POLITICAL GRAFT INQUIRY DUE TO START AGAIN

Nixon, Agnew Mum After Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid continuing rumors that Vice President Spiro T. Agnew may be considering resigning, he and President Nixon held a lengthy private meeting Thursday afternoon.

A White House spokesman said today that, "the President and the vice president both agreed there would be no report or discussion on the meeting."

Further, the spokesman said, the two agreed that "there would be no discussion or comment on the various rumors and stories based on unidentified sources." This referred to the continuing reports, including one from a high Republican source, that there was a likelihood of Agnew's resigning in the very near future.

The President and Agnew held their hour-long meeting in the Executive Office Building. Deputy White House Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said both had agreed "that no one on the White House staff or the vice president's staff was authorized to discuss this matter."

SURPRISE

It was the first substantive face-to-face meeting between the two since Sept. 1, when Nixon returned from a two-week stay in California and made a session with Agnew his first order of business in Washington.

Since then, they have met on three occasions, but White House spokesmen indicated they did not have a chance for any substantial discussion. These appearances together were at a Sept. 7 Cabinet meeting in the White House, at a reception with members of the Republican National Committee and state GOP chairmen three days later and again at Tuesday night's state dinner for the visiting prime minister of Pakistan.

The meeting between the two was not publicly announced by the White House and the information was obtained in response to a question that has been made repeatedly to the White House since the resignation rumors, asking whether Nixon had had any substantial talks with Agnew.

A spokesman for Agnew said the vice president had asked for the meeting but refused to say when. The Sept. 1 meeting also was said to have been at Agnew's request.

A spokesman for the vice president, refusing any substantive comment on the latest meeting, said he hoped the policy of silence "is not going to lead to direct speculations about the subject matter," apparently meaning the question of Agnew's possible resignation.

The surprise development came as Agnew's office was reporting overwhelming public support for him following the latest spate of reports that he might resign because of a political graft inquiry.

An account of the response in the past two days was given amid signs that the inquiry into alleged political kickbacks was moving again on the strength of a decision by Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson to submit data concerning Agnew to a grand jury.

Biggest Food Prices Jump Since 1933

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer prices jumped 1.8 per cent in August, the sharpest rate of increase in 26 years, the government reported today. The biggest one-month jump in food prices since 1933 was to blame.

The rise in over-all consumer prices was 1.8 per cent unadjusted and 1.9 per cent on a seasonally adjusted basis, both the highest since September 1947.

The Labor Department said surging prices for meats, poultry and eggs accounted for about 80 per cent of the steep rise in the Consumer Price Index last month.

Consumer food prices leaped a record 6 per cent in August, more than in any month since the 9.4 per cent increase in July 1933.

PRICE FREEZE

Government economicsts had predicted the disastrous price report for August following the record-breaking boost in wholesale prices recorded earlier following the removal of price restraints.

A price freeze that began June 13 ended for food on July 18 and for almost everything else on Aug. 12.

Food prices included in the index were collected between Aug. 7-9 and prices for other items were collected throughout the month, the government said.

Nonfood items jumped five-tenths of one per cent after seasonal adjustment, slightly above the average for recent months. The cost of services, soared seven-tenths of one per cent, the largest monthly rise in nearly three years, and was due primarily to increases in mortgage interest rates, the department said.

Dr. Turman Resigns

GATESVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Dr. James Turman, director of the Texas Youth Council, announced today he has resigned.

The Texas Youth Council is the state agency which operates Texas' reform schools.

Membership Drive Is Big Success

LAMESA — The Lamesa Chamber of Commerce membership drive had almost reached its quota in the first two days of a weeklong drive, according to Art Roberts, chamber manager.

Lula Wilson and Bill Smith were the leading membership team captains with Kalif Gorman and Stansill Clements dragging behind.

To end the drive, the losing teams will buy steaks for the winners while the losers eat beans. "And nowadays that's quite a difference," one chamber member stated.

8-Year-Old Tires Of Being Alone

Children were having their problems here Thursday. One eight year old youth called the police about mid-afternoon that he was alone and had been alone all day and was tired of it. The officers located an older brother and sister.

A four year old walked up to a strange woman's house in the late evening and she called the police. It turned out that he had escaped from a babysitter.

JUDGE STOPS AIR FORCE

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — A federal judge has stopped Air Force procedures, at least temporarily, to discharge a nurse because she is going to have a baby.

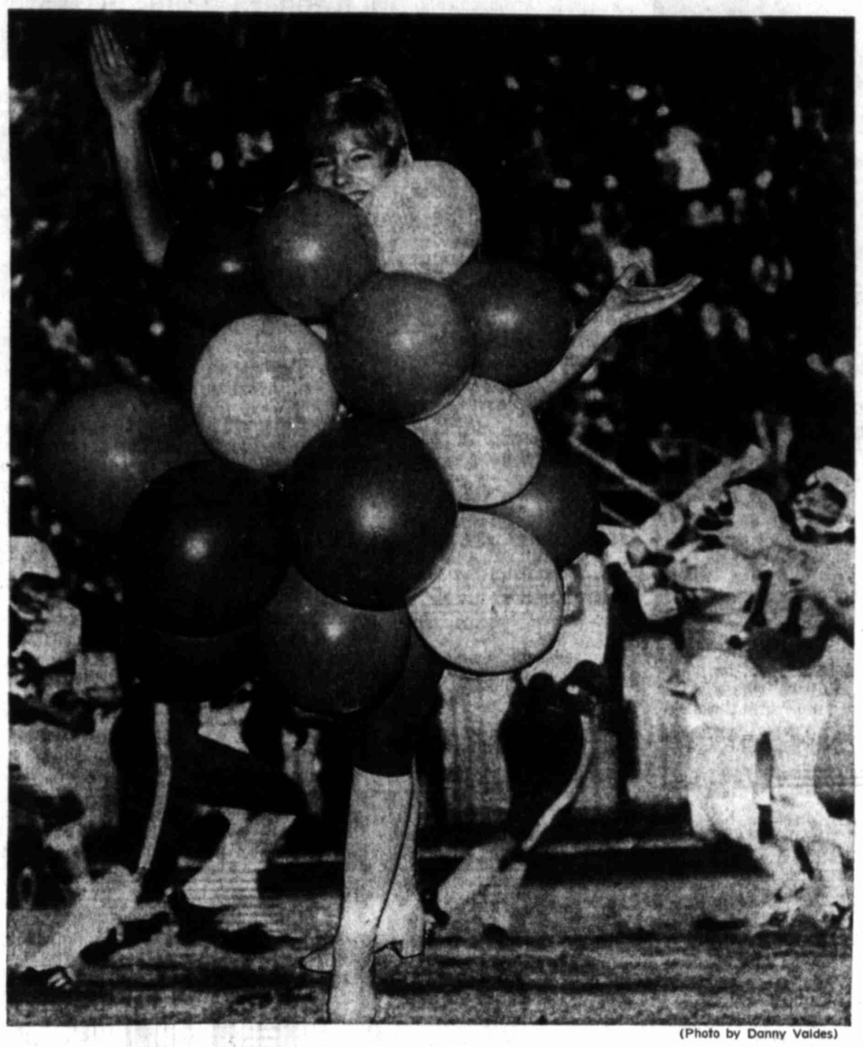

U.S. District Court Judge Halbert O. Woodward issued a temporary restraining order Thursday shortly after an attorney filed a petition on behalf of Lt. Sara E. Kennedy, 23.

Mrs. Kennedy expects her baby in about six weeks and claimed in her suit that her discharge is based solely on the fact she is a pregnant woman.

Authorities at Reese Air Force Base here refused comment.

Lt. Kennedy said the Air Force's action has nothing to do with the quality of her work and said she was available for duty anywhere in the world.

Her civilian husband, her petition stated, would be available to take care of the baby.

Food Stamp Plan Replaces Commodity Foods Program

The new statewide food stamp program will start operation November 1 in Howard County, Gary Garner, supervisor, State Department of Public Welfare, announced today.

"The statewide food stamp program will replace the commodity foods program currently operating in this county," Garner said. "The statewide program was made possible when the 1972 Texas Legislature appropriated $7.7 million for a state-administered, state-financed statewide food stamp program."

STATE HANDLES

The 120 families receiving surplus commodities in Howard County have been contacted about the conversion to food stamps. This week, the food stamp office began taking applications from those not receiving commodities but eligible for food stamps.

Howard County has been administering the food stamp program. The State Department of Public Welfare will administer the new program, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture will provide food stamps and bonus stamps.

JOBS ENDING

Mrs. Ruby Phillips, director of the county welfare association, said three part-time workers will loose their county jobs starting in November. These three surplus commodity employes work eight hours weekly.

Other work will remain for Mrs. Phillips and Miss Paula Bauer, secretary for the county welfare association and juvenile probation office.

The welfare association provides eligible poor persons with transportation to out-of-town hospitals, pays hospital bills, covers medication costs and supplies clothing in some instances for orphans and poor patients. Mrs. Phillips listed other duties including investigating prospective adopting parents and dependent and neglected cases filed in 118th District Court.

New workers with the Department of Public Welfare here are three interviewers and a secretary for the food stamp program. Interviewing will be Mrs. Paula Talbot, Mrs. Florine Oliver and Mrs. Esther Lopez. Mrs. Donna McGill is secretary.

A recent study of three rural food stamp communities showed that food stamps represented from five to ten per cent of total retail food sales, according to the department.

At the USDA Food and Nutrition Service office in Midland, applications from 15 stores, including convenience and grocery stores, had been received today. Also, Borden Inc. had obtained authorization to participate in the program.

HOW IT WORKS

Eligible households pay a set amount for food stamps and are given bonus stamps based on size of families and net income. Bonus stamps make up the difference between what a household can pay and what is necessary for a nutritious diet.

A sheet on deductions shows how a family with $400 in monthly income could deduct several items and end up with a $187 net food stamp income. (See Chart)

Households are certified eligible for food stamps at the food stamp office at 707 East Third St., Big Spring, Texas. Certified households will then receive authorization to purchase (ATP) cards in the mail which will tell them how many stamps they are eligible for and how much money, if any, they must pay for them.

The ATP card and the necessary cash are redeemable for food stamps at the local post office.

Participating grocers accept food stamps for the purchase of most foods and food products. Food stamps cannot be used to buy alcoholic beverages and tobacco.

Participation in the food stamp program is voluntary and does not prevent the household from receiving any other benefits for which the members might be eligible.

Certification for eligibility should begin September 24, 1973. For further information about the food stamp program, contact the food stamp office at 707 East Third St., or call 263-1358 for more information. It is important that you keep your appointment or call if you cannot.

Demos Try To Head Off Divisive Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the 1972 Democratic National Convention's Credentials Committee recommended today that quotas be retained in making up delegate slates.

Patricia Roberts Harris recommended to the party's reform commission that "all persons making or supporting slates of delegates to the Democratic National Convention be required to include women, minorities, and young people on their slates in reasonable relationship to those groups' population in the state."

This would retain at least a part of the controversial 1972 rules, which required mathematical quotas of women, youth and minorities in state delegations.

Mrs. Harris, a black attorney, also suggested that leading Democratic office holders — including members of Congress, governors and mayors of large cities — be made automatic convention delegates. Current rules prohibit this.

AUTOMATIC

Mrs. Harris also suggested that future delegate challenges at the conventions be handled by a credentials committee composed of "nondelegate law professors, practicing lawyers and retired judges of proven integrity and distinction."

Traditionally, credentials challenges have been handled by a committee composed of convention delegates and almost universally decided along political lines rather than on their merits.

Mrs. Harris placed in her slate-making recommendation the exception that final delegations need not have proportionate numbers of women and minorities so long as these groups were properly represented in the slates that went into making up the delegations.

NEW GUIDELINES

As the Commission on Delegate Selection and Party Structure opened its two-day meeting, labor and old guard strategists lost two test votes.

A proposal by textile workers union official William Du Chessi of New York which would have delayed the selection of a drafting committee failed by a 26 to 20 vote.

Like Pets? You'll Love Event At Fair Tonight

Grownups may have to take a back seat this evening as pets of all descriptions move into the arena of Rodeo Bowl at the Howard County Fair.

That doesn't mean adults can't enter their pets — but likely the majority will be in the hands of youngsters. There's virtually no limit to the type of pets which will be paraded — dogs to gold fishes, turtles to cats. Chairman is Bruce Wright, and the time is 8 p.m. There's no charge in addition to the Fair admission. There's no entry fee, either.

LAST DAY LOOMS

The Fair rolled Friday into its next to last day, continuing to eclipse all predictions for response. An estimated 2,500 to 3,000 people witnessed the tractor pull, the first such event ever staged here. Huge plumes of smoke belched from exhaust stacks, and sometime spears of blue flame, as farmers "reved" motors to handle progressively increasing weight loads on the pull sled. One tractor, growling down the track, "cratered" as it had mechanical failure. Dickie Shortes, Ronnie Culp, Bob Howard and Stan Blagraves captured first places, said M. A. Snell, chairman.

Meanwhile, in the livestock arena, Jodie Yates, Martin County, 4-H, was showing the grand champion steer which previously had topped the British breed class. Linda Hancock, Midland FFA, captured reserve champion, which also won the exotic and crossbred class.

Grand champion heifer was shown by Kevin Newmann, Martin County 4-H, and the reserve by Kent Robinson, Howard County 4-H.

Class winners in the steer division were Jodie Yates, champion; Scott Robinson, Howard County 4-H, reserve; exotic-crossbred — Linda Hancock, champion; Darla Holcomb, Martin 4-H, reserve.

HORSES TAKE OVER

Saturday brings up the area horse show in the rodeo arena, starting with registration at 8 a.m. The halter classes both for registered and non registered classes in adult and youth divisions will be judged in the morning; the performance classes begin at 1 p.m. At that time too, officials and others from surrounding counties, will be recognized, said J. Arnold Marshall, special events chairman. The horse show is in charge of Skipper Driver.

Poetry in motion will be spotlighted at 8 p.m. Saturday when the cutting horse contest is held. Several of the outstanding cutting horses in the area are due to perform.

The cutting horse contest gets its name from the function of the horse — to "cut" or separate specific calves from a herd. The horse performs by instinct and by subtle pressure of the riders.

The Midway of the Fair is geared to handle an anticipated throng after the football game this evening, and all day and evening Saturday.

The entire show will come to a halt Saturday night shortly before midnight. Fair grounds will be open Sunday, and again Monday, for exhibitors to remove their materials.

Johnnie Walker, president, Buddy Barr, vice president and general superintendent, and Gerald Miller, vice president, who have a leading hand in the first Fair here in a score of years, expressed gratitude to the public for support. Around 5,000 to 6,000 were estimated to have been on the grounds and in the stands during Thursday evening.

The World At-A-Glance

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — If it measures up to expectations, the 1973 Kohoutek comet will far outshine the famous Halley's comet of 1910. Astronomers at the Fernbank Science Center here and scientists at observatories around the world are preparing to study the rare phenomenon, which may be bright enough to be seen in daylight. The Kohoutek comet, named after the West German astronomer who discovered it, will appear late in November and remain visible to the naked eye until mid-February.

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers says it's confident its striking Chrysler membership will give "lopsided" approval over the weekend to the proposed contract. Ratification votes in all 69 Chrysler UAW locals are scheduled to be completed by Sunday, in time for word to trickle down to 127,500 Chrysler workers in the U.S. Most of the locals are due to vote over the weekend, with three tallies set for Friday, the UAW said.

DENVER A(AP) — "If they put them all together I wouldn't know which was which, except for Catherine," says the mother of the Stanek sextuplets, Catherine is the lone girl among the five survivors. Edna Stanek, 34, said in her first meeting with newsmen Thursday she hasn't been able to tell her newborns apart yet, but she's beginning to notice differences among the five surviving infants.

John and Jeffrey were in good condition Thursday night. Steven, Nathan and Catherine were in satisfactory condition and using respirators to help them breathe, according to Dr. James Strain, a pediatrician at Colorado General Hospital.

Green Light For Kissinger

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today approved Henry A. Kissinger as secretary of state to succeed William P. Rogers.

Kissinger will retain his White House position as the President's assistant for national security affairs.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, led the drive to approve President Nixon's nomination.

Within moments after the confirmation vote, the White House announced Kissinger would be sworn in at an 11 a.m. EDT ceremony Saturday in the White House East Room with Chief Justice Warren Burger presiding.

Dr. James Boren Chamber Speaker

LAMESA — In a town that has always had a fall Chamber of Commerce banquet, the Lamesa chamber this year moved it up about three weeks earlier than usual and will hold the event on Oct. 25.

Dr. James Boren, humorist, will serve as the speaker. Author of the book "When in Doubt, Mumble" he has appeared several times on the Dick Cavett Show and claims to have founded the National Association of Professional Bureaucrats.

Caton Takes On Added Duties

The Howard County Juvenile Board appointed District Judge R. W. Caton as juvenile judge in Howard County, when they met Thursday in the courthouse.

New statutes which went into effect Sept. 1 require that a juvenile judge be an attorney.

The board also officially approved both the county and city jails as official juvenile jails here.

City Manager Harry Nagel offered a resolution expressing appreciation to County Judge A. G. Mitchell for his service as juvenile judge in the past.

'HORSES' IN A HORSE ARENA — The many tractors lined up here for the tractor pull at the Howard County Fair Thursday represent a lot of horsepower, so what could be more appropriate than the fact that the competition was held in the Rodeo Bowl, where prize horse flesh usually participates? VA Patients Encouraged By Success At HC Fair

When the announcement came over the microphone at the Veterans Administration Hospital that their booth at the fair had won top honors, the patients in the recreation area especially cheered.

Very few of them could get out to the fair but they sent the items they made at the hospital for display and it is an outstanding exhibit.

Everything in the booth is handmade and includes a selection of woven Ojo-de-Dios, which is Spanish for Eye of God.

FOR GOOD LUCK

The weavings are supposed to center around a prayer in different symbolic collars to the All-Seeing God for good health, fortune, good crops or prosperity.

Center of the exhibit is a handmade medieval cross. There are also string pot holders, a doll house, a rug, wood carvings, a miniature ship, a ship made from string, and numerous hand strung beads.

Part of the beads are made from colored pages of magazines, rolled around a toothpick and dipped into lacquer.

The lower portion of the exhibit features a miniature farm scene with an outstanding handmade windmill. The exhibit is sponsored by Cosden Refinery. The work was all done by patients, according to Russ Hoover, chief of the recreation section of the hospital.

None of the items are for sale but all are simply being displayed to show the type of items that patients at the hospital are able to make for themselves or their families.

Many of the patients use items which they make for gifts to their families at Christmas.

The sweepstakes ribbon in the middle of the booth is for outstanding non-commercial fair booth.

Planter Boxes Help Downtown

Last year, they had planting areas bricked in on the corners of the square and planted daffodils and tulips and also added wrought iron benches to the courthouse lawn.

Rights Group Wins Point In Attack On Textbook

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Representatives of a women's rights group have won an admission by a publisher's spokesman that junior high math textbooks have an "imbalance" favoring males over females.

Lod Goza, manager of D. C. Heath and Co.'s southwest region, made the concession Thursday at textbooks hearings that are expected to continue into next week.

Dr. Bea Vogel of the Continuing Task Force in Education for Women listed dozens of references in the textbooks to girls portrayed in what she called stereotyped, relative passive female roles, while boys generally were shown in active roles.

"Dr. Vogel, you have made us aware that there is an imbalance in the roles of men and women, boys and girls," Goza said.

The hearings are being conducted by State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar. The State Textbook Committee will hold similar hearings Oct. 9, and the State Board of Education will make the final decision Nov. 10 on which textbooks to adopt.

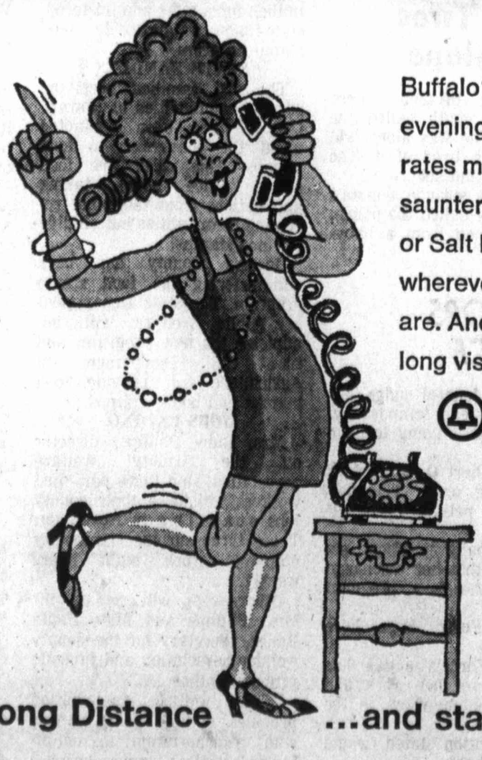

On one page, a young man and a young woman are doing pullups, Dr. Vogel said. The young man is doing more. "We want to know why they can't be doing the same number," she said.

For the sentence, "Write your senator or congressman," she suggested "congress person, representative or legislator probably would be a better word."

Carr Seeks Nixon Tapes

DALLAS (AP) — Former Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, who asked for subpoenas Thursday for White House tapes of a 1971 meeting of President Nixon with former U.S. Atty. Gen. John Mitchell and Sen. John Tower, indicated he would file further motions in federal court here today.

Carr, who contends his prosecution in the Texas stock fraud case was all part of a plan made in Washington to discredit state Democratic leaders, wants release of all tapes of discussions relating to the prosecution of Frank W. Sharp.

STOCK SCANDAL

Sharp, a Houston financier, was at the center of the 1971 stock scandal. He was granted immunity from further prosecution in return for his testimony for the government.

U.S. District Court Judge William M. Taylor Jr. has given the government lawyers until next Friday to reply to the various motions and subpoena requests made by Carr, former state insurance commissioner John Osorio, and others.

A pre-trial hearing, at which Carr will seek to prove that there was political influence behind his prosecution, is scheduled for Oct. 2.

Among those subpoenaed to appear as witnesses are Mitchell, former Asst. U.S. Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, former FBI director L. Patrick Gray, and Sen. Tower.

Because he wanted to leave on vacation abroad, Wilson was permitted to testify Thursday.

Wilson, who formerly was Sharp's lawyer, insisted that he knew nothing about the handling of Carr's indictment at the Justice Department. Wilson said he disqualified himself as soon as the case came up because of his former association with Sharp and because Carr was an old political opponent.

SYMPATHETIC

Wilson said President Nixon was at first sympathetic to his position when under public attack, but later reversed himself and suggested through Mitchell it would be better for Wilson to resign.

According to Wilson, it was former Atty. Gen. Richard Kleindienst who granted Sharp immunity, although Henry Petersen, Wilson's deputy in the Justice Department's criminal division, had advised against it.

Wilson agreed that he had told L. Patrick Gray, at the time head of the department's civil division, to be "conservative in his approach" to seeking indictments of Carr and the others because of the background of the whole affair.

Waste Through Haste

Gov. Dolph Briscoe and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby deserve the taxpayers' thanks. They refused to sign a purchase order for a new $850,000 electronic voting machine for the House until some questions are answered.

Similar action is needed on plans to buy chairs and desks to seat the Legislature when it sits as a Constitutional Convention beginning in January.

Both spending plans indicate at least some legislators have forgotten they are spending public money and are thus accountable for it.

The Texas House does need a new voting system. The present one was installed in 1940 and is unrelabile, breaking down and misrecording votes.

Whether the $850,000 system sought by the House Administration is the right one is open to question. Some bidders were eliminated because it was claimed the system was needed by Jan. 8 for the Constitutional Convention. This has been denied by the planning committee for the convention.

Further, the State Auditors Office criticized the bidding procedures and said the Control Data System would not meet House expectations and would cost much more than the $850,000 bid. Briscoe and Hobby were right to refuse to sign the contract and call for an attorney general's ruling on the contract.

The planning committee for the Constitutional Convention, while correct on the voting system, has some strange plans for seating the 181 legislators.

Instead of simply brining in an extra 31 desks and chairs for senators to use in the House chamber, a grotesque plan has been readied.

Here's how it goes: All desks and chairs in the House will be removed for refurbishing. New desks and chairs will be bought for all 181 legislators sitting in the convention.

As it now stands, each chair will be bought for $165. Each desk bought from the Texas prison system, will cost $22.50. That is $187.50 per dozen for a total of $33,937.50. That, fellow citizens, is just for seating. And the chairs reportedly are oddly shaped and uncomfortable. The desks are $22.50 desks.

Plans to recoup the costs of the desks and chairs are strange: The committee hopes to sell them for historical "souvenirs." The demand may be small.

We repeat: Why not simply bring in desks and chairs from the Senate and avoid all the expense and fuss? The planning committee, made up of House and Senate members, is being just as irresponsible as the committee which tried to rush through the high-priced voting system.

Vote Of Confidence

How about a vote of confidence for the Big Spring Steers, who return to their home corral this evening to meet a long-time rival, the Snyder Tigers.

In two previous games, the Steers have played good ball, considering their lack of experience, and have lost by a touchdown. There's no assurance they can break into the win column tonight, because Snyder — down on its luck for several years, has its best team in many seasons, maybe better than either of the teams the Steers have met so far.

But when Big Spring and Snyder play, the records go out the window. So fans can be assured of a full evening's entertainment. Being on hand to lend your voice of encouragement would be one way to give the Steers that little nudge to turn the corner.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

Dr. Graham can you cite a Bible text to substantiate the immortality of the soul? I went through an entire concordance and I could not find one passage saying the soul is immortal. R.R.H.

Man was given a nature like God's (Genesis 1:27) because of the great purpose for his life — which was fellowship with his Maker. Death seems to interfere with that purpose but actually it doesn't. Man was not made for mortality. The deathlessness of the soul is demanded by that original purpose.

The Bible shows that God's people came only slowly to realize this truth, and also the later companion truth — the resurrection of the body. You see, the sort of immortality the Bible contemplates is one of the whole person, body and soul together.

In the Old Testmanent, the resurrection is evident in the outburst of Job (19:25-27). and in many of the Pslams (Psalm 17 and 49).

Certainly, immortality becomes the recurrent joyful theme of the New Testament. Paul declares in 2 Timothy 1. "Our Savior, Jesus Christ who . . . brought life and immortality to light through the gospel."

The Bible shows immortality not as some bare abstraction, but an endless existence either for glory or for judgment. For the believer it means a state of blessedness as the result of renewal by God's Spirit.

Immortality is a subject that, frankly, we don't think enough about. Paul says it is of such importance (Philippians 3) that it is the supreme prize after which all of us ought to strive.

Road To Chihuahua

Around The Rim

John Edwards

It cost $3.80 U.S. to ride the bus from El Paso to Chihuahua, a distance of 233 miles. When I made the trip in August, the only other English-speaking person on board was a young man from Tokyo, who spoke Spanish better than I did, which is saying little.

He was studying at a business school in El Paso, having lived in the States about three years. He planned to vacation a week at Chihuahua.

A MEXICAN customs official at Juarez opened my baggage a crack, saw it contained a mess and slammed it shut. Finally, a bus station official took the luggage, and I boarded.

The Japanese and I sat in two front seats behind the driver. Our stewardess sat on a wooden stool by the driver. Behind us were a couple of pretty girls who sang softly and giggled.

We were casually rolling down the highway not unlike state highways north of El Paso in the barren desert mountains.

The highway stretched through a series of large flat valleys ringed by mountains.

Our bus driver pointed out a snake on the road and swerved across the highway to flatten the serpent.

SOME DISTANCE from Juarez in the middle of this openness, the driver pulled over, stopped and got out. Soon, a truck and another Greyhound bus stopped to assist.

I saw drivers and stewardesses gathered by the rear axle, where our driver and another had feet sticking out.

After about 30 minutes, our young wirey-haired driver returned in a grease marked undershirt, and we rolled again.

In the middle of nowhere, Mexican men were walking along the highway. A hopeless North American sat in his stalled or gasoline-less auto. Under a clump of trees, a truck driver reclined, reading a magazine.

Other truck drivers were gathered at primitive, stucco truck stops with bright-colored advertisements peeling. Corrals or pens of some sort were behind the truck stop cafes.

WHAT LOOKED like an oil well appeared to be pumping water at a ranch house complex. Yellow flowers covered the expansive flat land surrounding mountains. A railway crosses pavement.

At some small village, we stopped and bought carbonated drinks. Many of the passengers ate tacos and other snacks.

By one expansive pasture, a man leaned against an adobe hut watching his children play in the shade. Another man was walking home next door with a string of horses.

Emptiness filled the space before the next ranch complex of small houses. And a covered wagon awaited use.

As we proceeded south, it drew cooler. The bus was not air conditioned. I noticed my eyes felt dry and my lips chapped. Ranch land got better, the grass greened up and trees broke the landscape as the sun dropped closer to the west.

Horses, donkeys and cattle seemed as numerous as rural people living along the highway.

At the town of California, small trees stood in orchard rows.

Next, to the right, a rustic ranch house was set in lush green scenery not unlike New Mexico.

Chihuahua was near when the bus climbed into the green cool foothills before sunset. Piled-up stones formed fences. A boy and his girl sat close in a parked late-model car by one rock corral.

We topped a hill. The modern skyline of Chihuahua, home of Pancho Villa, was clustered in front of more mountains.

Punctured Balloon

WASHINGTON — Domestic suggestion last week that President Nixon might yet propose a tax increase has backfired, even though its intent was not truly to change tax policy but to achieve the side effect of appeasing Dr. Arthur Burns.

AS VIEWED both on Capitol Hill and in the administration, Laird's main purpose was to cool the wrath of Dr. Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, and at the same time promote his own concept of "open government." Whether those purposes were achieved is doubtful. But the cost was indisputably high: an image of continued confusion in economic policymaking by President Nixon and a decline in Laird's massive prestige.

Worst of all, the immediate crash of what was wrongly interpreted as Laird's trial balloon had one wholly unintended effect; it underlined the fact that the Nixon team today has no new plans to confront coming economic adversity.

THE GENESIS of Laird's caper was the President's blunt remarks on tax policy at his Sept. 5 press conference. His slam of the door against any tax legislation this year irritated tax increase advocates — especially Dr. Burns. Nor did Mr. Nixon endear himself to Burns when he used the word "gimmick" to describe Burns's idea of giving the President authority to raise or lower toxes.

The White House is in perpetual terror of a potentially uncooperative Burns regulating the money supply at the nation's central bank. Mr. Nixon told aides he regretted using the word "gimmick" and wanted to make amends. The solution was cooked up between the President, Laird and Alexander M. Haig Jr., White House chief of staff. Laird would take Burns off the hook by declaring his plans were under active consideration.

LAIRD HAS not kept secret that he personally disagrees with Mr. Nixon's opposition to higher taxes. Thus he grabbed the chance to promote his views even if not in precisely the form suggested by Burns or in the immediate future. Laird has been pressing hard to transform the White House into a place where senior aides openly advocate positions that may be ultimately rejected.

But Laird's press conference went beyond this. He seemed to suggest an actual administration policy switch.

Provincialism

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — In his new relationship with Congress, President Nixon not only has the upper hand, but his hand is being constantly strengthened by the crises for which he and Congress can share the blame.

CONGRESS HAS always been a hesitant coalition of parochial concerns and the President the premier lobbyist for national issues. What's happening now is that local and regional issues are becoming national ones and the chips of clout and authority pile up on the President's side of the poker table.

The "energy crisis," for instance, is no stranger to New England where independent oil distributors have always been at the end of the supply line. Now the line itself is at issue and oil seems short even where it is plentiful.

MASS TRANSIT was once an arcane issue for the eastern megalopolis between Boston and Washington, with Eastern congressmen being clobbered by their highway-loving brothers. But now, even Los Angeles is seeking fewer highways and more mass transit; every suburb can boast of a traffic jam to rival Manhattan's.

"Street crime" has also moved to the suburbs and President Nixon addressed delegates to a conference on that subject here in the East Room of the White House Tuesday. Crime is no longer an urban, blue-collar concern.

ON ALL OF these issues, the President commands the bully pulpit of publicity, which his aides and he know how to exploit with cheerful abandon.

What the President in his Sept. 5 press conference called a "second State of the Union message" was actually his fifth this year, since he divided others into subject matter. And the fifth one was delivered at least three times.

NEITHER A Sunday afternoon radio broadcast nor a longer written statement Monday added such to Congressional or public knowledge of the President's legislative goals. Even the rhetoric echoed what he said in his press conference. But both received major news coverage from the allegedly hostile media.

In contrast to double-feature media events - from the White House, Congress plods along as it should, deliberatively and parochially. Of the 535 Congressmen, no more than a dozen spend their days focusing on "the national interest."

Rather, it is the district's interest or the state's or even the committee member's jurisdiction that is most important.

"What bill are we voting on?" a rural-state senator asked an aide on the floor during a vote last week. "Urban mass transit, Senator," came the reply.

THE SENATOR knew all he needed to know on the subject and shouted a stentorian "No" at the tally clerk.

Maybe that process will change, but it hasn't yet. The Congress hasn't caught up to national problems and neither has the President. But no one can ever call the President parochial.

NEW YORK (AP) — Excerpts from letters we'd like to get but the postman rarely brings:

"We are lawyers representing the late Miss Hortense McWherry, whom you probably remember as the lovely red-haired girl who jilted you in high school. Later she came to regret bitterly the shabby way she had treated you, and often said it was the biggest mistake of her lifetime, because she could never hope to attract another man as fine as you.

Nonsense, old man. You were the life of the party. It would have laid a great big ostrich egg except for the fun you provided. All the guests were crazy about you.

Don't worry about the floor lamp. It has been broken at least five times before, and anyway Marge and I only paid $6.75 for it when we bought it at a rummage sale back in 1949.

Incidentally, we want you and your wife back at a party we're having a week from next Friday. Bring your bongo drums again, I'll get out my mandolin, and we'll show the gang some real foot-stomping music.

Medicare Disclosures

John Cunniff

By FRANK CAREY
(Substituting for John Cunniff)

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government says millions of Medicare patients are paying more of their own money for medical expenses than they were six years ago before Medicare.

The government's own figures show that the average out-of-pocket payment for Americans aged 65 and over has grown from $234 in fiscal 1966, the year before Medicare began, to $276 for fiscal 1972, the latest year for which complete statistics are available.

NIXON administration officials are reported to be concerned about the situation. In fact, an off-the-cuff statement July 18 by Health and Welfare Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger helped bring the figures to attention.

The disclosure comes at a time when the Nixon administration is under fire from Democratic critics for proposing that $1 billion a year in federal Medicare costs be shifted to the beneficiaries.

For example, a hospitalized Medicare patient now pays a national average charge for the first day, then is fully covered for 60 days.

The administration wants to continue the first day charge, then impose a 10 per cent share of daily charges on the patient after the first day. The administration argues that this increased cost-sharing would tend to discourage "over-utilization" of health facilities by patients and their doctors.

THE NEW figures on out-of-pocket payments by Medicare patients are contained in a recent Social Security Administration report.

Nixon administration health officials say "spiraling medical care prices" as well as what is termed increased use of hospital and doctors; services, and improvements in the quality of care, are responsible for the increased out-of-pocket costs.

An example of "spiraling medical care costs" provided by the Social Security Administration showed that expenses per patient day in community hospitals "rose from $70.13 in 1969 to $102.73 in 1972." But, a Social Security official said that the $276 figure for 1972 — and for all years from 1966 — was in terms of the dollar value for that year.

Treating Lost 'Smell'

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I had the flu six years ago and have never regained my sense of taste. I can't detect odors, either. Once I did not detect smoke, and another time that gasoline was leaking into the cab of my truck.

You have mentioned the use of a zinc preparation several times, but I hage been unable to get information on it, and pharmacists are puzzled as to what the preparation might be. How can I get some to try? — A.R.J.

When you can't semll things, you lose much of your sense of taste along with it. In recent years we've noted that flu sometimes destroys sense of smell. Sometimes it returns by itself, sometimes not. Of course there are other conditions (such as Sjogren's disease) which can damage the mucous membranes and impair sense of smell.

As to the zinc, this isn't a cure-all, but it is a drug worth trying since I don't know of anything else that can help.

There have been references to it in the last three years in the Journal of the American Medical Association which your doctor can look up if he needs to.

I have found pharmacists reluctant to make up zinc prescriptions because the use of zinc is not very common, but they know that it can be quite irritating to the stoamch.

It is used in the form of zinc sulphate in doses of 220 mg. four times a day. It does not come as a prepared medication but has to be made up by the pharmacist. Don't try to experiment with it by yourself because one must beware of irritation from it. In any event, you will need a prescription to get it.

* * *

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I recently received "How to Handle Angina Pectoris," and wish to thank you for such a helpful booklet. It has helped me a lot. It has given me information I did not know, and it is just what I wanted to know. — J.R.P.

And thank you, sir. As busy as most physicians are these days, they just don't have the time to explain all the details some patients want to know. If they did all the explaining they'd like to do, it would cut in half the number of patients they could care for.

So that's the basic idea behind most of the booklets I mention in the column.

The angina booklet is one of the newer ones, and is available by mail for 25 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

I don't believe I've ever mentioned this in print before, but for quite a long time now some physicians have been handing my booklets to their patients for that same purpose — to provide patients with what they want to know and ought to know about their conditions.

Oldest Drug Abuse Data

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — About 4.5 million Americans currently employed in business, industry and government have problems with alcohol, Arthur D. Little, Inc., reports. The resulting cost in absenteeism, sick pay, high accident rates, low productivity and poor executive decisions is an estimated $8 billion annually, or $32 million each working day.

The research company adds that alcoholism is the oldest and still the most prevalent form of drug abuse among U.S. workers.

Need A Line

Jean Adams

TEEN FORUM

LOVE WORDS: (Q.) I don't have any special love words to say to girls. I need a line to say to girls I like. I'm 15 so the words must be for young ladies, not any corny kid stuff. — Tongue-Tied in Texas.

(A.) There is no special "line" that fits every girl. Nothing is worse than a phrase or sentence that has been polished and memorized for spouting to just any girl.

Any decent girl will be offended if she finds out or suspects that this weekend you are using the same line on her that you used on some other girl last weekend.

The best way to tell a girl you like her or love her is to say just that. But do not say it unless you mean it. Do not say anything just to win points with her.

Do not be a robot. Be natural. The girls you know are all diff ent. Talk to each as HERSELF — not as something built on an assembly line.

* * *

PIZZA: (Q.) My very dear friend is horribly overweight. She weighs 170 I weigh 90. We are both 13. I feel terrible because boys are always talking to me and they never pay her any attention.

Yesterday she had pizza for lunch and again at night. Also ice cream. She always says "I will start Monday." But she never does.

Should I stay out of this? If I do I will feel like I am betraying her. — Fat-so's Friend in Maine.

(A.) Pizza is good. But not twice a day. And a girl who gains weight easily should be very careful with it. Ditto ice cream — and ANY calorie-rich food.

Encourage your friend to get an appointment with her doctor and ask him for a stringent diet. Go with her to the doctor. Then encourage her, day by day, to STAY on the diet and to go back to the doctor for regular checkups.

When she loses the 40 or 50 pounds she needs to lose, encourage her to stay on a diet that will hold that line. you can do it, and in doing so you will be a real friend — one who cares.

Rehab Center Gets $14,500 From Drive

One of the various agencies supported by the United Way, the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center is a non-profit health organization to help the physically handicapped of Big Spring and the surrounding area.

The center will operate next year on a $120,000 budget, $14,500 of which will come from the United Way drive now in progress.

Patients who are able to pay are asked to do so, but those who cannot, approximately 45 per cent of all the center's patients, are treated free. Operations of the center depend solely on donations.

Among services provided by the center and its 13 staff members are physical therapy, speech therapy and vocational rehabilitation. The center operates a quarterly orthopedic clinic and helps diagnose and treat hearing disorders and learning disabilities.

There's Good, Bad News For Watergate Viewers

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP TV Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There's good news today for Watergate buffs. The three networks say they'll again take turns providing live TV coverage of the Senate Watergate hearings, which resume Monday.

But there's bad news for daytime Watergate viewers. The networks say they'll only cover the hearings live next week. And there won't be any live coverage of the hearings on public TV at all this time.

There'll only be three days of hearings next week — Monday through Wednesday — and it'll be a pattern generally followed until Nov. 1, when this round of testimony is scheduled to end.

END OF ERA

Under a plan agreed on by the networks this week, ABC provides live coverage of Monday's session, NBC takes over on Tuesday and CBS has the duty on Wednesday. Each network has the option of carrying the hearings live any day it isn't scheduled to do so.

The networks say they'll "terminate their experimental (rotation) system" after Wednesday's session, although network spokesmen say this doesn't necessarily mean the end of a revolving era.

They say continued rotation coverage in future weeks is possible, but that it'll require a new agreement among the networks. However, no negotiations to that end are planned right now.

The networks adopted the rotational plan last June 5 to lessen the uproar from viewers deprived of game shows and soap operas and to reduce the loss of advertising dollars as the hearings wore on.

They don't say how much the loss came to for the first 37 days of televised testimony, but Broadcasting magazine, a leading trade publication, estimates it at between $7 million to $10 million.

PREPARATIONS are under way for a gathering of Spanish speaking Jehovah's Witnesses on Oct. 13, 14 in Lamesa, according to Ismael Sanchez, presiding minister of the local congregation. The two day assembly which is sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York, will be held in the Lamesa High School.

Sanchez said the purpose for the assembly is to give Bible instruction to the witnesses and others attending, on Christian principles and on the application of these in their every day lives.

The highlight of the assembly will be the public discourse on Sunday afternoon, "Act Wisely as the End Draws Near" by D. G. Van Ike special representative of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York. Over 900 people are expected to hear this discourse. R. G. McCorkel supervisor of the 22 congregations that will be represented in Lamesa will also be present.

MISSIONARY AND MRS. LEMY L. PIKE of the Mescalero Indian Reservation, Mescalero, New Mexico, will speak at both services, 9:45 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 23, at Evangel Temple Assembly of God, 2205 Goliad, Big Spring.

Veteran missionaries to the Mescalero Apache Indians. Mr. and Mrs. Pike pioneered the Indian work at Dulce, New Mexico and built the first church there.

"There are more than 600,000 Indians in the United States today and they are no longer considered the vanishing American," commented the Rev. Pike.

The Pikes are affiliated with the West Texas District, Assemblies of God, with headquarters in Lubbock. They pastored several churches in West Texas before turning to home missionary work among the Mescalero Apaches.

"Great patience is needed to work among the fine Indian people," commented Pastor Calvin, Evangel Temple pastor. "One must seek to understand their culture, just as the foreign missionary must do," he said.

The Pikes will be the first home missionaries to speak at Evangel Temple this year. Slides, curios and the missionary call to the Indian will be presented.

"We invite everyone; with real Christian warmth and enthusiasm," said Pastor Calvin.

Big Spring Baptists In Association Eyes Missions

Baptists of the Big Spring Association will have a strikingly different approach to telling the missions story here Monday when a "missions fair" will be held.

The site is the First Baptist Church, and the time is 5 p.m. to 9 p.m.

The foyer and flanking hallways around the sanctuary will be lined with various booths depicting different phases of the mission program of the Baptist General Convention of Texas and Southern Baptist Convention.

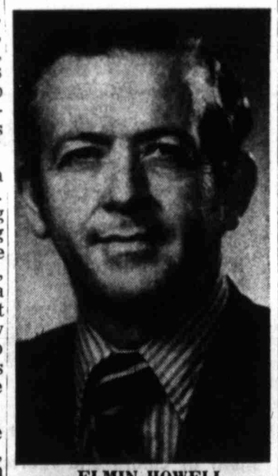

Churches of the association are arranging for different booths, said Sam Robertson, chairman. Among those are booths on the evangalism division, human welfare commission, Buckner Baptist Benevolence, Rio Grand River Ministry, Texas Baptist Men, Sunday School Division, Christian Live Commission, Home Mission Board Missions Support section, stewardship division, and the church extension section of the missions division.

The host church will serve a light suppr from 5 p.m.-7 p.m. for visitors. During the evening there will be a continuing program by choirs from the First Baptist, College Baptist, Crestview Baptist, Berea Baptist, Hillcrest Baptist, East Fourth Baptist and Prairie View Baptist churches, in addition to informal concerts by choirs from Wayland Baptist College and Howard Payne College.

Featured speakers during the evening will be Elmin Howell, who gave up a career in coaching for the ministry, and Mrs. J. C. Whitaker, Midland, a member of the Southern Baptist Missions Board.

Howell has been director of the Texas Baptist commission on River Ministry, coordinating work along the 889 miles of the Rio Grande. He attended Hardin-Simmons University and took his masters at George Peabody. After several years as a coach, he went into church work, being associated with the First Baptist churches in Beaumont and then in Shreveport, La. His wife is the former Betty Kelton, Andrews.

Mrs. Whitaker, a graduate of Baylor School of Nursing, has been active in the Texas River Ministry program with her husband, Dr. J. C. Whitaker. She teaches a Sunday school class and sings in the choir, in addition to homemaking and serving on the SBC commission and on its evangelism committee.

Pension Standards

WASHINGTON (AP) — The pension reform bill passed unanimously by the Senate would require all private plans to meet these minimum standards:

ELIGIBILITY — All employes would have to be admitted when they reach age 30 and have one year of service in a company.

VESTING — An employe would be guaranteed 25 per cent vesting after five years of service, 5 per cent for each additional year for the next five years and 10 per cent additional for each of the next five years.

A plan could not require retirement later than age 65 and would have to offer survivor benefits to widows equal to 50 per cent of the husband's payment.

An employer would have to notify the Internal Revenue Service of the vested rights of an individual when he left his job. When the person applied for Social Security benefits upon retirement, the government would have to advise him of his private pension rights.

FUNDING — Employers would be required to put sufficient amounts into pension funds to meet pension liabilities incurred each year.

PORTABILITY — An employe who changed jobs could have his pension rights transferred to his new employer or his credits could be transferred to a new government corporation which would establish separate accounts for individual workers. This program would be voluntary with employers and workers.

PLAN TERMINATION INSURANCE — A separate corporation would be set up in the Labor Department to administer this, financed by a $1 per plan participant tax levied on employers.

The corporation would pay benefits when a company went out of business and its pension fund lacked sufficient assets or a fund could not meet its obligations for some other reason.

TAX INCENTIVES — Doctors, lawyers and other self-employed persons could put up to $7,500 a year in tax-exempt money into pension plans. Present limits are $2,500 a year up to 10 per cent of income.

Those employes not in private pension plans would be permitted to put up to $1,500 a year in tax-exempt funds into individual pension plans.

EXECUTIVE PENSIONS — Corporation executives would be limited to pensions of $75,000 a year out of funds built up with tax-exempt contributions.

Smoking Evils Pointed Out

Speaking with the aid of an artificial larynx aid, Richard Hogarth of Loraine, Ohio, explained the evils of smoking to Kiwanians at their luncheon Thursday.

Hogarth had his larynx removed due to cancer thought to have been caused by smoking. He is in town this week making a tour of schools and organization meetings.

Guests present were Charles Gillespie, district lieutenant governor of the Kiwanis Club, Bill Birrell, Leon Stockton and seven Key Club members.

An officer installation banquet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday will take the place of the club's next weekly luncheon.

Trio Charged In Shooting

MIDLAND — Three Midland men, ranging in age between 18 and 21, were charged here Thursday in the shooting death of a carnival worker who was apparently robbed and shot at a west Midland residence late Wednesday.

One of the suspects was taken into custody in Stanton Thursday afternoon. The other two remain at large.

The dead man was identified as Henry M. Moya, a Canadian Indian who had been with a traveling carnival in Midland for the St. Ann's Family Fair.

According to Midland police, the body was found about 2 a.m. Thursday. Police said three carnival workers were invited to the residence late Wednesday. One of the occupants allegedly brought out a rifle and ordered the carnival workers against the wall. The men were robbed and according to a witness, the man holding the rifle became nervous and the weapon discharged striking Moya in the chest.

The charges were filed under the new Texas penal code which terms murder committed during the act of armed robbery a capital offense punishable by death.

Foreign Notables Flock To Airport Dedication

GRAPEVINE, Tex. (AP) — Dallas and Fort Worth were in the midst of a three-day civic festival today, dedicating their $700 million airport with a ball tonight expected to draw the biggest assemblage of world ambassadors ever outside Washington.

More than 8,000 persons, including ambassadors from more than 50 nations and paying $100 per couple were expected to dance the night away at the black-tie affair.

The new airport, the world's largest encompassing 17,500 acres, will be dedicated formally Saturday in ceremonies attended by aviation and political dignitaries from around the globe.

MOVE IT

The three-day fest was launched here, halfway between both North Texas cities Thursday, with arrival of the French-British supersonic transport Concorde 02 on its maiden flight to the United States. Concorde pilot Jean Franchi stepped from his sleek, needle-nosed ship and, apparently unimpressed, quipped, "Concrete must be cheap around here. Otherwise, it's just another airport."

The arrival of the Concorde had an unusual moment when control tower operators asked Franchi if he could "move away fast" while making a slow pass over the airport.

Franchi said he was advised that another plane was in the general area at the time and the Concorde was obliged to make a sudden, precautionary upward movement at the control tower's request.

LIMELIGHT

Although the airport is slated for opening for airline operations later next month, much remains to be done to get it into readiness.

Even then it will enjoy the limelight as the world's biggest airdrome only briefly as Montreal's Mirabel Airport, covering 18,000 acres, is scheduled for opening next year.

The big airport is the culmination of enterprise between Fort Worth and Dallas and finance through the sale of revenue bonds. The airport will be completed in three phases with runways in its ultimate configuration stretching 20,000 feet.

The Tom Sullivan designed facility of four circular terminal buildings is bisected by a 10-lane freeway.

Sullivan also designed Kennedy and LaGuardia airports in New York.

Reached at his home in Wshington, FAA Administrator Alexander Butterfield said he had been advised that the Concorde's pilot had been asked by the tower to climb rapidly because another plane was in the vicinity at the time of the SST's first flyover.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 NT	Pass	2 NT	Pass
3 NT	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Five of ♠ Good defense would be a relatively simple matter if declarer could be obliged upon to show his hand. However, that would rob the game of most of its pleasure, especially since there are many occasions where the bidding and play to the first few tricks make declarer's hand an open book.

No one could criticize North had he elected to pass his partner's opening one no trump. However, his five-card suit and three tens induced him to invite game with a raise to two no trump. Since South had an absolute maximum of 18 points, he was more than willing to contract for nine tricks.

West made his normal lead of the fourth best of his longest and strongest suit, and East's ten was captured by the queen. The diamond suit would have to be developed if declarer were to make his contract, so declarer entered dummy with a club to the ten and ran the ten of diamonds to West's king.

At this point, West paused to take stock. Declarer was marked with the king of spades, for East would have played that card had he held it. Also, declarer probably held the ace of diamonds—if that card were with East he should have won the diamond lead to play a spade through declarer. Finally, declarer was marked with the ace, king and jack of clubs, for East could not capture the ten of clubs.

Thus, declarer was known to have 17 points outside of the heart suit, so there was no way he could hold the ace of hearts. That card would have brought his high-card count to 21 when the bidding marked him with a maximum of 18.

The winning defense was now simple. West could afford to lead a heart away from his king, secure in the knowledge that he would not be presenting declarer with a trick. East won the ace and returned a spade, allowing the defenders to cash four tricks in that suit and the king of hearts for a three-trick set.

BIG SPRING HERALD

SEC. B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1973 SEC. B

Saturday Is Deadline For Concert Tickets

The curtain is coming down; only one more day remains to obtain a membership subscription to this year's Community Concert series. Association workers will remain at the headquarters in the lobby of the Settles Hotel until 5 p.m., Saturday. Sales will end at that time. Tickets may be reserved Saturday by calling 263-0372.

Appearing here as the second offering in the series will be the internationally famed Texas Boys Choir of Fort Worth which will appear in concert Nov. 16 at Municipal Auditorium.

The Texas Boys Choir is a unique group which in its 26 years of existence has won critical acclaim throughout the world.

Famed composer-conductor Igor Stravinsky called it "The best boys choir in the world," and proved his belief by working with the Texas Boys Choir in recording one of his major definitive works for Columbia Records. In the same year, the album "Charles Ives: Music for Chorus," won the Grammy Award.

In all, the Texas Boys Choir has made 13 albums. The group won a second Grammy Award in 1969 along with the Bronze Award from the International Film and Television Festival in New York for the color film, "A Time of Waking," a philosophy of boychoir in Fort Worth.

The choir has also contributed to nine volumes of recordings for the Holt-Rinehart educational series, 'Exploring Music," for use in public schools.

Under the continuous guidance of founder-director George Bragg, concert appearances have taken the group into 15 European countries, Mexico, Canada, and virtually every state in the Union.

The repertoire of the choir includes classical music, folk songs, spirituals, show tunes, standard American classics, and songs from other nations. In other nations, whenever possible, the music is sung in that country's native language. At various times, the Texas Boys Choir has sung in as many as 11 languages.

All of this would be remarkable even if the choir were a stable group which had sung together for numerous years. But when the choir's actual "instability" is considered, it becomes no less than astounding.

That the Texas Boys Choir sings like a professional group is an undisputed fact, but in reality the choir is composed of local schoolboys in the Fort Worth-Dallas area, chosen in twice-yearly auditions. Boys may join the choir anytime between the ages of 10 and 12, but their time in the group is relatively brief. Few manage to struggle to the age of 15 before the inevitable voice change occurs and they must drop out. Therefore, the choir is in a constant state of change, and the training of new choirboys is a never-ending process.

This past summer, the TBC made its third trip to Europe — a five-week tour during which they presented numerous concerts in England, Scotland, France, Norway and Italy. The trip was studded with highlights.

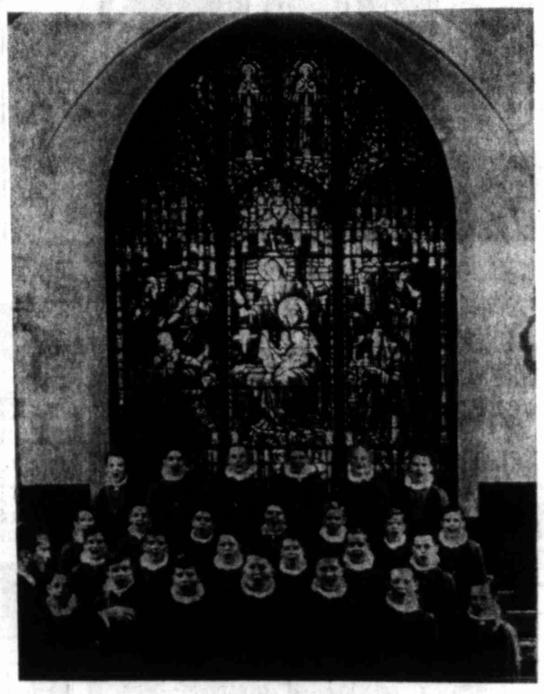

Two performances were given at the Vatican in Rome. On July 16, at St. Peter's Basilica, the boys presented a new mass, "Missa Hosanna" of Noel Goemanne, which was commissioned by the Texas Boys Choir especially for the appearance at St. Peter's. On July 19, the choir was granted an audience with Pope Paul VI at the Vatican, where the group sang privately for him.

At the last stop on their European tour, the choir made two scheduled appearances at Notre Dame Cathedral in Paris, where it was so well received that it was asked to give still a third performance.

The choir returned to Fort Worth and barely had time to get settled before leaving on its six-week fall tour covering the northern and western sections of the U.S., and part of Canada.

Returning home, the boys plunged into rehearsals for "The Littlest Wiseman," a Christmas pageant presented each year at Fort Worth.

The program to be presented here will include traditional boychoir music along with modern day musical comedy tunes.

'Gift From God'

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A college girl wrote that she felt she had a "gift from God" to teach deaf people to talk, but she was "torn" because her parents feared if she pursued that profession she might end up marrying a deaf person.

May I comment? Our son, who is one of the finest speech therapists in the country, married a perfectly normal girl, but had he married one with a speech defect, we would have loved her no less.

When I saw our son take a crippled retarded child on his lap, and help that boy utter his first audible word, I cannot explain the feeling that came over me. That boy looked up into my son's eyes as if to say, "Thank you," and my son looked down into the eyes of that child as if to say, "You are going to learn to talk!" (And subsequently the child did.)

Let me tell you, all the money in the world couldn't buy the thrill I experienced at that moment.

Thank you, Abby, for telling that girl that if she feels she has a "gift from God" to teach the deaf, to pursue that calling. She will never regret it.

PROUD FATHER

DEAR FATHER: Working with the handicapped is one of the most rewarding of all careers. It takes a special kind of human being to do it, and I sincerely believe that those who are indeed "gifted" by God, and chosen for the privilege.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I noticed this real pretty girl who just started to work where I work. She seemed real friendly and always smiled and said hello when she saw me. (It's a big office, and we work in different departments.)

I asked her if she liked movies and she said yes, so I asked her when I could take her to a movie of her choice, then she said she didn't like them all that much, so I let the matter drop.

A few days later, I asked her if she would like to have dinner with me at a nice restaurant, and she said she was on a diet to lose weight so there wouldn't be much point in that.

I asked her if she liked music, thinking I could take her to some kind of concert and she said music gave her a headache.

Abby, I am 27, and she's about 22, so it can't be that I'm too young for her. Please tell me how I can get a date with this girl. I am told I am a nice young man, but I must be doing something wrong. I'm no run-around, but I've never had trouble getting dates before. BATTING ZERO

DEAR BATTING: Wake up and smell the coffee! The chemistry is wrong. She's not interested, so turn your attentions elsewhere — where they'll be welcome and appreciated.

HOROSCOPE

CARROL RIGHTER

SATURDAY, SEPT. 22, 1973

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The early part of the day is a time to take no chances in any way whether with people or with impersonal conditions. Later you are able to contact influential persons and work out a satisfactory arrangement for the future.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Handle any home affairs early so that you can go out for the recreation you desire with good results following. Don't permit others to lead you into spending more money than you can afford.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Smooth out affairs of home in a most tactful way and more harmony reigns for the days ahead. A new outlet is best started in the afternoon. Entertaining at home tonight can be pleasant.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Morning is not a good time for communicating successfully with others, so keep busy at small tasks at hand. Later is fine for shopping, engaging in favorite activities and having fun.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Relegate financial affairs to the afternoon since you are not thinking very clearly during the morning. Obtain the advice you need from a business expert. Evening is pleasurable.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) If you are forceful with others during the morning, you could alienate good friends. By using tact you get more cooperation. Take advantage of a good opportunity that comes your way.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Study what your true position is with others improvements. Use more up-to-date methods for handling your problems, and then take the right steps to make Strive for more harmony with friends.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Your friends are apt to be pretty busy in the morning so get in touch with them later. Try not to involve yourself too much in the problems of others. Give advice only when asked.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Morning is not a good time to talk over affairs with higher-ups, so be sure to relegate this to the latter part of the day. Handle civic matters in a precise way. This will pay off.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Some new venture or trip is best started in the afternoon so take it easy in the morning and be courteous with everyone. Do not follow the ideas of a new contact. Use own ideas.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have obligations to fulfill and should get an early start on them, but do so tactfully. Your mate could be in a bad mood in the morning so exercise patience. Strive for happiness.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) A demanding associate wants you to do something you do not like in the morning but if you stall for time, you find the mood changes. Stay with good friends for an evening of enjoyment.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Although you think you have too much to do, if you get an early start your duties will be behind you quickly. Plan time for buying new apparel. Make a wonderful impression on others tonight.

NOW SHOWING THE 1974 FORD, LINCOLN, & MERCURY

NEW FOR 1974—MUSTANG II

Every once in a long while, the right new car comes along at exactly the right time. We think Mustang II is that kind of car today.

Start with size. Mustang II is a foot and a half shorter than last year. It has all the economy and agility you'd expect from a small car. It's roomy and comfortable inside. It's fun to drive. And it comes with touches of luxury you'd be hard pressed to find in most cars. Regardless of size. And regardless of price.

Mosquito Attack Expected Tonight

Big Spring Assistant Business Administrator Don Green advised fans to wear mosquito repellent to tonight's 8 p.m. Big Spring-Snyder football game.

Mosquitoes have been thick in the area, and Green said that although it will be sprayed today for the second time, mosquitoes are expected to swarm in when the lights are turned on.

RIGGS 'FLUSHED DOWN THE TOILET'

King Wins Battle Of Sexes

HOUSTON (AP) — Bobby Riggs' next big spectacle may be a leap off Suicide Bridge in Pasadena, Calif., while Billie Jean King is just happy to have made a spectacle of the 55-year-old hustler and to have won $200,000 to boot.

Screaming, delirious womens-libbers lit up more brightly than the rocket-shooting Astrodome scoreboard Thursday night when Mrs. King showed the devastating swiftness that won her five Wimbledon titles in defeating self-proclaimed male chauvinist Riggs, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3 in the internationally televised battle of the sexes tennis extravaganza.

"Bobby Riggs has just been flushed down the toilet," shouted women's pro tour member Madeliene Regal of Sweden after Mrs. King's straight sets victory before 30,472 Astrodome fans and millions more TV viewers.

Mrs. King, one of the most decorated warriors for equal women's rights on the pro tennis circuit, said she had waited 18 years for this match with Riggs.

"Ever since the day when I was 11 years old and wasn't allowed in a photo because I didn't have a tennis skirt on, I knew then that I wanted to change the sport," the 29-year-old Mrs. King said.

Riggs, who claimed he would set women's tennis back 20 years against Billie Jean, looked every bit his age after the match. Riggs appeared to tire as early as the first set and had trouble getting his first serve going.

Nor could Riggs, the aging 1939 Wimbledon singles champion, match Mrs. King's continual strong ground shots, which never let up.

Riggs was so sure of victory, he had vowed he would jump off the Pasadena Bridge or the London Bridge in Arizona if he lost.

It was a $100,000 winner-take-all match, but television and other rights were expected to boost the winner's share to about $200,000 and give the loser about $100,000.

Despite his constant barrage of criticism against women's tennis, Riggs was a gracious loser.

"What happened?" Riggs asked. 'Billie Jean was just too strong for me. She was too quick in the exchanges. I thought I had her out of court many times but she made the shots.

"I never felt better. I felt great warming up. I didn't have a good day serving but she didn't get any breaks. If anybody got the breaks it was me."

Mrs. King didn't budge an inch during the match and she also held her own with Riggs' pre-match gimmickery. Mrs. King made her entrance on a carriage, borne by four muscular males like a reigning Egyptian qeen.

Riggs then entered riding in a rickshaw, pulled by several pretty "Bobby's Boosters" with "Sugar Daddy" on the backs of their blouses. Riggs presented Mrs. King with a giant candy sucker with "Sugar Daddy" written on the side.

Riggs got a brown baby pig from Mrs. King.

Riggs' game started coming apart in the first set although he broke Mrs. King's serve in the fifth game. Mrs. King broke right back and broke again in the 10th game when Riggs double faulted at set point.

Riggs broke Mrs. King in the first game of the second set. Although Mrs. King broke back again, Riggs appeared to start a rally when he held his service after eight deuces for a 2-2 tie in games. But Mrs. King broke Riggs in the eighth game and then served a love game for the second set.

Mrs. King kept rolling in the third set, breaking Riggs in the first game. Riggs then made his final challenge, serving a love game and then breaking Mrs. King fo ra 2-2 tie in the third set.

From there, Mrs. King broke back with a love game and then won it with a service break in the final gafe when Riggs double faulted and hit into the net on the final two points after escaping two match points.

Riggs started the batle of the sexes matches with a 6-2, 6-1 victory over Australia's Margaret Court earlier in the year and Mrs. King said it was Mrs. Court who gave her good advice for playing Riggs.

"Margaret told me he can't roll over his backhand," Mrs. King said. "He can only pass me with a flat shot. She told me to just try to attack his backhand." The Astrodome scene looked like anything but a tennis match. The University of Houston band played march music while pretty pom-pom girls kicked in time. The rowdy crowd cheered throughout the match and never showed signs of letting up.

Mrs. King got the loudest applause and cheers after good shots and she enjoyed it.

Forsan Tries BV Longhorns

FORSAN — The Forsan Buffaloes, somewhat battered following last week's 34-0 loss to rugged Roscoe, try to climb back into the 1973 grid season tonight at 8 p.m. against the Buena Vista Longhorns.

Buena Vista lost most of its district championship team to graduation, and as a result have suffered through a 26-6 loss to Sanderson and a 32-0 setback at the hands of Balmorhea.

The Longhorns aren't near as short on experience as Coach Jack Woodley's Buffs, however, and five freshmen in the Forsan starting lineup bear that out. Another frosh has made his way into the lineup, center Darrin Crooks, joining quarterback Ralph Miranda, slotback John Medlin, split end Billy Osburn and linebacker Larry Patton.

Seniors David Crooks, a tight end, and Randy Walls, left guard, head up the thrust with juniors Phillip King and Landon Soles doing most of the running.

Joining the front wall will be tackles Brad Stevens and either Chris Johnson or Mike Storen, and guard Tim Yeats, who has moved from center.

Tailback Leonel Rodriguez, a 172-pound junior, is the key man in the Longhorns' effort, and fullback Don Colls, a 165-pounder, is also a too runner. Rodney Powell starts at quarterback for Buena Vista, with Dean Graham at slotback.

Four seniors are in the Longhorn line, which averages 165 pounds.

LANDON SOLES

Big Spring, Andrews Break Even; Mavs Maul Coahoma

Big Spring and Andrews proved their football programs were just about equal Thursday. Young Steers and Mustangs battled in five different games, with each town winning one and three others ending in ties.

The decisions came when Runnels' Yearlings hosted the Andrews Junior High eighth grade A and B teams,with the visitors winning the varsity tilt 12-0 and Runnels coming out on top in the B affair 30-0. The Steer Junior Varsity tied Andrews' JV 14-14 in Andrews, while the Brahma A team tied the Mustang freshmen 6-6 and in the ninth grade B game the units tied 0-0.

In other out-of-town action Thursday, the Toros fell to San Angelo Glenn Junior High's ninth graders 30-20 and Goliad's eighth graders scored their second victory, trouncing Coahoma 44-6.

Ronnie Mullins scored all the points, including the final touchdown and extra points with four seconds showing on the clock, as the Steer JVs tied Andrews.

Mullins scored first on a one-yard sneak in the second quarter, but Andrews rebounded with two TDs and led 14-6 at the half. The last Big Spring drive covered 96 yards and consumed four minutes, with Mullins' tally coming from five yards out.

Junior Matthews, Jerry Marquez and Greg Spears had good games offensively for the Steers, now 1-0-1, while Bob Clark and Edward Pekowski highlighted the defensive effort.

Big Spring's Brahmas scored with 42 seconds remaining to salvage a tie with Andrews varsity freshmen, as Bobby Morrow hauled in a 33-yard touchdown pass from Chris Burrow.

Jesse Doss sparked the Brahmas' rushing attack, which was part of the team's 138 yards total offense. Andrews had 109 yards. Most of the effort came in the second half, as the offense held Andrews to just 19 yards offense. The Brahmas are now 0-1-1.

In the B game, the Big Springers' moved inside the Andrews three times but failed to score, including the final seconds of the game when a drive died at the six-yard line.

Andrews controlled the game against Runnels' A squad, keeping the ball the entire first quarter and allowing the hosts just six plays in the first half. Runnels ended the game with 108 yards offense, compared to 194 for Andrews, all on the ground.

Coach Bobby Zellars said he was "well pleased" with the defense, and singled out Mike Blalack and Kevin Wolf on the offensive unit.

Harvey Hernandez scored twice and Jerry Baeza and Lloyd Jones tallied one marker apiece as the Runnels B group shut down Andrews. The visitors were held to minus rushing yardage, and nine yards passing.

Richard Mendoza also ran for two extra points in the triumph, as all 45 boys on the team played.

Ben Neel of Goliad, also emptied his bench and the result was a rout. Quarterback Mike Thompson scored on runs of 20 and 70 yards to open the action, and Joey Vasquez followed with TD runs of 90 and 40 yards to propel the Mavericks to a 24-0 halftime edge.

Mitch Harris picked up the next score, while Wade Cobb hit Del Poss for 35 yards and a 36-advantage. Dan Robinson ran 25 yards to set up the final score, and Ricky Torres punched it over from a yard out.

Coahoma got its lone score in the fourth period on a 15-yard pass play from Tim Greenfield to Dusty Douglas.

Glenn Junior High shot to a 12-0 first half lead before the Big Spring Toros began to battle back. Bubba Stripling started the comeback with a one-yard run and Tommy Churchwell's extra points made it 12-8. San Angelo went back on top 18-8, and Churchwell added another four-yard scoring scamper to cuit it to 18-14.

The hosts got one more later in the fourth quarter, but Mike Harris ran back the kickoff 85 yards to make it 24-0. San Angelo got its final score with three seconds left in the game.

Other offensive standouts for the Toros were Steve Hughes, Randy Matthews, Craig Bailey, Richard Jenkins and John Wrinkle, while Randle Jones, Jim McChristian, Brad Beach, Roland Lozano, Perry Rogers, Frosty Reynolds, Steve Evans, Phil Woods and Dave Daniels all had good defensive games.

Coahoma Seventh Grade Triumphs

COAHOMA — The Coahoma seventh graders battered Colorado City 40-0 Thursday in junior high football action.

Danny Tucker led the way with two touchdowns, while Larry Darden, Jim Bob Read and Tim Childers also added six-pointers. Darden ran for two extra points and Tracy Frazier added four more.

Sands, Buffs Tie

ACKERLY — Sands and Forsan teams battled to a 0-0 tie here Thursday in area junior high football action. Forsan scored once, but the play was called back on a penalty.

Wolves Try Cats Today

COLORADO CITY — The Colorado City Wolves try to get into the victory column tonight when they host the Ballinger Bearcats in an 8 p.m. non-district football battle.

The Wolves, punchless in two season-opening losses, will also be out to score their first points after suffering 39-0 and 26-0 lickings at the hands of Monahans and Coahoma.

Quarterback Gene Banks and 175-pound fullback Arnold Parker provide much of the Wolves' offensive thrust, but they'll be operating behind an offensive line that weighs in at less than 160 pounds per man.

Ballinger counts heavily on backs Robert Buxkemper and Frederick Snell.

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

Game time again. And underdogs again. I think maybe we ought to think about scheduling some El Paso and Fort Worth teams for the Steers in the future so we can look real neat in the Harris rating Systems and other genuine poll-types. Good idea, huh.

Instead, we're welcoming a Snyder team that looks a lot like Green Bay or the New York Giants. Welcome, Snyder, even if it does seem to the Steers like they've been playing you for the past three weeks.

Speaking of the Harris listing, it rates the Tigers as 13-point favorites for tonight's game. Snyder is 27th in the Class AAAA rankings, while Big Spring stands 132nd — a jump of more than 50 spots since the first release despite two defeats.

* * * * * *

The two University of Oklahoma graduates who filed a suit against the Big Eight and the NCAA, charging that the penalty imposed on their football team is too stiff, aren't necessarily crackpots says Big Spring Coach Bob Burris, himself a former Sooner. And I guess he probably knows as well as anyone, since one of the guys is his brother.

Paul "Buddy" Burris, a civil service employee in Norman and attorney Jack Highley of Oklahoma City filed the suit Wednesday and asked that the probation be lifted until he court can hear the "merits" of the case. They claim that the penalty, handed out several weeks ago because of recruiting violations, will cost the school at least $400,000 since the Sooner can't play in bowl games or on television the next two years. That's too harsh, they say.

The Big Spring Burris said that his brother, the only three-time All-American in Okahoma's history as a guard in the late 1940s, is an avid OU backer but he had no idea Buddy was this big a fan . .

* * * * * *

I can't really tell whether it's a coincidence or what, but since members of the Big Spring Golf Association visited the last meeting of the City Commission, things are beginning to happen at Municipal Golf Course. The BSGA wasn't there to protest rate hikes but merely wanted assurances that they'd be getting their money's worth.

Already the Muny staff has begun top-dressing and verticutting the tee boxes, but Pro Charles Brantley says this was in the long-range plans all along. "We've also spiked the fairways on the front nine and we're hauling sand in to top-dress the fairways," said Brantley. The pro also said that fertilizer is due in this week and it will be used on the fairways immediately, and a fertilizer program is being planned for this winter.

And the BSGA is doing its part by donating a verticutter, a machine designed to thin out grass and weeds. Hal Rosson, secretary of the association and one who attended the council meeting last week, says that the increase in fees isn't the problem, but there has to be some improvement to go along with it. "This course is potentially one of the best in West Texas," Rosson said.

The new green fees, which include hikes to $1.75 on weekdays and $3 on weekends, go into effect Oct. 1.

STEER GENERALS — Sending their Big Spring Steers into battle tonight will be (front, l to r) Ron Freeman, head coach Bob Burris, and Bob Glover, and back, Larry Horton, Tip Jacobson and Tom Adams. The Steers meet Snyder tonight at 8 p.m. in Memorial Stadium and try to break an eight-game losing streak against the Tigers.

Steers, Tigers Tangle Tonight

By JACK COWAN

It looks like more of the same tonight for the Big Spring Steers, only this time there seems to be more of the same than before.

In other words, the Steers' tough schedule becomes tougher at 8 p.m. when the rugged Snyder Tigers invade Memorial Stadium to renew an old rivalry with the Longhorns.

The Steers will be up against a power-type offense for the third straight week, but the size and backfield talent the Tigers boast make things seem rougher than the past two Fridays when the Steers lost to Lubbock Monterey 11-7 and Hobbs, N.M. 14-6.

Big Spring, meanwhile, will continue on its pass-minded way, hoping this time for a dry football following two weeks of rainy weather.

"Snyder is a lot bigger and a lot more physical than either of the two teams we've played," head coach Bob Burris said, "and they're also more experienced, even than Monterey. I think." That experience shows up best in the defense, where eight starters return to the only bright spot of last year's 2-8 season.

"We doubt that they'll stunt as much as we've been seeing, because these big people usually like to kind of wade through blockers," Burris explained. "In a way though, this will help us on down the line. We face a lot of the same thing when we get into district play."

It'll be an awesome defensive wall the Steers will be going against with the likes of tackles Grant Knipe (6-5, 245) and Mickey Gonzales (6-1, 230) and middle guard Willie Smith (6-1, 230) ready to gum things up.

And though 6-0, 190-pound junior Welton Cobb is a well-respected running back, Snyder coach Maurice Hodges also thinks he and Jerry Fore (6-3, 175) make up one of the finest linebacking duos around.

Cobb, who has 9.6 speed in the 100-yard dash, picked up 93 yards a week ago in leading the Tigers past favored Midland Lee, 27-15. He still has to share the fullback spot with Hubert Crayton, however, after Crayton was the shining light in a 21-3 triumph over Lubbock Dunbar in the opener.

Quarterback Richard Gorman, who has thrown only eight passes in two games, fullback Tommy Welch (195) and halfback Ralph Lewis (180) round out the Tiger backfield.

Smith and Knipe hold down the tackle positions on the offensive front, and there's additional size in Robert Braziel (6-2, 195), Doak Witherspoon (6-1, 195) and Jerry Webb (6-0, 190).

Burris has made only minor changes in his lineup, and he'll be going with a young defense that includes just four seniors. Veteran Steve Brackett will be at the noseguard, and he'll be flanked by tackles James Coffey and Scott McEwen, the only other senior on the line. Casey Lovelace and Kyle Neighbors, both juniors, man the end positions.

At the linebacker spots will be Vicky Woodruff, a senior who will also see his first action on offense as a fullback, and Joe D. Matthews, while John Thomas Smith and Lawrence Byrd will start at cornerback with Barry Canning and sophomore Mark Moore at safety.

Regular tackle Ken Froman, a 215-pound senior who plays both ways, is out with a groin injury but the rest of the team will be suited up for action despite minor injuries sustained last week.

Quarterback Tom Sorley will again direct the Steers' offensive thrust, and he'll be sending most of his aerials in the direction of John Smith, who has pulled in 10 catches for 171 yards and a touchdown in two games.

Split receivers Ronald McKee and Randy Schrecengost, as well as tight end Barry Loyd, are other targets. Handling most of the rushing duties will be Woodruff and Doug Smith, who made his debut at halfback last Friday and combined with Sorley to work the option to perfection several times.

On the line, Brackett and Neighbors will be at guard, with McEwen and Stan Partee at tackles and Joel Fellows at center.

'Bad Day' Sends Baltimore To 9-0 Win Over Detroit

By The Associated Press

Ever have one of those days when absolutely nothing goes right? Thursday was that kind of day for the Detroit Tigers.

It wasn't bad enough that they were bombed 9-0 by the Baltimore Orioles, or that they managed just five hits off Jim Palmer while the Orioles collected 15 hits off various Detroit pitchers.

But to add insult to injury, the Birds stole five bases—including a steal of home—in the first three innings.

To top things off, pinch-hitter Frank Howard hit into a triple play in the fifth inning to kill the only threat the Tigers could mount.

In other American League games Thursday night, the Minnesota Twins swept the Oakland A's 4-3 and 5-4 in a twi-night doubleheader; the Kansas City Royals pounded the Chicago White Sox 10-3, and the California Angels split a twi-nighter with the Texas Rangers, winning the first game 6-4 in 11 innings before dropping the nightcap 8-3.

In the National League, it was Chicago 5, Montreal 4; San Francisco 7, Cincinnati 5; Philadelphia 6, St. Louis 5; New York 4, Pittsburgh 3 in 13 innings; Los Angeles 5, Atlanta 3 in 12 innings, and Houston and San Diego were idle.

Twins 4-5, A's 3-4

Thursday wasn't a good night for Oakland manager Dick Williams, either. Not only did the A's drop their twi-night doubleheader with Minnesota by scores of 4-3 and 5-4, but Williams got himself ejected from the opener after an argument with umpire Larry Barnett.

Royals 10, White Sox 3

Fred Patek drove in four runs with a homer and two singles to power the Royals past the White Sox, 10-3. The little shortstop, who had five hits Wednesday night, credits Roy White of the New York Yankees with his sudden explosion at the plate.

Angels 6-3; Rangers 4-8

Rich Billings hit a three-run home run to highlight a five-run fifth inning and help the Rangers take the nightcap of the doubleheader with California, 8-3.

Run-scoring singles in the 11th inning by Richie Scheinblum and Billy Parker carried the Angels to a 6-4 triumph in the opener.

Bobcats, Panthers Head 5-4A Slate

San Angelo tries to take a big jump in the rankings and Odessa Permian attempts to hold on to its position in key games in Dist. 5-AAAA action tonight.

The Bobcats of San Angelo High, unranked in the AP schoolboy poll, take on second-ranked Galveston Ball in Galveston in the highlight affair, and many are expecting the unbeaten Bobcats to upset the Golden Tors.

Meanwhile, Permian this week scooted into the fifth spot into the AP listing and is regarded as No. 1 in the Harris Rating System. The Panthers host Dallas White, and will be expected to retain their high place with another strong defensive showing.

Elsewhere in the league, Big Spring is at home against Snyder, Abilene visits Temple, Abilene Cooper entertains Killeen, Midland Lee hosts Plainview, Midland is at Lubbock Monterey and Odessa High is at home against Hobbs, N.M.

It's the last non-district action for all teams. The entire league is idle next week before beginning 5-AAAA play Oct. 5.

Most of tonight's games are toss-ups, as only Big Spring goes into its game as a distinct underdog. After last year's 18-5 non-district finish, league teams stand 11-5 after two weeks and must win each game tonight to equal the 1972 mark.

SEASON STANDINGS

LONGHORNS HEAVY FAVORITES

Texas Visits Miami Tonight

MIAMI (AP) — The University of Texas, which has lost only seven season openers in 80 years, moves into the Orange Bowl tonight as a heavy favorite against a revamped University of Miami squad.

The Longhorns, bidding for their sixth consecutive Southwest Conference crown, have 29 returning lettermen from last year's 10-1 squad which beat Alabama 17-13 in the Cotton Bowl.

Returnees include fullback Roosevelt Leaks and eight starters from a defensive unit which surrendered only 121 points in 1972.

The Longhorns, with a 45-4-1 record the past five seasons, dumped Miami 23-10 in last season's opener to send the Hurricanes toward their fifth straight losing campaign.

In another Friday night game, Coach Paul Dietzel takes his South Carolina Gamecocks to Houston to play the 16th-ranked Cougars in the Astrodome, site of Thursday night's battle of the sexes in tennis between Bobby Riggs and Billie Jean King.

Two other Friday night games involving major schools find Cincinnati Xavier at Tampa and Marshall at Nevada-Las Vegas.

Texas Tech and Arkansas parade before the regional television cameras Saturday. The Red Raiders host New Mexico and Arkansas entertains strong Oklahoma State in Little Rock.

In two other day games, shell-shocked Baylor is at Pittsburgh while Southern Methodist takes to the far West to play Oregon State.

Texas Christian is a 19-point favorite over Texas-Arlington in the Horned Frog opener Saturday night at Amon Carter Stadium. Coach Billy Tohill of TCU will be making a comeback from a near-fatal automobile accident this spring.

Rice is such a heavy favorite over Montana in Houston Saturday night that the oddsmakers have taken the game off the boards.

On Saturday top-ranked Southern California invades Georgia Tech for the headline game of the week and second-ranked Nebraska hosts 14th-ranked North Carolina State.

In other Saturday games involving teams in the Top Ten: No. 10 Tennessee is at Army; No. 7 Penn State journeys to Kentucky; Stanford is at No. 5 Navy; No. 4 Alabama plays at Kentucky; Stanford is at No. 5 Michigan and Northwestern is at No. 8 Notre Dame.

Rounding out the Top Twenty: No. 19 Colorado is at Wisconsin; Southern Mississippi plays No. 15 Florida at Tampa; No. 20 Bowling Green is at Dayton; Washington State plays at No. 13 Arizona State; Iowa is at No. 18 UCLA; UT-Chattanooga is at No. 12 Auburn and Virginia is at No. 20 Missouri.

Stanton Seeks Homecoming Win Over Wildcats Tonight

STANTON — It's Homecoming at Stanton High School, and Buffalo exes are expected to celebrate the occasion with a victory over the Wink Wildcats tonight when the two teams meet at 8 p.m.

The Buffs, with a new reputation and a 2-0 record to protect, will have their easiest test of the season against the Class A Wildcats and are favored by several touchdowns.

They'll be going without their No. 1 ground gainer, however, as tailback Mark Eiland will sit the evening out with a hip injury. He'll be replaced by Mitch Irvin, who has moved from fullback for the occasion.

Bill Howard will start at quarterback with Elvin Brown at fullback and Gordon Eiland at wingback.

On the line, H. A. Schuelke and Roger Gutierrez will be attacking the Wink defense from the tackle spots, with Bruce Stanley and Ronnie Dickinson at the guards and Dennis Ireton at center. David Standefer will start at tight end and Joe Louis Hernandez is the split receiver.

Tackle Steve Cook, halfback Vernon Brown and safety Crespin Luna join the defensive cause.

Wink's top rusher is fullback Raleigh Martin, a 165-pound junior who rushed for 101 yards and two touchdowns during a 19-0 victory over Grandfalls. The Wildcats fell to Van Horn in their opener.

JACK BENNY ABDICATING

People In News

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Comedian Jack Benny says he's relinquishing his title as the most famous "39-year-old" personality.

"I'm abdicating and giving the title to Hank Aaron," Benny said Thursday in an interview with Wayne Minshew, baseball writer for the Atlanta Constitution.

"He's No. 1 right now," Benny said.

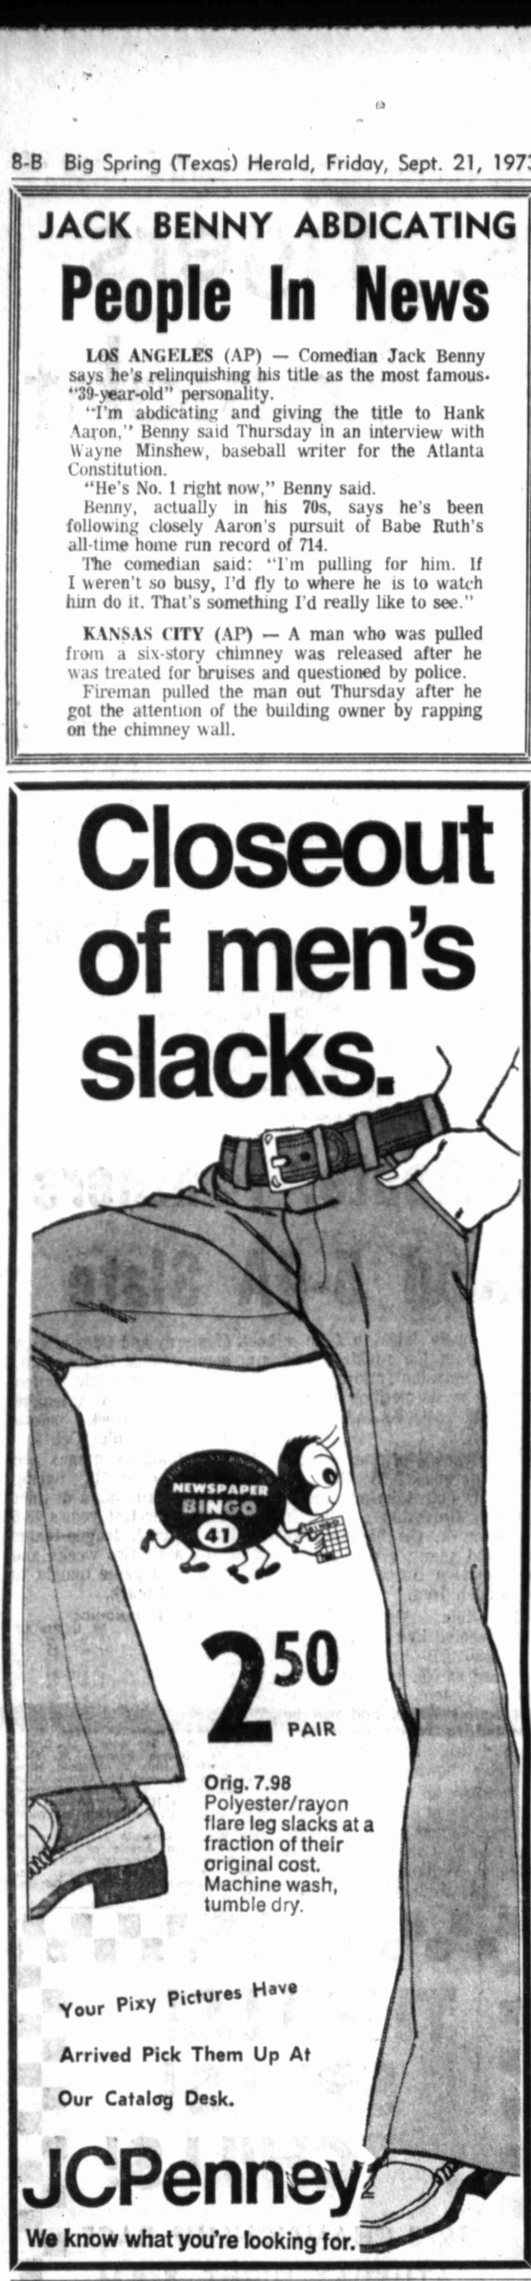

Benny, actually in his 70s, says he's been following closely Aaron's pursuit of Babe Ruth's all-time home run record of 714.

The comedian said: "I'm pulling for him. If I weren't so busy, I'd fly to where he is to watch him do it. That's something I'd really like to see."

Three Wrecks Investigated

During the past 24 hours, there have been three wrecks in the city of Big Spring with persons receiving minor injuries.

At 8:10 a.m. Thursday at 9th and Lancaster, a vehicle driven by Guadelupe Valdez, 1405 Bluebird, was in a collision with a vehicle driven by Albert Correa, 505 Abrams. A passenger in the Valdez vehicle, Isabel Carrona, received minor injuries and was taken to Medical Center Hospital.

At 10:58 a.m., a car driven by Donald Ray Newsom collided with a stop sign at 19th and Lancaster. The police report showed that he reached down to move some tools that were rolling under the accelerator, and cut the corner too short. He was taken to Cowper Clinic for minor injuries.

At 5:10 p.m. at FM 700 and 11th Place, a car driven by Talmadge E. Bolding Jr. of 2415 Morrison was in a collision with a vehicle driven by Rayford Dunnagan, 1606 E. 17th. The Bolding vehicle then swerved into a third vehicle, driven by W. B. Berch of Coahoma.

Bolding and Dunnagan were taken to the hospital for treatment of minor injuries.

School Policies Will Not Vary

LAMESA — An informal discussion during the setting of new school policy brought an agreement from the board that life was not always fair and equal but they did not think they would attempt to do anything about it.

The discussion centered around a proposed policy concerning married and pregnant students.

It was aagreed that unwed expectant mothers would not be eligible to hold elective school offices or be allowed to participate in extra-curricular activities.

Most agreed that the "fathers, because of problems of identification, do not suffer the conquence of their actions while the girls do."

Rules On Sterilization Rights Mapped By HEW

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government ban on federally funded sterilization of young girls and mentally incompetent women has been extended 30 days while new regulations to protect their rights are circulated for public comment.

The moratorium was imposed last July by the secretary of Health, Education and Welfare after a Montgomery County, Ala., man charged that his daughters, aged 12 and 14, had been permanently sterilized without his understanding of the procedure.

PROTECTION

The proposed regulations, published in the Federal Register Thursday, would provide federal protection of the rights of minors and the mentally incompetent for the first time since federal support for sterilization programs began in the 1930s.

Dr. Carl Shultz, director of HEW's Office of Population Affairs, said that only state laws have applied in the past, although federal rules require that sterilization must be voluntary and without coercion in most circumstances.

The proposed regulations call for establishment of local committees to review and approve any sterilization of a minor or person believed to be incapable of giving informed consent, even if the girl's parents or guardians give their permission.

FEDERAL FUNDS

They also would require informed consent of each patient before sterilization, and prohibit any clinic receiving federal funds from performing non-consent sterilization on the pretext that nonfederal funds were involved.

In that regard, the regulations would be stiffer than the interim guidelines announced last July and published in August, Shultz said.

An estimated 100,000 persons a year have been sterilized in programs involving federal funds, he said. Most of them have been poor, including many on welfare, Shultz said.

The proposals would apply to all HEW programs under the Public Health Service and the Social and Rehabilitation Service.
