THAT SKYROCKET BAND

That Skyrocket Band is one of three school bands which will appear in the annual Christmas Band Concert Sunday, December 8, at 2:30 in the High School Auditorium. Gary Wofford is the band director. Others appearing will be the Junior High Band and the Tonette Band. This concert is traditionally one of the highlights of the Christmas season.

Mrs. Ruth Cochran Dies Saturday Of Long Illness

Mrs. Ruth Cochran, for many years associated with Cochran Drug, died in Thomas Nursing Center at 2:30 a.m. Saturday, December 30, after a long illness.

She lived in Wellington 50 years, for much of this she was active in its business community.

She first began working in the store in the 1930's, then following the death of her husband, A.L. Cochran, in 1943, she assumed complete management of the business until she was joined by their son, Jimmy Cochran, several years later when he completed his education.

To many Mrs. Cochran expressed the ideal as a business woman, knowledgeable and with sound judgement, but with a graciousness that extended to every customer.

But there were other facets of her character. She was a devoted member of First Baptist Church and for many years sang in its choir.

She belonged to the Order of Eastern Star and formerly to the Business and Professional Women's Club.

During the years her son was growing up, she was active in a variety of school activities, most of them to benefit all students.

Born Lenora Ruth Hemphill at Barbourville, Kentucky, May 7, 1898, she was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Lee Hemphill. As a young

School Bands to Present Concert Sunday Afternoon

First of the Christmas season programs of music will be the traditional concert by three bands of the Wellington Schools, on Sunday, December 8, at 2:30 p.m. One hundred and thirty boys and girls will take part. Gary Wofford, director, has announced plans. First to perform will be the Fifth Grade Tonette Band, a group new to the music department this year. This will be followed by the Junior High Band, and concluding the program will be That Skyrocket Band.

Tonettes, Mr. Wofford explained, are small black instruments somewhat like a clarinet in fingering, but with a sound more like that of a recorder.

The 40 boys and girls making up this band will play two traditional numbers, "Jolly Old St. Nicholas," and "Jingle Bells." They will close their part of the program by singing "Silent Night."

The Junior High Band will open with "Crawdaddy" by M. Betton, and follow this with the carol, "Deck the Halls." Their other numbers will be "Gallant Eagle," a march, and "Green Sleeves," another Christmas number.

That Skyrocket Band will play six numbers.

"They have been doing well this semester and I feel they will present a good concert," said Mr. Wofford.

Their first number will be "Pentland Hills" composed by Capt. J.H. Howe; "Sonus Ventorum" by Claude Smith; "Noel Francaise" by James D. Ployhar; and "Symphonic Overture" by Charles Carter. Two Christmas selections will close the concert, "We Wish You a Merry Christmas," by Wilford Lawshe; and "The Nutcracker Suite" by Tschai-kowsky.

Playing in the Tonette Band will be Jeffrey Barnett, Angela Watson, Debbie Bergvall, Kathy Whitten,

Children's Play to Be Staged Dec. 11

The annual children's play, presented by the Wellington High School Speech II class, will be staged Wednesday, December 11, at 1:00 p.m. for children of the elementary grades and all pre-schoolers and their parents.

It will be in the high school auditorium. This year's selection is "The Golden Goose," a modern fairy tale, said Mrs. Bob McAlister, speech instructor and play director.

The story develops around Simpleton, the young man who finds a golden goose and sets out to take her to the King. She is for the King's daughter, Princess Cry-Baby, in an attempt to make her laugh -- for she has never smiled.

Joe Porter has the role of Simpleton, whose adventures begin as soon as he sets out with his Golden Goose, a part taken by Geney Morrow. The King who is reached at the end of these mishaps and dangers, is portrayed by Kelley Cook, while Lucy Sullivan is seen as Princess Cry-Baby.

Seeing Simpleton off are his mother, Jenny Earnest; his brother, Georgie and Rupert, played by Robert Wolf and John O'Rear.

First to meet the Little Old Lady of the Forest, Tanya Watson, and beyond he finds the parson, Jim Bob Nall.

Holiday Business Optimistic, Merchants Say as Buying Starts

Holiday business in Wellington is beginning on a highly optimistic note, most merchants told The Wellington Leader Tuesday, December 3, with the buying season still young.

One pattern emerges. Christmas shoppers are buying more practical gifts, they are buying more items the whole family can enjoy, and they are comparison buying. Here is a sampling of how Wellington merchants feel.

"Business started off real good," said Mayor Bill Hatch, owner of Hatch Dry Goods. "We can tell this especially on cold days. I believe we will have a good holiday business. I've had people say they are going to buy more practical things and that should help business here. I think they are buying more at home. "The men are not shopping yet. They're in the field and we understand that. Many of the women are hauling cotton and they are doing their Christmas shopping when they are not working. The men probably

The grant was among 43, for a total of $6,385,327, which Governor Briscoe approved after he received recommendations from the Executive Committee of the Criminal Justice Council November 8.

won't stop till bad weather hits," Mr. Hatch, owner of Hatch Dry Goods, added. "Business is real, real fine," Mack Saied, Jr. of Saied Department Store believes. "It started the day after Thanksgiving. I think we're going to have a fine Christmas season."

Did he think people are buying at home?
"I certainly do," he answered. "All the stores have a lot more merchandise than they have ever had. With a wider selection, business just can't help but be good."

"Business is good -- no kidding," declared Lyndon Crelia. "It's better than I expected this early. People are buying practical gifts, rather than something to sit on the shelf and look at." If business increases as it normally does later in the holiday season, Mr. Crelia, owner of Parson's Drug, believes it will be a good December for Wellington merchants.

Jim Cochran, owner of C&H Pharmacy, believes holiday business is starting pretty well -- better than he anticipated. His annual early holiday sale is starting. "I can tell more about this when the sale ends," he added. "I think it's great," declared Neva Langford, owner of Mode 'O' Day and one of Wellington's youngest merchants. "Oh, its tremendous. I'm so excited about it." She noted that a surprising amount of her Christmas sales are good, wearable clothes. For the younger set, its "jeans and things like that. Something sturdy . . . something you can wear and wear."

Ace Harrell of Harrell's Ben Franklin Store believes Christmas buying is progressing normally, keeping on schedule compared to other years.

People are buying more practical gifts and gifts for the whole family to enjoy, he believes.

He had some observations about toys, one of the big items with his store; around half the stock are new types of toys.
"I'm glad to see more sophisticated toys. I think kids need that kind. There are a lot more educational toys, and people are accepting them. Some of the hottest items this year are educational toys."

Women are looking for new gift items for their men, and there is a trend toward the type of merchandise to be found in auto supply stores, believes Lyman Daniel, in his first holiday in business here.

Richard Owens of Gibson's believes business is running ahead of last year. "We anticipate as big if not bigger business than last year. We don't have anything to gripe about."
"Some people say business will be 10 per cent under a year ago, but we don't find it so. Some are more price conscious and some are buying more competitively."

Mr. Owens added this observation about the 1974 holiday season:

"You've got to go out and fight for it if you want the business."

I want to give special thanks to Rev. Ervin Emmert for spending so much time in the recruiting of donors and helping through the entire afternoon of blood collection.

Second, very special thanks should be extended to The Wellington Leader for their leadership and splendid co-operation. No other newspaper in our region supports the local blood drive as does The Wellington Leader.

Finally, to the countless others, I extend my personal thanks for your time and effort. I'm very proud to be a part of a community that truly cares. Thank you!

Plans for holiday baking mean consumers' thoughts may turn to which nuts provide best value and taste.

By the pound -- shelled or unshelled -- the least expensive nuts are peanuts. One and one-half pounds in the shell yield one pound of shelled nuts. It seldom saves money to buy unshelled peanuts at regular grocery store prices and shell them at home.

Nuts are half shell-and half nut meat, with few exceptions. It takes about two pounds of most nuts in the shell to make one pound of nut meats.

So, if already-shelled nuts cost more than twice the price of unshelled nuts, the unshelled nuts are less expensive. Considered by the pound after shelling, almonds, pecans and Brazil nuts yield more meats than walnuts and filberts. This means consumers might afford to pay a slightly higher price per pound for almonds, pecans and Brazil nuts.

Whole nut meats of any variety will always give more cups per pound than halves, pieces or chopped nuts.

The pleasing flavor of nuts comes from their oils -- but when nuts are stale, the oils become rancid and unpalatable.

Nuts in the shell keep better than shelled ones. But shelled or not, they keep their flavor better stored in a cool, dark place. Also, unsalted nuts keep better than salted ones.

Nuts can absorb off-flavors and moisture. When this occurs, the nut becomes limp, tough and even moldy. Freezer storage for properly packaged nuts lasts eight to ten months.

Consumers may choose packaged unshelled mixed nuts in a combination of five species -- almonds, Brazils, filberts, pecans and walnuts. Look for the best quality to have clean, unbroken shells. Avoid those with oil-stained or moldy shells. That indicates the kernels may be rancid or decay.

U.S. Department of Agricultural's continuous inspection and meeting the U.S. extra fancy or U.S. fancy grade may carry the U.S. grade name or shield. This is an assurance of highest quality nuts.

Students Part of National Education-Parenthood Survey

One hundred Collingsworth students are a part of a nationwide Education of Parenthood project, and represent one of ten counties in Texas chosen as comparison counties for evaluation.

Teens Explore Parent Education, TEPE, is a special project developed by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, through a grant from the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare. It is carried out in this county under the direction of Don Van Pelt, school counselor, in cooperation with Melvin Cardwell, Wellington High School principal, and the Collingsworth County Extension Service, explained Mrs. Arla Felts.

The study is designed to evaluate what the young people of Collingsworth feel, think and know about children, parents and families.

Young people in 10 selected counties in Texas -- one of them Collingsworth -- are being asked to respond to an opinion survey which will help educators as they plan curriculum for education for parenthood.

The first survey was taken the last week in October. This was followed by a series of six learning experiences designed to help young people explore and expand their knowledge of children they know, and of their parents and families.

The series has been completed and the second of the surveys was given this week.

"TEPE is to help students gain a better understanding of themselves and the future role they may have as a parent or caregiver for a child," explained Mrs. Felts. "It is to develop positive insights about children and their growth and development, as well as increase the students knowledge and skill in working with children. As a sidelight, they learn about possible child-related career opportunities. The project will not provide all the answers, but it is a good beginning for interested youth to meet together and explore their thinking."

Collingsworth County's survey results will be compared with the results from Hardeman County, which has taken part in the six series of lessons in the TEPE program.

The ten counties selected in Texas as comparison counties for evaluation include, Collingsworth, the only one in the Panhandle; Hardeman, Dallas, Titus, Lubbock, Rusk, Harris, Travis, Jim Wells and Kleburg.

Mrs. Diane Welch, Family Education specialist with the Extension Service, is in charge of the TEPE program in Texas and has visited Collingsworth County to assist in starting the surveys here.

CARROLL'S PLANS GRAND OPENING

The grand opening of Carroll's, Wellington's newest restaurant, will be held Friday and Saturday, December 6 and 7, owner Carroll Daves has announced. The veteran restaurant and cafe operator, although still young, has had cafes in this building three different times in two separate locations, all in Wellington.

Carroll's to Hold Opening Fri., Sat.

The formal opening of Carroll's, Wellington's newest restaurant, will be Friday and Saturday, December 6 and 7, owner Carroll Daves has announced.

Carroll's is located in the same building which that business occupied several years ago, on US Highway 83 South.

It is unique in Wellington's business history in that this is the third time he has been in the restaurant business in this building, in two locations.

"It is good to come home, and I want to greet all my friends at this grand opening," said Mr. Daves.

The specialty of Carroll's will be short orders the owner said. Drive-in curb service is offered from 4:00 to 10:00 p.m. each day and 11:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. on week ends. Breakfasts are a specialty also.

In preparation for the opening of the business several weeks ago, the building was completely remodeled and redecorated. New ceiling, floors, paneling, wiring and plumbing were installed.

A dining room was opened in the back of the building. "This is the best that the building has ever looked," said Mr. Daves.

In the immediate future, the parking lot will be blacktopped.

Mr. Daves is one of the most experienced restaurant operators in Wellington. His first job came when he was about 11 years old, when he began work for Mrs. Doc Turner.

By the time he was 17, he was operating his own business. Later, he bought Jay's Drive In, which was operating in the building Carroll's now occupies, but which then was located on 8th Street.

For several years before leaving Wellington, Mr. Daves was in other business.

Going to Dallas in 1970, he was manager of two of the E.M. Kahn Clothing stores, then worked for the Apparel Mart in Dallas, handling ladies sportswear.

Assisting Mr. Daves at Carroll's is Eddie Parker, also formerly of Dallas. A friend of Daves, he came here intending only to help get the business ready for opening. However, he liked Wellington and its people so much he chose to make this his home.

Originally from Arkansas, he had lived in Dallas a year, and prior to that he served in the United States Navy with an assignment in Vietnam.

Three members of Mr. Daves family are on the staff, his daughters, Connie and Carol Ann, and his mother, Mrs. Louella Daves.

Others include Ella Colson, Lucy Hutchins, Doris Smith, Terri Fowler, Jim Hiatt, Lou Lynch, Leigh Ann Sessions and Juanita Young.

Skyrockets Drop Game to Norwood In Unlucky Toss

A shot that went in and out of the basket rim two seconds before the buzzer sounded was the difference in victory and loss for the Wellington Skyrockets at Samnorwood Tuesday, Nov. 26.

The Norwood Eagles took the game by one point, 64-63.

Shane Tarver tossed the ball that refused to settle down.

The last two minutes of that game were described by coaches and fans as "something else," and this was, beyond doubt, one of the electrifying games played in the county this season.

Wellington went into the fourth quarter down 14 points, 53-39, then picked up in hustle to drop in 24 points to the Eagle's 11.

Two of Coach Dale Morris leading point-makers, Doug Coleman, Jr., and Leonardo Segura, fouled out and he was playing substitutes. Likewise, the Rockets' Edward Thomas and Jessie Davis, a leading rebounder, left the game by the same route.

Coleman was top scoring player in the game with 30 points, while Segura had 19; C. Oldham, No. 24, 7; G. Skinner 5; C. Oldham, No. 34, two; and Ricky Bentley one.

Point leader for Wellington was Tarver with 21; Tony Martinez, 15; Jessie Davis, 8; Dan Ford, 6; Edward Thomas, 5; Neal Cochran four and George Brewer and Kelly Cook, two each.

"I feel our boys, after a week and a half of workouts, have continued to improve," said Coach Robert Hicks. "We played Samnorwood the first game and they won by 20 points. Five days later, they beat us only one point. We're looking forward to playing them again in the first round of their tournament."

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C.T. Shumate for Thanksgiving were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kutch, Kathleen, Allen and Christine; Mr. and Mrs. Billy McKinney of Childress; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Lewis; and Mr. and Mrs. Truett Holland.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cudd were Mr. and Mrs. Don Nabors and Chad of Lubbock, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lindsey and Terry of Dumas.

Deck's Didactics

—by Deskins Wells

COLLINGSWORTH donors of blood are to be congratulated on setting a new record when 131 units were given. This is a most important contribution for the supply of blood often runs low at this time of the year. In addition to saving lives our standing in meeting our quota can help our people in their hospital bills if they need transfusions.

THERE is an intangible benefit that comes from such an effort apart from the improvement of health facilities locally and in the region. It is the good that comes from unselfish community effort and the betterment of individual physical, intellectual and moral conditions. It takes leadership, planning and generous co-operation to achieve such a goal. These are qualities that are needed in many other endeavors if our town and its trade area are to continue to be a healthy and interesting place in which to live. For the second time congratulations are extended to everyone who had a part in making the recent visit of the Bloodmobile a success.

CHRISTMAS lights are up and the town is beginning to take on the Christmas look. The stores have taken on that bright Christmas look and shopping is brisk all over town. Merchants are pleased with the start of the holiday shopping season.

LETTERS from the children to Santa Claus are beginning to come in through the mail. We want more. They will not be published until our Christmas paper. We expect to have hundreds of them by that time. These letters from the young hopefuls have been printed in The Leader for over 40 years and sometimes we think we enjoy them more than the writers. We print them exactly as they are sent to us, spelling and all.

IT WOULD have been wonderful if we could have had two inches of our fall rains in July and another two inches extra in August; but it is surprising to see the crops we have. And it is gratifying to learn that the quality of the cotton including staple, brightness, and turnout is better than we expected. This is not true over the High Plains. The price situation on cotton continues to be an imponderable.

COTTON SPECIALISTS SAY THAT UNDER DRY WEATHER CONDITIONS THE GRADE AND WHITENESS OF COTTON WILL CONTINUE TO IMPROVE. Farmers here are being very careful about harvesting their cotton when it is dry. Dryness affects the grade whether the cotton is hauled directly to the gin or put in ricks or modules.

IT IS GOOD to see people like Richard Keller returning to Wellington, and there is comfort in knowing that he is an experienced law enforcement officer. The trend of younger people moving away from the metropolitan centers back to rural areas continues to grow. When they can they move back to their old home town. This is good for them and it is good for our town.

HAROLD HUDSON writes in the Perryton Herald on the rising cost and pressure put on the farmer by the militant drive of the Unions: "The old

Santa Claus Makes Annual Visit to Kiddies Saturday

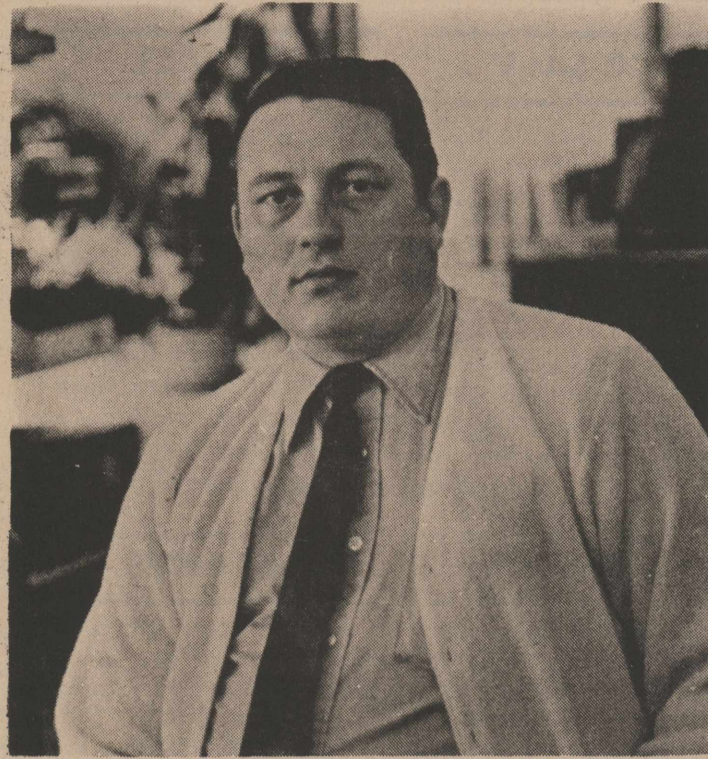

Santa Claus will make his annual visit to Wellington Saturday, December 7, making it a red-letter day for all the boys and girls of Collingsworth trade area.

Announcement of the visit was made by Mrs. Margaret Vines, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the big event.

Santa will arrive on the court house square at 3:30 p.m., riding on Wellington's big red fire truck. First, he will travel around the square, dispensing pounds and pounds of candies and gum from his giant pack. Then he'll get down and visit all the stores on the square talking with the boys and girls who are here to let him know what they want him to bring Christmas eve. This visiting will last until time for the Trades Day Drawing on the south court house lawn at 4:00 p.m.

Mrs. Vines reminded parents that there will be both regular drawing for $75 in script and the special drawing for a children's gift. The latter is limited to boys and girls 12 years and under, and they must be accompanied by at least one parent. Three drawings will remain after that Saturday, December 7. These will be Saturday, December 14, Saturday, December 21, and Tuesday, December 24, Mrs. Vines reminded.

DEPUTY SHERIFF

Richard Keller, who grew up here, has returned to serve as a deputy in the sheriff's office. He formerly was in the Dallas County Sheriff's Office and later was a security guard for a Dallas area industry.

Mrs. Clyde Drake reported recently to the directors of Collingsworth County Historical Museum on its 1974 activities.

More than 1,000 visitors have seen the museum in less than a year, she continued in her report. Only recently has it been open more than one day a week. Permanent improvements she noted were the gift of three lots adjoining the museum from the daughters of the late Mrs. Julia Muse, who are Mrs. Wincie Muse C de Baca, Mrs. Nell Saunders and Mrs. Mary Jean Bassett.

Wellington Lions laid the sidewalk in front of the museum and did other improvements. The folding doors taken from the Community Building have become handsome wainscoting. Even an old barn, built before the turn of the century and in falling-down condition, provided the wood for backgrounds in pioneer exhibits. There have been many other gifts. Some have required refinishing. Others are shown in their original finish.

In the planning stage is an exhibit that will include Indian and pre-Indian artifacts. The Museum presently owns the skeleton which archeologists have determined is that of a Wichita Indian woman who lived about the time Columbus was journeying to the New World.

Mrs. Drake closed her report by giving recognition to the many groups who have helped the museum this year.

Water Employees Haralson Goes To Ardmore, Ok. Get Licenses

Two employees of the City of Wellington have completed their studies and were notified they passed the test for Class D. Water License, City Manager Lyman Daniel has announced.

They are Ralph Sherrill and Lonnie Driver, who attended the Texas Water and Sewer Short School at Lubbock.

This was conducted by Texas A&M University Extension Service in conjunction with the Texas Water Utilities Associations of Texas.

The Class D. water license is a two-year temporary license that will enable the men to complete additional study to qualify for further advancement.

Julius Haralson has resigned as city manager of Manitou Springs, Colorado, effective December 31, to become city manager of Ardmore, Oklahoma. He will begin work there January 6.

The new position offers a substantial professional promotion and Haralson considers it an exciting new challenge and an opportunity to further the cause of responsible city government in another community.

Mr. Haralson is a native of Collingsworth County and graduated from Quail High School. He received his B.S. and Masters degrees from West Texas State University.

He and his wife Ann, and their girls, Cristal and April, will move to Ardmore about January 1.

Green Graduates From AC Fire Fighting School

John L. Green, full-time employee of the Wellington Fire Department, was one of 21 members to graduate from the first fire fighting school conducted by Amarillo College.

The graduation was held during a noon luncheon Wednesday, Nov. 27, at Holiday Inn East.

This is the fourth class the Amarillo Fire Department has sponsored.

Students have completed 325 clock-hours under the instruction of city firemen. "These men have been approved for teaching by the Texas Education Agency and the Texas Commission on Fire Protection Personnel Standards and Education, said Clifford Siess, supervisor of Amarillo College Adult Vocational Education.

"We hope to hold this class two or three times a year," said Siess. "This is just another instance of the close cooperation between the City of Amarillo and Amarillo College," he added.

The classes included 325 hours of fire science and related classes field work.

Quail Teams Take Pair From Shamrock

Quail Quails and Bobwhites won a double header by substantial margins when they hosted Shamrock Irish were awarded by Fire Chief C.V. Richards. Dr. R. Eugene Byrd, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences and Technical Vocational Education, gave the main address.

and Lassies Monday, Nov. 25. The boys won 59-41 and the girls 68-47.

The Bobwhites had a slow start and trailed Shamrock 14-8 at the first period. During the second, they closed the margin and went one point ahead 26-25 as the period ran out. Quail had a big third period, outscoring the Lassies 20 to 10, then blew Shamrock out of the game in the final period to end the game 68-47. Fouls cut into Shamrock's effectiveness.

Lenora Oatman was high point player with 44, while Debra Culpepper had 19 points and Melissa Guthrie 8. Renee Bradley scored 22 for Shamrock.

The Quails took a first quarter lead 21-8 and continued to widen the margin. Seven players shared in the scoring and this balance was the key to the victory. Coach Bill Wilson said, "The 21-8 lead at the first quarter told the story," he added.

Tommy Caldwell and Gary Wischkaemper made 14 points each; Johnny Needham and Joe Barton 10 each, David Russell 8, Harvey Oatman two and Charles Hall one.

Seven Delegates Go To State FB Meeting

Seven Farm Bureau members represented the Collingsworth FB at the 41st annual state convention in Dallas Sunday through Wednesday, Dec. 1-4.

They were County FB president, Jerry Scott and Mrs. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Danny Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Campbell and Monty Mitchell. Scott, Davis and Mitchell were the voting delegates.

Governor Dolph Briscoe, Jr., was the principal guest speaker, appearing at the general session Monday. TFB President, J.T. (Red) Woodson delivered his annual message during that session.

Conferences filled Monday and Tuesday. Of interest to the Collingsworth group was the discussion of the changing grain economy and grain sorghum by Elbert Harp, executive secretary of the Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Association at the Wheat and Feed Grains Conference.

A former Collingsworth man, Dr. John G. Thomas, state entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and Charles Baker, Extension economist, spoke on the Texas plan for boll weevil control at the cotton conference.

Edwin N. McKay, TFB legislative director, told how members get action through Farm Bureau with emphasis on the policy development and policy execution processes and member involvement. He also gave a legislative report and discussed issues facing agriculture in 1975 on the state and national level.

The Livestock and Animal Health Conference heard Dr. Edward Uvacek, Jr., livestock marketing specialist, Texas A&M University, discuss the current livestock situation and solutions with regard to health and markets.

Dr. J.E. Miller, director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, and J.D. Etheredge, superintendent of the Navarro Independent School District, were speakers.

CONSERVE AND SAVE ON ELECTRIC COOKING

- ★ For best results, use flat bottom utensils with tight fitting covers. Utensils of medium or heavy weight aluminum conduct heat faster, transfer heat evenly and respond quickly to temperature changes.
- ★ Match the utensil to the size of the unit. Use 8 inch units for large utensils. Use 6 inch units for small to average sized pans.
- ★ Use high setting for a quick start for any surface cooking, or to boil water quickly. When cooking temperature is reached, switch to a lower setting.
- ★ Do not pre-heat the oven for roasting or broiling, but do pre-heat the oven to the temperature given in the recipe for baking.

OIL EQUIPMENT ROOM

Manufacturers of drilling rigs, mud pumps and industrial motors are so covered up with orders from oil drilling contractors, they are now quoting a delivery time of two to three years. Back in 1973 such equipment was available on 30 to 150 days notice. The oil equipment industry is expanding plant as fast as possible, as much as 50% overall, in order to handle the stepped up pace of worldwide drilling activity.

But, now politics and inflation rear their ugly heads. If the oil depletion allowance is ended and an excess profits tax is heaped on the oil producers, drilling activity could go down hill very quickly. So, long range planning for the oil equipment manufacturer is almost impossible these days.

Soaring material costs are pushing through price increases almost daily. Hughes Tool raised its rock bit prices 28% in 24 months. Just getting a price increase into effect takes as long as six months. But, as costs keep soaring, the industry's profits (up sharply) may turn around dramatically within a year. A big question is how high costs can go before drilling becomes unprofitable for U.S. oil and gas producers. The cost of drilling has already doubled in the past two years to about $6 per ft. for wells in the 8,000-ft. range. Many drillers are so concerned about future drilling demand, they are not taking on any additional headaches by expanding their fleet of drilling rigs.

There is a lesson for the future from the recent past. After a drilling boom in 1955 and 1956, the industry expanded capacity only to face 15 years of declining drilling activity. The number of working rigs dropped from more than 2,600 to as low as 970. "Who knows?" says one bank lending specialist. "This is a commodity business. The boom is not going to last forever."

Questions People Ask About the Catholic Church

Q. Do priests retire like other people?

A. When a priest reaches a certain age, or when his health fails, or when he loses his sight or some other faculty, he usually asks his bishop to free him from active service. He still remains a priest, since this is a lifetime seal on his soul, but he simply withdraws from active ministry, and spends his retirement any way he wishes.

Q. Do you ever answer personal questions about yourself in your column?

A. Never. My private life is my own, and I am a man who craves privacy. My answers will deal only with my public life as a priest, and my public thoughts on religious and other issues. People in public life, such as priests, do have their own private lives, too, and they are nobody's business except God's.

The Quail Season Is with Us— A Time for Fine Sportsmanship

Besides the winter season into which we will enter shortly, there is that second season which is so much a part of Collingsworth -- Quail season.

To many, quail hunting would seem to rank second only to getting the cotton out.

There are several things every hunter should remind himself of each time he goes out. Safety is one. Gun safety is probably the most important of these -- for your own sake and for the sake of those in your party and anyone else who may be hunting in your vicinity. Seldom a season passes that there is not a gun incident -- some major, some minor. All too many of these come from carelessness at the hands of the man with the gun.

One of the sore spots with landowners each year is the hunter who comes without permission, completely wipes out coveys of birds and then goes his way leaving the pasture gates down. As much as anything, this practice on the part of the few has closed good areas to all hunters. The feeling goes double to the man who has had a cow or steer killed or a pasture burned over.

Hunting is a fine sport and by far the majority of Collingsworth hunters are sportsmen in the truest sense. They are to be commended.

County-Wide Law Enforcement

The study of a county-wide law enforcement agency for Harmon County could well be a step in the right direction.

The city of Hollis and the board of county commissioners are expected to take action soon to appropriate funds for such a study.

No system of law enforcement is going to solve all the problems a community faces, but it seems to us that one law enforcement body for the entire county could do away with considerable expensive duplication of personnel and equipment.

It has always seemed rather silly to us for a county to have to keep up two radio units and have two sets of dispatchers when one could have provided as much service as was necessary.

Probably, Hollis will have to amend its city charter somewhat to do away with its present police department and that would take a vote of the people. The county-wide police department is working effectively in Dewey County, Oklahoma and Hardeman County, Texas, at present. We would like to see it tried here.

If it didn't work we could always go back to the present system.

Decimating the language

It's interesting how language changes, almost it seems from day to day, or at least between one edition of a dictionary and the next.

Take the word "decimate." Strictly speaking, if an army is decimated in battle it has lost one-tenth of its men. In common usage, however, the word has long meant almost total obliteration, whether of troops or of some other aggregation of living things, and this is one definition given in the Second Edition of Webster's International, published in 1934.

But even recognizing that no living language can remain static, it still comes as a bit of a jolt to see the word now being used to describe destruction in general.

For example, a recent article about the virtues of large cars versus small cars stated that the latter "would be decimated" in a crash.

Surprisingly, Webster's Third, published in 1966, has already given its blessing to this usage, citing as a sample sentence the act that inflation has "decimated" buying power.

To language purists, the whole thing is -- well, decimating.

If Anything, We've Got Grit

There's one natural resource we don't have to worry about running out of.

According to the U.S. Geological Survey, about 400 billion tons of "commercially significant" sand are deposited in the upper 10 feet of the ocean floor off the northeastern coast of the United States.

The deposits of this unglamorous, but necessary material are enough to supply the needs of the United States and the Maritime Provinces of Canada for several thousand years.

STATE CAPITAL

Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—Texas delegates will be heading for Kansas City, Mo., this week for a new kind of Democratic national convention.

Most of them are just as glad there has never been one like it before and hope that there will never be another.

The "mini-convention" or 1974 Conference on Democratic Policy and Organization was mandated by the 1972 Democratic National Convention.

Its job is to produce the first national charter or constitution in history for a major American political party.

It will also serve as a forum for discussion of national issues. Four panels will meet December 6 to discuss four general areas, in identifying the issues of greatest concern to the Democratic party.

The party charter will be adopted after debate by 2,038 delegates December 7, and issue panel moderators will make their reports and addresses December 8.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe is chairman of the Texas delegation, which includes as ex-officio members all members of the Democratic congressional delegation.

Texas liberals, unhappy with selection of Briscoe in a telephone poll, named Ms. Billie Carr of Houston, a national Democratic committee member, their chairwoman.

Prospective candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1976—including U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen of Texas—are expected to make strong bids for attention at the Kansas City sessions.

VOTES CANVASSED—Canvass of the statewide general election vote reconfirmed Atty. Gen. John Hill as the top vote-getting incumbent. He polled 1,170,253 votes to win over Republican Tom Cole, with 379,108 and the Socialist Workers Party nominee, with 30,577.

Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong came in second in the canvass with 1,136,321, and Agriculture Commissioner John C. White third, with 1,125,577.

All the incumbents scored more than a million votes.

High Republican vote-getter in the canvass was treasurer candidate Robert G. Holt, with 559,402.

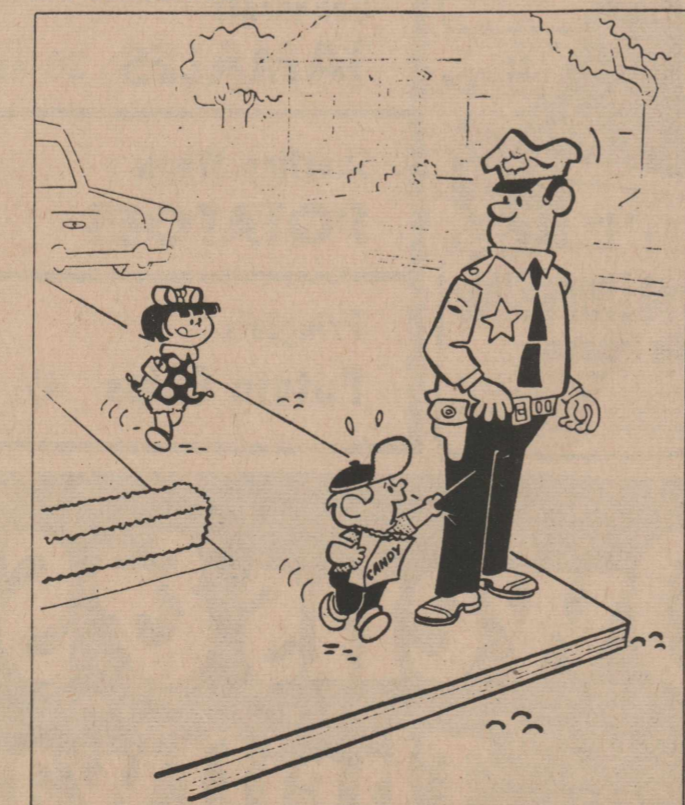

Votes for governor and lieutenant governor will not be canvassed until the legislature convenes in January. The House of Representatives takes care of that. The Board of Canvassers canvasses the other races, including legislative, congressional and judicial.

COURTS BUSY — During January-June, 1,716,697 cases were filed in or appealed to county, justice of the peace and municipal courts of the state, according to Texas Civil Judicial Council.

Fifty-three per cent of the county court criminal cases and 38 per cent of the civil cases were dismissed or settled before trial.

Justice of the peace and municipal courts received $26.4 million in revenue during the six-month reporting period.

SWEETIE PIE

"Would you mind escorting me home, Officer? That girl is following me!"

The council reported 184 of the 254 constitutional county courts have judges who are not attorneys. Only six per cent of 934 justices of the peace are attorneys, and about 65 per cent of the 215 municipal courts (in cities over 5,000) are licensed lawyers.

RATE HIKES OPPOSED — A group backing utility regulation asked Attorney General Hill to investigate allegations of irregularities in rate practices by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

At the same time, the chairman of the Texas Coalition for Utility Regulation said no city council should grant phone rate increases while questions raised in a suit at San Antonio against Southwestern Bell are pending.

The $29.6 million damage suit by a fired Bell executive and the family of a deceased executive alleges the company kept a separate set of books for use in getting rate increases and indirectly channeled money into political campaigns.

State Rep. Roy Blake of Nacogdoches also advised city councils to refrain from rate increases until the charges have been proved or disproved.

NEW INDUSTRIES MULTIPLY—Twenty-six new industries which may have a $121 million annual impact on the economy located in Texas during October.

About 2,300 jobs will be generated, and another 2,259 indirectly created. The industries will produce $7.4 million in federal taxes a year, $445,734 in state taxes and $537,287 in local taxes, according to Texas Industrial Commission projections.

Plants are planned in Palestine, Bryan, Columbus, Morton, Summerfield, Ranger, Longview, Freeport, Marshall, Donna, Waco, New London, Tenaha, Brackenridge, Clear Lake City, Houston, Corpus Christi, Austin and Fort Worth.

VETS DAY CHANGE BACKED — Veterans Day would be returned to November 11, under legislation backed by Governor Briscoe and sponsored by Rep. Lindon Williams of Houston.

Forty-two other states already have enacted similar bills. Federal legislation changed the date from November 11 to the last Monday in October.

NEW APPROACH BACKED — Governor Briscoe is backing the so-called "weighted pupil approach" to determine spending for public schools.

The formula would take the place of a specific allocation of dollars per classroom teacher unit. Money would be divided among schools in line with time of pupils spent in different types of classes. More "weight"—and more money—would go to the executive types of instruction.

Briscoe announced 60 meetings will be conducted over the state December 2-19 to detail tentative proposals developed for restructuring

Meetings are slated in Edinburg, Corpus Christi, Kilgore, Amarillo, Victoria, Houston, Huntsville, Mt. Pleasant, Lubbock, Austin, Fort Worth, Waco, Abilene, Beaumont, Richardson, San Angelo, Midland-Odessa, San Antonio, Wichita Falls and El Paso.

SHORT SNORTS

Berl L. Handcox, an Austin city councilman, will become director of the Governor's Office of Equal Employment Opportunity January 7.

The Governor announced he will ask the legislature to double the state share of cost of instructional television in the classroom to a maximum of $1.50 per child for the school year.

Attorney General Hill held a university may delay furnishing names of its seniors to a citizen for a month while its code file is being used for registration and reports to state agencies.

MR. AND MRS. Z.J. NEELEY

Mr. and Mrs. Z. J. Neeley Honored on Their Golden Wedding Anniversary

The nine children of Mr. and Mrs. Z.J. Neeley of Quail honored their parents on their fiftieth wedding anniversary, with a reception held Saturday, November 30 in Bura Handley community center.

Hosting the event were Mrs. Ted Brock of Portales, N.M., Mrs. Leon Handley of Tarzan, Raymond Neeley, Mrs. James Cunningham of Spearman, Mrs. Ronald Kersten, Jack Neeley, Mrs. Kenneth Jett Wheatland, Wyoming, Z.J. Neeley, Jr., of Roswell, New Mexico, and Walter Neeley of Amarillo.

In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Neeley and the 9 children.

Presiding at the guest registry were two great granddaughters, Neva Jett of Wheatland, Wyoming, and Allison Neeley. The table was laid with a white cloth and accented with a yellow rose in a bud vase. But the center of attention was a photograph of Mr. and Mrs. Neeley made on their wedding day.

Gifts were displayed on tables along two sides of the room.

The reception table was covered with a white lace cloth over gold, and the centerpiece was an arrangement of gold chrysanthemums in a golden footed bowl. Coffee was served from a silver service and spiced tea from a crystal bowl. Alternating at the table were granddaughters, Mrs. Sam Rutkowski and Mrs. George Leathers of Amarillo, Mrs. Larry Kane, Mrs. Don Martin of Weatherford, Oklahoma, Miss Stacy Neeley, Miss Kathy Kersten and Miss Janet Brock of Portales, New Mexico.

Approximately 250 guests registered during the afternoon, with many coming from out of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Neeley were married in Wellington November 30, 1924, and have lived in Collingsworth County all of their married life, and in the Quail community since 1927.

Who's New in the Wellington Area

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Porter are the parents of a daughter, Jana Michelle, born in Collingsworth General Hospital Thanksgiving morning, November 28. She weighed seven pounds and nine ounces. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J.K. Porter of Shamrock and Mr. and Mrs. John Wolf. The great grandmothers are Mrs. George Adkins and Mrs. L.H. Wolf.

Quail YH Hears Mrs. Arla Felts

Mrs. Arla Felts, county extension agent, was the guest speaker for the Quail Homemakers recently, as preparations began for the holiday season. She discussed Christmas wrappings and illustrated her talk with a number of packages.

Mrs. Carl Wischkaemper and Mrs. Monty Ferguson were hostesses in Quail home ec cottage.

During the business session, plans were made for the Christmas Party which will be held Friday, December 6, at Hay Camp Country Club.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Donald Langley, Mrs. Guy Brandvik, Mrs. Sonny Arthur, Mrs. Denny Marcum, Mrs. Warren Merrell, Mrs. Lonnie Needham, Mrs. Raymond Ross, Mrs. Carey Don Neeley, Mrs. Lonnie Neeley, Mrs. Ross Oatman, Mrs. Harold Caldwell, and the hostesses, Mrs. Wischkaemper and Mrs. Ferguson.

Mr. Neeley is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Neeley and was born at Honey Grove. He came with his family from Caddo, Oklahoma in 1923.

The former Opal Norman, Mrs. Neeley is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Norman. She was born in Runnels County, coming here as a child in December 1914.

They are members of the Primitive Baptist Church, in which he serves as a deacon. Mr. Neeley helped to organize the Quail Rural High School District, and was named to the original school board. In fact, he served on that board 30 years, the entire time that he had a child in school. One year, the family noted, 8 of the 9 Neeley children were enrolled.

After the last of the children graduated, Mr. Neeley retired, only to be called back to serve on the Collingsworth County School Board, in 1962, of which he is still a member. He is a former member of the Quail Lions Club.

Mrs. Neeley's time was devoted entirely to her family. Present for the golden wedding anniversary were a couple who were the attendants at their wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wood of Glen Rose. Mrs. Wood is Mr. Neeley's sister.

Attending also were five of Mr. Neeley's brothers and sisters and Mrs. Neeley's brother and sister.

Heading this list are Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Norman. He is Mrs. Neeley's brother -- she is Mr. Neeley's sister. Others in the Neeley family were Mr. and Mrs. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bradley of Corpus Christi, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Neeley, and Mr. and Mrs. Omer Neeley of Littlefield. Mrs. Neeley's sister was Mrs. Elmer Smith of Shamrock.

Besides their 9 children, the couple have 23 grandchildren and 9 great grandchildren.

In the evening following the reception, the entire family had supper together in the American Legion Hall.

First United Methodist Women Hold Kitchen-Nursery Shower for Church

The Esther, Lydia, and Dorothean Groups of the United Methodist Women had a church kitchen and nursery shower in the fellowship hall on Thursday evening, November 14. These two departments are serviced by the UMW and it was a time of thanksgiving as the ladies displayed their kitchen and nursery gifts.

Mrs. Don Dennis Has Dodson HDC

The Dodson Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Don Dennis on Monday, November 25. Mrs. Fred Boyd gave the devotional.

Mrs. Lynval Black conducted the business meeting and roll call was answered by naming, "My most common mistake in baking." The program was a survey of eating places in our county.

Mrs. Black showed some plaques that she had made from pop cases. She had antiqued one and then painted another one.

Plans were made for the Christmas party to be held December 10, in the home of Mrs. Black. Names for secret pals were drawn for the next year.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. C.E. Hightower, Mrs. Fred Boyd, Mrs. Gilbert Hunt, Mrs. Wayne Reynolds, Mrs. Thurman Crownover, Mrs. Purl Tippie, Mrs. Black and Leslie and the hostess, Mrs. Dennis.

Start by taking a look at where money is going now. List all expenditures that must be met for the next several months. Then list the amount of money that will be coming in to pay these bills, she advised.

"This provides a realistic picture of how much money is left for gift giving, entertaining and other holiday functions.

"In most families some adjustments will need to be made. Let the family figure out together what can be done," Mrs. Myers said.

Dodson Club to Hold Bazaar

Dodson Civic Club will hold its two-day Christmas Bazaar Friday and Saturday, December 6 and 7, in the American Legion Hall on Main Street.

It will be open from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. on each of these days.

Featured will be handmade articles, foods, Christmas decorations, and other items, said Mrs. B.B. Martin, who is helping with arrangements.

Methodist Women Conduct Meet

The United Methodist Women held their last general business meeting of the year on Sunday, November 17, in the parlor of the First United Methodist Church. Mrs. J.B. King, president, was in charge.

The three sub-groups took names of church shut-ins for Christmas remembrances. The Lord's prayer, repeated in unison, was the benediction.

Mrs. Cecil Masten was at the registry table, which was centered with a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums, touched with blue.

The group was led in singing by Mrs. George Jones, with Mrs. Jack Davis at the piano. Mrs. King gave the opening prayer and Mrs. James Sullivan presented membership pins to Mrs. R.H. Ball and Mrs. Barbara Williamson.

Plans were discussed for the annual Christmas dinner to be held December 7 in Bura Handley Community Center. The committee in charge will include Mrs. Robert Lewis, Mrs. R.R. Hightower, Mrs. George Henry, along with the president, Mrs. King, and the treasurer, Mrs. Jerry Nix.

'How to Learn' Most Important

The most important skill that children learn is "how to learn," one family life education specialist noted this week.

She's Dr. Jennie Kitching, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Unless children develop the art of problem solving -- whether by intuition or by analytical logic -- their minds will remain greatly unused. They will be less able to cope with the world around them," she said.
