AMARILLOAN IS HURT IN GUN FIGHT

Senate Approves Tariff Bill to Close Its Long-Standing Controversy

"That's gold in these here prairies."

Pampa fact: Carbon black plants of Gray county have an annual payroll aggregating $680,000.

The Colemanite in the Coleman Democrat-Voice breaks into this column today. Pampa Baptists, the reader will remember, recently called to the local pastorate Rev. C. E. Lancaster of Coleman. This led the Colemanite to remark:

"This column likes everything and everybody except Pampa Baptists and carrots. We did like the Baptists at Pampa and have frequently marveled at the wonderful growth the town they inhabit has made during the past ten years. The town has payrolls galore, is surrounded by fecund farms producing grain, cotton, and other commodities, and millions of dollars worth of oil gushes from the bosom of mother earth and further enriches the channels of trade."

"But to find a good Baptist pastor, Baptists at Pampa had to come to a village like Coleman. They have called Rev. C. E. Lancaster, and 'Lank' has accepted the call. Rev. and Mrs. Lancaster came to Coleman in April of 1925 from Chillicothe, and since that time they have been a part of Coleman. He has been a progressive citizen, as well as a beloved pastor. He has been a prime mover in the Kiwanis club since its organization, and it was his club which conferred upon the honorary degree of 'Lank'."

"With additional resources at Pampa he might build an additional heaven. Pampa people will at least know he has come to town and at the end of the first year of his pastorate the church of the north plains city is going to consider him a greater asset than the 1,000 per cent gain in population."

Welcoming new citizens is not new to Pampa, a city that has added to its nucleus of progressive citizens more than 10,000 others. Rev. Lancaster knows the old Pampa, and he will like the new as well.

And here's a check for $5 from J. W. (Bill) Graham for the milk fund. That will go a long way, thanks. Milk is a very important item in caring for destitute children and sick folk of Pampa.

Some citizens are due those citizens who do not take out building permits promptly and accurately. The building permit total is the standard by which new construction in Texas is measured. If a $10,000 residence is started and no permit is taken out, this sum cannot be reported and the city is not getting credit for its growth. If that same residence is reported in the permit as costing $5,000, the city's credit for it is only 50 per cent of true value. Carried through a million dollar building program, this practice would result in serious under-statement of Pampa development.

The impression prevails that the building permit has a direct relation to the tax assessment upon the property. The Pampa has investigated this claim in Pampa and in neighboring cities and found it to be untrue. The boards of equalization try to learn the actual cost of new buildings, and they also take into consideration the value and assessments of neighboring property. They do not use the building permit record in any form. They do justice to Pampa by making a truthful statement of estimates of costs when taking out building permits.

TINKLES

Lots of folk who do not believe in a hell hereafter seem to think they are in a hell on earth. At least suicides are extremely fashionable.

No, we are not advocating the division of Texas—Amarillo might succeed in getting to be the capital of the Panhandle.

MARGIN OF 2 VOTES GIVEN BIG MEASURE

Five Democrats For It; 11 Republicans Against

CONNALLY IN FINAL ATTACK

Walsh Sees Rise in Prosperity on Passage

WASHINGTON, June 13. (AP)—The Senate approved the tariff bill today by a margin of the expected two votes, 44 to 42.

The roll call follows:

For: Republicans—Allen, Baird, Bingham, Capper, Couzens, Dale, Deussen, Fess, Gillett, Glenn, Goldsborough, Greene, Grundy, Hale, Hastings, Hatfield, Herbert, Johnson, Jones, Kean, Keyes, McCullough, McNary, Metcalf, Oddie, Patterson, Phillips, Reed, Robinson of Indiana, Robinson of Kentucky, Shortridge, Smoot, Stewer, Sullivan, Thomas of Idaho, Townsend, Vandenberg, Walcott, and Waterman—39.

Democrats: Broussard, Ransdell, Fletcher, Trammell and Kendrick—5. Total 44.

Against: Republicans—Blaine, Borah, Brookhart, Frazier, Howell, LaFollette, McMaster, Norbeck, Norris, Pine and Schall—11.

Democrats—Ashurst, Barkley, Black, Bratton, Brock, Caraway, Connally, Copeland, Dill, George, Glass, Harris, Harrison, Hawes, Hayden, Helgin, McKellar, Overman, Pittman, Thomas of Arkansas, Sheppard, Simmons, Stephens, Swanson, Thomas of Oklahoma, Tydings, Wagner, Walsh of Mass., Walsh of Montana, and Wheeler—30.

Farmer Labor—Shipstead—1.

Of those voting, the following pairs were announced:

For: Republicans—Cutting, Goff, Gould, Moses and Watson.

Against: Republicans—Nye, Democrats—Steck, Blaise, King, and Smith. This accounted for the 96 senators.

Opening the last three hours of debate before the final vote at 2 p. m., Senator Connally, Democrat, Texas, said the farmer was not helped by the legislation and he could hope for little relief except through the export debenture plan, which was stricken from the bill by the conferees.

"The American farmer," he said, "is the most popular individual at election time, but after that he loses his popularity except for orations in his behalf."

Connally said the bill "increases the cost to the people at home and increases the number of their enemies abroad."

Winding up the contest for the Republican proponents, Senator Watson, the majority leader, said:

"If the bill is passed this nation will be on the verge financially, economically, and commercially within thirty days, and within a year we shall have regained the peak of prosperity and the position we lost last October."

Youth Dies of Typhoid Fever

George Franklin Hamby, 19, died yesterday afternoon at a local hospital at 5:15 o'clock of typhoid fever. His mother lives at Green Forest, Ark., and he has 11 sisters and brothers living in Arkansas, Texas and Oklahoma. A brother, L. F. Hamby, lives here. His mother is Mrs. F. M. Collins.

Funeral arrangements have not been announced. The body is at the G. C. Malone funeral home.

Hamby was the first 1930 victim of typhoid fever here.

FLAGS WILL BE DISPLAYED HERE

Citizens and merchants are asked by the American Legion to display their flags on Saturday, which is national flag day.

On account of being busy with other activities, the Legion will not have ceremonies on Saturday.

The post is sponsoring the humorous address to be made this evening by Prof. Josh Lee of the University of Oklahoma. Mr. Lee will speak at the district courtroom in the new Gray county courthouse at 8 p. m. The public is urged to attend.

The Kerley-Crossman post also is planning its trip to the district convention at Slaton Sunday. The uniformed Legion band will make the trip, with its expenses to be paid out of the proceeds of the Josh Lee address of this evening.

Power Line Is Moved Back to Permit Paving

Removal of the Southwestern Public Service company power line between Pampa and Kingsmill 40 feet south of its former location was completed Wednesday night.

The company has been rushing removal of the line and two crews have been working one in the night and the other during the day. The day crew built a mile of "dead" line a day and at night the connections with the live line were made. The poles on the old line were also removed during the night. At 11 o'clock each night the "load" was shifted from the line to the Pampa plant. It was found that it was impossible to remove the wires while they were carrying electricity.

The company plans to install a new line between Kingsmill and Amarillo in the near future. New poles, insulators and cross-arms were installed during the removal of the 8-mile line between Pampa and Kingsmill. The county commissioners agreed to pay the labor costs of removing the line when it was found that additional right-of-way was needed. To facilitate paving of the highway, the company agreed to set the line south of the required distance when assessments from property owners were secured. No definite time was set for completion of the removal.

Tomorrow Last Day to File in County Races

Necessity for a possible run-off in the race for district attorney, unless another candidate is certified, was eliminated today when District Attorney C. G. Englewood requested County Democratic Chairman Siler Faulkner to leave his name off the ballot.

It was understood that Mr. Englewood, who was appointed to the office by Governor Moody two months ago, yesterday mailed similar letters to each of the county's chairmen in the district. In talking with a local attorney yesterday, Mr. Englewood said that he was withdrawing from the race in order to continue the practice of civil law. He will continue to reside in Shamrock, it was learned.

The remaining candidates for the office are Raymond Allred and Curtis Douglas, both of Pampa.

Mr. Faulkner said that 12 o'clock tomorrow night is the deadline for filing candidates for county offices. Prospective candidates who expect to announce tomorrow should file their applications in person as the election laws do not provide for mailing except in the case of United States senators.

Mr. Faulkner said that a complete list of all the candidates who filed applications in statutory time will be released the first of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Gantz and little son, Billie, and Miss Luevella Jones will leave Sunday for a two-week vacation at Medicine Park, Okla., and in the Missouri Ozarks.

AUTO WRECK FATAL TO 4 NEAR TULSA

Car Swerves, Leaving Road and Hitting Pole

MAN ESCAPES, WOMAN HURT

Survivor Says Booze Was Drunk by Party

TULSA, Okla., June 13. (AP)—Four Tulsans were killed and one injured dangerously in an automobile wreck east of the city today. A light sedan in which they were riding crashed into a telephone pole and was demolished. The dead:

Henry J. Brousseau, 40, bookkeeper for an oil company.

Miss Marjorie Denton, 29.

Carl Pratt, 28, tool designer.

Mrs. Carl Pratt, 26.

The injured was Miss Helen Boyd, 27. She may not recover, hospital attendants said. A sixth occupant of the car, E. C. Hinkfent, 33, escaped injury.

The car, which belonged to Pratt and was driven by him, swerved from the highway, struck the pole and turned over several times before coming to a stop 200 feet distant, shaking out its occupants as it rolled.

Hinkfent, who is shop superintendent for the Braden Steel corporation, was unable to explain how he escaped injury.

Mr. and Mrs. Pratt returned a month ago from Denver, Colo., where they had been visiting. Pratt was graduated from Central high school here in 1921.

Brousseau leaves his widow, three sons and one daughter. Miss Denton had lived here nearly a year. She formerly was the wife of James Prather of Grove, Okla.

Miss Boyd was employed in a West Tulsa drug store. Her parents were believed to live somewhere in Arkansas. Efforts were being made to reach them.

Hinkfent told investigators that Brousseau called him early in the evening, saying he had arranged a party at the Pratt home. Hinkfent said he went to the address and found the other five already there. They drank whiskey, he said, and then drove after beer at a place east of Tulsa. It was on the return trip that the accident occurred, Hinkfent said.

Elks Ball Will Be Held July 15

What was described as a "purple bubble ball" will be held at the Elks hall, July 15, according to an announcement made by the Elks lodge today.

Tickets went on sale today. All members of the Elks lodge and their friends are asked to visit the headquarters next to the J. C. Penney company in the Rose building to learn how prizes may be won. A popularity contest will be held in connection with the dance. Rules of the contest also can be obtained at the Rose building, where prizes are displayed.

Injunction Is Denied Local Cafe, Which Sought to Restrain Culinary Alliance From Displaying Signs Nearby—Brady Holds No Damage Is Shown

Holding that evidence failed to show that the Empire cafe had suffered damages or had been threatened, Judge Clifford Brady of the 114th district court this morning denied Jim Wing, American born Chinese and owner of the cafe, a temporary injunction to prevent members of the local Culinary alliance from parading in front of his cafe displaying placards on which were written names of cafes in town employing members of the alliance. In announcing his judgment,

For Governor

Newest candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor in Oklahoma is Frank Buttram, Jr., of Oklahoma City, who worked his way through college by washing dishes and became an oil millionaire by the time he was 30. It is his first entry into politics.

ACTION ON ROAD PETITION AGAIN IS NOT TAKEN

Due to the absence of W. M. Lewright, attorney for the citizens who petitioned the county commissioners to call a $3,500,000 road bond election, action on the request was postponed until next week. An order for the election was scheduled to be submitted by Mr. Lewright. The court desired to question the attorney on other matters connected with the petition.

M. D. Bentley, insurance man of McLean, denied that the citizens of McLean would vote against the county-wide bond issue. "We are sorry that the citizens of McLean have been placed in a bad light. It has been told here that they are preaching one thing and practicing another as regards this road bond issue," he stated. "Unfortunately the McLean newspaper undertook to report the sentiment of the McLean people toward this bond without knowing anyone's sentiment except its own. Forty-seven of the 50 who signed the petition for the election will vote for the bond to my certain knowledge. I believe that most of the tax payers in that precinct will vote for the county-wide issue."

Another McLean citizen, who asked that his name not be mentioned, declared that almost every McLean citizen who signed the petition for the election would vote against the bond issue. He said that the McLean editor truthfully reported the views of the citizens in his newspaper. Commissioner Tom Kirby said that the county-wide bond issue was largely opposed at McLean.

KILLED BY TRAIN

TEXARKANA, June 13. (AP)—Leon Petty, 18, was fatally injured last night when he slipped and fell beneath the wheels of a Cotton Belt train. He was attempting to board a Naples, Texas, near here. He died later in a hospital here. Petty had been to Naples to visit his parents and was returning to Bassett.

SEGRAVE DIES AS HIS BOAT IS WRECKED

English Speed King Killed in Trial Dash

HIS MECHANIC IS NOT FOUND

British Racer Held Automobile Record

WINDERMERE, Eng., June 13. (AP)—Major Sir Henry O. Segrave, internationally known speed king, died shortly after 5 o'clock this evening from injuries he suffered when his speed boat overturned on Lake Windermere.

The famous racer, who held the world automobile record of 231 miles an hour, lost his life while testing out his newest speed boat, Miss England II, with which he hoped to capture the International trophy at Detroit this summer.

While pounding along on the lake at a speed of about 100 miles an hour, the boat suddenly was seen to turn over and plunge into the water. Segrave was dragged from the wreck by the owners of speed launches which shot to his assistance. He was taken to a nearby hotel and was found to have suffered a broken eye, a broken rib, and a fractured thigh.

There were two companions in the boat with him. Mechanic E. Halliwell was believed to have been caught under the boat which sank within half an hour. Effort to find the body were begun immediately. The third member of the crew, M. J. Willocks was badly injured and was taken to a hospital.

Sir Henry, who actually had achieved his record-breaking objective with nearly 100 miles an hour before the disaster came, was taken from the water suffering from shock and the violent impact he suffered when he was thrown from the speeding craft. He was found to be dead.

The police strategists kept hidden whatever plans they had laid to apprehend the killed of Alfred "Jack" Lingie, Tribune reporter, and pursued their systematic sifting of the city's files.

In the four days since Lingie was shot down in a downtown pedestrian subway, the detectives have added no new clue to the short barreled revolver and the silk glove dropped by the slayer in flight. Bpt they have corralled 1,223 vagrants and gangsters; run 377 of them through the gauntlet of show-ups and inspection at the identification bureau; and found 119 bearing criminal records.

Oscar Wise, Paywood, N. M., has been employed by Carl G. Brashears trucking contractor.

Thompson Under Much Criticism

CHICAGO, June 13. (AP)—His administration harassed by demands of public, press and pulp for an end of ruthless slaughter, Mayor William Hale Thompson maintained official silence today while reports gained circulation that a secret cabinet meeting had been called.

The police strategists kept hidden whatever plans they had laid to apprehend the killed of Alfred "Jack" Lingie, Tribune reporter, and pursued their systematic sifting of the city's files.

In the hearing held a week ago by Judge Brady will continue in effect pending appeal. Judge Newton P. Willis represented the alliance.

RAILROAD MAN IS SHOT THREE TIMES

J. R. Nicholas Is Near Death After Battle

AMARILLO, June 13. (Special).—J. R. Nicholas, railroad employe, was shot three times on a downtown street today. Nicholas had only a fighting chance for recovery.

A taxi driver, who was not hit in the exchange was held by police. Witnesses said each man fired three times.

"I shot him because I thought he was trying to kill me," the taxi driver, named Hyde, said in a signed statement to District Attorney Edward W. Thomson. The statement brought out the fact that Hyde had been friendly with Nicholas intermittently for more than two years.

Nicholas was in a critical condition at a local hospital at noon, with his fate apparently to be shown by X-Ray pictures that had just been made.

Nicholas fired the first shot, Hyde claimed, and then the former's gun stuck. Then Hyde opened fire. The two men dodged back and forth between parked automobiles in front of the hotel.

When the fight ended, Nicholas was found lying on the ground. He was wounded in the arm, leg, and abdomen, and was still holding a sack of groceries which he was carrying when the battle started.

Rev. Truhitte to Preach Sunday to Central Group

The Rev. D. H. Truhitte, former pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, and now minister to the First Baptist congregation at Weslaco, will preach at the Central Baptist church next Sunday, at both morning and evening services, according to an announcement from the committee of the local church.

The Rev. Truhitte, Mrs. Truhitte and their small daughter, Mary Anne, are en route here today to spend a few days of their vacation with friends in the city.

A church dinner to which all members of the Central Baptist congregation and all friends of the Rev. Truhitte and his family are invited is to be held Sunday, following the morning service, in order that the visitors may meet as many of their friends as possible.

New Justice Office Created

A new justice of the peace office for Precinct No. 2 (Pampa) was created this morning by the county commissioners. The offices were designated as place No. 1 and place No. 2. Each justice will have jurisdiction throughout the precinct, and each will maintain an office in the courthouse.

The offices were created in order to comply with the Texas law regarding justices of the peace. In asking for a motion to create the offices, Judge Ivy Duncan stated the statutes require that when the population of a precinct exceeds 8,000 it must have two justices of the peace.

Candidates for the offices must now inform the county Democratic chairman whether they are candidates for place No. 1 or place No. 2, otherwise only one justice of the peace will be elected.

Booze on Shrine Train

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., June 13. (AP)—Railroad trains on which Shriners traveled from the convention held this week in Toronto, Ont., yielded between $4,000 and $5,000 worth of choice wines, liquors, and cognacs, when they were searched at the border by United States customs inspectors. T. M. Hennessey, deputy customs collector at the Falls port, said today.

SMALL NOT MAKING MANY BIG PROMISES

Candidate Warns of Use of Hatred by Rivals

PRISON MOVING NOT FAVORED

Certain Interests in Hope of Getting Lands

GREENVILLE, June 13. (Special).—Texas needs as governor a man who will use his mind and not his spleen, Senator Clint C. Small, gubernatorial candidate, told an audience in the district courthouse here. He made one of the most forceful addresses of his campaign, following to this black land city former Governor J. E. Ferguson who spoke to a group here Tuesday.

The senator is on a speaking tour of North and East Texas and has been met with enthusiastic crowds in this and other portions of the state he has visited. His itinerary during the remainder of the week will take him to Commerce, Sulphur Springs, Cooper, Paris, and Rockwall. Saturday afternoon he will return to Dallas.

In his address the candidate said that he did not have possession of the magic wand to accomplish the fantastic things some of the other gubernatorial candidates have been offering in return for votes. He told his audience that he would continue to stay strictly with his campaign pledge that he would not make promises he knew no governor could fulfill.

"Designing politicians," he said, "have done enough to our state in their perennial turmoil over political spoils. Waving the flag of political hatred and whipping waves of prejudice should be stopped in the interest of an honest, progressive government at Austin."

Fanning the flames of campaign hostilities is an old trick to create an emotional vote, but it is dangerous to stable government."

He again discussed removal of the prison system, of the state and pointed out why he was against such a program. He charged that certain interests wanted the present prison site sold because an oil field is being developed close to the location at this time.

"These people have a reason for wanting to get hold of the prison lands," he said. "Removal of the penal institutions to another section of the state would cost millions of dollars and in the end would result in little betterment of conditions. The prison system needs rehabilitation in the worst way, but rebuilding and not removal is the most economical solution to the problem."

He advocated a program of labor for convicts who might be made to produce the agricultural products and manufacture supplies and equipment essential to the operation of the penal and other state institutions.

Awards For Dancers

Four prizes will be given to the best dancers at a ball to be given tonight at the Elks hall. Because the dance is being held on the evening of Friday, June 13, it is being advertised as a "lucky-day" dance. The dance will last from 10 until 1 o'clock.

WEATHER

ARKANSAS, OKLAHOMA and WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday, probably becoming unsettled.

AND A SMILE

RUMSON, N. J. (AP)—Goals like poison ivy, as well as tin cans; in fact they thrive on it. Efforts to rid the estate of Lorillard Puffenbarger of ivy caused gardeners to have swollen hands and faces. The ability and the delight of the guests was discovered by accident. The ivy was increased from six to 25, and the ivy disappeared.

CHICAGO CLEANS UP OFTEN, ALSO SLIGHTLY

Chicago clean-ups are as regular as the bill collectors, and the nation wonders just how thorough and how lasting will be the present one inspired by the murder of a Chicago Tribune reporter.

Chicago clean-ups are notoriously meaningless. Gangsters, known to everyone and their deeds reported fully in the newspapers, escape prosecution month after month and year after year. Bombings continue, machine killings occur at frequent intervals, and harassed business men pay many millions to racketeers rather than run the risk of bombing or injury to themselves and their families.

Can Chicago really clean up their situation? If the hoodlums were the only offenders, yes. But they are not. There are rotten officers, rotten politicians, shyster lawyers—all in league for the profits of rum, bribery, extortion, and vice. Rottenness does not clean up rottenness, and when corruption reaches into high places and even into the courts, honest men, however, courageous, find it difficult to remedy conditions.

If the slaying of Reporter Lingle was to intimidate the newspapers, it failed of its purpose. If it was a matter of personal vengeance, it has a much greater meaning as Chicago citizens became aroused and corruption was recognized. Whether the reporter had any gangster connections other than as a writer has not been revealed. At any rate, the result has been to focus attention on what is not only a dirty spot in Illinois, but what has ramifications in most of the bigger cities of the nation and imitators in smaller places.

An army of Chicago bad men was arrested. An army of lawyers rushed to the courts and police stations to free the gunmen. If the Chicago bar should take away the licenses of every lawyer who not only defends criminals in a legal manner, but who advises them and encourages them in crime, the number of lawyers would likely be decimated.

There can be no quarrel with a lawyer whose services are retained after a crime, and whose work is to give the man a fair trial. But what of the lawyer whose services are retained in advance of a crime, or who advises a client how to operate in defiance of the law without being caught, or convicted if caught? The bar can answer this question. A few associations have done so, while others are in disrepute for failure to take remedial steps.

Chicago's problem is one of a complex civilization, and one that should be studied in its relation to American municipal government.

Confederate President Honored

Here's further evidence that the old sectional animosities engendered by the Civil War are now forgotten. . . . the statue of Jefferson Davis, president of the ill-fated Southern Confederacy, just placed in Statuary Hall at the U. S. Capitol at Washington, the nation's "Hall of Fame." Standing beside it are Mississippi's two senators, Pat Harrison (left) and Hubert D. Stephens.

TOM THUMB IS ARRESTED HERE

Officers often arrest Abe Lincoln, George Washington, Teddy Roosevelt, Molly Bailey and many other famed historical characters. So, no one was particularly surprised when last night Tom Thumb was arrested on gambling charges by county officers. He gave his name as Tom Thumb, but there was nothing about his size to indicate that he was tiny.

Mr. Tom Thumb was arrested with nine others at "Mammy's Shack," near Pampa on gambling charges by Deputies Weldon Wilson and Jeff Guthrie. They were not placed in jail as "one stood good for all the others" by providing bond money, it was stated this morning.

Small Child Killed

WICHITA FALLS, June 13. (AP)—Toy Spence, 3, daughter of Sam B. Spence, district attorney, was killed last night when she fell out of an automobile window and under the wheels as her mother was backing the car out of the driveway at a friend's home. Mrs. Spence was in a hospital in a serious condition.

Mrs. R. A. Webb and Margaret Cornell are expected to return today from a trip to McAlester, Okla. Justin Devine of Skellytown was in Pampa yesterday.

S. D. Stennis returned yesterday from a trip to Austin.

Carl Loosier, Amarillo, of the Loosier Motor Freight lines, was a business visitor here yesterday.

Ralph R. Thomas, county agent, was in McLean Thursday.

Paul A. Spears, Amarillo attorney, was a visitor in Pampa Thursday.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic—Jesus on the Cross
Scripture Lesson—Matthew 27:33-50

33. And when they were come unto a place called Golgotha, that is to say, the place of a skull,

34. They gave Him wine to drink mingled with gall: and when He had tasted He would not drink.

35. And when they had crucified Him, they parted His garments among them, casting lots;

36. And they sat and watched Him there.

37. And they set up over His head His accusation written; This is JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

38. Then are there crucified with Him two robbers, one on the right hand and one on the left.

39. And they that passed by rallied on Him; wagging their heads,

40. And saying, Thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days, save Thyself; if thou art the Son of God, come down from the cross.

41. In like manner also, the chief priests mocking Him, with the scribes and elders said,

42. He saved others: Himself He cannot save. He is the King of Israel; let Him now come down from the cross, and we will believe on Him.

43. He trusteth on God; let Him now, if He desireth Him; for He said, I am the Son of God.

44. And the robbers also that were crucified with Him cast upon Him the same reproach.

45. Now from the sixth hour there was darkness over all the land until the ninth hour.

46. And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? That is, My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken Me?

47. And some of them that stood there, when they heard it, said, This man calleth Elijah.

48. And straightway one of them ran, and took a sponge, and filled it with vinegar, and put it on a reed and gave Him to drink.

49. And the rest said, Let be; let us see whether Elijah cometh to save Him.

50. And Jesus cried again with a loud voice, and yielded up His spirit.

Golden Text—Looking unto Jesus the author and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy that was set before Him endured the cross, despising shame, and hath sat down at the right hand of the throne of God.—Heb. 12:2.

Time—Friday, April 7, A. D. 30.
Place—Jerusalem, the high priest's palace, Pilate's judgment hall, and the place of execution outside the wall of Jerusalem.

Introduction

When Jesus came back from His third season of prayer in the garden, he was betrayed by Judas, arrested by the soldiers, and forsaken by his disciples. Then followed His trial, first before the Jewish authorities, then before the Roman authorities. He was finally condemned by Pilate and turned over to the soldiers to be crucified.

This lesson brings us to the climax in the story of redemptive love. The agony in the garden is past. The mockery of a trial is over. Peter is grieving over his shameful denial. Judas has thrown down before the chief priests the silver that is tarnished by innocent blood, and has gone out in the bitterness of despair to end his wretched life. Pilate is contemplating his cowardly surrender to the clamor of the crowd. The chief priests are gloating over their victory. The disciples are looking on in helpless amazement at the destruction of all their hopes. The Saviour Himself is crowning His matchless life with an even more matchless death.

Golgotha

"And when they were come unto a place called Golgotha, that is to say, the place of the skull." Both the Hebrew Golgotha and the Latin Calvary mean "the place of a skull," so called because it was the site of public executions, or perhaps because caves in the hillside gave the appearance of empty eye-sockets, making the hill look from a distance like a skull. There is such a resemblance in the hill on the north of Jerusalem, about two hundred yards from the Damascus gate, which many modern scholars regard as the real Golgotha, but the eye-sockets are modern. The traditional site of the crucifixion is the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, inside the present walls of Jerusalem.

Crucifixion

"And when they had crucified Him." Crucifixion was a Roman method of execution, reserved for slaves and outlaws. Cicero, who knew it well, called it the most cruel and shameful of all punishments. The hands, and usually the feet, of the victim were nailed to the cross, sometimes before the cross was erected, sometimes after. Generally the victim was only a little above the ground, not so high as our pictures ordinarily suggest. Stalker says: "The most revolting feature of death by crucifixion was that the torture was deliberately prolonged. The victim usually lingered a whole day, sometimes two or three days, still retaining consciousness; while the burning of the wounds in the hands and feet, the uneasiness of the unnatural position, the oppression of overcharged veins, and above all, the intolerable thirst were constantly increasing."

The King of the Jews

"And they set up over His head His accusation written." It was written on a white tablet which the condemned always were suspended from His neck on the way to the cross or else it was carried before Him by a soldier. Now it was nailed to the cross above the head of Jesus. "THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS." Pilate himself wrote the inscription, in bitter mockery of the Jews. They felt the sarcasm, and a deputation of chief priests went to Pilate asking him to change the title to read, "He said, I am King of the Jews." With a sneer the Roman governor answered them shortly, "What I have written I have written." (John 19:22.) The inscription was written in three languages, that all holders might read it: in Latin, the language of power; in Greek, the language of culture; and in Hebrew, the language of religion. Thus was typified the service that Christianity was to perform in the fields of civilized government, of mental development, and of spiritual enlightenment. Thus also was indicated the world-wide reach of the religion of Jesus Christ. And thus was set forth the central fact that Jesus was in truth a King, the King of Kings, whose kingdom will outlast all earthly kingdoms, and never pass away.

He Saved Others

"He saved others; Himself He cannot save." These councilors spoke better than they knew. Jesus had saved others, a vast throng of men and women and children; and in refusing to save Himself He was opening up salvation to all mankind through all the time to come. Christ could not save Himself and be true to His divine mission. "He is the King of Israel." This was said in mockery, echoing the inscription above the head of Jesus. "Let Him now come down from the cross, and we will believe on Him." They would not have believed on Jesus because of any such sign. Jesus had worked many miracles greater than that, and they had refused to believe. The miracle of the resurrection was infinitely greater than would have been a descent from the cross, and yet men do not believe on Christ because of His crowning miracle, "Darkness All Over."

"Now from the sixth hour." That would be noon, six hours after sunrise. Jesus was crucified about the third hour, 9 a. m., and had hung on the cross three hours. "There was darkness over all the land until the ninth hour." Until 3 p. m. lasting three hours. This darkness could not have been caused by an eclipse, for as it was the passover, the moon was full. It was a supernatural darkness, the world sympathizing with the woe of its Creator.

"And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice." Showing that even after six hours of the most fearful agony that man could endure and live, our Lord retained a godly measure of strength. Jesus was crucified at the time of the daily morning sacrifice in the temple, and died at the time of the daily evening sacrifice, those sacrifices being typical of the death of the Lamb of God for the sins of the world. "Saying, My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken Me?" Christ quoted Ps. 22:1. In that awful hour, with the weight of the world's sin pressing down upon His soul, the one final horror of it all to the Son of God was the sense of separation from His Father.

It Is Finished

"And Jesus cried again with a loud voice." He shouted in triumph the sixth word from the cross (He is literally a single word in Greek). "It is finished" (John 19:30) which has truly been called the greatest single word ever uttered. Not merely His suffering was finished. His life on earth, but His mission was accomplished, human salvation was finished with a perfect sacrifice, the old era was finished and the era of the New Covenant was begun. Immediately afterward the Saviour uttered the seventh word from the cross, "Father, into Thy hands I commend My Spirit" (Luke 23:46). "And yielded up His spirit." His last cry "with a loud voice" was not like that of one dying. In the language of the early Christian hymn, it was not Death which approached Christ, but Christ. Christ encountered Death, not as conquered, but as the Conqueror.—Alfred Edersheim.

The Great Earthquake

A violent earthquake at the time of Christ's death testified still further to the sympathy of even the inanimate creation with its Creator. By the earthquake the heavy curtain which separated the Holy Place of the temple from the Most Holy Place, was rent from top to bottom, signifying that now to all men, and not only to the high priest once a year, the way was open to God (Heb. 10:19-20). The centurion, in charge of the soldiers, had doubtless witnessed many crucifixions and had seen many men die, but he had seen no death like Christ's. What he saw moved him to glorify God and to exclaim (Luke), "Certainly this was a righteous man!" and (Matthew) "Truly this was the Son of God!" He was not brought to the conclusion by the earthquake or the preceding darkness, but by the bearing of Christ through all the six hours of suffering, and most of all by the way in which He died. "In the cross of Christ I glory, 'Towering o'er the wrecks of time."

"All the light of sacred story 'Gathers round its head sublime.'"
—Rev. Joseph T. Gibson, D. D.

New Agent Appointed

DALLAS, June 12.—The appointment of a fourth representative in Pampa, Mrs. Laura Camp of that city, has been announced here by the Southland Life Insurance company. Mrs. Camp's appointment was made through R. I. Graves, district manager in the territory. J. O. Gillham, A. L. Burge, and Walter H. Newton are previously appointed agents for the company in Pampa.

Schmeling Has No Enthusiasm in Victory by Foul, But Still Thinks He Could Have Whipped Opponent

BY EDWARD J. NEIL

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, June 13. (AP)—A puzzled German boy with a victory to celebrate but no desire to revel looked out disconsolately today upon Friday the thirteenth and nursed a gripping pain in his lower abdomen.

There was no glee for Max Schmeling, 24-year-old Teuton, in the victory he won from Jack Sharkey on a foul in four rounds while nearly 80,000 of the faithful in the Yankee stadium last night booed disgustedly the farcial ending of another heavyweight fight. Schmeling, somehow, impresses you as a clean-cut, fair-fighting youngster who doesn't want to win any match that way. There is gall for him, too, in the fact that he was losing to the American champion on points until a decidedly low left hook, flung with all of Sharkey's 197 pounds behind it, stretched him groaning on the canvas.

"I am disgusted to win like that," he said mournfully in his broken English as he lay on a rubbing table in a dressing room deep under the stands in the ball park. "I fight my fight just as I want it. Then, when my chance is coming, I am fouled."

"For three rounds maybe I don't look so good, but I am doing what I want. I am finding out about Jack Sharkey. I find he is not so good a fighter as they say he is. I find out he cannot hurt me with punches after I take his best. I know what I want to know. I am ready to do 'something' myself."

As Schmeling stretched out on the table, beads of perspiration dotting his forehead from the pain of the low blow, Dr. William Walker of the New York state athletic commission, made a thorough examination. After he had found a severe spasm in the left scrotum—"result of a severe blow in that section"—the lower portion of Schmeling's body was carefully packed in ice. He winched with pain as he moved. "I like to fight Sharkey again," he said. "I know I can whip him."

Tunney Asserts Foul Blow Very Hard to Control

NEW YORK, June 13. (AP)—Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion, sought for an expert opinion after last night's fight, said:

"The blow was a foul. It was unintentional beyond question, and unfortunate, but it was a foul. The blow ending tonight's bout is a punch which comes under a right hand and must be timed perfectly or it will land low with damaging effect. It is one blow that will cause excruciating pain and incapacitate a boxer. If it is started to low it is very dangerous. Few boxers can use that punch. It is too difficult to control."

Guns to Reveal Line-up Changes

A number of new faces will be seen in the Gulf Guns line-up when they play Claude at Gun park here Sunday at 3 o'clock.

Hays, a former Gulf employee, is just back from Nebraska where he played on the McCook team. He suffered an injury recently but he will likely get a swing at the ball, as hitting is his specialty. Catcher Sullivan who has been ill, will catch Edelen's ball.

Some of the Guns have been scouting around Claude and they aver that the Pampa team will be lucky to win the game. Claude always has one of the best amateur teams in the Panhandle.

Springfield, Ill.—Bud Taylor, Terre Haute, Ind., stopped Johnny (Pee Wee) Kaiser, St. Louis, (2), (Kaiser injured hand).

DR. GILBERT S. LAMBERT

"For over two years I suffered with chronic stomach trouble and constipation that I was unable to correct with ordinary medicines. My appetite failed, I couldn't sleep and I was losing weight rapidly. I had frequent bilious attacks when my complexion became yellow as if I had jaundice."

"The Sargon treatment appealed to me because of its scientific background. Three bottles taken with Sargon Soft Mass Pills overcame my troubles, and I am in better physical tone than in years."—Dr. Gilbert S. Lambert, well known retired physician of San Francisco. The Husband Hunter
BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Natalie Converse tries to conquer her jealousy for her husband, Alan, but they quarrel over Bernadine Lamont, a night club hostess, who asks him to look after Bobby, whose father had saved Alan's life during the war. Alan seeks sympathy from his secretary, Philippa West, who successfully schemes to arouse Natalie's suspicions, and one day Alan finds her gone. Wounded pride prevents either from seeking a reconciliation, and Alan turns to Philippa, who plays her part cleverly.

Fearing that Alan does not mean to propose marriage, Philippa tells Alan that her parents object to her going with a married man. Alan confesses to more than friendship for her, and they become engaged. Confronting her family with the news, her father becomes enraged.

Natalie, unhappy and repentant, writes Alan that she is returning to her home, without, however, mentioning a reconciliation. A friendly letter from Natalie's mother, followed by a telegram from Natalie, asking him to meet her at the station, leaves Alan hopeful.

But, baffled as to Natalie's intentions, Philippa, fearful of losing Alan, tells him she is obliged to leave home because of trouble with her father. Alan offers a raise in salary to offset the expense of renting an apartment, and promises to meet her that night, but says he will be somewhat late.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXVIII

"I may be late."

Philippa thought of the words time and again, as six o'clock came, six-thirty, seven, seven-thirty, and Alan had not appeared to take her to dine.

She grew fretful, and rebuffed her mother's attempts to talk with her. The one black look she gave her father silenced him when he offered a sulky greeting to her in the kitchen, where she was putting the electric iron to heat.

Mr. and Mrs. West had decided not to interfere with her. Both knew she would not tolerate it, and Mrs. West had begged, that for Philippa's own good, they let her alone. "She'll leave if we quarrel with her any more, and I want her here, where I can keep an eye on her, at least part of the time," she said.

Mr. West snorted and kept his peace. All that Philippa had said to Alan about her parents was said to serve her purpose regardless of the truth.

Her mother saw she was upset, and wanted to comfort her. It cut her to the heart to have Philippa spurn her sympathy. She felt that she had in some manner failed her girl, little dreaming the truth that Philippa, while of her flesh and blood, was no more kindred to her in spirit than the veriest stranger.

The air of the house hold had grown difficult to breathe by eight o'clock. It seemed charged with a poison that set nerves on edge and impelled quick answers.

It was all the strain that Philippa was laboring under, throwing a cloud over those who came in contact with her. Through her mind there went a continuous reel of pictures of Alan and Natalie, together here, there, everywhere.

She could not console herself with the possibility that the train, Natalie's train, was late. She had called up the Grand Central Station, and learned it had come in on time.

Ten minutes after eight, she was getting wild. Then Alan came. She saw him, from the window, jump out of a taxicab and pay the driver, with a wave of the hand that she knew meant the man was to keep the change.

Well, he certainly looked happy. Seemed to have not the slightest idea of having committed an offense. Philippa was so glad to see him that suddenly she was a bit less ready to pounce on him; though she could cheerfully have wiped the smile off his face with a resounding slap.

She hurried to her room, and permitted her mother to admit Alan, knowing that neither would be likely to say anything that would embarrass her. Besides, she would not give them time. She wanted only a moment or two to collect herself, along with her hat and wrap, before returning to the living room.

When Alan saw her, the fire had gone out of her eyes, the hard, set look from her lips. She was pensively quiet, but not martyr-like enough to be irritating. Remembering what Natalie had done to Alan, she wanted him to think that she, Philippa, had implicit trust in him.

But it was hard for her to keep from stamping her foot and demanding to know what he meant by keeping her waiting like that. Especially, as she saw in his eyes a light that reflected bubbling spirits.

Alan, touched by her attitude, felt that an explanation of his tardiness was due her, even though he had prepared her to expect it. "I had to take Natalie home," he said simply, as they walked a few blocks to a restaurant where they had eaten once or twice.

Philippa maintained a silence which she somehow kept from being sullen; perhaps because she tucked her hand in his arm for answer.

"She had her sister Florence with her," he added, and Philippa tucked her arm a little tighter.

"It would have been beastly to let them go there alone to that house," Alan went on, and was not aware that he was speaking apologetically.

"You had the furnace started, didn't you?" Philippa asked, and she said it pleasantly.

"Oh, yes, yes, of course. But there were certain little things that I should have looked after before," Philippa smiled. She knew he was not looking at her. If his gaze was anywhere in particular, it was up toward the star-spinkled sky.

"And you had the maid there, and the groceries?" she queried.

"Naturally I did everything Natalie asked me to do," Alan answered. "But you know how it is, Philippa, coming back to a house that's been closed up, I had to see her through it."

"Didn't she ask you to have dinner with them?" Philippa could not suppress this sarcasm.

"No, she didn't," Alan told her shortly, but Philippa sensed that there was a great deal more behind the words than he wanted her to know.

Her question had brought up in Alan's mind for the hundredth time a certain query. Had Natalie, or had she not, been on the verge of asking him to stay and dine with her and Florence?

Another thing; he could almost swear that she had wanted him to kiss her when they met at the station. He wished now that he had; probably wouldn't have another chance. And he couldn't forget that warm, eager, reaching handclasp she had given him; the slight swaying of her body toward him, and the instant her eyelids had covered her eyes and hid what they had to tell.

Perhaps it might have been different; he might have braved her displeasure and kissed her if Florence had not been there. He had wondered then, and he wondered now, what Natalie's family thought of him. Mrs. Jayhunter wanted a reconciliation between him and Natalie, of course. But Florence had acted strangely.

The girl had been different—a most unusual way for Florence to be. But then she was thinking of what Natalie had told her on the train. Faced with the possibility that Alan would refuse to become reconciled with her, Natalie had been forced to tell Florence of their trouble. And she had warned Florence against being affectionately demonstrative with him, lest he think that she'd been put up to it.

Mrs. Jayhunter had tried to keep Florence from accompanying Natalie on her return home, but Natalie preferred to have her. She had a dread, that fairly made her sick, of failing with Alan. She would want someone, even Florence, with her then.

As it takes a great crisis to level all barriers between two persons who have failed in understanding, in most cases, at least, and there was none for this, Natalie and Alan missed their moment of rushing together with all else but their love forgotten.

Natalie was chilled to the heart with disappointment. She had hoped that Alan would take her in his arms when they met and kiss her until she'd have to beg him to stop.

Now, if anything was to come of her return, she would have to ask him to forgive her. She was willing to do that, but her dream of a perfect reconciliation was over. It couldn't ever be what she had hoped.

On the way up to Hillshire, in Alan's car, which he had been keeping in New York, she talked with forced ease, telling Alan of Andrew, and why she had brought Florence along. Not, however, as Florence would have told it. The younger girl would have said frankly that she was pursuing the young man.

But Florence was bobbing around in the tonneau with the hand luggage. This was not Natalie's arrangement, but a matter of necessity, since Florence had climbed in before she could offer a word of objection, and it being ridiculous to crowd in after her when there was so much more room in front.

Every foot of the drive was poignantly familiar to Natalie. She and Alan had been over the route many times. She wondered if he recalled those times, too.

Frequently, she stole a sidelong glance at him. He had changed; not much, but enough to hurt her. There was a worn, haggard look about him. Perhaps she took a little too much responsibility for it unto herself not knowing that Alan had lost a great deal of sleep taking Philippa out.

At any rate, it softened her feelings toward him still further. It almost caused her to invite him to stay to dinner. But he hadn't kissed her. She couldn't forget that. Oh, if he'd only kissed her in spite of everything!

Another thing that caused her to hesitate—the desire to have him remain did not leave her—was that Alan showed no sign of wanting to stay. Although he did, very much. It would have been like opening up the gates to paradise to him. But on his mind was his promise to Philippa to return. He was dreadfully afraid that Natalie would see how much he wanted to stay and, out of pity, tell him he might.

That would be disastrous. He couldn't fail Philippa, and if he refused Natalie, she would be certain to misunderstand and not ask him again.

He was tempted, as he was taking his reluctant departure, to tell her some lie about a dinner engagement with "one of the boys." But the searching quality of her eyes made such prevaricating unthinkable.

Lord, what a beauty she was! How could he ever have been anything but blinded by her loveliness?

She gave him her hand in parting, and Alan trembled over it. He let it go quickly.

He thought, as he walked along with Philippa, of the way Natalie's expression had changed then. He wished he knew what thought had flashed through her mind.

Good lord, couldn't she guess that it was impossible for him to hang on to her hand and keep his head? But suppose he wasn't expected to keep his head? Suppose she really were willing to let bygones be bygones?

A touch of panic seized him. Had he spoiled everything? It was all a mess, but they might find a way out if Natalie didn't give up. He only half heard what Philippa was saying to him.

Burglars Fail in LeFors Robbery

The LeFors postoffice was ransacked Wednesday night but only a few small coins in the cash drawer were taken. Entrance was gained by smashing the glass in a window. No attempt was made to open the safe, and most of the cash was left in the drawer. Officers and the postmaster could ascribe no motive for breaking in the place. Deputy Jeff Guthrie took photographs of finger-prints on the drawer. Mr. and Mrs. Ben White and are in Southern Texas on a vacation trip.

HEAVYWEIGHT CROWN RESTS ON BATTERED HEAD—TITLE IS OF DOUBTFUL VALUE TO MAX

NEW YORK, June 13. (AP)—The world that had hoped to wake today to celebrate the crowning of a new and undisputed world heavyweight champion discovered that it had just another day, hangover and controhis most impressive triumph. Instead they saw the big and temperamental Bostonian "blow" his best chance for the championship recognition, much as by his erratic work he had tossed away two previous chances to climb the heights.

Return Match In Prospect for 2 Heavyweights

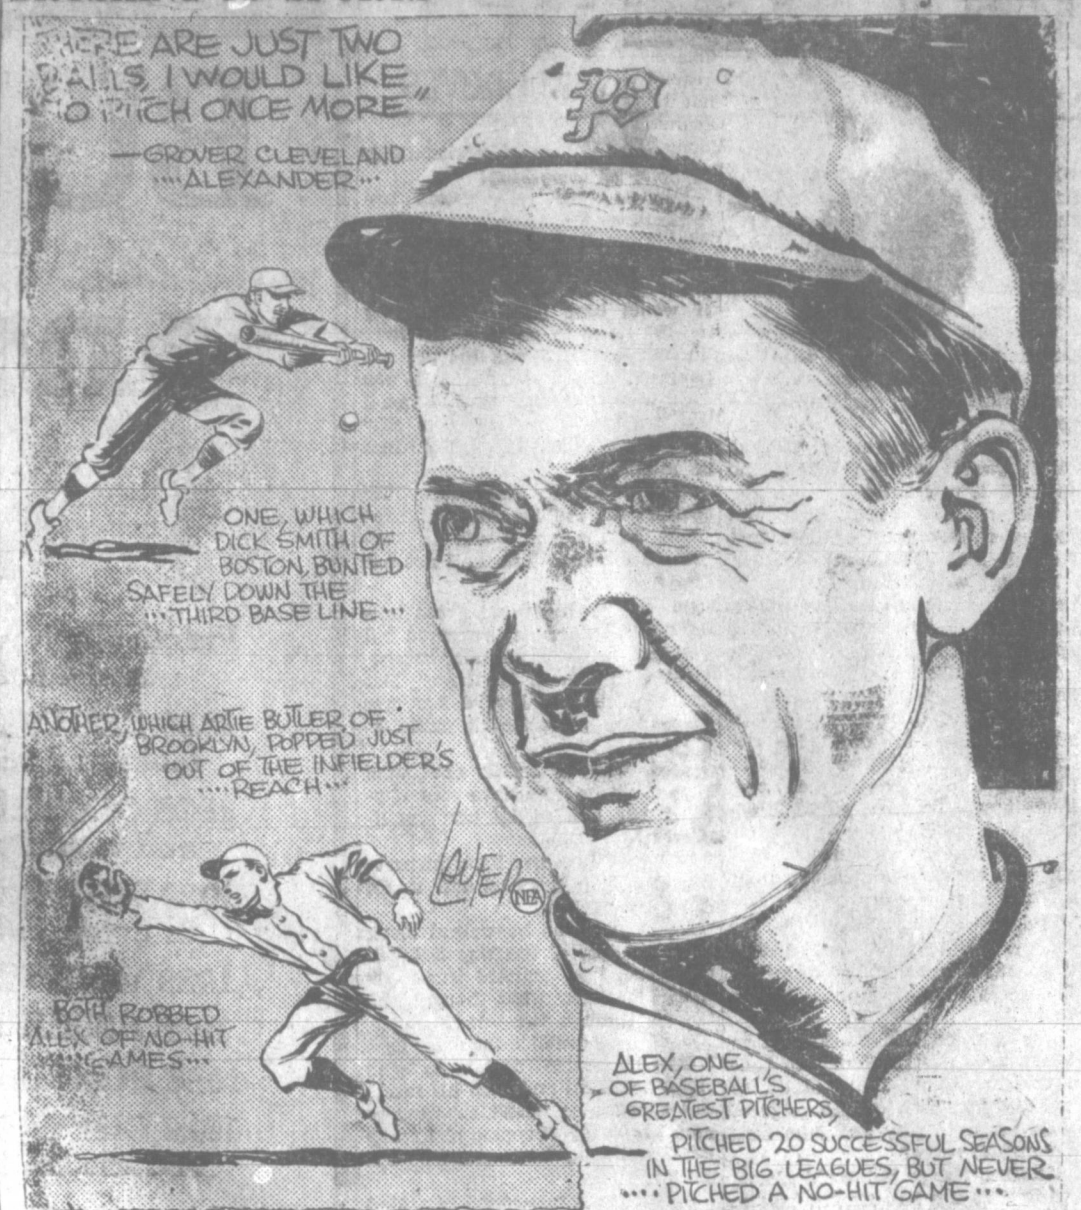

NEW YORK, June 13. (AP)—The upshot of all the fight furor may be to match Jack Sharkey and Max Schmeling for a return bout in September to attempt a settlement of the heavyweight chaos. William F. Carey, president of Madison Square Garden, told Sharkey's manager after the bout that he would be ready today to discuss promotion of another contest here.

Meanwhile, Sharkey faced punishment under the stringent foul rules of the state athletic commission, despite an understanding that the contract for the fight last night specified these regulations were not to apply. The commission some time ago decided automatically to suspend a fighter for sixty days for his first foul offense in fouling an opponent, also to pay him on a pro rata round basis.

Sharkey and Schmeling, splitting 50 per cent of a net gate of $700,000 each, would collect around $175,000 or nearly $12,000 per round each. Should the commission attempt to enforce its rules, Sharkey would get only $48,000 for the four rounds that the contest lasted. Schmeling would not be penalized.

Phillips Team in Top Form to Defeat Magnolia

What was described by fans as the best brand of baseball seen here this year, was played by Phillips "66" team yesterday, when they routed the Oilers 7 to 3 in a seven-inning game.

Although the Magnolias were not playing quite up to form, they had their hottest shots in the line-up. Wright, Phillips pitcher, a former Texas league star, did not discredit his reputation and he allowed just seven hits. Magnolia's Burke, Edwards, and Garrouette were hit a total of ten times by the peppy "66" squad. The Phillips men made two runs in the second, three in the third and two in the sixth. Magnolia's three runs were made in the sixth.

In the Phillips line-up yesterday were Lock, who played this season with Phillips University at Enid, and Beeson, who forsook the Texas and Oklahoma league for the oil fields. A big crowd was present. The Phillips is planning on a game with Coltex next Wednesday. They are actually weeping for a game with the Gulf Guns, according to the Phillips manager.

Runs were made as follows: Phillips—Foster c, 1; Kirkpatrick ss, 1; Beeson lb, 2; Wright p, 1; Barrett lf, 1; Rains lf, Keith 3b, Lock 2b, Romaine cf, Carter, rf. Magnolia—McKnight 3b, 1; Mitchell ss, Boseman c, 1; Lister cf, 1; Hf, Ellinger 2b, Fox 2b, Burke, Gal-Blankenship 1b, Gardner lf, Ward, route and Edwards, pitchers.

THIS IS WHY

All Porcelain-on-steel
Every household refrigerator is finished inside and out with Porcelain-on-steel. It won't rust, scratch, peel, or blister. It is beautiful and easy to keep clean.

Surplus Power
Every Frigidaire has the surplus power to keep food safely cold even on hottest days.

The Famous "Cold Control"
With Frigidaire's surplus power, the "Cold Control" makes possible extra fast freezing of ice cubes or desserts.

Unit at the bottom
The mechanical unit is in the bottom of the cabinet out of the way. This arrangement provides a full, unobstructed and safe food storage space.

The New Hydrator
Without vegetables and fresh vegetables stay fresh in the Frigidaire Hydrator. It keeps the food moist and covered from the outside.

Elevated Food Shelves
Rear-cooled mechanical units have the bottom shelves elevated to permit air circulation and to keep food from becoming soggy.

Quiet Operation—Always
Recent improvements and refinements make permanent quiet operation one of the outstanding advantages of Frigidaires.

Low First Cost—Low Operating Cost
The refrigerator selected by quantity producers is the Frigidaire. Frigidaire prices are low. Operating cost is little because the motor runs only a small part of the day.

SPLIT SEASON IS INEVITABLE IN TEXAS NOW

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Six days before Texas league magnates will lock themselves in a hotel room and decide whether their public desires a split season, the Wichita Falls Spudders today were sailing along seven full games ahead of the Houston Buffs, their closest pursuers.

That being the case, there appeared slight reason to doubt that the magnate would decide that their public does desire a double-header. There is nothing quite so unexciting as a seven-game lead, particularly when there is no promise of relief.

Just to make their stand in the matter more convincing, the Spudders yesterday poured it on the Buffs, 13 to 6, in their opener at Wichita. They did it, further, at the expense of young Mr. Allyn Stout, ace right-hander of the Bison staff, and threw in four home runs for good measure. One of the circuit wallpops was engineered by the husky Larry Bettencourt and was his 21st similar sock of the campaign, placing him far ahead of the field. Hal Wiltse held the visitors to seven blows, two of them homers by Joel Hunt and Eddie Brown. Shreveport climbed back within a game of second place by wallpopping the Waco Cubs, 5 to 1, in their Louisiana premier. Morrell allowed only four hits, while the Sports nicker Ketchum for seven, including a trio in the first inning that scored four runs. Old Wilbur Cooper, a southpaw pitcher by trade, played first base for the Sports and seems at last to have found his station. He drove in three runs with a double and single and handled 18 chances flawlessly.

Tom Estell held the Cats scoreless until the last inning and San Antonio's Redskins captured their opener at Fort Worth, 9 to 3. The Indians pounded Hank Thormahlen from the mound in the seventh, Catcher Lavogue leading a savage attack on the husky southpaw with a homer. Dondero, Indian infielder, enjoyed a big day with three singles and a sacrifice.

Beaumont and Dallas battled all afternoon to a draw, the Exporters winning the first 4 to 3, despite the fact that they were roundly out-hit, but dropping the second, 7 to 0, when Big George Murray kept their six hits scattered. An error by Cotter at first base enabled the Exporters to score what proved to be the winning run in the first bout, and poor base running prevented the Steers casking in on their 13 hits off four Shipper hurlers. The loss was charged to Williamson, making his first start for Dallas. Taitt, with three singles, led the Dallas attack on Vaughn and Mallett in the second fray.

A. F. Clark, local auditor of the Pampa Refining company, which lately was purchased by the Wilcox Oil and Gas company, left yesterday for Tulsa, where he has been transferred as auditor of the refining division of the Wilcox company. Mrs. Clark and their daughters, Mary Catherine and Frances, went to Tulsa yesterday.

Visitors Attend Meeting of Altar Society Wednesday

Mrs. L. H. Sullins and Mrs. J. P. West were associate hostesses to the Altar society of Holy Souls church at a meeting on Wednesday afternoon in Mrs. Sullins' home. In the group attending were five visitors, who were as follows: Miss Roth and Miss Piche, mercy workers, directors of the church vacation school; Mrs. Parks of Sterling, Colo.; Mrs. A. W. Vogel, and Mrs. Charles Conley of Ranger.

Both Miss Piche and Miss Roth spoke on the work they were doing in the vacation school of Holy Souls parish. Forty-eight American children were enrolled in the morning school, and twenty Mexican children, in the afternoon classes, they said. Bible history, doctrine, and directed play made up the program they outlined.

Mrs. M. F. Roche presided during the business discussions. At the close of the session, a pleasant social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Mrs. Ivy E. Duncan entertained for her son, Kirk, yesterday afternoon, with a party celebrating his seventh birthday anniversary.

The following friends enjoyed the occasion with Kirk and his brother, Edward: Zella Mae Hurst, Marquis Bratton, Jerry Thomas, Billie Boyd Davis, Jack Donaher, Jack Hessey, Catherine Culberson, Betty Nichols, Betty Joe Crawford, Eleanor Ruth Gillham, Lois Todd, Ina Dean, Frances Thompson, and Raymond Harris, Jr.

Games and contests were enjoyed on the lawn and in the spacious rooms. Novelty favors drawn from a gaily decorated box added to the pleasure of the afternoon. The birthday cake was white, topped with lighted pink candles. It was served with pink ice cream.

College Girls and Members of Younger Set Meet at Bridge

Miss Cecelia Atteberry followed loved the vogue for the pajama bridge when she entertained yesterday afternoon for a number of her friends who have recently returned from college and other members of the younger set.

The multi-colored costumes of the guests and an orchid and yellow decorative theme created an atmosphere of gaiety for the games and tea.

Miss Elizabeth Cravey was rewarded for high score with a chif-fon handkerchief in orchid and yellow shades. Consolation for low score was a dainty perfume bottle of yellow and orchid which went to Miss Floy Stanard.

Souvenirs of the afternoon were tiny potted plants in the favored colors. They were passed with the refreshment plates, which repeated the theme.

Players, in addition to those named, were: Miss Cleora Stanard, Miss Maxine McKinney, Miss Susie Belle Smalling, Miss Betty Louise Glover, Miss Evelyn Cravey, Miss Katherine Vincent, Miss Mollie LeFors, Miss Dorothy Deouette, Miss Pauline Barnard, and Miss Melba Graham.

Mrs. Mel Davis Entertains in Compliment to Miss Julia Mae Barnhart, Popular Bride-Elect

Miss Julia Mae Barnhart, bride-elect of Mr. Erman E. Smith of Amarillo, whose wedding is to take place June 30, at the First Methodist church, was the honoree of a party and bridal shower of exceptionally pretty appointment given by Mrs. Mel Davis at her home in Cook-Adams addition.

In the receiving line with the honored guest were her mother, Mrs. H. P. Barnhart, and her wedding attendants, Mrs. Kelley Hamblin of Miami and Miss Frankie Barnhart.

After the guests had been seated, Mrs. A. H. Doucette sang two numbers, "The Thyrties Story Ever Told," and "I Wonder Who."

She was accompanied by Mrs. F. P. McSkimming, who followed the vocal selections with a piano solo.

To the strains of the "Lohengrin" wedding march played by Mrs. McSkimming, a diminutive wedding party entered—little Catherine Culberson, in a long white dress and veil, as the bride; Billie Davis as the bridegroom; and little Doris Anne Davis and Betty Anne Culberson bridesmaids, dressed in green taffeta and carrying Colonial bouquets.

Catherine Culberson ushered the bride-elect and the other guests to the dining room, where an attractive wedding cake centered the table surrounded by gift packages. The many lovely presents were then opened.

Pink and white formed the color theme for all details of the affair. Carnations and a variety of garden flowers decorated the house for the occasion. The refreshment course served at the tea hour included an ice moulded in the form of a lily. Miniature pink band boxes filled with nuts were favors.

Mrs. Davis' guest list was as follows: Miss Julia Mae Barnhart, honoree, Mrs. H. P. Barnhart, Mrs. Fred Gordon of Miami, Mrs. Kelley Hamblin of Miami, Mrs. Joe Logan of Lubbock, Mrs. W. R. Campbell, Mrs. H. A. McDonald, Mrs. George Kelley, Mrs. Forest McSkimming, Mrs. Tram Comer, Mrs. W. T. Fraser.

Mrs. Otto Studer, Mrs. George Gill, Mrs. Houston Park, Mrs. M. A. Graham, Mrs. Herman McDonald, Mrs. John Studer, Mrs. Lem Green, Mrs. I. B. Hughey, Mrs. Clinton Henry, Mrs. Clyde Fathewes, Miss Ruth Anne Mitchell, Miss Louise Miller, Miss Wilma Chapman, Miss Wilma Behrends.

Miss Pauline McKean, Miss Euri-tha Henry, Miss Bonnie Neil Gordon of Amarillo, Miss Ida Mae Collins of Channing, Miss Kathleen Beatty of Amarillo, Miss Mabel Davis, Miss Willette Cole, Miss Leora Kinard, and Miss Frankie Barnhart.

have sustained multiple injuries from which he failed to rally.

He died between 5 p. m., and 5:30 p. m., several hours after the disaster. He was 35 years old and was internationally famous for his exploits as a speed racer. He was most famous for his record of 231.36 miles an hour which he established at Daytona Beach, Fla., March 11, 1929, in his 12-cylinder automobile, Golden Arrow.

It was stated that the accident was due to a step on the outside of the bows of the boat giving way under pressure against the water. The bottom of the boat was crushed in.

Halliwel was 31 years old and married. He was a tester in the experimental section of the Rolls Royce works where the speed boat's engines were built.

Segrave had given up automobile racing after establishing his world record, at the request of his wife who considered it too dangerous. He was too active, however, to remain entirely out of the field of mechanics and speed. He took up motor boating as a hobby with his wife's consent as she felt this was not so dangerous.

Lady Segrave was at Lake Windermere today and saw the accident which resulted in her husband's death. She rushed to his side immediately and was with him when he died.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., June 13. (AP)—The United States circuit court of Appeals today ruled the Democratic party of Virginia had no right to bar "negroes and other races" from its primary.

IT IS FRIDAY, 13th
OKLAHOMA CITY, June (Friday 13th) (AP)—A count raiding squad rounded up 13 vagrants in the Santa Fe yards.

An hour later they pleaded guilty before Carl Traub, justice of the peace.

Each received a sentence of 13 days in jail.
It happened here today, an appropriate calendar date.

GET WASTE OUT OF YOUR SYSTEM

Banish Constipation at the Start with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Look out when you wake up tired and stay tired. Beware of headaches, unpleasant breath. These are usually the first symptoms of constipation.

The trouble is that your intestinal system is clogged. You have eaten too many bulkless foods. But you can clean your system safely. If you start at once to eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a cereal that you can eat naturally. It sweeps the intestines clean of poisonous wastes. Far better than habit forming pills and drugs.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Just eat two tablespoons daily—recurring cases with every meal. You'll like its crispness and flavor. Your system will benefit by its rich store of iron and healthful elements as well as by its roughage.

Ready to eat with milk or cream. Delicious with fruits and honey added. Recipes are on the package for muffins and griddle cakes. Sold by all grocers. Served by hotels, restaurants and dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Randall County
Cow-Testing Body
Biggest in Texas

CANYON, June 12.—The largest one-county cow-testing association in Texas has been started here this month. The Randall County Cow-Testing association is sponsored by the Randall County Dairymen's association, and is composed of members from the dairymen's organization and members from the Randall county division of the Deaf Smith-Randall County Cow Testing association.

W. H. Upchurch, county agent, has been instrumental in organizing the new cow-testing association. Officers for the new association are: J. W. Watson, president; H. R. Fulton, secretary, and Levi Cole, treasurer. Directors are Emmitt Prichard, C. C. Stewart and James E. Parks.

W. T. Dugan, tester for the Deaf Smith-Randall County association has been secured as tester for the new association. Permanent headquarters for the association will be in Canyon. New testing equipment is being installed for use in making the tests of the butterfat production of the cows in the association.

has 27 charter members, who own has 27 charter members, who own 520 cows. The largest association in the state, other than the few one, has a few more than 450 cows in it.

In discussing the new association, County Agent Upchurch points out the chief secret of successful and profitable dairying lies in knowing the milk weights and butterfat test of each cow, feeding balanced rations according to the production of each individual cow, and weeding out the unprofitable producers.

SHIP OWNERS SUE FOR DAMAGES—LOST TANKER

NEW YORK, June 13. (AP)—Suit for $350,000 has been filed in federal court here by the Lake Tankers corporation, owners of the oil tanker Pinthia, against the Merchants & Miners' Transportation company, owners of the steamship, Fairfax, which rammed and sank the Pinthia off Boston June 10 with a loss of 47 lives.

The sum of $350,000 is the value put by the owners upon the Pinthia and its cargo.

The suit was filed last night just before the closing of the clerk's office.

The Merchants and Miners' Manufacturing of rubber commodities in Japan totals approximately $45,000,000 annually.

Amarada Mission service, 2:30 p. m.
We are hoping to have our Sunday school built up to the highest record ever reported for this church by the time our new pastor, Bro. C. E. Lancaster, comes to us next month. The members and friends of the church are urged to do their best in coming themselves and in bringing someone with them. Let us make an unusual effort this Sunday.

Rev. John Lee Harris will occupy the pulpit at the morning preaching service.

New interest is being manifested in the unions for our training service. More of our people should avail themselves of the opportunities for growth and fellowship afforded by our B. Y. P. U. organizations.

The closing service of the evangelistic campaign in the Amarada Mission section will be held by Rev. Lawrence E. Barrett in our church auditorium at the time of the regular Sunday evening preaching service. The attendance at the revival services has been unusually large, and exceptional interest has been shown in the meetings. A baptismal service will be conducted the latter part of the preaching hour Sunday evening.

You and your friends are invited to attend all the services of this church. We welcome you.

Study Programs and Sewing Occupancy Units of Methodist W. M. S.

Members of Circle 1 of the Methodist Women's Missionary society spent their weekly meeting period, Wednesday afternoon, in furthering the social welfare program of the W. M. S., repairing, fitting, and distributing garments which had been donated for the unfortunate of the city.

Three hundred garments were distributed to destitute persons whose cases the welfare committee had investigated, the clothing having been given by members of every church in the city and other citizens. Fifteen members spent the afternoon working at Mrs. J. E. Ward's home.

Other circles of the society held mission studies of unusual interest. Circle 1 met in the home of Mrs. R. G. Harrell. Mrs. C. T. Nicholson was leader of a program from "Spiritual Adventures," with Mrs. Harrell and Mrs. J. G. Burgess as assistants.

Topics discussed were "Avocation and Vocation," and "Spiritual Alchemy." The following were present: Mrs. I. L. Whitlock, Mrs. E. R. Beavers of Wichita Falls, Mrs. J. I. Bradley, Mrs. S. A. Hurst, Mrs. M. A. Graham, Mrs. O. H. Booth, Mrs. Will Saunders, and those who took part on the program.

"The Dominance of the Church" was the theme of the study held by members of Circles 3 at their meeting in Mrs. W. A. Campbell's home, Mrs. Lee Harrah was in charge, assisted by Mrs. W. F. Campbell and Mrs. W. H. Peters. Others present were: Mrs. O. W. Ferguson, Mrs. Selby, Mrs. Russell Smith, members, and Harriett Hunkapillar, visitor.

Mrs. C. E. Ward was hostess to Circle 4, with Mrs. Roy Tinsley as director of the program on "The Dominance of the Church." The members present were Mrs. Albert Wood, Mrs. George Fiescher, Mrs. A. A. Smith, Mrs. Nels Walberg, Mrs. C. C. Dodd, Mrs. Porter Beck, Mrs. Lewis Robinson, Mrs. Ragsdale Miss Wood, and Miss Tinsley.

Tri-State Fair Is "Dressing Up" for Annual Event

AMARILLO, June 13. (Special).—The Amarillo Tri-State exposition will be held this year, September 22 to 27, inclusive, in "dressed up" surroundings.

Between $30,000 and $35,000 will be spent improving and beautifying the home of the Tri-State fair before the exposition opens in September. The work is already under way.

Construction of an automobile building—the first permanent structure to be erected—will be the biggest item of cost, but will be smaller than other projects in addition to the appearance of the fair grounds. Contract for this building was let last week on a bid of $22,034.

Specifications call for a building of brick and tile, with steel framework and a concrete floor, making it fireproof. Its dimensions will be 120x150 feet, and so constructed that it may be added to when more room is needed. This building also will house the annual tractor and implement show each spring.

The two cattle barns and the hog barn are being enlarged and improved at a cost of approximately $3,500.

Of no little interest is the new Potter county zoo, immediately to the left of the main entrance. Although the zoo is small in comparison with others, it is a new attraction, and now contains 40 or 50 animals. This number will be greatly increased by fair time. The county has spent $4,500 on improvements for the zoo.

One of the entertainment features will be the Beckham & Gerey shows, which are among the world's best. They go from here to the Dallas fair for two weeks as the main attraction on the midway. Ernie Young's Revue in "Spanish Nights" and Leonard Stroud's rodeo under the management of C. A. Studer will be given before the grandstand each day and night. Other features will be announced in the near future. The fair is facing its most successful year, in the opinion of Wilbur C. Hawk, president.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tolle and daughters, Bertha and Margie, of Cooper, Okla., are spending their vacation here at the home of Mrs. Tolle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Tolle, on Roberta street, Talley addition.

Mrs. C. M. Meriwether of Memphis, Tenn., is to arrive this evening for an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. John L. Peake, and Mr. Peake. During a visit of several weeks last summer, Mrs. Meriwether formed a wide circle of acquaintances in Pampa.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Weksler of Panhandle were visitors here yesterday.

Mrs. R. E. Robinson and daughter, Maxine, have returned from a trip to Sarvey, Kans., where they have been visiting relatives for the past two weeks.

Frank Gillette, of Amarillo, representing the Exchange Sawmills company, was a business visitor in Pampa Thursday.
