Japs Launch Counterattack

Map above shows now chains of islands form a defensive "fence" screening Japan itself. But attack on Saipan, Bonin and Volcano islands proved enemy's vital barriers are vulnerable to guns of American fleet and bombs of carrier-based planes. Japs' position will become even more critical as Yanks establish bases for long-range bombers on Saipan.

Most Furious Fighting Put Up By Enemy

By LEONARD MILLIMAN

The long expected Japanese counterattack on Saipan Island came with sudden ferocity on a scale surpassing any previous assault of its kind in the central and western Pacific war.

It was hurled back with heavy casualties to both sides, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported yesterday as other Allied communiques told of the recapture of Liling in southeastern China, the slaughter of 11,000 Japanese in four months of fighting in eastern India, and the bombing of five cities in Friday's Superfortress raid on Japan and enemy-held parts of China.

Artillery and planes supported the Japanese Banzai attack on Saipan. Thousands of Nipponese soldiers charged the American western flank at dawn Thursday and advanced in bloody close combat until halted shortly before noon on the outskirts of Tanapag town.

At the end of the battle the Japanese were back where they started, cooped in on the northern tip of the island. An estimated 1,500 were killed in the assault, bringing to about 10,400 the known Japanese dead on Saipan, or more than half the estimated original garrison. Hundreds, perhaps thousands, of other Nipponese dead have not been counted.

American ground troops suffered "numerous casualties" in repulsing the counterattack, Nimitz indicated. A savage Chinese counterattack in southeast China was successful and they captured Liling, Japanese stronghold north of the strategic railway junction city of Hengyang.

Rumors in Chungking said the Japanese were preparing to withdraw from Hengyang, and were taking troops from China because Russian forces were massing on the Manchurian border.

American planes swept the extended enemy supply lines throughout southeast China simultaneously with the Superfortress raid on Nipponese military and industrial centers. All B-29s returned.

The heaviest weight of B-29 bombs hit Sasebo, third largest naval base in the home islands of Japan. Also hit by Yank fliers were the industrial plants at Hiroshima.

The silver-haired former president of the Baptist World Alliance, who was called today by an episcopal bishop "an outstanding religious leader" in Texas and the nation, but of the whole world," died last night. He was 77 years of age.

Not since July, 1943, had he been able to fill his pulpit. For the last several days his illness had been critical. His wife, his daughters, Mrs. Robert Milliken of Dallas, Mrs. Tom Gilliam of Lynchburg, Va., and Mrs. Fowles of Houston, Texas, were at his bedside when he died.

The funeral will be in the auditorium of the church, and burial will be in the Grove Hill cemetery at Dallas. Rev. Louis D. Newton, Atlanta, Ga., pastor, will deliver the funeral oration. Robert H. Coleman, a trustee of the church, will officiate. Along with the recording of the lease at the county clerk's office here was an unconfirmed report that a huge tract of acreage north of Pampa was soon to be leased, with wells drilled to a depth of 8,000 feet, or more than twice the average depth in this vicinity.

Livingstone's lease covers all of Sections 6, 7, 8, 18, 19, 20, 29, 31, 42, 43, 44, 53 and 54 in block A-6, H. & G. N. survey, comprising 8,981 acres.

300 Turn Out for First Summer Concert at Park

Before an enthusiastic crowd of more than 300 music lovers at Central Park Friday night, the Pampa Army Air Field band of 30 professional musicians, under the direction of W. O. Ken Carpenter, gave their first of a number of scheduled summer concerts.

The program, which began at 8 p. m., included such favorites as "Home on the Range," "Beautiful Ohio," "My Buddy" and "The Blue Danube Waltz." One popular song, "All or Nothing at All," was included. It is planned that many old favorites and at least one popular song will be included on future programs.

Featured soloist of the evening was Sgt. Nick Mitsu, who played a cornet solo, "Willow Echoes," by Fred Simon, band music composer honored by all band musicians.

A new idea in band concerts was introduced. Before the playing of the national anthem at the end of the program, a hymn, "Come Thou Almighty King," was played. Other hymns will be played on subsequent programs.

City of Grief Buries Its Dead

Eleven Bodies Still Remain Unidentified

HARTFORD, Conn., July 8.—(AP)—This sorrowing city today began burying its dead, many of them in small white caskets containing the fire-blackened bodies of children, who perished in the flaming circus tragedy that took more than 150 lives.

As authorities pressed determinedly to prevent a repetition of a similar disaster, there was hardly a church or chapel that had not scheduled final rites for one or more of the dead, poignant aftermaths to Thursday's Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus tent fire in which, revised figures issued by Mayor William Mortenson showed, 154 died.

From one church alone, grieving relatives and friends accompanied the bodies of four members of the family in a scene that was destined to be repeated many times as others are buried through Tuesday after multiple and single services.

Mayor Mortenson announced the revised figures as his special board of inquiry met in secret session to determine, among other things, whether corrective measures are required to forestall a similar occurrence. Other authorities, among them State Police Commissioner Edward W. Hickey, delved into every phase of the disaster, the greatest in American circus history.

Of those who died when the huge main tent collapsed in flames, only eleven remained unidentified to date.

There's no reason for Gray county to feel proud of its record, for this county is $163,838 short on its $365,000 goal for Series E bonds, he said.

However, Gray county has the rest of the month to make up this deficiency. This doesn't mean you should wait until July 31 to buy a bond. The bonds should have been purchased while the campaign was on, but even now and during the rest of this month, the chance to make good is still open for Gray county, the chairman asserted.

"A great many of our farmers have been busy with harvesting. Knowing that purchases made any time during this month would count, they have not yet made their purchases," he said.

Soviets Hold Gate City To Baltic States

By GORDON BROWN
AP Press War Editor

Powerful Allied blows sent Hitler's armies reeling on three land fronts yesterday in heavy fighting which saw the Russians advance to within 550 miles of Berlin.

Soviets occupied Baranowice, important rail junction which is almost midway between Moscow, once besieged by the Germans, and Berlin. In another of their many offensives, the Reds entered Wilno, gateway to the Baltic states.

In Normandy where Hitler himself was reported to have taken command of his armies fighting to stave off the Allies who cracked his Atlantic Wall, British troops hammered into Caen amid evidence that the out-slugged Nazis were withdrawing from the big river port. It appeared another victory for Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery over Field Marshal Erwin Rommel and his tanks.

On the other end of the Normandy front U. S. troops, pushing out of the Cotentin peninsula in three southward drives, knocked the Nazis out of their anchor town of St. Jean de Daye and jeopardized the entire Western front.

The night's Allied communique also reported American patrols in La Haye du Puits.

U. S. troops in Italy resumed their advance after a three-day lull.

History Cited In Reference To Dem Controversy

WASHINGTON, July 8.—(AP)—After Benjamin G. Harris of Maryland told the Democratic national convention in 1864 he wouldn't vote at the polls for Gen. George B. McClellan, whose name had been put in nomination, the chair ruled he was not entitled to participate in the convention's proceedings.

A check of proceedings of Democratic national conventions showed that precedent for barring participation by delegates who declare they will not abide by the convention's decisions.

The threat of Texas and Mississippi Democrats that their electors may not support the party's nominees this year if the convention takes a stand on the issue is contrary to Southern custom, directed attention to the precedent.

Mississippi and Texas didn't figure in that Civil War-time convention.

Harris was a member of Congress who later was convicted of harboring Confederate soldiers, was sentenced to prison but was pardoned by President Andrew Johnson.

Although the records do not show it, an understanding apparently was reached for Harris' reinstatement, for after he had announced he would abide by the convention's decision it reinstated him.

When the name of McClellan, later nominated for president, was placed before the convention in Chicago, Harris arose and said: "You ask me to go to the polls and vote for him. I cannot do it."

Then Charles W. Carrigan of Pennsylvania asserted that if Harris would not accept the convention's decision he was not fit to be a member of it.

Horatio Seymour of New York, presiding, said it was the chair's decision that those not abiding by the convention decisions were not entitled to participate in its proceedings.

There was no appeal from Seymour's ruling. Harris, who had been on the platform, was escorted from it and permitted to take a seat in the hall, though apparently not with the Maryland delegation.

Later Carrigan arose to speak of his great personal friendship for Harris, and said his own earlier statement only because an issue of "political morality" was involved. He moved that Harris be reinstated, and Harris said he would abide by the convention decision.

Terrible Story of Nazi Murders Told

Cold-blooded massacres of virtually the entire populations of the Greek village of Distomo and the French village of Oradour-sur-Glane and burning of both towns by vengeance-mad German soldiers were reported in accounts reaching New York Saturday.

The Greek puppet government announced the Distomo slaughter, in which 1,000 persons died, saying it occurred on June 10, the second anniversary of the massacre and destruction of Lidice in Czechoslovakia.

The story of the French village 12 miles northwest of Limoges in central France, came from the British Broadcasting corporation, which said 1,100 out of a population of 1,200 were slain.

The Greek puppet communique, a copy of which was received Friday in Izmir (Smyrna), Turkey, said the populace was shot and the town burned in reprisal for the deaths of 30 German soldiers in a fight with Greek Eam and Andartes guerrillas.

At Distomo, according to information received among Greeks in Izmir, men, women and waiting babies were slaughtered impersonally.

This account said that after the guerrilla battle on June 9, German SS (Elite Guard) troops on the afternoon of June 10 surrounded Distomo, herded all inhabitants into the public square, and there

Olds Is Re-Elected As FPC Chairman

WASHINGTON, July 8.—(AP)—A special senate subcommittee voted 3 to 2 today in favor of a second five-year term for Leland Olds, chairman of the Federal Power Commission.

Chairman Tunnell (D-Del.) said the recommendation would be reported to the Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee as soon as further information in one case involving the FPC was filed with the subcommittee.

The decision closed three days of hearings during which senators questioned Olds and other witnesses on the FPC chairman's political views.

Members of the subcommittee were Chairman Tunnell and Senators Johnson (D-Colo.), Wagner (D-N. Y.), Hawkes (R-N. J.) and Moore (R-Okla.). Tunnell said the three to two vote was along the expected party line.

Olds' term expired June 25, but Senate confirmation of his reappointment has been held up pending investigation of the chairman's political leanings.

Olds testified today he was neither a Communist nor a member of the American Labor Party and had never written articles or been employed by the Daily Worker, Communist publication.

Mighty Lake Is Being Created

By WALTER P. BOSWELL
Associated Press Staff

A mighty lake is washing shores in Texas and Oklahoma behind the precise earthen bulk of the army-built Denison Dam and already covers some 50,000 acres.

Waters of the Red River turn blue and lose a lot of their gypsum taste as they become a part of it.

Board the Army Engineers' 71-foot launch. The rate at the landing where the lake presses against this world's greatest roll filled earth barrier they have thrown across the Red River several miles below its confluence with the Washita. The site is four miles northwest of Denison.

As the launch moves upstream, watch the timberline along the shore. See how from the present level there is a bare ribbon up to where the growth begins.

The lake will cover that ribbon, and when its waters are normal (617 feet above sea level at their top) it will inundate 35,000 acres. At spillway level (640 feet above sea level) it will cover 145,000 acres.

Just as most of the three-mile length of the dam is in Oklahoma, so will the lake cover more Oklahoma acres than Texas.

At normal height 26,000 Texas acres and 69,000 in Oklahoma, will be inundated.

To this lake and the $54,000,000 structure which created it speaks at the dedication of the dam July 1 found substance for prophesies of flood control protection in the valley of the river in Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, and Louisiana; power production for industry and rural and town homes; a great southwestern playground and headwaters which some day may make the Red River navigable up to Denison.

As Major General Eugene Reybold, chief of army engineers, said at the dedication: "The army engineers are proud of this completed project." The engineers supervised its building.

Already waters of the lake are heavy against the gates of eight outlet tubes, and run through one of them to whirl a great turbine which is manufacturing electric power. Already, say engineers, the dam has protected Red River valley lands below the dam from flood waters originating above the dam.

Texan Is Making Good in Capitol

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—A six-foot, dark-eyed handsome young man from Terrell is making a name for himself in the war frauds division of the justice department.

Pat Coon is the man. A graduate of the University of Texas, where he got his law degree in 1922, the affable Texan began practice in his home town during the economic depression.

He ran for public office two years later to be sure of an income. He contended and won. The office was criminal district attorney of Kaufman county, in which he served from 1935 to 1938. From 1939 to 1942 he was assistant attorney general of Texas.

Two years ago he came to Washington to work in the justice department under another Texan, Tom Clark, now assistant attorney general.

Yanks Get Credit Cherbourg Fall

By TOM WOLF
NEA Staff Correspondent

LONDON, July 8—Americans in London have often complained that British newspapers were not giving America's fighting men their due. Too often, went the gripe, the British described some exclusively American gain as an "Allied" triumph.

Last month, with the coming of D-Day, the British press made up for past sins in a big way. News of the American victories in the Cherbourg peninsula all but crowded stories about Britain's own troops right off the front page.

Readers, both British and American, were quick to applaud the London press' fair-mindedness. Scores of the praise-giving letters also asked for reciprocity by the U. S. press.

Most of these letters cited three major cases in which the writers felt that the British contributions had been played down in American newspapers. They were:

1. Dieppe. (Only 52 American soldiers took part in the whole operation.)
2. The bombing of Berlin. (Not a single U. S. Fort of Liberator bomber landed until March, 1944. It was the RAF which pounded the German capital last fall and winter.)
3. The Fifth Army. (Probably 40 per cent of Gen. Clark's army is composed of British and Empire troops.)

Deserted Village. The place most profoundly changed by D-Day was not a village in Normandy. It was London. Overnight "Leave City"—this war's Paris of 1914-18—became the Deserted Village.

For the first time since the start of the American invasion of Britain, Britons outnumbered Americans in the West End; and civilians outnumbered the military almost everywhere.

Living in the British capital took on an entirely new aspect. It was no longer necessary to reserve a table at a good restaurant more than a few hours ahead; theater tickets were sometimes obtainable on the very day of the performance; queues for everything were shorter.

One British journal carried an almost unbelievable report: a taxi was seen to draw alongside a pedestrian and solicit business.

Booby Trap. Eggs-less London last month chuckled appreciatively over a report from Normandy. A couple of D-Day by a grateful Norman farmer who presented them with a dozen shell eggs. "The Tommies couldn't eat them at that moment and couldn't very well carry them into battle. So they set them on the side of the road in plain view and put a sign next to them: Booby Trap! That night they returned and feasted on six fried eggs, each.

Rumor of the Month: An American sergeant claims he knows a WAC who is wearing a star on her Good Conduct Ribbon.

RSVP: One of the Army's worst headaches has been that until fairly recently the British and American systems of classifying secret papers differed. We used "restricted" to indicate our least secret papers; "confidential" for the next grade of hush hush; and just plain "secret," for the 864 lip-zipper. The British had these three classifications, plus a fourth: "most secret." As a result, all papers had to be marked with both British and American classifications. For example: "U. S. Confidential," equals British "Secret," or "U. S. Secret," equals British "Most Secret."

All of which is by way of build-up to the story of a recent American Army party in London. The invitation ended: "RSVP." equals British "Most Secret."

If You Could Only Cook: According to Stars and Stripes, a G. I. wrote his girl back in the States that he had extended a dinner where they had WAAPs (Women's Auxiliary Air Force). His girl, anxious to please, replied: "Darling, when you come home, I'll learn how to cook WAAPs to remind you of the wonderful times you had in England."

Queued Idea. During the past year many a British soldier has set forth with elaborate plans for transforming itself into a postwar corporate Shangri-la. Last month the city of Nottingham came up with a plan whose appeal outweighed all others proposed to date: it is going to ask Parliament for power to abolish queues.

TROOP TRAIN PLUNGES INTO RIVER

More than 100 persons were injured and at least 2 killed when a troop train jumped the tracks sending the engine and several cars into a ravine near Jellico, Tenn. Picture shows two of the coaches in the ravine and the engine half buried in the water.—NEA Telephoto).

HITLER

A complete revision of defense plans may be made before the end of the month, this information said.

One important point brought up was whether it would be wiser to withdraw German troops from Norway and the Balkans, thereby strengthening the core of resistance around Germany itself and avoiding the risk of having those idle occupation troops cut off from the homeland.

Even taking into consideration the fact that some of the reports coming out of Germany may be Nazi "plants" aimed at creating over-confidence in Allied countries, this appeared to be a trust-worthy review of developments.

1. While no final decision apparently has been made, the Germans probably will throw more reserves into the Normandy front in France in an effort to inflict the heaviest possible losses on the Allied troops there.

2. Von Rundstedt stepped out of the picture as the "first error man" in the invasion for refusing to commit larger forces in Normandy. He had been reported holding off for fear of new Allied landings elsewhere along the coast.

3. The need of maintaining crack divisions in the West will make it extremely difficult to funnel good troops in to the Eastern area, but the Germans hope to make a stand by the end of the month, probably behind the Wista (Vistula) river in Poland.

4. Civilians and families of German civil servant voluntarily have been evacuating Poland and East Prussia during the past 10 days. Huge refugee camps in Eastern and Southern Germany have been ordered to house them.

5. Commanders on the Russian front are worried by steady Nazi withdrawals in Italy because of the danger to their holdings in the Balkans.

6. The death of Gen. Edward Dietl, German commander in Finland, probably was another signpost of difficulties inside the reich high command.

7. Japanese fighter planes made their first appearance over the southwestern China front where Chinese troops edged to within half mile of Nipponese headquarters at Tengchow.

8. Bodies of Japanese dead of exhaustion and starvation were found by British troops mopping up around Ukhrul, Nipponese base in eastern India.

9. Destruction of 40 more Japanese planes, two ships and eight barges were reported by Nimitz and Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

10. Seven Japanese interceptors were shot down by Liberators raiding Truk and Yap, enemy strong points in the Central and Western Carolines. Antiaircraft bagged one at Saipan. Thirty-two were destroyed on the ground, Nimitz said in a belated report on the July 2-3 carrier raid on the Bonin and Kazan Islands, North of Saipan. A total of 241 planes were destroyed or damaged in that two-day strike.

11. The number of men lost in this last triumph campaign has not yet been announced but there's one thing the tired but proud T-and-Tommy-hawk boys will tell you grimly: "This time, the Germans, lost a hell of a lot more."

EXPERTS

The mission also pounded two targets in occupied China, Laoyao, a coal and shipping port on the North China coast and Hankow on the Yangtze river, 450 miles inland, which has been bombed often by Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault's 14th Air Force.

The absence of substantial opposition to the attacking force, military men here suggested, might indicate among other things that the important element of surprise had been attained.

BONDS

(Continued from Page 1) their purchases and we firmly believe that when all the reports get in we will make our entire quota of E bonds during the current drive," Chairman Stennis explained.

Inssofar as the over-all quota $1,240,000 is concerned, this has been surpassed. Over-all sales total $1,480,012.50, or $240,012.50 over the quota. Actual sales of Series E bonds total $201,162 or $163,838 short of the goal.

Largest purchaser of bonds in the Fifth campaign in Gray was Albert Combs, First National bank chairman, who bought $15,000 worth. Runnerup was Bowers brothers, $101,000.

Among other large purchasers were: Humble Oil & Refining, Humble Pipeline, Montgomery Ward, Baash-Ross, Jones & McLaughlin, Continental Supply, Independent Eastern Torpedo, B. F. Goodrich, Canadian Valley Production Credit, Blackmore brothers, Magnolia, Southwestern Bell, Southern Public Service, Continental Oil.

Firestone, Woolworth, Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber, Levine's, Anthony Board Supply, Phillips Northern Natural Gas, Gulf, Skelly, Hughes Tool, Rock Island, Burlington, Santa Fe, Furr Food, Zale Jewelry, Penney, Panhandle Refining, Kewanee, Texas, Radford grocery, Shamrock.

But not all the men were present when the last chapter was written. Nearly 2,000 of those who came ashore at Salerno fell during the first 10 days of September fighting on foreign soil. During two bitter weeks of December, more than 2,000 fell in the assault on San Pietro, and three bloody days at the Rapido in January cost about 1,500 men.

Some of these were wounded and returned to battle later but in addition to these casualties there were the many who fell at Cambrino and Summucro, Mount Magliore, Mount Lungo, Mount Rotundo, and at a score of other battle grounds now marked by cemeteries.

Such casualties caused a complete turnover in the division personnel and although many of the veterans subsequently returned to the ranks, the outfit which was about half Texans at Salerno was all-American when it struck at Velletri. With well trained replacements it was back at full strength again but only 10 or 20 per cent were from the Lone Star state where it originated.

The number of men lost in this last triumph campaign has not yet been announced but there's one thing the tired but proud T-and-Tommy-hawk boys will tell you grimly: "This time, the Germans, lost a hell of a lot more."

Call For Coffey-Wuxtry Urgent!

By BROWNWOOD EMERSON If there's any guy in Pampa harder to find when school isn't in session it must be Odis Coffey, high school director.

For a week I've been trying to get in touch with him. He doesn't have any telephone at his house, and the only chance I have, barring a safari out to his residence, is to run into him downtown. If I can't find him soon, I'll ask Chief Ray Dudley to send out a radio broadcast.

Robot Bombing of England Has Created Real Hate for Germans

By ROBERT BUNNELLE
LONDON, July 8—(AP)—Three weeks of steady bombardment have stirred a blacker hatred here for Hitler and the Nazis than the 1940-41 blitz ever produced, but there is no more question now than then that London can take it.

(Bunnelle, chief of the Associated Press Bureau in London, is a veteran of the blitz.)

Streets are not so crowded as before the raids began. It's easier to get a table at restaurants and many persons are leaving the city. Some theaters have closed down. Subway stations are doing a record service as shelters. Nevertheless, in offices, factories and homes—many now windowless—work and life in London go on about as usual.

As in the blitz, many Londoners find it hard to get sufficient sleep. Many are camped out in apartment house corridors, under staircases or other improvised nooks of comparative safety. But everywhere there is evident a spirit of determination and even a camaraderie that existed during the blitz.

The consensus is solid that the buzz bomb is a more frightful weapon than the kind dropped by planes piloted by humans. People generally view it like the frenzied thrashing of a mortally wounded animal. They hope it will stop but are pretty well resigned that it or something worse

Used Kitchen Fats Will Make Up For Lowered Oil Imports

Recent government figures on the factory consumption of fats and oils on which industry depended before the war, is satisfactorily balanced by a corresponding rise in the production of domestic fat. Specific figures are quoted on the use of fats and oils by soapmakers.

In 1940, the last year of normal peace time economy, American manufacturers looked to the Far East for industrial fats. Millions of pounds of coconut, babassu, palm and other oils were imported annually.

By 1943, the last year of complete figures, these imports had dropped almost out of sight. We were getting 246,000,000 pounds less of coconut oil than in 1940. Babassu oil was down 12,000,000 pounds. Palm and fish oils were both 70,000,000 pounds below prewar averages, and palm and kernel oil was 2,000,000 pounds short. Other fats were down 71,000,000 pounds.

This drop in imported oils might have precipitated shortages of disrupting proportions if the domestic

Record Number Attend Camp

More Boy Scouts attended camp Kl-O-Wah, 16 miles southeast of Canadian, this summer than have attended at any time since the camp was established in 1940. Hugo O. Olsen, executive of the Adobe Walls council said today, in connection with the closing of the camp on July 1. The camp opened June 12.

Attendance this year was 322 scouts and 14 leaders.

The boys were given training in archery, life saving, canoeing, rowing, rifle shooting, pre-ranger and nature study.

From the Gray county district, the following scouters attended with their troops: James A. McClure, Troop 14; Rev. G. L. Gilpin, Troop 18; Wyndell Cox, Troop 17.

Other scouters spending one more day in camp were Pauldie Gellman, W. C. Meharg, E. L. Gallmire, W. L. Waggoner, and Farris O. Oden, Troop 20; Dr. R. Wallace, Troop 22; and L. G. Langston, Gray district camping chairman.

This year the camp was open for three weeks. Up to 1943, the period has been only two weeks.

Camp director this year was Roy E. Killingsworth, graduate of the national aquatic school of the Boy Scouts of America. His assistant was Matthew Doyle of Spearman.

Of Cabbages and Queens
By Jane Bara

This week we can go on record as having dreamed up 55 issues of Cabbages and Queens. Our statistics department reports to date we have persuaded three persons to read the column faithfully...

It is said—but it has come to this—since positively no one at all will tell us any more jokes we have to whip up an enthusiasm over lunatics... yes—amigos, it has come to that—but anyway the story goes that two lunatics were playing a little game:

"What have I got here?" asked one with his hands cupped. "Three Navy Patrol Bombers," was the answer.

We suppose by now you've heard so many stories about saving rubber and scrap iron that you wish that some people would start savoring a little corn—right?

It takes so little to make us glad, to cheer us up, to make us happy! It takes and costs so little to be considerate; it takes so little to cheer others up who are discouraged, so little to lend a helping hand, yet it means so much to others as well as to ourselves.

Here we've gone through our years (and we won't get statistical here) mispronouncing "PRO-gram." Many people have attempted to scotch it, but persuading persons to say "pro-GRAM" is like getting a dental appointment.

IN WARTIME
Just think of all the records kept;
How many planes are flown;
How many ships go down at sea,
In every battle zone.

How much the wartime factories
Turn out in certain hours;
How many countries we must feed,
And what each one devours.

How many men are overseas;
How many bonds are sold;
And almost everything that's done
Is on a list, we're told.

But here are things no list will count;
The empty arms that act, to be considered; it takes
The tears that fall from weeping eyes;
Of all the hearts that break.

Millions of youths of military age are said to have had teeth. These are the lads who get more drilling than they bargained for.

U. S. Slogan: "Back the Attack."
Jap Slogan: "Attack the Back."

Of course you know what a parking space is—a gap in a line of cars alongside the curb, occupied either by a driveway entrance or a fire plug. But Ann and Chet Henry won't have any such difficulty in parking their buggy.

All the kids in the neighborhood feel as though they have a special interest in the little car because it's the size and it looks as though it's going to take a company of armed guards to talk them out of the idea.

If a buttercup is yellow—we suppose a hiccup is purple.

"Say, Mary, isn't it time the baby said Daddy?"
"No, John; I've decided not to tell him who you are until he gets stronger."

Don't look now—gals—but that soldier of yours is carrying a "housewife" along with him. Umh-uh—whether he is still in the States or is serving foreign duty—they gals most probably has a housewife.

The housewife is one of those ingenious gadgets that the Red Cross puts in his utility kit. . . . In other words, chums, he has a sewing kit.

Girls have changed. They still don't trust a man too far, but in the old days they would not trust him too near.

Did you know that a genius is a man with educated bats in his belly?

MRS. JAMES C. SHAW

Lawrence-Shaw Vows Are Said

Nuptials for Miss Madge Lawrence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Lawrence, Kewanee Oil lease, and S/Sgt. James C. Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Shaw of Borger, were held July 2, in the Central Baptist church.

Vows were exchanged at 3 o'clock with the Rev. T. D. Sumrall reading the double ring ceremony.

Cathedral candelabra and tall baskets of gladioli provided a background for the ceremony.

Mrs. O. J. Beene of Dimmitt served as matron of honor and wore powder blue full length dress and a net head-dress caught at the top with a band of velvet.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white tulle dress with length wedding gown fashioned with heart-shaped neck and full length sleeves tapering to a point at wrist.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue street-length dress with dusty rose accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of navy blue with white accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Following the marriage ceremony a reception took place in the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Sweetman, 318 N. Gillespie.

Immediately after the reception the couple left for a short wedding trip. Mrs. Shaw traveled in a tomato red two-piece dress with white trimming and black patent accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Pampa High school and a member of the National Honor society and Latin club. She attended school at Texas Tech for three years and completed her college work at Canyon in 1943.

The topic, "Preservation of Our Flowers" will be discussed by Mrs. Charles Madetra.

Garden club members who have flowers blooming and will make an arrangement to be shown at the club meeting are asked to contact Mrs. H. M. Luna, program chairman, either Wednesday and Thursday.

The elephant and the donkey as symbols of political parties were both originated by the cartoonist Thomas Nast. The Democratic donkey was first cartooned by Nast in 1870; the Republican, elephant in 1874.

Marriage Ritual for Former Pampa Teacher Is Read in Washington

Marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Ethel Ruth Hart, daughter of Mr. Wm. D. Hart of Corsicana, Texas, and Colin B. Cameron, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cameron of Seattle, in Chehalis, Wash., at the home of the bridegroom's sisters, the Misses Hannah and Rhoda Cameron.

Preceding the ceremony, "Oh, Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly," were played by the bridegroom's father at the organ. The couple stood before the fireplace which was banked with ferns, white carnations and roses, and flanked on either side by tall standards of calla lilies.

The bride wore a going-away suit of blue with black and white accessories for the trip to Seattle. The bride was graduated from West Texas State college at Canyon and for the past six years has been teaching in Gray county schools, and Woodrow Wilson for the past two years.

The bridegroom was graduated from Walsenburg High school in Colorado and is employed in the United States Plywood Corporation in Seattle. He was recently discharged from services in the United States Army.

Several Pampa Churches Hold Daily Vacation Bible Schools for Youth

Zion Lutheran church announces the opening of a summer school during the next two weeks of July for the benefit of those children who are not away on a vacation at present. Classes will be held five days a week, Monday through Friday, from 9:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m., during the weeks of July 10-14 and July 17-21.

Every major story told is illustrated with slides, films or pictures. Two special films, 60 minutes each, featuring the church at work in various mission fields of the world will be presented during the two weeks of instruction. No fee will be charged, as the entire course is free.

The Vacation Church school of the First Methodist church began last Wednesday morning, with an enrollment of 70, and the attendance has been regular each day through the week.

Courses of study, hand-work and recreation for the children of the junior, primary and beginners departments are offered.

The school, under the supervision of the week of July 10, with classes beginning each morning at 9 o'clock and dismissed at 11 o'clock.

At the picnic we found a nice, cool spot under the trees in the park and there proceeded to take care of the sandwiches, pickles, potato chips, and watermelon. (Why does food always creep into my conversation?)

Well, whaddya know? Harriet De Waele who's from Philadelphia too, and a Buckle-up! We had a good time at the picnic and we had a good time at the picnic and we had a good time at the picnic.

Our welcome party for the 44-H wives at the home of Mrs. Doc Schwartz will be held Tuesday at 7:00. Informally, it will be the keynote of this party, bathing suits, shorts, anything cool and ready for wear.

We have a new pastime this week, that of making a record of our fortunes. My cold, scientific mind scoffs at the truth of any of the statements—BUT—I can't help wondering what makes the doggone thing work?

Recruitment of women for the Army Air Forces Weather Wing was announced today by S/Sgt. Monte Wilhelm. AAF was recruiting team member in Amarillo.

Party Is Held For B.T.U. in LeFors

A party was held Thursday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Callahan when the Young People's B.T.U. of the LeFors Baptist church were entertained.

Games were played on the lawn and ice cream and cake were served to the following guests: Douglas McDonald, Wanda Jo Henry, Muriel Guthrie, Maxine White, Doyal Guthrie, Georgia Mae Elms, Helen Cobb, Eloise Brister, Rev. and Mrs. Dan Belz, Mrs. Buford Minter, Betty Mae Vanlandingham, Vernie Wayne Callahan, Sue Vanlandingham, Evonne Crossan, Maxine Crossan, Raymond Vandeland, Willard Doorn, Jr., Clifford Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Callahan and son Wynndel, Lloyd.

The Youth Caravan workers, Miss Irene Stewart, adult counselor of Stamford; Miss Sue Lane, of Killmore; Miss Elizabeth Dellinger, of Dodge City, Kans., and Miss Francis Ryden, of Waco, have just completed a week in assisting the local workers of the First Methodist church, in their work with the youth.

These Caravaners are all experienced in youth work and have been trained for this particular kind of service. The services were helpful and inspirational and each one attending received some special benefit," said the Rev. E. B. Bowen, minister of the church.

The final service was Friday evening. A consecration service was held, and was followed by communion.

City Well 4 To Be in Use Soon

Between July 13 and July 20, Pampa's water supply is due to be supplemented by production from well 4, James B. Massa, city water department superintendent, said Saturday.

Development of the well is slated to begin tomorrow morning. It will be developed for 100 hours prior to a 24-hour test.

A test pump was put in the hole yesterday.

Work on the well started June 10 by a crew of 10 laborers of the Layne-Texas Co., Ltd., of Dallas and Houston.

The 80-foot derrick caused some Pampans to infer that an oil well was being drilled within the city limits. Others repeated rumors that the well was producing only salt water, and one man said that the city water was much better since "the well had started pumping into the city lines."

Pampa is using much less water this summer than last when a serious shortage threatened. In the last month, consumption was 35,902,200 gallons, compared with 57,133,200 gallons for June, 1943.

Supt. Massa attributed the decline to increased rain this year over 1943.

In the last week of July, 1943, Pampans were using water at the rate of more than 2,000,000 gallons daily. This usage extended into August when the all-time daily high of 3,778,400 gallons was reached on August 2.

Lucas Gusher Caused Considerable Furor Throughout Nation

(Editor's Note—This is another in the series of brief accounts of Texas as oil highlights, in connection with the observance of the Silver Anniversary of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.)

News of the Lucas gusher at Spindletop—a gusher of oil—was flashed around the world and the development that followed was destined to give the earth sufficient oil not only for light and lubrication but for fuel and power.

A wild boom swept Beaumont from a population of 9,000 to 50,000. Special trains were run from New York, St. Louis, Philadelphia and other cities; national speculation in oil stocks occurred for the first time—America had become "oil conscious."

Over 500 derricks sprang up on the 144 acres of Spindletop and the field produced 3,800,000 barrels its first year and 14,000,000 in 1902.

Many of the outstanding executives of the industry received their training at Spindletop; some of the greatest oil companies, notably the Texas, Gulf and Humble, can be said to have had their inception there.

Houston and Port Arthur, as well as Beaumont, were given tremendous and lasting impetus. Other rich fields in the hinterland area were opened. And so the results of Spindletop, like the ever-widening circles produced by throwing a stone into a lake, have continued to this day.

On the fortieth anniversary of the Lucas gusher, a monument—sponsored by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association—was unveiled. Inscribed thereon are these words:

"Petroleum has revolutionized industry and transportation; it has created untold wealth, built cities, furnished employment to hundreds of thousands and contributed billions of dollars in taxes to support institutions of government. In a brief span of years, it has altered man's way of life throughout the world."

The mountain regions of the northwestern United States contain more extinct volcanoes than any other equal area in the world.

Trouble Comes Triple For Collegian Hardy

No words are necessary to express Mickey Rooney's feeling in this picture. It's all action, with Bonita Granville as the compelling force in M-G-M's latest in the Hardy Family series, "Andy Hardy's Blonde Trouble." Lewis Stone, Sara Haden, Fay Holden, favorites in the series, are seen in their usual roles, while Herbert Marshall and Miss Granville are newcomers.

By BROWNWOOD EMERSON

Triple blonde trouble confronts Andy Hardy in the newest of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer series, "Andy Hardy's Blonde Trouble," showing today through Wednesday at the LaNora.

When Andy sets off for Wainwright he has great plans for his college career. That is, before he meets Bonita Granville on the train and becomes involved with the fortunes of the Wilde twins, who, just to confuse matters, pretend to be one girl instead of two.

The cast includes the regular Hardy Family players, Lewis Stone, Fay Holden and Sara Haden.

The Barbary Coast of San Francisco is the locale of Warner's "Frisco Kid" with James Cagney, Margaret Lindsay, Ricardo Cortez, and Lili Damita in the featured roles. Cagney has the role of a crude, ignorant, but dominating sailor with a core that wins beauty and eventually the love of the beauty of the upperworld. The picture opens a three-day run today at the Rex.

Texas' sister state, Oklahoma, gets a bow in Republic's "In Old Oklahoma," brought to the screen by Republic and based on Thompson Burris' story, "War of the Wildcats."

The time is 1906 and the locale is Sapulpa and Tulsa in the roaring pioneer oil development days. John Wayne and Martha Scott have the leading roles in this picture showing today and tomorrow at the Crown.

British Ribbons Are Pinned on Americans

IN NORMANDY, July 8—(AP)—In a trampled layfield within earshot of booming guns supporting the American attack, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery pinned British ribbons of valor on seven Americans Friday for their heroism in the invasion of France. Three others received awards but were not present.

Those receiving awards included: Maj. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, commander of the 101st Airborne Division, who jumped with his men in the invasion of France, and received the Distinguished Service Order.

Capt. Sam H. Hall, Jr., of Texas, Texas, D.S.O. First Sgt. Asa C. Ricks, Pharr, Texas, Military Medal. Capt. Richard J. O'Malley, Military Cross. (Address unknown).

First Sgt. Norman Day, Distinguished Medal (address unknown). Names of the other recipients cannot be given because of censorship restrictions.

Capt. Ball won his award for bravery in carrying out his mission to clear underwater obstacles on the beach during the landing. In a heavy sea half his men failed to land and 25 per cent of those who did land were casualties. But he reorganized the company and led it into the assault.

The ceremony was over when Sgt. Ricks came running up. He had just come in from the front lines and had been delayed. So there was little ceremony for the sergeant who had led a company in defense of a bridge. When the enemy attacked with tanks he remained at his fire-swept post and covered the withdrawal of his unit to the other side of the bridge which it held.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK WALL STREET NEW YORK, July 8—(AP)—Bulls led the stock market on another advance today, many favorites touching 7-year peaks with most of the gains to be attributed to Dow Jones, lively at the opening, stayed appreciably higher through the day. The return of investment funds to securities was ascribed partly to the belief the recent slide-wise shift of trends may have provided the needed technical correction of the long uptwing. In addition, war developments and talk of nearby reconversion, and automotive and other plants served to inspire purchasers.

Well in front were Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, M. Y. Central, Pullman, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, Phillips Petroleum, Budd MFG., Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone and Western Union "A."

Bonds were narrow and commodities higher.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 8—(AP)—Reaction to yesterday's bullish trade hit the grain market today, and wheat futures prices advanced sharply. Transactions during the preceding session had sapped much of the buying interest in wheat's price, while hedging sales increased.

Traders believed yesterday's advance was sufficient to discount the weakness news that the war food administration had increased from 85 to 90 per cent of parity wheat loan rate.

Some eagerness also was attributed to reports that prices paid by the commodity credit corporation for wheat would not be affected by the increase in the loan rate. Purchases and sales made on the basis of six cents over the old loan rate.

As the close wheat was 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 under yesterday's finish, July 1.85 1/2. Oats were off 3/4 to 3/8, July 77 1/2. Rye was 1/2 to 1/4 lower, July 83 1/2. Barley was 1/2 higher to 1 1/4 lower, July 1.26.

National War Fund Ships 3,000 Tennis Rackets to Prisoners

It wasn't included in Hitler's calculations, but the war may be the means of developing an entirely new crop of tennis champions, Wayland D. Towner, Austin, general manager of the United War Chest of Texas, revealed today.

Towner, himself a former University of Maine tennis star, announced that war prisoners are being supplied with tennis rackets to play tennis in their prison camps.

"Our boys in the hands of the enemy are going in for tennis in a big way," Towner said. "It would not be surprising if we hear soon that the 'barbed wire league' is turning out a new group of Tildens and Budgees."

Included in recent shipments also were 35,000 tennis balls, so the enemy camps may keep their games in top shape.

Carrier Makes $45 Per Month In City Route

Francis Hunt

The boy with the All-American smile, Francis Hodge Hunt, above, has the typical Texas trait of liking to ride horses. He doesn't use a horse, though, to cover his route, as it is the downtown city news stands and business district, and a horse probably wouldn't be able to get in and out very well.

Francis is a native Texan, born March 31, at Byers. He is 14 years old, was in the eighth grade in junior high school this past school year, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hunt, 307 Malone.

This week's carrier is 14 years old, has grey eyes, and brown hair, and is 5 feet 3 inches tall.

Besides horse-back riding, hunting and fishing are his other favorite sports.

He started as a carrier in December, 1941, for The Pampa News, and since that time his average earnings have been $45 a month. Francis has saved also enough for two bonds.

City Has Good Deal of New Equipment in Operation Now

It took nine months to do it and dealings with the War Production Board, Office of Defense Transportation and Treasury Department, but the city of Pampa has finally added some much-needed equipment to supplement the worn-out trucks and other vehicles of its street and water departments.

City Manager W. C. deCordova made it known yesterday that the city now has three new pick-up trucks, a force spreader, a hydraulic loader, and a sweeper.

Contrary to the impression of some, new equipment costs less than second-hand. Reason for this is that new equipment has to be obtained through war-time restrictions, while there are none on used.

This means that the city obtained its new vehicles at a cost only slightly above what it would have cost a decade ago.

For example, the 10-foot spreader, bought from the Burch Corporation, Crestline, Ohio, cost $629; the one-half ton pick-up trucks, two 1942 Dodges and one 1942 Ford, cost $533 each for the Dodges and $541.90 for the Ford.

Meanwhile, the county has purchased an asphalt distributor from Littleford Brothers, Inc., Cincinnati, Ohio, for $1,400.

From W. E. Grace Manufacturing company the city has bought a 550-pound sweeper for $600, used in sweeping streets.

The spreader and distributor are to be used by both the county and city. Had this provision not been made it would have been impossible under federal regulations to have purchased the equipment at all.

That will be spread by one of these devices in conjunction with seal coating streets and highways. It is imperative, Manager deCordova said, that seal coating be applied this summer to prevent pavement cracking this winter, and if enough labor can be employed, this will be done.

The hydraulic loader will scoop up 3 1/2-cubic yard of dirt at a time, then lifts it 8 feet into the air and into a truck.

Work started Friday in using the loader on LeFors street where the grade is being lowered for two blocks. It will also be used for the same purpose on one block on N. Russell.

Some of this equipment was received here a month ago; the latest, the three pick-up trucks, last Wednesday. The trucks replace a 1936 Ford and a 1938 Chevrolet, both of the same capacity, that were worn-out and have been sold to another Ford truck that was a total wreck.

To the water department goes two of the new vehicles, the Fords and one of the Dodges, while the street department gets the other Dodge.

Manager deCordova started on the plan to buy the new equipment when he attended a city manager's convention in San Antonio last October.

The pick-up trucks, latest of the equipment, were acquired from the U. S. Treasury department, Fort Worth, but delivery was taken in San Antonio and the trucks driven from there to Pampa.

The history of the regular army of the United States dates from June 14, 1775, when Congress authorized the enlistment of a corps of ten companies of riflemen for one year in the services of the United Colonies.

Rep. Luce's Speech Draws Much Comment

WASHINGTON, July 8—(AP)—Rep. Charles McNichols' speech at the Republican convention in Chicago has stirred up a tempest in the mail box.

Letters and cards commenting on her convention address are arriving at the rate of 150 a day, for the blonde Connecticut Congresswoman.

The reaction depends mostly on how you feel about President Roosevelt. The lissome Mrs. Luce raised the suggestion that "skillful statesmanship" during the president's three terms in office might have headed off the war, and the consequent sufferings of "G. I. Joes" and the deaths of "G. I. Jims."

This angered many a writer, and drew expressions of credence from others. Some extolled her courage and brilliant phrases; others expressed shock at her use of "G. I. Joe" and "G. I. Jim" for what they regarded as political purposes.

The favorable comments outnumbered the unfavorable. One member of her staff said the percentage was four to one.

A Texas oil man wrote that Mrs. Luce should be sent down there immediately, because "you can carry Texas."

Another Texan wrote he had thought of you as a beautiful girl with perhaps too much talent, who made a publisher with a basketful of million dollar bills and who became a Congressman for the notoriety and perhaps the novelty.

"But, after listening to your truly great address," he continued, "it came to me how utterly wrong I had been in my idle appraisal of you, for it is true that only a woman with a great soul and a rare depth of political understanding could possibly deliver such an outstanding encomium with so much obvious sincerity, and as a Democrat I salute you."

One writer thought the speech ranked with Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

Society Recommends Works Projects Soon

NEW YORK, July 8—(AP)—Construction projects aggregating $15,000,000 should be ready for bids by July 1, 1945, in order to assure adequate employment in this type work in the first year of peace, the American Society of Civil Engineers said Friday.

The committee said the Engineering News-Record reported postwar construction projects for which plans are underway or complete at $3,250,000 as of June 30, a gain of $600,000 from the end of 1943.

De Gaulle Visit May Make Better Diplomatic Tie

WASHINGTON, July 8.—(AP)—American officials freely predicted today that the visit of General Charles de Gaulle to Washington would bring a substantial improvement in French-American relations and lead eventually to a satisfactory working agreement between the French National Committee and the United States government.

The chance of personality clashes such as marked the last meeting of De Gaulle and President Roosevelt at Casablanca 18 months ago appears to have vanished in an atmosphere of marked friendliness, keyed already by an exchange of pledges between De Gaulle and Secretary of State Hull for French-American unity.

The general had a luncheon date at the White House in early afternoon. Thereafter until dinnertime his schedule was clear, and it seemed probable that the first of his several talks with Mr. Roosevelt would begin after the luncheon.

De Gaulle arrived late yesterday by plane and was met with full military honors, including a 17-gun salute. U. S. Army, Navy, Air and Marine Corps commanders greeted him as he stepped off the plane.

Waiting limousines sped him to the White house where President Roosevelt and the cabinet received him.

De Gaulle's main conferences with President Roosevelt are to be held Saturday.

New Franchise Is Asked by Utility

Renewal of a proposal made last January 29, when the Texas Gas & Power corporation, sought a 20-year franchise from the old city commission, was asked of the new commission at its meeting this week.

Present franchise of the utility concern is due to expire in 1950. In its place the company seeks a new 20-year contract. No advance in rates is asked.

Reasons presented for the new franchise are the same as in the original proposal. The company states that to guarantee an adequate supply of natural gas for postwar needs, it will have to lay more pipelines, install compression equipment on present lines, or acquire additional sources.

The city commission gave no answer to the company's request, but tabled the proposal for a subsequent meeting.

J. W. Garman, president, and Luther Pierson, treasurer, of the gas concern, appeared before the commission to present the application.

Court Gives Man Stay of Execution

PITTSFIELD, Mass., July 8.—(AP)—John P. Noxon, Jr., 47-year-old lawyer, was sentenced Friday to death in the electric chair for the electrocution slaying last Sept. 22 of his six-months-old mentally deficient son, Lawrence.

Sentence was imposed by Judge Abraham E. Pinanski after Noxon, availing himself of the privilege of addressing the court, said: "I want to repeat again, what I said during the trial, that I did not kill my son. I'm innocent of this terrible charge."

Calmly and stolidly, Noxon stood in the prisoners' cage and heard Judge Pinanski sentence him to die.
