Ballinger Girl On European Tour

The contract assuring the Simmons University Cowboy Band of an eight-week tour of England and continental Europe was signed Wednesday at Abilene, and as soon as it was closed seventeen persons signed for the trip to accompany the band.

Miss Evelyn Shepherd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Shepherd, of Ballinger, was among the first to sign for the trip. A number of other Simmons girls also will make the trip, and those already assured with Miss Shepherd are Misses Parlee Payton, Elizabeth Faucett and Eoline Grisham, all of Abilene; and Miss Lillian Schick, of Big Spring. A number of others signed but did not desire their names published until later.

Miss Shepherd is a senior at Simmons this year and will be a member of the graduating class. She has made a remarkable record at Simmons in her literary work and aside from that has been a student in voice and a member of musical groups in that department. She also is a member of the "Cowgirls," a place of honor at the university.

The contract signed by the band officials is complete in every detail, including expenses for the organization from Dallas and return to the same city. Bookings in Europe, ship passage, train travel, hotel reservations, etc., have already been arranged. In addition to the musicians, the bandmaster, D. O. Wiley; business manager, G. B. Sandfer; Tom Hickman, Texas ranger; and two horses are included in the party. Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Sandfer will make the journey as guests of the tour management and will be official chaperones for the girls in the party.

Departure will be made from Dallas on June 6th, and embarkation from New York on June 11th.

BLIND FISH WITH HORNS FOUND BY WORKMEN

(By Associated Press)
ALPINE, Mar. 13.—Blind fish with horns on their heads for boring in the mud have been reported discovered in an underground stream 12 feet below the surface in Presidio county southwest of here.

The find was made by a concrete crew engaged in placing cement work for the extension of the Santa Fe railroad from Alpine to Presidio. J. P. Swazell, superintendent of the work, said he found strange creatures while his men were excavating for concrete bridge piers on the second crossing of Alameda creek south of Alpine. Though the fish had eyes, they could not see, and when molested, tried to escape by boring frantically into the mud at the bottom of the underground stream. They were only three inches long.

Swazell plans to send the specimens to a prominent ichthyologist for classification.

FANS IMPROVE MUSIC IN WORLD EXCHANGE

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Mar. 13.—General approval has been expressed by listeners, both in America and abroad, of the type of programs given in the international exchange at the Christmas season.

A compilation just made by NBC shows that out of each dozen letters received, eleven considered the programs a real cross section of American music, while one resented the use of jazz. Foreign listeners asked more frequent program exchanges, expressed a desire to hear more American radio stars and liked the orchestras which played both classical and jazz music.

Odom Funeral Set For 3:00 Friday

Mrs. Ed Richards, of Utica, New York, is expected to arrive in Abilene Thursday night and will be met there and brought on to Ballinger in time to attend the funeral of her grandfather, G. G. Odom. Mrs. Richards left Utica Tuesday night en route to Ballinger, and was on her way here when Col. Odom passed away.

The funeral will be held at the First Methodist Church Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Rev. T. E. Bowman, pastor of the church, officiating. Interment will be made in Evergreen Cemetery following rites at the church. Active pallbearers will be: J. L. Chastain, Edward Sommers, Fred Kiehl, Robert Bruce, J. J. Beck, Frank C. Dickey, R. E. George and Paul Trimmer.

Honorary pallbearers named by the family are: Jake Stubblefield, Asa Cordill, J. M. Garlington, Oscar Pearson, Chas. Ferguson, Lottie Farris, Bun Morgan, Edwin Day, H. L. Mobley, H. Giesecke, R. B. Crasay, J. A. Williams, C. W. Johnson, Stanley Gray, Dr. J. G. Douglass, J. P. Maddox, R. L. Harwell, Bedford Caperton, G. W. Dunlap, Nath Allen, W. L. Brown, M. C. Boyd, J. A. Zak, H. H. Thomson, Rev. R. B. Hooper, J. Y. Pearce, John A. Weeks, Hugh Campbell, Hamp Byler, W. C. McCarver, Chas. Grant and Lon Mapes.

A number of other relatives arrived Thursday and will remain until after the funeral.

Auxiliary Head To Speak Friday

Mrs. W. H. Carpenter, of Austin, state president of the American Legion Auxiliary, will be in Ballinger Friday night to meet with the local unit of that organization. Mrs. F. H. Cameron, president of the Ballinger unit, received a telephone message from Mrs. Carpenter Thursday morning announcing that she would arrive here Friday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock.

The Ballinger unit met Thursday morning and decided upon an open house for Friday night at 8:00 o'clock to which everybody in Ballinger will be invited. This invitation does not apply to members alone, but to anyone who would like to hear the message which will be brought by Mrs. Carpenter.

A committee of local Auxiliaries began Thursday afternoon to arrange a short program of entertainment which will be given in American Legion Hall preceding and following Mrs. Carpenter's address. Following the program refreshments will be served to everyone and a short social hour enjoyed.

Mrs. Carpenter is a very capable speaker and has recently visited the hospitals of the United States Veterans Bureau and collected much information on conditions in these institutions. She will probably devote a portion of her address here to the work the Auxiliary is doing at the Texas Institutions and to child welfare work of the organization, especially at Legion, Texas.

Mrs. Carpenter is on her way to San Angelo to attend the fifth division American Legion Auxiliary convention. She has never visited Ballinger before and everything that can possibly be accomplished on short notice will be done for her reception here.

Mrs. Cameron stressed the point Thursday morning that all Ballinger residents are invited and urged to be present Friday night. The local unit is one of the strongest and most important in the state and the members want citizens here to learn something of the activities they carry on each year. The program will be brief but the group of musical selections and short address by the visiting Auxiliary head will be well worth the time of those attending.

A large number of Auxiliary and Legion members will go to San Angelo Saturday and Sunday to attend the division convention. The neighboring city has already been decorated and made ready for the thousand or more delegates who will be present. Both local organizations have elected their official delegates.

The first two railroads built west of the Alleghenies have observed the 100th anniversary of their foundings.

At noon Thursday twenty schools in Runnels county had entered students in events for the interscholastic meet to be held here Friday and Saturday of this week. Supt. H. C. Lyon, director general of the meet, stated that schools had until 6:00 o'clock Thursday afternoon to enter their contestants but after that hour no other entries would be made by any school.

More schools are expected to enter contestants in the meet some time during the afternoon and at least 25 schools will take part in a majority of the events. COUNTY HEALTH NURSE VISITS SCHOOLS DAILY

Miss Addie Alexander, county health nurse, is at present rushing her schedule to visit all schools before the end of the present term. So far this month she has visited Blanton, Bell, Red Bank, Rowena, Sweet Home, Norton, Drasco, Baldwin and Brookshire. In addition she has met with the junior health clubs at Bethel, Rowena and Hatchel each Thursday and Friday afternoons.

The examinations already made of pupils are to be carefully checked to see how the defects have been corrected with the result that health buttons will be awarded to those meeting the requirements.

Next week Miss Alexander will have a full schedule as follows: March 18, Marie and Oak Creek; March 19, committee meeting; March 20, Bethel and Hatchel; March 21, Rowena; March 22, in office at Ballinger.

The last week in the month will be spent in Ballinger at the district Parent-Teacher Association convention.

C OF C BOARD HOLDS MEETING THURSDAY

The board of directors of the Ballinger Chamber of Commerce met in regular session Thursday morning at 10 o'clock with most of the directors present. All standing committees made reports of work done and the reports showed that each chairman had been active in looking after the work designated to his committee.

Most of the discussion was in regard to road problems without any definite action being taken.

Three months behind in filling orders, Australian silk hosiery manufacturers have asked hosiery men of application of increased import duties on this product.

Starts Probe of New Orleans Fire

(By Associated Press)
NEW ORLEANS, March 13.—While three separate investigations were still underway to determine the origin of the harbor fire here that did $2,000,000 damage yesterday, firemen still fought the flames, hours after the fire.

Firemen still poured water into holes of the freighter Monair, which was damaged badly.

Free Wood Offered By City Officials

The city has offered free wood to anyone desiring to cut it, haul it off and pile the brush. This offer is made in order to get about twelve acres of land cleared which will be submerged when the new dam is completed. The tract lies between the pump station and the old or upper dam and those desiring to cut wood can get the location from City Engineer Roy Davis.

K. V. Northington, city secretary, stated that already many are taking advantage of the free offer and had commenced cutting and hauling. On the plot is a quantity of fine wood of several varieties. To take advantage of this offer it is not necessary to grub up the trees but just to cut them down, remove the wood from the ground and pile the brush where it can be burned. Stumps remaining in the ground will not interfere when the new lake is filled with water.

Those who want this timber are asked to respond to the call quickly as city officials are anxious to have the land cleared in a short time before work begins on the dam.

WINTERS LITTLE THEATRE WILL PRESENT TOMMY

The Winters Little Theatre will stage its spring presentation in Winters tonight at 8 o'clock. The play selected is a three-act comedy entitled "Tommy." The show is under the direction of John Norman and specialties are directed by Carl Henslee, both of whom are members of the troupe.

The Winters Little Theatre group has been functioning for the past seven years and has established a reputation for always offering a performance of merit. The company scored a sure-fire hit here last fall in its presentation of "New Brooms," and if arrangements can be concluded by the Ballinger American Legion post and the Winters players "Tommy" will be presented in this city next week.

A number of Ballinger people will go to Winters tonight to witness the first performance of the comedy.

WOMEN STILL "PROTECT" FRANCE FROM WOLVES

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, Mar. 13.—Wolf Lieutenants still carry on the tradition of royal days and ride to the hunt to protect the country from the ravages of wolves.

Two of the most noted of these are women, the Dowager Duchess d'Uzes and Madame Alice Abram Terras of the Lambesc-Salon region in southern France. The latter wears the man's uniform.

These "wolf lieutenants" receive no pay or allowances. In fact they must maintain at their own expense proper packs of wolf hounds. In return, however, they have the privilege of hunting boars twice a month in the state forests of their regions. And this they do, commanding sometimes a hundred or more "guns."

Banks to Close

The First National Bank and the Ballinger State Bank will not be open for business after 1:00 o'clock Friday afternoon on account of the death of G. G. Odom. Mr. Odom, for years president of the Farmers & Merchants State Bank, died Wednesday morning, and will be buried Friday afternoon.

EX-PRESIDENTS SON WILL RUN FOR GOVERNOR

(By Associated Press)
MEXICO CITY, March 13.—Rodolfo Elias Calles, son of the former president, stated upon his arrival here from Sonora that he would accept the nomination for governor of Sonora in case a majority of the political group of the state selected him for that honor in the state convention.

He said numerous political groups have requested him to accept the nomination but that he had insisted that a state convention would have to be held before he could accede. He said in case he is chosen for governor he will continue the policies of the present governor, Arturo Elias, and adhere to the platform of the National Revolutionary Party. He is here on a visit.

SELF-HELP SCHOOL BUNKS STUDENTS IN PULLMANS

(By Associated Press)
CARLISVILLE, Ill., Mar. 13.—Blackburn College here has been converted into an independent, self-help school by broadcasting two slogans:

If another college will take you, don't come here. If you can pay your way, Blackburn doesn't want you.

Students use old Pullman cars for dormitories at Blackburn, where $200 is all one needs for a year's board, room and tuition. For more than 250 boys and girls, the enrollment limit, try to register.

When fire destroyed the school's main building a few years ago, William M. Hudson, Blackburn's president, procured worn-out Pullmans to house the homeless students. Since then student labor has erected several buildings.

"Blackburn is the only school where self-help extends to management and direction of work," Mr. Hudson says. "Students buy the food, cook it, serve it and eat it. They operate a 200-acre farm. Each student must work with his hands two and a half hours each day."

ANCIENT PLAYING CARDS REVEALED IN COLLECTION

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Mar. 13.—Playing cards are among the world's genuine antiques.

This was disclosed when a collection of ancient cards was exhibited in Chicago during the National Bridge Association's annual tournament.

There were domino cards from ancient China, cards printed from wood blocks in medieval times, others hand-engraved depicting historical events. Some had been carved by German wood-cut artists of the 15th century.

For suit signs the Germans used acorns, hearts, bells and leaves. The Italians used batons, coins, swords and cups. American cards, the collection showed, follow French suit signs.

NEW LAB TO RECORD ELECTRICITY IN AIR

(By Associated Press)
TUCSON, Ariz., March 13.—The first complete laboratory in the United States for recording atmospheric electricity has been completed here.

It is a specially designed structure to protect instruments used to measure electrical conductivity of the air. The outside resembles a shed built to admit wind from every direction.

Inside is a box-shaped building of masonry, with walls two feet thick. Within this box is another, made of solid concrete, and separated from the outer box by an air corridor two feet thick.

Entrance is through a short hall with outer and inner doors. The outer door is closed before the inner one is opened. This last door opens into the room where instruments are housed in total darkness.

Space also has been provided for measuring electrical currents within the earth. The observatory cost $3,000 and was erected co-operatively by the federal division of terrestrial magnetism and meteorology and the Carnegie Institution.

A. K. Ludy of the federal magnetic observatory will make the observations.

BANDITS KIDNAP AND HANG 4 IN MEXICO

(By Associated Press)
MEXICO CITY, Mar. 13.—Police here are mystified by the operations of a bandit gang which within the last few weeks is known to have kidnapped and hanged four men.

The bodies of two men bearing evidence of having been hanged were found buried on atop the other two weeks ago along the road to Cuernavaca and Sunday two more bodies, bearing similar signs, were found interred near the same spot. All of the victims had been killed recently and none has yet been identified.

General Macario Hernandez, retired, was abducted from the City of Puebla, near here, several weeks ago and no clue has been found as to his whereabouts. It is feared he fell into the hands of this bandit gang.

AUSTIN, March 13.—The House today passed a bill introduced by Senator Walter Woodward of Coleman, to create the 115th judicial district to include Runnels, Coleman, Tom Green, Coke and Concho counties.

AUSTIN, Mar. 13.—By a one vote margin the Senate today amended the House resolution, proposing sine die adjournment of the legislature Saturday, and will fix final questions dated for March 27, the day the constitutional period ends.

The proposition was left hanging in mid-air, however, when Senator Small of Wellington, who voted for the amendment moved to reconsider and spread on the journal, and gave notice he would call up the resolution again tomorrow.

AUSTIN, Mar. 13.—The Senate today prepared for a vote on the resolution proposing a sine die adjournment of the fifth special session of the legislature Saturday.

Some of the Senators contended that Governor Moody blundered in refusing to sign appropriations measures until revenue producing bills have been passed. Others argued the governor did the right thing by taking the stand that new appropriations should not be voted until money is available to meet them.

Prison legislation and the sulphur tax which are in conference committees apparently are no nearer agreement.

Sportmen are letting the early fishing season slip by without getting their lines wet. The streams are low and experienced fishermen state that there will be no good fishing until after rains fall and rises sweep out the creeks. This sport is expected to take much of the time of lovers of the outdoors this summer, and with baseball out of the picture will be one of the leading diversions.

At the chamber of commerce effortless meeting held in Ballinger Thursday every committee of the board made a report. When standing committees all have something to report it is an indication that the organization is working and trying to do something. The Ballinger commercial body has always been a working organization but many times committees have gone for an entire year without having a single report to make. Something has to be done before there is a report and when from ten to twelve different committees all report at a single meeting it should be encouragement to the officers, as well as the entire citizenship who elected them to the board.

Ballinger officials have announced that there will not be any professional baseball played here this summer but still applications continue to pour in for places on the team. Players who sojourned here last summer have gone to all parts of the country and told what a fine town they played for and how well they were treated and the good advertising has caused others to seek a berth here. Just what happened with these players is true of every gathering that comes to this city. When a convention meets in Ballinger and the delegates go away they either say the town entertained them royally or else that it was not so good. Personal words spoken from visitors mean much to any city and this month Ballinger will have the privilege of entertaining two important gatherings. The first starts tomorrow when school boys and girls come here for two days. A friendly act and a little hospitality will bring word from these pupils when they return home and will create friends. In the last week of this month the district Parent-Teacher Association convention will be held here, and the same advice applies. Much entertainment has been planned for the P. T. A.'s and if you have no part in that entertainment at least try to make them feel at home when you pass them on the street. There much to entertaining a convention other than the banquets and social gatherings. A city that can make people feel they are welcome when they walk down the street is the place to which some will want to return some day.

Boundaries of four states come together at corners of Utah, Arizona, New Mexico and Colorado. Second-hand stores are rare in Paris and most French cities because the government operates pawn shops.

Deputy Sheriff Is Warm Friend Of New Konjola

"New Medicine Certainly Made Good In A Wonderful Way in My Case," He Declares.

MR. THOMAS WARREN

Results are what count, and Konjola can be counted on for results, and results are what sufferers need and want. Don't hesitate about Konjola if stomach, liver, kidneys or bowels are out of order, or if rheumatism, neuritis or nervousness make life miserable. Now read the grateful words of Mr. Thomas W. Warren, deputy Sheriff, of Arkoma, Oklahoma, who says:

"This new medicine, Konjola, certainly made good in a wonderful way in my case, and I thought there was no medicine under the sun that could set my stomach and kidneys right. Three years ago I had a bad attack of the 'flu' and this left me in a terrible condition generally. Soon rheumatism set in, and my condition was alarming. Medicine after medicine failed, and the outlook was dark indeed.

"I was induced to try Konjola by the many endorsements this medicine was winning all around me. Well, Konjola proved to be the very medicine I needed. In four weeks my friends were asking me what in the world I had done to look so well. And you can bet that I told them that Konjola alone was responsible for my recovery and for my new health."

Konjola is sold in Ballinger at the Weeks Drug Store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

REARRANGE SOCIAL DATES ON WHITE HOUSE CALENDAR

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Mar. 13.—Warren Deano Robbins, new master of ceremonies for the white house is having his hands full rearranging the capital's social program.

The death of Secretary Good with its period of mourning postponed all official social activities for a time. Just as white house parties got well started President and Mrs. Hoover decided on a much needed rest in Florida.

Thus Mr. Robbins is having a busy vacation from his duties as minister to Salvador since President Hoover asked him to act as master of ceremonies.

It is his duty to set dates for official dinners and receptions. He has decided the white house will forego any state receptions during Lent. The original program continued entertainments after Wednesday.

THE HORSE-CHESTNUT

By Mary Graham Bonner

"I've turned the time ahead a few weeks," said the Little Black Clock, "and we're going to see some lovely horse-chestnut trees."

Peggy had always loved horse-chestnut trees with their beautiful tall white blossoms. "Why are they called horse-chestnut trees?" John asked.

"Shall we ask them?" the Little Black Clock suggested. "You know I have enough magic so we can understand what the trees have to tell us."

It was the very first question John asked as they came to the horse-chestnut trees.

The trees were so tall and so magnificent looking, but they were quite friendly and were only too willing to answer John's question.

"There isn't so very much of a reason," said the horse-chestnut tree which had been chosen as the one to answer John's question.

"We have chestnuts, it is true, but probably you know our chestnuts are too bitter to eat."

"I certainly know that," John agreed.

"They're even too bitter for horses to eat."

"Then why such a name?" John asked.

"Yes, I'm coming to that," said the horse-chestnut tree. "Just between each one of our leaves and the twig to which it is attached there is a little pattern that looks like a horse-shoe with the marks of the nails in it too."

"That's how we got our name. You see there is a reason for it, but only a little, little bit of a reason."

John and Peggy were very glad to know that little bit of a reason as they had so often wondered and asked why the horse-chestnut trees were so named.

Now they knew—and they knew the answer must be correct for a horse-chestnut tree had told it to them.

HOW'S your HEALTH

THE A B C OF VITAMINS

The vitamins known to date have been designated vitamins A, B, C, D, E and PP. This classification is indicative to an extent, of how much there still remains to be discovered on the nature and constitution of these unknown dietary factors.

On the other hand, a great deal is already known about the effect of the lack of these vitamins on normal growth, development and function.

Thus the absence of vitamin fat soluble A, commonly found in milk, butter, egg yolk and in certain plants, such as barley, wheat and oats, results in what is known as xerophthalmia, a disease of the eyes in which they become so badly swollen as to be opened only with difficulty or not at all.

Vitamin B is called the anti-neuritic vitamin, because its absence results in inflammatory changes in nerves. Vitamin B also promotes growth. It is widely distributed in common natural foods.

Vitamin C is a so-called anti-scurbutic, the absence of which results in scurvy. This vitamin is most commonly found in fruits and vegetables. It is practically absent in all common starch and fat foods.

Vitamin D is termed the anti-rachitic vitamin. Its absence in the diet results in rickets. This vitamin is found most commonly in fats, particularly fish oils. Cod liver oil is used in the prevention and treatment of rickets because it contains relatively large amounts of vitamin D. It is of interest to note here that we have recently succeeded in artificially producing vitamin D by subjecting certain substances to radiation with ultra-violet rays.

Proves to be just Just What He Had Been Needing

B. E. Brooks, Well Known San Angelo Night Watchman, Praises Orgatone for Relieving His Troubles.

H. E. Brooks, a well known night watchman, residing at 1430 E. Harris Ave., San Angelo, Texas, is now an ardent champion of the merits of Orgatone since the medicine has proved of such great benefit to him. Mr. Brooks, in relating his experience said:

"It seems rather singular that the past few weeks are the first I have gone through in several months without suffering from stomach trouble and constipation, and I can account for it only by the fact that Orgatone has gotten my system in such good shape.

"Following my first attack of indigestion a few months ago, I found myself with a very poor appetite and all run down in many ways. I tried numerous medicines in my efforts to get back in shape but it seemed like my nerves were just shot to pieces. Sometimes I could eat and then again I would not want anything. I had that tired feeling all the time, and got to where my work was a drag to me.

"Seeing Orgatone praised by those who had used it, I concluded to try it myself and the very first dose made a marked change in my feeling. So I kept using the medicine and improving right along until I now do not have a symptom of my old trouble left. I can eat just anything I want and have no more of those gassy, bloating spells and I am able to do my work with ease. My sleep is sound and restful and I get up from my sleep full of energy and take more interest in everything, especially my work. Orgatone has certainly proved to be just what I needed and I have recommended it to several people who have tried it out and are more than pleased with the results."

Genuine Orgatone may be bought in Ballinger at the Weeks Drug Store.

Amusements

"Skinner Steps Out" Features Glenn Tryon

Amusing from start to finish is "Skinner Steps Out," Universal farce-comedy co-starring Glenn Tryon and Merna Kennedy, which opened a two-day run at the Palace Theatre yesterday. It is a dialogue picture.

Tryon probably has never done better work than in this picture. He has a role ideally suited to his exceptional fun-making talents. Opposite him is beautiful titian-haired Merna Kennedy, who also is happily cast. In the role of "Honey," the young wife, Miss Kennedy is a most winsome and appealing heroine.

The plot of the story concerns itself with the business and social career of young "William Henry Skinner," who is a great man to his adoring young wife and a very small potato at the office.

In fear and trembling, Skinner finds himself compelled to justify his wife's belief in him. His efforts to do this furnish the motive for some of the amusing scenes.

In his portrayal of his role, Tryon veers from a pathetic timorousness to boisterous self-confidence. Among scenes which especially stand out are those in which he asks for a raise, and in which he leads the orchestra and conducts an auction at a charity bazaar.

E. J. Ratcliffe, Burr McIntosh and Lloyd Whitlock are also members of the cast.

International house, near the University of California campus at Berkeley, is to have 456 students of 56 nationalities.

Moody Expected To Enter Running For Governor

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Mar. 13.—Four of Texas' most spectacular campaigners are expected to beat the bushes for votes in the Democratic campaign for governor this summer. In fact there are already actively at it. The fourth is expected to get in soon.

The three political figures extraordinary now at work for the nomination are former Governor James E. Ferguson, former United States Senator Earle B. Mayfield, and State Senator Thomas B. Love. The fourth expected to make the race is Governor Dan Moody.

Presence in the campaign of Ferguson, Mayfield and Love is designed to have much to do with Governor Moody's decision to seek a third term.

Certain people who do not want either Ferguson, Mayfield or Love as governor, and who, under normal circumstances, would not be "hot" for Moody have decided that Moody is the man to beat either of the other three.

Of course, there are others in the race, but interest now centers on the four mentioned, although Lieut.-Governor Barry Miller still has a sizeable following and insists he will stay in regardless of who runs.

But, observers have predicted that Love would withdraw in case Moody got in. They claim he would then become a candidate for lieutenant governor, shifting his fight to get a place on the Democratic ticket from the governor's office to that of lieutenant governor.

Some folks who are strong for Moody would not be so enthusiastic if they did not believe he is the only one who can defeat Love under the present lineup. On the other hand, there is an element that ordinarily would be for Love or Mayfield who are afraid Ferguson could defeat either in a run-off primary, hence they prefer Moody to Ferguson and would vote for him to avoid a situation that caused Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson's nomination in 1924 when she went into the run-off with Judge Felix Robertson.

All things considered, it looks like Governor Moody occupies an advantageous place should he decide to try for a third term.

His friends claim he does not want to be governor longer, preferring to retire to practice of law in an effort to recoup his private fortune, somewhat depleted by his four years as chief executive. However, he feels the legislature has not reflected the sentiment of the people in the matter of remedying penitentiary conditions and is of a mind to try for another term in order to thrash out that matter before the people.

They said his decision to abandon public life entirely lent strength to his own beneath-the-surface argument that he should run, in that he feels, having decided to rest his political honors with the governorship, he could afford to be defeated for a third term.

Needless Pain!

Nowadays, people take Bayer Aspirin for many little aches and pains, and as often as they encounter any pain.

Why not? It is a proven antidote for pain. It works!

And Bayer Aspirin tablets are utterly harmless. You have the medical profession's word for that; they do not depress the heart.

So, don't let a cold "run its course." Don't wait for a headache to "wear off." Or regard neuralgia, neuritis, or even rheumatism as something you must endure. Only a physician can cope with the cause of such pain, but

LONG SHOT JIMMY WEARS SPECS AT HIS ALL RACES

JIMMY MCCOY

(By Associated Press)
MIAMI, Fla., March 1.—Long Shot Jimmy McCoy, who has put many a winner under the wire at Dixie tracks, thinks glasses aren't such bad stuff for jockeys.

Jimmy, who earned the "long shot" title when he piloted Rock Candy home a winner at New Orleans to pay $452.40 for a $2 ticket, is known as the only jockey of prominence who wears specs while riding.

He wears them as a precautionary measure.

"Eight years ago," he relates, "I suffered an eye injury and spent two weeks in a dark room recovering. Glasses kept me in the racing game."

"I was riding a horse named Secret Greeting. We were up in the thick of the field when something cracked me in the left eye. I woke up with my horse stopped and myself standing in the stirrups. My left eye was closed. A rock or clump of hard mud that some horse had kicked up burst a blood vessel in my eye and knocked me cold."

"I was a little timid when I got back in the saddle, but as soon as I had a pair of glasses made I was o. k. again."

Terrell Issues an Appeal to Cut Cotton Acreage

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Mar. 13.—George B. Terrell, state commissioner of agriculture, has issued an appeal to farmers to reduce cotton acreage and increase the quality of the staple.

Government experts, he said, had estimated the 1930 Texas crop at considerably in excess of 4,000,000 bales if growing conditions are favorable. Such a crop, if other states produced proportionately, the commissioner said, would bring the price of cotton below ten cents a pound if it could be sold at all.

Recommending a cut of 15 percent in acreage and a better staple as means of increasing the price, Mr. Terrell charged that the price was controlled by "gamblers" on cotton exchanges. Production must be reduced below the consumption rate if farmers are to realize any profit on their investment, he declared.

Touching on the quality of cotton, the commissioner stated that one-third of the crop grown in Texas is untenderable because of short staple causing a loss of between $10 and $15 a bale. As an example of the value of a better staple he cited the premium of $26,910.17 paid for cotton grown on farms of the Texas prison system in 1929. The average length of the staple was 1 and 3-32 inches, he said.

Prison farms produced 2,945 bales of cotton and on this basis, he said, the value of the Texas crop could be increased several millions of dollars. The average price received by the prisons for cotton was approximately $9 a bale higher than was paid for the general crop, Terrell said.

PUBLICATION OF DINKEY MAY MISS AN ISSUE

(By Associated Press)
DALLAS, Mar. 13.—If the student council of Southern Methodist University has its way, there will be no publication this year of the Dinkey, traditional April Fool's Day student scandal sheet.

The Dinkey is almost as old as the school itself. A street car line which formerly ran out to the University was called the "Dinkey" and the newspaper derived its appellation from that.

Until three years ago the Dinkey was issued by students who tried to keep their identities secret. Since that time the faculty has published an official, censored Dinkey, which has not been very satisfactory to the student body and which resulted two years ago in the publication of an unofficial Dinkey by some of the students.

The majority of the student body is said to be in favor of the sheet while the faculty is opposed. The student council has gone on record in opposition to its publication this year in any form.

COW TAKES RIDE ON RUNNING BOARD OF CAR

(By Associated Press)
LAREDO, Mar. 13.—A cow riding the running board of an automobile is unusual. But such a sight was afforded J. L. Sorrell and his father, W. A. Sorrell, while they were returning to their home here from Corpus Christi, they said.

As the father and son were driving, cattle nearby were frightened by a passing train. One of the cows was said to have dashed toward the highway, jumped upon the running board of the Sorrell car and to have ridden about 50 feet before jumping off and running away.

The Laredo men said they did not know whether they or the cow was the most excited.

New Discovery Of Refining Potash Will Aid Texas

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Mar. 13.—Recent discovery of a method of refining West Texas potash ores has led to the advancement of a plan for the extensive development of the potash deposits of Texas. The discovery was made by Dr. E. P. Schoch of the Bureau of Industrial Chemistry at the University of Texas.

The discovery will make possible the production of potassium sulphate at a figure far below that which European manufacturers now the chief source of supply, can produce it. Dr. Schoch said. In the opinion of Dr. Schoch no other section of the world will be able to compete with West Texas in the production of potassium sulphate.

The deposits in West Texas, according to Dr. Schoch, are composed chiefly of polyhalite, a mineral made up of the sulphates of potassium, magnesium and calcium.

The West Texas beds are composed almost entirely of this mineral and are free from chlorides.

The Texas potash deposits differ from the European beds in that the latter are composed of minerals which were formed by prior deposits of polyhalite through a process of resolution and recrystallization. These beds contain chloride in preponderant amount. Since the chlorides are readily soluble in water, the European manufacturers have used the solution for obtaining their product.

Polyhalite, however is only slightly soluble and for a time this proved the one bar in its being refined on a commercial basis. The discovery of Dr. Schoch removes this obstacle and it was found through experimentation that concentration solutions of potassium and magnesium sulphates could easily be obtained from polyhalite and the component parts of the mineral readily refined in commercial form.

The potash thus refined is in the form of potassium sulphate and is free from chlorides. Dr. Schoch pointed out that potassium sulphate is preferable to potassium chloride for the most purposes since it does not attack moisture; it is more easily stored and handled than the chloride and can be used for all crops as fertilizer.

With potassium sulphate being imported into the United States at the rate of 150,000 tons per year at a price of $48.15 per ton, the development of the West Texas deposits will mean much to the country at large, it is said. The deposits in Texas were discovered by Dr. J. A. Udden, director of the bureau of economic geology in the University of Texas.

HURT TO STAND

"Cardui Seemed to Build Me Up and I Was Rid of Pain," Says Virginia Lady.

Roanoke, Va.—"Some years ago, I was in a very run-down condition," writes Mrs. T. B. Akers, of 533 Nelson Street, S.E., this city. "I suffered a great deal with pains in my sides and back. Standing on my feet hurt me so much, that I would get very weak and nervous. 'I knew that if I didn't get something to help me, I would have to go to bed and stay there, which is hard to do for a woman who has small children. So I kept dragging about, until one day, when feeling unusually bad and discouraged, I happened to pick up a little book with a Cardui advertisement. I decided to try it.

"Cardui seemed to build me up at once, as I was able to do my work with ease, and was rid of the pain by the time I had taken six bottles. 'I have taken Cardui since then, whenever I feel that I need a tonic, and it always helped me. I recommended it to my friends.

"Thousands of other women have written to tell how Cardui had helped them to health. Cardui is a purely vegetable remedy and contains nothing harmful or injurious. It may be safely taken by a delicate young girl as well as by a feeble old lady. NC-224

"NO WOMEN ALLOWED"

IN FRENCH ACADEMY

(By Associated Press) PARIS, Mar. 13.—Woman again has been snubbed by the Academy of Fine Arts, the males who officially represent the artistic and intellectual elite of France.

Mademoiselle Angele Delasalle, well known as a painter through the display of her works at many salons, wasn't even allowed to be a candidate. The government has bought a number of her pictures, but the academy doesn't want any women around.

A sidelight on the subject is the fact that this academy in 1918 elected Queen Marie of Rumania a "corresponding member."

A generation ago Madame Louise Bertaux annoyed the academy by getting into the running for a seat. The committee in charge simply overlooked her and she received no votes.

BOOTHBLACK MUST SWEEP PLAZA EACH MORNING

(By Associated Press)

IRAPUATO, Mex., Mar. 13.—Hereafter one of the duties of the youthful boothblacks who infest the city's main plaza will be to give the plaza a good sweeping each morning.

Mayor Manuel Ortiz has so decreed, and furthermore, he has ordered that boothblacks and news boys uniform themselves in white drill.

No compensation for the street sweeping job has been mentioned and just where the newsboys and boothblacks, who eke out a meager existence, are to get the money for uniforms, is a problem for them to solve.
