The news services reported yesterday that President-elect and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon will go to the White House this evening to confer, or visit, with President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson.

If this appears routine, a quick look at history will indicate otherwise.

The Christian Science Monitor reported the other day that the change in administrations next Jan. 20 undoubtedly will be the most congenial ad most cooperative in the nation's history. It was recalled that a rather icy zone existed when President Eisenhower took over the reins of the federal government from President Truman in 1953, and a similar, if more sophisticated, situation existed when Franklin D. Roosevelt succeeded Herbert Hoover.

Some observers attribute the present attitude of the old and new administrations to the fact that the past campaign generally was conducted without the type of bitterness and rancor that had punctuated some of the other major political battles. At the same time it was noted that in this particular respect, American politicans appear to have matured to a degree never attained by their predecessors.

Anyway, it may be regarded as an indication that in these troubled times the political leaders are willing to put country above self in the period of transition.

Researchers for an insurance company say they have confirmed that everybody plays a role with "status" the major objective. They say status-seeking afflicts all ages and all social classes. Moreover, business and government have become accessories in the role-playing game by endowing employes with pretentious titles, with cooks becoming executive chefs, garbage collectors becoming sanitation engineers, janitors becoming custodial engineers, order-takers becoming sales engineers, etc., etc.

According to these researchers, you are really "in" so far as status seeking is concerned when you begin to pronounce "tomato" and "either" the way the movie stars do. And it was observed that "project" nearly always acquires a long "o" in the vocabulary of a young executive.

If you don't want to play such a role, they recommend a simple alternative. Avoid the people on the rung above you. They won't miss you.

Nixon Announces Cabinet Nominees

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect Nixon has named a no-surprises, no-Democrats cabinet that he says will bring "an extra dimension" to the handling of the nation's problems.

"I can assure you these are strong men. They are compassionate men. They are good men," Nixon said in an easy-going, informal manner as he announced the makeup of his official family Wednesday night before a national television-radio audience.

Reaching into the ranks of Republican governors, high-powered businessmen and educators, Nixon came up with 12 men, many longtime associates and friends, who generally reflect the internationalist-minded and fiscally conservative attitudes of the president-elect.

In his drive for president against Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey, Nixon had said he would seek men of both parties and of differing views for help in achieving his campaign goal of uniting the country.

Asked about the absence of a Democrat, Herbert G. Klein, Nixon communications director, quipped the President-elect had appointed "all Independents who vote Republican."

However, press spokesman Ronald L. Ziegler made a point of telling newsmen that a Democrat will get one top job to be announced in the near future—ambassador to the United Nations.

The post has been offered to Sargent Shriver, now ambassador to France. Shriver is a brother-in-law of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., an association by marriage that has promoted some conservative Republicans to protest privately his appointment to the U.N. job.

Nixon also did not have a Negro on his list. Perhaps to try to offset any adverse comments, he began his broadcast by disclosing that Washington's Democratic Negro mayor, Walter E. Washington has agreed to appointment to a second term when his tenure expires Feb. 1.

By the time Nixon spoke without benefit of notes or cue cards, his choices for the Cabinet were hardly a secret. The President-elect had given the names in advance to GOP congressional leaders and from there the roster soon found its way onto the air and into print.

They are: Secretary of state—William P. Rogers; secretary of defense—Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis.; secretary of the Treasury—David M. Kennedy; attorney general—John N. Mitchell; postmaster general—Winton M. Blount; secretary of the interior—Gov. Walter J. Hickel of Alaska; secretary of agriclture—Clifford M. Hardin; secretary of commerce—Maurice H. Stans; secretary of labor—George P. Shultz; secretary of health, education and welfare—Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch of California; secretary of housing and urban development—Gov. George Romney of Michigan; secretary of transportation—Gov. John A. Volpe of Massachusetts.

Nixon said no member of his Cabinet "agrees with me completely on everything that I believe about what ought to be done in this country." Terming them independent thinkers, he said, "I don't want a cabinet of 'yes' men."

The president-elect wound up with good words for everyone—his Cabinet, his vice president-elect, Spiro T. Agnew, and even the members of President Johnson's Cabinet.

Storm Slams Midcontinent

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A major winter storm slammed across the midcontinent today unleashing high winds, heavy snow and bitter-cold weather.

Nine inches of snow blanketed Salt Lake City, Utah, before daybreak. Five inches whitened Craig, Colo.

A cold wave sweeping out of Canada toppled temperatures toward zero through Montana and into Wyoming. Cut Bank, Mont., registered 1 above at midnight.

Sharply falling temperatures with locally heavy wind-blown snow were expected to make travel hazardous from the northern and central Rockies and Plains into the upper Mississippi Valley by nightfall.

The storm which spilled out of the Pacific Northwest late Tuesday picked up a wicked combination of ingredients as it punched through the Rockies—an Arctic cold snap from the North and large amounts of moisture out of the Gulf of Mexico.

Showers and thundershowers broke out from the southeastern Plains to the Midwest ahead of the storm.

Temperatures through much of the Plains and Midwest region had bounded into the 50s and 60s Wednesday. Even overnight, readings in the 40s and 50s were widespread.

Although the Northeast warmed considerably after three days of severe cold, the Southeast again was nipped by frost. The mercury fell into the 20s once more as far south as northern Florida.

Little Progress In Paris Preparations

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — The Vietnam peace talks appeared no nearer to a start today, and South Vietnam's delegates were reported to have new doubts about their American allies.

Qualified sources said the Saigon government feared U.S. negotiators were anxious to get the talks started before resident Johnson leaves the White House, Jan. 20 and might consider procedural concessions that would give the status of a full delegation to the Viet Cong's National Liberation Fron.

American officials sought to minimize the reports of differences between the U.S. and South Vietnamese delegations. They stressed that the United States will make no deal with North Vietnam on conference procedure unless it is acceptable to Saigon.

Preparatory U.S.-North Vietnamese talks to organize the negotiations are deadlocked by the symbolic dispute over the shape of the conference table and the order in which the various delegations will speak at the opening session.

North Vietnam's Col. Ha Van Lau proposed again on Tuesday that the conference should meet at four equidistant tables and draw four lots to decide the speaking order. Both arrangements would make the conference appear to be one of four equal delegations, a status which the Saigon and U.S. governments refuse to concede to the NLF.

But whereas South Vietnam's delegate Pham Dang Lam called both proposals unacceptable, the United States avoided any such categoric rejection. An authorized American source said the United States still preferred a rectangular table and two-way lots, which would symbolize the U.S.-South Vietnamese view of the talks as a two-sided proposition. The United States did not accept Lau's proposals, the source said, but it did not reject them either.

Heavy Fighting Spills Into DMZ

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines and North Vietnamese Wednesday, and the heavy fighting spilled over into the demilitarized zone, the U.S. command reported.

Twelve Marines and eight North Vietnamese were killed and 30 Marines were wounded, the command said.

Confirming earlier reports, the headquarters also announced that the number of American troops killed in action in the eight years of U.S. involvement in the war had passed the 30,000 mark. The weekly casualty report said 192 Americans died in combat last week, raising the total to 30,057 since Jan. 1, 191.

In the same period, the U.S. Command said at least 422,979 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese have been killed, including 1,715 last week.

In the fighting along the northern frontier, U.S. fighter-bombers streaked over the southern edge of the demilitarized zone to attack about 200 North Vietnamese troops the U.S. Command said was raining mortars, machine-gun and small arms fire on the Marines. U.S. artillery guns also blasted at the Communist troops, some of whom were well entrenched in heavily fortified bunkers.

Military spokesmen said the fighting broke out on the southern edge of the DMZ. About 150 Marines from the 4th Regiment had moved out on patrol from the combat base called The Rockpile and ran into the North Vietnamese six miles to the northeast.

Another 150 Leathernecks were rushed up while bombers and artillery pounded the enemy positions. The fighting swirled into the zone itself when the enemy soldiers withdrew about midnight to the north and northeast and the Marines pursued them.

Choirs Sing In Coliseum At 7:30 P.M.

Snyder Public Schools Choral Music Department will present its annual program of Christmas music this evening in the Scurry County Coliseum.

The program will begin at 7:30 p.m., said J. D. Smith, director of choral music at Snyder High School.

Featured will be the combined 5th grade and 6th grade choirs and the combined 6th grade choirs from the elementary schools; the junior high choirs and the senior high choirs.

There will be no admission fee charged for the program.

Civilian 'GI Bill' Proposed By Panel

NEW YORK (AP) — The Carnegie Commission on Higher Education proposed today to President-elect Nixon and the Congress a civilian "GI Bill" to allow an additional one million students to attend college.

The recommendation, one of 22 in a 56-page report issued by the commission, called on the federal government to provide "educational opportunity grants" to qualified youths unable to afford the rising costs of college. At present 40 per cent of young Americans go to college.

"Today a young man or woman whose family's income is in the top half of the national income range has three times the chance to get a college education as one whose family is in the bottom half," said the commission chairman, Clark Kerr, former president of the University of California.

"This economic inequality is holding back the next generation and our country," Kerr said. The first priority in our proposals is to end this form of inequality."

A second key proposal called for expansion of medical education in the next eight years to provide the capacity to train 75 per cent more doctors and to meet the rapidly growing demand for a variety of medical services under Medicare.

The report was introduced at a news conference and Dr. Kerr's remarks were prepared in advance for delivery at that time.

The 14-member commission said private sources, which today pay half the costs of higher education, should continue to provide the major share of support to preserve the autonomy and diversity of higher education.

The report estimates that its proposals would cost the federal government $7 billion by 1970 and $13 billion by 1976. Government spending in related areas at present amounts to $3.5 billion.

The aid to students would cost an estimated $1.91 billion by 1970 and $3.56 billion by 1976. The aid to medical education would cost $330 million by 1970 and $430 million by 1976.

FOR 133 ORPHANED CHILDREN

They'll Have Christmas At The Mine

By NILES JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

CONSOL No. 9, W. Va. (AP) —For the grownups who live around the big coal mine the joy and hope of Christmas lie buried there this year with 78 men.

But Christmas is mostly for children, and many of the adults are determined to salvage something of the traditional holiday spirit for the young ones.

The 78 miners, trapped by explosions and fire in No. 9, were presumed dead when the pits were sealed on Nov. 30 after 10 days of futile rescue attempts. They left 75 widows and 133 sons and daughters.

Mrs. Bea Martin's miner husband was not among the entombed, but she expressed the general community gloom this way: "We're not going to celebrate Christmas. I don't see how anyone can."

Mrs. Hartzel Mayle, mother of 16 and widow of one of the lost miners, took a brave opposite view.

"He would have wanted us to have a Christmas," Mrs. Mayle said. "That was our big day. My husband would play football in the house with the kids. We'll all try to have a Christmas.

"We have our farm and we're going to get by. I'm planning to buy some cows and we have the corn and hogs and chickens.

"I had a wonderful husband. I know he wouldn't like it if I threw up my hands and said I couldn't make it and quit. We're going to make it.

"I'm going to see the rest of the kids get through school. My husband and I always said even if they had beards and was gray-headed, they were going to finish high school."

Mrs. Mayle knew a coal miner's life well. Her husband had worked in the pits since his teens.

Some were new to it, like Barbara Toler who is still awaiting the birth of her baby. Her 26-year-old husband was among those lost.

Mrs. Emma Opyoke's home is on the rising mountainside near the company store.

"They're going to have a Christmas . . ," Mrs. Opyoke said of the widows and fatherless children. "They're not going to have much but they're going to have something.

"They're going to force themselves to celebrate, especially when they have little ones who don't understand."

Money, clothes and toys keep coming into Farmington where the No. 9 disaster fund office is located. L. Clyde Riley an official of the United Mine Workers Union, said about $5,200 had been collected and the fund has only been established a few days. Inquiries have come from Nova Scotia, Florida, California, Mississippi, Wyoming and elsewhere.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, age 68. I have a pen pal, Oliver, who lives in another country. He is about my age, or a little younger. We have met several times and have found each other compatible in every way. I am very well fixed financially, but Oliver doesn't know how well. All he knows is that I own my own home, do not have to work, and can travel as much as I wish.

Oliver is an educated man, but considers himself "poor" and inferior because he doesn't earn a lot of money. His financial status doesn't matter to me. All I want is a loving man, and he is certainly that.

Oliver says he's not interested in marriage. He wants to remain just friends. I would like marriage. Should I tell him how well off I am financially? I don't want to buy his love. Please advise.

NO NAME, PLS.

DEAR NO NAME: Why tell him how well - fixed you are financially? It might tip the scales in your favor, which would be more or less "buying" his love. And you say you don't want that. (Or do you?)

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I would like your opinion of an incident. A sister who has not spoken to me in nearly 2 years recently sent me a copy of an insurance policy she took out before she took an airplane trip, naming ME as the beneficiary.

Do you think she is trying to tell me something?

SURPRISED

DEAR SURPRISED: Yes. She still lacks the courage to start talking to you, but in the event of her death, she would like her money to talk for her. In other words, she's not as mad at you as she used to be.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am shook. I just encountered something so incredible I can neither grasp nor believe it.

I drive my neighbor lady to the dentist because she gets so panicky she can't drive herself there or back.

Today I took her for some extractions. She was cool as a cucumber on the way there, and she sat like a lump on the way back after having three teeth pulled. We stopped for tea on the way home.

I asked her what she took, and she said, "Nothing." Then she explained that according to KARMA, she must have injured someone in the mouth in a previous life, and now she is "paying her debt."

Abby, have you ever heard anything like it? I just can't get over it. But if this kind of philosophy can turn a hysterical woman into one who is calmly "paying her debt," there must be something to it.

I called her dentist to be sure he didn't give her something and he said he didn't. (He thoughpt I was crazy for sure.) Can there be something to this?

FLOORED BUT INTERESTED

DEAR FLOORED: "Karma" is, briefly, a "religion" or a way of life, based on the philosophy that whatever happens is "destiny." And one who is able to accept his "fate" with calm resignation can endure almost anything.

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WEIGHT WATCHER": Good! But it won't help unless you also become a "MOUTH-WATCHER."

* * *

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Guilty Pleas Are Entered By Five

Five guilty pleas have been entered in District Court here.

Billie Ruth Carr, who pleaded guilty to seven counts of forgery, will return for sentencing later. Also to be sentenced later is Cecil Ray Rinehart, who pleaded guilty to six counts of burglary.

Mary Alice Berryman received a two - year probated term after pleading guilty to two charges of forgery.

One - year probated terms were handed to Chester Lawrence Bilbo and to Murray Elby Boyd after they entered guilty pleas to charges of driving while intoxicated, second offense.

Six New Helicopters To South Koreans

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — The 20-year-old South Korean army, the world's fourth largest, received six new UH1D helicopters today and a supply of M16 rifles believed sufficient to equip several infantry divisions.

The United States provided the weapons.

The South Koreans will use the choppers to activate a tactical helicopter company. The gas-operated M16, widely used by allied forces in Vietnam and U.S. forces on the demilitarized zone in Korea, will be provided to South Koreans engaged in counter-infiltration operations.

Front To Chill Texas

A cold wave warning was issued for Northwest Texas today and forecasts called for temperatures to drop as low as 15 degrees by Friday morning.

Snow flurries were expected in the Panhandle this afternoon and tonight.

Small craft warnings were in effect along the Texas coast. Gusty southerly winds were to change to a northerly direction tonight and diminish by late Friday.

As the front moved southward, winds gusting at 45 to 55 miles per hour whistled through the Panhandle-Plains sector, stirring dust in places but not reducing visibility to any great extent.

It was cloudy with very light rain or drizzle over East and South Texas, meanwhile, and a little of the moisture edged into North Central Texas.

Temperatures down to 16 degrees above zero were predicted in the upper Panhandle by early Friday. The mercury was expected to sink to freezing or below in parts of other sections.

Top marks Tuesday afternoon ranged from 77 at Brownsville down to 64 at Fort Worth and Longview.

Except for a 35-degree reading at Dalhart, readings near dawn today stood in the 40s to 50s across West Texas. They were mostly in the 60s elsewhere running up to 70 at Alice and Corpus Christi and 71 at Brownsville.

Pneumonia Fatal To Tallulah Bankhead

NEW YORK (AP) — Tallulah Bankhead, the gravel-voiced Southern belle who became a stage star, movie siren, and eventually one of the nation's leading character actresses — and characters—died today. She was 65.

Miss Bankhead had been ill only a few days, a victim of the current outburst of flu, when pneumonia developed and led to her death, according to her business manager, Ezra Schine.

Her sister, Eugenia Bankhead, and nephew, Billy Bankhead, were with her at her death.

Mims Service Is Set For Today

Funeral rites were to be held at 2 p.m. today in Lubbock for Dick Mims, 62, who died Wednesday in a Houston hospital.

Graveside rites and burial were to follow at the Dunn Cemetery at about 4:30 p.m. Local arrangements were in charge of Bolger Funeral Home.

Ships Leave Black Sea

ISTANBUL (AP) — Two American destroyers left the Black Sea today after a three-day cruise that brought protests from Moscow and stirred up controversy in Turkey.

The United States said the brief visit to Russia's southern doorstep by the Dyess and the Turner, two 3,500-ton members of the U.S. 6th Fleet, was a routine operation. But it was generally assumed that the cruise was prompted by the Soviet naval buildup in the Mediterranean.

The destroyers sailed through the Bosporus into the Black Sea Monday morning and came back out early this morning. Soviet ships and planes shadowed them during their cruise.

The United States and Turkey rejected the Soviet complaints. But some Turks felt that the cruise would have the harmful effect of increasing Soviet pressure on Turkey.

Patrolman Back After Training

Patrolman Jerry Morris of the Police Department has returned to Snyder after completing two weeks of "in-service" training with the Fort Worth Police Department, according to Chief of Police Stephen Clark.

He said that most of Morris' training was with the crime scene search unit, that is comprised of detectives who answer major criminal calls. They are the first officers on the scene, and they search for clues.

RFK's Widow Gives Birth

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ethel Kennedy, widow of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, gave birth today to her 11th child—an eight-pound, four-ounce girl.

The child was delivered at Georgetown University Hospital by Caeserean section at 8:40 a.m. Mrs. Kennedy has three other girls and seven boys ranging in age from 18 months to 17 years.

Her husband, the junior senator from New York, was assassinated in June in Los Angeles shortly after winning the California Democratic presidential primary.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., his wife and other family friends were at the hospital for the birth.

Draft Call Up Sharply

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon today called for the drafting of 33,700 men next February—the highest monthly quota in eight months.

The figure is up sharply from the 2,800 previously announced for January and more than double the average monthly draft requests during the last seven months of this year.

Manpower requests this year ranged as high as 48,000 in April and 45,900 in May.

The Pentagon recently said draft calls in 1969 would turn higher by about 3,000 men per month than otherwise would have been expected due to the planned early release of 20,000 Army Reserve and National Guard members, who were called earlier this year.

Of the February draftees, 32,200 will go to the Army and 1,500 to the Marines. The Marine Corps, traditionally an all-volunteer outfit, already has taken in some 6,000 draftees this year.

Christmas Shopping In London

By DAVID LANCASHIRE
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — In Christmas shopping for the man of woman who has everything, how about taking a tip from the carol about the partridge in a pear tree?

According to "The Twelve Days of Christmas," the old song dealing with the time between Christmas and Epiphany, the "true love" successively provided the partridge, the tree and in the English version—these oddities:

Two turtle doves, three French hens, four colly birds, five gold rings, six geese, seven swans, eight milk maids nine drummers, 10 pipers, 11 dancing ladies and 12 lords—aleaping.

By investment or inveiglement you can get all this stuff in London today.

Partridges, albeit dead, can be had for $4.20 a brace, meaning you can give one to your love and eat the other.

A pear tree will set you back $5.76 to $11.72 depending on size

Turtle doves are priced according to age, but two mature ones cost three guineas, or $7.56. French hens, born and raised in England, go for $4.80 and up.

You may not recognize the colly birds. In the United States, the "Fireside Book of Folk Songs" uses the term "calling birds" and makes a few other changes in the sequence of the gifts. In England colly birds are common blackbirds. They are protected by law and no store can sell them. But any lover worth his salt could catch four in Hyde Park while the keeper is off for his afternoon tea.

Next on the list are five gold rings. At one store they range from $14.40 to $108 each.

Pink-foot geese are $14.40 each, or you can get the common white variety at half that.

Swans come a little higher. To keep up with the song you need seven. They are going at $120 a pair for black ones, or $36 each for white. The British buy them to swim in the moats of country mansions.

Milkmaids are not available at such emporiams as Harrod's. But the National Farmers Union reports a few still work in Britain. The average wage for farm workers is 68 cents an hour, including adjustment for overtime.

Let's see now: drummers drumming and pipers piping. The London Musicanc Union says you can hire a concert musician for $12 for three hours' playing. You might get a non-union drummer for less, and kilted bagpipers may soon be cheap since the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders Regiment is being disbanded.

The ladies dancing you should be able to get from any discotheque—free, if you are persuasive enough.

The lords aleaping might present a problem. Lords aren't for sale, but some of them will tackle the odd assignment if the price is right The House of Lords has more than 1,000, and pays them $11.28 a day when they appear for sessions of Parliament. Most of them are too old to leap.

That leaves you with a bill for $600 or so—if you take the cheaper grade of geese, avoid pink-foot geese, hire the milkmaids for one-hour's work and find a dozen lords willing to jump at parliamentary rates.

American Indians made bread from the roots of the jack-in-the pulpit, brewed lady's slippers for fever remedies and obtained coloring for war paint from the bloodroot.

Look Who's Coming To Luncheon

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

The girls young married or in whatever category — love salads. So when it's your turn to ask them to lunch, salad's an excellent choice for the main dish.

But what salad? Make the menu interesting and consider serving a salad they've never encountered before.

And that's exactly what we have for you today. This salad recipe is spanking-new an interesting combination of ingredients that includes chutney. Cubes of cooked chicken are marinated in French dressing, then the chicken is tossed with cooked rice, diced green pepper and toasted slivered blanched almonds. The almonds, just as a reminder, come in cans and we find them as you may—a boon. No blanching, no cutting, no toasting to do. Canned pears garnish the salad, and a litt'e if the pear also goes right into it.

One "must" with this salad: a really good hot bread. We suggest something exotic like Poori from India or something easy to make but delicious like hot biscuits with a cheese topping. You can concoct the latter from a mix adding cream instead of milk; the dough can then be dropped into very small muffin pans and be sprinkled with grated Parmesan cheese and paprika.

Canned pears are great to have on the pantryshelf to use "as is' 'or in a more elaborate dessert offering. Try serving them in a big skillet with just a little of their syrup and a lot of grated orange rind. Serve the warm pears with scoops of vanilla ice cream and a topping of warm or cold chocolate sauce. A delightful dessert to present to guests and so easy to put together.

Chicken and Pear Salad

1 can (1 pound, 13 ounces) Bartlett pear halves
1½ cups diced cooked chicken
¼ cup tart French dressing
2 cups cooked converted-type rice, at room temperature
¼ cup finely diced green pepper
1-3 cup toasted slivered blanched almonds
2-3 cup drained diced chutney preferably mango variety
Watercress or other salad greens for garnish

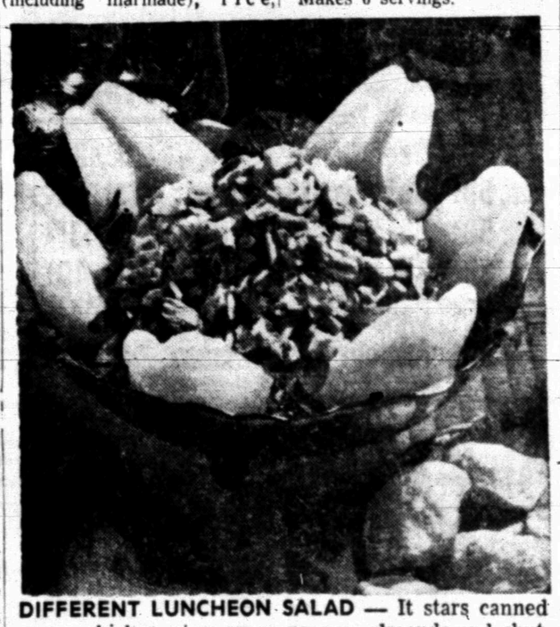
Drain pears. Chill 6 halves and dice remaining half or halves.

Marinate chicken in French dressing for 1 hour or longer.

Just before serving toss together the diced pear, chicken (including marinade), rice, green pepper, almonds and chutney.

Mound salad in salad bowl and encircle with pear halves. Tuck sprigs of watercress at the sides of the pear halves.

Makes 6 servings.



DIFFERENT LUNCHEON SALAD — It stars canned pears, chicken, rice, green pepper, almonds and chutney.

Italians Call For Halt Of Construction

ROME (AP) — An Italian scientific agency called today for a halt in construction of a mammoth industrial project along the shores of the Venetian lagoon and the digging of a new canal in the queen city of the Adriatic.

The National Council for Research said the projects threatened "the total destruction of Venice" and urged their abandonment "to stop disaster."

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM

Los Angeles:—Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, or your waistline is larger than 32 inches, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim," in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available at

Workers Begin On Giant Airport

By SHELBY HAGER
Associated Press Writer

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Workmen began moving heavy equipment in position today to open the first phase of construction on the Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport.

Local, state and federal government officials participated in formal groundbreaking ceremonies Wednesday at the point where the giant facility crosses the Tarrant-Dallas county line.

The $350-million airport—covering 30 square miles—will open Dec. 11, 1972, a spokesman said.

Secretary Alan S. Boyd of the U.S. Department of Transportation, speaking at a formal luncheon program, referred to the rivalry of recent years between Dallas and Fort Worth officials over air service facilities. He said the friction had formally ended with issuance of the work order.

He called the long battle "a real doozy of a fght" and said the airport complex was "far ahead of anything else in the world."

With a 30 mile-an-hour wind whipping the some 300 persons gathered in the pasture for the ceremonies, officials mounted four huge bulldozers to kick off the construction.

Dallas Mayor Erik Jonsson, chairman of the airport board, arrived at the pasture site aboard helicopter.

Jonsson was accompanied by Fort Worth's representative in the project, J. Lee Johnson III, the vice president of the board, and Secretary Boyd.

In the audience were executives and staff members from all of the nation's major airlines expected to use the unique terminal.

The ground breaking site was selected, officials said, because the city limits lines of three smaller cities come together at that point. The cities are Irving, Grapevine and Euless.

Two main runways 11,000-feet long will extend north and south. Plans call for extensin to 14,000 feet by the 1980's.

Two service runways 9,000 feet long cross the main tracks.

Architects said a plan to develop unique separate terminals of semi-circular loop structures will give the airport flexibility unheard of in the past.

The facility will have five self-contained terminals instead of the traditional central pavilion with concourses leading from airline embarkation areas.

Officials say plans call for adding nine more of the semi-circle terminals. Planners said passengers will park within 300 feet of the plane they plan to board.

Automobile traffic, long a problem at convention air terminals, will find the six-lane highway between the two main runways eliminating much of the delay.

War's Toll Past 30,000

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that 192 Americans were killed in combat in Vietnam last week, pushing the war's toll of U.S. combat dead past 30,000.

By midnight Saturday, the U.S. Command said, a total of 30,057 Americans had been killed in combat in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961. In the same period of nearly seven years, the U.S. Command said, at least 422,979 of the enemy have been killed.

Last week's total was 36 less than the 228 Americans reported killed the week before. The command said 1,110 Americans were wounded, with 424 of them hospitalized, compared with 1,094 the wek before.

The report raised to 189,269 the number of Americans wounded in the Vietnam war.

American spokesmen said 1,715 of the enemy were killed last week, a figure that is certain to increase as more reports come in. It said the enemy toll for the week before, reported last Thursday as 2,689 killed, now has increased to 2,727.

Detroit Gets 'Bad News'

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Paul Seymour has had nothing but bad news since taking over as coach of the Detroit Pistons, so what else could be expected from Jim "Bad New" Barnes?

Barnes, who has been nothing but good news to the Boston Celtics since joining them last week, scored a three-point play with 70 seconds left Wednesday night and lifted the Celtics to a 108-10 victory over the Pistons.

The loss was the seventh straight for Detroit and its fifth in a row since Seymour took over for fired Donis Butcher.

The victory was the sixth in seven starts for Boston, but still left them a game behind Baltimore in the National Basketball League's Eastern Division after the Bullets rode over the New York Knicks 118-110.

In other games, Philadelphia hammered Phoenix 143-123, Cincinnati topped San Diego 116-110 and Milwaukee halted San Francisco 106-96.

In the American Basketball Association, Kentucky beat Houston 106-99, Indiana defeated Miami 117-100 and Los Angeles turned back Minnesota 124-116.

Barnes, acquired from Chicago, scored 20 points last week to help the Celtics beat Cincinnati. He had only 10 against the Pistons, but three of them put the Celtics ahead to stay after Detroit took a 104-103 lead.

Larry Siegfried led Boston with 27 points and Jimmy Walker had 28 for Detroit.

Baltimore won its fourth straight and ninth in 11 outings as Wes Unsel with 22 points and 13 rebounds, Gus Johnson with 22 points and Earl Monroe with 18 played the major roles.

Billy Cunningham scored 16 of his 25 points in the first quarter to get Philadelphia off and running to an easy victory, but the 76ers lost center Luke Jackson to an apparent ruptured achilles tendon. The victory was the 15th in 18 games for the 76ers while the Suns lost for the 16th time in 17 tries.

Connie Dierking, hitting 10 of his 18 points in the final quarter, dropped in two field goals to put Cincinnati ahead to stay 94-91 with eight minutes left. Oscar Robertson had 34 points for the Royals and Elvin Hayes 35 for the Rockets.

Milwaukee broke open its game in the fourth quarter with a 15-4 spree led by Flynn Robinson, who scored 24 points. San Francisco, playing without injured Nate Thurmond, was paced by Rudy LaRusso with 21.

Joe Shaves For $10,000

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The needling came as fast as a blitzing safety, but at $10,000, bare-faced Joe Namath could take it.

That's the fee Namath supposedly got for shaving his celebrated Fu Manchu mustache. He did it Wednesday as part of a television commercial for an electric razor company.

When he awoke in the morning, the heavy whiskers outlined the top and sides of his mouth. By the time he arrived at Shea Stadium for a New York Jets' workout, his two-month growth was gone, wiped out in a three-minute shave at a studio in Manhattan.

Did you save any of the clippings, Joe? Maybe the Hall of Fame would want them.

"They don't want anything from me," Namath replied. "I'm just a clean cut American guy."

Is your face cold?

"No, not yet. But when I go out, I'll be cold all over."

Do you think it'll affect your play?

"I can scramble better now. I'm a little lighter."

Joe declined to disclose how much he picked up for the shave. He wouldn't even name the company.

The Associated Press, however, learned that Namath received a fee somewhere in the area of $10,000 for shaving off the mustache, then being hugged by three pretty girls, two brunettes and a blonde, who liked him so much without the mustache.

Milt Woodard, president of the American Football League, should like Joe better now, too.

A couple of weeks ago, he wrote to Jets' Coach Weeb Ewbank suggesting that the mustaches and beards that adorned the faces of Namath and several other Jets were bad for the image of pro football.

Outsiders Lead 15-14

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Southwest Conference took two shots to the chin and sank below .500 against intersectional foes for the first time this season Wednesday night.

Undefeated Louisville nipped Southern Methodist 79-73 and Tulane outlasted Texas 108-95 to drop the SWC to a 14-15 mark for the year against outside competition.

Texas A&M tries to even things up tonight when it takes on Louisiana Tech at College Station in the only game involving a SWC team.

Butch Beard was too much for the Mustangs as he poured in 35 points with 12 field goals and 11 free throws. Mike Grosso finished with 21 points and 18 rebounds.

Gary Sibley paced the Mustangs with 23 points followed by Gene Phillips' 22.

Tulane streaked to a 59-44 halftime margin on a blistering 60 per cent shooting from the field. The Longhorns could come no closer than nine points in the final 20 minutes.

Johnny Arthurs hit 36 points to head the Green Wave scoring. Bruce Motley led Texas with 25 points. Wayne Doyal had 20 and Kurt Papp 19.

Tulane finished with 54 per cent from the field. Texas shot 50 per cent—which normally wins most games.

Cowboy Bond Sale Set

DALLAS (AP) — The owner of the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League said Wednesday that the Dec. 31 deadline for bond issuance to build the proposed Texas Stadium in Irving will be met.

"The bonds are going to New York for signature Monday," said Clint Murchison Jr. "They will be delivered to purchasers the week after Christmas."

Murchison said about $11 million in bonds had been sold.

Originally it was estimated that the stadium would cost $15 million. Murchison and Irving Mayor Robert Power said recently rising construction costs would send it higher.

Murchison denied that he would scrap plans for the stadium if costs rose over $20 million.

Hermleigh Tournament Underway

The annual Hermleigh High School basketball tournament was to get underway today with competition in both boys and girls divisions.

The girls division began at 11 a.m. with Roscoe meeting Noodle, followed by a clash between Highland and Fluvanna at 1:30 p.m. Other first-round tilts in the girls division pit Ira against Hobbs at 5 p.m. and Loraine against host Hermleigh at 7:30 p.m.

Play in the boys division began at 12:15 p.m. with Noodle meeting Roscoe, followed by a 2:45 p.m. tussle between Highland and Fluvanna. Ira will meet Hobbs at 6:15 p.m., followed by an 8:45 p.m. contest between Loraine and Hermleigh.

Second round tilts in the girls division are on tap for 11 a.m. Friday, 1:30 p.m., 5 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. with the Consolation finals set for 10 a.m. Saturday, followed by the battle for third place at 5 p.m. and the championship finals at 7:30 p.m.

The boys division has second round tilts scheduled at 12:15 p.m. Friday, 2:45 p.m., 6:15 p.m. and 8:45 p.m. with the Consolation finals on tap for 11:15 p.m. Saturday, followed by the contest for third place at 6:15 p.m. and the championship finals at 8:45 p.m.

Junior High Tilts On Tap

Four Junior High basketball games were on tap today.

Travis Junior High will host Colorado City with the 8th grade teams of both schools to tangle at 5 p.m., followed by a 6:30 p.m. clash between the 9th grade teams.

Lamar will host Stamford with the 8th grade tilt in the Lamar gym and 9th grade in the High School gym, both at 5 p.m.

Canyon Reef Tourney

Panthers Seek Snyder's Crown

The Fourteenth annual Canyon Reef Basketball Tournament, which begins at 2:30 p.m. Friday in the Scurry County Coliseum, should be as exciting as any of the past tournaments. Snyder's Tigers are defending champions, having knocked off a tall Crane team in the finals last year.

Several talented teams, led by Lubbock Dunbar, state finalist last season, will be out to battle for the crown. Admission is 50 cents for students and $1 for adults for each session. There will be four sessions.

The first session, beginning at 2:30 p.m. Friday, pit Phillips against Brownfield, followed by a 4 p.m. match between Dunbar and Midland High and a 5:30 p.m. tussle between Dumas and Seminole.

The second session begins at 7 p.m. Friday with a college tilt pitting the freshman teams of Texas Tech and Abilene Christian College against each other, followed by a 9 p.m. skirmish between Snyder and Littlefield.

The third session begins at 8 a.m. Saturday with the loser of the Phillips-Brownfield match meeting the loser of the Dunbar - Midland tilt. It will be followed at 9:30 a.m. with a contest between the loser of the Dumas - Seminole tilt and the loser of the Snyder-Littlefield game. The third session also includes two tilts among first round winners at 11 a.m. and 12:30 p.m.

The last session begins at 5 p.m. Saturday with the Consolation finals, followed at 6:30 p.m. with the battle for third place, and at 8 p.m. with the championship finals.

Snyder's Tigers, coached by Ned Underwood, have worked out in the Coliseum twice and have had two tilts in the big arena. With a 4-3 mark, the Bengals worked out in the Coliseum yesterday, but were due to move to the high school gym for today's practice session since the Coliseum will be the site for the annual All-School choir program tonight.

The Tiger squad includes five seniors, five juniors and one sophomore. Everyone is in sound shape physically except senior Jerry January, who remains hospitalized with an injured knee. He will miss the tournament. The Bengals hit 85 per cent from the free throw line in their latest outing — a 74-50 verdict over Andrews here Tuesday. There are several talented shooters in the Bengal lineup, but Dennis Wolfe and Dennis Carlton, at 6-3 each, are the tallest boys on the squad. Neither is a starter.

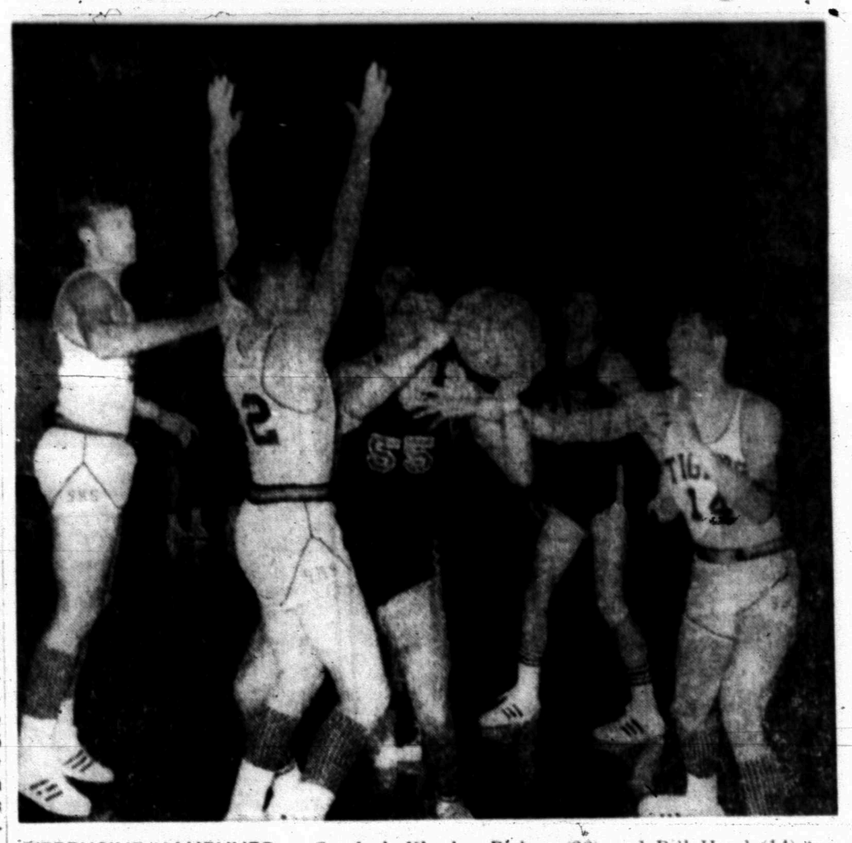
Underwood still was undecided yesterday about who will open. Most of the time, the starters have included seniors Bill Hood (5-10) and Jodi Williamson (5-8) at guard, and senior Benny Ward (6-1) and juniors Wesley Bishop (6-0) and Jim Patrick (6-2) up front. Junior Lee McNair (5-11) and senior Randy Rushing (6-2) also will see plenty of action. In fact, both have scored more than 10 points on more than one occasion. Sophomore Bruce Almond (6-0) also will be available for duty.

The competition will be tough. Dunbar, led by senior guard Frank Melton (5-10) and junior forward Marc Wilson (6-3) can start five seniors. Ten of the Panthers stand 6-0 or taller.

Midland, the Class AAAA team, is in a re-building year and has only two seniors. None of the Bulldogs stand over 6-3.

Dumas has the most height with Allen Carson, a senior, and Randy Willis, a sophomore, both standing 6-6. Another senior David Ruth, has 6-4 height. There are six seniors on the Demon squad. Littlefield, which will be competing in the north zone of District 3-AAA, will be led by juniors Max Hutchins (6-4) and Gary Nance and senior Wally Sanders (6-3). The Wildcats can field an all-senior alignment.

Brownfield has four boys who stand 6-3 and one — senior Gary Baccus — who stands 6-5. The Cubs also have experience to go with their height. Neither Phillips nor Seminole list any boys over 6-2½, but the Blackhawks have 10 seniors and the Indians have nine seniors.



DEFENSIVE MANEUVER — Snyder's Wesley Bishop (22) and Bill Hood (14) try to prevent an Andrews' boy from making a shot during the non-district basketball tilt here last Tuesday. Jim Patrick (50) is ready to lend a helping hand. The Tigers will be hosts for the 14th annual Canyon Reef Tournament, which gets underway at 2:30 p.m. Friday in the Scurry County Coliseum.

Kittens In Kermit Tourney

Snyder High School's talented "B" team Kittens will try to imporve on their respectable 4-2 record at a Junior Varsity Basketball Tournament in Kermit this weekend.

The Kittens will meet Pecos in the first round at 6:30 p.m. Friday. Other Friday pairings find Andrews meeting Monahans at 1 p.m., Ft. Stockton tangling with Seminole at 2:30 p.m. and Crane meeting Kermit at 4 p.m.

If they win, the Tigers play at 2 p.m. Saturday. Should they lose, they would play at 8:30 a.m. Saturday. Tilts also are on tap for 8 p.m. Friday, 11:30 a.m. Saturday, with the Consolation finals set for 3:30 p.m. Saturday, followed by the skirmish for third place at 6:30 p.m. and the championship tilt at 8 p.m.

Coach Jerry McLeod has named starters, as follows: guards Glenn Rambin and Ronald Ward and forwards Ronal Gladson, Danny Farmer and Jeff Stewart. Also slated to make the trip are Tony Breedlove, Bid Cooper and Billy Kay.

Stewart, at 6-4, is the tallest boy on the team. Ward and Gladson are juniors, and the other boys are sophomores.

Youngest member of the 1968 U. S. Olympic team for the winter games was Janet Lynn, 14, of Rockford, Ill. She's a figure skater.

Trinity Is Ranked No. 4

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Powerful Kentucky Wesleyan, which has turned back 24 straight foes including three this season, is the No. 1 team in The Associated Press' first all college basketball poll of the season.

The Panthers, winners of last March's NCAA small college tournament, drew all but three of the 13 first-place votes for 200 points in the balloting by a regional panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Wesleyan has defeated Mac-Murray 97-65, Indiana State 73-69 in overtime and Union, Tenn., 101-80 this season.

Central State of Ohio, named first on two ballots in picking up 167 points, was second despite a 2-1 record—including a 95-91 loss to No. 12 West Virginia State.

Ashland, Ohio, 3-0, as third and Trinity, Tex., 4-1, fourth. Trinity was a third-place finisher in the NCAA tournament, beating out Ashland in the consolation game.

Long Beach State, 4-0, was fifth, followed by No. 6 Cheyney State, 2-0; No. 7 Southwest Missouri State, 3-1; No. 8 Southwestern Louisiana, 3-3; No. 9 Fairmont State, W.Va., 40, and No. 10 Youngstown, 3-0.

The Top 20, with first-place votes, records and total points:

1. Ky. Wesleyan (10)	3-0	200
2. Central St., Ohio (2)	2-1	167
3. Ashland, Ohio	3-0	113

Bear Search Continues

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Baylor's search for a head football coach appears to be concentrating on the assistant ranks.

The Baylor faculty athletic council interviewed a Southwest Conference assistant Wednesday for the second consecutive day—Mike Campbell of the University of Texas.

The day before Arkansas assistant Cecil (Hootie) Ingram dropped in for a talk with Edwin P. Horner, chairman of the athletic council.

There had been reports that Jerry Claiborne, head coach at Virginia Tech, was the top prospect. Claiborne's team plays in the Liberty Bowl game this weekend.

OPPOSED TO UNISEX?

Guide To Distinguish Sexes

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — We live in confused times, and few things are more confusing than the sexes themselves.

It is getting harder to tell them apart as men and women tend to ape each other more in manners, dress and talk. Some say that differences between the sexes aren't of much importance any longer anyway. They feel that society is headed toward a future in which there will be only one gender—unisex.

While such a situation certainly would end the present puzzlement, there are those among us who are old-fashioned enough to prefer a world in which there are two sexes—and ways to distinguish them.

There is no doubt it has become increasingly difficult to tell the sexes apart, and it is certainly far more difficult than the traditional task of separating the sheep from the goats. But there are means available to do the job in most cases.

For example:

If it is too lazy to scrub out the ring it leaves in the bathtub, it is probably a boy. If it wears more than one ring on its fingers, it is probably a girl.

Does it enjoy playing house? It is a little lass. Would it rather scoot around the floor pushing a toy fire engine? It is a little lad.

Does it wear rubber gloves to protect its hands while doing the dishes? It's a wife. If it moans and groans and says that, after all, washing dishes isn't its line of work, it's a husband.

Could it dance the night away at a fraternity prom and still look dewy-fresh at dawn? That's a coed. Would it rather, after swinging its partner around the floor once, sneak out and pitch woo in a parked car? That's Joe College.

Do the pockets of its slacks bulge with junk it has no real need for? Put it down for a young gentleman. Can't it ever manage to carry even its own pack of cigarettes and matches in its slacks? Put it down to be a young lady.

Does it like to pick up an infant and toss it into the air and catch it? That's the Papa. Does it hold the infant to its bosom with one hand while it tries to butter a piece of breakfast toast with the other? That's the Mama.

Does it keep its old love letters tied in beribboned packets and like to take them out and have a good cry reading them on rainy days? That is the Mrs. Does it sometimes get in trouble by leaving new love notes crumpled in a suit to be sent to the cleaners? That is the Mr.—and he's a rascal, he is.

Is it sometimes willing to admit its errors and take the blame for them? It is a man. Does it always try to conceal its mistakes and like to be flattered for its faults? It has to be a woman.

Is it a teen-ager? There is no known way for an adult to determine by himself the sex of a teen-ager. They all look and act alike. All you can do is put another teen-ager into the room and wait and see what happens. They seem able to tell each other apart—but just how no one knows.

A Junior Editors Quiz About GENIES

QUESTION: Are genies fact or myth?

* * * *

ANSWER: The ancient Romans thought each person had a special genie, able to protect and guide him. The old time Arabians also believed in these supernatural beings. They called them jinns. The Arabian Nights stories contain many references to them. In the famous story of Aladdin, there was a powerful jinn inside the lamp, which would come out when the lamp's owner rubbed it. Another story told of an old fisherman and a jinn. The fisherman had found a jar in his net; he opened it and a huge jinn came out threatening to kill him. The smart old man questioned the jinn's ability to go in and out of the jar. When the jinn popped in to prove his power, the fisherman clamped on the stopper. "Only let me out and I swear to be your slave," screamed the jinn. The old man pulled the stopper — and there was the jinn all ready to serve him. Of course all these stories are purely mythical. Yet many people feel we do have forces protecting us. There's a wonderful voice inside us called our conscience. Do what your conscience tells you and you'll get more reward than a million jinns could bring you.

'Repotting' Makes Dean Blossom Anew

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Can a college dean with no previous experience in banking find success and happiness in the intricate world of high finance at the age of 56?

Perhaps he can if he is competitive by nature, feels he has plenty to offer, is willing to take on the double task of learning and performing at the same time, and is ready to admit the task will kill him or stimulate him.

That, at least, is a partial portrait of the man who is doing it, Ernest Arbuckle, former dean of the Stanford Graduate School of Business and now chairman of Wells Fargo Bank, San Francisco-based but worldwide in influence.

In the job four months now, Arbuckle concedes that it is tough to learn and perform simultaneously but already he has decided that the job will stimulate rather than kill him.

Swapping jobs is nothing new to the former dean, who shifts completely every 10 years.

For 10 years—with time out for combat Navy service in World War II—he was an executive with Standard Oil of California. After that came a decade with W.R. Grace Co. and then 10 years with Stanford.

"Repotting," said Arbuckle in an interview, "that's how you get a new bloom." But not everyone should try to blossom out anew, he feels.

"It really depends on the individual. I don't believe it is the best thing for your career to change jobs simply for the change.

"You begin with objectives concerning your job and your own self-development, and if another opportunity comes along you don't jump until you've accomplished your goals.

"You also shouldn't stay put for its own sake. You should have a plan of accomplishment and when that is achieved you should be willing to start off again."

In his alloted 10 years at Wells Fargo—he must retire at age 65—Arbuckle hopes to contribute in two main areas: bringing a broad management background to long-range planning and building the bank's principal resources—people.

Since Arbuckle served on corporate boards while at Stanford, he hopes to bring new attitudes and points of view to Wells Fargo, most of those senior officers have spent most of their life in banking.

This background is expected to be especially valuable during the next few years, when many banks will be diversifying into related fields such as mutual funds and insurance. It should be a growth decade for banks with manpower.

Sacramento Students Plan 'Nondinner'

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — The tables will be set for a banquet. There will be menus and a bill to pay—but no food or drink.

It's a "nondinner" at Sacramento State College Sunday evening. Sponsored by students, it will raise money to help make Christmas happier for poor families in the Sacramento area.

Leonard Starks, president of the Associated Students of Sacramento State, said they hope at least 600 persons will show up and pay for items ranging from a 10-cent soft drink to $5 for a steak. They'll get nothing of course, except a feeling of helping others.

Visitors Barred During Flu Outbreak

DETROIT (AP) — Most visitors have been barred from six Detroit hospitals for the duration of the outbreak of Hong Kong flu.

It was feared that visitors might pass the flu to patients and workers. Hospital officials said that visitors will be allowed to see patients in especially serious condition.

Pipers Upset Los Angeles

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Lowly Los Angeles threw at least a temporary stumbling block into Minnesota's title drive, and Kentucky used a come-from-behind rally to take advantage of it in the American Basketball Association Wednesday night.

The Pipers, down 64-49 at the half, couldn't quite pull off a last half surge and lost to Los Angeles 124-116. Kentucky, meanwhile, shaved Minnesota's Eastern Division lead to 4½ games with a 106-99 victory over Houston. Indiana routed Miami 117-100 in the night's other game.

In the National Basketball Association, Baltimore checked New York 118-110, Cincinnati stopped San Diego 116-110, Boston nipped Detroit 108-106, Philadelphia rolled over Phoenix 143-123 and Milwaukee beat San Francisco 106-96.

Minnesota's Connie Hawkins scored 47 points but it couldn't offset Los Angeles' balanced attack. Warren Davis collected 26 points for the Stars, Larry Miller contributed 24 and Ben Warley chipped in with 23. Warley hit on 4-of-4 three-point baskets.

Hawkins was a virtual one man show for the Pipers, connecting on 16 of 24 field goal attempts.

Minnesota rallied in the second half but couldn't cope with the Stars' Davis, who tallied 22 points after the intermission. The loss only was the Pipers' second in their last 11 starts.

Houston, down 31-17 at the end of the first period, rallied to a 51-50 lead in the third quarter before Kentucky got hot and moved back into the lead.

Jim Ligon paced the Colonels with 25 points, while Louie Dampier and Darrel Carrier had 21 each.

Recruiting Is Big SWC Subject

DALLAS (AP) — The midwinter meeting of the Southwest Conference started today with the head football coaches and athletic directors making recommendations to the faculty representatives.

Recruiting is expected to be one of the prime topics of conversation.

The SWC meeting will last for three days. An official statement is expected to be released Saturday by Howard Grubbs, executive secretary of the SWC.

No schools are expected to be disciplined for any major rules violations.

BOOST PROGRAM — Dan Cotton, president of the American Field Service, accepts a check from Mrs. Roy (Rita) Carter, treasurer of Zeta Lambda Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma, for the student exchange program. Miss Edna Francaó, a student from Brazil, is living with the Carters this year while studying at Snyder High School. Cotton said the AFS will be unable to sponsor a Snyder student abroad next summer due to a lack of funds. Contributions to support the student exchange program may be sent to Cotton or to Malven Stevenson, treasurer of the AFS.

Dockmen Strike Looms

WASHINGTON (AP) —The nation may face a longshoremen's strike next week in East Coast and Gulf Ports.

A majority of some 30,000 union members voted Wednesday to reject the latest shippers' contract offcers.

The rejection reopens the prospect of a walkout when a federal cooling off injunction expires Dec. 20.

President Johnson ordered the use of the Taft-Harley "cooling off" clause about two months ago as a strike loomed.

The National Labor Relations Board supervised the election procedures. The vote was 14,379 to 1,112 against the managements offer to boost wages rom $3.62 to $4.25 an hour over a three-year period.

Union officials will be free to call for a strike at the end of the 80-day injunction next week.

Government sources said negotiators were resuming in New York in an effort to avert the strike.

The vote was taken in the ports of New York; Searsport and Portland, Maine; Boston, Mass.; Providence, R.I.; Philadelphia, Pa.; Hampton Roads, Va.; Miami and Port Everglades, Fla.; and South Atlantic Ports from Moorehead City, N.C., to Tampa, Fla.

Some 10,000 eligible longshoremen in other Gulf of Mexico Ports did not vote though they are bound by the majority action in the other ports. They were not permitted to vote because the management offers were not final.

London Firemen On A Slowdown

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LONDON (AP) — London's fire engines are unpolished, its fire stations unswept and littered, and only emergency calls are being answered.

It's a slowdown by the 5,000 firemen in 120 stations who rejected a $2.40 wage increase offered by the Greater London Council. They make from $48 to $57.60 a week.

The Fire Brigade Union wants $4.80 to compensate for "compulsory overtime" caused by a shortage of 500 firemen.

Red Carpet For Victims Of Hijack

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Passengers aboard a hijacked jetliner ate steak in Cuba Wednesday while their calm hijacker and his woman companion waited for 6½ hours in a room at Havana airport.

Seven crew members and all but two of the 32 passengers aboard the inaugural flight of a Nashville-to-Miami Trans-World Airlines route returned to Miami Wednesday night aboard separate planes.

The hijack couple, both appearing in their 20s, were detained at the airpodt for 6½ hours before they were taken away by Cuban authorities. Newsmen in Cuba reported the man, who carried a trumpet, and the woman dozed on couches.

Usually hijackers are met at the plane by Cuban authorities and whisked away immediately.

Two passengers, country singer Tex Ritter and professional golfer Mason Rudolph, said the Cubans fed the stranded travelers grapefruit juice, beer, steaks and sandwiches during their nine-hour stay.

"You had the feeling they were milking it for what it was worth," Ritter said after returning to Miami. "At the end of the day you decided they were pretty nice people. I think that's what they had in mind.

"It was not bad at all. I think most of the people rather enjoyed it except we had about a 2½ hours bus ride" to Varadero, where the passengers were picked up by a second plane, Ritter said.

Ritter said FBI agents showed him pictures of Eldridge Cleaver, fugitive Black Panther leader, and three other men but he could identify none of them as the hijacker. Federal authorities questioned the passengers for about an hour when they returned to Miami.

About the same time the hijacked plane was flying between Nashville and Havana, Cleaver's wife, Kathleen, was being interviewed in a friend's Manhattan apartment by a reporter for the New York Times.

"Officially," Mrs. Cleaver said, "the last time I saw Eldridge was Nov. 24. But unofficially, I saw him last night."

Mrs. Cleaver, 23, said her husband did not intend to return to prison in San Francisco, adding: "He'll be assassinated if he goes back. They tried to kill him three times before, in prison . . .

"Eldridge told me he would rather be killed in a fair fight out in the open than be taken back to prison."

Santa and the Hippies

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: Santa says he can save Santa Land with the three-colored string but when he boosts Edgar into his plane Santa himself turns into a top.

CHAPTER 10
THE BATH

EDGAR and Ding Dong and all the hippies stared incredulously at the top spinning at their feet.

Edgar sat on the wing of the plane. "It's Hesekiah's magic salt!" he moaned. "It turned everyone in Santa Land into tops and now it has done the same to Santa."

"But Hesekiah is in Santa Land," protested the hippies. "How could the salt get to Hippieville?"

"I don't know, I don't know," sobbed Edgar and buried his face in his hands.

Suddenly Ding Dong pointed at Edgar's shoes. "Look at his feet!"

All the hippies looked. Edgar took his hands from his eyes and looked. There on the bottom of the elf's shoes was a trace of Hesekiah's salt.

"I must have stepped in it up at Santa Land," gasped the elf.

"And when you put your shoe in Santa's hands the salt got on him!" groaned a hippie.

"It's all my fault," wept the elf.

But Ding Dong said, "Never mind whose fault it is. We must burn the shoes quickly before we all turn into tops. After that we'll think of what to do."

Ever so carefully Edgar slipped off his shoes without touching the soles. The hippies built a bonfire and the red-haired hippie picked up the shoes with sticks and dropped them in the fire where they burned to ashes.

"Now," said Ding Dong. "We must break Hesekiah's spell."

"Santa said he could destroy Hesekiah with the three-colored string. Why couldn't we do the same?"

"Grovy!" cried the hippies, cheering up. They turned to Edgar. "Where do we get the string?"

Edgar shook his head miserably. "I never before heard of such a string!"

"Some one must know! Think!"

Edgar thought and thought and finally said, "There's the Butterfly Queen. She was Santa's best friend. She might know about the string."

"Bring her to Hippieville! She will tell us what to do."

"If she left her kingdom she would die," said Edgar.

"Then take us to her!"

"Only one can go," said Edgar. "For only one human being every hundred years is allowed in Butterfly Kingdom."

Ding Dong said, "If I hadn't come to Hippieville none of this would have happened. I am the one who must go."

Edgar told them that the Butterfly Queen was the loveliest creature on earth, that she lived in beauty in the most beautiful of kingdoms. He looked unhappily at Ding Dong's dirty face and long hair and hanging shirt tail. It was clear what he was thinking.

Ding Dong looked at the hippies and the hippies looked at him and they all knew what they had to do.

They found an old rusty tub and filled it with water. They poured in seven bottles of the liquid they used for blowing bubbles. Then they dumped Ding Dong into the bubbles and scrubbed him and scoured him and rubbed him with sand.

They perfumed him with olive oil and cleaned his teeth with pine needles. They cut his hair with a pocket knife and combed it with a fork. Finally they dressed him in clean clothes they hadn't used since they came to Hippieville.

When they were through there stood Ding Dong neat and shining as a boy on the way to his grandmother's house for dinner.

Edgar nodded approvingly and said, "He'll do."

WILL SOAR AROUND THE MOON — The Apollo 8 crew, from left, Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell, Jr., and Air Force Major William A. Anders, will undertake one of the riskiest missions ever attempted by man. During their seven-day flight in Apollo 8 later this month, the spacecraft will streak 250,000 miles to the lunar vicinity, orbit the moon for 20 hours like a moth around a flame, then return to earth. Apollo 8 Engine Presents Problem

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Engineers and technicians worked today to fix a leak in a first stage engine of the giant Apollo 8 moon rocket, hoping it will not delay the Dec. 21 blast-off of man's first journey to the moon.

Top officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration planned to meet during the day to assess the problem and determine whether the engine must be replaced.

If the switch is made, a NASA spokesman said it would require at least three weeks, which would wipe out a Christmas-time moon orbit by Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders.

The spokesman said a change probably would require rolling the 36-story-tall rocket back to an assembly building three and one-half miles from the launch pad and a complete rerun of all tests that have been completed.

Other sources reported the engine could be swapped on the pad and all necessary tests completed in three days, enabling NASA to hold to the present launch date. However, officials might feel more secure if they worked in the assembly building.

NASA reported Wednesday night after the leak was discovered:

"It is a matter of concern, there is no doubt about that. But present indications are that we will not have to change the engine nor should this affect the launch date of Dec. 21."

Pressure tests were conducted throughout the night as the launch crew trouble-shot the problem, which is in a drain line that bleeds off excess propellant from a fuel pump in one of the five first stage engines of the three-stage Saturn 5. The big danger it poses is igniting too great a fire in the rocket exhaust as the Saturn 5 blasts into space.

NASA reported there was a high leak rate in the line, which permits normal seepage of fuel, including some used as lubricant while the rocket is lifting into space.

Officials were hopeful the difficulty could be overcome by simply replacing a pump, valve or seal.

A long delay would push the launching off until Jan. 18, which is the beginning of a seven-day favorable period when there are desired lighting conditions on the moon.

A primary goal of the Apollo 8 astronauts as they orbit the moon is to scout and photograph potential landing sites under lighing conditions that will exist when future astronauts touch down on the lunar surface.

Apollo 8's present launching period extends from Dec. 21 to 27.

While the launch crew probed the problem, Borman, Lovell and Anders Wednesday participated in the final major test that had been planned before the lengthy 102-hour terminal countdown is started. That is to begin Monday night.

The astronauts climbed into the Apollo 8 ship atop the Saturn 5 and rehearsed the final two and one-half hours of the countdown.

With this last test out of the way, NASA had four spare days in which to correct any problems before starting the actual countdown.

Among the troubles they intend to fix are minor communications and battery bugs that cropped up during the test Wednesday.

Sabine River Panel, TSRA Plan Meet

DALLAS (AP) — Reviews of key personnel and activities at the Texas Sabine River Authority's three operating divisions will be discussed when the authority directors meet in Dallas Friday and Saturday.

Also attending the annual meeting will be members of the Texas Water Rights Commission.

Divisions of the TSRA include Iron Bridge which operates Lake Tawakoni, Toledo Bend and Orange Canal. The Mineola-Lake Fork project in the upper watershed of the Sabine is also expected to be discussed.

The TSRA's general manager will make a yearly report, and officers will be elected at the meeting.

Santa Belles In Miniskirts A Favorite

By BARRY KRAMER
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — What's more popular at Christmas time than Santa Claus?

It's lady Santas. But perhaps it's because they wear red mini-dresses and tight red leotards.

After 68 years of relying on male Santa Clauses for Christmas season streetcorner collections, the Volunteers of America is experimenting with female collectors, called Santa's Belles. "They're doing two to three times as well as the men have done," said Paul H. Nolte, executive director of the Los Angeles volunteers.

Outfitted from cap to boots in red and white fur trim, five cute, college-age girls have been collecting stares and smites in downtown Los Angeles, as well as money for the organization's charitable activities.

"People ask things like, 'Will ou come down my chimney?'" said pretty Yvonne LaRose, 20, a sophomore at California State n Los Angeles.

Nolte says Yvonne's collections reach about $45 for a four-hour day. "A good Santa will pull in about $30 a day near Christmas and that's in an eight-hour day," he said.

The five girls, who are paid $2.10 an hour, augment a regular staff of 25 male Santas scattered around the city. The girls have done so well that their number will be doubled before Christmas, Nolte said.

Composer Is Dead

NEW YORK (AP) — Lou Davies, 57, composer and conductor who wrote arrangements for such recording stars as Perry Como, Lena Horne and Lawrence Welk, died Wednesday of a heart attack.

Actress' Father Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Raoul Fabares, 84, father of actress Nanette Fabray, died Tuesday night after a heart attack. Fabares was a retired railroad engineer.

Shooting Expert Dies

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Dr. Emmet O. Swanson, 62, expert pistol and rifle shot who was on four Olympic teams and captained the 1960 U.S. shooting team, died Tuesday. Swanson, a dentist, was president of the National Rifle Association in 1947-48.

POMP AND SPLENDOR

Jefferson Would Be Amazed

WASHINGTON (AP) — If Thomas Jefferson could attend President-elect Richard M. Nixon's upcoming $2 million inauguration, he might wonder at the regal trappings of modern democracy.

The inauguration planned for next Jan. 20 will approach a coronation in its spectacle and structed traditions — just the sort of thing Jefferson tried to avert. He and other early American presidents wanted to avoid any semblance of European monarchy.

As big as it will be, the Nixon parade will be shorter in length and duration than some in the recent past. Each state has been limited to one marching band and one float, and a target time of 2½ hours has been set for the duration of the festivities.

Although Jefferson might be dismayed by the elaborate quadrennial ritual of modern American presidential inaugurations, documents of the past show he would have to share some of the responsibility.

Official papers preserved in the Capitol Architect's office, the Smithsonian Institution, and the Library of Congress provide a fascinating contrast to the inauguration now being planned. They show how it went from perfunctory to pageantry in 36 lessons spread over 179 years.

The first inauguration was a spartan ceremony on the balcony of Federal Hall in New York City on April 30, 1789. Best guesses are that George Washington's inauguration did not cost the taxpayer a penny.

In contrast, just the ceremonies from Capitol Hill being planned for the Nixon inauguration, including the building of wooden and steel stands seating 18,300, will cost some $300,000. But this is only one aspect of the ceremonies of inducting a new president, which also includes a number of inaugural balls.

The only cost to the taxpayers is $400,000, the amount which Congress appropriated for the Capitol Hill ceremonies alone.

Businesses and individuals will be asked to underwrite the cost of the parade festivities, with money to be repaid by advertiing in the official program and receipts from tickets to grandstands along the parade route and to several of the inaugural balls.

Jefferson, the first president to be inaugurated in Washington, casually walked to the Capitol from a boarding house and took the oath of office in the old Senate chamber. There were 1,000 persons present.

In Jefferson's second inauguration, when Pennsylvania Aveue was described as a dusty, gravel road, he rode his horse to the Capitol for the brief ceremony.

But it was in this second Jefferson inauguration that the seeds of pomp and the embryo of circumstance began life: He allowed the playing of military music and he consented to riding back to the White House in a carriage.

Thus, in this small way, began the after-inaugural parade however modest it might have been.

Inaugural balls appear to have begun during James Madison's inauguration in March 1809—one administration after Jefferson's.

A White House reception was held at Madison's second inauguration at which—according to records—guests drank Madeira wine, ate bonbons and sampled a popular innovation called ice cream. The U.S. Marine Band played for the first time—as it has at every inaugural since.

James Monroe was the first president to take the oath of office outdoors in Washington, a custom imposed upon America by the British, who had bombarded and burned the Capitol in 1814, three years before his inauguration.

Andrew Jackson was the first president to be sworn in on a raised platform on the east portico of the Capitol—the popular traditional site since.

Historians believe Jackson's to be the most colorful inauguration ever. It was attended by 20,000 persons, including Indian fighters from Tennessee and veterans of the battle of New Orleans in the war of 1812.

Throughout inaugural records are items of costs, traditionally handled by the Senate Disbursing Office. William Henry Harrison's inaugural, for example, cost $286.75 in 1841, including $135 to build a platform.

By the time Franklin Pierce was inaugurated in 1853, the total cost had risen to $547.34—and it has been rising steadily since.

President Harry S. Truman's inauguration was the first to be televised, in 1948.

The coming inauguration will be televised by so many cameras—including color television equipment—that a newer, bigger, stronger platform is being built of steel and will be enclosed in special insulated glass.

Inaugurations often have been the forum for memorable public addresses. In 1933, Franklin Delano Roosevelt told a Depression-stricken nation: "The only thing we have to fear is fear itself." John F. Kennedy, in 1961, told the nation: "Ask not what your country can do for you—ask what you can do for your country."

A mother shrimp will eat her own eggs if they are not taken to other tanks immediately after spawning, in a shrimp farm.

Classic Credo Is 20 Years Old

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A classic credo on the rights of man becomes 20 years old Tuesday amid some doubts whether it has lived up to its promise.

A parade of diplomats has been paying tribute at the United Nations to the Universal Declaration of Human Rights adopted by the General Assembly Dec. 10, 1948.

They recalled how governments emerging from World War II joined in appealing for a "common standard of achievement for all people and all nations."

Delegates observed that the declaration has been translated into some 80 languages and incorporated into the constitutions of more than 40 countries.

The declaration, largely the product of Rene Cassin, French jurist who won the 1968 Nobel Peace Prize, and the late Eleanor Roosevelt, has been displayed in millions of classrooms around the world.

The General Assembly honored the movement by declaring 1968 the Year of Human Rights and is winding up celebrations marking the event.

Key provisions of the declaration include:

—All human beings are born free and equal in dignity and rights.

—Everyone is entitled to the same rights without distinction as to race, color, religion or political belief.

—Everyone has the right to life, liberty and security of person.

—No one shall be held in slavery or servitude.

—Everyone has the right to recognition everywhere as a person before the law.

—Everyone has the right to freedom of thought, conscience and religion.

—Everyone has the right to freedom of opinion and expression.

—Everyone has the right to work, to free choice of employment.

—Everyone has the right to education.

Many have decried the fact that the declaration was only morally binding on governments. After 18 years, it was followed by two covenants which could become legally binding.

One deals with civil and political rights of the individual and the other with his economic, social and cultural rights.

These covenants must be ratified by 35 nations before they come into force. So far only Costa Rica has ratified them.

Prison Trains Computer Programmers

WALPOLE, Mass. (AP) — Wanted: Public or nonprofit institution which seeks free computer programming. Apply Walpole State Prison.

"If you can get us more institutions—public or charitable—that want programming done free, we'll do it for them."

That's the offer from Gerald O'Loughlin, supervisor of education for the state Department of Corrections. Walpole has seven prisoners, from 20 to 45 years of age, who have learned computer programming while serving sentences of 5 to 20 years.

Right now the inmates, most of whom have not even finished high school, are performing the highly skilled programming for the state Department of Education.

Dr. James F. Baker, assistant education commissioner, estimates that the seven inmates have performed $22,000 worth of work for free. That is about 10 per cent of the programming required for the department on such estimates as enrollment projections, teacher classifications and class size listings to show how many elementary pupils are studying different subjects.

"These men provide a high level of technical service to the state," he adds. "It is clear evidence that a valid work experience can be provided to men in the restricted institutional setting of a prison."

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayer.

* * *

Q— Where can I get the forms I need to report tip income?

A — Your employer should have copies of Form 4070, Employees Report on Tips, which you should use. If he does not have them, send a post card to your district director requesting copies.

Q — I didn't get enough Federal Tax Deposit forms to cover all the tax deposits I have to make for my employees' withheld taxes. Where can I get more?

A — Write to either your District Director or the Director of the IRS Service Center for your region. When you write be sure to identify yourself by name, address and Employer Identification Number. Also indicate the class of tax and the period for which you need additional FTD forms.

Q — I had to retire because of illness and have a disability pension from my company. Will it be taxable for me?

A— It all depends on the kind of pension plan your company has and the normal retirement age under the plan. Most pensions will qualify for treatment as sick pay until you reach normal retirement age. Up to $100 a week may ordinarily be excluded as sick pay.

After you reach retirement age, your pension, or some portion of it, may, or may not be taxable depending on whether you contributed any part of its cost.

For further details, ask your District Director for Documents 5016, "Sick Pay," and 5018, "Retirement Income and Credit."

Q — Where do I deduct the veterinary fees I paid for my farm livestock last year?

A — They should be deducted as a farm expense on Part III of Schedule F. Livestock medicines are deductible too.

Q — How do I go about making a change in my estimated tax payments?

A — A change can be made on the back of the notice you will receive regarding your next payment which is due anuary 15.

If you didn't adjust your estimated tax payments in September to take care of the surtax, be sure to do it when you pay your January estimated tax installment.

Q — To supplement my income, I sell mutual funds. Can I reduce my income from this job by what it costs me to maintain one room in my house as an office?

A — To qualify for any deduction, you must establish that you are required to provide your space and facilities as a condition of your employment and that you regularly use this space for business purposes.

You must also be able to show the portion of your home used for this purpose and the amount of time it is so used.

For example, if the office space accounts for 10 percent of your total space, then you may take 10 percent of such items as rent, heat, light, insurance, real estate taxes and mortgage interest. Depreciation of the office portion of a home is also deductible if you own it. If you use the office portion only half the time for business purposes then you may deduct only 5 percent of the expenses as a business deduction.

Expenses attributable only to the personal portion of a house or apartment are not deductible.

Stabbing Ends Spat Over Buying Drinks

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — Police arrested a 28-year-old man here in connection with the stabbing of a 29-year-old man in a bar.

Officers said they were told the stabbing came after an argument.

The subject: who was going to buy the drinks.
