Permian Basin OIL & GAS LOG

James C. Watson, Oil Editor

NE Midland Wildcat Deepening To Start

Deepening to 8,000 feet is to start immediately at a Northeast Midland County wildcat, which has been standing abandoned on a bottom of 5,004 feet since May 6, 1945.

The project is to be Standard-Fryer Drilling Company of Dallas No. 1 Andrew Fasken. It is 12 miles east of the city of Midland, and 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 7, block 36, TP survey, T-2-S.

Rotary tools will be used to drill the venture down from its current depth to 8,000 feet to explore into the Clear Fork of the lower Permian. It was in the middle Permian when it stopped drilling more than four years ago at 5,004 feet.

OTD Was 5,004 Feet

The wildcat was originally drilled as Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware and Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 1 Fasken.

Both those concerns owned considerable amounts of leases in the area adjacent to the exploration at the time they drilled it.

After it was abandoned as dry at 5,004 feet, Standard of Texas released most of the acreage it held in that region—but Seaboard retained its properties and added most of those dropped by Standard of Texas.

It is understood that Seaboard has turned some of the leases to Standard-Fryer for the deepening of No. 1 Fasken.

May Dig Wildcat

Some sources report that Standard-Fryer has agreed to drill an Ellenburger wildcat in the Northeast Midland County region to start within 12 months from the time the No. 1 Fasken reaches 8,000 feet.

It is understood that the Ellenburger obligation can be accomplished by either deepening the Fasken exploration to the deep zone, or by digging another test in that region to around 12,500 feet.

That operations are to start on the deepening activity at once is indicated by the filing of an application with the Texas Railroad Commission by Standard-Fryer in which that concern requests a permit to begin immediately on the operation.

Extension Is Assured At Sharon-Ridge Pool

An extension of almost one mile to the west appears to have been assured for the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field of Southwest Scurry County, 16 miles southwest of Snyder.

Thomas W. Doswell and associates No. 1 Addison, wildcat on the west side of the Sharon Ridge-Canyon area, and 660 feet from north and east lines of the north half of the southeast quarter of section 122, block 97, H&TC survey, developed some oil in a drillstem test in the Canyon lime pay at 6,642-77 feet, and has now cemented 7-inch casing at 6,648 feet to prepare for an effort to complete the project as an oil well.

The packer on the 6,642-77 foot drillstem test failed after 15 minutes. Recovery was 4,800 feet of oil and gas cut drilling mud and 200 feet of clean oil. There was no formation water.

Operators think the project can complete as a producer without drilling it any deeper. Top of the pay has been corrected to be at 6,641 feet, instead of at 6,656 feet, as had been reported previously.

It has been reported that Henry Ford, II, head of Ford Motor Company, has an interest with Doswell in the No. 1 Addison.

C-N Lubbock Venture Is Cementing Casing

A string of 5 1/2-inch casing is to be set with cement at 6,100 feet at Slick-Moorman Oil Company and C. W. Chancellor No. 1 Cloud, Central-North Lubbock County exploration, which appears to have extended the one-well Cravens field three-quarters of a mile to the southwest.

This venture, located 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 22, block D, L&SV survey, took a drillstem test in the lower Permian zone which produces in the discovery of the Cravens field.

The test was at 6,084-6,144 feet. The tool was open one hour and 20 minutes. Recovery was five feet of free oil and 180 feet of slight oil cut drilling mud. No formation water developed.

Operator representatives plan to drill the plug on the casing early next week and then acidize the open hole section at 6,100-48 feet. They think that some sort of a producer can be completed from that formation.

Barnsdall Wildcat In Coke Flows Some Oil

Barnsdall Oil Company No. 1 Davenport, Northeast Coke County wildcat, one and one-half miles north of Fort Chadbourne, and 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of the east half of the Seth Clark survey No. 475, is reported to have flowed out some oil, from perforated section in the Pennsylvanian at 5,512-30 feet.

Operator swabbed down to 1,200 feet from surface, and the well is reported by unofficial sources to have kicked off and flowed some oil and some drilling fluid for an unreported length of time.

The flow had died at last report and swabbing was scheduled to be resumed.

This venture drilled into the El-

House-Battered Arms Aid Program Goes To Senate

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Battered by the House, the Administration's foreign arms aid program looked to the Senate Friday for gentler treatment.

The program was slashed and hedged in with restrictions before the House passed it Friday night, 238 to 122.

It marked a bad beating for President Truman's congressional forces.

Despite their entreaties, a 50 per cent cut was imposed on the $1,160,990,000 plan.

On top of that, the House decreed that at least half of the supplies sent abroad must be carried in American ships. The lawmakers also tightened up a prohibition against using United States troops for other than non-combatant duty in connection with the program.

Five Amendments Beaten

But the House granted the full $211,370,000 the President wanted for aid to Greece and Turkey, and the $27,640,000 he asked for Iran, Korea and The Philippines and it beat back amendments to:

(1) Add $100,000,000 for China and other Southeastern Asia areas, (2) charge the Western European allotment against the current U. S. military appropriation, (3) withhold funds from Britain as long as Ireland remains partitioned, (4) ban the use of U. S. troops for any purpose under the program, and (5) require the President to channel production into areas suffering from acute unemployment problems.

The theory behind the slash in funds is that additional funds can be provided next year if benefitting nations demonstrate by then that they are going to work together for defense.

Opponents claimed Russia would use the reduction as fodder for propaganda that the United States does not trust its Allies.

Saturday Is Last Day Of Reserved Seat Advance Sale

Football fans in this area will get their last chance at reserved seat tickets for the Bulldogs' home games Saturday morning. The advance sale is scheduled to close at noon Saturday at the Chamber of Commerce.

The season tickets are for seats between the 35-yard lines and will be good for all six home tilts.

The ducats went like hot cakes as sales opened Thursday morning and a steady business was done Friday.

Although sales have been brisk, many choice seats still are available.

University Regents Hold Midland Meet

Dave Warren of Panhandle and A. M. G. Swenson of Stamford, regents of the University of Texas, were in Midland Thursday to attend a meeting of a regents' committee, which approved plans and a call for bids on a new science building and auditorium at Texas Western College, El Paso.

Dr. W. H. Elkin, president of Western College, and Percy McKee and Ed Shores, El Paso architects, also attended the session, flying here from the border city. Warren and Swenson also came to Midland by plane.

Swenson continued on to Colorado on a vacation trip.

Imperial Wizard Of Ku Klux Klan Dies Of Heart Ailment

ATLANTA—(AP)—A heart ailment Thursday night killed Imperial Wizard Samuel Green, the fanatical ruler of the Ku Klux Klan.

There was no doubt, however, that the Klan would carry on though minus the energetic leadership of the thin, 59-year-old physician with the Hitler-like mustache.

A leading Ku Kluxer here said the board of directors probably would meet next week to name a successor.

Though Dr. Green had been a Klansman 31 years, his family asked that the fact be omitted from his obituary.

Dr. Green's passion for preaching "white supremacy" had made him a target for aroused newspaper editors and public officials.

They feared the Klan might ride to power again on prejudice, as it did in the decade of the 1920's, and become once more a powerful political factor in the South.

Became Angry, Bitter

Angrily and bitterly, Dr. Green declared he was being "persecuted."

As a pattern of violence spread over the South in which masked men figured in cross burnings, beatings and threats, Dr. Green relied more and more upon a stock denial.

All these acts he ascribed without fail to "Bolshevik" groups over which he had no control.

He promised that any Klansman found guilty of violating the law would be banished. To offset growing public indignation, he ordered the Klan unmasked just 10 days prior to his death.

The blow that hurt Green the most, however, was the declaration by U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark that the Klan was subversive.

Green always had maintained that part of the Klan oath was to uphold the Constitution.

Probers Check On Vaughan

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) said Friday Senate "five percenter" investigators are getting information about the activities of Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan "from sources very close to the President."

McCarthy said the data also came from persons very close "to Vaughan in the White House." Vaughan is President Truman's Army aide.

McCarthy is a member of the special Senate subcommittee checking on whether improper influence has figured in the handling of government business.

Vaughan's name has bobbed up almost every day at the inquiry.

Senator Mundt (R-SD), another committee member, is seeking to link a flying trip to Paris in 1945 by three agents of a Chicago perfume firm with that company's gifts of home freezers to Vaughan.

McCarthy declined to elaborate on his statement to newsmen about the reported source of some of the committee's information on the general.

Mundt Is Suspicious

He said only:

"We are getting leads and information on Vaughan's activities from sources very close to the President and to Vaughan in the White House."

Mundt told reporters testimony given the Senate Investigating subcommittee secretary Monday, and made public Thursday, "begins to disclose a suspicion of a motive of what is behind the gifts of deep freezers."

Three representatives of the Verley Company made the Paris trip on an Army transport plane in July, 1945, at a time, Mundt said, "when businessmen just couldn't get there."

Two of the central figures in the inquiry are Vaughan and John Maragon, former Kansas City bootblack who used to have free access to the White House.

The testimony released by the

Midlanders Urged To Obtain Free DDT Compound Saturday

The fight on polio and other diseases in Midland will be stepped up Saturday by the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce when 5,000 pints of a special DDT paint will be distributed free to residents. The DDT will be given away at a booth at Rockwell Brothers and Company, 112 West Texas Street, starting at 9 a.m.

The special preparation is being donated by the Sherwin-Williams Company through Rockwell Brothers.

JayCees have urged Midlanders to obtain a pint of the paint and apply it to screens, garbage cans, trash cans and other places where disease-carrying insects usually are found.

The booth will be open from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. If the supply of DDT is exhausted, more will be made available.

First Bale Will Be Auctioned Saturday

Midland County's first bale of cotton of the 1949 crop, ginned last Friday, will be sold at auction at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Midland National Bank corner, Main and Wall Streets. The bale has been on display there since last Saturday.

The cotton was produced by Oswald Raggett of the Greenwood Community. The bale weighs 458 pounds and was ginned by the Midland Cooperative Gin.

Premium contributions by Midland merchants and business houses Friday totaled $137.

Silver Smuggling Racket Is Smashed

MEXICO CITY —(AP)— Mexico has broken a silver smuggling scheme so vast its operations affected the price of silver on the New York market.

Treasury Secretary Ramon Beteta in a statement published Friday said 8,808,703 pesos ($930,000) were smuggled out of Mexico between March 28, 1947, and Oct. 22, 1948. All crossed the border at El Paso, Texas. Mexico buys silver at 71.5 U. S. cents per ounce. The silver found a market in the U. S. at 91 cents per ounce.

Beteta said these penalties have been imposed:

In the Ciudad Juarez customs, 62 inspectors discharged, 25 suspended 15 days and transferred, 42 transferred and its cashier discharged.

One Mexico City bank fined 200,000 pesos ($25,000) for furnishing the silver;

One border bank fined 15,000 pesos ($1,720) for improper registry of silver;

The border bank manager transferred and its cashier discharged.

Beteta said the man who organized and ran the smuggling has not been punished. He said a warrant was issued for the man's arrest, but the man obtained a court order forbidding the arrest and still is at liberty.

Beteta said the shipment of silver was illegal on two counts: it did not pay any export tax and it violated Central Bank orders against exportation without license.

The Treasury secretary said sudden changes in silver prices in the New York market gave Mexico the first tip on the smuggling. Prices would fall when a big shipment of Mexican silver passed the frontier.

Finns Move Swiftly To Smash Growing Communist Strikes

HELSINKI —(AP)— The Finnish government moved swiftly Friday to smash a growing Communist offensive. Police nabbed Red leaders in Kemi, scene of Thursday's strike violence which left one dead and nine injured.

Among those arrested was the chairman of the Kemi City Council, Lahja Heikkilae, described as a leader of the strike call. Another City Council member also was reported arrested.

Reliable reports said Communists from Southern Finland also were arrested at Kemi. This would indicate Red agitators from Helsinki had been operating in the town, where 1,500 striking lumberjacks exchanged fire Thursday with police.

A government spokesman has declared the strike offensive is designed to make Finland into a Communist state.

Meanwhile, the strikers announced a new strike meeting Friday night, in defiance of a ban by the governor of the Northern province on all public gatherings, with heavy fines for any violations.

Communist leaders have warned that the strike actions will continue.

Crushing Defeat

Unto Varjonen, minister without portfolio, and head of a cabinet board chosen to deal with strike threats, declared the government intends to "inflict a crushing defeat on the Communists."

Violence broke out Thursday in the lumbering town of Kemi, in Northern Finland, on the Gulf of Bothnia. Police and striking lumberjacks exchanged fire after 1,500 strikers smashed through police lines in an effort to attack workers who were reporting for duty at a timber-sorting dam.

The government declared that the Kemi outbreak was the first blow in a nationwide strike offensive designed to "create chaos in order to usurp power and establish a People's Democracy (Communist government) in Finland."

Most of Finland's trade union members are non-Communists and some 200,000 of the 300,000 unionists may defy the strike call.

Clark, McGrath Delay Assumption Of New Positions

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Confirmed by a 73 to 8 vote after a hot-tempered Senate session Thursday, Attorney General Tom C. Clark delayed Friday taking the oath as the 86th justice to mount the Supreme Court bench.

Similarly, Senator J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island, unanimously approved by the Senate to succeed Clark in the cabinet, held up his retirement from the Senate, probably until next week.

Clark told reporters he wants to talk with McGrath and Chief Justice Fred Vinson before he decides when to take the oath. He said he would like to have it administered by Vinson.

Engineer Plunges To Death In Houston

HOUSTON—(AP)—A civilian engineer at Ellington Field jumped or fell to his death Friday from the upper-level drive leading west between the M&M Building and the Katy Depot on North Main Street.

Killed instantly when his head struck a rail 30 feet below was Peyton M. Smith, 57. He was identified from papers in his wallet by Justice Tom Maes, who held an inquest.

Gift Schemes By Telephone Are Included

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The government Friday slapped stringent new rules on radio and television giveaways. They may knock out most of the prize programs.

The Federal Communications Commission said that, effective October 1, it will not permit programs advertising lotteries or "offering prizes dependent in whole or in part upon lot or chance."

The penalty will be the loss of a broadcaster's license.

Then the commission set forth conditions that will bar a program. While each program will be judged separately, the rules appeared broad enough to cut off most of the programs that have showered millions in cash and prizes on listening and viewing audiences.

Trade circles expressed belief that the action would hit hardest at the telephone call giveaway in which a contestant has to be at home to answer the telephone, has to be listening to the program, and has to identify a tune, solve a riddle or answer a question correctly.

Other programs may be affected in varying degrees.

Radio industry officials withheld comment publicly, but said privately it looked to them as though all the prize contests would have to be confined to studio audiences.

This would mean programs could stay on the air but no awards would be given to the people listening in.

Court Review Certain

Obviously, however, one of the big attractions for sponsors of giveaway programs is the drawing card of a big radio audience anxiously and hopefully waiting for a chance at a prize.

Only four members of the seven-member FCC took part in the decision and one of the four dissented.

The ruling, stemming from a year-long investigation, seems certain to be carried into the courts for review.

The proposed regulation was fought vigorously by most of the radio industry, on grounds that the FCC lacks authority to censor program content.

The commission's reply was that it is empowered to forbid the use of the air for promoting a lottery.

The commission said in Friday's order, covering standard, FM and television stations, that whether a given program violates the lottery section of the Communications Act "depends on the facts of each case."

Telephone Giveaways

However, it asserted it "will in any event" consider a program to violate the act if a prize "of money or thing of value is awarded to any person whose selection is dependent in whole or in part upon lot or chance," and if as a condition to winning or competing:

1. The winner furnishes money or other thing of value or is required to have in his possession a product of the program sponsor.

2. The winner is required to be listening to or viewing the program in question.

3. The winner must correctly answer a question, the answer to which has been given on the program "or where aid to answering the question correctly is given" on the program either on the spot or through a previous broadcast.

4. The winner must answer the phone in a prescribed manner or with a prescribed phrase, or is required to write a letter in a prescribed manner or containing a prescribed phrase "if the prescribed manner of answering the phone or writing the letter has been broadcast over the station in question."

Commissioner Freida Hennock dissented to the proposed regulations.

Texas Oil Allowable Given Daily Increase Of 132,268 Barrels

MINERAL WELLS —(AP)— Texas oil production will start climbing upward a significant amount next month for the first time in more than a year.

The Railroad Commission, after a three-hour statewide oil proration hearing Thursday, gave producers permission to operate one more day in September than in July and August.

Coupled with the fact that September is only a 30-day month, this will result in a net oil allowable of 2,077,905 barrels per day, 132,268 barrels more than the current daily permissive flow.

An 18-day production schedule will prevail statewide except in the East Texas field, which was raised from 15 to 16 days.

Natural gasoline and distillate production, estimated by the commission at 233,521 barrels daily, will give Texas an overall daily petroleum output of 2,311,426 barrels.

Oil company representatives split on the question of whether the extra producing day would be a good thing. Some said above-ground stocks were too great to warrant the

NEW YORK —(AP)— The American Broadcasting Company announced Friday it immediately will test in the courts the legality of the ruling of the Federal Communications Commission on radio giveaway programs.

Millett's Sure-Fire System Ends Quarrels In Jig-Time

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

HOUSEHOLD HINTS:

The quickest way for a man to end a fight with his wife is to tell her how pretty she looks when she's mad.

The only certain way to keep the husbands at a party from drifting off into a corner by themselves is to invite at least one good-looking, unattached woman to the party.

The way to keep on good terms with your neighbors is to keep your children and dog in your own yard.

If you're troubled by guests who don't know when to go home, put a good-sized clock in the living room, preferably one that chimes the hour. That'll save you from perjuring yourself with, "Oh, it's early yet" when they dutifully ask you the time—and they can't use the excuse, "I had no idea it was so late" when they finally make the effort to get up and go.

The most satisfactory way of settling a children's quarrel is to lock yourself in your own room with a good book. After one chapter, the fight is usually finished and the kids playing happily again.

Never insist that your husband fix something around the house if you're in the middle of doing something yourself. Who'll get him the hammer, look for the pliers, steady the ladder, and admire his efforts? You will, of course, even if you have to leave your own job half a dozen times.

Sharing Paper

If you're a husband who likes to read the paper in peace and quiet, hand your wife the society section. That will keep her busy, at least till you've digested the headlines, and finished the funnies.

The exact moment to ask your wife if she wants help with the dishes is when she's halfway through. Before that she is likely to take you up on the offer. After that, there'll be stiff formality in her "No thank you; I'm almost through NOW." But if she's about halfway through when you say: "Need any help, honey?" she'll appreciate your offer, yet not feel tempted to accept it.

A husband can be TOO understanding. He probably is if his wife resorts to tears whenever anything goes wrong.

Soon Girls Can Wash Wool Sweaters With Very Little Trouble

NEW YORK —(AP)— Soon the girls can wash their wool sweaters and their menfolk's wool socks and next day expect to find both just as shapely as ever.

Woolen garments, shrinkage-controlled and washable, shortly will appear in department and specialty stores throughout the nation. At least, that's what a well-known textile firm promises. The company says at last it has found the way to do for wool what it already has done for cotton and rayon. It calls the new non-shrinking process for wool "Sanforlan."

Garments to be offered for sale this Fall include sweaters, socks, wool robes, men's wool sport shirts, slacks, women's skirts, infants' wear and yard goods.

Nylon Competition

This comes at a time when the woolen knitwear business was beginning to feel the competition from nylon. Only the tight market for nylon yarn has kept these sweaters from making greater inroads into the wool sweater market, according to the Knitted Outerwear Foundation. Among nylon's talking points is that garments don't shrink.

The ladies bought nearly three million sweaters last year, twice as many as the men did. But the males went in strong for the polo, T and sweat shirts, buying more than two million.

This year, the foundation says, women shoppers are eyeing waistlength sweaters with plunging necklines. And now they are to be offered wool sweaters that don't have to be stretched or tacked to boards while drying.

Head-In-The-Sand Philosophy

Isolationism evidently is enjoying somewhat of a revival in the United States.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, Republican floor leader, is working hard for the isolationist crown held in prewar days by former Senator Nye of North Dakota. Wherry has considerable company in the Senate. Several midwestern senators say their mail from home is heavily weighted against new and stronger foreign commitments by this country.

Congressional mail, of course, seldom if ever represents popular sentiment accurately. Too often it simply reflects pressure from organized groups, or the fact that people against something seem to be more vocal than people for it. But it is probably safe to assume that some substance exists to support reports of a resurging isolationism.

What about it? For one thing it is hard to imagine this attitude could ever again spread as wide and deep as in prewar times.

The atom bomb and the guided missile are pretty persuasive arguments against a cocoon-like future for the United States. These weapons mean that the nation's once-cherished physical isolation behind the oceans is ended. None of our military experts has left any doubt of that.

This revived isolationism can have no basis in geography as it formerly did. Now and hereafter it is purely a state of mind.

The viewpoint has never been dead, for it always has been a refuge for all who have a dislike or distrust of foreigners, especially Europeans. But its current comeback likely reflects to a marked degree a new retreat from uncomfortable reality.

It is retreat by people who are discouraged and disgusted with the turmoil of world conditions and want a haven of peace and quiet.

This attempted withdrawal is understandable, but not very sensible. For there is no island of security anywhere any more. No one can create one just by wishing it.

Furthermore, the new isolationism, like the old, is a wholly negative outlook. Advocates say they are for America first, but who is not? The Communists are the only real renegades on this score.

The fact is, isolationists have not now and never have had a positive program for solving the problems which embroil the United States with the rest of the world. They propose only to pretend the problems don't exist.

Which is another reason why a more mature America, toughened by World War II and its aftermath, probably will be more resistant to the isolationist bill of goods than in former times.

The ordinary husband doesn't mind being panned, according to a judge. Unless the good wife uses a skillet.

Some ambitious wives think social security is a flop. Their husbands still eat peas with a knife.

Hollywood parties must be swell for the men, with all those extra girls.

Reports Of My Death Vas Greatly Exaggerated

DREW PEARSON ON The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1949, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Robert S. Allen says: U. S. prestige in Middle East predominant: American Ambassador Wiley's unobtrusive gift of cigarettes proves a point; Rank- and filers oppose AMVETS-AVC merger.

WASHINGTON — A high U. S. official just returned from a tour of the Middle East reports one outstanding impression.

It is this:

That, amid the welter of assassination, intrigue and autocratic rule in this ancient cockpit, the prestige and power of the United States stands out like a gleaming beacon.

The official related this episode to prove his point:

Following the attempted slaying some months ago of the shah of Iran, he imposed iron-handed martial rule. The Iranian press particularly felt the weight of the shah's fury. Seventeen liberal, non-Communist newspapers were suppressed and their editors thrown into jail. He also ordered them tried on charges of subversive activities.

To support these charges, articles dating back as far as 20 years were brought into court against the editors.

Despite these extreme measures, only six were convicted.

U. S. ambassador in Iran is John Wiley. An able, tough-minded career man, he has been an outstanding success in his delicate and arduous post. A firm believer in democracy and freedom of the press, Wiley, privately, was shocked by the autocratic persecution of the editors. But because it was a strictly internal affair, he meticulously kept hands off until after the six editors were sentenced.

Several days later, Wiley sent each of them a small package. It consisted of one pack of American cigarettes—with Wiley's personal card.

Nothing was written on the card. Also, there was nothing secret about Wiley's action. His chauffeur delivered the packages to the prison and turned them over to the warden to give to the editors. That was all there was to it.

The shah, of course, immediately was informed. Also, he got the point.

The following day, the editors were pardoned.

Note—Because of Wiley's penetrating and forthright reports to the State Department, the Iranian ambassador in Washington is very hostile toward him. The Iranian has repeatedly tried to undermine Wiley.

No Merger

Behind-the-scenes, the widely publicized merger between AMVETS and AVC has gotten nowhere. Reason is strong rank-and-file opposition in both veteran organizations. At the bottom of this are two factions: AMVET membership is much more conservative than AVC, and a confidential memorandum sent out by AVC Commander Harold A. Keats. In this document, he stresses the financial benefits that will accrue to AMVETS by absorbing the 35,000 AVC dues-paying members.

AVC officials are aware that AMVET headquarters is hard up and that its national officers draw $35,000 a year in salaries and expenses.

No Loss

A British correspondent telephoned Senator Kenneth Wherry, Neb., Republican floor leader, for an interview on the forthcoming international monetary conference.

"All I can say," remarked Wherry, "is that Sir Stafford Cripps is obviously coming here to promote a new loan. He wouldn't be interrupting his rest cure in Switzerland for any other reason."

The British newsman protested this view.

"Well," observed Wherry, "if he's coming over to lend us some money, I'll be glad to see him."

"Can I quote you on that?"

"Certainly," replied Wherry. Then, turning to a friend, he added, "I was safe in letting him quote me. After all, I can't lose any votes in England."

Deadlock

Illustrative of the snafued state of congressional business is an unpublicized but long-standing deadlock between the House and Senate over the Army civil functions bill.

This stalemate has been going on since June 1, with no sign of a break in sight.

Cause of the deadlock is a $590,000,000 rivers and harbors rider that the Senate wrote into the measure. This huge local gravy grab was not included in the President's budget. The fund would be spent by the Army engineers, which have one of the most potent undercover lobbies in Washington.

The House conferees, led by Rep. Clarence Cannon (D-Mo) adamantly have refused to budge on the issue. Cannon has served notice he will block the bill as long as it contains the half-billion-dollar rider.

Militant backers of the rider are Senators John McClellan (D-Ark), Pat McCarran, (D-Nev), and Chan Gurney, (R-SD). McClellan is head of the Rivers & Harbors Congress, an Army Engineers lobby, and all three of the senators are loud "economy" talkers. But on this gravy grab, they are singing a different tune.

To date, it has made no impression on hard-boiled Cannon.

Shorts

The Navy is concerned about the waistline of its officers. To help them keep it down, the Navy has issued a pamphlet titled "feel alive." . . . The White House is being barraged with union complaints charging bias on the part of Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board . . . Senator Frank P. Graham (D-NC), has made a big impression by his discussions of ethics, religion and philosophy at the breakfast-prayer meetings held every Wednesday morning by a group of senators.

Baptists Anticipate Opposition To Church FM Broadcasting Plan

DALLAS—(AP)—Opposition from the Federal Communications Commission is anticipated for Texas Baptists when they seek approval of lower power FM radio stations for churches.

Dr. R. Alton Reed, director of public relations and radio activities for the Baptist General Convention of Texas, made the forecast Friday. He said he got the information from Leonard Marks, a Washington attorney hired to press the Baptist proposal.

The National Association of Educational Broadcasters is one group that will oppose the Baptist request, Marks said. The opposition is because the church stations would share an FM channel now reserved for educational institutions.

The Baptist General Convention of Texas and the Southern Baptist Convention have advanced the proposal—for churches to operate low power radio stations to broadcast religious programs.

A hearing will be held, probably next month.

Police Seek Youths Who Yell 'Fire' In Crowded City Theater

FORT WORTH—(AP)—A couple of ushers were credited Friday with preventing injuries in a panic among theater patrons who fled from the building when three teenage boys yelled "Fire."

The incident was at the Hollywood Theater here Thursday. The boys shrieked "Fire" seven times and the theater occupants poured onto the street in terror.

Cool work of the ushers, James Thompson and James Wilson, made possible the near-capacity crowd reaching the street without anyone being hurt.

The teen-age youths are being sought.

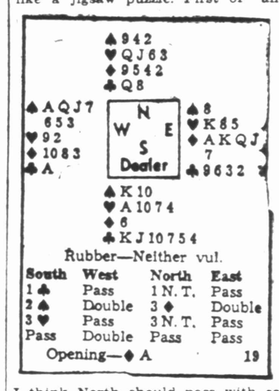

McKenney on Bridge

I received a letter from Frank Bussell of Montreal, Quebec, part of which I want to repeat to you. He said on Monday, June 27, the Canadian citizens very solidly backed the Liberal Party by electing to office 192 Liberal M. P.'s from a total of 262 seats.

However, he continued, the setback suffered by the Conservatives was nothing to the setback he received on today's hand. I like a fellow who will give you a hand in which he got the worst of it.

The bidding looks something like a jigsaw puzzle. First of all,

Rubber—Neither vul.

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	1 N.T.	Pass
2 ♠	Double	3 ♦	Double
3 ♥	Pass	3 N.T.	Pass
Pass	Double	Pass	Pass

Opening—♦ A 19

I think North should pass with so weak a hand. Just why South bid two spades is hard to understand, unless he wanted to stop a spade lead. North's bid of three diamonds only confused South. When South bid three hearts I do not know why North did not pass. I suppose he is from the school who thinks that when partner reverses, he has a powerful hand. Anyway, that was the bidding—now for the play.

East cashed five diamond tricks on which West played the ten, eight and three of diamonds, and discarded the deuce and nine of hearts. East shifted to a spade. Mr. Bussell said at this point, "I would not have minded it so much if West had laid down his seven spade tricks quickly, but he cashed only three of them. He thought for a while, cashed his ace of clubs, and then cashed the rest of the spade tricks. Yes, they took all 13 tricks, and I, with my 1700 points minus, surely felt worse than the Conservative Party."

Washington 'Jabberwocky' Hits Unemployment Solution

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The way the great, clumsy federal government goes after a problem is sometimes really amazing. Consider the handling of this increased unemployment situation, for example. It has taken seven months to get the White House machinery in motion to tell government procurement agencies where to place their orders to help relieve unemployment in a dozen scattered areas of the country. And now that it is done, there are considerable doubts over whether "the program" will do much good.

The fact that there was a serious unemployment situation became apparent last January. Estimated unemployment was 1,941,000 in December. It jumped to 2,600,000 in January and 3,221,000 in February. It dropped slightly for the next two months. Then it started to climb again in May, passing the 4,000,000 mark in June.

During this period, labor union representatives in Washington were insisting that unemployment really was much higher. They based their contentions on reports from local unions whose members were feeling the pinch. Nobody paid much attention because employment still was above the 60,000,000 mark and officials were insisting that there was no depression.

BES Puts Out The Story

In May, however, Bureau of Employment Security, which oversees state unemployment insurance benefit payments, put out a list of 10 labor market areas where unemployment was more than 12 per cent of the labor force. These areas were New Bedford and Worcester, Mass.; Providence, R. I.; Bridgeport and Waterbury, Conn.; Utica-Rome, N. Y.; Scranton-Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; Knoxville, Tenn.; Muskegon, Mich., and San Jose, Calif.

These reports were based on actual nose-counting statistics of claims paid by the states and could not possibly have been more accurate. This was no sample survey poll.

In the meantime, the President had sent to Congress his mid-year economic report, calling attention to this problem. He had given Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer the job of investigating unemployment conditions. And he had given Dr. John R. Steelman, his assistant, the job of "coordinating"—there's that word again—government buying in critical unemployment areas.

So Secretary Snyder and half a dozen of his top aides climbed into airplanes and Pullmans and went scurrying about in all directions to discover where the unemployment was. Last week they all got back and reported. Surprise, surprise, surprise! They found most of the unemployment was right where BES had said it was last May.

In other words, if some high muckety-muck had picked up a telephone three months ago and asked director Robert C. Goodwin of BES where the trouble was, he could have told them in a minute.

Spoils All The Fun

Of course that would have been too simple. Just think of all the "staff meetings, interdepartmental conferences and determinations of operational procedure on a high policy-making level" that would have spoiled.

Since the war, BES has been keeping tab on only the most important 98 labor market areas. These 98 areas cover only about half of U. S. industrial employment. During the war, BES kept tab on 300 labor market areas, covering 90 per cent of U. S. industrial employment. Somebody thought they should all be surveyed again, to make sure Washington had "the real picture."

Common sense finally prevailed on that one. It would have taken 10 days to get the additional data on the other 202 minor labor market areas. The policy makers decided to go ahead without them.

So now the program has been "activated," as they say in Washington jabberwocky. Armed forces and general services procurement officers and 18 other agencies that do some of their own spending of government money all have been written letters on White House stationery. They have been told that wherever possible, they should channel their orders into the designated distress areas.

They have been reading in the papers for the last month that they were going to be asked to do this. But getting a letter on White House stationery is supposed to work some magic effect.

Actually, the program may not do much good, even if it works. In the dozen distress areas perhaps are 200,000 unemployed workers. Even if all of them could be put back to work on government orders tomorrow, total U. S. unemployment of 4,000,000 would be reduced by only five per cent.

Rupture Of A Spinal Disk Sometimes Requires Surgery

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

One of the important causes of pain in the lower portion of the back and of the condition which is commonly called sciatica is a condition which is usually known as a rupture or hernia of an intervertebral disk.

The back or spinal column is made up of a large number of separate bones called vertebrae. There are five of these in the lower back or lumbar region. Between these bones lies a softer tissue known as cartilage. In some patients with back trouble, or sciatica, this softer cartilage is injured and degenerates. In the course of time, the degenerated cartilage may rupture between the vertebrae and produce pain.

Diagnosis Difficult

Even X-rays may not show anything immediately after the rupture has occurred. In the course of time, however, the rupture of a disk will cause a narrowing of the space between the bones of the vertebral column at the point where the rupture has occurred.

As a rule those having a first attack of pain caused by a ruptured disk should be treated conservatively. Also conservative treatment is advised for those who have mild attacks but not too often, those who are more than 50 years old, and for those in whom the diagnosis is in doubt.

For patients with intolerable back pain or pain in the sciatic nerve, those who have repeated severe attacks for a long period of time, and for some others surgery may have to be considered. The operation employed in such cases may be just removal of the ruptured disk or it may include, in addition to removal of the disk, a fusion or binding together of the two vertebral bones between which the disk lies.

The recognition of the fact that ruptures of this kind can occur and can in most cases be successfuly treated surgically has given relief to a great many who would otherwise have suffered for years with intolerable pain.

QUESTION: What is the cause of gray hair in a young person? Does it come from worry?

ANSWER: The most probable cause of gray hair in a young person is heredity. At least one of the parents — probably the mother—also got gray hairs early. Most doctors are skeptical about worry in youth as a cause of gray hair.

Steps to the Moon

THE STORY: Gaynel Teare, expected by her mother Emily to marry Barry Bainbridge, a young millionaire, is uncertain what course to take. Although Gaynel is fond of Barry, she prefers the company of young, fun-loving Fritz Freyman. But Gaynel is the breadwinner of her family, once well-to-do but now in reduced circumstances, and marriage to a millionaire would solve many problems. Fritz has no money. In fact he is so broke that he has told Gaynel that he can't take her anywhere this evening. So he asks her to his apartment. Gaynel is reluctant until Fritz says they will be well chaperoned, although he does not say by whom.

XI

THEY found some cold chicken and vegetables which Gaynel fixed into quite a delectable salad, including greens and one plump tomato.

"You know, this is quite domestic," Gaynel dimpled at him, her eyes laughing, over their spread. Like everything else done with Fritz, this had been a lark. Somehow she knew she would always remember this evening, see Fritz as he looked now, his shirt opened at the neck, the sleeves rolled up. He might show disdain regarding dress, but he was enough to make any girl's eye sharpen, set her pulses to racing.

"Quite," Fritz agreed. He allowed her to lean across and strike a match to his pipe. "Though you misjudge me, gorgeous. I didn't say I hadn't the necessary tendencies for matrimony; all I lack is the tenacity—and treasury. All we need now, however, is for the baby to wake and squawk."

"I do hope he sleeps until we get the dishes done." Gaynel looked anxiously, and yet resigned.

"Dishes, nothing! Candy will do them in the morning."

"Candy?"

"The lady what does by the day for this establishment." He rebuked her with husbandly fortitude. "Candeline Hildegard Jones."

"But I'll stack them," she insisted, "while you have your smoke. I wish to goodness, Henry, you wouldn't smell up my parlor with that nasty old pipe of yours." She found an apron in the kitchen.

"Fetch my slippers, Miranda, that's my good gal." He pushed back his chair, pulled up another for his feet to rest on.

GAYNEL knelt down to unlace his shoes for him. "You're the laziest, most good-for-nothing husband I ever had," she scolded severely and looked up from this compromising position on hearing a smothered chuckle from the hallway to discover a young man standing looking at them.

"Don't get up." Fritz's hand kept her from scrambling to her feet. "This pleases me more than I can tell you, to have Johnny come in and find a young woman on her knees to me. Come on in, Johnny, my lad. Miranda, my love, this is one of the chaperons I was telling you about."

Johnny advanced and held out his hand. Gaynel let him give her a lift. He was a friendly looking young man, bright red hair, green eyes, the map of Ireland indelibly impressed.

"There's just one bottle of beer left," Fritz said hospitably. But with Gaynel's back toward him he shook his head in a vigorous negative and motioned for Johnny to take himself off in a jiffy, or else . . .

"No, thank you," Johnny returned politely. "It has been a pleasure, though, to meet the Missus," he assured them.

"He'll think we're crazy," Gaynel giggled, after he had gone on upstairs.

"He knows I am," Fritz reassured her. "You'll find my slippers in the front hall closet, my love." He picked up the newspaper, settled back.

The dishes stacked and rinsed, Gaynel made him put the newspaper down. "You've always got your nose buried in that old paper," she scolded. "And me slaving day-in day-out in this house. When night comes I need a little recreation. Besides, I thought you said you were in a talking mood, Henry."

She curled herself up on the studio couch, an enormous, shabby affair, heaped with a number of oddly assorted cushions. Everything in The Goat's Nest was shabby and had been chosen for durability and comfort rather than fitness. There was an ancient grand piano in one corner, but apparently it was also used for a desk, as it was loaded with books and papers, pictures and magazines.

"What will we talk about?" Fritz asked. He switched off the lamp, so that only the one near the piano was on and the shabbiness and dust merged into a rosy radiance. "Now that you've fed me so well, my love, my talkative mood has deserted me. I feel much more like a little nap."

"It's because it's so terribly close," Gaynel said. She covered a yawn with her hand. "A little nap wouldn't go badly, though, at that." She patted the place beside her, beckoning him. He stretched out, pillowing his head in her lap.

HER fingers played in his thick blond hair. She wished his eyes weren't so blue, or so disturbing.

It was not much more than a moment before Fritz had closed his eyes, his breathing becoming even and steady as her hand smoothed his forehead. Her own eyelids drooped . . . she couldn't remember when she had felt so fagged out . . . such a hectic week . . . the office . . . at home, too . . . She felt her head nod . . . perhaps she dozed a short while, too—then her head came up with a jerk. She had heard something. Someone was staring at them—a strange young man.

"Fritz . . ." she shook him, tried to make him sit up, shook him, hard, again.

"Go 'way," Fritz murmured. Then: "Oh, 'scuse it . . ." He rubbed his eyes, lifted his head.

Pecos Bank Hikes Capital Structure

PECOS—The First National Bank of Pecos announces an increase in its capital stock to $100,000. The increase was effective August 11.

The increase was voted by a special meeting of the shareholders and has been approved and authorized by the comptroller of currency.

This increase was made in part by a stock dividend and in part by the sale of new stock.

New capital set-up includes: $100,000 capital, $100,000 surplus, and more than $60,000 undivided profits and reserves.

The action was taken, E. B. Daniel, Jr., executive vice president, declared, because of the increased activity in Pecos and adjacent territory created by the expansion of farming development and oil activity.

If you want to vary the flavor of green snap beans add a little chili sauce about four tablespoons — to about four tablespoons of melted butter or margarine and use this as a dressing for the beans. Season well with salt and freshly ground pepper.

Brothers Cross Ocean In 20-Foot Sailboat

DARTMOUTH, ENGLAND—(AP)—Two daring British brothers Thursday completed an epic 2,700-mile Atlantic crossing in a homemade 20-foot sailboat.

Stanley Smith, 30, and his brother, Colin, 29, both veterans of the Royal Air Force, set foot on land for the first time since leaving Halifax, Nova Scotia, in their cockleshell craft 43 days ago.

The two former glider pilots were welcomed by dozens of screaming sirens and ships whistles, while hundreds cheered.

McCamey News

McCAMEY—A daughter, Kristie Lee, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Guy C. Burton, Jr., August 17 in a San Angelo hospital. The baby weighed eight pounds, four ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Partin and daughter, Sylvia, returned recently from a vacation at the Carlsbad Caverns, Ruidoso and Buchanan Lake. They also visited in the home of Partin's mother in Temple and in the home of a daughter at Robert Lee.

Dr. Jim L. Adrian Thursday accompanied his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Adrian, home from Temple, where he was under medical care after returning from Mexico City. Dr. Adrian had undergone major surgery in Mexico City. He is reported improving slowly.

STAMFORD RESIDENTS ARE VISITING HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Morrow of Stamford are visiting Mr. and Mrs. John B. Coulter and sons, 610 West Louisiana Street. Mrs. Coulter is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morrow.

Morrow is vice president of the First National Bank of Stamford.

Strength in Faith

Great crises in the lives of men call for strength of mind and soul which no earthly power can give. When his own efforts and resources fail, man's help must come from God.

This troubled woman has learned the secret of faith and is putting her case in the hands of God. There she will find strength and comfort sufficient to her needs and will see clearly through the shadows that surround her.

Faith is a key that will unlock most of our human problems and resolve most of our difficulties—if we will only develop it. It is a light in human darkness, comfort in man's distress, strength in his weakness, and hope in his despair.

People should know more about the power of faith and the wonders it can work in human life. The story is written in the Bible, embodied in the teachings of the Church, and graved upon the hearts of believers.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Western Plastic Cinches Top Spot

Western Plastic whipped Standard and Joe's Gulf in consecutive games at Wadley Field Thursday night to nail down first place in the Midland Softball League. It was the second time in as many days Western had beaten two opponents.

A home run by Miles Stanley and the six-hit pitching of John Daylong sparked Western's victory over Standard in the first game. The final score was 4 to 1, Stanley's round-tripper breaking a 1-1 tie.

Wise and King collected two hits each for the winners. Bob Dean was tagged with the loss.

Joe's Gulf showed a lot of power in the second game but fell one run short as it dropped the decision 4 to 3. Smith and Flournoy clouted round-trippers for the Gulfers.

Four Base Rap

Jack Dunlap, the winning pitcher, drove in the winning run with a homer with one on for Western.

With Western Plastic firmly and untouchably stationed in first place and Joe's Gulf and Standard tied for second, only the fourth position remains to be decided.

Shell, presently a half-game back of Rotary Engineers, will try for a fourth place tie when it meets the Rebels at Wadley Field Monday night. The game is called for 8 p.m.

The playoffs between the first four teams will start early next week.

Ernie Vossler Tops Lubbock Qualifiers

LUBBOCK —(AP)— Match play started Friday in the Lubbock Country Club invitational golf tournament. Ernie Vossler of Fort Worth topped the field into the first round, with a four-under-par 67.

Thirteen players of more than 300 that entered the tournament bested par figures Thursday in qualifying. It required 74 or lower to get into the championship flight.

Jack Williams of Plainview and Murrell Tripp of Lubbock had 68's while Tommy Roberts of Roswell, N. M., Dave Lawson and Dick Jennings of Lubbock, Oran Wilson of Amarillo, Jack Munger of Dallas and Bo Winniger of Guthrie, Okla., registered 69's.

White fir lumber is being produced at the rate of 500,000,000 board feet every year.

Bulldogs Hold First Scrimmage

Business picked up at Memorial Stadium Thursday afternoon as Coach Tugboat Jones sent his Midland Bulldogs through their first scrimmage session. The leather could be heard popping for a goodly distance as the Purple charged hard.

The scrimmage session was followed by 30 minutes of tackling drills in which more leather popped.

Team spirit and hustle were running high during the fourth-day workout, making up for some of the speed and other qualities lacking in the material.

Cecil Stevens, only returning back, looked sharp on several carries.

Blocking Backs

Reed Gilmore and Bob Conner were pitching passes well and received nice protection from L. C. Thomas and other blocking backs.

Harrie Smith, lanky end candidate, is developing into a fine looking offensive man.

Bob Wood, Jimmie O'Neal, Alfred Baze, "Pee Wee" Mooney, Al Scoggins and Stan Coker played a rough defensive game during the afternoon drill.

More bright prospects are beginning to show up daily as the preseason drills continue. The coaches especially are pleased with the good spirit and hustle being shown.

Hawaiians Pace Women's Swim Meet

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—Five National Women's AAU swimming titles go on the block Friday night and its a good bet Hawaii will be in the running for most of them.

Four Hawaiians Thursday night gained spots in the finals of the one-mile swim.

Catherine Kleinschmidt paced her teammates' performances, turned in the best time and became top choice to displace Defending Champion Joan Mallory of the Crystal Plunge Club of San Francisco.

Tribe-Colts Divide Pair

The Midland Indians and the San Angelo Colts complete their four-game series in San Angelo Friday night. The Colts hold a two to one edge in the first three games.

The Indians return home Saturday night to open a two-game series with the Odessa Oilers.

SAN ANGELO—The Midland Indians jumped back into third place and right out again here Thursday night as they split a double header with the San Angelo Colts. Midland gained the decision in the first game 9 to 5 but kicked away the second one to the Colts 5 to 3.

A six-run uprising in the fifth inning of the opener put the Indians in solid. Credit Manager Harold Webb with using the correct strategy.

The Colts had jumped out front with five runs in the first inning off Glen Patton. Jake McClain sparked the rally with a three-run homer.

But the Indians fought back, scoring one in the first and two in the fourth.

Big Fifth

With a runner on second base in the fifth inning and one out, Webb lifted Patton and sent in Claude Horton to hit. Horton unloaded a double to the centerfield wall to set fire to the Indians. Stanley Hughes tripled Horton home, Gus Pena singled Hughes around, Sliter singled, Julian Pressley doubled and Lou Dawson doubled. Horton took the mound after the rally and blanked the Colts the remainder of the game.

Horton came back to try the "iron man" stunt in the second tilt but couldn't quite get the job done. The Colts touched him for two in the first inning on Stretch Jackson's homer, Ken Cluley's triple and Sam Harshaney's first of three damaging hits.

The Indians came back with one in the fourth on Stanley Hughes' triple and a wild pitch.

The Tribe added two more in the fifth to take a temporary 3 to 2 lead.

But came the sixth and two more San Angelo runs aided greatly by some costly errors by the Indians.

Webb got himself tossed in the first of the seventh for disputing a call at home plate. The Indians rallied a bit after Harold made his exit but couldn't push anything across the plate.

Longhorn League—

Broncs, Swatters, Oilers Tab Wins As Colts, Tribe Split

By The Associated Press

League-leading Big Spring tallied three runs in the tenth inning Thursday night to defeat Roswell 13-11 in a Longhorn League baseball game.

Gomez' double, scoring Baez and Valdes, was the blow that won the game for the first-place Broncs.

The Odessa Oilers blasted the Ballinger Cats 17-11 and took over undisputed possession of fifth place. The loss dropped the Cats a full game behind the Oilers.

Six Odessa tallies in the third iced the contest for the Oilers.

Midland and San Angelo split a twin bill. Midland won the opener 9-5 after tallying six runs in the fifth. Sam Hunter scored the winning run for San Angelo in the sixth frame of the nightcap to give the Colts a 5-3 win.

Bill Peeler's home run in the ninth gave Sweetwater and 8-7 victory over Vernon.

Girl Against The Channel—

Delay Heartbreaking, Says Shirley, As Weather Sours

By SHIRLEY MAY FRANCE
(Copyright by NEA Service, Inc., 1949)

DOVER, ENGLAND—(NEA)—I made the bitterest decision of my life Thursday when I had to postpone my attempt at swimming the channel for about a week.

You've no idea how heartbreaking it is to want something as much as I want to swim the channel and not be able even to make a try. But, in the two and half weeks I've been training both here and on the French side, that moody old channel never gave me a chance. The weather always was bad.

Swimming the channel requires the perfect combination of three things—luck, weather and condition. I had the condition all right—in fact, I had it too long—but I never got the weather.

As to what happens when a swimmer starts without that big three, notice that husky Jose Cortinas, the Cuban, had to be pulled out after only a few hours. Cortinas had decided to go although he got the same weather report we did—not very favorable.

Trainer Ted Temme, the only man to swim both ways, agreed with our decision and canceled swims for two of his charges, Philip Mickman of England and Elna Anderson of Denmark.

Kept Telephone Hot

We kept the trans-channel phone hot yesterday. Coach Harry Boudakin and myself were in Wissant in France, and my manager, Ted Worner, father and our pilot, Charles Burwill were in Dover. The weather report was unfavorable but I kept urging them to get half-hourly reports so we could start as soon as we got a good one.

About mid-afternoon, they called us and said that "winds of force three" were expected. That meant winds of about 15 miles an hour and, since the winds affected the waves, I would have had to swim through "moderate" seas. Best channel swimming weather is force one or two, or winds up to 10 miles an hour with "slight" seas.

Dad ordered me to break camp in Wissant and return to Dover, which we did. I almost blubbered as I stood on the rail of the channel ferry watching the White Cliffs shining in the distance. I thought how happy I would have been if I'd only been seeing those same cliffs as I was churning through the water, swimming instead of ferrying toward England.

Why didn't I stay in Wissant to wait out the weather? Well, this is the reason given me by Dad and Coach Boudakian. They say that no one keeps at peak condition forever, and I'd held it continually since August 13.

They were afraid a letdown would come and thus, when the report was unfavorable, they decided to rest me so as to avoid staleness setting in before I resumed hard training.

Nippon Stars Smash More Swim Records

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Only U. S. Olympic Champion Wally Ris stood between the astounding Japanese swim team and a complete sweep of the National AAU men's free style titles Friday.

Ris, who holds the American record of 57.6, will swim in the 100-meter event against Tokyo Swim Club's Yoshihiro Hamaguchi and Shigeyuki Maruyama.

The Iowa flash may have to do better than that to best the Nips. For it seems that nothing less than the phenomenal will do against the invaders who seem bent on taking home all the world's records, as well as the American championships.

Hironoshin Furuhashi rewrote the record book again Thursday night with 4:33.3 in winning the 400 meters, and anchoring the Tokyo club to victory in the 800-meter relay in 8:45.4.

These figures eclipsed Alex Jany's 4:35.2 in the 400, and the American Olympic Team's 8:46 in the 800 relay at London last year.

On the American side of the ledger, Joe Verdeur and Allan Stack, not faced with Japanese competition, retained their respective breast stroke and backstroke crowns.

Aussies Bang U. S. Davis Cup Netters

BROOKLINE, MASS. — (AP) — America's Davis Cup hopes suffered a shocking letdown Thursday when a pick-up team of Australians whaled Gardnar Mulloy and Bill Talbert in the quarter-finals of the National Doubles Tennis Championships.

The young Australians, Frank Sedgman and George Worthington, blasted the legs from under America's defending and four-times national champions 6-4, 1-6, 7-5, 9-7.

The Australians' surprising victory left only two American teams in the field. They play each other Friday.

New Baseball Park And Rodeo Arena Built At Gainesville

GAINESVILLE—(AP)—A new $44,000 baseball park and a rodeo arena seating 3,000 spectators have been added to the Cooke County Fair grounds for the annual fair September 5 to 10.

Other permanent fixtures include animal and bird cages in the Fair Park Zoo, built and painted to resemble circus wagons—reminders of the nationally known Gainesville community circus.

Highlights of the fair will include a three day rodeo; a double-header baseball game Labor Day night between the Gainesville Owls and the Wichita Falls Spudders; an automobile show under the community circus big top, and an electrical appliance show. A grandstand show by stage and radio performers will be staged in the baseball park September 6 and 7.

Tech Red Raiders To Open Training With 25 Lettermen

LUBBOCK—Football players of Texas Technological College, seeking its ninth Border Conference championship and the third in succession will report for the season September 1.

Coach Dell Morgan and his aides expect a rough Fall, with one of the roughest schedules ahead which could be planned. Four Southwest Conference opponents, five of the Border Conference and Tulsa of the Missouri Valley circuit will be faced.

Twenty-five lettermen will be back, along with several likely transfers and many promising sophomores. But nine key lettermen have been lost from the 1948 champions and coaches see difficulty molding a winning team.

Williams Shifted To Guard

Big Don Williams, letterman tackle, has been shifted to guard to fill a major vacancy. With several good fullbacks, it is expected a shift or two from that post to right halfback will be made to correct another deficiency.

Three ends graduated, but replacements are seen in Dick and Hugh Jackson, brothers from Phillips, both transfers. Jack Davis, Littlefield sophomore, also is expected to help.

Strongest spots for the Red Raiders seem to be at tackle and center. All-Conference Gettys and John Andrews, starters of last year, are back, along with reserves Doug McSwane and Bobby Broyles. Jerrell Price, all-state two years at Brownfield High School, is seen as a stand-out addition at tackle.

Bobby Williams is back at center for his fifth year, bolstered by J. B. Mahler, 1948 letterman, and Aubrey Phillips, 6-4, 225-pound sophomore.

Tech this Fall is expected to do more passing, with at least four acceptable chunkers at quarterback.

Twenty-eight lettermen will be back for the North Carolina State College football team this Fall.

Jose Lopez, manager of the Latin Amreican Midland Colts, says his team and the Latin American population in general are planning a big celebration to last three days next month.

The Colts have reached into Mexico and matched a pair of games with the Carta Blanca team from Chihuahua as a part of the celebration. The games will be played at the "Home of the Colts" here September 15 and 16.

The Colts were scheduled against the San Angelo M-System team at San Angelo Sunday but the game has been called off. Instead, the Sweetwater Latin American team will come here for a game, starting at 4 p.m.

A top-notch day of golf and social activities is taking shape for the opening of the new Ranchland Hill Country Club here August 27. The club already has been opened to members but the coming event will be the formal opening.

The entire layout is scheduled for a thorough showing off.

Graham Ross of Dallas will conduct a golf clinic. Opal Reidel, consolation winner in the Trans-Mississippi Tournament will play Iva Noble of Dallas in an exhibition match. That sounds good, but it isn't all. Arrangements are being made for even more than that to take place as the fine new club opens.

—SS—

A. D. "Shadow" Ensey of the Odessa Oilers recently went on record as being in favor of raising the number of class men in the Longhorn League next season.

Ensey's main reason for favoring the move:

"I'm tired of being whipped by Pat Stasey's Cubans year after year."

After the three-game series in Indian Park last week, Ensey might get some backing on his plan from Harold Webb.

The Crane Cranes this season will find themselves back in a district from which they were withdrawn several years ago.

When the Cranes take the field against such opponents as Pecos, McCamey, Wink and Monahans, it will bring back memories of several years ago. It'll be a return to the past for the Cranes.

Judging from teams Crane has produced in recent years, they're likely as not to be up front in the season's standings.

Coach Bill Haralson will build his team around nine lettermen—a goodly number to start on.

Polio—the killer disease for many athletes each year, failed to win the fight with a promising young hurler now pitching in the Longhorn League.

Bob Merrill of the Sweetwater Swatters, who appeared against Midland in the last series here, just wouldn't be whipped.

Merrill had polio several years ago and it left one of his legs in pretty bad shape. He refused to take it lying down, however, and now is making his mark in the sports world.

It's gratifying to see a fellow strong enough to comeback like Merrill has. He's a good pitcher and deserves plenty of credit.

Kenny Peacock, the new third baseman for the Midland Indians, is looking for a place to live.

He and his wife would like to find a nice bedroom for the remainder of the season.

Sports Slants will relay any information on a place to Peacock.

The Indians return home Saturday night so it is hoped the Peacocks get a place by then if possible.

By The Associated Press

Football is in the Southwest air and the score of the Amarillo-Lamesa baseball game in the West Texas - New Mexico League last night—30-7—indicates it is affecting the diamond sport.

MAJOR LEAGUES—

Yanks, Cards Widen Leads

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees Thursday spotted the Washington Senators a 4-0 lead in the fourth inning, but came on to win 5-4. An error led to the Yankees' winning margin.

The Yankees already had tallied twice in the last half of the fourth on Tommy Henrich's home run, a fluke double by Johnny Lindell on a pop that fell in back of first and Gerry Coleman's single. They had two men on base and two out. Cliff Mapes hit an easy roller to second, but Al Rozar bobbled it, then was slow to pick it up. Two Yankees crossed the plate to deadlock the score at 4-4.

A double by Phil Rizzuto and Mapes' single off Mickey Harris in the sixth produced the winning run.

The victory increased the Yankees' first place lead over the idle Boston Red Sox to four full games.

In the National, the Brooklyn Dodgers continued to flounder around. They dropped their third in a row to Philadelphia's Phils 9-5, and fell a full game behind the pace-setting St. Louis Cardinals. The Redbirds and Cincinnati's Reds enjoyed an off day.

Indians Fight Back

The third-place Cleveland Indians remained in the American League fight, walloping the St. Louis Browns 14-4.

The victory left the Indians five games behind the Yankees and one in back of the Red Sox.

Home runs by Bob Elliott, Jeff Heath, Elbie Fletcher and Jim Russell helped the Boston Braves defeat the New York Giants 10-6.

Rookie Jim Walsh, making his second start for Pittsburgh, pitched the Pirates to a three-hit, 2-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

The Detroit Tigers blanked the Chicago White Sox 2-0.

Tulsa Oilers Push Nearer To Slumping Fort Worth Kittens

By The Associated Press

That silver-haired genius of the dugouts—alert Al Vincent—is laughing on the bristling necks of the Fort Worth Cats Friday.

The club that wasn't supposed to win—Tulsa's embattled Oilers—is just two and a half games away from the slumping Cats.

Fort Worth lost to San Antonio 7-2 Thursday night while Tulsa, getting Class AA pitching, was whitewashing Shreveport 6-0.

Oklahoma City, riding in third place and determined to stick there, whammed Beaumont 11-1.

Dallas increased its fourth-place margin over Shreveport to two games by licking Houston 5-2.

Tulsa's Frank Smith hurled two-hit ball in skunking Shreveport. It was Smith's 14th victory of the year and his third shutout.

San Antonio's hurler, Johnny Pavlick, limited Fort Worth to seven hits.

Herb Conyers hit a grand slam homer in the second frame and Randy Jackson smashed a two-run circuit clout in the sixth to lead Oklahoma City.

Dallas' home run triplets—Jerry Witte, Ben Guintini and Bill Serena—all clouted circuiters behind Walt Lanfranconi's four-hit pitching to give the Eagles the victory. Witte's homer was his thirty-eighth of the season.

Walker Cuppers Tee Off

MAMARONECK, N. Y.—(AP)—There were two non-playing captains as the British and American teams teed off Friday in the opening Scotch foursomes of the Walker Cup competition over the Winged Foot course.

It was known Francis Ouimet would not compete for the Americans, but the withdrawal of British Leader Percy (Laddie) Lucas in favor of 19-year-old Arthur Perowne was a surprise.

Lucas said he was off his game.

The affable Lucas also came through with another surprise when he placed Max McCready and Jim Bruen, rated the Britons' strongest pair, in the No. 2 position, thus pitting less-prominent Joe Carr and Ronald White against the American's top duo—Willie Turnesa and Ray Billows.

Singles Matches Saturday

That match opened the competition at 9 a.m. Fifteen minutes later McCready and Bruen teed off against Frank Strannahan and Chuck Kocsis, the No. 2 American combination.

The third match brought together Skee Riegel and Ted Bishop for the Americans and Cecil Ewing and Gerald Micklem. The final foursome matched Johnny Dawson and Brice McCormick against Perowne and another youthful Briton, Ken Thom.

In the Scotch foursome competition the two players on each side take alternate shots at the same ball.

Singles matches will be played Saturday.

McCamey Ropers To Meet Ozona Cowboys

McCAMEY—The Upton County Roping Club is sending ten of its members against the Crockett County team at Ozona in a 10-man team roping event. Each member will rope two calves and the total times of the 10 men on 20 calves will determine the winning team.

The roping will be staged in the Ozona Roping Arena Friday night under the lights.

In the afternoon, the two roping clubs were scheduled to mix in a softball tilt that many claim will determine the champion softball roping aggregation in West Texas.

Ropers who will participate for Upton County are Walton Paoge, J. Lane, Max Schneeman, Hamp Carter, Gene Holmes, Harry Howard, W. H. Carlton, Slim Heflin, Mutt Black and Alfred Helmers.

An executive committee to make nominations for new officers of the Midland Bowling Association was appointed at a meeting of association members in Hotel Scharbauer Wednesday night.

DADDY RINGTAIL ●

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Digging To China

Toowit Toowoo was a wise old bird, and one day he told Mugwump, the monkey boy, that if people dug down in the ground—and if they dug far enough—they would dig a hole through the ground and out on the other side of the world in China.

Away down the Elephant Path and home in a hurry ran Mugwump. He began to dig in the ground while he told Daddy Ringtail about it all.

Daddy Ringtail laughed to hear it. It was a long, long way through the earth and down at last to China. Why, nobody could ever dig that far. Daddy Ringtail thought. But, yes, he would help with the digging if Mugwump wanted him to help, and Mugwump did.

Daddy Ringtail began to dig while Mugwump ran up to the Monkey House for a glass of milk. Milk is for muscles that dig, like gasoline is for a motor that runs.

And all the while, Daddy Ringtail dug and dug and dug. The hole was very deep when Mugwump came down again from the Monkey House and Daddy Ringtail was down in the bottom of the hole, still digging, and digging, and digging, and digging on down to China.

But Mugwump didn't know that Daddy Ringtail had been talking to Dr. Shoobug about it all. He didn't know that Dr. Shoobug was going to play some Chinese music on a record player to make Mugwump think the hole was down in the ground almost to China. And when Mugwump heard some Chinese music, he ran again up to the Monkey House to tell Mother Ringtail that they were through with the digging down to China at last.

Daddy Ringtail smiled to see him go, and he climbed up and up from the bottom of the hole and said to the bushes: "All right, Dr. Shoobug, you can come out of the bushes now."

But Dr. Shoobug wasn't in the bushes. He had been too busy to come back again and play the Chinese music he had promised. But still some Chinese music was in the air, and if you think the music was coming up through the hole from China, you may be right. I wish I knew, but I don't so it's best for me to say I don't, instead of trying to fool somebody.

Negro Slain After Three-Hour Battle With 125 Officers

CHICAGO—(AP)—A barricaded negro stood off 125 policemen in a three-hour gun battle Thursday night before they set fire to his home, then riddled him with bullets as he attempted to escape.

He was wanted for shooting a child.

All during the battle, the besieged negro, Ernest Craig, 28, continued firing from windows with two revolvers and a rifle. Police poured hundreds of bullets and tossed about 200 tear gas bombs into the two-story frame house before they applied the torch.

As the flames spread, Craig went out a second-story window and slid to the ground in an 18-inch passageway between his home and a neighboring house.

Officers spotted him as he crawled along the narrow opening toward the front of the building. A policeman shouted a warning and Craig fired at him but missed.

Two detectives returned the fire from chattering machine guns. The negro's body convulsed as shot after shot struck him. He continued firing until two other policemen moved in and emptied their revolvers into his quivering body.

Examination later showed Craig had been struck by at least 18 machine gun and pistol bullets and several shotgun pellets.

The next statewide hearing will be held at 9 a.m. September 15 in Austin.

Increase By Districts

The September allowable with the daily increase by districts over the current allowable will be as follows:

District 1, Southwest Texas, 29,773, up 772 barrels per day.

District 2, Southwest Texas, 124,808, up 9,991 barrels per day.

District 3, Gulf Coast, 384,845, up 28,252 barrels per day. This includes the 9,000 barrel increase in the Conroe Field.

Residence Damaged By Fire Resulting From Gas Explosion

Fire, which firemen said resulted from a gas explosion, did extensive damage to the interior of the Oddrey Nelson residence at 1106 West Kentucky Street Thursday afternoon.

Firemen said Nelson was almost overcome by smoke when he returned to the blazing building to remove household articles. He was revived by artificial respiration and use of the Fire Department inhalator.

Two trucks answered the call and it required an hour to extinguish the blaze.

The new schedule was ordered by the State Department of Public Welfare and will be observed by welfare offices in all counties of the state.

The offices now are open until noon on Saturdays.

Vaughan—

committee Thursday, after President Truman had accused it of withholding testimony "favorable" to Vaughan while producing the unfavorable parts at public hearings, threw a new spotlight on the two men.

Maragon Makes Deal

Testimony by Harry Hoffman, Milwaukee advertising man who handles the Verley account, named Maragon as the man who arranged for the Army transport to carry Hoffman, Maragon and Emmett King, New York attorney, to Paris on Verley business.

The record showed that William P. Rogers, committee counsel, said Maragon tried to bring back from the trip some perfume essence disguised as four bottles of champagne.

Rogers commented: "It looks to me on the surface as though they (customs agents) caught Maragon red-handed smuggling the stuff in, and there was no prosecution."

This led Mundt to try unsuccessfully during the private hearings to get Hoffman to admit there was some connection between the freezers—of which Vaughan got two—and arrangements for the Paris trip to get contacts and "essential oils" for Bennett's company. But Hoffman wasn't going along with the idea.

31 Persons Die In British Air Crashes

MANCHESTER, ENGLAND—(AP)—A British European Airways plane enroute here from Belfast crashed into a hill in thick weather Friday and 27 of its 32 occupants were killed.

Four persons were killed in another crash at Baildon, near Shipley, Yorkshire, the Civil Aviation Ministry announced.

All occupants of the planes were believed to have been British.

The BEA twin-engine transport, an hour out of Belfast, approached Manchester in a thick mist. It plowed into a mountainside, exploded and burned.

Police officers at the scene said they counted 22 passengers and four crew members dead. Another passenger, a woman, died enroute to the hospital in nearby Oldham. About half the passengers were women.

Two children, badly injured, were reported to be among the survivors.

Doctor Cites Polio Recovery After One Injection Of Drug

COLUMBUS, OHIO —(AP)— Mary Lou Barnes, stricken a week ago by an ailment which her physician said he diagnosed as poliomyelitis, was back in class at Ohio State University Friday.

Her rapid recovery began after the physician administered one injection of a drug.

"She is feeling very good," said Mrs. Laura Barnes, mother of the 19-year-old sophomore.

The doctor, who asked that his name be withheld, insisted Mary Lou's illness was polio.

But whether the drug caused her recovery—well, he said, that could not be stated positively. The fact remains, he declared, that she did recover, and anyone can draw his own conclusion.

A spokesman for the American Medical Association said in Chicago he had no knowledge of any drug that would prevent polio or affect its course.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis shared the AMA viewpoint.

U. S. Offices Move To Hong Kong As Reds Near Canton

CANTON —(AP)— The battle for Canton neared Friday with the Communist capture of a key city 170 miles to the Northeast.

The city is Tayu. It is in the broad Kan River Valley, which leads to Canton. Tayu's fall was announced by the Defense Ministry.

With Tayu gone, the road is more or less clear to Kukong, 70 miles to the West. When the Reds reach Kukong the battle for Canton itself is begun, military observers believe.

Underscoring the gravity of Canton's situation, the U. S. Embassy announced it was moving to Hong Kong, the British crown colony to the South.

Asks Dismissal Of Divorce Action

AUSTIN—(AP)—The wife of Commissioner of Agriculture J. E. McDonald asked Friday that her divorce suit be dismissed.

No reason was given for the action.

The motion to dismiss was filed by Mrs. Anita McDonald's attorneys Friday morning before a scheduled hearing on a temporary injunction against McDonald.

Judge Charles O. Betts issued a temporary restraining order August 11 in 126th District Court, preventing McDonald from disposing of community property, from molesting his wife, and requiring him to bring an accounting of the couple's property to court Friday.

British Woman Flier Completes Year-Long Round-The-World Trip

PRESTWICK, SCOTLAND—(AP)—Mrs. Richard A. Morrow-Tait, British round-the-world flier, returned Friday to Britain, which she left just a year and a day ago.

Mrs. Morrow-Tait's single-engine plane landed at Prestwick Airport from Iceland at 3:05 p.m. (8:05 a.m. CST).

The model-turned-aviatrix was held up by weather in Iceland and so was prevented finishing the trip on the anniversary of her take-off.

After refueling her light plane here, Mrs. Morrow-Tait expected to fly on to London's Croydon Airport to end the first single-engine round-the-world flight by a woman at the point where she started it.

Flying with her as navigator is Michael Townsend, 36.

Oil And Gas Log—

lenburger and developed water in that horizon. It plugged back and set casing through the Strawn and is testing that formation through perforations.

Coke Exploration Is Swabbing In 'Burger'

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 2 Odom, Northeast Coke County wildcat, was swabbing on perforated section in the top of the Ellenburger at 5,690-5,730 feet.

That zone had shown slight signs of petroleum when drillstem tested while the project was drilling to its bottom of 6,374 feet in granite wash.

The lower zone of the Ellenburger made water. The hole is now on a plugged back depth of 5,812 feet, and the 5 1/2-inch casing is cemented at that point.

Operator plans to perforate and test in the Strawn after the oil and gas yielding ability of the top of the Ellenburger has been determined. The Strawn showed some possibilities of making an oil well.

This venture is 660 feet from southwest and 8,248 feet from southeast lines of the Felix Sosa survey, and is two and three-quarter miles northwest of Humble No. 1 Odom, flowing discovery from the Strawn, completed several weeks ago to open the Fort Chadbourne field in extreme Northwest Runnels County.

Sharon-Ridge Flanker Is Finished By Humble

Humble Oil & Refining Company has completed its No. 2 Richard Bishop and others, as a one-location north extension to the east side of the Sharon Ridge-Canyon pool in Southwest Scurry County.

The production was from pay section above 6,720 feet in Canyon lime. On a 24-hour potential test the new producer made 330 barrels of pipe line oil with a gravity of 45 degrees.

Gas-oil ratio of the petroleum was 925-1. Flowing tubing pressure was 200 pounds.

It is 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 164, block 97, H&TC survey, about 13 miles southwest of the town of Snyder.

Texaco Set To Drill Ector Devonian Test

Drilling is to start at once by The Texas Company at its No. 2-B-NCT-1 A. E. Thomas, an 8,600-foot rotary exploration on the east side of the Wheeler-Devonian field in Central-West Ector County.

Drillsite of the venture, which is to try for Devonian production, is 660 feet from south and 330 feet from west lines of the east half of the northwest quarter of section 14, block 46, T-1-S, TP survey, 25 miles northwest of Odessa.

Two Canyon Producers Completed In Scurry

Two new producers from the Canyon lime reef have been completed in Scurry County, one in the Diamond-M field in Southwest Scurry County, and one in the North Snyder field of North Central Scurry County.

Lion Oil Company completed its No. 2 Gertie, 610 feet from west and 665 feet from south lines of section 183, block 97, H&TC survey.

Flowing through a 16/64th inch choke, the new producer made 341.4 barrels of 43.8-gravity oil in a 24-hour period. Gas-oil ratio of the new petroleum was 923-1.

The production was from perforations in the casing between the top of the pay at 6,724 feet and the total depth of 6,741 feet after that zone had been treated with 500 gallons of acid.

Flowing casing pressure was 320 pounds and the flowing tubing pressure was 370 pounds. There was no formation water.

Another For Stanotex

Standard Oil Company of Texas completed it No. 5-7 Jessie Brown as a natural producer in the North Snyder field and it rated a 24-hour potential of 1,320 barrels of 43.5-gravity petroleum through a 1/2-inch choke. Gas-oil ratio was 945-1 and there was no formation water.

Production from the Canyon reef lime was from open hole below 6,598 feet where a 7-inch oil string was cemented and the total depth at 6,910 feet. Top of the pay was 6,530 feet.

Location of the well is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 439, block 97, H&TC survey.

HO&RC Now Testing In Wolfcamp-Permian

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Federal-Wiggs, deep wildcat in Central-South Eddy County, New Mexico, 15 miles south of Carlsbad, was taking a drillstem test in Wolfcamp-Permian black shale at 10,006-054 feet.

This venture developed some gas and slight shows of distillate in a drillstem test at 9,881-10,006 feet.

It is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 31-24s-27e. Original objective of the venture was to go to 13,000 feet to try to locate and test the Ellenburger.

Andrews Deep Project Drilling In Dolomite

George P. Livermore, Inc., and Deeprock Oil Corporation No. 1 Mayhew, Southwest Andrews County deep wildcat, five miles north of the Dollarhide field, had reached 11,196 feet in an unidentified dolomite, and was boring deeper.

Operator represntatives do not confirm a previously reported top of the Montoya, which some unofficial observers had picked to be at 10,640 feet, on an elevation of 3,279 feet.

The last marker officially reported from the venture was the top of the Devonian at 9,630 feet.

It is located 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 20, block A-51, psl survey. It is projected to continue to at least 12,500 feet to try to find and explore the Ellenburger.

Meow For Help

It took five men and a lot of heavy equipment almost two hours to get Tony the tomcat out of the foot-and-a-half wide crevice he fell into in New York City. Tony had been there three days until Joseph Schlesinger, left, of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and Police Sergeant Julius Lucker reached him.

Confessions Of Engel, The Romantic Swindler

By SIGMUND SAMUEL ENGEL
As Told To Elgar Brown
(Copyright, 1949, Chicago Herald-American)

Newspapers were terming me an international love buccaneer as early as 1925 but I never could figure the piracy angle. I never stole love; I sold it. And once in a while I unwittingly gave it away.

Take Margaret (Peggy) Hoffman, of Chicago, as pretty and as vapid a doll as I ever knew. If you take her as thoroughly as I did 24 years ago you'll emerge with some mighty sweet memories but no monetary profit whatever.

Well, the memories are enough for me. I was beautifully heeled with other women's money and was in a mood for unalloyed pleasure when I ventured to Ravinia, north of Chicago, to enjoy some symphony music.

I saw Peggy at about the same time she saw me. She was with her husband, Leonard Hoffman, a prosperous Dearborn St. furrier, and it was one of their final public appearances together. They were at sword's points, but seriously.

Wins Mash Note

I knew none of this, to be sure, as I ogled the beminked Peggy with professional savoir-faire and won a mash note in return. If you don't know instinctively how these feats are achieved, no use telling you; you'll never learn.

"You're an interesting man. My number is —. Won't you 'please call?"

Thus read her note, and from my Edgewater Beach Hotel room next day I telephoned. She came down for luncheon and we hit it off. We had barged around together for a month before she told me of her strained marital relations.

Peggy, a vision of blonde loveliness, knew her marriage was on the rocks. She had everything but love, and without it she had nothing.

Her interest was turning toward a movie career. Using an alias of John Weidemeyer—one of the few I recall—I spoke often of my show business experience and agreed to get her into pictures. It was a natural part of my buildup.

Complications developed when we discovered that we were being shadowed. I had engaged a private limousine, and wherever we ventured the surveillance of Leonard Hoffman's private eyes was keenly felt.

Peggy Explodes

As we departed the swank Edgewater Beach and entered my limousine, a casual glance would reveal a nearby Ford, parked with lights out, containing two men. As we moved toward some gay night spot, the Ford would follow like a little dog.

"This is getting a bit thick," Peggy exploded one night at Colosimo's. "If Leonard wants evidence so badly, let's give it to him. Let's go to St. Louis."

I turned this over in my mind. We had been cautious thus far; now prudence counseled letting well enough alone. But I hadn't yet seen any part of the Hoffman dough, and Peggy's physical charm was almost irresistible.

"St. Louis, here we come," I said finally, "but let's keep our guard up."

Down in Jackson St. Peggy bought a drawing room ticket and I took a compartment. Boarding the extra-fare train I salved the porter with a tremendous tip and made some pointed inquiries. Presently he galloped up with a report:

"That man," he said, "that Mr. Hoffman is on this train, sure enough."

Greeted By FBI

Needless to say, I never saw the inside of Mrs. Hoffman's drawing room. In the morning, nevertheless, we were welcomed into St. Louis by a delegation of FBI operatives.

"Mann Act," one of them snapped en route to headquarters, and I laughed in his face. I knew that no such charge would stand up. I laughed even harder when Hoffman, goggle-eyed, saw them take nearly $100,000 from me in large bills.

"Wonder how much of that is mine," he said gloomily. I didn't reassure him.

While I summoned from Chicago my attorney and old friend—my counsel in the current upleasantness—the chief FBI agent questioned Peggy Hoffman and learned the shakiness of his case.

Hires More Detectives

She calmly assured him she had come to St. Louis of her own volition, had bought her own ticket, had been the sole occupant of her drawing room. When my lawyer arrived the charge was filed away and nominal bond released Peggy and me.

Hoffman returned to Chicago, disgruntled, without his anticipated evidence. In due course we followed him. We paused briefly at the Ambassador East, then went on to New York.

Peggy began to insist, a little stridently, that I arrange her movie debut. But we weren't quite finished with her husband, who was now filing suit for divorce. Learning we were at the Ritz, he invested some more money in detectives.

It was money poorly spent. One of his double-crossing "operatives" approached me with dire threats; I paid him $500 strictly for nuisance value, and we left undisturbed for Peggy's long-awaited invasion of Hollywood.

Moving with proper respect for convention, we paused in Chicago fearing nobody. Peggy went to the Ambassador East, I to the Blackstone.

Hoffman was on the job, as we had foreseen, still seeking evidence. Police were alerted, Peggy's wires were tapped, but nothing came of it. I think authorities knew I was in Chicago, but they never did find out just where.

In a few days we left together for Los Angeles. I stopped at the Ambassador, Peggy went to the Town House. A friend promptly recognized Peggy and wired her husband. Presently a perspiring Hoffman showed up on the coast.

Turned Him Down

He had experienced a change of heart; now he wanted his beautiful wife to kiss and make up. But the blonde's "career" mania was in full blush and she coldly turned him down. Incidentally, she never went back to him.

My "movie connections" were not as ephemeral as you might have assumed. I really knew a lot of cinema biggies, including Carl Laemmle to meet her. He admired her beauty but summarized privately:

"She's too blankety blank dumb, but we'll give her a test. Build her up as a foreign importation; a mystery background never hurt anybody."

Only Beauty

I forgot the weird foreign name I chose for Peggy. Anyway, it doesn't matter, for Laemmle was right. Occasionally one meets a beautiful woman with talent and brains; alas, my protegee had only beauty.

On the Universal lot, preparing for her test, we met the late great comedian, W. C. Fields. He praised her loveliness without stint, and remarked:

"So you are from Berlin? That interests me; my wife is now in Austria."

And Peggy burbled brightly:

"Indeed that IS interesting—Berlin being the capital of Austria."

For the first time in my life I so far forgot my innate chivalry as to call a woman a jackass. At that moment I gave up on Peggy as a movie prospect; and in a matter of hours, pouting petulantly, she was en route to the Middle West.

Another Mistake

I followed in more leisurely fashion, and unhappily I chose Philadelphia as my next field. There ensued certain misfortunes, probably deserved, which I choose to dismiss briefly.

After all, I'm a man of great professional pride and it distressed me no end to be seized in a Philadelphia male beauty parlor, where I was freshening up, and to be cast unceremoniously into durance vile.

It didn't ease the pain when I received a short jail term on conviction of Mrs. Frances Cannington's impetuous charge of obtaining money by fraud—an accusation I mistakenly believed to have been nolle prossed long ago.

That wasn't all. On my release I was rearrested, whisked to New York and rewarded with a term of a few years in Sing Sing (later I was transferred to Dannemora) on a charge which Mrs. Rose Burken had tried in vain to quash.

Two rays of sunlight brightened this dreary period. In Philadelphia I was visited and comforted by the loyal Peggy Hoffman. To my New York prison cell came Mrs. Burken herself, pledging tearfully her deathless affection.

It was these touching tributes, I suppose, which gave me fortitude to carry on and courage to resume my life work when freedom was restored.

(Brave Engel carries on—and how—with a whole bevy of beautiful admirers on the sands at Atlantic City in the next episode.)

Former King Carol Weds Mme. Lupescu In Church Ceremony

LISBON, PORTUGAL —(AP)— Former King Carol of Romania and Mme. Elena Lupescu were married in a religious ceremony Thursday night at the ex-monarch's Estoril residence.

The Rev. Hartinian Ivinovitch, head of the Romanian (Greek Orthodox) Church in Paris, came here to officiate at the ceremony.

Carol and Elena, whose romance flourished more than two decades despite family objections and political upheavals, were married in Rio De Janeiro in an "extremis" civil ceremony in July, 1947, when Elena was believed at the point of death.

Confirmation of the marriage—Carol's third—was complicated by the fact that both he and Madame Lupescu had been divorced.

Uncrowned Queen

Elena's influence during Carol's reign as king of Romania had been so great she had been known as the "uncrowned queen." Carol preferred her to his royal consort, Helen. Twice she accompanied him into exile.

As crown prince he renounced his right to the throne and went into exile. He and Madame Lupescu were together in Italy almost five years.

When he returned to Romania and was crowned king, Elena followed. Ten years later she followed him into exile when he gave up the throne rather than accept German domination during World War II.

They were targets for an assassination attempt by Nazi Partisans as their train was speeding out of the country.

Prisoners Of Franco

In Spain, the couple was held virtual prisoners by the Franco government—Carol said on orders of Adolf Hitler — until they made a spectacular escape to Portugal.

Six years residence in Latin America followed and then they returned to Portugal.

It was about 1924 at a gala military ball in Romania that Carol met Elena. The story goes that they fell in love at once. She had been married to a Romanian army officer. Carol was married to Helen at the time.

Soon afterwards Elena took up residence near Carol's palace. His mother, Queen Marie, demanded that he give up Lupescu. Carol refused.

Some time later his father, King Ferdinand, said the real reason Carol had renounced his throne was his "repeated moral delinquencies," and revealed that he himself had asked his son to take that action.

Mother Confesses Strangling Own Child

CHICAGO—(AP)—A young mother who first told police her six-day-old daughter was strangled by a negro prowler was quoted by police Friday as saying "I killed her."

Police Captain John Enright said the woman, Mrs. Dorothy Skeoch, 22, admitted killing the child only a few hours after they arrived home from the hospital, where the baby was born.

The baby, Susan, was found dead in bed with a plastic diaper knotted tightly around her neck.

Mrs. Skeoch, a former payroll clerk at the University of Chicago, was quoted by Enright as saying she had been depressed because her husband, Thomas, 21, had been unemployed since he lost his job as a dockworker two weeks ago.

No Money Coming In

"There was no money coming in and I couldn't stand seeing the baby go through what I have gone through. Enright said the woman told him.

She related, Enright added, that while she was pondering the family's plight the baby began whimpering and that she then tied the diaper around the child's neck.

After the child died, Mrs. Skeoch said her first thought was to attribute the strangling to a negro prowler. On that impulse, she told police, she ran through their side apartment screaming, and finally to the apartment of a neighbor, Mrs. Viola Venkus, 22.

"Something happened to my baby. A colored man did it." Mrs. Venkus said the mother cried.

Together Mrs. Skeoch and Mrs. Venkus returned to the apartment, where Mrs. Venkus unravelled the diaper and summoned a fire department rescue squad. After failing to revive the child, the firemen called police.
