Slays His Rival

Hungary to String Along With Nazis

Little Entente Concessions Are Given Too Late

BERLIN Aug. 2. (AP). — Hungary has hitched her wagon to the Nazi German star.

Concessions from Hungary's Little Entente neighbors have come "to late' 'to change that fact, say Hungarians traveling with Regent Nichols Horthy on his state visit to Adolf Hitler.

Hungary's right to rearm despite post-war treaty limitations was recognized by the Little Entent—Rumania, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia—in a meeting Monday at Bled, Yugoslavia.

"This gesture by the little Entente would have meant something earlier, but not now," said one member of Admiral Horthy's entourage arriving to witness a huge display of German military might put on for the Hungarian visitors.

"Heartened by Germany's shattering of the Versailles fetters, we have already gone ahead exceeding the military limits imposed by the Trianon treaty."

(The 1930 treaty of Trianon limited Hungary's arm to 35,000 officers and men and ceded territory to Yugoslavia, Rumania and Czechoslovakia).

Two positive developments in German-Hungarian relations seem to have resulted from the visit of Horthy and officials of his government:

1. The apparent readiness of land-locked Hungary, bordering Germany south of the twisting Czechoslovak frontier, to consider the recreated Germany navy practically her own.

2. In return for formidiable military protection, Hitler appears to have gained Hungary as a jumping-off place for economic penetration of the Balkans.

Meet 'Battling Frank 3rd'

FR Reports Accord with Jim Farley

Refuses to Talk About Efforts to Defeat Tydings

HYDE PARK, Aug. 26 (AP).—President Roosevelt said today he and Postmaster General Jim Farley were in "complete agreement as usual" during their political conference yesterday.

It was understood they discussed the political situation in several states. Farley was reported to have urged the president to go personally to Maryand in an effort to defeat Senator Tydings. The president would not comment on this.

He was asked to comment on reports PWA workers were seeking to raise $50,000 for a campaign fund and said, "I very much hope the people on relief won't contribute any money for the purpose of aiding any party."

He said the proposal in California to give $30 weekly pensions to all persons over 50 was a "short cut to Utopia."

He said he hoped social security could be developed from year to year but warned against short cuts and "fantastic financial schemes."

He announced the reappointment of Donald Wakefield Smith, Pennsylvania, as a member of the NRLB for five years.

Hitler Watches Mobilization

Acting in his capacity as Commander-in-Chief of the German Armies, Chancellor Adolf Hitler, holding field glasses, confers with the head of the Reichswehr, General Walter von Brauchitsch, at Grossborn, Germany, as Der Fuehrer personally supervises the mobilization of the Reich's armed forces. This photo was flown to London and transmitted to America by radio.

Increase in Interest Is Evidenced

Local Candidates Ask for Heavy Vote in County

Magnitude of Midland county's vote Saturday, in the run-off primary election, will largely govern the outcome of local candidates for district offices, it was generally conceded today. Boyd Laughlin is in the run-off for district attorney with Martelle McDonald of Big Spring. James H. Goodman is in the run-off for state depresentative with Clyde Bradford of Ward county. Also of strong local interest is the race for district judge, in which Paul Moss of Odessa and Cecil C. Collings of Big Spring are candidates.

Local interest apparently has grown during the past few days in the election on legalization of sale of alchoholic beverages, to be voted on county wide and specifically in precinct one. Separate ballots will be used from those of the run-off primary.

Voters in precincts two, three and four will vote only on the county wide issues, in the liquor election, while those of precincts one and five (comprising all of precinct one) will vote on legalization both for county and precinct.

Polling places for precinct one, north of the highway, will be at the court house, and for precinct five, south of the highway, at the Masonic hall. Those for precincts two, three and four will be at Stokes, Stephenson and Warfield schools, respectively.

Absentee voting was light, with only 145 in the run-off election and 30 in the liquor election, but late in the week it was evidenced that a larger vote than was expected will be registered Saturday at Midland county polling places.

Even if sale of liquor is legalized in precinct one, it must also be legalized county wide for the precinct to qualify. Other precincts do not seek to legalize the sale in their own borders.

Polls open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

Elsewhere in this paper is a sample ballot showing candidates for races in the run-off primary.

Results of the election, both on state races and those of district and county, will be posted on the bulletin board in front of The Reporter-Telegram office Saturday night, beginning at approximately 8 o'clock.

Engineer, Fireman Scalded to Death Aboard Crack Liner

XENIA, O., Aug. 26. (AP). — An engineer and fireman, scalded by an explosion in the locomotive of the Pennsylvania's St. Louisan, jumped or were hurled to their death Thursday as the fast express thundered pilotless nearly three miles before stopping.

With steam gushing from the empty engine cab, the train sped through the town of Cedarville, six miles east of here, and rolled to a halt at the western town limits.

Railroad section hands who heard the explosion as the St. Louisan passed, followed the train and found the bodies of Engineer John L. Breen, 54, and Fireman R. B. Mitchell, 46, both of Columbus, along the right-of-way.

Coroner H. C. Schick said while the men were horribly scalded, skull fractures caused death. He expressed the opinion the trainmen jumped as the live steam made an inferno in the cab.

J. F. Henry, superintendent of the railroad's Cincinnati division, said an investigation showed that the crown sheet came off, releasing a blast of steam into the firebox and cab.

Passengers did not know of the tragedy in the cab until the loss of steam caused the train to stop on a curve.

Long Illness Fatal To Local Resident

Funeral services were to be held this afternoon at the Ellis Funeral Home for L. G. Boyett, 53, who succumbed at his home here late Thursday afternoon. Interment services were to be held at Fairview Cemetery. Rev. O. W. Roberts was in charge.

Boyett, a resident of Midland for about 12 years, had been in ill health for the past six years. During his residence here, he was employed at a local gin.

Boyett is survived by his widow and three daughters, Mrs. Harry Hedges, Mrs. Bertha Reven, Miss Juanita Boyett, all of Midland; two brothers, Home and Ross Boyett, Sweetwater; three sisters, Mrs. Henry Howell, Mrs. Wm. Stewart, Mrs. Georgia Berry, Sweetwater; and three grand-children.

Local Horsemen in Tahoka Parade as Rodeo Held There

Midland Rodeo again was strikingly advertised today when twenty gaily dressed citizens and as many handsome horses appeared in the street parade of the Tahoka rodeo. Two large livestock trucks were used to haul the horses, the riders going by automobile early this morning.

It was the third time such an advertising method was used, entries having been placed in earlier parades in connection with the Hobbs and Big Lake rodeos. The delegation expected to stop at Big Spring for an informal street parade late this evening, if traffic arrangements were completed. Members of the rodeo committee, junior ropers, sponsors' hosts and other rodeo enthusiasts made up the party.

Wholesale Grocery Firms Along Coast All Shut Down Today

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26 (AP).—Labor stricken San Francisco saw at least 79 warehouses, including all wholesale grocery establishments, closed today; with prospects of a walk-out of 7,000 clerks in 27 major department stores.

The warehouse conflict involved freight car union workers refusal to unload groceries. The store strike involves a contract disagreement.

Officials believed there was no immediate peril of a food shortage. Liquor wholesalers predicted suspension today of 20 warehouses involving 2,000 workers.

Witness Declares He Saw Hines and Schultz Together

NEW YORK, Aug. 26. (AP).— Appearance of a witness who placed Tammany District Leader James J. Hines in the company of gang lord Dutch Schultz in 1935 sensationally climaxed Thursday efforts of Hines' counsel to tear apart testimony that the democratic boss served as a paid political protector of Shultz' policy racket.

Five minutes before Hines' trial for conspiracy and contriving a lottery adjourned in supreme court District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey called Dudley Brothweil, riding master of Fairfield, Conn.

Brothwell identified a photograph of Schultz, recalled the racketeer as a customer at his riding school, and identified "Lulu" Rosenkratz, Schultz' bodyguard.

"I ask you to look around this courtroom now," said Dewey, "and see if you see anybody here you recognize as ever having been seen with Shultz?"

"Yes", he said, "that gentleman right there." He pointed in Hines' direction.

Brothwell testified that Hines, Schultz and a woman came to his Fairfield stables to look at the Dutchman's horse, "Sun Tan" which was boarded there, in the summer of 1935.

Defense counsel postponed cross-examination of Brothwell until today. He came to the stand when George Weinberg, business manager for the Schultz racket, was excused.

Under cross-examination, Weinberg admitted that he changed the date at which he had said he met Hines and Schultz in 1932 to arrange protection for the policy mob.

The lean gangster, who swore on Monday that he paid the Tammany district leader $500 a week and more to safeguard the policy workers against police raids and judges, conceded he was in error when he told the New York county grand jury May 24th that the meeting took place "sometime late in March."

Hines' chief defense counsel, Lloyd Paul Stryker, referred sarcastically to Weinberg's memory for dates and occurrences six years past.

Midwest Republicans Gather to Plan Ways Of Defeating Demos

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP).—A survey of political prospects today indicated the fall's big inter-party battles would be fought in the midwest and middle Atlantic states.

The first move in this direction was made in Indianapolis today. Forecasting gains of 50 seats in congress, republican leaders off 11 midwestern states met to discuss plans of a congressional campaign an a preliminary mammoth "cornfield" rally tomorrow at the farm home of N. S. Capehart, eastern manufacturer, at Washington, Indiana.

Eight thousand, five hundred persons are expected tomorrow and 100,000 square feet of tents has been prepared. Capehart is to bear the estimated $25,000 expense.

20 Arabs Slain as Bomb Explodes in Jaffa Market Spot

JAFFA, Aug. 26. (AP). — A deafening bomb explosion in the crowded market here killed at least 20 Arabs and wounded 75 as dawn was breaking in the biblical city. The explosion was heard for miles.

An ugly Arab crowd sought revenge by setting fire to shops, stoned and shot Jews and attacked the bank. A semblance of order was restored by the aid of troops.

Hours later Jaffa was still seething.

Arab shops in Jaffa, Jerusalem and Haifa were closed.

Snipers harried all traffic between Jaffa and Jerusalem.

The blast and rioting raised the holy land's casualties to 1,100, including almost 300 dead, since July.

Japanese Are Given Protest by Grew on Destruction of Ship

TOKYO, Aug. 26. (AP). — Ambassador Joseph Grew tonight emphatically protested to the Japanese government the destruction of Chinese-American airliner near Canton Wednesday.

He told Japanese "the attack has aroused public feelings in the United States."

He took the position such attacks are likely to jeopardize American lives, and contravened Japan's previous assurance lives and property of neutrals in China would be respected.

Four bullet riddled bodies were recovered from the wreckage today. One, a small boy, was in a Boy Scout uniform. Attempts to raise the wreckage failed.

G-Men Resign After Failure to Capture Hamilton, Walters

DALLAS, Aug. 26. (AP). — The Dallas News Thursday said it had learned from a reliable source that Tom Neal and D. B. Davis, two Federal Bureau of Investigation agents, resigned from the service after failing to nab Floyd Hamilton and Ted Walters, Texas gunmen, in a trap here Sunday.

The News said it had learned J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the FBI at Washington had accepted the resignations of Neal, former Austin police officer, and Daviss. Meanwhile Hamilton and Walters, recently sought in half a dozen midwestern and southwestern states, where they were identified or tentatively identified in numerous hold-ups, faced federal charges of bank robbery for the hold-up of a bank at Bradley, Arkansas. Warrants so charging them were received here.

The News said the two agents rented a house here where the two outlaws were expected to take refuge. The story said that Walters came to the house and was not recognized and that Hamilton also appeared and fled under gunfire but made good his escape. Walters escaped during the melee after staying in the house for some time playing a guitar, the News said.

Dallas police captured Walters and Hamilton early Sunday.

Cleveland Police Search Murderer As Body Is Found

CLEVELAND, Aug. 26. (AP). — A summer school student came upon the beaten body of an unemployed theater usher near the campus of Western Reserve University yesterday and police, already vexed by twelve unsolved "torso killings", added a new mystery to its list.

Orlando Schiavoni, 20, former usher, hadn't been home since Tuesday evening.

Detective Sergt. James Hogan said police were working on the theory the youth had been bludgeoned to death by a pervert. Coroner S. R. Gerber said Schiavoni had been killed between 24 and 36 hours before his body was found by Fred Alle, summer student at Case School of Applied Science.

Hogan said he was checking a former companion of the youth for questioning.

Alle was cutting across a vacant lot when he saw the body.

Nearby police found an empty wine bottle and Coroner Gerber was attempting to determine whether Schiavoni had been drinking. Robbery was discarded as a motive.

The investigation of the dozen decapitation killings in the city during the past three years resumed its former pace. A tattered quilt, used as a shroud for the latest woman victim of the killer and considered a "prime clew", was tracekd to a rag shop, but detectives were unable to learn how it got out of the shop.

Detectives were searching for an eccentric scavenger who frequented the rag shop district. Dumps in the city were being watched.

Did You Know--

. . . .that I offer an apology to "Barney" Barnhill for not including him in the statement that Jimmy Morris was the only Texas boy on the Cardinal team. Now I find that "Barney's" home town is Cisco, Texas, so as we Texans feel, that puts him in the best part of the country!

If you have seen "Barney" darting around his territory—second base—and seen him pick up some of the hot balls that come his way—and all of the not so hot—you can understand why he is considered by many, the best second baseman in the league. This is his second year of professional baseball. He came to the Cardinals from Wink, where he played last year.

"Barney's" real name is Novel Barnhill; he is 21 years of age; is 5 feet-7 inches tall; weighs 165 pounds; bats and throws right.

I wanted to get my apologizing done first and now that it is over I want you to know about Frank Nelson—the boy who pitched Thursday night a 3-2 game. Frankie came to Midland from Williton, Ca., via the Sacramento club training camp at Riverside, Cal. He was signed by Withers for our club in March. This is his first year of professional ball and is considered an excellent prospect for higher classification baseball.

He has played in right-field in a good many games because he is a very good hitter, good pitchers, you know, are not supposed to "hit".

At the first of the season he was affected by the difference in climate and had quite a time getting adjusted but now has been chosen as the best pitcher in the league on several ballots for an all-star team of the league.

Frankie is 20 years of age; 5 feet-10 inches in height; weighs 165. He has an admirable disposition and is very much liked by his teammates who affectionally call him "Goof", because of his comical antics.

Then everyone knows Howard Parks, more familiarly known as "Bardo." He is the only left-hand pitcher on the club and is considered a pitcher of wonderful temperament. He has a quite disposition

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON.—First major senatorial primaries since Mr. Roosevelt began "the great purge" are those of South Carolina and California, Aug. 30.

Washington, in touch with all camps, would be surprised at the defeat of either Senator Ellison D. Smith, inferentially condemned by Roosevelt and marked for slaughter by New Dealers, or Senator William G. McAdoo, personally endorsed in California by the president.

Both are in their 70s. In McAdoo's case Roosevelt is paying political debts incurred at the 1932 democratic convention and in the five years since during which time McAdoo has voted for virtually every administration bill.

"Cotton Ed" Smith opposed the court plan, wage-hour legislation, and the Wagner housing bill. He voted for reorganization and the spending-lending program, but gets scant credit from New Dealers who think he did so because he was worried about renomination. As chairman of the senate agriculture committee, Smith has been a thorn to the agriculture department.

SMITH IN LEAD

Here's the last-minute campaign dope:

SOUTH CAROLINA: Smith is the first sitting senator up for renomination who has been attacked by Roosevelt, although the attack was only a sarcastic rear-platform reference to a Smith statement that South Carolinians could live on 50 cents a day. Victory or defeat for Smith may affect the outlook in Georgia and Maryland, "purge" campaigns. The senator's opponents are Gov. Olin Johnston, White House favorite, 100 per cent New Dealer and strong with labor, and State Senator Edgar Brown, a strong campaigner, somewhat less New Dealish.

New Dealers have been pessimistic, fearing Smith couldn't be beaten. Lately Johnston's managers have reported odds turning, with the governor supremely confident. If no candidate gets a majority, the two leaders—one of whom will surely be Smith—must enter a runoff two weeks later. Mr. Roosevelt might then make a personal appearance against Smith, hoping to align all New Deal strength against him. But "Cotton Ed's" long senate seniority, his popularity with farmers, along with Johnston's none too great popularity and indifferent campaigning ability, are likely to renominate the senator.

For decades Smith has had three chief issues: white supremacy, higher cotton prices, and tariff for revenue only. He boasts from the platform that he deserted the 1936 democratic convention when a negro bishop prayed.

Jimmy Byrnes, South Carolina's other senator, controlling the federal patronage, privately backs Smith because he doesn't want to split patronage with another New Deal senator. And politically powerful Ben Sawyer, state highway commissioner, has been violently against Johnston since the latter called out troops in a dispute with him. If "Cotton Ed," who has carefully refrained from attacking F. D. R., runs poorly, most observers will credit Roosevelt's injection of the "50-cents-a-day issue."

McADOO IN BATTLE

CALIFORNIA: Although McAdoo's race involves Roosevelt prestige, the senator isn't popular with either California or Washington liberals. His chief opponents are Sheridan Downey, former EPIC leader who now espouses the "$50 every Thursday" old age pension plan, and former Supreme Court Justice John M. Preston, strong New Dealer.

Downey has made McAdoo's age (nearly 75) an issue, but McAdoo dashes about in automobile and airplane making 10 or 12 speeches a day and challenging people to play tennis with him. Activities of McAdoo's law firm have been a large issue and Downey's campaign manager is Pierson Hall, former district attorney "fired" by McAdoo after difficulties with a McAdoo law partner.

State Controller Ray L. Riley, veteran politician, is expected to beat Philip Bancroft for the G. O. P. senatorial nomination. Bancroft, a gentleman farmer, is anti-Roosevelt, anti-union, and a leader in the anti-labor Associated Farmers, which is likely to be investigated by the LaFollette civil liberties committee. McAdoo might have trouble with either man in November.

Chewing Gum Baits Fish.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (U.P.)—The "fish story" season has arrived here, too. Jack Breckenridge, veteran lumberman, reports he ran out of bait while fishing in the Sault ship canal so he put a piece of chewing gum on his hook—and hauled out a 4½ pound whitefish.

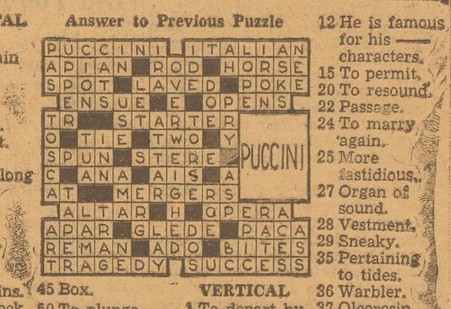

Jimmy Davis, 4-H club boy of the Becton community, Lubbock county, made a profit of $223.05 the first seven months of 1938 from 288 laying hens. He sold 2,431 dozen eggs for $332.65, but spent $99.60 to feed the fowl.

Eight of Social Security Act's Ten Programs in Operation in the State

EL PASO. — As the Social Security Act reached its third anniversary on August 14, eight of its ten programs have been in operation in Texas during the past year, David S. Pruitt, manager of the El Paso office of the Social Security Board, stated today. Some 1,620,000 workers in Texas have applied for social security account numbers under the Federal old-age insurance program; 690,000 workers have earned credit toward unemployment benefits under the Texas unemployment compensation law; an estimated 111,300 of the needy in the state are receiving Federal-State assistance; and health and welfare services have been extended through out the state.

The old-age insurance program is entirely under the jurisdiction of the Federal Government. Participation in the other nine programs calls for action by the states. These are public assistance programs providing for financial aid to the needy aged, needy blind, and to dependent children; unemployment compensation; services for maternal and child health, child welfare, and for crippled children; vocational rehabilitation; and public health. Texas does not as yet have approved plans for aiding dependent children and the needy blind.

The Social Security Board administers the old-age insurance program and the Federal aspects of the programs for public assistance and unemployment compensation. The Federal aspects of the remaining programs are under the jurisdiction of other Federal agencies.

In Texas, more than 111,000 needy old people are receiving assistance in July, according to estimates of the Social Security Board based on past records from the states. By the end of June, 5,168 single cash payments under the old-age insurance system totaling $151,485.54 had been made to workers at age 65 and to heirs of deceased workers in the state. Unemployed workers in Texas had received $3,775,598 in unemployment benefits under the state law by the end of June.

From the time the Act was signed by the President on August 14, 1935, to the end of June this year, grants of Federal funds had been to Texas totaling $19,096,414.43 for public assistance, and $2,171,127.78 for administration of its unemployment compensation law. In addition, according to Treasury statements, the state had received a total of $1,584,957.43 in Federal funds under the four health and welfare services. These are programs to promote maternal and child health and child welfare, and provide services for crippled children and public health services. Texas is also receiving Federal funds under the program for extending vocational rehabilitation of the disabled.

A summary statement of progress under the Social Security Act in Texas follows:

OLD-AGE INSURANCE.

Under the old-age insurance system, single cash payments to covered workers reaching age 65 and to heirs of workers who die began when the system became effective in January, 1937. These payments equal 3 1/2 per cent of a worker's wages covered by the system. Monthly payments to workers who qualify at age 65 will begin in 1942. By the end of June, 1,620,633 social security account numbers had been applied for by workers in Texas.

By June 30 of this year, 5,168 payments to workers at age 65 and payments upon death had been made to persons in the state. The total of these payments was $151,485.54. The average payment in June in Texas was $36.46.

The Social Security Board has established 13 field offices in Texas. One of the functions of these offices is that of assisting workers aged 65 and families of deceased workers in filing claims for old-age insurance benefits. The offices are located in Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, San Angelo, San Antonio, Tyler, and Wichita Falls. Texas is one of the three states in Region Ten, of which Oscar M. Powell is regional director, with headquarters at San Antonio. Through its regional offices, the Social Security Board administers old-age insurance and maintains its contacts with the states in connection with unemployment compensation and public assistance.

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION.

The Texas unemployment compensation law passed on October 27, 1936, and approved by the social security board of November 5, 1936, thus permitting employers subject to the Federal tax on employers of eight or more to credit contributions to the State unemployment fund against as much as 90 per cent of the Federal tax. Benefits to unemployed workers became payable in January, 1938. By June 30, payments of unemployed benefits totaled $3,775,598.

The State law for unemployment insurance applies to employers with eight of more employees. An estimated 690,000 workers are covered by the State law. This estimate represents the number of workers who earned credits toward unemployment benefits in 1937.

All necessary funds for administration of the Texas unemployment compensation law are paid by the Federal Government. From November 5, 1936, when the law was approved, through June 30, 1938, the Social Security Board had granted to Texas a total of $2,171,127.78 for admiistrative purposes. Of this amount $1,175,141.10 was for development and maintenance of an expanded State employment service. The funds made available to the Texas Employment Service by the Social Security Board cover the cost of the additional activities of the service in connection with the required registration and placement facilities for benefit claimants. The previously established placement functions of the Texas employment service are financed by State and local funds matched by Federal funds made available through the United States Employment Service under the terms of the Wagner-Peyser Act.

As of June 30, Texas had a balance of $25,731,493.55 in the Unemployment trust fund. Deposits amounted to $29,395,000; and interest earned by the fund, $536,493.55; and withdrawals for benefit payments totaled $4,200,000.

Unemployment compensation is administered in Texas by the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission, with headquarters at Austin.

PUBLIC ASSISTANCE.

Texas' plan for aid to the needy aged was approved by the social security Board on April 21, 1936. Grats of Federal funds to the State under this plan began July 1, 1936.

In July, 1938, according to estimates of the Social Security Board based on State reports for past months, there was a total of 111,300 needy aged individuals receiving public assistance from Federal and State funds in Texas.

The total amount of payments to recipients from combined Federal, State, and local funds for public assistance in Texas during July was estimated at $1,530,400, all for old-age assistance. No funds have been granted to the needy blind or to dependent children.

Average payments in Texas in May were $13.74 for old-age assistance.

Total Federal grants to Texas for public assistance by June 30, 1938, amounted to $19,096,414.43. All of this amount was for old-age assistance.

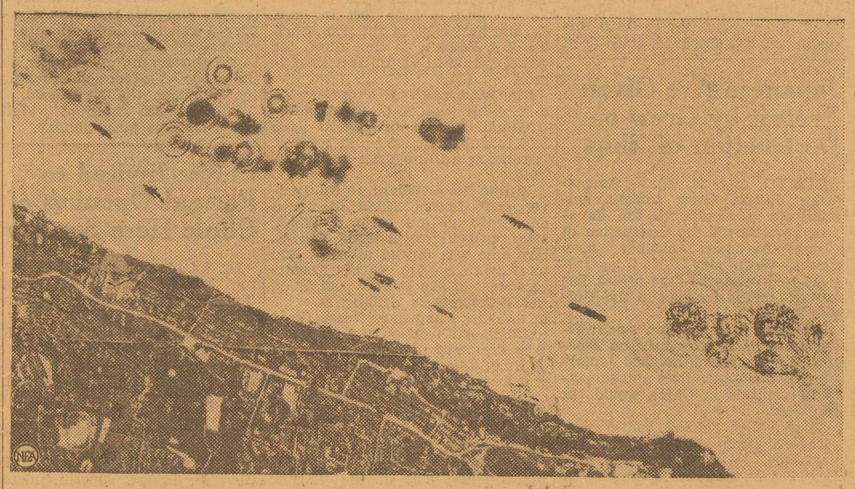

PROGRAMS ADMINISTERED BY OTHER FEDERAL AGENCIES.

Maternal and Child Welfare: The Federal aspects of the programs for promotion of maternal and child health; protection and care of the homeless, dependent, and neglected children; locating crippled children and providing medical, surgical, and corrective care are administered by the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor. Under these programs, Texas had received $804,293.23 by June 30, according to Treasury statements. This includes $347,193.42 for maternal and child health services; $321,792.52 for services for crippled children; and $135,307.29 for child-welfare services.

Public Health: The program under which Federal funds are given to the States to assist them in establishing and maintaining adequate public health servicesis administered by the United States Public Health Service. By June 30, Texas had received $780,664.20 for this purpose, according to Treasury statments.

Vocational Rehabilitation: The program of vocational rehabilitation, under which physically disabled persons are trained and placed in gainful employment, is administered by the Office of Education of the Interior Department. Reports of this office show that on June 30, 1937, the latest date for which figures are available, 2,54[illegible] persons in Texas were in process of rehabilitation.

Looking Down From a Japanese Bomber

The Town Quack

I've just heard that the banks and the post office will be closed all during the rodeo. Such recognition and respect from the financial institutions and the federal government is worthy of notice. It was Homer Ingham who first called it to my attention. Now if every institution will take such notice of the rodeo, I'm sure it will be a success.

If you doubt the above statement, I'll remind you that the banks and post office close at noon Saturday. The rodeo parade starts at 1 p. m. Of course the banks and post office won't be open Sunday, and as Monday is Labor day they won't be open then either, so they will be closed throughout the rodeo which is Saturday, Sunday and Monday afternoons and nights.

I am authorized by Jack Bodkins to express his extreme indignation. In fact Jack is all boined up. He's worse than that, he's hot under the collar. He's in a lather, a dither, a swivet and a sweat. And it's all because he was appointed chief enforcement officer to see that everybody wore rodeo clothes or got ducked in the tank. They gave him the job but they didn't give him any tool to work with. The tank never was set up. Jack wore his western clothing for a day or two, giving them a chance to set up the works. Yesterday he came to town in disgust, clad in his snap brim Borsalino, his belted back coat, his white pants and white shoes. And who can blame him? He didn't want to be a cowboy in the first place, but when they egged him on to being enforcement officer, he prepared himself with a broad brimmed hat, boots, $4.95 rodeo shirt and all the fixin's.

If Jack could find anybody with authority to accept his resignation, he would resign. But he was the highest officer and you have to have somebody higher up or you can't tender your resignation. He puts his situation up to the people. Does anybody know how he can solve this proposition? Can anybody help him get satisfaction? Jack is burned up!

Gail Henderson, above, is only 4, but when she enters school this fall, she may be something of a problem to her teachers. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Henderson of St. Louis, Mo.

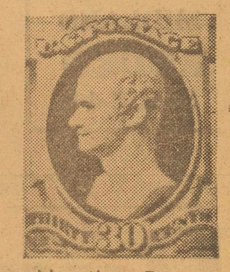

Thrift in Salvation Army.

TORONTO, Ont. (U.P.)—A sewing machine and a seal coat were left to the Salvation Army here in the wills of two women. The sewing machine was put into active service and the fur coat was sold and the money was used to purchase clothing more suitable for needy people.

Rats Douse Police Lights.

STORIES IN STAMPS

How Hamilton Ran U. S. Treasury

FROM a brilliant career as a leader in the American revolution, Alexander Hamilton plunged at once into the task of launching the new government when Washington named him first secretary of the treasury.

Hardly had he taken office when Congress referred to him a mass of staggering problems bearing on the meager financing of the new nation. Hamilton responded with a succession of papers and a series of administrative acts that permanently marked the conduct of his cabinet office.

He issued two important reports on public credit, one upholding the ideal of a high national honor, and a second on manufactures, urging their encouragement through a system of bounties paid from surplus revenues accruing from a tariff. This latter document has served ever since as one of the great arguments for the American protective tariff policy.

Hamilton urged also the creation of a national bank and the use of power by Congress to preserve at all times the "welfare of the people." In his office, meantime, he had established a smoothly working financial setup, creating such order and confidence in the treasury department as to make it a steady prop for the whole structure of the country.

Mrs. Milton Kidwell Complimented With Miscellaneous Shower Thursday Evening

Honoring Mrs. Milton Kidwell, the former Miss Gertrude Elizabeth Brown whose marriage took place recently, Mrs. Ben Carson and Miss Dorothy Hines were hostesses for a cleverly-appointed miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. E. F. Conner, 804 S. Colorado, Thursday evening from 6 o'clock until 8 o'clock.

Zinnias and other August flowers were used in the entertaining rooms where the bride's chair was marked by a bouquet.

Miss Adeon Dyess presided at the guest register. The bride's book was tied with pink ribbon and bore a cover design of handpainted flowers in pink and blue.

Miss Eura Sneed presented each arriving guest with a corsage of pink and white pom pon chrysanthemums tied with pink and white ribbon.

Pen-and-pencil games conducted by Mrs. E. F. Conner furnished recreation for the group, opening with the initials of the bride's maiden name—G. E. B.. In another contest, telegrams were written using selected letters of the alphabet.

Presentation of gifts was made in a blindfold game of "blow out the candle." Miss Vivian Arnett and Miss Sneed initiated this game and the third to make a trial at blowing out the candle flame was the honoree. While she was blindfolded, little Lady Kidwell brought in a covered coaster wagon decorated in pink and filled with gifts. When the blindfold wes removed, Mrs. Kidwell found herself facing a heap of bridal gifts ranging from waffle iron and toaster to bedspreads and luncheon cloths.

A pink and white theme was followed in the party plate served at the close of the evening. White plates with lacy pink paper doilies were used in the service which featured pink and white ice cream ad white-iced cakes bearing the names of the honoree and her husband, "Gertrude and Milton", in pink lettering.

Present were: Misses Adeon Dyess, Eura Sneed, Boerne Kidwell, Genell Conner, Mrs. E. F. Conner, Miss Alta Merrell, Miss Olga Edwards, Mrs. A. C. Francis, Mrs. E. J. Flanery, Mrs. L. L. Two tables were appointed for the bridge games which opened at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Preston Bridgewater held high score for play and second high went to Miss Dorothy Henderson, a club guest.

Luncheon was served after the bridge hours to Miss Henderson and the following club members: Mmes. Jas H. Chapple, Bridgewater, Elliott Miller, C. A. Mix, Joe Pyron, F. F. Winger, Neilson Young, and the hostess.

Your Child's Future

THE biggest job you have ever had, parents,—that of caring for your children—is safeguarding their health so that their future happiness and success may be assured.

Nothing is more important to them than their eyes. No child is healthy without healthy eyes. No child can achieve success without good vision.

There's only one way to tell whether or not your children's vision is normal—have their eyes examined. Do it now before school begins.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES.

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 28.

The Golden Text is: "Thou, Bethlehem Ephratah, though thou be little among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall he come forth unto me that is to be ruler in Israel; whose goings forth have been from of old, from everlasting" (Micah 5:2).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, ... Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore wise as serpents, and harmless as doves" (Matthew 10:5, 16).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "It is possible,—yea, it is the duty and privilege of every child man, and woman,—to follow in some degree the example of the Master by the demonstration of Truth and Life, of health and holiness" (page 37).

SPUDDERS MAKE IT TWO STRAIGHT OVER CARDINALS BY 3-2 WIN

CLUBS WILL PLAY THIS AFTERNOON, TONIGHT AT 8:30

His parents call him Frank. His teammates call him Frankie. But to the rest of the league he is rapidly becoming known as "Hard Luck" Nelson. He lost another last night and, like it has been in his last five losses, the defeat was by one run.

Nelson tied up with Grabek of Wink in a pitchers' duel and had all the best of it except in one way—the amount of runs scored. Grabek's mates gave him three runs on four hits, Nelson's mates gave him two runs on ten hits. Once more, just as it has been in all his one-run losses, a home run was what beat Nelson.

Big Jake Suytar, who lost the game as a pitcher and failed to get a hit Wednesday night, officially designated "Suytar Night," paced all hitters with four singles in five times at bat last night but he just didn't come to the bat at the right times. However, he did drive in one Midland run and the other came on a double steal.

Although giving up ten hits, walking five and hitting one, Grabek was a miser in the pinches, leaving no less than 15 of the Cardinals stranded on base.

It was an uphill battle for the Cards all the way, with Wink getting off to a two run lead by virtue of scores in the third and sixth. The Cards got one in the seventh but the Spudders got another in the first half of the eighth to make the score three and one and assure the victory. The Red Birds got one in the eighth but couldn't get the tying run across.

The two clubs meet in two games today, the first to start at five o'clock this afternoon. It has been designated "Appreciation Day" and admission has been slashed a cool 80 per cent—to 10 cents. All adults will be given admission for the dime in the twilight game. Prices on the night game will be the same as usual.

Wink's win here last night while Big Spring was losing to the Lubbock club again virtually cinched a place in the playoff for the Spudders.

Following the game here tonight with Wink, the Big Spring Barons will be here Saturday night and Sunday to wind up the season. The Cards then swing into the playoff against the Clovis Pioneers—date and place to be designated later.

Mexicans Thank Citizens for Aid To Celebration

Thanks were expressed today to the citizens of Midland who have contributed to the celebration of the Sixteenth of September by Mexican residents. All Mexican men who have work are contributing $1.25 each to a fund to make the celebration possible, additional revenue being solicited from business institutions and individuals of Midland. A letter from the chamber of commerce endorsed the movement and recommended the collector, Jose Lopez, to the public.

Baseball, music, speaking, national songs by the girls and a big dance to which all citizens of Midland are invited will form the program. The celebration will be observed both September 15 and 16, the latter date being the anniversary of the independence of Mexico.

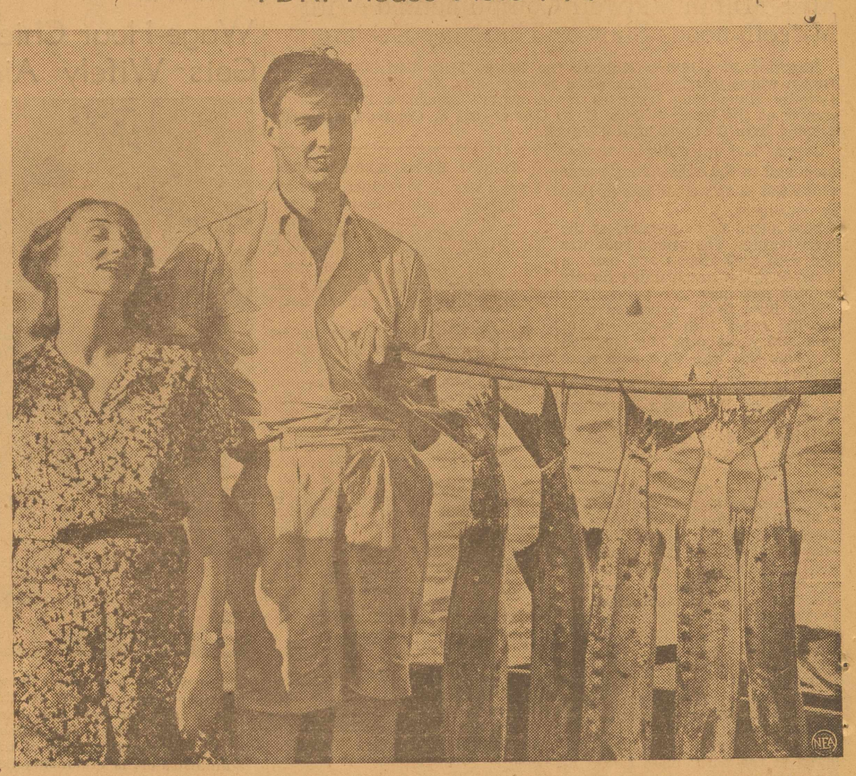

Officers and committeemen in charge of the affair are: president, Pedro Castillo; vice president, F. C. Marmolejo; secretary, Maximo Munos; treasurer, Tranquilino Florez; collector, Jose Lopez; directors of the national songs, Mrs. Maria Posta and Mrs. Felicitas Robledo; vocals, Jesus Torrez, Pablo Vasquez, Carlos Martinez, Sipriano Larez; flag holders, Jesus Castillo, Trinidad Hernandez, Sebastian Rubio, Emiliano Losoya, Martin Hernandez, Gregorio Vasquez, Damas Lerma, Hilario Fuentes.

Hold Everything!

"Say, did I leave a bag of cement instead of flour here this morning?"

FDR: Please Note . . .

Still honeymooning, the John Roosevelts—he is the youngest son of the President, she the former Anne Lindsay Clark—went a-fishing 20 miles off Bermuda and returned with an impressive haul, proudly displayed in the photo above. John caught five barracuda and a bonito and landed a shark. Anne hooked a twenty-two pound barracuda. "We hope Dad hears about this," commented young Roosevelt, since F. D. R. is something of fisherman himself.

"Bardo" was with Withers last season at Hobbs and the Hobbs team lost its chance at being League Champion when "Bardo" broke his right ankle one week before entering the play-off. At that time several major league scouts were casting covetous eyes on "Bardo."

Parks' home town is Meeker, Okla which is also the home of the great left-hander, Carl Hubbell of the New York Giants. "Bardo's" height is 5 feet-11 inches and his weight is 170 pounds. He is 22 years old.

Bennie Franklin, another of the Cardinal pitchers, is a right-hander. Known to his teammates as "Bennie" or "Chief". He is a full blooded Sac-Fox Indian and his home is Prague, Okla. His first professional experience in baseball was with "Tat" Withers last season at Hobbs. He is very cool in the pinches and has the highest batting average of any of the Cardinal pitchers—.300. The games lost while Bennie was pitching have been very low score games and often lost by one run.

This Cardinal is 5 feet-10 1/2 inches tall; weighs 160 pounds and is 23 years old. He will be used in the outfield in some of the play-off games because of his hitting. He is one of the four Cardinal players hitting better than .300.

This leaves only one more "Red Bird"—Bob Evans. Bob came to the Cardinals most recently. He was sent to Withers by Hap Minor, Sacramento scout because of his excellent baseball record in high school and try-outs.

This boy is 17 years old; weighs 170 pounds and is 6 feet tall. Bats and throws right.

His home town is Pasadena, Cal. where he graduated from the Muir Technical high school this past June. He played third base and outfielder for his high school team and received honorable mention on the all-star team for the high school of Southern California. Bob sounds good for the Cardinals.

Speaking of the All-Star team picked from the high school of Southern California makes me think that I did not mention this fact about "Spanky" Ballinger. He graduated from the Hoover high school in San Diego, Cal., where he played football and baseball. In base ball he played left-fielder for his high school and was picked for that position in the All-Star team of the high schools of Southern California. The Cardinals (Sacramento) changed him to position of catcher.

This gets all fourteen of the Cardinals who take the Midland name thru this league. The fifteenth man to carry this responsibility is probably the man that the other fourteen depend upon for he is both field and business manager of it all. Without careful administration by him the players and Midland would lose what they have had this season—a professional team that was able to play out a complete season, and enter the play-off. This man is Fincher Withers, manager and owner of the team and his is a complete story by itself so this will follow And just how does a professional team operate? Not on a shoe-string I found out.

Robert Sutton, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Sutton, underwent a tonsillectomy this morning and after being taken to his home was reported doing well early this afternoon.

MARTELLE McDONALD

Respectfully solicits your vote for

District Attorney

I am sincerely grateful to my many friends over the five county Judicial District for the tremendous vote which I received in the first primary. Due to their support and influence I only lacked five hundred ninety-nine votes of securing a clear majority in the first primary with four of us in the field, and led my nearest opponent by over two thousand votes. I feel very grateful for the votes and support which I received in this county.

I am a graduate of the Law School of Baylor University, am 31 years of age, and have been actively engaged in the practice of law in Big Spring for eight years and respectfully request that you check up on my character and qualifications for this office. I ask for your consideration only on the basis of merit, qualification and experience, and I will appreciate your vote in the second Democratic Primary, August 27, and also your influence in my behalf. The only promise that I have made in the campaign is that I will faithfully and impartially enforce the laws of our state, if elected.
