WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS, FRIDAY APRIL 2, 1909

NUMBER 279

HOUSE KNOCKS OUT NICKLES' BANK BILL

VOTE ON CURETON MEASURE IS EXPECTED TO TAKE PLACE
THIS AFTERNOON.

GOVERNOR IN NO HURRY

About Appointment of Storey's Successor and Will Attend to Other Matters First.

Texas News Service Special.
Austin, Tex., April 2.—The Cureton bank guaranty bill this morning was relieved of the burden of amending substitutes, when the house killed the Nickles bill by a vote of 83 to 36. The vote on the Cureton bill will likely take place early this afternoon.

The house is discussing the proposed amendment making violations of the bank guaranty law felonies instead of misdemeanors.

The senate occupied the morning in fixing the fees and governing the charges for court stenographers. Fifty amendments were offered.

Wilson and Hume introduced a bill prohibiting fire insurance companies from writing life risks and vice versa.

Game Law Amendment.

Texas News Service Special.

Austin, Tex., April 2.—Because the governor objects to signing a law only partly constitutional, the bill amending the game law and closing the hunting season earlier than at present will become a law without the executive's signature.

The attorney general rules that the earlier closed session clause is unconstitutional.

Is in No Hurry About Appointment.

Texas News Service Special.

Austin, Tex., April 2.—Gov. Campbell said today that since he had offered the railroad commissioner to one man who had declined to accept, he proposes to attend to other matters first, allowing the appointment to wait.

Yesterday the governor received a letter declining the appointment from Horace Chilton of Dallas.

Investigates Railroad Articles of In- corporation.

Texas News Service Special.

Austin, Tex., April 1.—A rigid inspection of the articles of incorporation of the Concho, San Saba and Llano Valley railroad, capitalized at $200,000, to extend to San Antonio, is being made by the attorney general.

The purpose of the investigation is being withheld.

COMMUNICATION ON THE SCHOOL HOUSE PROPOSITION.

Editor Times:—Since you have invited discussion upon the location of the new school buildings in our fast growing city, I take the liberty of presenting the claims of a much neglected district. Immediately south of the manufacturing district, between the Wichita Valley railroad on the west, and the Denver and M. K. and T. railroads on the east, we have approximately one hundred families of working people.

Adjacent to this district, on the opposite sides of these railroads, we have fifty families. All of these people live from one-half mile to a mile and a half from any of the present school buildings.

None of these people believe in race suicide and each family offers from two to three children for the lower grades of school.

A five or six-room building in the center of this district would place at least two hundred children attending the lower grades within one-half mile of school. All of these now have to take their dinners to school and many of them have to remain at home in bad weather.

Those who listened to the great commoner, on yesterday will admit that he would be with us in our appeal.

Just move the old Tenth street school building over to any of our beautiful lots. It is good enough for us if we can't get a new one.

All we have to offer is our taxes, and a "full house" of children, some of whom want to become presidents, mayors, or would even be content to sometime in the future become members of the school board. A. D. TERRILL.

W. C. T. U. LOCAL TO BE ORGANIZED

Another meeting will be held at the parsonage of the M. E. Church South at 8 o'clock this evening to complete the organization of a W. C. T. U. local here. Mrs. M. W. Newton, national lecturer and organizer, who has been in the city several days, will leave tomorrow and it is important that all interested attend the meeting tonight.

WICHITA FALLS MAY GET MILITARY BAND.

Secretary Gehlke, in response to an inquiry received a letter today from Adjutant General Newton, informing him that the Third Regiment of the Texas National Guard was without a military band and that if Wichita Falls would furnish a competent band, the State would furnish uniforms for the organization.

The matter will be taken up at once by the Chamber of Commerce and local musicians.

Congress Discusses the Tariff.

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., April 2.—The house today will be the only branch of ed that the time will be taken up fully with the tariff discussion exclusively.

GOVERNOR VETOES THE MERGER BILL

ACTION WILL PUT STOP TO PLAN FOR IMMEDIATE EXTENSION OF RAILROADS.

BLOW TO WICHITA FALLS

And to Section Through Which the Proposed Extensions Would Pass.

The news received here last night that Governor Campbell had vetoed the bill authorizing the merger of the Wichita Falls and Northwestern, the Wichita Falls Railway and the Wichita Falls and Southern, was heard with general regret, as it will necessitate a delay in the construction of several extensions which had been planned in the immediate future. The three railroads were owned by the same parties and most of the stock is held by local capitalists.

It was believed that the merging of the three roads would result in the saving of thousands of dollars annually and would result in the financing of the extensions to be made under more favorable circumstances. These roads are not competing lines in any sense of the term.

The reasons given by Gov. Campbell for his veto are set forth as follows:

"I herewith transmit for file in the office of the Secretary of State, Senate Bill No. 198 without my approval.
This bill authorizes the Wichita Falls Railway Company to purchase, own and operate as a part of its lines, the railroads of the Wichita Falls and Northwestern Railway Company of Texas, and the Wichita Falls and Southern Railway Company of Texas, or either of them, together with all the franchises, charter rights and property incident or appertaining thereto; in other words, this bill authorizes the consolidation of the three railroads above mentioned, and believing, as I do, that the consolidation of railroads in this State is against a sound public policy, and without discussing the mischief that has already been accomplished by such measures heretofore enacted in violation of the constitution, I simply transmit this bill without my approval.

Read West's Testimony.
Texas News Service Special.
Fort Worth, Tex., April 2.—That Frank McCue, who is being tried here in the district court for the killing of Earl Mabry near Dallas two years ago, told Andy West on the afternoon of the killing that he had "a live one to work on." It is the substance of the recorded testimony of Andy West, as given in the first trial and reported today.

The State scored an important point when Judge Simmons overruled the defense's objection admitting West's story.

The court held that the State showed sufficiently that West is in Louisiana, outside of the court's jurisdiction.

Charged With Passing Bad Money.
Texas News Service Special.
Fort Worth, Tex., April 2.—The local police believe they have discovered the source of many counterfeit five-dollar bills which have been flooding the city, by the arrest today of a man giving the name of D. J. Moore, who claims to be in the employ of the Santa Fe railroad. He is suspected of passing a one-dollar bill raised to $5 at the box office of a local theater. He will be examined this afternoon before the United States commissioner.

Coal Miners Strike.
By Associated Press.
Scranton, Pa., April 2.—The first ing the expiration of the agreement between the mine workers and the op-hundred men are out. The strikers allege that the company made repeated cuts in their wages.

WILL DISBAND TROOPS SUNDAY

CRAZY SNAKE STILL ELUDES CAP-TURE—THERE IS NO DANGER OF BLOODSHED.

MAY OFFER A REWARD

Latter Course Recommended to Governor Haskell By Colonel Hoffman.

Texas News Service Special.
Pierce, Ok., April 2.—Crazy Snake is still at large today. Everything is quiet here and there are no new developments.

Col. Hoffman, in command of the State militia, sent a communication to Governor Haskell, suggesting that a reward be offered for the capture of the missing chief and suggesting the uselessness of further efforts to capture him with soldiers.

Col. Hoffman has announced that he will disband his command Sunday, unless otherwise ordered by the governor.

Chase Becoming Something of a Joke.
Pierce, Ok., April 1.—What a Muskogee newspaper calls "the smoked beef rebellion," alleging the same to be considerable of a joke, is all but over. In a day or two the militia will, it is believed, be withdrawn. McIntosh county will feed between 80 and 100 prisoners, not one of whom resisted arrest, and Chitto Harjo, otherwise Crazy Snake will exercise all due caution about appearing in public. He was not captured today, neither did he respond to a widely distributed invitation to surrender. The picturesque posse quit the hunt, leaving the field to the First Regiment, O. N. G.
Colonel Hoffman sent squads through the river bottoms and previously unexplored gulches in this vicinity, while Major Barrett spreading his men, numbering 100, in extremely open order, advanced like a comb through the Hickory Woods. Crazy Snake, however, was elsewhere.

Meanwhile, Colonel Hoffman had an extended powwow with the fugitive's sister.

The interview took place at Crazy Snake's former house on a swell of the prairie which the Creek leader disdained to cultivate, despite the example of a white neighbor, whose furrows are already turned and harrowed for this season's cotton crop. The Snake place is a one-room shanty with a rickety porch and a big chimney. The ground around it has never been plowed and lean dogs yelp amid the woods.

The Indian leader's sister and the militia chief met on the porch informally, but the former succeeded in convincing her questions, that she knew nothing of the whereabouts of her brother.

"Very well," responded the colonel, "it's up to him. He has twenty-four hours in which to put himself under our protection. He should do it, as the next step undoubtedly will be the offering of a reward for him—dead or alive."

Colonel Hoffman admitted that he did not know whether this ultimatum ever reached its objective point, but he had his suspicions, as somebody is undoubtedly taking food to the old chief along with the news of the day.

It is admitted that the wily red man has eluded his pursuers. He controls his own destinies so long as he chooses to remain hidden. The territory in which he may be hidden is too large for the militia to cover thoroughly, which both pursuer and pursued well know.

Of course the Snake may conclude at the last moment of military occupancy to give himself up, but it is the general belief that the old warrior will do nothing of the kind. It is regarded as more likely that he will wait until public excitement, already much reduced, has subsided completely and then emerge from his hiding place.

gin tomorrow.

CLEAN-UP DAY PROMISES TO BE SPLENDID SUCCESS.

A general compliance on the part of the citizens and business men with the requests for participation in the cleanup on April 6th is reported by the district captains and committees in charge of the Clean-Up Day organization.

Nearly every business house in town will be closed on that day and the people generally will turn out and help in the good work of thoroughly cleaning up the city.

From present indications, clean-up day in Wichita Falls will be the most successful event ever attempted by any city in the State of Texas.

enty-seven miles. Work will be begun proximately two hundred miles.

ARRESTS FOLLOW CHURCH QUARREL

Texas News Service Special.
Tulsa, Ok., April 2.—Charged with disturbing a religious meeting at the First Baptist church, John A. Oilphant, police commissioner, Ed. Eagan, delective, and F. A. Hill and C. A. Mitchell, members of the congregation, were arrested today by warrants in the county court on complaint by Dr. T. J.
Slaughter, the pastor. These warrants are the outgrowth of the personal encounter between the laymen and pastor, when a dissatisfied faction sought to hold a business meeting after the prayer meeting Wednesday night for the purpose of declaring the pulpit vacant. The cases will be tried on May 1st. The men were released under $100 bonds.

HOME INDUSTRY GETS GOOD BOOST

Most of the structural iron for the new buildings now going up in Wichita Falls is being cast right here at home by the Wichita Falls Foundry and Machine Company, and this company's trade is slowly but surely extending over the whole of Northwest Texas and the Panhandle, as well as Southwestern Oklahoma.

That those who are patronizing the home industry are having no occasion to regret their encouragement of local enterprise is evidenced in the following letter:

Wichita Falls, Tex., April 1, 1909.— Wichita Falls Foundry and Machine Co., Wichita Falls, Texas. Gentlemen:
—Please find herein my check on the City National Bank of this city in the sum of $95.33, covering your invoice of the 31st ult. for structural iron manufactured by you to be used in the two-story brick building now being constructed by men in this city.

I understand from your management that material furnished for this work is the first of the kind manufactured by your institution, and I desire to take this opportunity to express my appreciation of the very satisfactory manner in which you have filled my order.

I consider the material furnished for my job equal to, if not superior, to any similar castings which have been used in other buildings recently constructed in this city, the material for which was made by out of town foundries.

Your institution deserves and fully merits the patronage it is receiving, and I heartily bespeak for you continued and uninterrupted success in your enterprise. Very respectfully, G. D. ANDERSON.

TAFT WILL VISIT TEXAS NEXT FALL

Chief Executive Denies That He Has Ranch Interests in State—Property Owned by Brother.

Washington, D. C., April 1.—President Taft told George P. Brown, secretary of the Houston Business League, today that he would stop over in Houston in the coming fall when he intends to make a tour of Texas in connection with his western trip. Mr. Brown called at the White House in company with Senators Culberson and Bailey and Representative Moore to present to the president a verbal invitation from the Houston Business League and carnival in the second week in November.

President Taft's Plans.
President Taft said that he would visit a number of Texas cities, spend some time at the Taft ranch and make a brief stay in Houston. He said he could promise no definite date beyond the statement that it would be some time in the fall and in connection with his western tour.

Not Interested in Ranch.
President Taft talked informally and freely with the Texans and explained that he had no interest in the Taft ranches in Texas, which belong to a brother and other relatives. In this connection he told of a letter which he had received from a clergyman in Dimmitt county, who said that he did not think it was right that a man who owned a ranch in that county and was also president of the United States should permit people to sell liquor in that county. It was in this connection that the president told the Texans that he had no financial interest in the Taft ranches in the State.

The Attempt to Snub Champ Clark.
The St. Louis Republic pays this deserved tribute to the democratic leader in the house: 'Republican babble about Speaker Cannon having Champ Clark's head in chancery, in the lingo of the prize ring, is moonshine, and very pale moonshine at that. Mr. Speaker's refusal to consult the minority leader about minority appointments to house committees in reality makes the minority leader a more formidable figure in the house than he has been since Speaker Reed began the treacherous practice of asking the advice of the democratic nominee for speaker about such appointments. It was all intended to compromise on the speaker's usurpations of the powers of the house, to weaken stern opposition by the offer of favors and to avoid full responsibility for the vicious organization by which the house was gagged. As long as the speaker wields the power of making the committees he should be held to a strict responsibility for the make-up and membership of the committees through which the house transacts its business. He will, in any event, pack them to his pleasure with the majority members. The event is rare in which the minority of them have any higher privilege than to be voted down by the majority, who reflect the speaker's views. It is not the business of the minority leader to relieve the speaker of any portion of his responsibility. When the speaker goes to the extreme of asking the minority leader to name all the minority committee members there is always the danger of an amicable understanding between two bosses to expedite the dictatorship of the more powerful one. Mr. Clark will prove the most powerful minority leader the house has had for many a year if he flatly refuses to share the speaker's responsibilities for the committee. As he himself has said, the democratic minority of the house will become a formidable fighting body than it has been in nearly twenty years when it is relieved of all share in that responsibility. Leaders in congress are not made by appointment or election. They attain leadership by gaining the confidence of their party on the floor through experience, sagacity and fidelity. The 'Iron Duke' of the house plays bad politics, blunders lamentably and strengthens the minority in trying to snub Mr. Clark.'

The Way of the Transgressor is Lard

The wise housewife specifies Cottolene every time in place of lard. Anyone with a particle of respect for his stomach would prefer a pure vegetable product to one made from the fat of a hog.

Cottolene is always pure; lard isn't.

Cottolene will make more palatable food than lard, and food that any stomach can digest with ease. Lard is a friend of indigestion.

You can prove every word we say by buying and trying a pail of Cottolene. All good grocers sell it; all the great cooking authorities of America recommend it.

COTTOLENE is Guaranteed Your grocer is hereby authorized to refund your money in case you are not pleased, after having given Cottolene a fair test.

Never Sold in Bulk Cottolene is packed in pails with an airtight top to keep it clean, fresh and wholesome, and prevent it from catching dust and absorbing disagreeable odors, such as fish, oil, etc.

BOYD & ROBERTSON

Smile a Great Deal and Laugh Often. Pueblo Chieftain.

It's a great big thing to smile and look happy. It is about the biggest part you can play in life, and yet you don't really attach much importance to it when you think about it, now do you? You know that you like to see the smiles and be with them and absorb the sunshine that always seems to be in the atmosphere about them, but you don't realize what a little thing is attracting you. You would call it little if you said to yourself, "She smiles a great deal and laughs often, but that is about all I know about her. She's mankind has in common, to like to be like her you'd find it so easy, just to smile a great deal and laugh often."

Everybody likes to be made to grin and giggle. It is one trait that all of mankind has in common, it like to be tickled and made to emit giggles, even loud guffaws. It is bad enough to have it dark at night time and to have to grope our way about without making the daytime dark with frowns and weeping. There are cities where the people try to turn the nighttime into daytime because they are so busy all that day they don't find time for laughing and smiling, so they turn on the lights after business hours just to catch up with their laughs. It isn't such a bad idea, is it? Smiling during business hours is very, very good, but the smiles that are free from the harsh and forced gaiety that business cares produce is what is really good for the soul. Those who have much to trouble them during the day, light up there evening and laugh and make merry that they may empty their heads and hearts full of business, business, business. If you are busy all day and if your work is not the kind that completely exhausts you in body, you will find rest in a wholesome, infectious laugh at night with good companions, for like good laughs and companions are beneficial and necessary. Laugh much and you will be blessed and loved, and wanted.

The woman who laughs well clears the atmosphere thick with the unpleasant dust of the everyday disagreeable things, like a spring rain freshens the air that is hot and sultry and stifling.

Some of us may find sighs and weeping more in harmony with our feelings, for the way is not always smooth and the thing along the way laughable. If it is true about you, look for the one who finds things to laugh about, even though she must dig or go under the brush after them and cultivate her acquaintance; let her show you how to hunt for laughs and then hunt for them all the rest of your life. They are hidden on your lot just as they are on the lots of other people, and to be contented look at the people laughs are like needles in hay stacks, and then rejoice in the abundance that you make your ground produce. Teach others how to hunt after you learn and the others will bless you for it.

Most of us are afraid to smile. It is the decree of fashion that a real lady should be steeped in quiet dignity upon all occasions, and laughing, especially loud laughing, is as unadmirable as it is rare in good society. It is all very true, good hearty laughter is on the toboggan slide of decline; we don't know where it's going, but it's on the way.

There are certain people who are constantly writing on conventionality who like to go to a Barnum and Bailey circus because it is so big and so crowded and there are so many different kinds of noise all at the same time that they may laugh as loudly as they wish and the fact remain undiscovered.

It isn't that the conventional folks see any harm in good, hearty laughing. It's because it is considered such "beastly bad form, don't you know," to show signs of feeling upon any occasion whatever. The more like an Egyptian mummy you conduct yourself, the more cultured you will be considered and the higher you will be rated by the "raters" of those upon the ladder of social aspirations.

There are two ways to every place, the right way and the wrong way. No matter if the place be the place of sighs, step lightly at least until you get there. The man or the woman who smiles often will usually escape the place of sighs.

Healthful Vinegars are Necessary

The human system needs a certain amount of Vinegar regularly to keep the digestive organs working well, but it ought to be good pure Vinegar. Recognizing this fact, we take no chances in buying Vinegar. We sell which are accepted as the standard of quality by Government and Pure Food Authorities. You will find our Vinegar different from the harsh strong kind usually sold in bulk as Older Vinegar. You use Vinegar as a flavoring to make food better. If Vinegar is not better flavored than the food, it's worse than useless. That's why it doesn't pay to economize a few cents when buying Vinegar—you want something to make things appetizing, and it costs but little enough anyway.

You can depend on the quality of Vinegar or anything else you get from us. We guarantee satisfaction. Try us for "Particular Things."

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Wichita Falls and vicinity —Tonight fair and warmer. Saturday fair.

Governor Campbell, in vetoing the Wichita Falls railway consolidation bill, which passed both branches of the legislature by a practically unanimous majority, has succeeded, possibly, in punishing one or two prominent capitalists of this city, who did not see their way clear to vote for him in the primary election, but in evening up a personal matter with these two gentlemen, he has also struck a blow at the future prosperity of Wichita Falls. He has, or did have, many friends here—a sufficient number to overbalance by a good majority, the opposition, and both this city and county sent delegations instructed for Governor Campbell to the State convention. No possible harm could have come through the consolidation of these small railways, which were promoted and constructed by local capital, and this being the case, Governor Campbell's friends in this county are not feeling very kindly toward him, and think their efforts in his behalf at a time when it looked like he needed friends has been poorly rewarded. In other words, the governor's friends in this city were of the opinion that he was a broad-minded statesman—one who would not stoop to use his office, as it is apparent, purely and simply to punish a political enemy.

"The best of fathers is the pipefish," said an angler. "He hatches the little pipefish, and after they are hatched he carries them about with him till they can take care of themselves."

"This fish has under his tail a sac. In it he bears the pipefish spawn. Thus the spawn hatch in perfect safety. They are not decimated, like the other fish spawn lying unprotected on the bottom of the sea, by every hungry passerby. No; they all hatch, every one of them."

As soon as they hatch the father fish splits, or nature splits for him, the sac, and all the little fish drop out into the sea, but they cling to papa. Wherever he goes, like a gray cloud those thousands of tiny sons and daughters surround him, and on the approach of danger they pop back again into the sac just as baby kangaroos pop into the sac, or marsupial pouch, of their mamma.

"The male pipefish is, in fact, the female kangaroo of the sea."

Wills and Edmund Kean.

Irving used to see with dramatic effect a story about W. G. Wills, the dramatist, who, among other services, wrote for him the play "Charles I." When Wills was a boy ten years old he was taken to see Edmund Kean play Macbeth. In the murder scene he was so affected by the realistic power of the actor that, seized with a severe attack of nausea, he hurried from the box. Ten years later he was lurching at a chop house in Fleet street when a man entered, sat down at a table near him and ordered a meal. He was a perfect stranger to Wills, who, after a few minutes' propinquity, was again seized with a fit of nausea, from which he had not suffered since as a boy he was at the theater on the occasion mentioned. He was obliged to leave the room. When some minutes later he paid his bill the waiter said to him: "Did you see that gentleman at the table near you? That's Edmund Kean."—H. W. Lucy in Cornhill Magazine.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Cynical Comments of a Business Girl. Some "buds" blossom into "wall flowers."

"The small things give us the most trouble." For instance, the collar button.

A girl can't hit a barn door with a brick at five paces, but who can throw kisses so beautifully?

Some of the husbands who call their wives turtle doves get angry when they are handed bills for feathers.

When a man's birthday comes round he takes a day off. A woman on her, will frequently take off several years.

A married man thinks if he concedes to smooth his top hair and carry a cane he is sufficiently dressy to go out anywhere with his wife.

A man seldom discovers that he hasn't married his affinity until his wife begins to get crow's feet around the eyes.

Japanese Parasol Fad for Summer.

The newest idea of parasols is from the land of the chrysanthemum, and it differs so decidedly from the conventional shape that it will be an impossible task to try to use last summer's models.

The fashionable parasol of today is 13 instead of 8-ribbed framework, so that while the same fabrics for covering are used, the shape is entirely changed—in fact, almost flat—hence the suggestion of the "cherry bloom."

Clo Clo San is the name of one of these dainty accessories, and, as may be expected, is quite flat. The framework is gilded and the mounting of flowered silk, worked in with chiffon, following the color of the silk.

Tidy Closets are Their Own Reward.

What a satisfaction there is to the model housewife in having all the various closets about the house thoroughly looked after and put in order before the time comes for the spring overhauling of rooms and how simple a matter it is to "do" one now and then and get it out of the way without any perceptible extra effort.

Probably housecleaning has to be done, and, of course, when one is changing the heavier hangings and furniture about for the lighter ones for summer use, it is natural then to completely overturn things generally, but a most excellent way is to clean a little extra now and then, and so not to have any of it get so noticeably dirty.

Tips for Those Who Would Be Stylish.

With the tailored suits more silk belting of every color is being worn.

A novelty of the spring openings is repped mohair, called Ottoman royal.

The one-button glove is the thing, and made of natural colored chamolite skin.

The lavender sweet pea is very new, and is seen only on the most expensive hats.

Gold slippers, which are unmistakably popular, come in gold cloth and gold leather.

Dutch collars of Irish crochet are among the most attractive of the neck fixings.

Digging For Money.

The honest workman was engaged in excavating operations—i. e., he was digging. The stray wayfarer of the inquisitive turn of mind stopped for a moment to look on.

"My man," said the S. W. at length, "what are you digging for?"

The H. W. looked up.

"Money," he replied.

"Money?" ejaculated the amazed S. W. "And when do you expect to strike it?"

"Saturday," replied the H. W. and resumed operations.

Wasted Effort.

Kind Old Lady (talking to a tramp)—Have you ever made an effort to get work?

Tramp—Yes, ma'am. Last month I got work for two members of my family, but neither of them would take it.—London Telegraph.

His Periodical. "Do you take any periodicals?" asked the new clergyman on his first round of parish visits.

"Well, I don't," replied the woman, "but my husband takes 'em frequent. I do wish you'd try to get him to sign the pledge!"

We do not know how cheap the seeds of happiness are or we should scatter them oftener.—Lowell.

A Busy Holiday.
"New, I don't think Timmy'll be stayin' long on this new job he's took up wid," said Mrs. Herilby. "Tis too hard for him. Sure, he gets no rest at all from Monda's mornin' till fathur-da' night, and 'tis not what the man's used to."

"He has his Sundays to rest in," hazarded the caller boldly.

"An' what o' that?" said Mrs. Herilby. "On Sunda's he has to go to church an' take the children to their grandmama's an' visit wid his cousins an' all—'tis no rest at all."

"Twas wan day out of ivery fortnit he had wid the ould job, wa'n't it?" queried the caller.

"It was," said Mrs. Herilby, "an' 'twas a grand vacation he had. I'd save ivery bit o' the washin', and he'd wring it out fine an' hang it on the line for me; thin he'd saw an' s'pilt wood enough to last till the next vacation day, an' he'd bate ivery mat in the house an' shine up the faucets an' the b'iler an' wash the windys, an' there'd always be some little extrah help, drivin' nails or the like, he cud give me."

"An' whin he'd go to his bed at night he'd niver fall to say to me, 'Well, Ceils, my vacation day is over, but I feel like it's made me ready to go back to wurk tommorrer,' he'd say."

STYLISH SPRING SUITS WORSTEDS AND LINENS

The new shades of light weight worsteds in Spring suits are extremely delicate and very pleasing to even the most critical.

They are especially well suited to the prevailing styles of tailoring and makes it possible for even the lighter and darker complexions and slight and plump figures to secure not only a highly attractive and becoming shade but also a design that is most becoming.

The linens will be fully as popular too and the new weaves are going to induce many women who have never used linens before to use them this Spring and Summer.

We want you to call and see our Spring suit display for we have by all odds the largest most complete and—better than that—the most attractive line of suits at moderate prices while we also have the more expensive weaves also.

Better call soon for the extremely attractive display is producing rapid sales even now, and before long the selection will be broken.

AMUSEMENTS

Photographic reproduction of the Burns-Johnson Championship contest which occurred at Sydney, Australia, December 30th, under the personal direction of Hugh McIntosh, will be seen at the Wichita Theater Wednesday, April 7th.

Writing in "Sporting Life," Jimmy Britt, the American lightweight champion, commenting on the exhibition given at the National Sporting Club of the Burns-Johnson pictures by Mr. Mc-Intosh, says the pictures are superior to that of the match between himself and Nelson, which he says was previously regarded as the acme of excellence in fight films. The value of an animated picture record of events of this description is evidenced in Britt's opinion, expressed after seeing the pictures, that Burns, though beaten, was by no means out-classed as has been stated. In a short space of time the American public itself will be enabled to correct the impressions drawn from the cabled account by an inspection of the picture. The most exhilarating feature of the pictures is their attesta-tion to Burns' dead gameness in the face of overwhelming physical odds.
The pictures as clearly show the great contrast between Burns and Johnson as they prove the truth of the old sage, "A good big man can always beat a good little man." What is most important in Britt's criticism of the pictures is his expressed opinion that Johnson's showing, illustrated therein, the big black champion stood but small show against Jim Jeffries should the retired champion decide to re-enter the ring and fight Johnson for the title.

The Street Masher.
The city of Des Moines is having a rather bad time with that particular despicable creature, the street masher. Everything else having failed to meet the exigencies of the case, the chief of police has determined to have a decoy for the agreeably inclined male persons. An attractive young woman will be put on parade and will use whatever feminine wiles may be at her command to attract the mashers, and having done so will promptly hand them over to the police.

The position of the chief of police of Des Moines is not altogether logical. He would, instead of aiding in the suppression of an infraction of the law, be issuing invitations to greater infractions. The woods are full of men who would not take the initiative in a street mashing affair, but who would, nevertheless, "jolly along" a good looking young woman who had deliberately attracted their attention. They would do so in many cases carelessly and without any idea than that of the passing moment. Arrest, by the scheme determined upon in Des Moines, would land all such into the hands of the police officers. Yet these are not the kind of men who are the actual nuisances on the streets of every city.

The kind of a fellow the Des Moines police are after and the kind police everywhere should be after, is the kind who needs no friendly encouragement. He is the sort who regards it as an opportunity to address her the very fact of any young woman being unattended on the streets after 6 o'clock. The demeanor with which the woman conducts herself and her very evident desire to escape notice have no effect on this particular type of animal. If he notices at all that the woman has failed to see him until he has almost run into her on the street, or even gone so far as to speak to her, in his corrupt conception of things he regards it as a pose which is no barrier to his effrontery.

Women themselves could speedily put an end to the street masher had they the courage to do so, but the disagreeable notoriety which must necessarily attach to having a presumptuous scoundrel arrested makes the practice of street mashing comparatively free from danger of arrest and punishment.

New Tariff Taxes.

Washington, D. C., April 2.—New tariff taxes on the heads of American families imposed by the Payne tariff bill will take $171,900,000 a year more out of the bank accounts than did the Dingley tariff law.

Increases in tariffs on food stuffs and necessities follow:

Coffee, $50,000,000; tea, $5,000,000; spices, $14,000,000; cocoa, $4,000,000; pineapple, $93,000; lemons, $347,000. Increased duties on cotton stockings and other cotton goods, $2,092,000; increased duties on women's and girls' gloves, $1,351,000.

These sums, in round numbers, are divided among an estimated 18,000,000 families of five persons each. The increases in stockings and gloves will not fall on the poorer of these families, but the other costs will be divided.

Figured as closely as possible, the average family will pay hereafter $7.30 more for coffee, $1.14 more for tea, 14 cents more for cocoa, 2½ cents more for lemons and pineapples, 75 cents more for spices, 12 cents more for stockings and 7½ cents more for gloves.

The average American family will pay 4 cents a hundred less under the Payne bill than it did under the Dingley law, or about 9.38 a year for sugar.

Must Quit Selling "Teetotal."
On Monday morning County Attorney Morrison notified Mont Hart to immediately cease selling the drink called "teetotal." In other words it is unlawful to be a "teetotaler" in Archer City unless you pay a $2,000 tax. Of course this means the man that sells the drink by that name. Mont has several barrels of the stuff in stock, which he will either have to ship back or consume himself.—Archer City Dispatch.
