The SDN Column

Feeling somewhat weary after running several loads of clothing through her automatic washing machine and dryer, Mrs. Robert Hargrove suddenly remembered a clipping from some publication which presented "an authentic Kentucky 'receipt' for washing clothes."

Here it is, in its original spelling:

1. Bild a fire in back yard to heet kettle of rain water.
2. Set tubs so smoke won't blow in eyes if wind is pert.
3. Shave one hole cake soap in bilin water.
4. Sort things, make three piles, 1 pile white, 1 pile cullord, 1 pile work britches and rags.
5. Stur flour in cold water to smooth then thin down with bilin water.
6. Rub dirty spots on board, scrub hard, then bile, rub cullord but don't bile — just rench and starch.
7. Take white things out of kettle with broom stick handle then rench, blew and starch.
8. Spred tee towels on grass.
9. Hang old rags on fence.
10. Pore rench water in flower bed.
11. Scrub porch with not soapy water.
12. Turn tubs upside down.
13. Go put on cleen dress — smooth hair with side combs — brew cup of tee — set and rest and rock a spell and count blessins.

I suspect that the 13th step in this "receipt" was appreciated fully as well by Kentucky housewives as the 19th hole is by today's hardworking golfers.

Texas A&M football coach, Gene Stallings, hopes to schedule more home games for his Aggies in the future. In recent years the Aggies have played more on the road than on Kyle Field at College Station.

"I don't say that playing at home is an advantage, but I do say that playing away is a disadvantage," says Stallings.

Senate May Delay Tax Reform Action

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today "it's a possibility" that Senate action on the House-passed tax reform bill will be delayed until next year.

He told newsmen it will depend on the legislative situation in the Senate after its Finance Committee completes work on the complex legislation.

Mansfield said he still is holding the committee to its commitment to have the bill ready for Senate consideration by Oct. 31, but he didn't know how soon after that it would be brought up in the Senate.

So far Congress has not passed any of the regular 13 appropriations bills to finance government operations in the current fiscal year that began July 1.

Some Democrats on the Senate Finance Committee meanwhile challenged administration proposals which would provide less relief for low and middle income families than does the House-passed bill.

Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma, who is chairman of the Democratic Natonal Committee, has told the administration he is "really appalled that you would do less for the low income taxpayer than the House bill."

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., voiced similar views.

Administration officials were called back before the committee again today to discuss the recommendations presented Thursday by Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy.

He said the administration proposal would grant $920 million in annual tax relief to families in the lowest income brackets, compared with $2.7 billion in the House version.

Kennedy emphasized, however, that his plan still would remove 5 million low income taxpayers from the rolls.

And he insisted it would give merited relief to middle-income families.

For example, he said a married couple with two children and $7,500 of annual income would get a 6.5 per cent reduction, from a $552 annual tax to $516.

A similar couple with $12,500 would get a 5.8 per cent cut, from $1,304 to $1,228.

Edwin S. Cohen, assistant secretary of the Treasury for tax policy said it would cost about $3.5 billion to raise the income tax exemption to $700 from the present $600.

A boost to $1,200, mentioned by Gore, would cut Treasury revenues by $17 billion, Cohen said.

Gore predicted the administration would fail in its effort to add a tax rate cut for corporations to the House bill.

Under this proposal, the basic rate would be 46 per cent as against the present 48.

Committee chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., said he could not state his position on this until his panel had made its decisions on the overall revenue effects it wished to achieve.

The cut would save corporations $1.6 billion a year.

Long said it was clear from the views voiced by committee members that many changes were going to be made in the bill.

Reds Announce Cease Fire

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces launched their heaviest attacks in nearly a month early today but said they will stop shooting for three days next week to mourn Ho Chi Minh.

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces were expected to go along with the cease-fire, which the Viet Cong radio said would begin at 1 a.m. Monday and last until 1 a.m. Thursday. The North Vietnamese president will be given a state funeral in Hanoi Wednesday.

Spokesmen in Saigon had no immediate comment on the cease-fire announcement, but a south Vietnamese official said "it would be a humanitarian gesture" to join in a truce. The U.S. Command always follows Saigon's lead in regard to cease-fire proposals.

U.S. officials said enemy forces fired rockets and mortars at 74 allied bases and towns early today and hit nine others with infantry assaults.

Initial reports showed 17 Americans killed, 172 Americans wounded, and more than 100 enemy soldiers killed. South Vietnamese headquarters said 28 of its troops and six civilians were killed, and 113 troops and 13 civilians were wounded.

U.S. headquarters said the sudden upsurge in enemy attacks marked the second "high point" of the enemy's fall campaign, which began Aug. 12 with a night of rocket, mortar and ground assaults on 150 allied bases and towns.

The number of attacks diminished soon after, declining to an average of 40 to 50 a night during the past week. The U.S. Command had expected a significant stepup in enemy activity this week to mark North Vietnamese Independence Day on Tuesday.

The latest attacks centered in one of the same areas that was a focal point Aug. 12, the sector between Saigon and the Cambodian border. The heaviest fighting ranged from 34 to 65 miles northwest of Saigon.

Shortly after midnight more than 20 enemy commandos moving behind a mortar barrage crept up to the barbed wire perimeter of a U.S.-South Vietnamese patrol base 34 miles northwest of Saigon and two miles from the Cambodian border.

The sappers lobbed grenades into mortar pits, touching off explosions that killed two Americans and one South Vietnamese and wounded 15 Americans and six South Vietnamese. But 16 of the infiltrators were killed.

Two Americans and five enemy soldiers were killed when troops of the North Vietnamese 1st Division stormed a patrol base of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division nine miles east of Tay Ninh. One enemy prisoner was captured.

Drive To Trim Spending Slows

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate drive to slash Pentagon spending appears to have lost some momentum as it heads toward showdown voting, probably on Monday.

But a source close to the Senate bloc seeking to trim about $3 billion from a $20 billion military procurement authorization bill says the effort "hasn't fallen apart yet by any means."

"There has been some momentum lost but that's only natural after the recess," said this source.

He knew of no defections from the 35-40 votes military spending critics claimed before the August recess, and he "hoped" there had been some converts.

Senate leaders said Thursday that the first of several amendments to cut or delay funds for specific military projects would come up for a vote Monday.

Considered will be an amendment sponsored by Wisconsin Democrat William Proxmire to deny $553 million for 23 additional C5A transport planes and to direct the General Accounting Office to study what the cheapest way would be to meet the airlift capacity the Pentagon wants.

Critics contend that 58 of the big planes that already are flying, under construction or on the drawing boards are enough and the Pentagon couldn't even find enough combat ready troops to fill all of those.

Other amendments pending would block funds for a new mammoth aircraft carrier until the administration outlines how the big ships fit into its future policy and would delay funds for a new manned bomber, a supersize battle tank and two new fighter planes.

Proxmire carried the fight alone Thursday against a sometimes seathing attack by Republican members of the Armed Services Committee.

California's George Murphy accused Proxmire of using the C5A affair to gain publicity and said the controversy over the world's biggest plane had damaged "tens of thousands of workers in government and in my state."

Proxmire repeatedly said that none of the amendments would actually terminate a program they are aimed at delaying the program until further studies can be made, he said and delay is necessary because it is not absolutely certain the weapons are needed.

Plane Crash Claims Seven Airmen

LIMESTONE, Maine (AP) — All seven men on board a B52 bomber were killed when the giant aircraft crashed and burned shortly after takeoff from Loring Air Force Base, the Air Force said today.

An Air Force spokesman said the eight-engine jet, which was on a training mission, crashed Thursday night in a boggy wilderness approximately three miles north of the end of the runway.

Officials said Air Force personnel had to bulldoze their way into the wreckage. They reported recovery of all the bodies.

Six of the seven men on board were stationed at Loring, officials said. The seventh was riding as an observer.

The bomber was attached to the 42nd Arm Wing of the 8th Air Force, which has headquarters at Westover Air Force Base Massachusetts.

Air Force officials said there were no bombs on the B52 which crashed at 9:38 p.m. Thursday.

Loring AFB is in the far northeastern corner of Maine in Aroostock County, less than a dozen miles from the New Brunswick, Canada, border.

Troops Intervene In Ireland

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — British Troops intervened with fixed bayonets and the threat of tear gas today in Belfast to prevent a crowd of Protestants from invading a Roman Catholic area of Belfast.

Vigilante groups from both religious communities gathered on the streets during the night carrying pokers, iron bars and clubs. They milled about and talked in small groups until a crowd of about 800 Protestants began moving toward the Catholic Falls Road area.

About 1,500 British troops were summoned to duty in the tense capital. By 2 a.m. the soldiers had thrust back mobs of several hundred and cleared a 500-yard no-man's land between rival factions without using their gas grenades.

A tear gas bomb smashed into the bedroom of a Catholic house in north Belfast today. The occupant hurled two back into the street where they exploded, but the third caused slight damage.

Protestants who barricaded Donegal Road demolished the heap of debris and wrecked vehicles at the urging of the Rev. Ian Paisley, the militant evangelist. They sang the British national anthem and the 23rd Psalm.

A British judge opened his tribunal of inquiry into Northern Ireland's religious rioting and took note of the fragility of the peace maintained by British troops.

Rio Ambassador Held For Ransom

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — A housewife who witnessed the kidnaping of U.S. Ambassador Charles Burke Elbrick said today she telephoned police about a group of suspicious men near the embassy 55 minutes before the abduction but was told not to worry about them.

Police said four gunmen intercepted Elbrick's limousine at 1:50 p.m. Thursday and carried him off in a Volkswagen station wagon. They left a ransom note giving Brazil's military junta 48 hours to release 15 political prisoners in exchange for Elbrick, and broadcast a manifesto saying the government was a dictatorship.

The junta gave no indication today whether it would comply with the ransom demand.

Mrs. Elba Souto Maior, the wife of a Brazilian navy reserve captain who lives a stone's throw from the U.S. Embassy, said seven men in two Volkswagens pulled up outside her home at 10 a.m. Thursday. She said they loitered there, making "suspicious signs and gestures" among themselves.

Mrs. Souto Maior called police but they reassured her nothing abnormal was going on and did not go to investigate, she said.

Elbrick's driver, Custodio Abel da Silva, who was left behind by the kidnappers, said the ambassador tried to resist when the men ordered him out of the limousine "but he was not mistreated."

If the junta did not comply, the note said, Elbrick would be executed. It added that the deadline would not be postponed and "we will not hesitate to carry out our promises."

The three military chiefs who took over from ailing President Arthur da Costa e Silva Sunday night quickly complied with the second demand. Television stations interrupted regular programs to broadcast the manifesto. Radio stations said the text had been released but they did not read a full version. Newspapers were planning to publish the antigovernment blast in today's editions.

The kidnapers' note told the government to deliver the 15 prisoners by special plane "to a determined country — Algeria, Chile or Mexico—where they will be granted political asylum."

The names of the prisoners were not announced, but it was believed they include some of the 29 members of a terrorist group called MR-8 who were arrested in July.

MR-8 was one of the signers of the manifesto. The other was a group called the National Liberation Action. Their document said the two groups would no longer tolerate torture, beating and killing of their members by the government.

Roadblocks were set up around the outskirts of Rio, and police and security forces carried out widespread searches for the kidnapers and Elbrick in Rio and other cities.

The kidnaping of the 61-year-old career diplomat appeared to be well planned and was quickly executed. A small Volkswagen blocked the ambassador's limousine as he was returning to the embassy downtown after lunching at his residence.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My faithful husband of 12 years moved to California to take advantage of a job offer. I stayed behind to sell our house and pack up before joining him June 1st.

When I was unable to reach him by phone well past midnight, he told me (the following day) that he had dinner at the apartment of a young divorcee with whom he was working. He assured me it was strictly platonic as she was engaged to a man in Chicago. It upset me terribly, and I asked him please not to do it again. He promised he wouldn't.

I have now joined him in California. We were invited immediately to the home of the bride and groom of one week for dinner. I was told it would be a casual evening and to wear slacks. When I arrived, the hostess was elegantly attired in a gown more appropriately suited for an Academy Award presentation. She addressed me only once during the evening — to tell me I reminder her of her "older" sister because of the bags under my eyes! (I am six years her senior.)

Anyway, I told my husband I didn't care to see this couple again. He said I was "foolish" — then our phone bill arrived showing that my husband had called me several times (while I was still in Colorado) from HER apartment, after promising he wouldn't see her again. Abby, I am furious.

I told him I didn't want him working with her anymore, and I gave him two weeks to tell her to find employment elsewhere — or I am leaving.

Please tell me if I am a jealous fool, or if you think I have grounds for such drastic action? NO NAME PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: I think you're "jealous" — and you have a right to be. But you're no fool.

DEAR ABBY: When my girl and I started making plans for our wedding she said her uncle had a terrific voice and she wanted him to sing at our wedding. I said okay.

Well, this uncle was in town last week and I heard him sing. Abby, I don't claim to be a musician, but this guy can't call hogs. He stands like a prize fighter with his fists all doubled up like he's going to slug somebody. He sings off key, bellows like a bull and when he forgets the words he goes, "Ba, ba ba booooo."

He is a swell guy, but I sure don't want him singing at our wedding. How can I get my girl to cancel this uncle?

DELAWARE

DEAR DELAWARE: Tell her (nicely) that you agreed to having her uncle sing before you heard him. And now that you've heard him you think he'd make a better guest than vocalist. Of course if she has already asked him and he accepted, you're sunk.

DEAR ABBY: Four years ago I was so much in love with a 16-year-old girl I thought I couldn't live without her. I tried to talk her into marrying me, but fortunately, she was smarter than I was and told me I would have to wait. She was still in school and I was in the service. We had no money and a lot to learn, and now I realize that if we had married then we'd probably be divorced by now.

She told me that she wanted us both to live a little and find out who we were and what we wanted out of life before jumping into marriage.

Since then I have completed college thru the service and she has completed two years of business school. I've been working for two years now and she has been working for a year and a half. Together we have saved $10,000 and we both have our own cars completely paid for. We each live in apartments with our own friends. She wanted to be completely on her own so she couldn't say that first she was under her parents' rule and then under her husband's.

We plan to be married tomorrow. I really don't think I am going to get any sleep tonight; but I just had to tell someone that the 16-year-old girl I once loved is now a 20-year-old woman I love much more. I know this is long, but if you print it it might encourage kids who think they have to get married right away to wait. We did. And it was worth it.

Nixon May Be Met By Protestors

DEL RIO, Tex. (AP) — Spokesmen for Mexican-American groups say they will demonstrate during President Nixon's visit here Monday in protest against withdrawal of a funds grant from the Val Verde Community Action Agency.

Their complaint is directed against a veto by Gov. Preston Smith of a $28,785 grant for the agency, a step taken at the request of Val Verde County commissioners.

Nixon is coming to this border city to join Mexico's President Gustavo Dia Ordaz for a ceremony near here dedicating the new Amistad Dam on the Rio Grande.

Mike Gonsalez, a Del Rio lawyer, said Thursday, "The ball is rolling on the demonstration. The only way to stop it is for the governor to reconsider his decision to veto the grant—but it's too late."

Gonsalez said he had received commitments to join in the demonstration from leaders in GI Forum and the Political Association of Spanking Organizations. He reported contacts also with the traditionally conservative League of United Latin American Citizens and some black civil rights groups.

A former San Felipe school board member, Frank Coronado, said of the impending protest, "We are tired of paternalism. We can no longer contain our people. Do we have to resort to the tactics of our black brothers?"

Dr. Fermin Calderon, chairman of the Val Verde County Community Action Agency, said, "I will support any demonstration to further the Mexican-American. All of the means to reach the establishment have failed."

Regret was expressed by Del Rio's mayor, Dr. Alfredo Gutierrez Jr.

Gutierrez, the first Mexican-American to hold his city post, said, "It is a shame that such a happy day for our city will be marred by this type of demonstration. The community as a whole is happy about the visit of the two presidents."

Four Eskimos Die From Food Poisoning

CAPE DORSET, N.W.T. (AP) — Four Eskimos suffering from food poisoning died here today while waiting to be taken to Montreal, a hospital spokesman in Frobisher Bay said.

Eight other persons, whose condition remains uncertain, are still in Cape Dorset where a violent snowstorm is preventing the landing of a plane which is supposed to take them 1,250 miles south to a hospital in Montreal.

A doctor and a nurse from Frobisher Bay, 250 miles east, tried to land twice during the night, but were forced back by the snowstorm.

A spokesman at the Montreal General Hospital, where the victims are scheduled to be taken, said the Eskimos are suffering from botulism poisoning from canned food.

He said a small supply of serum antidote was given to the victims in Cape Dorset, but this is only a stopgap measure and it is absolutely necessary that they be taken to hospital as soon as possible.

Miss Fischer Is Seeking Annulment

Suzanna Fischer asked the court to nulify her Juarez, Mex., marriage Aug. 21, because she said Wilson forced her to go through with the ceremony.

Assault charges have been filed against Wilson after he abducted Miss Fischer in Albuquerque, N.M. and allegedly assaulted Miss Fischer's boy friend whom she was to have married the next day.

She had previously been married to Wilson but had divorced him.

The suit charged there was an impediment to the marriage because there was "no meeting of the minds and that it was fraudulent."

Construction Of Jetport Is Nixed

MIAMI (AP) — President Nixon was reported today to have ruled out construction of a jetport that conservationists feared would ruin the Everglades National Park.

A spokesman at the Western White House in San Clemente, Calif., said he knew nothing of such a decision. But the Miami Herald quoted Nathanial P. Reed, Gov. Claude Kirk's conservation aide, as saying the report was true.

Earlier, newscaster Walter Cronkite of the Columbia Broadcasting System said it had been learned that the site 45 miles west of Miami and nine miles north of the park would be abandoned.

Cronkite said Kirk planned to meet with Transportation Secretary John Volpe and Interior Secretary Walter Hickel and announce the designation of a new site Thursday. The governor's press secretary confirmed that Kirk was trying to arrange a meeting with the two federal officials, but declined to comment on what they would discuss.

The Herald said Reed disclosed that the decision to give up the original site came after a study made by Dr. Luna Leopold, a Department of the Interior scientist, reached the White House.

The Herald quoted Reed as saying:

"The people in Interior looked at the Leopold report and went to President Nixon and told him 'We just can't give on this one.'"

Proposed alternate sites for the jetport include two areas owned by the state north of Palm Beach and in Broward County.

Despite protests by conservationists, the Dade County Miami Port Authority already had begun construction of three runways, each a mile long, for training flights at the site near the park. Still to be started were a number of six-mile runways scheduled to be opened by 1975.

Total cost of the 38-square-mile project was estimated at $150 million.

Proponents of the jetport say its construction is vital to the transportation needs of fast-growing south Florida.

Conservationists argue it would block the southward flow of water in the Everglades and turn the huge swamp into a dry, sun-baked wilderness which could no longer support the millions of alligators, tropical birds, deer and other animals which populate it.

Cannibalism Rage At Film Festival

VENICE, Italy (AP) — Cannibalism is the rage this year at the Venice Film Festival.

One scene in Federico Fellini's "Satyricon," run three times Thursday for overflow crowds, shows the heirs of poet Eumolpus uncomfortably chomping on his remains. The dead man bequeathed his possessions only to those who would eat his flesh.

Pier Paolo Pasolini, who threw the festival into an uproar last year with his sex- and symbol-charged "Theorams," also did the man-eating bit this year. In his "Porcile" (Pigsty), French actor Pierre Clementi chews the remains of a soldier he has just killed. Later Clementi gets his—wild beasts devour him and his companions.

Among the Italian entries is "The Cannibals," directed by Liliana Cavani, but the cannibalism is largely symbolic. It's about an imaginary regime that prohibits its citizens from burying those killed during riots. But nobody eats anybody.

Joaquim Pedro de Andrade, a Brazilian, serves up feijoada, the melange of meats and black beans that is Brazil's national dish, in his "Macunaima." But it's a feijoada of cannibals, with a giant and his wife as the gastronomes.

De Andrade says his film is a parable, illustrating the dog-eat-dog competition in daily life.

Pike's Wife Thinks He's Still Alive

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israeli police, Bedouin tribesmen and volunteers set out at dawn today to continue searching the Judean wilderness for Dr. James Pike, the former Episcopal bishop of California who has been missing since Monday.

Only Pike's wife Diane, 31, maintained they would find him still alive, but "sick and in a cave." She based her belief on the "visions" of a medium friend in New York.

Dozens of caves have been checked.

Mrs. Pike told newsmen Thursday of her grueling hike after the couple's rented car got stuck on a dirt track on the way from Bethlehem to the Dead Sea Monday.

She said they had driven into the wilderness Christ frequented when he wanted to be alone because of a book they were writing about the historical Jesus.

Couple Charged With Murder

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — Little David Willcox was only 4 when he died. But he had lived in five foster homes before being adopted by the couple now charged with his death.

"He was a lovely little guy," mourned Harry Shellenberger, the last of David's five foster fathers.

"When the people at the Catholic Social Service Bureau told us he'd been adopted, it was hard to take," he said. "It took him to the airport myself."

The plane ride led to Fort Myers on the other side of the state where David was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Ward W. Willcox. The couple Wednesday took his battered body to a Sarasota County hospital.

Sheriff Ross Boyer said the boy's body was free of bruises only on the palms of his hands and soles of his feet. He said teeth marks were found on the back of David's neck. Doctors said the boy died of a brain hemorrhage.

Boyer said Willcox, a 51-year-old golf course greens keeper, and his wife, Patricia, 45, told officers they had disciplined the child. "The parents told me he wet the bed during the night," Boyer said. "That's the thing they mentioned."

The Willcoxes were charged with murder and jailed without bond.

Records showed they completed adoption of David in Fort Myers less than two months ago. They had had custody of him for four months.

A spokesman for the adoption bureau said he did not know details of the adoption but would look into it.

Shellenberger said "If they release his body, I want it. I want to have a service for him here. He was the most lovable little kid in the whole world."

Police Probe Two Mishaps

City Police investigated two motor vehicle mishaps yesterday.

The first one occurred at 10:15 a.m. in the 2400 block of Avenue R. Damage to the parked 1960 Model Cadillac of Herbert G. Friddle, 2508 Thirty-fifth Street, was placed at $50, and damage to the other car, a 1959 Model Plymouth owned by Betty C. Young, 1711 Smith, was negligible.

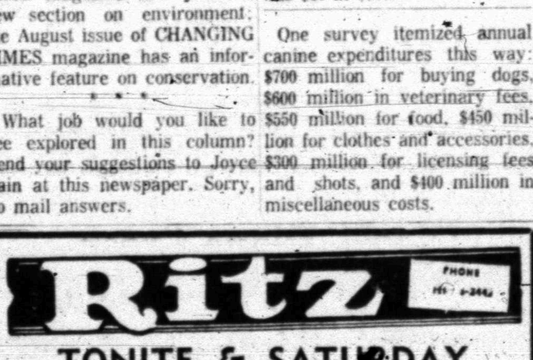

The 1968 Model Chevrolet pickup of Carl Voss, Jr., 2266 Sunset, and the parked 1962 Model Ford of Raymond Martin, 1900 Avenue T, were involved in a collision in the 1900 block of Avenue T at 6:17 p.m. Damage to Voss's pickup was slight, but damage to the car was set at $150.

One survey itemized annual canine expenditures this way: $700 million for buying dogs, $600 million in veterinary fees, $550 million for food, $450 million for clothes and accessories, $300 million for licensing fees and shots, and $400 million in miscellaneous costs.

Researchers Test Kennedy's Auto

BOSTON (AP) — The auto in which Miss Mary Jo Kopechne died on Chappaquiddick Island July 18 has been thoroughly tested by researchers retained by attorneys representing Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, the Boston Globe said today.

The primary purpose of the testing, the newspaper said, was to determine whether Miss Kopechne could have lived for any length of time after the accident.

The Globe made no mention of results.

Two of the researchers were identified as Dr. Richard Stone and Dr. John Teitzel, both physicists employed by the Arthur D. Little Co., a research firm based in Cambridge.

Stone refused to comment on the Globe report, and Gen. James A. Gavin, head of Arthur D. Little, said he would have nothing to say about the story either. Teitzel was not available.

The Globe said most of the tests were performed in the driveway of the state police barracks in Edgartown, on Martha's Vineyard. The Vineyard is adjacent to Chappaquiddick.

In addition, a scuba diver was retained to photograph the pond in which the car rested for nine hours before being discovered and the bridge from which it plunged into the pond, the Globe said.

The tests reportedly also were aimed at determining how fast Kennedy's car was traveling when it went off the bridge, how long it was before it filled with water and whether an air bubble might have formed at the rear seat of the overturned car.

A medical examiner ruled after the accident that Miss Kopechne drowned accidentally. She was buried in Pennsylvania without an autopsy.

An inquest into the legal cause of her death, which had been scheduled for Sept. 3, was postponed indefinitely this week pending a state Supreme Court ruling on the constitutionality of the inquest.

Meanwhile, Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis, who sought the inquest, said "we'll act soon" in response to a Pennsylvania judge's suggestion that Dinis provide specific facts if he wants an exhumation and autopsy of Miss Kopechne's body.

Dinis has until Sept. 22 to reply.

Sanitation Workers Stage Protest March

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — The city hall here was the scene of a protest march Thursday night, as some 100 sanitation workers and their families staged a demonstration over what they called unfair labor practices.

The workers, all members of a local of the Laborers International, AFL-CIO, said the protest concerned the hiring and firing of a former city employe. They said the march was planned two weeks ago, after the city council refused to discuss their grievances.

Mayor W. D. Rogers said the matter was not the concern of the city council but should be handled by City Manager Bill Blackwell.

Breakfast Is Vital

September Better Breakfast Month is a reminder to mothers of the importance of breakfast. Nutritionists say it is the most important meal of the day. It can help children and adolescents carry on the day's study and play with energy and alertness.

A good breakfast is one that provides a fourth of the day's essential nutrients and calories. One quick pattern that adequately meets these needs consists of citrus fruit, ceral with milk, milk to drink and a bread with spread.

SPICY PUMPKIN BREAD

2¼ cups sifted flour
tablespoons baking powder
1½ teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon soda
1-3 cup butter or margarine
1½ cups sugar
2 eggs
1 cup canned pumpkin
½ cup milk
1½ cups whole wheat flakes, crushed to make ¾ cup crumbs
1 cup chopped walnuts

Combine and sift flour, baking powder, salt, spices and soda into mixing bowl. Cream butter or margarine well; beat in sugar. Add eggs; beat well. Stir in pumpkin. Add dry ingredients to creamed mixture alternately with milk; stir until dry ingredients are moistened. Fold in cereal and walnuts. Spoon into well-greased 9 x 5 x 3-inch loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F) until done, about 1¼ hours. Let stand in pan 5 minutes. Turn out; cool on rack. Yield: One loaf.

Use very cold water when you are washing those salad greens.

Sliced hard-cooked egg makes an excellent garnish for a Waldorf Salad. That salad was originally made with apples, celery and mayonnaise, but modern cooks like to add walnuts.

Savory Chicken With Green Peas

1 broiler-fryer (about 2½ pounds), cut up
¼ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon each dry mustrad, garlic powder and onion powder
⅓ pound (½ stick) butter
1 can (1 pound, 1 ounce) small young green peas

Wash and drain chicken. On wax paper mix the flour with all the seasonings; coat chicken with mixture. In a large skillet melt the butter; add chicken and brown slowly on all sides. Add a couple of tablespoons of the liquid from the peas; cover and simmer until chicken is tender — 20 to 30 minutes longer. Remove chicken to a hot platter and keep warm. Add peas, including their remaining liquid, to the skillet; stir with a wooden spoon to get up drippings, and heat. Pass peas and gravy in a bowl along with chicken. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

Wall Street Expecting Stock Market Action To Increase

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Now that Labor Day has passed, the pundits of Wall Street and their likes in financial centers around the nation are expecting some stock market action. Problem is they don't know what the action will be like.

One thing is certain: Things happen after Labor Day. The records prove it. As certainly as there is a "midsummer rally" there is a "post-Labor Day break." And about as often, bad bear markets end after Labor Day.

In the old days, it is alleged, the action came when the tycoons returned from long summers at their spas, well rested and full of zest, eager to make things happen so they could make some money and pay off the crews of the yachts.

There's a bit of the old days around still. Executives like to begin new business around now. They commit money to advertising, make final estimates on capital spending, introduce new products, set sales goals and so on.

The federal government adds to the climate. It releases its study of capital spending plans right after the holiday. And this year it is expected to participate in another way by offering proof or disproof of its anti-inflation policies.

Ordinarily these factors furnish the market seer with grist, and he grinds out his forecasts by offset, letterpress, mimeograph, spirit duplicator or any other machine available.

Confidence often oozes from the pates, for seers seldom admit to knowing as little about the future as anyone else. No more than they confess to having missed the bullseye in the past, when in truth they missed the target too.

This year it's different. There is much doubt and some confusion. And it has been going on so long that analysts are openly confessing their weaknesses, revealing without embarrassment that they are only humanly endowed.

Unable to peer into a clouded future, some investors instead are discovering more visibility in the past.

One respected advisory service comments:

"Since World War II, every major stock market decline (1946, 1953, 1957, 1960, 1962, and 1966) has ended in September or October—none later and none earlier!"

Take your pick, but remember that although the bear might hibernate the bull never does, even in bear markets.

Suburb Seeks Dallas Commissioner's Help

FARMERS BRANCH, Tex. (AP) — Farmers Branch Mayor Pro Tem George Grimmer asked Dallas County Commissioners Thursday to take over control of his city's troubled government.

The Dallas suburb was left with a variety of legal problems this week when one councilman was dismissed and another resigned his job. Grimmer said he also resigned at the heated meeting, but councilmen have not acted on his resignation.

The county commisioners said they planned no immediate action on Grimmer's request to step in at Farmers Branch. Commissioner Mel Price suggested that the request be turned over to the district attorney to decide who had authority in the mater.

The dismissal and resignations of councilmen came after an inconclusive vote during Tuesday's meeting to fire City Manager Dennis Spellman.

Grimmer Thursday suggested the Dallas County Grand Jury investigate alleged irregularities he said involve Spellman.

A Junior Editors Quiz About CIVILIZATIONS

QUESTION: Why were the Old World civilizations more advanced than that of the American Indians?

ANSWER: Cavemen were supposed to have lived by hunting for thousands of years. The reason that a hunting life does not tend to advance a civilization is that people need to eat three times a day. Suppose you were a primitive hunter and had a family of six dependent on you for food. You'd have to be everlastingly hunting, day after day. There would be little time for anything else. Even if you killed some large animal, it wouldn't help much, for there were no refrigerators in those days, no way to keep the meat from spoiling. This was the situation in which most of the American Indians found themselves. But in an Old World country such as Egypt, it was possible to raise crops on the fertile land created each year by the flooding of the Nile River. Add to this the domestication of cattle, and you had a large food supply which allowed for time to invent mechanical helps like the wheel and to devise systems of writing and to build towns which developed into cities, leading to the remarkable civilization of our own times.

Degree Helpful To Laundress

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — Eventually it will all come out in the wash. But today's laundress needs a degree in chemistry to make sure it does.

Where once a dash of soap was all it took for a white Monday, now there's a bewildering array of detergents, water conditioners, brighteners, blueings, bleaches, fabric softeners, sizing agents, enzyme soakers and finishes.

Oh, I'm not suggesting that we housewives go back to pounding the dirty clothes on a rock at the neighborhood stream. I don't even urge that we return to the galvanized washtub and corrugated scrub board.

But I do look back with nostalgia to the good old days when you could throw the contents of the laundry hamper into a machine, push a few buttons here and there and sit down for another cup of coffee.

In order to employ all the latest scientific laundry aids, I now have to stand by with a stopwatch, an instruction booklet, a textile manual for judging the type of fabric involved, a microscope for determining the nature of the various stains and a whole shelf full of lotions and potions to add to the wash water at stated intervals.

Blue Monday shares its color scheme these days with every other hue of the rainbow. Green, pink, yellow and polka-dot powders, granules, liquids, pellets and giant-size pills have all gotten into the washday act.

Their effectiveness in the mechanical washtub is apparently linked up in some way to the brevity and nonsense value of their name. Inclusion of such unusual atters as X an Z in the title also contribute to the efficacy of the product.

It takes time and patience to perform washday miracles in this scientific age. I've evolved a scheme, however, to make sure the time spent standing wash watch isn't completely wasted.

I set up the ironing board near the machine and when I'm not involved with chemical analysis or the addition of a multitude of liquids and solids in proper sequence, I'm profitably employed: I use the time to press my husband's wash and wear shirts.

Bearded Teacher Gets Suspended

KERRVILLE, Tex. (AP) — The school board of trustees fired a high school instructor Thursday after he refused to shave off a beard he grew during the summer months.

Gene Ball, 27, a mathematics teacher, was suspended earlier in the week.

He said Thursday he was told of the board's meeting only three hours before it occurred and had no time to prepare his case. He said he would request another board meeting.

Superintendent Paul Barr said he warned Ball last week he would have to comply with a district policy prohibiting wearing of beards by male students. He said if a teacher were allowed to wear a beard it would create a double standard.

Ball said he was told, however, he could wear a mustache, and termed it an "arbitrary line" of distinction.

Tigers Scrimmage Midland; JV Kittens Host Hermleigh

Snyder High School coaches will get another glimpse at their football candidates Saturday when the junior varsity hosts Hermleigh at 10 a.m. on the Travis field and the varsity hosts Midland at 8 p.m. in Tiger Stadium.

"We still plan to let everyone get in on the action," said head coach and athletic director Wayne Tyrone, "but tomorrow's scrimmage will be more of an open drill."

Midland's Bulldogs, picked for a 7th place finish in the 9-team District 3-AAAA, should provide the Bengals with a stiffer test than class AA Stamford last week. The Bulldogs have a talented backfield, led by tailback Galberson Zachery, a 190-pounder who has great speed and running ability. Wingback David Hearn also is expected to give the Bengal defenders something to think about. The Midland line is led by tackle Bruce Mailey, a 189-pound senior.

The Tigers again are using a pro-type offense with a flanker back and split end and could do a little more passing this time. Senior quarterback Lee McNair and junior Bill Branson will guide the attack. Other possible starters include Merce Hernandez (175) and Tony Breedlove (203) at end, Barry Welsh (205) or Joe Hale (205) and Steve Dillaha (212) at tackle, Delbert Hirst (173) and Billy Kay (167) at guard and Rocky Land (170) at center. Hernandez, Hirst and Land are the only seniors in the line.

"We're still trying to do certain things and learn certain things and plan to let everyone compete in the scrimmage," Tyrone said.

Under the rules of the scrimmage, the offensive team will take the ball at its 20 yard line and maintain possession as long as it can. However, they'll get only three downs to make a "first down" until they reach the opponents' 20. Then, they'll get four downs to make 10 yards. There will be no kickoffs or punts, but 40 yards will be measured off in lieu of a punt.

Junior varsity coaches will get a better chance to learn something useful in their scrimmage with Hermleigh since the Cardinals have abandoned the single wing and will operate from the Winged-T and split-T — formations the Kittens will see again later in the year. The Redbirds were hard-hit by graduation losses and shouldn't give the JV too much trouble. However, the varsity Tigers are expected to have their hands full with the big Class AAAA team.

Southwest Stars Shine

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southwest Conference footballers heard a rare thing for so early in the fall training from their coaches Thursday — P-R-A-I-S-E.

Texas A&M coach Gen Stallings said, "I think we got something accomplished today."

Stalling didn't single out any individual but said the squad overall showed improvement.

Baylor ripped through a long contact drill and coach Bill Beall said linebacker Brian Blessing, defensive tackle Tommy Reux, offensive guard Bob Stephenson and center Calvin Hunt turned in excellent work.

Richard Stevens, All-SWC offensive tackle for the Bears last year, tested a knee which underwent an operation last winter. He said it felt fine and gave him no problems.

Texas coach Darrell Royal shortened an afternoon workout because it got too hot on the 'Horns artificial practice field.

He said the artificial turf is hotter than grass on warm days. He said the turf cools almost immediately when a cloud passes over and is cool at night.

Coach Hayden Fry of Southern Methodist was pleased with an hour and 50 minute scrimmage. Six touchdowns were scored, including three by sophomore tailback Larry Guthrie.

Quarterback Chuck Hixson hit 16 of 20 passes for 248 yards and one touchdown. Gary Hammond of Port Arthur snared a 10-yard scoring strike.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — It didn't take Broadway Joe Namath long to throw the bomb once he got into Dallas Thursday night.

The New York Jet quarterback, much to the chagrin of 73,000 ticket holders, announced he might not play against the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League Saturday night in the Cotton Bowl.

"I hurt my left leg against Minnesota last week and I haven't practiced this week. I might not play at all," Namath said.

Namath also didn't wait long in applying his famous "needle."

"How can the Cowboys be called Cowboys when we have more Cowboys than they do?" he asked, referring to the fact that New York has 10 Texans on the team. "Everybody will be booing us when we take the field, but remember you're going to be booing an awful lot of Texans."

Namath said "I will make the decision Saturday night on whether I will play. We've got to go for next week. That's when the American Football League season starts against Buffalo not Dallas."

Dressed in his usual bell bottom trousers, Namath and Jet flanker Don Maynard were booed and cheered by a crowd of 200 at Dallas Love Field. Mini-skirted teen-agers swarmed when he stepped into the lobby.

Namath said Dallas was a good team, but added "if it was a regular season game there would be no doubt as to the outcome. We are a better football team than the Cowboys when the money is on the line."

He said he had studied Dallas' front four and only defensive tackle Bob Lilly caught his eye.

"Lilly is the exception. he's fabulous," said Namath. "But the Cowboy front four doesn't even compare with Minnesota."

The Jets defeated Minnesota 24-21 last week and Namath was dropped for losses twice—a rare thing for him behind his excellent offensive line.

On another topic, Namath said he was "very satisfied" with the outcome of the sale of his New York nightspot, Bachelor's III.

"Of course, I don't agree with Commissioner Pete Rozelle's theory," Namath said.

Aerial Game Clicks For Tough Vikings

By PAT THOMPSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) Minnesota Viking strategists spent the off-season plotting how to put more punch in their offense for the 1969 National Football League season.

The Vikings won the Central Division in 1968 with a so-so 8-6 record before losing to Baltimore 24-14 for the Western Conference title and 17-13 to Dallas in Playoff Bowl.

With that emphasis on the ground, Viking thoughts turned to the air.

"We need a more explosive striking threat in our passing," said Grant. "We need more offensive punch . . ."

The Vikings quickly and successfully put their new plans to work in early exhibition games. They outscored their first three opponents—Miami, Denver and St. Louis—112-29. In those games, the Vikings turned in their expected top notch defensive job—yielding only two touchdowns to the opposing offense.

But Grant was especially pleased about the offense. Gary Cuozzo, second-teamer before Joe Kapp sprained his right knee against Denver, led the newly found passing onslaught. End Gene Washington led the receivers.

Cuozzo, out most of last year with injuries, threw for 435 yards in the first three games while Washington caught 14 passes, many spectacularly, for 256 yards. Flanker Bob Grim also showed top form after missing most of 1968 with a knee injury.

Dave Osborn and Clint Jones join Brown as the team's top runners, and have become pass receiving threats as well.

Fred Cox, the team's leading scorer in 1968 with 88 points, again is accurately sailing field goals from as far away as 45 yards.

The main problem area appears to be in the offensive line.

". . . You can't win big without quality in depth," Grant says.

Guard Larry Bowie and tight end Billy Martin retired. Guard Ron Yary and tight end John Beasley missed training camp because of military reserve duty.

The Vikings moved to get needed depth last week with two trades for rookie guard Jon Sandstrom, from Atlanta, and veteran tight end Chuck Logan, from the Cardinals. But Sandstrom lasted about a week and then was released.

Guard Jim Vellone, tackle Doug Davis and All-Pro center Mick Tingelhoff are the offensive line standouts.

Besides striving for a more powerful passing attack, the Vikings stressed improvements in the linebacking. Before Lonnie Warwick intercepted a pass against Denver, the Vikings linebackers had gone 25 games without picking off a pass.

Warwick, Wally Hilgenberg and Roy Winston reported to camp more trim and faster.

Paul Krause and Earsell Mackbee continue to improve play of the secondary.

The early season success caused some worry among Viking followers. Minnesota was 5-0 in preseason play in 1964 and finished 8-5-1. The records were 5-0 and 7-7 in 1965.

"I wish the season started tomorrow," one Viking player has said.

Padres Put Down Davis, Dodgers

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The pitch from Gary Ross of the San Diego Padres came in high and tight. Willie Davis swung and missed it for a third strike on a 1-2 count.

Thus came to an end Thursday night the longest consecutive game hitting streak in the major leagues in a quarter of a century.

The center fielder for the Los Angeles Dodgers had hit safely in 31 consecutive games and was within hailing distance of the modern National League record of .37 set by Tommy Holmes of the old Boston Braves in 1945.

Not only did the Padres stop Davis, but they blanked the Dodgers 3-0 dropping them to third place behind San Francisco and Cincinnati in the NL West mad scramble. It was the only NL game scheduled.

Minnesota beat Oakland 10-5 in 10 innings, Baltimore shaded Detroit 5-4, California shut out the Chicago White Sox 1-0 and Kansas City defeated Seattle 5-3 in the four American League games scheduled.

"Well, at least it took two of them to get me," said a disappointed Davis.

He referred to Dick Kelley and Ross, the two Padres pitchers. Kelley started, but had to leave in the third inning because of a sore shoulder. Ross came in and completed a four-hit shutout. He and Kelley each yielded two hits.

This is what happened to Davis:

First inning—Against Kelley, came up with Maury Wills on second and grounded out to second baseman Jose Arcia.

Third inning—Against Ross, came up with two on and again grounded out to Arcia.

Fifth inning—against Ross, came up again with two on and grounded to first baseman Nate Colbert, who threw to Ross, covering first, for the putout.

Eighth inning—against Ross, came up with Manny Mota on first and struck out.

Al Ferrera, a former Dodger, drove in all three runs for the Padres. He doubled home Roberto Pena and Ollie Brown in the third and hit a home run in the sixth.

Meantime, the San Francisco Giants who are rolling along with 12 victories in 14 games, hope they can shake off their September jinx when they open an eight-game tough road trip at Houston tonight.

This is the month in which the Giants have faded and finished second four straight years. This happened even when they had a 14-game winning streak in September, 1965, and in September, 1966, whn they won eight of nine games in one span, including six in a row.

"In your patience possess ye your souls." Luke 21:19.
In a simple little fable that many of us know
A turtle beat a rabbit in a race once long ago.
A lesson may be learned from the tortoise and the hare:
The rabbit might have won but his patience wasn't there.
We too without our patience run wildly without goal,
For only with that treasure can we possess the soul!

Camillè was no lady.

Camille was a hurricane the likes of which this country has never seen.

Starting on the night of August 17th, it ripped its way through Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama.

It flooded Virginia and West Virginia.

It killed people by the hundreds.

It destroyed homes by the thousands.

It crippled countless small businessmen and farmers and fishermen.

And it left thousands of Americans in desperate straits.

Red Cross volunteers are there right now, doing everything they can, but the latest estimate says it will take $15,000,000 to put those thousands of American men, women and children back on their feet.

Give them all you can. Right now, you're all they've got.

Camille was a disaster.
Give to your local American Red Cross Chapter or United Fund.

an Optimistic View

Hurray for youth!...the juveniles of our community. Let us, during national youth week, honor the 95% of our young people who are law-abiding citizens and will be the dependable community men and women of tomorrow. God help the small minority (only 5%) referred to as delinquents. They are the ill-advised, law-breaking thugs who glory in character assassination and destruction of public property.

Optimist Clubs International are leading in the crusade to give the good youngsters of our world their rightful place in the sun. May this huge army of juveniles not forget that the church on the corner will aid greatly in helping them keep their feet on the right road.
