nothing over the weekend. Ching added:

"There will be no governmental action before Monday at the earliest."

Operator Chief Comments

Commenting on Lewis' oblique bid to the operators to renew bargaining, Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers association, asserted in Washington:

"Unless Lewis is more specific and shows some signs of modifying his previous position, there is no use in resuming negotiations."

The government's attitude, meanwhile, remained firm in the face of the union threat to renew their strike at midnight Nov. 30. Miners had returned to work in good force under Lewis' instructions to recess the 52 day strike for three weeks.

Ching and Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman held a second coal strike strategy conference in Washington today while government officials expressed fear that Lewis may refuse to submit the dispute to a fact finding board.

It was believed Ching and Steelman were planning a move to be made the first of next week.

Administration sources strongly favor use of the procedure employed in the steel pension dispute to attempt settlement of the coal controversy.

At his news conference at the Ritz-Carlton hotel in New York Lewis said that while he is willing to meet with government representatives "any time," he does not see any need of a fact-finding board to study the long-deadlocked coal dispute.

"This is a controversy between the operators and the workers and both parties are completely familiar with the facts," declared Lewis.

Lewis said he came to New York on "United Mine Workers business," adding that a number of conferences will take place while he is in the city, where many of the large mine companies make their headquarters.

Asked what action he foresaw if the deadlock continues until Nov. 30—the new deadline—he replied:

"I am unable to prophesize."

The husky, bushy-browed union leader was affable with the newsmen who crowded into his swanky hotel suite.

His demeanor was polite and his language mild in comparison to his usual colorful rhetoric. He gave one flash of his familiar self, however, when at one point he declared:

"The mine workers are not quarry slaves to be scourged to their dungeons. They ask for fair treatment. They haven't received it.

"We have been in negotiation since last May. The results have been abortive in the face of increased prosperity.

"The mine workers ask participation in increased productivity and will continue to press for same on a fair basis."

Lewis posed amiably for photographers, although earlier he had refused to pose, remarking: "You have a few pictures of me in your library. I beg to be excused."

Official Says Reds Stockpiling A-Bombs

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (INS)—Secretary of the Navy Matthews declared tonight that Russia as well as the United States is stockpiling atomic bombs.

Matthews' statement contradicted assertions of Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky that Russia is developing atomic energy solely for peaceful purposes.

Addressing the Association of Military surgeons, the Navy secretary said that as a result of atomic discoveries in the United States and Russia "the setting is perfect for the end of society—perhaps, even for the end of human life." He declared:

"The force for the potential end of human society is within the possession of two nations—the United States and Russia.

"Each has the secret of atomic energy. Each is building a stockpile of atomic bombs.

"Each is controlled by a philosophy of human existence that is utterly irreconcilable with that of the other. One of the two boldly says that the two philosophies cannot survive in one world."

New Greenhouse To Be Ready On Baylor Campus In Few Days

WACO, Nov. 3 (INS) — Construction will be completed in a few days on a greenhouse and workroom for the carrying on of biology experiments at Baylor university.

Dr. Cornelia W. Smith, chairman of the Baylor biology department, said that the department will encourage advanced students to use the greenhouse for individual research projects as well as fulfilling of class assignments.

The scientist said that the greenhouse is being built in accordance with latest scientific needs for experimentation in plant life.

Bins are provided, she said, for various types of soil to be used in determining the suitability for the growing of different types of plants. Provisions have also been made for the collection of rainwater for hydroconic experiments and to show a comparison on the effects produced on plants between rainwater and city water.

The darkroom of the greenhouse is equipped with facilities for checking growth of plants under lack of sunlight as well as development of photographic needs.

Coolers and heaters are installed to regulate temperature and and temperature desired can be obtained in the building

Increased World Bank Activity Aids U. S. In Cold War Struggle

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Banking activities are usually prosaic. Not so with the International Bank for Reconstruction and development, better known as the World bank.

This organization is helping win the "cold war" for the democracies by lending money to Russian satellites to make it possible for them to break their ties with the Kremlin.

It is also making a start on the "bold new program" to aid economically-undeveloped foreign areas.

In the following article, bank Vice-President Robert L. Garner describes its activities.)

By ROBERT L. GARNER
(Vice President, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development. Written Expressly For INS)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4—The International Bank for Reconstruction and development, popularly known as the World bank, has entered a period of expanding operations. The marked increase in tempo of the bank's work may be seen in two principal activities—in the amount of loans which it recently has been able to make; and in the varied services, other than financial assistance, which the bank is rendering its member nations on an increasing scale.

Lending operations — which mean assisting in financing sound and productive projects in its member countries—are of course the bank's principal activity. In the past three months alone the bank has granted loans totaling $66,500,000 for productive projects in Europe, Latin America and the Far East.

Large Benefits Expected

The most recent loans are two, made on Oct. 17, of $2,300,000 and $2,700,000 to Finland and Yugoslavia, respectively, for the purchase of timber producing equipment. These loans illustrate how a relatively small investment in productive machinery can produce relatively large beneficial results for an entire area. The loans are part of a timber equipment project designed to meet the recurrent shortages of timber in Europe. In addition to the machinery financed by the bank's loan, Finland and Yugoslavia will obtain other timber cutting equipment in about the same amount from western European countries.

Best available estimates indicate that the machinery obtained from these two sources will enable Finland and Yugoslavia to increase their annual timber exports to western Europe by amounts having a value several times as large as the amounts of the bank's loans. Of course these exports can be expected to continue long after the loans are repaid. And the timber-importing countries of western Europe, under the project, will pay dollars to the bank for a sufficient part of the timber imported to ensure repayment of the bank's loan.

Other Loans Made

Other loans made by the bank in the last three months include: $44 million to India for the development of her railways and for heavy machinery to increase her agricultural production; $5 million to Colombia for modern agricultural machinery; and $12,500,000 to the Bank of Finland for the modernization of her woodworking industries, and for the expansion of production of electric power and of limestone powder used in agriculture. Total loans made by the bank to date now stand at $731,600,000.

The main emphasis in the bank's lending operations is now on development loans—on assisting in the development of the productive facilities and resources of the bank's less developed members. The increased tempo of the bank's activities does not mean that some magic formula has been found which has suddenly made development loans possible. This expanded activity is the result of painstaking work and careful preparation on the part of both the bank and its member countries.

Accurate Knowledge Needed

Before making any loan the bank must have accurate knowledge of the general economic situation and fiscal policies of the prospective borrowing country; of its ability to repay the loan; and of the technical soundness of the projects proposed for financing.

It is in this field that the bank is rendering greatly increased services to its member nations. In addition to the loans made, additional projects in about twenty countries are now under active investigation. In still other countries the bank is investigating how it can help most constructively in the solution of their problems.

And there has been a marked increase in the amount of technical asistance furnished by the bank to member countries at their request.

It may be expected that the activities of the international bank will continue at the accelerated pace.

to Lubbock from Seagraves, was switching at the time. It was thought to be traveling at a speed of about 25 miles an hour. No one knew how fast the James automobile was traveling.

Observers said the car was hit by the pilot at the front of the train. Others said the crash appeared to have been almost a head-on collision. The railroad track intersects the highway at an angle.

Car Pins Victims

The father and the youngest son, Dwayne, were pinned inside the crushed automobile for several minutes before onlookers who rushed to the scene were able to extricate them. The dead boy was thrown several feet from the car by the impact, it was said.

Mrs. Norman James, mother of the two boys and wife of the older man, who was at the family home in Hobbs, was notified and was en route to Brownfield tonight, Brownfield Funeral home said. Funeral arrangements for Sammie James had not been made late tonight.

Investigation of the accident was made by Deputy Buel Powell, of the Terry county Sheriff's department.

The death brought the South Plains traffic fatality toll to 18 in the past 13 days and to 75 for the year with more than 625 persons injured. Ten persons have been killed in the past six days.

Slavs Ready To Hold Out To End, Tito Says

BELGRADE, Nov. 11 (AP)—Marshal Tito asserted tonight that 98 per cent of the Yugoslav people are behind his independent government in its fight with the Russian-led Cominform. They "are ready to hold out to the end," he said.

"There is no place for hesitation," Tito told a delegation representing Yugoslavia's official press. "And there is no place for resitators among us."

He talked frankly with the Yugoslav newsmen about the Cominform's campaign against his government which began nearly 20 months ago and which has resulted in an economic boycott against this country, border incidents, propaganda and pressure in a family war in the Balkans.

Tito said that the situation had eased as compared to a year ago. Then, he said, the government did not know how the Yugoslav people would react to the break with Russia and her satellites in the Cominform group of nations. Now the situation has become easier, he added, "because we know that the whole people is united."

A Lubbock man taken into custody early Friday on charges of impersonating an officer was turned over to Texas Highway patrol officials for investigation on information supplied by a car dealer here.

The dealer, C. B. Conditt, owner of a used-car lot at 1502 Texas Ave., told officers the suspect, representing himself as a highway patrolman, had taken a car from the lot for a trial run. When he failed to return after a reasonable time, Conditt said, a check on the man's identity was made and the alleged impersonation was discovered.

The man was arrested when he returned to the lot with the car some time later.

The union chief pledged the union's co-operation in carrying out the pact, then turned and shook hands with Stephens.

Stephens told newsmen:

"I should assume that in the course of four or five days we will be going along at a pretty good clip." He added:

Gains Are Cited

"Our employes shall be still further ahead in the ranks of industrial workers as a result of this pact."

Smiling broadly, the Big Steel executive declared:

"I can think of no more appropriate day than Armistice Day to bring this thing to a conclusion."

Murray, asked about status of other negotiations, said:

"We hope to conclude an agreement with Inland Steel and Wheeling (W. Va.) steel tomorrow and with the Allegheny Ludlum corporation on Monday of next week."

Murray said end of the strike against Big Steel eliminates any threat to the nation's economy through a shortage of steel.

Fairless Makes Statement

U. S. Steel President Benjamin F. Fairless, who spearheaded industry's fight against footing the entire bill for worker welfare, said in a prepared statement:

"Negotiations during the past few days between U. S. Steel and the United Steelworkers of America, CIO, have resulted in an agreement, which was signed by both parties in Pittsburgh today.

"The union strike against U. S. Steel will come to an end at 12:01 a. m. (EST) on Saturday, Nov. 12. This settlement follows in its most important provisions those previously concluded by the union with other major steel companies. It represents a compromise of the principle issue in dispute, mainly, whether or not the employer shall pay the entire cost of insurance and pensions for employes. The new insurance and pension arrangement is subject to approval by the stockholders of U. S. Steel Corp.

Special Meeting Indicated

"It is expected that a special meeting of stockholders will be called for that purpose. The new insurance and pension program will continue in effect for five years subject to the right of U. S. Steel to terminate the pension plan at the end of two years if it so desires.

"Under the settlement, U. S. Steel and the employes will each pay one-half of the cost of a program of insurance for employes including death, sickness, accident and hospitalization benefits, the total cost of such program to be five cents for each hour of work.

"The settlement further provides that an employe who retires after Feb 28, 1950, after attaining the age of 65 and having at least 25 years of continuous service shall receive a pension computed in accordance with a formula based upon his compensation and length of service, such pension to be not less than $100 a month including social security benefits.

U. S. Steel To Bear Cost

"The cost of such pensions will be borne by U. S. Steel. However, the pension to be paid by U. S. Steel shall be reduced by the amount of any pension or annuity which such retired employe is entitled to receive under the Federal social security act or other similar legislation.

"The federal social security act requires equal contribution by employers and employes. To that extent, pensions under this settlement are upon a contributory basis.

"The previous labor contract setting forth rates of pay and the like, which by their terms expire on April 30, 1950, are continued in effect until Dec. 31, 1951, with the right on the part of either party to reopen these contracts a year hence with respect only to a general and uniform change in the hourly wage scale.

"We welcome the conclusion of the strike and the resumption of steel operations, which will enable us to do our part in meeting the steel needs of the nation."

New Typhoon Whips Through Still Staggering Philippines

MANILA, Saturday, Nov. 12. (AP)—A typhoon last night whipped through the central Philippines, still staggering from a savage storm which left 832 dead or missing only 10 days ago.

The Weather bureau said the center of the typhoon, with 70-mile-an-hour winds, passed within 15 miles of Iloilo, capital of populous Panay island. The previous typhoon had much higher winds.

The bureau was in touch with Iloilo and still had received no report of damage there.

Broderick Crawford To Be Given Role In Long Delayed Casting Of 'Born Yesterday'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 11.—After seeing Broderick Crawford in "All the King's Men," I would say Harry Cohn ought to have his head examined if he didn't put Brod in "Born Yesterday." Well, I can now tell you definitely that Mr. Cohn is wise enough to give Brod the role that Paul Douglas created on the stage, and this is definite and verified. It's the first authentic casting on this long-delayed motion picture.

"All the King's Men" gives Brod an opportunity that every actor must dream about. He is so good you wonder where's he's been all these years.

Now I wonder what there is left for Jimmy Cagney in "A Lion Is In the Street," the stories are so similar, and are, I suppose, actually a composite picture of Huey Long.

Ireland Plays Reporter

Speaking of "All the King's Men," John Ireland, who plays the reporter (he reminds me a little of Henry Fonda) draws "The Killer Who Stalked New York" as his next. He plays a jewel smuggler, with Evelyn Keyes as the gal in his life. Quite a departure from the reporter in "All the King's Men."

I was greatly interested in Mercedes McCambridge, who plays the tough but efficient secretary in "All the King's Men." She is a radio actress and does as many as five shows a day. She's so well paid that she is indifferent to movies. I wish she weren't, because we could use her on the screen.

Dedication Of New Building At Girlstown Set For Dec. 13

Dedication of a 32 bedroom residence at Girlstown, U. S. A., eight miles south of Whiteface, has been postponed from Sunday until Dec. 13, Miss Amelia Anthony, founder and director of Girlstown, has announced.

The building, construction of which opened Aug. 13, has not been completed, due to delay in obtaining materials and due to shortage of labor.

At the time construction opened, Nov. 13, was set as the goal for completion and many persons have aided in the effort to meet the goal. Lubbock men have donated labor two days' weekly, while receiving pay for five days.

'Careless' Stroller Jailed For Smoking Dope In Galveston

HOUSTON, Nov. 11 (AP) — A 31-year-old Galveston shoe shiner was having a smoke and a stroll last night.

Police Patrolman J. T. Cockrell strolled by the stroller and didn't like the smell of the smoke.

The stroller's cigarette turned out to be marihuana and he had 40 more just like it in a pocket.

Cockrell took the man to the police station, where jailer V. V. Irby remarked:

"Man, you must be crazy, smoke a marihuana cigarette right out on the street."

"I ain't crazy," the shoe shiner replied. "Just careless."

Operation To Save Sight Of Young Portland Girl Delayed

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 11 (INS) — A swollen cataract and inflamation in the blind left eye of 12-year-old Mary Hope Hodgdon, Portland's "last eye" girl, prompted surgeons today to postpone a delicate sight-saving operation on her good right eye for the second time in a week.

Surgeons at the Elk's Eye clinic where the operation will be performed, said the unexpected condition will cause a delay of four or five days.

Mary Hope, the "eyes" of her blind parents, has eagerly waited for the operation since last June when the first part of the surgery was performed.

The operation originally was set for Thursday, then postponed to Saturday after the inflamation was discovered.

Surgeons explained that cataract growths are most susceptible to minor injuries.

Ambassador William de Courcy, Paul Cassagnol, vice president of the Haiti Chamber of Commerce, and Web Maddox, president of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce spoke at the luncheon.

Maddox said in an interview, "I am impressed by the works of the international bicentenaire exposition in Port au Prince. I will ask my people to come down here in December."

Secretary of State Vilfort Beauvoir, Under-Secretary of Tourism Jean Brierra, and Under-Secretary of Commerce Andre Theard also attended the lunch.

War Dead Honored Throughout Nation

Leaders Stress Armed Strength

(By The Associated Press)

Americans paid respect Friday to the dead of two world wars while the nation's military leaders counseled full preparedness against a third.

President Truman placed a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National cemetery. He spoke at a conference of Christians and Jews, declaring the unknown fighting man's grave symbolizes the nation's faith and unity.

"No American knows, and no real American cares, whether that man was a Catholic, a Jew or a Protestant, or what his origin and color were," the President said, calling for an end to discrimination and injustice.

Preparedness Urged

Top defense officials sounded the preparedness note.

"Weakness breeds war . . . strength commands respect and discourages war," Secretary of Defense Johnson said at St. Louis.

Secretary of Air Symington laid heavy emphasis on the waste of war, in human lives and natural resources. World War II, he said, caused more than a million American casualties. The two world conflicts, he added, used up such national resources as coal and iron and oil and timber at an alarming rate.

"It doesn't take a military or political expert to see that those facts and figures mean that we must do everything in our power to prevent recurrence of those international disasters called 'world wars'," he said at Welch, W. Va.

Cost Estimated

Gordon Gray, secretary of the Army, told a Greenville, N. C. audience that the monetary cost of the second world war may eventually run to more than $1,000,000,000,000 (one trillion).

That's about $6,700 apiece for each American now living.

Gray counselled that the United States keep its military establishment at a high level of excellence. To do so, he said, might discourage another war, or insure victory if an aggressor struck.

He asked that the draft act be kept and that universal military training be inaugurated.

Secretary Johnson said Americans have learned to accept the word armistice "in its literal sense—the cessation of physical combat."

Day Of Notice

"We accept Armistice Day as worthy of celebration," he said, "but we also take it as a day of notice, notice to us that though the guns be stilled, the fight for the right and the light against the evil and the dark is everlasting and demands eternal vigilance."

George N. Craig, Legion commander, spoke in the Arlington amphitheater, up a green hill from the Unknown Soldier's tomb.

He noted that this Armistice day was "within the dark shadow of the atomic bomb." He said that one reason for this was the failure of the United States and other nations to achieve enduring peace after the first world war.

Secretary of State Acheson placed a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier at the Arc De Triomphe in Paris.

LUBBOCK MORNING AVALANCHE

Lubbock, Texas, Saturday, November 12, 1949

More Farmers Slashing Prices

Farmers of the Wilson community met Friday afternoon and set price of cotton pulling in that area at $2 and $1.75.

All parts of the community were represented in the meeting that set price of gin delivered cotton at $2 per hundred or $1.75 in the field, H. G. Cook reported.

Similar meetings were to be held at other points in the area last night and today, but no additional details were available.

Farmers To Discuss Harvesting Pay Cut

SHALLOWATER, Nov. 11. (Special)—Farmers from all over the county are invited to attend another meeting of cotton farmers to be held at 7:30 p. m. Saturday in the clubhouse here. The meeting will concern their decision to cut bollpulling prices to $1.75 per hundred.

The proposal is to go into effect the first of next week.

The movement to slash pulling prices was encouraged earlier by frost and other conditions which have lowered the grade of cotton so that farmers cannot break even at current labor wages, George Leftwich, spokesman for the group stated.

MANY FEARED MISSING

TOKYO, Saturday, Nov. 12 (AP)—The Japanese maritime safety board today reported a small ship carrying about 50 passengers sank this morning in Japan's inland sea and only four persons were known to be safe. Cause of the sinking was not given.

The Assyrians and Babylonians made clay wall tiles and decorated them with colored glazes as early as the 9th century B. C.

Immediate Start Planned On Explorer

Drilling To Begin On New Borden Wildcat

Standard Oil company of Texas No. 1-6 T. L. Griffin is to be a 9,000-foot rotary wildcat to find and test the Ellenburger in Southeast Borden county, six miles northwest of Vincent.

The prospector will be 660 feet from north and west lines of section 35, block 25, H&TC survey.

The drillsite is nine miles west of operator's No. 1 Dunn, Canyon lime discovery in Northwest Mitchell county, which was recently completed.

Drilling with rotary tools is to begin immediately.

LYNN COUNTY WILDCAT TO EXPLORE PENNSYLVANIAN

Fullerton Oil company No. 1 T. S. Reed is to be a 10,000-foot wildcat in northwest Lynn county to explore into the Pennsylvanian lime.

Unofficial sources report that location of the venture is to be at the center of the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section 39, block E, EL&RR survey. Drilling is slated to start in the near future.

The drillsite is about two miles northwest of the Mound Lake field in northwest Terry county where Seaboard Oil company of Delaware has two completed producers from the Canyon lime.

PERMISSION SOUGHT FOR THREE SCURRY WILDCATS

Ryan, Mays & Burke of San Antonio have filed an application with the Railroad commission of Texas requesting a permit to drill three Canyon lime explorations on the Santa Fe Railway company right of way in north central Scurry county.

Each of the projects will be in undeveloped areas to the southwest of the North Snyder field. All are contracted to 7,000 feet.

No. 1 Panhandle & Santa Fe Railway company will be 467 from northwest and west lines of the lease in section 338, block 97, H&TC survey.

Operations are to begin at this venture by Dec. 15.

Location for No. 2 Panhandle & Santa Fe Railway company is to be 11,350 feet from northwest and 40 feet from west lines of the lease in section 18, block 1, J. P. Smith survey. It will begin drilling around Jan. 15, 1950.

The third development, No. 3 Panhandle & Santa Fe Railway company is to be 3,233 feet from south and 40 feet from west lines of the lease in section 178, block 3, H&GN. That puts this prospector slightly more than one mile east of Standard-Fryer Drilling company No. 1 Wilkinson, Canyon lime discovery between the North Snyder and Kelley-Canyon fields.

No. 3 Panhandle & Santa Fe Railway company will begin operations by Feb. 15, 1950.

THREE NORTH SNYDER FIELD WELLS COMPLETED

Completion has been made on three new flowing producers from the Canyon lime reef in the North Snyder field of North Central Scurry county.

Castleman & O'Neil No. 1 H. O. Beard was completed for a calculated 24-hour potential of 1,168 barrels of 43-gravity oil, flowing natural through a 48/64th-inch tubing choke. Gas-oil ratio was 900-1. No formation water was reported.

It was completed from open hole between the 7-inch oil string set at 6,670 feet and the total depth at 6,827 feet.

The new well is 467 feet from north and east lines of the lease in section 19, block 1, J. P. Smith survey.

Ramsey Petroleum company of Dallas, No. 1 L. S. Sentell was completed as a one-mile east extension to Canyon lime production on the southeast side of the North Snyder field.

Flowing through open tubing for six hours, the well rated a calculated 24-hour potential of 399.6 barrels of 43-gravity oil and no water from perforations between the top of the pay at 6,798 feet and the total depth at 6,950 feet. The pay section was treated with 6,000 gallons of acid.

Topping the reef at 6,798 feet the well had a minus datum of 4,308 feet.

Gas-oil ratio of the petroleum was 347-1.

Texas Joins In Paying Homage

(By The Associated Press)

Armistice Day in Texas was marked by services honoring the war dead and solemn words of advice that the nation must be prepared for either peace or war.

The parades and services were as much for the end of World War II on Sept. 2, 1945, as they were for World War I on Nov. 11, 1918.

Almost every city and town of the state paid some form of respect to the veterans of the two wars.

Parade Held At Austin

In Austin thousands of spectators lined both sides of Congress avenue for a parade of bands, servicemen, veterans and officials. Jet fighters swished overhead.

At an Armistice high mass in St. Mary's cathedral in Austin, the Rev. Clement H. Funke, state chaplain of the Catholic War Veterans, warned against any compromise with those who do not believe in God in arranging for a world peace.

"With these enemies of God and country we can have no part, for if they have no regard for the laws of God, neither will they respect the rights of man," he said.

Gold Star Wives Meet

In Dallas the Gold Star Wives organization gathered in a small group at the field of honor at Restland Memorial park.

"We are neither at peace nor at war," Col. Cecil E. Combs, deputy commander of the Eighth Air Force in Fort Worth, said at a Dallas luncheon. "War might be cheaper and simpler if we were picking the date when it would begin. We don't propose to pick the date."

He warned that "a World War III—or Atomic War I—will bring misery to the winner, destruction to the loser."

In Fort Worth, airmen from Carswell Air Force base joined Marines, sailors and veterans in a giant parade. Maj. Gen. Roger M. Ramey, Eighth Air Force commander, spoke at a reunion of World War I fliers.

Fighter planes formed an escort for Houston's street parade. Former U. S. Rep. Martin Dies was a featured speaker.

Schools closed in Kilgore and Hillsboro for all day observances.

American Legion groups from Kingsville and Corpus Christi and a delegation from the San Antonio livestock show appeared in a parade at Kingsville. Three B-29 bombers and two jet fighters flew overhead.

A parade in Electra included units from Sheppard Air Force base, school bands from Electra, Iowa Park and Holliday, and mounted delegations from Wichita Falls, Olney and Frederick, Okla. State Senator George Moffett of Lowell Sitton, commander of the 36th division of the National Guard at Plainview, Friday, for wounds received Oct. 27, 1918, while fighting in France during World War I. The Purple Heart award was not recognized by Congress until 1932, partially accounting for the delay in presenting it to Taylor. SLIGHT INCREASE REPORTED

More Than 3.5 Billion Pounds Of Farm Goods Bought By U. S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11—The Agriculture department reported today that 3,519,000,000 pounds of farm and agricultural products were delivered to the government in July under various federal buying programs.

The July figure represents a slight increase over the 3,210,000,000 pounds delivered during the previous month.

Grain Leads List

Biggest farm product category purchased by federal authorities was grain and grain products which accounted for 2,591,000,000 pounds.

Other items included: 472 million pounds of fats, oils and oil-bearing products, except peanuts; 269 million pounds of sugar; 63 million pounds of potatoes and potato products; 56 million pounds of Mexican canned meat; 55 million pounds of peanuts; nine million pounds of dairy and poultry products; and four million pounds of tobacco.

Deliveries to the Army, largely for civilian relief feeding in occupied areas, made up the main part of the purchases, accounting for 2,029,000,000 pounds. Commodities shipped under the foreign aid program amounted to almost 849 million pounds.

Meanwhile, the department said that recent swine losses in the midwest may have been caused by a form of hog-cholera virus never before recognized by scientists.

The department's bureau of animal industry draws this conclusion after having made field investigations in Iowa, Nebraska, and Minnesota.

The bureau says that the losses occurred during the past summer following vaccination with anti-hog-cholera serum and hog-cholera virus.

Dallas Man Dies Of Wounds After Gun Battle In Street

DALLAS, Nov. 11 (AP) — A 37-year-old Dallas negro died today of shotgun wounds following a gun battle in the street before his house.

He was Willie K. Jackson. Deputy sheriffs said Jackson, with a rifle, had engaged in a gun duel with a 30-year-old negro using a sawed-off shotgun.

The battle, which began about 10 p. m. last night, revolved around a pickup truck. There were five rifle bullet holes in the cab and the windshield and rear window glass had been shattered by shotgun blasts.

Rats Threaten Valley Crops

(By The Associated Press)

RIO GRANDE CITY, Nov. 11.—A plague of hungry rats threatens the lush vegetable crops along the Rio Grande river bottoms near this South Texas city.

County Agricultural agents report the large rats devouring tomatoes and green peppers as high as a foot off the ground. There is one report of rats eating citrus fruits.

Stemming from a slow methodical migration which began about three weeks ago near La Grulla, Tex., 15 miles east of here, the hordes of field, pack and kangaroo rats have swarmed over between 4,000 and 5,000 acres of fertile farm land. The invasion stretches almost 15 miles along the Rio Grande and in some places is one and two miles wide.

J. B. Talcott, Starr county farm agent, said today that farmers may or may not be able to check the tide with poison grain. More than 1,000 pounds of grain poisoned with strychnine have been distributed. He kept his office open throughout Armistice day to help the farmers.

In San Antonio federal rodent control officials estimated it would take two or three tons of poison grain to stop the rats.

"I think we are doing pretty good against them, but it would help a lot if the farmers near La Joya would get poison grain too," Talcott said. La Joya is just outside of Starr county in Hidalgo.

Talcott said he had heard of similar rat migrations in other areas but not in the Rio Grande valley where the lush crops offer abundant food.

Other Invasions Reported

Large populations of rats also have been reported in the citrus belt around McAllen and Mission, east of here.

J. A. Oswalt, Hidalgo county agent, recalled a plague of rats about six or seven years ago which destroyed tomatoes in the Edcouch area, 15 miles northeast of McAllen.

"Apparently the rat population builds up the way grass hoppers do sometimes," Talcott said. "They reach the point where they have to move or starve."

Talcott said he believed there were two causes for the rats spreading so rapidly. One, because of the ripening tomatoes, and second, because of rapid breeding. He said the large rats breed a litter of new rats in three to four weeks.

The farm agent said that the rats seem to eat tomatoes mostly. Sometimes they devour green peppers.

"They start out on the tomatoes near the ground," he said, "then they must stand on their hind legs and reach up. Of course on a well loaded plant the best tomatoes bend down toward the ground in reach of the rats. The rats have completely ruined the first picking in fields where they got started."

Talcott estimated that the plague area extended from southeast of

A NEW DEAL?

Schools And Politics

MOST Austin observers seem to share the opinion that, regardless of whom the newly created State Board of Education may choose as Commissioners of Education, it won't be Dr. L. A. Woods, who has been State superintendent longer than most people can remember.

The act which provided for the state board abolishes Dr. Woods' elective job, substituting for it a commissioner to be appointed by the new agency subject to the approval of the Texas Senate. Dr. Woods has made quite clear that he would welcome appointment as commissioner and doubtless several members of the new board would support him.

But those who know and have polled the board members appear convinced that most of them have been sincere in declaring they will not select a politician as commissioner. If that is their feeling, that would let Dr. Woods out. Without question, he is one of the smoothest politicians Texas has produced in recent years. Otherwise he could not have been reelected time after time to the political office he has held more than 20 years.

Aside from that, if the board should nominate Dr. Woods to the position, it is probable that the Senate would not confirm him. But regardless of the action finally taken, such a nomination would stir up a political storm which would be harmful to the public schools of Texas.

As matters now stand, Dr. Woods is destined for involuntary retirement.

It would be best for public education in Texas to substitute for Dr. Woods a commissioner who is qualified for the position by reasons of ability, experience and achievements. The less the new man has had to do with politics, the more of a commendation it should be in considering him for the new position.

The Line Forms

AS ONE sidelight of the various elections last Tuesday, they have served to identify more clearly at least three of the probable contenders for the Republican Presidential nomination in 1952. They are Governor Tom Dewey of New York; Harold E. Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania, and Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

The conflicting interpretations placed by Mr. Stassen and Governor Dewey on the results of the senatorial election in New York was indicative that both are again aiming at the White House. Mr. Stassen declares the victory of Democrat Herbert H. Lehman over Republican John Foster Dulles proved New York Republicans are in a "bad way." If that is true, Governor Dewey probably can be counted out as a Presidential contender. If he has lost much strength in Nhw York, his chances of obtaining another Republican nomination would recede almost to the vanishing point. Governor Dewey, however, challenges the Stassen interpretatior..

Regardless of who may be right, their debate suggests strongly that both have their eyes on New York as a possible stepping stone to the nomination and, perhaps, to the White House. Their declarations have the sound of a preliminary bid for the convention votes of that state.

As to Senator Taft, there can be little doubt as to his Presidential aims. He hasn't even taken the trouble to deny that he is running for reelection to the Senate next year so as to be in a favorable position to run for the Presidential nomination in 1952. Defeat for the Senate would be fatal to his White House aspirations.

These naturally are not all who are likely to seek the Republican nomination before convention time. Don't forget Dwight Eisenhower. But the indications have become clearer that among others who already contemplate 1952, with wistful eyes are, in alphabetical order, Dewey, Stassen and Taft.

Someone To Love

JENNY was waiting at the front gate of the Steuberwald store at four o'clock and she saw Tod the moment he came out of the building. He walked with his big shoulders hunched, an absentminded expression on his face.

She punched the horn of the car and he looked up.

"I wanted to talk to you, Tod."

A wary expression crept over his face, like a mask pulled down. "Who told you I was working here?"

"Rick."

A sudden thought seemed to strike him. "Nothing's wrong with the kids?"

"No. Nothing like that."

He stood awkward and uncertain, people streaming past him, some of them looking curious. "Won't you get in, Tod?"

He went around and opened the car door and got in beside her.

Tod was silent as she turned the car up the hill away from town and toward the river. But after a while he spoke gruffly. "Exactly what do you want to talk to me about?"

An uneasy qualm struck Jenny. "Well, now that you're here," she parried, "it's not going to be as easy as I thought. I—I heard you'd left the Conover Agency."

"I left there the first of the year," he said bluntly.

"Rick told me you and Liz—"

"Yeah, we're all washed up. That happened months ago, too."

Jenny ran her index finger back and forth on the steering wheel. Tod's brusque manner chilled her. "Rick said you were having a tough time financially, and then this trouble, your mother dying and all—"

"Just because I asked your help with Ma, because I was in a jam, is no sign I need your pity. You don't have to go out of your way to do anything for me!"

"I'm not offering you anything."

"Look, just why did you come by tonight and pick me up? What did you want to talk to me about?"

Jenny threw him a tremulous half-frightenend look and her eyes swam with quick tears. "I may as well come to the point, Tod. I want you to—to come home."

"You WHAT?"

"I love you, Tod. I've never stopped loving you. I need you so!"

* * *

"YOU need me?" The words had an incredulous ring. His handsome face twisted. "But you're going to marry Rick. Nina told me so. Rick said so himself. And I was glad when I heard about it. He's just the sort of a person you ought to be married to, steady, and reliable and good. I've known Rick for a long time, baby, and I know one thing—he'll never let you down."

Jenny tried to speak, but he went on roughly.

"You and I didn't make a go of it once, and we wouldn't again, because we're—we're not cut out for each other. And besides," he added lamely, "Rick will take care of you." He stopped and looked away from her, rubbing his fist in the palm of his hand.

"Tod," she whispered, "look at me. I love you. Even if you aren't in love with me, I'd like you to come back and try again. I want you back—on any terms—your terms."

He couldn't resist any longer. He found himself with his cheek against hers, all at once, feeling the wet warmth of her tears. He heard his own voice, babbling almost without volition. "Jenny darling my darling, I am in love with you, more than I'll ever be able to let you know."

"Tod."

He drew back. "How could you come to me like this, when I've been such a fool! It took me so long to grow up! to know that I'd been chasing a rainbow that didn't even exist, following an obsession that was just that and nothing else. You can't imagine what it was like, to discover that when Liz was planning our wedding, all I could think of was that honeymoon of ours in that miserable little tourist cabin. I knew then that I loved you. How could you ever take me back after all that's happened?"

"Hush." She lifted her lips and the world spun for an instant as he kissed her.

"And I ruined everything—"

"Everything isn't ruined," Jenny said. "And we're not alone in making mistakes, you and I. Everybody makes 'em."

"Do you honestly thing we could start all over again, Jenny?"

* * *

SHE nodded, and he took her hands in his and went on earnestly. "Ma said to me once not long ago that having somebody you love, love you in return is the most important thing there is. And I believe it. Ma felt sorry for me—"

"But we have each other again, Tod."

"You wouldn't be able to forget some of the things that have happened," he said doubtfully.

"No, I won't forget. Nor will you. But who cares about that. We need to remember our mistakes, to profit by them."

"If I could just be sure that I wouldn't fail you ever again, that we could have things right for the children—"

"We have each other," Jenny

See SOMEONE TO LOVE Page 3

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

IF you want to know what Love is, don't ask the scientists who have been trying to find an explanation for centuries.

Don't look up the poets who have been writing about it for as long as there have been poets.

Go to a young person who IS in love—and you'll learn all about it in ten minues.

BRANDEIS

I had a short but effective course on Love last evening.

A tweny-one-year old bride of two years with a ten-months-old daughter conducted the course, and we older ones listened in awe and wonder.

If you, like myself, still have the old-fashioned ideas about love, I shall now enlighten you, and give you the modern version.

While she did most of the talking, she did permit me to interject a few questions and quote a few authorities.

For instance, I cited one of the most famous pronunciamentos on love by Byron, "Man's love is of man's life a thing apart," said Byron in his Don Juan, "'Tis woman's whole existence."

"Rot," said my teacher. "Perhaps that was true in the last century when Byron did his living, loving and writing.

"But it certainly isn't true today. I am in love with my husband and my daughter. But I'll be darned if I let love be MY whole existence.

"There are so many other things besides love. There's the house to take care of. There's the hairdresser There are friends to meet and Canasta to play and shows to go to.

"Would you believe it, I am so gosh darn busy with a lot of things that sometimes I even forget I AM in love."

* * *

Then I quoted from one of Shakespeare's Sonnets: " — love is not love which alters when it alteration finds."

Some more rot, she replied. Apparently Shakespeare meant that you can love only once and that true love lasts forever.

Not nowadays, she assured me.

She had been in love a dozen times and, as a matter of fact, she was in love with and engaged to another fellow when she met the boy who is now her husband and fell in love with him.

When she called off the engagement, her fiance was heartbroken. She was afraid he would commit suicide. That was two years ago.

Today he is married and a father He is deeply in love with his wife, and the four of them are the best of friends. Her former fiance is a swell kid, but she can't understand how she could ever have been in love with him.

* * *

AGAIN I quoted Shakespeare. This time from his "Two Gentlemen of Verona."

"Except I be by Sylvia in the night, there is no music in the nightingale," I recited.

"Nothing doing," she commented. "I have been away from my husband for two weeks now. Saturday I am going to a Toscanini concert, and I am sure I'll enjoy

Labor Gains Pensions

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Neither Congress nor the general public yet appreciate the consummate cleverness and the ultimate aims of the Truman-Murray alliance which apparently forced Big Steel and other CIO employers to set up pension systems that will pay retired workers approximately $100 a month at the age of sixty-five. It is almost Machiavellian in its subtlety.

By refusing to invoke the Taft-Hartley Act and naming his own fact-finding committee, which obediently recommended the very pension plan desired by the White House and CIO President Philip Murray, President Truman has forced private industry to agree to benefits far more generous than Congress was willing to give at the recent session.

The legislators sidetracked the Truman program for expanding Social Security and boosting the monthly benefits from an average $50 to $100. When it became certain that Capitol Hill would not approve this enlarged system, President Truman called Mr. Murray to the Whte House and outlined strategy that is expected to force the lawmakers to come through eventually.

TUCKER

White House Aide John R. Steelman, who has abandoned his original role as objective labor adviser to become a wholehearted partisan, arranged the deal.

PLAN: It is now quite certain, in view of Bethlehem's separate surrender, that Big Steel is settling on a basis of $100 monthly retirement checks for workers over sixty-five. Bethlehem will thus fix the pattern not only for the steel industry but for other corporations employing CIO's six million members.

Whether the pension program is based on a contributory or non-contributory program is immaterial insofar as the Truman-Murray plan to browbeat Congress is concerned. Here it is:

As soon as the men in the steel mills have been granted a $100-a-month retirement envelope, along with a similar figure for John L. Lewis's coal miners, working in every other industry will insist on the same benefits, regardless of whether small companies can afford such contribution.

In fact, many lesser firms will go to the wall if they try to compete with Big Steel and Big Coal in the field of industrial philanthropy.

* * *

SOLUTION: The obvious solution then will be for Congress to enact the Truman Social Security proposals, thus equalizing through government action the retirement benefits for all industrial workers. Otherwise, there would be general strikes and unrest that would nullify the gains made by the Murray-Lewis unions.

The Truman-Murray belief is that Congress cannot withstand the pressure which such a lopsided setup would bring against the men on Capitol Hill. And it probably could not.

Almost the only man who has caught the significance of this deal is William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor. His followers have been complaining because he did not join Messrs. Truman, Murray and Lewis in the stampede for pensions.

He has quited them with word that, whatever private industry awards to the UMW and CIO, he will win for them by obtaining the same benefits from Uncle Sam. That means, of course, from the Truman Sociel Security program as amended and expanded.

SURPRISES: President Truman and Mr. Murray have another surprise in store for Congress, private industry and the general public. Exactly one year from now, when the CIO reopens contract negotiations with Big Steel, Mr. Murray will demand a system of privately subsidized medical care from employers, in the event that Congress has not enacted the Administration's national health insurance plan.

It will be the same program which the White House has submitted to Congress without any luck, save that it will be financed by individual corporations. It has been advocated time and time again by Prof. Carroll R. Daugherty, who served as chairman of Mr. Truman's fact-finding committee in the steel dispute.

Mr. Murray, of course, will make this demand on the ground that Congress has refused to adopt the Truman proposals in this field, which is quite probable.

Employers will undoubtedly take the position (this will be in October-November of 1950) that a new Congress is about to be elected, and that any agreement on an industrial health scheme should be deferred until after it is elected and convenes in January of 1951.

POLITICAL: Such a response will fit perfectly into the politcal plans of Messrs. Truman and Murray. It would toss the issue of medical care, whether financed by the government or industry, squarely into the middle of the Congressional campaign. It would, so the White House and CIO headquarters expect, sew up the vote of every working man and woman in the United States.

Thus, what President Truman has done, in view of his failures on Capitol Hill during the 80th and 81st Congresses, is to set up the Congress of Industrial Organizations as a new and more subservient branch of the government.

MEMORY: President Truman is extremely proud of what he calls his "photographic memory."

But he slipped badly when he recently boasted to a press conference that he had "never used" the Taft-Hartley Act in a labor dispute. Indirectly, he was expressing satisfaction that he had been able to sidetrack the hated law in the steel controversy.

The records show, however, that he used the T-H machinery seven times in 1948, with John L. Lewis as the principal victim.

J. W. Gamel was elected secretary of the board of directors of the Lubbock Community chest at a meeting of that group last night in the offices of the organization in City hall.

One other election was announced at the meeting, that of Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Tech, as chairman of the educational committee of the campaign. Dr. Horn's acceptance was received last night and the committee will be functioning within the near future. It will be the work of this unit to see that every individual in the city of Lubbock is fully informed as to the activities of the community chest and that a great educational drive be launched.

E. L. Klett, president of the board, presided at the meeting last night, which was well attended.

Believe It Or Not -

DEMOS SCORE SEVERAL GAINS

Voters Show Careful Balloting

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — An intuitive and instinctive sense of balance was exhibited by the voters in the widely scattered state and local contests Tuesday that constituted a significant off-year election test.

In New York where national issues were predominant in the statewide U.S. senatorial race, the people showed that they don't scare easily. They didn't fall for the fright technique, the wolf-cry of alarm about "statism" and "danger to liberty," that was exploited in the attempt to prove that Harry Truman is seeking to create some sort of super-state through a moderate social welfare program that is subscribed to, in considerable part, by many Republicans.

STOKES

The 200,000 majority by which former Governor Herbert H. Lehman was elected to the Senate over John Foster Dulles, the Republican candidate, is of more consequence than this margin would indicate. Off-year elections traditionally go against the party in power, and this was the first statewide off-year election won by Democrats in New York since the same Mr. Lehman defeated present Governor Thomas E. Dewey in 1938 by only 68,000 votes.

End Hague Regime

Elsewhere, beyond New York, the voters showed discrimination in disregard of party lines. They rose up in New Jersey to put an end finally to the power of the Democratic boss, Frank Hague of Jersey City, who tried a comeback with a handpicked candidate, State Senator Elmer Wene, and re-elected the Republican governor, Alfred E. Driscoll.

In Boston they slapped down another old-fashioned Democratic boss, James M. Curley, and chose as mayor instead a non-partisan, John B. Hynes, a career man in city government who had served as acting mayor while Mr. Curley was in jail on conviction for fraud CIVIC reform won out in staunchly Republican Philadelphia where four top Republicans were replaced by Democrats on a clean government reform issue. This Democratic victory, along with re-election of Democratic Mayor David Lawrence in Pittsburgh was encouraging, it was learned, to the Democratic high command here from a political standpoint they think it gives the party a good toe-hold again in that key state which was lost last year.

In Detroit the voters refused to follow the CIO and rejected its candidate for mayor in favor of the city treasurer, a veteran municipal official, who was backed by the AFL. And business and civic groups, demonstrating that preponderant CIO labor still is not dominant politically in perhaps its major stronghold. The forces of balance still are at work. On the other hand a straight-out labor man who had experience in his state's senate, John F. Shelley, president of the California AFL, was elected to a House vacancy in San Francisco to replace a Republican, the late Richard L. Welch, who was himself however, always friendly to labor and got labor's support.

Communist Loses Post

Two Socialist mayors were returned to office in Connecticut, the veteran Jasper McLevy for a ninth term in Bridgeport and Irving C. Freese in Norwalk. In New York City voters rooted out the last major Communist office-holder in the country, City Councilman Benjamin J. Davis, jr., one of those convicted in the recent Communist trial..

And so the picking and choosing went on over the country in a rather discerning manner. A number of Republicans with good records in local office withstood the general trend that was apparent.

CONSPICUOUSLY in New York and generally in other representative areas the Truman Fair Deal showed considerable vigor, bounce and powers of resistance to the new highly-financed campaign against it. President Truman is justified in his optimistic attitude.

As a matter of fact, his political advisers feel that the party is now in better shape than at any time since he became President four and a half years ago. They frankly had been anxious about New York because of complicating factors involving religion which are so often unpredictable. They did not feel that the fair deal was a major issue in New Jersey, but that it was overshadowed by other issues, including the Boss Frank Hague attempted comeback. That victory was the chief consolation of Republicans in the day's results.

STATE OF SIEGE IMPOSED

Military Courts Assume Power In Colombia Election Campaign

BOGOTA, Colombia, Nov. 11 (AP)—Military courts took over much of Colombia's judicial authority today under the state of siege imposed by the Conservative government at the height of the bloody presidential election campaign.

A government decree gives military courts broad powers to investigate cases of "subversive activity" against the stage of siege, and to try offenses against public security.

Bogota Remains Calm

Bogota remained calm, and so did most of the rest of the country, although there were unconfirmed reports from the interior of clashes between the Liberals and Conservatives.

The government also has imposed prohibition of intoxicating liquor during the state of siege. The capital and some of the principal cities of this country remained under curfew and police and army units continued to patrol the streets.

The ministry of commerce issued rules against hoarding food or gasoline or speculating in either. Fixed prices were to be rigidly enforced.

President Mariano Ospina Perez who clamped on the state of siege Wednesday in the face of a threat by the Liberal-controlled congress to impeach him, said the modified martial law will remain in effect as long as it is necessary to eliminate the conditions which brought it about. Hundreds have been reported killed in Colombia in clashes between Liberals and Conservatives in connection with the scheduled election Nov. 27.

The liberals have vowed to boycott the election. They say it is impossible to carry out a fair election under present conditions of sporadic violent outbursts. The conservatives have indicated they want the elections to go ahead as scheduled, despite the state of siege.

Laureano Gomez, the Conservative presidential candidate, said in a statement the elections would be held as scheduled. Dario Echandia is the Liberal candidate.

Second Jail Break Attempt Is Foiled

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 11 (AP) — A second attempt to break out of the Maricopa county jail has ended in failure for Jack Tatum.

The 27-year-old desperado, who escaped in a mass jail break attempt here Oct. 22 only to be captured and returned in two weeks, was apprehended last night trying to cut through one of the bars on his cell window.

Two men were killed in his first dash for freedom and two others surrendered under a barrage of tear gas.

This time sheriff deputies found Tatum and his cellmate, Oliver Wayne Coursey, had sawed a fourth of the way through a bar on a cell window, using a piece of soaped string and cleansing powder as an abrasive.

Tatum was the only one of five prisoners who succeeded in escaping, if only temporary, in a mass jail break attempt here almost three weeks ago.

He was arrested in El Paso, and returned here Saturday.

Tatum is awaiting arraignment in superior court on charges of car theft.

New York Playboy May Live After Bullet Wound In Head

HOUSTON, Nov. 11 (AP) — Doctors at St. Joseph's infirmary today said there is a chance Allen Thomas Sturges, II, New York playboy, will live.

Sturgess was found shot in the head here Oct. 22. Police said the bullet was self-inflicted. The 26-year-old New Yorker has not regained consciousness since he was taken to the hospital.

Doctors this morning said their hope Sturgess will live is based on improvement of his moving his hands.

The bullet still is in Sturgess' brain and the doctors said no attempt will be made to remove it until his condition improves.

Mrs. E. N. Taveniere of New York City and Englewood, N. J., has been at her son's bedside since Oct. 25.

Quirino Lead In Race Is Boosted

By FRANK EMERY
INS Staff Correspondent

MANILA, Nov. 12 (Saturday)—President Elpidio Quirino's growing lead in his fight for re-electioon took a sudden spurt early today and his plurality over his closest opponent climbed to 329,982 in the official count by the Philippine election commission.

Official returns from provinces outside Manila gave the President 946,814 votes as against 616,932 for Jose Laurel, Naciolanista party candidate who was president of the Philippines under the Japanese occupation.

Holds Good Lead

In the unofficial returns compiled by The Manila Chronicle the president held a similar lead. The Chronicle's tabulation of nationwide returns stood at 1,388,091 for Quirino and 1,066,388 for Laurel.

Jose Avelino, third party candidate who led a dissident group out of Quirino's liberal party, was trailing badly in both the official and unofficial tabulations.

Laurel, interviewed by International News Service at his heavily guarded Manila home, refused to concede victory to Quirino. He said he was awaiting provincial "progress reports" on which he would depend for his information.

Quirino's liberal party candidates for both the House of Representatives and the Senate also were out in front in returns pouring in from the provinces.

The President appeared destined to win a sweeping liberal party majority in the House but only a slight majority in the Senate.

The government's press office has been alerted to distribute a victory announcement by the president. Public relations officials said however that such a statement may not be forthcoming for several hours.

Had I really learned the truth about Love?

Do styles in Love change as automobile models do?

I don't know, but as I was about to fall asleep, an old verse came into my mind:

"When I am wearied wandering all day.

To thee, my delight, in the evening I come;

No matter what beauties I saw on my way;

They were but my visits, but thou art my home."

Could that, after all, be the REAL Love?

"I won't go again, darling," Tod said. "The last thing Ma said to me before she died was 'Make it up with Jenny.' She'd be pleased now if she could just know."

Jenny started the car. Her heart was singing as her thoughts leaped ahead to that moment when she and Tod should step across the threshold of the house on Riverdale road once more. The twins, dressed in their best bibs and tuckers, were waiting there.

What a homecoming this was going to be!

Drilling Scheduled To Begin On Borden Ellenburger Exploration

lywood, Calif., and Paul Teas of Dallas, completed their No. 3 Huckabee for a 24-hour potential of 475 barrels of oil and no water from the Canyon reef. Gravity of the oil was 43.5 degrees and the gas-oil ratio was 827-1. The flow was natural.

It was finished from open hole between the five and one-half inch oil string at 6,731 feet and the total depth at 6,836 feet.

Location is 467 feet from south and east lines of the lease in section 160, block 3, H&GN survey.

STANDARD OIL SCHEDULES EXPLORATION NEAR SNYDER

Standard Oil company of Te...s has planned a 7,000-foot rotary exploration in the North Snyder field of North Central Scurry county, eight miles north of Snyder.

The venture is to be Standard's No. 7 S. L. Terry and will be 1,980 feet from east and 660 feet from north lines of section 384, block 97, H&TC survey.

It is projected to test the Canyon lime reef.

In the Diamond-M field of Southwest Scurry county, Lion Oil company has staked location for its No. 33 McLaughlin.

Contracted depth of the exploration is to 6,900 feet.

The drillsite will be 660 feet from north and east lines of section 196, block 97, H&TC survey, and ten miles southwest of Snyder.

Operations are to start immediately.

NEW PRODUCER COMPLETED IN SCURRY KELLEY FIELD

A new producer for the Kelley field of Central Scurry county has been completed at Magnolia Petroleum company No. 2 Ray Haney.

Flowing natural through a 12/64th inch tubing choke from open hole section between the top of the pay at 6,733 feet and the total depth at 6,795 feet, the new well made a 24-hour production of 201.36 barrels of 42.7 gravity oil. Gas-oil ratio was 906-1.

No formation water was encountered.

The development is a west offset to George P. Livermore, Inc., No. 1 J. E. Woodson, recently completed northeast extension to the field, and 467 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 209, block 97, H&TC survey.

DRILLSTEM TEST RUN ON ANDREWS WILDCAT

Cascade Petroleum company No. 1 J. E. Parker, Central Andrews county wildcat, five miles southeast of the town of Andrews, and 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 27, block A-44, psl survey, developed salt water with a little show of oil in a drillstem test at 4,850-4,956 feet in the Permian lime.

Length of the test has not been reported. Recovery was 2,200 feet of salt water and drilling mud, with a slight show of oil. There was no free oil.

The project is circulating while waiting on orders. It was originally started to dig to 5,500 feet to explore the San Andres lime.

Acheson Arrives In Germany For Visit

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 11. (AP).— U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson arrived in Frankfurt by air today for a four-day visit in Germany.

Acheson came here from Paris, where he took part in the Big Three foreign ministers' meetings this week.

Acheson told reporters that the result of the Paris conference, in which he sat with British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, would not be known immediately, but "will develop over the weeks and months that lie ahead."

Acheson commented:

"It was like other meetings with Mr. Schuman and Mr. Bevin — completely harmonious and entirely successful."

Woman Electrocuted In Attempt To Aid Victims Of Auto Wreck

BRECKENRIDGE, Nov. 11. (AP) —Mrs. R. H. Connally of Stephenville was electrocuted by a fallen rural electric line today as she attempted to aid two Brownwood youths hurt in an auto wreck.

The accident happened 14 miles north of Breckenridge on the Woodson highway. The wire was knocked down when an auto occupied by Mark Kelso, 21, and Rayford McShann, 20, overturned.

Mrs. Connally's husband received a serious shock, and E. V. Lively of Breckenridge suffered serious burns on a leg trying to rescue Mrs. Connally.

The Connallys were on their way to Knox City. They were trailing the Brownwood car when it overturned. Mrs. Connally failed to see the wire in the grass as she tried to reach the overturned car. She was killed instantly when she came in contact with the wire.

Neither Brownwood youth was hurt seriously. All the injured were brought to Breckenride hospital.

Mrs. Connally is survived by her husband; a daughter, Mrs. Jack Simmons of Knox City; a sister, Mrs. Jeanette Giles of Dallas, and a brother, C. J. Dillingham of Fort Worth.

Her body was sent to Blooming Grove where funeral arrangements are pending.

Wilson Cops Six-Man Title With Win Over Roaring Springs

WILSON, Nov. 11 (Special)— Wilson won the District 4-B six-man football title here tonight with a crushing 52-7 defeat of Roaring Springs before a crowd of over 1,000 persons.

Wilson's next game probably will be with Weinert in the Bi-District playoffs.

A chilled, windswept crowd watched the Wilson team march steadily—and often—to victory. The winners scored 13 points in the first period, six in the second, 13 in the third and wound up with 20 in the final canto. Roaring Springs reached paydirt in the second quarter.

End Ralph Bradley, who scored Roaring Springs' only touchdown, and Center J. W. Campbell were the outstanding visiting players, while End James Kelly and Halfback Pete Bruedigam, who went 70 yards on one touchdown run, sparked the winners.

Wilson now has scored 373 points in district play against its opponents 75.

During the half, Jean Cobey was crowned football queen of Wilson High school.

Condition Of Lamesa Man, Injured In Fall, Improved

LAMESA, Nov. 11. (Spl.).— W. L. Marr, 71, who suffered a skull fracture in a fall Thursday afternoon, tonight was reported to be resting satisfactorily in Lamesa General hospital.

Family members who are at the hospital with him said he showed "very definite improvement" today and that he had rested satisfactorily most of the day.

Marr, a former mayor of Lamesa, was at the airfield inspecting grain stored in one of the hangers and tripped on a slack rope striking his head on a concrete sidewalk.

He operates the Plaza hotel in Lamesa.

Big Three Approve Limit On German Steel Production Requested By French Cabinet

PARIS, Nov. 11 (AP)—Britain, France and the United States have agreed—for the time being at least—to limit German steel production to 11,500,000 tons annually, French sources said today.

These sources said the French cabinet requested the limit through Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, and obtained assurances from U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin.

Quota Boost Sought

German steel men have called upon the western allies to raise the ceiling to 14,800,000 tons. Many American officials in Germany had agreed that there should be a higher ceiling—perhaps 13 million tons.

The French have been steadfastly opposed to the increase.

Despite the talk of raising the ceiling, however, West Germany's production of steel actually has been slashed drastically, according to western officials in Frankfurt, Germany. They estimate that the output dipped this year far below the target set by occupation officials. In October production was said to have slipped to a point 17 per cent below August production.

The causes of this, western allied sources say, are the lack of funds on the part of the big steel consumers such as the state-owned railway system, the competition being met aboard by German exporters who thus had to cut down on their steel purchases, and the fact that the prewar eastern European market is cut off.

The two-day meeting of the big three foreign ministers in Paris ended last night, after French reluctance to make specific commitments now forestalled any definite big three announcements on western policy toward Germany. The French wanted to await debate on Germany by their assembly, meeting Nov. 22.

In general, the big three decided upon relaxation of some occupation controls. The question of dismantlement of German industries may have been the one which left the meeting in the air. France continues to demand assurances that she never again will be threatened by the Germans.

Early British Recognition Of Chinese Red Regime Predicted

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11. (AP).— British and American diplomats predicted tonight that Britain will give full diplomatic recognition to the Chinese Communist government by the end of this year.

A British diplomat said recognition was recommended to the London government by a recent conference of Commonwealth leaders and British diplomats in the Far East, which was held in Singapore.

Informants here said the only real questions now outstanding are the exact timing of the action and how to do it in a manner which will be least disturbing to Anglo-American relations. The United States, top American informants said, has no intention of recognizing the Chinese Communists any time in the near future.

Britain was reported to have kept the American, French and other western governments informed of its position on recognition including the results of the Singapore meeting.

GOVERNMENT 'RETRACTS' STATEMENT

Jap Premier Says Reds Should Participate In Peace Treaty

TOKYO, Nov. 11. (INS).— Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida startled Japan's House of Representatives today by declaring that a peace treaty for Japan without Russian participation would be "better than no treaty at all."

The premier, in an Armistice Day talk before the House, referred to a "separate peace" pact between Japan and the Allied democracies, but he said it was his hope that all the Allied powers would participate in the conclusion of an over-all treaty. He added:

"At any rate, it would be far better to have a treaty with some countries than not to have any. We must be glad to accept a treaty of a separate nature that may lead to the conclusion of an over-all agreement."

Threat To Walk Out Made

Then the premier commented:

"Since the peace treaty is an international agreement it is by nature a right. As long as it is a right Japan may not have to accept it or even may leave the conference room in case an extremely disadvantageous peace treaty is offered her."

After the premier's remarks had been published in all major Tokyo newspapers, the government issued what it termed a "retraction" of his statements.

Chief Cabinet Secretary Kaneshichi Masuda said Yoshida's remarks were "incomplete" and that the premier would make a "clarifying" speech Saturday.

Would Not Make Mistakes

Yoshida also expressed the view that in writing a peace treaty with Japan the allies would not commit the same "mistakes" they made in the Versaillies pact with Germany after World War I. He said:

"Japan surrendered unconditionally and it is a mistake to think that a defeated nation can carry out discussions on an equal basis.

"However, there is the example of the Versailles treaty wherein the victor nations disregarded the standpoint of the defeated nation.

"I think the Allies may consider some of the hopes of a defeated Japan."

A cabinet spokesman said that talk of an Allied-Japanese peace pact continued to dominate discussions in the House. He called the situation "confused."

TESTIMONY SHOWS CONFLICTS

Survivor Of Washington Crash Assumes No Blame For Tragedy

By JAMES L. STREBIG
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11. —The lone survivor of aviation's worst air collision sketched his part of the picture without assuming any responsibility, and investigators called in new witnesses today.

Erick Rios Bridoux, Bolivia's civil air chief, pilot of modified P-38 fighter that tore into an Eastern Airlines DC-4 near here Nov. 1, described his fateful 10-minute flight in a hospital quizzing under oath. All 55 on the airliner perished. The 42 pages of questions and answers were read into the record of the Civil Aeronautics board's six-man inquiry yesterday.

Assumes No Responsibility

Rios assumed no responsibility for the accident.

He said he had indicated engine trouble by radio, but did not declare an emergency; asked and received permission to land; saw no other planes in the sky; received no instructions to turn off his path of descent; believed he had a clear path and a clear runway for his landing.

Rios often emphasized his statements by repitition. It was apparent that at times he was speaking excitedly, occasionally tiring as he lay in bed with a broken back, broken ribs and the effects of exposure.

Testimony In Contrast

In some details, the story was in contrast with testimony from ground observers, including that of a life long friend, Maj. German Pol, Bolivian observer at the hearing.

Pol had accompanied Rios to Washington National airport for a test flight of the P-38 before completion of negotiations to buy it.

Rios said he twice circled the airport tower while radioing that he had engine trouble and wished to land. But Pol and airport tower control operators placed the P-38 over Alexanderia, Va., several miles to the south, when they first saw it after takeoff.

Rios said the tower had replied "O.K." when he reported having trouble, but tower operators said they heard no trouble report.

Rios said he saw a twin-tailed plane land on the runway and taxi off to the left "no more than three minutes" before he started to descend. Since he had instructions to land second, he assumed his path was clear. He saw no other airplanes.

JUROR EXCUSED

MARYSVILLE, Calif. (AP)— In the case of G. E. Forester vs. Alfred Montna, Judge Arthur Coats, Sr., surveyed a list of 60 prospective jurors. Topping the list was the name of Alfred Montna. The judge promptly excused the defendant from sitting in judgment on himself.

Defense Of West Clearly Planned

OTTAWA, Nov. 11. (AP).— Canada said today the main lines of strategy for the defense of the North American continent and Western Europe have been clearly marked out even though they have not yet been put into words.

A government white paper, outlining Canada's defense plans, disclosed that she is negotiating with the United States for modification of the rights to bases in Newfoundland, granted by Britain in the months before U. S. entry into World War II.

When Britain in 1941 granted the U. S. a 99-year lease on these bases, Newfoundland — now the 10th Canadian province — was a British colony.

Preliminaries Passed

In its reference to joint defense, the white paper said that the preliminaries are out of the way and soon the 12 member nations of the Atlantic pact would sit down to formulate an over-all strategic master plan.

Canada's own defense plans included particular stress on the air force, the paper said, adding that $75,000,000 worth of planes and parts are on order. This is four times the value of last year's orders.

Besides this, said the paper which was presented to the House of Commons by Defense Minister Brooke Claxton, Canada has undertaken to build a vast radar defense network.

It is intended to warn of air attacks on her big cities and important industrial and defense targets. Radar stations costing between $2,500,000 and $3,500,000 each will form the links in the system, it said.

The paper also spoke of possible fighting in the frozen Arctic and said the army has developed weapons and equipment to meet this eventuality. These include sleds and snow-vehicles, new anti-freeze mixtures, and heated tractor-drawn personnel trucks.

PILOT WALKED OUT OF THIS — This spectacular picture, showing an officer, left, dashing into a wall of fire to rescue the pilot of a flaming plane has just been released by the British Admiralty. The accident happened last May when a Sea Fury fighter plane cracked up and burst into flames on the deck of the carrier Illustrious.

Spain is believed to have purchased and received 750 American freight cars thus far.

U. S. Shipment Of Aircraft Engines To Slavs Probable

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11. (AP)— The United States may follow up its shipment of aviation gasoline to Yugoslavia by exporting aircraft engines and parts to the former Russian satellite state.

Officials said that probably will be this country's next step toward helping Marshal Tito in his struggle with Moscow. Applications for such equipment already have been received from the Balkan nation.

The Commerce department announced yesterday that it had issued an export license for the sale of 40,000 barrels of aviation fuel to Tito's government.
