Leader To Close Premium Bargain Offer February 1

Management Well Pleased With Campaign As Mailing Lists Swell

With practically all of the old subscribers already renewed and extended ahead of time and a large number of new subscribers now on The Leader mailing list, it was announced Wednesday that The Leader bargain rates of $1 for one year with a free broom offer, will definitely expire on February 1.

The Leader management is well pleased with the results of the re- cent campaign, which not only add- ed many new readers to the list, but also proved the loyalty of the paper's readers as many of the new and renewal subscriptions were voluntary on the part of readers who walked into the or- fice and placed their subscription or renewal.

Since the supply of premiums is running short and the list of the paper gives a maximum coverage of the county, February 1 will be absolutely the last chance to re- new to The Leader at the present bargain rate.

Many Hunters Out As Quail Season Draws To Close

Due to the fact that numerous persons have inquired at The Leader office during the past week wanting to know when the quail season closes, the following infor- mation is reprinted from the Tex- as Game Laws.

The Texas open season opened December 1 and closes on January 16, both days inclusive. The bag limit is twelve quail a day or 36 quail a week.

With the close of the season only a few days off, scores of hunters have been out practically every day this week and promise to give a good account of them- selves for the remaining five days of the season.

Farmers Sponsor Relief Meeting At Court House

Progress Hampered By Lack Of Attendance At Meeting Saturday

To Meet Again

Farmers Will Hold Sec- ond Session In District Courtroom January 14

In what was termed a prelimin- ary educational meeting, a small but representative group of far- mers met at the courthouse Sat- urday, January 7, to discuss debts secured by mortgages as well as taxation and government expense. Approximately thirty-five farmers were present at the meeting, which was presided over by Judge R. H. Templeton.

Due to the limited size of the crowd it was decided to make the first one a preliminary meeting, and to call a second meeting for Saturday, January 14, at 2 p. m. in the district court room. In an introductory talk, Judge Temple- ton summarized the conditions that had made the meeting necessary.

To Enforce Economy

"Every official who ran for of- fice last year promised economy," he declared, "and it is up to us to see that they keep those prom- ises. That is what this meeting is —an attempt of the farmers to or- ganize and express their collec- tive opinion. For years laws have been passed at every session of the legislature, and now is time for us to express ourselves."

"While he mentioned no specific action, Judge Templeton pointed out the need of a law in Texas which would enable the man who has property foreclosed under a mortgage to be able to redeem that land at the price for which it sold. Oklahoma has such a law, he stat- ed, which also provides for the land to be appraised before it is sold instead of letting it sell for whatever it will bring.

Needs Consideration

He also pointed out the need of taking careful steps as the pro- gram must be fair for the loan man as well as to the man who has a loan. And then he electri- fied those present by declaring that the foreclosure of land is do- ing more to ruin the government than anything else, and he dis- cussed the possibility of a mora-

Local Fire Department Shows Good Record With Only $3.000 Loss Here During 1932

Showing more than a 90 per cent reduction in fire losses in Wel- lington during the year of 1932, Bura Handley, fire chief, said Wednesday that local fire losses had dropped from an average of between $40,000 and $60,000 a to $3,090 during 1932.

"Until the first of last year Wel- lington was paying a 15 per cent penalty over the par rate on in- surance," Mr. Handley said. "Last year the figure was cut to a nine per cent penalty and this year we hope that the penalty may again be reduced."

During the past twelve months Wellington had eleven fires, sev- en of which were put cut with chemicals and four of which re- quired the use of water. The greatest loss during 1932 was a $1,500 fire.

Total maintenance of the fire department here during 1932 cost the city exactly $2,172.87. This figure includes the upkeep of the fire trucks, gasoline, salaries and every other expense involved in the operation of the fire depart- ment.

Since the department answered eleven calls, it is estimated by di- viding the number of fires into the total expenditure that during

The Graham Mercantile Store, located on the southwest corner of the town section, was broken into and robbed of $40 worth of mer- chandise Saturday morning. Shields is being held in the county jail here in Wellington.

Ed Prior Saturday morning confiscated twenty half-gallon jars of whiskey in the northwest part of town, but no arrests were made in connection with the seizure of the liquor.

WATCH YOUR MACHINE

Every prudent person who owns and operates a piece of machinery is careful to see that it is kept in good condition. This is generally done through frequent inspections to detect unusual wear and tear, so as to have the necessary repairs made before the machine actually breaks down.

The most important piece of machinery of all, however, is often sadly neglected. We refer to the human body, the machine upon which all joy of living depends.

It is well that people are more and more getting the habit of having periodical physical examinations, even though they be apparently in good health. By these examinations incipient disease may often be detected long before the person examined would have felt any discomfort from it. This is particularly true of diseases which attack internal organs such as the heart, lungs, liver and kdneys.

Every person, especially those getting along toward middle age, should have a thorough physical examination at least once a year, whether they feel any symptoms of disease or not. If no disease be found, it is a great satisfaction to know that one is sound physically, while a warning of disease in its first stages enables one to obtain treatment which may check its progress and materially prolong life.

Most large life insurance companies may afford their policyholders free medical examinations once a year and this privilege should be taken advantage of by all means. If no insurance policy be carried, the fee for such an examination is small and may save much suffering and expense in the future. Watch your human machine.

What Do The Old Ones Do?

Believe It or Don't, but I heard Lois Sherwood swearing to beat the band recently. That just goes to show how bad things can sound and still not be bad. Lois was merely taking the oath of office just like all of the other new officials had to do and just like I said, she was swearing. That isn't the half of it, however, because if the candidates who get elected swear, just what do you imagine the candidates who got defeated do? I really think the new county officials should give a big chicken dinner for the candidates who lost —and they should invite me for thinking of the idea.

Last week Deck was out of town for a couple of days and Boyd Barjenbruch brought us in some sausage. I was afraid that Deck's part would spoil so I just took it home and ate it, too. All of which made Deck feel fine.

A Bouquet For Deck Wells

While I am on the subject of Deck, I want him to know that I did not say he wasn't running the Wellington Leader, which he intimated in his column sometime ago. I am beginning to think that Deck is a publicity hound—and even Ralph Ball says he don't care who runs the paper. I personally believe that Deck has two reasons for jumping on me in his column. First, he wanted everyone to know that he was a big shot—and second, his conscience was hurting him because he does so little work. He just watched my slaving away my youth day after day, night after night—and he got to wondering if people thought I was running the paper just because I worked so hard and so much. Of course this may not have been his motive, but that is what I think and incidently what I would say even if I did not think so.

Dr. Jones seems to think it was funny because I had a date the other night and some dirty —⅞N-POA! stole my car. Right off, I can tell you that it wasn't at all funny. Besides, I know who committed the theft and as soon as I think up some punishment bad enough two young ladies are going to wish they hadn't committed the crime.

Wellington, Texas

Dear Mr. Lewis:

Thank you for sending us a copy of your newspaper advertising of Thursday, December 8th. Very naturally many of these clippings come to us from the different "M" System Stores, and most sincerely we can express our good opinion of the one you present. It is not always that a small town newspaper can produce an advertisement as clear and attractive as is yours. Frequently the small papers do not have the necessary style of type to dress attractive advertisements.

In a paper that has a broad circulation, Mr. Lewis, you are bound to reap some benefit from continuous and consistent advertising. When the writer owned Piggly Wiggly Stores prior to 1925, I frequently spent as much as $750.00 per month on newspaper publicity. Naturally it was profitable or else I should not have continued and I did continue pitilessly. I am a firm advocate, Mr. Lewis, of properly presented and vigorous publicity.

Yours truly,

L. W. REED COMPANY

WINTER PLOTS A WICKED CRIME

THE VICTIMS: Those Motors Using Ordinary Oil that Drains Away from Heated Working Surfaces.

THE TIME: Those Cold Starting Minutes While Precious Motor Parts Must Run Dry at Warming Speed Until Oil Is Pumped from Below.

THE QUART THAT STAYS UP IN YOUR MOTOR AND NEVER DRAINS AWAY

*The Germ Proces (exclusive Conoco pa ent) imparts to thi motor oil that peculi ability to penetrate and combine with metal surfaces. Of the first filling about one quart will "hide" itself up in your motor's precious working parts. This hidden quart n-e-v-e-r drains away. It becomes a part of the motor itself; worth its weight in gold.

CONOCO

The One Oil that Gives You Perfect Protection for Winter's Worst Days Ahead

Drip! trickle! drip! through long night hours, ordinary oil drains away. When the pump quits, ordinary oil quits, leaving the motor's parts high and dry. You touch the starter. The motor roars. The pump strains at the sluggish oil. It is only a few minutes till circulation is completed. But in the meantime, working surfaces only partly lubricated are in contact, while the motor makes three to five thousand revolutions. This causes 50% of all motor wear.

Prevent this loss. Choose not merely a quick oil, but an oil that never leaves. Choose the oil with the *hidden quart that penetrates and combines with the metal surfaces of the motor itself. In the emergency of an empty crankcase, users have driven many miles, without damage, on this *hidden quart alone. This proves that your motor need never suffer while waiting upon the pump. Don't remain in doubt. Drain and refill wit the *hidden quart oil today.

Celebrate Fiftieth Anniversary

Pictured above are Mr. and Mrs. H. Melton, who celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary Saturday, January 7. Seventy kinsmen and guests attended the affair and the number included 35 grandchildren and seven great grand children.

Seventy Kinsmen And Friends Attend Golden Wedding Celebration At Quail

With a large group of relatives and friends coming from such distant points as Tennessee and Colorado in attendance, Mr. and Mrs. H. Melton celebrated the Golden Wedding anniversary at their home four and one half miles from Quail at noon Saturday, January 7.

The occasion was attended by about 70 friends and kinsmen of the couple and each of their ten living children were included in the group.

The celebration also marked the twenty-sixth year that Mr. and Mrs. Melton have lived in Texas and Collingsworth county.

Mr. Melton, 76, and Mrs. Melton, 69, were married January 7, 1893 in Big Sandy, Tennessee by J. H. Farmer. The Quail community in which Mr. and Mrs. Melton first lived was an entirely different place from that which is now known as one of the most progressive little communities in Collingsworth county.

When the couple first came to this section Quail was only the smallest of villages with a very few stores and fewer modern conveniences. Instead of the brick schoolhouse which now stands in the community, a small school which had been created in 1902 served the community. Nor were the churches greatly developed at that time. A Baptist church had been built at Quail five years before they moved here. Both Mr. and Mrs. Melton are members and workers in the Methodist church and were instrumental in organizing the first Methodist church there in 1909.

Although Mr. and Mrs. Melton are the parents of twelve children, only ten of them are living and each of the ten was present for the anniversary celebration, including: H. E. Melton, H. A. Melton and family, and O. C. Melton, all of Pueblo, Colorado; Wayne Melton of Childress; Mrs. E. G. Pierce, Mrs. C. M. Weaver, Mrs. A. C. Adcock, and Otis Melton, all of Quail; Mrs. W. T. Cherry of Shamrock; F. H. Melton and family of Wellington.

Others who attended the celebration were Mack Bourland, Jim Cherry, H. M. Dowdy, Mrs. H. M. Dowdy, Mrs. Eunice Boone, Mrs. Mary Dowdy, Walter Pearson and family, Mrs. R. E. Farmer, Effie Nell Farmer, Wilma Jones, Rev. C. D. Damron and family, S. J. Cockwell, Daisy Farmer of Eva, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cook and family of Lutie; Mr. and Mrs. Loy Murray of Shamrock; Mr. and Mrs. Walton Pierce and family, W. M. Bourland.

Practically the same crowd visited in the E. G. Pierce home Sunday and had dinner with Freeman Melton and family here in Wellington Sunday night.

Cam Ground Pistons

We have just installed a new Van Norman Piston Grinding Machine. The newest thing on the American market. Later model cars are coming out with pistons that are out of round. This is to stop overheating and piston sticking. The cylinder is perfectly round but the piston is egg shaped to the extent of from .003 to .3 inch. When the piston heats, the expansion is to the egg shaped side—thus eliminating heating and wear.

The Only Service of This Kind In West Texas

This new machine grinds pistons either round or the new method. This is the only machine in Texas west of Fort Worth. Our stock of pistons is complete. We offer a full service at all times. We never close.

If

the weather could be regulated

IF IT were possible to regulate the weather to suit our own notions, how many of us could agree as to what it should be? The likes and dislikes of human beings vary almost as widely as the range of actual weather conditions. Yet from the standpoint of health and well being, temperatures requiring a moderate amount of heat each month throughout the year would be ideal. It would give us that exhilarating feeling that comes from wearing warm clothing and entering a heated room from the outside cold air.

It is safe to assume that few of us would order the sudden or prolonged extremes of hot and cold weather which nature sometimes provides. If there were no unusually cold weather, such as has already been experienced this winter, your gas bill for December would not be so much higher than it was in July.

Fairly uniform temperatures throughout the year would mean that your gas bills would be about the same, month by month. Also it would mean that your Gas Company could provide facilities adequate to serve a rather constant demand throughout the year, without being called upon to maintain much greater facilities in order to take care of the "peak demands" on the coldest days of the winter.

But, everything considered, it would be hard to improve on nature's plan of controlling the weather — even extremes in temperatures conform to natural laws. However, modern household appliances make it possible for you to enjoy comfort and convenience inside the home, in spite of unfavorable weather conditions outside. And your Gas Company is prepared and glad to serve you during periods of extreme cold weather as well as when your requirements are much less.

Remember, when the temperature drops to 65 degrees or lower, heat is used for comfort. Keep this fact in mind when comparing gas consumption with temperature records.

Also remember that your Gas Company is anxious for you to receive most efficient service from your gas appliances. If you think they are not working properly we will be glad to inspect them and make minor adjustments without charge.

THE SUCKER LIST

Methodical dealers and salesmen keep a list of prospective customers upon whom they bring to bear from time to time their most persuasive selling arguments. The plan has been proved of value, as better results are obtained through intensive soliciting of a selected list of prospects than through random efforts.

But it is not only those engaged in legitimate business who thus seek to simplify their salesmanship by concentrating upon those most likely to buy. Promoters and indors of wildcat stocks also select their prospective victims with extreme care, although many of their lists run to large figures.

President Anchincloss of the National Better Business Bureau recently declared the New York promoter has a lst of 600,000 names of persons who are known to be easy victims for swindling schemers. Such a compilation of names is known as a "sucker list." Advertising literature holding out the most glowing opportunities for profitable investments is sent regularly to those who have been found guillible enough to bite at such bait. A good sucker list is a veritable gold mine for the unscrupulous promoter.

If one receives frequent letters or circulars offering amazing inducements to purchase oil, mining or other stocks he may be sure that he is listed among the "easy marks," whose credulity yields millions of dollars to swindlers every year.

EVOLUTION OF THE VAMP

In current slang, as is well known, the "vamp," a contribution of "vampire," is to designate a seductive female.

In olden times, and even in recent years in parts of eastern Europe, the vampire was a sinister and fearsome entity.

In its original meaning, the vampire was supposed to be the soul of a dead person which leaves the buried body at night to suck the blood of living persons, usually causing their death. Hence, it was believed that upon opening the grave of a vampire the body would be found still fresh and ruddy from the blood thus absorbed.

Dead persons most likely to become vampires were supposed to be those who had committeed suicide or had come to their death by violent means, also wizards, witches and those who had been cursed by their parents or by the church. A cat crossing the grave might transform the occupant into a vampire.

To stop the depredations of a supposed vampire, it was thought necessary to drive a stake through the corpse, sever the dead, remove the heart, burn the body, or pour boiling water and vinegar on the grave.

Later the term vampire was applied to certain species of bloodsucking bats of Central and South America, concerning which many popular superstitions have also arisen.

Finally, we have the alluring vampire, or "vamp," of the movie screen and Main Street. But there isn't much superstition about her.

WANTED TO BE FOOLED

Two Paris reporters recently learned something about human nature which they probably did not know before. It was that the old saying, "people like to be humbugged," is true.

They gained admittance to a private club in a small town near Paris to witness a seance, where an alleged spiritualistic medium was scheduled to perform. Joining the circle they saw dimly what was said to be the spirit of a deceased young woman. The reporters seized hold of the "spirit," which proved to be the medium himself, clothed in a sheet.

The other witnesses of the seance became very angry, as the reporters expected, but evidenced their anger in an unexpected manner. Instead of denouncing the fake medium, the dupes beat up the reporters and threw them out of the place.

Colorado is demanding a simplified form of government. All states should have it if things are to remain in control of simple-minded politicians.
