PARKING RULE ON THURSDAY

TWO-HOUR REGULATION IS ON TOMORROW; ZONES DESIGNATED

The ordinance to enforce a two-hour parking limit in the mercantile district of Lubbock, recently adopted by the City Commission, will go into effect tomorrow, Chief of Police John Lemond reminded today.

The only available space within the mercantile district not affected by the parking limit is the curb bordering the courthouse square, where about 200 automobiles can be parked.

Police To Enforce Rule

"We would like to urge drivers to park within the designated lines in the non-restricted zones," said Chief Lemond. "Traffic police will be on duty throughout the day to enforce the new regulation."

Streets within the parking limit zone are: Main street from Avenue G to K; Broadway from Avenue G to L; Thirteenth street from Avenue H to half way between Avenues J and K; Main to Thirteenth street on Texas Avenue; from Main to Thirteenth street on Avenues J and K.

Railroads Study Service In State

DALLAS, Oct. 16 (AP)—A scheme to strengthen the Santa Fe lines and the Frisco system in Texas through an interchange of facilities was reported today to be under consideration by the two roads.

The sceheme contemplates trading the use of 102 miles of Santa Fe track between Dallas and Paris for the use of 226 miles of Frisco trackage between Fort Worth and Denard. This would give the Frisco a second trunk line into Dallas and Fort Worth and would shorten its southern route to St. Louis 32 miles. The Santa Fe would save 100 miles between Dallas and Los Angeles and cut the same distance between Dallas and San Angelo.

CHINESE ARE PLANNING ON BIG ADVANCE

TROOPS SEEKING TO OUST RUSSIANS ON EAST FRONT

(By Associated Press)

TOKYO, Oct. 16—A Harbin dispatch to Rengo, Japanese news agency, today said a brigade of 2,400 Chinese was advancing in the direction of Linkianghsien, at the juncture of the Sungari and Amur rivers, to oust Russians who captured it Sunday and Monday.

An official Chinese communique regarding the capture of the city by the Soviet troops said it was still held by Russians with seven gunboats and about 3,500 marines. The city holds an important strategic location being on the right bank of the Sungari river at its confluence with the Amur, thus dominating navigation on both streams.

The Chinese general, Shen Hung-Lieh, apparently has made Fugdin, up the Sungari from Lingkianghsien, the headquarters of the Chinese expedition. He was said today to be rallying there remnants of the Manchurian river flotilla.

Another Rengo news agency dispatch from Harbin said approximately 2,000 Soviet Nationals held in a concentration camp near Harbin had begun a general hunger strike in protest at alleged unbearable conditions and inhuman treatment.

Unknown Assailant Stabs Mexican Here

No arrest had been made at 2 o'clock today in connection with the stabbing last night of Catarino Mendes, 35, who was rushed to the West Texas hospital suffering of three knife wounds received in an affray with an unknown assailant.

An examination revealed a long cut on his right arm and two minor wounds in the shoulder and leg.

Mendes' assailant is said to have fled in an automobile. The wounded man would throw no light on the affray, merely saying that the fight occurred near the section house in northwest Lubbock.

Heavy Fog Hovers Over City Today

Resembling a coast city, Lubbock was enveloped early this morning in a dense fog which veiled objects from view at a distance of 100 yards from the eye.

Due to the early arrival of the fog, there were no traffic accidents as few business folk were coming to work before 8 o'clock, when the gray veil began vanishing.

The sun shone at intervals through the turbulent sky shortly before noon.

RESIGNATION COMES IN AN ANNOUNCEMENT FROM CALHOUN

(By Associated Press)

BORGER, Oct. 16.—John Herron White, representative to the Texas legislature from the 124th district, has resigned, District Attorney Clem Calhoun announced today.

In a statement to newspapers, White, elected last election said his resignation was "not due to the acute political situation" which developed here subsequent to the assassination of District Attorney John A. Holmes on Sept. 13 and prior to the declaration of martial law on Sept. 30.

Decreased Income

White said he was resigning because his duties as representative decreased his income. He further said he never had been in sympathy with the present state government's adding he might be a candidate for state senator from this district. The resignation, addressed to Governor Moody, asked that a special election be called immediately for the selection of White's successor.

Four other officials in the district where Governor Moody said investigators had found an "entrenched criminal ring" have resigned since the declaration of martial law. Mayor Glenn A. Pace has been replaced by W. A. Henderson; the county commissioners are considering a successor to Sheriff Joe Ownby; appointees are to fill places vacated by Justice of the Peace Walter Broomhall of Borger and Constable C. A. Mitchell.

Biege Brands Wife's Stories As "Lies"

CHICAGO, Oct. 16 (AP)—Frank Biege, alias Perry, today characterized as "lies" the charges of his wife that he participated in or knew about most of the recent major crimes of Chicago gangsters.

"My wife," he said, "is a woman of great imagination. I haven't seen her for a year."

Mrs. Biege in a statement to State's Attorney Swanson described her husband a "personal executioner" for Al (Scarface) Capone, now in a Philadelphia jail.

TRUCK KILLS CHILD TODAY IN ABERNATHY

JOHN FRANCES BATES IS RUN OVER AND KILLED IN CAMP

(Special To The Journal)

ABERNATHY, Oct. 16.—John Francis Bates, 18 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bates, died here shortly after 11 o'clock this morning as the result of an accident at a local tourist camp. The child was run over by a truck, his skull crushed, and lived only half an hour after the mishap.

Playing in the yard of the tourist camp, where his parents have been residing since moving here from Canyon a few days ago, John Francis dashed into the path of the truck which was being driven by J. B. Bishop an employe of the State Highway deartment. Struck to the ground, the child's head went under the wheels of the truck and the driver was unable to avoid running over him. Medical attention was summoned but injuries were too serious to be mended.

Funeral services may be held here tomorrow, the child's father, a transient emloyed on the Hale county hardsurfaced highways project here, said.

CULT LEADER UNDER CHARGE

MRS. BLACKBURN WILL FACE TRIAL ON 12 THEFT COUNTS

(By Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16.—Mrs. May Otis Blackburn, "high priestess of the Great Eleven cult," was bound over to superior court for trial on twelve counts of grand theft after arraignment today before Municipal Judge William S. Baird. Her bond was set at $10,000.

Three other members of the religious order, incorporated as "The Divine Order of the Royal Arm of the Great Eleven," were released from jail.

Mrs. Ruth Welland Rizzio, second priestess and daughter of Mrs. Blackburn, who also was charged with grand theft was released by Judge Baird, and the charges dismissed for lack of evidence. Mr. and Mrs. William P. Rhoads, held in connection with the investigation of the order following the discovery of the body of their foster daughter, Willa Rhoads, 19. Beneath the flooring of their beach home, were released when no evidence that unnatural causes had contributed to the girl's death was uncovered.

AGED MATE IS SLAIN WHILE IN DRUNKEN STUPOR EARLY TODAY; CONFESSION MADE

(By The Associated Press)

SUMMIT, N. J., Oct. 16.—Mrs. Laura Mathilda Titus, white haired and wrinkled by seventy years of life, today killed her 78 year old husband with an axe. The victim, James Titus, married her 49 years ago.

Mrs. Titus confessed the killing to police after brief questioning.

Couldn't Endure Abuses

The woman, weighing little more than 100 pounds, and hard of hearing, said she slew her husband because she couldn't endure any longer his abuses. He drank heavily, she said, and was intoxicated this morning when she struck him twice with an axe.

About 3:45 a. m. she said, her husband got up and went into the yard. He returned about a half hour later and asked her when she was going to get up, pulled the bed covers off her and went down stairs.

Married In 1880

Shortly afterwards Mrs. Titus got up and went downstairs where she found her husband lying on the floor of the living room. She sat down at a writing desk where she could watch the prostrate form of her husband and debated with herself whether she should kill the man whom she married in Milltown in 1880.

"Will I, or won't I?" she asked herself. "God above, must I go through today what I have been through for the last week and four days?" she said in telling of the matter.

"I will do it," she concluded, "if I go to jail for life for it."

Hit Him Twice

Then she ent into the yard and got the axe, the woman told. Upon her return to the house she laid the weapon down and picked it up twice before she struck her husband She struck the second blow, she stated "to make sure he was not breathing."

Her next move was to call neighbors, who in turn notified a physician and police.

Mrs. Titus had lived with her husband in Summit for more than thirty years. He had been employed by a local ice company until a few years ago when he was pensioned.

FEELING INTENSE OVER MARSHAL'S DEATH IN NACONA

(By Associated Press)

NOCONA, Oct. 16.—Stung by the death of Ed Powell, the second city marshal to be shot to death here in nine months, peace officers today pushed vigorous investigation of the mysterious shooting Saturday night in which Powell was fatally wounded.

Two men, Walter Reagan and Claude Dix, already were charged with the crime. As nearly as officers could learn, Powell attempted to arrest a man for drunkenness and got into a scuffle, in the course of which he was shot. First reports said he was shot by his own gun as it fell to the ground, but after investigation Dix and Reagan were arrested.

Nine months ago A. R. Gooch, a former deputy sheriff at Denton, who had been hired to act as city marshall here, was shot and killed while making a liquor raid. Powell, another Denton deputy, who had worked with Gooch at Denton, was

MAY 10 IS SET AS DATE FOR HEARING OF WOMAN'S CASE

(Special to The Journal)

TAHOKA, Oct. 16—The case of the State of Texas against Mrs. Mollie Turner, charged with the murder of her husband on their farm near Wilson nine years ago, has been continued until May 10 due to the absence of a defense witness.

John Turner, the missing witness and son of Mrs. Turner, drew a fine of $500 from Judge Fritz R. Smith and an attachment is being issued for him on the judge's order. Smith, who is district judge of the district comprising Scurry, Borden, Nolan, Mitchell and Howard counties, was sitting on the bench here due to the fact that Judge Gordon B. McGuire is disqualified in the case.

Mrs. Turner was first indicted for the suspicious death of her husband soon after the killing in 1920, but due to insufficient evidence te case was dismissed. Last year new evidence came to light and the defendant was again indicted by the Lynn county grand jury, tried, convicted and given 20 years in the penitentiary, but the case was reversed.

FALL'S ORDER ON LEASES IS GIVEN TODAY

FORMER HARDING MAN IS WITNESS TODAY IN TRIAL

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—H. Foster Bain, director of the bureau of mines in the Harding administration, testified today that Albert B. Fall had let his subordinates in the interior department understand that no final oil leases could be negotiated without his approval and that the Elk Hills and Pearl Harbor proposition had been submitted to him.

He said the Elk Hills-Pearl Harbor papers were sent to Fall at his New Mexico ranch by E. C. Finney, first assistant secretary of the interior.

Prior To Opening

The witness testified he had told Fall the Pan American Petroleum and Transportation company was the only firm which would bid on the whole contract. This, he said, was before Fall left Washington several days prior to the opening of bids.

Bain said before Fall went west the secretary showed him the contract awarding the Teapot Dome oil reserve to the Mammoth company of Harry F. Sinclair. At a conference prior to the awarding of the Main Elk Hills lease on December 11, 1922, the preferential right contained in the Pearl Harbor contract was awarded, Bain said.

Not Familiar With Terms

On direct examination Bain had testified the actual contract had not been seen by Fall until he signed it and that Fall was not familiar with the terms.

The papers in the negotiations were sent to Fall after the bids were opened and before the contract was signed, he testified.

Stray Steer Goes After Tate's Hat

DALLAS, Oct. 16. (AP)—In silk top hat and accoutrements to match, Mayor J. Waddy Tate faced a red eyed steer last night.

Not quite the garb in which to meet a steer, but it wasn't Mayor Tate who was in wrong. The steer was astraddle the radiator of his car.

The foot loose animal, wandering away from the rodeo at the State fair of Texas, took exception to the impeccable dress and aimed for the mayor. He got as far as the hood when rodeo cowboys corralled him.

BANQUET IS GIVEN GROUP TODAY NOON

SIXTEEN COUNTIES ARE REPRESENTED IN ORGANIZATION

The official directorate of West Texas affairs, convened here for the purpose of forming an association of county judges and commissioners, was entertained at noon today by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, and following the hospitality of the local organization the officials went into session at 2:30 o'clock to perfect the proposed union.

As a brief session before noon, Lubbock County Judge Robert H. Bean, who was elected temporary chairman, appointed committees on resolutions and by-laws and constitution. Discussions at the session, held in the Commissioners' Court room, centered around the planned organization, the speakers pointing out that such a union would aid considerably in giving West Texas more prestige in legislative matters and would also benefit officials in shaping their specific plans by having a knowledge of problems in other counties.

Committee Named

The committee appointed to draft resolutions is composed of Judge Dixie Kilgore, Dawson county; William McGeehee, Floyd county; and H. N. Holly, Scurry county. The by-laws and constitution committee is composed of Judge W. A. Graham, Swisher county, and Commissioner G. W. Whitfeild, Hale county.

Voting this morning in favor of an association, the judges and commissioners will complete details of the organization, which will be named at the closing session late today, and will elect officers this afternoon.

CASES UPHELD IN DECISIONS

FEW CHANGES MADE IN RULINGS TODAY BY APPEALS COURT

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 16.—The court of criminal appeals today upheld the trial court at Fort Worth in its refusal to grant bail to Tenola Moore, negro, alleged to have killed a Fort Worth policeman.

The case of R. S. McDonald, sentenced to five years for murder from Midland county, was affirmed. The case had been reversed and remanded but the state's motion for a rehearing was granted.

Shot Man in Car

McDonald, a deputy sheriff at the time of the killing, in Ward county, was alleged to have shot to death John Jones. McDonald was a member of a posse hunting for two Mexican robbers and was said to have fired when Jones refused to stop his automobile.

PRAYER MEETING TONIGHT

STACCATO OF MACHINE GUN BULLETS TO RING OUT ELEPHANT'S DEATH PENALTY

KENEDY, Oct. 16.—Black Diamond, nine ton killer elephant and lord of the jungle, began his last parade here this morning. He is to die for crushing Mrs. Eva Donohue in Corsicana last week.

When the old familiar parade shoots from his trainers came to his ancient flopping ears at 11:30 a. m., the circus king got into the usual parade formation with other elephants.

He didn't know the parade was to end when his mammoth bulk, riddled with bullets from a machine gun, slumped into an already prepared grave in a meadow a mile from here.

Circus officials decided on shooting with a machine gun as a means of execution at the last moment. Poison was selected yesterday, and 1200 grains of it was purchased, but was given up as being too dangerous.

"We were afraid poison might be too slow in its action. In his death throes, an elephant might pull loose the heaviest and strongest shackles and become a mountain of rage and death," one of the officials of the Al G. Barnes circus owners, said today.

A trained machine gunner, carried by the circus for emergency animal breaks, was directed to send a stream of bullets into a spot just behind the beast's ear.

Circus officials attempted to keep the scene of the execution secret for fear the animal might get loose and injure someone.

Black Diamond was sentenced to death by circus officials after he ran wild and killed Mrs. Donohue and injured his former trainer, H. D. Prickett. He weighed 18,000 pounds and was 65 years old. He had been exhibited by the Al G. Barnes circus for the past five years. Show officials denied he had ever killed any one prior to Saturday.

LUBBOCK HAS UNIQUE FAIR BOOTH AGAIN

COUNTY BOOTH DRAWS MUCH ATTENTION IN DALLAS SHOWING

The Plains of Texas is well represented in the agricultural building at the State Fair of Texas at Dallas, according to Garnet Reeves, publicity manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, who has returned from Dallas where he and W. T. McKinley, owner of the Lubbock Poster company, represented this county with an exhibit.

Garza, Floyd, Briscoe, Martin Lubbock counties all have attractive exhibits at the fair, in addition to a large exhibit set up by the Panhandle-Plains, Inc., which represents the entire Plains country.

Exhibit Attractive

"The Eyes of Texas are on the South Plains," is an attractive sign within a huge Texas map on the back wall of the Lubbock county booth. To say the least, the eyes of a million or more Texans and visitors from other states who are attending the fair have gazed appraisally upon the exhibit set up by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

The exhibit, set up in the agricultural building, has as great a variety of agricultural products as any of the regular county agricultural exhibits at the fair and also has signs, pictures and mechanical devices that make it far more attractive and interesting than the regular exhibits.

Counties Blocked Off

The fifteen South Plains counties are blocked off in a lighter color on the huge Texas map on the back wall. Around the map, signs tell of inexhaustable supply of pure shallow water, 5,000,000 acres of land yet to go under the plow that can be purchased at low prices and convenient terms.

To the left of the map, facts and statistics about Lubbock are included on a scroll sign. The sign tells that Lubbock has $3,078,179 in building permits this year to October 12, eight railway and state highway outlets, three modern hospitals, 186 industries, wholesalers, jobbers, and manufacturers, 20,000 population with 98 per cent of the people native white, coupled with the high elevation, 3,251 feet above sea level or a thousand feet higher than the Ozark Mountains, 3,550 hours of sunshine, real homes, good churches, fine schools, all modern conveniences and a big trade territory.

Another scroll sign, to the right of the map, tells of a number of the agricultural possibilities of the South Plains. It reminds the fair visitors of the fact that the South Plains has ideal dairying, cattle, hog and poultry raising conditions, has an average yield of lint cotton of 3-5 of a bale per acre, has an average yield of 30 bushels per acre of grain sorghums, and that grain sorghums have 98 per cent the feed value of corn, that the South Plains has 21 inches of rainfall per year, 17 inches coming from April to October during the growing season, that the land is 91 per cent tillable and other interesting facts.

Low Cost Shown

The statement made here a few years ago by Arno S. Pearse, secretary of the International Federation of Master Cotton Spinners at Manchester, England, is quoted on the South Plains sign. It reads: "There is no other cotton section in the whole U. S. A. which can compete with so low an average cost of production."

In the center of the platform of the booth is a revolving wheel, six feet in diameter, representing Lubbock's slogan: "Lubbock, The Hub of the Plains." The wheel is made to revolve slowly, while the crowds note that the eight state highway and railway outlets were represented on the wheel. In the sections made by the highways and railways cotton, grain sorghums, cane, sudan grass, wheat, fruits and vegetables, dairying, poultry raising and hog and cattle raising are represented. Canned fruits and vegetables represent the cap to the hub.

Interesting Facts Told

In the front part of the platform, pictures and facts about the Texas Technological college are found to the visitors to the State Fair. The sign, telling interesting facts about the college, call the attention of the fair visitors to the fact that Tech is the third largest state supported school in Texas and while it is only four years old, it has 2,000 students and 127 faculty members, a $2,500,000 plant with 2,008 acres of land and 14 modern buildings. The four schools, Agriculture, Engineering, Home Economics and Liberal Arts are listed on the sign with the statement: "The fastest growing college in America."

Around the Tech sign are pictures of ten of the larger buildings and a picture of the plans for the new Lubbock high school building.

Tech Advertised

On each side of the Tech sign and pictures are pictures showing agricultural scenes from the South Plains section and pictures of the larger buildings here in Lubbock.

"The State Agricultural Experiment Station Number 8 at Lubbock is at the service of Plains Farmers," a sign on the back wall reads, and farmers who stop at the booth to talk about the possibilities of the Plains are reminded by the Lubbock representatives that the Experiment Station here is rendering a big service, especially to new farmers, who are not acquainted with conditions and farming methods on the Plains.

Among the agricultural products shown on the exhibit the following are included: Cotton, milo maize, kaffir, hegari, barley, wheat, alfalfa, millet, sudan grass, cane, peanuts, tomatoes, onions, turnips, potatoes, apples, pears, a watermelon and other products.

Floyd Exhibit Unique

Ed Bishop, secretary of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce set up the Floyd county exhibit which was also unique. A tower in the center of the platform supporting two moving airplanes call the attention to fair visitors that Floyd county holds the "non-stop" production record of Texas. Around this attraction was agricultural products to prove this contention and roads with laden trucks showed nine Plains towns including, Crosbyton, Ralls, Matador, Silverton, Lockney, Sterley, South Plains, and their connection with Floydada.

The Garza county exhibit set up by the ace exhibitor, George Samson, secretary of the Post Chamber of Commerce, winner of the blue ribbon at the West Texas Fair at Abilene and the Panhandle-South Plains Fair at Lubbock is expected to run a close race for first honors at the state fair.

Briscoe Has Display

W. M. Gourley, vocational agricultural teacher at Silverton set up the Briscoe county exhibit and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Holley, of Stanton, set up the Martin county exhibit.

All three of these exhibits are entered in the score card competition and are expected to be in the top prizes. They all have a wide variety of prize winning products that show what is being raised on the South Plains.

The Panhandle-Plains, Inc., exhibit represents the Panhandle and South Plains section. This exhibit is set up in three regular county exhibit spaces and the big space is well filled up with all kinds of crops that are produced on the Plains of Texas. W. C. Upchurch, county agent of Randall county, and Hamilton Luna, exhibit manager of the Panhandle-Plains, Inc., set up the exhibit and are distributing literature to the crowds at the fair about the Plains section.

Claude Holley, secretary of the Stanton Chamber of Commerce, accompanied by his wife, is representing the Martin county exhibit.

PLAINVIEW BANK DEPOSITS CLIMB

(Special to The Journal)

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 16—Deposits in the three Plainview banks have increased nearly three quarters of a million dollars over the deposits of a year ago. The total deposits in Plainview banks is $4,107,868.57. A year ago the deposits were $3,372,821.21, showing an exact increase of $735,046.92.

The bulk of this increase is in money resulting from the wheat crop, the cotton crop and the feed crop, which is below normal, having scarcely started to move.

Compared with earlier estimates of cotton the feeling of many well posted men now is more optimistic. Weather conditions have been ideal for maturing the crop. It appears from estimates from varied sources that this year's ginnings in Hale county will run twenty-five per cent or more below last year's when approximately 22,000 bales were ginned.

THERE'S no denying an "extra something" to Chesterfield.

Call it better tobacco, or higher standards of manufacture . . . more skilful balance, or more expert blending . . . the fact remains that in Chesterfield you get a smoother shading of flavor, a richer tobacco character, a spicier aroma—without one hint of harshness or "heaviness."

Taste is what counts, in any cigarette; and in Chesterfield it's

TASTE above everything"

GARZA WINS THIRD PLACE

HONORS RECORDED BY SOUTH PLAINS FAIR EXHIBIT AGAIN

Hemphill, Eastland and Garza counties placed first, second and third places, respectively, to carry off high honors in the county agricultural exhibits at the State fair in Dallas, according to information received here late yesterday.

The Garza county exhibit, arranged by George Samson, secretary of the Post chamber of commerce, has placed among the three highest exhibits at the state fair for the last four years, taking first place in 1926. Samson's exhibit this year won first place last March at the Fat Stock show in Fort Worth, first place at the West Texas fair at Abilene, and first place at the Panhandle South Plains fair in this city.

Harrison county was fourth and Lamar fifth. A prize of $200 in addition to a ribbon, was awarded to each of the winning counties.

Laredo Car Dealer Is Held In Mexico

LAREDO, Oct. 16. (AP)—Robert Rosenblum, Laredo auto dealer, was arrested in Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, yesterday on charges of defrauding the Mexican government of customs duties. It was reported he would be taken to Mexico City where he once was an auto dealer. Rosenblum said he had been decoyed to the Mexican side of the Rio Grande thinking he was going to sell an automobile.

WHAT CONGRESS IS DOING

WEDNESDAY

Senate continues tariff debate.

Carraway committee continues senate lobby investigation.

TUESDAY

Republican independents decided no agreement was necessary to speed up tariff debate in senate.

Senate disposed of six amendments to tariff bill, one of which would provide for reorganization of tariff commission.

Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, announced he would offer debenture amendment before tariff rates are taken up.

Senators Heflin and Black, democrats, Alabama, asked President Hoover for conference on Muscle Shoals legislation.

Chairman McNary of senate agriculture committee announced he would ask consideration of farm board nominations today.

Senate commerce sub-committee appointed to investigate question of applying coast-wise laws to Philippines decided to begin hearings.

Attempts of pottery industry to have Frederick L. Koch removed as tariff commission expert were aired before senate lobby investigation.

TAHOKA CHURCH GROWING

TAHOKA, Oct. 16 (Special)—The Tahoka Church of Christ, under the pastorate of W. A. Kercheville, claims one of the most remarkable growths over a twelve-month period of any church in this section. A year ago, this church had a membership of one hundred; since that time the membership has grown to two hundred and twenty-five. Last Sunday the Sunday school attendance reached the two hundred mark.

TEMPLE PAPER IS PURCHASED

WILLIAMS SELLS TO W. C. MAYBORN; TO CHANGE SOON

(By Associated Press)

TEMPLE, Oct. 16.—The sale of the Temple Telegram to Ward C. Mayborn of Houston, and his three sons, was announced here last night by E. K. Williams, president of the Telegram Publishing Co.

The new owners are to take charge Nov. 1.

The Telegram now is in its twenty-second year and has a circulation of 11,000. A new three story building recently was completed. Equipment included six linotype machines and a 28 page press.

The new owner plans to move here with his sons and take active charge of the paper. One son, Frank, now lives in Fort Worth, another son is in school in Pennsylvania and the third, Ted is a student at the University of Texas.

Mayborn was connected with the Scripps-Howard interests for many years as general manager of papers in Fort Worth and Houston. He retired in Houston some time ago.

Associated with Williams in the ownership of the paper were George Williams, his brother, J. Lee Werst, advertising manager, Volney Reed, and Charles W. Ingram, managing editor.

COLBERT'S STOCK FEATURE OF FAIR

SPUR, Oct. 16—R. V. Colbert and Son of Stamford exhibited at the Northwest Texas Fair, Spur, Texas, several head of registered Hereford cattle. One of the individuals being a yearling heifer "Lovely 16th" sired by Superior 30th, 1193232, son of the great herd bull Superior Mischief, for which Pat Sullivan of Denver, Colo., paid Mousel Bros. $22,000 in 1920. The dam of "Lovely 16th" is "Lovely 5th" from Jewell and Jewell's herd out of Domino Jr., and "Lovely 4th" by the great herd bull "Beau President" owned by Gudgell and Simpson. This very superior type individual "Lovely 16th" from the Colbert herd was given to the Texas Technological college following the Spur fair, and will add very materially to the college herd, and W. L. Stangel, head department of dairy husbandry of Tech, is delighted for his institution to add this animal with such a wonderful pedigree and such brilliant prospects for making one of the state's outstanding Hereford cows.

The Panama Canal from August 15, 1914, until the close of business, June 30, 1928, transited 46,838 commercial toll-paying vessels on which a total of $193,307,728 in tolls was paid.

WATCHES WORK

Doctor Sees His Hand Amputated By Fellow Worker

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 16. (AP)—Watching a surgeon amputate his left hand at the wrist, a sacrifice in the cause of science Dr. Edward Mulvaney yesterday chatted cheerfully about plans for resuming his experiments with the X-ray.

During the past 15 years, seeking a cure for cancer, Dr. Mulvaney submitted once before to the knife of his friend, Dr. Earl J. Halligan.

Today while Dr. Halligan proceeded with the operation, using only a local anesthetic, his patient jested with him.

Just Naturally Good

Good tobaccos . . . made good by Nature, not by "artificial treatment." That's the secret of OLD GOLD'S goodness

A chef may be able to make a doubtful steak taste good by artificial flavoring and sauces . . . But it's still dangerous to your stomach.

So it is with cigarette tobaccos. "Heat-treating" is useful to "set" and "sterilize" the tobaccos . . . and all cigarette makers have used it for years. But "heat-treating" cannot take the place of good tobacco in making a honey-smooth cigarette.

OLD GOLD tobaccos are naturally good. Carefully selected from Nature's best for smoothness, flavor and freedom from throat-scratch.

You have only to try a package to get the thrill of this smoother and better cigarette. That will tell you why OLD GOLD'S sales are ALREADY THREE TIMES GREATER than the combined sales of three leading brands during a like period of their existence.

Mexican Gets Two Years For Shooting

TAHOKA, Oct. 16 (Special)—Lorenzo De Los Mexican, has been sentenced to two years in the penitentiary in district court here on a charge of having attempted to kill Luz Anduney, his former sweetheart, because she had married another man. The man fired three shots at the woman when they met at a filling station on Main street three weeks ago. All shots went wild, however.

DRESSING UP FAVORITE PASTIME

Dressing up has been, is and will be the favorite pastime of all classes of society, of all seasons and of all countries for both men and women, declares Lucian Lelong. For the costume party one changes, not only one's outward seeming, but one's inner self, and tastes the delight of a new, unwearied personality. Two of his creations for a fancy dress party are sketched.

BY LUCIEN LELONG
Special Cable to Central Press
PARIS.

Dressing-up has been, is and will be the favorite pastime of all classes of society, of all seasons and of all countries. In the summer, in the country, in the autumn, during the shooting parties at the chateaux, one is sure of success with an improvised fancy ball.

Both men and women delight in this form of amusement. To change one's face and figure, to make believe that one comes from another clime or century, even for a few brief hours, is to give one's self the illusion of added power over the circumstances of ordinary life. As in the fairy stories, one turns into another person, one realizes a long-cherished dream, and one tastes the delights of a new, an unwearied, personality. In other words, one renews one's youth.

In everyday life, certain women astonish us by their power of always seeming different. Princess Bibesco, in one of her charming books, tells us that her motto should be "Varietur." She says that a woman may change, not only with the seasons, but with the hours, and that not only her gown, but her very essence may vary with conditions. She herself has the power of so transforming herself that her husband often asks himself, whether the sumptuously dressed woman that he escorts in the evening, can be the same as the jolly little girl he saw in the morning.

Juggling With Personality

For a costume party, one changes not only one's outward seeming, but one's inner self. This juggling with personality is a modern accomplishment. The shepherdess of Louiss XV or the damsel of ancient Greece, was content to be her own charming self, without a thought of symbolization. But at the lovely costume fetes of the recent Paris season, for example each guest seemed to be able to show us another soul. Symbolism in dress was the rage at these entertainments, and instead of embodying an historical character, women came disguised as mirrors, as wool, or as bronze.

Undoubtedly, the cubists, modernistic art in all its phases and the Russian ballet, have deeply influenced our taste in these affairs. We have no definite fixed style, even in our houses any longer. Everything is in a state of flux. The lovers of tradition and of classic form lament, as Job did of old, but they should have patience. Another revolution of the flying wheel of fashion will seurely bring them satisfaction a little later on.

Clothes Express State of Soul

Even our clothes seem to express something of the state of our souls. The choice of flowers, the arrangement of furniture, the color of a room, is equivalent to a new language, and this new language breaks all bounds of restraint when it comes to fancy dress.

What subtlety of wit there was in the "Spanish fans" of the Comtesse Jean de Moutiers, in the "Wool" of the Comtesse F. de Castries, and of "Olliclth" worn by the Vicomte de Noailles. What beauty in the scene of the "Wedding of a widower" presented by the great author, Henry Bernstein, and what irony in the "Books of the Year", the clever disguise of Paul Morand.

Do not let us try to oppose progress in any form. Rather let us take delight in the constant change and renewal of everything that goes around us, and let us remember the charming phrase of Madame Bulteau, who tells us that "He who laughs best, is he who knows best how to vanquish circumstances."

Flustered Housewife Cannot Extend Real Hospitality, Says Mrs. Dougan.

"Hospitality cannot flourish in a home where a dread of imminent drudgery is one of the penalties the hostess suffers with every prospect of arriving guests," declares Mrs. Myra Oliver Dougan who is to conduct the Avalanche-Journal cooking school at the Uptown Dance palace, beginning Monday, Oct. 21.

"There is all the difference in the work between visiting at a home where the housewife is complete mistress of kitchen problems and where a rich background of confidence in her culinary activities inspires her invitation with the sincerity that cannot be questioned," she says.

"A generation ago, when women's activities were not as varied as they are today and a woman's time not so divided, a hostess looked forward with anticipation the prospect of arriving guests. It meant an opportunity to demonstrate capacities in meal preparation that would lend prestige to the cook and her cuisine. She felt that her husband would be justly proud of her efforts and that her guests would ultimately depart in full knowledge of the fact that their hostess was able to match up worthily with the standards of cooking extant at the time.

"Today, the multiplied interests usurping the time of the average wife, make it impossible for her to devote herself as conscientiously to preparation for guests, particularly so, if she has to depend on a hit and miss system of cookery, which may or may not achieve the results she hopes for. There is no irritation more intense than that of fluffing that the meal which has been in the course of preparation for quite some time, has turned out unsatisfactory and the imminent arrival of dinner guests will prevent a second attempt.

"It is to this element of uncertainty in cooking results that modern cooking schools are dedicated. I select products that by countless tests in thousands of public appearances have proved worthiness; recommend for these products recipes that through years of experience have proved their infallibility and prescribe as kitchen appliances to be used in their cooking, only items that live up to the same high standard of removing uncertainty from the housewife's culinary activities.

"As the housewife develops a background of knowledge of the products and recipes and equips her kitchen with appliances and appurtenances that meet her requirements, even the small amount of time available for preparation of her meals cannot remove a pleasant anticipation of a guest in the home. For surely hospitality cannot be felt when you are conscious that you are embarrassing your hostess; "putting her to trouble" or inspiring dread and worry on her part.

"Real hospitality can be born only of a genuine, sincere pleasure of serving the guest can only come through a knowledge that within a specified time you may be certain of specified cooking results."

Cotton Picking Is Well Under Way

LAMESA, Oct. 16 (Special)—Cotton picking is well under way in Dawson county. At this time 7,000 bales have been ginned and several of the gins are ginning day and night. It is estimated that Dawson county will produce 35,000 bales this season which is some 5,000 bales better than last year. Feeds this season are turning out better than has been expected. Although there will be little feed to ship as last year it is thought ample feed will be made for local needs.

The pier-viaduct bridge across the mouth of the Tay, near Dundee, Scotland, has 85 spans with a total length of over 10,500 feet.

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

BY VIRGINIA LEE

"Dear Virginia Lee: I would like very much to ask your advice. I am a girl past 17. I dress nicely and I am good looking. I don't like to brag but that is what people say, and I want you to have all the details. I have never gone with boys and I would like to know why I don't attract them.

"Only one has ever asked me for a date. What shall I do?

"BROWN EYES."

Why some girls attract boys from the cradle to the grave, others have a charm for a few, and others never cause a single male heart to beat a bit faster, is a mystery.

Some girls undoubtedly have "charm" "sex attraction," "it," or whatever you want to call it in abundance. Every other woman acknowledges it, and very often such a girl has an almost equal attraction for other women.

Some girls so patently have no such allure that that too, is equally obvious.

But why a girl such as you describe yourself, good looking, well dressed, etc., does not attract men, is a mystery that the men themselves cannot explain. They only know that it is so.

In your case, Brown Eyes, it may be that you are a bit self-conscious when with boys and that makes them feel self-conscious, too. You'll get over it as you grow older. One boy did ask you for a date, so there will doubtless be others.

Try to show a friendly, but not undue, interest in the boys when you are in their company and I am sure you will have your share of masculine attention, and, if not, well, there are other things in this world that give one pleasure without the heart-aches that most male friends bring, so try to be reconciled and have a good time anyway.

• • •

LONESOME AND BLUE: I have no way of knowing about the boy friend, my dear, so I'll just hope with you that he cares enough to come back.

• • •

PEGGY AND BETTY: If Peggy is always nice to Betty's friend, I don't know what more she can do to win his friendship. And as for winning the love of boys that don't seem attracted to you, why not enjoy the friendship of those who like you and not worry about the rest? If you try to attract them in any obvious way you usually drive them away.

• • •

MISS S. O. S.: I think the boy friend just doesn't like to write. It's not an uncommon failing. Maybe if you kept him waiting as long as he has kept you he would wake up. He may be a little too sure of you, you know. Don't get panicky and think you'll lose him. Try to be as nonchalant as he is. Let him do the guessing.

• • •

Poor Flossie is 16. Her mother is willing she should go with boys, but her father isn't. He broke up one friendship by insulting the boy friend. Then she had another friend and they met on the sly. They parted, and the first boy joined the navy. Flossie is sure she loves this boy, and he loves her. Now she doesn't want to go with other boys as she wants to be true to her naval lover. Father says she mustn't go with boys until she's 21. What shall she do?

Well, Flossie, as long as you don't want to go out, and yearn to remain true to the boy in the navy, why worry? Make a pal of your dad and see if you can't eventually win him over. You have four years to do it in, you know. And you will be 20 when the boy friend's term of enlistment is over.

You are the baby, you know, and the only girl, and your dad thinks you are something very precious and should be kept in cotton wool. He's mistaken, but it will take diplomacy to make him see it. However, if you and your mother go tactfully to work, I think you'll win out.

• • •

PAL: Maybe your stock will go up by and by, Pal, and you will be one of the popular ones. It often happens so. Then your love and patience may be rewarded.

• • •

MAE: Why are you unhappy, Mae? Because you have no father and mother, because you can't marry yet, or what? If you possibly can, finish high school, then take your nurse's training. And cheer up, dear. High school is jolly, and the training to make you a nurse will be interesting. And you have a boy friend for whom you care and who cares for you. Try to look at life in a cheerful way and have a good time as you go along. You'll find it much the better way.

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I am a young girl of 14. I am not very tall but I am very stout. I would like to get thin. Will you please answer. I have been reading your column and I enjoy it very much. I weigh 175 pounds. I will thank you for your advice. "FATS"

You do not say how tall you are Fats. However, you would have to be very tall to weight 175 pounds. A doctor would outline a diet for you that would make you thinner. Or I could send you a scientific diet that would be good if you have the will power to stop eating cake, pie and candy.

You must have plenty of milk, as you are a growing girl, and vegetables, whole wheat bread, eggs, etc. The pamphlet will cost you ten cents and a self-addressed stamped envelope.

• • •

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I have been reading your column and believe that you can help me. I met a girl and I like her very much, but whenever I go out to see her I don't know what to talk about.

"I believe she would like me better if I just knew how to go about it. I hope you can advise me on this. "WORRIED."

What is she interested in, Worried, and what are your hobbies? If you are both in school your studies, schoolmates and teachers, school sports and entertainments, would be the natural subjects of conversation. If not, the movies are quite a source of conversaion, the kind of people you each like, the things you both detest, current events, books, sports of all kinds, etc., should help you to carry on an easy flow of talk.

• • •

ELAINE: As Jack is going with another girl now, I don't see what right you have to try to win him back. You are not the one to say whether his present girl is a suitable companion for him or not. Joe doesn't sund like a very good choice of a husband, as he drinks, gambles, etc.

The latest boy friend sounds good to me, but, of course, you are not interested in him, and I think you were very unwise, to say the least, when you accepted a diamond ring from him. He must consider you are practically engaged to him.

No, don't give him a birthday present, and give him back his ring, excusing yourself by saying that you are not engaged and you are afraid people will misunderstand as you have his ring. Don't think of matrimony until you are older and knew your own mind.

• • •

JUST SUZANNA: Thank you for your nice letter, my dear. You surely will be happy, as you and your friend both have the right spirit of comradeship. You are wonderfully blest, and I am sure your future together will make up for all the heartaches of your childhood.

LUNCHING PUT UNDER CHAPERONES

Houston School Students Having Too Good A Time At Lunch Stands Around Campuses; Board Takes Move

(By Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Oct. 16. — The lunching - under - chaperonage rule invoked in Houston public schools because some high school students had been reported having quite a time in soft drink stands about the campuses held fast today despite the assaults of 60 business men who thought it constituted unfair trade practice.

Unmoved by the pliant of flaming youth and the plea of commerce, the board of education last night unanimously declined to rescind the order and some 50,000 pupils at noon today either at the school cafeterias or at home, about 15,000 of them, however, purposely were under the restriction, as it was not aimed at the elementary school children, who felt no pangs at the prohibition.

Whether any legal action would be attempted by the 60 petitioners had not been announced.

Among proponents speaking at the board meeting was Principal J. L. McReynolds of John Marshall high school, who declared, in answer to a father's thesis that a parent had the right to choose his child's eating place, not more than five per cent of the parents had expressed anything but endorsement.

MAN IS HELD IN TARRANT COUNTY JAIL

FORT WORTH, Oct. 16 (AP)—Walter Reagan, held here on a charge of murder after the fatal shooting Saturday night of Ed Powell, Nocona city marshal, was questioned today by Temple Yarbrough, Montague county attorney, and Elbert Hooper, assistant district attorney of Tarrant county.

The prisoner was brought here yesterday by Lee Husband, sheriff of Montague county, and placed in jail for safekeeping. A second suspect Claude Dix, is held in the Montague county jail, also under a charge of murder in connection with hte shooting.

Two Are Charged

Powel was shot just above the heart Saturday night after he had stopped Dix on a main street of Denton. Dix and Reagan were said to have been together immediately prior to the shooting. Charges of murder were filed against the two men with the death Tuesday of the wounded peace officer.

Yarbrough withheld information as to the evidence against Reagan. The accused man, who is a farmer living near Nocona, made a written statement to Hooper Tuesday night. He intimated a vigorous campaign against liquor law violators in Montague county may have furnished a motive for the shooting. Powell had been active in the enforcement campaign. Other clues which might establish a further motive for the killing are under investigation.

Lamesa To Enter Band In Contest

LAMESA, Oct. 16 (Special)—According to Conway King, local director of the Municipal band, he is to enter the band in the state contest at the state fair at Dallas October 20. King says the band is in the very best competing condition and is built around the nucleus of first place winning at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at Amarillo three years ago.

King has directed the local band for the past two years, coming to Lamesa for this position from Weatherford. He is well known among band directors of the state. King states the state band contest will not take place in connection with the West Texas Chamber of commerce convention at El Paso but the officials of the state organization decided to hold it at Dallas this year as a single feature.

Too High?

A study just completed by experts of the American Institute of Steel Construction reports that it is structurally possible to build sky-scrapers 2000 feet in height, but that considerably less than that—around 70 stories—is the economic limit.

The experts figured that a 2000-foot building would not pay. On the other hand, where land values are high, they assert it pays better to erect a tower 60 to 70 stories than one of half that height.

All of this, of course, is from the standpoint of the building owner. The thing now needs to be figured from the viewpoint of the city as a whole. It is a grave question whether the giant skyscraper may not do a city more harm than good, by increasing traffic past the saturation point. What is needed is a study that will show just how many skyscrapers the large city can bear.

DEVELOPMENTS PROMISED IN WEEK-END TEXAS GAMES

IN THE REALM OF SPORTS

WITH ALLAN CARNEY
Journal Sports Editor

Over at Chillicothe, Coach Volney Hill and his Chillicothe high school gridders are still going like the proverbial house afire. After winning over a pair of class A aggregations the cohorts of Hill have toppled over their first two class B opponents of district four by decisive scores, and as a result are counted among the contenders for the district title.

This week Hill will invade Olney, another contender for high shrikbed honors in that district. Al Parker in the Wichita Falls Daily Times writes as follows: "Things are coming to a climax early in the race in class B district No. 4. Chillicothe and Olney, the outstanding favorites, tangle no later than Friday of this week. The winner of this game ought to be the district champ without another struggle. Chillicothe and Olney loom as considerably stronger than their rivals and each should skip through the remainder of its schedule without being so much as slowed down. That clash at Olney ought to be a whale of a battle."

Chillicothe's latest triumph was a 20-0 decision over the Burkburnett eleven, scoring three touchdowns in the last quarter. Volney informs us that his greatest drawback is a lack of reserve power. The Wildcats have gone into all their games this season with only 13 players available for action, but the scrappy Chillicothe crew is certain to give a good account of itself Friday despite the final outcome.

War has been declared at Texas university between the upper classmen and athletic authorities. The immediate cause of the dissention is a recent edict chasing apple and cushion venders from Memorial stadium during football games. The many apple cores have been hurled at unsuspecting freshmen in the lower sections of the stadium; it has hit members of the famous Longhorn band, and the band immediately paraded out of the field.

Seems that the situation has come to the point where the deans must choose between apples or the freshmen and band and they took the latter. Thus the venders of these implements of warfare have been chased from the stadium and the results are yet to be seen. It remains a question as to whether or not the edict will last through the Baylor game. No ruling to cover this fracas and the apple hurling has been issued.

"What is a football game unless we can crack down with our apples?" the upper classmen have wailed. "The fans must be protected," said the athletic officials. So we are only certain that apples won't be thrown for a while. Cheers from the fans, and jeers from the upper classmen!

After a lapse of six years the Texas university Longhorn and Oklahoma university Sooners resume gridiron relations this year. The Oklahomans, led by Tom Churchill, one of the country's best all-around track stars, will invade Texas Saturday to meet the Steers as the feature attraction at the state fair in Dallas. In their last meeting, the Longhorns defeated the Sooners 32-2. In one of the greatest scoring sprees ever seen in the south, Texas was leading 32 to 0, with only five minutes left to play, and the Sooners launched an attack that would have carried them out in front, but were stopped by the whistle.

The Sixers of 1929 will offer an outstanding offensive star in Dexter Shelly, a triple threat man, while Captain Gordy Brown will be their best bet on the defense.

HUNTERS ARE OUT FOR DUCKS TODAY

Guns belched over the South Plains early this morning and thousands of the feathery flock fell victims, as open season on ducks and geese arrived.

Scores of Lubbock citizens were supplied last night with shells in preparation for an early start.

Lakes Covered

Hunters report that lakes over the area are covered with ducks.

The season will extend to December 31. The bag limit for one person is 10 ducks and one goose. Morgan Dickinson, state game warden, warned hunters that the limit must be observed. Licenses are on sale and all persons must have them when hunting out of their own county.

Dove season also is in full swing and will continue to December 31. Deer and bear seasons open November 1 and the limits are one bear and two deer. Quail may be killed, starting December 1.

Texas Conference Race Opens Friday

The Texas conference grid race will open with two games this week-end Howard Payne and Austin college are scheduled to meet Friday at Brownwood. St. Edward's and Southwestern will tie up at Austin the same day. Simmons University has a non-conference bout with Daniel Baker Saturday at Brownwood. Trinity, sixth conference member, is idle for the week.

MATADORS TO MEET TRIBE ON SATURDAY

COACHES ORDER CLOSED GATES UNTIL T. C. U. CONTEST HERE

With the gates to the Tech athletic field locked against all visitors, the Texas Tech Matadors will today initiate intensive training for the double-tough grid program ahead, bearing down this afternoon and tomorrow on their preparation for the battle Saturday against the McMurry Indians at Abilene.

Action on the matter of secret practice was taken by college athletic authorities Tuesday following a lengthy scrimmage session between the Matadors and the Tech freshmen. In view of the heavy schedule ahead, the college officials and coaches deemed it necessary to bar the gates to all visitors.

Frosh Have Indian Plays

With the Frosh employing the plays used by the McMurry Tribe, the varsity gridmen yesterday got their first glimpse of the style of attack they will encounter when they invade the camp of the Redskins Saturday.

Despite the newness of the tactics to the first year gridders, the cohorts of Rhodes Ingerton clicked off numerous gains against the Bull Fighters and gave the Higginbotham-Payne forces plenty to worry about. The style of play employed by the Picadors indicates the Tech eleven will encounter a wide-open offensive when they tackle the Indians in their annual battle.

Marvin T. Warlick, business manager of Tech athletics, announced last night that the tickets for the Tech-T. C. U. game here on Oct. 26 had been placed on sale at the Hotel Drug. Applications for ducats to this engagement are pouring in daily, Mr. Warlick said, and indications point to the largest crowd ever to attend a football attraction in Lubbock. An extensive advertising campaign is being launched by college authorities on the clash with the Horned Frogs with a goal of 10,000 persons as the goal.

SPECIAL TRAIN TO BE RUN FOR BAYLOR GAME

Definite settlement was made Tuesday concerning the routing of the special train, which is to carry the Lubbock delegation of football fans to the Texas Tech-Baylor encounter on the Cotton Palace gridiron at Waco on Nov. 2.

College athletic authorities reached a difinite agreement with the Denver Road whereby six pullmans and four coaches will leave here at 7:00 o'clock on the evening of Nov. 1, bound for Waco and the Cotton Palace, where the Bull Fighters will initiate football relations with the Golden Bears.

Railroad officials have agreed to furnish all accomodations for the boosters who accompany the Matadors on their longest road jaunt of the season. A mammoth football will be placed on the headlight of the train engine, an electric sign bearing the inscription "Tech Special" will be emblazoned across the rear of the train and many other details will be worked out to give the special every semblance of a football party.

The special will arrive in Waco 7:30 Saturday morning and leave there at 11:30 that night, arriving back in Lubbock shortly after noon Sunday. A round trip fare of $7.30 has been announced.

In case the 10 coaches are insufficient to accomodate the demands for the trip, additional service will be added.

LAMESA TO PLAY MIDLAND FRIDAY

LAMESA, Oct. 16 (Special)—The Midland Colts are scheduled to play the local high school football club Friday of this week, according to F. T. McCollum, principal of the high school and Coach of the local squad. According to Supt. Lackey of Midland some two hundred fans will accompany their team to Lamesa Friday to give ample backing to the Midland eleven. The game promises to be one of interest. The local team has won all their games this season and has not had its thirty yard line crossed except in the game Friday when Levelland chalked up a touch down by completing a pass for thirty-five yards.

Sooners To Play Longhorn Cagers

AUSTIN, Oct. 16 (AP)—Resumption of grid relations between the State Univeraities of Texas and Oklahoma has led to the renewal of basketball competition between the two schools. Contracts have been signed for games between the Sooner and Longhorn quintets both this winter and next season.

This year's games will be played in Norman, probably in the latter part of December. Next year the Oklahomans will return the visit. Each series will consist of two games.

The brace of tilts this year probably will be included in a tour of the Longhorn cagers through the Missouri Valley section.

Lew Fonseca Gets "Most Valuable Player" Vote

INDIANS' FIRSTSACKER SCORED HIGHEST BY SPORTS WRITERS

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 16, (AP)—Lew Fonseca, Cleveland first baseman and new batting champion of the American league, is the "most valuable player" of the league for 1929, based upon the decision of a committee of baseball writers representing each city in the circuit.

At the request of the sports editor of the Associated Press, this committee named by the baseball writers covering the world's series, cast its ballots in the absence of an official selection by the American league, which abolished this year the award it had made annually since 1922. The National league makes its last official selection this year, to be announced later.

The veteran Fonseca won the unofficial contest from contenders in the ranks of the world's champion Athletics because he was rated high on seven of the eight lists prepared by the baseball experts.

Jimmy Dykes, whose all-around infield play was a favorite also. The success of the A's was the favorite choice among the Mackmen and finished second in the vote. Al Simmons, Jimmy Foxx and Mickey Cochrane also figured high, causing "split ballots," that kept any one member of the champions from heading off Fonseca.

Fonseca, although receiving only one vote for first place, had three votes for second place, two for third and one for fourth to make up his total of 46 points.

A Freshman Prospect

He was just another freshman prospect. On his feet were shoes that failed to match by three sizes. His sweater was tattered and full of holes. The pants he wore were the old-fashioned style with stays down the front like pleats.

For an hour he had stood in line with other freshmen candidates at Notre Dame when the uniforms were being passed out. While the "prospect" was still five places away from the window, the office ran out of suits.

After that he had gone out in his own street clothes and practiced with the yearlings. After a week he summoned up enough nerve to stop Rockne.

"Mr. Rockne," he said, "I want to play football here and I haven't got a suit. Two of my brothers played for Notre Dame and I want a chance."

Rockne sent the prospect to the freshman coach with a request for a uniform. The result was the makeshift outfit described above.

* * *

The Old Spirit

"I was tickled to death to get that uniform, even though one of the shoes blistered my foot and the other one hung on loosely. I went out and they put me in at tackle on the defense. I took a terrible beating. The foot that had the small shoe swelled up and pained terrifically. But I went out again the next night and pretty soon was put in at defensive halfback.

"Nobody seemed to pay much attention to my playing. When the time came for the freshmen team to take the trip to Culver, 40 miles away, I was left at home. I was almost discouraged enough to quit and nearly made up my mind not to go out again.

"But when it came time for spring practice, I decided to try once more. One day, by luck, I was put into the backfield with Layden, Crowley and Stuhldreher. We happened to click and were kept together from then on."

* * *

"The Old Spirit"

The prospect, as you surely know by now, was Don Miller, one of the Four Horsemen of Notre Dame. Miller is now coaching the backfield at Ohio State.

He went to Notre Dame without the reputation of a star. He had made up his mind to play football, however, and he stuck to it. The path he followed is the same that thousands of other young fellows are starting on this fall—as freshmen, with strange shoes, tattered sweaters and ancient pants.

Whether or not they make the grade depends a great deal upon the way they go after it. Miller went after it the right way. He had what the editors of the college paper call "the old spirit." With any kind of a break, "the old spirit" cashes in. But the prospect has to have it to start with.

SOUTHWEST CONFERENCE GRID NOTES

Punters And Passers Plentiful In Conference; Rice, T. C. U. And S. M. U. Boast Powerful Frosh Squads

BY GALE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jake Wilson, Baylor university's great triple-threater, was almost in a class by himself in booting the ball for long rides through the ozone last season, but it already is evident he has a pair of strong rivals for kicking honors in the Southwest Conference this year. Both Brooks and Conover of the Aggies and Welson Mason, Southern Methodist sophomore, are punting high and far. Their educated toes already have proved of immense value to their teams. In Saturday's game against the Kansas Aggies, Conover got off one spiral that travelled 76 yards. Mason is averaging well over 50 yards. It will be a duel to watch, Mason vs. Conover, when the Mustangs and Aggies clash. And Wilson and Mason will compare spirals when the Ponies meet Baylor. Both are former Waco High school stars. Wilson has the advantage of being a splendid quick-kicker, while Mason and Conover require more or less room and leisure to get their's off.

The conference appears overloaded with fine passers this year. Texas has a quartet of capable tossers in Meadows, Shelley, Rees and Perkins. Any one of the four is likely to cut loose with a peg at any time. Baylor has a brilliant passer in Jake Wilson. Mills and Zarafonetis of the Aggies are long, accurate chunkers. T. C. U. has a sterling man on the throwing end of its overhead, Howard Grubbs. Southern Methodist's two sophomore, Gilbert and Mason can pass with the best of them. Arkansas has a capable passer in Miller.

There was a time when almost every eleven in the conference would have a field-goal threat and employ it frequently in an effort to pull closely fought games out of the fire. It appears to have become something of a lost art the last two seasons. Either the boys do not spend long hours perfecting their drop kicks and placements from the 35 and 40-yard marks, or the coaches have discouraged the specialty and its three points in favor of the touchdown and its larger dividends. Only one field goal was kicked in all the games participated in by seven conference teams last season. Joe Potter, Baylor end, propelled it. Dexter Shelley of Texas tried one in the Arkansas game last week, but missed.

Texas Christian, Southern Methodist and Rice appear to have harvested the finest crops of first year gridiron talent. Those three schools have enrolled more outstanding high school stars than the other four conference teams. The Horned Frogs, for instance, have 15 former high school captains on their Polywog squad. Rice has over 70 on its freshman squad, many of them recognized stars in last year's state academic race. Among others, the Owls drew Seamon Squyres from Cleburne, greatest punter among the high schoolers. Southern Methodist has its greatest freshman class in history. Games against Navy and Notre Dame next year proved powerful magnets. One of the Ponies' freshmen mentors vouchsafed the opinion the other day that his boys could battle the varsity on even terms.

Speakers Named For Railroad Session

DALLAS, Oct. 16. (AP)—Speakers for the annual convention of the Southwestern Railway Development association here October 25-26 were announced today. They include C. J. Crampton, executive secretary of the allas chamber of commerce; Frank P. Holland, Jr., editor of Farm and Ranch; J. I. McGregor, Houston, agricultural agent for the Southern Pacific lines; W. E. Dickerson, San Antonio, A. E. Gilman, St. Louis, representing the M. K. and T. railroad; and A. B. Honeycutt, Cleburne, general agent of the allway Managers' Association of Texas.

State Funds Report Given By Treasurer

AUSTIN, Oct. 16 (AP)—The balance in state funds at the end of last month was $14,064,4443.33, W. Gregory Hatcher, state treasurer, said today. Receipts totaled $6,332,319.10, disbursements $11,075,597.14 and estimated outstanding warrants $3,651,458.92.

The Confederate pension fund was reported $33,024.72 overdrawn with outstanding warrants estimated at $154,324.66. Balances in some of the larger funds follow:

General revenue, $279,812.51; available school $1,788,820.67; permanent school, $244,917.41; state highway $7,598,469.85; state textbook, $160,424.75; highway gas tax $3,-0005,753.62; special game $361,966.07 university building $259,325.12; permanent university $35,386.45.

DETROIT, Oct. 16 (AP)—Constantine Karadeema, 105 years old, and said to have been at one time a business associate of Andrew Carnegie, died at his home here Tuesday. He had lived here for the last 20 years. He was born at Poros, Greece.

The panic of 1897 wiped out a considerable fortune he had acquired through his association with Carnegie.

AGGIE-FROG TILT WILL BE BIG FEATURE

TEXAS-OKLAHOMA TILT PROMISES BATTLE FOR FAIR FANS

(By Associated Press)

Clyde Littlefield, noted athlete at Texas University in his time, has won his spurs as coach of his alma mater. When the Longhorns won last year's southwest conference grid crown, many critics were prone to ascribe it to the wealth of material, rather than to any coaching genius on Littlefield's part. That reasoning received a jolt in the Steers' 27 to 0 triumph over Arkansas. The team that wears the Orange this season is a Littlefield product. As freshman coach three years ago he taught several of its brightest stars their first college football. For the last two seasons, he has had them under his wing on the varsity. It is his team, and, as Arkansas doubtless will testify, a rather good one.

Texas Christian University will face the Aggies in Saturday's vital conflict at Fort Worth without the services of its powerful fullback, Austin Griffith, but neither low moans nor advance alibis are emanating from the Frog camp. Harlos Green, sophomore find, has filled Griffith's berth. He threatens, in fact, to bulge over. In addition to his ball-toting and defensive ability, the youngster has a sure-shot toe. The Frogs scored four times on Centenary, and each time he tacked on the extra point. Ability to get that seventh point might prove powerfully important against the Aggies, who missed two out of three against Kansas.

The Baylor Bears probably felt let down when the Razorbacks curled up before the Longhorns at Fayetteville. Baylor has been priming for the Porkers ever since the season opened. Coach Jennings frankly believed that was the team he had to beat to reach the conference throne. Now he has a superb eleven steamed up for Saturday's tussle and almost nowhere to go, so to speak. To live up to its rating as heir apparent to the title, the Green machine will have to crush Arkansas at least by as great a margin as Texas did.

Baylor enters its first conference fray without having had the advantage of a good, stiff game against a non-conference team. The Bears have looked great, but the fact remains they have not faced a real test. It might have been wiser to have sandwiched a hard bout in between those four early games and saved one of the "sure things" to break the conference grind.

This week's intersectional dish at Dallas, bringing together Texas and Oklahoma universities, should draw a capacity house. There probably are as many old grads of the two schools in Texas as of any other institution that could be named. Two special trains will bring them from Oklahoma. Rivalry between the Longhorns and Sooners dates back to 1900. They have met on the gridiron 24 times, Texas winning 14, Oklahoma 8 and two resulting in ties.

NEWS LOOKED FOR ON CUBS

WRIGLEY TO PURCHASE HURLERS AND ONE INFIELDER

CHICAGO, Oct. 16 — William Wrigley, jr., owner of the Cubs, promises some interesting news items for the hot stove league this winter.

Back home from Philadelphia where his Bruins absorbed thir final world series knock out punches, Wrigley is planning for 1930. He is after one or two established pitching stars and a third baseman who can hit as well as field.

Vance Is Mentioned

Dazzy Vance, speed ball king from Brooklyn, is reported to be one hurler Wrigley is desirous of buying, while Third Baseman Whitney of the Philadelphia Nationals also is linked in rumors in Cub circles.

Wrigley, who refused to discuss the Rogers Hornsby deal last winter until it was sealed, admits a move is on to strengthen the Cubs for another National League pennant dash in 1930 and another try for a world's title.

"We'll be back next year stronger than ever and maybe we'll have some breaks, too," he said.

The Cub team, which received a rousing homecoming reception yesterday, was scattered today.

Tahoka Team Goes To Lockney Friday

(Special To The Journal)

TAHOKA, Oct. 16.—Having added Sudan to her string of victories, the Tahoka Bulldogs are now undergoing training for a game with Lockney this coming Friday. The 42 to 0 drubbing given Sudan last Friday greatly pepped up the local team, and they are hoping for another win this week. Tahoka has won four out of five games so far this season.

COME-BACKS ARE SOUGHT BY ELEVENS

BATTLES WILL FEATURE SATURDAY'S GAMES IN EAST SECTOR

By HERBERT W. BAKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (AP).—A half dozen eastern college football teams feel they've improved enough since last year to turn the tables Saturday on rivals who finished on the long end of the score in 1928.

In this list might be found such elevens as Harvard, Cornell, Columbia, Washington and Jefferson, western Maryland and Brown.

Harvard Has Hopes

Harvard lost to Army last year, 15-0, but has high hopes this year of stopping Cagle, chief Army threat.

Brown, which uncovered a great passing attack to nose out Princeton last year, takes on another "big three" team in Yale, and may avenge the 32-14 defeat of last season. Yale's offensive worked well enough against Vermont, but got nowhere against Georgia.

Stars to Clash

Columbia trailed Dartmouth by two touchdowns in 1928 but feels its turn is about here. Whereas Dartmouth has an Al Masters, Columbia points with pride to a Ralph Hewitt.

Cornell, after some years of football despondency, is looking up and may hand Bill Roper's Princeton Tigers a beating to match the 9-0 reverse it suffered at Princeton last season.

Washington and Jefferson may jolt a Carnegie Tech team that does not look quite so strong as the one that turned back the Presidents, 19-0, last fall.

Western Maryland Favored

Western Maryland dropped a 7-0 decision to Temple last season and although both teams are undefeated this season, the Maryland conquerors of Georgetown seem to hold the edge.

Pitt and Nebraska battled all through their game last season without a score, but Pitt hopes to break the spell Saturday at Lincoln. Lafayette and Bucknell also played to a scoreless tie and may do so again.

Navy Has Edge

Navy holds a big edge on Duke; West Virginia should conquer Washington and Lee, although the score probably will be closer than the 22-0 of last year; Georgetown should experience no more trouble with West Virginia Wesleyan than it did last year.

A spreading oak, about 60 feet high, will contain on the average 6,000,000 leaves.

Postal Receipts In Ralls Have Increase

RALLS, Oct. 16 (Special)—The postal receipts at the Ralls post office show a substantial increase for the past month over the volume of business during the same time in 1928. According to Miss Lilly Brown, postmistress, business for September, 1929, showed an increase of $108.94 over the same month last year.

It may be hard for the scrub to sit on the sidelines, but he might console himself with the thought that the regulars get all the breaks.

"I Feel Like I Have A New Life Before Me," Says Woman

Mrs. Taylor Says She Suffered 30 Years When She Began Taking Orgatone —Now Feels Better In Every Way

"I am simply feeling so improved as far as my health is concerned, that I feel like I have a new life before me, since taking Orgatone," said Mrs. A. E. Taylor, residing at 1904 Jackson St., Amarillo, Texas, in her statement to the Orgatone representative.

"Yes, sir, I am feeling like a different woman and I want everybody to know it," continued Mrs. Taylor. "I have suffered with a badly disordered stomach and constipation for thirty years and one bottle of Orgatone has done me more real genuine good than anything else I have ever tried. I guess I ought to know real medicine when I have tried it as I certainly have taken enough of it in my years of illness.

"I had been suffering for so many years with a very bad stomach and other troubles, and my condition had become wretched. After meals gas would form and bloat me up until I would get so miserable and dizzy at times I could hardly stand on my feet. I lost all desire for food of any kind and the little I did eat caused me constant misery in my stomach and I lost energy and all interest in everything.

"I tried most every kind of medicine and did everything I know how to do trying to get relief, but I kept getting worse all the time.

"Orgatone has completely changed life around for me and I just can't find words to express my gratitude for it. I have been relieved of those terrible bloating spells and those sickening bilious attacks have left me as well as my constipation. My appetite is better now and I can eat as much as I ever could and I relish my meals. I wish I could have the opportunity to personally thank the maker of Orgatone for placing this wonderful medicine in reach of suffering people."

Genuine Orgatone may be bought in Lubbock at Bowen's Drug Store. Adv.

Thought For Today

Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works.—St. Matthew 4:16.

* * *

A good deed is never lost; he who sows courtesy reaps friendship, and he who plants kindness gathers love.—Basil.

Our Own Good

There is nothing much more pleasant than that warm glow of satisfied virtue that comes when you feel that you are doing a highly righteous and praiseworthy act which you could very easily have avoided if you hadn't been so upright.

Such a feeling, it is apparent, is stealing over the American nation today as President Hoover and Premier MacDonald prepare to hold their conference on the reduction of naval armaments.

The average american seems to be convinced that this conference is being held simply because this nation is so high-minded, idealistic and self-sacrificing that it can't help giving its own selfish interests a kick in the pants for the sake of the rest of the world.

It's comforting to be able to feel that way. It's nice to be able to say, "Look what we did in 1921—voluntarily cut our naval building program when there was nobody on earth that could have matched if we'd gone ahead with it. Now we're doing it again—cutting down our armiaments when it's the other fellow that needs it more than we do."

Yes, that's very soothing. It would be even more soothing if it were true.

America's action at the 1921 conference was very fine, indeed, but did you know that if that conference had not been held this country would very probably have been in a war with Japan in another 12 months or so? That, at any rate, is the opinion of competent diplomats. Slashing our naval program then was nothing more than a very practical means of averting trouble.

The situation is a good deal the same today. War isn't as imminent now as it was then, of course, but there's trouble in the air, and the Hoover-MacDonald conference is a level-headed means of getting it out of the way.

Milton Bronner, European correspondent for this paper, recently presented an able series of articles analyzing the European situation. He presented some quite obvious and unpleasant facts.

Bronner showed that Uncle Sam, quite literally, hasn't a real friend overseas. He showed that there is an extremely ominous mixture of suspicion, jealousy and downright hatred brewing against us on the other side of the Atlantic. In every capital the United States is viewed with marked distrust.

That being the case, Bronner demonstrates clearly that a naval agreement with England is nothing more or less than ordinary, unexalted common sense on our part.

In other words, it is highly important to us, as well as to the British, that President Hoover and Premier MacDonald reach an understanding. In agreeing to cut down our fleet we shall not be making a fine, self-sacrificing gesture; we shall simply be serving our own best interests.

It would be a good thing if we could recognize that fact. Our pose of idealistic altruism doesn't quite square with the facts.

Enemies No Longer

The story of the nine former German soldiers who are living in Lancaster, N. Y., and making buddies of the members of the American Legion there, makes mighty pleasant reading.

The incident proves, for one thing, that our war with Germany left us with no such heritage of hatred and distrust as the Civil War, for instance, bequeathed to the country. A scant 11 years after the armistice, veterans of the rival armies are glad to fraternize with one another.

War's worst feature is the bitterness that follows in its train. We seem to be discarding the bitterness of the World War very rapidly. It can't be done too fast.

THE PLAINSMAN Says

That Girl on Broadway says women are like flowers. When they fade they dye.

* * *

The Plainsman doesn't know who is responsible—whether it is the city, the state highway department, or both—but the condition of South Avenue H, which is also highways 7 and 9 leading into Lubbock, has been in a terrible condition ever since the deluge of last weekend. Furthermore, local folks are kicking like bay steers and Slaton people, brought here on business, are joining in on the chorus with vim, vigor and vitality.

* * *

This column, on more than one day, has taken occasion to object to the methods employed on Lubbock's unpaved streets. If we haven't enough money to care for them then we'd better be about raising some. When it's dry the streets are full of holes. When it's wet they're full of mud and water. There is no happy medium.

* * *

Just to show you the trend of the times—to bring out forcefully how South Avenue H is running a good unpopularity contest with its north side inevitable grade crossing mud-puddle, three citizens, two residing here and the third in Slaton, have registered a protest with The Plainsman and have urged, in no uncertain terms, that the spotlight of publicity be turned upon the matter.

* * *

Ono Lubbock man, who desires to keep his name out of the paper because he is connected with the college, returned yesterday from the Gulf coast. After driving some 600 miles he reports that the worst mud he encountered was on South Avenue H. With the road hidden by water, this citizen reports that his car dropped from chug-hole to chug-hole and how he got through without breaking a spring is more than he can tell.

* * *

The Slaton man, George Brown, who works for the Slatonite, was brought up here on business. He, too, reports that he nearly broke an axle in the water covered road-street. The other Lubbock man used such language in his description of conditions that we really can't repeat it here. Suffice to say that translated into English as he spoke it agrees with the other two.

* * *

There's no sense in our allowing streets or highways, or both, to become virtually impassable all because of a little rain. It shouldn't be necessary for citizens to have to register protest to the commission, as was done by property owners on Avenue U, between 13th and 14th streets after the recent downpour. The Plainsman trusts he is not being too forward—but don't give a hoot if he is—in suggesting that some method besides the evaporation system of drainage be employed in Lubbock along with the proposed city plan.

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says he is one who can remember the days when a girl stayed home when she had "nothing to wear."

* * *

The Plainsman wants to take this opportunity to disagree with one of his co-workers, namely, Mr. George Allan Carney who presides over the sports department of this newspaper. In a recent story on the sport page Mr. Carney referred to Tech's recent defeat at the hands of Daniel Baker and characterized a portion of the local fandom, disappointed at the Matadors' showing, as "wolves." The term, as this column sees it, is entirely erroneous.

* * *

Once-upon-a-time—and there's an honest confession—The Plainsman made his living writing sports. "Wolves," in those days, were disgruntled gambler—down on a team because when it lost they lost where it hurt most, in the pocketbook. Caustic criticism, much of it unfair, emanates from "wolves," as this column sees it—but we can well see that a fan can lose interest in a ball club without becoming in fact a "wolf."

* * *

To be perfectly frank about it, there are a lot of football fans who have lost interest in the Matadors as a result of their loss to Daniel Baker last week. But they are not "wolves"—not by a long shot. It is human to lose interest the way they are losing it but let the Tech team come back and show something and you'll find them all back on the sidelines rooting for the boys. "Wolves" in the sporting term, wouldn't be that way, and Mr. Carney should make allowances accordingly.

* * *

Glenn Pace, mayor of Borger, and Joe Ownbey, sheriff of Hutchinson county, along with some of the smaller fry, have been ousted at Borger. Soldiers, guns and everything, rangers with big hats, have patrolled the oil town and its surrounding country. A gesture of governmental authority has been executed and now the troops are soon to be removed. But who killed John A. Holmes, assassinated district attorney? This column is of the opinion that the Holmes murder caused the rangers and the troops to be sent to Hutchinson county, something more than a month ago.

* * *

The Plainsman may be mistaken, but he doesn't believe the people of Texas will be satisfied until the slayer of John Holmes pays his debt to society. We don't believe that the blaring trumpets and the big hats of the rangers will be acceptable to the citizenship of the Lone Star state unless the troops and state officers accomplish something concrete in Hutchinson county. A gesture toward law enforcement and "the power of the state" are all right in most cases but unless we have Texans figured all wrong this is one time when a gesture is not enough. Texans will demand action and successful action, at that.

The Shearer Affair Raises Some Interesting Points In Lobbying And 'Patriotism', Correspondent Dutcher Says

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—So many lessons are to be drawn from the expose in which Mr. William Baldwin Shearer has been the central figure that one may as well start enumerating them and stop only when the space gives out.

One of the first concerns patriotic propaganda. It has been sadly but effectively demonstrated that those who beat the drum loudest and most incessantly for military and naval preparedness may not be the most patriotic patriots. Sometimes they are just working for shipbuilding or munitions companies. Mr. Shearer appears to have shown the advisability of checking up on the antecedents and connections of such drum-beaters whenever they get especially noisy.

The super-patriots who are forever warning us of British, French, Bolshevik, Czechoslovakian or Senegambish plots to encompass our national destruction may in the future find themselves viewed with more suspicion. Mr. Shearer was forever spreading such stories and still is.

They Have Varied Ideas

Sometimes such trouble-makers are only trying to collect money for forged documents. Sometimes they are looking for or keeping jobs on the payroll of gullible patriotic societies or shipbuilders. Sometimes they are only persons with nationalistic phobias who may or may not hate the idea of world peace.

Another series of lessons concerns either the ethics or the sapheadedness of big business men. For purposes of this learned dispatch, one need not necessarily disbelieve most of the stories told by the wealthy shipbuilders who hired Mr. Shearer, although there is a widespread tendency to do so. To take the more kindly view and to believe their own admissions, they were just suckers. They were "jazzed off their feet" by the loud, aggressive Mr. Shearer.

Now, when a bunch of hard-headed shipbuilders can be persuaded by a man of Shearer's background to pay $25,000 so that he can take a joy ride to Geneva and perpetrate his pernicious whims, the hard-headedness and perciplence of such gents certainly comes into question. Gold-brick salesmen, blue sky operators and other confidence men will surely be camping on their doorsteps. The only view which doesn't reflect on their intelligence simply demolishes their reputation for veracity, for they insist that they didn't hire Shearer to force an outcome at the Geneva conference which would give them more cruisers to build and that what he did for them was worthless.

Having learned that much about some of our big business men, we may be about to be given another lesson concerning their memories—especially the memory of the pious and tearful Mr. Charles M. Schwab whom Shearer calls "the Star of Bethlehem." Either Mr. Schwab, man of vision, self-sacrificing genius and self-confessed idealist has no memory whatever or Mr. Shearer is a darned liar or Mr. Schwab is a darned liar. These are the only possibilities.

For after Mr. Schwab had denied that he ever saw Shearer Mr. Shearer testified that his employment by the Bethlehem and other companies grew out of his conversation with none other than Mr. Schwab. Thus the next lesson to be learned will concern this issue of veracity or memory and the question is being asked what reason Shearer could possibly have had to concoct such a story.

Other lessons which have been taught if not yet fully learned concern the conduct of high naval officers at naval arms conferences. There's another issue of veracity, for Mr. Drew Pearson, the newspaper correspondent, says members of our naval delegation at Geneva were trying to queer the conferences and the naval officers themselves deny it.

But the gullibility of our politicians in public office when confronted by forged documents appears to have been re-demonstrated. Shearer was toting around a document purporting to be the outline of a British plot against us and after he showed it to former Senator James A. Reed the fiery Jim unburdened himself of one of the hottest big navy, anti-British speeches heard for many years.

Even an expert from the Navy Intelligence Department, where greater faith is placed in forged documents than anywhere else except the State Department and Army Intelligense Division, has now denied the document's authenticity. Goodness only knows how many members of Congress and the cabinet shivered all night between the sheets at the time Shearer was showing the thing around Washington.

Gilbert Swan

In New York

With Swan

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Ninety per cent of all women visitors to New York make an immediate beeline for Fifth avenue and its very feminine shops.

And thousands come from every which way with no other intention than to buy some smart clothes, and perhaps to take in a few shows.

Fifth avenue, more than glad to meet them half way, is prepared to send the back with a mortgage on the family farm—if possible. But whether or not they go in for heavy spending, women seem—for some reason or other—to get a considerable thrill out of merely looking at things which cost a lot of money.

A recent check of such matters, under the chaperonage of a young lady who knows her way around, resulted in some first hand and startling data on what a "sugar papa" can expect to spend if his "sweet cookie" decides to run wild.

* * *

For instance, there was a shop where $18-a-pair chiffon hose happened to be merely "a specialty." So fragile they were that almost any slight accident would have caused at least $7.50 worth of damage.

Of course, if you care to be a bit extravagant, this same place could produce similar hose with lace inserts at $75 to $250 a pair. One was priced at $500. Imagine getting a run in a $500 pair of stockings!

* * *

Arriving at the top floor of one of the ultra-ultra booteries, we discovered little trifles in evening slippers at $150 a pair. Of course, the well dressed girlie must have a pair for each outfit. So that a little item of $1,500 is not unusual at this place, so I was informed.

Grandma's flannel night gown may have cost all of two bits, considering that it was probably made upon the family sewing machine. But the next place we visited showed nighties at $125 and upward. If you wished to see something "really very nice," the price was $250.

* * *

Perhaps I had no business looking at such theses-and-those in the first place, and it may have served me right—but when I discovered the cheapest one was $85, I didn't care if I never saw them again.

Whereas a mere corset was to be had from $100 up.

* * *

Once you get into the fur department, prepare to crack a safe. An ermine by any other name is just as high.

Oh yes, you can leave quite a few odd dimes from the penny bank if you start out to do Fifth avenue "right."

* * *

Speaking of ermine reminds me that Broadway's most erminesque events are invariably under the direction of Gilbert Miller, a play producer who moved over to London and hence, no longer looks upon the result of what he started.

A Gilbert Miller first night in the theater is always a signal to take out all the expensive appointments mentioned above and show them off before an equally swanky set of neighbors.

* * *

The story goes of two Broadwayese boys who were standing in front of a Miller opening one night.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

HEALTH IS MAINTAINED BY THE SAME ELEMENT AS REPAIR AND GROWTH

* * *

Milk and Normal Growth

"Since my earliest recollections of childhood days, I have been prejudiced against the use of milk and butter and have refrained from the use of them. The other members of my family who did not have my prejudice are taller and weigh more than I do. I would like to know if the total absence of these two foods caused my physical under-development?

"T."

It might have been a large factor, T. Especially the absence of milk, for milk, above all foods, is the best growth food for children. It is found that the Japanese children born and raised in this country as our children are with liberal amounts of milk, are much taller and sturdier than their sisters and brothers in Japan, where very little milk is used.

Milk is equally good for adults, for we now know that the best foods for growth are also the best for repair and the maintenance of health. Three to four glasses for children and two for adults, daily, should be allowed in the food budget. (It needn't all be taken as a drink; cheeses, custards, milk soups, etc., also supply its elements.)

We have an article on Balanced Diet which you may be interested in. See column rules for obtaining this.

* * *

Miss L.—My dear, there is probably no family that hasn't had some insane member somewhere in its history! I don't think you need to worry about your inheriting insanity, for usually inherited types are more apt to show up in youth. Many cases of mental disease were not cured in the old times because little was known of it. And now we know that mental disease, like any other disease, can be cured.

* * *

If you will write to the National Committee on Mental Hygiene, 370 Seventh Avenue, N. Y. C., you can secure some literature that will be helpful to you.

* * *

Mrs. T.—The danger of contracting disease from toilet seats is not great unless there should be some fresh infecting discharge there which would come in contact with some abrasion or scratch on your body. When it is necessary to use a public bath, a thorough scrub with liberal amounts of soap is ordinarily enough to sterilize sufficiently, although a teaspoon of lysol or other disinfectant to the quart of water, would be more effective. A shower bath, if available, is safe (except from slipping).

Needless to say, no common towels or drinking utensils should be used.

* * *

M. P.—Yes, no doubt letters are lost in the mail occasionally. Will you try again, please? And if I consider your question of general interest, it will appear in the column in time.

* * *

Miss W.—The subject of painful menstruation is discussed in our pamphlet on the Hygiene of Women. See column rules for obtaining this.

Editor's Note: Dr. Peters cannot diagnose, nor give personal advice. If she considers your questions of general interest, they will be answered in the column, in turn. Requests for articles on hand must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope and 2 cents in coin for each; for the pamphlets on "Reducing and Gaining," "The Kidney and Its Excretions," and the "Hygiene of Women" 10 cents in coin (for each) and fully self-addressed, stamped envelope must be enclosed. (These charges are to cover the cost of printing and handling.) Address Dr. Peters, in care of this paper.

REVISED PLAN FOR WORLD COURT FAVORED
BY CLAUDE A. SWANSON, Senator from Virginia

"Claude Augustus Swanson was born at Swansonville, Va., March 31, 1862. He is a graduate of Randolph-Macon college and the University of Virginia, where he received an L. L. B. degree. He engaged in law practice at Chatham, Va. He was elected to congress in 1893 from the fifth Virginia district and served until 1905. From 1906 to 1910 he was governor of Virginia. He was appointed to the senate in 1910 to fill an unexpired term, was later elected and has served ever since. He is a Democrat.)

No detriment can possibly accrue to the United States through adherence to the World Court under the Root formula, as this provision insures complete protection, and permits this nation to withdraw from the court at any time.

Sen. Swanson

The court is the only organized tribunal for the settlement of international difficulties, and without the Kellogg peace pact becomes a failure.

The Root formula solves the most difficult question developed—that of admitting the United States upon an absolute equality with other nations in the matter of advisory opinions. This solution lies in a clause prohibiting opinion on any matter in which the United States has or claims any interest, unless this nation consents.

The clause also provides that if the United States consents to the court's request for an advisory opinion, sufficient time must be granted for an exchange of views between the council of the court and the United States. If the United States decides that the question is one concerning this nation's interests alone, it can maintain its objections, and withdraw from the court without imputation of unfriendliness.

The Root formula does not modify reservations permitting the United States' maintenance of its foreign policy, or the Monroe Doctrine, and its right to have an equality vote in the selection of judges and officials of the court, are also not modified by the Root formula.

The World Court is controlled by its own statute, which is in no way connected with the League of Nations. The statute, according to another reservation, cannot be changed or modified without the consent of the United States.

Other reservation, which are not affected by the Root formula, allow the United States congress to determine what share of court expenses shall be paid by this nation.

I can see no possible danger that can come to the United States by adhering to the World Court under the Root formula, and I believe that the United States should join the court.

Consider the street car conductor. He leads a simple life, yet he is about the only man in the world who can tell the ladies where to get off.

SOUTH WILL BE UNIONIZED

UNION LABOR MOVES TO STAMP OUT TROUBLE IN TEXTILE MILLS

(By Associated Press)

TORONTO, Oct. 16 — Organized labor's forces and funds were pledged today to a campaign for unionizing the south by unanimous action of the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor. Delegates were moved to their decision by appeals relating to the situation of textile mill workers particularly in Tennessee and North Carolina.

Their action took a broad scope, directing all crafts unions to center organizers in the south in the coming year, and setting up a special fund to back the campaign projected.

Shooting Is Challenge

The resolution presented by the United Textile Workers and adopted declared it impossible for "any single union to carry on the task", cited the "cold blooded shooting down of our members by sheriffs at Marion, N. C.," as "a challenge to the entire American labor movement," and asked the federation to set up a special committee of craft union executives to formulate policy and finance a general organization campaign.

Joseph Burke, head of the paper workers, offered $1,000 in behalf of his organization, and William Canavan, of the theatrical mechanics, moved that the federation pledge $1,000,000, or 35 cents per member, "as a beginning."

Field Prepared

William Green, in promptly naming Burke and Canavan with others on the special fund raising committee said the "federation" work of the last 25 years "had prepared the field."

"We are going into the south because the workers of the south are appealing for it," he said, "and not at the behest of northern employers or anyone."

CROSBYTON NEWS

By MRS. W. M. CURRY

HOSTS TO BRIDGE CLUB

An unusually pleasant session of the Thursday Night bridge club was held this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Zugg George on south Berkshire street.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McDaniel won the couples high score and ice cream and cake were served at the close of the evenings entertainment.

Among those present were Messrs. and Mesdames F. A. Green, J. A. Parks, Ed Hayes, Roy McDaniel, H. C. Oldham, Olen Littlefield, J. J. Taylor and Zugg George.

BAPTIST W. M. S.

Members of the Woman's Missionary society of the First Baptist church met Monday afternoon at the church in their monthly business and study course.

The four circle chairmen were elected, Circle number one elected Mrs. C. E. Dick, chairman, circle number two, Mrs. J. Kent Smith; circle number three, Mrs. T. K. McDaniel, and circle number four have for their chairman, Mrs. Jeff Higginbotham.

CLUB ENTERTAINED

Rose and snapdragon made a colorful setting for a four table 42 game when Mrs. A. K. Lackey entertained members and guests of the book club at her home on Fifth street.

At the close of the play the hostess passed a salad collation to Mesdames J. W. Ayes, F. J. Grogan, Sep Smith, B. W. Mitchell, Ed Haynes, R. J. Shaw, S. J. Dendy, Ernest Wood, Alvis Fuller, C. H. Brazier, and Joe Brown club members. The guest list included Mesdames J. A. Buck, T. J. Cagle, J. A. Parks, J. J. Taylor, and Leslie Mitchell.

PLUMMER GETS APPOINTMENT

V. R. Plummer announced this week that he had accepted a position as loan inspector for the Temple Trust company, and will operate out of the Lubbock office of the company.

Plummer's appointment to the office comes as the result of the resignation of C. J. Duggan, who has accepted a position with the Phillips Petroleum company at Littlefield.

Taking charge of the office the first of November, Plummer says that most of his work will be the inspection of loans to be made by the company.

He does not know as yet what he will do with his office here, the Guarantee Abstract company, but unless he is able to sell it in the next few weeks he will place a man in charge here.

METHODIST W. M. S.

The Woman's Missionary society of the First Methodist church met Wednesday in a business session at the home of Mrs. C. B. Roy on south Berkshire street. Eleven members were present.

The society will meet next Wednesday with Mrs. P. C. Newton at her home in east Crosbyton in a mission study with Mrs. J. A. Green teacher of the class.

BRIDGE PARTY GIVEN

Dalhias and roses formed an attractive setting at the Parks home for a four-table bridge game when Mrs. J. 9. Parks entertained for members of the Wednesday bridge club at her home on Fifth street.

Mrs. E. M. Perkins won high score for club members in the games played. Mrs. Ira Taylor high for guests, and Miss Francis Corn the cut. After the games the hostess served a salad course, strawberry short cake and coffee.

Club members and guests present were Mesdames J. A. Buck, Frank Corn, J. J. Taylor, Ira Taylor, Leslie Mitchell, Roy McDaniel, Olen Littlefield, W. R. Davis, E. M. Perkins, F. A. Green, Robert Webb, R. C. Westerman, Sep Smith, Misses Helen Francis and Louise Corn.

GROWS FINE FIGS

Mrs. W. R. Davis has demonstrated the fact that delicious figs can be grown on the South Plains. This year she has gathered her second crop from three year old trees of the Ramsey variety, that are exceptionally fine. Mrs. Davis cuts her trees back to the ground in the fall and the next year's crop is produced from the young growth put on in the early spring.

COMPLIMENT TEACHERS

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Heard entertained with a twelve o'clock dinner Sunday, complimenting Crosbyton high school teachers. Those present and enjoying the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Heard were Miss Margaret Thompson, Mrs. John Heard, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Allen of Tahoka, R. C. Butler, Frank Thompson and Hubert Curry.

INSTALLATION DAY

Last Sunday was Installation day at the First Baptist church of Crosbyton. All Sunday school officers were installed in office for the coming year, including the general officers and those of individual classes.

B. F. Hicks was elected superintendent of the Sunday school, with J. O. Suggs as assistant superintendent, and also holding the office of Sunday school choir director. Mrs. Bill Reed was installed as pianist for the Sunday school.

Mrs. Lige Ellison became secretary of the organization with John D. McDermett as assistant secretary. W. C. Baker retained his place as Sunday school and church treasurer.

The standard Sunday school department superintendents were installed as follows: H. H. Perser, adult department; Mrs. E. W. Suggs senior department; Mrs. H. H. Perser, intermediate department with Patsene Suggs as secretary.

Following is a list of teachers that were installed: Mrs. J. F. Garber, Mrs. C. E. Dick, the Rev. C. E. Dick, Brosig, E. H. Hendricks.

Junior Department: Mrs. V. R. Plummer, supt., Vivian Campbell, secretary; Teachers: Mrs. C. L. Hefley, Mrs. Joe Parks, Mrs. Bob Martin, Mrs. J. P. Hackley, Mrs. R. S. M. Carter, Mrs. Grace Jones, Mrs. Bill Reed, Jack Bond.

Primary Department: Ruby McDermett, superintendent and secretary: Teachers: Mrs. Romey Coffee, Mrs. Brosig, Miss Mary Irwin.

Beginners Department: Mrs. B. F. Hicks, superintendent; Teachers: Mrs. A. J. Coward, Mrs. Herbert Davis.

T. E. L. Class; Mrs. W. C. Chase. Philathean Class, Mrs. E. H. Hendricks; Dorcas Class, Mrs. Jeff Higginbotham; Men's Bible Class, H. B. Mayes.

The commissioners court of Crosby county bought $2,000 worth of Webb common school district bonds Tuesday. This purchase was made as an investment for the permanent school funds of the county.

The funds became available because of the fact that the Robertson Independent school district paid off $2,000 worth of their bonds held by the county commission, before they fell due.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hutchinson left Tuesday for Porales, New Mexico, where they will make their home. Mr. Hutchinson recently traded his property here for property at Portales.

Miss Laura May Mayes, teacher at the Pleasant Hill school, is spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Mayes. Her school was dismissed this week in order that the children might pick cotton.

Bob Poage and S. P. Brooks, Jr., attorneys of Waco, were here last week. Mr. Poage while here bought a section of land from Mr. Gorham southwest of town. Mr. Brooks is the son of Dr. S. P. Brooks, of Baylor University.

A deal was closed this week in which Dr. Parkhill became owner of the Judge J. A. Buck farm of 320 acres northwest of town. 300 acres to wheat has been sown on the farm.

On account of the short cotton crop, the Fuller gin has closed down for the season. Mr. and Mrs. Wren Moore have returned to Snyder. Mr. Moore has had the management of the Fuller gin.

JALAPA, Vera Cruz, Mexico, Oct. 16 (AP).—Ruben Cadena, bandit chief was shot and killed by woodmen near here when the latter were set upon by the outlaw's band. Upon the fall of their chief the other bandets fled.

DALLAS, Oct. 16 (AP)—Selection of the 1930 convention city for the Texas Pharmaceutical association will probably be made by the executive board of the organization at its meeting here Wednesday. Waco and Houston are contenders.

Bad Stomach Cause of Bad Skin

You can't expect to have a good clear fresh-looking complexion if your stomach is weak and disordered.

Undigested food sends poisons through your whole body, pimples appear in your face, skin grows sallow and muddy and loses its color. Your tongue becomes coated, breath most unpleasant. But these troubles will end quickly and skin clear up if you will start today taking that simple herbal compound known to druggists as Tanlac.

Tanlac contains nothing but herbs, barks and roots which have a cleansing, healing effect on a poor upset stomach. Just a teaspoonful before each meal stimulates the digestion naturally so that you can eat what you want without fear of distress. And when your stomach is in good shape again see how much keener your appetite is—watch how quickly skin begins to grow free of disfiguring eruptions. The cost of Tanlac is less than 2c a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Money back if it doesn't help you.

CARTER-HOUSTON
A SUNSET DEPARTMENT STORE

13th Street and Avenue J

Discusses Quality and Service

The governing ideal of Carter-Houston shall always be to so conduct our store that it will deserve, win, and hold the ever increasing confidence, good will, and patronage of the public.

To gain and hold your trade we know that we must render a very definite form of service.

Service must start with the building of the store, the buying of the merchandise, the hiring of the help, the courteous showing of merchandise, the selling and prompt delivery.

In the new Carter-Houston Department Store you will find service that began months ago and will continue and improve through the years.

You will find a service that does not end until the customer is fully and completely satisfied.

You will find a service that will inspire you to trust on sight every piece of merchandise that we offer, every statement that we make, every promise we give, and every price we name.

Carter-Houston believes that the real bargain is quality merchandise.

Quality is a short word—just seven letters—but it is the all important factor to consider in the production and sale of merchandise.

Low price does not always mean good value. In any purchase it is the quality of the goods which underlies real and lasting satisfaction. From the purchasers' point of view, price is the first and great consideration. "How Much?" is the natural response to an arisen desire to acquire. But the failure to consider "how good" may mean the saving of a few cents at the loss of several dollars.

"Good value" can only mean merchandise in prices as low as a consistent quality standard can permit.

These two things—service and quality—will be considered first at Carter-Houston's. Add to that the buying capacity that allows us to buy under the market, and an outlet that allows us to take smaller profits, depending on quicker turn over for our dividends, and with these three things you have the necessities of a high class department store.

These are the policies on which Carter-Houston is founded and they are the policies that will prevail. We have confidence in our ability to carry out these policies to the letter.

STOCKS DRIFT LOWER TODAY

INDUSTRIALS DROP ON MARKET OPENING; FEW SHOW GAINS

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (AP).—Stock prices drifted irregularly lower at the opening of today's market when selling pressure was renewed against several of the recent industrial favorits. General Electric dropped 3 points and Montgomery Ward, R. H. Macy, Cuyamel Fruit and New Haven yielded a point or more. U. S. Steel common declined fractionally on the first sale. Underwood Elliott Fisher and U. S. Freight each opened about a point higher.

U. S. Steel common was again a target, selling down 3 points to 220 1-4. Public utilities were in free supply. American and Foreign Power broke nearly 6 points, American Telephone dropped 3 and International Telephone, Consolidated Gas, Pacific Lighting and several others yielded a point or more.

Chesapeake and Ohio, directors of which unexpectedly authorized a split up of 4 for 1 in the common stock, opened with a block of 1,000 shares at 270 1-8, up 8 1-2 points. Chesapeake Corp. opened 2 3-4 points higher. Eastman Kodak, Warren Bros., and Sun Oil also showed moderate gains in early trading.

Foreign exchanges opened steady, with cables a shade lower at 4.86 11-16.

GAINS MADE ON COTTON

OPENING OF MARKET HAS ADVANCES; WEATHER AIDS

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 16 (AP) — The cotton market opened steady with cables better than due. First trades showed gains of 3 to 8 points. The market kept on improving on overnight buying orders and some short covering. December traded up to 18.17, January to 18.28 and March to 18.53, or 8 points up on all active months. On hedge selling prices eased off 4 to 6 points from the top. Continued good weather tended to check all upward movements.

The market was steady nearly all morning, and prices gradually improved as there was less hedge selling and offerings were more readily absorbed by fair trade buying. At noon the market was steady and only a point or two under the highs.

ADVANCE IS FROM 4 TO 8 POINTS IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (AP).—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 4 to 8 points with December selling up to 18.27 and March to 18.64 on covering and trade buying influenced by relatively steady cables and unfavorable weather reports. This advance brought in a little more southern selling or realizing which eased prices off 3 or 4 points from the best, but the market was comparatively quiet and fairly steady at the end of the first half hour.

Reactions carried the market back within a point or two of yesterday's close on most positions, but southern selling was less active than recently and prices steadied up.

At mid-day December was selling around 19.24 and March 18.62, or about 5 to 6 points net higher, much of the trading consisted of switching between near and late months.

MORE ANTI-RELIGIOUS UNIVERSITIES WILL BE OPENED THROUGHOUT RUSSIA

(By Associated Press)

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., Oct. 16 — Nine additional anti-religious universities will be opened shortly in towns in Moscow province, for which purpose the central trade union headquarters today appropriated 52,000 rubles (about $26,000.)

Trade union organizations throughout the Soviet union were instructed to appropriate a fixed sum each month to local organizations of militant atheists for anti-religious propoganda. Several Moscow churches have been converted into anti-religious museums.

On October 10 what were said to be the first anti-religious universities in the world were opened simultaneously in Leningrad and Moscow.

APPEALS COURT

from Galveston county was reformed and affirmed. Loupez was charged with murder in the killing of Esperanza Quantos, November 17, 1928.

The court also reformed and affirmed the judgment of the trial court in the case of Sabas Zuniga from Duvall county, given a fifty years sentence in the killing of Doreteo Gonzales, May 10, 1928. The sentence of both Mexicans was changed to conform with the indterminate sentence law.

Other murder cases affirmed were: Malley Lennon, Rains county, 15 years, and Joe Reagan, Bowie county, 3 years. Lennon was indicted for the murder of Virgil and Paul Hall, and received a fifteen year sentence in the slaying of Virgil Hall July 26, 1926. Reagan was alleged to have killed H. T. Roseaan.

The court overruled a motion for rehearing in the case of Arthur Upton from Refugio county, sentenced to 20 years in the killing of Alec West in February. A motion for rehearing on the case of Herman Freitag from Williamson county sentenced to five years on criminal assault charge, also was denied.

The court affirmed the case of Robert Dugar, sentenced to fifteen years from Galveston county on a charge of robbery by assault.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 16. (AP)—Wheat took an early downward swing today largely as a result of an official summary showing favorable conditions for domestic winter wheat.

Opening 1-4 to 1-2c down, Chicago wheat later showed a material further drop. Corn and oats were also easier, with corn starting unchanged to 3-8c off, and subsequently declining all around. Provisions were firm.

Four Projects Are Added To Contracts

AUSTIN, Oct. 16 (AP)—The State Highway Commission today added four projects to the list on which contracts will be let Monday.

They are maintenance work on the bridge across the Little Brazos river in Falls county, 15 miles from Marlin, on highway 6; 7.84 miles of concrete pavement from Murchison to Athens on highway No. 31, Henderson county; 6.057 miles of grading and drainage on highway 34 from N. W. Twelfth street, Fort Worth, to Nine Mile Bridge road, Tarrant county and 7.443 mile of grading and drainage on highway 58 from the Matagorda county line east to the San Bernard river in Brazoria county.

Second Troop Of Scouts Organized

TAHOKA, Oct. 16 (Special)—A second troop of boy scouts was organized here last week with Everton Nevill as scoutmaster and W. O. Canaday as assistant. W. S. Anglin is scoutmaster of the first troop. The local boy scouts has been an active organization for four years. For the last two years they have won second place with their exhibits at the Panhandle-South Plains Fair at Lubbock.

Three Responses In Revival Are Made

Three more responses last night brought the total of additions to the Church of Christ to 17 during the revival opened here Sunday by Elder Hugh Clark, minister of the Church of Christ at Breckenridge.

Elder Clark spoke last night on the subject of "The Holy Spirit", stressing that it is a revealer of the will of God and confirms His power.

He spoke today at noon on the subject of "Friends of Jesus."

"The Gospel" is the subject of the evangelists's sermon for tonight, starting at 7:45 o'clock.

South Plains People Attend Convention

Led by W. F. Revill, field representatives left Lubbock this morning for San Antonio where they will attend the $100,000 club convention of the Amicable Life Insurance company, which convenes in that city tomorrow.

The local men qualified for the trip by writing $100,000 worth of life insurance since January 1.

Those who made the trip are the following: Mr. Revill, Mrs. Margaret Jones and L. A. Hollar, of this city; Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Russell, of Floydada, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer R. Robbins, Plainview.

The convention will close Saturday.

Yearbook Of County Is Being Prepared

A continuation of this year's program, emphasizing home improvement, the yearbook for 1930 is being prepared today by Miss Louise Baird, Lubbock county home demonstration agent.

"We are continuing the work started this year in order to complete an impressive program," said Miss Baird.

The yearbook will be financed by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, the board of directors of that organization decided yesterday.

Sudan To Have Boy Scout Organization

Plans were formulated Tuesday in Sudan for organization of a troop of boy scouts when Rev. L. G. H. Williams, of Lubbock, president of the South Plains area council, and George Eaton, deputy scout commissioner, obtained agreement of the Kiwanis club of Sudan to sponsor the troop in that city.

A scoutmaster for the troop in that city will be named within a few days, Mr. Williams said.

H. B. Teal has been appointed scoutmaster of Littlefield scouts, it was announced.

Ralls and Crosbyton will be visited tomorrow in the interest of scout work. Mr. Williams and Mr. Eaton will be guests of the Rotary club at Ralls.

METHODISTS IN TEXAS LIKELY TO CUT DOWN ON EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS; CONSOLIDATION OF SCHOOLS DENIED

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, Oct. 16—Because Texas Methodist are maintaining "a larger number of institutions than the present financial support justifies," the Texas Methodist educational commission today adopted recommendations that no new institutions be established without the commission's approval.

The recommendations will be submitted to the various conferences, the first of which is the North Texas conference at McKinney, October 24. They are subject to veto by each conference.

To Scrutinize Campaigns

The commission also asked permission to scrutinize any fund raising campaigns. Four recommendations were adopted. The other two were for a consolidation of all colleges into one system; and for a unified program for "Christian Education."

The commission decided it was not prepared to take up the questions of prorating receipts.

The need for a unified program was emphasized by Bishop John M. Moore of Dallas, president of the conference.

Rumors Denied

Rumored reports of consolidation of Southwestern University at Georgetown with Southern Methodist University of Dallas was denied by the Rev. King Vivon of Southwestern University.

The $1,500,000 fund raising campaign to be conducted in Dallas for Southern Methodist University in February and March, 1930, and the $1,500,000 campaign for Texas Woman's College at Fort Worth were endorsed by the commission.

METHODISTS INCREASE IN SOUTH, IS REPORT

CARUTHERSVILLE, Mo., Oct. 16 (AP)—Methodists of the south are increasing in membership and in the size of their contributions to the fundamental causes of the church, according to the report of J. R. Rawls, treasurer of the board of missions who has made a survey of Methodist finances.

Rawls' survey to be announced at the opening session of the St. Louis conference of the church here, will show that in 1928 Southern Methodists paid $8,840,555 more for ministerial support, incidental expenses conference collections, missions and Sunday school work than was paid in 1924.

Increase Is Less

The total income of the church for all purposes will be reported for 1928 as $41,646,361, which is $43,759 less than the total income for 1924. Rawls' report will say that the decrease was caused by the closing out of the Centenary. Christian education and other special causes.

The report will say there has been a steady program of cultivation and education with reference to financing the church's claims, and that there has been an annual increase of about $700,000 a year for the last five years in Methodist benevolences.

The sum paid for ministerial support in 1928, according to the report, was $12,048,210, which was $1,473,260 more than was paid in 1924, while $9,501,965 was expended for new church buildings and parsonages in 1928.

NORTHERN STOCK WINNING AT FAIR

DALLAS, Oct. 16 (AP)—Winning over the two year old senior champion, Cavalier's Stamp, 1,000 pound yearling bull, was adjudged grand champion Shorthorn bull at the State Fair of Texas today. The yearling, owned by R. C. Bouger of Salisbury, Mo., also took the junior championship.

The senior champion was Marwalton Referee, a 2,500 pound animal owned by the John R. Thompson estate of Fithian, Ill.

Grand championship honors in the Hampshire sheep class went to Strutz and Sons of Jamestown, N. D., with their ram entry. An Oxford Down ram owned by R. F. Richards of Portage, Wis., took the grand championship in his class, and a Rambouillet belonging to W. A. Leavitt of Johnstown, Ohio won the grand championship in that class.

The statue of Venus de Milo is six feet three inches in height.

The rabbit now seemed pleased. You bet! It said, "I never will forget that Clowny saved my life. Some day I'll be as glad as I can be to help him out when he needs me. There's not a single thing I'm sure that I'd refuse to do."

"Oh, that's all right," wee Clowny said. "Perhaps you'd better hop ahead and hie back to your little home. We'll meet again some day. Course, if you'd rather stay right here, there's not a thing that you need fear. We're going to find some food to eat and then turn out for play."

"Oh, my!" the rabbit snapped real quick. "I have a plan that I think is slick. I know where heaps of berries are. I'll lead you to that place. The rest can wait here for our treat and we'll bring back good things to eat." So Clowny trailed the rabbit, and a smile spread on his face.

They found the berries and came back. "Oh my, but they are nice and black," said Coppy. "And you have enough to satisfy us all. I love blackberries very much. They look almost too nice to touch. But, come on boys, let's eat them. We'll be foolish if we stall."

Then each one ate all that he could and all agreed that they were good. "I'll tell you what we'll do right now," said Scouty, with a grin. "We'll find a vine, or anything with which we all can make a swing. We'll give the Weeones each a ride, if they will climb right in."

The swing was made. Then Carpy cried, "Come on there, Weeones, hop inside. We'll swing you all at one time 'cause that really seems quite fair." The Weeones hopped aboard the swing and Scouty promptly pushed the thing. The Tinies stood and laughed to see the Weeones sail through air.

PARK PARTY TO INSPECT PALO DURO

SAN ANTONIO GROUP TO VISIT LUBBOCK ON WAY TO CANYON

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 16—D. E. Colp, chairman of the state parks board, said today that a good-will motorcade, comprising representatives of the Rotary, American Legion, Lions, Kiwanis, state parks board and highway department, would leave San Antonio Monday morning, November 4.

Members of the motorcade will lunch at Mason, November 4 and spend the night at Brownwood. On the next day they will lunch at Abilene and spend the night at Snyder. They will have lunch at Lubbock on November 6, and stay overnight at Amarillo.

Inspect Palo Duro

An inspection of Palo Duro Canyon is on the program for November 7 and the return trip is due to start November 8. The itinerary for the return journey has not been announced.

Two representatives from Monterrey, Mexico, representing the Pan-American highway and the republic of Mexico and several county judges will be in the party.

One purpose of the trip is to stimulate interest in state parks. Colp pointed out that Texas had more parks than any other state except one, and soon expected to add another at Palo Duro Canyon.

APPROVE SCHOOL BONDS

TEXARKANA, Oct. 16 (AP)—Residents of the Texarkana, Texas, independent school district today approved an $225,000 bond issue for building purposes.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 16 (AP)—The recent floods in the banana region of El Hule losses amounting to $2,000,000 Governor Adalberto Tejeda of Vera Cruz announced while on a visit here.

The flood waters carried away thousands of stocks of bananas which had been loaded on to freight cars ready for shipment.

CONTROLLED VOLATILITY. . .

What have tank cars to do with motor cars? Just this. Every day, tank cars filled with Phillips 66 are shipped North, South, East and West. The volatility of the gasoline in each of these tank cars is scientifically controlled to fit the climatic conditions of the locality in which it is sold. The result? Instant starting, quick warm-up, rapid acceleration, remarkable power and mileage—regardless of weather—at no extra cost! For best results try a full tank of Phillips 66 . . . or 66 Ethyl.

Phill-up with Phillips 66

© 1929, Phillips Petroleum Company

WHEN THE THERMOMETER GOES DOWN THE VOLATILITY GOES UP

Gasoline must vaporize before it can be fired in the cylinders of your motor. Volatility refers to the ability of gasoline to vaporize. With volatility controlled, Phillips 66 vaporizes as quickly in cold as in warm weather.
