SIX WITNESSES ARE HEARD IN MURDER TRIAL TODAY AFTER ROSS IS CROSS-EXAMINED

CHIEF PROSECUTION WITNESS ADMITS THREAT TO SHOOT DEFENDANT IF THEY EVER MEET; ATTEMPT IS MADE TO EVADE QUESTIONS

The state of Texas continued to weave a web of circumstance around Hugh Walker, charged with murder, in 99th district court this morning as several witnesses followed G. A. Ross, chief prosecution witness, on the stand to corroborate parts of his testimony.

Six witnesses were heard after defense counsel had concluded cross examination of Ross who continued to be reticent in answering queries from W. F. Schenck, one of Walker's attorneys.

Ross took the stand for the state Tuesday afternoon and told his story of circumstances surrounding the slaying of F. V. "Leather Hat" Brown, for which Walker is charged.

Third On Trial

Walker is the third defendant in the Brown slaying charges, Jess Covington and B. L. "Barber John" Richardson already having been convicted and sentence to eight and twenty years, respectively.

Climaxing cross examination this morning, Ross admitted that he had told Benjamin Kucera, defense attorney, last Sunday that he (Walker) had better start shooting if they (he and Walker) get out of this trouble.

"Didn't you tell Kucera to tell Hugh Walker that when you and Hugh got out of this trouble that he'd better start shooting the first time you saw each other because you were going to shoot?" Schenck asked.

"Yes, sir," Ross replied.

"And Hugh Walker hasn't done a thing to you, has he?"

"Has Done Everything"

"Hugh Walker has done everything to me," Ross replied.

"And you sent word that you'd kill him the first time you saw him after this?"

Ross said he had.

"But you had a reason for making that statement, didn't you, Mr. Ross?" District Attorney Durwood Bradley asked Ross on re-direct examination.

REDMAN TRIAL WITH TAHOKA JURY TODAY

ARGUMENTS ENDED IN MURDER CASE; GIRL IS ON THE STAND

(Special To The Journal)

TAHOKA, Oct. 5.—The fate of Mrs. Ola Mae Redman, 32, charged with the murder June 8, 1931, of Howard Chase, 33, became a 106th district court jury's problem at 12:15 o'clock this afternoon. The jury received the case after additional testimony had been given, by Mrs. Redman's 12-year-old Lillie Mae, and argument by counsel had been heard.

The prosecution, G. H. Nelson, Lynn county attorney and district attorney-elect, and Tom L. Price, district attorney, asked for no specific penalty. Nelson, whose opening argument required 45 minutes, was followed by N. C. Outlaw, of Post, defense attorney, who used 60 minutes in pleading self defense and the unwritten law. District Attorney Price's argument was only 15 minutes long.

Daughter On Stand

Mrs. Redman's 12-year-old daughter, taken to the stand for reopening of the case for additional evidence, testified of a trip she and her brother and sister, twins, Ray and Fay, made with their mother to Roswell, N. M., late in the fall of 1930. The girl said Howard Chase's father gave her mother some money at Plains, where they had stopped en route to Roswell, so they could buy food. It was that trip which resulted in placing of a Mann act charge against Howard Chase, according to evidence.

Testimony was completed at 8:20 o'clock last night, after the defendant, her husband, Glen, from whom she was estranged when

COMMITTEE ON JOBS MEETS

UNEMPLOYED WILL BE REGISTERED HERE FOR ROAD WORK

A Lubbock county highway committee, appointed by Guy R. Johnston, district resident engineer for the state highway department, to supervise employment of jobless men on emergency highway projects, met in the chamber of commerce at 9 o'clock this morning and set 9 o'clock Friday morning as registration time for unemployed men desiring to apply for work. The men will be registered at city hall by the chamber of commerce, which will handle clerical work only.

The committee, personnel of which Mr. Johnston announced late Tuesday, is J. B. Maxey, a contractor; J. H. Bryan, retired, and W. B. Atkins, a lumber company manager, all of Lubbock. Under a federal regulation, the committee will compile a list of eligible applicants, and the contractor will select his workmen from the list. Friday's registration will be for grading and drainage of state highway No. 24 east of Lubbock to Idalou.

Work Starts Monday

The contractor, Panhandle Construction company of Lubbock, will use about 30 men in two crews of 15 men each. Work will begin Monday. Laborers will not be permitted to work more than 30 hours a week. Minimum pay for common labor is 30 cents an hour.

Registration will not begin until 9 a. m. Friday, and men wanting work will gain nothing by seeing or calling the committeemen or the chamber of commerce, it was declared.

Rio Grande Flood Covers Farm Land

BROWNSVILLE, Oct. 5. (AP)—The swollen Rio Grande spread over a large area of farm land in Mexico today but danger of further levee breaks appeared to be past on the American side of the river.

Last night it was thought for a time that a break was imminent near Santa Rosa. There was a weak spot on the south levee of the floodway there near the break in the north levee which let water spread over a large section in Willacy county. A north wind pressed the water against the barrier but finally subsided.

HOOVER FLAYS DEMOCRATIC PROGRAM

SAYS DEPRESSION IS BEING CONQUERED BY REPUBLICANS

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

ON BOARD PRESIDENTIAL SPECIAL, En Route to Washington, Oct. 5 (AP)—President Hoover made a campaign tour today out of his return to Washington from Des Moines where last night he told a cheering audience that "a great national victory has been achieved" in the "war" against the "economic storm" and said the Democratic program was marked by "reckless disregard of the safety of the nation."

The chief executive, in a series of rear platform appearances through Indiana and Ohio today, resumed the offensive in his campaign for re-election which he assumed last night when he told the nation that the legislation proposed by Democrats in the last session of congress, if ever enacted, "will end hope of recovery."

Says Program Approved

This program, the president said, was approved by the Democratic party when it nominated Speaker Garner for vice-president.

At one point in his speech, when the president was outlining what he called the Democratic "program" proposed in the house during the last session of congress, as a result of which he said he vetoed several measures, a member of the audience yelled: "Give 'em hell."

The president halted his address, smiling broadly for fully half a minute.

White House aides said today that scores of congratulatory telegrams were being received by Mr. Hoover on his special train, commending him for his Des Moines address.

Applause Interrupts

A crowd which filled the Des Moines coliseum interrupted Mr. Hoover nearly 100 times with applause during the hour and a half of his speech in which he said "we have won this battle" against economic forces and enunciated 12 policies or proposals of aid to agriculture.

Youth To Lead To Scene Of Slaying

FORT WORTH, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Officers today planned to have William Raymond Ryals, 22, lead them to the spot east of here where he allegedly killed A. G. MacGuerty, 33, circulation auditor, Sept. 25.

Ryals was brought here last night from Galveston, where he directed officers to MacGuerty's body, buried under a seaside cottage 13 miles from Galveston.

HAWKINS CASE UNDER WAY

STATE RESTS TUESDAY IN MURDER HEARING AT PLAINVIEW

(By The Associated Press)

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 5 — First defense testimony was in order today in the case of Joe Hawkins, charged with murder for killing of his father-in-law, S. M. Walker.

The state rested yesterday. This is the third trial of the case, which was brought here on a change of venue from Crosby county. Three eye-witnesses testified yesterday that Hawkins shot Walker when the men quarrelled over a dog fight. They said Walker asked his son-in-law to stop the fight.

Puerto Rico Faces Menace Of Disease

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Disease, stalking in the path of the recent hurricane, has raised a new menace to Puerto Rico.

Doctors reported malaria and influenza were spreading in the towns of Luquillo, Fajardo and other sections, and that water contamination caused a fear of typhoid.

THREE TOWNS THREATENED

ONE PLACE RAZED AS FOREST BLAZES EAT IN TWO STATES

(By The Associated Press)

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 5—Forest fires roared through western Oregon and southwestern Washington today, threatening to destroy three small towns. Flames already had left one Oregon town in ashes and destroyed half a dozen buildings in another.

The deserted mill town of Wendling in Lane county, central western Oregon, still stood today as 2,500 men fought flames that threatened it. Residents had fled.

Four Homes Razed

Amboy, a little town in southwestern Washington about 40 miles north of Portland, was virtually ringed by flames that had swept over thousands of acres of timber and brush land and destroyed several farm homes. Fear was felt for the safety of six families which determined to fight the mile-wide path of fire to save their homes.

Across the Columbia river in Washington county, Oregon, the mill town of Cochran was nothing but ashes. Its 200 residents fled shortly before their homes were burned yesterday.

Forest service officials said they believed rain would be the only effective check against flames which parade in broken formation from north of the Columbia river to the California border. The weather bureau forecast continued dry weather.

Although hundreds of lives have been imperiled by the fires, only one has been lost.

Man Is Sought For Choking Two Girls

HARLINGEN, Oct. 5. (AP)—Officers today sought a man who entered two homes here early yesterday and attempted to choke two girls as they slept. In each case he fled before seriously injuring the girl. Neither could give a clear description of the man. The girls were Miss Lucille Waters and Miss Mildred Yates.

DEADLINE SET FOR TONIGHT BY WHITES

LOCAL LAWYER TELLS BLACKS TO STAY AT THEIR HOMES

Several white men last night warned negroes living between Sixteenth and Eighteenth streets on the west side of Avenue C to leave their homes by tonight. Max Coleman, a Lubbock lawyer, who owns most of the property in the area, said this morning.

Coleman, a former New Mexico peace officer, said he told the negroes to stay at their homes. He said he would be at the scene tonight as the deadline approaches. Coleman, who expressed himself as favoring segregation of negroes, said he believed an agreement could be reached amicably if he knew with whom to talk, to explain the situation.

Complaint Made

Several white men, represented by a spokesman, complained informally last Saturday that about 10 families of negroes lived west of Avenue C between Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets. A city ordinance, passed as an emergency measure by City commission in April, 1932, declared negroes should not own property or reside in any part of Lubbock except that south of Sixteenth street and east of Avenue C, unless they were servants receiving quarters as compensation. The ordinance later was found to be unconstitutional.

In 1929, however, Mr. Coleman said this morning, the commission moved the line, bordering the negro district, from the center of Avenue C westward to the middle of the block so white and black residences would not front each other. The negro homes complained of have been there since 1929, and no complaint had been raised until now, the lawyer said. He said he had installed sewage connections and fixtures at several of the negro homes. The blacks bought or rented property in the extended area, after the commission's 1929 act, with the understanding they would not be molested, he said.

One of the places which negroes said were entered last night by white men, who had stopped in an automobile, is a negro eating house, immediately across the street from the negro school, Seventeenth street and Avenue C.

Coleman said he did not favor encroachment by negroes, but did not believe it had occurred. Negroes said whites recently, prior to last night, had ordered them to vacate their homes.

Cow Led Through A Yard Causes Death

GALVESTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—An altercation caused by a cow being led through a yard resulted in the fatal shooting yesterday afternoon of George J. Q. Stevens, 70. Two bullets struck him.

A murder charge was filed against W. N. Shown, who told officers Stevens hit him on the head with a piece of lumber when he protested against Stevens leading the cow through his yard.

DISTRICT JUDGE SAYS HE HAS NO JURISDICTION TO ACT IN STERLING'S CONTEST SUIT

DECISION KILLS INJUNCTION RESTRAINING MRS. McCALLUM FROM CERTIFYING "MA" AS DEMO CANDIDATE; PETITION IS DISMISSED

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 4.—District Judge W. F. Robertson today held he did not have jurisdiction to try an election contest suit filed by Governor R. S. Sterling to test the right of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson to enter the November election as the Democratic candidate for governor.

The decision means that further proceedings in the district court will be discontinued, at least until the higher courts have passed on the question of the jurisdiction of Judge Robertson's court.

Judge Robertson sustained the plea in abatement and dismissed the petition.

Injunction Affected

Judge Robertson ruled his temporary injunction restraining Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, from certifying Mrs. Ferguson as the nominee necessarily falls with his decision that he did not have jurisdiction.

The court stated:

"The right to try a contested election under the laws of the state is given to the district courts in section eight of article five of the constitution and the legislature has attempted to enact a law carrying that provision into effect; but we hold that the act does not extend to and include contests for the office of governor. That contest is left entirely in all its branches with the legislature."

Difference Claimed

The governor's attorneys had contended the constitutional provision giving the legislature authority to try contested elections referred solely to contests of the general and not the primary election. They argued that the governor would not be a party at interest after the general election because he would not have been a candidate.

Governor Sterling had asked that allegedly illegal votes cast for Mrs. Ferguson be thrown out and that he bedeclared the legal nominee and certified as such.

Not Complete Unit

Judge Robertson held the primary election was a part of the whole election and that it would not be complete until after the November election.

The decision stated Governor

CROPS UNHURT BY FROST IN PANHANDLE

TEMPERATURE SET AT 33; COTTON AIDED MORE THAN HURT

A light frost occurred here last night, and the temperature at the state experiment sub-station about 6 o'clock this morning was 33 degrees, Don L. Jones, superintendent, reported. As in 1926, the young cotton was not harmed, and opening of the older cotton will be accelerated, he said. At the municipal airport, the mercury dropped to 31 degrees, Clint Breedlove, manager, said.

Only once in the history of weather records here has the mercury dropped to 33 degrees as early as October 5. The record, of the earliest 33 degrees, was set in September 29, 1916.

The sun shined here through this morning. The temperature at noon was 65 degrees at the municipal airport. A 16-mile-an-hour wind was recorded there at noon.

The United States weather bureau at Amarillo reported light frost general over the Panhandle-Plains last night, would damage cotton only slightly, if at all. Temperatures were rising today under a bright sun, and a continuation of fair and warmer weather was forecast. The norther which hit the Panhandle-Plains late Monday abated Tuesday, and the wind was calm.

Describing last night's frost as not killing, Mr. Jones said it would benefit cotton, the old opening and the young continuing to mature. Feed crops at the sub-station were not damaged. Although leaves on the old cotton were killed and will fall off, Mr. Jones attributed that to angular leaf spot, prevalent in Lubbock county this year, which destroys soil growth in the leaf. The cold simply defoliated the plants, he said.

DEMO LEADERS CLASP HANDS

GOV. ROOSEVELT AND AL SMITH WIN IN LEHMAN FIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 5 — Two hands clasped in flood-light lingered in the memory of Democrats today as they squared away for final tussles with Republicans.

They were the hands of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Alfred E. Smith, who called each other "Al" and "Frank" as they grinned over a common victory.

Both For Lehman

Both had fought for the nomination of Lieut. Governor Herbert H. Lehman as governor. As opposition finally melted and success arrived, they met on the platform of the Democratic state convention last night.

Ten thousand pairs of eyes watched them. It was the first time they had met since the Chicago national convention, where Roosevelt won and Smith lost the nomination for the presidency.

"Al" and "Frank"

Smith, arriving to place Lehman in nomination, went on the platform. Shaking hands with persons there, he approached the spot where Roosevelt was standing. It was "Hello, Al" and "Hello, Frank" and then the handshake.

Tumult drowned their further remarks, but as reported by Guernsey T. Cross, the governor's secretary, the dialogue over the handclasp was:

Roosevelt: "Al, this comes from the heart."

Smith: "That goes for me too."

Trial Of Guards Is Delayed In Florida

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 5 (AP)—A tentative jury was chosen today to try two former convict guards on charges of torturing Arthur Maillefert to death in a prison sweat box but just when it appeared the tedious selection was finished, the prosecution challenged four men previously seated.

The action diminished hope that testimony would be heard during the forenoon in the prosecution's effort to prove first degree murder charges against George Courson, former captain of the guards at the Sunbeam prison camp, and Guard Solomon Higginbotham.

Crosbyton Man Dies In Sanitarium Here

Thomas E. Davis, 32, of Crosbyton died at 1:50 o'clock this morning in a sanitarium here after an illness of about two months. Death was attributed to a brain abcess.

Funeral services were to be conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the First Baptist church at Crosbyton by Rev. C. E. Dick, pastor. Burial was to be at Crosbyton by Bynum-Stahler Funeral home.

Mr. Davis is survived by a widow; a son, Jack, of Crosbyton; his mother, Mrs. T. P. Davis, of Temple; a brother, Marvin Davis of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. W. P. Reaves of Temple.

One Man Killed In Farm Holiday Drive

CANBY, Minn., Oct. 5 (AP)—The first fatality in Minnesota's farm holiday strike movement occurred when Nordahl Peterson, 25-year-old farmer of near here, was shot and killed by unidentified assailants as he stood near a picket station.

Shortly before the killing Fred Hacker, another farmer picket, was shot at but escaped uninjured at a nearby picket post.

Peterson was caught unaware by a fusillade of bullets last night as he stepped from a tent at a picket station one mile west of here in which he and three companions were sheltered.

MODERATE IMPROVEMENT IN BUSINESS ACTIVITY SINCE AUGUST IS REPORTED

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Moderate improvement in business activity since late in August, marked by "rapid gains in the textile industry" was reported today by the commerce department in its October survey of current business.

Summarizing the business situation, the department said a number of major indicators had moved upward "by more than the usual seasonal amount." It continued:

"The movement has been generated largely by the demand for consumer goods as reflected in the rapid gains in the textile industry, and an upturn in the leather and food processing industries.

"So far the heavy industries have felt little stimulation and show a continued tendency to lag. Steel mill activity has risen to only about 17 per cent of capacity; the automobile industry is seasonally inactive with production at a low level, and the slight advances in construction have afforded but little support to the productive end of the industry.

Twenty-three people attended the meeting.

Cowboy Costumes Are Worn To Dance

Time turned back for a number of Lubbock people Tuesday evening when Ross Edwards entertained with a cowboy dance for the Third Tuesday Dancing club at the Uptown Dance palace.

There was a large crowd in attendance, many from out of town. Of these, the majority wore costumes of the range—big hats, bright shirts and bandanas, boots and spurs. Women wore riding skirts, shirts and hats.

A chuck wagon, camp fire, saddles and blankets brought into the hall carried out the spirit of the occasion.

A song that Mr. Edwards has written and set to music was sung by his sister, Mrs. J. H. Eubank. Several other special musical and dancing numbers were given during the evening.

Philathea Class Has Monthly Meeting

Members of the First Methodist Philathea class attended a monthly party Tuesday evening. Miss Ethel Lawson was hostess at 1926 18th street. Sewing was the diversion.

Baptist YWA Is To Be In Program

Members of the Young Woman's auxiliary in First Baptist church are to present a program at 8 o'clock this evening at the church. This will be a part of the prayer week observance of the Women's Missionary society.

Talks will be given on the Baptist colleges and hospitals and a play will be given.

Mrs. George Moore was leader of the program on Tuesday afternoon. Talks concerned the church missionary work among Mexicans and were made by Mrs. Ellis W. Martin and Mrs. J. E. Alexander. Mrs. R. C. Hopping led the devotional. There were 15 members and two visitors at the meeting.

Delphian Program Is Heard Tuesday

There was a discussion of Greek mythology Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of the Daleth Delphian chapter with Mrs. R. I. Tubbs, 2410 20th street.

Mrs. Joe Baldridge was leader for the afternoon. She was assisted by Mesdames Alex McDonald, C. G. Stinson, Harry Hall and L. T. Vaughn.

Dancing Club Dance To Be Thursday

The Lubbock Dancing club dance for this month is scheduled for 9 o'clock Thursday evening at Hotel Lubbock. Hosts are to be Messrs. and Mesdames L. E. Davis, W. O. Daniels, C. E. Dean, Fred Caylor, George Carver, J. B. Acton, Ernest Conley and Paul Crouch.

Here's That Different Mountain-Grown Coffee

That Husbands Rave About

A Rare and Richer Coffee Flavor From Tiny Mountain-Top Plantations Along The West Coast of CENTRAL America

Coffees Which Experts Concede Are Not Duplicated Anywhere Else in the World

NOT merely another "brand" of coffee. Not merely another "blend." But a rare and different flavor that's guaranteed to make any husband say, "Now, that's what I call real coffee!"

Because men especially appreciate the full, mellow body of these richer coffees from the West Coast of CENTRAL AMERICA. And that's why you find them served in so many noted hotels and clubs for men—and on luxurious transcontinental trains.

Grown high up in tiny mountain-top plantations, these rare coffees make ordinary kinds taste "thin" and "flat" by contrast, according to most men.

For a unique combination of clear mountain air, volcanic soil, and tropic rainfall gives them a flavor which experts concede is not duplicated anywhere else in the world. A rare, winey tang that nature has never imparted to any other coffee!

Difficult to Get

These mountain coffees are comparatively scarce—and difficult to get. For the total yearly crop represents but a fraction of the world's coffee supply.

As a result the average person rarely (if ever) tastes them. While not 1 woman in 50, say domestic science experts, has yet learned that they exist.

But Folger's is one coffee which brings this rare coffee flavor to you. Packed in key-opening, vacuum tins to preserve every vestige of unique mountain-freshness directly to your table.

In order that you may taste it without delay, note the unusual test we invite you to make below.

Try This Test

Just go to your grocer and get a pound of Folger's today. Drink it tomorrow morning.

The following morning serve the coffee you previously used. The third morning serve Folger's again.

Then choose between them.

If, for any reason, you decide against Folger's, your grocer will refund your money. We'll pay him. That's fair, isn't it?

NOTE: Folger's is particularly economical. Because of greater richness and body, you may use 1-5th less! Make the test today! 149

In Rich Volcanic Soil, High Up On Steep Mountain Slopes, Grow Coffees Especially Valued For Their Mellowness And Winey Tang.

The "Volcano of Water" Near Antigua, Guatemala, are two famous volcanoes, "The Volcano of Fire" and "The Volcano of Water." Experts credit the rich volcanic soil as well as the high altitude (5500 ft.) with the remarkably rich, mellow flavor of coffee grown here.

EYE ATTITUDE OF RUSSIANS

AMERICA HAS A KEEN INTEREST IN WORLD CONFERENCE PLANS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — Whether Soviet Russia will participate in the forthcoming world economic conference is a subject of keen international speculation shared by capital officials.

Also of special interest in discussions here is the question of what reservations, if any, Russia will make if the Soviet government decides to accept the invitation to the London monetary and economic conference early next year.

U. S. To Enter

The United States agreed to enter on condition that tariff rates and war debts would not be discussed. Frederick M. Sackett, American ambassador to Germany, and Norman H. Davis represented the United States at Geneva on the organization committee for the conference which decided to throw the meeting open to non-members as well as members of the League of Nations, thus making it world-wide in its scope.

Since the Genoa conference called by the great powers in 1922 to meet with representatives of Soviet Russia in an effort to restore Russia to the family of nations by enabling that country to get money for rehabilitation, Soviet Russia has not participated in the various important economic conferences.

The Genoa conference resulted in a separate commercial treaty between Germany and Soviet Russia, to the consternation of the Allied powers. Since that time the Soviet government has confined its diplomatic endeavors to the establishment of trade relations with neighboring Asiatic countries, although recently it has extended its trade in Germany and Italy.

X-Rays "See" Three Dimensions Now; Their "Winks" Are 60 Times A Second Now And Make Images More Clearly

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(Associated Press Science Editor)

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 — X-ray eyes are a reality at last—two X-ray tubes placed like real eyes to exhibit the inside of the body in three dimensions.

They are the invention of two young California Institute of Technology scientists, Jesse W. M. DuMond, Ph.D., and Archer Hoyt, Ph.D.

Different Kind Of 'Movie'

These new eyes project a motion picture on a screen, but it is different from any other kind of movie. Ordinary pictures are thrown on screens at the rate of 15 a second, a speed sufficient to seem continuous to the human eye.

The X-ray eyes flash 120 views a second, 60 from each tube, and the pathways of these views cross each other before reaching the screen. But they never interfere, because during each sixtieth of a second while one view is on, the other is off.

Screen Image Offset

The result is two apparently continuous living images on the screen, very close together — just slightly offset. That is the kind of image a real pair of eyes always looks at. But real eyes "focus" their two images, so that the brain sees only one, and in three dimensions.

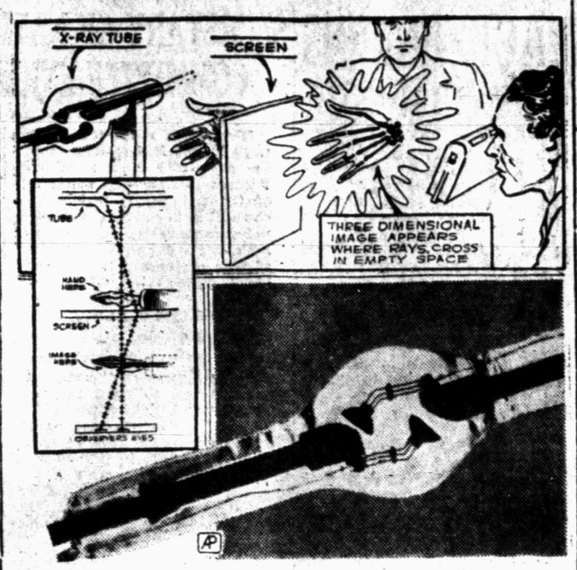

The "retina" for focusing in this mechanical device is called an image selector. It is a pair of eye holes with shutters opening and closing with lightning quickness.

The shutters are synchronized with the tubes so that the observer's left eye never sees anything except the image from the left hand tube and the right eye only the right hand tube.

BEAMS CROSS IN SPACE

Thus the beams from the screen are caused to intersect before they reach the observer's eyes. They intersect out in space, the same distance in front of the screen as they crossed each other behind it.

At this intersection in front of the screen the perfect three-dimensional image forms. The mechanical focus is at that point.

The success of the optical trick is obtained quite simply by a single alternating current of electricity. Sixty times a second the current travels in one direction, lighting one tube each time. This tube goes out and the other lights during the 60 times the current is reversed.

The same current opens and closes the shutters in front of the observer's eyes, one direction of current operating each shutter.

DIAMOND REVIVAL LOOMS

Dealers in the diamond market in Antwerp, Belgium, are busier and happier than they have been for many months. Between sales they are asking whether the present spurt in the buying of the gems is due to low prices or is an indication that world-wide prosperity is returning. Since June there have been more buyers from the United States in Antwerp than for a long time. India has sent 30 buyers and Italy is also purchasing. Local dealers say that the diamond is essentially a luxury and has been the first to suffer in former economic crises, but it also has been the first to benefit when the tide has turned.

AFRICAN SCHOOL CROWDED

Because of the awakened desire for learning in South Rhodesia a girl's school at Hope Fountain, near Bulawayo, has more girls than it can accommodate, and the officials may have to enlarge the buildings. One black girl arrived from a remote country district in Selukwe, having traveled by train until her money ran out and then walking 20 miles. Her mother, a widow, could not pay the school fees, and the girl insisted on becoming a working pupil.

The oldest town in the world is said to be the ruins of Tepe Gawra, in northern Mesopotamia.

THREE HELD FOR BURGLARIES HERE

Two men and a woman, suspects in robbery last summer of several Lubbock residences, still were in city jail without charge at noon. Three persons late Tuesday had identified recovered articles as loot from their homes, police said.

The arrests were precipitated by Mrs. S. E. Arnold of Thirty-First street who recognized as her own a dress she saw a woman wearing down town Tuesday.

Raids last night netted clothing and articles stolen from the Arnolds, from H. A. Watson, 3003 Nineteenth street, and Mrs. Odelle Johnston, 1907 Twenty-Third street, police said.

Loot at police headquarters last night included women's and men's clothing, a pistol, a purse, comb and brush set, a mirror, and other articles.

IRISH "CRUSOE" GIVEN RADIO

Ulster's Robinson Crusoe, George McErlain, an old-age pensioner who lives in a wooden cabin erected by himself in one of the tiny islands of Lough Berg in County Antrim, has received a radio set from an anonymous woman donor. With the gift was a letter reading: "From Madcap Madeline, who sincerely hopes this little wireless set will help to pass away a few hours. She envies you what she considers an ideal life."

Having earned, during his long career in British public life, the title of the "Welsh Wizard," by virtue of his political acumen, David Lloyd George, Britain's war-time Premier, is shown trying out his wizardry on the chickens, the raising of which is his hobby. The former Premier maintains a farm outside London, where he spends all the time he can spare from his duties as leader of the Liberal Party.

MISHAPS TAKE HEAVY TOLL

ALL ACCIDENTS HELD AVOIDABLE BY ICC SAFETY DIRECTOR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—An annual toll of "thousands of lives and millions of dollars" today was laid to traffic accidents in the United States by W. P. Borland, safety director of the interstate commerce commission.

Addressing the twelfth annual convention of the safety section of the American Railway association, Borland said:

"For all practical purposes there is no such thing as an unavoidable accident. Particularly is this true as to a collision between two automobiles or between two trains, for someone is at fault.

"While casualties from railroad accidents have been decreasing for years, there has been a constant increase in the number on the highways."

Borland said the public had developed an apathetic attitude toward automobile accidents partly because those charged with enforcing traffic laws often term them "unavoidable."

MEN COME DOWN FROM MOUNTAINSIDES OF GEORGIA TO SWAP HORSES, YARNS

DALTON, Ga., Oct. 5 (AP)—Men who comb a living off the mountain sides of north Georgia came down from the hills to swap horses and yarns, do a little whittling and barter again like folk did in the bustle and buggy area.

It was the first swappers' convention held here in many years and things went off swell. Business men said things hummed.

Horse trading is as old as man's desires to swap anything from a barlow knife to a farm. Word that there will be a swap at a certain place is spread among the farmers and they set that day aside to trade for what they want and trade off what they don't want.

The women cook a big dinner; the boys get scrubbed behind the ears and little girls get their hair plaited and tied with ribbons. The whole bunch including the dogs are loaded into wagons (or automobiles) and the family drives to town.

The women go to the stores to buy and the men gather to trade. Each animal is examined thoroughly and if a bargain is struck it's closed. Horse traders don't leave after they swap. A man might trade five or six times in one day before he gets the horse he wants and he might come to town with a plug and go home with a fine steed. Swaps also are made for farm equipment—a plough for some harness, a pitchfork for a hoe, or anything that a fellow wants to trade.

BOY SCOUT COMMENDED

John Karschel, a Boy Scout Cub of Salisbury, South Rhodesia, has received official commendation for averting possible tragedy on a bridge over the Gwebi River. While fishing John noticed that one of the concrete piers was badly cracked and already was breaking away. He ran some distance to the engineer, who promptly closed the bridge. The boy has just received letters of commendation from the head of his school and from the Government Road Department.

ENOUGH TURKISH BUT NOT TOO MUCH

Turkish tobacco sometimes runs hundreds of little leaves to the pound. In cigarettes it is used much as seasoning is in food, for flavor and better taste.

You know that seasoning has to be used right . . . just enough of it, not too much.

Chesterfield puts in just the right amount of Turkish tobacco—the best kinds—Xanthi, Cavalla, Smyrna and Samsoun. These are not merely blended, but cross-blended with ripe, mellow Domestic tobaccos.

Enough Turkish, not too much—that's one reason why Chesterfields taste better—why they have a delicacy of aroma you do not find in other cigarettes.

TECH MATADORS POINT TO GRID GAME WITH AUSTIN COLLEGE

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

High school football fans may look forward to a treat Saturday night when Coach Weldon Chapman pits his Westerners, inheritors of the district and bi-district championships, against the up and coming Sweetwater High school Mustangs.

The game will start at 8 o'clock, Saturday night, replacing the Saturday night college game which has been scheduled for Friday night. The dope bucket indicates a Sweetwater triumph.

The Westerners were pushed to beat Snyder High, a Class B team, but a strong one, last Friday. Sweetwater's Mustangs galloped to a 20 to 0 victory over Abilene, state champion.

Red Sheridan, backfield ace of the Sweetwater outfit, who was a chief figure in the Mustang victory over the Eagles, has been declared ineligible, thereby weakening the Pony club. Blondy Cross, the San Angelo scrivener, points out, however, that the Mustangs will be strong anyway.

"With Sheridan off the team," writes Blondy, "Sweetwater will win the District 3 title again and make it tough for Abilene in the bi-district game. With Sheridan playing, Sweetwater would meet Amarillo in the state quarter-finals."

* * *

Oil Belt football has become a question of the courts rather than the gridiron. Over in that region, we mean Districts 2 and 3, the player is wise who controls his football ability. If he shows too much power and too much ability, it's the higher courts for him, after, of course, he is declared ineligible by the district committees.

Last year it was the Hightower case of Cisco. Hightower transferred, or is alleged to have transferred, his allegiance from one school to the other until he finally settled down at Cisco. The boy played a fine brand of football. The Oil Belt can't stand for one individual to outshine the other, so Hightower was ousted, and there was great uproar and acclaim in and about Cisco. The Hightower case stole front page space for six months, and finally appeared in the high courts.

A district judge finally decided that Hightower could play football at Cisco. The judge's decision came after a jury had been discharged after failure to agree.

Now Sheridan made the mistake of going wild against Abilene and out he went, although Sweetwater authorities declare and swear the lad is eligible.

Glenn Wyatt, the speedster who ran wild last year enough to become an all-state man, is now in danger of the executive committee's guillotine.

Roy B. Henderson, high executioner of the state interscholastic league, which governs all high school athletics and other extra-curricula activities, warned the other day that football might be dropped by the league and turned back to the schools.

That's mighty generous of Mr. Henderson and the interscholastic league. He bases his warning on the fact that the schools have refused to abide by league government, and have attempted to over-rule league decisions by taking cases to the courts.

It appears that the league won't have much dropping to do. Football appears headed back to the schools anyway, without any downward or upward shove by the league. A league that can't stand on its feet and run things its own way isn't much of a league, anyway.

If the league, which is owned and operated by the University of Texas, would get things down on the right basis it would not be necessary to talk about dropping football. To get it down would be a simple matter. Merely eliminate at least half—either half—of the rules which are designed to regulate the situation and see that district executive committees are composed of men who know less about football than the Einstein theory.

It would be a sad, sad blow if the University of Texas should cancel all holdings and drop our poor little high schools from the football list. Now wouldn't it. There's got to be organization, to be sure, but let it be one which governs football and nothing but football.

It took part in its first service, which was held at the Dewsbury Deaf and Dumb Institute recently, and is composed of four women who, by synchronized signs, convey words of hymns being sung to deaf and dumb members. The quartette will take part in another service at Dewsbury shortly.

KANGAROOS TO CLASH HERE ON FRIDAY

TECH IS HOPING FOR DRY FIELD AFTER 2 MUD BATTLES

Momentarily forgetting the Southwest conference and the teams which bothered them early in the season, the Texas Tech Matadors are planning to disrupt the peace and solitude of the Texas conference this week-end and they're pointing to the game Friday night with the Austin College Kangaroos.

The Matadors, coaches and crew, are hoping for a dry field and dry weather Friday night. They'd like to see what they could do on a field not soggy and sticky from recent rains.

Never Can Tell

"You can't tell," Coach Cawthon said. "But what we'll be called upon to play a dry weather game some time, and we'd like to know what we can get away with on a dry field."

Heavy rains have fallen preceding and during the two previous games and the Matadors were the side handicapped. Even at that, they were able to hold the Texas Aggies to a one-touchdown victory and afterward defeat the S. M. U. Mustangs by the same count. Given a dry field, there's no telling what they could do.

While they are favorites to take Austin College Friday night, the Matadors are not taking the game lightly. Stiff practice is the order this week, and enthusiasm and pepper is not missing. Snappy weather has added to the increasing amount of vim and vigor on the team.

Tickets On Sale

Tickets for the Austin College team are on sale at the Lubbock and Hilton hotel drug stores. Prices have been reduced for this particular contest, with grandstand and bleacher seats going for one dollar plus ten cents federal tax.

Arizona Here Next

The schedule calls for Texas Tech's first conference game in history next week when the University of Arizona sends its Border State Athletic conference team to Lubbock. The game will be played on Friday night of next week. A second game next week is scheduled with the New Mexico Teachers college of Las Vegas. The game is to be played at Las Vegas on Saturday afternoon.

Coach Cawthon plans no drastic changes in his lineup. There is a constant shift of players when a Tech team plays, and there's no telling who will line up as the "first team" next.

A Changing Combination

The backfield combination composed of Adrian Clark, quarterback, Harold Crites, fullback, and Gwynn Dowell and Lefty Sollis, halfbacks, may be on the first team one day and the "stock troops' the next. Clark and Crites, however, appear destined to carry the brunt of the backfield work in those capacities. D. M. McElroy, Ed McKeever and J. McCommis are halfbacks not to be denied, and they're likely to be seen at any minute. Marion Harris and Johnny Walker will do some work, and don't forget Murray Nichols, fullback who started and finished against the Mustangs, playing a good game throughout.

SIX CLASS A GRID GAMES THIS WEEK

DALLAS, Oct. 5 (AP)—Six Class A Texas Interscholastic league conference high school games are scheduled this week.

In district five, Wichita Falls will go to Electra for a championship game. The opening district 6 game will be between the Dallas Highland Park team and Sherman at Sherman. The powerful Masonic Home team of Fort Worth, playing its first season as a Class A Texas Interscholastic league team, battles Weatherford in the only District seven game. District eight offers two Dallas teams, Woodrow Wilson and Sunset as its lone conference game.

In District twelve, Kerrville will journey to Austin to battle the Maroons of that city. In another District twelve game, Harlandale goes to San Antonio to play Brackenridge.

These are the only scheduled championship games that will have a bearing on this year's scholastic league state championship race, although 34 Class A games are scheduled, all but six are bi-district affairs.

Two conference championship games were played last week when the Fort Worth Stripling team beat Mineral Wells, 12 to 6, and Fort Worth Central beat Weatherford, 43 to 7. Both were District seven games.

Westerners And Mustangs Clash Saturday Night

LUBBOCK TRAINS FOR SWEETWATER GAME THIS WEEK-END

With cries of "Get a Mustang" and "Beat Sweetwater" ringing over the field, the Lubbock Westerners went to work yesterday afternoon and this week with but one purpose in mind—to do what Abilene, the state champion, couldn't do—defeat the Sweetwater High school Mustangs when the District 3 champions come to Lubbock Saturday night.

A snappy drill yesterday afternoon, consisting primarily of signal running and offensive practice, together with some individual tutoring, left the Westerners and coaches in a fair state of mind, whipped to a degree of excitement by the chilling wind and the possibilities of the week-end.

Hearing that Red Sheridan, the big Sweetwater backfield ace who was almost a team by himself last Friday, when the Mustangs beat Abilene High school, 20 to 0, had been ruled ineligible, the Westerners were given some impetus this week and have been looking better than at any previous time this season.

Coach Weldon Chapman, said yesterday that he was confident the Oil Belt executive committee had ruled correctly in declaring Sheridan ineligible, in spite of cries from Sweetwater to the contrary.

Hands Full Anyway

"But we'll have our hands full," Chapman continued, "even with Sheridan out of the way. He didn't beat Abilene by his lonesome; there are other good men in the team. Sweetwater has a good line as well as a good backfield. We'll be doing exceptionally well to hold them as good as Abilene did—but we'll be trying to do better," he added.

It is not a closed case, the Sheridan affair, and there is a possibility that the star may be reinstated this week. Sweetwater officials are planning to file suit, it is understood, and it is not hot news that the higher courts of that section lean toward the reinstatement of allegedly ineligible players.

Godeke Is Out

Richard Godeke, regular backfield man for the Westerner layout, looked on from the sidelines yesterday. He appears to be suffering with a knee injury which probably will recover in time for Saturday night's contest.

Chapman had Rufus, Ryan and Rayburn Hale alternating at quarterback with the regulars yesterday, and Tol Terrill running the right wing-back position in Godeke's absence. Bill Davidson was on the left side and Truman Hutson in fullback position. That may be the lineup to face Sweetwater.

In the line, Odell "Possum" Blackwell was running at left end, having been moved up to replace Robert Stone. The replacement may be only temporary, but Blackwell looked passing fair at the post. Dalton Blagg, regular last year, was at the other wing.

Captain Louis Speer and big Harold Gaines were running at tackles. Bob Vaught and Hugh Newton have recovered from injuries and were back in the guard position, with Howard Bain running center. Vaught and Newton were out of last Friday's game with Snyder because of injuries, and the team was necessarily weakened.

SEEK "POOH-BAH" JOB

Although it includes as many positions as Pooh Bah in the comic opera, Mikado, there were nearly 400 applications for the job of porter at the Fall Birch Isolation Hospital, Bolton, England. The porter also must be an electrical engineer, sanitary engineer, plumber, automobile driver, gardener, disinfector, stoker, boiler attendant and window cleaner. Furthermore he must be married, and his wife must perform many duties. The salary for the two is $10 a week, plus rent, coal and light.

MACK BRANDS HIMSELF AS A FAILURE

SAYS SALE OF THREE PLAYERS MADE FOR MONEY REASONS

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5 (AP)—Connie Mack, lean-visaged manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, termed himself a failure today, denied reports he planned to break up the team, and asserted he is through with player deals that would make strong clubs stronger.

Mack said the membership of the former world's championship team will remain as it is until the close of the 1933 season.

No More Trades

"No player who belongs to the club at present will be sold or traded to a major league club until the close of next season," he announced. "Then if any player is sold or traded it will be to an American league club in sixth, seventh or eighth position in the standings.

"None of the five ranking clubs in the league will ever be able to buy or trade with me for a player as long as I'm a manager."

Connie explained the leading clubs "are always well supplied with players," and added "that's as strong as I'd want to see them."

Referring to his surprise sale of Al Simmons, Jimmy Dykes and "Mule" Haas to the Chicago White Sox last week, he said financial reasons were responsible "in a way."

Went Into Red

"We went into the red, heavily," he said. "We had one of the highest salaried clubs in the league, including even the Yankees with Babe Ruth's $75,000, and our attendance figures were far below those of last year."

"I feel also that I've been a failure—not in playing results, but financially," he added. "And that failure forced me to sell those players."

SECRETARY OF NATIONAL GRID RULES COMMITTEE EXPLAINS MAIN CHANGES

(Because of widespread comment on the 1932 football rules, the Associated Press requested William S. Langford, secretary of the national football rules committee, to clarify the principal changes in the playing code. Following is the first of a series of four explanatory articles by Mr. Langford.)

BY WILLIAM S. LANGFORD

NEW YORK Oct. 5 (AP)—Players and the football public generally have always expected the man carrying the ball to fight for every inch of ground that he can possibly gain until the ball becomes dead.

Under the former rule when any part of the player in possession of the ball, except his hands or feet, touched the ground, while he was in the grasp of an opponent, the ball became dead automatically and play stopped.

This year the rule reads as follows:

"The ball is dead and shall be so declared by the referee: (A) When a player having the ball goes out of bounds, cries 'down', or is so held that his forward progress is stopped, or (except the holder of the ball in a place-kick) when any portion of his person except his hands or feet touches the ground."

The change made was in the elimination of the words "while in the grasp of an opponent", and its purpose was to do away with the dangers that came from "crawling" or "piling up."

This year if the man with the ball stumbles so his knee touches the ground, or if he is bowled over by an opponent, or if he falls on a loose ball, it is instantly dead.

Although it is the referee's duty to announce that the ball is dead by blowing his whistle, any "crawling" which occurs, even before the whistle is blown, is to be penalized by the loss of 5 yards. "Crawling" is defined as "an attempt by the player in possession of the ball to advance the ball after he has been downed; viz., when any portion of his person except his hands or feet touches the ground."

There doubtless will be cases of "crawling," especially in the early games, and this will invite "piling-on" by opponents. In such event a foul will be committed by each team and under the rules the play will be played over, unless the captain of the team in possession of the ball declines the penalty for "piling-on" which he may wish to do if the gain made by his team, previous to the "crawling", is a large one.

GLENN WYATT IS HELD ELIGIBLE

EASTLAND, Oct. 5 (AP)—On the basis of evidence presented here Tuesday, the Oil Belt high school football committee ruled that Glenn Wyatt, star Abilene quarterback, is eligible.

The Oil Belt's action was a direct contradiction of a ruling by the District 3 committee Saturday against Ney Sherdan, Sweetwater backfield star. In 1928, Sheridan and Wyatt, both at Sweetwater then, played on a team known as the Roosters, and have since participated in three years of high school football, not including the current season.

The District 3 committee held that playing with the Roosters should count as a year of participation against Sheridan, but has agreed to reopen his case today.

Sweetwater school authorities say that the Roosters were not a school-sponsored or a school-supported organization.

JOHNSON GETS RELEASE AS MANAGER

"BIG TRAIN" SECOND PILOT TO LOSE OUT THIS SEASON

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP)—The annual turn-over in baseball managers, moving at a faster pace this year than usual, already has left two major league vacancies—at Cincinnati and Washington.

Failure of Dan Howley to lift the Reds out of the National league cellar prepared the baseball world for his recent release but there was considerable surprise when Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, announced last night that Walter Johnson was through as manager.

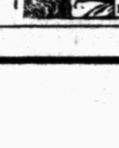

Johnson, the "Big Train", a terror to American league batsmen for 20 years, had managed the club since 1929. The Senators finished sixth in that year, second in 1930 and third in 1931 and 1932.

Neither Griffith nor Sidney Weil at Cincinnati have given any inkling as to their new choices.

There may be other changes in managerial ranks before the 1933 season opens but most of the pilots already have signed contracts.

MAN SCALES MATTERHORN

When a party of climbers and guides recently reached the summit of the Matterhorn, in Switzerland, they found a solitary Alpinist sitting on the top, 14,780 feet above sea level. He gave the name Metzger and said that he had scaled the mountain alone. He refused the guides' offer that he join up on their rope for the perilous descent, and he made his way down alone to Zermatt, six miles away.

ANNOUNCE R F C LOAN TOTAL

MORE THAN A BILLION ADVANCED IN FIGHT ON DEPRESSION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Advances of $1,182,734,958 "in actual cash to aid agriculture, commerce and industry to recover from the depression" were announced today by the reconstruction corporation in a summary of loans made during its first seven months of operation.

From Feb. 2, through Aug. 31, the corporation said $1,118,532,968 was loaned to 5,599 borrowers and $64,201,989 through the secretary of agriculture to 507,632 farmers for crop production purposes.

Distress Relieved

In addition, advances to states and political subdivisions for relieving distress were totaled by the corporation at $34,455,171 from enactment of the relief law in July to the close of business Sept. 30.

The corporation's statement showing that its financial operations have involved approximately one-third of the $3,800,000,000 fund placed at its disposal by congress, dealt only with general statistics and did not mention individual borrowers.

The corporation said that of its $1,118,532,968 direct loans, borrowers Aug. 31 had repaid $150,890,897, leaving $967,642,071 outstanding. Loans of $226,101,268 had been authorized in addition to cash actually paid out, but $35,564,412 of this amount was cancelled by the borrowers and $190,536,855 had not been called for.

Applications Decline

"The statistics further show," the corporation said, "that there has been a steady decline in applications for loans from banks since April. In that month 1,269 applications were received, and in August only 899."

Farm loans made by the secretary of agriculture averaged $126.47 each and were made in every state except Rhode Island. Arkansas led in the number of individual loans with 46,835. Georgia was next with 44,158 and Mississippi third with 40,066.

The corporation's direct cash loans to 5,599 borrowers included: 4,324 banks and trust companies open when the loans were made; 391 receivers of banks closed when the loans were made; 643 building and loan associations; 79 insurance companies; 68 mortgage loan companies; 49 railroads; 17 livestock credit corporations; 10 agricultural credit corporations; 9 federal land banks; 6 joint stock land banks and 3 credit unions.

POLICE ALARMS FOR HOMES

Success of the 600 police call-alarms recently installed in the streets of Paris has prompted city officials to consider the installation of a similar system for private homes. Subscribers will simply press a button, and the glow of an electric lamp will indicate that the call has been received. The public alarms consist of a direct telephone protected by glass. Breaking of the glass causes an alarm to ring in the central police station of the district. The officer in charge replies and members of the Flying Squad are rushed to the spot in a truck equipped with a search light, an auto jack, first-aid outfit and stretcher.

Capitol Built On "Pay As You Go" Plan Is Nebraska's Gift To Itself; New Structure Built For $10,000,000

No bonds have been issued for Nebraska's new capital, whose 400-foot tower dominates the surrounding prairies. Instead, the $10,000,000 cost has been met by taxes—the "pay as you go" plan of financing—and the structure will be entirely paid for when complete. Claims for distinctiveness refer, among other things, to the mahogany doors of the senate chamber (upper left) with the Indian tree of life as the motif.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 5 (AP)—A $10,000,000 capitol whose architecture has attracted wide architectural attention soon will be delivered—prepaid—to the state of Nebraska.

Towering 400 feet above the surrounding prairie, this "skyscraper" state house lacks only a few finishing touches before completon.

Every Brick Paid For

Already $9,750,000 has been spent on the structure, and every brick is paid for. Instead of issuing bonds, Nebraska has levied direct taxes for the capitol.

Now only some landscaping, a bit of interior fitting, sculpture and mural paintings are needed before the building, designed by the late Bertram Goodhue of New York, is finished. No date for its dedication has been set.

Its 400-foot tower, constructed, like the rest of the building, from white limestone, has become a prairie landmark. Thousands of tourists visit it annually, and motorists 25 miles away can glimpse its gold dome, topped by a 32-foot bronze statue of "The Sower."

Goodhue, who submitted the winning design in a contest did not live to see it executed, but his associates carried on.

Built Around Old Capitol

First the outer rim of the main building was constructed around the old capitol. Before the original structure was demolished, most state employes had found office space in the new.

Architectural sculpture adorning the exterior was conceived by Lee Lawrie of New York, who also designed the Indian motif for two massive mahogany doors guarding the entrance to the senate chamber.

Symbolic Designs Used

Intricate designs on the floor and ceilings of the main hall—all symbolic of life in various stages and moods—were worked out by Hildreth Meiere of New York. Other artists likewise made contributions.

Mural paintings, not yet colored, are expected to cost about $80,000.

Despite its unusual plans, however, there is little waste space. The tower, as well as the two-story main wings, contains offices.

JAPANESE SCHOOL BOY EXPLAINS THE MANCHURIAN SITUATION TO AMERICA

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—The Manchurian question, it seems to Chikai Hojjo, Japanese school boy, is not fully understood in Washington.

In his role as an internationalist laboring with some lingual difficulties, he has just sent a thumbnail sketch of matters to this government's capital city, addressed to the "estimable mayor of Washington."

Chikai, a student in the Takasu school, Giju prefecture, said in his letter which went to the commissioners of the District of Columbia:

"Pardon me, mayor, that I ask for your permission. According foreign telegrams, a general outcry arose against for Japanese troops at Manchukut, in America. At 1st thought it must be strange. But please more understand for Manchukuo, as President Ruzevelt said, 'for the eastern it is necessary to watch, protect themselves.' Our troops are for the Asian peace and for the world peace. America is the country of the general outcry, peace, too, mayor!

"Please lead (if America could) for general outcry to stop a fleet maneuver on Pacific ocean, put Japan for hyposesis enemy. Because from the man down to boy are put into the animosity each other. Please mayor lead the American's general outcry rightfully."

It is estimated that about 10 per cent of the United States hay crop is destroyed every year by fire.

TWO RELEASED IN KIDNAPING

DISMISS CHARGES IN LITTLEFIELD CASE; SUIT PREDICTED

LITTLEFIELD, Oct. 5.—(Special)—Kidnaping charges against Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Dannie, Californiana, were dismissed in Justice court Tuesday after the state had been unable to offer evidence concerning custody of nine-year-old Mattie Ann Cox. The Dannies were alleged to have kidnaped the child here early Monday.

That Mrs. Dannie, mother of the child, probably would file suit in 64th district court for custody of the girl was reported to the county attorney, he said. Mrs. Dannie and Richard Cox, father of the child, were divorced in Gray county several years ago. The father claimed he received custody of Mattie Ann. An attempt to obtain a copy of the divorce decree here had failed.

Constable Fred Hoover arrested Mr. and Mrs. Dannie in Sudan early Monday morning. Mattie Ann was with them then.

Some Folks Know Less About Natural Gas Service THAN A ZULU...

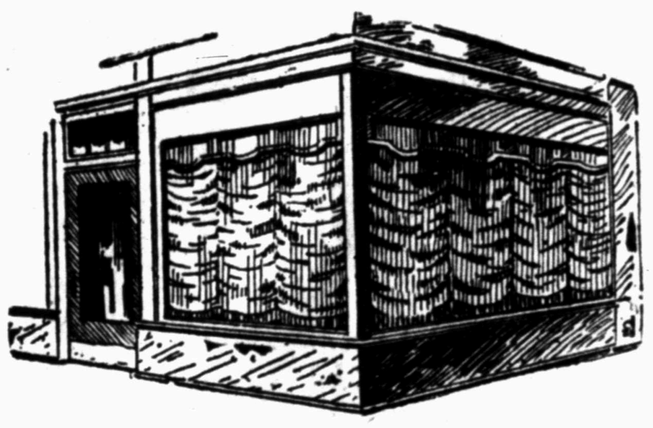

An African Zulu is uninformed about Natural Gas Service. But many modern folks are uninformed about it, hence, in this respect, they know no more than a Zulu.

Natural Gas Service is STILL the least expensive item in the cost of running a household. The Natural Gas Service bill replaces a long list of miscellaneous expenses—laundering, dry cleaning, redecorating, janitor's wages, etc., experienced with dusty ash forming fuels.

During the past summer, when gas was used principally for cooking and water heating, the cost to many homes has been no more than the price of a daily five-cent cigar. Even in cold weather, when larger quantities of gas are required to guard the health and comfort of the entire family, the gas service bill represents only a small fraction of the winter household expenses. In fact the average gas service bill in this section the whole year 'round is only about 15 cents per day for house heating, cooking and hot water supply. A dependable year 'round service that benefits the entire family and costs less than the gasoline expense of one small automobile . . . less than any other necessity that contributes to the health, comfort, convenience and happiness of your home.

As a fuel—as a service, there is no substitute for Natural Gas. Take advantage of its inexpensiveness for your complete comfort this winter.

THE Devonian Age of a hundred million years ago was the source of two wonders: vast inland seas—and the crude oil found in the Bradford-Allegany District of the Pennsylvania field. Sinclair today refines this crude into Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil. Bradford-Allegany crude is so old that it had already undergone millions of years of its mellowing and filtering process when dinosaurs lived in Pennsylvania. Today it is Pennsylvania's costliest crude—a product of the perfect oil-forming conditions in the Devonian Age plus a hundred million years of Nature's priceless treatment. Red Tape

Some of the ways in which the American immigration law is applied are—to say the least—a trifle odd.

Last winter Mrs. John Lambert, Canadian-born wife of an American citizen, went to Novia Scotia to visit her sick mother. While there she gave birth, prematurely, to a son. The child was frail, and she had to delay her return so that she overstayed her re-entry permit.

Now, with the child strong enough to travel, she is trying to take it back to her husband's home in Maine—and the U. S. immigration authorities won't let her in, saying she is a Canadian citizen.

Maybe the rules justify this stand, but it is hard to see any other justification for it. The worship of red tape in the bureau that is keeping this family separated must have reached a height uncommon even in the American immigration service.

HURRAH for weather prediction! Way back yonder on August 3rd. The Plainsman was advised by an oldtimer that 60 days after the first August day during which the wind came from the north, the South Plains would experience its first killing frost.

The cold spell, which set in late in the evening of Monday, was exactly 60 days from the first August day which saw the wind from the north.

★ ★ ★

That's an interesting saying that in West Texas only newcomers and fools predict the weather, but it doesn't hold good.

There are plenty of oldtimers in these parts who have studied nature and the elements so carefully for many years that they are fairly good at guessing the weather.

WHILE probably better known for his sage statement that "there's a sucker born every minute and most of them live", P. T. Barnum, the late great showman, was likewise the inventor of a really more helpful adage.

"First you sow and then you reap", he declared in a speech in London 84 years ago. "That is the whole philosophy of life".

And how right was the famous Phineas!

From the basic industry of all human endeavors—agriculture—we learn that rule and what effort is more akin to nature than agriculture?

"As ye sow, so shall ye reap", or words to that effect.

But granting that Mrs. McCormick's position demanded that she wear the best, how could she have spent $28,000 sagely, especially when she was past the age to engage in social functions?

Of course, Mrs. McCormick's money was hers to do with as she pleased, but think how many meals that sum would have furnished some of the thousands of bums who nightly sleep beneath old newspapers along Chicago's Lake Shore drive, in the then home city of the dowager.

Or if you don't care to become that humanitarian, think how many pretty, young and low paid working girls could have been nattily clad on the money—thus giving both Mrs. McCormick and the world a return on the investment!

Too Much Weight for the Wire

Progressives Who Bolted Republican Ranks May Tip The Scales In Favor Of Roosevelt In Presidential Campaign

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5—Although the progressives have been having some very bad luck, especially those who call themselves Republicans, they will be accorded a large share of the credit or blame in case Governor Roosevelt defeats President Hoover in the November election.

Dutcher

A close election is always followed by innumerable explanations and it can be argued plausibly that had it not been for any one of a dozen minor factors, some of them accidental and some easily avoidable, the outcome would have been different.

If Roosevelt wins he will have won both his nomination by virtue of progressive support and his election by the acquisition of an independent vote for which the progressives in public office may be considered the spokesmen.

His election will have been aided by the enthusiastic support of the Democratic progressives and the opposition of the Republican progressives to Hoover. There will be other factors, of course, but unless a landslide is in prospect the progressives will be an important one.

• • •

Neither the organization of an independent league of progressives for Roosevelt, headed by Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, nor the defeat of Governor LaFollette and Senator Blaine in the Wisconsin primaries, following that of Senator Brookhart in Iowa, signifies anything decisive in the presidential campaign.

The Republican conservatives carried Wisconsin in a campaign restricted carefully to state issues, ex-Governor Kohler having asserted after his 1930 defeat that Hoover had been too big a load to carry. The LaFollettes lost their Democratic support because the Democrats voted in their own primary and there seems to be a real chance that Roosevelt will carry the state.

As for Iowa, straw votes and farmer unrest have indicated such a marked trend to Roosevelt that President Hoover will make a special trip for a speech at Des Moines.

Furthermore, the argument that the Wisconsin result augurs badly for Hoover simply because it demonstrates the voters are out to unseat those in power doesn't stand up for the reason that most incumbents are being renominated and re-elected this year even though a large minority is being booted out.

• • •

But it does make a lot of difference when a dozen Republican senators refuse to campaign for the Hoover ticket and when some even denounce it.

Most of their states are fighting ground for the first time since 1916 and Hoover needs the support of those progressives and their supporters. Each one has a personal following, some of them very large.

Norris, vigorously campaigning for Roosevelt, is likely to be the influence which will cost Hoover Nebraska. Johnson, attacking Hoover and praising Roosevelt without declaring for him, can sway enough votes to make California a doubtful state.

And to the extent that you consider Wisconsin, Iowa, North Dakota and Pennsylvania doubtful states you must concede a large degree of temporary political potency to the LaFollettes, Blaine, Brookhart, Nye and Pinchot. Their failure to help Hoover may make "the difference."

Hoover's thoroughgoing conservatism, which has alienated nearly all the progressive leaders, means that a Hoover victory will be a tremendous victory for the conservatives. On the other hand, Hoover may wish later that he had done more to appease the progressives.

LUBBOCK MAN COMMENTS ON NEGRO SITUATION

Dear Plainsman: In reply to the article in Monday's Journal regarding the negro situation, it would be well for the Border Line Citizen to consider the history of the condition complained about, and determine whether or not his comments are well taken.

In January, 1929, there was only one house in Block 219, and none in Block 203, of the Old Town of Lubbock. That is on the west side of Avenue C, fronting east between 18th and 16th streets. A white man owned the lone house and lot in Block 219, and attempted to sell it to a negro. The negro refused to buy until his attorney went before the city commission and conferred with the city manager, and was informed that as there was not any houses on those lots anyway, it would be agreeable to consider the line for negroes as being extended to the corner of Avenue C and 18th street, thence north on the west side of Avenue C to 16th street. The negro purchased the property, as the white man was anxious to sell. A short time later another negro purchased in Block 219, and two negro women purchased lots, all being bought from white men who were anxious to sell. These negroes have improved their property, and have been living there ever since. Part of them have their homes paid out.

Some two years ago a negro purchased from white men, lots in Block 203, fronting east. They have been residing there ever since. It can thus be seen that it is a very late time in the day for the Border Line Citizen, who does not sign his name to communications, to state they are encroaching on his domain. He does not live on the west side of Avenue C, fronting east, in either of these blocks.

The former writer states he does not wish to be surrounded by negroes. I would feel the same way, and irrespective of the supreme court rulings, I believe in a designated district for the negroes. However, he can see that the negroes did not disregard the wishes of the whites when they settled in these two blocks. The purchases were urged on them. The whites even paid for the examination of the abstracts, and names can be furnished if necessary.

I purchased some houses and placed them on these lots in these two blocks in 1929. The reason they were rented to negroes, was because whites would not occupy them, and rightly so, as they did not wish to live among negroes.

I wish it understood that I know nothing of any other territory now occupied, or about to be occupied by negroes, but the west line for negroes was extended in 1929, to include the west side of Avenue C, between 16th and 18th streets. One reason for this was because negroes then occupied the east side, making it untenable for whites.

Max Coleman,
Lubbock.

Dog Saves Life

SAN FRANCISCO—Because her pet dog wanted to go along, Mrs. Glennada Edge, 44, was frustrated in attempts to walk into the ocean and drown. Three times, fully clothed, she started into the surf and three times the small dog had to be chased back. Then police arrived. While Mrs. Edge was being treated for submersion at an emergency hospital the dog stood by licking her hand.

100th Anniversary

NISH, Jugo-Slavia — When Mr. and Mrs. Filipovitch celebrated their one-hundredth wedding anniversary more than 100 descendants—sons, daughters, grandchildren and great-grandchildren—visited them. He is 117 and his wife 115.

Calls Police

OLYMPIA, Wash.—The voice of a child came over the police telephone, calling for help. The officers traced the call to the home of N. J. Hays, and an officer went to investigate.

He found that the Hays' small son had called the police when his mother spanked him.

A Citizen Now

SAN FRANCISCO — Just to rectify a few mistakes, which included voting at every election for the past 27 years and serving on numerous juries, Clyde Beverly Smith, 48, who thought all along he was a citizen of the United States, was granted naturalization papers. Smith said he always thought that residence in the country since he was four years old made him a citizen. He was born in Australia.

Prosperity Item

INDIANAPOLIS — Here's a prosperity item from the sports page. The Indiana High School Athletic association has just cut a "melon" of $40,000 between 797 member schools. It represents surplus accumulated from sectional basketball tournaments from 1928 to 1932.

All Mixed Up

EAST CHICAGO, Ind.—Felix Dimitchellie is all mixed up about his law and politics. He protested to raiding prohibition agents that the prohibition law had been repealed and produced a newspaper clipping of the Democratic repeal plank as evidence. But it didn't work. The agents arrested him and seized his stock.

Shaking Did It

HENRYETTA, Okla.—H. O. Wall, barber, shook a watermellon seed out of a floormat and with it a $5.50 meal ticket. Here's how: In a contest conducted by a cafe, Wall estimated there were 1,201 seeds in a particular watermelon. Another man guessed 1,200. When the seeds were counted, there were but 1,200. Wall hopefully shook the floormat over which counting took place, and the 1,201th seed rolled out.

KORAN CHANTED IN TURKISH

Mohammedans in Turkey are flocking to mosques where the Koran is chanted in Turkish, and the innovation has so aroused their interest that all mosques are expected to make the change. Following the abolition of the Caliphate, the separation of religion from the State, a few mosques substituted Turkish for the original Arabic. When the change was made this year in the great St. Sophia on the Night of Power, a festival in the fasting month of Ramazan, the building was crowded and thousands were unable to obtain admission. To most of the worshippers it was the first time they were able to understand the services.

AUTOISTS COURT PROPOSED

"Road hogs," charged with dangerous driving should be tried by a special court composed of autoists, declares the Midi of Paris. The courts should have the power to inflict the severest penalties, the newspaper says, for now no one takes any notice of the dozens of people killed and injured every week in auto accidents in Paris. "What," asks the journal, "does a venerable magistrate who has scarcely traveled the length of his own library know of good and bad driving and dangers of the road?"

A New York man who worked 71 years for the same firm and never was late received the congratulations of President Hoover. This life hath its rewards, after all.

Three Minute Relief From Periodical Pains

It is so unnecessary to suffer month after month from inorganic pains, because "B. C." will bring soothing relief in three minutes. "B. C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded on a different principle from most relief-giving agencies in that it contains several ingredients, used by many physicians, so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time. "B. C." should also be used for the relief of common colds, headaches and neuralgia, muscular aches and pains, reducing fever and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. Get "B. C." in 10c and 25c packages, wherever drugs are sold. (adv.)

How One Woman Lost 10 Lbs. in a Week

Mrs. Betty Luedeke of Dayton writes: "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight—I lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it."

To take off fat easily, SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one half teaspoonsful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast go lighter on fatty meats, potatoes, butter, cream and pastries—it is the safe way to lose unsightly fat and one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Get it at Mark Halsey Drug, City Drug, or any drugstore in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back.

But be sure and get Kruschen Salts—imitations are numerous and you must safeguard your health.—Adv.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 5 (AP)—Cotton had a quiet but steady opening today: Liverpool cables were about as due and weather reports were generally unfavorable. First trades showed gains of 5 to 6 points and the market continued to improve after the start on an unfavorable weekly weather report and on predictions of frost in the northern portions of the central belt for tonight.

December traded up to 7.20 and March to 7.35, or 10 points above the previous close. Later in the first hour, the market turned easier owing to hedge-selling and to an easier course in stocks. December dropped to 7.06 and March to 7.22, or 13 to 14 points down from the early highs and 3 to 4 points under yesterday's close. The market was a shade steadier near the end of the first hour and one to two points up from the lows.

The market turned easier as the morning progressed owing to weakness in stocks and also considerable hedge-selling. There likewise was liquidation by longs in advance of the government crop report due Saturday.

December finally traded down to 6.88 and March to 7.05, or 30 to 32 points under the early highs and 20 to 22 points under yesterday's close.

Near mid-session, there was a fair rally due to covering by shorts and some little recovery in stocks. Prices advanced 10 to 14 points from the lows. At these levels prices were 8 to 10 points below the close of yesterday.

Two additional private crop estimates this morning guessed the crop at 11,521,000 bales and 10,839,000 bales respectively.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, 10-15 higher on steadier Liverpool cables and frost in the western cotton belt.

Unfavorable features in the weekly weather report contributed to the advance which carried December contracts to 7.21 with the general list selling about 12 to 14 points net higher shortly after the call. Houses with east Indian and Chinese connections were said to be among the buyers. At the end of the first half hour, December was selling around 7.03, with active months showing net losses of 3 to 5 points. Liverpool cables reported general buying in that market on unfavorable weather reports from the south.

Prices worked lower later in the morning under further local or southern selling promoted by weakness in the grain and stock markets December declined to 6.90, or 30 points from the high level of the morning and about 18 points net lower, with the market at midday barely steady at net declines of about 14 to 16 points. Two more private crop reports were issued this morning, one of which placed the crop at 10,839,000 bales while te oter made it 11,099,000. According to a canvass, New York cotton exchange members on the average are expecting a report of around 10,985,000 bales.

Charges Of Fraud Are Dropped Today

AMARILLO, Oct. 5. (AP)—Charges against Harry W. Bleam, John W McGee, George A. Hawley, D. W Young, sr., and D. W. Young, Jr. indicted in 1930 for using the mails to defraud, were dismissed today in United States district court.

The indictments were returned in connection with the operations of the Matador Oil corporation, H. W Bleam properties and H. W. Bleam enterprises.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 5 (AP)—Grain values underwent a sharp quick setback early today. Despite the fact that in some quarters President Hoover's Des Moines speech was construed as bullish, selling orders overwhelmed the wheat pits and prices suffered an all around tumble.

Opening 7-8 to 1 3-8 lower, wheat afterward dropped further. Corn started 3-8 to 7-8 off and continued to point downward.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP)—The stock market broke away from its narrow trading range of recent sessions today with a sharp downturn, as successive flurries of selling swept through the list.

Extreme losses of 2 to 6 points were numerous in the leaders, but trading slackened and there were numerous recoveries of from fractions to a point during the early afternoon. The market showed little vitality on the rally, however.

Rails were particularly heavy, with extreme losses of 3 to 6 points in Union Pacific, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Lackawanna and New York Central. Farm implements, chemicals and utilities also were depressed. Case dropped about 6 points and losses of 4 or more appeared in Allied Chemical, Du Pont, American Telephone and North American. Miscellaneous issues losing about 3 included U. S. Steel, American Can, International Harvester, Westinghouse, United Aircraft and Safeway

CONTEST SUIT

Sterling had pleaded the district court had jurisdiction under a general provision of the constitution and stated that the general provision would not hold good in view of a direct provision of the constitution. The decision stated on this point:

"By express language the right and power to hear a contest for the office of governor is lodged exclusively in the joint houses of the legislature. The express terms of the constitution will certainly prevail over a general provision."

Mandamus Pending

There is pending in the Texas supreme court a petition of Mrs. Ferguson for leave to file a petition to mandamus Mrs. McCallum to certify Mrs. Ferguson as the nominee. Mrs. McCallum had sent the ballots to the county clerks minus the name of a Democratic candidate for governor.

She has said she would "follow the law" but also stated she would confer with attorneys attached to her office and possibly others before taking any action toward certifying Mrs. Ferguson.

M. M. Crane, former Texas attorney general, and counsel for the governor, gave notice immediately he would file a motion for rehearing. He stated he would file it at 1 p. m. today. Crane dissented, pointedly, from the holding of Judge Robertson that only the legislature could try a contested election involving the governor's office.

Must File Motion

It was necessary for Crane to file the motion for rehearing before an appeal from the order could be perfected to the higher courts.

Sterling had alleged there were upwards of 50,000 illegal votes cast for Mrs. Ferguson in the Aug. 27 primary election.

"The general and primary laws are interwoven, portions of the primary being governed by the provisions of the general law; so much so that it may be said to be part of the process of electing a governor," the decision stated. "If the power to determine the eligibility of a candidate rests with the joint branches of the legislature, as we have seen that it does, then it necessarily follows that the legislature may go back in its inquiry before the announcement of the candidate for governor at the primary election in determining the questions before it, sitting as a court in a contest presented them under section 3, article four of the constitution.

Up To Legislature

"If the question of the constitutional eligibility of the candidate for governor can be inquired into, and that is specially provided for in section 3, article four of the constitution, it would necessarily carry the investigation back to and beyond the primary election, and all questions of fraud in said primary would be subject of inquiry and investigation by the legislature.

"The primary election law is a part of the 'process' of electing a governor and must necessarily fall within the law as laid down by the supreme court of this state in the case of Dickson against Strickland. The recent ruling in the Dickson case, whether we like it or not, is the very latest expression of the primary law of this state."

The case referred to was brought in 1924 contesting the eligibility of Mrs. Ferguson to hold office.

Mrs. McCallum was informed of the decision of Judge Robertson and held a conference with Governor Sterling. She left her office immediately.

Appeal Looms

It was possible that the governor would appeal the case immediately to the court of civil appeals and file a supercedeas bond. Attorneys said that might have the effect of keeping the case in status quo as far as Judge Robertson's decision and the injunction was concerned.

Should this action be taken it was likely the court of civil appeals would pass the question involved to the supreme court without delay.

Governor Sterling had nothing to say immediately concerning the decision.

BUSINESS GAINS

17 have been increasing and the gains have been in excess of the usual seasonal amounts for this period. August statistics on retail sales reveal that consumer purchases did not expand appreciably during that period. Available figures indicate an acceleration in September.

"The upward movement of commodity prices, which extended into September, has stimulated trading in some lines. Industrial production turned upward in August after declining steadily since last February. Manufacturing output was up 5 per cent.

"Factory employment and pay rolls were higher in August, interrupting the long series of declines."

Becton Man Taken By Death Tuesday

W. B. Howell, 77, of Becton community died Tuesday morning in a Wichita Falls hospital. Funeral rites were to be read at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Baptist church at Idalou by Rev. W. B. Wages, pastor. Burial was to be at Idalou by Bynum-Stahler Funeral home.

Four brothers, G. P. of Enochs, H. of Lubbock, L. E. and W. E. Howell, of Idaloh, and two sisters, Mrs. J. B. Cline of Becton, and Mrs. T. A. Stevens of Lubbock, survive Mr. Howell.

CARS NEEDED FOR CLOTHING DRIVE

Although a campaign to obtain donations of food and clothing from Lubbock citizens, for distribution to transients and other indigents by the Salvation Army, has been scheduled for Saturday, no one had telephoned City hall this morning to volunteer use of automobiles to carry Boy Scouts who will collect the donations.

The Salvation Army corps here cares for transients and persons who just have established residence here, those persons being barred from aid by the City-County Welfare association. Capt. W. T. Wilson, commander, reported the Army headquarters, 1404 Texas avenue, needed clothing, food, cots and sleeping accessories to continue the work.

Although an old clothes drive was conducted here recently, indications were that all persons desiring to give used apparel had not done so, Mayor J. J. Clements said. He is chairman of the local Boy Scout civic service committee, sponsor of the campaign planned for Saturday.

Club women are asked to assemble their donations in one, as a club contribution, to expedite collection of the bundles.

An opinion was expressed also that while a few women each would have perhaps only one or two small articles for donation, and would neglect to place them on porches for collection, that a club could assemble a sizeable bundle even though no individual member had much to give.

Persons who will drive or otherwise lend their automobiles for use in the canvass, which will begin Saturday morning, were asked to notify City hall.

REDMAN TRIAL

Chase was fatally shot and Lillie Mae, had testified of Mrs. Redman's relations with the dead man. Mrs. Redman claimed she shot Chase in self defense when he started to reach for a pistol as they were sitting in a parked automobile.

Letters Identified

At the night session Mrs. Redman identified 17 letters written by her between November, 1930, and June, 1931, claiming she had written the letters to Chase at his orders to place the blame for their relations on her. Some of the letters were written in an automobile while Chase held a gun on her, she testified. The letters were not read to the jury.

Slaying of Chase was detailed by Mrs. Redman. She said they left the A. N Chase home about 10 o'clock Monday night before his body was found Tuesday, and that they drove to a place near her mother's home southwest of Post. She testified she tried to get out of his car, and that he struck her with a pistol and made her stay in the automobile. During the last mile or two of that drive she said she and Chase were scuffling and quarreling about a separation. She testified she wanted to return to her husband.

Reaches For Pistol

Chase stopped the car, and she said he reached over her lap into the pocket of the car "for a pistol." Mrs. Redman said she picked up a pistol she had seen on the seat of the automobile and shot Chase once in self defense.

A committee to direct employment of laborers for a construction job in Garza county also has been named, but the members have not accepted the posts.

WALKER TRIAL

"Yes, I had heard those men in the corridors of the jail over there tell how Hugh was cussin' me and how he would tell Jess Covington, 'Jess, you kill him if you get out first and if I get out first, I'll kill him'," Ross replied.

Tells Of Fear

Ross had previously testified on cross examination that the reason he didn't get out of the car when it stopped at a lake near Shallowater was because he was afraid he would "get shot in the back".

All through the morning, Schenck snapped questions at the admitted fourth man in the slaying party who denied having any connection with the shooting except loaning Covington the gun, accompanying the men to the scene and sitting in a car a hundred yards away while the shooting took place.

Several times the court had to interrupt Schenck, declaring that "you and Mr. Ross, either, aren't trying to get along".

Car Route Sought

Schenck tried to gain definite answers on Ross' statements as to the route of the "death car" after it left Woodrow, the time it took to make certain distances and other details of the Becton man's story.

But his hammering away in rapid-fire order was in vain, for Ross sought to evade as much of the defense examination as possible.

Ross testified that statements he made to officers and the grand jury soon after his arrest were false.

"'Well what about those New Mexico boys, you said you sold your gun to or traded it for a go-devil?" Schenck inquired.

"That Was A Fairy Story"

"That, oh, that was all a fairy story, judge," Ross answered.

He said he had been granted immunity from prosecution in this case after he had agreed to testify for the state.

"And since then you have moved to Hidalgo county?" a defense query stated.

"Well, I had been down there," he replied.

"And you were afraid to stay around here, weren't you?" Schenck snapped at him.

Wasn't Afraid

"Well, I wasn't afraid to stay around here," Ross answered, "but I went down to Hidalgo to keep from getting hurt and having to hurt somebody."

Later on in the defense examination, Schenck pointed his finger at Ross and nearly shouted:

"Isn't it a fact that you are the party who stood in the door and drove the Hiltons into the house? Isn't it a fact that you are the one who pointed the gun at Frank Brown and when he had the courage to resist you, you shot him and that's when you got blood on your sleeve?"

Ross quickly denied the interrogations, turning his face to the jury.

Tells Of Getting Gun

R. C. (Bob) McCaffree, who lived at 1818 Avenue G at the time of the killing, was the next witness. He testified he had a gun belonging to Ross as security for a loan and that Ross came to his house for it on the afternoon of May 30. He identified the gun exhibited in court as the one he let Ross have in exchange for a payment of 70 cents on the debt.

On cross examination, McCaffree said he had dealings with Ross "about once every two or three months" but was reticent when defense attempted to bring out that Ross had bought whisky from him. The court sustained his refusal to answer the queries.

Saw Walker At House

Val Tudor, local teamster, followed McCaffree on the stand and testified to seeing Hugh Walker sitting in a car in front of McCaffree's house and later seeing Ross come out of the house with the gun. He said he saw Jess Covington and "Barber John" Richardson pass the house in a car while they were there. Later he said he passed the pair on Avenue H driving north toward town.

On cross examination Tudor testified he "didn't get what he went for at McCaffree's."

Forest Klidewell, a brother-in-law of McCaffree, was the next on the stand. He testified to seeing Ross and Walker at the McCaffree home on that day and of Ross getting the gun and cartridges.

C. L. Franks, 1940 Avenue G, was the next witness. He testified he saw Covington and Richardson pass his house on that afternoon and that both waved at him. He said they were going north on Avenue G.

Saw Two Cars Stop

H. L. Burgess and Mack Newton, two neighbors in Morningside addition, each testified to seeing two cars stop about a block from their homes late in the afternoon and one man getting out of one car and going to the other. Later one of the cars came by their homes and both men said they recognized Hugh Walker sitting in the back seat. Burgess said he also recognized Jess Covington, driver of the car.

Ross testified Tuesday that when the two cars drove over to Morningside addition, Walker got out of his car and took the gun to Covington's car and got in and came back to town with Covington and Richardson.

State To Close

The state was expected to close its case sometime Thursday morning after which defense witnesses will start parading before the jury in an attempt to establish an alibi for Walker.

Walker, himself, might take the stand, it was indicated in court today but still no definite word was forthcoming from the defense on whether he would or not. Additional defense witnesses have been summoned, indicating that new testimony from that given in Covington's trial would be presented by the defense.

FARMERS FLAY PRESIDENT

PARADE IS STAGED IN PROTEST AGAINST CONDITIONS

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 5 (AP)—Sympathizers with the farmers holiday movement paraded in Des Moines yesterday in protest against agricultural and economic conditions only a few hours before the appearance of President Hoover to make a major campaign address.

Following the parade police were called to the fair grounds to quell a minor disturbance caused when a group of men tore Hoover banners from a caravan of 400 automobiles from Missouri. The trouble was ended before the officers arrived.

Farmers Cheered

More than 2,000 men, women and children, dressed in overalls or working clothes, rode or marched through Des Moines streets, covering part of the route followed later by a parade welcoming the president. The farmers were greeted with cheers.

Their trucks and cars bore signs calling attention to current farm prices and economic conditions, demanding relief and fixing blame on President Hoover. At one point the paraders "booed" a large painting of the president, under which their trucks passed.

Many of the paraders were from distant Iowa counties, including parts of the state where the farm strike violence flared a few weeks ago.

Signs Rap Hoover

Signs on some of the trucks read:

"In Hoover we trusted; now we are busted."

"Cost of production only will save our homes."

"Mr. Curtis: We are not so damned dumb in 1932—signed, Mr. and Mrs. Iowa Farmer."

"Hoover, Hyde, hell and hard times—the Republican 4-H club."

THIEVES LAND IN JAIL

Determined to quit England for France, James Connell, Henry McCaig and Joseph Cox stole a boat at Deal at night and headed for the French coast. When far out in the English Channel they were caught in a heavy fog. Nearly frantic with fear that they would be run down by steamers, they rowed until early morning. Seeing lights, they believed they were near France. Steering for the lights they landed, and found themselves again, in Deal, where a policeman was awaiting them with a warrant charging theft of the boat.

Firms Merge

A $160,000,000 merger of two pioneer automobile companies has been announced by A. R. Erskine, above, president of the Studebaker corporation, of South Bend, Ind., and R. W. Woodruff, below, chairman of the White Motor company of Cleveland. The latter concern, which manufactures trucks and buses will maintain its identity as an operating unit.

SOUTH PLAINS FREIGHT RATE GROUP ELECTS ARTHUR DUGGAN PRESIDENT

The South Plains Freight Rate association Tuesday afternoon elected Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield president. The association named A. B. Davis, Lubbock Chamber of Commerce manager, secretary. Executive committee members are the president and secretary, and M. A. McLaughlin, Ralls; R. M. Kendrick, Brownfield; Grady Shipp, Plainview; A. J. Payne, Slaton; H. E. Blocker, Lubbock; Wm. A. Wilson, Lamesa, and Roy Patterson, Lockney.

The association, in a resolution, opposed the proposed change in freight rates by the Fort Worth and Denver City railway on cotton in Texas "eliminating the present cost of compression from the freight rate." The move was declared to be a "discrimination between the small shipper and the large shipper." The association will have a representative at the hearing Oct. 12 before the Texas railroad commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission to oppose adoption of "any such suggested scheme of rates."

Attending the meeting were: Duggan, Davis, Shipp, McLaughlin, Blocker, Payne, and E. A. Henry, Ralls; R. C. Balkman, Lubbock; J. C. Wilson, J. D. Johnson, Plainview; W. O. Stevens, Lubbock; J. E. Shelton, Brownfield; A. V. Bullock, P. B. Ralls, Ralls; S. A. Wells, J. H. Brock and Chas. Stillwell, Lubbock.

Fortune In Prison

"San Quentin has been my haven!" So said 31-year-old Harold Marks of the California prison as he prepared to leave his cell after serving nearly four years of a term for robbery and assault. Devoting his time to tinkering with inventions, Marks sold his pet a burglar-proof lock, for $100,000. Now he's ready to begin life anew.

BULLINGTON WILL FILL HIS DATES

Orville Bullington, Republican gubernatorial candidate, will fill speaking engagements cancelled on the South Plains Tuesday and today because of the critical illness of his mother at Weatherford, John L. Vaughan, postmaster, said.

No new dates had been set last night. Besides Lubbock, towns where the candidate was to have appeared were: Olton, Muleshoe, Sudan, Amherst, Littlefield, Levelland, Tuesday; and Slaton, Post, Snyder, Loraine, Roscoe, Sweetwater, Trent, and Merkel, Wednesday.

NEW POLICEWOMAN DUCKED

Scotland Yard's new policewomen are gaining experience. One detailed in Hyde Park tried to enforce the law that children unaccompanied must be fully clothed. She ordered away two tots clad in bathing suits, and a male frequenter of the place rushed up and pushed her into the water. She was drenched before another policewoman came to her rescue.
