City Ordinance Passed By Loraine

Approval of a city ordinance against the use of air rifles and pellet guns within the city limits was the main legislation passed in a meeting of the Loraine City Council Tuesday night.

Meeting in an hour-long session, the Council unanimously accepted a proposal by Councilman Roy Holland to outlaw the weapons.

According to the ordinance passed by the Council, persons caught using air rifles and pellet guns within the city limits will have the weapons confiscated and will be fined.

In other business, Loraine Police Chief S. L. Vallery informed the Council that the police department needed to hire someone to do secretarial work, mainly typing letters to people owing fines.

After much discussion, it was decided that a person would be hired to work a maximum of 16 hours per week at $2.65 per hour.

Town Talk

By MAC McKINNON

Let's hope that the way football action started the year is not the way this entire year is going to go. As football fans know, nothing went as expected in collegiate football Monday.

Not only that, but the only two games not expected to be close, Arkansas vs. Oklahoma and Washington vs. Michigan, were the only two that were really interesting.

As usual, the Orange Bowl halftime show was the best attraction of the whole weekend of football viewing.

As everyone seemed to expect, Notre Dame was named the mythical national champion after its big win over Texas. Alabama came in second in the voting, Arkansas third and depending on which poll you watch, Texas fourth and Penn St. fifth or vice versa in one poll.

The bottom five in one poll listed Oklahoma, Pittsburgh, Michigan, Washington and Nebraska while one poll listed Kentucky sixth and moved all the others down.

Kentucky only lost one game but was on probation and not eligible to play in a bowl game this year.

Speaking of football, a good number of Colorado City Cowboy backers watched the Pokes down Minnesota Sunday. At least two, Joe Maddox and James Parker, are planning a trip to New Orleans for the Super Bowl.

While the subject is close to television, I'd like to plug my two favorite TV shows, Black Sheep Squadron and Lou Grant. If you haven't watched them, give 'em a try and I think you'll be entertained.

R. J. Hoback at Colorado Feed and Seed loaned me a pamphlet entitled "A Little Thought for Food," and remarks by Jaral D. Aston vice-president for marketing of agricultural productions department of Olin Corporation.

Continental Telephone Requests Rate Increase

Loraine residents may be faced with higher telephone bills, according to officials of Continental Telephone Company of Texas.

A $2.5 million rate increase has been requested by Continental Telephone, the company which provides service for Loraine.

Friday the company filed the proposed increase with the Public Utility Commission.

"We have done everything possible to hold these costs down and still continue our course to improve telephone service for our customers," stated James F.

Miles, company president.

Miles noted that the $2.5 million request "is the minimum essential revenue needed for us to show a reasonable rate of return on our investment and still enable us to continue to provide telephone service at reasonable rates."

According to Homer Hart, Loraine City Clerk, the city has not been approached concerning the requested rate hike.

Friday Continental Telephone also submitted tariffs which comply with the Federal Communications Commission's program for allowing persons to use customer-owned equipment.

Filed with the Texas Public Utility Commission, Continental's tariffs will provide for a uniform 50 cent monthly credit for privately owned and properly registered telephones.

According to the registration program, customers can choose whether to receive telephone service as they do now or to provide their own FCC approved equipment. "FCC rules are intended to protect the quality of telephone services," stated company officials, explaining that other customers' quality of service can be affected by improperly connected equipment.

"Customers who provide their own telephone equipment are responsible for its proper installation, maintenance and repair," noted officials.

The program concerning the tariffs will not become effective until approved by the Public Utility Commission.

The Colorado High girls varsity and junior varsity basketball teams had a bad night Tuesday against Stamford, with both teams losing.

The JV girls began the action in Stamford gym by suffering a 12-4 fall to Stamford.

When the varsity girls took the court, the situation improved and more points were scored. In fact, the varsity girls almost slid by Stamford, but the final score was left at 42-40.

Beverly Fuller was high scorer for the varsity girls with 19 points. Karen Thomas scored 15 and Anne Marcom, 6.

Westbrook opened district action Tuesday night, chalking up one win and one loss for the season.

Battling against Roby, the Wildcat varsity boys team managed to pound the opponent 44-33.

Roby was the team that was picked to win district.

so we felt like it was a pretty good win for us," remarked Coach Gary Womack.

At the end of the first quarter, the Wildcats were lagging behind 15-2, but they returned to the court with a blast.

John Lightfoot was leading scorer with 14 points. Terry Webb made 10, Daryl Rich, 9, Bobby Moody, 4, Larry Dawson, 4 and Clark Sweatt, 3.

In girls district action, the story was not as bright as the boys.

Roby managed to rule the court, scoring a 49-41 win over the Wildcats.

Lead point maker for the game was Teresa Dorn with 19. Rose Lopez scored 13 and Sharla Rollins, 9.

Carrying the lead throughout the game, the Colorado High varsity boys stomped Stamford 64-40 Tuesday night in Stamford gym.

The Wolves had a strong first quarter, nabbing 17 points on Stamford's 3. The second quarter, Colorado High made 15 while Stamford scored 5.

The second half of the game Stamford displayed a strong effort to win, scoring 15 to the Wolves' 14 points in the third quarter. The final quarter of the game the Wolves managed to outscore Stamford by one point—18 to 17.

High scorers for the game were Gene Carter with 22, Cornell Ausbie, 8, Kevin Geiger, 7, Frank Sanchez, Bill Jordan and David Rivera, each with 6, Ronnie Wagner, 5, and Blake Hammond and Ricky Sanchez, each with 2.

Top rebounder for the game was Ricky Sanchez with 8. Rivera had 6. Defensive-wise, Ricky Sanchez had 7 and Rivera, 5.

Coach Mike Hart commented, "Our running game was the best it's looked since the first game of the year against Brownfield." He added that Jordan and Geiger were especially instrumental to the game.

In other 6-AA district action, Merkel upset Ballinger 78-63. Wylie defeated Winters 74-63.

"We won humbly and we won looking good," said Coach Mike Hart, regarding Colorado High's JV boys win over Stamford Tuesday night.

The Wolves downed Stamford 61-47 in Stamford gym.

Lead scorers for the game were Ronald Proctor and Charles Jackson, each with 16. Tony Truelove had 11, Rodney Wheeler and Russell Noel each 6, Clay Hammond had 4 and Mike Johnson made 2.

In rebounds, Proctor had 18, Truelove, 15, Noel, 8 and Charles Jackson, 6.

Both of the Loraine varsity basketball teams had a slow start in Tuesday's action against Highland, and neither was able to catch up.

The girls were edged out 52-44 by Highland at Highland gym in a district opener. Highland took a broad 14-5 lead over the Bulldogs in the first quarter, and although Loraine attempted to gain the lead, it never happened.

Gay Jones was top point-maker for the Bulldogs with 23. Linda Moreno scored 12 and Emily DeLoera, 9.

The varsity boys gave Highland a tough battle, but the Bulldogs fell 56-51 in district play.

Highland nabbed the lead the first quarter by one point, and by half-time, the score was tied 24-24.

By the end of the third quarter, Highland had again taken the lead, this time 45-36. By the final quarter, Loraine attempted to salvage the game, but the points couldn't make up for Highland's burst of energy in the third quarter.

Junior Martinez was lead scorer with 21 points. Jeff Oliver nabbed 12, Frankie Martinez, 6, Ricky Williams, 4, Wayne Rose, 4, and David Finley and Billy McPeters, each with one bucket.

The Hawley Tournament got off to a strong winning start for the Westbrook varsity boys basketball team Thursday night, but ended with a bitter note when the team was downed in two games.

Thursday night, the Wildcats opened action by defeating Guthrie, 69-41. Top scorers for the game were Daryl Rich, 25, Bobby Moody, 12 and Terry Webb, 12.

The second game of the tournament proved disastrous for the Wildcats, falling to Hawley 42-40.

Westbrook had trouble getting started in the game, with the first quarter score standing at 14-5.

The Wildcats came back strong and tied up the score 40-40 in the final quarter. But Hawley took advantage of the last six seconds of play, scoring a final bucket to take the game, and eventually won the tournament.

High scorers for the Westbrook-Hawley game were Rich, 15, Moody, 12 and Webb, 10.

Saturday Westbrook lost the third game of the tournament to Goree, 63-55.

Although the Wildcats had a slow start—the first quarter score was 22-6—they managed to get within 4 points of the opponent during the game.

Rich was lead scorer with 19 points. Webb made 17 and John Lightfoot, 11.

According to Gary Womack, boys coach, the purpose of the tournament was to prepare for district competition, which began Tuesday night.

BCLS Book Bags Given Free By Mitchell County Library

Mitchell County Public Library patrons are currently receiving a bonus for using their library-books and other materials are being packed in sturdy reusable plastic books bags. The bags are easily recognized by the distinctive logo of the Big Country Library System. The red logo features cowboys, oil derricks, windmills and other symbols of this area.

Given free to all library users, the bags are supplied by the public library cooperative which includes the Mitchell County Public Library. The bags have many uses besides protecting books and making them easy to carry.

Many patrons will want to reuse them for shopping and household purposes. "The main purpose of the bags, however, is to make our patrons familiar with the BCLS logo and the many benefits offered to them by the library system."

Among the many benefits are such aids as more books for the shelves, a sizable 8 mm and 16 mm film library, special large print materials for the aging and others with visual problems and reference assistance from experts.

Another benefit is continuing education for local librarians through free workshops which will sharpen their skills and help them keep current with new developments in the library science field.

"Our library will soon have for use of Mitchell County residents, a new filmstrip projector and a filmstrip collection which are being provided free by the Library System," said Librarian Mrs. Boyd Dozier. "These are ours because we belong to the System. We want to inform the public about the System and we believe the book bags will help," she said. "Many of our patrons have asked how they can buy the bags because they are so sturdy and useful. But they are not for sale—they are free for our readers."

The Big Country Library System is supported by grants from the Texas State Library, from funds made available by the Texas Legislature and the U.S. Congress. It is dedicated to providing the people of West Central Texas and the Concho Valley with library service beyond the capability of the local libraries in their individual efforts.

The System employs a fulltime staff in an office located in the Abilene Public Library. Authority for the system derives from the governing bodies of the member libraries and, ultimately, from the people served by these libraries. "Thus the system is the property of all the people in the counties served by it—an asset which many do not know that they possess," said the librarian.

Farmers Express Interest In Protest

Local farmers declined an invitation, extended by Ackerly Community farmers, to become involved in a tractor-cade in Big Spring Tuesday.

Only three local farmers were willing to participate in a demonstration for the right of a farmer to make a profit, according to Don and Rita Latimer. Other than himself, Don said, he only saw two other Mitchell County farmers in Big Spring.

Mrs. Latimer said she had called everyone she felt would be interested in any manner in the tractor-cade and due to the late notice most of the farmers could not take time away from duties to drive their tractors to Big Spring. She said, however, without exception the farmers were interested and felt notice needed to be called to the farmers financial problem.

Latimer, A. A. Lujan and Rex McKenney mounted their tractors and drove to Big Spring where they joined between 125 and 150 tractors driven by farmers from Ackerly, St. Lawrence, Big Spring, Sand Springs, Coahoma, Lomax, Stanton, Vealmoore, Fairview and Luther about 8:30 a.m.

Latimer said the farmers parked their tractors in the Highland Park Mall and went inside. They played a tape on the plight of the farmers, milled around awhile, then remounted their tractors about 12:30 or 1 p.m. and formed a line with a police escort.

The line of huge implements including a few trailers and pickups moved slowly down the city streets. The line stretched from the college down past the Settles Hotel (about 2 miles) and tied up traffic for more than 2 1/2 hours.

Latimer said the public was receptive overall, some smiling and waving. Other were not so polite but none were irate that he saw.

Latimer said for the most part the farmers were confused as to exactly what they were asking. They did know that existing government programs are not adequate. They didn't have an answer to the existing problems, but 100 per cent parity and too much government regulation were commonly used words.

When asked if he was in favor of 100 per cent parity Latimer replied, "We're going to have to have it if we're going to make a living at ranching and farming. He added, "Nobody else works for nothing."

Latimer feels that most farmers want some type of government insurance or perhaps an Agricultural Board in Washington answerable to farmers to which farm problems may be referred.

"I feel the demonstration was successful in calling attention to the need of farmers. Some people tried to ignore our being there but how do you ignore 150 tractors driving down your streets," Latimer said.

A sign displayed by one farmer best summed up the feelings "Blowed out, hauled out, dried out, cussed out, sold out."

tion before a convention this past July.

His speech dealt with a projection into a future year when the farmers have banded together and set the price level at a level where they want. As Aston says:

"They don't give Washington the time of day.

"They don't give a what the labor union leaders say or do.

"They deal directly with the OPEC countries to assure adequate energy supplies for their producers.

"They don't pay any heed at all to the politicians who try to plead their constituencies, who now see that they are paying 35 and 40 and even 50 per cent of their gross income just for food.

"Oh, what ever happened to the good old days in 1977 when we spent only 16 or 17 per cent of our income on food? Who do they think they are, gouging us for that little bit of corn or wheat or beef or cotton? What's going on in this country, they ask. Who's doing these terrible things to us?"

"The answer, my friends, is you and I. We are doing this to ourselves. Of course, we have lots of help from the consumer advocates and all the congressmen and senators and state legislators who don't face up to the fact that unless legislation is quickly enacted to give the American farmers the opportunity to make a decent return on land, labor and their capital, we're going to see them forced against the wall. Then they'll band together to survive. And when they do, they'll teach the Arabs how to run a real crisis."

Aston goes on to say that if you don't think this will happen with food, and that the government will step in then you should consider the fact that:

"Look how far the labor pendulum has swung. We have even passed the point where one man can dictate to a whole nation what will and won't be loaded on ships destined for a customer nation he didn't like! Have you seen any government action?"

Aston adds that the farmer needs the "opportunity for a fair return. Not a subsidy. Not a guarantee. Not a support program.

"I know that if the American farmer is given the opportunity through fair legislation, balanced controls and open foreign and domestic markets, he will be capable of managing his affairs to earn a fair return."

ASCS Notes

Vital Dates

The local County Executive Director of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, Don Stewart, has made note of three important dates to farmers.

Jan. 13 is the final date to request adjustment for normal crop acres. Jan. 13 is also the final date for applications for 1978 Emergency Conservation measures. Jan. 16 is the final date farmers may sign up for the Livestock Feed Program.

The normal crop acres will be used to determine 1978 Government Program Benefits. According to Stewart, notices were mailed to farmers needing an adjustment. If no notice was received, no adjustment was required.

In order to apply for the Feed Program it is necessary to take original bills, dated and signed by the seller, to the ASCS Office.

In order to qualify for the Emergency Conservation the farmer must not have received assistance under the 1976 Emergency Program on the same farm.

Holiday Weekend "Quiet"

This holiday weekend went very quietly according to Chief of Police Fred McWhorter.

There were no crimes reported and only one drunk and disorderly arrest.

The local Highway Patrol also gave a good report. Officer Marvin Keenan stated there were no traffic accidents in this area.

Course Offered

A defensive driving course will begin Monday at the Wallace Community Education Center, in cooperation with the National Safety Council.

Day classes will be offered on Monday and Wednesday, with a morning session from 9:30-noon and an afternoon session from 1-3. An evening class will be held Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 7-9.

After completing eight hours of study, a certificate will be awarded to persons participating in the program. Those earning certificates will receive a reduction in car insurance rates.

Open to everyone, the course is taught by volunteers Olson and Flossie Sweet through the National Retired Teachers Organization.

According to Barbara Gray, coordinator of the Wallace Center, pre-registration for the course is encouraged, although registration will be accepted before the first class meeting.

Those interested in obtaining more information about the course should contact the Wallace Center at 728-2392.

for the after-school learning and tutoring program offered by the Wallace Community Center.

Since the program's birth in mid-November, Mrs. Molina has worked with children and adults, helping them in various ways.

Presently, Mrs. Molina is teaching two children to speak English, helping two girls prepare to take the graduate equivalence exam (GED) and tutoring six children after school.

Hired by the West Texas Council of Governments, Mrs. Molina, the mother of eight, began her teaching career as a teacher's aide at Kelley Elementary.

Now she is supervisor of the learning center at Wallace.

A native of Alice, Tex., Mrs. Molina graduated from Snyder High School and has attended Western Texas College, taking mostly English and government courses.

Mrs. Molina explained that the Wallace center program was modeled after a similar program in Sweetwater. After reviewing the Sweetwater program, Mrs. Molina returned to the Wallace Center and with the assistance of Barbara Gray, coordinator at the Wallace Center, the after-school learning and tutoring program began.

During the morning, Mrs. Molina works with adults who are attempting to earn a GED. Although the GED test is not offered at the Wallace Center, Mrs. Molina reviews students for the test which is administered in Snyder.

Each Monday, Tuesday and Thursday afternoon Mrs. Molina works from 2:30 to 3:30 with two students who can't speak English and from 3:30 to 4:30 she tutors children in grades three through 12.

"Many of the teachers in the schools recommend to parents that their children become involved with the program," explained Mrs. Molina, adding that she works with the teachers, to determine in what particular area the students need help.

She said that the Wallace Center advertised the program in the schools and that many people have become involved in the program by hearing about it from others.

As far as the success of the tutoring is concerned, Mrs. Molina noted that she has seen improvement in many of the students, but that the program is still in its infant stages.

A free service, the after-school learning and tutoring program is offered to anyone who needs assistance.

Rezoning To Permit Housing Construction

The Colorado City Zoning Board met at 7 p.m. Tuesday to discuss the rezoning of Block 13. Block 13 is located on the west side of Locust between 21st and 22nd Streets.

Colorado City Manager, James Campbell said all property owners in the surrounding area had been sent letters stating the intent of the Zoning Board and no replies had been made.

The board voted unanimously to re-zone the property in order to allow duplex and triplex buildings to be constructed under the direction of the Colorado City Housing Authority. These buildings are designed to be used by elderly persons. Fire Department Needs $700 For Rescue Truck

The Volunteer Fire Dept. met Monday at 7:30 p.m. A Drill Night was scheduled but cold weather cut the practice short according to Louis Schaefer.

Items discussed in the course of the meeting included the purchase of display tags and several recent fires. The main topic of discussion was the new rescue truck.

Dwain McGuire, assistant chief, said donations toward the purchase of the truck have been made for the past several months. The original goal set was $8,500. Donations are about $700 short of the needed amount.

The planned truck is a four-wheel drive, 3/4 ton pickup. It will have tool bins rather than a pickup bed. It will be equipped with exhaust fans, power saws, hydraulic power tools and first aid equipment. The volunteer department has one qualified Para-Medic, John Dillard, and two Emergency Medical Technicians Eddie Mitchell and Wilson Bass.

Anyone wishing to make donations to help provide funds for the rescue truck and equipment may contact any volunteer fireman or the City National Bank.

Harmons Invite Stranded Couple To Spend Weekend

Mr. and Mrs. Yun Sup Kim of El Paso expressed their heartfelt thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harmon when they left Loraine last Monday after enjoying the hospitality of the Harmons during the weekend.

The Kims were enroute to their home in El Paso when their car broke down on I-20 near Loraine Saturday. The Harmons, passing by, stopped to offer assistance and due to the holiday there was a delay in getting help for their ailing car.

The Harmons invited them to stay in their home, and they did until Monday when car repairs were made and they got on their way.

Kim is a student at the University of Texas in El Paso and Mrs. Kim is a R.N.

The Harmons enjoyed their visitors. The women, it seemed, had a mutual interest in making a home and cooking regardless of nationalities. Mrs. Kim was interested in food prepared by Ricky Harmon, so recipes were exchanged by the two.

The Kims were impressed by the friendliness of Loraine people and the kindness and hospitality of the Harmons.

"Dirty Neighbor" was started. This caused a lot of excitement and fun.

After the games some went home but others stayed for the blackeyed peas and cornbread supper at midnight and to bring in the New Year.

This was a fine beginning of a new year in the new center.

The higher you set your thermostat, the higher your energy consumption.

"A setting of 68° during the winter is the one Texas Electric recommends for both comfort and energy efficiency. For each degree above 68° the energy used for heating your house is increased by approximately 4% per degree.

As shown by the chart the difference between the recommended thermostat setting and 74° is 24%. At 78° the increase in energy usage is 40% or more.

Clearly, the lower you set your thermostat the lower your heating bill is going to be. And after last winter, one of the coldest on record, we think a lot of people are going to be trying their best to use less energy.

Remember to change the filter in your heating system regularly, too. A dirty filter causes your heating system to work longer and that costs you more. Check the filter at least once each month.

All forms of energy are costing more these days. If you're serious about saving energy and money, request a copy of our energy efficiency tips booklet on the comment portion of your electric service bill."
