VOLUME XXXVIII | Wellington, Collingsworth County, Texas, Thursday, October 24, 1946 | NUMBER 16

STRONG FLORAL COMPANY AND THE J. M. STRONG HOME

Among the new homes and business houses of Wellington are the Strong Floral Company, pictured at right, and the new home of its owners, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Strong. One of the city's oldest houses was demolished recently to make way for the new floral company building, constructed of concrete blocks and painted white. The display room, of rock and glass, was built several years ago. The Strong home has eight rooms and is of wood and asbestos shingle construction. —Photo Courtesy Cooper Studio

Boy Scouts Present Bob Clark in Magic Show Here Tuesday Night

A show of magic and illusion, which adds an occasional chill, is on schedule for Wellington's Hallowe'en season in the presentation of Magician Bob Clark Tuesday, October 29, under the sponsorship of the Boy Scouts and the Rotary Club. Tickets are now on sale by those two organizations.

Mr. Clark, who is by profession manager of the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce, will bring with him three assistants, two young women and a young man.

The show will be held at the high school auditorium, beginning at 8:00 p.m., and will continue for approximately one and one-half hours.

Spookery, appropriate for the season, will take up 30 minutes of the program. During this time, Mr. Clark will present a talking skull, bats that appear from nowhere, and a wandering skeleton. The remainder of the program will be the more traditional acts of magic and illusion.

These will include the Hindu sands, the lighted cigarets, a floating lady, the rising cards, the bunny rabbit, multiplying rice, the appearing of spirit faces, and many other magical effects.

Regarded as one of the best amateur magicians in the southwest, Mr. Clark is regarded as more skilled than many profession-

City Procures 400 Seats for New Auditorium

The city of Wellington has secured 400 seats for the auditorium of the community building, and an effort to obtain an additional 400 is now being made.

Bura Handley, city manager, received notice Tuesday, October 22, that the sale has been approved by the War Assets Administration. The chairs are located at San Angelo, site of Goodfellow Field.

"We have been waiting six years to put seats in our municipal auditorium, and while the work is still slow, we are just now beginning to realize our aim," Mr. Handley said. "The building can now be used for the purpose for which it was built."

The seats secured are of wooden construction and of the folding type. They will be set up in batteries of six to a row so that they may be moved about the auditorium easily, or cleared out entirely if the floor space is needed.

Of the additional 400 the city is trying to secure, part are of steel construction and part of wood.

A city truck left Tuesday afternoon for San Angelo to bring in the order from that point.

Even though the second 400 is secured, the auditorium will be only partially filled. Altogether, it will hold approximately 1200 seats.

When the smaller assembly room is opened into it, an additional 800 seats can be placed, giving a total seating capacity of approximately 2,000. This is one of the largest and most convenient auditoriums in the entire Panhandle, regardless of the size of the town.

Nazarene Group Attends Assembly

A group of Wellington people left Monday for Lubbock, where they will represent the local Church of the Nazarene at the annual district assembly.

These included Rev. and Mrs. Austin Moore, Mrs. Ellen Goswick, Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Emmert, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Yarbrough, Mrs. Ella Moore, Miss Dona Bishop, Mrs. Dorothy Byers, Mrs. W. S. James and Mrs. Mary Gibbs.

They plan to return home Friday.

Grave of Lt. Glenn Davis Located at Lambach, Austria

Through information received recently, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Davis of the Lone Mound community have learned that their son, Lt. Glenn Davis, who was killed while flying a mission over Austria February 23, 1944, is buried in a German cemetery at Lambach, near Wels, Austria.

The War Department, which sent this word to Mr. and Mrs. Davis, received its information from German records translated into English.

Lt. Davis went overseas at Christmas, 1943, and was stationed at Manduria Base, near Foggia, Italy. The mission on which his plane, the "Lesky Tub," went down was one to Styer, Austria. He was reported missing as of February 23, 1944.

The German report, dated February 28, stated that the plane, a Liberator, was shot down at 12:10 on that day by a German fighter, and listed the place of the crash as Bergham, Community Wimsbach, near Lambach.

The report added that the plane was burned out in the crash and the wreckage was 100 per cent.

Lt. Davis was buried February 25, at Lambach.

First listed as missing, Lt. Davis was later declared by the War Department as presumed to be dead. A short time ago Mr. Davis' brother-in-law, Frank Stockton of Oklahoma City, was in Washington, and Mr. Davis requested the War Department to give him any information that he might desire from Glenn Davis' file. It was after this request that Mr. and Mrs. Davis received the information as to their son's place of burial.

Mrs. J.B. Baumgardner On Visit Through Eastern States

Mrs. J. B. Baumgardner left Tuesday, October 15, for a trip of several weeks in the eastern states, most of which will be spent with her son and daughter-in-law, Capt. and Mrs. Haynes Baumgardner of Carlisle Barracks, Harrisburg, Penna.

Mrs. Baumgardner joined her niece and nephew, Congressman-elect and Mrs. Wingate Lucas of Grapevine, who were en route to Washington. They visited with Mr. Baumgardner's sister, Mrs. E. G. Nolan in Hopkinsville, Ky., and with other relatives at Wythville, Va. Mrs. Baumgardner is remaining this week in Washington with Mrs. Lucas' parents, after which she will go to Pennsylvania.

Capt. Baumgardner will receive a furlough in early November and the three of them will return here then. After the former reports back to duty November 18, he will be assigned to service with the Army of Occupation in Germany.

Lester Campbell Buys McLean News

Lester H. Campbell, formerly of Wellington, who resigned as editor of The Memphis Democrat two weeks ago, announced purchase of The McLean News this week. He and Mrs. Campbell have moved to McLean where he will take over editorship and management of the newspaper on November 1. Mrs. Campbell will assist him.

Campbell, a graduate of Wellington high school, is a partner of Albert Cooper and Arval Montgomery of Shamrock in the McLean publication, of which Cooper will be publisher. Cooper and Montgomery publish The Shamrock Texan and are associated in the ownership of The Wheeler Times.

Campbell and his associates purchased The McLean News from T. A. Landers, who has been owner and publisher for 25 years. Mr. Landers is retiring from newspaper work and will shortly move to a farm in Wheeler County which has been his hobby for several years.

The former Wellington man began work on The Memphis Democrat in June, 1939, following his graduation from the University of Texas, and worked at Memphis until February, 1942, with the exception of two months in the summer of 1941 when he was with The Galveston News. He entered the U. S. Navy as storekeeper, third class, in 1942, and was discharged as a Lieutenant (jg) in November, 1945. Campbell served in the Pacific at Iwo Jima, Okinawa, Philippines and China, returning to the Memphis newspaper following his discharge.

Air Mail Week Points to Postal Service Advantage

National Air Mail Week has been designated as October 27 through November 2, and the Wellington office has pledged its support in making this a success, R. F. Curry, postmaster, has announced.

Nation-wide in scope, Air Mail Week is sponsored by the Post Office Department and has as its purpose the increase in usage of air mail by the people of the country. It is hoped through an increase in volume to make up the loss incurred when the postage rate for air mail was cut recently from 8c to 5c, the postmaster explained.

In addition to the cut in the domestic rate, effective November 1, the overseas air mail rate will be cut from 50 to 60 per cent.

"We'd like from a standpoint of local pride to get as great a volume of air mail as possible. For one thing, is speeds up delivery of letters to distant points throughout the country, and in addition, an increased volume of air mail here would give leverage to a request for federal aid in building a local air port," Mr. Curry declared.

In pointing out the speed of air mail over the regular mails, he continued:

"Letters that are mailed in Wellington at 5:30 one evening will arrive in Los Angeles at 5.20 the next morning if they go by air, but if they go by regular mail it will be 10:00 a. m. on the third day before they arrive. The time to other points shows a similar cut. Letters to San Francisco will arrive at 7:20 a. m. the following day by air, but not until the third night by regular mail; they will reach Chicago at 12:30 p. m. on the day after mailing here, but not until the third day by regular mail. Air mail to New York arrives at 5:25 the following day, while regular mail is received on the fourth day.

"To points closer home there is

Rockets Meet McLean on Local Field Friday Night

The Wellington Skyrockets will return to their home field Friday night to take on the invading McLean Tigers, and while the Rockets are well ahead of their opponents in the conference play, they are looking to a win so they can keep their record of one of the two teams in District 3-A which has neither lost nor tied a conference game this season. The other team is Shamrock.

Not much is known of the Tigers here, but it is conceded that they will play a good brand of football and will give fans a game worth the money.

Last week, they battled the Clarendon Bronchos to a 6-6 tie, each team scoring in the last half. However, Clarendon had six penetrations and seven first downs to McLean's no penetrations and five first downs.

In other district games played Friday, Shamrock edged out Lefors 12 to 7 at Shamrock. In this game, however, the Pirates were without Tommy Jinks, brilliant left guard, who is suffering from a broken leg. One of the thrills provided in this game was a 90 yard run by Lefors' Stacner; however, the ball was killed on the 10 yard line because of a holding penalty.

The Wheeler Mustangs took a 12 to 7 victory over the Memphis Cyclones in a game which proved to be an upset.

The conference standing for District 3-A is:

Team—	Won	Lost	Tied
Wellington	3	0	0
Lefors	1	1	1
Wheeler	2	3	0
McLean	2	1	1
Clarendon	1	1	1
Memphis	1	3	0
Lakeview	0	3	0

Lamesa Accident Witnesses Sought

Wheeler Ford of Ralls was in Wellington Friday, October 18, seeking information that might lead to the location of three women who assisted him and his wife at the time of an automobile accident more than a year ago.

Mr. Ford said that the accident occurred Sunday night, Sept. 30, 1945, about 9.00 p. m., 12 miles north of Lamesa. Three women driving just behind him stopped and took the couple to the hospital at Lamesa, where Mrs. Ford died later that night.

As he was very excited, Mr. Ford said he failed to get the names of the three ladies and their addresses, but as he recalls, they were

Farm Bureau Meeting Planned to Hear State Radio Broadcast

A Farm Bureau Roundup will be held in the Commissioners Court Room Thursday evening, October 24, at 7:30, for the purpose of hearing the radio address of Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, Jake Tarter, president of the county unit, has announced.

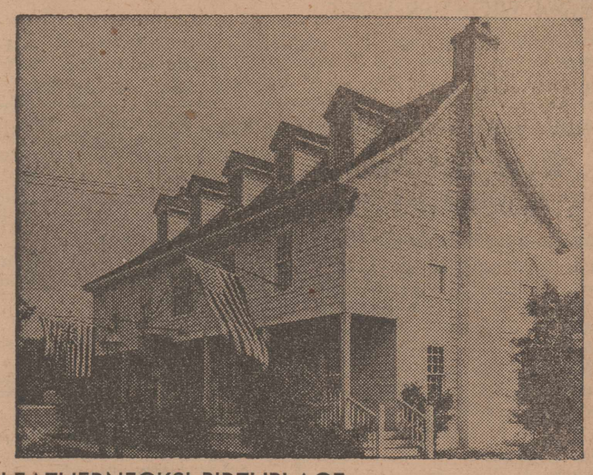

All farmers and others interested in this address who do not have a radio are cordially invited to come to the local roundup.

Name Labels Are Required of Star-Telegram Subs

Subscribers to The Fort Worth Star-Telegram must again enclose the pink name label from their paper along with their renewal subscription, The Wellington Leader was notified this week.

The Star-Telegram earlier in the season felt that it might be able to relax its subscription policy and accept new subscriptions along with renewals. The great number of persons wishing to become new subscribers forced that paper to go back to its wartime policy of taking no new readers, at least until the current shortage of newsprint is cleared up.

County USO Campaign Reaches Half Way Mark; $463 Collected

LEATHERNECKS' BIRTHPLACE

Constructed exactly as the original, the above replica of Tun Tavern, birthplace of the United States Marine Corps, was part of the Sesqui-Centennial exhibit at Philadelphia in 1926.

Collection Work Due to End on November First

A little more than half of the county's $800 USO quota has been raised, B. W. Beaird, county chairman, said Tuesday evening.

A total of $463.62 has been turned in to date.

In addition to the seven rural communities that had reported last week, half of the business district has reported, and the Pleasant Point community has turned in its quota.

Work in the business section of Wellington will be completed within a few days, as will that at Dodson, Samnorwood and the various rural communities.

The drive will close November 1.

"We urge the people of the county to give generously to this, the last drive that will be made for the USO. In continuing our work in its behalf, we will enable that organization to continue its work among the men who are still in the armed forces, both at home and overseas," Mr. Beaird said.

"USO and its six member agencies will continue through 1947 to serve a million and a half men in service here and overseas. It will also aid about 100,000 hospitalized veterans and assist the families of many service men," Mr. Bearid declared.

"The morale problem in the armed forces has been intensified now that GI's have less action, less training, or are less mature. In many overseas places the only type of recreation available is that offered by a USO club, where those in the "kid brother" army, most of them away from home for the first time in their young lives, are anxious for companionship, entertainment, relaxation, food, soft drinks, movies, athletic games—everything that the USO can furnish."

Sunday Is Final Day in Go to Church Campaign

One Sunday remains in the Kiwanis Club's all-out Go To Church drive, which is being conducted by that organization during the month of October.

In spite of heavy rains the first Sunday which cut attendance, pastors and Kiwanis Club members alike feel that much good has resulted from the drive. During the remainder of this week, work will be concentrated in getting a full attendance of both members and non-members to attend the services Sunday, October 27.

"The churches of Wellington are grateful to the Kiwanis Club for their efforts to increase church membership and to make the people of our city think more deeply of religion and its part in our life," declared Rev. Austin Moore, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene.

Posters and circulars are being distributed by the club this week and an appeal will be made at the Kiwanis Club and to residents individually to attend the church of their choice on Sunday, and on the Sundays that follow.

Changes Made On Leader Staff

Several changes have been made on the staff of The Wellington Leader during recent weeks.

Miss Mary Kathryn Stephens of Quail has begun work in the editorial department of The Leader. She fills the place that was left vacant when Miss Amy Sue Way entered Texas Technological College in September.

J. K. Porter, who has been employed in the mechanical department, resigned recently to join the staff of The Texas Spur at Spur. Mr. Porter first began work on The Leader as an apprentice while he was still in high school, about 10 years ago. He continued to work here until he enlisted in the Army Air Forces, in which he served four years, more than three of which were in England. He returned to The Leader when he was discharged from service a year ago. Mr. Porter will live in Girard with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Porter, and drive to and from his work.

Billie Earl Wallace, also a former Leader employee, returned last week. He, too, began work as an apprentice when a high school student. He left The Leader to attend Texas Tech and later was employed on The Memphis Democrat and served a year in the Navy.

Condition of Soldier Ill in Brooks General Hospital Is Improved

Cpl. Robert D. Kesler, who has been in Brooks General Hospital, San Antonio, since June, has improved considerably during recent weeks, his mother reported Tuesday.

Cpl. Kesler, the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Kesler of Wellington, became ill while serving overseas. He later contracted diphtheria, which in turn affected the muscles of his body, causing a form of paralysis.

His parents this week received the first letter that he himself had been able to write since he became ill. He stated that he is now able to walk about a little.

Niles Funeral Held at Quail

Alton A. Niles, who has resided in Wellington for a short time, died Thursday, October 17, in the Childress Hospital. He was 67 years of age.

Mr. Niles had lived at Childress for many years before moving here. He was a veteran of World War I.

Funeral services were conducted at the Kelso Funeral Chapel Saturday afternoon with Rev. Howard Jones, pastor of the First Baptist Church, in charge. Pall bearers were six members of the Childress American Legion. Hymns included "Ivory Palaces" and "Nearer My God to Thee," sung by Miss Tommie Ann Campbell and Miss Helen Jo Holder, accompanied by Mrs. Jack Brisbin.

Interment was in the Quail cemetery with the Kelso Funeral Home in charge.

Surviving Mr. Niles are his widow, of Wellington, one brother and one sister, Tom Niles and Mrs. Maude Williams of Wichita Fals.

City Requires Cattle Testing

All persons within the city who sell milk are reminded by city manager Bura Handley of an ordnance requiring all herds to be tested for T. B. and Bangs disease at least once a year. In addition, a certificate showing that this has been done must be filed with the city secretary.

The tests must be made by a licensed veterinarian, and since there is no vet here, local milk producers may either secure one from Shamrock or Childress, or leave their name at the city hall and one will be secured for them.

Enforcement of this ordnance is particularly necessary in view of the fact that several cases of undulant fever, contracted by using milk from diseased cows, have been reported here.

Frank O'Brien Is Barbecue Speaker

Martin Crews, Childress banker and cattleman, entertained friends from this area at a barbecue Saturday afternoon, October 19, at his lodge north of Childress.

A special guest and speaker for the occasion was Frank T. O'Brien of Amarillo, Republican candidate for Congress from the 18th district.

Mr. O'Brien pointed out that he was discharged from the Navy about a year ago and expected to return to an America working together—the type of America that had won a great conflict.

"Instead, after one year, we still have confusion, despair and disgust. The only way it can be changed is to elect a Republican Congress," he said.

Mr. O'Brien is 42 years of age, married and has two children. He attended the University of Michigan and Northwestern University and is a member of the bars of Texas and Illinois and the United States Supreme Court. He has been in active general law practice for 15 years.

He had 35 months active duty in the Navy, under the Atlantic Fleet Air Force, and in the Asiatic-Pacific Theatre from April to Fine Flowers Seen In Annual Show Sat.

High winds during the week preceding the second annual County Flower Show failed to lower the quality of entries, although it cut down somewhat the number displayed. Saturday's event brought out a wide variety of flowers, including several new species of dahlia seen here for the first season.

Dahlias, which are coming to be recognized as the town's outstanding fall flower, held the show's spotlight, however outstanding species of late roses and early chrysantemums were also entered. Gay-colored annuals, including a number of marigolds, zennias and cosmos were shown, in addition to wild flowers and pot plants.

Original and clever flower arrangements vied with the traditional arrangements in those sections. One of the outstanding arrangements was one by Mrs. Walter Starr of Quail, in which the leaves, blooms and open bolls of cotton were used effectively.

Winners were announced during the afternoon musical program, and an orchid was presented Mrs. Pat Swift for showing the greatest number of first place exhibits. Musical numbers included a duet by Miss Tommie Ann Campbell and Miss Helen Jo Holder; a selection by the brass section of the school orchestra; a reading, "Tribute to the Flowers," by Miss Campbell, and a selection by the high school sextette. Mrs. Tom Campbell directed the program, while awards were announced by Deskins Wells.

Winners in the various divisions included:

Single flowers: Dahlias: first, Mrs. Pat Swift; second, Deskins Wells; third, Mrs. W. E. Hall.

'Badman Territory' Is Epic of West

Telling a gripping story of the days when the Oklahoma Panhandle was a true No-man's Land and a haven for most of the West's outlaws, "Badman's Territory" stars Randolph Scott, Ann Richards and George "Gabby Hayes". The picture opens at the Ritz Theatre for the prevue Saturday night and continues through Sunday and Monday.

Scott, as a Texas sheriff, lays aside his badge to go into the region in search of his reckless younger brother. Miss Richards is cast as an impetuous newspaper woman striving to persuade the inhabitants to join with the rest of Oklahoma in petitioning Congress for full territorial status, and eventual Statehood.

Not only do the outlaws and their hangers-on prefer to keep the area free from Federal supervision, but the prosperous cattlemen also enjoy their freedom from regulation and taxes. This brings about a dramatic conflict between the opposing forces, against which is painted the vivid activities of the James Boys, the Daltons and other famous bandits of the era, and the stormy love affair between the sheriff and the heroine.

An exciting horse-race, a train robbery and the thrill-laden recreation of the Dalton's memorable Coffeyville raid also lend color and authenticity to the film.

FROM FRONTIER WEST

Romantic music from the good old days is heard in this scene from "Badman's Territory," starring Randolph Scott and Ann Richards. The show starts Sunday at the Ritz.

JUVENILE CRIME

We quote from a recent speech by J. Edgar Hoover:

"The widespread increase in crime noted last year continued into 1946 with a 13 per cent rise recorded during the first six-month period in urban areas.

"A 19.6 per cent increase in crime was registered in the rural areas during the first half of 1946.

"For males and females combined, the figures for the groups in which the largest number of arrests occurred during 1945 are:

"Age 17—25,656; age 18—24,360; age 21—21,446; age 22—21,044; age 19—20,769.

"I am not blaming the youngsters. I am trying to put the blame where it belongs, on my own generation, which has failed in its responsibilities to its children—This lawlessness had its roots in every instance in broken homes, in homes where mothers and fathers had failed in their primary obligation. More often than not, God was unknown, or was unwelcome in their homes. The impact of a philosophy of materialism has far too often converted schools from institutions of learning to factories for the dissemination of information. One of the principal reasons has been the ineffectiveness of religious and moral influences."

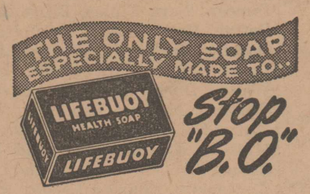

"Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it." Prov. 22:6. Remove not the ancient landmark, which thy fathers have set." Prov. 22:28.

Tuesday night, October 29, Bob Clark will put on his magician's show at the high school auditorium. It is for the benefit of the Boy Scouts. Buy a ticket whether you think you can go or not; but if you don't go you will miss a very excellent show. Bob Clark is much better than many of the so-called professionals who have been here in the past, and some of them were pretty good.

In an effort to beautify all Texas highways, the Highway Department has asked each county in Texas to designate some flowering shrub as its county plant. The ladies have about decided on crepe myrtle as the Collingsworth County shrub. These will be planted along the highways and used to cover unsightly places where the highway passes through towns and cities. Crepe myrtle is a good selection. It blooms from June until fall and does wel here, and it comes in red, pink, lilac and white colors to offer an attractive variety. Mrs. J. M. Strong who is chairman of the committee that will make the final selection says nothing definite has been done to date; but the ladies lean to this lovely plant.

Congratulations to Mrs. Tom Campbell for the music program she arranged for the flower show. If anything it was more beautiful than the lovely flowers. Next year there will be more advance notice on the show.

I notice that Frank Knoll's community was again among the first to raise their U. S. O. quota. Something should be said, even at this late date, about the effective and patriotic manner in which Frank Knoll served on all drive committees during the war years. Whether it was the Red Cross, or what not, all the county chairman had to do was to turn Nicholson over to Frank Knoll and he knew that part of the drive was done. Such work is worthy of high praise.

Farmers are somewhat irritated at the rapid decline in the price of cotton. Actually this is not as strange as it might seem, for the stock market has been going down since last May and it really took a nosedive in August. There was a bull market from 1942 until last May and now it is known that a bear market exists.

But there is a very drastic shortage of cotton fibre and cottonseed oil products. If you are not satisfied with the present price of cotton, why not put your cotton in the government loan and forget about it for the time being. The price of cotton will go up later on but don't ask me how much or when. If I knew that I would put my money into either the cotton market or the stock market.

Hearing of men paying $200 an acre for sub-irrigated land in Collingsworth reminds me of something. I have a rich, deep black land farm on the plains that can be irrigated. There are irrigation wells nearby. It is an excellent prospect for some farmer if he also has the money to put down the well. I will sell the farm for $55 an acre if I do not have to trade through a real estate agent.

Lewis Cotton came by the other night to show me three fish he had caught at Bridgeport Lake 5 miles from Chico. One channel cat weighed 17 pounds, another weighed 12 and a drum weighed 16, making 45 pounds of fish.

Here is more news about solving the meat problem. Clark Anderson went deer hunting in Colorado with Dr. C. E. High and other friends. Clark was the only one of the group who bagged a deer.

Ernest Nipper of Dodson was seen driving the finest new Packard around the streets of Wellington this week. Did he go to the harvest or is he raising alfalfa?

They tell me that Goat Hopper has been ill recently. He is reported to have been seen in consultation with Dr. Manzer right after the world series and again in consultation with Dr. Wiley right after the Odessa-Amarillo football game. Any Wellington man ought to have known better than to bet against Joe Coleman. Joe first brought winning football to Wellington, and now Odessa and Austin are considered the two teams most likely to meet in the state finals.

Am I downhearted about the Phillips game—not a bit. I am very proud of the Rocket showing. Every man who stepped on that field deserves a pat on the back. Both Shamrock and Lefors stand in our way; but if we could get to the regional, Phillips will have to come to Wellington and most football coaches consider that worth 7 points when long distances have to be traveled. Lefors may be tougher than Shamrock. I hear that the Irish were very lucky to beat them out.

Attention, Ladies: I have just bought a bargain in Tulips and Crocus bulbs. If I get them I will share about half of them with you. The crocuses will be 5c a bulb in lots of 100 and 6c a bulb in lots of 50. The tulips will be 10c a bulb in lots of 100 and 12 cents a bulb in lots of 50. Last year I paid over 15c a bulb for tulips. I am also trying to get some daffodils at a bargain, but more about this later if it turns out.

The volume of air mail going out of Wellington is increasing all the time. If it becomes sufficient, the city may be able to secure air mail pick-up service, which will bring other points even closer to Wellington. This will depend, however, upon the establishment of feeder air lines in this area.

"Always remember, when you are mailing a letter now, that air mail is handled first, and if there is any delay, it is not the air mail that is held back," Mr. Curry said.

The Wellington post office recently received its first shipment of stamped air-mail envelopes in more than two years.

Two Election Days Here Next Month

Voters are reminded that there will be two elections held in the state and county next month.

The general election which includes the election of all state, county, and precinct officers and the adoption or rejection of three amendments will be held Tuesday, November 5.

On Thursday, November 7, an election will be held to determine the adoption or rejection of the following amendment to the Constitution of Texas, "Proposing an amendment to Article III of the Contsitution of the state of Texas by the addition of a new section to be known as section 49-b, creating a Veterans Land board, and providing that the legislature shall provide by law for the issuance by said board of not to exceed $25,000,000 in bonds or obligations of the state of Texas for the purpose of creating a fund to be known as the Veterans Land fund."

The three amendments to be voted on at the general election are: (1) "Amendment authorizing the legislature to appropriate $75,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to pay claims incurred by John Tarleton Agricultural college for the construction of a building on its campus; (2) Amendment to Article 16 of the constitution of the state of Texas, by adding thereto Section 62 providing a retirement disability and death compensation fund for the appointive officers and employees of the state; authorizing counties to provide and administer such a fund for appointive county officers and employes after favorable vote in a county election for such purpose; (3) Amendments to the constitution of the state of Texas providing that subject to legislative appropriation, allocation and direction all net revenues derived from taxes except gross production and ad valorem taxes, levied on motor fuels and lubricants and motor vehicle registration fees shall be used for the sole purposes of acquiring rights-of way for and constructing and maintaining public roadways; for the administration of laws pertaining to traffic and safety; and for the payment of principal and interest on certain county and road district bonds or warrants; providing that one-fourth of such net revenue from the motor fuel tax shall be allocated to the Available School fund; providing a minimum limit of revenue that each county shall derive from motor registration fees; and negativing and interpretation of this amendment as authorizing the pledging of the state's credit for any purpose."

Harmon Road Improvement Set

Completion of Oklahoma highway 30, from a point between Madge and Vinson to Erick, is seen as a result of the letting of highway contracts due October 29. Although out of the state, completion of the highway is of particular interest to the people of Collingsworth County.

The project, amounting to approximately $207,722, includes 5.518 miles of grade and drainage, traffic bound surface, (gravel) two miles north of State Highway 9 and extending north toward Erick, $141,578; and .041 miles, four bridges, 2 miles north of State Highway 9 north toward Erick, $66,144.

News of the letting of the contracts has been long awaited by the people of Harmon County, and considerable work has been done on the proposed project, particularly by the Hollis Chamber of Commerce.

Surplus Sale Set At Sheppard Field

Certified veterans of World War II who have so far been unsuccessful in obtaining a surplus used motor vehicle from War Assets Administration will have an equal opportunity regardless of the date of their certification for two days, October 29 and 30, at Sheppard Field near Wichita Falls.

A total of 384 former used army vehicles, including jeeps, carryalls, command and reconnaissance cars, ambulances, weapon carriers, scooters, motorcycles, a four-door passenger sedan and various models of trucks and trailers will be sold to the highest bidder. Veterans need only present their WAA certificate at the time they are awarded a vehicle as a result of being the highest bidder.

Vehicles to be sold are located at 15 army camps and army air fields throughout this part of Texas and veterans have been invited to make inspection before the sale.

Sweet potatoes should be completely mature before they are dug for storage.

Pantex WAA Sale Opens October 28

Pantex Ordnance Plant near Amarillo will be the scene of a huge "site sale" starting Monday, October 28, to be conducted by War Assets Administration. Veterans of World War II will have exclusive buying rights for the first five days through November 1.

Clothing, general hardware, industrial, tractor and passenger tires, insulating materials, fire fighting equipment, containers, binding materials, industrial rubber belting, tractor parts and used hand tools are listed among the broad categories of surplus property available.

RFC buying for small business will have a day November 4, state and local governments November 5, non-profit institutions November 6 with commercial dealers, both wholesale and retail, taking part in the sale November 7 and 8.

U. S. Agriculture Worth 101 Billion

American agriculturers has increased in value practically 90 per cent since 1940, and was worth 101.5 billion dollars at the beginning of 1946.

This dollar valuation of U. S. agriculture is shown in a study recently released by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics in Washington D. C. Indicating that the figure is still on the rise, the Bureau's survey showed a 12 per cent increase since 1945.

Significant point brought out in the study might be that very little of the increase in agriculture's value of improvements of farms and farm property. Very large part of the increase has come from price increases on farm products and from accumulations of money due to large sales. The report indicated that approximately 800 million dollars that were added to farmers' cash holdings during the war will have to be re-invested in improvements of farms and equipment that weren't maintained through the period 1942-45.

Property of farmers' and other owners of farm businesses accounted for 93.2 billion dollars of the total dollar worth of agriculture. The remaining 8.3 billions were taken up by creditor's claims. Although farmers' mortgage debts declined during 1943, they did not decline as much as in previous years, and actually increased in 20 states.

An electric cooperative organization at Tahoka, Texas, has received a loan of over $400,000 for system improvements and for 431 miles of line serving 751 rural consumers.

Former Countian Heads New Hardin College Ag Set-up

College doors have finally swung open to the average farm boy and girl. Henceforth the young farmer-rancher can study practical, down-to-earth courses about the soil, crops, the horse and cow, along with the students of commerce, music and the conventional arts and sciences.

This innovation became a reality last week when 86 students enrolled in Hardin College's new school of agriculture. And the man who has been picked to head this new department is G. S. Dowell, who formerly taught vocational agriculture in Quail high school.

Mr. Dowell has expressed himself as highly pleased with the agricultural outlook at Hardin. He came to the college, he said, "Because I feel it has a greater vision in the agriculture world than the average college."

Officials of the college have pointed out that Mr. Dowell is singularly well qualified for his job. He was graduated from Texas Technological College in 1934 with a M. A. degree. He has completed graduate work in the University of Missouri and has been a member of the summer faculty at Normal University, Las Vegas, N. M., and the teachers' college at Ada, Okla. He served six years as vocational agriculture teacher at Quail and five years in the same position at Munday, where he went when he left this county.

While employed as a vocational agriculture teacher, he was ranked as top man in his field for Area One, which comprises most of West Texas and includes 93 other teachers. In connection with Hardin's agricultural program, the veteran's administration is setting up a county vocational school with Mr. Dowell as director. Under this arrangement veterans may study under the college direction at nearby points. Outlying headquarters are to be established at Iowa Park, Burkburnett and Archer City.

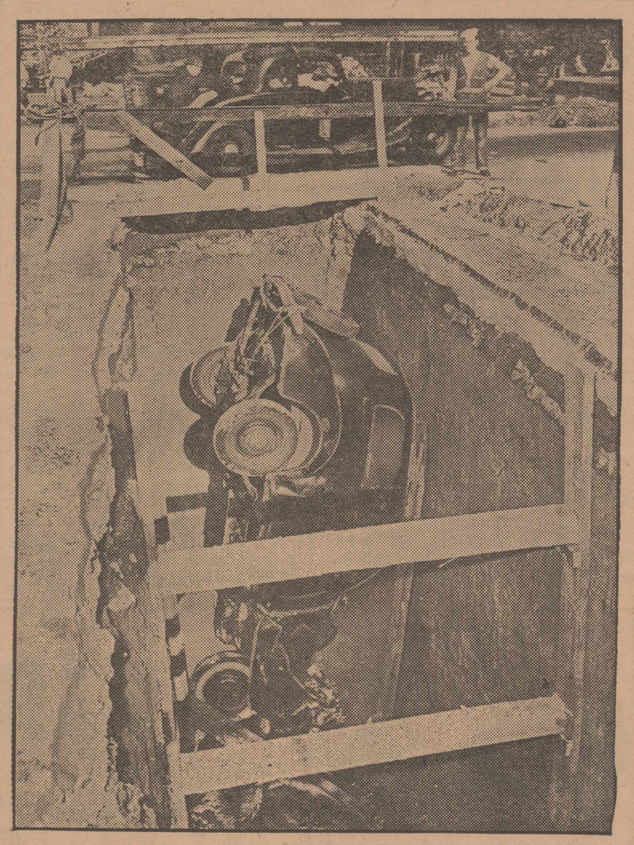

The enrollment of students last week marked the first concrete step in a program planned by the leading area educators, business men and ranchers with a view toward establishing Hardin College as the state's, and perhaps the nation's, first conventional college to offer practical courses in agriculture.

The student may now study courses in general animal husbandry, the breeds of farm animals, animal nutrition, feeds and feeding, poultry production and dairying. In the senior college division he may study soils, fertilizers, diseases of livestock, agronomy, fruit and vegetable growing, and farm marketing and management.

The program calls for the construction of dairy barns, the setting up of storage equipment for processing milk, new poultry houses, livestock quarters, and various other buildings to serve the needs of an expanding agricultural school. A section of land near the college campus is being acquired for this purpose. It is hoped that this section of land will become a working farm-ranch, a practical laboratory where the student can meet the very problems which present themselves in every-day farm life.

It will take some time for all the physical needs of this ambitious program to be met. The barns, for example, will be erected as construction material becomes available. The equipment in the form of livestock and tools will be added in a more or less gradual process. But college officials emphasize that the program is under way and will grow to meet the needs of the wide area covered by Hardin College.

'Tis said of Reuther, "He went to college, but he also has brains."

THE CHEAPEST MILES Are In Your Old Car

Like an old friend, your old car is often given less attention than the sparkling new models which are not yet available in numbers to the public.

Yet the best miles and the cheapest are to be had from your present machine if you keep it in good repair, keep it greased and oiled properly, and keep it tuned up. A new car will depreciate rapidly in the first few months, but your old car will probably stay about the same value for several years.

You can get more miles from your old car if you will let us service it regularly. If something isn't functioning smoothly, bring it in and we will give it immediate attention. We have the tools and equipment to give you the best service, and we KNOW HOW.

IT'S ABOUT TIME to start thinking about that winter check-up, too. You'll need your grease and oil changed plus checking ignition, windshield wipers, carburetion and many other vital parts.

Hollis Downs B Team 19 to 0

The Wellington B football team failed to click Thursday night against a Hollis, Okla., B eleven that took home a 19 to 0 win. The Rockets failed to threaten, although they held the play in midfield during most of the game.

Star of the game was Bracheen of Hollis, who scored all three of the Hollis Touchdowns. On sneak plays, each time he took the ball, and ran first 55 yards to a touchdown, then 65 yards, and finally 80 yards.

The game remained scoreless during the first period, then Hollis scored one touchdown in each of the three remaining quarters.

A fairly large sized crowd witnessed the game.

als in the trade. He excells in the illusion of cutting a rope in two and putting it together again, and for his skill in this he once received the highest award before the International Brotherhood of Magicians. He has appeared in many towns of the southwest and some of the larger cities.

While he has demonstrated his skill in Wellington several times in the past, this is the first time he will appear in a performance open to the public.

All proceeds from the evening will go to the Boy Scouts after expenses are paid. The money will be used to continue construction on the Boy Scout Hut in Ellison Park. Under the direction of Sandy Parsons Jr., Scoutmaster, work was begun early in the year, and through his efforts, the walls of the building are finished and the roof is on. But the Scouts do not have the money in their treasury to put in the windows or equip their building. The money they receive from Bob Clark's magic show will be used for that purpose.

The Rotarians, sponsors of the troop, feeling that helping the Scouts is one of the best investments they can make, are pushing this program for the boys' benefit.

WELLINGTON'S NEWEST BUSINESS TO OPEN FRIDAY

The Gilmore Locker Plant, Wellington's newest business, will hold its formel opening Friday, October 25, L. A. Gilmore, the owner, has announced. In connection with the plant, one of the most complete locker systems in the Panhandle, Mr. Gilmore has installed a pork curing plant. A slaughter room which has been provided enables patrons to bring in an animal alive and take home their meat, of the same high quality and cured in the manner of that which comes from the larger packing houses. Mr. Gilmore, a veteran of World War II, has been a Wellington resident since 1932.

Gilmore Locker Plant to Hold Formal Opening Friday, Oct. 25

Formal opening of the Gilmore Locker Plant will be held Friday, October 25, L. A. Gilmore, the owner, announced this week. One of the finest, most modern locker plants in the Southwest, it is located at the corner of Corsicana and Eighth Streets. Construction has been under way for a number of months but in spite of the shortage of materials and equipment, and a destructive wind that wrecked the walls of the building in its early stage of construction, the plant has been completed in time for its patrons to make use of it during the fall months.

Mr. Gilmore has extended an invitation to the people of the county and the entire trade territory to visit his plant Friday and Saturday, when the staff will show visitors through the entire system and explain every detail of operation.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served.

Equipment for the plant was installed by Hollis Revis, district service man for the West Texas Utilities Company, who declares it is one of the neatest and most efficient in the area.

Featured in the plant is a complete killing floor, where patrons may bring live animals to be slaughtered in the modern sanitary slaughter house. Every precaution will be taken to see that the animals are dressed in the most sanitary manner to comply with all state regulations. After the carcass is dressed, it will be placed in a modern chill room where all animal heat is removed. This modern chill room must be kept for state inspection. Each half animal will be placed on an individual hook in the chill room on a modern track where no two pieces of the carcass may touch. After it has been properly chilled, it will be rolled into the age room to be aged to the customer's speci-

Gilmore Returns To Home Town To Enter Business

L. A. Gilmore, owner and operator of the new Gilmore Locker Plant, is a World War II veteran who returned to his home town to establish his own business. Almost his entire time since he was discharged from the Army Air Forces in May 1945 has been spent in working out plans for the frozen food locker and curing plant, getting it constructed and ready for operation.

He will be assisted in the business department of the plant by Mrs. Gilmore.

A resident of the county since 1932, Mr. Gilmore operated an automobile wrecking service here before he enlisted in the Air Force in November, 1942. He went overseas, to the European theatre of operations, in October, 1943, and was assigned to fly in a troop carrier plane.

He took part in the invasion of Normandy.

In December, 1944, he returned to the United States and received his discharge the following May.

"I have tried to acquire every possible piece of equipment to give you the finest in locker service that it available today. It is my intention to operate this plant to bring you the type of service you want and need," Mr. Gilmore said.

To assist him, Mr. Gilmore has secured Paul Easter as slaughter man and Mr. Day as meat cutter.

"I am sincerely grateful for the support and encouragement you people have given me during the months I have been trying to bring my plant to completion. It is your

Eight Teams Organized as City Basketball League Works Out Schedule for the Season

Eight teams have been organized to make up the Wellington Independent Basketball League, which will play throughout the winter months.

These teams are sponsored by the school faculty, the Palace Drug, United Super Market, Thompson Food Market, Steve Owens, the REA, Goat's Cafe, and Modern Market. A schedule has been worked out to include two nights of practice games before the regular schedule opens November 4.

All players on these eight teams are young Wellington business men, including some of the outstanding cage stars the county has produced in recent years. Four of the men who will go back on the court were members of the Quail Quails the year they won the state basketball championship.

A double header will be played each Monday and Thursday nights. The games will be played at the high school gym.

First of the practice games will be Monday night, October 28, when the Faculty meets the Palace Drug and United Super Market meets Thompson Food. You are invited to attend the opening of the most Modern LOCKER PLANT in this area--Friday, October 25th

WE ARE GLAD TO ANNOUNCE the opening of our Modern Locker Plant in Wellington, and we cordially invite you to come by next Friday and inspect the plant and learn how it will work and how it will serve you.

Draw Locker Nos.

Locker numbers will be assigned by lot. All people who have signed up will be given a chance to draw for their lockers on Friday.

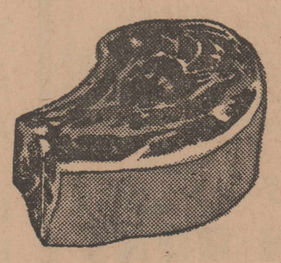

Be there and get your locker number, you may get a pleasant surprise when you open it.

SLAUGHTER DEPARTMENT

Featured in this plant is a complete killing floor. All you do is to bring your animals here and turn them in the lot. They will be slaughtered in a modern, sanitary slaughter house. Every precaution is taken to see that they are dressed in the most sanitary manner to conform to all state regulaions. After it has been chilled it is cut to your specifications with servings packaged to provide a meal for your size family. Sterile lamps retard the growth of any harmful bacteria.

PORK CURING

Another feature of our plant is our pork curing department. Again all you do is drive the fat hog into the pen—we do the rest. The animal is butchered in the most sanitary conditions. Then we cure the meat with a "Vein Pressure" system that gets the curing fluid into the very marrow of the bones without cutting any part of the meat. After that it is smoked over a "HICKORY WOOD" fire to provide that distinctive hickory wood cured taste.

DRESSED POULTRY

We will also dress your chickens, turkeys and other fowls and will process them to be stored until such a time as you may need them.

We feel that we have bought the finest frozen food equipment that money can obtain, and we invite you again to come by and see us next Friday and learn more about how it can serve you.

FREE

COFFEE & DO-NUTS

Free coffee and doughnuts will be served to all persons who come by to inspect our plant on opening day.

On Friday, October 25, we will have open house all day long and cordially invite the general public to be present.

OUTDOOR Notes

By Joe Austell Small

Good Morning, Mother!

No wonder the she bear is jumpy, irritable and afraid of her own shadow when she comes out of hibernation. It is probably nothing more than pure shock. Imagine, if you can, waking up some bright morning and being greeted by a couple of hungry heirs! It must be unnerving to say the least.

Mrs. Bruin goes to sleep in the fall a free woman. But in the dead of winter the bear stork pays her a visit. Cubs have a habit of catching mama napping.

Who would blame mother bruin for acting queerly upon waking from a long, restive sleep and finding two growing youngsters howling for attention!

Modernized Hiawatha

He killed the noble Mudjekeewis,
Of the skin he made him mittens.
Made them with the fur side inside,
Made them with the skin side outside,
He, to get the warm side inside,
Put the inside skin side outside.
He, to get the cold side outside
Put the warm side fur side inside.
That's why he put the fur side inside,
Why he put the skin side outside.
Why he turned them inside outside.

Shortest Short-Short

Greenhorn.
Friend.
Bang!

Keeping Your Catch

There are utterly tons of fish wasted yearly because of spoilage. One of the most common problems of all fishermen is keeping fish after they catch them. Here's an invaluable tip:

Clean fish as soon as possible. Be sure blood is removed from along backbone. Wash and then dry fish with cloth. Be sure it is thoroughly dried. And do not allow water to come in contact with fish again. Carry a roll of parchment paper. Roll each fish individually in this waterproof and airproof paper and tie the ends securely with string. Roll all small packages of fish into one large bundle using blanket or several thicknesses of newspapers. Keep in dry, cool place and do not open bundle until fish are to be used. By using this method, fish can be kept upwards of a week in warm weather and will remain fresh and sweet. It is one of the most valuable tips I ever ran across.

Short Shorts

Raccoons are among the chief enemies of crows. The animals rob nests of the birds, eating both eggs and fledglings.

A bullet dropped from the hand and one fired from a rifle will hit the ground at the same instant, provided the bore of the rifle is held parallel to the ground when it is fired.

In most states the law forbids use of gold fish for bait. The primary reason for this is that gold fish are merely fancy carp. Once liberated they soon reach great size and revert to type. Thoughtless dumping of unused live bait into streams would unloose another depredator.

FROM THE COWBOY BACKFIELD

Three Hardin-Simmons Cowboy backs, Capt. Al Johnson, quarterback, left; Rudy "Little Doc" Mobley, halfback; and Bullet Cook, halfback, right, take time off from gridiron duties to get the feel of a West Texas cow pony again. Mobley, named Little All-America in 1942, set a new national record for individual rushing that year by chalking up 1,280 yards in nine games.

All West Texas Needing Pullers

Cotton growers in almost every county in West Texas are crying for pullers to help in the cotton harvest.

State Farm Labor Supervisor C. Hohn, of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, reports that Dawson County needs 1500 additional workers to harvest cotton. There is a demand for the same number in Scurry County, Hohn says, where the cotton harvest is reaching its peak, and Jones County, as cotton begins to come in, is calling for 1000 laborers. Very few counties in West Texas have enough migrant help, and pullers are being paid from $1.50 to $2.50 at the gin.

Since the yield of cotton throughout West Texas is below standard farmers are having a hard time holding the pullers on the job, says Hohn. Laborers "keep looking for greener fields and are losing valuable time", he adds. There are about 33,000 migrant laborers in the cotton pulling area now, and Extension agents and farm labor assistants are working constantly on replacements as workers move to other areas. Bad weather has caused many pullers to leave West Texas and go to other sections where the housing situation is better.

A call for help from the Plains wheat country has come in also, says Hohn. Plains counties need tractor hands for plowing and seeding and year-around workers are being offered from $2.50 to $7.00 a day.

On Playing the Fiddle Badly

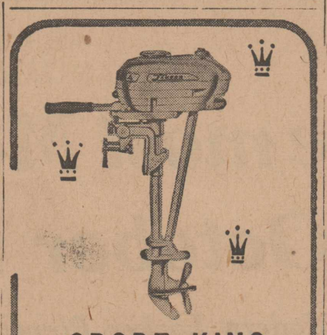

A favorite recreation in our town is getting together in one or another's home and making music. There's somebody at the piano; a guitar; a fiddle player; and Molly Birtles even has a harp!

What comes out isn't the best music in the whole world. In fact, a lot of it is downright bad. But nobody even thinks to question or to criticize.

Because the spirit of harmony is there—harmony between folks who like each other's company, who enjoy the simple, homey atmosphere—with nothing more exciting than old songs, and a glass of moderate beer or cider.

From where I sit, it's a heap more important to be a poor fiddle player, than not to play at all. More important to be a part of the American scene—with its community music, home entertainment, friendly glass of beer — than to hold out for professional perfection. (Besides, I like to play the fiddle—even badly!)

Information Wanted!

Sunday night, Sept. 30, 1945, about 9:30 p.m., my wife was seriously injured in an automobile accident twelve miles north of Lamesa, Texas. After the accident three ladies, driving north behind my car, took me and my wife to the hospital at Lamesa, where she died later that night. I was very much excited at the time and failed to obtain the names of these ladies, or their address. As I recall, they were driving a brown club-coupe Pontiac car and are believed to have been from either Childress, Estelline, or Wellington. If either of them see this ad, or if any one has heard them speak of such an accident, please contact me at P. O. Box 173, Ralls, Texas.

Cotton Prospects Continue to Drop During September

WASHINGTON,—The Agricul- Department said today that cotton crop prospects dropped another 447,000 bales in September.

It said indications Oct. 1 pointed to a total production of 8,724,000 bales of 500 pounds each compared with its Sept. 1 prediction of 9,171,000 bales.

The new prediction was based on an indicated yield of 235.6 pounds of lint per acre on the 17,776,000 acres expected to be harvested this year and on Oct. 1 crop conditions which were 63 per cent of normal.

The department said crop ginnings up to Oct. 1 totaled 2,334,000 bales compared with 2,177,000 for the comparable period in 1945 and 3,988,000 during the corresponding period of 1944.

This year's anticipated crop of 8,724,000 bales would be the smallest since 1921. It compared with 9,015,000 bales in 1945 and a 10-year average of 12,553,000 bales.

The lint yield per acre also will be the smallest since 1941.

"Decreases in prospective production from a month ago," the department said, "were general throughout the cotton belt with Mississippi, Arkansas, and Alabama showing sharp drops. Production in the western irrigated states improved slightly during September."

It said drought which prevailed over wide areas of Arkansas during August continued into September and caused "considerable premature opening." Development of late cotton also was retarded.

In Texas, Alabama and Georgia, picking was delayed and the quality of lint was cut by frequent rains during September. No estimate of cotton seed production will be made until December. But if the ratio of lint to cottonseed is about the same as for the past five years, production will total about 3,551,000 tons.

This would be 3.1 per cent below last year's production of 3,667,000 tons and 32.2 per cent below the 10-year average of 5,240,000 tons.

Production of American Egyptian cotton was estimated at only 2,000 bales compared with the prewar average of 33,600 bales.

Indicated production in bales for principal cotton producing states:

Missouri 300,000, Virginia 18,000, North Carolina 480,000, South Carolina 690,000, Georgia 620,000, Tennessee 520,000, Alabama 780,000, Mississippi 1,100,000, Arkansas 1,185,000, Louisiana 275,000, Oklahoma 285,000, Texas 1,750,000, New Mexico 121,000, Arizona 140,000, and California 440,000.

An even-aged stand of timber often produces two or more times the volume than a stand of many-aged trees.

There are 42,000 more honeybee colonies in Texas this year than last year.

SLACK TIME FOR HARRY

Harry the Goat illustrates meat shortage as he leads a dinky flock of sheep to slaughter at Kansas City Stockyards. He leads scarcely a hundred a day to death these days. Harry and his two goat partners have led as many as 20,000 to slaughter in a single day in normal times.

Farm and Ranch Chatter

With Layne Beaty, WBAP, Fort Worth

Turkey breeders all over this area are getting ready for the second annual Southwest Turkey Exposition in Fort Worth, November 21, 22 and 23 just before Thanksgiving.

George McCarthy, general manager of the show, says actually it will be in three great shows this year, since competition will be divided into the Commercial, Junior and R. O. P. divisions, each one a separate show. and therr'll be a Dressed Bird show, too.

McCarthy, one of the men most responsible for starting the broad-breasted bronze turkey industry in Texas, observes that prospects for turkey breeders are up now, with a strengthening market and better feed supplies expected.

While most northeast cotton farmers were losing a big percentage of their early squares to boll weevil, the cotton on the Field Station at Greenville was remarkably free of weevils, this didn't just happen. The pastures and roadside ditches there were kept mowed; the cotton stalks were turned under while still green, just after picking last fall, or before the boll weevil went into hibernation. Dalton Hooten, the station superintendent, said the other day that cotton stalks could and had been plowed under green almost every year since the station has been in operation.

Sam Schneider reports that Oklahoma now has a calf born as the result of artificial breeding. The synthetic bovine, Mary Masterpiece, a Guernsey, arrived on a Sabbath day on the M. O. Brown dairy farm southeast of Muskogee. Her sponsors think she will turn out to be a 20 to 30 percent better producer than she would have been if sired by the type of bull available to the average dairy farmer. If this proves true, artificial insemination will receive a real send off. Meanwhile a number of Texas dairy farmers have enough confidence in the system to give it a fair trial. Complete information can be obtained from your county agent, or the dairy depratment of Texas A. and M. College.

Irrigated cotton on the south plains will make from 3-4 to a bale per acre, while dry land cotton will average a bale to every ten acres, some of the local folks have reported. Harvesting is going on, and pullers are needed. Rain, of course, came too late on the plains. Grain sorghum harvest, except for the irrigated crops, will start about frost time, usually the first week in November, though last year it was two weeks early.

Here's a chance for a Texas cowboy to take an ocean ride and perhaps see some of Europe. The UNRRA is looking for men to handle livestock on the boats carrying them to needy countries. Trips take five to seven weeks. Pay is $150.

fications. In this modern aging room, sterile lamps have been added to retard the growth of harmful bacteria.

Another feature of the locker service is the pork curing department where adequate facilities are installed to sugar cure, smoke cure or salt cure pork, render lard and grind and sack sausage.

In the poultry department may be seen a new electric chicken picker with the capacity of picking 100 chickens per hour. A patron may bring his chickens in alive, have them dressed, picked and placed in the sanitary cartons where they will keep perfectly from one season to another.

"In the processing department your meat is handled in complete sanitation," Mr. Gilmore said. "It is brought out of the age room and cut up with a modern electric meat saw, wrapped first in wax paper where it is completely vapor-sealed and double wrapped for additional safety. Each individual customer's meat is placed in a separate container going into the sharp freeze room, where it is quickly frozen before being placed in the locker. It is absolutely necessary that each package go through the sharp-freeze room before going into the locker in order to assure that your product is quick frozen to prevent any breaking down of the cell tissue. This is necessary for fruits and vegetables as well as meats."

The finest machinery that money can buy has been acquired by Mr. Gilmore, incorporating blast freezing which assures freezing in the product much quicker than by older methods. In the plant are the newest type steel lockers, containing six and one-half cubic feet of space. They are 24 inches wide, 30 inches long and only 15 inches deep. They face a wide spacious aisle.

Mr. Gilmore has provided a new safety ladder which locks to the floor when it is stepped on. It is also equipped with a basket, assuring a convenient and safe means of getting to the upper lockers.

The plant is constructed of concrete bricks, with the interior of corkboard.

Practically all lockers have already been rented, the owner reported Monday.

Mrs. H. D. Boyer of Fort Worth is visiting here with her sisters, Mrs. Tom Bryant and Mrs. Bill Langford.

Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Austin attended the funeral of their son-in-law's father, W. H. Cole, in Wichita Falls last Thursday.

summates an agreement made with the soldiers of the Division when they were on occupation duty in Germany. After deactivation of the Division, the Association agreed to fulfill all terms of the contract, although the price of the history had been set overseas so low there was question whether or not publishers in the United States could deliver on all promises.

Through more than 200 pages are pictures and text that tell the story of the Division's gallant fighting through the torturous Italian mountains and winter; its rout of the enemy from Rome and north; its brilliant drives through France; its conquering of the vaunted Siegfried Line that was supposed to guard Germany; and its rapid push through Hitler-land on into Austria, where it was pursuing the Boche when surrender came. Through 150 pages are a roster of the more than 50,000 soldiers of the Division in combat.

All initial subscriptions having been filled in accordance with contract, the book is now available to others. To veterans of the Division, a price of $4.20 has been set. That includes, also, one year's membership in the 36th Division Association, which has a headquarters address of Box 2174, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas.

To all others and the general public, the price is $5.00 per copy.

COOKED A FINE DINNER; THEN THREW IT TO DOG

Editorial

With an unprecedented food production job this year almost behind him, the American farmer now is being called upon to feed the nation's hungry steel furnaces this winter. In a drive being inaugurated by the government to collect scrap iron from the farms lies the principal hope of avoiding a severe shortage of steel in the next few months.

Scrap iron, as salvage drives taught us during the war, is one of the basic ingredients of steel-making. To keep the steel plants going at present capacity requires 2,000,000 tons of it a month. Normally the mills have three or four months supply of scrap iron on hand at this season of the year to tide them over the winter months, when scrap gathering slows down. But because of the heavy demand for steel, many mills now are down to a 10 days' supply of scrap iron.

The farms are counted upon as a major source of the scrap needed to keep the steel mills in full operation. Salvaged railroad equipment and government-owned ships are expected to be other contributors of the heavy melting scrap required by the steel producers.

On most farms there is a quantity of wornout machinery and other scrap that was not moved even during the war because of lack of organized facilities for its collection. These facilities, under the government's plan, now are to be provided, through revival of wartime salvage committees and through co-operation of farm machinery dealers. These dealers are being asked to receive and ship the scrap iron in communities where no regular scrap iron dealers exist.

The farmer, by helping to ease the scrap iron shortage, will be helping himself. More scrap iron means more steel for the manufacture of needed tractors and farm implements, and more steel for the manufacture of freight cars that are sorely needed for the movement of farm crops. —Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

• General Election

Fear is being expressed by both the Democrats and the Republicans that a very light vote will be cast in the general election which comes on November 5. That is only a few days off, and so far the people have not become aroused. Even in doubtful states it is reported that the voters have little interest in the coming election. With the pressure put on by both parties during the next week, the picture might change. However, in Texas there is little reason for becoming excited. While the Republicans have a full state ticket, and are running several candidates for Congress, there is little chance for any of them to be elected. In view of the fact that constitutional amendments are being submitted in the November election, the voters should take off enough time to go to the polls and vote.—Clyde Warwick in The Canyon News.

Members of the Clarendon Future Farmer Chapter exhibited two of the five champions in the swine division of the Texas State Fair at Dallas for 4-H and FFA youths from over the entire state. Ray Morris exhibited the first and second light weight Berkshire barrows and the champion Berkshirt barrow. Garth Carter exhibited the first place heavy weight Hampshire. His heavyweight barrow was champion Hampshire of the entire show. Doyl Ray Littlefield exhibited the second place lightweight Hampshire.—The Donley County Leader.

• School Aid

Donating the sales barn to the school district is to the credit of the Chamber of Commerce. At about 1-year intervals the organization has donated funds to support a sales barn, but it has always failed to pay. This time there was at least something tangible salvaged for community use.—T. • Farm Strike

It might be a good plan if the farmers would strike until the unions get hungry enough to sign a pledge to quit striking. It is difficult for the man who makes a whip to know it hurts unless it lashes his own back.—Douglas Meador in The Matador Tribune.

Boyce House "Gives You Texas"

They say that J. Evetts Haley, noted Texas author, once visited a Fort Worth book store. His newest volume was on display. Picking up a copy, he asked the saleslady, "Is this book any good?" Not knowing she was speaking to the man who had written it, she answered, "You bet it is! The pictures were drawn by Harold Bugbee!"

Bugbee is, of course, the Clarendon artist.

None of us can resist the temptation to say, "I told you." Last summer, I warned that an effort would be made next January, when the legislature meets, to appeal the tax exemption on the gasoline the farmers burn in their tractors. Well, those in favoring of removing the exemption didn't wait till January; the campaign has already started.

The farmer is the most heavily taxed man in Texas in proportion to income and property. His land can't escape taxation because it is out in the open where everybody can see it; he couldn't hide it, even if he wanted to. And he pays 4 cents a gallon on the gasoline he burns in his automobile—and mainly drives over community roads that are dusty half the year and nearly impassable with mud the rest of the time. And they are going to try to make him pay a tax on the gasoline he uses in his tractor.

WEST TEXAS UTILITIES CO.

BOYS AND GIRLS IN 4-H CLUBS are doing a grand job... they are learning how to be better farmers and homemakers through extension courses and practical experience.

County agents report that young members of 4-H Clubs are using Reddy Kilowatt to provide clean, cool and comfortable living quarters for their meat animals.

The cost of electric power to increase and assure better production on farms is low—and the small investment in electric help means considerable in increased income at the market.

Reddy Kilowatt and the 4-H Club boys and girls are planning tomorrow's farm management as a more promising vocation for trained men and women.

State Officials Endorse Good Roads Amendment

Most of the state's highest officials had placed their stamp of approval on the Good Roads Constitutional Amendment Tuesday, October 22, as the list of endorsements began to mount during the last two weeks before the November 5 General Election.

Governor Coke Stevenson and Democratic Nominee for Governor, Beauford Jester, led the parade of supporters of the Amendment. Governor Stevenson asserted, "From my study of road building problems, I am convinced that the Good Roads Amendment should be adopted on November fifth," while the nominee for his office, Jester, proclaimed that adoption of the measure 'will establish a sound financial policy upon which our road planning agencies may base their plans.'

John S. Redditt, Chairman, Texas Highway Commission, issued a statement declaring, "It is my firm and considered belief, as a citizen and as chairman of the highway commission, that the passage of this amendment is to the best interest of all Texans, and for that reason, I am for it and advocate its passage."

Pointing out the fact that the Good Roads Amendment will continue allocation of one-fourth of the gasoline tax for the Available School Fund under constitutional protection, Dr. L. A. Woods, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, explained it will also assure the availability of funds with which many miles of all-weather roads for school bus routes will be constructed.

"Adoption of the Good Roads Amendment will establish a sound system of road financing that will result in more and better roads for the people of Texas." Senator Allan Shivers, Democratic Nominee for Lieutenant Governor stated in his endorsement.

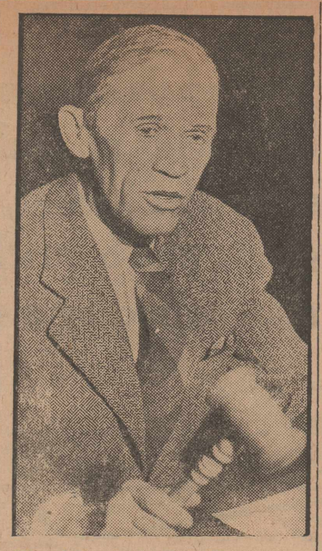

"Before our road building agencies can plan with certainty," Price Daniel, Democratic Nominee for Attorney General, expressed in a letter backing the measure, "they must be assured that our road funds will be protected. This amendment will give that protection and insure an orderly development of both State and Farm-to-market roads."

The president of the Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association, Judge Sid J. Caillavet, charged that the amendment will make no changes in existing allocation of road user taxes. "It will simply give these agencies a guarantee that road funds will be available as anticipated," he said.

Claude H. Gilmer, Speaker of the House of Representaives, asserted that it is essential so that road funds will always be available for the purpose for which J. E. McDonald, Texas Commission er of Agriculture, claimed the economic status of the Texas farmer depends to a great extent upon the type of road to which he has access.

"I feel that, if passed, the Good Roads Amendment will be the greatest step forward in the development of the road system of the State of Texas," D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer, stated.

Among other strong endorsers of the amendment are: Judge Jeff D. Stinson, Judge W. S. Barron, Fred Knetsch, member of the State Highway Commission, Julian Montgomery, State Highway Engineer, member of the State Highway Com- 1937-1940, and Reuben Williams, mission.

FRAUD CHARGED

Rep. J. Percy Priest (D) of Tennessee is Chairman of the House Campaign Expenditures Committee which is investigating charges of fraud and excessive expenditures in the Fifth Missouri District Democratic Primary, where President Truman's candidate, Enos A. Axtell, unseated Rep. Roger C. Slaughter. Jerome Walsh, third candidate in the race, asked the committee to investigate.

Dairy Records Beat Guess Work

Any kind of record that is kept in feeding dairy cows is better than none, say dairymen of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

The dairymen that keeps no feeding and production records at all will usually feed all his cows the same amount, which means that the high producing cows are underfed and the low-producing cows are over-fed. The Dairy Herd Improvement Association will furnish dairymen with information necessary to do the right job of feeding cows according to production, the Extension dairymen say, and this method of feeding means more pounds of milk for each pound of grain fed.

If cows are on pasture and getting all the roughage they can clean up each day, grain can be used most economically by feeding one pound to Jerseys and Guernseys for each three pounds of milk they produce, and one pound to Holsteins for each four pounds of milk produced.

Accurate milk weight and butterfat tests are the only true measure of a cow's production, the dairymen say. Production and feed records will show the dairyman just what part he has played in his cows' production. Improved feeding practices have made many dairy association herds develop into higher producing and more profitable businesses.

Blackhawks Best Rockets 16 To 6 in Thrill Packed Game

After trailing 6 to 2 until the half the Phillips Blackhawks came back in the second half last Friday night to run up two touchdowns in short order and defeat the Wellington Skyrockets 16 to 6 on the Blackhawks home field. The Rockets flamed back in the fourth period and spent most of that quarter inside the Blackhawk 30 yard line once getting the ball to the 3 and once to the 1; but they failed to get it through a big and very able Phillips line.

Outside of details, that is just about the story of the football game; for the Blackhawks simply had the best team on the field that night. Whether or not they would have the best team on the field if Russell had not become violently sick at his stomach, is simply an if; but it is a big enough one to give the Wellinton fans considerable optimism about meeting the Blackhawks here in the regional meeting—providing the Rockets can ever get to the Regional.

The Blackhawks drew the first blood on a safety early in the first quarter. After picking up two first downs Phillips punted to Wellington and the ball was killed about the 10 yard line. On an attempted kickout Russell's punt was blocked and he fell on the ball behind the goal line preventing a touchdown; but giving the Blackhawks 2 points for a safety.

The ball was brought out to the 20 and Russell got off the longest free punt ever made by a Rocket backfield man. Standing on his own 20 yard line he booted the ball over 80 yards into the Phillips end zone, and the ball was brought back into play on their 20 yard line.

Phillips started a very determined drive against a furiously battling Rocket team; but the drive sagged when little Wayne McClendon dived through the line and nabbed Eldridge for a six yard loss. One play later the ball went over to the Rockets on their own 26 yard line.

Strickland, who seems to improve with every game, sliced through the line for 4 yards and Russell on one try made it a first down with yards to spare. On the next play Russell shot a long pass to Fulton who took it about the Phillips 30 yard line. It might have been a touchdown if Fulton had not had to turn back to make his notable catch; but that is doubtful also for two very fast backs, Eldridge and Jackson were closing in on him.

Four plays later Phillips took over on downs on their own 22 yard line, and then occurred another one of those turning points. After running the ball for a 5 yard gain, Phillips quick kick caught the Wellington safety flat-footed and the ball rolled to the Rocket 4 yard line where it died.

Russell ran the ball out to the 8 yard line. Then came another of those things fans talk about in later years. Johnson, Winter, McClendon and Fulton exploded their side of the line and Russell raced through a big hole. Two excellent blocks by Tim Hatch and Junior Orr put Russell in the open by the time he reached the 25 yard line and he turned in a beautiful 92 yard run for the Rockets only touchdown. The try for point was not good and Russell became ill and was taken out of the game.

The rest of the half saw an ineffective drive by Phillips, which was stopped by the Rockets near midfield just as the half ended.

The tide of battle turned and fast in the opening minutes of the second half. After failing to pick up a first down, the Rockets punted to the Blackhawk 35 yard line. Jackson made 25 yards on one play, and on the second raced through the left side of the Wellington line, reversed his field in the secondary and went across the Rocket line without a hand being laid on him. The try for point was good and the score mounted to 9 to 6.

The second Phillips touchdown came soon after and in exactly the same way. After taking the ball on their own 20 yard line, Moore picked up 6 yards on one thrust. Hatch was stopped after a one yard gain and Moore punted. The punt was high and was caught by the wind and when it hit it rolled back the wrong way and was grounded by a Rocket on their own 26 yard line. On practically the same play as the first touchdown the Phillips back went 26 yards for another score. The try for point was good.

In the fourth period the Rockets roared back with Tim Hatch doing most of the heavy work in the backfield. Running plays with Hatch and Strickland carrying the ball alternated with passes from Hatch to Strickland took the ball from the Rockets own 20 to past midfield. Russell was sent back into the game and passed to Hatch to put the ball on the Phillips 26 yard line. Two runs by Russell and Hatch put the ball on the Blackhawk's 12 yard line, but a holding penalty against Wellington brought it back to the 27. A pass from Hatch to Russell was good for about six and Russell again went out of the game. On two thrusts Hatch picked up a first down, but penalties caused by delaying the game as a result of substitutions set the Rockets back again. Hatch turned in his hardest running game of this or any other season to once again get the ball near the goal line; but it bogged down inside the 5 yard line. Russell was sent back into the game to try to ram it over but two attempts failed and Phillips punted out to safety as the game ended.
