Q. What's happened to the city's new garbage pickup schedule? It doesn't seem to be working very well.

A. City Secretary Glenna Garrett said the sanitation department is still in the process of getting used to the new route schedule, and asks that residents please have patience during the transition period.

In addition to getting used to the new schedule, sanitation workers were delayed further Friday because of a flat tire on one of the trucks.

Small business honorees to be honored at event

David and Melody Stubblefield of Colorado City, selected by the U.S. Small Business Administration's (SBA) Lubbock district as Small Business Persons of the Year, will be honored at a luncheon Friday, May 25 at the Civic Center.

The luncheon, from 11:30 a.m.-1 p.m., will be a combined meeting of the Lions and Kiwanis clubs and is open to the public. Tickets are $7.50 each and may be purchased at the chamber office, City National Bank First National Bank or from a member of the chamber board of directors.

Featured speaker at the luncheon will be Charlie Hicks of Abilene, a certified financial planner.

The Stubblefields, owners and operators of Gas 'N Grub, a multi-convenience complex, represent the 71-county area served by SBA's Lubbock District, according to David Fronstin, SBA's Lubbock district director.

The Stubblefields were nominated for special recognition from the SBA by the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce.

Gas 'N Grub, located at the edge of Colorado City at the intersection of highways 80 and 208, offers travelers a variety of services: a fully equipped trailer park, with laundromat, restroom and shower facilities; lock box; camping equipment; recreational licenses.

STATE CHAMPS - These Westbrook High School students brought home honors from the state University Interscholastic League meet. From left are Mason Morris, fifth in calculator; Scooter Hines, first in calculator; Callan Turnage; and Jeran Ware, fifth in shorthand. Hines, Turnage and Morris took second place honors in calculator team competition.

Lone Wolf members to consider proposal

A special membership meeting has been called for Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative, headquartered in Colorado City, at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, May 29, in the Colorado High School auditorium.

The purpose of the meeting is to vote on the proposal of combining the cooperative with Cap Rock Electric Cooperative, a neighboring cooperative adjoining Lone Wolf on its northwest boundary. Cap Rock Electric serves 13 counties with approximately 17,000 members.

Lone Wolf members have received by mail a notice of the special meeting, as well as a proxy by which they may vote on the matter of the combining without being present at the meeting.

Kenneth Rogers, Lone Wolf general manager, said, "This combining of the two cooperatives will help stabilize rates for Lone Wolf members, as well as place us in a more advantageous position for negotiating future power supply cost. At the same time, it will give our employees advanced technology and equipment we do not have available at the present time, as well as added manpower in the time of emergency."

He added that he will continue to locally manage Lone Wolf Electric and all employees will continue in their present job assignments. Co-op banking and local purchasing procedures will continue as at present. "In fact," he said, "you will hardly be able to see any difference in Lone Wolf Electric after the combining, except for system improvements made possible by the combining."

The combining of the two cooperatives has also received the approval and unanimous recommendation of the co-op's board of directors, who are elected from the membership and set policy for the cooperative.

Hubert Dunn, president of the board, said, "The combining will give Lone Wolf Electric added strength of numbers. We believe that, by joining forces with Cap Rock, we will have more opportunity to grow and prosper and offer more and better service to cooperative members. This combination gives us not only a method to save the membership dollars, but also to continue Lone Wolf's identity and preserve the cooperative form of business for us. Cap Rock Electric will also enjoy many of the same advantages as a result of the combining."

The Lone Wolf board and management say the combining of the two cooperatives is the culmination of over six years' study and investigation into possible solutions to the cooperative's rising costs of wholesale power and other expenses. The board's report after the investigation was taken.

that the combining with Cap Rock Electric was the best of all solutions they checked out. They found there was more to gain for the cooperative membership and the communities involved by the combining than with any other action the board could have taken.

Painting the town

Local TU Electric employees turned out to participate in the company's Paint the Town program last Saturday by painting the home of Garvice Craghead on Chestnut Street. The group of civic-minded residents spent the entire morning and part of the afternoon painting the house. The Kiwanians did their civic duty by serving lunch to the house painters.

Newspapers are the world's worst at making mistakes in print. We print our mistakes for the whole world to see. The mistake might be a typographical error, a misspelled name or information either omitted or wrong.

Some errors can be embarrassing, even though somewhat amusing at times. We'll never forget the time that a wedding story had to be reprinted because the first time it was printed, the reception tables were reported to have been covered in white "lice" instead of white lace.

But, newspaper editors aren't the only ones with red faces. Take for example some of the following gems taken from announcements from church bulletins. Some of them might require a bit of thought...

- This afternoon there will be a meeting in the south and north ends of the church. Children will be baptized at both ends.
- Tuesday at 4 p.m. there will be an ice-cream social. All ladies giving milk, please come early.
- Wednesday, the Ladies Liturgy Society will meet. Mrs. Johnson will sing "Put Me in My Little Bed", accompanied by the pastor.
- Thursday at 5 p.m. there will be a meeting of the Little Mothers' Club. All those wishing to become Little Mothers, please meet the minister in his study.
- This being Easter Sunday, we will ask Mrs. Johnson to come forward and lay an egg on the altar.
- The service will close with "Little Drops of Water". One of the ladies will start quietly and the rest of the congregation will join in.
- On Sunday, a special collection will be taken to defray the expenses of the new carpet. All those wishing to do something on the new carpet, come forward and get a piece of paper.
- The ladies of the church have cast off clothing of every kind and they may be seen in the church basement on Friday afternoon.
- A bean supper will be held Saturday evening in the church basement. Music will follow.
- The roscud on the altar this morning is to announce the birth of David Alan Belser, the sin of Rev. and Mrs. Julius Belser.

ARCO Jesse Owens Games put kids on the right track

Jesse Owens wasn't always an Olympic hero. He was once like a lot of today's youngsters, filled with dreams and ambition, but often missing a way to fulfill those dreams until something motivates them to achieve their goals.

Today, the ARCO Jesse Owens Games are helping put kids on the right track by giving them a way to achieve and, hopefully, the motivation to accomplish their dreams.

The ARCO Jesse Owens Games are open to boys and girls born in the years 1976 through 1983.

Diggin' Up Bones

By Sandra Vlasin

In the early 1940s, Claude Melton recorded this parable for her mother, Annie Melton, for a Mother's Day gift. The story has been special to our family all these years. Here's a Mother's Day gift to all and especially to you, Mom.

A Little Parable for Mothers

The young mother set her foot on the path of life. "Is the way long?" she asked. And her guide said, "Yes, and the way is hard. And you will be old before you reach the end of it. But the end will be better than the beginning."

But the young mother was happy, and she would not believe that anything could be better than these years. So she played with her children, and gathered flowers for them along the way, and bathed them in the clear streams; and the sun shone on them, and life was good. The young mother cried, "Nothing will ever be lovelier than this."

Then night came, and storm, and the path was dark, and the children shook with fear and cold, and the mother drew them close and covered them with her mantle, and the children said, "Mother, we are not afraid for you are near, and no harm can come." And the mother said, "This is better than the brightness of day, for I have taught my children courage."

And the morning came, and there was a hill ahead, and the children climbed and grew weary, and the mother was weary, but at all times she said to the children, "A little patience and we are there." So the children climbed and when they reached the top they said, "Mother, we would not have done it without you." And the mother, when she lay down that night looked up at the stars and said, "This is a better day than the last, for my children have learned fortitude in the face of hardness. Yesterday I gave them courage. Today I have given them strength."

And when the next day came, strange clouds darkened the earth - clouds of war and hate and evil, and the children groped and stumbled, and the mother said, "Look up. Lift your eyes to the light." And the children looked up and saw above the clouds in Everlasting Glory, and it guided them and brought them beyond the darkness. And that night the mother said, "This is the best day of all, for I have shown my children God."

And the days went on, and the weeks and months and the years, and the mother grew old, and she was little and bent. But her children were tall and strong, and walked with courage. And when the way was hard, they helped their mother, and when the way was rough they lifted her, for she was as light as a feather, and at last they came to a hill, and beyond they could see a shining road and the golden gates flung wide.

And the mother said, "I have reached the end of my journey. And now I know that the end is better than the beginning for my children can walk alone and their children after them." And the children said, "You will always walk with us, Mother, even when you have gone through the gates."

And they stood and watched her as she went on alone, and the gates closed after her. And they said, "We cannot see her, but she is with us still. A mother like ours is more than a memory. She is a living presence."

Driving course scheduled

A defensive driving course is scheduled for May 22 and 24 at the Wallace Center in Colorado City sponsored through Western Texas College in Snyder. The classroom sessions offer pointers in preventing accidents in spite of the incorrect actions of others and adverse driving conditions.

The course will have two sessions on Tuesday and Thursday nights from 6-10 p.m. Films and other visual aids will be used to demonstrate how to improve driving skills.

Persons completing this course will be eligible for a reduction in insurance premium rates, also for possible ticket removal. The fee for persons 60 and over is $20. Others pay a fee of $25.

You may register at the Wallace Community Education Center by May 21. For more information call 728-2392.

POUND PUPPY - Grady, a full blood, male Scottie, is available for adoption from the city pound located at Mitchell County Veterinary Clinic, Highway 208 South. For more information about him or other pets available for adoption, call 728-8055.

Methodist women attend convention

Ann Nimmo, Peggy Ratliff, Dawn Shaw and Nancy Womack of First United Methodist Church were among the 10,100 United Methodist Women who attended the 1990 assembly of the women's mission organization in Kansas City, May 3-6.

The assembly featured internationally known speakers, musical events, a vast array of exhibits, workshops, Bible study and worship events. Concerns for the environment and for children were major themes of the four-day event held in the Kansas City Convention Center. Speakers included Marian Wright Edelman, Washington, D.C., civil rights activist and advocate for children, and Noel Brown of Jamaica, a leading United Nations environmental official.

"Witnesses for a New World" was the theme of the assembly. More than 50 focus groups explored a wide range of topics from prayer and spiritual disciplines to ways of preventing further damage to the earth.

The Women's Division of the United Methodist General Board of Global Ministries sponsors the event held every four years. United Methodist Women are currently engaged in a campaign for children. The assembly offering goes to work with children and youth. Grants will be made to projects in this country and throughout the world.

While in Kansas City, the local group saw Becky Husky, daughter of Weldon and Wadie Husky of Arlington, formerly of Colorado City, in the Appletree Restaurant. She noticed the group's name tags made of denim in the shape of Texas with an "X" marking Colorado City.

Correction

A story in Thursday's Record containing the results of last Saturday's Westbrook ISD board of trustee election contained a typographical error. Kenny Clanton received 41 votes, not 1 vote as printed.

The Record regrets the error.

Body control class scheduled May 21-31

There will be a two-week body control class beginning on May 21 through May 31, with Joann Sanderson as instructor.

The class will meet three nights each week on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday nights. The fee will be $10 for three nights and $7.50 for two nights. Pre-registration is required through Wallace Center.

The class will involve a series of exercises set to a variety of music that emphasizes weight loss, muscle tone and cardiovascular fitness.

HAPPENINGS

by DANA DAVENPORT
County Extension Agent

The average American uses from 20-80 gallons of water each day for such activities as drinking, cooking, bathing, washing clothes and dishes, flushing toilets, and watering the lawn and gardens. There is no overall shortage of groundwater but our use of water continues to increase, while the total quantity of water available for use remains the same.

Nationwide Americans have been observing "Drinking Water Week" May 6-12, hopefully Americans spent some time this past week observing water use habits and making some changes that will help prevent the waste of water in the future.

Some water trivia facts you might find surprising!

*the total amount of water used to manufacture a new car, including tires - 39,090 gallons

*an average five minute shower uses - 25-50 gallons of water

*handwashing dishes uses approximately 20 gallons of water

*2 gallons of water is used when brushing teeth

*the average residence will use 107,000 gallons of water during a year *when it rains one inch you get 27,000 gallons of water per acre

*one gallon of water weighs 8.34 pounds

*it would take 219 million gallons of water to cover one square mile with one foot of water

*80% of the earth's surface is water with 97% of that being ocean or seas

*2% of the world's water is frozen and therefore unusable leaving 1% of the earth's water suitable for drinking *the human body is 66% water.

Correction

A recent article in the Record after the Mitchell County Retired Teachers Assn. meeting failed to mention one award that was presented at the meeting.

Mrs. Peggy Ratliff was presented an award of distinction and appreciation in recognition of dedicated service to education and retired Texas educators.

The Record regrets the omission.

CHIEF LONE WOLF

In this country, we have the right to gripe. It's called freedom of speech.

Back when little Colorado, Texas, was first developing (early 1880's), some early day citizens had a gripe. What would you guess they were upset about? Bad drinking water? Unpaved streets? Or, maybe the local landfill was not being properly maintained?

None of the above. In May of 1883 Alderman J. H. Morrison told his fellow city councilmen that he was sick and tired of "prostitutes riding upon streets, stopping at barrooms, drinking and so forth!"

Ol' J. H. may have disliked what he was seeing, but chances are the problem didn't go away. In fact, three years later (November 1886), the situation was such that the Ladies Aid Society could not ignore it any longer. They decided to circulate a petition which was ultimately signed by "155 ladies and 28 gentlemen." (Why only 28 gentlemen?)

Anyway, the petition was duly presented to the town council and it was noted that "a number of houses of prostitution and other places of iniquity are open day and night in violation of law, decency and good order."

And the ladies and gentlemen (28) asked the council to enforce the law so it "will result in the complete banishment of all such evils." And further, "that any officer failing to fulfill his duty in this respect be discharged and his name and offense published." (There must have been some inference to that part of the petition).

The heavy allegations prompted long and serious discussion among the councilmen and we can imagine how very much they must have deplored the wickedness that had been brought to their attention by the Ladies Aid Society.

Not only did the council endorse the petition, they agreed to have it presented to the county commissioners for their consideration!! (How's that for cracking down on prostitutes?)

A gripe. From the Ladies Aid Society. They knew how to get elected officials to re-act.

The following year, 1887, the council received another petition. This time it involved a completely different problem; the street sprinkler.

And we'll tell you how that was watered down by the council next week.

Paraplegic to be speaker here

Rob Bryant will speak at the Oak Street Baptist Church, 805 Oak Street, at the 11 a.m. Mother's Day Service. He will share how Christ is working in his life and using his physical handicap to reach people with the gospel.

Bryant, a paraplegic, was paralyzed when he fell 65 feet from the top of an oil rig. He is rowing across America in a 3 wheel cycle using only his arms to power the rowing cycle. He will row 3360 miles from Los Angeles, Calif., to Washington, D.C. He began April 2 and will arrive in Colorado City Saturday evening, May 12.

Bryant's wife, Wanice, and sons Jason and Jonathan will join him at the Oak Street Baptist Church for Mother's Day Services. His brother, Steve, and wife, Kristi are traveling with Rob as he travels across the country. He and his family are members of the Southcliff Baptist Church, Fort Worth where he serves as a deacon. He is employed as a Logistics & Technical Publications Manager with DynaCorp, Inc., Fort Worth.

The community is invited to meet and hear Rob Bryant and his family this Mother's Day Sunday,

May 13 at 11 a.m. at the Oak Street Baptist Church, 805 Oak St., Colorado City.

Poet's Corner

To My Mother, Alice Barnfield
I Love You

For all the years it took to raise me,
You were my friend and
my guide.
For all the love and gentle touch,
And for the tears
you've dried,
For all the untruths I've told you,
You stood right there for me, Mother.
Thanks is not enough
to say.
So be happy - this day is especially for you.
I'll always love (you) in whatever you decide to do.
And if it could ever
measure,
A love that all can see,
I'd know that God and all his glory
Gave (you) to me.
So on this day, let your light shine.
There are lots of mothers,
Mother
But today you are mine.
Happy Mother's Day -
I love you.

No violations, no tickets

TO THE EDITOR: To whom it may concern:

On the morning before the Mud Bog, Jaycees representatives were advised that we had had considerable amount of trouble last year with the Mud Bog participants coming into town and causing various problems with vehicles.

Throughout the year from time to time in conversation, the Mud Bog would come up and these complaints would arise. I had more citizen complaints from this activity than any other civic activity. Complaints included racing, loud pipes, doing donuts on streets and going into people's yards.

We, as a Police Department, had participated in this event and left the town virtually unpatrolled and this was taken advantage of.

I asked that this information be given to the Mud Bog participants at the drivers' meeting before the event: that there would be increased patrol by the Police Department and all traffic laws would be enforced.

"ALL THOSE TICKETS" as quoted by the Jaycees, were four citations issued after the event was over, between 6:15 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Two of these were to local residents and two were issued to people from out of town. "ALL THOSE PARTICIPANTS" issued citations were ONE. All of which were exceeding the speed limit by at least 11 miles per hour. All four citations were issued by the same officer sitting at the same location, parked in front of a local business in a marked patrol vehicle equipped with overhead light bar in broad daylight. Considering the number of people attending the event, I do not see where this could be conceived as picking on anyone.

I feel because of added patrol and the explanation at the drivers' meeting, the problem we've had the last few years was alleviated. Those four who received citations out of possibly hundreds that came through radar would have received traffic citations anyway.

I feel we were more than fair considering these people were given a 10-mile per hour courtesy extension over the posted speed limit before they were issued a citation.

The bottom line is if these people had not been violating traffic laws, they would not have gotten a ticket.

Thank you

TO THE EDITOR: The Colorado Noon Lions would like to thank the citizens of Colorado City for their warm welcome and their response during last Monday evening's light bulb sale.

The Lions report that the sale was good - but - they still have a few bulbs left and another sale will be held Monday evening, May 14, from 5-8 p.m.

Some parts of the city have not been worked, and the Lions would like to give those areas an opportunity to purchase bulbs.

Thanks again for your response, and we hope you will receive the Lions warmly once again, as they go from door to door Monday evening, May 14.

Mayfest thanks

TO THE EDITOR: The Cub Scout Pack No. 2 would like to thank everyone for their great support at their Mayfest booth.

The games were good fun by all and the proceeds help all the Scouts in their Scouting functions. Again, much thanks to all participants and all who worked the booth.

Sincerely,

Cubmaster Julie Atkins,
Asst. Rayanna McGaha
