NEW MEXICAN REVOLT DISCOVERED

KELLOGG PLAN IS FAVORED BY THREE NATIONS

BRITAIN, FRANCE AND GERMANY SEE HOPE OF WORLD PEACE

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, Jan. 5.—The French cabinet today undertook consideration of the negotiations between France and the United States for a pact to outlaw war when Foreign Minister Briand presented Secretary of State Kellogg's proposed treaty text and informed his colleague of the state of the negotiations.

In the opinion of official circles the pact as it is now being elaborated will in no way affect the obligations of France as a member of the League of Nations. The understanding is that a resolution to outlaw war will be incorporated in the preamble to the treaty of arbitration being negotiated separately between France and the United States and that similar agreements will be made between the United States and other countries with an arbitration treaty attached to give judicial form to the anti-war resolution.

In Spirit Of Covenant
Such treaties are being made between members of the League at various times and have been declared within the spirit of the covenant by the League assembly. It is felt here that there is no reason why a League member cannot enter into a similar agreement with non-members without violating the League covenant.

Britain Cool But Some Hope Is Seen

LONDON, Jan. 5.—After the evening papers had devoted most of their attention to a discussion of America's policy in Nicaragua, the morning papers today took up the Kellogg proposal to abolish war.

The opinions expressed, although none are condemnatory, cannot be described as altogether enthusiastic.

Daily Mail Is Exception
Under the caption, "a message of hope," it describes the Kellogg note to France as having the advantage of bringing forward a definite and concrete plan which makes it a culminating point of a great campaign against war. The Daily Chronicle gives the American proposal favorable welcome. It urges the British government to give it all possible support but says that the American scheme will add nothing to the bonds already existing.

Walking into the department store Hunt, who is about 45 years old, asked to see Jones.

"I'm Raymond Jones," said the young man he questioned. In sight of several customers and clerks, the farmer killed him.

The plans for the building have been completed and approved with the exception of a few minor details, officials of the church reported. DENDY IS HELD ON SUSPICION IN FATAL FIRE

TALE OF MISFORTUNE TOLD AFTER DEATH OF CHILDREN

(By Associated Press)
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 5.—W. G. Dendy, railroad shop worker, was held in jail on suspicion of arson today while a coroner investigated the death of five of Dendy's children, whose charred bodies were found in the ruins of the Dendy farm home near here yesterday.

The father sobbed as he told a story of misfortune which he said has been trailing him for two years. He showed bruises about his head and hands which he said were sustained when he tried to fight through the flames of the burning room in which the children were trapped.

Children Burned
Today the children were to be buried, Ophelia, 14, and J. D. 12, in one casket; Lorene, 12, Ruth, 11, and Ravis, 4, in another casket.

Dendy's arrest was ordered by Boyd Cyfert, prosecuting attorney, following a report of Coroner Samuel Boyce, who investigated the fire.

Boyce said that all of the bodies were on one bed, although there was another bed in the same room, and that some of the bodies had crushed heads. He said, however, that falling timbers might have struck some of the children on their heads.

Dendy, expressing surprise at his arrest, said he first learned that the bodies were burning when Ophelia waked him. He rushed from his room but found the room in which the children were sleeping enveloped in flames, he said.

Has Two Other Children
They always lived close together, so I will bury them that way," Dendy said of the funeral plans. Dendy has two other children, who were visiting in El Dorado at the time of the fire.

The deaths of the Dendy children brought to 14 the number of persons who have died in Arkansas fires since a cold wave arrived January 1. Frank Floyd, 16, Velma Farlin, 14, and her five year old brother, were burned to death yesterday in a fire which destroyed the T. C. Farlin home at Mountain Home.

SUNSTROKE SUFFERED AS GIRL HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR SNYDER SLAYING IN COUNSEL'S PLEA FOR CONDEMNED

(By Associated Press)
STATE CAPITOL, ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 5.—A sunstroke suffered as a little girl to affected Mrs. Ruth Snyder's mind when she grew up, her lawyer told Governor Smith today, that she lost her sense of responsibility and so could not help killing her husband.

In accordance with custom, neither Mrs. Snyder nor Henry Judd Gray themselves were present. They waited the outcome in their Sing Sing cells, which at present they were scheduled to leave a week from today, only to pay the extreme penalty for their murder of Mrs.

Snyder's husband, in the death chamber. Edgar Haselton, counsel for Mrs. Snyder, said that in early childhood Mrs. Snyder suffered from a serious sunstroke and a serious fall. "This was concealed from me," he said, "until recently, but now I have found out that these events overshadowed her whole life. She was subject to attacks of epilepsy or perhaps some strange borderland malady of the mind. "I am advised by a psychiatrist that she is in a twilight zone of limbo." The attempt at revolution was to have been made January 1 in Queretaro and Guanajuato in combination with rebel groups operating in the state of Jalisco.

Captured By Secret Service

MACK PROMISES RELENTLESS WAR ON YANKS WITH ATHLETICS

TIGHTER RACE SEEN THROUGH REVAMPED A'S

YOUTH CARRIES HOPE OF MACHINE FOR WINNING FLAG

(By Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 5.—Connie Mack, veteran leader of the Athletics, is one manager who had resolved the New York Yankee's won't make a runaway of another American League pennant race next season.

Mack, beginning the 28th year of his reign as manager of the Athletics, sees a tighter American League race in 1928 and figures every club including his own, has made great strides in strengthening its team.

Makes Two Big Trades
The Athletics, who finished in second place last season, made two trades bringing Outfielder Burt Miller back to Philadelphia and adding Ossie Orvell, Milwaukee flash, without apparently detracting from their strength.

Not only does Mack believe the Athletics will be stronger from a playing standpoint next season, but he figures Washington, with young pitchers and stronger than ever, as one of the most dangerous teams in the circuit. Also, he has considerable respect for the pitching process of the Chicago White Sox.

Hopes Held By Youths
With a slightly remodeled baseball machine, the Athletics will enter the 1928 American League pennant race with their hopes wrapped up in youth. Joe Hauser, back from Kansas City, will plug up a big gap at first base and Miller, traded to St. Louis in June, 1925 and recently sent back in trade for Pitcher Sam Gray, will be in left field.

Most of Mack's veterans, including Zack Wheat, Baby Doll Jacobson, Ty Cobb and Chick Galloway, have been discarded. Much of the Athletics' baseball future depends upon the ability of Hauser at first base. A leading first sacker until he broke his right knee cap in the spring of '25, Hauser has spent the past two years regaining use of the damaged knee.

The Athletics' spring lineup will be Hauser, first base; Bishop, second base; Jack Boley, shortstop, and Sammy Hale, third base. Their average is only 28 years and they have played together long enough to become a machine.

Outfield Is Brilliant
At Simmons, the brilliant young outfielder and sensational hitter, will cavort in center. Miller will be in left, but right field is a toss up between Vevo LeBourveau, bought from Toledo and Walter French, former army star.

The experienced catching staff comprises Mickey Cochrane, Cy Perkins and Jimmy Fox, who has just turned 20 but has been with the Athletics three years.

The pitching problem has been somewhat relieved by the purchase of Ossie Orvell, Milwaukee's combination southpaw hurler and outfielder. Joe Bush, a veteran of five major league clubs, has been taken on.

The slingers are the veterans Jack Quinn, Howard Ehmke and Edwin Rommel, right handers, and Rubie Walberg and Lefty Groves, southpaws, as well as a flock of youngsters.

Murphy Bought By Cats From Coast
FORT WORTH, Jan. 5 (AP)—Dan Murphy, catcher, has been purchased by the Fort Worth Cats from the Hollywood club of the Pacific Coast League, it was announced today by Paul LaGrave, business manager of the Fort Worth baseball club.

DISTINCTIVE NAMES
Giving distinctive names to elementary schools in New York City has been discontinued. Schools having such names will be allowed to retain them, but new schools will be known hereafter by number designations. Special names will be assigned in future only to senior and junior high schools, training schools, and continuation schools.

Will Help Bucs

SPARKY ADAMS

A second sacker was what Pittsburgh needed to strengthen an otherwise evenly running championship machine and in the trade which sent Hazen Cuyler to Chicago it looks like the Smokey City got what it needed. Sparky Adams, the gentleman shown above, will probably cavort about the keystones back for the Pirates next season, leaving George Grantham free to play regularly at first base.

Billy Evans Says:

During the six world series in which I have officiated and the many more that I have seen in the role of so-called newspaper expert, I have witnessed perhaps a score of well-pitched games, involving various phases of what might be well termed hurling efficiency.

I think it would be well for me to class the greatest world series pitching I have ever seen in four distinct classes.

First, a game featuring a thrilling ninth inning finish; second, a game featuring a sensational extra inning finish; third, a feat of super-pitching involving six consecutive strikeouts; fourth, a near perfect performance, having to do with almost machine-like precision.

The 1912 world series between the New York Giants and Boston Red Sox was the stage for the best bit of regular ninth-inning pitching that I have ever called balls and strikes in.

Wood Hero of First
It is baseball tradition that the team that wins the first game of a short series, nine times out of ten emerges victorious. That explains why the players are under such a mental strain in the opening of any big series. The big stakes and the importance of the game have a tendency to make the players tighten up and, therefore, not do their best.

In the first game of the 1912 series Joe Wood, then an outstanding star of the American League, went into the last half of the ninth inning with his club holding a 4-3 lead over the Giants. McGraw's club, in an effort to avert defeat, staged a desperate rally. In the twinkling of an eye Wood found himself runner on second and third and only one man out.

The game was played at New York and at this stage the Gotham fans were raving mad. It sure was a ticklish situation for the great Wood.

A base hit meant two runs and the ball game for New York and a terrific setback for the Boston Red Sox. Wood, the ace of the Boston staff, had been started to get the edge in the series.

What did Joe Wood do? Blow?

TECH TO OPEN CAGESCHEDULE FRIDAY NIGHT

MEET AMARILLO TEAM IN FIRST OF TWO GAME SERIES

Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock on the Texas Tech assembly hall floor, Coach Victor Payne and his Matadors will open the 1928 basketball season with the first of a two game series with the Amarillo Gassers, of the Amarillo Athletic association.

While the Gassers are not connected with any school or college the team consists of ex-high school and college players with several seasons of experience and are capable of exhibiting a good brand of basketball. For some time prior to Christmas holidays the Gassers were playing with other teams of the Amarillo Athletic association and from a point of season experience the visitors have an advantage.

Coach Payne called his squad together early on the Christmas holidays. He should say not. He went about his work in a business-like manner just as if it were an ordinary ball game. In the most approved style he set down the next two hitters, the dangerous Fletcher and the remarkable pinch-hitter Ouis Grandall, on strikes, and he didn't waste many balls doing it.

It was a thrilling finish, for Wood had been pressed hard throughout the game. Going at top speed from the first inning to the finish, he registered 11 strikeouts.

Herb Pennock, in the 1927 series, turned in the most nearly perfect game I have ever seen, when he retired 22 of the Pittsburgh players in order before a man reached first base.

To Walter Johnson goes the credit of working the most thrilling extra inning battle I have ever seen in 22 years of arbitrating. It came in the 1924 classic between Washington and New York, the final game of the series, after Johnson had twice been defeated.

With the score a tie at 3-3, Johnson took up the pitching burden in the ninth. Manager Harris having used up all his available pitching in holding the Giants at bay.

In trouble in every inning, Johnson always arose to the occasion and prevented scoring, five strikeouts in four innings proving a great help.

Washington finally put over a run in the twelfth, winning the game and series, making Johnson a hero after it seemed he would be the goat.

In my next article I will discuss the few freshest bits of base running I have ever had to make a decision on.

No man can jump into the new year ahead of his neighbor—but some men will be a full mile ahead before the new year is 10 days old.

responsibility." William Millard spoke first for Gray. He said he believed Gray's confession absolutely.

"He had been in a mental haze," he said, "and during this time the crime occurred." When he at last came out of the haze, he was as revolted as though his action had been that of another man, and he was anxious that all the truth be told and he did his part to aid justice.

Although the governor rendered no decision, his remarks just before the hearing ended caused many to believe that he would extend no clemency.

He spoke with a dry smile of "this psychosis" and "twilight zone" business and told defense lawyers that much of what they had told him might better have been presented to the jury at the trial.

SHERIFF SHOT

or confirmed. Deputy Sheriff Butler, who was shot through the arm Tuesday night continued silent, as did the sheriff's family.

No Arrests Yet Seen
Chief Deputy Tom Lambert expressed the opinion that no arrests will be made pending the outcome of the sheriff's battle for life.

A. T. Russell, attorney who took a verbal statement from Sheriff Vaughn during one of the latter's lucid intervals yesterday, said the sheriff had given the name of a man whom he said fired the shot a few hundred yards from the home of Deputy Sheriff Butler.

Last Seen at 8:28
Chief Deputy Lambert today recounted last seeing Sheriff Vaughn unharmed about 8:30 p. m. Tuesday, when Vaughn had a conversation over the telephone with some one and shortly afterward left.

Lambert heard nothing more from the sheriff until about 1:30 a. m. when he said he received a call to go to the wounded man at the home of Deputy Sheriff Butler's mother-in-law, Mrs. J. S. Sumblin, who lives a few hundred yards from Butler's home.

When the lawyers were through the governor merely said, "well the hearing is over," and walked out of the room. It was understood he will render a decision on Monday.

A THING OF BEAUTY IS A JOY FOREVER
Our University Place 100 foot houses sites have a beautiful situation now and their beauty of situation and environment will surely continue to increase as the development of the Tech campus unfolds and the costly homes for which sites have already been purchased, are constructed.

Have you noticed that the general architectural scheme of Tech college buildings tend to indicate that the campus will front south and its main entrance be from 19th street.

University Place comprises the last tract of land right at the Tech's front within easy walking distance of all of its buildings.

It is the place you will want to live some day, so why not avail yourself of our low prices and easy payment plan now instead of waiting and having to pay the fancy price that such properties command when their logical development is only a bit further along.

Where else can you make a small investment that assures you of the large profits that these 100 foot highly restricted sites assure you of? INVESTIGATE.

Thought For Today

Be ye angry, and sin not; let not
the sun go down upon your wrath.—
Ephesians 4:26.

An angry man is again angry with himself when he returns to reason.—
Publius Syrus.

Service

He was on liaison duty with a battalion of the 30th Infantry
which was surrounded by the enemy
north of the Forest de la
Bulmonne of the Argonne forest.

The citation does not express the hell that was the Forest de la Bulmonne in those awful days. No
citation expresses fully the great
deed of the man it is meant to praise.

How he ran, how he dodged,
how he flattened out and crawled
inch after precious inch through
what seemed endless miles of mud,
how he fell into a shell hole just
as a hot hail of machine gun bullets
swept the field, how he felt, in that
last mad dash, the sudden
shooting pain that told him he had been hit—all this the citation
leaves out.

But that is what the man did,
and he saved "the lost battalion."
His name—probably it will not live as long as Nathan Hale's, or Paul Revere's, or Abraham Krotchinsky,
and his home New York.

Revolt

We have been hearing a great deal about the ladies breaking
their shackles and running to a new-found freedom. It has been told to us so often that this is
what's going on that most of us
perhaps have come to take it for granted.

But four women in Brooklyn the other night discussed just this very thing—Mrs. Will Durant, Elizabeth Marbury, Fannie Hurst and Texas
Graham. And from their remarks
we gather that there hasn't been
any revolt at all.

Indian!

The process of robbing the Indian may still be going on, but we must say, the red man seems to be ending.

The other day, Chief Ross Horse
of the Osage tribe, paid his annual visit to the ranch of Pawnee Bill and paid him $250 for a buffalo. The buffalo was to provide a Christmas dinner for Ross Horse's family and friends. The chief called the animal, loaded it
on a truck and carted it back to the Osage nation. A little little bit of shopping.

THE PLAINSMAN

That Girl on Broadway says her
girl's friend should have a party
and invite her dress to come down
to meet the tops of her hose.

Governor Moody. The Plain-
man notes with interest, is
ready to lock the stable door
after the horse has been stolen.

patches herein are also reserved.

Those far-sighted persons who opposed the blood money offer from
the start will get some satisfaction
from the possibility that banks cooperating in the reward fund may be legally liable for damages as a result of the Stanton fiasco. It seems no more than logical that
an organization which offers cash
prizes for manslaughter might also be given an opportunity to pay a similar prize should the manslaughter be murder through error
or greed.

As The Plainsman sees it there
is enough blood being spilt on purpose without giving someone a chance to overturn a few more buckets full by mistake. What we need in this country is fewer killings
of all kinds.

That Man on Avenue Q says that judging from the size of some of the sandwiches being sold in Lubbock
some of the caterers must be trying
to equal the record of a well known Bible story where 3,000 persons were fed with five loaves and two fish—
and considerable scraps were left over.

Jibes from bystanders caused a professional sword swallower to attempt to prove his prowess with a restaurant butcher knife and he died as a result. Could you say the unfortunate man was driven to death by cutting remarks?

One of the principal things
for which Texas should be thankful is the fact that odious
bug-spraying, the plan and anti-kiari row is a thing of the past. If you'd like to know the truth about
it, this same old harbinger
of discontent is the sole
cause of the political rumpus in Oklahoma. These conditions
now are very similar to those experienced by Texas three and four years ago. It seems that many misguided citizens of the Sooner state will feel that it is necessary for them to array
themselves upon one side of the other of the dead issue and as a result there is anything but
peace among the powers of our neighboring state. The Plains-
man, for one, is glad that the people of the Lone Star state
have been mandated enough and
prompted enough to re-
late the question to the ash
heap. Progress will be more rapid in Texas as a result.

If the Board of City Development
is to be what it really should be
directors should be elected by common ballot, just like any other city
official. Much of the money used in the operation of our Chamber of Commerce, as well as the Board of City Development is raised through taxation, and it seems to The Plainsman that directors of a municipal organization should be chosen
by the municipality.

For the benefit of those who failed to note the fact The Plainsman is happy to have an opportunity to report that one
of the men being held for the recent robbery of a Cisco bank was
the murdering of a police-
man during the hold-up, was
pardoned from the state penitentiary through action of our state governor, Mrs. James Fergu-
son. If this case were the only one of its kind which has come up in Texas since the last
change of administration most
of us would be broad minded
enough to overlook it. Since it happens "every-so-often," however, it appears that we would do well as citizens to demand
that future governors and pardon boards make some kind of
a sensible investigation before
pardoning convicts.

Since the innovation of electric
traffic signals one pioneer Lubbock
citizen has decided that although
he has resided here for forty years
he hasn't yet learned how to cross
the streets.

He cranked his motor car until
it raised his wife's alarm.
Said she, "There's something
broken."

And there was—his blooming arm.

Nobody can qualify for the 100
per cent American club these days
until he has asked Lindbergh not to do something.

Love is that which a girl has
who goes with a man who doesn't own a motor car. But maybe her idea is compassionate marriage.

Romantic Ace Superseded In New Aerial Warfare By Whole Squadron Of Planes, Rodney Dutcher Writes

IN NEW YORK
SEE-SAWING
and
BROADWAY

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Almost
every morning, if you haunt a certain Broadway corner, you will see
a small, alert man, well groomed,
with well whitened hair and
eyes that reflect, under close inspection, a capacity for quick emotional change. You feel these eyes
could fill with tears or twinkle
with a moment's notice. You feel he could tell a sentimental tale
that would break your unsophisti-
cated heart or could, with equal
ease, relate one of those stories
which begin "Stop me if you've heard this one—"

Perhaps there are many such
turning into Broadway buildings.

But only one of them composed
"Break the News to Bother,"
which was the riot of the Spanish-American war times; and "After the Ball," which rocked them in the Chicago World's Fair days; and
"Hello, Central, Give Me Heaven,"
which haunted our own various childhoods.

That one is Charles K. Harris,
who did not let the world stop moving when jazz came in. He took it as hard as the next one.
To be sure, but he has refused to admit that the good old ballads
would ever go out of style. One generation or another they all like
their ballads and "heart" songs; he will tell you—and all the jazz in the world will not change this. He is one of the last of the old guard
to be found on Broadway, but the lure of the big street has never been lost to him.

A few blocks down the "main
stream" you will find the emporium
of a younger fellow who sensed
what jazz time would do to itchy
feet. He had the most original idea that fat ladies and slender ladies, old gals and young gals alike would like to dance like
those "two blonds on the end,"
that the dance was on and most
folks wanted to be on with the band.

Within a couple of years he se-
gan to learn what he possibly already knew—and a lot of others
with him—that all the dancing latent wasn't confined to the line at
the stage door; that new and fresh
types occupied most universities,
high schools, office buildings and way points. He found that many
a "stepping foot" was spending her
time "punching a typewriter" or serving tea in Park avenue. There seemed to be no particular limit
to the hiding places of the nimble
of foot.

The other day—dropping by Ned Wayburn's emporium—I noted that
he now has 60 assistant directors,
instructors, helpers and what not—
and is about to open branches in half a dozen big cities.

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—In the few short years since the war, the character of aerial warfare has been completely revamped.

The world war saw the birth, and
the virtual passing of the romantic
ace, who operated alone in the air
like the medieval knight who fought
before he became part of a well
drilled military unit.

In our next war, if any, instead
of seeing the ace go out alone to
"get his man" we will see our
fighting planes operating in arma-
das under a commander in the air,
exactly like a unit of troops on the ground or a squadron of destroyers
on the sea. The lessons of the war and subsequent experiments are responsible for the change.

"Development of tactics since the war has demanded formation flying
as a rule rather than the exception,"
says Trubee Davison, assistant secretary of war for aviation.

"From a military point of view formation flying is fundamental. In which war, air units consisting of various numbers of planes will be led and fought by a commander
in the air. It is also a proved fact that a commander can direct his ground troops. This involves plane-
to-plane communication by radio
to replace the present somewhat
clumsy method of mechanical signs.
Planes have had marked success in talking with the ground and vice versa, but the matter of noise has been the big obstacle in the way
of good plane-to-plane radio. Air corps officers predict that whatever is necessary will be attained
in time for the next war," as it
is only a question of mechanical
progress.

There is no limit, theoretically,
to the number of planes one man
may command in the air during the "next war." Air fighting units
are classified as flight, squadrons,
groups, brigades and divisions. One of the most striking demonstrations
of group operation to date was the flight of the first pursuit group—
the Scudette Field, to San Antonio.
Between dawn and dusk, pursuit
planes flew from the northern border of the United States and concentrated at the southern border.

Popular interest in future war in the air has been excited by the completion of three big new bombing planes. These are half the six fighters being built by as many different companies for air corps experiments. From the results of the experiments and the best features of each will be devised a standard army bomber for quantity
production as part of the army's
five-year aerial expansion program,
of which this is the second year.

Possibilities of future aerial warfare are to be seen in the fact that
these new bombers fairly bristle
with machine guns, one of them
mounting eight, and that at least
away on business and, hence for several weeks no flowers were forthcoming. Whereupon the young lady received a frantic note from
the florist that went something like this: "Realizing what fresh flowers mean to the cheer and happiness of one accustomed to receiving them, we would appreciate
your sending us the present address of Mr. Williams."

GILBERT SWAN.

These are the days when father
finds his old level—dead broke?
Who said the world wasn't flat?

What this country needs is more
presidential timber and a few less congressional blocs.

Last Lines: "We were told two
could live as cheaply as one."

There are 4000 pound bombs.

The army has six types of planes,
which will be distributed as follows:

The pursuit planes are the air's
real fighting ships, being the fastest
and the most maneuverable. They are small and light and most of them are single seated and single engined.

The observation planes are utility
planes, designed to carry bombs,
machine guns and other equipment
as well as to observe. They are a compromise between the speedy little pursuit planes and the large,
slow bombers. They are used in national guard and reserve flying
with the idea that they can furnish
the best all around education.

Attack planes carry machine guns
and bombs and are designed to attack ground troops.

The largest, heaviest and slowest
of the fighting planes are the bombers. The new six and eight-gun planes are a vast step forward from
the bombing planes used over the western front ten years ago. In those days, planes carried two machine guns at the most, perhaps one
in the front of the plane synchronized to shoot through the propeller
and another in the rear cockpit.

The bombers need so many more
guns than the ordinary fighting
planes because they are so heavy and slow. Their principal job is to bombard factory towns, supply bases,
bridges or other large stationary objects of importance to the enemy.
They have a cruising radius of 600
or 800 miles, and their speed is only 110 or 115 miles an hour as against 180 or 190 miles an hour for pursuit planes.

A RESULT OF TOO
MANY PARDONS

It is a hard thing to say, but the conviction is growing that responsibility for much of the wave of bank robbery and similar crimes in Texas rests upon the shoulders of a person—or should we say two persons—who "served" Texas as governor just prior to the present
state administration.

Governor Ferguson turned loose
thousands of convicted criminals
during his two years of service in the state capitol, and it is significant that a majority of those who have been apprehended or identified in connection with major
crimes in Texas during the past two years from the ranks of those who were thus liberated from pris-
on. Some of them committed theft,
some have been guilty of burglary,
some of highway holdups or bank
robberies, some of robbery and murder. Some of them have been caught and convicted and returned
to prison; some have been wounded
or slain by posse, some are being hunted with large rewards offered
for their capture, and some have gone into exile and are probably
planning further escapades.

A governor undertakes a very
grave responsibility when he passes
upon a pardon application. We cannot escape the conclusion that
the original intention of the makers
of our government in vesting the
governor with the pardoning power
was to open up a means of correcting palpable errors in the administration of justice, and not the victim of men and women, so that
the innocent might be relieved from punishment. We cannot not believe that in justice and in law
there is any other reasonable ground for granting a pardon. But the pardoning power has been
grossly abused, not only by the Fergusons but by many other governors of Texas, who have blithely
set aside the law and the evidence
and the deliberate judgments of courts and juries, and with the flimsiest of excuses have opened
the prison gates to criminals of the most dangerous type. Texas is now paying in money and blood the
price that is inevitably exacted
when two or three thousand hard-
headed criminals are turned loose
upon their punishment has been accomplished.—Brownwood Bulletin

The pardon system is alright,
when not abused. It is just the same as any other law, it can be
correctly exercised and be a blessing to humanity, as it can be over-
worked and be a curse to the land.
This is the case in our pardon system
of Texas. Only in extreme cases
should the pardon laws of the country be put into use. We believe
there are some instances where it is alright. In the case of a prisoner being sick to death, or contracting a disease that is incurable, we are of the opinion that such a one
should be released from the prison
walls, and given a more humane
place to die or to spend his remaining days.

There are men who are in the penitentiary for violations of the laws of the state, but we are confident should not be given that sort
of punishment, but this is the fault
of the law or the jury, and not for
the governor to say.

the governor's office it seemed to
be their main work of turning pri-

confined to the prisoners who had minor charges against them, but in-

"DISTURBED SLEEP"
Is Nature's Warning of "Danger Ahead." A Healthy Bladder
Does Not Act At Night

Mrs. J. N. Alexander, Suggden,
Okla., says in her own home paper,
the Waureka News: "For twenty years I was troubled with burning and bladder acting-ten to fifteen times every night. I tried
many remedies but had no relief
until I began Ketter's Lithiated Buchu. I now sleep all night without getting up. I am willing to help others by telling or writing my full experience."

Lithiated Buchu acts on the bladder as special salts do on the bowels. Drives out foreign deposits and lessens excessive acidity.
This relieved the irritation that causes "getting up nights." The tablets cost 2c each at all drug stores. Ketter Laboratory, Me-chanicians, Chicago, Ill. Locally at

The Blazing Horizon

THE STORY THUS FAR
 When JEFF HARRISON, gambler, is killed, his 13-year-old son, TONY, is taken to the Bar K ranch in the Indian territory by JOE CRAIG, who appoints himself the boy's guardian.

There Tony is welcomed by TITUS MOORE, owner of the Bar K, and his little daughter KITTY. Another who has befriended Tony is GORDON W. LILLIE, who later becomes known as PAWNEE BILL when he teaches school at the Indian reservation in Pawnee.

In the months that follow, reports come to the Bar K of the activities of the new notorious Ben-gang, TOM BENTON being the murderer of Jeff Harrison. Craig and Tony depart for Pawnee to visit Pawnee Bill. There they learn that he is going to take a bunch of Indians with him back to California. RITA MOORE and her mother depart for Virginia to spend the summer, and Tony, now 15, learns for the first time what it is to miss someone.

Pawnee Bill in a letter to Tony, described the show business and a narrow escape of Buffalo Bill's.

CHAPTER XIII

The riding of wild buffalo was one of the acts featured in Buffalo Bill's wild west show. The animals were ferocious animals and the show had several damage suits to pay because of the devastations they committed en route to the grounds from the train and back again.

The top riders of the show had ridden all of the buffalo except one big male, called Monarch because of his size and majestic appearance. Colonel Cody a number of times had suggested to the boys that they rope and ride him.

"But," Pawnee Bill wrote, "they would miss their catch on him or someone would get onto another buffalo before he was caught, and thus up to the day we played Indianapolis Monarch had not been ridden. About 1 o'clock that afternoon the colonel drove up to the grounds with a party of friends with whom he had had lunch at a club.

"Before the show started he called the men together and said, 'Now, boys, when we get to the buffalo riding act I want you to rope old Monarch and ride him. I've a party of real friends in the audience today, including the governor and the mayor of the city. Let's give them a real wild west show.'

"The boys tried to argue the matter with him, but he just laughed it off, saying he could ride him himself easily. When the colonel stepped away they all rode him. When and agreed to ride him. When the show came, Colonel Cody was right there and rode in with us. He holloed to Buck Taylor and Jim Lawson our two best men, to rope Monarch. Buck caught him a few minutes around the show and heled him, and in a few minutes they had him roped and on the ground ready for a rider to mount.

"No one came forward, so the colonel called to Jim Bullock, who is considered our best steer and buffalo rider, to ride him. But Bullock refused, saying he thought he was too dangerous. Colonel Cody then called to one or two of the other boys to ride him. They also refused. Dismounting, he said, 'I've got more nerve than all of you put together.' He walked over and got aboard and holloed to the boys to turn him loose. Monarch bounded to his feet, ran a short distance, and then started to buck, and finally threw the colonel high in the air. When he struck the ground he never moved. The buffalo did not turn and attack him, which we expected him to do, but kept on running.

"I, with a number of the boys rushed to Colonel Cody, who was insensible and lay as if dead. We carried him to one of the landaus and he was rushed to the hospital. The following day was our last in Indianapolis. The colonel remained in the hospital two weeks and kept sober until we hit Chicago.

"When he joined us again he was a different looking man. It was the first time since I had joined the show that I had seen him free from liquor. What a difference it made in him, and what a handsome man he was. It carried me back again to my first sight of him back in Bloomington. He's about 45 now, but in the very prime of manhood."

There was more in the lengthy letter, including a detailed account of the towns the show had visited, and all of it was highly exciting to Tony and Harrison. They had played Boston and New York—or, rather, they had played Chicago. They had done a crowd of 6,000 at their first Sunday, the largest, it was said that had ever gathered at an exhibition with an admission charge.

"The boy was quite determined now that when the time arrived when he should leave the ranch he would go with Pawnee Bill. That evening Joe Miller rode over from the 101 and the next morning Tony accompanied him when he rode back.

"Joe had confided something of the plans he was making. 'Maybe you'd like to go along. I'll see if it can be arranged.'

But the serious-minded Joe Miller shook his head. He was firmly in the cattle business with his father and brother. 'If I ever want to go into the show business it will be for myself. Tony, meanwhile, there's too much to do to think about it.'

He would be in Caldwell for the fair, though, and to see the race. 'Old Titus has nicked a tough one to beat. I know that Black Diamond horse. I've seen him run.'

"He's fast?"

"He's everything, and strong as a bull. It's a good thing the race isn't a longer one. I wouldn't say it to Titus Moore, but that stallion would break any horse's heart at a mile or more."

Tony considered this thoughtfully. "What do you think about it?" he asked.

TEXAS WELL IN LEAD IN VALUE OF ALL CROPS

AVERAGE YIELD GOOD AND VALUE FIXED AT $730,000,000

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Jan. 5.—Texas, the nation's biggest state, leads all others in value of crops in 1927 and stood first in production of cotton, sorghums, potatoes and pecans, according to the annual crop summary prepared by H. H. Schultz, government statistician here.

Value of all Texas crops was $730,000,000 as compared with $502,000,000 for Iowa, the next nearest, and $435,000,000 for California, which ranked third.

Average Yield Good

Texas acre crop yields this year, Mr. Schultz said in his report, averaged 96.5 per cent of the average yields of the past ten years. Yields might even have been better, Mr. Schultz indicated, had it not been for a shortage of moisture during the first six months of the year over much of the south and west which reduced yields and delayed planting.

Also he said, "excessive amounts of rainfall over the northeast fourth of the state early in the season were followed by moisture deficiency and high temperature which caused severe reduction in yields of growing crops."

Other outstanding features, Mr. Schultz notes, are "the fruit crops were cut short by late freezing temperatures" and that "cotton insects and disease were more widespread than in several years."

"Yet, taken as a whole," Mr. Schultz declares, "the past season was more satisfactory than usual. The principal crops exceeded in value those of 1926 by $103,000,000. While growers of small grains had unsatisfactory crops and most of the

DECIDUOUS FRUIT WAS INJURED BY COLD, AND COTTON YIELDS WERE BELOW THE AVERAGE, THE CROP WAS MAINLY GOOD AS WERE ALSO THE GRAIN SORGHUMS AND THE HAY CROPS.

The raisers of cattle, sheep, goats, swine and poultry had a good year.

Farmers Live at Home

Generally speaking also, Mr. Schultz finds, "more farmers made their living at home this year than in a long time, and as a result most of them have been enabled to liquidate unfortunate debts of last year as well as for the season just ended. Many now have a comfortable surplus of funds, food and feed to last well into 1928. A greater interest is noticeable in the use of better seed, in terracing the land, in livestock improvement and in again turning the farm into a place where a satisfactory living can be made."

KELLOGG PLAN

between the members of the League of Nations.

Raps Nicaragua Policy

The Daily News while expressing pleasure at the United States' sociated itself by the proposals in the language of peace" thinks "the invitation comes rather unfortunately at the moment America is waging a not very creditable war in Nicaragua."

Downing street officials say that the American government has been in the direction of the Kellogg proposal, a movement which has long been part of British policy.

Germany Willing To Hear Proposal

BERLIN, Jan. 5 (AP)—Unofficial information indicates that Germany would be willing to participate in Secretary of State Kellogg's proposal for treaties to outlaw war.

While official comment was not available on the ground that Germany has not yet been invited to join in a multi-lateral treaty, the correspondent was unofficially informed that German diplomats regard the Kellogg proposal, if realized, as an important step in the direction of world peace.

Nothing Seen On Way

"So far as Germany is concerned," it was stated, "nothing stands in the way of supporting Secretary Kellogg's move as the proposal lies in the direction of the entire German post war policy of pacification."

Discussing the Kellogg proposals editorially, Vorwaerts, the socialist newspaper, declares that the United States is following a policy of "double standard of morals."

"Toward the Central American small states she acts like a police chief mobilizing his police, while she attempts to unite the co-equal great powers in a general peace pact," says the newspaper.

TEXAS BANKERS MAY BE CALLED IN DAMAGE SUIT

DALLAS, Jan. 5 (AP)—Bankers of the eleventh federal reserve district will meet in open session here January 12 instead of January 6, Colonel C. C. Walsh, chairman of the board of directors said today.

This change has been made, Colonel Walsh said, because January 10 is election day for officials of member banks.

The board of directors will hold an executive session on January 11 preparatory to the open meeting, he said.

The bankers will consider protests against policies of the parent bank under Lynn P. Talley, present governor.

FOR WORKING PEOPLE

The best of workers get out of sorts when the liver fails to act. They feel languid, half-sick, blue, and discouraged and think they are getting lazy. Neglect of these symptoms might result in a sick spell, therefore the sensible course is to take a dose of two of Herbine. It is just the medicine needed to purify the system and restore the vim and ambition of health. Price 60c. Sold by LUBBOCK DRUG CO.—Adv.

GOTHAM ANGEL SHOWN AS BIG BUSINESS AIDE

LOST FORTUNE IN OIL, BORROWED AND THEN HELPED LENDOR

(By Associated Press) NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Edgar B. Davis, the "angel" of the only free show ever presented on Broadway, today was revealed as a man "who grubstaked" a friend for $6,000,000 in gratitude for a $37,000 loan which led to his own entry into the millionaire class.

The friend was Frank A. Seiberling. The two met in New York 20 years ago when Davis was president of the United States Tire and Rubber company and Seiberling was head of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company.

Spends Fortune For Oil

Davis later quit the rubber industry and spent his entire fortune in a vain search for oil in Texas. Pressed for money, but confident he would strike oil, he appealed to Seiberling, whom he had not seen for ten years. Seiberling loaned him $37,000. Davis struck oil, and sold his holdings to the Standard Oil company for $12,000,000.

In 1920, finding himself out of Goodyear and virtually "broke," Seiberling organized a rubber company bearing his name. His assets were taken over by the Prudential Securities company, which Davis helped organize, putting in $300,000 himself, and endorsing notes for $5,500,000.

Last year Seiberling rubber returned a net profit of $1,356,707. And a few days ago, Seiberling took up the notes and released Davis as guarantor. Davis refused to accept interest, Seiberling said.

Organize New Company

The two have now organized a new corporation, which now holds 131,000 shares of Goodyear common stock, valued at yesterday's closing price at $9,170,000.

Davis came into public notice when he backed "The Leader," known as the greatest flop ever to enjoy a run on Broadway. The play opened in October, 1925, and has been a financial failure since its opening night. Davis is estimated to have lost $750,000 on its production but has announced he has no intention of withdrawing it. The play deals with repatriation, a theory Davis encountered in India and in which he firmly believes. Admission to the show recently has been free.

SALVAGE WORK

honor them. One body was identified as that of Lieutenant Joseph A. McGinley of Morristown, Pa., who stuck to his post in order that a brother officer, assigned to leave him might spend Xmas at home.

Bodies Fully Clothed

The bodies came from Provincetown aboard the destroyed Maury. Officer Joseph L. Eiben, the first diver to make the submerged, was found there, fully clothed, in the oil-dimmed water that flooded the engine compartment.

One of the two unidentified bodies was clothed in the uniform of a machinist's mate while the other apparently was a petty officer. The cold water had left all three in a good state of preservation. The men appeared to have been drowned rather than suffocated.

Divers at Provincetown were hopeful today that they would be able to make an inquiry respecting if operations. They were forced to quit yesterday when weather conditions grew unfavorable.

Search Abandoned

Three divers who were sent below after the bodies were found, planned to complete exploration of the engine room but had to return to the surface without making further progress.

Their entry into the submarine is primarily for the purpose of sealing compartments and adjusting valves preparatory to unswamping process which will precede lifting operations with pontoons.

S-S Commander Talks

Lieutenant Frank L. Worden, commander of the ill-fated craft's sister ship, the S-8, testified at the naval court of inquiry that he believed the S-4 was just completing her day's work of submerged trials when rammed and sunk by the coast guard destroyer Paulding on December 17.

He said he did not believe it necessary to post a guard ship to warn surface craft when a submarine was operating submerged because it would mean just one additional ship to watch and keep clear of.

Texas Bankers To Meet January 12

(By Associated Press) DALLAS, Jan. 5.—The Texas Bankers association's offer of $5,000 reward for dead bank bandits may make it a defendant in a contemplated suit for $175,000 for the death of two Mexicans and the wounding of a third in front of a bank at Stanton, Texas, last month.

R. Cantu Lara, Mexican consul here, announced, after a conference with the Mexican consul general at San Antonio, that such a suit was being prepared in the interest of the smiles of the dead men.

The men accused of the shooting are C. C. Blaize, deputy sheriff of Tarrant county, and Lee Smith of Wink. Mr. Lara said $25,000 would be asked as actual damages and $150,000 as exemplary damages.

MARINE-REBEL FIGHT SOON IS HELD UNLIKELY

SANDINO LOSSES ARE BELIEVED HEAVIER THAN REPORTED

(By Associated Press) MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Jan. 5.—Hard hit by clashes with American marines last Friday and on Sunday, the rebel forces of Augustino Sandino are keeping well under cover and no battle is regarded as imminent at El Chipote, the rebel stronghold for the present.

Colonel Mason Gulick, commander of the marine forces here, said today that the rebels had not been seen for several days and that their defeat appeared more severe than was first reported.

Reinforcements have arrived at all the marine garrisons in Nueva Segovia, scene of the fighting, and all is reported quiet in that region. The American wounded will be evacuated shortly.

Wheeler Demands Probe Of Policy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—Charging that the executive branch of the government is carrying on war in Nicaragua, Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, proposed an investigation of the use of marines in that country in a resolution offered today. He had previously announced he would ask such an investigation.

Names Of Wounded On Sunday Given

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Jan. 5 (AP)—The names of four marines wounded on Sunday in a clash with Nicaraguan rebels were received here today. They were:

Edward L. Pondiski of St. Paul, who was seriously wounded; L. Hooks of New Orleans, John C. Coyle of Weymouth, Mass., and Corporal Walter Henry of Oklahoma City. All slightly wounded.

Sergeant Thomas G. Bruce, who was a lieutenant in the Nicaraguan national guard, was killed in Sunday's fight, and Lieutenant Merton A. Richal, commander of the detachment, was wounded. Their names had previously been reported, but the identity of the other four casualties did not reach Managua until today.

STATE'S MOTION IN "KING DAVID" CASE IS DENIED

(By Associated Press) LANSING, Mich., Jan. 5.—The state supreme court today denied a motion by the state for a modification of a recent order staying a lower court receivership decree against the House of David colony.

The state sought to increase the bond posted by the colony pending an appeal, secure an immediate inventory of the organization's assets and enjoin the cult from disposing of its personal holdings.

The court's action today means the colony will continue without a receiver, and that only $25,000 bond will be required; that the colonists may continue to conduct their own affairs and that "Queen" Mary Farnell need not go into exile at least until the court has acted upon an appeal from the receivership decree.

JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE

The Greatest Sale
Of The Entire Winter Season

Here Are Four Pages Of Detailed Price
Quotations That Bear Witness To The Fact
That While We Have Only Two Sales Each Year When
We Do, Real Money Saving Opportunities Are Yours

There is a difference in the Sale policy of many stores. There is a difference in "Sales"—some stores have "Sale" after "Sale"—others none at all—still others very few. This store falls in the class store that has very few "sales" only two each year to be exact. One in July and one in January. Why do we mention this? Simply because the different method of 'sale' operation have a decided effect on the method of establishing "regular" prices. At this store our goods are priced entirely at figures that we ask and receive for them every day—figures that we are sure represent their correct worth. This being the case, at Sale-time here, savings are decidedly greater for they are bonafide reductions from correct regular prices.

Only one idea prompts this Clearance Sale. We have had a most successful season and are now willing to sacrifice all remaining items—to dispose of them without profit to ourselves—that we may be in a position to supply you with fresh new goods during the Spring Season, soon to arrive.

We never resort to "High Powered" Sales methods—big sounding claims—Hurrah. It is our idea to simply quote you real reductions on standard high grade merchandise and to let your better judgement prompt you. If you prefer this kind of sale you will find much to interest you here during the next two weeks.

JANUARY CLEARANCE

Friday We Begin Our Sixth Annual Event—A Time in Which Goods With Reductions Ranging From 1-4, 1-3 To 1-2 Off Assurance That In Every Case The Quality Is Guaranteed

Have you noticed how carefully this store has always been with its use of the word "SALE"—how we constantly mean but one thing—an offering of merchandise at a material reduction from actual value. We do not claim to be worth at all times in our slogan. But twice each year we do have "SALES"—Sales with a capital "S," for on these money—it's just that twice each year you can buy our merchandise at MUCH LESS THAN "WORTH THE MONEY" when we clear away all remaining winter merchandise in a quick event—the Clearance that Lubbock folks wait for the effects of constant sales nor cheapen by the inclusion of "bankrupt" stocks or "special Job Lot" purchases.

LADIES FINE COATS DISCOUNTED NOW FOR THE FIRST TIME

TRYOUTS SOON BEGIN ON FARM RELIEF BILLS

McNARY-HAUGEN BILL REMAINS AS PRIMARY MEASURE DISCUSSED

BY EDWARD DUFFY
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Tryouts will begin soon of bills for which a leading place is sought in farm relief efforts of the seventeenth congress, with McNary-Haugen measure forced to justify itself in committee hearings again before winning the star role.

Several Understudies
Several aspiring understudies to the McNary-Haugen measure emerged early in the session. The merits of all will be examined closely by the senate and house agriculture committees before any choice is recommended. As chairman of the senate committee, McNary of Oregon will direct committee hearings in that body. The whip hand is held in the house committee by Haugen of Iowa.

Favoritism on behalf of their joint protégé is not expected, however, since both committees are pledged to give equal consideration to all farm relief propositions. It is likely that the McNary-Haugen bill be scrutinized most closely, because of its passage in the senate and house last session.

Some aspects of the prospective set have been revised, following the criticism accorded it by President Coolidge in his veto message. Limitations placed upon the president in appointment of the federal farm board, which he said appeared unconstitutional, have been cut out. Application of the relief provisions only for producers of cotton, wheat, corn, rice, tobacco and swine also.

NOTHING LIKE IT ON EARTH
The new treatment for torn flesh, cuts, wounds, sores or lacerations that is doing such wonderful work in flesh healing is the Boronone liquid and powder combination treatment. The liquid Boronone is a powerful antiseptic that purifies the wound of all poisons and infectious germs, while the Boronone powder is the great healer. There is nothing like it on earth for speed, safety and efficiency. Price (liquid) 30c, 60c and $1.20. Powder 30c and 60c. Sold by LUBBOCK DRUG CO.—Adv.

have been eliminated, and producers of all agricultural commodities would be aided instead. President Coolidge said that the former bill "inescapably" contemplated "that farmers in some regions should be penalized for the benefit of those in other regions."

Same Fundamentally
The fundamental proposal of the McNary-Haugen program, however, retains the same equalization fee to which the president objected most strenuously. It was principally this innovation that President Coolidge said would "merely aggravate conditions which are the cause of the farmer's present distress."

Summed up, the white house criticism which rejected the McNary-Haugen bill told the senate that "it is impossible to see how this bill can work." In the intervening time no farm relief program has been evolved which seems certain to win favor both at the capitol and the white house. That is why the forthcoming hearings are being watched closely by all interested in the problem, who wonder just what the grand finale will hold and when it will materialize.

Four Senate, Seven House
Among bills aiming at farm relief are four principal senate bills and seven house bills, several of which embody some general features of the McNary-Haugen measure of last session. One of these, which lacks the equalization fee provision but provides for loans to farm cooperatives, is sponsored by Senator Caraway, democrat, Arkansas.

Senator Robinson, democrat, Arkansas, introduced a bill to "find markets and to provide credits for financing the exportation of surplus agricultural products." Senator Brookhart, republican independent, Iowa, is sponsoring a "farmers export cooperative act" for handling the exportable agriculture surplus.

Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, would create a federal agricultural corporation "to give American farmers economic guidance of the production and economic assistance in the marketing of basic commodities."

Representative Lankford, democrat, Georgia, would create a farmers finance corporation to provide for a system of loans on farm products. He also proposes a federal farm board to aid in disposition of the agricultural surplus.

Prevention of overproduction of farm commodities is the solution proposed by Representative Anthony, republican, Kansas, who would create a federal farm board for that purpose and also to aid in marketing, controlling and disposing of any surplus.

Creation of an American stabilizing commission is the solution proposed by Representative Christopherson, republican, South Dakota. Stabilization would be effected by this commission through purchase of any surplus.

Representative Crisp, democrat,

JARDINE SEES BETTER TIMES FOR FARMERS

INDEPENDENCE OF ALL AGRICULTURE HELD POSSIBLE SOON

By FRANK J. WELLER
(Associated Press Farm Editor)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—After three years at the helm of the nation's first industry, William M. Jardine, secretary of agriculture, is confident that the new year will bring a broader economic independence to the farming enterprise.

His view is predicated on the remarkably even balance of production in 1927 and the fact that America is constantly less at the mercy of recalcitrant world markets.

Self-Sufficiency
"How soon shall we expect a national self-sufficiency in agriculture?" he was asked.

"Not in 1928, perhaps," the answer came, "but certainly within the next decade. We came nearer it last year than any time in history. We shall go much farther in 1928, and I am just as sure the farmer will be on top the next year as he is at the bottom."

The secretary made a point of the fact that population rapidly is overtaking farm production, opening home channels for crops that once were burdened with a surplus, and insuring cash and constant markets.

Leading Exports
Cotton, wheat and pork are among the leading exports. A third of all American farm land is engaged in production of the former. Cotton is the country's greatest cash crop and is expected always to depend to some extent on foreign markets. Wheat exports have dwindled as have exports of other important crops an indication, Jardine says, that domestic markets are augmenting agriculture's trend toward a self-sufficient basis.

"It could not," the secretary answered. He explained that the transition may be labored and belated, and without the aid proposed in Georgia, has introduced a bill to establish a federal farm board in the department of agriculture, to help agriculture "to organize effectively for orderly marketing."

congress be disastrously retarded. In addition to the absence of marked overproduction in any one crop last year, Secretary Jardine is encouraged by an apparent plan of balanced planting. No prices were abnormally high or abnormally low, leading to belief that 1928 can be "nothing but a satisfactory year," since production likely will not swing in any marked direction.

More Wheat Average
Jardine was pleased to find winter wheat acreage increased ten per cent. The bulk of increase has been in the Mississippi valley. Potato prices, he said, likely will not stimulate increased planting in 1928. The value of this year's crop showed a decrease of $100,000,000. A much smaller crop than last year, cotton increased $330,000,000 in value and corn, expected to be a failure until favorable weather came in September, increased $285,000,000 in value.

Corn Prospects
Better corn prospects, he said, led to the purchase of feeder stock in the middle west during November. Ranchers are optimistic. The dairy industry is in good position. Pork prospects likely will be better, but there will be little increase in the number of beef animals despite a market that has been climbing all the year. Cattle, generally, is in a favorable position.

DENTAL CLINIC
A free dental clinic for children in the first two grades of rural schools of Alabama has been announced by the State health officer, who is acting in cooperation with the dentists of the State. The new service will begin with one dentist, who will travel from county to county visiting the schools. The staff will be increased as the work becomes better organized.

FATHERS IN P. T. A.
Of 28 parent-teacher associations in Flint, Mich., 17 have fathers as presidents. Among men filling other important positions are 23 vice presidents and 7 treasurers. Five men are members of the executive committee of the Flint Parent-Teacher Association's Council, and six men are heads of important committees. Parent-teacher meetings show an increasing attendance of fathers.

BRITONS LAUD PROBATION AS PRISON REFORM

20TH ANNIVERSARY OF SYSTEM CELEBRATED OVER KINGDOM

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Jan. 5.—British lawyers, judges, and persons interested in penitentiary reform are celebrating the twentieth anniversary of England's introduction of the system of probation.

In 1907 the Probation of Offenders act came into operation, at a time when sentences were unusually severe and defendants were sometimes sentenced to 30 years for stealing a loaf of bread.

Since then the whole method of punishing criminals has undergone a change, and British lawyers declare that the probationary system has worked admirably. Thousands of convicted persons were prevented by it, they say, from becoming confirmed criminals.

When the Probation of Offenders act was put in to effect 3,000 persons a year came under its provisions. Today 30,000 defendants a year are put out on probation.

Graduate Schools
Graduate schools of education were attended this summer by the county superintendent and 11 of the 13 principals of township high schools in Kosciusko County, Ind. The two principals who did not attend hold M. A. degrees. Of the 188 teachers of county schools, 90 per cent spent either the summer of the previous school year in study in colleges or normal schools.

the privilege of probation. The system has brought praise from English lawyers. Only seven per cent of those placed on probation have been made to appear for judgment. The Northern Recorder reported recently that of 50 persons he had placed on probation only one had lapsed.

TRAINED LIBRARIAN
Services of a trained librarian are available for pupils in junior and senior high schools of Denver, Colo., and similar service will be gradually extended through the elementary schools. Since 1920 school librarians have been placed on the teachers' salary schedule, and the same standards are required for them as for teachers. A supervisor of libraries was appointed in 1924.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA
Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

AN EASY WAY TO LOSE FAT
Instead of abnormal exercise or diet, they combat a cause of excess fat. They supply an element Nature employs to turn food into fuel and energy. This method was discovered by research men some two decades ago. It has for 20 years been embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. Millions of boxes have been taken, and almost every circle shows the results in new beauty, new health and vitality.

Announcing The VICTORY SIX BY DODGE BROTHERS

From an engineering standpoint The Victory is radically new, radically different and thoroughly original—is literally years ahead of its time in many vital features.

In a very real sense, too, it compares with no other car of class, because NO car, either here or abroad, provides features that are comparable. To enjoy these advantages you must buy THIS car, for elsewhere they simply do not exist.

Revolutionary New Principles of Design
1. For the first time since the invention of the automobile, the chassis and body of The Victory are a single integral unit—the wide, deep Victory chassis frame, flush with the lines of the body, replaces the customary body sills. (Heretofore, the body was mounted on a sill and both in turn mounted on the chassis.)
2. For the first time in history, battleship construction (i.e., double steel walls) is here applied to the motor car.

Spectacular Performance
The results of these, and other basic innovations are astonishing in their effect on every phase of motor car value; beauty, comfort, safety, strength and most impressive and important of all—performance itself.

With chassis and body a single unit, there are 350 fewer parts—175 pounds less weight—and an extremely low center of gravity.

The results are greater motor efficiency—increased power—quicker pick-up—greater stability and flexibility in relation to load—an easier car to handle—a faster car to drive! 21 miles to the gallon at 25 miles per hour is precisely what you can expect—with sustained high speed all day long at instant call!

Drive over cobbles and await the usual discomfort—it will never occur! The Victory is the smoothest riding car, for its type, ever built.

Safe, Strong and Stable
Because the chassis frame conforms precisely with the body lines—and because of the car's low center of gravity (weight close to the ground) The Victory is remarkably stable—tipping, skidding and swaying are reduced to a point positively negligible!
Turn a sharp corner and you will understand!

And the double steel walls mean double protection in case of accident—double the safety of any type yet known. A staunch body, with doors that close with a substantial and non-metallic snap.

Quiet and Comfortable
The aim of all engineering is simplicity, for simplicity means economy—strength—SILENCE. There are only 3 major parts in The Victory body—and they are welded into a single unit. Not a joint to squeak or rattle. A silent body.

And Dodge Brothers powerful new six-cylinder motor—specially engineered for The Victory—preserves this luxurious quietness still speeds.

A Car of Striking Beauty
Body and chassis built as a single unit—without the customary body sill—permits lower over-all height with liberal head-room and road-clearance.

Splash shields, a constant source of noise and annoyance are replaced by the wide, deep Victory chassis frame; wide, heavy-gauge one-piece fenders and drum-type head-lamps are provided. Upholstery, hardware, instruments, color combinations and other appointments satisfy the most exacting demands of style and good taste.

Indeed, you have a distinct and thrilling impression that the car in which you are riding is long, low, swift and safe—a car of surpassing originality and smartness down to the smallest detail.
