Fort Worth Man Killed in Oklahoma Bank Raid

Deputy Sheriff Kills Bandit As Pair Flee Scene

Shots at Bank Cashier Attracted Attention of Officer Waiting Outside; Dead Man Ex-Convict.

Companion Hurt

Condition of Other Bandit Considered Serious; $600 Loot Taken in Raid Was Recovered.

WAUKA, Okla., Oct. 26.—The body of a man shot by W. A. Fowler, deputy sheriff, as he fled from the First National Bank of Ardmore, Okla., with $600 loot today, was identified tonight as that of Claude Coffey of Fort Worth, Texas.

The man's companion, wounded by bullets from the deputy's rifle, was identified as Floyd Pruitt, former inmate of the Oklahoma penitentiary, who lives at Ardmore, Oklahoma.

Pruitt was held in the Jefferson county jail here tonight. Frank Driscoll, sheriff, said his wounds were not dangerous.

While Coffey entered the bank to hold up Ray McTernan, cashier who was alone, Pruitt walked into a motor car. The cashier backed into the vault as Coffey threatened him with a revolver, when the cashier refused to obey Coffey's order to come out, the man fired at him. The bullet missed. The report attracted Fowler, who was in his motor car nearby.

As the robber scurried from the bank with the money inside the front of his shirt, Fowler opened fire on him with a rifle. Both men fled the motor car, until it became apparent that Fowler would overtake them. Then they leaped out and ran. Fowler, also jumping out of his car, killed Coffey and wounded Pruitt. The money was recovered from Coffey's body.

"Bear" Raid Sends Stocks Downward

Ticker Drops Behind In Feverish Selling Movement on Wall Street Yesterday.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The long-anticipated reaction in the stock market took place today, scores making frantic efforts to sell out before the closing gong. A long list of stocks dropped 5 to 14 points lower.

The ticker dropped 5 1/2 behind the transactions, and did not print the selling movement except everything before it in the last hour.

The selling movement had all car marks of a "bear" raid, timed to take advantage of the heavy weekend profit-taking and touch off a large volume of stop loss orders. Particularly effective in shaking "bullish" sentiment was heavy selling in General Motors and Du Pont, both of which have just reported excellent earnings. General Motors was carried down 4 and Du Pont 14 points below yesterday's closing quotations.

The bulk of the day's news was favorable and the market maintained a firm under tone until the selling movement swept everything before it in the last hour.

The Idaho senator made this announcement after he had conferred at luncheon with Herbert Hoover upon his return from a campaign tour through the South.

Three Held After Spectacular Raid On Texas Village

Trio Are Ex-Convicts, According to San Antonio Officers; Town of Fentress Was Ransacked.

FENTRESS, Oct. 26.—Three men whom Osage county officers today as ex-convicts wanted in Denver, Colo., and other points, were in the Osage county jail at Seguin tonight, held for investigation in connection with the wholesale sackings of Fentress early today.

No charges had been filed. They were taken to San Antonio for fingerprint and photograph identification by Deputy Sheriff Fessert of Osage county, and returned to Seguin during the afternoon. Fessert and Deputy G. T. Palmer arrested them on the outskirts of Seguin and disarmed them of a brace of "six shooters" each and a shot gun.

Three masked men broke into the Fentress store, ransacked three stores and a garage and finally bound a night watchman while they hauled off a safe from the postoffice. Approximately $150 in cash and supplies was in the safe. Valuables at the bank and store safe were the obviously unskilled efforts of the looters, who, failing to get cash, appropriated guns, ammunition, flashlights, pocket knives, pills and miscellaneous goods, valued at several hundred dollars.

P. O. Mahon, cashier of the bank, believed the robbers were seeking the $2,000 payroll of the Magnolia Oil company, delivered to Fentress about the 25th of each month. The money had been paid out Saturday, he said.

No estimate of the total loss was available.

Accused Murderer Of Rochester Man Surrenders Friday

Bill Fritz Gives Up To Officers Who Surrounded Him In River Brakes West Of Town.

Is Spirited Away

Feeling Running High In Town Where Victims Resided; 2,000 Present At Funeral.

ARLHENE, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Bill Fritz, accused slayer of Dudley W. Hamilton, Fisher county farmer, and his son, Earle, Wednesday night near Rochester, was believed to be en route to the county jail here in custody of officers for safekeeping from possible mob violence in the section where the shootings occurred.

Fritz surrendered to officers and policemen this afternoon when he emerged from the river brakes west of Rochester, where he had been hiding for two days. Although armed, he was said to have made no resistance.

Feeling was said to be high at Rochester, where the funerals of the father and son were held today. More than 2,000 persons attended the funerals.

The Hamiltons were slain as they stood in the yard of their home. A man, identified by Mrs. Hamilton as Fritz, had called them from the house to discuss impending trial at Rochester for liquor law violations. Fritz, Mrs. Hamilton said, told her son to leave the country before the cases came to trial. When the elder Hamilton refused to send his son away he was shot and instantly killed. Earle, shot twice as he ran, fell dead across the threshold.

Fritz surrendered to George Flournoy, city marshal at Stamford. He was said to have told Fritz that he would give himself up only to Flournoy. After securing the prisoner Flournoy took him south from Haskell county, refusing to state his destination.

Powell, mechanic of Oak Grove, La., who disappeared from here Saturday were found in an automobile by the roadside near here today by Constable Hoyle. A coroner's jury late today returned a verdict of death by strangulation for the girl and suicide with a pistol for the youth.

The car in which they were found had crashed against a tree after plowing through under brush, apparently having run off the road during a struggle between the man and the girl, police said. An empty bottle labeled "ether" was found on the floor of the car. A small automatic pistol was found near Powell's body.

Six Children Survive, Some Being Residents Throughout This Part Of Plains Section.

"Tired of living" and facing the bitter reality of a solitary existence, J. F. Goodwin, 53-year-old father of seven children, of Yuma, Arizona, ended his own life at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon five miles east of here on the Canyon highway by shooting himself in the mouth.

Jodie Goodwin, his son, who was accompanying Mr. Goodwin on a trip to Lockney to visit relatives, was fixing a flat tire when the fatal shot was fired by his father, who was sitting in the front seat of the automobile.

A verdict of "suicide" was returned yesterday afternoon by Coroner G. R. Scott, at an inquest.

Bad health, worry and despondency were cited by the son as the cause of his father's death. The son said that the father told him yesterday what he planned to take his own life; that he had received a large family and now they had all moved away and left him. Mr. Goodwin has been in ill health for several months. According to the son, he has worried considerably since his fourteen-year-old daughter, Jewel, an American, un-democratic, illegal and immoral manner, but that Texas political leaders, including Governor Dan Moody, "under orders from Tammany Hall in New York, practiced the most dishonest, underhanded methods, in order to send to Houston an unscrupulous delegation with a majority of Smith delegates in control."

Election May Be Upset By Jersey Register Ruling

40,000 Voters Likely To Be Disqualified If Rule Passed by New Legislature Is Enforced.

(By Associated Press)
NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 26.—Forty thousand registrants in the election districts of Hudson and Essex counties, democratic strongholds, today faced the prospect of having their names stricken from the voters rolls on the ground that they were illegally registered.

Proposed action against them was announced after the decision of the New Jersey supreme court yesterday upholding the constitutionality of the state law which gives to superintendents of elections the right to strike from the lists the names of citizens they believe to be illegally registered.

The act was the outcome of the investigation of Hudson county conditions by the case legislative committee which is still under way. Hudson is the home of Frank Hague, vice chairman of the democratic national committee and long a power in New Jersey politics. Mr. Hague is mayor of Jersey City.

Democratic leaders interpret the action as an effort to defeat Governor Smith. They say that the registers to the courts given voters whose names are stricken from the lists means little as the time is so short before election that only a small part of the 40,000 will have an opportunity to be heard. They also have asked an investigation of the registration in Atlantic City, one of the strong republican cities where 84 per cent of the estimated population is registered.

Prosecutor Louis Repetto of Atlantic county has charged that children too young to go to school, persons long since dead, parrots, cats, and dogs have been registered. He is moving to have over 2,000 names of voters stricken from the list.

Democratic leaders in Hudson county said that in starting their checkup of the list of barred voters they found that 30 registrants from one house in Hoboken were struck off the list whereas all twenty lived at the address given and were qualified to vote.

WING SPREAD 26 FEET

In striking contrast with the mammoth Zeppelin which just crossed the Atlantic ocean from Germany to New York was the tiny De Havilland Gypsy Moth plane in which Flight Commander H. C. MacDonald, 28, of Great Britain, took off alone to fly from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, to England. MacDonald embarked on what was scheduled as a "test flight," but after hours passed and he did not return, friends at the air field expressed the belief he had pointed for his home country.

The action was instigated by J. Ed. Howe, former president of the International organization and commonly known as the "Millionaire Hobo."

SLATON, Oct. 26.—L. A. Wilson, secretary of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce for the past two years, has been elected for a third year's service with that organization and has accepted, according to J. W. Hod, president of the Slaton Chamber.

Wilson starts his third year on November 3. Hod says the organization has made a fine record this year.

PICKERS REPORT
Labor Need is Being Filled Here

Cotton pickers are reporting almost daily at the labor bureau of five in the Chamber of Commerce rooms but still lack somewhat of filling the need here for thousands of laborers to harvest the South Plains cotton crop.

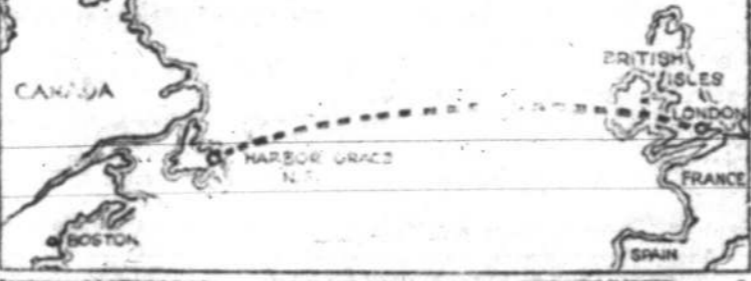

Flowing down of picking in Central, East and South Texas has reduced thousands of pickers for this section and the labor need is expected to be promptly supplied.

RICH GOLD STRIKE
Discovery Reported In The Rhodesia Area

BULAWAYO, Southern Rhodesia, Oct. 26. (AP)—The Bulawayo Chronicle says that one of the richest discoveries of gold ever made in the Midlands has been reported from Beacon Hill, near Gobo, the claims being made that the extraordinary quantity of 100 ounces of gold had been extracted from a quarter of a ton of quartz.

The mining commissioner at Gwelo was quoted as telling the Chronicle representative that he had examined a piece of quartz and found it "absolutely bursting" with gold.

The mine, Lutrovia vision, is one of the staple fur-bearing and ranges over much of wooded North America.

One Badly Wounded, And Charges Filed

HEMPSTEAD, Texas, Oct. 26. (AP)—Marshall Bruer, 27, garage mechanic, was in a critical condition today at a Houston hospital, and W. P. Semi-Annual Meet Of Federation Is To Be Here Today

Mrs. Phebe K. Warner Who Is To Speak This Morning Arrives Last Night; Tech Faculty Folk Speak

A regular semi-annual meeting of the County Federation of Women's clubs convened at 10 o'clock this morning at the First Baptist church to continue into the afternoon.

Mrs. R. A. Baldwin, Slaton, is president of this organization and will preside at the meeting today.

The meeting is to be dismissed at 12:30 o'clock for lunch and will reconvene at 1:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Warner arrived last night in the city and is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Meador.

YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Roberts Barton Copyright by NEA Service, Inc.

Recently a mother and her 5 year old girl went to pay a visit to some old aunts in the country.

The aunts lived in the old homestead that had housed several generations of the family.

Needless to say, there were shadows in that house at night.

And everything would have been well tonight if her mother had casually taken her up to the room with the big four-poster.

But this is the conversation the child heard.

"Mother speaking. It's nearly Natalie's bedtime. I must take her up soon."

"Does she go to sleep by herself?" This from one old aunt.

"Oh, yes, always. I never stay with her at all."

"That's splendid," from the other old aunt. "Tom's children won't do that. They're afraid of the dark. I always tell them there's nothing to be afraid of in the dark. The dark won't hurt them."

"Yes, I even open all the closet doors and poke up the chimney and under the bed and everywhere to show them there's nothing there," said the first aunt.

"All nonsense, children being afraid of the dark, and witches and spooks and things. You've brought your child up properly. Helen, I'm certainly glad of it."

How to Achieve Beauty

EARLY FALL CARE OF HAIR

Your hair is probably the one thing that has not profited by a summer vacation.

Begin at the beginning. In the first place, the prime essential for a healthy scalp is good circulation.

Simple massage when used in company with an efficient hair tonic will quite frequently correct the common scalp troubles of dandruff and falling hair.

Shampoos are important too in the care of the hair, but as I have said so thoroughly and completely into this matter just a little while ago, I am going to repeat my caution, however that if you are using hard water, you must use a little borax or lemon juice to neutralize the sticky soap curd that results from the combination of soap and lime in the water.

When it is possible, avoid the drying machines for your hair. After it has received its final rinsing, wring it out thoroughly and wrap a warm towel around the hair, rubbing well until most of the moisture is absorbed.

When the hair is thoroughly dry, rub each section with a second warm towel. This is an excellent time for you to use your hair tonic, massaging it well into the sections of the scalp.

For a dry shampoo, add to the last rinsing water will do very nicely for this.

answered. "I think all three states are all right."

"Do you get the feeling there has been somewhat of a trend toward you in the last few days or in the last few weeks?" one correspondent inquired.

"I certainly think after Monday night there has been a decided change," he replied. "I think the Republican candidate hurt his cause with his Madison Square speech."

"The Socialism statement?" his questioner pursued.

"Yes," the nominee shot back. "Another correspondent asked if the governor thought the people were 'catching some of your points pretty well?'"

"They had quotations from the Wednesday night's speech displayed on banners Thursday," he responded. "They have been listening in because, obviously, that was not said until around 9:30 on Wednesday night and they must have started painting those banners either Wednesday night or the speech or pretty early Thursday."

"Do you still feel, governor, you are holding the South?"

"Oh, yes."

"You do not think there is any danger of losing any Southern state?"

"I do not."

"Governor, have you had any reports from Pennsylvania which are really encouraging and really make you think you have a chance over there in that old-time Republican stronghold?"

"I do not know anything about it; that is the honest answer. Pennsylvania is a pretty big state. I do not see how anyone can form any opinion about these things, to be frank with you."

"But you have received something that would indicate it?"

"Oh, yes," answered the candidate.

AMARILLO, Tex., Oct. 26. Many Praise Dallas Fair Exhibit

Display Here Attracts Much Attention All Day Friday; Is At Rix Furniture Co.

"There are things told in that exhibit about Lubbock and the South Plains that I did not know before," was the remark of one prominent business man in this city, after he had viewed the exhibit of Lubbock county, which was put on display in the show window of the Rix Furniture company Friday, after being brought back here from Dallas where it was viewed by so many thousands during the Texas State Fair.

The exhibit was rearranged for the show window by Garnet Reeves, publicity director of the Chamber of Commerce, and Bill McKinley, who were in charge of the exhibit at Dallas.

Hundreds of Lubbock citizens stopped and looked at the window during the entire day Friday and many comments of praise were heard from them. It is an eye opener to many and has a powerful educational value. It appears almost exactly as it did at Dallas, with the map of Texas, showing the location of Lubbock and the South Plains, and facts about them on the map and surrounding it, and with the two large scrolls at each side, where the names of this section's resources and achievements are told.

In the center is the revolving wheel, which gives a fine idea of "The Hub of the Plains," and the miniature of the Texas Technological college, buildings and grounds. It is worth everybody's time to inspect.

The Woman's Day

By Allene Sumner

Romance is dead in this cross workaday world, we sometimes say and hear. Have you read of the Cinderella story of Isabel Stone, daughter of former governor of Pennsylvania, William A. Stone? Just a few weeks ago Isabel and her sister Peggy were discovered living in an abandoned barge anchorage in a sedgey creek in upper New York. They explained that they were destitute, were trying to get a foothold in their respective arts of opera and sculpting, and that this life was necessary.

The other day Miss Stone's engagement was announced to a New York publisher, and at the same time she explained that she and her sister had quit life on the leaky barge because some supposed valiant real estate had become and she had exchanged it for a $30,000 house in lower New York.

Romantic enough, if true. That barge stunt did sound like two romantic girl's idea of a good time. Who wouldn't like living on a barge? Did you ever read Harry Benfield's "Bugles in the Night"? Bet the Stone girls had read it!

GET PAID FOR IT Girls of marriageable age are being sold along the border in Northeast Shantung because of the famine, rumor has it. This region, it is explained, has had a shortage of marriageable girls since the famine of 1920-21 when its own women were sold off to other provinces because of the famine. Some of the girls bring $200; others no more than a dollar or so.

It's surprising to learn that there's any portion of the world where matrimony is still found sufficiently desirable and necessary to men so that they'll even buy their wives.

MOTHERS OF SCOUTS The three Boy Scouts who recently spent the summer in British East Africa with Martin Johnson, the explorer, have returned home with tales of how they kept the camp in fresh meat, shot lions, gazelles, 'n' everything. Now they're all set to write a book.

A day in which boys of this tender age can go trekking off to black-out Africa is significant not so much of a change in boys and opportunities for them as in mothers. Can you imagine the mothers of young sons permitting this a generation ago?

Modern mothers have learned that their children are created and reared for their own lives, not for parents' lives.

STAGE-STRUCK

One thousand girls, we are told, arrive in New York every day to go on the stage. And there are 300 experienced actresses available in that city for every possible part in any production. Figures of girls who go to Hollywood are probably even more imposing.

These scare figures have been given out again and again until it would seem by now that every girl must know the slimness of her chance. But still they go, and still, despite all the alarms, some of them get by and make good. There's something wonderful about youth, even in all its glorious follies.

Westerners Crash Over Touted Tigers For 13-6 Win

Yale-Army Battle at New Haven Features on Nation-Wide Firing Line

Dazzling Running and Passing Attack Of Lubbock Team Sweeps Electra Off Feet In First Half of Thrilling Fray

Tigers Then Come Back In Latter Part of Game To Throw Scare In Lubbock Aggregation.

BY ALLAN CARNEY
Avalanche-Journal Sports Editor.

ELECTRA, Oct. 26.—The fighting, charging Lubbock Westerners lassoed the Electra high school Tigers into submission here today before a howling mob of Electrans, pleading for a Tiger victory, as the football eleven from the Plains slashed their way to a 13 to 6 triumph.

Displaying a powerful offensive that swept the Tigers off their feet throughout the first half, the gold-jerseyed warriors completely baffled their opponents with a dazzling running and passing attack.

Lubbock scored in the first three minutes of play on a lateral pass. Pierce to Smith, after a series of end runs and a pass. Smith to Castleberry placed the ball on the Tigers' six-yard line.

Electra came back in the same period to even the count. Crass going over for the only Tiger touchdown. A beautiful pass, Culpepper to Cloninger, put the ball in scoring distance and the giant Electra fullback crashed over the line for the counter. A half-dozen Westerners broke through the Tiger defense to block the try for point and the score was tied.

Pass Paves Way.
Another pass paved the way for the second Lubbock touchdown. Taking the oval on the 45-yard line the Westerners marched down the field with Pierce, Lawson and Smith, running for gain.

Moody Smith tossed a pass to Rich who was downed on the Electra 1-yard line. Lawson went over on two attempts at the center of the line and Lubbock was given the extra pass as an Electra linesman was offside.

Tigers Make Comeback.
Infuriated by their inability to stop the smashing attack of the visitors, the Tigers came back in the second half with a driving, charging machine which changed the tide of the battle. Jolly White, diminutive halfback, who defied terror to the hearts of the Wichita Falls Coyotes last week, threw a rare into the Lubbock aggregation with his brilliant runs around the ends and through tackle. Three first downs were registered by the Tigers before the Lubbock eleven could muster their forces to stop the drive. Sending another Tiger touchdown, the Frinks-Morgan aggregation stiffened and held the rampant Tigers as they were on the Lubbock 12-yard line.

Electra Lines Held.
Finding the Tiger forward wall holding, the Westerners were forced to kick on each occasion, as they took the offensive. George Pierce, Lubbock quarterback, held the up-ber hand in the exchange of punts. During the final periods as both teams battled for an opening. Taking up the kicking burden after Capt. Raymond Barton had left the game with an injured shoulder, the plucky little field general sent the pigskin far into the enemy territory time after time to set the Tigers back within the shadow of their own goal posts.

Electra Backs Star.
Sharing honors with White for hell-carrying honors during the Electra drive were Culpepper, halfback, and Crass, fullback. Culpepper exhibited an effective stiff-arm and elusive side-step which netted a number of substantial gains for the hard fighting Tigers, while Crass plowed the Lubbock line for extra yards and first downs.

Fumbles Slow Game.
The fray was marred by frequent fumbles and penalties which slowed up the contest during the last half. The Lubbock line was charging insistently as the ball was snatched and drew many offside penalties. As a result Barton and Frizzel, Lubbock tackles, bore the brunt of the Tiger attack and shared honors with Smith and Lawson with their defensive play.

Snyder Runs Over Roscoe Team, 20-0

Scurry County Team Is Now Looming As Strong Contender For Honors In District Title Mix.

(Special To The Avalanche)

SNYDER, Oct. 26.—Snyder High Tigers continued their way on the district championship path, when they rode roughshod over the Roscoe Plowboys in their second conference game of the season, 20 to 0. Touchdowns were made by Trigg who plowed 24 yards straight through the line for a touchdown. Karnes blocked a Roscoe punt on their goal line for the second touchdown while Bryan Moore plowed through for the third touchdown following a forward pass of 21 yards from Huestis to Head.

Snyder made nine first downs to Roscoe one and at no time in the game was their goal line threatened, practically the entire game being played in Roscoe's territory. Snyder's goal line has yet to be crossed by conference teams. Sweetwater Mustangs the only other undefeated team in the western half of Class B district nine, defeated Roscoe by the same score. Snyder High while being thoroughly scouted by Sweetwater, Colorado High and Anson coaches were able to keep their plays covered and were not called upon to extend themselves at any period of the game, reserving their entire repertoire of trick plays for games that count in the standings for the district championship.

Snyder High plays Lamesa High next Friday. The Lions club are sponsoring a motorcade there in which more than fifty cars will participate. Athletic authorities were unable to dedicate the new athletic stadium today owing to the field being too new for speed. Indications now point to the field being dedicated either November 16 or November 23, both of which are now open dates on the football schedule.

once they have displayed this season, the Westerners completely outclassed the Electra eleven from the standpoint of team co-ordination. Lubbock backs gained at will around the Electra ends during the first half, when they registered all but one of their first downs. The win over Electra gives Lubbock two victories and no defeats in the Conference race, having downed the Quash Indians 25 to nothing in their first Conference game.

Electra figured to take a commanding position in the race for honors in District One earlier in the season, are now out of the running, having suffered defeat at the hands of both Wichita Falls and Lubbock.

Score by quarters:
Lubbock.....6 7 0 0-13
Electra.....6 0 0 0-6

League Ruling Is Made More Clear

Henderson Amplifies An Explanation of Decision Made In Case of Athens Grid Star.

AUSTIN, Oct. 26.—A high school student who enters school in the spring term and plays baseball that spring can still play four seasons of football, under the state intercollegiate league executive committee ruling of yesterday, Roy E. Henderson, league director at Texas University, said today in further explanation of the ruling. The student would not become ineligible until the fifth season of football opened, Henderson said. The committee ruled that if a student misses playing one season of a sport after he has started participating in high school athletics one year of eligibility for that sport is consumed. For instance, if a student started playing baseball the same spring term he entered high school, and then misses football the next fall, he would have only three seasons of football eligibility left.

Morrison to Use Second Stringers

DALLAS, Oct. 26.—Satisfied that his team is ready to meet Trinity University, Coach Ray Morrison let up from a hard scrumming grind and gave his squadmen a brief signal practice today. Morrison believes his Mustangs should win easily, but is prepared should the Tigers exhibit more power than they have been credited with.

The Pony squad is free from injuries and for the first time in almost a month, every member is ready to start. A second string lineup will likely enter the game and play through much of the encounter.

The Tiger contest will be a test to determine if Sammy Reed, who has been schooled for the past two seasons for the post, will be the team's first string quarterback. Morrison was not satisfied with Reed's showing last week against Rice but will give the little signal caller another chance. If Reed fails to come through, Raymond Hume, a halfback, will pilot the team.

Pigskin Pack In Every Section To Take Grid Today

Important Games In All Conferences Are Carded For This Week-end, Summary Reveals.

BY ALAN J. GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The last October whirl of the football campaign tomorrow will offer the biggest testing process so far for the championship aspirations of college athletes anticipating something to be thankful for by Thanksgiving. From coast to coast and border to Gulf the Pigskin pack will be on the war-path in full cry. From Boulder to Boston games that have a vital bearing on conference or closely watched. From lowly substitute to loudly hailed star, there rests the urge to be in there dying for the dear old Alma Mater with some heroic deed.

Two Million Fans
Probably 2,000,000 spectators will watch tomorrow's frays in all sections of the nation's football fronts, with 500,000 alone massed along the eastern sidelines. Several times that many will hear the radio-voices that in several cases will be broadcast over net-work of stations. The Yale-Army fracas is in this category, focusing national attention as a spectacular crowd of some 75,000 jams its way into the big New Haven bowl for the annual clash of Cadet and Ell.

The fortunes of the Army this year are attracting more widespread attention than ever before, not only because "Biff" Jones' Soldiers have drawn opposition from so many areas but also because West Point has a formidable contender for national championship honors. These aspirations may be jolted by the Bulldogs tomorrow, as they have been in former years, but it will take a stalwart Blue defense to repel the thrush of Ogie and Murrel behind the powerful Army forward wall.

SAINTS-BEARS EVEN

Catholics Appear As A Strong As Bruins

AUSTIN, Oct. 26.—Faring forth to the native haunts of the Baylor Bear, 25 St. Edward's University football players departed by motor bus this afternoon for Waco, there to encounter the Bears Saturday.

The probability that a close struggle will ensue is to be gleaned not only from the records of the two teams this year, but also from the past encounters between them.

The Nut Cracker

By Joe Williams
Joe Williams

A dispatch from Cambridge ends like this: "and the bucking machine was used until Raves, a sub halfback, hit it so hard he broke it. It's just as well Harvard doesn't use too many sub halfbacks in the regular games."

In line with this tale of willful property destruction at Cambridge, the suggestion is offered other college correspondents to pep up their stories. Thus:

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Three substitute centers knocked over one of the dormitory buildings here today in line practice. Stagg says he no longer fears Purdue.

South Bend, Oct. 25.—Punting practice was canceled here today for the rest of the week. Rocky's punters have been so vicious this year that goal posts had to be replaced three times after being splintered by crashing punts.

Champaign, Oct. 26.—Coach Zuppe is dressing his ends in bright red this season. They are reported to be so evasive that the backfield men don't know where to shoot the forward pass.

Tuscaloosa, Oct. 25.—Coach Wallace Wade has clothed his Alabama squad in wire netting to keep the men from eating one another in scrimmage.

PARIS-LON MORRIS TIE

PARIS, Oct. 26.—Paris Junior College and Lon Morris Junior College of Jacksonville fought to a 12-12 tie here today. Paris scored the tying touchdown in the third quarter.

playing tomorrow, Georgia is favored over Tulane, Vanderbilt over Virginia, Florida's high-scoring machine over North Carolina state, Georgia Tech over North Carolina University and Tennessee over Washington and Lee. But old man upset may keep rolling along and strike a telling blow in any one of these contests.

Southwest Games Attract
The Southwest will have its attention occupied by such important conference games as Texas-Rice and Texas Aggies-Arkansas as a means of getting more of a line on the title prospects.

On the Pacific Coast, Stanford, leading the conference, has a prospective day of ease in playing with Fresno, as preparation for the big clash with Southern California next week. Washington, still reeling from the effects of a bad beating at the hands of Oregon University, backs the Oregon Aggies, while California's idea of a day's work-out is to meet the rugged Olympic club stars.

The inter-sectional angle is pretty well submerged by these vital sectional affairs but Marquette travels halfway across the country to meet Holy Cross at Wopchester while Duke emerges from the south again to try its luck against the Georgetown juggernaut.

Slaton Bows To Driving Offense Of Antelope Team

Post Deals Unexpected 19-0 Defeat to Class B District Tittlists of Last Season

(Special To The Avalanche)

SLATON, Oct. 25.—The Slaton High Tigers lost to the Post Antelopes here today 19 to 0. The Antelopes scoring twice in the first half and once in the final quarter. The stronger Post offense and defense plus an apparent weight advantage, enabled them to break the Tiger's line for many gains, while the Tigers resorted to passing for most of their advance. Post attempted ten passes, completing seven. The Tigers attempted 23, completing nine.

Slaton has been eliminated from district title chances unless Post is later defeated by another team. Post sent nearly 900 to the game by special train.

BAKER BEATS FRIEND

BALDWIN, Kan., Oct. 26.—(AP)—Another threat to its championship hopes was dispelled here today when Baker defeated Friends University of Wichita, 34 to 0, in the fourth straight Kansas Conference victory for the Baldwin team.

Pirates Smother Austin College

GEORGETOWN, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Southwestern University defeated Austin College, 26 to 6, in their Texas Conference fray here today. The Pirates' Conference champs, were favored by the breaks, scoring once after recovering a fumble on the Kangaroos' 10-yard line and again when Young intercepted a pass and raced 20 yards for a counter. A high wind hampered both teams.

DENTON WINS

Eagles Plow Through San Marcos

DENTON, Oct. 26.—(AP)—The Denton Teachers College Eagles routed the San Marcos Teachers' College Bobcats, 17 to 6, today. The Bobcats never threatened the Eagles' goal line. The local eleven now has two T. I. A. A. victories to its credit.

Tech-Frog Game Headlines Southwest Gridiron Card

Arkansas-Aggie Game In Razorbacks' Lair Is Due To Be Closest Clash Of Week; Others Promise Abundant Color

Texas Moves to Houston for Scrap with Rice; Baylor, And S. M. U. Face Non-Conference Foes.

By HAROLD BANKS (Associated Press Staff Writer.)

DALLAS, Oct. 26.—On a far-flung battle front extending from the Arkansas Hills to the Gulf Coast, Southwest Conference gridiron mentors are mustering their forces tonight for two encounters within their own ranks and a trio of skirmishes with lesser known but potentially powerful foes.

Except at Southwest Methodist University, which has attained its physical peak for the first time since meeting Army, three weeks ago, bandages and liniment have been used freely of late. If reports from seven training camps can be taken at face value, every squad has a message to take the field tomorrow with one or more of its members sitting on the bench, their places filled with reserves imbued with the spirit of winning bigger and better glories for their alma mater.

Two Conference Games. Mid-season finds Texas A. and M. facing Arkansas in the Porters homecoming game at Fayetteville and Texas meeting the lowly Rice Owls at Houston. These are the only Conference tilts listed on the grid calendar, but except for the Razorback melee, more colorful contests are to be found in the S. M. U.-Trinity, T. C. U.-Texas Tech and Baylor-St. Edwards parings.

The game at Fayetteville, a ten-up, will eliminate definitely one of the other participants from Conference championship consideration. Arkansas was drubbed last week by Texas University and A. and M. fell victim to Texas Christian's bruising offense and lost, 6 to 0.

If Texas cared to have a field day at the expense of the light and inexperienced Owls, but Coach Littlefield will probably instruct his team to use nothing but straight football and let a comfortable margin of victory suffice. These, likely will face a second string S. M. U. line-up at Dallas, for Coach Morrison is risking no injuries to his prima donna performers with the Texas game, regarded by him as the turning point of the season, a week away.

Matadors Look Strong. From West Texas a stalwart band of Texas Tech Matadors stormed Fort Worth today for their annual clash with the Horned Frogs, who have risen from humble positions to a place with the Conference elite in five brief weeks. The Christians' goal line has been uncrossed this year, but at least one of Tech's rugged backs stands an opportunity of planting his cleated foot behind the uprights some time during the 60 minutes of play.

The Matadors lost to Texas University, 12 to 0, two weeks ago, but probably are not powerful enough to overwhelm Coach Matty Bell's great team.

Baylor Rules Favorite. Baylor University, which shattered Centenary's record of 14 victories last week, gained enough prestige in the victory to make it a favorite over St. Edwards.

Among the athletes listed as here do combat are Gardner, 265-pound Arkansas tackle, and Dale, a back on the same team. Lambert, veteran end, may not play the entire game on account of an injured hand.

Vernell is the Aggie casualty and Capt. Frie Jones of Baylor is in a hospital. Higgins and Reed, both of varsity calibre at Texas, are out and Spud Braden, Rice's best quarterback, has an injured hip.

T. C. U. coaches are singing no song because of loss to Tech Roberts, a 190-pound back, which will keep him out of the game for two weeks.

Funeral arrangements had not been announced last night.

Countable J. C. Roberts assisted Deputy Ford and Justice of the Peace in the investigation of the shooting. Mr. Goodwin is survived by three daughters: Mrs. C. E. THREE NEW CAR LICENSES Three new car licenses were issued Friday at the county tax collector's office, as listed below: Bert Herrin, Lubbock, Chevrolet coupe; M. J. Stubbs, Lubbock, Stud-baker sedan; C. G. Garmany, Lubbock, DeSoto sedan.

Lamesa Wins Off Midland, 25 to 0

LAMESA, Oct. 26.—The Lamesa Tornados again defended an uncrossed goal this season here Friday afternoon when they drubbed the Midland Colts, 25 to 0.

The fast backs of the Lamesa club were too much for the strong Midland team. Although Midland out-weighted the Lamesa squad, the Tornados scored almost at will.

Midland was strongest on offensive and in particular forward passing, completing five passes during the game. Lamesa will play Snyder here next Friday and is scheduled to meet the Station club here the November 12th.

The other game will be with Big Spring club here Thanksgiving and other schools yet to be scheduled.

Aggies Work Out On Porker Field

Changes In Line-up Are Announced by Bible On Eve of Clash With Heavy Razorback Eleven.

(By Associated Press.) FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 26.—The Texas Aggies worked out this afternoon on Razorback Field in final preparation for tomorrow's conference battle with Arkansas University.

Though Coach Bible's hokies were somewhat worn by the long trip from College Station they displayed pep in signal drill.

The Aggie announced that he would start his backfield regular, R. R. Dorsey, in tomorrow's game. Mills will supplant Dorsey in the Farmer line-up. Bible also announced he would start "Pinkie" Alabrook at end instead of Tracy. The coach is staking much on the outcome of the Porker clash as the loser practically will be eliminated from the conference race.

Hundreds of ex-students of Arkansas University were here on the eve of tomorrow's homecoming festivities.

tail during last year. This shows a shortage of 3.5 per cent gross to the consumer, which he paid for and did not get.

"Crooked" Pumps Found. Nine different styles of gasoline dispensing pumps have been found throughout the state, with which it is possible for operators to pump a portion of the gas back into the storage tanks of the station while being pumped into the gas tanks of automobiles. Mr. Kinard explained that the manufacturers of these pumps originally designed the machinery with this feature in order that the visible, or above-ground part of the pump might be drained when the stations close for the night, but that many operators have learned to take advantage of this feature when filling an automobile tank and give short measure.

At one place it was found that as much as nearly two gallons of gas out of a five-gallon sale was shorted, while many towns over the state reported after inspections many instances of from one to a gallon and a half short from five-gallon sales.

Seek Local Inspector. "We are asking the state Legislature to give us a law whereby the cities and counties, or in some instances, several cities and counties in certain sections, may employ their own local weights and measures men. The expense of these men would be covered by the state, perhaps a method of taxing every filling station in the state to help on this could be worked out.

ready by noon Sunday. Dr. Hugo Eckener, the dirigible's commander, reluctantly abandoned the Westward cruise plan before noon today. Cross hangar winds have kept the ship indoors since she landed here from Germany, and examination of weather maps today convinced Dr. Eckener that it would be dangerous to try a flight today.

When he came here from Germany, he explained, he intended to stay but 14 days. If he overstayed that period, he said, he probably would encounter unfavorable conditions at the end of his return flight. During the days of waiting here he said many times he was eager to take the zeppelin into the West and exhibit her powers to America's people.

Kansas City In 'Racketeer' Drive

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 26.—A drive against racketeering in building construction and the cleaning and dyeing trade here brought labor leaders and members of the Cleaners Association into court today for arraignment on indictments charging assault and malicious destruction of property.

It is estimated that Tammany Hall costs New York $30,000,000. "We are going to vote against Al Smith because he does not represent American ideals. We do not want to put in the presidency a man cradled in the arms of New York, educated in Roman Catholic schools and a political creature of Tammany and the outspoken, relentless foe of prohibition."

Matador and Frog Elevens Rest On Eve Of Big Battle

Freeland Will Put Full Strength Into Game In Effort To Turn Back Vaunted Christians.

(By Associated Press.) FORT WORTH, Oct. 26.—The Texas Christian University Horned Frogs, trying to break through the vaunted Christians of the Texas Tech Matadors of Lubbock, rested on their arms here tonight on the eve of their third annual clash Saturday.

Both teams took light signal drills. Coach Freeland will send the full strength of his Matadors against the Frogs, trying to break through and win one after being through back twice by the Christians in the past two years.

Coach Bell has two men, Roberts, back, and Robertson, end, on the injured list, but has a strong reserve list and the unbeaten Frogs, for the first time this year, will go into the game favorites to win.

T. C. U. will have a flock of reserves in the game at the start but before the first quarter is ended most of the first string crew will be in action.

Tech followers, 300 strong, will arrive there tomorrow morning on a special train to attend the game.

Christians May Start Reserves

FORT WORTH, Oct. 26.—A rumor was rife the last part of the week at the Texas Christian University Horned Frog camp that some of the Purple reserve backs would see a great deal of action in the fray with the Texas Tech Matadors, Saturday. Coach Matty Bell has no less than nine backs who are about equal when it comes advancing the pig skin, and so far there are four or five who have been little action in real games.

It is probable that Bell will give Toller, Griffith, Grubbs and Eddie-man a much needed rest and start Roberts, Morgan, Thompson and Leland in the backfield. The latter combination, however, has played almost as much as the first and is considered to be equally as good both on offense and defense. Curvin and Hammond are also good men who will probably see action. In order to keep a passer in the line-up, it is likely that Grubbs and Toller will alternate at quarterback.

Reserves in Line. In the line, Buck Barr and Les Swafford will probably get the call at tackles, allowing Capt. Williams and Red Moore to watch from the lines. Howard Hopkins and Chilton Bruce can also take the tackle assignments without loss of strength. At guards Ivor Reid and Phil Handler will probably get the call. Handler started the game against the Aggies but did not see much action.

Rails scored first, shoving over a touchdown on line play in the first quarter. Littlefield came right back to outplay the locals and roll up thirteen points in the second and third quarters. In the fourth, the locals cinched victory.

Tahoka Team Bows To Big Spring 25-0

CUBS-TERRELL TIE

DALLAS, Oct. 26.—(P.)—A 45-yard run by "Sonny Boy" McClelland in the last two minutes of play enabled the Baylor University Cubs to tie Terrell Academy, 6 to 6, here today. McClelland's run came on the first play after the Cubs had intercepted a pass.

Tech Looks Good In Limbering Up On Frog Gridiron

Matadors Are Imbued With Spirit That Odds Are No More Than Even On the Game Tomorrow.

(Special to Avalanche.) FORT WORTH, Oct. 26.—The Texas Tech Matadors, limbered up through a workout on the Horned Frog field this afternoon, were tucked under their respective bed sheets tonight with the idea firmly imbedded that they had just about an even chance with T. C. U. in the game today, the evanescent thing known as "dope" to the contrary, notwithstanding.

The squad, twenty-nine strong, spent the day mostly in resting and in looking over the town. Fort Worth in general and the T. C. U. student body in particular have given the team a rousing welcome.

Betting odds favor the Christians, as expected, but few are offering more than seven points. As a matter of fact, Cowtown fans believe the Frogs are in for a tough scrap, one of their hardest of the year.

Coach Freeland of the Matadors had no comment to make tonight other than to say that his team would do its best; that it had its full strength available, and that there would be no alibis.

There was not expected to be any change in the starting line-up as previously announced. Scarlet and Black and Purple and White, colors of the teams who will battle today, were prominent

Rumor Aggies To Drop Tiger Game

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 26.—(P.)—Despite continued rumors that the annual Texas A. & M.-Sewanee game, a feature of the State Fair of Texas at Dallas for several years, would be discontinued, no comment has been made by A. & M. officials.

Both James Sullivan, business manager of athletics, and head coach, Dana X. Bible, were at Fayetteville, Ark., today and not available for a statement from this source.

The Aggie-Tiger contract has one more year to run. The poor showing of the Tennessee team against the Farmers, and especially their recent 69 to 0 loss, has brought speculation that the contract would not be renewed.

M'Murry Crushes Lumberjack Team

ABILENE, Oct. 26.—(P.)—The McMurry College Indians set a new all-time high scoring record for themselves today by overwhelming the Stephen F. Austin Teachers from Nacogdoches, 49 to 0. Eight touchdowns, four of them on passes, were scored by the Indians. The Lumberjacks did not get past the Indians' 40-yard line.

today throughout the business section and "Welcome Tech" signs were prominently displayed.

The parade of Tech fans and students, scheduled for soon after the arrival of the special train today has been accorded wide publicity and the fans of Fort Worth are eagerly anticipating it.

Australia Linked By Radio Friday

Two-Way Communication Is Heard by Early Rising
Fans Through Line From Station WGY.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 26 (AP)—The United States talked with Australia for more than half an hour today and early rising radio fans listened to the conversation. Through the medium of two short wave broadcasting stations, W-2-XAF, an experimental station of the General Electric company, and 2ME operated by the Amalgamated Wireless Australasia, Ltd., conversation was maintained over ten thousand miles of space between this city and Sydney on the other side of the world.

The voices of the Australian speakers came through so clearly that WGY, the General Electric company's regular broadcasting station, put them on the air from 6:30 to 7 a. m. W-2-XAF operated on 31.4 meters and used a wave length of 283 meters.

WICHITA, Kas., Oct. 26 (AP)—Officers today are investigating the death of J. D. Knox, 28, Wichita fireman whose body was found six miles west of here late yesterday. A bullet fired into the throat had caused his death.

Reports that Knox had had domestic troubles led some officers holding the theory of suicide.

Syncopation's Kid's Sister

Known variously as "the girl Gertrude" and "Broadway's youngest composer," Miss Dana Sussie, 16-year-old prodigy from Louisiana, finds her name written in capital letters in Tin Pan Alley. Her most recent composition, "Syncopated Love Song," has been broadcasted by the Manhattan stations and is being recorded. She is now engaged on a New York symphony.

According to local brokers, while the selling was attributed partly to hedge selling, but largely to the liquidation of old long accounts. The talk of an easy spot basis in the South was considered one of the chief factors in the reaction and there were rumors a little cotton might be shipped here for delivery on contract. The final notices issued against October contracts Thursday were estimated at about 5,600 bales, and were said to include about 600 bales of cotton received here from the South for tender. Their circulation stimulated the final liquidation of the position and its relative easiness, no doubt, had an unsettling effect on the general list.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 26 (AP)—Despite more favorable weekly statistics and reports of a better spot demand, cotton prices declined approximately $1 a bale under selling promoted by fair weather in the belt and liquidation by the long interest. At the lowest, December sold at 18.51, but the option rallied a few points in final trading and closed steady at net declines of 17 to 20 points.

Liverpool cables were lower than due at the start and first trades showed losses of 2 to 5 points. There was some liquidation after the start and December declined further to 18.58, January to 18.61 and March 18.50, or 18 to 19 points under the previous close.

Near noon the decline met some trade buying and covering, probably prompted by the smaller movement of the crop into sight and the larger mill takings. There was also some talk of a better demand for spot cotton at interior markets. On the improvement, prices traded to levels 8 points above the lows, but the gain was soon lost on a renewal of liquidation. The market was on the downgrade for most of the afternoon session making new lows in final trading when December reached 18.51, and March 18.53, or 23 to 25 points down from yesterday's close. Some additional covering in final trading carried the market 2 to 4 points above the lowest and January closed at 18.58 and March 18.55.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—The cotton market was lower today under continued Southern selling and liquidation, promoted by reports of favorable weather in the South, reiterated talk of an easy spot basis, and the continued heavy movement of cotton into sight. December contracts, after firming up from 19.17 to 19.33, sold off to 19.08 or 35 points below the recent high level and closed at 19.12, compared with 19.32 at the close of the previous day. The general market closed steady at net declines of 18 to 23 points.

The market opened barely steady, at declines of 6 to 8 points, and soon showed net losses of 12 to 15 points under a continuation of the recent selling movement, which was promoted by the favorable weather map and overnight selling orders from the South. There was considerable trade buying, which absorbed these initial offerings, and prices rallied back to about or a shade above yesterday's closing quotations during the middle of the morning on covering. The demand slackened around the 13 1-4 cent level for March contracts, however, and prices eased again during the afternoon, when there was further liquidation coupled with local and Southern selling. March sold off to 19.05, or 25 points net lower, with the general list showing net losses of 20 to 25 points in the late trading. The close was within 2 or 3 points of the lowest.

Sunday-School Lesson BY DR. J. E. NUNN

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR OCT. 28, 1928

General Topic: Paul's Last Journey to Jerusalem.

Scripture Lesson: Acts 20:17-21, 28-38; 1 Cor. 11:28.

Acts 20:17. And from Miletus he sent to Ephesus, and called to him the elders of the church.

18. And when they were come to him, he said unto them, Ye yourselves know, from the first day that I set foot in Asia, after what manner I was with you all the time.

19. Serving the Lord with all lowliness of mind, and with tears, and with trials which befell me by the plots of the Jews;

20. How I shrank not from declaring unto you anything that was profitable, and teaching you publicly, and from house to house.

21. Testifying both to Jews and to Greeks repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ.

22. Take heed unto yourselves, and to all the flock, in which the Holy Spirit hath made you bishops, to feed the church of the Lord which he purchased with his own blood.

23. I know that after my departing grievous wolves shall enter in among you, not sparing the flock;

24. And from among your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away the disciples after them.

25. Wherefore watch ye, remembering that by the space of three years I ceased not to admonish everyone night and day with tears.

26. And now I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you the inheritance among all them that are sanctified.

27. I coveted no man's silver, or gold, or apparel.

28. Ye yourselves know that these hands ministered unto my necessities, and to them that were with me.

29. In all things I gave you an example, that so laboring ye ought to help the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, that he himself said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.

30. And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled down and prayed with them all.

31. And they all wept sore, and fell on Paul's neck, and kissed him.

32. Borrowing most of all for the word which he had spoken, that they should behold his face no more. And they brought him on his way unto the ship.

1 Cor. 11:28. Besides those things that are without, there is that which presseth upon me daily, anxiety for all the churches.

Time: A. D. 57.

Place: From Philippi to Troas, and thence to Miletus; then southward to Jerusalem, with stops at Tyro and Caesarea.

Golden Text: Remember the words of the Lord Jesus, that he himself said, it is more blessed to give than to receive.—Acts. 20:35.

Introduction

"Leaving Ephesus after the riot of the silversmiths, Paul traveled north to Troas, where he expected to meet Titus bringing news from the trouble in Corinth which gave the apostle so much anxiety. But Titus did not meet him there, and unable to endure the suspense, Paul went on to Macedonia. There Titus found him and brought him good news that the Corinthians were repentant and were zealous for his leadership. Overjoyed, Paul sent them Second Corinthians, himself remaining in Macedonia to complete the collection for those churches for the Jerusalem poor. Then he went to Corinth, where he spent three months gathering the relief fund and arranging for a little company to go to Jerusalem with the fund, that he himself might be freed from all possible suspicion."

"During the three months spent in Corinth, the winter of 57 and 58, the apostle wrote two of his most important Epistles, Romans and Galatians. And the fact that these were written about the same time and under similar circumstances accounts in a large measure for the similarity of their contents. The doctrine of justification by faith rather than by the law of Moses is the central truth in both of them."

Paul at Troas.

Paul sailed from Neapolis, the port of Philippi, in the spring, after the passover. At Troas, the city made famous by Homer, Paul and his party remained for seven days. At least three of them, Paul and Luke and Timothy, had been there together before, and the place was of profound interest to the three as the scene of Paul's vision of the "Man from Macedonia" which was the beginning of Christianity in Europe, and therefore of Christianity in America.

On the first day of the week, our Sunday, a communion service was held in Troas by the delegates and the Christians of the city. The New Testament contains no command to observe Sunday in place of Saturday, the Jewish Sabbath, but in such passages as this we note the gradual transference of public worship from the seventh day to the day when Christ rose from the dead and when the Holy Spirit came down at Pentecost. Paul before this had appointed Sunday as the day for collection of offerings (1 Cor. 16:2).

The Elders of Ephesus, vs. 18-21.

For some unknown reason, while Luke and some of Paul's other companions took ship for Assos in Mysia, opposite the famous island of Lesbos, Paul made the journey to Assos (twenty miles) by land, perhaps wishing to see some one on the way. Rejoining the company at Assos, Paul sailed to Nitylene, the capital of Lesbos, and thence along the coast, anchoring at night. The famous islands of Chios and Samos were on their way.

Paul did not take time to visit Ephesus, much as he longed to do so, for he was hastening to reach Jerusalem by Pentecost, the day doubly sacred to a Christian Jew, and he knew that he would be delayed by many greetings and questions if he went to so large a Christian center as Ephesus, a place where he had spent more than three years. Therefore he passed by Ephesus and sailed to Miletus, an important city about twenty-five miles south of Ephesus, and from there sent a swift messenger to Ephesus for the elders of the church.

Paul's Address to the Elders From Ephesus, vs. 18-35.

"This address possesses unusual interest. It is the only specimen in the Acts of a sermon addressed to a church. We have had three sermons of St. Paul: to the Jews of Antioch and to the Gentiles at Athens and at Lystra. We shall have three speeches: to the Jews of Jerusalem, to Felix the Roman governor, to Agrippa and the world at large. Here in the center, stands St. Paul's charge to the church. The three sermons present the gospel aggressively; the three speeches present it apologetically; the charge combines both aspects, together with a third element, of personal affection."

—R. B. Rackham. Paul wishes to add force to his farewell admonitions by reminding the elders of all that he had been to the church in Ephesus.

Paul Preached Repentance and Faith, v. 21.

"Testifying both to Jews and to Greeks, repentance toward God, John the Baptist, Jesus himself, St. Peter and St. Paul—all began their preaching by calling on men to repent of their sins. Jews and Greeks, men and women of all nations and of all stations, learned and ignorant, humble and powerful—every hearer needed first of all to turn from his sins and seek to live a pure and godly life. "Quit your wickedness," was Sam Jones' most emphatic exhortation. It is the beginning of Christian life. "And faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ." Repentance is only half of a true preacher's message, and the least important half; for it does no good to turn permanent from our sins. No one in his own strength can lift himself from the mire.

Paul "Pure From the Blood of All Men," v. 25.

Paul is turned toward Jerusalem by a compelling force, though he knows that there, as in every city he has visited, bonds and afflictions await him. But he faces the perilous future with glorious courage. He does not hold his life dear, if only he can do the work for which he has been commissioned, preaching the good news of God's grace in Jesus Christ. He has a premonition that they are looking at him for the last time, and at that solemn moment he calls them to bear witness to his fidelity. He has not hesitated to declare to them the whole counsel of God. He is pure from the blood of all men. The eternal death of a single soul can be laid to his charge. These words show us in a vivid flash the heavy weight of responsibility under which Paul always worked. He must do his best, as every teacher and preacher must do his best, lest his omission of some plea or example or prayer may mean some one's endless sorrow and loss.

"It Is More Blessed to Give Than to Receive," v. 35.

This fine saying of Jesus that was evidently familiar to them is remarkable as the only "Jesus Word" in the New Testament, so far as we know, that is not found in the Gospels. "It is more blessed to give than to receive." More blessed to give money than to receive it; more blessed to give spiritual aid than even to receive it. God is the most blessed of all beings, because he gives everything and receives nothing. Heathen writers say just the opposite of this, as a heathen author wrote: "The giver is foolish, but the receiver is fortunate." Obviously, the giving of self in life service is here under consideration. Paul thinks that it is more blessed to win souls for Christ, or to strengthen wavering disciples, than to be spared the toll of his trade by donations from the Ephesian Christians. Paul hints that the elders, likewise, must not be covetous. Also, they must avoid every semblance of dishonesty in handling the church funds.

Paul's Farewell At Miletus, vs. 26-28.

"And they all wept sore, and fell on Paul's neck and kissed him." The parting scene is deeply affecting. It gives us another side of Paul the warrior of Christ and the church's foremost theologian. "Don't wear your heart on your sleeve," is a worldly wise say. "When we hear the great apostle tell of his tears (ver. 18), and catch the emotion of this farewell, and then see the elders tearfully embrace him one last time, we know that it isn't a Christian saying." The tears of Paul are a medium of revelation. They may not teach doctrine, but they reveal personality."

XXV-THE PRESIDENTIAL SUCCESSION WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.-Times during the present generation there has been a serious possibility of failure of the election system...

During the 1912 campaign, when Roosevelt, Taft, and Wilson ran, and it seemed possible there would be no electoral majority, it was equally likely that neither House of Congress would have a majority for any candidate.

That law provides who shall act as president if the incumbent is incapacitated by removal, death, or disability. Neither that law, nor the Constitution, makes any specific provision for a vacancy caused by failure to meet a constitutional requirement.

The Constitution says that in the latter case, the vice-president becomes president and if he too is removed, dies, or is disabled, Congress may provide for who shall act.

CHAPTER XLVIII

"Oh, Sybil, don't implore Mrs. Thorne. You know I loved today as if he were my own. You and Tad, have grown away from me, and I'm such a lonely old woman. I'd miss Teddy more than any of you."

She put her hands to her face and silent tears stole between her poor, thin fingers. Then Sybil, who had been sitting on the edge of the bed, leaning against her heart would break. Valerie came and sat on the arm of her chair to stroke her slim shoulders lovingly and Tad dropped a kiss on her forehead.

"Mother, dear," whispered Valerie, "will never let you be lonely again."

She caught Tad's ear-dimmed glance, and raised her eyebrows interrogatively.

"All right," he nodded.

"Mother, dear, listen. You're going to have another little grandchild. I'm going to have a baby! Honestly—in three months. I think I've been so smart to keep it a secret. We meant not to tell you for a little while yet. The longer we wait the better. I felt that now you poor dear, I want you to stop your crying, and tell Tad and me you're glad. Tad's own! Aren't you thrilled, Mother—And Sib—Sib, dear—can't you be glad too? Another little baby—to make his wonderful life. Oh, please tell me you're glad."

"Tad! Is it true?"

They turned to him together. Sybil and her mother. And their surprise was so genuine, that Valerie laughed aloud.

"Well, I like that! Of course it's true. Don't you suppose I know then they laughed—the two women who never expected to smile again—and, throwing their arms about Valerie, kissed her.

"Oh, my dear," breathed Sybil, and catching a sob with her teeth, bit her lip. "I think it's wonderful. Val," she cried. "And I never even suspected. I never was so surprised in all my life. Three months—why, Val."

Mrs. Thorne was counting quietly on her fingers.

"June—that's lovely," she whispered through her tears. "Tad, I'm so glad."

She kissed him tenderly.

"I guess I've something to live for after all. Your baby—"

Her hands dropped idly in her lap, and she fell to musing.

"Tad was a lovely baby, Valerie. Such a fine, healthy boy. And I never see me a minute's worry. Sybil was fussy—but Tad—land flowers she wore, and seemed as frail and sweet.

"Sybil! My dear, what is the matter? You're white as a sheet." Solicitously he took her hand and drew her to his client's best upholstered chair.

"Have you been ill, Sib? Is anything wrong? My poor little girl, you look like death."

"Teddy's dead, Craig."

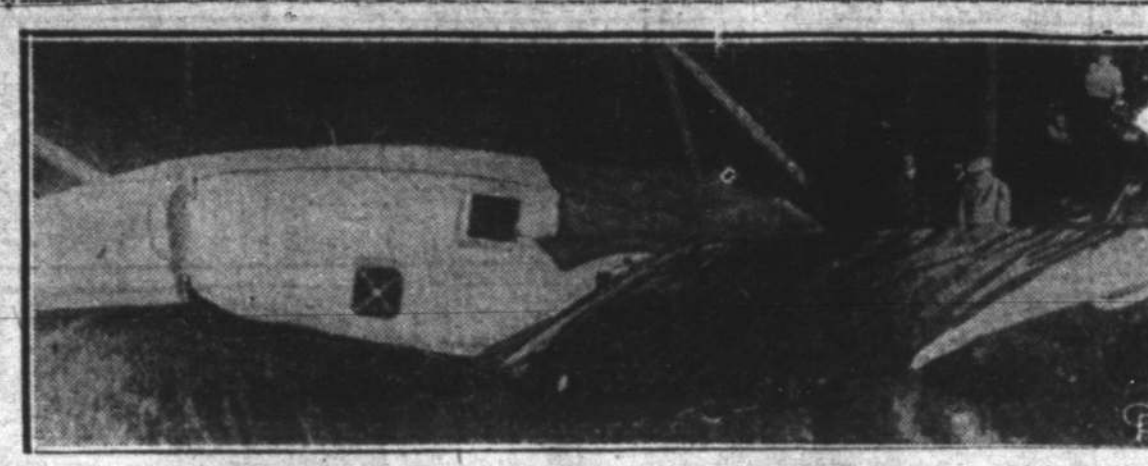

"Teddy?" he repeated dully.

"Yes, we buried him this afternoon—in his little teddy bear suit. I wouldn't tell you, Craig, if it wasn't true. No, dear, I haven't gone insane. Teddy's dead. I know because they put him in the ground you see. Underneath the snow. And they let me dress him very warmly, and put his toys in his basket, like pagan mothers do."

"Teddy was hanged, Craig. He choked to death when I went out to see a man. I used to love Oh, they say he was watching the snowflakes, but I know better. He was looking for his mother. With his little nose pressed against the ice pane, in his flannel nightgown, shivering in the cold, waiting for me."

"And I didn't come, Craig. I'd gone to see this man. He's going to be married very soon. She's a nice little girl—nice like I used to be. Her name's Kitty, and he says she's

Banker Killed, Seven Hurt When Plane Falls

Two pilots and six passengers were injured, one fatally, when this Junkers all-metal monoplane nosedived into a marsh near Atlantic City, N. J. has loved a woman for many years, and been denied the fulfillment of his love, there may arise from this denial a sort of protective tenderness. A rare and lovely thing like a wrath of passion. And it embraces the object of his adoration gently as the perfume of a summer's night. It is an exquisite heat—heat—diffuses the precious fragrance of a gracious dream.

In some magnetic way Sybil felt herself enfolded in the spiritual garment of Craig's love.

But when he raised her hand to his lips, and kissed her fingers, one by one, she drew them away.

"No, Craig. Not yet. I've come to ask you something. But you must hear me first."

"Yes, darling."

He scooped her gently, stroking her knees.

"I've been a bad girl, Craig."

"No, no. Little Sweet."

It was his turn to put fingers across her lips.

"No, Sybil—Dear little good little girl—No."

"But I have, Craig. Listen. The man I went to see was John Lawrence. He didn't die at all, Craig. It was all a mistake. He—his very much alive. Mabel knew him first—only she didn't know he was John, you see. She thought his name was Roger Caldwell. He's a real estate agent. And Mabel was looking for an apartment. And when the agent came I was there, don't you see? And it was John Lawrence."

"He'd had amnesia, Craig. He wasn't killed at all. He'd only forgotten. And when he saw me he fainted. And then Mabel and I revived him, and he knew me. Oh, it's such a dreadfully long story, Craig."

He pulled her short skirt down over her silken knees, and held his peace.

"And that night," she said, paling as she told it. "I went to see him. I went to his apartment, Craig. And I wanted him to make love to me. He told me about the girl he is going to marry, and he said she was his salvation, and his compass and everything. And still I wanted him to make love to me. You see I am a very bad girl, Craig."

He was silent.

"And then," she said, "he asked me if I had had lovers. Craig, and he came and took me in his arms. And kissed me. . . . And then the telephone rang. . . . And it was Mabel. And Teddy was dead, only I didn't know it then."

"Poor little girl. Sweet little dear little girl."

He reminded her of a monk on his knees, telling a story—a beautiful litany of infinite sweetness.

"Craig—darling," she put her lips to his ear. "I'm not very desirable any more. A little while ago, when you loved me. . . . I had Teddy. And I was very happy. Now Teddy's gone. . . . And I feel very old. . . . Could you love me now, Craig?"

"Oh, my dear, my dear."

He buried his face in her lap. "I wish you could," she whispered. "but if you can't, it's all right. Craig. I didn't really think you would. I'm so miserable, you see. Men never love miserable women. . . . Of course you don't want me. . . . I shouldn't have come. But I wanted to know, Craig. . . . I wanted to be sure?"

She rose unsteadily to her feet, and when she swayed he caught her, and held her close. And she was as sweet in his arms as her anemones.

"Oh, my darling. My poor hurt little darling."

"You love me?" she murmured. "I love you so," he whispered. "I love you so. . . ."

Then she raised her face, all wet with tears, and he kissed her pale white lids so gently she scarcely felt his lips.

History of Presidential Elections

out his knowledge or presence. All Cabinet Members Not Eligible Presidential eligibility is seldom considered in choosing a cabinet, as the presidential office has never yet fallen to any one ranking below the vice president in the line of succession. Many cabinet members have been men ineligible by birth to the presidency. Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane having been a recent example. He was mentioned for the presidency before it was recalled that he was born in Canada. Had the presidential succession ever got down to him, he could not have acted. Of course there has never been a serious danger of the death or disability of the whole line of succession at once, although when Lincoln was assassinated there was a plot to kill the vice president and several cabinet members also. The cabinet was not then in the line of succession. The murder of President Garfield was declared by some partisans to have been a deliberate plan to get

Vice President Arthur into the White House, in the interest of a group of office seekers. Garfield and Arthur represented rival leadership in their party. The charge of a plot was never substantiated and undoubtedly merely the heated words of a thoughtless moment, although the assassin of Garfield was himself a disappointed seeker after a minor public office, who may have had any mad notion in his brain. Presidents have never given much thought to the succession laws, and Cleveland appointed a republican as Secretary of State, Walter Q. Gresham, of Indiana, Gresham had voted for Cleveland, but had previously been a republican all his life. Bainbridge Colby, Wilson's last Secretary of State, had been a Progressive and rather independent in politics. Lincoln appointed four democrats and three republicans to his first cabinet, of course vigorously opposed by Seward and other republican leaders. Seward suggested that the Secretary of State, himself, be made a sort of super-cabinet officer, or premier, with direction over the other department heads. He thought the president needed a kind of assistant president. Lincoln said he would lend to the premier business himself, and that whichever side he took in cabinet discussions would be the majority. Wilson was often said to have been his own Secretary of State, and Harrison complained that he had to do Blaine's work for him. Pierce advised any cabinet member who had presidential ambitions to resign. The succession of Jefferson, Madison, Monroe and John Quincy Adams from the state portfolio to the presidency was by election, but the public got tired of that custom. Nevertheless more cabinet members have come direct to the presidency than men from any other group of offices. Mr. Taft being the last, and Mr. Hoover a present candidate. Many of them had also been governors or congressmen, as well as cabinet officials. Van Buren and Taft were examples of cabinet members who had the active support of their chiefs as their successors.

There's somebody like him in every office

RESTLESSLY he begins the day. But he has no grip on his job. His desk piles up with unfinished work. As people help and pity him, he realizes that he might as well face the truth. He is through. The pace is too much. Something has been stealing his energy—killing his ambition. He isn't sick—and yet, somehow, he never feels well. Thousands of men are falling behind the crowd, all because they fail to realize how deadly constipation is. Constipation can wreck the strongest body. Headaches, sleepless nights, listlessness, wan complexions are just a few of its early symptoms. In the end, it often leads to serious disease. What a pity more people do not know there is such prompt relief from this terrible scourge! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation safely. More—to prevent it just as surely.

part-bran product the amount of bulk is usually too small to be completely effective. That's why doctors recommend ALL-BRAN.
ALL-BRAN brings natural relief
Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is totally different from dangerous drugs and pills whose dose must be constantly increased to be effective. It works as nature works. The health of the entire family can be maintained by serving ALL-BRAN in some form, every day. A pleasant cereal. To eat with milk or cream. Delicious with fruits or honey added. Use it in cooking, too. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal. But get genuine Kellogg's—the original ALL-BRAN. Sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, restaurants. On diners. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Guaranteed! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions, if it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.

SUMMARY
Market down 18 to 23 points from last night's close. Continued favorable weather conditions that created bearish sentiment and hedge selling caused prices to sag still lower today. A buying rally at the close, however, caused presumably by shorts and covering, enabled the markets to close steady. Liverpool opened and closed barely steady and also developed a sagging tendency. Norman Mayer & Company, wired "Continued trade improvement offsets tendency to raise crop estimate. Would watch situation closely and buy on any further decline."

Spots in Lubbock continued about the same, paying 150 to 200 off. Liverpool cabled, "Hedge selling and local long liquidation in cotton."
