Vigorous Presidential Campaign Nears End; Vote Tuesday

Citizens Are To Choose Between FDR, Willkie

Fifty Millions Of Ballots Are To Be Marked

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—A campaign of tremendous — and trivial—issues, a campaign fought out with a slugging tenacity seldom equalled, a campaign holding a fateful decision for America, is almost ended.

On Tuesday the voters of the country will select the man who for four years will, God willing, sit in the White House and mold the nation's destiny in a world at arms.

They will choose between Franklin D. Roosevelt, the personification of the New Deal, and Wendell L. Willkie, lawyer and former public utilities executive who endorses a number of New Deal measures but has denounced New Deal methods and philosophies.

Vice-President, Too

When these expected 50,000,000 voters pick their president they also will be selecting their vice president. He is the constitutional heir to the presidency should a White House vacancy occur, otherwise, the presiding officer of the Senate.

Henry A. Wallace, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, and Senator Charles L. McNary, the Republican candidate, have carried the burden of the campaigning on farm issues.

Thirty-five senators, all but three House members and 33 governors also will be chosen in the Tuesday balloting. Maine, holding its state election in September, already has picked its governor, a senator and three representatives in Congress.

The minor party slates include the Socialist ticket headed by the veteran Norman Thomas and the Communist party with Earl Browder as its nominee. Roger W. Babson heads the prohibition party's ticket.

Communists Barred

Court actions and the decisions of election boards have ruled the Communist candidates from ballots of a number of states.

As election eve approaches, national issues that have been shuffled and re-shuffled through intense days and nights of speech-making take on new stature or diminish as factors likely to determine the outcome of the presidential contest. Two in particular stand out now.

The first is war. Willkie, although endorsing all possible material as-

WHERE LUBBOCK GUARDSMEN WILL TRAIN—Over 6,000 carpenters and other workmen are rushing to completion at Camp Bowie, Brownwood, a complete camp city which will accommodate some 27,000 Texas National Guardsmen expected to take up drill shortly after Dec. 1. Included in the guardsmen training there will be Lubbock's two field artillery batteries. The Associated Press Telephoto above shows tent frames rising above the camp area. Of the 5,000 such living quarters, 1,500 are finished.

Man Nabbed At Willkie Rally

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—A 78-year-old man, who police said carried a loaded .32 calibre revolver in his pocket, was seized tonight 20 feet from the platform on which Wendell L. Willkie was speaking in Madison Square garden.

The elderly prisoner, moving toward the rostrum as the Republican presidential nominee concluded his last major campaign address, was grabbed by Patrolman Charles Havlick, who had been summoned by spectators.

Taken By Police

Police rushed the man immediately to the West 47th street police station—with so little disturbance most of those in the vast area knew nothing of what had happened.

Even Willkie and the bodyguards assigned to him were not aware of the incident at the time it occurred.

Capt. Conrad Rothengast, who questioned the man, said: He identified himself as Dr. U. Samuel Ward, a Harlem physician for 50 years.

"Dr. Ward denied that he intended using his gun or hurting anyone," Capt. Rothengast said. "He said he had been carrying it around only for his own protection."

To Be Held

"Two of his neighbors in the garden, a man and a woman, noticed the bulge on his clothing and immediately summoned a uniformed patrolman, who escorted Dr. Ward from the place. There was no commotion."

Rothengast said Ward was married and had no children.

Police said that the elderly man, as he left his seat and started in the direction of the platform, was

Mystery Revived As Skeleton Is Found

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Nov. 2. (U.P.)—The mystery of Lawrence county's "Murder Swamp" reappeared today with the finding of a skeleton by a rabbit hunter in the desolate terrain bordering the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad near West Pittsburgh.

Mike Seman, 29, of West Pittsburgh, found the skull beside a log 300 feet from the railroad tracks. Forty-five feet away, officers found the torso and leg skeletons amid piles of logs and half-burned debris.

County detectives and state motor police sent to investigate sought to connect this decapitation slaying with the multi-murders of Cleveland's "Mad Butcher of Kingsbury Run."

Koch To Confer With City Officials Here

O. H. Koch, Dallas city planning engineer will be in Lubbock Monday for a final conference with city officials relative to a proposed city zoning ordinance, according to information given by city officials Saturday.

The zoning ordinance has been adopted by the commission on first reading. If a second reading should be approved after the conference with Koch, officials said, a third reading will be required to put it into operating effect.

Zoning was described by officials as the most important phase of city planning.

President Seeks To Pilot US Through Storm; GOP Favors "Democratic" Way

BY MAX BOYD
Associated Press Staff Writer

CLEVELAND, Nov. 2. — President Roosevelt said tonight that the "storm" now raging over the world was the true reason why he was running for a third term and that "when that term is over there will be another president."

In his "final national address of the campaign," prepared for a nationwide broadcast from Cleveland's public auditorium, he said, "no personal ambition of any man could desire more than the privilege of being your president."

Appealing to the nation to give him a "vote of confidence" next Tuesday, the president said:

Another President

"There is a great storm raging now; it makes things harder for the world. And that storm, which did not start in this land of ours, is the true reason that I would like to stick by these people of ours until we reach the clear, sure footing ahead.

"We will make it—make it before the next term is over.

"We will make it; and the world, we hope, will make it, too.

"When that term is over there will be another president, and many more presidents in the years to come, and I think that word 'president' will be a word to cheer the hearts of common men and women everywhere."

Cheered Wildly

Tens of thousands of wildly cheering men, women and children stood in a cold wind to see the president pass in an open car on the way from his special train to the auditorium, which was jammed.

Mrs. Mildred Jaster, Ohio's national Democratic committee woman; former Senator Robert J. Bilkley and Charles Sawyer, Democratic national committeeman, rode with him to the hall.

A tremendous burst of applause greeted the president's appearance. It continued for more than three minutes, when Mr. Roosevelt sig-

Body Of Missing Man Found In Alabama

MOBILE, Ala., Nov. 2. (AP)—The body of a man identified as William Warren Mitchell, Port Arthur, Texas, who had been reported missing for a month, was found near here today.

Sergeant Floyd Davenport of the state highway patrol said the identification was established by papers in the dead man's pockets. He was the mate of the tangship Gulfcoast.

Dr. Nelson E. Grubbs, assistant state toxicologist, said tonight Mitchell had been the victim of a brutal murder, but declined to reveal the nature of evidence collected pending further investigation.

Dr. Grubbs and state highway patrol officials were continuing their investigation. Meanwhile, Mrs. Mitchell was reported on her way from Texas to Mobile to attend private funeral services for her husband.

J. R. Pinson Is Taken By Death

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

HALE CENTER, Nov. 2—James Roger Pinson, 47, druggist at Abernathy and Hale Center the last 24 years and a brother of Bert Pinson, Lubbock druggist, died this morning in a Plainview hospital of a heart ailment.

Mr. Pinson, widely known over the Panhandle and West Texas and active in civic affairs here, where he had operated a drug store 22 years, became critically ill 10 days ago. He had been in ill health several months.

Rites Are Read

Funeral services were conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Hale Center Baptist church, in which Mr. Pinson had been a deacon several years. M. W. Lemons Funeral home directed burial in Hale Center cemetery.

Born May 19, 1893, at Proctor, Comanche county, Mr. Pinson graduated from the pharmaceutical division of the University of Texas at Galveston in early manhood. After graduation he came to Abernathy in 1916 and with his sister, Mrs. Ola Legg of Plainview, operated a drug store there until he joined the United States army at the outbreak of the World war.

Served With Army

He served with the ambulance corps of the 90th division during hostilities, seeing much front line service in France. After the armistice he served with the army of occupation in Germany six months. Upon his discharge from the army he came to Hale Center and opened his drug business here.

He was married in 1920 to Miss Bailey Maxie of Boyd, who was

Accidental Death Is Verdict Of Coroner

MARSHALL, Nov. 2. (AP) — Peace Justice H. L. Callaway today returned an inquest verdict that Miss Nora Perkins, 38, storekeeper, met her death "by taking poison unknowingly which had been given to her by John Newman," and that Newman's death was self inflicted.

The two died October 25 after drinking a small quantity of liquor containing poison at the woman's store. Newman, the justice of the pease said, went to the store and asked Miss Perkins to make him a toddy. She mixed one for herself, also, from liquor he brought with him. Both died later after becoming ill.

East Texas Cities Are Seeking Plant

LONGVIEW, Nov. 2. (AP)—Hubert M. Harrison, vice president and general manager of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, announced today 12 East Texas cities are actively seeking location of the first plant of the Madaras Steel corporation of Texas, which expects to reduce East Texas iron ore by natural gas.

Harrison said briefs asking for the plant have been filed by Texarkana, Daingerfield, Atlanta, Timpson, Hughes Springs, Palestine, Jacksonville, Houston, Jefferson, Upshur county (Gilmer), Beaumont and a joint brief by Longview, Kilgore and Henderson.

TROOPS TO LEAVE

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 2. (AP) — About 2,000 officers and men of the 23rd infantry motorized combat team of the second division will leave Fort Sam Houston Monday for a 12-day field training maneuver in an area near Cross, division officials said today.

Willkie Speaker Is Asked Out Of Town

CARTHAGE, Nov. 2. (AP) — Neal Estes, Carthage newspaper publisher said a crowd of 150 persons today refused to permit a campaigner for Wendell Willkie to complete a speech he started on the courthouse square today.

A group of men dismantled sound equipment over which A. M. Davis of Houston was speaking, placed it in Davis' automobile and suggested he leave town, Estes said, adding that Davis was told "this is a Roosevelt county."

The speaker left immediately.

Democrats Plan To Hold Rally Monday Night

WITH a final election eve radio campaign rally scheduled by the Democrats for Monday night over KFYO from 7 until 7:30 and Republican leaders confident the county would poll a surprising vote for the GOP presidential candidate, Lubbock county was about set for Tuesday's general election in which the nation will decide on its leader for the next four years and likewise elect other state and national officials.

Apathy is being shown in the Texas ballot except a campaign for write-in of W. N. Corry of Tarrant county in opposition to Democratic nominee J. E. McDonald for state commissioner of agriculture. The Republicans, however, have a complete slate of candidates for state offices with the exception of the agriculture position. McDonald is being opposed in the write-in campaign because of his declaration in support of Wendell Willkie for the presidential race.

Big Vote Seen

A Lubbock county vote of between 8,000 and 9,000 votes was being forecast by political observers Saturday. The last general election in 1936 saw a total of 7,605 votes cast. This year's first Democratic primary polled 9,626 votes and the August vote total was 7,311.

Of interest to Lubbock voters is the change of voting places in three voting precincts in the city. A resolution passed by the board of trustees of the Lubbock Independent school district recently bars the elections from being held in the schools because schools will be in session.

260 Absentee Votes

The elections for Precinct 5, usually at Dupre school, will be at the Asbury Methodist church just across the street from the school; Precinct 6, regularly held at Junior High school, will be at Logan's store just across the street from the school; while Precinct 7, usually at K. Carter school, will be at the Foursquare church, Eighth and Avenue Q.

A total of 260 absentee votes had been marked and returned to the office of County Clerk Ed Allen Saturday, which indicates more than usual interest in the election.

Lubbock county's ballot will be a seven-column affair about the size

Campaign Tactics Of Republicans Rapped

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (AP)—Mayor LaGuardia asserted today that the Republican party had waged a campaign of "greed, hate and bitterness" against President Roosevelt and his social legislation.

The campaign has developed a new form of thought known as "utility mentality," the mayor said in a weekly broadcast over WEVD sponsored by a local of the International Ladies Garment Workers union (AFL).

"It's a strange state of mind, and the tragic part is that these people believe it," he continued. "They believe that just a few people have rights; that God almighty gave this country its great rivers and natural resources not for the benefit of the people as a whole, but for just a few."

Republican Presidential Candidate Wendell L. Willkie, he declared, had not discussed issues "either intelligently or honestly." He added: "but we must not expect too much from the utility candidate."

Greece Claims Her Fighting Forces Holding Fascists

(By The Associated Press)

GREEK mountain troops held Albanian territory overlooking Koritza Sunday as Britain officially disclosed her Bluejackets had landed in Greek territory to bolster the defense against Italy.

The Greek command said a furious bayonet charge resulted in the capture yesterday of a hilltop redoubt four miles inside Albania. It opened the way for turning the Italians Eastern flank while heavy artillery fire barred the other Fascist thrust in the west toward Ioannina (Janina).

Reliable Athens reports said the Fascists had failed to break main Greek defense lines after six days' fighting through mountain gorges.

Salonika, upper Aegean port, was raided six times yesterday by as many as 22 Italian planes. Greek airmen fought them over that key port.

A. V. Alexander, first lord of the British admiralty, in a broadcast early today to the British empire said of Greece:

"The British navy is there, air support is being given, military objectives in Naples have been bombed and British troops have landed in Greek territory . . . what we can do we will do."

He did not say where the troops landed but press reports said the British disembarked at the island of Crete, and the Italian high command said air attacks were directed there against ships unloading troops.

Italian "suicide" squadrons rained more bombs throughout Greece where previous attacks killed or wounded 300 civilians in Salonika, Patras and Larissa, and the islands of Corfu and Crete.

Line Said Penetrated

The Fascist high command also said its troops had penetrated the "Metaxas line" in a pincer movement with one column aimed at Salonika in northeastern Greece and another driving south toward Ioannina, which has improved road links with Athens.

Bucharest reports said Soviet Russia has concentrated 31 divisions and three mechanized brigades on the Rumanian border. A British military expert recently estimated Germany had assembled about 70 divisions or about 1,250,000 men in southeastern Europe, ostensibly to guard Rumanian oil fields and "instruct" Rumanian troops.

(A British military expert earlier this week said Germany had concentrated about 70 army divisions or about 1,250,000 men, in southeastern Europe.)

Germany is continuing to send military equipment into Rumania for "instruction" of Rumanian troops.

Artillery and anti-aircraft units are being established at Constanta, Rumanian Black sea port, and a shipment of bombers and pursuit planes recently was received here.

Value Of Greek Victory Cited By Militarists

By DREW MIDDLETON
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 2.—British military men said today a decisive check or even a stalemate of Italy's Hellenic campaign by the British and Greeks would smash the Axis scheme for conquest of the Mediterranean.

These and neutral military sources, remarking that Italy's war effort was swiftly approaching the maximum, estimated Italian troops in the field at "well over a million" or at least "70 divisions."

Not Enough

This figure includes units in Libya, Ethiopia, Italian and British Somaliland and those guarding the temporarily peaceful frontiers in Europe and Africa.

"Italy may talk of '6,000,000 bayonets' but these are not enough," one declared. "It is quite probable she does not have modern equipment for more than those in the field now."

British military men said they expected Italy to launch a big scale offensive against the Greek line on the southwest wing of the Albanian-Greek frontier.

Bulgaria Torn

Military observers said that the present situation is more favorable to the British than the first stages of the Norwegian, Flanders and French campaigns, because the Italians, and eventually the Germans, would "have to come to the British" instead of the British going to them. Such advances they say, afford many opportunities for damaging aerial attacks.

Diplomatic sources in London broke their silence to observe that:

Germany probably was disappointed that Italy failed to wait until the Spanish and Germans were ready to strike at Gibraltar.

Failure of a blow at Gibraltar to materialize probably was due to French reluctance to agree immediately with German peace plans.

The Bulgarian government is torn between an army strongly pro-Axis in sentiments and a people strongly pro-Russian and desirous of peace.

'Huitzilac Massacre' Case May Be Opened

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 2 (AP)—The recall to Mexico of Colonel Luis Alamillo as military attache of the Mexican legation in France stimulated reports today the famous "Huitzilac massacre" case might be reopened.

He was one of the main witnesses in the original investigation of the slaughter of a presidential candidate and a party of 13 friends and relatives 12 years ago.

During the heated presidential campaign of 1928, General Francisco Serrano, who opposed General Alvaro Obregon for the presidency, was assassinated with his party in the village of Huitzilac, near Cuernavaca.

La Presna said Alamillo failed to appear before the tribunal inquiring into the case as he had already sailed on a diplomatic mission to Europe.

The investigation was adjourned indefinitely, but not closed.

Actions Of Navy Of U. S. Are Explained

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP) — Breaking an official silence on activities of American warships in the Caribbean sea, the navy department said today that the Atlantic patrol force was now carrying out "scheduled exercises" in that strategic area.

The patrol force of eight destroyers and six patrol-planes, under command of Rear Admiral Hayne Ellis, left Key West, the announcement said, for training and patrol operations in the Guantanamo-San Juan-Culebra island sector.

Parade Plans Taking Shape

Plans for the Armistice day parade and speaking program Monday, Nov. 11, are taking shape rapidly, according to report Saturday by C. A. Hubbard, chairman of the joint parade committee of Allen Bros. post of the American Legion and Lubbock post of Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Serving with Hubbard on the committee are Claude Hale, Major Jack Walton and Lloyd Hill.

Start Moving At 10

The parade, Hubbard said, will be assembled in front of the Legion home, 910 Texas avenue, at 9 a. m., and will start moving through the business district promptly at 10 o'clock.

It will be routed so as to disband in front of one of the churches convenient to the business district where the speaking program, including one minute of silence at 11 o'clock, will take place. Efforts are being made to obtain an "outstanding speaker" for the occasion, Hubbard said.

He announced that Miss Della Wilkinson has agreed to arrange for the participation of the D.A.R. and the U.D.C. in the parade and program.

Mothers To Be Honored

Guests of honor on both occasions will be Gold Star Mothers of the county. They will be the guests of the auxiliaries of the two posts.

Invited to be represented in the parade, Hubbard said, are the Red Cross, Salvation Army, the bands of Texas Technological college, Senior high school, Junior High school and national guard; the drum and bugle corps of Sons of the American Legion; R.O.T.C. units at Texas Tech; national guard companies; Spanish War Veterans; the Central Labor council; Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Campfire girls.

He added that business men also are invited to be represented.

The parade will be the climaxing event of an entire day of celebration for which the local posts are arranging.

Other events will include a breakfast in Lubbock hotel at 6 o'clock, chow line feed in the Legion home at noon, flag-raising ceremonies and a demonstration by the drum and bugle corps between halves at the Tech-Centenary football game and a dance at the Lubbock hotel starting about 9 p. m.

Glen Hess is general chairman of arrangements.

Employment Hike In September Is Seen

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor estimated today that unemployment decreased by 650,000 persons during September, largely because of the national defense program, war orders from abroad, and customary fall business improvement.

The reduction, it said, was the largest in any single month since April, 1936, when unemployed rolls were decreased by 663,000 persons. The nation's unemployed totaled 8,344,000 during September, compared with 9,194,000 in August, it said.

The organization said it was surprising that with so many favorable factors, progress in industrial re-employment has not been more extensive.

"The increased productivity of workers," it added, may be responsible for the fact that employment gains have not kept pace with production gains."

Warehouse Space For Australian Wool Asked

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 2 (AP)—The Santa Fe railroad has asked E. A. Dicks, general freight and passenger agent here to ascertain immediately the amount of bonded warehouse space available in this territory for storage of imported wool from Australia.

This wool, he is informed, may come in from Pacific ports and has its eventual destination Boston. It is to be shipped on a "storage in transit" rate, which means that it can be shipped across the country on a bill of lading which will permit it to be unloaded anywhere along the route and placed in a bonded warehouse and reshipped when required without loss of benefit of the through rate from coast to coast.

Texas Military Quota For Year Given

State's Total For First Fiscal Year Is Estimated At 33,213

AUSTIN, Nov. 2. (U.P.) — State director of selective service, Gen. J. Watt Page, announced today that the estimated net military quota for Texas for the remainder of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1941 is approximately 33,213 trainees.

The estimated quota up to and including Feb. 28, 1941 is approximately 16,959.

General Page said that for the present the estimated net quota for each local board will be pro-rated on a percentage basis according to the number of registrants in each county.

The maximum requirement for men, to include Feb. 28, 1941, have been estimated for Texas by periods. One call not earlier than Nov. 19 will take 1,573 men; one about Dec. 1 to Dec. 10 will take 575. There will be three calls in January. The first of these will be for 2,077, the second for 5,535 and the third for 2,499 men. One call in February will take 4,700.

May Be Changed

The periods and quotas have been worked out to conform to the war department program for completion of training camp facilities. The figures on quotas are only estimated. After a national quota basis has been established, adjustments will be made from time to time, depending upon the number of men placed in class 1-A and the number of men joining the armed forces by entry other than through selective service, General Page said.

He announced that state selective service headquarters here will issue calls on local boards for the actual number of selectives required not later than 10 days before the day on which the first men to fill the call are to be inducted.

Boys Soon Decide That Maybe Tomatoes Are Not For Eating, Tho

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Nov. 2. (U.P.)—Two patrolmen last night came upon an automobile filled with 'teen-age youths and a big box of juicy, ripe tomatoes, apparently the ingredients of a belated Hallowe'en celebration. The officers were especially interested in the tomatoes.

"They're for eating," protested the youths.

"Start eating," the officers ordered.

After half the box was gone, the boys gave up and negotiated a compromise. The officers took the tomatoes and the boys went home.

Convict To Be Tried For Austin Slaying

AUSTIN, Nov. 2. (U.P.) — District Attorney E. G. Moorehead said today he will ask a bench warrant next week to bring John Baker from the Texas penitentiary to Austin to be tried for murder. Baker is serving a 3-year sentence on a minor conviction in Williamson county.

He was indicated by the Travis county grand jury yesterday charged with killing M. A. Toole, 74-year old storekeeper on May 12, 1939.

Toole was found in his suburban store with a stab wound and his head beaten with some blunt instrument.

Moorehead said it will be necessary to bring Baker to Austin to be present when a date for his trial is set.

Deficit Is Less Than Last Year

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. — The treasury finished the fourth month of the fiscal year with a net deficit of $1,329,512,821, almost $80,000,000 less than the net deficit at this time last year.

This was due almost equally to increased governmental receipts and decreased expenditures, the treasury balance sheet revealed.

On Oct. 31 the total public debt stood at $44,137,245,618.

Over-All Balance Of State Is $18,000,000

AUSTIN, Nov. 2. (AP) — Despite a deficit of more than $30,000,000 in two funds, the state had an overall balance of slightly over $18,000,000 in its treasury Oct. 31, the comptroller's department reported today.

Funds with deficits were general revenue with $22,226,603 and confederate pension with $2,155,945.

Accounts with cash balances totaled $48,470,391.

Lower Freight Rates Sought

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP) — Lower railroad freight rates on traffic moving through the port of Corpus Christi, Texas, were recommended today by an Interstate Commerce Commission examiner.

Terming the present rates "unduly prejudicial," Examiner Claude A. Rice said the commission should prescribe the same rates on import and export traffic between Corpus Christi and points in 22 states as rates contemporaneously applied between the same interior points and other Texas points.

Jresent rates between Corpus Christi and the 22 states are higher than rates to and from other Texas ports.

Points Are Outlined

Should the commission adopt the examiner's recommendation, reduced rates would be put into effect between Corpus Christi and points in the following states:

Arkansas, Colorado, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

The examiner also recommended that rates between Corpus Christi and inetrior points in Texas should not be higher, distance coonsidered, than rates to and from Houston, Galveston, and Texas City on light traffic.

Rate experts said the effect of the examiner's recommendation would be to give Corpus Christi rate equality with other Texas ports.

The car that dared to be DIFFERENT

Just two years ago, the Mercury 8 was introduced — with the challenge of a brand-new idea: That a really big car, with all the luxuries of roominess, power, deep comfort and easy handling, could also be an economical car to buy and run. How well it has succeeded is told by its record-breaking army of 150,000 owner-friends.

For 1941, a big, lively Mercury, new in beauty, size and comfort, throws down a greater challenge. Get acquainted with this new big car that dares to be different — arrange to drive a Mercury 8 at any Mercury, Lincoln or Ford dealer's. And make a check on the gas mileage. Mercury owners report up to 20 miles per gallon!

New Mercury 8

THINGS YOU'LL LIKE ABOUT THE NEW MERCURY

New Beauty. Long, low, superb streamlining. Bright new colors.

Big, Powerful Engine. Only V-8 in its field. Brilliant acceleration and performance. Amazing economy.

Luxurious Interiors. Harmonizing color schemes. Complete fittings. Wide seats, with resilient cushion pads of soft foam rubber.

Ease of Control. Easy Finger-Tip Gearshift. Velvet-action clutch and easy-acting hydraulic brakes. Newly-designed, perfected ride-stabilizer.

New Riding Comfort. Long, flexible, easy-action springs. Improved shock absorbers. New longer wheelbase with center-poise ride. The new Mercury rides like a dream.

THE MERCURY'S BROAD BODY, with lines that sweep out over the running boards, permits unusually wide seats. A new longer wheelbase allows ample leg room. Windows have grown deeper, head room is generous. In two-door body types, access to the rear seat is unusually easy because the front-seat backs tip inward, away from the wide doors, as they fold forward.

Democrats And Republicans Spend About Same Amount In Campaign Funds

GOP Donations Are Greatest

BY JOHN R. BEAL
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. — The Democratic and Republican national committees paid out about the same amounts from June 1 to Oct. 31 in their efforts to win the election next Tuesday, reports to the clerk of the House showed today.

Democratic disbursements were $1,200,508 for the five months, while the Republicans collected campaign

PROBE IS ADVOCATED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Declaring that there had been evidence that "exorbitant sums of money" had been expended in the national political campaign, Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) proposed today that a special joint congressional committee be created to study the entire matter and recommend "remedial legislation."

Gillette is chairman of the special Senate campaign expenditures committee appointed to police the elections of President, Vice President and Senators. He explained that authority of this group was limited.

A joint Senate-House committee, Gillette told reporters, would have broader powers to go "into the entire field of political expenditures."

contributions of $2,132,907 during the period. The Democratic committee treasurer received $1,307,572.

The Democrats for Willkie headquarters in New York today reported contributions of $197,646 and expenditures of $121,444 from Oct. 21 to 31.

The Colored Workers Committee for Willkie reported total contributions of $14,605 from Oct. 7 to Oct. 31 and expenditures of $9,311. Contributors included T. Austen, Houston, Tex., who gave $4,000.

Limited To $3,000,000

Under the amendment to the Hatch act enacted at this session, political parties are limited to $3,000,000 in expenditures on national campaigns.

The reports on file with the clerk showed many more organizations backing Wendell L. Willkie independently of the Republican national committee than are backing President Roosevelt.

Only two major organizations reported themselves working independently for the Roosevelt-Wallace ticket—the National Committee of Independent Voters and the Business Men's League for Roosevelt. The former collected $160,971 and spent $123,427 between the time of its organization Sept. 20 and Oct. 26, the latter organized on Oct. 26, collected $18,240 and spent $5,029 by Oct. 30.

The United Republican Finance committee of Pennsylvania reported receipts during September and October of $960,246 and expenditures of $780,594.

Among the Willkie organizations was the "Willkie Committee of 11 Million Business Men, Professional Men and Farmers," with headquarters in New York. Mrs. J. I. Sakr, New York treasurer reported that by the end of October it had collected $1,614 and spent $561.

Grand Jury Will Be Convened Monday

Grand jury for the new term of 72nd district court will be impaneled Monday morning at 10 o'clock, according to information given Saturday by presiding Judge Daniel A. Blair.

District Attorney Burton S. Burks and Assistant Victor H. Lindsey said that investigations waiting grand jury attention are almost entirely routine.

Immediately after charging the grand jury, Judge Blair will call all his civil dockets except the appearance, which is set for Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. He will devote the week to the disposition of non-jury civil matters.

A petit jury is to appear in 99th district court where Judge E. L. Pitts is scheduled to try civil cases during the week.

Criminal cases are set for trial in 99th court during the week of Nov. 11 and in 72nd court during the week of Nov. 18.

Judge Pitts and Judge Blair joined in the announcement, however, that both courts will be at recess Nov. 11 for Armistice day.

The paintings on display beginning today were chosen from the 20th annual exhibition of the Southern States Art league, in the Mint museum in Charlotte, N. C., last April. The exhibition travels in several sections and one of the oil paintings sections was chosen for display here. Each group was planned to be a cross section of the work southern artists are doing today.

An outstanding painting in the exhibition is "Negro Cabins," by Reuben Gambrell. Other artists represented include Mildred Nungester of Decatur, Ala.; David M. Reese of Newman, Ga.; Gladys C. Fort of Gaffney, S. C.; Margaret Ellen Harper of Lenoir, N. C., Mary Paul Glenn of Birmingham, Ala., Pattie R. East of Fort Worth, William F. Walter of Washington, D. Some of the paintings are in modern style, others in conservative manner. Typical southern scenes, including negroes and their cabins, share-croppers and their fields, cotton pickers, rural electrification and magnolias are to be seen.

Plane Expert Claims Japs Have A Mighty Air Force

By DEVON FRANCIS
Associated Press Aviation Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 — Charles Healy Day, aircraft plant manager who has lived through 35 Japanese bombing raids in China, has brought back to the United States a belief that the Japanese air force is better than America's in quantity and quality.

"We have consistently underrated the Japanese in the air," he said today in an interview. "They have splendid airplanes and lots of them. In China alone they are operating between 800 and 900 first-line planes."

Has Better Designs

He added he had no doubt the United States has better designs on drawing boards than the Japanese actually have in service.

"Americans are too supine in their belief that the Japanese copy occidental airplanes," Day said.

"I examined one Japanese pursuit plane shot down in the Chinese war. It resembled nothing made abroad. It had been designed by the Japanese themselves and was good for 315 miles an hour. It did have a Japanese adaptation of an American engine."

Day has been in the aviation business since the World war when he was vice president and chief engineer of one of the major American aircraft plants.

Morale Is Strong

He went to Canton, China, in 1934 at the invitation of the Cantonese government to take charge of an aircraft plant. When the Japanese armies moved south in 1937 to extend their conquest of China, he transported his factory 700 miles inland. It is operating now "somewhere in Yunnan province."

Day described the morale of nationalist China as "strong and getting stronger all the time."

"But," he added, "the Chinese need things to fight with. The only weapons they can make in quantity are rifles and ammunition."

Draft Officials Receive Complaints That Capsules Were Not Mixed Evenly But Give Denial To Claims And Offer Evidence

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 —Selective service officials said today that a number of letters and telegrams have been received from draft registrants who believe that capsule-encased numbers in Tuesday's lottery were not evenly mixed before the drawing.

One telegram officials said, called on the draft board to cancel the lottery results and hold a new drawing—or better still repeal the draft law.

Said Few Low Numbers Drawn

The complaints, it was said, contended that few low numbered serial numbers were drawn during the early hours of the lottery and that high numbers came up consistently.

A study of the board's list of early numbers drawn showed that the first 1,000 capsules contained 132 numbers in the 8,000 bracket. A total of 111 capsules would have given an exact percentage of the 9,000 capsules.

Late Registrants Included

"There probably would be a much greater complaint if only the low numbers were drawn," one official said. "The very highest numbers, which were allotted after registration day frequently represent late registrants. It would probably produce sharp criticism if those people who registered after Oct. 16 were found only at the bottom of the order list."

Selective Service Director Clarence A. Dykstra announced that advisory boards will begin functioning in each state today to assist first draft registrants in filling out classification questionnaires.

Advisory Boards To Aid in Questionnaires

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP) — A veritable army of judges and lawyers was ready today to help speed the answering of draft questionnaires preparatory to the actual selection of men for a year's compulsory military training.

Clarence A. Dykstra, selective service director reminding registrants who receive questionnaires from their local boards that they are required to answer and return them in five days, urged them to make use of advisory boards set up for the purpose if the questions are not clear.

To Assist Registrants

The boards usually are composed of three lawyers, including judges of county and city courts, Dykstra said, and have been afforded every facility to assist the registrants. Officials said the number of advisory boards, which are appointed by state governors was not immediately available.

Issuance of the eight-page questionnaires containing about 50 main questions, got underway in many localities today. Dykstra said. They will be sent first to the men whose serial numbers were drawn earliest in the conscription lottery here Tuesday.

Defense Problems To Be Talked At Meet

AUSTIN, Nov. 2 (AP)—The problems raised by national defense preparations will play a big role in discussions before the 28th annual convention of the League of Texas Municipalities meeting in Fort Worth, Nov. 7 and 8.

E. E. McAdams of Austin, executive secretary of the league, said a Nov. 7 general session would be devoted to his question with Daniel W. Hoan, associate director of the state and local cooperation division of the Council of National Defense as the chief speakers. Hoan is former mayor of Milwaukee.

Life Insurance Meet Held Here Saturday

Agents from the following West Texas towns attended the session: Amarillo, Tulia, Pampa, Quitaque, Lamesa, Seagraves, Higgins, Lubbock, Happy, Brownfield, Amherst, Crosbyton, Dickens, Childress, Littlefield, Ralls, Sudan, Lockney, Rotan, Snyder, and Silverton.

Banana Peddler To Banana King--That Is Story Of Sam Zemurray, Son Of The Soil

By CHARLES E. HARNER
AND MORTIMER KREEGER
Associated Press Staff Writers

NEW YORK, Nov. 2—It's a safe bet that now he has reached 63 Samuel Zemurray can no longer tick every one of his employes.

One reason is that there are about 77,000 of them, and there are some very tough citizens among them.

And furthermore he's satisfied with their work, which last year resulted in net profits of $14,000,000.

Made Good Fighter

Of course, he still has his moments of satisfactory exercise. Moments when the floor trembles while he stamps his towering 200 pounds back and forth across a room and waves his arms over his head to the jeopardy of chandeliers.

On such pleasurable occasion Sam Zemurray is prone to mix English, Spanish and Russian expletives in a bellow which fog his six foot two inch frame.

But he rarely punishes anyone physically.

Men who knew him in his youth say the prize ring missed a promising candidate because of bananas—the product which Zemurray and his thousands of men support to the whole world.

Land Is The Thing

But such comment does not flatter Zemurray that is frivolity.

Land, he says, land is what counts. Everything comes from the soil—and goes back to the soil. As with land, look at land.

As president of United Fruit company Zemurray has achieved control over a great sea of land more than 3,000,000 acres a territory as large as Connecticut.

From day to day in his offices in New York, Boston or New Orleans he bends his iron grey head to look through both normal spectacles and maps of these holdings in 10 different countries.

Transportation System Tops

The bananas and sugar of these areas are transported in the 96 steamships of the great white fleet from United Fruit wharves served by 1,745 miles of United Fruit railroads. The company's transportation system alone is one of the marvels of the world.

But the trains and ships," Zemurray explains, "men are just servants of the soil. They are just like farmers truck that takes the crops to market.

When I see the land I see all those things like a flash. I see what it takes to get the start of things. He says I want to know everything about whatever interests me. I want to see for myself."

A competitor, Andrew Hubbard, gave him that opportunity. The two went into partnership and Hubbard took charge of their New Orleans office, leaving Zemurray free to go look at banana trees. He went to Honduras.

Bought Ripe Ones

That's how Sam Zemurray came to make a fortune.

The 20-year-old laborer agreed to take a freight carload of ripe fruit off a Mobile wharf. He not only paid a bit of cash for the stuff but he saved the dockmen a lot of trouble.

He coupled the car to a freight train headed into Alabama. When the train stopped, which was often, he sold bananas singly and by items to anyone he could interest.

On his next trip, friendly station agents telegraphed ahead to tell other station agents the banana car was coming. Zemurray paid the station agents in the usual. Grocers paid him cash.

Business Branches Out

Young Sam traveled over most of the South and Middle West and even into Canada by freight train, hired other men to take the bananas around the country and extended his buying operations to New Orleans.

He became a valued customer of the United Fruit company which, in the hands of conservative Boston financiers, was already a power in the Caribbean and Mexican gulf countries.

Twenty years after Zemurray and the Boston gentlemen were to fight a titanic battle of economic empire but nobody could have guessed it then.

Ambition Is Spur

To the young fruit merchant bananas were something which came out of the holds of ships. That did not satisfy him.

I like to get to the start of things," he says. I want to know everything about whatever interests me. I want to see for myself."

A competitor, Andrew Hubbard, gave him that opportunity. The two went into partnership and Hubbard took charge of their New Orleans office, leaving Zemurray free to go look at banana trees. He went to Honduras.

Got His Start

There on the Cuyamel river he got "to the start of things" living among Carib farmers, laborers. He worked among them, learning Spanish as he worked, slept on the mud floors of their huts "up river," and made friends.

Sam likes to work with his hands," says one old friend. "I think he'd be just as willing to sweat and get dirty today as he was in the old days. Anyway, that's what everybody thinks about him and that helps make his men loyal."

Bought Own Plantation

"Big Sam" came out of Honduras with a big idea, leaving behind him a lot of friends who ran independent banana plantations. Hubbard agreed with the big idea. They bought a rusty old tramp steamer and started picking up cargoes from the independents. Now they were direct competitors of United Fruit.

Their sales business in the United States continued to expand. They bought other freighters now and then. Zemurray kept going back to religiously attended directors' meetings in Boston, and had kept his mouth shut. But he opened it forcefully and to the point in the July meeting of that year. And Floyd Odlum, a director and to mean shareholder himself seconded everything Zemurray said.

The directors hurriedly made their former competitor "managing director in charge of operations." The new officer immediately boarded one of the vessels of the great white fleet and went down to Central America under forced draft, spraying radiograms as he went.

Within two weeks the stock was selling at $26. Zemurray was back on the soil.

Then He's President

Quite a few Harvard boys whose background was impeccable but whose work wasn't, suddenly were replaced on the plantations by the tough tropical veterans whose college had been the Cuyamel Fruit company. Bananas started moving as they had never moved before. Operations soared in Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Guatemala, Honduras, Jamaica, Panama, the Canary Islands, England and the United States. There was no dissension among the directors in 1938 when they made Zemurray president.

And then there is a side to his life which the two-fisted executive will not discuss. That's his attitude toward the little competitors such as he himself was not so very long ago.

Must "Take It"

There are stories heard in the tropics of personal gains which Zemurray makes, from time to time, to the "little men" who are his friends. Some of them are shippers, most of them are plantation men, back on the soil. Those loans do not appear in company books and the chances are only Zemurray knows their total. The tales about them are so many that they must be large.

Zemurray's formal charities are concerned mainly with higher education, as represented at Tulane university—a middle American research department and a cooperative dormitory for co-eds.

He endowed the New Orleans child guidance clinic. He likes to hire college graduates—if he thinks they have stamina as well as book knowledge.

His family life—he married Sarah Weinberger in New Orleans in his twenties — is limited by business responsibilities. However, the pursuits of his two children indicate the father's passion for the soil.

Samuel, jr., was graduated from Tulane as captain of the boxing team and now is supervisor of a large tung orchard near Hammond. The daughter, Doris, now Mrs. Roger Thayer Stone, is a competent archeologist and has served in several Tulane expeditions digging into the history of ancient Central American peoples.

"You have to study the land," Zemurray says. "Everything goes back into the soil. Do you understand?"

Born In Bessarabia

[illegible] understand? Then all right, he says, it all goes right back to the land. And so always I look at land."

The tactful, jubilee accent in his curiously tense an intent effort to select words of exact meaning both give the clue to Zemurray's devotion to the soil. He's a direct product of the soil of ancient Bessarabia which since the dawn of history has been fertilized by the blood of men slain in wars for its possession.

He was born there the year before the Berlin treaty of 1878 gave the province back to Russia, which had lost it by war after gaining it by war. Because of its fertile acres, Bessarabia is an unhappy land.

Came Here When 11

Sam came to the United States when he was 11 years old. It was there he saw his first banana, a high priced, luxury fruit with a decided

New York's 47 Votes Puzzling

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The puzzle of who will win New York's 47 electoral votes next Tuesday—native son Franklin D. Roosevelt or adopted son Wendell L. Willkie—is as baffling as a good detective story. You can't tell until the end.

That the final tally will be close is generally agreed, even among some politicians. That the outcome is doubtful is indicated by the way both candidates are firing their heaviest batteries in this direction, right down to the finish.

Are Very Important

This stumping by both sides also shows how important these 47 votes are considered. Some observers have suggested New York might decide the election, although not in modern history has the state changed the national verdict; yet only once in that period, in 1916, was the state on the losing side.

To realize New York's influence, one must remember that its electoral votes are six more than New England's six states can muster combined; that they equal those of California, Washington and Oregon, with Colorado, Nevada and Wyoming thrown in; that they equal, too, those of Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana and Mississippi.

Two Distinct Units

One must also remember that the state contains two distinct units as far apart politically as Vermont and South Carolina. Upstate—the 57 counties outside of New York City—is traditionally Republican; New York City is traditionally Democratic.

They have near-equal voting strength. This year, the city has 3,388,741 registered voters, an increase of nearly a half million since 1936; upstate has 3,571,376, up a quarter million.

In figuring the vote will be close, observers point to the Lehman-Dewey gubernatorial battle of two years ago in contrast to the Roosevelt-Landon contest in 1936. Governor Lehman, who succeeded Mr. Roosevelt after the latter's two terms at Albany, defeated Thomas E. Dewey, New York district attorney and losing candidate for the Republican presidential nomination this year, by 64,394. He did it by carrying the city by 681,369, offsetting Dewey's upstate margin of 616,975.

In 1936, Alf Landon carried upstate by 262,844, but lost the city by 1, 375,396, giving President Roosevelt a margin of 1,112,552.

Publicly, both Democratic and Republican spokesmen say New York state is a chinch for their respective sides. National Democratic Chairman Edward J. Flynn says it's "as safe as can be" and estimates the president's New York City margin at 900,000. National Republican Chairman Joseph Martin, jr., says "we'll wind up emphatically with the state."

Record Year In Building Seen

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. — The year 1940 will prove a boom year for the construction industry, the Commerce department predicted today.

Private contract awards for the first nine months of the year jumped 15 per cent over the figure for the corresponding period last year, with the third quarter trend running approximately 25 per cent above the 1939 levels.

The outlook for the remainder of the year was termed "excellent" with the rising national income and the defense program as the major factors involved.

LEVELLAND, Nov. 2. (Special)—Levelland High school's 50-piece senior band made its first appearance in new uniforms at the football game between the Levelland Lobos and the Slaton Tigers here Friday night.

The new suits are black, trimmed in red. White Sam Browne belts and shako-style hats are also worn. The drum major's uniform is patterned after the West Point dress uniform, with a 12-inch fur shako.

In addition to the senior band there are 85 band students, J. Bud Farrar, director, said.

Doe Leads Double Life, Warden Says

AUSTIN, Nov. 2. (AP)—How a doe on the H. J. Bussa ranch in Bandera county lives a double life was related by game department officials today.

Twin fawns were born to the doe this year. One was picked up by a ranch hand and taken to the house. Soon mother doe hurdled a fence in order to nurse the captive. Then she disappeared into the wilds to feed the other fawn.

This performance had continued on a daily basis.

MONTGOMERY WARD

Only One Major War Declared In U. S. Presidential Election Year--In 1812

"War Makes Prosperity" Fallacy Exploded In Study Of Economics

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 2 — The United States in thirty-seven presidential election years, 1792 to 1936 declared only one major war, according to findings of a study of economic trends in election years by Investors Syndicate, of Minneapolis.

Another major war, however, was fought during a presidential election year. A minor war was declared and two undeclared wars waged in three presidential balloting years. This nation came near the brink of war in three presidential polling contests. Events in two presidential years led to wars soon thereafter, one of these partly the result of the election. Four Indian wars were fought and two rebellions put down in six presidential election years.

"Prosperity that immediately followed the three American major wars—those of 1812, Civil and World—caused some people to believe that wars make prosperity, and in some instances wars, prosperity and presidential elections are logically linked," declared E. E. Crabb, president of Investors Syndicate. "They are happenstances rather than circumstances.

"Business cycles and wars have neither regular time schedules nor geographical limitations, thus in these respects at least, differ from presidential elections. Wars and threats of wars however are among the originating cause of business cycles.

Cable May Have Prevented War

"Prosperity never is created by wealth destruction any more than depressions result from presidential elections, a fallacy exploded by a previous study made by this company. Attempts to link short-lived booms (which often are followed by long and severe depressions) to major wars and sometimes presidential elections which preceded them are equally fallacious.

"War unbalances production. Goods produced for normal uses are destroyed. In time, goods shortages occur, because depreciation and obsolescence disregard wars. Industry in trying to make up these goods deficits gets an unusual stimulus which eventually brings about over-supply and its consequent reaction. War inflation forces a price rise which lightens debt burdens, makes people optimistic. Seeing prices rise they prefer goods to money. Their consequent buying sends prices higher, brings about an over-supply of goods, and eventually recession and depression. War does not create wealth, which is the result of production and savings.

"The War of 1812, only major war declared in a presidential election year, came in a period of uneven prosperity. Several prosperous years followed before the 1816 depression arrived. Ship seizures and impressments caused the United States to declare war on England June 18, 1812. Two days earlier England, because her people were starving—wheat was $4 a bushel—said she would stop such seizures and did so June 23, 1812. There was no cable in those days—its predecessor, the telegraph, was invented in 1844—an election year—or the war of 1812 might have been avoided.

"The Civil War, only major conflict waged in a presidential election year, that of 1864, started in the relatively prosperous year of 1861. The North prospered several years after the war ended but depression and ruin blackened the South.

"War with Tripoli, a minor war declared in a presidential year, came in prosperous 1804, but that period was ended by the 1808 depression.

"An undeclared sea war waged against France started in prosperous 1800, but in two years a recession arrived. General Pershing pursued Mexican General Villa in prosperous 1916 when the Allied armies of Europe poured millions into this country for war supplies. Within a year this country was involved in the World War, which was followed by a boom that ended in 1920.

"This country neared war with England in 1808, a depression year, because in 1807 the British ship 'Leopard' fired on and took sailors from the American frigate Chesapeake. We neared war with France in prosperous 1836 because the French Chamber failed to appropriate money to pay claims to which France had agreed, growing out of property and ship seizures by Napoleon Bonaparte. We approached war with Spain in April 1896 as our Congress passed resolutions recognizing the belligerency of Cubans and offering them the services of the United States Government to secure the recognition of independence by Spain. President Cleveland, however, was not bound by such resolutions. That as well as several previous years were depressed.

Causes South Carolina To Secede

"When the legislature of South Carolina, then in session, heard the news flash about Abraham Lincoln's election to the presidency, this legislative convention December 20, 1860 voted to secede. This event, in the depressed year of 1860 was one election year event that led to a war later.

"The United States by a treaty signed in 1844, a relatively prosperous year, agreed to admit Texas to the Union, a presidential election year event which contributed to bringing about our war with Mexico two years later.

"There were four Indian wars fought in as many presidential election years. The Black Hawk war was fought in the prosperous year of 1832, while the first Sioux War took place in the relatively prosperous 1868. A war was waged against both the Southern Cheyennes and the Arapahoes in the depressed year of 1864. The second Sioux War also took place during a depression, that of 1876.

"The Boxer expedition in the prosperous 1900, in which we participated with England, Germany, France and others, usually is not considered a minor war by us. The outbreak of the Whiskey Rebellion in Pennsylvania took place in the depressed election year of 1792. The struggle for Kansas as a Slave state, a struggle which threatened Civil War, took place in the prosperous presidential election year of 1856.

"When New Englanders were unable to trade on the high seas for several years preceding the war of 1812, because both England and France seized our ships, they turned their capital, employees and talents from shipping to manufacturing with the result that New England factories were supplying most of the merchandise needed by the United States before we resumed trade with Europe.

"Meanwhile the long wars in Europe lessened food supplies there so overseas nations bought American foodstuffs at favorable prices, which supplied American farmers with capital to buy our manufactured goods. Our manufactures also benefitted from the absence of foreign competition both in the North and South. And of course during these European Wars our country was enriched by the immigration of skilled artisans bent on pursuing their daily tasks in peace. These European foodstuff purchases from American farmers stopped when wars ceased and European manufactures resumed competition against American manufacturers about the same time as production for normal use was restored.

Factors In Post War Prosperity

"While Confederate soldiers on their discharge returned to ruined farms or factories the Union soldier in many instances had a choice of jobs. Public lands afforded him the opportunity of engaging in agriculture, for once again Europe was buying the products of American farms in increasing volume and at advancing prices as she sold her manufactures here.

"Railroad construction was speeding up, for the first transcontinental roads were being pushed as Americans sold such rail bonds and stock to Europeans, who, after enjoying relative peace in many nations had accumulated savings which now sought employment. Railroad building offered discharged soldiers jobs.

"Capital had been increased through the sale of American securities to Europe. Our manufacturing capital investments rose from $1,009,000,000 in 1860 to $2,113,000,000 in 1870 and $2,790,000,000 by 1880.

"Immigration was attracted here by the land and job opportunities. Such immigration aided growing manufactures and swelled the domestic market for consumers goods.

Our Lending Revives Europe

"The United States before entering the World War sold vast quantities of foods and war materials to Europe. Payments for such goods piled up huge cash resources which, after the end of the War, the United States loaned to Europe to buy goods here and thus replace the ravages of depreciation and obsolescence which continue their work in war as well as in peace time. When such goods were replaced by Europeans they were able to resume production and thereafter competition with American factories.

"As American loans stopped European purchases, based on such loans, stopped. And the depression, that usually follow the unbalancing of production and wealth destruction caused by war, arrived."

Storks Bring Messages Of Suffering Of Dutch From Nazi Rule

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Nov. 2 (AP) — Boer farmers in this vicinity report that some of the storks arriving here in their annual 7,000-mile migration from the Netherlands are carrying written messages on the condition of the Dutch under Nazi rule.

One farmer said he untied this scribbled message from the leg of a migrating stork:

"We inhabitants of Bergen-op-Zoom tell you German occupation is just hell."

Another said, "the Dutch people are dying under injustice."

Land For Hunting Leases Is Listed

Listing of approximately 50 tracts of land in the Fredericksburg area available for deer hunting leases during the season opening Nov. 16 was supplied Lubbock Chamber of Commerce by the Fredericksburg Chamber Saturday.

Officials of the local chamber explained that many inquiries invariably are received about such leases in advance of the hunting season.

The listings include location, acreage, facilities available and other information concerning the various tracts. It is available for inspection at the local chamber, officials said.

RABBIT BATTLES SNAKE

TOPEKA, Kas., Nov. 2 (AP) — State Game Protector Art Benander noticed a rabbit jumping up and down and not getting anywhere. Investigation disclosed the little animal was trying to kill a black-snake by kicking it. Benander finished the job and found bunny had inflicted several cuts in the reptile's hide.

Duncan Flat Farmer Makes Good Money In Hog Raising Business; Raises Own Feed

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

DICKENS, Nov. 2—Joe M. Rose of the Duncan Flat community in Dickens county, has made good money raising hogs during the past 15 years, according to Mack Woodrum, county farm agent, who has since his work began in this county, cooperated with the farmer in his improvement program and in assisting him in every possible way.

In 1925 Rose purchased a bred registered Duroc-Jersey gilt from J. R. Oliver at Whitewright and from this start has raised hundreds of hogs since. He keeps from three to six brood sows all the time and they farrow from 60 to 90 pigs a year.

Sells Pigs At Weaning

At weaning time Rose sells his pigs at from $5 to $12.50 each; bred gilts bring from $17.50 to $25 each and when there is plenty of feed barrows are fed out until they reach a weight of 225 pounds. He has sold them at prices ranging from $12 to $25 each and boar pigs have been sold at from $12 to $25.

At the present time Rose has 63 hogs on hand. He has sold $465 worth so far this year, in spite of low prices.

Home grown feed are used in the rations. On two small pieces of ground he grows wheat and sudan, planting wheat in the fall for winter pasture and sudan for spring and summer pasture. Maize skimmed milk cottonseed meal and tankage are included in the ration.

In recent years a number of 4-H club boys from Dickens county and from nearby counties have bought gilts from Rose, a number starting their foundation herd from his herd. Many vocational agriculture teachers and county farm agents have recommended the Rose herd to farmers who want to get into the registered hog business.

Throughout the past 15 years the Rose farm has been used by extension service agents as a demonstration farm, to show a widely diversified program. Rose, according to Woodrum, "does not agree in every case with the extension service methods, but he has been an exceptionally good demonstrator."

Aside from his extension work, Rose has been a community leader and a county leader in farmer groups has cooperated with the Agricultural Adjustment administration program and is also active in civic affairs of the county.

Now He Can Help In The Jail's Kitchen

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 2 (AP)—Robert L. Belcher, 18, was a drug store employe and he wanted to be a chef—a good chef, one of the kind that takes French pastry and crepes suzette right in stride.

He figured the only way to do it was to go to New York to study and he had to have money to do that. So each night, according to police, he crawled through a window in the drug store basement that led to an adjoining shoe shop and stole a few dollars.

He figured the small sums would never be missed but they were and last night when he entered the shoe store the owner met him with a shotgun and held him until police arrived.

Chief of Detectives John Duncan said maybe Belcher could help with the cooking at the city jail.

New Uniforms For Band At Muleshoe

MULESHOE, Nov. 2. (Special)—Twenty-five new uniforms have been received by the Muleshoe High school band, Hardy E. Williams, director, said today.

The new uniforms are blue and white gabardine, trimmed in gold braid. On the sleeve is an emblem depicting a mule jumping through a horseshoe. The suits were selected and bought by the Band Boosters association.

Total number of band members has been raised to 50 this year, Williams said.

Discover Unpublished Brownings Letter

AUSTIN, Nov. 2 (AP) — An unpublished and hitherto unknown letter written jointly by Robert and Eilzabeth Browning, England's great Victorian poets, has been discovered in the University of Texas library.

The letter went unnoticed for many years in the extensive collection of Charles Dickens materials bequeathed the library by the late Mrs. Mariam Lutcher Stark of Orange.

Written in Paris, July 11, 1858, the epistle was addressed to a Miss Bailey, nurse of an old friend of the Brownings. Part of it was written and signed by Mrs. Browning and the other part by her husband.

Airplane Replaces Pony As Texas Rounds Up Antelope

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 2.—Shed a tear for the cowboy pony.

When it's roundup time in Texas, at least for antelope, these storied mounts of cattle kingdoms must yield to the airplane.

The state game, fish and oyster commission reports the successful use of planes in rounding up fleet antelopes, formerly a job exclusively for horses.

And what's more the first experiment was so successful indications are 500 antelopes will be nabbed before trapping operations cease. Last year 10 horsemen captured 274.

It frequently becomes necessary to capture and redistribute antelopes because they denude domestic stock pastures of valuable grass.

On its first test, the airplane method bagged a herd of 15 antelopes in 32 minutes near Alpine, driving them more than two miles and easily turning them in the direction of specially constructed pens.

Game managers noted antelope herded from the air were no more panicky when penned than those driven by horsemen. When captured they are placed in padded crates and trucked to new pastures, sometimes 200 miles distant.

The game department believes it can re-populate some 500 square miles—land which once boasted antelope but from which they were shot out—with new stock this year.

The trapping and redistributing program adds up to, officials hope, a controlled open hunting season on the speedy quadrapeds which are now protected the year 'round.

Orchestra Unable To Fill Dance Program

Money will be refunded to purchasers of tickets to a dance scheduled Friday night in Lubbock hotel, where Earl "Father" Hines, nationally famous piano player, and his orchestra were to have played, it was announced.

The negro orchestra leader and his band were unable to fill the engagement because of an accident in Tulsa, it was reported. The dance was postponed after attempts were made to employ a substitute band.

Germany Soon To Have 300 Submarines, Largest U-Boat Fleet In The World

Big Campaign Said Planned

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. —Germany soon will have 300 submarines —the largest U-boat fleet in the world, naval circles disclosed today.

According to these sources, Germany now has 120 submarines—allowing for war losses—and 180 building.

This information coincides with reports from abroad that Germany is launching a greater and more intensive undersea campaign against British shipping.

Inferior In Tonnage

Completion of the current German naval building program would give that country a naval force numerically stronger than the present United States fleet of 316 vessels. But Germany's strength of the sea would be composed almost entirely of submarines and would be inferior in tonnage and battle strength to either the American, British or Japanese navies.

Completion of all the submarines would give Germany a fleet of 370 vessels of all kinds. When Germany's entire construction program is completed, its fleet will be composed of eight battleships, two aircraft carriers, 13 cruisers, 47 destroyers and the 300 U-boats.

The United States has the largest naval construction program. In various stages of building are 329 vessels—17 battleships, 12 aircraft carriers, 48 cruisers, 170 destroyers and 82 submarines.

Brick Drive Is Given Boost

Added momentum was given Saturday to the 'Give a Brick' drive for the completion of the West Texas Museum building on the campus of Texas Technological college and indications were that the 230,000 bricks needed for the building would be reached before the deadline set for closing the campaign on Nov. 16.

A total of 5,513 bricks was contributed in the drive Saturday to bring the total thus far pledged to 191,933 bricks, 38,067 short of the goal.

Saturday's contributions were headed by donations of 3,200 bricks by citizens of Spur, former home of Dr. Clifford B. Jones, president of Texas Tech. The American Business club of Lubbock in its meeting Friday gave 1,000 bricks which had not been reported in the campaign and the Cooper Home Demonstration club did its part by contributing 200 bricks.

Livestock Obtained For Future Farmers

Eleven lambs and three pigs were delivered Saturday night to members of the Lubbock Future Farmers of America chapter after their purchase at Weatherford by Henry Elder, vocational agriculture teacher.

Elder was accompanied to Weatherford by Billy Rodgers, Glenn Land, James West and Edwin Earl McWilliams, who with Sherman Cowan and Thomas Hudson bought sheep.

Pigs were for Leroy and N. L. Weems and Billy Rodgers.

The stock was described by Elder as especially fine for show purposes. Sheep are of Southdown breed and the pigs are Hampshires.

Plans have been made to show the animals in livestock exhibitions in Amarillo, Fort Worth and Lubbock next spring, Elder said.

Second World War Shows New Speed Of Destruction

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

The second World war was only 427 days old as October ended, but it already has carved a grisly trial of destruction and disaster across continental Europe unmatched in recorded history.

Nation after nation has succumbed to force or threats; some have lost their national identity. More than one hundred million dwellers on that continent have been brought under the domination of alien masters. Half a million square miles of territory are under alien flags.

Yet the essential fact of the war at this time is that Britain's island fortress remains unconquered, and the bulldog grip of the British navy remains unbroken on all the deep-seas that wash the shores of tragic Europe.

Greece Imperiled

Nazi-Fascist expectancy of a short war is a shattered dream after 14 months of conflict. And while Britain endures, the Axis-mapped new order in Europe remains also an unrealized dream.

There is a deadly menace for the Axis in the long war for which the European stage is being reset. Britain has still to reap the full benefit of her seapower, still to attain the peak of her war effort.

Victory slipped from the grasp of Imperial Germany in 1914 at the Marne. It may have just been missed by Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy at the English channel in 1940. The Axis partners are urgently seeking means to offset in the east the deadlock that confronts them in the west.

That has brought little Greece into peril of a fate similar to that suffered by upward of a dozen other continental nations and peoples since Germany struck at Poland on September 1, 1939.

British Offensive

Yet that fresh Axis aggression, whatever its ultimate strategic meaning, has done something else. It has given Britain footholds at the back door of the continent to carry the war to her foes. Four months ago with British evacuation of Narvik and Dunkerque she had been driven completely from the mainland of Europe.

British bombing of Naples in southern Italy indicates that it is an offensive, not a defensive role, which Britain will attempt in the east.

British planes may have hopped to that target from airplane carriers in the Mediterranean, or from bases on Crete or other Greek islands. From Crete, Naples is within easy bombing distance.

Jack Dempsey Cast As Labor Arbitrator

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (AP) — Jack Dempsey has stepped into a new role —that of labor arbitrator.

Appointed by Supreme Court Justice J. Sidney Bernstein, the former heavyweight boxing champion yesterday decided a dispute between the American Federation of Office Employes and the Neo-Gravure Printing company.

The award granted the union a 10 per cent wage increase and a 40-hour week, but vetoed a demand for absolute seniority in dismissals.

Leaders of the AFL organization hailed the ruling as proof that Dempsey was "not only a great fighter but a great arbitrator."

Dempsey summed up his philosophy as follows: "Make each side fight clean and give each side an even break."

Aggies Smear Arkansas For 17th Straight; Mustangs Outscore Texas, 21-13

Jarrin' Jawn Leads Cadets To 17-0 Win

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 2. — Giant John Alec Kimbrough hurtled like a meteor through Arkansas today to shepherd the Texas Aggies to their seventeenth consecutive triumph, 17-0.

The laughing, 222-pound All-American fullback shook a touchdown out of the mountainous Razorbacks midway of the first period with some of his old-fashioned line plowing and then riddled their two jolting tackles that caused Arkansas interceptions and runbacks of 47 and 38 yards.

But behind Jarrin's Jawn today was a vicious Aggie line that manufactured break after break with polting tackles that caused Arkansas to commit five fumbles—all recovered by the Cadets—at quite crucial moments.

Breaks Come Early

On Arkansas's second scrimmage play of the game the Aggies flushed a great break when Tackle Chip Routt's vicious block of little Walt Hamberg's attempted quick kick gave Ernie Pannell a chance to recover on the Arkansas 12.

There the Porkers put on a grand defensive show, taking over the ball after Kimbrough's two runs and two passes failed of a score.

But the next break, three minutes later, was an Aggie touchdown. End Boots Simmons jarred the ball from Hamberg's hands on an attempted sweep and Guard Marshall Robnett recovered on the Arkansas 17.

Lunging, diving, butting Kimbrough swept straight through the massive Arkansas line for a touchdown on five jolts, the final one from the three. Pugh kicked the point—his ninth straight conversion without a miss this season.

Wild Bill Conatser's 39-yard punt return, and a couple of Marland Jeffrey's passes to Sterling and Henderson, both lateraled off to Kimbrough, carried the Aggies to the Arkansas seven early in the third period, but Arkansas held.

From the 22-yard line, and at difficult angle, Sophomore Jake Webster kicked a field goal, while Jim Thomason held.

Two minutes later and the man Kimbrough broke Arkansas' back again. He stabbed Mamberg's pass at midfield and scurried 38 yards to the Arkansas 22. On the next play

Vols Blast LSU, 28-0

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 2. (AP) — Tennessee's mighty Volunteers turned loose their full power today to blast the Louisiana State Tigers out of the path leading toward a Southeastern conference championship and post-season bowl honors.

Some 18,000 spectators were startled with the ferocity of the Volunteer attack that rolled up four touchdowns for a 28 to 0 victory and set the Tennesseans on the home stretch of a third successive untied and undefeated season after 28 straight regular season victories.

The game was barely under way when Tennessee started a drive from their own 26-yard line that ended with Biond Bob Foxx smashing over on a reverse from the five for the first touchdown. Foxx kicked the extra point from placement.

After that drive Louisiana State's offense was smothered by the charging orange-clad forwards.

Raider Netmen Stop ACC, 4-2

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

ABILENE, Nov. 2.—Texas Tech's varsity netmen concluded their fall season with an undefeated record here this afternoon by drubbing Abilene Christian college in a dual meet, 6 to 2.

Only bright spot in an otherwise dready afternoon for the Christians was the sterling play of Joe Taylor, generally recognized as the outstanding collegiate player in the Southwest. Taylor won the No. 1 singles from Jack Lovelace of Tech, 6-0, 6-1, and teamed with Paul Boyce to win the No. 1 doubles from Lovelace and Trevor Wolfe, 6-3, 10-8.

Five Wins For Tech

Others results, Tech players named first: Francis Hightower downed Boyce, 6-3, 8-6; Wolfe defeated Bill Bogart, 8-6, 4-6, 6-3; David Storey won from Ed Haun, 6-2, 3-6, 6-2; Storey and Hightower edged out Bogart and Haun, 6-2, 4-6, 8-6.

The Raider netmen, coached by James Allen, have won five dual meets this fall without a mishap, winning twice from Abilene Christian, twice from West Texas State Teachers and once from New Mexico Military institute.

Georgetown Stretches Streak To 22 In Row

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 2. (AP)—Georgetown's highly talented football team, unbeaten in three years, made it 22 games without a defeat today by drubbing Syracuse, 28 to 6, before a crowd of 17,000.

Westerner Power Erases Harvesters, 20 To 7

Leete Jackson Scores Twice To Spark Lubbock To 16th Consecutive Triumph

By JAY HARRIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

PAMPA, Nov. 2—The final score read: Lubbock 20; Pampa 7.

But that margin of triumph doesn't tell the story of a swashbuckling squad of state champion Westerners who "worked out" with Pampa's battered Harvesters here this afternoon in an important District 1-AA conference clash.

For all that it mattered—and apparently it didn't to the Lubbocks—the final count might have been doubled. There was that much difference.

Sixteenth Straight

It was victory No. 16 in a row for the "Cinderella Kids'" successors.

The "killer instinct" just wasn't there for the Lubbocks today, however.

And as a result, Coaches Goober Keyes' and Walker Nichols' jittery juggernaut reeled off an unimpressive and somewhat sluggish performance in pulverizing the inferior but "never-say-die" Harvesters before a crowd of 3,500 spectators — majority of whom came expecting a slaughter but instead yawned through proceedings that saw the Westerners click only when they wished.

Sandies Laugh Up Sleeves

It was a "thermostat" grid win if there ever was one—when the Lubbocks got too hot they stopped and when they got too cold, they started. And Amarillo's big bad Sandies watched and snickered. They had a right to, but—

Statistics of the game tell a far different story from that which appeared on the surface. The Bronc Busters rolled up 16 first downs to 11, amassed 355 yards rushing to 190, averaged 51 yards per punt to Pampa's 35—led in a similar manner all other departments with the exception of passing.

McBrayer's Leg Broken

But it was a very costly victory for the South Plains demons.

Marvin McBrayer, 181-pound right tackle, who had just recovered sufficiently from torn leg muscles to start the game, suffered a compound fracture of his left leg just below the knee, on the tenth play of the game, that possibly throwing a damper on Westerner spirits.

Lubbock's triumph was a typical one, long runs and sustained drives that powdered the forwards and paralyzed the secondary.

Blocking Outstanding

Fans marveled at the deadly blocking, the thumping tackles and "we can do it when we have to" attitude of the Lubbocks—one which will prove costly against the Amarillos, though.

Left Half Leete Jackson, sparkplug of recent Westerner wins, counted two of three tallies as climaxes to drives of 55 and 85 yards, respectively, in the second and third stanzas after bashing Bob McKinnon, fullback flash, had loped 88 yards in the latter minutes of the first frame for the initial touchdown.

Heiskell Takes Over

Pampa's seven points came on a beautiful 80-yard sprint by Quarterback Grover Heiskell after he intercepted McKinnon's wobbly heave late in the hectic fourth.

But for the scoring details:

On the opening kickoff, little Max Walthall, co-captain and field general, one of the most terrific blocking backs in the state, raced back 36 paces to the Pampa 51. A brief spurt brought business to the Harvester 31 before Coach Odus Mitchell's boys took over on downs and drove to the Westerner 41. Heiskell punted

ALL-STATE? — Leete Jackson, above, one of the two members of this year's Westerners who was a regular on the state championship club last fall, made a big stride toward attaining All-State honors yesterday by leading Lubbock to a 20 to 7 victory over Pampa. Jackson scored a couple of touchodwns, blocked and tackled capably and in general handled himself in manner befitting a candidate for those honors.

Nebraska Takes Sooners, 13-0

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 2 — Nebraska's mighty Cornhuskers powered their way to a 13 to 0 victory over the Sooners of Oklahoma here today to take over first place in the Big Six conference gridiron race and move within striking distance of their first title since 1937.

As a record-breaking crowd of more than 33,000 looked on, the Huskers drove 80 yards to one touchdown in the second quarter, 40 yards to another in the final period, tied the Sooner ground attack in knots, and blasted the home club's overhead game clear out of the air.

Thrilling Finish

After being thrown back twice in the first quarter with the goal line only five yards away, the Nebraskans finally went to work in earnest with Halfback Harry Hopp in the driver's seat.

Hopp started the 80-yard march by slashing off tackle for 15 and alternated with Wayne Blue in stabbing through for short gains as the Nebraska forwards split open the Oklahoma line.

Only 20 seconds of the first half remained when the visitors reached Oklahoma's 30-yard line and Hopp flipped a long pass which Jack Jacobs, the Sooner tailback, stood ready to intercept on the five.

But Jacobs, who was blanketed every time he turned around all afternoon, let the ball slip through his fingers and it dropped into the waiting hands of Allen Zikmund, who merely stepped across the goal line. Hopp missed the kick for extra point.

Miners Lose To Arizona, 13-20

EL PASO, Nov. 2. (AP)—Arizona university snatched the breaks today to defeat Texas Mines, 20-13 and come within one game of the Border conference football championship.

In the first three minutes of play Arizona's great quarterback, Johnny Black, took a 23-yard pass from Berra to the Texans' 14, and then romped over left tackle for a touchdown on which Lohse converted with a kick.

Owen Price, Miners' high scoring back, took the kickoff from behind his own goal, returning it to the 26. In a spectacular passing and ground drive, the Miners rushed goalward. Price shot off right tackle from the two and Maros kicked the point.

Breaks Count For Arizona

With the score tied, Arizona grabbed two scoring breaks.

Left Guard Flake blocked Maros' kick in the second period and fell on the ball back of the Miners' goal line for a touchdown with Lohse again making the kick for extra point.

Shortly after Snoody of Arizona intercepted a flat pass and took it 29 yards for a touchdown, Matulis conversion kick failed.

In the final minute of the half, the Miners capitalized on two 15-yard penalties against Arizona, and with the ball on the five, Price pitched a short pass into the end zone to George Cotton. Salcedo kicked wide.

Barnum won over a fellow Texan, Jack Tinnin from Dallas, one up this afternoon in his semi-final match.

Tulane Ends Clemson Rush

By MORTIMER KREEGER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 2.—Tulane's resurgent Green Wave, showing its 1939 power, snapped the Clemson Tigers' 13-game winning streak today, 13 to 0, before 31,000 spectators.

The touchdowns came on an 80-yard drive in the waning moments of the first half and a 30-yard run of an intercepted pass by Fred Gloden, sub fullback.

Joe Blalock, Clemson's star end, was the greatest breakwater the Tigers threw up to the Wave's surges.

Taking the ball on a punt over their goal line after holding Clemson's first drive across the midstripe, the Greenies began marching. After two first downs Lou Thomas, Tulane's sophomore left halfback, cut back sharply over left tackle and ran 41 yards to Clemson's 16.

Jim Tibaut faded back to toss a 16-yard pass to Albodney, who was alone across the goal line. Thibaut placekicked the extra point.

Then, later, Maness tried a 10-yard pass to Blalock. Gloden took the ball at a gallop, picked up blockers and crossed the goal line standing up. Blalock blocked Thomas' pace kick attempt for the extra point.

The Wave gained 383 net yards rushing to the Tigers' 52.

Stanford Keeps Slate Clean, Beating UCLA

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2. (AP)—Stanford's troupe of gridiron magicians played its 1940 engagement in Memorial coliseum today and brought down the house—and the Bruins of the University of California at Los Angeles—with just enough trickery and power to walk off with a clean-cut conference victory after the Uclans had threatened in the last period.

Registering their sixth consecutive triumph to remain the only major team unbeaten and untied in the Far West, the sleight-of-hand lads from Palo Alto bowed off the field as dusk closed in with the big scoreboard reading:

Stanford 20, U. C. L. A. 14.

ITALY WINS AGAIN

KERENS, Nov. 2. (AP)—Italy High School's Gladiators won their seventh game in a row without permitting the opposition to score as they defeated Kerens 7-0 here Friday.

The Gladiators now have run up 231 points, are unbeaten for the season and play their final district conference game against Dawson next Friday night.

Plucky A & I Holds Rice To 9-6 Win

By WILLIAM T. RIVES
Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON, Nov. 2.—Fullbock Bob Brumley, a man with a charleyhorse, went into the game with two seconds go, but in that breathless time he hauled Rice institute from the brink of a shocking upset and gave it a 9-6 victory over plucky little Texas A. & I.

The Javelinas had wrestled the big Owls to a 6-6 tie through the third period and shoved them around during the fourth — until Rice got its aerial attack going and Brumley swung his leg.

Placement Is Perfect

Starting desperately from its own 19 as the big clock ticked off the dying minutes, Rice surged downfield to the A & I 3 on passes from tiny Gene Keel to big Whitlock Zander, fullback, who started the game in Brumley's place.

The last heave hit Zander on the three-yard line. Two seconds were left. Brumley was rushed in and from the 19, pounded a perfect placement kick between the bars.

The entire evening was harrowing for Rice. Through the entire first half it failed to score a single first down, although at game's end, it held the advantage, 10-7.

A. & I. scored the first touchdown and ran up 160 yards to the Owls' 122.

The contest was slow through the first two periods, as Rice, sluggish after last week's upset victory over Texas, failed to show any spark.

Coach Jess Neely skinned them with a pep talk between halves and things were different thereafter, although A. & I. got the jump.

The first time it got its hands on the ball in the third quarter A. & I. churned to a score. J. P. Hilliard, little brother of Texas' illustrious Bohn, raced 72 yards for a touchdown, feinting at right tackle and then blazing around right end.

Rice immediately retaliated, taking the kickoff on its own goal line and plowing the entire 100 yards for the score. Ellis got the 29 on the kickoff return and turned matters over to Zander, who was Rice's outstanding man with his line blasts.

Zander hit right tackle from the Javelina 15, then lateraled to Tailback Ted Weems when he was cornered. Taking the ball on the 12, Weems cantered across untouched.

Weems' try for point was sour.

Score by periods:

Rice	0	0	6	3-9
A and I	0	0	6	0-6

Overlin Rally Nips Belloise

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—Ken Overlin, the playboy ex-sailor from Virginia, came up from the floor last night, survived enough fistic bombs to blow him apart, and retained his middleweight championship by outpointing Steve Belloise in 15 wild rounds at Madison Square Garden. Overlin weighed 158; Belloise 153.

Floored in the sixth round by a right-hand smash, and on the verge of a knockout for the last two minutes of that heat as the young bronx belter threw everything in his book, Overlin came back to administer a classic boxing lesson and win like a champion should.

The Associated Press score card gave him ten rounds, with four for Belloise and one even. Both judges—George LeCron and George Kelly—voted for the boxing master from the navy. Referee George Walsh called it a draw.

Tech Girls' Hockey Team Is Defeated

Texas Tech's girls hockey team lost to a touring All-American squad on the freshman field Saturday, 6 to 0.

Score was kept only on the last 30-minute half of the game. During the first half, the teams were mixed, Tech forwards playing with visiting backs and vice versa.

Naomi Johnson, Tech goalkeeper, was outstanding for her team, making several remarkable saves that held the score down.

Armistice Day Game With Centenary Next For Tech

In the wake of their slashing 61 to 14 victory over University of Miami here Friday night, the undefeated Texas Tech Red Raiders rested Saturday. Most of the grid warriors were pretty tired Saturday morning and in appreciation of their amazing work against Miami, Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchy Smith told the Raiders to forget about practice until 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.

But Monday the hustling Red Raiders will start preparations for the Centenary Gentlemen of Shreveport. The game will be played the next Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and it will be American Legion day at Texas Tech stadium. It will be the fourth meeting between Centenary and Tech. In 1936 Tech whipped the Gentlemen in a close 12 to 6 game. In 1937 the Red Raiders nosed out the Gents in a bitterly fought 7 to 2 set-to. In 1939 the two teams played a scoreless tie in a driving rain at Shreveport.

The Red Raiders face the necessity of playing two games next week. They battle Centenary on Monday and then play Wake Forest here Saturday, Nov. 16, which will

Horned Frogs Bump Baylor, 14 To 12

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

FORT WORTH, Nov. 2. — Little Kyle Gillespie returned to gridiron glory here today, slithering through and around Baylor's ponderous Bruins as the spark that once more ignited Texas Christian university's victory fire.

The Horned Frogs won, 14-12, in a thrilling game watched by a crowd of 8,000.

Gillespie, 155-pound quarterback whose trick knee seems at last to have reached the point of supporting him, gamboled 39 yards for one touchdown and set up another with a punt return that put the frogs on the Baylor 17. Here Logan Ware and Frank Kring combined to smash to the Baylor 6-yard line. Kring got two and Gillespie one, then Kring stepped back and fired a pass over the goal line. The ball settled into the arms of Connie Sparks.

Roach's Points Win

Phil Roach, who today was one of the finest ends ever to cavort at TCU stadium kicked the point—as he had the first one.

It was Roach's sure-footed efforts before the cross-bars that paid off. It was Gillespie's all-around good work that put the Frogs in position for Roach to exercise his kicking talents.

By its victory today TCU stayed in the race for the Southwest conference championship, although it is only a mathematical chance. The Frogs have lost one game.

In the second quarter things picked up with a bang.

Texas Christian got its first touchdown on a lateral from Kring to Sparks to Gillespie that gained 46 yards. Gillespie skipped 39 yards for the counter.

It was a glittering passing attack that brought the Bears their first touchdown.

Big Jack Russell, great Baylor wingman, was on the receiving end of most of the heaves but it was a pitch to Weldon Bigony that set the stage for 210-pound Milton Crain to ram over from the two-yard line.

First Downs Even

Baylor scored again early in the fourth quarter with Coleman's fine return of Gillespie's punt to the TCU 25-yard line starting the Bruins to rolling. Jim Witt circled left end for a first down on the TCU 9 and Travis Nelson caught the Frogs flatfooted on a reverse that brought the touchdown. Robert Nelson missed the point.

First downs were even but TCU ran up 203 yards rushing and passing to 124 for the Bears.

Baylor	0	6	0	6-12
Texas Christian	0	7	7	0-14

Baylor scoring: touchdowns, Crain, T. Nelson. Texas Christian scoring: touchdowns, Gillespie, C. Sparks; points from try after touchdown, Roach 2 (placements).

Cowboys Rebuff WTSTC, 28-7

CANYON, Nov. 2. (AP)—The jinx which Hardin-Simmons university has held over West Texas State teachers for 16 years continued today as the Cowboys defeated the Buffaloes, 28 to 7.

Fullback "Moon" Mullins crashed over for two quick touchdowns against the Buffaloes, one of which was set up by L. B. Russell's 33-yard gallop. Evans kicked both extra points.

Goodnight and Bryson then ripped through the Buffalo line, Bryson bucking the ball over from the 4-yard line. Bryson converted.

Early in the second quarter, Russell sliced off tackle and ran 30 yards for the fourth Cowboy touchdown. Morrison blocked Evans' try to placekick, but Goodnight grabbed the ball and ran it across for the point.

The Buffaloes battled the Cowboys on even terms in the third quarter. They scored in the middle of the fourth when little Ben Collins passed and ran to the Cowboy 33, then made the touchdown on a zig-zag scoring thrust. He placekicked the point.

The Cowboys made 14 first downs to 5 for the Buffaloes and gained 251 yards rushing to 125.

Army Bows Neck Against Irish

BY BILL BONI
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. — A Notre Dame football team that had rolled into town on the wings of the biggest Irish boom since Knute Rockne's day rode out again tonight on the very slim side of a 7-0 score over Army, rated the underdog by as much as 7-1.

The score was sufficient to keep the Irish in the diminishing group of unbeaten and untied teams. But the way in which they won did nothing to enhance their reputation or enthuse their supporters in the Yankee stadium of 78,000.

Irish Offensive Flops

Never, from kickoff until final whistle, did this supposed gridiron juggernaut get beyond midfield on its own initiative. Its touchdown came on an 81-yard runback of an intercepted pass in the first quarter. After that the only occasion on which Notre Dame had possession on the Army side of the field was on a quick kick by Army Tailback Johnny Hatch which wobbled out of bounds on the Cadet 43, 19 yards from the line of scrimmage.

The lad who got the touchdown was Steve Juzwik, Notre Dame's leading scorer for the season. He broke up the second of five Army threats by snaring Sophomore Hank Mazur's pass on his own 19, and then racing to the far end of the field virtually unprotected, outdodging Bill Gillis, Army captain and center, at one point along the way and simply running over Mazur, his last obstacle.

Cadets Outplay Irish

Milt Piepul, big Notre Dame captain and fullback, kicked the extra point—which until he went out with an injury in the third quarter—was all this highly-touted all-America prospect contributed to the proceedings.

The advance notices which unanimously conceded victory to Notre Dame apparently were just the inspiration Army needed. The Cadets had all the drive, all the fire and almost all the blocking.

Army Misses Goal

Bob Saggau, blond Notre Dame halfback fumbled the opening kickoff and Tom Farrell, Cadet end dropped on the ball on the 13. The steamed-up Cadets sent Johnny Roberts, Mazur and then Roberts again belted into the startled Notre Dame line. That third try missed first down by a foot.

Here Army called time and sent in Ted Lutryzkowski to replace Roberts at quarterback. He went back to the 13 to try a field goal, the ball was deflected by Irish End Johnny O'Brien, and Army's best chance to score was washed up.

Detroit's Unbeaten Record Falls, 0-7

DETROIT, Nov. 2. (AP) — Tulsa University's football behemoths snuffed out Detroit's hopes for a defeatless season today with a convincing 7 to 0 victory before a crowd of 19,861 fans sitting in the warm November sunshine.

The victory, first for Tulsa in five games with Detroit, was accomplished on a 31-yard touchdown pass from N. A. Keithley to Glenn Dobbs midway of the fourth period. Dobbs took the toss on Detroit's 14-yard line and outlegged two pursuing Titans in a race to the goal line. Roy Buffalo came in the game and booted the extra point from placement.

Is McKeever Happy?

Boston Holds Winning Pace

NEWTON, Mass., Nov. 2. (AP)—Unbeaten Boston college scored once in each period today to compile a 25-0 victory over a scrappy Manhattan eleven which found its clockwork attack handicapped in a sea of mud. Mike Holovak, Boston fullback, scored twice to lead the Eagles to their sixth straight victory before a drenched crowd of 12,000 spectators.

SMU Throttles Crain; Johnston Is Mustang Star

BY RAY NEUMANN
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUSTIN, Nov. 2. — A baffling blend of power, speed and aerial efficiency gave Southern Methodist University's Mustangs a 21-13 triumph over University of Texas here today.

Inaugurating their Southwest conference schedule, the Methodists held Texas' vaunted ground attack in check but the inspired Longhorns rose to heights to tally twice and stiffened enough to stop other Mustang scoring threats.

All scores were made in the last two periods, the Ponies opening the third period with a touchdown march from their own 21.

Presto Johnson Scores

A crowd of approximately 25,000 saw Johnnie Clement pass to Dick Miller and then to E. L. Keeton, with the aid of a plunge by Preston Johnson, to place the ball on the Texas 40. Johnson thundered through the line for nine and Clement aerialed to Gus Tunnell for 26. From there Johnston plowed around left end for the tally. He kicked the point.

The kick-off to Texas went out of bounds and from their 35 the Steers got to the 41 with Noble Doss carrying. Doss ripped off five more and two line tries were smeared. Then Pete Layden uncorked a rainbow pass to Jesse Hawthorne who stumbled through several tacklers and, behind good blocking, ran over for the score. Crain's placekick for point was wide.

Johnson's Toe Accurate

Shortly thereafter Guard Hoyle Simes fell on a Texas fumble on the Longhorns' 34. Clement passed to ends Bob Maddox and Keeton to the Steer 6 after which Johnson powered through for three and Clement sliced tackle for one. Clement aerialed to Keeton behind the line for the second Pony score and Johnston added the extra point from placement.

Opening the final period on his own 24, R. L. Harkins of Texas hurled two incomplete aerials and

Gophers Rip Northwestern

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 2. (AP) — Still undefeated and untied, Minnesota's Golden Avalanche roared along in football's empire today in quest of the Western conference championship and national honors.

By the margin of a single point after touchdown, Minnesota, unable to beat Northwestern on its home field since 1929, finally triumphed 13 to 12 over the hitherto undefeated Wildcats before a nerve-wracked crowd of 48,000 spectators. It was Minnesota's fifth straight win of the season.

Minnesota's victory, which left the Gophers and Michigan the only undefeated and untied elevens in the conference, was achieved by a powerful rushing game, one timely pass and the place-kicking accuracy of Joe Mernik, whose successful try for point after the first Gopher touchdown ultimately meant victory as the Wildcats missed on two after touchdown attempts.

Christman Sets Missouri Pace

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 2.—Paul Christman stayed in the game only 23 minutes, but his unerring passes paved the way for three touchdowns in a Missouri Tiger drive which routed New York university, 33 to 0, in an intersectional game today.

It was the same Christman whose passes led to the defeat of the Violets last year.

The Tigers, winners of nine straight games on their home field, counted in every period. But no touchdown was as spectacular as that Christman manufactured with Charles Beattie's aid in the first. Following a Violet punt Don (Bull) Reece placed the pigskin on the 34 with a 4-yard plunge. On the next play Christman faded back and dropped the ball into Beattie's arms on the New York U. 34 with Joe Frank of the New Yorkers only a step away. The two clattered down, the east side lines with the Missourian always inches in front and every one of the 19,000 sun-warmed spectators on their feet.

"Nice Catch, Kid"

Christman, handicapped much of the season by a lack of adequate receivers, was the first down the field to congratulate the sophomore halfback, starting his first game.

A 20-yard gain on a flip by Christman to Jack Lister opened the doors for the first marker and in the third period he spanked a two-yard effort to Capt. Jack Crocker for the fourth tally.

With Christman resting, Harry Ice took over the attack for the Tigers and once broke away for 36 yards on his favorite sweep around right end. Four other times he seemed headed for substantial gains only to slip and fall to the turf.

Five Teams Tumble From Undefeated Ranks As Bierman's Gophers Rumble On

Tech In Select Circle Of 14 Unbeaten 11's

By HERB BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Northwestern, Clemson, Navy, Detroit, and Kentucky were summarily removed from football's unbeaten class today as Bernie Bierman's Minnesota Gophers roared a new challenge to the Western conferenc in particular and the nation in general.

Tonight just 14 major teams could boast unbeaten records and three of these had been tied. In the East, Cornell, Boston college, Penn State, Lafayette and Georgetown, all had perfect records, as did Minnesota, Notre Dame and Michigan (idle today) in the Midwest; Texas A. and M. in the Southwest; Tennessee in the South, and Stanford in the Far West. Tied but unbeaten were Southern Methodist, Mississippi State and Texas Tech.

Clemson Goes Down

It was Minnesota which struck Northwestern off the list, winning a 13-12 decision in a dramatic struggle fought at Evanston before 48,000.

Minnesota's record now shows successive victories over Washington, Nebraska, Ohio State, Iowa and Northwestern which is just about par for the course.

Clemson's Tigers carried the Southern conference banner into New Orleans but proved no match for revived Tulane which ground out 22 first downs and won, 13-0, with 31,000 looking on. Penn took advantage of the breaks and some doubtful rival strategy to give Navy its first defeat, 20-0, before a crowd of 70,000. Kentucky's unbeaten record was smashed completely by Alabama, 25-0, while Detroit's initial set-back came at the hands of Tulsa, 7-0.

They Stayed To Cheer

A crowd of 78,000 jammed the Yankee stadium to see Notre Dame run over twice-beaten Army and remained to cheer the Cadets who played the Irish off their feet all the way, yet succeeded in losing the ball game, 7-0, on Steve Juzwik's 81-yard run with an intercepted pass and on their own questionable field generalship.

All five unbeaten eastern teams won easily. Cornell, with Hal McCullough tossing three touchdown passes, romped over Columbia, 27-0; Boston college ran up a 25-0 count on Manhattan; Lafayette knocked over Washington and Jefferson by the same score; Penn State took South Carolina over the hurdles, 12-0; and Georgetown mowed down Syracuse, 28-6. Georgetown now has gone 22 games without defeat and Cornell has moved through 17 without a setback.

Texas Loses 2nd Straight

Big John Kimbrough was the siege gun Texas A. and M. needed to whip Arkansas, 17-0, while Southern Methodist handed Texas its second successive defeat, 21-13. Box Foxx paced Tennessee to a stunning 28-0 conquest of Louisiana State, as Mississippi State found Southwestern of Memphis a tough nut to crack but won, 13-0. Texas Tech won over Miami (Florida) 61-14 last night.

One of the day's most surprising results saw Duke practically run Georgia Tech off the gridiron with a 41-7 victory before 34,000. The Blue Devils, unimpressive earlier in the season, could do no wrong against the Engineers.

Duquesne Halts Marquette

Georgia nosed out Auburn, 14-13, and Mississippi scored over Vanderbilt, 13-7, in Southeastern conference games.

Jim Blumenstock's powerful running was the feautre of Fordham's relatively easy 14-0 victory over North Carolina. Dartmouth, West Virginia and Duquesne also scored intersectional victories for the East. Duquesne stopped Marquette, 14-0; West Virginia disposed of Washington and Lee, 12-7, and Dartmouth halted Sewanee, 26-0. Carnegie fell before the University of Cincinnati, 7-6.

Harvard checked Dave Allerdice's passes and emerged with a "moral victory" in a scoreless draw with Princeton. Brown scored over Yale, 6-2, on Dave High's 88-yard touchdown run; Temple nipped Bucknell, 10-7, and Colgate won over Holy Cross, 6-0.

Beaten three times in a row, Ohio State got back on the rails with a decisive 21-6 defeat of Indiana. Jim Langhurst scored two touchdowns for the Buckeyes to the huge delight of a crowd of 56,000. John Tennant's 62-yard run in the final quarter gave Wisconsin a 13-6 victory over Illinois, and John Petty's two touchdowns helped Purdue score over Iowa, 21-6.

Michigan State easily whipped Kansas State, 32-0.

Nebraska's Cornhuskers virtually clinched the Big Six crown with a 13-0 decision over Oklahoma since the Huskers' only remaining conference foes are Iowa State and Kansas State. Missouri trampled New York university, 33-0. Paul Christman was responsible for three touchdowns.

Stanford Still Unbeaten

Texas Christian scored a surprise 14-12 victory over Baylor in the dizzy Southwest conference race. In the southern conference, William and Mary and Virginia Military played a scoreless draw. Virginia Tech won a 6-0 verdict over non-conference Virginia.

A crowd of 55,000 saw Stanford's Indians retain their perfect record with a 20-14 victory over U. C. L. A. It was Stanford's sixth successive victory with dangerous Washington next on the list. It was U. C. L. A.'s sixth defeat in a row, none by more than a touchdown. Oregon State rallied in the late stages to defeat California, 19-13, in the only other Pacific Coast conference game on the card.

Utah threw the Big Seven race into a real tangle by beating Colorado, 21-13. Brigham Young defeated Utah State, 12-7.

As The Smoke Clears Away

By Collier Parris

"IT'S THEIR ATTITUDE! It's the 'willingest' bunch of boys I've ever coached. They just WANT to win.

"I believe it's the best spirited bunch of boys we've ever had. What do you think, Dutchy?"

"That's right. They could have whipped the pants off that Cotton Bowl team, which had better manpower."

"Yeah, but I've decided we have some pretty good football players on this team, too, as well as a lot of spirit. They play with their 'haids,' and that's what makes 'em good."

That was the way Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchy Smith were talking out at the gym Saturday afternoon, while the boys took the day off to rest up after that 61-14 trouncing they handed the University of Miami boys Friday night. There were few happier men in the country than "Petey" and Dutchy.

"Why, I didn't think we could have scored that many points on South Texas Normal, let alone a team good as Miami," chuckled Cawthon. "But the boys were sure fired up for that game. The licking and the cold treatment they got in Miami last year, and especially those newspaper stories about us being a 'hick team in a hick town' just burned us all up, and the only way we could express our feelings was to pour it on that football team. I just hope we can get steamed up for the rest of our games."

WHETHER they get "steamed up" or not, the Raiders ought to high-tail it down the stretch. They've found out they can go, and they want to go, as Cawthon said, and they'll be very difficult to stop. It's too bad they can't re-play that game with Oklahoma A. & M.; they could black out that tie like a silo full of coal. It's also too bad that Texas Tech doesn't play a "bigger name" schedule; it'd land in a "bowl" game quicker than a can of soup. The Raiders are playing some good, hard-going teams, but, like themselves, without national prestige or major league significance.

However, if the Raiders ever get their offense going and run up some high scores, they might attract a little attention, yet!

They can't doodle around with "nose-outs" like 61-14 scores and get far, though. Or can they?

The "head work," as well as the physical demonstrations, of the Red Raiders is indeed pleasing. It takes a quick-acting brain along with knee-action skeedaddling to play that kind of football. For instance, the work of Clarence Tillery in grabbing that blocked punt out of the ozone and running for touchdown; the ability to know when to bat down a pass and when to intercept it, as in the cases of Glenn Lowe, Rafe Nabors and Bill Brown, and the heady picking of loopholes in a broken field, such as demonstrated by Lowe and Red Amonett and others—all that sort of stuff requires more than mere speed and size.

UNIVERSITY OF MIAMI brought a good team to Lubbock, albeit a sort of cocky, careless team, and it played some jam-up football. In Paul Carifeo, Miami has one of the best centers we've seen in a long time. He looked much better than Marquette's great Apolskis, who's supposed to be one of the best. Joe Krutulis, an end, and Tom Kearns, 220-pound tackle, are great linemen, although Kearns "starred" himself out of the picture by crashing into Red Amonett after the whistle had blown. It wasn't a very sporting thing to do. They had to carry Red off.

Fullback Terry Fox and Halfback Bill Steiner are two of the better backs in the country today, and could play on anybody's team. They played hard all the way, as did the entire team. That was the best general impression the Hurricanes made—they never gave up, and were playing just as hard at the finish as they were at the outset. Fox was playing harder.

Late in the game, Fox, who had made a vicious block and came up puffing, looked at Captain Primo McCurry of Tech and said: "I don't know why the hell I'm playing so hard for. Just look at that scoreboard!"

The little "run in" between Umpire Doc Moon and the coach and some of the Miami players was the only thing to mar an otherwise good piece of grid entertainment. The well-organized Southwest Football Officials association doesn't stand for any horseplay on the field. It's highly efficient members abide by rigid and business-like rules and rituals, and a breach on any member's part means his expulsion from the association.

SO WHEN a team is charged with "unsportsmanlike conduct," the team is going to get penalized. One thing the officials won't stand for is use of abusive language on the field by players. That's why Miami drew those two 15-yard penalties that set up a touchdown for Tech, and why Steiner was ejected. Steiner himself, we were told by sideline operatives, knew he'd violated the rules and was taking his punishment like a man, meekly coming off the field. It was one of his team mates who called the coach on the field and caused all the chatter. Coach Harding can be excused for losing his temper, since he didn't know the details of the case. Doc Moon's temper flared a little bit out of proportion, and his hasty and no doubt vitriolic explanation to the coach aroused Harding to fighting heat. Deplorable but excusable.

Most regrettable incident connected with Miami's visit, especially in the face of the fine hospitality demonstrated by Lubbock folks before and during the game (that was great stuff, fans, cheering the opposition, and it was really appreciated) happened after the game.

The Santa Fe company was holding the "10:15" for the south-bound Miami team, and naturally there was quite a rush to get aboard, since the game started too late in the first place and ran into extra innings. The squad had dressed at their hotel, but while they were playing, a water main burst in the vicinity of the hotel and there was no bath water when the team returned to the hotel in a hurry after the game. On top of the defeat, this lack of baths hit them in a sore spot and it was an ill-humored crowd of footballers that boarded the train five minutes before midnight.

Visiting press box men had nothing but praise for the Red Raiders during and after the game. Sports Editor Everett Clay of the Miami Herald was deeply impressed, and very definite in his praise of the Tech team. Radio Announcer Bill Hightower, who formerly "worked" Southwest conference games out of Dallas, also was impressed and outspoken in complimenting the Raiders.

CELEBRATION OF VICTORIES by Texas Tech and Lubbock High school over the weekend was marred sharply by the accident at Pampa yesterday in which Marvin McBrayer, big tackle, suffered a broken leg. Many telegrams of condolence and sympathy went out of Lubbock to the stricken lad after the KFYO broadcasters announced the accident, and our phones at the office kept up a steady jangle all afternoon and night as fans called in seeking particulars, not of the game itself but of McBrayer's condition. Victory over Pampa was sweet, but nobody, from the coaches on down, would have traded McBrayer's leg for a win, and they'd be mighty glad to trade the victory right back for McBrayer's leg. Football isn't that important.

Many inquiries have come in regarding the "bench warming" of big Walter "Jumbo" Webster during the Tech-Miami game. He was just about the only Red Raider on the squad who didn't play, and the fans have been wondering, especially since he played such a whiz of a game against Marquette and appeared to be really finding himself.

Well, old Jumbo has a large boil, a four-or-five-headed carbuncle, on the back of his neck which rendered him hors de combat Friday night. He spent all of Thursday and Friday in the hospital and doctors worked frantically in an effort to get him ready. "I can play, Coach, if you want me to, but you see how far I can turn my head. I'd sure like to play, but I wouldn't be much good."

We shudder to think just what might have happened to the Hurricanes if old Jumbo had been in there.

TEMPE WINS, 12-0

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., Nov. 2. (AP)—Striking for touchdowns in the second and fourth periods, Arizona State Teachers college at Tempe defeated Arizona State Teachers college at Flagstaff, 12 to 0, in a Border conference game here today.

To extract an elephant's aching tooth, 15 men in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, pulled at a rope attached to a platinum wire wrapped round the tooth, and the beast gave only one yelp, when the molar came out.

Westerners Cop Important Tilt

out on the Lubbock 13. After dropping a yard on a weak plunge, McKinnon cut out to his left, headed downfield and behind perfect blocking took his time galloping the 88 remaining yards as Harvester hopes crashed in the crescendo which rose from some 450 Westerner fans and band.

Big Bob failed to convert from placement.

They Score Again

Remainder of the period was featured by McKinnon's 54-yard boot, one of the big items in the Harvester downfall. Jackson's trusty left bombed the ball off on an 80-yard trip on a quick kick in the last minute of the game as another spotlighted surprise.

Early in the second, the Lubbocks took over on their own 46 after returning a punt from the 35, marching to paydirt with McKinnon, Right Half Billy Wright and Jackson powerhousing their way over weakening Pampa forwards.

Cavort At Will

Jackson sliced off right end on a fourth down jaunt to climax the drive, again near sensational blocking cutting the Sickle Wielders down like a plague.

McKinnon's placement split the uprights and the count stood 13 to 0.

The remainder of the first half saw the Lubbocks cavorting in Pampa territory, doing just about what they pleased, giving way to the desperate Harvesters on the 25 after once driving to the 22.

Another Drive Pays Off

What happened with the beginning of the second half looked like a planned movie. After McKinnon nestled the Pampa kickoff on his own 15 and returned to the Lubbock 25, it was only a matter of 10 plays until everybody was adding another six points for the visitors. McKinnon, Jackson, Wright—they were the boys who stepped off six consecutive first downs to carry the mail downfield with relentless precision. Jackson clattered over right tackle for the last 15 yards and Lubbock's final score of the day. McKinnon's boot was good.

Following a punt exchange then, the Harvesters started a brief airkrieg that helped enliven the contest somewhat. The drive was halted on the Lubbock six-yard stripe, however, thus keeping intact the '40 Westerners' record of not having been scored on through the line.

Threaten Again

Immediately following the goal line barricade, the Westerners threatened with another thrill. Jackson faking a punt on his 20 to race to Pampa's 35 as the highlight of a drive that bogged down on the homefings' 27. Heiskell evaded four would-be blockers to save his mates further embarrassament on Leete's long spree, a shoe-string tackle doing the trick out in the wide open spaces.

Pampa promptly pounded back to Lubbock's 46, then watched Sub Guard Leroy Holly gather in Pendleton's toss on the 30, racing 38 yards to Pampa's 33. McKinnon slithered off tackle for seven. Then he faded back, lobbed the oval toward Jackson and was petrified to see the speedy Heiskell come from nowhere to run somewhere—80 yards to be exact with Sub End Daughtery turning in beautiful blocking.

Nearly Gets Away

Fullback Ed Terrell's placement was accurate and the game might have ended there.

On the ensuing kickoff, however, McKinnon threatened to make the fans forget that long dash, toting the pigskin from his own 30 to the Pampa 32, only to have the Harvesters hold and take over on the 26. With second and third stringers in the fold for both squads—Coaches Keyes and Nichols had been using them at will in the second half—the Harvesters unlorked that late fourth period passing attack, driving to the Lubbock 45 on two perfect pitches and the aid of a five-yard penalty. But Sub Back Howard Lanford snared Pendleton's aerial on the Lubbock 22 to halt such ambitions. A loss back to the 20 and Jackson then sent the ball bounding over the goal 80-yards away. The game ended with Pampa striking back through the ozone.

Sandies Have "Chance"

Lubbock's first stringers were outstanding when the occasion demanded, McKinnon, Jackson, Wright, Walthall — all turning in handsome jobs, the line from Co-Captain and Right End Francis Bearden on down through Moore, Butler, Nabors, Smith, Milner, Blackwell, McBrayer the short time he was in the game, and through the list of substitutes. They did all that was necessary for victory.

"For Members Only" Of A Baseball Club

All players who served on the District TAAF championship Dr. Pepper baseball club here last summer are asked to assemble in Lubbock at 3 o'clock this afternoon to pose for photographs.

Group picture, with complete "write up" of the team is to appear in an early issue of a nationally circulated magazine, and J. R. Jameson, manager of the local Dr. Pepper plant and sponsor of the team which won the district tournament here and was eliminated in the State play-offs, urges all players to be on hand at the plant today, IN UNIFORM, to pose for the picture.

No Proof Of Charges, Says Asa Bushnell

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (AP) — Asa Bushnell, who assigns officials for Eastern football games, said today an investigation showed no evidence of Coach Carl Snavely calling signals in last Saturday's game at Ithaca, N. Y., between Cornell and Ohio State.

The reports of the officials "include no evidence of coaching from the sidelines and some definite indication of opinion that it was non-existent," said Bushnell in a letter to L. W. St. John, athletic director at Ohio State.

And it was enough.

For Pampa, the work of Heiskell, Pendleton and Terrell stood out like beacons in the backfield, Right End Nichols and Wayne Fade, at left guard, turning in the better performances in the line.

Consensus of opinion following the game was that the "experts" favored Sandies still have a chance—yes indeed—a VERY good chance to annex the district crown come that "state championship" classic at Tech Stadium the afternoon of November 21.

LEXINGTON, Mo., Nov. 2 (AP) — The Red Dragons of Wentworth Military school, defeated in the last three football engagements with New Mexico Military institute, turned the tables Friday by winning a 19 to 7 decision over the Broncs.

This Penalty Not In Rule Book, But It's Strictly Enforced By Woman Coach

CLARENDON, Nov. 2. (AP)—If you are a member of either one of Mrs. L. B. Penick's fourth grade football teams, you had better guard your tongue.

The penalty is 50 yards against your team, and a week on the bench for yourself, if you cuss.

Mrs. Penick is believed to be the only woman football coach in the wide spaces of the Texas Panhandle. She coaches two teams, and the kids play every day.

But Mrs. Penick does not do things halfway. She is both referee and umpire for the daily games. She enforces all the rules in the book, plus the cussing regulation.

Cornell Aerial Magic Baffles Columbia, 27-0

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 2. (AP)—For a football machine which was accused of traveling on one cylinder, Cornell did pretty well today. It ran over, under and around the Lions of Columbia to a 27 to 0 victory, its 13th in a row and the 17th straight in which it has escaped defeat.

With the grey-clad Carl Gray Snavely bravely defying comment and sitting grimly with the roll of paper which caused the bench coaching charge after the Ohio State game clutched in his hand, the Big Red rolled up and down the field with a snap-snap percision which left the Lions thwarted and bewildered.

Once in the first period, again in the second and twice in the third did a red-shirted Cornellian scamper over the goal with the ball clutched tightly and every touchdown came on a pass.

Centenary Next

be home-coming for Techsans.

Perhaps the most pleasing thing to Tech's five consecutive victories is the fact that 15 Red Raiders have scored one or more points. E. J. McKnight, a reserve right end, is leading the scorers with five touchdowns and seven conversions for 37 points. He is shadowed closely by Thayne "Red" Amonett, fleet left halfback, who has accounted for three touchdowns and one conversion for 1 points. Next in line is Big Charlie Dvoracek, ramming fullback, who has scored three touchdowns for 18 points. Robert Duncan, left end; Roger Smith, left halfback and Clarence Tillery, right end, are tied for fourth place, each with two touchdowns and one conversion for 13 points.

Other Red Raiders who have scored this season include Glenn Lowe, C. L. Storrs, Tom Douglass, Bill Brown, Walter Webster, Milton Hill, Will Allbright, Bing Bingham and Captain Tyrus Bain.

In playing one tie and winning five games the Red Raiders have clicked with 24 touchdowns, 13 conversions and one safety for a total of 159 points against their opponents' 72 points. On the ground and through the air the Red Raiders have collected 2,062 net yards against their opponents 1,217 yards.

Tickets for the Centenary game will go on sale Monday morning at the Hilton hotel ticket booth, the Lubbock Hotel Drug, Mark Halsey No. 2 and the Hub Clothiers. Mail orders should be directed to Athletic Manager "Mule" Dowell at Texas Tech.

Ponies Whin Texas

then suddenly found Spec Sanders in the clear. Sanders took the pass at a gallop and outran the Methodist secondary to score standing up. On the attempted placekick the ball was fumbled but Sanders grabbed it and dodged through a broken field to add the point.

McClain Ends Scoring

The Ponies again gained possession of the ball on their own 42 and Clinton McClain plunged for four. Ray Mallouf then aerialed to Tunnell who was nailed on the Steer 43. Kelly Simpson received the next overhead and carried to the Texas 15. On a fake pass, McClain ran over the goal line around right end. Johnston's toe concluded the point getting.

The Methodists got 15 first downs to Texas' two and gained 297 yards by aerials to the Steers' 171.

Jeffrey sent a smoking touchdown pass to Sterling on the goal line. Robnett converted.

Outstanding for Arkansas on the defense was Jay Lawhon, a tremendous fellow at fullback who did quite a job of line backing.

The Aggies won handily, but for the first time since the Arkansas game a year ago they were outgained. The towering Porkers gained 226 yards—151 by passing—to the Aggies total of 185 yards.

Anglo-Turkish Pact Remains

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

The guarded statement of Turkey's war position by her president, General Ismet Inonu, Friday leaves considerable to the imagination but of one significant point there can be no doubt—he reaffirmed the Anglo-Turkish alliance despite the Axis threat to the near east, and Russia's non-committal attitude.

The only balm in that Gilead for Nazidom would seem to be that Herr Hitler is making the Turks move with great caution. The fact that an elephant treads softly, however, doesn't mean that he lacks determination or strength.

Position Is Explained

It is a characteristic of the Oriental mind that it conceals more than it reveals. Still, on the whole Turkey's famous warrior-statesman gave us a fair picture of the situation—if we read between the lines a bit. Without attaching responsibility to the general for the conclusions, I should say that the position boils down to this:

Turkey is continuing her heavily armed attitude of watchful-waiting. She is prepared to fight at the drop of the hat if attacked, and might be expected to do the same if her interests were gravely threatened.

To a large extent Turkey must be guided by the wishes of Stalin of Moscow, who has his boot firmly inserted in the Turkish doorway.

The Muscovite sphynx, whose support is being sought by both Germany and Britain, is smart enough to rush in where devils fear to tread, and is playing both ends against the middle until he figures out the best course. Naturally he doesn't want the Turks building a bonfire on his front door-step.

Encouraging Friendship

I would emphasize Inonu's statement that Turkey's "relations with Russia which have gone through a critical period, now have taken a friendly turn."

Now that is of great significance when viewed in conjunction with the announced determination of the Turks to fight if Messrs. Mussolini and Hitler carry out their tacit threat to try to force the Dardanelles and drive through Turkey into the near east in an effort to capture the Suez canal. This would immediately bring Britain to the aid of her Turkish ally.

This all seems to me to mean that Russia, while holding the Turks in leash, has approved the declaration to resist aggression, and also is encouraging friendly relations between Turkey and England. This fits in perfectly with the Soviet's own attitude towards England which very recently has changed from open unfriendliness to amicability.

So far as concerns the Fascist assault on Greece, Turkey is keeping hands off although remaining in consultation with both Britain and Athens. The Greeks themselves have advised Inonu that they can handle the situation without Turkish aid at present, thereby localizing the new war.

Meanwhile Ankara is keeping an eagle-eye on Bulgaria, which wants a corridor through Greek Thrace to the Aegean sea. Should the Bulgarians make a move to seize this, the Turks presumably would intervene to help Greece.

Official Observance Of Thanksgiving In Lubbock Has Been Set For Nov. 21

Day's Program To Be Mapped

Thursday, Nov. 21, will be the day of official observance of Thanksgiving in Lubbock.

It will be the next-to-last instead of the traditional last Thursday of November, and will follow the departure in precedent made by President Roosevelt last year—which Lubbock did no. follow.

Information that Nov. 21 will be the date of observance came Saturday from churches, the Retail Merchants association, the postoffice, city and county offices, city schools and Texas Technological college.

Has Been Officially Set

The date of observance has been officially set by member firms of the Retail Merchants association, city schools, city and county official offices including the courts, and Texas Technological college.

The poll of member firms of the Retail Merchants association was announced Saturday by Mrs. Gladys Workman, secretary. They were virtually unanimously in favor of the Nov. 21 date, she said.

Official action on the date as well as preparation of plans for the observance in the churches probably will be taken at the monthly meeting of Lubbock Minister's association in First Methodist church Monday morning at 10 o'clock, according to Rev. H. G. Gantz, president.

He and other pastors expressed the opinion, however, that the Nov. 21 observance will be set officially and that the usual plan of the last several years of holding union Thanksgiving services Wednesday night will be followed.

To Follow General Plan

Postmaster Amos Howard said he has received no official notification concerning the observance date, but that the day of general closing in Lubbock will be followed at the postoffice. Last year, postal employes observed both days, but were open for business during a portion of both days.

Judge E. L. Pitts of 99th district court and Judge Daniel A. Blair of 72nd court said their courts will be at recess during the day.

Dr. W. B. Irvin, superintendent of city schools, said that the period from noon on Nov. 20 until Monday morning, Nov. 25, was set several months ago for the Thanksgiving holiday observance in the schools. That same period will be observed generally by schools throughout the state so as to give teachers opportunity to attend the annual convention of the Texas State Teachers association in Fort Worth.

Texas Technological college will recess after classes on Wednesday, Nov. 20, and will resume work the following Monday morning, according to Dr. Clifford B. Jones, president.

OVER THE PACIFIC—ON WAR-PAINTED WINGS—American wings with their war paint on soar protectively over the Philippine islands as the U. S. Army orders aviation units in the islands to be prepared for any eventuality. The squadron of fast combat planes pictured above is on duty at Camp Nichols, near Manila, and reinforcements have been ordered from the United States.

Third annual South Plains salon of pictorial photography will be held from Nov. 16 to Dec. 1, according to Jesse Q. Sealey, president of the South Plains Camera club.

Second Outlet For Cochran And Hockley County Oil Fields Assured Last Week

By JOHN B. BREWER
Special Oil Writer

Assurance of a second outlet for the most northly oil producing counties in the West Texas Permian Basin, Cochran and Hockley, in the receiving of bids by Magnolia Pipe Line Co. for an 85-mile, 8-inch welded line from those areas to a connection in Gaines county with Atlantic Pipe Line Co.'s Hobbs-to-Midland carrier was the outstanding development last week in the north part of the district.

Another was the staking of a Terry county wildcat by Sloan & Zock, No. 1 W. E. Bradley, four miles northwest of Wellman and 665 feet out of the northwest corner of section 103, block 4X, C&M survey.

In the south part of the district the spotlight was held by Tambert, McKee and Siemoneit of Fort Worth No. 1 Virginia W. Crockett, opening Pecos county's second Ordovician lime pool, and the Basin's fifth.

Second In Ward County

Magnolia Petroleum No. 1-41 George Sealy became the second and largest producer in the Magnolia-Sealy (South) pool in northern Ward county when it flowed 646 barrels of oil in 20 hours for completion at 2,001.

Magnolia's North Basin pipe line extension will make use of 26 miles of Magnolia 8-inch line from the Seminole pool to the junction with Atlantic's system. A Texas-New Mexico Pipe Line Co. line is under construction from Cochran and Hockley counties to Midland and scheduled for completion in December.

Atlantic Refining and R. R. Rhodes No. 1 C. S. Dean, Cochran county wildcat three miles west of the Duggan pool, in league 89, Lipscomb county school land, had drilled below 4,852 feet in lime. Cascade No. 1 J. M. Walker, Hockley county wildcat in tract 22, league 22, McCulloch county school land, nine miles east of the Slaughter field, was trying to free drill pipe stuck at 3,610 feet. Total depth was 4,780 feet in lime.

Frank J. Downey No. 1 Henry James, Gaines county wildcat nine miles west of the south end of the Seminole pool, appeared from drilling time to have topped the salt at 3,100 feet, 323 feet above sea level, but this had not been confirmed by samples. Drilling continued below 3,640 feet in anhydrite. It is 1,980 feet from the south and east lines of section 368-G-CCSD&RGNG.

Testing Underway

Forest No. 1 Whisenant, Yoakum county wildcat, in the southeast quarter of section 861-D-John H. Gibson, was testing an oil bearing zone from 5,410-85 feet after drilling plugs from 7-inch casing at 4,942 feet. It was bottomed at 5,000 feet, contract depth.

Taubert and others' No. 1 Crockett in northern Pecos county flowed an estimated 50 to 100 barrels of 43 gravity oil hourly Thursday morning in testing through tubing and casing, bottomed at 5,357 feet. Gas was estimated from five million to eight million cubic feet daily. Two high 500-barrel tanks were being erected for a gauge, probably Saturday.

No. 1 Crockett is 660 from the south, 1,980 feet from the west line of section 4 1-2, block 3, H&TC Ry. Co. survey 1 1-2 miles east of Imperial and 10 miles north and slightly east of the Apco field, Pecos county's first Ordovician producing area. It is 1 1-4 miles south of Magnolia and Tex-Mex No. 1-A McKee, which headed oil several times in February, 1938, from Simpson sand at 5,271-80 feet, but was shot unsuccessfully after drilling to sulphur water at 6,267 feet and plugging back.

Taubert and others' well topped the Simpson at 4,755 feet, 2,363 feet below sea level, 27 feet higher than in No. 1-A McKee. Samples below 5,293 feet, where no oil showed, carried only oil stains but there was a high percentage of cement in the returns. It was theorized that cement went lower than the 7-inch casing seat at 5,258 feet and that whipping of the drill pipe dislodged it, exposing the first pay from 5,270-80 feet.

Field Is Extended

Flowing 20 barrels of oil the first hour after being swabbed in following reacidizing with 1,000 gallons, Humble No. 1 W. T. Shearer extended the Apco field a quarter mile northwest. Bottomed at 4,731 feet, it was to be retreated with 3,000 gallons. One thousand gallons had been used at 4,719 feet without results. The well is 668 from the southeast, 2,001.8 feet from the southwest line of section 99-10-H&GN.

Magnolia started No. 2-41 Sealy in northern Ward county, 2,310 feet from the south and west lines of section 41-F-G&MMB&A, quarter mile north of its No. 1-41 Sealy, new producer. No. 1-41 is three-quarters of a mile north and slightly west of Atlantic No. 1 Wickett-University, discovery in the area, which is 2 1-2 miles west of the Hutchins sector of the North Ward field.

George Atkins No. 1 W. T. Noelke in western Crockett county, half mile north and slightly east of the Soma discovery well, struck an estimated 30 million cubic feet of gas daily spraying oil in sand from 1,492 to 1,500 feet, where it was shut in. It is in the northwest corner of the northeast quarter of section 30-GG-HE&WT.

Continental Oil Co. and others' No. 6 J. S. Todd estate, quarter-mile south outpost to the Todd Deep field in north central Crockett county, topped the crinoidal section of the Strawn lime, the producing zone in the area, at 5,875 feet, 3,417 feet below sea level, and drilled ahead past 4,884. The marker was correlated 205 feet lower than in Continental and others' No. 4 J. S. Todd, the nearest producer, a quarter mile to the north, but only 22 feet lower than in Amerada No. 1 Todd, most westerly well in the field.

Forest No. 1 W. L. Bradley and others, Ector county wildcat seven miles southeast of the Harper pool, in the southeast corner of section 18-43-3s-T&P, plugged back farther to 4,362 feet for a water shutoff in order to test promising upper zones.

Solidarity Of American Nations Can Be Forfeited

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (AP)—Laurence Duggan, advisor to Secretary Hull on Latin American political relations, said today that the solidarity of American nations "could be lost overnight" if the United States "again undertook to dictate to the other American nations how they should run their own affairs."

In a speech prepared for delivery to the foreign policy association, the state department spokesman asserted that a return to the policy "of the big stick, dollar diplomacy and intervention" would have such a result, because "intervention and hemispheric solidarity are incompatible."

"If the people of this country prize the friendship of the other American peoples," he said, "then their government must base its relations on recognition of the equality and inviolability of the sovereignty of each of the 21 republics."

Citing evidences of the degree of solidarity already attained, Duggan said that much has been done to promote development of economic resources in Latin America. One accomplishment, he related, has been the perfection of a strain of rubber tree with an average yield three times as hugh as that of trees in the far east, where most rubber used in this country now is produced.

"We may anticipate a considerable reduction in the cost of rubber to the United States consumers as this development proceeds," he said, adding that the present price of 20 cents a pound might be cut in half.

About 350 officers and 4,200 men of the 48th bombardment group, headquarters and headquarters squadron; 55th bombardment squadron, 56th bombardment squadron, 57th bombardment squadron, 9th reconnaissance squadron and 37th air base group will be stationed at the field.

Voters Skeptical About Old Bank

FAYETTE CITY, Pa., Nov. 2. (AP)—Some 50 persons asked the Fayette county court to prevent transfer of next Tuesday's polling place from the borough building to quarters once occupied by a bank.

"A lot of people lost money in the bank and they won't go near it again—not even to vote," said Pat F. Hynes, one of the petitioners.

Animal Trainer Is Sent Hero Medal

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 2. (AP)—An animal trainer who saved the life of a man attacked by four untrained lions was one of 25 persons sent medals by the Carnegie hero fund commission today in recognition of heroic acts.

The trainer, Joseph R. Arcaris, 31, of Nashua, N. H., went to the rescue of Chester Czaja, a caretaker, after the lions sprang upon Czaja in an enclosure at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., last February 9.

Bitten by the enraged beasts, Czaja lay bleeding and unconscious. Arcaris, who had not worked with the lions, entered the enclosure armed only with a stick. The trainer beat the lions with the stick, breaking part of it off, and held the animals back until men outside the enclosure chased them into cages by firing blank cartridges. Czaja was seriously injured, but recovered.

Arcaris was awarded a bronze medal.

Baltimore has more than one hundred miles of waterfront.

Instructions Received By Battery C And Service Battery Of National Guard

Mobilization To Be Nov. 25

Tentative instructions have been received here for battery C and service battery of the 131st Field artillery, national guard, as to where they will go after mobilization day Nov. 25, Lieut. Col. Harold Griffith said Saturday.

Present orders are to spend ten days after Nov. 25 checking property, taking physical examinations, changing property deeds, and getting all equipment ready to go. Then both batteries are to proceed to the new military camp at Brownwood, he said.

Hadden Heads Band

Officers on the staff of the first battalion, which consists of battery A at Plainview, battery B at Amarillo and battery C here, include Major John L. Walton and Lieut. Alfred J. Adkinson of Lubbock.

Officers in battery C, which numbers 77 men, are Capt. Huddleston W. Wright and Lieut. John Kershner, both of whom are taking additional military training at Fort Sill, Okla.; Lieut. Lemuel S. Boren and Lieut. Ilo Hard.

Officers in the service battery, which numbers 36 men, are Capt. Elmore S. Plemmons, first Lieut. Julian S. Williamson, Lieut. Ross Ayers and Lieut. Norman K. Snodgrass. Warrant Officer Joe R. Hadden will be director of the 27-member band which, under recent changes, has been segregated from the two batteries and made a separate unit.

Campaign Near End

sistance to Great Britain, emphatically contends that a provocative attitude toward the Axis countries will lead to war if the president is reelected.

Contrary To Fact

In reply, the president says that any charge that he is heading toward war is contrary to all the facts in the record. It is for peace he has labored, he says, and will continue to labor throughout his life.

The second great issue is the summation of months of controversy over the question of concentration of power in Washington. The Republicans contend this issue is epitomized in the proposal that, contrary to tradition, the president be elected for a third term. Dictatorship may be the result, says Willkie.

Roosevelt supporters answer that the powers of the federal government have necessarily been increased to meet successive crises—the depression, the war abroad and the urgent necessity for rearmament. They add that Congress still functions, the election is free, the press is free, speech is free, and they ask:

Ask For Signs

"What sign is there of an impending dictatorship?" Roosevelt's knowledge of foreign affairs makes a third term necessary, at a time of crisis such as this, they assert.

These two are the predominantly great issues. There are others, too:

The New Deal has discouraged and antagonized business, Willkie argues. Business is better, even than it was in 1929, the president replies. New Deal spending is leading to federal bankruptcy, says Willkie, although acknowledging that defense expenditures will preclude a balanced budget for some years to come. Spending has been necessary, answer the New Dealers, to stimulate business.

Program Said Slow

The defense program is bogging down because of inefficiency in government, say the Willkie-ites and the president cannot command the confidence of businessmen necessary to speeding it up. False, is the Democratic reply.

The defense program is booming along, the administration already has the cooperation of industry, and, beyond that, can command the confidence and help of the laboring masses to a degree to which Willkie can never aspire.

Hitler and Mussolini want to see Willkie elected, say the president's supporters (and he, himself once called attention to a newspaper dispatch from Rome to that effect). The Willkie people answer that Willkie is as much for helping Britain and as opposed to Nazi philosophy as the president is.

And, other issues have arisen—the trivial issues, the little incidents and circumstances which have no bearing upon statecraft or the merit of the candidates, but which may make or change votes.

Son Is Protested

The president's son, Elliott, obtained a captain's commission in the army air corps. It was at a time when all young men of his age were facing compulsory service in a private's barracks. By the thousands, lapel buttons labelled "I wanna be a captain' too" appeared.

Both candidates, but Willkie in particular, were the targets of thrown eggs, vegetables or fruit in some regions.

And, almost at the last minute, Stephen T. Early, the president's secretary, trying to board the president's train in New York had a scuffle with unrecognizing police detail. A negro policeman was hurt. Early, denying he had kicked the policeman, apologized to him, anyway.

Both On Radio

All these things, the issues, the incidents, great and little, have been an essential part of a campaign highly unusual in its outward manifestations and inward turmoil.

For one thing, there have been some notable shifts in support. Such former administration lieutenants as John Hanes, one time assistant secretary of the treasury, and Lewis Douglas, first New Deal budget director, are ardently advocating Willkie's election. John L. Lewis, whose CIO organizations pumped $500,000 into the 1936 Roosevelt campaign, plumped for Willkie. Gifford Pinchot, former Republican governor of Pennsylvania, and John G. Winant, former Republican governor of New Hampshire, came out for reelection of the president.

Battling down the stretch, both candidates spoke tonight—the president in Cleveland and Willkie in New York. Each also has radio time reserved for an election-eve message.

O'Daniel's Silence On National Election Is Rapped By State Representative; Says Social Security Funds May Be In Danger

AUSTIN, Nov. 2.—Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's public silence in connection with the democratic presidential campaign was criticized today by Rep. Weldon Burney of Evant.

In a formal statement Burney asked:

"Is the governor with Roosevelt and his social security policies or is he with the Republicans and the bolting Democrats of this state?"

The governor made no immediate comment. A secretary said the chief executive had left "strict orders" not to be disturbed while in a morning conference.

What About Pensions?

Burney said further:

"Four two years his leadership has made great success with a single promise to pay pensions in full cooperation with the federal government. But now until this late hour what has he done or what has he contributed to the behalf of the continuance of Franklin D. Roosevelt's administration?

"Although the opportunity has been before him each week, he has not raised his voice one time in the behalf of the party or in the behalf of the Roosevelt leadership which provides his only chance to pay social security obligations of this state.

Might Be End Of Pensions

"Has it ever occurred to the governor that the election of a Republican president might and probably will mean the end of pensions and end of all social security?

"As the governor is a new-comer in the Democratic party it is most appropriate that the citizenship of this state should have an answer stating whether he is in favor of the Roosevelt administration or in favor of Wendell Willkie and the Republican party.

Willkie Speaks

ment."

Willkie asked the support of all who believe "in the principles of American freedom," and said that he had repudiated at the start of the campaign "certain men and groups who tried to connect themselves with us."

Downs Whispering Campaign

"I repudiate, now and forever," he continued, "any and all men and women, individually or collectively, who practice or promote racial or religious intolerance or persecution.

"I want specifically to denounce, as malicious, reckless, and harmful to all concerned the whispering campaign that is being conducted by the opposition to connect me with that kind of intolerance.

"That kind of a campaign is not a smear on Wendell Willkie. It is a smear on our American principles.

Liberties Defeated

"I will defend and always will have defended the rights and civil liberties of all people, regardless of race, creed or color. They are Americans."

Asking what candidate could bring all the people together, Willkie pledged "a unity that you have not known for eight years. . . .

"Out of that unity will come a confidence of man in man, and in each other's motives and hopes, out of that confidence will grow a new America. . . . Out of confidence will grow new industries, new business, new opportunities, new jobs."

Willkie said this campaign was a crusade of the people of America. "You started it," he continued. "You carried it forward. And you will finish it next Tuesday, won't you"

"Battle Of America"

"Within the hollow of your hands is shield the last unquenched flame of democracy," he continued. "All over the world that light has been going out. Here we must keep it burning—shield it, shield it— so that the imprisoned peoples of other lands may know that light still burns —so that your sons and mine and the men that come after them may have that light to guide them—so that a strong America may once more see that path before it and go forward."

Willkie said that the campaign "is the battle of America," and added: "The drums of victory are rolling. The thunderous drums of an aroused elaborate are beating in the nation tonight. Victory, victory, is on the march."

Victory Of People

The nominee said that the campaign would mean "the victory of the people" and then quoted President Roosevelt as saying in Madison Square garden four years ago:

"I should like to have it said of my first administration that in it the forces of selfishness and of lust for power met their match. I should like to have it said of my second administration that in it these forces met their master."

Willkie declared that he came with "a different plea" and continued: "I do not ask to be any man's master.

"People of America, I ask you to make me your servant."

Lord Haw Haw States U. S. Destroyers Old

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (AP) — Lord Haw-Haw, Germany's radio commentator, declared today in a broadcast heard by CBS that two of the "decrepit" United States destroyers traded to Britain were so severely damaged crossing the Atlantic "they had to be abandoned and sunk by their crews."

Two more "were so badly damaged they had to be taken in tow by others," Lord Haw-Haw declared, adding that this was proof that "the 50 obsolete destroyers which Britain bought from the United States in exchange for valuable naval bases are none too valuable."

of a newspaper page with the Democrats having the only complete list of candidates from presidential electors to public weigher. The Republicans have a list of state offices and the Communists have a few scattered candidates for state offices. The Socialists, Communists and Prohibitionists have a list of presidential electoral candidates and there is space on the ballot for independent candidates and write-in candidates.

Amendments On Ballot

The ballot also has four amendments to the Texas constitution which are to be voted upon. Number 1 amendment provides for the commissioners court of Red River county, upon a vote of the qualified electors therein, to levy a tax and issue bonds to refund the outstanding warrant indebtedness of the general fund of such county. Number 2 amendment provides for the appointment of notaries public by the secretary of state. No. 3 provides that article 18, section 30, of the Constitution shall not apply to appointive offices of any municipality placed under the terms and provisions of Civil Service. No. 4 amendment proposes the constitution be changed authorizing the Legislature to provide for appeals direct to the supreme court in instances involving the constitutionality of certain laws and orders.

The polls will open at 8 a. m. Tuesday and close at 7 p. m. and election officials are required to make their reports to the county clerk as soon as the ballots are counted.

Funds Asked

County Democratic Chairman L. C. Ellis announced the "old-fashioned Democratic rally" over the radio for Monday night from 7 to 7:30 p. m. The time is being sponsored by the Jo Ann shop and other Lubbock firms, Ellis said. Music will be furnished by Hop Halsey's Drug Store Cowboys and "some peppy speeches are in store for radio listeners," Ellis said.

In connection with the rally, Ellis said Lubbock county's quota in the campaign funds drive is progressing nicely although the goal hasn't yet been reached. He said anyone wishing to make a contribution could do so with him at the Lubbock National bank and he would see that their names were sent to national headquarters along with other contributors.

Predictions on the total vote the Republican party would garner in Lubbock county ranged widely Saturday from 500 to 2,000 or more votes and some prognosticators predicted the county would go for Willkie.

In the 1936 election, the Democrats polled 6,679 votes while 918 went Republican. The Communist party got five votes and the Socialists three in the 1936 election.

Roosevelt Speaks

naled for quiet, and in some sections of the hall went on after he began speaking.

Safety Comes First

There was booing in the crowd when the president declared that representatives of "the forces of dictatorship in our own land," which he identified as the Communists on one hand and "the girdlers" on the other, were voting without exception against the New Deal.

Loud cheering greeted his declaration that "the first purpose of our foreign policy is to keep our country out of war."

There was prolonged cheering, too, when Mr. Roosevelt asked for "your vote of confidence" in order, he said, that the American people might march forward to "a future which holds the fulfillment of our hopes for real freedom, real prosperity, real peace."

"There are certain forces within our own national community, composed of men who call themselves American but who would destroy America," Mr. Roosevelt said. "They are the forces of dictatorship in our own land—on one hand the Communists, and on the other the girdlers.

Proud Of Opposition

"It is their constant purpose in this, as in other lands, to weaken democracy, to destroy the free man's faith in his own cause.

"In this election all the representatives of these forces, without exception, are voting against the New Deal.

"I am proud of this opposition. It is proof positive that what we have built and strengthened in the past seven years is democracy."

Mr. Roosevelt did not define the term "girdlers" nor explain its origin.

In his address, coming at the end of a day of campaigning through eastern New York, a corner of Pennsylvania and into Ohio, the president asserted that the American people, during the past seven years, had "marched forward out of a wilderness of depression and despair." He continued:

Must Continue

"They have marched forward right up to the very threshold of the future—a future which holds the fulfillment of our hopes for real freedom, real prosperity, real peace.

"I want that march to continue for four years more. And for that purpose, I ask your vote of confidence."

In a detailed discussion of the administration's foreign policy, the chief executive said its first purpose was to keep the country out of war.

At the same time, Mr. Roosevelt declared, "we seek to keep foreign conceptions of government out of the United States."

No Appeasement Errors

The second purpose of this policy, he said, was "to keep war as far away from the shores of the entire western hemisphere."

"Also our policy is to give all possible material aid to the nations which still resist aggression, across the Atlantic and Pacific oceans," the chief executive said.

"We make it clear that we intend to commit none of the fatal errors of appeasement. . . .

"Ours is the foreign policy of an administration which has an undying faith in the strength of our democracy today, full confidence in the vitality of our democracy in the future, and a consistant record in the cause of peace."

Streamlined Version

The nation's strength was measured, he continued, not only in terms of the might of its armaments but also in "the social and economic justice of the system in which we live."

"For you can build ships and tanks and guns galore; but they will not be enough," the president declared. "You must place behind them an invincible faith in the institutions which they have been build to defend.

"The dictators have devised . . . a modern, streamlined version of an ancient system.

"But Americans will have none of that."

Mr. Roosevelt said democracy had moved forward in the last seven years but that now "we are asked to stop in our tracks."

Will Not Turn Back

"We are asked to turn about, and march back into the wilderness from which we came. Of course we will not turn backward."

The president said it was the destiny of the present American generation to "point the road to the future for all the world to see."

"It is our prayer that all lovers of freedom may join us—the anguished common people of this earth for whom we seek to light the path.

"I see an America where factory workers are not discarded after they reach their prime, where there is no endless chain of poverty from generation to generation, where impoverished farmers and farm hands do not become homeless wanderers, where monopoly does not make youth a begger for a job."

Berlin Bombed In Heavy Raids

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 2.—In two smashes at Berlin officially called the heaviest ever loosed by the RAF, British bombers were declared tonight to have repeatedly bombarded three of the German capital's main railway centers and left a mile-long blaze about a vital power station.

One raiding wave, the air ministry said, went into action shortly after 8 p. m. last night and stayed on the job for nearly two hours and and another flew in over the city at 2:20 o'clock this morning and fired away with bombs for 40 minutes.

Fifty-Six Raids

It was Berlin's Klingenburg power station, returning pilots reported, which formed the biggest torch left by their tons of explosives and hundreds of incendiary bombs.

The press association said the RAF's harder and more frequent raids on Berlin were due directly to the "vigorous personality" of Britain's new chief of the air staff, Sir Charles Portal, who "believes in dealing heavy blows."

One British crew which has participated in 56 raids over Germany said it was such a fire as never had been seen before in Germany — forming first an area of flame a quarter of a mile square, extending then a mile in length and casting a red glow 10,000 feet in the air through two cloud layers.

Heavily Bombed

A sergeant-operator of the first plane to bomb the station said the pilot "completely ignored the Ack-Ack (anti-aircraft fire) and circled to get a better view. He kept shouting to the top of his voice: 'Oh what a fire. It's a pity that the Londoners can't see this one.'"

The Charlottenburg power station likewise was heavily, though not so spectacularly, bombed, said the air ministry.

CHILD IS KILLED

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 2. (AP) — Lloyd Simpson, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tell Simpson, was killed today when his bicycle and a car crashed.

Man Is Arrested

followed by a woman who apparently had been sitting with him.

A couple sitting just behind, who identified themselves as Mr. and Mrs. W. Hewitt, of Garden City, Long Island, said the man took a revolver from an inside pocket and transferred it to his overcoat pocket as he arose and started toward the platform, where the candidate, waving to the cheering crowd, stood with his wife.

Man Intercepted

The Hewitts reported immediately to a patrolman, and a policeman stepped up and intercepted the man.

Police Eergeant Edward Unger, to whom the man was turned over, confirmed the report that the man had a revolver. He said it was a .32-calibre weapon, fully loaded.

The women who had been trailing behind the prisoner, Sgt. Unger said, informed police that the man with the weapon was a Manhattan physician.

The woman, whose name police did not disclose immediately, was quoted as declaring she "was sure the man did not mean any harm.

Old-Fashioned Clothes

The cheering was still in progress when a uniformed patrolman and a plainclothes patrolman hurried the elderly man, who wore a black derby and high wing collar, into an anteroom of the garden, where he was questioned by Captain Conrad Rothengast, in charge of detectives at the garden, preparatory to being taken to the West 47th street station.

Very few persons in the audience realized what had happened.

The vast, flag-bedecked arena was thronged with some 24,000 persons and the speaker's platform was crowded with Republican notables, including Rep. Joseph W. Martin, jr., Republican national chairman; Rep. Bruce Barton, a candidate for election to the U. S. Senate, and Kenneth F. Simpson, New York county chairman and congressional candidate.

"All A Mistake"

Sergeant Unger said the man described himself as Dr. Hugh S. Ward, 78, who claimed to have been a practicing physician for 50 years. Police added that he was very well known in the Harlem district of Manhattan.

About six feet tall, the man was slender and wore an old fashioned bowler hat and an old style frock coat of the type worn by doctors of an earlier day. He also wore a high, stiff collar.

"It's all a mistake," Sergeant Unger quoted the man as saying.

The arresting officer was patrolman Charles Havlick.

Bocked At Station

The prisoner, after being questioned at the 47th street station, was taken to police headquarters to be booked, police said, on a charge of illegally possessing a weapon.

The gun was a .32 calibre revolver fully loaded, police said.

The nominee had been delayed 27 minutes in leaving the rostrum. Cheering audience demonstrations ran his address 20 minutes over its allotted radio time and another outburst of applause held him on the platform, with Mrs. Willkie standing beside him, for seven more minutes.

In the audience before them sat their son, Philip, 20.

Tear Gas Is Used To Break Up Collegians

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 2. (AP)—Police used tear gas last night to break up a University of Wisconsin homecoming demonstration during which an estimated 8,000 persons created bedlam for two hours on State street and Capitol square.

Thirty-four persons were taken into custody but most of them were released later. Thirteen university and high school students were ordered to report in superior court today on charges of disorderly conduct and vandalism.

Police Chief William H. McCormick reported for work today without his topcoat. He had been hit by eggs which he described as "not very fresh."

Democratic Candidate To Vote Republican

COLEBROOK, Conn., Nov. 2. (AP)—Lucian Cary, the novelist, finds his candidacy for state representative on the Democratic ticket "irritating." So he is going around begging people not to vote for him.

Cary says he was nominated without his consent while on a magazine assignment in the mid-west, wasn't notified by the Democrats and didn't find out he was running until a private organization queries him on election issues.

Next Tuesday, he says, he's going to vote Republican.

Britain Spends Quiet Night

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 3 (Sunday)—Raid-weary England, Scotland and Wales enjoyed one of the quietest nights in weeks last night and early today as the German and Italian raiding squadrons, beaten back from London time and again yesterday, gave the bomb-battered British a rest.

Fast-striking early raiders, one of which machine-gunned London streets for the first time, thinned out quickly and the all-clear signal was given before midnight.

Early reports showed that with the exception of a few districts in southeast England, the British were getting a sound sleep.

At the end of another week of aerial siege, the air ministry declared that the attackers' striking power was faltering and that Nazi plane losses were running ahead of the British 3 to 1 and Nazi losses in airmen 14 to 1.

SATISFACTORY WEEK

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—While considerable irregularity prevailed in today's brief stock market, the list managed to emerge from another satisfactory week with small plus signs in the majority.

Dealings were sufficiently lively at times to put up the volume to 466,860 shares, largest two-hour turnover since June 15. It compared with 418,070 last Saturday. Trading for the week also was the liveliest since mid-June.

Gains and losses generally held to negligible fractions and the Associated Press average of 60 issues was up .1 of a point at 45.9, making net improvement for the week .9. A month ago the composite stood at 45 and a year ago at 52.7.

United Aircraft got up a point and fractions were tacked on Bethlehem Steel, Republic Steel, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, Consolidated Edison, Western Union, Texas Corp., Standard Oil of N. J., United Aircraft, Paramount, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward and Santa Fe.

Losers included U. S. Rubber, Douglas Aircraft, Anaconda, Kennecott, Johns-Manville, Monsanto Chemical, American Can and International Harvester.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—Cotton futures advanced 3 to 5 points today on demand inspired by Friday's big textile business.

Pressure, mostly hedging, was light but the market hesitated again at 9.60 cents a pound for March. Mills appeared unwilling to fix prices above this level.

Brokers saw pleasant reading in estimates that turnover of print cloths and related items during the week was slightly more than 200 per cent of current production. Prices were marked up 1/8 cent a yard on the more popular items.

Exports Friday 4,557 bales; season so far 324,372. Port receipts 10,896.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 2 (AP)—The average price of middling 15-16ths-inch cotton today at ten designated southern spot markets was 4 points higher at 9.40 cents a pound; average for the past 30 market days 9.37 cents. Middling 7-8ths-inch average 9.19 cents a pound.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 2 (AP)—Pre-election doldrums limited wheat market trading today and except for an early downturn of about 1/2 cent, which was soon recovered, prices held steady most of the session.

Wheat closed 1/4 lower to 1/4 higher compared with yesterday, Dec. 84@83 7/8, May 83 3/8@83 1/4; corn 1/8 to 1/2 higher, Dec. 59 7/8, May 61; oats 1/8 to 1/4 up; soy beans 1 to 1 3/8 higher; rye 1/8 to 3/8 up and lard unchanged to 3 lower.

Profit taking was blamed for the early setback in the wheat pit.

Trade analysis of the latest loan wheat figures indicated that at least 275,000,000 bushels may be sealed as collateral before the end of the year. The 1939 total sealed was 167,000,000 bushels. The amount under loan on October 29 was 235,889,340 bushels, compared with 147,107,324 a year ago, and of this total 201,957,000 bushels were in warehouses and the remainder on farms.

Oats, rye and lard trade was quiet.

Pope Pius May Alter Plan To Name Heads

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 2. (U.P.) — Well informed Vatican circles said today that Pope Pius XII probably would change his plans for a consistory at which four new cardinals from the Roman Curia were to be appointed before Christmas. Vatican circles said that the pontiff probably would increase the number of new cardinals to nine, of whom about seven would be Italians and two Americans.

Archbishops Francis Spellman of New York and Samuel Stritch of Chicago were mentioned as the Americans who might receive their red hats at the consistory and some Vatican circles suggested also that Archbishop Joseph Mitty of San Francisco might be elevated to the college of cardinals. Except for Americans, it was said, no non-Italians would receive their red hats at the forthcoming consistory.

Majority Of Truck Drivers In Draft Age

AUSTIN, Nov. 2. (U.P.) — Three-fourths of the truck drivers in Texas are within the military training age, Lynn B. Shaw, general manager of Texas Motor Transportation association, estimated today. Shaw said there are about 279,000 truck drivers in the state and 209,250 will be affected. Exemptions, he said, will depend entirely upon the specific work he is doing. He expected those hauling explosives, ammunition or supplies essential in their manufacture, will get deferred classification.

The Hoosac tunnel in Massachusetts was the first great railway tunnel built in the United States. Twenty-five years were required in its construction.

Lubbock Negro Is Found Dead---Drunk

"Dead" men can still go to jail.

"There's a dead negro at Eighteenth street and Avenue D," an excited voice informed police early Saturday night.

Earl Horton, patrolman, rushed to the scene and surely enough, a negro lay dead—drunk. He was taken to city jail to sleep it off and answer charges.

Another defendant must answer a speeding charge and the regular week-end path was being retraced by other drunks.

A pair of cowboy boots valued at $15 was reported stolen from a car parked at Sixteenth street and Texas avenue, police were told.

American In RAF Says Exchanging Bullets With German Fighters Is "A Lot Of Fun"

SALEM, Ill., Nov. 2. (AP) — Exchanging machine-gun bullets with German pursuit and bombing planes over England is described as "fun" in letters received by City Commissioner V. A. Williams from a former Salem shoe factory worker who now is a pilot in the British Royal Air Force.

The writer, Philip Leckrone, was listed this week by the British air ministry as the victim of an aircraft accident but not hurt seriously.

Almost weekly since the last of August, Leckrone has written graphic accounts of his experiences and in one letter said he had downed three Messerschmitt German pursuit planes as well as having credit for "a half of a bomber and a third of a bomber."

"There's something strange about it, but I'm not the least bit scared when I'm in combat," he wrote, "In fact, it is fun."

He told of chasing a Messerschmitt 109 "clear across the channel before he got his last bath. Anti-aircraft guns were shooting at me from the French coast before I got him.

Made Up His Mind

"I had made up my mind to get him if I had to follow him back to Berlin. He never got out of his plane. It hit the water and went under. I felt sorry for him but he would have put me there if he could have. That makes three 109's to my credit now."

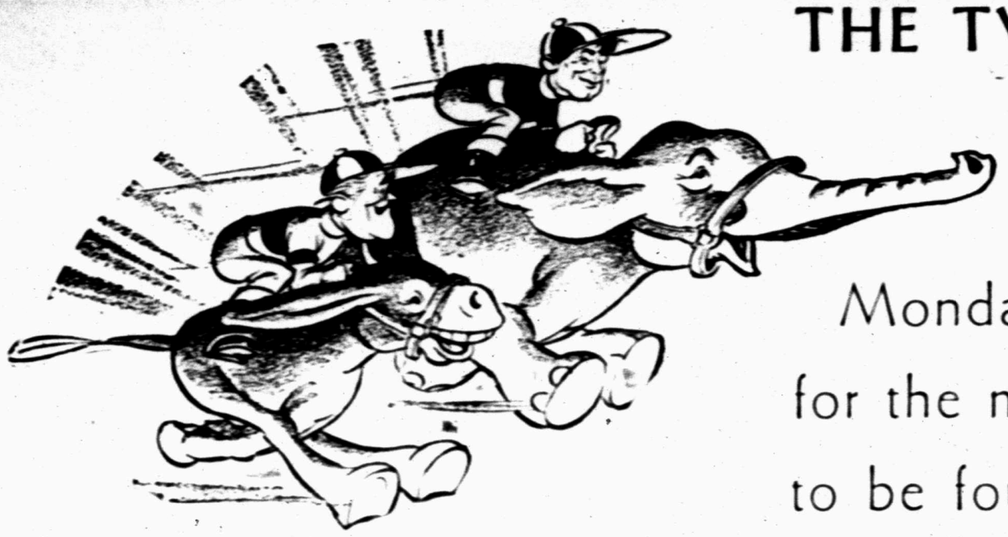

Leckrone praised the fighting ability of the R.A.F. and their Spitfire planes, contending in one letter "it is amazing what a few Spitfires can do to a hundred or so Huns."

He said Spitfires dive straight down at 600 miles per hour and every time he pulls the plane out of the dive, it "blacks he out. I'm getting used to being blacked out."

Council Of Women Graduates To Give Coffee Honoring Hockey Team

The Woman's Angle
by Margaret Turner

PEOPLE AND DEFENSE

THIS splendid article on healthy people and national defense was written by Harriet Elliott, consumer commissioner of the National Defense Advisory commission.

"We have a job to do. You, and I, and everyone. Our job is this: To make America strong.

"We have our lands to hold, our waters to protect, our skies to guard. We have these, but we have more. We have people.

"We are rich in people. People who love and cherish our lands. People who know how and want to work. People who have deep faith that here we have the greatest chance for life, and liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. People who know the fight for these is never won until it is won for everybody.

"Defense is planes and guns. It is equipping an army to man our military weapons. It is this, and more. It is building the health, the physical fitness, the social well-being of all our people, and doing it the democratic way. Hungry people, undernourished people, ill people, do not make for strong defense.

"This, then, is our job, not all of it, but a vital part: Let us make every American strong, stronger than ever before, sturdier in body, steadier in nerves, surer in living."

SCATTERINGS

FROM Houston comes word that Eugene J. Wilson, son-in-law of Mrs. L. G. H. Williams of Lubbock and former pre-law student at Tech college, has gone to Corpus Christi where he will handle legal matters incident to the establishment of the United States naval air base in that city. A responsible position for a man in his early thirties. Gene has been assistant United States attorney for the southern district of Texas and he and his wife and daughter, Sarah Janin, have been living in Houston recently . . . Clothes and make-up can keep a woman permanently 39 if she will use them to their full advantage, says Mrs. Hortense Odlum, who has just retired from presidency of one of Fifth Avenue's biggest shops. Do you suppose she retired to give herself time to try out her convictim? . . . Best laugh of the week furnished by a press agent: Alice Faye, is experimenting with a $25-a-week budget to cover incidentals—household odds and ends, cigarettes, because she found she "was filling up the house with too many knicknacks." Well, you are able to bum an awful lot of knicknacks from the dime store for less than $25 a week!

MEN'S ties this Christmas are likely to be colorful and amusing in design, with such things as piano keys, ink bottles, telephone numbers and ships being predicted. . . . Madrid, N. M., that Rocky mountain coal town that is the most brilliantly lighted of any place in the world at the Christmas season, is already preparing for a bigger and better Yuletide appearance this year. A number of Lubbock persons drive over to see this amazing spectacle of lights strung from the mines through the small town and on every bush and post . . . General release of "Gone With the Wind" is supposed to take place sometime in January and they do say not one foot will be cut from the original, except the fare which will be about one-half the road show admission.

IRVING Berlin is quoted as saying "Dream Valley" is the prettiest song he has heard all year. It has not reached Lubbock yet. . . . There is said to be an extra 10,000,000 bushels of apples in the country as a result of the war in Europe, which has cut off normal export. The entire crop for the 1940 season is expected to reach 116,000,000 bushels. So don't forget your apple a day business. Elsewhere in this section today are published several tested recipies and The Woman's Angle invites your assistance in making citizens apple conscious . . . When H. R. Knickerbocker, ace war correspondent, lectures here early in December he will have in his audience a number of former students at S. M. U. And a number of wide-eyed collegians who dream of following his example . . . It's our sincere wish that these otherwise United States will forget differences after Tuesday . . . Speaking of lovely mother-daughter combinations, don't overlook Mrs. M. J. (Bud) Aderton and her four-year-old daughter, Marion, who were outfitted alike downtown one day last week, even to the green feathers that waved in their tiny hats.

RED RAIDER MEAL

YOU may have wondered what Red Raiders eat when they are playing away from home. Rest assured they do not deny themselves. Here's a sample of a dinner served to the Tech football players: Split pea soup, asparagus and lettuce salad, grilled club steak (extra well done), baked potato, buttered string beans, five pieces dry toast per man, butter, milk, sliced canned peaches. The team takes its own water along.

A meal of this nature costs about $1.25 per man.

EASY REDUCING

IN case you ate a few of those Raider meals, your might like to have this simple diet which is said to have reduced Sylvia Sydney 20 pounds. She launched her diet with a week of nothing but orange juice and milk, nourishing and streamlining.

Replaced refined sugar with honey, less fattening but containing necessary food elements.

Eliminated all starches but one baked potato a week.

Turned down all desserts but jello.

Ate nothing but broiled, lean meats and non-starchy vegetables.

Drank a daily thinning cocktail brewed from beet, celery and carrot tops.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bozeman and family are spending the week-end in Abilene visiting with friends.

MISS RUTH LOFLIN of Ralls was crowned queen of the sophomore Hodge-Podge which was held Saturday night from 9 to 12 o'clock in the gymnasium at Texas Technological college, with Herschel Lamb of Fort Worth, class president, conducting the ceremony. Her highness entered the dance floor from a stage coach that was placed in the north end of the gymnasium. She was then escorted to a throne of hay and wagon wheels at the side of the dance floor where she presided for the evening.

Preceding the coronation and presentation of the duchesses Jack York and his orchestra gave several specialty numbers.

Duchesses who were presented to the guests were also candidates for queen in a popular election held by the class. They were Misses Patsy Ayers of Slaton, Louise Jones of Tulia, Nita Furr of Borger, Mary Paxton of Sweetwater and Elizabeth Mitchell of Lovington, N. M. The duchesses and the queen wore red and white checkered dresses with white pinafores.

Is Annual Occasion

The Hodge-Podge is given by the sophomore class for freshmen students each year. Approximately 350 students attended.

Wagon wheels were placed at each post in the gymnasium and 300 balloons were released from the ceiling during the dance. The entrances were old-fashioned covered wagons through which guests had to climb to enter. The ceiling was covered with triangles of red, green and blue paper.

T. C. Root, sponsor and several faculty members were chaperones for the dance.

Mr. Lamb is president, Miss Jones, secretary-treasurer and Kenneth Robbins, vice-president. Miss Frances Gary and Bob Bandeen were in charge of the decorations.

Two Noted Women Writers Discuss A Timely, Interesting Subject, To Wit:

"What Kind Of 'First Lady' Does America Want?"

(EDITOR'S NOTE: "Just what sort of a 'First Lady' do Americans want?" Opinion, of course, differs. In the accompanying article, two of the nation's outstanding literary figures give their views, with Fannie Hurst approving the active, tradition-smashing personality typified by Mrs. Roosevelt, and Rita Weiman, who prefers the discreet, almost shy type mirrored by Mrs. Willkie. But read the article for yourself. It is both interesting and informative.)

Mrs. Roosevelt Fills Bill For Fannie Hurst

By FANNIE HURST
Written for NEA Service

EIGHT years ago a long and shuddering gasp shook this country from coast to coast.

What—ho! A personality instead of a housewife in the White House! What have we here?

Fannie Hurst

Then, with one gargantuan impulse, the composite tongue of the nation began to wag: "The First Lady's place is in the White House."

"What's the big idea, the wife of the President of the United States interesting herself in the United States?"

"Why doesn't Mrs. Roosevelt stay at home?"

"Stop her," cried the ladies of the land, who behaved as if London Bridge were falling down. "The First Lady's place is in the White House, seeing to it that the guests don't steal napkins; entertaining cabinet wives and visitors from Duluth; deciding the color scheme of guest soap; and joining the Easter Egg Romp on the lawn."

SMASHED IT TO SMITHEREENS

SHADES - Of-the - Gentle - First-Ladies - Of - Administrations - Gone-By, what have we here? As a matter of fact, we have a First Lady who immediately solved the problem of guests stealing napkins by substituting linen that did not bear the White House insignia. We have here a First Lady who does pass on the color scheme of guest soap; who entertains visiting ladies from Duluth on a frequency scale that has probably never been practiced before, and whose Easter Egg activities are second to none for zest and conformity.

Nevertheless, that long shuddering gasp of eight years ago, which, it is true, has now subsided into a coast-to-coast purr, was real and disturbing to the American people.

Now, what has this personality-plus, whose interests range from bathroom curtains to affairs of empire, done to the tradition of First Ladies of our land?

Mr. and Mrs. Man-in-the-Street take it and like it, and I believe you do; she has smashed it to smithereens.

ELEANOR ROOSEVELT . . . "a persnality instead of a housewife."

NO "FINE HAND" IN STATE AFFAIRS

THIS is not to say that there will not, in the future, be First Ladies who will resort to the easy atavism of slipping back into just the role of gracious lady.

Inevitably those to follow in her illustrious shadow will be destined to the odiousness of comparison. Down through the pleasant corridors of the White House on Pennsylvania avenue will roll long reverberations of the name of the woman who, with reverence and humility, did many things because they "had been done," and with courage and initiative, did many things because they had not been done.

Present First Lady Praised For Activities

"That dates back to Eleanor Roosevelt," or "Eleanor Roosevelt was the first one to do that," will be colloquial phrases on the tongues of generations of First Ladies to come.

So should they be grateful phrases on the tongues of a progeny that stands fair to profit because back here in the troubled years between 1930 and 1940, a personality who was housewife, humanitarian, gracious lady, pathfinder; who was a many-faceted human being, dared to let her intelligent interests range from bathroom curtains to yogi, to social security, to wife and motherhood, to folk dances, to baby formulae, to housing, to coal miners, to equal suffrage, to peace, to rich men, poor men, beggar men, thieves, doctors, lawyers, merchants, chiefs; to ivory, apes, peacocks, sealing wax, airships, democracy, babies, spoon-bread, higher education, knitting, domestic service, adult education and grandchildren.

The present First Lady isn't a "fine hand" in affairs of state, or in that circuitous exercise of feminine influence as we know it to exist in European politics. She is as forthright as a lad, more intelligent than intellectual, does things for simple, uncomplicated reasons such as the greater good for the greater number.

When she errs, her mistakes are built on solid gold impulses and her successes outnumber them overwhelmingly.

MOST ASTONISHING SIDE JOBS IN HISTORY

THIS is a Lady hard to beat. Her successors, whether they are to be disturbed by it or not, are never going to be allowed to forget that in nineteen hundred and thirty-two, she walked into the White House, put it in order, kept it in order, and did one of the most astonishing side jobs in the history of First Ladies, or for that matter, in the history of American ladies.

She would not recognize intrigue if she met one on the street. Her basic motives are uncomplicated. She likes hot dogs for the pleasant democratic reason that she is like that.

The chances are she has never thought much one way or another about this housewife or personality business.

She happens to be both, and that's just one reason why I am voting her a third term.

Discretion Is Virtue, Says Rita Weiman

By RITA WEIMAN
Written for NEA Service

MORE words than any statistician could estimate have been used to tell the American people what kind of man this coming election must place in the White House.

A few words covering the essential qualities our next First Lady should possess must, I believe, be of equal interest to women voters. Never before in the history of these United States has the wife of a President taken on a more difficult task.

Rita Weiman

As a public person, and equally as a private individual, every move she makes, every word she utters, will be examined through the magnifying glass of criticism.

HER CONDUCT CLOSELY WATCHED

THE First Lady who enters the White House as its mistress in 1941 must fit herself perfectly to the mantle of discretion. Like a prisoner on trial, anything she says may be used against her.

We have a free press. No censor cuts out the sting of rash statements by persons in public life. By the same token, the wife of the President must indulge in no reckless opinions, acts or affiliations. Whatever her temptation, she must never forget that she holds the greatest position of any woman in the world; a position far more important than the individual who occupies it. This requires a mind always on the alert, active every minute to sense when silence is the better part of valor.

Often she will have to hold back comments and opinions which might have unfavorable repercussions. No matter what the provocation, her wit must never turn acid.

She must not lend her name to anti-social movements. However impersonal her interest, such group movements may use the patronage of the wife of the President for purposes of which she cannot possibly have full knowledge.

She must keep in mind the fact that whatever her status socially, politically she is background. This does not imply that she be a negative personality. On the contrary, she must keep informed on all questions of national import. Yet at no time throughout her years as mistress of the White House should she assume a voice in governmental problems unless called upon to do so by some crisis nobody can foresee.

Her charm must be like that of a garden, so that everyone who comes into her presence senses graciousness and fragrance. The thorns should never be more prominent than the roses.

She will have ample opportunity to commercialize her position. But each time she accepts a "job" that pays well, no matter how charitably she may apply this payment, she

EDITH WILLKIE . . . "never out of the picture . . . never conspicuously part of it."

Mrs. Willkie Is Called Well Fitted For Task submits her acts to the columnists and cartoonists, and lampoons can destroy a national figure (when that figure is feminine) with aim as fatal as the most deadly lethal weapon.

A world ridden by fear and lashed by the whip of nervous exhaustion looks to the United States for rescue. The woman who stands at the side of our next President shares that responsibility.

SHE HAS NEVER PUBLICIZED HERSELF

WE cannot definitely state in advance how Mrs. Wendell Willkie would fill the exacting position of mistress of the White House. But judging by past performances, it is a safe guess that Mrs. Willkie possesses the first requisites of a First Lady.

Since her husband's nomination she has never been out of the picture, yet never conspicuously part of it. Content to take her place with dignity, she has made no misstep.

She has a son to whom she is devoted; yet not once throughout Mr. Willkie's tour of the country has she played up the role of mother, even though it might have gained favorable attention and possibly votes. She has vitality; yet does not turn it on in a blaze for publicity purposes. She has charm, grace, taste and good looks, a rare combination dear to the hearts of press agents; she uses none of these to foster interest in herself.

Above all, she has proven that she understands the essential gift of the wife of a man in public life—the value of silence.

Well I thought I had seen everything but take it from me, don't get so presumptuous and figure that there is nothing new under the sun because there's one born every minute.

Saturday, we made our usual stop at the Decorators Studio at 1302 Ave. N, and lo and behold . . . we saw it!

The quite artistic mind with a vocabulary to match could give a word picture of the beautiful table setting that I saw . . . however in my own humble way I'll give you the cold facts.

A beautiful cloth of dusty rose with a harmonizing gold stripe. Hand molded china of realistic colors from Cockcroft with brass and crystal accessories. All harmonizing to make one of the most luxurious table settings that has ever been my pleasure to see.

See you at the polls and be thankful that we live in a country where they tell us where to vote and not how to vote. Yours..."Nosey"

From Lou To Louella

DEAR LOUELLA: There is a certain young woman who seems to be very fond of one of the young Tech professors. In fact she writes us letters about him. Perhaps something will come of it and we will have more to tell you soon, including their names.

Max Rutledge is celebrating his birthday today so maybe he will be one of the honored guests at the Silver Key club open house this afternoon. He is a member of the organization. The club is entertaining with the open house at 2211 Main street from 2:30 to 5:30 o'clock for other social clubs and friends on the Tech campus. This is the first time that their new house has been open for inspection.

Birthday Dope

Last week Harry Shaw had a birthday as did Lutetia Dorenfield. Congratulations to both of you. This week Elton Howard will celebrate his birthday, Nov. 5 and Lela Hayes will have a birthday, Nov. 8.

Miss Frances van Hall, a citizen of Holland, was a most interesting visitor in Lubbock last week. She is a designer and weaving teacher in an exclusive school in Denmark. She is a friend of Princess Julianna of Holland, but was very modest in discussing her. Miss van Hall is traveling in the United States for the government for awhile but wants to return to her home soon.

AT a recent meeting of the Tech Alumni society, newly formed Lubbock chapter, Elizabeth Musick, a student at the college, sang. I have been hearing compliments on the beautiful tone of her voice since then. I hope to hear her sing again sometime.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Clewis of Brownfield visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Moore, here last week.

We are glad to see Nina Scifres back at work after having been confined in Lubbock sanitarium for several days. Also recovering from a cold, is George Musick in the West Texas hospital. He is to be released today or Monday.

Football Togs Costly

Did you know that it costs $90.50 to outfit a Tech Red Raider from helmet to shoes. According to reports the Tech players are among the best dressed teams in the United States.

Two of the girls attending the Texas Association of Home Economics College clubs meeting here last week-end were from distant countries. One girl was a student of Texas State College for Women and she had come from China to the United States when she started to college. She is an American, however, a tall sophisticated girl with long blonde hair. The other girl was a native of Argentina and is a fellowship student at the University of Texas.

WORD has been received that A. J. Thompson, brother of Lubbock's Vernon Thompson, is working for an accounting firm in California. We know of someone who hasn't seen him since last June and she is very anxious that he come home.

Mrs. W. J. Culp and son, Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Logan and W. H. Logan are visiting friends and relatives in Clarendon and Pampa this week-end.

Add Suppressed Desires

One of our greatest temptations is to keep from shooting a paper wad at a woman who has on a hat with a tall feather in the top. Especially when she is sitting out of sight in a drug store booth and the feather keeps waving back and forth over the top of the booth.

Wynona Keller, a student at Tech, was honored Thursday night when her mother, Mrs. John Keller, and Mrs. Wade Winston of Snyder entertained with a surprise dinner-dance in her honor. Wynona was celebrating her birthday.

I OVERHEARD a young man remark, "Wonder if Uncle Sam has called my number?" The young lady with him answered, "Oh does Uncle Sam have your number same as I do?"

Patricia June Lindsey collects autographs. She is proudest of the one from Ted Lewis that she got in New Orleans recently. The well-known orchestra leader dedicated several pieces to her when she and her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest L. Lindsey, were dining in a hotel there.

Jacqueline Davis is attending the Army-Notre Dame football game and the festivities that go with it in New York this week-end. She is the guest of a West Point cadet. The 30th of this month she is to go to Philadelphia to attend the Army-Navy game with the same cadet. Isn't she the most fortunate girl?

Love,
Lou.

Absentee Voting Ends Saturday; Heavy Balloting For Texas Being Forecast

State Support Said Divided

BY GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent

AUSTIN, Nov. 2.—Absentee voting ends today for the general election of next Tuesday when officials from constable to president of the United States will be chosen.

Gauged by the absentee balloting, a heavy total vote is forecast in Texas—possibly between 900,000 and 1,000,000.

Voters in the state are dividing their support between President Roosevelt for a third term and Republican Nominee Wendell L. Willkie. Also tyswilletsahrdluanauaat kie. Communist and Socialist party tickets of presidential electors also will be on the ballot.

Unique Situation

In races for state office an unique situation was presented. Democrats were seeking to defeat the Democratic nominee for state agricultural commissioner because he had taken the stump for the Republican national ticket.

In San Antonio newspapers large advertisements were appearing advising voters that prominent lawyers had ruled that a person who participated in the Democratic primary elections had a right to vote for the Republican presidential electors.

Myron Blalock of Marshall, national Democratic committeeman from Texas said that they were under no obligation to vote for J. E. McDonald, the Democratic nominee who came out for Willkie.

Opposed By Two Others

McDonald is opposed within the Democratic party by W. N. (Bill) Corry of Keller, Tarrant county, who was defeated by McDonald in the Democratic primary, and by Tom Martin of Stonewall, Gillespie county. Both are carrying on a campaign to have voters scratch McDonald's name from the ticket and write in Bill Corry or Tom Martin. While attacking McDonald they have taken digs at each other.

Only candidate for the place whose name will be printed on the ticket besides McDonald, is Orton T. Campbell of Waco. He was nominated on the Communist ticket. Republicans omitted a candidate against McDonald. Socialists and Prohibitionists filed presidential electors.

Republicans have candidates for all state-wide offices except commissioner of agriculture. Communists omitted candidates for the supreme court, court of criminal appeals, state comptroller, state treasurer and state school superintendent.

Most Have Opponents

U. S. Sen. Tom Connally has opponents on both the Republican and Communist tickets. So does Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, Lieut. Gov. Coke R. Stevenson and Attorney General Gerald C. Mann.

Cong. Hatton W. Sumners of Dallas has a Republican opponent as have Cong. Nat Patton of Crockett, Cong. Albert Thomas of Houston, Cong. Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls, Cong. Milton West of Brownsville and Cong. Charles South of Coleman.

Cong. Paul Kilday has a woman opponent running on the Communist ticket. Democratic nominee for Congress Eugene Worley of Shamrock is opposed by Republican John W. Beveridge of Amarillo.

Democratic nominees for the Texas Senate are unopposed.

Independent candidates have announced against the Democratic nominees in two races for the Texas House of Representatives.

C. P. Blumberg of New Braunfels is running as an Independent against Democrat Frank B. Voight in the district made up of Comal and Guadalupe counties. J. B. Weiser of Fredericksburg, Independent, is opposing Democrat L. L. Bruhl of Llano and Gillespie counties.

Four Amendments Up

In addition to voting on candidates for office, Texans will ballot Tuesday on four proposed changes in the state constitution. One would permit Red river county to increase its tax levy to meet some obligations but only after the proposal has been approved by a majority vote in the county.

The other amendments are of state-wide effect. One would transfer appointment of notaries public from the governor to the secretary of state; one would authorize municipal civil service, and the other would permit the legislature to provide for direct appeals to the state supreme court in injunction cases where validity of a state law is involved or validity of an order of a state agency.

Church Notes

GOING TO MISSOURI

When the Northwest Texas Methodist conference meets in Pampa Nov. 15-20, it will mark the close of service for a former Lubbock minister, Rev. Edgar E. White, now of Plainview, in the conference. He has been appointed pastor of St. Paul Methodist church, Springfield, Mo. The church has a membership of approximately 2,000 and the town has a population of 70,000. Rev. Mr. White is completing four years in the Plainview district. His successor is to be named at the Pampa conference.

TO DEDICATE CHURCH

Dedication of the new Sparenberg Lutheran church is to be held today there with three services, Rev. Elmer Klenk, pastor, announces. Dedication services will be in both English and German, with Rev. H. C. Gaertner of Malone conducting the German service and Rev. P. J. Klenk, Olney, for the English service. An afternoon service will be held at 3 o'clock. The contractor has been W. H. Huse, of Lamesa.

BRICK SAID RECEIVED

All of the brick for the new Littlefield Methodist church has been received and arrival of tile is being awaited before construction is begun. The foundation has been poured for several years. Cost of the building is estimated at approximately $17,000.

Religious Census To Be Completed Today

Volunteer workers from local churches today are to complete a religious census, started last Sunday, said Rev. Cecil R. Matthews, member of the committee from the ministerial association, and reports are to be made at a committee meeting Monday afternoon in First Methodist church.

Leo R. White is chairman of the association committee in charge. Cooperating churches furnished volunteer workers, many of them Texas Technological college students. A number of districts was not gone over thoroughly and the committee hopes to get the task completed today.

Hour of Monday's meeting is 4 o'clock. All cooperating churches are asked to be represented and to present a final report, if possible.

Field Worker Aids Church In Lubbock

Miss Charlotte Tompkins of New York, field worker in the department of Christian education for the Episcopal church, is in Lubbock to help St. Paul's on the Plains church become a cooperating educational center for that department, Rev. John A. Winslow, rector, said Saturday.

Miss Tompkins has been in Lubbock for several days holding conferences with various groups in connection with the project. She will be honored at a tea from 4 to 6 o'clock this afternoon in the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Canon, 2613 Nineteenth street.

The local committee in charge of the development of the center is made up of Rev. Winslow, Dr. Clifford B. Jones, J. I. Kilpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Svensen, Mrs. Winslow, Mrs. R. J. Allen, Dean Margaret W. Weeks and Miss Bonnie K. Dysart.

Abundance Of Apples On Market Inspires Cook's Ingenuity In Preparation Of Recipes; Preservation Suggested

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 2 — (Special)—Abundance of apples on the nation's markets has resulted in their designation as a surplus agricultural commodity, according to an announcement by the Surplus Marketing administration.

With such low prices, homemakers can secure quantities of apples to supplement their pantry shelves, and since each box or basket has a grade label on it, they can buy exactly the grade they need.

It's nice to eat apples just so, but if there are plenty available, it's equally nice to can them, make applesauce or apple jelly, says Grace I. Neely, specialist in food preservation for the A. and M. College Extension Service. Here are her suggested recipes.

APPLE JELLY

Fall apples are best for jelly. They contain more pectin and the tart varieties supply the needed acid.

Wash the fruit and cut out all blemishes or undesirable portions and slice, retaining skins and core. For each pound of fruit (about 1 pint), add one cup of water. Boil 20 minutes to extract pectin from the fruit. It is best not to use more than 8 pounds of fruit at one time. Four pounds will make a clearer jelly. Pour the hot cooked juice into a jelly bag. Let the fruit drip. When the dripping has almost ceased, press the jelly bag to obtain all of the juice. Re-strain through clean canton flannel bag that has been wrung from hot water.

Measure the juice, test for pectin to determine amount of sugar to be used or add 3-4 cup of sugar to each cup of juice. Boil rapidly until the juice "sheets" from the side of the spoon. Pour into hot clean jelly glasses. As soon as the jelly is firm and well set, clean the inside edge of the glass before adding a thin layer of melted paraffin.

TO CAN APPLES

Wash the apples to remove any spray residue and dust. Peel, core and quarter. The quartered pieces are placed immediately into a solution of two tablespoons salt and two tablespoons of vinegar to one gallon of water, to prevent oxidation and subsequent darkening.

It is best to pack fruit into the container, add syrup of the desired sweetness, and exhaust 5 to 8 minutes in the water bath according to firmness of fruit, taking care to use a lid to keep the steam in water bath. Fill containers, seal quickly and process ten minutes in water bath. Cool quickly and store in a cool well ventilated room.

APPLE SAUCE

Prepare the fruit as for canning. Cook with just enough water to prevent sticking in a covered kettle. Stir only to prevent scorching.

Crush or run apples through a sieve. Sweeten to taste and reheat in covered kettle to boiling point. Fill containers with boiling sauce, seal and process 5 minutes in water bath. Cool quickly and store as for canned apples.

APPLE BUTTER

Good cooking apples with tart flavor make the best apple butter. Wash, peel and slice, and cut out undesirable portions. Cover with cider, and cook until tender. Press through a sieve as for apple sauce. Sweeten to taste and cook down to desired thickness. Spices may be added if desired. To one gallon of pulp add 1-2 teaspoon ground cloves, 1-2 teaspoon ground cinnamon, and 1-2 teaspoon ground allspice, a short time before removing from fire.

If less than 2-3 of a cup of sugar to 1 cup of pulp has been used it will be necessary to process in the water bath ten minutes.

If cider is not available water can be substituted.

Brenda Marshall Is "America's Honey"

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 2. (UP) — Brenda Marshall, rising young film star, was voted "America's honey" today by the California Bee Keepers association.

President W. Leroy Bell and Chairman William J. Fox, of the association, announced that Miss Marshall, a Warner brothers player, had been chosen because she "represents sweetness combined with modern beauty."

The actress sent her regards to the association and invited its 500 members to a preview of her latest picture.

WELL LIGHTED

In one year, the United States uses nearly 1,000,000,000 electric lamps of all sizes, or as many as all the rest of the combined world uses.

German Expedition Is Said Captured

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (AP)—A German-language broadcast by the British Broadcasting corporation today said a German expedition of 50 men had been captured in an unsuccessful attempt to seize the meteorological observation station at Greenland. The Norwegian patrol boat Fritjof Nansen made them prisoners, it said.

The broadcast was heard by CBS in New York.

New Type Of Feeding Experiment Planned At Tech; Field Stubble To Be Used

May Aid Solving Farmers' Needs

By J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

A new type of feeding experiment, designed to assist farmers in working on problems of long-time cattle feeding, will be conducted at Texas Technological college, beginning this month and closing with the Southwestern Fat Stock show in Fort Worth in the spring of 1942, W. L. Stangel, head of the animal husbandry department of the college, said in announcing 20 calves would go on feed soon.

The calves will be "roughed in" this winter, feeding on grain sorghum stubble, supplemented with cottonseed cake and possibly some winter oats pasture, later in the winter or early spring.

To Be Grazed On Sudan

In the spring, when sudan pasture is available, the animals will be grazed as long as the crop is satisfactory.

During the early fall the animals will be full-fed, with a fattening ration designed to fill them out as economically as possible.

"We will sell these animals as fat steers, in the spring of 1942, in Fort Worth," Stangel said.

"It is our hope to make this as practical as possible for the farmer, so he may know how to utilize the stubble in his fields. We are going to keep records on what we do, so we can tell what to expect."

To Be For Class Instructions

Besides experimental work, the feeding will be used for class instructions, Stangel explained. As feeder calves, animal husbandry students will study them for class work. Later in the year they will be used in other class work and in the 1941-42 year will be used for judging of fat steers.

As usual the 50 head of fat steers for experimental feeding work will be put on feed this month. These are to be in five groups, as in other years, with a field day to mark the close of the period, and the animals sent to Fort Worth for sale and records on dressing out percentage.

More Sheep To Be Fed

One hundred head of grade ewes, also will be fed out in an experiment. These ewes, bred when secured, are now dropping lambs and the lambs will be fed until spring and sold for spring milk-fed lambs.

Both ewes and lambs will be marketed together, it is planned.

Students in animal husbandry will use the feeding operations for study of practical farm methods of feeding, Stangel pointed out.

Last spring, at the close of a 180-day period of feeding, a huge field day was staged at the college, attended by many interested farmers, stock farmers and feeders. Attendance exceeded the expectations of animal husbandry and college officials and also the many requests for a similar occasion at the close of another feeding schedule.

Wheat Loan Has Certain Rules

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 2 — A loan has not been offered on the 1941 wheat crop, but—

The wheat farmer who is deciding how much acreage to plant this fall should study the eligibility rules for obtaining a loan in 1941 if one is offered.

A producer's share of the wheat produced on a farm will be eligible for the loan only if a 1941 parity payment can be made with respect to that share of the wheat in accordance with the eligibility provisions of the 1941 parity payment regulations, E. N. Holmgreen, state AAA administrator, said in a statement issued from AAA headquarters.

Which all means that wheat produced will be eligible for a loan if none of the following provisions are violated:

(1) The acreage planted to wheat on the farm is not in excess of the wheat acreage allotment for the farm.

(2) The sum of the acreage of wheat and cotton for the farm does not exceed the sum of the allotments or permitted acreages for such crops under the 1941 program.

(3) The producer's aggregate share of the 1941 acreage of wheat and cotton on all farms in the county does not exceed his aggregate share of the allotments or permitted acreages for such crops under the 1941 program on such farms.

Aggregate Share Covered

(4) The producer's aggregate share of the 1941 acreage of wheat, cotton, corn, rice and tobacco on all farms in which he has an interest, herever situated does not exceed his aggregate share of the allotment or permitted acreage for such commodity under the 1941 program for such farms to such an extent as to offset substantially the performance on the farm with respect to which the loan might otherwise be made.

Eligibility for parity payments will be determined early in 1941, the administrator said, and, since those eligible for parity payments will be eligible for loans, only one determination of eligibility need be made.

The announcement of these eligibility rules does not in any way constitute an announcement of a loan on the 1941 crop, Holmgreen pointed out. The statement was issued as a protective measure for the producers so that they might plan their farming operations in order to be eligible for a loan if one is offered.

soil and water conservation program. He says he doesn't think he will even set a price on this place if it responds as well to soil and water conservation treatments as the other farm did.

Selling A Farm Is Just Like Selling Used Car, Fort Worth Man Discovers; Farm Near Ackerly Terraced And Brings Good Price

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

LAMESA, Nov. 2 Selling a farm is just like selling a second hand automobile, according to A. J. Thweatt, 3529 W. Seventh street, Fort Worth. In order to get the best price for a used car, it should be given a new paint job and have the upholstering and other things repaired. The same thing applies to a farm. "If it is to have its highest market value, it must be improved," he stated.

Thweatt had owned a 160-acre farm two miles north of Ackerly for ten years. He didn't like its location and wanted to sell, but couldn't find a buyer. There had been drouths and crops had been poor for many years. Several tenant farmers had starved out trying to make a living on the place. He decided that if he couldn't sell the place he would improve it. He installed a soil and water conservation program in an effort to make the farm yield larger crops.

Entered Into Agreement

In the spring of 1938 Thweatt entered into an agreement with the soil conservation CCC camp at Lamesa. They cooperatively terraced the place and put into effect a complete soil and water conservation program. The terraces were constructed on all the cultivated land that year, the crops were planted on the contour in a strip crop pattern, and a yearly rotation of sorghum and cotton crops was adopted.

Soil erosion had robbed the land of a part of the topsoil, but there was still a lot of good soil left on the land. The prineipal trouble was that the soil was very tight and water soaked into it slowly; hence, during drouth years the land didn't have enough soil moisture to make good crop yields.

Wasn't Eager To Sell

During the first two years after the terraces were built and the contour strip rotation was used the yields increased 500 per cent, according to Thweatt. He said, "More crops were produced on the farm during those two years than in the 10 years preceding that."

He wasn't very eager to sell the place after these good crops, but some one offered him his price so he let it go late in 1939. Thweatt has another farm in Dawson county which the Lamesa CCC camp is helping him fix up with a complete

Camera Visits With Lubbockites - - G. N. Atkinson, Pioneer Teacher . . .

G. N. Atkinson, pioneer Lubbock teacher, at his desk in the book room of Lubbock Senior High school.

Mrs. Atkinson, their daughter, Lottie Margaret, center, and Atkinson at their home, 2201 Fourteenth street.

Lubbock Book Custodian Has Been In Teaching Profession 42 Years, 31 Years In City

THIRTY-ONE years ago this fall he came to Lubbock to take a job as teacher in the Lubbock Public schools.

In those thirty-one years he has been a teacher in the Lubbock system and holds the distinction of being the oldest teacher in the schools from point of service.

He is G. N. Atkinson, textbook custodian of the schools, who has taught more than 4,000 students directly and is known to thousands more who have been in the schools. He is teaching the second generation of Lubbock today.

Honored By Association

In the February issue of "The Southern Association Journal," publication of Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, Prof. Atkinson's name was listed as one of the "Builders of the Southern Association," and his photo among a list of those who had served in some member college or secondary school for as many as 25 years. This listing was not only a distinction for Mr. Atkinson but for the Lubbock City schools as well, as only three other Texas public schools were included in the list.

George Newton Atkinson has been in the teaching profession 42 years. He was born in Burnet, Burnet county, April 19, 1875, one of nine children of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Atkinson. His father was a blacksmith but when the boys began growing up, he moved to a farm near Burnet and there the family lived until the boys were 21 years of age.

Started Teaching In 1898

George N. Atkinson received his schooling in the Burnet schools and upon graduation in 1898, he received a first grade teacher's certificate and that fall started teaching in the rural schools of Burnet county. He studied in the University of Texas during summer sessions and continued his teaching.

He taught in the rural schools of Mills county and San Saba county before returning to high school work in Burnet. Later he taught in the Santa Anna High school and in 1909 came to Lubbock.

When Mr. Atkinson came to Lubbock, the city school system consisted of an eight-room frame building in the northwest section of Lubbock. It was known as the "white building" and a little later was moved to the site of Central Ward where the present Central Ward building had been constructed. Two small shacks were built for grade school work near the building where it stood in northwest Lubbock.

The system had ten teachers and about 400 students. Mr. Atkinson recalls today.

There's a gleam in his eye as he recalls some of those "hectic days" of early Lubbock and the trials and tribulations of its school system. He says he recognizes many of the traits of his former pupils in their children who are in school today. With a slight smile on his lips, he'll tell you of students who "were advised by their parents to get in my classes or not to get in them" by their parents who were his former students.

During the first three years in Lubbock he taught history and government in high school. Following this period, he was teacher of English and high school principal for fourteen years.

Upon the death of Supt. M. M. Dupre in February, 1925, he became acting superintendent of the Lubbock schools and held that post until July of that year. In September, 1926, he was relieved of his duties as principal and was appointed textbook custodian as well as teacher of English. For the past five years he has taught high school mathematics besides continuing his work as custodian of books for the entire system. He is at present teaching one class in history.

Served In Many Capacities

"G.N.", as he was affectionately known in his early days in Lubbock by his students, has served in many different capacities in the history of the school system. In his early years of service, he was director and sponsor of various literary activities and often acted as an official in athletic and other interscholastic events not only here but in other schools of the area.

He has seen the schools expand from a small town system with ten teachers and one small building into the present metropolitan system with its many buildings and a faculty of more than 200 today.

He no doubt feels a great deal of joy in the realization that he has had an active part in the expansion and development of the Lubbock schools. In this year's Westerner, the Senior high annual, he was honored with the dedication of the book.

In 1920, Miss Margaret Jane Brashears came to Lubbock as manual training instructor and three years later on June 20, 1923, at Denton, she and Mr. Atkinson were married. Mrs. Atkinson is a member of the Texas Tech faculty. They have a daughter, Lottie Margaret, 14, who is recovering from a serious automobile accident of last summer. The family resides at 2201 Fourteenth street.

G. N. Atkinson is a member of the Texas State Teachers' association, the National Education association and the West Texas Teachers' association. He was formerly active in Knights of Pythias and Odd Fellows lodges. His main hobby is camping and fishing, but he seldom ever takes the time for it.

Seven members of his immediate family are still living. They are: two brothers, W. B. Atkinson of Brown county, Frank Atkinson, county clerk of Burnet county for 20 years; and five sisters, Mrs. Frank Bolt of Burnet, Mrs. Lewis Jones of Corpus Christi, Mrs. J. F. Wilson of McAllen, Miss Bertha Atkinson of Corpus Christi and Mrs. John Pogue of Burnet.

One out of every 10.5 persons in West Virginia has a fishing license.

Did you buy YOUR car on "Millinery"?

YOU hear it said often nowadays that it's millinery that sells automobiles.

All right—let's put it up to one who knows. Did you buy your car on nick-nacks, trick devices, novelties?

We don't think so.

We believe that while considering style, and room, and comfort—you really picked your car on what it would do on the road!

Now, we take our hats off to no car for being smarter-looking than Buick. We'll match our product against any for room, appointments, fine finish, comfort.

But beyond all that, we challenge the whole field to equal Buick on its all-round performance ability.

On its power—on its pull—on its pick-up—on its easy handling (including freedom from shifting)—yes, and on its thrift.

Nowhere will you find a car that does so much so well and so frugally.

You'll find novelties in the new Buicks of course, but they're not the chief attraction. Instead you'll see the two big basic engineering developments of the year—FIREBALL design and Compound Carburetion.

They give you an automobile that packs a real thrill—better come in and learn more about it.

BUICK PRICES BEGIN AT $935 for the Business Coupe delivered at Flint, Mich. State tax, optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

Honolulu Votes Tuesday On Plan To Join As Forty Ninth State

BY EUGENE BURNS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HONOLULU, Nov. 2—Just when Japanese-American relations have approached a crucial stage, the people of Hawaii will vote in a plebiscite November 5 to decide whether they favor statehood for the territory.

Statehood would confer full civic rights on many of Hawaii's 156,000 Japanese, who constitute more than one-third of the territory's population of 412,000. Likewise it would grant these rights to many Chinese, Filipinos, Koreans and others of Alien ancestry.

Caucasians Outnumbered

Territorial figures show that among the 83,312 registered voters there are 26,927 Caucasians; 23,777 Japanese; 7,160 Chinese; 3,192 Koreans, besides 22,256 Hawaiians or part Hawaiians. The Caucasian voters thus are definitely outnumbered.

Opponents of statehood do not emphasize the racial side of the issue but they contend that if statehood were granted and the Asiatic elements voted in a bloc it would be possible for them to elect Orientals to the United States Congress, to the governorship and to other high offices of this proposed forty-ninth state.

Loyalty Unquestionable

And since Hawaii is America's defense stronghold in the Pacific, embracing one of the world's greatest concentrations of military and naval power, the opponents argue that the territorial authority should not be turned over to a populace with an Asiatic majority.

Against this position, supporters of statehood, embracing all political parties and all racial groups, assert that the loyalty of Hawaii's Japanese to the United States is unquestionable. Of the 156,000 Japanese, all but 22,000 have specifically registered themselves with the Japanese consulate as Americans by choice.

No Legal Weight

Regardless of the plebiscite's outcome, it will constitute no legal mandate. It simply will express the will of a people living under American rule but not entitled to a voice in the federal government.

Hawaiian voters now elect territorial legislators and minor territorial and local administrative officials, but cannot ballot for president of the United States or for senator or representative. Their governor and their highest judges are appointed by the president. In the house of representatives they have a delegate who may speak but cannot vote. Congress can revoke the acts of their territorial legislature.

Escape Tunnel Found On State Prison Farm

HUNTSVILLE, Nov. 2 (AP) — Captain R. H. Baugh of the Wynne prison farm near here said last night a 45-foot tunnel leading beyond the prison fence had been uncovered by a guard.

Seventy-two physically disabled convicts, who had dug the tunnel and stored the dirt in the attic of a tubercular ward, had hoped to escape through the underground passage, Baugh said.

A guard stumbled on the tunnel when it caved in as he investigated a hole in the ground the convicts had dug to get their bearings.

The captain said the convicts, who obviously had been working for days, had spread blankets in the tubercular ward attic to keep dirt from sifting to the floor.

Several convicts were questioned in the escape attempt.

P. S. Bailey Appointed Engineer At Childress

AUSTIN, Nov. 2. (U.P.)—P. S. Bailey who has been assistant district engineer for the Texas Highway department at Amarillo on Nov. 6 will become district engineer for the department succeeding G. A. Bracher at Childress.

Bracher has resigned to give his time to private business, after 28 years of work on roads in Texas. Bailey, a graduate of A. & M. college has been with the department since August, 1924.

The department announced also appointment of D. T. Harkrider as director of its insurance division.

HARVEST ROW CROPS

TULIA—Farmers in this section of Swisher county report row crops are being harvested and that bundles, because of dry conditions, are mostly stalks and leaves and short on grain. Some sheep are on feed now and more sheep and cattle will be placed on feed as soon as wheat pasture is available. Feeder cattle have been shipped to the east for full-feeding.

START PEANUT HARVEST

POST—Harvesting of several hundred acres of peanuts is under way here. Because the peanuts are green, no shipments have been made. Producers will let the crops mature before shipping.

SEE GRAIN SHIPMENTS

LITTLEFIELD — With farmers harvesting a good grain sorghum crop in Lamb county, prospects are good for the shipment of between 100 to 150 cars or more of heads, out of this section. This will be in addition to the grain harvested for feeding to cattle and sheep.

Flynn Said Attempting To Get Prohibitionists On N.Y. State Ballot

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP) — John Burke, New York county Republican, told the Senate campaign investigating committee today that Edward J. Flynn, chairman of the Democratic national committee, had been active in trying to get the Prohibition party on the New York state ballot and the Communist party removed.

Burke, president of the New York County chapter of the National Republican Builders, Inc., testified that both moves were aimed at reducing the votes in New York for Wendell L. Willkie and other Republican candidates.

The committee hearing then turned to conflicting testimony from half a dozen witnesses about alleged political activities of life insurance companies, officials and employees.

Herman A. Bayern, New York insurance broker, presented a lengthy series of what he termed exhibits which he said proved that there was organized propaganda "for the direct purpose of alarming 64,000,000 life insurance policy holders" and influencing them to vote for Willkie.

COTTON IS HARVESTED

SOUTHLAND—Farmers here estimate that at least half of the cotton crop has been harvested. The feed crop is mostly gathered.

Soil Elections Dates Changed

Change of date for a series of 21 soil conservation district elections in Texas to Dec. 14, from a previously set date of Dec. 7, has been announced by the state soil conservation board and five South Plains counties are included in the series.

C. C. Jobson, county farm agent, has been advised of the change of date for Lubbock county. W. O. Perkins, who was selected to conduct the election as superintendent, is being advised.

Other Elections Scheduled

Other counties where elections will be held include Bailey, Crosby, Garza and Swisher. In addition, Hall and Childress counties, in the area in which O. T. Williams of Lubbock, area conservationist for the federal Soil Conservation Service has charge, will hold elections.

Garza farmers are to vote on inclusion in the Duck Creek district, which includes most of Dickens county and parts of Kent and Stonewall. Some work has already been done in this district and an office has been established at Spur.

Scurry and Borden counties are in another of the 21 districts, known as the Upper Colorado district. They are to be joined for conservation purposes into one grouping. Both are in the upper Colorado watershed.

Castro Not Included

Two other Northwest Texas districts are the Miller-Brazos district, formerly known as the Baylor-Throckmorton district, composed of those two counties and the Wichita-Brazos district, formerly the Knox-Haskell district.

Castro county, according to Williams, had been included in a first list when it was believed an election would be held in October. Later the state board discovered that the county had at one time voted a wind erosion district. Under the law, a county once having voted for a wind erosion district, cannot have also the soil conservation district, said Williams.

Farmers Desire Districts

Hearings have been held in all of these counties on the matter of formation of a soil conservation district and at these hearings evidence has shown such a desire by farm owners.

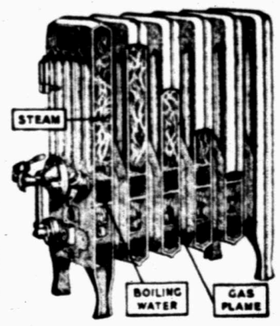

Owners of farms within the district are entitled to vote, but tenants are not. Owners of farms who reside without the proposed district also cannot vote in the election.

Change of date was made by the state board to avoid any possible conflict with the cotton referendum to be held Dec. 7 at which cotton producers are to vote on whether or not to continue the program next year. It was felt that by holding the two elections on the same date, confusion might arise.

Colorful Premiere Will Be Staged Here Thursday For Opening Of New Lindsey

Gala Occasion Being Planned

LUBBOCK will "go Hollywood" for a night Thursday when the city's "Theater Row" formally presents its newest and most imposing addition, the New Lindsey.

A colorful program has been planned for the occasion of the big premiere, according to Arlie Crites, manager of Lindsey Theaters, Inc. There'll be something of interest for everyone, whether they are able to attend the show or not.

Doors Open At 6

Doors of the ultra modern new structure will open at 6 o'clock and the first screen program of the night will start an hour later.

Prior to the events scheduled inside, Lubbock's high school Westerner band will play in front of the theater, starting at 6:30. Streets in all four directions will be roped off to accommodate the many hundreds who are expected and entertainment will be presented continuously in front of the building from 6:30 until 10 o'clock.

Arrangements have been made with radio station KFYO for broadcasting of the premiere program. Events outside the theater have not been completed but among those scheduled to appear are Wiley and Gene of the KFYO staff, the Westerner band, a local orchestra, and other talented entertainers.

Huge Lights On Hand

To lend added color, Lindsey officials have obtained a battery of 5,000-watt flood lights to surround the theater and the entire front will be flooded. Color shields on the mammoth lights will be used for the first time in Lubbock.

Manager Crites explained that members of the audience inside the theater are to take part on the radio broadcast between 7 and 7:15 o'clock. The theater has been equipped with radio plugs and outlets throughout and broadcasts can be staged from any section of the building.

The formal dedication program is scheduled between 9:15 and 9:30. At that time a master of ceremonies, yet to be named, will introduce guests of honor from the stage.

Many Visitors Expected

Theater owners and others directly connected with the movie industry are expected to arrive in Lubbock Thursday and they will be guests of the Lindsey firm at a banquet in Hilton hotel at 6 o'clock. More than 200 are expected here for the banquet and subsequent formal opening program.

A large group of Griffith Amusement company officials also will be present. Included will be L. C. Griffith, B. J. McKenna and C. B. Akers of Oklahoma City; R. E. Griffith, Lynn Stocker and R. I. Payne of Dallas, and H. J. Griffith of Kansas City, Mo.

"The Mark Of Zorro"

The screen program for the opening night will be "The Mark Of Zorro," starring Tyrone Power and Linda Darnell. A new release of "The March Of Time" also will be featured.

Power's role in the picture as Don Diego Vega, best swordsman in all Madrid, will be remembered as the one taken by the late Douglas Fairbanks in 1920. Don Diego returns home to Los Angeles in the production, ousts a tyrant and restores his father as mayor.

Miss Darnell appears as the niece of the incumbent mayor's wife.

The boy's father is interpreted by Montagu Love, the tyrannical mayor by J. Edward Bromberg, the latter's aide by Basil Rathbone.

Gale Sondergaard is seen as the vain and supercilious wife of the mayor, while Eugene Pallette portrays a two-fisted priest to whom the boy confides his dual role.

While acting the fop at home, he is showing the contempt of the people for their mayor by making his famous mark "Z" on whatever the former has done in the countryside, and eventually drives him back to Spain.

Here are Tyrone Power and Basil Rathbone in an exciting scene from "The Mark Of Zorro," which opens at the premiere of the New Lindsey Thursday.

Ann Sheridan and James Cagney in "City For Conquest," now showing at the Palace.

HEADS GARZA TEACHERS

POST—O. G. Lewis, Graham school principal, heads the Garza county teachers association, succeeding W. A. Smith, superintendent at Southland Hayes Holman, Post, was named first vice president; Roy Morris, Southland, second vice president; Miss Margarette Williams, Post, secretary and Miss Vernene Franks, Southland, treasurer.

RESTRICTED

Blackstone's Commentaries, Book III, Chapter XXIII, states that "the jury," after the proofs are summed up, withdraw to consider their verdict, and to avoid causeless delay, are to be kept without meat, drink, fire or candle till they are unanimously agreed."

Grand Jury Will Be Impaneled Monday

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 2 (Special)—The price of cotton, by long established custom, is based on two factors: grade and staple.

Actually a third factor is taken into consideration, that of 'character' or spinning quality. This, according to M. C. Jaynes, specialist in cotton work with the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, takes into consideration such factors as ability to take and retain dyes, staple strength and stretch staple diameter, 'twist', and cellulose structure.

One aim of the marketing program currently being carried on by the U. S. Department of Agriculture Surplus Marketing Administration and the Extension Service is to find just what spinners want in cotton and to make this information available to farmers and cotton breeders.

The SMA is at present buying cotton at several centers of quality cotton areas, including Dallas, Paris, Floydada and Munday. Around 6,000 bales will be bought at each point if enough quality cotton is available.

The cotton will be subject to certain practices, such as press-box sampling, official classification of the cotton, and that the bales be completely covered with an approved bagging and be undamaged at the compress. It is handled through the usual channels of trade.

CROP WELL GATHERED

IDALOU—An estimated 70 per cent of the cotton in eastern Lubbock county has been gathered, it is said by farmers here. Ginnings have passed the 2000-bale mark. Harvesting of feed is nearing an end.

Palace Offers Strong Drama

A study of New York life in terms of action and ambition, failure and faith, despair, determination, right, wrong and in-between promises entertainment to the fullest in the top attraction at the Palace theater this week, "City For Conquest."

The screen play starts a number of tenement children on their way up from the gutter, takes them to the heights and brings all but one of them back again.

Cagney Turns Boxer

James Cagney plays a truck driver who turns boxer to win a fame he thinks will bring his sweetheart back to him and, blinded, ends up selling papers.

Ann Sheridan plays the girl, whose ambition to see her name in lights as a dancer takes her from him and who returns after descent to burlesque to join him at him newsstand.

Arthur Kennedy, as his brother, whose education in music he finances at a sacrifice to himself, is in the finale the one among the several who secures his hold on fame.

Frank Craven portrays a tramp given to philosophy and soliloquy who wanders into and out of the story, uttering observations about New York which the other characters proceed to substantiate.

"Lost Horizon" At Tower

An ever-absorbing tale, "Lost Horizon," returns to Lubbock today, starring Ronald Colman at the Tower.

Scenically and photographically the picture is a triumph. Colman is the ideal choice for Robert Conway, the empire-builder who longs for peace and quiet.

John Howard is equally effective as his impetuous brother. Just the right spicing of comedy is provided by Edward Everett Horton and Thomas Mitchell who is a deposed utilities tycoon and a fugitive from justice.

Beauty And Romance

Others of the fine cast include Sam Jaffe and H. B. Warner.

"The Dead End Kids On Dress Parade" opens a run today at the Texan.

In this picture, the famous bunch of screen toughs do a complete turnabout and become model American youths in a modern American military academy.

Still the scrap-happy hooligans, however, Leo Gorcey leads the Kids, this time as a city slicker who comes to military school to show the cadets a thing or two.

How Gorcey gets a little discipline himself by the other Dead Enders, Billy Halop, Gabriel Dell, Huntz Hall, Bobby Jordan and Bernard Punsley, forms the basis of the lively film of life in a boys' military academy.

Featured in addition to the Kids will be John Litel, Frankie Thomas and Cissie Loftus.

Sparkling Dance Tunes

Sparkling new dance tunes and refreshing comedy are intermingled for entertainment in the picture, "That's Right, You're Wrong," co-starring Kay Kyser and Adolphe Menjou, now showing at the Cactus.

The comedy revolves around the efforts of a Hollywood studio to make a picture starring Kyser. The batonist's contract provides a handsome payment, but story difficulties soon lead Menjou, as an executive, to decide not to produce the film.

However, unless Kyser can be induced to tear up the contract himself, the studio will have to pay him in full. Menjou tries every trick at his command to discourage the band leader, but is repulsed by a new bag of tricks introduced by Kyser with mirth-packed results.

Besides the noted soloists with the band, Ginny Simms, Harry Babbitt, Sully Mason and Ish Kabibble, the cast includes such film favorites as May Robson, Lucille Ball, Dennis O'Keefe, Edward Everett Horton, Roscoe Karns and Moroni Olsen.

Edward Waller, Wallace Beery and Douglas Fowley will be seen in "20 Mule Team," opening today at the Lyric.

Moguls Think Actors Will Not Be Called For Army Training

BY PAUL HARRISON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 2.—Short takes: Heads of the picture business believe, apparently on the strength of private assurances, that the draft won't catch any important actors or technicians. It's believed movies will be declared an essential industry, and that in the event of war Hollywood films will be considered all the more essential as morale builders and propaganda vehicles.

And this time, too, it's likely that players will be protected from the slacker stigma which hurt some of them in '17 and '18. The government may specifically order actors to keep on acting, cameramen, scenarists, directors to remain at their regular jobs.

The best thing the government could do for my morale, though, would be to assign all the Hollywood composers to writing a new tune for "God Bless America."

BOTH leading ladies in "Citizen Kane"—Dorothy Comingore (Mrs. Richard Collins) and Ruth Warrick (Mrs. Erik Rolf)—are expecting babies. Orson Welles calls his company the Stork Club . . . Wonder if we'll see this double billing: "Brigham Young—Too Many Girls."

Didn't Ask Enough

AFTER two sneak previews at which audiences laughed at the overdone melodrama, the Norma Shearer starrer, "Escape," has been extensively refilmed and is ready for the screen . . . John Wayne offered to play opposite Marlene Dietrich in "Seven Sinners" for $25,000. But he was put on weekly salary and production has lasted so long he's now getting out with $50,000.

GROVER JONES, the writer, died last month, but his name will be appearing in the credit titles of six new pictures for more than a year . . . Ann Sheridan gets a title role in "Strawberry Blonde," which is a new name for that old vehicle, "One Sunday Afternoon." Jimmy Cagney stars . . . Although you may not have guessed it from his pictures, Lionel Barrymore has gone about on crutches for nearly two years. He tossed 'em away the other day, and is using a cane.

BUSINESS - as - usual - during alterations note: Judy Garland finally lost those tonsils. And Clark Gable has had two more teeth yanked.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN and Paulette Goddard will break into headlines soon, and I don't mean in stories about "The Dictator" . . . . Here's a rare sort of item for a Hollywood column: The Alan Hales celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary . . . Judy Garland, who has been getting $500 a week, has a nice new contract: starts at $2,000, goes to $2,500 during the fourth and fifth years, jumps to $3000 a week during the sixth and seventh years.

Expensive Bridge

HOW to be a movie executive: Alexander Korda went out to see a "Lady Hamilton" set spectacularly lit with 2200 candles. He didn't like the shape of the candles; ordered tapers. They got 'em, and shooting began three hours later.

WHEN a new director has made a couple of good pictures cheaply, Hollywood tries to reward him by trotting out big stars and big appropriations. Preston Sturges gets Barbara Stanwyck and Henry Fonda for "Lady Eve," and her salary alone exceeds the combined cast costs for "The Great McGinty" and "Christmas in July" . . . . "Brooklyn Bridge" may cost more to film than it did to build.

* * *

BOB BURNS is leaving Paramount, and pretty soon he'll be the Judge Priest of screen and radio. Irvin Cobb has sold the rights to his famous stories, which will be used in a series of pictures and an air show for Burns. The Arkansas relatives are going to feel mighty bad about this.

POST BAND DIRECTOR

POST—L. H. Snively has arrived here from Colorado City to become band director of Post High school. He is a Texas Technological college graduate and will also teach seventh grande social science. Snively has been at Colorado City three years.

Winsome Gloria Jean Sings Again In Broadway's Film

GLORIA JEAN, the winsome little star of "The Under-Pup", gives another outstanding performance in Universal's "A Little Bit of Heaven," which opens today at the Broadway theater.

Gloria gives further evidence that she will soon rank among the foremost stars of the screen, if she has not already attained that position.

Fight Over Success

She gives a compelling performance as an East Side girl who sings on a sidewalk broadcast, becomes a famous radio star, and finds her family fighting as a result of her success.

The 12-year-old's singing voice is remarkably displayed in five numbers, three of them popular songs.

Story of the picture concerns Gloria's family, of the "brownstone front" district. That family, as lovable and funny a clan as has ever been assembled includes Hugh Herbert as "Pop"; C. Aubrey Smith as "Grandpa"; Nan Grey as the older sister, "Janet"; and Frank Jenks as "Uncle Dan." All deliver winning portrayals.

Romance Is Provided

Robert Stack and Stuart Erwin are effective as a radio team that "discovers" Gloria and places her on the air. Stack also provides romantic interest for Miss Grey.

Eugene Pallette is hilarious as a radio executive who first blocks Gloria's radio plans, as are Billy Gilbert and Butch and Buddy, teamed successfully for the third time.

Tommy Bond plays the part of Gloria's boy friend and Alex D'Arcy is a society playboy.

Chief surprise is furnished by eight ex-stars who portray Gloria's many uniformed uncles, and all of whom score hits.

"20 Mule Team", now showing at the Lyric theater, combines all the action and thrills of the best westerns with the picturesque background of Death Valley to emerge as one of the most thoroughly entertaining pictures of the year.

The picture presents Wallace Beery in his element as Muleskinner Bill Bragg, his most colorful characterization since "Viva Villa!"

As his Indian "swamper," Piute Pete, Leo Carrillo scores outstandingly, while Marjorie Rambeau proves to be a surefire feminine teammate for Beery as saloon-owner Josie Johnson.

Junior heart interest is developed through Noah Beery, jr., as the young paymaster, Mitch, and Anne Baxter, who is seen as Jean, Josie's daughter.

Also fitting the period and locale with conviction are Douglas Fowley, Berton Churchill, Arthur Hohl and Clem Bevans, all in distinctive characterizations.

Stuart Erwin, Gloria Jean and Robert Stack as they appear in "A Little Bit Of Heaven," starting today at the Broadway.

Sheridan And Lynn Stars Of "It All Came True" At Tech

Another Double Bill Featured

YOU'LL find all the ingredients for comedy, drama and romance if you take one beautiful, hot tempered and ultra modern girl, a sensative young composer and a hard-boiled composer and turn them loose in an old brownstone boarding house full of eccentric people.

And that's the setup for "It All Came True," which starts today at the Tech theater.

Ann Sheridan Is The Girl

The girl is Ann Sheridan who fits as sleekly into the role of the heroine as she does into the black evening frock which she wears in the principal scenes.

The story deals with a group of people living in a boarding house. They cling fondly to the memories of their past as an escape from the reality of the present.

The complacent atmosphere is broken when the daughter of one of the owners returns from an unsuccessful attempt to crash the entertainment world. The next day the son of the other owner returns after an absence of five years. He, played by Jeffrey Lynn, brings a gangster with him, played by Humphrey Bogart, who uses the house as a hide-out. Then things really start for action and never let up or relax hold on the interest of the audience.

Another double program is the offering at the Arcadia today, first with "Northwest Passage," starring Spencer Tracy, Robert Young, Walter Brennan and Ruth Hussey and "Streets Of New York," starring Jackie Cooper.

Screened In Technicolor

"Northwest Passage" is screened in Technicolor and the heroes are in buckskin. They are romantic stalwarts who excited the admiration of all women with their deeds of daring and superhuman courage, and they relive the events made so thrilling to readers of the book.

Action is the keynote of "Streets Of New York." It deals with a youngster who goes his own way of decent living despite the fact his brother is New York's head racketeer.

There are thrills in the conflict between the two brothers but the older one does not interfere with his younger's plans. Yet, when he is hunted for killing a cop it is to his kid brother that he turns.

The gangster brother is played by Dick Purcell and others of the cast include Marjorie Reynolds and Martin Spellman.

Here is Ann Sheridan as she appears in "It All Came True," starting today at the Tech.

Jackie Cooper and others as they appear in "Streets Of New York," now on at the Arcadia.

"His Girl Friday" Is Merry Romantic Whirl At Midway

Russell, Grant Are Top Stars

ONE of the raciest romances to be screened in Lubbock in quite sometime is the picture, "His Girl Friday," which opens today at the Midway. Cary Grant and Rosalind Russell are the stars with Ralph Bellamy heading a supporing cast which includes Gene Lockhart, Ernest Truex, Porter Hall, Cliff Edwards, Helen Mack and Roscoe Karns.

The production meets every requirement for laughs and real entertainment.

Mad And Merry Whirl

A mad, merry whirl of husbands—past, present and future—"His Girl Friday" presents Grant as a heartless, thoughtless, perfectly shameless guy who's still pretty grand; Miss Russell is a stubborn, stunning spitfire of a sob sister who refuses to be "His Girl Friday" Saturday, Sunday and every other day, and Mr. Bellamy is the fretting, fuming Lothario of an insurance salesman to whom she turns for "protection."

Grant is seen as the maddest managing editor ever to run a newspaper; Miss Russell is his brightest, most beautiful reporter. On the very eve of a big story, one of nation-rocking consequence, the girl announces her engagement to the insurance agent and her retirement from newspaper work. Her ex-husband as well as her ex-boss, the reckless Grant conspires to prevent either the marriage or the retirement from taking place—"framing" Bellamy, kidnapping his mother, bribing Miss Russell to remain on the job by taking out a tremendous life insurance policy as a wedding present to her, and generally behaving in delightfully mad fashion.

Miss Russell, for her part, materially enhances the comedy effects of "His Girl Friday" by her carefully shaded portrait of a girl in love. She is in love with love, in love with her job, in love with her ex-boss. She is a newshawk on the track of a big story, a woman sympathizing with the tragic undertones which that story brings to light. In short, she is, like her co-star, ideally cast in a splendid production.

Momentous Election Day Approaches; Lewis' Split With Roosevelt Explained

Voting An American Duty

All Eligibles Should Go To Polls

PROBABLY not since Abraham Lincoln was chosen President of the United States in 1860 have people of this nation stood at the threshold of an election of such vital possibilities to them as that of next Tuesday.

Not since then have they gone about the business of electing a President faced with more tragic uncertainty as to what the future might hold.

Never in our history has there been an election which has emphasized so forcefully just what is meant by "a free people." Never in history before have our people been called upon to decide whether the same man was to be elected to the nation's highest office for the third consecutive time.

In some respects, this election of Tuesday is shadowed by perils even more portentous than was the case 80 years ago. Then it was apparent that catastrophic civil war had become inevitable. But, even so, that tragedy was faced with probability that when it ended and regardless how it ended, the survivors still would be free people whether in one nation or two.

Today, no one knows what may happen within a week or a month—much less a year. We cannot think of such nations as France without being forced to a recognition of the possibility—happily, the barest kind of possibility—that there may be no United States as we know it a year hence. Maybe there will be peace. Maybe there will be war. Possibly we may be forced to contend at the same time with totalitarian powers in both the Atlantic and the Pacific oceans. Possibly—and it seems the most probable prospect — conditions will continue, for awhile at least, very much as they are now with this nation building its defenses while lending all the assistance it can to England.

The important point is that all those things are possibilities. There is no certainty about any of them. The fact that they are so many grave possibilities should cause Americans as never before in history to forget they normally are Democrats or Republicans, and to vote as their best judgment as Americans may dictate.

AGAINST all this mass of uncertainties there is just one fact which definitely is certain.

That fact is that on Tuesday, every qualified American citizen will be privileged to go to the polls. There will be no abridgements of the right of ballot because of race, color or creed. Men and women of America will mark their ballots in secret without fear of personal penalties because of how they vote. With the exception of a few graft-ridden, boss-controlled centers, they will vote with the assurance that there will be an honest count of the ballots.

All those will be rights and privileges enjoyed by no other people on earth—not even in England which is the present battle-front in the fight for democracy and the freedom of man. Englishmen have had to surrender many of the rights they ordinarily enjoy because of the immediate peril. They have made the sacrifice willingly, expecting the rights to be restored when and if they survive.

The simple fact that the balloting of Tuesday will be the exercise of a right and privilege unique in the world should be sufficient to cause every American to discharge his duty—and it is a duty—by voting. It doesn't make so much difference who the individual may vote for, because we all know that all of us will accept the result regardless what it may be. There will be no breach in the solid front of Americanism which never has been stronger than it is right now on the eve of one of the most bitterly fought political campaigns and perhaps one of the closest elections in our history.

The important point is to vote, regardless how you may vote. Thus you can join with some 50 million other Americans in the most amazing demonstration of its kind in the history of man that the democratic form of government still functions—and that the people who enjoy it also enjoy safety, freedom and prosperity in a degree unmatched by any other people on earth.

The One Minute Sermon

Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath; for it is written, Vengeance is mine; I will repay saith the Lord.—Romans 12; 19.

OUR PLEDGE

WE pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States, and to the Republic for which it stands; One Nation, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all.

Good American Dollars Helping Hitler's Propaganda

German Firms In Mexico "Touched"

Police Chief J. Manuel Nunez of Mexico City . . . He battles the "quinta columna."

BY WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Correspondent

MEXICO, D. F., Mexico, Nov. 2 —Good American dollars are helping Hitler with his anti-American propaganda and general Fifth Column work in Mexico.

Here's how:

A large part of American goods sold in Mexico today are sold through local distributors or jobbers. Many of the best-established of these distributing and jobbing firms are run by Germans.

As the American goods filter through them on the way to the Mexican consumer, dollar profits rub off. This is all very legal, and strictly business, of course.

But all German firms in Mexico are "touched" regularly for their contributions to the Nazi machine Many of the owners are Mexican citizens by naturalization. Some are even anti-Hitler.

Pressure is such that none escape the touch. And the more American goods they sell the more they have to pay.

Even neater is the scheme by which American dollars are made to corrupt the Mexican press for Germany.

The American manufacturer who of advertising money, goes to a paper which is not too firm of principle, and says, "Boys, this money is yours if we get printed the kind of news we want." No sooner said, in too many cases, than done.

In many cases in Mexico that distributor is a German. Even if not, the distributing firm may have a German as advertising manager or in some key post. All of them meet together and report on the advertising at their disposal.

These financial tricks, whereby American business is forced to kick itself in the pants, highlight the weak spot of the American position in Mexico. It is easier for American producers to reach the Mexican market through such well-established German houses. They are ad-

Control Of Labor At Stake

(The National Whirligig)

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

JOHN L. LEWIS' secret, personal reason for public opposition to President Roosevelt is his conviction that the latter seeks to create a government-dominated labor movement for political use.

For several years FDR tried to end the labor schism with a program calling for what Mr. Lewis regards as "an artificial labor unity." In order to reunite the CIO and AFL and strengthen 1940 political fences, Mr. Roosevelt backed the Green formula as a basis for settlement. Under that system, in Mr. Lewis' opinion, CIO units would have been swallowed up by the old unions; they would have lost both their identity and influence. When the Lewis faction blocked this move, the President threw his prestige behind the CIO man's rivals—Messrs. Green, Hillman, Dubinsky.

It was done covertly at first, but John L. kept his eyes open. He blew up the western conference of third-term liberals secretly arranged by the President and several government officials. Then the White house and Secretary Perkins openly tossed all favors to the anti-Lewis clique. The hostile Hillman was named as labor's representative on the Defense commission, and he packed his advisory group with New Lealers.

In other ways, so John L. believes, the President used Hillman to discredit the CIO. The latter provoked a D. of J. opinion barring government contracts to NLRB violators—one of Mr. Lewis' principal demands at the White House—but it is not being enforced. Now Mr. Hillman is feverishly trying to close contracts with various steel organizations where the CIO has laid the groundwork, and make it appear as a victory won for labor by the administration. In view of these things, John L. believes labor will get a better break—and enjoy better relations with employers—under Wendell Willkie as President.

LACK: Army Air corps officers complain forcefully, though confidentially, against the tremendous increase in the monthly shipment of airplanes to Great Britain. Although the figures are now kept secret for "military purposes"—presumably to keep the Germans in the dark—it is understood that London is getting almost half the monthly output of about 950 planes.

American aviators want Britain to win—no doubt of that—but they produce facts to show that army aviation is suffering. The persistent export of all types of planes—trainers, pursuit, bombers—will deprive our budding corps of fliers, mechanics and ground crews of the tools they need in their own training. At several key fields there are not even now sufficient planes to accommodate enrollee and applicants. Under this system it may be years before Uncle Sam obtains enough crack pilots for 50,000 planes—even if we get the planes.

Other services voice the same complaint, especially the tank corps, the infantry and the artillery. The World war tanks sold to Canada — the destroyers turned over to Great Britain—the rifles and 75's sold to the Allies before the French collapse—were not "obsolete" for training purposes And there will be acute shortages of these weapons for the first 800,000 conscripts summoned to active service.

MAJORITIES: The armed forces of the United States Army, Navy, Marines, Air corps, National Guard—are being subjected to more violent electioneering this year than ever before in the memory of old-timers. It has provoked critical comment among officers not accustomed to such tactics in the past.

The theme of the argument is that the Roosevelt administration has done more for them, especially the navy, than any previous regime. The generous treatment they have received since 1933 is contrasted with the "starvation" they endured under the Republican rule of post-war days. Besides public speeches to this effect by the President, Secretaries Stimson and Knox and congressional orators, these considerations are often advanced at formal and informal assemblages of soldiers and sailors.

Although predominantly conservative, and probably Republican, the service people are not immune to these arguments. After all, upbuilding of these professions means more bread and butter, as do higher wages to the average man. Nevertheless, it is estimated that a majority of the army vote will go to the GOP candidate, while FDR runs ahead in his favorite unit —the navy.

WHICH?: The expanded foreign policy which President Roosevelt promulgated in his "Martin, Barton and Fish" speech was a surprise even to State department insiders. New Deal politicos are concerned for fear it may be interpreted to mean that the American frontier has been stretched from the Rhine to the Dardanelles. Said the President:—

"Now, at the eleventh hour, they (the Republicans) have discovered what we knew all along—that overseas success in warding off invasion by dictatorship forces means safety to the United States as well as to those smaller nations which still retain their independence and the restoration of sovereignty to those smaller nations which have lost it.

"One of the keystones of American policy is the recognition of the right of small nations to survive and prosper." Does this mean, asks Washington, that the United States is committed (1) to the eventual defeat of the dictator nations and (2) to recreation of the nations whose original and illogical establishment was admittedly one of the main causes for the present conflict? Or was FDR simply comforting the French, Belgian, Polish, Czech and Dutch people here who have seen their countries conquered?

NEW YORK
By Richard Waldo

BARRING the possibility that Mussolini has overreached himself by launching the drive through the Balkans, the Axis calendar actually calls for the installation of a member of King Victor's household as advisor to the Greek throne. The Greek proconsul designate (Benito did the designating) is the duke of Spoleto, first cousin of Victor Emmanuel, son-in-law of King George of Greece — and, by ironic twist, brother-in-law of England's duke of Kent.

Spoleto's frustrated romance with the Greek princess royal—sister of Princess Marina who is now the duchess of Kent—has been Europe's court gossip ever since Mussolini forbade the royal union in 1934. Spoleto is the lineal heir presumptive to the Italian throne, third in line after Prince Umberto and the duke of Aosta. His marriage into the Greek royal house was denied on the ground that the Spoleto rank could be used to better advantage in a state marriage in a country of greater political importance. The Italian duke and the Greek princess refused to make other alliances, becoming the theme of operettas in both countries, until Il Duce suddenly decided on the favorable word about the time the Nazis lighted the Danzig fuse.

Diplomats immediately understood the marriage's political sighificance; first, as a bid for Greek membership in an Italian-controlled Balkan alliance. Failing to obtain the Balkan coalition the union might check British influence in the Greek peninsula. In the intervening months Spoleto, who is not enthusiastic about the war on his father-in-law, has grown tremendously popular with the Greek public and especially in the Greek court. If the Axis takes Greece on schedule it is the duce's plan to exploit the duke's good will and force him to accept a wartime regency over the Greeks. If King George's subjects have to accept a foreign overlord, the least obnoxious and least likely to stop an assassin's bullet is the debonair Spoleto.

Lorraine Carr Creates Memorable Figure

Sabe Smith Is Symbolic Of Uneducated Pioneer Women

"MOTHER OF THE SMITHS," by Lorraine Carr; (McMillan company).

LORRAINE CARR has created in Sabe Smith ("mother of the Smiths") a memorable figure; a figure symbolic of uneducated pioneer women; who fought life's battles nobly and unshrinkingly, with no thought of reward other than the joys that come from living fully.

Around the character of Sabe, strong, courageous, sympathetic, ambitious and tender, revolve the plot, characters and action of this gripping novel, set in the beautiful region of Taos, New Mexico.

Like A Great Mountain

Sabe, herself, is like a great mountain that can turn even the wind. Fear never exists in her life, either in speech or in heart. She meets all trials bravely, and many times bolsters up ebbing spirits of her husband and six sons by singing "Oh, Suzanna." A more fortunate neighbor, Nug Nolan, describes Sabe as a mother bird, who never whimpers at the blows dealt her by fate, but fights stubbornly on.

Minor characters wander in and out of the novel. Among the more important of these is Sabe's husband, Si.

Dreams Never Materialize

Si, good-natured scoundrel, spends a life time sitting, bobbing his toes up an down, dreaming dreams that never materialize. Each spring he shoulders his pick and shovel and with, "I golly, Sabe, you're gonna get that blue dress this fall," he starts up the canyon in search of gold which he never finds.

Through the character of Si, the author philosophies on the theory that man can not dream himself into a character, but he must hammer and force himself into one.

The story is presented in such a simple straight-forward manner that one feels at times that he is seeing the characters as they really are instead of through the eyes of the writer. Mrs. Carr shows unusual skill in her frequent employment of sparkling conversations between characters. Particularly colorful and effective are the broken speeches of Indian Jim and Arturo, a lazy, but kind hearted Mexican whose English vocabulary is composed chiefly of one amusing phrase, "Da sonna ma beetches."

Certain incidents seem unnatural, and it is difficult to understand why so much space is given to the description of the Penitente service which adds nothing to the account.

Good Never Dies

Although the story is tragic, the book ends with the belief that the good one does, never dies, but lives on. Sabe's spirit lived on in the work of her son, a doctor, and in the lives and memories of the simple Mexican people who had been her neighbors. To them, the merciful errands of Sammy became:

"Sabbe Smeeth's coming."—June Crosley.

FDR Must Regard Polls With Mingled Emotions; "Doubtfuls" To Decide Vote

Gallup Poll Has Him Victorious

BY KENNETH GOODE
McClure Newspaper Syndicate Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 — Mr. Roosevelt must regard voter's polls with mingled emotions. For weeks in the 1936 campaign the Literary Digest alone, so to speak, kept him out of the White House. Now, with delightful poetic justice, some aver, Dr. Gallup is precisely reversing that process. Doubly sardonic, seen in this light, grow Dr. Gallup's assurances that his poll does not pull voters onto oncoming bandwagons but, to the contrary, rallies them like bugles to the call of lost causes.

New York State hopelessly lost to Mr. Roosevelt was shown Sunday and Monday October 27-28 by the Straw Poll of the New York News, vigorously Democratic but intent on facts.

Various Results Shown

On that same day, while the New York Times was gayly featuring Gallup's "ROOSEVELT LEADING N. Y. 54%-50%," the News "sample" of 3,300,000 voters (with its candidates' best city districts loyally rushed in to stem the tide) showed Willkie leading. More importantly,—instead o fthe 10% drop from his 1936 victory which, as the News points out would still indicate a Roosevelt win, he is shown losing up-State 7 per cent of his previous popularity and losing 16 per cent in New York City.

So far as it applies to elections, at least, there are a couple of basic flaws in the good Doctor's system. First his supreme disregard of the vital "doubtful" vote (which practical politicians, of course, count as the only count). His own 4 per cent for mathematical error is flashed constantly in everybody's face. But the actual deficiencies in human decision varying through the several states from 6 per cent to 11 per cent of the total vote which, obviously, must eventually decide the election, are deemphasized like a stepchild in favor of his own synthetic "percentages" showing only those citizens thereto cajoled into committing an opinion.

Must Decide On "Trends"

His magnificent assumption is that because he can't tell what people are thinking, nobody else can. Consequently allowing millions of unsuspecting newspaper readers to believe that popular "trends" crystallize, in fact, only so fast as Dr. Gallup's private method allows him to clarify them.

Before the next election Dr. Gallup must make up his mind like a little man either to feature his "doubtfuls" or forget them. By honestly emphasizing in every case the relation of the still "undecided" vote to the total vote committed at that time to each of the candidates involved, the Institute's valuable poll could not put itself beyond any question ethically, scientifically and mathematically. Or, Dr. Gallup could choose the opposite course and make for himself percentages as impeccable as those of the Chicago Tribune and New York Daily News by pragmatically following the practice of these factfinders in disregarding altogether those haughty citizens who prefer to be recorded as weighing the fate of the nation and, by a simple two-way ballot, converting this complicating element into a simple one-way vote.

GEORGINA BALLINA

Cuban Dancer Will Appear On Friday

Spanish and Mexican folk songs and dances will be presented by Georgina Ballina, Cuban dancer, in Junior High school auditorium at 8:50 o'clock Friday morning, Jay E. Gordon, vice principal, announced.

Senorita Ballina presents an authentic program of Spanish and Mexican folk-songs and dances. Born in Cuba of parents from the north of Spain, she became interested in Spanish folklore at the Middlebury college Spanish school, where she was a student. She has studied dancing with such outstanding teachers as Lola Bravo, and Cansino of New York, and also in Mexico, where she was a student at the University of Mexico.

Senorita Ballina's accompanying artist will be Carmen Silva. He has concertized in the United States and Mexico. During the performance he will present well-known music by famous Spanish composers.

NOISE IS HAZARD

Noise is a major hazard in modern existence, contributing to chronic ill health and premature old age, according to Dr. Foster Kennedy of Cornell.

As a badge of his profession, down to the 16th century, every European physician wore a ring.

BROWNWOOD, Nov. 2 (AP) — When the war department chose Brownwood as the site of Camp Bowie there was a big boom.

People rushed here from everywhere in jalopies and big cars. They kicked up more dust than the West Texas oil boomers did a few years ago.

Roads are choked with cars six abreast. The wire enclosed bullpen, where labor is hired to build an army camp for 27,000 national guardsmen due next month, is bulging with men.

Even Sleep On Ground

Ham and eggs skyrocketed. Hotel rooms are worth a premium. People even sleep behind sign boards and on the ground.

The town's cops sweat and try to keep things going.

The jail is not big enough and the police force is not big enough, says Mayor Wendell Mays who wants five more policemen and a radio patrol car.

The corner drug store cashed $47,000 worth of pay checks Saturday.

Population Jumps

The population has jumped from 13,000 to around 19,000 in two months. Houses are being built everywhere. Six thousand tent frames and 288 buildings are under construction at Camp Bowie.

Everybody is as busy as war.

Probably the busiest of them all is Virgil Roberts of Dallas. His job is to keep carpenters' saws sharp. He's filed a lot of saw teeth.

The three fellows sitting under that tree smoking are busy, too. They are fitting dynamite caps on explosive sticks. Lots of stumps have to be blasted for the 2,000 acre army camp.

There's a big boom on.

Teachers Face Busy Schedule

Three busy days are in store for all teachers who plan to attend the Texas State Teacher's association which meets in Fort Worth on November 21, 22 and 23, according to information received from Dr. W. B. Irvin, superintendent of Lubbock schools and first vice-president of the association.

The first general session will be held on Thursday afternoon, November 21, in the auditorium of the First Baptist church, although the convention will be officially opened at a Thanksgiving service on Thursday morning.

At the first session James P. Nicholson of the American Junior Red Cross and Allen Stockdale, president of the Business Manufacturing association, will be the speakers, with Dr. Irvin in charge. On Friday morning the general meeting is to be presented by the American School of the Air, with Belmont Farley and Sterling Fisher the speakers.

Others To Speak

Other speakers slated to speak at general sessions include Dr. Homer P. Rainey of the University of Texas, Dr. Willis A. Sutton of Atlanta, Ga., Senator Josh Lee of Oklahoma, ma, M. A. Corey, of the California Teachers association, President Brown of the Brown University in Arkansas.

Lubbock schools will be dismissed at noon on Wednesday, November 20, so that all teachers who wish to attend will have time to get to Fort Worth for the opening of the meetings, Dr. Irvin said.

PRACTICED ON WOOD

Young men practiced the art of carving on wooden models of game and poultry under the supervision of a carving master to the accompaniment of music, in ancient Rome.

DEW SPOILS LAMPS

In the manufacture of an incandescent lamp, infinite care is required, and the moisture of a single drop of dew is sufficient to cause early blackening of 500,000 lamps.

mittedly efficient and strong.

Majority Of Imports From U. S.

Those acquainted with the Mexican commercial picture fear that, when the war is over and especially if Germany wins, all such local houses under German influence will kick out the American goods and substitute German goods for them. This would leave the Americans faced with the prospect of building up distributing organizaions from scratch or of gradually receding from the Mexican market.

Mexico City is in the midst of a construction boom. The population of the capital is nearly 2,000,000, and during the past two years whole suburban sections, some of them very modern and beautiful, have sprung up.

Great buildings for both government and private offices are springing up in the downtown section. It is freely suggested that people with money prefer to have it in tangible buildings, fearing money inflation may result from Mexico's present unsatisfactory fiscal condition.

Some of the building, however, is undoubtedly made necessary by the swarms of people drawn to the capital in recent years, who must live somewhere.

Right now the American position in Mexican trade is excellent. In the first quarter of this year 75 per cent of Mexico's imports came from the United States. This table shows the increasing share of the United States in such trade:

		1st Quarter
1938	1939	1940
U. S.	57%	67.2%	75%
Japan	2%	1.2%	1.6%
Germany	19%	12.7%	2.3%

That would make it appear that the United States is doing all right in Mexico commercially—and so it is—now. But the drop in both German and Japanese figures is due to war conditions.

Purchases from the United States skyrocket because that is the only place goods can be had. The small German figure represents goods brought all the way across Siberia and the Pacific.

Bank Aids Nazi Trade

Trade experts feel that as the United States today holds the lion's share of Mexican trade due to the war, now is the time to establish American local trade outlets or cultivate purely Mexican agencies, rather than depend on present German and even Japanese houses who might elect to let U. S. exporters down suddenly, substituting German and Japanese goods when they again become available.

At this point looms up the Banco Germanico, which many Americans in Mexico believe to be the real center of the Quinta Columna (Fifth Column).

Banco Germanico is more powerful by far in advancing German interests than fly-by-night propaganda sheets or covert salutes. This old and solid banking institution is regarded by insiders as the real link between Germany and Mexico.

Active head and spark plug of this institution is Otto Stricker, though its president is Carlos Schulze, a naturalized Mexican citizen. When any German commercial institution which has the slightest value to the Nazi regime needs money, it is forthcoming from the Banco Germanico.

Similar American firms must depend on regular commercial credit facilities, and can get loans only when they are feasible on a strictly business basis. But the Banco Germanico seems to apply different standards and to have ample funds for any purpose which will bolster German commercial institutions in Mexico.

It has been proposed that through the Import-Export bank in Washington some sort of commercial credit institution be created that would enable American exporters to establish and nurse through the development period their own export outlets in Mexico and other southern countries.

Police Battle "Quinta Columna"

Americans are decreasing in numbers in Mexico as the Germans gain. Ten years ago there were 13,000 Americans permanently resident. Now there are probably not more than 8,000 of whom 3,000 are in the capital.

There are between 6,000 and 7,000 Germans, at least 400 having entered during the past year. They are much more free to take Mexican citizenship than are the Americans, for the simple reason that Berlin still recognizes them as loyal Germans even though naturalized, whereas an American changing citizenship would expect to do so without reservation. Few care to do that.

Of thees Germans, not more than 110 are believed to be active Nazi party workers, though most pay pocketbook and lip service to the organization.

Police Chief J. Manuel Nunez recently reorganized his "Fifth Column Squad" and it is now believed that all active Nazi leaders are under close enough watch for safety. Nunez, a progressive officer who is now installing a radio patrol system, cooperates effectively with American agents.

Recent searches of German homes in Chiapes, Tabasco and Monterrey failed to turn up any startling evidence of connivery, not even a single broadcasting station.

Sugar beets were planted in nearly 425,000 acres in Italy this year.

Germany's Oil Running Low

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Nov. 2. — Germany's present requirements of crude oil and gasoline, despite drastic reduction in private automobile traffic, amounts to more than 80,000,000 barrels annually, or twice as much as the Nazis are able to produce, M. W. Fodor, foreign correspondent, today told the twenty-first annual convention of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association.

In an analysis of the requirements of Germany concerning oil and gasoline, Fodor declared that during his stay in Holland and Belgium during the Nazi invasion he was able to establish contacts which brought useful information concerning the Germans' oil stocks.

Russian Supply Decreases

Since January, he said, the supply of Rumanian oil has increased while the Russian supply has decreased.

He calculated the present German supply, on an annual basis, at 36,000,000 barrels and pointed out that should the country's claim of a considerable increase in synthetic production materialize and Rumania's supply reaches 21,000,000 barrels, then Germany can increase her present resources to 51,000,000 barrels.

Distinguished service awards were presented by the association to one member of both the independent and major groups. For the independents, Jake L. Hamon of Dallas was honored, while E. R. Brown, also of Dallas and chairman of the board of the Magnolia Petroleum company, was selected from among the majors.

All Officers Re-elected

All officers of the association were re-elected.

E. L. Smith of Dallas today was re-elected president and one new vice president and eight directors were chosen.

The new vice president, for the East Texas district, is B. G. Byars of Tyler. District vice presidents re-elected were H. R. Cullen of Houston, J. L. Collins of Corsicana, D. Houston Bolin of Wichita Falls, Mel B. Davis of Pampa, Hamilton McRae of Midland, Joe A. Clarke of Albany, and Al Buchanan of San Antonio.

New Directors Chosen

George C. Gibbons of Dallas was re-named executive vice president and Eugene McElvaney of Dallas, treasurer.

New directors are Raymond Dillard of Mexia; Cyrus Yoakum of San Antonio; Edward Hudson of Fort Worth; Earl Smith and Fred Murray of Dallas; H. C. Cockburn, A. J. Galloway, and Bill Bonner of Houston.

The directors will determine later the site for the 1941 convention. Invitations were issued today by Dallas and Beaumont.

FLOYDADA PROSPECTS

FLOYDADA—Because of a large acreage of one variety cotton in Floyd county, it is estimated 5,000 bales of cotton will be handled at the warehouses here. Ginnings so far are estimated at 2,400 bales. Some cotton will come here from northern Crosby county where long staple cotton is being produced on dry land farms.
