School Programs End Session Here

LARGE CROWDS AT COMMENCEMENT

ONE HUNDRED, FORTY-FIVE STUDENTS OF SCHOOLS IN EXERCISES.

Unusual large attendance has been present this week at the graduating exercises of Clarendon Junior College, Clarendon High and Clarendon Junior High School.

Baccalaureate services for Junior College, High and Junior High School graduates were held Sunday evening at 8 o'clock from the First Methodist Church. More than eight hundred were seated in the church which was filled beyond capacity early and a large number were unable to find standing room in the church.

Minister W. Wallace Layton delivered the sermon with Reverend E. D. Landreth pronouncing the benediction. Reverend Robt. S. McKee, Presbyterian pastor, read the scripture and special music was rendered by the choir with Sam M. Braswell directing and Mrs. Ralph Kerbow playing the organ accompaniment.

Dr. J. A. Hill, president of West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon, delivered an outstanding address Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, when college commencement exercises were held at the college auditorium.

Interviewing a group of W.T.S.T. C. seniors on what they would say were they addressing a junior college graduating class, Dr. Hill presented one of the most interesting talks ever heard by local graduates. "Work hard, be strictly honest, finish one's college education and be careful of associates chosen while in college" were the topics W.T.S.T.C students asked Dr. Hill to present local graduates.

W. H. Patrick, president of the First National Bank, introduced the speaker, with whom he has long been personally acquainted.

Diplomas were presented the 29 graduates, 22 girls and seven boys, by Dean R. E. Drennan.

The invocation was delivered by Reverend J. Perry King, Baptist pastor, while Reverend Robt. E. Austin, minister of the First Christian Church delivered the benediction. Lu McClellan, Jr., Frank Mahaffey, Wilfred Hott and Hugh Baker were heard in a vocal quartet, and a piano quartet by Misses Eloise Hill, Dorothy Dale Powell, Joy McCanne and Mrs. Elizabeth C. Powell was enjoyed. The Clarendon band played the processional.

Dependability, integrity and ambition were the topics emphasized by Dean Drennan when he addressed the junior high graduating class of 68 students Wednesday at 10 o'clock a. m. in the junior high auditorium.

The valedictory was given by Bobby Skelton and the salutatory by Miss Mildred Phelps. Mrs. Elizabeth C. Powell played the processional and the Reverend J. Perry King, Baptist pastor gave the invocation. The benediction was pronounced by the Reverend E. D. Landreth, Methodist pastor.

Principal H. M. Lane presented the diplomas. The American Legion citizenship award was made by Mrs. Ben Hill, Dr. O. L. Jenkins made the Jenkins medal award, and penmanship awards were made by Lion O. C. Watson.

Clyde J. Douglas, Clarendon school board member, presented 48 high school graduates with diplomas last night at the First Methodist Church. Stuart H. Condron of W.T.S.T.C. at Canyon and former dean of Clarendon College addressed the student body.

"What One Should Learn in School" was the subject used by Mr. Condron, who emphasized self discovery, self control, self reverence and inspiration to press on. "Progress is the most important thing", he said. "The one positive thing in the world is change. The most dangerous person in the universe is not the bolshevik and the red, but the man who will not change. There are still frontiers here, but they are the frontiers of progress".

Mrs. Elizabeth Powell played the organ processional and recessional and the invocation was given by Dr. Thos. S. Barcus, presiding elder with the Reverend Newton C. Smith, rector of the Episcopal Church, pronouncing the benediction.

Miss June McMurtry gave a piano solo, "Witches' Dance". R. W. Moore made the American Legion awards, Mrs. L. N. Cox the Pathfinder award, and Supt. Burton awarded the scholarship.

The valedictory was delivered by Jeanne McDonald and the salutatory by Jane Williams. Pat Slavin was president of the graduating class.

Wild Flowers To Be Planted Here

Wild flower seeds from all over the county are being collected this spring by Bob Rankin, highway foreman, who, after mowing the pastures, sorting out the seed and subjecting them to a curing process, will plant them next year along the Donley County roadsides.

Donley County will be a veritable flower land when Mr. Rankin finishes his work next year. Recently, the Highway Department completed a 32-foot drop inlet of rock which beautifies the road near the Heckle Stark farm East of Clarendon and allows the water in the bar ditch to benefit the trees and shrubs in that vicinity.

RURAL TEACHERS BEING ELECTED

CONSOLIDATION WITH CLARENDON UNDECIDED; INCOMPLETE ELECTIONS.

Many changes are taking place in schools of Donley County this year as several schools vote to transfer the students to Clarendon and others reduce the faculties in keeping with the scholastics.

Midway school voted recently to transfer all students to Clarendon schools. The action which the Sunnyview school will take is unannounced, as is the Bairfield school.

Giles elected Miss Pauline McCants as intermediate teacher and Miss Aileen McCants as primary teacher. The position of principal is vacant.

Windy Valley has changed from a three-teacher to a two-teacher school with Miss Willie Anna Gorman being elected principal and Mrs. J. R. Batson, primary teacher.

Miss Viola Barker has been elected intermediate teacher at Goldston and Miss Nova Cook primary teacher.

J. M. Baker was re-elected as principal of the Smith school and Miss Ocilla McCauley as primary teacher.

Teachers have not been elected in the Jericho school. Mrs. C. E. Nicholson has been elected principal of the Watkins school and the faculty of the Ashtola school is incomplete.

Harry Hartzog has been elected principal of the Martin school and Sam King teacher of intermediate grades.

Chamberlain was one of the only schools in the county to re-elect the same faculty and to date have no resignations. Milton Todd, principal, Mrs. Milton Todd, intermediate, and Miss Agatha Taylor, primary, were re-elected.

C. W. Howard as principal and Mrs. C. W. Howard as primary teacher were re-elected at McKnight.

AMARILLO MAN WILL SPEAK IN CITY STREET

W. A. Delane of Amarillo requested that The News announce he would speak in Clarendon May 22 at 2 o'clock on the streets to prove that the depression is the Bible Mark of the Beast.

"The economic phase of which I will present will be of interest to all people. I believe we are at the close of the age, which I can prove by the Bible. I make these talks only to warn people", he wrote.

There will be no collections taken, he said.

VADA CARPENTER HAS PISTON RING SHOWING

Donley Delegation Attends 5-States Water Conservation Meeting Today

4-H Club Boys Are Working on '38 Show

4-H Club Boys and County Agent H. M. Breedlove have been busy this week obtaining gilts bred so that they will farrow in early September in order that the pigs can be eligible for the Donley County 4-H Club Show in March, 1938.

Plans are under way by early arrangements to have the largest Fat Stock Show in this section and ranchers of the county are co-operating wonderfully in obtaining calves for the boys to feed.

County Agent Breedlove plans to have a class for 4-H boys calves and and hogs in addition an open competition for farmers who would care to show their hogs. Dairy stock will probably be entered, too, Breedlove said.

YARD CONTEST ENTRIES SLOW

ONLY YARDS ENTERED IN CONTEST WILL BE ELIGIBLE FOR PRIZES.

Entries in the yard beautification contests have been disappointingly small in number to the present date. No one who does not file an official entry at the Chamber of Commerce office may have his yard judged in competition for any of the prizes offered jointly by the city and Chamber of Commerce. The first judging of the yards will be about the 15th of June.

Home demonstration agents from neighboring counties will be secured to judge the entries. A great deal of interest in the contest has been shown by those making official entries, but the entry list has not been nearly so large as expected. All those desiring to have their yards judged must have an entry blank filed before June 10.

Cattle Shipments Heavy This Week

Spring cattle shipments have been heavy this week, with McMurtry and Chamberlain shipping eight carloads Friday, and Jack Roach making preparations to ship 28 carloads from Ashtola this week-end.

The J. L. McMurtry and F. E. Chamberlain cattle were shipped to the Iowa Livestock Marketing Corporation in Atlantic, Iowa, and the Roach cattle will be shipped to Idaho.

Fossil Hunters Leave This City

Chas. Faulkenback of New York, who is associated with the American Museum of Natural History, was in Clarendon this week and transferred the paleontology crew from this city to Wyoming and New Mexico. The crew from the American Museum of Natural History has spent more than two years in Clarendon evacuating prehistoric remains from the rich fossil beds near the Goldston community.

During the expedition's stay in Clarendon, some notable finds have been made in many outstanding varieties in pliocene formation.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lynch left for Lusk, Wyoming, while Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Vaughan, Everett DeGrout and William Claus left for New Mexico.

FIVE SOFTBALL TEAMS FORMED

LELIA LAKE MAY FORM SIXTH TEAM; PRACTICE GAME FRIDAY, 8 P. M.

Chamberlain, Martin, The Lions Club, Baptist Business Men's Sunday School Class, and the F.F.A. are the five teams entered to date in the Donley County Softball league. If Lelia Lake does not enter a team another team will be organized in Clarendon to complete the six team loop.

A practice session will be held for the teams Friday night at the football field at 8 o'clock. The regular schedule will begin Monday at 8 p. m. with the Lions playing the Baptists and the F.F.A. playing Martin. Games will be played on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday of each week. Tuesday night Chamberlain will play the Lions, and the F.F.A. will play the sixth team to enter the league. Thursday night Martin will play Chamberlain, and the Baptists will play the sixth team to enter.

A split season will be played with the first half of the season ending about July 15. The schedule for the remainder of the season will be announced in next week's paper. There will be no admission charge to the games scheduled in the regular league.

A merchants prize to consist of shirts, socks, ties, groceries, service station products, hardware products, drug store products and other materials for leading batters, fielders, pitchers and other outstanding players will be announced in the near future.

Mrs. Nancy Dawkins is ill this week with the mumps.

Burglar Breaks Into Office of Gulf Agent

An unidentified burglar broke into the Gulf Refining Company office Friday night and perplexed Agent Simmons Powell and local officials by stealing two articles to work with, a typewriter and an adding machine.

Further displaying his sense of humor the burglar took a portfolio of receipts and insurance policies which would be of no possible benefit to him.

Local officers have obtained no clue as to who broke into the east window of the warehouse and took the machines. Sheriff Guy Pierce reported that a series of similar burglaries had been reported over this section, and it is possible that the felonies are being committed by the same person or persons, who have found a good market for office equipment.

FARMERS BUSY AFTER SHOWER

MORE THAN ONE AND ONE-HALF INCH RAINFALL IS RECEIVED SINCE MAY 1.

Precipitation to the amount of .63 of an inch fell Sunday night in Donley County and brought the total amount of moisture received during the first 16 days of May to one and one-half inches.

Few farmers had started planting before the rainfall, but the general precipitation Sunday night sent farmers county-wide into the fields. Rainfall was heaviest near the Midway community. "Just quote me saying", said County Agent H. M. Breedlove, "there can't be too much rain on Donley Count ypastures".

COLLEGE STARTS CARLSBAD TRIP

COLLEGE STUDENTS LEAVE TODAY FOR A VISIT TO CARLSBAD CAVERN.

The group left in the Don Matheson truck, which was equipped with a tarp covering to shade the seats in the bed of the truck. Transportation costs were $1.10 per student, while other expenses for the trip will be paid individually. The group will spend nights in tourist camps while on the trip.

The cave will be visited Friday and the group will leave Carlsbad Saturday arriving in Clarendon that evening.

DONLEY MEN GO TO PWC MEETING

COUNTY INTERESTED IN OBTAING PROJECT IN FIVE-COUNTY PROGRAM.

More than 20 delegates to the five-state meeting to co-ordinate the erosion program left today for Amarillo, where the group assembled in the Amarillo Hotel at 10 o'clock to further the plans of the Panhandle Water Conservation association.

Led by J. R. Porter, director from this county, the Commissioners Court, members of the local Chamber of Commerce and business men are joining delegations from this region in elminating duplications of effort through co-ordination of agencies for the best interests of the entire area.

Director Porter believes that the project will mean one-half to three quarters million dollars in water conservation to Donley County and has been formulating a project which will be of the greatest benefit to the county as a whole.

Donley County delegates include J. R. Porter, Elba Ballew, Joe McMurtry, Chas. Bairfield, Frank Finch, Tom McDougald, J. W. Noel, C. of C. Secretary J. R. Gillham, G. G. Reeves, Will Chamberlain, John Hermesmeyer, Claude Nash and Sam M. Braswell.

THREE DEADLOCK FOR BOGEY PRIZE

HUNTER, MURPHY, REEVES WINNERS AT HILLCROFT'S FIRST "BLIND BOGEY".

With Dr. H. F. Harter, Tom Murphy, and Rex Reeves tying for the coveted first prize, a score of Clarendon's golfing addicts participated in the Hillcroft's first "blind bogey" tournament Sunday.

All three winners had a score of 78 when their handicaps, drawn by lot, were deducted from their actual scores. The "blind bogey" score was 77. The prize of three golf balls was divided equally among the three lucky niblick wielders.

Homer Parsons received three golf balls for scoring the high mark of 94. Parsons' handicap was one stroke.

Glen Allison was another recipient of three "didoing pellets", awarded him for chalking up low score. His handicap was 25.

Golfers entering "blind bogey" tournaments, which are comparatively new to the nation's golf courses, are required to punch numbers from a board. The number a golfer draws is his handicap, and he strives to attain the designated "blind bogey" number.

Other scores in Sunday's play follow:

	Gross	Hdcap	Net
P. B. Gentry	75	14	61
Alex Cooke	91	8	83
W. H. Cooke	84	20	64
T. F. Connally	88	3	85
Billy Cooke	75	4	71
Wesley Knorpp	86	16	70
M. P. Gentry	81	8	72
U. J. Boston	81	10	71
Frank Whitlock	93	24	69
Neal Thompson	87	8	79
Joe Bownds	89	19	70
John Sweeney	93	25	68
J. R. Gillham	94	21	73

Harter, Murphy and Reeves made gross scores of 88, 93, and 91, respectively. Parsons' gross was 95, and Allison's 84.

Alanreed Picnic Set For May 26

The annual Old Timers Reunion and picnic will be held in Alanreed this year, Wednesday, May 26, Committeement C. T. McMurtry, Mr. James and Wilson Blakeney announced this week.

The annual get-together of all old timers of the Alanreed section will be especially attractive this year with an interesting program planned for the entire day. Dinner will be served at noon.

The committee urges all old timers to be present for one of the most enjoyable gatherings ever held by the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Baldwin of Memphis were in Clarendon yesterday.

Clarendon Names July 3rd Date of Annual Celebration

CLYDE J. DOUGLAS SAYS PIONEERS TO BE HONORED AT CELEBRATION.

Saturday, July 3 was the date definitely set for the Fourth of July Celebration held annually in this city. July 4 being Sunday, the celebration will be the third this year, it was announced this week.

Arrangements were made at the regular monthly meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce Monday and preliminary plans outlined looking to the traditional success of such events.

Pioneer of Donley County of 40 year and longer, will be guests of honor for the day.

Great stress is being placed on entertainment features, with the plans incorporating a home talent rodeo to be staged by 4-H and F.F.A. boys under the direction of H. M. Breedlove and J. R. Gillham.

Softball games between local teams and some visiting players of note will be another feature of the program.

Clyde J. Douglas has been named chairman of the finance committee and plans are being outlined sufficiently to ascertain the amount of funds which will be required, after which time the committees will begin work.

Accused of Wrong Community Attitude

Members of the Clarendon Lions Club heard a former citizen of this community declare that during his visit here he had been surprised to find a change in the former progressive, up-and-coming attitude which characterized this area seven or eight years ago. J. Stanley Miller with the gun building department of the Navy Yard at Washington, D. C., reared to young manhood in Clarendon, was a visitor guest at the Tuesday luncheon this week, and sharply pointed out this community defect, which to him had proven most painful in his two weeks' vacation spent here with relatives. He urged the Lions to return to the former forward-looking attitude.

Other guests of the day were Past District Governor Ralph E. Randel of Panhandle, W. B. Scrimpshire of Sulphur, Okla., Mess. Jones, and Hazelwood of the local school faculty, and Master Jimmie Douglas.

Lion Hicks reported on the soft ball organization and urged again the support of the Clarendon Athletic Association sponsoring the football uniform fund for the C.H.S. squad for next Fall.

Lion Porter announced the Soil Erosion and Water Conservation conference at Amarillo today and urged a full delegation from Clarendon and Donley County.

Preferential nomination ballots were distributed for the membership to designate their choice for the club officers for the coming club year in July.

Interesting Relic Collection Mounted

One of the most complete Indian relic collections seen in this section was brought to the Stocking Drug Store this week by Greer Cottingham of Lelia Lake. Principally arrow heads, spear heads and Indian beads, the display is being arranged and mounted by Jerome Stocking and may be seen at the Stocking Drug.

More than 250 arrow heads, many almost perfectly preserved, are included in the collection as are Indian axes and a string of Indian beads, which are made from segments of crinoids with natural perforations. These relics were found by Cottingham in the Panhandle of Texas and the Panhandle of Oklahoma.

Armstrong Buys Sinclair Station

A. J. Armstrong, for 20 years a resident of Donley County, announced this week that he had purchased the McElvany Sinclair Service Station from Homer McElvany. Mr. McElvany has made no announcement concerning his plans for the future, but indicated he would rest a month before forming other connections.

Mr. Armstrong has incorporated in the business the Dodge and Plymouth agency, together with Goodyear and Sinclair dealership. Green stamps will be given with purchases. Clyde Wilson and Chas. Wisdom will remain in the station in the employ of Mr. Armstrong.

Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong are living on East Second Street. Mr. and Mrs. Francis Brown formerly of the Jordan ranch, have rented the Armstrong farm, southwest of Clarendon.

LOOKING FORWARD WITH HOPE

A day or so ago we heard a former citizen back in Donley County for a vacation say that the thing which depressed him in his visit here was the general attitude of "looking back", and "recounting events in the good old days", which he met on every hand.

This observing visitor declared that all sections of the country had suffered reverses in the low economic levels of the past seven years, but to find Clarendon and Donley County repining, "looking back", and "living in the past" was shocking to him who had left this country with the song of progress and optimism in his ears—who himself had boasted that he came from the most aggressive section of the nation.

At first, this comment came to this editor as a disturbing thought, and we were somewhat prone to deny the charge, but another citizen present said that he felt there was truth in the indictment against our people, that maybe this editor had listened only to those who stood for advancement—had not listened to the many who "licked their wounds" and lived in a pessimistic vein.

Whatever the extent of truth in the charge against our home people, The News believes all of us will admit that any pessimistic mouthings, any backward attitude, any grouching, any "cussing the town and country"—any and all evidences of that sort of defeated spirit, can only harm us and retard the recovery which is certainly approaching.

People of Clarendon—people of Donley—rains are falling, the bow of promise is in the economic skies, business recovery is near at hand; therefore let us bring it nigh with high faith—let us reach out and lay hold upon it. Let us evaluate our town and county as among the more blessed of the great Southwest region. Let us cherish our traditions and our citizenship as among the finest in the wide, wide world.

Let us look forward with hope—let us press forward with determination.

Victory, and success, and prosperity are at hand.

THE WORLD DEMANDS ALWAYS A "GOAT"

There is a strange strain in human nature, which in the hours of defeat and disaster, sets itself to the task of picking on some person in connection to be forever marked as the "goat". Humanity thus seems to return to placidity after having viewed the "sacrifice".

As an aftermath of the lamentable New London school disaster comes the story of the dismissal of Supt. Shaw, the head of the unfortunate school, and a fellow-sufferer with other New Londoners, since he, too, lost a son in the explosion.

A letter from the school board notifying Shaw of the dismissal was full of appreciation and praise for the shaken superintendent's services, and absolved him from blame, as the country had already done. It was a typical latter from a board faced with a distasteful task and one in which they could take no pride—too full of words, and too fulsome in view of the main purpose of the letter.

But now things will be peaceful in New London. The public has chosen and pointed out its "goat".

This recurrent human spectacle is a cold, pitiless, unworthy thing to to behold and contemplate.

The WEEKLY CONSTITUTIONAL

by MAX BERNS

Separation of Powers

What is meant by the separation of powers?

Our Constitution divides the three great powers of government among three separate and independent branches: the legislative power is vested in Congress; the executive power in the President; the judicial power in the Supreme Court and other federal courts.

Seven years before our Constitution, John Adams, great Colonial patriot, signer of the Declaration of Independence and second president of the United States, stated the same principle in the Declaration of Rights of the Massachusetts Constitution as follows: "In the government of this commonwealth the legislative department shall never exercise the executive and judicial powers, or either of them; the executive shall never exercise the legislative and judicial powers, or either of them; the judicial shall never exercise the legislative and executive powers, or either of them; to the end it may be a government of laws and not of men."

In the Declaration of Independence, Jefferson protested against the king's control of the executive, legislative and judicial branches of our Colonial governments, and we fought the Revolutionary War.

In Europe today we see that where all departments are controlled by one man or by one group of men, their whim becomes law; autocracy succeeds democracy; might becomes right; freedom, liberty and the natural rights of man disappear; tyranny rules.

It is to avoid this that our Constitution separates the powers of our government into the legislative, executive and judicial branches and makes them independent of each other.

BEWARE THE HAWK!

CO-OPERATION IS THE BASIS OF PROGRESS

From Memphis comes the cheering word that the leadership on highway matters there is in full accord with Clarendon highway workers in the matter of full co-operation in achieving the road objectives of the two neighboring towns. Indeed it is authoritatively reported that the Hall County boys, when asked if they objected to the project proposed by Clarendon workers of the extension of Highway 88 from Clarendon to Turkey, told the Highway Commissioners at a breakfast in Memphis, that they favored our proposal, that they themselves needed a new outlet to Turkey, which would be effected by the new road by junction in the Brice country.

Clarendon is going to favor the highway objectives of Memphis and there is general elation here that our good neighbors in the Hall County capital are showing such a fine spirit.

As the News said last week, Clarendon and Memphis are both going to finally achieve their road objectives, but with co-operation and mutual effort they are both going to have victory at an earlier date.

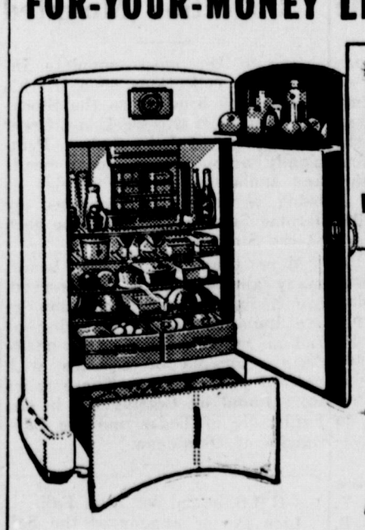

There is no substitute for neighborly co-operation.

School is out, so a new child problem faces the parents for the next three months.

"THE ODYSSEY OF MRS. BROWN"

BY J. C. MATTHEWS

State Department Director, P.-T.A.

Chapter VII. The Goal.

Science, said Anna Brown to herself, teaches us not to be afraid to experiment, so I'm going to try a little different procedure on the group. And she did.

At the next meeting she passed out slips of paper and asked each member to write down one of the things each believed was lacking in education. After much head-scratching, chin-rubbing and other symptoms of cerebration, the members penciled their varied observations. Among the remarks were the following:

1. "Schools don't teach children how to study, and certainly we don't know and never did".

2. "Too much learning by heart. Couldn't they just learn where to find it in a book"?

3. "Ought to pay more attention to what is going on now and not so much to what happened a thousand years ago".

4. "I asked my oldest boy, who is in high school, what 'social security' means and he couldn't tell me. They ought to know such things".

5. "Children get too much stuff in school they never use. Why not teach them something they can use"?

6. "Children ought to be taught how to handle and use money wisely. We'd all have more now if we knew how".

7. "The school seems completely cut off, as far as its interests go, from the rest of the community. Shouldn't something be done about this"?

8. "If we had the right kind of teachers I think most of our school problems would take care of themselves. Can't we pay higher salaries and demand better trained teachers"?

9. "I'm in favor of some sex education in the schools. All they get now they get at home, and that's very little".

10. "Too many children drop out of school because they can't get what they want or the teacher can't get it over to them".

11. "What good are facts if you don't know how to apply them to do something worth while? What's the answer"?

12. "When I went to school I was taught how many bones there are in the body, but I wasn't taught how to keep myself healthy. They have probably improved this since my day, but I doubt if they teach enough of the science of living right yet".

"We have enough topics to last us a long time", said Anna Brown with a smile. "I think you've hit upon some of the weakest points in our entire educational system. Let's take the subjects one at a time and see what conclusion we can reach—or at least try to get some suggestions for remedying these faults".

On the first point, the parents agreed immediately that there was great need of some preparatory course in how to study, not only that the children might save time in preparing their work, but also that they might do their work more thoroughly. They also were of the opinion that the teachers, being students themselves, should be able to give such instruction, which should come as early as possible in the child's career.

In regard to the third topic, Mrs. Brown called attention to a paragraph in The Handbook for Curriculum Study on "The Social Revolution" which she thought highly applicable. She read:

"Whether our schools have had a part through either omission or commission in the present crisis, the crime wave, the generally inefficient conduct of business, and the wholly inadequate functioning of citizenship, they must accept the responsibility for society of the future; for, as the home lessens its influence over the youth of the land, the school—whose support the State bears an increasingly greater part—must provide a more potent guiding force. If the schools are to continue to live and merit the support of the public, they must show that they can adapt themselves quickly and adjust their aims so that succeeding generations can be better prepared than those who are handling the affairs of our nation today. We must never be guilty of sending forth a generation of people so poorly prepared to cope with unexpected and unforeseen difficulties".

A father summarized as follows: "We should know the past, but we must know the present and as much of the future as we can if we're going to save our children from any calamities we've known."

"That ties in with the next complaint, which is that the schools do not provide sufficient education in modern social, economic, and political problems", said Mrs. Brown. "It seems to me that one of the tests of education should be the ability to read a high class daily newspaper or a magazine intelligently". All agreed.

Two opposing opinions were voiced on the fifth point, which concerned the practicability of subject matter taught in school. Some parents held that the school shouldn't become just a trade school, while other believed that "the children can pick up the stuff they can't use outside of school if they're interested in it", as one man phrased it.

Anna Brown took the middle ground, pointing out that "there is more to life—if it is to be a full one—than merely eating, sleeping, and working".

"I gather", she explained, "that most modern educators believe in preparing the pupil not only for a trade or profession, but also to enjoy what we rather vaguely call 'the finer things of life'—music, art, literature, hobbies, and sports, in short, all those things which will provide for worthy use of leisure time".

The opinion that children should have experiences in solving financial problems was held unanimously, but doubt was expressed on the seventh point as to how the school might be drawn closer to community life. By general consent the topic was passed for later consideration after one parent had volunteered to study ways and means and to report at the next meeting.

The eighth point, concerning the preparation of teachers, was also passed for later consideration, as was the next, relative to sex education. Reports likewise were assigned on these topics.

The time for adjournment had come, with only a few of the topics having been touched upon. The members, Anna Brown noted, looked at each other in perplexity. One of the mothers voiced the concensus of opinion when she said: "I can see right now how utterly ignorant we are of what we should do for the welfare of our children. So far, we've named eight topics, and I'll freely confess that I couldn't talk two minutes and say anything really important on any of them. Now let's get down to brass tacks and see if we can't find out something worthwhile on each one of these subjects. We'll have to do some searching to find what we're after, but I'm willing to put in the time if you are". She paused, and there was a general nodding of heads. "Let's each take one of these subjects and really study it so that later on we can talk intelligently about it".

And that was done, several members taking the same topic—particularly the more controversial ones—in order to bring out all cnotradicting viewpoints.

Afterward, in the privacy of her own room, Anna Brown wrote in her diary that the meeting was "the most vigirous and promising one yet held".

The parents were getting somewhere.

Health Officer Makes Rattlesnake Warning

Austin, Texas, May 18.—Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, urges everyone to be careful when in the country to prevent snake bite. In Texas the chief offender is the rattlesnake; and, contrary to common belief, it does not always rattle before it strikes.

About seventy-five per cent of all bites occur on the lower extremities and could be prevented, to a large extent, by wearing high top boots and leggings. About twenty per cent occur on the hands and arms. Care should be exercises in not putting the hands in invisible places when climbing rocks, and to look before picking up anything that may be obscured by vegetation, brush or rocks.

If one is bitten, prompt action is necessary, and a physician should be obtained as soon as possible. No time should be lost in removing the poison by suction; this can be done by month or a suction cup. First a tourniquet should be applied above the wound, so as to increase congestion and assist in washing out the poison. A cross cut incision with a sharp clean knife or razor blade should be made over each fang mark, or preferably to connect the two fang punctures. These should be at least a quarter of an inch deep and at least thatlong. Suction should be applied for at least half an hour. The tourniquet should be released every ten or fifteen minutes for a minute at a time.

If bitten by a snake, do not run or get overheated; do not take alcoholic stimulants; don not use potassium permanganate (which is now known to be of no value as an antidote) to cauterize the wound; and do not depend on home remedies.

A. C. Stults Resigns Jr. College Position

A. C. Stults, who has been head of the Clarendon Junior College science department for two years, has resigned here to accept a position as Oil and Gas engineer with the Railroad Commission with headquarters in Big Spring.

Mr. Stults will begin work with the commission June 1. Mr. and Mrs. Stults and two children, Barbara Jean and Conrad, left Wednesday afternoon.

Especially will Mr. Stults be missed in Clarendon by the youths, who he recently, through the Lions Club, organized into a troop of Boy Scouts. There has been no announcement made by the school board concerning the election of a new science teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ryan and family spent Sunday in Memphis.

DATES FOR FARMERS' SHORT COURSE GIVEN

College Station.—The dates for the 28th annual Farmers' Short Course of the Texas A. and M. College have been set for August 16-19, according to an announcement made by Roy W. Snyder, extension service supervisor of specialists' work, who is chairman of the general short course committee.

The short course this year will be of four days duration instead of the customary five, Snyder said.

Three committees in charge of broad phases of the short course have been set up. Miss Bess Edwards, assistant state home demonstration agent, is chairman of the technical program committee, which will arrange the educational features of the gathering. M. K. Thornton, Jr., leather specialist, heads the administrative committee which will provide accommodations for the farmers, home demonstration club members, and 4-H club boys and club girls who will gather from all parts of the state. And E. R. Eudaly, dairy specialist, is chairman of the joint program and entertainment committee.

SMUT CURE IS GIVEN FARMERS

COPPER CARBONATE IS BEST REMEDY FOR HAZARD ALARMING FARMERS.

Farmers in Donley County have been alarmed the past several years over the large amount of smut appearing in grain sorghum such as hegari, kaffir, milo and cane and in order to correct this crop hazard, County Agent H. M. Breedlove has made an extensive study on the application of copper carbonate to the seeds as a preventative.

This remedy is the best known, Agent Breedlove said, and is a commodity which may be purchased from local druggists. Three ounces of copper carbonate will treat a bushel of seed with the expense curtailed so small that it would be unmentionable.

A small cheesecloth sack may be used and by placing the mixture in the sack, the copper carbonate can be scattered throughout a bushel of seed. Mix the seed well, to allow the preventative to be thoroughly distributed, he instructed.

Farmers who have tried this measure, report that copper carbonate brings wonderful results in keeping down smut in sweet grain crops.

AG. BOYS PROVE REAL FARMERS

SCHOOL NOT JUST THEORY TO AG. BOYS, WHO SPEND SIX MONTHS FARMING.

The old saying that "school work is just a lot of theory" has been largely disproved by members of the vocational agriculture classes of Clarendon high school the past year. Every boy enrolled in vocational agriculture is required to carry on at least one phase of farming under the supervision of his teacher for a period of six months or longer; the majority of the boys participated in three or more phases of farm work in connection with their supervised practice program. The vocational teacher is required by the state department of education to supervise the work throughout the year; so he must be on the job in the summer as well as in the fall. A wide range of practical farm industries were engaged in by students and the majority have been very successful in their work.

Three boys fed four calves for show; five boys fed 200 broilers; ten boys grew 100 acres of cotton; six boys fed 250 hens for egg production; eight boys fed 10 cows for milk production; 18 boys used 16 pure bred Hampshire, Poland China, Duroc Jursey and two grade sows for pig production as their projects; nine boys fed 15 pigs for pork production; four boys grew 60 acres of wheat; eight boys grew 50 acres of milo for grain production; one boy grew five acres of cantaloupes; and one boy raised 25 chickens for show purposes.

In addition to their project work the vocational students were required to complete a number of farm jobs. Making 1500 feet of concrete tile for irrigation, three calf feeders, 14 hog self feeders, six of which were made from scrap material that had been discarded, framing pictures, and other such jobs are characteristic of the practical work completed by the students this year.

SAFETY LANE IS SET FOR FRIDAY

HIGHWAY PATROLMEN POINT OUT THAT AUTOMOBILE DEFECTS ARE HAZARDS.

As we go to press, word is received from the Highway Patrol that a court case in Amarillo, which patrolmen must attend, will prohibit the patrol from conducting the safety lane in this city Friday, but that the lane will be arranged for Clarendon in the near future.

Texas highway patrolmen, members of L. G. Phares' "Flying Squadron of Courtesy", will visit Clarendon Friday and inspect automobiles that are in this city. The squadron of safety promoters will establish a safety lane at a busy intersection in downtown Clarendon and check automobiles on road safety.

Together with the features checked last year, steering apparatus, lights, brakes, klaxons, and mufflers, new features have been added this year, the informant said.

All cars will be turned through the lane and those passing inspection will be given a blue sticker, while those failing to pass inspection will be given a pink sticker. Unless the defect is corrected and a blue sticker placed on the automobile, county officials may fine any person who operates a motor vehicle bearing the pink sticker.

A large percentage of accidents, highway patrolmen pointed out, are caused from mechanical defects in automobiles and due to this fact, the State Department started this feature of their service more than two years ago. Since that date, pratically every town of any size in Texas has been visited at least once annually and motorists have been made conscious of the fact that a light which fails to turn on at the right moment, a horn which will not sound, or a brake that does not catch often leaves a list of names under "And Sudden Death".

Young Democrats Meet In Dalhart

Dalhart, Texas, May 18.—"The ad valorem tax system in Texas is a failure", declared Dallam County Judge Wilson Cowen today. There are many other moot topics such as the dust bowl, poll taxes, natural gas conservation in the Panhandle, local law enforcement, which should be discussed at the West Texas Young Democrats annual convention in Dalhart Saturday, May 29, because into the hands of these young democrats these issues are being rapidly given.

Continuing on the ad valorem tax system, Judge Cowen said, "It shows a high per cent delinquency; is unfair and in some cases discriminating in valuations between counties and between sections of the state, because each county and therefore each section has a different board of equalization, each of which figures valuations from a different basis.

"This brings on a host of problems. The older democrats as well as the young ones should take a hearty part in it as the coming convention in Dalhart. The tax situation is moving rapidly to a crisis.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin. — Speeding down the last mile toward adjournment of its regular session, set for Saturday, May 22, the regular session of the 45th legislature was prepared to devote most of its time to the appropriation bills, with some doubt existing as to whether all would be passed. That there would be no tax legislation appeared a certainty. But the need for a tax session later is revealed by a glance at the appropriation bills which have passed one house or the other already.

Here are the comparative figures or the 1935 biennium, and for the new two-year period starting next September. For education, $10,786,860 and approximately $15,000,000; for the judiciary, $3,898,255 and approximately $5,500,000; for the state departments, $13,134,422 and approximately $24,000,000; for eleemosynary institutions, $10,870,727 and approximately $14,000,000. This gives a total tentative increase for the new biennium of about $19,800,000. The increases probably will be reduced substantially in the conference committee this week, where the bills will be finally written, but with constitutional amendments already submitted calling for participation in additional features of the federal social security program to aid blind persons and dependent children this fall, there seems to be no other answer but to raise some $15,000,000 to $25,000,000 of additional revenue.

A veteran congressman once gave us his formula for remaining in office indefinitely, faithful following of the rule to "vote against all taxes and for all appropriations". Evidently a good many members of the 45th legislature went to that same school.

* * * *

About Special Session

Gov. Allred reiterated his determination at the week-end to call a special session on Monday, May 24, to which he will submit only race track gambling repeal, if no vote is had at the regular session, and a vote appeared very unlikely. The governor pointed out that it will take 90 days for the repeal to become effective, if it is adopted, and he would cut off the fall race meets at Texas tracks. Incidentally, he used the words "at the first called session" in referring to his plan, indicating quite clearly that he considers a extra session later as absolutely necessary.

The general impression here was that there will be no tax session until fall, because until the voters pass on the constitutional amendments in the fall, nobody knows how much revenue will be needed. Then, too, there is a strong probability that Gov. Allred will have been appointed to the federal bench by that time, and Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodul will have to shoulder the burden of persuading the recalcitrant legislature to raise some tax money. This undoubtedly will please the representatives of the special interests, who are "fed up" on Allred's efforts to tax them, and it probably will please the governor just as well, too, since he has struggled manfully but in vain to jam through tax legislation. The legislature itself is quite willing to go home for a while during the hot weather.

Senate Gets Going

The senate settled down and passed two measures this week which are calculated to improve conditions, without spending a large sum of tax money. The first of these was the tightened drivers' license law, requiring examination of new applicants and permitting suspension of licenses for driving offenses, the bill being changed but little from the house version, already adopted. It goes to conference for final ironing out.

The other was the tightened liquor control bill, granting greater authority to the liquor enforcement division to close up beer joints selling whiskey, and generally tightening restrictions. It will prevent violators operating under protection of court injunctions when they are caught violating the liquor laws. The senate refused to re-insert the provision killed in the house committee which would have prohibited "chain bottle shops" in Texas, in which beer shipped in bulk from other states is bottled and distributed in small bottling plants within Texas.

Ad Bill May Get Up

Sponsors of the $3,000,000 five-year state advertising constitutional amendment passed by the senate under sponsorship of Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodul, have the resolution in a strategic position on the house calendar, and probably will bring it up for another test before final adjournment. The bill would submit to the voters the proposition of authorizing Texas to advertise for tourist trade and industrial development, spending $600,000 a year for a five-year period on the project. It has the active support of the Texas Press Association and virtually all newspapers in the state. It narrowly missed defeat in the house on its first test, Speaker Bob Calvert saving it by breaking a tie vote. It will require 100 votes in the house to submit it, and the outcome is doubtful.

Notes

Louisiana will have an opportunity to join the oil states' compact in the near future, when Gov. Leche calls a special session and submits the proposal, members of the compact were told by the governor at the recent quarterly session, held in New Orleans. Enlistment of Louisiana will mark the greatest forward step in petroleum conservation since the compact was inaugurated in the opinion of Rail Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson, who is also compact chairman . . . Drys are still strong in the Texas senate, as was demonstrated when Sen. Clint Small of Amarillo beat down "liberal" amendments offered to the liquor control bill by Weaver Moore, of Houston, in one of the most entertaining floor battles of the session. Both senators are able debaters, keen parliamentarians and vigorous fighters, and Small won all the way . . . Sen. Allen Shivers jammed through his bill to reduce the legal working hours of women in Texas from 60 to 48 per week, with a maximum of 10 hours any day, and double pay for all over eight hours on any one day . . . The North and East Texas Press Association meeting at Paris, elected Freddie Massengill of the Terrell Tribune president, and adopted a resolution urging a unicameral legislature for Texas . . . Frank Adams, Austin newsman, has written, in collaboration with half a dozen other distinguished authorities, a "History of Texas Democracy" just published which reviewers are praising as a distinctive and accurate work . . . B. E. Quinn, veteran Beaumont legislator, was at liberty under $1000 bond, following the shooting to death of another guest at Quinn's Austin hotel, after a dispute that arose after Quinn complained guests in an adjoining room were disturbing his sleep.

Mrs. B. P. Brents of Childress is spending the week in the home of Mrs. Molly Gray and Mrs. M. E. Thornton.

Miss Dorothy Jo Taylor returned from Fort Worth, where she has been attending business college.

Mrs. Edgar Britton returned to her home in Ironton this week, after visiting with her mother, Mrs. O. L. Fink.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Pyle and son, Claude, spent Sunday in Newlin with relatives.

Gordon Williamson of Amarillo spent the week-end with his sister, Mrs. B. C. Antrobus.

ADMIRATION — TRIPLE-SEALED IN "CELLOPHANE"

IT'S THE Cellophane THAT MAKES The Difference

She had been avoiding coffee put up in paper bags. But a friend was so enthusiastic about Admiration—"In the 'CELLOPHANE' bags, you know" — that she tried it.

She found it just as fresh and good as the coffee in glass jars and vacuum-packed cans . . . . AND about 4c per pound less in price! Admiration's triple-sealed bags — inner wax lining, tough bond wrapper and moisture-proof outer jacket of Cellophane — plus fast truck delivery from roasting plant to your grocer, make Admiration in bags the ideal way to buy coffee. The thrifty housewife who demands full value for her money will appreciate the savings afforded by buying Admiration packed this way.

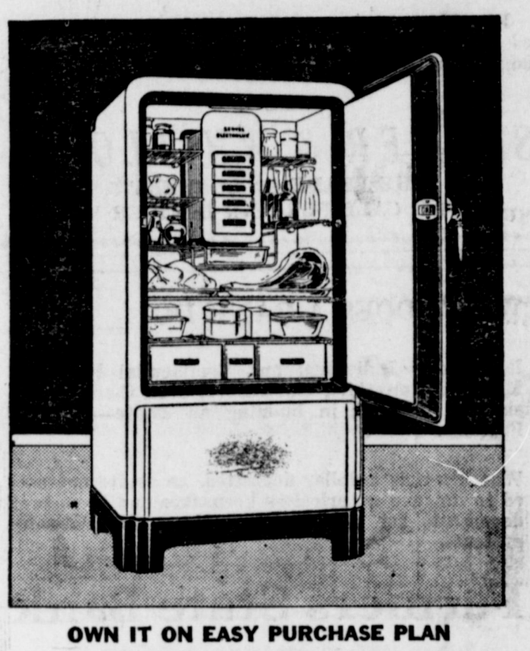

Admiration Coffee in bags comes in two grinds — Dripkut and Steel Cut — just as it does in vacuum-packed jars and slip-covered tin cans.

DONLEY COUNTY CHECKS HERE THIS WEEK FOR NEEDY AGED.

Austin, May 17.—To 125,868 needy aged had gone May 1 assistance checks totaling $1,746,260 this week following a 14-day delay caused by failure of a federal grant to reach Austin.

After 14 days of telephone and telegraph communications with Washington and conferences with the regional director of the Social Security Board, Acting Director W. A. Little, of the Texas Old Age Assistance Commission, made arrangements for release of the checks although the federal grant had not been received. The May warrants had been written and ready for mailing since before the first of the month, but were being delayed pending receipt of federal matching funds.

Successful culmination of the series of conferences was reached late Friday afternoon through cooperation of Oscar M. Powell, regional director of the national board. First checks went into the mails Friday night, and by Monday night all May warrants had been sent to the needy aged.

"We are fully aware of the suffering caused by the 14-day delay in sending this month's payments to the need old people of Texas, but it was unavoidable until the agreement had been reached with Mr. Powell," Little said.

Deficit Must Be Cleared For Soup

An astonishing deficit of nearly $75.00 is in the soup kitchen funds when operations closed this week. Committeemen Odos Caraway and Chas. Lowry, anxious that the soup kitchen be operated next year for the undernorished school children, are greatly alarmed by the lack of funds to close this year's books.

Unless funds are contributed this week to clear the deficit, it will be almost impossible to resume the vital project next year. Children who were unable to benefit from school due to weak, undernourished bodies, have literally gained pounds since the kitchen was put into operation several months ago.

It is the earnest plea of committeemen that everyone make a small contribution this week, and if possible contribute enough to leave a small balance to begin operation on when school re-opens in the fall.

Making contributions this week were McHenry Lane $2, Pathfinder Club $5;, Wm. Bourland Bros. $3.50; and J. C. Estlack $1.

Contributions may be turned to Odos Caraway, Chas. Lowry or The Clarendon News.
