German Zone Leader Moved

By JAMES E. BROWN
INS Staff Correspondent

LONDON, March 29 — Russia announced tonight that Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, military governor in Germany who a year ago clamped a blockade on Berlin, has been promoted to be first deputy minister of the Soviet armed forces.

Sokolovsky will be succeeded as military governor and commander in Germany by Gen. Vassily I. Chuikov, 48-year-old soldier who was another of the outstanding heroes of the battle of Stalingrad.

Chuikov has served under Sokolovsky as military governor of the state of Thuringia in the Soviet occupation zone.

Promotion Indicated

The Moscow radio announcement did not use the word "promoted" in its announcement that the cabinet had appointed Sokolovsky to his new post.

But in the Soviet line of succession, that certainly seems to be the case since Sokolovsky steps into the place vacated by Marshal Alexander Vasilevsky, who last Thursday night was moved up to be minister of the Soviet armed forces.

Vasilevsky, former chief of staff and supreme commander of the Soviet forces in the brief 1945 war against Japan, succeeded Marshal N. A. Bulganin, former Moscow mayor, Politburo member, and industrial expert.

Believed Given New Jobs

In these continuing shifts in the Soviet government and military command it has generally been assumed that Bulganin and others are being assigned to new posts.

One Paris newespaper recently said that the National Defense council composed of high government leaders has been reconstituted. The council ordinarily functions only in time of war.

Sokolovsky's predecessor as military governor in Germany was Marshal Georgi Zhukov, perhaps the most outstanding Russian field general of all. He was replaced by Sokolovsky, some reports said, because he was too

Pilot Spans Nation In Record Time Of 5 Hours, 5 Seconds

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK, March 29—Joe De Bona set a new Burbank-to-New York trans-continental speed record of five hours and five seconds today in a P-51 fighter plane.

The previous record for propeller planes was six hours and seven minutes and was established by Paul Mantz.

De Bona, flying a souped-up craft owned by actor James Stewart, took off from Burbank, Calif., at 8:20 a.m. CST. He buzzed New York's La-Guardia field at 1:20 p. m. CST and set his plane down a few seconds later to complete his 2,477 mile trip.

De Bona, a resident of Pacific Palisade, Cal., had made two previous attempts to smash the speed record in the blue plane with a yellow nose.

He averaged 500 miles per hour at a general altitude of 30,000 feet. At times he was aided by tail winds of just under 60 miles per hour.

Armed Forces Feuds Rapped

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 29—Defense Secretary Johnson today initiated a series of brisk moves to unify the nation's armed services. As a starter, he cracked down on headline squabbles between the Navy and the Air Force.

"There will be no vying between the services for headlines, no release of things that are secret," he told newsmen.

Within 24 hours after he was sworn in to his new post, the big, baldpated defense chief also:

Some Heads May Roll

1. Told the Army, Navy and Air Force to move at once to the Pentagon, the nerve center of American defense.

2. Announced he will abolish many of the 800 boards and agencies set up by the three armed services over a long period of years.

3. Banned "personal or party politics" in the National Military Establishment.

4. Indicated that some heads will roll, but "the people who are doing their jobs will remain."

5. And finally, said he has "a pretty fair conviction" what roles the Air Force and the Navy should play in the event of war.

This last comment referred to the long and bitter controversy between the two services over the type of bombing missions each should execute in wartime.

Air Force chiefs have contended their long-range planes should

Bill To Extend Rent Control Sent To HST

By MORGAN REYNOLDS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 29—Congress today approved a 15-month rent control bill with a "home rule" escape clause and sent the measure on to the White House.

The Senate cleared the measure first 78 to 11, with the House completing action by a vote of 263 to 143.

Although it does not contain as much as President Truman had asked, he is expected to sign the legislation to replace the present law which expires at midnight Thursday.

States May Scrap Controls

The major provisions of the new bill are:

1. States may scrap federal controls by vote of their legislatures and with the governor's approval, or they may take over administration of the curbs if the governor certifies that the state has an adequate rent law on its books.

2. Rent ceilings are to be set so as to give landlords a "fair net operating income, "as determined by the federal housing expediter.

3. Nationwide eviction regulations are to be set up by the expediter which will take precedence over local rules.

4. The expediter is empowered to sue for treble damages on a tenant's behalf in case of a rent overcharge.

Bricker's Move Rejected

The bill is a compromise between the two different versions adopted earlier by the Senate and House.

Final passage climaxed weeks of heated debate during which time it appeared that the Senate filibuster might prevent any action to renew the curbs.

Administration leaders in both Senate and House told the lawmakers today they either had to accept the compromise plan or not have any rent controls after Thursday.

Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) tried unsuccessfully to send the bill back to the joint conference committee for another try at re-drafting the landlords aid provision. But his motion was rejected by a vote of 53 to 33.

Bricker said the "fair net oper-

SNOW REPORTED

Wind, Hail And Dust Hit State

High winds, reported at 62 miles an hour with occasional gusts hitting 90 miles an hour at Amarillo, whipped the South Plains and Panhandle last night in the wake of a fresh cold front that was expected to reduce temperatures to 34 degrees in the Lubbock area this morning and to freezing early Thursday morning.

Fine dust stirred by a strong southerly wind Tuesday grew more dense over the South Plains when the wind changed to the north about 8 p.m. last night and increased in velocity to 38 miles an hour with occasional gusts of 45 miles an hour. The wind later changed to the northwest.

Winds To Continue

Weather observers at Municipal airport said strong winds ranging from 20 to 25 miles an hour would continue this morning over the Plains, but would diminish to 15 miles an hour by late afternoon.

The high winds brought minor damage in the Amarillo area with some small buildings being blown over and car windows smashed by hail. The freakish weather also brought snow flurries at Dalhart and hail at Clarendon.

Thundershowers stirred up by the onrushing cold air are expected to cut scattered paths across the area this morning, but no general rainfall is expected, the station reported. A shower was reported at Paducah shortly before midnight last night, but no precipitation of consequence had been reported on the South Plains.

A reading of 34 degrees is forecast for this morning, the weatherman said, with the mercury climbing to a high of 52 this afternoon.

Warmup Seen Thursday

A 32 degree reading Thursday morning is foreseen, but a slight warmup tomorrow afternoon will bring a high reading in the upper 50's, the forecaster said.

"This cold spell shouldn't last long, and a definite upward trend should set in Thursday afternoon," the Weather station said.

Despite the strong winds over the South Plains no reports of damage in this area had been made late last night.

The Associated Press reported dust swirled at Midland, at the lower edge of the Plains, and at El Paso, Guadalupe Pass, and Salt Flats in far West Texas.

The U.S. Weather bureau's radar at Wichita Falls—farther east—reported thundershower activity northwest of that section.

Amarillo reported slight damage from the storm. A greenhouse was blown 50 feet from its foundations and a

Radios, Autos, Accessories Lead Slashes

BY RICHARD FISKE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, March 29—A new series of retail price cuts were laid before the consumer today, further clipping inflation's wings.

They stretched the dollar a little farther. But most of the reductions were from highly inflated levels and many of them were small.

Automobiles and auto accessories, radios, refrigerators, ranges were among the wide variety of items affected.

Continued reductions in such basic commodities as lead, zinc, copper and steel indicated there might be further cuts in manufactured goods in the wind.

Radios Take Drop

The midseason spring catalogue of Sears, Roebuck Co. featured "many price reductions in all lines. Even ice cream was down a little—three cents a quart in Philadelphia.

Radios showed the biggest drop. Westinghouse Electric chopped a lusty 20 to 50 per cent off nine home model sets. That's as much as $130 on a cash basis.

Kaiser-Frazer Corp. knocked $198 to $333 off its car prices. Henry Ford II, president of Ford Motor Co., saw a "possible" reduction in Fords.

Willard Storage Battery Co. clipped $1.50 off its $23.95 automobile battery and up to $2 off large automotive types. Electric Storage Battery Co. shaved its prices eight per cent.

Fuel Prices Cut

Standard Oil Co., of Indiana knocked one-half cent a gallon off tank prices on kerosene, range oil and diesel fuels and a trifle more off furnace oil.

Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. reduced the price of hot rolled bars and structural shape by as much as $4 a ton. But it didn't affect the steel industry's general price structure since Jones and Laughlin had topped other major producers on those items.

Inland Steel announced cuts of up to $4.50 a ton on galvanized sheets.

Scrap metal prices are down to the lowest in almost two years. Lead, zinc and copper prices all have slipped.

The main item common to all the price reduction was an in-

Stocks Soar In Buying Flurry

NEW YORK, March 29 (INS) — Wall Street reacted today to lowered margin requirements with a buying demonstration that lifted stock prices fractions to more than $2 a share. Margin requirements were lowered from 75 to 50 per cent.

Although the news of a margin cut had been predicted for weeks, the timing of the announcement by the Federal Reserve board late yesterday came as a surprise.

Buying Orders Placed

It brought a rush of overnight buying orders from all sections of the country which was reflected in the large blocks of individual stocks changing hands at the opening. The biggest transaction was one of 5,000 shares in Radio Corporation which scored an initial gain of ½ point.

So heavy was the early rush of trading activity that the high-speed ticker fell three minutes behind shortly after the opening and lagged for a 10 minute stretch thereafter.

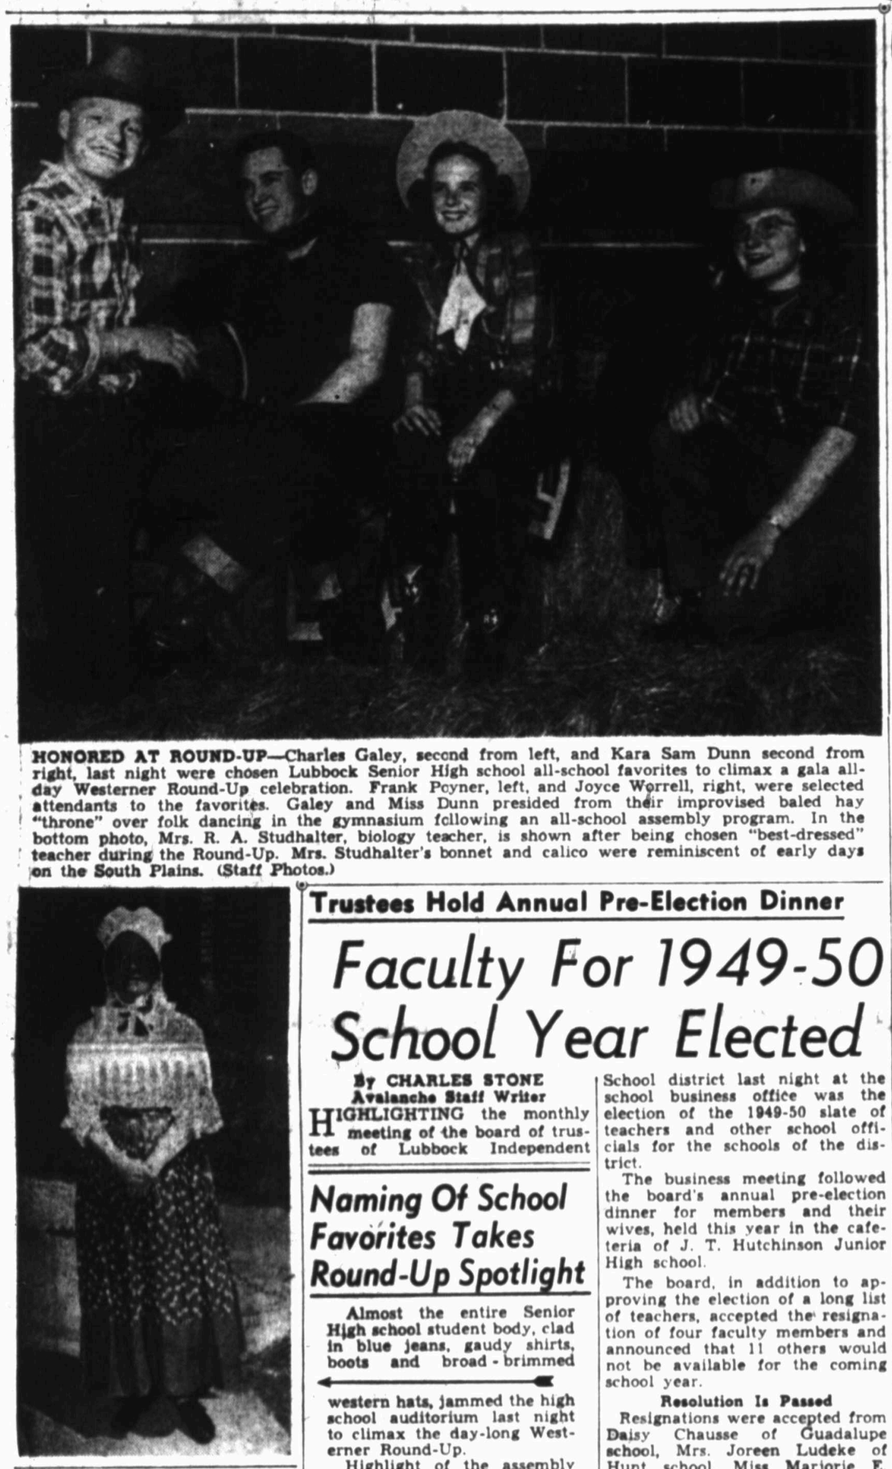

The first hour's turnover totaled 620,000 shares, the largest for a first hour since November 3, 1948, when volume totaled 850,000 shares. On that day, the market sold off sharply on the news of a Democratic election sweep.

Market Falters Briefly

As the session progressed, the market faltered somewhat, with leading issues off from their early highs. However, fresh buying appeared in the final hour which brought most sections of the list to around their best levels of the day.

Total sales for the day were 1,-

Trustees Hold Annual Pre-Election Dinner

Faculty For 1949-50 School Year Elected

By CHARLES STONE
Avalanche Staff Writer

HIGHLIGHTING the monthly meeting of the board of trustees of Lubbock Independent School district last night at the school business office was the election of the 1949-50 slate of teachers and other school officials for the schools of the district.

The business meeting followed the board's annual pre-election dinner for members and their wives, held this year in the cafeteria of J. T. Hutchinson Junior High school.

The board, in addition to approving the election of a long list of teachers, accepted the resignation of four faculty members and announced that 11 others would not be available for the coming school year.

Resolution Is Passed

Resignations were accepted from Daisy Chausse of Guadalupe school, Mrs. Joreen Ludeke of Hunt school, Miss Marjorie E. Byrd of Overton school and Mrs. W. L. Metcalfe, Central Ward school.

The following announced that they would not be available for the coming school term: Mrs. Emily S. McConnell, Chris Harwell school Mrs. Betty J. Mills, J. T. Hutchinson school; Mrs. Clemettie Arthur, McWhorter school;

Naming Of School Favorites Takes Round-Up Spotlight

Almost the entire Senior High school student body, clad in blue jeans, gaudy shirts, boots and broad-brimmed western hats, jammed the high school auditorium last night to climax the day-long Westerner Round-Up.

Highlight of the assembly program was announcement that Charles Galey and Kara Sam Dunn had been selected all-school favorites, and would preside at activities in the gymnasium.

Frank Poyner and Joyce Worrell were selected as attendants to the favorites and were accorded places of honor on the baled hay "throne" with Galey and Miss Dunn.

Galey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. Galey, 1517 Twenty-fourth. Miss Dunn is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Sam G. Dunn, Levelland highway. Miss Worrell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Worrell, 2915 Twentieth, and Poyner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Poyner, 3724 Twenty-sixth.

Program Is Presented

Before the favorites were revealed, members of the student body presented several musical numbers, and a "kangaroo" court session at which Poyner was defendant against a charge of "running through a hedge at the high school."

Waggoner Carr, county attorney and a 1937 graduate of the school, acted as judge.

HST-Wallgren Talk Fails To Show Change In Senate Stand

WASHINGTON, March 29 (INS) A conference between President Truman and Mon C. Wallgren today produced no evidence of a break in the Senate deadlock over Wallgren's nomination as chairman of the National Security Resources board.

The former Washington governor, a close friend of the President, told reporters on leaving the White House that his nomination had been sent to the Senate and that there is nothing he can do about the situation at this time.

Wallgren's nomination was recently pigeon-holed by the Senate Armed Services committee by a 7-to-6 majority. The deciding vote was cast by Sen. Byrd (D-Va).

Lubbock Officer Missing In Japan

First Lieut. Altus B. Sansom jr., 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Altus B. Sansom of 2507 Twenty-second, has been reported "missing" on a bomber flight in Japan, according to a War department message received by the parents late Tuesday afternoon.

Reports at first indicated that First Lieut. Sansom, widely known and popular Lubbock High and Texas Tech graduate, might have been aboard a B-26 light bomber which was reported to have crashed Sunday on Mount Fujiyama.

Wire service reports had said that four men aboard the plane which crashed at the 9,500-foot level were believed killed. However, a story Tuesday afternoon and again last night quoted authorities as saying only three bodies had been found near the wreckage.

Whether Lieut. Sansom was aboard this plane or was involved in some other plane mishap not yet announced by the War department was not known last night.

An Associated Press report from Tokyo received here last night, but dated Wednesday (Tokyo time) stated that two weary rescue parties were preparing to ascend the snow-draped Fujiyama again to bring back the bodies of American airmen killed Sunday in the B-26 crash.

Both parties reached the wreck-

South Plains Road Projects Authorized

A total of $119,000 for road improvement projects in the South Plains area was authorized by the State Highway commission at a meeting in Austin Tuesday, according to The Associated Press.

The authorizations are a part of an $810,000 appropriation distributed among 14 projects in various parts of the state and acted upon Tuesday.

The projects on the South Plains, with estimated costs are:

Briscoe — A farm - to - market road was designated extending from the end of farm-to-market road No. 599 at Gasoline east one mile and south to the Motley county line. A dustless two-lane road; $29,000.

Floyd — Pavement widening on farm-to-market road No. 135 from approximately 130 feet south of College street south to loop No. 75 in Lockney; $14,000. The city of Lockney to provide right-of-way.

Lynn—Widening of pavement on U. S. Highway 37 and U. S. Highway 380 in Tahoka; $76,000. The city of Tahoka to provide right-of-way.

Boy Dead From Gunshot Wound

Eddie Joe O'Neal, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. O'Neal of Lubbock route 5, died about 5:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at St. Mary's hospital from a bullet wound received in an accidental shooting about 5 o'clock.

A hospital physician reported that death resulted after the bullet from a .22 caliber rifle pierced the large blood vessels just below the boy's throat.

Had Returned From School

The youngster and his younger brother, Elton O'Neal, 8, had returned only a short time before the accident to their home about three miles south and a little west of Hurlwood from Frenship school at Wolfforth, where they are enrolled as students.

It was understood that the boys had been inspecting a .22 rifle, possibly thinking it was not loaded. A Mexican laborer at the place a short time prior to the accident had seen the younger boy with the gun in his possession, although relatives indicated there were no witnesses to the accident and hence it was not definitely known which of the boys had the weapon at the time it was discharged.

Rushed To Hospital

Eddie Joe was rushed to Plains clinic by his grandfather, G. E. O'Neal, of 2112 Twenty-seventh, who was visiting at the country

Bill Allowing Water Districts Approved

AUSTIN, March 29 (U.P) — The Senate Water Rights committee tonight approved a bill which would allow certain areas of the state to set up underground water conservation districts.

The bill, by Senator John Bell of Cuero, would allow the creation of such districts only after a majority vote of property owners. After creation of a district, the elected directors could take steps to stop wastage of underground water and to restore the depleted underground water reservoir.

A similar bill has been approved by a House committee.

The committee also approved a bill by Senator Rogers Kelly of Hidalgo county which would give the U. S. government necessary property rights for construction of a series of dams on the Rio Grande river from Fort Quitman to the Gulf.

Two Men Killed By Quick-Draw Rancher

ATOKA, Okla., March 29 (AP)—An Oklahoma rancher, fast on the draw, killed two men with two shots today when gunfire settled an argument, Sheriff L. O. McBride said tonight.

Tom Burleson, 62, was held in the county jail here tonight. He waited at his ranch until the sheriff picked him up.

The dead men were Taylor Adams Lewis, 60, a Daisy, Okla., feed hauler and rancher, and Willard Seay, 30, Muskogee.

The sheriff said an eyewitness, who he declined to identify, gave this account:

Lewis and Seay drove up to the Burleson ranch to talk over feed hauling, and Burleson told them he had another man for the job. An argument started, and Lewis told Burleson to "get his pistol."

At the same time, McBride quoted the witness, Seay lowered a .22 automatic rifle at Burleson.

Burleson twice told Seay to lower the gun and Lewis reached for the glove compartment of the truck.

The witness said Burleson then went for his .38 revolver and fired twice, hitting both men in the side. Lewis died instantly and Seay died on the way to a hospital.

Railroad To 'Replace' Louisiana Girl's Pet Kitten Killed By Train

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

OXFORD, La., March 29—A train killed Marlene's cat. A busy railroad is taking time out to give her another.

Here's the story:

On March 1, Marlene Wendt, 13, of Oxford, wrote a letter to the Texas and Pacific railroad: "Dear sir: my cat was killed by one of your engines on Feb. 20. He was a black cat named Cinder. I would appreciate another cat."

Seventeen days later, the railroad wrote Marlene: "A pet we learn to love is a very valuable piece of property. In the near future we will see that you have a cat to replace Cinder."

Marlene replied on March 19: "Cinder didn't have any white whatsoever on him. Cinder was a big pet. I mean you could pick him up anytime and pet him."

At the same time the T&P received a surprised letter from W. H. Wendt, owner of a merchandise store in this little town. He had just learned, he said, that Marlene was carrying on a correspondence with a railroad. "You have become just folks who are

'Peace' Meet Delegates Told To Leave U. S. In 'Reasonable' Time

By GEORGE DURNO
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 29—The United States today notified fron curtain delegates to the just-ended New York world "peace" conference to leave America as soon as they can arrange transportation.

This action came after the State department dispatched formal notes to Soviet Russia and its satellites requesting that the delegates be called home at once.

The twin moves to end the American stay of the delegates from Soviet-dominated eastern Europe was apparently inspired by their plans to go on a coast-to-coast speaking tour of the United States.

Delegates Notified

A Justice department spokesman disclosed that the commissioner of immigration in New York City has written each delegate to leave the United States as soon as they can arrange transportation.

The commissioner acted on instructions from Attorney General Clark, the spokesman said.

GROUP CLAIMS PLAN WOULD GIVE UNIONS MONOPOLY

House GOPs Attack Administration's Labor Bill As Lopsided Wagner Act; Demos' Tactics Scored

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—Nine House Republicans attacked the administration's labor bill today as "a more lopsided Wagner Act." They accused Labor committee Democrats of using "steamroller" tactics to get it approved.

The nine are minority members of the committee. They signed a report saying:

"The bill would have the effect of encouraging, fostering and nurturing uncontrolled union monopolies in the United States, and of conferring upon labor union officials unbridled and unconfined monopolistic power over the lives and destinies of every American and even over the operations of the government itself."

Various Provisions Hit

The GOP blast came a few hours after Labor Chairman Lesinski (D-Mich) had asked the House Rules committee to approve the bill for floor debate under a procedure limiting amendments to those approved by the Labor committee. The rules hearings will continue tomorrow.

The nine Republicans signing the report were Reps. McConnell and Kearns of Pennsylvania, Gwinn of New York, Wint Smith of Kansas, Brehm of Ohio, Nixon and Werdel of California, Morton of Kentucky, and Velde of Illinois.

The minority objected to several specific sections of the bill, including:

1. Abandonment of present procedure for dealing with national emergency strikes. The present law provides for 80-day injunctions when a labor dispute threatens the national safety.
2. Revival of the closed shop, now prohibited.
3. Allowing unions to make political contributions.
4. Removal of the present limitations on organizing foremen and similar supervisory workers.

Clash Of Yugoslavs, Guerrillas Reported Near Italian Border

ROME, March 29 (AP) — The Italian news agency Astra, quoting the Istrian Committee of National Liberation at Trieste, said today Yugoslav army troops and guerrillas fought a gun battle near the Italian border Sunday night.

The report was not confirmed.

(The Associated Press correspondent at Trieste has cautioned that Trieste is a hotbed of rumors, some of them politically motivated.

(Yugoslavia's Premier Marshal Tito has been expelled from the Cominform (Communist International Information bureau) and has been at odds with the Kremlin since last summer. There have been recent reports that Soviet Russia and its satellites are making motions which might indicate they plan some kind of coup to unseat him. Up to now, however, there has been no confirmed report of anything beyond a little cold war between Tito's followers and the Cominform group.)

Air Force Officer Seeks Divorce From Russian-Born Wife

FORT WORTH, March 29 (U.P.)—An Air Force lieutenant-colonel today testified in a divorce suit here that his Russian-born wife accused him publicly of "improper relations" with wives of two Canadian officers.

The officer, Lt. Col. Jack W. Lewis, denied the accusations, and declared they caused him embarrassment and humiliation.

Lewis, who described himself as a former barnstormer with 831 parachute jumps to his credit, seeks a divorce from Mrs. Kathrina Lewis, termed "a mystery woman from Russia."

Claims Royal Birth

Mrs. Lewis testified in broken English she was the daughter of a Russian prince. She said she escaped into Manchuria during the Bolshevist revolution in 1917-18, and later came to San Francisco.

Lewis said that while he was attending a Royal Canadian Air Force staff school, his wife accused him of improper relations with the wife of a Canadian major whose home they shared, forcing him to move from the house. She also accused him of relations with the wife of a squadron commander, he said.

Suit Filed In Arizona

Mrs. Lewis, who has filed suit in Arizona for separate maintenance, has attacked jurisdiction of the Fort Worth court on grounds it is not the home of her husband. However, the colonel introduced checks and tax receipts in an effort to prove Fort Worth is his permanent home even though he now is stationed in Washington.

Colonel Lewis, divorced from a woman he married less than a week before going overseas, said he married Mrs. Lewis in Breckenridge nine days after her divorce became final. Both seek custody of an 18-months-old son.

THAT LISTLESS, LETDOWN FEELING

*Often, it comes from a Borderline Anemia

When you get up mornings tired and "tuckered out" — when a weary, letdown feeling makes you wonder how you'll drag through the day — it may be because your red blood cells are too small and faded.

Yes, people who look pale and act listless may sometimes suspect a Borderline Anemia, due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency. Medical studies show that up to 68% of women—many men and children — have this tiring blood condition.

Weariness and pallor have many causes — always consult your doctor regularly. But if you have this Borderline Anemia, remember: Ironized Yeast Tablets can help you reclaim your vitality and healthy good looks. They are specially formulated to help build up faded and fagged-out blood cells. To feel better — look better — act alert and alive—try IRONIZED YEAST TABLETS!

*Due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency, a condition for which Ironized Yeast is specially formulated.

State Department Expert Claims Atlantic Pact Ties In With Security Aims Of United Nations

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Charles E. "Chip" Bohlen, State department counsellor and Russian expert, declares in the following signed article that the Atlantic pact will enable the United Nations to function as envisaged in the founding conference at San Francisco. Bohlen, who took part in the Yalta, Tehran and Potsdam conferences, emphasizes that the pact backs by armed force the western determination to preserve the Democratic way of life.)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 29 — The American public has now been discussing the proposed North Atlantic treaty for ten days. Its reception in the United States has been extremely gratifying.

The treaty in a very large sense recognizes the common heritage and civilization of western peoples founded on principles of Democracy, individual liberty, and the rule of law between nations.

It is based on an understanding and determination to preserve our way of life. The letter as well as the spirit underlying the treaty expresses in advance the determination of the American people to take such action as it deems necessary, including the use of armed force to meet an armed attack affecting our national security.

Provides For Safety

Its primary purpose is to provide for the safety of the parties in accordance with the inherent right of individual or collective self-defense recognized in article 51 of the charter.

The over-riding objective of the United Nations charter is the maintenance of international peace and security. The North Atlantic pact is directed to the same end with regard to the North Atlantic area.

Article 5 of the treaty in conformity with article 51 of the charter specifically provides that measures taken by the parties as a result of an armed attack on one of them shall immediately be reported to the Security Council and shall be terminated when the Security Council has taken the measures necessary to restore and maintain international peace and security.

Measures taken under the treaty, however, do not in any way affect the authority and responsibility of the Security Council "to take at any time such action as it deems necessary in order to maintain or restore international peace and security."

Still Obligated To UN

The primary responsibility for maintaining international peace and security rests with the Security Council.

The obligations undertaken by the parties to the Atlantic treaty, it should be pointed out, do not affect their obligations under the charter and are subject to present and future obligations with respect to action taken by the Security Council. Thus Article 7 of the treaty explicitly states:

"This treaty does not affect and shall not be interpreted as affecting in any way the rights and obligations under the charter of the parties which are members of the United Nations and the primary responsibility of the Security Council for the maintenance of international peace and security."

In other words, everything done by the parties under the treaty must be done in accordance with their obligations under the charter, the provisions of which, whenever applicable, are paramount.

Called Aid To Peace

The Atlantic treaty is designed to help bring about world conditions which will permit the United Nations to function as contemplated at the San Francisco conference. The most important of the peace settlements have not been agreed upon; and because of the attitude of one of the great powers, which pledged at San Francisco to cooperate with the member states, the United Nations has not been able to set up the world-wide security arrangement contemplated by the charter.

The North Atlantic treaty speaks in clearly understandable language. It defines the security of the North Atlantic area and the consequences of infringement upon that security. It should thereby enhance the likelihood of reaching peaceful solutions to pending problems by making clear the consequences of resort to force.

The North Atlantic treaty is a collective self-defense arrangement among countries of the North Atlantic area who, while banding together to resist armed attack against any one of them, specifically reaffirm their obligations under the charter to settle disputes with any nation solely by peaceful means. It is designed to fit precisely into the framework of the United Nations.

Under the existing conditions the purposes and principles of the charter will be advanced exactly to the extent that the treaty will be able to strengthen the security of the peoples in the North Atlantic area. Its relation to the objectives of the United Nations charter was summed up in these terms by Warren R. Austin, United States representative to the United Nations:

"Conclusion of the North Atlantic pact would reduce the likelihood of war. It would increase the prospects of peace. It would help us turn to a major task of the United Nations—the substitution of pacific settlements for armed conflict."

Israel, Trans-Jordan Accept Pact Terms

RHODES, March 29. (AP)—Israeli and Trans-Jordan delegates accepted armistice terms today and returned to their capitals for final approval of the draft.

United Nations officials immediately left for Damascus to start work on armistice negotiations with another Arab state, Syria.

The Trans-Jordan agreement may be signed Friday, extending the Palestine armistice that began when Egypt signed an accord Feb. 24. Lebanon signed an armistice agreement with Israel March 23.

Other Discussions Due

A settlement is yet to be concluded between Israel and Iraq, Yemen and Saudi Arabia of the Arab league. Of these Arab states, only Iraq was active in the Palestine war.

The agreement on terms between Israel and Trans-Jordan came after private meetings of Dr. Reuven Shiloah of Israel and Col. Ahmed El Jundi of Trans-Jordan, without the acting UN mediator, Dr. Ralph Bunche. Meeting since Sunday, they agreed yesterday there were no serious differences between them. Bunche then proposed that they draw up a draft agreement. This was written this morning.

The official announcement said one "outstanding question" still was unsettled. It was believed this involved details of a face-saving agreement for reduction of forces in the Aqaba area, which King Abdullah's government at Amman will be asked to approve.

Israel has contended that Britain upset the "balance" of forces during the cease-fire by sending troops and reinforcements to the Trans-Jordan port of Aqaba, on an arm of the Red Sea.

Residents Of New Jersey Town, Pray As Only Industry Closes

The Woman's Angle
By Ellen Miller

OUR favorite recipe for tomato rarebit can be prepared in about 15 minutes by the clock, and is a boon for anybody who wants a quick but nourishing meal.

Melt two tablespoons of butter in a saucepan, add about two tablespoons of flour and stir until smooth. Add a can of condensed tomato soup, stir again until smooth, and add chopped cheese. Continue stirring until cheese melts. Smoked cheese adds an unusual flavor, but any cheese will do. Some people also like the addition of about one-fourth teaspoon of dry mustard.

The rarebit on toast, served with a salad, makes a delightful informal meal.

Roberta Niblack Weds Mr. Brockman Tuesday

The marriage of Miss Roberta Gray Niblack and John Clarence Brockman of West Columbia was solemnized Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Broadway Church of Christ with Dr. M. Morvel Young performing a double ring ceremony before a spring garden setting of daffodils.

A musical program of wedding selections was presented by the A cappella chorus of Abilene Christian college with Mrs. J. C. Hejl of Austin as soloist.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Niblack, sr., of 1628 Ninth, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a blue gabardine suit with navy blue accessories and a white straw hat adorned with a halo of white flowers. She carried a white orchid on a white Bible which belongs to her sister, Mrs. R. B. Olson.

Wear Daffodils

Mrs. E. R. Davis, jr., of Abilene, matron of honor, wore a rose gabardine suit with navy blue shoes and a pink straw hat. Her corsage was of daffodils. Miss Billie Brockman of West Columbia, sister of the bridegroom and maid of honor, wore a beige gabardine suit with a tan straw hat, balenciago accessories and a daffodil corsage. The bridesmaid, Miss Jo Reagan of Brownwood, was dressed in an aqua gabardine suit with a pink hat, pink and black accessories and a daffodil corsage.

Archie K. Haggard of Old Ocean served as his brother-in-law's best man and Robert Cobb of Athens, Ala., T. A. Niblack, jr., brother of the bride, Harvie Pruitt, cousin of the bride, Jack McKinney of Abilene and Fred McDonald, cousin of the bride, were ushers.

At Reception

Wedding guests attended a reception in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex McDonald, 2221 Eighteenth, uncle and aunt of the bride, following the ceremony. Assisting with hospitalities were parents of the bride; parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brockman of West Columbia; members of the wedding party; Mrs. Edwin D. Martin of Houston, aunt of the bride; and Mrs. Olson.

Out-of-town guests were from Houston, Old Ocean, West Columbia, Abilene, Olton, Iago, Austin, Sundown, Brownwood, Los Angeles, Calif., and Athens, Ala.

After a wedding trip to San Angelo, the couple will be at home in West Columbia where the bridegroom is assistant manager of Brockman's Department store. Both the bride and bridegroom are former students of Abilene Christian college. Mrs. Brockman was a member of Ko-Jo-Kai club and Mr. Brockman was a member of Sub-T club at the college.

Quartet Sings For Truth Gavel Club

Guests at a meeting of Truth Gavel club held Monday night in the home of Mrs. France Baker, 2111 Seventeenth, were officers of Truth chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, and a quartet of the SPEBSQSA which sang several numbers. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Casey and Mrs. R. W. Scott were hosts.

Following the musical program, Chaplain Early Daniel led a prayer and Mr. Casey presided for business. Yearbooks which are dedicated to Mr. and Mrs. Casey were presented to the club as a courtesy of Mrs. Baker.

Refreshments were served to the guests and 19 members. Plans were made to have the next meeting with Mrs. A. G. Odom and Mrs. Claude Canterbury in the Odom home at 2402 Fifteenth.

WACO MAN DIES

WACO, March 29 (AP)—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for W. R. Caldwell, for 36 years foreman of The Waco News-Tribune composing room. Caldwell, one of Texas' outstanding printers, died here last night. Survivors include his widow, one son, W. R. Caldwell, jr., of Waco, and a daughter, Mrs. Tom Null of Houston.

Music Club At Meeting

Members of Allegro music club presented a program for Music Appreciation club at a recent meeting held in the home of Mrs. Lannes Hope.

Mrs. Charles Stone, violinist, accompanied by Mrs. Joe Haddon played "Orientale" (Cui) and "Adoration" (Borowski); Mrs. Charles Moeser, accompanied by Mrs. James Atcheson, sang "Despui le Jour" from the opera "Louise" by Carpentier; Mrs. Lloyd Croslin played "Prelude in C Sharp Minor" (Rachmaninoff); and Mrs. Raymond Marshall, accompanied by Mrs. Marlin Smith, sang "The Lord Has Given Me a Song" (Stephenson) and "Melody of Love" (Malotte).

Hostesses with Mrs. Hope were Mrs. Norman Heath and Mrs. Robert Pipkin. Others present were Mesdames Arnold Maeker, Robert Adair, Ernest Wilpitz, Odis Hackney, L. J. Hurst, L. F. Brown, Frank Herring, jr., Leon Tabor, W. J. Pratt R. H. Canady, F. R. Priddy, Paul Branom, Truman Hutson, and Miss Panze Butler.

Westerners Will Have April 7 Dance In Lubbock

Lubbock members of the Westerners Square Dance association will be hosts for the next dance, which will be held Thursday night, April 7, at the Playmor hall in Lubbock. Music will be furnished by Hoyle Nix and his band from Big Spring, from 8 to 12 o'clock. Callers are being recruited from over the entire area, with local callers on hand to fill in as needed.

Admission for the dance is 75 cents per person, with the same charge being made for spectators as for dancers. With the increase in membership and interest in square dancing, emphasis is being put on participation. While the Playmor hall is large enough to accommodate several hundred dancers, space for spectators is limited.

Membership in the association is open to all residents of the northwest part of Texas who are interested in square and old-time dancing. With the membership list growing daily, there are at present more than 500 members.

Local members of the association who are working on arrangements are Kenneth Cox, chairman, and Mrs. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mason of Port, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Sollis, Mr. and Mrs. Wright Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. J. M Harper, H. R York and Miss Zora Joy Gifford.

The next dance to be held by the Westerners Square Dance association will be in Brownwood, with other towns being hosts at succeeding dances.

Local Women Attend Meeting In Pampa

Lubbock women who are officers in the Northwest Texas conference of the Women's Society of Christian Service and who will attend the ninth annual conference meeting in the First Methodist church, Pampa, today through Friday, are Mrs. M. B. Hilburn, president; Mrs. Uel D. Crosby, vice-president and Mrs. G. C. Coffee, secretary of promotion.

Others from Lubbock to attend will be presidents of the local Methodist societies, Mrs. Charles A. Ross, president of the Lubbock WSCS district, and Mrs. William G. Dingus who is to speak on "Civil Rights."

Today's Town Talk

A LARGE nosegay of spring flowers centered the tea table which was dotted with six smaller nosegays when Mesdames Hiram Parks, C. C. Caldwell and Clarence E. Davis entertained with a tea in the Lubbock Country club Tuesday afternoon. About 150 guests called between 4 and 5 o'clock.

Little nosegay wristlets were worn by members of the house party which included Mesdames Maple Wilson, G. C. Turner, L. O. Robertson, G. W. Cochran, James Milam, Robert Prothro, Charles Bucy, W. B. Agee, Jim Reynolds, W. L. McAfee and W. S. Moss.

Miss Sylvia Whitacre, bride elect, was honored at a luncheon at the Country club Tuesday by Mesdames Rem Thomson, Bob Fuller and O. W. Ribble. Twenty-eight guests attended. The honoree received a hostess gift of lingerie.

The table, laid with a white cloth, held a miniature house built of floral foam and surrounded with trees fashioned of maidenhair fern. A path lined with maidenhair fern trees led down the table to the house.

Hostesses at a Tuesday morning Easter coffee in the home of Mrs. D. M. Davis, 1707 Thirty-first, were Mesdames J. C. Richards, Mack Johnson, B. E. Needles, E. L. Posey and Davis.

More than 100 guests called between 9:30 and 11 o'clock. The refreshment table was laid with a blue cloth and centered with an arrangements of yellow daffodils and blue pussy willow in an Easter basket. A white picket fence banked with bunnies and Easter eggs, surrounded the central arrangement.

As a courtesy to Mrs. Dick Markham, the former Joyce Stanley, Mrs. W. C. McManus, 1611 Fifteenth, was hostess at a bridal luncheon Tuesday at Hector's during the fashion show hour.

Guests were the honoree, Mrs. H. C. Stanley, mother of the bride; Mrs. John Markham, mother of the bridegroom; Mrs. J. L. Spikes, Miss Betty Vaughn and Mrs. J. H. Chapman.

Sans Souci club held a candlelight initiation for new members Sunday at 2 p.m. in the home of Miss Elizabeth Howard, 2309 Seventeenth.

Initiates were Mrs. Cabot Dysart, Loy Anderson, Kathryn Berryhill, Betty Colquitt, Pat Johnson, Paula Fix, Pat Lindsey, Betty Peavy, Pat Paige, Judy Pierce, Bobbie Manning, Billie Ruth Yant, Betty Joyce Gerald and Ida Walker.

Las Vivarachas staged a formal initiation for six initiates Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in the Hilton hotel, and a dinner was held following.

New members are Nancy Arnold, Bonnie Holland, Wanda Mills, Pat Noland, Delmarene Parker and Eunice Smith.

A plaque was presented to Cherri Hannis during the dinner as recognition for having the highest scholastic average in the club for the fall semester at Tech. Joan Chapman won second place. A gift was also presented to Nancy Arnold as being the club's best pledge for the first term.

The Square Dancing school being held at the Lubbock Country club for members only lasts from Tuesday through Thursday. The three-day course is $5 per couple.

Funeral Services For Former Lamesa Resident Set Today

LAMESA, March 29 (Special)—Funeral services for Homer Bailey Glover, 55, will be held Wednesday at 4 p. m. here in the Church of Christ. O. H. Tabor of Carlsbad, N. M., will be in charge of the services. He will be assisted by Paul McClung, pastor of the Lamesa Church of Christ.

Glover died early Monday morning in a Hot Springs, N. M., hospital. He had undergone an emergency appendectomy about a week ago. Glover was a former Lamesa resident. He had been a rural mail carrier here for many years until he moved to Hot Springs about five years ago to operate a tourist camp.

Glover was born in Irene, Texas. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Annie Glover; his mother, Mrs. Lora L. Glover of Lamesa; one brother, B. F. Glover of Hobbs, N. M.; and one sister, Mrs. Carrie Corbett of Dallas.

Pallbearers will be A. J. McDaniel, Guy Weekes, Millard McDonnell, Bert Alsobrook, Jack Ladd, Ross Gibson, Hubert Nelson and Marvin Morris.

Burial will be in the Lamesa cemetery under the direction of the Higginbotham Funeral home of Lamesa.

Speed-Up Of Air Force Training Program Begins At San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, March 29 (AP)—Speeding up of the aviation training program at Randolph Air Force base was getting well underway Tuesday.

First of 238 flying students who are scheduled to start training under the new eight class per year system were arriving. They will start six months of basic training on Monday.

Seven other air bases under the jurisdiction of Maj. Gen. James S. Stowell, commanding general of the Flying division, Air Training command, who has headquarters at Randolph, will be affected by the change. These are Waco, Perrin, and Goodfellow Air Force bases where basic training is given, and Enid, Okla., Barksdale, La., Williams A. F. B., Arizona and Las Vegas, Nev., where advance training is received.

Peruvian Police Uncover Plot To Assassinate Government Official

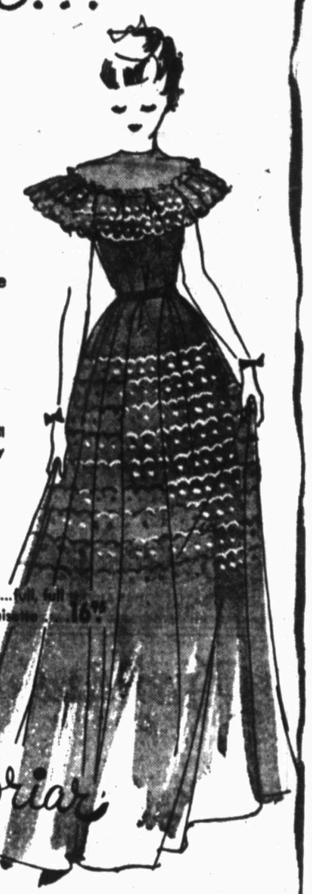

LIMA, Peru, March 29 (U.P.)—An assassination plot against the minister-secretary general of the ruling military junta has been discovered, police said today.

An official announcement said that Alfonso Rufasto Torres, 25, intended to "eliminate" Dr. Eduardo Rivera Schreiber but that police had "frustrated" the plot.

Officials charged that Torres was an agent for followers of Raul Victor Haya De La Torre, leader of the outlawed Aprista party who took refuge in the Colombian embassy here some time ago.

Homes Are Visited

House Beautiful Tour Will Continue This Afternoon

A highlight of the first day of Lubbock's Women's club House Beautiful tour, which opened yesterday afternoon, was the tea at the new home of Mrs. R. O. Bennett at 1901 Thirty-first. Approximately 300 guests called at the Bennett home and at the other five homes on the Tuesday tour which were those of Mesdames R. A. Mills, Marion Leftwich, James Atcheson and Don Furr.

The tour will be continued today and tomorrow. Homes to be shown this afternoon are the following: The John Christmann home, Rushland Park; the Clarence Rowland home, Rushland Park; the Millard F. Swart home, Cain Terrace; the J. D. Leftwich home, Levelland road, and the W. G. McMillan home, Levelland road. The homes are to be marked on the outside with placards so that they may be found without difficulty. Those on the tour are to be served tea at the McMillan home. Tickets may be secured by calling Mrs. George Berry at 9205.

Spring Flowers Featured

For the Tuesday tea, Mrs. Bennett's dining room which has Whitticomb modern furnishings, was decorated with spring flowers in hues of yellow, lavender and pink. The tea table was laid with a chartreuse cloth. Features of the home which were especially noted by the guests were the sun room with its large picture window, tropicana furniture and free shaped coffee table, the circular breakfast nook which joints the sun room, and the basement playroom which features a miniature greenhouse. Her guestroom is decorated in South American fashion and the living room, with its modern furnishings, has a touch of Chinese modern in its decorations.

Flower arrangements included bouquets of japonica in the sunroom and bluebonnets in the guestroom.

Members of the house party were Mesdames A. T. Cocanougher, W. C. Wood, James G. Allen, George Berry, Retha Martin, Claud Keeton, Ivy Savage, Clyde Tatum, John V. Powers, Alfred Crosby, E. B. Kelly, Ruel Martin, E. K. Hufstedler, jr., J. C. Rigney, W. A. Black, J. L. Teal and Jimmie Kerr.

Proceeds from the three-day tour will be added to a clubhouse building fund.

Contract For Lines In Floyd County Let

FLOYDADA, March 29 (Special)—The board of directors of Floyd County Rural Electric Co-operative, Inc., this afternoon awarded a construction contract for 258 miles of additional lines and two sub-stations to Basanda Construction company on a bid of $63,499.

The contract is for labor only, the co-operative having agreed to furnish materials. The project is financed by a $300,000 REA allocation.

H. N. Roberts and Associates of Lubbock, engineers who designed the project, said the lines will be built in Floyd, Hall, Briscoe, Swisher, Crosby and Dickens counties.

Twelve bids were received from contractors from as far away as San Angelo, Dallas and Oklahoma city.

L. W. Chapman is manager of the Floyd co-operative.

Two Fort Worth Women Make Hospital Trip Family Affair

FORT WORTH, March 29 (U.P.)—Two patients at Harris hospital here today have much in common.

They share the same room; they're both patients for similar illness. And their doctor is a member of the family.

Mrs. Effie M. Sandefer and Mrs. W. A. Riley both have broken hips. Mrs. Sandefer fell two years ago, fracturing her right hip and is back at the hospital for additional treatment. Mrs. Riley broke her left hip in a fall at her home Sunday.

Mrs. Sandefer's daughter is married to Mrs. Riley's son. An the son and son-in-law of the women is Dr. Jack Riley, resident physician at the hospital.

Lubbock County Aged Find Companionship In 'Old Folks Home'

Lubbock county Home for Old Folks is "a good place for you to be if you don't have any folks."

Those are the words of Mrs. Annie Sparkman, who along with six other residents of the Home For Old Folks spends her days in activities in and around the building at 406 Fourth street.

Mrs. Sparkman did not know there was such a place as an old folks home in Lubbock until two and one-half years ago. At that time, her husband was ill with a malignant ailment and she was ill with asthma. Friends arranged for them to enter the Home for Old Folks.

Husband Dies

Her susband, James Sparkman, died less than a year later.

Saying that she is glad to be living in the home, Mrs. Sparkman added, "after I lost my husband, I couldn't have stayed by myself."

She has no children.

Conditions which lead persons to become residents of the Old Folks home vary. Illness frequently is a factor. In many cases residents have no near relatives.

All is quietness and serenity much of the time, although there are occasions when the residents meet in the large living room and laughter and talk rings out in the house. Some of the residents play dominoes.

Management of the home was changed recently. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baker, who moved here from Littlefield, became managers of the home March 10, succeeding Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Banks.

They have encouraged residents to gather in the living room.

Rather than spend most of their time in their own rooms, residents enjoy meeting in the living room and are looking forward to sitting on the front porch in warm weather.

Women have rooms in one wing of the home and men have rooms in the opposite wing.

Those not too ill to leave their rooms go to the dining room for meals.

Have Various Activities

Residents have various activities. Mrs. Sparkman has crocheted and embroidered numerous items, selling some and using the proceeds to buy more thread and to buy medicine.

Her neighbor, Mrs. L. L. Davis, the only other resident at present of the women's wing of the building, and Mrs. Sparkman spend much time together.

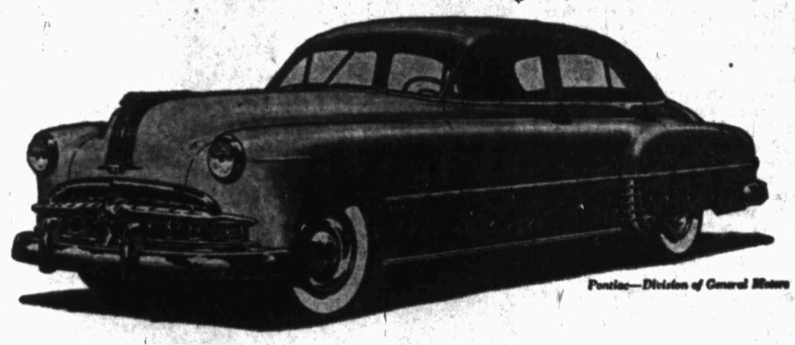

Some of the men often read.

One resident, smiling, praised management of the home and said his only complaint is that friends do not come to see him often enough.

INDICTMENTS ARE RETURNED

CLEBURNE, March 29 (INS)—A Johnson county grand jury late today handed down two indictments against 18-year-old Arthur Clayton Hester, accused slayer of Dr. John Lord, dean of the Texas Christian university graduate school. One indictment charged Hester with murder. The other charged him with stealing "a ring and money" and the theft of an automobile valued at $2,000.

Grid Ducats On Sale Today

Raiders Will Be Given Preview

General admission tickets for the football game and fun night in Jones Stadium April 9 go on sale today at the athletic office in the stadium and Texas Tech officials expect a large demand. There will be no reserved seats.

Football fans not only will see the preview showing of the 1949 Red Raider eleven, but also they will be treated to a full program of entertainment on the field between halves. The entire program is athletic in nature and D. M. McElroy, executive secretary of the alumni association, is lining up a fine show.

The entire program is being known as the Double T Sports Parade, with emphasis on the sports. Former lettermen are helping to present the show, which promises to be one of the best ventures in recent years.

Two Ticket Prices

Tickets will sell at two prices, $1 for adults and 60 cent for high school and Tech students. Children under 12 will be admitted free. The Double T Sports Parade is being advertized as "the five dollar show for only a dollar." It promises to fulfill that billing entirely.

Many firms around town have indicated that they intend to buy blocks of tickets to give to their employes, as well as to friends. Tech officials and committees working to put on the Sports Parade hope that a large number of local firms will take to this idea as a method of rewarding the work of their employes.

Thursday afternoon Texas Tech football players, who don't resume spring training until Monday following three weeks of work, will canvass the business districts of Lubbock. Each Raider player will be wearing a distinctive lapel badge to identify him.

Players To Make Calls

Having the players make personal calls will accomplish two things; it gives the businessman an opportunity to meet some of the players informally and it naturally helps to sell tickets. At the same time, businessmen are urged not to buy a single ticket just because the players approach them. It isn't a high pressure act; if the business firm wants to see a first rate show, fine.

Coach Glenn Lewis of the Farmers and Coach Bill Kelley of the Ranchers both are claiming that their teams will win. There is an unsubstantiated rumor that both are attempting to line up assistants who will make it possible for their respective teams to win.

Programs, bearing the numbers of all the players and with information about each one, will be sold at a nominal cost in the stands. And a public address announcer will keep the spectators informed about the various players.

Senate Postpones New Fishing Bill

AUSTIN, March 29 (AP) — The Senate Game and Fish Committee today postponed until April 5 further hearings on a bill that would encourage the menhaden fishing industry in Texas waters.

The Senate version of the bill, authored by Sen. W. R. Cousins, jr., of Beaumont, would allow the use of one-inch mesh purse seins to catch the fish. They are used primarily as the fish meal incredient in poultry feeds and also for oils.

A companion House bill by Rep. Miller B. Walker of Beaumont was unanimously approved by the House Game and Fish Committee earlier in the session. He later asked for and obtained a rehearing of the bill by the committee on April 5, when opposition witnesses are expected to appear.

Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game Commission, testified that "Limited data on hand points to the industry as a harmless operation."

J. L. Baughman, chief marine biologist at Rockport, said tests showed that menhaden fishing neither snared large numbers of game fish nor endangered their food supply.

A total of 1,095 purse seining tests tries yielded over 30,000 menhaden but only a few scattered trout and redfish, he said. Tests of 15,616 varied sea fish also showed that menhaden served as only two per cent of their food while shrimp was 67 per cent of their diet.

W. L. Anderson of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service said that Mississippi, the gulf's leading menhaden fishing state, allows one-tenth of one per cent of edible fish to be caught. Tests have fallen below that figure, he said.

"Menhaden fishing is the biggest fishing industry in the United States, and has an annual catch of approximately 950,000,000 pounds," Anderson said.

Sites Named For USGA Golf Meet

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP) — Thirty sites were named today by the United States Golf association for qualifying play to the open tourney at Medinah, Ill., June 9-11.

The qualifying tests will be held on May 31 except for Honolulu and Washington, D. C.

The Hawaiian preliminaries are set for May 24, enabling the winners to arrange for transportation to the mainland. June 1 is the capital city date.

The field in the open this year has been cut to 162 from 171 as in the past.

Former open champions, the 1948 amateur champion, the 1948 PGA titleholder, the Medinah club pro, the British open and amateur champions and the top 20 finishers in the 1948 open are exempt from qualifying.

They will annex approximately 40 places, leaving 122 berths to be filled in the qualifying rounds. Two 18-hole rounds make up the tests. Deadline for entries is 5 p. m. May 16.

Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., is the defending champion but probably will not play. He was seriously injured in an automobile accident in Texas last month and is not expected to defend his title. He also was the PGA champion in 1948.

Willie Turnesa of Elmsford, N. Y., is the 1948 U. S. amateur king and Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, is the British amateur champion.

In addition to Honolulu and Washington the sites are:

Birmingham, Ala.; Phoenix, Ariz.; Los Angeles; San Francisco; Ponte Vedra Beach, Fla.; Denver; Chicago; Indianapolis; Des Moines, Iowa; New Orleans; Detroit; Minneapolis; Kansas City; St. Louis; New York; Rochester, N. Y.; Durham, N. C.; Akron, Ohio; Cincinnati; Oklahoma City; Philadelphia; Pittsburgh; Pawtucket, R. I.; Memphis; Dallas, Texas; San Angelo, Texas; Seattle and Milwaukee.

Option Rule Changed For Bonus Players

CINCINNATI, March 29. (AP) — The current crop of major league baseball's high-priced boys, commonly known as bonus players, won't get a year of minor league seasoning after all.

In an interpretation of the bonus rule change, voted by major league owners, Walter W. Mulbry, secretary-treasurer of baseball, said today that the optioning of bonus players during their first year will apply only to those signed after March 31.

When the office of Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler announced the rule change yesterday it was believed that bonus players —designated as such if they were paid $6,000 or more to sign a contract—could be farmed out for a year if they had not already played a season of professional ball. They could not be sent down for experience under the old rule.

"The matter of major league clubs being able to option bonus players one time, within 12 months of their signing, is not applicable until April 1," Mulbry said. "That is, they would have to be signed on or after April 1 to be eligible for option."

Mulbry said the commissioner's list of bonus players showed:

National league—Boston: John Antonelli; Brooklyn; Elmer G. Sexauer; Cincinnati: Lloyd A. Merriman and Frank J. Fanovich; Philadelphia: Charles Bicknell, John E. Roberts, Curtis T. Simmons, John L. Mayo and Stanley E. Hollmig.

American league — Boston: Charles K. Stobbs and Frank W. Quinn; Cleveland: Leroy Paige, Roberto Avila and Herman C. Reich; Detroit: Paul M. Campbell; Philadelphia: Earle Brucker, Jr.

Mulbry said the list included only those players under contract to major league clubs.

High School, Tech To Play

A practice game between Texas Tech Independents and Lubbock High school Westerners will be played this afternoon at Chapman field baseball diamond beginning at 4 o'clock.

In a game earlier this season the Westerners defeated the Tech club, 10-7, in a six inning game, but since that time the independents have improved very much and picked up better pitching. So the high school nine should be in for a rough game this afternoon.

The Westerner batters have not faced a good pitcher in games thus far this season although Jackie Martyn of Boys Club pitched a few good innings against them. But if reports are correct, a left-hander for Tech should give the high schoolers a lot of trouble in today's game.

Extensive fielding practice was given the Westerner team Tuesday by Coach Fred Taylor in a long workout that had the boys puffing and sweating. When practice was over the whole squad ran laps around the field before going to the showers.

The infielders looked especially good and showed lots of hustle in their workout. Few bad throws were made, and the boys seemed to be picking up grounders better than usual.

Sikes Has Black Eye

Neil Sikes was the victim of a bad hop and suffered a black eye while chasing grounders at third base. Charles Galey, who was hit on the right knee by a pitched ball Monday, seemed to be in good shape, and Bobby Brown is still bothered by an injury to his right ankle.

Probable starters in the infield for the Westerners will be Morris Turner, catcher; Jessie Fullerton, first base; Galey, second base; Powell Hinson, third base; and Dan Adkisson, shortstop.

In left field will be Jimmy Richards. Garnet Reeves in center field and Jimmy Sexton in right field round out the outfield. The starting pitcher will be Bennie Day, Jimmy Hamilton, or Jim Wilson.

Included in the Independent lineup will be Bill Cannon, Bob McNeil, Dick Mittanck, J. D. Miller, Bill Reeter, Dicky Robinson, Van Welch, Bill Shelton, Sam De Stefano, and Archie Campbell.

Henderson Fight Ducats On Sale

If initial sales of tickets for the five-bout card in Sled Allen's arena April 8, on which Bill Henderson of Lubbock will appear as the principal attraction, is any indication, the fight will be a complete success.

O. C. Foster, who is making his debut as a boxing promoter, said last night that almost all the ringside seats had been sold the first day. Foster declared that people were waiting at his gym, 2417 Main street, before 1 p. m. yesterday to buy tickets.

A large number of reserved seats also went the first day, but there are plenty of general admission tickets left, along with good reserved seats. Prices for ringside tickets are $3.60, for reserved seats $2.40 and for general admission $1.80.

LaVern Roach, former middleweight contender, will referee the bouts.

Henderson will be making his first appearance since his loss to Jean Mougin in El Paso. He is taking road work every morning and working in the gym every afternoon. Foster says that he looks sharp and that the fight with Mougin didn't hurt him.

The other Lubbock fighters who will appear on the card, Lightweight Charley Neff, Welterweight Bill Pollard and Heavyweight Gene James, all are working out daily and working hard. James is anxious to make a good showing against Jack Wortham of Amarillo, since it will be his first pro fight.

Pollard, who has been up and down since fighting pro, is eager to turn in a good showing before his home town folks. He has fought a lot in Dallas, but this will be his first bout in Lubbock as a pro.

Hale Center Captures Boxing Meet Honors

HALE CENTER, March 29 (Special)—Hale Center High school won the team honors in the invitational boxing tournament held here the past two nights with a total of 27 points. Springlake accumulated 14 points, and Hart had 8. Other teams entered were Cotton Center and New Deal.

In addition to the regular high school and grade school fights tonight, two exhibition fights were staged. Charlie Pollock, 130, was kayoed by Jackie Dyer in one exhibition match. Both boys are from Hale Center. In the other match Wayne Beaver of Hart, 124, fought Bill Chapman, 120, of Hale Center to a draw.

The Hale Center boxers were predominant in the fight card tonight, failing to appear in only three of the bouts. Only two of the fights were won by technical knockouts, and the rest were decided by the decision of the judges.

Judges were Toby Wagner, New Deal, Gene Gray, Earth, and Leonard Duncan, Hale Center. All bouts were fought in Watley Memorial gym, under the direction of Coach Ralph Huntington.

25 SCHOOLS WILL PARTICIPATE

Junior High Track, Field Meet Set For Chapman Field Saturday

The nineteenth annual Junior High Track and Field meet will be held at Chapman field Saturday with approximately 25 schools participating.

Entries will be accepted through Friday, April 1, but schools which haven't turned in their entries should do so as early as possible.

Competition will be held in three divisions — seventh, eighth, and ninth grades. Any student in these grades may enter the meet in the same division. Only three track events may be entered, and not more than five events altogether, by one individual.

Preliminaries At 10 A. M.

Preliminary events will be held starting at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, and finals will begin at 1:30. There will be 13 events in the ninth grade division, 10 in the eighth grade division, and six in the seventh grade. Ribbons will be awarded the first, second, third, and fourth place winners.

E. J. Lowrey, athletic manager, said Tuesday that he expected 400-500 boys to enter the meet. The exact number is unknown at this time, but it is expected to be large.

Three Local Schools Entered

Lubbock will have three schools entered. They are O. L. Slaton, Carroll Thompson, and J. T. Hutchinson Junior High schools.

One of the strongest schools expected to enter is Odessa Junior High school. Last week at the Odessa Relays the home school won the meet, and it is especially strong in the 50-yard dash, 100-yard dash, and 220-yard dash.

Other schools expected are Midland, Lamesa, Brownfield, Levelland, Whiteface, Andrews, Seminole, O'Donnell, Plainview, Floydada, Post, Slaton, Littlefield, Morton, Seagraves, Tahoka, Muleshoe, Sudan, Sundown, Meadow, and Ropesville.

Shooting Two Ducks Out Of Season Costs Local Hunter $218

These were expensive ducks.

Garland W. Thomas, about 30, paid $218 for shooting two ducks out of season, records of C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, showed Tuesday.

He pleaded guilty in two cases of complaints sworn to by L. J. Dugger, a game warden of the state, accusing him of "unlawfully hunting and killing a wild game bird, to wit: one wild duck, at a time of year not during open season provided for killing of said game bird."

Movies Of World Series Will Be Shown At Chapman Fieldhouse

Pictures of the 1948 World series between the Cleveland Indians who will play at Rosenthal Field next Tuesday, and the Boston Braves, will be shown Thursday night at 8 in Chapman field house.

Curtis Barrett, recreation department director, said that he had secured the films and that they would be shown without cost. Adults and children both are invited.

Michigan State College's wrestling and boxing coaches, Fendly Collins and George Makris, both have twin daughters. Collins' are 12, Makris' three years old.

Tag Team Go Set Tonight

A rip-roaring time is expected at Sled Allens wrestling arena tonight with an Australian tag team rematch and a rugged first event supplying the action.

By request of the fans, Buck Weaver and George Overhauls will tackle Rod Fenton and Pat O'Dowdy again in the team match, and it should provide many thrills for the fans that like fast, rugged wrestling.

Weaver Downed Fenton

In a previous match O'Dowdy and Fenton defeated the other pair in three falls, but Fenton was helped by O'Dowdy in downing Weaver in the last fall while the referee was not looking.

To prove that the match should have gone the other way Weaver took Fenton to the cleaners last week in a very good bout. But Fenton and O'Dowdy have been boasting that they could lick any two men in the area in a team match and Overhauls and Weaver stepped forward to dispute the claim.

Sandow, Ruiz Meet

Arturo Ruiz, who gave Pat O'Dowdy a rough night last week in the semi-finals match, will meet Billy Sandow in the first event tonight. The match will be two out of three falls with an hour time limit.

Ruiz demonstrated to local fans last week that he was rugged and could take care of himself under any circumstances. Anybody who can hold O'Dowdy to a draw is bound to have a lot on the ball. For the rugged Pat loves to win, and he doesn't care who gets hurt while he is doing it. But Ruiz surprised the Irishman.

Sandow is a clever grappler himself and should make a good showing against the native of Mexico.

Tickets are on sale at Wylies Drug for the matches which begin at 8:15 tonight.

Ben Hogan To Leave Hospital In El Paso

EL PASO, March 29 (INS)—Golfer Ben Hogan will leave his El Paso hospital bed of eight weeks and return home to Fort Worth Thursday night.

Hogan will be accompanied by his wife Valerie and Dr. Howard Dittle when he leaves El Paso by train. Mrs. Hogan said her husband is coming along slendidly but that he has not discussed golf seriously since their near-fatal auto accident on Feb. 2.

Earlier in the day Hogan, looking thin and pallid, told newsmen:

"Of course I expect to play again some day, but right now I have no idea if my game will be the kind I want, the kind I'm used to playing."

Women's Pin Meet To Open

EL PASO, March 29 (AP)—Texas women bowlers will batter the pins skywest and crooked for 10 consecutive days here starting Saturday.

There will be 1,035 individual entries, including 198 teams, in the annual tournament of the Texas Women's Bowling Association.

Counting the families and rooters of the visiting bowlers from Texas and New Mexico, an anticipated 1,300 visitors will watch the pin massacre at Five Points lanes.

Official tournament play opens Saturday night with a 16-team squad hitting the alleys. A second squad of 10 teams will follow. Mayor Dan Ponder will roll the first ball and cut a ceremonial ribbon stretched across the alleys.

Of the 198 teams entered in the meet—62 short of the record that fired at Fort Worth in 1947—11 teams fall in the Class A group seeking the title won by the Cottingham Bearing Co., of Dallas, which fired a 2411 scratch total at the last state tourney.

A total of 46 quintets are entered in Class B, 67 in Class C, and 74 in Class D.

Red Heads Will Play Ralls Girls

RALLS, March 29 (Special)—The world famous Red Heads, girls basketball team of Cassville, Mo., will play the Ralls Independent girls team here Thursday night in a benefit game.

Ralls' Parent-Teachers association is sponsoring the game to help its work and tickets will be sold at two prices. Adults will be admitted for 75 cents each and children for 30 cents. Tickets will only be sold at the door.

The game is scheduled for 8 p. m. in the city auditorium and a capacity crowd of 1,000 persons is anticipated.

The Red Heads play only men's teams on their tour of the nation and they will be facing one of the better independent teams in this section in the Ralls Independents. They have several outstanding local players, in addition to fine former college players.

Orwell Moore, former court star and Arkansas mentor, is serving as both coach and manager of the Red Heads, who have built up a fabulous reputation throughout the years. Each season they tour the nation, playing teams of men on equal terms. They first of all are good basketball players and they also manage to inject humor into their games.

The local game is being staged under the direction of O. D. Stephens, chairman of the finance committee of the Ralls PTA. He will be assisted by members of his committee, including Burl Griffith, Marvin McLaughlin, Mrs. Tim Lyle, Emmett Lynch and Earl Tinnin.

Jess Jacinto Is Latest To Join Pioneers

Clovis Nine Announces Signing Of Six Players For '49 Season

By BERN GANTER
News-Journal Sports Editor

CLOVIS, March 29—Six members of the Clovis Pioneers have signed contracts and are ready to open the spring training season, which will get underway here Friday.

Latest to be gathered into the fold is Jess Jacinto, slugging second baseman, who came to terms Monday. Jacinto hammered the ball at a .315 clip last year and is counted on to have another good season in 1949.

He joins Manager Paul Dean, George Matthews and Mel Kramer, pitchers; Wilcy Moore, outfielder; and Chuck Novotney, first baseman, in inking contracts for this year.

Four other ball players are owned by the Clovis Baseball club, but none of them is under serious consideration. Dean said that the players are Pitcher Al Kavanaugh, Catcher Bill Mayfield, and Infielders Frank Pacheco and Mel Serafini.

Kavanaugh and Mayfield have indicated they are going to ask to be placed on the voluntary retired list. Pacheco and Serafini have returned their contracts unsigned and "we're through bickering with them," Dean said today. Pacheco, Serafini and Kavanaugh were with the Pioneers last season.

Mayfield was obtained in a straight player swap with the Amarillo Gold Sox recently, pitcher Darwin "Tootie" Dobbs going to the Sox.

Mayfield is going to continue his profession in pharmacy, while Kavanaugh, a school teacher at Las Cruces, N. M., is going to attend summer school at Colorado Institute of Higher Learning, working toward his Master's degree.

The Pioneers start spring training here Friday afternoon at Bell Park. During the first four days, a baseball school and tryout camp will be conducted in conjunction with the Pioneer training.

The baseball school, which is expected to attract an unprecedented turnout, will be held in the morning. More than 100 youths are anticipated by Dean, who will supervise the school. From inquiries received, nine states will be represented — Arkansas, Texas, Oklahoma, Michigan, California, New Jersey, Illinois, Kansas and New Mexico.

About half a dozen Lubbock youths have planned to attend the school, among them Jack Martyn, who performed in Lubbock Legion baseball last year. The school starts Friday.

Pruning will start on the school immediately, with no boy retained who does not hold promise. Promising players will be held over for afternoon sessions with the Pioneers. The Clovis club will be looking for four or five good rookies, all of whom will be carried for the first weeks of spring training and with the hope that two of them are good enough to retain for the season.

As for the Pioneers, Dean has stated flatly that his club will finish in the first division—"and we'll start off on the right foot at Lubbock." The Pioneers open in the Hub City April 20.

The Pioneers, who finished sixth last year, do not have any tie-up with a major league club, but Dean has been promised several good players from his big league connections.

Acquisition of players isn't worrying Dean. "We'll have the players," he says, "when the time is ripe."

Pro Cardinals Sign Polidor

CHICAGO, March 29 (INS)—The Chicago Cardinals of the National Profesional Football league announced tonight the signing of Bob Polidor, Villanova university star running back.

Ray Benningsen, Cardinal president, said Polidor, who has played college football at the University of Rochester and at Temple university in addition to Villanova, was drafted by the western division titleholder two years ago.

Now a native of Philadelphia, Polidor was born in Dallas, Tex. He is 24, weighs 175 pounds and is five feet nine inches tall.

At the same time, Benningsen announced that Card Halfback Jerry Davis and Tackle Chet Bulger underwent knee operations today at Michael Reese hospital in Chicago.

Both Card stars suffered knee injuries last season.

Middleweight Champion Marcel Cerdan Kayos Britain's Turpin

LONDON, March 29 (AP)—World Middleweight Champion Marcel Cerdan knocked out Britain's Dick Turpin in the seventh round of a scheduled 10-round, non-title fight at Empress Hall tonight.

Cerdan caught Turpin with a terrific right to the body early in the seventh. Marcel then applied the finisher, a short left hook to the jaw.

The 32-year-old Cerdan concentrated his attack most of the time to Turpin's body. His 23-year-old opponent was successful in stepping many of the punches from reaching the target.

Finally Cerdan backed Turpin into a neutral corner, smashed a right to the body and followed up with the hook to the chin.

Turpin flopped on his face and never moved while the referee counted him out at 1:22 of the seventh.

Turpin's handlers had to carry their man back to his stool.

Lew Buston of New York, Cerdan's American agent, who came over to see the world champion, said:

"That proves he's still got a punch."

The Associated Press score card had Cerdan well ahead on points when the knockout came. He had won three rounds and Turpin one with two even when the end came.

SPORTS DROP OILERS

HENDERSON, March 29 (AP)—Les Burge's home run with two aboard in the seventh proved the telling blow Tuesday afternoon as the Shreveport Sports won from Henderson's Oilers of the East Texas league 6 to 3.

TIL Baseball Series Readied

AUSTIN, March 29 (AP)—Districts five and nine in Conference AA drew byes in the Interscholastic league baseball championship series, Dr. Rhea Williams, league athletic director, announced today.

The AA state champion will be determined June 6, 7 and 8 at Disch Field, Austin.

The playoff schedule is district one vs. two, three vs. four, five bye, six vs. seven, eight vs. 10, nine bye, 11 vs. 12 and 13 vs. 14.

The last day for certifying district champions is May 14, while May 28 is the deadline for certifying bi-district winners. Only conference AA and the City conference will hold state playoffs this year. Competition in Conference A ends with the regional championships and B with the bi-districts.

Lubbock School Board Elects Faculty Members For 1949-50

Mrs. R. B. Luker, Senior High; Mrs. Nancy Webb, McWhorter; Mrs. Rosa Gamblin, Sanders school; L. M. Handley, Senior High; Mrs. Helen F. Sheehan, Senior High; Mrs. Jo Anne Hupt, McWhorter school; Mrs. J. Neuel Bryan, J. T. Hutchinson school; and Mrs. F. Greer, Hunt school.

The school board passed a resolution expressing to the above teachers its appreciation for the fine services rendered and extended its wishes for success in the future.

Bands To Attend Meet

The board agreed unanimously to allow the junior high school bands to attend the Interscholastic League meeting at Canyon on April 29 and 30, providing the members pay their own individual expenses for the trip.

Previously the board had rejected a petition asking that the junior high bands be allowed to go to the meeting at school expense, pointing out the expense involved to the school district.

The board studied a petition from parents in the Dunbar school area asking that a truant officer be appointed for the school. Members of the board were in concensus that such an officer should be secured before the start of school next fall. About 170 names were signed to the petition.

Salary Setup Discussed

The trustees agreed that no action would be taken immediately on a new salary schedule proposed in a resolution of the teachers committee. Should the Gilmer Aikin proposal now in the Texas legislature become law, the salary schedule would automatically be subject to revision, it was pointed out. However, the board assured the teachers, salaries will not go below the present schedule.

The remainder of the meeting was routine, involving considerable discussion on such subjects as new school sites for the future, expense involved in repairing and remodeling parts of certain schools, and other business on which no definite action was taken.

Following is a list of the teachers and other school officials elected for the coming year and approved by the board at last night's meeting.

home at the time. He was pronounced dead by the time he reached surgery in St. Mary's hospital. Stimulants were not successful in reviving him.

An oral statement was made by Elton O'Neal before Justice of the Peace C. E. Lynn, who conducted an inquest, and the Sheriff's department. Judge Lynn indicated last night that a verdict of accidental death would be returned today.

The body was taken to Sanders Funeral home. No funeral arrangements had been made last night, it was reported.

Survivors in addition to the parents and the brother include the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. O'Neal of Lubbock, and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Wright of Brashear, Hopkins county.

Dog Which Suffered Wounds In World War II Is Sought Here

Speedball, a small sharp-nosed German Chihuahua which survived wounds suffered on battlegrounds of Europe in World War II, late last night still was being sought here.

Two months ago the dog disappeared from the home of Bill Andrews of Hurlwood, veteran who brought the dog home with him after the war's end. A dog seen Tuesday on the courthouse lawn was recognized as the missing Speedball, but the dog eluded capture and had disappeared by the time Andrews arrived.

Anxious to locate the dog which accompanied his battalion as mascot in Europe, Andrews has asked that anyone seeing a dark brown male dog with black and white on the breast and neck, nine inches tall, and weighing 15 pounds and answering to the name of Speedball, telephone 2-2623 in Lubbock and leave a message for Andrews.

Funeral Services Set Today In Lamesa For Former Resident

LAMESA, March 29 (Special)—Last rites for H. B. Glover, former Lamesa resident who died today in a Hot Springs, N. M., hospital, are to be held at 4 p. m. Wednesday in the Lamesa Church of Christ.

O. H. Taber, Church of Christ minister of Carlsbad, N. M., is to officiate. Burial will be in Lamesa cemetery under direction of Higginbotham Funeral home.

Glover, a former rural mail carrier here who had operated a tourist camp in Hot Springs the last few years, died after undertomy about a week ago.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Annie Glover, and the mother, Mrs. W. B. Glover, of Lamesa.

"BEST-DRESSED" BOYS AND GIRLS—At Lubbock Senior High school's Westerner Round-Up celebration Tuesday these five boys and five girls were selected as "best dressed." Left to right in the front row are Rossi Stiles, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Stiles of 3002 Twenty-second; Anne Lingle, granddaughter of Mrs. Percy Spencer of 1647 Thirteenth; Margaret Barrier, daughter of Mrs. Clifton Barrier of Vaughn road; Joyce Moody, daughter of Mrs. M. C. Moody of 2424 Twenty-fourth; and Joyce Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Smith of Lubbock; and in the back row, Deany McGuire, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. McGuire of 2807 Twentieth; Don Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fisher of 3106 Thirty-first; Durston Gillean, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Gillean of 1517 Ave. F; M. L. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Williams of 1906 Eighth; and J. T. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jones of Brownfield highway. Miss Moody and Gillean were named winners of the contest, Miss Lingle and McGuire runners-up. gram, the all-school favorites led the home favorites in a grand march to the gymnasium. The student body followed for the festivities.

In the gymnasium, the all-school favorites took their places on improvised thrones of baled hay.

Refreshments were served and the student body engaged in folk dancing until about 10 p. m.

Others Are Honored

During the day, members of the student body and faculty members got into the spirit of the occasion by wearing western type clothes.

The "best dressed" students and teacher were named during the day. Winning the honors among the students were Joyce Moody, daughter of Mrs. M. C. Moody of 2424 Twenty-fourth; and Durston Gillean, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Gillean of 1517 Avenue F.

Taking honors in this department among the teachers was Mrs. R. A. Studhalter, biology teacher, who appeared in a bonnet and calico dress reminiscent of early days on the South Plains.

Nancy Davis and Jack King were co-chairmen of the committee in charge of general arrangements for this year's Westerner Round-Up.

Eddalyne Cox was chairman of the contest committee. Special western prizes were awarded for the best song, the best poster, the best dressed boy, the best dressed girl, the best dressed faculty member.

Nancy Ketron and Pat Rhea were chairmen of the refreshments committee. Malcolm Young was in charge of the folk-dancing committee.

Sale of tickets to the assembly program last night was in charge of a committee composed of Frances Roth, Mary Bell Perryman, Neal Friets, Norman Bantz, Martha Gillispie, Jim Laurence, Richard Allen, Donna Hall, Reg Martin and David Bullen.

carry out strategic bombing—i.e., air blows struck at the heart of the enemy's production centers.

Just as staunchly, the Navy has argued that its aircraft carriers should be allowed to join in the assault—particularly such giant flattops as the Navy's $120,000,000 carrier, the United States, which is now under construction.

Johnson gave no inkling of which way his "pretty fair conviction" leans. He is known, however, as a strong advocate of long-range bombers. And as one of his first steps, he named Air Force Gen. Joseph T. McNarney to the job of coordinating the changes he plans to make.

But he indicated that whatever his conviction may be, he is not dead set on it.

"The three services," he said, "are going to have a chance to argue me out of that conclusion in the next couple of days."

Jester Suggests Measure To Increase State Tax Revenue

AUSTIN, March 29 (AP)—A tax-tightening measure that was estimated to be worth an additional quarter million dollars annually in state revenue was suggested today by Gov. Beauford H. Jester.

The governor told the legislature in a special message that incorrect affidavits filed on the percent motor vehicle sales tax are costing the state "an enormous amount of revenue."

The leak was reported to the governor by his state tax board, named to look for new sources of revenue within the present tax structure.

Law now provides that buyers of new and used cars, buses and trucks pay a tax on the "true and correct" amount paid for them.

The board recommended penalties for both seller and purchaser for violation of the statute.

News Briefs

Two fire alarms within a ten minute period last night kept city firemen busy for a while, but little or no damage was reported in either fire. At 9:28 p. m., fire trucks were called to the alley between 1400-block Ave. G and Ave. H, where a box car on a switch track was on fire. Firemen expressed the opinion that a drunk had sought shelter in the car and set it on fire. The second alarm, at 9:37 p. m., was to Slaton highway to extinguish a trash fire, reports showed.

Curtis Lee, 22, of Lubbock, charged Feb. 25 with threat to take life, was arrested last night by officials of the sheriff's office and city police department. A peace bond hearing will be heard in connection with the case.

800,000 shares, the largest since last November 10 when they topped the two million share mark.

Favorite Gain

The market enjoyed impressive leadership on the rise. Among the old-line issues to advance $1 to more than $2 a share were such favorites as Allied Chemical, Chrysler, DuPont, General Electric, General Motors, United States Steel, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Anaconda, Atchison and Union Pacific.

The Dow-Jones industrial averages scored a gain of $2.40, the rails were up $1.19 and the utilities advanced 21 cents.

The new 50 per cent margins represent the first change in stock buying requirements since February 1, 1947, when they were placed at 75 per cent. For nearly a year prior to that, stocks had to be purchased entirely for cash.

Italy Formally Signifies Intent To Join North Atlantic Pact

WASHINGTON, March 29 (INS)—Italy today formally signified its intention of joining the North Atlantic Security pact as her foreign minister, Count Carlo Sforza, conferred with Secretary of State Acheson.

The Italian foreign minister, first to arrive for Monday's ceremonies, had disposition of Italy's pre-war African colonies on his mind in arriving early to confer with U. S. officials.

Also, it was understood he is seeking American reaction to formation of a Mediterranean defense alliance, as has been suggested by Turkey.

RANCHERS OPPOSE CHANGE

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 29 (AP)—The New Mexico Cattle Growers association today opposed permanent establishment of the White Sands-Alamogordo proving grounds in New Mexico. The area is about 135 miles long and averages 35 miles wide. It is the main U. S. site for testing rockets. Ranchers said they would prefer to continue using the land at their own risk.

Soviet Shakeup

friendly with western leaders, particularly Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

No Policy Change Seen

Zhukov last was announced assigned to the Odessa military district in what was regarded as a distinct demotion.

Sokolovsky carried a heavy load in the fight with western occupation officials in the struggle over defeated Germany whose military potential always is great.

No change in Soviet policy in Germany is expected with his replacement by Chuikov.

Sokolovsky first set the wheels in motion for the splitting of Berlin and Germany on March 20, 1948, when he walked out of the Allied Control council in Berlin.

Begins Battle For Berlin

This was in protest against a London conference laying the groundwork for a proposed western German government which followed Allied charges that Russia prevented economic unity as called for by the Potsdam pact.

Two days before Sokolovsky bolted, the Communist-organized eastern Germans had set up a "people's council" in what was admitted to be "the first step toward a constituent assembly" purporting to speak for all of Germany.

By March 31 Sokolovsky had begun the battle for Berlin by imposing a ground transport blockade. The Allies have defeated that by flying in foodstuffs, coal and other supplies to feed their part of the city ever since. Their only other alternative was to quit the city, as the Russians wanted them to do.

Sokolovsky Blocks Plan

When last fall's western ambassadorial conferences with Stalin worked out a compromise plan it was Sokolovsky who torpedoed it by attaching impossible conditions to its implementation. When the West protested to Moscow the Soviet government upheld Sokolovsky.

News of the "release" of Sokolovsky from his duties in Germany was sandwiched between news of minor interest broadcast by Moscow radio at dictation speed in the service to the provincial press.

Sokolovsky was reported recalled from Soviet-blockaded Berlin sometime ago after the first shakeup in the Soviet government which included the release of Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov and his succession by Andrei Vishinsky.

None of these changes have yet been officially explained by the Russians. Western observers generally have believed that Molotov, Bulganin, and former Foreign Trade Minister A. I. Mikoyan are being shifted to other important duties.

All these changes began when the Russian blockade of Berlin failed and when general Soviet policy also failed to prevent formation of the North Atlantic defense pact.

Chuikov, the 48-year-old new Soviet military governor in Germany is another of the Russian heroes of Stalingrad.

The general, former errand boy in a Russian bathhouse, entered the Red army at the beginning of the Bolshevik revolution and fought in the civil war.

He commanded the 62nd army in the battle of Stalingrad, and later won distinction in the liberation of the Don industrial basin, Zaporozhye and the forcing of the Dnieper river defense line.

Chuikov was promoted from Lt. Gen. to Col. Gen. in 1943. He went on to new victories in the campaign in Poland the following year.

Chuikov has served as chief Soviet military adviser to the Chinese government in 1941, returning to Russia after the Nazi attack on the homeland.

He has been serving as Soviet military governor in the state of Thuringia in occupied Germany.

New Price Cuts Strike Inflation

creased resistance on the part of the buyer.

The consumer has become more conscious of prices. There has been a tendency to wait and see whether prices will come down a bit.

The Federal Reserve board, which took some of the controls off installment buying early this month, lowered the margin requirements on stock purchases from 75 per cent to 50 per cent. It brought quick response in Wall street.

Marriner Eccles of the Federal Reserve board sums up the situation as a "recession . . . a healthy economic readjustment."

Congressmen say "at very least the danger of uncontrolled inflation is over."

Sugar Price Hiked

And now they're beginning to worry about deflation instead of inflation.

Business men and industrialists agree the "bloom is off the boom." That a healthy readjustment is underway; that the peak prices of the war-borne boom days are over.

Many believe prices will stabilize at levels below the wartime peaks but above pre-war levels.

Amid the flurry of price reductions, however, there was at least one increase.

Most of the nation's sugar refineries announced a hike in refined cane sugar prices from 7.85 to 8.10 cents a pound. The increase came on the heels of a raw sugar price advance to 5.80 cents a pound.

KAISER-FRAZER MAKES SHIFT IN TOP OFFICIALS

DETROIT, March 29 (AP)—Kaiser-Frazer Corp. slashed car prices and shifted its top management today to strengthen its position in the increasingly competitive automotive industry.

The four-year-old firm now is completing its poorest three-month production period in more than a year. It attributed recent cutbacks to federal credit regulations, now relaxed, and change-over to new models.

Kaiser-Frazer's move was interpreted in industry circles as designed to capture a bigger share of the middle-priced car field. Its price cuts averaged better than 10 per cent, the third and highest in the industry since the war.

'Peace' Conference

Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia, Poland and Yugoslavia.

(Sponsors of the conference in New York tonight sent a telegram to Secretary of State Acheson appealing to him to prevent the ouster of the delegates.

A spokesman for the National Council of the Arts, Sciences and Professions—which sponsored the conference—said the organization is investigating the State department's action.

Formal Notes Sent

(He added that the scheduled rallies will be held even if the delegates are refused permission to attend.)

Formal notes were dispatched to the ambassadors of those eastern European countries suggesting that the missions of the Communist group, ended when the turbulent "cultural and Scientific Conference for World Peace" concluded Sunday night.

Russian composer Dmitri Shostakovitch headed the delegation.

Furthermore, the State department "also requested the Department of Justice to have its representatives bring these facts to the attention of the (Communist) officials concerned."

Tour Unauthorized

The notes to the iron curtain envoys suggested that the 18 Russian, Czech, Polish and Yugoslav representatives, who came here for the New York conference under "official" visas, should "leave the United States within a reasonable period."

A further stay here—particularly to make a countrywide tour to collect signatures of "millions of Americans" to a "roll call for peace"—was described by a State department spokesman as "unauthorized." He said it over-stepped the conditions under which the Communist delegates were granted entry visas.

The State department acted on the basis of news dispatches from New York, where the allegedly pro-Communist conference held widely-publicized and picketed meetings over the past weekend.

Tour Scheduled

These reports said plans had been made for a tour by the foreign delegates, opening tonight with a rally in Newark's Mosque theater. Thereafter, on a still tentative schedule, the carriers of the "party line" are slated to visit Philadelphia, Baltimore, Detroit, St. Louis and Los Angeles, among other cities.

Michael J. McDermott, speaking for Secretary of State Acheson, noted that Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia had certified delegates to the New York conference as "official" representatives of those governments. As a diplomatic courtesy—"but with no 'illusions'— visas were granted in most cases; denied in a few.

Since the end of the New York meeting, only one request has come from an iron curtain embassy for a visa extension. That was in the case of Czechoslovakian delegate Jiri Hronek.

One Delegate To Stay

The department has honored a formal request that Hronek remain on to act as an observer for "The International Organization of Journalists" when freedom of information comes before the United Nations next month. Except for this, said McDermott:

"The governments of eastern Europe applied for visas for these officials merely to attend the conference in New York. The applications were granted.

"Neither the officials nor their governments have asked that they be permitted to engage in any other activities, and consequently no opinion has been expressed by the department on hypothetical questions involved.

Work Is Done

"The department has noted press reports emanating from New York this morning and has brought to the attention of the ambassadors of the Soviet Union Czechoslovakia, Poland and Yugoslavia that the purpose for which their representatives were granted official visas to the United States to attend the Scientific and Cultural Conference for World Peace have been fulfilled with the conclusion of the conference.

"They have been told in cases of this nature, this government assumes that the intention of the visiting officials is to leave the United States within a reasonable period after fulfillment of the purposes of their visit."

McDermott declined to specify what a "reasonable length of time" for departure involved.

Friars Describes Mexico Travels To Knife, Fork Club

By ROGER SOUTHALL
Avalanche Staff Writer

Describing his travels in Mexico as "a light-hearted journey in a land of fiesta," Robert Friars, world traveler, last night took members of Lubbock Knife and Fork club on a "Holiday in Mexico" via motion picture.

The Knife and Fork club, which met for its monthly dinner meeting at 7:30 p. m. in Hotel Lubbock, prior to the showing of the technicolor movie which Friars and his wife made on Mexican jaunts, heard Friars comment on his world travels. Possibly the most amusing incident which he told was of his trip around the world, which came about as the result of joking $5 bet which he made with a friend at University of Michigan.

Started Tour With $82

Friars, who lacked only part of a semester before completing requirements for a degree, took the friend's bet, and departed within 48 hours on the round-the-world tour. He started his trip with only $82.

Running comment and explanation was made by Friars throughout the full-length movie.

Highlights of the picture included scenes taken at fabulous Acapulco; at Guadalajara, second largest city in Mexico; at Salino Cruz, now a ghost city, which at one time seemed destined to become Mexico's largest and foremost seaport until a sand bar closed the mouth of the harbor, and, of course, in and around Mexico City.

Volcano Is Shown

Most thrilling episode of the entire movie, however, was that of Paricutin, the volcano which literally rose from level ground into a peak of molten lava and flaming ash, covering villages and destroying verdant forests.

Friars' photography of Paricutin and it course of death, destruction, and desolation, was further enhanced by his "on the spot" descriptions of this modern wonder.

And while Friars' photography of places and things was impressive, his skillful interpretation, via the movie camera of the character, inherent beauty, and "flavor" of the Mexican people themselves lent credence to the subjectivity and authenticity of his production.

age Tuesday and found three bodies, the story said. Original Air Force reports said the plane carried four men. The two small, tired groups said they were unable to carry the bodies down Tuesday through the deep snow and a raging storm.

Far East Air Force Headquarters spokesmen were quoted as saying that it might have been possible that the body of the fourth man was thrown from the plane and buried in the deep snow. The possibility that the fourth man might have left the plane at some time before it crashed was suggested here.

The two ground parties, including Japanese mountaineers, are led by Capt. Louis Johnson of Royalston, Mass., and Lieut. V. H. McGovern of Newark, N. J. They planned to camp last night at the timberline of the famed mountain and go the remaining distance today.

Lieut. Sansom is a graduate of Lubbock High school and Texas Tech. He studied at the State Medical School at Galveston and served at the Philadelphia General hospital, friends said here last night. He entered the Army in October of 1947, it was reported, and was serving in the Medical branch of the Air Force.

Mr. Sansom is owner of the Sansom Paint and Paper Co. stores in Lubbock.

sympathetic and understanding."

"The cat," Wendt added, "had no tangible value. We do not expect you to go to any trouble about same."

Employes Buy Cat

But the railroad was already busy. Eight employes at Fort Worth built a luxurious cage with brass hinges, special water and food receptacles and a name printed on top. The name: Cinder II.

Other employes searched for a fine black cat. For $15 they purchased one from J. H. Hefner of Fort Worth.

Today, Cinder II is enroute to Oxford. At 9 a. m. tomorrow a T&P pasenger train, bound from Alexandria, La., to Shreveport, will puff into Oxford for a long, unprecedented stop.

William Ray Hargrove, 60-year-old, red-headed engineer, who piloted the train that killed Cinder, will leap from the cab to present a new cat to Marlene.

And Cinder II, whose black face is tarnished by only one white whisker, will sport a flossy red ribbon that a busy railroad took the time to buy.

Taft Asks Cut In All U. S. Spending

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) today proposed a 10 percent cut in proposed American aid to Europe and all other federal spending.

His economy move came during the fourth day of heated Senate debate over a proposed $5,580,000,000 "second installment" in Marshall plan funds for European recovery.

With the debate still going strong tonight, Senate leaders said it would probably be Thursday or Friday before the final vote is taken.

Hopes For Vote Vanish

Majority Leader Lucas (D-Ill) had hoped to reach a vote by tonight, but the widening tenor of debate as developed by Taft and other GOP critics made that out of the question.

Taft joined Senator Russell (D-Ga.) in urging a flat 10 per cent cut in funds for European aid.

Outside the Senate chamber, Taft told newsmen he thinks there should be a cut averaging 10 per cent on all money bills before congress this year.

Other Republicans have criticized the huge outlay of U. S. dollars to Europe on the ground it is jeopardizing the American economy.

Senator Russell told reporters he thinks "a good many" Democrats will support the 10 per cent cut.

Connally Predicts Passage

But Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, still fighting for the full $5,580,000,000, declared a 10 per cent reduction would "seriously impair" Europe's recovery.

Connally conceded the Taft-Russell amendment stood to win "a good many votes," but predicted it would be defeated. He said he didn't believe there would be any coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats behind the amendment, as developed in the recent Senate filibuster battle.

Senator Cain (R-Wash.) opened up with a new onslaught against the aid program.

Cain said before voting the funds, Congress should find out whether Great Britain has decided to set up an "imperial barter system" and "cut loose economically from western Europe."

Rent Control Okayed

ating income" clause was meaningless, offered no more relief to landlords than the present law and "leaves it wide open for the expediter to make whatever rules he wishes."

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala), who helped manage the Senate bill in the joint conference sessions, acknowledged that the meaning was not spelled out but he said it was "the best we could get out of the conference."

He said the expediter would have these guideposts to help him determine what rent increases should be allowed: 1. Property tax boosts levied on the landlord, (2) unavoidable boosts in operating and maintenance expenses, (3) major capital improvements in the housing accommodations.

MAHON VOTES AGAINST BILL

WASHINGTON, March 29. (AP)—The Texas delegation in the House of Representatives was divided today in the vote by which the compromise rent control bill was passed.

Texas Democrats voting for the bill were Beckworth, Bentsen, Combs, Patman, Thomas and Thornberry. Texans voting against the measure were Burleson, Fisher, Gossett, Kilday, Lucas, Lyle, Mahon, Pickett, Poage, Regan, Teague, Thompson, Wilson and Worley.

Both Texas senators today voted in favor of a compromise 15-month extension of rent controls. Earlier the two—Tom Connally and Lyndon Johnson—both helped defeat a motion to send the bill back to a committee.

Cities May Not Act

Officials at the housing expediter's office declined to estimate what this section will mean in the way of rent increases pending further study of the new bill.

Although the new bill permits municipalities to scrap rent controls independently of state legislatures, an official of the U.S. Conference of Mayors predicted no major cities will take such action.

Paul V. Betters, executive secretary of the mayor's group said "as a matter of fact, many of the important cities if they had the necessary legal power and authority would undoubtedly strengthen present controls, especially insofar as evictions are involved."

wellhouse was blown over and demolished. Some auto windows were reported smashed by hail stones. The wind at midnight had decreased to 23 miles an hour.

Snow At Dalhart

Weather bureau reports showed Amarillo had hail with stones up to one quarter of an inch, followed by light rain. At 9:30 p.m. the temperature at Amarillo was 36 degrees. An hour earlier Dalhart reported light snow. At 9:30 p.m. hail with stones in size up to one quarter of an inch was reported at Clarendon, which also had light rain. The temperature was 48 degrees.

The temperature had dropped to 49 degrees at El Paso from a morning high of 68.

Ahead of the moderate cold front Tuesday high temperatures were mostly in the 70's and 80's. Readings at Laredo and Presidio reached 92.

The forecast indicated the cold front would reach the Dallas-Fort Worth area Wednesday morning and the coast Wednesday afternoon.

Mostly cloudy weather had prevailed in Texas Tuesday. The Weather bureau ordered small craft warnings continued on the coast from Brownsville to Lake Charles, La. There were drizzles at Lufkin and Beaumont, and there was fog at Galveston, Beaumont, and Amarillo during the day.

BOMBER'S 'PROWESS' DISPUTED

Air Force B-36 Is Economically Unsound, Navy Plane Expert Says

By CHARLES CORDDRY
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 29 — A top Navy aircraft expert said today that bombers the size of the Air Force's B-36 are economically unsound and have "questionable tactical promise."

This was the burden of a highly technical article on bomber design written for Aviation Week by Ivan H. Driggs, director of design research for the Navy's Bureau of Aeronautics.

By implication, Driggs' article disputed that the mammoth six-engine superbomber can do what the Air Force claims it can do, namely, fly 10,000 miles, drop a five-ton bombload midway and operate at altitudes and speeds which render it almost immune from fighter interception.

"General" Discussion Claimed

He was asked by the United Press whether his article and the complicated formulas used to support his claims were aimed at the B-36. He said he was discussing the problem of big bombers in general, but if "the shoe fits," the B-36 will have "to put it on." Asked if the shoe fits, Driggs said, "I think it does."

Drigg's article was written before outgoing Defense Secretary James Forrestal issued his order last week that all information on the performance and capabilities of new planes must be cleared with the Defense department's new office of public information before being published. That order, however, prevented the Air Force from commenting today on the Navy claims.

Questions Raised

Two questions were raised in aviation circles by this latest evidence of Air Force-Navy differences on offensive air measures:

1. Will the new public information setup prevent publication of scientific articles like Driggs' which point up fundamental differences between the services on air strategy? A Defense department spokesman conceded that was a tough one.

2. Will there be an impartial test to determine whether the Air Force is right in the claims it makes for the B-36, a plane on which much future strategy is being based?

Based On Design

Driggs said his conclusions were based on aircraft design laws "which neither the United States nor a potential aggressor nation can change." Other engineers are known to believe that if the B-36 can do all that is claimed for it, the Air Force and Consolidated Vultee Aircraft corporation have made significant new discoveries in aircraft design.

Driggs summed up this way:

A bomber with a 10,000 - mile range "can only be obtained with an airplane which is economically unsound and which has a low probability of success. Too long a time spent over enemy territory reduces the chance of reaching the target and returning home. Too low cruising speeds increase the liability of fighter interceptions."

By "economically unsound," Driggs apparently meant that the bomber's size and fuel consumption would be out of all proportion to its bombload.

'Fiesta '49' Scheduled To Open On Campus Of WTSTC April 9

CANYON, March 29. (Special)—"Fiesta '49" will offer a day of Mexican markets, Spanish rhythms and skits when it is originated on the campus of West Texas State Teachers college on April 9. Twenty-five high schools and colleges have accepted invitations to participate.

The Fiesta is being sponsored by the Llano Estacado chapter of Teachers of Spanish. Among the features will be an outdoor Mexican market made of vendors from attending schools, singing of Spanish popular favorites and a variety show of Latin-American numbers. Students from the attending schools will present the show.

Climax of the day will be the Queen's ball at which time a Queen to reign over the Fiesta will be chosen from among the school entries. WT folk dance students will be on hand to teach the Raspa and gay las Ciapanecas, popular Mexican dances.

Schools planning to attend are Texas Technological college, Wayland, Amarillo college, Eastern New Mexico college, University of New Mexico; high schools from Rotan, Lamesa, Brownfield and Lubbock; junior and senior highs, Plainview, Amarillo, Elizabeth Mixson Junior high, Sanborn Junior high, St. Mary's, Childress, senior and junior highs, Dalhart, Borger, Vega, Hale Center elementary schools, Dumas, W. T. High and junior high.

TO SPEAK FRIDAY NIGHT—Nicolo Russo, left, of Naples, Italy, and Hern Kerng Oh, right, of Seoul, Korea, will speak Friday night at the auditorium of Broadway Church of Christ. Both are foreign students enrolled in Abilene Christian college preparatory to returning to their native countries as missionaries. Another feature of the program will be songs by the ACC quartet. W. R. Smith, vice president of the college, will deliver the principal address. The meeting has been arranged by friends and ex-students of the school in order that members of the church may have opportunity to learn more about the spirit and purpose of Abilene Christian college. The local organization of the ACC Alumni association, with J. C. Rigney as president, is in charge of the program. The public is invited to the program, which begins at 8 o'clock.

Reburial Of Lubbock Soldier Set In Dallas

Graveside reburial services for Cpl. Wayne H. (Rusty) Johnston, former star Lubbock High school athlete who was killed in action during World War II, are to be conducted at 2 p. m. today in Dallas.

Rev. Harrison Baker, pastor of the Oak Cliff Methodist church, will officiate at the services in Laurel Land Memorial Park cemetery. Assisting will be Rev. Earl Johnston, of Calvary Baptist church, a cousin of the deceased.

Burial is to be under direction of Lamar and Smith Funeral home of Dallas.

Johnston, who moved with his family to Lubbock in 1932, was a wingback on the Westerner football team which went to the state finals in 1938. In 1936 he had lettered with the Cowhands, and in 1937 with the Westerners. He also was outstanding in track and basketball while at Lubbock High school.

He was killed in action April 15, 1945, on Okinawa, by Japanese mortar fire. He was 24 years old at the time of his death.

Johnston's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Johnston, moved from Lubbock in 1940 and now reside at Tulsa. He was a brother of Joe Bob Johnston, of 2022-B Seventeenth.

Interior Secretary Krug's Mother Dies In Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis., March 29 (INS) Mrs. Emma K. Krug, 70, mother of Secretary of the Interior Julius A. Krug, died today at her Madison home of multiple sclerosis after a long illness.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Mrs. Krug, who was born on a farm near Madison, is survived, in addition to Secretary Krug, by her husband, five daughters and a son.

Mrs. Krug's father, a farmer, retired and moved his family to Madison while Mrs. Krug was still in her teens.

She was married in 1902 to Julius J. Krug, now 71, a deputy state fire marshal.

Government Scientists Say New Findings On Atom To Aid Development Of Machines

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 29 — Government scientists have come up today with two new findings on the private life of the atom which they say will aid in the further development of certain kinds of scientific and industrial apparatus.

At the same time, they said, the new findings show that one of the most widely used mathematical constants — with applications throughout the whole world of electronics — is incorrect, and will need prompt revision.

First, by working with the "proton"— a positively charged particle which is a constituent of all kinds of atoms — they were able to set up a handly and extremely accurate mathematical yard stick for measuring and thus controlling the strength of a given magnetic field.

Can Improve Machines

Since magnetic fields are used in a wide variety of scientific and industrial apparatus — such as electromagnets, cyclotrons and certain "servomechanisms" or robot-like devices — the scientists said a more accurate means of stabilizing such fields can lead to improved use of such machines and perhaps the development of better models.

Their second finding — which is an outgrowth of the first—was the determination of a "precise absolute value" for a mathematical ratio which electronics scientists and engineers use every day of their lives.

This is the famed ratio "E-over-M" where "E" represents the charge on an electron, and "M" represents its mass or size.

A theoretical value for that ratio — the constant 1.75936—is at present the accepted one of science. And it is the basis of many calculations involving the use of electrons in everyday life. In the electronics field, it's as important as the constant "PI"—or 3.1416—is in mathematics generally.

The bureau men have come up with a new value—1.75878 — and if you think the difference is nothing to shake a stick at, take it from Dr. H. A. Thomas, one of the scientists:

"Calculations based on the previously-recommended value of E-over-M will have to be revised."

Hollywood Awaits Reaction Of Czech Boy Star Who Won 'Oscar'

HOLLYWOOD, March 29 (INS) — Hollywood still awaited the reaction today of Ivan Jandl for winning an Academy award for his heart-tugging performance as the little waif in "The Search."

The 10-year-old Czechoslovakian boy was notified by cable last Thursday night that he had won an Oscar as the best juvenile actor of 1948.

No word has been received from Prague to date.

Fred Zinneman, director of the prize winning picture who "discovered" Ivan in a Prague radio station, said that he has heard from the boy only seldom.

He expected, however, that Ivan eventually would receive both the Oscar and the Hollywood Foreign Correspondents' award. Zinneman declared that the juvenile actor had received packages of food, candy and toys which he and other persons identified with the picture had sent him.

Just as soon as Ivan's name is engraved on the base of the Oscar, the trophy will be shipped to the Communist-controlled country.

U. S. ENVOY PROTESTS ACTION

Czech Secret Court Convicts Two Americans For Espionage

By DAVID SCOTT
INS Staff Correspondent

PRAGUE, March 29—The Communist Czechoslovak government disclosed today that a secret court last Saturday sentenced two American AWOL privates to long prison terms on spy charges after holding them incommunicado nearly four months.

U. S. Ambassador Joseph E. Jacobs immediately lodged a strong protest against the treatment of Pvts. George R. Jones, 22, of Owensboro, Ky., and Clarence Hill, 31, of Jackson, Miss.

Given Long Terms

Jones, identified by the Czech official news agency as a corporal whose real name supposedly is Hunter, received a sentence of 10 years at hard labor. Hill got 12 years at hard labor.

The Czechoslovakian announcement said the two men crossed into Czechoslovakia from Germany on a "special mission with the intention of spying on Czechoslovakia" early last December and were arrested by Czech security police.

The 80 - word announcement gave no details of the charges of secret trial.

Charge Termed "Absurd"

A U. S. embassy spokesman termed the espionage charge "absurd" and said the men were absent without leave from their German unit. How or why they crossed into Czechoslovakia never has been learned.

Ambassador Jacobs in his protest expressed "serious concern" that the pair was tried secretly without regard to normal rights due persons accused of such charges.

The ambassador told International News Service that he is consulting Washington about the case and added:

"I asked for information concerning these two men some time ago and requested an opportunity to see them. I was advised they would be tried under an article of the penal code dealing with espionage and the request to see them was denied.

"Today we learned through an announcement of the Czech press agency that the men were sentenced."

Ambassador Jacobs said he did not know where the men are being held.

The embassy's only direct one-way contact with the men was receipt of a censored letter from Hill dated Jan. 15 indicating they were being held in a Pilsen prison, and asking for official help.

(A U. S. military government spokesman in Frankfurt indicated that no steps were planned by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, saying the case now is "on a State department level.")

Rare Birth Of Sextuplet Lambs Reported By Kansas Farmer

THAYER, Kan., March 29. (INS) —Sextuplet lambs were born today to a Lincoln ewe owned by Kenneth George of near Thayer.

Such a multiple birth is virtually as rare among anamals as among humans.

The first two lambs were born about 7 a. m. today. The third, fourth and fifth were born between 8 a. m. and 11 a. m. The sixth came along about noon while George was showing the ewe and her offspring to admiring neighbors.

George said the ewe was one of a lot he received yesterday from a Chillicothe, Mo., farmer.

Debate Halted Until Thursday

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 29—A House storm against Communism ran head-on today against a calm 80-year-old-gentleman from El Paso.

Rep. S. J. Isaacks of El Paso suggested that the House stop its uproar, calm down and postpone debate on a bill intended to keep Communists out of state colleges.

Rep. Sam Hanna of Dallas, author of the bill, who had shouted and yelled until he was almost purple in the face and once got so wrought up he could only sputter, finally agreed with the idea.

School Bills On Schedule

The House agreed to postpone debate until Thursday morning. Hanna had suggested taking it up again tomorrow, but a few members scurried around to point out the controversial Gilmer - Aikin bills to reorganize the public school system would be on tomorrow's calendar.

The money problem was still with the legislature. Governor Beauford H. Jester sent a special message urging laws to tighten up the automobile sales tax to provide an estimated $250,000 a year additional revenue.

The Senate set the House-approved bill setting up a citrus commission for special consideration tomorrow. It voted to recommit to a second committee a measure that would prohibit retail sale of cigarettes at the wholesale price. It adjourned abruptly in the middle of debate on a bill setting up rules for firemen and policemen civil service systems.

Tax Plan Okayed

The House approved a proposed constitutional amendment to allow committees to levy a 20-cent tax to support city-county health units. It also passed another proposed amendment which would allow county employes to hold office for more than two years if a county employes civil service law is passed.

Action on another proposed amendment to take the ad valorem tax off automobiles except those operated for hire was postponed until April 7.

The House plunged into anti-Communism oratory suddenly. Hanna got unanimous consent to introduce the bill. The Education committee met immediately on the floor and approved it. Within 15 minutes the House gave unanimous consent to bring it up for debate.

Hanna and Rep. Preston Smith of Lubbock were authors of a resolution to kick Communists out of state colleges. It passed both the House and Senate last week.

Floydada Stock Show Set Today

FLOYDADA, March 29 (Special)—Plans were completed early this week for the Floyd County Junior Fat Stock show, which is scheduled here Wednesday, show officials said today.

Officials said this afternoon that between 125 and 150 entries are expected, and that possibly as many as 75 animals might be sold at auction here Wednesday afternoon.

The show, which is open to exhibitors who are regularly employed in 4-H or FFA work and who are residents of or students in Floyd county schools, is under sponsorship of Floydada Chamber of Commerce and the Floyd county Board of Development. In addition, exhibitors must be nine years of age or older at the time of the show.

Certification Required

Bob Crowell, manager of the show, said today that all entries must be certified as property of the exhibitor, who must also testify that the animal has been under his supervision and care for at least 60 days preceding the show. Each exhibitor is limited to two entries in each class, and all entries are required to be in place by 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

In the fat calf division of the show, the following classes are to be included: Light and heavy weights, milk fed and dry lots of both weights, grand and reserve champions, and best group of three by one boy, either milk fed or dry lot.

Seven Divisions Set Up

Fat lambs, breeding ewes, best group of five, and grand champion are included in the sheep division.

In the swine division, there are seven classes, among them fat pigs 170 to 240 pounds; pigs 240 pounds and over, grand champion, best pen of three, breeding gilts, sows that have farrowed, and grand champion female.

Other prizes are to be offered for several classes in the dairy division, best Jersey, Holstein, and shorthorn milkers. Other prizes will be awarded for boys' showmanship and condition of animals.

The show is to get underway at 8:30 a. m. Wednesday and is to be concluded before the auction sale, planned for 3 p. m. Animals

Texas Measure Designed To Aid In Contested Elections

Secret Ballot Plan Approved

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 29 — A bill designed to provide a more secret ballot for Texas elections won approval today by the Senate's State Affairs committee.

Proponents beat down attempts both at amending the bill and sending it to a subcommittee for further study.

Representatives of numerous Texas women's organizations, the Republican state chairman and others appeared in behalf of the bill. No one appeared against it.

Texas' Own Plan

By Senator Keith Kelly of Fort Worth, the bill would require that all ballots be numbered in the upper left hand corner, with a corresponding number in the right hand corner. The voter would detach and keep for 60 days the number in the right hand corner for identification in the event of an election contest. There would be no other record made regarding the identity of the ballot.

Kelly told the committee that Texans for more than eight years have been demanding "in very increasing numbers" that they be given a secret ballot. The proposed system, he said, would be Texas' own plan, incorporating the best features of plans now operating in numerous other states.

Committee member James Taylor of Kerens argued that voters could destroy their stubs in the event of an election contest or might accidentally lose them. His motion to require the ballot number to be written on the back of the poll tax receipt lost.

Daniel Backs Plan

Attorney General Price Daniel told the committee that no system is likely to perfectly provide both for secrecy and for contests. He said this proposal seemed to offer the best possibilities.

Henry Zweifel of Fort Worth, Republican state chairman, said the bill would remove intimidation now possible under present law. Votes can now be influenced, he said, by threat of a check on how a person votes.

Representatives of the League of Women Voters, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, State Council of Church Women, Texas Council of Jewish Women and others urged favorable action.

A companion bill is now pending on the House calendar.

APPEAL MADE TO RESIDENTS

Lubbock Palsy Center To Share In Easter Seal Sale Proceeds

Part of the proceeds received by Lubbock Society for Crippled Children in the sale of Easter seals will be given to Lubbock Cerebral Palsy Treatment center, according to announcement Tuesday afternoon.

Letters were mailed Tuesday to Lubbock county residents, stating, "There are over seven hundred children in this area afflicted with cerebral palsy as well as hundreds of other children who need your help. You are being given the opportunity through the purchase of Easter seals to help these children to a more normal way of life."

Of the total raised, 75 per cent will remain in Lubbock county and 25 per cent will be sent to the Texas Society for Crippled Children.

Of the 75 per cent remaining in the county, half will be given to the Cerebral Palsy Treatment center, which is conducting a drive to raise money to construct a building for the center.

The Easter seal shows a girl on crutches and bears the appeal, "Help Crippled Children." Price of a block of seals, such as that enclosed with letters, normally is $1. Residents have been asked to send as much as possible to the treasurer, Lubbock Crippled Children's council, Drawer 1121, Lubbock.

The drive will continue until Easter, April 17.

The Crippled Children's society does not restrict its work to children suffering a particular type of handicap, but helps those suffering bone defects, brain injury and various other types of defects.

Assistance Given Children

Direct financial assistance has been given to 40 children in the last year. Aid ranged from purchasing braces and special appliances to providing clinical and hospital care for children who could not afford it, said J. J.

LOCAL GROUP HOLDS MEETING

Savings Bond Campaign Plans For Lubbock County Mapped

A group of business and professional men assembled for breakfast in the Hilton hotel Tuesday morning to organize the annual savings bond drive for Lubbock county under the leadership of C. H. Hamilton, general chairman.

Gayle Rhyne, representative of the savings bond division of the Treasury department, told the division chairmen of the drive organization of some of the goals that the Treasury department hopes to reach.

Hedge Against Depression

"Residents of Lubbock county are now holding more than $18,000,000 in savings bonds," Rhyne said. "The largest part of these holdings is the "E" type which indicated a wide dispersal of the holdings and creates an excellent hedge against depression."

The official kick-off for the state of Texas will take place in Houston on April 19 and the actual drive for bond sales will start on May 15, Rhyne stated.

The Treasury representative pointed out that the advantages of purchasing savings bonds were multiple. He said they encouraged thrift, especially among students; helped spread the load of the national debt; served as a means of combatting inflation by taking excess income out of the buyers' market; acted as a stabilizing influence on the nation's economy and helped to form a barrier against recessions and depression.

Hamilton is assisted in organizing the Lubbock county campaign by Earl Kerr, vice-chairman and coordinator; D. W. Sherrill, county agent and Walter Wells, AAA, agriculture division; Ishmael Hill, public schools; Asher Thompson, community activities; P. L. Vardy, jr., Slaton, who direct the efforts of that area; W. E. Hines, banking and investments; Clyde Smith, publicity and advertising; Waggoner Carr, county attorney, professional division; Cecil Cale, payroll savings; Mrs. Betty Milford, vice-chairman for women's organizations; and, Frank Junell, college division.

Total Of $21,695 Is Raised By Red Cross

A total of $21,695.91 raised in the annual fund drive of the Lubbock county chapter of the Red Cross has been turned in to Red Cross headquarters, it was announced Tuesday afternoon.

The goal is $26,000 and officials are hopeful that goal will be reached when all workers have completed solicitation and turned in reports.

Homer Hensley, chairman of the fund drive, urged that workers submit reports as early as possible so standing can be determined.

Women who canvassed the residential areas had a goal of $3,500 and have raised $3,300 and expect to go beyond their goal.

Two representatives of the Red Cross took clothing given by Lubbock residents to Desdemona last weekend, in answer to an appeal for aid. Those going were Ernest F. St. Clair, chapter chairman, and Dick Jackson, disaster chairman of the chapter, who studied some of the disaster problems so he might be prepared in event of disaster in Lubbock.

SERVICES SET TODAY

HOUSTON, March 29 (AP)—Funeral services will be held here Wednesday for Dr. Paul W. Quillian, 53, pastor of Houston's First Methodist church. Dr. Quillian died of a heart attack late Monday as he prepared to play golf at River Oaks Country club.

Motorists Rush To Buy Licenses

Motorists belatedly were attempting to "make up for lost time" Tuesday at automobile registration places here.

Slightly more than 20,000 motor vehicle receipts had been issued, tax officials said.

The public has until Friday midnight to buy plates, which must be on operated vehicles Saturday morning.

Sub-Stations Set Up

They may purchase them at the county tax office, on the main floor of the courthouse. Or they may buy passenger plates at any of five sub-stations here.

Totals through Tuesday afternoon were: Passenger plates, 15,689; farm pickups, 1,300; scooters, 25; commercials, 2,783; trailers, including house and commercial, 300.

As of April 1, 1948, total registrations stood at 23,713. But continuous purchase of 1948 tags since has run the total to more than 35,000, J. B. Johnston, county tax assessor-collector, said.

Stations Listed

Only passenger cars are registered at the sub-stations, but those who find the lines too long and tedious at the courthouse may be accommodated with dispatch at one of the following places set up as a convenience to the motorist in the waning days of the registration drive:

Thomas - Davis Cadillac company, Main at Ave. Q; J. D. Hufstedler Truck company, 1941 Texas Ave.; Massey Motor company, 102 Broadway; Carl Nail hardware, 301 College Ave.; and Daniel Furniture company, 1617 College.

Plans For Jackson Day Fete Discussed

Tentative arrangements for a Jackson Day barbecue for Democrats of West Texas were discussed here Tuesday with Meade F. Griffin of Plainview, who with Arch S. Underwood of Lubbock, had been co-chairman of arrangements for the affair.

Griffin, who was recently named to the Texas Supreme court, resigned his co-chairmanship at the meeting, but arrangements for the program continued.

Plans for the rally will be announced within a few days as soon as confirmation of a speaker can be secured.

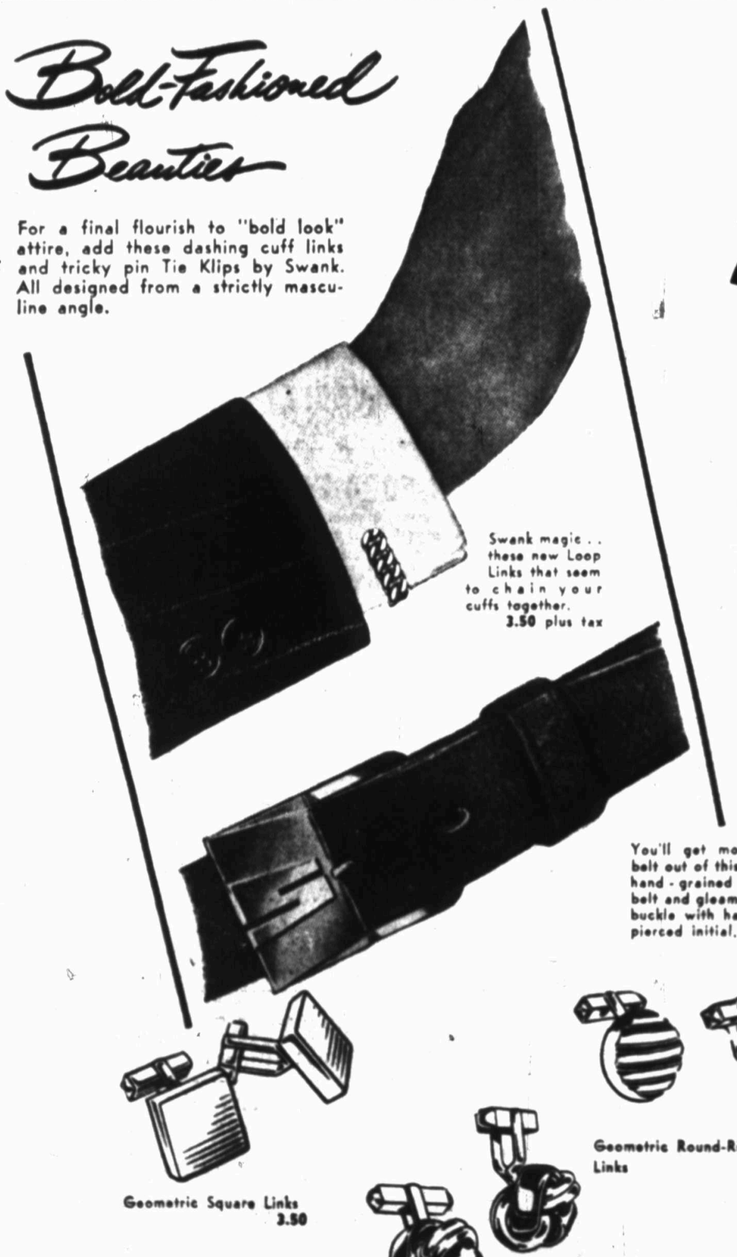

Those attending the meeting included: Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview, committeewoman from this district; C. T. McLaughlin of Snyder and Truett Smith of Tahoka.

COMMUNISTS ORDERED TO GO UNDERGROUND

Witness Claims U. S. Reds Were Told To Engage In Civil War If Nation Joined Recent Conflict

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP) — A government witness at the Communist conspiracy trial testified today the U.S. Communist party was told to go underground and engage in civil war if this country joined Great Britain in the recent war.

The instructions were issued at a secret Chicago meeting of party leaders after Russia and Germany signed their 1939 pact, the witness said.

Louis F. Budenz, the witness, said the directions came from Eugene Dennis, general secretary of the party and a defendant in the trial.

Dennis said going underground would involve splitting the party into basic units which would not have contact with one another and destruction of all "incriminating" party records, the witness said.

The government introduced evidence to show that the U.S. Communist party centered its postwar recruiting efforts among labor union members and veterans.

U.S. Attorney John F. X. McGohey read to the jury a report by John B. Williamson, a defendant, which said the party should seek to influence all "mass organizations."

The report said industrial workers should compromise more than half of the party's membership in California, eastern Pennsylvania and New York, and 75 per cent in Michigan, Illinois and Ohio.

The report was made to the national convention of the Communist party in July, 1945, the prosecutor said.

Budenz covered the parley for the Daily Worker, Communist newspaper of which he once was managing editor. In October, 1945, he left the party; he now teaches economics at Fordham university.

U. S. Daily Average For Crude Oil Production Falls 12,100 Barrels

TULSA, Okla., March 29. (AP)—United States crude oil production during the week ended March 26 averaged 5,119,700 barrels daily, 12,100 barrels under the daily average for the previous week, the Oil & Gas Journal reported today.

A 5,400 barrel per day loss in Kansas production, which averaged 297,600 barrels, led the decline.

Other major decreases were reported in the eastern area, down 1,450 barrels to 60,000 barrels; and Mississippi down 3,300 to 103,900.

Louisiana fell 450 to 489,225.

California had the largest gain, 800 barrels to 951,000 barrels.

New Yorkers Object To New Street Lights On Ritzy Park Avenue

By LEO TURNER
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, March 29—Worry, worry, worry.

The Municipal Art society said the city's new lamp posts were making Park avenue go to the dogs.

Stephan J. Carney, commissioner of water, gas and electricity, told the Art society today to go climb a lamp post.

Park avenue is that part of Manhattan which folks in the sticks see in the movies and think New York is an elegant place. Much of the remainder of the city is a poor imitation of many things, including Park avenue itself and Cooweescoowee street in Oolagah, Okla.

"Swank" Sector

From 47th street to 96th, Park avenue has more swank per block than any similar area in these United States.

Through this ritzy area it is divided by a grassy mall into two wide lanes of traffic frequently used for hectic taxicab races between newspaper reporters and celebrities.

It was along this landscape mall last August that the city began erecting aluminum lamp posts with right angle arms and 585-watt lights to cut down the traffic accidents which numbered 121 in 11 months with six persons dead and 132 injured.

The Art society took a dim view of the lights, which now reach from 45th to 69th street.

Society Asks Changes

"Take them out," the society said.

The lamp posts have "broken up the giant sweep of the vistas on what was our most beautiful avenue," said Francis Keally, president of the society, in a letter to Mayor William O'Dwyer.

"The finest avenue in New York has been made to look like a railroad yard," said Wheeler Williams, a sculptor.

They want lamp posts along each side of the street instead of the middle.

Nothing doing, Commissioner Carney said today.

Commissioner Stands Pat

First, the people on Park avenue like the lights in the middle, he said. Second, the Municipal Art commission, which decides artistic matters for the city, likes them. Third, it would take 50 per cent more posts to put the lights on the sidewalks.

Besides, the trees would require such tall lamp posts that the lights would shine into the eyes of people in third floor apartments, Carney said, and they stay up late enough as it is.

Then the street would go to the dogs.

Such as the white French poodle that stood at 60th street today and looked scornfully at the dirty street separating it from the lamp post in the middle. A liveried chauffeur opened the door of a black limousine and the poodle stepped in.

Birmingham, Ala., has 452 churches.

LIBERTY, Tex., March 29 (U.P) The first step toward construction of the Trinity canal will be taken April 14 when bids are opened on dredging work, it was announced here today.

Dean Tevis, manager of the forward Trinity Valley association, said the U. S. engineers would open bids in Galveston for dredging the lower section of the Trinity channel from Galveston bay to the mouth of Double Bayou.

Actual construction will start in Mid-May, it was estimated. Cost of construction to Double Bayou is $750,000, and Congress is being asked to appropriate another $1,000,000 to continue lengthening of the channel.

PROPOSED BONUS KILLED

TOPEKA, Kan., March 29 (INS)—Kansas' Senate killed today a proposed one hundred million dollar bonus for World War II veterans. A roll call vote defeated the bill, 21 to 13. The measure would have placed the proposal before Kansas voters in the 1950 general election.

Commission Recommends Clearer Policy On VA's Medical Service

BY SIGRID ARNE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 29 — Congress has received a recommendation that it clear up the business of using tax money to pay the hospital and medical bills of veterans who are sick for reasons other than from military service and who can well afford to pay their own bills. The recommendation comes from the Hoover commission.

The commission's survey found that 24,000,000 persons now can get at least partial medical care at the expense of the taxpayer. The survey included the hospitals of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Veterans administration, the Public Health Service, the Bureau of Prisons and the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

Here are some of the reasons the commission thinks that the federal health services could tighten up:

1. Several federal agencies now have a building program in the New York area alone which would cost about $100,000,000. The commission says that four Army and Air Force hospitals could be closed in the area. The cost of medical officers could be cut 80 percent.

4,200 Patients Found

2. In the San Francisco area the commission found only 4,200 patients in 13 federal hospitals with enough beds for 9,200. The commission thinks seven of the hospitals should be closed.

3. In Honolulu the commission says the Army has just built a $37,000,000 hospital which was not needed. The commission says the Navy already has a hospital there big enough to care for Army people.

4. The Veterans' Administration (VA) now has a hospital building program that would cost $1,100,000,000.

5. The commission found that the 900,000 dependents of military personnel who get free medical care do so because of a vague law written 60 years ago. It says medical officers can give free care to families of military men "whenever practicable." There is also legal permission for VA to give free care to veterans who get sick for some reason not related to military service — if beds are "available." The commission says the Veterans Administration has installed 100,000 beds "which serve no purpose except to make beds available for non-service connected cases."

The Veterans' Administration points out that Congress passed a law giving veterans this free care providing he signs an oath that he can't afford to pay his own bills. But VA officers acknowledge there is no check on these statements and that men well able to pay for their own illnesses are no doubt getting free care.

Suggestions Listed

Here are some of the suggestions the commission makes.

1. Patients should be shifted to bigger hospitals where they could get better care, and many of the small hospitals should be closed. 2. Too much of the military medical set-up is now being used by civilians, the commission says. 3. The commission thinks the military hospitals should shift their chronic cases to veterans' hospitals. They also think a good many of the patients could shorten their stay in the military hospitals. 4. Federal agencies, the commission says, should find out what federal hospital beds are available in an area before they plan any new hospital.

Right now there is no clear path through Congress for the sort of house-cleaning suggested by this part of the Hoover Commission's report. Congressional veterans point out that various committees handle legislation for various parts of this program.

One expert thinks the only hope lies in the last Reorganization bill, which demands that Congress find out what it has on hand to spend before it votes more spending.

Another expert points out that various districts would raise a hue and cry if any hospitals in their areas were closed.

Wayland College Head Speaks At Louisiana State University

BATON ROUGE, La., March 29. (AP)—The world needs "professional people with the religious philosophy," President J. W. Marshall of Wayland college, Plainview, Texas, told Louisiana State university students today.

Dr. Marshall's speech was part of a religious emphasis week program. He suggested that "if every industrial representative sent overseas by our commercial firms were carefully screened for character and fine ideals, we could at the same time make friends for America and for God."

Communist Activities Swing French Voters Toward Right

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The elections just held in France followed closely predictions that were being made last fall that Communist activities would drive more and more people to the right at the expense of the Socialists as well as the Communists.

One veteran Socialist leader told me then the party was being torn between the two extremes, and that if general elections were held great numbers would decamp to De Gaulle.

Red Strategy Fails

That is what has happened in the cantonal elections, where the De Gaullists have gained 223 offices. Other rightists and independents gained 86, while the Socialists lost 150 and the Communists 147.

There was no voting in Paris, which holds a large proportion of the total Communist vote. But this detracts little from the effect of the Communist defeat. They campaigned against the Atlantic pact, the Marshall plan, and promised to support the Russian army if it invaded France. That was too much for the French people.

The Socialists and the parties which generally support the "third force" of the French government now have 1,081 of the local council seats, the De Gaullists 387 and the Communists 37.

There is no indication, however, Gaullists have traded positions in the relative ranking, while the pro-government coalition remains in control, but with the proponents of a more strongly centralized government coming up fast.

Theer is no indication, however, that the De Gaullists are anywhere near a return to power.

WAA Negotiations To Dispose Of Texas Ship Yard Near Completion

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—A War Assets administration official expressed belief today that negotiations soon will be completed for disposal of the Orange, Tex., Naval ship yards to the Consolidated Steel corporation.

The official, who asked that his name not be used, said the company is expected to submit a bid before April 1 to the agency's regional office at Grand Prairie, near Dallas.

Referring to conferences that have been conducted over a period of many months, he said:

"We have been negotiating with Consolidated steel to take everything, and we think there has been a meeting of minds."

The agency owns the buildings involved in the negotiations. They are on land owned by the steel corporation.

Man Goes On Trial In Slaying Of Service Station Operator

STEPHENVILLE, March 29 (AP)—A jury was selected at 3 p. m. today in the murder trial of Robert C. Bagwill, 17, charged with killing Crocket C. Ross, Stephenville filling station operator.

The 12th juror, Weldon Williams, a farmer from Morgan Mill, was selected after disqualifications and rejections by state and defense attorneys had left only five names on the 175 man venire list.

Brief Bits Of Local News

Miss Dorothy Marilyn Neeley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Floyd Neeley, 3306 Thirty-third, has been elected a dormitory floor chairman at Texas State College for Women, Denton. Her duties in this office include counseling and planning social activities.

Miss Billie Williams, of 1509 Fifteenth, is convalescing in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams of Post, following major surgery at West Texas hospital recently.

A committee of members of the Lubbock restaurant operators was appointed to work with the City Health department and the City commission in all health matters at a meeting of the operators Monday afternoon at Kattmann's, 1801 Nineteenth. Alton Taylor, Ernie Self, and Grady Hill were named members of the committee. They will confer with city commissioners regarding the drawing of a new proposed health ordinance.

Don Bomar, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Bomar of 3213 Twentieth, has returned to his home from Scottish Rite hospital in Dallas, where he had been treated for polio for the past three months.

Central station firemen reported they answered an alarm about 4 a. m. Tuesday from Stanton Milling company, 1501 Fourth, after fire had broken out where ground alfalfa was stored in the southwest corner of the plant. Approximtely 100 sacks of the feed burned, they said. The fire department several hours earlier had sent equipment to the scene, after a nail was believed to have accidentally fed into hammer mills and set off sparks that started one batch of feed to smoldering.

Bibles for the classrooms of J. T. Hutchinson Junior High school will be presented by the Lubbock camp of Gideons International at a special assembly program in the school auditorium at 8:55 a. m. Thursday, it was announced Tuesday. The presentation is to be made by Earl Burnett, secretary of the local organization.

Communist Activities Swing French Voters Toward Right

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The elections just held in France followed closely predictions that were being made last fall that Communist activities would drive more and more people to the right at the expense of the Socialists as well as the Communists.

One veteran Socialist leader told me then the party was being torn between the two extremes, and that if general elections were held great numbers would decamp to De Gaulle.

Red Strategy Fails

That is what has happened in the cantonal elections, where the De Gaullists have gained 223 offices. Other rightists and independents gained 86, while the Socialists lost 150 and the Communists 147.

There was no voting in Paris, which holds a large proportion of the total Communist vote. But this detracts little from the effect of the Communist defeat. They campaigned against the Atlantic pact, the Marshall plan, and promised to support the Russian army if it invaded France. That was too much for the French people.

The Socialists and the parties which generally support the "third force" of the French government now have 1,081 of the local council seats, the De Gaullists 387 and the Communists 37.

There is no indication, however, Gaullists have traded positions in the relative ranking, while the pro-government coalition remains in control, but with the proponents of a more strongly centralized government coming up fast.

Theer is no indication, however, that the De Gaullists are anywhere near a return to power.

WAA Negotiations To Dispose Of Texas Ship Yard Near Completion

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—A War Assets administration official expressed belief today that negotiations soon will be completed for disposal of the Orange, Tex., Naval ship yards to the Consolidated Steel corporation.

The official, who asked that his name not be used, said the company is expected to submit a bid before April 1 to the agency's regional office at Grand Prairie, near Dallas.

Referring to conferences that have been conducted over a period of many months, he said:

"We have been negotiating with Consolidated steel to take everything, and we think there has been a meeting of minds."

Man Goes On Trial In Slaying Of Service Station Operator

STEPHENVILLE, March 29 (AP)—A jury was selected at 3 p. m. today in the murder trial of Robert C. Bagwill, 17, charged with killing Crocket C. Ross, Stephenville filling station operator.

NEW 'MIRACLES' ARE DESCRIBED

Scientist Reveals Soundwaves May Clear Air Of Smoke, Dust

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29. (INS)—Inaudible soundwaves that clear the air of smoke and dust, a strange complex that causes high blood pressure, an electron gun to sterilize food—

These were some of the miracles of modern science described today at the 115th annual meeting of the American Chemical society in San Francisco.

As the convention of 5,000 scientists from at home and abroad went into its second day the chemists broke into forums and discussion groups related to their special fields.

Sound Waves Explained

At one of these sessions, Dr. Hillary St. Clair of College Park, Md., told of sound waves powerful enough to float lead shot.

Dr. St. Clair, a member of the U. S. Bureau of Mines eastern experiment station at College Park, said such high frequency waves cause tiny smoke and dust particles in the air to assemble in thin wafers too heavy to remain suspended in the atmosphere.

The scientist declared that the phenomena he describes as "sonic agglomeration" may be effective in clearing polluted air over industrial centers.

In another session Dr. Henry A. Schroeder of the Washington University school of medicine in St. Louis reported an elusive chemical compound has been found which may be the cause of high blood pressure.

He declared that the still unidentified substance has been found in patients suffering from high blood pressure and that if more about it can be learned, the way may be opened to a cure for the disease which afflicts hundreds of thousands of persons.

A three-million volt electron gun which sterilizes food with a bombardment of invisible bullets was described in still another forum.

The report was the work of Dr. Kurt G. Stern of the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn and Dr. Arno Brasch and Dr. Wolfgang Huber of the Electronized Chemicals corporation in New York.

The machine, known as the capacitron, delivers an electron blast which lasts only a thousandth of second. During that time it sterilizes foods, even those in cans, without altering their taste, odor and appearance.

A number of other papers on the safe handling of deadly insecticides in the fields and DDT in food centers and industrial kitchens were also read.

House Delays Action

general's office didn't believe they could depend on that resolution in the courts," Hanna said. "This bill is a compilation of everything that's been declared constitutional."

His bill would require teachers, students and employes to sign an affidavit of loyalty and also swear they did not work for subversive organizations. It does not mention Communism by name.

Rep. Jim Sparks of Sherman declared: "They could kick 'em out now if they had the guts. Why doesn't the attorney general get busy and kick 'em out?"

Rep. Raymond Tatum of Huntington demanded how the bill got on the floor anyway.

Then Isaacks took the floor.

"I yield to no man on my loyalty to my country," Isaacks said. "I detest Communism. But I don't want this house to take up something as important as this without due consideration."

The Senate voted to take up for special consideration on April 5 a bill by Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe to permit cooperative development of oil fields. A proposed constitutional amendment by Senator Fred Harris of Dallas to permit women to serve on juries will be taken up April 1.

Tickets On Sale For Tech Varsity Show

Tickets are on sale for "Milestones in Melody," annual Texas Tech Varsity show which will be presented for three nights beginning Monday in the Lubbock Senior High school auditorium.

Bill Reid of Goodnight who is business manager of the show said tickets could be purchased in the lobby of both the Lubbock and Hilton hotels; in Dunlaps department store and in Hemphill-Wells department store. They are also on sale in all of the main buildings on the Tech campus. Admission prices are $1.50 for adults and $1 for children and students.

Dress Rehearsal Set Friday

The show itself has reached its last week of rehearsals. According to Bill Parsley, director of the show, dress rehearsals will begin Friday. There will be a final session Sunday afternoon. Parsley said the cast was enthusiastic and everyone was working hard to make the show a success.

"Milestones in Melody" was written by Ruth Cook, a senior home economics major from Orchard. It follows no particular plot and the action takes place in three "exposes" or scenes. Scene one features two Tech students on vacation in New York City. They stop at Madam Toujour's Date Bureau and get dates and become involved with a host of beautiful women.

'Dream' Sequence Ends Show

Scene two switches back to a building on the Tech campus, and a sentimental old janitor who likes to recall the "good old days." Through a series of day dreams the audience is brought from 1925 when he first came to Tech down to the present. Many favorite songs and dances of the days of the "sheiks and flappers" are featured in this scene.

The third and final scene is a dream sequence in which a Tech student finds himself the judge of a beauty contest. Through the aid of his trusty friend, an impish sandman, he gets the job done after a few minor difficulties.

Recluse Sisters Lodged In Jail

PAOLA, Kan., March 29 (U.P.)—Two aged sisters, emaciated from hunger, were lodged in the Miami county jail today as officials revealed how their brother died, apparently of starvation, in a house of plenty.

Sheriff Kenneth Cook found the sisters, Mattie and Mandy Stachling, helpless in their beds when he smashed the door of their refuse-cluttered home late yesterday.

In the next bedroom was the body of their brother, Albert. Coroner William Brown said Albert died about two weeks ago, apparently from lack of food.

Letter Reveals Death

Mattie was 63, Mandy 65 and Albert 70, officials said.

There was plenty of food in the house, the sheriff said, but the sisters were too weak to reach it. They refused to eat when taken into custody but wouldn't tell why.

Officials discovered the bizarre situation through a letter written to Roy Wilson, local undertaker. The crudely written letter, received March 17, asked Wilson to come to the home.

When Wilson went to the old Stachling home, two miles southwest of here, the sisters met him at the door.

Help Refused

"No," the undertaker said they told him, "Albert isn't dead any more and we don't want a doctor."

Wilson returned to town. But the matter preyed on his mind and yesterday he asked Sheriff Cook to investigate. Cook, Brown and an undersheriff approached the house carefully because neighbors said the Stachlings had threatened to shoot trespassers.

No one answered the sheriff's knock. He and the others had to break down three doors to enter. They found the house cluttered with antiques, junk, old papers, tin cans and refuse piled halfway to the ceiling.

Bedroom Door Is Locked

Narrow lanes wound through the mass of rubbish. Papers found in the jumbled piles indicated the sisters owned a considerable number of valuable bonds.

By following the corridors, the party found Mattie and Mandy locked in one bedroom. Too weak to move, they mumbled: "Albert . . . no more."

Across the hall, the sheriff found Albert.

The sisters were lodged at the jail because they had no other place to go. The sheriff said another sister, Mrs. Bertha Whitehorn, was a prominent lawyer in Pasco, Wash.

State Department Announces Transfer Of Consul In Mexico

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP) — State department officials said today that Henry Krausse, American consul of Reynosa, Mexico, soon will be transferred to Merida, Mexico.

The move will be made in the next few weeks, said Paul J. Reveley, chief of the Mexican Affairs division. He said that the transfer is a promotion for Krausse.

Born in Brownsville, Tex., in 1896, Krausse attended public school there and then obtained a law degree. In 1917 he became an inspector for the Public Health service, then joined the State department and was assigned to duty in Matamorros, Mexico.

Since 1946 he has been consul at Reynosa. Previously he had served tours of duty in San Luis Potosi, Satillo and Nuevo Laredo, Mexico.

Several members of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce were to leave today for Galveston and the annual state Jaycee convention starting Thursday and lasting through Saturday.

One of the highlights of the meeting will be the presentation of awards at a dinner Saturday night to various clubs from over the state for those club's various projects during the year.

The Lubbock club has entered in 13 different divisions of community work and local officials hope to walk away with several of the trophies.

Those planning to attend the meeting include Horace Gearhart, president of the Lubbock club; Rufus Rush, T. A. Milam, Harold Chapman, Arvol Hays, Russell Wilkinson, Barney Stagner, Bob Blake, Asher Thompson and Roland Simpson.

Daniel Says Texas Not Seeking Compromise In Tidelands Issue

AUSTIN, March 29 (AP)—Attorney General Price Daniel said today he had received no offers of compromise on the tidelands fight and that he was seeking none "insofar as the land within Texas' original boundaries is concerned."

Daniel leaves for Washington April 2 to complete his brief and oral argument in the first round of the tidelands suit pending in the U. S. Supreme court. It is set tentatively for April 18.

Daniel also will confer with attorneys general of other states on congressional hearings of pending legislation to confirm state ownership of submerged lands.

Editorial Asks Compromise

The attorney general said he had read an editorial in Sunday's Fort Worth Star-Telegram suggesting that Texas officials "put on their trading clothes and make a deal that in the long run might prove more profitable to Texas."

The editorial suggested that Texas might profit by giving up a share of the revenues within its original gulfward boundaries (10½ miles) to the federal government for an equal share in the much larger continental shelf lying beyond 10½ miles.

Commenting on this Daniel said, "I am sure the writer was sincere in what he believes best for Texas, but under my convictions and sworn duty to defend the property of our state, I cannot change my fighting clothes for trading clothes unless directed to do so by the Texas legislature.

The attorney general said any compromise offer should give special consideration to Texas' annexation agreement whereby the state retained its lands and minerals within its original boundaries.

As to lands on the continental shelf outside the original boundaries, Daniel agreed that here there was plenty of room for compromise. Daniel conceded that the state's extension of seaward boundaries to cover the whole shelf in 1947 was valid only if approved by Congress. Also, he said the Star-Telegram editorial was probably correct in estimating that greater oil reserves lie beneath these extended boundaries than within the 10½ mile limit.

Ex-Texas Solon Calls Truth Best Weapon Against Communism

HOUSTON, March 29 (AP) — Truth is the most effective weapon against Communism, believes former Congressman Martin Dies.

"While Communists work tirelessly with the zeal of early Christians, most of us are absorbed in making money and chasing pleasure," Dies said yesterday in an address before the Houston Lions club.

"Since Communism is an idea—a diabolical idea—it cannot be exploded by shells," he said. "It must be combatted with truth."

He continued, England has been trying to fight Communism with "the Communist weapons of Socialism; America with a lukewarm and ineffective mixture of Socialism and Capitalism."

Dies said the educational system has failed to teach the "simple truths of Americanism" and business leaders have failed to furnish leadership necessary to the preservation of the Capitalistic system.

Solons Seek Way To Control 'Panhandlers' Soliciting For Charity

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 29. — Something should be done about panhandlers who solicit money for poor orphan children and then spend it on their own poor, sorry selves.

This the House committee on state affairs agreed on last night.

But they wanted to be sure that in running the panhandlers out of town they didn't interfere with the good church workers, the fraternal orders and civic clubs from soliciting for good, reputable orphanages.

"We want to do something about this," committee Chairman Pearce Johnson of Austin, said to about 20 child welfare workers here for a hearing, "but we want to get some of the bugs from the bill."

The committee sent the bill rounding up all laws concerning child welfare homes and institutions back to a subcommittee for one week.

The bill, by Rep. William Swindell of Commerce, provides that all orphanages, child care homes and similar places be licensed before public funds can be solicited.

"I just want to be sure that all commercial care homes must be licensed," said Mrs. Lou Era Longan, Dallas social worker. "You may think that if the parents are satisfied that is sufficient. But the parents haven't seen bugs crawling over their children as I have."

Restrictions Feared

Hal P. Buckner of Buckner's Orphans' home in Dallas, was worried about restrictions on soliciting.

Rep. Lloyd G. Rust of Wharton wanted to be sure the bill didn't run the small nursery schools out of business.

"I know a woman in my town who has one," he said. "If she quits, the mothers can't go to the grocery store in the morning; they'll have to stay home with their children."

"Might be a good thing," someone murmured.

Actor Hopes To Build 'Wall Of Privacy'

Mitchum Declares Jail Term Was Happiest Period Of Life

HOLLYWOOD, March 29 (INS)—Robert Mitchum prepared today to leave jail and the "happiest" period of his life to go back to his $3,500-a-week movie job.

The actor's 60-day sentence on marijuana charges, with 10 days off for good behavior, is up Wednesday morning.

Mitchum, busy wielding a mop and pail for the last time in the corridors of the Los Angeles county jail, said that the 50 days he spent behind bars were the "happiest" in his 32 years. The actor declared:

Free From Worry

"For the first time in my life I was free from worry. No one envies my being here. And nobody else wants the steel bars or the bowl of pudding they shove at me through the slots.

"Nobody wants anything from me here. I have privacy."

Mitchum said that while he was doing menial tasks about the jail and making and hauling cement blocks for a period at the sheriff's honor farm, he evolved on a philosophy of life. The sardonic film actor said that he will attempt to build a "wall of privacy" around his personal life in the future.

He declared that he was "through with parties" and that he intended to mingle with only a few intimates outside of his immediate family. He insisted:

"Most of my jailmates could be trusted while just about everybody in Hollywood is demanding something . . . there's no element of profit or loss in jail. I've had privacy. I'm going to get more of it when I go home."

The actor said that as soon as he leaves jail he will get a haircut, visit with his family and then "loll in a bathtub for hours."

Mitchum reports back to the RKO-Radio studio next week to finish the picture, "The Big Steal," interrupted early last month when he was sentenced on the charge of conspiracy to possess marijuana.

Leaving jail also is Mitchum's co-defendant, blonde starlet Lila Leeds. The Hollywood glamour girl served 50 days in the women's section of the lockup, polishing pots and pans from morning until night.

Lila said that she too was going to lead a quiet life when she leaves jail in the morning. She declared:

"I'm going to stay home nights with my mother for at least two years. I have a job to go to, but I told my attorney I would keep it a secret until tomorrow."

Air Force Official Announces Transfer Of Training Schools

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—The movement of two Air Force technical training schools was announced today by General Hoyt S. Vandenberg, chief of staff.

The Airplane and Engine Mechanical school, now at Keesler field, Biloxi, Miss., will be moved to Sheppard field, Wichita Falls. The first class at Sheppard will begin in May.

The fixed wire part of the Communications school now at Scott field, Belleville, Ill., will be moved to Fort Francis E. Warren, Cheyenne, Wyo.

The transfer will allow an expansion of the radar training program also being conducted at Keesler field.

Students will not be transferred from Keesler. The school will be closed as courses are completed.

The indoctrination training program now on at Sheppard field will be discontinued as present classes are finished. Mechanic classes there are expected to reach a peak of 1,242 new students monthly by November.

Father Of Woman Held On Spy Charges Claimed In Brooklyn

NEW YORK, March 29. (U.P.)—Samuel M. Coplon, 69, father of spy suspect Judith Coplon, died today at his Brooklyn home.

Coplon, who had been ill for years, failed rapidly after the arrest of his 27-year-old daughter early this month on espionage charges.

A retired toy manufacturer, Coplon had been known as "the Santa Claus of the Adirondacks" for his custom of giving away toys to poor children in six upstate counties.

NO HELP WANTED!

The People's Courts

MOST Texas lawyers doubtless are too realistic to cherish much hope for the approval of a plan endorsed in a poll sponsored by the State bar association which proposes to fill judicial positions by appointment rather than by election.

Under the system proposed, all judges would be appointed from lists recommended by a commission dominated by lawyers. The people would be given a chance later on to vote for or against each appointee. If the majority should vote against one, the vacancy would be filled by another lawyer-dictated appointment. No person ever could become a judge without having first obtained the endorsement of the lawyers.

It is true that attorneys have special qualifications for estimating the capabilities of those aspiring to the judiciary. It also is true that the lawyers are the ones who practice in the courts over which judges preside. But it is a further indisputable fact—which attorneys sometimes overlook—that judges are chosen to serve, not the lawyers, but the people as a whole.

The people, therefore, are more likely to protect their own interests if they continue to select their judicial servants despite the mistakes they will make occasionally. And it is significant that a great many lawyers share this view. Nearly one-third of those participating in the bar association poll voted against the appointive scheme despite the vigorous propaganda campaign waged among them in its behalf.

Needed Declaration

THE RECENT declaration that the United States no longer is bound by terms of the Potsdam and other East-West agreements was significant because it was made by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, U.S. commander in Germany. He is the highest American official, civil or military, to say in so many words, that the various agreements have been repudiated by acts of Russia.

The fact of the Russian repudiation of the terms of understandings at Potsdam, Yalta, Tehran and elsewhere is beyond the possibility of dispute. The Russians made few, if any, concessions in any of those meetings. They have respected those to which they did agree only when self-interests were served thereby. Yet they repeatedly have squawked that the United States and/or the other nations were honor-bound to do this or that because of agreements at Potsdam and elsewhere. They have attempted to compel the free countries to abide to the letter of understandings they would not respect.

Yet there has been no repudiation by official spokesmen of the U.S., or any other nations involved. All have charged Russia with violations. Yet their expressions have boiled down to this: That the Western powers respect their pledges even if the Russians do not.

General Clay's declaration has not altered this official position. He cannot and did not presume to speak for the United States in the matter. Yet his statement from a source so authoritative lends weight to the supposition that the United States, followed by other nations may soon repudiate officially the solemn contracts which Russia has violated repeatedly. A repudiation might pave the way eventually for a start toward new understandings which might be respected and thus help in some degree to ease tensions menacing to enduring peace.

Pop Goes The Queen

By BOB WADE and BILL MILLER
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: John Henry and Sin Conover, vacationing at a swank resort, witness the death of a man named Homer Anglin. Later their cottage is occupied by Faye Jordan in a "reservation mixup" and ther luggage is searched. But a mechanical pencil containing a cipher message which Anglin slipped into Johnny's pocket before he died is not found by the searchers. Johnny is taken to a gambling ranch by Faye and drugged. Meanwhile, Sin has been warned against "interference" by Sagmon Robottom, an archeologist, and she is frightened. When she spies Gayner, the hotel clerk, acting mysteriously, she follows him. He goes to the back door of the Ship of the Desert, a cafe where Anglin died.)

SIN peeked between the spines of a fan-shaped palm leaf. From her hiding place among the music racks on the bandstand, she watched Gayner come down the stairs from the second floor balcony and cross to the fiber tunnel that concealed the swinging kitchen doors. A moment later, she heard the far-away slam of the restaurant's back door.

To be safe, she waited as long as she could and then let out her breath. A church hush lay over the Ship of the Desert. She was all alone in the dead restaurant. Sin began to feel more foolish than nervous. She had followed Gayner here without trouble—but what next? She'd have a hard time explaining to anyone, even an unbiased judge, what exactly she was doing trespassing. For that matter, she didn't even know herself.

Sin clipped down off the bandstand and tiptoed over to the twisted ironwork staircase that led to the balcony. Since she was trespassing anyway, she might as well make a good job of it.

Sin climbed the stairs, stepping carefully so her sandals wouldn't scrape on the tile steps. At the top, she paused to listen. She heard nothing to keep her from opening the door to the office which Gayner had just quitted.

The leather-paneled room was melancholy in the scant bars of sunlight that fell across carpet and desk top. Cigaret smoke still hung in the air.

There was nothing interesting in sight, so Sin tried the desk drawers. They were unlocked. In the center drawer under an open pack of cigarets, was a sheaf of papers held together by a wire clip. She sat down in the big chair and liberated the sheets from the imprisoning clip.

THE papers were all maps apparently of the area surrounding Azure, the Salton Sea and Borego Valley. The first one was labeled in ink: "Flood of 1849." Penciled under this was the handwritten notation, "Very rough reconstruction — prob. inaccurate." A large area of the drawing had been shaded, most of it lying south of Azure.

The next map was no more explicit. The date was 1891. Again a portion of the map was shaded but Sin discovered by comparison that the area was slightly smaller than on the first map, and more oval.

The date on the third map was 1905-07 and it was titled: "Formation of S/S." The familiar darkened area was present, but the topography was drawn in greater detail, with place names added. Sin recognized Highway 99 which they had followed north from Brawley to Azure. At the southern tip of the Santa Rosa mountains, another and smaller section had been shaded, its vertical lines superimposed on the horizontal stripes of the larger expanse. A cross had been drawn in pencil at a spot in this area and a notation made.

The rest of the papers were heavier and glossier—aerial photographs of desert country on which she distinguished nothing familiar. She laid them aside and went back to the drawings with labels.

LIGHT, torrents of it, flooded the office. Sin shrieked and jumped up.

"Bad for your eyes, Mrs. Conover—reading in the dark," Vernon lisped. He leaned sorrowfully in the doorway, his hand still on the light switch.

Sin swallowed and tried to say something. All that came out of her dry throat was a croak.

Vernon moved toward the desk. Sin backed away, her hands outstretched to ward him off. The maps floated to the carpet. "I'll scream," she whispered.

Vernon shook his head mournfully and Sin saw for the first time that he was pointing a gun at her—a short gray automatic that matched the lapels and trouser-stripes of his maroon uniform. "Don't scream," he said, looking the happiest that Sin had seen him. "Keep quiet and you might be all right." He raised his voice. "All right."

Gayner stepped through the open doorway and regarded their captive with chilly amusement. "I hope we didn't give you too much of a shock, Mrs. Conover," he said pleasantly. "But you can understand we had to take certain precaustions. Vernon, I believe you may put away the gun. Mrs. Conover realizes that she'll have to do as we say."

Vernon appeared displeased as he slipped the automatic under the tail of his tunic into a hip pocket.

"What do you want from me?" Sin quavered, her eyes darting between the two. Her lips were trembling so that it was an effort to form the words.

Gayner said heartily, "That's exactly what I was going to ask you. And I wouldn't be surprised if Mr. Barselou didn't repeat the same question. Don't make him repeat it too often."

"Start thinking up a good answer," Vernon advised her.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

I LIKE doctors.

I have a lot of respect for them.

Doctors have done an enormous lot of good.

They have helped millions of people and thousands of drugstores.

They have helped me, too.

Only a couple of weeks ago, when I made out my income tax return, my doctors were a great help in reducing my tax.

BRANDEIS

But I wish doctors would get together and make up their minds.

Since I had my heart attack last May, I have consulted five different doctors.

But the doctors did not consult with one another, so every one of them has given me different advice.

When King George was operated on the other day, his nine doctors and five nurses all got together and the fourteen of them worked in unison like a squad of soldiers.

Not so my doctors.

A couple of months ago I developed a pain in my chest.

"Heart consciousness," said one of them. "Forget about your heart. There's nothing the matter with you. Five dollars, please."

The pain persisted. I went to another doctor.

"Neuritis," he said, "you need Vitamin E. Three dollars please."

I had the prescription filled. Two dollars sixty-five to the druggist. I took the pills three times a day for forty days.

The pain kept on.

On to a prominent physician in New York. Cardiograph. Blood test. Stethoscope.

"Vitamin E won't do you any good," was his verdict. "What you need is Thiamin Chloride. I'll give you an injection right now. Twenty-five dollars, please."

No go. Same pain.

LAST May I cut out smoking. My heart-doctor had told me that nicotine contracts the blood vessels and makes the heart pump harder.

I was supposed to reduce weight.

But after I cut out smoking I took to eating candy. With candy (and an occasional five or six popovers for breakfast) I had one heck of a time losing weight.

My neuritis threatened to turn into a neurosis, and so I went to a famous New York neurologist.

"You have high blood pressure," he said. "You are under an emotional strain. Do you smoke?"

"I used to, but I had to cut it out."

"There you are," he said. "Cutting out smoking has set up an irritation which causes your blood pressure to rise and give you a neuritic pain. Better start smoking again in moderation. Ten dollars please."

I am thinking seriously of going into the used drug business. "The Smiling Neurotic" I'll call myself.

ON WAR IMPLICATION

Solons Lose Power

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—Under severe cross-examination at a closed conference with foreign affairs experts on both sides of Capitol Hill, Secretary Acheson has conceded that Congress with virtually abdicating its constitutional power to declare war when it approves the North Atlantic Treaty, with its guarantee that an attack on any signatory shall be regarded as aggression against all.

TUCKER

The former corporation lawyer, however, did not like the use of the words, "abdicate," or "abandon," in connection with proposed approval of a pact that commits the United States to warlike measures under certain circumstances. He admitted, though, that Congress was actually "delegating" its exclusive war-making authority to the Chief Executive.

State Department lawyers wrestled for weeks to devise language that would appear to reconcile American participation in the anti-Russian alliance with the constitutional requirement that only the elected representatives shall summon the nation to arms for a foreign conflict. It was their most difficult task in framing the actual document.

SITUATION: As the situation now stands, according to the Achesonian and Congressional versions, the national legislature still has the exclusive power to recognize and declare the existence of a state of war. But it has divested itself of any real control by "delegating" this authority to the White House.

For the first time in history, a President can go to war, even though any outbreak does not directly involve U. S. territory, nationals, interests or honor.

There is no longer any disagreement on this extremely important question, even though its meaning and significance are not spelled out in the pact itself.

The most serious struggle during debate over ratification will now center around the articles—V and VI—which say that an attack on alliance members' occupation forces, ships or planes shall be deemed a possible casus belli. Many members do not want to approve warlike action on the basis, say, of an "incident" that might be susceptible to peaceful compromise or settlement.

CHASTENED: President Truman exhibited a chastened mood when he conferred with the Democratic "big four" from Capitol Hill on his recent return from Key West. He did not scold or criticize them for the four defeats which he had suffered during his Florida vacation. He apparently means to try the "molasses cure" with the legislators as a result of their failure to respond to the "vinegar treatment."

Speaker Rayburn and Vice President Barkley assured him that they could save enough from the legislative wreckage to spike Republican charges that he cannot lead, and that a Democratic Congress will not follow. Here is the outline they gave him of prospective action on the four issues that have gone sour from his original viewpoint:

CONGRESS: Rent Control: Congress will enact a law permitting a ten or fifteen per cent increase, and giving states the right to decontrol in areas no longer suffering from housing hardships. They assured Mr. Truman that the latter provision will not weaken the national statute because, as Sam Rayburn said, "I don't believe any epublican Governor or Legislature will dare to lift a lid on rents. It would be political death."

Civil Rights: Congress will probably get around to taking action against lynching and poll taxes, but legislation to bar segregation or to reestablish the Fair Employment Practices Committee is out. Southern members may accept the first two proposals, figuring that they are harmless under present conditions.

FILIBUSTERS: Cloture: The Hayden-Wherry resolution for barring filibusters except on future rules changes by a constitutional two-thirds vote will be adopted. The White House can maintain that it is an improvement on the existing system, and will blame the Southern bloc for the failure of the Truman plan.

Air Forces: Congress will okay seventy groups, as against the forty-eight demanded by the Administration. But it will slow down the construction schedule for 1950-51 so that it will not upset the Administration's budget program.

Mr. Truman will make the best of this outcome, and count it a victory.

MARCANTONIO: Vito Marcantonio, a Wallace political manager and the only American Labor Party member in the House, hurt himself with both leftist liberals and House associates by his juggling of the non-segregation issue during consideration of the Rent Control and the Air Forces Bill.

He did not insist on a non-segregation clause when the rent measure was before the House, although he had been shouting for its inclusion. He bowed to an argument of Democratic Whip Percy Priest, whose canvass had indicated that the renewal of ceilings would be defeated if an anti-racial discrimination ban were incorporated, or if it were defeated by a floor vote.

On this question, Mr. Marcantonio abandoned his ideological cause.

LINE: But he pressed the same proposal when the Army Air Bill came up. And because the leaders manipulated procedure so as to bar his amendment, he voted against the measure. He also forced a week's delay on final action in order to express his resentment.

Now, his New York East Side followers figure that he ran out on them on housing equality. But his insistence on introducing this controversial question into the air debate is accepted as evidence that he follows the "Moscow line."

"We need houses," he explained later, "but we don't need planes. Nobody is going to attack us."

It is strange that jet-propulsion should have been used on motorcycles for several decades before it was applied to planes.

"Russia is trying every way to find out how many atomic bombs we have," says a columnist. Well, every way, perhaps, except the hard way.

A Tacoma man, upon finding his victim had only $5 on him, gave him a $10 bill. In a left-handed sort of way, this bird reminds us of the Administration.

Many a man doesn't find himself until some one puts him in his real place.

After all, are we so very prosperous these days? Around the turn of the century almost any family could afford to buy a whole barrel of flour at a time.

Subject for debate: Has man ever learned or produced anything to his advantage that he didn't also use to his disadvantage?

If you phone a hospital to inquire about a patient therein, you are told one of these three things: He's convalescent, resting comfortably, or dead.

Believe It Or Not -- By Robert Ripley

EXCUSE FOR RED BLOW FEARED

Pact Seen As Blow To UN Aims

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The member of the family who indulges in occasional essays in this space on global generalities, with the apologetic timidity of the novice, was discussing the Atlantic Pact not long since with the female member of the family who fortunately has a refreshing way of getting right down to the essentials.

She looked up, finally, and inquired with what appeared to be sheer innocence:

"Whatever happened to the United Nations?"

STOKES

Would Welcome Soviets

It is noted now that there is creeping into the official campaign on behalf of the Atlantic Pact the suggestion that this regional arrangement — which, incidentally, takes in a rather diverse group of nations—may be the beginning of another United Nations. This regional pact, it is intimated, would be hooked up with the one we have already with Latin American "republics." Then there would be a Mediterranean pact and a Pacific pact and so on until, presto, we'll have another United Nations including practically everybody but Russia.

If Russia wants to come in after it gets all fixed up, then all right. But if she doesn't, and if she wants to start anything after she gets all hemmed in, then all the rest of us will be ready for her, and she won't dare. At least that's the thesis. It may be sound, and again it may not, for there is a human tendency of those who get hemmed in to try desperately to break out.

It is a good excuse, anyhow, as history demonstrates. In starting the last two world wars, Germany complained she was being hemmed in and so convinced her people. It is good psychology for those who want to expand to say they are hemmed in, and to add to that some flowery if illogical rhetoric about bringing together in one piece, under one cover, people who have a kinship of blood or race ideals or economic interests of what-have-you, such as Germany did in Europe and Japan did in Asia with her talk about an East Asia co-prosperity sphere, or whatever the phrase was. Russia talks like that, too. Nor are we entirely guiltless, for though we have no aims whatever of expansion, we speak glibly of bringing the "Democracies" under our cover, and our pact is getting beyond such, for they are not too plentiful in the world today.

The point here is not the validity of all of this, of which there is very little, but that rulers have a way of making people believe it enough so they'll fight. A fact of human nature, not theory, is involved.

Worth contemplating now, from the place we have reached, is the difference in purpose in the United Nations as originally conceived and that of the new series of regional alliances. The UN was a world organization designed to achieve peace by removing economic and social injustices and maladjustments, which start wars, and by limiting armaments with which wars are fought. The object was bold and positive. The aim of the projected alliances is to preserve peace by arming ourselves all over the world. It is defensive, negative, and old as man, and has proved futile for centuries. It can do nothing but start an arms race, and that is not only costly but dangerous. That is the reason for the questions raised in Congress about the proposed program, supplementary to the pact, to supply arms to Western Europe, while there is general acceptance of the pact, itself.

UN Was Too Weak

The UN was a weak sort of vessel from the start. It got stalled with the veto, which permitted big power domination, and while achieving something in the economic and social field, it has failed completely of two basic objectives. One is disarmament, including atomic control; the other, an international police force to check aggression. For all this Russia is much to blame, but not altogether.

The Atlantic pact and the projected extension of such regional arrangements are but the inevitable result of a policy that started with the Truman doctrine in Greece and Turkey, which was thought necessary to counter Russian expansion. It established a philosophy which could lead nowhere else.

There was another direction another choice, which was to proceed boldly to make the UN a real world government, a positive force, for which the world yearned. But nowhere in the world was there leadership for such a course and so we find the UN disintegrating in a series of secession movements. The whole world has hemmed itself in with ancient concepts and prejudices.

Here is offered no sermon, no remedy, only an epitaph which, however, we would not dare place above the graves of those who thought they were dying for a brave new day:

"Here lie the hopes of the world."

Successful Bob Hope Tour Belies Reports Of Vaudeville's 'Death'

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, March 29 — Reports of the death of vaudeville are slightly premature, if you have followed the recent activities of Bob Hope and Milton Berle.

Hope recently finished a 36-city tour with the kind of act which was believed to have curled up its toes about the time the brothers Warner unleashed voices upon the screen. He took along a straight man, Hy Averbach; a pretty singer, Doris Day; a comedienne, Irene Ryan; a band, that of Duke university's Les Brown; a young baritone, Billy Farrell and an acrobat act, The Titans.

Attendance Records Broken

The tour, made by DC-6, grossed $650,000. It reached from Fort Worth and Dallas to Miami and Boston. It broke hallowed records which had stood since the time of Caruso. It drew 20,000 customers into Miami's Orange bowl, for instance, and 12,000 in a fog at Jacksonville, Fla.

Berle, the country's most generous giver of his time and talent for benefits of all types, has long since become the No. one figure in television—via the vaudeville form of entertainment. He has provided an outlet and work for patient and often hard-up vaudeville stars who joined the mothball fleet 20 years ago. The result is that he commands a video audience which compares roughly with say, the radio audience of a president declaring war.

New Tour Planned

Other television shows of the same pattern, notably Ed Sullivan's, have lent additional proof that vaudeville never died. It was just sitting out radio.

Hope goes back on the road in a few weeks for another swing around the country's biggest outdoor and indoor arenas. This time he'll make Providence, R.I. On the first tour he was forced to return $21,000 to ticket-holders of his proposed show there. Seems the Providence airport was socked in, and there wasn't time to reach the place by train.

Hope was outlining this minor tragedy to his friend Jack Pepper the other day. Pepper, who was part of Hope's USO tours during the war, listened sympathetically to the punch-line—the return of $21,000.

"That's tough, Buster," Jack said, shaking his head. "I'm in room 2222 at the 'Y' if you need anything."

Statesmen To Hold Party

Two of the most remarkable men of this and the past two generations, Winston Churchill and Bernard M. Baruch, will toss a little stag party tomorrow night at a famous old Park avenue restaurant. Baruch is the host. Churchill will provide the suitable remarks.

These two vigorous old blades who, between them, have done so much to chart the course of the western world, have been intimate friends for more than 30 years. Long before Churchill was writing his now famous notes to F.D.R., and signing them "former naval person," he had repeatedly informed his friend Baruch of his growing concern over the rise of Hitler.

Hitler, in his earliest paranoic attacks on Churchill, sometimes made reference to the latter's close association with Baruch.

Anyway, tomorrow night the survivors of so many crises sit down to a highball and some food with a few friends. I hope it's on the record.

Record Executive Dies

New Yorkers are so often portrayed as callous and case-hardened souls, living at a godless pace slightly above the speed of sound, that it sometimes takes their deaths to make one realize just how gentle and kind they can be.

Two who died this past week—Mrs. Clem McCarthy, wife of the announcer, and Jack Kapp, who built the fabulous Decca record business from nothing — were cases in point.

Mrs. McCarthy was a wonderful, motherly soul who could have been as much at home lending a cup of sugar over the back-fence of a shanty-town tenement as she was in the Stork club. Kapp was what we call a "tycoon," but he was as quiet-spoken and loyal and generous and modest as they come anywhere in this country.

The community is irrevocably poorer, now they are gone.

Patrons Mourn Death Of German Cook For Old Dallas Restaurant

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

DALLAS, March 29—Elm street wasn't the same today. Otto was dead.

The name on his social security card was Arthur William Voight, but the hundreds who crammed daily into the 73-year-old Blue Front cafe for fine German cooking knew him only as Otto.

Occasionally you could see him waddling around his kitchen and now and then he would frame himself for a moment at the service window, scratching speculatively at his big jowls and watching the customers.

Refused Help

For 35 years Otto was the Blue Front's only cook—he would tolerate no help—and the daily luncheon rush at the faded old cafe attested his ability. The floors were bare boards, the walls a conglomeration of beer ads and peeling paint, the tables always were in need of beer caps under their legs to keep them steady —but no one ever had a table to himself during the noon hour. Even during last winter's ice storms, there was standing room only.

Many customers became so used to standing up that they grew to prefer eating at the bar.

Sauerkraut, pig knuckles, weiner schnitzel, corned beef, rich kidney stew—these were the dishes Otto loved to prepare. Generally on Thursday there was chicken and spaghetti and when it wasn't on the menu, some customers would hoyl.

But owner W. G. Schliepake would only grimace and shrug: "I try to tell Otto but Otto says its smothered chicken today and so that's what you get."

Short, plump, square-jawed, Otto, a 300-pounder, was a man of few words. Mostly he confined his remarks, in German, to Schliepake. He only growled fiercely at the negro dishwashers charged with keeping things shipshape, and these growls, like low thunder, sometimes reverberated even over the clatter of cutlery out among the tables.

Otto came to work every morning at 5 a. m. and left at 5 p. m. He used to work longer hours, but Schliepake pleaded that he, Schliepake, might be put in jail under the new laws if Otto didn't shorten his hours. In 35 years, Otto missed only 11 days and most of these were the result of a bad fall which injured his leg. Otto didn't want vacations. Once he was ordered to take two weeks off. He was back in two days, gruffly informing the owner that was all the vacation he could stand. But the gruffnes was a pose, for Otto was really a simple man of gentle heart.

"He'd give you his shirt," Schliepake said often. "He's like one of my own family."

Otto died on his day off, Sunday, gasping out his last hour with a heart attack at the age of 62. And customers who rushed on the Blue Front today found it closed for the funeral of the gentle but lion-faced man who had been king of its kitchen.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 29 (AP) — Corn managed to keep above yesterday's close most of today's trading session, but for other grains it was quite a struggle.

Light receipts from the country, with to-arrive bookings placed at only 20,000 bushels gave corn a steady tone. Wheat however was an up and down affair.

At the close wheat was ⅝ to 2 cents lower than yesterday's close, May $2.13⅞-14. Corn was unchanged to ⅛ lower, May $1.32-32⅛. Oats were ⅛ to ¾ lower, May 68⅝-¾. Rye was 1⅜ to 2 cents higher, May $1.37⅛. Soybeans were unchanged to ⅝ lower, May $3.13¼-⅜. Lard was 10 to 12 cents a hundredweight lower, May $11.12.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, March 29 (AP) — Wheat No. 1 hard 2.40⅝-46⅝.
Oats No. 2 white 91-91½.

MARKET IN SHARP ADVANCE

NEW YORK, March 29. (AP)—People rushed to buy stocks today following news of more liberal credit terms for the purchase of securities.

Individual stocks shot ahead 1 to an extreme of 4 points, many to top prices for the year or more.

The general level of prices rose in one of the sharpest advances of the past year. Only three times since March, 1948, has the market taken so large a stride ahead.

Turnover boomed to 1,980,000 shares, a high since 2,100,000 shares changed hands on Nov. 10. On that date the market was pounded down in the wake of the surprise Truman victory in the national elections.

Brokerage houses reported that orders streamed in from all parts of the nation. Accounts long dormant, they said, suddenly came to life as their owners put in orders to buy.

Late Monday the Federal Reserve board announced that margin requirements would be cut tomorrow, Wednesday, to 50 per cent from the 75 per cent which has been in effect for the past two years.

The first hour's business alone was almost as much as many recent full days.

Most observers suggested that a lasting effect of lower margins would be an increase in the market's liquidity.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced to a full point to 64.3, the highest level since Feb. 4. In the past year this advance has been topped only twice and equalled twice.

New highs for the year were hit during the day by among others, Western Union, Du Pont, Douglas Aircraft, Loew's, Montgomery Ward, Pepsi-Cola, Eastern Air Lines, Lockheed, and Pan American Airways.

Fines Assessed In County Cases

Eleven judgments were announced Tuesday in the court of County Judge Walter Davies. They assessed an average fine of about $60, exclusive of court costs.

Payment was deferred, however, in at least four of the cases, judgments showed—up to two months.

Jack Wayland Bradford was assessed a fine of $50 and costs and his driver's license revoked six months after a jury of which H. B. Bryant was foreman, returned a verdict of guilty of a charge of drunk driving about 5:10 p. m. Tuesday.

J. M. Williams was fined $15 and costs on a plea of guilty of liquor law violation.

Ernest Croy was fined $25 and costs on a guilty plea of aggravated assault.

D. W. Black pleaded guilty to a check law violation charge and was fined $50 and costs.

Robert Lee Drones, was fined $25 and costs on a plea of guilty of aggravated assault, deferred 60 days. He informed the court his true name is Robert Lee Wilkson.

Nettie Bowles, about 40, was fined $125 and costs on a plea of guilty of liquor law violation. She paid $50 of the amount, the remainder being deferred.

W. E. Grant of Shallowater, pleading guilty of establishing a lottery, was fined $100 and costs, but the assessment was deferred two months.

Romeo Ben Daniels, pleading guilty of liquor law violation, was fined $125 and costs. He paid $75 of the amount. The remainder was deferred one month.

Other judgments: John Lee Wilson, theft, $25 and costs and one day in jail; Robert Hastings, $25 and costs, aggravated assault; Frank A. Hames, 55, drunk driving, $75 and costs and revocation of operator's license six months.

Horton B. (Bo) Sessums, 26, of Lubbock route 1, pleaded innocent of liquor law violation and posted bond of $600, the sheriff's department said.

He was arrested by W. G. Poplin, deputy supervisor of the liquor control board office here, and board inspectors Charles A. Talley of Lubbock and Leon Bowman of Plainview.

Sessums had been arrested by board officials and Lubbock police 24 hours earlier and charged with vagrancy. He posted $100 bond in corporation court on that charge.

Drilling To Continue On Gaines County Well After Flow Of Oil

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Flanagan, one location east of the discovery from the Ellenburger at Shell Oil Company, Inc., No. 1 Hawkins, to open the Flanagan field, in South Central Gaines county, about 11 miles southeast of Seminole has proven for flowing oil production from the lower Clear Fork of the Permian, and is to drill ahead to explore the Devanian and the Ellenburger.

This project, located 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 9, block A-23, psl survey, flowed 45.9 barrels of oil in one hour through a five-eighth inch bottom hole choke, from interval at 7,169-7,265 feet.

Gas Shows At Surface

The tool was open one hour and 32 minutes. Gas showed at the surface in four minutes. Mud flowed out at the top in 23 minutes and oil started flowing in 28 minutes.

The well was flowed to pits for four minutes to clean, and was then turned to tanks. It flowed 45.9 barrels of clean oil, and no water in 60 minutes, and the tool was then closed.

Gas-oil ratio and gravity figures on the petroleum was not reported. The venture drilled on down and took another drillstem test at 7,265-85 feet.

The tester was open for two hours and 45 minutes. Gas showed at the surface in 10 minutes. No fluid flowed out while the tool was open.

Recovery was 3,822 feet of 37.6 gravity oil, 182 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mur, and 121 feet of salty, sulphur water.

The venture is drilling ahead.

Shell's No. 1 Hawkins, discovery well of the Flanagan field developed several hundred feet of free oil in drillstem test in the Clear Fork, but it did not flow from that formation.

It showed for prolific flowing oil from the Devonian, and also for good flowing production from the Ellenburger.

The Shell discovery was completed from the Ellenburger. The Clear Fork and Devonian pays were left cased off and will not be produced at this time.

It is reported by informed observers that the Magnolia prospector is approximately flat with Shell No. 1 Hawkins, on the formations so far penetrated.

George P. Livermore, Inc., No. 1 Head, southeast stepout from the Shell discovery, and located 631 feet from north and 610 feet from the west lines of section 12, block A-23, psl survey, took a drillstem test for an unreported length of time in the Clear Fork at 7,049-7,187 feet. Recovery was 180 feet of oil and gas cut drilling mud, with no formation water being developed.

This venture is reported to have drilled to about 7,240 feet and to be taking another drillstem test.

Small Amount Of Oil

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware and Pan American Production Company No. 1 Good, Southwest Borden county wildcat, showed a little free oil and a small amount of oil and gas cut drilling mud, in a drillstem test of a Pennsylvanian lime section at 7,910-20 feet.

The tester was open for 70 minutes. Gas showed at the surface in 19 minutes. The volume was not gauged or estimated. No fluid flowed out at the top.

This prospector is 1,985 feet from south and 2,004 feet from west lines of section 37, block 33, TP survey, T-4-N. It is six miles northwest of the Vealmoor field, of North-Central Howard county. The production in that pool comes from the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian.

The No. 1 Good is to make more hole.

Pump Necessary

Failure to flow has necessitated the installation of a pump at Humble No. 1-B Moore, probable Ellenburger discovery in Northwest Scurry county, 10 miles northwest of Snyder and 1,850 feet from north, 1,980 feet from east lines of section 492, block 97, H&TC survey.

On the last test reported, the project swabbed 16 hours and made 101 barrels of oil cut three-tenths of on per cent basic sediment. The deep pay is opposite casing perforations at 8,200-40 feet.

The well has been shutin to dismantle the rig and install a pumping unit, before attempting completion.

Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company has completed the third commercial oil well for the Shafter Lake-Ellenburger pool in North-Central Andrews county.

The concern's No. 2-F University, 1,923 feet from south and 1,983 feet from east lines of section 13, block 13, University survey, was finalled for a 24-hour flowing potential of 1,952 barrels of oil per day.

The flow was through a 25/64-inch choke from the Ellenburger open hole pay bone at 11,736-11,817 feet. Gravity of the petroleum was 42 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 138-1.

Arkansas Governor Leaves Today On Flying Visit To Texas Cities

LITTLE ROCK, March 29 (U.P.)—Gov. Sidney McMath of Arkansas leaves by plane Wednesday on the first leg of a scheduled two-stop visit to Texas cities.

McMath is scheduled to address the Texas House of Representatives at Austin Thursday. He will arrive in Dallas tomorrow afternoon to attend the baseball game between the Little Rock Travelers of the Southern association and the Dallas Eagles of the Texas league.

McMath will go to Austin the following day. The Arkansas governor said today he has not prepared a formal speech for the Texas solons.

Tech Foreign Students Describe Ambitions At Lions Club Meet

Five foreign students, all members of the student body at Texas Tech, were featured on the Lions club program Tuesday. Each spoke briefly on his or her ambitions and of some of the conditions existing in their respective homelands.

Miss Matina Zanga, a student from Greece, enrolled this semester, told of the tragedy of the civil war in her country and its effects on the young people. There, she said, there is no laughter and gaiety among the students. They are serious because of the gloom and misery that surrounds them all of the time.

Hopes To Aid Farmers

James Chien-Sheng Young, a graduate student from China who is studying agriculture, hopes to return to his country better equipped to aid the Chinese farmers who make up 80 per cent of the population.

Thomas R. Cleveland, Belgian Congo, hopes to return to Africa for the same purpose, he told the Lions. "The Africans are truly remarkable people who need only assistance and encouragement to forge ahead," Cleveland said.

Jimmy L. D'Acosta, Mexico and James Lakas, Panama were also thinking of their homelands when they enrolled at Texas Tech. D'Acosta, an engineering student, hopes to further the industrial development of Mexico. Lakas, enrolled in the graduate school of architecture, sees the need for modernizing the architecture of his country and putting it on a scientific basis. In answer to a question both students said they had run into little or no discrimination that is alleged to exist in some parts of Texas.

Outstanding In Studies

The students were introduced by Prof. James Allen, dean of men at the college who added a footnote that all of the 29 foreign students at Texas Tech were outstanding in their studies and set high standards of conduct and courtesy for other students to emulate.

The Lions were also entertained by a musical program furnished by the cast of the Varsity Show. Members of the cast were introduced by Bill Parsley.

President Wayne Henly presided over the meeting and the guests were introduced by Cliff Freeman.

Guests of members present included Woodrow W. Adcock, president of the Hale Center Lions club; W. D. Burger of Amarillo; H. H. Moyer of Wyoming, and Bill Robertson of Lubbock.

South Plains Optometrik Society Plans Meeting Here Thursday

PLAINVIEW, March 29. (Special)—The South Plains Optometric society will hold a meeting and dinner at the Hilton hotel here at 7 p. m. Thursday.

The meeting was called by Dr. B. W. Armistead, newly-elected president of the group, and will feature a program under the direction of Dr. C. M. Neel, of Lubbock.

The principal speaker is to be Dr. Joe Webb, of Plainview, who will explain the benefits optometry is bringing to the public in this area.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and to aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.
