

Interest Shown In Hinton Trial Here This Week

Big Crowds And Many Witnesses In Wellington From Hall County

Allred Case

Argument Heard Wednesday; Expect Case To Go To Jury Today

Following the testimony of more than 50 witnesses, who appeared in the trial of Eldon Hinton of Hall County, charged with the murder of his father, S. G. Hinton, near Estelline on August 27, 1932, district court adjourned here at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon as the testimony hearing closed.

Judge A. J. Fires delivered the court charge to the jury Wednesday morning and the arguments were scheduled to be heard Wednesday afternoon with the trial to be placed with the jury Wednesday.

In addition to the large number of witnesses appearing in the trial a large crowd of persons from Hall County also attended the trial, the first two days of which was heard before a packed court room—and many persons were forced to stand in the hallway adjoining the court room.

The trial was transferred to this court from Hall County.

The trial of Fred Allred, Quail, indicted by the grand jury and released on $5,000 bond, is scheduled to be held May 17. Allred was indicted for shooting John Daves at Quail on February 23.

Several divorce cases are also listed on the court docket, but no definite date has been set for the trial of these cases, according to the district clerk.

Pioneer Barely Escapes With Life As Fire Ruins Home And Belongings

Barely escaping with his life, William Forbis, early settler, half-choked and overcome with smoke, crawled through his bedroom window at 4 o'clock Thursday morning and saw his home completely demolished by fire of an unknown origin.

As Mr. Forbis stood, grateful for his life, and watched his home—the place in which he had spent the greater part of his life and reared his children—he recalled the events leading to the construction of the

Courthouse Lawn Dressed Up This Week

The City Federation, this week, cooperating with the commissioners court, supervised the setting out of grass on the courthouse lawn and the planting of flowers and shrubs in the terrace between the sidewalk and the building.

The work was done by persons employed by the county, as a relief measure, and was supervised by Mrs. W. R. Orr and Mrs. W. Y. Burden, who represented the City Federation.

County Judge Luther Gribble reported that special water rates had been secured from the city and that the county expected to keep the lawn watered, thus making it as attractive as possible this summer.

Council Effects Low Water Rate For Summer Use

Lowest Rate In History To Encourage Beautification Of Lawns

The lowest summer rate on water in the history of Wellington was authorized by the City Council Monday night when a rate of 20 cents a thousand was authorized after the first 3,000 gallons. The rate on the first 3,000 will remain the same as in former years.

"This rate has been made," Deskins Wells, mayor, declared, "in an effort to help the citizens of the town beautify their lawns and keep gardens during the summer months. It is not intended primarily as a rate reduction but as a means of giving those who want more water for the same money. The action putting the rate in effect is an optional one, as the City Council reserves the right to withdraw the rate in event of an emergency caused by a drought or any other cause. The Council has also reserved the right to withdraw the rate in event that a sufficient consumption of water is not obtained to keep the gross income of the water system somewhere near what it has been. It is believed, however, that there will be no need of withdrawing the rate as it is thought that many people would like to use more water than they have been accustomed to use, but that the expense often slowed down the consumption."

Petition Seeks Relief Money For Road Work

County Commissioners Petition Legislature To Secure Funds

Road Funds

Will Make Effort To Secure Money For Sections Not Included In Area

Members of the Collingsworth County Commissioners Court Wednesday petitioned the Texas Legislature to use every legitimate influence toward having the public works program provide highway work in all sections that will be little reached by the reforestation and flood control work recently adopted by Congress and included in President Roosevelt's huge program for the relief of the unemployed.

The petition reads: Whereas, President Roosevelt's program is to include an huge public works program, planned primarily to relieve unemployment, and its adoption by Congress seems certain, and

Whereas, reforestation and flood control work proposed to be included in this program would bring about comparatively little relief to Texas, and

Whereas, a primary need of Texas, especially West Texas, is a correlated system of highways, and as compared with other proposed public works, for Texas, highway improvement would not only provide the maximum of unemployment relief, but would be a permanent investment, and provide the greatest benefits to the citizens of Texas, and

Whereas, such highway improvement could be efficiently handled through the Federal and State highway departments, and without the creation of any new agencies, and

Whereas, funds are needed for projects already proposed for West Texas, of which our county is a part;

Therefore, Be It Resolved: That we urge a united support of our citizenship to President Roosevelt to effectively carry out his program; and

That we enter an earnest solicitation that highway construction be made a major phase of the public works program in Texas; and

That we call upon the Texas Legislature, through Senator C. C. Small, and Representative John E. Puryear, and the Texas delegation in Congress, through Senators Morris Sheppard and Tom Connally, and Congressman Marvin Jones, to use every legitimate influence to have the public works program provide highway construction in sections that will be little reached by reforestation and

Surprised Man Pours Out Beer By Mistake

A Wellington man lost over a case of mighty good home brew this week when he failed to understand the nature of a visit paid him by local officers.

Ed Pryor, constable, and Paul Hardy, city marshal, accompanied by Bert Smith, Texola deputy, early this week made a surprise visit on a local man in search of school supplies and household articles stolen at Texola.

As they entered the house they were surprised to find the man busy breaking and pouring out a quantity of beer. Their warrants called only for the stolen property search, however, and no arrest was made. No trace was found of the stolen articles.

FAILINGS OF THE GREAT

It has become quite common of late for authors and critics to dig into the private lives of great men, with a new view to exposing their human frailties. There can be no particular objections to this, so long as it is not attempted to belittle the service these men have rendered to mankind.

Every man and woman has certain defects of character, and this has always been so. It is a further fact that some of those who have contributed most to civilization have been guilty of moral offenses which would be sternly condemned today.

As a matter of history, many of the world's greatest leaders have led reprehensible private lives, as measured by commonly accepted standards. It even may be asserted that in the case of the very highest types of genius this has been the rule rather than the exception.

But in estimating the permanent place should be accorded these men in the esteem of the world, only the service which they rendered to humanity should be considered. A recent writer well expressed this idea, thus:

"Every leader must be tested not by his private conduct, but by his public behavior. Did he serve well his day and generation? If he did, all else will be forgiven and forgotten."

SOME BAPTIST FIGURES

Statistics contained in the recently issued Southern Baptist handbook have been widely commented on, especially in the South, and it might be interesting to compare some of the figures contained in that official publication. They give some idea of how the depression is effecting the religious zeal and spending habits of an important American demonstration.

According to the handbook, Southern Baptists contributed less than 33 million dollars to their church last year, a decrease of 13 per cent from the previous year. A more favorable showing is made in membership matters however. There was a gain of 94,288 members, the largest gain since 1923, while gains were reported in the number of churches and Sunday schools for the first time since 1925. The gain in Sunday school enrollment was one of the largest ever known in a single year.

But in spite of numerical gains the financial showing is disappointing to the authors of the handbook, who point out that while the membership of 3,944,566 give less than 33 million dollars to the church, they spent more than 35 million for movies, about 35 million for soft drinks and chewing gum, 40 million for tobacco and more than 43 million for cosmetics and other beauty aids. Which leads Dr. Alldredge, secretary of survey statistics, to exclaim, "God pity and help us!"

We don't know how other churches would stack up in comparison with the above showing, but we imagine their habits of giving and spending would average about the same as those of the Baptist. Folks will have their little luxuries when possible; sometimes, we fear, even at the risk of neglecting their church obligations. And how to charge their ways in this respect is a real problem.

FAMOUS WOMAN HIKER

Of recent years many women explorers have braved the dangers of mountain, river and jungle in search of adventure or scientific knowledge, or both. Among them Mrs. Alicia Renthall an English woman, is one of the most daring.

For 20 years she has been traversing remote wild regions, mostly on foot, and has been around the world six times. Her wanderings have carried her across Africa several times, as well as into Tibet, Arabia, Syria, India, Central America and elsewhere.

One remarkable characteristic of Mrs. Renthall is that in her jungle explorations she goes unarmed, carrying nothing more formidable than an umbrella. She recently said:

"I have been quite close to lions and leopards in the bush, but they have never harmed me or any of my carriers. I always go unarmed, and I think wild animals know by instinct that I have no desire to kill."

While admiring Mrs. Renthall's superb courage and taking her word for the harmlessness of lions and leopards, most folks would shrink from penetrating an African jungle unarmed only with an umbrella.

THE PASSING VETERANS

According to the adjutant-general's office in Washington, 2,128,948 Union soldiers served in the Civil War, while the best estimates place the number of Confederates at between 800,000 and 900,000, no accurate record being available.

The government pension roll shows only 27,673 Union veterans, while a recent survey places the number of living Confederates at no more than 10,406. This, it will be seen, shows a fairly equal percentage of survivors of the two armies.

Considering that it will be 68 years on April 9 since Lee's surrender, it seems remarkable that even the numbers mentioned are still alive, as one who was a boy soldier only 15 years old at the close of the war would now be 83. However, when it is remembered that the last survivor of the Mexican War lived more than 80 years after the end of that struggle, it may be expected that a good many Civil War veterans have several more years ahead of them.

The idea that women are hard to please is refuted by a look at some of the husbands they pick out.

How the mighty have fallen! In two years Babe Ruth was cut from $80,000 to $52,000 a year.

WELLINGTON People . . . Places . . . Philosophy

By Jimmie Giltentine

Last week Deck took me to the Panhandle Press convention at Amarillo. I think he just wanted to hear the big speech he made and all of the (nice?) things the other editors said about him. Anyway, I had a fine time and two or three West Texas editors wanted to know where I got all of these Best "Lies" of the week. Naturally, I didn't tell them the secret—and here is one that is bigger and better than ever.

Best Story Of the Week

Little June Ann Nix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mannon Nix, formerly of this city and incidentally the granddaughter of Casey Jones, visited last week in the Shamrock kindergarten. June Ann is three years of age and this happened to be her first experience with schools. While she was visiting the class the teacher mentioned the fact that George Washington was dead. Having heard very much about Mr. Washington, June Ann was greatly shocked and spent the remainder of the afternoon squirming about in her chair. As soon as the class was released, she went to her father's funeral parlor and told him the terrible news, "George Washington is dead." Her father failed to be greatly shocked—and June Ann spent the remainder of the afternoon crying because her father would not take out his hearse and go after George Washington's body.

Which goes to prove that you have to be careful what you tell children because that frequently puts an entirely different interpretation on statements and facts.

Anything Might Happen Now

Right now I feel better than I have ever felt about the community garden business. Wellington has a forestry bureau. Yes Sir, right here in Collingsworth County, where children sometimes get to be 21 years old and vote before they ever see a tree. When something like that happens, who would be surprised if this garden idea or anything else went over? Twenty-nine local boys are going to secure work through the Reforestation Service and everyone thinks that these boys will work on the Col. Goodnight trail in Palo Duro Canyon section. Thousands and thousands of dollars will be spent on this tribute to the West Texas pioneers, who blazed the trails across the plains in the early days. But would you have ever expected this county to have a forestry bureau? The next thing you know this county will quit having sand storms and Claude Neece will be furnishing half of China from that rice patch he claims to have.

The Kiwanis Club certainly believes in starting early on their projects. They have a jar, over at John Bevers' place, which says, "Help a hungry child. Kiwanis Goodfellows Christmas Fund." Oh well, it's only 228 more days until Christmas.

Just Another Rabbit Story

Herschel Combs visited at Olton over the week end and came back here telling some of the biggest rabbit stories you ever heard. He says that rabbits are so thick in that section that even the wolves are afraid of them—in fact, he says that they have chased all of the wolves out of the country and that only Great Danes and extra large German Police dogs exist in that country for any length of time—and even those dogs are afraid to get out after night because the rabbits get so hungry that they become vicious. All of my life I have wanted to see a pack of rabbits after a dog. Yes Sir, I sure would hate to live out there because all of the rabbits might get hungry and make a man drive sometime. Anyway, Herschel and his uncle, Luther McClure, who moved away from here in 1925, killed 273 rabbits one morning with a .22 rifle.

Glenn Anderson returned this week from an extended tour of South Texas. Glenn started to South America and got to Houston. Next time if he will start to China maybe he will get to South America.

From a Bad Fad to Worse

Monday morning I heard a man literally cussing these little paddles to which rubber balls are attached with a long rubber band. "These Blankety-Blank paddles give me a Blankety-Blank pain," said the man. I think he was exactly right, too—because I can't get the knack or learn how to do them either. As someone said, those paddle things are even sillier than Yo-Yos—because you could carry the Yo-Yos in your pocket. The Jig-Saw puzzles were really the most practical fad, due to the fact that they could be worked right in your home and made you offensive only to your family—a group that really does not usually expect much else from you anyhow.

Graduation Exercises Furnished "Big Moment" For Old Timers

Every Member Of 1910 Graduating Class Made Good Pioneer "School Kids" Had Troubles; But They Had Good Times, Too

By Mrs. Pink Sullivan

Since the early days the people of Wellington and Collingsworth County have had big "moments" in their humdrum, busy and weary years.

The first momentous event was the completion, in 1893, of the red brick court house. The big hearts of those early sturdy pioneers of Collingsworth county filled with pride when they rode into sight of its tall steeple. What an impressive building in the middle of a big section with a dozen frame houses scattered here and there.

One thought of those lines often about Selkirk, "I am a march of all I survey." Later on people from all parts of the country filed in and braved the hardships for years to make this country their home. When the first Railroad, the Wichita Falls and North Western, arrived in the fall of 1910, these people were glad to know their efforts had not been in vain.

Our Pioneers Knew Life

In 1917, when the greater part of our eligible boys marched away to join the army amid applause and a big celebration, the hearts of the home people filled with pride and sorrow for they knew some of these boys were destined never to return.

On down through the years, as they clicked off one by one, the younger generation, along side the older, felt pangs of regret when the walls of the old court house began to fall, to give way to the construction of the new court house. In 1932, when the new court house was completed and a formal opening was held every man, woman, and child, pioneer and new comer, pointed to it with pride and called the new building our new court house.

The same year when the second Railroad, arrived and ran their Specials, the citizens experienced another thrill. Cold chills ran up and down their spines when those two long trains pulled in with whistles blowing.

When the new highway is completed and opened to traffic, another milestone will have been reached by our progressive people. Graduated Before First Railroad.

Going back through the years, one of the biggest moments for Wellington was the graduation of the first students from the Wellington Public School. This was in May, 1910.

All Wellington was agog! The citizens were elated, and the gossip had material to work on. Those who were interested in the welfare of the town and appreciated the significance of the First Graduating Class, in the little town, sponsored by a big banquet given in honor of the graduates. The banquet was given at one of the lodge halls. The entire town was invited. The fond parents were not the only humans bursting with pride, but the whole town was in the same predicament.

Even Prof. Calloway and Charlie Litchfield, two of the most beloved bachelors who ever lived in Wellington felt a great pride in knowing they were at the helm of the craft that made port in Wellington with the first graduates.

The first graduates were: Minnie Wiles, Irene Clark, Jan Isbelle, Lenora Stall, Katherine Boverie, Harry Couch, and Clyde Penrod.

Graduation Exercises Their class colors were Blue and Gold; class flower, carnation; class motto, "Who stays in the valley, ne'er sees over the hill"

The commencement sermon was preached Sunday, May, 22 by Rev. R. B. Morgan, Pastor of First Baptist Church, Memphis.

The Graduating Exercises were held Saturday evening, May, 21. The program was as follows:

Invocation, Rev. W. T. Cantrell. Aria Con Variazioni, Lenora Stall.

Oration, "Our Today and Tomorrow and the blocks on which we build." Clyde Penrod.

Reading, "His Second Trail" Minnie Wiles.

Class History, Irene Clark.

Class prophecy, Jan Isbelle.

Essay, The Beauty and Glory of the Progressive Present, Katherine Boverie.

Norwegian Procession, Irene Clark.

Address, R. A. Hearon, Dean

Housed First Graduating Class

The white, frame building, pictured above, housed the members of the first graduating class from the Wellington Public schools in 1910. This was the second frame building to be erected on the site north of the railroad, the first building having burned in 1907, and the building was built with the first school bond ever issued in Wellington.

Polytechnic College.

Yes They Had Sand Storms

While the program was in full sway, one of the terrific sand storms blew up. The kind that can occur in this country when the "Gods Are Angry." It was followed by a big rain. Most of the audience wanted to leave but they couldn't desert the graduates and their enthused parents.

The girls were dressed in white dresses and most of them were white messaline. The younger girls, the eighth and ninth graders, (freshmen and sophomores were unknown at that time) wondered if they would ever finish and wear a white messaline dress. That magic word, "messaline," slipped from their tongues as easily as the material slipped from their fingers.

The Board of Trustees at that time were: W. A. Morrow, President; P. W. Myers, Secretary; S. C. Somerville, Census Trustee; C. B. Boverie, R. T. Nunn; Seymour Collins, E. A. Wells.

The Faculty included: J. J. Calloway, B. A. Superintendent; C. E. Litchfield, Principal; Miss Maude Mathis, Grades; Miss Barsa McManus, Grades; Miss Sallie K. Kelley, Grades; Miss Mary E. Bourland, Grades Mrs. W. N. Benson, Grades Miss Willie Jenkins, Elocution; Mrs. L. J. Magee, Music.

The course of study for the seniors enrolled that first year consisted of English—Halleck's History of English Literature; History—Advanced course in U. S. History and Towne's Civil Government; Geometry—Wentworth's Revised; Latin—Bennett's Latin Grammar, Cicero's Orations and Books I-II of Virgil.

First Graduates Made Good

This all happened 23 years ago. Those graduates have travelled various roads. Some have visited far countries, but all have climbed up the ladder of success.

Reports have been obtained from all these graduates except Irene Clark. Irene was the daughter of Rev. M. W. Clark, pastor of the Methodist Church in 1910-11. After they left Wellington, all account of her was lost by friends.

Eddie Dobbs, one of the brightest members of the class, before the year was out, felt the call of far countries and at the time of graduation, perchance he was on board a tramp steamer bound for China.

Minnie Wiles, after graduating at Wellington, attended Polytechnic. She later attended Chicago University. Minnie is now ranked as one of the best English teachers in Texas. For three years she was Dean of Women in Texarkana High School. At present she is teaching English in the High School at Corsicana.

Clyde Penrod, after graduating from W. H. S., attended Baylor University, obtaining his degree there. He then entered the banking business and served as Asst. Cashier in the City National Bank of Wichita Falls, Texas, for a number of years. During the oil boom Clyde became connected with the Texhoma Co. and later made his headquarters in Shreveport, La., and Jackson, Miss. He now lives in Dallas, and is Manager of Credit Dept. of Simms Oil Company. In 1917 Clyde married Miss Florence Wiles formerly of Wellington. They have two daughters, Roberta, age 11 and Mary Ruth, age 7.

Harry Couch, after finishing, spent three years at Baylor University and then the next year he entered a business school at Chillicothe, Mo. After finishing the business course, he obtained a position as bookkeeper in a saw-mill at Elvada, N. M. In 1917, Harry joined the Army and served 13 months in France. After returning from overseas, he held positions in both the Wellington State Bank and City National Bank of Wellington. For the last nine years Harry has been connected with a bank in Childress. Harry married Miss Norma Cook of Wellington, May, 31, 1926. Every one in Childress knows him as Jack but his old school mates still call him Harry.

Lenora Stall attended Polytechnic College the first year after her graduation here and the next year went to San Antonio Female College. During her school days Nora, as she was called, was quite a musician but in later years she has turned out to be a very proficient business woman. Lenora married George Greenhaw of Wellington, in 1912. Several years later they moved to Memphis. Lenora has a handsome son, Reginald, nineteen years of age, who is the champion golf Player of Memphis.

Outstanding Writer

Jan Isbelle was the first girl born on the town section of Wellington and she was one of the first graduates. Since then Jan has made a name for herself in the Literary Realm. When she was a small tot she began writing prose and poetry and a book was her constant companion. Her classmates may turn to their old school books now and find verses written by Jan, (scattered here and there). Jan with her mother and sister, Lucile, moved to Dallas in 1911. She married J. Bryd Fortune, Jr., in 1912. They have four children, Joseph Byrd, age 20; Jan Isbelle, age 17, and Jarvis Ann, age 8. Jan at the present is a member of the Pen Women's Association; Publicity Agent for Harriet Bacon MacDonald Attractions; Publicity Agent for Oak Cliff Little Theatre. WFAA has just finished producing a series of radio sketches that Jan wrote, called "Bill and Sally". She also wrote the radio Texas History plays sponsored by WFAA some time ago. There were fifty-two plays in the group. Her book of poems, "Black Poppies", was published in 1929 by Southwest Press. It went thru six editions. Jan has short-stories published in Holland's Metropolitan, and Young's Magazine. She also was first sponsored by the Women's Club and when Miss Boverie took charge of it, only had a few volumes and was opened only on Saturdays. For four years Miss Boverie served as librarian without any pay. The library under her successful leadership has grown to 3,000 volumes, employs two assistants and is opened eight hours a day, six days in the week. This last year approximately 326,000 volumes were loaned.

Picturesque Career

We are proud of all those who have graduated from dear old W. H. S. and gone out in the world and made their mark. But we cherish most of those who have returned, after obtaining their high education, and who have stayed by the old town and its people. We have a warm spot in our hearts for the ones that have stuck by us and helped us in our successes and triumphs.

The only one from that first graduating class that came back to the home town was Miss Katherine Boverie, better known to her friends and pupils as Miss Katie. After graduating from Wellington, Miss Katie attended Canyon Normal and the following year, she taught school in Pampa one year. In 1912, she served her first year as teacher in Wellington High School. For seven years Miss Katie taught Latin and English in Wellington. She is considered one of the best Latin teachers that Wellington has ever had.

In 1919 Miss Katie went to Washington, D. C., where she held a responsible position in the Veterans Bureau until 1925. Miss Katie returned to Wellington and two years later took up civil work.

Mrs. Boverie's influence was the potent factor in arousing the interest of the County Federation and the Commissioner's Court in the County Library. The Library was first sponsored by the Women's Club and when Miss Boverie took charge of it, only had a few volumes and was opened only on Saturdays. For four years Miss Boverie served as librarian without any pay. The library under her successful leadership has grown to 3,000 volumes, employs two assistants and is opened eight hours a day, six days in the week. This last year approximately 326,000 volumes were loaned.

In January, 1931, Miss Boverie was elected Sec. of the Chamber of Commerce, which position she still holds. Under her supervision has been the Red Cross Work of county and relief work sponsored by the W. T. C. C. During the Depression, Miss Katie has been the busiest person in Collingsworth County. In 1931 Miss Boverie was chosen as Collingsworth's "Most Useful Citizen", a contest sponsored by the Wellington Leader.

A man who is thoroughly acquainted with the relief work that Miss Boverie is doing, was heard to remark that "Collingsworth County should erect a monument to Miss Boverie, in commemoration of the good she has done for the community."

Twin girls were born five days apart to a woman in Spokane Wash.

When something is really done the women generally do it. Ever since the new court house building was built the men around town have been talking about the need of shrubbery around the building, but it took the women to do the work. They got together and appointed Mrs. W. R. Orr as chairman and Mrs. W. Y. Burden as sub-chairman and the work started. The Commissioner's Court agreed to furnish the labor and J. D. Hill acted as overseer. Not only did the women collect a remarkable array of plants and shrubs, but they also had them set out in an attractive manner. When the stuff grows out the place is going to look 100 per cent better. I am personally very grateful to these public spirited women who have done a very worthy job in beautifying the town.

I went to see the "Front Page," a play which was put on by members of the staff of the Globe News in Amarillo last week. Winnie Fain Morton was one of the players and she did a good job with her part, but the thing I started to write about is that she works on national advertising on the Amarillo paper and is considered a very valuable member of the staff. Margarette Howell is also on the staff and is doing well. It sure does please me to hear about people from Wellington doing good.

Did I have a good time at the Amarillo meeting of the Pan-handle Press? I got to make a speech and be toastmaster at a banquet all in the same day. This made a pretty good month what with a speech at Hollis and at the Fair Park and another one scheduled before the Rural Mail Carriers when they meet here on May 30. There is nothing I like to do better than make a speech. I positively enjoy it if I have a couple of days to figure out something to say. However, I can't say that it does me any good. Jimmie Gillelentine, astute but cynical young man that he is, says that if I would pay as much attention to trying to get some business as I do to making speeches that this paper would be a lot better off.

WESTERN UNION CHANGES

HOURS

In keeping step with the program for a "New Deal," in its effect on business generally Mrs. Gammel, manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company, has announced that effective May 9, the hours of the telegraph office will be extended 8 a. m. to Noon, 1 p. m. to 6 p. m., and 7 p. m. to 8 p. m., with the approach of summer and longer daylight hours the new closing hour of the Western Union office will afford additional time within which all who so desire may file their telegrams. The extended closing hours of 8 p. m. will be of particular advantage to those who wish to avail themselves of the cheaper rate services of the telegraph company, such as the night message and the night letter.

The south side may not be bragging about their business very much, but they seem to think they are the champions in various kinds of sports. Henry Bird says they have the champion rick rack batters of the town on the south side and wants to challenge somebody to a match. He seems to be the manager of the team. "Arkansas" McPherson is also manager of a broad jumping team composed of Cicero Gully, Son Strong, and others. They average around ten feet each and they are anxious for a match. Of course, Arkansas is a better talker than he is a jumper, but the rest of the boys are really jumpers. Their captain would be good too if he wouldn't waste all his wind.

People who have gardens and lawns to keep will be glad to know that they will have the lowest water rate ever offered in Wellington during the months of June, July and August. The price will be 20c a thousand after the first three thousand and has been put on in an effort to help beautify the town and to help people raise gardens if it gets too dry.

Ernest Lewis is a staunch Republican, but he is about to weaken. He had been against the inflation program—just to get his Democratic friends riled up I think—but now he has seen the handwriting on the wall. He has started remodeling his store, and he says he is getting ready for the better times which are just ahead. His mouth still may be Republican, but his heart is Democratic.

A really optimistic newspaperman would say: The sandstorms are over, the rains have come, roses are blooming, gardens are sprouting, farmers are planting, fish are biting, birds are singing and the sun is shining. Unfortunately I have the type of mind that thinks of these things and then immediately remember that the sandstorms will probably come again and dry out the ground. I can't help but remember that the bugs are eating the buds off the roses and the gardens will have as hard a time this year as they did last. The farmers may be planting, but what of it—they will probably be planting in June for the third time. The bride may be singing and the sun shining, but what difference does that make to a man who is out of work.

However, I am not as pessimistic as all that, for I firmly believe that better days are ahead this fall—much better times in fact. Cotton is going up by leaps and bounds, and it will show in increased prosperity when we gather our crop. It may seem like a long time to wait, but it should not be a time of waiting. It should be a time for work. This is the time to get ready for better business. A lot of people are not prepared for much better business than they are enjoying right now, and they are going to be just like men who wished that they had bought wheat and cotton sixty days ago.

A large crowd was present. School patrons brought basket lunches and served it picnic style. The teachers served ice cream and lemonade, after lunch was served, and an old time spelling match was enjoyed.

Friday night, the seventh grade graduating class exercises were held. Supt. Wilson addressed the class with a very inspiring talk. He also discussed some of the present school problems.

Bartoe Riley was the youngest member of the class, being only eleven years old.

SENIOR SERIES

By Mary Frances Templeton

NUMBER NINE

Each year for the past seven years, The Leader has carried this feature, giving in a few weeks, write-ups of all members of the senior class of Wellington High School. The feature is being repeated and during the ensuing weeks each member of the class will receive mention in this exclusive feature of The Leader.

Lawrence Shields

Lawrence Shields was born April 3, 1915, in Wellington, Texas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Shields, 801 South Floydada Street, Wellington.

He has received all his education in the Wellington School System. His favorite subjects are plane geometry, and economics.

He has been a member of the Senior Boy's Debating Team. Lawrence did some really hard work and thinking as a debater. In fact, he ranked very close to the boys who represented our school in debate.

He plans to attend Texas Technological College in Lubbock next fall. Lawrence has not chosen his major yet; neither has he determined what his vocation will be.

J. B. Killian

J. B. Killian was born April 11, 1916, in Wellington. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Killian of Wellington.

He has gone to school in Wellington High School four years. He attended the Loco School one-half year and the Fresno School five and one-half years.

His favorite subjects are mathematics and science.

J. B. has been a member of the commercial arts club, the Agriculture Club, and the Senior English Club while attending school in W. H. S.

He was a member of the junior basketball quintet for one year in Wellington. While attending the Fresno school he participated in basketball three years, and in baseball three years.

He plans to enter Draughton's Practical Business College in Lubbock next fall. He will major in mathematics and bookkeeping. After his education is completed, he will become a banker or a bookkeeper. We are sure that J. B. will reach the step that is labeled "success" if his steady work is continued.

J. B. States that he has found more friends in Wellington High School than in any other school and that he has obtained more knowledge there than in any other school he could have chosen.

Marth Helen McMinn

Martha Helen McMinn was born June 18, 1914, in Bowie, Texas. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. McMinn.

Helen has attended school at Lillie 10 years and in Wellington High School one year.

Her favorite subjects are Spanish, biology, and geometry. She played basket ball two years at Lillie. Helen belonged to the 4-H Club for four years while residing in the Lillie community.

Helen plans to enter Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, Texas and major in Spanish. She plans to become a teacher after her education has been completed.

If Helen enjoys all her work through life as she seems to enjoy her studies, she will certainly be an optimist.

Mary Elizabeth Collier

Mary Elizabeth Collier was born December 13, 1917, in Krum, Texas. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Collier of Wellington.

She has attended school three years in Gainesville, three and one-half years at Aberdeen, and one and one-half years in Wellington High School.

Spanish, English and bookkeeping are Elizabeth's favorite subjects.

Elizabeth played basket ball one year in Aberdeen. She belonged to the English Club in '33 and the Commercial Arts Club in W. H. S. She also belonged to the 4-H Club of Aberdeen.

She plans to enter N. T. S. T. C. in Denton, Texas, next fall and major in foreign language. Elizabeth plans to make a foreign language instructor after her education is finished.

If Elizabeth doesn't enter college next year she will study music, for she is vitally interested in that subject.

Dwight Gage Robertson

Dwight Gage Robertson was born September 6, 1916, in Wellington, Texas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. V. P. Robertson of 1301 East Avenue, Wellington.

Dwight attended school in Wellington for ten years.

He played football for three years, and he says he pitched horse shoes almost every day. He had a part in the Junior play in '32. He belonged to the Freshman English Club in '30 and the Senior English Club in '33.

Dwight plans to attend the Amarillo Junior College, in Amarillo next fall, and his major will be football. We are sure that from this he will make coaching football his future profession.

His chief occupation in the mornings and at noon is the position of assistant hall keeper for Miss Louise Harle.

tist Church, Friday evening. The program will consist of music by Lillie Orchestra, drills and dialogues and a play, "A Poor Married Man."

The characters in the play are: Clarence Nunnelle, John Eron Forbis, Jack Wood, J. D. Roberts, Johnnie Graham, Juanita Cole, Rosa Lee Roberts, and Carline Polard.

The year has been marked by good school work and although several students were late to enter and attendance since the first of the year has been good.

The following pupils are completing their work in the Fresno School: Johnnie Graham, Clarence Nunnelle, and Rosa Lee Roberts.

The trustees for next year are W. J. Useton, O. B. Nunnelle, and R. O. Wood. Teachers for re-election are Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Beaird.

Lillie School

The Lillie school is completing a successful year under the leadership of Miss Dorothy Gore, principal; Mrs. Ernest Harwell, upper intermediate; Miss Dollie Mae Brown, lower intermediate; and Miss Evelyn McMinn, primary teacher.

The trustees were M. J. Lowe, president; John Turley, secretary; N. E. Feemster, C. S. Graham, R. N. Hill, D. Burkhalter and G. F. Bell.

The teachers for next year will be Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Harper, Miss Isla Mae Johnson and Miss Evelyn McMinn. J. T. Bradley replaces N. E. Feemster as trustee.

The summer session opened August 8, 1932. One of the most interesting events of the summer school was "Play Day," which was sponsored by the teachers and students of Lillie School. Various games and races were participated in by visitors from the Cottonwood, Salt Fork and Cross Roads communities.

The Lillie Junior girls and boys played some very interesting games of basket ball during the season. The line-up for junior girls was: forwards, Geneva Goforth and Delia Pearl Bell; centers, Irene Horton and Juanita Pettett; guards, Clara Frances McDougald and Mattie Lou Nicholson. Ida Mae Rile was the substitute. The junior boys are Lonnie Neely, Jack Lowe, Cletus Coldiron, Thomas McMinn, Raymond Horton, and the substitute was Tommy Blakey.

The teams entered the precinct meet at Quail in March 4. The junior boys lost all games played, but the junior girls came out victorious. The junior girls also won in the by-precinct then also in the finals. The junior girls were very proud of the county championship banner.

April 15, the high school students presented a play entitled, "The Red Headed Step Child." The characters were Glendora Yates, Mattie Lou Nicholson, Virginia McMinn, Geneva Goforth, Effie Webb, Clara Frances McDougald, Irene Horton, Christine Dobbs, Francis Leach, Lonnie Neeley, Harold Leach, and J. T. Bradley. It was given for the purpose of raising money for the home economics department. $18.65 was cleared.

An event of interest to the Lillie high school students this year was the making of a group picture of those in Miss Gore's room, on May 6. Those included in the picture were: Frank Leach, Misses Polly Hobbs, Christine Dobbs, Geneva Goforth, Virginia McMinn, Leitha Lowe, Irene Horton, Nellie Lee Fike, Clara Frances McDougald, Effie Webb, Bessie Evelyn Langford, Glendora Yates, Mattie Lou Nicholson, and the teacher, Miss Gore. These pictures will be Miss Gore's gift to her pupils.

One of the unusual features of this term was the teacher's play entitled, "Nora, Wake Up," which was rendered May 5. The characters were Misses Dorothy Gore, Dollie Mae Brown, Evelyn McMinn and Mrs. Ernest Harwell. Outsiders were Ernest Harwell, Jim Lowe, Gilbert Bell, J. T. Bradley. The play drew a record crowd and was well received.

Chapel exercises during the year were held on Wednesday mornings and were in charge of the various rooms, consecutively. Varied and interesting programs were presented.

The grade school is planning a program which will be given at the Lillie Church, Thursday night, May 11. The following numbers are announced. The seventh grade graduation exercises will be given first. The following will graduate this year: Thomas McMinn, Juanita Pettett and Ida May Riley. J. D. Wilson will address the exercise and Mrs. Harwell will present the diplomas. Mrs. Harwell's room is also given a thirty-five minute play, entitled, "Quack, Quack."

Miss McMinn's and Miss Brown's rooms are presented in the following dialogues: "Courtesy Is Always Best," "Lucindy's Mistake," "Harry's Pockets," "Taking Teacher's Place," "Arthur's Bravery," and "The Dolly Show." Various readings and drills will be given by each room.

An All day community picnic is being planned to be held at the Lillie School, Friday. Patrons and friends are cordially invited to come.

The members of the junior class are: Virginia McMinn, Geneva Goforth, Effie Webb, Francis Leach, and Clara Frances McDougald.

Three of these: Virginia McMinn, Geneva Goforth and Clara Frances McDougald plan to enter school in Wellington next year. Effie Webb plans to be in Vinson, Oklahoma, high school, and Francis Leach plans to enter Canyon high school this fall.

China Grove

Despite the fact that the China Grove School was unexpectedly closed due to the building having been demolished by a storm April 19. The catastrophe not only hurried the closing of the school, but shattered the plans for a community picnic and the closing exercises of the school. Previous plans had been made to close the school with an all-day picnic featuring swimming, fishing and various sports.

The school did report a highly successful year, however, with the exception of the loss of the building. The trustees for the past term were T. W. Brown, and H. E. Hill. Next year Mr. Hill will be succeeded by John Wood and H. C. Sanders.

Students in the higher grades this year included: Irene Bowen, Dennis Sloan and Clifford Sloan, seventh grade; C. D. Brown, Clifford Brown, Odell Bowen, Adelia Sloan and Edna Castles, fifth grade; Hettie Westbrook, sixth grade.

Miss Maude Hicks served as teacher of the China Grove School this year and has been elected to the post for the coming year.

Needwood School

The Needwood School will close one of the most successful years in the history of the school Friday night, May 12 with a program beginning at 8 o'clock.

One of the principal features of the play will be a two-act comedy-drama entitled, "Mr. Bob." The cast has been practicing on this play for some time and an unusual presentation is expected.

Cottonwood School

The parents, students and teachers of the Cottonwood school will hold a community day on May 26, which will mark the close of a successful eight month school term. With J. D. Wilson, county superintendent, as a special guest, the closing program will be held and a ball game will be played.

The Cottonwood school has an active Parent-Teacher Association, which is affiliated with the state and national organization. The officers of the local association are Mrs. C. Z. Ratliff, president; Miss Lois Kayser, secretary; Mrs. C. Z. Ratliff, treasurer; R. H. Birchfield, reporter; Mrs. J. W. Loter, chairman of the program committee.

The teachers and students have attended the programs regularly and report them to have been interesting and educational throughout the year. Another accomplishment of the school is the Reptonian Library Society.

"Several basket ball and playground ball games have been played this year by students in our school and sportsmanship has been stressed and outstanding," Bob Birchfield, principal, said. "A play day was sponsored during the winter months and attracted much attention."

Another outstanding accomplishment of the school was a school fair, held at the close of the summer term. The event displayed the work done by the students.

About 60 students have been enrolled during the year and those who completed the seventh grade and will be given certificates are: Wesley Loter, Inez Rippetoe, Paul McAnear, Morris Brown, and Vernon Brown.

The following pupils have been listed on the honor roll at least one or more times during the term:

Eighth grade: Si Allen and Myrtle Lou Copeland; seventh grade—Wesley Loter; sixth grade—Vanciel Rippetoe, Marguerite Pierce and Richard Scott; fifth grade—Phillip Yates; fourth grade—Mary Frances Allen; Tommie Lee Burden and Farrel Rippetoe; third grade—Carlton McAnear; second grade—Oma Lucas, Bessie Lucas, Dorothy Nell Ratliff, Melvin Reeves, and L. D. Allen; first grade—Ruth Scott and La Ruth Lewis.

The trustees of the school are J. L. Gladney, C. Z. Ratliff and J. E. Christoph.

The teachers of the school are Robert Birchfield and Miss Lois

Kayser. Mr. Birchfield received his training by attending the Clarendon College for one year and the University of Texas for three years. He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University. Miss Kayser received her training at the Weatherford Junior College and has studied music and expression. Both the teachers will return for another year.

L. J. Campbell transacted business in Hollis, Saturday.

Mrs. R. L. Fink and son, Kenneth Fink, of Clarendon and daughter, Mrs. James Britten of East Texas visited with relatives and friends in Wellington, Tuesday. Mrs. Fink and family are former residents of Wellington. Mrs. Britten will be remembered to her many friends here as Miss Florence Fink.

in 1923. The association includes this section of the Panhandle and varies in distance from Paducah and Chillicothe to Hedley and Briscoe, including Hardeman, Childress, Cottle, Collingsworth, Donley, Hall and Wheeler counties.

Hugh Longino, who has served as a carrier longer than any other member of the association, will hold a leading role in the convention. Mr. Longino began his career as a rural carrier on Wellington, Route 1, twenty-five years ago and has held that post since.

R. S. Montague, who carries mail on Wellington, Route 3, has also been in the service a long time, having served here in Collingsworth county for the past 15 years.

L. A. Moore, secretary of the Association, began his career in Hardeman County 25 years ago, but was out of the carrier business for four years before resuming his work in Collingsworth County. Mr. Moore has been here for ten years and carried the mail on Route 4.

ure, was practically covered by insurance.

Mr. Forbis, one of the first settlers in Collingsworth County, came to this section before Wellington was known, or even considered, and Childress, which served as the county seat for a number of years, was his principal trading post.

When Mr. Forbis came to this county in 1888 he filed on his place in the Fresno community and for a number of years lived in a half-dugout before he built his home, which was recently destroyed.

There were only a few white families in this section at the time he settled here with his family—and most of those families have now moved from the section where they settled 45 years ago. The fire of unknown origin, started in the rear part of the house. Practically every thing Mr. Forbis owned in the way of clothing, household goods, and sentimental possessions, was lost in the fire.

R. C. Dryden, Jack Deahl and Bennett Bond transacted business in Amarillo, Thursday.
