

FROM THE WHEAT FIELDS TO THE ELEVATORS: In the photos at left, self-propelled combines cut into 40-bushel wheat on the Ben Taack place in the western part of the county. The machines keep moving, even while dumping their grain, and trucks move alongside as the automatic loaders go into operation.

The next stop is the long line of trucks along Highway 60, waiting endlessly to take their turn at one of the Hereford elevators. In the center, background, looms the 170-foot tower of the new Fraser elevator, which is just being completed. Next stop is the scales, where the load is weighed and sample of grain tested, and the last stop as the load is dumped into the elevator. These photos were made this week at Hereford elevators. Needed to complete the series: a picture of box cars being loaded for shipment to terminal elevators: None were on hand when these pictures were made (Monday morning). Combines and box cars were the big shortages as harvest got into swing over the week-end. There was plenty of wheat. (Center photo by Alex Thompson. Others by the Brand.

Urlin Streu has found out that the old gag about being unable to give away five dollar gold pieces has a ring of truth. Streu was driving around Sunday afternoon and noticed the long line of trucks parked along the highway waiting to get to the elevators. The day being hot and Streu being in a benevolent frame of mind, he returned to town, picked up a few cases of soda pop, dumped it into a tub of ice in his pick-up, and returned to the highway where he began offering bottles of cold pop to the truck drivers... free. That's where he ran into trouble. The truckers were highly suspicious and inclined to look a gift horse in the mouth. "What's the catch, bud?" was the typical reaction. Streu was to explain in detail to practically every driver that there wasn't any catch at all, and finally hit on the idea of telling them he was just doing it as an advertising stunt for his store. Last Rites For Rem Witherspoon This Afternoon

R. S. "Rem" Witherspoon, former Hereford businessman and Deaf Smith County farmer, died here Wednesday, July 2. He was 72 years old.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the E. B. Black Funeral Home. The Rev. John Sharp, Canyon, former pastor of the local Presbyterian church is in charge of the rites. He is to be assisted by the Rev. Russell A. Wingert, present pastor.

Remington Samuel Witherspoon was born November 29, 1874. He came to Deaf Smith County and settled at La Plata in 1890.

At one time a rider for the KIT ranch, Witherspoon was a member of a team of four "bronc busters" who broke wild horses for the KIT, LS and LX ranches in the Panhandle. Other members of the group were Charlie Smith and his brother and Anderson Witherspoon.

Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. Myrtle Witherspoon; two sons, a daughter, three brothers and one sister.

The sons are James W. Witherspoon, Hereford, and Raymond Witherspoon, Colorado. Mrs. Clifford Penman, Steamboat Springs, Colorado, is the daughter.

Brothers of the deceased are Vern, B. A. and Hugh Witherspoon, all of Hereford. His sister is Mrs. L. M. Pertach, Austin.

Cafeteria for High School Is Planned

A new school cafeteria to serve Hereford High and Junior High Schools will be in operation for the opening of school this fall, Supt. George Graham has announced.

A building purchased from the Prisoner of War Camp is being moved to the school grounds this week to house the cafeteria. The frame building, 30 by 92 feet, will be located immediately south of the Junior High School building.

Elevators Overflowing With Harvest Barely Underway Here

Two Crashes at Rail Crossing Are Non-Fatal

Two railway crossing accidents, both incident to the harvest rush, occurred here within a space of 12 hours Sunday and Monday with drivers making near-miraculous escapes on both occasions.

Both crashes occurred at the Fraser crossing of the Santa Fe tracks.

Late Sunday afternoon, a 1936 Chevrolet driven by Guy Cornelius was smashed by the Santa Fe streamliner. The Grand Canyon passenger limited. The train sheared off the front wheels and grill of the car.

Cornelius had started to cross the tracks, found the way blocked by a wheat truck, and attempted to back out of the path of the east-bound passenger when he discovered that another wheat truck had pulled in behind him, blocking the exit. Cornelius, with a child in the car with him, seized the youngster and bailed out... in a hurry.

The speeding train neatly sheared off the front of his car. No one was injured.

Monday morning at the same crossing, a loaded wheat truck driven by E. A. Viles of Levelland, pulled into the crossing in the path of a speeding east-bound freight train.

The engine struck the truck on the right side of the cab, virtually demolishing the vehicle and scattering the load of wheat on the ground.

Viles escaped with injuries to his left arm and cuts and bruises about the head. He was rushed to a local doctor by ambulance, but was not admitted to the hospital. (Continued on Page 4)

Baylor Dean Is Named to Succeed Dr. J. A. Hill at West Texas State

Dr. James P. Cornette, dean of Baylor University at Waco, has been selected by the Board of Regents to succeed Dr. J. A. Hill as president of West Texas State College at Canyon in 1948.

Dr. Hill will retire in August of next year after nearly half a century of teaching and college administration. He has been president of West Texas State College since 1912.

Dr. Cornette will arrive at Canyon in January of next year to assume duties as Executive Vice President of the college, a newly-created position, and on August 31, 1948, he will officially take over the administration of the school from the retiring president.

Announcement of the selection of Dr. Cornette, and of Dr. Hill's retirement, was made Saturday by Judge W. L. Kerr of Midland, president of the Board of Regents.

The new president-elect is a native of Kentucky and a graduate of the University of Virginia, where he received his Master's Degree in 1930. He received his Ph.D. degree at George Peabody Teachers College in 1938.

He taught and coached athletics in Kentucky high schools during the early 30's, and later joined the faculty at Bowling Green State College where he served as both instructor and administrator. During the war he was coordinator of educational program for the 321st College Training Detachment of the Army Air Corps from April 1943 until July 1944, going then to Baylor University as Dean.

A Baptist and a Mason, he is also a member of Phi Delta Kappa and Phi Kappa Delta fraternities, and is author of several books.

Wheat Loan Is Set at $1.80 In This Area

Loan and support prices on wheat for the 1947-48 harvest season have been set officially at $1.80 per bushel for Deaf Smith, Farmer, Castro, and adjoining counties, F. G. Collier, secretary of the Deaf Smith county PMA office, announced yesterday.

The loan price, which supplants an interim loan price of $1.77 per bushel set ten days ago, was announced by the Department of Agriculture on July 1.

The interim support and loan price was set up ten days ago to provide a basis for loans for growers wanting to take advantage of the PMA program on early wheat. Parity for the new crop year, on which the loan rate is based, was determined as of July 1.

Rate of interest on the loan is three per cent.

The loan fee has been set at one-half-cent a bushel for wheat stored in approved warehouses, one cent a bushel for wheat stored on the farm.

Farm-stored wheat must remain in storage for 30 days before the loan can be granted. Collier pointed out, and must not more than 13 per cent moisture at the time of inspection.

Any approved lending agency can handle the government loans, Collier said.

The purchase agreements in addition to the loans offered growers are a new feature of the 1947 wheat support program, and are designed to simplify the program for farmers. Agriculture Department official said. In most previous years, only loans have been made available.

Hereford Rainbow Girls Win High Honors at Texas State Assembly

Girls from the Hereford Rainbow Assembly, delegates to the Grand Assembly of the Order at Dallas last week, returned last weekend with an impressive array of honors won at the state meeting.

Thirty-three Hereford girls attended the Grand Assembly, accompanied by their sponsors, and thirty-one of this group won A and B certificates in the work of the Order. This was the largest group from any local assembly to win these awards.

The Hereford group was the only assembly in the state to present a drill, according to Mrs. A. L. Manjeet, mother advisor of the local chapter.

Four Grade Schools Will Be Kept in Rural High District

Four grade schools (first through sixth grades) will be operated in the Hereford Rural High School district this fall, Supt. George Graham revealed yesterday.

In addition to Central School in Hereford, grade schools will be maintained at Dawn, Summerfield, and Westway.

Students from Daniel school, north of Dawn, will probably be transferred to the Dawn school, Graham said.

All junior high and high school students in the district will be transported to Hereford to attend Hereford Junior High.

Several new buses are being purchased this summer to replace worn-out equipment transferred to the Rural High School District by the rural school districts included in the consolidated district.

Graham outlined plans for the new Rural High School district at a meeting of the Hereford Lions Club yesterday at noon at City Hall.

Shortage Of Box Cars Is Critical

All grain elevators in the Hereford area were overflowing yesterday afternoon, with barely a dent made so far in the biggest wheat crop this country has ever made.

Grain men estimated that little more than five per cent of the wheat in this county has been cut. Ninety-five per cent is ready.

Wheat is already being piled on the ground all over the area, and no relief appears to be in sight. Up to yesterday afternoon, elevator men estimated that only about fifty cars of wheat had been shipped from Hereford. Of these, nearly 50 per cent were gondolas. The box car shortage is on with a vengeance.

Some two million bushels of wheat are now piled in Hereford elevators. The story is the same all over the area. Only a trickle of box cars have been available so far.

A 125,000 bushel elevator now under construction at Fraser Grain Company will not be ready for use before the week-end, although the company had hoped to have the new storage available by mid-week. Even that relief will be temporary unless there is a vast influx of box cars to move the grain to terminal elevators.

Combines are still in short supply. A few were beginning to move into the area at mid-week. The office of the County Agent, which is acting as a clearing house for combines, trucks, and harvest labor, is complaining of a lack of cooperation on the part of growers.

Many growers have placed orders for combines, then failed to notify the office when machines were obtained. Others have not sent in requests. Every effort is being made to place combines as rapidly as they become available.

Local banks, as well as most business houses, will remain open tomorrow, (Friday, July 4) to accommodate harvest business.

NO RATTLESNAKES, BUT PET ALLIGATOR FEATURES KID'S SHOW

Two Hundred Youngsters Turn Out to March in Parade Saturday

More than 200 youngsters, and a countless number of assorted pets ranging from lady-bugs and baby alligators through the whole gamut of dogs, cats, rabbits, and birds to some sizeable horses, took part in the Lions Club-sponsored Pet Parade here last Saturday morning.

The sponsors, who had advertised that "any kind of pet except a rattlesnake" would be permitted to take part in the show got just about everything they asked for.

There weren't any snakes, but Nan Buckner walked off with the prize for the "most unusual" pet by marching in the parade with a real, live baby alligator on her shoulder.

Young William Rice was awarded the prize for the "biggest" pet by parading his horse, a sizeable bay.

Beverly Ann Billingsley, exhibiting considerable originality, had no trouble taking the prize for the "smallest" pet, with a pint fruit jar full of assorted bugs.

The judges selected a pair of love birds, carried by Geneva Clouse as "the most beautiful", and Martin Reid Moore with his pony and cart captured the prize for the "best trained."

Award for having the ugliest pet went to Jack Pinkert for a large, shaggy dog of undetermined ancestry.

The prizes were certificates entitling the winners to merchandise from local stores.

The youngsters gathered at ten o'clock Saturday morning at the First Baptist Church with their pets, paraded the length of Main street and back and then adjourned to the shady side of the street north of the courthouse for the judging.

More than 200 youngsters, ranging in age from toddlers of four or five to high school age, took part in the show.

Judges were Bill Smith, Jean Streu, and Robert Thompson.

After the prizes were awarded, the kids adjourned to the Texas Theater for a special free showing of "Little Miss Marker," starring Shirley Temple, a revival from the Children's Film Library series.

Despite requests that pets be taken home before the show, a considerable number of the smaller variety found their way into the movie to help make it a "full house" for the special showing.

The event was sponsored by the Hereford Lions Club, with the cooperation of the Texas Theater.

S. O. Wilson Routs Would-Be Car Thief at Home Here Monday Afternoon; Man Escapes

S. O. Wilson had the rare experience Monday afternoon of recovering his own stolen car.

Wilson was doing after lunch Monday at his home at 307 West 6th Street when he heard the engine of his car, parked in the drive next the house, roar into activity. Going to the door to see what was going on, Wilson saw a tall, lanky stranger at the wheel, backing the car rapidly out of the drive.

Wilson rushed to the street and managed to clamber on the running board as the would-be thief, obviously excited, killed the engine in trying to get off to a fast start.

"Where are you going with my car?" Wilson demanded. "This isn't your car," the stranger replied coolly. "It belongs to God and I'm taking it."

Wilson wasn't ready to concede the question of ownership, and ordered the stranger out of the car. He refused to move, but after thinking it over for a bit, insisted on returning the car to the driveway where he had found it.

On the way back, with Wilson still on the running board, the man insisted that Wilson knew him. "You know my father," he repeated. Wilson was still

CAR THEFT MYSTERY IS SOLVED BY OFFICERS

Mystery of the attempted theft of a car belonging to S. O. Wilson on Monday was solved Tuesday morning when local officers identified the man involved as a mentally unbalanced war veteran visiting in the home of relatives here.

The man had recently been released from the asylum, and was being returned there Tuesday afternoon, Sheriff J. C. Reese reported.

When questioned Tuesday, Reese said, he was rational and remembered nothing of the incident of the previous day.

doubtful about the acquaintance, pressed for more details and only got a vague statement that the stranger lived at Happy.

With the car back in the driveway, the man got out and squared away as if to attack Wilson, who retreated to the house and began looking for a .38 revolver. Finding the gun, he discovered it was empty.

"I've owned that gun for 20 years and the first time I've ever needed to use it, it was unloaded," he reported somewhat ruefully. Son Woody had been rabbit hunting.

He located a box of shells left to replace the missing ones, however, but found them to be "specials" too long for the revolver chamber. After an unsuccessful attempt to reach officers by telephone, Wilson managed to cut part of the soft lead nose off three of the shells so they would fit in the revolver. By this time, however, his would-be thief had departed. Officers are still on the look-out for him.

Clyde McMahon Jr. of Big Spring is visiting in the home of his aunt, Mrs. O. L. Click.

OBJECTS TO CLOSING

Chamber of Commerce: I have read with considerable interest, in the Brand, and the letter put out by you, in reference to closing time of stores etc.

6:30 P. M. during summer, is almost the middle of afternoons, with the sun high in the heavens. Farmers coming to town for supplies, finding places of business closed, get mighty hot under the collar and complain bitterly about this early closing rule.

Seems the best plan is for the merchants to agree upon a plan for at least one store in the different lines of business, to stay open, say until 10 o'clock at night, this to be rotated so that each store will be given a chance. This plan will prove a great convenience to the farmers and will be fair to all merchants, and this plan should also apply to early opening time. Several farmers are complaining bitterly about this early closing of stores, and one of the biggest and wealthiest farmers here, is threatening to pull up stakes, sell out and go where accommodations are better. Amarillo some years ago had this same problem up, and now one of the largest stores never closes, in fact and they have no keys to their front doors.

Variety in Picture and Story Available in Children's Books Now In County Library

Sea monsters, balloons, rabbits, horses and dogs will parade before Hereford's youngest readers in the new juvenile books on display in the Deaf Smith County Library.

Included in the group are four books from the True Nature Series being published currently by Encyclopedia Britannica. There are Picture Stories of "Adventures of Bunny Rabbit," "Three Little Kittens," "Fride the Saddle Horse," and "Shep the Farm Dog."

Instead of drawings, the full-page illustrations in the series are actual photographs of the animals and persons in action. Three volumes which are very popular with children of grade-school age according to Librarian Mrs. Clara McLean, are those which won the book award given by the New York Herald-Tribune this year. The winners are Marie Hall Ets' "Ole the Sea Monster"; William Pene Du Bois' "The 21 Balloons"; and Claire Huchet Bishop's "Pancakes-Paris."

The first, with story and pictures by Mrs. Ets, tells of a baby seal who lost his mother and of his adventures in trying to find her.

A book "for all ages" is "The 21 Balloons." It truly captures "the spirit and thrill of the period in which long distance free ballooning was the last word in aeronautics."

The Bishop book in a simple and gentle way makes the American child who is accustomed to plenty of everything realize for a moment what actual shortages can mean to children overseas in less fortunate countries.

The Christmas miracle told in Bible verses with full-page illustrations is Jessie Orton Jones' and Elizabeth Orton Jones' "A Little Child." Colorful pictures and lively description make Anthony's day on the merry-go-round real to little readers in "The Little Carousel," by Marcia Brown.

New primers and readers for all grades, especially for the first four grades include "Donald Duck and His Friends," "Smoky the Crow," "At Don's Farm" and "The Painted Calf."

In stories told by Jean Ayer and illustrated by Walt Disney, Donald Duck is seen as a wood-cutter, explorer, ostrich keeper and spectator at a dog show. The second grade reader, "Smoky the Crow" by Huber, Salisbury and Gates pictures the bird at the circus, as a farmer and in many other adventures that only a crow could have.

Laura Ulery's "At Don's Farm" is a part of the Guidance in Reading Program; it shows in color illustrations Don's life on his father's farm with Clucker, the hen, and King, a collie dog. Another Huber, Salisbury and Gates volume is the first grade book "The Painted Calf" which portrays the escapades of Billy and Betty on the farm.

Full of humor describes Margaret and H. A. Rey's "Pretzel and the Puppies." Pretzel is the longest Dachshund in the world, and with Greta, his wife, and their five children, he can get into some "real scrapes."

Two other juveniles with clever stories and attractive illustrations are "Clover," by Fritz Willis—the account of a cottontail rabbit; and "Perrito's Pup," Barbara Latham—the story of a baby dog who came to live with old dog, Perrito.

Mrs. Carl Oldham and baby daughter are here for a week's visit with her mother, Mrs. G. P. Cockrell, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Z. Oldham. Mrs. Oldham lives in Canadian.

BY MRS. MERLIN KAUL

Harvest is in full swing in this community this week. From most reports yields are good and test good. Many report from 20 to 30 bushels per acre.

Hail last Wednesday evening hailed out much wheat in the north part of the community. Among those with complete loss were Manuel Hawks and Raymond Childers.

There was small attendance at Sunday School Sunday as so many farmers were in the fields. Everyone is urged to be present Sunday. Rev. Eurich will fill his appointment.

Erman Campbell of Breckenridge is staying at the Joe Landers and hauling wheat.

Mrs. Nestor Gass and Miss Ella Aikman of Hereford were callers at the Merlin Kaul home Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. W. E. Combs, Cliff and W. E. of Plainview were week end visitors in the Elmer Combs home.

Supper guests in the Elmer Combs home Saturday night included Mrs. W. E. Combs, Cliff and W. E. of Plainview and Mrs. Don Combs of Hereford.

Nelson and Glenn Pierce of Hereford were visitors a couple days last week in the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Pierce.

Mrs. Leland McMurray and boys of Hereford were visitors Sunday afternoon in the home of her mother, Mrs. Grace Little.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Little, Jr. attended the wedding of her brother, Frank Robbins and Miss Ruth Moreman Sunday morning at 8 o'clock at the Moreman home at Ward. They went on to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Robbins at Frio and spent the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Combs were hosts at a supper Friday night honoring Mr. and Mrs. Cawthon Bryant of Hereford whose wedding anniversary was that day. Other guests included Mrs. Ralph Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Landers, and Mrs. G. C. Merritt and G. C. John David Bryant, and Eugene and Billy Don Combs.

Also here for the reunion were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gaetz of Wichita Falls. Another guest was Dr. Reid Chappell of Billings, Montana, a nephew of Mrs. Gaetz. Dr. Chappell served with the Army in the Philippines and on Okinawa and is now doing special work at Tulane University and Mercy Hospital in New Orleans. He is a graduate of Temple University, Philadelphia.

DAUGHTER IS BORN

Lt. and Mrs. Frank W. Durkee of San Antonio have announced the birth of a daughter on June 11. The newborn weighed 6 lbs. and has been named Connie Lynn.

Mrs. Durkee is the former Miss Billie Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Davis of Hereford. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Durkee of Geneva Lake, Wisconsin.

Miss Mary Ellen Henslee is vacationing in New York City. She is the guest of her brother, Homer Henslee Jr., and his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Thomas moved last week from the Art Lewis place east of Hereford to the Q. N. Lewis place here.

Ross Joe Landers returned home Thursday from Hale Center where he spent several days in the Foy Dodson home. Ross Joe feels quite grown up to have made the trip home alone on the bus.

Mrs. R. M. Gunn, Mrs. Guy Lawrence and daughters, Nelda Guy and Melba Gay, and Mrs. Cawthon Bryant and John David were visitors last Tuesday in the Joe Landers and Elmer Combs homes.

Mrs. Ralph Johnson and Jackie Lynne are spending the week at Hereford where they are visiting in the Gunn and Lawrence homes.

A number of children from here attended the pet parade at Hereford Saturday morning. Larry and Walter Lynn Kaul had pets in the parade.

John Young and children went to Stanford this week where they will visit in the home of their grandmother, Mrs. Lillie Jane Carmon.

Streu's Diary

DEAR DIARY:

Friday is July 4th—Independence Day — and I wonder if we stop long enough to think over the meaning of our independence. Where in this world except in these United States can a man operate a hardware business with so little interference from government? I can buy where I please, sell as much as I want to, sell to whom I please, and at any price that is within reason. The farmer in this country can plant wheat or corn, or watermelons, or grapefruit, or anything that his conscience dictates and good business indicates.

While it is true that we are not entirely free, be it remembered that the only free man is the hermit living in his cave high on the mountain—and who wants to be a hermit?

We have just finished the biggest month's business ever to appear on our books. For that we wish to express our appreciation to those who have made it possible. On the other hand, we pat ourselves on the back for having the things that were needed when they were needed. Well—almost all the things!

Just received — Number 55 steel chain — Crestaloy wrenches in all sizes, GeeTee pliers 8", an express shipment of truck tarps, one gallon thermos jugs, tractor seat cushions, cotton rope, harvester webbing, more bolts, a few lunch kits with thermos bottles, garden hose, white oval dish pans, galvanized pails, square tubs, section rivets, pressure cookers, and lots of odds and ends.

Have you tried our belt lacing service? We can lace belts any width with the famous Clipper belt hooks. Don't throw that belt away, have it laced at Streu's.

Our stock of harvest needs is still fairly complete — and we have some very nice portable radios, table model radios, record players, and console models. We are expecting a shipment of Stromberg-Carlson and RCA console jobs within a few days. Before you buy any radio, see these, the ultimate in radio and record playing pleasure.

Meanwhile, we have daily shipments coming in — we may be out of an item today and have it tomorrow, so keep coming in.

We still think that the 4th of July should be called Thanksgiving Day.

Miss Cassandra Morris Becomes Bride Of Temple H. Deaver In Church Rites

The First Presbyterian Church of Clarendon was the setting at 6 p.m. Monday for the wedding of Miss Cassandra Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Morris of Memphis, to Temple H. Deaver Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Deaver. Mrs. Deaver is a graduate of the University of Texas and was head of the home economics department of Hereford High School the past year. Deaver, also of Memphis.

The church was decorated in all-white flowers with tall white tapers in candelabra giving illumination for the ceremony.

Ferns and greenery provided an attractive background.

Preceding the ceremony a prelude of traditional wedding music was given including a vocal solo of Greig's "I Love Thee." Rev. Russell A. Wingert, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Hereford and close friend of the bride's family, officiated for the ceremony.

Miss Jane Carver, college roommate of the bride, was maid of honor. She chose a gown of pastel green taffeta and the bridesmaids who were Miss Dorothy Deaver, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Muffett Sims, the bride's cousin, wore pale yellow. All carried sheafs of white shasta daisies. James Deaver, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Jack Miller and James Morris.

The bride, who entered with her father, wore a gown of white bridal satin designed with fitted bodice and full skirt extending into a train. The rounded yoke was outlined with a ruffle of wide imported lace that fell over the shoulders. Wide bands of the lace extended down the front of the skirt and around the hemline. Her three-quarter length veil was of illusion. She carried an arm bouquet of all white flowers showered with white satin streamers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Morris wore an aqua dress and the bridegroom's mother wore black.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. John Sims. Later the couple left on an overland wedding trip to Canada, after which they will reside in Austin where he will continue his studies at the University of Texas.

How many people in Hereford like horseback riding? And how many saddle horses are there? The American Legion would like to know. The Legion is planning to sponsor a riding club... something on the order of Amarillo's famous Will Rogers Range Riders... and wants to start the thing off with a bang and a big Saddle Horse Parade, tentatively scheduled for 11 a.m. on July 28. Everybody who likes to ride, and can get a horse, is invited... men, women, and children. There'll be more details next week.

Guest of Maude and Essie Malone is their sister, Mrs. W. D. Latta of Kansas City, Mo.

WHEAT DOESN'T WAIT Fourth of July Is No Holiday In Panhandle

The Fourth of July will be celebrated in Deaf Smith county tomorrow with the noise of combines and tractors rather than that of fireworks, guns, and bells.

The only parade in Hereford will be the parade of wheat trucks to and from the local elevators.

The United States flag will be flying before homes and business places, but harvest is slated to hold the inside truck in the minds of Hereford people. Local stores will not close.

This does not mean that local residents have forgotten the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. There will be little time for celebration.

On the Fourth of July in this part of the country, wheat is ripening fast... and wheat doesn't wait.

Though this date is recognized and commemorated throughout the United States, strangely, it is not a national legal holiday. No legislation to this effect has ever been passed in the nation's capital.

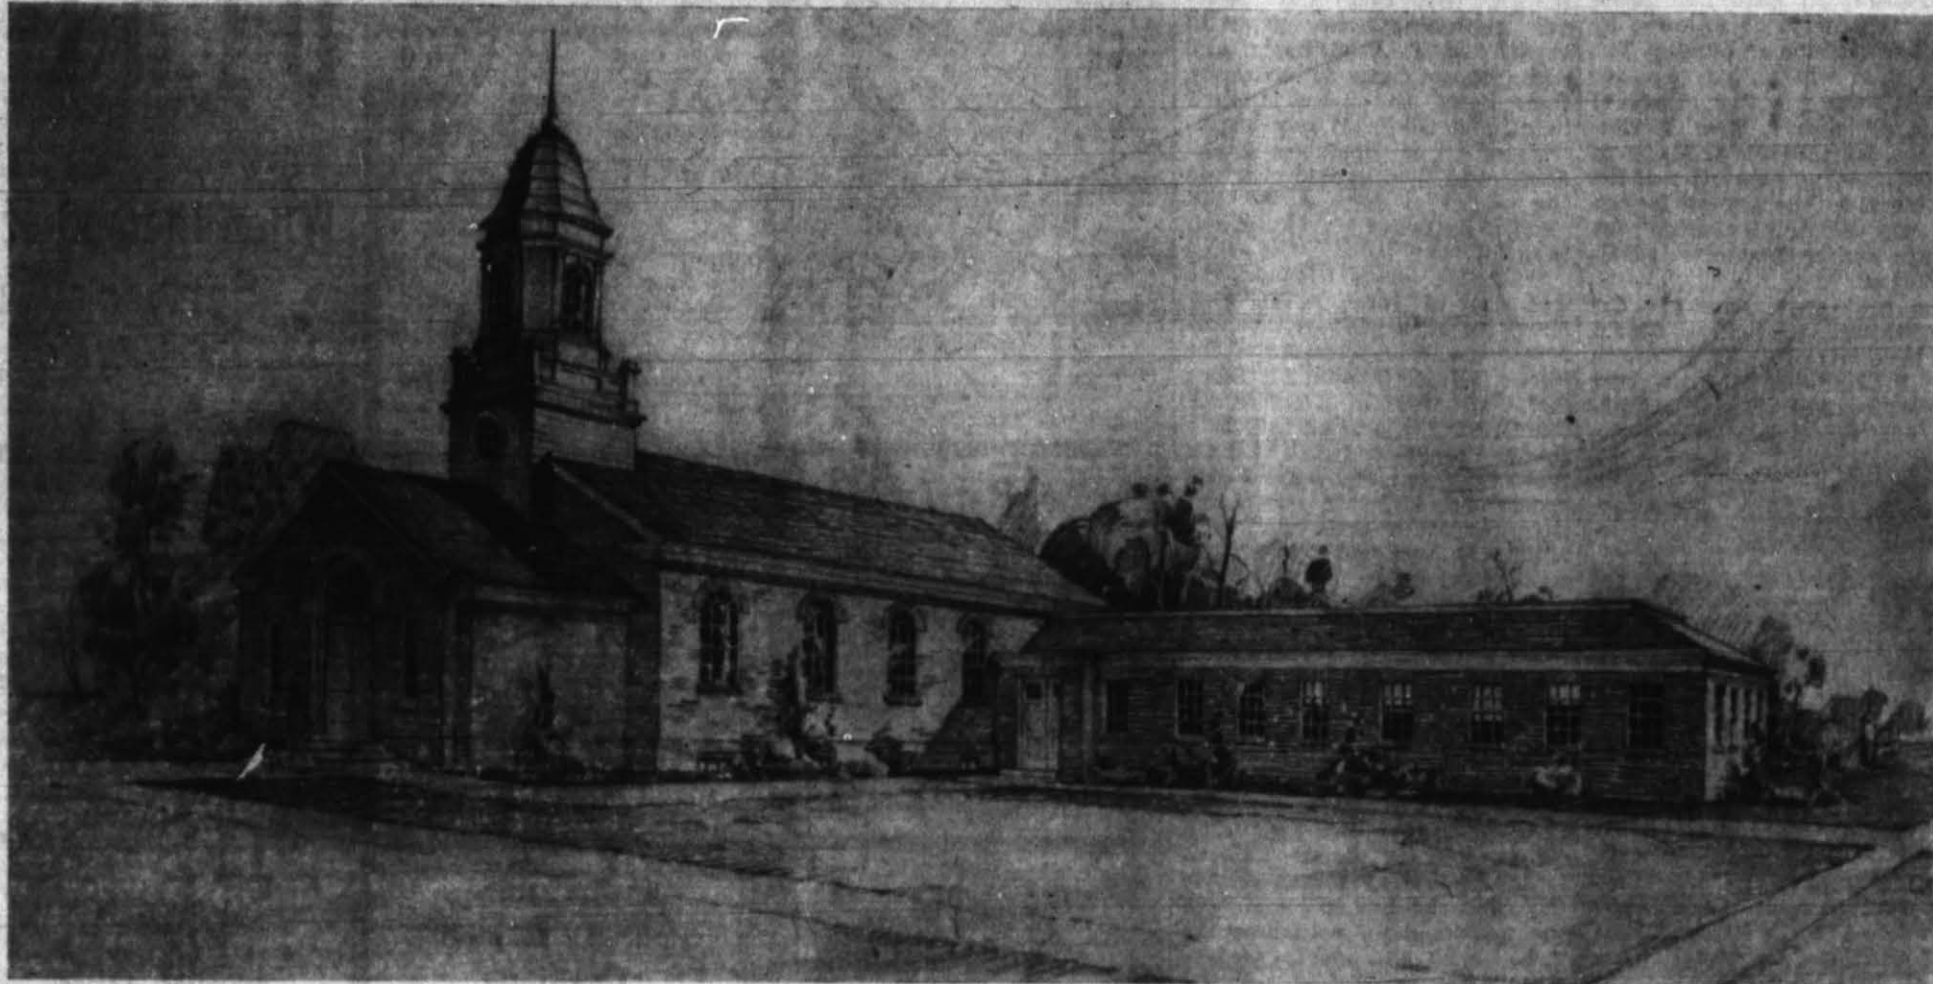

However, all forty-eight states will celebrate the Fourth—forty-four of them according to state statutes. Four states, Kansas, Mississippi, Kentucky and South Carolina have no laws concerning the holiday but celebrate it by consent.

Recognition of the nation's birthday began at the first reading of the Declaration of Independence when the crowd, described by one author as "small and not composed of the most respectable persons," gave three cheers and followed up with a parade and cannon salute.

Since that time, the day has (Continued on Page 8)

Presbyterians Plan to Build New Church Here This Fall

Architect's Sketch Shows New Presbyterian Church

Former Resident Injured in Fall

Mrs. C. G. Witherspoon of Dallas, former resident of Hereford, was critically injured in a fall at her home Tuesday morning June 24. Mrs. Witherspoon fell as she was getting out of bed early Tuesday morning and broke her hip. She was taken to a Dallas hospital and later suffered a stroke. Her condition remains critical, according to reports received by relatives here.

ON HONOR ROLL

CANYON, June—Rupert Dowell, freshman from Hereford, was listed as a honor student in the spring term at West Texas State College, by making four A's and one B or 3.8 grade points.

Pictured above is the architect's sketch of the proposed new $60,000 First Presbyterian Church, which local Presbyterians plan to construct this fall on a site already selected at the corner of 7th street and Lee Avenue.

The new building will be of masonry construction, with a full basement under the central wing. The auditorium will seat 250.

The wing at right will house Sunday school class rooms. The basement will provide space for kitchen and recreation rooms.

A. C. Lamont of Amarillo is the architect.

The building will be located facing west at the corner of 7th and Lee. Plans also call for construction of a new manse on the property. For floor plan and sketch of front elevation, see Page 8, Section 2.

Architect's Plans Ready and Building Fund Is Growing

Members of the First Presbyterian Church of Hereford are laying plans now for starting construction on their new $60,000 church home, pictured in architect's sketch at left, early this fall.

Glen Weir, chairman of the Building Finance Committee, reported this week that the decision to build this fall was reached at a meeting of the committee last week and the architect, A. C. Lamont of Amarillo, has been instructed to go ahead with the working plans.

A meeting of the Board of Sessions of the local church recently decided to give the go-ahead signal on plans for the new church building, and a building finance committee was appointed with Weir as chairman.

Other members are W. S. Kerr, Ed Hedrick, Harold Close, Woodrow Ireland, Howard Gault, Frank Cogdell, D. H. Alexander, N. E. Milburn, Frank Gyles, Grant Fuller, W. F. Graham, Ralph Hastings, Henry Benson and Newt Gilliland.

A meeting of the committee, held at the Grant Fuller home last week enthusiastically agreed to start their finance drive immediately and plan to start construction on the building this fall.

Most of the $60,000 necessary for the new church building will be raised among members of the church, Fuller said. The committee will not solicit, but will gladly accept gifts, from friends of the church who are not members, he said.

Ten thousand dollars in cash is already on hand in the building fund, and an additional ten thousand dollars has been pledged.

Castro Farmers Are Harvesting Certified Seed

COLLEGE STATION, July 1 Maybe there is a lot of luck connected with growing the kind of wheat crop being harvested in West Texas now, but Castro County farmers believe good seed is important too.

Castro County Agricultural Agent Raymond L. King reports that 14 farmers in that county have made application to the State Department of Agriculture to certify 1,726 acres of wheat. The Castro County certified Seed Growers Association is sponsoring the movement.

Cecil Curry, Castro wheat grower and association member, testifies that certified seed pays off. A section of wheat he has this year is planted to three different pure varieties, along with some grain that is "only elevator run wheat."

"The three pure varieties are all uniform, the same height, and they all headed out at the same time. The elevator run wheat has some short, some tall plants and did not head out uniformly," says Curry.

THE SAD SACK

SEES THE LIGHT
by George Baker

"The Sad Sack," one of the most popular cartoon characters of the war among G.I.s in all theaters, has just returned to public life with the Veterans Administration (see cartoon above). Snafu in all theaters during the war, George Baker's bulb-nosed hero is having just as tough a time in civilian life, where he's apparently taken up a career as insurance salesman for the V. A.

Re-instatement of National Service (GI) Insurance policies, which the Sad Sack graphically illustrates, is still open to all veterans... until August 1.

That's the deadline for re-instatement of G. I. Insurance policies which have been allowed to lapse, without any physical examination required and at the original rate, County Veterans Service Officer Ralph Smith warned local veterans again this week.

After that date, veterans desiring to re-instate government insurance policies will be required to pass physical examinations.

Another deadline important to many ex-G.I.s will arrive just a month later... on September 1... when the last application for terminal leave pay will be received.

Many veterans still have not filed claims for terminal leave pay due them, Smith said, urging all veterans in this area to make applications immediately. Blanks for the purpose, and assistance in filling them out, are available at the Veterans Office in the courthouse.

Thousands of veterans still have not made applications with the VA for leave pay due them, and many can collect substantial sums in cash or bonds. Payment for all leave occurring prior to 1943 is paid in cash. For leave occurring since that time, payment is in five-year bonds, dated on the day of discharge from the service.

Other deadlines passed Tuesday, July 1. That was the last day for amputee veterans to make application for the $1600 allowance for cars. Only one veteran in this area, Artie Louis Peyton of Dimmitt, is known to have applied for the allowance, and he received his car, a new Ford, two months ago.

Also expiring on July 1 was the "Sweetheart Bill"... Public Law 471 which made special provision for veterans with fiancées overseas to bring them into the U. S. for three months for the purpose of marriage.

Once married, of course, the girls were permitted to stay. Several local veterans took advantage of the "Sweetheart Bill" to bring in their foreign fiancées for a "stateside wedding."

Home Demonstration Club Council Holds Regular Meeting Saturday

Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration Club Council met on June 28 in regular session at the county courthouse.

Dawn Home Demonstration Club, newest club organized in the county, has perfect attendance at the council meeting. Election of new council officers was announced for September.

A letter from Mrs. C. E. Terry, chairman of the legislative committee of THDA, asked for an expression by local club women on whether they favor or oppose a sales tax, and suggestions in regard to what kind of a tax would be desirable.

Mrs. Ferguson urged clubs to turn in pages for the year book immediately.

The Council voted to send one delegate to the state convention in Galveston in August. Mrs. Curtis Traweck was named as delegate, and Mrs. Ed Cox alternate.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Earl DeHart, Mrs. Merlin Kaul, Mrs. V. P. Walker, Mrs. V. E. Dodson, Mrs. Tom Draper, Mrs. R. A. Fullwood, Mrs. Joe Landers, Mrs. J. M. Carruthers, Mrs. A. C. Hershey, Mrs. Clarence Hollabaugh, Mrs. R. A. Frye, Mrs. C. D. Potter, Mrs. E. M. Cox, Mrs. George Parker, Mrs. John Kropff of Gardena, California, and Mrs. R. L. Rutherford of Canadian.

Rebekahs Honor New Members

Rebekah Lodge members honored new members at a picnic-party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hopson recently. New members included Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Kaul, O. B. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stafford, Ted Matthews, Mrs. Louise Olson and Mrs. Clarence Hollabaugh.

Official hosts for the party were Mrs. Velma Hodges, Mrs. Elizabeth Harlow, Jeff Robertson, and Mr. and Mrs. Hopson.

Old-fashioned "parlor-games" and group singing were enjoyed. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Russell, Mesdames: Gertrude Bailey, Nannie Millard, Edna Draper, Lassie Roberson, Ella Cockrell, Orpha Nickerson, the hosts and special guests.

Tiny Tois Enjoy Party

Ten tiny tois were invited to share in birthday celebrations for Susie Woodford when her mother, Mrs. Louis Woodford, entertained Friday morning honoring her third birthday.

The little guests arrived at ten in the morning and supervised play with toys of all descriptions entertained the group. Birthday cake and ice cream climaxed the party.

Children attending were Cheri Baker, Judith Bradley, Mary Beth Gilliland, Sara Gillentine, Royce Gilliland, Bruce Benson, Wayne Hastings, David Evans, Lewis Barnett, Billy Woodford and the honoree.

Mothers accompanying the children were Mesdames Jimmie Gillentine, Jack Gilliland, J. T. Glibreath Jr., Dennis Baker, Wayne Evans, Ralph Hastings, Jack Bradley and Henry Benson.

Mrs. Claude Witherspoon of Dallas left Wednesday for her home after visiting her mother, Mrs. W. B. Dameron, and other relatives here.

Mrs. Edna Bowe who has spent the past several months in San Saba with relatives has returned home.

Viola Phillips Plans Trip to Europe; Will Leave Sunday

A three months tour of Europe sounds like an impressive vacation, but that is the plan for Miss Viola Phillips, Career Girl, who will leave Dallas by plane Sunday for New York City on the first lap of the journey.

Viola, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wirt Phillips, has just about always known what she wanted to do. She graduated from Hereford High School with highest honors and was quite sure she wanted to attend T.S.C.W., Denton, which she did, graduating with honors. Quite some time before she graduated she knew she wanted to work for American Airlines so she went to work soon after graduation in their offices at Dallas.

Dakonyas Entertain Parents At Party

Dakonya Camp Fire Group entertained with a "parents' night" party at the City Hall Thursday night.

A covered-dish supper party was featured with patriotic colors highlighting table decorations. Huge red firecrackers formed centerpieces surrounded by red, white and blue candles.

After the supper Patsy Wiltshire, program chairman, directed the entertainment. Patricia Doyle, representing merry summertime, gave a dance and Patsy Wiltshire and Patricia Doyle sang "Doing What Comes Naturally" with piano accompaniment by Geraldine Patterson. Pat Frye read "His Last Request."

The program ended on a patriotic note as the entire group

American Airlines plane for home and will land at LaGuardia Field the next day.

All arrangements for the trip have been made by Congressman Albert Thomas through the state department.

sang "The Star Spangled Banner." Attending were Elmer Patterson and Mrs. Patterson who is the Dakonya guardian, Dr. B. M. Wiltshire, Carl Frye, Mrs. Guy Lawrence, Mrs. Leo Forrest, Mrs. Ed Warren and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wester.

Members of the group present were: Lola Vern Pitts, Nelda Guy Lawrence, Patsy Wiltshire, Patricia Doyle, Elberta Higgins, Pat Frye, Delores Wester, Lois Cummings and Geraldine Patterson.

WAA Leases Pantex Igloos to Farm Coop for Wheat Storage

Conversion of ammunition igloos into wheat bins as an emergency aid to West Texas and Panhandle wheat farmers distressed for storage space for their current bumper crop is the modern version of "turning swords into plowshares." To make it unnecessary for farmers to place their valuable wheat on the ground, and this hazard damage from rain and hail, the War Assets Administration at Grand Prairie came to the rescue.

The St. Francis Farmers' Union Cooperative Association of St. Francis Texas, appealed to the industrial division of the office of real property disposal of the WAA for relief. Within 48 hours after cooperative officials had expressed an interest in the igloos, formerly used to store explosives, a lease had been "signed, sealed and delivered" on 102 of the structures at the Pantex Ordnance Plant, 14 miles east of Amarillo. The igloos are each 28 by 60 feet in size and have concrete walls, wood roof decks with built-up roofing.

As further aid to Panhandle wheat storage, WAA's industrial division consummated a sale of eight small and two large surplus oil storage tanks located at Cactus Ordnance Works near Dumas, Texas. This sale was completed after Monroe Terrell of the Etter Grain Company contacted WAA's industrial division indicating his interest in the tanks for storage of wheat in that immediate vicinity. He declared the release of these ten oil tanks by War Assets Administration "will ease situation in Moore county to a very great extent."

It is anticipated that the leasing of the ammunition igloos at the Pantex plant "will take care of the entire requirements of the Amarillo area for wheat storage other than that found in the established grain elevators," a WAA official said.

The situation in Deaf Smith county, which might be considered in "the Amarillo area, however, isn't going to be eased materially until box cars are found to ship the grain to storage points.

Mrs. H. B. Gillman of White Plains, New York, was in Hereford this week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dickson. Mrs. Gillman was the former Miss Mona Dickson. Mr. Gillman has been visiting his parents in Borger, and the Gillmans are off on a vacation trip to Colorado, planning to stop again in Hereford on their return to New York in a few weeks.

Ranchmen have found that light, seasonal stocking improves rangeland and boosts beef yields with less stock.

MARKETS

Fruits and vegetables showed general easiness last week, and some cattle prices dropped, but most other southwest farm products remained steady to strong according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Grains found generally good demand last week. Wheat, oats and yellow corn stayed about unchanged. Barley, white corn, and old crop sorghum showed some strength, with advances limited to 3 to 6 cents. A little new crop milo from South Texas came on the market at several cents per hundred lower than the old crop.

Milled rice stocks remained quite limited last week, and only scattered cars sold. Good rains throughout southwest peanut producing areas aided crop prospects. Rainy weather interfered with hay making but improved pastures and reduced demand for hay. Seven to ten million pounds of Texas wools sold in the past ten days. Growers received 42 to 45 cents per pound grease basis for average to good staple.

Daily ups and downs of cotton prices left quotations $1 per bale lower to $3.25 higher. Spot markets saw little trading. Crops looked unusually good in most areas.

Tomato prices dropped rapidly in East Texas last week. Late shipments sold mostly at $2 per lug box for 6 by 6 and larger U.S. No. 1's, and $1.75 for 6 by 7. North Texas points got mainly $2.50 for the larger sizes.

Wholesale produce markets in the South and Central West showed general weakness. Tomatoes, cantaloupes, watermelons, and early apples particularly felt the bearish pressure.

Egg markets continued firm last week, and poultry saw very little change. Most current receipts brought 37 1/2 to 38 1-3 cents per dozen at Fort Worth, and Dallas paid 38 2-3 with the rots candled out. With warmer weather, dealers bought more eggs on candled grade. Best grade brought 45 at Fort Worth and 43 at Dallas.

Cattle showed general easiness at Oklahoma City and Denver last week, and some classes sold lower at other southwest terminals. Good calves brought mostly $19 to $21 at Houston, and top medium to average choice kinds $19.50 to $22 at San Antonio. Good and choice calves sold mainly at $19.50 to $22 at Fort Worth, and $17 to $20.50 at Wichita. Oklahoma City paid up to $22 for a few choice heavy vealers and calves, while vealers topped at $25 in Denver's late-week trade.

Hog markets ruled generally steady to 25 cents higher for the week, but sows lost around 50 cents at Oklahoma City. Fort Worth paid $24.75 to $25 for the closing bulk of good and choice medium weight butcher hogs, and Denver $24.50 to $25.25. Closing top was $24.50 at San Antonio, $24.75 at Oklahoma City, and $25 at Denver.

Most sheep and lamb markets gained 50 cents to $1.00, but Oklahoma City closed steady to 50 cents lower. Good and choice spring lambs reached $19 to $21 at San Antonio, $21 to $23 at Fort Worth, $22.75 to $23.25 at Wichita, and $23.75 to $24 at Denver.

SEEDS of ADVICE

from
The Garden Club

(Note—This timely article on shrubs was prepared for the Garden Beautiful Club by Mrs. Lisle Woodford.)

Continuous Bloom in the Shrub Border.

For lovely flowers at eye-level, flowers that require no stooping to enjoy, plant shrubs with showy blooms. Do not be too impatient for quick effects but give careful attention to the correct spacing so that they will not be too crowded at maturity.

Before planting be sure you understand the type shrub you have. What is its ultimate height—Does it need sun or shade and in what kind of soil does it thrive? Some shrubs eventually or seat. On large properties shrub borders can be gracefully sinuous or waving, sweeping out to form a full planting at the corners. On medium sized plots, the curves should be very gentle—the "Wiggly" borders do not become the small property. Straight-line plantings which tend to create an impression of distance are recommended.

The very earliest shrub of all is the Vernal Witchhazel which should produce bloom sometime between January and April. The fact that they often bloom out while the snow is flying; and that they are excellent shrubs for forcing in the house early in the spring, makes the witchhazel very desirable, the young plants, however, do not bloom for some time.

April

April is really the first month that bloom from shrubs can be expected. The winter honeysuckle is probably the earliest bloomer here. The bush grows rapidly and has to be trimmed often. There are several pink flowering shrubs which we can expect to bloom in April and the best for use in this area is probably the Russian Almond, the Rhododendron and the Mountain Peony. Plant the Red-Flowering Dogwood for red flowers and for yellow, the Forsythia or Goldenbell.

May

Glorious color can be expected in the month of May. For white flowers choose the Snowy Shadblow with drooping white flowers, or the brilliant Chokeberry, which grows about eight feet tall, has white flowers in May, red fruit and foliage in the autumn. The Wilson Pearlbush is a favorite with nurserymen in this part of the country. It is so named because of the snowy pearl-like buds which later open into five-petaled flowers. It grows rather tall and will live almost as long as a tree, and will continue to bloom almost indefinitely if kept properly pruned. The Bridal Wreath Spirea seems to have been over-planted in Hereford, but it does make a lovely showing if no late frost shows up.

No group of shrubs is so generally desirable as the vast array of Viburnums, among them the giant Japanese Snowball which rates first choice. It grows about ten feet tall, has white flowers opening in May or June and small oval red fruit in the fall. A good trio of lilacs is the "President Lincoln, Blue Vestale and Ludwig Spaeth which is a deep plum-red. A good shrub for red blooms in May is the flowering Quince, and another is the Red-Flowering Peach which has proven that it does well here. For yellow flowers in May, try The Mahonia or Oregon Hollyhedge, The Barberry or the tall Golden-chain.

June

June's flowering shrubs include Mountain Laurel, Mah-churian Lilac, several varieties of The Privets, The Weigelas, and different varieties of the Mock Orange, with the Mock Orange taking first place in its two best known varieties, Bell Etolle and Syringa. The best pink flower among blooming shrubs for June is the Beautybush. Mrs. J. H. Pitman has a nice specimen in her backyard and it is her favorite because of its sweet fragrance, especially at night. It will grow to a height of six or eight feet.

If you wish red flowers in June, plant a red Weigela. For yellow first to blossom in the spring. Their unusual time of blooming makes these shrubs particularly desirable in large borders. The Common Witchhazel is unique in that it has flowers and unripe fruit at the same time; it takes a year to ripen the fruit.

Thus, you can see, that flower lovers, by careful planning and planting, can have almost continuous bloom in the shrub border.

Old-timers shifted workers to the west stands and said he is hopeful of completing work there and of having two of five east stand sections ready by fall. He said difficulty will be encountered in getting new pre-fabricated steel for the burned area without delay.

The east stand was to be used almost exclusively for students of Texas Tech and gridiron opponents. Whether the new stadium or old Tech field will be used for games in the fall will not be determined for about two weeks, it was said.

In Washington D. C. Clifford is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Estes and has spent the past month in Hereford with his parents following his graduation at Texas A & M College in June.

Fire at Tech Stadium May Delay Opening

LUBBOCK, June 30—Completion of the new stadium at Texas Technological College will be delayed three months as the result of a fire which wrecked most construction in the east stands, officials have been advised by Floyd Oldt, Dallas contractor in charge.

The blaze, late Thursday, burned oil soaked forms for concrete tiers which were to be poured Friday. Heat twisted and cracked concrete and steel columns and ruined materials to be used in other sections. Standing portions have been condemned and must be removed before reconstruction of the wrecked area is started.

the best choice is probably the Southern Bush Honeysuckle with blossoms almost the same as the climbing Honeysuckle.

July

For shrubs that bloom in July the Snowball Hydrangea, some types of spirea or a late Honeysuckle, tops the list for whites. Then there is a pink spirea and the Anthony Waterer, a red spirea and if red happens to be your favorite color, by all means, plant an Anthony Waterer. It produces flat clusters of beautiful crimson flowers. For a blue flower which blooms in July the Buddleia or Butterfly bush is recommended—but care should be taken to select just the right variety as some are not pretty, while others freeze to the ground in winter and are thus not desirable for this climate.

August

While the number of shrubs that bloom in August is limited, there are three good ones which never fail. The hibiscus or shrub Althea which boasts four good colors—White, pink, red and blue, the Crape Myrtle with two colors—pink and purplish red (which should be protected in the winter) and the Tamavisk—which is often used as a hedge or windbreak.

September

In September the Buddleia and Crape Myrtle will probably still be in bloom, but the last shrub to bloom in the fall is the Common Witchhazel. It should begin in September and bloom until November while its sister, the Vernal Witchhazel, is the Another Letter to the Editor from . . .

The Bootleg Philosopher

Dear editor:

My experience with drivin a automobile ain't too wide, as there is too many things to go wrong with a car for a thinkin man to fool with very long, as if the battery ain't dead a tire is flat or the license is due or the gas tank empty or a ben is settin in the back seat and a man don't like to disturb her, and I have been around enough to know in ordinary times that drivin a car ain't no sign you own it. You may be just rentin it from the finance company. But what I started out to say was that the members of the recent legislature in Austin seems to be more limited than me when it comes to knowin anything about human nature and automobiles.

For example, accordin to a article I read in the News, the legislature passed a law requirin anybody who hits a "unattended vehicle" to leave a written notice givin their name and address.

As I understand this, if a woman backs her car out from the curb in Hereford on a crowded Saturday afternoon and knocks the paint off the side of the car parked to her right and the car parked to her left and maybe off the back end of the car parked across the street, the new law requires her to write three notes with her name and address on them and leave them in the three cars.

I wish you would get hold of Rep. Blake Timmons and see if he voted for this law and if he did how the figures its goin to work.

In the first place, if I had a new car and it was scraped by a woman backin her car out, I would appreciate it if she would just keep on drivin, as sure as thunder if she tries to get back into her parkin place to write a note tellin me she done it, she'll take off more paint and smash

Work, It's Called

Ted Green, Centerville, Ia., miner, found this emergency chore to his liking—a request by an Ottumwa beer distributor to help get rid of $30,000 worth of flood-condemned brew. "Drink all you can hold, dump the rest," was the pleasant program.

LEAVES FOR VENEZUELA

Mrs. Z. O. Faughn and little daughter Roxie Lynn left yesterday for Caracas, Venezuela where they will join Mr. Faughn who is employed by the Socony Vacuum Oil Company. The entire trip will be made by plane.

Mrs. Faughn and daughter will spend a couple of days in Houston more fenders goin back in and comin back out, doin three times as much damage as she would of done before the law was passed. Nope, I say when a woman with two or three babies in the front and back seats and a cigarette needin the ashes flicked gets her car started out into the middle of the street regardless of how many fenders she took with her, the thing that's needed for peace and tranquility is to keep her goin and get her out of town as quick as possible without no time to stop and write notes. Or else pass a law limitin one car to a block and even then some people I've heard of could hit that one with-out half tryin.

Also men is guilty some too and if I backed out and dented somebody's shiny new fender doin it, I know enough about human nature to know leavin a note ain't gonna settle nothin or pacify the owner. He's gonna be mad as a wet hen in the first place, but if he don't know who done it his fury can just sort of dissipate in all directions at the human race generally, but when I leave a note sayin I done it, it only builds up his fury directly concentratin on men, and he harbors it for months and broods over it, as you blamed well know I aint gonna pay him nothin and besides will claim his car was parked at the wrong angle in the first place.

I just don't believe the legislature was thinkin when they passed that law. You reckon that's possible?

Yours faithfully, J. A.

Ralph Ater Succeeds Cassell As Santa Fe Publicity Man

Ralph W. Ater, special representative, Public Relations Department, Santa Fe Railway, Chicago, has been appointed special representative with headquarters at Amarillo, Texas, succeeding L. J. Cassell who has been promoted to a like position in Galveston, Tex., according to announcement made today by Lee Lyles, assistant to president, Santa Fe Railway at Chicago. The appointment is effective July 1.

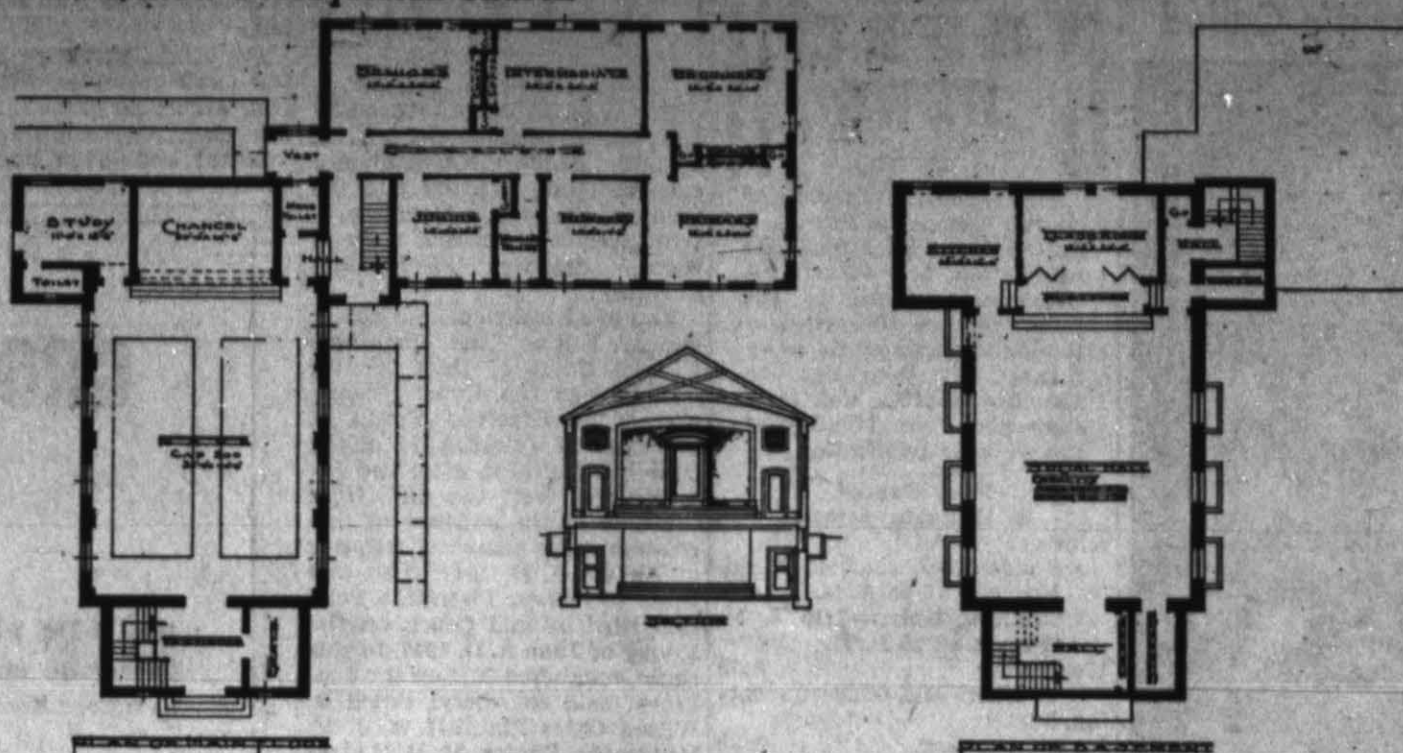

Ater will be in charge of public relations work on Santa Fe's Western Lines and the Panhandle and Santa Fe, including the states of New Mexico, Colorado and West Texas.

Born in Crowell, Texas January 9, 1913, Ater received his education in the public schools and junior college at San Angelo, Texas after which he attended the University of Texas, Austin, graduating in 1934 with a B.A. degree in Government and Allied Studies. He followed this with a two-year post graduate course in Business Administration, Journalism and related fields. He is a member of Phi Theta Kappa and Alpha Psi Omega, honorary fraternities. Except for a six-month leave of absence in 1942 to serve as an administrative assistant in the office of the Secretary of War in Washington, D.C., Ater's Santa Fe service extends from October 1936 when he joined the staff at Topeka, Kansas, through several promotions to the position of special representative at Chicago in February 1945, which position he held at the time of this promotion.

Cassell, who has been in charge of public relations work on Santa Fe's Western Lines and P. & S.F. since October 1937, is promoted to the position of special representative at Galveston, Texas, succeeding J. G. Fitzhugh who is retiring. Cassell has been in public re-

Duane Orr of Hereford Designs Disaster Protection for Corpus Christi Waterfront

When disaster protection at the Corpus Christi port was installed recently following the Texas City disaster, the ingenious concrete well system used was that designed by Duane Orr, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Orr of Hereford, who is navigation district engineer.

Alarmed over the similar characteristics of the Texas City and Corpus Christi ports, the protection committee sent the port engineer, Orr, and others concerned with fire protection of the port, to the scene of the disaster and after a careful study, Orr designed and recommended the well system which was then built by the Navigation Commission. So far as is known, it is the first of its type to be tried and installations have now been made in the Texas City, Port Arthur and Beaumont areas.

How It Works
A series of salt water wells are dug along Corpus Christi's Channel and the first test was branded a success when 889 gallons of bay water a minute were thrown 150 feet into the channel. The water for the test came from the channel itself, pumped through the series of wells dug at strategic locations along the oil and dry cargo docks of the port. In actual fire-fighting work, a foam spray will be combined with the salt water to quench oil fires. Theoretically, just one of the wells has a pumping capacity of 4,000 gallons a minute.

Mr. Orr graduated from Hereford High School with the class of '29, graduated from Texas Technological College in 1933 and explored six types of engineering work in as many years before settling on his present assignment at Nueces County Navigation District engineer. He has recently been elected president of the South Texas Engineers Club, after serving in various capacities during the past eight years. During his last two years at Tech he was assistant in the engineering department.

His first job in 1933 was as an inspector for the Texas Highway department. In 1935 he changed to Lamb County engineer. He then was employed with the Texas Planning Survey and in 1936 he joined the U.S. engineers and worked on the Conchas Dam in New Mexico. This was construction work and during 1937-38 he made drainage surveys for the Reclamation Department.

Orr became resident engineer for the Houston district of the Texas Highway Department in 1939 and when offered the job in Corpus Christi he left the Highway Department and moved there. He and his wife live at 317 Texas Street.

lie spirited citizen who wants to make a contribution will be gladly accepted by the building committee," Fuller said.

The Board of Sessions has already authorized the building committee to accept bids for the present church building and the manse, located at 5th and Sampson Streets.

The new building, and a new manse, will be constructed on property now owned by the church at Lee Avenue and 7th Street. A lot 200 feet by 140 feet will be the site for the new building, which will face the west.

The new church will be a single story with a full basement under the main wing, and will be all-masonry construction. The sanctuary is planned to seat 250 persons.

The basement will provide kitchen and recreation facilities, and the wing with accommodate Sunday School, class rooms.
