Hardee sentenced to two years

A former officer of First Western Savings and Loan of Colorado City was sentenced to 2-years confinement and a $10,000 fine in federal court in Lubbock, on Friday.

Billy Bob Hardee of Colorado City, was ordered to surrender himself to federal authorities on Friday, August 7, after receiving the sentence on bank fraud charges which he pleaded guilty to in the federal court on May 1 of this year.

Hardee served as an officer and director of the savings and loan from 1983 to 1987.

He knew a person trying to sell a house in Abilene early in 1987, according to court records.

The selling price of the house was $48,500.

Hardee and another officer -- whose name was not listed in the court papers -- in the case contacted a customer of the savings and loan about taking out a loan to buy the house.

The customer agreed in order to secure another loan to use for investments in the bond market.

The house loan was made on June 30, 1987 for $68,500.

Hardee signed court papers admitting to inflating the purchase price by $20,000 and splitting the money with the other officer.

Dates for the sentencing of others that have been charged as part of the on-going Dallas Bank Fraud Task Force investigation has been delayed pending the trial of Leonard L. Dockum, formerly of Sweetwater, which is tentatively set for August.

Dockum was charged in a 10-count indictment arising from fraudulent loan activities with First Western Savings and Loan of Colorado City. He faces a

Antiques are big business

The concept of using antique malls to aid in creating economic development was presented to community officials at a meeting this week.

Colorado City Chamber of Commerce officials were told of the successes of the system which in place the past two-years at Baird.

Over 50 antique dealers are operating in 9 antique shops and 4 antique malls which have opened during the period, chamber officials were told by Nicki Harle of Baird.

Local officials have set another meeting for Wednesday, August 5, at which time the options of establishing a similar program in Colorado City will be discussed.

Jumble Sale
planned

A "Jumble Sale" will be held at the location of the old museum to include donated items and materials housed at the location.

The sale will be held beginning at 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Thursday, July 30 through Saturday, August 1, at the former location of the museum.

Available at the sale will be items including display cases, clothes racks, sewing machine, clothes, knick-knacks and furniture.

Museum staffers will be accepting donations to be included in the sale from 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Thursday, July 23 through Saturday, July 25.

Contact the Heart of West Texas Museum for more information at 728-8285.

Cable changes questioned

Frequent cable television rate increases citing 'programming choices' have prompted city officials to ask -- what is the choice?

Tele-Media of Ennis, notified city officials on June 29 of an increase in subscription costs for local subscribers and the addition of an 'expanded basic line-up' which includes the Disney Channel.

"I believe your company recently offered the Disney Channel to your subscribers and I feel it's a safe assumption that not many residents wanted it," Mayor Jim Baum said in responding to Robert R. Shock of Tele-Media. "Thus, you've added it to your 'expanded basic line-up' and expanded our fee at the same time," said Mayor Baum.

City officials have requested that Tele-Media provide information on the number of local subscribers who signed up for the Disney Channel during the recent promotion and that senior citizens be offered a special reduced rate.

"I feel such a gesture would be in order," Mayor Baum said, "as a result of your frequent rate increases."

Jail recreation area
to get approved facelift

Actions to prepare for a secured exercise area and bring the jail into compliance with Jail Commission standards were approved this week.

Jail Commission officials noted in the annual inspection that the area for inmates recreation must be changed to meet the current standards.

Design approval has been given by the commission for a 1693 square foot area to be located on the East side of the jail complex.

The current area -- located at the South of the complex -- was cited for having fences that were not tall enough, gates which were not in compliance with regulations and inmates could not be transferred from the jail to the area without going outside secure areas.

Plans include two 10-foot fences -- spaced four-feet apart -- to be constructed around the perimeter of the recreation area.

The approved design will provide for inmates to be moved to the recreation site without leaving secured areas of the jail complex.

Commissioners approved the design and bid specifications as presented by Sheriff Patrick Toombs and Deputy Tommy Dill.

Bids on the project will be opened at 2 p.m. on Monday, August 10.

Budget process continues

After a series of budget hearings which lasted throughout this past week, commissioners will return for more hearings beginning Tuesday.

County commissioners are expected to continue meeting throughout next week to arrive at a proposed budget for the coming 1993 fiscal year.

Departmental requests which have been turned into County Auditor Georgie Griffith are being examined by members of the court in a series of meetings which began last Monday.

The county is working through the process to provide a budget that will take effect on January 1 of next year.

Rotary Club still asking for housing

"How many can spend the night at your house?" -- is a question that Rotarian Robert Lewis Ramage has been asking a lot lately.

A busload of students from various parts of the world is headed to Colorado City and they need a place to spend the night.

The community is asked to assist in housing a busload of foreign exchange students that will be spending Friday night, July 24, in Colorado City, under the sponsorship of the Rotary Club.

Officers with the club have requested support and participation from the community. Those who would be able to participate and house one or several students for the night should contact project chairman Robert L. Ramage.

Approximately 50 students from various foreign countries will compose the group that will make a tour stop in Colorado City.

The students are expected to See STUDENTS, page 2

When a new unit -- as the one to be located in Colorado City -- opens, at least half of the correctional officers assigned must be experienced, TDCJ director of personnel James E. Bush said.

Several months before the local unit opens, TDCJ staffers will be asked if they wish a lateral transfer to the unit and those receiving approval will be assigned to the unit when it opens.

Any remaining positions will be filled from the correctional applicant pool.

In addition to these days which have been set aside, two bad weather days have been figured into the scheduling. If these days do not have to be used for their assigned purpose, students will take them on April 8 and 13, 1993, which will extend the Easter holiday.

The six week grading for next year include:

Mitchell County residents who are interested in a correctional officer position may apply for employment at this time if willing to be assigned to an existing TDCJ unit.

The department can not guarantee that persons taking this option will be able to transfer to the local unit when it opens, noting that it will depend on the number of other employees who also want to transfer here.

TDCJ officials note that those people interested only in applying for assignment to the local unit should wait to apply for employment until about four-months prior to the opening of the unit. Applications with the

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

DEAN WILLIAMSON

Sometimes I get bored -- and sometimes I sit in the back yard at the end of a long day and am glad I'm bored.

It seems that I get the most day-dreaming done when I'm bored. But like everything else, a group wants to do away with boredom.

July is the home of Hot Dog Month, Ice Cream Month, Baked Bean Month -- and has been designated as Anti-Boredom Month.

"Boredom is the root of all evil," says The Boring Institute. Institute representative Alan Caruba of New Jersey notes that bored people, "Are the least likely to rise from their lethargy to do anything about it."

Among the problems which Alan Caruba attributes to boredom include drug and alcohol abuse, overeating, school dropouts, teen-age pregnancies, divorce, crime, suicide and low election turnouts.

A committee of similar opinion evidently made phone calls to select groups in order to campaign for the effort throughout the month.

One of the calls must have been to the Texas Rangers.

"Hey, what are you guys doing to keep July from being boring?"

"We're trying to win a pennant!"

"That's boring," said the committee member, "you say that every year!"

"This year we have Nolan Ryan, Ivan Rodriguez, Jeff Russell, Kevin Brown, Ruben Sierra, Rafael Palmeiro, Jose Guzman and Julio Franco," they must have answered. "We'll give them a run in the West."

"But you have to do something new!" they said.

"We've got it under control," they said. "We'll be there in September!"

"You're not cooperating," the committee decided. "Are we going to have to come down there and make some changes?"

"Changes?" the Rangers asked. "Why?"

"It is Anti-Boredom Month."

"We like it the way things are."

"I'm warning you," said the committee member, "if you don't do something to keep July from being boring -- all our members will boycott the games."

"We don't have much we can do even if we wanted to," the Rangers said. "This may be Nolan's last year and Ruben, Rafael and Jose will all soon be free-agents."

"You've got to do something," the committee informed the Rangers. "We're not going to stand here and listen to you tell us that nothing can be done -- don't you realize that the Cowboy's training camp is opening up?"

"So?"

"Most people in Texas think that baseball season ends at the All-Star break."

"This is football country."

"You've got to keep them interested in finding out what's going to happen with the team," they were advised.

"But we have a good chance to win the pennant like it is, this year we have talent and desire."

"I don't care if you have to fire the manager -- you have to do something to show that you recognize Anti-Boredom Month," the committee member informed them.

"Are we being singled out?" the Rangers asked.

"Of course not," the member answered, "this is a national campaign -- we're making sure that everyone does something to keep July from being boring."

"And you really think we should fire the manager?"

"You don't seem to have much choice," the committee member said.

"I can't believe you're even asking us to make such a move."

"Don't you understand," the committee member said, "you've got to do it to fight drug and alcohol abuse, overeating, school dropouts, teen-age pregnancies, divorce, crime, suicide and low election turnouts."

"Oh, we didn't realize that firing someone could solve all these problems."

"That's why we called asking for your support."

"It's the least we can do for the American way of life!"

And to think that I was content in celebrating the month with a hot dog and an ice cream cone!

Morris presents program to B&PW

The Colorado City Business and Professional Women's Club met in regular session, Tuesday, July 14, 1992 at 7:00 p.m. in the Civic Center with the 1992-93 new officers acting as hostesses.

Three visitors and nineteen members were present. Mildred Free led the pledge to the American flag and Shirley DeLaney led the Club Collect.

After a delicious meal was served to all present, President Pauline Light introduced guest speaker, Dee Dee Morris, who gave a most informative talk of teenage pregnancy. She told the members that Texas ranks second in the nation in the number of births to teens age 19 and under and Texas is tied for second in the nation in the number of births per 1000 teens age 15-17.

In 1990, young women ages 13 to 19 in Texas, totaling 883,916 either became pregnant, had live births, had abortions or had fetal deaths. Some of these included four 11-year-old girls and twenty-one 12-year-old girls.

Mrs. Morris had attended an adolescent pregnancy and parenthood advisory council in October, 1990 which was held in Abilene.

After a brief recess, the business meeting was called to order. The minutes of the last meeting and the treasurer's report was given and each approved. Erlene Sellier read correspondence from Margaret Trulock of the Wallace Center, thanking the club for the donation for summer classes.

Committee reports were then given. Phyllis Lane, M.D. Anderson chairman, reported that Texas B&PW women had given $39,500 to M.D. Anderson this past year. Velma Moseley, good cheer chairman was ill in Abilene Hospital. Her report was given by Eddie Barclay. Mrs. Barclay presented on birthday gift to Mildred Free.

The delegates to the state convention at Grapevine then gave their reports. A wonderful session was enjoyed by all. Many motivating speakers were heard and accommodations were lovely and sufficient.

Those in attendance were: guests - Sue Womack, Shirley Bradley and Dee Dee Morris. Members present included Phyllis Lane, Anna Staats, Eddie Barclay, Faye Spivey, Juanita Schafer, Christine Cooley, Mildred Free, Louise Logsdon, Wyone Jameson, Erlene Sellier, Pauline Light, Donna Laurens, Virginia Dearen, Shirley DeLaney, Erdine Morgan, Lovess Curlee, Nelda Garrett, Charlene Reiley and Wilma Womack.

West Texas Rehab seminar set

Simple nursing techniques for families with a bedfast or disabled person at home will be the focus of a workshop on Monday, July 27, at the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, 6:30 - 9:30 p.m.

Caregivers will learn skills that will make life easier for both patient and caregiver, such as how to change linens when someone is in bed, how to re-position that person without strain and how to move someone from a bed to a chair. Hands-on practice will be available to participants, using hospital beds and wheelchairs.

Other topics include universal precautions for infection, psychosocial issues of caregivers and anticipatory grief.

This seminar, which is free of charge and open to the public, is sponsored by Hospice of Abilene, Inc., the Big Country AIDS Support Group and the West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

Jim Clowe

Clowe cleans house in rodeo finals

The best high school rodeo cowboy in New Mexico lives in Artesia.

Artesia High School 1992 graduate Jim Clowe, grandson of Raymond and Mary Moore of Artesia, N.M. formerly of Colorado City, cleaned house at the June 12-14 New Mexico High School Rodeo Finals, collecting three saddles, a bunch of belt buckles and a stack of plaques for his performances.

Clowe was named state champion saddle bronc rider, state champion bareback rider and state champion all-around cowboy.

He also was judged second in the state in bullriding.

The achievements qualified Clowe for the National High School Finals Rodeo, scheduled for July 19-26 in Shawnee, Okla.

His mother Joanne, and grandfather, David Clowe, will accompany him on the trip.

Clowe says bullriding is his favorite event.

"It's the excitement and not knowing what's going to happen next," he said. "It's a little more of a challenge."

Clowe will have plenty of time to develop his skills when he starts college at New Mexico Junior College in Hobbs this fall. He's got a two-year rodeo scholarship there and will compete in the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association.

He also may compete on the professional circuit.

For now, he's focusing on the national finals, and the prospect of adding a buckle or saddle to his new collection.

Clowe's complete results during the state finals are as follows:

Bareback: first go, tied for second and third; second go, first; short go, first; first in state; winner of average.

Saddle Bronc: first go, second; second go, first; short go, first; first in state; winner of average.

Bulls: first go, tied for first and second; second go, first; short go, fourth; second in state; winner of average.
