Charles Anderson called the other day to raise a question about the sex of the white buffalo replica on the courthouse square.

"According to what I have read on the subject, the white buffalo statue by J. Wright Mooar was a cow, but that statue is a bull," said Anderson.

I asked Brud Boren about it.

"It is true," said the chairman of the Scurry County Historical Survey Committee, who put on the "white buffalo campaign" some two years ago.

"I have been challenged on that point before," said Boren. "We just ordered a buffalo and they made up a bull."

The inquiry reminded Boren of one of the many experiences he has had concerning the replica of the unusual animal killed by the famous hunter, J. Wright Mooar.

Some weeks ago, Boren, whose office is just across the street from the buffalo, noticed a bus parked in front of Stinson Drug Store. A group of youngsters and their adult chaperones disembarked and some pointed rather excitedly at the buffalo before they went into the drug store. Shortly thereafter, they came across the street to inspect the buffalo, and Boren went over to speak to some of the adults in the group.

One of the men in the party told Boren that he had particularly wanted to see if the buffalo statue really existed. Then he told about somebody at Galveston telling "wild tales" about the buffalo, how it was financed by contributions from school children and other individuals and hhw a couple of men from Snyder went to California and brought the buffalo replica to Snyder.

"Would you recognize the man you saw at Galveston?" Boren asked.

"Well, no, but he sure told some far-fetched tales," the visitor declared.

Boren asked a few more question and, finally identified himself as the person who told the white buffalo story at the meeting of the Texas Historical Survey Committee in Galveston. Then he proceeded to tell the visiting youngsters some of the same "tales," much to their delight and the embarassment of the adult spokesman. They were from the Tyler area of East Texas, —WACIL McNAIR.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, Oct. 24, the 298th day of 1968. There are 68 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1945, the United Nations Charter went into force as the Soviet Union became the 29th nation to ratify it.

On this date:

In 1603, James I was proclaimed king of England, Scotland, France and Ireland.

In 1648, in the Pact of Westphalia, Europe recognized the independence of the Netherlands.

In 1861, the first telegrams were sent across the United States.

In 1929, prices collapsed on the New York stock exchanges.

In 1942, in World War II, Adm. William Halsey was appointed commander in the South Pacific.

In 1952, Republican presidential candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower said he would go to Korea to seek an end to the Korean war if elected.

Ten years ago — Sinclair Weeks resigned as secretary of commerce and Lewis L. Strauss was named to succeed him.

Five years ago — U. N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson was jeered and spat upon after a speech in Dallas, Tex.

Police Invade UC Campus

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Five bus loads of police and state highway patrolmen from the surrounding San Francisco Bay area moved onto the University of California campus today where student protestors had barricaded themselves in a building overnight.

Rocks and bricks were thrown at the officers from a crowd of 250 demonstrators outside the building. One highway patrolman's mouth was cut.

An estimated 150 persons had barricaded Moses Hall Wednesday night in an attempt to have academic credit restored to an experimental course on racism in America featuring Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver as a lecturer.

On Tuesday night, the campus police had arrested 121 persons who staged a similar sit-in at sproul Hall, the nine-campus university's administration building.

There was no sign of police near Moses Hall throughout Wednesday night and early this morning.

But just before dawn San Francisco police said a call went out to members of the Bay Area Mutual Aid Pact set up to handle potentially riotous situations.

Trouble started after it was announced that 10 lectures would be given by Cleaver, who is charged with attempted murder during an exchange of fire between his militant Negro organization and Oakland police.

The board of regents voted that no academic credit should be given for a course in which a person without academic credentials lectures more than once. Cleaver has lectured three times so far.

Municipal Court Judge George Brunn fined 118 of the 121 arrested during the Sproul Hall sit-in. The other three pleaded innocent to the trespassing charges and will be tried later.

Brunn levied $125 fines and 30-day suspended jail sentences against each person who pleaded guilty.

Apollo 8 Crewmen Get Details

By JIM STROTHMAN
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America's Apollo 7 space heroes, back from 11 days in orbit, met informally here today with three other astronauts who may fly around the moon at Christmastime.

Apollo 7 pilots Walter M. Schirra Jr., Donn F. Eisele and Walter Cunningham then continued in-depth discussions with technical experts attempting to determine whether Apollo 8 should get the nod to rocket moonward or make another earth orbital voyage.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials said the Apollo 7 crew and pilots of Apollo 8—air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders —met informally in crew quarters, along with several other astronauts involved with Apollo 7 and upcoming flights.

More - formal meetings are scheduled between the Apollo 7 and Apollo 8 crews next week at the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, Tex., when the astronauts discuss in detail how all spacecraft systems operate.

Today's meetings with technical experts primarily concentrated on the Oct. 11 launching of Apollo 7 aboard a Saturn 1B rocket and rendezvous in earth orbit a day later between Apollo 7 and the upper stage of their booster.

Meanwhile, the Apollo 7 spacecraft arrived at Norfolk, Va., today aboard its prime recovery ship, the aircraft carrier Essex, en route to the Downey, Calif., plant of North American Rockwell Corp., prime Apollo spacecraft contractor, for detailed study.

Unrest Is Spreading In Jordan

JERUSALEM (AP) — Troops and armored cars patrolled the twisting alleyways of East Jerusalem today as Arab unrest spread in occupied Jordan.

A 24-hour curfew was listed at Ramallah, where 500 chanting Arab schoolgirls were dispersed by police with water hoses Wednesday. The curfew of Al Bireh was also relaxed.

But the military clamped down on Nablus, one of the main cities in the West Bank and declared a curfew there. A number of persons were reported arrested.

Another curfew was declared in Jenin after a demonstration by 100 boy and girl students. It was the first time since the rash of demonstrations began almost a week ago that boys had joined. They usually stayed clear because Israeli troops tend to deal more gently with girls.

Most schools throughout the northern sector of the West Bank were open, but few pupils were believed in their classs.

The state radio reported Defense Minister Moshe Dayan met the mayors of Ramallah and El Bireh. There were no details on what was discussed.

Newsmen who tried to telephone Arab leaders in those towns were told by the Israeli post office that calls were not possible.

Lull In Ground Fighting Reflected In Casualties

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command today reported the lowest weekly American death toll in more than 14 months, hard fighting in the demilitarized zone in which at least 112 North Vietnamese were killed, and the loss of seven U.S. aircraft in South Vietnam in the past two days.

The total of South Vietnamese and enemy casualties also dropped last week, and the reductions resulted from the lull in ground action which has prevailed for three and a half weeks.

U.S. spokesmen said despite the fighting along the northern frontier and the aircraft losses, it was too early to say whether the lull was ending. They said the fighting in the DMZ was the result of allied operations, not the enemy's initiative.

The seven aircraft lost to enemy groundfire included a fighter-bomber, three light observation planes and three helicopters. Five men were kiled and five were wounded.

Although there was still no word that Washington and Hanoi had agreed on a halt in the bombing of North Vietnam so as to advance the Paris peace talks, the South Vietnamese government appeared to be making a gesture toward getting the talks moving. It announced it would release 140 prisoners of war before the end of the month the largest POW release of the war.

The total of American combat dead last week was the lowest since the week of Aug. 6-12, 1967, when 82 Americans were killed in action. And the total of 589 Americans who the U.S. Command said were wounded in combat last week was the lowest since the week of Dec. 24-30, 1967, when the total was 437.

South Vietnamese and enemy casualties last week also were the lowest reported in many months.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 132 government troops killed, the smallest number since the week of Oct. 15-21, 1967. The U.S. Command said 1,243 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were killed last week, the lowest number since Sept. 24-30, 1967.

South Vietnamese infantrymen and U.S. Marine tanks moved into the demilitarized zone behind a strike by U.S. B52 bombers Wednesday, blasted about 200 North Vietnamese troops from their bunkers and sent them fleeing after 2½ hours of fighting.

It was the heaviest fighting along South Vietnam's northern frontier in six weeks.

Elsewhere in South Vietnam the 3½-week-old lull in the ground fighting continued, and a U.S. spokesman said the flareup in the DMZ did not mean the enemy had broken the lull. He pointed out that the fighting resulted from a U.S. and South Vietnamese sweep into the area, not from a North Vietnamese initiative.

Jet fighter-bombers and artillery pounded the North Vietnamese after the ground forces drove them out, and a sweep of the battlefield produced 95 enemy bodies, U.S. spokesmen said. Seventeen more enemy dead were found in craters opened up by 180 tons of high explosives dropped by six B52 bombers just before the ground force moved in.

Allied losses were three South Vietnamese soldiers killed, 27 wounded, and three U.S. Marines wounded, spokesmen said.

Teddy Slams Third Party

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy invoked the names of his late brothers today in calling for repudiation of George C. Wallace's third party "for the health of our country and our future as a nation."

He said he was addressing his plea to voters drawn toward the former Alabama governor after supporting President John F. Kennedy and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, both of whom were assassinated.

"President Kennedy defended America against the extremists," the Massachussets Democrat said. "George Wallace is in league with them."

"Robert Kennedy stood for reconciliation between the races," he continued. "George Wallace stands for division and suppression."

"My brothers believed in the dignity of man," Kennedy said, asking:

"How can those who stood with them support a man whose agents used cattle prods and dogs against human beings in Alabama?"

Kennedy commented in a speech prepared for a luncheon of the New Bedford Service Clubs and Area Labor Council.

The Wallace forces anticipate strong support from rank-and-file union members throughout the country.

In his prepared remarks, Kennedy made a brief reference at the outset to his support for the Democratic national candidates, without naming them, then devoted the rest of his speech to a sharp attack on Wallace and his American Independent party.

"It is not enough that this movement be defeated, it must be repudiated," Kennedy said.

"A significant vote this year would turn this movement into a permanent party of division and hate, seeking to elect mayors and congressmen as well as presidents," he told his audience.

"The third party is organized, directed and underwritten by the extremist movement, which is using the party as a vehicle to power," he added.

REV. W. N. PARKEY

Rev. Parkey Resigns At 1st Christian

The Rev. William N. Parkey, minister of the First Christian Church in Snyder for nearly three years, has resigned to accept a pastorate in San Antonio.

His resignation will become effective on Dec. 1, when he will conduct his last service as minister of the church here.

Rev. Parkey has been named pastor of Western Hills Christian Church in San Antonio, a new church located near the new state medical school which opened recently in that city.

Rev. Parkey said his work with the congregation here had been pleasant and that he would miss Snyder and its citizens. However, he said he felt that the opportunities and the challenge of the new field compelled him to accept the call to the San Antonio Church.

He and his wife and their two sons, Bill 11, and John 5, will move to San Antonio soon after his resignation becomes effective.

Rev. Parkey has been active in Snyder's community life, serving as a member of the Scurry County Historical Survey Committe, a member of the Lions Club and at present he is serving as President of District 5 of Christian Churches in Texas.

He is a graduate of Texas Christian University and of Brite Divinity School. He has done further graduate work and hopes to continue his formal education through the doctorate level.

Student Going To Atom Conference

Mike Martin, a senior at Snyder high school has been named to attend the 1968 National Youth Conference on the Atom to be held in Chicago Nov. 21-23.

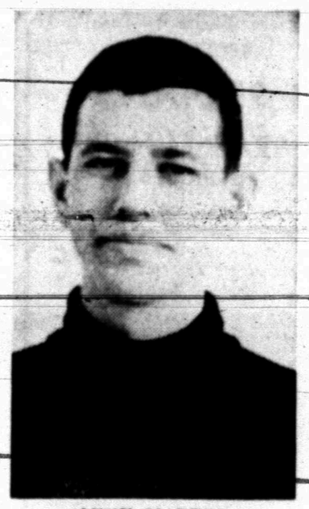
Mike is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert R. Martin of 2503 Thirty - seventh Street.

His selection was made by a committee of scientists representing education and industry and was based on scholarship, achievement and interest in science, according to Dr. E. Leigh Secrest, vice chancellor for advaned studies and research at Texas Christian University and chairman of the selection committee.

Roy Burk, chemistry and physics teacher at Snyder high, will accompany Mike to the conference.

Texas Electric Service Company will sponsor the delegales to the conference.

Mike is active in the school debate team, the drama club as well as being the owner and sole employe of Novatronics, a company which specializes in custom electronic installations. Other members of the selection committee were Dr. Arthur F. Beyer, chairman of the biology department of Midwestern University; Dr. H. R. Dvorak, chief scientist at General Dynamics Corp. in Fort Worth; J. W. Miller, president of Globe Exploration Co. of Midland; and Dr. Wendell H. Nedderman, vice president for academic affairs and dean of engineering at the University of Texas at Arlington. Calvin A. Cumbie, registrar at TCU, served as advisor to the committee.



MIKE MARTIN

This is the 10th such annual conference to be held for gifted high school students and their teachers. More than 800 delegates will hear talks by prominent educators and scientists on the promise of the peaceful atom and its various applications. They also will tour the Argonne National Laboratory, one of the world's largest atomic energy research and development centers.

Their attendance is sponsored by 65 investor owned electric power companies in the nation, including Texas Electric Service Company.

GOP Candidates Due Here Friday

Millard K. Neptune, Republican candidate for Texas Agriculture Commissioner and a farmer and rancher of Dalhart, along with E. G. Schuhart, GOP Candidate for Texas Land Commissioner and an attorney and engineer of Houston, will be in Snyder Friday.

They are scheduled to arrive here at 5 p.m. and will be on the courthouse square, their campaign leaders announced, to visit local voters and discuss the offices they seek.

Man Is Shot Early Today

Albert Malone, 30, was in critical condition at Cogdell Memorial Hospital this morning after receiving a gunshot wound in the head.

Sheriff's Authorities, who are investigating the shooting, said Malone was struck by one blast from a shotgun as he stood on the steps of a house trailer in the Helms Addition southeast of the City limits. The shooting occurred prior to 5 a.m.

Officers said they obtained a statement in connection with the shooting from a 20-year-old woman. She had not been taken into custody and no charges had been filed by noon.

Malone was taken to the hospital by Snyder Ambulance Service.

UF Drive Total Reaches $24,000

The Scurry County United Fund Campaign edged past the $24,000 level this morning as reports from workers continued to trickle into campaign headquarters at city hall.

The new total amounts to nearly 62 per cent of the $38,805.60 goal, which is being sought to support operations of 10 participating agencies.

Chamber Elects 6 New Directors

Members of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce have elected six new directors to serve on the organization board for the next two years.

Elected in the balloting, which was conducted by mail, were Max von Roeder, Earl Whitfield, Arel (Red) Faver, Jay Rogers, Tommie Mills and Gary Stevens.

Board members elected last year who still have one year to go on current terms are H. F. Clark, Shelby Coker, Leon Autry, Larry Hall, Keith Pitner and John Reed.

The old and new boards will meet soon to select chamber officers to serve during 1969. The new slate of officers officially takes over at the organization's annual banquet, usually held shortly after the first of the year.

Von Roeder is engaged in farming and in Von Roeder Seed Farms; Whitfield is the owner and manager of Whitfield's Store in Highland Shopping Center; Faver is operator of a service station on the Big Spring Highway; Rogers is president of Rogers, Inc., on the west side of the square; Mills is an attorney, and Stevens is local manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

DEAR ABBY: When I read about "MODERN MOTHER" wanting to give her 16-year-old daughter the pill for her own (the mother's) peace of mind, I nearly had a fit.

In the first place, if a mother raises her daughter right, she won't need the pill.

This may come as a shock to you, but I am a 19-year-old virgin. I'm no creep either. I've had my share of wild parties, oversexed guys, and I have been turned on myself a few times, but I know how far I can go.

The guy will try to get as much as he can. When he gets out of line with me, I stop him and tell him my morals won't allow me to go any further. He gets mad and pouts, but I just pout right back. I've lost a lot of guys that way, but don't care. One day the right man will come along and I'll be glad I waited.

I would be insulted if my Mom gave me the pill. That's like saying she doesn't care if I went all the way.

19-YEAR-OLD VIRGIN

DEAR ABBY: In your answer to MODERN MOTHER, morals seemed to be the only issue. In all this pill talk, people tend to overlook a far more serious danger than a possible pregnancy.

I refer to the risk of venereal disease, which is now even more violent and rampant than ever.

It ought to be stressed, that venereal disease can be far worse than a 9-month episode.

DEAR ABBY: This is for MODERN MOTHER: My mother raised three GOOD daughters and it wasn't by giving us the pill either. I will never forget my mother's words to us, and when I have children, they will hear them, too. "The right way is always the hard way. Anyone can do tings the easy way."

Modern mothers want to do everything the easy way. I am 22 years old and newly married. I am far from old-fashioned. I met my "right man" and we went together 4 years and I managed to stay "good" all thru my courtship and college education. It was worth it, too, so I'd like to ask you, Modern Mother, why are you giving up on your daughter so early?

If you love your daughter help her to be strong and overcome temptations. Your easy solution is asking for the trouble you are trying to avoid.

A. S.

DEAR ABBY: The mother who wanted to give her 16-year-old daughter the pill wrote that altho her daughter was a beautiful, intelligent girl with high morals, when the "right" boy comes along, if the time is right and the place is right, Lord only knows what could happen, or words to that effect.

I would like to say that if a mother raises her daughter with high moral standards, when the right boy comes along, the right place will be the bridal chamber and the right time will be the wedding night. Don't faint, this is from a 21-year-old college man.

"MR. RIGHT"

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of four healthy, normal daughters whose ages range from 13 to 22, and I would NEVER offer my daughters birth control pills because it would be the same as saying, "Go ahead." But if there were some kind of tasteless powder that accomplished the same thing, I would be the first to buy it and slip it into their breakfast food every morning.

"REALIST"

Fire Is Put Out

City Firemen extinguished a grass fire on the Lamesa Highway across the road from Brooks Oil Well Service about one mile west and half a mile south of town at 3:10 p.m. yesterday. The fire occurred on property owned by N. L. Herrell.

Hughes To Buy Hotel

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Howard Hughes agreed to buy the Landmark Tower Wednesday, giving him a sixth hotel-casino among the 17 on this gambling center's glittering strip. This time, apparently the U.S. Justice Department will have no antitrust objections.

The 542-room Landmark, owned by a bankrupt corporation, has been vacant since completion last spring. At 28-stories, it is the highest building in this state where gambling is a legal business.

Carol Construction Co. and representatives of Hughes, a billionaire who hasn't been seen in public for more than a decade, agreed on a $17.3 million price.

Hughes, 62, already holds, at a cost estimated at $150 million, the Sands, Desert Inn Frontier Castaways and Silver Slipper.

He failed to close earlier this year—at the request of the Justice Department—a state-approved deal for the Stardust Hotel and Casino. The department said the proposed purchase raised monopoly questions.

Asked about the Landmark U.S. Atty. Joseph Ward did not rule out another antitrust investigation but said "there is no reason to expect that any reaction will be forthcoming."

M. Cohan Returns From 'Over There'

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Half a century ago, George M. Cohan encouraged performers to entertain American servicemen "Over There."

Today, in a different war, in a different place, his granddaughter Michaela has been doing just that.

Miss Cohan, who was 25 Wednesday, returned earlier this month from 13 months in Vietnam where she was an Army service club director.

Unlike her famous grandfather, the attractive, brown-haired girl did not sing or dance.

"I don't have the talent," she said.

Instead, Miss Cohan explained, her job was "sort of like being a stage manager," arranging for USO shows and making sure the service clubs ran smoothly.

Miss Cohan said she preferred not to discuss the political aspects of the war. In anwer to a question, however she said, "I don't think patriotic sentiments are old fashioned."

Her grandfather's patriotic efforts—with songs like "I'm a Yankee Doodle Dandy" and "It's a Grand Old Flag"—won recognition from President Franklin D. Roosevelt who presented the composer with the Congressional medal for his "outstanding contributions to the American spirit."

Miss Cohan said she never knew her grandfather. "He died the year before I was born," she said, but added, "I've heard his songs since the time I was born. I love his music."

She got to listen to some of that music Wednesday night when she attended the Broadway show "George M" which is based on Cohan's life.

Miss Cohan said she "used to push" her grandfather's song in the service clubs by playing a tape recording of the show. But, she lamented, "most of the GIs over there don't know him or have never heard the songs. They're too young—only 18."

Gesturing frequently, Miss Cohan explained she joined the Army's Special Services Division as a civilian when she graduated from Marywood College in Scranton, Pa. She went first to Korea where she spent 14 months, then Vietnam. She said her father, George M. Cohan Jr., was in special services during World War II.

Temperatures Dip Near Freezing Mark

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texas temperatures dipped almost to the freezing point early today but other weather conditions prevented a killing frost.

The near-freezing temperatures were in the Panhandle and South Plains. Perryton reported 35 degrees with a light frost visible in a few areas. Dalhart reported 34 degrees, Plainview 36 and Amarillo 38.

Brief, torrential rains soaked parts of South Texas early today set off by the cold front moving through the state.

Why is it that repairmen so often downgrade the work of other repairmen? Is it a sincere expression of annoyance with incompetence? Or is it merely a preliminary comment designed to prepare a householder for an extended job and a sizeable bill?

The following letter is typical of many received over the years:

"I am getting sick and tired of servicemen who come to the house to fix something and always begin by saying, "Whoever fixed this the last time sure botched it up." I'd feel very self-conscious about this except that they say it even when it was previously done by a professional. And one fellow said it just before starting work that never had been repaired on some plumbing equipment by anyone.

"A couple of weeks ago, our toaster stopped working. I know a little about electricity, so I took the outer case off the toaster and examined it. I saw that it couldn't be fixed by me because a major part was broken. I replaced the case, putting back the two key screws and leaving off the others. Even though I told my wife I didn't think it would pay to get it fixed and that we should get a new one, she took it to an appliance repair shop. The man glanced at it, saw the missing screws and said, "Somebody has been fooling around with this. Why don't people stop trying to fix things they know nothing about?" My wife was embarrassed, but said nothing. To make a long story short, I was right, the toaster couldn't be fixed without spending almost as much as the cost of a new one.

"What bugs me is that the repairman made his statement automatically, before he even took off the toaster case — one more example of how these fellows seem to resent the possibility that someone else may have tried to fix something before it was brought to them. It was my toaster and if I wanted to put it into a meat-grinder, it was my right to do it. Frankly, I don't see what business it is of theirs, as long as they're not being asked to fix something for nothing. Also, making such remarks is a good way to lose future business."

We, too, have noticed this tendency of servicemen to indicate that a previous repair job, even if done years before, wasn't handled properly. Perhaps it really isn't too important, although it can be if the intention is to hike the price. But it certainly can be tactless, especially if the man of the house had something to do with the repair.

QUESTION: We have a brick porch leading from the kitchen at the rear of our house to the patio. The top layer of the porch is an insert of concrete 36 inches by 30 inches. It is pretty well beaten up and I would like to replace it, but I'm not quite sure how to remove the old concrete. It can't be pushed or slid out, because there are rows of brick surrounding it. What is your suggestion?

ANSWER: You will need plenty of elbow grease, since you're just going to have to bang the old concrete out of there. If the concrete isn't too thick — two inches or under — you may be able to break it up with a large cold chisel and a hammer. But if it's thicker than that, and it likely is, you'll need a pickaxe and a sledgehammer. How easily it comes up will depend on how solid the concrete is. And that depends on how strong the original mixture was, something you won't find out until you start working.

• • •

QUESTION: The fireplace in our backyard is very old and some of the cement between the bricks is crumbling. I'd like to replace it with some of that ready-mixed stuff. What kind should I get?

ANSWER: There are three general types of ready-mixed-concrete, sand and mortar. The latter is especially made for brickwork.

• • •

QUESTION: We have two cigarette burns on the end table in our living room. They are large but don't appear to go all the way through. I'd like to refinish the entire top, rather than attempt to repair the marks. Can I use varnish remover or will the burned parts interfere with the action of the remover?

ANSWER: The varnish remover will take off the entire finish, including the burned areas. However, if the burns have gone all the way through, you may have to do a little sanding and, in an extreme case, bleaching.

• • •

QUESTION: Settle, an argument for us. Is oil stain brushed on with the grain or against the grain?

ANSWER: Against the grain. But whoever took the opposite view has a point, because wiping off the stain, an important part of the process, is done with the grain.

Plainview HD Elects Officers

The Plainview Home Demonstration Club met in the Northeast community center for their October meeting with Mrs. Oren Sturdivant as hostess. Roll call was answered with the name of an invalid or shut-in to send cards to or unuseful objects that I carry around in my purse.

Miss Ruby Butts gave the program on "Nutrition." A questionnaire was held on "Knowing Your Vitamins."

Several anniversary gifts were presented from Secret pals.

New officers for ensuing year were elected as follows: president, Mrs. Carl Williams; vice president, Mrs. Hugh Robison; secretary, Mrs. J. N. Eicke; treasurer, Mrs. Leamon Vandiver; reporter, Mrs. Martha Davis and council delegate, Mrs. Will Murphree.

Mrs. Raymond Hill was Lucky Lady, receiving a gift from the hostess.

Refreshments were served to: Mrs. Boss Baze, K. G. Blalock, E. T. Davis, Joe Eicke, J. N. Eicke, John Flyod, Raymond Hill, W. E. MsMillan, Clarence Moore, Will Murphree, Hugh Robison, Lea Schattel, Leamon Vandiver, Carl Williams, Joe Rylander, Roe Rosson and the hostess, Mrs. Oren Sturdivant. The next meeting will be in the Martha Ann Woman's club with Mrs. W. E. McMillan as hostess. All members are urged to attend.

Hermleigh Spanish Club Has Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of "La Luz," the Hermleigh Spanish club, was held recently.

The meeting was called to order by Martha Herrera. Jane Taylor called the roll and read the minutes. The pledge of allegience was given in Spanish.

For the program several reports concerning Peru were given. They were as follows: History, Shirley Stirl; Transportation and Communication, Mary Hudgins; Education, Jane Taylor; and Ancient Civlization, Susan Peterson. The point system was discussed as to how many points should be given for certain duties performed by the members for the club. Points will be given for holding offices, for bringing food to concession stands, and for giving reports.

The president announced the date of the Spring Spanish Club Convention as being March 27-29.

The reporter was appointed to send in news of "La Luz" to the Pan Am Times, a paper put out by the state club.

It was decided to sponsor a "Fortune Telling" booth at the annual school carnival. Susan Peterson is in charge of the work schedule.

DOUBLE-DUTY SALAD — Made with crabmeat, grapefruit sections and artichoke hearts and served with help-yourself dressing, it can be enjoyed by guests who watch their weight.

Feed Girls A Luncheon Salad

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

One of the most delightful salads we've tried recently is great to serve "the girls" whatever their age when you are entertaining at noontime.

It's an interesting combination of crabmeat, artichoke hearts and grapefruit sections served on salad greens with an Orange Dressing.

These days everyone is interested in figure - control recipes so you'll be glad to know that this salad will suit diet-conscious guests as well as those who don't need to count calories. The Orange Dressing that accompanies the artichoke hearts and grapefruit sections, and the mayonnaise for the crabmeat, are not added to the salad they're passed. Figure-controllers can take as little as they like of the Orange Dressing (low in oil) and omit the mayonnaise.

The salad will taste delicious offered with soft rolls—the attractive kind that have an egg glaze. But besides the rolls we suggest that you also have crisp rye wafers — the diet variety — on hand.

LUNCHEON SALAD

2 packages (each 9 ounces) frozen artichoke hearts
Orange Dressing (see recipe)
Salad greens
2 cans (each about 7 ounces) king crabmeat, drained or 1 pound fresh crabmeat
2 cans (each 1 pound) grapefruit sections, drained or 3 cups drained fresh grapefruit sections
Homemade mayonnaise

Cook artichokes according to package directions; drain; if whole, halve. Pour ¼ cup of the Orange Dressing over them; cover and chill.

At serving time, arrange salad greens on a platter or on individual plates; add artichokes, crabmeat and grapefruit. Serve with remaining Orange Dressing for the grapefruit, artichokes and greens, and homemade mayonnaise for the crabmeat.

Makes 6 servings.

ORANGE DRESSING

½ cup orange juice
1 tablespoon red wine vinegar
½ tablespoon lime juice
¼ cup salad (not olive) oil
1 tablespoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
⅛ teaspoon celery seed
1 tablespoon chopped chives
2 tablespoons minced sweet red pepper

Into a jar with a screw top turn all ingredients. Shake thoroughly. Chill. Shake again before serving. Makes almost 1 cup.

Time For Applesauce Cake

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Our friends kindly pass along their best recipes and we offer them to you.

So here's a real family-style Applesauce Cake that you may want to try. A few notes from the donor:

"My mother's applesauce cake — the one I grew up on— is a satisfying dessert when it's dusted with a snowy covering of confectioner's sugar. But at our house it was usually covered with a thick butter-cream icing and garnished with walnuts. (My job was to crack the nuts and choose the biggest and most perfect halves for the cake.) My Dad and I demanded the frosting. We had sweet tooths and Daddy would have felt underprivileged and deprived if every cake hadn't been covered with some rich concoction. I can still remember how good this tasted and maybe your readers would like to follow suit."

APPLESAUCE CAKE

2 cups sifted regular flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon cloves
1 stick (¼ pound) butter or margarine
1 cups sugar
3 eggs
1½ cups canned applesauce
1 cup raisins
½ cup chopped walnuts

Thoroughly grease a 13 by 9 by 2 inch baking pan.

On a piece of wax paper sift together the flour, baking soda, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves.

In a large mixing bowl cream butter and sugar. Beat in eggs one at a time. Stir in sifted flour mixture in 4 additions, alternately with applesauce; begin and end with dry ingredients. Mix the raisins and walnuts with the last addition of flour and stir them in.

Bake in a preheated 325 degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean—about 50 minutes.

Place cake in pan or wire rack to cool for about 5 minutes. Turn out on wire rack; with another rack turn right side up. Cool completely.

Frost with a vanilla-flavored butter-cream icing and garnish with walnut halves.

How To Pot Roast

If you follow these simple rules your pot roasts of either beef, veal, pork or lamb should be a success:

1. For best flavor, brown meat slowly on all sides in just enough fat to prevent sticking. Whether to flour first is up to you, although some cooks claim the coating gives the meat a richer color.

2. Add a small amount of liquid— about ½ cup — to start with. You can always add more if it cooks away. Some of the suitable flavor boosters: Broth, bouillon; consomme, vegetable or fruit juices; tomato-juice cocktail or tomato sauce, barbecue sauce, marinades, or soups.

3. Cover kettle, frying pan, or Dutch oven tightly and simmer (don't boil) or bake in slow oven (325 degrees) until meat is fork - tender.

Colorful And Casual Sportswear

Men's sportwear for fall - winter captures the rich, autumnal earth colors in subtle, sophisticated patterns, creating a "country gentleman" look.

Highlighting the fashion scene are slacks, the pace-setters in recent seasons. Look for a veritable resurgence in color, in eye-opening pattern innovations, ranging from popular plaids to handsome checks and stripes.

Will Sunken Spanish Ship Yield Treasures?

By DENIS O'CONNOR

DUBLIN (AP) — The remains of the Santa Maria de la Rosa, a ship of the Spanish Armada sunk in 1588, have been found, but hopes of recovering her reputed treasure must wait until next summer.

When Lt. Cmdr. John Grattan, 33, of Britain's Royal Navy, surfaced in the middle of Blasket Sound with the cry, "We've found her" it ended a four-month search in which 15 divers covered 3,000 acres.

The Santa Maria de la Rosa was one of 24 ships of the Armada which sank off the Irish coast in September 1588 after Philip of Spain's abortive attempt to invade Elizabethan England.

Sydney Wignall, 45-year-old Welsh businessman and chief sponsor of the search, said: "You'll get some idea of the difficulty if I say that we were like 15 Batmen flying over a town of 40,000 population peering into everybody's backyard to find a toy boat."

Blasket Sound, at the tip of the Dingle Peninsula, is pounded by Atlantic combers. Powerful currents stream between three barren, uninhabited islands. It's no place for amateur skin-drivers.

Everybody knew the Santa Maria lay in the sound. Fishermen who speak only the ancient Gaelic language knew it because their fathers told them—a legend handed down through the generations. In Spain there are documents describing exactly how the ship sank. In London are accounts of how she sank with only a single survivor of the 233 soldiers and sailors on board.

The divers are silent about any discovery of treasure. Documents in London, dated 1588, say the galleon carried 50,000 gold ducats and 50,000 silver coins. Today that would be worth around $2 million.

John P. King, Dublin lawyer who acts for the diving team says: "We have been granted a license by the Spanish government to salvage Armada wrecks. We deposited a bond of $3,000 in return for which we may retain all objects of historical interest and 80 per cent of all coin or other treasure, the Spanish government retaining the remaining 20 per cent."

The treasure hunt starts again next summer, with underwater metal detectors, diver-to-diver and diver-to-ship telephones, water jets and suction pumps. It is estimated that survey and salvage will last up to five seasons.

But dreams of treasure aren't shared by everybody.

Tom P. Kilfeather, author of the book "Spanish Graveyard," says: "They are wasting their time. The Santa Maria de la Rosa was not even a galleon. She was a converted merchantman or freighter, armed with a few cannon and sent off with the Armada.

"Why should such a ship carry a fortune in gold and silver? Nobody goes to war with holds stuffed with treasure."

Kilfeather thinks the sole survivor of the wreck invented the treasure in an attempt to save his life. He was executed, however.

Fears For Public Affairs

AUSTIN (AP) — Dr. William Arrowsmith of the University of Texas, who once called higher education "a vision of madness," says he is concerned that no one can answer the question. "Who represents the public interest?"

Arrowsmith, a professor of classics, just returned to the university after an 18-month leave of absence teaching, writing, speaking and doing research.

"The regulatory agencies share the interests of the industries they are supposed to be regulating—television, for instance," Arrowsmith told an interviewer. "Some group in the country has to be set free to represent and defend the public interest.

"I'd like to see universities do this job. Obviously, not all can do it in the same way, but with "500 new colleges going up in this decade" and evidence of a "reforming generation," there are possibilities for change

Americans Add Six More Gold Medals

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A breath of scandal, a hint of under-the-counter payoffs around the world, threw another darkening cloud over the 19th Olympic Games today, while the United States continued to gather a golden cascade of medals.

The Americans picked up six more gold medals Wednesday, including their first two in sports other than track and swimming, and the Russians began to make their move in gymnastics, in which 36 gold medals are awarded.

In all, the Americans now have 81 medals, including 35 gold, and the Russians have 49, with 15 gold.

Dan Ferris 79, white-haired secretary emeritus of the U.S. Amateur Athletic Union and a newly elected member of the Council of the International Athletic Federation, ruling body for track and field around the world, dropped the bombshell about commercial firms paying athletes to use their products.

"Indications are that payoffs have been made to athletes of virtually all countries," he said, and added that an "investigation centers around those athletes who did not see fit to notify their superiors of the payments."

He said the payoffs range from five hundred dollars to six thousand dollars.

Everett Barnes, acting director of the U.S. Olympic Comittee, said in a prepared statement that "at this time we have nothing to substantiate the rumors with respect to athletes subject to our jurisdiction.

"If anyone has any concrete evidence to offer about U.S. athletes in this connection we shall be pleased to follow up the information."

And Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, said:

"I have not yet received any concrete evidence that any athlete has received any money. Any investigation of this kind must be undertaken by the National Federation concerned.

"Then the National Federation reports to the International Federation, and if it is proved beyond any doubt that any Olympic athlete has received money, the international federation must suspend him.

"If that happens, then any athlete who won any medal in the Mexican games automatically would forfeit it."

The controversy is only one of many that has plagued these troubled Games, but, like all the others, the effects—if any—on the athletes appear negligible.

Bill Steinkraus, 43 Norofon, Conn., riding Snowbound, won the gold medal in individual horse jumping—including one perfect round—and Gary L. Anderson, Axtell, Neb., won the free rifle competiton, breaking his own world record with 1157 of a possible 2000. Russian Valentin Kornev was second at 1151.

"I think you'd have to say my experience contributes something to it," Steinkraus said after his victory. He has been a member of the American Olympic equestrain team since 1952.

The United States picked up four more gold medals in swimming, including its first ever in the women's 200-meter breaststroke. Sharon Wichman, 16, Fort Wayne, Ind., copped it in Olympic record time of 2:44.4. Russian Galine Prozumenshikova was third.

The victory came as a surprise since the American ace, Catie Ball, had withdrawn from the qualifying heats because of illness.

Mike Burton, Carmichael, Calif., took the men's 400-meter freestyle in Olympic record time of 4:09, beating Canada's world record holder, Ralph Hutton, by three meters.

Kay Hail, 17, Tacoma, Wash., pulled an upset by edging Canada's favored Elaine Tanner in the women's 100-meter backstroke in 1:06.2, a world record. Jan Swaggerty, 17, Stockton, Calif., was third.

Charles Hickcox of Phoenix, Ariz., in 4:48.4, and Gary Hall, Garden Grove, Calif., finished one-two in the men's 400-meter individual medley. Michael Holtahus of West Germany was third, just edging Greg Buckingham, Atherton, Calif.

The U.S. had to be content with a third, by Sue Peterson, Bellevue, Wash., in the women's platform dive. Milena Duchkova of Czechoslovakia won it with Russian Natalia Lobanova second.

Pierre Franco Vianelli of Italy won the cycling individual open road race, and Josef Zapedzki of Poland took the rapid fire pistol competition.

The Russians picked up three medals, one of them gold, in the two final gymnastic competitions, but had to share the glory with pretty Vera Caslavska of Czechoslovakia.

The Russians, expected to dominate the competition, won the women's team title, despite a thrilling individual performance by Miss Caslavska. Czechoslovakia was second and East Germany third.

Miss Caslavska won her second Olympic all-around title, however, followed by Zinaida Voronina and Natalia Kuchiskaya, both of Russia.

And for the first time in 20 years, two American girls made it to the finals of a gymnastic event. Linda Metheny of Tuscola, Ill., and Cathy Rigby, Los Alamitos, Calif., qualified for the balance beam finals.

The United States also put seven boxers into the semifinals, with all assured of medals. There are no bouts for third place, with bronze medals being awarded both losing semifinalists.

Javelinas Fall To 10th Place

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unbeaten San Diego State increased its lead over North Dakota State today in The Associated Press' small college football poll.

San Diego State, bringing its record to 5-0 with a 34-14 victory over California State of Los Angeles last Saturday, was returned to the top spot with 284 points by the regional panel of 15 sports writers and broadcasters.

San Diego State drew 10 first-place ballots and was not placed lower than fourth by any member of the panel. North Dakota State drew 195 points following a 14-8 triumph over North Dakota that lifted its record to 6-0.

San Diego State led North Dakota State by 54 points he previous week.

After the top two there was considerable juggling with Eastern Kentucky falling all the way from third to 11th after a 31-20 defeat by Akron. Texas A&I also dropped down, from fifth to 10th after losing to East Texas State 35-27.

Western Kentucky, which received two first-place votes, moved up one notch into third off a 3-0 shutout of Tennessee Tech. New Mexico Highlands climbed two spots to fourth with an 85-14 victory over Colorado Mines, and Chattanooga vaulted from ninth to fifth by beating East Tennessee 16-6.

Northern Michigan and Indiana, Pa., both broke into the top ten, Northern moving into seventh with a 47-0 vietory over the Quantico Marines, and Indiana taking ninth following a 28-0 triumph over Valparaiso.

Weber State moved from seventh to sixth and Arkansas State, with one first-place vote, moved up two spots to eighth.

Appalachian received the other two first-place votes.

Buy Mavericks

HOUSTON (AP) — Three Houston businessmen have purchased controlling stock in the Houston Mavericks of the American Basketball Association.

T. C. Morrow, Houston oilman, formerly was majority stockholder.

George Mikan, ABA commissioner, announced Wednesday that Earl Allen, Carey Crutcher and Bill Witmeir, have purchased the stock.

The week of Oct. 28-Nov. 3 was declared by the Houston Mayor's office as "Maverick Week."

Lakers Lose To Detroit

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

So far it hadn't looked like the dawning of a new era for the Los Angeles Lakers, but it's the same old story for Jerry West.

The Lakers lost 117-110 to Detroit Wednesday night for their third defeat in four games — hardly an auspicious beginning for a team picked by many to win its first National Basketball Association title behind Elgin Baylor, West and newly acquired Wilt Chamberlain.

For West it was the injury hex again. West scored 19 points in the first half but then sat out most of the second half with a groin injury.

In other NBA action, Boston handed Cincinnati its first defeat, 108-101, Atlanta topped Chicago 106-91, New York nipped Milwaukee 114-112 and Seattle edged San Diego 8-17.

Louisville edged Indianapolis 112-108 in the only American Basketball Association game.

AT LITTLEFIELD

Cats Battle Tomorrow

What promises to be an evenly matched District 3-AAA football contest will be unreeled at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Littlefield when Snyder's Tigers take on the Wildcats.

Both teams are virtually out of the title race, but both are eager for another victory. The host 'Cats seem to hold a slight edge on credentials with a 2-3 mark while Snyder has won only one in five outings. However, the Bengals seem to hold the edge when comparisons are made with the only common foe for both teams. Snyder flailed the Lake View Chiefs 48-0 while Littlefield put down the same opponent 49-16.

The charges of Coach Raymond Birchfield have shown improvement of late, having held Lamesa to a 21-7 win last week while Snyder was dropping a 0-48 decision to Sweetwater. Sweetwater beat Lamesa 14-6 the first week of the season.

SNYDER

Offense: Ends — Larry Greene, 155, and Merce Hernandez, 166; tackles — Joe Greer, 162, and Dennis Carlton, 170; guards — Valvin Garcia, 154, and Delbert Hirst, 153; center — Robert Sadler 162; quarterback — Steve Holder, 161; halfback — Randy Levens, 156; fullback — Ricky Glasscock, 172; and, wingback — Willis Harrison, 152.

Defense: Front four — Bill Billberry, 225, Sadler, Rocky Land, 155, and Glasscock; linebackers — Johnny Mata, 150, Tommy McDorman, 143, and Mark Gilstrap, 140; cornerbacks — Hernandez and Holder; and, halfbacks — Harrison and Levens.

LITTLEFIELD

Offense: Ends — Randy Walker, 154, and Steve Webb, 149; tackles — Kirn Kloiber, 196, and Jerry Fudge, 205; guards — Jerell Haberer, 192, and Wendell Ashley 158; center — Roy Bolton, 153; quarterback — Roy Burk, 156, or Charles Holt, 153; fullback — T. J. Morgan, 162; tailback — Kenneth Twitty, 140; wingbark — Eddie Hickman, 160.

Defense: Front Six — Hickman, Dennis Chambers, 157, Dennis Cawthon, 189, Ashley, Kloiber and Fudge; linebackers — David Perkins, 164, and Vernell Kemp, 160; halfbacks — Travis Danford, 143, Charles Holt, 153, and Kenneth Twitty 140.

Both teams are hampered by injuries. Coach Wayne Tyrone, for the second straight week, has had to dip into the junior varsity ranks for additional strength. This time, he's moving up Johnny Mata, 150-pound sophomore, to hold down a linebacking berth while Rocky Land, 155-pound junior squadman, has been promoted to a "front four" position on defense.

Backfield changes find Steve Holder, 162-pound senior, replacing injured junior Lee McNair, at quarterback while Randy Levens has been moved back to a halfback post. Taking over at fullback will be Ricky Glasscock, 172-pound junior, who has seen action on defense heretofore.

Larry Greene, 155-pound junior, who saw reserve duty at split end last week, has been moved into a starting role at that position to replace senior Jerry January, who still has a sore neck.

Included among other regulars who will be missed this week is David McGinnis, 180-pound senior, who was runner-up in district scoring going into the last affray. He is a regular first team fullback and defensive cornerback. Another boy who will be greatly missed is Eddie Ray McClain, defensive standout, who still is nursing a sore ankle.

Some switching around has occurred on defense, and several of the boys will go both ways. Holder will hold down a cornerback post in addition to playing offense. Mata is the only "new face" in the defensive setup since Land previously had seen reserve duty.

While Snyder has its problems, so does Littlefield. The 'Cats may have lost quarterback Roy Burk for the season last week. He's an excellent passer. However, Travis Danford earned a letter last year and could surprise a few people at the important man under position. His main targets will be split end Steve Webb and wingback Eddie Hickman.

The 'Cats favor the sprintout pass, but can hurt an opponent with their fullback slants and tailback power plays from the I formation. T. J. Morgan, the fullback, is experienced and he can count on tailback Kenneth Twitty to help him with the running chores.

Look for a close, hard-fought contest between two teams that are better than their records indicate.

Would you believe Snyder 14, Littlefield 13?

Two Local Teams See Action Today

Two important football games involving Snyder teams are on tap tonight.

Travis 8th grade will be at Lamesa for a 6 p.m. tussle. Travis 9th grade visits Stamford for an affray that begins at 7:30 p.m.

The varsity Tigers swing into action Friday night, meeting Littlefield there in a District 3-AAA clash. A "doubleheader" is slated in Tiger Stadium here Saturday with Lamar 9th grade to battle San Angelo Lee at 5 p.m., followed by a 7:30 p.m. skirmish between the Snyder junior varsity and San Angelo's sophomore team.

On the area scene, Hermleigh hosts Sands and Gail entertains Threeway Friday night while Ira tangles with Hobbs there Saturday night in their annual Six-Man battle.

Elsewhere in District 3-AAA, Sweetwater hosts Colorado City, Lake View is at home against Levelland and Estacado invades Slaton in Friday night affrays. Tonight, Brownfield meets Dunbar in Lubbock.

Murry Is Top Defender At Dartmouth

HANOVER, N. H. — Murry Bowden of Snyder has been selected as the outstanding defensive back for Dartmouth College in its 48-0 win over Brown last Saturday. The Dartmouth coaching staff announced the selection after reviewing films of the game.

Bowden, in his first varsity start, was impressive recording seven tackles in the secondary and intercepting one Brown pass which he returned for 12 yards. Bowden intercepted Bryan Marini's pass on the third Brown play of the second half and returned the ball to the Brown 20. It took the Indians just three plays after this to score their sixth touchdown of the afternoon.

"Murry was impressive out there on Saturday," said Coach Bob Blackman. "He will definitely be our starter at safety this Saturday against Harvard." The Indians will meet Harvard in Cambridge Friday as the Indians hope to hand the Crimson their first loss of the season.

Americans Deciding Now Is Right Time To Own Home

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — After having been frustrated for at least two years by rising prices and high borrowing charges many potential homeowners seem to have made a decision to act now and buy.

This at least is suggested by the recent high number of housing starts, a startling figure of 1.6 million units for September. This was the highest rate since early 1964 and came as a surprise even to some real estate people.

For many months Americans had been delaying home purchases primarily because mortgage rates were rising sharply. But, as they delayed, they saw the prices of homes rise as faster or even faster.

In the past three years, for example, some young couples with their eyes fixed on what they believed was a $20,000 home have found to their dismay that it is now priced at $25,000, or beyond their capacity to finance.

No wonder then that purchase decisions are being made. An inflationary psychology, never long absent from the real estate market, seems now to have won out over caution.

Inflationary psychology develops in this way: Prices rise and the consumer retreats, even lowering his living standard to offset the higher prices. After a couple of years, however, his attitude might change. Gradually he comes to believe that if he doesn't buy now he'll pay even more tomorrow.

Over a long period of time this psychology always makes its impact on the real estate market. As population increases the amount of space per person shrinks. Land cannot be produced to keep pace. And so the demand grows for land and for that which is built upon it.

Adding to the pressure for new homes is the fact that home purchases are not postponable indefinitely. Growing families demand more space. Apartment houses, which in many sections are filled to capacity, fail to serve this need. And so, despite high mortgage lending rates, young families are buying.

Now that the housing market is beginning to show more action, some of the real estate people who were hurt when sales fell off a few years ago are getting some slight gratification from telling the world that it was only a matter of time anyway. The boom was bound to return, they say.

Junior Editors Quiz on FLOWERS

QUESTION: How did flowers get their names?

* * * *

ANSWER: In the old days, the science of botany was in a confused state. In the 1700's, however, the great botanist Linnaeus invented a classification which is still in use, with two Latin names for each plant. Only experts use the full Latin names. The rest of us use common names, many of them derived from the Latin ones. The top flower Barbara is showing us is the geranium. This popular name is also the Latin generic name for the plant. It came from the fact that the carpels, or leaf-like forms around the pistil, are shaped like a crane's bill (lower left) and, in Greek, geranos meant crane. The aster (left) looks like a star, which explains the name, for aster means star in Greek. The kind of aster called zinnia, right, is named because grown by J.G. Zinn, professor of medicine, who lived in the 1700's. In the same way, the fuchsia, below, is named after the botanist Leonhard Fuchs. As a scientific name, we pronounce this fooks-sia, but in popular usage it sounds as if spelled few-sha. Check a large dictionary and you can find out about the origin of other flower names. It's lots of fun.

It Started When Women First Voted

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — It all started innocently enough when they gave us the vote.

Who could have foreseen that, given this mile, women would inch their way into every other province previously exclusively male.

Now we've reached the ultimate in togetherness—the Boy Scouts of American have gone coed. The organization's executive board has voted to admit girls to its Explorer program.

What else could you expect in a country where a gentleman can safely offer a lady a cigar only if he has another left for himself; where nearly 4,000 mailmen are mailwomen, where the gals run million-dollar businesses, drive trucks, build houses, tinker with car engines and work as plumbers—at least on television?

I first became aware of the blurring of the line between women's work and men's work when my son was thrust protestingly into a 7th grade sewing class. Later when my daughter reached that stage in her schooling, she was placed in a metalworking course. The winds of change were blowing.

It wasn't long after this that boys and girls not only exchanged activities, but almost exchanged identities. The female of the species cut her hair severely short and adopted a pair of blue jeans and her brother's pea jacket as a standard outfit. Her brother, on the other hand, became the long-haired member of the family.

The trend soon spread to the adult world, where grown men now walk about with beads and chains round their necks, and their wives show up even at parties wearing pants suits.

It's gotten to be somewhat of an embarrassing social problem. Introduced to an individual named Pat or Sandy, who is attired in slacks and jacket and sporting a hairdo just this side of a crewcut, should you talk about housekeeping or football?

At one time you could depend on the presence or absence of a pocketbook to put you on the right track, but the fashion leaders have the men toting them now.

Aside from the mandatory wearing of him and her buttons, I can suggest one other way to ease the identification muddle—the boys should dress in blue and the girls in pink.

Asks Hogs Killed Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department's hog cholera eradication advisory committee has urged 10 states to kill off infested animals in their states.

The committee said 40 states already are in the "stamping out" phase of the federal-state cooperative program, but that the others need further action—including legislation in some cases—to participate fully.

States listed by the committee as requiring further action are Alabama, Hawaii, Kansas, Maine, Mississippi New Hampshire New Jersey, New Mexico New York and Texas.

There are four phases in the eradication program. The first two are aimed at controlling cholera so it can be reduced to low levels. The final two phases—into which the 10 states have not entered—involve "prompt and complete disposal" of all infected herds.

Owners of such herds would be reimbursed with federal-state indemnity funds provided under the eradication program, the committee said.

City Is Testing New Street Paint

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — A new powder for putting stripes on streets is being tested by the City of Wichita Falls.

City offiials said it will dry instantly and allow cars to cross over the stripe within seconds.

The pavement is heated just before the powder hits it. Upon contact with the hot pavement, the powder turns to liquid and then dries instantly. The cost of the powder is about the same as the paint currently used.

The company making the powder also produces the machines to apply it.

On Oct. 3, 1863, a small, cigar-shape submarine belonging to the Confederacy attacked the Union ship New Ironsides in Charleston Harbor causing considerable damage.

TENDERNESS...every time!

THAT'S FURR'S PROTEN BEEF

Furr's new Proten beef offers you the enjoyment of tenderness in every flavorful cut. The new found tenderness of Furr's Proten Beef is directly related to delicious tropical fruits . . . Nature's original tendering agents. This process is so natural that it assures full beef flavor and nutrition as well as added tenderness.

College Night Set At High School

A College Night program has been scheduled at Snyder High School for Monday, Oct. 28.

Under the sponsorship of the guidance department of Snyder High School, the program will get underway at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium.

Senior and junior students and their parents are invited to attend. Students and parents from area schools have been invited, also.

Thirty - two colleges will be represented. They include Abilene Christian College, Angelo State College, Austin Collge, Baylor University, Cisco Junior College, Connally Technical College, East Texas State University, Hardin-Simmons University, Hendrick School of Nursing, Howard County Junior College Howard Payne College, Lubbock Christian College, McMurry College, North Texas State University, Odessa College, Ranger Junior College, Rice University, South Plains Junior College, Southwest Texas State, Sul Ross State College, Tarleton State College, Texas A&M University, Texas Christian University, Texas Technological College, Texas Woman's University, Trinity University, University of Texas at Austin University of Texas at El Paso, U. S. Air Force Academy, U. S.—Naval Academy, U. S. Military Academy and West Texas State.

The program will begin with a general assembly in the auditorium at 7:30, followed by three 30-minute discussion periods. Each student and parent will have an opportunity to attend three discussion groups to obtain information about three colleges in which they are interested.

Abernathy Airs Views On Wallace

HOUSTON (AP) — The Rev. Ralph Abernathy says American party candidate George Wallace is running for president on a platform "that proclaims law and order but is built on fear and racism and hate."

Abernathy, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and successor to the late Dr Martin Luther King Jr., visited here and in Galveston Wednesday and Wednesday night in a "get out the vote drive."

"The name George C. Wallace already stands in history as a name that mocks American concepts of law, order and justice," Abernathy told 2,500 persons at the 75th session of the Missionary Baptist General Convention of Texas at Galveston.

"I think what he really means by law and order is for the Negro to be jobless and sit complacently by and let the white people practice brutality," he added.

He said the election is crucial because "the next president will have an opportunity to appoint not only a chief justice, but also many key district judges."

Guilty Plea Heard In County Court

Gordon Wayne Procter pleaded guilty in County Court Wednesday to a charge of driving while intoxicated and received a $50 fine plus court costs and a 60-day jail term.

The offense occurred Feb. 18. He was apprehended by Highway Patrolmen.

Welch Tells Of Red Plot

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — The founder of the John Birch Society says that Richard Nixon will win the presidential election and in so doing will fulfill a Communist plot to lead America "down the road to Communism."

Robert Welch said Wednesday night that "Hubert Humphrey has no more chance of being elected President than Mickey Mouse."

Speaking at a literary club meeting at the University of Georgia, Welch said the Communists are using a scheme of "alternating strategy" to confuse Americans and lull them into a sense of false security.

The idea, he explained, is to sandwich in a conservative Republican administration between Democratic presidents.

The leader of the rightist organization also charged that "the hippie movement, the nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice of the Supreme Court and riots in the cities" are all "part and parcel of a long-term Communist conspiracy."

He said Communism and Americanism are engaged in a confrontation which "must eventually be fatal to one system or the other."

About 300 students and faculty members gave Welch a subdued but polite reception.

Bodies Of Crew Found In Wreckage

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The bodies of six crewmen of a downed U.S. Air Force Stratotanker were found in the wreckage on a mountain in Central Formosa by a ground search party today.

The Strategic Air Command KC135 crashed on the side of a 6,000-foot ridge Tuesday night as it was approaching the Cheng Chuan Kang air base for a landing. It was on temporary duty from Westover Air Force Base, Mass.

GRADUATES—J. T. (Corky) Northerns, seaman, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Fox, 3105 Thirty-eighth Place, graduated from Recruit Training Command, Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif., on Oct. 11. He has been assigned to the Naval Ammunition Depot in Honolulu following a leave.

Mortgate Rates Hold After Steady Climb

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mortgage rates stopped climbing in September, the Federal Home Loan Board said today, after a year of almost nonstop increases.

The average conventional mortgage loan on a new home during September was at 7.09 per cent interest, compared with 7.10 per cent in August. Loans on existing homes were unchanged at 7.12 per cent.

St. Edwards Now Holy Cross College

AUSTIN (AP) — St. Edwards University has a new name—Holy Cross College.

Brother Raymond Fleck, president of the school, said Wednesday the board of trustees approved the name change to honor the work of the brothers of the Congregation of Holy Cross, who founded the school in 1885.

Learns Of Brother's Death In Oklahoma

Word was received Wednesday of the death of Mr. Leo Neuerburg, 65, brother of Mrs. Mae Hempfling of Perry, Okla., who is visiting in the home of her daughter Mr. and Mrs. Dillard Pope of 3782 Avenue V in Snyder.

Mr. Neuerburg passed away Wednesday in St. Mary's Hospital in Enid, Okla.

Funeral services will be held Friday in St. Rose of Lima Catholic Church in Perry, Okla.

Lawhon May Teach— But Only For Free

AUSTIN (AP) — Denton County Atty. John Lawhon may legally teach a law course at a state university but he cannot be paid for it, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said Wednesday.

Martin opinion was requested by Lawhon, who said a 1966 civil appeals decision held that no person may hold two civil offices. Also, the Texas Constitution forbids payment for any position of honor, trust or profit to someone who holds civil office.

Martin said the teaching position was not another office but it is a position of honor; trust or profit.

Fires Linked To Strike?

NEW YORK (AP) — Fire department marshals are investigating five recent supermarket fire-bombings to see if they were linked to a California grape pickers' strike.

"The one fact that links all five stores," Chief fire Marshal Vincent M. Canty said today, "is that they all sold California grapes, they all have been picketed, and they all have been asked to join the boycott."

Molotov cocktails were thrown through the windows of three A&P stores in Manhattan, Brooklyn and the Bronx Wednesday morning. Last month another Bronx store owned by the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co Inc., and a Key Food chain supermarket in Manhattan were fire-bombed.

Two employes received burns in one attack. The damage to the stores has generally not been extensive.

Denver Pensioner Becomes Sixth Baronet Of Lurran

By BURL OSBORNE
Associated Press Writer

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Robert Hardinge, an 81-year-old pensioner who lives in one room in a Denver hotel, isn't much impressed by his elevation to the British nobility.

"I don't care about the title. I want to live a little longer," said Hardinge, when informed the death of his uncle in London made him the sixth Baronet of Lurran.

"It doesn't do me any good," said Hardinge, "I don't think there's any money involved." On World War I and Social Security pensions totaling $143 a month, he said, he isn't planning any trip to Great Britain to find out.

A baronet ranks below a baron but above a knight in Britain.

Debrett's, the publication that keeps track of such things, said Hardinge inherited the baronetcy upon the death Sunday of Sir Charles Edmund Hardinge, 89, of London.

The title means that Hardinge now is correctly addressed as Sir Robert Hardinge.

Hardinge said he understood there once was a 320-acre estate, but said the last he heard the stone mansion had fallen down and "the gatehouse is all that's left."

The British Consulate in Denver said estates, when there are estates, usually accompany the title in line of inheritance. But, it was pointed out, there probably would be heavy death duties.

"I might go over some day, if I got the money," said Hardinge, "but I couldn't make the trip on my income."

Hardinge, whose name is pronounced "Harding," said he had little contact with Sir Charles, and never saw him.

Hardinge said he worked as a civilian guard at Lowry Air Force Base here during World War II, for the Colorado Highway Department at Greeley for a time, and in a Denver liquor store during the late 1940s, just before he retired.

He was married twice. Both ended in divorce.

Home for Sir Robert is the Rockland Hotel. His son, Robert Arnold, 54, and next in line, lives in the same hotel.
