Police Chief Says He Doesn't Want 2-Year Written Contract

For the first time in several weeks a City Council meeting, this one held Monday night, was relatively quiet and businesslike, with no one shouting "I'm for Chief of Police Craigmile," or "I'm agin him."

The only thing that happened with regard to Chief Jim Craigmile was a report that Rockport, operating under what is called "general law," does not have the legal right to offer a police chief or any other city employee a written contract for his, or her, services.

And the chief informed the Council that he doesn't want a written contract anyway.

A petition bearing the names of 1,201 persons, praising Craigmile and asking the city to give him a two-year contract, had previously been presented to the Council.

Following is City Attorney's explanation of why Rockport cannot offer city employees written contracts:

"At a recent meeting I was asked to render my opinion as to whether or not the City Council has the power to enter into a term contract with the Chief of Police or any police officer.

"In order to answer this question it is necessary to consider primarily two statutes of Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, pertaining to general law cities, namely Article 998, Police Officers, and Article 1006, Removal of Officers. Article 998 reads as follows:

" 'The city or town council in any city or town in this State, incorporated under the provisions of this title may, by ordinance, provide for the appointment, term of office and qualifications of such police officers as may be deemed necessary. Such police officers so appointed shall receive a salary or fees of office, or both, as shall be fixed by the city council. Such council may, by ordinance, provide that such police officers shall hold their office at the pleasure of the city council, and for such term as the city council directs. Such police officers shall give bond for the faithful performance of their duties, as the city council may require. Such officers shall have like powers, rights, authority and jurisdiction as are by said title vested in city marshals. Such police officers may serve all process issuing out of a corporation court anywhere in the county in which the city, town or village is situated. If the city, town or village is situated in more than one county, such officers may serve the process throughout those counties.'

"Article 1006 reads as follows:

" 'The city council shall have power to remove any officer for incompetency, corruption, misconduct or malfeasance in office, after due notice and an opportunity to be heard in his defense. The city council shall also have power at any time to remove any officer of the corporation elected by them, by resolution declaratory of its want of confidence in said officer; provided, that two-thirds of the aldermen elected vote in favor of said resolution.'

"The City of Rockport has, by ordiance, provided that its police officers shall hold their office at the pleasure of the city council, as empowered by Article 998, and it has not provided for any term of office in that ordinance. It need not provide for any such term. You will observe that the language of Article 998 respecting the council's appointment of police officers is permissive only, and not mandatory. Moreover, it is my opinion that the permissive authorization granted by Article 998 contemplates that the city may, as it has, provide for the appointment and qualifications of police officers by ordinance generally, and the controlling language of this statute empowers the city council to take such action only by the enactment of an ordinance. Article 998, moreover, does not contain any express language that would authorize action by the city council in any other fashion, and absent specific statutory authority, granting the city the power to enter into written employment term contracts with the city police officers, it is my opinion that the city council is without power to do so.

"Article 1006 controls actions of the city council with regard to the removal of any officer, and it applies to police officers. The language is clear enough, and even if a city were to enter into a term contract with a police officer, such contract could not supersede the powers of the council specified in Article 1006, nor the rights of the police officer therein set

County Hesitant on Support For Countywide Ambulance

A proposal for a joint city-county committee to work with the Aransas County Hospital Board in setting up a county-wide ambulance service didn't draw much support from county commissioners Monday.

Commissioners said they would help but would not burden taxpayers with additional expenses. A non-binding referendum on the November general election ballot was suggested to get voter reaction to the proposal.

The county and city are paying $200 a month each to Marshall Funeral Home for ambulance service.

Volunteer groups have been raising money for several months to provide emergency medical care. Some $60,000 has been raised for the project.

The hospital board proposes the hiring of one qualified trained person to head the program, assisted by trained volunteer workers for the emergency service.

County Judge John Wendell thinks a non-profit organization should operate the service. The board is a non-profit group.

The board proposes to buy one fully equipped "modulance" ambulance equipped with the most modern equipment. A second van-type ambulance would be purchased as a back-up.

Fees ranging from $30 to $40 would be charged for transportation to Corpus Christi.

After anticipated income and expenses, it has been estimated that the ambulance service would have an annual deficit of $17,870. Money needed from the city and county has been estimated at $6,000.

There already has been an advertisement in a national magazine seeking a qualified person.

Commissioners said they would support a petition asking that the highway department take action to cut down the number of accidents at the intersection of Highways 881 and 1069, southwest of Rockport.

One person was killed and several injured in a car accident last weekend. Earlier this year, another person was killed and some injured at the same location.

A petition will be presented the commissioners court for its approval before being sent to highway department headquarters in Corpus Christi.

The commissioners also approved a $421 bid by H&S Construction Co. of Rockport for enclosure of the dispatcher's office in the sheriff's department. Sheriff Bob Hewes said the enclosure is needed to cut down on unauthorized persons bothering the dispatcher or people wandering around the offices.

Hiring of a dogcatcher, with approval of the city, was also okayed by the commissioners.

BIOLOGISTS NEED PLASTIC BOTTLES

Don't throw away your one-gallon plastic bottles.

Marine biologists at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's Marine Laboratory in Rockport need hundreds of these used containers. Such things as milk jugs, fruit punch, antifreeze coolant, Clorox, distilled water or any other sealable one-gallon plastic containers will do.

Part of the research having to do with fish population densities in the bays requires a large area to be blocked off with nets from which the fish cannot escape. The top line of the net (float line) must ride very high so that fish cannot swim over it. Ordinary net floats will not float it high enough, so the biologists plan to float the line with gallon plastic containers placed very close together.

If the housewives of this area will turn in their empty plastic bottles this week to the marine laboratory on the turning basin they will have the satisfaction of knowing that they are contributing to the future good fishing in this area.

forth. Simply put, the city council cannot remove an officer except for the cause or causes set forth in Article 1006, or by the other procedure therein set forth, and this perhaps explains why there is no statutory authority for written employment term contracts with these officers in Article 998, or elsewhere."

BANK ORDERS BICENTENNIAL COINS

As a part of its continuing participation in America's Bicentennial observance, First National Bank has ordered 50 additional sets of the U.S. Mint's Bicentennial silver uncirculated sets of coins for local distribution, according to R.D. Mosier, Jr., executive vice president and comptroller of the bank. The bank's initial supply of the commemorative sets has been virtually sold out, Mosier reported.

The coin sets will be available at $7 per set as long as the present supply lasts. It consists of a specially designed quarter, half dollar and dollar with 40 per cent silver content. Each is dated 1776-1976. The designs, emblematic of the Bicentennial of the American Revolution, were authorized by Congress and were selected through a national design competition.

Reverse side of the quarter depicts a colonial drummer. The half dollar reproduces Independence Hall and the dollar shows the Liberty Bell and moon.

The 40 per cent silver coins in the commemorative set have never been circulated and were produced as appropriate gifts or keepsake items which are expected to become valued heirlooms, according to Mosier. In contrast, circulated versions of the coins are 92 per cent copper and 8 per cent nickel and contain no silver.

The commemorative sets are packaged for display in special holders with envelopes.

PUBLIC URGED TO REPORT TAGGED REDFISH

Palacios--Any redfish less than 14 inches in length must be returned at once to the water by the angler who catches it -- but smaller reds with metal tags in their upper jaws may be exceptions.

Persons catching small tagged redfish in the Matagorda Bay area are requested to, first, handle the fish carefully and gently; second, make a note of the numbers on the tag if possible; and third, return it to the water.

Some 6,000 six-inch redfish fingerlings were stocked there in late April, the product of artificial spawning and then rearing in Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's saltwater ponds at the Palacios Marine Fishery Station.

Already, three of them have been captured by sports anglers and reported.

Two were taken on hook and line on May 11 by Vivian Kurly and Pete Estrello of Palacios. During their 13 days of freedom, the two fish had migrated some seven miles from the release site in Matagorda Bay.

On May 23, Jerry B. Havel of Shiner wrote that he caught a tagged redfish while using a minnow seine to catch live bait shrimp at Port Lavaca, more than 30 miles from the point of release only a month earlier.

Havel reported that the fish was between seven and eight inches.

Department biologists were not expecting the tagged reds to turn up for at least another month, but are delighted that interested anglers are reporting them so soon. Success of the P&WD effort to artificially propagate and release game fishes in the Gulf of Mexico can only be measured by information on their survival, migration patterns and growth.

Anyone noting tagged redfish taken in any manner is urged to write or telephone the P&WD fishery station, Box 1050, Palacios, TX 77465, telephone 713/972-3087, with information on when and where the fish was caught, by what means, and the tag number if convenient to obtain without excessive handling.

Tennis Tourney July 29-Aug. 1

A total of 24 trophies will be awarded winners and runners-up in six divisions of the fourth annual Summer Fun Mixed Doubles tennis tournament scheduled for July 29, 30, 31 and Aug. 1, it was announced by Joe Hugenberg, president of Rockport Tennis Association which is sponsoring the event.

In addition, the Fred Whittle Memorial trophy will be awarded winners of Senior Division A. It was won last year by Dr. Jim Wideman and Ann VanVorren. The trophy will be displayed at local business establishments prior to the tournament.

Because the tournament is played each year as a memorial to the late Col. Fred Whittle who spent the last years of his life working with younger tennis players of this area, it has been decided to include junior players in a special section this year. As with senior players, there will be three divisions - A, B and C, depending on relative levels of skill. Players 14 and under will be eligible for play in the junior divisions.

Tournament play will be scheduled for the courts of both Key Allegro Tennis Club and Rockport Racquet Club as well as other local courts depending on the number of entries. Finals for both junior and senior divisions will be played the last day of the tournament, Sunday, Aug. 1, on Key Allegro courts. Entry fees will be $7.50 for seniors and $4 for juniors.

A barbecue dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. Sunday following final matches at Key Allegro at $2.50 per person. Tournament participants will be given a ticket for this event. Also, sandwiches and soft drinks will be available courtside all four days of the tournament.

A $60 Yahama tennis racquet will be awarded at the close of the tournament. A $1 donation has been set for this event.

The Kinsey Report

If you'll pardon a little bragging about the power of advertising in the Rockport Pilot, you may find the following true story interesting.

First, you may have noticed that during the past few months a number of attractive ads have been published in the paper in behalf of Winsteads, The Man's Shop, 5884 Everhart, Country Club Plaza, Corpus Christi.

Last week Roy V. Rogero, Sr., publisher of the Pilot, called Winsteads to check something about an ad. During the conversation, Mike, one of the Winstead sons, said:

"I'm sure you will be pleased to learn about one very unusual result of the series of ads we've been running in your paper. Would you believe that one customer we had as a result of the ads came all the way from Africa to make his purchases?"

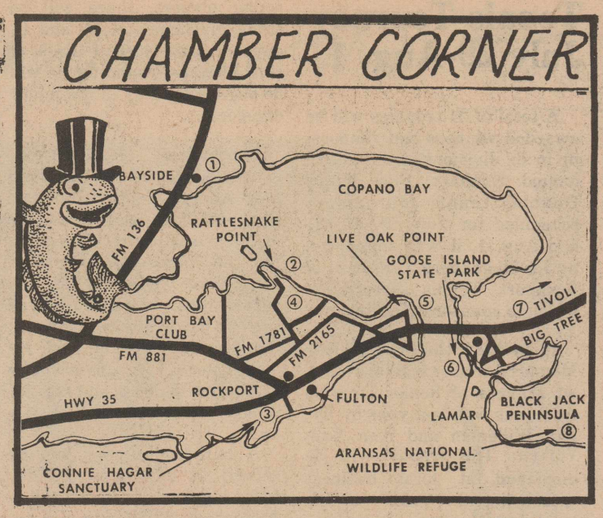

Mike then explained that a local man employed by an oil company, who had been working in Africa and was due to come home for a vacation, had seen the ads since a relative sends him the Pilot every week wherever he is.

Well, it seems that this gentleman in planning for his vacation back home had decided that one of the first things he'd do was go to a men's shop and stock up on some fashionable clothes.

And since he had liked what he saw in the Winsteads' ads, he went to their shop a few days after he got home and bought quite a variety of items.

So, never underestimate the power of Pilot advertising.

CHAMBER CORNER

The Chamber now has tickets on sale for the "Bicentennial Oak" at $1.00 each. The tree will be donated and planted by Trees Unlimited within a 50-mile radius of Rockport. It will also be guaranteed to grow.

Chairman of Community Planning and Development Committee, Nancy Cooke, is planning to have a plaque made and placed on the tree with the winner's name and date. She has stressed that the winner may have the tree planted wherever he or she wishes. It would be a nice gesture for consideration by the winner to donate the tree to the county to be planted on the grounds of the Fulton Mansion in commemoration of the restoration of the historical site and the Bicentennial year, she points out.

Two new members joined our Chamber roster during May. We welcome Trees Unlimited, operated by C.L. "Bubba" Browning, and Frances Jansa, M.D. - Thelma Frank, M.D., Associates.

Membership dues support the Chamber of Commerce and we need the financial help and backing from all of our businesses and professional people in the county. The Chamber performs many duties and money is required for all community projects. We extend an invitation to all community minded citizens to join the Chamber. We need your help and support as an individual or business.

Special appreciation and thanks are given to the following business firms for rendering their services and equipment for a day in planting palms on the beach: Matlock Construction Co., Rockcrete Products Company and Rockport Yacht and Supply Company.

Senior Citizens Dance Set

There were 57 present at the senior citizen dance on June 10 at the Recreation Center. Hosts and hostesses were Stan and Zoe Heath, Alma Ratliff (who also was registrar and cashier), Gertrude Mills, Evelyn Horton and Grace Rowe.

The refreshment table was beautifully decorated in Bicentennial theme with red punch and a bountiful supply of cookies, cake, coffee and ice water.

Although it was a little warm everyone enjoyed themselves and Gene Rickles mixed up the music so that various old-time dances were mixed in with the regular waltzes and fox trots.

Irene Hopper introduced her hosts and hostesses and asked that the next dance be a real Bicentennial dance and that it would be nice if the women could wear dresses to carry out this theme. Offers of hosts and hostess were accepted from the group present. Remember, July 8 and mark it on your calendar for an extra good time.

SOCIAL SECURITY INCREASE IN JULY

A cost-of-living increase in monthly social security benefits will be included in checks delivered in July, according to A.L. Finck, Jr., social security manager in Corpus Christi.

The increase will amount to 6.4 percent for most people getting social security payments. The cost-of-living provision was added to the social security law in 1972.

"People getting social security checks don't have to do anything to get the higher payments," Finck said. "The increase will be added automatically."

The increase is based on the rise in consumer prices from the first 3 months of 1975 to the first 3 months of 1976.

With the cost-of-living increase, average social security retirement payments to retired workers will go from $210 to $224 a month. Average social security disability payments to disabled workers will go from $228 to $242 a month. Average social security survivors payments to widowed mothers or fathers with two children in their care will go from $479 to $510 a month.

Social security pays monthly benefits to over 32 million people. The payments are funded by social security contributions from employees, employers, and self-employed people.

Employees and employers contribute 5.85 percent each of the first $15,300 of yearly earnings from jobs covered by social security. Self-employed people contribute 7.9 per cent.

To encourage wise use of electricity in all-electric homes

CPL offers the ENERGY EFFICIENCY AWARD

A house doesn't use electricity – people do. But unless a home is properly designed and built, unless it is insulated adequately, and unless its major electrical appliances are selected and situated with efficiency in mind, its occupants cannot make the most efficient use of their electric service.

But if you're not an expert, how do you know that all these details have been tended to?

That is the purpose of the Energy Efficiency Award. It tells you that your prospective new all-electric home has been thoroughly checked by a trained technician from CPL and that it meets the rigid EEA standards. It means that if you live in such a home and if you follow CPL's suggestions for using electricity wisely, you are getting the maximum benefit of your electric service.

If you are thinking about buying a newly-constructed home, look for a sign in the yard that says "Energy Efficiency Award." If you are planning to build or remodel, ask your builder, realtor, or designer about it.

For more information on the Energy Efficiency Award and tips on how to make the most efficient use of electricity, drop by your CPL office.

Tennis Learner Session Set

Encouraged by popularity of the tennis learner-league program conducted this spring at Rockport Racquet Club by John Gutzke, teaching professional, a similar program is scheduled to start June 22 and run for 10 weeks with sessions on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

A total of 80 players from beginners to relatively advanced players signed up to participate in 11 separate leagues, with approximately 70 players remaining in the program until its conclusion.

Players are assigned to leagues commensurate with their degree of skill. There will be beginner, intermediate and advanced leagues for women meeting Tuesday and Thursday mornings. There will be similar leagues for children in the afternoons, and after-work leagues for both men and women Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

There will be group instruction, including practice on ball machines for one hour each week followed by two hours of play and practice. Thursday sessions will be devoted to three hours of play and practice, this providing a total of five hours of play between lessons.

Gutzke reports he has been quite pleased with the progress made by members of the learner-leagues last fall and this spring, adding that membership in leagues encourages players to practice and play between lessons, which he believes is essential to improving tennis ability.

Quite a number of those who played in the spring leagues already have signed up for the summer leagues. Prospective members may join an appropriate league by calling in person at the pro shop or by telephoning, Gutzke said.

Return from A.A.R.P. Meet

Mr. and Mrs. Zollie H. Glass of Holiday Beach recently participated in the 1976 national convention of the 9 million member American Association of Retired Persons in Miami Beach.

There were more than 2,200 delegates and guests who attended the four-day convention of the nation's largest retiree organization.

Featured speakers at the convention were U.S. Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield (Mont.) and NBC television personality Hugh Downs. In addition, motion picture actor and producer Darren McGavin provided delegates with a special preview of his newly produced film, "American Reunion" which will be released by Universal in the fall.

Other convention highlights included the Dr. Ethel Percy Andrus Memorial dinner, in honor of the founder of AARP; the installation of Mrs. Alice VanLandingham of Morgantown, W. Va., as the new AARP president; and a filmed progress report to the convention by AARP executive director Harriet Miller.

Glass participated as a nominated and statewide elected voting delegate. Bessie Glass represented the Rockport Chapter of AARP.

Firemen's Aux. Has Meeting

The Rockport Fireman's Auxiliary met for their regular monthly business meeting June 8 at the Rockport Fire Station. President Gwyne Howland called the meeting to order. Nine members answered roll call and two guests were present: Linda Rector, Joan Truelove's sister visiting from Houston, and Jonathan Howland. The minutes of the previous meetings were read and approved. Correspondence was read and the treasurer's report was given.

The committee chairmen were called on to give their committee reports. Joan Truelove, chairman of the refreshment committee, reported that Peggy Hunt and Joan Truelove are to make cakes for the firemen's July business meeting.

Lois Gurley, program chairman, reported that the next social will be a bridal shower for Peggy Hunt, to be held after the next regular business meeting.

Gloria Davis, food committee chairman, reported that the firemen had two large brush fires at which the food committee had served cold drinks and ice water for the hard-working firemen.

Joan Truelove gave a tentative report on the annual dance held May 29. The dance was a great success and they would like to express appreciation to Lillian Parr for the use of her building, to everyone who attended the dance or bought tickets, and to the following merchants for donating door prizes:

Western Auto, Sipe Real Estate, True Value Hardware, Lettie's Package Store, Roberts Leather Shop, Merle Norman Cosmetics, Magic Mirror Beauty Shop, Wendel's Western Wear, Suttles' Dress Shop, Ray's Texaco, Corky's Restaurant and H.E.B. Food Store.

Lois Gurley gave a report on the firemen's state convention held in Austin the weekend of June 5. Congratulations to the fire department for having the oldest running fire truck in the parade.

The auxiliary decided to have a bake sale at the Firemen's bar-b-que on June 19. Every member of the auxiliary is to furnish a cake.

The president appointed Teet Mullinax and Frances Redden to be delegates at the next South Central District firemen's convention to be held July 11 in Rockport.

The treasure chest was furnished by Lois Gurley and won by Teet Mullinax.

The following members were present for the meeting: Gloria Davis, Lois Gurley, Gwyne Howland, Teresa Howland, Teet Mullinax, Frances Redden, Sarah Belle Smith, Cleo Truelove and Joan Truelove.

PRESBY. CIRCLE 2 HAS SESSION

The June 10 meeting of Circle II of the First Presbyterian Church was held at the church with Eloise Young as hostess. Margaret Hight, circle chairman, opened the meeting with a prayer. Twelve members answered roll call with a Bible verse.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were approved as read.

Announcement was made that Peggy Holmgren has agreed to be the chairman of the circle for the '76-'77 year.

In a discussion about how to meet some of the needs of the residents of nursing homes it was suggested that the Circle give the lap robes to the residents during the year. Then at Christmas provide personal gifts to fit each resident's need.

The moderator of the July meeting will be Lorraine Winkler and the hostess will be Mae Roth.

Margaret Hight moderated a most interesting lesson, "The Assurance of Hope."

After Mae Roth gave the emphasis and Babe Hotz gave the Least Coin Prayer the meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction.

Fashion

Get busy and let the hems - out of this past summer's cool dresses. It will make them look altogether different and give you something to start the season with.

The women, who have had breast operations, will be well paid to visit a bra expert on getting a properly fitted bra.

---

Separates continue to be the big sellers--blouses, skirts, pants and jackets can be used in many different combinations.

Bias stripes on dresses, blouses, or skirts are favored for summer wear. Panels are sometimes cut so that the stripes run down the sides to the center front.

ALLIGATOR NEST AERIAL SURVEY SET

Austin--Wildlife biologists of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department will be counting alligators from 300 feet above the ground next month.

Starting July 7, Floyd Potter and Bill Brownlee will be helicoptering over Texas Gulf Coast marshlands from the Sabine River to Calhoun County counting alligator nesting sites.

The aerial survey is slated to last one week. It is the first time an extensive helicopter survey of American alligators, an endangered species, will be conducted in Texas. The survey will cover 500 square miles and involve a three-man crew.

Brownlee said the aerial survey "will help us get an accurate number of gators located along the coast." He noted that the aerial survey "is the most accurate method there is for tabulating a nesting population of alligators in marshlands."

Breeding season begins in June, and most of the sexually mature gators will have completed nest building activities and begin laying eggs in early July.

"That is when we will conduct the survey," Brownlee said.

Based on research conducted by other states, each nest is calculated to represent 20 alligators, so the total number of nests surveyed can be multiplied by 20 to get the total population in a given area.

In previous years, a night spotlight survey was the only method used to determine alligator population trends in the East Texas coastal areas.

In 1975, there were an estimated 40,000 alligators along the Texas Coast.

SOCIAL SECURITY MONEY FOUND

Last week a recipient of a Social Security check cashed it at First National Bank, put the money in the envelope in which the check was received, and then apparently left it on one of the customer desks in the bank lobby.

Later another customer found the money and turned it in to the teller. A search was immediately started to learn the identity of the owner. All Social Security checks cashed that day were reviewed. Soon the owner was located and identified by the amount of the check and the amount of the lost cash found in the envelope.

Of course, the owner was overjoyed to recover the money which had been given up for lost. The owner returned to the bank to get her money, thanked everyone involved and immediately arranged to have future Social Security checks mailed to the bank for direct deposit to her account.

Elsie Hawes, First National Bank assistant cashier who handled the problem of locating the owner of the money, reported that hundreds of Social Security check recipients have made arrangements for direct deposit at the bank in recent months to avoid the possibility of loss or theft of checks or money.

This plan also makes the money immediately available for use when the recipient is out of town or it is inconvenient to make a special trip to the bank, Miss Hawes explained. Necessary arrangements for the direct deposit plan can be made at the bank in five minutes, she added.

Barnette-Frazier Wed

A formal double ring ceremony at First Baptist Church of Rockport last Saturday night united in marriage Miss Rhonda Joy Frazier and Douglas Darrell Barnette, both of Rockport.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Truett Frazier and the groom is the son of Mrs. Edith Barnette of Texas City.

The Rev. Boyce Laqua, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Fulton, performed the traditional rites before an altar of gladiolas, mums and pink carnations accented by candelabra.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white wedding gown of silk organza designed with a scoop neckline edged with hand-clipped Chantilly lace with miniature seed pearls, Gibson girl sleeves and a A-line skirt terminating in a chapel train. Her floor-length veil of illusion was held with a juliet camelot and trimmed with Chantilly lace. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Miss Cindy Schendel was the bride's maid-of-honor and serving as bridesmaids were her sister, Miss Sheila Frazier and Miss Rose Heasley. Little Carrie Livingston was the flower girl and Kelly Lee was the ring bearer. The bridesmaids' dresses were of mint green polyester crepe accented with bridal lace. They carried long stemmed pink roses with white streamers. The flower girl wore a white dress trimmed in lace and carried a basket of pink petals.

Mike Morgan sang the "Wedding Song" and the "Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Miss Becky Livingston at the piano.

Serving as ushers were John, Tony and Perry Picarrazi and Dwyane Laqua.

At the reception in the church's Fellowship Hall the bride's table was covered with a lace tablecloth and topped with a four-tiered wedding cake along with punch and a variety of nuts and mints.

Mrs. Barnette will be a senior at Rockport-Fulton High School in August and Mr. Barnette is a 1973 graduate of Rockport High School and now employed at the local H.E.B. Grocery.

After a wedding trip to Colorado, the couple will be at home in Rockport.

ATLANTA -- No human rabies deaths were reported in the United States in 1974, the first year since records were kept that none was reported, the national Center for Disease Control said.

Nursing Home News June 7-13

The activities at the Aransas Pass Nursing and Convalescent Center were of various kinds which they say "variety is the spice of life." Our residents really do enjoy being kept busy and you all in the area do just that.

Monday is the one day that the activities director does not have very many programs scheduled but almost every day for the rest of the week we have several programs a day.

Tuesday morning we begin our day at nine-thirty with our exercise and reality orientation class. This class is from Tuesday through Friday and we do get a lot out of this program.

Tuesday afternoon the "Caring Ones" were out for their game day.

Tuesday evening was our movie night with the Aransas Public Library coming out showing film sent to them from the San Patricio County Library Board.

Wednesday morning Bonnie Fletcher and Jean Windham were out to conduct their paint class which a lot of our residents really do look forward to.

Wednesday evening was time for the "Acteens" from First Baptist Church of Ingleside to come over for their program of singing, Bible readings and serving punch and cookies to all in attendance.

Thursday morning the Aransas Pass Pentecostal Church of God was on hand to present a very nice program.

Thursday afternoon the Aransas Pass Rebekahs came out for their game day and believe me, our "little people" really turn out for the game days.

Thursday evening Penny Gonzalez came out and led the Bible study.

Friday was a day of do what comes naturally more or less and Saturday morning with Roy Archey showing Father Hamilton where to find his people of Catholic faith, Father administered Holy Communion to them.

The rest of Saturday was left for going out on passes or just getting up some games of dominoes and some just watching television.

Sunday morning church services were led by Rev. Al Bankert and with our own Johny Dunbar at the piano to play for singing.

Sunday afternoon the members of the Ingleside Church of Christ came over for their monthly group singing. We owe several thank you's to Mrs. Dorothy Smith, Mrs. Jan Borough's daughter and also to Mrs. Laura Crews, daughter of Mrs. Anabel Oakes for the nice as well as delicious vine-ripened tomatoes and cucumbers. We do appreciate them so much.

Again a hearty thanks to Dixie Creme Donut Shop for our good snacks they bring to our residents. It was a very nice thing for Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Matthews to bring out several nice lap robes and give to our people.

Again, we received a very generous memorial for Irvin Ward, Sr., from the Rockport Order of the Eastern Star Chapter #489. This money is being put in our social activities fund and we do so thank all of you that have been doing this of late.

MANY FISHING LICENSES EXPIRED

Austin--Has your fishing license expired?

If it has, you may be among more than 100,000 Texans who have possibly forgotten to renew their state fishing licenses this spring.

It became apparent at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department that something was amiss when the sales of fishing licenses this year continued to run far behind the number sold through this time last year. By the end of April, there was a decrease of 110,012 from April, 1975.

For the department, this has resulted in a revenue decrease of $437,822.45 from the fishing license fees collected through April last year.

A check with the Sports Fishing Institute in Washington, D.C., revealed that throughout the nation other states are experiencing increases in fishing license sales as they had expected.

The only possible reason for the decline in Texas, it was suggested, is that anglers who bought their licenses since September 1974 have done so on a 12-month basis rather than for a fiscal year period as required in the past.

That is, a person who buys a license this month may use it for a full year before required to renew at this time next year.

And anyone, for example, who got a fishing license in May 1975 must get another now before going fishing in public waters or with rod and reel in his home county.

Otherwise, warns P&WD Executive Director Clayton T. Garrison, fishing without a license can result in a fine of up to $200 for a violation of the law. "Our game wardens are checking on all public waters," said Garrison, "and it's evident that a lot of people have forgotten about having a current fishing license. In April, there was a total of 1,535 citations for this alone, compared to 1,132 during the same month in 1975 and only 585 in April 1974."

A Texas sport fishing license costs $4.25 for both resident and non-resident and is required of all persons except those under 17 years of age or over 65 and others fishing in the county of their residence with trotline, throwline or pole and line. It is valid for one year from date of purchase.

All other Texas hunting and fishing licenses are valid from September 1 through August 31 of the fiscal year in which purchased.

Garrison reminded those Texans who also intend to hunt this fall and winter to consider the state's combination hunting and fishing license at $8.75, a savings of 75 cents below the cost of purchasing both licenses separately -- and an automatic reminder to renew it by Sept. 1 each year.

People who enjoy resting should not mind working; without labor there can be no real recreation.

1976 SMALLMOUTH BASS STOCKINGS COMPLETED

Austin--After two years of stocking efforts in target reservoirs and streams in Central Texas, smallmouth bass are beginning to show up on stringers.

Fisheries biologists with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department say they are pleased with catch and growth rates, and expect fish stocked in 1974 will serve as brood stock during upcoming spawning seasons.

Nearly 650,000 fingerling-sized smallmouth have been stocked during May. More than one-half million came to P&WD from the Mammoth Springs National Fish Hatchery in Arkansas. The remaining 101,500 were reared in ponds at the P&WD San Marcos Fish Hatchery.

Of the 525,000 federal hatchery disbursement, 250,000 of the Arkansas-strain fish were stocked into Amistad Lake; 125,000 went to Stillhouse Hollow Lake; another 125,000 to Canyon Lake. The remaining 25,000 smallmouth were placed in the Guadalupe River below Canyon Dam, and in the Medina River above Medina Lake.

Of the more than 100,000 reared at the San Marcos hatchery, 66,000 went into Lake Meredith; 25,000 went to Lake MacKenzie.

Additionally, 7,000 smallmouth were placed in the Medina River; the Guadalupe River near New Braunfels, and the Guadalupe River above Kerrville.

The late-May stockings completed the smallmouth bass program for 1976, according to Harmon Henderson, P&WD regional fish culturist.

According to gill net samples, smallmouth bass have made fastest growth in Stillhouse Hollow, where they reached a one-pound, nine-ounce weight after 17 months. Canyon Lake-stocked smallmouth averaged one to 1.5 lb. weight, while those stocked in Lake Meredith averaged 1.25 lb.

Of the sampled fish taken from the Guadalupe River, growth varied from one-fourth to one pound gained during 18 months. Fisheries biologists say smallmouth growth is typically slower in streams than in lakes.

In 1977, the federal hatchery will supply 500,000 smallmouth fingerlings for stocking into Texas waters.

CONTROL WHITE GRUBS IN GARDENS

White grubs can cause severe damage to home vegetable gardens, says D.P. Pawlik, County Agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

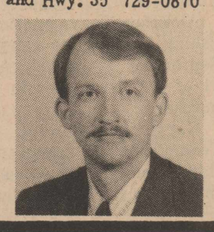

Most problems with white grubs occur when new soil is being gardened for the first time. This ground, when taken out of sod such as a lawn, often has a high population of white grubs.

White grubs damage vegetables by eating off the roots, explains Pawlik. They are not particular and feed on any plants that are available.

Control measures for white grubs should be started two to four weeks before planting the garden. Diazinon--either the 25 per cent emulsion concentrate or 50 per cent wettable powder--provides effective control. Apply the chemical to the surface and mix it thoroughly into the soil to a depth of four to six inches. Before applying any pesticide, read the label and follow all directions, advises Pawlik.

OUTDOORS 'n things

by L. D. NUCKLES

In South Texas we have a bird that is very interesting. He is a hawk, and a beautiful one, but he insists on acting like a buzzard. Many times he can be seen flying with the buzzards, and, for the most part, he eats like a buzzard.

His correct name is Audubon's caracara, but many people call him a Mexican eagle. The people of Mexico seem to think a great deal of him because he is the so-called eagle that we see on the seal of the Republic of Mexico. He is depicted sitting on a cactus holding a rattlesnake in his mouth. This is not too far-fetched either, because he will sometimes eat snakes. He also eats rats, mice, lizards and frogs as well as carrion.

The true falcons have a hooked upper beak with notches in it. These notches make the beak more deadly in tearing and killing prey. They also have long, strong talons. Although the caracara has the strong hooked beak it does not have the notches in it. His talons are not as long or as strong as those of the true falcons.

The caracara is easy to identify either in flight or at rest. In flight his throat is white, his wings are dark with light areas near the tips and his belly is black. The tail is white with very dark tips. At rest the white throat is very noticeable and the black crest on his head is kept laying down most of the time. This gives him a flat-headed appearance. He has rather long yellow legs and a little red in his face. He stands about two feet high and has the fierce, noble look usually associated with falcons.

The caracara nests from northern Baja California eastward to central Florida and Cuba and on south through Mexico and Central America. Here in Texas he may nest in trees such as the mesquite, ebony and hackberry. Texas Parks and Wildlife biologists report that tall yucca plants seem to be a favorite nesting place for them.

They have been known to use the same nesting site year after year, just adding a few sticks, twigs and what-have-you to last year's nest. They start building their nests in early winter and establish a claim on that location so that by the time spring rolls around they have their households pretty well set up.

The female, which looks like the male except that she is usually a little larger, will lay a clutch of usually only two eggs. They are creamy white with blotches of reddish brown.

All things considered, this is a beautiful, useful bird which, as far as I know, does no harm to man or his domestic animals. He should be seen, admired, respected and left alone.

FLOUNDER GROWING IN LONG LAKE

Austin--Frank DiTucci was bouncing a white spinner along the bottom of Long(Decker) Lake in April, when something took his lure. There was a surprisingly hard fight, and someone yelled, "It's a flounder," and it was--a three-pound 13-ounce flounder, a record for Long Lake.

This was the eighth flounder known to have been caught from the Austin-area lake since 1,500 were stocked as fingerlings by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department in February 1975.

Inland fisheries officials at the P&WD are pleased by growth rate of the flounder in fresh water.

According to inland fisheries chief Lonnie Peters, flounder grew to five pounds in three years while living in fresh water at the Olmito Hatchery near Brownsville.

"It looks as if the Long Lake flounders may surpass this growth," said Peters.

Department biologists are hopeful that flounder will aid in controlling stunted sunfish and abundant forage fish found in many reservoirs. Stomach analysis of those caught over the past year show that Long Lake flounder have been feeding on small sunfish and silversides minnows.

So far it seems fingerling flounder may be successfully stocked in hydroelectric plant cooling lakes. If the techniques to breed captive flounder, which state and federal biologists are working on at Port Aransas, are successfully developed, flounder may become a popular panfish in inland waters.

Your time is of no value to anyone but yourself; why not use it wisely?

CELEBRATE 50th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morrison had as their guests last week, their son, Paul, Jr., his wife Dorothy and their two daughters, Paula and Catherine, who flew from Sacramento, Calif. Also Mrs. Morrison's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. H.H. Holmes were here for two days.

While here they all participated in celebrating Mr. and Mrs. Morrison's 50th wedding anniversary a few weeks early by having dinner together Wednesday night and then having cake and champagne afterwards. The cake was beautifully decorated with seashells, birds and wedding bells and "Happy Anniversary, Paul and Alice." Mr. and Mrs. John L. Leslie also attended. The Holmes stayed in the Leslie home while here, returning to Fort Worth on Thursday morning. Paul, Jr., and family left on Sunday to fly back to California.

AARP Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of A.A.R.P. was held, as usual, in the Recreation Room on Airport Road with 46 members and 4 guests in attendance. After a coffee and fellowship period, President John L. Leslie called the meeting to order and asked Paul Hoover to give the invocation. A few songs were sung with Eleanor Wiech at the piano and Evelyn Horton and Dorothy Leslie leading the singing.

It was announced that Bessie Glass had been approved as a delegate from this group to the national convention of A.A.R.P. in Miami, Florida. Zollie was delegated to go from this area. They left on Sunday to drive to Houston, stay overnight with their daughter, and fly to Miami on Monday.

The treasurer gave her report and the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. "Happy Birthday" was sung to 3 members present. Although the last meeting was supposed to be a picnic at Memorial Park we had to meet at the hall on account of wet grounds. Everyone had a good time, however.

The Dial-A-Care program was reported on and everyone is to look out for people who need to be on this program and report it to Concern Center.

Our District Director, Commander James Anderson, from Corpus Christi, was present along with his wife. He told us many interesting things about our organization and about the planned picnic for our area groups at W. Guth Park on Tuesday, June 29, from 10 to 3 p.m. It is hoped several from our club will go. He also announced a workshop on August 25 for our area--to be held at the Sandollar.

Mary Richards, from the Social Security Office in Corpus Christi was introduced by our program chairman, Esther Decker, who gave us many tips on filing claims, how to get claims reviewed if you were not satisified, etc. Problems with Blue Cross office can be handled over the phone; ask Concern Center for number and ask for Mr. Seifert in office.

On June 23 we will have our usual covered dish dinner. Judd Schulz, of AMOCO Oil Company, will give us the program on "Texas Environment."

ADAMS-NETTLES MARRIAGE JULY 4

Mr. and Mrs. Garold G. Adams of Mobile Inn Trailer Park, Fulton Beach, announce the approaching marriage of their son, Peter Roy Adams to Miss Marsha Nettles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mac Nettles of Lexington, Texas, on July 4 at Lake Tahoe, Nevada. A small reception will be held at Harvey's Resort Hotel.

They will honeymoon at Lake Tahoe, Nevada and San Francisco, Calif. Mr. and Mrs. Garold Adams will attend the wedding.

WOMEN VETERANS DUE SPECIAL G.I. BILL PAYMENTS

The application deadline for women veterans eligible for a special retroactive GI Bill payment is not far way, Paul F. Barnett, Acting Director, Houston VA Regional Office, reminded recently.

Women who attended school under the GI Bill between June 1, 1966, and October 24, 1972, may qualify to receive a lump sum of about $30 per month for each month in training. The payment is to equalize benefits with male veterans who were married while in training.

Women veterans must contact a VA regional office before July 1 and must furnish proof of marriage while in training to be paid the retroactive sum.

Letters with a form on the reverse which should be completed and mailed to a VA regional Office before July 1 were mailed by VA to 75,000 women veterans in February. This group attended school under the GI Bill during the specified time period, but the agency does not have the authority to pay without receiving applications from these veterans.

Women who trained after October 24, 1972, have already been paid on the same basis as their male counterparts. The law does not allow the additional amount for husbands to be paid to women who trained under the World War II and Korean Conflict GI Bills.

Assistance on applications can be obtained from VA offices and from veterans service organizations.

COUNT ON CARROTS FOR GOOD TASTE-- AND HEALTH

College Station--If the family is "mule-ish" about eating vegetables, tempt them with the versatile carrot, Mrs. Gwendolyne Clyatt, a consumer marketing information specialist, suggests.

"Carrots are good served alone or in combination with meats or other vegetables. Fresh carrots are available year around and are a good source of Vitamin A. Current prices on carrots are attractive, also," she said.

Mrs. Clyatt is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Most carrots are tipped (leaves trimmed off) and sold in one-or two-pound packages. A small volume of bunched carrots, with tops attached, is sometimes available in some markets. Packaged carrots are often labeled 'U.S. No.1'. This U.S. Department of Agriculture grade means good quality. U.S. No. 1 carrots are firm and fairly well formed, and few carrots in the package have defects.

"Their color is orange or orange-red, not pale orange or yellow. Most of the carrots in a package must be at least five inches long and between three-fourths and one and one-half inches in diameter, unless the package is marked otherwise. If the grade name is shown within the USDA shield, the carrots have been packed under continuous government inspection," she explained.

When you buy carrots in bulk or when the grade is not shown on the package, look for well-formed, smooth, orange to orange-red carrots. They should be firm with well-trimmed tops. Avoid carrots that are flabby or shriveled or those with large green areas (sunburn) at the top, she said.

"Carrots can be stored in the vegetable bin of the refrigerator for three to four weeks," she said.
