Knowland Still Believes Red Ban Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said today he thought it was still possible to reach a bipartisan agreement on a much-tossed-about bill to ban the Communist party.

Twice yesterday administration leaders were rebuffed, first by the Senate and then by the House, in their efforts to keep out of the measure a provision making Communist party membership a crime.

The double setback was a surprise upset for Republican leaders after they had engineered a move that only the day before put the bill through the House in a form satisfactory to President Eisenhower.

With Congress now rushing toward adjournment, Knowland told newsmen he was pinning his hopes on a Senate-House conference committee to work out a compromise agreeable all around.

In its present form, after shuttling back and forth between the House and Senate amid charges of "politics," the bill would:

(1) Deprive Communist-dominated labor unions of any legal standing before the National Labor Relations Board; (2) strip the Communist party of all legal rights; and (3) make membership in the Communist party illegal, punishable by five years in jail and a $10,000 fine.

The outlawing of Communist party membership was first written into the bill in the Senate in a move spearheaded by Democrats who have heard some Republican orators call their party soft on communism.

Atty. Gen. Brownell has contended this would interfere with, if not wreck, the enforcement of present Communist-control laws which rely on a more indirect approach such as the 1950 Internal Security (McCarran) Act and the 1940 Smith Act.

The internal security law requires all subversive organizations to register with the government. Many top - echelon Communists have been convicted under the Smith Act, which makes it a crime to teach or advocate forcible overthrow of the government. The administration says making Communist party membership directly punishable would only drive the Reds underground, make martyrs of them, and wash out years of anti-Communist effort under existing laws.

The Senate bill, first passed last week 85-0, was revised in the House Monday after administration prodding to take out the part making membership in the Communist party illegal.

The House substituted a provision to deprive the party of all its rights, privileges and immunities under the law. Those would include the right to sue in the courts, enter into contracts and appear on election ballots.

But when the measure came back to the Senate yesterday, Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) assailed it as "a powder-puff approach." He said it left the party membership untouched.

Author of the original Senate amendment to outlaw Communist party membership, Humphrey offered the same provision again. Over the objections of Republican leaders, it was added to the House bill by a vote of 41-39.

Locations Are Announced In Garza, Nolan

Garza and Nolan Counties have each drawn locations for a new wildcat.

Sharples Oil Corp. and Joseph I. O'Neill of Midland are to drill the Garza County prospector as the No. 1 J. A. Meeks. Location has been made 330 feet from south and east lines of section 1240, D& W survey. That is about nine miles northwest of Post and two miles southwest of the Buenos field. It is also about five-eighths of a mile southeast of a long northwest extension to the PHD field. Both the Buenos and the PHD fields produce from the San Andres.

Race On For First Bale

The farmer who brings in the first bale of cotton in Scurry County will just barely be the first one, it appears today.

Up to noon today, as far as could be determined, there had not been any cotton ginned. At least four gins in the county, however, were expecting cotton to be brought in today or very soon.

If the first bale is brought in today, it will be the earliest in the county in several years. Last year the first bale came in Aug. 26, while it was Aug. 23 in 1952, Sept. 7 in 1951, and Aug. 26 in 1950.

The Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee, headed by Max West, will present a premium of $300 to the producer of the first bale. Rules on the award provide that the producer of the first bale produced and ginned in Scurry County will be eligible. The committee said it is making this award in recognition of the cotton industry in the county.

LAST ROUNDUP

The two girls above are in Snyder for the championship junior rodeo in which they will have their last chance to round up points toward making them World champions. Nathalyne Kendrick, 16, left, is leading in points in the cutting horse race, and Sherry Price, also 16, is ahead in barrel race points. Sherry has won 18 belt buckles, two saddles, and the 1953 American Junior Rodeo Association championship in barrel racing in the past. Nathalyne was 1953 state champion all-round rodeo girl, has won 15 saddles, 22 belt buckles. (Lee Watson photograph)

Farm Bill Headed For White House

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farm legislation calling a halt to rigid, high price supports headed for a White House welcome after a hectic dispute that routed disgruntled senators from bed early today.

The measure finally passed 44-28 on a postmidnight roll call, climaxing a 14½-hour session. Among other provisions, it grants the Eisenhower administration's request for flexible authority to deal with farm supports and surpluses.

The House passed the bill by a standing 208-47 unrecorded vote yesterday. Supporters had hoped to get it through the Senate in much the same way.

But after a siege of highly critical speeches, mainly from the Democratic side, midnight neared with many Republicans absent. GOP Leader Knowland of California asked for a recess and a showdown in the morning.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga), bitter opponent of flexible and lower price supports, protested furiously. He demanded a test vote on Knowland's request to quit without a vote.

This brought angry exchanges and lengthy explanations from Knowland and Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas while their assistants put in emergency calls for absent senators.

Knowland insisted he believed there had been an informal agreement for no record votes during the night. Johnson conceded that Knowland had proposed this but said he had control of only his own vote and that any senator could demand a record vote.

Apparently satisfied that he had mustered enough supporters of the bill, Knowland agreed to the roll call. It moved at a slow pace past midnight. Finally Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) employed a parliamentary tactic to end the stalling for late arrivals.

On the final test 31 Republicans and 13 Democrats voted for the compromise bill worked out by Senate and House conferees. Five Republicans, 22 Democrats and 1 independent shouted no.

Coffee, Cocoa Topple Index

NEW YORK (AP)—Sharp declines in coffee and cocoa this week sent the Dun & Bradstreet index of wholesale food prices to the lowest point since Feb. 2.

The index registered $7.07 compared with $7.10 a week ago and $6.67 a year ago. On Feb. 2 the index stood at $7.01.

More commodities advanced in price than declined, but the fall in coffee and cocoa more than offset such increases.

Higher were wheat, corn, rye, oats, barley, hams, bellies, lard, cottonseed oil, eggs, currants, hogs and lambs. Lower, besides coffee and cocoa, were flour, sugar, and rice.

The index represents the total cost at wholesale of one pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Probe Panel Faces Delay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Watkins (R—Utah) said today the special Senate committee to investigate charges against Sen. McCarthy (R—Wis) may have to postpone for a few days the scheduled Aug. 30 start of its public hearings.

Watkins, head of the committee, made the statement at a news conference held in connection with former Republican Congressman E. Wallace Chadwick's taking on the job of counsel to the group.

Chadwick, a Chester, Pa., lawyer, pledged to do "an impartial, objective job."

Watkins also said he had been advised that McCarthy's defense counsel, Washington lawyer Edward Bennett Williams, had refused to accept as a fee any part of a $10,000 fund the committee had set aside from its own money to provide McCarthy with counsel.

Williams had announced last night he considered it would be "improper" for him to accept money from the committee.

Absentee Ballots Are Asked By 95 Voters

Ninety-five ballots had been issued by the county clerk's office here by noon today for absentee voting in the second primary, and 72 of these had been cast, Pat Johnston, clerk, reported.

Applications for absentee ballots must be made before midnight Aug. 24, which is next Tuesday, three days prior to the date of election.

Crucial Talks Launched On French EDC Demand

Leaders Of Six Nations Confer

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Leaders of the six European army nations came to the Belgian capital today for crucial talks on the French demands imperiling the projected European Defense Community.

From all sides opposition mounted to French Premier Pierre Mendes-France's proposals for major revisions in the EDC treaty. But reports from Paris said Mendes-France would tell his colleagues at the foreign ministers' conference opening here tomorrow that only his new European army plan could be approved by the French National Assembly.

Many observers doubted that an acceptable formula could be worked out for the six-nation army in which a rearmed West Germany would pool her troops with those of France, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

U.S. officials in Washington already have expressed fears that the long-nurtured EDC plan, first proposed in October 1950 by France's then defense minister, Rene Pleven, is doomed.

So far the five other EDC nations have given evidence of nothing but opposition to the French proposals. Critics contend they rob the army plan of much of its supranational aspect. All argue the amendments would require new parliamentary approval by the four nations—all but Italy and France—which have ratified the pact. The West Germans consider the proposals raise new discriminations against them.

Mendes-France was reported ready to answer the critics with the argument that even a much-modified army plan is better than no army at all, and that the EDC pact as now drafted cannot win approval in his National Assembly.

French sources said Mendes-France believes a treaty amended as he proposes would secure approval of a majority of the lower house's entire 627 members. Only this majority can override an adverse vote in the French senate, the Council of the Republic.

The Mendes-France amendments among other things, would allow any members to withdraw from EDC if American and British troops were pulled out of Europe, limit the EDC treaty's length to that of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, forbid the stationing of German troops on French soil and withhold final French ratification pending a new try at settlement with Russia of the German question.

Workers In A-Plants Vote On Wage Hike

By BILL RAWLINS

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP) — About 4,500 AFL production workers at two atomic plants here vote today on whether to accept a previously rejected 6-cent hourly wage increase—and maybe pull the rug from under a rival CIO union holding out for more.

AFL leaders recommended that the workers accept, apparently reviewing the earlier stand in the light of a Taft-Hartley injunction slapped on the CIO last week when it called strikes over the same issue at other atomic plants here and at Paducah, Ky.

A source close to the situation says a favorable vote by the AFL workers—members of the Atomic Trades and Labor Council—could be expected to have a marked effect on the 4,500 CIO Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers members.

Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Co., which operates all four plants for the Atomic Energy Commission, has always granted identical increases to both the CIO and AFL. Thus, says the observer, if the AFL accepts the 6 cents, "the CIO will have a lot of arguments pulled right out from under them."

The CIO workers operate plants producing the nation's entire supply of uranium-235, used in hydrogen and atomic weapons. They also rejected the 6-cent offer, and during the four months since negotiations started they struck once, from July 7-11.

The AFL workers, in two less critical but still vital plants, also authorized a strike but their leaders never called one.

Both unions at present have scales ranging from $1.58 to $2.40 an hour. The increase is sought to offset a 23 per cent increase in rent recently placed on government-owned housing here.

Confirm One Polio Case

One person from Snyder who has been in Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene for treatment as a possible polio victim actually has polio, the family has reported.

The diagnosis of polio has been confirmed in the case of Donna Kay Duff, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Duff of Snyder.

The Duff child's case is not believed to the paralytic type, according to her father, who said she had been doing well.

This brings the total number of Scurry County cases actually confirmed as polio to nine, including one victim who died this year. Borden County has had one case of polio this year.

The Scurry-Borden Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is in the middle of its first week of a two-week special drive to raise funds. The drive, headed by Fred Auforth, Snyder attorney, was started to add to the already-exhausted local and national funds. Similar drives are being conducted throughout the country.

Many civic clubs and other organizations have been donating to the drive, which has a goal of $4,000 here. The Atheneum Study Club was the latest to turn in money.

Donations to the drive are being accepted at the West Texas State Bank, Snyder National Bank, or by Auforth, Forrest Beaver, vice-president of the local chapter, or Joe Stinson, secretary-treasurer.

Hoover Gets Confirmation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Herbert Hoover Jr. won unanimous confirmation today as undersecretary of state.

His name was brought up shortly after the Senate met and was approved without debate by voice vote.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee quickly approved his nomination after the White House announcement last night. He was confirmed by a voice vote this morning shortly after the Senate met.

Hoover succeeds Walter Bedell Smith as right-hand man to Secretary of State Dulles. Smith is retiring at 58 from the military-diplomatic career on which he embarked 43 years ago.

NEW CITIZEN

Federal Judge W. H. Atwell got a big hug in Dallas Tuesday from a new citizen of the United States—seven-year-old Frank Robert Croft. The youngster, a native of Germany who was adopted three years ago by a Texas couple, committed a near bobble when he couldn't quite recall during his naturalization hearing how many stars there are in the U. S. flag. A moment later he gave the 85-year-old judge the correct answer and sailed into citizenship.

Say U. S. Will Recall Troops

SEOUL (AP)—South Korean National Assemblymen said tonight the United States plans to withdraw all but three U.S. divisions from Korea by the end of 1954.

There are now six U.S. divisions in Korea.

The report was made during an emergency night session of the National Assembly which voted unanimously to oppose a withdrawal.

An Army spokesman in Washington said he had heard nothing of plans for withdrawing part of the 8th Army from Korea.

Assembly Chairman Lee Ki Pong said South Korean representatives in Washington would discuss the matter with top U.S. officials tomorrow.

Foreign Relations Committee Chairman Whang Sung Soo said the United States plans to pull out all but two U.S. divisions and one combined division of U.S. and other U.N. troops.

An informed source said President Syngman Rhee was advised by aides now in Washington that the U.S. National Security Council will make a decision "within two days."

Rhee and other ROK government officials long have demanded that three South Korean infantry divisions be formed for each U.S. division pulled out of South Korea.

Twenty South Korean divisions and seven divisions of U.S. and U.N. troops now are in South Korea.

Demonstrations against the reported withdrawal were being scheduled throughout South Korea tomorrow, official sources said.

An 8th Army spokesman refused to comment on the report.

"This is a time when South Korea must oppose any withdrawal of U.N. troops from Korea in view of the fact that the Communists are building their strength in the North," Lee said in a statement.

In Washington, an Army spokesman said he had heard nothing of any troop withdrawal from Korea.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomatic sources said today the United States is considering withdrawing three divisions from the Korean mainland but a Pentagon spokesman said "the Army has no knowledge of an early withdrawal of troops from Korea."

Officials of the South Korean National Assembly reported in Seoul, however, that this nation plans to take three of its six divisions out of Korea by the end of the year.

Diplomatic officials in Washington, declining the use of their names, said that there has not yet been any firm decision on the matter.

Philip Han, minister from the Republic of Korea, said Korean officials here have been conferring with top men at the Pentagon and the State Department in an effort to forestall any such withdrawal of troops.

Han said the withdrawal of any U.S. troops would "harm the morale" of South Koreans and would be "strategically wrong" in view of what he called the buildup of Communist forces in North Korea.

State Department officials declined to make an immediate public statement. Inquiries were referred to the Pentagon, where a flat "yes" or "no" could not be obtained.

TVA Contract Books Open, Says President

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower says the books are open for inspection of a controversial power contract in the TVA area. Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell says he's glad Eisenhower is ready to disclose "the whole story behind the Dixon-Yates deal"

Mitchell's latest blast at the power contract came in a statement he issued in Chicago last night after Eisenhower had told his news conference he is astonished at Mitchell's criticism of the way the matter was handled.

The ruckus was stirred up on Monday when Mitchell—in a Chicago debate with Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall—charged that the President issued a personal order for award to the Dixon-Yates syndicate of a long-term contract to sell power to the Atomic Energy Commission in the TVA area of the middle South.

Mitchell said Eisenhower did so over the protests of both the AEC and the Tennessee Valley Authority and without competitive bidding. And the Democratic party leader mentioned in this connection the President's friendship with famed golfer Bobby Jones, an officer of one of the companies associated with the Dixon-Yates group.

The furor extended to Capitol Hill, where both Democrats and Republicans voiced doubt that the Eisenhower—Jones friendship had figured in the handling of the contract.

In Atlanta, Jones said he "resents the implication" that a company enjoyed presidential favor because he had stock in it.

Answering Mitchell's charges that there is a "raw deal" in the making, Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday every single action he takes involving contractual relationships of the United States with anybody—except when the question of national security is involved—is open to the public.

The President said any of the newsmen present could go to the Budget Bureau or the AEC and get the complete record of the case.

Reporters were told at the two agencies that it would take a few days to get the material ready for publication. They also were informed the data probably would be available by the end of the week.

Eisenhower said he knew when he went into politics he would be subjected by many types of strange characters to many kinds of innuendo and allegations. But he was a little astonished, he said, that such innuendo should include a private citizen of the character and standing of Bob Jones.

There is no gentleman he knows, the President said, of whose integrity and probity he is more certain.

Observing that he wasn't going to defend himself, Eisenhower said of course he had approved recommendations for the contract.

Mitchell said of the handling of the power contract:

"The White House shut off the competing syndicate. It was a clear preference of a favored group . . . the sworn testimony shows a shocking story."

Renewing his attack, the Democratic leader propounded 10 questions to which he said he hopes the President "will make sure that the public gets the answers."

The questions concerned whether the President ordered the AEC to make the contract "against its better judgement," whether there had been competitive bidding, whether appropriate agencies were consulted and why the record couldn't be made public at once. They also touched on other points.

Mitchell said he wanted to know if future government policy will be "to take existing functions away from existing federal agencies and transfer them to selected private business organizations without competitive bidding no matter how great the added cost to the public."

Yarborough Lashes At Pipeline Firms

Associated Press Staff Writer

Ralph Yarborough says Texas "has had a government of, by and for the big natural gas pipeline companies and the big money bags long enough." Gov. Allan Shivers says if Yarborough is elected governor there will be an all-out drive to unionize farm and ranch workers.

Yarborough and Shivers, opponents for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in the Aug. 28 runoff primary, hit at each other again in speeches Tuesday night.

Yarborough then started a two-day swing into South Texas and the Rio Grande Valley while Shivers doubled back through West Texas from El Paso and into North Texas, Wednesday. Yarborough was to attend a rally in Gonzales, stop in Yoakum, fly to Raymondville for a rally and stop in Falfurrias, Harlingen and Brownsville. He planned a TV appearance in either Harlingen or Weslaco. Yarborough will make a state broadcast from Laredo Thursday night.

Shivers speaks on the courthouse square at Haskell at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday and had handshaking appearances in Rule, Rochester, Knox City, Munday, Seymour and Electra before going to Wichita Falls for a night rally and state broadcast. Shivers flies back to Austin from Wichita Falls and speaks at an Austin rally Thursday night.

B. A. Stufflebeme, Grand Prairie banker, is to speak for Shivers Thursday morning over a state radio network from Dallas.

Yarborough said in a state radio speech from Austin "Texas needs a government for the people of Texas."

"It has had a government of, by and for the big natural gas pipeline companies and the big money bags long enough," Yarborough said, adding, "The humblest citizen will count as much with me as the most powerful business magnate in Texas when Ralph Yarborough is governor."

Shivers told a local TV audience at El Paso, "Texas farmers and ranchers are beginning to realize that election of a CIO-sponsored governor would launch an all-out drive to unionize farm and ranch hands."

President Gets Bill On Atomic Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today got a bill carrying out his sweeping new program to open the way for a private atomic power industry and to bolster European defenses with more data on nuclear weapons.

The House put Congress' final approval on the long-debated measure by voice vote yesterday. The Senate had accepted the compromise version Monday.

But Chairman Cole (R—NY) of the Senate-House Atomic Enery Committee served notice he intends renewing a fight next January over disputed patent provisions which prompted much of the Senate's bitter 13-day debate on the original bill.

The measure sent to the White House requires the sharing of all civilian patents for five years on a free basis. After that, owners of developments not made under government auspices can get exclusive patent rights for 17 years, renewable for the same period.

This was a compromise between the House position calling for exclusive patents at the outset and the original Senate demand for 10 years of compulsory patent-sharing.

Cole told the House yesterday that, if reelected, his first job in January will be to introduce legislation to repeal the compulsory patent-sharing clauses which he called "distasteful and un-American."

Rep. Price (D—Ill), another conferree, said the final patent clauses were nearly the same as originally recommended by the atomic committee and corresponded to President Eisenhower's own proposals.

The atomic measure, which the President has termed of "utmost importance," provides authority for:

1. Disclosure to allies of limited secrets on the external characteristics and performance of nuclear weapons, and defenses against them. This has been described as the heart of the President's plan to bolster Europe's defenses through greater reliance on A—weapons.

2. Unveiling of heretofore secret details on the civilian uses of atomic energy and to start negotiations toward carrying out his proposal for a global A—pool for peaceful agreements must be approved by Congress.

3. The Atomic Energy Commission to grant 40—year renewable licenses for private industry to operate atomic plants and handle fissionable materials.

4. The AEC to build—after further congressional approval— full-scale atomic plants to demonstrate the feasibility of nuclear power and for other government agencies to apply for nuclear licenses, if Congress approves.

Preference in the sale of atomic power must go to cooperatives or publicly owned utilities. These bodies also get preference in obtaining nuclear licenses.

5. Specific congressional approval for the disputed presidential directive ordering the AEC to contract with a southern utility group for a new steam plant at West Memphis, Ark. The power would be supplied to the Tennessee Valley Authority to replace electricity supplied to atomic plants. Congress barred a proposal in the contract to reimburse the utility companies for federal taxes.

Two Cases In County Court

There were two actions in county court yesterday afternoon with a special temporary county attorney representing the state in the court of Judge Edgar Taylor.

Earl Fennell, 63, Snyder Negro formerly of San Antonio, was released on bond of $500 after pleading innocent to a charge of illegally possessing liquor.

William Green Holleman, 17, Midland, formerly of Snyder, was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail when he pleaded guilty to a charge of swindling by worthless check. He was returned to Snyder from Midland yesterday by Bill Love, deputy sheriff.

The bootlegging charge was filed soon after Fennell was placed under arrest by the sheriff's department at 12:15 o'clock. Howard Gibbons, deputy sheriff, said he stopped an automobile driven by Fennell, who was accompanied by Martha Holland Hill, Snyder Negro widow and former bootlegger. The arrest was made near Ira.

Gibbons said he confiscated 11 pints and two half-pints of whisky and three cans of beer. He said all the whisky except one pint was taken from pockets which had been sewed to the inner sides of Fennell's trousers and waistband.

Sureties on the bond were listed as Garland Armstrong and J. M. (Doc) Davis.

Property ownership in Bethlehem, Pa., founded in 1741, was restricted to members of the Moravian religious sect until the middle of the 19th Century.

Says Fleet Is Able To Block Chinese Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) said today the American 7th Fleet should be able to block any Chinese Communist attempt to invade the island of Formosa.

"The Communists might be able to mass thousands of sampans which could be ominous," Smith said in an interview. "But they could never cross against the modern naval [illegible] of our 7th Fleet. We're not worried about that."

Smith, chairman of the Far East subcommittee of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, approved President Eisenhower's declaration yesterday that any Communist invasion of the Chinese Nationalist-held island would have to run over the 7th Fleet.

The President served that calm but measured reminder to the Reds in answer to a question at his news conference.

Premier Chou En-lai said only last Friday that Communist China quarters of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists, and warned the United States against interfering.

A reporter asked the President what would happen if the Reds did move in force against Formosa.

Eisenhower said orders to the 7th Fleet to defend the island are still in effect.

"That has been our policy and it should continue to be," Smith commented.

Asked if his group had any information on whether the Communists are serious in threatening to take Formosa, Smith replied:

"I think they're bluffing, but of course you never know when you're dealing with Communists."

On the use of other forces, Smith commented: "We might have to use some air, but we have plenty of that on Okinawa."

The Pentagon said yesterday that on the average four destroyers and a tender for planes make up the Formosan patrol. However, the 7th Fleet contains three large carriers with supporting cruisers and destroyers. Military officials said these could be rushed to the area in no more than 36 hours.

Sleuth Finds Burglary Strictly Inside Job

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—A man who turned amateur detective to catch the person who broke into his house several times found they were inside jobs.

He sprinkled talcum powder beneath the prowler's favorite window. But the footprints led him back to his own 5-year-old son. The boy admitted messing up the house and cutting a window screen to make the jobs look like breakins.

The punishment meted out was strictly a father-and-son affair.

Texas In For Hot, Dry Day

By The Associated Press

Most of Texas was in for another hot and dry day Wednesday.

Except for ragged clouds along the coast, dawn broke clear. The Weather Bureau had no reports of additional rain in the Rio Grande Valley, where a squally area from the gulf dumped a 6.75 inch downpour on Rangerville Tuesday. It said there might be some more though.

Brownsville reported .20 inch Tuesday. Uston had .65, Hidalgo 1.89 and Rio Grande City .99.

The Weather Bureau said the patch of unstable air which moved into the Mexican coast Monday never posed a hurricane threat.

The forecast called for scattered thundershowers in the east and south portions of South Texas and near the East Texas coast and isolated rains in West Texas.

The high afternoon temperature in Texas Tuesday was 101 at Mineral Wells. Presidio, Texarkana and Fort Worth. Dallas set a record of 100-or-over temperatures for one summer. It had 100, its 39th day of temperatures in the 100s this year.

Wednesday morning readings ranged from 68 at Marfa to 83 at Wichita Falls.

Woman Treated After Collision Of Autos

Only a minor injury was reported to have resulted from a two-car collision at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning a mile and a half south of here on Texas Highway 101.

Mrs. Lil Jo Colwell, 54, 2212 Twenty-seventh Street, was taken by autmobile to a hospital. She was driver of a 1952 Studebaker sedan and was attempting a left turn into a private drive when the accident occured, Bill Zimmerman, highway patrolman who investigated, said.

Zimmerman said Buddy Richard Jones, 17, Arah route, driving a 1947 Studebaker coach, was attempting to pass the Colwell car and another vehicle.

The patrolman estimated damage to the two cars at $300.

Freight Train Crashes Into Stalled Truck

DALLAS (AP)—A freight train bore down yesterday on a pickup truck with two small children in it and three adults trying to push it across the tracks.

An uncle snatched one child to safety, but the grandmother was critically hurt when she reached for the other as the train hit.

Arthur Williams gave this account to police:

His mother, Mrs. Myrtle Williams, 54, was driving the family pickup truck. She stopped when she saw the freight approaching 200 yards away.

"We saw it was going slowly so we decided to go on across," she said. "When we got on the tracks the motor stalled. We had time, so my mother, my sister (Mrs. Bernice Coker) and I tried to push the truck off the tracks.

"We soon saw the train was going to crash. We realized the little boy and his little sister were still in the cab of the truck."

Williams said he grabbed the little girl out of the truck and his mother had just reached for 4-year-old Doyle Wayne Coker when the train hit.

Mrs. Williams was hospitalized with a probable skull fracture and two broken legs. Doyle Wayne received a head injury but was not believed in critical condition.

Police said the engine struck the back of the truck and that Mrs. Williams and the boy were near the cab, probably keeping them from being crushed.

C. E. Stafford, 52, of Greenville, engineer, said he saw the truck on the track and people pushing it.

"I was traveling about 12 miles an hour but I couldn't stop," he told police. "I kept blowing my whistle, but they did not get out of the way in time and there was no chance to avoid the collision."

Rites Set For Polio Victim

Funeral services were to be held at 4:30 p.m. today in the Longworth Methodist Church for Barbara Hale, 15, who died of polio yesterday in Hendrick Memorial Hospital.

Survivors in addition to the parents are a brother, Erwin Hale of Sweetwater, and two sisters, Nola Hale of Hamlin and Mrs. Miles Cagle of Slaton.

Three Die As Ditch Caves In

AMARILLO (AP) — The walls of a 16-foot-deep sewer ditch crumbled yesterday, killing three workmen who ran the wrong way. Two others escaped.

Buried under tons of earth were Leo Clifton Fisher, 36, L. D. Brackett, 41, and Squire Evans. They were working in the newly dug ditch in South Amarillo when it caved in.

The two who escaped said the victims ran west—into the worst part of the cave-in.

"The first I knew about it, the walls started falling in," said Ramie Lawson. "They ran west and we ran east. I saw them covered up."

The other survivor, Paul Grimsley, said, "I was laying pipe and saw it coming. "I hollered, 'Let's get out of here'."

Other workmen dug feverishly to unearth the men, but it took four hours to get their bodies out. The last body was under four feet of dirt.

Richard Stockton, son of the president of Stockton Construction Co. and job foreman, said the walls "just broke and fell in."

Rabies Problem At Houston Called Worst

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A U.S. Public Health Service official says Houston and Harris County's rabies problem, in terms of incidence, is the worst he has ever seen in this country.

"I feel very strongly right now that a mass immunization campaign must be made," Dr. Ernes S. Tierkel of the health service's communicable disease center at Atlanta, Ga., said yesterday.

From Jan. 1 through July 30 rabid animals analyzed at the city health laboratory totaled 370. Dogs accounted for 95 per cent of the animals.

South Plains' First Bale Ginned At Lamesa

LAMESA (AP)—The South Plains' first 1954 bale of cotton is on display here. The 460-pound bale was brought in Monday from the F. M. McClendon and Art Ayers farm near Patricia, some 20 miles southwest of here.

According to available records, it is the earliest bale in the area since 1937. It arrived before prizes and an auction had been arranged.

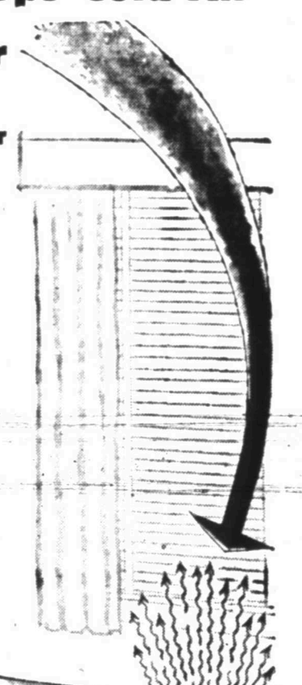
Perimeter Heating Stops Cold Air Before It Reaches Floor



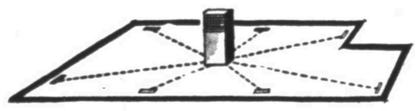
Blanket of Air from Floor Diffuser Stops Drafts before they Start!

Your children play on warm, draft-free floors when you have perimeter-type whole house heating. New warm-air distribution principle stops drafts before they start! Of course, it's automatic Gas!

Here's how: Warm air from furnace travels through underfloor ducts to small floor diffusers at outer walls and windows, where 80 percent of cold air enters your home. It goes to work immediately. Drafts are stopped before they start... cold air never reaches floors!

Floors aren't chilled from below, either, because of duct work under house. Floors stay warm as toast. Children play in healthful comfort!

INEXPENSIVELY INSTALLED:



Ideal for small 2 or 3 bedroom cottage. Ducts run under floors... no tearing out walls. Only one return-air register needed... little, if any, redecoration. Diffusers are small (16x4"), fit neatly, inconspicuously into floors. Cost including installation about $600 to $900 depending on size of house and amount of duct work.

Ennis Creek Schoolhouse Is Setting For Girls' Camp

By ANITA HALL

There were 51 girls and 6 adults who registered Monday morning at the second annual Scurry County 4-H club camp at Ennis Creek. Miss Ruby Butts, county home demonstration agent, was camp director. Last year's officers were on hand to call the meeting to order and then new officers were elected. There were four groups of different activities going on at all times. They were crafts, recreation, grooming and a 4-H study group. Each girl attended sessions in each of the four groups before camp meeting.

LORITA STIRLING of Ira, who trained for camp work at the state 4-H round-up at Texas A&M College, was the leader of the grooming group. She was assisted by DARLA BRYANT of Ira. The 11 members who were in this group at the time of the interview were learning how to care for their nails and hands, what colors to wear for individual coloring, what accessories to wear and other things connected with good grooming.

There were eight members attending the 4-H club study session and the leaders of this group, ETHEL ROSE HUNDSNURCHER of Hermleigh and ALMA NELL HILLIS of the Plainview community, were familiarizing them with the club work and what it's aims are.

The 10 and 11-year-old members in the craft work session were busily engaged with chip-carving on wooden boxes under the direction of their leader, TENNIE EADES, of Snyder.

The largest group was the recreation group whose leaders were JAQUELINE MARTIN, Fluvanna, SANDRA LEECH, Hermleigh, Mrs. THEO SOULES, Hermleigh, and BETH WIMAN, Snyder. This group played games and were taught new songs.

PEGGY BROWN was in charge of table programs and Miss Butts stated that there had been some clever and entertaining ones.

Mrs. C. D. Burroughs of Fluvanna was the official cook for the camp and she was assisted by Mrs. MORRIS MILLER and Mrs. ALF BEAVER of Fluvanna, and Mrs. BUFORD LIGHT and JONELLE LIGHT from Hermleigh.

German Schools Differ From Ours

By BARBARA ENGLISH

BONN, Germany — German university students — and only 10 per cent are able to go from high school to college — don't have to attend class if they don't want to. But the final exam is required, just the same.

That's one of the interesting facts I discovered from talking to two young Germans who were guiding a conducted tour in Bonn, similar to the one I was taking.

I became interested in the German school system when I visited the office of the U.S. High Commissioner and found some interesting data which made me eager to talk to students themselves.

The two German guides were about 20 years old and had just been graduated from "hoehere schule" or secondary school. Since American students usually graduate at an earlier age, I asked them how their system worked.

Children start school at 6. After the first part (four years) of the elementary or "grundschule," 75 to 80 per cent go on to "volksschule" or higher elementary school. Here, many of the children must pick a trade and take up apprentice training. Others go on to the secondary schools, or what we call high school.

Who will take advanced schooling is decided in the fourth or fifth grades. My friends explained to me that it's based on what is called a maturity examination. Even if this is passed, faculty members and parents must approve. Only about 20 per cent in the elementary schools go on to the secondary education.

At the end of the secondary, the student is ready to take the entrance exams of the university.

College classes are largely lectures and as students advance in their work, they attend seminars for specialized work.

At the end of eight semesters, the students are awarded a doctor of philosophy degree. It is generally accepted, however, that this is equivalent to our master's degree.

When I asked if the two students had any criticism of their system, they said they though children must make up their minds too early about what course they would follow. They felt if they could go on into high school without having had to decide whether to enter apprentice training or secondary school, it would be more satisfactory.

They also commented that they approved of our co-educational system. Here, it seems, it is allowed in a few secondary schools from necessity. Elementary schools, however, are co-educational.

Hayward Gets Her Divorce

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — Actress Susan Hayward has a divorce today, along with $1,293,319 in assets and custody of her twin sons.

Actor Jess Barker, the erstwhile husband, has the family station wagon.

This was the decree yesterday in superior court where the actress' suit was vigorously opposed by Barker. The trial last June included testimony that Barker threw her nude into the swimming pool at her home, and that Miss Hayward stuck a cigarette in his eye.

Barker received the privilege of visiting the 9-year-old sons on alternate weekends. At one point in the litigation he turned down a $100,000 settlement because it would have been paid in $10,000 yearly installments and would look like alimony.

Barker wanted half the community property, but Miss Hayward successfully contended that all this was hers because of a prenuptial agreement permitting her to keep all she earned after their marriage in 1944.

The assets ruled to be hers include a million-dollar movie contract and $293,319 in cash. Barker's bank account, it was testified, amounted to about $5,000, and in 1951 and 1952 he earned $665 while the actress was earning $374,068.

The source of their marital trouble, Miss Hayward testified, was Barker's refusal to work. He, in turn, charged she was an "icy woman" and "an absentee mother."

Pirates Will Have Much To Say On Who Wins Pennant

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

Three years ago Branch Rickey invited a group of sports writers to attend the 1954 World Series in Pittsburgh.

The only way Pittsburgh will see the 1954 World Series is by television. But the old master's amazing assortment of greying veterans and fuzzy-cheeked youngsters apparently is going to have a lot to say about where the series will be played.

The last-place Pirates own today's longest winning streak in the National League—five games, including a 4-2 triumph last night over the bewildered Brooklyn Dodgers. Pittsburgh had won 9 of its last 11, the best record by a Pirate team since 1949.

The Dodgers had reason to be bewildered. This was their second loss in Forbes Field in seven starts this season. In 1952 and 1953 they lost there only twice.

Pittsburgh's streak became the longest when the Milwaukee Braves were beaten 4-1 by St. Louis, ending a nine-game string. The league-leading New York Giants beat Philadelphia 8-3, putting them two games in front of Brooklyn, 4½ ahead of the Braves.

Max Surkont, one of the pitchers Milwaukee decided it didn't need this season, beat the Dodgers on five hits. Frank Thomas drove in three of the four runs.

Johnny Antonelli, also traded away by the Braves during the winter, won his 18th game against three losses for the Giants. Bobby Hofman drove in four runs with a pair of homers and a single. Willie Mays smashed a triple and three singles in four times up, running his hitting streak to 18 games.

In the American League, the New York Yankees won their eighth in a row, 11-1 over Philadelphia, and again failed to close the three-game gap on the Cleveland Indians, who came from behind in the last of the ninth and nipped Detroit 4-3 for their seventh straight.

Both Chicago teams won double-headers. The Cubs whipped Cincinnati 5-0 and 6-1. The White Sox defeated Baltimore 2-0 and 3-1.

Boston edged Washington 4-3 in their private battle for fifth place in the American League.

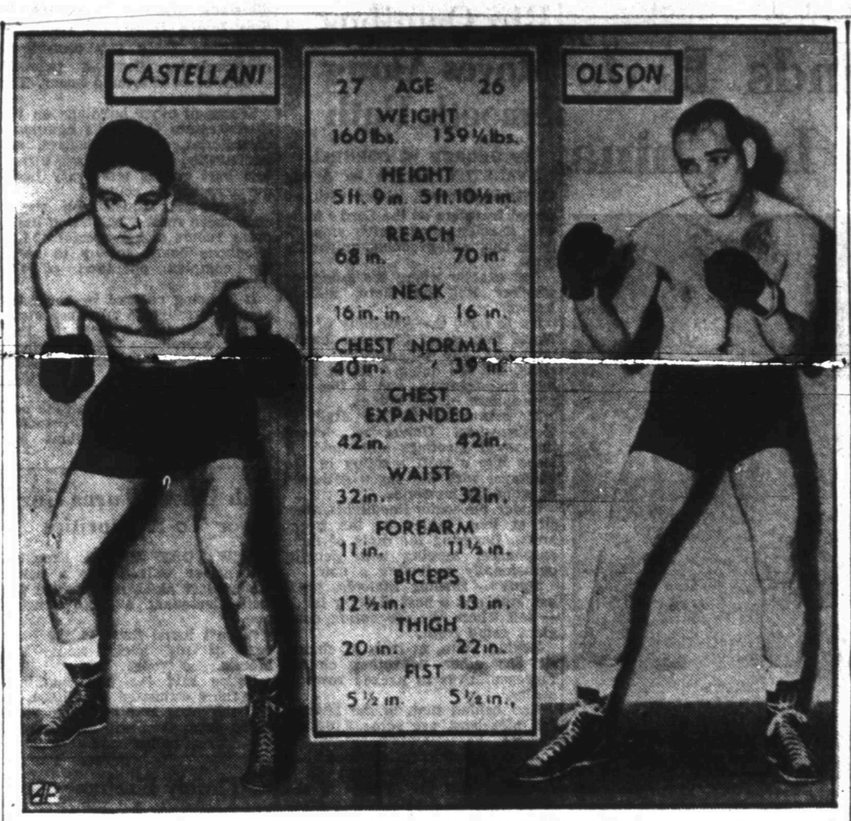
A single by Bobby Avila with the bases loaded in the ninth brought victory to the Indians after Detroit twice had held one-run leads. Bob Lemon, who won his 17th game, drove in the tying run in the ninth with a single. Lemon has eight victories in the last four weeks.

The Yankees turned an easy victory into a runaway at Philadelphia with six runs in the ninth inning. Bill Skowron's pinch-hit, grand-slam homer was the big blow.

Billy Pierce and Virgil Trucks combined for the White Sox's Pierce, who struck out five in a row at one point, was lifted after walking two men in the eighth. The Sox beat Bob Kuzava for the second time in a week in the nightcap with an 11-hit attack.

A pinch homer by Joe Frzier with two aboard in the seventh brought Jim Wilson his first defeat. Wilson had won eight for Milwaukee, four of them shutouts and one a no-hitter. Brooks Lawrence won his 11th game since joining the Cardinals in late June.

Brooklyn scored twice in the first inning on a walk, a single by Pee Wee Reese and a double by Walt Moryn. Surkont walked seven in the first five innings but only his first inning pass to Junior Gilliam hurt him. In the fourth he struck out Duke Snider with the bases loaded and two out.



FIGHTERS COMPARED

This is the tale of the tape and scales comparing Rocky Castellani and world middleweight titleholder Carl (Bobo) Olson who will meet in a 15-round title fight at San Francisco's Cow Palace Friday night.

Avila Fills In During Lopez Batting Slump

CLEVELAND (AP) — A big reason Cleveland Manager Al Lopez isn't yanking out his hair over [illegible]sen's batting slump is Bobby Avila, whose ninth-inning single won the Indians a 4-3 victory over the Detroit Tigers last night.

The little Mexican second baseman has taken up the slack this month while Rosen is having the most batting trouble of his major league career.

Even without much help from their big man, the Indians have kept the second-place New York Yankees from closing a gap of three games.

"I look for Al to come out of it," Lopez said, "and Avila and Doby are keeping us in there on the attack."

While Larry Doby has provided six homers in 17 August games, his batting average actually has dropped five points to .275. Avila, however, has been hitting at a .380 clip for the 17 games, batting in 13 runs on 27 hits, including three homers.

In Avila's best of five previous seasons with the Indians—1951—he hit .305, had 10 homers and batted in 58 runs. Currently he's hitting .326 with 12 home runs and 44 RBIs.

"I do nothing different when I bat," Avila says. "Must be I'm stronger. Maybe because I drink so much milk. I drink it allatime."

The swarthy infielder explained he drinks as much as two quarts of milk a day, starting the practice last winter when he had stomach pains and an x-ray disclosed an ulcer.

Rosen, benched last night by bursitis pains in his left shoulder, may not play today or in Thursday's double-header.

Some Confidence Is Lost By Durocher

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—He's not quite so confident as he was back around the All-Star Game, but Manager Leo (Shakewell) Durocher of the New York Giants has not exactly counted his club out of the National League race.

"I know we've lost that fat cushion we had," he sighed today as he prepared to send the Giants against the Philadelphia Phillies. "But the fact is we're still in front and we've got as good a chance as anybody. It's really a new season with some 40 games to go."

Durocher was glad to see the Phillies arrive last night, especially since he was unlikely to see their ace, Robin Roberts, who tamed the Brooklyn Dodgers Sunday. The Phillies have been as easy as pie for the Giants and last night's 8-3 triumph was their sixth in a row over them.

The Lip has been criticized from everyone right up to his own front office for changing the lineup around too much, but as he said:

"We've got to get some runs. Therefore Ray Katt will be our catcher from now on. Bobby Hofman (who got three-for-four and knocked in four runs) will not stay on first base. Whitey Lockman is my first baseman."

That means that Wes Westrum, whose batting average is an anemic .196, goes back to the bench—the spot he was consigned to before the season opened, and Hofman to his pinch-hitting chores.

"I just wanted Lockman to take it easy for a few days," said Durocher. "I told him I wanted him to take a complete rest and not play any ball. Also, Henry Thompson will be back at third base."

Dodgers Advance To Pony Playoffs

The Scurry Butane Dodgers last night broke a tie in standings for the last half of the Pony League by downing the Courthouse Tigers 5-1.

This gives the Dodgers first place in the last half and puts them into the championship playoffs against the Von Roeder Red Sox, winners of the first half.

The Dodgers and Sox will begin tomorrow night in the first game of a two-out-of-three series, the second game to be played Tuesday night and the third, if needed, next Thursday. Game time each night is 8 o'clock.

Ronnie Baker, winning hurler in last night's game, struck out 14 Tiger batters while giving up only two hits and walking three. The loser, James Patterson, fanned 11 but allowed eight hits. He walked none.

The Dodgers started off with one score in the first inning. During that frame Neil Boyd hit a double with none on. In the third, the Dodgers made three runs, two when Mickey McGrew hit a home run with one on base. The Tigers got their lone run in the third when Gale Courtney got on base and all the way to third on an error and came in on Gary Vice's sacrifice.

Clovis Back In Top Spot

By The Associated Press

Clovis climbed back into the West Texas - New Mexico League lead Tuesday night whipping Pampa 6-4. The Oilers fell back to second place.

Plainview trounced Amarillo 7-3, and Abilene edged Albuquerque 10-9.

Veteran Red Dial held Pampa to three hits until the bottom of the ninth. Then the Oilers rallied with four hits and claimed three of their four runs.

At Plainview, Ed Arthur withstood a ninth-inning rally for the victory. He gave up nine hits.

Hurler Andy Alonso was the hero at Abilene with a three-run homer in the bottom of the ninth for the victory over Albuquerque. He chalked up his 21st victory of the season and his second in as many nights.

Piersall Is Getting Hurt Arm Examined

BOSTON (AP)—Boston Red Sox outfielder Jimmy Piersall hustled back from Washington today for examination of his throwing arm, apparently injured by a throw to the plate in Monday night's exhibition game with the New York Giants.

Piersall was out of the lineup last night as the Red Sox beat Washington 4-3. He took a few pregame throws and reported that "the arm hurts like blazes."

He said, "I don't know what it is, but it feels that I've pulled something. I couldn't throw the ball across a room."

Odessa Man Winning In AF Tournament

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — Ronald Deberry of Odessa, Tex., beat Ben Crain 6-3, 6-4 yesterday in the third round of the Air Force World-Wide Tennis Tournament.

Deberry is representing the Air Force Southwest Conference, Crain the Southeast.

In yesterday's feature match, Livingston Taylor, former Northwestern University ace, upset former Davis Cup squad member Bill Davis 6-4, 6-1. Taylor is also a member of the Southwest Conference squad. Davis holds the Air Force Southeastern Conference title.

Track Star Favors ACC

ABILENE (AP)—James Segrist, schoolboy track star from Bangs High School near Brownwood, has said he will enroll at Abilene Christian College in September.

Last spring Segrist led his school to the Class B state track title by winning three firsts, in the 100, 220 and 440-yard events.

Oklahoma Has Huge Line For Oil Bowl Game

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—A huge line with some outstanding backs behind it will feature the Oklahoma offense in the 17th annual Oil Bowl football game here Friday.

The Oklahomans, who meet a Texas team, will have the outstanding back of the Oklahoma all-state game at Oklahoma City last week—Roy McQueen of Ardmore, quarterback. They also will have the outstanding lineman, Ken Hallum, Seminole guard. And they'll have the No. 1 schoolboy gridder in Oklahoma, Charley Joseph of Seminole.

The Sooner line will average over 200 pounds.

Texas will throw a lighter but probably more mobile line into the fray and the backfield will feature Larry George of Dallas, picked as the most valuable back in the Texas Coaching School all-star game, and Walter Fondren of Lamar (Houston), named the No. 1 schoolboy player last fall.

Houston Can Draw Crowds

By The Associated Press

Houston probably wonders who started this stuff about minor league baseball being dead and failing to draw enough to pay expenses.

The Buffs can get the crowds out if they win and that's what they're doing these days.

Tuesday night Houston beat Beaumont 4-2 and pulled 11,837 into the park. That was the biggest crowd in Houston's stadium since World War II.

The Buffs gained ½ game on league leading Shreveport and now are just five games out of first place.

Shreveport split a doubleheader with San Antonio, winning the first game 11-6 but dropping the second 6-3. Mgr. Don Heffner of San Antonio got into a rhubarb with the same umpires who chased him Aug. 1 as a result of the Oklahoma City - San Antonio free for-all. This time Heffner became irritated at a close play called by umpire Blackie Lecamus at third base. He was thumbed out, but they had to call the cops to make him leave the field.

Oklahoma city and tulsa divided a doubleheader. Tulsa won the first game 6-2 and Marion Murszewski fanned 11 batters but allowed Jin Neufeldt and Ray Cash to homer for Oklahoma City. In the second game, Oklahoma City broke loose for 10 hits and won 8-5.

Dallas slugged four home runs in beating Fort Worth 7-5. Buzz Clarkson clouted two of them.

Joe Louis To Enter Negro Golf Tourney

DALLAS (AP) — Former heavyweight boxing champion Joe Louis is expected here this week to begin practice rounds for the National Negro Golf Championship, which he won in 1951.

A field of about 300 pros, men amateurs and women golfers is expected for the three-way tournament, which starts next week at Cedar Crest Course.

Joe Roach of Washington, present Negro Open champion, is expected to defend his title.

Hopman Is Starting To Get Unpopular

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The news from Melbourne that the Australian Lawn Tennis Assn. has temporarily voted down a motion to censure that country's Davis Cup captain, Harry Hopman, bears out private advices that opposition to Hopman's methods has grown so strong he has little chance of holding the job beyond next winter's Challenge Round, no matter what the result.

The motion to censure the tennis martinet was made by Norman Strange, the head of Australia's telephone system and a highly influential man. He objected to some remarks made by Hopman after one of his players, Ken Rosewall, had been beaten by Jaroslav Dorbny in the recent Wimbledon final. It was decided to shelve the matter until Hopman's return home from this country.

It was only by the bare margin of a 3-2 vote by the cup selectors that Hopman was permitted to captain the present Aussie team which is playing in the National Doubles Championships this week at Brookline. Since then one of his strong supporters, Harry Itt, has resigned at the age of 84, and informed opinion is that his successor, Judge E. A. Dunphy, will be found in the anti-Hopman camp the next time around.

One of the counts against Hopman, we learn, is the growing belief that he does not actually cease to be a working tennis journalist during the months he is leading the Aussie team on its annual tour across Europe and America. This, it is realized, could prove embarrassing if the tennis association of this or any other country should ever make an issue of it.

Each year, it seems, Harry formally takes a leave of absence from sports writing when the team leaves Australia, thus conforming to one of the game's oldest rules. From that point on the string of papers which normally carry the Hopman "by-line" report the day-by-day doings of the Aussie stars in Paris, London and New York under the enigmatic heading "from a special correspondent."

The only thing the anti-Hopmans don't like about that is the curious circumstance that this particular correspondent is the only one of any description who obtains daily interviews of some length not only with the team captain but with those of his players who happen to be in the news. Such is his diligence and industry that he often appears to be capable of reading Hopman's most secret thoughts.

Two Years Can Make Great Difference

By The Associated Press

Two years ago, Waco led the nation's pro baseball in losses. The Pirates dropped 118 games and won just 29.

Last year, the club played most of the season at Longview because the Waco park was destroyed by a tornado. It won 77 and lost 68.

But what a difference two years can make!

The Pirates, a farm club of Pittsburgh, have won 91 games while dropping only 35 this season and appear destined to go over the 100 mark in victories, since 21 games are left to play.

Tuesday night the Pirates won their fourth straight in the current streak by whipping Del Rio 9-6. They did it with three unearned runs in the seventh inning.

Second place Tyler, 12½ games away, took a 4-2 trimming from Galveston, which lashed its four runs across in the third inning.

Austin beat third-place Corpus Christi 3-1 as Coy Taylor limited the Clippers to five hits.

Harlingen edged Temple 6-5 in 13 innings. Bob Skelton singled in Jim Warner from second with the deciding run.

Phillips Oilers, WTSC To Play At Amarillo

AMARILLO (AP)—The Phillips Oilers, famed independent team of basketball, will appear here Dec. 18, meeting West Texas State College. It will be under auspices of the Amarillo Downtown Kiwanis Club. Gib Ford of Amarillo and Troy Burrus of Canyon, former Texas and West Texas State stars, will be playing with Phillips.

Bobo, Rocky End Practice

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Final workouts were planned today by Carl (Bobo) Olson and Rocky Castellani for their 15-round middleweight title fight in the Cow Palace here Friday night.

Manager Sid Flaherty broke up Olson's training camp at Nice yesterday and brought Bobo here for a brisk 10-round workout in Newman's Gym.

Castellani, remaining at his Bermuda Palms training quarters in San Rafael, worked the last four of 153 rounds he has boxed since July 14.

Meanwhile, Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, visited the Castellani camp and said he was pleased with the setup for the fight. He expressed hope the gate for the televised bout would exceed $200,000.

British Reporter Finds Reds Put Up Good Front In China

Editor's Note—The following dispatch is from the correspondent of the London Daily Heard, organ of the British labor movement, accompanying the Labor party group on its visit to China. Efforts of the Associated Press to obtain visas for a reporter to go along with the Attlee party were not successful.

By DERYCK WINTERTON

PEIPING (AP)—After three days in Peiping, I finally "entered" China officially.

My entry visa was stamped to enter from the south. It was not clear why, and the reason is unknown to me as the document I received yesterday is in Chinese. Entry from the north (the route the British party traveled) is technically a breach of the regulations, but it has been decided that I need not go out and in again.

So yesterday I traveled back to the airport with a new and correct visa to be stamped. Everybody is happy now.

This may be an instance of red tape but certainly not of lack of good will.

Yesterday afternoon there was a remarkable example of Chinese courtesy and desire to help. The health minister, Mrs. Li Teh-chuang, gave an interview lasting nearly three hours. Present with her were the vice minister, Dr. Ho Cheng, and 17 other officials.

Mrs. Li, smiling, plumpish and middle-aged, wore glasses and could have been a British school headmistress.

She made big claims of health advance since the Communists took over in 1949, but constantly emphasized that there was a long way to go before the aim of universal free health service as in Britain would be attainable because of lack of doctors and staff to train doctors.

She said big strides had been made in eliminating smallpox, plague and other diseases which have been the bane of China.

Mrs. Li said with obvious pleasure that a third to a half of the students in some medical schools are women. Some students were trained in Russia and Czechoslovakia and other Communist countries in Europe.

I asked, "Why not send some to Britain?"

Everyone laughed and Mrs. Li said, "Yes, indeed, we wish to exchange cultural information."

Last night the British delegation attended a reception given by the Indonesian ambassador to celebrate his country's independence day.

Another British correspondent with the delegation, John Ridley of the London Daily Telegraph, reported that former Prime Minister Clement Attlee, left-wing leader Aneurin Bevan, and two others of their party discussed foreign trade yesterday with the head of that ministry in the Peiping government, Yeh Chi Chung.

Ridley, who had been in China before the Communist takeover, gave this description of Peiping under the Reds:

While much of Peiping life remains much the same as it did before the Communist revolution, a great deal actually has been changed. To anyone who was in China before, it seems astonishing that waiters refuse tips rather haughtily. The laughter and gaiety of streets has for the most part gone.

From the walls of most buildings saturnine portraits of Mao Tze-tung, Stalin, Malenkov and Molotov glower down at passing multitudes.

Bookshops are crammed with Communist books and I was surprised this morning when going late to breakfast in my hotel to find almost the entire staff congregated there, having their morning instruction in marxism from the local commissar.

Generally, the city is cleaner than it was and public buildings such as the Forbidden City Temple of Heaven, the Lama Temple and various pagodas of Peiping are beautifully kept with paintwork renewed and gardens around them banked with flowers. On the whole the people are very poorly dressed but even high government officials obviously consider it the thing to appear only in depressing looking dungaree suits. There are still frightful sights of poverty but there are no beggars in the streets. Although I was earnestly and frequently informed that "New China" is doing everything for children even here in the capital of the country, there are obvious signs of starvation amongst many potbellied, naked little boys and girls sitting apathetically beside gutters.

Everywhere there are soldiers all fully armed with automatic weapons and even grenades. This, I was told, was because invasion is always feared from Formosa whose guerrillas—or bandits as it is more polite to refer to these irregulars here — have recently been increased and given more arms. Around the airfield on the edge of the city an electric fence has been put up and guarded every few yards by soldiers.

Clement Attlee, left, former British prime mimnister and leader of a Labor Party delegation to Red China, gets a warm greeting from Communist China's premier Chou En-lai at a reception in Peiping. In center is Chang Hsi-jo, president of Chinese People's Institute of Foreign Affairs. High point in the exchange of "Chinese-British friendship" greetings at the reception was Chou's toast to the health of Queen Elizabeth II.

C-City Girl Is Under Treatment For Polio

Nelda Jo Bunch, 16, of Colorado City, the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Barnett, 2501 Twenty-eighth Street, has been admitted to Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene as a polio patient.

Miss Bunch became ill while visiting in Sulphur Springs. When a doctor there was unable to make a definite diagnosis of her illness she was returned to Battenfield Hospital here for observation. She was moved to the Abilene hospital yesterday by a Bolger ambulance after a diagnosis of polio had been made.

Miss Bunch is the duaghter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse D. Bunch of Colorado City. She is the twenty-ninth patient in Hendrick's polio ward.

Indus River Is Cause Of Big Dispute

By EUGENE LEVIN

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The mutual need for Indus River basin waters has embroiled India and Pakistan in one of their bitterest disputes.

Each nation is heaping accusations on the other in this struggle for waters of the Indus and five tributaries—vitally needed by both for irrigation and power.

The atmosphere has become so tense many Western diplomats are apprehensive India and Pakistan may become irrevocably estranged.

The long-smoldering Indus dispute burst into flame last month. It began when India and Pakistan gained their freedom in 1947. The division of the subcontinent, after the British left, placed the headwaters of the Indus Basin in Indian hands. However, the waters fed an intricate canal system irrigating millions of acres inside Pakistan's borders. Thus, Pakistan had the pipeline, but India controlled the taps.

India said it needed the waters for its own irrigation system. Pakistan retorted it needed them to keep its fertile lands from reverting to desert.

Two years ago the World Bank entered the dispute and got India to promise not to tamper with the Indus Basin in any way that would harm Pakistan.

Last spring the bank came up with a proposal, exact details of which have not been released. India accepted the recommendation, but when Pakistan wavered, the Indians said they no longer felt bound to hold up their own river development projects.

On July 8, India's Prime Minister Nehru pressed a button which opened the gates of the Nangal Dam, sending waters from the River Sutlej into the Nangal-Bhakra canals. Pakistan angrily protested that India had violated international commitments. Nehru and other Indian officials insisted they meant no harm to the Pakistanis, but asserted they had to go ahead with the development plans.

"If Pakistan goes without water it will not be our fault," one Indian official declared. "We have given them seven years to find alternate water supplies and they have done nothing."

Lynn Baggett Is Not Allowed Guilty Plea

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Superior Court yesterday refused to permit Lynn Baggett, former actress, to plead guilty to a hit-run driving charge filed after an auto collision in which a child was killed.

Judge Clement D. Nye continued the matter until Oct. 11, when Miss Baggett, estranged wife of producer Sam Spiegel, will go on trial on a felony manslaughter charge involving the same death. Joel Watnick, 10, was fatally hurt in the accident.

Promotion Brings Good Response To Two Stores

MILWAUKEE (AP)—In a promotion plan, the Kroger Co. supermarket in the new Bayshore shopping center mailed prospective customers coupons worth 25 cents when redeemed in merchandise. Soon the nearby Krambo Food store hung this banner in its window:

"We redeem all Kroger coupons at 30 cents."

Both stores say customer response to the coupons has been very good. Kroger will keep mailing out coupons and Krambo will go right on redeeming them at a nickle more.

Big Omnibus Moves Along Smooth Path

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — A big Christian omnibus, loaded with assorted travelers on the Lord's highway, is rolling along fairly smoothly in this well-groomed university town.

But exactly where it's going, or whether it'll get there, nobody knows.

Up to now, the Assembly of the World Council of Churches hasn't produced any pillar-of-fire decisions, but it's doing a lot of talking, and figuring, and it has the atmosphere of big doings.

In mammoth McGaw Hall at Northwestern University, where the main meetings are held, it looks like a staff meeting of the universe, with the sages gathered to probe the mysteries.

Under the white floodlights, they sit at long tables in the great arena, fingering the dials of their earphones, tapping with pencils, occasionally scribbling a note.

Signs — reading Ethiopia, Mexico, Iran and a host of other lands — tell where the 600 voting delegates came from.

Behind them, in rows of chairs, sit 800 other nonvoting church representatives in packed rows of chairs.

And behind that, in the always-full bleachers, are some 4,000 onlookers.

At the front hangs a great blue-and-white banner as high as a building, with the symbol of the world body — a ship with a cross as its mast.

On one side of the stage, in glass-enclosed booths, is the battery of translators, who relay the words of the meeting over the earphones in the varied tongues of these varied Christians.

There is a similar scene, although on not so large a scale, a couple of miles away in Chan Auditorium, where visitors meet to hear famed churchmen speak.

Between these two centers of contemplation flows a two-way stream of 20 chartered buses. The ride is free.

Scores of other buildings on the Northwestern University campus—dormitories, sorority houses, administration buildings, have turned into part of this temporary headquarters of the council.

There are mimeograph shops, conference rooms, exhibition halls, press rooms and a special 40-line telephone board set up to serve the complex operation of the meeting.

It is being covered by some 600 news and religious press reporters, a number second only to that which covered the 1952 Republican convention. Western Union reports they're sending out more than 100,000 words a day.

It all costs money — a cash outlay of $385,000 which was provided by individuals, foundations and members of the council.

Cab Driver Turns Gems Over To Authorities

NEW YORK (AP) — A Brooklyn cab driver walked into a police station last night and handed the desk lieutenant a cloth jewelry bag.

"I just found these in the back seat of my hack" said Fritz Morris.

Police said the bag contained valuables estimated at $10,000.

If the gems aren't claimed within 90 days, they will be returned to Morris, police said.

A Timely Exchange

WILMINGTON, Calif. (AP)—George Wise Jr., 10, fell asleep while reading in a back bedroom, and his mother decided not to move him to his own room.

During the night a car swerved from the road and smashed into the front of the house, killing the family dog Cookie, asleep on George's bed.

Public Play To Stimulate Wall Street

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Brokers say the public is coming into the stock market now. And that makes for quicker and wider swings in stock prices.

The public reacts much more violently than do insitutional investors to news or rumors that affect confidence, seem to arouse big chances for gain or, on the contrary, seem to call for caution or retreat.

And for almost a year now the institutional investors have been one of the chief supports of the rising market. These investors handle other people's money—the growing corporate pension funds, for instance, or the growing total of savings in the form of insurance, or the big educational, philanthropic or private trust funds.

They have been buying up the blue chips—the top-grade stocks with the best records of stability and the firmest foreseeable future.

As these blue chips have been salted away in the strong boxes of the big institutional investors, there have been fewer shares available for trading on the stock exchange. A flurry of demand for an issue, therefore, can send the price up faster than formerly because the supply to meet that demand is thin.

Brokers say that the recent interest in the secondary shares — the stocks priced lower than the blue chips and with more of a speculative tinge—is one evidence that the public is being drawn into the market. Another, they say, is found in some of the quick and wide swings in individual stocks due to corporate news or to rumors involving various companies.

With the public in the market, the chance of a big break is greater, according to the brokers, because the public takes fright faster and dumps its holdings.

The institutional investors don't dump stocks fast.

The public also is more likely to respond to the psychological nudges that come from official proclamations of confidence, brokers say. The institutional investors who for 11 months now have been buying up stocks have shown a long-term confidence in the economy's future.

But that is quite another thing from expecting a quick boom in the next few months, based on any official assurances of future prosperity.

Yangtze River Swells To New Record High

TOKYO (AP) — The rampaging Yangtze River swelled to another new record high at 5 p.m. yesterday, Peiping radio reported today.

The river, which apparently has run wild through central China, hit 29.7 meters (97.44 feet) yesterday at Wuhan, a tricity industrial complex at the junction of the Yangtze and Han rivers, Peiping said.

Peiping claimed the "dike network guarding (Wuhan) is standing firm."

This report contrasted with those of China travelers whose observations indicate the Yangtze apparently has deluged farm land for hundreds of thousands of square miles in its worst flood in recorded history.

Blind Man Walks Into Open Manhole In Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—O. C. McCrackin, blind operator of a concession stand in the Federal Building, walked into an open manhole yesterday. He was treated for two broken ribs, a bruise on his knee and elbow cuts.

McCrackin's comment: "I just misused my cane."

China Rearms Lone Cruiser

HONG KONG (AP)—Independent Chinese reports published here today said Red China's only cruiser, the Chungking, has been reconditioned and rearmed and is now in the north China harbor of Tsingtao.

The report aroused unusual interest because of Peiping's current campaign of threats to invade Formosa.

Formerly the British light cruiser Aurora, the Chungking was given to the Chinese Nationalists after World War II.

Her crew defected to the Reds from the Shanghai anchorage in 1949 but Nationalist bombers sank the ship at a mooring in Hulutao harbor, Manchuria. Recently there have been reports that the Communists refloated her and took her to Port Arthur for refitting and regunning by the Russians.

An average of 66 railroad tank cars were loaded every hour during 1953 in the United States.

WIFELY WELCOME

Mrs. Hoeh came from Cincinnati to meet her husband.

Uncertainty Marks Course Of Bill To Outlaw Communists

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—At this moment it's the uncertainty which is the most distinguished feature of the maneuvers to produce, or not to produce, a law banning the Communist party.

Congress hasn't passed such an act yet. The uncertainty extends in three directions:

(1) Whether Congress, anxious to get home this week, will actually approve such a measure; (2) whether President Eisenhower would let it become law; and (3) what effect it would have if it became law.

The congressional uncertainty—Last Thursday the Senate passed a bill making it a crime to be a Communist party member. The Eisenhower administration had opposed such a step for these reasons:

It might wreck some laws, already on the books, which the government is using to combat communism and, in the end, the Supreme Court might declare it unconstitutional.

So on Monday, under administration prodding, the House tried to get around the problem by passing a bill which was a watered-down version of the one the Senate approved.

The House measure wouldn't make it a crime to be a Communist party member. It would simply deprive the party of legal standing. If the Senate okayed this, such an act might not interfere with other anti-Communist laws.

But yesterday the Senate rejected the House version in favor of its own. How could these differences be reconciled? Both houses set up a joint committee to agree on a single bill both houses could approve.

If the conferees can't agree, that ends any chance for banning the party this year. If they agree on a single bill, both houses must approve. There's not much time left.

The presidential uncertainty—Eisenhower's attorney general, Herbert Brownell, led the fight against the original Senate bill. If Congress, nevertheless, votes for it, the President is in a dilemma: If he signed the measure into law, it would be contrary to what his administration had argued. If he vetoed it, he would be going contrary to the will of Congress, particularly in an election year when a firm stand against communism cannot be considered politically unpopular.

The uncertainty of its effect—The Subversive Activities Control Board, operating under authority of the 1950 McCarran Internal Security Act, ruled Communist party members and leaders must be registered with the government on the grounds that their party is a Moscow agent. The Communists appealed to the Supreme Court.

If the court, perhaps by next spring, upholds the board the Communists will be required to register. But the McCarran Act says the fact that a Communist had to be registered would not incriminate him in any way.

But if a new law goes on the books now, making it a crime to be a Communist, the government could not force a Communist to incriminate himself by registering as a Communist because the Constitution bars forced self-incrimination. So the administration fears passage of a law making it a crime to be a Communist would wreck the McCarran Act and make futile years of government efforts to force Communists to register.

That's the administration reasoning. But is it sound? It may not be. There's uncertainty as to whether the McCarran Act can be made to work whether or not there's a new law making it a crime to be a Communist.

Suppose the Supreme Court ruled Communists would have to be registered as members of a party which is a Moscow agent, and the party then announced it was dissolving and therefore had no more members.

Could the government then jail those people, who were known as Communists even though their party had said it was ceasing to exist, because they did not register? That is not certain. The government might try but that no doubt would mean another court fight.

Baruch Is Sharp-Eyed Navigator At Age 84

BROOKVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Bernard M. Baruch, who will be 84 tomorrow, proved to be a sharp-eyed navigator yesterday during his first helicopter ride.

The financier and elder statesman flew from LaGuardia Airport to the Long Island estate of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt for a party opening a hospital benefit drive by the Long Island IndustryFund.

The pilot had trouble spotting the Vanderbilt estate, however, and circled the area.

Then Baruch recognized his own home below and guided the pilot to the Vanderbilt house five miles away.

Youth Disputes Claims About Speed Of His Car

FITCHBURG, Mass. (AP)—Maurice C. Ellis, 19, of West Townsend, charged with speeding, vigorously disputed police testimony in district Court yesterday that he was doing 50 miles an hour.

He interrupted several times to insist he was doing—not 50—but 60.

Judge A. Z. Goodfellow imposed a $15 fine and comented:

"The least I can say about you is that you are mighty honest."

TALK OVER BILL

Rep. Martin Dies (D-Tex), left, and Rep. Charles Halleck (R-Ind) talk together at the Capitol after the House voted, 305-2, to outlaw the Communist Party. Dies was the first chairman of the House un-American Activities Committee. The Senate Tuesday passed the bill, 41-39, after amending it by putting in a provision to make membership in the Communist Party illegal.

Gen. Babcock Named To U. N. Delegation

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Brig. Gen. C. Stanton Babcock, 50-year-old veteran of war in the Pacific and diplomacy in the United Nations, moved into the No. 3 post of the permanent U.S. delegation to the U.N. today.

Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. named Babcock to succeed John C. Ross, member of the American delegation since 1946. Ross resigned, Lodge said, because of urgent family and personal reasons but agreed to stay on until Oct. 15 as a delegation consultant.

Mare Island Cites Big List Of Firsts

By HAL BOYLE

VALLEJO, Calif. (AP)—Did you ever hear of a community raising $200,000 to throw a birthday party for a naval shipyard?

It is a bit unusual. But the citizens here have chipped in that amount to celebrate next month the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Mare Island Naval Base by brusque David G. Farragut, later to become America's first admiral.

The long, low island at the northern end of San Francisco Bay had been bought by the Navy for $83,491, and was the first link in its chain of defenses of the Pacific Coast.

Farragut, who had joined the Navy at the age of 10, was 50 years old then. He had no way of knowing that within another decade he would become the hero of the battle of Mobile Bay, eternally famous for his command, "Damn the torpedoes—full speed ahead."

But Mare Island—named after a lady horse that fell off a flatboat and swam ashore—has produced many another hero since Farragut in the last 100 years. Through five wars it has built 490 naval vessels, repaired thousands of others, served for a century as a major base of America's sea might.

Today it serves the same durable purpose. It is the home of a great portion of our "mothball fleet," carefully cocooned against rust and ready on short notice to prowl the sea lanes again.

The entire community is proud of Mare Island's long, proud record. It launched the dreadnaught battleship California — and also Elsa Maxwell. Elsa came here as a refugee from the 1906 San Francisco fire and earthquake, and, according to local legend, immediately organized a party.

Other Mare Island "firsts":

The first aircraft landing deck in the Navy was built here on the U.S. Pennsylvania in 1911.

So was the first Navy oil tanker, the Navy's first oil-burning vessel, its first all-welded hull, its first electrically propelled ship (later it became the Langley, our first aircraft carrier) and the largest submarine ever built, the old Nautilus. The destroyer Ward, built here in 17 record-breaking days in 1918, sank a Japanese submarine at Pearl Harbor.

The Mare Island yard didn't exactly launch bandmaster Paul Whiteman, but he once served as a Navy musician here.

During the last World War the shipyard—its shops are among the largest on earth—employed 40,000 workers, including 9,000 Rosie the Riveters, and subcontracted assembly jobs through 50 communities as far East as Denver.

Since Farragut founded it, the yard has grown from 1,000 acres to 2,446, and today is perhaps the largest naval installation in the world. Its equipment has risen to a book value of $180,000,000. Its 13,000 employes have an annual payroll of $55,000,000.

Each year its schools graduate 600 trained technicians with the skill to keep on turning out the long line of ships that have kept America's shores inviolate for nearly a century and a half.

But to me one of the most human factors about this sprawling yard is that it not only built the ships that carried men into battle for their country—it also in post-war years made a great record as a naval rehabilitation center for amputees. It taught them to walk on new hopes and new legs.

The war-scarred men who were helped here to rebuild their broken lives are certainly among the brightest testimonials to Mare Island's first century. To repair a ship is an achievement certainly, but to repair a man is a glory.

Civil Liberties Union Denounces Commie Law

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Civil Liberties Union has denounced congressional bills to ban the Communist party in the United States.

Patrick Murphy Malin, the organization's executive secretary, said in a statement yesterday the ban would drive Communists into "clandestine channels more difficult to police."

Man Is Rescued By 13-Year-Old Niece

ESSEX, Md. (AP) — John Lapin, who's 36 and can't swim, is still around because he has a niece who's 13 and can.

Joan Stanowski, the niece, rescued Lapin from Middle River yesterday when he waded out too far. Firemen administered emergency treatment.
