The Cotton Crop—
Prosperity for Texas—
Pay for the Farmer—
Who's Wrong Now?—

COTTON IS A TEXAS STAPLE and cotton is the money crop of the state. The August forecast by the government places the yield for 1922 at eleven million four hundred and forty-nine thousand bales of 500 pounds gross weight. This was the second forecast of the season, and the first predicted a crop of 11,065,000 bales. Heavy buying of cotton followed the issuance of the government report. Prices advanced 150 points. H. G. Hester, secretary of the New Orleans cotton exchange placed the carry-over from the season just ended at 4,904,000 bales against 9,364,000 bales a year ago. Secretary Hester's figures are interesting. World's consumption of American cotton, he placed at 12,804,000 bales against 10,330,000 bales last year and the commercial crop of American cotton he counted at 11,653,000 bales against 11,377,000 bales last year. This shows that the carry over from one season to another of American cotton shrank in a record-breaking manner and the carry-over figures were considerably smaller than expected by most traders and brokers in cotton. American mills are consuming more cotton than ever before in their history. There are thousands of textile workers on strike in New England.

THESE OPERATIVES HAVE been out for months. Nothwithstanding labor troubles, American mill report great activity in many New England centers and a very prosperous year is predicted by all those who are manufacturers of cotton goods. There are Texas economists and bankers who are predicting a yield of 3,500,000 bales. Should their prediction be verified and cotton sell at a fair price, there is going to be prosperity in this old state in all fields of endeavor before the coming of the holiday season og 1922-23. America came back. All the great mercantile and manufacturing establishments of the country are shewing profits and not losses for the year. According to the financial editor of the New York Times there is going to be a heavier demand for American cotton than was anticipated and the $33,000,000 advanced to cotton associations to asisst in a sane marketing of the fleecy staple is having a splendid effect. There is a holding movement of vast magnitude and those in charge of the marketing end of the game for the producers of cotton are going to take their time about marketing.

AN OKLAHOMA MARKETING association handled a hundred thousand bales last year. Its officials did not sell all the cotton placed in their custody in ninety days. They carried some of the cotton nine months and they sold it at fancy figures. This is going to be the order of the day in Texas and all other cotton producing states. Cotton farmers of the south, if they would

SIGNS POINT TO REED VICTORY

Long Has But Small Chance to Gain

By Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3.—Every factor that political experts pase their opinion on, indicates tonight that Senator James A. Reed has been nominated by the democrats of Missouri to be their standard bearer in November to succeed himself.

With 222 precincts missing out of 3,848 in the state, Senator Reed was leadig Breckenridge Long of St. Louis, former third assistant secretary of state in the Wilson administration by 6,879 votes. The vote in 3,626 precincts stood. Reed, 189,321; Long, 182,442.

In order to overcome this plurality in the remaining 222 precincts it will be necessary for Mr. Long to lead Senator Reed by almost 31 votes in each precinct. In the last 100 precincts reported from the less densely populated parts of the state the total number of voters to the precinct has not equalled 31.

Mr. Long indicated tonight that he would wait for the official count before having any statement to make, although he admitted that matters did not look as bright as earlier in the day.

R. R. Brawster of Kansas City supported by the regular republican party has won for the republican nomination for the United States senate with more than three-fourth of the state in, including complete returns from St. Louis, where William Sacks polled an enormous vote, Mr. Brewster is leading by more than 10,000. The vote in 2,826 precincts gives Brewster, 74,695; Sacks, 64,104.

FINAL TARIFF VOTE BLOCKED BY SENATORS

All Agreement Plans Upset for Time Being

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, August 3.—Upsetting plans of republican and democrat leaders for a final vote on the administration tariff bill on August 17, Senator Lenroot, republican of Wisconsin, gave notice today in the senate that there will be no unanimous consent agreement for a final vote at least until all important committee amendments to the measure had been discussed and acted upon.

The Wisconsin senator said he was anxious to limit debate and proposed an arrangement under which, beginning today, discussion would have been confined exclusively to the tariff with each senator limited to 10 minute talks on amendments to the bill after August 11.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the republican leader, objected to this, however, and the effort to come to an understanding in the open senate ended.

Subsequently, however, private negotiations looking to at least a curtailment of discussion were reopened and some republicans believed these might lead to results. Certain democratic senators, however, were represented as objecting to limitation of debate until after votes on the sections dealing with duties on sugar and hides. The democratic proposal for a final vote on August 19, and the republican conter proposition for a vote on August 17, led to a long discussion during the first "morning hour" the senate has had since the tariff bill was taken up. In the midst of the debate, Senator Gooding of Idaho, chairman of the republican agricultural tariff bloc, introduced his resolution directing special committee of five senators to inquire into and report to the senate on:

Gooding Resolution

"The financial interests of all members of the senate, or their immediate relatives, in any American industry or in any property in any community in the United States which may be affected directly or indirectly either by the passage or defeat of any proposed schedule in the pending tariff bill."

It referred also to the resolution offered last Saturday by Senator Caraway, democrat of Arkansas, proposing investigation of the financial interests, if any, of all senators in tariff schedules.

Fifteen republicans voted against the committee amendment and three democrats supported it.

TROOPS COVER COAL FIELDS

Indiana Mines Under Heavy Guard

By Associated Press.

STAUNTON, Ind., August 3.—Indiana troops tonight were spread over an area of 40 by 20 miles and controlled eight mining centers in four counties, as the first step in Governor McCray's plan for production of coal under state protection. There was no coal mined although officials predicted operation of the mines will get underway tomorrow.

It is planned to operate the mines opened here by employing local mines if they can be obtained. No one yet has responded, however and union officials insist that no one will. If there are no local volunteers for the labor, state officials said the work will be done by imported labor. Four hundred militia men, in addition to the 800 arriving last night came into this territory tonight.

By Associated Press.

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 3.—Captain Clifford E. Black, was formally charged with embezzlement in federal court here today after he had admitted to army officers, they allege, that he had disposed of government supplies to citizens of El Paso. Army officers said Black broke down as they were taking him from his cell and pleading for mercy for the sake of his wife and children, signed a statement implicating half a dozen El Paso citizens as having purchased the stolen goods from him. He dictated his confession to a stenographer, three hours being consumed in writing down the details of the thefts and sale of goods, covering a period of several months and amounting to several thousand dollars in value. The goods principally were steam radiators, plumbing supplies and the like.

When arraigned before United States Commissioner A. J. W. Schmidt, this afternoon, Captain Black pleaded not guilty. He was dressed in civilian clothes and accompanied by his counsel, Major D. G. Richard, of the eighth cavalry who announced that he would turn the captain's case over to a civilian lawyer.

"At present I have nothing to say," Captain Black said in answer to a reporter's question.

BUTTE MAY BE IN SENATE RACE

Candidacy Urged by Friends

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, August 3.—George C. Butte, formerly professor of law in the University of Texas, may enter the race for United States senator on a "progressive republican" ticket. Such was his statement today when asked if he was not considering entering the race.

Mr. Butte said that his friends are urging him to become a candidate for the senate and admitted that he "was seriously considering making the race but was not ready to commit himself." He said further that he "had no desire to get into politics and would only do so in order to give the people of Texas the opportunity of choosing a senator who could truly represent them without domination from any of the extreme groups or cliques in Texas politics."

Helps Demos

"My election would have to be largely at the hands of that great body of substantial democrats who were practically disfranchised as a result of the recent primaries," he said, adding that his campaign, if made, "would be to save the dignity of the state and to put at rest the idea that any small group of citizens, however laudable their motives may be, can set themselves and their procedure above the orderly processes of the law of the land."

Mr. Butte organized the oil and gas division of the state railroad commission and resigned after one year as chief of the division. During the world war he was a major in the intelligence department of the United States army. He resigned from the University law faculty last June.

Southern Reports Freight Increase

Shipments routed over the Wichita Falls & Southern are subject to the same delays on long hauls to destinations nor located on the W. F. & S. as are shipments of freight routed over the railroads affected by the strike, H. N. Roberts, traffic manager of the railroad, said yesterday in speaking of the effect the car walk-out is having on the company.

However, shipments through Graham are being delivered with rapidity, it was asserted, due to the fact that the Rock Island, with which the W. F. & S. connects at the point, is not materially affected by the lock-out.

Mr. Roberts called attention to the fact that the W. F. & S. is handling oil every day from Wichita Falls to eastern points and New Orleans, these shipments being routed through Graham.

Mr. Roberts declared that the W. F. & S. is receiving more shipments of all commodities than it received prior to the strike. Business during July, he tecited, was practically 20 per cent better than at any time during the months of January, February or March.

The W. F. & S., although employing union workmen, is not affected by the strike due to the fact that when wages were ordered reduced by the labor board, no reduction was made.

NET FAVORITES LOSE IN TOURNEY

Hogue and Adoue Beaten

By Associated Press.

DALLAS, Aug. 3.—The defeat of Bradley Hogue, today, three times southwestern singles champion, and of J. B. Adoue Jr., and Harvey McQuiston, all of Dallas, featured the fourth round of play in the singles and third round in doubles in the tenth annual championship being played here.

Leven Jester of Dallas, playing practically unbeatable tennis in the face of the brilliant rallies of the veteran champion, won from Hogue in straight sets 6-3, 6-2. Adoue and McQuiston went down in three sets also before Gillespie Stacy and McNeill Drumright of Houston 6-2, 6-2, 6-2. In the doubles match, however, the losers were handicapped by the fact that both of their opponents were fresh, while Adoue had just completed a gruelling singles match in which he won his way into the semi-finals by beating W. F. Luther of Fort Worth, 6-4, 8-6. Stacy stayed out to the singles this year to devote his efforts to winning the doubles, while Drumright was eliminated by Hogue Wednesday.

Barr and Jester of Dallas, state doubles champions, defeated Luther and Honea of Fort Worth 6-4, 6-0, 6-3, while Thalheimer, Dallas, and Louis White, Austin, defeated Chili Granger and Sellars Thomas, Houston, 9-7, 6-0, 6-2, in a remarkable match of shifts from good to bad form on the part of the losers.

Prophecy Worries Burk Councilman

The true reason why Burkburnett cut the Potts and Prentice mixer off from its water supply came to light yesterday.

The council met during the past week and a heated discussion relative to the usage of the wells at Burkburnett came up. Two of the wells had gone dry, and the third one was getting low.

One of the councilmen, remembering his city and incidentally recalling a prophesy made by a mind reader a year ago, arose and suggested the mixer be cut off. And so it was.

And the mind reader's prognostication had much to do with the "cutting off," because that person had declared that during August, 1922, a water shortage would ensue in Burkburnett and that the city would be destroyed by flames. The councilman evidently believed that Burk would need the water more than it needed pavement.

It's a wonder that the city didn't get out an injunction against the usage of the Red river supply, because with only one well flowing water for the city, a big fire could destroy it.

MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

organize along the lines of the fruit growers of California, or the American federation of labor, would find it easy to make their own prices and never be compelled to sell cotton at less than the cost of production. They furnish the land. They furnish the seed. They furnish the labor. They pay for the picking and the ginning and the marketing. Now just why shouldn't they fix a price on their own property? Cotton farmers should watch the movements and study the methods of the big oil companies. When there is an over-production the petroleum kings do not hurl their products upon a sagging market when there is a great slump in price figures. They have a holding movement and their stocks are held as reserves. They wait until the market comes back and the demand is brisk. When the cotton growers to a man are members of a holding movement, with a modern marketing or sales agency directing the selling of the fleecy staple there will be money in the pockets at all times of southern tillers of the soil who produce the raw material from which the garments are made that cover the backs and the bodies of 80 per cent of the people of the world. Then all the profit will not go into the coffers of the manufacturing nabobs of New England or Old England. Business is business. Organization is the thing.

PRESIDENT HARDING PROposed terms to the rail executives and the rail strikers. All the rail executives got together and declared it impossible to accept the proposal made by the president of the United States. These rail executives by resolution declared that to accept the Harding proposal that strikers be taken back with no impairment of their seniority rights would be the grossest breach of faith on the part of the railroads to the men who took jobs left vacant by the strikers. According to New York and Washington correspondents the rail presidents are at present in no mood to compromise and there is no hope for a speedy settlement except through direct negotiations between the strikers and the railroad heads. Now the rail presidents are in the same attitude or position that the rail strikers were in when they refused to bow to the decision made by the railroad labor board. Then the rail employes defied the railroad labor board; now the rail executives flout the president and flatly refuse to accept the terms that he proposes for a settlement of the strike. There is compulsory arbitration coming one of these fine days. Congress has the power to create an arbitration board and the authority to compel aceptance on the part of employer and employe with its decisions or decrees. All told, there are from three to five million persons engaged in the rail and mining industries in the United States. There are one hundred million Americans who are not engaged in these industries.

THEY REPRESENT THE CONsumer. They pay the freight and the passenger bills. They pay the coal bills. They are going to pay for all the losses inflicted upon the country by the rail strike and the coal strike. Now why shouldn't the government boss the job? Why shouldn't there be a court of arbitration that will make rail strikes impossible and coal famines unknown throughout the coming years? There should be justice for all concerned—the rail kings and their employes and the coal barons and their workers and above all, there should be justice for the people who give their railroads their revenues and build up the fortunes of coal barons and pay the wages of the miners.

ways written in box car letters, he says.

Two negroes were standing on Indiana street at Eighth discussing the ku klux klan.

First negro: "Say Mose what kind ob language is dat. It sho am some kind ob language dat nobody don't know nothing about.

Second negro with an air of pride: "See here nigger, don't yo ignorance permit you to know what language 'ku klux klan' am?"

First negro: "It sho don't an if you knows please to wisen me up on mah ignorance.

Second negro: "It am French, nigger, jes plain French like them Hindoos talks every day."

First negro: "Well if it am French an so plain as all dat then what do it mean, I ax yo, what do it mean?"

Second negro: "Dat word 'ku' means 'catch him, dat word 'klux' 'tar pot,' and dat word klan means all de rest what kluxers does to you."

KATY GUARD AT WACO IS SHOT

Second Disorder of Strike Period

By Associated Press.

WACO, August 3.—A guard at the local Katy railroad shops was shot through the stomach shortly after 9 o'clock tonight and is in a serious condition, according to reports to the police. The man gave his name as Sheppard.

Following the shooting, L. F. O'Neal, Katy fireman, telephoned officers and surrendered. He was later released under $1,500 bond charged with assault with intent to murder. Officers said he told them he had been called out for duty and that when he encountered A. N. Sheppard, the guard struck him over the head with a shotgun. O'Neal then fired, he said. Two shots were fired, only one taking effect.

This is the second disorder reported in the local railroad yards since the strike began and the first since rangers were stationed here by Governor Neff, one alleged strikebreaker having been flogged sometime ago. Rangers are co-operating with local officials in investigating tonight's shooting.

One nice thing about living in the suburbs—when you miss the last train out you have to say in town.

NO WORK HERE EXCEPT ON IRRIGATION DAM

Lenly Humphris, desk sergeant at the police station, asserted yesterday that many calls are being received by the police employment bureau at this time, the larger portion of which the department is unable to supply.

No employment except work on the dam at the irrigation project and on farms is available from the bureau at this time, the sergeant announced, however, wages ranging from $1.50 to $3 per day can be obtained on the irrigation dam and farmers are paying $1 and $1.50 per day and board for labor.

Sergeant Humphries declared that a large number of farmers are coming through Wichita Falls seeking employment, this being unusual for the month of August.

NEGRO WIELDS RAZOR DURING BLACK MELEE

It isn't often that people argue over the question of who shall remain behind and close the shop. The "boss" usually settles that problem.

But yesterday morning in corporate court, three negroes told Judge John Marrs all about how they had "argufied" over who should close up shop.

During the melee, it was explained, one of the negroes produced the favorite darkey weapon—a razor.

Judge Marrs fined a negress who proceeded to get mixed up in the wrangle $10, while the negro man who produced the razor was fined $25 on a charge of fighting.

What Wichitans Think

A question a day by the Inquisitive Reporter

This question was asked six Wichitans yesterday: "Do you think dogs ought to be muzzled in the summer time, and if so, why?"

H. N. Roberts, traffic manager, W. F. & S.: "I think they should because the heat drives them crazy. But at that I'm a dog fancier."

R. H. Brown of the Victory Petroleum company: "They should to keep them from biting people."

Syd Gaines of the Gaines Motor Sales company: "Dogs ought to be tied up but not muzzled in residential sections. Only dogs appearing on the street down town should be muzzled."

R. B. Moon, salesman, Standard Automotive company: "Yes, they should, to keep them from spreading rabies."

D. C. Grove, traveling tariff inspector, M. K. & T.: "I really don't think they should be muzzled. I'm a lover of dogs and I never saw a sufficient epidemic of rabies to warrant such punishment to dumb animals."

E. C. Kuykendall, chief clerk, traffic department, Ft. W. & D. C.: "I'm in favor of exterminating all dogs—a mad one bit me once."

There are many canines in Wichita Falls. Some people think they ought to be muzzled throughout the warm days of June, July and August, when the sultry heat beams down from a hot sun, and others think they ought to be exterminated entirely. There are still others, however, that have a soft spot in their hearts for dumb animals, especially for dogs, and therefore believe it is all but inhuman for them to be muzzled.

Muzzling dogs is an ordinance in many cities, while others pay little or no attention to dogs, autumn, summer, spring or winter.

VIOLATIONS REPORTED

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, August 3.—Attention of the state workers and warehouse department is being called to violations of the "net container act" by wholesalers of wrapped meat and packing house, according to W. W. Sanders, chief clerk of the department. The violation specified is that customers in certain instances are being charged for the weight of the wrapping material, he said. The matter will be investigated, Mr. Sanders said, and the offenders prosecuted.

ENGINEER TO RETIRE AFTER LONG SERVICE

(By International News Service.)

ALBANY, Aug. 3.—After following the rails for 56 years on the Mohawk division of the New York Central, Charles "Brick" McLaughlin, 70, will be retired, with a pension, July 31.

Engineer McLaughlin is not quitting the railroad business because he wants to, but rather because he has reached the age limit. He says he would like to stay at the throttle until he answers the "last call." He entered the employ of the Central when 14 years old as a helper in the West Albany shops.

At one time he was pulling the throttle on a Chicago express train. One of the most remarkable things about his record is that during all the years that he has been following the rails he has never been in a wreck of any consequence.

ST. LOUIS BIRD HOUSE TO BE STEAM HEATED

(By International News Service.)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 3.—A nice steam-heated birdhouse, costing $140,000, will be built to house birds at the St. Louis zoological gardens in this city. An artificial ice plant, to "feed" the Artice bears, also will be constructed. Six polar bears have been purchased to roam on the ice.

Osage Drops

In Oklahoma production of the Osage nation is shown as 113,800 barrels against 115,000 barrels and output of the Lyons Quin pool was 20,500 barrels against 19,600 barrels. The Mexia pool, central Texas, is reported at 66,000 barrels, against 64,750 barrels; Haynesville, north Louisiana, 54,850 barrels against 55,700 barrels, and Eldorado, Ark., 31,200 barrels against 31,650 barrels. According to figures collected by the institute, the imports of petroleum (crude and refined oils) at the principal United States ports for the week ended July 29, totalled 2,647,361 barrels, a daily average of 378,194 barrels, compared with 2,436,584 barrels, a daily average of 348,083 barrels for the week ended July 22.

Teapot Dome Quiet, Marine Report Says

By Associated Press.

Shuler, in command of the marine detachment which was ordered to Wyoming to remove alleged trespassers from the Tea Pot dome oil reserve lands; reported to the navy department today that all private enterprises in the reserve had ceased and the oil well which was being sunk had been sealed. It was indicated that the marines would be ordered to return soon to Washington.

Missouri Soon May Have State Police

(By International News Service.)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 29.—Agitation has been started in this city for the creation of a state police in Missouri to be equipped with motorcycles, automobiles, aeroplanes and horses. The provision for such a Missouri police will be made in a bill to be introduced in the next session of the legislature, which convenes in January, 1923.

Alpheus Stewart, together with several other residents of St. Louis, is organizing a committee to introduce and advance the bill.

Stewart pointed out that there are ten states in the union that have a state police. They are:

Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, West Virginia, Massachusetts, Michigan, Tennessee, Texas, Colorado and Connecticut.

Several other states, he says, have semi-state organizations, but they are not patterned after the Pennsylvania and have very small forces. These include Delaware, Nevada, Idaho, Maryland and Washington.

The good roads system and high-powered automobiles, Stewart says, make it almost an impossibility to combat the work of the crooks. With state police all roads could be placed under surveillance to cut off escaping criminals.

THE OPEN PORT LAW

THIS is a merry old world, and there are democrats away down here in Texas who dearly love to contribute to the gaity of nations. Harris county democrats held their convention Saturday last. They denounced the open port law as a legislative monstrosity; they declared for the election of federal judges by direct vote of the people and they declared that idle lands held for speculative purpose should be taxed as high if not higher than the cultivated land of the commonwealth. There are thousands of Texans who read and think who will accept the last proposition as economically wise and democratically sound. Why should the high tax be placed on the man who tills the soil and contributes to the wealth of the commonwealth? And why should the low tax be placed on the land of the man who is neither tilling the soil nor adding to the wealth of the commonwealth but is holding it for speculative purposes which in the end will add to his own personal fortunes?

Former Governor William P. Hobby is responsible for the open port law. He claims the credit for having put it over. He sent national guardsmen to Galveston and these guardsmen caused the ships to move and broke the stevedore strike. Brigadier General Jacob F. Wolters was in command. He is an old line state rights democrat. His friends say that he indorsed the action of Hobby to the last letter. Brigadier General Wolters was in command when Governor Neff placed Mexia under martial law and sent guardsmen and rangers there to enforce the law. Those who are close to General Wolters do not hesitate to say that the general unhesitatingly indorsed the actions of Hobby and Neff as wise and patriotic and in keeping with the democracy taught by the early fathers. This port law is in operation at Denison. Denison is on the Red river but the Red river isn't a navigable stream. It is in operation in many inland cities where the ships do not touch but engines and freight and passenger trains do touch the heart of the community and are the channels of commerce. If the open port law is a legislative monstrosity as declared by the democrats of Harris county in convention assembled, then the senator and the representatives from Harris county are certain to head a repeal movement after the thirty-eighth legislature has been organized for business early in the winter of 1923. Many county conventions indorsed the attitude of the governor in declaring martial law and sending troops or rangers to important railway centers where acts of lawlessness had been alleged. Many other conventions were silent. They overlooked the issue or they sidestepped it. Galveston democrats, in their convention, never mentioned Hobby or Neff. Mexia is in Limestone county and the democrats of Limestone county praised the governor for his declaration of martial law and indorsed his law enforcement program. Is the open port law a legislative monstrosity? By an almost unanimous vote the delegates elected by the people to the Harris county democratic convention declared it to be that and more demanded its repeal. "Where do we go from here?"

SAME OLD BUNK

THERE are humorists in the republican and as well as the democratic camps in Texas. Tarrant county republicans adopted a resolution which praised "the present national administration, including the great strides made in running down and punishing war profiteers and grafters and in working out a tariff law which will be equitable to the people and protect American industry, American works and the American standard of living against the chea labor and low living standards of foreign lands." Why not a list of war profiteers who were convicted and punished? Is there a list of war profiteers who were run down and punished? If so, who has the list? Speaking of the grafters who were run down and punished, name them. Why should politicians deal so largely in bunk? If they have the facts, why not incorporate them in their resolutions?

Having new glands put in may not lengthen one's life, but it lengthens the space one gets on the front page.

Epitaph that reveals the measure of our civilization: "He didn't belong to the union."

THE HERRIN MASSACRE

AN investigation of the Herrin massacre has been made by the national coal association and the report has been scattered broadcast by the publicity agents of the association. This report declared that the leaders of the Herrin mob were known and that at least 500 members of the mob can be arrested anytime that Attorney General Brundage of Illinois gives the word. All the evidence and the findings have been placed before Governor Small of Illinois by the publicity and other agents of the National Coal association. Twenty-four men were shot to death in the Herrin masacre.

They were unarmed, they had surrendered and they weren't given a dog's chance to save themselves. Of course the National Coal association publicity agents or other agents would like to shift the responsibility for the massacre to the officials of the United Mine Workers of America. Indeed, these publicity agents say that the officials of the United Mine Workers gave the word to take the unarmed prisoners off the road into the woods and shoot them down.

There is a gigantic coal strike on. It has been on for many months. There are operators who are not angels. There are striking miners who are not angels. There are operators who employ private gunmen to execute their orders. There are miners who are as savage as the private gunmen of the coal barons. There are two sides to the strike but there is only one side to the Herrin massacre. Those who are guilty should be arrested, they should be sent to trial, they should be convicted and they should expiate their fiendish crimes on the gallows. Never in the history of Mexico in recent years, or in Russia for that matter, has there been a massacre of unarmed men as brutal or as damnable in its atrociousness as the massacre of unarmed men in Illinois. There may be illiterate savages in Mexico but there is more crimes perpetrated in a week in Illinois than has taken place in Mexico during all the time that Alvarado Obregon has been the president of the Aztec republic.

CONCERNING STRIKES

SENATOR BORAH of Idaho promises to force his bill to the front regardless of opposition, and the Borah bill seeks to establish a United States coal commission. Senator Lawrence Phipps of Colorado and Senator Du Pont of Delaware are lining up the opposition to the Borah bill. Senator Phipps is a steel magnate. Senator Du Pont is a powder magnate and up to his ears in oil and coal and nearly everything else. Senator Borah would establish a tribunal empowered to consider disputes between miners and operators and to make its findings stick.

Senator Cummins of Iowa plans to seek amendment of the Esch-Cummins law so as to make the railway labor board absolutely binding and their violation subject to severe penalty. There is going to be radical legislation in the near future. People are growing weary of strikes and lockouts and boycotts and blacklists. They are growing weary because they are compelled to pay the price. They are growing weary because these industrial disturbances stagnate industry, obstruct commerce, paralyze business, cause large financial losses as well as misery and suffering. There should be some road that leads to a higher order of industrial civilization.

WE'LL TAKE OUR MEDICINE

SIR ROBERT HORNE is not coming to America as head of the debt funding commission. He favored paying at once the largest sums of gold that could be raised by the British treasury, "thereby flooding America with such quantities of gold as to teach her a lesson in international finance and force her to beg that no more gold be sent across the Atlantic." Great Britain, he says, is faced with the demand for cancellation of the inter-allied debt. He insists that America should not be pressing payment of the debt England owes this country until the cancellation proposition has been disposed of. As a source of chastisement, he would flood the United States with gold. If gold is the monarch of the world, let the deluge begin. There are millions of former American service men who are clamoring for a bonus and they are willing to be chastised.

Rippling Rhymes

THE LAW

I don't indorse that traffic law which holds me down to thirty miles; it makes my spirit sore and raw, and old tin bus like streaks of lightning through the town, from my map removes the smiles. I'd like to send my but Law is sacred to the cuss who would enjoy a fair renown. And so I drive my creaking van within the limit Law prescribes, though I am dubbed an also-ran by all the whizzing speedster tribes. My face is always sad and dour when to the road my bus I take; I'd hit up ninety miles an hour, but thirty versts is all I make. For if we break through any law because we do not like the same, from virtue's path we then withdraw, and play an anarchistic game. The law prohibits stealing hens, and though this fills my soul with woe, no longer to my neighbor's pens do I with sacks at midnight go. The law proscribes the Demon Rum, and though my thirst is truly great, I make no bootleg guy my chum, but seek the hydrant near my gate. Let us obey the law, my friends, in all its curves and books and crooks; and if not last our patience ends, it's ours to wipe it off the books.

The Once Over

EXTRA! NATION-WIDE POLL ON PROHIBITION IS ON! EXTRA!

(With a bow to the Literary Digest)

Are you, or are you not? Do you, or don't you? Now is the time for all good citizens to come to the aid of magazine circulation and set the editors straight on the drink question.

o o o

Vote early! Ballots will be found in every bottle. Ask your bootlegger for one. Fill out one ballot yourself. Let the wife fill out one. Let the kiddies do it, too.

o o o

The great question whether the people of the Udryted States are wet, dry, or medium is about to be decided. The poll is very young. We have been taking it only two months, and yet over eleven residents of the nation—seven men, three women, and a boy prodigy—have sent in their ballots already.

o o o

To the question, "Do you favor prohibition," nine of the eleven answered: "Prohibition of what." One answered, "Where," and the other replied, "Who is proposing it and why?"

o o o

One of the above wrote in a long letter reading in part as follows: "I am surprised that your magazine is reviving this prohibition issue. It is agitations such as this that lead to attempts to bring it about. The first thing you know we may really have prohibition in this country, in which case I shall cease subscribing to your organ."

o o o

All of which shows the wide public interest in the prohibition question. Next week we expect big results; we should get at least a quart of ballots and two or three quarts of rye.

Look over the ballot:

Ballot.

A.—Do you favor the continuance and strict enforcement of the eighteenth amendment and Volstead act?

B.—Do you favor the continuance without the enforcement?

C.—Do you give a tinker's tishtush one way or the other as long as you can get yours at Tony's place?

D.—Do you sincerely believe there was more liquor to be had before the prohibition act was passed than there is today? If so what has been keeping you in solitary confinement?

E.—Do you favor light wines and beer?

F. Do you think beer could be any lighter than it is today?

G.—Do you favor a policy of America for gin and gin for Americans?

H.—What is your opinion on the proposition that congress cease distributing free garden seeds and distribute free recipes instead?

I.—Do you find liquor hard to get, and is it hard when you get it?

J.—What should be the government's position on dandelion wine, elixir of prunes, crushed rah-rah seeds, massacred raisins wild, essence of wild cherries? Which is the more deadly? Is that so?

K.—Do you think the modern house party should be made safe for democracy? At what time do you think the shooting should begin? Should guests be held liable for damage to the furniture?

L.—Do you favor an American liquor-merchant marine?

M.—Do you prefer your bootlegger smooth-faced or with mustache? With or without livid scars marking route of revenue bullets? Tall or short?

N.—Do you favor government regulation of the disposal of empties?

O.—Do you favor a bonus for unemployed bartenders?

HIS MOTHER'S HOUSE

"Gracious, Tom, don't you know better than to open that window?"

Tom, a heavy man, perspiring profusely, turned, saying: "When would I open it if not on a night like this? The heat is fearful."

"Of course, it doesn't mean anything to you that I spent the whole day cleaning. This room is terrible to clean," sighed Anna.

Tom Anderson looked at her with an exasperation he was at no pains to conceal. He would much rather she had thrown something at him, if that were necessary to relieve her, than to listen to the meek sigh that had become a habit with her of late. "No, it doesn't mean much to me," he said candidly, for it doesn't look extra clean at that. Look"—and he waved a big hand at a cloud of dust that was filtering out from behind a picture—"look at this room."

The sweet night wind rushing through the room had already detached loosely pinned paper pictures from the wall, and others on the cluttered-up walls were dangling and rustling with an irritating sound. The fussy, beruffled curtains were dusty and already their confining ribbons were dangling in the breeze untidily.

"I don't see why you are so cross all the time," cried Anna. "I work all the time embroidering things. Every towel in the house has our monogram on it, and even the washcloths have fancy edges and a single letter on them. I use every substitute I ever heard of to keep the bills down, and, oh——" And the words ended, as her angry husband knew that they would do, in a burst of tears.

"Oh, fish, this is some evening! Work all day and hurry home to a dusty, stifled flat that never gets a bit of sun or rair, because, forsooth, it's so full of embroidered tidies and cut-out pictures that a little breeze raises havoc with it. Why not have two or three really good pictures, properly framed, that are well enough made to stand having the glasses washed once in a while and the frames wiped off with a damp cloth? I'd rather see a bare wall than a dusty one covered with dried autumn leaves an drank old cattails that are powdery with age. Let me have the back bedroom of the flat to sit in, but have it cool. I'm going out to get a decent dinner that is not prepared with substitutes." And Tom red from anger and ehe heat, went heavily from the room.

"The only reproach he left out was some allusion to the lovely home his mother made," cried Anna, looking wrathfully after the retreating form of the man whom she loved better than life. "How have I failed? I fancied that he looked funny when I showed him that last dozen of embroidered tidies that I had finished for the living room. Pansies are awfully hard to shade, and I had three full-blown pansies and two buds on every tidy. Seems as though men are dreadfully difficult to understand. Of course I cannot pull the tacks out of the walls every time the leaves and different dried mementoes of happy days in the country get dusty. And he said he wanted a really good dinner that wasn't prepared with substitutes. I don't like to use them, but I want to be saving. I cannot show my talent for cookery when I use egg powders and imitation butter. Of course they don't taste like anything. I don't like them myself. And I want to do my duty. I saved a dollar and seven cents out of the housekeeping budget, and now he'll spend all that for a dinner at the cafe, and I have to eat alone. I wish his mother lived here. I would even ask her advice, although——" Here she lapsed into a worried reverie. "Perhaps if I try to think how her house looks I can find out where I'm wrong. For one thing"—her eyes brightened after a few moments' earnest thought—"I feel sure that she doesn't use any substitutes in cooking, for I remember her stirring up butter and eggs for cake. Then her living room——"

She shut her eyes, visualizing the wide, cool spaces of that neutral-tinted room. The books were in roomy bookcases with glass doors that were always polished to the glistening point. The windows were all screened and the sashes were not cluttered up with the week's accumulations of papers and magazines, but were always clean and cool-looking, with only the daily papers and the last magazine on top of the shining surfaces that were guiltless of fussy tidies. "Her ecru scrim, no ruffles or valances to hand across," she thought. "I don't suppose it requires an hour's work to iron the curtains for that big room, and mine takes a good half day, and they are so fine that I hate to wash them so often, because they'll wear out. I remember how how comfortable her house is even in the hottest weather, because while she closes the windows when there is a south wind she always opens them at sunset, and the breezes sweep through without disturbing anything. The room isn't hard to clean, either. The rugs all go out on the grass and she takes the linen slip covers off and shakes them, so that there is no upholstery to brush with a whisk broom when the heat is stifling. I guess I'll stop embroidering the wash rags and get busy with some slip covers for this plush furniture. I'll make a clean sweep of the walls." By this time Anna had almost forgotten the crossness of her ordinarily good natured husband as she planned for the rejuvenation of her flat.

Her dinner cooled and the shadows lengthened unnoticed by the earnest woman who had no intention of making a mistake in her job of home making. She had needed a jolt and she had received one and, like a sensible woman, she was building anew. "There," she said aloud, loosing at the list she had finished, "that will stock the icebox and the pantry for a few days, and there isn't a substitute there. I shall broil a good thick steak for dinner for the substantial part of the meal, but I'll have a crisp salad and iced tea. After all, plenty of fresh fruits and vegetables are healthy and they sure taste——"

"Why, Anna, you haven't touched your dinner," cried Tom from the doorway. "I was awfully hungry and hot and—that is, I thought perhaps you'd enjoy some ice cream," and he placed a pint of cream before her.

Anna thrust out her hot hand and placed it against the cool container. "My, but that is nice!" she said thirstily. "I'll get some dishes and we'll eat it right away. I am going to fix this room over tomorrow," she added, looking back from the doorway. "I'm going to make it look as near like your mother's place as I can."

RABBIT LEATHER IS NO GOOD

Samples of rabbit leather sent from Australia were tested and found to have only about one-fourth the strength of calf-skin and to tear rather easily. It has a great advantage in point of cheapness and might perhaps serve for uppers of fancy shoes that are not expected to stand much wear. The experts are of the opinion that it could be used to advantage for linings and novelties.

FASHIONS

Novel Sleeves and Uneven Hem Line Are Features of This Dinner Frock With its Circular Skirt

One of the common complaints in regard to skirts of the circular type is that they never hang evenly, but have an unfailing tendency to "sag." The designer of the frock shown in the sketch took time firmly by the forelock and fashioned the skirt with an uneven line to begin with, so that, widely circular as it is, the wearer will find it difficult to determine whether or not the circular cut material stays as it is put or whether it droops a little longer here and there.

The dress is a charming dinner model, fashioned of silk crepe, embroidered in silk and tinsel motifs, and with a girdle combining the tinsel and silk in a heavy embroidery done on a band of the fabric. The long panel sleeves featured in this frock are frequently seen in afternoon and dinner gowns. Sometimes as in the model sketched, they are of self fabric and an actual part of fabric in contrasting color, or of rich brocade or embroidery may be used to fashion the panel-like sleeves. The shoulders of the frock are slashed so that the arms show through.

The circular skirt vogue is one of the few really new styles notes of the fall and winter season, and of course there is nothing as yet to show whether it will "take." Some of the foremost style authorities have great faith in the style, while others are as firmly opposed to it. Circular or not, however, the straight line silhouette is sought and obtained and women who read of the circular skirt vogue and fear that it means a defined waist line and hoop skirt silhouette may relieve their minds on this scort. The materials employed are so soft and pliable that there is practically no suggestion of a flare, however widely circular the skirt may be.

Little Stories For Bedtime

JENNY WREN GOSSIPS WITH CHATTERER.

What's the harm of gossiping upon a pleasant day?

It's nothing but a means you know, to pass the time away.

It all depends. Yes, sir; it all depends. If you gossip about pleasant things there is no harm. But if—well, if you gossip about other people and their affairs you may get somebody into a great deal of trouble.

Now, Jenny Wren is a great gossip. Everybody knows that. Her tongue is going from morning to night. For the most part it is harmless gossip, but not always. She didn't mean it to be harmless this morning as she settled herself in the old apple tree nearest the stone wall on the edge of the Old Orchard and at once began to gossip with Chatterer the Red Squirrel. No, sir, Jenny Wren didn't mean it to be harmless. The fact is, she had deliberately set out to make trouble for Bully the English Sparrow.

"Good morning, Chatterer!" exclaimed Jenny. "I hope you are feeling as well as you look."

"I should put it the other way," grinned Chatterer, who happened to be in the best of spirits that morning. "I hope I look as well as I feel, because in that case I must look very fine indeed."

"You do," declared Jenny. "You never have looked better in your life. I believe you are actually growing handsome."

Chatterer pretended not to notice this flattery, but Jenny's sharp eyes saw that he was tickled, and she went on.

"That red coat of yours is one of the handsomest coats I know of. I always did admire red. You don't know how envious we folks who have to dress so plainly get sometimes. Speaking of plain dressers, have you noticed these upstarts who have come out from the city to live here in the Old Orchard? I mean Bully the English Sparrow and his wife. Goodness knows, my dress is plain enough, but I do try to keep it in order! But Mrs. Bully doesn't. Why, she doesn't seem to care a crooked feather how she looks! She and her husband are a disgrace to the neighborhood."

"I've noticed that they seem very noisy, and I judge by some of the sounds I have heard that they are not altogether easy to get along with," replied Chatterer.

"Easy to get along with!" Jenny Wren fairly danced as she snapped this out. "Easy to get along with! Why, we don't pretend to get along with them. We just don't have anything to do with them! They are beneath our notice!" Jenny held her head very high when she said this.

Chatterer chuckled. "I notice that they stay just the same, and, so far as I can make out, they seem very much at home," said he.

"Yes," sputtered Jenny, "they are at home all right. I suppose you know where they are living."

"No," replied Chatterer, "I can't say that I do."

"You don't say!" exclaimed Jenny. "Well, they are living in that old house that Drummer the Woodpecker built two years ago and in which Skimmer the Swallow started housekeeping this spring."

"What has become of Skimmer?" inquired Chatterer.

"Oh, they drove him out and took the house away from him. It was the most outrageous thing! That's just what it was—out-rage-ous! Now they've built a nest there themselves, and I heard Mrs. Bully say this very morning that they've got six eggs! Think of that! I've no business to say such a thing, but I can't help wishing that something would happen to those eggs. Well, I must be hurrying home. Don't, for goodness sake, repeat what I have said."

With this off bustled Jenny Wren, leaving Chatterer in a brown study.

Wheeler Goes Full Route and Trims Bears Both Games

SPUDS SWEEP SERIES FROM BRUINS WHEN STUBBORN NINE REFUSES TO ACCEPT DEFEAT

Adams Breaks Up First Game with Double In Ninth; McDonald Cracks Three Two-Ply Smacks; White Leads Hitter With Five Out Of Six; Bischoff Shows Stuff All Way.

By "SPIKE" COOPER

When Shorty Adams smashed a double to right center in the ninth inning of the first game yesterday with two runners aboard, away went Bob Couchman's ball game, the third of the series, 5-4. The win gave the Spudders a taste of blood and they came right back and grabbed off the second, 5-3.

Rip wheeler was master of ceremonies for the afternoon and executed the first iron man stunt of the season which netted a double win. He seemed as good as he closed the last inning as at the start. In addition to his hurling, the heaver drove out a pair of doubles, one in each game.

'Twas real opposition the Bears offered in the first game, and the situation became acute as the Spudders went into the last half one run behind. Salm sent Jumbo Ramsey to hit for Wheeler and a neat single to center was the result. Bescher forced Ramsey at second, but was safe at first. Then Tanner poked one into left for a base knock, sending Bescher to second. Adams then became the hero of the matinee when he doubled against the fence in right center, scoring both runners.

Enthusiastic fans soon started a "hat-passing" and Shorty was coaxed out of the dugout to accept a cap full of money. Nearly $100 expressed the fans' appreciation for the timely blow.

Bob Couchman, veteran of many campaigns in the Texas league, was Northen's gunner for the day and, although hit rather freely, weathered the storm fairly well. But the Spudder fight in the ninth was too much for Bob and he yielded up the ghost after a salvo of raps to all corners of the field.

Wheeler was touched for nine hits in the first game, but at the same time, he disposed of six of the hitters himself at the plate. His control was good all the way and he allowed but four passes for the two frays.

There was lots of fast play behind the Spud hurlers. Practically every member of the team shone forth at some interval, but Fred Beck was out in front twice with spectacular catches, one in each game. In the first go, Fred's best play was grabbing an attempted sacrifice by Myers which popped foul. Fred barely reached the ball with his bare hand, but held it firmly. In the second he made a backhanded stop of a low and wide throw of a grounder by Gross. The runner had the ball beaten all right, but the pretty stop saved Whitey an error.

The Spudders smacked the apple good and hard all afternoon. In the opener, seven of the 12 hits were doubles and one a triple. In the second, three of the 10 hits were two-base wallops, making a total of 25 hits for 36 bases.

George Bischoff turned in one of the best days work of his career yesterday. He was in great form and his throwing was accurate, particularly to the middle sack where he and Shorty Adams halted the advance of four Bears who had pilfering intentions. Although hitless in the first contest, George came through with a couple of knockers in the second, both of which figured in the counting. His second blow of the last melee was a bit of nervy baseball, for he greeted Lewis with a bunt down first base line and out ran it completely and no play was made at the bag to stop him.

White Has Big Day

Al White had a wonderful day at the plate, and in the first game, his sole intention seemed to be that of scoring Tex after the right fielder would double to some remote corner of the lot. Three times did Whitey come through with the necessary blow for a perfect day in the first game, and all he could do in the second was a pair of wallops into left out of three trips up.

The Spudders hit safely in every inning of the first and the first four of the second making 13 straight innings without some member of the team smacking one on the nose.

By taking the two games, the Spudders moved up a half game on the Cats who were taking their third straight from Beaumont. Through agreement of the two managers the games played will afford each club an off day today. The Bears are on their way to Houston where they open Saturday, and the Spudders will rest for the five game series with Shreveport.

NO GAME TODAY

The Texas league schedule originally called for a game this morning between the Spudders and the Bears, but the managers of the two teams agreed to play today's game yesterday.

The game moved up will give the Bears a chance to reach Houston without so much rush as would be necessitated and will also give the Spudders an off day to rest for the Gassers who have been playing so much havoc of late.

BENSON ADDS TAYLOR AND EZZELL

McGraw Sending 2 Hurlers to Help Bears Over

By "SPIKE" COOPER

Hub Northen hasn't given up hopes of running strong in the last half despite the fact that the Bears have dropped 13 out of their last 15 games.

He will strengthen his team for the long home stay which begins next week with two hurlers, an infielder and an outfielder.

Prexy Benson of the Bear club is fighting for all he can get, and yesterday announced the purchase of "Chink" Taylor, former Panther outfielder, and one of the best base runners of the league last year.

Johnny Ezzell will also join the Bears in Houston, having been recalled from Shreveport. Ezzell was loaned to that club early in the season when the Gassers were on the rocks.

A telegram received from McGraw yesterday brought the information that a right and a left handed hurler would leave New York today en route to join the Santone club.

With these additions, the Bears are going to add a world of strength to their team.

Harvey Hiller at third has been playing a good game, but has not been able to hit Texas league pitching, as he did in the International last year. Meyers in center has also shown a weakness to the hurlers on the league and has not been a consistent hitter by any means. Both the men are excellent fielders, but lack the punch necessary to win in the league this year.

With two good hurlers added to the staff, Bromley, Lewis, Couchman and Voight should not have so much work as before, and will win more games.

The south Texas entry is strengthening for their home stay. And from their action, some of the north Texas clubs may be accorded the same fate as that dished out to the invaders who headed homeward last night.

SHINNERS GOES TO TOLEDO CLUB

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, August 3.—John McGraw, manager and vice president of the New York Nationals, announced today that Outfielder Ralph Shinners has been released to the Toledo club of the American association. Outfielder Lee King has been purchased from the Toledo club and will report to the Giants immediately.

King formerly was a member of the New York team and was traded to Philadelphia in the Rawlings deal of last summer.

DRESS REFORM HITS LONDON

(By International News Service.)

LONDON, July 9.—A male dress reform is in full swing in London.

Sticklers for correct dress are now striving to displace dinner jackets for evening wear and insist upon males appearing at evening functions in full evening dress.

What with the Londoner's predilection for silk-hatted business attire, and frock-coated afternoon attire, and correct river dress, and grey topper racing garb, and "plus four" golfing outfits, it looks like dire days for those who haven't a wardrobe.

American male visitors to London, however, are shocking the natives and demonstrating their freedom from the slavery of clothes by wearing "civilized garments."

GUN CLUB TO SHOOT TODAY

Program Scheduled To Start at 3

The regular weekly shoot of the gun club will be held at 3:30 o'clock today.

An off day in the Spudders schedule will not necessitate a morning shoot and a large crowd of nimrods is expected out for the afternoon's program.

Today's meet will likely see some extra matches shot off between matched squads.

The weekly shoots are gaining in popularity and more and more of the new members are beginning to smash the clay discs with regularity. Many novices are present verey week and are lending an air of enthusiasm to the organiaztion.

Benny Dances and Plans for Tour as Next Fight Draws Near

By Associated Press.

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., August 3. Because of the danger of reopening the cut over his right eye, received in the match with Lew Tendler, Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, will do no boxing in preparation for his ten round contest with Ever Hammer, the Chicago challenger, here next Saturday afternoon.

This was the announcement of Billy Gibson, manager of the champion, today after he examined the injury.

The most dangerous wound is in the eye-brow. It is similar to the one Jack Dempsey received when he was training for his match with Georges Carpentier a year ago. The other cut is in the lid. This is nearly healed.

As Leonard rests here on the front porch of his cottage on the shore of Lake Michigan, he is planning ahead for an extended trip to Europe to show his class in foreign rings before he decides to lay aside the gloves and retire. Benny's mother and sister keep right at his elbow and they talk over plans for the trip abroad, because they are just going right along. It is as much for his mother and sister as for himself that the champion will make the tour.

The champion's camp is one of the liveliest on the beach. The phonograph grinds lively jazz from morning till night and is locked up only while Benny sleeps at night or when he naps in the afternoon. Leonard loves to dance and his mother and sister are his partners most of the time.

Both Hammer and Leonard will virtually wind up their training tomorrow.

JURY HUNG IN SMITH CASE

Vote Stands 9 to 3 for Acquittal

After they had been arguing over the case through Wednesday night and all of yesterday morning, the jury in the Ed Smith case reported yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock that they were hopelessly deadlocked and would be unable to reach a verdict.

Judge H. R. Wilson of the 30th district court dismissed them when they had reported.

The jurors are understood to have stood nine for acquittal and three for conviction when they reported to the court.

Smith's case went into the hands of the jury Wednesday afternoon at 5:27 o'clock, after two hours of heated argument by counsel for both the state and defense.

The defendant was charged with statutory offense, in connection with an alleged assault upon a [illegible] girl.

Best Spudders Get Handsome Trophies

It's up to the best pitcher on the Wichita Falls club to get that silver baseball Dave Paul, local jeweler, is offering together with a beautiful "life size" silver bat.

The bat, acording to Mr. Paul, goes to the batter on the local club with the highest batting average for the season, while the ball will go to the best pitcher.

There's been much competition in the local club so far this season, and only the end of the period can tell who will win his trophy.

Dave Paul gives a silver bat and ball each year to the local club, last year the trophies being given exclusively to the club, with a vote of the fans signifying who should have them. However, this year, the jeweler has changed his plan somewhat, and is trusting to the tabulations of "Spike" Cooper to decide who shall have them.

Roasting Ears Back on Local Market at 30c Per Dozen

HEAT DAMAGES FARM PRODUCE

Little Change in Prices Here

Local produce market prices paid the farmer were unchanged Thursday from Wednesday. However there was a small offering of roasting ears on the market which brought the farmers as much as 30 cents per dozen ears.

Most of the vegetables that came in from home fields were "sunkist" or more appropriately, sunburned, the extreme heat having played havoc with the garden produce during the last week. Squash, bell peppers, blackeye peas, tomatoes, cantaloupes and watermelons are about the only vegetables coming from local growers at this time.

Prices quoted the farmer Thursday were:

Cantaloupes, 10c to 50c per dozen.
Sweet corn, 40c per dozen.
Sweet peppers, 12 cents per pound
Okra, 10c perpound.
Peaches, $2 to $2.50 per bushel.
Grapes, Muscats and Concords, 10c per pound.
Fresh black eye peas, 5c per pound.
Beets, 40 cents per dozen bunches.
Squash, 4c to 5c per pound.
Eggs, 25c to 27c per dozen.
Butter, 30c to 35c per pound.
Fryers, 30c to 35c per pound.
Hens, 20c to 35c per pound.
Tomatoes, 4c to 5c per pound.
Cucumbers, 5c per pound.
Spinach, 8c per pound.

Now That's Rather Odd

NEW YORK—Greek maidens— nearly 200 of them—bearing gifts and dressed in the gaudy "Sunday best" of the Athenian sister of the flapper "picture brides" whose wooing had all been done by mail, have arrived. They had the first glimpses of the men they are to marry . . . the crowd of eager bridegrooms circled the ship in motor boats.

No difficulty is expected in permitting the entrance of the members of the hymeneal Argosy, as quotas from Greece allowed by the immigration act are as yet unfilled.

NEW YORK—One of the longest sprees in histor yis attributed to a former bartender, August Detering, by his wife, Rose, who told a Brooklyn magistrate her husband got drunk the day prohibition went into effect and has been drunk ever since.

Before prohibition Detering never touched a drop, she said.

WAUKEGAN, Ill.—Rolling in Waukegan's two Holy Roller churches must be confined to the early hours of the evening, according to an ultimatum delivered to the congregations by police.

Following complaints from neighbors that the rollers in their zeal disturbed the sleep of nearby families and were a common nuisance, olice fixed a 9 p. m. curfew law for the church services.

BUDAPEST—Budapest's duelling craze claimed another victim when Colonel Leidenberger shot Captain Karlovsky, a member of the international Danube commission.

Although the anti-duelists are continuing their campaign and there are laws prohibiting duels and providing punishment there are 2 or 3 almost daily.

NEW YORK—Every telephone in the United States and Canada will be silent one minute Friday while Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, is being buried. This is announced by the American Telephone and Telegraph company. The exact time will be determined later.

MONTREAL—M. Guerin, mayor of La Prairie, whose praises are being sung along the St. Lawrence for his daring leadership in the rescue of 470 pasengers of the Rapids Prince, which went on the rocks in the lower Lachine rapids, gives the following matter of fact recipe for the making of a hero:

"Whiskey blanc, pea soup and lots of real hard work."

Wolff operates a cigar stand in Wichita Falls, and it was alleged that on the side he conducted a gaming table.

Stock Trend on Restricted Market To Higher Levels

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, August 3.—The general trend in today's restricted trading on the New York stock exchange was upward, interest centering in the oil shares and a few of the high grade industrials and specialties for which there has been a good investment demand.

Wall street's optimistic view of the strike situation and the improvement in foreign exchanges were reflected in the strength of opening prices. After the overnight orders had been disposed of the market lapsed into pronounced dullness which was relieved during the noon hour by an attack of the short interests. However good support was forthcoming and prices rallied and held steady to the end. Mexican petroleum was the individual feature showing a net gain of 6 1-4 points for the day. Othher foreign oils strengthened in sympathy. Domestic oils also advanced in the face of further price cuts for crude oil and gasoline substantial gains being recorded by the Texas company, Cosden and Phillips petroleum.

This unlooked for strength was attributed in some quarters to be covering of show contracts. Low grade rails were in good demand. Chicago and Alton shares showing conspicuous strength in this group. Other rails held firm on limited dealings. Reports have been current that many of the high grade rail and industrial stocks traded in recently have been accumulated by strong interests and withdrawn from the market, diminishing the floating supply. Sugar stocks were strong on reports of increased prices for raw and refined products and statistics indicating that the available Cuban supply will be virtually exhausted before the new crop is ready for the market. Cuban American sugar was at a new high for the year and other issues of that group hardened in sympathy.

MANY ELEMENTS AGAINST COTTON

Market Finishes at a Loss

By Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Aug. 3.—A gloomy view of foreign political conditions and much liquidation of long contracts on the part of recent buyers were against values in the cotton market today almost from the start. Following net advances of 3 to 15 points in the early trading the market commenced to break and the declining tendency remained in force until about quotations of yesterday. October first advanced to $21.55 and then fell back to $20.70. In the late trading the tone was somewhat steadier as the result of profittaking on the short side. The close was at net declines of 31 to 45 points with October at $20.95.

October was the weakest month and stood 70 points down when March stood 44 down. By some traders and brokers it was considered that this reflected considerable hedge selling against the new crop, but it was pointed out that the tendency of the distant months to go to a premium over the near months was a healthy development.

Early gains were due mostly to the continued drouth and high temperatures in the western belt, but the decline started on private reports of a few scattered showers in Oklahoma and north Texas. Steadiness of the late trading appeared to be caused by official returns, showing maximum temperatures for yesterday in Oklahoma of from 100 to 111 degrees at many weather stations.

Cotton closed steady at net decline of 31 to 45 point:

NEW YORK BONDS

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, August 3.—Investors confidence in the successful outcome of the railroad strikez was reflected in the brisk demand for railroad securities in today's market, which was strong in tone. French and other European issues also recovered from their recent heaviness in response to the stabilization in foreign exchange rates.

Strong features of the rail group were great Northern 7s, which touched 111 1-2, a new high; Northern Pacific 6s, New York Central 5s, New York, Ontario and Western refunding 4s, St. Louis, Southwestern 4s, Baltimore and Ohio gold 4s and Pennsylvania 7s, the two latter also at new highs.

Liberty 4s held firm except for the inactive first second convertible 4 1-2s, which dropped 70 cents. Dealers report that large blocks of liberty issues are being offered for sale in the coal mining district, indicating a weakening of the striking miners' cash reserves.

Total sales (par value) were $13,801,000.

The only important new issue tody was the $9,000,000 first mortgage 6 per cent sinking fund gold bond of the Long Bell Lumber company, which was offered at 96 to yield 6.33 per cent.

WHEAT HITS SKIDS HARD

Touches Low Record For Year

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—Despite big export buying, wheat averaged lower in price today, touching a fresh bottom record for the season. Selling pressure from the new crop was heavy. The market closed unsettled at ½c net decline to ⅛c advance, with September 1.05⅜ to 1.05½ and December 1.07⅜ to 1.07½. Corn finished unchanged to ⅝c down, oats lost a shade to ⅜@½, and provisions 2 to 22 cents.

Corn and oats declined with wheat and as a result of rains in the southwest that were of benefit to the growing corn.

Provisions were weak in the absence of any special demand.

BURKBURNETT ROAD NEARS COMPLETION

If the water supply lasts, the Potter & Prentice Construction company will probably complete its contract, with the exception of five miles, this week, it was learned Thursday.

Water is being pumped from the Red river to the location west of Burkburnett, where the north mixer is at work.

Material, it is understood, is arriving with more rapidity at the present time, while its is understood that all conditions are favorable for an early completion of the Burkburnett pavement contract.

What Public Service Means

The best results of life are obtained by intelligent co-operation. Especially does this apply to all public service enterprises. One part is service; the other of equal importance, is the public.

The Lone Star Gas Company has been telling the public about its service for the purpose of a better understanding. The Lone Star Gas Company is a producer and wholesaler of natural gas. It does not sell to the individual consumer, but it desires his good will and understanding.

Your Part Therein

This understanding is essential if the service it gives is to be continuously satisfactory. Despite the best efforts the service company can give, unless the consumer does his part, he cannot get all the advantages planned for him.

Wise use, an enlightened conception of the problems of the company, and the prompt meeting of obligations as a consumer and as a citizen, are your part of the effort to maintain good service, for whatever affects us will reflect its benefits or hindrances on you eventually.

THRILLS GALORE AT SEABRIGHT

Tennis Play Has Fast Games

By Associated Press.

SEABRIGHT, N. J., Aug. 3.—Semi-final round matches in men's singles and doubles and women's singles in the invitation tournament today developed unexpected thrills for the gallery.

William M. Johnston of San Francisco and R. Norris Williams, of Boston, moved into the final of the men's singles, the former defeating Robert Kinsey a fellow citizen, 6-1, 6-4; while Williams triumphed in a hard driving match over Francis T. Hunter of New York. Hunter had eliminated the veteran Australian, Gerald Patterson yesterday.

In the men's doubles R. Norris Williams and Watson M. Washburn, last year's Davis cup doubles team won a place in the final by mastering Dean Mathey and Karl Behr, New York, 6-4, 6-3. In a third round doubles match Robert and Howard Kinsey, San Francisco, defeated the Japanese team, Zenzo Shimizu and Seiichiro Kashio, 4-6, 6-4, 10-8.

By Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, Ohio., Aug. 3.—The purchase of Daniel Boone, right handed pitcher from the Chattanooga club of the Southernr association and the release of two players to that club on optional agreements was announced tonight by President E. S. Bernard of the Cleveland baseball club. Boone is to report to the Indians at once. The purchase price was not made public.

The players released to Chattanooga are Pitcher Shaute and ThirdBaseman Doran and are subject to recall at the end of the Southern association season. President Bernard explained that they are not involved in the Boone trade, the pitchers purchase being outright.

Boone is a graduate of the University of Alabaha and is the fourth former member of that institution's team to join the Indians.

Senate Passes House Bill on Pensions

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—The senate today passed with amendments the house bill granting an increase in pensions to the widows, dependent children and parents of veterans of the war with Spain, the Philippine insurrection and the Chinese Boxer rebellion.

No increase is given the veterans, but for the widows and dependent parents of the veterans the new rate of pension will be $20 a month instead of the present $12, while for children the pension will be $4 a month instead of $2.

Wichita Boys Busy At Fort Sill Camp

Special to The Record News.

FORT SILL, Aug. 3.—The Wichita Falls battery of the Texas national guard is still going strong at the annual encampment, Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

Fast bronzing faces, sore feet and arms are appearing. So far no serious accidents have been encountered. K. P. and guard duty seems to be the order of the day so far. However, the men are attending various schools preparatory to actual range firing. The battery will in all probability spend three or four days on the range during the latter part of the encampment, returning to Wichita Falls about Aug. 12.

All men are being taught the fundamentals of field artillery work under the direction of officers from the regular army. Schools in telephoning, signal work, range fending and horsemanship are being conducted at various periods during the day.

Ship Pinched on Smuggling Charge

By Associated Press.

PENSACOLA, Florida, Aug. 3.—The auxiliary schooner Success is being escorted into Key West harbor by a coast guard cutter. Assistant District Attorney Hoffman was advised officially tonight, on suspicion of being engaged in smuggling Chinese and liquor into the United States. C. P. Moore, alleged by officials here to have been identified with the operations of the smugglers, was arrested in Havana, Cuba, today, according to the same advices.

Reports received here said two Cuban officials were killed in a fight which ensued when the Success, prior to her seizure by the Cutter got into difficulties with Cuban authorities, through her failure to show any colors.

STATUE STOLEN IN VERSAILLES

(By International News Service.)

PARIS, Aug. 3. — "Now, ladies an' gents, follow me and you'll see a valu'ble gilded statuette of Louis the Fourteenth. This statue——"

But the "seeing Versailles" party looked in vain. The guide looked, too, and rubbed his eyes in astonishment.

Attendants at the Versailles palace, hastily summoned, could not explain the mystery. It is believed that the statuette was stolen during the noon hour, but attendants assert the room had not been left unwatched. The statuette was wrenched from its pedestal.

Old guides at the palace say the little art-work was placed in the room it occupied—Louis XIV's sleeping apartment—by King Louis Philippe about 1835 and has never been disturbed.

MATERNITY HYGIENE

(By International News Service)

WIDNSOR, Ontario, Aug. 3.—No protest will be made by provincial authorities against proposed lectures on child and maternity hygiene by Dr. Madeline de Rouville of Paris, France, it is announced.

WOMEN HEW WAY IN MOVIES

Miriam Merideth Is Example

Women, it will be observed, hew their own way into motion pictures. Just how they make their entrance is entirely dependent upon their own ingenuity and skill. Years of experience are never of any weight unless wrapped around with proof of ability.

Hence, we find young men and women in positions of much importance which an outsider would expect to find occupied by those of maturer years.

Miriam Meredith.

Miriam Meredith, assistant director at the Thomas H. Ince studios, producers of "Hail the Woman," has only been out of school six years. In that time she has advanced rapidly to a position that few women have attained, though the opportunities are many.

She was the originator of The Children's Theatre in Hollywood and her success with that and in staging pageants, etc., determined her to enter a field where the opportunities would be greater.

She began as a reader in the scenario department of the studio, and later became assistant scenario editor. From that department she was placed in charge of the research work, where she devoted every spare moment to the study of the finished picture, its results and—its mistakes. Luncheon hours were sacrificed as she spent those hours watching the editing of films, or sat in a motion picture theatre looking at the work of the various directors and in time her concentration on this brought her to the cutting room where the editing is done.

Recently Miss Meredith directed a special film for the fire prevention bureau and she has done another on orthopaedic surgery. She is now engaged in directing screen news reels, and educationals as well as being in charge of the re-takes of dramatic features.

To accomplish all this has taken a lot of hard but interesting work.

A great deal depends upon one's own application so far as advancement is concerned. You cannot work "at" the job. You must work on it. Do this and there is no reason why you should not some day be a director of motion pictures.

Cow Foils Cop—Won't Leave Home

(By International News Service.)

BRIDGEPORT, Ohio., Aug. 3.—Constable John E. Moore, sent to a farm west of town to replevin a cow and a flivver, found the animal browsing along the road. He started to drive the animal to town, but she refused to leave the vicinity of the home of her owner, William Cooper.

Lying down in the road, the bovine refused to budge. Tired, hot and hungry, Moore finally dragged the cow into a pasture field, cranked the flivver and drove home.

ATTA BOY, DUDDY

(By International News Service)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 3. — In a game with Prat City, John Duddy of the Jordan Park club hit a screamer toward the outfield. The ball, relayed hurriedly by the Pratt City centerfielder, and Duddy's dome reached the same point in the vicinity of third base at the same instant.

Contact!

Duddy states that he remembered nothing for 10 minutes afterward until he was revived by teammates. In the meantime, though, he had crossed the home plate with the run that tied the score.

But, sad ending to an otherwise happy yarn, Duddy's team lost the game, 10 to 9.

OF COURSE THE MOVIES GOT HER

(By International News Service)

PARIS, Aug. 3.—A French film company has signed up Pauline Jacques, daughter of Madame Basserabo, recently convicted of her husband's murder, to star in a film portraying, in a romance, details of the crime. Pauline was acquitted of complicity in the murder, although she admitted she helped her mother pack the body of the slain basserabo in a trunk and ship it to Nancy. On the grounds that there is a mystery which neither she nor Pauline have as yet divulged, Madame Basserabo has appealed for a new trial.

TAXI 13 COULDN'T DO ANY BUSINESS

(By International News Service.)

ALBANY, August 3.—Superstition cost Harry Brown, a local taxi driver, $25.

Harry had been doing little or no business for the last few weeks. He suddenly came to the conclusion that it was all because the license he obtained from the city to operate the taxi was No. 13.

It cost him $25 to change the license, but he says it was worth it.

WIRELESS BETWEEN FRANCE AND GOTHAM

(By International News Service.)

PARIS, Aug. 3.—Communication between America and France has been further facilitated by the opening to public use of the wireles station at Sainte-Assise, which sends directly to New York. It is said to be the most powerful wireless station yet constructed.

BEST USE YET FOUND FOR POLITICAL CARDS

(By International News Service)

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio, August 3. — A new use has been found for the campaign cards handed out by Belmont county candidates for political offices.

A Bellaire picnic party, pitching horseshoes late in the evening, was unable to see the pegs when dusk arrived until someone thought of the candidates' cards, which were tacked about the park.

The cards were forced down over the pegs. The white surface of the cards rendered the dark pegs visible.

GIRL KEEPS HER PROMISE TO PASTOR

(By International News Service.)

ALBANY, Aug. 3.—Fifteen years ago Miss Ruth Weston, school teacher, boarded at the home of the Rev. J. H. Osterhout, then pastor of a church at Valley Falls and now located here.

"I suppose you will be getting married one of these days," the Rev. Osterhout said to her.

"When I do I will have you perform the ceremony," she replied.

Shortly afterward Miss Weston located in Iowa. She took up the study of medicine and became a leading woman doctor. Then she met the right man, and she remembered her promise to her old friend. They were married here by the Rev. Osterhout.

ODD FELLOWS TO MEET IN VERNON

City Is Planning for Entertainment

Special to the Record News

VERNON, Aug. 3.—Preparations are going steadily forward for the entertainment of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of the panhandle who meet in convention here Aug. 16, 17 and 18. Homes for the visitors are being solicited and citizens are responding liberally. Funds to provide entertainment for the visitors are also being liberally donated.

HOT DRY WINDS DAMAGING COTTON

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Aug. 3.—Hot, blighting winds continue to visit Wilbarger county and vicinity each day, and some concern is being felt by farmers over the future of the cotton crop. Many blooms have been shed and vegetation everywhere is shriveling with the heat.

According to P. D. Chaney, county agent, who recently returned from an automobile trip to central Texas, conditions in Wilbarger county are far more favorable than in other sections which he visited as heavy rains here in the spring and early summer provided sufficient moisture to sustain plant life for several months.

John Gould Talks To Rotarians Here

John Gould, city editor of the Daily Times, was the principal speaker at the noon luncheon of the Rotary club Thursday. Mr. Gould told the Rotarians some of his newspaper experiences, covering a period of 15 years' experience. Ross Rogers of Amarillo and Mrs. Irons of Superior, Wis., also made short talks, while George Taylor rendered a vocal solo. He was accompanied on the piano by Paul Larkin.

Fair Association Getting Exhibits

The Texas-Oklahoma Fair Association is making rapid progress in all departments, according to announcement made Thursday. Hundreds of banners have been sent out on automobiles, bill posters are being put up and news stories are being published over a wide territory telling of the fair. At the same time more and more exhibits are bein secured by the various departments and the financial secretary is getting in the necessary funds rapidly. Preparations are being made for the advance ticket sale at an early date.

Bowie Interested In Fair Here

The people of Bowie are very much interested in the Texas-Oklahoma fair and have assured agents of the association here that they will have an exhibit at the fair. Two agents of the fair association visited the Confederate re-union at Bowie Thursday, put out a large amount of fair literature and talked to the people about the fair. The exhibit from Bowie will be among those that will be in first money class, the agents said. Besides a collective exhibit from Bowie, several individual exhibits are expected to be brought here from that city.

'Cool Spell'—Only 110 Here Thursday

The heat Thursday did not mount to the extreme heights on the mercury scale that it reached Wednesday. In fact the red climbed only to the 110 mark at that at one time during the middle afternoon. The skies was partially cloudy during part of the day and for a time it appeared as if a rain was in prospect but it failed to materialize.

JOY RIDERS STEAL WATERMELONS HERE

Several farmers in Wichita Falls Thursday reported that night joy riders evidently from this city are making visits into the country and incidentally pausing to make social calls on watermelon patches. One farmer said that some of his choicest melons he was saving for seed had disappeared. Another farmer said he took a long range shot at night marauders just as they drove away from his melon patch. That all the marauders are not men was testified to by one farmer who said that next day he found the imprint of French heels and a small shoe in his melon patch.

FLIRTATION LEADS TO DEATH

(By Central Press)

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Mary Vecke, girl bride of less than a year, was lonesome. Her husband worked all day. Sometimes nights also. Home alone all day, she longed for company.

She was sitting on the porch glancing over the paper.

"May I use your phone?"

She looked up to see a dapper young man standing on the steps.

Twelve hours later the young man was dead. Mary was a fugitive and another girl bride of her own age was a widow.

For the telephone request ended in a flirtation such as hundreds of girls indulge in every day.

The man, Frank Hahn, arranged for a little dinner that evening.

Mary kept the appointment. So did Hahn, and with him was a friend he introduced as "Al." But let Mary tell the story.

"We made the rounds of several restaurants and one of the boys got some moonshine. Then we hired a cab and kept drinking as we rode," she said.

"Somehow Hahn got on the front seat with the driver. Al kept bothering me. I screamed. A policeman came and the boys jumped out. While he was chasing them I got out and walked away."

What actually happened, according to police, was this.:

The girl objecting to the attentions of the men struck out savagely and kicked the glass out of the window.

Patrolman Heitz rushed to the cab. The boys fled out the other side. He followed. He fired and Hahn fell mortally wounded. When he returned to the cab with the victim Mary was gone.

A man came to the station house later after Mary had been trailed and found. No charge had been placed against her.

It was her husband.

"Don't worry, Mary," he comforted her. "I know you were lonesome and didn't mean any harm."

And the other girl bride? Well, in the pocket of the slain man's clothes police found this note:

"Dearest—You'll be a good boy while I am away, won't you? And don't bother with moonshine or women, ever. Remember we'll be together soon. WIFIE."

Jamaica Bay's Great Capacity

Work has been begun on a Jamaica bay improvement which will provide a harbor large enough to hold the harbors of Liverpool, London, Rotterdam and Hamburg. Six one-thousand foot piers are about to be constructed and the necessary channels will be dredged to accommodate the largest boats. The piers alone will cost $750,000,000.

Shopmen Here Say Katy Power Was Repaired Before They Walked Out

C. E. Crowson, secretary of the federation of labor men now on strike in Wichita Falls, Thursday issued the following statement over his signature:

"On June the first the M., K. & T. at this point increased the shop force to almost double the normal force. This was done to get as many engines ready for service as possible for the July business. I am quite sure that the trains moved during July, were handled with power that was repaired in June, by the men who are now on strike.

"On July 1 there were about ten or twelve locomotives which had gone through the shop and were ready for service. This power of course, will stand up for some time, but there are always some light repairs necessary after each trip, and especially at the end of each month when the monthly and quarterly inspections are due, which is required by law. Such inspections are to be made by qualified mechanics, but whether these rules that have been laid down by the I. C. C. are being carried out now or not, I don't know. However I have been informed that they are not.

"As to any of the striking members breaking ranks, we have no reports of any going back, and do not anticipate any. Locally the men are still out 100 per cent."

At the meeting of the striking railroad men held Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock, many members of the "Big Four" brotherhood who were in the city attended, it is said and gave the strikers a purse of $93. A similar meeting is to be held Sunday morning at 9:30 and will be addressed by Jack Barnes, representing the American Federation of Labor.

PICNIC PLANNED TO CELEBRATE RAILROAD

Preparations are under way for the celebration in commoration of the Byers-Waurika railroad and announcement is expected to be made soon as to the exact date and the program. The details are being worked out by the chamber of commmerce working in conjunction with Captain H. F. McFarland, in charge of the construction of the road. It was at first planned to have the picnic at Red river where the bridge is to cross but a very pretty spot on the Byers ranch is also being considereded.

MAKE GOOD SHOWING ON NEW RAILROAD

Work on the Byers-Waurika railroad has proceeded to the extent that a good showing has been made on the right of way and many yards of dirt have been removed. The grading is proceeding rapidly and with the more than 100 teams at work there is expected to be very little, if any, delay, in the schedule. The only delay so far has been that the hot weather has prevented work at full speed. Material for the bridge and for construction of the track is arriving at Byers by the car loads daily.

TEXAS RANGERS TO HAVE REUNION

Veterans of the Texas ranger force during the old days will fight once more the battles of other years, when Texas was infested with war-like red men and desperate outlaws, at their reunion which will be held at Comanche, Texas, today and tomorrow.

FERGUSON MEETING SCHEDULED TONIGHT

A nopen meeting of supporters of James E. Ferguson in his campaign for United States senate nomination will be held tonight in the 30th district court room, according to an announcement by Guy R. Holcomb, Wichita county campaign manager for Mr. Ferguson.

A permanent organization of a "Ferguson club" will be effected at the meeting, which will have as its feature a number of brief addresses by local supporters of Mr. Ferguson.

DYNAMITE USED TO DESTROY STILL

(By International News Service.)

GREENVILLE, S. C. August 3.—What is declared to be the largest and most complete distilling plant ever seized by raiding officers captured near here by a group of Federal prohibition officers.

The outfit was too large to be destroyed with axes, and two sticks of dynamite were set off under the apparatus, blowing it to bits.

The plant consisted of a large brick furnace base, over which was a steel riveted boiler having a capacity of approximately 400 gallons. Two copper condensing outfits were connected with the boiler, each having a capacity of ninety gallons. Five thousand gallons of rye beer was poured out by the officers. No arrests were made.

MADE BUSINESS GOOD FOR HIM

Business was bad everywhere in 1921, but Fred P. Mann sold $500,000 worth of merchandise in Devil's Lake N. D., a town of 5,000 population. "Advertising built my business for me," he said, "and my aim today is to outdo in newspaper advertising the mail order houses which flood my district with circulars." There is always plenty of business for the man who goes after it.

Engineer Shows What Irrigation Will Do for Wichita

In pointing out what the Wichita Valley Irrigation project means to Wichita Falls, Chief Engineer Thompson has brought out some figures regarding the Salt river valley in Arizona, and what it did for Phoenix. Before the Roosevelt dam was built the valley was a desert and Phoenix was a small town, comparatively speaking, having in 1903 a population of only 5,000 people. The land values at that time were from $25 to $50 per acre and the entire valuation of Maricopa county was $3,500,000. In 1921 the average assessed value per acre of land in the county was $186 per acre and the total assessed valuation of the county was $123,000,000 with Phoenix having grown to a city of 35,000 people. Maricopa county built more concrete roads in 1921 than any other county in the United States and will have 300 miles of concrete roads when its present program is completed. This entire growth is said to be due to irrigation.
