Board Says Opinions Of Patrons Sought Friday

LIONS SELECT NEW OFFICERS TO LEAD CLUB

Numbers by a quartet composed of Emmitt Butts, Lawrence Deavers, Lennie Bell and J. P. Tate was an entertainment feature of Tuesday's Lions Club meeting at the Manhattan Hotel. Butts and Tate also gave a duet number.

The nominations committee gave a report on the new officers elected Tuesday for the coming Lions Club year, which begins July 1. They are: Willard Jones, president; Earl Bullock, first vice president; Earl Brown, second vice president; Joe Graham, treasurer; and Wayne Boren, secretary. Earl Louder was elected club twister and J. R. Reeves is the new Lion tamer.

Lee Stinson, Sterling Williams and Bud Miller were elected new club directors. Following a talk by Lawrence Deavers, T-P Sunshine Singing Convention president, on the T-P convention at Graham Saturday and Sunday, the club voted the cooperative in inviting the state-wide singing convention to Snyder in June, 1940.

W. W. Smith, Hadley Reeve and H. A. Lattimore were appointed to arrange for a ladies' night program the latter part of June, at which time new club officers will be installed.

Lion Bullock gave a talk on the financial problems confronting Snyder Schools, and stressed the importance of the community meeting Friday night in Snyder gymnasium to discuss the school situation.

Snyder Seeks to Be Host for 1940 T-P Convention

A feature of the state-wide T-P Sunshine Singing Convention, which will attract approximately 5,000 singers of the Southwest to Graham Saturday and Sunday, will be the invitation extended by Snyder to act as 1940 convention host.

The Chamber of Commerce, the Lions Club and other groups and individuals are cooperating to invite the T-P convention, one of the largest in Texas. It would probably be the largest convention ever to be entertained by Snyder.

Lawrence Deavers of Snyder, the convention president, said Wednesday that telegrams and advance reservations already received indicate more than 5,000 singers from Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana will fill Graham's municipal auditorium and adjacent buildings in which the programs will be broadcast.

Leading singers and musicians from five states are on the program for Saturday afternoon, Saturday night and Sunday sessions. Special loud speakers will be furnished by Gulf Refining Company in order that sound equipment may carry the convention program to all parts of the memorial auditorium grounds.

Forest Wade Leaves Bakery for Mexico

Forest Wade, who has been associated with Ware's Bakery since 1926, with Mrs. Wade and their two children, left early this week for their new home at Clovis, New Mexico.

Wade became associated with the bakery when it was located on the east side. He continued with the firm after removal to the square's north side, and later when the bakery was moved to its present south side location.

W. H. Ware, owner, says he will drive the delivery wagon henceforth, and contemplates no personnel changes.

Statement from the Snyder Board of School Trustees

Ours is a job of community service, subject to constructive criticism of the people of the community. It is a place not sought by any member of the board, but accepted only because he is willing to discharge a duty of service to his school and his school district. Somebody must perform this service if the community has a school.

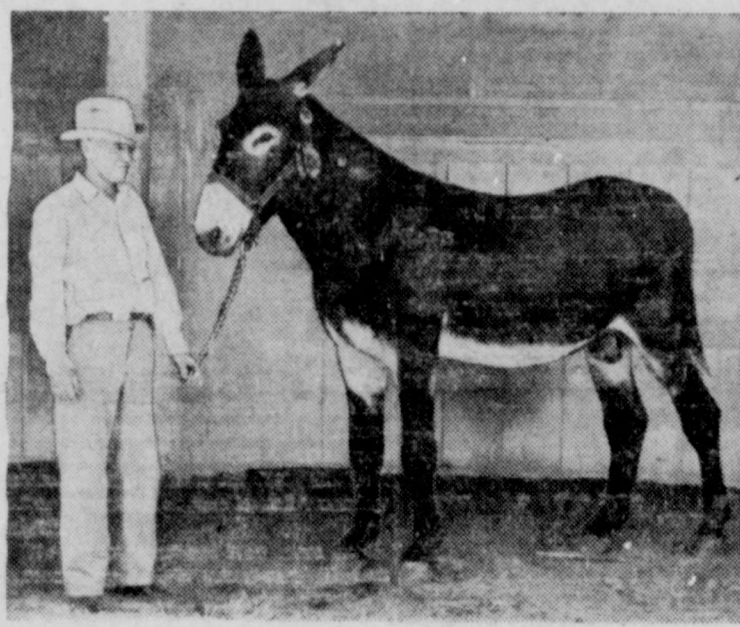

Available school funds have been curtailed in recent years by decreasing tax valuations, delinquent taxes and other contingencies. In the face of these curtailed revenues, student enrollments have increased from year to year. These two factors have caused a deficit in school funds.

Your school board now is faced with a serious problem of continuing its present course of progress with funds available. Our debts, in some way, must be paid. Frankly, we want to do what is best for the community, of course. Therefore, we have called a conference of those who are interested in our schools for Friday evening, 8:00 o'clock, at the school gymnasium.

We want school patrons to have a hand in working out this grave problem. We want them to attend the meeting—to express themselves and advise us. Your presence at the Friday conference will be greatly appreciated by—

YOUR SCHOOL BOARD.

Better Horseflesh for County!

Among 36 animals shown at the first Scurry County Coliseum Show recently was this outstanding jack belonging to J. H. Wood of Camp Spring, who is holding the breeding animal. The jack received high honors in the Fisher County mule show at Roby this year, and is the sire of many of the finest colts in Scurry, Fisher, Nolan and other Central West Texas counties. The fact that Wood's jack, as well as several other good breeding animals in this area, has been in constant demand this season emphasizes the fact that good horseflesh is in greater demand now than at any time in recent years. Success of the local colt show recently prompted the sponsoring Chamber of Commerce and county agent's office to announce that a second colt show—for mules only—will be held in August.

RAINBOW ADDS NEW FRONTAGE

Recent major improvements at Rainbow Market Place, located one block east of the square on the highway, have resulted in doubled floor space. An 85-foot fronting is now offered customers as a result of addition of an east wing to the original building.

Interior shelving has been rearranged, and the checking counter has been placed in the center of the food store. The meat department has been moved just east of the checking counter and slightly to the rear.

Jim Adams, Rainbow proprietor, reports a 100x100 parking space for customers has been arranged just back of the store. Shoppers are invited to make use of the parking lot.

Groceries and vegetables have been arranged on the market's east side, with flour, feeds and meal placed on the west side.

Four Local Firemen Will Attend State Harlingen Sessions

Clyde Boren, delegate from the nine-county Midwest Fireman's Association, together with Mack Gideon, Marcel Josephson and Melvin Newton, local fire department delegates, will attend the State Fireman's and Fire Marshals' Association of Texas convention at Harlingen June 13, 14 and 15.

Foremen, who will go with the three local fire department delegates, was elected Midwest representative at the Albany meeting of the organization recently.

Features of the 63rd annual convention will include sightseeing trips to Old Mexico and barbecue served by Rio Grande Valley cattlemen.

SCHOOL FACTS TO BE FACED IN GYM MEETING

"Snyder Schools belong to the people of the community they serve, and their operation is for the benefit of the students for whom they were erected," members of the school board have impressed upon the citizens of the community in preparation for the conference called for Friday evening of this week at the gymnasium. Time of the meeting is 8:30 o'clock.

Purpose of the meeting, as pointed out by trustees, is to discuss ways and means out of a financial strait into which the schools have become involved through decreased revenues and increased enrollments, plus last year's school fire.

A deficit of approximately $3,000 has resulted from last year's operation of the schools, according to a financial statement given in an advertisement (paid for by patrons) on page four of The Times today.

The statement is released for public inspection in order that those interested in schools may have first-hand insight into the budgets followed by trustees for the 1938-39 term of school. More detailed explanation of this statement, as well as other figures, will be given at Friday night's conference.

Several hundred patrons of the school system are expected to attend the meeting and participate in discussions of the financial problems.

"The school board has no intention of denouncing the meeting in an effort to tell the patrons what should be done," President W. W. Smith said this morning. "Our minds are open to practical and constructive criticism of our efforts to give the community a good school. We have resolved to operate the schools on a cash basis, and in this meeting we hope patrons will assist us in reaching a solution of this community problem."

"The schools are not ours. We are merely acting as agents of the people in honest endeavor to give our children as good schools as possible with the money available."

Smith is joined in this statement by other members of the board—John E. Sentell, A. C. Prentiss, Maurice Brownfield, C. M. Boren, Ixon Joyce and N. W. Autry.

Hot Hamlin Nine Meets Snyder on Local Diamond

The Hamlin independent baseball team, which gave the locals their only severe beating of the season, comes to town Sunday afternoon, 3:30 o'clock, for a return game on Winston Field.

After their 9-1 trouncing at Hamlin's hands, on the Jones County field, last Sunday, the home boys are determined to return to the form that helped them build a nice win-column percentage for the season.

Hamlin piled up too much lead in early innings, partially on Snyder, errors, to be whipped last Sunday. The Hamlin pitcher held the locals boys under control better than they have been handled at any other time this season.

Local fans interested in "the national pastime" are urged to be at Winston Field Sunday afternoon—not only for some real baseball, but also to help make up lost time because of the Sweetwater game that was rained out two weeks ago, says "Key" Lewis, business manager.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Fesmire and small daughter, Jolene, of Odessa are vacationing with their parents, Mrs. Mary Fesmire and Mr. and Mrs. Jess Garner, in Snyder.

WATER RATES, NEW SALARIES SAYS COUNCIL

May Building Permits Climb; Water Collections Show Sharp Jump As Summer Comes

New water rates set by the City Council Monday night, effective for June billing, will include $1.25 for a minimum of 3,000 gallons, 25 cents per 1,000 for the next 7,000 gallons of water, and 15 cents per 1,000 for water in excess of 10,000 gallons.

Arrangements were made to purchase asphalt for topping four more blocks of city streets. Monday night's council meeting was presided over by Mayor H. G. Towle.

As an economy measure, the salaries of nearly all city employees were cut approximately 10 per cent. W. H. Grant, Earl Strawn and G. M. Browning were dropped from full-time work with the city force.

May building permits touched the $8,350 level, with building permits for the year to date totaling $112,000. May fines amounted to $22.40, with tax collections for the month being $69.51.

An increased usage of water was evident by May water collections of $1,848.44.

Bills, amounting to $2,656.23, were approved at the council meeting. An order was issued by the council closing the dead end street between the D. P. Yoder and John E. Sentell homes.

C. & G. NO. 1 TO PROVE AMONG BEST OF TESTS

Coffield & Guthrie's No. 1 First National Bank well, which flowed 53 barrels of oil by heads in 20 minutes early Saturday morning, was the Sharon Ridge pool's development headline over the week-end.

Location of Coffield & Guthrie's No. 1 First National, which gives indications of being one of the southwest Scurry County's pool's strongest producers, is in the southwest corner of the northwest quarter, Section 130.

The second major attention getter in the Sharon Ridge field was Paul Teas No. 1 W. P. Thompson well, shot Saturday morning with 1,330 quarts of nitro from 2,270 to 2,460 feet. Location is in the northwest one-fourth of Section 129.

Cleaning out operations on the Texas-Thompson well are being completed this week with the new Beckman rotary flush process, which brings cuttings to the surface and cleans out the hole without the necessity of swabbing operations.

Completion of the H. C. Wheeler No. 1 M. J. Sims test, which encountered upper pay sections from 2,230 to 2,437 feet last Wednesday night, is awaiting results of the Beckman rotary flush process being tried in the Teas No. 1 Thompson.

A one-half mile northeast extension producer, the Wheeler-Sims well is located 330 feet from the south and west lines, northeast one-fourth of Section 141.

W. E. Callahan's No. 2 First National Bank test, which encountered upper pay sections over the week-end, will be shot this morning (Thursday) with 900 quarts of nitro

AUSTIN MOVES TO ASPERMONT

G. R. Austin, section foreman for the State Highway Department in Scurry and Borden Counties since the twenties, was transferred last week to Aspermont, where he will hold a similar position.

Taking Austin's place is Sam McCombs, who has been with the department as foreman at Big Spring. He is moving his family to Snyder.

All section foremen in District 8 were changed in the shift that moved Austin and McCombs.

The Austins built one of the most attractive homes and grounds in East Snyder not long after they came here. The home is being occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Garth Austin.

THREE CHURCHES IN BIBLE SCHOOLS

Extensive Plans Worked Out for Baptist Children

Vacation Bible School at the First Baptist Church begins Monday morning at 8:00 o'clock, and classes will be held each weekday morning from 8:00 until 11:00 o'clock. Ruby Lavender, church educational director, will be in general charge.

Friday will be preparation day for the school. Boys and girls are asked to gather at 9:00 o'clock. Registration of pupils will begin at 3:30 in the afternoon, and a parade will be held at 4:00, the group parading the city streets and into the residential section.

For the parade, boys and girls of the Baptist and Methodist-Presbyterian schools will cooperate, each one bringing his horns, whistles and other noise-makers. At the close the Baptists will have a picnic on the church yard.

The Baptist school will feature Bible stories and character stories and handicrafts for boys and girls. Play will be directed and music will be stressed throughout the two-week school. Commencement program will be given Sunday evening, June 25, in the place of regular preaching service.

Composing the faculty will be 40 of the Baptist grown-ups. The four departments, Miss Lavender announces, will be in charge of the following: Beginners, Daurice Worley; primaries, Mrs. John DeShazo; Juniors, Mrs. Ira Harrison; intermediates, Mrs. D. V. Merritt. Milk and cookies will be served to beginners and primaries each day.

HOBBS TO GET WPA FUNDS TO HELP CAMPUS

Approval of a $7,200 WPA campus beautification project for Hobbs High School was received this week by Superintendent N. J. Gullett. The grant is one of the largest received so far for a rural school in this trade territory.

The Hobbs school board will supplement federal with local funds to construct a 60-foot-wide driveway with rock curbing and a rock wall of native stone around the school grounds.

Work on the WPA beautification project is slated to start within the next two weeks, WPA officials said Monday.

The 60-foot driveway, topped with caliche and gravel, will start at the northwest corner of the Hobbs campus. It will go west of the primary, main and home economics buildings, south of the agriculture building, and north of the football field. Rock curbing will be placed on each side of the driveway with walks to be constructed from the school buildings to driveway bus stops.

Besides the native rock wall around the school campus, other beautification specifications call for two concrete tennis courts just to the north of the Hobbs gymnasium.

The area east and north of the four buildings, formerly used for driveways, will be sodded and filled with shrubbery and trees due to be added as a campus improvement feature.

Twenty-Eight Take Courses at School

Twenty-eight students—five in grammar grades—enrolled for the summer term of Snyder Schools that started Monday, reports Hadley Reeve, in charge of summer study courses.

This is the largest summer school enrollment here in recent years. Reeve says students may enroll as late as Monday of next week and receive credit on their courses. The summer term will continue nine weeks, counting this week. Classes begin at 7:00 o'clock each morning, Monday through Friday.

Teachers are Reeve, Hattie Heron and Mrs. J. C. Smyth.

Name Leaders in Church of Christ Vacation School

The Vacation Bible School at the Church of Christ, with a strong faculty and plenty of advance interest, promises to attract dozens of children of that congregation, according to Shirley Morgan, minister.

"We are also anxious to enlist other children who have not already made plans to attend a summer Bible school," he said yesterday.

Parents of children from primary through younger intermediate ages are urged to make plans to bring or send their children to the school.

First meeting will be held Monday morning at 9:00 o'clock, and will last until 11:00. Teachers in the school will include: Morgan, Gay McGlaun, Mrs. O'Dell Ryan, and three members of the church who have been attending college—Dorothy Pinkerton and Joetta Beauchamp, students in Abilene Christian College, and Dorothy Terry, WTSTC, Canyon.

SEVERAL BITS OF GOOD NEWS FOR HIGHWAY

While survey crews continued busy in Scurry County, good news about Highway 15 was broadcast from several sources.

The Abilene Reporter-News said Tuesday:

"S. J. Treadaway, District 8 highway engineer, was in Dawson and Borden Counties Monday checking progress of a project from the Dawson County line to Gall, Borden County seat, a distance of 14.5 miles. He reported today that the project is complete with the exception of a small bridge."

District engineers are completing plans, estimates, etc., for Highway 15 across Scurry County, a distance of 36 miles. They hope to let contract for this project perhaps as early as July.

The letting of a contract June 20 for grading, drainage structures, flexible base and asphalt surface treatment on Highway 15 from Seminole to the New Mexico line will fill the only remaining gap in the East-West Highway from Louisiana to New Mexico, outside of the stretch from Fisher County to Gall, that has not been completed.

Much work is scheduled for June on Highway 15 in western Dawson County, according to a report this week from Lamesa. Caliche shoulders will be built on several miles.

First Reunion in 28 Years for Five Trevey Brothers

A family reunion at the Emmett Trevey home Sunday attracted five brothers, ranging in age from 59 to 72, and a number of other relatives and friends.

The brothers came from Virginia to Texas 57 years ago. They were the only children in the family—and all of them continue hale and hearty as the shadows of the years fall on their shoulders. Some of the boys have lived in Scurry County 48 years. Thus, they are among the first citizens of the county.

It was the first time in more than 28 years that all the brothers were together.

A bountiful dinner was spread at noon. The afternoon was spent playing games and talking of old times.

The guest list included: J. E. Trevey of Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Will Trevey of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Andy Trevey of Blison; Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Trevey and daughter, Verlyn; Emmett Trevey, Mr. and Mrs. Hoyle Cary and children, Mr. and Mrs. Buddie Trevey, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Griffith, all of this community; Mr. and Mrs. Styles Trevey and children, Canyon. In addition to these relatives, guests were Mr. Tunell of Blison and Willie May of Canyon. All the children of the four brothers, except four, and all grandchildren except four, were present.

Last County School Closes Term Friday

Arah, the only county school that operated into June, closed Friday with a picnic and community get-together that attracted a sizeable crowd. Teacher Nathan Goolsby reported Monday.

Ending of the Arah term brings all county schools to a close until the regular fall openings.

Methodists and Presbyterians in Two-Week Event

Opening Monday morning, a cooperative Vacation Bible School will be sponsored by the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches for two weeks. The school is held annually by the two churches, and it promises to be as interesting this year as previous times.

Children from four to 14 years of age are invited to participate in the school, say the two pastors—Rev. I. A. Smith and Rev. C. H. Ward. Two hours of work and play will be under the supervision of church leaders, who specialize in the work, each morning.

The two pastors will be assisted by Mmes. Lydia M. Hardy, Ward and King Sides, who will be in charge of departments, and a number of other workers. Classes will begin at 8:30 each morning and continue through 10:30.

Friday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock Methodist and Presbyterian children and others who wish to come are urged to meet at the Methodist Church to register, so that definite programs may be worked out by Monday.

Following registration the youngsters will join the Baptists in a downtown parade.

TIMES SHOTS

Four county highway leaders were in Vernon Wednesday noon for a special dinner given for Harry Hines, member of the State Highway Commission. The quartet from here that was given a special invitation to the tribute affair was composed of: Sterling Williams, county judge; Dr. H. G. Towle, mayor; W. J. Ely, president, East-West Highway Association; and Forest Sears, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce highway committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence B. Whitley, who have lived for several years on one of the J. V. Riley estate places (Mrs. Whitley was a Riley girl), moved last week to the old Tandy Key Ranch, near Stephenville, which they have leased. Their post office is Lingville. Ranch headquarters will continue to be at the modern six-room ranch house, which features electric lights and other conveniences. Accompanying them to the new place was Mrs. Whitley's daughter, Zonell Burnett, a 1939 graduate of the local high school. The Whitleys made last rounds of gathering loose ends the past week-end, as they said goodbye to their Snyder and Scurry County relatives and friends.

Optimistic Harrie Winston, quoted in Wednesday's Star-Telegram, is said to have said: "Scurry County is in the best condition for several years." Harrie was in Ft. Worth Monday checking up on cattle conditions on his way to College Station where the first Hereford tour for this year sponsored by the Texas Hereford Association got under way Tuesday night with a meeting of the executive committee at a barbecue at Bryan and inspection of the herd of cattle at College Station.

County farmers are completing early June replanting this week and rounding out working of early feedstuffs, as sunshiny weather continues to be offered. Due to wettest May in county history, 1.34 of an inch precipitation June 1, many farmers got behind with late cotton planting, but they are going late and early this week to get row-crop seeding finished.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Casey and their small son, Billy Mack, who have been living in Roscoe, since moving from Snyder to Brownfield and then returning to Mack's home town, left Snyder early Monday for Lometa, California, a suburb of Los Angeles. They visited with Mrs. Casey's parents, the A. C. Martins. Casey was manager of the Edd Dadds store, south side, here. He will be associated with the market of a store in Lometa, one of several stores in that section owned by his uncle, Charlie Dadds, a brother of Edd Dadds.

Several hundred Scurry, Kent, Fisher, Borden and Nolan County traders and buyers were attracted to Snyder for First Monday swapping and buying. Cottonseed, fattening shoats and milk cows gained the spotlight as principal selling items. Although lower price quotations at Ft. Worth was a depressant for hog offerings. Fresh milk cows were not too plentiful.

Mrs. Maurice Collier Made Honoree For Three Gift Parties Here Friday

Mrs. Maurice Collier of Midland was made honoree Friday at a trio of gift parties given by local friends. Before her recent marriage Mrs. Collier was Maxine Huckabee of Snyder. Her parents are the Wray Huckabees here.

Mrs. Collier arrived in Snyder early Friday to spend two days with her parents and to attend the Friday parties, returning to Midland Saturday evening.

First of the compliments was a miscellaneous shower Friday afternoon, for which there were four hostesses. At 6:00 o'clock that evening a picnic supper and shower was given for Mrs. Collier by the Mary Martha Class of the First Baptist Church. Friday evening her own crowd of special friends were guests at a gift party in the Joe Brown home.

Party at Brown Home.
Friends with whom Mrs. Collier and her husband were closely associated in Snyder in recent weeks were invited by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brown for a party Friday evening. Gifts were presented, and ice cream and cookies were passed late in the evening.

Guests were: Mrs. Collier, Mayme Lee Gibson, Katie Marie Louder, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Minyard, Mr. and Mrs. Dub Gandy, Jesse Brooks, Armin Moffett and Garland Jacobs.

Miscellaneous Shower.
Mmes. A. B. Eicke and Luster Huckabee were joined by Mrs. Eicke's daughter, Burnell, and Mayme Lee Gibson in hosting a miscellaneous shower for Mrs. Maurice Collier of Midland at the home of Mrs. Eicke, who is the honoree's aunt. Sixty-four guests registered in the bride's book, presided over by Mrs. Huckabee.

Roses and snapdragons featured decorations for the living room of the Eicke home. A pink and white color note was used in appointments for the dining room, where

To Query Women All Over South

Touring Reporters have now asked over 1,200 women and girls of leading Southern Cities the now famous question: "Were you helped by CARDUI?"

Averaging all replies so far shows that 93 out of every 100 were questioned declared CARDUI benefitted them!

Users by thousands are eager to tell how CARDUI has given them appetite; helped them gain strength; has thus relieved them of the symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition. Many also say that, when symptoms indicate the need, CARDUI in larger doses helps "at the time" to soothe pain.

Club Will Disband For Summer Months

Tuesday Afternoon Bridge Club will disband during summer months. It was decided at a meeting at the home of Mrs. W. H. Caudle this week. Resuming regular alternate-weekly meetings in September, the group will be guests of Mrs. E. M. Deakins at the first fall meeting.

At the party this week Mrs. Tom Boren, only guest, retained the traveling prize at the close of bridge play, and Mrs. W. W. Hamilton was awarded the high score prize. The hostess passed a lovely ice course.

Members attending were: Mmes. W. J. Ely, H. J. Brice, H. P. Brown, T. L. Lollar, J. C. Dorward, Sidney Johnson, Joe Strayhorn, Hamilton, W. R. Johnson, A. C. Preult and E. M. Deakins.

pink and white crepe paper streamers were strung from the chandelier to the lace-covered table, from which the gifts were presented.

During entertaining hours young Seaborn Eicke, son of the A. B. Eickes, gave two violin selections. Miss Eicke, after presenting a clever toast to the bride, led her to the table, which was piled high with lovely gifts.

Dainty refreshments were passed to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Wray Huckabee, and 64 other guests. Favors for the guests were miniature silver wedding rings tied with pink bows.

Class Picnic-Gift Party.
Honoring Mrs. Collier, the former Maxine Huckabee, who has been president of the Mary Martha Class of the First Baptist Church until she moved to Midland two weeks ago, the group held a picnic-gift party at the school park Friday evening at 6:00 o'clock. Mrs. Joe Graham is class teacher.

Since the party was in her honor, Mrs. Collier was invited to spread the supper from a picnic basket, which in reality was filled with wedding gifts. A picnic supper was served.

Present were: Maxine Collier, Evelyn Worley, Lottie Weller, Katherine Williamson, Evelyn Weller, Lola Mae Littlepage, Mrs. R. C. Miller Jr., Wanda Griffin, Florentine Joyce, Nell Day, Myrtle Mae Gibbons, Lucille Niedeken, Muriel Woodward and Mrs. Graham.

E. R. Duke, state wheat crop supervisor, Lester Young and Glen B. Scott, Triple A field officers from Colliere Station, and two AAA wheat inspectors from Washington, were principal speakers at the meeting, presided over by K. J. Edwards.

Official capacities represented by the county quartet are: Wellborn, local wheat crop insurance supervisor; Wilson, chairman of county committee; Cox, county agent; and Hyman, administrative assistant.

Details of the 1940 wheat crop program, together with insurance plans, were two highlights of the Lubbock meeting.

THE TIMES TABLE

A. D. ERWIN, who succeeds Marshall A. Fuller as president of Snyder National Bank, has always been a demon for work. He recalls that he and the new president of First National Bank at Ft. Worth worked side by side, back in 1908, over two old Boston ledgers. There was only one adding machine in the bank; thus, most of the figuring and book-keeping was done with pen and ink.

The entire group numbered 29, including the seniors. Superintendent E. L. Farr, Class Mother Mrs. Farr, and Margaret Jane, their daughter, as well as the bus driver, A. C. Sturdivant, the class sponsor, Mrs. Marvin Hamback, and Mr. Hamback. The first stop was at Carlsbad City, where the party spent the night. Boating and swimming were enjoyed by all at Lake View Courts. Sunday morning the trip was to the Caverns, and the afternoon was spent in viewing its wonders.

Sunday night saw the party en route to El Paso, where they made camp. Juarez was the next place of interest early Monday morning. Here many souvenirs were purchased and much was learned of Old Mexico and the inhabitants.

After lunch the trippers journeyed on to the land of snow and mountains at Rudosa. Sports of all kinds were enjoyed, but climbing to the many places of interest in the mountains was the most widely entered into.

The journey homeward was begun early Tuesday morning, May 30. The entire group, after three days of pleasure, was reluctant to leave this delightful retreat. Hermleigh was reached at approximately 11:00 o'clock Tuesday night.

Four Back to Town From Austin School

Ernie Dorward, who is doing graduate work in Journalism at the University of Texas, came home Friday. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dorward, drove down for her, and she is planning to be here all summer, returning to Austin this fall. Miss Dorward is a graduate of Southwestern University, Georgetown.

William "Bubba" Boren spent several days here before returning to his summer job with a construction company in Corpus Christi. John Blakey, who is taking a law course in the University of Texas, will continue his studies all summer. Roland Bell Jr., who is doing senior work at the University in government, will be working in Austin all summer, continuing his schooling in the fall.

Marjorie Reynolds, daughter of Jim Reynolds, came home Saturday to visit during the summer. She has been studying in the University of Texas. Also home for awhile is her brother, Jack Reynolds, who has been working in Austin.

Hugh Taylor Jr. is out of school at the University for the summer and arrived home early this week.

SCOUTS AT ENNIS CREEK.
Roy O. Irvin, rural Boy Scout executive for Scurry County, says a scout meeting for the purpose of organizing a troop at Ennis Creek will be held at the Ennis school house Tuesday night, 8:30 o'clock. Woodrow Smith, Ennis principal, will serve as scoutmaster. Everyone in the community interested in scouting is cordially invited to be present.

Fluvanna, Snyder
Will Send Sponsors
To Big Spring Soon
The citizens of Big Spring and surrounding territory are all agog over the approaching rodeo, June 23-24-25. This is Big Spring's outstanding annual event, when the oldtime cowhands meet and reminisce.

Snyder and Fluvanna will take active parts in the sponsor contest, Elizabeth Miller having already been named by Fluvanna, and Snyder to name a sponsor this week. Miss Miller, as a representative of the Miller Brothers Ranch in Borden County, last year won first place at the Texas Cowboy Reunion, Stamford. First prize to be awarded at Big Spring is a $135 saddle.

Mrs. Modesta Good Simpson, a daughter of T. J. Good, president of the Rodeo Association, will be official hostess to sponsors, and Mary Nell Edwards, winner of first prize at Midland Rodeo last year, is Miss Big Spring.

There will be two performances daily—2:00 and 8:30 p. m., Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

By WINIFRED CASEY,
1939 Hermleigh High Graduate.

Bright and as early as 10:00 o'clock Saturday morning, May 27, the senior class of Hermleigh High School began its annual trip, this time to points of interest in New Mexico and Mexico, including the Carlsbad Caverns.

The entire group numbered 29, including the seniors. Superintendent E. L. Farr, Class Mother Mrs. Farr, and Margaret Jane, their daughter, as well as the bus driver, A. C. Sturdivant, the class sponsor, Mrs. Marvin Hamback, and Mr. Hamback. The first stop was at Carlsbad City, where the party spent the night. LEADS CHURCH THIS SUMMER

Minister of the Church of Christ during the summer vacation period is Shirley Morgan, teacher in the county for four years.

Morgan has done extensive evangelistic work—preaching and song leading—during the summer periods since he finished Abilene Christian College in 1935. He has taught at Ira one year, Dunn one year, and was recently reelected for a third year at Hermleigh. He and Mr. Morgan will continue to make their home in Hermleigh this summer.

William Leftwich, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Leftwich, celebrated his fourteenth birthday last Wednesday by inviting 12 of his friends to be his guests. Quite husky for his age, William weighs 140 pounds, and his hobbies during summer months are hunting and fishing. He has missed Sunday school very few times during his life, Mrs. Leftwich says.

William "Bubba" Boren spent several days here before returning to his summer job with a construction company in Corpus Christi.

John Blakey, who is taking a law course in the University of Texas, will continue his studies all summer. Roland Bell Jr., who is doing senior work at the University in government, will be working in Austin all summer, continuing his schooling in the fall.

To Big Spring Soon

The citizens of Big Spring and surrounding territory are all agog over the approaching rodeo, June 23-24-25. This is Big Spring's outstanding annual event, when the oldtime cowhands meet and reminisce.

Snyder and Fluvanna will take active parts in the sponsor contest, Elizabeth Miller having already been named by Fluvanna, and Snyder to name a sponsor this week.

Miss Miller, as a representative of the Miller Brothers Ranch in Borden County, last year won first place at the Texas Cowboy Reunion, Stamford. First prize to be awarded at Big Spring is a $135 saddle.

Mrs. Modesta Good Simpson, a daughter of T. J. Good, president of the Rodeo Association, will be official hostess to sponsors, and Mary Nell Edwards, winner of first prize at Midland Rodeo last year, is Miss Big Spring.

There will be two performances daily—2:00 and 8:30 p. m., Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

LEADS CHURCH THIS SUMMER

Minister of the Church of Christ during the summer vacation period is Shirley Morgan, teacher in the county for four years.

Morgan has done extensive evangelistic work—preaching and song leading—during the summer periods since he finished Abilene Christian College in 1935. He has taught at Ira one year, Dunn one year, and was recently reelected for a third year at Hermleigh. He and Mr. Morgan will continue to make their home in Hermleigh this summer.

William Leftwich, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Leftwich, celebrated his fourteenth birthday last Wednesday by inviting 12 of his friends to be his guests. Quite husky for his age, William weighs 140 pounds, and his hobbies during summer months are hunting and fishing. He has missed Sunday school very few times during his life, Mrs. Leftwich says.

William "Bubba" Boren spent several days here before returning to his summer job with a construction company in Corpus Christi.

John Blakey, who is taking a law course in the University of Texas, will continue his studies all summer. Roland Bell Jr., who is doing senior work at the University in government, will be working in Austin all summer, continuing his schooling in the fall.

Marjorie Reynolds, daughter of Jim Reynolds, came home Saturday to visit during the summer. She has been studying in the University of Texas. Also home for awhile is her brother, Jack Reynolds, who has been working in Austin.

Hugh Taylor Jr. is out of school at the University for the summer and arrived home early this week.

HERE AFTER

THEY'RE DESERVING

Those kids of ours—the finest that ever breathed, and dear to the hearts of all of us! We can not do too much for them in fitting them for their future lives. Therefore—

WE WILL PROVIDE THEM WITH GOOD SCHOOLS

Our children have a right to look to us as citizens of a progressive community for adequate schooling; for efficient teachers, for modern classrooms, for first-class equipment—these things that are necessary for an education. They depend on us parents—

We'll Not Let Our Kiddies Down!

We, the undersigned citizens of Snyder Independent School District, are interested in the future of our children—the citizens of this community of tomorrow—our own boys and girls and those of our neighbors and friends. We want them to have an even break with other young people of their day. We realize that in order for them to have an even chance for success, they must have an education commensurate with the times. This is no time to look back—their future is at stake!

When a crisis comes to our schools such as now faces us, there is one course for us—we WILL come to their rescue! We WILL help to work out our problem with our School Board! We WILL stay by those who are working hard to give us good schools!

Our School Board has no desire to "run" things in any other manner than we would run them ourselves. The trustees are just ordinary men, giving of their time and thought in one of the biggest jobs in the community. They deserve our support. They crave our co-operation. They want our counsel—and we do not believe that the school-minded people of the community will turn a deaf ear to their call for a conference Friday night.

The School Board wants to have a heart-to-heart, frank discussion of our school's financial plight. We believe our people will attend the conference; that they will listen to explanations of the school's condition; and that they will help to work out a solution of this problem—a problem that is YOURS and MINE!

It is difficult to put into words the seriousness of the situation. Our schools are threatened with penalized equipment, inadequate teaching forces, curtailed courses of study, shorter school sessions—in fact, complete loss of the splendid array of 42 affiliated credits which permit Snyder High School students to enter any accredited College or University in the country without examination! Friends, this is a serious matter that commands our attention!

The table to the left shows in summary how the school term just closed was financed—where operating funds were derived and where they were spent. A detailed explanation of this financial statement, as well as other pertinent figures, will be given at Friday night's conference. You'll want to hear it.

Boy Scouts Will Go to Barksdale Camp Next Week

At least 10 local Boy Scouts—probably more—will leave Monday for the second week's scout summer encampment at Barksdale, according to a report Wednesday from local scout leaders.

County Terrace Team Places at 1939 Club Camp

Scurry County's 4-H Club terrace team, composed of E. A. Birdwell, Leonard Childress and Billie Brown, topped fourth place honors Friday at the second annual District 6 4-H Club encampment at Foster Park, near San Angelo.

Seventeen county boys, led by X. B. Cox Jr., county agent, and Elmer Taylor, Ira club leader, attended the three-day encampment that attracted 160 club boys from 15 West Texas counties.

Taylor, Ira superintendent, was given a leadership ribbon Friday by the San Angelo Board of City Development in appreciation of the work he has done as Ira 4-H Club leader.

San Angelo Entertains. Climax of the encampment came Friday noon—a "chevon and trimmin'" barbecue sponsored by the San Angelo Board of City Development. County, city and BCD officials attended the feed.

A baseball team composed of club members from this county defeated the Tom Green County nine Thursday, advanced to the semi-finals, along with Dawson and Coke County teams. Defeat of the Borden team, 3-4, by Dawson, was followed by the Scurry County boys going down, 24-17, before a combination team from Menard, Mitchell and Schleicher Counties.

Georgia Stocks, History Found by Hobbs Travelers

Twenty-three Hobbs High School boys, accompanied by C. Littlepage, vocational agriculture teacher, and Elmo Isaac, Hobbs football coach, returned last Tuesday from a trip by school bus that took the group to Shreveport and New Orleans in Louisiana, Vicksburg in Mississippi.

Sixteen Hobbs High School girls, chaperoned by Superintendent N. J. Guillet, Mrs. N. J. Guillet and Miss Taulhee Rice, home economics teacher, returned Thursday from virtually the same trip made previously by the Hobbs boys.

Both student groups stopped at Gladewater before going to Shreveport. After crossing the Mississippi River, the students spent a day inspecting the Confederate-Union battlefield at Vicksburg.

French Quarters and markets, together with a trip on banana boats, were highlights of the stop at New Orleans. The Hobbs groups came back via Beaumont and Houston, inspected the 555-foot San Jacinto monument and battlefield, and then made an overnight stop at San Jacinto.

From San Antonio the trippers came to Hobbs by way of San Angelo and Sweetwater.

Memories of Georgia stocks pulled by one mule or horse vied with Louisiana rice and sugar cane fields, plus magnolia trees in bloom, as trip sideights. The students reported only one tractor seen in the fields of Louisiana.

Frank Newby, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Guinn, and J. O. Carl and Newell Guinn of Camp Springs visited Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Orvil Lorraine of Jayton.

Joe's Model Cops First Honors at Abilene Contest

Youthful Joe Slovacek repeated an earlier first place winning in Abilene's model plane contest by copying first honors again Sunday afternoon with his tiny rubber-powered Buzzard ship.

Joe's 30-inch wingspread Buzzard ship outflung all other entries at Abilene's municipal airport in three contest flights. The craft broke a propeller prior to the contest, but Joe borrowed a propeller and went on to take top honors.

Joe's model Buzzard plane, which was designed by his older brother Jerry, was built by himself during odd moments. Joe's father, Emil, and Jerry accompanied Joe to Abilene for the contest.

Two gas-powered planes are being constructed by the Slovacek boys. They will be entered in an Abilene contest soon.

Local youths are showing considerable interest in model plane construction. Charlie Dunn and other model fans being engaged in building both rubber and gas powered jobs.

Lentle Bell Tate, who spent three weeks with relatives at Jayton and Spur, returned home Saturday.

Black Tigers Whip Spiders From Spur

Snyder Black Tigers, managed by W. R. Williams, won their seventh game of the season at the local field Sunday by defeating the Spur Black Spiders by a score of 9-1.

The local team has lost only two games out of the nine played this season.

Other members of the local team performed well behind the pitching of Richard Lewis and Rufus Miller. Spur's team got its lone run early in the first inning as a result of a wild throw from Right Fielder M. R. Davis.

The Black Tigers will not be back on their home ground for another game until July 2. At Tahoka June 18, the team will go on to Midland for the Juneteenth celebration June 19 and 20.

Safety and Conservatism . . .

Depositors and stockholders of this bank both have reason to be gratified that we have always upheld Safety as the first principle and supreme requirement of good banking.

We have been conservative—to a degree that has evoked criticism from some who have wished us to be more liberal in making loans and unstinted in accommodations. But not one of our depositors regrets our protecting his money. Because of our adherence to this safe and conservative policy, this bank today is in thoroughly sound condition, with adequate cash reserves, an adequate proportion of liquid assets. This strong position we are prepared to prove.

Pointing to our record, we confidently invite your deposits or other banking business.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

WHAT FWA HAS DONE.

Editors, The Times: As we look about us we see construction going on everywhere, with many men at work, and the different newspapers from all over the nation tell the same story.

Modern hospitals, approved water-works, sanitary sewer systems, flood control dams for the health and preservation of the people; schools, colleges and libraries with better facilities for the education of the youth of our land; playgrounds, swimming pools, and so forth, for the health, happiness and contentment of both young and old; all working together to make a more enlightened, healthier and happier nation.

This is only a part of what the present administration is accomplishing by pulling stagnated money out of hiding and putting it to work.

Turn back the pages of a few short years, and you will read that men were entering stores in some of our cities, forcibly taking food from the shelves to keep their families from starving. Were we not then on the very verge of revolution?

But now, with the Public Works Administration in full swing, providing employment for millions of workmen at a living wage, families separated by hunger and want have been reunited, homes are being built, repaired and repainted; and nearly everybody has a car and a radio.

Picture what would happen if the PWA should suddenly cease to exist; and these millions of men thrown out of employment.

The mighty Mexican Gulf Stream surging forth from the Tropics, circulating with its life-giving warmth through the Atlantic, along our eastern coast line and on over by the British Isles, and back around again to the Tropics, making habitable these lands, flows on and on without ceasing.

First Christian Church

Next Sunday morning a brief Children's Day program will be given at the close of the Sunday school session. Sunday school meets at 9:45 o'clock.

"Every Member" will be the sermon subject for Sunday morning, and "Help Me Find My Place" will be used in special song.

Christian Endeavor will meet at 7:00 p. m., with Margy Brown as leader.

At 8:00 o'clock, "Out of Trouble" will be the sermon subject, and the special number in song is "Leave It There."

Prayer meeting every Wednesday night. A most hearty welcome awaits stranger and friend.—E. B. Chancellor, pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. John Irwin are vacationing this week in Corpus Christi.

President Roosevelt and Mr. Ickes realize that as the life-giving blood circulates through the body, as the food-giving sap nourishes the tree, and as the rain from heaven feeds the mighty Mississippi, just so does the fruitful PWA (and circulating throughout our land, provide work, health, recreation, education, contentment and happiness to all. It is not being spent. It is being circulated.

Shall it stop? President Roosevelt says no; but that it shall be continued in some form to bless our nation and our people.

Sincerely yours,
John McAlexander,
Engineer Inspector, PWA.

Union Studies Tomatoes.

Two essentials for good canned tomatoes are tomatoes of good quality and the preservation of vitamin C in the canned product. Miss Rabel told the Union Women's Home Demonstration Club, which met at the home of Mrs. Floyd Logan last Thursday.

Tomatoes should be firm, red-ripe, sun-sweetened. Tomatoes are a good source of vitamin C, and experience shows that this important vitamin is lost if the cut tomatoes and juice are exposed to the air as little as possible. If there is no delay between the steps of preparing, pre-cooking, processing and cooking after processing.

Miss Rabel demonstrated the canning of tomato juice and salad-pack tomatoes.

During the business session, it was decided to send a woman to represent the club to College Station. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Earl Glendon at 2:30 o'clock June 15.

"My Skin Was Full of Pimples and Blemishes from Constipation" says Verna Schleppe: "Since using Adierka's Pimples are gone. My skin is smooth and glowing with health. Adierka washes BOWLS, and relieves constipation that so often aggravates a bad complexion. For sale by Stinson Drug Company."

Joint Fluvanna Meeting.

Milk is a good food, and even a quart a day is low in vitamin C which can be supplied by raw vegetables, fruits and tomatoes. Tomatoes are asid, which helps to retain the vitamin C longer. Some of you will have tomatoes in your gardens and the stores will sell them—so you should plan to can some juices and tomatoes to give you the required food essentials the year round.

So Miss Rabel, home demonstration agent, told the Fluvanna women's and girls' clubs who met at the school house Friday, June 2. She was assisted by the tomato demonstration of the girls' senior club in canning salad-pack tomatoes and tomato juice.

Bulletins on killing and curing pork, canning meat in the home, preparation of fowls for home and market, canning fruits and vegetables, storage structures and home storage of vegetables and fruits, and the food preservation plan, were passed to the ones present.

All the girls are invited to bring the articles they have made to the school house June 16, when they will be judged to decide which two girls are to go to the Short Course. The women will meet at the same time.

Canning Demonstration.

Exhausting is an important factor in your canning. It means the heating of food in the container long enough to drive the air out of the food and the container before sealing. To exhaust, pack the raw food in the container, placing the filled cans in a boiling water bath deep enough to come within two inches of the top of the container. Cover the water bath to hold in the steam. Begin counting time for exhausting when the space above the jars is filled with steam. It takes five minutes to exhaust the tomatoes.

Miss Rabel demonstrated this process as she gave a canning demonstration to the China Grove Home Demonstration Club which met at the home of Mrs. Merket Tuesday, June 6.

During the business session, an ice cream social was planned for Wednesday night, June 14. There will be ice cream and cake for which a small price will be charged to help send a delegate to the Short Course. Plenty of free music and Chinese checkers will be furnished.

Present for the meeting were: Misses, N. O. Brown, O. N. Lester, J. Stanley Merket, H. M. Mauer, Carl Hainston, J. M. Templeton, Joe Hainston, Jim Merket, Jim Wood, Jess Brown, Albert Belights and Miss Rabel. Mrs. Albert Belights joined the club.

Texas Tech Student Group Has Returned

Overlooked last week in the round of students returning home from college were several who are home for the summer from Texas Technological College, Lubbock.

Among them is Bill King, first freshman, who was one of the Tech to come home. He's working with his dad, W. P. King, this summer.

Imogene Birdwell, junior, who failed to report to The Times when she came home, spent the first week sleeping, and now she's right ready to go back to Lubbock.

Dessie Parsons, Snyder High graduate several years ago, is back at work in the county agent's office for the summer.

T. J. Teter, noted for his piano playing in his home town, arrived with the rest of the locals after studying at Tech last year.

Homer York, son of the Jim Yorks, greeted friends here last week. He's to be here this summer.

Elvanda Allen returned to Lubbock Sunday to re-enter Texas Tech for the summer term Monday. The Snyder High School graduate went to Lubbock by bus Sunday.

Dotted Swiss

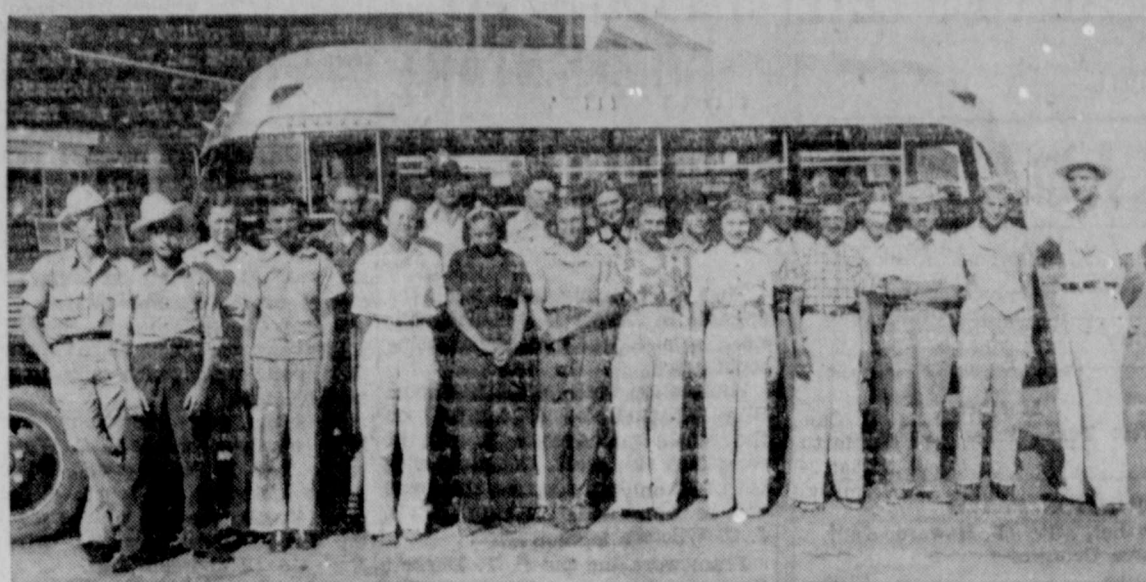

This summer costume seems to embody the spirit of sweet 16. Fashioned of dotted Swiss, always a summer favorite in materials, the frock has collar and cuffs edged with Val lace. The dotted Swiss parasol matches the dress.

Fluvanna Scholars Given Free Trip to Texas Points

These Fluvanna High School students held high scholastic ratings all last year, and as their reward they are being given a 10-day expenses-paid trip into parts of East and South Texas—Austin, San Antonio, Galveston, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Huntsville, to be their main points of interest. Accompanied

Nachlinger, Sons in Path of Train, Saved

Leo Nachlinger and two sons, Bobby Joe and Jackie Doyle of the Mt. Zion community, narrowly escaped serious injury last Monday afternoon when the 6:00 o'clock south-bound Santa Fe train plowed into the Nachlinger car at the crossing just north of the Hermleigh depot.

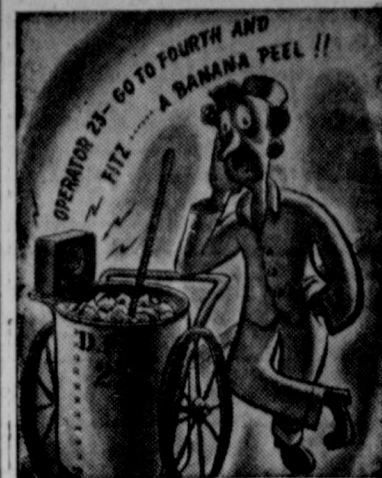

Nachlinger, whose car stalled on the crossing, got his two small boys out of the machine and managed to get clear just before the train, slowing down for its regular depot stop, rammed into the front of the car.

The car, which was facing the west when hit, was turned around to the east by the locomotive. Front fenders and engine of the Nachlinger machine were virtually demolished.

Lee Stinsons Go for Drug Meet, Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Lee T. Stinson, who left Sunday, attended the four-day annual convention of the Texas Pharmaceutical Association, held Monday through Thursday at Dallas.

The local druggist and his wife also visited with Miss Hattie Ladwig of Ft. Worth. Mrs. Stinson's sister, at whose home a family reunion was held. The Stinsons will return Friday.

Receives Degree at Baylor; Jack Home

Evelyn Arwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Erwin, is at home for the summer after receiving her bachelor of arts degree in languages at Baylor University, Waco, Monday night. Attending her graduation services were her parents and younger sister, Eleanor.

Jack Scarborough, freshman medical student at Baylor, came home Friday to spend the summer with his mother, Mrs. Woodie Scarborough. His first year of university work has been pleasant, Jack says.

The Bugs Will Get You If You Don't Watch Out!

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary Breeder-Feeder Association

All insects are not bugs, strictly speaking, but we can't be too technical in a few words. When we use the short and ugly term "bug" every farmer knows we are talking about one of his most persistent enemies, though it may appear in many forms and under a variety of names.

Just at this season the cotton flea hopper is a timely subject. It is one of the most destructive and most widely distributed cotton pests in the Southwest, and yet is one of the least understood, most difficult to find, and therefore often robs the grower of the early part of his crop before the presence of the pest is recognized. Farmers cannot have a trained entomologist at beck and call, but they can learn for themselves to recognize the presence of the pest and when to apply control measures.

No way has been found by which to forecast with certainty whether flea hopper will cause damage or when. When they do occur in damaging numbers they may be numerous in one part of the field and hatch out on weeds. As soon as wings develop they can migrate to cotton, which seems to be their favorite summer host plant. Both the winged, or adult, and the nymph, or young, insects cause the embryo buds and cause them to drop off, before it reaches the "square" or boll stage.

The nymphs are tiny active light green or yellowish insects; the adults look like pale, greenish white flies about one-eighth inch long. Dr. F. L. Thomas of the Texas Experiment Station tells us that both nymphs and adults are usually to be found on horsebint in bloom or the little low-growing yellow primrose in spring. Shake the weed on some clean surface and the flea hoppers, if present, can be readily distinguished from other small insects. After learning what to look for, anyone can identify the flea hoppers on the cotton plant.

Look for the adults on the upper surface of the foliage. Look for the nymphs in the terminal buds, by carefully opening the bud cluster with thumb and finger. The nymph, if present, will show actively when disturbed. If twenty or thirty hoppers are found to the hundred plants it is time to get busy with dusting sulphur. Examinations should be made in at least every week until the crop is safe.

When cotton has six to eight true leaves (not counting the two which first "come up") it normally begins to form fruiting buds, and should set a new bud for every new branch. If buds are not "setting" where they should be, or are falling off before developing into "squares" it is a pretty safe guess that flea hoppers are responsible, whether the grower can find the insects or not.

This is the stage (when the cotton has about six true leaves) when the grower must begin to watch may vary considerably in the same community or even on the same farm if there are different plantings.

By this time, also, the boll weevils which have survived the winter may be coming out of hibernation into the cotton fields. If weevils are present at the same time flea hoppers are getting in their deadly work, a combination dust (one-third calcium arsenate and two-thirds dusting sulphur) should be used, killing both insects with one operation. Use a machine which will shoot the dust with considerable force right down through the terminal buds of the cotton plants.

Wards to Rally and Presbytery Meeting

Rev. C. H. Ward, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and Mrs. Ward, will be in Brownwood Wednesday and Thursday of this week to take teaching and speaking parts in a young peoples' rally of the Brownwood Presbytery. They were young peoples' leaders of the presbytery before they came to Snyder from Ballinger.

The couple will proceed to Abilene Friday. There the new local pastor is scheduled to be officially accepted as a member of the Abilene Presbytery.

Lambert Pupils in Recital Last Week

Pupils in the Elaine Lambert School of Dance and Drama were presented in spring review at the Palace Theatre Thursday and Friday nights of last week. The recital featured acrobatic, tap, ballet and character dancing, gorgeous costumes and colored spot lights.

The 55 dance students of Mrs. Lambert represented five Scurry County communities in addition to Snyder—Fluvanna, Dunn, Dermott, Ira and Hermleigh.

Jay Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Rogers, is home after a year at John Tarleton Agricultural College, Stephenville, and a trip to East Texas. He drove for his grandparents, the C. H. Bolts, and Vally Eff of Stephenville and his sister, Lola Jo of Snyder, on a trip to Austin and Port Arthur to visit with relatives. Rogers has been elected editor of the J-Tac, weekly college newspaper at Tarleton, for next year.

Snyder Bakery Will Keep Loaves Cool!

Another firm believer in air-conditioning as the coming thing for summer months is Snyder Bakery, just north of the Palace Theatre, which installed one of the latest type cooling units last week.

Located in the front of the building, the bakery conditioner draws air through slat packing and over a container of water before circulating through the office and baking room. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Madsen, operators, invite an inspection of the cooling system.

GRAVELLY ILL TODAY. Condition of Mrs. Oscar Maples, ill with a heart ailment for several days, continues serious today, according to members of the family. She is being cared for at the family home, located over their business establishment in Snyder.

"Haven't I seen you somewhere some time?"
"Quite likely. I've been there."

Colorado's a City Now!

By nebulous magic and double-barreled ballyhoo, the county seat of Mitchell County returned to the name of its three-cornered-pants days.

No longer can one become befuddled by a friend's remarks, "I've just returned from Colorado." Whether he accents with the homefolks long "a" or the more sophisticated swerving "e," one knows immediately that the friend has been to the state of pines, prices, potatoes and Pike's Peak.

Conversely, when a neighbor says, "Let's drive over to Colorado City this afternoon," the mind naturally turns to the Promising Oil center of West Texas, the home of humor, hopeful hospitality, hactivty, human humidity—and a refinery Snyder would like to purloin some stygian night.

So Colorado's a city again. Dare one assume, as the full fury of the name change is unavailing against typical Mitchell County will power, that the city that the Bankhead built is returning to the swaddling clothes that marked the Colorado City of old?

To the old-timers, Colorado City means hospitality to the core; something unsoothing to whet a leather stomach; a night-hooded fling of life's little day; the freighter's paradise; the fountain that spread wagonloads of food and raiment to struggling plainsmen.

Will this Colorado City return, now that modern Houdinis have reached into their headpieces and fetched forth a double-somersault of a name again? What is a mere Snyderite (always a second-fiddler to a self-possessed Colorado Citizen) to answer? Ignorance and the Mitchell County line bars the way.

But a yawp of a few years back (another second-fiddler, no doubt, in the mind of any self-cultured Colorado Citytype) had a few words for it: "What's in a name? That which can call a rose By any other name would smell as sweet."

Editorial of the Week

"A LEADER THAT IS DIFFERENT"

As an example of the spirit that has existed in the "Bristol Evening World" through all the war clouds round England this winter, I send one of their editorials which was sub-titled, "A Leader That Is Different."

Spring Song

Might we not now cheer up a little? Without seeking a false comfort in undue optimism, without refusing to face realities, without shirking duties, might we not find new strength in that hope which "springs eternal?"

With all our anxieties we have reasons for happiness. Here are some of them:

Because the sun is up and his splendor is like the silent laughter of God.

Because the winter is past and the voice of the cuckoo is heard in the land and the time of the singing birds is come.

Because of the infinite green glory of the resurrected earth, of woodlands and meadows and all the quiet places under the sun, and because of the new exultant splendor of hills that are lifted up to the blue sky.

Because there is plum blossom and daffodils in the gardens and blackthorn and gorse in the wild places.

Because the springtime tassels are upon the larches.

Because the sapphire flood of bluebells in the woods is beginning.

Because the larks mount in the sunshine.

Because the starry stitchwort has bejeweled the hedgerows before its time.

Because the birds are restless in the hour while it is yet dark, impatient to greet the dawn.

Because it is spring and God's in His heaven, and although all's not right with the world, we have the sublime assurance of the earth's reawakening.

From a letter to the Christian Science Monitor from E. M. C. of Bristol, England.

A Measurement

Pessimism Pete says life's highway would offer fewer right-of-way problems if every traveler kept to the right side of the Golden Rule.

A Home Problem

Talkative Tillie says she'd like to get a wholesale look at the King and Queen; but the thing that's got her upset just now is how to make over last year's summer dress so her friends will say, "You're looking younger every day!" rather than "Why the ancient history, Tillie?"

Despite current developments, students of diplomacy are risking the guess that there will be peace in Europe until fall, since Germany needs to wait for the harvest in order to obtain sufficient food supplies to fight a war, and in the meantime complete the distribution of confiscated Czech arms among Germany's army reserve of 38 unequipped divisions. . . . European statesmen are unanimous in saying it will also take several months to find out how effective Britain's anti-dictator coalition will be.

If God be with you everything which is impossible becomes possible.—German Proverb.

It is in man and not in his circumstances that the secret of his destiny resides.—Carlyle.

Current Comment

By LEON GUINN

An attention arresting highlight of the Society of American Engineers meeting in New York City last week was the prediction by outstanding engineers that the cars of tomorrow will literally be portable homes on wheels, equipped with light, movable chairs, a concealed bed, and have lavatory facilities. . . . Future car bodies, SAE technicians added, will probably be made of extreme teardrop design, with interior temperature and humidity to be regulated by pressing buttons.

Delving further into the unborn future, major automobile company researchers gave a hint that radio speakers and microphones would be handy in tomorrow's cars, in order that motorists might carry on a two-way conversation with home or office without removing their eyes from the road. . . . Jean Andreau and Charles B. Brull, French consulting engineers, gained top flight attention by describing an experimental French car being tested that will make 53 miles on a gallon of gasoline at 30 miles per hour, or 27 miles on a gallon at 90 miles per hour.

This gasoline economy in the French car is made possible, Andreau and Brull pointed out, by reducing car weight 30 per cent through use of aluminum parts and reduction of air resistance by 10 per cent. . . . The two French engineers were careful, however, to refrain from pointing out such a lightweight creation would be indeed a "death trap" on modern highways, if allowed to run from 70 to 90 miles per hour. . . . After all was said and done at the SAE meet last week about the car of tomorrow, delegates somehow forgot to mention the need of a portable filling station to go with beds, radios and temperature regulators.

The nation's foremost men of science agree one of the year's most noteworthy contributions to surgical safety is the 11-inch peritoneoscope designed by Dr. John Ruddock of Los Angeles, which permits surgeons to give an anesthetic, make a one-quarter-inch abdominal incision, inject air into the opening to lift the abdominal wall from body organs, and examine a patient's innards without resorting to the conventional practice of three to four-inch abdominal incisions—with attendant adhesions—to tell exactly what gets the body out of ticking order.

The peritoneoscope, which is equipped with a tiny electric bulb, will allow doctors to examine henceforth the intestines and other internal organs for possible infectious diseased tissues without the former necessity of reaching inside with a hand to give suspected organs the once-over.

Army Air Corps attaches at Washington are specializing in some high powered thinking these days over ways and means to start a publicity campaign that will quash the erroneous notion it takes a super man to pass the physical examination for flying cadets. . . . The story, spread by applicants who were rejected, is hurting at a time when the army is seeking to expand the air corps. . . . The truth is that physical examinations, while rather thorough, have been slightly lowered for the first time in 20 years.

The month's prize boner among members of the fourth estate was pulled last week when White House reporters received a mimeographed release telling of a presidential veto to a bill that would give the navy land for a Florida air station. . . . Telephone wires began to burn until one bright reporter discovered the story had a familiar ring. . . . After the date sheet, June, 1936, had been examined, another first rate news story went the way of all other previously published releases that get nation-wide attention.

After searching in vain for a practical joker, Constable Mark Hathaway of Eugene, Oregon, went through with the assignment of locating a man named Lake living on Water Street. . . . To further complete the picture, Hathaway had an attachment to serve on a boat that constituted one of Lake's principal possessions.

The Florida Citrus Fruit Exchange decided last week to try a patented citrus-cereal breakfast food made of dehydrated fruits as a possible way of removing some of the surplus fruit stocks in the Everglades region. . . . Although Florida fruit growers find this breakfast food a commendable suggestion, they woke up this week to the cheerless fact that no funds have been set aside for introducing the citrus fruit cereal to the American breakfast table. . . . Florida Fruit Exchange members are casting about now for advertising funds to sell the public on the idea of citrus fruit for breakfast via the cereal route without hurting the sale of grapefruit and oranges.

When John D. Lore was dropped from his job last week as a pharmacist in New York City's Department of Purchase, he sued for reinstatement and back pay under a civil service law giving preference to war veterans. . . . Lore was successful when Supreme Court Justice William Collins ruled he was a veteran, despite his brief term of service. . . . Drafted on November 11, 1918, Lore was shipped to Hoboken and had a short train ride toward training camp. . . . On the way there an officer told him to go home because the armistice had cancelled the draft. . . . Other New York employers are worried, lest the boys who actually saw service overseas catch Lore's hint.

BUILDING HITS STRIDE AS FIVE HOMES START

Half Dozen or More New Homes Indicate Ownership Taking Firmer Foothold

That the building trend is on the up-grade in Snyder is evidenced this week by a trio of new homes being constructed.

Foundation work on the five-room Billy Mitchell home, located on the south end Avenue T, will be completed this week. Complete with bath and modern fixtures, the home will be constructed in ranch style. J. C. Wilsford is contractor.

Framework on the C. T. Burnett five-room home is going up rapidly this week. It is to be built along latest architectural designs, and will have an attached garage. J. A. and Frank Farmer are the contractors.

The Mitchell and Burnett homes are being built under FHA specifications. Farmer Brothers are contractors on the A. C. Alexander home, brick work on which started this week.

Located at 2908 Avenue U, the Alexander home will be a six-room brick veneer with modernistic furnishings.

Materials for the Mitchell, Burnett and Alexander homes are being furnished by Burton-Lingo Lumber Company.

Work on the five-room demonstration home being built by O. L. Wilkinson Lumber Company at 3102 Avenue W is proceeding rapidly this week. The public is cordially invited to inspect the home, which will be for sale under FHA terms when completed.

Military Tactics In Honolulu Told By J. C. Ziegler

From J. C. Ziegler, that Scurry County farmer (Dermott community) who is visiting, with Mrs. Ziegler, a son in Honolulu, Hawaii, has sent The Times another of his interesting letters from the Pacific palmland.

"We are having military maneuvers here May 25," the Texan writes. "On the 18th we had a black-out which was 100 per cent perfect. The invading bombers let down flares. The flashlights threw their beams overhead. We could see the bombers cruising overhead. I think a real enemy plane would have very little chance here.

"Everything is fine and lovely here, but it is not Texas. I sure want to get back. "I took two excursions recently. On the first we went through Roosevelt Park, which they are just completing. On the next we went to the top of Punch Bowl, an extinct volcano. It is thousands of feet above the city. It is the grandest and sublimest view I ever saw. I didn't examine the crater as thoroughly as I would have liked.

"We went up a flight of steps to the top of Oahu Kolonada, they call it—the Cross. On Easter holiday they raise the Cross. There is a raised dias with a level surface around it. The Cross is 2,276 miles from Los Angeles, 4,000 miles from Australia or New Zealand."

W. H. Shuler Given Degree at A. & M.; One Student Stays

Two of Scurry County's three representatives at A. & M. College the past year are home for the summer, one with a bachelor's degree.

W. H. Shuler was awarded a degree from the school. He specialized in business administration and accounting. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Shuler, and his sister, Mrs. Jack Wright, and husband, visited with Mrs. Shuler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Trueblood, in Dallas, and with Wright's parents, the Sam Wrights, in Hubbard, before picking up the college student for a trip to Houston, Galveston, San Antonio and Austin. They all returned to College Station for graduation exercises, arriving home Saturday night from the 10-day trip.

W. S. Goodlett Jr. of Dunn is back at work in the office of the Scurry County agent for the summer. First a student at John Tarleton Agricultural College, Goodlett completed his third college year at A. & M. recently.

Third of the A. & M. boys is York Murphy, who will study all summer, taking his degree from the school in August. At the close of school in August, Murphy will enter the naval flying school at Pensacola, Florida. He recently passed physical examinations, which entitle him to entry in the government's school for flyers.

E. & H. Cafe Takes To Cool-Air System

That summer air shall be conditioned and cool is the motto of E. & H. Cafe, owner of the Times Building, whose owners installed an air-conditioner last week capable of cooling the entire cafe in a period of 15 minutes.

Clark Hindell and Worley Early, cafe operators, have installed new windows near the air-conditioner, and new seat covers have been added for counter stools. Air is drawn through semi-circular slat packing before releasing as "conditioned air."

Stimson, Rosenberg, Koonsman and Stephens Compose New Board Elected by Members

Friday and Saturday, August 18 and 19, were set as definite days for Scurry County's annual rodeo here, it was announced after a directors' meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office Monday night.

Ollie Stimson, Henry Rosenberg, J. J. Koonsman and Allen Stephens compose the four new directors of the Scurry County Rodeo Association, named on a by-mail poll of members recently. J. M. Stewart, H. H. Eiland and George Parks are holdover directors from last year's directorate who were renamed.

Plans were made at the Monday meeting for a two-day rodeo second to none in Central West Texas.

New directors will be sworn in Friday night, 8:00 o'clock, at another meeting of the organization in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Garage Bowlers on Top, But Alley Cats, Druggists Pushing

The garage bowling team, with 3,246 pins, was only four pins ahead of the Alley Cats this week after a period of three weeks play. The Alley Cats, with 3,242 pins, were trailed fairly close by the druggist bowlers.

E. M. Deakins, playing with the druggist bowlers, has been high man so far on the three-team lineup.

Fourth week play will be held tonight (Thursday). The teams, by members, follow:

Garage team—T. W. Pollard, captain; Lois Adams, Bud Miller and Jesse Jones.

Alley Cats—M. Z. Dibble, captain; Sam Williams, Brick Smith, Gordon Sentell.

Druggists—E. M. Deakins, captain; Cleve Blackard, George Wilhelm and Frank Farmer.

AN ADVANCE REMINDER.

This is just a little friendly tip: June 18 is Father's Day. It is reported that some churches will observe this day somewhat on the same scale that they observed Mother's Day in early May.

Postal Inspector Talks to Carriers And Guests Here

Postal Inspector Carl H. Cundiff of Ft. Worth, substituting for Inspector J. A. McCullough, who became ill before arriving here, was principal speaker at the Saturday night quarterly meeting of the Mitchell-Scurry County Association, rural free delivery letter carriers, held at the Manhattan Hotel.

A total of 58 postmasters, postal employees and their wives attended the quarterly rural letter carriers' meeting, featured by a banquet in the Manhattan dining room.

John L. Greene of Snyder, association president, presided at the business session. The address of welcome by Postmaster Warren Dodson was followed by the response from Nat Shick, Big Spring postmaster.

Other addresses were given by W. L. Fletcher of Hamilton, national treasurer; Mrs. J. C. Womack of Cuthbert, Women's Auxiliary secretary; and Mrs. Gilley of Post.

Greene, E. E. Smith of Colorado, state president, Sam Stamps, Stanton, J. S. Williams of Colorado City and Derryberry of Lorraine were selected as rural carrier delegates to the state convention at Abilene in July.

Shick, who led a Big Spring delegation spruced up in rodeo regalia, extended an invitation to those present to attend Big Spring's three-day rodeo and postmasters' meeting June 23-24-25.

Music and entertainment for the rural carriers was furnished by Nell Verna LeMond and Patti Hicks, and the McMillan quartet of Hermleigh, Little Miss Vernon, Hermleigh, gave a reading.

Colorado City was the successful bidder for the next rural carriers' meeting, to be held in September.

Peggy: "And when you told him I was married did he seem sorry?" Phyllis: "Yes, he said he was very sorry, even if he didn't know the fellow personally."

Fluvanna and Local Valedictorians Get Scholastic Awards

Laverne Edmonson, valedictorian of Fluvanna High School, and Frances Head, valedictorian of Snyder High School, have won the coveted "Reader's Digest" awards for scholastic achievement, according to Principals Gilbert Mize and King Sides.

They received embossed parchment certificates, plus one-year subscriptions to "Reader's Digest," when they graduated last in May.

The national magazine confers this annual award as encouragement to young men and women throughout the nation who, by their scholastic achievement, give promise of growing into leadership in their communities.

Principals of progressive preparatory and high schools increasingly advocate an interest among students in the most significant articles which appear in current magazines. Their belief is that vital contact with the living, quickening thought of our day is essential to education, both before and after graduation.

Jonisue Cogdell, daughter of the D. M. Cogdells, was almost the last local college student to come home from school. She's doing first-year work at Southwestern University, Georgetown, where she pledged the Delta Delta Delta Sorority. Jonisue was met in Abilene Saturday by her parents and sister, Martha Ann. She will return to Southwestern in the fall.

"I JUMPED AT THE DEAL the Ford Dealer made on my old car!"

"How much?" says I to the FORD Dealer.
My wife has been crazy for a FORD V-8. Figured I could swing it if I got a good trade on my old car. So I took the old fass-maker around to the FORD Dealer.

"DID I GET A TRADE!"
The figure I had in mind was good enough. Imagine my surprise when the FORD Dealer paid me even more for my old car. Said he needed some used cars right now. You bet I jumped at the deal.

"HAS IT GOT STYLE!" Drove home in a brand new FORD V-8. Man, that is the sweetest running car I ever handled. And is my wife proud? She says the FORD V-8 was designed for women—the last word in style and luxurious comfort. We are the envy of the neighborhood—but not for long, I expect. Tom, Jim, Dave, Henry and Bill have already talked to me and the FORD Dealer is going to have a busy day.
