Student Says Threat To Kill Kennedy 'Joke'

22 Go on Trial For War Crimes

By RICHARD H. GROWALD

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—West Germany put 22 men on trial today for running the greatest mass murder factory in history and the defendants began making excuses.

"When I was sent to Auschwitz in 1942 I did not know it was an extermination camp," said Torbert Mulka, the 68-year-old assistant commandant of the Nazi death mill where an estimated 2.5 to 4 million persons perished.

"I only joined the (Nazi elite) SS because I had no job and I was detailed to an extermination camp only because a knee injury kept me from service at the front," said Carl Hoecker, a 51-year-old former assistant Auschwitz commandant accused with Mulka of making sure the mass gas chambers worked smoothly.

Recalls SS Number

Wilhelm Boger, the 56-year-old former first sergeant of the Gestapo guard and the alleged inventor of special torture devices, told the hushed court, 'I still remember my SS number."

"It was 2779. I'm not very proud of it, but it was something special," he said, nervously rubbing his shabby blue suit.

Their words came as the defendants, one by one, rose to tell of their pre-Auschwitz lives. In coming weeks—the greatest war crimes trial in post-occupation German history is expected to last six or eight months—the court will hear evidence pinning down the almost endless list of charges.

One defendant, Dr. Franx Lucas, 52, an Auschwitz camp doctor, was ill and unable to attend the opening session. Setting his case aside for the moment, the judges ordered Lucas to show up Dec. 30, when he would rejoin his comrades for the second scheduled trial session. Court officials said Lucas would not be tried separately from the other defendants.

Shows Old Habits

Only Oswald Kaduk—accused of enjoying breaking inmates' necks with a pick—showed something of an old habit. He stood ramrod straight and clicked his heels when the black-robed chief judge called his name.

The defendants—the doctors who allegedly selected inmates for slave labor or death, the dentists who made sure all gold was yanked from victims teeth, the clerk who kept a rising death count, the Gestapo man who allegedly drowned a priest by holding his head in a bucket of water, the SS men who allegedly made "research experiments" on female prisoners—sat mutely in the city hall chamber used as a courtroom.

Franz Hofmann, accused of forcing naked prisoners to stand in snow until they froze, hid his face behind a copy of the indictment, which is four times the length of the Bible.

Emil Hantl, accused of helping operate the gas chambers that killed thousands of persons every day from 1942 until 1944, fidgeted with his fingers.

The trial, biggest since the Allied occupation courts finished their work with major Nazi offenders, may be one of the longest since the war. The defendants, who ranged in age from 42 to 68, stand accused of dozens of specific crimes.

U of T Dorm Picketed by Negro Group

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—A group of mostly Negro students made good their promise Thursday night to picket the dormitory where President Johnson's daughter lives on the University of Texas campus.

The demonstration, carried out under rain and the watchful eyes of the Secret Service, was to protest segregated housing at the school.

The President's daughter, Lynda Bird Johnson, was in the Kinsolving Dormitory when 22 pickets marched back and forth on a sidewalk across the street from the building.

There were no incidents.

Austin police and Secret Service agents, who guard Lynda Bird, kept a close watch on the demonstrators but did not interfere with them.

Quotes LBJ Speech

Two of the signs carried by the pickets quoted a recent speech by President Johnson—"It is time to write the next chapter, and to write it in the books of law."

Other signs read "Delay causes President's daughter to be in segregated housing," and "Tokenism belongs to a dying age."

Kinsolving is the largest women's dormitory at the university.

New Mexico Gets On 'Foreign List' Of Boston Store

ROSWELL, N.M. (UPI) — It's happened again. Some easterner played hookey during geography and thinks New Mexico is not one of the United States.

A Roswell woman, Mrs. H. W. Tankersley, placed an order by mail with the Breck's of Boston store.

Her check was returned with the following note:

"We want you to know that we appreciate your order, but we have had to make a strict rule against making shipments to points outside of the United States.

"Please believe that we are sincerely sorry . . ."

Charge Filed in US Court at Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Russell Wence McLarry, 21, charged with threatening to kill President Kennedy the night before the assassination, said Thursday it was a joke.

McLarry, who was quoted by a Secret Service man as saying he was glad Kennedy was dead, said at his arraignment that he wished the President had been impeached but was not glad to see him dead by violence.

"If I can be tried for a joke and found guilty," he said, "then that is the extent of it."

There was no suggestion that McLarry and accused assassin Lee Harvey Oswald were connected in any manner.

The part-time student, who worked as a machinist across the street in Dallas from where Kennedy was to speak Nov. 22, was held today in Tarrant County jail in absence of $2,500 bond.

Charles E. Kunkel, special Secret Service agent, testified at the arraignment before U.S. Commissioner Bill Atkins Thursday. The charge said McLarry "made certain threats to take the life and inflict bodily harm to John Kennedy, then the President of the United States."

"He said he would be working near the Trade Mart in Dallas when the President spoke and he would be waiting with a gun to get him," the charge said.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy McLarry, retired dairy farmers at Sulphur Springs, Tex., said he had three guns but they were all at his parents' home.

McLarry admitted he made the threat, but said it was in a joking manner. He "blamed the President for the condition the country is now in," Kunkel said.

Chief Asst. U.S. Dist. Atty. Bill Hughes said McLarry's case will come before a federal grand jury at Amarillo, Tex., in January. He said McLarry faced a $1,000 fine, five years imprisonment or both.

SHOOTING PRESIDENT NO FEDERAL CRIME

DALLAS (UPI) — The man who shot President Kennedy violated no federal laws. Another man who threatened to shoot him was charged under federal statutes.

To threaten the President is punishable in federal courts by a $1,000 fine, a five-year prison term or both. To kill the President, the only way federal punishment can be assessed is through military courts.

Prestige Car Cutback Blow to Bureaucrats

WASHINGTON (UPI)— The Budget Bureau said it was a cutback but to Washington's status-conscious bureaucrats it was more of an amputation—their cherished limousines had to go.

The bureau, as part of President Johnson's economy drive, issued an order Thursday that would eventually eliminate 75 per cent of the limousines and other "prestige" cars now being operated by civilian and military agencies around the world.

"The whole effect of this is to get these status symbols off the street," one official said. The number of limousines and what the government calls "heavy sedans" in the capital is scheduled to shrink from the present total of 131 to 20.

The total now in use around the world is 491. Under the new ruling this will e reduced to about 136. The order has no effect on limousines provided by Congress, which is quite generous with them, nor those in use by the White House.

But otherwise the cutbacks appeared to cut across the board. Under the new system, the brass-studded Defense Department will be allowed ten limousines, the State Department will have two, and the other cabinet departments will be limited to one apiece.

A Budget Bureau spokesman said the Pentagon cars are for the secretary of defense and his deputy, the secretaries of the three armed services, and the chairman and four members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Pen and Pencil Journalists Only to Cover Trial of Ruby

DALLAS (UPI)—News coverage of the Jack Ruby murder trial will be restricted to the pencil and paper journalists—television is barred.

State Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown ruled Thursday that all photography and broadcast instruments would be banned from the courtroom. Millions witnessed on live television the slaying of President Kennedy's accused assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald by Ruby on Nov. 24.

Photography and broadcast coverage also were barred from Monday's scheduled hearing on whether Ruby should be freed on bond.

Melvin Belli, the "King of Torts" from San Francisco, was expected to join six other defense lawyers today to plot strategy for that hearing.

Dr. John T. Holbrook, a psychiatrist who examined Ruby shortly after the slaying, was subpoenaed by the defense for the Monday hearing. The defense sought to obtain a copy of his findings from the jailhouse session.

Tom Howard, local attorney for Ruby, said there was a "good chance" the defense would seek a delay in the Feb. 3 trial. He said Belli was scheduled to present a case Jan. 27 in New York, and it may conflict with the opening of Ruby's trial.

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade, wary of charges of "trying the case in newspapers," declined to comment on the case. He said earlier he would seek death in the electric chair for Ruby.

Howard said "this isn't a death penalty case." He said the defense plea for a writ of habeas corpus would charge that Ruby, 52, was held illegally.

Wade said the murder with malice charge was not bondable under the laws of Texas, because the death penalty was a possible punishment.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congressional leaders today abandoned plans to adjourn Congress tonight, called on scores of members who already have left town to return, and said they plan to keep the lawmakers here until a contested foreign aid bill has been finally passed.

PEACE MESSAGE — President Johnson's helicopter returns to the White House from Andrews AFB, Md., after the President returned from New York where he urged the U.N. to "walk the peace path" with the U.S. "Peace,' he said, "is a journey of a thousand miles and must be taken one step at the time." Security Stressed At Ft. Worth Jail

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Maximum security measures today cloaked Russell Wence McLarry at county jail where he was held on charges of threatening to kill President Kennedy the night before the assassination.

"He's in solitary confinement," desk Sgt. Harry Hopkins said. "We don't want anything to happen to him."

Five Kaiser Employes Charged With Theft

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI)—Five employes of the Kaiser Jeep Corp. were charged Thursday in connection with the theft of upward to $1 million in parts from the company.

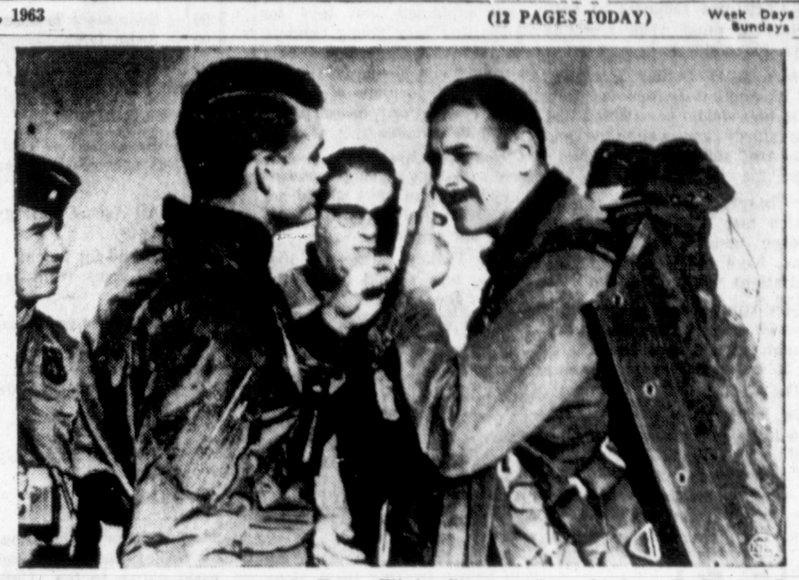

More arrests of employes and others were expected, police said as they revealed the Wednesday night arrests of the five on the basis of a six week investigation on a tip from an informer.

Four of the five arrested men were veteran employees. They pleaded innocent when arraigned Thursday and were held on $10,000 bond each. They were identified as James Annarino, 46; Carl D'Amico, 40; Frank Tonkel, 39, and Roger P. Goodykuntz, 37. The fifth man, Simon H. Barry, 25, was to appear Friday. Barry was employed at Kaiser since November. All are from Toledo.

Police were reluctant to discuss cracking the huge theft ring but they said the parts stolen included batteries, tires, transmissions, radiators and electrical equipment including alternators, generators and regulators.

Police reportedly were told that Barry and Goodykuntz had developed prospective buyers among auto firms, garages, service stations and individuals. They were also quoted as saying that transmissions, valued at $200 were sold for $30. These were the most expensive items stolen.

Safety Director Allen Andrews estimated the value of property stolen was from $800,000 to $1 million. A company spokesman declined to discuss the details but said the loss was "several thousand dollars." A final estimate of the loss will not be made until after Dec. 27 when the company will conduct an inventory.

The men released their parachutes after falling below an altitude of 2,500 feet. All landed safely near El Centro, Calif. (NEA Telephoto)

Commission Presents Plan to Encourage More Voter Turnout

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A presidential commission offered the states today a plan to encourage a greater voter turnout in U.S. elections. It said some states make it easier "to get a hunting or fishing license or a pistol permit than to register and vote."

The 11-member bipartisan commission presented its report to President Johnson, but it did not recommend any new federal laws. The report contained a sweeping set of 21 proposals for state action along with some goals for public schools, private organization and private business.

Most sections of the report were adopted unanimously.

The commission, headed by Director Richard M. Scammon of the Census Bureau, was set up by the late President Kennedy March 30. Its report, originally scheduled for Nov. 26, was delayed almost a month because of Kennedy's death.

Study Voting Problems

Kennedy's order directed the commission to studying voting problems outside the jurisdiction of the Civil Rights Commission, which is concerned with discrimination against Negroes and other minorities.

Voter apathy was one target of the commission but most of its attention was given to state laws and practices restricting the right to register and vote.

"Many election laws and administrative practices are unreasonable, unfair and outmoded," it said. "They obstruct the path to the ballot box, disfranchising millions who want to vote.

"An unexpected business trip or a broken ankle can deprive a citizen of his right to vote. He may lose his vote by moving across the stree. And he may discover that because he failed to vote two years ago he cannot vote now."

The commission cited figures showing heavier voter turnouts in other countries. It said state turnouts in the United States ranged from 25.5 per cent of the civilian population of voting age in Mississippi to 80.8 in Idaho in the 1960 election.

Urges Vote Campaigns

It said the most obvious way to combat voter apathy was through the register-and-vote campaigns conducted by political parties and by civic, business, labor and other groups. But it also urged the press, radio and television to assume responsibility and said these media "hold the key to adult education."

The report also criticized schools for "not doing the job."

"The teaching of citizenship in our elementary and secondary schools needs a major overhaul," it said. "A trip to the firehouse and a slide down the fireman's pole are now many times substituted for realistic instruction in government and politics. . .

"It is small wonder that we are a nation of cynics when it comes to our politics."

First Visits to East Start for Berliners

BERLIN (UPI)—West Berliners began the first mass visiting on the other side of the wall today.

Thousands more were held up by Communist red tape.

Communist guards wearing Russian-style fur hats and toting sub machine guns passed the West Berliners swiftly and quietly through the five crossing points for holiday visits with friends and relatives.

The number of visitors was smaller than expected because of snarls in issuing passes, and the Red police outnumbered both visitors and greeters on the East Berlin side of the barrier.

Those that got through in the first mass visiting permitted since the wall went up in August, 1961, moved quickly. Communist guards, in an obvious holiday gesture, dropped their usual controls and cleared the visitors in about a minute. This is from 29 minutes to an hour faster than normal.

By 1 p.m. (7 a.m. EST), 2,740 pedestrians and 683 automobiles had crossed the border.

Depressing Scene

The cold morning scene was drab and depressing as the West Berliners lined up to have their documents checked. Few of the visitors were met at the crossings because no one had been certain how long it would take to go through the border formalities.

"Just as grubby as the last time I saw it," one elderly man whispered.

At least 23,000 other West Berliners were blocked by the pass shortage. They waited to get credentials inside and outside the issuing offices in West Berlin schools. Other applicants were told not to try for passes today.

A few East Berliners stood around watching the visitors cross the border. They showed little emotion.

The Eastern guards were obviously under orders to avoid trouble. They barely glanced at the packets of fruit, coffee, chocolate and other gifts every visitor carried.

Newsmen Treated Well

Western correspondents and television cameramen, who often are bullied by the Communist police, were treated courteously and cooperatively in a somewhat obvious show of Christmas spirit.

Like many of the West Berliners, Elga Sagte, a 21-year-old girl in a big white fur hat and red ski jacket, said she had sent a telegram to her mother in East Berlin.

"I don't imagine she got it," Elga said, as she got into one of the taxis East Berlin officials had assembled around the Oberbaum Bridge crossing point.

One elderly couple said "it smells the same as ever" as they climbed the unpainted, narrow stairs to a sister's small apartment in a patched-up building still showing the scars of World War II.

The man asked correspondents not to use his name in quoting him because "I want to come back again over Christmas."

Safety Group Urges Care in Toy Choice

AUSTIN (Spl) — The Texas Safety Association today advised Christmas shoppers to keep safety in mind when selecting toys for children.

Mrs. L. E. Dudley, President of Women's Activities for TSA, said toys should be selected that are sturdy and well-made and that are "suitable for the child's age."

"Cheaply constructed toys which may come apart or be broken under strenuous child play, have no place under the Christmas tree," she said.

Mrs. Dudley suggests testing toys for strength. See how much bending it will take and whether it will last past Christmas Day.

In pointing out that toys should be selected to match the child's ability, she said:

"A toy that may easily be handled by an eight-year - old cannot always be handled by a four-year - old. A toy which is too heavy for a child can cause an accident."

She explained that toys for babies and very young children should be washable, large, light in weight and of non-brittle material. All toys made of lead or colored with lead based paints should be avoided.

"Key - winding toys should have a strong spring enclosed in cylinder and keys should not revolve when the toy is in action," she added.

Mrs. Dudley suggested that electric toys should have the label of the Underwriter's Lab (UL) on the cord and the toy itself.

She urged parents to instruct children in the proper way to use a toy. Toys should be inspected regularly and carefully for wear and damage. Check broken edges or splinters.

"Some toys require special handling, such as air rifles, chemistry sets and darts, bows and arrows," she said.

"Assist children in acquiring skill before trusting them alone with such toys."

Eddie Fisher on Way to Mexico

PUERTO VALLARTA, Mexico (UPI)—Eddie Fisher is coming here this weekend, perhaps to seek the divorce that would open the way for Richard Burton to marry Elizabeth Taylor, it was reported today.

Judge Arcadio Estrada Juinones, who granted a divorce to Burton's wife Sybil earlier this week, said Fisher is expected "sometime between Saturday and Monday." He would not say whether the singer plans to file for a "quickie" divorce from Miss Taylor.

Rains in State Benefit Lakes

AUSTIN (UPI) — November rains were credited today with increasing the level of select state lakes.

Storage increased from 7,186,500 acre-feet at the end of October to 7,212,600 acre-feet at the end of November, representing 61 per cent of potential capacity.

"Good rains fell over the eastern half of Texas during the last three weeks to boost monthly rainfall above normal for the first time since late last spring or early summer," the summary of weather conditions said.

It added that lesser amounts fell in West Texas and the lower Rio Grande Valley.

Heaviest amounts fell in North Central and South Central Texas where drought conditions are severe. But the moisture came too late to benefit winter ranges and pastures materially.

The commission said despite November rainfall a deficit in the 1963 rainfall total still exists. Many stations fell 12 to 16 inches below normal for the first 11 months of the year.

So far 1963 has been the driest year on record at Dallas, with only 49 per cent of normal rainfall for a 1963 total of 15.71 inches.

Wall Street Chatter

Reynolds & Co. says that "while the market may be moving into a period of consolidation, the primary uptrend appears very much alive, and a positive investment attitude is warranted."

Bache & Co. notes that "from the standpoint of corporate profits, cash flow and dividend payments to stockholders, 1963 will stack up as a banner year. Early indications point to a continuance of this trend in the first part of 1964. This atmosphere, coupled with the likelihood of a tax cut in 1964, points to a healthy economy."

Moody's investors service says that "cigarette smoking rose to another record in 1963. Favorable results have prompted three industry leaders to raise dividends since the latest health scare began in 1962. It can be expected that the coming of smoking age of the postwar baby crop will expand the cigarette market sufficiently in 1964 and after to offset any possible decline in per - capital consumption."

Dig This Kookie 2,300-lb. Cookie

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — Bethel College sophomore Paul Goodman, San Jose, Calif., won a Christmas cookie baking contest Wednesday by submitting a 2,300-pound cookie.

Goodman said he sold shares to about 250 classmates, raised $350 and bought the ingredients — more than 1,000 pounds of cookie mix, about 800 pounds of powdered sugar and large quantities of shortening.

Sam Sherwood, the somewhat shocked radio station KDWB program director who set up the contest, gave Goodman $3,749, based on an earlier agreement to pay $1.63 a pound for the biggest entry. Sherwood said he had expectd a five pound cookie.

Goodman and volunteers spent most of Tuesday baking the giant cookie in the basement of Elim Baptist Church. They baked five-pound slabs of cookie, assembled them and coated the cookie with frosting.

They hauled the cookie in a pickup truck to the Foshay Tower, where the station has its Minneapolis studios.

Goodman said he will pay his stockholders double their investment and use the rest to help pay his way through college.

Lions Warned of Communist Tricks

Americans should stop their unintentional practice of aiding Communists in efforts to split the people of the nation through the spreading of subtle propaganda, Dr. Smith B. Sypert told a Lions club luncheon audience Thursday in First Methodist Church.

"If our enemy, atheistic communism," Dr. Sypert said, "can get the American people to condemn each other as bigots, breeders of hate, assassins, degenerates and so on, then much of their goal will have been accomplished.

"On every hand we see Communists trying to stir up trouble, trying to get us to fight harder among ourselves. We have only to look back to that black Friday of Nov. 22 to see how Communists work. Only an hour after the assassination of our President, 'The Worker,' official Communist newspaper in the United Seates, was passing out special bulletins on the streets of New York saying that a radical rightist had done this thing.

"Many of our people, even here in Pampa fell for this line and repeated it without bothering to determine if it was a rightist, a leftist or a Communist and when it was determined that it was a Communist these same persons did not bother to say they were wrong, that they had made a mistake — it wasn't a rightist after all. They just didn't say anything at all."

The speaker went on to say that if the nation is to be strong, Americans must stand united to work out internal national and local differences.

"Right now," he said, "the nation finds itself divided on whether we should have a large and more powerful national government, or a smaller, less powerful government that would leave it up to the individual to determine his destiny and the direction his life would take."

Dr. Sypert, who is the Kiwanis Club sponsor for the Pampa High School Key Club, called attention to the Fifth Annual Key Club Church Pilgrimage Sunday when Pampans are asked to join together and walk to church.

A review of the history of the Pilgrimage was given by Dr. Sypert. He urged Pampans to join again in the annual observance.

Also on the Lions Club program Thursday were Athletic Director Weldon Trice and Coach Terry Cully of the Pampa High basketball team.

Visitors included Ann Qualls, Evelyn Roberts, Bill Jenkins, K. B. Pickenpaugh, O. H. Shewmaker, Pat Sasser and Scott Spires.

Stamp Will Honor Sam Houston

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A commemorative stamp honoring Texas hero Sam Houston will be issued in January, a Post Office spokesman said day.

The stamp's issuance originally was set for Dec. 13 but was postponed. It was reported erroneously Wednesday that the postponement was indefinite. Actually, the spokesman said, 130 million stamps showing Houston with a rifle in his hands, will be issued Jan. 10.

The stamp was designed by Texas artist Tom Lea.

SANTA LOSES IMAGE

HITCHIN, England (UPI)— Two mothers complained today that a local department store Santa Claus, George Tabner, destroyed their daughter's faith in Santa because they caught him with his beard off.

Tabner, 65, denying he upset the children, admitted that "I may have been caught at an off-moment when I was not expecting anyone else to come in."

The post oak is the most widely distributed oak in Texas.

Dear Abby....

'Real' Friends Appreciate Honesty From You

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have four children but the little one takes up more of my time than any of the others. You see, she was born with an incomplete stomach (it wasn't fully developed) and she has had six operations already and she isn't even three years old. Well, I have to get up in the night with her many times, and I don't get much sleep. I try to catch a little nap in the afternoons because she sleeps for about an hour then. This friend of mine comes to visit me every afternoon without fail. She is a widow, is lonely and has nowhere else to go. She keeps me from my nap, but I can't tell her not to come or she will be hurt. What can I do?

NO SLEEP

DEAR NO: You are mistaken. A real friend would appreciate your telling her.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow with an 18-year-old daughter. She works with a woman who has a shrimp for a son. He is 22. This woman influenced my daughter to start going with her son because a girl had just thrown him over and he was supposed to be all broken up. Well, before I knew it my daughter was wearing a used engagement ring and now they are talking marriage. When I told her not to be in such a hurry, the boy's mother cinched the deal by getting my daughter to move out of the house and move in with them. So now I am alone and have nothing to say. My daughter never had a boy friend before this one and won't listen to anyone. What can I do?

ON THE OUTSIDE

DEAR ON: Your daughter is of age and there is nothing you can do. Ask her, calmly and without anger, to come home And then attempt to persuade her to give more thought to this marriage.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I dine out often. She likes a second cup of coffee. When I ask the waitress for more coffee, she brings the pot over and starts to pour the coffee into the first cup. So then I say, "Please bring the lady a CLEAN cup," and she gives me a dirty look and says, "The lady HAS a clean cup. Nobody else used it." I am always polite. I tip well and never demand any special service. So what do I say to a waitress who gives me a sarcastic answer like this?

A MAN IN MANHATTAN

DEAR MAN: When requesting a second cup, say, "Please bring the lady a FRESH cup of coffee." And if the waitress is also fresh, you should see the manager.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Include Ways To Store Shoes With Pointed Toes

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — With Christmas shopping with us, my hint is for male shoppers. I keep an up-to-date card in my billfold with my wife's measurements, shoe size, favorite brands in clothing, perfume and cosmetics, her favorite colors and other likes and dislikes. When she drops a hint as to needs or preferences, I jot it down on the card. This saves returning a lot of merchandise as well as giving me the opportunity to shop at sales or at my leisure. I always have something on hand for that unexpected surprise.—N. C.

DEAR POLLY — It was always hard for me to take aspirin tablets. They would dissolve before I could swallow them. Now I put them in the refrigerator. When I need one, I get out a glass of cold water and an aspirin at the same time. They go down easily.—MARY

DEAR POLLY—The reader's suggestion of making a Thread Tree reminded me of a sewing plaque my mother-in-law gave me as a bride 22 years ago. Use a piece of 1-inch-by-12-inch board, about 15 inches long. Sand the ends and rough spots. Drive in two rows of finishing nails, properly spaced to accommodate spools of thread. In the remaining space arrange the following: a cup hook at each end for scissors and a tape measure, a small cork to slip a thimble on, and a small pincushion. Do not add the pincushion until you have painted the board. Tack a strip of heavy ribbon on the top edges of the board so it can hang on the wall.

I put a coat-hook in the back of my closet and on it I hang all the empty coat hangers. They do not clutter up the rod and a hanger is always ready without having to rummage around for one.—MRS. H. L. McA.

GIRLS—The sewing plaque would be a nice Christmas gift idea—different and not expensive. Sorry, girls, it is impossible to return hints to you that we cannot publish.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY — When light switches are taken off the wall to be painted, insert the screws (which fasten them to the wall) into holes punched in the end of a paper cup or a small box. Painting the heads of the screws is then a cinch.—MRS. B. B.

University Students to Be Paid to Study for Exams

MANHATTAN, Kan. (UPI) — More than 100 Kansas State University students will be paid $1.25 an hour next month to study for their final examinations.

The following ad appeared this week in the college newspaper:

"Earn while you learn. Students may study their regular class assignments and prepare for finals in quiet surroundings . . . and earn $1.25 an hour doing it."

It's all part of a basic environmental research program being conducted by the American Society of Heating, Refrigerating and Air Conditioning Engineers (ASHRAE).

Dr. Ralph Nevins, director of Kansas State's new Institute for Environmental Research, said the experiment with 120 students here would duplicate a previous study conducted in a test room at Cleveland. The Cleveland test room was given to Kansas State by ASHRAE.

"The results will tell us if the test room is operating properly and whether Kansas subjects respond the same as Cleveland subjects," Nevins said.

The experiment will be held the first two weeks of January.

Participating students will not get rich from the experiment. Each student will be permitted to take part in only one three-hour test period.

Police repeated a holiday shopping warning today after a report from Mrs. Gerald Alewine, 1021 Neel Rd., that her purse had been stolen in a downtown store.

Mrs. Alewine said she laid the purse on some merchandise, walked away and it was gone when she returned a few minutes later.

The purse contained $50 in cash, she told police.

The Ol' Swami Predicts

By JEFF COHANE

THE OL' SWAMI dons his turban, assumes the meditative position and gazes into the cracked crystal ball for the last time this grid season. It has been a long and topsy - turvy year of upsets, with only Otis the Hat Holladay picking the winners. Original plan was to give Brown Smith a last chance to beat Otis out for first place and the Swami to knock Brown out of second, but moles and football coaches go underground during the winter. Since there seems no doubt that Eural "Skinhead" Ramsey and Ray "Tech all the way" Howard were stone cold losers, popular demand is that they come across with the steaks, since they are both so far behind they couldn't catch up if Slippery Rock was to beat the New York Giants.

Anyway, here are the peerless prognostications for the last time around:

GARLAND 21, MILLER 16. . . I hate to pick against my home town team (they'll lynch me when I get home this weekend), but Garland has impressed, and according to a very well - regarded college coach travelling through, has been the best in the state all along.

CORSICANA 14, PHARR SAN JUAN-ALAMO 13. . .Again I hate to pick against a home-area team, but Corsicana has the better record.

DULLES 21, ROCKWALL 0 Said I would stick with my old coach all the way.

PETERSBURG 28, GEORGE WEST 22. . .Again I am turning traitor to South Texas, but Petersburg is tough!

AND, SINCE the Swami is heading home for a Christmas vacation this Saturday and won't be back until after New Year's, best the ol' crystal takes a look at the bowl games.

TEXAS 21, NAVY 14. . . . . Rah-rah Roger Staubach or not, Navy lost to SMU, their only mutual opponent, while the Horns beat the Mustangs. This has to give UT the edge.

ILLINOIS 21, WASHINGTON 17. . .Big Ten every time, the odds are with me.

MISSISSIPPI 28, ALABAMA 7. . .Without Joe Namath, Bama doesn't have a prayer.

AIR FORCE 7, NORTH CAROLINA 6. . .A tossup.

BAYLOR 14, LSU 13. . .Ditto

MISSISSIPPI STATE 21, NORTH CAROLINA STATE 0 . . .NC State just no match.

OREGON 17, SMU 14. . .Battle of also-rans.

ONE OF THE greatest pleasures the Ol' Swami has ever had was the discomfiture of Leo the Lip Dromgoole and a hostile and unsportsmanlike Borger audience Tuesday night as the Harvesters toppled the Bulldogs. Our poison- pen brother-at-arms had spoken rather disparagingly (to put it mildly!) of the Harvesters' chances, picking Borger by a score of 115-0. This column faithfully reprinted all of Lippy's nasty comments and it was one of the key factors that fired the Harvesters up to victory.

Brother Leo was rather harassed during the tilt as several

Pampa fans earnestly discussed lynching him, while the Shockers came over and sugested that he would look better hanging from the basket. (Leo also mentioned that his life had been threatened last week, and was wearing a bandage on his somewhat noticeable nose, proof that Pampans are not the only ones who "love" him.) Leo was also harassed by constant references to his predicted score, especially by several Harvesters who went to the bench in the fourth quarter, indicating the scoreboard to him as they did so.

The final climax came when coach Terry Culley approached me and credited several articles for having inspired the team. I passed off the thanks as being more appropriate to Leo and coach Culley oblized, tendering Leo a copy of his prediction with the suggestion that he might find it tasty to eat. Tsk, tsk, Leo will never learn!

Actually, to prove that Pampa is not the only team to suffer backstabbing and bigotry at the hands of the "Borger beatnik", following are the headlines used by him when Tascosa lost the semifinals to Garland by one point: "Tascosa Chokes. . . . ., Luck Runs Out For Rookies." Real sportsmanlike attitude and impartial reporting, wouldn't you say?

✦ ✦ ✦

BEFORE WE CLOSE, we had better clear a certain official who is a good friend. Said official, whom we have left nameless, was discussing the Borger - Pampa game at a recent basketball tournament. I quoted the official as saying that a Borger player had slugged Kenny Hebert first. The official says I misunderstood him and he did not say that. Also, that while the officials made a mistake about not calling Borger for having 12 players on the field while making a score, they did not find out about the mistake until after the game was over. If I misunderstand, I plead forgiveness and understanding during the Yuletide season.

✦ ✦ ✦

A VERY MERRY White Christmas to all of you. I'll take mine sunny, warm and snowless. Anyone with an axe to grind sports - wise can locate me for the next two weeks somewhere on the Laguna Madre between Corpus Christi Bay and the Gulf of Mexico. Just look for the nearest redfish and I'll be on the other end. Happy holiday!

Harvesters Come Home Tonight Against Tough Palo Duro Dons

The Pampa Harvesters come home tonight for only the second time this season, to host the rough and tough Palo Duro Dons in what could be a key district 3-AAAA ball game.

The two teams, both of them relegated to also-ran status by the 'experts' before the season began, have developed into potent threats, Palo Duro winning eight of 10 and with a 2-1 district record, and the youthful Harvesters fast developing into a smooth and veteran ball club.

Pampa has had only one home game this season in posting a 3-6 season and 1-1 district record, having played Phillips here back on Dec. 2 and having spent the rest of the year on the road. Digging in for a lengthy home stand, the hustling Harvesters are bouyed by their big win over Borger Tuesday, 64-41.

Playing their finest game of the year, Pampa literally defensed the powerful Bulldogs off the court, leading almost all the way.

A pep rally this morning started things off for Pampa, with a hope of far better fan support than at the Phillips game and the away trips.

"These boys need fan support in order to keep the winning spirit going," said coach Terry Culley, "and we guarantee the fans a first-class ball game in return. The few fans at Borger saw the hustlingest ball club we have ever put out . . . these kids deserve to be seen.

"It was the best team game they have played . . . they're getting the experience, the poise and the confidence, and they're not losing the hustle or desire. Charlie Price, who scored 21 points and took the boards away from Borger's big boy, played the best game of his life. So did Rick Stewart, who hit his career scoring high.

"Danny Heil has been our most pleasant surprise. In his second starting game, he displayed the cool poise of a veteran. His defensive play was more valuable than his scoring against Lubbock. Ropes Roper has improved steadily as a rebounder, and a scorer, as well as a fine defenseman.

"Kenny Hebert has settled into the guard slot like he's always played there. He still shot his average, 13 points, got his share of the rebounds and did a fine floor job."

Culley warned however, that Palo Duro was not to be taken lightly. "They're an up - and-down ball club," said the Harvester skipper. "If they are hitting, they can beat anybody, and they've been hitting most of the season. They beat Tascosa 30 points and beat the Sandies 10 points, but lost to Monterey by 30.

"Height will be about even, but they have experience on us. It will be pretty close. They have three starters back. Their best boy, Gene Storrs, who scored 22 against Tascosa Tuesday, is an ex-Pampa boy. Gene played on the Lee 9th grade team with Rick Stewart and Gary Sikes, but moved to Amarillo. Mike Echols, 6-2, is a real good boy, his brother played for a state championship team, and Terry Simpson their big boy, is also a returning starter.

"This game can be real important. Both teams were low-rated before the season, both have surprised people, and the winner could get a big lift to going a long way."

Tonight's action opens at 6:15 when the undefeated Shockers go after their tenth straight win against Palo Duro B.

ALL-AROUND — Rick Stewart has turned into the all-around man for the Pampa Harvester basketball team. Playmaker and ball-handler, Stewart is an ace ballhawk and defensive player, and also a good shot both from the outside and on drives, hitting 15 points against Borger in his last outing. Mira Gets Good Pass Receivers

MIAMI (UPI) — George Mira should have plenty of what he lacked during the regular season when he teams with Dick Shiner of Maryland to make a passing show of the annual North-South All-Star game Saturday.

Mira, an All-America last year, had a losing campaign with Miami's Hurricanes this year, primarily because his receivers couldn't handle his passes.

But he and Shiner should both have plenty of catchers on the South's All-Star squad, and Coach Tom Nugent has made no secret of his plans for making the most of the throwing abilities of the two quarterbacks.

"We've got to go for the passing game," Nugent said. "With Mira and Shiner both available, it's our best bet."

The array of receivers inculdes Stan Crisson of Duke, Fuss Brown of Florida, Clem Dellenger of Tulane, Ernie Arrize of Maryland, and two of Mira's favorite targets from the Hurricanes, end Hoyt Sparks and halfback Nick Spinelli.

Miami Boys Victors, Warriorettes Losers

By MILO O'LAUGHLIN
News Sports Correspondent

SPEARMAN — The Miami Warriors rolled to a 44-32 win over the Spearman Lynx last night, but the towering Lynxettes set back the Miami Warriorettes, 55-41.

In another of their patented low-scoring defensive duels, the Warriors won again as Jody Holland, aided by Ray Guerrero, Roy Bean and Wayne Daugherty, completely dominated the rebounds, sparking a second-half surge by Miami to wrap up the tilt, their fifth straight win.

In a cold-shooting first quarter, Wayne Pattison led Spearman to an 8-5 lead. A bucket by Bean just before the buzzer put the Tribe into a 13-12 quarter lead.

Little Lewis Holland came in in the third quarter and pumped seven points into the bucket, sparking Miami to a 25-20 margin, and Bean, Lewis and Daugherty headed a fourth quarter wrapup.

Bean had 13, Lewis 11 and Daugherty nine points, Pattison had eight to head the hosts.

A disastrous first quarter and a cold fourth quarter sent Miami girls down to their third loss in 12 games, two of the losses to Spearman. Miami just couldn't find the bucket in the first frame while 6-2 Phyllis Patterson hit steadily to give the Lynxettes a 14-2 lead.

Connie Dodson caught fire in the second period, and the all-district forward rattled the nets to bring Miami to within 23-18 at the half. Connie and Cheryl Gill kept scoring while the defense tightened up against Phyllis and the Warriorettes sliced to within 33-32 going into the final frame.

Miami suddenly went stone-dead from the floor again and failed to make a basket during the entire period, getting all nine points on free throws by Connie, while Phyllis wrapped it up for Spearman, finishing the game with 31 points. Connie had 27.

Miami takes Christmas off and returns to action Dec. 30 at Canadian.

Northern Bracket Playoff Favorite

By ED FITE
UPI Sports Writer

Garland, Corsicana, Rockwall and Petersburg will be favored to give the state's northern bracket a clean sweep of the Tex as schoolboy football championships tomorrow and tomorrow night.

None of them, however, is more than a one - touchdown favorite and, based on the upset trend which marked the entire playoff slate up to now, it would cause very little surprise if all four games went the other way.

Garland faces Corpus Christi Miller at Austin in the Class AAAA title game, Corsicana engages Pharr - San Juan - Alamo at Victoria in the AAA showdown and Rockwall plays Missouri City Dulles at Waco for the AA crown with all games set for 2 p.m. kickoffs.

The Garland - Miller game will be televised in some areas of Texas.

Petersburg and George West clash at 7:30 p.m. at Lubbock for the Class A flag.

New Champs Certain

Regardless of the outcomes there will be four new champions crowned since San Antonio Brackenridge (AAAA), Dumas (AAA), Jacksboro (AA) and Rotan (A) all fell by the wayside.

Brackenridge was put out by San Antonio Lee in bi - district play, Dumas fell to Graham in the regional round, Jacksboro bowed to Rockwall in the quarterfinals and Rotan didn't even get outside its own district.

Garland's surprising surge to the finals sets the stage for Coach Charles (Chuck) Curtis to become the first Texas high school coach to win back-to-back titles in different divisions. Curtus piloted Jacksboro last season before moving to Garland.

Miller, Corsicana, Pharr - San Juan-Alamo, Dulles and Petersburg began the season with prospects of going far in the state race, but the other finals survivors developed into contenders the hard way.

Ragus' Potential

Miller started the season with 16 lettermen, eight of them regulars, and was being touted at the coaching school in Houston in August as having "good state potential" under Coach Pete Ragus' guiding hand.

Corsicana, too, was loaded with experienced help from a team that lost only 14-13 to semifinalist Jacksonville a year ago. Pharr - San Juan - Alamo had 15 lettermen, including seven defensive and four offensive regulars back from a team that compiled an 11-2-1 record last year in going to the finals where it lost to Dumas 14-3.

Dulles also had 15 lettermen, including five regulars, returning from 1962's quarterfinals team that bowed out on penetration in a 3-3 tie game with Sinton.

Petersburg was rated at the coaching school as a team that "could go all the way" with 16 lettermen, including six regulars, that bowed out in the regional round last year 8-7 to Sunday.

Curtis Was Hope

But, Garland had only six regulars — two of them were lost before the season even started — from a 4-6 losing season and Curtis' coaching was the main bright spot in the Owl camp.

Rockwall was rated only the No. 2 team in its district behind Plano despite 16 lettermen from a team that lost 24-16 to eventual champion Jacksboro.

George West, with six regulars among only nine lettermen, was picked to win its district, but coaching school observers said the winner would "not be a very strong state playoff contender."

RELIGIOUS WRITER STATES

LBJ Exemplifies 'Mobility' Which Is Characteristic of U.S. Protestantism

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

In his churchgoing habits, President Lyndon B. Johnson exemplifies the "mobility" which is characteristic of U.S. Protestantism.

In the jargon of religious sociologists, "mobility" refers to the widespread American tendency to move casually from one church to another, ignoring denominational lines.

President Johnson has exhibited it to such a degree that it is difficult to pin an accurate denominational label on him, or to identify any particular local congregation as "the President's church."

Officially, he is still a member of the First Christian Church of Johnson City, Tex., a small white frame church near his ranch which he has attended off and on since boyhood.

It has a congregation of 70 members, all of whom Johnson knows by name. It does not have a full-time minister, but services are conducted weekly by a lay preacher, Roy Akin.

LYNDON B. JOHNSON
. . . Expresses Mobility

"Mr. Johnson takes an active interest in our church, and contributes to its support," Akin told a UPI reporter. "He is a devout man with strong convictions."

When he is staying at his LBJ Ranch, Johnson sometimes drives into Austin, Tex., on Sunday mornings to attend services at the Central Christian Church, which has a congregation of 1,100 persons.

Its pastor, the Rev. Dr. John Barclay, described the President as "a very religious man who has a deep faith."

Dr. Barclay added that Johnson is "not an every-Sunday churchgoer."

"His chief expression of religion is his service to his fellow man through his government work," said the Austin minister. "He has a passionate devotion to this."

Both the First Christian Church of Johnson City and the Central Christian Church of Austin are affiliated with the International Convention of Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ), a major Protestant body which has 8,000 local congregations and more than 1,800,000 members in all parts of the United States. It is particularly strong in Texas and in the South and Midwest.

The Disciples of Christ movement grew out of the great religious revival which swept America in the early 19th century. It should not be confused with the Churches of Christ, another large Protestant group with a similar name.

Share With Baptists

Disciples share with Baptists an insistence on Baptism by total immersion. They observe the Lord's Supper every Sunday. Like most Protestants, they lay great stress on the Bible, and believe that each church member should be free to interpret it for himself. The only doctrinal test for membership is a simple affirmation of faith in Jesus Christ. Disciples have always been ardent advocates of Christian unity — a cause they espoused more than a century before it became fashionable.

There are at least 20 Disciples churches in Washington, including the famous National City Christian Church on Thomas Circle. But Johnson rarely attends any of them.

When he participates in public worship in the nation's capital, it is usually at an Episcopal church. His wife, Lady Bird, and both of their daughters are Episcopalians.

When Johnson was in the Senate, his wife and daughters regularly attended services at St. Mark's Episcopal Church on Capitol Hill, and he sometimes accompanied them.

While he was vice president, Johnson and his wife sometimes attended Washington Cathedral, the headquarters of the Episcopal Diocese of Washington. The cathedral was close to their home in the Spring Valley section of northwest Washington, and heir younger daughter, Lucy Baines, is enrolled in its school for girls.

Every Sunday

Since his inauguration as President, Johnson has attended church every Sunday, alternating between St. Mark's on Capitol Hill and St. John's Episcopal Church on Lafayette Square, opposite the White House. St. John's is the historic old "church of presidents" which has served as a place of worship for White House occupants since the time of Abraham Lincoln.

The Rev. William MacN. Baxter, rector of St. Mark's, probably has the closest pastoral relationship to Johnson of any Washington clergyman. He acknowledged, in reply to a reporter's question, "that Johnson has taken a more active interest in religion since the burdens of the presidency descended on his shoulders," said the Rev. Mr. Baxter. "He is presently the most powerful man in the world, and in this perspective, he knows himself to be someone in need. He is open and humble and deeply serious about seeking God's help."

Dr. Bratcher Will Conduct Special Christmas Eve Candle Services

Dr. Hubert Bratcher, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will preach at the two morning services this Sunday. The 8:45 a.m. service is broadcast over radio station KPDN. The special music for both services will be a solo by Suzy Benton, who will sing "The Virgin's Slumber Song" by Regger. At the first service an octet will sing the 15th century French Carol, "Sing Noel." At the second service, the Sanctuary Singers and the youth choir will also sing the Carol, "Sing Noel."

The youth choir meets at 5 p.m. Sunday, followed by Sunday Fellowship at 5:45 p.m. with a light supper for the entire family in Fellowship Hall. There will be no Sunday evening Fellowship due to the Pampa Pilgrimage.

First Methodist Church will participate in the Fifth Annual Pampa Pilgrimage, sponsored by the Pampa Key Club. Meeting at 5 p.m. Sunday at the Ideal Parking Lot, leaving the meeting place at 5:15 and walking to the church with the Worship Services beginning at 6 p.m.

Special Christmas Eve Service

Dr. Hubert Bratcher will conduct special Christmas Eve candle lighting services that will be held in the Sanctuary at 11 p.m. December 24 Carols will be sung by the congregation with the Bell Choir playing, and a special violin number "O, Holy Night" by Mrs. Hugh carson. The Sanctuary Singers and Youth Choir will also present Christmas Carols.

Guest Minister To Be Present At Lamar Church

Lamar Christian will have a guest minister in the pulpit at the 10:45 a.m. worship service. Bryce Hubbard, who is an ordained minister of the Church of the Brethren, will bring the Christmas message. John King, worship chairman, will be in charge of this and other services for the day.

David Robertson, of our local Key Club, will also address the congregation about the details of the annual Christmas Pilgrimage. Members and friends are to assemble at the park in Prairie Village and make their pilgrimage to the church with their White Gifts for needy families.

Following this program Lamar will have their Annual Christmas Party around the tree under the direction of Mrs. Wayne Mulanax. The entire day will be dedicated to families at Christian worship.

'Winter Without Christmas' Subject

"Winter Without Christmas" is the sermon to be delivered by Rev. Glyn B. Adsit at the morning worship service at the First Christian Church. The evening service begins with the "Pampa Pilgrimage" walk to Church. Our Church is asked to meet at Ideal Parking Lot number one by 5:30 p.m. We will walk to church from there and our program begins at 6 p.m. when we will cooperate with other Churches in Pampa, via radio. Following the short worship service, under the sponsorship of Key Club, we will have our Christmas program which will be a moving picture for all ages. After the film we will have a visit by Santa Claus and sacks of candy will be given out.

Special Christmas Music Will Be at 1st Presbyterian

Special Christmas music and a welcome to all returning college students and friends will be a part of the Morning Worship at the First Presbyterian Church on Suhday. The sermon, "In The Fullness Of Time," will be based upon the first chapter of John and Galations 4:4.

All members young and old will participate in the Pampa Pilgrimage Sunday — meeting at Ideal No. 1 between 5 and 5:30 p.m. and then walking to church for special family worship at 6 p.m. All Choirs will sing at the evening services and the Christmas Story will be reenacted by the Senior High Fellowship under the direction of Mrs. McHenry Lane.

The Young People of the Church will build an outdoor Nativity scene on the Church lawn again this year and the Pageant will be presented on Monday and Tuesday from 6:30 — 8:30 p.m.

On Christmas Eve there will be a Service of Carols and Candles at 11:30 p.m. in the Sanctuary.

STAR OF CHRISTMAS RAISED AT METHODIST HOME

Boys of the Methodist Home in Waco, Texas, place a huge 70 pound Star of Christmas on the steeple of the Harrell Memorial Chapel. The Star was made by the children in their vocational training shop. The light of the star will summon the children to special worship services on Christmas Eve. Four hundred fifty children live in cottages providing a home-like atmosphere. Christian teachings are emphasized at the Home in its program of providing hope for the future for boys and girls separated from their families by death, poverty, or other misfortunes. Since the Methodist Home was founded over 73 years ago over 8,600 children have come under its care. The Home is supported by Methodists in Texas and New Mexico.

Annual Christmas Program Presented at St. Matthew's

The annual Christmas Program presented by St. Matthew's Episcopal Day School was given this morning in the church.

The pageant was written by Rev. William E. West and directed by Miss Rosemary Lawlor, director of music, and assisted by the teachers of the school. Mrs. Charlene Spears was the organist. The program began with a poem read by Nathan Taylor, fourth grade student and then the reading of the Old Testament prophecy from Isaiah. Hymns and carols were interspersed with Bible readings telling of the birth of Jesus to the coming of the Wise-Men. A choral reading closed the program given by Kathy Kennedy, Sarah Fatheree, Cynthia Sidwell and Leigh Sidwell. Students portraying other characters were, The Virgin Mary, Stehpanie Imel; Saint Joseph, Richard Edminister; Angel Gabriel, Martha Copper. The Shepherds were Mitchell Freeman, Kirk Imel and James Ticer; wise men, E. B. Ellis, Tim Fatheree and Steve Wilson Angels, Shelly Reid and Karen Strawn.

Following the program in the church refreshments were served in the Parish House. The students brought gifts of canned food to give to a family they had adopted at Christmastide.

'Glory of the Star' Cantata At St. Paul

"The Glory of the Star", a Christmas Cantata with the text by Frank L. Cross and the music by Stewart Landon, will be presented Sunday night by the choir of the St. Paul Methodist Church under the direction of Mrs. Jack Riely. The organist will be Mrs. Lois Fagan.

The soloists will be Mrs. Joe Gates, Mrs. Bob Lee, Mrs. Bill Hood and Jack Riley.

A quartet composed of Mrs. Bill Sargent, Mrs. Sam Steadman, Frankie Steadman and Jack Riley will sing, "Never Shone a Star So Fair".

Mrs. Otis Holliday will read the scripture story during the cantata. We will participate in the Pampa Pilgrimage at 5:30 p.m. and the cantata will be given in the sanctuary of the church at 6. We will not have our regularly scheduled Sunday Fellowships.

CAN APPLY, BUT...

BONN (UPI)—East Germans who lost their property when they fled to the West can apply for compensation, the West German Refugee Ministry announced today.

But it won't do them any good, the ministry added, because no such compensation will be paid.

'True Meaning of Christmas' Is Sunday Lecture

"The True Meaning of Christmas" will be the sermon subject of the Rev. Russell G. West on Sunday at the Church of the Brethren, 600 N. Frost. There will be special music by the choir, and the worship service will be built around scripture reading and the singing of Christmas Hymns. A Nursery with a trained attendant will be provided for babies and small children. Sunday School will open at 9:45 a.m. with a message by Wayne D. Irwin.

On Sunday evening the Church will participate in the annual Pampa Pilgrimage. Following the Pilgrimage program the children's department, under the direction of Peggy Patrick, will present a Christmas program. As a closing feature, Christmas treats will be presented to the children of the Sunday School.

Committee Announces Meeting Places for Annual Worship Event

By JIM SHELHAMER

In Pampa, Christmas takes on a deeper meaning when several thousand people leave their homes, and walk in family groups, to the Church of their choice on a Sunday night before Christmas week.

JIM SHELHAMER
. . . directing Pilgrimage

This year, we will walk Sunday. Your Church has been assigned to one of the near gathering points. If you do not know where you begin your Pilgrimage, contact your Church. Congregations will first meet at one of these points: Furr Food Parking Lot, Ideal No. 1 Parking Lot, Ideal No. 3 Parking Lot on East Brown Street, Prairie Village Park and Carver School.

From the night when Wise Men followed a brilliant star to the manger in Bethlehem, to this day, many faithful Christians have taken long pilgrimages. They visit holy places and from the earliest dawn of Christianity it has seemed proper that the pilgrims should walk.

Pampa does not attempt to imitate these faithful men and women who traveled many miles to visit a shrine, but we do borrow the humility, devotion and faith of greater pilgrimages and demonstrate them here. We walk with neighbors, families, and friends. We sing great hymns. We unite in a great demonstration of America's faith in God, and our personal devotion to Christ. The Pampa Pilgrimage is a holy and righteous act of faith.

Join with any of the congregations as we meet at 5 p.m. Sunday. When the pilgrims start to walk you will find a spirit you may never have known, or once knew and have forgotten.

The Pampa Key Club invites you to come, be a Pilgrim. The worship hours will be in the usual pattern of your Church. The Pilgrimage only hopes to persuade an overwhelming number of loyal Christians to be in Church at the same moment as thousands of others are in praise of the Christ Child.

Next, Self-Correcting Secretary for Ribbon

The Lighter Side
By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U. S. Patent Office issued a patent this week for a "self-correcting typewriter ribbon." It was described as the answer to a secretary's prayer.

A secretary I know put one on her typewriter and it worked fine. The ribbon hasn't made a mistake yet.

Now if only someone will invent a self-correcting secretary, the world will be a better place in which to dictate.

Actually, the "self-correcting" label is a bit of a misnomer. The ribbon was not designed to correct its own mistakes but to make it easier for a secretary to correct hers.

William Wolowitz, a local man who invented it, has high hopes that it will become a commercial success. He conceded, however, that it is not a "panacea."

Still Slight Problem

In other words, the ribbon will not solve the problem of a secretary who can't spell "panacea." She will still need a dictionary. Or a smart office boy.

The fact that Wolowitz's invention is not the final answer to typing errors was demonstrated in a press release that I received from the Spellright Corp., which markets the ribbon.

Whoever typed the release goofed up the patent number. Made it 3144447 instead of 3114447.

Had the secretary who typed the release caught the mistake at the time, she could have corrected it with the ribbon, which has an inked strip for typing and chalked strip for erasing.

Here Is Procedure

The procedure is as follows: Backspace to the first 4 and strike the key again with the ribbon in the chalk position. That would erase it. Then backspace again and hit the figure 1 with the ribbon in the ink position.

That done, the secretary would finish typing the release. Or perhaps take a coffee break.

Eventually, Wolowitz predicted, it will not be necessary to operate the ribbon shift lever to correct mistakes. He feels that typewriters of the future should have an "error key" that would change the ribbon position automatically.

He feels that way because he also has invented an error key.

At present, the erasure part of the ribbon is white. Therefore, it only works on white paper. But Wolowitz said plans are afoot to produce it in pastel shades, which will make it possibly to rectify colorful mistakes.

There is one problem, however, that has not been solved. The ribbon can only make erasures on one copy at a time.

That will prove to be a handicap for government secretaries, who make all of their mistakes in triplicate.

SIGNS BILL

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson Thursday signed a catch-all appropriations bill containing $5.1 billion for the U.S. space agency.

In a statement Johnson voiced concern, however, about a provision banning any joint U.S.-Soviet moon flight without consent of Congress. He said there was no chance of such a project in the current fiscal year and the restriction was undesirable in principle.

ASK APPROVAL

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Norfolk and Western and Nickel Plate railroads asked the Interstate Commerce Commission Thursday to approve their merger proposal as soon as possible.

The railroads said that rejection of the merger or delay in ICC approval would block for years any further realignment of eastern railroads.

Scientist Will Explain Birth Of Christ Sunday

The virgin birth of Christ Jesus will be explained in this Sunday's Bible Lesson at all Christian Science churches.

Readings from the Bible will include the angel's message to Mary: "The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee: therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God" (Luke 1:35).

From the Christian Science textbook, these lines will be read: "The illumination of Mary's spiritual sense put to silence material law and its order of generation, and brought forth her child by the revelation of Truth, demonstrating God as the Father of men" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy P. 29).

The Lesson-Sermon is entitled: "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?"

NICKLIS TAKES OVER

PEACE ON EARTH

Today many nations are declaring their desire to contribute to world peace. Centuries have passed since the night when the Savior was born and shepherds heard the heavenly host saying (Luke 2:14) 'Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace, good will toward men." But the truth of that message continues to overcome contention and will do so until God's peaceful kingdom is fully known to all the world. Christ Jesus came to establish peace and He knew that the divisions between nation's has to be overcome before there could be peace on earth.

The Christmas season brings the subject of peace into sharp focus, and reminds the world to place peace upon a spiritual rather than a material basis. Honest efforts to unite humanity in peaceful pursuits and relations show the influence of divine Love as it penetrates the perverse beliefs of materialists and brings about a more humane society. Mary Baker Eddy, the founder of Christian Science says in "Pulpit and Press" "Only what feeds and fills the sentiment with unworldliness can give peace and good will toward men." If we would be the wise pilgrim on this earth scene we must follow the Star of Bethlehem, which is the light of the world. Guidance from God is not always in line with our human desires and personal plans, but it will always lead us into the demonstration of harmony with the workers of true Christianity and into the paths of service for our fellow men. The world is benefited by the faith of those who follow the counsel of James (3:18), "The fruit of righteousness is sown in peace of them that make peace."

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself, no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

UN Fifth Column

Lord Beaverbrook, the noted British Publisher, once remarked that, "Here in New York City, you Americans have the biggest fifth column in the world the United Nations."

In the 18-year history of the bigest fifth column in the organization, there have been numerous examples to prove his statement, the most recent when two members of the Russian UN mission were arrested on accusations of receiving from an American engineer secrets concerning the Strategic Air Command.

The incident points to the fact that whatever interest the Soviet Union may have in eliminating the "ancient enemies of mankind — disease, hunger, ignorance, poverty—" it is at least secondary in importance to the USSR's goal of world control.

This intransigent communist crusade is acknowledged in the written and spoken blueprints for the "new society" and demonstrated again and again by deed after deed. To ignore it is to become the victim of self-induced euphoria.

If all the governments represented in the United Nations were as eager to promote world harmony, and all that that entails, as are so many Americans of goodwill who see only the surface trappings of idealism that camouflage the realities of the U.N. then perhaps the organization might accomplish what it ostensibly was established to do — provide peace and security.

But governments are not people. Governments are politicians, dictators and tyrants. Sometimes they do what the people they represent want them to do, but the lessons of history teach us that none of them is to be trusted, if what the people want is the peace and security that can come only through freedom. "Liberty has never come from the government," declared Woodrow Wilson, adding that, "The history of liberty is a history of limitations of government power, not the increase of it."

If that is true, how can we ever achieve freedom for mankind — that is, the traditional American concept of freedom— if we strive for it in concert with some of the most oppressive dictatorships of all time?

Former President Herbert Hoover recognized the impossibility of the U.S. achieving anything worthwhile through the United Nations when he advised, "Unless the U.N. is completely reorganized without the communist nations in it, we should get out of it."

Britain's new prime minister, Lord Home, also acknowledged the difference in the concept and the actuality in the U.N. when he stated in 1961 when he was foreign secretary, "Russia's decision to subordinate the main purpose of the (U.N.) charter to her own national ends was the first breach in the spirit of the charter and the first threat to the life and the United Nations."

The United Nations, through its subsidiary organization, has set out to do all manner of things for all peoples, using methods that Americans of a few generations ago would have denounced as the worst kind of debilitating paternalism. The new world government is going to provide all the necessities for the good life for all who don't have them and regardless of why they don't have them. Even Louis D. Brandeis, justice of the United States Supreme Court and not noted for his conservative views, warned us to be most on our guard to protect liberty when the government's purpose are beneficent."

Dr. Vernon O. Watts, of the Foundation for Social Research, concluded, after a study of the United Nations, that it's primary purpose was the "expansion of government," no matter what it was originally intended to be.

Examining U.N. documents, Dr. Watts stated that "they are covenants, proposals, plans and arguments for compelling individuals to accept government's solution to every human problem from the bearing of children to burying the dead, from organized labor to going to school, from enjoying a vacation to having a tooth pulled. Conventions for abolishing private employment agencies, for stopping criticisms of foreign governments, for preventing 'mental harm,' for controlling agricultural production, allocating raw materials, fixing exchange rates, redistributing the world's wealth—these are a few samples of the UN agencies' proposals for coercive regulation and control of the minutest detail of individual conduct everywhere in the world."

Dr. Watts concluded, "These are not proposals for establishing legal civil rights to protect the individual person's God-given human rights. They are not uses of police force in human affairs; they are proposals to expand police power."

To subscribe to U.N. tenets is to turn our backs on the tenets of the American revolution and to accept the Old World ideas of security through government intervention, through "collective security."

Here is where Americans, innocent and trusting, are mislead. When we say "freedom," we mean the freedom of choice of the individual. But that is not what collectivists mean by the word. To them "freedom" means that the individual is "freed" from the "burden" of having to decide anything for himself — his government performs these tasks for him, and, therefore, freedom means submission and obedience to government.

Possible Goldwater Withdrawal Influencing Sen. Smith To Stay Out of New Hampshire Primary

WASHINGTON—Senator Margaret Chase Smith has just about concluded to stay out of New Hampshire's Republican presidential primary.

Reserving, of course, woman's traditional privilege, the charming and astute Maine legislator may change her mind. But barring a last - minute reversal, she is leaving the potentially highlyimportant March 10 test to other aspirants.

A primary factor in this decision is growing backstage indications that Senator Barry Goldwater may pull out of the presidential fray.

That eventuality immeasurably changes the New Hampshire picture.

In a three - cornered race, involving Governor Rockefeller and Goldwater, Mrs. Smith, offering a middle-of - the-road alternative, figured to have a good chance to win. But with Goldwater out, the situation would be radically different.

Mrs. Smith would be faced with a straight - out fight against Rockefeller with distinctly uncertain prospects.

The New Yorker already is busily and extensively organizing in the New England battleground. Taking advantage of the political moratorium during the mourning period for President Kennedy, Rockefeller's partisans are swarming over New Hampshire preparing for an all-out drive starting early next year.

The inside word is that he will wage a "saturation" campaign, and all signs point to that. There appears to be no lack of personnel or money.

Indications of Senator Goldwater's apparent withdrawal thinking are growing.

Close colleagues of National Chairman William Miller are quoting him as increasingly convinced the Arizonan will abandon the 1964 nomination scramble. The same kind of private talk is coming from Senator Thruston Morton, Ky., Miller's predecessor and now chairman of the Senate Republican Campaign Committee.

An avowed vice presidential aspirant, Morton has been leaning strongly toward Goldwater. Now he is telling friends he doubts Goldwater will run.

Senator Norris Cotton, N. H., Goldwater leader in that state, is credited as being greatly worried about this possibility. Some weeks ago, because of the stepped-up Rockefeller operations, Cotton urged Goldwater to declare without further delay. Cotton warned that silence was playing into Rockefeller's hands, as local leaders were committing themselves.

Goldwater has disregarded this importunate counsel.

TEEN - AGER'S CHOICE — Those handsome young Secret Service men guarding Lucy Baines Johnson, 16 - year - old daughter of the President, are no accident.

The vivacious teen-ager picked them herself.

That's what her delighted classmates at National Cathedral School for Girls are gaily relating. As they tell it, when Lucy was notified that three Secret Servicemen would be assigned to protect her when she was outside White House confines, she pertly asked that a group be sent over so she could select those she wanted.

"She picked the best-looking," her classmates beamingly report, "and they certainly are darling."

Secret Service Chief James Rowley has no comment on this account.

STRANGE BEDFELLOWS — President Johnson's old congressional pals not only are busily cleaning up the long-stalled legislative calendar for him, but they are also providing a payroll roost for four members of his staff.

They are Walter Jenkins, long-time administrative assistant; George Reedy, press aide; Clifford Carter and Jack Valenti, Texans summoned by Johnson to help him.

Although working in the White House directly for the new President, the quartet is on the payrolls of the Senate and House Appropriations Committees — at the maximum salary allowed for their staffs of $18,500.

That's somewhat less than the White House pay scale for their jobs.

This unusual backstage arrangement is due to Johnson's retention of the late President Kennedy's staff. As White House funds are budgeted on a quarterly basis, money was not available to pay the four new Johnson assistants. To find a way out of this dilemma, Johnson appealed to his old congressional friends who came up with the answer.

They cited President Truman's stratagem in a similar situation. He temporarily put his staff on the payrolls of congressional committees. So Johnson is doing the same until the new year.

JOHNSON CHANGES—Soundings are being taken by President Johnson on moving the time and place of the Democratic national convention scheduled for the last week in August in Atlantic City. So far the reaction of party leaders is mixed. Representative Neil Stabler, Mich., national committeeman, favors shifting the convention to Detroit in the first week of August. Other Democratic chiefs see no reason to change. The question will be discussed at a national committee meeting early next year. . . . A change has been made in one important Democratic event. The date of the third annual gala, at which theatrical and other stars were to perform in honor of President and Mrs. Kennedy, has been moved to March 16. And instead of being a gala, the occasion will revert to its old $100-a-plate dinner form. President Johnson and other notables will give talks.

William Macomber Jr., Ambassador to Jordan, is slated for a top job in the rejuggled Latin American program. A Republican, Macomber will either be named to a key place in the Alliance for Progress or succeed Edwin Martin, Assistant Secretary for Inter - American Affairs, who will be shifted to an ambassadorial post. In the Eisenhower administration, Macomber was Assistant Secretary of State for Congressional Relations, and has many friends in both parties on Capitol Hill.

Erle Cocke Jr., member of the World Bank, is working closely with President Johnson and Senator Richard Russell, D-Ga., leader of the Southern block. Cocke is an old friend of both, and the inside word is he may be shifted to a top place in the Democratic National Committee for the 1964 campaign.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone)

QUESTION: "Is there such a thing as a monopoly that benefits all mankind?"

ANSWER: We believe there is. There are two kinds of monopolies. One is a natural monopoly given equally to all mankind. It is good and the other is very, very harmful. We have never had a monopoly that benefits all mankind, so most people think of monopoly as something that is harmful.

The monopoly that benefits all mankind is a monopoly, as Joseph Galambos says, having 100 per cent control of his property. The most important property each man has is his life, his ideas, his right to choose, and all the products of his labor. That kind of a monopoly benefits all mankind.

The other kind of a monopoly is the kind that is created by the government which violates the natural law that intended man to be the owner of himself and all that he produces. That is an ideal image that we all should strive for.

We should get the idea out of our heads that all monopolies are harmful. It is the political monopoly, or a combination of men that interfere with other people having a monopoly over their lives, that is harmful.

Some of the things that interfere with a natural monopoly, are tariffs, immigration restriction, governmental monopoly of money, governmental agencies having the right to use initiated force to make people pay for something that they do not want. These are the kind of monopolies to be guarded against. The trouble is that we are getting more and more of these harmful monopolies and losing more and more of our rights to plan our own lives.

The less a man is able to plan his own life the more he is inclined to want to join with others and plan other people's lives.

Washington Window

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

It is about time that there be a suspension of the malicious and-or ill-informed speculation about the assassination of President Kennedy. It may be too much to expect Europeans to suspend judgment, to reject rumors, to repudiate scandal mongering. But it should not be too much to expect Americans to await in good faith the report of the President's commission.

First off there was the attempt to make the kookie right wingers appear to be responsible. That folded under the weight of the fact that Lee Oswald was a pro-Commie Marxist. It did not seem reasonable to believe that the impassioned righties had been able to recruit an impassioned lefty to do a job of assassination for them.

Thereafter the United States Secret Service (SS) came under fire of accusation. SS agents were reported drinking in a Fort Worth night club the night before JFK was shot and therefore unable to properly discharge their duties the following day. The facts disclosed by the simplest of investigations disclosed that there was no such sequence of events bearing on the protection of the President.

Johnson-Scotches Rumors

Indictment of the Secret Service collapsed utterly when President Johnson personally decorated members of the SS for valorous conduct on Nov. 22. U. E. Baughman, former SS chief, was sharply critical of the conduct of the organization from which he retired about two years ago. Baughman's complaints, however, appear not to have been taken seriously by the administration.

The amateur public prosecutors are turning from the Secret Service to the FBI. The public is being asked to believe that the FBI was derelict and that it has a great responsibility for the tragic circumstances under which the President was murdered on Nov. 22.

To this end, it is charged that the FBI knew about Oswald prior to the assassination and that the FBI permitted Oswald to remain unwatched and unreported to the Secret Service. This seems to be an example of electing the facts to justify a pre-conceived conclusion that the FBI was at fault.

There has been public knowledge from the beginning that the FBI had been investigating Oswald. The purpose was to learn whether Oswald was engaged in any subversive activity in behalf of the Soviet Union. This was an espionage investigation by the FBI. Nothing had been developed in it that would have warranted the FBI in alerting the SS and the Dallas police to the fact that Oswald was in Texas.

Bureau Investigates Many

The FBI can demonstrate that the hard fact of the matter is that the bureau knows of so many kooks, cranks, nuts and such scattered around the United States that it would be impossible for all law enforcement agencies combined to watch all of them. There must be a choice—a logical choice—regarding those who can be watched. The choice must go obviously to those who have shown some previous capacity for violence.

Oswald had shown no indication that he was capable of assassination. To sugest that the FBI should have had preknowledge of how Oswald's mind would work is to demand more of that agency than is reasonable. The FBI does not read minds. It reads evidence.

And there is the gossipy charge that the FBI and SS are feuding. Not so. SS chief Jim Rowley is a former FBI agent and a star lecturer at the FBI's National Academy. Moreover FBI and SS maintain daily contact in Washington and elsewhere. Next time you hear an expose of inside dope on the assassination, ask the man: Who told you that?

Prerogative of Woman Changes Police Car Color

CORONADO, Calif. (UPI) — City Manager Race N. Wilt knows today that choosing colors is a woman's prerogative—even when it comes to police cars.

Wilt wanted the cars beige because it would show the dirt less than the current black and white combination.

"Beige is a dirty color even after it's washed," retorted Councilwoman Helen King. "Green is one of our city's official colors. I believe we should have green police cars."

By a unanimous vote the council overrode Wilt and called for bids on two green police cars.

Green cars, Mayor William A. Seavey added helpfully, "can hide better in clumps of bushes."

Supreme Soviet Approves Budget

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Supreme Soviet Thursday apporved Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's budget and economic plan for the next two years, which are aimed at increasing industrial production, solving the farm crisis, and providing more income and housing for the Soviet people.

There was not a dissenting vote in the 1,444-member Soviet parliament as it closed a four-day session devoted to the unprecedented two-year budget and accompanying economic plan.

The program for 1964 and 1965 calls for crash development of the nation's chemical industry, which Khrushchev says must treble its capacity in order to give Soviet farms the chemical fertilizers they need to grow enough crops.

Hereford, Texas, is known as the "town without a toothache" because of the flourine in its water.

APPROVE SALE

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lee Rubber & Tire Co. stockholders have approved the sale of the company's Republic Rubber division in Youngstown, Ohio to Aeroquip Corp. for approximately $5.5 million, it was announced.
