Nude Madwoman Found Prisoner

Zangara's Brain Declared Normal

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 10 (AP)—The man who fired at Franklin D. Roosevelt and killed Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago at Miami last Feb. 15 had a "normal" brain, and months of study has convinced Dr. Adolph Meyer, noted specialist at Johns Hopkins hospital, that there was "no correlation between the deed of homicide and the type of brain."

For nearly nine months Dr. Meyer has had under examination the brain of Giuseppe Zangara, the assassin who died in the electric chair just two weeks after Mayor Cermak died at a Miami hospital.

MAN AND WOMAN HELD ON CHARGE OF FALSE IMPRISONMENT

(By The Associated Press)

RIDGEFIELD PARK, N. J., Jan. 10.—Detectives strove today to piece together the strange story surrounding the imprisonment of a naked madwoman in a dirty, unheated, closet-like room over a stable on the old Barnes estate.

The woman, Mrs. Sophie Cerardi, 42, pronounced insane by a county physician, is receiving medical attention at the county hospital, Bergen Pines.

Two Under Arrest

The two other characters of the strange tale, the two alleged jailers, Joseph Cerardi, 34, the woman's husband, and his house keeper, Miss Mary Griffin, 35, were held under arrest in county jail on charges of false imprisonment, and authorities said there was a possibility of a second charge of abusing an insane person.

Much police interest centered on the husband, a former middleweight pugilist, who they said was questioned in the Lindbergh kidnaping case after the body of the murdered Lindbergh baby was found near a shack where Cerardi stayed occasionally at Hopewell.

Cerardi, also known as Geradi, rented the four room apartment above the stable almost two years ago. Neighbors told police they saw his wife arrive with him and she was then apparently in good health. When police found her last night she had wasted away to 50 pounds.

Denies Mistreatment

When Cerardi was arrested last night, police said he acknowledged keeping his wife locked up, but denied mistreating her. He said he had taken her from a state institution where she had been committed as mentally unbalanced and was keeping her with him "for her own benefit."

Police entered the case at the request of Mrs. Cerardi's sister, Mrs. Loretta Regenstruf, of the Bronx, who complained that Cerardi had repeatedly refused to allow her to

CATTLEMEN TO MAP PLANS

PROPOSALS TO BOOST INDUSTRY TO COME UP AT CONCLAVE

(By The Associated Press)

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Jan. 10—In keeping with the desire to formulate a program to bring about recovery of the cattle industry, cattlemen from the west and southwest in the next two days will hear several plans to place the industry on a more stable basis.

Already two Nebraskans have indicated they will place before the American National Livestock association convention here Thursday and Friday proposals to help the industry get "back on its feet," and give the livestock man prices which he believes should be his under the "new deal" movement.

Export Plan Proposed

Henry B. Coffee of Chadron, Neb., president of the Coffee Cattle company, said he would introduce an export bounty plan as a step toward recovery.

Coffee's proposal provides the government issue to beef exporters scrip of a value equal to the import duty on the commodity. The plan, he said, will cost the government $7,200,000 a year in import duty loss, but will raise the value of 65,000,000 head of cattle in the country $1,037,500 immediately.

D. M. Hildebrand, president of the Nebraska Cattle Feeders' association, earlier this week announced here he would propose the creation of a national "advisory board," composed of packers, producers and distributors. Its purpose would be to formulate plans to establish a

PRAYER MEETING TONIGHT

PARTY IN OIL FIELD ENDS IN DEATHS

MAN AND 4-YEAR-OLD CHILD ARE VICTIMS; TWO OTHERS HURT

(By The Associated Press)

BEAUMONT, Jan. 10.—A party in a driller's shack in the heart of the Sour Lake oil field ended early today in a fire which caused the death of two persons and the serious injury of two others.

The dead were Billie Boyd Carlisle, 4, and Bill Garvin, about 60. Mrs. Mary Carlisle and Henry Tyson were injured.

Oil Can Explodes

The accident occurred when a guest dashed five gallons of coal oil in a wood stove to revive the fire. The oil can exploded, enveloping the house in flames. Mrs. Carlisle and Tyson crawled through a window to safety.

As they re-entered the building to rescue the Carlisle boy and Garvin, who were sleeping in a back room, the house caved in.

The charred bodies of the two, burned beyond recognition, were taken from the ruins after the fire was extinguished.

MOTION IS ARGUED IN UTILITY CASE

FORT WORTH, Jan. 10 (AP)—Motion to dismiss the suit brought by the Community Power and Light company against the city of Plainview and officials of that city on the grounds of lack of jurisdiction and because a necessary party had not been made a party to the case was argued this morning in federal district court. The hearing opened yesterday before Judge James C Wilson.

The suit was brought in an attempt to prevent Plainview from constructing a municipal power and light plant.

C. S. Williams, representing the city, argued that plans to build the power plant would not deprive the company of any of its rights. He said that the bill of complaint does not show any direct injury would result to the plaintiff because of the acts complained of in the bill. He charged that the ultimate goal of the suit was freedom of competition for the complaining concern.

Replying to Williams, Charles C. Crenshaw of Lubbock said that the goal was "freedom from illegal competition and illegal interference with a franchise."

Police Again Warn On Traffic Lights

Police this morning said motorists disobeying traffic lights recently installed in the high school and junior high school zones would be summoned to corporation court to face charges.

Obedience of the lights, installed as part of a campaign against traffic hazards, had been "good," however, police said.

Three lights are in the high school and two in the junior high school zone. They are in operation from 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. the five school days of the week.

New directors are: Wynn Collier, Jim Power, Bennie Sorgee and L. C. Carmichael. Holdover directors are: Jay B. Slaughter, E. R. Wright, P. S. Bouchier and T. R. Greenfield.

A president and a secretary will be named by the directors Friday. E. R. Wright has been president and George Samson secretary.

CUBAN BOMB EXPLODES

CAMAGUEY, Cuba, Jan. 10. (AP)—A huge bomb exploded in the building of the magazine "Justicia" today destroying the printing plant and damaging the municipal lyceum and four nearby stores.

Catholics Warned By Hitler's Paper

BERLIN, Jan. 10 (AP)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler's newspaper, the Voelkischer Beobachter, sharply warned the Catholic clergy today against opposing the government.

The warning was issued at about the same time that Munich police took in protective custody a priest, Father Hartl, whose testimony resulted in the conviction of a colleague in a political trial. It was explained that anonymous threats from "extremist Catholics" made it necessary to hold the priest.

Slaying Suspects Attacked By Crowd

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—An excited crowd of approximately 500 men and women today made a futile attack on seven men charged with the murder of Archbishop Leon Tourian in the Holy Cross Armenian church Dec. 24 last.

The prisoners were being led from a police patrol wagon to appear for arraignment in homicide court when the crowd made a concerted rush. The women screamed, scratched and made frantic lunges at prisoners and police with sticks and umbrellas, while the men used canes and their fists.

FORT STOCKTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—A district court jury here yesterday acquitted J. H. Lock who had been on trial since Monday on an indictment charging theft of cattle.

TABLES TURNED ON HOLDUP MEN BY TAXI DRIVER

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 10 (AP)—Fred Neely, taxi driver, turned the tables today and captured two men who tried to hold him up.

One of the pair escaped but was captured at an apartment house.

The captor of the robbers picked the two men up as fares on a downtown street corner. They ordered him to drive out the Fredericksburg road.

When they reached their destination one of the bandits drew a knife and thrust it against Neely's side.

"Get out," the bandit ordered.

Neely complied, drawing a pistol as soon as he stepped into the street. Before the pair could drive away Neely covered them with the pistol.

"It's my turn now," said the taxi driver.

Neely got into the back seat of the car and, holding the pistol on the robber at the wheel, forced him to drive to his taxi stand. At the stand one of Neely's prisoners broke and ran, but was arrested later by radio patrolmen. Both were placed in jail.

CODE WILL BE EXPLAINED

ALL LUBBOCK RETAIL, WHOLESALE GROCERS ASKED TO MEET

The retail food and grocery industry's permanent code, several provisions of which are cruxes of natural confusion, will be explained to Lubbock retail and wholesale grocers at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the Lubbock hotel ballroom.

The Lubbock NRA campaign committee called the meeting. Letters urging all retail and wholesale grocers here to attend were to be distributed by the chamber of commerce today.

"Stores Bound By Code"

All retail food and grocery stores are bound by the code adopted by their industry as surely as by any other law, and a grocer must obey provisions of the code whether or not he signed the president's re-employment agreement, an NRA spokesman explained.

The code provides grocers may establish uniform store operating hours which shall be binding. How to do it will be explained at the meeting, the spokesman said.

Insanity Plea Of Arnold Supported

HASKELL, Jan. 10 (AP)—Defense testimony supporting a plea of insanity was in order today in the trial of Doye Arnold, charged with murder for the death of his divorced wife.

State witnesses testified they saw Arnold stab his ex-wife, then crush her skull with a large stone before nearby persons could reach the struggling couple on a street in Breckenridge Sept. 10, 1932.

His mother, Mrs. Hattie Staggs, testified she believed he was feebleminded and that he had acted peculiarly after suffering a stroke of paralysis which followed an attack of fever, when he was a child.

NAVAL FLIGHT TO HONOLULU SET TODAY

SIX OFFICERS AND 22 MEN ARE CREWS OF SIX SHIPS

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10—Six huge navy seaplanes poised here today for a hop at noon across 2,150 nautical miles of the open Pacific to Honolulu—the longest and most hazardous overwater formation flight ever attempted.

The takeoff was set for 12 o'clock (Pacific Standard time) by Lieut. Com. Kneffler McGinnis, squadron leader, so that his command might take the earliest possible advantage of existing favorable weather conditions.

Planes Pronounced Ready

Each plane was loaded with between 700 and 1,000 gallons of gasoline, and after a late inspection each was pronounced ready.

McGinnis predicted a landing at Pearl Harbor by noon (Pacific Standard time) Thursday, or even earlier if there is a tailwind. On the other hand headwinds might delay the arrival until sunset.

Every one of the six officers and 22 men who constitute the crews of the six planes was reported eager for the big adventure, they flew their ships 600 miles from San Diego yesterday.

Ready to aid them in the event of accident en route were six "stand by" ships strung out along the line of flight between San Francisco and Honolulu.

Nearing position 600 miles east of Honolulu was the aircraft tender Wright, with Rear Admiral A. W. Johnson aboard. Three hundred miles nearer the island was the tender Pelican.

Cattle Complaint Dismissal Sought

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10. (AP)—An interstate commerce commission examiner today recommended that the commission dismiss a complaint of cattle dealers in the southwest against freight rates charged on fat cattle stockers and feeders and range cattle from points in New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma to Arizona, California, New Mexico and Texas.

The examiner said in his report the rates assailed were lower than another scale which had been used for comparison and that the evidence did not give any weights for the shipments on which the complaint was based merely showing the cost per car.

Cerf Says Ransom Was Not Recovered

WAXAHACHIE, Jan. 10 (AP)—Prosecution testimony was under way today in the trial of Currie Caldwell of Corsicana, charged with the $15,000 ransom kidnaping of Robert Cerf, son of a Corsicana banker, in 1930.

I. N. Cerf, bank president and father of the kidnap victim, testified as one of the first state witnesses that he had never recovered the $15,000 he paid for the release of his son.

SHE'S A MOTHER AT TWELVE YEARS

One of the nation's youngest mothers, Mrs. Ellen Marie Walsh shows by her smile how well she and her brand-new daughter are doing in a Syracuse, N. Y., hospital. Only 12 years old, the youthful parent is seven years younger than her husband, Theodore, 19. The baby tips the scales at seven pounds, nine ounces.

Milk Strike At Chicago Settled

BLOCKADE LIFTED AS TRUCE REACHED BY WARRING GROUPS

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—The Chicago milk blockade was ended today with a truce reached between warring factions in a conference with Mayor Edward J. Kelly.

The mayor announced milk deliveries would be resumed this afternoon after five days of violence that had left Chicago almost milkless.

Arbitrators were named to assist farmers and dealers in agreeing upon a price to producers.

Distributors and producers each will appoint one man to a committee. They, in turn, will select a third man to act as arbitrator and establish a minimum price to be paid farmers.

Don N. Geyer, general manager of the Pure Milk association and representative of the farmers at the conference, announced the producers would end picketing of highways and begin shipping milk immediately.

An official also reported that Secretary of Agriculture Wallace had telephoned from Washington to the Pure Milk association that he would not intervene to set a price.

Grave Fears Held For Missionaries

FOOCHOW, China, Jan. 10 (AP)—Grave fears were held today for the safety of six American Methodist Episcopal missionaries, isolated in the fighting zone of rebellious Fukien province, who have not been heard from for ten days.

All of the missionaries, whose headquarters are in New York, were caught in the Min river valley fighting area around the town of Kutien.

JEEVES, JAMES AND JOSIE ARE TO HAVE PARTY

BY DALE HARRISON

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—Jeeves, James and Josie are going to have a party Friday night.

This is the Butlers' ball. It is the occasion when the servants strut, leaving the social register sinks full of social register dirty dishes.

All the very best help from the very best families will be there; butlers, second men, parlor maids, second maids, waitresses and probably a few gardeners.

A most unique financial arrangement provides that tickets to the ball, which will be at the Hotel Commodore, must be purchased by the society folk themselves, and turned over to the hired hands. The hired hands will carry on from that point under their own power.

Those butlers and maids who wish to sit in boxes, who wish, in fact, to be a wee bit snootier than the others, may do so by paying an additional five dollars.

Among the boxholders will be none other than Forbes, who butles for Mrs. Otto H. Kahn;

Misconduct Charge Faces Tammanyite

NEW YORK, Jan. 10. (AP)—A sensation in Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia's investigation of the Tammany regime he toppled from power came today with a disclosure that charges of misconduct had been filed against Fred C. Lemmerman, commissioner of the triborough bridge authority, which is in charge of a $60,000,000 bridge project.

The charges were filed on behalf of the mayor by his new commissioner of accounts, Paul Blanshard, long a foe of the old city administration, and now conducting an exhaustive inquiry into its acts.

PRINCESS MARRIES

FDR ASKS FOR PROTECTION OF BONDS

CONGRESS HELD UNDER "MORAL OBLIGATION" TO BACK PLAN

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10—Considering it "a moral obligation," President Roosevelt called on congress today to legislate a federal guarantee of the principal as well as interest of the farm mortgage refinancing bonds.

His concise, special message coincided with the arrival before the house of the first appropriations bill from committee—aggregating $566,435,000 for 16 independent federal agencies in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Quick Action Expected

This measure is slated for rapid house dispatch to the senate, to take its place there beside the District of Columbia liquor regulation bill passed by the house late yesterday.

Senate leaders expected to get from the president a second message this afternoon seeking ratification of the St. Lawrence waterway treaty, but final arrangements remained to be made at the White House.

They were acquainted, also, with the fact that Mr. Roosevelt plans soon to ask $1,166,000,000 additional appropriations to carry the emergency program from now until June. This is in line with his budget message.

With railroad legislation due for debate, it became known that he favors establishment by the rails of sinking funds to pay off their tremendous mortgage indebtedness. He favored the same course for utility companies.

Expected To Have Way

In his message the president acknowledge that technically the farm credit bond guarantee would

TWO GIRLS DEAD IN AUTO MISHAP

GREENVILLE, Jan. 10. (AP)—Two girls were dead today and two companions were in a hospital here for treatment, after the automobile in which they were en route to attend a motion picture collided with a concrete bridge abutment on the Caddo Mills-Greenville highway.

The dead were Helen Parsons, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Parsons of Caddo Mills, and Veda Faye McWhorter, 14, daughter of Mr and Mrs. R. N. McWhorter, also of Caddo Mills.

Bobby Swift, 16, and Wilna Doris Bovles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bovles, suffered head cuts. Two other occupants of the car were unhurt.

Three Aggravated Assaults Charged

Three aggravated assaults were reported here Tuesday afternoon and this morning. Two pleas of not guilty were entered.

M. B. Walls, charged with hitting his wife, who lived 1 1-2 miles east of here, appeared before County Judge E. L. Pitts this morning. Bond was set at $300. Walls was arrested by the sheriff's department late Tuesday.

John DePauw, arrested by the constable's department for striking M. C. Hamilton, Nineteenth street and Texas avenue, entered a not-guilty plea Tuesday afternoon and bond was set at $500.

Police late Tuesday arrested Edwin Busby, 23, a negro, 200-block Sixteenth street, for striking Willie Mae Anderson, a negro woman. Police said they would file a complaint against Busby today.

VAN DER LUBBE IS BEHEADED FOR FIRING THE REICHSTAG

(By The Associated Press)

LEIPZIG, Germany, Jan. 10—Marinus Van Der Lubbe, 24-year-old Dutch stonemason, was beheaded today for firing the German reichstag building in Berlin last February.

He had repeatedly confessed setting the fire, but steadfastly refused to divulge any information as to whether he had any accomplices.

Van De Lubbe had been under sentence of death since December 23 when the supreme court convicted him and acquitted four co-defendants.

Steps through which the Dutch government sought to gain a lighter sentence for the young Hollander were unavailing.

Late last night Van Der Lubbe was informed by the Leipzig prison governor that justice must take its course, but the announcement failed to rouse him from the stupor in which he remained virtually throughout the long trial.

The guillotine was erected during the night by the official executioner and his attendants in the prison yard of the Leipzig district court.

At 7:25 o'clock this morning, a few strokes of the prison bell announced to the outer world that a man was paying the extreme penalty. Few realized, however, that it was Van Der Lubbe—probably the most talked-of criminal in recent years.

At 6 o'clock, the warden entered Van Der Lubbe's cell and told him his last hour had come. Without saying a word, Van Der Lubbe arose and, after being shaved, was led by the prison governor into the courtyard.

Gladys Hall Is Elected Worthy Advisor Of Rainbow Assembly Tuesday Evening

First Election Of Year Is Conducted

Gladys Hall was elected worthy advisor of the Rainbow Assembly Tuesday evening in the first of three elections scheduled for the year. She will succeed Virginia Knapp, who has been worthy advisor for the last four months.

There were 27 girls at the meeting with Mrs. W. S. McDonald, Mrs. France Baker, Mrs. J. C. Reynolds and Miss Mildred Burge. A social hour followed the business meeting and hostesses were Mrs. McDonald, Maxine Burrus and Virginia Knapp.

An installation service is to be conducted in two weeks. Mothers and girl friends of the members are to be guests for this occasion. Other officers elected Tuesday evening were the following:

Associate worthy advisor, Lois Jane McDonald; charity, Pauline Stafford; hope, Pauline Williams; faith, Nannie Margaret Overton; secretary, Virginia Knapp; treasurer Maxine Burrus.

Culture Clubs Are In Annual Sessions

Tuesday was the date for annual business meetings in four culture clubs but little business was transacted, since this is not an election year. Officers in the four clubs were elected last January and will serve through this year and next. There were parliamentary law drills at three of the meetings.

In the Twentieth Century club delegates were elected to city and county federations. These delegates are elected each year.

Mesdames M. B. Hilburn and R. A. Studhalter were elected delegates to the County Federation with Mesdames J. C. Street and T. B. Duggan as alternates. Mrs. J. S. Johnson was elected as delegate to the City Federation with Mrs. W. O. Stevens as alternate.

Mrs. Carter Presides

This meeting was at Hotel Lubbock and Mrs. A. L. Carter presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. G. N. Atkinson.

Mrs. T. L. Shepard conducted a parliamentary drill. Mrs. Duggan reviewed the book, "Precious Bane", by Mary Webb.

Mesdames E. L. Robertson and W. A. Jackson led parliamentary drills at a meeting of the Athenaeum club at Hotel Lubbock. Mrs. P. W. Cawthon, the president, presided for a business meeting.

The Junior Twentieth Century club met in the Tech home economics building with the president, Mrs. Richard L. Douglas, presiding.

Dr. Alan L. Strout, Tech professor, lectured on the life of Coleridge and discussed "The Ancient Mariner".

Mrs. H. F. Godeke conducted a parliamentary drill when members of the Sorosis club met with Mrs. C. B. Powell, 2306 Sixteenth street. Mrs. Powell reported on the fall meeting of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs that she attended.

Elsie Janis, Married Two Years, Scorns Make-Up As Way To 'Hold' Her Mate, Who Is Fourteen Years Her Junior; She Has Her Own Philosophy

* * * * * * * * * * * * *

BY JULIA BLANSHARD
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—"Write a good love story and the set doesn't make a bit of difference. You can play it against a Hollywood, New York or Afghanistan background and it still holds up."

That is Elsie Janis' answer to Hollywood's reputation as a sure-divorce spot. Arriving from California, still married to her young husband, Gilbert Wilson, Elsie stood on the icy pier and looked across three trunks, a dozen pieces of hand-luggage and two dozen friends to where her "better half" was engaged with the customs men.

"Well, would you believe it, we're still married," she said, not with any cocky confidence but just as if stating a fact that hadn't occurred to her before. "When we said the little words, 'I do,' I said to myself, 'Well, if this lasts six months, that will be a break.' It's two years!"

"Still, you never can tell. And you can't count on anything in this old world," philosophical Elsie added, quickly, as if suspicious that anything sounding even remotely like bragging might bring bad luck. "The play's the thing. If it goes well, there's a lot of luck in it. If it closes down some dull day, any good trouper just packs his props and moves on."

Seeing them together, it looks as if there was any "moving on" to be done, it won't be at the instigation of Mr. Wilson. He still wears a quiet happiness and a "I can hardly believe it" look to his face. When he introduces her, he almost bursts with pride as he says, "My wife, Elsie Janis."

Happy At Home

"Home life in Hollywood? Why, of course, there's real home-life there," Elsie was emphatic, in that husky, deep voice of hers. "Say, if a fellow can manage cheery home-life just behind the front line trenches, why should Hollywood be an obstacle?"

Apparently the Gilbert Wilsons have worked out more home-life than most Hollywood couples. They breakfast together, early. Then she shuts herself in her room (she always writes in bed, with her typewriter on her knees) and he goes to whatever movie he happens to have a part in. They don't see each other until cocktail hour, when all the day's work is laid aside. They simply live in their huge back yard, swimming, playing games, lounging in easy chairs, chatting to friends who drop in.

Since Elsie's mother died, they they have lived in Elsie's little house on Linden street. There's no "bakery" stuff in Elsie's bills of fare it's all good old-fashioned cooking done by her two maids who have been with her at Tarrytown for years and years, Dora and Allene. Frank, Elsie's chauffeur for 25 years, the one who drove her and her mother ("Jenny," as Elsie always called her) through the war, still pilots the Wilsons around. At Tarrytown, old colored Hallie has been holding down the fort and now welcomes "Miss Elsie" back home.

How does Elsie hold her young husband? She doesn't try to. Nobody can "hold" anybody, is her firm belief. "And anyhow, who'd want to?" Love, like friendship or any of the other worth-while things in life, just is or isn't. Elsie believes.

Therefore, she wears no make-up except lipstick, which isn't the least obvious. But she has a magnificent ruddy glow to her suntanned cheeks from her outdoor life. Her sympathetic big brown eyes with their merry twinkle are alive with light and happiness, she hasn't gained or lost an ounce in 20 years and she still has that dainty, lithe grace which is hers alone.

Her proud little head, with its cropped chestnut hair, has a couple of gray hairs curling in it, about which she does nothing whatsoever. She's herself completely, satisfactorily, the lively, witty, zestful, human Elsie, one woman to who added years mean nothing whatsoever, except just that much more time to enjoy herself and get things done. The difference between her age, almost 44 and that of her husband, 30, has never made Elsie a speck self-conscious. She simply accepts them, dismisses them, apparently with never a thought towards doing anything kittenish to act and seem younger, as many a woman might who has a young husband.

Reviews Her Past

Someone mentioned the late Louise MacIntosh, the old actress who died in Elsie's Hollywood home, after Elsie and her husband had sailed.

"She played with you in your first New York production, didn't she?" she was asked as she stood by her young husband's side.

"New York fiddlesticks," was Elsie's quick retort. "Let's see," and she squinted up one eye, tipped back her head and calculated. "Why do you know it was 38 years ago that I met Louise in Indianapolis. I wasn't quite six."

Again, someone asked if she still kept her diary. "You bet," she answered. "Why, I've kept that diary 33 long years and some of the best things are going into it right now. Why should I quit?"

Gilbert Wilson (proudly): "My wife, Elsie Janis."

Church Meeting Is Conducted Here

Unification of Texas Baptists is favored by members of the Plains association of the Baptist Women's Missionary union, members reported following a quarterly session in Ralls on Tuesday. The Rev. J. D. Welch, pastor of Central Baptist church here, led a discussion on that subject at the morning session of the association. Twenty-five delegates attended from the Central Baptist Women's Missionary society.

Mrs. J. D. Welch is president of the union. Eighteen local women participated in a play. The next meeting of the union will be at Levelland in April.

Miss Caroline Powell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Powell, 2306 Sixteenth street, has returned from St. Louis where she completed a course as student dietitian at Barnes hospital. She is to go to Beaumont the latter part of this month and will be head dietitian at the general hospital there.

County Agent Tells Of Club Programs

Miss Hazel Bratley, county home demonstration agent, is to give lectures on meat canning this month before clubs in the county.

The first lecture will be given at a meeting at Slide this afternoon. Subsequent meetings will be as follows: McClung, Thursday afternoon; Hardy, Friday afternoon; Foster, January 16; Estacado, January 17; Slaton, January 18; Monroe, January 19; Hurlwood, January 23; Idalou, January 24; Broadview, January 25; Shallowater, January 26.

Club members are asked to get in touch with their presidents to find out where the demonstrations will be given, Miss Bratley said.

Rogers of 1420 Tenth street and is associated with the Tech farms. He and his bride, who is a graduate of Lubbock High school, are to be at home in the city.

The bride's sister, Miss Annie Pearl Robinson, and Mrs. Leonard Shell are entertaining this afternoon at the Robinson home with a party and miscellaneous shower for her.

Pioneer Needle Club Attends Party

Mesdames R. W. Walker and Pebble Talley entertained Tuesday afternoon for the Pioneer Needle club in Mrs. Talley's home, 1306 Avenue N. Members sewed during the afternoon.

Special guests were Mesdames L. H. Simpson and Mark Long. Members attending were Mesdames George R. Bean, P. B. Penney, F. V. Brown, C. E. Parks, J. N. Bryan and R. I. Tubbs. The hostesses were assisted in serving by Miss Corene Ratliff.

Top Interest Seen In New Silhouette

BY MARY E. PLUMMER

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—New light on the spring silhouette was cast today by a leading New York dressmaker.

This designer, Nettie Rosenstein, describes it as a "slimming," figure-fitting silhouette, with inconspicuous waistline and interest all at the top.

This top interest ads to the appearance of height. It will be a season of subtle changes—not startling differences. The waist must be small. In fact, to look her best in the new spring gowns, a woman must have a natural figure—slender, but with curves. No flat chests.

It was this designer who made the first cowl neck in this country. Paris discovered it later. She also was the first to use big sleeves in the summer of 1931.

The coming spring will be a great dressmaker suit season, she believes. Dresses with jackets giving a suit effect are in her spring collection.

Uses Light Weight Wool

The dresses are light-weight wool with matching gloves; and the jackets, leather belted, are of a contrasting color. One costume is of a loosely woven cotton that looks like tweed.

Her evening gowns have a long, patrician line, and are of sumptuous fabrics, many of them created for her by a French silk house.

She molds gowns to the figure by cutting and re-cutting a trial dress until the lines are perfect.

She likes back skirt treatment—a cascaded, bustle effect that ends in a train.

One of her favorite new fabrics is lorganzette—a soft, flecked organza. One gown is of this fabric in a rosy fuchia color. It has cascading skirt frills and an off-the-shoulder line.

Several net dresses, one with long, detachable sleeves, are in the spring group.

Officers Elected In Baptist Society

Members of the Central Baptist Young Woman's auxiliary elected officers Monday evening in a meeting at the church. They are as follows:

President, Miss Annie Brooks; vice-president, Miss Vera Johnson; secretary-treasurer, Miss Jennye Mae Whittaker; corresponding secretary, Miss Laura Mae Lee; reporter, Miss Modina Chambers; chorister, Miss Marsciete Wren; pianist, Miss Bennie Medley; librarian, Miss Thelma Hughes. Misses Rozelle Pendley and La Verne Elliott were received as members.

New Members Are Received Tuesday

Mary Helen Dunahoo and Ima Marie Lynch were received as members Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of Cheemi-Akipsia Camp Fire girls with Mrs. John Conner. A stunt was practiced and will be presented Friday evening at Seaman hall at a monthly play program.

Form New Unit In Camp Fire

Mesdames Jesse Q. Sealey and R. D. Erwin, jr., are guardians of a Camp Fire group that was organized Tuesday afternoon at First Methodist church under the sponsorship of the Sorosis class in the institution.

VALUE OF OIL FIELD FIXED

PANHANDLE OIL, GAS, BY-PRODUCTS IN '33 WORTH $40,000,000

AMARILLO, Jan. 10 (AP)—Oil and gas recovered from the Panhandle field, together with manufactured by-products, had an aggregate value of $40,000,000 in 1933, according to a survey conducted by N. D. Bartlett, oil editor of the Amarillo News-Globe.

Refined gasoline led the field with a slight margin over oil. Six refineries operating at 75 per cent of capacity produced 275,000,000 gallons of gasoline valued at $11,000,000. Nine refineries in the field have a total capacity of 58,000 barrels daily, but three of them were not in operation.

Oil Recovery Valuable

The year's recovery of oil was estimated to be worth $10,000,000, the average price being slightly above 60 cents a barrel. The year's production from an average of 1900 wells daily, was 16,500,000 barrels, bringing the total recovery from the field to 212,174,000 barrels. The average daily allowable was 45,000 barrels. The new potential as figured by the railroad commission, took a hike during the latter part of the year to a total of 159,740 barrels daily.

Passage by the legislature of a bill legalizing the extraction of natural gasoline from gas where no other market is available, resulted in an increase in this product from 155,000,000 gallons in 1932 to 223,000,000 last year. Several new plants were constructed, bringing the total to 55.

Major pipelines carrying natural gas from the Panhandle to cities of the middlewest and east marketed 109,500,000,000 cubic feet of gas, valued at $4,000,000. Fuel oil a by-product of the refineries, was worth $1,400,000.

Carbon Black Included

Bartlett estimated that carbon black production would be equal to, or greater than, that of 1932, which was valued at $6,500,000. Figures for the year just closed have not been made available.

There were 114 new oil wells completed, and 63 deepened for new pay. Twenty-four wells were completed for gas and 13 dry holes were drilled.

Exploration was confined largely to the north part of the old Badger pool in Hutchinson county, the extension of the Morse pool in the extreme eastern part of Gray county, and the Continental pool, four miles west of Borger in Hutchinson county.

Gray county led the field for activity with 85 operations. Hutchinson county had 36, Carson 15, Wheeler 13, and Moore 2.

The potential oil production of the field was increased by 45,800 barrels, a figure slightly above the daily allowable. The natural gas potential was increased by 647,000,000 cubic feet.

Foreign War Vets At Annual Dinner

With Richard W. Martin, commander, presiding, and Judge Homer L. Pharr the principal speaker, about 50 members of the Lubbock post, Veterans of Foreign Wars attended a dinner last night in the Lubbock hotel.

Harry LeMaire's orchestra played. Four new members, W. G. Snyder of Levelland, Ray L. Pelton, John B. DeWald, and W. G. Doss were elected to membership.

Other out-of-town visitors were E. M. Aycock and G. M. Dunn of Levelland.

WOMBATS RAID FARMS

MELBOURNE (AP)—Hordes of wombats, the little nocturnal marsupials which look like "teddy bears," are devouring crops in eastern Gippsland, Victoria. Farmers report that the animals tear holes in wire mesh and tunnel 18 inches under fences to get at the crops.

'Viking Romeo,' With Four Wives, Lands In Jail!

Bror Peterson's quest for the "ideal bride" to take back to Sweden to claim an ancestral estate—according to his story—led him to marry four Chicago girls before he found the "right one." He landed in jail following his failure to pay a wedding celebration bill for wife No. 4 (right), Mrs. Lydia Fagas Peterson. The third wife of the bald-headed Romeo was Mrs. Mabel Pagnio Peterson (left). The 44-year-old husband's brides ranged from 22 to 26 years of age. (Associated Press Photos).

FLASHES OF LIFE FROM EVERYWHERE

INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS GROUND FROM THE GRIST OF THE DAY'S HAPPENINGS

(By The Associated Press)

Removed At Last

BROOKLYN, Ind.—Issac J. (Jap) Miller, friend of James Whitcomb Riley and of Bill Nye, and self-elected "mayor of Brooklyn," is dead at the age of 76. He was the subject for several Riley poems.

Deciding, when he came here 36 years ago, that the town needed a mayor, Miller wrote President McKinley. On the strength of the reply, he "elected himself and proclaimed he "can not resign or be removed, for or without cause."

Chief Worries

EMPORIA, Kas.—Fire Chief Charles Stinson worried because he feared whoever had his missing rat terrier "Friday" might not feed him properly. The chief said the dog liked sausages and pancakes for breakfast, spaghetti and hamburger for dinner and a T-bone steak for supper.

Cupid's Cupidity?

CAMDEN, N. J.—It was quite an inspiration, that second marriage of Harry Adams, Cape May, N. J.

Haled into chancery court on charges of being $262 in arrears on his alimony to his first wife, Adams was asked by the master: "If you couldn't afford to pay the support order of your first wife, how could you afford to marry a second time? Do you call that economizing?"

"Sure, it was, judge," was the reply. "I married my bookkeeper. I had to pay her anyhow and I figured I might as well keep it in the family."

Would Boss Police

LYON, France—Edouard Harriot, mayor of Lyon, is angry. The ministry of the interior has taken away from him the control of the city police force.

All the police forces of France were recently placed under the direct authority of the ministry by a decree, which, M. Herriot asserts, was sprung upon them by a surprise, and is a great mistake.

As a reprisal he proposes to suppress the 500 francs ($30) the contributes to the upkeep of each policeman.

What Big Feet

ST. LOUIS—Robert Wadlow's shoes are attracting more attention at the convention of the national shoe retailers here than any other pair on display.

Robert's shoes, part of the exhibit of a St. Louis manufacturer, are size No. 35. They were made on a special last at a factory cost of $30.

Fifteen years old, 7 feet 10 1-2 inches tall and weighing 360 pounds, Robert, known as the "Alton school boy giant," came over from his Illinois home yesterday to attend the convention and attracted even more attention than his shoes.

FRAGMENT FOUND

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A four-pound fragment of a prehistoric tusk, found in a gravel pit near Bingham Lake, Minn., has been added to the University of Minnesota's geological collection. Prof. Clinton R. Stauffer estimates it came from an elephant with tusks originally weighing 300 pounds and at least eight feet long.

METEOR PAYS

LISBON (AP)—Fortune fell from the sky to a Portuguese farmer when a meteor landed in his field. He fenced it off and charged four cents for a peep at it.

BUYS LITTLEFIELD STORE

LITTLEFIELD, (Special)—L. E. Key, for several years engaged in business here, has purchased the J. W. Purser Furniture store. He is now in charge. Mr. Purser has not announced his plans.

NOT TRADABLE

WEST UNION, O. (AP)—E. B. May had a 'coon dog. Ray Stevens had a shotgun. They traded, but a few days later the dog died. Stevens contended this made the trade null and void and was upheld by a justice of the peace.

Tahoka High Again On Southern List

TAHOKA, Jan. 10. (Special)—Tahoka High school is on the 1933-34 list of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary schools, according to a letter to Superintendent J. B. Pace from J. W. O'Banion, Texas chairman of the committee.

The local high school has been on the list continuously since 1927. In reporting the selection, Mr. O'Banion said the election was unanimous.

F. M. WILLIS DEAD

PLAINVIEW, (Special)—F. M. Willis, 70, a contractor and resident here for seven years, died recently following an illness of two months. His widow, four daughters and a son survive. Burial was in the local cemetery.

New York led all states in number of rail visitors to Yellowstone national park last season, with Pennsylvania second, Illinois third and New Jersey fourth.

MAT CARD FOR TONIGHT TO BE HEATED

DICK KANTHE TO FACE DORRY DETTON IN MAIN EVENT

Local wrestling wars are due to break out in emphatic fury tonight when six well known ear-twisters and muscle-busters meet in three finish fights at the Auditorium.

Otis Clingman, champion of the United States navy, who's going to shoot it out with Gus Kallio for the middleweight champicnship of the world in the near future, meets Texas Tech's clouting wrestling coach, Jack Van Bebber, Olympic welter champ, in a one fall match that goes to a positive finish.

That twitching, quivering mass of muscle, Dick "Professor" Kanthe, the old Detroit dynamiter, collides with young Dorry Detton, Utah university athlete, in a return match, the main event of the evening, which goes the best two out of three fall distance. Last week the pair met and Dorry proved the most popular mat specialist ever to enter a Lubbock ring.

"Ready For Kanthe"

A newcomer from the west, Detton was not expecting the style of eartwisting which he met last Wednesday from the former iron bender and strong man artist. "Let me have the Professor again next week," said Detton, "and what I will do to the Michigan mauler will be plenty."

Kanthe, who is a non-committal athlete with a mass of muscles all over his body hard as a brides' biscuits, had only to say that "these nice looking collitch boy rasslers have always been a cinch for me and tonight I will learn Detton how real he-men rassle."

Defeated Moran

Clingman, who is much like his opponent Van Bebber in that he is a clean, scientific grappler but can hold his own with the boys who want to get ugly, put the muzzle a few weeks ago on the mighty Sailor Moran. He is a pupil of Cal Farley and knows all the tricks of the game and has a lot of innovations of his own.

Van Bebber, one of the smoothest mat artists in the country, is the strongest opponent Promoter Allen could have found for the versatile Clingman. Figuring in a half dozen wrestling operas here Van Bebber has never been pinned thus far.

A Fast Opener

Raising the curtains with fireworks, Charley Heard of Santone and Art Belcher of Amarillo, youngsters who have pleased Lubbock ringworms before, go on the mat in the 15 minute time limit preliminary.

Last week Heard was gunning for a match with Cyclone Mackey, but the Cyclone failed to show up, and Charley is passing it around that Mackey is "yellow" and all he asks is to get in the ring with him.

Prices are as usual and the show starts at 8 o'clock.

PICADORS WIN OFF WAYLAND

TECH FRESHMEN LOOK GOOD IN WIN OVER JACKRABBITS

Texas Tech's freshman athletes, wearing the same flying colors and nonchalance which carried them through a highly successful football season, opened their cage season last night by measuring the Wayland college Jackrabbits, 40 to 28, in a free exhibition at the Tech gymnasium.

Garrett, fish forward, made the meshes play a merry tune in the first half, and grabbed off scoring honors with six field goals and a couple of gratis chunks. Williams and Wheelock, forwards who did most of the scoring for the junior college contingent trailed with 10 9 points respectively.

Primed to follow their brilliant football season with equal success on the court, the freshmen looked exceedingly potent last evening. Besides Garrett, big, blocky shouldered all-stater from New Mexico, C. Butler, a somewhat smaller boy, showed a nice eye for the scoring ring.

Hefty, bouncy Jim Neill and little "Snotty" Snodgrass, guards for the first year men, covered the floor like a linoleum all during the evening. Headstream, six-foot four inch center from Ropes, and Robert Hale, fish guard, also played good games for the slimes.

Featuring Garrett and Hale, the Picadors went on noticeable scoring spree after eight minutes of play in the first frame. Coach Artie Williams' men responded with a slight rally and the count rested at 24 to 12 until the closing minutes of the first half. The Wheelock got warm for the Jackrabbits, and at the half the fish were leading by only six points.

Passing wildly all over the court after the intermission, five minutes went by before either team scored in the last half. Curly Wilkerson, Tech center, broke the ice with two free tosses. At this stage, C. Butler began to find the basket and the fish quickly left the Waylanders far in the rear.

The game became slightly rough toward the last and Referee Weaver levied no less than six personals in the final four minutes of play.

GLENN CUNNINGHAM SELECTED AS ACE OF AMATEURS

All Rights Reserved by The Associated Press

AMATEURS ARE IN SPOTLIGHT

BOOM PROMISED THIS YEAR IN AMERICAN ATHLETICS

BY AVERY BRUNDAGE
(President, Amateur Athletic Union; President, American Olympic Association.)

CHICAGO, Jan. 10 (AP)—Amateur athletics give prospect of booming in the United States in 1934.

This is because the year marks the beginning of preparations for the Olympic games of 1936 to be held in Germany. Also because American teams have been invited to compete in various nations this year.

Relations Friendly

Friendly international relations prevailing in amateur sport and the respect for American methods and competitors existing abroad is demonstrated by the fact that the A. A. U. has, at this time, invitations to send a track team to Japan, an ice hockey team to England, a track team to Sweden, and a swimming team to Japan. In addition, it is expected the winners of the 1933 A. A. U. women's basketball crown will visit England for the international championships.

Then too, the Olympic committee, at a meeting in February, will arrange for tryouts for the eleventh Olympiad, select coaches and managers and recommend the members of the team to represent the United States.

Despite the unbalanced economic conditions, there was no dimunition of interest in amateur athletics in 1933. Over 50,000 registered athletes competed in sanctioned open events and hundreds of thousands participated in novice and closed events under the auspices of the A. A. U. and its allied bodies.

Because of the Century of Progress, Chicago became the sports capital of the country last year. The A. A. U. was called upon to arrange the most ambitious sports program ever attempted. More than 40 national championships were conducted and over 150 separate competitions were held in practically every sport.

Special features of 1933 were the advancement made by southern track and field athletes, the growth of interest in amateur ice hockey and the supremacy of the mid-west in amateur basketball and wrestling.

FAMOUS CHICAGO GYMNASIUM CLOSES ITS DOORS AS BOXING GAME DECLINES

BY CHARLES DUNKLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Jan. 10 (AP)—The key in the lock turned and Kid Howard's gymnasium, for 25 years a famous training establishment for heroes of the prize ring, closed its doors today.

Lack of public interest in professional boxing was responsible. Howard, who has seen champions come and go, believes that professional boxing is dying and that it will be supplanted by the amateurs.

"Just Too Bad"

"And it will be just too bad," Howard said. Himself a former featherweight, Howard believes he knows whereof he speaks.

"Boxing is a sport for men and not young boys," he explained. "The result, in my judgment, will be distressing if they allow young boys to engage in the game. The results of early training and abuses in the ring will bring about mental, perhaps physical, injuries if there is not close supervision over their conditioning and their performances in the ring."

In the heyday of ring prosperity, Kid Howard's establishment was the training quarters for Freddie Welsh, Jack Dempsey, Jess Willard, Benny Leonard, Kid Herman, Jimmy Wild, Gene Tunney, Harry Greb, and in fact every outstanding fighter of the day. While these ring heroes went through their paces, the public was admitted at twenty-five cents a head. In the last couple of years, however, the gymnasium crowds dwindled and finally fell off until it was no longer profitable for Howard to keep open.

"The Sport Is Dying"

"The sport is dying," he said, reminiscently. "There are not enough good boxers or good attractions left. I can see no future for the sport. There are more clubs and more stadiums in the country with no outstanding boxers to fill them or even come close. Why, in the last two years, with the exception of three or four outstanding contests, no professional bout in Chicago has drawn more than a thousand dollars. Think that over. Meanwhile, the amateurs have drawn anywhere from twenty to forty thousand."

Howard recalled that Dempsey at the height of his career, drew thirty thousand spectators to his establishment just to see the former heavyweight champion go through his paces. Big Jess Willard, Sam Langford, Gene Tunney, Benny Leonard and others were correspondingly as popular, but those good old days have passed, Howard believes.

So today his training establishment is like a morgue with no tattoo of the punching bag resounding through the place, no swish of a boxing glove landing on a sparring partner's chin.

Option Contracts Sent From Lubbock

County Agent O. G. Tumlinson has forwarded to Washington, D. C., 375 cotton option contracts, most of them accepting a 4 per cent advance, and nearly a hundred more late Tuesday were ready to be sent.

Most of the farmers signing up their options are taking the four cent advance, according to Miss Virginia Alexander, who is in charge of the work. Up to Tuesday afternoon about 440 contracts had been signed up.

The first lot received contained 625 contract blanks. Since then a number more have been received, bringing the total to nearly 700.

Options must be exercised by January 15.

CAGE GAME TO BE FRIDAY

SECOND CHANGE MADE IN DATE OF BULLDOG WESTERNER TILT

Coach Froggie Lovvorn brings his Plainview High school Bulldogs here Friday night to open the Panhandle High school basketball conference season in Lubbock.

A second change in the playing date was announced last night when it was learned that the Bulldogs could not be here Thursday night, as announced yesterday. The game originally was set for Friday, but efforts were made to change the date to Thursday evening.

Coach Lovvorn brings one of the strongest defensive clubs in the state to Lubbock this week. In a contest with the strong Amarillo Sandstorm, who shellacked Lubbock, 41-11, the Bulldogs held Amarillo to a 12 to 10 count.

Lubbock's basketball mentor, Swede McMurry, is basing his hopes on the improvement shown by his quintet in practice games this week. Against the Tech Freshmen, who can show the varsity a thing or two, the Westerners went on a no scoring spree but they looked rather well against the long and rangy Fish.

With the beginning of the spring semester, Coach McMurry is expecting additions to his squad. Warren Kerr becomes eligible, but the six feet three inch veteran of the '32 team can only come out for practice in the morning. With Kerr at pivot, Glen Jones at a forward, and Dowell, a promising squad-member, at guard, the altitude average for the team would be considerably augmented.

Booker, Loftiss, Upton, a few more of the smaller boys, have been looking good, however, and may edge the tall ones out for assignments.

The first steam water pump used in Macon, Ga., is to be placed on exhibit in a park. It is 60 years old.

MATADOR CAGERS WIN OVER ARIZONA STATE COLLEGE BULLDOGS

(By The Associated Press)

TEMPE, Ariz., Jan. 10—Texas Tech defeated the Bulldogs of Arizona State Teachers college, 30 to 22, in a Border conference basketball game here last night.

The game was more of an exhibition of ball-passing ability than scoring power, and neither team showed a strong offensive system.

The Bulldogs were able to keep the ball in the Matadors' territory the greater part of the game but could not consistently get it past the strong Texas guards.

Lead Short-Lived

Tempe took an early lead but it was short-lived. However, the Matadors' drive lost fire toward the end of the half, which ended with the score tied at 11 all.

The visitors took the lead again early in the second half and never relinquished it.

The teams meet here again tonight to conclude the series, after which the Texas invaders move to Flagstaff for a two-game series with the Arizona State Teachers college, Friday and Saturday. On Monday and Tuesday nights of next week, the Matadors enter Tucson for a series with the University of Arizona Wildcats.

A. Crews of Tech was high scorer, marking 11 points. Olsen was high scorer for the teachers, with 6 points. The starting lineups.

Texas-California Polo Series Seen

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10 (AP)—A Texas-California polo series featuring the stars who won for the West against the East at Chicago last summer will be held here beginning Feb. 4. Bob Honeyman, chairman of the Midwick Country club polo committee, announced today.

Cecil Smith, eight goal star, Rube Williams, Gilly Gilmore and Tom Mather, will play for Texas. The California team will be built around Eric Pedley and Elmer Boeseke, with Aidan Roark, Eric Tyrell-Martin and Lin Howard among other possible riders.

Smith, Pedley and Boeseke played against the East last summer.

SPORTOGRAPH

by COLLIER PARRIS

Copyright, 1933

WRESTLING tonight at the Auditorium. Dick Kanthe vs. Dorry Detton. Otis Clingman vs. Jack Van Bebber. Charley Heard vs. Art Belcher. Minimum of four falls; maximum, five.

Re-matching of Detton, the smooth, tricky young collegian from Salt Lake City, and Professor Dick Kanthe, veteran muscle-masher of Detroit, is considered an unusual but commendable move by Promoter Sled Allen.

Not only did Detton demand a chance to throw Kanthe so far out of the ring that he couldn't get back until next week, but a delegation of fans called on the promoter with the suggestion that they be rematched. Their fight last Wednesday night was one of the best, if not THE best of the season.

Then there's Otis Clingman, burly grappler from Amarillo who has appeared in various and sundry rings over the country, and always is wanted back. He's a main eventer on anybody's card, but since it's his debut here, he and his handlers would like to see how he "gets over" before throwing him in for a three-fall match.

Clingman, we understand, is one of the cleaner cut, "gentleman" wrestlers, by nature, who can get just as rough and tough as the next one when it's desirable and convenient. With Van Bebber, however, the Amarillo star will have a chance to show his best grappling tricks and lay off the muckerism. Van Bebber is one of the cleanest, smoothest grapplers going, when he's let alone.

Heard, the San Antonio flash, and Belcher, of Cal Farley's stables, will be huffing and puffing plenty in the course of their one-fall preliminary, which ought to see just about all the known rules of wrestling taken for a ride.

Unable to make satisfactory arrangements in Lubbock relative to the officiating in his wrestling matches, Sled Allen has imported referees from Amarillo for his last two cards. Henry Reed and Bill Cazzell, two of Amarillo's smartest officials, did nice jobs here, did all that is required of a referee. Bo Sexton, genial W. U. manager, did finished jobs at the Auditorium, and would be doing 'em yet if his business didn't interfere.

Anxious to procure a good official for tonight's matches, Allen wired Matchmaker Dutch Mantell of Amarillo to be sure and send one of his men here tonight. Sled showed us the following telegram last night:

"... WILL BRING REFEREE MYSELF AS I SURE WANT TO SEE CLINGMAN-VAN BEBBER GO STOP THAT SHOULD BE AS HOT IF NOT HOTTER THAN MAIN BOUT STOP GIVE PARRISH MY LOVE AND TELL THE FOLKS THAT THE GREAT MANTELL WILL BE AT RINGSIDE STOP LOVE."

(Signed) PRETZELDRESER.

And so you see what the Duke of— pardon us, the Grand Duke of Luxembourg thinks of tonight's attraction.

You still have time, if you hurry, to see Abe Chavez and Thurman Murdock go through their paces in a public workout this afternoon.

Chavez and Murdock, you know, meet Friday night in Lubbock's bantamweight championship fight of the Southwest. They are scheduled to work out at the Lubbock Club, located at 1112 Broadway, this afternoon at 4 o'clock and again at 5.

Matchmaker Marty Fiedler really is setting a fast pace for himself in this, his first offering. Marty, we believe, knows whereof he speaks when he tells about the fighting abilities of Chavez and Murdock. From various other authorities we have heard similar commendations of these two little men.

"But it's go to be good," muses Marty. "If this fight don't go good, I guess I'll have to check out. If it gets over and we break even on expenses, then I'll see what else I can do toward building up the boxing business in Lubbock. I believe it has a place here, and as for this fight, nobody's going to be disappointed."

We don't believe Mr. Fiedler has any reason to be packing his bag. Indications are that a heckuva big crowd will storm the Armory Friday night. Advance ticket sales and reservations point to a sell-out. There are less than 150 ring-side chairs—chairs, mind you—for sale, and six bits seems pretty cheap for a fight of this natu e. You may purchase or reserve tickets at the J. & J. Sporting Goods store or at Dee's Coffee Shop.

Abe Chavez came in last night, and after an all-day automobile ride from Albuquerque he could still smile. And smiling and personality seem to be a very big part of his make-up. He hits the spot when he meets you, no foolin'. His manager, Carl Dourte, whose few remaining hairs are graying from the inevitable worry that accompanies a fight manager, is a pleasing fellow to meet, too.

TILDEN RULES AS FAVORITE

BIG BILL WILL MEET ELLSWORTH VINES IN MATCH TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—Ellsworth Vines will make his professional tennis debut in Madison Square Garden tonight against Big Bill Tilden with the odds favoring Philadelphia's "old master" at 2 to 1.

Promoters said the advance sale had reached $28,000 with prospects of a sell-out and gross receipts of $38,000. A capacity crowd of 16,000 would set a new record for attendance at any American tennis match, indoors or out, amateur or professional.

Experts Pick Tilden

Although Tilden is 41 years old, expert opinion all leans heavily in his favor. They concede the 22-year-old Vines a big advantage in stamina and admit the blinding speed of his game, but still pick Tilden to win.

Critics who watched Tilden wade through to win the American professional indoor title at Philadelphia recently say he never has played more brilliantly.

Vines, on the other hand, will be playing under conditions with which he is comparatively unfamiliar. He has had little experience in indoor play. Nor has the young Californian been nearly so impressive in practice as his rival.

The match, best three-of-five sets, headlines a program which also includes a singles encounter between Vincent Richards and Bruce Barnes, and a doubles contest between the Tilden-Barnes and Vines-Richards combinations.

EQUIPOISE TO RACE AGAIN

LITTLE GIANT OF THE TURF TO TRY TO BEAT SUN BEAU'S RECORD

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 10 (AP)—Equipoise, the little giant of the turf, is growing a new hoof in preparation for another assault on the money-winning record of $376,744 held by Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Sun Beau.

The C. V. Whitney handicap champion, winner of $322,970, will return to the racing wars this spring and summer, providing training does not again injure his foot.

Had Game Leg

Equipoise raced with practically a game leg for the past two seasons, yet was able to defeat almost every horse that ran against him. Most of his hoof was cut away recently in an effort to clear up the trouble, but it is growing again, and his handlers expect him to be ready for training early in the spring.

It was first planned to retire Equipoise to the stud, but Trainer T. J. Healey says Whitney has decided to give Ekky another chance to eclipse Sun Beau's record. Meanwhile the little chestnut is wallowing the mud on the Whitney farm thoroughly enjoying himself.

CHAVEZ COMES HERE READY FOR FIGHT

TO MEET MURDOCK IN TITLE RING BOUT FRIDAY NIGHT

Smiling Abe Chavez, mite of a man but packing plenty of wallop in either fist, came to town last night and established headquarters at Hotel Hilton. He bills from Albuquerque, and is the accepted bantamweight boxing champion of the Sunshine State.

Thurman Murdock, the "radio announcer" ace of Borger, the Texas Boxing commission's state champion, put in his appearance this morning. He may be seen this afternoon at about 5 o'clock at the Lubbock Club, 1112 Broadway, in a public workout. His appearance follows that of Chavez, who is scheduled to work out at 4 o'clock.

But the next time Joe Phann wishes to see them in fighting regalia, he must pay 75 cents, close range, or 50 cents, not quite so close, for the privilege.

Chavez and Murdock are scheduled to tangle here Friday night in the bantamweight championship battle of the Southwest. The contest is to be staged in the National Guard armory here. Tickets are on sale now, and reservations may be made via telephone.

Promoters Are Ready

Marty Fiedler, matchmaker, and Dee Puckett, promoter, have made the plans and set the stage—Fiedler's part being the matching of the fighters and working out of details of contracts, and Puckett's part being that of licensed promoter and arranger of site details—for what they believe will be the best bout ever staged in Lubbock.

"If I know anything about fighting and fighters—and I ought to—this," says Matchmaker Fiedler, "is what is normally termed a 'natural,' and there'll be plenty of mitt-slinging."

Arriving last night with Abe Chavez were his manager, Carl Dourte, his sparring partner, Louie Booth, and Lee Chavez, lightweight boxer who is to meet Woody Windham in the semi-final event Friday night.

Windham Agrees

Windham, who has appeared in two gratifying fights here notified Fiedler Monday that he would be here to take part in the semi-final with Lee Chavez. The Chavez boys are not related.

Tickets may be purchased or reservations made at the J. & J. Sporting Goods store or at Dee's Cafe.

Business College Cagers Beat Anton

The Lubbock Draughon's Business college basketball team, coached by Mentor Day, launched their campaign on the painted court last night by nosing out a strong Anton independent team, 32 to 30, at the Auditorium.

Arthur of the business college team, which hopes to play the outstanding teams of this section, led the scoring with six field goals and two free shots. H. Couch of Anton led his side with eight points.

Draughon's Business college lineup consisted of Hitt, H. Key, Arthur, J. Key, Barr, Wheeler and V. J. Key. Anton's team was made of Ellis, Davis, Matthews, Minton, H. Couch, Shuckley, C. Couch and L. Couch.

FAMOUS ARMY TURNS REBEL

19TH ROUTE ARMY IS FIGHTING FURIOUSLY AGAINST CHINA

(By The Associated Press)

The most famous fighting unit on all China—the 19th route army which defended Shanghai from the Japanese in 1932—has turned rebel.

The 19th is fighting fiercely in Fukien province against the combined forces of General Chiang Kai-shek, for whom they battled just as fiercely two years ago.

Originally, the 19th was a Cantonese outfit. It received its name from the fact that it was given a certain territory or "route" to defend.

During Japanese hostilities, it was hurled into the main defense task and stood the brunt of the battle of Shanghai.

Now it fights under the same leader, General Tsai Ting-Kai—a slender, nonchalant and youngish man who looks more like a poet than a soldier.

This unusual general's hands are slender and his fingers taper. He is mild-mannered and soft-voiced. He is a scholar of the Chinese classics.

Yet, with indefatiguable spirit and strict training methods, he has made the 19th route army what is generally recognized as the best fighting unit China ever had.

TRINITY HOLDS DINNER HERE

TWO HUNDRED ATTEND AFFAIR; HISTORY OF FIRM IS TRACED

A dinner drew about 200 officials, stockholders, bondholders, and policyholders of the Trinity Bond Investment company and the Trinity Life Insurance company of Fort Worth last night at the Lubbock hotel. Most parts of the South Plains were represented.

Judge Clark M. Mullican presided as toastmaster and talks were made by R. A. Stuart of Fort Worth, general attorney and director of the company; A. Morgan Duke, president; Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college; Wilbur C. Hawk, a director of Amarillo; Sam C. Arnett, president of the Citizens National bank, also a director; J. C. Cowan, president of the First National bank of Tulia, a director; Wyatt C. Hedrick, director, and B. A. Donnally, also of Fort Worth, secretary-treasurer.

History Is Told

Mr. Stuart, Mr. Duke and other officials of the company outlined briefly the history of the new firm, an all-Texas institution, pointing out that 3,000 Texans are now financially interested in the company which has grown from a capitalization of $50,000 to more than a million since its establishment less than three years ago. The company now has more than $7,000,000 of insurance in force in the state, it was said.

Invocation at the banquet was given by Dr. Jack M. Lewis, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Songs and dance numbers were given by Miss Lucille Walker and Miss Emma Sue Gunn with Mrs. Aubrey Walker at the piano. Cowboy ballads were given by Chas. Moseley and his Buddies.

Panchen Lama Will Seek Lost Domains

NANKING, Jan. 10 (AP)—The Panchen Lama, former spiritual leader of Buddhist Tibet, is planning to regain his lost domains as a result of the death last month of the Dalai Lama who ailed him.

Advices from Pallingmiao said the deposed chieftain sent word to the nationalist government that he will come here to discuss the possibility of succeeding to rulership of Tibet.

It is believed he will make the trip in time for the congress of the Chinese Kuomintang party January 20, probably escorted by a procession of Lama monks.

In 1924 the Dalai Lama, temporal head of the nation, accused the Panchen Lama of plotting with foreign powers, drove him out of the country and usurped his prerogatives as spiritual dictator.

The gross income to rice growers in this country declined from $45,000,000 a year in the 1924-28 period to $15,000,000 last year.

Now You Can See "What the Best-Dressed Men Are Wearing"

If you've wondered what the well-dressed American man wears, sturdy the sartorial lines of these dashing figures. For four of the five Americans pictured here are among "the world's ten best dressed men"—by vote of tailors of London, New York and Hollywood. From left to right are: F. Frazier Jelke, New York stock broker, in a business suit; William Goadby Loew, New York broker, in a sports outfit; Adolphe Menjou (top), motion picture actor, and Fred Astaire, American dancer (below), sporting smart derbies (or bowlers, if you please); and Anthony J. Drexel Biddle of Philadelphia in a two-piece ensemble for country wear. Astaire, while not among the first ten, was given honorable mention.

LUBBOCK GARDEN CLUB PREPARING TO REPLACE TREES ON LUBBOCK HIGHWAYS

The Lubbock Garden club is preparing to replace about 1,800 trees killed by drouth last year after being planted to align the six highways leaving Lubbock.

In order to replace the trees, the club members will be forced to raise approximately $200 and have decided to stage a "tree tag day" next Saturday, January 13. Tags bearing the statement, "I have bought a tree for Lubbock's highways" will be sold by club members on the streets. The tags will sell for fifteen cents each, the price of one tree.

Application for CWA workers has been made with the state director at Austin and cost of labor of planting the trees is expected to be paid by this method, only the cost of the trees to be borne by the club. A water wagon and water will be furnished by the city as was the case last year.

The project will require 20 men working eight hours a day for twenty days, it is estimated.

The total labor cost will be $1,280.

A total of 4,300 trees was planted on the six highways for a distance of two miles from Lubbock last year by the club through the efforts of Mrs. Clark M. Mullican, president, and Mrs. Frank Winn.

Mrs. W. P. Clement is president of the club for 1934 and is enthusiastically supporting continuance of the project. The work is to continue under the direction of Mrs. Mullican, Mrs. Winn and Mrs. A. B. Cunningham.

The state highway department is now authorized to maintain the trees and Geo. Samson of Post has been named supervisor of the replanting work. He will be here soon to begin his duties.

Norville Dean, 11, of Oklahoma City died of an unusual cause—asphyxiation from gasoline fumes.

Work has been started on Alaska's largest aviation field, at Cordova, costing $50,000.

ROAD PROJECT IS PROPOSED

CANYON AND ACUFF TO SEEK HARD-SURFACED ROAD TO CROSBY

Petitions asking Lubbock County Commissioners court to apply to the Civil Works administration for hard-surfacing of a road, from state highway 24 at the experiment substation to the Lubbock-Crosby county line, are being circulated by taxpayers of Acuff and Canyon communities.

The proposed road would go via Canyon school house and Acuff. According to Douglas Pounds of Acuff, who was circulating a petition in Lubbock yesterday afternoon, at least 27,000,000 pounds of cottonseed, cotton, coal, bagging and ties, oils and grease, meal and hulls, and machinery are hauled over this route annually.

Eight Gins Served

Eight gins are served by the road, in addition to residents of the territory.

The petition pointed out that "the section of the county to be served by this road is one of the most densely populated in the county; it has a large percentage of its lands under cultivation; it produces a large percentage of the crops of the county, and because of those facts the people to be served by the road pay a large proportion of the taxes of the county."

Exhibits showing the amount of traffic on the road will be submitted to commissioners' court, Pounds said.

WIFE OF CHINESE HAS DARING ROLE

SHANGHAI, Jan. 10 (AP)—Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, American-educated wife of the "strong man" of the nationalist government, is playing a daring role in the drama being staged today in rebellious Fukien province.

Reports from the fighting zones indicate Mme. Chiang is taking a man's part in negotiations with the rebels.

On one occasion she flew unaccompanied except for her pilot from the headquarters of her husband in Chuchow, Chekiang province, and returned with word that she had received emissaries of rebel commanders who sought to surrender in North Fukien.

An alumna of Wellesley, she once told an Associated Press writer she considered herself in the role of an interpreter of the west and its ways to her conservative, Orient-trained husband.

In the first six weeks the Knoxville, Tenn. barter exchange gave work to 100 jobless on 130 jobs and sold or swapped $500 worth of goods.

Doctors Give Creosote For Chest Colds

For many years our best doctors have prescribed creosote in some form for coughs, colds and bronchitis, knowing how dangerous it is to let them hang on.

Creomulsion with creosote and six other highly important medicinal elements, quickly and effectively stops coughs and colds that otherwise might lead to serious trouble.

Creomulsion is powerful in the treatment of colds and coughs, yet it is absolutely harmless and is pleasant and easy to take.

Your own druggist guarantees Creomulsion by refunding your money if you are not relieved after taking Creomulsion as directed. Beware the cough or cold that hangs on. Always keep Creomulsion on hand for instant use. (Adv.)

Men must be taught as though you taught them not.—Pope.

Confusion Of Ideas

Among the minor oddities of these changed times there is the fact that this Democratic administration is apt to see a stirring battle for states' rights carried on by Republicans.

The battle lines have formed already. "Local autonomy and state sovereignty must be restored," is the rallying-cry of the G. O. P. A big Chicago Republican paper not long ago devoted a column-long front-page editorial to the task of proving that the Republicans really are the heirs of the Jefferson tradition in politics.

And if all of this seems slightly cockeyed, to one who takes his politics in the old-time manner, all that can be said is that these are cockeyed times, and that stranger things than Republican adherence to the doctrines of Thomas Jefferson will yet be seen.

As a matter of fact, this new pother about states' rights conceals one of the fundamental problems of the moment.

The trend toward centralization of government has been speeded up enormously during the past few years—not from design, but through the logic of circumstances.

The federal government has had to do an almost infinite number of things that never before were considered the federal government's job—everything from putting men to work in the forests to lending money to railroads, from bolstering up banks to regulating the production of hogs. It has reached out tentacles that touch the life of the ordinary citizen at every point.

At the same time, the structure of local government has been crumbling. Cities have been unable to collect taxes, city services have been given up, policemen and teachers have gone unpaid, municipal bonds have gone into default—and the end is not yet in sight.

So we have, on the one hand, a vast extension of federal activities; and, on the other, a swift and steady shrinkage of local government. And while men prepare to fight for a revival of Jeffersonian principles, city officials go to Washington begging for even more help from the federal treasury.

Where all of this is going to end is one of the most puzzling issues of the day. It may be that the end of the emergency will find most of the traditional set-up re-establishing itself, more or less automatically. Or it may be that we shall have to admit that the old Jefferson concept of government no longer is applicable.

And the above paragraph might be improved by dropping the last three words!

* * *

THE ladies of the Lubbock Garden club, with the co-operation of interested citizens and organizations, last year started something worthwhile when they began the campaign to line Lubbock county highways with trees.

Something like 4,500 of the trees were planted and despite the dry fall something like two-thirds of them are doing nicely.

But the dry fall did knock the props out from under about a third of the young trees so the ladies are sponsoring another campaign to fill in the dead ones.

* * *

No one will deny that more trees are very evident needs of the South Plains and, getting right at home, Lubbock county.

One needs little imagination to look into the future and visualize Lubbock county's highway system lined with stately trees and fail to see the improvement they would bring.

It's a real undertaking but the ladies believe in their ability to do the job.

And as Dr. George W. Truett said in public address here yesterday, "the biggest believers are the biggest doers."

* * *

SUPERVISION of this year's planting is arranged for through the State Highway department and the club is making application through CWA, ABC, XYZ, or some other governmental agency, for funds to provide labor.

But the rub comes in the fact that the club has to get hold of from 1,500 to 1,800 uniform, pruned trees at 15 cents a tree.

That's where the public will come in.

* * *

During the next few days you'll be reading in the papers about this tree planting campaign and the plan to raise funds here on Tree Tag Day, which will be next Saturday.

If you are one who can see the benefit of these tree lined highways, mark Saturday on your calendar as one day on which to lay 15 cents on the line (or as much more as you see fit) to help the tree-planting campaign.

It is a real beneficial project.

R. G. 'BOSS' SHANNON, 54-year old grizzled Texan convicted of complicity in the Urschel kidnaping, will go to Leavenworth to serve his life sentence 'without bitterness', he told Associated Press, yesterday.

To which The Plainsman's observation is "that's mighty, mighty white of him"!

* * *

Why should there be any bitterness in the heart of a convicted criminal after society catches up with him and he is sent away to pay for his crimes?

The bitterness, if you ask this column, should be all on the other side—on the side of the people he wronged by his crimes and on the side of the decent, law-abiding citizens who had to pay for his arrest, his incarceration before the trial, his various appeals and, finally, his further jailing.

* * *

THAT'S the trouble with our method—or rather almost total lack of method—in dealing with those who break our laws.

That's the trouble with the pardon and parole system in vogue in many of our states—and particularly in the state of Texas—which makes it possible for a community to spend hundreds or thousands of dollars dealing with an enemy of society and then permits a governor with a distorted sense of justice to turn him loose before he ever gets well started on his sentence.

Bitterness in the heart of a lawbreaker simply because he turned out to be one of the few who don't 'beat the rap' is a laugh.

Or, it would be were it not such a serious proposition.

A couple of Lubbock fathers were talking the other day about the ways and means (probable, of course) of controlling the younger generation.

"Well, I'll tell you what I did," one remarked. "I gave my daughter a front door key on her 18th birthday."

"That was all right, I guess," said the other. "At least you are in keeping with the modern trend of raising a family."

"I wasn't interested in being in keeping with any modern trends," came the reply. "But I got doggone tired of having her knock the milk bottles over every morning when she came home!"

Flood of Booze Ready

Forty million gallons of whisky, stored in Canada, alleged to be four or more years old, is relied upon by the FACA to break present booze prices and confound the bootlegger.

Officials privately admit they'll need nearly all of it for our rectifiers and blenders, besides 6,000,000 above-quota gallons recently let in. That's the only large source of American-type whisky.

Get-rich-quick ambitions of would-be importers were indicated when FACA counted up and found that aplications for Scotch whisky imports would have brought in 100 times more Scotch than arrived in any pre-prohibition year. The glut would have been ridiculous.

Few realize it yet, but any citizen privately may import any amount of wines and liquors—without a permit — which he can convince customs officers is for his personal use. You can stock up a full cellar if you like.

* * *

Club Over Congress

Thousands of jobs still undistributed to Democrats are one reason for Roosevelt's serenity as he faces Congress. About half the federal patronage is yet to be handed out, reliable estimates say.

It's as potent a club over recalcitrant party senators as in the special session. One reason Postmaster General Jim Farley went to Europe was to preserve that weapon.

Two billion dollars more of public works money soon will be available, mostly for local projects. And you don't know politics if you think that can't be used to keep Congress in line.

Uncle Sam, Already In The Banking Business Up To His Knees, To Wade Farther, But He Still Fears The Plunge

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10—Uncle Sam is in the banking business up to his knees. He will wade farther, but he still fears the plunge.

Breweries anxious to reopen, sawmills short of cash, newspapers unable to meet the payroll, shoe factories, merchants, railroads and other big corporations — they're typical of thousands of firms now begging the administration to finance private industry. The banks still won't lend.

Dutcher

Inner councils of the New Deal seriously considered direct RFC loans to corporations, especially for payrolls and raw materials.

The latest inside dope is that bankers will be given another chance to do their job.

But the RFC will underwrite industrial loans by from 25 to 50 per cent. That means the Treasury directly will share the risks which bankers thus far have refused to take.

Banks face more rigid control if they don't play ball. Roosevelt and his credit advisers think they will.

Reasons: 1. Fear of bank runs a factor in vastly increased bank liquidity, is almost eliminated with insurance of 80 to 90 per cent of deposits. 2. Thousands of banks will have more than a billion of RFC 5 per cent money received for preferred stock. They must put that money to work.

Along with demand for working capital has come huge demand for refinancing money. Many firms think they'd be in good shape with maturing obligations met.

* * *

What's a Billion or So?

Don't let your difficulty in grasping the figures of the present double budget system enlarge your inferiority complex.

Papa Roosevelt himself, while still wrestling with the budget, was confessing: "You can figure it any way you like and make it come out ten billions plus or ten millions minus."

"Anyway," he explained with a circus performers and suggests that a good many of the clowns have already been taken care of in congress and the various legislatures!

With 'Whiz' BARRY Under The Capitol Dome

BY R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Jan. 10 (AP)—C. C. McDonald of Wichita Falls, candidate for governor and said to have the support of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, has adopted a policy of not letting grass grow under his feet.

Immediately after Governor Ferguson announced she would not be a candidate for re-election McDonald made it known he wanted the place. Already he has opened state headquarters and issued his platform. He was the first in the race, first to open headquarters and the first to make his principles known.

Sanderson Runs Campaign

It is nearly seven months before the first Democratic primary, but McDonald sees the need of perfecting a state-wide organization and staying on the job persistently. State Senator Roy Sanderford of Belton, Ferguson leader in the upper house, has been selected as campaign manager.

"I'm tickeled to have the job," said Sanderford. "I can go into the campaign whole-heartedly for McDonald. He is a good, clean boy and I am for him through and through. That makes a big difference in the work one can do as a campaign manager—when he is thoroughly sold on his man he naturally can do better work."

No Hand Shaking

Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, of course, stood at the head of the receiving line on New Year's day when Texans called at the executive mansion, but she did not shake hands. She permitted others to sub for her in that courtesy.

She had been signing Texas unemployment relief bonds for days and her fingers were swollen and stiff from that ordeal.

DRIVEWAYS TO BE PAVED

A FUNDS ARE TO BE USED FOR PROJECT ON TECH CAMPUS

Texas Technological college cam-s' main driveways will be curbed d paved, additional sidewalk will laid, and the campus will be ndscaped as a result of an allot-nt totaling $50,000 from the Pub- Works administration, Dr. Brad-rd Knapp, president of the college, nounced last night.

The first grant of $22,000 will be ing of the driveways and to be started soon, Dr. said. An additional grant for her work is expected to fol-ter Feb. 15.

Without showing the least motion, Van Der Lubbe with owed head listened as the eath sentence again was read.

He silently shook his head when asked if he wanted to make a statement.

Werner then said, "I surrend-r you to the executioner."

The latter, Herr Goebler of agdeburg, dressed in evening thes and wearing white gloves laid his hand on Van Der Lubbe's shoulder.

Meekly, the young man ascended the scaffold where he was tied down.

Groups Are Formed In 18 Communities

Eighteen communities have in-formed O. G. Tumlinson, county farm agent, each has organized a community working group and a cotton committee. To Tuesday, 25 communities had scheduled meet-ings for shaping of personnel for 1934 activities.

The reports must be in the office by Saturday morning, Mr. Tumlin-son said. He is calling a meeting of all community cotton committees for early next week to discuss the 1934 cotton reduction program. This one day school of instruction will be held to give aid to all committee-men in handling the work.

Ches Merrill, Shallowater; Vic Cade, Union, and Douglas Pounds, Acuff, are the county cotton control committee. They will meet with the community workers.

McDearmon To Run For School Place

Candidacy of R. McDearmon, a teacher in Carlisle community, for the county school superintendency will be announced formally Sun-day, he said here Tuesday.

Mr. McDearmon has been teach-ing in Lubbock county for seven years, the first three of which were spent at Foster and the last four at Carlisle.

Prior to coming to Lubbock he re-sided in Hill county.

BRIDGE TOURNEY FAVORITES REMAIN FIRMLY ENTRENCHED IN SECOND ROUND

BY BRYAN COLLIER

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—The favorites remained firmly entrench-ed as the second round of the Unit-ed States Bridge association con-tract pair championships passed in-to history early today.

Reversing, somewhat, the order of the previous listings when his wife had topped the lists, Ely Culbertson and his partner, Theodore A. Light-ner, led the field at the half way mark with a point total of 498.5.

Mrs. Culbertson and her partner, Albert H. Morehead, had receded to fifth position with 483.5 points, with the following intervening: Michael Gottlieb and Howard Schenken, New York, second with 497; A. M. Barnes and Edward Hymes, third with 494; A. P. Stockvis and Leroy Thurtell, of Albuquerque, N. M., fourth with 488.5.

In seventh place were Capt. F. G. French and Mrs. Olive Peterson, of Philadelphia, with 466.5; Ralph Kempner and M. H. Besser, of Chi-cago, were fourteenth with 454; S. N. Ruttenberg and Charles D. Wol-denberg, fifteenth with 451; W. E. Brownback and C. C. Lockett of St. Louis, eighteenth with 434.5.

All other out of town competitors were eliminated.

Last night's scores were cumula-tive towards the finals tonight in which the champion pair will be selected. The major team of four event—with representatives from every section of the nation compet-ing—begins tomorrow.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 10. (AP)—Cot-ton opened steady, 1 to 2 higher on active trade buying and improved textile markets. Jan 10.70; Mch 10.77; May 10.93; July 11.10; Oct 11.27; Dec. 11.42.

Offerings were light. There was some broadening of commission house demand after the opening which sent March up to 1082 and July to 11.13, or about 4 to 6 points net higher. Further March liquid-ation was taken by the trade against later deliveries and the market was steady within a point or two of the best at the end of the first half hour.

The volume of business tapered off after the early advance to 10.82 for March and the market worked off a few points later in the morn-ing under selling attributed large-ly to realizing on recent purchases. The early advance evidently un-covered a few selling limits, but the offerings were absorbed by buying through spot houses or the trade believed to be partly for southern mill account and the market was fairly steady late in the morning. March sagged off to 10.86 or back to yesterday's closing quotation with the market at midday about net unchanged to 2 points higher.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 10. (AP)—Cotton opened active and one to two points up today although ca-bles were lower than due. Sterling, however, was a shade firmer and gold unchanged. As there were many buying orders in the market at the start and little disposition to sell, prices continued to advance, helped by somewhat firmer stocks, until March traded up to 10.76, May to 10.95, and July to 11.08, or 4 to 5 points above yesterday's close.

At the end of the first half hour the market was steady and at the highs.

The market continued steady most of the morning, due to fair trade buying and price-fixing by the mills. March traded up to 10.78, May to 10.95 and July to 11.09, or 5 to 6 points up net. Late in the morning, the market was a shade easier on realizing by recent buyers, reaching 4 points from the highs, with March at 10.74, May at 10.91 and July at 11.05, still one to two points above the previous close.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—Stocks moved at a porpoise-like pace to-day but prices generally continued to display a moderately firm and cheerful undertone.

News of an especially inspiring nature was lacking and the public showed little or no speculative en-thusiasm. Professionals accounted for the majority of the meagre transactions in the early hours. Grains and some other commodi-ties firmed a bit and cotton was rather steady. The dollars followed a narrow groove in foreign exchange dealings. With the exception of U. S. government securities, which were again in supply, bonds bid fairly well.

Shares of American Telephone, Allied Chemical, U. S. Steel pre-ferred, U. S. Industrial Alcohol and American Commercial Alcohol got up about 2 points each. Gainers of fractions to around a point included Western Union, U. S. Steel, Case, Chrysler, National Distillers, Du Pont, American Can, General Motors, Montgomery Ward, Johns-Manville, N. Y. Central, Santa Fe, Union Carbide and Westinghouse. The tobaccos rested after their spurt of yesterday and were only slightly higher. The metals were virtually unchanged.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Jan. 10. (AP)—Fresh upturns in grain values took place early today, prompted partly by sug-gestions that government figures on domestic farm reserves of wheat would prove bullish. Absence of moisture relief southwest, together with indications of improved mill-ing demand, were also a factor.

Opening 1-2 to 1 cent higher, wheat afterward rose further. Corn started 3-8-5-8 up, and subsequent-ly held near the initial range.

GREEK ACTION HELD FINAL

NO CHANGES SEEN IN RULING THAT INSULL MUST LEAVE GREECE

LONDON, Jan. 10 (AP)—Foreign Minister Dimitri Maximos of Greece declared in an exclusive interview granted the Associated Press today that his government's decision that Samuel Insull must leave Greece by the end of January is final and ir-revocable.

The former American utilities op-erator, given an extension of his police residence permit to allow him to remain until January 31, is want-ed in the United States to face charges growing out of the collapse of his utilities empire.

Extradition Denied

Greek courts twice have held against United States attempts to obtain Insull's extradition.

Maximos said the government ex-pects the high court of Greece to summarily dismiss Insull's appeal from the ruling against further ex-tension of his stay in Athens on the grounds that it has no author-ity to interfere.

"Minister of the Interior Metaxas made a plain declaration," Maximos said, "that Insull can not stay any more in Greece.

"The authorities are obliged to execute the decision of the minister of the interior."

Maximos explained that the Greek government is acting under law number 4310 by which it has full control over the length of residence and the activity of foreigners.

"Appeal Unjustified"

"The appeal by Insull is unjusti-fied," he said. "A high court decis-ion can not be obligatory on the government."

Maximos' secretary predicted the high court itself probably would rule that it was not qualified.

"The government is in a delicate position because of Insull's residence and has decided that it can make no further extension of his permanent stay. His purpose in seeking to re-main is disapproved," the secretary said.

He said he understood the Greek government would not give Insull any sort of traveling permit and would wash its hands clean of the case when he crosses the frontier.

Maximos is here in the course of a tour of European capitals to dis-cuss the proposed Balkan non-ag-gression pact. He will see British Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon tomorrow.

INSULL REFUSES TO TELL PLANS

ATHENS, Jan. 10 (AP)—Samuel In-sull today refused to make known his plans for the future, pending a decision by the council of state on his appeal from the government's decision that he must leave Greece by January 31.

In regard to the discussed possi-bility of Insull fleeing to Turkey in his attempts to evade extradition to the United States, authoritative opinion here is that Turkish-Amer-ican relations regarding the extra-dition of subjects, which are based on a pre-war convention, would have doubtful force should Insull reach Turkey. American legation au-thorities here believe neighboring countries will deny Insull a visa.

TURKEY TO DEMAND PASSPORT OF INSULL

ISTANBUL, Jan. 10 (AP)—High Turkish government officials in Istanbul, discussing today the possi-bility that Samuel Insull might at-tempt to seek refuge in Turkey, said that if he sought to enter this country without a passport he would be refused admittance and sent back by the same route by which he came.

It was explained here that special permission from the Turkish cabi-net is necessary to admit a person who does not have a passport.

Release Of Brinker On Bail Is Ordered

AUSTIN, Jan. 10 (AP)—The Texas court of criminal appeals today ordered Edwin Brinker, held in Tex-arkana on a charge of murder in the death of P. A. McSwain, releas-ed on $5,000 bail.

McSwain's body was found in a pantry of the house where he resid-ed. It was wrapped in a sheet upon which there were powder burns and blood and a hole indicating he had been shot while wrapped in the sheet.

PRINCE ALEXIS AND HEIRESS BRIDE WILL HONEYMOON ON SEPARATE SHIPS

SEATTLE, Jan. 10 (AP)—"Honey-mooning" across the Pacific on separate ships, Prince Alexis, young-est of the "marrying M'Divanis," and his heiress bride, the former Barbara Hutton, will be reunited in Japan a fortnight hence.

Far from the troublesome de-mands of American law, the young prince and Barbara will meet in Yokohama. There in the peace and quiet of the Orient, Alexis says, they'll spend "six months or more."

"I'm planning to sail this after-noon," he said, referring to the out-going voyage of the Japanese liner Hikawa Maru at 4 p. m. "Barbara will go through with our original plans, leaving San Francisco to-morrow, on the Tatsuta Maru."

Harried in his last days on the American continent by a Los Angeles process server, whom the prince avoided by leaving his special rail-road car at Reno three nights ago, and zig-zagging into the Pacific northwest, the prince spent Tues-day evening reading Spanish lan-guage novels.

In San Francisco, his wife ex-pressed disappointment "that the prince won't be with me on the trip." She spent the afternoon and last evening in social engagements.

District Attorney Byron Fitts of Los Angeles also had apparently withrawn his process server from San Francisco. The prince's pres-ence was sought at the forthcoming trial of his two older brothers on charges of grand theft.

Asked if a reference to the "deli-cate condition" of his wife meant that he expected an heir, the prince blushed.

"Oh, no. I don't mean that," he said, apparently much embarrassed. "I mean only that she is not in the best of health."

ROLLIE BURNS SAYS PLAINS WEATHER MILDEST IN LAST FIFTY-TWO YEARS

Lubbock and the South Plains are experiencing the mildest weather in 52 years that Rollie C. Burns has been in this area.

The gray-haired pioneer, who will be 77 years old April 8, recalled to-day that at no time in the many years he has spent out here on these broad prairies has there been so much continuous warm wather.

"I can't remember a time when we had so much pretty weather," Mr. Burns said. "We've had late falls several times but there always was some colder weather the first part of January."

Mr. Burns said he expected to see a severe cold spell in February, that he "could feel it in his bones". He recalled the coldest day he ever experienced on the Plains. It was January 13, 1893, and he was en route to the Square and Compass ranch near Post from Colorado City when the storm hit. He said about 500 cattle froze to death on the ranch in that blizzard, most of them having huddled into one fence corner of a section of the ranch up on the Caprock.

Although beyond the usual three score and ten, the veteran cattle-man is still in good health and may be seen on the streets of Lubbock almost daily. He credits his good health to the many years spent on the open range in the early days of this section.

Prosecutor Lieutenant Nathan Al-lyn said Mrs. Regenstruf had also informed him that Cerardi had in-sured his wife's life for $10,000. Al-lyn said this information would be investigated today to determine if it had any bearing on the case.

Admission Refused

When police went to the barn, which is at the end of a winding lane behind a tall hedgerow, the housekeeper first refused them ad-mission, relenting when they threat-ened to break down the door. They then prevailed upon her to surren-der the key to the room in which Mrs. Cerardi was locked.

The door was opened, officers la-ter reported, as they found Mrs. Cerardi huddled naked on the bed, gibbering wildly. Both windows in the cubicle had been boarded up, and the bed was the only article of furniture in the room. A soiled blanket was thrown across the bare, dirty mattress.

LARGE CROWDS AT REVIVAL

DR. GEORGE W. TRUETT OPENS SERVICES AT BAPTIST CHURCH

First evening service of a revival meeting being conducted by Rev. Dr. George W. Truett, pastor of the First Baptist church in Dallas the last 37 years, at the First church here attracted about 2,000 persons last night.

Doctor Truett's subject was "The Profitableness of Prayer." His theme was expressed when he said, "Am-erica had better come back to prayer; America had better come back to God before it is too late."

Acclaimed the greatest minister of Texas, Doctor Truett is among the few most outstanding Baptist preachers of the world. He will con-duct a meeting in London, England, in April, and later in Berlin, Ger-many.

Services will be conducted today at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. A young people's prayer meeting will be con-ducted in the educational building. J. D. Riddle, educational director of First church here, is directing mu-sic programs.

DAVID LEMON SERVES AS SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS

SLATON, Jan. 10.—(Special)—David Lemon, principal, was named by the board of education as super-intendent of Slaton public schools to succeed A. B. Ellis, who resigned Tuesday from the superintendency he had held four years.

Mr. Ellis said last night he had purchased an automobile agency here and had taken charge of the company.

P. W. Wright, athletic coach, was elected principal by the school board. E. R. Legg, board president, said Wright also would continue to di-rect athletics in the local school.

Airways Head Says Stock Given Lindy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10. (AP)—An official of Transcontinental Air Transport, inc., told senate investi-gators today 25,000 shares of the company stock were given to Col-onel Charles A. Lindbergh.

D. M. Sheaffer, chairman of the air company's executive commit-tee told of a complicated system used for what he said was "income tax purposes" in transferring the stock to the noted pilot.

He said the stock, valued at $250,-000, was given to Lindbergh in re-turn for "services."

SLATON, TEX., THURSDAY, JAN. 11

Sale Starts Promptly at 1:30 P. M., Rain or Shine
AT FRED WHITEHEAD'S MULE BARN

Attend this Sale—There's always Bargains at an Auction

Listen Mr. Farmer and Mr. Speculator if you are going to buy stock it will pay you to attend this sale.

Today we are confronted with the greatest shortage of mules and farm work animals in the United States that has ever existed. In the expansion of agriculture the tractor was largely used until the economics of the agricultural situation exploded and the farmers are now compelled to go back to the use of mules and horses and operate on a common sense basis again.

The farmer cannot produce on his farm the gasoline and lubricants for a tractor but he can produce feed stuffs for his working animals RIGHT ON HIS FARM. Why not patronize yourself, Mister Farmer, by the utilization of feed stuffs produced on your farm instead of continuing on a basis of farming with machinery and purchasing your fuel?

Japan's Wealth Pays A Debt

The House of Mitsui, richest combination in Japan, announced it was "paying a bit of what the family owes the nation" when it endowed with $2,500,000 a foundation to help the country's peasants. Baron Takahimi Mitsui (center) became head of the house when his father, Hachiroemon Mitsui (left), abdicated last April. Nagafumi Ariga (right) is senior managing director of the vast interests which have their headquarters in the palatial Mitsui Bank of Tokyo, depicted below.

LAND
ON THE COTTON PLAN

Yes, we can sell you land without a penny down. You can pay for this land with cotton on the basis of 10c per pound. No requirements as to improvements; do as you like about it. This is good land on the best plan we have ever been able to offer. The land is located 18 miles west of Meadow, and is part of the Pool Ranch.

Real Farm Bargains

We have four or five extra good farm propositions south of Portales, New Mexico. These places are of various sizes and have fair to extra good improvements on them. Good cotton and corn land, lays well. We can sell this land on good terms. It will pay you to investigate this proposition at once.

We have two tracts of 320 acres, each of extra good land with small improvements, located about 10 miles west of Ropesville. This can be bought on exceptionally good terms. Possession for 1934. Can be handled with small cash payment.

To All Houseseekers

—not settled yet for the New Year, I have some of the celebrated Hardy Grissom "Red Cat Claw" land with an excellent record for cotton production, that you can buy today at $35.00 per acre, and get immediate possession. If able to provide your own improvements, only $100.00 down in cash on the quarter, will be required.

Now is the time to buy to get the benefit of the Gov. retirement money, and 15 cents a pound for cotton next fall.

Uncle Sam is playing Big Brother to the cotton grower and home owner this year. Better get in line. And of course some choice tracts of C. C. Slaughter "Bale Per Acre" farms. See me this week.

High Goal Set

Richard King Mellon, above, taking over his father's desk in Pittsburgh, faces one of the hardest tasks ever delegated to a young banker — to maintain the records set in the financial world by the triumvirate of the late R. B. Mellon, his father; the late Judge Thomas Mellon, his grandfather, founder of the great banking house; and his uncle, Andrew W. Mellon.

LIVE RACE IN HARRIS SEEN

MATHIS, MOORE BOTH SEEK POST VACATED BY WALTER WOODUL

HOUSTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—The Harris county race which will perhaps attract the most interest over this state this election year, for the state senate post to be vacated by Senator Walter F. Woodul. Two well-known representatives, John Mathis and Weaver Moore, already have expressed intention of running for the position.

Born favor repeal of state prohibition, Mathis was prominently identified with the Texas campaign last year for legalization of beer and ratification of repeal of the 18th amendment. Moore introduced a resolution in the house proposing submission of repeal of state prohibition.

Moore Kin To Moody

Moore is a brother-in-law of Dan Moody, former governor. Mathis is chairman of the house state affairs committee.

Joe Ed Winfree, Houston attorney and Ferguson leader is another possible entrant in the state senate race. Friends of John Henry Kirby, called "the grand old man of Texas Democracy" have urged him to make the race but he has said nothing on the subject publicly.

Houston is certain to be represented in one of the statewide races with Senator Woodul a contender for lieutenant governor. Woodul, who was president pro tempore of the senate during the regular session, has not formally announced but is running nevertheless.

There is a chance that this city will have a gubernatorial candidate. Wright Morrow, who was urged to run in 1932 by a group of younger "liberals," is toying with the idea of entering the list this year.

Morrow believes he would have a geographical advantage because most of the other outstanding aspirants are from the northwest section of the state. His father, W. C. Morrow, is presiding judge of the state court of criminal appeals and comes up for re-election this year.

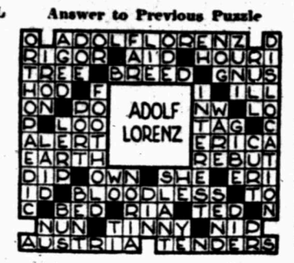

A large field of entries is assured for the congressional race in the new second district in east and southeast Texas. Representative - at - large George B. Terrell of Alto, is the only present member of congress living in that district and he has indicated he might seek the governor's chair.

Amherst C. Of C. Re-elects Leaders

AMHERST, Jan. 10. (Special)—The Amherst Chamber of Commerce closing a very successful year in 1933, selected the same officers to head the group for 1934 at the annual business session.

E. F. Huntsucker, editor of the Amherst Argus, was unanimously re-elected president, and W. F. Rowland, secretary-treasurer.

Business men attending the session said more interest was being manifested in the work than for a number of years. Local CWA programs are being sponsored by the group.

NEW AMHERST TEACHERS

AMHERST, (Special)—Miss Vita Wasson, Smyer, has come here to take charge of one of the fourth grades in the Amherst schools, succeeding Miss La Vey Lamb, resigned. The appointment is temporary. Mrs. Rodney Taylor is taking the place of Miss Lucille Collins who resigned to go to California.

To Ohio goes the credit for establishing the first state institution for the care of blind children. It was built in 1837.

GETS BACK OLD JOB

SUDAN, (Special)—Frank White, city water superintendent, has resumed his former duties as city marshal when the city council combined the two posts. White formerly served in both capacities but last fall the council decided to separate the two owing to fall rush of business. C. E. Luce of Lubbock was named marshal and when he recently resigned, he returned to Lubbock and joined the traffic force there.

No Eloper!

When Florence Desmond, English actress, above, marries, it'll be in the strictly orthodox way, with elopements by plane barred. Rumor goes that Miss Desmond and Ted Flo-Rito, orchestra leader, starting a dash by plane to the altar from Hollywood, became lost in a fog and called it off, temporarily. But the report persists that they'll wed soon.

Homer Winston Out For County Judge

BROWNFIELD, Jan. 10. (Special)—Homer Winston, former county judge and former district court clerk, has announced his candidacy for the office of county judge and ex-officio school superintendent, in the coming Democratic primaries.

Mr. Winston two years ago was a candidate for state representative against John N. Thomas of Tahoka and was defeated in the runoff primary.

SHOPLIFTERS CAUGHT

LITTLEFIELD, Jan. 10. (Special)—Shoplifters came to grief here recently when City Marshal Ab Anderson located two dresses that two women and a man companion were believed to have taken from a local store. Given a description of the two women Marshal Anderson found them and located the dresses. Both paid fines in city court. The man was fined on a vagrancy charge.
