HAPPY NEW YEAR, MISS ANDREA HOPE JOHNSON!
First baby of 1966 and her mother, Mrs. Jack W. Johnson

Andrea Hope Johnson First Local Baby Of New Year

By SAM BLACKBURN

Miss 1966 of Big Spring is tiny Andrea Hope Johnson. Miss Johnson arrived at 3:37 a.m. Jan. 1 at the Webb AFB hospital.

She is the daughter of S. Sgt. and Mrs. Jack Johnson, 804 Andrea. Andrea Hope weighed in officially at 7 pounds 4 1/2 ounces, reported Capt. Robert D. Simeon, the attending physician.

Both Miss Andrea Hope and her 21-year-old mother, Mrs. Idabel Johnson, were in fine shape today. They were both making the most of a happy New Year's Day.

Papa Johnson, a little worn after his long vigil at the hospital on Friday night, was at home catching up on his sleep Saturday morning.

He had not heard, at that time, his young daughter was winner of the Big Spring Annual First Baby Sweepstakes of 1966. This victory, qualifies Andrea Hope to receive an assortment of valuable gifts from Big Spring merchants and business establishments.

As soon as Sgt. Johnson gets around to it he can pick up the presents which await his young daughter at Prager's, Blum's Jewelry, Professional Pharmacy, J&K Shoe Store, Gandy's, Montgomery Ward and Curley's Studio.

The Johnsons have been in Big Spring about a year. Mrs. Johnson is a native of Oklahoma.

Andrea Hope is their first child.

The nurses at the hospital happily pointed out that she was a very prompt little tyke.

"She showed up right on the day," they proudly observed.

The "Andrea" selected as the baby's name has no connection with the residence of the Johnsons on "Andrea" Street, Mrs. Johnson said.

"We just thought Andrea was a pretty name for a little girl," she explained.

In the past nine years, five of the New Year's babies have been girls and four boys.

Last year's New Year's Baby was Alicia Ann Buzbee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Buzbee, who then lived at 3313 Abilene.

Second place baby in the New Year derby was another little lassie — Stacy Marie Spence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spence, 1506 Chickasaw.

She made her debut at 1:03 p.m. Saturday at the Medical Arts Clinic and Hospital.

Stacy Marie weighed in at 6 pounds 5 1/2 ounces. She is the third child of her parents. Both Stacy and Leila, 23, her mother, were doing well Saturday afternoon.

Another member of the tribe of old timers in Big Spring slipped away. Mrs. Daisy Lloyd, mother of Larson Lloyd, died of heart failure Saturday morning.

She had lived here for over 50 years. J. W. Sipes, who had resided here for more than 40 years, died in Alaska.

The city and school boards are having a little difficulty in getting together on the pact for joint development of campus parks. Perhaps representatives from the two can sit down in joint session and hack away the underbrush.

It's a tossup on whether the post office here is extra efficient or whether this column's face is such that there is none like it. At any rate, we got a letter with a clipping of our portrait on the front, and underneath Big Spring, Texas. That's all, but we got it without delay.

Who sent it? Why, Wayne (Red) Smith, former C-C manager, that's who.

Credit R. C. Thomas with the hunting oddity of the year. Last week he went bird hunting, partly on a tip of a white bird being seen with a covey of quail. The unique bird flew up almost out of range, but Thomas nipped its wing and then caught it. The bird turned out to be a snow white quail—not an albino—but a snow white (blue) quail.

Negotiated Settlement Seen Sure

LONDON (AP) — U.S. presidential envoy Arthur J. Goldberg conferred on Viet Nam Saturday night with Prime Minister Harold Wilson and both said a negotiated settlement of the war is inevitable. They spoke out as peace appeals were out to Red China and the Soviet Union from Pope Paul VI.

Goldberg canceled a dinner scheduled later with Wilson in order to fly to Chicago to attend the funeral of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Esther Kurgans, 83, who died Friday.

In Yugoslavia, W. Averell Harriman, another U.S. trouble-shooter, delivered a message from President Johnson to President Tito and they talked for two hours.

TO INDIA

In Paris, President Charles de Gaulle, who met Goldberg Friday, declared that peace could come to Viet Nam only if all interested countries renounce armed intervention.

But from Hanoi, Peking and Moscow there was no direct public reaction to either the Pope's appeals to Moscow and Peking as well as to North and South Viet Nam or the U.S. Nam missions.

BRITISH ZEALFUL
Wilson went into his meeting with Goldberg after telling newsmen that the British "are desperately anxious to try every means open to us to get the parties to the conference table."

problems are given a hard look, new and creative ways of approaching them often emerge.

It was stated specifically that Johnson believes this process can be applied internationally as well as domestically.

SHUN TOPIC
Perhaps significantly, the sources who reported the President's views did not mention possible escalation of the war should peace efforts fail. In fact, they declined to discuss that possibility.

In Johnson's view, the major task faced by the world's nations in 1966 is to learn to "reason together" — one of his favorite phrases — from a realistic understanding of the world as it is.

He hopes the United Nations and other organs of international conciliation will try to improve their machinery for bringing disputes to the conference table at an early stage, before shooting breaks out.

LINCOLN STATEMENT
Johnson cites a passage from Abraham Lincoln's first inaugural address of 1861 as containing a lesson all people need to learn:

"Suppose you go to war, you cannot fight always; and when, after much loss on both sides, and no gain on either, you cease fighting, the identical old questions as to terms of intercourse are again upon you."

In probing toward peace in Viet Nam, the President believes basic issues have been distorted by propagandists on both sides, with the result that it has been difficult for either side to understand what is true or false about the stated position of the other.

He believes that American peace efforts have been handicapped by an unwillingness to state, in realistic terms, the government's basic position on negotiations.

In broad terms, he thinks there is a growing feeling throughout the world that one nation to try to dominate another in pursuit of nationalistic or ideological goals is unwise and unlikely to succeed.

Baby Killed In Collision

Derek Alan Rhodes, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Cecil Rhodes, 1711 Alabama, was fatally injured at 7:20 p.m. Saturday in a two-car collision at FM 700 and Scurry. The child died at 9 p.m. in the Malone and Hogan Hospital Foundation.

Doctors said he suffered extensive head injuries.

His mother, Mrs. Sandra Kay Rhodes, 26, is in the hospital with painful cuts and bruises. Her condition was listed as serious but not critical.

The father, 29, was not hurt in the crash.

NOT HURT
Jerry Allan Thurman, 19, 626 State, driver of the other car, was not hurt.

City Police Officers Stewart Dickson, J. D. Campbell and D. W. Day, who checked the wreck, said that the child and Mrs. Rhodes were thrown from their car.

Police said the Rhodes were traveling east on FM 700. When they reached the Scurry street intersection, Thurman was approaching FM 700 on Scurry going south. His car, officers said, struck the Rhodes car toward the rear and caused it to swerve sharply to one side. It crashed into a speed sign. The mother and child were thrown out at this point, police think.

Neither car was extensively damaged in the crash, police reported.

EARLY START
The tragedy brought an early start to traffic deaths in Big Spring and Howard County. Little Derek Alan becomes the first road death of 1966 in this county.

The accident marred what otherwise had been a holiday match or exceed the 15 per cent increase recorded in 1965.

There is no prediction on housing activity. This important economic segment has been relatively in the doldrums. However, a recent Commerce report said a substantial increase is expected in total construction — although most of the rise is expected to come from industrial and commercial, rather than residential, demand.

POSSIBLE IMBALANCE
He mentions the possibility of inflationary pressures and other imbalances in the new year.

"We have a prosperous and exciting year ahead of us," he writes. "But it is not going to be an easy road to travel. Many firms are having difficulty in obtaining the workers needed for their expanding operations. More overtime work can help in this situation. Training new workers for the jobs on hand is also part of the solution."

"If some cases the additional capacity will not be ready in time to fill the new orders received. Thus, price pressures are certain to crop up here and there. Over the past year, prices have already risen more than in any of the past six years."

"Government and business must be ever alert to avoid an inflationary spiral. If we do not succeed in this, it may well set our splendid 5-year record of sustained and stable economic growth."

FORECASTS DROP
The steel industry is the only one of the 77 surveyed which forecasts a drop in business this year. Steel executives report sales probably will fall one to two per cent because of the excessive inventories built up by steel consumers last spring and summer in anticipation of a steel strike.

However, the trend of steel orders in the past few days indicates that the survey may be outdated. An extraordinary demand for steel seems likely to clear away the large inventories sooner than expected.

Sixteen industries expect a 10 per cent growth, 36 anticipate increases of 5 to 10 per cent and 24 estimate their 1966 growth at 5 per cent or less.

The survey includes 62 manufacturing industries which account for 60 per cent of manufacturing output.

AUTO DEMAND
Connor makes no prediction on how much an increase he expects in Gross National Product (GNP) this year.

He says the demand for automobiles "will again be a buoyant factor" and that consumer buying in general is expected to parallel the rising trend of income.

Spending by businessmen for new plant and equipment may remarkably free of traffic mishaps.

The body of the child was removed to Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home where arrangements are pending.

Police were continuing their investigation into the accident last night.

Derek Alan Rhodes was born in Big Spring July 19, 1963.

He is survived by his parents, his paternal grandparents, Mrs. Cecil Rhodes of Big Spring; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Neas, Abilene; three uncles, Anthony Rhodes, Big Spring, Joe Rhodes, Fort Worth, and Dwight Neas, Abilene.

Men Look Ahead As 1966 Starts

NEW YORK (AP)—Fresh appeals for peace brought a new measure of hope to the world Saturday as it ended New Year's Eve revelry and looked forward to the coming 12 months.

As the last of the merry-makers reached home in many cities, the Vatican disclosed an extension of Pope Paul VI's personal campaign for peace in the Viet Nam war.

Appeals went to the Presidents of North and South Viet Nam and for the first time to the leaders of Communist China and the Soviet Union.

Back in the United States, the Texas White House announced that Assistant Secretary of State G. Mennen Williams was being sent to Africa as part of President Johnson's drive to explain this country's peace moves to world leaders.

In Hungary, Communist party devoted to solemn statements. people in a New Year declaration that "we must fight for peaceful co-existence even amid the present circumstances in the international situation."

But the day was not completely devoted to solemn statements. Sixteen thousand men—no women allowed—marched in the annual Munnerns Day parade in Philadelphia and an estimated million persons watched.

The line of march was so long it took nearly five hours to pass one point from start to finish.

Texas Traffic Toll Hits Eighty-Three In 10 Days

By The Associated Press

At least 15 persons died on Texas highways during the New Year's holiday weekend.

Many fatalities came just as the old year gave way to 1966. The Associated Press tabulation began at 6 p.m. Thursday.

State police reports of the entire Christmas-New Year's holidays showed at least 83 traffic fatalities for the 10-day period, compared to an estimate of 110 dead. The DPS also reported 41 suicides and homicides compared to a prediction of 43, and 47 non-traffic accidental deaths, surpassing the predicted 42.

TRIO KILLED
Three men were killed in a car-pickup truck accident near Rio Grande just after the New Year arrived. Killed at the intersection of US 83 and Farm 649 at about 1:20 a.m. were Andres Bustos, 54, and Aduvies Chapa, 60, both of Rio Grande City, and Simon Munoz, 18, of Roma.

Bernadine Marie Cottle, 43, of San Angelo died near midnight Friday in a one-car accident west of San Angelo on US 67.

Joyce Stanberry, 36, of Grand Saline died in a two-car accident in Grand Saline Friday night.

AUTO FLIPS
Ethel Grissell, 55, of Mountain View, Calif., died early Saturday of injuries received Friday night when a car turned over west of Shamrock on US 66.

George Adams, 38, of Austin was killed Friday night in a two-car crash five miles west of La-Grange on Texas 71.

Patrick Lanier Sidwell, 32, of Galveston died Friday night. The driver of another car was injured in a wreck two miles north of Corrigan on US 59.

In Houston, Inez T. Westlake, 53, was killed by a car as she crossed a downtown street Friday night.

ODESSA FATALITY
Early Saturday Fayle Nelson, 27, died in a two-car accident in Odessa.

A three-car smashup in Dallas Friday killed Judith Joyce Hale, 24, of Dallas.

James Wolfe, 20, of Bridge City was killed near Orange Saturday when his car hit an embankment on a rural road.

Sgt. John Barnett, 51, of Ft. Bliss was killed Thursday night near Sweetwater in a collision death toll reached 474, a record. Recalling the highway death and injury toll this Christmas, and expecting additional losses over New Year, two Democratic senators have called for urgent preventive action.

Sens. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut and Robert F. Kennedy of New York issued this joint statement.

NEED SOLUTION
"This Christmas brought tragedy and suffering to thousands of American homes. Marking this otherwise happy season, the rising traffic accident rate reinforces the need for better solutions of our traffic safety problems."

They recalled that they had introduced during the last session of Congress a bill to authorize establishment of a national highway traffic safety center where safety ideas and aid could benefit states in improving driving programs.

Cool Front Due To Spread Out

By The Associated Press

Warm, muggy and often dripping weather covered most of Texas Saturday.

A cold front reached a line from about Vernon to Alpine, bogged down and then started moving eastward during the afternoon.

SKIES CLEAR
Behind the leading edge of cooler air, skies tended to clear. Temperatures in West Texas generally were in the 50s. In front of it was warm, humid and cloudy with temperatures in the 60s and 70s.

Nearly all the rain was trivial.

But in the six hours to noon, Bowie recorded 1.55 inches and Newport 1.50.

South winds ranging from 10 to 20 miles an hour switched to the west as the front started moving again.

COOLER AIR
The Weather Bureau said cooler air would spread over most of Texas by Sunday morning and that rains Sunday would be confined to the coastal plains.

Passage of the cool front also will clear most clouds from Texas.

Reviewing The

Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

We got through the Christmas holidays without adding to our traffic toll, but then Tuesday evening T. F. Pearson, 54, Odessa, was killed in a head-on collision on the Snyder highway 14 miles northeast of here. It really doesn't matter when it happened, the tragic fact is that another death has occurred.

That makes 19 within Howard County (six of them in the corporate limits of Big Spring) for 1965. There have been few if any years of such shameful and shocking traffic toll in Howard County.

The Texas Highway Department has accepted the $120,000 sign and safety lighting project on the IS 20 loop around our northern edge. It is, officials are agreed, a fine job. It is worthy to note that while millions have been spent on this highway, and this was at an intersection with a state highway.

The Howard County Tuberculosis Association is appealing for you to mail in your check for Christmas seals. So far $4,700 has been received, but this is $1,100 behind a year ago, and the need for giving tests to school children and help to others is greater than ever. As this appeal moves off the stage, the March of Dimes is moving on for its traditional January appeal.

Howard County Junior College has cleared the next-to-last hurdle on its new $800,000 building project for new library and new science buildings. Bids will be opened Feb. 3 and if they are within the money the job will be launched with the buildings ready for the fall of 1967, if not before.

The automobile mishap in Midland, which claimed the life of Roger Long of Big Spring on Dec. 22, claimed its second victim.

Gun Not Toy, Grandad Dies

DETROIT (AP) — A nine-year-old boy shot and killed his grandfather Friday night with a gun he apparently mistook for a toy, police said.

David Todd, 50, Detroit, was shot once through the head.

Allies Pull Two Attacks After Viet Cong Dig In

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Allied forces started the new year off Saturday with two attacks on Viet Cong dug in north of Saigon, but the Communists mounted an offensive of their own in the Southern delta region.

For the eighth straight day, U.S. and Vietnamese planes held off their attacks against North Viet Nam. A military spokesman said, "No more are contemplated for the moment."

But on the ground the allies seized the initiative after a week of taking hit-run jabs from the Viet Cong.

Vietnamese and Korean troops launched a pre-dawn attack near Tuy Hoa, 240 miles northeast of Saigon. They reported killing 65 Viet Cong, capturing four suspects and seizing 100 bags of rice, main ration of the guerrillas.

U.S. and Vietnamese paratroopers continued searching for Viet Cong through swampland 35 miles northwest of Saigon where 125 guerrillas were reported killed and 63 captured Friday.

The paratroopers captured 26 weapons in the operation including two mortars and two heavy machine guns.

The Communists made their strike in the delta province of Vinh Dinh about 85 miles southwest of Saigon where it had been quiet for some time.

City Is Installing Chain Fence Around Cemetery

By TOM BARRY

Parks Director Johnny Johansen's latest idea has apparently borne fruit at City Cemetery. It will require only $1,194 in city money to fully complete, and promises to add beauty to the cemetery's already considerable improvements.

Sixty-three steel poles, to be painted aluminum, will be implanted in concrete along the cemetery's east side. Welded to each pole will be a 20-foot section of 5-16ths-inch iron chain.

MEETING PLACE

"An awfully lot of people have been using the cemetery as a parking place to drink beer late at night," Johansen said, "and the chain will keep the cars out, but allow weeds and other debris to blow through—it won't catch as it would on a cyclone fence."

"It also adds some charm to the cemetery, or it will when it is completed in about a week." The main entrance has also been improved. Two brick monoliths, which have been at the cemetery for years, have been moved from their old positions (about halfway from either end) to form adjuncts at the main entranceway. A length of chain will be put across the gateway at night and unlocked during the day.

There will also be a couple of other entrances along the fence-line," Johansen said, "but they will be opened only when we have an immediate need, such as an extra-large funeral procession."

STEEL POLES

The city shop welded the steel poles into the shapes of wooden poles, closing off their tops. A coat of black sealer was put on them, and they will be painted aluminum at the cemetery.

Presently, they are sitting next to their holes, awaiting the drying of the seal coat, or primer, when it is dry, they will be painted and planted. As for the two brick entrance guards, Johansen said: "We dug out around them, leaving their concrete footings, and placed them in pre-dug excavations. They fit perfectly, and required only a minimum amount of new concrete to fix them permanently."

Going into the project will be 1,200 feet of chain, weighing more than 1,800 pounds—thus the need for steel poles.

In addition to the fencing, Jo-

Farm Subsidy Plan Teeters

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $250 million farm subsidy program popular with Congress and with many farmers may get the meat ax treatment by President Johnson for the 1967 fiscal year.

For years, Congress has been providing the money for the agricultural conservation program offering cost-sharing payments to farmers to carry out department approved soil and water conservation practices. A major practice for years has been the application of limestone to cropland.

Advocates of the conservation payment program are worried about its possible treatment by the President and Congress this year. Because of rising costs of the Viet Nam War, supporters of the soil program say they fear Congress would go along with the President on cutting this program down to $150 million.

Keeping Posted

Johnny Johansen checks primer coat on new cemetery fence post to be installed on the west side of the gate, and smiles as he finds it's still wet.

Johansen plans to plant near the entrance and along the fence some Italian Cypress, a traditional cemetery theme — and near the gate, some planters and other landscaping.

The cemetery used to be named Mount Olive Cemetery. Larry Crow, city manager, said Friday: "The present name is a bit cold and formal, and Johansen has suggested going back to the original name."

"In light of the present improvements, it seems a good idea — the place looks much better than formerly."

BETTER ROADS

Some of the improvements are in wider, better graded roads, particularly in the newly-opened sections on the west and north-west sides of the cemetery. The layout of the new sections will have controlled monuments, rather than the haphazard arrangement of memorial markers present in the older portions of the cemetery.

With the city's new program of "permanent care," the appearance of the place will be kept up to high standards, Crow said.

"The money we're getting for gravesites will eventually make the cemetery's upkeep pay for itself," he said. "The money will make it unnecessary to have annual fees for 'special care,' which was our old policy."

Moneys charged for plots go into a fund which will be used to pay permanently for upkeep of the grounds.

Johnsons At Press Party

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President and Mrs. Johnson welcomed in the new year with newsmen and photographers. They came into Austin to attend the annual New Year's party of Washington and Texas newsmen who cover their activities when they are in the state.

The younger presidential daughter, Luci Baines, 18, and her fiancé, Airman Patrick J. Nugent, 22, also attended.

The older daughter, Lynda Bird, 21, remained at the LBJ ranch, but White House press aides had no report on her activities.

There was no announcement prior to the Johnsons' arrival that they would come to the Driskill Hotel in Austin, for the press party. The Johnsons skipped last year, but attended the year before.

Only announced guests at the LBJ ranch 65 miles west of Austin were some kinfolk of Mrs. Johnson — brother A. J. Taylor and his wife from Santa Fe, N.M., and a cousin, Austin Winston of Marshall, Tex.

Loan Firms Not Exempt

AUSTIN (AP)—The Supreme Court has approved a lower court ruling that small loan companies dealing in bonds and securities are subject to inspection by the State Banking Department.

The court dismissed an appeal by four Allied Finance companies operating in Louisiana and refused to consider an appeal by 40 Allied companies operating in Texas.

The court specifically approved holdings of the 3rd Circuit of Civil Appeals, which nullified part of the 1963 Texas anti-loan shark law.

The finance companies sued the banking department, contending they are exempt from examination.

Social Security Deduction Higher; Benefits Are Too

By JERRY MONSON

Workers should be prepared for a bigger bite out of their paycheck this year, according to Erven Fisher, district Social Security manager.

The Social Security amendments of 1965, voted by Congress in July, increased the tax contribution rate of 4.2 per cent of the first $6,600 of a worker's earnings, or payments up to a maximum of $277.20 annually. Workers earning less than $6,600 will pay proportionately less.

The tax contribution rate of 4.2 per cent is slightly higher than the 4.125 per cent rate already scheduled to take effect in January before the recent amendments were passed. The 4.125 per cent rate would have applied to the first $4,800 of a worker's 1966 earnings. In 1965, 3.625 per cent of the first $4,800 of pay for the year was deducted for Social Security, or up to a maximum of $174 annually.

MORE BENEFITS

The Social Security deductions, and matching payments by employers, finance monthly retirement and disability benefits to workers and their families and to survivors when the worker dies. In addition to increasing these benefits and broadening their coverage, the new amendments provide hospital insurance for all persons at age 65 under the new "Medicare" program.

Workers, then, actually pay two Social Security contributions. The biggest deduction of 3.85 per cent in 1966 will be for the established Social Security program of retirement, survivors, and disability insurance. The second deduction, much smaller, will go toward hospital insurance under "Medicare" and will amount to 0.35 per cent in 1966. The rates are scheduled to increase in succeeding years.

In addition to hospital insurance protection, the 1965 Social Security amendments also set up a supplementary medical insurance program under "Medicare." This plan will help pay other medical expenses, including doctor's bills. The medical insurance plan will be financed out of $6 a month premiums, shared half and half by the older people who sign up and the federal government.

ONE OF CHANGES

The program of health insurance for the aged was just one of the changes made in Social Security in 1965. Among other important changes were:

Increased cash benefits; payment of a child's benefits until age 22 if he is a fulltime student; benefits to many severely disabled people who were not eligible before; providing for beneficiaries to earn more than under the old law and still receive some benefits; allowing widows to choose benefits in a reduced amount as early as age 60; paying special benefits to certain persons over 72 who were not eligible under the old law.

Two examples will help show how the new Social Security contribution rate and wage base could affect workers' take-home pay.

If a worker earned $77 a week in 1965 and expected to earn the same in 1966, this amounted to about $4,000 a year. He paid about $230 a week as his Social Security contribution.

Under the new law, he will pay $297 each week for Social Security and 27 cents a week for hospital ("Medicare") insurance, a total of $3.24.

If a worker earned $127 a week in 1965 and expected to have the same earnings in 1966, this amounted to about $6,600.

for the year. Social Security deductions were $4.60 each week until the end of September, 1965. Earnings then had reached about $4,800. Under the new law, Social Security deductions will be $4.89 and the "Medicare" deduction will be 44 cents or a total of $5.33 each week of the year. This is the highest amount anyone will have to pay.

BENEFITS

Benefit payments to retired or disabled workers under the new law range up to $135.90 monthly, depending on the worker's average earnings. A worker may eventually receive as much as $168 a month, but since this amount is based wholly on the new wage base, it will generally be payable only to people retiring some years from now.

Anyone who has a question about the new amendments or about his Social Security for the year may contact the Social Security office, 1009 Gregg.

COTTON STRIPPERS HUMMING UNDER CLOUDY WEST TEXAS SKIES

Few Days Of Sunshine Can Close Out Harvest

Ten days to two weeks of bright, sunny weather and the Big Spring area cotton crop would be all finished, farmers declare. As it is, only half of the Howard County crop has been ginned as 1965 passes from the picture and only one county in the area has officially finished its harvest.

The Texas Employment Commission office in Midland said that Glasscock County has completed its ginning operations to all practical purposes. The county wound up with 12,000 bales, which was the estimated total for the season.

Howard County ginnings through Friday noon stood at 21,934 bales. TEC office here reported this is 55 per cent of the total crop, based on the current estimate of 40,000 bales. However, there is every indication that the 40,000 is from 4,000 to 6,000 bales too low. Many fields are producing up to three-quarters of a bale, and there is good cause, most observers think, to expect a crop total of 43,000 bales at least.

Lamesa TEC said that 10 good days of bright sunshine would see its giant crop in the hands of the press. So far, the county has ginned 112,500 bales. This is three-quarters of the total crop. The ginnings during the last two weeks have only been 19,000 bales, TEC reports. Holidays and damp, uncertain weather has kept the strippers idle.

Midland TEC said there is growing evidence the new 35,000 bale estimate now in effect in Martin County may have to be raised. Ginnings through Friday noon were 27,100 bales. This is 71 per cent of the estimate. The yield from the fields which had been badly battered by hail is turning out better than had been expected.

Midland County has ginned 10,088 bales of an estimated 15,000 bale crop.

At Sweetwater, TEC said that its four county area is well along with the harvest, with the exception of Mitchell County. Scurry County has ginned 30,893 bales; Fisher 35,857; Nolan 15,774; and Mitchell 18,217.

Tough Road Ahead Looms In Dominica

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican provisional government has reached the midway point of its 9-month tenure with little accomplished and a rough road ahead.

This impression has been reinforced by the tensions and fears aroused by the violent armed clash Dec. 19 between Dominican army regulars and former rebel fighters.

The storm kicked up in the wake of that battle in Santiago indicates this country remains dangerously divided into two almost irreconcilable camps. The fighting set back efforts to reincorporate into the regular armed forces those who fought on the rebel side during the April upheaval.

HIT OBSTACLES

The military reintegration plan is considered a fundamental step in a political rehabilitation process preparing the country for general elections next June.

The plan ran into early and difficult obstacles. By early December, however, provisional President Hector Garcia-Godoy was saying he expected to announce its start in a matter of days.

Three separate military-civilian commissions had been working on the program and it had progressed to the point of agreement on the dismissal of more than 300 rebel army members who were found ineligible for reinstatement.

The original agreement was said to call for the transfer abroad to diplomatic jobs of some rebel army chiefs, among them colonels Francisco Casiano, Dene, Manuel Ramon Montes Arache and Juan Lora Fernandez. Fernandez was killed in the battle of Santiago.

Some of the regular army chiefs were to follow abroad later.

AROUSED HATE

The Santiago clash aroused deep hatreds between the two military groups. Sympathizers of the rebel constitutionalist movement say — and apparently with justification — that it would be suicidal for their troops to be reintegrated under present circumstances.

Meantime, the government is paying the salaries of two separate military forces.

In a sense, developments since the Santiago incident seem to have restored the Dominican political situation to almost exactly the point it occupied Sept. 26, 1963, the day the army overthrew President Juan Bosch.

Unarmed and caught by surprise, Bosch's backers began plotting for his return that same day.

It is no secret that the army today views Bosch's probable presidential candidacy with distrust. He remains a towering, popular figure.

To the regular army, the rebel forces and their sympathizers represent Bosch. The military is not expected to welcome or accept the restoration to power, even through honest elections, of the man they once overthrew because they feared he was trying to destroy the establishment and turn it over to Communists.

HAS INFLUENCE

Elimination of the army chiefs is not expected to liquidate anti-Bosch sentiment in the army. One of Bosch's bitterest enemies, exiled Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin, who organized the 1963 coup, seems to influence one large and important segment of the army.

Thus the military remains one of the provisional government's gravest problems.

Dominican leftwing nationalists, who abound in Bosch's revolutionary party and among the Social Christians, are violently opposed to keeping the Inter-American Peace Force in the Dominican Republic after the June elections.

On the other hand, some people argue that the force's presence guarantees not only the transfer of power after elections to the winner, but could help carry out a peaceful military reform.

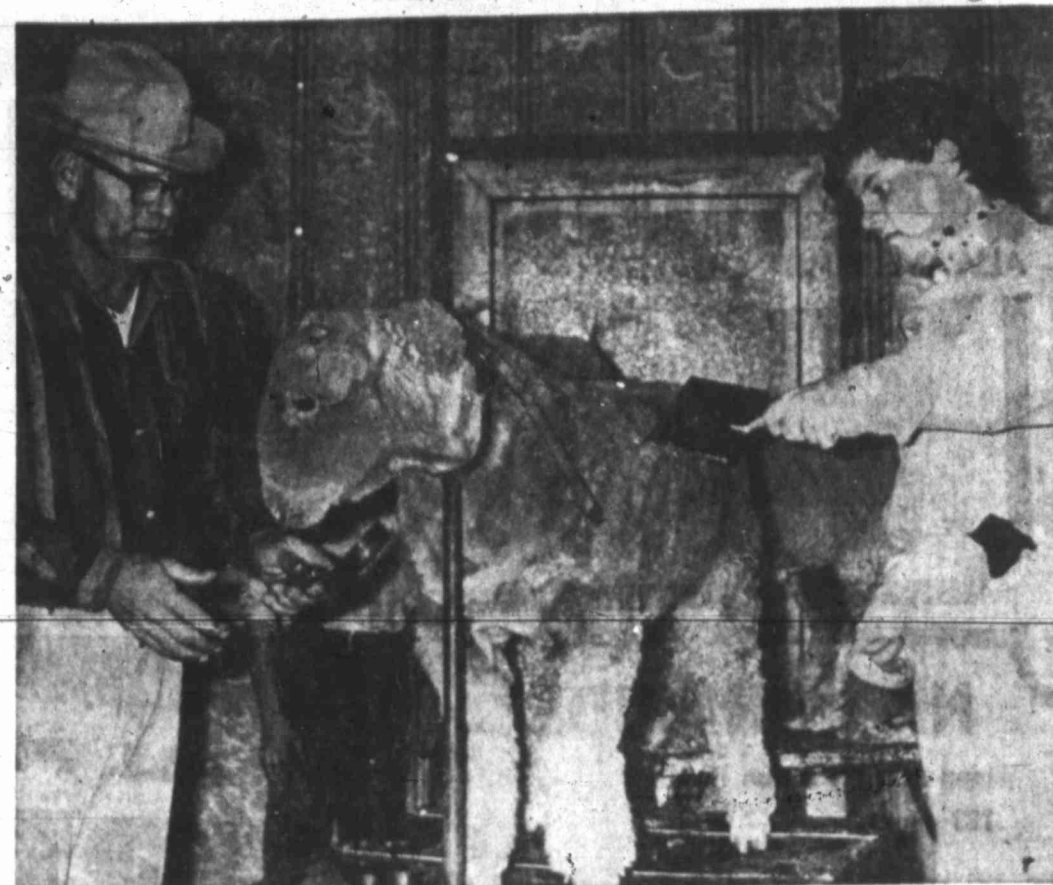

Signing Job Is Completed

J. C. Roberts, Abilene, district highway engineer, has accepted the signing job of Interstate 29, as it loops around the north edge of Big Spring.

The erection of signs, some with overhead lights, and the installation of safety lighting systems at key intersections on the loop mean completion of the total Interstate 29 project in Howard County.

Subsequently, however, there may be additional development in construction of additional frontage roads.

The sign and lighting project was accomplished at an approximate cost of $120,000.

STOCK READY FOR ODESSA SHOW

Clubbers Leave For Odessa Show

Howard County 4-H Club members, taking 10 steers and five lambs with them, left at noon Saturday in the club van for the Sand Hills Rodeo and Fat Stock Show at Odessa.

Don Brandenberger, assistant county agent, directed the club members Friday and Saturday morning in getting their stock ready for the show.

This is the first stock show the club boys and girls have entered this season. It will be followed by a series of shows which will terminate with the Howard County annual show in March.

Steers are being shown at Odessa by Mark and Maxwell Barr, two head; Robbie Haney, two head; Dolores Lankford, two head; Gregg Ryan, Gary McNew and Brenda Jackson, one head each.

Lambs are being shown by Dixie Coleman, two head; Sherry and Nancy Phillips, two head and Randy Davis, one head.

Red Cross Scores A Record Breaker

WASHINGTON, D. C. — In one of its busiest and most active years since World War II, the American Red Cross expended $108,081,320 last year to provide its services to the American people, and to U.S. servicemen and women and their families at home and around the world.

The banner year, highlighted in the organization's annual report for the fiscal year 1964-65, saw ARC staff and services doubled and redoubled in South Viet Nam as the Southeast Asia conflict intensified. This was also reflected in increased service to military families at home, with one out of every three such families calling on Red Cross for some type of assistance.

RECORDS SET

Records were set in a number of ARC service activities during the year, among them the collection of 2,773,290 units of blood, largest annual response in the history of the civilian program; issuance of 2,544,000 certificates to persons completing the Red Cross water safety course, an all-time high; and the expenditure of $15,770,819 for relief to disaster victims, third highest outlay since 1916. The cost of assistance to victims of Hurricane Betsy, approximately $17,500,000, is not covered in the summary since the storm occurred in the current fiscal year.

LARGEST

Again this year, services to the nation's armed forces and veterans called for the largest single Red Cross expenditure, amounting to $39,090,221. Staff workers and volunteers at 400 major military installations in the U.S. and 30 foreign countries helped a monthly average of 77,000 servicemen and women, and nearly 87,000 service families were served each month by ARC chapters. In military hospitals, an average of 8,300 patients each month were assisted with family emergencies.

In Veterans Administration medical facilities, an average of 155,400 patients were served each month by 65,000 Red Cross volunteers, and 27,000 veterans and their families were assisted every month in local chapters.

The second highest Red Cross expenditure during the year, $15,911,248, went for the Blood Program, through which 2,775,200 units of blood were collected.

BLOOD RESEARCH

Red Cross blood research led to the development during the year of an anti-hemophilic factor (AHF), which is from 20 to 50 times more potent than normal plasma in controlling hemophilic bleeding. This blood component was used last summer to permit the first open-heart surgery on a hemophilic patient, a 20-month-old baby who recovered.

The disaster expenditure of $15,770,819 provided Red Cross help to victims of catastrophes in all 50 states, three territories, and 16 other countries. ARC volunteers and staff assisted in 12,335 relief operations, providing emergency mass care to 653,800 persons and recovery assistance to 29,700 families.

During Hurricane Betsy, which swept Florida, Mississippi and Louisiana last September, 96,000 persons were housed in 300 Red Cross shelters; 200,000 victims and emergency workers were fed; and the Red Cross expects to provide recovery help to some 37,000 families before the relief operation is completed.

Training in Red Cross water safety programs peaked last year's all-time record with more than 2.5 million certificates issued to persons completing courses. Another 1,000,000 persons were trained in first aid. Expenditures for safety services totaled $6,075,022.

Young people in schools and colleges were involved in a variety of community and international service activities during the year. The cost of ARC youth activities totaled $4,593,654.

Through its international services, the American Red Cross was active in worldwide efforts to relieve and prevent suffering caused by war, disaster, sickness and hunger. The American organization continued to process monthly food packages for delivery to U.S. citizens held prisoner in China.

Other Red Cross expenditures during the year included $4,664,962 for service and assistance to chapters; $723,753 for community services; $2,943,250 for public information; $3,048,888 for membership enrollment and fund raising; $409,752 for international services; and $12,083,279 for general management, planning and administration for the national organization and its 3,400 chapters.

CLYDE HOLLINGSWORTH

Hollingsworth Assumes Post

Clyde Hollingsworth assumed presidency of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club for 1966 at the close of the club luncheon meeting Thursday. Bob Travis, president for 1965, formally handed Hollingsworth the gavel at the close of the last meeting of the year.

Hollingsworth announced that committee budget requests will be acted upon at the meeting of the board of directors Tuesday night at Coker's. He asked all committee chairmen to have their budget requests ready.

Program for Thursday was the screening of a series of black-and-white slides made on the front lines in Viet Nam. The pictures were taken by celebrated Associated Press news photographers one of whom also narrated the story the pictures told by tape recording.

The pictures have been made available here for the past two weeks by The Herald. They were borrowed from the Associated Press. Numerous organizations have seen the program. On New Year's Eve it was screened for a Watch Party at the First Church of God.

Rig Survivor Said Improved

DERBY, England (AP) — Doctors reported "some improvement" Saturday in the condition of Dean Sutherland, 45, American supervisor felled by a stroke after surviving Monday's sinking of the oil rig Sea Gem in the North Sea.

Sutherland, from Laurel, Neb., has been in a Derby hospital since he collapsed Tuesday in his hotel room. His condition has been listed as "very poor."

Five of the 32 men aboard the British Petroleum Co. drilling platform died in the accident. Eight more are missing and presumed dead.

Temblor Jars Eastern Area

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A 15-to-20-second earth tremor was felt Saturday morning in parts of western New York, northwestern Pennsylvania and southern Ontario Province in Canada.

No injuries or property damage was reported, authorities said.

Dr. Austin McTigue, director of the physics department and in charge of the seismograph at Canisius College, said he believed that the tremor originated in the Attica-Warsaw area of Wyoming County in New York State, where there is a known active fault or fracture in the crust of the earth.

Safe Drivers Honored

Drivers Honored For Safe Driving

Two of the eight drivers who pilot big trucks for Texas and Pacific Freight Lines are wearing valuable gold watches today as tribute to their long record of safe driving.

B. H. Williams, 1317 Tucson, with 18 years service to his credit, and E. L. Belcher, who is rounding out his 32th year of safe driving were handed wrist watches Friday morning by W. A. Anderson, terminal manager.

The eight drivers who handle the big trucks for the T&P have now stacked up a total of 101 years of accident free driving and have driven 4,726,380 miles.

Anderson said the watches were gifts from the company to Williams and Belcher as a mark of appreciation for the service they have rendered.

The other six drivers were witnesses at the brief ceremonies in the freight depot of the firm.

Mrs. Petty Announces Re-Election Candidacy

Mrs. Pauline S. Petty, Howard County clerk, has authorized The Herald to formally announce her candidacy for re-election to the post she now holds, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary of May 7.

Mrs. Petty is seeking her fourth term as county clerk.

She was appointed to the office in 1953 when Lee Porter, now county judge, resigned to become county auditor.

Mrs. Petty is a native of Big Spring. She was born here and is the daughter of the late Mrs. Mamie Schubert. She attended schools here, graduating from Big Spring High School.

Prior to her service in the office of county clerk, Mrs. Petty worked for the Elliott-Walton Abstract Co., and with the Selective Service Board.

In the years she has served as the county clerk, she has seen the activities of the office expand and grow—year by year—until today it is one of the busiest departments of the county government.

Mrs. Petty is married to Homer Petty. They live at 707 N. Gregg.

She is a member of the First Christian Church. She is affiliated with the Order of Eastern Star, the Rebekah Lodge, the Auxiliary of World War I Veterans, Auxiliary of Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Howard County Legal Secretaries Association.

Mrs. Petty said she would make an effort to personally visit with as many of the voters in the county as possible in the time between now and the May 7 primary.

She plans to continue the operation of her office on the same level of efficiency as in the past.

PAULINE S. PETTY

she promised, during the campaign year.

"I enjoy my work in the county clerk's office," said Mrs. Petty. "It affords me many opportunities to be of service to my friends and fellow citizens."

"If my friends see fit to return me to the office for a fourth term, I assure them I will continue to do all in my power to operate the office efficiently and courteously."

"I am deeply aware of the importance of the work performed by the office, and I have constantly endeavored to carry on the affairs of the county clerk's department as the people of the county would want them performed."

Mrs. Petty said she would be appreciative of all support given her in her campaign for re-election as County Clerk.

BIG TRAILER-TRUCK JACKKNIFED IN ROAD MISHAP
Odessa man hospitalized as result of slippery road accident

Weather Blamed In Traffic Accident Injuring Odessan

Weather had a hand in a pileup on Interstate 20 6.2 miles east of Coahoma early Saturday. One man, Frank Franklin, 31, Odessa, was sent to the hospital.

He was injured when the car in which three Odessans, bound on a fishing trip, hit a slick spot and went out of control. D. C. Cox, 35, San Angelo, driver for Consolidated Copper State, was trailing the Odessans and threw on his brakes to avoid plowing into their car. His rig jackknifed across the highway, said Jimmy Parks, Texas Highway Patrolman.

Billy Charles Weldon, 30, Odessa, was listed as driver of the car which was pulling a camp trailer with a boat on top.

The other passenger was T. G. Swain, 33, Odessa.

When the car swerved, it whipped the trailer around, causing it to lose a wheel. The boat was knocked off and badly damaged. The trailer was demolished. Swain and Weldon were unhurt, but Franklin was taken to Cowper Hospital by the Big Spring Ambulance Service. His condition Saturday night was said to be satisfactory.

Cox also was unhurt, and his rig did not overturn. However, the tractor was damaged sharply, with estimates running up to $3,000.

The mishap occurred at 4:15 a.m. Saturday. The Odessans were said to be enroute to Lake Colorado City.

Police Probe Two Break-Ins

Two burglaries were investigated by city police Saturday. Prowlers broke into the Airport School sometime Friday night. Police said that it could not be determined if any thing had been stolen. Two science cases had been opened and the contents jumbled.

Ernest Robertson, 609 Goliad, reported to police that his house had been broken into and a number of valuable guns taken. He said the burglary occurred sometime between Dec. 29 and Jan. 1. He has been out of town and his wife, he said, had been in the hospital.

He reported the thieves took an air rifle, two 22 calibre rifles, 6.5 Swedish Mauser and three shotguns.

Farmer Union Mission Set

WACO (AP) — Jay Naman, president of the Texas Farmers Union, will leave Tuesday for an eight-day visit to Peru. The trip is under the auspices of the Texas Partners, an organization whose purpose is to involve private individuals in the workings of the State Department's Alliance for Progress program.

Under the Alliance, Peru has been designated the partner nation of Texas. Peruvian and other South American farmers have visited host farm families in the United States.

Presidential Daughters Separate This Holiday

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — The two presidential daughters went their separate ways this New Year's Day. Luci with her fiancé and Lynda with her most frequent recent escort.

Luci, 18, and her husband-to-be, Pat Nugent, 22, attended Mass at St. Mary's Roman Catholic church in Fredericksburg, remained behind to pray together at a side altar, then left separately to dodge photographers.

TO ORLEANS

Lynda, 21, flew off to New Orleans to attend the Sugar Bowl game with Hollywood actor George Hamilton.

Meanwhile, the President and Mrs. Johnson were reported to have spent a quiet day at the LBJ ranch near here. Friday night they went into Austin, accompanied by Luci and Pat, to attend a New Year's Eve party for newsmen and photographers. They left shortly before the New Year came in.

Four Shot And Knifed

At least four Spanish-American residents were wounded by gunshot and knife wounds in what police believe may have been two connected episodes early Saturday morning.

The most seriously wounded seems to be Deci Hernandez, 17, who was found in the yard at St. Thomas Catholic Church suffering from numerous knife wounds. He is in the Howard County Hospital Foundation and detectives Saturday night were waiting for an opportunity to question him. He was found at 1:03 a.m.

POLICE CALLED

About three hours later, in the same area, police were called to investigate an affray in front of 411 N. Scurry. There they found three wounded Latin-Americans.

Leandro Juarez, 58, who lives at the address, was bleeding from a gunshot wound in the knee. He is in the Howard County Hospital Clinic. Sammy Martinez, 17, was shot in the left hand and left foot. His injuries were not too serious. Ciprario DelBosque, 16, was shot four times in the legs and arms — the bullets all passing through the limbs and missing the bones. He was given emergency treatment and was at the police station Saturday night being interrogated by city detectives.

FIGHT ENSUES

From the tangled stories the police were gathering, it was indicated that the three gunshot victims were all in the Juarez house when a group, not identified, came to the place. A fight ensued involving rocks, possibly knives, and one or more guns.

If the Hernandez stabbing had any connection with the later difficulty, it had not been definitely established Saturday night.

Pravda Says U.S. Plans To Expand War

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda charged Sunday the United States plans to expand the war in Viet Nam to Laos and Cambodia. The organ of the Soviet Communist party asked:

"How can this be reconciled with Washington's notorious attempts to find ways to achieve peace in Viet Nam about which American propaganda has now raised such an outcry?"

FIRST COMMENT

It was the first authoritative press comment since Johnson dispatched his special envoys to probe ways and means of bringing the battlefront to the conference table.

Pravda gave little indication that the Soviet Union planned to help in this project.

Meanwhile, Polish Communist chief Wladislaw Gomułka told his people that the issue of peace or war "depends on whether common sense will win in the U.S.A. and point out the necessity to return from the slippery and adventurous road of aggression against the Vietnamese people, or whether political blindness to the contemporary realities of the world will continue to lead."

Gomułka's New Year's message was his first mention of Viet Nam since he conferred in Warsaw with Soviet U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman.

IGNORES LULL

Pravda ignored the bombing lull over North Viet Nam and instead charged that "intensifying bombing of the Democratic Republic of Viet Nam, widening the intervention in South Viet Nam, American imperialism is now getting ready to commit a new act of aggression by carrying hostilities into Laos and Cambodia."

Commentator E. Alexeyev wrote, as reported by Tass:

"American officials no longer conceal the facts of bandit attacks on Laotian territory."

"However their references to communications lines allegedly going through Laos as well as to the imaginary presence of troops from the DRV (North Viet Nam), there is a smoke-screen long used by Washington to cover up and justify its policy of brazenly interfering in the domestic affairs of Laos."

Drenching rains fell in southwestern Kentucky and northern Arkansas. Light rain damped the eastern sections of Oklahoma and Texas and formed a wet belt from the Ohio Valley to New England.

Five inches of snow fluttered down on Flagstaff in six hours. Flagstaff, and some other parts of Arizona, had just gone through their wettest December and wettest year on record.

Snow and gales hit the coast of Washington state, and light snow extended inland to the northern Rockies.

Water Bids To Be Heard

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Water Rights Commission said Friday it will hear three applications Jan. 4 to divert water from the proposed Cooper Reservoir in North Texas.

The commission said the Sulphur River Water District seeks to divert 81,470 acre-feet of water a year for city and industrial use.

The North Texas water district wants 114,265 acre-feet a year for city use.

Mrs. Carter Rites Monday

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Services for Mrs. B. N. Carter, 80, Colorado City, who died Friday in a local hospital after a lengthy illness, will be held Monday at 10:30 a.m. in the Kiker and Son Funeral Chapel.

Burial will be in Colorado City Cemetery, under the direction of Kiker and Son Funeral Home.

Mrs. Carter was born in Milan County Aug. 20, 1885, and was married to Carter in Milan County in 1911, and they moved to Colorado City in 1918. She was a member of the Baptist Church.

Her husband, a retired attorney, preceded her in death in June.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Inez Hock, Colorado City, Mrs. Louise Bollinger, Snyder, and Mrs. Cecil Smith, Burbank, Calif.; two sons, B. N. Carter Jr., Burbank, and Charles Carter, Van Nuys, Calif.; one brother, A. R. Osborn, Lubbock; one sister, Mrs. J. M. Knowles, De Leon; also 13 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

APPEARS SHAKEN

After the subway negotiations collapsed, Lindsay talked to newsmen and headed for City Hall. He appeared shaken.

"It is time for the people to support a new mayor," he said.

NEW YORK (AP) — Republican Mayor John V. Lindsay embarked Saturday on a four-year term as chief executive of the nation's largest city with settlement of a transit strike his first job.

Lindsay was mayor only five minutes when Michael J. Quill, president of the AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union, broke off transit negotiations.

The tall, handsome and boyish 44-year-old former congressman had campaigned on the theme that the city was in crisis — and the hard facts were tossed at him with stunning impact.

INAUGURAL BALL

However, the mayor's office said that public inaugural ceremonies at City Hall and the inaugural ball would still be held in the evening. The 3,500 persons who attended the ball at the Hotel Americana paid $10 each.

SIXTEEN-year-old Wanda Chandler, who earlier had been abducted as she stood in front of her parents' store in Ennis, ran to safety in Prichett's patrol car when the shooting started.

She told officers her abductor had forced her into the booth during a call to her parents demanding $5,000 ransom for her return.

SAID UNHARMED

The girl was not believed to be harmed but was hospitalized for observation.

The escapade started Friday night when a man attempted to hold up the Hilltop Drive-In, a package liquor store on Interstate 45 at Ennis. He failed to get any money but forced Wanda to accompany him.

The girl's father said the man called a few minutes later, demanding $5,000 in ransom and saying he would call again in 45 minutes.

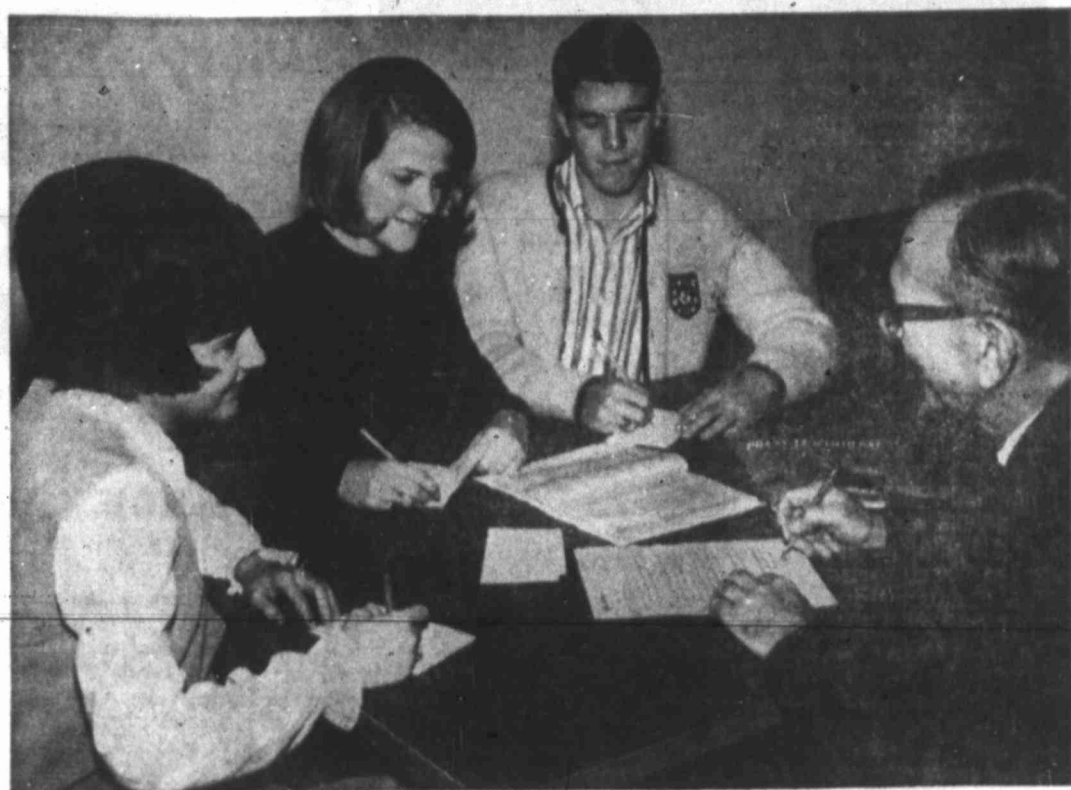

When he called the second time, the call was traced to Corsicana, where police were cut in on the conversation.

TO BOOTH

Corsicana police dispatcher Lloyd Huffman said he was listening in as the officers drove up to the booth where she was talking in a frightened voice to her parents over the telephone.

Officers said the shooting occurred only a few hundred feet from Taylor's home in Corsicana. In the car with Mrs. Taylor was her four-year-old son.

It was not determined immediately who shot Mrs. Taylor in the leg although Taylor said he believed he did.

March Of Dimes Effort Gets Started This Week

The annual March of Dimes campaign will kick-off Monday in the Howard - Glasscock counties area, according to Edith Gay, secretary for the Howard-Glasscock Counties Chapter of the National Foundation for Birth Defects.

The envelope - mailer drive is now in process and will go into full swing Tuesday night when members of the Tri-Hi-Y and the Hi-Y of the YMCA and the National Secretaries Association meet at the First National Bank to address and stuff over 10,000 envelopes urging area residents to contribute to the March of Dimes campaign.

Mayor George Zachariah proclaimed January as March of Dimes month and urged "all of our people to contribute generously to this important fight against birth defects."

Mayor Zachariah also stated in his proclamation that the March of Dimes program "offers the best available treatment for birth defects victims at March of Dimes supported centers across the nation" and that scientific research conducted under March of Dimes auspices "is making significant progress in the search for ways to prevent birth defects."

Transit Crisis Jolts Lindsay

NEW YORK (AP) — Republican Mayor John V. Lindsay said, "for my job is running the city, which is a struck city."

As he took the oath of office for the $50,000-a-year job Friday night, Lindsay said: "Ours is a proud city. It should be a proud city and that is why I look forward, with pride to being its mayor."

The oath was administered by State Supreme Court Justice William F. Hecht Jr., in a City Hall ceremony that took only six minutes. Lindsay's wife, four children and friends and relatives attended.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Academy of Sciences announced Saturday a three-year agreement for an exchange of visits by scientists between this country and Yugoslavia.

The arrangement with the Council of Academies of Yugoslavia provides for exchanges in the natural sciences including mathematics, engineering sciences and behavioral sciences.

Such an agreement with the U.S.S.R. has been in effect since 1959.

Visits in each direction totaling approximately 40 man-months a year are provided for. The trips may be short ones for seminars, lectures or exchange of professional views, or longer stays of up to a year for laboratory research or field studies.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's chief economic adviser, after meeting with Bethlehem Steel Corp. officials, said Saturday he still regards their price increase as "unjustified" and hopes it will be rescinded.

Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, gave no indication, however, that he was promised any such rollback.

Ackley and his colleagues met Saturday afternoon with Bethlehem chairman Edmund F. Martin and other company officials to discuss the $5-a-ton boost on structural steel shapes and piling. Bethlehem announced the price boost Friday.

LABELLED INFLATIONARY

Shortly after the increase was announced, Ackley had termed the firm's action as "inflationary."

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

Many Pilots Take Long Trips During Holidays

By JERRY MONSON
Flying activities have been quiet at the Howard County Airport during the Christmas holidays, even though the weather has been fairly good. Howard Loyd of Big Spring Aircraft reports. Only 15 were up from Dec. 26 through Jan. 1.

Curt Dotson of the Howard County Flying Club is still working on his commercial license. Dotson has 187 hours flying time and needs just 13 more. He was off on a jaunt to San Antonio during the holidays to go deer hunting — while his flying hours mounted up, his luck with the deer was nil. "I sat in a tree until I grew feathers," he said, "but still didn't have any luck."

The Big Spring Flying Club had Wayne Bartlett and John Stanley up in the Skyhawk Ray Granberry and Jack Little in the Piper Colt and C. M. Johnson in the Cessna 172 this week. Jack Lear soloed in the Cessna Wednesday.

The Cherokee 180 of the Howard County Flying Club is presently out of commission, and members are using the Cherokee of Big Spring Aircraft. Keith Swinn was on a cross-country over Missouri in the Cherokee 180 when it was damaged in a tornado.

Capt. Gary Heartsill, his wife, Jean, and daughters, Kelly and Lisa, and the family dog, Pepe, enjoyed a two-week jaunt to Escondido, just above San Diego, over the holidays. Capt. Heartsill, a member of the Howard County Flying Club, was recently promoted to captain at Webb AFB.

Sgt. Frank Steffen of the Howard County Flying Club hopped the Cherokee of Big Spring Aircraft to Nebraska during the week.

The Howard County Flying Club had up Curt Dotson and Buddy Hatch in the Colt this week. Hatch was on a two-day cross-country flight Friday and Saturday.

L. S. McDowell III soloed on his first cross-country jaunt Dec. 20, with Big Spring Aircraft. His trip covered San Angelo and Midland.

Private licenses issued since Dec. 12 included S. Sgt. Stanley Swedden, Webb Aero; Sgt. F. Steffen, Howard County Flying who received private lessons from his father.

Capt. Neal T. Reavely, military pilot with Webb Aero Flying Club, chalked up his civilian commercial license last Sunday.

Things are looking good at Big Spring Aircraft these days. The reason is part Pat Petosky, the new flying instructor. She hails from Midland, and among her other activities she is secretary-treasurer of the High Sky Chapter of the Ninety-Nines.

Pat has a story she likes to tell all new students. "I had taken a student up for his first lesson. After he had settled back and was beginning to feel rather confident, he asked nonchalantly how long I had been an instructor."

"I wasn't paying too much attention and thought he said 'How long have we been flying?'"

"The look on his face as I glanced down at my watch was worth a million."

Webb Aero Club members are still celebrating their new clubhouse area in the hangar. The club just recently bought new furnishings for the clubhouse.

Capt. Franklin Picking of Webb Aero, his wife, Betty, and daughters, Pan and Jo, hopped the Cessna 172 on a cross-country to Illinois over the Christmas holidays. They left Dec. 21 and were expected to return today.

S. Sgt. Robert Chilgreen soloed in the Cessna 150 this week. Other Webb Aero members up included Mary Green, S. Sgt. Stanley Swedden and wife, Dolores, Capt. William H. Warren, Sgt. Robert Brown, and Capt. Neal T. Reavely.

Capt. Paul Sullivan will pilot the Webb Aero Club for the coming year as its new president. Other officers are Sgt. Darrell Hissem, vice president; Mrs. Mary Green, secretary; Sgt. Bobby Brown, treasurer; Lt. Philip Brown, operations officer; Sgt. Tom Morrell, assistant operations officer; Sgt. F. N. Thomas, training officer; Capt. Robert Taron, flying safety officer; Capt. Young, club advisor; and Sgt. Robert Brown, club manager.

Capt. Ed Maxson of Webb Aero is scheduled to go on a cross-country jaunt Jan. 6 to Bergstrom AFB, near Austin, and will return the same day, weather permitting.

New members of Webb Aero are Maj. William Connor, squadron commander of the 2650th Communications Squadron at Webb, and Mrs. Lenora Smith, civilian employee in the communications squadron at Webb.

Total passenger boardings for Trans-Texas Airways for the month of December stood at 238. There were eight flights that were unable to land because of weather conditions.

The first jet-powered convair of T-TA is nearing completion in a Houston hangar, it was announced by the Houston office this week. The two engines are on, and the interior will be completed shortly.

T-TA is also in the process of purchasing its first pure jet aircraft, which will probably occur sometime around March.

M. Sgt. Fred E. Kiser (right), son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kiser, Rt. 1, Big Spring, is congratulated upon being awarded the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal at Travis AFB, Calif. Sgt. Kiser received the medal for meritorious service at Kindley AFB, Bermuda. He is now assigned to Travis as a transportation supervisor with the Military Air Transport Service which provides global airlift, air rescue, aeromedical evacuation, air weather and air photographic and geodetic services for U.S. forces. His wife, Ila, is the daughter of W. R. McGinnis, 1407 Owens. Col. Harold O. Pedrazzini, base commander, offers congratulations.

Two Railroaders Make Last Runs

By TOM BARRY
Two men who have worked a total of 68 years for Texas & Pacific Railway Co. retired Saturday — actually Friday night at midnight, to be exact.

Both were brakemen in train service, have lived in Big Spring for years, and were efficient in their jobs. But there the similarity ends, for one of them worked for 47 years in the railroad business, the other a "mere" 21 years.

Errol Haley, 67, a Big Spring resident for more than 30 years, remembers when he first went to railroading. "It was April 8, 1918," he said, "and except for six months in 1940-41 with Santa Fe in the Los Angeles switching yard, the next 47 years were spent with Texas and Pacific."

From 1918 until 1937, Haley was a switchman, and then became a brakeman, which was his position when he took the train up to Toyah and back Thursday last for his last ride as a railroad employee.

"Yeah, there have been a lot of changes since I began," Haley said. "When I started they were still using steam engines — the old kind which used coal. And I had to shovel it for a little while. It wasn't much fun. These new diesels are really an improvement — you don't have to stop for water every little while, and they're a lot cleaner."

Haley is not planning much for after retirement, but he's wondering how he'll get his exercise.

"I guess I can walk downtown," he said. "I used to walk to the station, it's two miles from my home (at 1218 E. 16th). Because he's been working all his life, Haley has kept a trim 160-pound figure and looks much younger."

He and his wife, Esterbelle, have one daughter, and two grandchildren.

"I guess I'll just relax a little, now," Haley commented. Huey Rogers, on the other hand, has done a little of everything — run a grocery store, been a travelling auditor for a grocery chain, run a stock farm (which he still owns), and for the past 21 years, worked as a brakeman and conductor for T&P.

"You might say I started in the railroad business a little late," he laughed. "That was July 5, 1944." He's 65 now, so he was 44 years years old when he started a new career.

"For about 10 years, I was a conductor," Rogers said. "then a brakeman in train service. I never was involved in any train wrecks, guess I was pretty lucky."

Rogers made his last run Dec. 24. "It was the Monahans Dodger," he said. "No, I don't know what the 'Dodger' means, unless it means dodging other trains."

Rogers and his wife, Rudelle, who is a nurse at the VA Hospital, live at 1502 Tucson, and have for 21 years, since they came here from Dublin, Tex. They have two sons and four grandchildren.

Plans for Rogers are for relaxing, perhaps running up to his stock farm, near Dublin, and seeing how it's getting along. But mostly, just relaxing.

JOB HAS MANY FACETS

She Makes The Chamber Hum

By JERRY MONSON

"No, I haven't been with the chamber since the buffalo used to water at the 'big spring,'" Edith Gay smiled. "But I have been in Big Spring since 1933 and in chamber of commerce work since 1937."

Edith Gay, a tiny, slender woman with twinkling blue eyes and a touch of gray in her hair, is 108 pounds of vitality — a combination secretary, receptionist, Girl Friday, peace-maker, publicity coordinator, and jack-of-all trades at the chamber office.

She was born and reared in DeKalb, Tex., but Big Spring is home. She worked for the highway department, the State National Bank, and the Works Progress Administration area office before beginning her chamber duties under the late Jimmie Greene, manager of the chamber in 1937. She has since served with three other chamber managers, Wayne Smith, Bill Quimby and Carroll Davidson.

HIGHLIGHTS

"One of the highlights of past chamber work was participating in the centennial celebration in 1949," she said. "Many changes have come about since I first came — mostly in building programs such as the VA and State Hospitals, the radio stations, the courthouse, city hall — and many others. "Other highlights have been our work with the Big Spring Bombardier School of World War II which became Webb Air Force Base in 1952. Miss Gay went to Alaska in 1948 with a friend whose husband was stationed in the Air Force, and she remained in Anchorage for a year before returning to Big Spring."

DIFFERENT SLANT

Through the years, while the city has grown tremendously, the chamber staff has remained nearly the same size. It operated with only two people when she first joined it and has operated with as many as five people on occasion. Most of the time the staff has remained at four people, but today, manager Carroll Davidson, Miss Gay, and receptionist Ann Belew make up the chamber staff.

Miss Gay said she felt there is a big difference in chamber activities today compared with 1937.

"The chamber is more public relations minded today than ever before," she said. Under Carroll Davidson's management, the chamber has seen the Ambassadors Club, originated by him, grow each year. The Ambassadors are members who are chosen for their recruitment of new chamber of commerce members. They wear red coats and appear at most civic functions or welcomes. An all-out industrial development campaign has been initiated during the last five years, Miss Gay said. An industrial development fund has also been established.

PLENTY ACTIVITY

Besides her regular secretarial chores, Miss Gay keeps all books and records, has charge of the files, keeps news clippings of chamber work and helps prepare an annual report to the board of directors. In addition, she attends committee meetings and keeps the minutes and records for all 15 committees, prepares the annual calendar of events, and makes out a monthly progress report of chamber activities.

In her work she has contact with nearly all the clubs in Big Spring and is a charter member of the Business and Professional Women's Club, an associate member of the Big Spring Music Study Club, and a member of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church. She is secretary of the Howard-Glasscock Chapter of the National Foundation for Birth Defects, better known as the March of Dimes, a position she has held for nearly 15 years.

WALKING ENCYCLOPEDIA

With all her chamber duties and club activities, Miss Gay still finds time to listen to her favorite music on her FM radio, mostly semi-classical or classical. She is an avid newspaper reader and reads several daily papers from cover to cover. She is a former hospital volunteer worker and former state chairman for the Texas Federation of Music Clubs music in hospitals program.

And what does chamber manager Carroll Davidson think about his Girl Friday?

"She's a walking encyclopedia, there's no other phrase for her," he said. "She's efficient, conscientious, pleasant, and has been excellent help to me, especially when I first came to Big Spring."

"And, most of all, she has the good of the chamber of commerce and the town at heart."

DALLAS (AP)—College football's longest winning streak—22 straight games—came to an end under the dreary skies of the Cotton Bowl Saturday as thrice-beaten Louisiana State, powered by stubby Joe LaBruzzo, beat Arkansas 14-7.

The Tigers scored two touchdowns in the second period on three and one-yard smashes by the hammering LaBruzzo and then stood off everything Arkansas tried to break the heralded poise of the Razorbacks and pull one of the big upsets of the bowls. Louisiana State was a 10-point underdog.

A crowd of 76,200—the largest ever to see a Cotton Bowl game in its 30 years—sat under lowering skies and intermittent rain to watch the great ground attack and the passing and quarterbacking of Pat Screen book Arkansas of a second straight Cotton Bowl victory.

MISTAKES COSTLY
An Arkansas fumble set up one Louisiana State touchdown and a poor kick gave Louisiana State the opportunity to score again but the Razorbacks rallied their defense for a glittering goal line stand and Doug Moreau missed a field goal from the Arkansas nine.

But Arkansas fought to the bitter end and as the game ended had driven to the LSU 24 on the passing of Jon Brittenum.

Arkansas, the No. 2 team in the nation, had hoped to become the national champion Saturday and might have made it had it won.

But the hopes of the Razorbacks crumbled under the driving Tigers and their mighty defense featuring what has been called the biggest, strongest team a Southwest Conference team faced this year.

SAD WEEKEND
It was a winless bowl season for the conference, which lost the Gator Bowl when Texas Tech was beaten by Georgia Tech and the Sun Bowl, when Texas Christian lost to Texas Western.

Arkansas' great speed brought it a touchdown in the first period when Brittenum threw to the fantastic receiving Bobby Crockett, who did a tightrope 12-yard run down the sidelines with a pass that covered 19 yards.

But Louisiana State took over in the second period to drive to its two touchdowns, one including a break when a pass was tipped into the hands of Billy Masters to keep a drive going.

RECORD UNSULLIED
Louisiana State upheld its record of never losing in the Cotton Bowl. It tied Arkansas 0-0 in 1947 and beat Texas 13-0 in 1963.

LaBruzzo won the outstanding back award in a breeze, getting 41 votes of the writers. Screen was second with 10. LaBruzzo gouged 69 tough yards out of the Arkansas line.

Dave McCormick, 240-pound offensive tackle of the Tigers, was picked as top lineman in a close race with Crockett. McCormick got 22 votes, Crockett 18.

Harry Jones was the biggest threat of the Razorbacks, other than the great pass-receiving Crockett, as he rambled for 79 yards around the massive Louisiana State line. But even Harry the Hare couldn't make it when the Tigers dug in.

Arkansas led in the statistics with 396 yards total offense while Louisiana State got 266.

Brittenum completed 15 of 24 passes for 177 yards and one touchdown. Screen connected on only seven for 82 yards, but his passes came at opportune moments.

Arkansas rolled 87 yards for its touchdown the second time it had the ball with Brittenum passing for 42 yards and Jones running for 33.

CALLED BACK
LSU almost scored when it got the ball again when Screen threw a 47-yard pass to Doug Moreau only to have it called back on a 15-yard penalty for ineligible receiver downfield.

LSU would have been on the Arkansas 14 but for the penalty.

Arkansas got close enough the next time it had the ball for Ronny South to try a field goal from the LSU 41 but it was wide.

Then LSU smashed 80 yards for the tying touchdown, aided by a five-yard offside penalty against Arkansas. Stokley made his appearance here and ran for 11 and passed for 18 before injuring himself.

But Screen ran for 11 and passed for 14. Jim Dousay rushed for 14 and the mighty LaBruzzo cracked through Arkansas for 21. He carried four straight lines from the Arkansas 16 for the touchdown.

South fumbled a handoff when he subbed for Brittenum, and LSU recovered on the Arkansas 34. Linebacker Bill Bass came up with the ball. Screen ran for two and passed for 12, then turned it over to LaBruzzo on the Arkansas five. In three plunges, LaBruzzo had the score.

HOW ARE THE MIGHTY FALLEN OF THIS UPSET BOWL ARRAY

The mighty have fallen on every hand during this New Year's football season. Team after team of favorites have shown feet of clay. Seldom has there been a season like it. Friday Georgia Tech upset Texas Tech in the Gator Bowl, and hardly had the echoes died than Texas Western had upended favored TCU in the Sun Bowl.

Saturday brought little surcease — certainly none for Arkansas which saw its 22-game streak ended by underdog LSU in the Cotton Bowl, and No. 1-ranked Michigan State was shot out of the saddle by upstart UCLA. Missouri barely survived a late Florida finish in the Sugar Bowl, and only Alabama came through without trouble in trouncing Nebraska in the Orange Bowl.

Victory Formula: Slow 'Em Down

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — "We slowed them down and made them play our type of game," Coach Charlie McClendon said Saturday after Louisiana State snapped Arkansas' 22-game winning streak with a 14-7 Cotton Bowl triumph.

"I told you before the game that we couldn't match their speed, and we couldn't," he said. "But we played control ball and came up with the big play. Our kids followed instructions right to the end."

McClendon called the upset his greatest thrill since his playing days with Kentucky and the Wildcats' Sugar Bowl victory over Oklahoma.

That triumph severed a 32-game Oklahoma winning streak.

McClendon said he didn't think his Tigers made one wrong decision and "we didn't have a fumble or a single pass interception."

"There were times when it looked like we should pass," he said. "But we weren't going to put the ball into the air and give them the chance for that interception. They'll kill you."

McClendon had promised that his thrice-beaten Bengals would have a couple of surprises for the second-ranked Razorbacks.

However, this generally was restricted to fluctuating offensive formations and defensive "stunting."

Arkansas Coach Frank

Broyles said Jerry Joseph's pass interception was the turning point in Louisiana State's victory.

Broyles said "I thought we had a chance until we got a pass intercepted on first down."

The Razorbacks had moved from their 20 to the Tiger 36 when Joseph swept in front of Arkansas and Bobby Crockett and picked off a Jon Brittenum pass at the LSU 20 with 6:17 left in the game.

"LSU is to be congratulated," Broyles said. "They had a lot of determination and they did a good job. They have a fine football team."

Broyles said he also was proud of the Porkers who had won 22 straight games before this Cotton Bowl battle.

"It had to end sometime," Broyles said.

Harry Jones, the Porker wingback-tailback who led all rushers with 79 yards on 10 carries, said "As far as I'm concerned they are the best we played. I know they hit harder than anyone we met and they were fine sports and a fine football team."

Glen Ray Hines, the All-America tackle, said the Porkers beat themselves.

"We just made too many mistakes. Every time we would start a drive something would happen," he said.

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Charlie Brown, a near-sighted halfback, and a stingy defense that dominated the game for three periods let Missouri wait to a 20-18 victory over a desperate Florida aggregation in the sun drenched Sugar Bowl Saturday.

Brown, who wears contact lenses when he plays, scored Missouri's first touchdown on a twisting 10-yard run, set up a second period field goal with a 15-yard sweep on his own right end and contributed a futile 45-yard sprint down the sidelines just before the end of the third quarter.

He was dumped on the 35-yard line and the slumbering Floridians, the greatest passing team in the history of the Southeastern Conference, suddenly came to life in the fourth quarter.

ter on the pitching of Steve Spurrier, who set three Sugar Bowl records.

The Gators simply started their aerial antics too late. For three quarters, the Missouri defense, built around Ron Snyder and Johnny Roland, kept the late starting Florida team in check. Late in the first quarter, Missouri had 14 points, while the Gators had a total offense of exactly that many yards.

Missouri dominated the scoreless first quarter but was on Florida's nine-yard line when the teams changed sides. Brown lost a yard on the first play, then went all the way on a second chance with Francis Peay contributing a vital block.

TIGER SCORES
Roland, an All-American defensive halfback who joins the Tiger offense when Missouri has the ball inside the 20, whipped an 11-yard pass to Earl Denny for another Tiger touchdown after the Big Eight team had gotten the ball when Ray Thorpe recovered a bobble by Jack Harper on an attempted fair catch.

With time running out, Missouri punted to Florida and the ball rolled dead on the Gator 19. Spurrier picked up seven yards running on the first play and then attempted 13 passes in a row for the final marker.

The score came on a fantastic catch by Charles Casey, All-America end.

The remaining Missouri points came on a pair of field goals by Bill Bates, one in the second and the last in the third. Then Florida caught fire.

Missouri was driving for another touchdown when its march was halted on the Florida 14. Six straight passes ate up the 86 yards and gave the Gators their first touchdown. A pass for a two-point conversion failed, and there was less than five minutes left to play.

A fumbled Missouri lateral gave Florida the ball again two plays later, and Spurrier went to work again on the Tiger 11. He passed for eight, and the Gators picked up another yard on a smash before the versatile quarterback dived over from the two.

The score came on a fantastic catch by Charles Casey, All-America end.

The remaining Missouri points came on a pair of field goals by Bill Bates, one in the second and the last in the third. Then Florida caught fire.

Missouri was driving for another touchdown when its march was halted on the Florida 14. Six straight passes ate up the 86 yards and gave the Gators their first touchdown. A pass for a two-point conversion failed, and there was less than five minutes left to play.

A fumbled Missouri lateral gave Florida the ball again two plays later, and Spurrier went to work again on the Tiger 11. He passed for eight, and the Gators picked up another yard on a smash before the versatile quarterback dived over from the two.

With time running out, Missouri punted to Florida and the ball rolled dead on the Gator 19. Spurrier picked up seven yards running on the first play and then attempted 13 passes in a row for the final marker.

It's About Even

Henry Willis of HCJC has the jump but Charles Roscoe (53) has the reach as they go after a rebound in Friday night's doubleheader at the HCJC gym. In position to grab the ball are Charles Yass, left, of HCJC, George Shaw (35) of Panola, and Kurt Papp (50) of HCJC. Howard County won 68-58.

Cameron Nips HCJC, Sweeps Series Here

The Cameron, Okla., Aggies had the poise, the finesse and power here Saturday evening to squelch a threat from the Howard County Junior College Jayhawks, 86-69.

Early in the second half, the Hawks had pulled within a couple of points, and late in the game, after trailing by 11 points, narrowed the gap to five. In the stretch, however, Cameron pulled away with several almost unopposed shots. The game left Cameron with an 8-1 season record, and it cut the HCJC standing to 7-5.

In the earlier game of Saturday evening's doubleheader, Odessa swamped Panola, 96-78. It was the first time Panola had been beaten by more than 10 points this season.

Frank Judge, Cameron's brilliant performer, sank 10 goals from the field and another nine free throws for 29 points, which added to 31 the previous night, gave him a 30-point average for the series.

Only slightly cooler was Bill Bullock with 26 points. He out-shot Judge from the field by two goals.

Kurt Papp kept HCJC in the running with eight field goals and five gratis tosses, a total of 21. Leon Smith, who teamed with Papp midway in the last half to cut the lead to five points, had 10 points as did Charley Price and Henry Willis.

It was a case of sure shots by Judge and Bullock that did in the Hawks. They seldom missed from close in, and Judge sank all nine of his free throws. Cameron had more accuracy and polish in passing, while the Hawks had several passes go awry.

Houston Oilers Sign Four In Rich Package

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Houston Oilers signed four Cotton Bowl tackles Saturday night for what one club spokesman termed a "one million dollar package deal."

The Oilers signed Arkansas tackle Glen Ray Hines and Jim Williams and Louisiana State tackle George Rice and David McCormick at a news conference following LSU's 14-7 Cotton Bowl victory over Arkansas.

Houston club owner Bud Adams was asked for figures on the four players but said, "We never give figures out on tackles."

MILLION BUCKS
Adams said the deal "represents the highest priced four tackle package in pro history. We're talking in excess of a million dollars."

Adams said Hines and McCormick signed five-year contracts. Rice a three-year contract and Williams a one-year contract.

Adams said the Oilers got negotiating rights to McCormick Friday in a trade with Boston.

Earlier figures indicated that Hines would sign for $300,000 and Rice for $250,000. There were no figures available for McCormick and Williams.

John Breen, vice president and personnel director of the Oilers, said, "I think it is our biggest need. We drafted along the line that would help us, and we needed tackles."

"THEY'LL HELP US"
"It's a long range program, though, and we don't expect them to be All-Pro their first year, but we do think they'll help."

Hines, a 235-pound All-American, was Houston's No. 1 choice in a futures draft in 1964. Rice was a third round draft choice last month. Williams was signed as a free agent.

Adams said, "This is what we have been needing — four tackles. They should change our offense for next year and our defense, too."

Hines and McCormick, a 240-pounder, are offensive tackles. Rice, 225 pounds, and Williams, 205 pounds, are defensive performers.

The Minnesota Vikings of the National Football League signed Arkansas wingback Jim Lindsey.

Steers Win Third Place
Big Spring Steers defeated Dumas 48-37 Friday night to place third in the Pampa Invitational Basketball tournament.

One Big Spring player, Bobby Griffin, made the all tournament team.

Pampa defeated Phillips to win its own tournament championship.

Only four schools competed — Big Spring, Pampa, Phillips and Dumas.

High point men for the Big Spring team in the Dumas game were Robert Johnson and Robert Jones. Each scored 12 points.

All tournament team members are Mike Kimons, Phillips; Bobby Griffin, Big Spring; Mike Wise, Pampa; Ronnie Stephenson, Dumas and Steve Williams, Pampa.

Unbeaten Spartans Hit By UCLA Beban Bomb

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — UCLA dropped its Beban football bomb on Michigan State Saturday, held off a gallant but belated comeback in the fourth quarter and upset the Spartans 14-12 in the Rose Bowl to knock them out of the unbeaten ranks and a possible national championship.

Beban is Gary Beban, UCLA's spectacular sophomore quarterback who rammed across two touchdowns in the second quarter and led the heroic and amazing Bruins to their first Rose Bowl victory in six appearances in the famed stadium.

Michigan State, undefeated in 10 regular season games and the Big Ten champions, suffered its first bowl loss in three visits, but few if any of the 100,087 fans left the place as the Spartans kept the suspense going until the final 31 seconds.

LATE RALLY
All-America quarterback Steve Juday, who had enjoyed little success all this bright, crisp afternoon, connected on a 42-yard pass to Gene Washington to set the stage for the first MSU touchdown, and Jim Raye, a last ditch replacement for Juday, pitched out to Bob Apisa, who rammed 38 yards for the touchdown.

Juday faked a place kick, attempted to pass and was hit in the act of throwing.

With Juday and Raye alternating signal calling, the Spartans took advantage of a partially blocked UCLA punt and drove from midfield in 15 plays, where Juday punched across from six inches out.

BECAME TOP DOGS
Until the dramatic closing moments, the game belonged to UCLA.

They went into this 32nd annual postseason classic 14½ points underdogs.

But it was UCLA by 14 at the half, and it appeared it would end 14-0 until the final quarter.

The Bruins, champions of the Pacific Athletic Conference with a 7-2-1 seasonal record, scored twice in a space of three minutes, 10 seconds of the second period.

MSU defensive back Don Japanga fumbled a punt by Larry Cox and John Erquiaga recovered on the MSU six. Beban rolled to the left for five and to the right for the final yards.

Kurt Zimmerman kicked the first of his two extra points.

OLD STUFF
UCLA bamboozled the Spartans on a successful on-side kick — just as they had done in their winning touchdown against Southern California to make it to the Rose Bowl.

Grider, as in the USC game, fell on the ball on the MSU 42, and five plays later the Bruins had what proved to be the winning touchdown.

Beban drilled a 27-yard pass through a crowd of Spartan defenders and hit Kurt Altenberg on the one-yard mark and then promptly went to his left for the touchdown.

Sixteen Chosen For '66 National Alpine Team
DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Sixteen men and 12 women were named by Coach Bob Beattie Saturday to the U.S. 1966 national alpine teams.

Five of the men and five of the women will be competing in European races this month.

Seven of the men's team ski for the University of Colorado. They are Bill Kidd, Peter Ruschp and Rebel Ryan, all of Stowe, Vt.; Jim Heuga, Tahoe City, Calif.; Spider Sabich, Kyburz, Calif.; Jim Barrows, Steamboat Springs, Colo., and Bill Marolt, Aspen, Colo.

Others are Don Brooks, Vancouver, Wash.; Walt Falk, Boise, Idaho, and Dennis McCoy, Mammoth Mountain, Calif., all of the University of Denver; Lorin Werner, Steamboat Springs, Colo., Western State College; Roger Buchika, Haverhill, Mass.; Middlebury College; Dave Engen, McCall, Idaho, and Ray Miller, Salt Lake City, Utah, both of the University of Utah.

Also named but presently sidelined by injuries are Rick Chaffee, Rutland, Vt., University of Denver, and Ken Phelps, Lyons Falls, N.Y., Western State.

The women's team includes eight from the Mammoth Mountain Ski Club.

They are sisters Cathy and Wendy Allen, San Pedro, Calif.; Suzanna Chaffee, Rutland, Vt., University of Denver; Lee Hall, Waitsfield, Vt.; Joan Hannah, Franconia, N.H.; Penny McCoy, Mammoth Lakes, Calif.; Robin Morning, Santa Monica, Calif., and Margo Walters, Salt Lake City.

Others are Jean Saubert, McCall, Idaho, and Karen Korfanta, Pinedale, Wyo., of the University of Utah; Cathy Nagel, Crystal Mountain, Wash., and Sandra Shellworth, Boise, Idaho, University of Colorado.

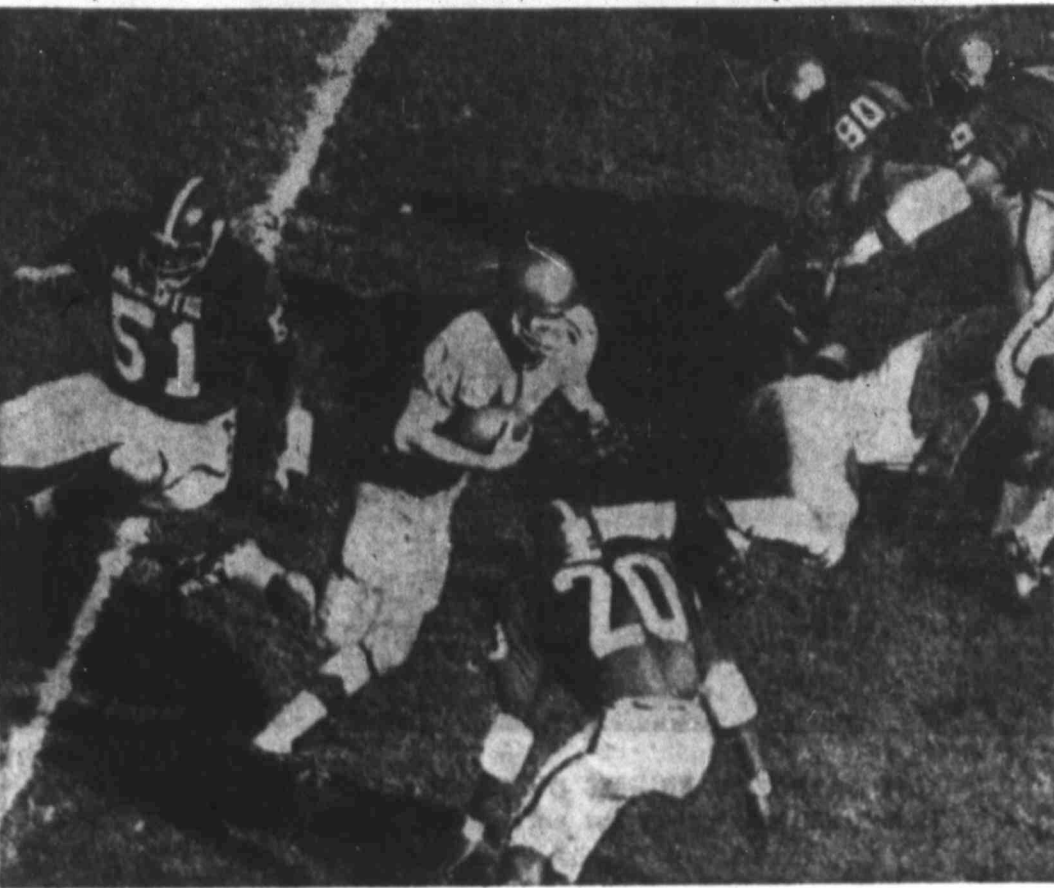

Baylor Awarded Sports Trophy
DALLAS (AP) — Baylor University was presented the Southwest Conference Sportsmanship Award Saturday.

The award goes each year to the SWC school showing the best sportsmanship at football and basketball games throughout the school year.

The 1966 Cotton Bowl queen, Miss Susan Robins, made the presentation to Baylor student body President Danny Chapman.

Assisting in the presentation were Mac Glover of the University of Arkansas, host president, and Terry Norman of Texas A&M, executive secretary of the sportsmanship committee.

A student committee of five representatives from each SWC school selects the winner.

On the two-point try to tie, Raye ran to his right, pitched out to Apisa, but the MSU dreams melted when two defensive standouts for UCLA, Bob Stiles and Dallas Grider, knocked him flat short of the end zone.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Indoor Game Slated?

By TOMMY HART

Quite likely, the 1966 Bluebonnet Bowl game will be played in Houston's Astrodome rather than in Rice Stadium. The bowl people have had enough of Houston's uncooperative weather.

Those Killen school people settled an $11,500 contract on their new coach, Gene Rogers of Alice, after telling applicants they would go as high as $15,000 to get the "right man".

They also hired a 45-year-old applicant after insisting they wanted a fellow 35 or under and were reluctant to firm up their junior high athletic program.

Rogers, a native of Palestine, had had previous coaching experience at Agua Dulce, Magnolia and Bishop before moving to Alice. His 1965 Alice team, the District 14-AAAA champion, lost to San Antonio Edison during the regular season and then fell before Corsicana in bi-district.

Some of those former big league baseball players declared eligible for the ballot in this year's Hall of Fame voting should have paid their way into the ball parks. Carl McAdams, the Oklahoma All-American from White Deer, Texas, said he was never contacted by the NFL team that drafted him, the St. Louis Cardinals, before he signed with the New York Jets of the AFL.

Big Spring's John Pipes has an ancient clipping which shows that the late Benny Lee Boynton, who was elevated into the Texas Sports Hall of Fame Friday in Dallas, once ran 110 yards for a touchdown for Williams College, Mass., against Hamilton College.

The play occurred Nov. 6, 1920. Incidentally, Pipes is recovering from a leg injury he suffered while on the job as a service man for a music box concern. He was seeking to load a juke box on a truck when it fell to earth. They say Benjy Dial, the Eastern New Mexico University quarterback coached by Big Spring's B. B. Lees, got $9,000 for signing with the Pittsburgh Steelers and an $18,000 per annum contract.

G. F. (Shorty) Gideon, veteran manager of the Big Spring Municipal Golf course, will move to San Angelo following his retirement here in a few weeks. Gideon has agreed to stay on here until Feb. 15, if a replacement cannot be found sooner.

Shorty says he plans to spend most of his time "fishing and golfing" after settling down in San Angelo. Gale Sayers, the sensational rookie back for the Chicago Bears who crossed the goal-line 22 times during the 1965 NFL season, failed to score a touchdown in three games against TCU while performing for Kansas University.

Fred Akers, who had his pay boosted from $10,000 to $10,800 shortly before he quit as head football coach at Lubbock High School, will be making approximately $11,500 per annum on his new job as a coaching aide at the University of Texas.

Akers was publicized as a one-time Arkansas football star. In reality, he was a specialist who didn't clock too much playing time. That knee injury Big Spring's Johnny Hughes suffered in football last fall may deprive him of the chance of running track for the Wildcats this spring, although the leg is much better.

That Pampa Invitational basketball tournament, a four-team event this year, will probably include eight teams in 1966 and Big Spring likely will be invited back. O. W. Follis, the Lamesa cage mentor, probably is the dean of West Texas mentors - he's been associated with the Lamesa school system for 20 years.

Tommy Nobis, the University of Texas grid great, looked like anything but a superman in the recent Shrine Game at Miami. J. T. King, head coach of the Texas Tech footballers, actually has no periods behind those initials.

They don't stand for anything. Horace Moore, a regular in the Big Spring Golf Open who accepted the pro's job at San Antonio's Pecan Valley course recently, once shot a 60 on the Plainview course for a record that still endures.

Rescuers Safely Bring Out Texans Lost On Ski Junket

RUIDOSO, N. M. (AP) — "We're going to make a New Year's resolution never to ski again," said Mrs. John H. Noyes, mother of 12-year-old Tim Noyes.

Tim and five other Texans spent Thursday night lost in the cold Sierra Blanca ski area of south-central New Mexico's mountains.

They weren't found until Friday afternoon. Tim and Randy

Jaster still were on the mountain during the night but were with a rescue team and safe with food, blankets and other provisions.

With Jaster and Tim Noyes earlier was Dr. T. A. Noyes, 42, a professor at Texas A&M who was brought out by rescuers at night fall.

Another group, Terry Noyes, 12, Bryan, Tex.; Dana Juett, 18, Amarillo, Tex., and Phil Dettle-

19, Stratford, Tex., rested in Ruidoso after being found earlier in the afternoon.

Tim and Randy Jaster were exhausted and were being carried on stretchers to save their strength.

Rescuers had to work laboriously through tangled undergrowth and towering pine trees putting from snow several feet deep in places.

More than 100 searchers on skis, snowshoes and horseback joined the earlier search in addition to several Civil Air Patrol airplanes and two helicopters from Holloman Air Force Base.

Dr. Noyes said he and his two lost colleagues drove ski poles into the snow and built a wall of snow the first night to shelter them from the cold mountain wind at the 11,000-foot level of Sierra Blanca Peak.

Tim Noyes went off in search of the ski patrol to give assistance, became lost, then bumped into Juett and Dettle who also were lost. Thus, two groups of three people each were lost on the high, snowy mountain.

Snyder Victim Of Lamesa Win

SNYDER — Lamesa's Tornadoes lived up to their name with a whirlwind conquest of Snyder's Tigers in a District 3-AAA basketball game here Friday night.

Jay Thompson led the Lamesa attack with 13 points as Tom Bullard was high for Snyder with eight. Lamesa won the "B" team game by a two point margin, 56-54.

SNYDER (30) — Blum 2-1-5; Bullard 4-8-8; Clardy 1-0-2; Clay 6-1-1; Duke 1-0-2; Laster 1-1-3; L. Powell 0-2-2; M. C. Powell 0-2-2; Almond 2-4-4. Totals 11-8-30.

LAMESA (65) — Wiggins 3-1-7; Everhart 4-2-10; Mason 5-1-11; Hetch 1-0-2; Thompson 5-3-13; Fees 5-0-10; Robertson 4-1-9; Williams 0-3-3. Totals 27-11-65.

HCJC In Bracket With Wayland

Howard County Junior College has landed in the top bracket along with Wayland College in the HCJC Women's Invitational Basketball Tournament set for here Friday and Saturday.

Eight of the area's strongest women cage teams are entered in the competition which concludes with the final game at 9 p.m. Saturday. Anna Smith is tournament director, and DGWS rules will apply. The Big Spring Chapter of Southwestern Basketball Officials Association will officiate the games. Admission will be $1 adults and 50 cents students per session. The tournament is being sponsored here by the Women's Recreation Association. Trophies will be awarded for championship, runner-up, third place and consolation winners. A team sportsmanship trophy also will be given along with eight all-tournament team awards. There will be trophies for the outstanding forward and outstanding guard.

Odessa Junior College opens the tournament with Hardin-Simmons University at 3 p.m. Friday, followed by Abilene Christian vs. San Angelo State at 5 p.m. in the lower bracket.

Wayland Junior College will meet Wayland Baptist at 7 p.m. in the opening round of the top bracket, while Howard County tangles with West Texas State University at 9 p.m.

Consolation rounds are slated Saturday morning with finals at 6 p.m. Saturday. Championship play starts again at 1 p.m. Saturday with third place game at 7:30 p.m. and the finals at 9 p.m.

Sports Hall Inducts Four

DALLAS (AP) — The Texas Hall of Fame had 49 members today with 10 sports represented but dominated by football.

The late Ben Lee Boynton, Texas' first all-American football player (1917); Raymond (Rags) Matthews, Texas Christian's great football player of the twenties; Willie Shoemaker, the winningest jockey of horse racing history, and Mike (Pinky) Higgins, former major league player and manager, were inducted into the hall Friday.

Now there are 23 football players and coaches; nine baseball players and coaches, four track men, four golfers, three basketball stars; two tennis players and coaches and a polo player, diver, a boxer and a jockey.

A crowd of 900 saw the 14th annual induction of athletes here.

Stars Enter Track Meet

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — That rapid pitter-patter of feet heard around the Cow Palace signals the start of the indoor track season this coming Saturday at the San Francisco Examiner Invitational Meet.

Some of the biggest names in track have filed entries to whip around the banked boards. Besides runners, there are six high jumpers who've cleared seven feet or better, eight men who've pole vaulted over 16 feet and six shot putters who have thrown the iron ball more than 62 feet.

As usual in indoor meets, the distance runners command the most attention. Bob Day, who set a collegiate record of 3:56.4 while at UCLA, and Jim Ryan, the Kansas schoolboy who set an American record of 3:55.3 at a high school senior, head the mile field.

We do not stay open until 9 o'clock. We do not stay open on Sunday . . . but we do open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. every day in the week.

Building A Reputation In Big Spring For 32 Years

THIS SHOULD GIVE DONNIE ANDERSON A HEADACHE?
Texas Tech star takes aspirin after signing for record amount

Green Bay Gets Donnie Anderson

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Halfback Donny Anderson of Texas Tech, signed by the Green Bay Packers for a reported $600,000, looks as a future replacement for Golden Boy Paul Hornung.

"You can't have too many good running backs," said Joe Peppier, Green Bay's director of player personnel. "The stock runs out mighty fast."

"Donny is a wonderful athlete. He is a strong runner and a great pass catcher. We intend to use him as offensive halfback and expect he will see a lot of action next year."

Peppier represented general manager head coach Vince Lombardi in signing Anderson to a contract that is said to be the richest ever given a college player.

BIG BONUS

The terms are not officially announced but there were guesses the figure exceeds the half-million mark with a bonus of about $200,000, a three-year contract and benefits after Anderson is through with competition.

The signing was the third telling blow struck by the National Football League in its dollar war with the younger American League.

Green Bay also signed Jim Grabowski of Illinois for a reported $475,000. The new NFL entry Atlanta grabbed off the No. 1 draft choice, linebacker Tommy Nobis of Texas for a reported $250,000.

The AFL, however, recouped somewhat when Kansas City signed Heisman Trophy winner Mike Garrett of Southern California for a reported $300,000 during Friday's East-West All-Star game.

Anderson, 215-pound, 6-foot-3 athlete with Herculean shoulders and tapering waist and hips, agreed that he had made up his mind earlier.

"I want to play the best—and right now I think the best is in the National League," he said at formal signing ceremonies about two hours after the Gator Bowl, won by Georgia Tech 21-21 over Texas Tech.

"Money wasn't the main factor."

GREAT DAY

Anderson gained 223 yards rushing and pass receiving for Texas Tech, but Georgia Tech proved too strong, moving ahead to stay when reserve quarterback Jerry Priestley plunged one yard for a touchdown and added a two-point conversion on a run for a 24-21 half and overcame a 7-3 East lead as the fourth quarter began.

Lenny Snow, Georgia Tech 42 yards to Ben Hawkins of sophomore, was the game's Arizona State, four yards to leading rusher with 136 yards Gary Garrison of San Diego Anderson picked up 85 on the State and nine yards to Utah ground.

Grabowski gained only 16 yards in 10 carries and Garrett Stevens, who completed 21 of 34 only 72 in 16 for the West but passes for 208 yards and one Washington quarterback Ted touchdown, brought Texas Tech back to life. The final two minutes of the first half ended in the fourth quarter.

Foxy Bobby Dodd Plays Elements And Wins Tilt

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—two touchdowns, coming from Georgia Tech won the toss in behind to win 31-21.

Quarterback Tom Wilson took the elements and let Texas Tech have the ball in the final period and Texas Tech was "There was a strong wind and gone."

"The sun was very bright," said Georgia Tech's ability to keep the football for long drives — "I didn't know his reason but piling up 368 yards rushing — we were glad to have the ball curtailed the explosive Texas Tech first," said coach J. T. King of Tech offense. Two interceptions Texas Tech His players proved by Tommy Bleck finished it off by jumping to a 7-0 lead on a pair of flashy sophomores, quarterback Kim King and halfback Lenny Snow, led the of the wind at Georgia Tech's back fence and overshadowed Texas and the sun in Texas Tech's Tech's halfback Donny Anderson, the Yellow Jackets scored on.

Texas Western All-Pass, But Enough To Nip TCU

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Texas Western's football team has banks on Stevens' passing was indicated in the statistics. West-

"They didn't know how to set a record Sun Bowl low score," said coach Bobby Dobbs of 12 yards net rushing about the team he took over at the start of the 1965 season. The team he inherited had field goals of 18 and 20 yards finished the 1964 season with a 0-2 record and a season total of 64 points.

Dobbs molded a pro-T offense around sophomore quarterback Kent Nix to wing back David Smith, and a 35 Billy Stevens, fast receivers and yard field goal by Bruce Alford a stout defense that brought up the Miners an 8-3 record including Friday's 13-12 victory against Texas Christian in the Sun Bowl.

Stevens completed 21 of 34 Teammate Curt Parsons inter-passes for 207 yards, all Sun Bowl records, and passed to flankerback Chuck Hughes for one touchdown. Stevens and Hughes, who caught six Stevens passes for 115 yards, drew praise from the Texas Christian dressing room. Stevens' Stevens gave the visitors their other two points. Stevens completed a Nix pass on the West-Bowl record, and passed to flankerback Chuck Hughes for one touchdown. Down-To-Wire NFL Final Seen

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Jim Brown and the well-rested Cleveland Browns find themselves in the surprising role of underdogs to the battle-scarred Green Bay Packers for Sunday's National Football League championship game at Lambeau Field.

The Browns, upset winners over Baltimore a year ago, clinched their second straight Eastern Conference title Nov. 28, while Green Bay wound up in a tie and had to beat Baltimore last Sunday in a grueling sudden death overtime playoff. Cleveland has not played since Dec. 19.

As might be expected, the city of Green Bay has gone slightly mad over its Packers and will jam the field to its capacity of 50,852 fans at $12 and $10 a head. The gate receipts, plus $720,000 of the $1.8 million TV receipts, will load the player pool. Each winning team member will get about $7,000 and each loser about $4,600.

TELEVISION TIME
Game time is 1:10 p.m., CST with CBS radio and television coverage starting 10 minutes earlier. The Green Bay area will be blacked out on TV.

If the game is tied at the end of regulation play, as was last Sunday's Green Bay-Baltimore playoff for the Western crown, it will continue on a sudden death overtime basis until one team scores.

The only sudden death NFL title game was played in 1958 between the Baltimore Colts and the New York Giants.

Unless there is an unexpected heavy precipitation Sunday morning the field should be in fine condition. It was re-covered with a layer of hay and a tarp immediately after last Sunday's game. The cover will not be removed until the early hours of Sunday morning.

BROWNS ARRIVE

Cleveland, defending champion, worked out at home during the week and flew into Green Bay Friday night. The Packers, of course, worked on their own practice field all week after a two day vacation.

Blanton Collier's Browns are a fine offensive club with an attack built around the unstoppable Jim Brown, who rolled to 1,544 yards in winning his eighth rushing title in nine years. Oddly enough, this will be the first time Brown ever has played at Green Bay.

Brown's running makes the Cleveland ground game go. Their passing game has suffered all season by the absence of Paul Warfield, the ace split end who was such an important factor in winning the 1964 title. Warfield suffered a broken collar bone in the College All-Star game in August. He played briefly Dec. 12 at Los Angeles but is due to make his first start Sunday.

Ryan, a PH. D in math, throws almost as many play passes to Brown and Ernie Green as to his flankers and ends. The brainy quarterback, troubled by a sore heel in mid-season, has thrown 18 touchdown passes.

It is Cleveland's defense that gives pause to wonder about the Browns' chances. They have yielded 43 touchdowns, 12 on runs and 31 on passes.

Green Bay's success has been based on defense.

Bart Starr was racked up by Baltimore on the first play last Sunday and Zeke Bratkowski, a much traveled old pro, did the job. Although Bart has recovered from the injuries to his side and back it remains to be seen how effective he will be.

The Packers' best receivers are split end Boyd Dowler and flanker Carroll Dale, although Bill Anderson, a tight end who was picked up from Washington after retiring for a year, has been an important factor in late season.

Green Bay's vaunted ground game, built around Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung, has been disappointing all season.

Fifth Seeded Lad Wins Tennis Meet

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The Sugar Bowl Junior Tennis boys title has been won by fifth-seeded Zan Guerry of Lookout Mountain, Tenn., in a 6-0, 6-4 victory over Steve Faulk of New Orleans.

Second seeded Becky Vest of Jackson, Miss., waged a 44-hour battle before beating first seeded Patsy Rippey of Shawnee, Okla., 4-6, 6-1, 11-9 for the girls title Friday.

Guerry and Mike Estep of Dallas, Tex., won the boys doubles title with a 3-6, 6-2, 6-3 victory over Faulk and Bobby Ecuery of New Orleans.

Miss Rippey and Mona Schallau of Iowa City, Iowa, won the girls doubles in beating Elsa Nelson of Atlantic Beach, Fla., and Marilyn Aschner of Holliswood, N. Y., 6-3, 4-6, 6-4.

Assistant Postmaster Joins List Of Post Office Retirees

A. A. Porter, assistant postmaster, and a veteran of 38 years' service with the Big Spring Post Office, has retired effective Dec. 30.

Porter is the sixth veteran postal employee in the local office to leave the service in the past month. Leading the list was E. C. Boatler, postmaster, who had been with the department since 1922.

Porter said he had retired to take advantage of a special provision in recently enacted retirement legislation. This new law made it materially advantageous to leave the service by Dec. 30. He had considered, he said, staying on the job for two more years.

Other veterans who have left the office this past month are Robert A. Nunn, postal clerk, Alden Thomas, carrier foreman, A. C. Preston, city carrier and Ervin Daniel, rural carrier.

Porter said it would take him the rest of this week to wind up loose ends connected with his job. After that he said he and Mrs. Porter will go to Athens, Ga., to visit their son, Thomas L. Porter. He has made no plans beyond that, he said.

Porter is a native of Big Spring. He graduated from high school here and spent one semester in Texas A&M College.

His connection with the post office dates back to 1918.

POST OFFICES LOSE ANOTHER VETERAN

A. A. Porter, assistant postmaster, resigns from his post he recalls. "I worked at this job through 1921."

He worked for the Texas and Pacific railway for five years in the store department and then accepted a job as clerk in the post office in 1928. He has been continuously on duty since that date. He was advanced to superintendent of the mails and on Dec. 3, 1955 was appointed assistant postmaster—a post he continued to fill until his retirement.

He and Mrs. Porter live at 1611 Indian Hills.

Frank Hardesty, postmaster, expressed regret at losing the services of Porter. He pointed out that Porter's long experience made his replacement on the staff almost impossible.

Quality Of Area Cotton Declines During Week

Quality of cotton from Howard, Martin, Midland, and Glasscock counties dropped last week according to B. B. Manley Jr. at the cotton classing office in Abilene.

The per cent of samples by color categories was: 15, white; 79, light spotted; and 15, spotted compared to 38, white; 59, light spotted; and 3 per cent spotted two weeks ago. Samples reduced in grade because of bark totaled 7 per cent. Manly said classing at the USDA office was steady last week with 31,500 samples processed. Light precipitation and high humidity enabled classing to stay about current with sample receipts. The undesirable weather and the harvesting of less mature more rank cotton, however, were the probable causes for such a change in grades. Another three to four weeks of classing at the present pace will bring the season near completion.

District 1 staple lengths were steady at 27 per cent 29-32, 60 per cent 15-16; and 14 per cent 31-32. Fifty-seven per cent of the mike readings were 3.6-4.8; 23 per cent was 3.3-3.5; 14 per cent 3.0-3.2; 5 per cent 2.7-2.9; and 1 per cent 2.6 and below.

The market became more sluggish. Most buyers offered less than loan prices for middling light spotted cotton and sales of that quality were light. About all white cotton was held or went into the CCC loan. Strict low middling light spotted and lower colored qualities continued to sell, but at lower prices. Farmers received gross prices of $2.25 to $2.75 per bale above loan rates for the lower qualities. All offered prices were discounted 25 to 35 points on 3.3 and 3.4 mikes, 60 points on 3.0 through 3.2, 165 points on 2.7-2.9, and 275 to 300 on 2.6 and below.

Professions In Space Role

MOSCOW (AP)—Yuri Gagarin, the Soviet Union's first cosmonaut, says a growing number of professions will take part in future space flights.

Gagarin noted in an interview with the newspaper Red Star that pilots, engineers, a scientist and a doctor have been up already in Soviet spacecraft.

He described recent American space flights as "a major achievement," but said it would be a simplification to interpret the U.S. accomplishments as first steps on an unexplored way.

Gagarin said Soviet space ships Vostok-3 and Vostok-4 had flown in formation.

Funeral services were held Saturday, at 2 p.m. at the Kiker and Son Chapel in Colorado City. The Rev. Prentice Smith, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, officiated. Burial was in the Colorado City Cemetery.

He is survived by one son, Leonard Floyd, Houston, four daughters, Mrs. Rena May Kuykendall and Mrs. Marie Wigley, both of Dallas, Mrs. Opal Kuykendall, Chatworth, Calif.; Mrs. Essie Lewis, Grand Prairie; one brother, Commie Floyd, Christoval, four sisters, Mrs. Zannie Jackson, Lubbock, Mrs. Eula Harper, San Antonio, Mrs. Isla Watson, Midland, and Mrs. Maggie Smith of Brownwood; eight grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Services Held In Colorado City For Retired Painter

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Isaac Frank Floyd, 87, former Colorado City resident, died in Bennett House in Big Spring early Friday morning after a long illness. Floyd was a retired painter and had also lived in Lubbock and San Angelo, and in Big Spring for two years. He was born in Johnson County, March 7, 1878.

Funeral services were held Saturday, at 2 p.m. at the Kiker and Son Chapel in Colorado City. The Rev. Prentice Smith, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, officiated. Burial was in the Colorado City Cemetery.

LBJ Ready For 'Gradual' Truce Steps

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Here are highlights of President Johnson's views on foreign and domestic affairs New Year's day, as related by White House sources:

FOREIGN

Viet Nam — Johnson is ready to begin peace talks without insisting on any quick solution. He is willing to seek gradual, step-by-step progress toward a settlement. He believes the basic issues have been clouded by propagandists on both sides and blames himself for, as he sees it, failing to convince Hanoi and Peking of America's sincere desire for peace.

Foreign Travel — The President hopes to strengthen his personal ties with foreign leaders through travel in the months ahead. A possible meeting in France with President Charles de Gaulle is not excluded.

NOT ALL BAD

Dominican Republic — Johnson believes the spring crisis deflected the hemisphere from general progress toward economic and social progress, yet had such beneficial aspects as restoration of law and order and renewed discussion of collective security arrangements. He will let history judge the ultimate consequences of American military intervention.

American-Soviet Relations — The chief executive was disappointed by lack of progress toward improvements in this area in 1965 and wants to get on with the job in '66.

U. N. PROGRESS

United Nations — Johnson hopes the United Nations will improve its machinery for bringing disputes to the conference table before shooting breaks out and feelings are enflamed.

The Bitter and the Sweet — Johnson's biggest disappointment in 1965 stemmed from frustrations faced in Viet Nam. He got greatest personal satisfaction from civil rights progress at home.

DOMESTIC

Civil Rights — Laws already on the books mark the end of the Negro's quest for liberty and equality, and the beginning of another, more difficult one — the search for genuine brotherhood with the white majority.

Johnson intends to ask legislation to bar discrimination on injuries to end what he regards as horrors of Southern justice.

Welfare State — He regards this as a dead political issue with more Americans than ever believing the federal government should help create opportunity for citizens.

Economy — Recessions can be avoided through wise public and private policies. Income and excise tax cuts were among the major factors contributing to record prosperity in 1965.

Health — Johnson considers himself back in good shape physically after his gall bladder operation and ready to tackle the work load ahead.

Popularity — "He is satisfied with polls showing his 'job rating' at 62 per cent or above, particularly after enforced inactivity after the Oct. 8 surgery."

Redistricting Body Fails To Dent Impasse

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Michigan Apportionment Commission admitted deadlock 66 minutes before the New Year, sending controversial Senate and House districting back to the State Supreme Court.

After nearly two months of discussions and 22 fruitless ballots Thursday and Friday, the bipartisan commission conceded it could not draft a plan which met Democratic standards of population equality and Republican criteria of district unity and regularity.

Moments after adjournment, Republican commissioners issued a six-page report on the deadlock.

Democrat Robert Kleiner called the action "a clear lack of good faith on the part of Republicans in the attempt to reach agreement."

Democratic cochairman Richard Austin called it "very curious."

Austin and Kleiner, a commission member, were the authors of the legislative apportionment plan under which Michigan has been operating for the past year. The plan was turned back to the legislature by the State Supreme Court.

The prepared GOP statement said Democrats had only one purpose — to "preserve the Austin-Kleiner alternate plan with only those changes which will further advantage their party."

Memorial Rites Set Monday

Memorial services for T. Sgt. John M. Chappell, killed in action in Viet Nam the week of Dec. 17, will be held Monday at 10:30 a.m. in the Webb Air Force Base Chapel. Services are open to the public.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete, but burial will be held in either Waco or St. Louis, Mo.

Sgt. Chappell was formerly stationed at Webb AFB in the civil engineering group.

Survivors include his widow, Dorothy Marie; a daughter, Darlene Chappell; a son, Pat Chappell, all of Big Spring; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Chappell, St. Louis, Mo.; two brothers and two sisters, all of St. Louis.

Human Crush Fatal To 4

NUNEATON, England (AP) — Three young men and a 16-year-old girl were crushed to death at a New Year's Eve dance Friday night when crowds surged from a balcony at Nuneaton's Cooperative Hall.

Five other persons were taken to a hospital with injuries.

Witnesses said the crush started when a young man fainted on the stairway between the balcony and the dance floor and people on the stairs tried to pick him up.

Others, making their way down the stairs, did not see what was happening and a crush resulted, the witnesses said.

"There was a terrific stampede. All hell broke loose," said one. "People fell to the floor screaming and were trampled as others tried to push their way forward."

More than 900 persons attended the dance.

White, Negro Fight Erupts

MANNING, S.C. (AP) — Police broke up a fist fight Friday night among white and Negro adults and teenagers at Manning's only movie theater.

Police Chief O. M. Bridges said that Negro and white patrons took part but he refused to call it a racial incident. He said no one was injured and no arrests were made.

Chief Bridges said the disturbance was believed to have started near the front of the Park Hill Theater. He said about eight or 10 city policemen and Clarendon County sheriff's deputies were sent to the scene.

Beaumont Man Fatally Crushed

PORT ARTHUR (AP) — George Pearson, 36, of Beaumont was crushed to death Friday while working on US 87 at Port Arthur. He was employed by the Trotti and Thompson Construction Co. of Beaumont. His body was caught between a ditching machine and a 36 inch pipe.

"New Year-New Life"

By JO BRIGHT

"The moving finger writes, and having writ, moves on; nor all thy piety nor wit shall lure it back to cancel half a line, nor all thy tears wash out a word of it."

Not everyone can have a clean slate for record-keeping in the new year. More often than not, life is a continuation of the same patterned procedure, with only minor changes to mark the passing of the days. The contentment with accustomed comforts grows as the years accrue, and changes are often counted as intrusions in a well-ordered and tidy way of life.

This is not so when one is young and ambitious — or older and adventuresome. Gaily gathering the children, pets and possessions, these families follow their fortunes, and each year, many of them find that their "greener pastures" are really the wide, open spaces of Texas.

Pictured today are five families, all newcomers, who will be able to record their

MRS. W. R. ROGERS

Doll Collection Begun With Husband's Gift

By JO ANN PHINIZY

The doll collection of Mrs. W. R. Rogers had its beginning in 1949. That was the year that her husband gave her a gift of a music box decorated with a doll figurine.

From that time on, Mrs. Rogers has been intrigued with the artistry and craftsmanship involved with the making of dolls. She became acutely aware that through the centuries, dolls play an important part in history. They have been a part of everyone's childhood and are frequently used to depict native costumes and customs.

Mrs. Rogers's hobby has grown to include all the space in her large display cabinet in her home at 1507 Scurry. From friends and relatives she has received dolls from as far away as Ethiopia and as nearby as the state hospital.

Each miniature figure reflects a mystery of design and a delicacy of workmanship.

The matriarch of the collection is an antique china doll. It has hand-painted features and dressed in an early day dress of deep red velvet. Its body is made of leather and stuffed with sawdust. The doll dates from the time before mass production became the mode, and its duplicate would be a rare thing indeed.

Another of her prizes is an Alexandra doll of the ballerina fashion. This, too, is from the days when livelihood depended on personal skill, and it is done in delicate blue with an intricacy of small stitches.

The dolls from Ethiopia are dressed in formal native costume and were made by the handicapped workers of that country. One of them carries a walnut from Mexico which opens to reveal scenes from the opera, Pagliacci.

She has a figure of an elderly man in a rocking chair, hand-carved from pine and perfect in the finest detail. Beside him sits a little lady dressed in blue calico and a stiff white bonnet. Her face is made from a dried and cured Vermont apple.

Mrs. Rogers says that there is no end to the fascination to collecting beautiful dolls; and, some day, she hopes to have a complete doll museum representing the best of craftsmanship from around the world.

Her favorite now and always is that same small figure atop a certain music box.

New Year--New Life As Big Spring Citizens

1966 activities as citizens of Big Spring.

Maj. and Mrs. W. H. Connor, No. 2 Albrook, arrived here in November when Maj. Connor was assigned as commander of the 250th Communications Squadron at Webb Air Force Base. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Connor of Tichnor, Ark., and her parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Sigurd Aardal of Shelton, Wash. Maj. Connor, a veteran of over 18 years in the Air Force, met his wife when both were stationed at Kelly AFB in San Antonio where she was a flight nurse.

They were married in 1952 and are the parents of five children. The youngsters are Kathleen, 12, Judith, 10, Theresa, 7, William, 9, and Stephen, 3. A new addition to the family is a toy poodle named Joli.

The Connors participate in Little Theatre productions, collect antiques and enjoy new adventures. Mrs. Connor is an amateur painter and enjoys sewing. The family has just returned to the United States from Nancy, France, and Maj. Connor's other overseas assignments have been to Japan and Hawaii. Of the Catholic faith, the family attends services at the base chapel.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Herron, 2107 Morrison, arrived here in December from Fort Worth. He is originally from Muncie, Ind., where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Herron, still reside; and his wife's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Geurin of Stanton. Herron was stationed at Webb AFB from 1963 to 1966, and it was during this time that he met his future wife. They were married in Big Spring on Dec. 24, 1964, and returned to Fort Worth when he was separated from the Air Force. They hope to remain here this time, and he is employed in civil service as a jet mechanic at the base.

The Herron children are Cindy, 9, and Marty, 6, who attend classes at Washington Place School. The family attends services at the Birdwell Lane Baptist Church and enjoys ball games and fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. Delwin Davis, 802 Elgin, met and married in Germany in 1960 while he was stationed there with the 82nd Airborne Division. Their son, Delwin II, was two years old in October. Davis' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Carter of Lufkin, and his wife's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Ehler of Frieberg, East Germany.

The family lived in Odessa before moving here in November when Davis became associated with Pollard Chevrolet Company. He is a member of Masonic Lodge No. 1340 and the Big Spring Shriners where he may participate in the motor patrol. Mrs. Davis, who enjoys cooking and creating a comfortable home, was a member of the International Wives Club in Odessa and is interested in becoming associated with the chapter here. They are of the Methodist faith.

Capt. and Mrs. Michael J. Carroll, 700 Marcy Drive, have established a lovely home here in a comparatively short time. They came here in October when Capt. Carroll began his pilot training at Webb. He is a graduate of Dartmouth College in New Hampshire, and Mrs. Carroll, a pretty blonde, was graduated from Georgian Court College in Lakewood, N. J.

Capt. Carroll is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Carroll of Paterson, N. J., and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Armstrong of Sayreville, N. J., are visiting here now for the holidays. Capt. Carroll, who was previously trained as a navigator, was in Texas once before, in 1960, when he was stationed at Waco.

Mrs. Carroll has taught in elementary schools and may do some substitute teaching here. Both she and her husband like to collect and refinish antique furniture and play bridge and golf. They are of the Catholic faith and attend services at Immaculate Heart of Mary Church. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Valdez, of 1809 Main, arrived to make their home here in November. Their former home was in Dallas where he was with the Veterans Administration Central Dental Laboratory.

Valdez came here as a dental technician as the dental laboratory was established in the local Veterans Administration Hospital.

The Valdez children are Raymond Jr., 13, Rosalyn, 10, and Rodney, 8. The family is of the Catholic faith and lists reading and bowling among their hobbies.

Miss Sylva Edwards Weds Lt. Kenneth Zella In Chapel

Miss Sylva Edwards and Lt. Kenneth B. Zella exchanged wedding vows in a ceremony held at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the chapel at Webb Air Force Base.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. William K. Edwards Jr. and the late Mr. Edwards, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John J. Zella Jr. of Detroit, Mich.

The Rev. Robert J. McDermott officiated for the double ring rites which were read before an altar banked with Christmas greenery and graced with urns holding arrangements of large pink roses. The scene was illuminated by two 15-branch candelabra holding emerald fern. The altar rail was accented with fern, and family pews were marked with white satin and greenery. During the ceremony, the couple knelt on a white prie dieu.

Mrs. Leslie Green, organist, accompanied Mrs. Don Newsom as she sang "Ave Maria" and "Panis Angelicus."

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her brother, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of white peau de sole which fastened at the back with a row of tiny self buttons. The bodice was fashioned with a batteau neckline and fitted sleeves ending in petal points over the wrists. Re-embroidered Alencon lace accented the bodice and extended to the hemline of the A-line skirt. The detachable train flowed from a fabric bow edged with Alencon lace, and her headpiece was a full-length mantilla of imported lace.

Atop a white Bible, the bride carried white orchids showered with white Sweetheart roses and stephanotis and tied with picot satin streamers.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Joan Lyster of Dallas, and bridesmaids were Miss Becky Lewallen, Snyder, and Miss Trudy Whitwell, Craze. The junior bridesmaids were Christine Zella of Detroit, sister of the bridegroom, and Nancy Heald, Billings, Mont., cousin of the bride.

The attendants were identically gowned in formal-length sheath dresses of wine velvet with batteau necklines and long sleeves. Watteau trains were attached to bows at the back necklines. Their headresses were rings of white fur with small velvet bows and circles of illusion. Each carried a white fur muff adorned with a nose-gay of pink Sweetheart roses showered with matching velvet.

The bridegroom's brother, Richard Zella of Detroit, served as best man. The ushers were Lt. James Roberts of Hart, cousin of the bride; Lt. Chuck C. Clifton, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Lt. Cary V. Sandstrum, Winfield, Kan.; and Lt. Earnest Rapalae, Detroit. The bridegroom's cousin, Thomas Paduchowski of Hamtramck, Mich., was the ring bearer, and the acolytes lighted the altar tapers. Leaving the chapel, the couple passed under an arch of swords.

RECEPTION
Immediately following the ceremony, relatives and close friends of the families gathered at the Big Spring Country Club for a reception honoring the bridal couple. The bride and bridegroom were joined by his parents, her mother and the feminine attendants in greeting guests.

A full white satin cloth covered the bride's table which held a white tiered cake accented by the bride's bouquet. A tall brass candelabrum, tied with gold carnations, was used on the bridegroom's table where chocolate and fruit cake were served. White satin covered the refreshment table which held two silver punch services and silver candelabra with white votive candles entwined with smilax, white carnations and white Vanda orchids. White floral arrangements, with touches of maroon, were used in the entertaining suite.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Don Reynolds and Miss Linda Roberts, and members of the house party were Mrs. Morris Patterson, Mrs. Sunny Edwards, Mrs. Malcolm Patterson, Mrs. R. R. McEwen, Mrs. Bobby McDonald, Mrs. James Roberts of Hart, Mrs. W. P. Edwards Jr., Mrs. Thomas E. Heald of Billings, Mont., Mrs. W. E. Edwards and Mrs. Cary Sandstrum.

Among the guests from out of town were Mrs. John W. Jarrett, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Humphries, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Anderson and Dr. and Mrs. Aber Roberts, all of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts, and James Roberts, all of Hart; and Bruno Bubien of Detroit, grandfather of the bridegroom.

WEDDING TRIP
For a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M., the bride wore a two-piece royal blue wool suit with matching accessories and the corsage from her bouquet. The couple will reside at Davis-Monthan Air Force Base where the bridegroom will be stationed.

The bride, a graduate of Big Spring High School, attended Texas Tech where she was a foreign language major. The bridegroom is a graduate of Cass Technical High School in Detroit and the U. S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo. He completed his pilot training at Webb Air Force Base and will receive further training in Arizona.

The Heirloom Look...with the

Monterey by Thomasville

Spanish at its colorful best, intermingled with the friendly warmth of Early American... this is Monterey, perfect choice for a master bedroom. The latticework headboard and massive squared-off bed posts could have come from the chambers of a long-ago Spanish don. Rich overlays and framed panels give an opulent look to fronts of dresser, chest-on-chest and armoire. All pieces complement each other without really matching, all look as if they had been lovingly bequeathed by affluent ancestors. Bring your husband to see Monterey... he'll like its ruggedly handsome look. And don't forget to investigate Monterey's practical assortment of drawers, shelves and trays... storage to delight you both! From a varied collection, in vintage pecan veneers, for living, dining and bedroom.

Couple Are Married In Midland Ceremony

Miss Mary Sandra Woodard became the bride of Ronnie Joe Rasure in a Thursday evening ceremony at the Church of Holy Trinity in Midland. The Rev. Kenneth C. Eade, rector of St. Luke's Parish at Anthony, N.M., assisted by the Rev. T. D. Walstead, curate, officiated for the double ring rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Poe Woodard, Midland; and the granddaughter of Mrs. Evelyn Woodard, Stanton; and the late Dr. and Mrs. George L. Wilke of Big Spring. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse T. Rasure, Midland.

The church altar was graced with matching arrangements of white gladioli and white carnations. Seven-branched candelabra, bearing sunbursts of the same flowers, were placed in the sanctuary. Red poinsettias were in the church windows; and, along the walls of the nave, were wall sconces holding white tapers and decorated with seasonal flowers and greenery.

Mrs. J. W. Harrington, organist, presented a selection of traditional wedding music that included "Ave Maria" and "O Promise Me." Mrs. Harrington accompanied Mrs. George Harley as she sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

WEDDING GOWN

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of peau de soie. The fitted bodice was designed with a scooped neckline accented with circles of Alencon lace, seed pearls and iridescents. The long sleeves tapered to petal points above the wrists.

The full skirt was enhanced with a panel of lace appliques highlighted with seed pearls and iridescents, and the chapel train was caught with a bow at the skirt back.

The bride's fingertip-length veil of imported English illusion fell from a tiara of iridescents and seed pearls, and her

The next meeting will be Jan. 15 in the Couch home when Martha Couch will describe "The Lunch for Guys and Gals on the Go."

Easy Rules Told For Wine Care

Champagne can lend added sparkle for any occasion, but the French, who invented the king of wines, observe a few simple rules so that this elixir of the gods may be served at its best.

Whether you store your champagne in the cellar or in the refrigerator, it is essential that the bottles be placed horizontally; that way the corks will be kept moist and you will be able to pull them easily. If the cork dries out, air gets into the bottle, gas escapes, and that's the end of your beautiful bottle of imported champagne. In addition, a dry cork almost certainly will break off just when all eyes are watching the cork-pulling operation — and that can be embarrassing, to say the least.

Whatever you use to cool the champagne — sterling silver

Linda Roberts Weds In Coahoma Church

Miss Linda Kay Roberts and Jerry Alton Robertson were married at 7 o'clock Saturday evening in the Coahoma Church of Christ with Herbert Love officiating for the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ross M. Roberts of Coahoma and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Robertson of Lroaine.

The altar was graced with an

Travelers End Trip To Arizona

COAHOMA (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stringfellow returned Monday from Tucson, Ariz., where they spent Christmas with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Craig, and children Melody, Cindy and Edie Bob.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Birkhead and children, Stephen and Stephanie, spent Saturday in Colorado City with his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Currie.

Recent visitors in the G. W. Hudson home, Midway Community, were their children, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Hay and family of Hawley; and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hudson and sons, Odessa.

arch of greenery, flanked by white tapers, and Mrs. J. C. Bristo sang a solo, "O Promise Me." A chorus composed of Mrs. Bristo, Lonnie Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kiser sang "Be With Us, Lord," and the bridal chorus from Lohengrin.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gown in a sheath of Chantilly lace worn with an overdress of slipper satin. The overdress was fashioned with a high rounded neckline, petal point sleeves and belled skirt. Her bouffant veil of illusion was held by a crown of seed pearls, and she carried a white Bible topped with a bouquet of French chrysanthemums tied with picot streamers.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Lonnie Anderson was the matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Carol Ann Haile of Midland and Miss Kaye Clark of Big Spring. Mrs. Anderson wore a blue lace sheath with rounded neckline and short sleeves, and the bridesmaids were dressed in gowns of blue peau de soie styled with belled skirts. Each carried a topiary nosegay of yellow chrysanthemums.

A. D. Greenfield of Sand Springs was the best man, and groomsmen were Billy Dale Blair of Snyder and Frankie Machart of Sweetwater. Serving as ushers were Don Allen and Marvin Latimer, and the flower girl was Shana Anderson. Tim Greenfield was the ring bearer. The altar tapers were lighted by Gayla Roberts, sister of the bride, and Cathy Allen, her cousin.

The couple plans to reside in Sand Springs following a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination. For traveling, the bride chose a two-piece yellow wool suit with black patent accessories and the corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Coahoma High School and is employed by the Coahoma State Bank. The bridegroom, a graduate of Lorraine High School, served for four years in the U.S. Marine Corp and is employed by the Wellcome Well Service in Coahoma.

RECEPTION

The honored couple were joined by the parents and attendants in receiving guests at a reception held in the home of the bride's parents.

A three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, accented the refreshment table. The white lace cloth was placed over a yellow underlay, and crystal and silver appointments were used.

Miss Judy Kiser presided at the guest register, and members of the house party were Mrs. Don Allen, Mrs. Tom Harris, Mrs. Pat Shields and the bridesmaids.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. V. F. Roberts, Midland, grandmother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Haile and Mr. and Mrs. Troy Roberts and Ginger, all of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Kiser, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Turner and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Turner and Sherry, all of Odessa; and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goodlett, Colorado City.

INSTALLATION WEDNESDAY

The Knights Templar and the Social Order of the Beauceant will hold a public joint installation Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Masonic Temple. J. B. Langston will be installed as eminent commander of Big Spring Commandry No. 31, and Mrs. Eugene Gross will be installed as president of the Beauceants.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Here's Easier Way With Boiled Eggs

Dear Heloise: When hard-boiling eggs, I like to peel them the easy way.

Here's how: Just pour the hot water off, and immediately shake the pan vigorously (with the eggs still in it) until they're all well cracked. Then pour cold water on them.

Now, watch 'em practically slide right out of their shells. This sure eliminates work, and saves time. . . . Mrs. Fred Hershelman

I'll bet none of you will believe this until you have tried it. But, don't laugh at it before you do. . . .

Then, I can just see that sly smile come across your face as it did mine. It was most unbelievable.

Actually, the eggs just sorta scooted out of the shells when I filled the pan with the cold water. I didn't really have to peel them.

Thank you kindly, ma'am. I think you are a genius. And I consider your hint one of the discoveries of the year — since most of us boil eggs at least once a week and always have trouble peeling them. . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise: I am a faithful user of nylon net.

Besides the uses mentioned in your column, I just place a piece of wet net under my string mop, and it really gets those awful spots up when mopping the kitchen floor. . . . F.K.

Dear Heloise: I have some suggestions which I think make a world of difference between insipid and real good tasting coffee.

To insure freshness, I keep opened (re-capped) cans of coffee in my refrigerator. When making percolated coffee, I always start with cold water.

I measure a heaping coffee-spoonful of coffee for each cup, and add an extra "one for the pot."

For good, strong coffee, I let it perk at least 15 minutes. If using an automatic coffee maker, I set it on "stronger." If you like your coffee milder, percolate it for a shorter time — but use the same amount of coffee.

I use a drip-grind in my percolator, since it makes stronger coffee. I make only enough for one time, and never reheat it.

It is most important to keep the coffee pot clean. After each use, I wash and dry each part thoroughly, and do not put it back together — instead I leave it out to air between uses. . . . Coffee Lover.

plastic bag, put it in my deep freezer, and leave it there all day.

Then, when I removed it from the freezer, the gum would be frozen solid, and I could flick it off with a dull knife, or my fingernail. . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise: For those who collect stamps: Please tell them that after they have soaked the stamps off in a basin of water, to lay them face-down on paper towels.

Sometimes glue remains on water-soaked stamps, and they will become stuck again if laid face up.

I lay mine on paper towels instead of newspapers, so that the ink from printed material will not become transferred to the face of the stamp. . . . Stamp collector

PAT McCORMICK, the Big Spring girl whose art talents led her into a career as a lady matador, is returning to the field which was her first love. She has become associated with a commercial art studio in Glendale, Calif., and one of her projects may take her into Mexico. This should be a natural for her, because during her years of residence south of the border, Pat became fluent in Spanish and a student of the country.

She went to California a couple of years ago to work for a bull fighting magazine, but commercial art was her field in college and she's been wanting to get a career started in it. Pat is the daughter of MR. and MRS. E. B. McCORMICK.

The address given in this column for RAD WARE got mixed up with the address of JAKE DOUGLASS but if someone wrote to that address he still would have written to a former Big Spring resident. The Ware address is Apt. 124, 5306 Fleetwood Oaks Drive, Dallas, 75235.

Douglass manages the Rio Hotel at 6600 Camp Bowie Blvd., Fort Worth. His home address is 5508 Trail Lake Drive, Fort Worth. Incidentally, his parents, MR. and MRS. J. C. DOUGLASS SR., visited them during the holidays. Mrs. Jake Douglass got to spend a few days here with her parents, the ROY PHILLIPS.

Wednesday was the Golden Wedding anniversary day for MR. and MRS. LUDWIG GRAU. They were married in Chester, Pa., where they grew up, and he recalled that during the morning it rained like everything, then before time for the wedding at 2 p.m. the sun came out and shone like it was spring. In honor of the occasion, the cab driver switched to a team of white horses to pull the wedding pair. The Graus, who live at the northeast edge of town, have made their home here for more than three decades.

A between-holidays affair was hosted Wednesday by MRS. BOBBY FULLER and MRS. STORMY EDWARDS who were here to visit her parents, the FRANKLIN NUGENTS, from her home in Ruidoso, N.M. A bridge luncheon was given at the Cosden Club Blue Room for 21 of their high school classmates which included some who live in Big Spring and a number from out of town who were here for Christmas visits with their relatives. From out of the city were MRS. BENNY EDWARDS, Corpus Christi; MRS. CARL FRANKLIN, Lubbock; MRS. BILL TINDOL, Alpine; MISS JUNE ANN JOHNSTON, Odessa; MRS. GEORGE FURQUERON, Dallas; MRS. L. B. NEWMAN, Houston; MRS. JIMMY SIMMONS, Waco; MRS. RAY YOUNG, Odessa; and MRS. JESSE McELREATH, Nashville, Tenn.

MRS. J. E. BROWN is expected to return today from Longview where she has been visiting.

Remove Petals For Long Life

As they show signs of age, remove carefully the under row of petals from multipetaled flowers like pompons. This treatment will make them appear fresh for a longer period of time.

Designers Take Note Of Op Art

Hardly a season goes by without dealing a new hand for black-and-white. Just when it seems that this combination has all but been exhausted, designers come up with a new twist. Newest way in Paris works around modern art techniques. Taking their cue from America's preoccupation with Op Art, French designers have gone a step further to weave patterns that are running, jumping, flickering mechanisms. These black-and-white patterns give coats and suits new energy and motion.

Another modern art manner is related to, but not exactly like Mondrian designs. A simple white crepe dress might be planned with a black yoke or hem or a vertical stripe. It all adds up to a sharp counterpoint that puts clothes on the "see-me" side.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Radebaugh and family of Henrietta, Okla., left Wednesday after spending several days with her mother, Mrs. Minnie Lee Hall, Sand Springs.

Say Vows In Service At Church

Miss Betty Carole Sorrells and Michael H. Ezzell were married Saturday evening at 7 o'clock in the 14th and Main Church of Christ. Richard M. Williams, pastor of the Birdwell Lane Church of Christ, performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Volle E. Sorrells, 1707 State, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ezzell, Point Comfort.

The altar was decorated with a sunburst arrangement of white gladioli and chrysanthemums flanked by white tapers and emerald green palm trees. White satin ribbon formed the pew markers.

Stanley Peurifoy directed the a cappella chorus in traditional wedding songs.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white peau de soie and gallooned lace. The dress, designed by the bride's mother and grandmother, featured a scalloped neckline and a fitted, long-sleeved lace bodice over a satin underlay. The sheath style skirt fell into side pleats and a chapel train in the back. The fingertip-length veil of illusion fell from a tiara of lace and seed pearls.

The bride wore a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom, and carried a bouquet of white orchids surrounded with white carnations.

Miss Barbara Wadley was maid of honor. She wore a formal dress of gold taffeta with a scooped neckline and short sleeves.

Miss Jerilyn Elza of Temple and Miss Jerita Michaels of Rochester were the bridesmaids. They wore dresses of turquoise satin and designed identically to Miss Wadley's. The attendants carried bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums.

Serving their brother as best man and usher were Benny Ezzell and Thomas Ezzell, both of Point Comfort.

Other ushers were Leslie Watson, cousin of the bride; Stover Taylor, Bronte; and Dale McClinton, cousin of the bride.

For a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination the bride wore a navy blue and white knit sheath and black accessories. Her corsage was the white orchid from her bridal bouquet. The couple will reside in Gonzales where he will teach in the city school system.

MRS. MICHAEL H. EZZELL

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring Senior High School and attends Abilene Christian College in Abilene.

The bridegroom graduated from Calhoun High School, Port Lavaca, and will graduate from A&C at mid-term.

was the scene of the reception where the honored couple, parents and attendants greeted guests.

White silk organza covered the refreshment table, and the centerpiece was an arrangement of bronze chrysanthemums and turquoise carnations. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom within a heart-shaped arch.

Miss Lucille Engle, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the register.

Members of the house party were Mrs. Tom Harris, Mrs. Thomas E. Morris, Mrs. R. D.

McMillain, Mrs. C. B. Nunley and Mrs. S. E. Peurifoy.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Brown, Mrs. Frank Newby, and Mrs. C. C. Johnson, all of Snyder and relatives of the bride; Miss Glenda Winters, Point Comfort; and Mr. and Mrs. Latham Ryan, Hobbs, N. M.

Family Is Reunited In Westbrook

WESTBROOK (SC) — Mrs. C. J. Miller had her family home for Christmas. They were Mr. and Mrs. Lindy Miller, Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller, Coahoma; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Miller Jr., Colorado City; Mr. and Mrs. Dick Miller, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Elton Donelson, Post; Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Miller, Midland.

Mrs. Richard Clemmer accompanied her mother, Mrs. Cecil Long, and Kitty, Mike and Margaret, of Colorado City, to Lamesa Monday to visit with Mrs. Long's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Weir.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hutchins and children of Post visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hutchins and the Altis Clemmers during the holidays.

Time Colors For Home Planning

When you're painting your home, remember that colors have a time mechanism. They often look better at one time of day than at another.

For example, the color of a living room wall will look different in the evening with artificial light than during the day. Color may also look different in the morning than in the afternoon. The same is true of exterior colors.

Morning light is flattering to most colors, including bright ones. Red looks cheerful in the morning. But in the afternoon when the light is lower, cooler shades are more refreshing.

The location of your home in relation to the sun is also important. Colors look different when a room faces north than when it faces south. They also change appearance with the seasons as the angle and intensity of the sun's rays change.

MAJ. SPENCER ON THE SCENE WHEN SHIP BURNED

British Widow Visits Rescuer

By SAM BLACKBURN
"We had been in the water four hours. My husband, who was older than I am and frail, was growing steadily weaker. Suddenly, I realized that he had died."

"I watched helplessly as his body drifted away from me into the vast Atlantic. I watched it until it vanished on the horizon. Suddenly I was lonely — so dreadfully lonely. I hope I will never again be so lonely. All around me was the empty sea. Over head was the expanse of blue sky. I prayed that somehow someone would come to my assistance."

Someone did and the cheerful little British widow, who lived to tell of her harrowing sea adventure and of her husband's tragic death, has now had her chance to personally meet and thank her rescuer. More than that, she was a guest of honor at his wedding; spent Christmas with his parents on a West Texas ranch, and celebrated New Years with his brother's family in the Luther Community.

WONDERFUL HOLIDAY
She is Mrs. Eva Neary, who describes herself as a "working widow." Her home is East Grinstead, Sussex, England. She is one of the survivors of the tragic Lakonia fire off the Azores Islands in December, 1963, in which 129 perished — including her husband, Frederick Neary. Saturday night Mrs. Neary was taken to Midland by her Howard County hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Spencer of Luther. There she boarded a plane. Soon she will be back home again in Sussex.

"It will be the end of the most wonderful holiday and Christmas a woman could have," she noted. "But I'm certain of one thing — it will not, the good Lord helping me, be my last visit to Texas."

Her rescuer on that dreary tragic Dec. 22, 1963, was Donald Spencer, 35, brother of Neil and at that time a captain in the U. S. Air Force. Today he is Maj. Don Spencer, and he was married Dec. 18 to Capt.

(Photo by Sam Blackburn)

"IT LOOKED A LOT DIFFERENT WHEN I LAST SAW IT"
Mrs. Eva Neary studies picture of ship on which she met tragedy

Barbara Bryant of the USAF nurse corps. Mrs. Neary was guest at the wedding.

WINS MEDAL
Spencer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Spencer, Comanche. He is a Howard County boy, his parents formerly having ranches near here.

For his rescue work on that grim Dec. 22, 1963, Spencer was awarded the air medal. He is credited with saving the lives of 75 persons that day.

Mrs. Neary and her husband boarded the Greek steamer Lakonia Dec. 19 for a Christmas holiday trip to Madeira. A few hours from their destination, the ship caught fire.

"We were in bed in our cabin," she recalls. "I awakened and saw smoke pouring under the door. I aroused Frederick. We dressed. By that time the sirens and alarms were sounding. We went to our lifeboat station, donned our lifebelts and waited."

She said that it was obvious no preparation for an emergency had been made.

"The lifeboats were stuck in their places," she said. "The ropes wouldn't work. The crew was drunk. . . . We stood there an hour with the flames spreading over the ship. Finally the lifeboat was lowered away, but there was no room aboard for us. We were told to wait. . . . Later that lifeboat was picked up and found to be loaded with 40 members of the Lakonia crew. There were no passengers aboard."

INTO THE SEA
Hours passed, she said. The fire roared on out of control. Finally the captain — "he had locked himself in his quarters when the alarm began" — came out.

"Jump overboard for the sake of God," he yelled at the passengers. "Jump over into the sea for my sake."

Mrs. Neary and her husband found a rope ladder. They let themselves into the sea and began paddling to get away from the suction of the wallowing ship.

Mr. Neary died around 8 a.m., as nearly as she could estimate. Some hours later, Mrs. Neary saw an airplane on the horizon as she had others. But this one came steadily toward her. It passed over her head about 50 feet up.

"It flashed three bright lights," she said. "I don't know, but I thought it would let down a rope or something and pick me up. I know now that the lights were signals to a lifeboat a short distance away. The plane zoomed away, and I was alone in the sea again. . . ."

A rescue crew from the SS Montcalm came alongside and she was taken aboard the little freighter which was so loaded with survivors that its water supply had been exhausted.

"I was perishing with thirst," she said. "They gave me a bottle of beer to sip. . . ."

WHO WAS HE?

She was taken to a rescue station and later made her way back to England.

She began a campaign to find out who the pilot was that had spotted her floating in the sea. She established through a base commander, that he was Capt. Don Spencer of the USAF. She wrote him a letter trying as best she could to voice her thanks.

Then — About a month ago, she got an invitation from Capt. Spencer to be a guest at his wedding in Florida.

"I wanted to go," she related, "worse than anything in my life — but how could I? I had a job and the boss wasn't interested in letting me have time off."

"I sent a card expressing my regret that I could not attend." Then Mrs. Neary's son stepped into the picture. He told his mother she was, too, going to the states. He added if Mrs. Neary's boss was stubborn then quit the job.

"I'LL BE THERE"
She sent a second card to Capt. Spencer. This one said: "I'll be there."

The boss relented at the last minute and away went Mrs. Neary with a three-week leave in her pocket.

In New York, she was taken in charge by the USAF. She was flown to Florida where she walked down the landing ramp from the plane as television cameras from two networks ground out the scene. At the foot of the ramp stood a tall young man in an Air Force uniform.

Beside him stood a lovely young lady in the uniform of a USAF nurse.

But this was no captain — this airman wore the gold leaves of a major. He had just been promoted.

Mrs. Neary had a week in Florida as guest of the Air Force living in luxury quarters.

She attended the Spencer wedding. Then she flew to San Antonio where she was met by Major Spencer and his bride, who took her to the Comanche ranch of Maj. Spencer's parents.

Head Named For Agency

WASHINGTON (AP)—James M. Quigley takes over as acting commissioner of the new Federal Water Pollution Control Administration, established Friday under provisions of the Water Quality Act of 1965.

In naming Quigley to the new job, Secretary of Welfare John W. Gardner said he intends to use all the tools at his department's disposal to save the nation's streams and lakes from the threat of pollution.

Quigley, assistant secretary of welfare, will serve as acting commissioner of the new department until a permanent head is named.

Puzzle of Friday, December 31, Solved

Local Political Pot Beginning To Boil

By SAM BLACKBURN

Howard County's political pot for 1966 will begin bubbling soon. Politicians aspiring to county and district offices at stake in elections this year have until Feb. 7 to officially declare themselves.

One candidate has already officially declared herself. She is Pauline Petty, veteran county clerk, who is seeking her fourth term in the office.

Other offices to be filled in 1966 elections are district judge, district court clerk, county judge, county treasurer, county superintendent, two county commissioners and one justice of the peace.

LEGISLATOR

Howard County voters will also elect a state legislator to represent this county in the lower house.

It is assumed all of the incumbents plan to seek re-election. Most have already declared their intentions verbally. They now have until Feb. 7 to formally place their names in the hands of the chairman of their political party. Any other citizen who may want to run for any of the posts must also act on or before Feb. 7.

Democratic candidates will file with C. V. Riordan, 2100 Eleventh Place. He is the chairman of the Howard County Democratic central committee.

Any Republican office seekers will file with W. J. Sheppard, 1417 Wood, the Republican County Central committee chairman.

Incumbents whose posts are to be filled this year are Ralph J. Caton, judge of the 118th District Court; Fern Cox, clerk of the 118th District Court; Lee Porter, county judge; Pauline Petty, county clerk; Frances Glenn, county treasurer; Walker Bailey, county school superintendent; L. J. Davidson, county commissioner of Precinct 4; and R. C. Nichols, county commissioner of Precinct 2; and Jess Slaughter, justice of the peace, Precinct 1, Place 2.

SPECIAL VOTING

The state legislator who now represents this county is Roger Brown. He was elected in a special election earlier this year to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Ed J. Carpenter. Brown has not as yet had an opportunity to occupy the seat he won in the special election — the legislature has not been in session since he was elected.

He will seek re-election, but his arena of activity will probably be different from the counties he campaigned in his special election effort. He successfully carried an election in the old district of which Howard County was a member. The counties in this district were Howard, Martin, Glasscock, Sterling, Reagan, Irion and Coke.

THREE COUNTIES

Under the new redistricting law, Howard becomes a part of a district including only Mitchell and Nolan counties. Brown, when he starts his campaign, will shift his activities to two counties in which he has not heretofore sought votes.

Judge Caton, as judge of the 118th District Court, serves in three counties — Howard, Martin and Glasscock. His election will be decided by the voters of these three counties.

Only Handful Of Potential Voters Have Now Qualified

As of last Thursday, only 1,354 of Howard County's 23,000 residents of voting age had qualified themselves to vote in elections which will be held in 1966.

In 1965, the number of qualified voters in the county was 8,136. It is pointed out that 1965 was not a good year election-wise. There were comparatively few major elections and, in such years, it is usual for many voters to forego qualifying themselves to vote.

IMPORTANT

This coming year, on the other hand, will be politically important. There will be a number of county, district and township offices to be filled. There will be school and city elections on the agenda.

In order to vote, a resident must have a poll tax receipt. Despite the campaign to abolish the poll tax as a voting qualification, the fact remains a poll tax receipt must be held if the citizen wants to ballot in Texas elections. If he is past the age of 60, he can vote with an exemption certificate.

So far the office of Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor-collector has issued 572 poll tax receipts and 782 exemption certificates. The deadline for paying poll tax or for obtaining an exemption certificate is Jan. 31.

It is a fairly safe statement — "if you want to vote in 1966 elections, you must pay your poll tax or get your exemption certificate."

Winter Wheat In Good Shape

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Weather Bureau reports winter wheat in good condition in most producing areas. Most of this crop was covered by protective snows.

There is little probability the poll tax will be abolished in time to effect voting in any 1966 election.

The price of a poll tax receipt is $1.75. Of this money, $1 goes to the schools, 50 cents to the state, and 25 cents is retained by the county as an issuing fee.

NO CHARGE

There is no charge for an exemption certificate.

One oddity of the law is that elderly voters who ballot in boxes outside the corporate limits of cities of less than 10,000 population are not required to have exemption certificates. Only those who vote in city boxes must have these receipts.

Mrs. LeFevre said that one change in voting customs this year is that the way has been opened for men in service to pay poll tax and vote in local elections.

She said that as a result of a recent decision by the U. S. courts, a barrier which prevented men in the armed forces from voting in elections in the counties and towns where they were stationed, has been relaxed.

In the past such voters could only vote in the county from which they enlisted. It did not matter how long they might have lived in a community. They could own homes (as many Webb AFB men and women do) and still were not permitted to take part in any local elections.

SERVICEMEN

Since the court handed down its ruling, it is now possible for a man or woman in service to obtain a poll tax receipt and vote in local elections. The only stipulation is that the service man must state he plans to make his residence in the county indefinitely — in other words, he must plan to make his permanent home in the county after his military service ends.

A few servicemen have already showed up at Mrs. Le-

Fevre's office and qualified themselves to vote.

When and if the poll tax is abolished as a voting qualification, some new system will be set up for registering voters. No one knows when the abolition of the poll tax will occur, if it is ever abolished.

Therefore, the only thing for a citizen who wants to vote in elections this coming year can do is pay his or her poll tax ahead of the Jan. 31 deadline and obtain a receipt. Then, come what may, he will be ready to vote in any election which may be called.

Meantime, the 1,354 qualified voters on the books as of this date poses a poor prospect for a representative voting turnout in the year ahead.

Dear Abby

Maid And Housewife

DEAR ABBY: Would you please tell me the difference between a maid and a housewife? My husband says there is no difference. Thank you.

WACO HOUSEWIFE
DEAR HOUSEWIFE: If you have a maid, you'd better keep your eye on your husband.

DEAR ABBY: I am a working housewife. I get up every morning at 5 and cook my husband a good breakfast. I don't consider it a chore, Abby. I love to do it. But I am not very talkative in the morning. In all my 41 years of life, I have never liked to talk to anyone right after I get up. It takes me a couple of hours before I feel like talking. This has caused a lot of arguments with my husband. He says if I don't feel like being sociable in the morning I should stay in bed. But I like to get up and cook him a nice breakfast as a wife should. I don't care if anyone talks to me or not in the morning, so why should he be so stubborn on this one point?

A GOOD WIFE
DEAR WIFE: No matter how good the breakfast is, it's apparently not as important to your husband as the "sociability" he is missing. Not all husbands are alike. Some would rather have less gab and more grub. But yours is the one you have to live with; so either make an effort to be more cheerful and ing or stay in the sack.

DEAR ABBY: I would like a little advice on how to handle a situation that concerns my daughter and myself. She is 16, and has a rather steady boy friend. Because I am a divorcee and have to work, I cannot be home until 6 in the evening. I have made a rule that she should not have her boy friend come into our apartment until I get home. She says she should be able to invite him in after school, even though I am not there. I might add that her younger sister and brother (ages 8 and 11) are usually home. Also my daughter's word is good. I trust her. The boy is a nice boy, but I don't want her talked about, and we live in an apartment with many nosy gossips.

WORKING MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: If you have made an ironclad "rule" with only your nosy, gossiping neighbors in mind, you are being unfair to your daughter. Tell her she may let her beau come in after school for no more than an hour, occasionally, but

Conference To Explain Work

A special conference detailing the program and policies of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, as well as its future program of work, will be held in Big Spring Jan. 6.

The session is to be held in the directors' room of the First National Bank, at 9 a.m. Present will be Reeman Fisher, Fort Worth, WTCC president; John Ben Shepperd, Odessa, a vice president; as well as several area directors and staff members.

Letters requesting attendance at the meeting are going out to some 100 local businessmen, including all those who currently have membership in the WTCC. Champ Rainwater and R. W. Whipple, local directors on the WTCC board, said the conference will be open to all interested persons, and they urged full attendance.

Fisher and other WTCC leaders will be here Thursday for a meeting of the organization's sub-committee on tourist development, and the special conference with Big Spring businessmen was arranged.

Barnes To Speak To New Voters

DENTON, Texas — Ben Barnes, speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, will give the address at the New Voter's Day Assembly of the Texas Woman's University at 1:45 p.m. Thursday, in the campus Main Auditorium. The assembly is an annual TWU event.

The TWU student audience will include 477 who will become 21 before November, 1966. These girls will be guests of honor and will wear a new voter's badge.

The program will include commentary on New Voter's Day by Laura Gasaway of Pine Bluff, Ark., vice president of the TWU Citizenship League, and New Voter's pledge led by Paula Rich of Brookfield, Mo., president of the Campus Government Association.

not every evening. Give her a chance to use her own judgment, expect the best of her and I'll bet she won't let you down.

DEAR ABBY: My son, a junior in high school, has an English teacher who, in my opinion, has a warped sense of humor. She recently gave her students an assignment of which I think you should be aware. She asked them each to write you an "imaginary problem." She said, "I don't see what she expects to prove. I certainly can't see any literary value to an assignment of this kind. I suppose by this time you are an expert at detecting counterfeit letters, but I wanted to warn you that about 50 of them will be coming your way soon. This is modern education? RAT FINK FATHER FROM BOSTON

DEAR RAT FINK: Perhaps the teacher wants to encourage creative writing. I hate to disappoint her, but no matter how much imagination the students show, the results can hardly match the fantastic, absurd but entirely authentic problems that people send my way every day.

Force Hinted On Rhodesia

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP)—Britain and Zambia have set a time limit for economic sanctions to bring down Rhodesia's rebel government, President Kenneth Kaunda of Zambia told a news conference Friday.

Kaunda said that if the time limit expires without the overthrow of Prime Minister Ian Smith's white minority government, military intervention will be the only solution.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Sunday, Jan. 2, 1966 3-D

Galveston County Youth Plan OK'd

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Connally has approved a Neighborhood Youth Corps project for Galveston County.

The project will be financed by a $139,520 federal grant and $33,590 in local funds. It will offer employment to 129 out-of-school youths in Galveston, Texas City, Dickinson and La Marque under the direction of county commissioners.

A Devotional For The Day

Be still, and know that I am God: . . . I will be exalted in the earth. (Psalms 46:10)

PRAYER: Dear Father, speak to us the word we need. Help us to realize Thy presence and fill us with Thy grace that we may be the persons Thou wouldst have us be—persons knowing Thy will and doing it. In the name of Jesus, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

(From the "Upper Room")

Looks Like Another Good One

For many seasons we have opened the New Year with a prospectus, and a continuing analysis points to another good year ahead.

There are some uncertain and soft spots, but the over-all outlook is one of steady growth and activity.

While construction will be at a brisk pace, it is unlikely that the value of permits will approach the past year's total of nearly seven million dollars. To begin with, about 40 per cent of last year's figure was in one job, the Big Spring school program. Also, the city's master plan five-year bond purchases are dwindling to a trickle. Expenditures of war have forced a cutback in some construction at Webb AFB, and it is not probable that the post office project will be set back for the same reasons. However, the impact of last year's record permits will be felt in actual construction this year. Moreover, Howard County Junior College will have two buildings to go up; there may be at least one major church job; Interstate 20 should attract substantially more later development.

While there has been no dramatic change, the oil outlook shows signs of looking up. War pressures may be creating an extra demand which results in more allowable, but there have been enough discoveries in Sterling, Glasscock, Dawson and Howard counties to warrant a fairly good program of drilling.

Cosden's increasing versatility as illustrated by a revamping and modernizing of its polystyrene facility and the completion of its new hydeal unit points to another vigorous year on our major industrial front. So long as the automotive market is brisk, this will be reflected in the two carbon black plants. The ammonia facility likewise will face a strong demand for its output. GAMCO continues its up and down curve. Adding to the industrial family, however, does not appear on the immediate horizon.

Retail business should show an increasing gross. This may be obscured by a dispersion of the volume because of new centers, but even so the total promises to be up. Merchandising will be more militant, which may attract more area trade. The downtown area is aggressively battling to hold or increase its share.

David Lawrence

The War And Politics

WASHINGTON — Discussion of the possible impact of the Viet Nam war on the 1966 congressional and 1968 presidential elections has lately led many Republicans mistakenly to believe that they will surely benefit by developments.

Much depends, however, on exactly what the war situation is at the time the voters cast their ballots. It is important to remember that a war can help the party in power to stay in office. The American people took the unprecedented step of electing Franklin D. Roosevelt for a third and even a fourth term while World War II was in progress.

THERE IS A STRONG sentiment for keeping an administration in power also when other nations are in the midst of a war and the American people want this country to stay out of the conflict at almost any cost.

The one situation that has been referred to recently as likely to be paralleled in 1966 or 1968 is what happened during the Korean war. The American people never like any war but, once they get into it, they give it their full support. They went along with President Truman's decision to resist the invasion of South Korea in June 1950 and to join the United Nations in an internationalized operation to repel the aggression.

BY NOVEMBER 1952, however, there was disillusionment about the Korean war. The pressure from America's allies in Europe to refrain from bombing the supply bases inside Red China gave the Communists their "privileged sanctuary." This was resented by many people in this country who felt that, once American troops in large numbers were committed to a war, it should be fought with maximum power.

The feeling that swept this country in 1952 was one of dissatisfaction over the way the war was being waged by the Truman administration. This sentiment was augmented by the views of those citizens who believed it was a waste of American manpower to prolong a war that couldn't be won. That's why the Democratic party lost strength at the polls in 1952. History could repeat itself, with the Democratic administration suffering in 1966 or 1968.

BUT THERE IS another possible turn of events. The war may wind up in a stalemate, as did the Korean war. The voters will then have a sigh of relief, especially as the draft calls are diminished to normal size and the troops in Southeast Asia are brought back home.

So, there is much to be gained politically by fighting the war vigorously and shortening it. If peace negotiations develop into an armistice like that which was signed in Korea, the effect on American politics would tend to be in favor of the administration in power.

THE VIET NAM WAR is hardly likely to be won before next November but, if it is being fought intensively, the administration would surely benefit. Also, an early ending under honorable circumstances would be a feather in the cap of the Democratic administration. An unfavorable reaction from the administration's point of view could come only if the Viet Nam war drags on without getting anywhere and without full use being made of all power available — ground, sea and air forces, as well as trade embargoes and blockades of Communist ports.

Business Review

AUSTIN — Texas business activity, which has been on a strong upward trend since the national recession of 1960-1961, continued to show a high rate of growth during 1965, according to a report by Dr. Robert R. Williamson, research associate for the Bureau of Business Research of The University of Texas, to appear in the January Texas Business Review. Available data for the first 11 months of the year indicate a gain of 11 per cent in Texas business activity during 1965, or an improvement from the 9 per cent growth rate recorded in 1964.

The index of Texas business activity — computed by the Bureau of Business Research from data on total spending from banks' demand deposit accounts, adjusted for changes in the general price level — is regarded as one of the best measures of general business activity. However, it is only one among several indicators of bank debits data, without adjustment for price changes, showed an increase of 31 per cent for the first 11 months of 1965, over the corresponding period of 1964.

PERSONAL INCOME growth is a very meaningful measure of growth in economic activity, but, unfortunately, up-to-date monthly estimates of personal income are not available for Texas. Based on the incomplete information that is available, it appears that total personal income in the state during 1965 grew about 7 per cent, which is the same as the income growth recorded in the state in 1964 and which is also the same as the national growth rate for personal income in 1965 through the first 11 months of the year.

Employment data provide a fairly comprehensive measure of economic conditions and are available on a current monthly basis for the state and also for individual labor market areas. The relatively precise estimates of nonfarm employment in Texas show continued steady growth during the month of November. For the year through November, the state's nonfarm employment level averaged 3 per cent higher er than a year earlier, or the same as the national growth rate. Both Texas and the nation experienced a moderate acceleration of nonfarm employment growth in 1965 compared with the 1964 rate.

EMPLOYMENT forecast for a few months ahead, as well as estimates of past employment levels, are made by the state and individual labor market offices of the Texas Employment Commission. The latest forecasts are for a January 1966 nonfarm employment total in Texas of 3,486,600 workers. This would represent a relatively bullish beginning of the new year for the state's economy. The projected January employment is only fractionally below the November level, whereas the normal seasonal pattern calls for a much larger decline between November and January.

BASIC SUPPORT to the expansion of business activity in Texas is being provided by the growth of industrial production in the state. Industrial electric power use, an indirect measure of industrial production, showed a seasonally adjusted gain in Texas of 10 per cent during November. The November seasonally adjusted level of Texas industrial electric power use was 17.2 per cent of the 1957-1959 average, the highest of the year, and a new record for November. For the January-November period, the state's industrial electric power consumption was 7 per cent higher than a year earlier.

The index of Texas crude-oil production during 1965 through November averaged the same as in the first 11 months of 1964. However, the oil production trend ended the year on an upbeat. November production showed a seasonally adjusted gain of 1 per cent from October, and production allowances for December and January, at 31.4 per cent and 32.6 per cent of maximum, respectively, were the highest since the state adopted its new percentage regulation system in January, 1963.

AGRICULTURE contributed to the expansion of Texas business activity during 1965. This is in contrast to 1964, when farm income in the state was depressed by poor crops and falling cattle prices. Cash receipts from farm marketings in Texas during the first nine months of 1965 totaled over $1.6 billion, reflecting a gain of 6 per cent from a year earlier or the same as the national gain. Receipts from sales of livestock and livestock products led the recovery in the state's farm sales with an indicated annual growth rate of 9 per cent for the nine-month period.

CONSTRUCTION activity, as measured by building permits, is one of the few sectors of the Texas economy that may have declined in 1965. The value of urban building permits issued in the state during the first 11 months of the year was 1 per cent below the value for the corresponding period of 1964. However, the decline is from a very strong showing in 1964 and is the result of a continued downturn in residential construction. Texas nonresidential building authorizations, in rising 4 per cent over a year earlier during the January-November period, registered surprising strength.

Texas retail sales, mirroring the growth of the state's economy, rose 6 per cent from a year earlier during the first 11 months of 1965. This is an improvement from the 5 per cent growth in Texas retail sales during 1964. Durable — good sales, spurred by record automobile sales, led the 1965 gain with a growth of 10 per cent for the January-November period.

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Lawrence Warner recently scored a hole-in-one but it didn't count. On the second hole, Warner unleashed a mighty drive that disappeared behind a fringe of trees. He couldn't find the ball, dropped another and continued the round.

On hole No. 7, Warner sank his putt and inside the cup was the missing ball: A hole-in-one on the wrong hole!

How Cooking Affects Food Values

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have been interested in nutrition for a long time and have collected recipes that included foods that "counted" nutrition-wise.

My husband and friends have laughed at me when I have defended the "slandered spud," and now I am very happy to wave the facts in your column under their noses.

I have a question, however. How much cooking can vegetables take without becoming worthless? If I steam-cook potatoes, carrots, beans, etc., and store leftovers in the refrigerator to use in hash, or warm them up, do we still get some value from them, or are they worthless?

I have read that meat retains its value no matter how long it is cooked. Is this true? Do scrambled or fried eggs retain their value? I have read that Vitamin C is destroyed by any amount of heat. What about other vitamins? — MRS. B. L.

First, let's dispel the idea that any food becomes "worthless" through cooking. Second, let's remember that vitamins, although necessary for health, are not the only thing we get from food. We get traces of minerals and varying amounts of vitamins—which we need. We require larger quantities of protein, carbohydrate and fat. (Most of us get more fat than we need.)

The answer is yes, vegetables can be reheated and still be nutritious. Nearly all vegetables contain at least some Vitamin C. This vitamin is sensitive to heat, but moderate cooking does not drive off all of it. Vitamin C, in fact, is more susceptible to oxidation, or exposure to air. Don't leave tomato or citrus juices in open containers too long!

Both C and the various B vitamins are soluble in water. Cook vegetables with very small amounts of water so the vitamins are not lost. (Vitamin B1 is the most heat-sensitive of the B vitamins. Riboflavin and Niacin, which are other B vitamins, are not much affected by heat.)

However, you still get the benefit of a good deal of whatever vitamins (or minerals, or other content) which may have dissolved in the water used for cooking in soup, gravy, etc.

Eggs retain their value in any cooked form.

Vitamin A, while soluble in fats or oils, is not harmed by heat. The biggest loss in cooking is in Vitamin C, and that is why we set such store by having tomato or orange or other juice for breakfast. We don't depend on cooked foods for our Vitamin C.

Mononucleosis is primarily a disease of young people. To learn more about it, send in care of The Herald for my booklet, "Mononucleosis," enclosing with your request a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner is interested in all his readers' questions, and whenever possible uses their questions in his column, but because of the great number received daily, he regrets that he cannot answer individual letters.

Around The Rim

Thanks To Those Who 'Care'

We're two days deep into a new year, but even while we're looking ahead, perhaps it's not too late to look back for some of the better expressions of mankind occurring during the past year.

At each year-end I have tried to put into print a word of gratitude to the people who go that extra step in helping making their community a more cheerful, more progressive, more acceptable place.

THIS IS brought about by people who give — even sacrifice — of time and talent to lend some help to others. There are not enough of these, but the influence of the few always seems to reflect beyond the measurement of numbers.

The men who serve on the City Commission, the School and College boards, and on other public councils for which there is no monetary pay and precious little praise, always deserve a thanks for good work during the past year.

THE BAND of stalwarts who fight a battle for such welfare programs as the United Fund — and who gracefully accept a frustrating lack of support — ought to have their name written high in letters of bright hue.

All of the welfare and youth guidance agencies subsist only because of volunteer labor, and progress only to the depth and degree of such volunteer help. The fellows who lead young lads into Scouting; the ladies who do the same for Girl Scouts; the people who set aside personal enjoyment to labor in the vineyard of the YMCA and the Salvation Army; to all those who are concerned with providing a more wholesome atmosphere for a generation that soon will establish its own atmosphere; these are the people who deserve a community's thanks.

IT IS A THING of delight to witness the host of individuals who go forth, week after week, to perform their chores of assistance for patients in our hospitals — at the VA, at Webb, at the State Hospital, at the Bennett House, and the others. You do not count results in figures here, you look at happiness brought to others, and you find that the most humble worker some times has accomplished the most — not in the spirit of accomplishment, but in the desire to help others.

THERE ARE people in the Sunday schools and churches and in the schools themselves who give that extra measure.

I do not know what would constitute an "honor roll" of community service, but the names of this kind of people would be there.

Neither can I submit, in brief space, what it takes to make a town more honorable, more decent, more worthwhile. Thriving commerce must be at hand, a degree of growth is important; a development of educational and cultural outlets is essential; a spirit of morality is vital.

BUT YOU WILL never see a failing town (no matter the population) if it develops more people who "care."

Too many of us, who plod our own pathway each day, looking neither to the right nor the left, but generally in the mirror, owe so much to others who do "care." That's the reason, at the turn of the calendar, I would say "thank you" to this group. May their tribe increase.

The Always-Correct Columnist

WASHINGTON — Once a year a Washington columnist must take stock of what he wrote and how it affected the country.

In January I warned President Johnson to forget his legislative program for the Great Society. I pointed out that with a hostile Congress there was no possibility of getting any bills passed this year, and he would be better off if he concentrated on making friends up on the Hill rather than twisting arms. The President ignored the advice and we all know what happened.

WITH REGARDS to the space program, I was the only one to predict that Gemini 4 and Gemini 7 would never be able to rendezvous. I pointed out that scientifically it was impossible for the two space ships to get near each other and the whole exercise would be a waste of money.

When it came to foreign affairs, I can take credit for advising the administration that if it escalated the war in Viet Nam we would be at the conference table within two months. I pointed out that once the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were bombed they would realize there was no reason to continue the war.

MY PENTAGON and CIA sources told me once we destroyed the Ho Chi Minh Trail the North would not be able to supply their troops in South Viet Nam and they would have no choice but to surrender and sue for peace.

South America occupied a great deal of my time this year. I was the first to realize that the best way of making friends below the border was to intervene in the Dominican Republic.

I wrote that quick action in the Dominican Republic would guarantee a stable government for that country and that as soon as our Marines landed both sides would forget their differences and work for the common good. Then in a few days we could pull out.

ALTHOUGH I lived in Washington, I still kept a firm grip on the pulse of New York politics, and I was the first columnist to urge John Lindsay not to run for Mayor of New York as I knew he didn't have a chance.

When Teddy Kennedy proposed Judge Morrissey for the federal bench, I told Teddy privately, and then publicly, the appointment would sail through without any opposition.

EVERYBODY forgets it now, but when the aluminum companies raised their prices I was the only columnist who pointed out that there wasn't a thing President Johnson could do about it.

Without seeming to brag, I was one of the few syndicated writers who predicted Sonny Liston would knock out Cassius Clay in the first round of their heavyweight fight.

I was also the first one to print that Henry Ford would marry Sybil Burton and that his daughter Charlotte would marry Frank Sinatra.

BUT NO COLUMNIST is right 100 per cent of the time, and occasionally I've slipped up. I predicted the Post Office would issue a stamp to commemorate President Johnson's gallstone operation. Three weeks later the Post Office denied it.

Totalitarian Propaganda

By WILLIAM S. WHITE (Substituting for Marquis Childs)

WASHINGTON — Not in all the long and grim story of the cold war — not even before it in the years of Adolf Hitler's technique of the big lie — has totalitarian propaganda had so appalling a field day as it is now having over Viet Nam.

Simple truth is down and very nearly out in a flood of arrogant falsehood that is finding eager believers in this and other lands as falsehood has never done before.

IN THE FACE of the documented record that the Communist invaders of South Viet Nam on two score occasions have spurned every offer of decent negotiation from our side, they are still able to float an endless succession of fraudulent innuendoes that it is the victims of their attacks who are refusing to be "reasonable."

Let the United States arrange and scrupulously observe a Christmas cease-fire in Viet Nam. Let the Communists openly and repeatedly violate it. What is the result?

FEW TAKE NOTE, seemingly, of who honored and who dishonored this effort and all the other efforts before it. Instead, the air again is filled not with the obvious facts of Communist duplicity but rather with new complaints, from honest and eternally credulous pacifist-isolationists as well as from fellow travelers in communism, that the United States simply not be "reasonable."

In the very wake of this latest breach of elementary decency by the Communist assailants, three American citizens see fit to go to North Viet Nam, a country that is killing our troops, to talk about "the other side's approach to peace."

ONE IS A YALE professor, Staughton Lynd, who describes himself as a Marxist and pacifist. Another, Herbert

Aptheker, calls himself a Communist. A third, Thomas Hayden, is organizer for a far-left "student group."

Almost at the same moment the career of a distinguished and quite liberal Western statesman, Foreign Minister Amintore Fanfani of Italy, is gravely discredited by his civilized habit of supposing that the lefties might mean what they say and are capable of honest statement.

IT WAS FANFANI who passed along the now demonstrably fraudulent suggestion from a Communist-supported former mayor of Florence in Italy that the North Vietnamese were interested in opening peace negotiations. In the wake of this gamey episode — in which Communist propaganda again succeeded in selling many in this country on the line that the United States is really against peace — Fanfani has felt compelled to offer his resignation.

Even so left-wing and frankly peace-minded a regime as the Labor government in England is openly contemptuous of this rubbish about the good intentions of the Communist invaders. No responsible statesmen in all the Western world believes in it for a moment — because responsible men cannot credit what they know to be cynically false, no matter how much they, too, yearn for an honorable peace.

HOW LONG, THEN, will a tiny and loud minority here go on, having already all but destroyed the credibility of American resolution in Viet Nam and thus having prolonged the war they say they want to end?

What is happening to decent people — putting aside the mere fellow travelers whose motives are perfectly plain — that they are prepared perpetually to apologize for and sometimes to give aid and comfort to a mortal enemy of this, their own country?

Twin Thrillers Coming To Ritz

Boris Karloff returns as a monster for the first time in 30 years and in his first non-Frankenstein creature role, while Barry Sullivan stars as the leader of spacemen exploring a mysterious planet in a far-away galaxy in two science fiction thrillers from American International opening Thursday at the Ritz Theatre.

Karloff stars in "Die, Monster, Die!", color and scope tale of a mysterious monster-breeding object from outer space which terrifies a quiet country family. Nick Adams and Susan Farmer also star in the adventure film which blends science fiction with old fashioned terror suspense.

Sullivan stars with Norma Bengali in the companion color and scope feature, "Planet of the Vampires," which takes place on a mysterious Earth-like planet of a distant sun. What happens when Sullivan and his fellow space explorers try to do battle with an intelligent but unseen foe with human-like qualities makes for spine-chilling science fiction action.

Supremes Are Tops On Charts

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The definition of a record hit varies from recording group to recording group.

The Supremes, for instance, consider a million - seller a smash, No. 1 on the best-selling charts and a hit and No. 50 a flop. Once, like most struggling groups, they would have been glad to see a record climb to 50, but that was long ago. Today the Supremes are rock 'n' roll's top girl group and there are few male groups bigger with the fans.

Diana Ross, 21, lead singer, Florence Ballard, 22, and Mary Wilson, 21, live in Detroit and record for Motown. They've had five million - selling singles in a row - "Where Did Our Love Go?", "Baby Love," "Come See About Me," "Back in My Arms Again" and "Stop in the Name of Love." Right now, "I Hear a Symphony" is jumping up the chart. On the

BOOKS

Tells Story Of 'Blues'

The foremost authority on the American "blues," Paul Oliver is author of "Conversation with the Blues," published by Horizon Press.

The expressive genius of the American blues has moved people all over the world; interest in the blues has been widening enormously year after year; yet until now the story of the great blues singers and their experience has been largely inaccessible.

On a grant from the United States government, Paul Oliver journeyed through the South and North to the Great Lakes with a tape-recorder and camera. It was an incredible adventure - and this book, compiled from recorded interviews with over 60 blues singers and their associates, is a moving revelation of people and of Americana, unique in our history. The many intimate conversations and the eighty evocative photographs enable us to see into the singers' lives, their homes and work, their musical heritage - the inner meaning of the blues as private thought and feeling as well as performance.

long-playing chart, "More Hits by the Supremes," out in August, is No. 10 and "Where Did Our Love Go," which started its second year on the LP chart Sept. 6, is No. 50. Any group which sells records faster than their hometown sells automobiles is bound to have a personal appearance schedule - like the Supremes. After three weeks at the Copacabana in New York (they were recorded for a live album), the Supremes spent the first half of October at a festival in Holland and in England, playing U. S. colleges and appearing for a full evening concert at New York's Philharmonic Hall.

Big dates already set for 1966 include a return to the Copa March 3-16, a Viet Nam tour Jan. 6-22, San Francisco's Fairmont Hotel May 19-June 8 and a Los Vegas debut, at the Flamingo Hotel, Sept. 29-Oct. 19.

The Philharmonic Hall concert was a recital of their hits, but at night clubs, where the audience is mostly adults, the girls do tunes from "West Side Story" and "Funny Girl" and songs like "You're Nobody 'Til Somebody Loves You" and "Make Someone Happy."

However, Mary says, they sing ballads mostly because they always have liked them and because Berry Gordy, president of Motown, used to tell them that they were too young to give ballad singing any significance. "There's a Place for Us," an LP not yet released, will include the ballads they now feel old enough to sing.

The girls may be young, but they've been singing for seven years, one-third of their lives. They got together when the Primes (now known as the Temptations) wanted a sister group. The Primes and Prime-ettes sang at record hops and benefit in Detroit and did some recording as background singers. The girls also auditioned for Gordy, who told them to come back after they had graduated from high school.

They did and Flo picked Supremes from a list of 10 possible new names made out by a Motown secretary. She had no thought that someday they'd be the supreme girls group, she says. "I just liked the name."

"A year ago June, 'Where Did Our Love Go?' came out and that was the really big start," Mary says. "We've had several starts, but that was the one."

Now, Diana says, they record whenever they're in Detroit, usually six songs at a time. Gordy chooses one to release as a single and if it sells well, he releases it and other songs "in the can" (recorded but unreleased) as an album.

Motown is an unusually paternalistic record company. A choreographer from the Artists Development Department taught the girls some dance steps to use in their Copacabana and an arranger works over all their recorded music for live appearances.

Three song writers who work for the company compose their songs, usually stories about love, and as long as the Supremes get hits with their songs, they can keep writing for them. If a song misses, another writer gets a chance to try.

The Supremes' sound usually is described as rhythm and blues - blues with a rock beat, a wildness and a gospel flavor. "As far as pop music goes today," Mary says, "ours is right in the trend but with a difference." None of the three can say exactly what the difference is.

It's partly the engineering at Motown, which uses echo, overdubbing, etc. The girls know that live, their recorded sound is hard to duplicate. So they don't duplicate it, exactly, re-TV any more, lying on different arrangements. Gary Anster, a dazzled ad-and their own delivery to make minor at Philharmonic Hall, ex-the live performances exciting, exclaimed: "They don't sound the They don't even lip sync (move same as on records. They sound their mouths to a record) on ever better!"

Beetle Bailey Named Second In Popularity

The world's most popular G.I. - Mort Walker's "Beetle Bailey" - has just passed the 1,000 newspaper mark, daily and Sunday, making The Herald strip the all-time number two cartoon in world-wide popularity, client papers and circulation. The strip has rated first in newspaper popularity polls from Washington, D.C. to Denver, Colo.; and in global circulation it is second only to the phenomenal "Blondie" by Chic Young, which at 1,603 newspapers has virtually reached the "saturation point."

"Beetle Bailey" was started by Walker, Sept. 4, 1950 and has grown consistently over the past 15 years. It is distributed around the world by King Features Syndicate - from Angola to Zurich and from Amsterdam (Holland) to Zanesville (Ohio). It is estimated that well over 110,000,000 readers read the daily and Sunday antics of "Beetle" and his Army buddies, Sergeant Snorkel, General Half-track, Zero, Cookie, Plato and Killer. They are translated into a score of languages and appear in countries as widely separated as Thailand, Formosa, Brazil, South Africa, the Philippines, Japan, Norway, Okinawa, India, Australia, Turkey and Greece.

Walker now is one of the most widely-read cartoonists in the entire history of comics. In addition to "Beetle Bailey," he created the popular family humor strip, "Hi and Lois" in 1954.

Mort, who was born in Kansas and educated at the University of Missouri, started professional cartooning very young. He made his first cartoon sale at the age of 11. By 16 more than 300 of his cartoons had been published.

Today, Mort Walker often contributes his creative talents to public service projects, among which the armed forces figure prominently. Recently he created a "Beetle Bailey" pamphlet for the Army and Air Force Exchange Service to explain and illustrate the "P.X. Privilege" to the troops.

Other projects for which he has recently made free drawings include the President's Committee on the Employment of the Handicapped, the Red Cross, Association of Community Chests, the U.S.O., Association for Retarded Children, the Job Corps, and the Overseas Press Club.

At regular intervals, groups of G.I. "Beetle Bailey" fans at U.S. Army posts like Fort Carson and Fort Knox get together, draw up petitions and forward them to cartoonist Walker requesting that the hapless Beetle be elevated to the lordly rank of PFC. So far, Walker has been steadfast; he claims he doesn't feel Beetle could "lead a pack of cub scouts to the candy store."

Warship Highlights 'Atragon' On Jet Screen

Never-before-seen special effects and weapons feature one of the most fantastic science adventures ever brought to the motion picture screen, "Atragon." The science fiction spectacular, filmed in color and scope, opens Wednesday at the Jet Theatre. Special effects are by the same team of specialists who made "Godzilla" so frightening.

Among the highlights of "Atragon," which title derives from the name of the warship of the story, are scenes of life in the super-city capital of the undersea Mu Empire. Also memorable are scenes of millions of people fleeing an atomic missile sneak attack by undersea Mu Empire raiders bent on conquering the world.

Outstanding highlights however, are the scenes involving the mammoth Atragon, a super weapon-warship the likes of which have never before been created. Atragon dominates the screen when it is seen flying faster than sound through the air, or speeding above and under the sea, or crashing through all obstacles on land and, most fantastic of all, boring through earth and rock under the ground to pierce the defenses of the underground and underwater city of the Mu.
