

TFX Probe Resumption Is Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators postponed to Wednesday resumption of the TFX warplane contract inquiry which Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says can produce "only harm."

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., announced the delay shortly before his subcommittee had planned to question a group of high-ranking Air Force and Navy officers about the controversial contract award. He said he had other pressing engagements and the subcommittee's staff had informed him it could use one additional day of preparation for the hearings. He said today's resumption never had been more than a tentative date.

The subcommittee released a transcript of testimony in which McNamara had told its members Thursday.

"There is a lot of harm that can accrue from this investigation. I cannot see any good that will accrue from it. I can see only harm."

He pegged his protest to what he called frictions between the Pentagon and the subcommittee. But he said he was not suggesting that the senators drop their inquiry into whether favoritism might have steered the fighter-bomber contract—which ultimately may be worth $6.5 billion—to the General Dynamics Corp. of Fort Worth, Tex.

McNamara swore that neither political influence nor self interest motivated his awarding the contract to General Dynamics.

U. S. Charge Is Rejected

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—South Korea's military regime rejected today a U.S. statement that prolonged military rule could threaten stable and effective government.

A government spokesman said the "realistic inevitability of extending military rule will be independently judged by the Korean people."

The Korean people, he said, "know the Korean situation better than anybody else."

He termed the statement by U.S. State Department spokesman Lincoln White "a discussion of a principle and understandable as such."

The United States is South Korea's financial and military mainstay. Washington is not expected to take any decisive action to block the military's continuance in power.

The head of the military junta, Gen. Chang Hee Park, has proposed a plebiscite to approve or reject his proposal to extend military rule four years. Previously he had promised elections this spring and the return of civilian government in August.

recommended in vain that a rival design by Boeing promised a better, cheaper version of the sophisticated TFX.

McNamara's protests Thursday that the probe could cause only harm appeared to differ with an evaluation given the same day by President Kennedy at a news conference.

"I can see nothing wrong with Congress speaking into these matters," the President said. He added, however, that "the secretary did the right thing and the investigation will bring that out."

Underlining his critical view of the inquiry, McNamara told the subcommittee:

"Last night my wife told me that my son, 15-year-old Tom, had asked how long it would take for his father to prove his honesty."

To a suggestion by Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., that he also knew how it felt to be on the receiving end of criticism; but had a duty to perform and should not shirk it, McNamara retorted: "I don't believe that you should, but I don't believe any good is going to come of it."

EL PASO (AP)—Federal court jurors were ably ready today to start deciding whether Billie Sol Estes is a grand scale con artist or simply a misadventured business man.

Prosecution and defense painted vague conflicting images of the topped kingdom of farm finance Monday in daylong arguments before U.S. Dist. Judge R. E. Thompson. He's accused of pocketing more than $20 million in proceeds from bogus fertilizer tank mortgages and leases.

Since the 10 men and two women composing the jury will be locked up until they finish deliberating, Judge Thompson said he was waiting until this morning to deliver his charge on the rules of evidence and law at issue.

Estes' trial on charges of fraud and conspiracy started here March 11.

These are the original accusations which led to his arrest a year ago—claiming collapse of vast grain storage and fertilizer sales operations.

Since then the West Texas promoter, now 38, likewise has been adjudged bankrupt and sentenced to eight years in prison on a state court conviction of swindling, now pending appeal.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Gen. Rufus D. McLean, who offered final arguments for the government along with U.S. Atty. Fred Morton of El Paso, mentioned "a veritable parade of defense lawyers" and told the jury in his closing address:

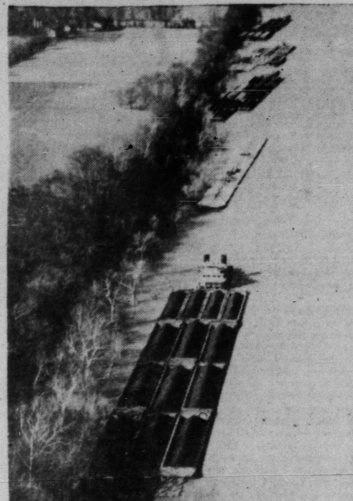

"The guilt of this defendant has been established to a certainty."

Headed by John D. Coker of Austin, the defense staff centered fire on the theme that individuals buying and leasing fertilizer tanks to Estes and finance companies investing in the mortgages, were as willing as Estes to get into such deals.

Reviews of about 20 fertilizer transactions traced by the government Morton said in the document he filed documented in this trial nearly $2 million in such deals.

"You can conclude that every contract generated by Estes happened the same way," Morton said.

He was getting the fruits of this fraud. There are no tanks. That's what makes this scheme fraudulent."

Loan Shark Bill Is Given Senate Okay

By BOB ROOKER

AUSTIN (AP)—Senators finally approved and sent to the House today a measure aimed at wiping out loan sharks in Texas. It was a voice vote.

Senate approval came in a flurry of parliamentary procedures. First the chamber temporarily approved the controversial issue often called the top problem of the legislature, by a voice vote. However, a 23-9 vote was insufficient for the four-fifths majority needed to get an immediate final vote.

The senators then voted 21-10 to adjourn for 2 minutes, which put the proceedings into another legislative day, with only a two-thirds majority needed for a final vote.

Within the first hour of debate today, an amendment was made in the so-called compromise measure that was drafted from three original loan regulation proposals.

Several changes were made yesterday, including one to slice the maximum size loan from $3,000 to $1,500.

The changes today included one by Sen. Jim Bates, Edinburg, that would require all new loan firms to be financed by at least 51 per cent Texas money. All such firms must have Texas headquarters to control state operations. The change was made by a 17-13 vote.

Another Bates amendment would make 30 the limit on the number of offices that a loan firm could establish in Texas.

This would cut out competition protected Sen. Chris Cole, Houston, but the amendment was adopted on a voice vote.

Still another amendment by Sen. Bill Patman, Galvesto, provides that a borrower could not be "harassed" for repayment. It would extend from two to four years the period in which a borrower could bring suit for repayment of unsecured interest charges on a loan.

Supporters of the bill managed to light off all but one major change—an amendment to slice in half the $3,000 ceiling on loans to be regulated.

Senators debated for more than six hours Monday on 17 proposed changes in the measure, sponsored by Sen. Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi.

The Senate voted down amendments to cut the ceiling to $200, a change the upper chamber approved in the January 1961 special session. That amendments to lower the ceiling to $300, and $1,000 were defeated were trying to find a way to eliminate loan sharks, representatives were trying to do the same thing with slant hole oil well drilling.

The House gave tentative approval Monday to a slant-hole drilling bill sponsored by Rep. Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline.

"This is a direct result of the House investigation into slant hole drilling," he said. "To date there have been more than 300 criminal indictments returned alleging conspiracy, bribery and general theft. There are some who feel the general theft statute now is not broad enough and that is the purpose of this bill."

Hollowell's measure should make it a felony for anyone in drilling or reworking a well to deceive or intentionally across a lease boundary line with the intention of taking oil from another's lease without written consent.

Conviction could bring punishment of up to 10 years in prison and fines of up to $1,000. The present general theft statute calls for 2 to 10 years in prison. The bill includes anyone who produces oil from a well he knows is devoted illegally.

The House passed and sent to the senate Monday a bill outlining increasing powers of cities. Representatives debated the measure every day last week.

As sent to the Senate, the bill sets up buffer zones around cities from 1/2 to 3 miles wide, according to population. A city could annex only 10 per cent of its land area in one year. However, a city would have certain controls over developments in the buffer zone before formal annexation.

In other action, the House voted 23-7 to send back to committee a bill that would make arbitration compulsory between city management and employe associations created before Jan. 1, 1961.

Bidault Flees To Portugal

LISBON (AP)—Former French Premier Georges Bidault fled to Portugal early today after West Germany refused to let him continue his campaign to overthrow President Charles de Gaulle, police reported.

He faces a similar ban should he try to stay in Portugal.

Barbarian Interior Minister Heinrich Junker said Bidault left voluntarily. He and an aide, Guy Ribesault, took a Swiss airplane to Zurich under the names of "Anberger" and "Offrey," then boarded a Dutch airliner for Lisbon.

A police spokesman at the Lisbon airport said: "Two men with these names arrived shortly after midnight, but we did not realize they were Bidault and his secretary."

Their arrival touched off a nationwide search by officials.

Before leaving Germany, Bidault vowed to continue his campaign for the downfall of De Gaulle.

A Foreign Ministry spokesman said that "as far as we know Bidault has not entered Portugal under his own name. We do not know whether he has used false documentation to get in and we are checking this side of the story."

The spokesman said that if Bidault is found here "he will not be allowed any political activity during his stay here."

Political and government circles speculated that Bidault may be heading for Latin America. The next plane for Latin America leaves tonight.

The Dutch airliner on which Bidault traveled went on to Brazil, Uruguay and Argentina, but Bidault and Ribesault had tickets only to Lisbon.

As he prepared to leave Germany, Bidault reportedly told Dutch and German journalists with whom he had been living near Munich:

"I intend to continue my political fight against De Gaulle until freedom in France is restored, so the point where I can return to the soil of my own country and continue my political life."

Guard Unit Has Practice Alert

The Snyder unit of the National Guard was called out at 5 p.m. Monday in their annual practice alert.

The alerts normally are held in February, but due to the reorganization of the guard this year, each battalion called its own alert. Alerted yesterday were members of the 1st Howitzer Battalion, 11st Artillery, Texas National Guard, which included Abilene, Sweetwater, Stamford and Snyder.

Snyder's Battery B had an excellent response to the alert, according to Captain Billy Joe Brown, commander of the local unit. Within 30 minutes attendance was logged at 44 per cent; in 55 minutes attendance was 90 per cent, and at the end of the two-hour alert attendance was 94 per cent. Captain Brown expressed satisfaction with the results of the local participation.

One of the new weapons of the local unit was received this week. It is one of three that will be assigned here. The 155 mm towed howitzer fire a 97 pound projectile, and will be fired by local guardsmen for the first time at camp this summer.

Texas Has A Spring Day

By The Associated Press

Texas weather Tuesday left little room for doubting that the spring has arrived. Except for scattered clouds in Southeast Texas, skies were generally fair and temperatures mild.

A light shower dampened the Beaumont area of the coast early Tuesday. Some fog was reported at Brownsville on the southern tip of the state.

Temperatures ranged from a nippy 33 at Dalhart in far Northwest Texas to 67 at Laredo on the southern Texas-Mexico border.

Forecasts called for more of the same—clear to partly cloudy skies and little change in temperatures over all the state through Wednesday.

Scattered thunderstorms that roared through parts of Central and East Texas Monday night dropped brief rains. However, it didn't rain enough to dent the needs of farmers and ranchers.

Fire Breaks Out In Six Flags Barn

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP)—Fire broke out today in the animal barn at Six Flags over Texas, an amusement park between Fort Worth and Dallas.

The barns house numerous animals. They are kept outside the park itself, except when on exhibition.

The park has horses, ponies, donkeys, goats and many other animals. Most are extremely tame and are a major attraction for children, who are allowed to get them.

Double header Launching To End Lun In Space Program

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A big doubleheader launching scheduled Thursday will end a lull in the U.S. space program. It will not break 1963's overall pattern of a building year in great exploits expected in 1964 and after.

At 1:30 p.m. (EST) Thursday, the mammoth Saturn is set to thunder aloft on the fourth test flight for this booster—the forerunner of a rocket which will carry American astronauts to the moon. At 9 p.m., a sleek Delta rocket is to attempt to hoist the Explorer 17 satellite into orbit to investigate the structure of the earth's atmosphere.

Technical or other troubles could delay the launches. As on three previous flights, all of them successful, only the first stage will be fired. After 100 seconds of flight, one of the eight engines which power the 165-foot-tall rocket will be shut off to check the vehicle's ability to perform its mission if an engine fails.

Explorer 17, another of a family of scientific satellites designed for basic research in the world beyond our world. The 405-pound satellite is crammed with devices to measure temperature, composition, pressures and density of the atmosphere at altitudes from 15 to 300 miles. The space trials will be the first from Cape Canaveral since the ill-fated Syncom satellite was shot into orbit on Feb. 16. A series of postponements for technical reasons placed the Explorer 17 launching on the 10th day as Saturn.

Although more than 30 space shots are on the Cape's 1963 schedule, they will not provide the great number of thrills of 1962. Last year, three U.S. astronauts whirled the earth, Mariner 2 zipped past Venus, and Telstar and Relay served as pioneer communications satellites to pass television and telephone signals between continents.

Only one manned launching is scheduled this year. On May 7, astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr. is set to make this nation's longest manned flight yet—a 22 orbit mission lasting 34 hours. The shot, if successful, will close the book on Project Mercury and set policy guidelines for the Gemini program, scheduled for the fall.

The first scheduled Gemini flight is scheduled for December, with manned missions of up to two weeks slated for 1964.

More Telstars, Relays and Syncoms and more weather satellites will go up this year as scientists seek the best approach to development of operational communications and meteorological satellite systems. Flying laboratories like Explorer 17 will be shot into space to learn more about nuts and bolts of the universe so that man can safely follow.

By late in the year, Saturn should be ready for initial flights with the second stage, one of which may carry the first mockup of the organization, said today. The organization, said today, man can safely follow.

Clues Sought In Slaying Of Coed

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Maricopa County investigators hope to find out today if they have the gun used in the apparent sex slaying of Jane Langdon, 21, daughter of a prominent Texas judge.

They said it now appears the girl must have forgotten the name of the hotel where her father had made reservations for her. She went to the Los Olivos Lodge where she inquired about a room but decided it was too expensive.

Then, officers found she apparently tried to call her mother at an apartment house where her mother had stayed previously. However, her mother was in the hospital at the time.

Then, officers found she was dropped off at the apartment house where she was last seen alive at 4 a. m. by the driver. Investigators theorized she was knocked at her mother's apartment and finding no one at home set out in the early morning to find another place.

About 60 hours later her body was found in an abandoned prospector's tunnel by target shooters. Evidence indicated she was not sexually assaulted at the place where she was killed. Her body bore only a few marks or bruises. Officers said traces of adhesive tape on her wrists indicated she may have had her hands bound and was forced to walk to the tunnel.

Joe Seabourn Dies Monday

Word was received here this morning of the death of Joe Seabourn, 68, in San Diego, Calif.

Mr. Seabourn died at 11 p. m. Monday.

He is survived by his wife, Jewell, and two sons, Carl and Wayne, and four grandchildren, all of whom live in California, and three sisters, Mrs. Effie Ramsey, Mrs. Gene Trussell and Mrs. Anne Eicke, all of Snyder.

Funeral arrangements were pending in San Diego.

Two Guilty Pleas Are Heard In Court

Two pleas of guilty on worthless check charges were received this morning in county court.

Submitting his plea by wire was E. L. Pharis of Houston. He was fined $25 plus costs of $24.35 on a check given to the Super-66 Service.

W. G. Daniel was fined $15 plus $25.35 costs on a check given to Rainbow Market.

HOLLY LOCH, Scotland (AP)—A Scottish businessman complained today that American sailors who returned to the United States on a Polar submarine depot ship, the "Proteus", left behind scores of unpaid bills.

"We are annoyed and disillusioned at the way the Americans have treated us," said John Sirling, president of the Dunoon Traders Association.

"We welcomed them to our town and extended credit to them because we knew this was the system they followed. Now they have taken away all the good will built up here during their two year's stay."

Dunoon is the biggest town in the immediate area of Holy Loch. Holy Loch is a base for the depot ships.

The depot ship Huntley has replaced the "Proteus".

Before the "Proteus" left March 15 its commander, Capt. Raymond Dubois, announced through newspapers that, in case of outstanding debts, merchants should write to him.

A U.S. Navy spokesman in London said: "This sort of thing is detrimental to the service. We cannot force a man to pay his debts, but he would be well advised to do so."

Scottish storekeepers are not enthusiastic about giving credit. Many of them did it for the first time in their lives to men of the "Proteus".

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I went steadily with Harry for almost a year. Around Christmas I started knitting him a sweater. I bought yarn in his favorite colors and chose a style I knew he'd like. Some of my friends started telling me that Harry was hanging around another girl, but he denied it. Last Saturday night Harry called me, said he didn't feel well, and he broke our date for that night. My brother saw him out with this girl. We had a big fight over it and broke up for good. The sweater is now finished and I was going to give it to him for his birthday, which is in two weeks. Should I give it to him anyway?

HURT
 DEAR HURT: Certainly not. Keep the sweater and give him the needles.

DEAR ABBY: I have a niece who is in the fifth grade. Her marks are very poor, but it doesn't seem to bother her. She spends all her time tracing pictures. Every time I see her she knows me a stack of pictures she has traced and colored. I compliment her because she needs approval, but I feel like a hypocrite. Tracing is not creative. It's a waste of time. I asked her what four times four was and she didn't know. I tried to stress the importance of using one's own brain—LEARNING—things, but since she is not my child I couldn't be too firm with her. Should I point this out to her mother (my brother's wife), or would this be meddling?

CONCERNED AUNT
 DEAR AUNT: By all means talk to the child's mother. (And, if possible, be sure her father is present, too.) If no steps are taken to see that the child uses her time more constructively, you will at last have to.

Mishaps Logged In Area Monday

The Scurry County Sheriff's Department investigated a one-car mishap at 7:02 p. m. Monday on the Camp Springs Road near the Northeast Community Center.

Involved was a 1955 Pontiac driven by Mrs. Jennie Franklin Pepper, Rt. 1. Mrs. Pepper reported she was attempting to go around a vehicle stopped in the center of the road when she lost control of the vehicle on the grass shoulder. The car overturned. Mrs. Pepper was not injured.

At 4:05 p. m. Monday the Snyder city police investigated a mishap at Thirtieth Street. Involved were a 1956 DeSoto driven by Mrs. Vera McClanahan and a 1959 Studebaker driven by Marian Henry Holt.

Dances to the McClanahan car was estimated at $15 and to the Holt car at $35. There were no injuries.

Survival Of Pair Is Attributed To Faith

WHITEHORSE, Yukon Territory (AP)—A California pilot and an undaunted Brooklyn coed, both their strength flowing back today in a Whitehorse hospital after a seven-week ordeal of hunger and cold in the subzero Canadian north.

They said faith in God brought them through after their plane crashed Feb. 4.

Helén Klaben, 21, and Ralph Flores, 42, a father of six from San Bruno, Calif., said they survived in melted snow for the last six weeks.

"It was water for breakfast, water for lunch and water for dinner," said Miss Klaben, managing to smile for her rescuers although she had a broken, swollen right foot and a broken left arm—and was almost four months pregnant.

She lost 30 pounds—the heavily bearded Flores lost 40—but Miss Klaben quipped, "That was good thing about the experience, I used to be pleasantly plump."

Flores, a pilot and electrician, also is a Mormon lay preacher.

"His faith set the example for me to follow all my life," said Miss Klaben.

"I am starting my childhood with full knowledge of what I have to do. I wasn't rescued until I understood, until I realized my sins and decided to make reparation for them."

"It was Ralph's Bible I read both the Old and New Testaments. I know what I have to do, what my work is, what faith is, faith in God."

Miss Klaben said she never lost hope but was puzzled "why the Lord was keeping us so long."

Then, she told reporters, she realized "Ralph and I both needed time to think over our lives."

During the terrible experience in the wilderness, Miss Klaben said she longed for her mother, Ida Klaben of Brooklyn, more than anything or anyone else.

Her first act after arriving at the hospital here—where Dr. Nesta James reported she and Flores were "doing as well as can be expected"—was to telephone home.

In Brooklyn, Mrs. Klaben sobbed. "I'm so proud of my child, she's really growing up. I like to see her become a woman."

Flores, who broke ribs and frozen toes, also telephoned home when he got to the hospital.

"We were so happy and emotional we couldn't tell each other much," said his wife. "There's a big tear in his eye, I am sure, and I was the same way too."

Nancy Flores, 14, looked to her father. "I wish I could help you. I wish I could help you. I wish I could help you."

Flores told reporters he expects to be released from the hospital in about five days.

He said the right plane was blown off course in a snowstorm and crashed on a heavily timbered mountain as he and Miss Klaben flew from Fairbanks, Alaska, to Seattle, Wash.

Miss Klaben flew with Flores "because it was only $10 for the trip and it's $100 on a commercial airline," her brother, Edward, said in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Miss Klaben was finishing a five-month stint as a draftsman with the U.S. Bureau of Land Management.

She had also been looking for California prospects in Hong Kong for the last 10 days of a second world war. "I had reported the war on the way back to New York to continue engineering studies."

Panels Of Oilmen Rap Tax Revision

WASHINGTON (AP) — Oil industry spokesmen said today that proposed revision of mineral tax laws could drive independent oilmen out of business, dangerously increase dependence on foreign oil, raise the price of gasoline at the corner pump.

Two panels of oilmen hit out in testimony prepared for the House Ways and Means Committee, at some of the revenue-raising proposals in President Kennedy's tax cut and revision package. Their targets were proposals to change some rules on depletion allowances and to tighten tax treatment of foreign oil production by U. S. companies.

The depletion changes is estimated to raise $200 million a year in new revenues.

Oil and gas drilling likely will be cut back 10 per cent or more if the proposals on percentage depletion are adopted, Richard Gonzalez, director of Humble Oil & Refining Co., testified.

He said development of new reserves and investment in more efficient methods of recovering oil from old properties would be especially hard hit.

"Finally, I believe that from the standpoint of total tax revenues, the proposed changes could lead to a loss rather than a gain," Gonzalez said, arguing that reduced oil production would depress the economy enough to wipe out any tax advantage.

Harold Decker, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, said the demand for crude oil is expected to increase by 30 per cent and for natural gas to double in 15 years. Congress should foster policies, he said, that "increase, rather than decrease, exploration and development activities."

H. A. True Jr. of Casper, Wyo., president of the Rocky Mountain Oil and Gas Association, said his area already has undergone a 15 per cent reduction in drilling and "a further decline in the oil industry could well have catastrophic results."

Scott Lambert, tax lawyer for Standard Oil Co. of California, said proposals on taxation of foreign operations are discriminatory. He said they would discourage U.S. investment in underdeveloped countries, and make it harder to meet the worldwide competition of Soviet oil.

Another proposal, to tax more of the profit from sale of mineral properties as ordinary income rather than capital gains, drew fire from Wallace Wilson, vice president of Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Co.

Wilson said economic growth is not stimulated by measures which make it harder for oil producer to sell properties in order to finance ventures.

Librarians To Session

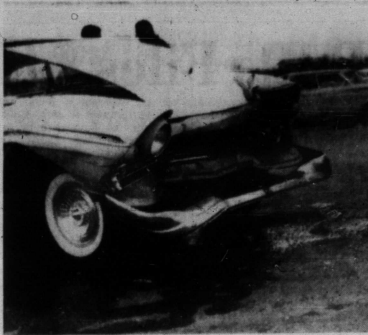

Four librarians from the Snyder school system and one county librarian will be leaving tomorrow for Dallas and the fiftieth anniversary meeting of the Texas Library Association.

Mrs. Jean Tyrone, member of the staff of the county library, will be attending as secretary of District 3. School librarians attending will be Mrs. Eva Nelson, Mrs. Phyllis Kelley, Mrs. Beth Curry and Mrs. Jo Park.

The theme of the fiftieth anniversary meeting will be "Texas Libraries—1910—The Challenge of the Future." Also at the Dallas meeting plans will be completed for the District 3 meeting in Snyder this fall.

Mrs. Nell Smith, Snyder County head librarian, is district chairman of District 3. There are 23 counties in the district.

The district meeting which will be held here this fall is the first to be held in Snyder since the completion of the county facility.

ONE INJURED—Manly D. Burrow, Rt. 1, suffered cuts on the face and loss of several teeth as a result of a rear-end collision at 6 p.m. Monday on East Thirty-seventh Street. Burrow, heading west in this car, struck the rear of an auto driven by Lonnie Coleman which was preparing to make a left turn. Burrow was taken to Cogdell Hospital by Bell Ambulance Service where he was treated and released. He reportedly was en route to the hospital to visit Mrs. Burrow who is a patient there. The mishap was investigated by the sheriff's department.

Parley Resumes On Berlin Issue

By ENDRE MARTON

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union today resume exploratory talks on Berlin.

Only one session is definitely planned, an afternoon meeting between Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin and Secretary of State Dean Rusk. The object is to see if serious East-West negotiations on Berlin are possible.

U.S. officials firmly declined to speculate about the possible outcome of the meeting. But they said privately they expect Dobrynin to expand on Soviet Premier Khrushchev's recent suggestion that the flags of the three Western occupying powers in West Berlin be replaced by the U.N. banner.

In proposing last January that new exploratory talks be held, Moscow gave no indication it is planning to make new proposals.

The Soviets, it is believed here, want to keep this channel of communications open not necessarily on Berlin alone. Dobrynin, some U.S. specialists feel, might bring up other issues, such as the Kremlin's old proposal for a non-aggression pact between the Atlantic alliance and the Communist bloc.

All this, officials stress, is little more than guessing.

Probes and negotiations dating back to the end of World War II have failed to produce any Berlin solution. The last series of U.S.-Soviet talks broke down last October, just before the Cuban crisis.

Leukemia Victim's Birthday Is Near

Mrs. Linda Jones is going to have a birthday tomorrow. She will be 17 years old. And unless modern medicine can work one of its miracles, it may be her last.

Linda became ill several weeks ago, and the doctors diagnosed the disease as the dread leukemia. Since that time, the condition has steadily worsened in spite of high-priced medicines and blood transfusions.

The Linda Jones Fund, currently being collected by Snyder firemen, has passed the $400 mark and now stands at $499.50. Contributions yesterday boosted the total some $40.

Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. New Bonner of Snyder. Bonner is employed as a city fireman. Mrs. Jones' husband works for a highway construction crew, and they presently are living in Denton.

Linda's father said Monday that "Linda knows she's awfully sick, but we still haven't told her just what's wrong. The doctors say the next two weeks will be critical."

Snyder firemen are hoping that Snyderites who can help in their drive for funds to help with Linda's illness. They hope that tomorrow — her birthday will be the biggest day yet.

So far, donations to the Linda Jones Fund have been received from Billy Joe Bruce, Gordon Warner, E. W. McLeod, Virgil Street, Howard Ray, James Maxwell, Billy Wood, Curry Skains, Roy Bonner, Mrs. A. C. Alford, A. C. Lively.

Also Mrs. A. P. Boyd, Mrs. Opal Taylor, Murry Boyd, Reed Auto Supply, Lee Slinson, Alton Greenfield, C. L. Thompson, Joe Vincent, Gertrude M. Dean David Casey.

Also fire department personnel, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Autry, N. W. Autry, Bill Arrandale, Leonard Keller, Doug McGowan, Jim Caddell, Kenneth Wood, Odell Cox, Floyd Pate, Melvin Calhoun, R. L. Von Roeder.

Also L. O. Bynum, Jerry Edwards, S. L. Terral, Floyd Allmond, Wayne Jones, R. N. Yielding, Odie Glasscock, Warren Boyd and Melvin Newton.

More than 18 million people in the United States were receiving over a billion dollars a month in old-age, survivors and disability Social Security benefits at the close of 1962.

Aid Message Due Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy will send a foreign aid message to Congress next Tuesday, congressional Democratic leaders reported after their weekly White House breakfast today.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the majority leader, said there was brief discussion of the Clay report recommending tighter rules for foreign aid spending.

Mansfield said he expects Gen. Lucius D. Clay, who headed the presidential commission looking into foreign aid, to be called before congressional committees to "clarify the differences that seem to have arisen" over the report.

House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts missed today's conference. The Democratic leaders reported he had gone to Boston to attend the funeral of a friend.

Supreme Court Gets Plea By Texas Pair

WASHINGTON (AP)—Attorneys for Leslie Ashley and Carolyn Ann Lima, convicted slayers scheduled to die in Texas' electric chair March 30, have taken the case to the U. S. Supreme Court.

A plea for a delay in the execution was to go to Associate Justice Hugo Black today.

Ashley, a female impersonator, and Miss Lima, an admitted sex deviate, were sentenced to die for the gun-torch slaying of Fred Tones, Houston real estate man. Should the executions be carried out, Miss Lima will be the first woman to die in the electric chair in Texas.

The pair claim the slaying was in self defense.

Between You And Me

BY JERRY JACKSON

While batting around the time of day recently with Dave Knapp, Lamesa writer, I was able to gain some insight into the baseball situation as it stands over in Dawson County in regard to the upcoming 3-AAA race.

The primary cause for enthusiasm on Knapp's part is that the Taradades have been hitting the long ball well for the first time in quite a while. Their won - lost record isn't impressive - beginning the week they had won two while dropping five - but shoddy fielding and an inexperienced big corps have both played vital parts in bringing on several of those losses.

In addition, the Taras have dropped some close ones down the line, and if the ball starts bouncing the other way they could make a tough job of the district race. Their two victories have been over Semole, a club that Snyder's Tigers will eventually face in a couple of non-district contests.

With the exception of one game in which Semole routed them by 22-4, all of the decisions involving the Taras have been by the margin of two runs or less. They have lost to Kermitt 11-12, to Levelland 6-7, and to Andrews 6-1 and 8-10. Their two triumphs over Semole were by scores of 8-7 and 6-4.

Tiger woes this year have paralleled those of Lamesa, with rickety fielding and ineffectual pitching taking their toll. In addition, however, Bengal hitting has been sub-par and they're still searching for the elusive home run.

Consistency in stick work should improve with the advent of district play, though. Such is generally the case, and there is no reason to assume that it will be otherwise this season. The reason for this is obvious when it is taken into account that at Snyder's six non-district games are against teams of class 4A stature. No other 3-AAA team can make that statement.

Experience is one valuable asset gained from playing such a murderous schedule, but it's not one designed for the fattening up of averages.

One-Armed Antics His Specialty

HERMLEIGH - My mother thought I should quit playing after I had the wing sheered off. She was afraid for me even when I went to college. But I talked her out of it.

These are the words of Bold Bule, who is scheduled to make an appearance here, Tuesday night, April 2, with his team of Harlem Stars. Opposing them that night will be a hand-picked group of area basketball coaches to serve as "straight men" for the festivities.

Bule matriculated at Tennessee State College at Nashville, from which he was graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Science a year ago last July. He was team captain for two years and led the conference in scoring, one-handed.

The best day for night he ever enjoyed was against Fisk University, backing 41 points. Obe Sapretein confirms the feat.

"I didn't believe it, either, at Fisk," admitted Sapretein. "Frankly, I signed Bule, as a freak attraction on the recommendation of his coach at Tennessee State. I tried him out in what amounts to Spring training for the Harlem Globetrotters against Loyola of Chicago. I didn't expect much."

Bule tallied 19 points from the floor on long shots, and Loyola is no push-over in the Midwest. Ask anybody. Bule wasn't ready to be top star on the Globetrotters, but was good enough, strictly on merit, to make first string on the Kansas City Five.

The way he takes the ball off the backboard, dribbles and passes and shoots with one hand is beyond belief.

Auditorium patrons will go for that Bule amazed seat holders by his ability to intercept hot passes. He has developed the trick of appearing the ball with his good hand, tucking it under his chin and nudging it into position with a nunching of the shoulder that has no arm appended.

How does a man knock down a basketball in flight?

"It's simple, just relax your hand," explained Bule. "Your fingers will close over it. A reflex action. If you're tense, the ball will bounce off as if against a brick wall."

Guard Bule's ambition is to coach after he grows too old to play.

Standard Keglers In Session Here Tonight

Bowlers in the Standard of Texas League are reminded of the general league meeting set for tonight in the County Barn located at Towle Park.

Meeting time is 7:30. In addition to the presentation of trophies for the past year's achievements, there will also be an election of officers for the coming year.

Yankees Go Home

AUSTIN (AP)—A 19-16 attack led Texas as 31 runs in a game against the Longhorns 15-6 in baseball Monday.

Minnesota scored four unearned runs in the second inning and Texas A&M won the victory with four more in the fourth.

Aggies Acquire Miller

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Texas A&M will have the state's top schoolboy miler this fall.

Jeffrey Earl of Midland, who already has done the distance in 4:26.4, announced Monday that he would attend A&M on a track scholarship.

Other outstanding individual performances were turned in by Philadelphia's Paul Brown, who was named MVP of the American League, and Minnesota's Ed Delmonico, who stroked five singles in Detroit's 4-3 triumph over Milwaukee.

When Tebbets came to the Cleveland reservation last winter from Milwaukee, he talked the Braves into letting Adcock go in a trade for pitcher Frank Frank and outfielder Don Dillard. Now the Indians can count on a big gun for their attack instead of a bow and arrow.

Adcock proved Monday he can supply the power that's been missing from the Cleveland attack. The 35-year-old first baseman smashed two three-run homers and singled to start another three-run uprising as the Indians whipped Houston 11-3 in an exhibition game at Tucson.

"Adcock should hit a lot of home runs if Cleveland," said Tebbets, who said he made the trade with the Braves because "we needed the one big guy who could hit the long ball. Adcock's batting average dipped to .248 last season, but he hit 25 homers and drove in 78 runs."

OPPONED WEEPS OVER MOORE'S DEATH - Newly crowned featherweight champion Sugar Ramos, 21, knockout victor in the fight in which Davey Moore was fatally hurt, weeps as he talks with newsmen at his Los Angeles hotel. MOORE DEATH TRIGGERS RENEWED ATTACK

New Outcries Voiced In Opposition To Fight Game

By The Associated Press

The death of Davey Moore from ring injuries brought mixed word of censure for the sport and praise for the champion, joined legislative leaders into steps aimed at further regulating or banning professional boxing and left his conqueror at the ropes.

Although the main damage causing Moore's death was described by a pathologist as "something that could happen on your front porch," it filled newly crowned champion Sugar Ramos with indecision about defending the featherweight title he took from Moore in last Thursday's fatal fight.

Ramos, his eyes black from Moore's blows and red from weeping, repeated over and over "no, no, no nada (I don't know, I don't know anything)" when he was asked Monday if he planned to fight again.

Legislators, meanwhile, were calling for more rigid controls on the sport—or its abolition—while Pope John XXIII castigated "list fights" as "contrary to natural principles" and "barbaric to pit brother against brother."

In New York State, where Paret died little less than a year ago after being knocked out in a welterweight title fight by Emile Griffith, a legislative committee will recommend the continuation of boxing under more stringent safeguards.

But in California, Connecticut, Illinois, Oregon and New Jersey will recommend the continuation of boxing in the past—officials promised to push for action against boxing.

Gov. Edmund G. Pat Brown of California, where the Ramos-Moore fight was held, steadfastly held that "boxing should be abolished." He said he would ask the legislature to submit a constitutional amendment to the voters in 1964 to eliminate boxing in the state.

On the other side of the argument were such men as James J. Farley, former postmaster general and lifetime chairman of the New York State Boxing Commission and Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner.

Farley said "the percentage of fatalities in boxing is extremely low. I see no reason to outlaw the sport." Gov. Kerner called boxing "a good manly art if managed safely and aboveboard."

Kerner said he understands Alty Gen. Robert Kennedy has agreed to have the commission established in the Justice Department, a move which Kennedy greeted with reluctance previously.

"I don't want to outlaw boxing to clear it up," Kerner emphasized, but then added "either it has got to be cleaned up and boxers protected or it ought to be abolished."

'Decider' Set This Evening

By The Associated Press

The Syracuse Nats, who have been having trouble with Cincinnati, hope for a "but-out game" against the Royals tonight in the deciding game of the Eastern Division semifinals in the National Basketball Association playoffs.

The Western Division semifinals also will finish tonight if the St. Louis Hawks beat the Detroit Pistons.

Syracuse, which enjoys the home court advantage, may be hindered by Johnny Kerr's shoulder injury. He was excused early from practice Monday but is expected to start. Coach Alex Hanum said, "We haven't had our but-out game against this club yet, but we're due."

Oscar Robertson, who led Cincinnati to a 123-116 victory Sunday that evened the best-of-5 series at 2-2, expects to be double teamed but Charley Wolf, the Hawks' coach, looks for the "Big O" to be effective as usual. Wolf said he is elated over his club's defensive efforts.

The winner plays at Boston Thursday night in the opener of the best-of-7 Eastern final against the champion Celtics.

Down 2-0 after losing the first two games at St. Louis, the Pistons stayed alive by beating the Hawks Sunday 117-103 and hope to even the series at 2-2 by again defeating the Hawks at Detroit tonight. In that event the fifth and deciding game will be played Wednesday at St. Louis.

The Western Division final will open in Los Angeles Sunday with the Lakers playing the winner of the St. Louis-Detroit series.

Perkins Has Operation

DALLAS (AP)—Don Perkins already is one of the top runners of the National Football League. Now he expects to be better since he will have a troublesome leg injury out of the way.

Perkins, the Dallas Cowboys star back, underwent an operation Monday to repair a bone in his foot. He had suffered from the injury both years he had played with the Cowboys.

A new Kennedy on the Washington scene is the Senators' rookie infielder John E. Kennedy who batted .300 and drove in 72 runs for Raleigh in the Class B Carolina League last season.

Butts Files $10 Million Suit

ATLANTA (AP)—Investigation into the alleged rigging of college football game continued today after a $10-million libel suit was filed against the magazine which published the rigging charges.

Wallace Burnett, former Georgia athletic director, filed the damage suit in federal court Monday against the Curtis Publishing Co., publishers of the Saturday Evening Post.

Butts, who resigned as athletic director in February, charged in the suit that the Post has ruined his coaching career of 35 years by "willfully, maliciously and falsely" publishing a libelous article. The suit asks $5 million in punitive and $5 million in general damages.

George Burnett, an Atlanta insurance salesman who was questioned by state and federal investigators Monday, was quoted in the Post as saying he overheard a telephone conversation between Butts and Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama.

Butts said in the suit that the Post charged him with "rigging" and fixing the Alabama-Georgia football game with Coach Bryant as a gambling device in order to restore his financial resources.

Among other questioned were Georgia football coach Johnny Griffith, Mitchell WerBell, a business associate of Butts; and Edward L. Quinn of Jacksonville, Fla., who administered a lie detector test to Butts.

Burnett, Butts and Bryant all have submitted to lie detector tests and have said the results indicated they told the truth.

Georgia Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook said Burnett would not be asked to take another test. But Cook said he was not satisfied with the type of tests Butts and Bryant have taken.

The attorney general said he would go to Alabama Wednesday in an effort to get Bryant to submit to a polygraph test by Maj. Barney Ragsdale, chief of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation and president of the American Academy of Polygraph Examiners.

Ragsdale said he was satisfied with Burnett's test after interviewing the operator, Sidney McMain of Atlanta, and viewing the charts.

But Ragsdale and Cook said the type of test taken by Butts last Wednesday in Jacksonville was not as reliable as the polygraph test.

However, Quinn said his machine was more accurate than the polygraph and said the test conducted absolutely that Wallace Butts did not divulge any secret information to Paul Bryant.

Donald F. O'Donnell, chief counsel for a U.S. Senate subcommittee looking into gambling in sports said he had found no evidence of gambling in the Butts-Bryant case but that his investigation was continuing.

Burnett's attorney, Pierre Howard, said after appearing before investigators that Burnett received $5,000 for information used for the Post.

"Burnett has never charged that Coach Butts or Bryant have done anything wrong," Howard said. "But he still insists that no football rules changes were discussed."

Butts and Bryant have said that they talked several times about rules.

Tigers Face 'Men Today In Lubbock

Lubbock Field in Lubbock is the site of today's non-district baseball battle matching the Snyder Tigers and Monterey Plainmen, with the first pitch slated to be delivered at 4 p.m.

Raymond Matthews has been granted the starting assignment for the Bengals, while southpaw Eidon Fox has been tagged for duty by Plainmen Coach Bobby Moegel. Today's mound appearance marks the first of the year for Matthews.

Monterey, one of the strongest in the West Texas area, carries a 14-2 record into today's fray. Snyder stands 1-17 for the year. The same two teams will meet in a doubleheader in Snyder Saturday.

Coach Speedy Moffett's announced Tiger batting order includes Drew Ballard, second base, .297; Bob Hall, left field, .031; Dalton Walton, center field, .263; Kenny Wellborn, first base, .378; Kenny Gay, catcher, .263; Domingo Pema, right field, .212; Leslie Brown, shortstop, .171; Martin Benitez, .167; or Jim Margum, .190, third base; and Matthews', pitcher, .000.

Colts Slicing Player Roster

ARACHE - JUNCTION, Ariz. (AP)—The Houston Colts were to take another whack at their major league today by sending six players to Oklahoma City.

Fifteen players were camped in Houston's minor league farm in Moultrie, Ga., Monday as the Colts made their first cut in manpower of the season.

The list included three pitchers getting their first sampling of major league action: Jerry Brown, Danny Coombs and Chuck Willett.

Others were pitchers Tom Burgess, Darrell Brandon, Marvin Dutt and Alan Goldfield; infielders Jim Todhunter, Sonny Jackson and Charlie Harrison; outfielders John Facionek, Aaron Painter and Ronnie Davis; and catchers Jerry Grote and John Hoffman.

Senior Boys, Faculty Vie Here Tonight

The senior class at Snyder High School is staging a unique basketball game here this evening which will match a group of senior boys against a team composed of faculty members.

Tipoff time is 7:30, and the public is cordially invited to attend the contest to be held in the Tiger Gym.

Admission prices are 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults, with proceeds from the venture going to the senior class.

The University of Houston Cougars have won the National Collegiate AA golf title six of the past seven years.

LL Meeting Set Tonight

A meeting of all persons interested in Little League baseball is scheduled for this evening in the Central Elementary School, advises coordinator Mutt Herod. The meeting is to get underway at 7:30.

Brakes Applied To Fishing Expedition

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Looking for Communist subversion is one thing but using communism as an excuse for prying into the private affairs of private organizations is something else and is not to be tolerated.

This in effect was Monday's Supreme Court decision throwing out the conviction of Theodore R. Gibson. It puts a brake on fishing expeditions by legislative committees that lack a legitimate excuse for asking questions.

Gibson was president of the Miami branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People when in 1959 a Florida legislative committee demanded he produce the membership list.

The committee said it wanted the list to ask him whether it included any of 14 persons named by a committee investigator as Communist Party members who took part in NAACP activities. The chairman told Gibson the committee was first concerned with the activities of various organizations which have been operating in various fields, including race.

The chairman also said the inquiry would be directed toward Communist activities, including infiltration of organizations operating in various fields, including race.

Gibson looked at the names and photographs of the 14 persons previously identified as Communist members of front organizations. He said he could associate none of them with the NAACP. But he refused to produce the list of the Miami NAACP's membership of about 1,000 persons, arguing he didn't have to because of the First and Fourteenth amendments protecting rights of free speech and free association.

He was charged with contempt, tried in a state court, convicted and sentenced to six months in jail. His appeal finally reached the Supreme Court.

Justice Arthur Goldberg read the majority opinion putting aside the conviction.

He said the court wasn't denying the "legislative right" to investigate or legislate with "free access to supervisory activities by Communists or anyone else."

He said the decision deals only with the manner in which such power is exercised.

"We hold simply," he said, "that groups which themselves are neither engaged in subversive nor other illegal or improper activities, nor demonstrated to have any substantial connection with such are to be protected in their rights of free and private association."

He pointed out there was no suggestion that the NAACP or its Miami branch were subversive organizations and that the record of the case indicates the NAACP is against communism.

In other words, the court held that the Florida committee didn't have a real excuse in this case to say it was looking for Communists in the NAACP and without such an excuse it had no right to pry in privacy.

In this case, Goldberg explained, the real object of the investigation was not to find Communists but to dig into the NAACP to find out who its members were since the investigators already knew about the Communists they had in mind.

There have been previous decisions along this line. Monday's ruling was just one more step in the increasing effort the court is making to protect individual freedoms.

Goldberg said his opinion doesn't interfere with the right of a state legislature to inform itself through investigations to protect its vital interests. In this case, by the court's findings, Florida's vital interests were not at stake. Legislative investigators may

Theories On Ship's Fate Are Advanced

NEW YORK (AP)—More theories about why the Marine Sulphur Queen never made it to Norfolk from Beaumont in February with a load of molten sulphur and a crew of 39 have been advanced at a Coast Guard inquiry.

The engineer who commanded the tanker and inspected it on the eve of its last voyage said the vessel might have hit a mine or a submerged object or capsized when rolling in a freak wave.

Engineer Raymond McGraw of Edmond, Wash., told the board his ideas were "just conjectures."

Rear Adm. James Craik, presiding, asked, "There was no indication that something was amiss?"

"No," the witness replied. McGraw works for Marine Transport Lines, Inc., operators of the vessel.

Texas Gulf Sulphur Co., which chartered the tanker, said in a statement it was impossible that the hot sulphur cargo could have exploded and "possible, but not probable" that the ship broke in two.

McGraw told about repairs, checklists and inspections. He said a number of "pinhole" leaks in tanks or pipes has been fixed before the voyage but that he knew of no dangerous condition.

Oil production rose 24,600 barrels a day last week, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Average daily production 7,466,373 barrels, the trade magazine said.

Oklahoma output of 574,400 barrels, daily was up 14,300.

Arkansas produced 75,000, Louisiana 1,200,000, New Mexico 304,200, and Texas 2,580,900.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — Probably no one fully grasps the extent of serious problems and lingering disappointments that lie ahead of us in the form of political campaigns.

The whole thing stems from some little-known history that stays in a dust bin until just before election time. And with elections coming up in Mexico as well as the United States, people are getting ready to study the book and devise some strategy.

This, of course, consists in revising campaign promises. And the frustrating part is in trying to find something new to present the public.

Agnes ago Basil Taloc was running for Rain God on the Aztec ticket in what was possibly the first election held in this hemisphere. His opponent, Winston Pontillaz, made a rash promise of a tortilla for every man, woman and child if elected.

In the heat of battle, Basil leaped to his feet and shouted everyone in Mexico would have egg in his pulque if they put him in office.

Basil was elected by a landslide. And the morning after he was sworn in as a deity, the nation drank pulque with a fresh egg in it.

This custom was carried down through the ages until it has now become a terrifying problem in Washington. For instance, the Democrats and Republicans have filed joint protests with the Supreme Court charging each other with having used all available promises.

Mexico, on the other hand, is in a rather comfortable position because there still is a need for things like roads, dams, bridges and factories. Such things can be promised and delivered.

Rains Head Eastward

By The Associated Press
Rain and showers splashed across the central and southeast sections of the nation today and headed eastward to the Atlantic Coast.

The nation's weather pattern showed only minor changes, with some wet spots, mild in eastern areas and cool in the northern plains.

A belt of showers and thunderstorms continued during the night along and ahead of an eastward moving cold front that extended from southeast Wisconsin southward to south central Texas. Thunderstorms rumbled across areas in the lower Mississippi Valley, in parts of the Southeast and western lower Great Lakes. Hail pelted areas in Illinois and Missouri.

Light snow mixed with rain hit areas in west central Wisconsin Monday. Rain and gusty winds lashed the northern plains. Freezing weather was confined to the northern plains, with temperatures in the 30s in parts of the northern border states.

The warm air which spread across eastern areas Monday sent the mercury to 79 in New York City, a record high for the date. It was 89 in Washington, D.C., the highest mark since last Oct. 18.

Oilman Sees Many Future Discoveries

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON (AP)—An oil executive said today more domestic petroleum will be discovered in the future than in the past.

Morgan Davis of Houston said atomic power likely will be important in energy production before the century ends, but oil and gas will remain dominant for years to come.

In a speech to 5,000 or so earth scientists, the chairman of the Humble Oil & Refining Co. said it is impossible to make a meaningful estimate of ultimate U.S. production of oil and gas.

"The knowledge we do have is sufficient to convince me, however, the largest portion of our discovery and development of domestic petroleum resources still lie ahead," he said.

"There are still vast portions of our sedimentary basins and sedimentary columns in North America waiting to be explored," he said. "We have probably only begun to scratch the surface."

Oilmen contend tax proposals President Kennedy has placed before Congress would boost the industry's taxes $200 million a year and would reduce incentive for expensive exploratory operations.

Davis made only indirect reference to the tax proposals.

He said the resource potentiality of the industry's North American hunting grounds is bright.

"If we can preserve our traditional American freedoms and favorable economic climate—and in the end I believe we shall—then I have not the slightest doubt as to our success," he said.

133-Year-Old Man Is Dead

ENSENADA, Mexico (AP)—A man who had a birth certificate that showed he was 133 years old is dead in Ensenada.

He was Bernardo Ramirez Hernandez, known affectionately as "little grandfather."

Ramon Moreno, manager of the funeral home which conducted funeral services and burial Sunday, said the birth certificate shows that Ramirez Hernandez was born in Guanajuato, Mexico in 1830.

Moreno said, "He was never ill. He drank tequila every day." His death Friday was attributed to his age.

Moreno said the aged man's birth certificate appeared to be a copy of a church recording.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Outlaw Jr. still aren't sure exactly how it happened, but it cost them $51 to get through the Baltimore-harbor tunnel.

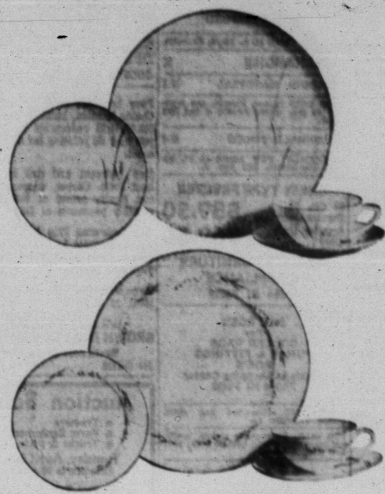

Outlaw, 22, of Wilmington, Del., was sleeping and his wife was at the wheel as they reached the tunnel Sunday night on a trip from their home to Washington, D.C. Somehow, they wound up in a northbound approach to the tunnel.

The Outlaws were told they would have to pay 50 cents going where they didn't wish to go, and 50 cents to get back to where they were supposed to go.

On the return trip, Outlaw threw the second half-dollar at a collector and refused to heed her whistle to stop. He was charged with disorderly conduct and fined $50 Monday in municipal court.

Asks South Texas Political Probe

AUSTIN (AP)—A Dallas legislator Monday night that freedom is "practically nonexistent" in a number of South Texas counties.

Rep. Dick Morgan, Dallas Republican House member, presented a resolution to the House State Affairs Committee calling for an investigation "into voting irregularities and misuse of public funds for political purposes."

Morgan singled out Jim Wells, Jim Hogg, Duval, Starr and Brooks counties, all in the 70th Legislative District.

He said this was done because these counties in the past have given Texas a "black eye" in the eyes of the nation. He said public attention was focused nationally on the area after the disputed results of Box 13 in Duval County in the 1948 election which sent Lyndon Johnson to the Senate.

Morgan traced recent action in the events leading up to the impounding of absentee ballots from Starr County.

Two Starr County men were indicted by a Travis County grand jury for violating the state election laws.

George Edgerston, Rio Grande City, said, "We are in bad shape down there and things are going to get worse unless someone does something about it."

Walter Purcell, Alice attorney, said he represented a group of Alice women "who can prove irregularities in the last general election."

Purcell said votes were cast by patients in a home for the aged where the voters "were mentally and physically incapable."

He said "the Jim Wells grand jury ignored this."

Q. P. Carrillo, Duval County attorney, appeared in favor of the bill, but asked that the scope be expanded to look into the Republican and Democratic primary elections along with the general election.

Both the Democrats and the Republicans had supervisors at the polls and no irregularities were reported," Carrillo said.

The resolution was sent to a subcommittee.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former California Gov. Goodwin J. Knight says he will open a Rockefeller-style president office here Wednesday.

An uncommitted delegation snatched too much of potential political deals," he told a newsmen Monday.

Murray H. Chotiner, long a political confidant of Richard M. Nixon, said, "It is difficult to believe that Nixon supporters will stand idly by and allow Knight to walk off with a Rockefeller slate."

Knight has long expressed admiration for New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Nixon's supporters have been plumping for an uncommitted California delegation. There is talk such a group may be headed by former U.S. Sen. William F. Knowland.

Santa Monica, Calif. (AP)—Patrick Farrow, 19, son of actress Maureen O'Sullivan, and the late movie director John Farrow, was convicted Monday of narcotic possession.

He had presented the case to a Superior Court judge on the transcript of a preliminary hearing Beverly Hills police who arrested the youth last Oct. 23 said they found marijuana and a hypodermic syringe in his possession.

He was ordered to return to court April 23 for sentencing.

Potent Tonic Is Needed To Cure Unemployment Problem

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—It will take more than a spring tonic to cure the disease of unemployment. But many communities are hoping that spring—or the government—corporate expansion plans will help soon.

In some areas joblessness is acute, closely tied to a local economic mishap. In others it is a chronic problem. But in many more-fortunate regions the rate is about normal for an ever-changing economy like the American, so low that some people find it easy to overlook.

Causes vary from region to region. In some places, like Sioux City, Iowa, the shadow is cast by an announced plan to close down packing plants. In others, like parts of West Virginia and Pennsylvania, the cause is the long swing away from manual coal mining and competition from other fuels, plus the breather the steel industry took in mid-1962.

Some New England communities still suffer from the loss of textile mills that moved South, or from a drop in shipbuilding orders. The decline in iron ore mining in the Mesabi Range still plagues Duluth, Minn.

Some communities suffer quickly, but usually temporarily, from the freaks of nature. Examples: Food processing plants shut down after rare freezes in Florida, Southern California and Texas citrus and vegetable areas. Late winter floods have destroyed plants as well as homes in some Midwest and Southeast communities. To property damage is added the cost of unemployment, which drags the economy down.

And policy changes in Washington can spell boom or bust.

Long Island, N.Y., towns flooded with expected prosperity when Grumman aircraft was named an associate in the TFX plane program.

Canceling the Skybolt missile development contract hit some California communities where Douglas Aircraft and a major subcontractor, Northrop, had 19 lay off employees' When North American Aviation's XB70 supersonic bomber program is stretched out workers are lulled.

Wichita, Kan., is hit when Boeing loses the TFX contract to General Dynamics but is boosted by a step-up in other defense projects. Some military bases have been closed or slowed down—and so has the business life of nearby cities.

Many regions can report employment gains mixed with rising unemployment here and there. High auto sales volume has helped cut jobless totals in Detroit and other carmaking centers.

The St. Louis, Mo., Federal Reserve Bank reported business activity declined after mid-1962 in St. Louis and Springfield, Mo.; Louisville, Ky.; and Little Rock and Fort Smith, Ark. But Memphis, Tenn., stayed on a plateau after midyear and Evansville, Ind., reported a slow increase during the entire year. The Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond reports factory jobs in the 5th District hit a record high of 1,466,000 in 1962. But a decline in manufacturing employment started late in the year and continued into 1963, although employment in the services and retail trade is up in most places. The district covers Virginia, Maryland, West Virginia, the Carolinas and the District of Columbia. Employment is at a seasonal high in California. The Bank of America says offsetting declines in the aerospace industries are gains in such industries as rubber, metals, non-electrical machinery and instruments.

But in spite of the many regional variations on the theme, the nation is now so unified economically that changes in the general health can cause some notes as sweet in most places.

And the over-all picture is this: At winter's end unemployment has risen to five million, or 6.1 per cent of the labor force, the highest ratio since November 1961. The government officially labels 46 areas as having serious jobless problems.

REPORT FROM MOTOR TREND EXPERTS ON THE '63 RAMBLERS:

"prove their mettle...reliability, performance in actual testing"

RAMBLER 6-V8 "Car of the Year"

MOTOR TREND Magazine's auto experts never handle the "Car of the Year" with kid gloves. They slammed Ramblers over back-country roads and reported, "rough roads can be stomped with confidence." They studied Rambler's Advanced Unit Construction—found it "so strong it'll take punishment longer." Finally, they summed up Rambler '63 by saying: "It's an even better value than before."

Women who cook electrically know...

Electric cooking is COOLER because it's flameless

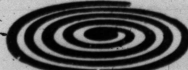

Flameless electric cooking units fit snugly against pan bottoms. They put their heat into the pans where it is needed, not into the kitchen air. With an electric range your kitchen stays degrees cooler when you cook. And there is less kitchen heat for your air conditioner to remove.

An electric range oven is insulated all around, including the bottom, to keep heat inside where it belongs. This is possible because the electric oven, being flameless, does not require a flow of air into and out of it to support combustion. Result: your kitchen stays cooler when you are baking or roasting.

Electric cooking also is clean, fast, accurate and economical. See your dealer soon for a flameless electric range and enjoy all these benefits. Electric cooking is one of the nicest things about living better... electrically.
