MISTLETOE CREAMERIES' SAFE ROBBED

YEGGS MAKE HAUL DURING LAST NIGHT

REAR DOOR IS BROKEN INTO DURING NIGHT; ONLY CASH TAKEN

A safe of the Mistletoe Creameries, Inc., 513 Broadway, was robbed of about $100 in cash sometime last night, the police department reported this morning.

J. S. Hayes, nightwatchman for the city wholesale district, reported that he discovered the rear door of the building open between 11 and 12 o'clock last night, and he started an investigation.

The safe was badly torn by the burglars. Heavy inventory of merchandise and valuables early today indicated that nothing else was stolen.

Mrs. Hines Better, Physicians Report

Mrs. Fred Hines, 809 Avenue J, who is suffering with bronchial pneumonia at the Lubbock sanatorium, is slightly improved today and physicians announce hope for her recovery. It was announced early this afternoon.

Mrs. Bill Summers and Mrs. Lizzie Boyce, both of Austin, sisters of Mrs. Hines, and a brother, John Hatcher, of Amarillo, and his wife and daughter, Merle, together with her husband, are attending her bedside.

MCKENZIE IS UNDER GUARD

CONVICTED SLAYER IS IN DALLAS JAIL; FACES HEARING

DALLAS, Jan. 13.—(By Associated Press.)—J. M. "Pet" McKenzie, sentenced to death for slaying a San Antonio detective, today was under guard in the Dallas county jail, facing another sanity hearing. For several months he had been in the state hospital at Terrell after he escaped the electric chair by a sanity trial verdict that he was insane. He was removed here Saturday by Texas Rangers after a fight with another prisoner revealed he was armed with a pistol and a knife.

Governor Moody announced that Dr. George Powell, superintendent of the Terrell institution, had made an affidavit that in his opinion McKenzie now was sane. The affidavit will be filed in the court of Judge W. W. McCrory of San Antonio, where McKenzie's murder and sanity trials were conducted. Judge McCrory said that because of a crowded docket the case probably would not come up in less than a month.

McKenzie was taken to Terrell from a San Antonio institution after a pistol was found strapped to his leg, Governor Moody said.

Poll Tax Payments Rather Active Here

Warm interest in 1936 elections is shown in Lubbock county with the announcement today from the office of A. J. Clark, county tax collector, that 1,330 persons have already paid poll taxes for this year.

There will be approximately 7,000 eligible voters in the county this year.

The January rush in the tax collector's office has necessitated employment of four additional men. Those who are now aiding Mr. Clark and his assistant, Hurley Carpenter, are Paul Crouch, W. F. Hartog, Frank Kerr and George Adams.

Three thousand and five hundred persons have purchased automobile license plates for the year.

FIGHT MYSTERIOUS FEVER'S SPREAD

Parrot fever, strange and deadly malady known in tropical countries but new in the United States, has infected four persons in Maryland. Dr. L. F. Badger, below, left, and Dr. C. Armstrong, extreme right, U. S. public health service officials, have been assigned to check the spread of the often-fatal disease which human beings contract from infected parrots. In the center is Simon S. Martin, whose wife and child became afflicted with the disease at Annapolis after receiving a in Hawaii. He is Jack Kirkland, newspaperman and playwright.

BAPTISTS OF CITY INVITE BELTON MAN

DR. R. C. CAMPBELL IS ASKED TO BECOME PASTOR HERE

Members and officials of the First Baptist church of Lubbock issued a call last night for Dr. R. C. Campbell, Belton pastor, to accept the pastorate of the local church, a vacancy created by resignation several weeks ago of Dr. W. R. White, who is now secretary of the Texas Baptist convention.

Dr. Campbell, who is 41 years old, is a graduate of Wake Forest college and the Southwestern Seminary at Fort Worth. His pastorates have been served mainly in college towns.

He is a native of North Carolina and has been in Texas 14 months. He is said to be a forcible speaker and one who has a splendid personality.

Dr. and Mrs. Campbell will arrive in Lubbock next Saturday to visit here several days. He will speak twice next Sunday at the local church and will also address the Downtown Bible class, which meets at the Lyric theater.

He will attend the workers conference of the Lubbock Baptist association at Levelland, January 21.

Tunney Undergoes Operation Today

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(By Associated Press.)—Gene Tunney underwent an operation today at Presbyterian hospital, for removal of a large stone from the right kidney.

Daily newspapers pay too much attention to athletics and other subjects of secular interest and do not give enough space to the churches, is the opinion of Rev. H. L. Munger, pastor of the First Methodist church of this city.

"I sincerely believe that where there is one person interested in a football story there are from 10 to 20 interested in religious news," he said. "Please don't think I am knocking athletics because I realize that it plays an

"GIVE THE LAW A FAIR TRIAL" REQUESTS HOOVER'S ENFORCEMENT GROUP TODAY IN ITS REPORT; PRESIDENT HAS ADDRESS

PRESIDENT'S VIEWS ON PROBLEM GIVEN OUT TODAY

(By Associated Press.)—WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—President Hoover in transmitting the first preliminary report of the law enforcement commission to congress today, submitted this message:

To the congress of the United States:

In my previous messages I have requested the attention of the congress to the urgent situation which has grown up in the matter of enforcement of federal laws.

Pro Law Is Cause

After exhaustive examination on the subject, the commission on law observance and enforcement, and the officials of the department of justice and the treasury department unite in the conclusion that increasing enactment of federal criminal laws over the past twenty years, as to which violation of the prohibition laws comprises rather more than one half of the total arrests, has finally culminated in a burden upon the federal courts of a character for which they are ill designed, and in many cases entirely beyond their capacity. The result is to delay civil causes, and of even more importance, the defeat of both justice and law enforcement. Moreover, experience shows division of authority, responsibility, and lack of fundamental organization in federal enforcement agencies and official results in ineffective action.

While some sections of the American

George W. Wickersham, below, was chairman of the Hoover Law Enforcement Committee which recommended a stronger prohibition law for the United States after studying the crime situation for the past six months.

DISCORD IS BLAMED FOR FOUR DEATHS

ESTRANGEMENTS CAUSE HUSBANDS TO SHOOT CHILDREN

(By Associated Press.)—HOUSTON, Jan. 13.—Two victims of an estrangement between husband and wife were dead here today, while another was in a critical condition at a hospital.

Glen Turner, 40, and his daughter, Edna, 12, died last night, and a son, Archer, 9, was believed near death.

Turner Friday afternoon went to school for the children, took them to the home of his wife, from whom he was separated, and there shot them and himself.

Adams came here from Arlington.

COMMITTEE HAS LIST OF DIFFICULTIES MEETING LAW

(By Associated Press.)—WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Reserving judgment on its ultimate prohibition conclusions, the law enforcement commission—in a preliminary report sent to congress today—recommended that the national prohibition law be immediately strengthened in the interest of promoting observance of and respect for all law.

"If on no other grounds than to give the law a fair trial," the commission said, "there are obvious and uncontested difficulties, pointed out by experience, which may, and as we think should be met so as to make enforcement more effective."

Difficulties Declared

These difficulties were declared by the Hoover Commission to be: Division of enforcement between the treasury and justice departments.

Disordered condition of federal legislation involved in enforcement.

Possibilities of defeating prohibition by means of concealing ownership of property used for manufacture and sale of illicit liquor.

Congestion of petty prosecutions in the federal courts leading to wholesale disposition of accumulated cases under circumstances impairing the dignity of and injuring

THIRTY DIE IN STORMS

SHIP SINKS AND 20 ARE LOST; WIND IS VERY HIGH

(By Associated Press.)—LONDON, Jan. 13.—Thirty persons lost their lives in a terrific storm which swept England last night, twenty of the victims being members of the crew of H. M. S. Tur St. Genny, which sank thirty miles north of Ushant Light.

Only five men were rescued from the 425-ton vessel, which was en route to Gibraltar for service with the Atlantic fleet.

Wind Is High

There were at least ten deaths on land where the winds at places reached a velocity at more than a hundred miles an hour.

Falling trees were responsible for most of the casualties and for widespread cutting of telephone and telegraph lines and interruption of railway and highway traffic.

TO CIRCLE GLOBE

An attempt to circle the world in an airplane, in 10 days, is the ambition of Harry A. Husted, below, of Cleveland, after he has made a successful east-west non-stop flight across the Pacific. He plans an aerial refueling over the Hawaiian islands. The flight is to start in June.

JANITOR DIES AFTER MISHAP, EARLY TODAY

J. T. MONTGOMERY HIT BY CAR DRIVEN BY ORLAND PEEL

J. T. Montgomery, 63, who resided at 714 Avenue B, was fatally injured this morning at 6:45 o'clock when he was struck by an automobile and knocked to the pavement in the 600 block on East Broadway, near the viaduct.

Montgomery, who sustained a fractured skull, was rushed by a Bynum Brothers ambulance to a local hospital, where he died at 10:30 o'clock.

Man Knocked Down

Orland Peel, driver of the automobile, who was driving west on Broadway, explained that his attention was attracted to another car which was going east in the street and said he did not see Montgomery.

"The man was walking across the street," said Mr. Peel. "My car did not run over his body, but he was knocked over the pavement when struck by the right front fender."

I did not see him. My windshield was muddy and water had been splattered over my lights. Lights of the other car blinded me and the accident was unavoidable.

Peel Goes to Hospital

After following the ambulance to the hospital, Peel went to Montgomery's home and hastened the wife of the victim to her husband's bedside.

Montgomery was janitor of the Conley building, Broadway and Texas avenue, and was enroute to work when the accident occurred. Peel, who resides in the Canyon

FREEDOM FOR DOCTOR COOK IS UP AGAIN

HEARING TO BE HELD SOON; OPPOSITION IS LACKING

(By Associated Press.)—LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Jan. 13.—A parole hearing beginning in the federal penitentiary here today may spell freedom for Dr. Frederick A. Cook, explorer serving a sentence for using the mails to defraud.

Dr. Cook's parole application will be heard with 1,200 others. There is a general feeling here that the explorer's application will be approved, as there is no known opposition.

The man who was honored as a hero when he announced in 1908 that he had reached the North Pole, only later to be branded a faker, has been broken by his disgrace and penal confinement. It is on a plea of ill health that his parole application is based. Dr. Cook says he does not believe he can live through the remainder of his sentence of 14 years, 9 months.

Dr. Cook was sentenced from Fort Worth, in 1923 for using the mails to defraud in an oil promotion scheme, but did not enter the prison.

TWO KILLED IN AIR CRASH

EMMETT MYERS AND L. P. WHEELER DIE IN AMARILLO SUNDAY

(By Associated Press.)—AMARILLO, Jan. 13.—The list of fatalities from airplane accidents during the last year today stood at ten with the deaths yesterday of Emmett Myers, 27, pilot, and L. P. Wheeler, 34, killed when Myers' cabin monoplane plunged into a field after a 3,000 foot drop.

Myers, who "quit flying" when a friend, Lieut. Robert H. Gray, died in a crash recently, was flying one of six planes staged out of the air for a few days, but was unable to withstand the lure of the sky.

Three See Crash

Wheeler, airplane salesman, and Myers were attached to the English airport here. Harold W. English and Art Smith, both in the air, and a woman in an automobile, saw the fatal spin. Cause was not determined.

Gray, his wife and three business men were killed when the plane piloted by Gray crashed at the Hillcrest country club two weeks ago.

District Courts To Open Terms Today

Civil and jury dockets for the January term of 99th district court will be called here this afternoon by Judge Clark M. Mullican.

The appearance docket will be called tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Judge Homer L. Piarr, of this city, opened 72nd district court this morning in Crosbyton. Grand jury for the term is expected to be empaneled some time today.

Joe Hawkins, 35, charged with murder in connection with the fatal shooting October 28, of his father-in-law, S. M. Walker, 72, at the farm of the latter, four and one-half miles northwest of Ball, will be indicted probably by the Crosby county grand jury soon after adjournment.

Papers Give Churches Too Little Space, Munger Says

Methodist Pastor Here Decries Sensationalism In Press; Would Like To Be Editor For Time To Cut Space Given Sports and Crime

and when a minister talks about questions of such vital importance he should be quoted directly," said the pastor.

"I believe it would be a good idea for our local papers to publish one minister's sermon every Monday evening and in that way each would get a fair showing and those who were unable to attend the church service would have the sermon," he remarked.

Decries Sensationalism

"The great trouble with newspapers, as I see it," said Rev. Munger, "is that when they do quote a minister's statement they try and make it appear as sensational as possible carrying out the policy to give the people what they want. It is probably true that readers do want sensation but that is because they have been educated to like it. If the papers would feature the best along with the crime news, which plays such a prominent part on its front pages there would be fewer crimes committed," said Rev. Munger.

Rev. Munger thinks that the church notices which are printed in the Sunday papers should carry a brief statement with their hours of services and that notices which are handed in are cut too much by the news editors. "As far as advertising is concerned," he said, "I do not believe that the local churches give enough to regular display advertising as they are coming to do in many churches and I believe advertising is a good policy and that it does not have a tendency to commercialize the church.

"I would like to be an editor of a newspaper if I could edit it without interference," said the minister. "I would relegate crime, divorce and suicide news to a much smaller space and let the people know that there are more uplifting influences in America."

"I wouldn't like to be a reporter however," he added, "that isn't in my line."

"AMAZING, SECRET BRITISH NAVAL DOCUMENT" TURNS OUT TO BE SATIRE WRITTEN TO OFFSET 1919 PROPOGANDA

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Senate investigators ascertained Saturday from the author of the "Amazing, secret British document," given to the navy by William B. Shearer, that it was a "satire" on British propaganda, written in 1919, ten years ago.

Dr. William J. Maloney, who located in New York after being discharged from the British army because of wounds, testified he wrote the pamphlet in 1919 to offset British "propaganda" in this country for the league of nations by Lord Northcliffe, British publisher.

Shearer Is Present

Shearer, whose activities as the $25,000 "observer" for American shipbuilders at the 1927 Geneva naval parity have been the subject of inquiry by the senate, produced the so-called British document when questioned two months ago. He was present while Dr. Maloney was examined.

Dr. Maloney said that 500,000 copies of the "skit" were sold and run in serial form in the London Press as a piece of satire said the state department.

Robbery Suspects In Arkansas Are Jailed

TEXARKANA, Tex., Jan. 13.—Efforts were made today to learn what town in Southwest Arkansas was robbed by three women and two men arrested yesterday after they escaped injury when fired upon by pursuing officers. The quintet, second group arrested near here recently for robbing stores, admitted looting an Arkansas store, but were unable to give the name of the town.

The suspects riding in an automobile with Tennessee license plates, were taken into custody at Sulphur Springs after running a gauntlet of fire at Naples and leading a chase through several other towns of Northeast Texas.

Free Bridge To Be Built Near Denison

AUSTIN, Jan. 13.—Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer, said today that he Governor Moody and H. S. Sterling, chairman of the Highway commission, had signed the contract for the construction of a free bridge across the Red River between Denison and Durant, Oklahoma.

Oklahoma authorities signed the contract Saturday Gilchrist said. The document was forwarded to John Johnson of Tyler, highway commissioner, Saturday and the bridge probably had affixed his signature thus ending the ratification of proceedings authorized some time ago.

Mystery Seen In Houston Shooting

HOUSTON, Jan. 13.—Ed J. Benson, 24, was reported improving at a hospital today after a shooting Sunday in front of the home of Miss Grace Reid, 23 Benson had accompanied Miss Reid home.

Three shots were fired Benson was shot in the face through the shoulder and through the wrist. The shots, according to police, were fired from the direction of an automobile where three men waited for Benson to escort Miss Reid to her door. C. A. Reid, no relation to Miss Reid, was charged with assault to murder.

WORST BAD MAN CAUGHT; GETS 140 YEARS IN PEN AT AGE OF NINETEEN

By MADELIN LEOP
Central Press Writer

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 13.—Chicago may take first place in crime, but its "bad men" will have to go a long way to equal the record of Philadelphia's "boy bandit," William "Blackie" Zupkosky. Just 19, he was, until taken prisoner and convicted, the most feared man in the city. He had to his credit 113 holdups plus a thrilling escape from the Philadelphia General hospital, where he was thought to be dying of a bullet wound through the heart.

Young, dark complexioned, defiant, "Blackie" came to court handcuffed to two detectives but denying participation in any of the innumerable crimes of which he was accused. He stood before the court seemingly not one whit overawed or frightened by the possibility of being sentenced to a period of 410 to 50 years in prison. When he was convicted by four juries in record-breaking speed and sentenced to 70 to 140 years, his only answer was that they would have a hard time keeping him in the pen.

Why He Carries Bible
"Blackie" only superstition seemed to be that of carrying a Bible. When he was asked why he did that, he answered that he had read somewhere that a bandit was once saved from death by carrying the holy book. Instead of killing the bandit, the bullet went through the book.

Several months ago "Blackie" was caught by Detective Harry Neill. The "boy bandit" was shot and apparently seriously wounded. He was placed in the hospital under arrest. To everyone's amazement, sick as he was, he escaped. According to his own story, he leaped 30 feet out of a window, scaled an 18-foot wall, and hid in an empty lot for long hours. When he believed it was safe to move, he stole some workman's clothes which he found lying about, changed into them and felt himself once more a free man.

At "Blackie's" trial, when a detective was telling how he had grappled with Zupkosky before wounding him, "Blackie" interrupted to shout, "You're a liar. You're trying to show off. You shot me in the back."

That is "Blackie's" character. He is defiant to the end.

REV. ERWIN GIVES UP CHURCH POST

Rev. S. H. Erwin, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarenes, 14th street and Avenue Q, formally announced resignation from the local pastorate at conclusion of services Sunday it was announced today. Mr. Erwin's resignation followed a meeting of church members here last week with Rev. H. C. Cagle, superintendent of the Abilene district of the denomination. At that time the pastor told the Lubbock Daily Journal that he would make his resignation Sunday, provided he is paid in full for salary he says is due him, together with house rent and a note at a local bank.

Calhoun Not To Be Candidate For Post

BORGER, Jan. 13.—District Attorney Glen Calhoun, sent here by Governor Dan Moody, to help clean up Borger and Hutchinson county today set at rest reports he would be a candidate for attorney-general by the announcement he planned to retire from politics at the end of his term as district attorney.

DALLAS, Jan. 13.—High but far from dry on a peach tree limb near the summit of a hill that hides Jim Town from Dallas, a leghorn rooster sat for 24 hours while the wind clinked the icicles on his wing-tips.

That a rooster should park on a limb during the night, was investigated when the cock apparently disinclined to leave his perch. It was found the rooster's feet frozen to the limb, and his crowing device out of kilter.

FRANCE, FEARING NEW MOTORIZED GERMAN ARMY REBUILDS VAST CHAIN OF FRONTIER FORTS

BY MINOTT SAUNDERS
NEA Service Writer

PARIS, Jan. 13.—While arguing for the submarine as a defensive naval weapon, France is remodeling her frontier fortifications against possible invasion by land on strictly defensive lines as well.

The new fortifications now in process of construction on France's northwestern, northern and southwestern frontiers will be entirely different from the old line of forts that defended her border against Germany in 1914, according to War Minister Maginot. The system is intended, above all, to be utilized by the covering troops on the frontier itself in order to prevent its violation.

Old Style Forts Are Out
In addition to the permanent fortifications, which will constantly be in readiness for use, field fortifications will play an important part in defense. Field fortifications are considered very effective in modern warfare, whereas the old style forts would be obsolete. They are being calculated to give the necessary depth to permanent defenses and to constitute a barrier in uncovered regions.

Maginot also declared that mobile fortification parks will provide materials for rapid erection of field fortifications. His description of the plans now under way leaves no doubt that the chief aim of present French military precaution is to protect her frontiers and endeavor to avoid such an invasion as occurred in 1914.

It was admitted by Maginot that defense of frontier is no longer the same thing as defense of national territory. This naturally remains exposed in modern warfare to aerial attacks, however strongly the frontiers are defended. That is why another defensive aim of France is to create, not only a strong air force, but strong anti-aerial defense.

NUNNS FINANCE WORK ON ORGAN

(Special To The Journal)

CANYON, Jan. 13.—J. Lindsey Nunn, prominent chain newspaper man, and his father, J. E. Nunn, of Amarillo, have made a substantial gift to the First Baptist church of Canyon, by financing the installation of a pipe organ in the Canyon church which is approaching completion. The organ was presented to the local church by the First Baptist church of Amarillo.

The Nunn family are having the organ electrified and extensively remodelled before its installation in the church here.

This is the third pipe organ which has been presented to churches in this city, the Methodist and Presbyterian churches having secured theirs through the generosity of Amarillo churches which were moving to larger edifices and installing new pipe organs.

HOWARD PAYNE QUINTET OPENS SERIES WITH TECH TONIGHT

IN THE REALM OF SPORTS

WITH ALLAN CARNEY
Journal Sports Editor

Coch Joe Bailey Chaney and his Howard Payne Yellow Jackets are here today and tomorrow to engage the Matador basketball team in a two-game series that will furnish the first severe test for the Payne-coached dribblers. The two teams tangled tonight in the college gymnasium and again Tuesday night, and the result of the two contests will throw considerable light on the sort of season the Tech basketballers are likely to have.

The crowd that turned out last Friday evening to witness the return engagement between the Matadors and Wayland College Jackrabbits was indicative of a record year as to attendance for home basketball games. In fact there were practically twice as many cash customers on hand for the opening home contest than there were for last season's first game. With three hard games this week with Texas Conference teams, local fans are promised some first-class college basketball entertainment. Following the two game series with the Jackrabbits from Brownwood, Coach Payne will have one night in which to prepare for his Thursday battle with the Simmons University Cowboys from Abilene. This will be a tough scrap for the homeboys and one that will require all the strength and strength available to turn back the Texas Conference title holders.

Basketball standings in the Southwest Conference, following the first week of championship activity, look just about as they have looked for the past four or five seasons. Perched on the top rung in their familiar position are the Arkansas Razorbacks, credited with two victories over the T. C. U. Horned Frogs. Next come the Texas Longhorns, who likewise have emerged as the winner in the first two combats with conference teams—one over Rice and the other over Baylor. The Texas Aggies also boast a clean slate thus far, having turned back the S. M. U. Mustangs, 23 to 20. The Forties lost their fourth game with one victory over Rice and a loss to the Aggies. Baylor, T. C. U. and Rice bring up the rear in the class with the also-rans.

Although the Razorbacks won a double-barreled victory over Francis Schmidt's Purple Frogs, the scores indicate the Porks will not have anything like a picnic in their struggle for another Southwest championship. Fayetteville holds the spotlight again this week as the Texas Longhorns invade the Porks' stronghold for a pair of games Friday and Saturday nights. This series brings together the two strongest pre-season favorites and should throw much light on the conference race.

Last year the Longhorns stopped the long winning streak of the Razorbacks and incidentally were the only cagers in the conference that defeated the laiky lads from the Ozarks. Minus the master mind, Francis Schmidt, the Arkansas court artists are undoubtedly no dangerous team last season. The Texas quint is also handicapped this year by the loss of Holly Brock, one of the best basketball players that the conference has ever seen. A strong defense that Coach Fred Walker has taught the Steers is considered the strong forte of the Orange cagers. Around the towering Alfred Rose, Coach Walker is fast welding a powerful club. Rose has developed into one of the most dangerous scoring threats in the loop as well as a consistent defensive cog. Sugar Camp, who was Brock's running mate for two years at forward, is holding down his post this year in great style.

Because their new half-million dollar gymnasium is under construction, the Longhorns were forced to match the first ten conference games on foreign courts. This situation will be some handicap to the Steers but the reserve power of the squad indicates Coach Walker will give the other teams in the conference a hot battle before the race is over.

The Simmons University Cowboys will meet both the Wayland Jackrabbits at Plainview and the Canyon Buffaloes at Canyon before they come here Thursday night for a single engagement with the Matador court aggregation. Coach Leslie Cranfill is bringing ten men on the tour of this section. The Simmons squad this year is made up for the most part of veterans and will likely make things hot for the other contenders for the Texas Conference title.

TEXAS LEAGUE TO AID EAST TEXANS

HOUSTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—The Texas league has decided to sponsor financially a six-team Class D league in the central and east Texas area if basketball Commissioner K. M. Landis approves, it was announced today.

Each Texas league club would be assigned the men on the Class D team it sponsored at the end of the season.

Joe Mathes, former Texas league star, would be president of the new circuit.

Teams eligible as members include Corsicana, Longview, Paris, Palestine, Texarkana, Tyler, Marshall, Greenville and Mexia.

CHANNEY HAS STRONG TEAM FOR CONTESTS

EXCITING GAMES AWAIT FANS AT GYM; TO START AT 8

Texas Tech's basketball stalwarts are on their home court this week to defend their fortress against the invasion of two of the most powerful court aggregations in the Texas Conference—Howard Payne College of Brownwood and Simmons University of Abilene.

Tonight and tomorrow night the Yellow Jackets from Howard Payne will attempt to stop the stampeding Matadors at the college gymnasium and a merry scramble is anticipated in both contests. Coach Vic Channey's court dribblers are on edge for the pair of engagements with the Jackrabbits and determined to run their winning streak to four straight.

Jackets Ready
Coach Joe Bailey Chaney and his squad of basketballers arrived in Lubbock this afternoon and appeared fit and ready for the first encounter tonight, starting at 8 o'clock. The Texas Conference club boasts one of the strongest cage units in the history of the school and previous reports from Brownwood indicate the locals will have their hands full in both games.

Tech's court artists still lack the polish that Coach Payne has been working for, but the showing of the Matadors in their two triumphs over Wayland was enough to prove that one of the strongest basketball teams in the history of the institution is in the making. Tonight's opening game with the Yellow Jackets is likely to find the same starting lineup on the floor that drew first call in both games last week with the Jackrabbits. This combination has Hodges and Fisher at forwards; Maxwell at center; Tadlock and Vinzant at guards.

Simmons Here Thursday

Thursday night, on the local court the Simmons Cowboys will play their annual visit to the Matadors. This season the Cowhands are led by a new coach, Leslie (Fats) Cranfill. The Simmons team last year breezed through to a conference championship under the leadership of Frank Bridges and with a host of veterans back this season. Cranfill, the Simmons team last year strong race.

SOONERS TO PLAY NINE GRID TILTS

NORMAN, Okla., Jan. 13.—(Special)—With negotiations complete for a game with the University of New Mexico October 4, nine games are now on the 1930 schedule for the grid team of the University of Oklahoma, according to Ben G. Owen, director of athletics.

Comparatively little is known of the past strength of the newly added foe, except that during the past season the "Lobos" were able to win three, lose the same number and tie the two last season.

The New Mexico team will serve as an early season test for the Red and White team, coming just before the powerful Nebraska Cornhuskers invade Owen Field. The annual "Boomer" soccer clash has been set back to September 27, to enable the playing of the New Mexico-Sooner contest.

The Sooner 1930 schedule: Sept. 27—Boomers at Norman. Oct. 4—New Mexico at Norman. Oct. 11—Oklahoma at Norman. Oct. 18—Texas at Dallas. Oct. 25—Kansas Aggies at Norman.

Nov. 1—Jowa State at Ames. Nov. 8—Open date. Nov. 15—Kansas at Lawrence. Nov. 23—Oklahoma Aggies at Stillwater. Nov. 27—Missouri at Norman.

The condor, huge South American vulture, is from 44 to 55 inches in length and has a wing spread of eight and a half to ten and a half feet.

SHUTE LEADS GOLF ROUNDS

STORM CATCHES ARMY OF STARS; HAGEN TAKES OUT

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13.—Half a hundred select waders of the national fairways today put behind them two distressing rounds of golf over the rain-soaked, wind-swept Riviera course, and prepared to continue play in the Los Angeles $10,000 open tournament, cheered by the prospect of a clear day.

A young professional from Columbia, Ohio, Denny Shute, who yesterday conquered the treacherous course and the rioting elements to shoot a 74, three over par, headed this array of qualifiers with a score of 147. This gave a two-stroke advantage over his nearest rival Horton Smith of the Missouri Ozarks.

Hagen Takes Out
Among the discards—The eighty who failed to shoot 139 or better—were some of the country's golfing elite, including the veteran campaigner, Walter Hagen. The "Hag" yesterday picked up his ball at the end of the eighth hole and announced he "had enough."

Catch, when the storm was at its peak, the British open champion took 40 strokes on the first 8 holes, after shooting an 81 in Friday's opening round.

Hagen was not alone. Fourteen others gave up in despair. Chief among these were Henry Cluid, one of New England's leading pros, Craig Wood, winner of the Hawaiian open, Al Watrous, Detroit pro, Johnny Dawson, high ranking amateur from Chicago, and Joe Turney, member of the Ryder Cup team.

LAMESA GIVES 26 FOOTBALL LETTERS

LAMESA, Jan. 13.—(Special)—Twenty-six Lamesa Golden Tornadoes received their football letters here this week. Gold sweaters with black "L's" were distributed to eighteen first string players, six reserves and two managers. Recipients of the letters are: Bill Austin, Carr Sprayberry, Drue Lockhart, J. K. Salser, Rupert Austin, Jack Borden, Carl Wiggins, Pat Riley, Hilary Banta, Douglas Hill, Earl Moore, Lloyd Marr, Slim Carroll, Red Moss, Wilford Ham, Vernie Matthews, Byrl Ripley, David Treadway, reserves: John Marr, Hugh Clearman, Ralph Jordan, Joe Evans, Clyde Wyatt, Nolan Evans; managers: Ross Lowery and Conley Baldwin.

MANASSA MAULER SAYS SAILOR IS LEADER; OTHERS RANKED

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—So far as Jack Dempsey is concerned, the heavyweight champion of the world is Jack Sharkey of Boston.

Ranking the boxers in each division for The Ring, little magazine, the Manassa Mauler placed Sharkey at the top of the heap and termed him the "accredited world's heavyweight champion."

Back of the Boston Sailor Dempsey ranked Max Baer of Germany, Tuffy Griffiths of Sioux City, Ia., and Phil Scott of England. Then he grouped seven men—Tommy Loughran, Otto Von Porat, George Godfrey, Johnny Risko, Victorio Campolo, Young Stribling, and Paulino Uscudun. The rankings were made before Paulino's victory over Von Porat in the Madison Square Garden Friday night.

May Fry Comeback
Of his own plans, Dempsey said little that was definite. He believed Sharkey was good enough to repel all attempts to take the heavyweight title out of his country, but he hinted that if the sailor failed, he (Dempsey) might try a comeback. "I still feel," said Jack, "that even with long absence from ring competition, I could give a good account of myself with any of the present crop of heavyweights. On the face of things, however, I feel I am done as an active participant."

Dempsey's rankings, however, seemed those made for the ring for several years by the late Tex Rickard.

Ranks Leaders
Here's the way Dempsey ranked the leaders:

Light Heavyweights—Maxey Roebloom, Jimmy Slattery, Lou Sozo, Leo Lonski.
Middleweights—Mickey Walker, Dave Shadr, Rene Devos, Ace Hudkins.
Welterweights—Jackie Fields and Jimmy McLaughlin.
Lightweights—Sammy Mandell and Tony Canzonieri.
Featherweights—Kid Chocolate, Earl Mastro and Bart Battalino.
Bantamweights—Al Brown and Bushy Graham.
Flyweights—Black Bill and Midget Flyweight.

University Suit Is Up To School Heads

AUSTIN, Jan. 13.—Plans for a suit seeking recovery of oil and gas land in Crane county for the University of Texas today awaited a meeting of the school's board of regents, January 20, Attorney General R. L. Hobbs said after an announcement from El Paso that he had been requested to go ahead with the suit, tentative plans for which were revealed some time ago.

The suit would seek to recover 347 acres of land, part of Block 30, University of Texas land, in Crane county, on which there are 47 producing wells.

SEVEN ACCEPT FLOYDADA BID

AT LEAST TWENTY CAGE TEAMS EXPECTED IN TOURNAMENT

(Special To The Journal)
FLOYDADA, Jan. 13.—With definite acceptance, to attend and participate in the fourth annual South Plains Invitational Basketball tournament to be held in Floydada on February 7 and 8, from seven high schools from as many South Plains cities, present indications pointed to a very large and successful invitation tournament. It is expected that probably twenty teams will enter the two-day event and the competition between the teams is expected to be stronger than ever before.

The tournament was inaugurated four years ago by athletic officials of the Floydada High school and it is strictly a practice meet, with the strongest teams over the South Plains invited to participate. The invitation tournament idea has grown by leaps and bounds since its initiation in Floydada in 1926, and the idea has been adopted by many towns over the section. Since the one in Floydada was the first of its kind, and since the majority of stronger teams over this section are represented here each year, the tournament in Floydada is looked on by cage fans as being the most important of the season.

To Get Trophies
Winners of the tournament are presented with gold basketball watch charms for each member of the winning team. It is the plan of the officials to follow the same plan this year as last and to present a set of silver basketball charms to the members of the runner up team.

All games will be played in the Andrews Ward gymnasium. A system of elimination will be worked out at the first preliminaries, beginning the morning of the 7th and the final championship game on the evening of Saturday February 8th.

Definite acceptance to the invitation mailed recently have been received from the school at Turkey, Plainview, Olton, Post, Dickens, Lamesa, and Lorenzo. Acceptances are expected to be received from ten or twelve more teams by the latter part of the month.

DOWELL VISITS IN CITY

Dowell filled one of the half-back berths on the Clovis aggregation.

CASTOFF HAS GREAT SEASON WITH INDIANS

SIMMONS IS SECOND; DETROIT CLUB IS TEAM LEADER

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—Lew Fonseca whose major league baseball career apparently was over when he was shipped to the minors by the Philadelphia Nationals four years ago was the leading batsman of the American league last season.

Fonseca, playing first base for the Cleveland Indians, won the league batting title with the lowest average since Ty Cobb's 1914 championship mark. Fonseca batted .566 times in 148 games, hitting safely 209 times for an average of .369.

Others in the leading ten were Al Simmons, outfielder of the world championship Philadelphia Athletics, was runner-up to Fonseca with an average of .365, and Henry Mahan, St. Louis Brown outfielder, was third with .355.

The team batting championship was won by Detroit, with a mark of .369. The Tigers' average was three points better than that of the Athletics who finished second.

Gehrig's Best
Charlie Gehrig, Detroit second baseman, was the busiest batsman in the league. He rated eleventh in the list with a mark of .339; played in the most games—155; led in stolen bases with 27; scored 131 runs for another tie and gained two ties. He tied with his teammate, Alexander, for most hits, each collecting 215, and with another teammate, Roy Johnson, and Mahan, led in two base hits with 45. He also batted in 109 runs.

Babe Ruth drove out 46 home runs to retain his title, while Joe Sewell of Cleveland, led in sacrifices with 41.

PORKERS AND TEXAS IN TIE

LEADERS TO MEET THIS WEEK-END; BOTH ARE UNDEFEATED

(By Gayle Talbot, Jr.)
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, Jan. 13 (AP)—Texas university and Arkansas, whose teams fought it out for the 1929 Southwest conference basketball crown, will renew court relations this week-end at Fayetteville, and there is an even chance 1930 laurels will be at stake.

The champion Razorbacks, victorious over the Texas Christian University Horned Frogs in their opening series, and the Longhorns, tied with the four-time leaders by virtue of triumphs over Rice and Baylor in their opening tussles last week, clash Friday and Saturday.

Only One to Win
Last year Texas was the only team to defeat the Porks, downing the Ozark Gladiators in one of two games at Austin, only to lose a chance at the championship by failing to win the second game.

An invasion of North Texas by the Rice Owls will be the only court attraction. The Feathered Ones, trounced both by Texas and Southern Methodist last week, will try a comeback. They tackle S. M. U. Friday night at Dallas and take on Texas Christian Saturday night at Fort Worth. Baylor and the Aggies are not scheduled.

Games last week would indicate the conference field is tightly matched. Arkansas was given a hard battle by the Frogs, winning, 22 to 18, after the Christians came near overtaking a 13 to 5 disadvantage at the half.

onhorns Rushed
Texas had a close brush with Baylor before winning its second start. The Bruins tied the count just before the end of the regular playing period, and the Longhorns were forced to two extra sessions to win, 35 to 32.

Southern Methodist broke even in its invasion of the lower end of the conference, losing to the Aggies Friday night but coming back to nudge over Rice, 41 to 40, Saturday night at Houston.

HACK WILSON'S PRIDE IS NUDGED BY SHIRES' REMARKS; MAY FIGHT GREAT ONE TO UPHOLD HONOR OF NATIONAL

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—His pride nudged by some remarks made by Charles Arthur (The Great) Shires, and his imagination troubled by things Promoter Jim Mullen keeps saying about $15,000 for a fight, again have aroused Lewis (Hack) Wilson.

The Dempsey of the dugouts has made his reply to Shires' assertion at Boston last Friday night that "I didn't want Spohrer. I wanted Wilson."

"I want Shires just twice as bad as he wants me," Wilson said in breaking his long silence at his home at Marlborough, W. Va.

Has Another Offer
Added to what he considered a belittling remark by Shires, Wilson has had another offer from Promoter Mullen, asking him to meet Shires at White City Arena for $15,000.

Shires was all wound up to retire from the flat fighting business, but his triumph over Al Spohrer, Boston Braves catcher, and some offers from here and there have served to whet his desire for more glory, money and publicity. Among the reported offers was one from the Pacific Coast for a bout with Walter "Duster" Mails, former Cleveland pitcher, and the first to nominate himself as "The Great."

Wilson said he would come to Chicago within 10 days to seek permission from William L. Veck, president of the Cubs, to fight the Great One for the honor of the National League—and $15,000.

Wilson suggested Godfrey, who is 6 feet 4 and weighs 245. Matching the Powerful Panacea against Rice or Griffiths would be a joke, says he. John McGraw is in Havana while the quarrel between Stoenham and McQuade rages merrily on. Mr. McGraw is not one to have his vacation spoiled by such matters. Pony McAtee is the best golfer among the jockeys. Louis Berling, cartoonist for the Paris "Matin," came along with Primo Carnera. He is teaching the Panacea to draw, and is being paid twice his newspaper salary while on the trip. Carnera carries a cane that weighs nine pounds. Thought For Today
As with the proverb of the ancients, wickedness proceedeth from the

The wickedness of the few makes the calamity of the many.—Plutarch Syrus.

A Promise
It is beginning to look as if the Philippine Islands might get their independence because of all things
—of the new tariff bill which the Congress of the United States is now framing.

The fight to free the Philippines
is more than 30 years old now.
Bryan based his presidential campaign of 1900 on it, and lost. The Senate in 1916, voted to grant independence within ten years, but the measure lost in the House. Since then the movement has never been close to success.

But now, strangely enough, it boils
up again—and this time the Philippines' chance for independence is brighter than ever.

It is rather curious when you stop to consider it.

We have promised independence to the Philippines repeatedly. We promised it when we first took them
from Spain, and we have promised it since at intervals ever since. But the promise never weighed very heavily on our consciences.

Now, however, there is a tariff in making. And the tariff may do the trick.

The Philippine Islands have become great producers of sugar—
something like 600,000 tons a year.
Since the islands are possessions
of the United States, his sugar
comes into this country duty free.

But American investors have many hundreds of millions of dollars invested in sugar plantations in Cuba. These plantations are unable to compete with duty-free Philippine sugar, are having a bad time of it. All of Cuba is suffering.
Sugar growers within the United States,
both in the cane and beet divisions
are up against the same thing.

So Congress, to relieve the situation, would like to put a duty on Philippine sugar. To do this, however, it must grant the islands independence.

The Philippines, accordingly, are nearer independence now than ever before. Before the winter ends it is quite possible that a bill setting them free will be passed by Congress.

We haven't the faintest notion—never having been there—whether the Philippines are ready for self-government yet. And it's very likely that all good Americans ought to rejoice to see their country at last ready to honor its old pledge.

But somehow the thing leaves a bad taste in our mouth.

When it was a matter of honor alone—a simple matter of keeping a promise—this country couldn't see its way clear to do anything about it.

Now it has become a matter of dollars and cents. That hits us where we live. So maybe, now, we'll keep our promise.

The whole thing is a rather sharp
commentary on our national character.

Safer
The chairman of the executive committee of the Public Safety League in Detroit, bewailing Detroit's high traffic casualty list, suggests frantically that the city flood the streets every day in winter time
so that they would be good and slippery.

"During our last seven days of icy pavements," he points out, "not one person was killed. The driver thinks about his own life when it's slippery, and so does the pedestrian."
As a result, everyone is more cautious.

All of which seems to indicate that under ordinary conditions we're a pretty thorough bunch of motorists. If we always drove carefully as we do when the pavement is slippery, there would be nearly few fatal automobile accidents.

THE PLAINSMAN

That Girl on Broadway says a hothead is known by the company that comes.

This column is in receipt of two letters, both bearing upon city affairs and both worthy of consideration. The first, probably the most pungent of the two, has to do with "student hitch-hikers" on Lubbock's streets. The other deals with the army of the unemployed, soldiers in which are seen every day in Lubbock and every other city.

The letter dealing with the "student hitch-hikers" was handed this column by Mayor Harley D. Woods, to whom it was originally sent, together with a newspaper clipping.
The former reads:

Dear Mayor:
"Believing that you have been impressed with great need for something like this, not only in Lubbock—but most of the other cities and towns of the state,
and as Lubbock has always stood for everything for the common good of her people, I am wondering if you have seen the little article which appeared in our paper of Sunday?"

"This would be a fine thing
for Lubbock, and would be much better, if it had added, that these students must not walk on the streets, which is so dangerous not only for the students, but endangers the life
and property of the motorist,
and has become a nuisance, as all students are guilty of the practice, even the little fellows
in the grade schools."

The clipping which accompanied the letter sent Mayor Woods reads
as follows:

"ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 4.—University of Georgia students and co-eds can no more hitch-hike from and to classes. If they do they will be liable to a fine of $25."

"The city council, spurred on by numerous complaints from residents of the city that the students were becoming a nuisance by flagging motorists from every corner, has passed an ordinance prohibiting any one from soliciting an automobile ride within the city limits."

"Any person who fails, or even gestures to a passing motorist will be liable to prosecution under the new law."

"Among the complaints by local residents was that children of elementary and high schools were taking up the hitch-hiking practice patterning after the college students."

The above subject is one upon which The Plainsman has written before although it never dawned on the writer that the issue of a municipal ordinance would be necessary in order to stop the practice of "student hitch-hiking." The writer doesn't believe motorists have any objection to picking up students, if they have the time and room in their cars to accommodate them, but it is admittedly a nuisance to have the streets cluttered up all the time and, in addition, creates a decided danger to both student and motorist alike.

One of these days, if the practice is allowed to continue, one of the city's ambulances is going to have to go out on Broadway or Main and gather a student or two up in a bucket. How a serious accident has escaped occurring thus far is, to The Plainsman, one of life's unsolved mysteries. This writer and many others in Lubbock will watch with interest the Mayor's decision upon the subject introduced by letter and clipping.

The other letter came to The Plainsman direct and was signed
"A Reader." Aside from the flowers presented this column—
which we blushing accept with thanks—most folks will read it with interest. Here goes:

"With your help and boosting,
Lubbock has put over some big things here in the past year and is still going strong in big things.
I would like to call your attention to a few things that could be done."

"There is a whole army of middle-aged and past middle-aged men, who
at idle, day after day, on the courthouse lawn and stand on street corners. Men who are no longer considered of any working value to the public, men who are knocker-kickers and bitter because of the fact that they can no longer 'see a way out' for themselves and families."

"These men, if given a chance, could be useful. Most of them would be glad to work at anything that they could to help support themselves and families."

"There are things they could do that the city needs to have done.
Lubbock needs a general cleanup of vacant lots and some lots that aren't vacant. Also, the Lubbock cemetery needs attention. There are lots of things they could do, and are willing to do, as a very small cost to Lubbock that would mean much to them."

"It would cut down expenses of the local charities and different clubs. Of course some of them would have to be in dire need before calling for help. Some have to depend on their children while some of them are already carrying a load of a growing family on their own shoulders. Any of these cases are pitiful and it seems to me that they could be looked after as the other needs of the city are."

"I am not one of these men but was taught to respect age and my

It has at least 10,000,000 papers tucked away in 8,000 or 9,000 filing cases, dating back to 1906, and most of them mean something or other.

The idea is that if anyone connected with the government asks for any information whatever on the internal affairs of any foreign nation the Bureau of Indexes and Archives, working with an elaborate but simple decimal index system, can locate it within two minutes.

Lots of Military Facts
Naturally, this is better than any encyclopedia or library because the information is constantly kept up to date on American diplomatic con-
sules and other agents abroad.

The State Department itself is especially interested in collecting military and political information
likely to be useful in its dealings with other governments, but that's only a part of what it has on hand.

Among the subheadings it uses
in cataloguing the rest of the world
one observes such items as Domestic Animals, Boy Scouts, Game Laws, Flowers, Entertainment, Fine
Arts, Public Health and Animal Diseases. When the State Department knows about such things as those in Czechoslovakia, Afghanistan, Costa Rica, Luxembourg, and Iraq you might almost say it knows everything.

There are about 4 persons in this Bureau of Indexes and Archives,
and last year they handled
1,340,000 pieces of incoming mail, recording, indexing, routing and filing. Much of this mail came in the diplomatic pouches from foreign service officials, guarded by complex locks, but there is always a big influx of American mail following the development of important situations in world affairs—especially anything that concerns peace or disarmament.

Mail clerks take first crack at the letters and roughly classify them for distribution among the bureau's 11 record sections—with titles such as Far Eastern, Latin-American, Western European and Administrative—where they are given minute classification. Record clerks in these sections list and make the necessary marks on each communication, determining its routing and often joining it with previous correspondence for the aid of the receiving official. Some of the material is very confidential and is carried in lock boxes.

Each piece of mail then goes through a reviewing desk which checks the classification and sends it direct to its immediate destination. Anything on labor conditions in England goes to the department's division of Western European Affairs, anything on Chinese famines to the Far Eastern division, and so on. The foreign service officer who receives the paper then sees whether it requires any action.
He may mark it for filing, in which case it comes back to a tally desk which removes the charge. All incoming papers are charged up, as a book from a lending library.

They Never Lost a Thing
If the letter or report is moved on
for the perusal of several officials,
the Bureau can always tell, through its check system, just where the paper is. It has to go back there before it can move on, carried by messengers who make the rounds, visiting each office every 20 minutes.

Eventually, of course, everything goes back for filing.
"Doesn't anything ever get lost?"
David A. Salmon, chief of the bureau, was asked.

"Papers may be mislaid," he replied, "but I never knew one to be lost."

FLASHES OF LIFE
As Brought Over
Associated Press
Wires Today

MAY NEED HEAVIES
LONDON.—The well dressed
American diplomat in London,
during the five power naval conference, perhaps will need flannel underwear. The conference will be held during London's coldest season. There is no steam heat in St. James's Palace, where the conference sessions will take place. Fireplaces are the means of heating.

SKIRTS SLOW IT UP
NEW YORK.—Victoria Beller, a contralto of the Metropolitan Opera company, complains that rehearsals are slowed up by trailing skirts and companion great lady manners. In the era of short skirts
a singer had no difficulty in navigating around moving scenery.

FRON ON SMOKING
NEW YORK.—The society of friends (Quakers) has voted disapproval of a proposal that a room be set aside at Swarthmore College, Quaker-supported, for girls to smoke.

CLAIM HONOR
PARIS.—Cocktails, which Frenchmen once frowned upon as an American invention, are now so popular that French writers are claiming they originated in France. A newspaper writer says that Mary De Medici, famous queen who kept a well stocked poison cabinet, is the true grandmother of the modern mixed drink.

TELEPHONE COMPANY
IMPROVES IN HOWARD
BIG SPRING, Jan. 13.—(Special)
—During the past year the Southwestern Bell Telephone company has made extensive improvements
putting up miles of cable, connecting new phones at the rate of one a day for an average. They have put up 25,000 feet of 30 to 40 pair
cable in Big Spring during the past twelve months which is over seven and one half miles. Big Spring now has 187 telephones, a gain of 314 or 22 percent over that of last year with a large waiting list to be cared for as fast as possible said
Mr. Cayton, local manager.

heart goes out to them."

The Plainsman joins with "A Reader" in the wish that employment could be afforded generally to those of which the letter speaks. Putting them to work for the city, however, is out of the question, for two reasons. In the first place, the city hasn't the funds to spend thusly and is not empowered to spend them should we suddenly wake up some morning and find the municipal treasury bursting.
Some of them might be put to work at the cemetery, which does need attention, but that would be up to the Cemetery association.

That Man on Avenue Q says he wouldn't care to be the leader of a jazz band. Merely to feel like one looks would be enough.

In New York

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—This is not a happy new year for the lane where the lights burn long and late.
Those famous bulbs seem to have taken a sick in the socket. They're beginning to blink a bit.

With the holiday entertainment season at its peak, twenty of the leading theaters are as dark as a Harlem cabaret floor show. More than 100 plays are gathering the dust of the stage storehouse, and
"the road"—which in days ago
could be depended upon—has been just as bad. Even Otis Skinner, who once could draw entire countryside into the theater, was dropped in the midst of his tour by Gilbert Miller, his manager.

Only Ethel Barrymore and
the Theater Guild productions
have survived the rigors of the road,
of work and desperate, thanks to the inroads of the talking pictures which brought about the abandonment of scores of theater orchestras.

And on "music corner," a spot in the Forties where the jazz banditti gather while looking for work, the crowds grow, and saxophone players look about for some new form of livelihood. Chordians are casting their eyes on Hollywood and Hollywood is casting its eyes on Broadway.

The scarcity of music shows on the big street amounts almost to a famine. And three of the most successful have not depended upon the Broadway girls. "Bitter Sweet" has a London company. So has
"Wake Up and Dream." While
"Fifty Million Frenchmen" turned to the cinema cuties and brought its chorus out from the Golden West. Such conditions put choruses at a premium. The gilded girls are turning to floor shows of flourishing calisthenics and to modeling for the Fifth Avenue style emporiums.

Whenever such dismal moments are at hand, I find myself turning to a department in Lubbock, the publication of the show world, and the chaos of the ups and downs of the nation's richmen.

A pitman I assume you know is one of those itinerant genia who appear on street corners and in doorways and windows selling cheap toys, trinkets, and gadgets for threading needles and darning needles. They put on a quack sidewalk spiel and seek to spellbind the passing crowd. They are, in some instances, real artists
in crowd psychology.

One learns, for instance, that Richmond charges $2 a day
for "pitch" and that "this is a good Saturday night."
"Oklahoma is bad land for pitchmen in all lines. Many of the good towns of former years are closed and his in open towns is dull."

One can also learn about medicine shows and Indian herb doctors
—in fact many interesting survival
of a passing day.

Speaking of pitch stands, the "words and music" racket that appeared in the Broadway belt, it just the same as it used to be in those dear old days when we paid 10, 20 and 30 for seats at the "professional" and the kids came down the aisles between the acrobats, shouting words and music to all the songs.

"When you bought the pamphlets
you found a lot of words and no music."

During the holidays scores of youngsters were to be heard upon metropolitan corners, chanting—
"Sing 'em all—here yare." "Gunga Din." "Dangerous Dan McGraw" and Down in the Lehigh Valley."
Sing 'em and recite 'em."

Can this be New York? ... and in the year ... let's see ... 1930,
isn't it?

At any rate, a Happy New Year.

ORLANDO, Fla., Jan. 13.—(Ap-absolute quarantine against all Florida fruits and vegetables will be declared by 14 states in event the

The telegrams were in response to messages sent entomologists of Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, Ten-

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters MD
Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

Reduces Sixty-Two and a Half Pounds
"DEAR DOCTOR: A year ago
(11 months, to be exact) I began to Petersize. My friends told me it couldn't be done, but being of a very determined frame of mind, I wouldn't give up, once I had started. When I began, I weighed just 219½. I am 5 feet 6½ inches tall, and 30 years old. Yesterday I weighed 157, a loss of 62½ pounds. Isn't that fine? I'm more than delighted. I used to wear a 44
brassiere, now I take 36. And I can't wear a 44
any more."

I wrinkled? Not a bit; in fact, my husby says I look 10 years younger,
and really, that is how I feel. Am I near enough to my normal weight,
or shall I get down to 150?

"Never, never again will I get so terribly fat because of overeating.
Counting calories isn't at all bad,
and I've grown to love my daily walks. (I walk 1-1½ to 2 miles every day.)"

According to the rule of allowing 110 pounds for 5 feet in height (in stocking feet) and 5-1½ pounds for each inch over that, you should weigh around 145, so you are about 12 pounds over this standard. Mrs.
S. However, it may be that this is not a loss for you, if your framework is heavy.

Usually, if there is 10 or 12 pounds
excess, it is easier to gain more pounds, on a diet, than would not add extra weight if you were normal. You will have to find out for yourself whether that extra pound-
age is in excess, for you.

Walking is one of the best of the reducing exercises. One gets more oxygen into the lungs and it stimulates the body fire a little, as all exercise does. One reason for the value of walking, of course, is that it is taken in the open, and another is that most people can indulge in it.

You are young, and your skin is still elastic and you reduced slowly, so naturally there is no wrinkling.
I congratulate you on your good results, Mrs. S.

The Petersizing instructions are contained in a pamphlet, which can be obtained by following column rules.

Mrs. O.—No, eating chilled ice would not cause anemia. I know of no harm that comes from the habit, if it is ice that has been made of pure water. It is presumed you don't swallow chunks of ice,
but let them melt in your mouth
so that water swallowed is near the body temperature.

Ice cold water, taken rapidly, may disappear after a reasonable time, depress the secretary function of the stomach and delay digestion,
but if sipped it does no harm.
Cracked ice is often given in fever, where it is very gratefully received. It helps to furnish the large amount of water that is necessary to cool the body.

If you are interested, we have a pamphlet on the Anemias, which give the Minot-Murphy diet in Pernicious Anemia.

P. O.—You should have any unusual lump investigated that does not disappear after a reasonable time.
(Certain warts and moles, of course,
wouldn't disappear by themselves,
but if they should begin to grow, you should have expert advice.)

Yes, the gopher known as exoph-thalmic goiter is accompanied by considerable disturbance in the heart.

You need medical attention, P. O.
If you don't know the doctors,
your vicinity, ring up your council medical society and ask for a list.
We have an article on Thyroid Disturbances which may interest you.
See Column rules for obtaining this.

Editor's Note: Dr. Peters cannot diagnose nor give personal advice.
Your question, if of general interest, will be answered in the column
in their turn. Requests for articles or pamphlets on hand must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed stamped envelope, plus the following small charge to help cover cost of printing and handling, for each article wanted, two cents in coin
for each pamphlet ten cents in coin.
The pamphlets are: A Reducing Diet
for Women, 10c; A Reducing Diet
for Men, 10c; Bladder Disorders, 10c.

Who's Who in Timely Views

PREDICTED
BY JAMES J. DAVIS, Secretary of Labor
(James J. Davis was born in Tredgare, South Wales, Oct. 27, 1910.
He was educated in the public schools and later took a business course for several months. He holds several degrees from two American universities. He came to the United States with his parents in 1912 and began working as a puddler's assistant in an iron works at Shadow, Pa., and later in Pittsburgh. He moved to Elmwood, Ind. in 1913 where he worked in steel and tin plate mills there. He was elected director general of the Loyal Order of Moose in 1906 and was appointed secretary of labor in 1921. He founded the Mooseheart Home and School Mooseheart, Ill.)

During the long period of remarkable good fortune we have been enjoying, it was commonly said that the principal factors contributing to our industrial stability
was the good weather prevailing between American em-ployers
and workers. No doubt many of us had a feeling that this good will was a frail
thing, a fairweather product
which the first industrial disturbance would blow away.

If any so doubted, they know now that they were wrong. This spirit of co-operation between employers and workers has been as strong as ever, and ever so strong a shock as it will ever receive.

In recent months employees of labor have been subject to every tem-pestation that in former times impelled them to lay off workers and reduce wages. Under such conditions in former times, the worker rebelled and created additional unrest.

MIXED STOCKS MOVE UPWARD

PRICES SAG ON MARKET OPENING BUT GAIN LATER

NEW YORK, Jan. 13. (P)—Price movements were decidedly mixed at the opening of today's stock market. Bethlehem Steel, Westinghouse Electric, Johns Manville and Dupont fell back to point or so while Southern Pacific, Canadian Pacific, and American Telephone recorded early advances of a point or more. U. S. Steel common opened 1-2 a point lower at 169 1-8.

Early declines of a point or so were registered by American Tobacco, American Woolen preferred, Fox Film, Sun Oil and General Cigar.

Paucity of offerings led to resumption of bullish operations soon after the opening. Texas and Pacific, Michigan Steel, Advance Rummy common and J. I. Case were quickly lifted two points, or more, and American Can, Missouri Pacific preferred, American and Foreign Power and Cerro de Pasco advanced a point or so. U. S. Steel common recovered its initial fractional loss.

Foreign exchanges opened fairly steady, with sterling off a shade to $4 36 31-32.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 13. (P)—Affected by unlooked for downturns at Liverpool, wheat here underwent a material setback today.

Opening 5-8 to 11-8c off, Chicago wheat afterwar showed an additional decline. Corn and oats were also easier, with corn starting 1-4 to 3-8 down, and subsequently sagging further. Provisions kept firm.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE.

Whereas, on the 1st day of December, A. D. 1928, A. J. Cook and Estelita Lee Cook, his wife, of Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas, executed a Deed of Trust to the record of which in Volume 31 Page 568, Deed of Trust Records of Lubbock County, Texas, reference is hereby made, conveying to Walter J. L. Ray, trustee, the following described real estate, to-wit:

Being all of Lot Number Nine (9) in Block Number Forty-nine (49) of the Overton Addition to the City of Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas.

In trust to secure the payment of the indebtedness therein described, and whereas, default has been made in the payment of said indebtedness according to its terms and such default has continued for more than four months and the owner and holder of said indebtedness has declared the whole amount thereof due and payable in accordance with the terms of said Trust Deed, and

Whereas, the said Walter J. L. Ray, trustee, named in said Deed of Trust, is unable to execute the powers thereof, and the undersigned Joel P. Johnson has been appointed Substitute Trustee and has been directed by the owner and holder of said indebtedness to execute the power of sale conferred by said Trust Deed:

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that on the 4th day of February, 1930, the same being the first Tuesday in said month, between the hours of ten o'clock in the forenoon and four o'clock in the afternoon of said day, at the front door of the County Court House in Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas, I, Joel P. Johnson, substitute trustee, as aforesaid, will sell the land above described to the highest bidder for cash, to satisfy the indebtedness secured by said Deed of Trust and cost of executing this trust:

Witness my hand this 13th day of January, A. D. 1930.

JOEL P. JOHNSON,
Substitute Trustee.

COTTON OPENS STEADY TODAY

MONTHS TRADE UP ON FIRST HOUR; EASE OFF LATER

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 13. (P)—The cotton market here had a steady opening with cables about as due or a shade better. First trades showed gains of 3 to 4 points. March traded at 17.40 and May at 17.68, or 4 to 5 points above Saturday's close.

Later prices eased on selling by buyers disappointed at no further action by the Farm Loan Board. March eased off to 17.22 and May to 17.58, or 8 to 10 points down from the early highs. At the end of the first hour the market was quiet and at the low.

The market was in a rather nervous tendency all morning while waiting for news of the incorporation in Delaware of the New Cooperation which traders had been promised would start operating today. Prices eased off and then rallied but finally eased off again until March traded down to 17.30 and May to 17.56, or 10 to 11 points below the early highs.

At noon the market was steady and 2 to 3 points above the lowest.

NEW YORK MARKET GAINS AND LOSSES

NEW YORK, Jan. 13. (P)—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of one point to a decline of 4 points.

More active months showed net losses of about 4 to 9 points during early trading under realizing which may have been promoted by indifferent showing of Liverpool. At the end of the first half hour, March sold around 17.42 and July 17.83, or about 4 to 7 points net lower.

Early offerings were absorbed on the decline of some 5 to 9 points from Saturday's close and contracts seemed comparatively scarce later with prices firming up on further trade buying or covering. March advanced from 17.40 to 17.46 and July from 17.85 to 17.93, but failed to hold the gain, with the general rise ruling about 4 to 6 points net lower at mid-day.

until April 6, 1929. Thirteen other persons convicted with him have been paroled or have completed lighter sentences.

Prayed by Warden

Under department of justice rules no announcement can be made here of action taken by the parole board. Dr. Cook has been a boon to officials of the penitentiary. He has conducted a night school for prisoners, edited the New Era, prison publication, given lectures on civic subjects, served as physician and intern in the prison hospital, and has been in general a builder of morale among the penitentiary population. Warden Thomas B. White said an explorer never had broken a prison rule.

community, is employed by Swift & company.

No funeral arrangement had been made early this afternoon, Rynum Brothers announced. Survivors are the widow, three sons, Roy Montgomery, Carroll Montgomery and Jimmie Montgomery, and a daughter, Miss Esther Montgomery, all of Lubbock, and a daughter, Mrs. Edna Christian, of Big Spring.

THREE CHILDREN DIE IN DALLAS ACCIDENTS

DALLAS, Jan. 13. (P)—Three children were dead today and eight persons were suffering from injuries as a result of automobile accidents near Dallas.

Jessie Joe Fletcher, 12, and her sister, Mary Lou, 10, were killed and their father, J. J. Fletcher of Dallas, was injured when the automobile driven by Fletcher was struck by an outboard Missouri-Kansas Texas train near Lubon, south of here, last night. Mrs. Fletcher and a son, Jimmy, 11, leaped to safety just before the crash. The road was slippery from a mist and vision was obscured by fog.

Negro Boy Killed

A nine-year-old negro boy was killed early in the night when he was struck by an automobile on the Preston road. Seven other persons received minor injuries in mishap.

PRO LAW PROBLEM

respect for those tribunals.

"Without prejudice to any ultimate conclusions," the report said, "we think that in the interest of promoting observance of and respect for law, the national prohibition law may well be strengthened and its effectiveness increased in these important particulars."

As to observance, the commission declared that "it is wholly impossible to set off observance of the prohibition act from the large question of the views and habits of the American people with respect to private judgment as to statutes and regulations affecting their conduct."

Asserting that as to enforcement there were no reliable figures to show the state of law enforcement, the commission said the reported arrests in the last fiscal year of upwards of eighty thousand persons from every part of continental United States "indicates a staggering number of what might be called local points of infection."

Boundaries Problem

Attention was directed that there also were 18,700 miles of boundary and shore lines for the United States "at every point of which infection is possible."

The number of smuggling roads from Canada is reported as at least 1,000, it was added.

Replying to those who have assailed him for a failure to hold public hearings on the prohibition question, the commission reported to

President Hoover that it conceived it "to be more useful to make a careful study of the whole question securing information from the responsible officers of government and from printed reports, as well as from hearings before committees of congress, before embarking upon public hearings."

Sum's Up Recommendations

Summing up its four recommendations for legislative enactments, the commission said: "We think they could not in any wise interfere with any ultimate program which we may have to recommend, and would in the meantime advance observance of the law."

The commission dealt with each of its recommendations separately and with some of them at considerable length. In urging transfer of the prohibition unit from the treasury to the justice department, the report said it was an anomaly that the cases are investigated and prepared by agencies entirely disconnected with and not answerable to those who are to prosecute them.

Responsibility Lacking

"If prosecution, the legal side of enforcement, is partitioned between two district agencies," the report said, "the diffused, ill-defined, non-located responsibility is sure in the long run to be an obstacle to efficiency."

The commission reported that there must be a careful study of how to separate the work which belongs in the treasury of granting permits and administration of regulations as to the legitimate use of alcohol or liquors.

Pointing out that there are 23 states, many crisscrossed by the eighteenth amendment, to which there is recourse in prohibition enforcement, the commission asserted they were in form disconnected, unwieldy and in much need of coordination and adjustment to each other. Consequently it recommended that these statutes be revised and digested "with a view to making them a unified whole in the form of a staple, better-ordered and hence more workable code."

lean people may disagree upon the merits of some of the questions involved every responsible citizen supports the fundamental principle that the law of the land must be enforced.

Lists Needs

The development of the facts shows the necessity for certain important and evident administrative reforms in the enforcement and judicial machinery, concrete proposals for which are available from government departments. They are in the main:

1. Reorganization of the federal court structure so as to give relief from congestion.
2. Concentration of responsibility in the detection and prosecution of prohibition violations.
3. Consolidation of the various agencies engaged in prevention of smuggling liquor, narcotics, other merchandise and aliens over our frontiers.
4. Provision of adequate court and prosecuting officials.

5. Expansion of federal prisons and reorganization of parole and other practices.
6. Specific legislation for the District of Columbia.

I believe the administrative changes mentioned above will contribute to cure many abuses. Beyond these immediate questions are others which reach deeply into the whole question of the growth of crime and the enforcement of the law. The causes of crime, the character of criminal law, the benefits and liabilities that flow from them, the abuses which arise under them, the method by which enforcement and judicial personnel is secured, the judicial procedure, the respective responsibility of the federal government to these problems, all require further most exhaustive consideration and investigation, which will require time and earnest research as to the facts and forces in action before sound opinions can be arrived at upon them.

where he had lived with his wife and three children, to visit his sister, Mrs. L. M. Graves. Yesterday, while his niece, Doris Graves, 3, looked on, Adams placed a record, "Lullaby Yodel," on the phonograph and then killed his son and himself, as the melody filled the room. Doris screams brought her mother and father to the room, where they found Adams on the floor, Billy in his arms.

The two daughters, Juanita and Florence, remained with Mrs. Adams when she and her husband separated.

Mullican Explains Committee Duties

Further evidence of Judge Clark M. Mullican's desire to make the Lubbock Kiwanis club the most active service organization in the city was given today in a luncheon at the Lubbock Hotel when all committee chairmen of the club heard Mullican, the club president, explain the duties of committee work and what is expected of them during 1930.

President Mullican is holding a series of organization meetings in preparation for making plans for the entertainment of the Texas-Oklahoma district convention here.

Members present at the meeting today were: C. P. Kuykendall, Carl Patton, L. C. Ellis, H. D. Woods, Frank Jones, W. H. Rogers, W. C. Wood, E. L. Klett, H. W. Richardson, Claude Burrus, Rev. Jack Lewis, B. Sherrod, Dr. J. T. Krueger, C. W. Ratliff and Dr. R. L. Powers.

"Cemetery Slaying" Case Is Reopened

MARSHALL, Jan. 13. (P)—A call for a grand jury to investigate the reopened year old and unsolved "cemetery slaying" case was prepared here today. Saturday a man was placed in jail under a $500 peace bond after he was said to have threatened the lives of two other men. Today the other men were sought as suspects in the slaying February 15, 1929, of H. B. Alston.</

POPE'S VIEWS ON EDUCATION ARE ISSUED

DOCUMENT PUBLISHED IN ITALY; CITES
U. S. DECISION

(By Associated Press)
VATICAN CITY, Jan. 13.—Pope Pius, in his first encyclical of the new year under the title of "Christian Education of the Young" Saturday upheld his educational policy maintaining that education of youth was the affair first of the church, then of the family and then of the state.

The document, the most extensive formal one dealing with world wide affairs in the past two years, was published in vernacular Italian instead of the traditional Latin for the first time in the history of the papacy. It will be followed by translations into other modern languages.

Not limited to Italy
Although many of its points were directed at the Fascist conception of youthful upbringing the encyclical application was not limited to Italy but touched educational questions everywhere.

Among the things condemned by the pontiff were co-education, sexual education of the young, over much physical training and public gymnastic displays by young women, sending children away from home to school at too early an age, the new naturalism movement in education, bad films and bad radio programs.

The document occupied fifteen columns of Observatore Romano. Cites Decision
The Pope cited a decision of the United States supreme court in the Oregon school case, June 1, 1925, supporting his contention on the family's right to supervise the education of children. Part of the language of the court's finding was quoted in the encyclical and a foot-

DIVERSIFICATION PAYS, COUPLE IN SCURRY FIND; PROFITS NEAR $2,000

BY GEORGE F. SMITH

SNYDER, Jan. 13.—That tenant farmers can prove that diversification really pays and goes hand in hand with a marriage partnership is shown in the case of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Williams of Scurry county, who live five miles north-note credited it to the supreme court decision. Among the perils of adolescence the pontiff cited cheap pornographic books, some moving pictures and "radiohonic auditions which multiply and facilitate if one may say so all sorts of readiness as the cinema does all sorts of spectacles."

The Pope said that both the motion pictures and radio, which may be of great utility in instruction and education "too often are subordinated to incentives toward evil passions and avidity for gain."

west of Snyder.

The figures as quoted are confirmed by officers of the Snyder National bank, O. P. Thrane, vice president.

Mrs. Williams has kept a set of books on her activities which shows the following receipts:

Turkeys	$276.32
Butter, 971 pounds	454.33
Chickens	85.42
Vegetables sold	24.21
Eggs	91.01
Total	$931.31

Sold On Lowest
With the finest turkeys she had ever raised, Mrs. Williams sold on the lowest turkey market here and had she waited one day an advance in price would have netted her $65 more. As to the money received for butter, cows were all fresh (four of them) in February, and again in November, giving but nine months of milking. As to money received

CITY IS NINTH IN BUILDING

BEAUMONT LEADS DURING WEEK IN TEXAS; CITIES ACTIVE

(By Associated Press)
DALLAS, Jan. 13.—Beaumont led Texas cities in building permits for the second week of the New Year. The coast city's total was $155,183 bringing the total for the year to $313,562.

Other totals:
City Week Year
Ahlens $20,000 $35,000
Amarillo 44,000 44,000

from vegetables, this was a sorry year for their raising, and the first year in Scurry county where the family had not sufficient green vegetables all summer and fall. Butter and eggs for a family of seven were enjoyed over and above the amount shown in the receipts. All feed used was grown on the farm with the exception of two sacks of feed and a little corn to fatten out the turkeys. Calves and pigs are also a part of Mrs. Williams' program and they do not appear on the list, although they now have six calves on hand, and another was sold for $15. A total of $31.40 was received for pigs and hog products in addition to having plenty of meat for the entire family. No commercial feeds were purchased. Mrs. Williams states that the program did not interfere in the least with any other activity of her farm.

Turn To Husband
The above is the record of the wife, let us turn to the husband. Mr. Williams received a total of $1,083.08 from King Cotton with $724.73 being paid out to pickers leaving a balance of $858.35, a difference of $72.96 in favor of the wife.

But combining the totals of the sound and wife, one finds that realized in cash, $1,789.64. A co-partnership account also brought $198.40 extra which added to the last named total gives a total of $1,988.04.

For 1930, Mr. and Mrs. Williams will have more good grade cows with 100 pure bred Barred Rocks as against 90 ordinary grade chickens the past year. They already have a ready market for sweet cream butter which is absolutely guaranteed to each and every customer.

Couldn't Do Lick Of Work For Many Months

Took So Many Treatments Without Relief That He Almost Lost Hope—
Amarillo Ranchman
Says After Taking Orgatone He Feels Like Different
Man Now

"I was so crippled up with rheumatism for the past several months that I couldn't do a lick of work in fact I was confined to my bed, but since taking Orgatone I can jump up and crack my heels together like a sixteen year-old boy," said Wm. Louis Wilson, a well known ranchman and stockman residing on rural route 2, five miles of Amarillo, Texas.

"About a year ago," he continued, "I started having trouble with my stomach and a rheumatic condition and would have sick dizzy fainting spells. Rheumatism got me in its grip and the pain I suffered in my limbs almost drove me distracted. My nerves were all worn out so I could hardly get my rest and many a night I was too miserable to close my eyes at all."

"I had taken so much medicine the last few months without getting any relief that I had little faith left in anything, but when I read in the newspapers about what the people right here in Amarillo, were saying about Orgatone and they praised it so highly, I decided to try it and was certainly surprised when I noticed a decided improvement by the time I had finished my first bottle. I slept better, my nerves grew stronger and from then on my improvement was rapid. After taking it a few weeks I feel young and invigorating and a whole lot better than I have in a long time. I have full use of my limbs once more, which goes to prove that this medicine Orgatone helped me out of my bed after everything else had failed. My nerves are all right now, I sleep like a rock and my rheumatism has completely disappeared. I have every confidence in Orgatone and am going to keep it up for some time, as I am now able to get around once more like I used to."

Genuine Orgatone may be bought in Lubbock at Bowen's Drug Store.

BUSINESS HAS GOOD STATUS

REPORTS TELL OF WORK ROUNDING OUT ABOVE AVERAGE

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Reports received by the national business survey conference, called by President Hoover last month, indicate "business has rounded the turn of the year with the volume of production and distribution approaching normal for this season and confidence in the immediate future unimpaired."

This was the conclusion announced by the chairman, Julius H. Burges, in the course of a study of returns available from inquiries that have been made all over the country.

Savings Increase
An upward turn in savings bank deposits, increase of life insurance business, and expansion in the total of stockholders in standard corporations were among the points cited in the summary. It was said that recessions had been experienced in textiles and in some food producing lines, while the rate of increase in use of gas and electricity had slowed down.

Taken as a whole, the summary added, "the reports indicate that readjustments are being made in an orderly way with definite signs that credit is flowing back to productive enterprise."

Chairman Burges said "the energy of America's trade and commercial organizations is being earnestly devoted to the task of maintaining stability in our various fields of business," and that in view of the data available, "confidential and mutual support grows naturally among the directors of industry."

Postal Receipts On Increase In Snyder

(Special To The Journal)
SNYDER, Jan. 13.—Postal receipts in Snyder for 1929 totaled $17,242.99 as compared to the highest peak of last year which ran to $18,798.19, according to Postmaster B. F. Womack.

Postal receipts for Snyder in the past ten year period have practically doubled and with the marking of houses and street intersections, Snyder stands in a position to secure free mail delivery.

Bank deposits for the three Scurry county banks total $1,465,939.41 for 1929, as compared to $1,529,838.42 last year at the same period. The recent merging of The First State

SLATON, Jan. 13. (Special)—J. B. Luckey, of Lubbock, who in a Temple hospital after a illness, was buried here Saturday. The funeral service was conducted at the First Methodist church, deceased is survived by her husband and two children. The family lived here.

Taft's Condition Reported Improving

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Encouraging reports were made today concerning the condition of Chief Justice Taft, who is in treatment in Garfield hospital bladder trouble. So marked has his improvement that it was decided by attending physicians he would be able Tuesday to go south for several weeks rest.

Photographers' "hype" into the vein is an antidote arsenic poisoning, according to British physicians.

Bank at Hermleigh with the State Bank & Trust company, this city gives Snyder two of the strongest banks in West Texas.
