INVESTIGATION OF DELINQUENT TAXES ORDERED

City Tax Collection Reports Citizens Found to Have Receipts for Uncredited Payments.

Excavation in Alley in Rear of First Baptist Church Protested by Commissioner Fitts.

Declaring that in a number of cases where attempts have been made to collect delinquent taxes he has found the property owners, in possession of duly signed tax receipts for which no entries have been made on the city books, City Tax Collector H. J. Anderson appeared before the Monday night session of the city council asking instruction as to what procedure he should take. These cases, Mr. Anderson asserted, are for taxes payable nearly a score of years.

In commenting on the situation, Street Commissioner Bonner declared that from a strictly legal standpoint the property holders are liable for the taxes, so long as the entries have not been properly made on the city books.

Mann To Investigate

By unanimous vote of the council, City Attorney E. M. Mann was instructed to, in company with Mr. Anderson, make investigation of each individual case, and in formal report recommend to the council what action shouldbi be taken. The council was of the opinion that taxes should not be collected from property holders who have receipts showing the payments have been made.

A demand that the city take some action with regard to restoring the normal condition of the alleyway, by his home, between Burnett and Bluff streets and in the rear of the Baptist church was filed by Police Commissioner Fitts. Commissioner Curlee asserted that he had ordered the excavation of the street several weeks ago, at the instance of officials of the First Baptist church, who declared to him that arrangements had been made for paving the alley.

Meet Church People

Mr. Fitts declared that he had never been approached on the subject and that the excavation prevented him from obtaining entrance for his car to his garage for which he had at considerable expense, constructed a concrete driveway. Commissioner Curlee was instructed by the council to meet with officials of the Baptist church and to either have the paving put down or to refill the alley.

Dr. M. M. Walker, county health officer, and County Auditor Pat Murphy appeared before the city council in the interest of the recent deal made by officials of the city and council to purchase the Call Field hospital. They asserted that the hospital has already been taken over by the city and council and that the first payment of $10,500 is now over due and should be paid.

The council instructed Dr. Walker and Mr. Murphy that the city is ready to issue a warrant to the stockholders of the hospital, but is unable at the present time to make their payment in cash.

Permit Street Use

A ninety day permit to use fifteen feet of street space was given at Eleventh and Indiana street, by G. W. Filgo. Mr. Filgo asserted that he wished to tear down the old two-story frame building at Eleventh and Indiana street, which was gutted by fire several weeks ago and erect a single story brick business house there.

W. W. Bedford, who appeared before the council with a petition asking permission to put in a line of groceries at his filling station at Jefferson and Missouri streets was found to lack a few signatures to his petition and instructed to appear at the next session of the council.

With regard to the complaint of W. E. Friese, who appeared protesting the delay in the paving work on south Ohio in front of his property the council ruled that his contract was between the paving contractor and Mr. Friese and that therefore, the council could not interfere.

Order Reduction

The valuation of $1,500 on the residence property of Gabriel Spence was ordered reduced to $800 on the recommendation of Police Commissioner Fitts.

Moving toward relieving the city of ownership of automobiles used in the city sanitary department reports of valuations placed on cars of that department as estimated by local automobile dealers, were accepted as follows: Two Dodge cars $250 and $200 each and one Ford $200.

The council, ordered that the cars be either sold to employes of the health department at this figure or so disposed of that the employes may purchase cars as they desire.

SEIZE MASH AND "CHOC" BEER IN SUBURBAN RAID

Three barrels of corn mash, a small quantity of choc beer and about a half pint of corn whiskey were seized at a residence near Call Field about 10 o'clock Monday night, according to the report of police. The raid was made by Deputy Sheriffs B. M. Newton, Ollie McDonald and Ralph Rohatsch.

Although no still for manufacturing whiskey was found at the place, police declared that they had been informed the still had been removed from the place only a few minutes ahead of the arrival of officers.

FIVE HUNDRED EXPECTED TO JOIN EXCURSIOII TO BRECKENRIDGE TUESDAY

BURKBURNETT BOOSTERS DUE HERE TODAY

Auto Party in Interest of Trades Day and Carnival Is Expected to Be Here Obout 6 o'Clock.

An automobile train of 100 cars, with 300 passengers, advertising the Burkburnett Trade Day and Merchants Fair and Carnival to be held next Friday and Saturday will visit this city this afternoon about 6 o'clock according to information received from the boosters of that city.

This party will be on the last leg of a tour of Devol, Randlett, Grandfield, Bridgetown, Newton, Iowa Park and other towns close to Burkburnett, leaving Iowa Park at 5 p. m. after a short stay. They will stay here until 7 o'clock and then complete their trip by driving back to Burkburnett.

The purpose of this trip they say is to spread the news of the two days celebration to the towns of this section so as to insure large crowds on the two days. Co-operation in the trip and the fair are the merchants and the various civic and commercial organizations of Burkburnett.

The program for the two days has been announced as follows.

Friday.

11 a. m.—Auction of articles donated by merchants to finance the two days celebration and fair.

12 n. m. to 1 p. m.—Free barbecue, served to everyone.

2 p. m. to 5 p. m.—Rodeo at Hardin Park.

7 p. m. to 11 p. m.—Street Fair and Carnival.

Saturday.

11 a. m.—Auction as on the first day.

2 p. m. to 5 p. m.—Rodeo at Hardin Park.

8 p. m. to 12 p. m.—Street Fair and Carnival. Masked parade winner of prize costume to be given $35 watch.

With ticket sales for the Breckenridge excursion reported at a highly gratifying rate, and with late sales at the booth to be opened at the Union station before train time estimated by Secretary Chatham of the Chamber of Commerce as likely to run the number of excursionists to the 500 mark, the Breckenridge excursion, according to reports, bids fair to outdo even that to Graham, and any other excursion run by Wichita Falls in recent years.

The excursionists will include one ore more representatives of practically every business institution and professional firm in Wichita Falls, and will include practically the entire directory of the Chamber of Commerce.

Pennants for the trippers were received Monday, and will be issued at the train. A concession car for the serving of refreshments has also been arranged for.

The train will leave Wichita Falls at 7:30, as previously announced in the Record News. Fifteen minute stops will be made at each of the points en route in order that any who may desire may join the excursion at these points. The arrival in Breckenridge is scheduled for 1:35. The return trip will start at 4:30, and the train is scheduled to reach Wichita Falls at 11:10.

Preparations at Breckenridge for the entertainment of the excursionists are completed, and everything is ready for their arrival, advices from Breckenridge Monday stated.

A special rate of $3.50 for the round trip, including war tax—approximately the one way fare—has been fixed by the railroad. With the expenses of the trip this makes the total cost of the excursion $4.50.

ABANDON AUCTION SALE OF "SLAVES"

POLICE INTERFERE WITH ATTEMPTS TO FIND WORK FOR IDLE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Urbain Ledoux, alias "Mr. Zero," announced abandonment of his plan to hold "a slave auction" of the unemployed tonight after the police had dispersed a crowd of his followers in Bryant Park and prevented him from distributing food to the jobless.

He said his auction would not now be necessary, because the "high handed interference of the police will cause the wrath of public opinion to make right the present situation in New York City."

He appeared first at Cooper Square with a wagon load of buns for hungry, but the police ordered him to move on. He returned the buns to the bakery, at the police orders, but charged that he could not get his money back.

Walking to Bryant Park, he was greeted by scores of men, who accompanied him across the street to a hall which he had rented. The police barred the way and told him to move along. A crowd of more than 5,000 persons was soon gathered. Many of them, who make the park their headquarters, were unemployed. Mounted police and patrolmen dispersed the crowd. There was some resistance, but Ledoux was hustled away and the streets cleared.

SIX MILLIONS AVAILABLE FOR COTTON PLANTERS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 19.—The entire amount of the $6,000,000 loan recently approved by the war finance corporation, has been made immediately available for the use of the Oklahoma cotton growers association, according to a telegram to the association tonight from R. R. Burklin, treasurer of the war finance corporation, Washington.

POPE WIRES WELL WISHES TO MEET

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 19.—The national conference of Catholic charities today received the following message from the Pope:

"The sovereign pontiff, recognising your filial devotion, prays that the Catholic conference will arouse the spirit of Catholic charity throughout the United States."

SUBMARINE SENDS OUT DISTRESS CALL

By Associated Press.

MIAMI, Florida, Sept. 19.—A wireless message from the submarine R-47 saying she was in distress at a point 100 miles northeast of Nassau was received today by Ensign W. H. Klapproth, commanding the subchaser 154 lying here. The message was sent broadcast, it was thought.

MEMPHIS ENROUTE TO DIXIE SERIES OPENING WEDNESDAY

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 19.—The Memphis baseball club, Southern Association pennant winners, left tonight for Fort Worth to meet the Fort Worth club, Texas League champions, in the opening tilt Wednesday of the seven game series for the championship of the south.

Spencer Abbott, Memphis manager, said he was confident that the Memphis club would break even in the first two games of the series. He announced that Oscar Tuero will probably draw the pitching assignment for the opening game, with "Bud" Hungling, last year with the Shreveport, Texas League club, on the receiving end.

'FATTY' HOLDS WIFE CLOSE IN FIRST MEETING

Minta Durfee Goes to San Francisco to Be at Comedian's Side During Hour of Trial.

Prosecution Is Continuing Search and Questioning For and of Other Witnesses in Case.

By Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle and the wife, from whom he has been separated more than four years, met today in the visitors' room at the city prison, where Arbuckle is awaiting trial on a murder charge in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe through an episode at a drinking party in his suite at the Hotel St. Francis.

Arbuckle clasped Mrs. Minta Durfee Arbuckle in his arms, then affectionately greeted her mother, Mrs. Flora Durfee. The three, with the prisoner's brother, A. C. Arbuckle, of San Francisco, then sat down for a half hour of conversation.

The grand jury resumed its investigation of the Arbuckle affair tonight, subpoenaes having been sent out for Dr. M. E. Rumwell, the attending physician in most of Miss Rappe's illness, Miss Joyce Clark, one of the participants in the party, Dr. Gabor Kingstone and Reginald Morely, two men who are reported to have some knowledge of the affair, and several other witnesses.

Miss Clark was questioned by District Attorney Matthew A. Brady and his deputies today, but refused to sign a statement and accordingly was ordered to appear before the grand jury.

Lowell Sherman of Los Angeles, also subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury, is enroute to Chicago, Brady said, and no legal means exist to bring him back. Sherman was an occupant of the Arbuckle suite and was present at the party from which the death of Miss Rappe resulted.

HOLD SERVICES FOR MISS RAPPE

By Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 19.—Funeral services were held here today for Miss Virginia Rappe, motion picture actress, for whose alleged murder Roscoe C. Arbuckle, screen comedian, is held in San Francisco. Burial was in Hollywood cemetery. The Episcopal burial service was read.

Many friends attended, the crowd which sought admittance to the chapel being so large that the doors were locked.

Motion picture actors and producers were pall bearers.

COTTON REGAINS SOME OF LOSSES

BULGE OF $7.50 CARRIES STAPLE BACK TOWARD HIGH MARK

By Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 19—Bulges of about $7.50 a bale in cotton today carried the market back over much of the ground lost in the slumps of last week, during which October position lost $16 a bale. October was advanced 114 points above the level of Saturday's close to 19.34 cents a pound; the March position advanced 157 points.

Buying was heavy from the start and was encouraged partly by a better Liverpool demand, reports from the belt that farmers were refusing to sell their cotton at prevailing prices and the rumor that a brokerage house was coming out with a report on the crop showing a condition of but 35 per cent of normal, the lowest condition ever talked of in connection with the cotton crop.

MASKED MEN ROB DISTILLERY OF 88 WHISKEY CASES

BLOOMFIELD, Ky., Sept. 19.—Twenty masked and armed men overpowdered two guards at the B. McClaskey and ons distillery, bound them with wire torn from a telephone line, blindfolded them with curtains from the distillery office and escape in seven touring cars with eighty-eight cases and three barrels of whiskey early today.

The bandits also took from one of the guards $55 and a pistol. The distillery is within a quarter of a mile of the center of the Bloomfield business district.

DALLAS SHOPMEN VOTE ON STRIKE

By Associated Press.

DALLAS, Texas, Sept. 19.—Balloting among the railroad brotherhoods in Texas as to whether they will strike if the United States railroad labor board remains firm in its recommendation that wages be cut 12 per cent and in its stand regarding overtime work, is practically finished, according to Dallas members, who express the belief that approximately 98 per cent of the men voted in favor of the strike.

Railway officials maintain the strike vote is only a threat the brotherhoods are making in their dealings with the railways and the labor board.

M'DOWELL WILL BE TRIED HERE DURING OCTOBER

By Associated Press.

DALLAS, Sept. 19.—Frank McDowell, formerly an officer in a national bank at Graham, Texas, who was arrested in New York City some time ago on a charge of embezzling funds of the bank, was placed in the Dallas county jail today, having been brought here by a deputy United States marshal.

He will be tried during the October term of federal court at Wichita Falls, it was announced.

KATY CAR SHEDS ON NORTH SIDE DESTROYED

Fire of undetermined origin early this morning destroyed the car repair shops of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad in North Wichita, causing a loss estimated by yardmaster Roger Thompson at $150,000. Thirteen box cars were consumed in the flames.

Besides the cars and shops many valuable pieces of machinery and tools were destroyed.

One small tank of crude oil was burned also, but a car filled with casinghead gas was quickly removed to safety by a daring switch engine crew.

Apparatus from the fire department responded to the alarm but because of poor water pressure was delayed in getting hose streams on the blases.

The fire started at 1:45 a. m. and was still burning at 3 a. m.

DYNAMITERS THROW BOMB IN CHICAGO

Detectives Wound One and Seize Large Quantity of High Explosives After the Explosion.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—A confession that he had placed and exploded more than sixty bombs during the last year was obtained, according to the police, from William G. Smith, one of five men arrested today in the act of bombing the shop of David Kremen.

Fourteen hundred sticks of dynamite and 100 sticks of T. N. T. were seized by the police following the capture of the men.

The bombing today was said to have been the result of rivalry between the International Brotherhood of shoe repairmen and the United shoe repair men. Kremen is a member of the former organization.

Police had received a tip Kremen's place was to be bombed and had surrounded it. The five men approached, one carrying a bomb. The police surrounded them and ordered them to surrender. Instead Richard Burke, the man carrying the bomb, hurled it and the explosion tore the front from the shop, threw Kreman and his family from their beds and broke windows for blocks around.

VALERA NOW WILLING TO MEET GEORGE

However, Republican "President" Reiterates Declaration of Sovereignty of State.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Eamonn De Valera, the Irish republican leader, after a meeting of his cabinet today sent another telegram to Premier Lloyd-George, in which, declaring that the Sinn Fein had no thought at any time of asking for the acceptance of any conditions precedent to a conference, he requests the premier to say whether his letter of September 7 was intnded to be a demand for surrnder or an invitation to a conference "free on both sides and without prejudice should an agreement not be reached."

In the latter case, Mr. De Valera states that he would confirm the Sinn Fein acceptance of the invitation, and the Irish delegates would meet the representatives of the government.

Mr. D Valera also suggested the conclusion of "a treaty of accommodation and association," expressing belief that that would "end the dispute forever and enable the two nations to settle down in peace."

Another Exchange

The nature of the message from Mr. De Valera necessitates a further exchange of telegrams, unless some sort of an ultimatum is forthcoming.

Many of the London papers have commented on the danger of the "open diplomacy involved in this public exchange of messages, which, they point out, makes it exceedingly difficult for either side to recede from the position known as the British empire can best be reconciled with Irish national aspirations. To this Mr. De Valera replied in the affirmative, but added to his reply the paragraph now in dispute, saying:

"In this final note we deem it our duty to reaffirm that our position is and can only be as we have defined it throughout this correspondence. Our nation has formally declared its independence and recognizes itself as a sovereign state. It is only as representatives of that state and as its chosen guardians that we have authority or powers to act on behalf of our people.

Text of Telegram.

The text of Mr. DeValera's telegram to Premier Lloyd George follows:

"Sir:

"We have had no thought at any time of asking you to accept any conditions precedent to a conference. We would have thought it is as unreasonable to expect you, as a preliminary, to recognize the Irish Republic formally or informally, as that you should expect us, formally or informally, to surrender our national position. It is precisely because neither side accepts the position of the other that there is a dispute at all and that a conference is necessary to search for and discuss such adjustments as might compose it.

"A treaty of accommodation and association, properly concluded between the people of these two islands and between Ireland and the group of states in the British commonwealth would, we believe, end the dispute forever and enable the two nations to settle down in peace, each pursuing its own individual development and contributing its own quota to civilization, gut working together in free and friendly co-operation in affairs of agreed common concern.

"To negotiate such a treaty the respective representatives of two nations must meet, but if you seek to impose preliminary conditions which we must regard as involving the surrender of our position, they cannot meet.

The communication is signed, "I am faithfully yours, Sir, "Eamonn De Valera."

Premier Lloyd Georges of September 17, was the one in which he asked M. DeValera for a definite reply as to whether he was prepared to enter a conference to ascertain how the association of Ireland with the community of nations.

CONFERENCE ON IDLE SET FOR MONDAY

Secretary Hoover Announces Call for Meeting on Unemployment Situation Next Week.

List of Delegates Will Include Thirty Men, Selected for Help They Can Give Country.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Announcement of the names of the thirty-five men and three women who have accepted President Harding's invitation to take part in a national unemployment conference here beginning next Monday was made tonight by Secretary Hoover. Other names will be announced later he said, when all the replies have been received.

The list includes Secretaries Hoover and Davis; Julius Barnes of Duluth; Samuel Gompers; Charles M. Schwab and President John L. Lewis of the Mine Workers. The three women are Ida Tarbell of New York Mary Van Kleet of New York, connected with the Russell Sage foundation, and Elisabeth Christman of Chicago, an officer of the National Women's Trade Union League.

Mr. Hoover has been appointed by the president as chairman of the conference. It was said the meeting would at once dissolve itself into special commissions for the formulation of definite plans for submission to the conference as a whole. These committees, Mr. Hoover asserted, would no doubt seek co-operation from other representatives of labor, employers and civic bodies in the formulation of their views.

"In naming the members of the conference," Mr. Hoover said "it has been the desire of the president to obtain geographic representation and at the same time have regard to the different elements of the community which are interested and can be helpful in the problem without any attempt at proportional numbers of particular groups.

Only Experienced Named.

"Those of experience in those industries where there is the largest degree of unemployment have been called upon in larger proportion than from trades where there is less unemployment difficulties. It was impossible to include representation of the whole of some fifty trade groups in the conference and hold its size within workable limits."

An economic advisory committee of twenty was appointed in advance of the conference and Mr. Hoover stated, has been at work on the preparation of employment data and upon a working program for the conference. This committee, he added, will be among the special committee to be appointed by the conference.

Secretary Davis also has been cooperating in formulating the confer-

NEW MEXICO TO ELECT SENATOR IN TODAY'S VOTE

By Associated Press.

ALBEQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 19. New Mexico voters will go to the polls tomorrow to choose a United States senator to serve out the unexpired terms of Albert B. Fall, who entered the cabinet of President Harding on March 4, as secretary of the interior. The successful candiate will serve until March 4, 1925. The campaign closed tonight with Holm O. Bursum, republican candidate appointed by the governor to serve until the election, speaking at Socorro and Richard H. Hanna, democratic nominee, speaking here.

Apolenio A. Sena of Las Vegas is running on the independent ticket.

The voters tomorrow will also ballot on evelen constitutional amendments.

DYING GIRL SAYS UNCLE KILLED HER

By Associated Press.

COLGATE, Okla., Sept. 19.—A posse of citizens and officers tonight are searching for Steve Sabo, 35, alleged to have stabbed to death Sophia Sabo, 18, his niece, at her home near here yesterday.

In her dying statement, according to authorities, she accused Sabo of stabbing her after he attempted to assault her.

Daugherty Gives Endorsement to Proposed Monthly Trade Junkets

"The suggestion made recently that monthly trade trips by automobile be taken to the towns in this trade territory be taken by Wichita Falls business men is a good one," declares W. J. Daugherty, of the Overland Motors company, local house who are distributors for 18 counties. He safs he does not think one trip a month would be too frequent if the trips are taken to different towns and are managed properly and that the good which would result from them would repay many fold the expense and time of such a program.

"A trade trip is one of the best ways of getting acquainted with the people in this territory. If the trips do not try to cover too much territory but stay long enough in each town to enable the members to meet the merchants and business men of each town then the good which will result will be considerable.

"We should pay more attention, in our fight for more business, to the personal side of salesmanship. We are selling ourselves and our town as much as we are selling our merchandise. If the town is made up of live wires, it has the reputation of being a live wire and progressive town. People in this section will come to look upon Wichita Falls as the one place where they like to buy, that which they cannot buy in their own retail stores.

"As a center for this section, of a radius of 75 miles, Wichita Falls has been recognized for a number of years. As far back as 1914 John Willys, of Toledo, Ohio, showed what the big men of the North and East think of Wichita Falls when he made it the distributing point for 18 counties in Texas and Oklahoma. We have held the distinction and I think our position as a center is being more firmly established as time goes on.

"The value in actual cold cash of these trade trips is seen almost immediately. From a selfish point of view the results are not slow in being manifested. But the real and lasting business, which is seen in each succeeding year's business, is more firmly established where the business man and jobber gets out and meets his prospective customers and lets them know he is worthy of their business both from a standpoint of economy of time and money and from the personal side."

HI-JACKERS BARRICADE ROAD WITH BARBED WIRE, BUT INTENDED VICTIM SHOOTS "GAS" TO HIS CAR, BREAKS THROUGH AND ESCAPES

A barbed wire barracade across the road tied to fence posts on each side, put there by two men intent on holding up A. A. Jackson, oil man returning from Duncan, Oklahoma, late Sunday night failed to accomplish the purpose although taking off the radiator cap from the car and giving the driver bad cuts on his neck and arms as the car hit the obstruction, according to the story told local police by M. Jackson upon his arrival here.

The incident happened about 4 miles out of town on the Seymour road as Mr. Jackson was coming to Wichita Falls. He said he noticed two men standing along the side of the road across which the barbed wire was stretched about the heighth of the bonnet of an automobile.

Instead of heeding their command to halt, he said, he stepped on the gas and hit the wire at full speed, tearing the wire from the posts, but taking his radiator cap off as clean as if it had been cut with a knife, cutting deep furrow in the top of the hood and finally, before it broke under the strain, removed a good portion of his shirt sleeve and part of the skin from his arms and his chin.

No shots were fired by the would-be "hi-jackers," Mr. Jackson said, when they discovered their victim had broken through.

A fairly good description was given the police by the autoist and they are working on the case.

CONFERENCE ON IDLE SET FOR MONDAY

ence plans, he said, and has been directing a renewed survey of unemployment throughout the country for the use of the conferees.

The conference, Mr. Hoover continued, was expected to get to work quickly in order that the administration might be in a position to combat unemployment before winter. The president's invitations, he said, stated that "the conference is called to inquire into the volume and distribution of unemployment, to advise upon emergency measures that can be properly taken by employers, local authorities and civic bodies and to consider such measures as would tend to give impulse to the recovery of business and commerce to normal."

In arriving at a policy for providing employment, however, Mr. Hoover declared the conference would avoid any charity arrangements such as have been put into effect by a number of foreign governments.

While no announcement has been made as yet by the White House, it was considered probable that President Harding would open the conference with an address outlining the administration's desire to remedy the nation's unemployment situation.

TAX REVISION BILL TO GO TO HARDING SOON

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The tax revision bill will be sent to the president by the latter part of October, Chairman Penrose predicted today in announcing that the senate finance committee formally had approved of the house measure as amended.

Neither the Smoot manufacturer's sales tax nor the Calder proposal to impose a tax of $6.40 a gallon on all alcoholic liquors withdrawn from bond for other than manufacturing purposes will be included in the measure as it will be presented to the senate Wednesday. The authors have given notice however, that they expect to present these amendments on the senate floor.

Senator Penrose said that so far as the business of the senate would permit, it was the purpose to take the bill up immediately and press for final action. He added some features, immediately the profits tax repeal and the proposed reduction of the maximum income surtax rate to 32 per cent would be opposed from "certain quarters," but that there seemed to be a general desire to expedite passage.

"Under these circumstances," he continued, "it is entirely safe for me to predict that the bill will be sent to the president during the latter part of October."

While treasury experts have yet to complete their final estimate as to the total revenue that probably will be realised this fiscal year under the measure it was stated that the amount would not be less than $3,-200,000,000, the minimum which Secretary Mellon informed the committee would be necessary. For the next fiscal year it is estimated roughly that the returns must be around $2,700,000,000.

The Smoot sales tax plan was discussed further in the committee today with treasury experts partieipating, although no vote was taken. Chairman Penrose said Senator Smoot had stated afterwards that he was willing not to press the amendment in the committee, but would reserve the right to submit to the senate.

FIND MISSING LINK SOUGHT BY DARWIN

COLORADO SURINGS, Colo., Sept. 16.—Fossils of prehistoric life that may lead to the discovery of Darwin's famous "missing link" have been unearthed in a sandpit near the ranch of J. W. Scott, of Falcon, 20 miles east of this city. Scott has gathered a large collection of interesting and valuable specimens for several years, and they are now being investigated by leading scientists.

Scott's latest find is a squil, which is apparently that of a huge reptile that experts say lived before man existed. The most startling feature of this skull is the brain case," which exceeds in measurements anything previously discovered in fossils. Scott believes the reptile skull is a "missing link"—much older, however, than the "missing link" that has been sought for centuries in connection with the Darawinian theory. He believes this piece of bone, long preserved in the sand, tells the story of the development of teh reptile into the mammal.

Scott is also convinced that he has unearthed the squil of a prehistoric buffalo, which must have roamed the western plains of America something like 125,000 years ago. The bunffalo skull dug up by Scott is deeply cuevd whereas, he declares, skulls of buffalo usually are perfectly flat across the forehead.

Falsentologic Lore

"I place this skull in one of the glacial periods," Scott said, "and have no doubt that it is at least 125,000 years old."

In an effort to cooperate with scientists, Scott has opened his "farmhouse museum" to I. Allen Keyte, professor of geology at Colorado College, and Dr. Keyte has forwarded photographs of many specimens to Profess or Maurice Mehl, of the University of Missouri, widely known paleontologist, for calssification.

Scott himself has devoted much time during the last twenty-five years to the study of the many fossils he has unearthed and expresses the belief that the Pike's Peak region contains some of the most interesting fossils in the world.

"I really believe that in this peculiar skull which I recently found," Scott said, "I have the 'missing link' between the reptile and the mammal. The large brain case is the striking thing."

He said that he believed other specimens may be found in this vicinity that will throw more light on the "missing link" theory and develop the fact that the owner of the skull was possessed of a high degree of intelligence.

The discovery that the Pike's Peak region is probably rich in fossils has led to the addition of a class in paleontology to the curriculum at Colorado College this year.

REDUCE RATES ON LIVESTOCK

By Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Transcontinental livestock rates on all lines are to be reduced 20 per cent for the period beginning September 30 and ending December 31, as an emergency measure to assist the stock raisers in tiding over the present unsettled market conditions, G. W. Luce, freight traffic manager of the Southern Pacific company, announced today.

MILLERS WATCHING EFFORT TO INDUCE RESTORATION OF DIFFERENTIAL AGAINST FLOUR

Strong efforts being made to induce the United States shipping board to restore the differential against flour over wheat in ocean rates are being watched by Texas and other western and southwestern millers, as the replacement of the differential will again mean the cutting off of their export business, which normally amounts to about one-half of the total. The combined capacity of Texas mills, as an example, is approximately 9,000,000 barrels, of which at least half are sold for export.

The elimination of this business in its entirety would mean the reduction of the working forces to about half, the reduction of capital employed to about an equal degree, with consequent reduction of new money placed in circulation over the state from this source. Elimination of part of the business would mean a proportional reduction in these items.

The differential was first employed by the shipping board about the end of the war period. Immediately after the war, when normal conditions began to return, it began to show its result in the falling off of the European export business of Texas and Southwestern mills, as well as in every other part of the country. The differential allowed the springing up of European mills—formerly practically non-existent—which could import the wheat and make it into flour cheaper than the flour could be imported from the United States.

The differential was finally removed by the shipping board after a long fight in which other millers practically gave up, but which was carried on tenaciously by Frank Kell. Success was finally obtained during the administration of Admiral Benson as chairman of the board.

The ruling favorable to the millers was finally obtained on the showing that by putting on the differential the shipping board was aiding in the building up of a European industry, which before the war did not exist, as the expense of American interests who would feel the loss of this business and whose employes would also feel the loss through contraction in the employment offered through them.

It was also brought out at the hearing that previous to the war, when England was practically the only carrying nation, their ocean rates did not carry this differential. After the differential was put into effect by the United States shipping board, however, it was shown that the English shipping interests were quick to see the advantage to English industry and follow suit.

With the abolition of the differential the export business in flour and other grain products practically at once resumed a normal, and has remained there.

It is in the interest of that business that the flour millers will contest a resumption of the differential.

Although it is not known who is pushing the matter at the present time, it is thought to be those who are engaged in the export of wheat, whose business of course would increase as the export of flour contracted. Among the arguments advanced for the differential is one to the effect that wheat is much more economically handled in loading and unloading ships than flour. This argument is met by the declaration that the installation of modern machinery for handling flour has put it practically on an equality with wheat.

Frank Kell as before has maintained a close interest on the matter. He has recently received an invitation from Albert Lasker, chairman of the shipping board, to a conference to be held in Washington next week. Although not knowing what is to be discussed before the conference, he believes that this problem will figure at that time, and has made arrangements to attend.

$34,758,590 VALUATION IS TAXABLE VALUE

The total valuation of all city property as reached after the action of the city equalization board is $34,-758,590, it was announced Monday afternoon by City Tax Collector H. J. Anderson. The total revenue due the city at the rate of $1.60 on the hundred dollars valuation is $570,-902.50.

Of the city property Mr. Anderson's report shows that $24,306,040 is included in real estate and $10,-452,550 in personal property.

The total valuation for city property in 1920 was $31,605,320 and yielded a revenue of $452,208.17.

The city school tax total for the current year is expected to reach approximately $265,000. The total valuation of property subject to city school tax will reach slightly over $35,000,000. Mr. Anderson announced, as considerable property is included in the city school districts, which is not within the city limits.

BODY OF GRAY, KILLED OVERSEAS, EXPECTED WEDNESDAY

The body of Will Gray, who met death on the battle field in France on September 25, 1918, will arrive here Thursday night or Friday morning. The deceased is the son of Mrs. W. N. Heckney, 1201 Scott treet, who at that time was Mrs. J. A. Brown.

The deceased enlisted from Dallas and was shortly afterwards assigned to Company A, 128th Infantry, which was attached to the 88th Division during active service in France.

The body, on its arrival here, will be taken in charge by Pat Carrigan Post, American Legion.

Funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. J. Lem Keevil, pastor of the First Christian church at the Hines Undertaking Company establishment, with the Rev. J. Lem Keevil, pastor of the First Christian church officiating.

The deceased at the time of his death was 24 years of age. Besides the mother, he leaves one sister, Mrs. I. V. Brown of Fort Worth, a grandmother, Mrs. Fannie Arthur, 1805 Kemp Boulevard and one brother, Tom Worley of this city.

the situation this afternoon, giving particular attention to Premier Lloyd-George's telegram. At the conclusion of the session a reply to the British premier was drafted and dispatched immediately by Mr. De Valera.

So far as the Sinn Fein position is concerned, it did not appear to change it in any way.

At the same time, it is announced, that Mr. De Valera's desire for a conference is strong, as is that of his colleagues.

The general impression among the members and their supporters seen at the mansion house today was that a conference would be held.

GULF OFFICES PRACTICALLY INSTALLED IN WICHITA FALLS

With the exception of W. E. Pyron, third vice-president and the active manager of the north and central Texas district of the Gulf Production company, the personnel of the former Fort Worth office is now either already installed, or is in process of installation in the new Wichita Falls headquarters. Mr. Pyron left Monday for Pittsburgh for a conference with the head office and this trip will delay final completion of the move to about the first of October, it was stated Monday, this being the time originally set for the removal from Fort Worth to Wichita Falls.

The new Gulf Wichita Falls headquarters occupies practically all of three floors in the Bob Waggoner building, instead of a part of one floor, the force being augmented, as has been previously stated, by about sixty executives and employes.

The executive scouting and legal departments are on the seventh floor, all of the offices now being fitted up and occupied with the exception, as stated above, of that of Mr. Pyron.

In the seventh floor offices are: Mr. Pyron, J. A. Gardner, who has been Wichita Falls district superintendent for the past two years; L. J. Adams, who has been Mr. Pyron's chief clerk in Fort Worth, R. L. Eckerty, who has been chief clerk in the Wichita Falls office; Mrs. Nina Hall Carlton, secretary to Mr. Gardner, and the clerical force and stenographers.

R. E. Hardwicke, chief counsel, David Proctor and R. E. L. Batte of the legal department have their offices on the east side of the Scott avenue wing of the seventh floor, and the office of J. P. Gudger, traffic manager is also on the seventh floor.

Charles Brown, head of the scouting department, and the scouting force have offices on the west side of the Scott avenue wing of the seventh.

On the sixth floor, in the office formerly occupied by Mr. Gardner, H. A. Melat, superintendent of production, is located, with Charles Rhader, who came here from Eastland, and Roy Reeder, the prooduction field superintendent, in the Wichita Falls district, on the offices formerly occupied by Mrs. Carlton and Mr. Eckerey, respectively.

F. G. Hollingsworth is Mr. Melat's chief clerk.

The pipeline offices are also on the sixth floor, with W. F. Rollins, of Fort Worth, superintendent; Charles Stanford, and Earl Matthews, Mr. Rollin's chief clerk, both from Fort Worth, and F. C. Vancleave, the Wichita Falls superintendent, constitute the remainder of the pipeline's official personnel.

The telegraph and telephone offices are also on the sixth floor, the former quarters of the department being enlarged to admit of the increased equipment. L. H. Lancaster is in charge of the department and R. H. Hope is assistant. A force of ten to twelve operators will be required. The Wichita Falls office is connected directly by both telegraph and telephone to Pittsburgh, the central office, and all points in Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas where the Gulf has interests.

The engineering department, in charge of J. E. Doyle, is also located on the sixth floor.

The accounting, land, warehouse and purchasing and construction departments have offices on the fifth floor.

F. E. Thomas, who has been in the Wichita Falls offices for the past two years, is in charge of the accounting department. Mr. Thomas has been in Fort Worth for several weeks familiarizing himself with the operation of the joint accounts. Charles S. Youngblood comes from Fort Worth as head of the warehouse and purchasing department. L. O. Oberwetter is chief of the land department, with Bob Wilson, assistant. F. E. Hoomer is superintendent of the construction department. These three are also from Fort Worth. Ernest M. Closuit, of the Wichita Falls office is head of the geological department.

The clerical and stenographis force brings the total of officials and employes of the Wichita Falls office to around one hundred.

TEMPLARS ORGANIZING DRILL TEAM

Otto Stehlik, captain general of Wichita Falls commandery No. 50, has called a meeting of the templers to be held in the Masonic temple Tuesday evening at 8:00 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a drill team. It is anticipated that considerable interest will be taken in this meeting, as the members of the drill team will make a trip to the grand commandery to be held in Fort Worth in April of next year, and also to the Grand Encampment of the United States to be held at New Orleans during the same month.

The drill team will consist of fifty Knights Templar, and membership can be maintained only by punctual attendance, as outlined in the by-laws which will be submitting at this meeting.

Several months ago the commandery made an appropriation to defray the expenses of the trip and a transportation committee was appointed to arrange for pullman service and for the parking of pullman cars at Fort Worth and New Orleans.

It is estimated that one hundred Templars from Wichita Falls will attend the Triennie conclave of the grand encampment to be held at New Orleans.

TOURISTS' MISTAKE RESULTS IN DOUBLE WEDDING IN DENVER

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 19.—Cupid, always lurking around the corridors of Denver's county court, made a double killing here when two couples from Nebraska started on a sight-seeing trip through the building, which they mistook for the state capitol.

The newlyweds are Ernest Young and Ola Largent Young and Eddie Olmstead and Ella Ely Olmstead, all of Guide Rock, Neb.

While searching through the court house for the state museum exhibit, not knowing that they had missed the state capitol by several blocks, the party noticed the marriage license sign swinging over the door of the county clerk's office.

"Well, what do you say?" Young suggested to Miss Largent.

"Yes," came the blushing reply.

"All right, let's go," Young shouted "and how about you folks?" he demanded of Olmstead and Miss Ely. "Let's make it a double wedding."

A few minutes later the quartet appeared before Magistrate Henry Bray, who interrupted a session of court to tie the double knot.

The party was on an automobile tour from their Nebraska homes and were sightseeing in Denver while their machine was being repaired in a local garage.

"EDGE BANK" WILL ESTABLISH BRANCH IN HOUSTON, TEXAS

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 19—Extension of the facilities of the Federal International Banking Company, the "Edge bank" of New Orleans by the opening of a branch in Houston was announced today. The branch will be devoted almost entirely to financing of cotton exports from Texas.

VISITOR PRAISES BUILDERS

F. D. McArthur, attorney of Burmingham, Alabama, who is in the city on oil business, complimented Wichita Falls on its progressiveness and the spirit of hustle, which, he said, he could feel in the air, in a talk at the regular weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis club Monday at the Kemp.

Mr. McArthur was present as a guest of E. P. Haney, chairman for the day, and was called upon to make the principal talk in the absence of Representative B. Frank Johnson, who was unable to appear on account of illness.

"I like to see a man who believes that his town, his country, his state and his country are the greatest in the world," declared Mr. McArthur, praising the town boosting platform of the Kiwanis and other civic clubs.

"A man should be drummed out of of town who does not believe that his town is the best in the country, or at least does not do nothing in his power to make it that kind of a town," he said.

Mr. McArthur's talk was eloquent in praise of the watchword of Kiwanis, "service" and of the spirit of hustle and energy which he said he noticed as one of the chief characteristics of Wichita Falls. His talk was livened by various jokes which aptly illustrated the points he made.

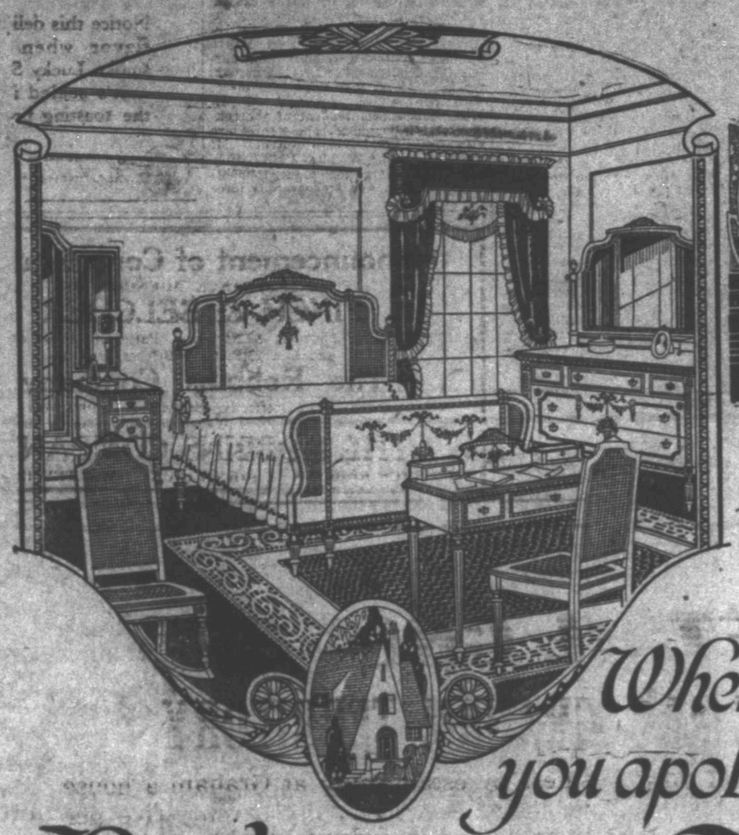

Following the talk by Mr. McArthur members were called on for short expressions. Support of the Colorado-to-the-Gulf highway matter and of the Breckenridge trip was urged by members.

Wylie Brown won the attendance prize, an inner tube donated by H. A. Davidson, of the Southern Tire & Vulcanizing company. Silent boosts, individual bottles of grape juice were given by M. G. Catter.

Musical entertainment for the program consisted of songs by Miss Hazel Dean, accompanied by Miss Martha Roper.

When guests come, do you apologize for or take Pride in your Furniture?

Into the well appointed home, guests are doubly welcome. First, you take personal pleasure in welcoming them. Second, you take pride in being able to administer to their comfort and convenience with the right kind of home furnishings. Think what added enjoyment you will experience in taking them to a newly furnished guest room, or sitting down to dinner with new dining room furniture, or spending the evening comfortably and luxuriously amid living room furniture of character and distinction. Everyone wants and enjoys good furniture and lots of folks are buying right now.

More furniture is sold on credit than in any other way. Nearly all homes are bought on time. Why not use your credit at this store and furnish your home the way you want it—at convenient credit terms?

If you've been waiting for furniture prices to reach bottom, the time is here.

No use waiting any longer, for we do not believe that furniture prices will go a penny lower. The drop has been precipitous and, if anything, furniture prices are lower right now than they will be in the very near future. In any price collapse, prices usually go below the point at which they stabilize. This is what we believe has happened to furniture prices and for this reason we suggest that now is the best time in years to buy furniture and this is the store. May we have the pleasure of showing you the very best of the new designs, woods and finishes?

Our Drapery Department is one of the best equipped in the entire Southwest. The new Fall fabrics and up-to-date designs are ready for your inspection.

FROM AROUND THE STATE

HEREFORD

HEREFORD, Texas, Sept. 19.—C. A. Allen of Galion, Ohio, a Castro county property owner, is in Hereford this week, inspecting his property and looking into general conditions. Mr. Allen is assistant general manager of the Erie railroad. He was one of the earliest purchasers of land in the Plains country, some of which he secured for twenty-five cents per acre years and years ago. It is an inspiration to listen to Mr. Allen tell of his faith in the future of the Plains country.

A deal in Castro county land totalling $11,600 cash was recorder last week when J. F. McMillan of Crowell purchased a section belonging to L. R. Ward.

A 2,000 acre deal in Deaf Smith county land was completed on Wednesday of this week when J. Frank Potts purchased a ranch about twenty three miles northwest of Hereford known as the old Cramberg ranch, in the Rutter township. The former owner, John Cramberg, now lives at Las Vegas, N. M. The land adjoints the Valentine & Wilkinson and Charles Donald ranches. Mr. Potts thinks that this land is especially adopted for farming and he will very likely arrange to have a number of wheat farmers go in on this tract.

NIP PLOT TO BLOW UP WALL OF PENITENTIARY

By Associated Press.

Leavenworth, Kan., Sept. 19.—A plot to blow up a section of the main wall or the gate at the federal penitentiary has been nipped. Warden W. I. Biddle and other prison officials announced today, stating that seven prisoners who were leaders in the plan have been placed in solitary confinement.

Hidden in the prison carpenter shop, Warden Fred Zorbst found eleven home-made hand grenades made from two inch gas pipe, a bottle of explosive and a new revolver. In the cell occupied by William Tighman, a formula for making an explosive was found.

Prison officials said they had known for two weeks that there was a plot going on to effect an escape, and for the last few days guards have been concealed near the front gate, armed with sawed off shotguns and automatic rifles. Prison officials believe that the plotters intended to capture a prison guard at the point of the revolver, and, using him as a shield, make for the front gate or for the east sally port of the prison.

Then, it is believed, the intention was to blow up the gate should the guard on duty there refuse to open it. Warden Biddle said that the original plan was to make the effort to escape last Friday afternoon during a prison "circus," when many guards would have been off duty. No attempt was made, Friday however.

The grenades and the explosives were thrown on a fire in a remote section of the hills west of the prison. A terrific explosion resulted.

GERMANS STILL DENY GUILT IN STARTING WAR

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, Sept. 19.—State Councilor von Wolf, Bavarian member of the reichstag or imperial council, which ratified the peace treaty between Germany and the United States on Saturday, declared today that the Bavarian government assented to ratification on the assumption that the attribution to Germany of guilt for the war, contained in the treaty of Versailles, would not be renewed.

ASK ME

G. N. and H. Smythe—Mae Marsh is married to Louis Lee Arms. Katherine MacDonald and Ruth Roland are not married at present. Both have been married. Martha Mansfield took the name, Mansfield from the town where she enjoyed great social success. She believed the name would bring her luck and it surely has. Ruth Roland has violet eyes and reddish brown naturally curly hair. Marion Davies real name is Marion Douras. The remainder of your questions will appear in the next issue.

Jennie De Vere—William Farnum has returned from Ecrope. Surely Dustin Farnum still plays in pictures. He has recently signed a new contract with Fox, so that answers your question regarding his own company. He is married. The last I knew of Winifred Kingston, she was playing in "The Lifted Veil" in Lasky production. I do not know if she is married. Thanks so much for your good wishes.

Pepper—"Mother O' Mine" is a Thomas Ince Production. The important roles are played by Lloyd Hughes, Betty Ross Clark, Betty Blythe, Joseph Kilgour, and Claire McDowell.

Avon—Jacqueline Logan plays opposite Monte Blue in "A Perfect Crime."

Jade—"Pilgrims of the Night" is an adaption of Phillips Oppenheim's novel "Passers By."

Valley Fan—There is absolutely no truth in the rumor that Wallace Reid and his wife have separated. It is true that she has returned to the stage. She was a well-known actress when she and Wally were married.

Merine—Kenneth Harlan plays opposite Constance Talmadge in "Woman's Place." Fontaine La Rue is playing in "Exit the Vamp." Ethel Clayton plays the lead.

Ned—The little girl who plays in "Earthbound" is Billie Cotton. She has a part in "The Old Nest."

Serious—Advice as to which school offers the best course in motion picture study is not given in this column. Motion pictures are used in the New York public schools under the supervision of the Visual Instruction Association. I believe Columbia University offers a course dealing with the production of motion pictures.

Dexter—"The Cup of Life' was directed by Rowland V. Lee. The cast is composed of Hobart Bosworth, Madge Bellamy, Tully Marshal and Niles Welch.

RECIPES

Banana Dainty.

To any pretty colored jelly or jam or sliced oranges add a cream made by mashing a banana with a tablespoon of sugar for each banana and beating it with the egg beater. Fold gently into the jam and serve in sherbet glasses that the varied color may be appreciated. Serve with sponge cake.

Peanut Brittle

Chop fine a cup of peanuts and pour into a buttered pan. Cook two cups of sugar in an iron frying pan, stirring constantly that it will not burn. When the sugar becomes a clear, yellow syrup pour it over the peanuts and let harden.

Marmelade.

Apple, Peach, Quince, Plum and Prune marmelade are all made on the same principle. Cut the cleaned or peeled fruit fine. A food chopper is good for this. All enough water to cook it slowly until the fruit is tender. Mash the fruit or put it through the colonder. Add sugar, less than for jelly, and lemon juice if the fruit is not acid enough. As it thickens it must me stirred that it will not burn. Seal if it is to be kept.

Sandwiches.

Try some of the simple, old-fashioned things in sandwiches. For instance, there is no better sandwich for the children than one made with sugar, brown sugar is a favorite. Stewed figs, or dates or prunes and figs together make a good sandwich. Brown bread and cottage cheese is delicious. A crisp, tender lettuce leaf is sufficient for a delicate sandwich.

BRUCE SAYS HE COULDN'T MOVE OR EVEN SLEEP

"Tanlac knocked out my rheumatism after electrical and antitoxin treatments for rheumatism had failed," said A. W. Bruce, 825 Avenue K, Galveston, Texas.

"I suffered so I couldn't sleep or move myself and members of my family had to take turns sitting up with me. On nice days, with the help of my wife and my crutches, I could get from my room to the porch. I lost nearly fifty pounds in weight, too.

"When I had finished my third bottle of Tanlac I was able to walk to the drug store myself and get the fourth bottle. All my rheumatic pain is gone now, my appetite is splendid and I am resting fine every night. Tanlac has done for me what I thought it was impossible for a medicine to do."

Tanlac is sold in Wichita Falls by Miller Drug Store; in Electra by Tarlton Drug Store; in Burkburnett by West End Drug Store; and by all leading druggists.—Adv.

With the Women of Today

Miss Ida K. Greenlee.

Miss Ida K. Greenlee of Seattle, Washington, entered upon an unusual adventure for a lone woman some fourteen years ago and she is still doing her work and making it pay and still working alone. After having been a teacher for more than twenty years, Miss Greenlee decided that there are many ways of teaching other than in the school room.

She therefore began looking into some of the "other" ways. She first investigated the advantages of travel in the Orient. She took her first trip in 1907 for the purpose of securing first-hand information concerning the possibilities of traveling comfortably through the far east.

Two years later Miss Greenlee had outlined her route so that she was able to conduct a party with such success that she decided to continue the business. She has since planned all her own routes and looked after the comforts of her travelers. She has had the same native guide for Japan ever since she took the first trip. Going through China she depends for her guides upon the Chinese student body with whom she came in close contact while she was a member of the faculty of the State University of Washington. She speaks the Chinese dialect enough to be able to assist her party in making their purchases.

FRANCE HONORS U. S. WOMAN

Mrs. Anne Murray Dike, who has been associated with Miss Anne Morgan on the American committee for devastated France, was recently sent a letter of appreciation for her work by M. Loucheur. He wrote her after touring the department of the Aisne.

While he indicated that the ruins and devastation remain in the many sections as "silent but accusing witnesses of the war," he added: "We cannot forget the work accomplished already by your committee. It is indeed a strengthening aid as well as a guarantee for the future to be able to realize the extent to which your committe is contributing in the department of the Aisne to the restoration of our ruins and to the return to normal conditions of life. Perimt me, after this visit, to thank you in the name of the republic and to tell you how great is our admiration and our gratitude."

LEADERS IN SPORT

By carrying off every athletic honor at the University of California, Miss Iskah Thrall becomes the greatest girl athlete in the state.

The star of the feminine athletes of France is Mlle. Brevard of the Fenima Sport Paris. She is only eighteen years of age, but already holds all the distance records of France.

What is said to be a new world's record for a parachute drop for women was established recently at the Curtis Field by Miss Phoebe J. Fairgrave of St. Paul, Minn. She is only eighteen years of age, and the descene was 15,200 feet.

Twelve policewomen will be utilized in patrolling Lincoln Park, Chicago's most famous pleasure ground.

HAPPY THOUGHT.

A pretty good firm is "Watch and Waite."
And another is "Attit, Early and Layte;"
And still another is "Doo & Dairet;"

GIRLS! BLEACH SKIN WHITE WITH LEMON

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate. —Adv.

Tells Girls How She Found Relief From Pain

West Palm Beach, Fla.—"When I was 19 years old I was irregular and I had such terrible cramps it felt like a knife going through me. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I was cured. After I was married I had the same trouble caused by the added work of farmingandheavy washings so I told my husband to get six bottles of the Vegetable Compound and by taking it regularly my troubles ceased and now I never have a pain or ache, and am regular. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and think every young girl should take it. You can publish this letter and it may be the means of helping some other girl or woman." —Mrs. MARY M. WAGNER, Box 759, West Palm Beach, Florida.

While no woman is entirely free from periodic suffering it does not seem to be the plan of nature that woman should suffer so severely and when pain exists something is wrong which should be set right. Every girl who suffers from monthly cramps should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

WOULD SAVE HUGE AMOUNT OF COAL.

Based on the performance of sixty huge electric locomotives operatig over nearly 700 miles of route on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad, and on other facts of record, it has been estimated that the passenger and revenue freight tonnage of the United States could be hauled by electric locomotives at the expenditure of one-third the coal now burned under our 63,000 locomotive boilers, according to A. H. Armstrong, chairman of the electrification committee of the General Electric Company.

What a tremendous saving this would effect is apparent from the fact that the railroads used practically one-fourth of the coal mined in the United States. In 1918 the coal production was 678,211,000 tons, of which the railroads used 163,000,000 tons. If all the railroads had been completely electrified at that time, it is estimated 122,500,000 tons would have been saved.

Plainly, it is much less economical or the steam locomotives in use in the United States to haul the coal they individually require on every trip than it would be to utilize this coal through electric power generated at a central station. The so-called standby losses in locomotive operation must also be figured in. Much time, in the aggregate, is lost while waiting at the roundhouse, on sidings, etc., and all this time steam, which involves the use of coal, must be generated. The standby losses of the electric locomotive are much less. Just what this coal carrying by locomotives means to transportation may be judged from the assertion by Mr. Armstrong that "Railway fuel carried in cars and steam engine tenders equals approximately 20 per cent of the total revenue freight tonnage carried over our rails, and practically all of this non-paying tonnage could be saved by electrification. The adoption of electricity, therefore, would immediately increase the carrying capacity of our railways a fifth by eliminating the railways' coal carrying business from the rails."

There is another respect in which the electric locomotive effects a saving impossible to the steam type. Through "regenerative braking" the motive mechanism of the electric locomotive is turned into a generator while on a down grade, thus not only applying brakes to the train, but generating electric current which is returned to the power system to help haul other trains.

"All these improvements in the electrified railway property will cost large sums of money. In some items of operating expense, such as fuel, repairs and maintenance, direct savings are effected of such magnitude as to show a reasonable return upon new capital charges incurred in electrification. The argument for electrification, however, is built upon a broader foundation than a direct return upon the investment involved. In fact, it has to do with the vital question of the future growth of our transportation system and its effect upon our national prosperity."

EARTH IS 8,000,000,000 YEARS OLD

This is staggering. The earth is exactly 8,000,000,000 years old, according to Prof. John Walter Gregory of Glasgow, who informed his associates of the British Association that by a novel method of his own he had proved the modest figure of 20,000,000,000 years arrived at by Darwin and Kelvin to be entirely erroneous.

Prof. Gregory said he had arrived at this determination of the earth's birthday by first determining how salty was the sea.

"Darwin's 20,000,000 years," he said, "are of as little use to geology as the seven days of the Pentatuch," and then he explained how he had discovered that the sea originally was fresh water. The next step was to find out how salty was the land and then how long it would take the oceans to absorb the salt of the land in sufficient quantities to become as salty as today.

This investigation showed him it took 400,000,000 years for the land to salt the sea to the present butter taste, but to obtain the correct figures for the earth's total age this figure must be multiplied by 20 to cover the time which it took for the land to become salty enough to make the ocean salty.

Prof. Arthur Eddington, of Cambridge, declared he had arrived at the same age of the earth as Prof. Gregory, but by a different method, which consisted of observing two stars which originally were fragments of the earth and estimating how long it took them to get as far from the earth as they are now.

Lord Rayleigh, while agreeing with his co-scientists as to the earth's age went them one better by declaring he had determined by radio-active methods that the crust of the earth would only be useful for human habitation for another billion years.

AGRICULTURAL WEALTH OF BAYLOR AND NEARBY COUNTIES.

According to the director of the census preliminary for the census for agriculture for Baylor county are interesting.

Farms and farm acreage January 1, 1920: Farms—811. Operated by white farmers, 811. Operated by owners and managers, 402; operated by tenents, 409. Farm values, $11,709,508. Total land in farms in acres, 308,175; improved acres, 107,578. Domestic animals, January 1, 1920; Horses, 3,828; mules, 2,188; cattle, 22,188; sheep, 84; swine, 5,250. In 1910 others were 24,792 head of cattle, 1361 sheep and 4,604 hogs. Principal crops are given as wheat, oats, kaffir and cotton. In 1919 the county produced 624,446 bushels of wheat, 320,670 bushels of oats, 101,219 bushels of kafir milo and 14,520 bales of cotton.

Young county farm values are interesting. On January 1. 1920, there were 1,480 farms operated by 1,480 white farmers. These returns show no negro farmers in Baylor or Young. Young county had 843 owners or managers of farms and 637 tenants. Total land in farms, 484,282 acres and 147,107 improved acres. Value of land and buildings, $16,355,855 or an increase of 72.07 per cent since 1910. Baylor showed an increase in value of land and buildings of 83.08 per cent. in the ten years.

Young county had 5,534 horses, 3,292 mules, 32,705 cattle, 5,021 sheep and 4,720. There was a decrease in this county in the number of horses and mules but an increase of 3,500 in the number of cattle, 4,500 in the number of sheep and a loss of 1,500 in the number of hogs in the ten years. Young county in 1919 produced 732,365 bushels of wheat, 780,497 bushels of oats, 271,899 bushels of corn and 15,126 bales of cotton.

Archer county reported 776 farms, 756 white farmers and two negro farmers. There were 450 farm owners and managers and 310 tenants. Value of land and buildings, $17,469,965 or an increase of value in ten years of $9,996,056 or 133.7 per cent. Archer county had 4,445 horses, 1,898 mules, 42,496 cattle, 1,766 sheep, and 2,900 hogs. Horses showed a slight decrease, mules increased 300, the number of cattle increased 800, sheep increased 1,000 and hogs declined 1,050 in number. Those who say that Archer is given over to grazing exclusively are in error. In 1919 Archer county produced 575,826 bushels of wheat, 485,970 bushels of oats, 59,533 bushels of corn and 5,042 bales of cotton.

Throckmorton is another rich grazing county. On January 1, 1920, Throckmorton had 500 farms operated by 500 white farmers. It had 341 owners and managers and 159 tenants. Included in the farms are 350,743 acres and 57,561 acres of improved land. Throckmorton had 2,774 horses, 1,176 mules, 26,176 cattle, 414 sheep and 1,721 hogs. Horses decreased more than 1,500; mules increased 700, cattle decreased 9,000; sheep decreased more than 5,000 and hogs increased 300 or 400. In that year Throckmorton county harvested 375,359 bushels of wheat or a jump in ten years of 375,500 bushels; 268,417 bushels of oats or a jump from 140 bushels in 1910; 105,047 bushels of kaffir milo or a jump of 102,000 bushels from 1910 when 3,003 bushels constituted the total crop of kaffir milo; 7,070 bales of cotton were picked in that year.

Jack county had 1,463 farms, 1,462 white farmers, 1 negro farmer, 885 owners and managers and 578 tenants. Total acres 515,835; improved acres 105,571. Horses, 5,007; mules, 2,843; cattle, 35,479; sheep, 951; swine, 5,756. There were fewer horses and mules, and cattle than in 1910 but sheep and swine showed a slight increase in number. Jack county harvested 351,19 bushels of wheat ten years before the total crop was 439 bushels. Oats, 498,250 bushels; ten years the total crop was 10,043 bushels. Corn 249,23 against 121,828 bushels ten years ago. Cotton, 6,029 bales or a loss of 1,700 bales as compared with the crop of 1909.

Wise county has 3,157 farms operated by 3,144 white farmers and 13 negro farmers. Wise has 1,447 tenants. Total acres in farms 463,593; improved acres 228,313. Wise has 7,236 horses, 5,740 mules; 29,215 cattle; 2,816 sheep; 12,739 swine and 1,438 goats. Wise produced in that year, 804,912 bushels of corn, 351,338 bushels of wheat, 474,830 bushels of oats and 19,541 bales of cotton. Value of land and buildings $20,486,339 as against $10,621,844 or an increase in value of 92.9 per cent in ten years.

Denton is one of the rich agricultural counties of Texas; 4,200 farms, 3,999 white farmers, 201 negro farmers, 1,846 owners and managers of farms and 2,354 tenants. Denton has 538,215 acres of land in farms and 395,308 improved acres. Animals reported are: Horses, 10,351; mules, 8,779; cattle, 26,449; sheep, 22,837; swine, 17,239; goats, 1,138. Denton produced in 1919, 1,295,742 bushels of wheat, 1,758,795 bushels of oats, 1,050,206 bushels of corn and 33,175 bales of cotton. Value of land and buildings, $49,759,764 as against $21,088,600 in 1910 or an increase of 136.0 per cent.

Stephen is a great oil producing county. On January 1, 1920, Stephens had 603 farms operated by 603 white farmers; 361 were owners and managers and 242 tenants. Stephens had in that year 53,929 improved acres; 2,884 horses; 2,344 mules; 8,275 cattle; 51 sheep; 1,986 hogs and 709 goats. Principal crops, wheat, 198,900 bushels; oats, 528,678; corn, 76,145 bushels; kafir milo, 67,488 bushels. Value of land and buildings, 13,397,102 as against $5,368,520 in 1910. Per cent increase, 149.5.

These are the percentages of value of increase in land and buildings; Baylor county, 83.8 per cent; Wise county, 92.9 per cent; Denton county, 136.0 per cent; Stephen county, 149.5 per cent; Archer county, 133.7 per cent; Throckmorton county, 44.0 per cent; Young county, 72.2 per cent; Jack county, 58.6 per cent.

The Old Aidacs said "civilization begins and ends with the plow." There are 200,000,000 acres of land in the territory surrounding Wichita Falls that irrigation would make the most productive under American skies. On with the battle for the development of the agricultural lands of the West.

NEW POTATO DISTRICT

A new potato growing district has been developed at Kearney, Neb., which, according to field representatives of the bureau of crop estimates, promises to become a formidable competitor to the Kaw Valley of Kansas. This new district, with a shipping season from July 15 to September 1, is now harvesting an acreage more than double that of 1920, and shipments may reach 700 cars, compared with 300 last year.

Potatoes were first shipped from the Kearney district six years ago. The enterprise has passed its experimental stage, and this year the plantings were around 2600 acres, which is more than twice as much as ever before. The soil is described as black sandy loam similar to that in the Red Valley of Minnesota, and potatoes follow a crop of alfalfa. Practically the entire acreage is under irrigation, which comes either from the Platte River or from pump wells.

Yields from the district are from fifty to 300 bushels per acre, averaging this year about 150 bushels. Seed was shipped in from the dry land district of Western Nebraska and from the Red River Valley of Minnesota. Approximately 80 per cent of the crop is Early Ohios, and the rest is Irish Cobblers and Bliss Triumphs. The potatoes are picked from the field into new two-bushel sacks, which are either branded or tagged, carrying the grower's name and the trade-mark of the district. Shipments are loaded into stock cars, 450 to 500 bushels to a car.

The first car this year was shipped on July 11, which is about three weeks earlier than usual. A considerable amount of the stock shipped the first two weeks was too immature to carry well and some was badly feathered. Some scab and second growth was apparent, but the quality of the stock was generally good and most of it made the No. 1 grade.

Rippling Rhymes

USELESS KNOWLEDGE.

With many vain and useless things my memory is stored; I know the histories of kings, and of the lands they bored; I know of happenings on earth long centuries ago; if any fact has little worth, that fact I'm sure to know. But when my motor car breaks down, and will no longer choo, and I am forty miles from town, I don't know what to do. I lift the hood and view the works, and raise my loud lament, and all I know of ancient Turks won't help me worth a cent. And I am versed in all the lore that pleased the ancient Greeks, but that can't make my head less sore—the carburetor leaks. And I can stand on end and quote the poets by the hour, but I can stand on end and quote the poets by the hour, but I can't figure why my boat is shorn of all its power. My neighbor, Johnson, never reads, no poets does he know; but when he plants his garden seeds the blame things always grow. And he has luscious prunes and kraut, and squash and sparrow-grass; and all that I can raise is gout, which isn't garden sass. This Johnson's chickens always lay, their output keeps him strong, while my old hens eat corn and hay, and give their lives to song. I know a million useless facts concerning long dead kings, and I have read a million tracts discussing hot air things; but these things do not help, odsfish, when I am in a mess, and there are moments when I wish I knew a whole lot less.—Copyright by George Matthew Adams.

LIFE-MASK OF KEATS

(Today)

They stood like pilgrims in some holy place
Father and daughter—she with a wistful smile;
He with a grave compassion in his face,
Gazing at that young life mask for a while.

She looked as Flora might at 17 years,
Her warm breast pulsing with the heart of spring;
While, in her father's gaze, the brooding tears
Remembered with the dead, how youth takes wings.

I wished that Kate could see her; but his eyes
Were closed to the young moon stooping in her own,
Closed to the young moon stooping from her skies.
He slept more deeply than Endymion;
Slept, with those painted shadows of the great,
Loved by the world, a hundred years too late.

BANK SOLVES QUESTION OF UNEMPLOYED

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Sept. 19.—Merchants and farmers of this section of Florida—known the world over mainly as a winter resort—declare there is no business depression for them, and one of the reasons, the chief one, in fact, is that T. T. Reese, president of the Farmers' Bank and Trust Company, has seen to it that the city's labor is kept busy.

The only employment bureau operated by a bank in the United States is what the people of West Palm Beach and Palm Beach call Mr. Reese's venture. Whether this is accurate Mr. Reese himself was unable to state, but he did say he did not know of any other similar agency for absorbing a community's labor.

The idea was born just after the armistice was signed, Mr. Reese told a representative of the International News Service. There came news of many men out of employment, and Mr. Reese wanted to help employers and labor to get together—with the added incentive of new friends for his bank and consequent increase in deposits. More than 500 men have been placed in positions since the venture began, and it is still in operation.

Most of the position filled were those of stenographers, bookkeepers, cashiers, boat captains, pilots, laundresses, housekeepers, landscape gardeners, caretakers and mechanics of all kinds. The latter class is in greatest demand and keeps the bank in constant touch with the huge number of winter residents of this section.

Three-Fourths Make Good.

Mr. Reese makes it a point to personally interview every person "placed," before that person takes up his new duties, and the record shows that more than three-fourths of the men and women have made good. The figures are accurate, because most of them opened accounts with the bank.

"It is astonishing what a serious impression it makes on a man to be placed in a position through a bank," said Mr. Reese. "We believe here that the free employment bureau, if adopted generally by the banks, will go a long way toward solving employment problems."

Venture Successful.

The employment bureau in reality is an offspring of a previous venture. When the war began to take Mr. Reese's stenographers, cashiers, tellers and other employes he had to cast about for men to take their places, and he found the market short, so he established a night school in the bank, and with himself one of the instructors, began to give free instruction in these professions to young people. Seventy-two young men and women responded to his first call for pupils. Eventually he used up all the material at hand and had taught stenography, bookkeeping, typewriting, etc., to all those available. Having filled the market with the potential workers he employed as many as he could and then started out to find positions for others. The venture was so successful that he resolved to do what he could to find places for others.

The night school has been discontinued, but Mr. Reese said he stands ready to renew it if occasion demands. He is a competent telegraph operator, stenographer and bookkeeper, professions through which he passed during his rise to his present position.

PROMINENT EDITORS TO MAKE TALKS

HONOLULU, Sept. 19.—B. W. Fleisher, publisher of the Japan Advertiser, and Frank Pacific Magazine, Tokia, and Henry Stead, editor of Stead's Review, Melbourne, Victoria, have accepted appointments as chairman and vice-chairman, respectively, of the Pan-Pacific Press Conference, which will be made a part of the Press Congress of the world sessions at Honolulu in October.

Both Mr. Fleisher and Mr. Stead are prominent in Oriental and Australian journalism, and, aside from delivering addresses during the congress sessions will take an active part in the proposed formation of a permanent organization of newspaper and magazine men residing lands bordering the Pacific.

It is hoped that Prime Minister Hughes, of Australia, who is now in Europe, will leave for his home in time to attend the Press Congress sessions here, and there is also a possibility that Prime Minister Massey of New Zealand, will be in attendance.

Sir Arthur Rickard, president of the "Millions Club" of Sydney, N. S. W., and head of the branch of the Pan-Pacific Union in that city, has announced that he may attend the congress.

Hin Wong, of the Canton Star, will be a member of the Chinese delegation and will address the congress on "Why Not Also a Jouenalistic Mission to China?" Other members of the Chinese delegation will be Dr. Tiea Mu T. Wang, who will represent the Shun Pao, of Shanghai, and Jabin Shu, of the China Press.

J. B. Powell, editor of Millard's Review, Shanghai, will also be a delegate and will take part in the formation of a Pacific press organization. Philippe Millet, of L'Europe Nouvelle, Paris, recently was appointed a vice-president of the congress and will be a member of the French delegation.

JANITOR MISSING AND SO IS $5,000

By Associated Press.

TOPEKA, Kansas, Sept. 19.—Police are searching today for a janitor of the Guaranty State Bank of this city in connection with the disappearance of $5,000 in cash.

The money was missed last Wednesday, but its loss was not made known by officials of the bank until today. Vice President Roy Rose says the janitor took the money from a teller's cage and fled.

Grandmother of 30,000 Children Says Education Is Need of Hour

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Ask Miss Grace Abbott, the new government mother to some 30,000,000 American children, what is the crying need for the American child of today and you get an answer quick as a flash:

"Education!"

Of course there are other things that are vitally needed to benefit the child life of America. But first and foremost stands education. After that comes hygiene, the abolition of child labor and kindred matters. Education will eradicate the other ills afflicting American child life. With education, hygiene will take care of itself, and with education there can be no child labor, because the evils of it are clear to the educated mind.

No idle dreamer is this new godmother to the children of America, who has taken over the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor. It is one of the biggest jobs a woman can hold in Washington, except perhaps in point of salary.

Radiates Efficiency.

And Miss Abbott brings to it no lofty theories and idealistic notions about what can be done to better the child life of the nation. There is little of feminine fluffiness about her either personally or the manner in which she has tackled her job. Rather she radiates efficiency—not the cold, steel-like efficiency of the machine, but the understanding sort of efficiency that bespeaks a love of her work and an unusual knowledge of human nature.

Miss Abbott brings into the Children's Bureau an experience gained in "the School of Hard Knocks in welfare work. She was born in Nebraska thirty-odd years ago when Nebraska was mostly rural. She educated herself by dint of hard work and close application to business which has left ever so tiny a wrinkle between her snapping black eyes.

After graduating from a little college in Grand Island, Neb., she did post graduate work at the State university, and then went to Chicago, where she studied philanthropy at the University of Chicago.

The teeming slums and foreign quarters of Chicago fascinated her, and the years that followed her college work found her working hard to alleviate the conditions which she found all too prevalent in the Windy City. For some years she was director of the Chicago League for the Protection of Immigrants, an organization which many now prosperous Chicago business men remember gratefully.

Then Boston attracted her and she went to Massachusetts as executive secretary of the State Immigration Commission. Under her direction an exhaustive investigation and report were made in immigration problems. Then Illinois reclaimed her and she went back to the scenes of her early experiences as executive secretary of the State Immigration Commission created in Illinois.

To use her own expression, Miss Abbott "came up from the ranks" to her present position.

She learned early in her welfare work that to accomplish the most good, welfare work must be started with children. So in 1917 she came to Washington as director of the Child Labor Division of the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor.

Champion of Children.

This division administered the first Federal child labor law, and Miss Abbott was, from the beginning, responsible for the formation and development of its policies.

Feeling that she ought to get into work more closely allied with the war, Miss Abbott transferred her abilities to the War Labor Policies Board and rendered able, efficient service until the war closed.

"And there's the story," she concluded.

That was not quite the end, for a few days ago President Harding selected her from a horde of applicants to head the Children's Bureau, in which she has labored so diligently as a divisional chief. The position pays $5,000 a year and is one of the most energy sought position in Washington.

She has entered upon her new duties with a vigor and close application to duty that set a hard example for her associates.

It was a sweltering late September afternoon when the question was propounded to her of what is the crying need of the American child. Outside thousands of government clerks were hurrying down the heat-waved streets, their day finished. But Miss Abbott stuck grimly to her desk, perspiring, it is true, but sticking. She keeps no union hours.

"Education is the keystone," she said simply. "That is our principal aim. You see, our funds and our personnel are too limited to do direct contact work, so we must content ourselves with preaching, teaching and instructing.

Curtailment Injures.

"You would be surprised at the number of letters we receive every month asking information on child welfare. Last month there were 8,000. Many of them came from mothers, many came from students. One thing in particular they want—a pamphlet on infant care.

"We comply to the best of our ability, but our resources are so scanty in comparison with the demand. We can only fill about half the requests we receive for literature and advice. The advice is easy, but the literature comes hard. Like all other departments in these days of economy we have had to curtail in operations, particularly our printing bill, and it is hard not to be able to supply the demand.

"Last year we sent out 2,480,076 pamphlets. This year our printing allowance has been trimmed to 820,000 and—many requests will have to be denied."

Miss Abbott is going to pay particular attention to betterment of child life in the rural districts of America. She grew up in rural Nebraska and she knows some of the problems and the heartaches of young rural America.

"For years," she said, "we have heard so much about the terrors of centres of cities. It's all true, but child life in the slums and congested it is also true that conditions in some parts of our rural regions are just as bad.

"Children are kept out of school to help with the crops; they are kept out of school to tend stock; they are kept out of school to attend to the thousand and one things about a farm, and it isn't right. Children in the rural districts should have the advantages of school just as much as those in the cities."

She is undaunted by lack of funds and other sources necessary to growth and expansion of the bureau.

"These are hard times," she said, smiling. "We will do the best we can."

URGE MARSHALL MEN STICK TO POSTS AND FIGHT

By Associated Press.

MARSHALL, Texas, Sept. 19.—Members of the federated railway shops crafts employed in the Marshall shops of the Texas and Pacific railway were urged to stand firm and "stick to their posts, fight it out and not sacrifice what they had fought for, for the last 40 years," at a meeting of craftsmen here today by E. J. Sheehan, international vice president of the boilermakers' union and W. M. Penne, international representative of the sheet and metal workers union, both of headquarters.

MASONS IN MEXICO ARE DISCORDANT

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 19.—Leading Masons in Mexico say that the conference here between Mexican and American members of the order has resulted in an understanding through which the gulf between Masonry in the two countries will soon be bridged.

The difficulties began ten years ago and grew out of the confusion brought about by the revolutions. The tangle brought forward many complicated questions of jurisdiction, as the Masons in Mexco had become divided into two groups, one supporting the York Grand Lodge and the other the Grand Lodge of the Valley of Mexico. In the York jurisdiction were chiefly Americans, who had been puzzled as to where to cast anchor during Mexico's days of unrest. In the Valley of Mexico jurisdiction were chiefly Mexicans, who held that under the laws of Masonary grand jurisdiction in each country should be national and free from encroachment.

This contention has received the support of influential Americans in Mexico and; it is said, will receive the endorsement of the commission of American Masons in a report which will be made on its return to the United States.

Plan Merger of Lodges

If the plan is carried out as reported, the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of the Valley of Mexico will be recognized by the Masons Order in the United States, and the York lodges will accept this decision. This will mean the merging of the York Grand Lodge with the Grand Lodge of the Valley of Mexico and the complete union of Masonry in this country, all lodges being under Mexican jurisdiction.

A solution of present riddles will relieve Masons in Mexico of many embarrassments when they visit the United States. In the past prominent Masons would be received by their brethren in some states and not in others. As an example, Masons in Indiana would welcome as brethren York Lodge visitors but not Valley of Mexico lodge visitors, while the situation in Ohio, Masons say, was exactly reversed.

Masons in Texas refused to recognize either York or the Valley of Mexico lodges, and a few other states took a similar stand, but numerous states recognized one or the other branches of Masonry in Mexico, creating a situation that was bewildering at times.

Favorable to Mexico Lodge

Steps to have a commission of Masons come from the United States were first taken by Mexico City lodge No. 35, of the Valley of Mexico branch of the order. This lodge was formed by Americans who had reached the conclusion that the laws of Masonry required that the Grand Lodge of a country should be a national organization, with full national jurisdiction.

Teh coming of the commission was also welcomed by prominent members of the York branch.

In the commission sent to study conditions in Masonry here are Grand Master Andrew L. Randell, of Texas; Past Grand Master Albert Adams of California, and Past Grand Masters A. R. Ross, Sam P. Cochran and W. M. Fly, of Texas. With the party were Grand Master Bajo, of Louisiana; R. W. Humphreys, of the Texas Grand Lodge, and other noted members of the order.

CANADA EXPECTS 9,000,000 TOTAL IN NEW CENSUS

EDMONTON, Alberta, Sept. 19.—"Iglie Gixylockeeo."

"Eh? Come again!" said the Scarlet Rider.

"Iglie Gixylockeeo," repeated the solemn-faced Eskimo.

"Oogoo Pgustxockmug," chimed in another.

The mounted police officer laboriously recorded the strange sounds in his census sheet. They represented typical names of the hundreds being gathered by the mounted police in taking Federal census among the Eskimos.

"Getting into the swing of Eskimo names is an unsung art," said one "mounty," just back from the north country. "When you are able to dash off Chinese script, read the tales of Egyptian prayer rugs and translate Yiddish into sibera then, only then, are you qualified to babble Eskimo names."

The Eskimo census is but a very small part of Canada's Federal census task, now in progress.

The census will show Canada to have a population of at least 9,000,000 it is estimated, a 300 per cent increase since the consideration of the provinces just fifty-four years ago. There (00 farms under cultivation, with an area of 53,000,000 acres, according to latest figures. On these farms are 15,517,000 cattle, horses and swine.

Rheumatism Due To Waste Products In the Blood

For Genuine Relief Your Blood Must Be Purified.

As the blood circulates, it has two functions to perform. First: to carry nourishment to all arts of the body. Second: to take up the waste products and cast them out through the proper channels.

When waste products accumulate in the system, they are a menace to life. They cause a lowered vitality, many forms of skin disorders and rheumatism.

There is no disease more painful; nor a disease that will lead to as much serious trouble as rheumatism. Genuine relief can be had only by correcting the basic trouble—waste products.

Thousands and thousands of men and women during the past 50 years have cleared their blood of waste products with S. S. S. It is the ideal remedy for rheumatism, because it removes the poisonous waste matter which is causing the trouble. There are no bad after effects and the result is wonderful. Begin taking S. S. S. today and write for 56 page illustrated booklet, "Facts about the blood"—free.

And TUDSY

Sales may come and Sales may go, but the Sale I am going to put up Friday, the 23rd, is going to be memorized everlastingly as the most bona fide sale ever recorded in the annals of the history of Wichita Falls and surrounding country. I am very much embarrassed financially; creditors are clamoring for their money.

I am practically forced to sell goods cheap to convert them into cash. Will you take advantage of my temporary financial difficulties?

Breckenridge People

To those of you who do not know us, we wish to introduce ourselves as one of the leading department stores of Wichita Falls. We want to know you and we want you to know us. We believe that the acquaintance will prove beneficial to both you and us.

We have built a business here capable of serving not only Wichita Falls proper but all of the surrounding territory within a radius of many miles, and it is our hope that eventually this firm will be looked to for all those things in the various lines carried by us which cannot be bought at home.

We have never urged the people of the surrounding territory to buy from us in preference to their local merchants. We believe that everything possible should be gotten at home. But we also realize that the residents of the country surrounding Wichita Falls have need of many things which cannot be stocked by a merchant doing business in a smaller town. This is the business which we want and will appreciate.

Our stocks in Ladies' Ready-to-wear, Millinery, Piece Goods, Men's Clothing and Accessories and Shoes for the entire family were never more complete. And we are selling our goods today on the closest margin of profit upon which we have ever tried to conduct our business.

Our store in Graham was installed to serve Graham and the country adjacent thereto, but it was not possible for us to carry in our Graham store as full and complete assortments as we keep in our main store in Wichita Falls.

The next time that you come to our city, will you not give us the pleasure of making your acquaintance? And please remember, that it is never any trouble to us to show you our goods.

FRANCIS OUIMET LEADS FIELD WITH 144 IN QUALIFYING ROUND OF NATIONAL GOLF TOURNEY

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 19.—Francis Ouimet, of Boston, former national open and amateur champion, today was the medalist in the 36-hole qualifying round of the national amateur golf championship playing the 6,531-yard course of the St. Louis Country club twice with 144 strokes and setting a new record for the links with a 68 on the first round. His golf was splendid all the way.

R. E. Knepper of Sioux City, Iowa, champion and runner-up to Chick Evans in the Western championship, was second, with a score of 77-70—147, while Bobby Jones of Atlanta and Jesse Guilford of Boston tied for third place with 151, Jones having rounds of 76 and 75, and the Bostonian shooting 77 and 74.

Robert Gardner of Chicago, twice champion, shared the next best score 152, with E. Hoover Bankard of Chicago, Reginald Lewis of Greenwich, Conn., and H. R. Johnston of St. Paul.

The two foreign contenders, Willie Hunter, British champion, and T. D. Armour, former Scotch champion, both qualified well toward the top with 154 and 155 respectively. Equaling the pace of Hunter were George Von Elm of Salt Lake City, Trans-Mississippi champion, Clark Speirs of Seattle and O. F. Welling of Portland, Oregon. Three players led the Pacific Northwest invaders, who survived with Lee Steil and Bon Stein, of Seattle, H. Chandler Egan and Rudolph Wilhelm of Portland failing to qualify, and Russell Smith of Portland tying for last place.

It requires 162 to be safely in the fold for match play, but Prescott Bush of St. Louis and Russell Smith of Portland, Oregon, tied for second place, and will play off in the morning, before the 36-hole first round matches start.

Chick Evans, defending his title, displayed both championship golf and carelessness that at one time threatened to crowd him out of the thirty qualifiers. He started in the first round with a string of pars, but dwindled away to 39 for the nine. He came back in 38 for a 77. The champion gave a rare display of the Scotch game, going out in the afternoon, chalking up nothing but fours except for two threes for a 34, one under par. Then he began to trifle with his putter, taking at least one extra putt to the green, while on the 180-yard 12, he scored an unbelievable eight, taking seven single handed putts before the ball ran in the hole to escape further tantalization.

In that manner, although he drove and approached well without effort, he took 47 strokes to get home, giving him a total of 81, but his 30-hole score of 158 qualified fairly well up in the list.

Ouimet, putting well as usual, also cured some recent lapses in his long game and played evenly until the last nine, when the humid heat seemed to slow up his game, as he took forty for this nine as against 35-34 for the first three nines.

Only one Texan remained as a competitor at the end of the day's play. He is Charles Dexter of Dalls, who turned in a card of 159, taking 81 strokes to go out and 78 coming in.

T. B. Cochran of Wichita Falls, Texas, second of the three Texas players entered, was eliminated from the tournament on the face of his score of 164 as was Louis Jacoby of Dallas, who made the circuit in 169.

TIES RECORD BY RETIRING 3 BATERS WITH 3 BALLS.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, Sept. 19.—Retiring three batters with three pitched balls in the eighth inning yesterday, Pitcher Lerns, of Oelwein, duplicated the world's record. The first man up hit to shortsop, the second man filed to center and the third popped to second.

CONCENTRATE FORCES FOR MOOR DRIVE

By Associated Press.

MELILLA, Morocco, Sept. 19.—Spanish troops concentrated in the Melilla region for operations against rebellious Moroccan tribesmen number approximately sixty thousand. All branches of the service are rapidly becoming settled to the hardships of campaigning in the rocky and pathless hills. They also are becoming accustomed to the shells and bullets constantly falling.

Munitions, tanks, airplanes, lorries, field and mountain guns, and equipment of all kinds for the Spanish offensive have been arriving daily in large quantities. Virtually everything was ready when the advance was ordered.

The emplacements for the Moroccan guns in the hills are undergoing constant charge. Whenever the Spanish gunners spot the Moroccan positions and drop shells anywhere in the vicinity, the Moroccans immediately shift the gun emplacements.

The number of Moroccans in the hills around Courougou apparently has been reduced and they are now estimated to number only 500 determined fighters.

Suburbs of this city were under heavy bombardment during the days just prior to the offensive.

The shells fell over a wide area but nearly all of them failed to explode.

IDENTIFY AUTO AS BELONGING TO KIMBERLIN

The seven passenger touring car which figured in a smashup on the Lake Wichita road Sunday night and from which two men jumped and fled was the property of Sam Kimberlin, local merchant, according to information received by the police Monday.

The car was abandoned by the two men, immediately after it had crashed into an automobile driven by C. M. Dodgen. Although the cars were swerved off into the ditch by the side of the road and both badly damaged, no one was injured.

BILL TILDEN WINS U. S. CHAMPIONSHIP IN TENNIS SINGLES

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19.—William T. Tilden won the 1921 national tennis title today by defeating Wallace F. Johnson, 6-1; 6-3; 6-4 in the final round of the fortieth annual championship singles tournament of the United States tennis association in what was said to be the record time of forty-three minutes.

Tilden rose to super heights in his play this afternoon. He so dazzled and smothered Johnson that the latter was placed in such a defensive position as to appear as not even having a fighting chance. Tilden now has two legs upon the championship cup, placing him on a level with Maurice E. McLoughlin who won in 1912 and 1913; R. Norris Williams, winner in 1914 and 1916 and William M. Johnston, holder in 1915 and 1919. William A. Larned and R. Lindley Murray have also won this cup once, the play dating back to 1911 when it was placed in competition.

Against Tildens bombardment of cannon ball returns Johnson was almost helpless and piled up an unusual number of errors. Tilden had thirty-five earned points to Johnson's four.

The match was witnessed by more than 10,000 spectators.

HOLD MAN ON CHARGE OF ROBBERY

Alleged to have held up and robbed three men of $100 at Newtown Saturday night W. Peterson was lodged in the county jail Monday afternoon on complaint of one of three men alleged to have been robbed. He was arrested and brought here by Shannon Layne, constable at Burkburnett.

According to officers the three men were playing poker when Peterson walked into the room at the point of a revolver and forced them to turn over approximately $100. Peterson is said to have been identified as the robber by the three men following his arrest.

ASKS GOVERNOR TO AID HIM IN COLLECTING BILL

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 19.—Freak letters and peculiar requests are received daily at the governor's office. But one that arrived today from a Cleveland firm "takes the cake," according to Secretary Walthall. The letter was addressed to Governor Neff.

"There is a gentleman in your state who owes us a bill and a letter to him from you would expedite payment," it said in part. The rest of the page letter was about this subject.

"THE BUNCH" WARNS OFFICERS AGAINST SUPPORTING KLAN

By Associated Press.

BRYAN, Texas, Sept. 19.—Local law enforcement officials today received communications through the mails signed "the bunch" and carrying skulls and cross bones, threatening them with death.

The officers are charged with supporting the K. K. K. The matter has been referred to the Brazos county grand jury for investigation.

PLAN PAN-PACIFIC ROTARY MEET

HONOLULU, Sept. 19.—Plans have been laid for the holding of a Pan-Pacific Rotarian convention in this city in 1923, and the working out of details has been turned over to the Pan-Pacific Union of Honolulu. The plan has the endorsement of the Honolulu Rotary Club.

ASK REVISION OF FOOTBALL RULES ON SHIFT PLAYS

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The football rules committee received today a request from coaches and officials to interpret the rules so that there shall be a distinct pause before the ball is placed in play in shift formation.

6At a meeting of 200 coaches and officials which began here Saturday night and ended yesterday morning, a resolution offered by Foster Sanford was adopted asking the committee to endorse the following interpretation of the rules:

"In all shift plays an interval of time must elapse of sufficient length to permit officials to see if the formation is legal and to determine whether the ball was snapped into play while men were in motion."

The rules now provide that "a player shall not be ruled to be in motion if he has both feet stationary on the ground."

HOLD SCOTT ON CHARGE OF THEFT

H. T. "Scotty" Scott is in bad with the law again or "still" as one officer expressed the situation.

As a result of an investigation conducted by the district attorney's and constable's offices Monday a charge of car theft was filed against Scotty, who promptly furnished another $1,000 and was released late Monday afternoon. A similar charge was filed against Tom Barger in connection with the investigation.

Scotty, according to his claims, is the victim of circumstance. In this case he claims that some one entered his garage, took some license numbers and spark plugs from one of his numerous machines and installed them on a Ford machine stolen several weeks ago from W. W. Lenville, living at 1204 Denver street.

The stolen Ford was found deserted by Deputy Constable Miles near the city a month ago, but it was not until Monday that information was received by the constable's office from the state highway department that the license numbers found on the automobile were issued to H. T. Scott, who gave his address as the "City Hall," an address which is not entirely correct, according to officers.

Scotty claims that he did not know who took the license numbers from his garage. Barker, according to officers, made a statement in which he is alleged to have stated that he took the license numbers from the Scott garage and that he turned them over to another party who accompanied him.

He denies having any knowledge of the manner in which the numbers and automobile parts found their way to the stolen Ford belonging to Lenville.

PIRATES TURN ON M'GRAWMEN WINNING LAST

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 19.—New York dropped its last game of the season here today by a score of 2 to 1, the game ending with a putout at the plate. Adams pitched well and helped win his own game by tripling to left center in the sixth scoring on Bigbee's sacrifice fly. The Pirates won the game in the seventh with the help of a misplay by Douglas. Cutshaw led off with a double to left center, reached third on Barnhart's sacrifice and scored when Douglas fielded Grimm's roller and threw wild to the plate. New York scored its run in the first inning on Frisch's single, Cutshaw's error and a single by Young. In the ninth Kelly doubled with two out and attempted to score on Meusel's single but was thrown out at the plate. The score:

WISDOM and WORSE

By C. F. C.

Skipper Walter Salm toted a large grin around town yesterday, and appeared in rare good spirits—and we don't wonder a bit. It must be a gr-r-r-and and glor-r-ious feeling to get back into civilian clothes again and not have to be answerable to an entire city every day for the winning or losing of a ball game. And usually the manager of a ball team is only answerable for the losing—when the team wins, it's the team that receives the credit.

Which isn't to say that in our humble judgment Walter Salm is the greatest baseball manager who ever wore a uniform—but merely to state that personally, all the accidents, injuries and schedule misfortunes taken into consideration, we are quite satisfied with what Walter has accomplished for Wichita Falls these past two baseball seasons.

Frank Peebles, of 900 Twelfth street, this city, mails us a letter with a postcript stating: "I wish you would publish this if yoc are not ashamed." Frank, old dear, we aren't ashamed of anything in the world except a few of our debts. Here's your letter, kid:

"Dear Sir:

"I think you have some ball team when they can't keep up a six-game lead over the Cats. Have been keeping up with the Spudders and here are all tre players the Spudders hail—Beecher, Clark and McDonald; the rest are punk except Hollingsworth and Miller. I used to like them but it's all over now."

Say, Frank, if the best you could do was to "keep up with the Spudders," YOU ended YOUR season no better than a THIRD PLACE FAN, didn't you?

Tad says they've got a new game now along the Eastern seaboard called "three-mile limit." Out in this country the corn liker hounds call that game "Seymour road."

Heard a feller say the shortest day in the year "is the first of the month when the bills come due." We always found the first of the month the longest day in the year; postman comes early in the morning shortly after sun-rise with the first batch of bills, and he continues to come all day for a month until sunset.

Harvard, eastern reports state, has a squad of 100 men trying for the varsity football team—that's exactly one-fourth the entire student body of one wee college that once upon a time battled the Crimson to a scoreless tie.

Which ought to prove that quality counts as much in a football squad as it does in dress goods.

It was a great pleasure to read that "Bud" Fisher's horse, Sporting Blood, won a Kentucky stake race worth $24,000 t'other day. We used to inhale beers occasionally with Bud Fisher when he was "Mutting and Jeffing" years ago for the New York American—and it makes us gloriously proud of the newspaper profession to realize that even though we can't sell enough books of baseball verse to earn a two weeks' vacation, one newspaper man has a horse that can earn $24,500.

And again the lead swings back to the Indians, Detroit pouring it heavily on the startled Yankees. The Tigers bunched hits for 8 runs in one inning—and it is just this erratic streak in the Yanks that has led us to pick the steadier, more consistent Cleveland machine to win the American league race. Despite the fact that the Indians are facing a far tougher losing schedule than the Yanks, we are still pinning our hope on Tris Speaker's crew.

New York, Boston and St. Louis, however, constitute the luck cities of major league baseball this season. These three cities have a total of six first division ball clubs—whereas luckless Chicago and hopeless Philadelphia have a total of four of the goshdarndest seventh and eighth place outfits in the big show.

We are praying earnestly that the Philly Nationels will take a brace immediately. We've got a little book y'understand, that has baseball percentages all nicely figured out in it, and the series labelled "Beginning 49 Won and 1 Lost" only runs as far as "49 Won and 105 Lost"—and the Phillies already have won only 49 and lost 97, with some 13 more games to play. If they lose eight more, and that splendid series tables is exhausted and we have to figure 'em out every night with a pencil and a piece of paper—we're going to get darn good and sore, by gum!

MAY GRAVEL AND SURFACE CHARLIE ROAD

The county commissioners' court at its regular session Monday instructed County Engineer Isbell to prepare estimates as to the cost of improving six and a half miles of the Charlie road beginning at the north side in this city and extending past the Friberg schoolhouse.

The action was taken by the commissioner's court after a delegation of farmers headed by M. K. Emmert and J. D. Cooper living on the road, appeared before the court and asked that the road which was graveled two years ago be repaired. Under his instructions from the court Mr. Isbell will prepare an estimate of the cost of placing more gravel on the road with an asphalt surface. In a rough estimate Monday, Mr. Isbell said that it would cost approximately $25,000 to $30,000 to improve the six and half miles.

It is not known whether the court will be in favor

WICHITA FALLS PLANS BIG FAIR TO REPRESENT WEST TEXAS AND OKLAHOMA

When visitors from other West Texas points visit Wichita Falls this year they will come to attend a fair on an extensive scale, and designed to represent North Texas, Northwest Texas and Western Oklahoma, if plans initiated at Monday's meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directorate are fulfilled.

This plan came up for discussion at the meeting during the discussion of the return hospitality to be extended various points which have entertained deputations of Wichita Falls people during the past few months.

While this fair, which is designed to be a meeting place for all West Texas and Western Oklahoma, will not be in operation until another fall, the various places to which Wichita Falls owes hospitality will not, it is hoped, defer return visits to that time. In fact an invitation to visit Wichita Falls at their earliest convenience will be given at Breckenridge by speakers representing the city and the excursionists. And this invitation will be extended to all points in West Texas.

The invitation, however, will also include one to visit the city in the following fall, when it will be promised them that the city will show them a fair of which the entire section may well take pride in—as a matter of fact it will take all of the people of the section which Wichita Falls regards as neighbors to make the fair a success on the scale planned by the Wichitans.

The hospitality for the coming fall when residents of the oil towns along the "Oil Belt" road, and other people of West Texas will visit here, will probably be in the form of a barbecue, with other diversions, including an inspection of Wichita Falls and the territory surrounding the city as circumstances permit.

LION LAIR OPENED TO MAYOR CLINE

Honorary memberships in the Lions club were extended at the club's weekly luncheon yesterday to the city's mayor, and to the president and secretary of the Chamber of Commerce—the memberships going with the offices and not lapsing when the terms of the present incumbents expire.

A large part of the meeting hour yesterday was given over to a general discussion of membership problems the club must face in attaining its quota of 100 in this city. President S. A. L. Morgan and Dr. Lem Keesee spoke at lenth on this subject, urging a larger membership, but calling attention to the need of selecting new members who will reflect the general civic strength of the community.

Homer Bruce, secretary of the newly organized club, says each member present a typewritten list of suggestions regarding future activities of the club with the request that expressions of opinion be returned before the next meeting.

The club also delegated Abe Marcus and Frank Massey as delegates on the Breckenridge trade excursion.

GRAND JURY RETURNS 97 TRUE BILLS

Ninety-seven true bills of indictment were returned Saturday against fifty-eight men and women by the grand jury of the 30th District court in session at Graham in Young county, according to information Monday from District Attorney H. R. Wilson, who returned here during the day. The grand jury was in session two weeks.

Included in the bills of indictment were two for murder. Fred Hughes was charged with the murder of Abe Enloe sr. and Abe Enloe jr., in a killing which attracted considerable attention in Young county. Viola Allan is also charged by indictment with killing her husband, Tom Allen.

J. P. Scott, R. Hosey Wick and E. C. Ripey were all indicted in connection with the closing of the bank of the J. T. Coleman Banking company at South Bend in July. Wick is charged with having accepted deposits after knowing its insolvent condition. Scott and Ripey are charged with having assented to the acceptance of the deposits.

According to Mr. Wilson as many as possible of the criminal cases now pending in Young county will be tried the coming week, the last of the present term of the 30th District court at Graham. He stated Monday that if possible all cases where the accused parties are confined in jail will be tried.

would detract. The knees shown here are all young, healthy, pink and plump. Over at Wichita Falls, knees like faces, are worn and tired and need a make-up before getting the stage for the public gaze. But why all this talk? Girls have always had knees—usually both of them. She has a right to do with them just as she pleases—walk with them, or dance, or swim, or shimmy, or just rouge and show them. When Eve ate that forbidden apple she at once got hep she should hide something. She at once made a fig-leaf skirt and hid the knuckles on her knees. This was her second mistake. She hid the wrong one. Her modern daughter repeats also hep that she has to hide something. Ancient old-fashioned Eve got by with possibly one big fig-leaf; modern Evellyane will soon be getting by with two small ones—one hung over each vulgar ear, but at that she will not be a darn bit more attractive or enticing than was her great-grandmother who wore a chest protector and skirts that trailed 20 feet behind her. All this reminds us that the other day we saw a chicken with her craw blistered plum down to her pulley-bone.

Fatty Arbuckle has retained five noted criminal lawyers of California to defend him. His fortune is estimated at $1,000,000. They are going to defend him. After it is all over, Fatty will say to himself, "Ain't gin hell."

"Big Bill" Haywood, secretary of the Industrial Workers of the World is to write the story of his life. If an Idaho jury had run true to form not many years ago, he wouldn't have had a story to tell.

Colonel John Kirby has brought in a 15,000-barrel well in the Mexia field. This should enable the Colonel to finance the Southern Tariff Association and to make it possible for southern producers of raw materials to win some recognition when a Republican Congress creates a new tariff law.

ASSESS FINE OF $150 FOR VAGRANCY

Returning a verdict of guilty on a charge of vagrancy, a jury in the city police court Monday afternoon assessed a fine of $150 against Clyde Daniel.

The defense set forth that Daniel was in partnership with his father, operating a cold drink stand on Lee street, was regularly employed and had never failed to be regularly employed except during the recent slack period when work was unobtainable.

The prosecution contended that the defendant was not regularly employed and made no attempt to obtain employment.

The trial was featured by wordy combats between City Attorney E. M. Mann and the attorney for the defense.

Notice of appeal was filed by the defense.

SHREVEPORT VOTE NOT REVEALED

SHREVEPORT, La., Sept. 18.—Results of the strike vote by local organizations of the big four railroad brotherhoods and shop crafts, while the vote is about complete, have not been revealed. It is understood from unofficial sources, however, that the vote will be, in effect, solid to strike.

COMMISSION DEFERS ACTION ON CONTRACTS

After a discussion in which it was apparent that an agreement at the present time was impossible the county commissioners' court in session Monday agreed to postpone final action on a supplementary contract with the Lone Star Stone Company for thirty days.

The postponement was agreed upon after the court had flatly refused to consider the suggestion of officials and attorneys of the Lone Star Company that a contract be entered into by which the county would keep the company posted thirty days ahead as to the amount of stone needed in county road paving and would also give the company a certain period of time after the county had completed its road in which to pay back to the county the cash balance that will be due the county from the company for undelivered stone after the work is completed.

The action Monday follows that of the commissioners' court at a recent meeting in which they asked that officials of the Lone Star Stone Company agree to certain supplementary agreements to the present contract that the county has with the company to furnish stone for the county paving projects.

At the meeting Monday Judge J. P. Jones and J. M. Isbell, county engineer were firm in their former demands that a contract be entered into with the company that would assure a doing away with costly delays in county road work incident to the failure of the company in the past to deliver stone according to their original contract.

Mr. Isbell said that it was impossible for his department to anticipate the exact stone needs of the county thirty days ahead of time. He said that the agreement should provide that the company should furnish their entire output if needed and permit them to sell to outsiders only in case their output exceeded the demands of the county.

"The county has held the sack on this stone proposition every since it was made," declared Mr. Isbell "and I now am not in favor of entering into any supplementary agreement in which the interests of the county are not fully protected."

He also said the company should be compelled to pay back in cash the balance of the $100,000 advanced the company by the county for stone before the paving was completed. He said tis money could be used for further paving. It was estimated that the company would owe the county around $40,000 after they had furnished stone for the present paving projects.

Company officials claimed that they could not contract for the sale of their surplus stone unless they knew definitely how much the county would need at least fifteen days ahead. They also asked that they be given time after the road work was completed to pay back the balance that would be due the county on the $100,000 advanced for the purchase of stone.

Members of the court supported Judge Jones and Mr. Isbell in their contentions as to the terms of the supplementary agreement. The court agreed to postpone action in the matter for thirty days to determine whether the company is now prepared to furnish stone as needed. At the present time the company is furnishing all tre stone needed in accordance with the terms of their contract according to officials.

POLICE LOOK FOR FOUR FORD WHEELS

Police were searching Monday for four new Ford automobile wheels, complete with casings and tubes, which were stolen from a box car in the local switching yards.

According to the report of City Detective Bob Hembree, who is investigating the case, the thieve broke the seal to obtain entrance to the car.

NEW YORK COFFEE

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The market for coffee futures showed more regularity than any well defined trend of prices. The opening was seven points higher to one point lower. After selling at 7.65 early, however, December eased off to 7.52 or five points net lower, owing to the rather unsettled ruling of Brazil, but later steadied up on private advices from Brazil predicting higher exchange rates and claiming that bourbons were not so easy to buy as Santos. December closed at 7.57 with the general market closing unchanged to six points lower, September 7.27; October 7.27; December 7.57; January 7.60; March 7.84; May 8.00; July 8.13.

NEW YORK SUGAR

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Raw sugar quiet today, no sales reported. Prices unchanged at 4.00 for centrifugal for uncontrolled and 4.86 for Cubas.

Raw sugar futures firmer early on covering and commission house buying but after showing advances of five points on active positions, eased off under liquidation and trade selling, closing unchanged to three points net higher. October closed at 2.60; December 2.43; March 2.38; May 2.43.

Refined unchanged at 5.00 to 5.65 for fine granulated. Refined futures were generally easier under commission house selling, closing 10 to 15 points net lower. October closed at 5.30; December and March 5.25 and May 5.20.

CHICAGO PRODUCE

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Butter easy; creamery extras 42c. Eggs higher, receipts 8,718 cases; firsts 35@36½c. Poultry alive, higher; fowls 19@26c; springs 25c.

NOTHING BUT CALVES SENT TO FT. WORTH

FORT WORTH, Sept. 19.—Excessive receipts of calves arrived today, the estimate calling for 7,500 head, but the offering of cattle was not so great, only 3,000 head being booked. Out of 100 cars of calves, about five cars were choice, and stuff selling at $6.00 and $6.25, the high range of the market, looked steady. Other deals were generally 50c down. Steers were slow to 25c lower, and on cows and yearlings the market was steady to 25c down. Some southwest Texas cows went at $3.50. A few loads of native steers closed at $4.50 to $5.00.

Only 1,000 hogs were here, the general market showing a little strength with some sales to outside buyers 10 to 15c higher. The packer top was $8.20, but shippers paid $8.40. Bulk sales ranged from $7.75 to $8.20. Pigs remained steady at $5.00 to $6.75.

In the sheep house practically the entire supply of 2,000 head consisted of feeder lambs. A few decks cleared at $6.00. Quotations:

Cattle—Beeves $3.00@5.75; stockers $3.00@4.50; cows $2.00@4.25; canners $1.00@2.00; heifers $3.00@6.00; yearlings $3.00@6.50; bulls $1.50@2.75; calves $2.00@6.25.

Hogs—Light $8.25@8.40; medium $7.75@8.00; mixed $7.00@7.75; common $5.00@7.00; heavy $7.50@7.75; rough heavy $6.00@6.50; pigs $5.00@6.75.

Sheep—Lambs $5.50@7.50; yearlings $4.50@5.00; wethers $4.00@4.50; ewes $3.00@3.50; culls $1.00@2.00; goats $1.25@2.25.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 19.—Cattle 3,600; beef steers slow; steady to 15 cents lower; yearlings $9.25; fat she stock steady to weak; grass cows mostly $3.50@4.50; grass heifers $6.00; light vealers steady; best $10; choice medium weights $7.00; other classes generally steady; bulk canners $2.00@2.50; good cutters $3.00@3.25; bulls $3.50@4.25; stockers $4.50@6.25; feeders $5.25@6.25.

Hogs $6,500; open slow, mostly 10@15c higher; closed fairly active at full advance; bulk of sales $7.80@8.40; butcher sows $7.00@7.50; stock pigs 25@35c higher with few choice lights at $8.50.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Cotton goods quieter; cotton blankets advanced 10 per cent; shirting chambray for work shirts was repriced and held at fifty per cent higher than low prices of the year. Moderate sales of brown goods at advanced prices. Yarns firm and quiet. Burlaps advanced further and quoted 50 per cent higher than the low point of the year. Raw silk steady on light trading. Dress goods in light demand.

LIVERPOOL SPOTS.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 19.—Cotton spot large inquiry; prices easier. Good middling 14.05; fully middling 13.35; middling 12.90; low middling 11.90; good ordinary 10.85; ordinary 10.10. Sales 15,000 bales, including 10,000 American.

REACTIONARY TRADE MAKES MARKET HEAVY

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Concerted opposition to the recent recovery in the stock market was reflected in the reactionary course of today's trading. Prices were barely steady at the outset, irregular at midday and heavy in the final hour when offerings were most extensive.

Railroad centers reported another marked decrease of idle freight cars, but more wage reductions and curtailed production were announced in various lines of industry.

A cut in the Guaranty Trust Company's dividend and the more pressing financial requirements of secondary specialty commodities, notably food products, also provided the shorts with fresh ammunition for another raid.

Money rates remained easy, however, on the exchange at the opening call of 5 percent on call money soon fell to 4 1-2.

When it became evident that the rise lacked public support, the market gradually reacted. Equipments, oils, motors and coal shares were most vulnerable, falling one to four points under last week's closing quotations. Baldwin and American locomotive, general electric, Mexican petroleum, general asphalt and crucible steel were weakest and United States steel cancelled its gain. Sales amounted to 575,000 shares.

Sterling was the only important remittance to hold fairly steady. French, Belgian and Dutch bills reacting three to six points and marks losing eight points. Rates on China and India continued to strengthen.

Liberty issues again dominated in the bond market. The second 4's displayed marked strength. Other domestic bonds hardened but internationals were irregular. Total sales par value aggregated $13,425,000.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Prime mercantile paper 5⅞@6 per cent. Exchange heavy. Sterling 60 day bills and commercial 60 day bills on banks $3.67⅝; commercial 60 day bills $3.67¼; sterling demand $3.71⅛; cables $3.71⅝; Francs demand 7.05½c; cables 7.06c. Belgian francs 6.99¼c; cables 7.00c. Guilders demand 31.44c; cables 31.50c. Lire demand 4.20½c; cables 4.21c. Marks demand .94c; cables .94⅛c; Greece demand 5.02c; Sweden demand 21.60c; Norway demand 12.65c; Argentine demand 30.25c; Brazilian demand 12.87c; Montreal 10½ per cent discount.

Government bonds firm; railroad bonds irregular.

Time loans easy; 60 days, 90 days 5½@5¾ per cent; 6 months, 5½@5¾ per cent.

Call money easier; high 5; low 4½; closing bid 4½; offered at 5; last loan 4½; call loans against acceptances 5.

LONDON TO BECOME A HEALTH CENTER

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The cartoonists are beginning to picture London as the nation's health resort. Already doctors are cartooned holding the pulse of a provincial patient, advising him to run up to London for a profound cure.

The latest health figures are the basis of London's claims as a spa.

The death rate for the last quarter recorded was 12.6, the lowest in history.

The infant mortality was 76, which the statisticians hasten to point out, compares with 85 for New York City.

The birth rate rose from 18.2 to 26.4 per 1,000 of population.

Statisticians for England and Wales hurried their compilations, so that two days after the London figures appeared London was informed that January to March set a new record for marriages.

Births were 115,764 boys and 109,552 girls, a proportion which helps toward correcting the war wastage in men.

WHEAT EXPORT FROM AMERICA BOOSTS PRICE

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Official announcement that August exports of wheat and flour from the United States were way above estimates heretofore current had a decided bullish effect today on the wheat market here. Prices closed firm 1 3-4 to 2 3-4 net higher with December 1.27 3-4 to 1.28 and May 1.31 1-2 to 1.32. Corn finished a shade to half up, oats off 1-8@1-4 to 3-8 and provisions varying from 10c decline to 17c advance.

Bulls figured that after September 30 the exportable surplus of United States wheat, if a normal carryover is allowed for, will be near exhaustion. Word came from Argentina that the exportable surplus had been reduced sixteen million bushels. Wet weather northwest counted also as a bullish factor. On the other hand, profit taking sales on the advance were heavy, and an increase of 4,040,000 bushels in the United States visible supply caused a bear drive on prices after midday.

Corn averaged higher in sympathy with wheat. Oats tended downward largely as a result of the liberal stock in sight.

Higher quotations on hogs, together with big shipments of lard and meats, put considerable firmness into provisions.

COTTON MAKES RECOVERY ON CROP FIGURES

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The cotton market recovered about one-third of its recent losses today. Offerings were much smaller after heavy liquidation at last week and a revival of bullish confidence on the ultimate effect of small crop figures sent director contracts up to 19.80 or 130 points above Saturday's closing quotations. Some of the later months showed greater gains and the market closed strong at net advances of 120 to 142 points.

Liverpool was relatively easy early but reported good trade demand on which prices there firmed up before the local opening.

The market here started firm at an advance of 30 to 38 points in consequence and after some little irregularity strength of reports that offerings in spot cotton were being withdrawn on the decline of last week. There was a good trade demand while the active selling of last week had left comparatively little speculative power in the market here. At times the buying was urgent enough to suggest that something of a short interest had accumulated on the recent declines of about 3 1-4 to 4c per pound from high prices touched on the last government report and there were rumors late in the day that some larger Wall street interests were replacing long lines on which they had taken profits recently. October contracts sold up to 19.45 and January to 19.80, with active months generally showing net advances of 130 to 142 points in late trading. Weather conditions in the south were considered more favorable. Local brokers attributed the advance largely to improvement in the technical position of the market as a result of last week's decline and a growing belief that southern spot holders would market their cotton gradually.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 19.—Advances approximating a cent and a half a pound were made by cotton today on a revulsion of speculative feeling of last week. Better cables, reports that growers were refusing to sell at prevailing prices and in many points in the western belt were hauling cotton back home, claims of trade improvement in the English market and the rumor that a large brokerage firm was coming out with a condition report of 57, the lowest condition percentage ever talked of in connection with the cotton crop were the main buying influences of the day.

A most healthy technical condition resulting from the heavy and prolonged selling of last week was indicated by actions of the market in early trading. Throughout the session it responded readily to buying and demand constantly strengthened, some of it coming from new buyers just entering the market, some of it from shorts who were hurrying to cover. The initial bulge amounted to about ninety points and subsequently with only small reactions the gain was widened to 144 to 157 points, highest prices being reached in late trading when October rose to 19.34. October closed at highest and the list on the close showed net gains of 142 to 151 points. Cables that gathering of the crop was nearing completion in many sections of the belt, aroused a considerable outside demand especially in the early part of the day.

COTTONSEED OIL

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Cottonseed oil advanced 15 to 28 points through urgent demand from shorts in nearby deliveries and buying by the south on the strength in cotton. Subsequently realising sales caused a setback but final bids were one to 16 points net higher. Sales 19,700 barrels. Crude markets higher. Prime crude 8.50; prime summer yellow spot 10.30@10.50; October 10.26; December 9.94 and March 10.03, all bid.

OIL ROYALTIES WANTED

Will pay cash for good producing oil royalties, five to twenty-five barrels. Give all information first letter, number acres, description, number wells, age and depth of each, owner of work interest, name of pipe line, price received for oil runs for several months back. Send plat showing location of oil wells and dry holes. Not buying any junk and will not pay inflated prices. Only good stuff worth the money.

NAVAL MODELS FORM ARMADA IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Uncle Sam, despite the huge battleships slipping off the ways and joining other huge ships making up the second largest navy afloat, is a "little navy man." In this respect he probably owns one of the best "little navies" in the world, literally speaking.

This navy is little, in all senses of the word, yet is a model navy, too. In fact, it is made up of model ships —models of perfection of detail and models of the largest ships that make up the real United States Navy.

It is not generally known, except to Washington tourists perhaps, that for generations back every ship in the American navy was represented by a small-scale counterpart, beautifully made. These small models have accumulated and today form an interesting study in the development of shipping, not only from a naval viewpoint but from the angle of the student of marine architecture. In fact, so valuable are these models as concrete illustrations of the advance in the science of shipbuilding that they are often requisitioned by cities far away for temporary use as group studies in that subject. Just at present a number of the models are scattered in representative groups about the public buildings of Washington as historical exhibits.

Cost Runs High Apiece.

The miniature navy is well represented in the Navy Department buildings, where the models are a never-ending sources of interest to all visitors.

These models are in some respects much more than small replicas. Many of them are as large as a good-sized rowboat and cost several thousand dollars to construct. They are now made at the Washington Navy Yard, and the later models now under construction, which are exact reproductions of the latest type of battleship being built for the Navy, will require months to complete. They are scaled to proportion and complete to the smallest screw.

Necessary to Progress.

There is a very practical reason for this phase of naval construction. These models often serve as valuable guides to naval designers, who can get much more out of a brief examination of a scaled model than they could out of a mass of figures and drawings, which constitute the average ships plans. In fact, before every big ship is built a wooden hull scaled on the proportions of the contemplated vessel, is first made and tried out in the model basin of the Navy Yard here. From this preliminary trial it is possible to determine approximately the merits or objects to the design and calculate in advance what the new ship will do when completed. In the designing room of the department itself, is kept detailed models of the standard types of capital and special ships of the world, from which the designers can get ideas and concrete illustrations of plans.

Of the completed models now on hand the Navy has replicas, varying from a foot or two to twelve feet and more, of every type of war vessel from the old-time frigate Vermont, a square-rigged, 110-gun ship of 1812, to the latest airplane carrier. In between are battleships of the Maine type, destroyers from first to latest design, sub-chasers, all classes of submarines, gunboats and special service ships. All in all they constitute a highly valuable "little navy."

CLAIM GALE IS STRATING NEW REVOLUTION IN U. S.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 19.—According to Las Noticias, an afternoon newspaper here, Linn E. Gale is busily at work upon a plan to start a great revolution in the Southern states of the United States. This remarkable story was given considerable space.

Gale is the radical agitator and draft dodger who was expelled from Mexico a few months ago and was taken into custody by United States agents when he crossed the border.

As he had some secret source of income during the four years he spent in Mexico and was able to publish a monthly radical magazine at heavy loss it was supposed that Gale was paid large sums regularly by enemies of the United States, including Germany, during the years of the World War. His importance as an international trouble-maker was and apparently still is supposed to be great among the members of the circle in which he was a leader while in Mexico.

PINK MARBLE TO BE USED.

TATE, Ga., Sept. 19.—What is probably the largest individual order of marble from one quarry is recorded by the Georgia Margie Company of this city, which recently began shipping 100,000 feet of pink Georgia marble to be used in the construction of the Fourth District Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland, Ohio.

Governor Harding, of the Federal Reserve Bank, became interested in the Georgia marble when the new post office building in Birmingham was built with the material.

SECRETARY OF INTERIOR VISITS PARKS OF WEST

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall is not a swivel-chair executive.

If he had his way h' office would be loc' here, instead of in Washington, within easy reach of the wide domain of national parks and forests no wonder his guidance.

Secretary Fall is just completing his first tour of inspection of the national parks. Disregarding an elaborate itinerary prepared by his secretarial force, he came direct to San Francisco from Washington and plunged into his inspection trip with the enthusiasm of a boy.

Yosemite Park was his first objective, and no Cabinet members has ever secured such a comprehensive idea of that great park and its needs as did Secretary Fall. At Yosemite he met Stephen T. Mather, director of the National Park Service, and together they went from end to end of the vast national playground.

Ask Concessions to Beauty.

After seeing Yosemite Valley, the Mariposa Grove of big trees and Glacier Point, Secretary Fall and Director of the National Park Service Mather went to Mather Station to begin a tour of Hetch Hetchy Valley and San Francisco's immense water and power developments in progress there.

Under the guidance of officials of the Hetch Hetchy project, the Secretary and Mr. Mather inspected the work being done on the dam, continued four miles up the Toulnme river, enjoyed a swim in icy mountain water and then made a trip down the river below the dam site as far as Intake. There they were shown through the gigantic tunnel which will conduct water from the reservoir toward San Francisco, and traveled more than 7,000 feet into the bowels of the earth on a tiny electric train.

Secretary Fall, who was a rancher before he became a stateman got a horse between his legs the following day and was happy. He took the new trail to Pate Valley, enjoying every minute of the trip, on which he shout and killed a big rattlesnake cutting off the rattles for a souvenir to give President Harding.

Another interesting trip taken by the secretary was over the new trail of Waterwheel Falls. This trail is just being completed and is part of the National Park Service's plan to make acce—— the more remote beauty spots of the park.

Mr. Mather announced that as a result of his trip to Hetch Hetchy he will make representations to the Forest Service on his return to Washington, in an effort to save trees bordering the newly-surveyed road leading there. Timber is being cut for use in construction of the dam, but it was expected that a strip at least 200 feet wide would be left on either side of the road to protect its scenic features. Mr. Mather hopes that it is not too late to obtain this concession to beauty.

ADVERTISING COSTS NOMINAL, SURVEY SHOWS

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—The plaint of many that if so much were not spent in business for advertising costs would only be about half what they are is unfounded, according to Professor Horace Secrist, director of the bureau of business research of Northwestern University.

Three year survey of 569 stores, he says, shows that if $100 is spent for two suits of clothes, only $2.07 went for advertising.

CONSTABLE PLAYS NO FAVORITES IN LAW ENFORCEMENT

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Sept. 19.—You've got to hand it to Constable H. B. Allen of Cass district, this county, for being on the job. Allen is a negro who was recently appointed to the position of constable. His field of operation includes part of the famous Scott's run sector of the county. After he had duly qualified for the job, Allen armed himself with an eight-inch Colt revolver, a sawed off shot-gun and a sorrel horse, on which he travels up and down Scott's run preserving the peace and dignity of that part of the state.

But that's not all of it. Allen decided that his work was to be thorough in every particular. So he went to a printing office and had some hand bills struck off. They read as follows:

"H. B. Allen.
Constable for Cass District.
"Is any one bothering you?
"Is there any trouble going on anywhere that you can't stop? See me, I'll show you a thing or two.
"We have laws in this State and we have men who know how to use them.
"We have officers who fear nothing but God, and we will go anywhere in the world to get a man."
"I am your friend; the law is your friend. You can't get along without the law.
"Then why don't you have a talk with people who know the law?

ARE YOUR EARNINGS THE VANISHING KIND?

No matter how much you earn or how you earn it, you aren't getting ahead unless you spend less than you earn. The answer is a savings account, consistently and persistently maintained.
