Huge U.S. Moon Rocket May Blast Into Space This Weekend

By JOHN BARBOUR

NEW YORK (AP)—A huge U.S. moon rocket—short on brains but long on brawn — may blast into space this weekend on a trip that could take just 34 hours, but might last millions of years.

It is the U.S. Army's first shot at the moon — and like its Explorer satellite shots, the Army hasn't spared the horses.

This is perhaps the greatest difference between the planned Army probe and the last three shots by the U.S. Air Force, one of which reached as high as 79,000 miles.

The Air Force satellite weighed about 85 pounds. It was aimed at an orbit or at least a single trip around the moon. In its final stage it carried the electronic brains and maneuvering rocket to do the job.

The 30-pound Army shot is less ambitious. It too is aimed at the moon with the intention of hitting the lunar surface. But if all works well it may be destined for a greater glory.

The Army has packed its rocket, dubbed Juno II, with enough power and speed to overcome the pull of the earth's gravity shot, says it has a 1 in 2 chance of building up escape velocity — and so blasting away from the earth into a possible orbit around the sun.

Such an orbit might last millions of years.

This assumes first that all the moon rocket's engines will fire and that it will overshoot the moon.

The moon is not an easy target to hit. So many things are unknown about its mass and behavior that it can easily be missed.

Just as unpredictable is the behavior of the moon rocket itself.

The Air Force rocket that burned almost 80,000 miles above the earth — man's greatest penetration of space — might have gone to the moon. But with each stage of its flight, it fell a little more away from its programed path.

Finally it was at such an angle that its energy was not most efficiently used and it wore itself out before it had gone more than a third of the way.

The Army rocket has the power to slice through a big hunk of space — more power than it needs to hit the moon. It is generally conceded that the Army rocket system has more horsepower than the Air Force touched off.

You can get some idea by looking at the traveling times. The Air Force shot was to take 72 hours before it was within moon range. The Army shot will probably take about 34 hours.

The Army has kept mum on its rocket plans, because it said it doesn't want to occasion a build-up of public expectancy and the consequent pressure on its rocket people.

But two days ago the service tower was pulled back from the big moon rocket at Cape Canaveral, Fla., and it stood with its nose only shrouded.

San Antonio Fire Fatal To 2 Women

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—An elderly mother and her daughter perished in a fire at their rambling 2½ story house early today after police twice had been called to the scene to quell an argument between the two women.

The victims were Mrs. Arthur Storms, 78, and her daughter, Miss Stella Storms, 58. The daughter once was a San Antonio Fiesta queen.

Mrs. Storms' badly charred body was found in her upstairs quarters. Dr. Robert Hausman, county medical examiner, said the daughter died of suffocation. Her body was found in the kitchen.

Police dispatchers said the daughter called for help in an argument with her mother at 12:56 a.m.

Patrolman G. V. Poss was sent to quiet the disturbance. The daughter called a second time shortly before 2 a.m., police reported. As Poss returned to the house, he saw the structure in flames and summoned firemen.

Dist. Fire Chief William Howard estimated the damage at $21,000. The fire broke out in the lower part of the house, and investigators were seeking the cause.

17th Entry For Parade

The Christmas parade scheduled here for next Tuesday afternoon will be one of the largest parades ever staged in Snyder.

There are now 17 floats entered in the parade, which will be on a religious theme. The last entry was by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary. The high school and junior high bands will also be in the parade.

The parade is one of a number of activities set for next Tuesday. Others will include two Santa Claus visits, singing of Christmas carols on the courthouse square, and other events.

Merchants are still having daily drawings at their stores, and those drawings will last through Tuesday.

The Jaycees are accepting entries in a Christmas home decoration contest, which will be on a religious theme. Entries are to be turned in at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The Tuesday Christmas activities and the daily drawings this week were planned by the chamber merchants committee.

West Airlines Facing Threat Of Red Action

By REINHOLD ENSZ

BERLIN (AP)—The threat of Communist interference mounted today against busy American, British and French airliners shuttling in and out of isolated West Berlin.

One of East Germany's top Communists, Politburo member Hermann Matern, told a West Berlin election rally Thursday night that the airlines—Pan American, Air France and British European Airways—have no legal right to fly over East German territory.

"This situation must be brought in order," he declared. He did not say what action the Communists have in mind.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who addressed an election rally in another part of West Berlin, said the Western powers would hold the Russians responsible for keeping open all routes to Berlin, including the air corridors. He said he had a personal letter from U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles reaffirming that position.

The letter, he added, specifically mentioned the 1949 Paris agreement in which the Russians ended their 1948-49 blockade and guaranteed free access to this Allied foothold 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain.

"Our allies stand upon it and we stand upon it," Adenauer said of this agreement.

Matern told the rally of 3,500 Communists, meeting behind a police line in the heart of West Berlin, that "capitalistic airlines make giant profits" on their business with Berlin and "I know of no agreement which legally supports these firms."

This was the first specific attack on the Western airlines.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is threatening to hand over Soviet occupation controls in Berlin to the East Germans in six months. The East Germans have declared loudly that the West would then have to negotiate with them for access to the city.

During the blockade of 1948-49 West's road, rail and water links but did not interfere with the airlift that broke the blockade.

Chartered commercial planes played a big role in the airlift, and Western officials have been considering a new airlift if there is another surface blockade.

Fanfani Regime Totters In Italy

ROME (AP)—Premier Amintore Fanfani battled today to save his tottering five-month-old government. His chances looked poor.

The Chamber of Deputies prepared to debate a motion of confidence in the Christian Democratic leader's pro-Western minority government. Most political observers doubted the Premier could corral enough votes to avoid a defeat that would bring down the government.

The confidence vote is expected early next week.

Fanfani called for the vote on his entire program after losing two ballots Thursday night on a gasoline tax. Opponents to the left and right of his regime ganged up with dissident Christian Democrats to abolish the tax.

On two votes, the government lost 314-263 and 323-239.

The votes seemed to be the culmination of rising dissatisfaction with the coalition government, which took office July 2.

Both the Christian Democrats and Communists gained in last May's parliamentary elections. But the Christian Democrats, who have dominated all Italian governments since World War II, and their Social Democratic allies were three votes short of the 299 seats needed for a majority.

Votes from the centrist Liberals and Republicans put Fanfani's left-of-center Cabinet in power. Last month, however, the two small parties refused to join the coalition formally.

Labor troubles began to sweep across Italy two weeks ago. Right-wing Christian Democrats complained Fanfani's coalition was too leftist. Some members of the government objected to the Premier's tight control obtained by putting his own men into key jobs.

The revolt Thursday night came on the gasoline tax imposed during the 1956 Suez crisis to meet the greater cost of transporting oil from the Middle East. On Nov. 1 the government cut it in half, to 4½ cents a gallon, but wanted to keep the rest for revenue.

Even without the tax, gasoline in Italy will cost about 84 cents a gallon.

20-Hour Work Week Near, Says Scientist

NEW YORK (AP) — A 20-hour work week will be here sooner than most people think, says a noted physicist.

Automation and cheap nuclear energy open up such prospects.

Dr. Boris Pregel, retiring president of the New York Academy of Sciences, says people will have to be re-educated in ways of using up their individual energy in leisure time pursuits.

Compromise Plan For Cyprus Talks Fizzles

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U. N. efforts to launch peace talks for Cyprus fizzled today after a compromise plan failed to muster enough votes to ensure General Assembly approval.

The 81-nation Political Committee voted on three rival proposals late Thursday night after a confused procedural wrangle that climaxed two weeks of debate on Britain's crown colony in the eastern Mediterranean.

The only resolution to escape defeat was a much-amended Iranian proposal approved 31-22 with 28 abstentions. This was still short of the two-thirds majority needed in the Assembly.

The resolution called on Greece, Turkey and Britain—the nations disputing the future of Cyprus—to negotiate their differences. The Iranian plan was virtually doomed when Greece announced in advance that she would vote against it.

The committee defeated 17-17, with 47 abstentions, a Colombian plan for a U. N. study group to visit Cyprus and study the situation. It also rejected 11-22, with 48 abstaining, a Belgian proposal calling on the three nations to keep trying for agreement.

Four other resolutions, including a Greek call for U. N. approval of independence for Cyprus, were withdrawn.

The vote came after a day of heated debate which included a slashing Greek attack against the United States.

Greek Foreign Minister Evangelos Averoff-Tossizza accused the United States of taking sides in the Cyprus dispute despite America's stated policy of neutrality on the explosive question dividing three members of the North Atlantic Alliance.

Averoff-Tossizza charged that all signs had pointed towards a conciliatory movement but the stream of conciliation had been dammed by the United States.

The Greek diplomat made his charge shortly after Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge threw his support behind the Iranian resolution. Lodge, apparently trying not to add fuel to the incendiary situation, made no reply to the Greek charges.

In backing the Iranian plan, Lodge had expressed the opinion that it was an essentially procedural resolution "that will help encourage negotiations."

The British threw their support behind the Iranian plan because it avoids taking any stand in favor of the Greek independence demand or the Turkish call to partition the island between the squabbling Greek and Turkish communities.

The Greeks hotly oppose partition of Cyprus, where the Greek-speaking population outnumbers the Turks by about 4-1. Greece has long demanded independence for Cyprus, promising guarantees for the Turkish minority. The British want negotiations resumed without the restriction of a U. N. recommendation.

ROYAL DISPLEASURE

Grace Flounces Off Dance Floor

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP) — Princess Grace of Monaco gave high society a surprise sample of royal displeasure Thursday night—with abrupt flight from the dance floor.

Caught in a milling crush of spectators, guards and photographers at a ball in her honor, the former movie star made her sudden exit with lips set, chin high and trailing a slightly bewildered escort, her husband Prince Rainier III of Monaco.

A spokesman at the royal box explained moments later that the princess had found the throng just too much when someone stepped upon her white satin slipper.

The royal wrath subsided swiftly, however, and the girl from Philadelphia remained for the midnight "Beauty and the Beasts" tableaux, and presided at the drawing of grand prizes for lucky ticket holders.

But although she smiled, she danced no more.

The incident highlighted a night-long barrage of adulation which started when the royal couple arrived for the chic fiesta in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Astor.

A corps of six mounted police and a dozen patrolmen vainly tried to hold back a crowd of about a thousand spectators who jammed outside the hotel entrance for a closeup peep at the Cinderella girl.

There was more of the same inside as the white tie and mink event got under way. Many women dropped in curtsies as they were introduced. Everywhere there were ogles and murmurs and flash bulbs popping.

The princess did manage to get in two brief dancing interludes—a waltz with Prince Serge Obolensky to the melody of the song written for her, "The Princess Waltz," and a foxtrot with Rainier to the tunes of "The Lady Is a Tramp" and "That's Show Business."

For the knowing feminine guests Princess Grace made her first public appearance on this month-long visit to New York dressed in fichu of pink maline net studded with sequins, secured with a nosegay of violets and sweetheart roses. Her gown, of Empire line with wide belt and bouffant pink satin, was enhanced with a diazzling display of diamond tiara, necklace, bracelet and earrings. A silver blue mink stole completed the ensemble.

As photographers busily worked, Princess Grace made her only press statement of the evening. Someone asked who had designed her costume, and she replied: "Maggie Rouff."

The $100-a-plate affair was the fourth annual Imperial Ball, sponsored by a motor company with the proceeds going to the Hospitalized Veterans Service of the Musicians Emergency Fund. There were more than 1,000 guests.

Performers in the tableaux included Eddie Albert, Verz Zorine, Hermione Gingold, Patrice Munsel, Gypsy Rose Lee and Nancy Walker.

Missiles Capable Of Passing Moon

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Present-day U.S. missiles have the hardware to pass the Moon and search out portions of the solar system, including the planet Venus, the chief of the Air Force missile program said Thursday night.

Maj. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever would not comment on speculation that a missile shoot would soon be aimed past the Moon, but he said that "it takes only a very small increment in velocity to get beyond the Moon to Venus."

Schriver spoke to about 70 business and civic leaders at a dinner.

Figures Show Importance Of Salk Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP)—The importance of having children under 5 years of age protected with Salk polio vaccine was emphasized today by new statistics.

The Public Health Service said summaries from Arkansas, Colorado, New York State (excluding New York City), North Carolina and Oklahoma show that more than one-third of all paralytic cases this year were among children under 5.

For all ages there were 191 paralytic cases, with 67 of them in such children.

Forty-five of the paralytic cases were in children who had received no vaccine, seven had received one shot, six had received two; seven had received the recommended three, and vaccination status was not reported for two cases.

"The percentage of cases in children under 5 years of age in each of the states varied from about 23 per cent in New York to about 60 per cent in North Carolina," the service said.

"The percentage of cases in children who had received no vaccine ranged from about 36 per cent in Oklahoma to 100 per cent in Colorado, where there were only five cases in children under 5 years of age."

Democratic Rift Noted At Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The North-South Democratic split over civil rights was underscored at a party credential hearing called today. One Southerner called National Chairman Paul M. Butler a troublemaker and said he should be removed.

Butler's friends on the National Committee expressed confidence that Butler, who favors a strong civil rights plank in the party's 1960 platform, would ride out any ouster or censure move in a full committee session Saturday. Butler himself told a reporter he had not heard of any formal move against him.

Today's hearing, before a National Committee credentials group, was to receive rival claims of Camille F. Gravel Jr. and Jett M. Talbot to Louisiana's National Committee post. Gravel is the incumbent. Civil rights and party rules are involved in the dispute.

Committeeman Gravel was removed by the Louisiana State Committee because segregationist leaders in the party said he was out of step with Louisiana's stand on civil rights. Gravel has said segregation is morally wrong but that as a practical proposition integration is not for Louisiana.

Gravel, who supported the national party's civil rights plank in 1956, has refused to step down. He is challenging the State Committee's right to oust him and name Talbot in his place. Northern leaders support him on this, holding only the National Committee can remove a member between national conventions.

Both Gravel and Talbot were here for the meeting. It was the latter's counsel, W. M. Shaw of Homer, La., who attacked Butler and issued a brief saying National Committee members in his state are selected by the State Central Committee and serve at the pleasure of the State Committee.

Shaw cited precedents for this. He said the State Committee removed William H. Talbot, no relation to Jett Talbot, as national committeeman in 1950, and Earl K. Long as committeeman in 1952. Neither action was challenged by the National Committee, he said.

In a separate pamphlet with his brief, Shaw said the National Committee should return at once to the "basic party principle of state rights" and that Butler should be relieved.

"Not only is he (Butler) an inept party helmsman, but he is also a proven troublemaker, without loyalty to the great traditions of the Democratic party."

Shaw did not mention a third party, but said state Democratic parties in the South would not give the electoral votes of their representatives to a presidential candidate committed to a "federal civil rights program violative of the 'states rights' principle of the party."

Prohibition Era Ended 25 Years Ago

By ARTHUR W. VERETT

NEW YORK A(P)—Twenty-five years ago today—at 5:30 p.m. Dec. 5, 1933—prohibition came to an end in the United States. Never, probably, had so many ever paid so little obedience to a law as 123 million Americans had to the Volstead Act.

The end of prohibition marked the end of an era.

Prohibition, the 18th Amendment to the U. S. Constitution, took effect Jan. 16, 1920.

The hip flask, the bootlegger, the speakeasy became symbols with the raccoon coat, the Tin Lizzie and short skirts of the nation's incredible Roaring 20s.

As the 20s drew to a close, the movement to repeal prohibition gained impetus. Franklin D. P[illegible] dorsed repe[illegible] is 32 campaign[illegible]ne presidency. With his election, repeal was assured.

The country went wet once more in the midst of a great depression. Ahead lay the rise of fascism in Europe and World War II, the cold war and the atomic age. The sternness of those post-prohibition years probably account for the soft aura of nostalgia that now surrounds the prohibition era.

Actually, the 13 years of prohibition were a failure. Average consumption of illegal hard liquor was 3.32 gallons per adult per year then compared with 2.03 gallons today. It was considered smart to flout the law.

Some of the stuff they peddled was incredibly savage. Raw alcohol—sometimes poisonous — was thinned and tinted into an almost unpalatable mixture. Home brew was hype[illegible]r to increase its kick. Harsh wine never knew the mellowing influence of time.

Inland, in such border cities as Detroit, liquor flowed in a steady illicit stream across the Canadian border. In the East, high-powered fleets from Rum Row outside a 12-mile limit of American territorial waters roared by night into Long Island coves to discharge their cargo.

The illegal liquor trade spawned the powerful, ruthless underworld gangs, with their low-slung cars and their machine guns hidden in violin cases. Rum runners traded gunfire with federal agents and with highjackers.

New sinister names became household words in America—Scarface Al Capone, Dutch Schultz, Legs Diamond, the bo[illegible]leg kings and [illegible]llers of a gid[illegible]

The speakeasy flourished, more often then not by means of a payoff to authorities. More than one of them were the forerunners of some of Manhattan's best known restaurants of this day. In rural area, there were the road houses, or the isolated lakeside summer cottages, their yards crowded with parked cars.

In New Orleans, they fired cannons in jubilation. Crowds whooped it up in Chicago's Loop. They hanged "Old Man Prohibition" in effigy in Gotham's Times Square.

Said President Roosevelt: "I trust in the good sense of the American people that they will not bring upon themselves the curse of intoxicating [illegible] health, [illegible] in that failed.

Liquor now is legal in 46 states, with 400,000 retail outlet selling anything from a shot to a case. Only Oklahoma and Mississippi still cling to prohibition, and with it, incidentally, the bootlegger.

Not everyone is satisfied, of course. The General Board of Temperance of the Methodist Church says on the 25th anniversary of repeal: "There are a great many alcohol problems facing us today, many of them more acute than they were in the prohibition era."

But for better or worse, on this day a quarter of a century ago there came to an end the so-called noble experiment—an experiment in the long run. But on that first day it looked as if many Americans were trying to drink the country dry again.

Junior Editors Quiz on TRAINS

QUESTION: Do train whi... ...can anything?

ANSWER: With hundreds of railroad trains scurrying around the country at all hours of the day and night, you might wonder why more of them don't run into each other. The answer is in the elaborate system of signals that governs their movements.

The signals mean little to most people but to railroad men they are clear and simple. Lights alongside of the track tell the engineer of traffic conditions ahead. Lanterns swung by crewmen tell him that all's well with his train behind him.

The train's whistle is the engineer's way of giving warning signals himself. If his train is approaching a station, a long whistle blast let's everyone know it. If it's nearing a grade crossing, two longs, a short and another long is the warning signal.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Here are a few of the most frequently used trains whistle signals. Learn them and the next time you hear a train whistle, try to figure out what warning or order the engineer is trying to give.

Rescue Party Led By Nervy Warden

REID MILLER

FLORENCE, Ariz. (AP) — A steel-nerved warden led 25 lawmen storming into barricades at the Arizona State Prison Thursday night and rescued two guards held by rebellious convicts.

Despite warnings from the 46 insurgent prisoners that they would kill their hostages if attacked, Warden Frank Eyman decided to call their bluff—and won his desperate gamble.

Moises Adams, 33, an inmate convicted of statutory rape, was shot in the back during the furious assault. He was reported in poor condition but expected to live.

About 300 National Guardsmen, deputies, police officers, guards and civilian volunteers ringed the walls with rifles and automatic weapons to guard against new outbreaks. The riot was quelled at 11 p.m.

Guards Calvin Hunt, 33, who came to Arizona from Winthrop, Maine, and Scott Wright, 30, formerly of Ardmore, Okla., were held hostage for nearly an hour.

Both later expressed fear the prisoners would have killed them with their homemade knives after the warden announced he would not bow to inmates' demands to take over the prison.

"They told me to 'tell them guys (the lawmen) not to come any closer or we'll kill you,'" said Wright. "I didn't say anything."

At this point, Warden Eyman, a graying, 60-year-old former sheriff armed with a .45 automatic pistol, shouted to the barricaded convicts: "If you S-O-Bs even so much as scratch my men, I'll kill all of you."

Eyman and the two guards gave this account:

Hunt, Wright and another guard went to the isolation ward to bring one of the convicts some medicine. As Hunt and Wright entered the ward, the prisoners seized them.

The prisoners then phoned Eyman with this message: "We are going to take your prison. We have the keys. And we're going to Cell Block 1."

Then the convicts split into two groups. One took over the hospital and the other commandeered a prison captain's office. Each held a hostage.

Eyman fired several shots to launch an assault. After a few minutes, the lawmen recaptured the hospital and the office and rescued the guards.

The prisoners were held in the courtyard and searched. Guards confiscated five homemade knives and one pocket-knife. Then they were returned to the isolation ward. Eyman ordered the doors welded shut.

"They don't have any rights," the warden said. "If they did, they couldn't get them now."

The other 1,400 prisoners remained in their cells throughout the crisis.

The prison, 70 miles southeast of Phoenix, was officially opened in 1912. It was built to accommodate 700. The convicts staged an abortive sitdown strike earlier this week to protest what they termed poor food, inadequate clothing and crowded conditions.

Probers Find Evidence Of Mob Terror

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Rackets Committee said today it has evidence that mobsters used terror and trickery to muscle into the juke box-vending machine industry.

Chief counsel Robert F. Kennedy told reporters the evidence as it unfolds in public hearings next year will show a pattern of violence and conniving.

He said stories will be told of wrecking rivals' machines, setting up labor unions specifically to help smother competition, and inter-union fights in which unionists sometimes picketed each other.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) has announced that more than 100 witnesses are under subpoena for the hearings now scheduled for January.

"Some of the nation's top hoodlums have been summoned to appear," he said, adding some high officials of labor unions also would be called.

Scouts Set Exposition

Several hundred scouts from Scurry, Mitchell, and Borden Counties will be on hand tomorrow to display their programs of skill and learning at the annual Boy Scout Exposition.

Tickets are still on sale at 25 cents each by scouts here. Persons wanting tickets can get them by contacting a scout or by calling Doyle Gallman, ticket chairman, at his office in the courthouse. Gallman is county auditor. They can also be bought at the door tomorrow.

By noon today, 26 Boy Scout, Cub Scout, and Explorer units had secured reservations for booths in the exposition, and five or six more were expected to make reservations.

In the booths will be demonstrations and exhibits of scouts depicting skills, hobbies, crafts and rank and merit badge requirements.

The booths will be judged and ribbons awarded.

Students Admit Planting Bomb

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two University of Southern California students have admitted planting a bomb in Memorial Coliseum.

Dave Visel, 20, and Neil Baizer 21, told police Thursday the bomb was intended to release a smoke cloud under the UCLA cheer leaders' bench at the kickoff of their football game with USC last Nov. 22.

The bomb, which never went off was discovered this week. Police explosives experts said it could have killed or injured many people.

CMA SERIES HIGHLIGHT PLAYS TO FULL HOUSE

Last night was the "big one" for Snyder Civic Music Association members, and they jammed the high school auditorium in record numbers.

They were rewarded with what many of them openly indicated they believe to be the best performance in the history of the local CMA.

"The Diary of Anne Frank," one of the reasons for a CMA sellout this season, proved to be a moving drama that confirmed the rave notices and dramatic honors conferred on it during its 90-week run in New York.

The play itself was particularly refreshing in that it proved that realism can portrayed on the stage without a spotlight on the seamy side of life.

The cast was "solid," particularly for a touring troupe. Francis Lederer, who had top billing, was thoroughly convincing as a Dutch Jew, but not a whit more so than teen-ager Pauline Hahn, as the adolescent daughter who, by all rights, was the focal character in the play.

The "Diary Of Anne Frank" presented a side of the great war which many Americans heard about, read about and suspected, and those who saw last night's performance undoubtedly went home with a much clearer picture of the trials endured by thousands of the oppressed during World War II. Moreover, the play pointed up the fact that the oppressed never lost their sense of humor during the ordeal.

Those who felt that the local CMA needed the drama included in its series should be fully contented. W. M.

Cold Front Hits Coast

By The Associated Press

Freezing drizzle and chilling winds replaced the balmy weather of the past week in Texas early Friday as a fast-moving Canadian cold front reached the upper Texas coast.

Both Amarillo and Dalhart, in the Panhandle, had freezing drizzle and fog which cut visibility to a half mile or less. Snow was predicted for that area.

The cold front, which hit the Panhandle late Thursday, reached the middle and upper Gulf coast early Friday morning.

The Weather Bureau ordered small craft warnings up from Brownsville to Pensacola, Fla., on the Gulf of Mexico. It said southerly winds of 18 to 25 m.p.h. were shifting to the north and the velocity would reach 30 m.p.h.

Longer School Term Topic For High School P-TA Meet

Superintendent T. E. McCollum was leader in the discussion on the longer than 9-month school term proposal when the high school Parent-Teacher Association met in the cafeteria Monday evening.

Mr. McCollum explained the three tentative issues: the nine and a half months of school, ten months, and twelve months.

In relation to the current Snyder school set-up, he explained, the nine and a half month term would actually only provide an extra five days of teaching. Snyder's teachers are already required to meet for a week's training prior to the September opening of school.

There would be 180 teaching days in this particular proposal as compared to 175 in our present set-up.

The ten month program would give 190 teaching days.

The twelve month program would consist of three 9-month terms. A new term would begin each month for three months. While this would utilize the teachers and buildings and equipment to the fullest the plan would probably receive the most criticism because of the conflict with the schedule of the school's band, sports, etc.

Also each family would naturally want all of their children going at the same nine month term.

Mr. McCollum suggested that perhaps this current endeavor for better education might possibly be channeled into another field of approach. He suggested perhaps free summer school courses as one way, and additional schooling for the gifted student through summer months as another possibility.

Questions were asked from the floor following Mr. McCollum's talk. Typical query was the cost of raising the teachers salary to compensate for these extra teaching days.

Mrs. Wraymond Sims acting in the absence of the president, suggested that every citizen should study this pertinent program thoroughly and then after careful study, write his representative of his views.

Mr. Renal Rosson is representative for this correspondence.

In other business of the evening the unit voted to give a style show in late January or February with local merchants showing spring fashions for the entire family.

Yearbooks were also handed out at the meeting. A box of candies was presented from the P-TA in appreciation of the work done on the yearbooks by four of the school personnel. Mrs. Clifford Hale made the presentation to Mr. Clois Henry.

The devotional was brought by Rev. Harry Vanderpool. He used as his text the 38th and 39th verses of Luke the eighth chapter.

MEDICINE CHEST "LEFTOVERS"

There's but one good place in the home for "leftovers." That's the refrigerator—and the "leftovers" should be foods, not medicines.

Medicine chest "leftovers" are risky at best, and often downright dangerous. The medicine your physician prescribed a year or so ago was intended to be used then, not now. Avoid serious danger—dump old medicine at once.

Each illness requires scientific diagnosis — and, usually, specialized medicine is indicated.

Off To A Bad Start

THE CORPUS CHRISTI CALLER:

The Texas Industrial Commission in its meeting to vote a $200,000 1960-61 budget request for the newly authorized program of state advertising, unfortunately got off on the wrong foot.

Chairman Eugene Germany and Executive Secretary Bob Bray erred seriously in asking newsmen in Austin to leave the session. Why shouldn't the public know all about the program planning and debate that led to the decision to ask for $100,000 a year?

The constitutional amendment to allow such a program was approved in November by a thin popular majority of 253,801 to 238,252. For the stronger public support necessary for legislative implementation, the commission's first task is to gain more understanding of its purpose among Texas taxpayers. Barring the press from key meetings is hardly the way to do that.

It is conceded that some of the commission's work must be confidential, as in handling specific inquiries regarding potential industrial site locations. But in matters of general policy determination, and especially in initial sessions to devise an administrative program, secrecy is not only unwarranted but positively detrimental to the service's purposes.

The 56th Legislature will be faced with ticklish decisions in launching the new state advertising program. Should it concentrate on research, inquiry processing and direct negotiation for new industry, or should it emphasize national periodical advertising? Should it confine itself to economic development promotion, or should it go equally vigorously after tourist trade? In what fields of its activities should matching private funds be required, as the amendment allows?

The Legislature will have to resolve the competitive interests of the various regions and communities of the state so that all contribute and share fairly. For example, Germany says the major objective should be to industrialize small Texas cities, but the larger cities—also the major tax supporters of the program—will have something to say about that.

Launching a state informational program in secret is indeed a curious irony. And if the commission persists in this censorship policy, it will be a clear indication that the members simply do not comprehend their new function.

It will be difficult enough at best to get a deficit-plagued session to appropriate a workable budget for research, analysis and dissemination of information on state resources development. A commission affinity for operating behind closed doors could easily make that task impossible.

Early '59 Rise In Jobless Roll Seen

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—When the tinkle of Santa's bell on the street corners is heard no more, the roll of the jobless—already unfortunately high—is due to start rising again.

January and February always sees a rise in unemployment because farm work in the North goes into slow motion and outdoor construction workers find builders waiting for better weather.

Next year, however, the jobless roll may be bigger than normal for other reasons. Ewan Clague, commissioner of labor statistics, is concerned lest unemployment be relatively high for most of 1959.

His chief concern is with just those fields that fed the recession and sent total unemployment for the nation to an unpleasant 7 per cent of the labor force. Prospects depend on:

1. How busy the factories that make durable goods for consumer will be in turning out gadgets big and little.

2. How soon the industries that make capital goods for business, and the suppliers to these industries, will be getting new orders in significantly better volume.

Joblessness rises and falls with the seasons. Summer work ends with the first frost. Then the Christmas rush opens up jobs. Winter crimps the outdoor laborer. Spring reopens many outdoor jobs.

But before the recession this hard core of unemployment fluctuated around two million—those temporarily out of work, or moving to new jobs, plus those that for some reason or other aren't readily employable. Two million was accepted as about normal in good times.

Then the recession in the durable goods industries sent joblessness rising. It topped 5½ million at its worst.

It is now around four million. But the experts are predicting it may rise to five million next month. Last January it was 4½ million.

Many durable goods factories are doing better, but lengthened work weeks and increased output per man from better equipment and processes have cut the need to expand worker rolls.

There are some bright prospects.

Bad weather in November didn't keep the construction industry from doing better than usual, the Labor and Commerce departments report. Steadily increasing volume of public construction bodes well for 1959. An executive of the Associated General Contractors of America predicts the total of new construction next year should be about 3½ billion dollars over this year.

Then there is the hard core of workers at the various levels of government. The total tends to rise each year. Civil employes of the federal government now number almost 2½ million and make nearly 12 billion dollars a year, thanks in part to last summer's pay rise.

Dulles' Military Policy Consistent

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — While Secretary of State John Foster Dulles says the West must have forces to fight limited wars, the Eisenhower administration, bent on economy, cuts the size of the American armed forces.

Sound inconsistent? Not if this country is going to depend more on Allied and friendly countries to use their manpower, with American backing. Dulles seemed to be suggesting that in a speech Thursday at San Francisco.

The only trouble with the idea is whether the Allies and friends have enough strength, without American manpower, to do the job.

Dulles said it is not enough to have great retaliatory striking power. "It is necessary," he said, "to have forces-in-being at endangered points."

This might seem like a switch—but it isn't necessarily so—from that famous speech he made Jan. 12, 1954, in which he said the Eisenhower administration had decided to rely on "massive retaliatory power" for the defense of the United States and the free world.

In that same talk nearly five years ago he appeared to sense that there might be local wars in which massive retaliation wouldn't be used. He said the important thing was to make setbacks by the Communists temporary and local.

On Nov. 19 Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy announced orders for a reduction of about 71,000 in Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps manpower. This is part of the administration's effort to cut spending.

The decision to make these reductions had been reached earlier, but action was held up some months because of two war scares: in the Middle East and the Formosa Strait. This country sent troops into Lebanon and backed up Chiang Kai-shek's defense of the island of Quemoy.

When those crises quieted down the administration went ahead with the decision to cut military manpower although it wasn't then, and still isn't, in a position to know whether there would be another crisis next week or next month.

Certainly not all of America's friends could depend on their own manpower to hold the fort for themselves.

Chiang couldn't have held Quemoy without the big show of American naval strength. And there would have been no need to send American troops into Lebanon if the Lebanese government had been able to protect itself.

Dulles said Thursday: "Nations in close proximity to powerful aggressive forces need the reassurance of some visible force within their own territory. (Meaning, no doubt, a lot of their own military manpower — provided they have it.)

"They are not content to be wholly dependent upon decisions in other lands.

"Furthermore, vast retaliatory power should not be, and will not be, invoked lightly. There must be an ability to oppose what may be limited probings in ways less drastic than general nuclear war."

The more the administration cuts its military forces, the fewer it will have to fight a limited war where they might be needed.

Both Sides Build Strike Cushions

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — In increasing numbers, both labor and management groups are establishing some sort of arrangement to cushion the money loss entailed in a strike.

Unions do it by saving up huge strike funds. Companies are starting to do it by agreements providing that a group of firms will pool the strike loss of any one of them.

The most publicized is a recent agreement among six major airlines to share with a struck airline the extra revenues the others get because the one is out of operation.

Capital Airlines recently experienced a 38-day strike. But airline industry sources say Capital emerged without much out-of-pocket loss because of the pooling agreement.

The Civil Aeronautics Board, incidentally, announced it was going to take a long look at this novel plan and set a full hearing for Jan. 14. Meantime, it let the pact stand.

Trans World Airlines and Eastern Air Lines, both now shut down by strikes, are due strike benefits under the plan. Other participating airlines are American, United and Pan American World Airways.

On the other side of the picture, the International Assn of Machinists, which struck Capital, TWA and Eastern, pays strike benefits to strike-idled workers. Out of a fund exceeding two million dollars the union pays strikers $35 a week starting the second week of a walkout. The figure was raised last month from $10 a week.

It is reported that other industries have strike-aid plans although none are known to divide profits on the pattern of the airline plan. Some newspapers carry strike insurance that provides indemnity benefits when their workers walk out.

Labor Department officials say that well over half, perhaps 60 per cent, of all the nation's 18 million union members are backed up by strike benefits of some sort.

The United Auto Workers, for example, have set up a 50-million-dollar strike fund — now cut in half due to a rash of UAW strikes this year. It's rumored the UAW plans to boost its strike fund to 100 million.

UAW pays benefits after two weeks of a strike. Benefits vary according to family status up to $30 weekly. They get higher as the strike gets longer.

Airline pilots have the richest plan, with benefits ranging from a low of $350 to a high of $650 a month.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

THE TIGERS' FINEST defensive performances in the 1958 season came in the first and last games against Borger and Lake View respectively.

Borger averaged 36 points per game during the regular season against the other nine foes but the Bulldogs scored only six points against the Tigers.

Lake View averaged 16 points against their other nine foes but drew a blank against the Bengals, the only shutout the Chiefs suffered during the season.

Then Borger led District 3-AAAA in total offense with an average of 349.7 yards per game but against the Tigers the Bulldogs had only 141 yards total offense, 126 rushing and 15 passing.

The Tiger offense didn't have a bad night against Borger, either. Borger led 3-AAAA in rushing defense with a yield of 124.3 yards per game. The Tigers rolled to 297 yards on the ground against Borger, more than twice the yardage the Bulldog foes averaged in 3-AAAA play.

And to think that some of the fans here weren't satisfied with the Tigers' showing against Borger.

Three Teams Got "Sweet" Revenge

At least three teams last week lost in the schoolboy playoffs to teams they had beaten in the regular season.

The most shocking of 'em all, of course, was Andrews' 14-8 victory over Levelland with three of the Andrews starters on the sidelines with injuries including Ronnie Brice, all-state candidate at quarterback. Levelland earlier had tromped Andrews, 47-26, when Andrews was healthy.

Reagan of Houston defeated Lamar of Houston in bi-district play, 21-8, last week after losing to the same club during the regular season.

Then Spur's Bulldogs rolled to a 32-8 victory over Abernathy in the regional 2A finals to atone for a 20-8 thumping handed them by Abernathy earlier in the season.

In our release of the Tiger lettermen the other day, we made a slight "boo-boo." The story listed tackle Terry Lee as a one-year letterman but this is the second year for Terry to letter. Excuse us, Terry.

Schoolboy Playoffs In Home-Stretch

Sixteen more schoolboy football teams will be eliminated from further competition this weekend while 16 others will remain in contention. From here it looks like it will be Abilene, Highland Park, Reagan of Houston and San Antonio Jefferson left after this weekend in 4A.

In Class 3A, Breckenridge, Carthage, Cleburne and San Antonio Sam Houston are our picks to battle it out in next week's semi-finals.

Then in 2A, Stamford, Terrell, Brady and Pearsall will gain the semi-final round while in 1A the semi-finalists will be White Deer, Mason, Mart and George West.

We're pulling for Mason to defeat Talco this week as Snyder would stand a good chance of hosting the semi-final game between Mason and the winner of White Deer and Plains.

Last week's percentage showed 22 right, 6 wrong for 78 per cent, our best week of the season. Last week's games went more according to form for the first time in several weeks although there was one that really baffled us, Andrews over Levelland.

No undefeated teams remain in Class AAA. Carthage, Cleburne and San Antonio Sam Houston occupy that status in Class AAA, Terrell and Angleton in Class AA and White Deer and Mason in Class A.

Tiger 5 Opens Season Tonite

The Tiger basketballers left early this afternoon for Brownfield where they will open their 1958-59 season against the Brownfield Cubs.

It will be the first game of a two-game trip this weekend. The Bengals will lay over in Brownfield after tonight's game and continue on to Seminole for a Saturday date with the potent Seminole Indians.

Coach J. P. Ward is starting virtually from scratch this season. Ward lost all five starters off his championship club last season plus his first three reserves.

The Tigers have won the District 3-AAA title the past two years only to be eliminated in regional tournament play at Lubbock each time.

While tonight's game will be the opening game for the Tigers, their two opponents this weekend have each played two games.

Brownfield has lost both its games to date while Seminole, a Class AA club, has already posted two wins over strong Class AAAA teams. Brownfield has lost to Lamesa, a fellow district member of the Tigers, 45-40, and to Levelland, 47-33.

Seminole, with three starters back from last year that gained a berth in the state tournament, has recorded a pair of 12-point decisions over Midland, 55-43, and Plainview, 61-49.

After this weekend's games, the Tigers will return home next Tuesday to host Midland in their first game here. Then will come the annual Canyon Reef Tournament at Tiger Gym Dec. 12-13.

Both the Tiger A and B teams will make the trip to Brownfield and Seminole this weekend. Varsity members making the trip will be Danny Tankersley, Billy Dubose, Tim Roberts, Stan Hulen, Jerry Fleming, Terry Lee, Norman Gladson, Marcus Strickland, and Kenny and Johnny Drake.

Tiger B teamers making the trip will be Charles Gladson, Jimmy Don Robinson, Ben Franklin, Homer Ray, Larry Patterson, Lynn Herndon, Stanley Woolever, Roger McMennamy, Mike Moffett and Eddie Lloyd.

The B games tomorrow and Saturday night will begin at 6:30 to be followed immediately by the varsity games.

Snyder Boxers Meet Abilene

The Snyder Optimist-Boys Club will open its season tonight against a strong Abilene team at the Scurry County Boys Club arena.

Festivities will begin at 8. Between eight and ten bouts are scheduled.

Tonight's fights will be the first of several inter-city matches the locals will schedule in preparation for the Regional Golden Gloves Tournament at Abilene next month.

Matches with Sweetwater, San Angelo and Pampa are in the making.

Tonight's individual matches will not be announced officially until the weigh-in after the Abilene team arrives but one match is virtually sure to come off that will headline the program.

David McKinley of the local team and Dale Carter of Abilene are expected to meet in a lightweight bout. Both McKinley and Carter are well-experienced mittmen and a close duel is expected between the two.

Leon Deere, another veteran on the Snyder squad, may also fight tonight. It all depends on whether Abilene will have a boxer in his weight.

Some 20-25 boys have been attending workouts at the Snyder boxing camp which is under direction of Lacy Boles.

The Snyder team is co-sponsored by the Scurry County Boys Club and the Snyder Optimist Club.

Admission prices tonight will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. Proceeds will be used for buying athletic equipment for the Boys Club. Some 250 chairs will be set up around the ring at the Boys Club for tonight's fights.

Final Tributes For Fire Victims

CHICAGO (AP) — Twenty-eight small coffins lay in a military armory today for last solemn tributes to the young victims of Monday's parochial school fire.

Black and purple draperies hung in the big drill hall and a portable altar stood at the front. There was no church big enough for the funeral.

The Most Rev. Albert Gregory Meyer, Roman Catholic archbishop of Chicago, will offer the Solemn Requiem Mass for the 28 children. Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, will attend.

The Mass in the 6,100-seat armory was not opened to the public. Families of the 28 children were given 150 tickets each to distribute among parents, relatives and close friends.

Students from all Catholic parochial schools will attend services in some 400 churches in the Chicago archdiocese.

Nineteen of the 28 will be buried in Holy Innocents Shrine, a special place for children in Queen of Heaven Cemetery. Burial for the others was planned in three cemeteries.

Four of the 87 children and three nuns who died when flames swept Our Lady of the Angels School were buried Thursday. Private services wil be held in churches today for many of the other children. Other services will be held Saturday.

Meanwhile, scores of medical authorities — including two Army doctors — worked to save the living. 70 injured still hospitalized, 11 of them on the critical list.

A special detail of 30 Fire Department officers stepped up citywide inspection of school buildings.

Blood donations for the fire victims were coming in at the rate of 150 pints a day. An estimated $79,300 was received or pledged for medical expenses of the injured and help of needy survivors.

Suspect Makes Bond On Liquor Count

Johnny Jackson, south Avenue M, was released on $750 bond today after being charged in county court with illegal transportation of intoxicants.

Jackson is charged with transportation of wine. He was arrested by officers of the sheriff's department about a mile south of Ira yesterday afternoon.

Surety on his bond was the Lubbock Bail Bond Co.

JWs Planning Assembly

J. D. Cook, presiding minister for the Snyder Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, has just returned from attending an organizational meeting in Big Spring in connection with their next Circuit Assembly.

The ministers meeting was attended by presiding and assistant ministers of Jehovah's witnesses from West Texas. Presiding over the meeting was circuit director of ministers, A. L. Borchardt, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Cook said plans were discussed for the three day assembly of Jehovah's witnesses to be held in the Levelland Fair Grounds in Levelland, Dec. 19-21. More than 800 are expected to attend from twenty congregations of Jehovah's witnesses from this area.

At the Big Spring meeting Mr. Borchardt detailed plans for setting up some twenty convention departments, which according to Mr. Cook, "are normally used at all our conventions to facilitate smooth operation and provide essential things."

Principal Bible talk of the Assembly will be on Sunday December 21, at 3:00 P.M. on the subject "The Watch Tower Society in God's Purpose." Speaker will be K. R. Savoy, well known Bible teacher and lecturer who will arrive from world headquarters of the group in Brooklyn, N. Y. the week prior to the assembly.

Case To Speak On Devotions Program

Speaker on the Daily Devotions program on KSNY next week will be the Rev. W. L. Cass, pastor of the Bethel Baptist Church.

The program is scheduled at 9:15 a.m. Monday through Friday through the Snyder Ministerial Alliance.

Monorail Planned

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — Walt Disney plans a monorail system, submarines sailing under polar ice and bobsled rides down the Matterhorn as additions to Disneyland. The master of make-believe announced a five-million-dollar expansion program to be completed by next June.

ATTENTION CUSTOMERS!

The New merchandise mentioned above is not very good, but we do have to get rid of it. Even though we've had it only about four months, we're tired of looking at it. Too, every time someone comes in to buy something, instead of showing them around we have guard that sofa mentioned in the living room suite. We're afraid that somone will sit on it and break it down. There is one consolation, you can use the foam rubber cushions to sit on the floor and it does look pretty if you don't want to use it. Now that bedroom suite is supposed to be made of real durable wood, but we strongly suspect it's made of plywood. Don't use it until your mother-in-law comes to see you, when it breaks down, make her pay for it. The box springs and mattress will be fine for the dog to lay on. To be new, the refrigerator works very well with the exception of the door sagging and the defroster being fouled up. You could do worse for $210.00. The legs on the dinette are warped, but it does set level. I guess that's all that's necessary. The range doesn't burn very well, but with a little work, it'll be as good as new, just to be fair about the whole thing we'll see that it's fixed. All in all we think this is a pretty good little deal that we're offering you. Just one thing, when you come out, either bring money or catsup. If you don't buy it, we're going to eat it.

Yours Truly,
J. W. (Hogwild) Pruitt

The Christian's Corner—

A LITTLE WINE

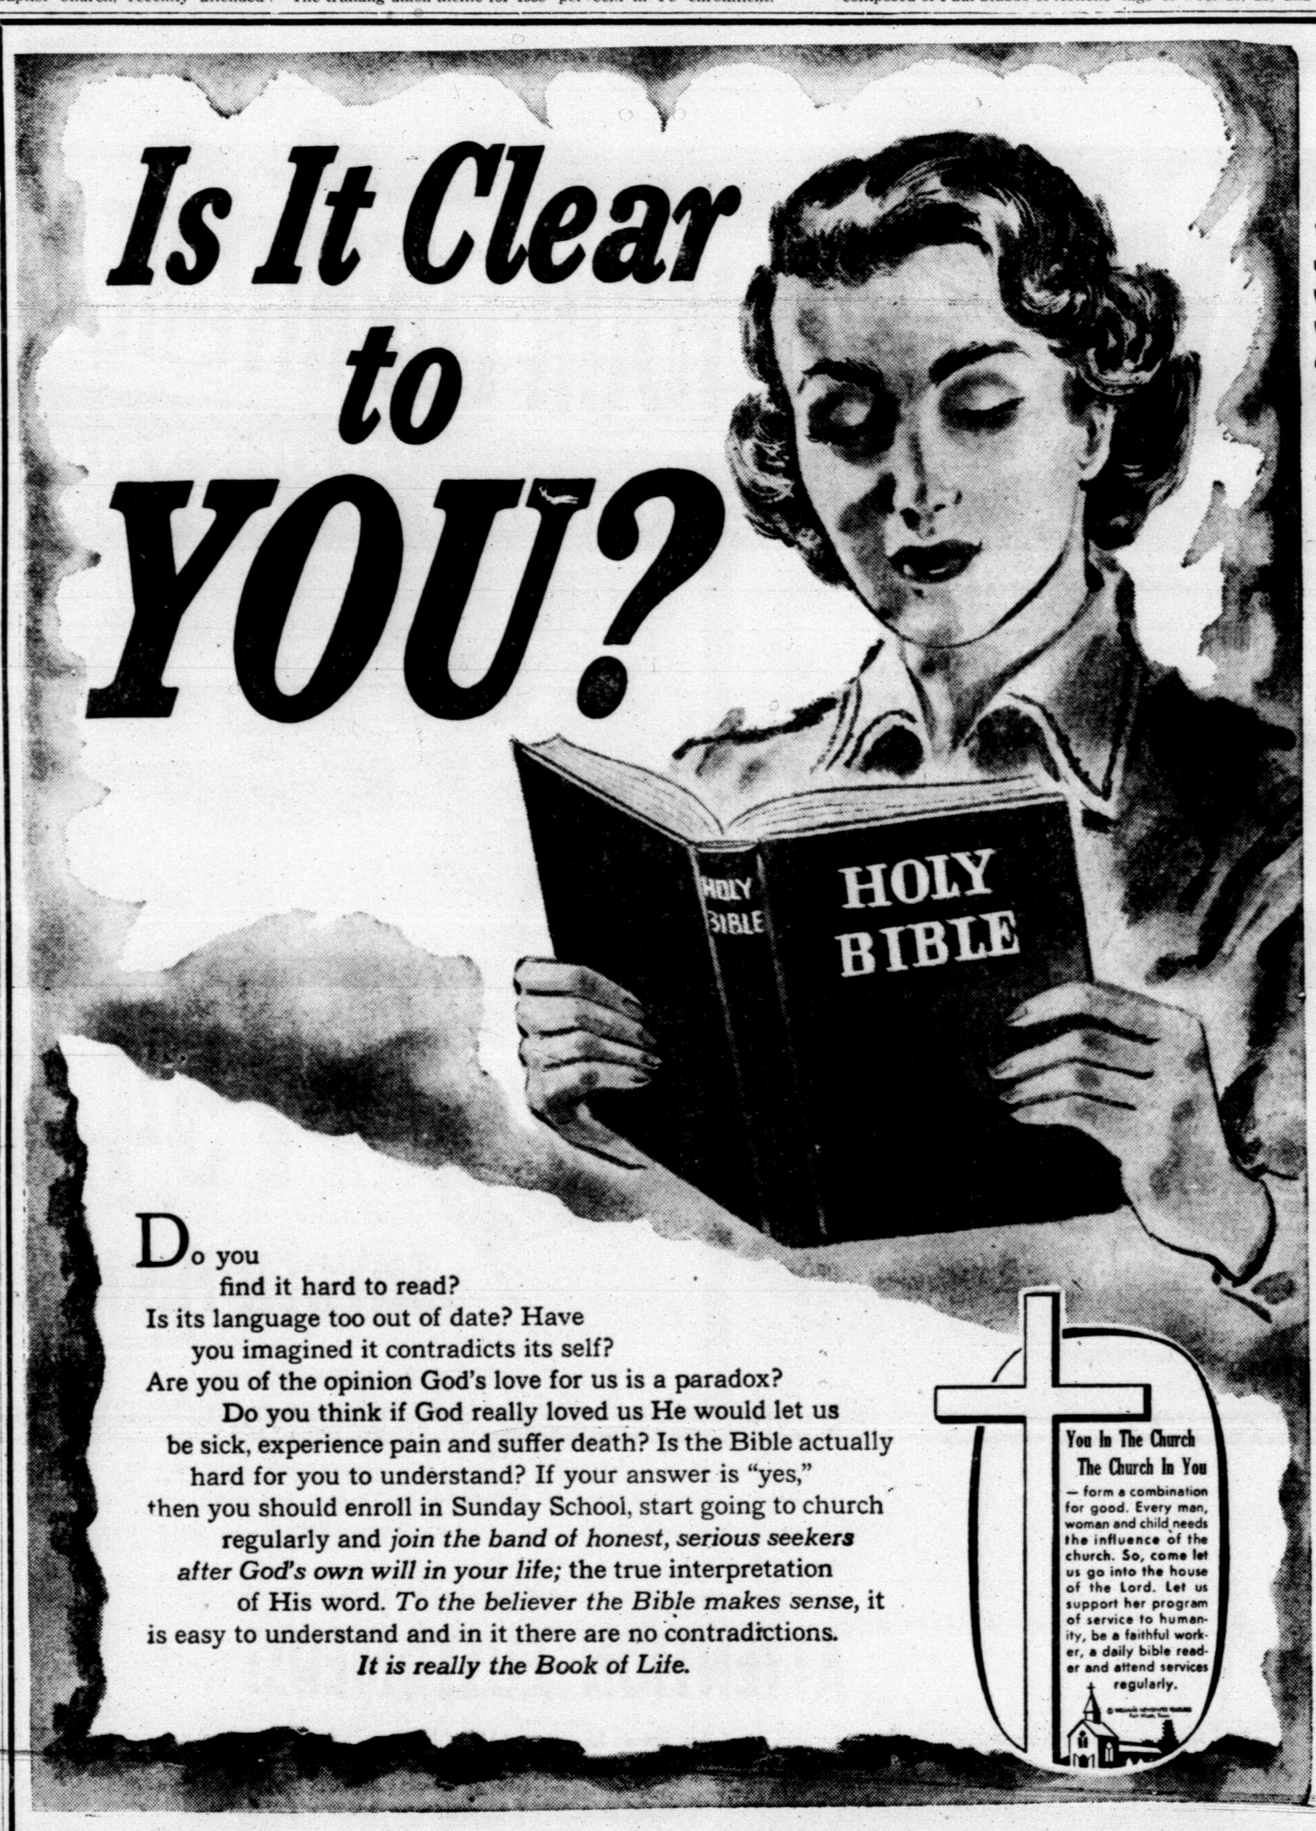

Glen Pace
Minister

(Question) "Does Paul approve of drinking wine in 1 Tim.5:23?"

(Answer) A winebibber may try to interpret this passage to mean so, but such is to do injustice to God's word and thus interpret the scriptures from sinister motives, i.e. for the purpose of justifying himself in an evil practice. The scripture under consideration says, "Drink no longer water, but use a little wine for thy stomach's sake and thine often infirmities." (1 Tim. 5:23) This scripture presupposes that (1) Timothy had not been drinking wine, (2) He was sick and in need of medicine, (3) His sickness was in his stomach, (4) Water was bad for him, and that (5) Wine would cure him. This was Paul's prescription for an individual case. I know of men who have not been given a prescription like this from a inspired apostle or a competant physician, yet they haven't missed a dose in sometime. Solomon said, "Who hath woe? who hath sorrow? who hath contentions? who hath babbling? who hath wounds without cause? who hath redness of the eyes? they that tarry long at the wine." (Prov. 23:29-30) The prophet Habakkuk says, "Woe to him that giveth his neighbor drink, that puttest thy bottle to him, that makest him drunken also . . . the cup of the Lord's right hand shall be turned unto thee, and shameful spewing shall be on thy glory." (Hab. 2:15-16) Paul said, ". . . use a LITTLE wine . . . for thine often infirmities."
