DALLAS BANK'S REPORT SAYS UPTURN ON

BARNES' REPORT HAS HORIZON LOOKING MUCH BETTER

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, March 2.—A general optimistic trend was denoted in the monthly business review of the federal reserve bank of Dallas, released today.

"In no recent year has the opening period found the agricultural and livestock industries in a better condition from a physical standpoint," the review said. "There is a good season in the ground, land preparation is more advanced than usual, planting operations are being commenced early, and growing crops generally are in good to excellent condition. Range conditions are fair to good throughout the district and indications are that excellent grazing will be available early in the spring.

Livestock Winters Well

"Livestock have wintered well and are improving steadily. With prospects for excellent pasturage, livestock should take on flesh rapidly during the suceeding weeks. Tempering the good physical outlook, however, are the low prices obtaining for agricultural and livestock products. To combat the effects of low prices, farmers are showing a greater disposition to raise their living at home and to practice greater diversification as well as to reduce the costs of production wherever possible."

Pointing out that a mixed trend was in evidence in business and in-

Violet Jolley, (below) 16-year-old Harrisville, R. I., beauty, drew $3100 out of the bank in which she kept her funds. Then she vanished. Now police throughout the nation have been asked to look for her, and Rhode Island authorities are seeking a possible connection between her disappearance and that of Edwin Priestly, 18, of Pascoag, who was reported missing at the same time.

JOBLESS MEN AWAIT CALL IN CITY

MAYOR CLEMENTS HAS PROCLAMATION ON LOT CLEANING

Jobles men attracted by a lot cleaning program gathered at United Charaties headquarters at the Labor Temple building this morning. A total of 20 work orders had been issued at noon and a queue remained outside of the bureau, waiting to apply for employment.

Mayor J. J. Clements this morning issued a proclamation approving the lot cleaning program, which "will promote better sanitary conditions, better health conditions and a more attractive city, in addition to furnishing employment."

Starts Tuesday

Work of cleaning lots in 21 districts into which the city has been divided will get under way Tuesday morning. Billy Clark is general foreman.

A meeting of district foremen was held at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon at chamber of commerce offices. Districts were assigned, foremen were told what their duties would be, and the program was discussed. Foremen of all except three districts had been chosen this morning.

To Employ About 300

Attaches of the emergency employment committee of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development, which adopted the plan, expect employment to be furnished about 300 men for two to four weeks. Lots in both business

Majority Of People For Pro Law Repeal, Report Of "Wet" Society States

PRESIDENT HOOVER, WICKERSHAM COMMITTEE, AND SENATE LOBBY GROUP CRITICIZED IN CURRAN REPORT; FOR OUTRIGHT REPEAL

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2.—President Hoover, the Wickersham commission and the senate lobby committee drew some sharp criticism in the annual report of the Association Against The Prohibition Amendment, but the American people were found to be all right.

A clear majority of them, claimed Henry H. Curran, president of the association, now favor repeal of the Eighteenth amendment. His review of last year's prohibition events was issued yesterday.

He set out in the report the membership total of the association, 340,000.

"Bald Discrepancy"

He accused the Wickersham commission of a "bald discrepancy" in issuing a summary of conclusions that read like a "dry brief" together with a text painting the "noble experiment as a dismal failure."

The president, he said, with his message of transmittal to congress, "virtually tore to pieces the painstaking findings and recommendations of his commission."

"Whether the commission's report which is exhaustive and profound," he added, "can be capriciously thrown out the window because it presents a damning indictment of prohibition remains to be seen."

Holds For Repeal

Curran stood staunch against the Anderson modification plan, holding for outright repeal.

He took the senate's lobby committee to task for what he called "witch-hunting tactics." That committee grilled him last year when it was searching for evidences of heavy political contributions.

"Nowhere did the prohibition cause advance an inch," he said of

DOLLAR DAY IS EXTENDED!

Because of the almost impassable condition of streets and roads and the disagreeable weather following the heavy snow, Lubbock merchants this morning decided to continue Dollar Day values through today and Tuesday.

Dollar Day specials, advertised in Sunday's Avalanche-Journal to apply only on purchases made today, will all be applicable through today and tomorrow, the merchants have announced.

SECOND HEAVIEST MARCH FALL IN HISTORY RECORDED HERE; BLOCKS HIGHWAYS, STREETS

SUNSHINE OVER SOUTH PLAINS TODAY MELTING BLANKET; LIGHTNING AND THUNDER IS NOTED AS SNOW FALLS; MANY CARS ARE STALLED

Sunshine over most of the area today caused slow melting of snow which descended upon the South Plains and Panhandle late Saturday and early Sunday, making cross-country travel by automobile virtually impossible and causing hundreds of cars to be snowbound on highways and city streets.

Seven inches of snow fell in Lubbock—the second heaviest fall in March weather history since the establishment of the state experiment station here, according to Don L. Jones, superintendent. The mercury fell to 16 degress early Monday morning marking the second lowest reading of the winter. A temperature of 12 degrees was recorded here late in December.

No serious accidents had been reported in the South Plains region, although many motorists were marooned, and it was pointed out that fatalities which might have occurred during the storm's height possibly would not be discovered before this afternoon or Tuesday.

Wind Accompanies

A high wind and rain, which in some spots turned to sleet, preceded the heavy snow flurries. Wind velocity continued to increase and reached the proportions of a gale as the flakes fell to be pulled into countless eddies.

Freakish tradition of Texas weather was upheld here, lightning and thunder accompanying the snow fall which began shortly after 9 p. m. Saturday and continued until early Sunday. Drifts within the city ranged from about two to six feet in depth.

Heralded by thunder and an electrical display, sprinkling began here about 7 p. m. The rain turned into sleet shortly before 9 o'clock and became snow within the next 15 minutes. Weight and density of the fall, which was of large flakes, had reached its maximum within an hour or hour and a half.

To Aid Crops

The precipitation was expected to aid crops generally and to benefit winter wheat in the Panhandle. Temperatures were not low enough to cause heavy losses in livestock, although some loss was believed to have been suffered where there were calves and lambs. The soil in the Wichita Falls area was described as already watersoaked, the additional moisture not being wanted.

Church attendance suffered a marked decrease Sunday as a result of the snow storm and school attendance was lessened considerably today. A funeral which had been scheduled for Sunday afternoon was postponed to this afternoon, thoroughfares to the cemetery being blocked by drifts.

Owners Cleaning Walks

City officials said that no move would be made by the municipality to clear streets or sidewalks, that work being left to property owners. Although such a program had been considered, appearance of the sun this morning led to a belief that sufficient snow would melt to eliminate hindrance to traffic, city officials explained.

No employment at shoveling snow was being furnished at United Charities headquarters, although several individuals were seen who evidently had obtained jobs cleaning sidewalks.

The heaviest March snow since the establishment of the state experiment station occurred here 16 years ago. Eight inches of snow fell here March 4, 1915. A total of 16.5 inches occurred here in March of that year and 6.62 inches fell in March of 1924.

Equals Inch Rain

Seven to 10 inches of snow usually equals an inch of rainfall, according to Mr. Jones, who characterized Saturday night's flakes as "wet snow," indicating that it probably would make nearly an inch of precipitation.

Total rainfall in February of this year was 1.38 inches, as compared to an average of about .75 of an inch. The experiment station gauged 5.83 inches of rain in February, 1911, and 3 inches in February, 1915.

Drops Below Sunday

The maximum temperature was 63 degrees and temperature was not below freezing until Sunday morning. Skidding to the 25-degree mark, the mercury remained there until 10 o'clock Sunday morning. Sunday's maximum temperature was 30 degrees, recorded in the afternoon.

Reading of 16 degrees recorded at the state experiment station here early this morning also was the minimum for the state, according to press dispatches. Snow ranging from seven inches to a foot remained as the sun came out this morning.

Automobiles Stalled

Three hundred automobiles were estimated to have been serviced this morning and Sunday as a result of being snowbound within the city, and possibly a hundred were towed to garages. A single Lubbock service station reported that its three wreckers pulled in 47 automobiles Sunday and that 121 emergency calls for service had been received during the day as a result of the storm. Another service station serviced approximately 60 cars in snowdrifts Sunday and reported emergency calls received this morning almost equalled the number at a corresponding time Sunday.

Some garages and service stations sold their stock of chains before noon Sunday and in at least one instance bought chains from other firms to supply their customers. One automobile accessory house was reported to have sold a hundred sets of chains Sunday.

Before daylight Sunday, snowbound cars were scattered throughout business and residential districts and difficulty was encountered by night workmen who left their machines parked during the storm.

Trains on Schedule Today

Although some trains were late in arriving here Sunday local offices of both the Santa Fe and Fort Worth & Denver City railways reported that trains today were expected on schedule. Santa Fe railway attaches said they had received reports of snow eastward to Wichita Falls, northward to Altus, Okla., and as far south as Alpine, which is in the Big Bend country and about 50 miles from the Rio Grande.

Depth of snow at points touched by the Fort Worth & Denver City railroad was about the same as it was here, attaches of the road reported here. Main line of the Fort Worth & Denver City road is northwestward out of Fort Worth, running near the Red River to Estelline and proceeding from there to Amarillo. Another line is from Estelline to Lubbock.

No Buses Operated

No buses had been operated out of Lubbock since Saturday night and resumption of service by a single bus was not expected before Tuesday, an attache of the Union Bus station reported this morning. Bus travel was believed to have been paralyzed to a similar extent over a major portion of the South Plains. Bus drivers reported snow as far west as Clovis, N. M., south to Lamesa, east to Quanah and north into Kansas.

Passenger automobiles were snowbound Sunday on virtually all main highways in this area, according to reports to the bus station here.

15 Cars Reported Stalled

A traveler reported that he had observed 15 cars stalled in drifts on a highway near Close City, between Post and Southland, Sunday afternoon.

Southwestern Bell Telephone company here reported that it had learned of no lines being down and that less difficulty had been encountered than had been expected.

Temperature at Abilene and Sweetwater, where a light snow had occurred, was about 40 degrees at 8 o'clock this morning and the snow was expected to melt rapidly, the telephone company reported. A heavy snow blanketed the Ropes territory, while there was little snow at Lamesa, attaches of the telephone office reported. Reports of snow from Childress and Wichita Falls on the east also had been received.

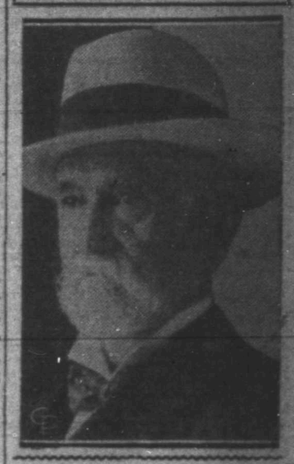

Reports reaching Lubbock indicated that the shroud of snow extended from Dodge City and western Kansas generally southward through Oklahoma and Texas Panhandle and blanketed most of West Texas, reaching as far southwest as the Big Bend region. The area in which

AVENUES FOR OIL RELIEF PRESENTED

GOVERNORS' SESSION IS HELD SUNDAY IN FORT WORTH

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, March 2—Three possible avenues of relief for a production-surfeited industry were before oil men of the southwest today as the result of a conference of governors and their representatives held here yesterday, called by Governor William H. Murray of Oklahoma.

At the conclusion of the conference, Governor Murray and Governor Ross S. Sterling of Texas, joined by representatives of the governors of Kansas and New Mexico, telegraphed a request to President Hoover that he ask major companies to limit their imports in an effort to stabilize the oil industry. They suggested that the president call a conference of major companies importing crude oil and its refined products to meet with the oil conservation board and the federal trade commission, to discuss proposed limitations.

Two Others Represented

WASHINGTON, March 2—Two and a half days more and the great forum that is congress will become silent for a long time.

They expected to receive within twenty-four hours a presidential veto of the Muscle Shoals bill and they expected the veto would be sustained. The leaders sought to dispatch the second deficiency appropriation carrying emergency

PURE SEED IS BEING ORDERED

SEVEN CAR LOADS OF COTTON SEED SOLD IN LUBBOCK AREA

Seven car loads of pure seed have been sold in the Lubbock territory by representatives of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association as a part of that organization's better seed campaign, N. H. Payne, one of the field men, stated Monday.

Over district No. 2 approximately ten more cars have been sold to farmers, with indications that the number for the entire district by the time to plant arrives, will number at least double the present total.

"We have sold 7,200 bushels of seed in the Lubbock territory," said Mr. Payne, "Orders for another car are about completed. I hope we can dispose of several more cars in this section."

Levelland has enough orders for a car load of seed, Mr. Payne said. At Lorenzo the latest figures indicated over 600 bushels, with prospects of completing the car of 1,000 bushels.

Red Cross Is Caring For 1,500 To 2000 Families In Area, Agent Here Says

Between 1,500 and 2,000 families in ten counties on the South Plains are receiving aid from the American Red Cross, Carl Van Hoorebeke, special field representative, said Monday in discussing the work of his organization in handling drouth relief work.

"We are spending about $1,000 a day now, but in my opinion the peak has been reached," Mr. Van Hoorebeke said, "and from now on, we will be spending less money for the work."

The work of the Red Cross in the drouth stricken area was started primarily "as a drouth relief program," Mr. Van Hoorebeke said. "We have handled a number of other things in addition to our drouth relief work," he added. "We have handled a lot of unemploy-

FINNISH JANITOR IS EXPELLED FROM COMMUNIST PARTY FOR "WHITE CHAUVINISM" IN TREATMENT OF NEGROES

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Mar. 2.—Expelled from the communist party for "White Chauvinism" in the treatment of negroes, August Yokinen, Finnish janitor, trod the weary road to redemption today.

In the first mass trial staged by communists in America, Yokinen, who speaks and understands but little English, was convicted yesterday by a jury in spite of an impassioned plea by his negro counsel. The jury was composed of seven negroes and seven white persons, including three women. The scene was a dance hall in the heart of Harlem with 2,000 members of both races in attendance.

Yokinen's trial was based on charges that he discriminated against three negroes at the Finnish workers club ball some weeks ago—"failing to jump at the throats of those who would eject the negro 'comrades.'" "White Chauvinism," it was explained, is the violation of complete political, economic and social equality of negroes and whites.

"Comrade Yokinen made formal acceptance of the communistic principle of equal rights," Prosecutor Clarence A. Hathaway said, "but he was not willing to accept its substance. Do you suppose it is possible for our party to convince the negroes that we will fight for

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

MANY STUPID PRACTICES OF CORRECTION ARE USED BY THOUGHTLESS PARENTS

You command your child of four to go to Mrs. Rowland and tell her he enjoyed the party. The child does not want to go. You try to force him and you fail. Next time you want the child to observe a similar convention he will hesitate still more because of the annoyance and fear you had created in him.

You do not teach "please" and "thank you" by sternly forcing children to say these words after they have already omitted them. You don't make one child love another by compelling him to kiss the child he has injured in a controversy. A certain mother said she had always had her three children kiss one another as punishment for quarreling. "Now," said she, "my boy of eight rebels. The other day he said defiantly, 'No sir; I will not kiss a girl.'"

You probably have sent your child to bed for being naughty. There are many parents you have known, perhaps, who have set their children to memorizing verses of the Bible, or saying prayers, in punishment for certain ills. They argue this way: "This penalty will prove such a punishment to these children that they will not repeat the offense. While they are being punished, see what good they are getting. What a storehouse of memory they are building up."

An example of this type of punishment is found in many schoolrooms where children still are being punished for the things they do wrong during the day by having to remain after school to work more at their studies. A prevailing practice in high school is to send pupils to the study hall for punishment. Let us take a look into a few of these instances and see what becomes of them.

To have to go to bed for being bad may make the punished child less likely to repeat the particular offense for which he had been punished. To have to learn prayers or verses from the Bible; to study lessons after school or serve time in the study hall may have immediately good effect in deterring the child from future like offenses. But what has happened in the meantime to these tools of punishment?

We want our children to observe good manners, to love their brothers and sisters, and to get along well with other children. We want him to enjoy a nap by day, to find it pleasant. We want him to choose to read the Bible and not to find prayers painful. We exhaust our greatest efforts to make school studies and the study hour attractive. Will their use as punishment promote our purpose? Now it is a fundamental law of life that what is painful is repellant and what gives pleasure is attractive.

If, therefore, we would have our small children hate to go to bed by day, despise the Bible and all things sacred, dislike their studies and their school, we shall go on with our prevailing feeble-minded modes of punishing our children. If, on the other hand, we would be wise and worthy parents we are going to make it a rule never to use as punishment of our children anything which we wish to be attractive to them. Let us think this matter over.

ROASTING CONTROL IS FLAVOR SECRET OF RARE COFFEE

Scientific Control Gives Hills Bros. Coffee the Flavor of Flavors

Invariably foods cooked in small quantities taste the best. The cook is able to control every step—perfectly—mixing, flavoring and cooking.

The principle of Hills Bros.' patented, continuous roasting process is based on the same idea. Instead of roasting their exclusive blend of coffee in bulk, measured quantities of about three pounds pass continuously through the roasters. The heat and speed of operation are accurately controlled with the result that Hills Bros. Coffee is absolutely uniform.

No other coffee can have the same delicious, uniform flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee because no other coffee is roasted the same way. This process—Controlled Roasting—was originated and patented by Hills Bros.

The vacuum can in which Hills Bros. Coffee is packed keeps it fresh always. By the vacuum packing process, air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is taken out of the can and kept out. Ordinary cans, even if air-tight, will not keep coffee fresh. Grocers everywhere sell Hills Bros. Coffee. Ask for it by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on the can.

Mrs. W. T. Milam Is To Exhibit Paintings In Childress During First Week In April

Department Club Is Sponsoring Show At Childress Club By Lubbock Woman

Following an invitation from the art division of the Women't Department club of Childress to exhibit in their club house, Mrs. W. T. Milam, 1103 19th street, is planning to hang her paintings there during the first week in April. She expects to have about twenty or twenty-five oils ready for exhibition at that time.

This club asked Mrs. Milam for an exhibit about a year ago but she did not feel that she had her paintings ready until recently when the club again asked her to show in the annual spring art exhibit. Many of these paintings were done several months ago when Mrs. Milam spent some time in Arizona and New Mexico.

Former Club Member

Mrs. Milam went to Childress as a bride and lived there for several years. At that time she was a member of the club that has asked her to return with her exhibit, however it was not until she had lived in New Mexico that she became seriously interested in painting. She left Childress in 1916 and lived for a year in Colarado and six years in New Mexico before she moved to Lubbock.

She is known here, principally, for her welfare work, particularly in providing a milk fund during the summer months for the last several years. She participates in club and P.-T. A. activities and is an active member of the First Christian church, to which congregation she recently presented a painting which now hangs in the main auditorium.

Mrs. Milam's exhibit is to be on April 2, 3, and 4 and it will hang in the women's club house, which has been recently erected by the club women of Childress. Mrs. Milam expects to go to Childress about the first of April and will be the guest of friends there for several days.

NEW WELLS ARE BROUGHT IN

EAST TEXAS FIELD IS CENTER OF MORE PRODUCTION

(By The Associated Press)

LONGVIEW, March 2—The Foster-Bond No. 1 Fisher, four miles west of Longview, blew in last night, spraying oil over the crown block five times. The well was regarded as linking the Lathrop and Bateman pools. Drillers would make no estimate of production although it was expected to gauge as one of the strong producers in the East Texas field.

HENDERSON, March 2 (AP)—The East Texas oil field had two new producers today, the Karona Oil company's No. 1 Peterson in the Kilgore area having come in yesterday for an estimated daily production of 20,000 barrels and the Haynes drilling company's Brown No. 2, in the Maria Josefa Pru survey, in the Joiner area, for an estimated 3,000 barrels. Three other wells in the Joiner area were expected to be brought in within the next 24 hours.

Flowers May Be Enjoyed And Cultivated Indoors; Cuttings Are Grown

Art Supplied to Central Press By Home & Field Magazine

THIS is the time of year when the person who has a garden gets out the flower catalogue and pores over it, planning the arrangement of the beds, the sequence of the blooms, and the harmonious arrangement of the color scheme.

Many of us do not have gardens, however, and still our love of flowers persists. For this type of person there is "balm in Gilliead" in the certain knowledge that they, too, may have flowers all the year around. A certain amount of planning ahead, a knowledge of the needs of the different seeds, bulbs, etc., and the proper utensils, which are neither hard to get nor expensive, and your home or porch may "blossom as the rose."

In starting plants from seed be sure that you get good seed. The extra price you pay for the superior article is well worth it, for good germination is not enough; it is the hidden heritage within the seed—its breeding—that determines the satisfaction you will eventually get from it.

Paraphernalia Needed

The paraphernalia you will need for seed starting is simple. It consists of the medium or compost in which to sow the seeds, a suitable container, and for some very fine seeds, covers to control the surface moisture. A very fine spray nozzle for hose or watering can, for watering until the seedlings get a start, is needed. A compressed air sprayer is ideal.

The seed starting compost is made by mixing together, through a quarter-inch sieve, equal parts of mellow garden loam, peat moss and sharp sand. This will give a light, smooth, fine-textured soil with a great capacity for absorbing and holding moisture, and at the same time, providing drainage so that it will not stay wet or pack hard on the surface—two conditions fatal to good germination.

Prepare the containers to receive the compost by placing in the bottom a layer of drainage material half an inch or so in thickness. For this purpose sphagnum moss, or the screenings from leaf mold or peat moss will answer. For small quantities or very fine seed earthenware seed pans are best. For easily germinated seeds of fair size small wooden boxes or "flats," about two inches deep, may be used. There should be several holes in the bottom for drainage.

Preferred Watering Method

Fill the container with the seed soil and press down firmly. Water thoroughly, preferably by letting the water soak up through the drainage holes until it shows on the surface. When the moisture dries off the surface sow the seed. Keep in a temperature of 60 to 80 degrees. Sunlight is not essential until after the seeds have sprouted.

Below at center is the container for fine seeds, showing the cover of glass which prevents the surface soil from being disturbed until after germination, and the method of watering by placing the container in a pan in which water is poured. At the right is a pot of seedlings ready for transplanting, as they are too crowded.

If seedlings have been started right they will have plenty of fibrous roots adhering to the spongy soil particles, making transplanting safe and easy. Healthy seedlings are pictured above, center.

Growing plants from cuttings is fascinating. Cuttings are prepared by taking fairly small pieces of the new growth or shoots of plants, usually three to four inches long, and inserting them in a rooting medium to about one-third of their length. New roots will form around the edges of the cut ends below the surface. Samples of various cuttings are pictured below, left. At the top is dusty miller; second row, rose and fuchsia; below, pelargonium, coleus, geranium.

After new roots have formed cuttings are placed in pots. In a few weeks, when the roots are like those pictured, upper left, they should be shifted to larger pots. The plant at the left is not quite ready for transplanting; that at the right should be put in a larger pot at once.

Mrs. Ballenger On Club Committee

Mrs. C. M. Ballenger, a member of the Twentieth Century club here, has been appointed local chairman of the first annual purchase prize committee in the Texas Federation of Women's clubs. Mrs. Ballenger received word of her appointment Sunday.

She will work in connection with a committee composed of Mrs. R. P. Lindsey, of Mount Pleasant, president of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs; Mrs. Alex Adams, of San Antonio, state chairman of the department of fine arts, and Mrs. C. A. Fagg, of Greenville, chairman of the division of art.

Through this committee, Texas artists may exhibit paintings at the annual meeting of the Texas Federation in Lubbock next November and one of the canvases may be selected to hang in the permanent headquarters that is to be erected in Austin. The one selected will carry an award of $500 to the painter and ten honorable mentions will be awarded blue ribbons.

Mrs. Ballenger has not been notified about rules for entries except that a picture will not be considered that has been entered in a competition or exhibit previously.

Because of the decrease in passenger receipts three branch lines of a large railway system in England have just been closed.

Vet's Kit Is Found After 18 Years

CHICAGO, Mar. 2. (AP)—It's a small world.

Thirteen years ago Arthur W. Hanson of Minneapolis dropped his soldier's kit somewhere on a battlefield in France. The sixth marine corps was advancing at the time and the stretcher bearers who carried Hanson back did not bother to retrieve the kit. They had other things on their minds.

A year after the war Dr. Charles W. Olsen of Chicago went visiting in the European battlefields. He picked up the kit and noticed the owner's name upon it.

Yesterday Hanson got it back.

WIDER MARKET CREATED FOR GRAPES BY CO-OP MAKING NEW CONCENTRATE; OLD WINERIES BEING REMODELED FOR WORK

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The co-operatively owned and operated manufacture of grape contrate has become a big business.

Its growth has assumed proportions that give promise of revolutionizing the handling and marketing of juice grapes.

The agency formed by growers and manufacturers of grape products to further distribution of the product of California vineyards, alone extracted in 1930 more than 1,000,000 gallons and has established a capacity for 5,000,000 gallons yearly. It is called Fruit Industries, Ltd.

As the concentrate is one-fourth by volume of the natural juice, the first year's operations consumed out of the year's surplus of the crop the equivalent of 4,000,000 gallons of grape juice, and used more than 28,000 tons of grapes.

Concentrating plants or warehouses have been acquired in 10 California cities, supplemented by three in New York state, at Brooklyn, Penn Yan and Hammondsport.

Old wineries are being remodeled, research laboratories established and an almost nationwide marketing service built for sales and distribution.

In shipment to eastern markets a saving of $600 a carload is effected in freight chages. Whatever the ultimate use of the product, the principal advantage to the grower of the new form of marketing the grape crop is the extension of the sales period over an almost indefinite period.

The product, which has the consistency of syrup, is too highly concentrated to ferment alone even if exposed to the air, the management of the cooperative maintains. Hence, it is contended that it is an inert commodity, with the same legal status as sugar, baled cotton or hops.

In shipment of perishable fresh grapes, however, marketing must be completed within 90 days.

For financing the venture, the co-operative received a federal farm board loan of $1,700,000 on plant and equipment, and an additional loan of $300,000 on commodities. The "going concern" value of the organization's plants is placed at $9,000,000.

Under the contract the organization must be operated as a grower-owned, cooperative, non-profit institution. As soon as appraised values of its assets have been paid to the owners, the business reverts to the body of growers signed up with the farm board contract.

Huge tank cars (below) carry California's cooperatively produced grape concentrate to market. Tanks in an old winery, being remodeled for concentrating plants, are shown above.

Thought For Today

I said in mine heart, Go to now, I will prove thee with mirth, therefore enjoy pleasure; and, behold, this also is vanity.—Ecclesiastes 2:1.

Vanity and dignity are incompatible.—Alfred de Musset.

The Danger

Life can play foul jokes on people sometimes.

In a large middle-western city there was a grocer, who worked very hard and saved his money religiously so that his old age would be provided for.

For 50 years he stuck to his grocery store. He worked and saved too hard to have very much fun, but he was looking forward to the day when he could retire. Then he would have his fun. He would have money and leisure, and he would make up for the years of hard work.

Well, he finally retired—money in the bank, an assured income, a nice home, everything he needed. "Now," he told his friends, "I am going to enjoy life."

And just 24 hours after he had retired he dropped dead.

If a novelist put that in a book we wouldn't believe it. We would say that things don't really happen that way, and we would accuse the novelest of straining too hard for an ironic effect.

But life takes queer twists that are not permitted to good fiction. It all happened, precisely as it is described here; and all we can do is admit that there are times when wisdom and prudence are horribly confounded.

As a matter of fact, this sort of thing happens fairly often—in a little different way. Not many people who have prepared for a carefree and leisurely old age die just as they begin to taste their reward, of course; but they get cheated out of their dues, just the same. They find that leisure, after a lifetime of hard work, is boredom. They find that they have forgotten how to play. They find that the empty hours are depressing because they don ot know what to do with them. They find themselves feeling that they have been put upon the shelf, and they grow 10 years older in 12 months.

Perhaps we aren't meant to be too cautious. Deferring one's happiness to the end, when one will have time and the means to take it, is risky. For most of us that gilded tomorrow will never dawn. If we don't get our happiness along the way we shall never get it at all.

That is a lesson worth learning. The real joy of living is not something that can be banked and drawn on at some future date. It has to be taken from day to day. It is compounded, usually, of many little experiences. The haze of an autumn afternoon over a flaming woodland; the confiding smile of a child, nestling in one's arms for a fairy tale; the smell of a clear wind as one trudges along a beach by blue water; the sudden revelation of tenderness in the eyes of a loved on; the brief, vanishing strain of a bit of music—of such things is a satisfying life fabricated. You must get them as you go along, or you will miss them entirely.

Eggs And Big Bill

There is something slightly encouraging in the news that Chicago citizens hissed eggs at Big Bill Thompson during a recent mayoralty campaign meeting.

To be sure, the tossing of eggs in public places is always to be deplored; and a political speaker has the right to demand an uninterrupted hearing from his audience, whether the audience is hostile or not. But there is just the same, something encouraging about it.

It suggests, you see, that Chicago, at last may be getting on to Big Bill. From the tossing of eggs to open ridicule is only a short distance; and ridicule is the one really effective weapon against politicians of the Thompson variety. If Chicago is preparing to sit back and give Bill the horse laugh, the politician may soon be history.

THE PLAINSMAN Says:

That Girl on Broadway says when a husband has the last word it's usually "Yes, my dear"!

A LITTLE girl came home from Sunday school yesterday, thrilled nearly to death.

"Oh, mamma", she said. "We learned the best song at Sunday school. It was about a little bear."

"Why, honey," said the puzzled parent. "You must be wrong. They don't sing about bears in Sunday school."

"Oh, yes they do, mamma", the kid returned. "This song was about Gladly, The Cross-eyed Bear."

Telling that yarn reminds The Plainsman of a story that's going the rounds about Calvin Coolidge. Since Mr. Coolidge's name is slipping back into the political news, it should be interesting to at least Doc Barr and John Vaughan.

It seems that a very popular capital debutante, with her father, was invited at attend a Coolidge reception when the latter was president. Telling her father she was tickled over a prospective conversation with the chief executive she was nettled by her dad's opinion that Coolidge wouldn't say three words to her. Father and daughter finally climaxed their argument by wagering ten dollars.

At the reception the young woman rushed up to Mr. Coolidge, grasped his hand and cooed:

"Oh, Mr. President! Please help me win a bet from daddy. He bet me ten dollars you wouldn't say three words to me—and you will, won't you?"

"He wins." was the Vermonter's only reply.

THUMBING through some syndicate stuff, The Plainsman ran across a brief comment by J. J. Mundy which is true enough in most instances. It certainly has made this writer stop to think. Says Mr. Mundy:

"Few persons have a wide enough margin of sinless past to permit the attitude of depreciation that some assume.

"All make mistakes sooner or later, in some way.

"Perhaps your digressions have not resulted as seriously as the moral wanderings of some you know.

"But your own thoughts have been questionable enough at times to preclude the 'holier than thou' attitude which people often take when repeating defamationos."

That Man on Avenue Q says clothes make the man, unless they happen to be women's clothes—and then they generally break him.

YESTERDAY must have been "World Court Day" in Lubbock and over the country and a lot of well-meaning folks were kidded into sending form letters to President Hoover, voicing the opinion that the United States should enter the World court.

The letter-mailing campaign will doubtless react to advantage for the postoffice department, which prooves it's an ill wind that blows nobody good. But those who think President Hoover, harried with a million problems, is going to read their letters are simply chasing rainbows.

Entrance of United States into the World Court is just like prohibition, the Einstein theory, evolution and world economics. It's easy to talk about but requires considerable study before one may reach a logical conclusion.

THE PLAINSMAN, for example, doesn't know any more about the World Court, from our country's entrance standpoint, than a cannibal knows about whipped cream. And he doesn't mean to appear conceited when he adds that at least 90 per cent of the population is in the same boat. And if such is the case in Lubbock it is logical to assume that it holds true in various and sundry portions of the country of ours.

Nobody with the right slant on life wants war. But entrance into the World Court is no guaranty against conflict. Perhaps it would be fine for the good old U. S. A. to enter the court—then again it might be an international bonehead. And the moral to this outburst is people should not fall for this, that and the other stunt without knowing what the subject is all about. Propaganda, it is well to remember, did not go out with the last war.

THERE is some of our citizens who are worried a little over the fact that members of the city commission are divided over policies of operation.

The Plainsman, however, isn't worried over it at all.

It is natural for individuals to disagree—and it's healthy for them to disagree in the right way.

As far as this column has been able to discover, there's nobody at the city hall mad at the other fellow and if the commissioners want to thrash out their problems by disagreeing, let 'em have at it.

No month of 'em ever got anywhere. Every official elected to office by the City of Lubbock was elected to use his judgment—not to necessarily make it conform to anyone else's.

Whenever a business, public or private, shows up with a staff that is always agreeable you can bet your socks it won't be long until that business starts decaying.

"A little difference now and then is helpful to the best of men."

Yes, Senate Is Proud Of Its Rules Which Allow Debate Unlimited, And Its Amazing How Windy Lawmakers Can Be

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, March 2—The Senate is very proud of its rules, which allow unlimited debate, and turns savagely upon anyone who urges that they be changed. It is one "forum of freedom" where any member can say whatever he likes, at any length, without intimidation or curtailment.

And, of course, it is also a place which has attracted some of the most boresome windbags any country has ever produced. Newspaper readers who are given fragments of the things that are said on the floors of Congress haven't the least idea of the tremendous volume of guff and dull detail which they are fortunate enough to miss.

Frequently, however, they miss something really snappy, such as the sparkling exchange of amenities between Caraway of Arkansas and Fess of Ohio the other day, when Fess held the chair as presiding officer. Everybody was talking about the bill to lend veterans more money on their bonus certificiates and sow soon it could be voted on. It went like this, to quote verbatim from the Congressional Record:

Mr. Caraway: Mr. President—

The Presiding Officer: The Senator from Michigan. (Couzens.)

Mr. Caraway: Mr. President, I want to call attention to the fact that I was on my feet before the senator from Michigan arose, and addressed the chair before the senator from Michigan arose.

The Presiding Officer: The chair will state that the senator from Michigan tried to get the floor when the senator from Georgia was recognized.

Mr. Couzens: Before the senator from Georgia did. I beg the senator's pardon; I was on my feet.

Mr. Caraway: Let me ask if it is the rule, then, that if a senator addresses the chair and sits down or goes to lunch he is entitled to take the floor when he comes back.

Mr. Couzens: I do not object to yielding to the senator if he wants to go on at this time.

Mr. Caraway: That is not the point. I am objecting most seriously to this way of the chair sitting there and ignoring some senator who rises and addresses him and picking out some senator on the other side who is not on the floor.

The Presiding Officer: The chair will state to the senator from Arkansas that the senator from Michigan was trying to secure recognition from the chair when the senator from Georgia arose.

Mr. Caraway: Then why did not the chair recognize him then? Why does the chair wait until some other senator rises and then recognize a senator who is not on his feet?

The Presiding Officer: The chair thought he was playing fair with both sides.

Mr. Caraway: Oh, the chair recognizes some senator who is not on his feet when he is being addressed by a senator who is on his feet.

The Presiding Officer: The senator from Michigan.

Mr. Watson (of Indiana): Mr. President, who has the floor?

Mr. Caraway: Just a minute. I have the floor more than the senator from Indiana has.

The Presiding Officer: The senator from Michigan has the floor.

Mr. Caraway: I am asking a parliamentary question. I have the floor for that purpose, even with the senator from Ohio in the chair.

The Presiding Officer: The senator will state his parliamentary question.

Mr. Caraway: I am asking when the rule was changed so that the chair refuses to recognize a senator on the floor and picks out some senator who is not on his feet.

The Presiding Officer: There has been no change of the rules in that respect.

Mr. Caraway: Then the chair arrogates to himself that authority.

The Presiding Officer: The senator from Michigan.

Mr. Caraway: There is nothing new about this, of course, as long as the senator from Ohio is in the chair, but I am objecting to it.

The Presiding Officer: The Senate will be in order. The senator from Michigan has the floor.

Mr. Caraway: Just a minute.

The Presiding Officer: Does the senator from Michigan yield to the senator from Arkansas?

Mr. Couzens: I yield to the senator from Arkansas.

Mr. Caraway: No, I am not asking to be yielded to. I am asking a question. What was the remark of the chair? I am asking a parliamentary question, and I am not asking to be yielded to, because of a remark the chair made as he turned around. I want to know what it was.

The Presiding Officer: The senator will state his parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. Caraway: It took me some time to get an opportunity to do it. I wanted to ask what was the announcement of the chair about the rule as he turned around to make his side remark?

The Presiding Officer: The senator asked the chair when the rule had been changed, and the chair stated that there had been no change of the rule. The senator from Michigan has the floor.

Mr. Couzens: Mr. President, I have been considerable concerned about this legislation for the reason that . . . (Etc.)

CERTAIN FOLK MADE ILL BY SOME FOODS

POISONING BY food or by the remains of food in the intestines is, in spite of wide popular belief to the contrary, not a very real danger.

Dr. Clendening

People who think they are being chronically poisoned by what they eat or from intestinal intoxication usually are victims of nerves. In plain words, hypochondriacs. The equally prevalent notion that many kinds of skin eruption are due to digestive disturbances gets little encouragement from the regular medical profession.

One form of food poisoning, however, is undoubtedly real—the existence of idiosyncrasies or peculiar reactions to food on the part of certain people. This condition has been studied for only a short time, but already a large mass of facts have been accumulated. (Also, incidentally a large mass of fancies.) In fact the studies made all over the world have resulted in creating a new division of the causation of disease, and has been given the general name allergy. Perhaps a better, certainly a simplier and more understandable word, is hypersensitiveness.

A second cause consists of animal emanations and dandruff which are inhaled when the sensitized person gets near an animal. The third frequent cause for the symptoms is from absorption of special foods.

The symptoms which occur in a sensitive person when exposed to the active substance are quite definite. Respiratory distress is well illustrated by hay fever—nasal discharge, sneezing, cough and finally asthma. Asthma alone may occur from food or dandruff absorption. Various skin diseases are certainly to be ascribed to this phenomenon—hives, and peculiar swellings (called angio-neurotic oedema) as well as eruptions of other kinds.

Many other conditions have been ascribed to food allergy. The physicians who have worked in the field have been notable more for enthusiasm than for critical judgment on the material before them. Hence they have announced that migraine headaches, epilepsy, dizziness and many addominal conditions are due to hypersensitiveness. In fact, as enthusiasts are apt to do, they have been inclined to take over the whole field of medicine for their pet. No certain signs of allergy exist, however, except asthma, hay fever, hives and a few other skin eruptions (poison ivy, primrose dermatitis).

The diagnosis of the condition is based on the existence of a family tendency, a history of attacks after definite exposure to the offending substance, and the demonstration of positive skin reactions. It is a peculiarity of thes sensitized persons that if a small amount of the substance to which they are sensitive is introduced into the skin, a large wheal is formed there, and even general hives and asthma follows. This fact is used in medical laboratories to clinch the diagnosis.

All writers who have had manuscripts rejected will envy the position of Erich Remarque, author of "All Quiet on the Western Front." With 21 publishers after his next book, he must reject 20 of them.

Hot-headed members of the Austrian Parliament, threw inkpots at each other. The country may well regard this as a blot on its legislative history.

"Let's hope there'll be no hard feelings," as the wary patient said to the chiropractor.

MARAKECH, Morocco, March 2—Oh, yes, the dancing girls!

The boys on Broadway whispered about them before I sailed. The courier whispered about them the moment I joined his party. A thousand to one it's the first subject I'll be quizzed about when I return to Manhattan.

Now there are the Oulad Nails of Biskra, the more worldly and maturer experts of Fez, the nondescripts of the Bouz-Biers—which is a polite word for something else—and the tiny, light-skinned child dancers of this section.

Yes, you'll encounter dancing girls a la Earl Carroll and you'll see them in such Oriental finery as Ziegfeld and George White together have never attempted.

You'll see some of them taking American cigarets from familiar looking packages with fingertips fairly glistening with dazzling henna; you'll meet them wearing gold teeth for beauty's sake; you'll find them with hands blackened with strange stains and tattooed with "beauty marks"; you'll find some who flirt openly from under long, waxed eye-lashes and you'll encounter those who are part and parcel of an underworld tour. You'll find girls who will dance only at at invitation of the town's wealthiest merchants—even as in New York. And you'll find groups that toss their torsos for a collection of coins.

My own introduction to the dancing girls of this section of the world was something like this:

It was Marrakech and the hour was near midnight. We went through slimy, cobbled alleys, unlighted lanes and twisting trails. In the doorways the beggars were gathering for the night. When the streets grew wider they slept in their dirty-white burnooses in the street.

Here and there a mendicant sat on a stone bringing screeching notes from a one-stringed fiddle and chanting his fawning prayer for alms as strangers passed.

Soon the streets seemed cluttered with crouching bundles, each of which was a sleeper with no place to go. Then we were shunted suddenly down worn stairs, through a passageway and into the theater, the price of which was that of a balcony seat purchased at Joe Leblang's.

Like all such places, a pleasant garden was just outside the doorway, with gardens, palms and a fountain. Inside the lighting was achieved through anemic lamps placed in niches in the wall.

The theater was clammy with the cold damp smell of under-ground caverns. We kept on our coats and squatted on cushions along the wall. For a moment, I thought we had made a mistake, for we appeared to have stumbled into a grammar school class. No dancing girl in the array that greeted us was more than 12 years old. Several seemed to be all of 11 or 12. Later I was told that when the age of 14 has been reached they are discarded as venerable grandmothers and fresh children are brought in.

My first instinct was to tell them all to run upstairs and go to bed, while we put them to sleep by telling bedtime stories. The guide bade me say nothing.

A moment later an epileptic virtuoso of a native fiddle had begun to play those nasal tunes that finally haunt your waking and sleeping hours. A stout and older girl, no longer fit for dancing, began to beat an eerie dirge upon a crockery jar covered with some sort of pelt.

Then the dancers took up their bored routine. Light golden they were in the half-light, like young South Sea Islanders—and some very beautiful! One there was with the saddest eyes I have ever seen in this lifetime. A child of a poor family, sold out to this life with but six months of experience.

Yet each one of them as hard as a New York night club hostess. Innocent of face, these tiny devils would try to take your watch, your wallet or your fountain pen.

Their dance was of the variety which, in old sideshow days, we called the kootch, or muscle school of motion. Their dexterity was often amazing, their motions were barbaric, with a certain restraint and the instince of a nautch.

The United States exported more than 27,000,000 artificial teeth last year. No wonder we are so falsely represented abroad.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

They left the papaw grove and then walked right back into town again. The Travel Man said, "I think we had best be on our way. We've seen enough of this fine town and ere the brilliant sun goes down, I'd like to move to some place else. There is no need to stay."

"All right," replied the Tinymites. "We're always glad to see new sights. Just how far is the next town and are we to walk or ride?" Then Clowny added, "For my part I'd like to hire a horse and cart. We've always found it heaps of fun, whenever that's been tried."

"You Win!" replied the Travel Man, "I guess, by riding, that we can reach some new town before the dawn. Wait here. I'll get the cart." The cart was hired and, with a grin, the Travel Man cried "Hop right in! I love to ride by twilight and it's time that we depart."

The journey out across the land was picturesque and very grand. The Tinies all took turns at getting just a wink of snooze. Then Scouty sat up straight and said, "Oh, gee, how pretty just ahead. I love the scenery by night, e'en though some sleep I lose."

When morning came, with all awake, one Tiny said, "For goodness sake! A town is just ahead of us. We're playing into luck." "Why, that's Johannesburg, my son," the Travel Man replied. "What fun we're going to have real shortly, 'cause we're going to find our truck."

And soon, the truck they'd had before was brought to view and, what is more, it had been washed and polished nice. "It seems," wee Scouty cried, "that we have found a long lost friend. On this old truck we can depend. Let's hop right in and tour around. I'd like a little ride.

(The Tinymites visit some famou diamond mines in the next tory.)

GIANT X-RAY BEING BUILT

MACHINE TO BE USED TO FIGHT CANCER IN NEW YORK HOSPITAL

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, March 2 (AP)—To fight cancer, a 900,000 volt x-ray tube, far the biggest one in the country, is being built for the New York Memorial hospital.

Ordinary x-rays, outdone by radium in a series of tests at Memorial hospital, are coming back to renew their bid for supremacy.

Given to Society

This news was given to the Optical Society of America and the American Physical society by Dr. G. Failla and Dr. P. S. Henshaw of Memorial hospital.

The present greatest x-ray tube is a 600,000 volt apparatus higher than a bungalow at California Institute of Technology. A 5,000,000 volt tube has been operated at the Carnegie Institution of Washington, but its great power is only a momentary spark, instead of the continuous stream sought in medicine and industry.

The new 900,000 volt tube is under construction by the General Electric company. Its details have not been made public, but it is expected to take the form of three tubes each of 300,000 volts hooked up end to end in a "cascade."

Works "Surprise"

The Memorial tests established the comparative biological (health) effects of radium and x-rays running into a "surprise." Both kinds of rays were measured in "roentgens," the international unit of x-radiation.

"It was found," the joint report states, "that 500 roentgens of gamma (radium) rays produce the same reddening of the skin as is produced by 600 roentgens of filtered x-rays. This indicatd that so far as the effects of the radiation on the skin of a patient is concerned, x-rays and gamma rays are substantially equivalent."

To compare other skin effects they next rayed seedlings with equal amounts of gamma and x-rays. This effect shows itself as a stunting of the shoots and roots.

SNYDER. — (Staff Special) — Trouble, in the form of a sprain, does not come singly in the family of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Green here. When the small daughter of the couple sprained her arm, she was taken to the hospital by her parents. As Mrs. Green stepped from the car she slipped and a sprained ankle resulted. Both are recovering.

REELECT WEDGEWORTH

FOUR HUNDRED MILES AN HOUR BRITAIN'S GOAL IN 1931 RACES FOR SCHNEIDER CUP; PLANES ARE BEING PROVIDED

British speed pilots hope to gain permanent possession of the Schneider cup in this summer's races. They will use two super-marine planes of the S-6 type, shown above. Lieut. H. R. D. Waghorn (left) and Squadron Leader A. H. Orlebar (right) may pilot the ships.

LONDON (AP)—British speed pilots will fly the Schneider cup races this summer bent on gaining the third leg and permanent possession of the emblem of world supremacy.

They will be aided by a "tailwind" of approximately $500,000, in the form of a guarantee for their expenses.

Lady Houston, the fairy godmother who guaranteed the 100,000 pounds necessary to stage the event, came to the rescue of British aviation just as the government was saying firmly that it would not sanction expenses for the race.

Three Nations to Compete

Both Italy and France have challenged Britain's right to permanent possession of the cup, and are grooming machines and pilots for the races to be held probably in August on the Solent.

Britain at present is planning to trust her chances to the same two planes which won the 1929 race, one with a speed of 357 and the other at 328 miles an hour.

R. J. Mitchell, designer of these two super-marine Rolls-Royce S-6 machines, plans alterations which he thinks will increase the speed of the ships to approximately 400 miles an hour.

Two Aces May Fly

Flight Lieutenant H. R. D. Waghorne and his teammate, Squadron Leader A. H. Orlebar, are both available for this year's races, and will make their initial training flights in the rejuvinated ships in the early summer.

With a speed of 400 miles an hour within shooting distance, racers in this competition will have increased the speed of their ships nearly 1000 per cent since the trophy was hung up in 1913 by Jaques Schneider, French engineer. The cup was won that year by Prevost at 44.7 miles an hour.

Since that time the speed has crept to 100, 200 and 300 miles an hour, and now approaches 400.

In 1923 Rittenhouse flew 177.38 miles an hour to win for the United States. There was no race in 1924.

Doolittle Won Second Leg

With Jimmy Doolittle flying 232.57 miles an hour in 1925, the United States secured the second successive leg, and a victory in 1926 would have sent the cup to America permanently. However, Italian colors, carried by Bernardi at a speed of 246.49 miles an hour, flashed across the line first in 1926.

British racers then made their bid, winning with Webster in 1927 at 281.49 and again in 1929 with the 328-mile-an-hour spurt of Waghorn.

America will be absent from the 1931 races, as it was in 1929, the British race officials having announced the entry lists closed. This ended the possibility that Lieut. Alford Williams, formerly of the United States Navy, might compete with a plane built by private funds.

TO ATTEND MEETING

RALLS.—(Special)—The Vocational Home Economics club of the Ralls High school is planning to be well represented at the District Home Economics association meeting to be held at Plainview on Saturday, March 7th.

Ninety-six thousand people in England last year paid $1,430,000,000 in taxes.

TO FINISH ROAD SOON

PLAINVIEW, (Staff Special)—The last obstacle towards completion of the Plainview-Dimmitt highway has been removed by the securing of equipment by Castro county to grade the short section of the road in that county, Bill Gouldy reported here. A tractor owned by a Swisher county farmer and some equipment from the West Texas Tractor and Machinery company was secured for the work. Early completion is predicted.

Starred in the program will be Ruth Etting and the Nathaniel Shilkret orchestra. As the music goes out on the WJZ coast to coast network, special receivers in Mammoth Cave, Kentucky, and in the gondola of an airship flying over Hollywood, Calif., with be tuned in.

Before each receiver will be a talking camera which will have a record of the program. A talkie of the actual broadcast, which is to be made from New York, also is planned. Afterward comparisons will be made.

A third part of the experiment will be the reception and recording of the program on a U. S. navy submarine somewhere in the Pacific ocean.

Service Tells During Cold Spells

When the piercing winds came out of the North, together with heavy snows, and the drop of mercury shivered and sought refuge at the bottom of your thermometer you were

WARM

The comfort you enjoyed was not due to any accident—but was the result of the untiring labor of hundreds of employees of an organization which spares nothing in its efforts to keep faith with you. While you were sitting in front of your fire, while you were eating a warm appetizing meal, while you were enjoying a good night's rest, these men were fighting hard and unflinchingly against the bitter elements, perishing winds, ice and snow — TO INSURE YOUR PERFECT COMFORT.

The Result of These Efforts Is ....Service

Natural Gas, without SERVICE, is of little advantage—like a gun without a shell. When, however, it enjoys the companionship of a whole-hearted service, which we strive unceasingly to give, it becomes immediately the most beneficial, economical and dependable fuel known to man.

SPUDDER INFIELD TO GET CHANCE WITH BROWNS

FIGHT INDUSTRY FACES HEAVY WEEK

IN THE REALM OF SPORT

With Collier Parris
Journal Sports Editor

Here's a new one. Three Texas Tech athletes have been honored by trophies symbolic of "the hardest working men in school." The Tech coaching staff judged and made the awards. The men were judged on the basis of the number of hours they put in honest and earnest work. Jay Maltby, a guard of more or less regularity on the Matador team last fall, hailing from Desdamona, was the varsity man chosen to receive a bronze statue for being the hardest working man on the team. With the freshman it was a tie. Whacker Barton of Lubbock and Toby Greer of Comanche divided honors. Both received honor prizes.

Maltby is a little man, weighing something under 200 and over 175, and he is quiet, rather timid, apparently. He is a hard worker, faithful in training and in the game. He played his position about as much as any other one man at guard, and never shirked a duty. Barton is, well, you know Whacker if you've lived in West Texas very long. He's good and he's not afraid to admit it. He'll be a great tackle next year. There may be some a little greater, but Whacker will be in the first division. Toby Greer is not like a mouse either. A great fighter, hard bruiser and faithful trainer, he merits the award.

"Now the idea of this game is to put that ring around the ball. I don't care how you do it, and neither does anybody else, 'cept the referee, but put that ring around the ball. The more times you do it the better it'll be for you. At the same time you blank numbskulls might try to keep the other side from putting that ring around the ball."

* * *

That kind of talk, in its variations heard by thinly clad athletes every day from the opening practice hour until the rest period between the halves of the final game of the season, is about to cease for another ten months. Basketball coaches over the country will spit it for the last time within the next few weeks. The Lubbock mentors have already subsided. "Put that ring around the ball," said Coach So-and-So to his shivering men the first time they were assembled for the winter program. "This is the last half of the last game of the season. The idea of the game is to put that ring around the ball," he said in the dressing room between halves on February 28.

The Tech varsity cagers, however, will take up the cry now with a long intramural season. Different teams of the campus will be listening to Clarence Hodges, Tad Tadlock, Baldy Fisher, Harvey Dunn, Crews, and the others. They will be assisted by reserve men of the varsity throughout the intramural season which starts with this week.

* * *

Coach "Jew" Keeling of the Lubbock Westerner cagers announced his letterman for the season 1931. Six men will be awarded the coveted "W" some time this month. Sweaters have been ordered and will be given with their arrival, probably at the program of some civic club's luncheon. Captain Jimmy Knight, Jack Quinlan, forwards; Leon Brown, center; Hollis Payne, Thompson and McCarty, guards, are to receive letters.

* * *

The Westerners have done well this season, considering the lack of seeded material that started the year. Not a single letterman from last year and few reserve men started the 1931 season. Coaches Keeling and Liston have performed mighty well with the slim potentialities and they deserve a lot of credit. They have won more than half their games, and they have counted as one of their victories the first that Lubbock has ever had at the expense of the Amarillo Sandies. They split a series with the Sandstorm, winning the Lubbock game by putting up their best fight of the year. They finished second in an invitation tournament at Floydada, meeting the best teams of the section, losing to the runner up in the district meet.

Spur High school and Spur fans bemoan the loss of Coach Gene Taylor, head coach-elect of Brownwood High. Gene did a fine job at Spur last season and won the praises of everybody who saw his team perform. He had a dearth of material, but he picked the best and made a whopping good team. If it had been left alone, permitted to follow the course set at the halfway mark it would have gone far in Class B division last fall. Gene has left no doubt of his ability to coach wherever he has been. He should help put the Brownwood team on the Oil Belt map next fall.

The Taylor brothers, Gene and Harry, have a way of getting ahead. They're smart boys. Both of them met with serious reversals at the hands of the state disciplinary committee last fall, Gene at Spur and Harry at Colorado, but they were graduated to Class A schools notwithstanding. Harry accepted the post at San Angelo, which will be in the same district with Brownwood. When their teams meet next fall the game will hold special interest, with brothers pitted against each other. The brothers coached together at Post in 1929, turning out a regional championship team. Here's wishing them luck and lots of it in the Oil Belt.

LEVY, BURNS, STORTI MAY BE USED

WICHITA FALLS 'PONY INFIELD' MEMBERS FACE BIG TEST

(Note: this is the first of a series of first hand Associated Press stories on major league baseball prospects.)

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 2 (AP)—The slogan of the St. Louis Browns this year is "off with the old; on with the new." It includes the baseball, at least half the infield, a portion of the outfield and the general structure of the club.

Keen and kindly Bill Killefer, one-time battery-mate of Grover Cleveland Alexander, is still manager, starting his fifth term, but he has launched a radical program of reconstruction, designed to pull the Brownies out of the rut.

To Break In Texans

This program's chief feature is Killefer's attempt to introduce into major league company at least half, and possibly three-fourths of the "pony infield" that performed record-breaking defensive tricks for the Wichita Falls club of the Texas league last year.

Plucked from scattered points, kept under cover and drilled for faster company at the Browns' farm the trio up for the big test now are Shortstop Jim Levy, rangy Jewish lad obtained from the Quantico Marines; First Baseman Irving Burns, Irish boy from New England; Second Baseman Lin Storti, Italian product of West Texas.

Euller With Milwaukee

The fourth member of the quartet that set a flock of double play records in the fast Texas league, including seven in one game, was Walter Euller, a German now with Milwaukee.

Burns and Levy have performed sensationally in the early workouts. Storti has been drilling well at second but faces keen competition from the veteran Oscar Melillo, representing with the regulars this week.

Lu Blue May Go

With Levy at short, Killefer plans to shift the hard-hitting Ralph Kress to third base. If Burns makes good at first, it will mean the passing from active duty of Lu Blue, for years one of the league's best first sackers. The veterans, however, will be kept so that two complete infields will be available.

The club needs more outfield punch. The big gun is the veteran Goose Goslin, who laid aside his golf sticks this week for his bats. Killefer expects the Goose to hit at least 50 home runs, even with the new ball in use. The Browns have not yet received the new ball for testing.

Bettencourt Prospect

Fred Schulte probably will hold down centerfield but he will have to battle Earl McNeely. Perhaps the best looking prospect for right field is Larry Bettencourt, former St. Mary's all-American center, who batted .320 and hit 43 homers with Wichita Falls last season. His rivals are Tom Jenkins, who hit .345 with Milwaukee; Ted Gullic, with the Browns last year, and Frank Waddey, former Georgia Tech footballer who hit .344 with Memphis last season. Waddey has been a holdout.

Wally Stewart, slim southpaw who won 20 games and lost 12 with a second division outfit last season, is the ace of the pitchers. The veteran Sam Gray, after a hard luck season, reported with the rookies to begin a come-back. George Blaeholder, a protracted holdout a year ago, is in the fold. The staff has other seasoned performers in Dick Coffman, Warren Collins, Chad Kimsey and "Lena" Stiles.

"Most of the boys are picking us to finish last," smiled Killefer. "You can do the same thing without hurting our feelings. We are making experiments. We have better reserve strength. If the infield shapes up and we get more punch to help Goslin and Kress, the Browns will be on their way up."

INTRAMURAL SPORTS HOLD SPOTLIGHT OF ATTENTION IN NEXT FEW WEEKS AT TECH; BOXING, WRESTLING THIS WEEK

While they will not engage in intercollegiate competition of any kind during the remainder of the long session of school, Tech athletes begin this week a season of intramural sports that will be carried on with more or less daily regularity for the remainder of the year.

The invitation by Del Morgan, assistant coach, for boxers and wrestlers of the college is still open, and all potential fighters of five weight divisions in both boxing and wrestling will report this week for initial instruction and workouts. The program of elimination bouts will begin at an early date, possibly by the end of this week, with the finals or championship fights being postponed until the next men's open house fun night toward the middle of the month.

Cagers to Begin

With the conclusion of the varsity basketball season last Saturday evening in El Paso, Skipper Golightly will engage himself with the cagers of the campus in an extended intramural season. It is not known just how many teams will participate in the campus basketball program, which shall consist on a round robin plan. Three or four games will be played each week with perhaps a dozen teams taking part.

Baseball and track, the regular spring sports, have been abandoned for this season only on an intercollegiate competitive basis, but teams will be organized for campus schedules as in fighting and basketball.

Golfing Activities Are Cut To Naught

With the courses "snowed under" Lubbock's golf activities are temporarily curtailed to less than nothing. The scheduled trophy tournament at the Meadowbrook club Sunday has been indefinitely postponed, but Bill McMillan, owner and manager of the course, says it may be possible for the 18-hole flight to be played by Sunday. He sets no definite date but hopes that the ten gold and silver golf balls will be bestomed on their winners' watch chains ere the week is out.

While no tournament was scheduled at the Country Club for this week, players will delay continuing the 72 holes of preliminaries to the "ladder" tournament until the course is cleared of snow.

Four Fined, Given 90-Day Jail Terms

DALLAS, March 2 (AP)—Four men whose operation of the defunct Greater Metropolitan Marriage Endowment association was found to be an illegal lottery were fined $500 each in federal district court here Saturday and given sentences of 90 days in jail. They were Henry W. Spencer, Roy E. Tittle, Muriel L. Chandler and J. D. Jones.

Edwin F. Littleton, former postmaster at Crips, was found guilty of embezzlement of federal funds and was sentenced to 90 days in jail.

M. R. (Bob) Thomas, convicted of violating national prohibition laws, was fined $5,000 and sentenced to two years in the federal penitentiary.

AROUND THE TRAINING CAMP CIRCUIT

PENSACOLA, Fla., Mar. 2. (AP)—Manager Shano Collins is feeling pretty good about the pitching of three of his Red Sox youngsters.

The score of yesterday's game between the "regulars" and the "Yannigans" was 8 to 2 in favor of the former but that's beside the point. Young Jerry Brilliheart, brother of Jim, the southpaw, didn't allow a hit in the three innings he spent in the box; Bobby Kline, the 230-pounder 20-year-old boy, allowed three his in the fifth but that was the beginning and end, and a right field single was the sum total of the dent made by the Yannigans in Frank Milliken's pitching.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 2. (AP)—Beginning today the Boston Braves' rookie twirlers are going to get a chance to show what they can do. Bill McKechnie, the Bravs' boss, thinks that perhaps too much importance has been attached to the results of these training camp games with big league opponents.

He feels that veteran pitching arms have been jeopardized and development of youngsters lost sight of "partly to make a good impression on the folks up home," McAfee, Le Heny, Delaney, and Forrester are the youngsters slated for a chance to show.

AVALON, Calif., Mar. 2. (AP)—Manager Rogers Hornsby today began to look over the Chicago Cubs with the idea of separating those who can, from those who cannot.

Hornsby's plans for the season call for eleven pitchers, five outfielders, six infielders and three catchers, and a number of candidates are due to play baseball for the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast league, William Wrigley's other club, to which the Cubs owe players. A nine inning game yesterday resulted in a 6 to 4 victory for the regulars over the irregulars. Guy Bush got credit for winning, and Pat Malone was charged with the defeat.

SAN ANTONIO, Mar. 2. (AP)—Every ball player seeking a place on the Chicago White Sox squad was due in camp today, and double drills were on Manager Donie Bush's schedule.

Those who were to report today were Smead Jolley, Thomas Willingham, a recruit infielder-outfielder; Luke Appling, recruit shortstop; Johnny Watwood, veteran outfielder, and Mel Simons, outfielder recently purchased from Louisville.

SACRAMENTO, Calif. Mar. 2 (AP)—Gene Des Autels, young catcher who worked regularly during the latter part of the 1930 season, will be farmed out to Toronto this year by the Detroit baseball club. Des Autels went from Holy Cross college direct to the American league last summer.

PASO ROBLES, Calif. Mar. 2. (AP)—Pirate Regulars and Yannigans will begin their camp series ball games next Saturday, unless something turns up to retard training progress, Manager Jewel Ens said today.

TAMPA, Fla., Mar. 2. (AP)—Stiff workouts scheduled for as long as the Athletes can stand, are on this week's menu for the Cincinnati Reds with practically the entire squad on hand. The batterymen have a week's drill behind them and were prepared to offer the remainder of the squad something in the way of real pitching to sharpen batting eyes dulled by winter layoff. The Reds will meet the Brooklyn Dodgers in an exhibition tilt next Sunday.

NEW ORLEANS, Mar. 2. (AP)—The crack of bats joined the thud of pitched balls as the entire squad of the Cleveland Indians was due on the diamond today with two exceptions. Earl Averill, who signed late, will not report until Wednesday and Eddie Morgan, who maintains he means his retirement, is believed honeymooning in Mexico.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., Mar. 2. (AP)—Jack Onslow, coach of the Phillies, wants to have three pitchers ready to go nine innings about two weeks before the baseball season opens.

"That was Bill McKechnie's policy at Pittsburgh," he said today, "and he got results. Kremer and Meadows were always set when the bell rang and got away to a flying start. The point is to get the pitchers ahead of the hitters, then the going won't be so hard."

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 2 (AP)—Infielders Boley and Williams, and outfielder Bing Miller reported for duty at the Philadelphia Athletics' training came today, and the champions are about ready to get down to routine practice.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 2. (AP)—Florida's golf courses will see little or nothing of Babe Ruth until next year.

Regretfully the Babe has laid aside putter and mashie and prepared to get himself in shape for the coming American league campaign. Spring training for New York Yankees began officially today.

SAN ANTONIO, Mar. 2. (AP)—Unless the holdout list complicates affairs, only one of the New York Giants will be missing from camp after today. Pitcher Hub Pruett has obtained a leave of absence until May 20 in order to complete his studies in medicine in St. Louis.

CLEARWATER, Fla., Mar. 2. (AP)—Wilbert Robinson promulgates no orders regarding golf playing by his Brooklyn Robins but uses a system entirely his own. He arranges a schedule whereby he accounts for almost all of his players' daylight hours.

"If these lads can find any time for golf after I get through with them," he says, "they're welcome to it."

BRADENTON, Fla., Mar. 2. (AP)—Infielders and outfielders, except Frankie Frisch and Chick Hafey, who are holding out, were due to reach the Cardinals training camp here today. All the pitchers now have been accounted for.

CARNERA WILL MEET JIMMY MALONEY

AMBLING ITALIAN ALP TO TRY AGAIN; OTHER BOUTS SCHEDULED

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 2—The palms of Miami again beckon to the fight faithful this week, calling them to witness the winter's second battle of the southland with Primo Carnera of Italy and Jimmy Maloney of Boston as the principals. But for those who must remain in the north there is no lack of fistic entertainment. Battles in Boston, Philadelphia, Detroit, Chicago and Oakland, Calif., share the spotlight with the Miami scrap.

Carnera is scheduled to take his highly publicized cracked rib into the Miami ring Thursday night to face Maloney, who gave him his one American defeat in Boston last summer. With nothing in particular depending upon the outcome, the financial success of the show still is in as much doubt as was that of the year's first battle of the palms last week. The Walker-Risko fight brought few profits.

The week's heavyweight campaign opens in Philadelphia tonight with another oversize Italian, Roberto Roberti, facing big Jack Gross of Salem, N. J., in a ten rounder. Detroit and Chicago continue it Friday. At Detroit, Charlie Retzlaff of Duluth faces the aging hard rock of New Zeland, Tom Heeney. The Chicago show brings together a pair of young mid-western favorites, Tuffy Griffiths of Sioux City, Iowa, and King Levinsky of Chicago. Both are ten-rounders.

At Boston Friday, Tony Canzoneri, the lightweight champion, tackles Sammy Fuller of Boston in a ten round non-title bout. Young Jack Thompson, Los Angeles negro star, meets Babe Anderson of San Jose, Calif., welterweight, in another important ten rounder at Oakland Wednesday.

Southwest Cage Title At Stake Tuesday Night

T. C. U. HORNED FROGS AND S. M. U. MUSTANGS TO CLASH AT FORT WORTH IN DECIDING GAME OF 1931 CONFERENCE SEASON

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, March 2 (AP)—Tuesday night on Texas Christian's cage court, the four leading scorers of the southwest conference, aided by respective team mates, will decide the 1931 Southwest basketball title. When S. M. U. defeated Arkansas Saturday night, 40 to 27, and Baylor gave the dope pail a kick by dropping T. C. U. 36 to 34, it put the championship squarely up to the T. C. U. and S. M. U. game at Fort Worth March 3.

Everything that goes to make a scintillating basketball game can be found in the final conference offering. The championship will be the golden prize, but it will also serve as an opportunity for the T. C. U. Cagers to reap revenge for a defeat they suffered at S. M. U. Feb. 2 when the Mustangs galloped off with a 36 to 33 defeat. Tuesday's game may develop into a big scoring affair. T. C. U. has Adolph Dietzel and "Doc" Sumner as scoring threats. Dietzel leads the conference scoring race with 159 points. Sumner is third with 128 points. Against these two stars, Coach St. Clair of S. M. U. will offer Jake Reynolds, holder of second place with 143 points; and Williams who is fourth with 125 points.

Other Southwest conference schools have ended their schedules. The University of Arkansas and Baylor university finished in a tie for third place.

The standing:

School—	W	L	Pct
Southern Methodist	8	3	.727
Texas Christian	8	3	.727
Arkansas	7	5	.583
Baylor	7	5	.583
Texas A. and M	5	7	.417
Rice Institute	4	8	.333
Texas University	2	10	.167

The smallest distance that has been measured is that between atoms in graphite, the "black lead" used in pencils, measuring about six billionth of an inch.

BOBBY ARRIVES TO START ON MOVIE GOLF

GOLFDOM'S CHAMPION READY TO POSE IN CAMERA SHOTS

BY BRIAN BELL

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., March 2. (AP)—Motion pictures' newest star looked out this morning to say:

"So this is Hollywood."

Robert T. Jones, jr., winner of 13 major golf championships, four of them making up the only grand slam the game has known, was on a new course today, teeing up for an ambitious series of 12 pictures.

Starting at the green with a picture on putting he will stand before the camera until he has made chip shots, niblick shots, mashie niblick, spade, mashie and four iron combined, three and two irons, two iron and spoon compared, brassie, driver, trouble shots, practice and finally, to ring down the curtain, a complete round.

Bob was asked as he prepared to start his work if there would be a comedy relief.

"If there is," he said, "somebody else will have to furnish it. I won't try to do anything I know I know nothing about. I'll stick to golf and hope for the best."

Of 184,668 grade pupils in Oklahoma public schools, 99.4 per cent were promoted last year.

DAILY MARKETS

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, March 2 (AP)—Early irregularity prompted by continued heaviness of the rails gave way to an upturn in the stock market today. Trading was dull.

The rally was led by specialties, Auburn Auto climbing 10 points. Case, United Aircraft, Houston Oil, Electric Auto Lite, Trico Products and Atlas Powder rose 2 to 3. U. S. Steel, Johns Manville, Loew's, Nash, Byers and Worthington Pump advanced 1 to 1 1-2.

New York Central, Illinois Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Southern Railway and Missouri Kansas Texas made slight recovery from losses of 1 to 1 3-4. American Telephone was soft.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 2. (AP)—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 7 to 12 points in response to relatively firm Liverpool cables, more encouraging reports as to the prospects of an early political settlement in India and favorable reports from the cotton cloth markets.

There may also have been a little buying on reports of further rains over night in the south Texas section where wet weather is causing some delay in farm work but the demand was quite readily supplied around 11.48 for May and 11.96 for October. Prices later reacted a few points under realizing with the market at the end of the first half hour showing net advances of 4 to 6 points.

Trading was quiet later in the morning, but after the early reaction to 11.39 for May and 11.90 for October, prices held steady on a light demand with very little selling pressure in evidence. At midday the market was quiet and 2 or 3 points up from the lowest at net advances of 5 to 6 points on the active months.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, March 2. (AP)—Cotton experienced an active and firm opening. Liverpool cables were much better than expected and advices from India pointed to an early settlement of troubles there. First trades here showed gains of 8 to 10 points and the market continued firm after the start in sympathy with a higher opening of the stock market. May traded up to 11.46 and October to 11.97, or 10 points advance over Saturday's close on all active months. Towards the end of the first hour the market eased off 5 to 7 points on Profit-taking.

The market became very quiet following the early spurt. Fluctuations were narrow all morning ranging 1 and 2 points. Near noon May traded at 11.39, and October at 11.90, or 6 to 7 points down from the early highs. But around noon, there was a slight tendency to improve owing to the steady stock market.

NEW ORLEANS, March 2 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady: May 11.44; July 11.70; Oct. 11.95; Dec. 12.17-asked; Jan. 12.14-bid.

NEW YORK OPEN

NEW YORK, March 2 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady; March 11.21; May 11.48; July 11.70; Oct. 11.95; Dec. 12.13; Jan. 12.20.

RED CROSS WORK

Took Over Other Work

"In many towns we had to take over work that other organizations were unable to handle. Now we are beginning to be relieved of that work."

One important factor in causing Mr. Van Hoorebeke to arrive at the decision that the peak has been reached, is the fact that drouth relief checks are beginning to arrive in the territory.

"When a man begins to get his drouth relief, his credit becomes much better," the Red Cross man said. "With farmers having credit, they can make progress in their own community and our work will be lessened."

Mr. Van Hoorebeke said he had not heard from the two army officers who were here recently to look over the territory. They were to report to Colonel P. J. Hurley, secretary of war, and it is doubtful if their synopsis of conditions will be made known.

Using six seed harvesters and two combines farmers of Jackson county, Ala., will save 5,000 bushels of soy bean seed and 2,000 bushels of lespedeza seed during the year.

Cattlemen Flocking To Amarillo Events

AMARILLO, March 2. (AP)—Every train into Amarillo today brought throngs of visitors from the Panhandle and more distant points to attend the annual convention of the annual Livestock Producers association and the Amarillo Fat Stock show, meeting jointly for the first time.

Few persons braved the highways that have been blocked by snow and ice since Saturday night.

Attendance Cut In Bankers' Session

FLOYDADA, March 2.—Attendance at the spring meeting of the Caprock Bankers association, scheduled for Floydada today, was cut down considerably on account of the snow and rain of Saturday night and Sunday.

The association includes four counties, Floyd, Dickens, Crosby and Motley and an attendance of over 100 had been expected.

Sessions were being held in the social rooms of the First M. E. church. A luncheon is to be held at 1 o'clock, with a program of talks and informal discussions following.

GIVEN SLEEPING QUARTERS

Five out of town men were given sleeping quarters at the city hall Sunday night, John W. Lemond, chief of police, said today.

The number of men asking for a place to sleep was smaller than officers had expected, Mr. Lemond added. "Guess it must have been too cold for them to get in town," he said.

LANDS PLANE SUNDAY

J. D. Flannery, of Oklahoma City, a pilot who has been making his headquarters in Lubbock recently, brought his plane in Sunday from Brownfield, where he had landed Saturday afternoon. He had no trouble landing in the snow. Mr. Flannery has a Ranger cabin type plane.

BUILDING IS SLOW

Five building permits for a total of $7,700, were issued by the city building inspector for the month of February, it was announced today.

Permits for the year number 19 and amount to $31,202. January had 14 permits for $23,223.

DROUTH RELIEF SESSIONS SET

O. S. FISHER TO MEET WITH FARMERS OVER TEXAS AREAS

FORT WORTH, March 2 (AP)—O. S. Fisher, extension agronomist of the United States Department of Agriculture, who opened offices here Friday for government drouth relief activities in Texas, will leave today for a series of six conferences with county committeement of drouth stricken areas of the state.

The conferences will be held in centrally located cities of the drouth area so the whole territory may be covered in the one week. From four to a dozen counties will be represented in eash meeting.

Extension Worker Aids

Fisher will be accompenied by John Edmond of the extension service, A. and M. College of Texas, who will conduct details of the conferences.

Edmond has been in the government office at St. Louis for several days, studying methods of approving applications and disbursing loans and will join Fisher this morning at Mount Pleasant at 10 o'clock. Other meetings will be held at 10 a. m. Tuesday at Eastland; 10 a. m. Wednesday at Sweetwater; 10 a. m. Thursday at Crosbyton; 10 a. m. Friday at Paducah; 10 a. m. Saturday at Seymour.

Formerly in St. Louis

The committee of each certified drouth county received applications for loans direct from the farmer and with a report of their own, turn the applications over to the headquarters office. Heretofore they have gone to St. Louis. Now they will be sent to Fort Worth.

Most of the county committees include three prominent men of the county, a banker, a merchant and a farmer.

More than 25,000 farmers of Texas probably will be aided through loans from the government's $45,000,000 drouth relief fund, Fisher estimated today. Because of the adequacy of the federal appropriation for loans to drouth stricken farmers, no limit has been set to the quotas of any state. In other words, Texas farmers will have access to loans, limited only by the justice of their claims to aid.

LOT CLEANING

and residential areas will be cleaned.

Only men receiving work orders from the employment office at United Charities headquarters will be permitted by district foremen to work on the lots. Members of the committee this morning stated that men having families or young men who had dependents who had lived here six months or more were to receive preference today. No outsiders will be given jobs.

To Furnish Own Tools

Workmen will be expected to furnish their own rakes and hoes. Trash and debris which cannot be burned on the lots will be hauled to the city dump grounds in trucks.

The employment committee estimated that there were approximately 3,600 vacant lots in need of cleaning here.

District foremen who met Sunday with General Foreman Clark, minimum number of men to be used in each district, and point at which work will start, respectively, follow:

FROST IS PREDICTED FOR TEXAS TONIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

Frost was forecast as far south as San Antonio tonight, possibly as far as the coast.

Automobile travel still was impeded in the Panhandle. Scores of motorists marooned yesterday had boarded trains to reach their destinations. Cold weather at Corsicana postponed opening of the Dallas Steers' training camp, but at Palestine a field meet for bird dogs began despite a rainy norther.

Girl Is Rescued

A ten-inch snow was melting at Borger, where a three-year-old girl was rescued yesterday when the snow broke down the roof of an apartment house. The snow was expected to benefit the North Plains wheat crop. Bus traffic to the north and east still was impossible. Pampa had six to ten inches of snow, also thawing. Amarillo reported a sunny day and rising temperatures, with a minimum of 20 last night.

Abilene had only flurries of snow but a brisk norther. Minimum temperature was 30, with little damage done to budding fruit trees. There was no snow at San Angelo but Brady, Sterling City, and Rowena reported varying amounts.

There were flurries of snow in Dallas last night. Bryan had its first fall of the winter. Gainesville also had a light snow along with 1.08 inches of rain.

Galveston, Houston, Port Arthur, and Austin escaped the snow. It was still cloudy at Port Arthur and Galveston.

Brownsville had almost an inch of rain, but the lowest temperature was 42 degrees.

No reorts of the activities at Littlefield, Brownfield and towns northwest and north have been received here.

E. T. Brown, living about six miles south of Lubbock, said he expected to plant a block of about 50 acres of certified cotton seed.

D. P. Eaton, county agent, is handling a number of orders for certified seed, Mr. Eaton expects a large number of farmers to plant small blocks of certified seed, of from six to ten acres.

At the time the treasury gets in this money, returns on the quarterly income tax payments will be pouring in. A considerable drop is expected from March 15 of last year. Then $628,000,000 was paid on incomes; this year the experts are counting on about $500,000,000.

Temporarily this is expected to wipe out the present $326,000,000 deficit, but Secretary Mellon expects the red side of the national ledger will show a $500,000,000 total by the end of June.

The March refunding operation is the first of a series confronting the government at intervals all through the next two years.

Local Men To Attend Two Hereford Sales

NEW MARK SET ON OIL SALE

EAST TEXAS HOLDINGS SELL FOR THREE AND ONE HALF MILLIONS

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Mar. 2.—The Dallas Morning News says the interests of John Farrell, W. A. Moncrief and associates of Fort Worth in the Farrell-Moncrief-Arkansas Fuel Oil company properties in Gregg county have been sold to the Yount-Lee oil company of Beaumont for $3,500,000.

The $3,500,000 was reported as divided in to a $1,500,000 cash payment and $2,000,00 payable out of oil proceeds.

Sets New Record

Setting a record for oil deals in the new East Texas field, the reported sale involved a large amount of acreage and also the largest producer at present in the east Texas field.

The holdingss of Farrell and Moncrief and their associates were more extensive than those of Edward W. Bateman, also of Fort Worth, who recently sold his properties in the Kilgore area at a reported price of $2,100,000.

Involves Half

Of the leases involved in the sale, Farrell was reported to own half interest in 2,408 acres of checkerboard leases and quarter interest in the Farrell well, discovery well on the Gregg county field, and in the 96 acres surrounding the well. The other half of the 2,408 acres was owned by Moncrief, E. A. Showers, W. S. Noble and R. S. Baker, who also own one quarter interest in the well and 96 acres.

The remaining interest in the well and 96 acres is owned by the Arkansas Fuel Oil company, which owns about 2,400 acres additional.

Arkansas company officials it was reported here did not avail themselves of an option on the Farrell and Moncrief interests when the Yount-Lee offer reached $3,500,000.

The Yount-Lee company, of which M. P. Yount is president has offices in Beaumont. The company previously has confined its activities to the Gulf coast and South Texas fields.

BUSINESS REPORTS

dustry during January, the review said:

"Department store sales reflected the usual seasonal recession from the previous month and the decline from a year ago was approximately the same as in December. Wholesale distribution was larger than in December but the gain was less than the usual seasonal expansion and the comparison with a year ago was slightly more unfavorable than in the previous month. Merchants continue to restrict purchases to actual reuirements and collections have shown little or no improvement."

SIGNS OPTIMISTIC, BARNES DECLARES

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP) — The business horizon, finds Julius H. Barnes, is clearing. Things are getting better, signs are optimistic.

Such is the report of the chairman of President Hoover's national business survey conference for the midwestern season. Not only in the United States but abroad as well were the clouds of depression seen pushed back by the light of confidence and energy.

Some of the bright spots reported:

"Recurring demonstration that industry generaly has attained an adjustment of stocks, production and marketing in which even a moderate expansion in demand will have immediate results.

"Evidence that reduced city spending reflects into lower farm prices for products in which there is no apparent depressing surplus, such as most dairy products.

Savings Still Mounting

"Clear indication that the volume of savings in their various forms has been large and is still mounting.

"The long term capital market over the past two and one half months has reflected an improved condition."

Abroad, he said, 'repeated evidences of improved conditions are recorded."

The reports from American business were, added Barnes, all accompanied "almost uniformly by expressions of confidence and energy which are aparently themselves the fruits of improved conditions."

Collections Fair

Collections in wholesale centers for the past several weeks were classed as only fair, and insurance sales were lower than in January of 1930. Building construction was a little less than $20,000,000 off from a year ago, with corresponding reduction in building material movements.

The bottom was reported for tructural steel tonnage in January with a decided improvement following well through February. Concrete paving jumped so that contracts were greater than in any recent year.

them if we show them we are not ready to bathe with them?"

Admitting that his client was guilty of a "grievous crime," Richard B. Moore, communist candidate for attorney general in the last election, pleaded that Yokinen should not be "destroyed," declaring that "expulsion is worse than death at the hands of the bourgeoiste."

"I would rather have my head severed by the lynchers than be expelled from the communist international," Moore cried while the audience stamped and cheered.

When the proceedings had been interpreted for him, the defendant submitted a full confession.

"I refute and condemn my former attitude and I want to prove it," he read in Finnish, "I appeal to you not to deprive me of an opportunity to work for the full equality of the negro and the solidarity of negro and white workers."

Nevertheless, the jury returned a unanimous guilty verdict but offered to readmit him to the party in a year if he waged a crusade against "White Chauvinism" and cherished the negro on every occasion offered him.

"I will do it. I did wrong the club," said Yokinen with a repentant nod of his head.

OIL RELIEF

and Dr. E. H. Wells, representing Governor Arthur Seligman of New Mexico.

Copies of the message to President Hoover were forwarded to heads of the Shell, Indiana, Jersey, Gulf, Sinclair and Cities Service companies.

It was agreed at a final executive session, after an open meeting was held, that governors of the states represented in the conference appoint a representative each on a committee to be styled the oil states advisory committee, and that other oil producing states be invited to take similar action to join in a conservation program.

Action Urged

A resolution adopted proposed that the advisory committee immediately take action in recommending necessary legislation for all oil producing states as nearly uniform as practicable.

Governor Sterling appointed R. R. Penn, Dallas, chairman of the Texas Central Oil proration committee, to represent his state; and Governor Murray appointed his cousin, Cicero Murray, as Oklahoma's member on the committee. The governors of New Mexico and Kansas were to act later.

The third avenue for relief proposed at the conference was Governor Murray's own plan, presented at the outset, which suggested that Texas, Oklahoma and one other state enter into a pact under which each state separately would enact a law prohibiting any oil company operating in the state from importing foreign oil, the penalty for violation of such a law being forfeiture of its state charter and receivership.

Immigration Up

The house undertook again today to pass a bill to clamp a 90 per cent cut on immigration. If passed senate friends will do their utmost to get it through that branch. Senator Hebert, Republican, Rhode Island sought again today to get through the Vestal copyright bill, but faced such opposition that its chances were as slim as those of the foreign oil restriction measure which Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, wanted to force through.

To all intents and purposes the work of the session is done and the members are up against any legislation which cannot pass with virtually unanimous consent. Little business of any consequence is therefore.

REVIEW OF FOREIGN NEWS OF WEEK

(By The Associated Press)

BY CHESTER L. SHAW
Associated Press Cable Editor

Down in Peru the rebels who put a rebel in power have forced him out of office.

There was excitement in Lima last August when Lieutenant Colonel Luis M. Sanchez Cerro flew from Arequipa, where he headed a revolt against the regime of President Augusto B. Leguia, to become provisional president of Peru.

Troops Back Him

Sanchez Cerro long had opposed the Leguia faction and at one time was expelled for his stand. But his troops at Arequipa, third city of the country, backed him staunchly and Leguia went out after another faction had risen up in Lima.

Pretty girls showered flowers upon the young chieftain as a motor truck carried triumphantly through the streets of the capital, acclaiming him as successor to the man he labelled "the tryant Leguia."

Sanchez Cerro pledged free elections for the picking of a constitutional president as soon as the country regained normality, but normality was slow in coming. Economic distress worried the republic; there were labor disorders in widely separated regions, and everywhere was felt an undercurrent of tension.

Lid Blows Off

So the lid blew off ten days ago. A small force rebelled at Callao, which is only seven miles from Lima and is the capital's port, but this was, quickly suppressed and thirty nine leaders were arrested for court martial after about sixty persons had been killed.

A few hours later another revolt flared, this time in the city where Sanchez Cerro jumped from a minor army command to the presidency of his country. Arequipa troops took over their department and their leaders set up a "Southern junta" as a bid for the national government, asserting that their previous rebellion had merely exchanged one dictator for another.

Withdraws Candidacy

Sanchez Cerro withdrew his candidacy for the presidency, hoping thereby to remove one objection, but the Arequipa uprising was joined by another in the far north.

The government determined to fight and shipped troops in both directions by steamer, but an ultimatum by the commander-in-chief of the navy yesterday morning forced the president to resign.

New Junta Chosen

Sanchez Cerro called a meeting of representative officials and public leaders and gave up his office. A junta of three men was immediately chosen, and negotiations began with the northern and southern rebels to bring peace to the republic.

Cuba has been unsettled even longer than Peru, and series of minor disorders through the summer culminated last week in two events which endangered President Gerardo Machado.

The first was when a soldier doing sentry duty atop the presidential palace dropped a crude bomb down a vent pipe, expecting it to lodge in the president's bathroom and explode when he arose in the morning.

The explosive miscarried and went instead into a bathroom one flcor above, in the appartment occupied by the president's son-in-law. Only minor damage resulted frcm the blast. Police arrested the soldier, also Commander Manuel Espinosa, aide-de-camp to the president, and five members of the presidential bodyguard.

A few days later, while Machado was dedicating a new $18,000,000 capitol in connection with the celebration of the 36th anniversary of Cuba's war for independence, a youth in the crowd moved as if to draw a weapon. He was seized by police, and nothing resulted except excitement, which delayed the speech at bit.

The Fiji Islands were struck by a violent hurricane which killed at least 250 persons.
